For Police Action

Guido Blasts Township Board

The chairman of the Northville township police study committee launched a scathing attack on the township board this past week for hiring a police officer without waiting for the committee's report and recommendation.

Eugene Guido called the board's action — by a 4-2 vote — "careless and irresponsible ... a slap in the face of the citizens asked to serve on the committee."

Emphasizing that his remarks were his own — and not those of the other committee members — Guido said the committee decided at its meeting last week that it "will go ahead" with its work despite the action of the board.

He said another meeting of the committee has been tentatively set for tonight in hopes of wrapping up a report and recommendation.

Asked if any other members of the committee objected to the board's action, Guido said all expressed disappointment except Richard Mitchell, who was one of the board members to vote to hire the officer.

He called Mitchell an "incompetent," who as a member of the committee "knew perfectly well that our work wasn't finished."

"He's either stupid or purposely misconstruing information when he persists in saying the original police study committee said the sheriff's department and state police would withdraw services if the township hired its own fulltime officer. We said the sheriff's department would withdraw its services if the township had its own complete around-the-clock police department or if it contracted for a complete around-the-clock department. State police said they would withdraw no regular patrols because they don't have one here."

"When Sheriff Gribbs met with us recently he indicated the same thing — and Mitchell was at that meeting. The sheriff also stated that he would not recommend a one-man police force but that on an 'experimental basis' he would agree to provide a single policeman. But as Mitchell knows the sheriff was talking about a full-fledged policeman with all the powers of a policeman to enforce state laws — not a township officer who can enforce only local ordinances."

"The Northville police chief — and Mitchell knows this, too — said hiring a single police officer would be 'assinine' and would give citizens the false impression that they would get regular police protection. It's obvious that all the people are getting is a glorified dog catcher who earns more than the starting salary of policemen on area departments who enforce all laws."

Higher in City Than Township

Council Irked By Proposed School Taxes

Northville's city council took swift action Tuesday night to protest a proposed higher school tax levy in the city than in the township.

The possibility came about (as explained in the story below) as the Northville school board sought to save at least part on the one mill lost when it was ruled that the 15-mill county limitation could not be exceeded.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie were instructed by the city council to lodge an official protest and seek a hearing before the Wayne county allocation board. Similar action was taken by the city of Plymouth's council Tuesday night.

In the past local taxes have been levied thusly: 1.77 mills (voted) for Schoolcraft college in both the city and township; 26 mills (voted) for local schools in both the city and township; 6.1 mills for county services in both the city and township; 8.9 mills for local schools in both the city and township; and one mill for township government. The 6.1 county, 8.9 school and one township mill come under the county 15-mill limitation. Because it adds up to 16 mills, the school district has been told it must reduce its levy from 8.9 to 7.9. The school board now proposes to continue the 8.9 levy in the city, where in lieu of the township one mill residents pay (this year) 11.6 mills directly to the city government. In protesting the action the city council charges there can be no basis for taxing one segment of the school district more than another, and that if such an argument were to be considered there is more evidence that the city provides more extra services for the school district than the township.

According to Spear, the millage loss to the district represents about $60,000 of lost revenue. Hopefully, increase of the state equalized valuation (SEV) of the school district — above that which was estimated in the 1969-70 fiscal budget — will make up much of this loss, he said. School officials had estimated the new SEV at $58 million but it appears now, said Spear, that it will hit nearly $60.8 million.

Additional revenue from SEV, however, may be wiped out if the governor's state aid proposal is enacted into law, said Business Manager Earl Busard. He estimates the governor's proposal will cost the district some $50,000 in state aid.

In view of the millage cut, school officials here fired off a letter to the county asking if the full 8.9 mills can be spread in the City of Northville which receives no county allocated millage. Spear admitted that spreading a greater millage in the city than in the township for school taxes may not be fair "but we're desperate."

School Trustee Eugene Cook said he seriously doubted the county would permit more millage in the city.

One mill of the Northville School District's county allocation is to be axed, school officials learned this week.

A spokesman for the Wayne County Allocation Board told school officials Monday the district's share in county allocated millage will be chopped from the 8.9 mills it received last year and hoped to receive again this year to 7.9.

As things stand now, the school is to receive 7.9, the county 6.1 and Northville township 1 mill.

According to an explanation given Superintendent Raymond Spear, a recent ruling of Attorney General Frank Kelly prevents Wayne from spreading more than 15 mills as it has in the past.

Previously, because Northville School District is located in three counties (Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw), it has been awarded the biggest millage figure of the three counties. Traditionally, school millage in Oakland County has been higher so Wayne has accepted Oakland's figure in determining Northville's millage share. In doing so, however, Wayne exceeded its own 15-mill limitation.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS INSPECT MAYBURY SITE AND SEVERAL VACATED BUILDINGS

Local Officials Eye Maybury Purchase

Should or can local municipalities or a special corporation purchase the Detroit-owned Maybury property to prevent its sale for an "undesirable" development?

That appeared to be the key question posed by Northville township and school officials as they prepared to meet yesterday with the Northville Area Development Corporation.

Officials of the two Northville governmental units met Monday night to discuss disposition of the estimated 900-acre sanatorium property in the wake of growing rumors about Maybury's impending sale. Fearing that the property could possibly be sold for high density housing — despite its present zoning — officials suggested that purchase of the property by local interests be explored.

Maybury is located between Seven and Eight Mile Roads, west of Beck in Northville Township.

Specifically, it was suggested that perhaps the Northville Area Development Corporation could purchase the land with the endorsement of the township, city and the school system. Little evidence was shown that any one or all of the three government bodies could or would finance the purchase although it was not ruled out as a possibility. The city was not represented at the meeting.

That Maybury is to be sold — perhaps yet this year — appears to be a certainty. Detroit Common Council has included the sale in its proposed 1969-70 fiscal budget. A credit of $3 million was placed in the budget.

Maybury, which today houses only a fraction of its total TB patient capacity, is slated to be officially closed by the end of the year. And, according to Detroit information given Northville school officials, all TB treatment there will be discontinued this summer.

School Business Manager Earl Busard told officials Monday he has learned that — — Detroit council wants to sell the property "and they don't care who buys it?"

— The New Detroit Committee has no interest in purchasing the property but it has "seed money" that could possibly be channeled to a group promoting low cost housing for Detroit citizens?

— The Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Corporation, which several months ago made inquiries as to availability of land in this area, has not responded to local questions concerning the Maybury site;

— Representatives of the New Detroit Committee indicated the Maybury site is being considered for possible acquisition by the state with "open space-park" bond monies approved at the polls in November.

— Detroit Councilwoman Mary Beck said if Northville wants to buy the property it better act quickly.

Among the rumors concerning the property are: that it will be sold to a low-cost housing developer; that it will be turned into a convalescent home or a retirement center; and that it will become a juvenile detention home.

Concerning the latter it was reported in Detroit last week that Detroit Judge Vincent Brennan is pushing for the establishment of a Boystown-Detroit and that he hopes to rent Maybury for this purpose. Brennan indicated sale of Maybury for $3 million is "nonsense" in view of the benefits of his Boystown proposal.

According to township officials, Detroit can rent or maintain any kind of public enterprise on the Maybury property without seeking a change in the existing zoning (large one-family home sites). Private development not fitting this zoning, however, would require rezoning.

Council Nears Gas Station OK

Meeting Tuesday night because of Michigan Week's mayors' exchange day activities Monday, the Northville city council waded through a long agenda that took until midnight to complete.

In brief, here's what happened Tuesday:

- a public hearing to rezone property at Allen drive and Novi road for the purpose of erecting a Marathon Oil service station was again adjourned. But it appears that the rezoning will be granted pending certain assurances from the petitioner that the station area will be confined to the corner at Allen and Novi, that proper greenbelting will be completed. Attorney Rodney Kroft, representing a homeowners association, asked that if the rezoning is granted that no trailers be stored at the station, no coin-operated car-wash facility be installed, and that a protective wall be erected west of the station. Several residents still protested, however, stating that they would prefer the council rejected the proposal. But the council majority appeared inclined to favor the rezoning with certain protective guarantees.

- heard a detailed first-quarter report from Wayne County Supervisor Carl D. Pursell, which will be presented to the township board at its June 10 meeting;

- appointed Del Black and Mrs. Morlyn Kluesner to the parking authority;

- named Councilman Charles Lapham, Mayor A. M. Allen and Manager Frank Ollendorff to a real estate committee with a specific assignment to determine the possibility of sale of the Main street "Peterson" property for a commercial building;

- entered into a Wayne-Oakland-Washtenaw reciprocal fire aid agreement;

- set a June 16 public hearing to consider a petition from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ware to rezone a lot on North Rogers street near the end of Dunlap from R-1 to R-2 (two family).

See OK for Office Rezoning

Northville city planners postponed action on a rezoning request from Robert Cole for professional-office zoning on North Center street Tuesday night.

But there's little question that the planners will recommend approval of Cole's request for a lot just north of Rayson street where the residence recently was destroyed by fire.

Cole wants to build a professional office building on the site. Planners are currently studying a final draft of a professional-office district. Rather than delay Cole, interim commercial zoning may be considered for the site.

In other recent planning commission business the members elected William B. Heffner, Jr., as planning chairman. He succeeds George Zerbel, who has served as chairman for 12 years. Other new officers are Warren Stoddard, vice chairman, George Clark, secretary, and Charles Freydl, Jr., assistant secretary.

CENTER OF CONTROVERSY — Officer Ron Nisun was surprised to learn of the deep split on the board over his employment as a 40-hour-per-week township officer. He quit his Livonia district court job effective April 15 after being assured of a $9,500 per year police job in Northville. He's now on the job enforcing township ordinances. The decision to hire Nisun — with pay retroactive to April 15 — came on a 4-2 board vote last week. It brought a blast from the chairman of the township's police study committee (see story above), but is called 'a sign of growing pains in the township' in an analysis on page 13-A.

Flea Market Drying For Another Try

"The rains came" — as predicted — last Friday night and during the early hours of Saturday morning, causing postponement of the flea market being sponsored by Our Lady of Victory on the church parking grounds.

Hopeful that the gray drizzle would cease, booth owners began arriving early in loaded station wagons, and some raincoated figures optimistically began setting up their wares, which soon became soaked, Saturday. Committee chairmen at 9 a.m. postponed the premiere event to this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Now the flea market will be back-to-back with "Our Town" Carnival, annual event sponsored by all Northville PTAs. It is to run from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m. Friday at Northville High School and includes a spaghetti dinner, midways and booths.

Of the 120 paid space-holders for the OLV flea market, only two have had to cancel for the May 24 date because of other commitments, according to Co-chairmen Mrs. Daniel Conley and Mrs. Keith Ehrenreich. Mrs. Conley added that she has picked up three additional sales.

The OLV flea market, postponed last Saturday because of rain, will be held this Saturday, "rain or shine," the committee said Tuesday.

The Detroit Edison calliope will return to play during the market, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

10 Days to Go

Cavern Fund Drive Reaches $2,153

A total of $2,153 has been collected in the Cavern Fund-Raising Campaign, which has ten days to go in its month-long drive to raise $6,000, Mrs. William Secord, treasurer, reported Monday.

Eighty-three contributions have been received from 78 individuals and five organizations. Contributing organizations to the drive to provide funds to renovate the teen club's new quarters and help pay its adult advisor are the Our Lady of Victory Men's Club, American Legion Post 147 and its auxiliary, VFW Post 4012 and its auxiliary.

Since its beginning in December, 1965, the Cavern has been self-supporting. Mrs. Harold Wright, fund-raising chairman, points out that for its first dance, the teens borrowed money from Northville Mothers' Club, which was repaid the day after the dance.

The club has received donations, including a piano and a pool table, and has had manpower help as it created an English pub atmosphere in the room off the gymnasium in the old community building.

Funds now are needed, Mrs. Wright explains, as the club has had to move to the basement of the old junior high building when its lease was cancelled on its former quarters by the board of education. Costs to remodel have been budgeted at $1,500.

The teens are in process of turning the new quarters into a "cavern" atmosphere.

When an adult advisor was needed to replace Mrs. Gordon Forrer, who had served as volunteer advisor representing Mothers' Club from the club's inception, assistance was secured with a one-time grant from the United Community Services of $3,000. Reverend Timothy Johnson was hired January 1, 1969.

Now $410 is needed, the fund-raising committee, states, to pay his salary for the remainder of the year and $3,410 is needed for the 1970 advisor's salary.

All donations are tax deductible as the Cavern Teen Club is a non-profit charitable organization, Mrs. Wright points out. No matter what amount is collected, she add, it will be banked and used to pay advisor's salary as long as possible. The club lease runs through 1971.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

MRS. KENT MATHES — an energetic young mother, enthusiastic newcomer to the Novi-Northville community and accomplished singer — has just assumed her most important post to date, presidency of the prestigious Madrigal Club of Detroit.

She has just completed her term as president of the Northville Newcomers Club and has been handling publicity for the Northville Preschool Cooperative Study Group. The mother of five-year-old Michelle and two-and-a-half year old Kent Robert, she is a nursery supporter.

Small wonder that there's a "wife's telephone" listing for the Mathes home on Willowbrook Drive in Novi.

Annalee Mathes assumed the two-year leadership of the Madrigal Club, a 54-year-old women's chorus of 35 voices directed by August Maekelberghe, the end of April.

Pointing out that she "will really start" her term with fall activities, Mrs. Mathes says she will need lots of help from retiring president, Mrs. Roger Belanger of Farmington, with whom she has worked as vice president. During her four active years with the singers, she also has served as patron chairman.

With Mrs. Belanger working on promotions, the professional-calibre chorus with a wide-scope classical musical library hopes to expand its engagements. Its Christmas concert on WWJ-TV has become a traditional event. In the past the club has appeared at Carnegie Hall, New York, and has a standing invitation from the government of Belgium, Mr. Maekelberghe's native country, to sing there.

Expenses would be paid when the group reaches Europe, Mrs. Mathes explains, but air transportation funds are needed.

Annalee Mathes knows what fun such a European tour could be as she participated in such a concert tour with the Heidelberg College concert choir (of Tiffin, Ohio) at graduation.

While she majored in psychology and sociology at Heidelberg, and was a state hospital social worker, Mrs. Mathes admits her big interests have been art and music.

She's been singing in choirs ever since she joined a church choir when she was four, going on to membership in the cappella choir of Cuyahoga Falls (Ohio) High School.

CELEBRITY luncheons following next season's Northville Town Hall programs will be buffet-style at Lofy's Restaurant in Plymouth, the Town Hall committee decided at its meeting last Tuesday.

In reporting the change, Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, new TH chairman, enthusiastically pointed out that the buffet-format would make it possible to offer luncheon for $3. She added that she also had just lunched there and could recommend the food highly.

The committee also decided to limit reservations to the first 200 to keep the buffet from being congested. Therefore, ticket holders will be wise to mail reservations, which are to be prepaid again, early. Mrs. Hyatt points out that luncheon reservations for the season can be made for $12. (They may be made when ordering a series ticket, $10 for the four lectures, to Town Hall, Box 93.)

With the opening program being a season high light — Virginia Graham on October 9 — the committee expects early reservations.

Members decided to change to buffet luncheons as they studied reasons for the dip last season in luncheon attendance.

Also appearing on the 1969-70 TH program will be Harry Morgan, November 13; Mario Braggiotti, March 12; and the Marquis De La Passardiere, April 9, 1970.

WHILE cottage — and boat owners are anticipating the long Memorial Day week end coming up, other Northville residents are enjoying longer spring vacations.

Mrs. Edward Zywicz left Saturday for Boston where she joined her mother and sister on a flight to Rome Sunday. They will spend three weeks touring Italy.

NORTHVILLE Newcomers are invited to "begin the picnic season" with a steak fry this Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall, 20343 Woodhill Road.

Couples are to arrive "any time after six" and to bring their own steaks. The club is supplying salads, rolls and dessert. Reservations at $3.50 a couple still are being accepted. They may be made by calling Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rossetot, 19750 Beck Road, 349-6422.

Others on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. George Purcell and Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeJohn. All prospective Newcomer members are welcome.

Debate Aired Over WJR

Members of Northville High School speech classes participated in last Sunday's WJR Junior Town Meeting of the Air program, discussing the topic, "Should the Safeguard ABM System Be Adopted?"

Four panel members presenting their stands were John Gustaf, Betty Klein, Stan Nirider and Debbie Luckett. Also working with the chosen panel were alternates Becky Golze and Jim Sanders.

In a pre-recorded session last week at the high school the panelists presented stands and answered questions from the audience composed of members of the three high school speech classes of Miss Marilyn McCarthy.

Bride Chooses Lilac Color Scheme

Deborah Murphy Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Phelps Hines, 407 Ely Drive South, chose a lilac color scheme and used the fragrant spring blossoms in bouquets at her wedding May 10 in Northville First United Methodist Church to Lawrence William Mills.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mills of Wyandotte. Arrangements of purple lilacs and white gladioli decorated the altar at the 2 o'clock Saturday ceremony at which the Reverend Guenther Branstner officiated and Mrs. Leland Mills sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with mandarin collar, short sleeves and yoke of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. Front panels of the delicate lace edged the cage of illusion over the taffeta sheath, extending into a train.

Parents Lead Couple To Altar for Rites

Participation by both the parents of May bride Kathleen Ann Boles and her bridegroom, Martin Peter Willacker III, added meaningful sentiment to their Nuptial Mass at noon, Saturday, May 3, at St. William's Catholic Church of Walled Lake.

Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Willacker, Jr., 27650 Taft Road, Novi, met him midway down the center aisle and escorted him to the front of the altar. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton G. Boles, of Livonia, was escorted down the center aisle on the arm of her father and was joined midway by her mother.

At the altar the bride's father presented her to her bridegroom. Father James Mayworm, assistant pastor, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a cage gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves. Her chapel train was attached. Seed pearls adorned the petal hat holding her illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and pomp mums.

Roberta Willacker, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rene Barnum, cousin of the bridegroom, Deanna Boles and Annette Willacker.

All wore long gowns of multicolor floral chiffon over apricot taffeta with half sashes of apricot and green satin marking the Empire waistlines. Orange bows held their shoulder veils. They carried nosegays of white daisies and greens.

The bride's sister, Susan, was flower girl in a floor-length gown of green taffeta, fashioned with short sleeves and a green sash.

Philip Heath of Farmington was best man. Dennis and Gerald Boles, brothers of the bride, and John Willacker, brother of the bridegroom, ushered. His cousin, Jeff Willacker of Farmington, was ring bearer. Robert DeSomier of Walled Lake was organist, and Mrs. Karen Krimm of Detroit was soloist.

A wedding reception for 200 was held at the Western Wayne County Conservation Hall in Plymouth. The bride's mother wore a mint green coat and dress ensemble while the bridegroom's mother wore robin's egg blue. Both wore miniature carnation and sweetheart rose corsages.

After a wedding trip to Northern Michigan, the newlyweds are making their home in New Hudson.

Mothers' Club Elects Officers

Mrs. H. O. Evans will be installed as president of Northville Mothers' Club at the final meeting of the year, a potluck picnic at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Clifton Hill, 17740 Beck Road.

Mrs. Evans succeeds Mrs. Cass Hoffman. Other new officers are Mrs. William Secord, vice president; Mrs. Bernard Bach, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Wright, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Kalin Johnson, treasurer. They were elected at the May 12 meeting.

Mrs. Leroy Ording is hostess chairman for the picnic, assisted by Mrs. Irvin Marburger, Mrs. Essie Nirider and Mrs. William Davis.

All life members, as always, especially are invited to attend the picnic.

A matching lace crown held her floor-length veil. Her nosegay bouquet contained lily-of-the-valley, baby's breath, white roses and a contrasting touch of purple lilac.

Alaina Morris of Ionia, a classmate of the bride's at Western Michigan University, was honor maid. The bride's sister, Mrs. William Binkelman of Plymouth, was her other attendant. Their Empire-waisted gowns had scoop-neck bodices and puff sleeves of white Kingston cotton and sheer, lilac-print skirts. They were tied with lilac grosgrain sashes. They carried baskets of purple lilacs and wore lilacs in their hair.

Miles Bray of Grand Rapids was best man. The bridegroom's brother, Jim, ushered.

One hundred guests from Chicago, Grand Rapids, New York, Ohio and Colorado attended the wedding and reception following in the fellowship hall. The bride's mother wore a turquoise silk shantung matching coat and dress with frog fastening accents. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink lace dress and matching sleeveless coat.

For a wedding trip to New York the new Mrs. Mills changed to a navy linen A-line dress and coat, which was double-breasted with white collar and cuffs. Upon their return, the bridegroom reported for U. S. Army service in Georgia.

Both attended Western Michigan where the bride expects to receive her degree and teacher's certificate this August.

PTA CARNIVAL 'COLOR' — Putting finishing touches on the bright posters depicting Northville scenes which will be used to decorate walls of Northville High School for the "Our Town" PTA Carnival this Friday from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m. are Jan Whitmyer and Ed Erdos, fifth grade students of Mrs. Carolyn Van Soest at Moraine Elementary. Art classes in all Northville schools participated in the project.

Mrs. Shubert Elected To Women's U-F Board

Mrs. Elmer Schubert of Northville was named to a three-year term on the board of directors of Women for the United Foundation (WUF) at the annual meeting in the Latin Quarter. Elected president of the 27,000-member volunteer organization was Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley of Grosse Pointe.

More than 800 WUF members from throughout Metropolitan Detroit gathered for the luncheon, election of officers, a vicarious journey into space and a showing of 21st Century fashions.

The space visit was made possible by Astronaut Alfred M. Worden, a major in the U.S. Air Force and a member of the support crew for the Apollo 9 moon flight, and Dr. B. Paul Blasingame, of Milwaukee, guest speaker and general manager of the AC Electronics Division, General Motors Corp.

The Michigan-born astronaut conducted a question-answer session after Dr. Blasingame, an authority on missiles and missile guidance, narrated a color film photographed during the U.S. space missions.

They were introduced by Mrs. Edward N. Cole, wife of the General Motors president and a member of the WUF luncheon committee.

Mrs. Cole also introduced another special guest, Jim Rathmann, winner of the Indianapolis 500 in 1960 and now a General Motors dealer.

Big Day's Tomorrow

New Treats in Store at Carnival

A "Silent Auction" of professional art work donated by local artists will be a new feature of this year's PTA Carnival being held from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m. this Friday at Northville High School.

In seeking new attractions to add to the annual event, which is the sole fund-raising activity of all five Northville PTA's, the committee approached artists and art teachers of the community for the project.

Contributions have been promised by Mary Ann Beltz, Roy Pedersen (high school art teacher) Linda Edgerton, Kate Edgerton, Catherine

Hartley, Rose Marie VanIngen and Marilyn Hopping (who also has been doing carnival publicity.)

Their works — ranging from ceramics to water color paintings — are all being donated without charge and will be numbered and on display during the carnival. Throughout the evening anyone interested in a piece may submit a bid in writing. At the conclusion, pieces will go to the highest bidders. Time will be marked on the bids so that in case of a tie, earliest will win. It will not be necessary to be present for the bid opening.

The new project, emphasizing local artists in the "Our Town" theme of this year's carnival, was the inspiration of Mrs. Paul Robinson and Mrs. John Heckerl, carnival co-chairmen with Mr. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Pfeleka.

Another artistic project in conjunction with the carnival is a poster-making promotion in all school art classes with the student art work to be on display as decorations at the carnival.

Throughout the evening the high school jazz band under the direction of Bob Williams will play in the inside courtyard of the school.

Two school entrances will be open for the carnival — the front door near the cafeteria and a door near the gymnasium. The committee says the door by the auditorium will not be open.

Spaghetti dinner will be served from 4:30 to 8 p.m. in the cafeteria. It is the project of Moraine school under the direction of Mrs. William Bates. The menu includes spaghetti with meat sauce, tossed salad, relishes, homemade rolls and coffee or milk. Served family style it is $1.50 for adults and older students. All children through sixth grade are 75 cents. This year there is no advance dinner ticket sale.

Carnival tickets for midway games and rides and to purchase items at booths are 10 for $1 with an extra ticket being offered for each 10 purchased in advance at the schools this week.

The committee also has been giving a ticket to each child bringing white elephant booth items to school this week.

A special game attraction this year will be the race track operated by the Cub Scouts with four cars in each race. The track has been made by Howard Meyer.

Other special events include a photo booth run by Roger Rinaldi, car smash, helium balloons, cookie booth of the Northville cooperative play group mothers and the country store of Northville Mothers' Club.

A display of antiques owned by the Northville Historical Society and its members will be set up in the high school library by the historical society to tie in with the celebration of Michigan Week. Everyone attending the carnival is invited to inspect "Our Heritage."

'I'm A Five-to-Nine Alcoholic,' Says Brighton Patient

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article about the Brighton Hospital for alcoholics is the second of a three-part series, written by Dianne Buell of our Brighton Argus staff. The names of the persons who have undergone treatment have been changed, but the stories are real. The final article next week will present the views of the hospital's professional staff.

"Surprisingly, I am still married, and very happily at that." The woman's face, though showing lines of age, emitted a youthful glow.

Dora, a 49 year old mother of six, drank, excessively for better than twenty years. She is an alcoholic.

"If you ever visit the city where I live, and you want to buy some liquor, just look me up. I can tell you every store that sells sauce within a 20-mile radius of my house."

Dora says the alcoholic is very careful not to return to one store too frequently.

"You don't want the clerks in the stores to get to recognize you. They might think you're an alcoholic."

Dora has been through the ropes. Yet, she has retained the glib sense of humor she says she has possessed since childhood.

She's a very petite woman, well dressed. Her large scrolled cameo brooch compliments her wool dress. The ring on her left hand is large for her tiny fingers. She is flip, sometimes almost crude.

"I'm a five-to-nine alcoholic. That's the alcoholic that holds a very responsible position. I worked from nine to five Monday through Friday and did a terrific job. No one in the world feels as inferior as an alcoholic, so they usually make wonderful employees. This is their only source for feeling accomplishment."

"I'd come home from work, and get a drink before I took off my coat. Then I took off my coat. Then I'd have another drink. Then I'd make a list of things I had to do, like fix supper."

Alcoholics are avid list-makers. Then I'd have another drink. Then, if I was lucky, I would manage to fix supper. Of course, while supper was cooking, I'd have another drink. Then we'd have supper.

For some reason, I was never really hungry. Then I'd have an after-dinner drink. Doesn't everybody? And by that time, I was really accomplishing something just to be able to get into bed.

The next day, Dora would return to work. "I would be sober as a judge, and function at peak until five p.m."

"I really don't know what started my drinking excessively. I guess it just happened."

Dora says she started with "social drinking," found out that a little too much made her feel great and a little more really blotted out her problems.

"I don't have any drastic things to cope with, no sick children, financial worries, or loss of someone close to me. I guess I just like to drink and don't like to cope with life in general."

Dora says part of the reason her drinking continued so long is the stigma felt towards women alcoholics.

"You know, my relatives and friends could have helped me if they had realized what was happening. I even told them several times someone should hospitalize me, but there is a stigma."

"A business man can drink his friends under the table and be called great because he can 'hold his liquor', or he can get smashed after two drinks but he is still the guys' buddy — the lush, but a woman who drinks excessively? That's another story."

"No one ever believes a decent woman is an alcoholic. They all picture the woman lush as a prostitute walking the streets all hours of the night, when she isn't in a bar getting free booze from the fellows."

Dora finally committed herself to the Brighton Hospital for two weeks. "I didn't really want to go yet I felt something had to give. But I knew even if I walked out of there improved, I could never force myself to give up liquor completely — I love to drink."

Brighton Hospital gave Dora the same treatment all alcoholics who go there receive. "I'll tell you, that hospital is no place just to 'dry out'. They really give you the workout. First I was restored to physical health. I wasn't in too bad a shape, but my boozing had made me exhausted, and since I didn't eat well, I was somewhat undernourished."

"Then I attended the lectures they give based on A.A. (Alcoholics Anonymous). "I was counseled by one of the psychologists, and counseled by their clergy."

"I enjoyed the rest and relaxation. And the treatment did help me to curb my drinking."

Dora didn't drink at all for four months.

"Then we took a trip overseas. You know those Europeans, they drink like alcoholics. Well, we got into our hotel room and there were built-in shelves lined with sauce. Every kind imaginable. Liquor, beer, wines, and liqueurs. And within three days, I had killed off every bit of it."

"My husband doesn't drink. He has heart trouble."

"Sure, I still go on benders occasionally. I wouldn't have had the nerve to offer that information, and I'm surprised you had the nerve to ask. But they happen only once in maybe three or four months. And when I go on a binge, I have a ball."

"My favorite is Imperial...I love Imperial!"

When Dora was asked what Imperial is, she replied, laughing, "Oh honey, you're funny. I can tell you're no drinker. Imperial is good whiskey, and boy is it good!"

According to the staff at Brighton Hospital the true test for an alcoholic is to take just one drink each night for thirty days. If that can be done, the drinking is assumed to be under control.

Dora tried it. "I was fine the first two nights, but the third night, I really got loaded. I guess you might say I failed the test."

Even though she still drinks, Dora says her children appreciate her more. "They're so pleased to see what I'm like sober, they've learned to accept it when I go on a bender."

"My husband gets upset though. He contends my excessive drinking has caused his heart problem. But I figure if he's got a bad heart, he's got a bad heart and I didn't put it there. So he just has to live with my occasional boozing. Besides, I told him if it weren't my drinking causing his heart ailment, it would be something else. But I love him, and he loves me."

Dora doesn't attend Alcoholics Anonymous regularly.

"I go if I'm in the mood, but I'm not in the mood very often. Sometimes I've gone and really gotten something out of the meeting, but other times it's been a waste of time."

"I'm not knocking A.A., it's great, it's just my own attitude that doesn't let me benefit from it the way I should."

"Do you know what a black out is? Most people think it is the same as passing out. It isn't. It's going into a state of amnesia and yet being able to function."

"Those twenty some years I drank to excess, I seldom knew what was going on around me. I couldn't remember from one day to the next. Now I keep contact with the world most of the time. My kids appreciate that. And I love my kids."

"Alcoholics have to keep a sense of humor. If they don't, they sink."

She told about the man she knew who entered an alcoholic hospital and after a month returned home.

"His wife decided to hide all of his booze. She figured that if the temptation was removed, he wouldn't start drinking again."

She asked him his first night home to go out to the woods in back of the house and pick some mushrooms for dinner."

"He took the pan, went to the woods, set the pan down, walked into town, went on a bender, and 10 days later walked home, picked up the pan, entered the back door and called to his wife, 'Honey, I couldn't find any mushrooms'."

"He had blacked out from the time he left his home until his return and could recall nothing about the time in between."

Northville Scouts Rained Out Twice

Boy Scout Rene VanEe has been named to represent Northville in the senior patrol leader training program this summer.

The Northville youth was unanimously endorsed by the Scout selection committee of Troop 731. He will be attending the training program from July 27 to August 2 at the scout ranch 20 miles north of Pontiac.

That Troop 731 was permitted a representative was an honor in itself. The troop was one of 100 from the 1,052 troops in the Detroit area selected to send a representative.

Only first-class scouts and above were eligible to participate. To make the final selection from the seven top candidates, a selection committee - including George Whitsell, Jerry Rotta and Rex Holloman - was established.

Although rain washed out the OLV flea market Saturday, the troop was able to sell most of its baked goods to those who turned out before the cancellation. The troop plans to have more "goodies" at this Saturday's rescheduled market.

The rain also forced postponement of the Rouge River cleanup project which is to be undertaken by the scouts as part of the Northville beautification program.

The canoe trip which had been planned for the weekend of May 8 was cancelled because of the unusually high condition of the Rifle River. A refund check is to be issued to all who advance canoe rental money.

A 1½-mile back-packing trip is scheduled for June 7 and 8.

Car Trouble Shooters Bone Up for Contest

A two-man team of young auto mechanic students from Northville High School are hard at work training for the 21st annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest to be held tomorrow (Friday) at 1 p.m. in the Wonderland Parking Lot.

The local trouble shooters are Mike Terry and Perry Long, both 18-year-old students who are practicing on a Plymouth supplied by Colony Chrysler-Plymouth dealership. Local instructor J. Thomas Handy handled the arrangements.

At tomorrow's contest the two boys will compete against other area schools in one of the most unusual interscholastic competitions of them all.

Participants first take a written exam. Then, teams are given a new Plymouth to put in smooth running condition. It won't be easy, however.

Several good reasons why the cars won't start or run properly once started have been deliberately placed under the hoods by Plymouth engineers.

The written exam counts as 30 percent of a team's final score and the mechanical competition 70 percent.

The winning team earns an all-expense paid trip to the National Trouble Shooting Finals June 16, 17 and 18 in Indianapolis at the famed "500" Speedway.

Contestants are competing for a total of $125,000 worth of scholarships and awards.

Purpose of the Trouble Shooting Contest is to recognize and honor outstanding young auto mechanic students and to encourage them to seek rewarding careers as automobile mechanics.

4 Hurt As Car Slams into Tree

Carolyn McDermott, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. McDermott, 46126 Pickford Court, received treatment at University of Michigan Hospital May 14 after a fall from her bicycle.

Her lower jaw required stitches by a plastic surgeon after the accident in Shadbrook subdivision.

Lieutenant Henry Berry of the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol, investigating the accident, warned that bike-riding season is here and asked parents to advise children to "ride with the traffic, not against."

Four young men were injured, two seriously, when their car skidded out of control into a ditch and then slammed into a tree off 10 Mile Road early Friday morning.

The impact twisted steel part-way around the tree, pinning two of the youths inside. Police said "it was a miracle" that anyone survived the 1:15 a.m. crash.

Injured were Vernon R. McCarthy, 21 of Walled Lake, John Wolfe, 19 and Mark New, 18, both of New Hudson, and Mike White 20 of Union Lake.

McCarthy told police he was westbound on Ten Mile traveling between 60 and 70 MPH when another vehicle cut him off, causing him to lose control of his car between Novi Road and Glenda Street. Novi police, however, judged the car to be traveling at about 110 MPH from 519 feet of skid marks left by the 1968 Shelby Cobra.

Police reports showed that all four had been drinking.

Novi police arrived at the scene just as state police did. McCarthy and Wolfe were lying in the ditch beside the car. White was pinned in the front seat between the tree and the right side of the car. New was lying with his head out the back window, his right leg pinned between the front seat and the dashboard.

Officers summoned two ambulances, a wrecker and the Novi fire department to the scene. Fire fighters had to wet down the area around the car before a torch could be used to cut White from the car. Gasoline from the broken fuel line had spilled over the area.

It took a half-hour to free White. He was taken to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor where his condition is described as "good" despite a left leg and hip fractures, back cut and a possible skull fracture.

After he was freed from the demolished car an hour after the crash, New was transferred to Botsford Hospital where his condition was called "satisfactory". X-rays showed he suffered a right leg and knee fractures.

McCarthy and Wolfe were treated at Botsford for cuts of the head and arms and released.

Novi police spent 1½ hours at the scene of the accident.

Housing Director Hits Maybury Zoning

"As well as being concerned with Detroit's underprivileged people, suburban citizens should help their own poor," Conrad L. Mallett, director of housing for the City of Detroit, told area citizens in an address last week sponsored by the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters at Schoolcraft College.

In discussing low-cost, moderate and public housing, Mallett said there still is a possibility that Detroit will use Maybury Sanatorium, now owned by it, for public housing. However, he stressed that Detroit is aware of the burden such a development would place on Northville schools and services.

"We would have to build schools and provide shopping, transportation and other facilities if we were to develop this property," he said.

Mallett also commented on what he understood to be rezoning of the Maybury area by Northville township which calls for one-acre residential lots. There have been similar rezoning efforts in other areas, he said, which have been declared illegal.

"It has been established that zoning laws do not pertain to public property," Mallett asserted. "Therefore, we assume that Northville's rezoning cannot apply to the Maybury property."

Mallett also said that the Detroit freeway system has enabled industry to locate outside the city. Because of lack of public transportation to factories and plants in the suburban areas, much of the poor population in Detroit is prevented now from working in these industries.

Discussing suburban poor, Mallett cited the 1960 census statistics which show 549 families in the Northville and Plymouth communities with incomes under $3,000 — with most living in substandard dwellings.

He urged concerned citizens to contact their congressmen requesting additional appropriations for public housing programs, both in the cities and the suburbs. There is a special need, he stated, for low-cost housing for the elderly as well as the poor, and for moderate priced housing facilities. As an example, he stressed that there are "hundreds of Detroiters working at the state and county hospitals and institutions in this area who cannot obtain moderate housing in either Northville or Plymouth."

Stating that he firmly believes Detroit should not become a reservoir for the old and the poor, Mallett questioned whether low-cost public housing developments in the suburbs would appeal to these groups. Because of the lack of public transportation in most suburbs, many of these people would not have access to shopping and recreational facilities, and thus, he said, would be isolated from such necessities.

Furthermore, he added, he did not feel the suburbs are ready to accept public housing. In Detroit, he said, he is confronted with racial, economic and class bias when he puts public housing in predominantly white areas. There is no reason to believe the suburbs would react differently, Mallett said.

He also stated that no federal program can invade an area and force citizens to accept low or moderate priced housing. People in the suburbs must want to provide these facilities in order to assure the success of such a program.

He suggested that citizens who really want to bring such housing programs into their areas should request help from the Foundation.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Claude W. Coates is the director of community planning for Vilcan-Leman, Inc., a highly regarded firm of planning consultants which numbers among its long list of suburban clients the communities of Wixom, Novi and Northville township.

Monday night he was featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

His words were music to my ears. They may have stung others.

It would be tactful to say that the leadership of the Chamber has never displayed vigorous support of the city's master plan for the central business district.

And this is puzzling when you consider that normally if chambers of commerce come under criticism it's for promoting community business interests.

Yet this important segment of Northville's community — the commercial area — has not been given top priority by the Chamber in its appraisal of local problems.

While Chamber leadership has attended public and private hearings on the proposed CBD plan, I have yet to hear a strong appeal for action to improvise the (or any) master plan.

Coates probably surprised a few officials by stating flatly that he liked the city's central business district master plan. Being a planner for the township — not the city — I dare say a few opponents of the CBD as devised by city planners had hoped they might pick up some ammunition to fire at future hearings.

But Coates said time is growing late; that you don't attract customers with potted evergreens or by hanging floral displays; that Northville has the ideal set-up for creating a mall (separation of pedestrian and vehicular traffic) on Center Street, which is too narrow, and Main Street; that a circular drive is needed; that more off-street parking is needed.

He talked about means of accomplishing this and noted that an arm of the Chamber of Commerce in Owosso was demonstrating how business and local government can cooperate to institute improvements in the downtown area.

He said the village of Rochester had done little, and two regional shopping centers — one 60-acres and the second some 100-acres in size — were now being planned on its borders.

The Vilcan-Leman spokesman also noted that in its work with Northville Township it had not set aside areas for comparison (regional) shopping centers because this area of responsibility was being left to the city. He didn't say how long this policy could be extended.

In a way Coates' remarks were disappointing.

One expects an outside expert to come up with a few previously unheard gems. But he seemed to be saying just what city planners have been saying for several years.

A plan must be adopted ... time is growing short ... a circular drive ... more off-street parking ... someone must act.

Maybe the Chamber of Commerce.

Although it was not mentioned by Coates, it should be noted that his boss, George Vilcan, has indicated that his firm takes a dim view of CBP (parking) zoning of property.

Vilcan's attitude in this area is that if you are going to zone any property non-conforming you better be prepared to buy it at a fair market price.

He said he agreed with the position taken in this column last week — that you can zone an entire area CBD (business), enforce parking requirements and still create a convenient center for shoppers.

She's Still Burning Over Kings Mill Blow

To the Editor:

I am still burning from the attack on Kings Mill at the Township Meeting of May 6. I should just consider the source and forget it, but in case some people might be inclined to believe what was said, I'd like to try to set the record straight.

True, a great many of us here at Kings Mill came from Detroit. Why? Because the city of Detroit is no longer good enough for us. That being the reason, would we have moved to a potential slum area?

Robert Geake, James Nawke, Harold Williams and Murray Rowland are simply not thinking (as well as not knowing) when they call us "undesirables, socially and economically". May I ask you gentlemen, how many Kings Mill residents have you met?

Virginia McLellan

Objects to CBP

To the Editor:

I wish to voice my objection to the C.B.P. zoning program.

In the past, people have moved from the surrounding cities to Northville, because they liked our small town atmosphere and the friendliness of our local merchants.

Now, these same people wish to destroy these same merchants.

I do not find parking that difficult.

It seems ironic that merchants cannot improve their stores just so we can settle for parking space for future bigger stores for merchants who have had no part in our historic town.

I would much rather see Northville stay as it is.

She Likes "Oliver"

To the Editor:

The evening of May 3 proved to be a very enjoyable one for me (and I am sure for many others, too), for on that night I was fortunate enough to be in attendance at the performance of Northville High School's "Oliver". The costuming, staging effects, and over-all enthusiasm of the performers were excellent. I certainly became involved in the play and was sorry it was over so soon.

I have seen "Oliver" two other times, being performed by large university casts. But, I have to honestly say that Northville's performance surpassed these others "hands down!" Congratulations to all who participated in making the musical, "Oliver," such a success, and especially to Miss Becker, Mr. Schaefer, Mr. Jerome, and lovable, Mr. Bumble!

Sincerely,
Diane Rathert

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"If you can't read, it's a wonderful magazine," said the acerbic college professor, referring to Life magazine, which has long been recognized for its brilliant photo journalism in black and white and color.

The professor's condescending remark wasn't entirely misplaced in the 1950's. Photographs — and little else — were Life's bread and butter. They still are. But increasingly, Life has been taking on some of the journalistic vigor and penetrating analysis of its sister publication, Time.

Lately, it has reached an eminence of its own, outstripping Time as well as other publications. Investigations are now a Life hallmark, along with photographs. The Mafia has been a favorite target.

Kudos from the entire nation and other journalists came rolling in two weeks ago when Life exposed Justice Fortas' dubious connections with stock manipulator Louis Wolfson. As John S. Knight wrote: "Disclosure of Justice Fortas' private entanglements by Life magazine was public service of the highest order."

The May 16, 1969 issue of Life, however, and its comment on the growing dissidence in American high schools is a less sensational but more profound contribution to our society. Life wades through the thoroughly perplexing world of teen-age America and draws some enlightening conclusions that may well be heeded by administrators and especially, parents.

Life's conclusions aren't merely the product of speculation, either. They are predicated on an exhaustive survey by Louis Harris, one of this country's top pollsters.

"If high schools are to draw abreast of the times and help achieve understanding between the generations," so one conclusion goes, "our best hope lies with the teachers."

That alone should rock parents on their heels, for, through the Harris survey, the generation gap takes on real dimensions. It is no myth. Parents are living in a different world from their offspring and the teachers, alone, are seen as the intermediaries.

"On the question of discipline the poll reveals the outlines of a student-teacher alliance. It is the parent, with his differing standards and priorities, who is the odd man out."

To a parent, discipline is supreme. "Teach respect for authority, teach them existing values, make them conform." Whereas the student seeks open dialogue in the spirit of inquiry, hopes to implement the Democratic ideals and find out "who he is."

"Authority," says Bayard Hooper in Life, "demands conformity, conformity leads to routine, and routine produces boredom. The status quo may be served, but the effect on the student can be disastrous."

Louis Harris pinpoints the irony of the present situation. "More than seven out of 10 of the parents feel that they had an inadequate high school education themselves, and they have been dreaming all along that their children would someday unlock the golden door of college education and find the equally golden road to future success in material terms."

The fact is that these parents, instead of docile students on the golden road, are confronted with offspring with an uncompromising set of values, to whom material things are secondary at best and to whom self-identity is most important.

Bleak as the Life report may be, nevertheless it heralds a new, better age, which, unfortunately, will only come after bitter clashes of principles as well as individuals. Life has gone a long way in helping the situation, however, by defining the dimensions of it.

It may seem a little incongruous but Northville-made diamond studded bits are making landings and take-offs of jets a safer operation at Chicago's giant O'Hare Airport.

Thanks to a new concept of drilling through concrete developed by the International Diamond Tool Company, new light fixtures have been imbedded at touchdown points, on the center-line of the runway, and at high speed turn-offs.

The new runway lighting technique gives larger and faster jets better visibility during take-off or landing — that critical point when most plane accidents occur.

Installation of the system, however, was as revolutionary as the lighting technique itself. It required the drilling of 20-inch and 24-inch diameter holes in solid concrete. Safety experts had found that installation of lights prior to the pouring of runways weakened the concrete and led to dangerous cracks. Drilling holes in concrete not only had to be done economically but it demanded clean, chip-free holes.

Marion Szczepanski, scientist-engineer and owner of International Diamond Tool, accepted the challenge, developing the huge bits here and personally lending a hand in their use at O'Hare.

The operation entailed drilling 20-inch holes completely through 15-inch thick concrete. The 24-inch bit was then centered over each 20-inch hole and a five-inch deep cut was made, forming a 24-inch counterbore. In all, 293 holes were drilled in each of these sizes for a total of 586 cuts.

Clean, sharp edge holes made the final wiring and installation of the fixture a simple procedure. Most importantly, the concrete runway had been poured uniformly without obstacles thus making for a stronger, structurally safe runway.

This unique drilling operation, approved by the Federal Aviation Authority, recently received national acclaim in technical publications and is likely to lead to similar systems at other jet airports across the nation. Even diamond tool competitors of International were impressed. Most figured it was economically if not technically impossible.

For Szczepanski, nothing seems impossible. His diamond bits and his unique "dry" drilling technique are chewing holes throughout the country — and hopefully, "if they (space agency) give me a chance," they'll drill holes in the lunar surface someday.

At the moment, however, his diamond bits may make their most technically startling accomplishment to date, hints Szczepanski. It involves work at Detroit Edison's second nuclear plant at Monroe.

I'm sure the work means drilling through concrete but I wouldn't be surprised to learn he's started drilling holes in atoms.

ANNUAL CHAMBER MEETING — A capacity audience attending the annual meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce at the Thunderbird Inn Monday evening heard the guest speaker, Claude W. Coates, director of community planning for Vilcan-Leman, Inc., warn that time is growing short for making improvements in the city's business district. (See Speaking for The Record, Page 10-A). In other chamber business, Harold Bittner, N. C. Schrader III, and Mrs. Margaret Zahti were elected to the board of directors.

OPEN HOUSE — Hundreds of area residents and officials turned out for the preview showing and the official opening of Thompson-Brown's new Northville Commons subdivision in Northville Township at Six Mile and Bradner roads. Discussing what they've just seen here are (l to r) Township Clerk and her husband, Crispin Hammond, Mrs. Gunnar Stromberg and her husband, the township supervisor, and Mrs. Paul Folino and her husband, a city councilman.

Mr. Robt. Childs, attorney for Marathon Oil and Beniecke & Krue, offered a revised proposal of the land involved in the request. The revision would create a "buffer" zoning between the proposed station-and-residence on Allen Drive; this to be done under a protective covenant - covenanted land to be zoned for professional office-type business. Marathon Oil also would eliminate the bay facing the residential section, and also the sign. Mayor Allen asked Mr. Paul Vernon of the Civic Ass'n. if their group would consider

An Analysis of Problems

Police Controversy Just Sign of Times in Township

BY BILL SLIGER

The first signs of growing pains are beginning to be heard in Northville township.

The signs are showing up at the township board in the form of arguments between elected officials; at public hearings in the form of protests levelled by citizens; and in the organization of citizen study committees designed to help provide relief for the pains.

Most apparent of the problem-signals created by the steady increase in population is the police controversy, the multiple zoning opposition and the talk of unification with the city.

There are other problems not so apparent. But township officials know they are there. They may not agree, however, on their ability to meet the challenges as they come along.

For example, there is sewer capacity to meet the surge of development; the extension of water lines to satisfy the demand; the maintenance of these facilities once they come into being, recreation needs; fire protection; expansion of governmental facilities — a new township hall, fire stations, department of public works.

But the beginning of all these rapidly-closing in problems is the matter of police protection (and to a lesser extent, the matter of multiple zoning which ultimately will determine the population density of the township).

Sharp lines have been drawn on the police issue.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, Treasurer Alex Lawrence, Clerk Eleanor Hammond and Trustees Richard Mitchell and Joseph Straub want to employ a 40-hour-per-week officer to patrol the township in a police car at a salary of $9,500 per year.

Their reasons for supporting this course of action probably differ, however.

And they clash sharply with the thoughts of Trustees Thomas Armstrong and Bernard Baldwin, who voted against hiring the officer.

Almost unnoticed in the argument has been Officer Ron Nisun. He claims that he had no knowledge of the board split. He quit a job in Livonia, working for the district court, to take up full duties in a profession he enjoys. Nisun said he had been told he would be employed full time by the township. That's why he quit.

Meanwhile, Trustees Armstrong and Baldwin thought they had won a delay in the decision to employ a 40-hour township officer. It wasn't Nisun they opposed. It was the idea that the township would pay $9,500 per year for a dog warden — with the added duties of enforcing rubbish and no hunting ordinances.

They insist that the public had been assured that no action would be taken on the matter until results of a new police study was completed by a township-board-appointed citizens committee.

Further, Armstrong and Baldwin oppose expansion of the police duties of Officer Nisun beyond enforcement of township ordinances on the basis that the job then becomes more than a one-man operation. They predict the need for record-keeping, court appearances and costly legal fees if traffic code ordinances are adopted.

In short, they don't believe that a salary of $9,500 can be justified for enforcement of present township ordinances. And they hesitate to take on the cost of a full-fledged department until the possibilities of a contract arrangement with the city of Northville or Wayne county can be explored.

Supervisor Stromberg, who employed Nisun before the board voted in favor of the action, doesn't think the salary is out of line. And he believes that the township needs a one-man department for the next one or two years to answer complaints associated with existing ordinances.

He maintains that the employment of Nisun will not interfere with future action taken on the basis of recommendations by the citizens' study committee.

Trustee Mitchell is an outspoken backer of Nisun. The trustee was once an elected constable himself and has worked with Nisun in the enforcement of ordinances in Northville township.

Further Mitchell is a member of the police study committee. He has made no secret of his opposition to any plan to contract with the city of Northville for police service. But he points out that the hiring of Nisun doesn't interfere with the work of the study committee. He says the county would hire Nisun if the committee recommended, and the township adopted, a plan to enter into a contract with the county for fulltime police service.

In its original study, now two years' old, the study committee recommended a contract with the city of Northville for police protection.

And a recently completed study conducted by city and township residents on the feasibility of unification of the city and township pointed to police service as one of the major benefits to the township.

So the underlying reasons for a big hassle over a relatively minor thing like hiring a police officer come to the surface.

Some opponents of unification with the city see the recognition of a needed service as an admission that the township does have weaknesses, that the city could offer it a service.

Others just oppose higher taxes. And they know that more services mean more taxes. This group doesn't share some of the animosity for the city that many oldtimers who fought against the original incorporation of Northville in 1955 still harbor.

Like it or not, Northville township residents are being drawn closer and closer to the reality that people bring problems and you cannot bar people.

One day soon people of the township who hold no animosity, who recognize only that tomorrow will soon be here, will step forward and take over the reins and make the decision that ultimately must be made.

Before current plans to build a township hall, to expand the police department, to become a charter township, to enter into financial obligations for expanded fire protection with Plymouth township — in short, to build a bigger township government around a city government — actually become facts, uncommitted citizens will bring to the electorate all the facts which must be weighed. And ultimately, a decision will be made at the polls.

Meanwhile, Officer Nisun should take satisfaction in the fact that he is a pioneer of tomorrow — not a target of board criticism.

At 39 Nisun has a record of three years' part-time police duty in Northville township, four years as an auxiliary officer supplementing the Livonia force, five years as a constable in Livonia and most recently as an appointed officer for the district court.

He has taken two semesters of law enforcement at Schoolcraft college. He lives in Livonia with his wife and four children.

Officer Nisun understands that presently his job is limited to enforcement of township ordinances. But he points out that any citizen can make an arrest when he witnesses a wrong-doing. And he adds that, although township residents should call the Wayne county sheriff for assistance in the case of house-breaking and the like, it's very likely that the sheriff would contact Officer Nisun and ask him to standby at the scene of the disturbance.

Guido Blasts Board For Police Action

"Furthermore, Mitchell knows that the sheriff said his department would absorb the township officer if it were given the contract for police services — but only if the local officer met the qualifications of his department. The new officer does not meet these qualifications."

Guido, who said action by the four who voted for hiring was sufficient reason to start a recall petition, also lashed out at Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg. "Stromberg," he charged, "deliberately ignored the action of the board on April 1 when hiring of a police officer was specifically tabled until May 13. He actually hired the officer on April 14 — almost a month before any action was to be taken."

"Lawrence (Township Treasurer Alex) withdrew his motion at that April 1 meeting for the express purpose of giving others an opportunity to act for the position."

"That April 14 date is important because it proves beyond a reasonable doubt that the board is disregarding the democratic process, with careless and dictatorial use of tax money. The ancient and outmoded form of government represented by the township is a thing of the horse and buggy days and must go."

City Council Minutes

reviewing the proposed plan. Mayor Allen then recommended that the Planning Commission and the Civic Ass'n. view the revised proposal and that the Public Hearing be adjourned until the May 20th Council Meeting.

Moved by Folino, support by Lapham, to adjourn the Public Hearing for consideration of the revised proposal for the re-zoning of the 2 1/2 Ac. located at the southwest corner of Allen Drive and Novi Rd., to Tuesday, May 20, 1969, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall. Unanimously carried.

DISCUSSION OF ON-STREET PARKING: City Mgr. read his Memo No. 69-10 and reviewed same; wherein he recommended approval of a permit fee of $1.00 per month for on-street parking and rigid screening of request before approval.

After considerable discussion of this matter, the City Attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution for the May 20th Council meeting concerning on-street parking permits within the City of Northville.

AMEND ORDINANCE ON CITY BIDDING: The City Mgr. recommended amendment of Sec. 2-205 (a) of the City Ordinance relative to Method of Handling Bids. City Attorney is to present a recommended amendment at next meeting.

PARKING AUTHORITY APPOINTMENTS: City Mgr. recommended discussion of these appointments at the Work Session because of the lateness of the hour.

PUBLIC MEETING ON 5-YR. PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM: City Mgr. reviewed the proposed Five-Year Public Improvement Program as published in the Northville Record (summary). There were several questions from the audience concerning the proposed Circle Dr., around the CBD, water and sewer to Northville Estates, extension of Wing St., improvement of various streets and method of assessment. The City Mgr. explained that there will be committees appointed to work on some of these projects and more informational meetings held for the public, but meanwhile legal groundwork will be underway to facilitate the mechanics of this program.

AWARD OF CONTRACT FOR SEALCOATING OF STREETS IN N. ESTATES: City Mgr. explained that bids for seal-coating of streets in Northville Estates had been opened on April 25, 1969 in the presence of 2 Councilmen, with bids to be awarded at May 5th Council Meeting, as advertised in the Michigan Contractor.

After close scrutiny of the Ordinance on Methods of Handling Bids by the Attorney, he recommended that the irregularity of bid procedure be waived and that the bids be acted on.

Moved by Rathert, support by Folino, that bidding irregularity for seal-coating of Northville Estates streets be waived and the award of bids proceed.

Unanimously carried.

City Engineer reviewed the bids as follows:
Contractor	Price	Unit Price
Midwest Asphalt Paving
Troy	$2200.00	.0488 cents
Ann Arbor Construction
Ann Arbor	2250.00	.05
Detroit Concrete Products
Novi	3168.00	.0704

and recommended that the low bidder, Midwest Asphalt Paving Co. be awarded the bid in the amount of $2200.00. Moved by Lapham, support by Rathert, that Midwest Asphalt Paving Co. of Troy, Mich., be awarded the contract for seal-coating some streets in Northville Estates at a unit price of 4.88 cents or $2200.00.

Unanimously carried.
(There will be additional work done, up to the limit of this appropriation at a figure of 4 cents per unit foot as suggested by Midwest Paving Co. — this work all to be done in June).

MISCELLANEOUS: The City Mgr. explained the new Janitorial Service for the City Hall — a cleaning service will work part of seven nights in the Police Dept; part of 5 nights in the library; the downstairs lobby to be done as needed, at a cost of $85.00 per week, including insurance and supplies. The Administrative Offices will have maid service each day and a DPW man to come in part of two days each week.

Councilman Folino inquired about cost of new fire siren; whether permission had been obtained from property owner to erect a fence at Center St. and Main St.; what had been done about McAllister situation; has anything been done about the curbing and the greenbelt in the rear of the Shopping Center on Novi Rd. and Allen Drive; progress of the Solicitation ordinance by City Attorney.

City Mgr. reported that Councilman Folino had seen Representative Stempien while he was in Lansing and mentioned the "Breathalyzer" needed by the Northville City Police Dept.; the State Police have already contacted the Northville Police Dept.

Mayor Allen asked that street light failures be checked (4 different locations in the City).

Work Session to be held on Budget and other matters on Monday, May 12th, 8:00 p.m.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 11:45 p.m.

7 Thinclads Qualify for State Mustangs

Novi to Send 3 to Lansing

Take Four

Four athletes qualified for state competition Saturday as Northville took third place in the Class "B" regional track meet at Belleville behind Ecorse and Riverside.

The Mustangs garnered a total of 26 points, while Ecorse finished first with 42 and Riverside came in second with 33.

Making the trip to Lansing will be Fred Hicks, John Stuyvenberg, Phil Kennedy and Greg Marshall.

Hicks came up with his best put of the season in taking second place in the shotput with a mark of 51' 3" — just one-half inch short of first place.

Stuyvenberg failed to equal his best long jump of the season but he came up with several consistently good jumps in taking first place (21' 11 1/2"). His best mark this season — and among the top in the state was 22' 3 3/4".

Turning in a time of 4:40 flat, Kennedy streaked to a second-place finish in the mile run.

In the 880 yard run, Greg Marshall led the field in crossing the finish line in first place. He was clocked at 2:01.0.

Others who performed well but failed to qualify were:

Brian Meyers, who got off his best put of the season (45' 7"), placed sixth; Rick Bell was fourth in the two-mile run (10:24) and Guy Dixon, a freshman, finished in ninth in a field of 26 runners (11 seconds flat);

Turning in a time of 4:44, Paul Bedford was fourth in the mile run; David Wright finished eighth in the 880, posting his best time of the season (2:10); and Greg VanDrie, also a freshman, was sixth in the 440 yard dash.

Northville's mile relay team finished fourth. With Marshall running the outstanding time (51.9), the squad was clocked at 3:35.9. Other members of the team were Kennedy, Glen Heffner and Stuyvenberger.

Three Novi thinclads qualified for Class "C" state competition at Lansing by scoring high in the regional track meet at Flint Central Saturday.

Leading the way for the Wildcats will be Mark Earl, who broke his own school record and turned in an outstanding third-place showing at Flint. Earl was clocked at 10:12.7.

Others to represent Novi in the state competition will be Jon VanWagner and Ken Osborn.

VanWagner finished second in the high jump at Flint, flipping over the bar at 5' 11", and Osborn was third in pole vault at 11' 3". Osborn's mark also was a local school record.

Others who picked up points for Novi at Flint but who failed to qualify for the state competition (only those finishing in the top three positions qualified) included:

Lev Tafraian, who finished fifth in the shotput with a put of 43' 5"; Syd

Chapman, who was fourth in the high hurdles with a time of 16.3; and Rick Hill, who finished fourth in the 440 yard dash with a time of 54.2.

Novi's 880 yard relay team also finished fourth with a time of 1:37.3. Members of the squad included Rick Dale, Steve Pomeroy, Don Maki, and John Davey.

Altogether Novi picked up 17 points to finish among the top five teams competing at Flint.

Down Livonia, Too Wildcats Win Triangular

Novi's surprisingly strong track team continued to dominate area Class "C" competition Saturday by sweeping past Orchard Lake St. Mary and Country Day in a triangular meet.

Novi, in posting 65 points to Orchard Lake's 45 and Country Day's 37, smashed three local records on its way to the easy triumph.

Syd Chapman streaked across the finish line in 16 seconds flat for a first in the high hurdles and a new school record, and then finished second in the low hurdles for still another record breaking time (21.5). The other new record was set by Don Maki, who finished fourth in the 100 yard dash in a time of 10.6.

Nearly half of the Wildcats' team points were chalked up in three events — long jump, high jump and pole vault — where the Novi athletes swept the first three positions.

Finishing one, two, three in the long jump were John Davey (20' 1"), Ken Osborn (19'), and Maki (18' 11"). John VanWagner, Ken Osborn and Doug Osborn finished in that order in the high jump event, with VanWagner registering a 5' 10" jump and the two Osborns tying at 5' 8". Ken Osborn was first in the pole vault (11'), while VanWagner and Doug Osborn tied at 10' 6".

Other Novi point makers were:

Shot put — Lev Tafraian, third (43' 1"); and Doug Keith, fourth, (42' 6").

Two mile run — Mark Earl, first (10:37).

Mile run — Don McGarry, second (4:56.4); and Larry Eggleston, third (4:57.5).

High hurdles — VanWagner, second (16.6).

880 yard run — Tom Boyer, third (2:09.1).

440 yard dash — Rick Hill, second (53.2); and Steve Pomeroy, fourth (56.5).

220 yard dash — Maki, third (24.5).

Mile relay — Novi, second (3:42.6), with Boyer, Brad Burnham, Pomeroy and Hill sharing the honors.

Pressing most of his younger thinclads into action while most of his veterans sat out the meet, Coach Fred Hanert was rewarded with a 71 1/2 to 46 1/2 victory over Livonia Churchill last week.

Livonia is a Class "B" school explained the coach, "but it only has sophomores so we decided to match them with our younger athletes who did a very fine job for us."

Novi's only seniors to compete were in the shotput competition where Lev Tafraian, "who is beginning to reach his stride," once again broke his own school record. And he did it with a put of 45' 6 1/2" — 18 inches better than his previous mark set a week earlier.

Tafraian's biggest competitor from Novi's own ranks — Doug Keith came up with a second-place put of 43' 1".

Another new school record was notched by John Davey, who came up with a long jump of 20' 11 1/2" — an easy first place effort. Backing him up in second place was Tom Boyer who leaped 18' 8 1/2".

Doug Osborn tied for first in the high jump, flipping over the bar at 5' 4". Tom Boyer came in third with a jump of 5' 2".

Other first places notched by Wildcats included:

Pole vault, Osborn with a vault of 10' even; a two-mile time of 10:31.9 by Mark Earl; a mile run effort of 4:58.3 by Dan McGarry; Syd Chapman's high hurdle mark of 17 seconds flat; Tom Boyer with a time of 2:11.0 in the 880 yard run; Chapman in the low hurdles at 22.5; and the mile relay time.

Running for the winning relay squad were Tom Boyer, Brad Burnham Steve Pomeroy and Rick Hill, who turned in a combined time of 3:53.1

Steve Koon, one of Novi's promising young athletes, took third in the pole vault (9' 6"); and Doug Osborn posted a third in the high hurdles (18.7).

Brad Burnham took second in the 880 (2:14.2); Davey picked up a second in the 100 yard dash (10.9) Jim Wilenius took third in the low hurdles (23.4); Davey was second in the 220 yard dash (24.3); and Rick Hill picked up third place points in the 220 (24.35).

Novi JH Nips West

Grabbing points in every event but two, Novi's junior high track team nipped West but came in second best to Pioneer in a triangular meet here last week Wednesday.

The Novi thinclads took 42 points, while West grabbed 41 and Pioneer claimed top honors with 54 points.

Here's how Novi's scoring went:

Long jump — Karch, second (16' 7 1/2"), and VanWagner, third.

High jump — Collins, second (5' 4"), and Law, third.

Pole vault — Lukkari, third (8' 9"), and Vivian, fourth.

Shot put — Collins, fourth (38' 3").

60 yard high hurdles — Boyer, third (9.9).

60-yard dash — St. John, first (7.4), and Stephens, third.

75-yard dash — Karch, second (9.3), and Dye, fourth.

100-yard low hurdles — Collins, second (13.5), and VanWagner, fourth.

100-yard dash — St. John, second (12.7) and McGarry, fourth.

220-yard dash — Karch, third (27.5).

440-yard relay — Novi, first (51.8).

Fishing Starts At Hatchery

Approximately 150 bluegills were placed in one of the ponds on the fish hatchery site last week, City Manager Frank Ollendorff announced. Earlier, six largemouth bass were stocked here.

Northville youngsters may begin fishing immediately, said Ollendorff, but if they happen to catch a bass they'll have to toss it back. Bass season hasn't opened.

The fishing is part of Northville's recreation program.

PROUD COACH — Showing off the huge trophy his thinclads won a week ago by capturing the coveted Tecumseh Relays crown is Novi Coach Fred Hanert. The Wildcats topped nine Class "C" schools to post the upset victory.

Little League Baseball

No-Hitters, Homers Top Action in Novi

Just underway, Novi Little League competition is already heating up with three teams taking off with early winning streaks.

In the minor league, Timberlane Lumber took its first three games in the East division, while Fendit Transit Mix, Harrison Well Drilling, and Muncey's Marathon are tied for first in the West division with 2-2 splits.

Michigan Tractor got off to a red-hot start, taking its first four games in the Red division of the major league, while close behind but still in first in the Blue division with three straight victories is Novi Rexall Drug.

for the losing squad.

Kevin LaFleche belted a double and a triple in leading Mobarak to a 12-1 triumph over General Filters on May 14. Adding punch at the plate for Mobarak was Doug Abraham and Dennis Tuck, who each collected a double and a single. Winning pitcher was Doug LeButzki, who gave up five hits.

Written Brothers banged out 15 hits — including seven triples in swamping General Filters 20-2 on May 16. Although Filters picked up two runs, the winning hurler, Gary Canfield fired a no-hitter. Two of the triples came off the bat of Craig Love.

Two other no-hitters were notched in early competition. Stephan Wrathell was on the mound for Paragon, which defeated Pink Builders 14-1, when he fired his no hitter May 7. And Richard Davidson of Mobarak threw his no-hitter against Carl's to win an easy 9-1 verdict on the same day.

Schoolcraft Golfers Finish 3rd in State

Schoolcraft College golfers grabbed third-place honors in the all-Michigan junior college tournament at Grand Rapids Saturday.

Finishing first with a team total of 632 was Grand Rapids, and in second was Flint JC at 645, with Schoolcraft and St. Clair tied for third at 655 over Grand Rapids' rugged home course.

Garnering individual honors for Schoolcraft was Gary Robinson or Plymouth who fired a 159 for 36 holes to put him among the top 10 golfers thus earning him an all-conference position. Robinson carded a 76 on the first 18 holes, 83 for the second round.

Other Schoolcraft golfers and their 36-hole totals were Steve Kazmer, 163; Carl Patron, 165; Fred Zrmack, 168; and Tom Karwoski, 174.

Finishing behind Schoolcraft was Henry Ford, Kellogg, Jackson, Glen Oaks and Muskegon.

CONGRATULATIONS FRED — Congratulations were heaped on the muscular shoulders of Fred Hicks (left) last week Wednesday as the husky Northville athlete was named Athlete of The Year during the second annual All Sports Banquet sponsored by the Northville Boosters Club. Fred, who excels in football, wrestling and track, succeeds the 1968 Athlete, Jim Peterson (right) who presented Fred with the giant trophy. Also extending their congratulations all U-M's former head football coach Bump Elliott, banquet speaker, and Steve Juday, Northville's own All-American and outgoing president of the Boosters club. Dozens of athletes were honored during the banquet as an enthusiastic crowd cheered the Mustangs — and the school's pretty and talented cheerleaders. Back again this year, adding his colorful commentary was Toastmaster Andy Bertoni.

Two Foes Fall

Bats Explode for Wildcats

Good pitching and lively hitting accounted for two big victories this past week as Novi's varsity nine pushed its season win-loss record to 9-2.

Enjoying what probably will be his best baseball season at the young high school, Novi Coach John Osborn has his fingers crossed as the Wildcats head into the home stretch with six remaining games.

Novi pounded out 11 hits to power past Whitmore Lake Thursday, 10-2, and then came back Monday with 10 more blows to defeat Bloomfield Hills Lahser, 8-1.

The pitching performance of Lee Snow and an early lead were the ingredients for the victory over Bloomfield. Snow, making his best performance of the season, struck out five batters and walked only one while allowing six hits.

"He was great," said Osborn, mixing up a good curve and a live fast ball.

Novi scored twice in the first, three times in the third, two in the fourth and one in the seventh. Bloomfield scored its two runs in the sixth.

Leading the way for the Wildcats at the plate was Paul Faulkner, who came up with four hits in four trips to the plate to raise his season batting average to an even .500. Faulkner collected two doubles, two singles, knocked in two runs and scored twice himself.

Another big punch was turned in by Dan Slatter, who picked up two singles and batted in three runs.

Phil McMillan was the winning pitcher over the Trojans, giving up four hits and fanning 10 as well as setting down the last 10 batters in a row.

Both teams scored two runs in the first. Then, in the third, the Wildcats exploded for five big runs with Faulkner's triple and Boyer's single accounting the big blows of the inning.

Novi scored its final three runs in the sixth, while Whitmore Lake scored both of its runs in the first on an error.

Other local winners last week included:

Long jump — Brian Findling, second (15' 10 1/2").

Shot put — Mark VanDrie, third (35').

High jump — Bob Williams, first (4' 10 1/2"); and Greg Geroy and Witak tied for the remaining positions with jumps of 4' 8".

60 yard high hurdles — Don Pickren, second (winning time 10.3).

60 yard dash — Chris Sweany, first (7.3).

75 yard dash — Findling, second (winning time 9.5), and Van Drie, third.

440 yard run — Mike Forrester, first (63 seconds flat); and Don Bowret, second.

100 yard dash — Sweany, first (10.8).

220 yard dash — Findling, first (27.4) and VanDrie, second.

Mustangs Win Three

Fred Holdsworth Hurls No-Hitter

Three straight victories this past week, including a no-hitter, boosted Northville's varsity nine within grasp of third place in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Half a game out of third, the Mustangs are 7-4 in the league behind undefeated Milford, second-place Waterford Kettering which has two losses, and Bloomfield Hills Andover with three defeats.

Because Bloomfield must play Milford once more and two games with Kettering, Northville has a good shot at third place in this final week of league action. Even second place is not out of the question because the Mustangs still must play Kettering in a make-up game.

Ironically, one of the squad's three victories this past week was a brilliant, 3-1 no-hitter over Andover here Thursday. Serving up his regular combination of fast balls and curves, Fred Holdsworth fired 10 strikeouts and walked but one batter in notching the no-hitter.

In his previous three games, Holdsworth had racked up two one-hitters. His latest effort gives him a beautiful .250 ERA, having given up only two earned runs in 54 innings of pitching. A control pitcher, he has given up only eight walks this season.

While Andover was going hitless at the plate, Northville combined key hits with Bloomfield fielding errors to take the game.

In the second inning, Dave Coe gained first on a fielder's choice, advanced to second on an error and came home on a single off the bat of Craig Turnbull. In the third, Stan Nirider lifted a 320-drive over the left field fence for the Mustang's second run. Then with two outs and two on Holdsworth drove the left fielder to the fence only to have the ball caught. Turnbull came back with another long left field poke in the fourth — but it, too, was caught.

Bloomfield scored its lone run in the fifth on an infield error, a stolen base and a sacrifice fly.

Northville came up with its third run in the seventh when Cayley and Coe singled and then Cayley scored on a pass ball.

Last week Tuesday Northville edged Brighton here, 2-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Bernie Bach, who struck out 10 and walked one.

The Mustangs opened the first with a single run on a single by Terry Mills, who stole second, went to third on a base ball, and then streaked home on a single by Jeff Taylor.

The Bulldogs tied the score in the fourth on an unearned run.

Then in the bottom of the seventh, Taylor singled, advanced to second on a pass ball, and then with two outs Bach singled to left to drive in the winning run.

MORE RAIN? The season hasn't started but Northville's new Class A baseball team has already run into some stiff competition. Rain or wet weather has driven the Northville Merchants from the practice field so often that automatically Chris Holman checks for raindrops before leaving the dugout. Sponsored by Casterline's, Northville Downs, Glenn Long, The Record and Van Hove Specialties, the squad will swing into action next week in the Livonia Class A League.

Dump's Filled, But New Plan's Working

Northville's dump has had it — but don't panic, a temporary refuse plan appears to have solved the city-township dumping problem for another year.

That's the word from City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who reports that although the dump is just about filled to capacity the procedure of dumping trash into gondolas at the dump and then trucking the collected trash to the Salem landfill appears to be working satisfactorily.

However, the city manager warns that continued illegal dumping could wreck the whole plan.

Ollendorff said some people are entering the dump illegally, while other non-residents are "borrowing" dumping privilege cards of township and city residents to dispose of their trash at the dump.

To cut down expenses and trash, hours at the dump for city-township residents have been slashed from 16 hours weekly to four hours — 10 to 12 on Saturday and 12 to 2 on Sunday.

In addition, all township commercial and industrial dumping has been banned, while city commercial and industrial dumping has been cut from 16 hours weekly to four hours.

Meanwhile, search for a suitable landfill site by members of the joint community refuse disposal committee continues with a report due sometime in June. The committee represents the city and township of Northville, the city and township of Plymouth and Canton Township.

Last December the five municipalities agreed to form a disposal authority to seek out mutually satisfactory solutions to the growing disposal problems in all communities. While an incinerator disposal system has been shelved in favor of a jointly operated landfill, it has not been scrapped.

According to Ollendorff, the committee is convinced that in the long run an incinerator is the most logical solution. It is estimated, however, that to be economically feasible, an incinerator must serve a population of 500,000 — and the five municipalities have not reached that point.

Walled Lake Man Beaten in Northville

William Turner, 34, Walled Lake, was beaten May 18 at 2:45 a.m. by four men behind Sandy's Hamburgers, 156 North Center Street.

Turner received facial lacerations and a possible broken nose, according to police reports. Between 10 and 15 stitches were required to close the lacerations.

He told police that earlier in the evening he "had words with" the four men at the Winner's Circle, 111 West Main Street. Turner said when he was in his car, one of the men kicked in his car door in an attempt to get at him.

When Turner was at Sandy's Hamburgers, one of the men threw a cup of coffee in his face and struck him. Two men then forced him out the rear door, into the parking lot. Two other men then began to hit him.

When police arrived the men fled. Police said Turner was covered with blood and bleeding from facial lacerations.

No arrests have been made.

Mrs. Charles Reed, 825 Horton Street, reported to police vandals broke a 12 by 24 pane of glass in her garage between 6 p.m. May 15 and 9 a.m. May 16.

Investigating officers found dents in the garage door that indicate the window could have been shot with a BB gun.

Stanley Gurney, 43795 Park Grove Street, reported to police someone took a tire and wheel from his 1960 Ford pickup May 14.

Gurney said the theft occurred while the truck was parked on Novi Street.

Unknown persons took an air cleaner and spark plug wire from new cars parked at John Mach Ford Sales May 15. The value of the missing parts was placed a $4.

Eye Maybury Sale

During Monday's discussion it was suggested that perhaps the zoning should be changed to a manufacturing classification to upset plans that might be afoot for the property's development. But Township Trustee Bernard Baldwin and others voiced the opinion that to change the zoning at this time might be difficult to defend in court. Maintaining the present restrictive housing zoning, he said, would be far easier to justify in court, particularly in view of the township's total master plan.

(The township changed all public lands, such as Maybury, from the old "P" classification to one-family residential several years ago.)

Although most other officials agreed with Baldwin, it was pointed out that in today's social climate where need of more low-cost housing is emphasized even the present zoning might be upset in court should it ever reach that point.

According to a spokesman for Vilcan-Leman, Northville township planning consultant, the maximum number of homes that could be built on 900 acres under present zoning of the Maybury property would be 980. Each of these 980 homes — if utilities were provided — would be built on 30,000 square foot lots, he said.

If utilities were not available (meaning private sewage disposal and water systems were necessary) the maximum number of homes would be 675, built on one-acre lots.

Those 980 homes, he said, would produce about 490 children in the kindergarten through sixth grade bracket, while 675 homes would generate 340 children in this same grade category.

Because of the recurring talk of Maybury being sold, Vilcan-Leman has taken "a precautionary step" of preparing a possible site plan for development of the property in large lot sizes, he said.

While a large lot size development would be more desirable, in the eyes of local school officials, than smaller lots-low cost housing, any kind of housing development is viewed as a major financial problem.

Superintendent Raymond Spear and Board President Stanley Johnston suggested Monday that some industrial development in the area would be an economic asset to the district. They found fault with development of Northville as a strictly "bedroom community" without adequate industry, suggesting that more industry should be encouraged than is being planned.

Prior to Monday's meeting school officials expressed the opinion that it would be "cheaper" for the school district to purchase the entire Maybury site and not use it than to let it be developed for homes requiring many millions of dollars worth of additional classrooms.

Downs Opens Next Wednesday

Northville Downs moves into its second quarter-century of operation next Wednesday with the start of the greatest number of harness racing dates in history.

Next week's opener, which marks the 26th season at the Downs, is the first of two meets scheduled at Northville this year. The first provides 54 nights through Tuesday, July 29.

Then, beginning on November 24, Jackson Raceway under a lease agreement will conduct a 30-night meet here.

The combined 84 nights are the most ever held in a single season at Northville. And the December 30 closing date marks the latest racing has been conducted in Michigan.

Although construction of a $1.5 million clubhouse at the west end of the grandstand will continue through the first meet, Executive Manager John J. Carlo anticipates little problem in accommodating fans. Fans who normally occupied the bleachers on the site of the clubhouse will be seated east of the grandstand, he said. There may be "a little" seating problem on Friday and Saturday nights, Carlo said.

Carlo predicts next week's opener probably will be up slightly from last year when 4,500 fans turned out to wager $324,000. He estimated a wager of from $320,000 to $330,000 on Wednesday.

Last year's silver anniversary year saw 10 wagering marks go by the boards and a new record nightly average of $310,807.

This year the 15th renewal of the Michigan Trotting Derby will be held Wednesday, July 2, with an estimated purse of $18,000 added. Also, the 19th renewal of the Michigan Trotting Derby will be held Wednesday, July 16, with an estimated purse of $20,000 added.

Format of the 10 races nightly will remain the same with daily double wagering on the first and second race. Post time will continue at 8:30 p.m.

While work on the new clubhouse will continue throughout the meet, enclosure work on the grandstand will be shelved until later in the summer. Carlo said, with completion well before the winter meet. The three-floor, 100 x 200-foot clubhouse is expected to be completed within a year.

Cost of the clubhouse together with enclosure of the entire grandstand has been put at nearly $2 million.

Dog License Deadline Near

Northville Township dog owners will receive a "bonus" period in which to purchase dog licenses, officials revealed this week.

Deadline for purchasing licenses before a penalty fee of $2 is charged normally would fall on May 31 but because of the Memorial Day weekend the deadline has been extended to June 2.

License fees are $1 for male and spayed females and $2 for unspecial females. Extra help will be pressed into service next week Wednesday and Thursday to handle an anticipated "a rush on licenses."

In the city where no penalty fee is charged, officials point out, however, that current licenses expire on May 31 and new licenses should be purchased.

REZONING OPPOSED — About 80 citizens from the southeast corner of Northville township and the adjoining Plymouth township area attended a Northville township planning commission public hearing last week to protest the proposed rezoning of residential property to industrial classification. The sites, noted on map above, abutt the route of the new I-275 expressway along Haggerty road at Five and Six Mile roads. Most of the area of the proposed industrial zoning lies in the Plymouth school district, which prompted Northville school district residents to question the value in tax dollars to the Northville school system. And Plymouth residents said they didn't want the industrial zoning within their residential area, despite tax help, because it would lower their property values. They also saw the zoning as a threat to the safety of children attending Tanger elementary school on Five Mile road. Official protests to the proposed industrial rezoning were lodged by Schoolcraft college, Tanger school, Plymouth Lakepoint Association, St. Luke Methodist church. Numerous residents of the area under consideration for rezoning as well as some living between the two industrial areas spoke in opposition on the basis of safety and reduction in residential property values. Township Planning Consultant George Vilcan, who was not present at the public hearing, has noted that the proposed new expressway changes the nature of the area. But he denies that property values would decline and believes that proper setbacks buffers and service drives to the industrial areas could be used to separate the area from the school as well as adjoining residential. He said he views the proposal as good land use. Township Planning Commission Chairman Leonard Klein said the planners would reach a decision at the May 27 meeting. The recommendation from the planning commission then goes to the township board for official action, probably at the June 10 meeting.

Apollo 10 Duplicated

6th Graders Go 'In Orbit'

Although Apollo 10 didn't get off the launching pad Sunday, the space ship and students at Whitmore Lake Elementary school were very much in orbit this week.

They're higher than the real Apollo 10 that is flying at astronomical speed toward the Moon. What they're ecstatic about is the fact that the sixth grade students of Teacher Bill Schongalla have simulated the Apollo 10 trip, almost to a T.

Two youths — Commander Mike Harrison and Lieutenant Edward Wolenski — are sealed inside a replica of Apollo 10 and won't be leaving until Wednesday. At that time, two girls will take over for a day and night.

Within the 9' tall, 15' wide capsule are dried food and water to sustain the boys, along with a television set, closed circuit TV to their sixth-grade classroom, waste disposal apparatus — the basic paraphernalia contained in the real Apollo 10.

As the real astronauts go through their paces in space, Harrison and Wolenski are duplicating their maneuvers in the Whitmore Lake storage room, where the capsule is being housed. Student guards watch the door to the room during school hours.

For Principal Dennis Clark, brain-child of the project, and Schongalla, it is a 24-hour watch. Round-the-clock they oversee the operation and they and the students keep in touch with the boys to make sure they're safe and content.

Contact is made through a microphone at Mission Control, normally the sixth grade classroom. Now, sketches of real equipment at Mission Control in Houston, plus a live tape-recorder and closed circuit TV to the capsule occupy the classroom.

Apparatus is also available for measuring the boys' pulse rate and respiration, to keep tabs on how their bodies react during their four-day isolation.

While some students plot the course of the real and simulated Apollo 10, other students play tapes that emit sounds to coincide with real space travel.

"We wanted the kids to see the real value of team effort," Principal Clark stated, "in working toward a common goal."

That was the idea some five weeks ago when Clark first broached the project to Schongalla. Together the two men formulated plans, and Schongalla took over the procedural steps.

Work on the project was divided among Schongalla's sixth grade students. Slowly at first but gaining in momentum the project took shape. Hours were spent during and after school hours.

The capsule was constructed of chicken wire, plywood, paper mache, lumber and foam rubber. The Washtenaw County Intermediate school district got into the act, too, by donating the closed circuit TV, the tape recorder and other equipment.

"It's mushroomed since then," Clark said. Television stations and newspapers have been zeroing in the project, following the ventures of Harrison and Wolenski as closely as if they are the real astronauts.

STUDENTS TRACE the flight of Apollo 10 at Mission Control headquarters.

Crashes Take Toll

ESCAPE DEATH — Four young men "miraculously" escaped death early Friday morning when their speeding sports car skidded out of control on 10 Mile Road in Novi and slammed into a tree. Two were pinned in the wreckage and police, firemen, and others worked an hour to pry them loose. Two were seriously injured and hospitalized; two others were treated and released. They are John Wolfe and Mark New of New Hudson, Vernon McCarthy of Walled Lake and Mike White of Union Lake.

Community Affairs Bureau Studied by Lawmakers

LANSING — A proposal for a new department of state government to deal exclusively with the problems of Michigan's cities is gaining support in the Legislature and may get Gov. William G. Milliken's nod.

Senator Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and Representative J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, are sponsoring identical bills to create a state department of community affairs.

Milliken asked an advisory committee of legislative leaders recently to study the feasibility of such a department. Lockwood, as Senate majority leader, is a member of the unit.

An executive office aide said the Governor apparently anticipated no legislative action this year when he suggested the need for an urban affairs department in a message to the Legislature.

However, the aide added, introduction of the Lockwood and Traxler bills means the "whole timetable might be pushed forward" by Milliken this year.

UNDER THE Lockwood-Traxler plan, the proposed department would coordinate state and federal programs in such urban fields as housing, mass transportation, outdoor recreation, water resources, employment, poverty and health services.

The department would be the 20th and final one permitted under the 1963 state constitution. The present 19 principal departments were set up four years ago.

Competition for the 20th spot is increasing. Some lawmakers want a new department of youth services; others are demanding that the liquor control commission be made a separate agency.

Traxler and Lockwood said the pressing needs of Michigan's cities underscore the reasoning for a department to administer and develop urban programs.

"Seventy-five per cent of our citizens live in urban areas, and yet we do not have a state department that is primarily concerned with the quality of life in our urban areas," Traxler said.

"Events in the cities during the past several years have exposed conditions of disadvantage and social failure of a depth previously unrecognized."

THE TWO legislators propose that the State Housing Development Authority, now attached to the Department of Social Services, be transferred to the new agency. Enforcement of state housing codes would be shifted from the Department of Health.

Lockwood said the community affairs department would also be given responsibility for the resettlement of persons displaced because of public works projects. That job is now handled by the State Administrative Board.

Continued bickering within Michigan's congressional delegation has resulted in an impasse over creation of Sleeping Bear Dunes National Park, a conservation consultant reports.

Douglas W. Scott of the Wilderness Society of Michigan said the differences of opinion concern ways of protecting private property in the Benzie-Leland area where the park would be located.

He urged the State Natural Resources Commission to petition President Nixon, Congressmen and cabinet members to support Michigan's Sen. Philip A. Hart's bill to create the 61,000-acre park along Lake Michigan in the northwest part of the state.

Scott said an intensive information campaign should be launched by the Department of Natural Resources to alert Michigan residents to the "great importance" of the issue.

FEDERAL ACTION is vital, he said, because "with every passing day unplanned, uncontrolled development, rampant subdivision of more cottages and summer homes, and honky-tonk encroachments are taking their toll."

Mrs. Virginia L. Prentice, chairman of the State Sierra Club, suggested the state donate the land to the federal government for park development.

Since purchasing the land "may be of more than usual significance... during this session of Congress," Michigan should show "good faith and eagerness" by making a gift of the Dunes area, she said.

Guess who?

Before I had a chance to say, "Guess who," Jack knew it was I. We're like that—maybe it's because we're twins.

We've always been close. When we were small, we had a private adventureland out in our back woods. Hardly a day went by that Jack didn't help me out of some scrape. He was the one who was able to entice me down from that tree when I fell halfway from the top—and lay paralyzed with fright between two branches. I hailed him out of several misadventures, too.

When it came to college—we chose the same one. And it's been nice. Every now and then we get together and talk out our problems, just as we always have. We go to church together, too.

We're glad Mom and Dad made the Church an important part of our lives. When we think of graduation and the inevitable parting of our ways, it's good to know that each of us has an ever-present source of strength and guidance in God and His Church.

Pastor R. L. Sizem

from the Pastor's Study

Recently I read about a girl who had to wear a brace straight through her childhood due to curvature of the spine. She tried riding a bicycle, but was not able to get off by herself. She had to keep going round and round the block until she met a friend who would seize the handlebars and stop her and the bike.

This makes you think of what is happening on our campuses today. Who can forget those students at Cornell flaunting shotguns and rifles, putting tough pressure on the university and winning. University presidents have never had such a high mortality rate. People wonder who will grab hold of the handlebars and stop the bike.

As I call on homes and hospitals in this area, I have never seen such sheer hatred directed toward young people as I see today. And I have never seen such scorn toward adults coming from our young people. Our American society is being polarized with the old and the young clustering together in armed camps. If anyone has a word of reconciliation, he had better speak now or forever hold his peace.

Some folks suggest that we should close the generation gap. I believe this would be a mistake. Rather we need to build bridges over it. Let's respect our differences not obliterate them.

Here is a woman about 40 years old with her go-go boots (or should I say put-put boots) and her teen-age slang. She thinks she is really cool, a wild swinger. But she is actually a cheap imitation trying to keep death at a distance. Young people turn her off.

Some young people are "little old men" or "little old women". They relate beautifully to adults but can hardly stand to be around young people. They have never found the courage to rebel, a genuine tragedy, and find it easy to play adult. They may be polite, clean, and obedient all right. But they simply are not interesting.

I read an article in the "Saturday Review" by Thomas Cottle of Harvard University recently, and he suggests that to have authority as an adult is not to "come down" to the level of a child or to give in to your children. You need to preserve a certain generational separation even if you're called a "square" or a "straight arrow". When a small child orders a parent out of his bedroom, he prays that his parent will go no further than the living room, says Mr. Cottle.

I believe we parents should be parents not buddies. My son will have plenty of buddies, but only one father. I want to be that father. And mothers should stand for something. Nobody wants a jellyfish for a mother or a marshmallow for a father. Let's offer our children something solid to rebel against. And let's give our children the opportunity to be themselves not carbon copies of Mom and Dad. To come out of the fog of conformity as a clear, distinct self is no small accomplishment. And let's remember that the progress of civilization is predicated upon the assurance that sons will be better than their fathers.

I also believe we should be open to each other instead of turning one another off. Perhaps the greatest danger is that we will glance at a young person, size him up, mark him down, and turn him off. If your hair is long and your sideburns low, you must be a real weirdo.

Why does long hair make the old blood pressure rise? Some of us adults have a phobia about this. Recently I spoke at a local church, and some of the older people were rather shaken up about this long hair. But when you first walk into that church, you see some photographs of most of the former pastors. What a wild collection! You see everything on those faces, and some make today's youth look like "baldies". Jesus had long hair. So the real problem is that this young person is different.

Well, God says YES to me with all my differences and He loves me as a distinct individual. Why should I try to whip everybody into my mold? I think the time will come when nearly all of us will have long hair. Then some "uppity" teen-ager will walk into a barber chair and order a crew cut. Adults will cry, "Now listen here. God gave you long hair and here you go and have it all cut off. What kind of a man are you?"

Much of the unrest today among young people can be traced back to their idealism. What is embarrassing is that these teen-agers often have our ideals, but they are taking them seriously whereas we only talk about them. They not only talk about peace, they want to see it really come off in Vietnam and are sick about all the money gobbled up by the military. They not only talk about brotherhood, they wonder why black people are not their neighbors. They ask why we allow people to be hopelessly crippled in mind and body by poverty when this is the richest nation that has ever lived on the face of the earth.

And we adults need to share our realism with the coming generation. For example, when young people call for violence, they are playing with dynamite that can blow up more than the other fellow. The far right in this country is armed, and looking for the chance to use guns on the liberals and the blacks. Violence they can cope with, and Stokely Carmichael they can understand. Students should face these facts and listen instead to the spirit of Martin Luther King.

I hear so often from young people that their mothers and fathers simply do not listen to them. They think they have all the answers. May we learn to open up and listen to what youth are saying and feeling. And may young people tune in on us as well. Experience is no guarantee of wisdom, but certainly can be a giant stride in that direction.

The answer to the generation gap is straight, honest dialogue, the kind Jesus engaged in. Why not begin today?

Truck Firms Face Mergers

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS. Since the end of World War II, the truckers have made tremendous progress, outpacing the traffic gains in overall transportation by a substantial margin. This has been accomplished by diversion of traffic primarily from the rails. Today the trucking industry is one of the nation's largest, with revenues exceeding $50 billion annually. It provides employment for some 8,000,000 persons and is a major consumer of goods and services.

This is not a centralized industry. It is highly fractionalized, involving more than 15,000 companies with only about 50 being publicly owned. Many privately held firms are still controlled by the founding families or original owners. But, in recent years there has been an increasing trend toward consolidation or merger. There seems little doubt that this trend will continue as the participants strive to extend their operating authorities and acquire established and professional management teams.

MERGERS and consolidations are not the only factors responsible for the industry's growth. Our population has moved to suburbia, away from the traditional rail centers. Decentralization of industrial production has also led to plants being built away from rail centers; and simultaneously our federal highway system, which is well along toward completion, has enabled other truckers to serve far-reaching markets.

At the same time that revenues have grown, expenses have also increased, thereby resulting in a steady pressure on profit margins. The truckers' biggest expense is labor, wages and fringe benefits amount to some two-thirds of operating costs in comparison with 50% for railroads and 40% for airlines. Since 1963, the trucking industry has been absorbing increases in labor expense of about 5% a year. Through technological advances, it has been able to absorb these by use of larger equipment and tandem trailers.

THE TRUCKING industry has shown profit improvement and, barring any unforeseen developments, the year as a whole should be very favorable. Aiding this year's results has been the rate relief granted by the ICC, which will more than offset the wage boosts. This, plus a generally stronger economy, labor accord, and increased freight movement, are all contributing factors to this year's earnings improvement for the truckers.

The success of the truckers is dependent on a healthy economy. Should there be a slackening, the trucking industry's growth rate would level off. But, should such a slowdown occur, the Babson staff feels it would be only a temporary situation...not permanently damaging to this industry.

On the whole, we feel the trucking industry is in a favorable position, and we are optimistic concerning both its near- and long-term outlook. As more and more companies merge, the surviving firms should be in much stronger positions and better able to cope with the narrow profit margins of this cyclical business. Also, unlike the situation in the rails, the Interstate Commerce Commission is not likely to become a roadblock to future combinations.

PRESENTLY, Babson's Reports is maintaining "hold" advice on the better quality issues in the group which have shown good earning growth over the years and whose management is highly regarded in the industry. These include: McLean Trucking, Pacific Intermountain Express, National City Lines, Cooper Jarrett, and Ryder System, Inc. Several of these have been recommended by us during recent years. Currently, we favor for purchase the common stock of Consolidated Freightways near 33.

Herald's Herald

By MARILYN HERALD

The old timers used to say if you had good neighbors where you lived before you'll have them in the new place too.

Makes you stop and consider what kind of person you are doesn't it? Do you find good neighbors where ever you go or do they just not quite measure up to your high ideas?

Over the past 20 years our neighbors have come and gone but we have just stayed on. Could that prove that we are hard to get along with and they would rather switch than fight.

Course I don't know how they really feel but we have never had open hostilities with any of them. From our side of the fence, our neighbors are the greatest.

One managed to smile graciously and say "it could happen to anyone" when one of our kids pushed her daughter off a merry-go-round.

Another gaily insists that my small son plays so well with her children that she should pay him for sitting instead of my paying her for overseeing him. I know she's a cheerful liar but it's the kind of prevarication that rings soothingly in a mother's ears. In our neighborhood, we also manage to look the other way when the kids have an argument. Even if the kids restage the Battle of the Bulge, Okinawa, Korea or any and all in between, we have realized that a peace treaty is generally signed before taps is sounded. Its only when adults infiltrate the fighting forces that an armistice may be as hard to achieve as a Vietnam peace.

We even have a neighbor who agreed to painlessly dispose of a cat with an undiagnosed skin disease on her neck. I put this service in the category of "above and beyond the good neighbor policy". Actually, I chickened out on the deal and we still have the cat, she wears an old sock as a turtle-neck to prevent undue scratching.

It's always nice to have someone close by who is available with a bucket to catch your tears when it comes to raising teenagers and yet knows that to offer advice on how to raise them is like waving the red flag before the bull.

Of course the best neighbor in the world is the one who will loan you anything but his spouse and pretend that he isn't worried about when you will return it.

You can't miss with electric heat.

For openers, it comes with a three-year operating cost guarantee. That's in writing. And is issued only by Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractors.

If the operating cost doesn't live up to the guarantee, Edison will work with your contractor to see that it does. If things still don't work out, the equipment will be removed and your money will be refunded.

If you'd like to know more about clean, quiet, flameless electric heat, we'll have an Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor call on you. Naturally, there's no obligation.

Convert your house to the home of your dreams with modern electric heat.

"The operating cost of our electric heating system is guaranteed in writing," says Cecil Hanes of Orchard Lake.

Multiples
Hit High
In 1968

Multiple housing is fast becoming the major construction activity in the Detroit metropolitan area, according to a 1968 building report issued this past week by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SMCOG).

Single family homes, according to the report, reached an all-time low, during the past 17 years, with only 13,494 units authorized. Multiples, on the other hand, reached a new high of 14,020 units.

Since 1961, permits for multiples compared to total permits have gone from 8.3 percent to a whopping 50.7 percent in 1968.

While none of the communities in this general area are among the top 10 in construction of multiples, Northville Township is listed as fifth in Wayne County — behind Riverview, Taylor, Westland and Detroit — with a total of 293 units authorized in 1968.

According to the SEMCOG report, 78 single family units, 293 multiple-family units, and one demolition permit as issued in Northville Township for a total of 370 units.

In the City of Northville, on the other hand, only 13 single family and six multiple-family unit permits were authorized.

Leading construction in Livingston County was Hamburg Township where 104 single family units and 29 multiple-family units were authorized. Green Oak Township authorized 81 single-family but no multiple-family units.

In the City of Brighton, nine single family and no multiple family units were authorized, while in Brighton Township the figures were 65 and four.

A total of 136 units were authorized in Novi — including all single family units — but this total was far from the top in Oakland County. Lyon Township accounted for 70 single family units and four multiple family units, while the City of South Lyon showed 58 single family units but no multiples.

Neither Wixom nor Walled Lake authorized any multiples, according to the report, but 22 single family units went up in Wixom and three in Walled Lake.

In Washtenaw County a total of 27 units — all single family units — were authorized in Northfield Township, while 25 single family units but no multiples were given the go ahead signal in Salem Township.

Total county figures show that 30 more new dwelling units were issued in Wayne County during 1968 than in 1967; Oakland County showed a reduction of 2,201 (19.3 percent); Washtenaw was down by 526 units (17.4 percent); and Livingston showed an increase of 162 units (22.5 percent).

Highway Plan Told

Alternative highway and rapid transit systems to be tested with a preliminary land use plan for Southeast Michigan have been announced by Irving J. Rubin, director of TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study).

Two alternative highway networks and two alternative public transportation systems will be tested, he said.

Background data, projections, plan alternatives are coordinated in computer runs to produce answers revealing how the alternative proposals would work so TALUS' analysts can modify the preliminary plans to best meet future needs, he explained.

The alternatives are designed to provide minimum and maximum service potential for each system. The highway alternatives assume completion by 1975 of 550.3 miles of freeway in the TALUS region, about 140 miles more than was completed in 1965.
