Detroit Council President Ed Carey this week tossed a monkey wrench into the controversial plan to sell Maybury Sanitorium and stirred up an even greater hornet's nest.

It was Carey who earlier joined with fellow Detroit councilmen in axing Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's budget proposal and in substituting one of their own that called for the sale of Maybury for $3 million to balance the

This week Carey asked the council to support a State Senate bill that would lease the Detroit-owned Maybury property, located in Northville Township, to the state for a juvenile detention home.

His latest stand triggered a dispute on the Detroit council, with some officials voicing opposition to the Locally, officials were caught by surprise. Convinced the property would be sold and fearful that it might end up in the hands of a low-cost housing developer, local officials have been negotiating for purchase of all or part of the 900 acres through the Northville Economic Development Corporation.

Said Superintendent Raymond Sp '71'; "It's disturbing... a complete switch from his earlier position."

"We're already institutionalized to a point that it hurts our school district tax-wise," said School Superintendent Stanley Johnston. "Making it a detention home means we wouldn't have the children that a big subdivision would produce but it would hurt any other good tax-producing plan that

Despite Assessment Protests

City Sticks to Paving Plans

In general, it was the council against citizens Monday night in a meeting sparked by lively debate on rezoning and special assessments.

Despite citizen protests, the

- rezoned the southwest corner of proceeded with plans for paving North Center street from South Ely drive north to the city limits;

- approved plans for going ahead with the paving of Hill street from Center to Novi street.

The rezoning to permit construction of a Marathon service station at Allen drive and Novi road, an action contrary to the recommendation of the planning commission, was taken after the petitioner agreed to certain protective covenants for the property. These included the proposal that the area west of the station, next to Village Green subdivision, be developed for a professional building; and that no car wash, trailer rental or leasing service be permitted on the station site.

Paul Vernon, president of the

citizen subdivision association, emphasized that his group still opposed the rezoning. "We agree with the planning commission. It is not a good place for a service station", he stated. But only Councilman Kenneth Rathert voted against the rezoning. He said that the existing commercial zoning permitted the owners to use the site for other development and that turning down the service station did not deprive them of selling the land for profitable use.

Other councilmembers did not agree, however. As Councilman Paul Folino summed up, "rezoning with protective covenants is better than allowing some other business without these protections". The vote was 4-1 with Mayor A. M. Allen, and Councilmen Wallace Nichols, Charles Lapham and Folino voting "yes".

The special assessments to improve Center and Hill streets sparked lengthy discussion. For awhile it appeared that Councilman Rathert might again oppose his fellow members. He suggested that a 50-50 assessment, instead of 75 per cent, might be more equitable. His comment drew audience applause, but later he succumbed to the council majority as Mayor Allen, and Councilmen Lapham and Nichols argued strongly for maintaining the 75-25 per cent formula.

Councilman Folino said he has always been opposed to assessments. He said he thought that all "old city" streets should be paved entirely out of general funds until complete and then assessments introduced.

This triggered Mayor Allen. He recapped the history of assessments in the city of Northville and stated that he could not "in good conscience" reduce the assessment. He warned Folino that properties, not people, were being assessed and that many newcomers live on "old city" streets Continued on Page 14-A

Rick Finds Pro Ball Tour Tough Without Food, Pay

Just about every boy has shared Rick Trudeau's dream - the hope of making baseball a career.

But few people have the ability of a Rick Trudeau, a Walled Lake resident and former Novi High School teacher. And few make it playing for a livelihood the game they've practiced so long as youngsters.

Rick Trudeau made it and eventually had an opportunity to join what appeared to be a unique globetrotting league with the salaries and adventure just too much to turn down.

But then the sky fell in with Trudeau and the other members of the league stranded in South America and the administration reportedly on the edge of bankruptcy.

And now the 23-year-old Trudeau, a husband and father besides, is finally home and happy to be there except now he must start all over trying to realize The Dream or he must choose to abandon it.

"That's really all I've ever wanted to do = play baseball, the broad-shouldered athlete recalls sitting on the patio of a comfortable Walled Lake home and looking off towards neighboring yards where youngsters play ball with a passion similar to his years ago. "When I was in the minors and with the Global Baseball League, it really wasn't like work at all - and yet I was getting paid for it.

"But now I don't know," he adds. "Twenty-three is pretty old to be starting a career when you usually average three or four years in the minors before you make it."

And, of course, if you make it but for a guy like Rick Trudeau, a natural boy-next-door type, you don't play a game so long and so well without thinking you can make it.

A three-sport star at Walled Lake, he entered Western Michigan University in 1964 and proceeded to play baseball and football for the Broncos becoming a regular in both sports.

He was switched from shortstop where he starred in high school to third base at Western and he made the transition well enough to win all-mid-American Conference honors his senior year.

Trudeau was a quarterback with Coach Bill Doolittle's Broncos but there were other quarterbacks so the mentor moved the youngster to safety - the spot where a player must make the big play or often see his failures directly reflected on the scoreboard.

Rick made it at safety but he was looking towards a baseball future when he signed with Cleveland's farm at Rock Hill (S.C.) of the Class A Western Carolina League. He completed a satisfactory season there before returning in the fall to teach science and bookkeeping at Novi High School.

And then late this winter, he was approached by Evansville's Walt Dilbeck, the son of a prosperous property speculator who had chosen to spend much of his father's fortunes on sports - particularly baseball.

The board granted Ross B. Northrop a 30-day delay before acting on another denial by the planning commission for multiple zoning at Brooklane golf course, Sheldon near Six Mile.

Boatin appeared to defend his request, but later stated that he would probably build two single family houses on the parcel if proper frontage on the two streets can be accomplished.

The board also approved changing the name of Canterbury court in Northville Colony Estates on Bradner road to Nottingwood court, because of the name "Canterbury street" already in existence in the city. Two residents of the new development appeared to seek retention of the name, but Trustee Bernard Baldwin pointed out that the name-change request had come from the fire department because of possible confusion and possible delay in answering calls.

Prize Trotter Killed In Track Accident A popular six-year-old trotter heralded earlier this year as one of the state's finest was killed near Northville Downs on Monday after running out of control and crashing into a stopped pick-up truck.

Scotty-R, owned by D. R. Bidwell 1465 Ross Street, Plymouth was reported as dead at the scene on Sheldon Road (Center Street) near West Seven Mile Road.

The trotter reportedly was being jogged by a trainer when his rig was struck by another colt knocking the trainer to the ground. According to Bidwell, the horse then spooked, circling the track and running out the southwest exit-way towards the barns.

trotter couldn't stop on the pavement and skidded into a pick-up truck driven by Charles Fisher, 62, of Clermont Harbor, Mississippi.

The truck, southbound on Sheldon, was at a standstill, according to Northville Police.

Scotty-R was a popular horse at the Downs running to honors as one of the state's best two-year-olds in 1965. He then slumped with trainer Terry Buter having worked with him and returning him to form with Horseman's Magazine having featured him recently in an article which predicted he would be one of the better trotters in Michigan this season.

NOVI SCHOOL BOARD approved general plans for a $2.8 million middle school last week and decided to ask voters to approve or disapprove a bonding issue next fall covering the proposed new school as well as a new elementary school. Both facilities are to be built on the 80-acre site at Taft and 11 Mile roads where Novi High School is located. The total bonding package, which includes money for purchase of future school sites, of $4,475,000. Presently, Novi has a high school (serving also as a junior high) and two elementary schools.

BETTORS SET a record Saturday night at Northville Downs. They wagered $454,295, topping the previous single-night mutuel handle high set at the 21-year-old harness track ($451,274) on July 6, 1968. Through last Saturday attendance is down slightly compared to the same period last year, 68,276 fans against 69,021. But betting's up 6.5 per cent. Total mutuel handle to date is $5,387,810, an average of $336,738 nightly. The track averaged $316,060 over the same period last year.

The city council adopted a resolution opposing a bill recently passed by the State Senate that would provide compulsory arbitration where salary agreement for police and fire departments cannot be reached by negotiation. City Manager Frank Ollendorff strongly opposes the measure "because it removes the responsibility of determining the police budget from the citizen-elected council and places it in the hands of a body responsible to no one". The act provides for a three-member arbitration board - one member chosen by the council, one by the fire-police department and one mutually chosen. If the third-member choice cannot be resolved, the state makes the appointment. The bill will almost certainly pass the House (it did last year, but failed in the Senate). The council's resolution will go to area state representatives and the Governor, who will be asked to veto the bill if it passes.

IT WOULD APPEAR that the township board is more inclined to agree to action taken by its planning commission than the city council with its appointed planners. Last week, for example, the township board upheld planning commission denials on two rezonings for multiples: one by Smokler on Bradner near Franklin, and another for a tri-plex unit at First and Meade streets.

MEANWHILE, the city council has reversed its planning commission on nearly every appeal made since it was decided that denials by the planning commission should go to the council before being taken to court. For example: Marathon's rezoning at Allen Drive and Novi Road, Pure Oil's request at Main and Wing (still in court but offered a compromise by the council), and the Donald Ware request for rezoning to permit construction of two duplex units on the west side of Rogers between Main and Dunlap. The council has promised to consider still another reversal (for multiple units on North Center across from high school property) after the applicant provides better plans.

Dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital was Mrs. Helen Buszka of 575 Fairbrook, mother of Mrs. Roy Mattison, a Northville Township bookkeeper.

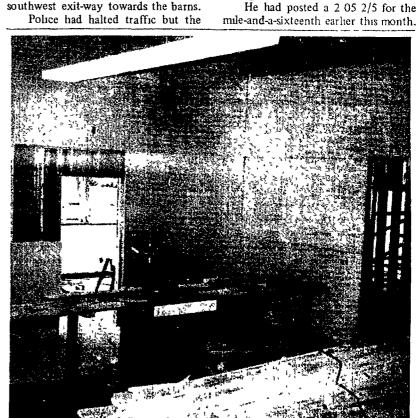

George Buszka of Livonia, driver of the car and son of the victim, was hospitalized but was reported in fair condition Tuesday at St. Mary Hospital. The driver's wife and two children, also passengers in the car, were treated and released.

According to Livonia police, Buszka was driving west on Seven Mile Road returning his mother to Northville when Colin Miller of Detroit apparently lost control of his car and crossed the center line into the path of Buszka's car.

Miller also was injured and he, too, was hospitalized and reported in fair condition Tuesday.

Meeting Cancelled

Next Monday's regularly scheduled special meeting of the Northville Board of Education has been cancelled. The board will not convene again until its regular meeting on July 14.

THREE TIMES 'N OUT? Remodeling of the cafeteria side of the former community building (where The Cavern clubroom was located) is proceeding rapidly, with completion of the new school administrative offices slated for July 7. Remodeling of the stage into a board of education meeting room is not expected to be finished until fall. Next month's move of the administrative offices will represent the third such move in recent years. The offices had been located in Main Street Elementary School, moved to the old library building, and from there to the present location in the old junior high school building. Plans to use the old junior high for sixth grade classes next fall forced the latest move.

'Oldest Home' Tour Holds Special Thrill for Webbers

Free Lunches Offered Needy

Northville School District has entered into an agreement with the National School Lunch Program for the continuation of free lunches for children from needy families next fall.

Under terms of the agreement, persons who feel they qualify may apply to Business Manager Earl Busard.

Criteria for determining eligibility

Either an emergency short-term situation, or families who can demonstrate their eligibility for participation in the government's Food Stamp or Food Distribution Program.

According to Busard, the participating children are known only to the school principal to prevent any embarrassment that might result among children, "Participating children," he explained, "are given sufficient money at the beginning of the week to pay for their lunches throughout the week, so no one is aware who is receiving lunches free."

Pink roses and white figi mums sparked the candlelight ceremony in which Almeter Susan Reinhackel and Robert Alan Miller were united in marriage. The couple were married Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth Presbyterian Church with Reverend (a) Lloyd Brasure officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reinhackel, 315 East Cady. She was given in marriage by her father. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller of Stonecrest Court in Plymouth.

Candlelight peau de soie and lace were used to fashion the bride's floor-length wedding gown. The dress featured an empire waist with a bodice and attached train made of lace. A full, floor-length veil was held in place by a Camelot headpiece. The colonial bridal bouquet was formed from pink roses and baby's breath.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. George (Paula) Cooper. She, along with bridesmaid Sherry Mills, wore a floor-length dress of lime green ottomann. The gowns had an empire waist and long sleeves, highlighted by a cowl collar and a satin bow in back. They carried colonial bouquets of white button mums with artificial daisies dyed to match their dresses. More lime green daisies were woven into the crowns of matching picture

Jet Crash Victim Picks Air Force

Northville Disaster Recalled

David King, who a decade ago was seriously burned when a jet plane crashed near his backyard on South Rogers Street, has chosen a career for himself - the United States Air Force.

Son of the former Northville police chief and his wife, Mr. and David King Today.

David was graduated with honors recently from Roosevelt Military Academy in Aledo, Illinois.

He left Monday to begin an enlistment in the Air Force. He will train at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas, for an opening in the air police intelligence corps.

Cadet King was awarded the coveted Jack Meyers Memorial Award, given at Roosevelt in memory of Alumnus Jack Meyers of the Class of 1941. It is presented to the senior cadet who best represents the ideals of honor, efficiency and faithful service for cadets at the academy.

The former Northville youth also was presented awards for excellence in military, athletics, concert band and crack squad competition. He was promoted to the rank of cadet master sergeant by Colonel Glenn G. Milliken, superintendent of the academy.

Northville residents will recall that it was David and his younger sister, Elizabeth, who were burned and hospitalized when a jet, roaring out of control, circled the city and then nose-dived into a small garden behind the homes at the northeast

At the time nine-year-old David was hailed as a hero because rather than running from the scene, he helped his sister whose foot was caught in a hole near the King fenceline. He might have escaped serious burns if he had fled immediately. The pilot of the plane parachuted to safety. He was a frequent visitor of the two King youngsters, giving David a treasured model of a jet plane. So despite the backyard disaster and the painful burns that required years of medication, David grew up to love the Air Force.

David's father is now the village manager of Almont. He and his family live at 4730 Howland Road.

New Golf Course Opens in Lyon course - and what a course!

Godwin Glen, located on Johns Road near the Eleven Mile Road intersection, officially opened for play this past week. Nearly 7,000 yards of challenging 18-hole play are offered for duffers and accomplished golfers alike.

Horace Godwin, owner, says the 257-acre project will take another three years to complete to his satisfaction including replacing present holes

Lyon Township finally has a golf number 14, 15, and 18 with new ones surrounding a large lake which will border all three fairways and even encroach upon 15.

> trees, competitive dog-legs and sandtraps are offered. Four par-five holes are listed -

Many lakes and ponds, plenty of each over 500 yards in length -- on this par 36-36-72 course. Number 12 is the longest, measuring 560 yards, but six (535 yards), two (520 and 15 (505) aren't much shorter.

Godwin was also the developer of Salem's challenging course on Six Mile Road. Robert Szilogi will serve as manager of both Salem and the new Lyon Township course.

While Salem Hills is considered one of the finest public courses in the state, both Godwin and Szilogi believe Godwin Glen will be even better and more competitive. It has more trees, streams, lakes and ponds and is considered a more difficult course.

One building is presently located on the course. It serves temporarily as the pro shop and cart rental center (no clubs are available for rent as yet) until nearby clubhouse and maintenance buildings are completed.

Like Salem Hills, Godwin Glen features wide, open fairways that offer a challenge for the long-ball hitter.

Hole number two is significantly different, however. The fairway runs along a woods on the south end of the course for 520 yards with practically to rough between the fairway and the out-of-bounds.

Number three, second shortest on the course at 175 yards, also is bounded on the south by woods and has sand traps near the green.

Four drives off a high tee, over a stream and up onto a high green. It is 305 yards long.

The fifth fairway throws a challenge all its own at the unwary golfer. Its 380 yard distance is complicated at about the distance of a good drive as it makes a narrow dog-leg left around a pond hazard.

Number six is a challenging dog-leg left with a blind, downhill green which is placed just past the stream that crosses four and eight.

Seven is one of the course's short par three holes (three-175 yards, 17-170 yards and 14-200 yards are the others), a 215-yard uphill blast.

Eight appears to be long and beautiful - and it is - but that stream cannot be seen from the tee and the fairway makes a slight left dog-leg and passes a lake along its north (left) margin.

Nine crosses a drainage ditch which is hidden by the hill from which the golfer tees off and has the lake along eight's north side, forming its western boundary for a distance. The second shot must travel steeply uphill and a hillside lie makes the green a blind shot.

SPEAKING

for The Record

For more than a dozen years I've been covering meetings in the Northville-Novi-Wixom area: the Northville city council on a regular basis; usually the township board; sometimes the school board; and infrequently, Novi and Wixom sessions.

Now Jack Hoffman, the guy who really keeps the news humming through the typesetting machines, tells me that my services as a reporter won't be needed on a regular basis anymore.

"Stick around", he cautioned. "We might need you to fill-in during vacations or when somebody's sick".

So far as the news' department is concerned, I'm beginning to feel as wanted as a mother-in-law on a honeymoon.

But when I take a look at my desk, slowly disappearing under a mountain of paperwork details that eat away the time of every small businessman, I realize that for the present at least I won't miss the meeting assignments.

As I give up my role as a "starter" to become a substitute, however, I cannot help but recall many things - personalities, achievements, failures, dreams, etc., that make up the character of public bodies.

There was the night — one of my first in Northville — when Sid Frid, a professional at needling councils, finally aggravated the late Mayor Pete Ely into calling for Police Chief Joe Denton to eject Frid from the council chambers.

But the beloved-Joe had leg trouble and couldn't get down the stairs of the old city hall fast enough. By the time he arrived Pete and Sid had made up.

And there were the early township board meetings when Mrs. Mollie Lawrence was supervisor. She was sweet and brief. A reporter had to really dig to get a story out of a township meeting. Usually, an hour was considered a long session and nobody ever heard of seeking rezoning for multiples. Most of the township land was zoned for agriculture. A motion to adjourn was always in order.

There was the introduction of city manager form of government in Northville. John Robertson was the first manager and Northville was his first city to manage.

Frequently, there was some question as to who was managing what. I still remember Robertson's frustration at learning that it was common practice for city employees and city equipment to be used to grade a drive-way or perform other chores for certain preferred citizens on their private property.

Eventually, Robertson decided to throw away the textbook on managing and gain community respect for the office of city manager. He did and I still believe his actions with the aid of certain councilmembers are responsible for this form of government achieving success in Northville.

Meanwhile, you could always count on Novi for a good story. Charley Trickey and his gang had weekly scraps with Supervisor Frazer Staman. Charley's still active in GOP politics around Tecumseh, but having more fun hitting golf balls at Tecumseh CC. And Staman is serving on the Oakland County Road Commission and selling insurance.

One of the Trickey cohorts was Hadley Bachert, who finally became Novi Supervisor, until the village recently incorporated into a city. And I still can't forget the fierceness of those feelings personified by Bachert's vote last year against Staman as a road commissioner – the only negative voted recorded in Oakland county and coming from the nominee's home community.

And during all this in-fighting in Novi a few fellows in Wixom were silently casting envious eyes on the Ford plant being constructed on their borders in Novi.

There were the Abrams brothers, Joe Stadnik and Ray Lahti, among others. They tied a ribbon around the industrial complex and pulled the tax plum right out of Novi into the new city of Wixom.

It would be impossible for any observer (even a non-egotist) covering 1,200 meetings not to imagine that he had gained some insight into community problems – that he knew some solutions.

In my mind the key to the future success of our community rests in the hands of those individuals who have become involved in local affairs.

Once they become informed they cannot allow their interests to be so narrowly focused that they do not recognize what is best for the total community in the future.

The taxpayer cannot afford the continued construction of individual bailiwicks of influence, duplication of services, disregard for cooperation and communication.

Plainly stated, we must work together and not think alone in terms of "what is it going to cost me if we do this?" More important is the question, "what is it going to cost my community if we DON'T do this?"

And a reporter can bleed inside sitting at countless meetings hearing a township official give his version of a city request to his board - or vice versa - when the reporter knows full well that just an inflection in the voice, or a slight twist in the explanation, can change the intention entirely. And, incidentally, add fuel to a fire that won't be permitted to die.

I've heard denials to this charge. But if I've never reported one fact accurately, it is that the future welfare of this community is being undermined by self-seekers wearing blinders who refuse to honestly and objectively weigh all alternatives.

An exceptional opportunity presents itself today for total community cooperation in the acquisition of the Maybury property. An outstanding fete could be achieved, answering problems that await us in the future before they occur.

I'm extremely pessimistic at the prospects. It's time I became a substitute reporter.

Put in someone with a fresh outlook, Jack.

Manager's Job Safe

To the Editor:

It would appear that there is a need to clarify the employment situation of Mr. Harold Ackley with the City of Novi. Contrary to the report printed in the Novi News on June 12, 1969, Mr. Ackley is not in danger of losing his job with the City of Novi. It is the intent and hope of the council that Mr. Ackley will remain with the city.

At the present time, however, the city finds itself in the position of having a one-man administration. Mr. Ackley is carrying out the duties of city manager as well as acting as manager of the highway, water, sewer and assessing departments, and in addition doing electrical and heating inspections. Under the present conditions, these duties would occupy the full time of at least three men.

A man in good health could not carry this size work-load. Mr. Ackley has suffered one heart-attack in recent years; and it would not be reasonable to expect him to continue to carry out all of his present duties without help.

In order to correct this situation. Council has decided to advertise for three positions: City manager, assessor and highway department superintendent. Mr. Ackley is free to ask to be considered for any of these positions. It is the intent of council to bring in new personnel and to have the benefit of Mr. Ackley's help during the coming years in acquainting these new people with the conditions and methods, of operation and the required planning for the future needs of the

Oppose House Variance

A meeting was held Monday, June 16, at the Township Hall to review a request by Donald Thomson to move a 729-square foot house now located at Choo Choo Car Wash to a residential lot on Frederick Street. This areavis currently zoned R-1 which requires a 1650 square-foot minimum on all new homes. Home construction, on Frederick Street, in the past three years has met and excreded these requirements which reflect a considerable investment as well as a deterent to blighted residential area.

Although the question of sub-standard building on the lot has previously been before the board and currently all residents of the area in question object to this variance, it would appear that the township would still consider a variance a valid request. The property owners on Frederick Street request your support in defeating a proposal which can only lower the appeal of Northville Township as a place to live and build.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper welcomes letters to the editor. We ask that they be received at this office by Monday noon for publication the same week and that they be limited to 500 words. All letters must contain the signatures of the writer, but names will be withheld on request. This newspaper reserves the right to edit letters for brevity and to avoid profanity or libelous statements.

A second meeting will be held Monday, June 23, at 8 p.m. at the Township Hall, to review revised drawings of a proposed remodeling by Mr. Thomson which is designed to make, the home as presentable as those constructed in the late 1940's and early 1950's; but will still place the home below R-1 codes. Since this area is zoned, comparable to any other respectable area, the question to you is: "Do you want this process to affect you? And it will if this is allowed to happen." We feel Northville Township residents have a right to know that an R-1 zoned area will not protect their investment if variances are allowed for people who do not intend to reside in the proposed home.

Grads Express Party Thanks

To The Editor:

The Northville High School class of 1969 would like to extend the sincerest thank you to all the parents who made the Graduation night party the complete success it was. We would like to offer our deepest appreciation for all the work the adults put into the planning and construction of the party. The food, entertainment and decorations were tremendous and made the party what was surely the best yet.

Accommodations in Florida were first class with Johnny Mize in camp as manager along with coaches Enos Slaughter and Ed Rakow and player-coach Stu Miller - a group of prominent ex-Major Leaguers in whose company any aspiring athlete would like to feel comfortable.

But just before the league departed for the Dominican Republic, the likeable Miller announced he was leaving and he advised the others to do likewise because of reports that Dilbeck was getting in financially over his head.

Living in the plush accommodations of a Holiday Inn and excited by the thought of world travel, few of the players - the majority of which were between 19 and 24-years-old - followed Miller's advice, feeling that they were on the threshold of their big opportunity.

"Everyone liked Stu real well but things looked pretty good right then so we stuck it out," Trudeau recalls.

The events which followed during the next month, however, proved to be nightmarish with teams stranded in one country after another, not playing baseball regularly and, almost worse yet, not eating regularly with overdue salaries always promised for the next

The league's activity was hampered in the Dominican Republic because of the anniversary of the revolt four years ago which included participation by U.S Marines.

"We played three games on three days in a row but the crowds in Santo Domingo were real bad," Trudeau explains. "I guess the people were staying away because of the role our forces had played in the revolution."

And so a baseball league, unable to play baseball, was forced to spend its days and nights mostly doing nothing and - with pay being held up ~ nothing to do with.

After 22 days and with the innkeeper breathing down their necks, Dilbeck finally came through with a check to cover the hotel bill allowing the league to leave for Venezuela where they learned that the check in Santo Domingo had bounced.

Accommodations in Caracas, Venezuela were unbelievably bad although things were generally getting so bad that nothing was unbelievable.

Players went for days without eating and then were faced with stale rolls and cheese or improperly-cooked rice and chicken served from the kindness of a native's heart. Down to his last razor blade, Rick shaved just a portion of his face while he and his teammate would exchange haircuts using finger-nail clippers.

"It was really unbelievable and yet when we'd go to an American Embassy, they wouldn't help us, leaving us with no money and unable to speak the language in a foreign country with no place to go," he says. "And we just kept waiting and waiting for our pay which never came."

Trudeau's parents sent him $190 for air fare earlier this month with his departure from Venezuela - and apparently Global Baseball, too - on his 23rd birthday.

Home and looking forward to getting his release from the league, Trudeau now hopes to get a job this summer and play in a Pontiac recreation league. Then in the fall he would like to complete his student teaching and get his certificate so that he can return to a more normal life with his young family.

"There's a lot of opportunities around to teach and coach - a lot of opportunities," he observes looking off in the distance.

And then there's baseball, too, and for Rick Trudeau the time has come to re-evaluate a dream tarnished by a night mare.

The biggest summer program in history — expected to serve approximately 1,100 youngsters with activities ranging from baseball to a fishing derby – was launched this week by the Northville City-Township Recreation department with operations to reach full speed next week and continue through early August.

Recreation Director Robert Prom reports that the expanded program of activities will have a record number of participants this season, according to indications following registrations which were concluded Saturday.

"We've got more activities than ever," he observed, "and it appears we'll have between 1,100 and 1,200 participants - about 150 more than last year,"

Michigan's 17th All-Morgan Horse Show featuring more than 300 of the finest park and pleasure Morgan Horses in the country will be held in the Michigan State Fair Coliseum in Detroit, July 12 and 13.

Governor William G. Milliken has proclaimed July 12 and 13, as Justin Morgan Horse Days in Michigan.

This spectacular show will have 79 classes and $2,100 in prize money for 600 participants ranging in age from three to 60 years. Besides Michigan, entries will come from a dozen states and Canada.

Show times are Saturday at 8:00 a.m, 1:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. and Sunday at 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

"At the Michigan All-Morgan Show, the public can see the Morgan Horse in every possible competition including in hand, English, western and fine harness," commented David Batton, of South Lyon, President of the Justin Morgan Horse Association. "Morgan horses, as well as those of other fine breeds, have been increasing in popularity with thousands of people attending horse shows each week," Batton added.

The Morgan is the first all-American bred horse and was developed in this country in 1789 by Justin Morgan, a Vermont school teacher-farmer, from whom the breed derives its name.

Versatility is the prime feature of the strong but beautiful Morgans. For the past thirty years they have been the classic horses of the show ring in park and pleasure.

For the Morgan Show, Ed Earhart of Northville and Basil Hiner of Novi are co-chairmen. Tickets are on sale through Morgan Horse Association members, at Sears, the J. L. Hudson Ticket Centers, Grinnells, and through the General Motors Girl's Club.

Merchants Trim Plymouth To Boost League Record

A 7-3 victory Sunday by the Northville Merchants over neighboring Plymouth K of C allowed the local entry to boost its Stan Musial Baseball League record to 3-6 with two victories coming during the last four outings.

Coach Bill Primeau's squad was to play Livonia's Village Rambler on Monday and Hubert Realty of Livonia yesterday before meeting Plymouth again Sunday in a contest to begin at 3.30 p.m. at Haggerty Field.

Also, the Merchants are scheduled to meet defending champion Redford Township next Monday beginning at 6 p.m. at Henry Ford Field.

The Merchants capitalized on a streak of wildness Sunday by a delegation of Plymouth hurlers which, after loading the bases, proceeded to walk in four runs. John Jameson then singled a run across to boost the local team's margin to 7-2 - more than K of C could overcome in the remaining two Plymouth had tallied twice in the opening inning to take an early lead with the Merchants tying the score in the second on the strength of Ed Kliss' two-run single.

Tim Nuoffer, just home from a stint in the Army, was the winning pitcher.

The victory Sunday followed two losses earlier in the week as league-leading Hubert handed the Merchants their sixth loss Thursday, 5-1, after Redford had beaten them 5-2 on Wednesday. The home team on Tuesday of last week had claimed its second victory, 8-5, beating Rambler.

Hubert's Mark Coryell hurled a one-hitter at the Merchants on Thursday and scored three unearned runs after two were out in the third when an outfielder dropped a fly ball with the bases loaded. Ex-Plymouth athlete Mike Kisdeth went the distance on the mound for the local team giving up eight hits and two earned runs.

Dennis Primeau's fifth-inning single was the only safety off Coryell.

Redford got off to a fast start on Wednesday of last week scoring five times in the second frame and then holding the Merchants to two runs.

University of Michigan pitcher Tom Flazer went the route on the mound for the winners giving up four hits. Phil Putalski pitched for the Merchants and allowed six safeties.

Redford combined a three-base error and five hits for its rally in the fifth. Primeau's two-run single accounted for all of the Merchants

The local team edged Rambler, ex-Northville football star Jerry Insland, now a regular at U-M, accounting for three RBI's. Bob Chidester, a sophomore at Central Michigan University, worked 6 2/3 innings for the Merchants and was credited with the victory after being relieved in the seventh by Kisdeth.

Wayne State's Terry Cupples, pitching for Rambler, suffered the loss. Roy Tippedeau doubled to lead the Merchant attack.

Reef Sweeps Pair To Open '69 Season

Reef Manufacturing, the local entry in the Free Press League, got its 1969 summer baseball season off to an impressive start sweeping a doubleheader Sunday from Wayne Nankin Interns with two one-run victories at the high school field.

Coach Dick Willing's squad scored all its runs in the sixth inning to win the opener, 3-2, and then claimed the nightcap, 1-0, on the strength of a combined three-hit pitching performance by Jeff Gillespie and Fred Holsworth.

The contest was the first action of the summer season for both teams. Willing planned to use Gillespie vesterday against defending champion Redford.

Nankin, on the strength of single runs scored in the fourth and fifth frames, led the home team 2-0 entering the sixth when Reef combined three singles and a walk for three runs.

Jeff Taylor, who went the route on the mound for manufacturers, then blanked the visitors in the top of the seventh for the victory. Taylor allowed five hits for the contest while striking out nine and walking none.

Reef's three-run sixth started as Holsworth led off with a walk followed by Steve Utley's single. Nankin returned the next two batters with the runners moving up to second and third preceding Terry Mills' two-run single.

Doug Anglin later singled Mills home from second for the deciding Taylor, Anglin and Utley each had a pair of singles in the opener.

The second game was scoreless entering the fourth inning when Reef tallied the lone run as Taylor scored on Rich Adams' single. Holsworth, who had relieved Gillespie in the third, blanked Nankin the remainder of the contest allowing the sweep.

Taylor also hit safely twice in the nightcap while Holsworth swatted a double for the only extra base hit.

Novi City-Township Meeting Sought is planning to schedule a meeting with representatives of the newly-organized Novi Township as soon as possible in order to divide assets and assume responsibility in a number of pending

The mayor was advised to press for the meeting with the township upon the legal advice of City Attorney Howard Bond and by request from the Council Monday. Bond explained that a court order has been filed prohibiting any expenditures by Novi Township with the exception of meeting library salaries - until a division of assets.

A majority of Novi Township recently became incorporated into the newly-created City of Novi with eight parcels, scattered throughout the original township, deciding against incorporation and acting to re-organize the township.

Bond explained that once assets are determined for the two governments, they can proceed to pay their proportionate share of pending debts and plan future operations on the

The attorney emphasized that state law requires a settlement within 30 days of re-alignment - a period which concluded Saturday. Bond, the victim of a recent traffic accident, has been unable to advise on the matter due to frequent hospitalization.

"It just seems to me there should be a policy meeting very shortly so that we don't have to do these things piece-meal," he observed. "I do know that if we held this meeting this very minute, there would be things that take time to complete legally."

Bond proposed that he, the mayor and City Manager Harold Ackley meet with Supervisor Leo Kalota and the township's legal counsel in order to create a policy for pending expenditures and divide assets.

Mayor Crupi, who previously had appointed Councilman David Harrison and Councilman William O'Brien to serve with him to resolve the issue, asked that the councilmen assume advisory roles with the city to proceed as Bond proposed.

City Plans Paving

Continued from Page 1-A and longtime residents on "new city" streets. He further argued that the 75 per cent assessment "makes it somewhere near equitable with the many residents who have had to pay 100 per cent of the cost of their streets in new developments".

The mayor and Councilman Nichols also pointed out that assessments are actually closer to 50 per cent after the city picks up paving costs at intersections and bases the cost of the total improvement on asphalt paving, rather than concrete, which will be used on Center street.

Still, nearly all residents of North Center street opposed the assessment,

Party Cost Still Unpaid

The Northville Senior All-Night Party, which was such a huge social success on graduation night, is in danger of being a financial disaster.

The Financial Committee reports that although the party was attended and enjoyed by almost all of the seniors, many parents have neglected to make a contribution.

Parents still wishing to give toward the party cost may do so by sending a check for $4 (or any contribution), payable to Northville High School Senior Class Party Fund. Checks should be sent to Mrs. Robert Taylor, 43500 Cottisford, Northville, Michigan or any committee member.

if not the improvement itself, Most Hill street residents felt the same - except two property owners, including ex-Councilman Del Black. He said he felt the street needed paving and that the 75 per cent assessment was fair.

After hearing objections for more than an hour, the council voted unanimously in both cases to set another public hearing, probably July 15, to permit examination of estimated total cost and individual property assessments.

On Center street the council decided to base the assessment on a 30-foot-wide asphalt road (the same as most subdivisions) payable over 10 years at six per cent interest. Actually, the proposed improvement calls for installation of concrete, 31-feet from curb to curb.

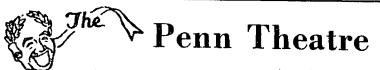

Hill street will be reduced to 27-feet, an asphalt installation with concrete curbs and gutters. The width was reduced to avoid costly rebuilding of a retaining wall and loss of trees and shrubs.

In other business the council set a public hearing on CBD zoning in the 40-lot center area of the business district as recommended by the planning commission.

It was agreed that a hearing on CBP zoning, as yet not approved by the planners, will be held at a later date but that no decision on either CBD or CBP zoning will be made until both public hearings have been held.

A resolution was approved petitioning the state department of agriculture to establish an inter-county drain study with the city of Novi to determine the proper method of handling drainage from some 1100 acres northwest of the city and in Novi. The Novi council has agreed to go along with the study, which will be directed by state authorities. The township of Northville will be asked to join the project, although only two communities are needed to set up such an authority. It was noted that only about 20 acres of the area are in Northville township.

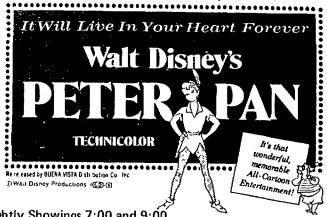

Approval to seek bids on installation of a decceleration lane for motorists turning off Novi road into Allen drive was also given.

Baldwin, Joseph Straub and Clerk Eleanor Hammond voted against purchase of a walkie-talkie radio, estimated at either $670 or $850, depending upon make. The request came from Township Officer Ron Nisun.

Trustee Mitchell explained the unit was needed in case the officer was out of his car and needed help.

Trustees Armstrong and Baldwin had already found fault with approving bills concerning the police officer. Armstrong refused to approve either his pay or retroactive pay (to April 13 at a rate of $9,500). Baldwin said he'd vote for the pay, as approved by the board majority, but voted against the retroactive portion "because I think it's improper".

Armstrong charged that 'the $9,500 dog catcher just went over $10,000. Next he'll want another unit and another man to answer at a station".

The board tabled action on a request from Levitt and Sons for a payback arrangement for installation of a sanitary sewer from a proposed development site on Seven Mile road to the Middle Rouge interceptor on Northville road.

The township's water and sewer commission had recommended an arrangement whereby the developer would construct the line at an estimated cost of some $150,000 and receive a rebate of $60 per tap of the normal $400 tap charge for units built within its proposed development. The rebate credits would amount to an estimated $67,000, Engineer William Mosher said.

Treasurer Lawrence called the plan "a dangerous precedent". He said the developer should be responsible to construct his own off-site lines.'

It was noted by the engineer that the line would be constructed larger than needed for the Levitt development to serve other nearby

Supervisor Stromberg estimated that the Levitt taps would bring in some $444,000 in tap fee revenues. "If only $67,000 goes back to Levitt, that leaves us $375,000", he pointed out.

It was pointed tout that the pay-back proposal was not the same as the one approved for Dr. Gizynski along Seven Mile road. In this instance the pay-back would come from users along the route of the line, outside the development.

'Paper Towel' Decision Called Economy Measure

For All the Family...

a Summer Outfit

Recent action by the Northville Board of Education to use paper towels in place of standard cloth towels in the school system again next year "was strictly an economy measure," school officials emphasize.

Officials figure use of paper towels in shower rooms this past year saved the school district $14,000 to $17,000. A similar savings is expected to result again next year, officials said.

"It is quite evident that the continued use of paper towels is certainly not the most popular decision but ... in our opinion, any economy move that has proven to be workable

(not necessarily totally satisfactory) should not be discontinued at the expense of other aspects of the budget that directly affect the instructional program," said Business Manager Earl

The continuation of paper towel use was recommended by Busard and Superintendent Raymond Spear after weighing cost savings against disadvantages. Athletic Director Robert Kucher had recommended the return to cloth towels.

On Driving For July 4

Suppose during your 4th of July trip an oncoming car veers into your lane and hurtles toward you. Which two of the following four actions do you take?

- 1. Blow the horn.
- 2. Apply the brakes. 3. Steer as far right as
- 4. Switch to the lane the other car should be in.

In all but the rarest circumstances, moves 1 and 3 are best. The horn may wake the other driver up and a right steer is more likely to provide escape than braking or turning into the oncoming traffic lane.

TRUE-FALSE 1. In case of a blowout, take your foot off the accelerator immediately, then pump the brakes.

FALSE. Ease up on the gas gradually, not abruptly. Wait until the car slows naturally before braking gently.

2. If your car, heavily loaded for a trip, seems easier to steer than usual, your tires need more air. FALSE. You should move some of the heavier items farther forward. 3. It is sometimes better to steer toward an object in the road instead of trying to TRUE. If your choice in hitting a moving vehicle or a minor obstruction in the road such as a rock or animal, choose the latter. If the object is small enough, swerving to avoid it. 4. A light rain is often more dangerous to drivers than a heavy rain.

straddle it rather than TRUE. A light shower makes highways slicker than a heavy rain because road oil and grease "float" on the surface of the moisture. A downpour washes them away.

5. On turnpikes, rear-end collisions are the most frequent type of accident.

FALSE. Most turnpike accidents involve only one car. The statement is true for two-car accidents, however.

6. When an oncoming car fails to dim its lights, you should slow down and watch the right side of the road.

TRUE. If you look directly into the high beams of an oncoming car at night, your eyes won't recover completely from the glare for one full minute.

7. Most traffic accidents occur at night.

FALSE. About three out of four accidents happen in daylight, on dry roads, in clear weather. Most fatalities occur at night, however.

8. For better control on curves, slow down as you begin the turn and accelerate half way through FALSE. You should slow down well before you begin the curve and gradually accelerate about two thirds of the way through it.

9. When passing, you should not cut back until you can see the car you passed in your mirror.

TRUE. This is a handy way to gauge a safe distance.

10. In terms of traffic fatalities, the 4th of July is the most dangerous of the three warm weather holidays.

TRUE. So far.

See Record For Tourism

Michigan should have a record setting $1.35 billion tourism year, according to Fred Rehm, Automobile Club of Michigan's general manager.

Rehm points out that Michigan vacationers should spend at least $220 million above the estimated $1.1 billion spent last year. This is a 20 percent increase.
