

Citizen Protests Mark Public Hearings

Multiples Opposed in Township

Multiple housing in general and more specifically, three townhouse development zoning requests were shot down by an army of protesting Northville Township citizens here Tuesday evening.

In the wake of public opposition to "any more multiple developments," the township planning commission tabled three rezoning requests and indicated its recommendation probably will be made May 27 on —

- A request by the Smokler Development Company to rezone approximately 44 acres of property at the southwest corner of Bradner and Franklin Roads from R-4 (residential) to RM-1 (multiple housing).

- Ross B. Northrop's request to rezone 11 acres of his property, south of the golf course at Six Mile and Sheldon roads and adjacent to the north edge of the Wayne County Child Development Center land, from R-2 (residential) to RM-1.

- A request of Paul Boatin to rezone a little more than one acre of land at the northeast corner of Meade and First Streets from R-4 to RM-1.

A capacity crowd, which forced the commission to move Tuesday's triple-deck public hearing from the township hall to the board of education auditorium, aimed its most vociferous objections at the request of Smokler, which proposes to build 265 townhouse units (six units per acre) with an average sale value of $29,000.

CBP Zoning Draws Fire in City

A standing-room-only audience fired objections at the city of Northville planning commission Tuesday night at joint public hearings held to consider motions to rezone portions of the business district to CBD (central business district) and CBP (central business parking).

Actually the two hearings overlapped.

While CBD zoning drew opposition only from those who object to any plan at all for the city's commercial business district, CBP zoning was blasted from all sides.

The parking zoning designation, they argued, would render their buildings non-conforming and limit the future use of lots or buildings within the CBP area to parking. Objectors to CBP maintained that this would depreciate the value of the land.

Planners defended the CBP designation by pointing out that existing use of land could continue under the non-conforming status (although non-conforming buildings cannot be expanded), and by noting that parking areas would become valuable because of the requirement that three square feet of parking space must be provided for each one foot of retail shopping space within the CBD.

Nevertheless, a parade of merchants and property owners recorded their objections to the CBP zoning and requested that their buildings (or lots) be included within the CBD classification.

Planners took no action, although Planning

Three Girls Top Scholars

PAMELA WITZKE
Valedictorian

MAVIS DONAHUE
Co-Salutatorian

JEANETTE GENSELEY
Co-Salutatorian

It will be an all-girl show academically at Northville High School's 100th commencement exercises June 10 as Pamela Witzke is named valedictorian with a 4.289 grade average and Mavis (Micky) Donahue and Jeanette Gensley share co-salutatorian honors with four point-plus average.

The higher than four point averages of the top students is possible as Northville High School has an honors program in which students receive an extra point for courses in the program.

Weather permitting, this year's commencement will be held at the football field which seats several thousand, Fred Holdsworth, principal, announced this week.

In addition to taking top place in the 1969 graduating class of 183 members, Pam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Witzke, 45731 Fernmanagh, also received the DAR citizenship award, is a Girls' State representative, and was named first runner-up in the "Northville Junior Miss contest."

She has served on the student council for three years and presently is its mayor. She is a member of the National Honor Society, debate club, pep club, Thespians, Girls' Athletic League (vice-president), forensic club (treasurer), was junior class treasurer and participated in school musicals during freshman, junior and senior years. She has been a cheerleader for three years.

Pam's outside activities include choir membership. She plans to attend University of Michigan.

Co-salutatorian Jeanette M. Gensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Gensley, 48540 Northview, last week was named a Merit Scholarship winner to attend Oakland University, where she plans to major in foreign languages.

She is president of the local chapter of the National Honor Society, Elks' leadership award winner, first place winner of the Voice of Democracy Award, Veterans' of Foreign Wars contest winner, a varsity debater (league champions and state semi-finalists), awards chairman of the Girls' Athletic League and member of Forensics and Thespians.

Micky Donahue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Donahue, 568 Reed Avenue, who shares the salutatorian honors, is a National Merit finalist, is vice-president of the National Honor Society chapter and is listed in "Who's Who in American High School Students" and in "Outstanding American High School Students."

A transfer from West Morris High School in Chester, New Jersey, in January, 1968, she is a four-year member of school yearbook staffs, a four-year band member and was a three-year member of the North Jersey marching band. She was a contestant for the Michigan State Distinguished Alumni Scholar and in the "High School Bowl."

She has been active in "Oliver," the senior high musical, forensic club, dramatics, school newspaper, student council and cheerleading. She was an American Field Service and language club member and is vice-president and chaplain of her church youth fellowship.

All Northville High School seniors who have maintained a three-point average throughout high school and high school students receiving awards will be honored at the annual Honors Convocation Dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 27.

An addition to this year's commencement program will be a talk by one of the exchange students who will represent those from other countries spending their school year here on exchange programs

Dates for public hearings on street improvements were set and the hearing on a rezoning request to permit erection of a gasoline station was continued by the Northville City Council Monday night.

By unanimous action, the council accepted the recommendation of City Manager Frank Ollendorff to consider paving (or asphalt) of North Center, from South Ely Drive to the north city limits, and of Hill Street. Public hearing for the former was set June 2 and for the latter, June 16.

The request of Marathon Oil and Beniece & Krue to rezone property at the southwest corner of Allen Drive and Novi Road, continued from an earlier hearing, was set over again — this time until Tuesday, May 20 — to give council, the planning commission and the Village Green Association time to study a revised proposal of the applicants introduced Monday.

Revision suggested by the applicant would limit the amount of property for rezoning to the area occupied by the proposed gasoline station, provide a protective covenant to limit the use of land between the station and the adjacent house on Allen for a professional type (doctor, etc.) business, to eliminate a sign, and to provide that no gasoline bay face the residential section.

Specifically, the rezoning request asks that the property be changed from a C-2 (general commercial) to a C-1 (local business) classification.

While the suggested revision to provide a "buffer" professional business between the proposed station and residences appeared to satisfy an earlier objection of adjacent property owners, Paul Vernon of the Village Green Association made it plain that his group still found fault with any kind of gasoline station at that location.

One of the chief council concerns was the time it might take for development of the "buffer" property. It could be years before anything is built and in the meantime nothing exists between the station and the homes, a councilman suggested.

Also, it was noted that if the applicant wishes only to rezone that portion of the corner property needed for the station, the current legal description including land along the creek should be revised.

Concerning the Hill Street improvement proposal, Ollendorff reported that engineering work on improvement of Carpenter Street, which could become a related project, should be completed within two or three weeks for council consideration.

City Engineer Harold Penn estimated cost of concrete for the Center Street section at $39,254 as compared to $35,301 for a heavy asphalt surface. If the council decides to continue its assessment policy, 75-percent of the cost would be borne by property owners, 25-percent by the city.

Property owners, however, would receive some cost reduction to compensate for the heavier paving than is normally called for on residential streets, it was noted.

Ollendorff and Mayor A. M. Allen emphasized that the first hearing (June 2) would be to consider the type of paving desired. At a subsequent public hearing detailed assessment costs will be put on the table and discussed, they explained.

In another road matter, the council accepted the low bid of Midwest Asphalt Paving Company of Troy for double sealing of East Chigwidden and Lantern streets in Northville Estates subdivision at a total cost of $2,200 or a unit cost of .0488-cents per square feet. In awarding the contract, the council agreed to delay the start of work until it can be determined if sufficient funds are available for similar work on Elmsmore Street.

A total of $3,600 was set aside in the present budget for this work but the addition of Elmsmore is expected to push the total outlay to about $55,000.

County Offers Township Police Service

Sheriff Roman Gribbs made a pitch for providing Northville Township with an experimental police department as he spoke to members of the township's police study committee at the township hall last week Wednesday.

The Wayne county sheriff, whose appearance before the committee followed that of Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins, proposed a contractual agreement whereby the county would provide deputy sheriffs to police the township either on a limited basis or around-the-clock.

His proposal, said Gribbs, would be a "first" in the county and could become, if successful, a pattern for contractual police departments throughout the county — perhaps eventually including cities as well as unincorporated townships.

Although Gribbs emphasized that his figures were unofficial estimates still requiring approval by the Board of Auditors, cost of the county program appeared to be considerably more expensive than a similar contractual arrangement proposed by Chief Elkins.

From "working papers" used by the board of auditors, the sheriff quoted the cost of seven-day, around the clock protection — which would mean five policemen and "appropriate" patrol cars — at between $143,900 and $153,100.

Elkins, who said his proposal, which would require council approval before it could become a reality, would cost $76,785 for similar protection. However, his proposal called for 4 1/5 officers and did not include the initial purchase of equipment or officer training.

The difference in the number of police officers occurs, apparently, because sheriff department regulations require two-men in patrol cars at night whereas the city police department operates one-man patrol car at night.

Elkins said the computed cost of the contractual arrangement he proposed would include 3 1/5 patrolmen and one sergeant, plus use of the department's entire staff when necessary.

Gribbs emphasized that by contracting with the county, the township could "draw upon the department's entire 500-man pool", including use of detectives and lab facilities.

Another major difference between proposals advanced by the two police administrators was that Elkins said he "would not consider" furnishing one-man on a 40-hour basis whereas Gribbs said his department would do so.

Elkins argued that such a service would give the citizens of the township a false-impression that they have a police department. One man could not do the job, he emphasized, and any suggestion that it could would be a disservice to citizens.

He was so adamant in this position that he said he would resign from the department rather than accept council agreement to such a proposal. Nevertheless, for the sake of comparative costs, he said that one man for 40 hours would approximate $18,282.

Gribbs, on the other hand, suggested that in addition to the single officer his department would furnish by contracts the township could count on continued service of the county road patrol that it now receives. He put the cost of the single deputy at between $21,000 to $21,406. A single patrol car a night would be more because of the two-man requirement. He also proposed a two-car patrol at from $39,000 to $42,404.

"The beauty of this plan," said the sheriff, "is that if you become dissatisfied you can (with a year notice) just terminate the contract." Furthermore, he promised that if any officer was "too snippy" and disliked by the citizens "we'd just give you a different man."

Gribbs said his department would incorporate any existing township officer into the program — provided he met the standards of the sheriff's department.

Asked if the county would withdraw its current patrol serving the area if the township expanded its present policing work, Gribbs said no but that the final decision would be made by the auditors and the board of supervisors. He added that withdrawal would occur, however, if such expansion included enforcement of state laws.

It was noted that sheriff patrols have been withdrawn from Redford Township, which has its own department. Had Redford "contracted with us", it could have saved 50-percent in cost, the sheriff's aide commented.

Gribbs said he would not recommend that the township provide its own men — "even if your men prudently enforce township ordinances" — unless they are fully qualified policemen. Enforcement of even township ordinances, he explained, could lead to costly court suits if the officer is not adequately trained.

Asked if he could say how many hours or how often his road patrol now works within confines of the township, the sheriff said he would have to check the figures first.

On Paving, Rezoning

Council Slates Hearings

Northville's proposed five-year improvement plan, aired at a public hearing Monday night, probably will be considered and approved or rejected by sections over the next several months.

The proposal, which includes wide variety of specific and open-ended projects, was explained by City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who said council approval of the total package is not suggested.

Noting that it already has been approved in "principle", he said each section will be discussed separately by the council and the public and each approved or rejected as study and discussion is completed.

Total cost of the entire package was put at $4.5 million.

Major categories include:

Plans for Carnival

See 1,500 Dinners

Plans are being made to serve at least 1,500 spaghetti dinners at this year's PTA "Our Town" Carnival between 4:30 and 8 p.m. Friday, May 23, in the Northville High School cafeteria.

Mrs. Marie Knapp, school dietitian, anticipates that in the larger quarters of the high school cafeteria, which can seat more than 300 at one time, there will be no waiting problem. This is one of the reasons that the PTA carnival is being moved to the high school this year. Last year, she said, 1,200 dinners were served.

This will be the 11th year that Mrs. Knapp has made carnival dinner arrangements with this year's plans being "the biggest ever."

As is traditional, the menu will include spaghetti, meat sauce, tossed salad, relishes, homemade rolls made by Mrs. Knapp's school staff, coffee and milk. It will be served family style.

Moraine school is responsible for the dinner plans with Mrs. William Bates, chairman, getting mother workers. Girl Scouts will help serve.

She announces that this year there will be no advance dinner ticket sale with dinners to be paid at the door. Adults and students in seventh grade and up to be $1.50. Children, including pre-schoolers, will be 75 cents.

EVERYTHING FROM A TO Z — Barn wood paintings and antiques up for sale at Our Lady of Victory flea market are admired by, from left, Mrs. Dan Conley, chairman of the event, Mrs. Keith Ehrenreich and Mrs. Gordon Smith, co-chairmen. The women have been busy making final plans for the market, to be held in the church parking lot May 17 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Everything from A to Z will be sold among 125 booths.

Around Northville

Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will hold its May dinner meeting at 6 p.m. Monday at Hillside Inn. Miss Florence Panattoni is in charge of the program, a culmination of the study on "Values." Members unable to attend are asked to call 349-1829.

Several chapter members are making plans to attend the state convention May 16-18 at Dearborn Inn.

Miss Catherine Giltner will show slides and tell of her experiences on her recent trip to Morocco at the Northville Senior Citizens' meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Scout-Recreation building. A business meeting and social hour are planned.

Meeting place for the next meeting of the Northville Mothers' Club at 8 p.m. Monday has been changed to the home of Mrs. Bernard Bach, 20336 Woodhill Road. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Richard Huston and Mrs. Halton Axtell.

Annual reports are to be presented at the birthday meeting of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Paul Schulz, 46675 West Seven Mile.

Added to the list of hostesses for the day is Mrs. Roger Pyett, a new member who has come here from England.

Women of Purdue University Club will hold their annual meeting at 11 a.m. today at Meadowbrook Country Club. Following luncheon Mrs. Dwight Struthers will present the program.

Charles T. (Tim) Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weiss, 925 Grace, arrived home from Germany last week, having received his U.S. Army discharge. Prior to returning, he toured Europe, including England, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and France.

He plans to resume his former work with the Michigan State Park system in park management.

Hospital Patients Plan Art Exhibit

An expanded arts and crafts exhibit of works by patients of Northville State Hospital will be held this year at the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, hospital officials revealed this week.

The big show is being sponsored Friday May 9 through Sunday, May 11, by the Women's Association, the Senior High Fellowship and the Couples Club of the church.

The opening day of the exhibit has been reserved for hospital patients, who will be bused hourly to the church to view the exhibit and enjoy refreshments.

Public showings are scheduled from 10 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 9 and from 10 30 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, May 11. Refreshments will be served during these public showing hours as well.

Exhibits are provided by patients in the hospital's Young Adult Unit (H-Building) with special displays by departments under B. Plummer, Mrs. H. Pennington, and D. Briggs.

Residents of Northville are invited to attend.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Belz, 145 Walnut, announce the birth of a son, Eric James, April 25 at Botsford Hospital. He weighed eight pounds, two ounces at birth.

He joins a sister, Jodi Lynn, two-and-half, at home. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Belz of Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beilby, Brighton.

EXHIBIT WORK — Hard at work early this week in preparing for this weekend's arts and crafts show, patients at Northville State Hospital have their fingers crossed in hopes a large crowd of area citizens will turn out to view their handiwork. The show will be held in the Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

ENGLAND MAY have its Portobello Road and Detroit its Plum Street, but Northville will rival either next Saturday, May 17, when more than 100 booths will be set up at the open air flea market at Our Lady of Victory Church on West Main Street.

While area residents and visitors inspect antiques, handicrafts, paintings and just plain white elephants, they will find good eating also at the market.

Fifty-cent lunches will be served by the ladies of OLV while Children of the American Revolution have taken a booth to dish out Texas Chili. Baked goods will be sold at booths of the Northville VFW Auxiliary and Boy Scout Troop 731.

Northville Jaycettes have taken a booth where they will sell their cookbook — and baked goods from some of its recipes.

Penny candy will be sold at the "candy counter" of Northville Mothers' Club. The club also is selling its telephone book and stationery of Northville scenes at a one-day-only bargain rate. Newcomers will be selling their just-off-the-press book about Northville attractions at their booth.

Our Overture-to-Opera committee has taken a booth at the flea market and now is "attic cleaning" to stock it with things-old and some real antiques. Despite hard work by the opera-loving group, this year's overture presentation in Northville was not a financial success; so the committee hopes to recoup some of its losses at the flea market.

To date the committee has an assortment ranging, from a mixer and vases to an antique clothes drier.

Northville Historical Society plans to sell remaining items donated by Friends of the Historical Society for its antique sale last winter. Anyone who hesitated about an item then may have a second chance to purchase now — but if you have a specific antique in mind, it will be wise to arrive when the flea market opens at 10 a.m.

The "come early" advice applies to any flea market, as experienced antique-seekers know. It's part of the fun to find a real bargain, but you have to be first. Mrs. Daniel Conley and her market co-chairmen, Mrs. Keith Ehrenreich and Mrs. Gordon Smith, aren't doubtful there'll be bargains. They're just hoping for sunshine. In event of rain the market will be postponed a week to May 24.

The flea market was the inspiration of Mrs. Conley, a Northville resident for just a year, who never doubted for a minute that 100 booths would be sold at $5 each. By the first of this week the chairmen actually had 110 reservations, which, when paid, will bring OLV women $550 — an "instant success" project which, like most things, really is the result of good planning.

Also participating in the market will be the Novi Rotary, Sisters of OLV, Rainbow girls (miscellaneous), and lots of antique dealers and just individuals with things to sell. For fun the Jaycees will have a ring toss, there will be pony rides and music (by the Detroit Edison calliope.)

A USED BOOK stall is to be one of the attractions at the OLV flea market. Mrs. Robert Orban and Miss Linda Edgerton, calling themselves "Friends of the Public Library," are originators of the project. Proceeds of the stall will be turned over to the Northville library.

The chairmen are looking for other "friends" with books to donate or to help with the sale — or even future friends' projects. Call Mrs. Orban at 349-5322. Books may be deposited in a box provided at the public library or pickup may be arranged by calling Miss Edgerton at 349-3040, or Hurd Sutherland, 349-0516.

ANTIQUE LOVERS interested in forming a new local chapter of the Questers Antiques Study Society have a special invitation to sign the wooden register book painted with a gay Pennsylvania Dutch-type "Q" at the booth of the Base Line Chapter of Questers at the OLV flea market next Saturday.

For some time the chapter has been aware that there is a growing number of area women interested in the study of antiques but, limited by national by-laws requiring a chapter close its membership at 20, has not been able to welcome them. If enough interest is indicated, however, the Base Line group will be able to sponsor a new chapter.

It should be easy to spot the Quester booth as it is to be filled with flower pots blooming with bright calico posies. Chapter members have been sewing the "everlasting" centerpieces to sell for several weeks.

NORTHVILLE'S TOPS girls (Take Off Pounds Sensibly group) have been filling out six-page questionnaires, as have their sister chapters throughout the nation. They will go into a research study on obesity.

Two years ago Esther Manz, who began the TOPS program and who had invested money received in registrations and donations, built and staffed a wing of Deaconess Hospital in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for the sole purpose of research on obesity.

"Perhaps some day we will know why and how to stop eating what tastes good rather than what is good for us," comments local TOPS reporter Fran Bissa, telling of the new project. She adds that the Northville TOPS have welcomed 10 new members to Monday night meetings at the Scout-Recreation building — anyone interested in "losing" is invited.

Cooke to Salute The 'Sixties'

This year's Festival of Arts program at Cooke Junior High will feature a "Salute to the Sixties" at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday, May 14 in the school cafeteria.

Sponsored by the Cooke PTA, the program will open with the eighth grade style show, reviewing fashion high lights of the sixties. The 1969 fashions were made by girls in Miss Meroe Stanley's home economics class and will be worn by the sewers in the review. They include a wide variety of sports and casual wear as well as party dresses.

The remainder of the program will be devoted to vocal music. Mrs. Harriett Page's sixth, seventh and eighth grade choirs will perform. A multiple reading by an eighth grade English group follows, and George Berryman's instrumental music groups will close the program.

Simpson-Andrews Wed in Plymouth

Debra Lynn Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Simpson, Jr., 21200 Chubb Road, chose a traditional gown of chantilly lace for her marriage to Joseph Byron Andrews March 22 in Plymouth First United Presbyterian Church.

The bridegroom is the son of the Reverend and Mrs. James Andrews, 51630 Eight Mile Road. His father officiated at the candlelight ceremony with the Reverend Henry T. Walch, church pastor.

Inspired by the Gone-With-The-Wind era, her gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice with wrist-length sleeves and a hoop skirt of wide, gathered tiers of lace, extending into a full chapel train. A matching headpiece held her floor-length chapel veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white forget-me-nots, rosebuds and white, purple-throated orchids.

She was given in marriage by her father at the altar decorated with candelabra and arrangements of carnations, mums and gladioli.

Sheryl Lynn Simpson attended her sister in a gown of aqua chiffon over chartreuse taffeta with daisy-motif trimming in olive, orange and yellow. She carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds and aqua carnations.

Bridesmaids Andy Davis, Cindy Wright and Sherri Zayti wore orange chiffon over yellow taffeta with olive, orange and yellow daisy trim. They carried orange rosebuds and yellow carnations.

Joyce Garrock, flower girl, a cousin, wore yellow chiffon and carried a basket of yellow carnations and orange rosebuds. A nephew, Tommy Andrews, was ring bearer.

Thomas Andrews was best man for his brother. Jack Willis, Ken Burger and another brother, John Andrews, ushered.

The bride's mother's gown was floor-length, A-line of aqua silk with which she wore a floor-length lace coat, matching accessories and an ostrich feather hat. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige dress with matching accessories.

A sit-down dinner for 350 guests followed at Northville Veterans' Memorial Hall where the bride cut a six-tier wedding cake decorated with yellow roses and white bells, made by the bride's cousin, Barb Atkins.

The new Mrs. Andrews wore a white lace, going away dress with blue daisy trim and matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

In September the newlyweds will make their home in an apartment in the married dormitory at Ferris State College, Big Rapids, where both plan to attend college.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH BYRON ANDREWS

Couple Speaks Vows On Graduation Day

Kristin Vonne Deibert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Deibert, 9825 Napier, became the bride of David James Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kerr, 18312 Shadbrook Drive, in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church — the same day both officially were graduated from University of Michigan.

They had been classmates since the Kerr family moved to Northville when David was in his junior year of high school and were graduated from Northville High together.

They exchanged vows before Pastor Charles Boerger at the 2 p.m. ceremony at the altar decorated with arrangements of white fuji mums, snapdragons, daisies, glads and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white linen gown with an apron effect, edged with wide embroidery, as was the high neckline. The embroidered edging also trimmed her mantilla veil which extended into a train. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, gardenias and pale pink rosebuds.

The bride asked her sister, Colleen, to be honor maid and another sister, Lorrie, as well as the bridegroom's sister, Elizabeth, to be bridesmaids. Her college roommate, Kay Hosler, and a Northville school friend, Mrs. Michael Hall (Karen MacKay), completed the bride's attendants.

Their gowns of white semi-organza were fashioned with high necklines, full, billowy sleeves and Empire waistlines marked with pink velveteen ribbons tied in streamers down the back. They were trimmed with a vertical print of pink embroidery and worn over pink slips. They extended into trains. Their headpieces were matching velveteen ribbon bows.

They carried old-fashioned circular bouquets of pink daisies centered with deep red and pink rosebuds and outlined with waxy greens and tied with streamers.

The bridegroom's three-year-old niece, Suzanne Kerr of Muskegon, was flower girl in a pink dress and carried a smaller version of the bridesmaids' bouquets. Her father, William Kerr, was best man.

Ushering were John Kerr, Glenn Deibert, George Chesley and Don Gardner.

About 250 guests from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Wisconsin, New York, Illinois and Michigan were greeted at the reception following in the church parlors.

Mrs. Deibert wore a watermelon pink three-piece knit suit while the bridegroom's mother chose a matching dress and coat in yellow. Mrs. Deibert's mother, who attended from Detroit, wore a lime green dress. Another grandmother of the bride, Mr. Deibert's mother, of Highland, Michigan wore a rust-colored suit.

The new Mrs. Kerr wore Wedgewood blue linen with black patent accessories as the newlyweds left for New York City and the Virgin Islands where they planned to spend about 10 days visiting St. Croix and St. Thomas.

They plan to live in Ann Arbor where Kris will teach while her husband continues his studies in University of Michigan Medical School. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority and he, of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Piano, Dance Tops Two Local Recitals

Miss Millie's School of the Dance is presenting "The Dancing Dr. Doolittle" at 8 p.m. this Saturday at Northville High School.

Featured dancers among the 60 participants include Vali Muzzin, as Dr. Doolittle, and Debra Sebastian, as the parrot. Others are Cindy Westphal, Robin Armstrong, Andy Davis, Karen Marks, Sandee Hinkel and Jackie Dunlap.

The teacher is Miss Millie Turnbull, who has ballet, tap, toe and baton pupils.

*****

Piano students of Mrs. Leland Mills will be presented in a recital at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at Northville First United Methodist Church.

The annual spring recital of classical and contemporary compositions will include "Theme: Piano Concerto in B flat minor," Tschaikowski, played by Lisa Willis; a concert arrangement of "Deep Purple," DeRose, played by Jill Angle. Wendy Wheaton will play a Prokofiev

"Prelude" and "Sabre Dance" by Khachaturian.

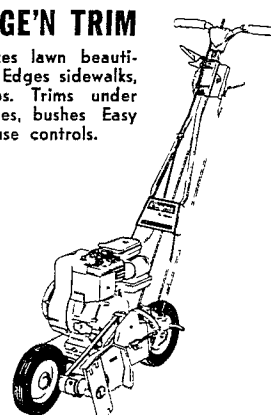

Piano solos also will be performed by John and Muriel Bedford, Susan Bishop, Bruce Clark and Susan Edwards, Martha Gazlay, Kathleen Harris, Shannon Lovett, Julia and Mark McDaniel, Marna Owen, Claudia Hesse, Barbara Hilton, Kathy Hixson, Terri Knope, Scott Parsons, Sandy Perry, Barbara, Christie and Kathy Sorenson, Beverly Wistert and Susan Thomas.

The public as well as family and friends of participants is invited.

Bride-Elect Feted at Shower

Kathy Hodge, bride-elect of May 24, was feted at a miscellaneous shower Sunday given at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Harvey Hodge, 734 Spring Drive. Her aunts, Mrs. Lillian Biddle and Mrs. Kenneth Cooper, also were hostesses.

Forty-five guests were present to honor the bride-to-be, who was graduated this month from the University of Michigan. She is the daughter of Homer Hodge of Plymouth and the late Mrs. Hodge. Her fiancé, who plans to finish his studies at University of Detroit, returned last fall after serving for four years with the Green Berets.

Spring Concert Set May 18

Ninth annual spring concert sponsored by the Northville Presbyterian Men's Club will feature the Finlandia Male Chorus of Detroit and the Northville Presbyterian Bellringers at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, May 18, in the Northville High School auditorium. In announcing the concert, Ole Sarto, men's club president, said that proceeds will be used for youth work. Tickets are available from the church office or from Burt Williams, ticket chairman, 349-4656. They are $1.

Announce Engagements

The engagement of Janet E. Parsons to William R. Christensen is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Parsons, 18233 Jamestown Circle. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Christensen, 39720 Nine Mile Road.

The bridegroom-elect is a 1968 Northville High School graduate and presently is attending Schoolcraft College.

A December wedding is planned.

*****

Mr. and Mrs. George Weiss, 925 Grace Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Francis Thomson, son of Mrs. Gordon Thomson of Richland Center, Wisconsin, and the late Mr. Thomson.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Northville High School and Eastern Michigan University and has been teaching for three years in Spring Green, Wisconsin. Her fiancé is employed by the City of Richland Center where they will be making their home after their summer wedding.

A July 12 date has been set for the ceremony in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Paulger of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Patti K., to Jeffrey A. Sudz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Sudz, 355 East Main Street.

The bride-elect, a Plymouth High School graduate, is employed at the Plymouth branch of the National Bank of Detroit. Her fiancé, a Northville High School 1968 graduate, is employed at the Ford Motor Company Valve Plant.

No wedding date is set.

300 Attend Novi Festival

A student-sponsored, student-prepared International Festival thrilled some 300 guests last Friday evening at the Novi Community Building.

The festival, involving some 85 students in three Novi Elementary sixth grade classes of Mrs. Sarah Sasss, Mrs. Katherine Penhale and Richard Wendt, was the culmination of an in-depth study of foreign countries, history and cultures.

Many of the students' ideas for the festival originated with a tour of the International Institute in Detroit last February where they were shown slides and films and learned some folk dances.

According to Mrs. Sasss, study of international cultures will continue in sixth grade classes throughout the remainder of the year.

Actually, the festival on Friday was an extension of the students' study, with each being graded upon his or her participation and performance.

The festival, which got underway at 7 p.m. and continued through 10:30 p.m., featured display tables of artifacts collected by the children representing oriental countries, the Near East, Germany and Scandinavian countries, Great Britain, and Mexican and Latin Countries.

Students themselves were dressed in foreign costumes for the occasion.

Additional projects included an exciting bazaar. Students operated a baked goods concession stand. They also sold balloons, kites, artificial paper flowers — all made by students, as well as selling real flowers purchased from area greenhouses.

Adding a special flavor was a table of imported goods, sponsored by the International Institute and operated by local students. Travel slides and film strips were shown.

A favorite of many parents was the international buffet, featuring five tables heaped with tasty international dishes prepared at home.

"I think the really grand thing about this particular project," said Mrs. Sasss, "was the fact that the students did everything themselves — from the planning stage to the cleaning up afterwards."

Plan Tour Of Tulip Land

Northville Senior Citizens are making plans to visit the "Tulip Time Festival" in Holland, Michigan, Saturday, May 17. They are to go by bus, leaving from the Scout-Recreation building at 6 a.m.

Luncheon will be served by a Holland church group for $1.25, payable in advance. Accommodations are limited to 80 people. There is no bus charge.

Callers are contacting Senior Citizens for reservations and have further details. Anyone wishing to bring a guest is asked to notify the caller or Mrs. Mary Ann Anderson, 349-3549.

Books Suggest

Ways to Spruce Up

Several of the latest books at the Northville Public Library deal with the problems of the homeowner who wishes to spruce-up his property. Library officials point out, suggesting books that will tie-in with Northville's clean-up, paint-up and fix-up campaign during May.

"How to Work With Concrete and Masonry" by Darrell Huff and "Concrete Work Simplified" by Donald Brann are suggested for "how-to" tips for the homeowner building a patio or garden pool.

"How to Do Your Own Painting and Wallpapering" by Jackson Hand is recommended for step-by-step instructions for anyone with decorating plans.

"How to Build Birdhouses" and a Bird Feeder," a second book by Brann, will be a helpful reference, the library suggests, for homeowners hoping to attract song birds to their yard and, incidentally, reducing insect population.

The books are being featured as part of the library preparation for May 17, Civic Pride Day, during Michigan Week.

Housing Director To Speak Here

Conrad L. Mallett, recently appointed director of the Detroit Housing Commission, will speak at Schoolcraft College next week in a program sponsored by the League of Women Voters of the Northville-Plymouth area.

He is scheduled to appear at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Little Theatre, Liberal Arts Building. The program is open to the public.

Mallett's talk will concern "Housing Problems of Metropolitan Detroit," with emphasis on how citizens of suburban areas can help with these problems. He also will discuss fair housing laws, and provide information about housing needs, solutions of housing problems in the Detroit area, and the need for building code revision.

Preceding the guest speaker, Mrs. George Mink of Plymouth, chairman of the local LWV Human Resources Committee, will present a brief resume of the League's position supporting equality of opportunity for all citizens in housing, education and employment. This position was arrived at by LWV members throughout the United States following a recent national study in these areas.

A graduate of Miller High School in Detroit, Mallett attended the University of Detroit and received a BS degree in education from Wayne State University in 1957. In 1962, he was awarded an MS degree in American History from the University of Michigan, and has completed all course work except his dissertation in education administration for a doctoral degree from Wayne State.

Mallett began teaching in the Detroit Public School system in 1957, first at Cleveland Junior High and later at Eastern High School. In 1964, he joined the Mayor's Youth Employment Project as an instructor and subsequently became a supervisor of the project.

Novi Court

A 26-year-old Novi man was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to pay a $100 fine Friday after pleading guilty of assault and battery upon a 15-year-old baby sitter April 13.

Jailed was Larry See of 101 Pickford, who pleaded guilty of the charge on April 18 before District Judge Martin Boyle. Complainant was a 15-year-old Walled Lake girl who was babysitting at 1159 East Drive.

*****

A Northville man, William Higgins of 46180 North Main was fined $40 Thursday by Judge Boyle after he changed an innocent plea to guilty of being disorderly at the Novi police station on May 10.

A 24-year old Farmington man, Andrew L. Sundbla, was fined $50, last week in the district court for driving on a suspended operator's license on April 10.

Judge Boyle also fined George E. Millard, 46, of 27400 Meadowbrook, $15 for littering, on April 1.

Also fined were Paul A. Rellick, 65, of 22000 Beck Road, $20 for burning without a permit on April 16; Larry King, 18, Northville, $20 for speeding 70 MPH in a 55 MPH zone on April 11; Aaron R. Button, 59, of 44109 Grand River, $20 for speeding 55 MPH in a 40 MPH zone on March 30; and Richard E. Anichouser, 28, Ypsilanti, $20 for speeding 65 MPH in a 50 MPH zone on April 6.

In 1965 he was awarded a Mott Foundation fellowship for study of Education Administration and then in 1966 joined the faculty at Wayne State as Director of the In-Service Training Program for Total Action Against Poverty (TAP). Later that year Mallett was appointed as administrative assistant to Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh where he handled liaison responsibilities for the Mayor's Committee on Human Resources Development, Detroit Housing Commission, Detroit Youth Commission, Detroit Board of Education, National Urban Coalition, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Prior to his appointment as director of the Detroit Housing Commission, he served as director of the Community Extension Programs for Wayne State, with responsibility for the implementation of programs designed to render the University relevant to its urban neighbors.

Included in his many civic and community activities is membership in the Metropolitan Detroit Citizen's Development Authority, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Volunteer Placement Corps, Trade Union Leadership Council, and the Board of Directors of Project S.O.S. (Save Our Schools).

EVANGELIST BILLY WALKER

Slides to Tell Camp's Story

Staff personnel from Hiawatha Youth Camp will introduce the work of the church camp through color slides, testimony and music at a Teen Camping Ministry at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 11, at Wixom Baptist Church.

Hiawatha Youth Camp at Platt Lake in the Upper Peninsula was launched six years ago by Evangelist Billy Walker "for the purpose of helping the young person's heart to keep pace with his body and mind — to grow as Christ grew, in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

In six years the camp of over 500 acres has grown from a one-week operation with a capacity of 50 to a full season program with a weekly capacity of 150. It is dedicated to providing teen-agers with good Christian fellowship, promoting their consideration of church-centered vocations and permeating their lives with moral and spiritual guidelines.

"In other words," says Evangelist Walker, "Hiawatha becomes a laboratory of Christian living — where what they hear in chapel is put to work in the everyday tests of life."

The story of the camp growth and its impact on the lives of many teen-agers will be told Sunday by several staff members. Any young person or interested parent is invited to attend this Hiawatha Rally at Wixom Baptist Church, 620 North Wixom Road.

For Schoolcraft

Art Center Plan Disclosed

Plans for construction and financing of the Schoolcraft College Arts Center — including announcement of a public subscription campaign to raise approximately $500,000 for the project — were disclosed to a group of community leaders at the college on Monday night, April 28.

The meeting was called by the Schoolcraft College Foundation, a non-profit corporation which has undertaken the subscription campaign on behalf of the college.

Philip R. Ogilvie, Northville attorney and president of the Foundation said the Center was planned to meet two related objectives of the college: to provide needed instructional space for the college's programs in music, art, drama and the related fine arts and to serve as a community oriented performing center.

Wayne Dunlap, chairman of the college's Humanities Division and faculty project coordinator for the Arts Center, used a slide presentation to describe and explain the design of the facility and presently conceived by the architects, Perkins & Will of Chicago.

The Center is comprised of separate buildings arranged in a hexagonal form, one building for instruction in music; a second for art, sculpture, ceramics, and speech; and a third, larger structure, which will enclose a music hall-theater of approximately 2,000 seat capacity and adjoined by a smaller experimental theater.

The music hall-theater, Dunlap explained, will contain a stagehouse capable of accommodating major musical and theatrical groups.

The individual buildings will enclose a mall roofed by a translucent material, making the area available for year-round use. Galleries for the display of paintings, sculpture and other objects of art are provided in the plan.

Dunlap stressed the value to the community at large of such a Center located on the Schoolcraft campus.

"It will be possible," he said, "for residents of a rapidly growing suburban area to attend plays, musical shows and concerts of the highest caliber without the inconvenience of traveling either into downtown Detroit or to Ann Arbor."

"Such a facility will also be available for use to community cultural groups in the Schoolcraft district," he said. Dunlap explained the scope of the project was conceived to provide for the needs of the college and the community as both continue to grow.

"We are planning for a college of 10,000 students," he said. "Within the past five years the college has nearly tripled its initial enrollment and all of our projections point to continued rapid expansion. The community itself has grown at a fantastic pace and in not too many years will embrace a population approaching a half-million people."

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of the college, outlined plans for financing construction of the project for which architects have estimated a cost of nearly $500,000.00. The estimate, Dr. Bradner said, includes an inflationary factor to cover anticipated increases in labor and materials costs.

Ogilvie said the Monday night meeting, attended by nearly 70 community leaders, was the first step in the public phase of the fund raising campaign and explained that its primary purpose was to get important "feedback" from citizens as well as to solicit support of individuals and groups for the actual campaign.

Pool Dip Planned For Senior Party

A new feature of the Northville High School senior class party on graduation night, June 10, will be the opening of the school pool the final hour of the party for the centennial class to take a dip.

Parent chairmen for the party, Mrs. Irvin Marburger and Mrs. H. O. Evans, announce that the party will begin at 11 p.m. and continue until about 4 a.m.

Entertainment plans include the appearance of CKLW disc jockey Jim Edwards, the Uni-Royals Band and drawings for door prizes throughout the evening. Snack and pop bars are planned with a breakfast to wind up festivities about 2:30 a.m.

All seniors, the chairmen stress, will be asked to sign in at the party and sign out if they leave early. Those who sign out early will not be re-admitted.

Mrs. William Donahue, decorating chairman, is seeking help in putting up decorations. Anyone willing to help is asked to call 349-0740. The Centennial Celebration chairmen report that all committees have plans well under way and are working to make the evening a success.

Parents who have not yet made a donation ($5) may do so by sending a check to Mrs. Robert Taylor, 43500 Cottisford, Northville, payable to the Northville High School 1969 Senior Class Party.

Free Bike Clinic

A free bicycle clinic and registration has been set for May 24 by the Novi Youth Protective Association.

Clinics will be held at the Novi Community Building adjacent to the elementary school beginning at noon on that day, followed by a similar activity at the United Missionary Church on 10 Mile Road at 1 p.m.

City Council Slates Public Hearings

Improvement of the existing water and sewer system; 11 street paving and 15 repaving or recapping projects; new streets; tree planting and street lighting; building, major equipment and bridges; storm drainage; sidewalks; 10 tot lots, three or four two-acre parks, improvement of the fish hatchery site, and purchase of another park on the scale of the hatchery site; housing; and parking.

In introducing the plan, the city manager suggested only that the council begin the legal groundwork for the necessary bonding procedure and that citizens appraise themselves of the plan and join in council discussion over the next several months.

Two of the most complex sections, said Ollendorff, have already been turned over to a special committee for thorough study and evaluation prior to council consideration.

Sydney Frid, a member of the audience, chided the manager for the expensive plan, pointing out that about the "only improvement it doesn't call for is a rapid transit system."

The only real explosive blast from the audience erupted over the plan's provision to carrying out the master plan's Circle Drive concept. William Gaab and Harley Cole were particularly opposed to this drive, calling it an unnecessary expenditure. They urged that Center Street be maintained as a main thoroughfare. Both indicated that they favored expansion of Northville Downs but that the Circle Drive would eliminate prime parking space for Downs' customers.

It was suggested that the city put more effort and money in the proposed extension of Griswold Street to Beal and east to Northville Road to eliminate heavy truck traffic through the center of town. (This extension is included in the five-year plan).

Mrs. Donald Ware, while coming to the defense of the city manager in urging improvement, nevertheless took a position that the city should continue the "crossroads" concept and concentrate its efforts in improving the existing small-town atmosphere of the community. "Let's leave it the way it is," she said, "and improve what we have...I don't think we should channel the people around the city."

During the discussion it was explained that a major reason for the Circle Drive concept is to route expanding Downs traffic around the core of the city and relieve congestion at Center and Main. Out of this discussion came the estimate that more than 50-percent of city services are paid by Downs revenue to the city.

Concerning the parking section of the plan, it was pointed out in response to a citizen's question that the manager is suggesting a 50-50 split of cost between businessmen and general taxpayers. This, said the manager, seems equitable since merchants and shoppers share the benefits of such parking lots.

Trial Postponed In Assault Case

Trial of a 21-year-old man, charged with assaulting George Clark of Northville, a realtor, has been postponed until next Tuesday.

Charged with assault and battery is John B. Hinman, 21, of 402 Yerkes Street.

Hinman surrendered to police two weeks ago after he allegedly struck Clark while the 63-year-old realtor was in his office at 160 East Main Street. Hinman stood mute and an innocent plea was entered by the judge.

Hinman reportedly charged Clark with using coercion on his mother before striking him. Clark has stated the attack was unprovoked, that he had never met the defendant and that his only contact with his mother was during a routine business telephone call a year ago.

The call, said Clark, concerned possible purchase of Mrs. (Walter) Hinman's property for a client. No pressure was used, Clark explained, and the conversation was "friendly."

CITY OF WIXOM NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

City of Wixom Board of Appeals will hold a Public Hearing on May 26, 1969 at 8 pm at the Wixom City Hall, 49045 Pontiac Tr. to consider a request from C. Kemmerling for a variance of section 1608, paragraph 2-B. to erect an additional sign at the Wixom Rd. entrance of the Aunt Jemima Restaurant.

signed: Gunnar Mettala
Secretary
Wixom Board of Appeals

this date I have not heard from Mrs. Hinman. Neither have I had any contact with her, or anyone else about the property."

Clark suffered a severe ear injury from his assailant's blow.

JOHN INNELLA John Innella Tops in Sales

John E. Innella of 23711 Meadowbrook Road, will represent the Detroit office of Pitney-Bowes, Inc. at a National Sales Conference this month at Del Coronado, California.

Innella is one of a group of men who have won top honors in the company's annual sales competition.

Innella was the regional sales trainer in New York City for Pitney-Bowes before being transferred to Detroit where he holds the position of Manager of Copier Products.

Boosters Plan Talk on Drugs

"Drug Use by Children" will be the topic of a public meeting of Novi's Orchard Hills Booster Club at 8 p.m. next Thursday, May 22, at the school.

William Wright will be guest speaker, discussing the problem and advising "how parents can help avoid tragedy in their family by having a knowledge of drugs."

Now a counselor at Southfield High School and active in the new Detroit Suicide Prevention Center, Wright has a BS degree from Western Michigan University and a MA degree in guidance and counseling from Wayne State University. A Royal Oak resident, he is the father of six children.

There also will be election of officers. The club is thanking the community and merchants who assisted in making the fair a success.

That's how sure we are of Scotts famous TURF BUILDER PLUS 2. Time and again we've seen it turn scraggly weed patches into thick, vibrantly green turf.

Put PLUS 2 on your lawn this week end. For the first few days nothing much will seem to happen. Then one day you'll notice that the weeds have begun to shrivel. A few days later they'll disappear completely — roots and all.

In their place will be healthy green turf — the result of the fertilizing action of PLUS 2. It's a full-feeding too, equivalent to Scotts famous Turf Builder. Makes grass plants spread out and fill in those places where the weeds used to be.

The time to use PLUS 2 is right now, while weeds are actively growing. You put it on just like ordinary fertilizer. It's clean, lightweight, and easy to handle. So pick up your PLUS 2 this week and don't pay for it until your weeds are gone.

Novi Nine Posts 5 Straight Wins

*****

Off to what may be the finest start in its short history, Novi's varsity nine posted three more victories this past week boosting its undefeated streak to five games.

The Wildcats have lost only one game this season.

Latest victims of the local squad's hot streak include Bloomfield Hills Lahser, which went down to defeat in an eight-inning heart thumper Thursday, South Lyon, which fell 7-4 Friday; and Dearborn Annapolis, which was burned beneath a barrage of Novi runs Tuesday, 12-8.

Coach John Osborn, who couldn't be happier, says his squad is steadily improving and has not yet hit its peak. "They're playing together," he said of his players, "and they're playing well. Best of all, we've begun to cut down the number of strikeouts. As long as we can keep hitting the ball the other team's got to keep alert in the field."

In that extra inning contest, Novi scored its tying run with two outs in the bottom of the seventh. Gary Boyer walked, stole second and Paul Faulkner singled him home to send the game into extra innings.

Then in the eighth — again with two outs — Paul Chamberlain walked, Bob Vivian doubled to left, and Rick Dale slapped a hot grounder at the shortstop who bobbled the ball momentarily to allow speedster Dale to gain first safely and to score the winning run.

Winning pitcher was Lee Snow, who gave up 10 hits, struck out six and walked one.

Tom VanWagner was the key to Novi's triumph over South Lyon. He collected three hits, scored two runs and drove in two others.

The Wildcats scored three runs in the first — including a homer to deep center off the bat of Faulkner, one in the third, and three in the fourth. South Lyon managed to keep Novi hustling by picking up one run in the first, three in the fifth.

Jim Poole, who gave up 10 hits, fanned three and walked none, was credited with the victory.

A seven-run barrage in the first inning gave the Wildcats a comfortable lead — despite Dearborn's four-run rally in its half of the first — maintained throughout the game.

Errors by a "charitable third baseman" and four hits, including a double by Gary Boyer, accounted for Novi's first inning attack.

The Wildcats scored three more in the third, Dearborn came back with two in its half, and then Novi added one each in the fourth and fifth while Annapolis scored one in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Snow, who gave up seven hits, struck out five and walked five enroute to the victory, helped his team's cause at the plate by collecting four hits at the plate — including a four-bagger over the left field fence in the fourth inning.

*****

Trojan field errors and some fine pitching by Phil McMillan were the recipe for Novi's 12-0 victory over Whitmore Lake here last Wednesday.

The shutout followed an earlier 6-1 triumph over Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

In taking credit for the win over Whitmore Lake, McMillan fired a four-hitter, striking out seven Trojan batters and walking three.

Lee Snow scattered four hits, fanned seven and walked two in taking the pitching victory over Ypsi. Novi

Wildcats Shine in Track, Too

After posting 10 points in the Central Michigan Relays Saturday in competition with 56 Class C schools Novi's track squad buried Ypsilanti and Whitmore Lake in a triangular meet Monday afternoon.

Boasting an edge in depth, the Wildcats racked up 85 points to easily defeat Ypsi (35 points) and the Trojans (25-points).

"Our boys are really starting to come along now," beamed Coach Fred Hanert. "We had more overall depth and where the other teams may have had some good individual performances we scored some important third and fourth places."

Best effort of the day was posted by rapidly improving John Davey ithe long jump. He broke his school's record with a jump of 20' 10" in taking first place in the event. Ken Osborn (18' 6") and Don Maki (18' 3½") took third and fourth.

In the 440 yard dash, the Wildcats sweep the first three places. Gary Boyer took first at 53.8, followed by Rick Hill at 53.9 and Steve Pomeroy at 56.2.

Davey picked up another first in the 220 yard dash (24.2) as Rick Dale and Maki tied for second at 24.6.

Important firsts also were notched by the Wildcats mile and 880 yard relay teams as the thinclads streaked home in 1:39.5 and 3:48.4. Members of the mile team included Jon VanWagner, Gary Eggleston, Pomeroy, and Hill on the anchor leg. Dale, Ken Osborn, Maki and Davey teamed up in the 880 relay.

*****

At Central Michigan, VanWagner picked up four points by posting a second in high jump with a mark of 6' 1" — which ties the school record. Novi's middle distance team picked up the remaining six points with a third place.

Tom Boyer ran the 880-yard lead leg, followed by Pomeroy, Hill, and Eggleston, a promising freshman, in the anchor position. The squad was clocked at 6:15.6.

In another event, Syd Chapman performed well in the low hurdles, tying the school record (21.9) but finishing out of the points.

Netters Win Two, Lose One

Schoolcraft College netters scored two impressive victories this past weekend after taking a beating at the hands of Henry Ford last week Wednesday.

The local tennis squad was blanked, 7-0, by Henry Ford and then bounced back to defeat Alpena 6-1 on Friday and Lorain (Ohio) 4-3 on Saturday.

Playing against Alpena at Delta, Jim Bajor won 6-1, 8-6; Randy Burnett defeated his opponent, 6-0 and 6-2; Joe Hodges blanked his opponent, 6-0, 6-0; and Randy Johns won, 6-1, 4-6 and 6-2.

At Stevenson against Loraine, Schoolcraft's number two player, Bajor won 6-2, 6-2 and Hodges won, 6-0, 6-1.

Thursday Services

A "Weekender's Worship Service" is to start at 8 p.m. next Thursday, May 15, at Northville First United Methodist Church. Designed to meet the needs of the many individuals who have cottages or who wish to be away over the weekend, the sermon will be the same one as the Reverend Guenther Branstner will give the following Sunday.

All-Sports Banquet Next Wednesday

The University of Michigan's first associate director of intercollegiate athletics will be the principal speaker at the second annual All Sports Banquet here next Wednesday.

Chalmers W. "Bump" Elliott, who closed out a decade of coaching at U-M with a fine 8-2 grid record in 1968, will join Northville's own colorful sports enthusiast, Andy Bertoni, for the Northville Boosters Club-sponsored event.

The program will get underway with a dinner in the high school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m., followed by the awards program in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Bertoni will once again serve as the master of ceremonies, and Jim Peterson, last year's athletic of the year will be present.

The public is invited to attend the sports program even if they do not attend the dinner.

Elliott, who succeeded Bennie Oosterbaan as Michigan's head football coach in 1959, in his new capacity is responsible for serving as liaison between the athletic director and the complete area of physical education and recreation at U-M. This includes intramurals, an expanded faculty recreation program, club sports, and both men's and women's physical education.

He also deals with Michigan's 23,000 alumni, working in fund raising programs.

The 43-year-old Elliott became head coach in 1959 after serving as an assistant at Oregon State, Iowa and then Michigan. Elliott's 10-year-coaching record is 51-42-2 for all games and 33-34-2 in the Big Ten. In 1968, his last season as coach, the Wolverines lost their first game and then won eight straight before losing to Ohio State in the season's final game.

During Elliott's 10 years, Michigan produced five All-Americans and several All-Big Ten players. The All-Americans are Ron Johnson (half-back-1968), Jack Clancy (end-1966), Rick Volk (defensive back-1966) Bill Yearby (tackle-1964/65) and Bob Timberlake (quarterback-1964).

Persons wishing to make reservations for the dinner or who may desire additional information are asked to call anyone of the following numbers, 349-5813, 349-0531 or 349-0573.

CHALMERS "BUMP" ELLIOTT

Jeff Moon Fires No-Hitter in First JV Appearance

Freshman Jeff Moon, making his first appearance on the mound for the Colts last week, fired a no-hitter and came within one out of racking up a perfect game as Northville blanked Brighton here, 3-0.

Serving up a combination of curve balls and effective sizzlers, Moon did not permit a batter to reach first base until three-quarters of the way through the final inning. An infield error marred the perfect game but he retired the next batter to save his no-hitter.

Hurling in his first high school game, the young product of recreation league competition went to the full count only twice — and these he fanned. Altogether, he struck out eight batters.

Meanwhile, teammates Dale Griffith and Bob Kurt each singled twice to account for Northville's four hits. The Colts scored twice in the first inning on walks, stolen base, wild pitch, and a throwing error, and once in the sixth on a single by Kurt.

Coach Cy Nichols couldn't have been happier with his team's performance or the victory — particularly in view of the Colts previous two losses — a 4-2 decision at Milford on April 24, and a 7-6 loss to Bloomfield Hills April 26.

"Everyone played a fine game in the field," he said, "to give Jeff a lot of help."

Rich Moore pitched a strong game in taking the loss against Milford, refusing to let a single runner reach first after the opening inning. In that first frame, however, Moore was nipped for four hits as Milford scored all of its runs.

Northville's own performance at the plate left something to be desired as only Ken Lash and Rick LaRue were able to get any wood on the ball. Both singled for the squad's two hits.

Errors was the name of the game here with Bloomfield Hills. Lash fired a five-hitter while his squad was committing seven errors in the field. All but one of Bloomfield's runs were unearned.

Going into the fifth inning, Northville led 6-2 but Bloomfield came up with two runs in the fifth and then wrapped it up with three more in the seventh.

Lash and Rick Asher were the only hitters for the Colts, with the pitcher driving home three runs with a double and two singles and Asher bringing across another run on a single.

Taylor was the winning pitcher at Clarenceville, allowing six hits, striking out 11 and walking six.

Northville drew blood in the first as Nirider picked up a hit, stole second and then scored on a single. In the second, Bach led off with a walk, Marburger hit into a forced play but the ball was thrown away and he was safe at second. Holdsworth then singled home the run.

In the seventh, Bach was safe on an error, Holdsworth tripled to left center scoring Bach, and Nirider singled home Holdsworth.

Taylor walked in two runs in the third, so the score was tied going into the fourth inning. Of Northville's five hits, Nirider picked up three of them and Holdsworth collected the other two.

Mustang Nine Wins Three But Slips

Northville's varsity nine took three of four games this past week but slipped in the Wayne-Oakland League race by losing the single contest to second-place Waterford Kettering, 2-0, here Monday afternoon.

Monday's defeat — the third one-run loss of the season — gave the Mustangs a 10-3 overall record and a 3-3 mark in the W-O loop.

Even more disastrous than the loss was the dislocated shoulder suffered by Northville's first sacker, Barry Deal, last year's leading hitter, during double victories over Livonia Franklin (5-0 and 6-3) Saturday. Deal, who was already nursing a sore shoulder because of a football injury, suffered the dislocation in the first game as he attempted to steal home and collided with Livonia's catcher. Lost for the remainder of the season, he is expected to undergo surgery next Tuesday.

Even before the Mustangs won both ends of Saturday's doubleheader, the local nine had posted a 4-2 triumph over the Trojans at Clarenceville Thursday afternoon.

Tied going into the stop of the seventh on Monday, Waterford's shortstop, Tom Curry parked a homer over the left field fence to give the visitors the victory.

Losing hurler Jeff Taylor gave up only four hits, however, while striking out 11 and walking one. Northville out-hit Waterford, collecting a total of seven hits.

The Mustangs scored first, picking up a run in the second on a walk to Taylor and successive base hits by Bernie Bach and Fred Holdsworth. Waterford bounced back with a single run in the top of the sixth, scoring on a single, an error and a pass ball.

Bach, who has been suffering a bad infection, pitched his first game

Thinclads Lose Twice

As Northville heads into the tough middle section of its track schedule it carries with it two recent defeats — at the hands of Livonia Stevenson and Bloomfield Hills Andover — that may spell trouble.

Stevenson lowered the boom early last week, swamping the Mustangs 87-31, and then Andover caught the thinclads napping and registered a 67-51 triumph here Thursday afternoon.

Coach Ralph Redmond saw Stevenson's big victory as evidence of "a really tough team." But Andover — that was a different matter. "We got off to a good start but the guys lost their mental attitude in a maze of over-confidence and we lost our edge."

Among the bright spots in an otherwise relatively dismal showing against Stevenson, Rick Bell, sophomore finished third in the two-mile and set a new school record 10:20.9. (Ironically, Novi's Mark Earl set an identical mark last week to share the lead with Bell in this category among area schools).

"Bell," said the coach, "is one of those fellows who is always in there doing his best. The same can't be said about some of the others we saw this past week."

Greg Marshall also was outstanding, according to Redmond, taking first in the 440 yard dash and setting a new best time for himself, 53 seconds flat.

On Saturday Northville posted six points in the Central Michigan Relays as its middle distance relay team took third place in Class 'B' competition.

BARRY PROM SETS SIGHTS ON BB-GUN TARGET

Six Boys Shoot Way into Finals

Six boys shot their way into state competition Saturday in the first annual Northville BB-gun tournament held at Ford Field Saturday morning.

Richard LoPrete took top honors in local competition sponsored by the Northville Jaycees. He will be joined by four other excellent shooters in the state BB-gun championship at Gibraltar. They are Jack Young, Tom Grunheid, Jim Young and Mike Corcoran. Selected as alternates are Bob Shook, Scott Lapham, and Kevin Henrion.

According to a Jaycee spokesman, Saturday's tournament, conducted in cooperation with the Northville Recreation Department, brought out a host of young shooters, many of whom excelled.

Medal winners were Prone position — Jim Young, first, Tom Grunheid, second, and Barry Prom, third, setting position — Mike Corcoran, first; Gary Gooch, second; and Bob Shook, third, kneeling position — Richard LoPrete, first; Tom Grunheid, second; and Scott Lapham, third; and in the off-hand position — Jack Young, first, Richard LoPrete, second, and Scott Lapham, third.

Milford Nips Colts By Point in Relay

Behind by four points going into the final event of the meet, Milford's junior varsity thinclads snatched a victory from Northville Friday afternoon at Milford, 55-54.

The first loss of the season for the Colts, defeat was bitter medicine for the local athletes in view of their capture of seven of 13 first places and their edge going into the final event — the 440 yard relay.

"Milford's big advantage," explained Coach Pete Johnson, "was in the field events. They took 21 points, while we got 15. In the shot, they took all three places. But even so the lead went back and forth throughout the meet."

Northville posted an unusual win in the 100 yard dash where Chris Sweany took first (15.2) and Keith Ferris nailed down third place. The unusually slow time resulted, officials realized too late, because the runners were actually racing 130 yards instead of the conventional 100.

Other Northville wins included:

Long jump — Sweany, first (17' 1¼"), and Ferris, third.

Pole vault — Bill Witak, first (7' 6"), and Frank Knoth and Kevin Peltot, tied at third.

High jump — Witack, second. 880 yard relay — Northville, including Steve Griggs, John Pacific, Greg Geroy, and Mark Van Drie (1:55.1)

60-yard dash — Sweany, first (7.5)

75-yard dash — Brian Findling and Ferris, second and third.

High hurdles — Don Pickren, first (10.5)

440 yard run — Mike Forrester, second, who lost out at the wire. He posted a time of 62.7, while the winner was clocked at 62.3.

Low hurdles — Griggs, first (15.7) and Pickren, second.

Citizens Protest at Hearings

Chairman George Zerbel announced that a decision would be reached at the June 3 meeting.

An advisory body, the nine-member planning commission makes its recommendations on rezoning to the city council which must then call another public hearing before rendering official action.

While the hearings remained orderly, they were not without bitter argument and caustic exchanges.

At one point when a suggestion to "forget the whole darn plan and leave it like it is" drew a round of applause Chairman Zerbel reminded the audience that the council had already indicated its approval of the master plan as it applies to the central business district. He also gave vent to planning commission frustration by noting that the CBD plan had been under study for six years "and we've been accused of moving too fast and dragging our feet".

(While the city council has officially given its blessing to the CBD plan in principle, it's known that there are varying degrees of acceptance of the plan as a whole. The CBD zoning, the circular drive and the "mall concept" on Main and Center streets do not have full support of the total council).

Planning Commission Member George Clark revealed that he is not in accord with the CBD zoning as proposed. He noted that his motion to extend the CBD zoning area eastward along Main street to include Del's Shoes and Northville Realty, as well as the Spinning Wheel building had been voted down 7-2.

Clark defended the necessity for a CBD plan, but he proposed modification of the plan by extending the CBD area eastward. He expressed doubt that commercial development would take place on south Center street because of the elevations and proposed double-deck parking in that area. He also noted that CBD zoning would create financing problems for owners of non-conforming buildings.

While Clark's minority motion had been to extend the CBD zoning to some seven additional properties, he indicated Tuesday night that he might favor dropping CBD zoning entirely within the CBD area. He pointed out that by permitting developers to build wherever they wished within the CBD area with the stipulation that a 3-1 parking ratio must be maintained within the CBD, greater flexibility with adequate protection would be provided.

Actually, there were at least four different positions taken during the hearings.

1 — Those opposed to any plan;

2 — Those favoring total CBD zoning within an area bounded by Cady on the south, Dunlap on the north, Wing on the west and Hutton on the east;

3 — Those favoring the original Clark proposal — extending the CBD zoning beyond the present proposed limits on East Main street (Northville Drug and Manufacturers Bank) eastward to include Del's Shoes and Northville Realty building as well as the Spinning Wheel;

4 — And the "purists", which seemed to be confined to the planners themselves, who would adopt the plan

Smokler, which is developing the Kings Mill community off Northville Road, contends this newest development, if rezoning is granted, would be of a higher quality, including garages and improved parking facilities, than Kings Mill. The company argues that the development would produce about the same number of residents as would single family homes, that it probably would generate fewer school-age children, and that the tax base per child would be greater than would result if the area was developed in single family homes.

Furthermore, the company proposes to present a "gift" of money to the school system in lieu of taxes that are not collected sometimes until months after children are enrolled in school.

Major objection of citizens, voiced first by James Nowke, was that the township has already exceeded the number of multiples suggested in the township's master plan. Further proliferation of multiples, he suggested, would defeat the plan's uniform ratio of single family homes to multiples. "I think we've had our fair share (of multiples). Enough is enough."

This same argument was used in opposition to the other two rezoning requests.

During the discussion Smokler's Kings Mill development was described by citizens as a "potential slum," a community of transients, center of trouble for the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, and "an eyesore."

"We're beginning to look like an army base," said Harold Williams.

Robert Geake said, "You want us to create a situation so the City of Detroit can export its problems." He saw multiples as an attraction for the least desirable groups, socially and economically.

"Isn't the will of the people a good reason for turning down the request?" asked Murray Rowland. And twice, Township Attorney John Ashton explained that each request must be decided on its own merits, that property owners cannot arbitrarily be denied the right to request rezoning for their land or to suggest usage for it, and that the commission cannot base its recommendation upon a "straw vote" of citizens. Citizen objections, however, are taken into consideration by the commission in making its recommendation and by the township board that must ultimately make the final decision, he added.

Citizens Protest at Hearings

Chairman George Zerbel announced that a decision would be reached at the June 3 meeting.

An advisory body, the nine-member planning commission makes its recommendations on rezoning to the city council which must then call another public hearing before rendering official action.

While the hearings remained orderly, they were not without bitter argument and caustic exchanges.

At one point when a suggestion to "forget the whole darn plan and leave it like it is" drew a round of applause Chairman Zerbel reminded the audience that the council had already indicated its approval of the master plan as it applies to the central business district. He also gave vent to planning commission frustration by noting that the CBD plan had been under study for six years "and we've been accused of moving too fast and dragging our feet".

(While the city council has officially given its blessing to the CBD plan in principle, it's known that there are varying degrees of acceptance of the plan as a whole. The CBD zoning, the circular drive and the "mall concept" on Main and Center streets do not have full support of the total council).

Planning Commission Member George Clark revealed that he is not in accord with the CBD zoning as proposed. He noted that his motion to extend the CBD zoning area eastward along Main street to include Del's Shoes and Northville Realty, as well as the Spinning Wheel building had been voted down 7-2.

Clark defended the necessity for a CBD plan, but he proposed modification of the plan by extending the CBD area eastward. He expressed doubt that commercial development would take place on south Center street because of the elevations and proposed double-deck parking in that area. He also noted that CBD zoning would create financing problems for owners of non-conforming buildings.

While Clark's minority motion had been to extend the CBD zoning to some seven additional properties, he indicated Tuesday night that he might favor dropping CBD zoning entirely within the CBD area. He pointed out that by permitting developers to build wherever they wished within the CBD area with the stipulation that a 3-1 parking ratio must be maintained within the CBD, greater flexibility with adequate protection would be provided.

Actually, there were at least four different positions taken during the hearings.

1 — Those opposed to any plan;

2 — Those favoring total CBD zoning within an area bounded by Cady on the south, Dunlap on the north, Wing on the west and Hutton on the east;

3 — Those favoring the original Clark proposal — extending the CBD zoning beyond the present proposed limits on East Main street (Northville Drug and Manufacturers Bank) eastward to include Del's Shoes and Northville Realty building as well as the Spinning Wheel;

4 — And the "purists", which seemed to be confined to the planners themselves, who would adopt the plan

Citizen objections, however, are taken into consideration by the commission in making its recommendation and by the township board that must ultimately make the final decision, he added.

Concerning the master plan, Commissioner Bernard Baldwin explained that it is a guide, that its suggested provisions for multiples are as proposed.

Among the businessmen who spoke up opposed to CBD zoning for their properties were Councilmen Paul Folino and Kenneth Rathert, Aaron Gellerman of Brader's and C.A. Smith (owner of the Brader building), Glenn Long, Barnard Stadtmiller (owner of the Spinning Wheel building), Fred McLean of the Spinning Wheel, Craig Rathburn, George Miller, Orson Atchison, Mrs. D. H. Britton, Harley Cole, Edmond Yerkes, Del Black.

Several residents near the business district opposed bringing parking near their homes. Others spoke up against closing of Main or Center streets (which was not part of the business under consideration at the hearings).

C. A. Smith was particularly critical of the planning commission saying its plan "will destroy Northville". He said he had a better plan, but the commission had declined to hear his idea. He added that outside interests have asked him to take part in building a new shopping center in Northville, but he favored building up the present CBD, "not tearing it down".

Rather said that as a building owner he objected to CBD zoning on the basis it would depreciate the property's value.

Black, an ex-councilman, said that CBD would deter improvements of buildings under that zoning and he noted that several businesses within the proposed CBD area (including his own, Brader's, D & C and the Spinning Wheel) were doing flourishing business and that they should be permitted to continue to do so under CBD zoning, rather than a non-conforming status that would not permit expansion.

Members of the planning commission taking part in the public hearing were Chairman Zerbel, Clark, Harvey Ritchie, Dr. Dale Kiser, William Heffner, C. Thomas Wheaton, Warren Stoddard, Charles Freydl, Jr., and Robert Lang.

They promised to consider all comments before reaching a recommendation at the June 3 meeting.

Other than citizen objection to multiples in general, the only other major opposing argument came from Robert Geake, who noted that the adjacent Child Development Center may one day be abandoned thus leaving a complex of empty buildings next to Northrop's townhouses-apartments — an open invitation to undesirable development.

Boatin, who proposes to build a single building containing three apartments, noted that the neighborhood presently consists of low-cost, older homes and that his building would improve the appearance of the area.

The applicant said he will live in one of the apartment units, renting out the other two.

Nevertheless, neighboring property owners argued that the apartment building deteriorates the area, adversely affect property values and destroying the residential character, and that the building represents one more step towards saturation of the southeast portion of the township with multiples.

Funnel Season Approaching

Nature's Killer Wind on The Loose

Of all the winds that sweep this planet's surface, tornadoes are the most violent.

Their time on earth is short, and their destructive paths are rather small — but there are few communities within the circulation area of this newspaper that haven't felt the fury of these hideous creatures of nature.

No community in this area is safe and, warns officials of the United States Weather Bureau, the tornado "season" for the area is rapidly approaching.

Tornado frequency usually starts picking up in the Great Lakes region late in May, drifting in from the southern plains states as warm, moist air penetrates the area while cool, dry air is still surging in from the north and northwest.

Although the bureau emphasizes the potential danger during this period, it notes that the mathematical chance that a specific location will be struck by a tornado in any one year is quite small. For example, the probability of a tornado striking a given point in the area most frequently subject to tornadoes is about once in 250 years.

But statistics can lie, too. Ask Flint area residents.

Tornadoes are local storms, explain the experts, formed of winds rotating at very high speeds, usually in a counter-clockwise direction. These storms are visible as a vortex, a whirlpool structure of winds rotating about a hollow cavity in which centrifugal forces produce a partial vacuum.

As condensation occurs around the vortex, a pale cloud appears — the familiar and frightening tornado funnel. Air surrounding the funnel is also part of the tornado vortex; as the storm moves along the ground, this outer ring of rotating winds become dark with dust and debris, which may eventually darken the entire funnel.

These small, severe storms form several thousand feet above the earth's surface, usually during warm, humid, unsettled weather, and usually in conjunction with a severe thunderstorm.

Sometimes a series of two or more tornadoes is associated with a parent thunderstorm. As the thunderstorm moves, tornadoes may form at intervals along its path, travel a few miles, and dissipate.

The forward speed of tornadoes has been observed to range from almost no motion to 70 miles per hour.

Funnels usually appear as an extension of the dark, heavy cumulonimbus clouds of thunderstorms, and stretch downward toward the ground. Some never reach the surface; others touch and rise again.

As a tornado passes over a building, the winds twist and rip at the outside at the same time that the abrupt pressure reduction in the tornado's "eye" causes explosive over-pressures inside the building. Walls collapse or topple outward, windows explode.

It is not possible, say weathermen, to predict the exact time a tornado will hit or where it will strike. However, it is possible to identify areas in which weather conditions suggest a high probability of tornado generation. These areas are usually about 100 miles wide and 250 miles long.

TORNADO WATCHES are the first message between the National Severe Storms Forecast Center and areas potentially threatened by tornadoes. They specify the area covered by the watch, and establish a period of time during which tornado probabilities are expected to be dangerously high.

The object of the watch is to alert everyone in the area and to advise them to be ready to seek shelter if a tornado is sighted.

TORNADO WARNING means that a tornado has actually been sighted or its presence is suspected from radar echoes. The warning will indicate where the tornado was discovered, the area through which it may move, and the approximate time period involved.

The tornado warning is the time to seek shelter.

Here's Tornado Tips

When a tornado WARNING alert is given, the weather bureau advises people to seek inside shelter, preferably in a tornado cellar, underground excavation, or a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building of substantial construction.

By all means stay away from windows.

Here are some general safety rules to follow:

IN OFFICE BUILDINGS — Stand in an interior hallway on a lower floor, preferably in the basement.

IN FACTORIES — On receiving a tornado WARNING, post a lookout. Workers should move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection in accordance with advance plans.

IN HOMES — The basement usually offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under a sturdy workbench or heavy table if possible. In a home with no basement, take cover under heavy furniture in the center part of the house. Keep some windows open, but stay away from them!

MOBILE HOMES — These are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds. Trailer parks should have a community shelter. Appoint a community leader responsible for constant radio monitoring during threatening weather or during WATCH periods.

IN SCHOOLS — Whenever possible, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor.

Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs. If a building is not of reinforced construction, go quickly to a nearby reinforced building, or to a ravine or open ditch and lie flat.

IN OPEN COUNTRY — Move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.

Girl Scouts to Plant 1,000 Seedlings

SCOUT 'PLANTERS' — Girl Scouts of Troop 331 show how red pine seedlings grow. This seedling was set out last spring. Saturday 1,000 more will be planted by Northville Scouts.

One-thousand red pine seedlings are to be planted on Northville school grounds by area Girl Scouts this Saturday afternoon in a community beautification activity.

The seedlings, grown by the forestry division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources at Southern Michigan Nursery in Howell will be planted on the grounds of Amerman and Moraine elementaries, Cooke Junior High and Northville High School. These seedlings can grow to a height of five feet in five years, the forestry division reports.

Each Girl Scout participating in the planting is asked to bring a shovel and popsicle-type sticks to identify the trees she plants so that she may care for them later.

Twenty-two Girl Scouts of Junior Troop 336 went on a bike-hike last Saturday with their co-leader, Mrs. Virgil Matheus, assisted by Mrs. Halton Axtell and Mrs. Lee Zenoniani.

The troop plans to take a five-mile hike next Friday, May 16, to Edward Hines Park where parents will join the scouts for a potluck supper. A June 1 rain date is set in event of bad weather. The scouts plan to tour The Northville Record May 22.

*****

More than 400 Girl Scouts from the Northville-Plymouth areas with their fathers toured Camp Linden during Father's Day April 27.

Plans now are being made for a family open house at the rolling, 405-acre site filled with trees and lakes. It is scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. June 22 with the staff for this summer's resident camp to be on hand to greet visitors and answer questions about the site and facilities or the program.

Self-guiding tour maps are being prepared for individual family explorations, and the camp is preparing displays, slides and photos in the lodge.

Camp Linden is known as the camp that cookie sales built. This week the Huron Valley Girl Scouts announced that another "giant financial step" has been taken. According to a preliminary report just released by Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, Plymouth council president, the 1969 cookie sale resulted in a profit of $61,394.76 after taxes.

This money will be used to further pay off the land mortgage, to expand the swimming and boating area, to provide minor site improvements and for the camp program.

Almost 500 Scouts attended the resident camp last summer and 2,000 Scouts use the site each year for year-round troop camping.

In addition to the council camp profit from the cookie sale, it was announced, troops earned $14,617, which averages about $51 a troop to be used within the troop for projects and equipment.

*****

Attending the area Girl Scouts leaders and adults April meeting in the Scout-Recreation building was Scout Field Director Mrs. Troy Brazell.

Plans were made for Northville troops to assist in serving the spaghetti dinner during the PTA Carnival May 23.

It was announced that there will be four sessions of Girl Scout Day Camp this summer in Cass Benton Park with Northville Scouts able to attend any of the sessions.

Each Girl Scout troop leader is making individual arrangements for Memorial Day observation.

*****

Northville Brownie Troop led by Mrs. George McMullen and Mrs. Jack Slotnick, made Easter bunnies which they filled with candy and gave to children at Plymouth State Home.

*****

Troop 331 recruited a new member, Michelle Chapman, in observance of Lady-Baden Powell's birthday. Lady Baden-Powell, wife of the founder of the Boy Scouts and herself founder of the Girl Scouts, celebrated her 80th birthday on Girl Scout Thinking Day. In her honor each Girl Scout troop is being asked to add at least one girl to its troop by June 1.

The troop visited Herbert Guntzville, a taxidermist.

First Performance Of Cantata Set

Northville Composer Charlene Winslow Slabey will have the premiere public performance of a new cantata for full chorus at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, May 18, in Trinity Episcopal Church, 26880 LaMuer Drive, Farmington.

Taken from the New Testament Book of Revelation, the cantata "The Light of the World," is an original work by Mrs. Slabey.

A Northville resident with her husband, Theodore, and family, Mrs. Slabey is a pianist, piano teacher and DEER DROWNS — It's hard to believe, but Kim Reh and his four sisters of 42801 Waterford Road — just east of Northville Road — found this 140-pound buck (he's just sprouting antlers) dead on a pasture fence behind their home last Thursday. The animal apparently drowned when he crashed into the fence late at night and his head caught beneath the surface of swamp water. It's the first deer ever seen east of Northville Road by the Reh family. The young buck was turned over to the Conservation Department.

Community Building

$18,000 Expense OK'd to Remodel

Expenditure of $18,000 for remodeling of the west side of the community building for administrative offices was approved by the Northville Board of Education last week.

Remodeling work got underway Thursday.

The Cavern teen club, which had been leasing the facility as a clubroom, last week moved its equipment from the community building to the basement of the old junior high school where work is progressing in preparing a new clubroom.

Plans call for dividing the west half of the community building into offices and work space for the superintendent, business manager, curriculum coordinator, and secretaries. Superintendent Raymond Spear's office is to be located in what is now the kitchen area.

Board meeting and conference rooms are to be located on what is now the stage. The state curtain area will be walled.

Public entrance to the administrative offices will be through the west front door of the building. A partition will divide the lobby in half so that persons using the gymnasium portion of the building (Schoolcraft College is leasing it) will not have access to the new office area.

Eventually, as more office space is required, offices are to be located in the gymnasium area at which time the entire building will be used by the Northville school system.

Once remodeling is complete administrative offices will be moved from the second floor of the old junior high school to the new facilities. Renovation of the old junior high school, meanwhile is to continue in anticipation of sixth grade classes that will be housed there next fall.

'Bus' Banquet Set May 21

Northville school bus drivers will be honored at an "appreciation supper" on May 21 — as part of Michigan Week activities here, School Business Manager Earl Busard has announced.

The supper program will get underway at 6:30 p.m. in the Ida B. Cooke Junior High School Cafeteria.

It is being co-sponsored by the board of education, State Farm Insurance, Robert Collins of the McFadden Corporation, the Wayne County Intermediate School District and the Northville Record.

Following the supper, a short presentation program honoring the bus drivers for "their fine services" will be conducted, with Jack Hoffman as master of ceremonies.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

Continental Motors Corporation, one of Novi's biggest employers, announced plans to close its Novi road plant. In a statement to this newspaper, Andrew Ureel, plant manager, revealed that changes in the corporate combine of Continental along with change and reorganization of the firm's business, accounted for the decision to close the plant.

David Fried, incumbent member of the Novi Board of Education, announced plans to seek re-election in the June 8 election.

Investigation continued as Wixom and state law enforcement officials searched for clues in the bombing of the dance hall of the Finnish recreation area in Wixom. A bomb damaged the front of the building, but no one was injured.

James Kipfer, Northville Board of Education vice-president, announced he will be a candidate in June, but Dr. Waldo Johnson, board treasurer, decided not to run for re-election. William Templeton and Donald Lawrence were undecided.

Northville Electric Shop, started by C. B. Turnbull as an electrical wiring business 47 years previously, changed ownership, with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Thomas of 15485 Marilyn, took over its operation.

Evans Products Company of Plymouth announced a major expansion program at its Eckles Road plant, with cost pegged at $1.5 million.

TEN YEARS AGO...

Construction of the new Grand River bridge near Kent Lake was started — just two days after the victory celebration by Grand River merchants who had launched a drive for the bridge's construction.

A letter and petitions containing 400 names was sent to the Oakland County Road Commission requesting "slower speeds" on 10 Mile Road, Ronald Jennings, president of the Willowbrook Association revealed.

Novi Township came up with an unofficial settlement figure of $19,754 for the division of assets for the new city of Wixom, once a part of Novi Township.

Bids were read at a special meeting of the Northville City Council for materials for the city's estimated $25,000 well-site improvement program.

City Recreation Director Stan Johnston said the newly organized "employment bureau" for youngsters was about to dissolve — unless calls for work were forthcoming.

Nearly 100 bicycles were inspected during the annual bicycle safety program sponsored by the Northville Optimist Club and the Northville Police Department.

Preparations for returning the controversial $300,000 water bond issue to the people for a second vote were underway.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

Northville's own field artillery battery, or at least one unit of it, was dedicated when one of the huge 41-ton self-propelled guns, largest in the world, was displayed at the Community Building grounds.

Burglars ransacked the office of The Record and took approximately $30 in cash.

That something must be done to alleviate overcrowding of Novi schools was indicated by Superintendent Mrs. Mary Ann Atkinson.

The terms of Robert Coolman, president of the Northville Board of Education, and Don Severance, secretary, were due to expire June 13.

Winners of the American Legion Auxiliary poppy poster contest were: Karl Hoffmann, Elaine Drew, Julie Hammond, Karon Bayless, Barbara Wood, and Susan Dewsbury.

Art work by Ronnie Clark was to be shown in the second annual circle art show sponsored by the Roswell, New Mexico Museum.

Philip Ogilvie, Northville village attorney, and John Stubenvoll, village commissioner, attended a meeting of the Michigan Municipal League in Lincoln Park.

Season lineup of bands at the Walled Lake Casino included: Sammy Kaye, Ralph Marterie, Ralph Flanagan, Jonny Long, Jan Garber, Charlie Spivak, Buddy Morrow and Shep Fields.

Mrs. Russell Taylor was general chairman of the Novi School Fair slated for May 7.

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

All was in readiness for the cornerstone laying of St. Paul's new Lutheran church here.

A fire Saturday afternoon at the Wayne County Training School destroyed two barns.

The George Clark Hardware was holding a spring sale.

Miss Eleanor Peeke was the musical director, Mrs. Kathleen Newton the dialogue director and Miss Margaret Sours the accompanist for the grade school operetta here, "Tom Sawyer."

Chaperones for the J-Hop were: Dr. and Mrs. Russell Atchison, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. George Stalker, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Amerman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mollema, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Eural Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coolman and Miss Kathryn Giltner.

Toastmistress for the Methodist Mothers-Daughters banquet was Mrs. Robert Frost. Beverly Stone gave the toast to the mothers and Mrs. C. O. Hammond gave the reply to the daughters.

Newly elected officers of the Northville Coordinating Council were: Lynn Sullivan, president; Mrs. E. J. Willis, vice-president; Mrs. O. F. Reng, secretary; and Mrs. George Pickell, treasurer.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

Named as American Heroes in The Record were these three Northville servicemen: Dale Richmond, Phyl S. Stimpson and Raymond Richmond.

As the result of the combined efforts of the residents of Plymouth, Redford, Livonia Township, Northville and the various institutions located about here, an entire carload of cans, weighing more than 20 tons, was on its way to munition factories of the United States.

Explorer's Spaghetti Makes Hit

"It was tremendous — how many can boast that their dinners attracted guests from as far away as Colorado and Oklahoma?"

Howard Wright, adult adviser for Northville's new Explorer organization, Post 905, was describing the "fantastic" response for the post's fund-raising spaghetti dinner held here Thursday night.

"The boys just had no idea so many people would turn out. A couple, visitors from Oklahoma and Colorado in this area, even showed up.

Wright expressed thanks for the public's response, giving special praise to members of Boy Scout Troop 731, Girl Scout Susan Wright, and even non-scouting parents "who pitched in to help us out when we were swamped. And the bakery was kind enough to donate goods and give us a big discount."

More than 200 persons were fed piles of spaghetti and 20 gallons of sauce.

Funds from the dinner, together with receipts from the post's Saturday flowering crab tree sale, will be sufficient to cover the boys' fishing-hunting trip to Canada in June, Wright said.

Split Schedule Unlikely at HS

Early fears that the board of education might have to institute a split-day program at Northville High School with the opening of school next September apparently have been put to rest.

Although student enrollment of the high school is expected to create crowded conditions next year, Superintendent Raymond Spear and Principal Fred Holdsworth have concluded that the present program can be continued at least through most of the school year.

The two administrators called the decision to continue the program a "calculated gamble" that enrollment will not climb much beyond 900.

Three other choices were considered, they said. These included adoption of a split-day schedule (7 to 12 and 12 to 5), lengthening of the school day (8 to 5), or leasing of portable classrooms.

In deciding to continue the program, the administrators advised the board that leasing of portable classrooms at mid-year may become necessary should enrollment climb beyond current estimates.

Northville Man Sent to Prison

A Northville man was sentenced to 1½ to two years in Southern Michigan Prison by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt April 22 following his conviction for check law violation.

Jailed was Percy D. Farero, whose last known address was 424½ Yerkes Street. He had been arrested and charged by Novi police.

Who doesn't like to be remembered? It's natural to feel a certain glow when you receive a greeting card. It means that someone has thought of you, that someone cares.

Yet how foolish it would be for any of us to ever believe that we are alone or friendless. There is always Someone who cares, who cares very deeply . . . who cared enough to sacrifice His only Son for us.

At times we are all lonesome. Yet we are never really alone. There are few places in the world where we cannot, if we but look, find a church that will welcome us wholeheartedly. God's house is not like other houses. There is always room in it for one more. And when that one more has entered, there is room for yet another.

Start taking part in the life of the Church today!

Panel Hears Park Bond Arguments

A legislative panel, chaired by Representative Tom Anderson, Detroit, was convened Monday, April 28 to hear testimony from the general public as to how they believe the $100 million Recreation Bond should be apportioned.

The following bills, which recommend various formulas for the division of the Bond monies, have been introduced in the legislature:

SB 759 - Senators Rockwell-Bowman proposed that 70 percent be apportioned to the Department of Natural Resources, 30 percent to local governments.

SB 922 and companion House Bill HB 3246 proposed by Senator Basil Brown of Highland Park and Representatives Suski and Bradley, Detroit, recommends that 80 percent be allocated for cities, 20 percent for the Department of Natural Resources (D.N.R.)

House Bill 3011, sponsored by Representative Bradley proposes 20 percent for State projects (D.N.R.) - 80 percent for local projects and to be administered by State administration board.

HB 3716, SB 876, proposed by Representative Hampton and Senator Coleman Young respectively, recommends the so called Governor's Bill, which proposes a 30 percent - 30 percent - division for local units of government - the second 30 percent for only those local units with populations exceeding 100,000; and 40 percent for State projects (D.N.R.)

Over 300 persons were present. Over 90 requested and received time to speak in behalf of the division of bond monies which they favored.

Among those speaking in favor of the formula advocating 80 percent for cities and 20 percent for State were:

John May, director of Detroit Parks and Recreation; Mayor Crowley of Taylor; Olga Madar, recreation director for the United Auto Workers; and Robert Tripp, member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

A large number of other citizens from Detroit's inner city spoke impressively and strongly of the recreation needs of the inner city, and for the 80 percent - 20 percent split which favors the inner city.

Richard Schehr, representing District 18 of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (M.U.C.C.) spoke for the 70 percent (State) - 30 percent (city) split. Schehr maintained that the bond issue had been sold to the electorate on that basis, therefore it should be divided as advertised, before and during the election campaign.

Senator Basil Brown challenged Schehr's contention that the Michigan State legislature was in any way, morally or legally, committed to any campaign propaganda used in advertising and promoting the sale of the Recreation Bond.

Northville City Council Minutes

April 21, 1969

The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen at 8:10 p.m., Monday, April 21, 1969, at the Northville City Hall.

ROLL CALL: Present: Allen, Carlson, Lapham and Nichols. Absent: Black

SWEARING-IN OF NEW COUNCIL: Mayor Allen was given the oath of office by Clerk Milne, and then oath was given to two new Council members, Paul Folino and Kenneth Rathert. The families of the Mayor and two Councilmen were introduced. Mayor Allen, speaking for the Council and City, bid good-bye to retiring Councilwoman Carlson.

ROLL CALL OF NEW COUNCIL: Present: Allen, Folino, Lapham, Nichols and Rathert. Absent: None.

PUBLIC HEARING-MARATHON OIL & BENIECKE & KRUE: (City Mgr. asked to have Item No. 8 on the Agenda "Public Hearing" moved to precede others)

Robt. E. Childs, Atty for Marathon Oil and Beniecke & Krue pointed out that Marathon was buying more property than was needed for retail service station. Rodney Kropf, attorney for the Civic Ass'n., was heard - emphasized residential zoning abutting area, and following six citizens were heard:

Mrs. Pat Kurtz, Langfield Avenue; Charles Wallace, 1012 Canterbury; Douglas Loomis, 1000 Canterbury; Lawrence Nemschick, 1114 Allen Drive; Paul Vernon 1080 Allen Drive; Pat Newbold, 1020 Allen Dr.

Mayor Allen adjourned the Public Hearing until the May 5th meeting when a decision will be given.

MINUTES: Minutes of April 8, 1969 meeting were accepted as submitted.

BILLS: After discussion of some of the bills, moved by Lapham, support by Rathert, to pay bills in the following amounts:

Gen Fund Disb.	$22,703.79
Other Govt.	48.70
Public Impvmt. Fund	3,068.57
Street Fund	2,775.43
Water Fund	4,772.00

Unanimously carried.

The fire siren at City Hall and its repairs were discussed. The cost of a new one is to be reported at a future meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS: (a) Notice of Public Hearing for re-zoning of 3 parcels of land in Novi Township was read.

(b) Letter from Russell E. Harrison, Wayne County Road Commissioners re. (1) future meeting with Lyle M. Nustad, Traffic

Superintendent Spear Urges Support For School Bills

A call for citizen support of two bills in the Michigan House of Representatives was issued this week by Northville School Superintendent Raymond Spear.

"It's time for action on the part of all citizens of this community in assisting to get these two bills out of committee and onto the floor of the House," declared the superintendent.

The bills to which he referred include:

House Bill No. 3217, introduced for the purpose of bringing about tax relief for the Northville district, due to the large quantity of land within the district which is tax exempt.

House Bill No. 3218, introduced for the purpose of providing an additional State Aid appropriation to cover the cost of educating children in the district who live on tax-free land.

Spear encouraged local citizens to write their legislators and, more specifically, the chairmen of the House and Senate education committees, and the chairmen of the House and Senate appropriations committees.

Local representatives are Marvin R. Stempien, 31707 Plymouth Road, Livonia, and Clifford Smart, 555 West Walled Lake Drive, Walled Lake; the local senator is George Kuhn, 7222 Cottonwood, Birmingham; the House and Senate Education chairman, respectively, are Mrs. Lucille H. McCollough, 5717 Kentucky, Dearborn, and Anthony Stamm, 2097 South Fourth Street, Kalamazoo; and the House and Senate appropriations chairmen, respectively, are William R. Copeland, 3536 Twenty-first Street, Wyandotte, and Charles O. Zollar, P.O. Box 298, Benton Harbor.

Both of the bills were introduced in the House on behalf of the Northville district by Representative Stempien.

In addition to writing lawmakers concerning these two bills, Spear suggested that local citizens also go on record in support of recently adopted resolutions of the Northville Board of Education. These, he explained, suggest action at Lansing that would aid the Northville School District in other ways. These include:

A resolution urging provision for collection of school taxes in the summer as well as the winter so that the school district need not borrow money in the summer in anticipation of income it does not receive until winter.

A resolution encouraging the legislature to reinstitute the 7-mill bonding program (which provided districts could borrow money beyond the 7-mill limit without raising local millage levy) or at least grant exemption from the sliding scale concept by those districts which held bond elections prior to enactment of the sliding scale law in 1967.

A resolution urging legislative action providing for collection of taxes for the remainder of the year after newly constructed houses are occupied (presently, taxes are not collected until the following year of occupancy).

A resolution opposing any state aid to non-public schools on the premise that such action would weaken public schools by diverting funds from public schools.

Concerning the two House bills, Spear said he believes House Bill 3218 has the best chance of passage

Signal Engineer and the City of Northville regarding a feasibility and desirability of installing flashing red arrows to operate in conjunction with red signal interval on Main St. (2) separate letter to City relative to intersection of Sheldon Rd. and Main St.

(c) Letter from City of Westland re. proposed method of assessing.

(d) Letter from Bruce McAllister, 342 E. Main St., Northville, relative to City ordinances and their application; referred to City Attorney regarding possible libelous content.

(e) Communication from Charles Altman regarding sidewalk installation at 866 Grace St. and request to replace 9 most northerly flags.

Referred to City Mgr. and City Engineer to check safety of said sidewalk.

City Mgr. referred to City Mgr's Memo No. 69-8 and 69-9 regarding District Court Revenues and Expenditures for 1st quarter of 1968-69 and Summary Report of inter-Fund Loans and Transfers. (requested by Mayor Allen and Councilman Nichols)

Mayor Allen stated he had received a letter from Wayne County Civil Defense regarding a meeting on April 22 at 10 a.m. at Metro Airport. Councilman Folino accepted the request for him to attend this meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Councilman Folino presented a petition, which had been given to him for Council, from residents of Hill St. and abutting streets, asking that Hill St. paving be re-considered as signers are not in favor of said paving.

(b) Robert Isom, 624 Reed Ct., spoke regarding complaint against the Convenient Food Mart, Novi Rd. He understood from Planning Commission Meeting that at anytime trucks were having to go on greenbelt, a curb could be requested; he feels this is happening often enough to request owner to install curb for greenbelt in rear of building.

City Mgr. feels City Attorney could aid in achieving this by legal correspondence with owner.

REQUEST FOR RE-ZONING OF LOT 185 & 8 1/2 of Lot 184, OAKWOOD SUB: City Clerk read letter from John Badalutz, petitioner on this re-zoning, asking that Public Hearing be postponed to next regular meeting on May 5th, 1969. Council approved postponement.

REQUEST TO SOLICIT FOR SYNANON: Clerk read request made by Dennis Dildy, Chief Probation Officer for 35th District Court, to solicit within the City of Northville, for a period expiring June 29, 1969. Moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, to grant permission to Dennis Dildy (and 3 helpers) to solicit for Synanon within the City of Northville for a period ending June 29, 1969.

Unanimously carried.

City Attorney was asked to work on an amended solicitation ordinance.

LIBRARY FURNITURE: City Mgr. explained the background on joint purchase of furniture for Northville Library. Present split is City - 60% and Township - 40%. Library Board sees that in the future, replacements and new equipment could become larger item and they do not think present method of paying for furniture is equitable, it should be owned by one party and rental be paid by 2nd party.

Moved by Folino, support by Rathert, that plans as outlined by City Mgr. be accepted and City Mgr. authorized to meet with Northville Twp.

Unanimously carried.

NORTH CENTER ST. IMPROVEMENT: City Mgr. explained background and various proposals for North Center St. improvement. Mayor Allen asked City Engineer for plans and specifications on this street.

After considerable discussion regarding feasibility of paving, total length of street improvement needed, it was decided before a Public Hearing date could be set - the following information was needed:

(1) Schedule including A. V., attached to City Mgr's report, be revised.

(2) Approve engineering plans

APPOINTMENTS TO BE MADE: (a) Mayor Pro-tem

Moved by Allen, support by Rathert, to appoint Wallace Nichols, Mayor Pro-tem for the City of Northville for the remainder of his term on Council.

Unanimously carried.

(b) Representative to Michigan Municipal League

Moved by Allen, support by Nichols, to appoint Kenneth Rathert as City of Northville's representative to Michigan Municipal League.

Unanimously carried.

(c) Moved by Appt. to Recreation Commission

Moved by Nichols, support by Lapham, to appoint Paul Folino to the Northville Recreation Commission for a term of 2 years, ending January 1, 1970; replacing Ed Welch.

Unanimously carried.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Thursday, Friday and most of Saturday I spent in Chicago pouring over hundreds of entries in the 1969 National Better Newspaper contest sponsored by the National Newspaper Association.

Pure vanity motivated my acceptance of an invitation from Ted Serrill, executive vice president of NNA, to serve as a judge in the annual contest. There are some 6,800 newspapers throughout the 50 states holding membership in the NNA and every publisher is an expert when it comes to judging another newspaper.

Then, too, I thought it would be a little break from the old routine... a vacation. I talked my wife and daughter into going along I'd show them the big city and a good time.

I should have known Wednesday evening when we boarded that airline with a patriotic name that the "old routine" isn't so bad.

For starters we left my suits in the car.

Sorry, said a beautiful but unimaginative stewardess, there's no way to get the suits out of the car. It's take-off time.

But the baggage chief in Chicago (a fellow named Emmons with whom I later became well acquainted via telephone) had more imagination. He called back to Detroit, told his counterpart where our car was parked and how to break-in to a convertible without ripping the top.

"Your suits will be at your hotel by midnight", he assured me. And my confidence in the efficiency of the airlines was restored.

"Emmons is top-drawer", I told my wife. He didn't panic like those stewardesses.

But next morning my suits were in Los Angeles. At least they should have been in LA because they weren't unloaded in Chicago.

According to Emmons, they couldn't find my suits in LA, but he knew they had been placed aboard the plane in Detroit.

"Somebody out there (LA) probably noticed they were supposed to have been unloaded in Chicago and just put them back on a returning flight", he assured me.

Emmons had slipped a drawer or two in my estimation.

By Thursday night my lone pair of slacks and sport coat were showing the signs of two-days' wear. Probably I could get over-night pressing service. But first I'd try Emmons again. (In between I talked a couple of times with a guy named Paduska who was also familiar with the flight of my suits. He assured me that another plane would not leave O'Hare airport with my suits aboard.)

"Good news, Mr. Sliger", said Emmons. "We've found your suits. They'll be at your hotel before midnight"

"Top drawer, just like I said", I told my wife.

And when we returned from dinner that night my well-travelled suits were at the hotel

Meanwhile, the judging assignment had not turned into the "honorary" position that I had envisioned. Six of us were kept busy reading or examining a dozen categories with a couple hundred or more entries each. And my fellow judges, some of whom had worked on the project previously, let me know that it was dead serious business. Winners weren't picked casually. They had to be "top drawer", so to speak.

And after selecting three winners and three honorable mentions each judge had to write 150 words or more on why and how he reached his decision.

I managed dinner with my family every night. Not lunch or breakfast. And as for seeing Chicago, they did that alone during the day.

The experience of judging other newspapers was most gratifying, however.

I have never been modest about the quality of our newspapers — The Record, News, Herald and Argus. But I must admit that there are some other newspapers throughout this nation, large dailies and small weeklies, doing one heck of a job.

My estimation of the newspaper media of our country was boosted immensely by what I saw in Chicago. (I'm sure my friends who frequently attack certain newspaper policies, and declare when I defend these policies that I'm prejudice, will find little joy in the fact that I've become even more so).

But, my friends, the press in this nation is doing a tremendous job.

Like the smalltown, deep-south editor who asked his city council to reconsider a decision not to pave streets in the colored section of the city on the basis that they could not afford the special assessments and that it would be inequitable to apply a policy in one part of the city and not another.

"They're suffered injustices and seen a few inequities themselves", he respectfully reminded the council. He suggested that the streets be paved without assessment, even though this might be an injustice to the white community.

And countless editors were fighting a battle not unfamiliar to us... that of closed meetings held by elective bodies.

And there were numerous in-depth feature stories revealing individual or broad problems of society.

And excellent news photographs, hard news stories of day-to-day happenings, humorous columns to ease the tensions, brilliant use of color, etc.

The National Newspaper Association "Better Newspaper Contest" challenged me, as I hope it will our staff.

We're not as good as I thought. We can do a better job.

Readers Speak—On Short Skirts, Crime, Beautification, and Oliver

To the Editor:

Should girls wear skirts or should they wear slacks to school?

That is a question that is in everyone's mind today. I feel that it would be more comfortable to wear slacks and more decent.

The majority of girls who wear skirts wear them too short. They wear them so that when they sit down you can see their nylon tops.

But, first let us get a better picture of what we are judging before we judge which is right or wrong.

Here is a question that should be answered: Is it ladylike to wear slacks?

I think it is more ladylike to wear slacks than to let your nylon tops show as well as your girdle.

If school allows us to wear slacks, it will eliminate such a problem as "exposure".

If girls are allowed to wear slacks they can either wear them everyday or when they want to. In other words I, think the decision should be left up to the individual!

On the other hand, if slacks are worn in school there should be a restriction on what kind can be worn at schools!

To the Editor:

No, we do not tell it like it is; we tell it as it is unless the advertisers and the upstarts are smarter than the lexicographers, and I doubt it.

Already, the T.V. masters of

"2001: A Space Odyssey" will make more than one person scratch his head and wonder what it's all about, even those willing to suspend their disbelief and plunge 32 years into the future.

Clearly, the movie deserved the Academy Award for "best visual effects," but the visual effects do nothing in the way of helping the viewer to make some sense out of this futuristic movie. They, in fact, add to the movie's inscrutability.

For what it's worth, the movie divided into three time periods: the dawn of man, a flight to the moon and a period 18 months later dealing with a flight to Saturn.

ceremonies and the advertisers indulge in sex and nudism. So, to the "broad-minded" and confirmed nudists, I say, "Move to where nudism is endemic" — exchange a Christian civilization for a heathen one.

All low-priced cars, domestic or foreign, are not for sale; they are for advertising purposes only.

We do not need an anti-ballistic treaty with our Commie "friends". There is as much chance of a missile war's erupting as there is of razing a single bank in Switzerland — depository of money-hungry men, particularly the dictators.

Benito Mussolini was the only head of government who paraded the Mafia through the streets in animal cages. Is this the reason why he was exoriated?

A young policeman, in the line of duty, is murdered; and a gang known as the NRA walk with determination about a church dressed in military uniforms and carrying rifles. Let's cease with the euphemistic quasi and designate things for what they are — murder and rebellion.

I defy the NRA to set one foot on the shores of Africa. They'd be machine-gunned immediately.

Also, I'd like to advise the Negroes that when the Commies take over, we will not know that a single Negro exists in this nation.

My church that pickets when a Negro is maltreated, does not let out a peep when a policeman is murdered.

existence, however, comes another pack of apes, more aggressive and hostile to the first pack. The two packs come to blows over a water hole, and thus the first war between men has begun.

The peaceful pack beds down in a cave, listening warily to a growl of the cougar who is glowering over his dead prey, a huge zebra. The pack is aroused from its sleep by the choral screech, the sound of approaching locusts if you will. When the apes emerge from the cave, they find the huge slab on-end in the earth as the sound increases in intensity.

Cut to the next scene — interstellar flight which has become commonplace in the year 2000 A.D. It is a peaceful scene, with space ships floating noiselessly through starry blue heavens as nameless planets pop into view. Inside a space ship, however, quiet gives way to unsettling suspicion between scientists from rival nations. One scientist has a secret that he zealously guards.

The secret becomes apparent when he lands at a lunar station. Excavations on the moon have uncovered that mysterious slab, determined to be four million years old and still giving off the ceremonial screech.

Cut to scene III — a space train bound for Saturn 18 months after the lunar exploration. The space

To the Editor:

There will probably be many letters in regard to the high school play "Oliver", and I only wish to add my bravos and "sore" clapped hands to the list.

A pre-performance comment, overheard by this writer, was to the effect that as a newcomer, "I noticed how everyone seems to smile, which makes me want to smile in return." Well, after the performance I'm sure she saw nothing but happy faces, and hopefully she's congratulating herself on her move to our community.

Of course, congratulations go to the director, Mr. Chapel, but the

One of the surest signs that we have become a sophisticated, mechanically bent society is the way kids roust their friends from the house. Today it's the telephone or the doorbell; some even knock. But when you and I were young a kid had to have a good pair of lungs. For screaming.

Kids would saunter up to the back door (front doors were for company) and bellow, "Jaaackee." Or if there were more than one friend in the house, "Jaaackeeee or Jimmmeeeee." And sometimes calling friends was a little less personal, producing a sound like "Annnybodddee who can come out."

No one dreamed of knocking in those days. That was for adults.

Besides a knock would only bring an angry parent to the door and everybody knows parents make rotten players for kick the can.

It was such a natural, ingrained habit that I was dating girls years later by pressing my nose to the door and shouting their names. When the father of one of the young ladies hinted that this procedure was uncouth I took to shouting for her younger brother and had him carry in the message.

Of course, the wording "dating" had a different meaning in those days.

But back to the calling. A friend and I worked out a whistling signal. It was a little less irritating for adults and it had an aura of intrigue about it. Early in the morning before anybody inside was stirring I would camp under his bedroom window and whistle like a bird. You know, "Bob-Bob-White." It worked swell, too, until I overheard his father saying something about shooting the confounded starlings that inhabited his yard.

Next, we built ourselves a private communication line. It was an old clothesline wire strung from his garage to ours. Using our own code system we could tap out signals. It had only one drawback. You couldn't tap out signals nor hear them except from inside the garage. So one late evening we extended the line from the garage to our respective bedroom windows. The signals were less audible but between listening and watching the wire vibrate you could make them out — if you knew the code.

The line had to be put up late each evening and hidden away early the next morning and this soon became a nuisance. It went up too early one evening. As soon as my father stumbled into the house, his nose bleeding and a black streak decorating his scowl I suspected something had gone wrong. And to make matters worse his battle with the wire in the dark had yanked the screen from my bedroom window.

From then on it was back to shouting at back doors.

Blue Chips Take 'Back Seat' As Investing Shifts

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — Those who have followed the market closely over the past year or so are no doubt aware of the increasing popularity of the less-than-Blue-Chip stocks. The higher quality stocks have — to a large degree — taken a back seat, much to the chagrin of many investors who are holding a preponderance of good-grade securities in their accounts.

Does this mean that the majority of high-grade issues have run their course and henceforth will be on the descendency? Is this the time to shift out of them in favor of lower quality stocks? Our answer to both of these questions is "No." In our judgment, this is definitely not the time to forsake quality.

Naturally, we do not propose that an investor hold only the best quality stocks to the exclusion of all others. We believe a well-balanced portfolio should also contain some attractive stocks of average grade, as well as a few well-chosen speculations. Over the past year or so, we have suggested many secondary issues that must be classed well below the Blue-Chip category. Currently, among others, we favor the following:

Medusa Portland Cement, Addressograph-Multigraph, Bell & Howell, Continental Oil, Southern Natural Gas, Columbia Broadcasting System.

We have also recommended many speculative-grade stocks, and still favor such issues as:

Eagle Clothes, Castle & Cooke, Coronet Industries, General Tire & Rubber, Avco Corp., Beech Aircraft.

Although all of the above stocks are attractive for purchase, in our opinion, we certainly do not suggest that investors "load up" on them, or sell high-quality stocks to buy them. Such premier issues as American Tel. & Tel., Eastman Kodak, du Pont, General Electric, etc., should represent the largest portion of most portfolios.

The following are examples of other good-quality stocks that we currently favor for purchase:

Sterling Drug, INA, Standard Oil (N.J.), Aetna Life & Casualty, Union Carbide, Citizens Utilities.

Investors who have been active in the market for any length of time realize that practically all stocks, including most high-quality growth issues, have temporary periods of market price inactivity. For instance, the stock of Union Carbide, an acknowledged growth company, has made no basic gain marketwise for several years, nor have Corn Products (now CPC Intnt'l.), General Electric, and American Tel. & Tel.

Nevertheless, we do not consider that the investor who owns such issues is losing out and should replace them with a group of secondary lower-quality stocks that may currently be popular. In our opinion, the stocks of the firms that set the pace in their respective industries will continue to provide the patient holder with the long-term growth that most investors desire. In addition, these issues are the ones that provide the steady and usually increasing income and a degree of defensiveness in periods of stress.

It is true that many of the Blue-Chip and Pale-Blue-Chip stocks are selling at relatively high price/earnings multiples. But over the years this relationship has almost always been true. Fortunately, the well-established, strongly managed companies appear able to increase their earnings continuously over a period of years. Hence, if the price of the stock remains stable for any length of time, the price/earnings relationship eventually improves.

There is no denying that a nimble trader can often make money by "playing" the market favorites — switching from one to another on a short-run basis after a few points of profit. Here, the quality of the stock is of little or no importance. But trading in this manner takes a good deal of agility; one has to be in very close touch with the market at all times. And most investors are not in a position to do this. Hence, a longer-range investment program, with emphasis on good-quality stocks, seems the best means of protecting and building up one's capital and investment income.

from the Pastor's Study

Father Edmund Battersby, Pastor
St. Joseph's Church, South Lyon

At the present time there is pending, in the Michigan Legislature, Legislation which would relax or abandon traditional law on the matter of abortion. It would seem that as Christians we have an obligation to protect human life and not further lessen our regard for it's viginity.

Human life is a gift from God and is therefore most sacred. Every person has a solemn obligation to maintain respect and reverence for human life from the time it is conceived until the time God calls it back to a new life in death. Human life has a sacredness far beyond material things and that sacredness touches every phase of its development.

The Catholic Church from it's earliest beginnings has constantly and consistently condemned abortion. The Fathers of the Vatican Council state it thus "God the Lord of Life has conferred on men the surpassing ministry of safeguarding Life, a ministry which must be fulfilled in a manner that is worthy of men. Therefore from the moment of its conception, Life must be guarded with the greatest care, while abortion and infanticide are unspeakable crimes."

Whatever violates the integrity of the human person, whatever insults human dignity poisons human society — they are a supreme dishonor to the creator.

It is recognized that many of those who advocate abortion intend to better the condition of mankind. As responsible members of the Family of God, we are all required to be sensitive to the pain of mothers and the problems of families.

We are also obliged to make every effort to respond to such problems. We encourage our legislators and public officials in all efforts which eliminate human suffering.

To lessen our regard for any phase of human life is to lessen our regard for human life itself. It is to begin an erosion which could gradually work its way to undermine the value of the life of an incurably ill person, of persons with severe mental or physical defects and even of persons who have lived longer than is thought justified in terms of the good of society. If a human life can be taken for the convenience of another with the blessings of the State, where will the line be drawn in the future?

It would seem that as Christians we might well unite to oppose any assault on human life and in particular any assault on the defenseless, unborn child. The same commandment binds us all. "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

Battle Looms Over 2,937 Bills

LANSING — With deliberations four months old, Michigan's Legislature finished drawing battle lines for lawmaking struggles at the 1969 session.

And if veteran observers of the legislative scene can be believed, it'll be quite a war before it is over.

Conflicts so basic and so numerous are involved in the 2,937 bills poured into the hopper that leaders have abandoned plans for a mid-summer final adjournment.

Fourteen weeks of moderate and somewhat sedate proceedings ended abruptly when an avalanche of 800 bills hit the legislative mill. They affect every segment of the Michigan economy.

Not only did the inpouring set a legislative record for bill offerings, but the measures contained seeds of some of the most bitter battles likely this session.

OUT OF THE LATE-arriving bills and those submitted earlier this session have emerged such fundamental conflicts as these:

Labor vs. management — Shall the state minimum wage go from $1.25 to $1.50, $1.60 or $2 per hour? Should a three-year limit be imposed on the filing of job-connected injury claims under the workmen's compensation act? Should collective bargaining powers extend to migrant farm workers?

Public employee strikes — Shall police and firemen be subject to binding arbitration? What about school teachers? Should they go unpunished under laws prohibiting public employee work stoppages?

Parochialism — Shall Michigan's 1,000 parochial schools receive state tax funds for teaching nonreligious subjects such as reading, writing and arithmetic?

Public Schools — Shall their financing structure be shifted from major emphasis on local property taxes to state and local income taxes? What level of additional tax aid can the state afford? Should giant districts such as those in Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids and other urban centers be decentralized?

Higher education — Shall the medical schools at Michigan State, Michigan and Wayne State universities be expanded together or one at a time? What can be done about the $200 million tax fund increase sought by the other eight state-supported colleges and universities?

Water pollution and recreation — Should the Legislature, state Water Resources Commission or the communities themselves have the final word on how the $335 million water pollution control bond money is spent?

What were the voters promised last November with regard to the $100 million recreation bond program?

CRIME — Is there a need to relax restrictions against police use of electronic surveillance (bugging) devices? Should the Attorney General and county prosecutors be granted broader subpoena power? What benefit lies in revising the state criminal code?

Welfare — What can be done to cut the state's steadily spiraling welfare costs? Should a comprehensive study of the Michigan system be initiated this year, with a hope or belief of improving it next year?

State Capitol — What design should the future seat of state government embrace? Shall funding for the new Capitol get under way this year? What, if any, limit should the Legislature set on the overall price tag?

Spending — To what degree shall the state yield to the money demands of its departments and agencies? Should lawmakers stick to Gov. William G. Milliken's $1.51 billion budget or go beyond it?

TAXATION — Shall the state income tax go up? What about the cigarette tax? Should a greater effort be made to improve administration of local property taxes?

By MARILYN HERALD

"As long as you're up" is an overworked and underpaid job at our house.

If you are so foolish as to rise to your feet in the after supper hours, you will be drowned in a deluge of pleas to accomplish an errand for some other family member who is just too lazy to do it himself. Very probably you will receive no remuneration for these little chores. Occasionally a carelessly tossed thanks might just breeze by your ear.

Everyone sits in their chairs as though they were molded to them just waiting for you to move. If you even look like you might stir, verbal requisitions for aid pour from various mouths like water from a fountain.

Probably the most frequent desire of the audience is to change the TV channel. This can start a lengthy argument depending on who is at home and what they want to see.

It has gotten so ridiculous that you can't even get a drink of water because it might take a half hour to fill all the other orders and get re-established with the TV or your current novel. I'm considering toting a tray wherever I go to save steps and temper. It's a little difficult to balance in your bare hands; a soda for youngest, a kleenex for the teenager with contacts, an ash tray for dad, chips and dip for all, and the popcorn for yourself which was the original target for your trip.

It's somewhat like watching a cat ready to pounce on a mouse. There are the family members sitting, apparently absorbed in their own pursuits, while from the corners of their eyes, they are furtively waiting for an intended victim to move to a vertical position.

Maybe you were headed for bed entirely in the opposite direction from and kitchen requirements but the minute your feet hit the floor, you're obligated. You could refuse but you would immediately be labeled as uncooperative. Besides next time you could be on the receiving end of the action if you out wait them that is.

I have solved the problem of being asked to start the bath water for our teenage late sleeper. Since I had to go right by the bathroom after calling him it always seemed kind of small to flatly refuse to do this little favor besides he would have to get up to turn the water off.

Now instead of going myself to wake him, I send the dog. Smart as she is, the dog just hasn't mastered the controls on the hot and cold running water. She's very good at licking faces though.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

FROM LANSING AND WASHINGTON

"President Nixon has adopted a cool, cautious and humanitarian approach to the twin problems of inflation and tax inequities," says Congressman JACK McDONALD.

"He is launching a long-overdue reform of our tax laws, while at the same time moving to stem the tide of inflation.

"The result will be a fairer distribution of the tax burden, coupled, we may hope, with an increase in the purchasing power of the dollar, that should allow many millions of Americans to bolster their savings and protect their futures."

Senator GEORGE W. KUHN (R-Birmingham) has proposed an amendment to the state constitution to limit the state income tax on individuals to 2.6 per cent, on corporations to 5.6 per cent, and on financial institutions to 7 per cent.

The proposal is in a joint resolution introduced in the state senate.

"I am introducing this resolution because I feel strongly that if there is a need for any further increase in the income tax, it should be left up to a vote of the people," said Senator Kuhn.

According to State Senator GORDON ROCKWELL, one of the most important items of business facing the Senate Conservaouon Committee before the deadline for reporting bills out of committee is the allocation of $100 million for recreation.

Four different bills proposing different formulas for splitting the funds between urban recreation projects and outstate park development have been submitted for committee consideration.

If there was a question in anyone's mind that the campaign for the all-important 1970 elections has begun, a look at the pace of Republican activity in recent weeks should lay the doubt to rest for good.

GOP State Chairman William McLaughlin at Northville was repetitively to the point on each stop of his recently completed state-wide tour. "The 1970 elections bring Michigan's Republican Party to the crossroads," he pounded home to audiences in two dozen cities from Ironwood to Lincoln Park, "and the time to start preparing is now."

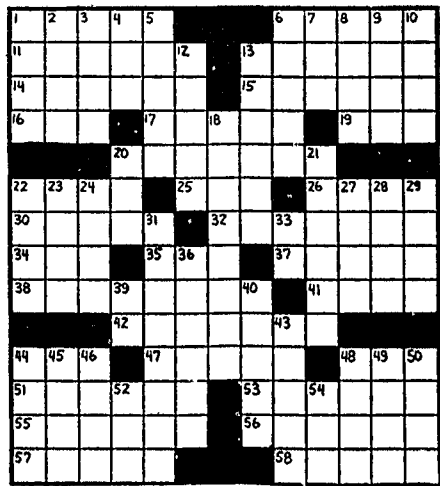

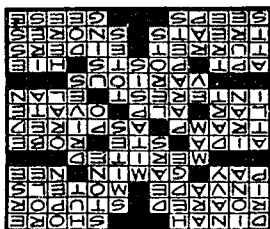

"There is Bill Milliken to elect Governor in his own right and we have the opportunity to 'promote' Robert P. Griffin to the role of Michigan's senior U.S. Senator."

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If making tracks across a clean carpet to get to a telephone leaves your wife a little less than happy, then perhaps there's nothing so funny about an extension telephone in the garage or workshop.

Extension telephones make sense. They save time by letting you use a telephone wherever you are.

Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can put an extension in any funny old place you'd like.

SAFETY PATROLLERS — Sixteen boys and girls from Northville's three elementary schools Thursday were cited for excellence in patrolling street crossings and school hallways over the past months. They are shown here with Police Chief Samuel Elkins who congratulated them for their fine work in guaranteeing the safety of school children. Those honored included Danny Earehart, Bill Bates, Chad Niedfeldt, Mary Andrews, Robin McHardy, and Kim Marshall of Moraine; Carrie Olsen, Kimberly Goldi, Cindy Hunt, Steven Rinaldi, Ron Rushing and Bret VanDrie of Amerman; and Charlotte Groom, Sandy Hibbeln, Scott Knapp, and Gary Mapes of Main Street.

Election May 19

Chamber Plans Annual Meeting

The annual membership meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Thunderbird Inn on Monday, May 19, President Robert Webber announced this past week.

Reservation for the dinner, to begin at 7:30 p.m., are being taken by Dempsey Ebert, 349-1010.

According to Webber, the program for the evening will tie in with Michigan Week — the week of the meeting. It will include a brief business meeting to elect three directors from a slate of six candidates.

The candidates are: Harold Bittner, Foundry Flask & Equipment Company; Delbert Black, Del's Shoes; Marjory Cinader, Reef Manufacturing Company, N. C. Schrader II, Schrader's; Robert Webber, Northville Camera Shop; and Margaret Zayti, Northville Downs.

Members of the nominating committee include A. Russell Clarke, George Clark, Richard Lyons, Philip Ogilvie, and David Biery.

Salute Changed

Due to programming difficulties, the April 14 SUBURBAN SALUTE to Wixom has been re-scheduled for Monday, May 12, at 7:05 p.m., WWJ officials announced this week.

With Our Servicemen

U. S. ARMY, VIETNAM — Army Private First Class Carl W. Singleton, 20, whose mother, Mrs. Phyllis Jarskey, lives in Williamsburg, was assigned April 10 to the 4th Infantry Division near Pleiku, Vietnam, as a gunner.

His father, Roy Singleton lives on Fairbrook Court, Northville.

U. S. ARMY, VIETNAM — Army Private First Class John R. Ohmer, 21, whose mother, Mrs. Alice Brunelle, lives at 1558 Quinif, Walled Lake, was assigned March 21 to the 4th Infantry Division near Pleiku, Vietnam, as a truck driver.

USS STORMES — Seaman Apprentice Daniel J. Champine, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Champine of 18137 Jamestown Circle, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Stormes with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea.

His ship will participate with naval forces from four other nations in the annual NATO exercise "Dawn Patrol" through May 2, 1969.

"Dawn Patrol," a large scale but routine exercise, will involve over 60 warships and more than 300 aircraft from five nations in simulated wartime airstrikes and air defense.

Amphibious landings by Marine units, anti-submarine warfare, surveillance and nuclear warfare operations are also planned.

Participating nations include Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Turkey and the United States.

FT. CAMPBELL, Kentucky — Ray W. Doeksen, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Doeksen, 480 Orchard Drive, was promoted to Army captain March 29 at Ft. Campbell.

Captain Doeksen, commanding officer of the 287th Field Service Company, entered the Army in March 1967 and was last stationed in Germany.

The captain is a 1962 graduate of Northville High School, and graduated in 1967 from Eastern Michigan University.

Swimming Club Picks Manager

Gary Davis has been named manager of the Northville Swim Club for the 1969 season, which will open in mid-June, Kenneth Dodds, club president, announced this week.

Last season Davis served as assistant manager of the swim club, located in Northville on the hill just west of Northville High School.

Opening details and additional staff members will be finalized at a meeting of the newly-elected board of directors at 8 p.m. May 13 at the home of the president, 44536 Chedworth Court. Pool and Grounds Chairman Harry Weiser is to report.

Club Vice-President Keith Wright, who also is new membership chairman, invites anyone wishing information about the club to call him at 349-9956 or to write the club, Box 151, Northville.

Other board members are David Biery, treasurer; Robert Regenhart, secretary; Clifton Church, Phelps Hines, Kenneth Rathert and Edward Zywiec.

Sergeant Kenneth William VanSickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph

SGT. KENNETH VAN SICKLE

VanSickle, 365 North Rogers, arrived for a surprise visit with his parents Monday night from Viet Nam. He has been serving with the Army First Infantry at LaiKhe, Viet Nam.

His parents recently were notified that he had received the Army Recommendation for medal for valor for heroism while serving with the Ninth Division at Rockkien.

Before Sergeant Van Sickle's patrol reached its location, it was engaged by a hostile armed force, and Sergeant Van Sickle maneuvered to a position, directed accurate machine gun fire against the enemy while his comrades advanced and routed the enemy.

His citation stated, "Sergeant Van Sickle's heroic actions were in the highest tradition of military service and reflect great credit on him and the ninth division."

highest praise needs to be given to these young adults, our supposed "troubled teenagers." No one would have thought that Friday night; for anyone who wasn't moved by some emotion, in my case, tears of joy, can't appreciate the tremendous effort put forth by the actors and actresses. The quality of such a performance should not go unlauded.

I wish each and every participant, whether in the play, behind the scenes, or producing some wonderful music, continued success in whichever endeavor they pursue. May they look back on a time when the community responded to and appreciated their work completely.

To the Editor:

You know that funny little feeling that runs up and down your spine and how the heart beat quickens when you hear the Star Spangled Banner played as Old Glory climbs to the top of the staff — well — that's the feeling I had as I read last week's Northville Record and saw all the articles and pictures about the Clean-up — Paint-up — Fix-up Beautification program.

Thanks to all the businesses that contributed to the full page ad, the Explorers for taking over the Flowering Crab Tree Project, the Tumble Weed group and others for cleaning the winter litter away, the schools for their educational programs about Beautification, the Red Cross Chapter for keeping the Community Blood Bank solvent and ready for emergencies, the newcomers to our community who are making this their home and proving it by participation in events too numerous to mention, the D.P.W. Department, City and Township officials and volunteer committee members meeting night after night planning for the future, the many organizations that are working on programs that will take all summer to complete and last but not least that "Mighty Nice Bunch" at the Record office that gives events such excellent coverage.

The City's Motto, by Julie Ann Brown, is truly appropriate, "BEAUTIFUL PAST — PROMISING FUTURE".

The entire Beautification Commission joins me in saying, "Thanks for helping make our City a Clean and Beautiful City?"

Sincerely,
