IF IT'S NEWS...AND IT HAPPENS IN NORTHVILLE...YOU CAN READ IT IN THE RECORD

Vol. 100, No. 7, 22 Pages, Two Sections • Northville, Michigan — Thursday, June 26, 1969 • 15c Per Copy, $5 Per Year In Advance

DEFLATED somewhat by Northville Township Board's recent hiring of a full-time police officer prior to the recommendation of the township police study committee, the committee still plans to submit a formal study report and recommendation to the board. These are currently being written by E. O. Weber and Wilson Tyler for approval by the entire committee prior to submission to the board.

SITE PLAN approval has been given to Don Thomson for addition of two bays to his Choo Choo Car Wash on Northville road near Seven Mile. The plan, approved by township planners Tuesday night, also includes a laundromat on the south side of the car wash, where a house now stands. Boron plans to erect a station on the corner just north of the car wash.

PRELIMINARY DRAWINGS for proposed additions to four Northville schools — high school, junior high, Moraine and Amerman elementary schools — high school, junior high, Moraine and Amerman elementary schools — are expected to be completed for submission to the board of education next month, according to Superintendent Raymond Spear. Officials are planning a fall bonding election, to cover the proposed building program.

FOR THE SECOND Saturday night in a row Northville Downs set a new track betting record. Last Saturday the mutual handle hit $464,818, topping the week-old record by $11,500. Through the first 22 nights of racing the Downs is averaging $340,798 nightly, compared to $316,167 last year. Although betting is up, attendance is even with last year. Part of the reason could be the 17 nights of "cloudy, cold and rainy" weather the track has experienced thus far.

Senate Bill's Dead

Detention Home Out for Maybury

The balloon Detroit Councilman Ed Carey sent up last week in hopes of generating support for use of the 900-acre Maybury Sanatorium property for a juvenile detention home apparently was filled with air but little else.

A Senate bill that Carey suggested the council support had already died in committee and, for all practical purposes, is "a dead issue" at least until the next session of the State Legislature, The Record learned.

Introduced by Senator Raymond Dzendsel and co-sponsored by several other senators, Senate Bill 1068 was introduced on April 16 and referred to the Senate Committee on State Affairs where it failed to be reported out by the deadline. Also past is the deadline for reporting bills out of the house of origin.

Specifically, the bill referred to by Carey proposed to lease the Maybury property to the state for a juvenile facility — provided state investigation indicates use of the existing facilities are practical.

Detroit Controller Bernard Klein told The Record this week that the budget approved by the council "was a mandate." I think Councilman Carey is just having second thoughts on this and I'm afraid it's too late.

"Now we would have been willing to wait on the budget — to allow for more planning — but now it's mandatory that we receive those monies for the operation of the city during the coming year."

The Detroit council, led by Carey, had axed Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's proposed budget and substituted its own, incorporating the sale of Maybury in the budget as a means of gaining added revenue for the city. The council budget, since approved, can be balanced now only if Maybury is sold.

With the property on the selling block with a $3 million price tag, several large developers voiced interest in its purchase. Locally, officials — particularly members of the Northville School Board — fearing that the property might be developed entirely as housing, perhaps low-cost housing, began discussing the possibility of purchasing part or all of the property.

It has been suggested that the property be purchased jointly by the school district, and the city and township of Northville or through the Northville Economic Development Corporation. By purchasing it locally, controlled development of the

Seven Bands Slated For July 4 Parade

Music and colorful marching will be the order of the day when the Northville Jaycees kick off their annual Fourth of July Parade next week.

Not one, or two, three or even four bands — but at least seven units will step off for the parade to be held next week Friday morning, according to Jaycee Russ Anger.

In addition to the bands, including Northville's own marching high school band, the parade will feature at least 10 other marching units. These include:

Chief Pontiac Drill Team, Farmington Township Auxiliary Mounted Police, Swinging Sweethearts, Spinnerettes, Suburbanettes, Miracles, Pace Setters, Shirley's Sophisticates, Miss Millie School of Dance, and Loomis Battery of Michigan Artillery. Other bands will include the Optimist Band of Windsor, South Windsor Lions Club Band (including color guard and nine majorettes), Michigan Highlanders, Silver Chaparrels Drum & Fife Band of Sarnia, and the Chemical Valley Drum & Fife Band, also of Sarnia.

Immediately following the parade, the Jaycees will hold their always delicious chicken barbecue in the park behind the city hall. And, once again, free rides will be provided youngsters during the barbecue that will continue throughout the afternoon.

Capping the festivities will be the traditional fireworks display, unequalled in the state among cities of Northville's size.

The "Big Fourth" parade, which annually attracts thousands of spectators, "is going to be a beauty," said Anger. It will feature numerous participants such as the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, and a host of floats sponsored by individuals, businesses and organizations.

Again this year the Jaycee-sponsored float will carry the Northville Junior Miss and Little Miss queens.

Typical of the floats will be a restored covered wagon entered by John Mach Ford; an old "banana" truck and display entered by the Northville Historical Society, which incidentally also will sell flags during the day; and a joint effort by the Little League Football and Village Green associations.

Northville township planners recommended approval of proposed industrial and business zoning along Haggerty near Five and Six Mile roads Tuesday night, but denied a request for a public hearing to consider rezoning for a shopping center on Seven Mile road just east of Northville road.

Little discussion accompanied the Haggerty rezoning. A public hearing was held on the proposal May 14. About 80 citizens protested the rezoning that evening, including representatives of a subdivision association, church, public school and Schoolcraft college.

But the commission voted unanimously (Planner William Smith was absent) to recommend the rezoning to the township board. Specifically, Planner Bernard Baldwin noted that Livonia, Novi and Farmington have instituted similar zoning in the area, the site of new I-275 expressway. He said the zoning had been advocated in the township's master plan in 1966, but postponed only because residents in the area asked "why now" at that time. He said the township badly needs industrial sites for taxbase and that the expressway route is a logical place.

Specifically, the two proposed industrial sites are along the west side of Haggerty immediately north of Five Mile and Six Mile roads. The major portion of the area lies within the Plymouth school district.

A request for a public hearing made by Stewart Oldford, builder from Plymouth, caused the greatest stir Tuesday night. Oldford presented plans for construction of a 66,400 square-foot shopping center on the front 10 acres of a 30-acre parcel purchased from Mrs. Elsie Freydl.

Oldford's plan also called for construction of some 200 apartment units on the rear portion of the parcel. Presently, the site is zoned industrial. Oldford is seeking commercial and RM 2 (multiple) zoning.

But when it became apparent that planners frowned on more multiples in the area, especially high density (RM 2) development, Oldford modified his request to include only commercial zoning on the front 10 acres, leaving the rear zoned for industry.

Planners denied the public hearing mainly on the basis that such a rezoning would hurt the total 75-acre parcel now zoned for industry (which includes the 30-acre Freydl site), and that the township's potential industrial area would be further limited.

In answer to a question from Oldford concerning "where increasing residents of the Kings Mill and Levitt developments will shop", planners answered that they hoped the city would expand its shopping facilities to accommodate them. And, they noted, it is known that a major regional center will locate in the area, probably on the southwest corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty.

Oldford indicated he would appeal to the township board, which must act on both the denial to Oldford as well as the recommendation for industrial rezoning on Haggerty. The board is expected to take up these matters at its July 8 meeting.

Arguments against the rezoning were especially strong from Planners Baldwin and Robert Bogart. A letter from the Northville Area Economic Development Committee was also read expressing their interest in the site for industrial use.

Equally strong in their arguments for the proposal, however, were Oldford and Gerald Freydl, son of the owner of the property.

Oldford argued that a commercial center was needed in the area, that banking interests as well as a major supermarket had already promised to locate on the site, and that most of the site, because of topography, was not useable for industry.

Both Oldford and Freydl insisted that the Northville Area Economic Development Committee had not made a bona fide offer for the property. Further, Freydl noted that efforts to sell the property by one of the area's foremost industrial developers had failed.

"It was listed for a year and could have been purchased, but wasn't," Oldford stated. Freydl added that several major corporations had examined the site for possible industrial use but had turned it down.

"It's been for sale for six years. I even met with the Economic Development group, but no offer was made," he said.

"It's nice to sit at a table and say it's industrial. But the fact is it is not a good industrial site," Freydl insisted.

HEARING DENIED — Stewart Oldford's plan to develop the 30-acre "Freydl property" on Seven Mile road (across from the proposed Levitt development) into a shopping center was turned down Tuesday night by township planners. Oldford intends to appeal the action to the township board and seek a public hearing.

Dedication Salutes Pilot Lost in 'Record' 1927 Flight

For years she maintained a desperate hope that her husband would be found alive in the jungles of South America "but it never was to be," said Mrs. Gertrude Redfern Monday in recalling the mysterious disappearance of her husband 42 years ago.

The Detroit woman returned Sunday from the South and Brunswick, Georgia where a memorial plaque was dedicated in memory of her husband who took off from Georgia in a Northville-made airplane in quest of a world flight record in 1927.

Twenty-five year old Paul Redfern, a barn-storming pilot in '27, was last seen by a Norwegian freighter off the coast of Venezuela during his crack at the then long-distance record. He was flying a Stinson Detrolter, a monoplane made in Northville by the Stinson Aircraft Company.

It was at Sea Island, Georgia where

Mrs. Redfern last waved goodbye to her husband as he flew his 200-horsepower plane into the sky on August 25, 1927. The plane was named the "City of Brunswick" because businessmen of Brunswick had put up a prize for the first flight from the United States to Brazil. Redfern's ill-fated solo flight, coming just three months after Charles Lindbergh's historic flight to Paris, was almost twice as far and easily would have set a new long-distance record.

For years rumors persisted that Redfern was alive in the jungles. Thirteen expeditions were launched in a futile search for the popular pilot. In 1937 — 10 years after he disappeared — it was reported that Redfern was being held captive by primitive Indians in the remote Tumuchumac Mountains, near the Guiana and Brazil border. But a close friend of the missing pilot, Art Williams, checked out the report and, like many others, it proved false.

He was officially declared dead in 1937.

In Northville where air conscious citizens awaited news, The Northville Record on September 2, 1927 reported:

"There is no question but what Paul Redfern is lost somewhere in the South American jungles. He was seen last Saturday, the day after his jump from Georgia, just off the South American coast, asking for directions."

"Then he was less than 200 miles from land. Redfern was trying the seemingly impossible. His trip would have required that he keep awake for over 60 hours. At the time he was sighted off South America he had been at his controls for nearly 40 hours."

Many local citizens had seen the plane before it left Stinson's airfield at the northwest corner of Beck and Six Mile roads. Some scratched their initials in the tail of the plane, as was the custom then, to be a part of the historic flight.

On August 12, 1927, The Record reported:

"Paul Redfern, famed southern flier, if weather conditions permit, will start his flight to Brazil from Brunswick, Georgia, Monday morning, in a Stinson craft, in an effort to break all previous long distance flying records."

"The last social event in his honor took place Tuesday evening in his home town, and he is devoting the remaining of the present week to preparing the Stinson aircraft for the jump from North to South America."

"The plane in the tests made last week at the Stinson-Northville Airport worked to perfection, and when it was flown from Northville to Georgia by Eddie Stinson and Redfern no craft

TEACHERS STAY AFTER — In order to compensate for time lost during their strike last fall, Northville Public Schools' elementary and secondary teachers spent an extra week in the classroom last week with the period employed for study of curriculum development. An art instruction workshop at Main Street School on Friday, under the direction of elementary art teacher Mrs. James Kipfer (center) was one of several held concluding the program.

Attend 4-Day Workshop

Teachers Get in Extra Licks

Northville teachers focused on improvement of the school system's educational program during the four days of workshops following the close of schools last week.

The program opened with short addresses by Superintendent Raymond Spear and Business Manager Earl Busard followed by a film, "A Mighty Reach", depicting innovative methods, motivation techniques and methodologies that enhance learning.

Later a complete system analysis of the testing results for 1966, 1967 and 1968 were presented to the staff and administrators by Mrs. June Emerson and Miss Florence Panatoni.

Five workshops were conducted in the afternoon by Dr. Harry Overline, director of Wyandotte Learning Disability Center; Alan Riegle, director of Gifted Children in the Livonia school system; Charles Zoet, secondary science coordinator in Livonia; Dr. James House, social studies consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District; and Sister Mary Rachel, secondary reading consultant at Madonna College.

Elementary staff members spent Wednesday in "Share Ideas Programs" at each level. Teachers mimeographed copies of successful teaching units to be stored in building files for availability to all staffers.

Thursday was directed at reading improvement, with Dr. Rachel Brake of the Wayne County Intermediate School District presenting a reading program emphasizing the importance of early diagnosis of reading problems, followed by prescriptive lessons aimed at preventing "the tragedy of the child seeing himself as a failure." All materials will be made available to the Northville schools, with a commitment of feedback to the Dr. Brake Prescriptive Program.

To meet the needs of teachers and because of cuts in special programs in art, library service, and physical education, workshops in these areas were conducted providing teachers with necessary training to carry on their programs next year.

Mrs. Alice Kipfer conducted the art workshop where teachers learned through involvement the disciplines covered in the art program at each level. Mrs. Mernie Hines conducted a workshop in developing graphics that facilitate learning for children. Robert Prom demonstrated and involved teachers in the physical education program that they will be conducting during the 1969-70 school year. Reading personnel, following identification of elementary system-wide needs, designed a program including consultant services to teachers as well as special assistance to teachers with reading levels below norms.

Teachers in the secondary schools were involved in development of departmental programs, team teaching plans, and curriculum guides. The high school staff prepared for the North Central visitation, the sixth grade staff developed units in exploratory arts and prepared for the move to the junior high school annex, and the seventh and eighth grade teachers worked on plans to meet needs of all students.

College Offers Piano Program

A new program for pianists and a special theory class for performers have been added to the curriculum for the 1969 Schoolcraft College Summer Music School, which is now accepting applications for enrollment in the four-week session beginning July 7, according to Director Wayne Dunlap.

Now in its third year, the school will again offer daily classes in chamber music and ensemble playing for high school age and other young advanced musicians in the area.

The curriculum will include chamber music, orchestra, music theory, and special courses in style and musicianship.

"The new program for pianists has been developed in response to many inquiries and will provide, in addition to the regular curriculum, work in ensemble playing, accompanying, and sight reading," Dunlap said.

"The new theory class will concern itself with examination and study of musical works as they relate directly to their performance," Dunlap said.

An enrollment approaching 100 — more than double that of the first year of the school — is expected this year. Enrollment, however, will again be selective in order to provide the instrumental balance desired to meet the musical objectives of the school.

"Each student is assigned to a faculty member who is a professional performing musician on the student's instrument," Dunlap explained. "With our ensemble approach, students work on an almost one-to-one basis with the instructor."

"We cannot accept a disproportionate number of pianists or string players, for example, because that would defeat the purpose of our ensemble approach," he explained.

The faculty this year will again be composed of professional performing musicians, a number of whom are players with the Detroit Symphony. On the faculty are Emily Mutter Austin and Inez Hullinger Redman, violin; David Ireland, viola; Mario DiFiore, cello; Marilyn Jones, flute; Robert Cowart, oboe; James Tamburini, brass; Donald Morelock, piano; and Allen Shaffer, theory. Shaffer is also serving as assistant director to the school.

Marian Wingert, bass player with the Plymouth Symphony; and Vincent Melidon, clarinetist with the Detroit Symphony, will also be available for classes and for private lessons, Dunlap said.

Classes are scheduled for 8 a.m. to noon daily, Monday through Friday. Student orchestra rehearsals are scheduled three afternoons a week until 2:30 p.m.

"We have discovered that our class schedule permits many students to attend the school and still find summer employment," Dunlap said. "Meals are available at the college cafeteria, and all classrooms are air-conditioned."

In addition to the regular class work, a student orchestra will perform three programs during the summer.

Outstanding students are occasionally selected to play with the professional Court Orchestra which will perform four Wednesday evening concerts during July in the third annual Schoolcraft College Summer Music Festival.

Tuition for the four-week session is $60, an increase of $10 over past years.

"We have reluctantly increased the tuition this year in order to more realistically approach the operating costs," Dunlap said. "The college has subsidized the program heavily during its first two years and we have reached the point where we must take on a greater share of the cost."

Enrollment applications should be sent in care of the Summer Music School and Festival, Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, 48151. A $10 non-refundable check must accompany each enrollment application. Students will register at the college on Monday, June 30, Dunlap said.

Private lessons will be available from faculty members at $5 per lesson. College credit is available to qualified students.

Retirement Dull? Certainly Not

Retirement dull? Never for Marion and Burton Rich of Salem. They are far too busy with multiple hobbies to ever be bored with life.

This week both are exhibiting products of their hobbies at shows in the Detroit area. Mrs. Rich's paintings and art objects have been on exhibit at Universal City at 12 Mile and Dequindre since June 18. Her husband's very special 1937 Beverly Cord is displayed with other antique cars at the Livonia Mall.

Over 300 paintings of scenery and still life have come from the brush of the active Mrs. Rich in the six years of her painting career. A member of the Betty Baldwin Artists Show Place, she usually displays some 40 or 50 paintings for sale at various shows. She recently completed a successful showing at Northland June 14.

A lover of animals, Mrs. Rich does remarkably realistic work of reproducing horses on canvas. Her Siamese cats — in pictures and painted on Japanease Basalt and Mexican pebbles — have been sold from New York to California. Her own cat, Higgins, is the model for the likenesses.

It was when the Tigers won the pennant that Mrs. Rich began painting "Tiger" pictures on rocks and pebbles. Appearing in bright colors on dark colored rocks, they are most unusual objects.

She had also perfected a technique used in Europe called "old world glazing"

This type of picture begins with a blue and white pencil drawing and progresses through layer after layer of colored varnish to produce in depth effects. The whole process takes about six weeks to complete, Mrs. Rich noted.

The large, modern garage on the Rich's Centennial Farm is one to delight any man interested in automobiles. It is a place of spectacular neatness and the spot where Burt Rich pursues his hobby — restoring old cars.

The tall, reserved Rich converses freely when it comes to his hobby. His "object d'art" is a 1937 Cord Beverly which, when new, sold for a little over $2,000. It's beautifully restored white exterior and perfectly running motor make it an interesting conversation piece anywhere. It purrs along at 70 miles an hour, Rich said, and he drives it to many old car meets.

"He doesn't enter it in parades anymore," his wife commented with a laugh. "The last time he drove it in the South Lyon parade, it overheated from running too slow."

A recent retiree after 28½ years at Detroit Diesel Engine of General Motors, Rich has his work cut out for him this summer. He is building from pieces a Cord Phaeton with a supercharged engine.

"It arrived on two trailers with five pick up loads of parts," Rich said, surveying his garage where boxes and boxes of parts are neatly stored on wall shelves. With the help of a book on motors from the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Club, of which he is a member, and the advice and assistance of a long-time friend, Glen Burnham of Salem, Burt plans to have it ready for the Auburn meet on Labor Day. Naturally, it will take place in Auburn, Indiana.

The two Cords — the white one with the original hand operated hideaway headlights and the dark red Phaeton — are only half of the Rich collection. He has two other old time autos — one of them a 1910 Regal which has appeared in South Lyon Labor Day parades; the other, another 1937 Cord.

The Rich farm, Burt's birthplace, is in itself an interesting place. On the dining room wall hangs the original deed from the government for the 120 acres taken up by Moses Rich in 1833. It bears the name of Andrew Jackson, President.

A beam in the basement has part of an 1881 newspaper stuck fast to it. The Riches believe the beam came from one of the first houses erected on the farm.

Another interesting item from the basement is the large flat stone which is the headstone at their dog's final resting place. The stone marked with some deep impressions is thought to bear the print of a dinosaur. Authorities differ on whether an actual dinosaur print would be found this far west but one knowledgeable friend of the Riches is sure that it is.

Adding a note of nature interest in the Rich's front yard is a chipping sparrow nest, complete with a hatched sparrow and a new born cowbird nestled in the branches of an evergreen. The well-fed cat, Higgins, seems oblivious to the source of food, even though it is easily within his reach, about three feet off the ground.

No matter what your interest or hobby, a visit with Burt and Marion Rich is an educational opportunity.

West Point Grad Gets Commission

Fred H. Van Atta, son of Colonel and Mrs. Ward H. Van Atta and grandson of Mrs. Fred Van Atta, 136 East Cady Street, was graduated June 4 from the U. S. Army Military Academy at West Point.

Appointed to the Academy by the late Senator Patrick V. MacNamara (D-Mich.), Cadet Van Atta received a bachelor of science degree and was commissioned a second lieutenant.

His graduation was followed on June 14 by his marriage to Margaret Ann Tibbs of Alexandria, who was also graduated on June 4 from the University of Maryland.

West Point's graduation address was delivered by General William C. Westmoreland, chief of staff of the United States Army. Presentation of diplomas was made by Major General Samuel W. Koster, Brigadier General John R. Jannarone, and Brigadier General Bernard W. Rogers.

Cadet Van Atta's father, formerly of Northville, and his mother live at 5208 Remington Drive in Alexandria. Retired from the Army, Colonel Van Atta pinned the lieutenant bars on his son during the graduation ceremony.

His grandmother attended the graduation exercises. She was unable to attend the wedding, which incidentally occurred on her own wedding anniversary.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

When county government underwent streamlining a year ago and the number of supervisors was reduced from about 130 to 26 in Wayne county, I remember more than one local official bemoaning the fact that little old Northville (city and township) had lost its representation at the county level.

Bunched in with Plymouth, Livonia and Canton, what chance did Northville have of electing a supervisor who really was concerned about Northville?

No sir. It just wouldn't be like it was when the heads of local government were the appointed representatives of the community on the county board of supervisors.

It certainly isn't.

For the first time in my 13 years of covering local government I recently heard a thorough report on what our representative on the Wayne county board, Supervisor Carl Pursell (of Plymouth), does. Actually, I heard two reports — the same one twice, given before the city council and the township board.

I think Pursell's "first quarter report" impressed the elected officials of the city and township, too. I doubt that they had ever been given such firsthand information, or felt closer representation at the county level.

In a nutshell, Pursell reminded local officials that our district (the 26th) is the largest in population and that he represents 161,400 people. After the 1970 census, Livonia will probably be sliced from our district and have a single supervisor of its own.

Wayne county operates on a budget of $160 million and employs 9,000, including the road commission.

Pursell is chairman of the Rules Committee, vice-chairman of the Wayne County Development Center Committee, and a member of the Ways and Means, Legislative, Law Enforcement and Public Safety, Jail Sub-Committee, Health, Education and Welfare and the representative to SEMCOG.

Major proposals by Pursell that have been adopted include: a new standing committee on transportation (it's tough to promote a rapid transit system against forces interested in building more highways, says Pursell); re-structuring of the welfare program to HEW; re-structuring of sheriff to public safety; and new rules to give the public an opportunity to be heard before committees and the board.

Pursell noted that reorganization of county government is badly needed and said he favored the county home rule plan, that will go back to voters again in August, 1970. In Pursell's mind, county government needs a top administrator to direct the total operation — to carry out the policies set forth by elected supervisors and be responsible to that board.

In a timely comment made to township board officials he referred to the proposed contract for police service with the sheriff's department.

First he noted that any such request must come through the law enforcement and public safety committee of the board of supervisors — and that none had been made.

He offered his services in this regard — but also gave some advice.

"I'd suggest that you look towards your city police. The trend at the county level is not to expand such service. As a matter of fact, our own airport (Metro) has just asked for State Police protection instead of the sheriff."

(Pursell's comments contrasted with Sheriff Roman Gribbs, who seemed anxious to sell extra service to Northville township).

Twelve years ago a young fellow applied for a job as superintendent of our commercial printing operations here at The Record.

"I'll tell you right now," he said, "in about five years I want to buy a print shop of my own. So I won't be staying long."

Last week Bob Blough's "five years" ended. He and his wife, Jane, purchased a printing shop in Hastings — just a few miles from their hometown of Freeport.

Right now they're squeezing-in a long-planned three weeks' vacation to California. Then Bob and Jane and their five daughters will prepare to move to Hastings.

We'll miss them at The Record. So will their many friends in Northville.

Good luck to the Bloughs. May none of their orders be marked "rush".

How About You?

The instant I saw her crouching in the corner — a Bromo in one hand and a stick in the other — I knew school was out.

And when she snarled ... well, I knew positively summer had arrived.

Pretending ignorance I tossed her one of my sweetest smiles and asked as delicately as possible, "What's the stick for?"

"For kid or beast — whichever comes within striking distance first," she answered through clenched teeth. "I've had it, I tell you, I've had it. It's the turtles!"

It happens like this every summer. But this time the situation was worse. The woman who wanted a dozen children but who settled for six — and a dog, five puppies, two cats, a school of fish, a mason jar of bees, and three orphaned snakes — was done in by two tiny turtles purchased at the dime store a year ago for Mother's Day.

(Our kids learned long ago that one of the easiest ways to get an animal into the house is to offer it as a gift for mom).

When we discussed the matter the night before she was driven to the wall she had agreed to put her foot down — carefully, of course, because of the puppy trademarks here and there — and to begin eliminating the menagerie. First to go was to be the turtles.

"I took them out to the nicest pond I could find," she explained. "It was a little sad but they seemed happy when they swam away. Then I went home. I should have swam away, too, because when I got home there they were."

"What was there?"

"Well, I went down into the laundry room to put the clothes in the washer and guess what — seven little snapping turtles swimming around in there. And two fat toads sitting on the agitator!"

"Terrible," I said, "simply disgusting. What did you do?"

"What could I do. I screamed, naturally."

"Naturally," I said.

"So when I screamed one of the toads jumped and knocked over the soap and it went all over the floor and the puppies ran through it and tracked it around and I swatted one with the broom and it started crying and I started crying and then in comes Joey all smiles.

"Don't cry," he tells me, 'I got some new turtles for you. They're in the laundry room.' And now I didn't know whether to cry some more or kiss him or spank him."

"What did you do?"

"I gave him a peanut butter and jelly and sent him packing. And then guess what?"

"I can't wait. Tell me. This is better than Abbott and Costello at their best."

"Well, in comes Jim. And guess what — he's carrying this big Box Turtle. Got 'em out of the sewer, he tells me, and he's giving it to me 'cause he knows I'm sad about having to give up the store-bought ones."

"Isn't it grand to be loved," I said.

"Maybe for you," she said draining her Bromo, "but just for once I wish someone would show me a little hate once in awhile. Love's got me nothing but kids and animals. You can have it! I'm saving all mine for teachers ... oh, those lovely, lovely teachers..."

Very few people have it. Charisma is that rare. And yet from the time she appeared in The Wizard of Oz 30 years ago, Judy Garland had had a magnetic appeal few could escape.

Like flotsam caught in a whirlpool, people would be swept toward her, caught in her changing personality because it was inextricably tied to her talent as a singer and actress. Perhaps they were only curious, to begin with, but that charisma would then take hold.

She would fade from public view with each change in her life. And there were many. Five marriages, none happy, alcoholism and drugs, suicide attempts, depressions and despair.

But she would always return to the stage, and immediately, at the sound of her voice, a strange chemistry would take place between the audience and Judy Garland. The eternal child, she was always forgiven.

Now, Judy Garland is dead of an unknown cause. Mickey Deans, her husband of only a few months, found her dead in the bathroom of their residence in London.

"She was a unique entertainer, a wonderful singer," said Eli Wallach, the philosophical actor. "It's tragic. She is somehow the painful product of the worst part of Hollywood."

More, Judy Garland was the symbol of Hollywood, it's child and unfortunate victim. As surely as she rose to stardom in Hollywood studios, she also fell victim to its brutal publicity mill.

What created her destroyed her. There was never any middle ground, no compatibility between the public life of the star and the private life of just plain Judy. It was this inability to separate the two worlds — fantasy and reality — that led to a tragic demise.

She was the girl of happy visions as symbolized in the song "Somewhere Over the Rainbow." This is what the public will remember and it is what Judy Garland sought. And yet there was never any happiness because the vision was a sham.

Her greatest need, as it is everyone's, was to be loved. In eulogy, most columnists and writers say what people felt for Judy was love. But it wasn't. It was more a reaction to magnetic personality that bordered on idolatry, rather than genuine love.

This she could only find in a marriage. Unfortunately, she never found it. Love eluded her to the end.

could have worked to more perfection. They landed at Brunswick at the time scheduled. A greater speed was made from Northville to Brunswick than will be necessary for Redfern to maintain on his proposed flight to South America.

"Eddie Stinson returned from Georgia the first of the week, and has been devoting his time to other planes that are being made for long distance flights to be made by other fliers."

"Oh, yes, he bought the plane in Northville," said Mrs. Redfern, who never remarried and who works today as an executive secretary for the Bendix Corporation. "I saw it in Northville before it was christened at Detroit. It was a beautiful plane for those days and Paul, just a young man then, was proud of it."

His takeoff from the beach at Sea Island is vividly etched in her memory. "It's a beautiful beach," she said, "and he took off shortly after noon when the tide was out."

On a bluff overlooking this same beach last week a plaque was dedicated in an impressive ceremony that included remarks by sisters of her husband, by Dr. D. L. Lind, an astronaut, and several persons who were present on that day in 1927.

Navy jets swept past the beach in a salute to the early pilot and his widow, while an old Stinson Detroit winged low over the shoreline to remind the crowd of an earlier colorful era of aviation.

"It was a very nice ceremony, very tastefully done," she told The Record.

Although she maintained hope for several years that her husband would be found, "it was obvious that there wasn't any tangible evidence to support any of the stories. Some of them were ridiculous. One man even said he saw Paul and had his knife. But all they wanted was the publicity."

Yet, even today, she clings to her memory, noting that only recently a plane was found intact on an ice flow in the far North years after it had been lost. The pilot died in the crash, of course, but "at least there was some tangible evidence of what had happened after all those years."

HARDLY A HINT of the once famous Stinson Airfield remains at Six Mile and Beck, notes Charles Lapham, grandson of Charles Ponsford who leased the airfield property to Eddie Stinson. Behind Lapham, in an area now overgrown with brush, is where the hanger stood in which Paul Redfern's ill-fated plane was assembled.

15th Trotting Derby On Tap Wednesday

The eyes of the harness racing world will be focused on Northville Downs Wednesday night (July 2) for the 15th renewal of the Michigan Trotting Derby with an estimated purse of $18,000.

It will be the largest purse in the history of the track. Going in with a $15,000 guarantee, the amount is expected to hit at least $18,000 by race time, according to John J. Carlo, Northville executive manager.

Racing Secretary Harry Peterson anticipates an entry of 10 of the original 17 nominees. He is looking for the following Michigan trotters to face the starter come Derby Night: Blue Water Goldy, owned by Gene Olford of Lexington; Daring Dude, Jim McGarty of Fowlerville; Greek Dancer, Jack Richards of Livonia; Lady Missile, Richard Packard of Ann Arbor; Mighty Popular, Mighty Popular Stables of Birmingham; Oak Grove, Stanford Rubach of Oak Park; and Randy D, William Rothe of Dexter.

The traditional event was won a year ago by Chancey Guy, owned by M. & V. Zeinfeld of Maywood, Illinois.

OK Contracts For 11 Teachers

Contracts for 11 new teachers were approved by the Novi Board of Education last week Wednesday.

The new teachers and their salaries (based on the current association contract) are:

Patricia Binkle, Orchard Hills kindergarten, $7,950; Gloria Sweeney, high school English, $7,295; Gail Siskin, elementary speech therapist, $6,990; Dolores Gerhardt (mother of teacher Fred Gerhardt), high school librarian, $10,015; Jeanne Kinney, Orchard Hills third grade, $7,295;

In other action, the board ratified contracts for bus drivers, office employees, and the custodial staff. While the total or categorical cost of the new contracts were not revealed at the public meeting, Superintendent Thomas Dale said salary increases approximated 8 to 9-percent.

Ferris State Awards Degrees

During commencement exercises at Ferris State College on Sunday, June 15, degrees and certificates were granted to 1,685 students.

Among those receiving degrees and certificates from this area were: Charles O. Somers, 18900 Valencia, B.S. Pharmacy, Loren E. Sheffer, 45999 Pickford, B.S. Science Education, Patrick J. Hall, 350 Cady, A.A.D. General Education, and Robinann White, 24157 Woodham, A.A.D. General Education.

COM'ON HORSEY - The cheering is loud and encouraging as youngsters urge their favorites along the oval at Northville Downs where three times weekly the public is invited to watch free day-time qualifying races. On Tuesday and Friday 11 a.m. qualifying races are held for previous non-starters or horses who must prove themselves before re-entering the track for regular races. And each Wednesday races are held for year-old colts usually making their first starts. There's no betting and youngsters get their pick of seats.

property could be assured, with perhaps acreage for schools, a public golf course, park land, housing and industry, city and school officials point out.

None of these suggestions, however, have gotten past the "talking" stage, even though city and school officials favor some form of local purchase and are anxious to get something started. But because the property is located in the township they are obliged to wait for the township's move.

The matter has been tabled pending a report by Vilican-Leman Associates, the township's planning consultant, on whether or not present zoning (single family homes) is advisable.

Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, who admittedly favors maintaining the present zoning with attempts to attract a "good developer" and who is cool to the idea that any industry be permitted there, said he is willing to base his decision on the consultant's findings.

The consultant, Stromberg said Monday, is vacationing and should return soon.

Meanwhile, Klein, who earlier said Northville has about 90 days to come up with a proposal before the property is put up for public sale, continues to wait for Northville's answer: "yes, we want it" or "no, we don't want it."

WAYNE CENTENNIAL - Costumed citizens of Wayne visited Northville Saturday, publicizing Wayne's upcoming centennial celebration that begins next month. General Chairman and Wayne Councilman Manuel L. Lentine, Jr. (center) presents Northville

Councilman Paul Folino and City Manager Frank Ollendorff with literature about the big event. The 100-year-old Wayne, two years younger than Northville, invites local citizens to "come on over and enjoy some of our hospitality."

Youth Heads for Alaska

When the 13th Annual Alaska Cruise for Boys leaves Detroit this morning, 14-year-old Reese Lenheiser of 45095 Mayo Court will be going with them.

This is the second time around for young Lenheiser who took the cruise three years ago. Once again he will join about 20 other Detroit area boys for a three-week jaunt through Vancouver and up the Inside Passage to Alaska.

Serving as guide and group supervisor is Edward J. Kuhn, a high school teacher in Detroit. He is the brother of Senator George Kuhn (R) from the 14th District.

From Detroit the boys will be traveling by train through Toronto and the Canadian Rockies. After several days at Chateau Lake Louise they will arrive in Vancouver where a complete sightseeing program is planned.

Jaycees Win Second Place

The Northville Jaycees snared a top U. S. Jaycee award today for their leadership in the field of "publications."

The Northville chapter received their second place award from Wendell E. Smith, president of the young men's organization, during the U. S. Jaycee Awards Luncheon held at Freedom Hall.

On July 2 the boys board the "Princess Patricia" for a seven and a half day cruise down the waters of the famous Inside Passage to Alaska. They will return to Detroit with stops through Seattle, Portland and Chicago, arriving home on the afternoon of July 15.

Once on board the group will cruise up through Queen Charlotte Sound to Prince Rupert British Columbia. After sight-seeing there they continue on to Juneau, the capital of Alaska. Here they will be met by the Juneau Rotary Club for a visit to the Alaska Juneau Gold Mine. From there they continue up the Yukon "Trail of '98", with a return through Wrangell Harbor.

PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES.

May 27, 1969.

3a. No one was present for the Smoker Company on this request for a rezoning at Bradner and Franklin roads, from R-4 to RM-1. The planning Commission recommended to the Township Board that it deny this request because it represents spot zoning, it represents a development that would not be compatible with the surrounding area and the present development of same, and it is not consistent with the objectives and plans as defined by the Master Plan. Mitchell moved that the petition of the Smoker Co. be denied for the reasons stated in the Planning Commission's recommendation of May 27, 1969, seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

3b. A letter from the petitioner, R. B. Northrup, was read requesting that he be allowed to postpone his hearing until the next regular meeting of the Township Board. Ayes: All.

Mr. J. Jonas represented Mr. Boatín, who had requested a change in zoning at First and Meade roads from R-4 to RM-1. He described the plans for the building and parking area, wall, etc. and showed sketches and snapshots. Mr. Layaz, a neighbor, was present and spoke on behalf of this zoning change. Baldwin moved that the Board deny this request, as recommended by the Planning Commission because it is spot zoning, does not conform with the present zoning, and also for the reasons as set forth in planning consultant Vilcan's letter of April 15, 1969. Seconded by Lawrence.

Ayes: All.

The applicant queried if he could have the Supervisor split the property so that two single homes could be built. The amount of frontage and area would have to be studied.

OLD BUSINESS

3. Public Hearing. Canterbury Court street name change.

Stromberg declared the public hearing open. The Clerk read the letter of April 18, 1969 from the Wayne County Road Commission. The residents of the street were given an opportunity to express their objections. Mr. Mosher and Mr. Juhnke spoke and brought a similar objection from Mr. Brewer who could not be present. Names suggested were Nottingham Court, Robyn D. Merriam Ct., and Camelot Ct. These had been checked with the County, to avoid further duplication. Public hearing closed at 10:30.

Straub moved that a resolution be drawn up and sent to the Wayne County Road Commission recommending that the name of Canterbury Court in the Northville Colony Estates Subdivision No. 1 be changed to Nottingham Court. Second by Hammond. Ayes: All.

Dr. Gyzinski's property, G. Zeuner and J. Chapman were present to protest the hazardous condition of the old home on Dr. G's property at Marilyn and Evelyn Mile roads. They deem it a very dangerous place especially for small children playing in the area now that school is out. Baldwin moved that the Supervisor lend his efforts along with the Building Inspector's, to urge Dr. G. to comply with the ordinance and improve conditions before his 90 days is up. Second by Straub. Ayes: All.

CORRESPONDENCE

1. and 5. Baldwin moved that these items be accepted and filed, seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

2. Hammond moved that the letter from the Wayne County Library Board be accepted, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

3a. Armstrong moved that the request of the police officer concerning a two-way radio, in his letter of June 2, 1969 be denied, seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: Armstrong, Baldwin, Straub. Nays: Hammond. Abstained: Mitchell, Lawrence. Motion carried.

3b. Request for a No Firearms ordinance and for a more comprehensive trash ordinance, letter of June 2, 1969 from R. Nisun. Straub moved that Officer Nisun contact Attorney Ashton to discuss and draw up such ordinances, supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

6. Baldwin moved to accept the letter from Our Lady of Providence School, seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

7 and 8. Hammond moved to accept the letters from Mr. Ed Carey, Detroit City Councilman, and the Wayne County Board of Road Commissioners, supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

Because of the lateness of the hour, Mitchell moved to leave the rest of the agenda for the next meeting, except for items 2, 7 & 9 of New Business. Supported by Straub. Ayes: All.

NEW BUSINESS

2. Northville Commons No. 4, Stage 2. Baldwin moved that the Township give tentative approval of the preliminary plat, Stage 2, dated May 12, 1969 to the Northville Commons No. 4 Subdivision (Thompson-Brown Co.), as recommended by the Planning Commission on May 27, 1969. Seconded by Armstrong. Ayes: All.

7a. Baldwin moved, as recommended by the Water & Sewer Commission on May 12, '69 that the Township charge 2 units for sewer connections to the Community Bldg. of the Northville Forest Apts., a Greenspan development. This would be $800. Seconded by Armstrong. Ayes: All.

7b. Baldwin moved that the Township accept the recommendation of the Water & Sewer Commission of May 12, 1969 regarding the water line to the Our Lady of Providence School, as follows:

1. Mr. Mosher, our engineer, be permitted to provide plans for water connections from O.L. of P. property line to the school, a distance of approximately 700 feet. Costs for this service to be paid for by the school.

2. O. L. of P. School be allowed to pay for the engineering costs for the water line and installation costs from Detroit House of Correction to the school in ten equal payments - 1/10th of the costs to be paid with each water bill at six percent interest. This arrangement to be confirmed with the school and a contract drawn up with our attorney. (This whole arrangement hinges on the granting of the use of the water line by the City of Detroit). Supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

7c. Request for reimbursement for part of the off-site sewer construction costs, to Levitt & Sons. This extra-size sewer to be built by them would cost about $150,000 and would handle the Levitt development, the Gerald Ave. area and an area upstream towards Meadowbrook. Baldwin moved to table this matter until the next regular meeting when Mr. Adler, of Levitt Co. will be asked to meet with us. Second by Straub. Ayes: All.

7d. Baldwin moved that the Board of Trustees instruct Mr. Mosher to prepare the value of water and sewer installations that have been dedicated to the Township, as recommended by the Water & Sewer Commission on May 12, 1969. Supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

7e. Armstrong moved that the recommendation of the Water & Sewer Commission on May 12, 1969 be approved: that the Township charge $6.00 per front foot to tap in to water mains installed without expense to a property to which water service is requested, not to exceed $660.00. Seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.

9. Northville Colony Estates No. 2. Stage 2. Since all necessary documents have been received and were in order, Mitchell moved that the Board give a final approval of Greenspan's Northville Colony Estates No. 2, Preliminary Plat, Stage 2, as recommended by the Planning Commission on May 27, 1969. Seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on June 5, 1969, decide and determine that the certain portion of county road described in the minutes of said meeting of said Board should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as a public highway, and that the abandonment of another portion of said county road be denied.

The portion of the minutes of said meeting fully describing said portions of county road is attached hereto and made a part of this notice, which is given under and by virtue of Act 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended.

SAFE ON FIRST — The Knothole baseball season, under the direction of the Northville City-Township Recreation Department, got off to a delayed start Tuesday at Ford Field after Monday's openers were rained out. The activity is one of several being offered this summer by the department.

Hurlers Shine, Bats Explode

Reef Stretches String to Six Wins

Entering the last week of Free Press League first round play, undefeated Reef Manufacturing of Northville — after combining some explosive hitting with its stingy pitching — finds itself in the driver's seat.

Coach Dick Willing's squad extended its string of victories to six Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from Farmington's Keating Realtors, 6-5 and 7-0, with Fred Holdsworth and Rick Fillmore tossing a no-hitter between them for the decision in the nightcap.

In other action last week, Reef edged Garden City's Darin Construction on Friday, 2-1, and beat contender Livonia Cardinal Decorating on Wednesday, 3-1.

Hitting performances started to challenge those by pitchers during the week with Novi High School's Bill White, playing with the local team, and Jeff Taylor hitting home runs Sunday although the Holdsworth-Fillmore effort stole the spotlight.

The big week, of course, is the one ahead for Reef which was to play defending champ Redford Township last night (Wednesday) and will meet Wayne's Nankin Interns on Friday before hosting a doubleheader with Cardinal on Sunday. Second round play begins Wednesday with the local team traveling to Garden City and meeting Darin Construction.

Livonia Cardinal, with a lone defeat, presently is in second place.

Competition for the league is divided into two rounds with first and second round champions to meet for the division championship. If the same team wins both rounds, it becomes the champion without a playoff.

Reef had to rally late in the opener of its doubleheader Sunday with the winning run scored by substitute Dave Cole after a wild pitch. The nightcap was scoreless entering the fourth frame when Reef had the first of three consecutive two-run innings.

Craig Turnbull, making his first pitching appearance in three seasons, gained the victory in relief during Sunday's opener while White's homer in the fifth tied the score at 5-5 and set the stage for Cole's deciding run.

Reef had scored four runs in the first inning of the contest to take a comfortable lead which Keating challenged with three runs in the second. The visitors added a run in the third and then scored again in the fourth to take a 5-4 lead.

Turnbull replaced southpaw Jeff Gillespie in the fourth and blanked Farmington in the last three innings protecting the lead which Reef regained in the fifth.

After White's homer, Tom Singer walked with Willing inserting Cole as a pinch runner. Cole then stole second, went to third on a fielder's choice and — with two outs — scored on a wild pitch.

White also had a single in the contest for two hits while Jeff Taylor and Doug Anglin each had two singles.

Taylor continued his good day at the plate Sunday with a home run in the second game while Terry Mills had a double and two singles. Stan Nirider had a single and double and Rich Adams a double in the nightcap.

Taylor recorded his second victory of the season Friday as he hurled a five-hitter to beat Darin, 2-1. The righthander struck out nine over the seven-inning contest.

Reef tallied its two runs after two were out in the fourth inning Friday on one hit, two walks and two errors.

On Wednesday, the local team jumped off to an early 1-0 lead in the second inning against Cardinal when Gillespie singled with the bases loaded. Then in the third, Reef combined one hit with an error, two hit-batsmen and a fielder's choice to score twice.

Anglin led the attack with two singles while Holdsworth and Turnbull both accounted for outstanding defensive plays in the outfield.

Novi Leaders Lose But Keep Edge

League leaders in both divisions of the Novi Little League Majors suffered setbacks last week although both Michigan Tractor and Rexall Drug were able to maintain their leads.

Rexall, the Blue Division leader, suffered its first defeat Saturday falling to Paragon, 5-2, while Red Division leader Tractor dropped a decision last week Tuesday to Wroten Brothers, 18-6. The loss put Rexall at 10-1 for the season with Wroten Brothers second at 8-4.

Tractor is now 9-3 followed by Paragon at 7-4.

In action last week Monday, Pink Builders edged B&V Earthmovers, 8-7, with Dave Piotrowicz getting credit for the win on the mound. B & V, led by Jeff Pickeral's two doubles and two singles by Paul Bosco, out-hit Pink, 8-4, in the contest.

Last week Tuesday Party Store defeated Carl's Expressway Shell, 14-7, and Wroten Brothers upset Tractor. Mike Alexander, who also had three singles at bat, was the winning pitcher while teammate John Henson had two hits. Louie Bannatz and Tom Goers each had two hits for Carl's.

Gary Canfield had two triples last week Tuesday to lead Wroten at the plate in its 18-6 victory over Tractor. Wroten's Brian Wroten had four singles and Craig Love was the winning pitcher. Scott Parsons had two doubles for Tractor.

General Filters beat Mobarak Jayhawks, 15-6, on last week Wednesday and Rexall defeated Earthmovers, 7-4. Mike Lutman was the winning pitcher for General and Luke Chevrefils had three hits.

For Rexall on Wednesday, Eric Hanson had a home run and Phil Flora, the winning pitcher, had two singles.

Party Store defeated Pink Builders, 19-11, on Thursday and Paragon, playing behind the no-hit pitching of Tom Hardecki, beat Carl's 9-1.

Ron Buck had two home runs for Party Store while Mike Alexander and Jerry Fulcher each had two singles. Jon Buck was the winning pitcher.

Wroten's Gary Canfield threw a two-hitter on Friday to defeat General, 15-3, as teammates Randy Wroten and Mike Munro had four and three hits, respectively.

On Saturday, Tractor beat Jayhawks, 10-3, Paragon edged Rexall, 5-2, and Carl's defeated General, 6-1.

Tom O'Brien was the winning pitcher for Tractor and he also had two singles. Ken Beers had three hits for Tractor while teammates Craig Davey and Scott O'Brien each had a pair. Doug Lebutzki had three hits for Mobarak.

Paragon's Bob Lampi was the winning pitcher in its upset of Rexall on Saturday, 5-2, and he also had a double at bat. Eric Hanson had a homer for Rexall.

'World Series' Opens Sunday

Top teams of the two divisions of the Novi Minor League will square off Sunday afternoon in the first of two "world series" contests.

Already guaranteed a spot in the 2 p.m. series opener is Fendt Transit Mix, a squad well out in front of the other three West Division teams. They'll meet either Herb's Standard or Pepper Tree of the East Division, depending upon outcomes of regular league play this week.

Fendt and its opponent will battle again Tuesday, probably at 6 p.m., in the second series game. If the series is tied at the conclusion of this game, a third game will be played Wednesday evening.

Drama Starts Here Friday

Dancing, tumbling, drama, volleyball, badminton, Ping-Pong, floor hockey and three-man basketball will all be added to an already extensive summer recreation program this week, according to Northville City-Township Recreation Department Director Robert Prom.

Friday afternoon sessions of dancing, tumbling and drama begin this week from 1 p.m. to 4:30 at the Scout Building along with recreational games — volleyball, badminton, Ping-Pong and floor hockey — on the building grounds from 1 p.m. to 4.

The three-man basketball, for boys 10 to 15-years-old, began Tuesday at the Scout Building. The sessions start at 1 p.m.

The general summer recreation program — the biggest in history — was launched last week with activity scheduled to peak this week and continue through early August. Prom has estimated that 1,100 youngsters will participate in the program this year.

4-8 for the season.

Mike Kisabeth and Bill Diemer combined efforts on the mound last week Wednesday while Don Cucchi, Paul Deedler, Mike Schaffer and Jerry Insländ bolstered the attack in the 8-7 victory.

The Merchants, however, lost to Rambler, 8-2, last week Monday and then dropped a 5-4 decision Sunday to Plymouth.

This coming week the local team is scheduled to play Rambler on Sunday and then meet Hubert again on Monday. The Merchants and Plymouth are slated to clash next Wednesday.

Cucchi, Deedler and Schaffer each had a pair of hits last week Wednesday against Hubert while Insländ swatted a home run.

Kisabeth worked the first five innings giving up three hits but was relieved by Diemer in the fifth when Hubert rallied. Diemer got credit for the victory on the mound.

Schaffer's bases-loaded single in the fifth accounted for the deciding run.

Merchants on Sunday left eight runners on base against Plymouth while lefthander Harry Swystun also had control trouble on the mound, according to Primeau. Cucchi and Schaffer each had two hits in the defeat.

Swystun also was the losing pitcher last week Monday to Rambler, 8-2. Wayne Stater Terry Cupples, who the Merchants had beaten earlier in the month, gained the victory on the mound.

FISHIN'S POOR? "We had a ball," chortled David Wright, adult adviser of Explorer Post 905, members of which returned Monday from an 11-day camping trip into Canada, "but the fishing was poor." But you wouldn't know it by the stringer of pike shown off by five of the seven Explorer Scouts who made the trip. They're holding only part of their catch, and that 100-pound black bear on top with Wright was bagged by Frank (Pete) Brown, assistant adviser, who stayed in the north woods with his two Explorer sons, Randy and Ron, and George Whitsell, Explorer institutional representative. Proudly displaying the pike they didn't eat are (l to r) Doug Ritchie, Robert Durham, Phil Gardner, Bob Cummings, and Dave Wright. Their "safari" truck was loaned to the Explorers by the George Miller Dodge dealership here. Where did they go? "About 90 miles south of Chapleau," said Wright obviously guarding a secret.

Another Imprisoned South Lyon Youths Face Trial

Two South Lyon youths charged earlier this month with breaking and entering Danny's Mobil Station, Novi Road and I-96, are scheduled to appear today (Thursday) in Circuit Court before Judge Arthur Moore.

Jack Caldwell, 17, and David Hughes, 18, both of South Lyon, were arrested with two other teenagers at the scene on June 3 and charged with breaking and entering.

A third member of the group, William Jobe, 17, had charges of conspiracy to commit a breaking-and-entering against him dismissed while the other individual is a juvenile ordered to appear in Probate Court.

Coincidentally, Jobe on Friday appeared in Circuit Court on charges of parole violation and was sentenced to two years in Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

Caldwell and Hughes reportedly admitted the breaking and entering to police and also confessed to similar offenses in Milford and South Lyon.

A South Lyon youngster, given a second chance after being involved in the kidnapping of a City of Novi policeman last summer, is beginning a two-to-four year term in Michigan State Prison at Jackson this week after apparently having decided not to take advantage of the opportunity.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer handed down the sentence to William J. Jobe, 18, of South Lyon, for violation of his parole.

Jobe was one of five South Lyon youths who kidnapped Starnes at gunpoint on July 30.

Police Blotter

City of Novi Police took eight-year-old Douglas Broyles to Botsford Hospital, Farmington, on Monday when he sustained cuts to his arm after putting it through a glass door.

The youngster is a foster child at the Arthur Valenti residence, 27925 Summit Drive.

Thomas Laprice of 43767 Park Road, Northville, and Warren Smith, 16175 Bradner, Northville, were arraigned Tuesday before Judge Martin Boyle in District Court at Walled Lake on charges evolving from an altercation at The Pepper Tree Restaurant, 21420 Novi Road.

According to City of Novi Police, Laprice and Smith became involved in a verbal argument at the restaurant Friday night. Judge Boyle set their examinations for July 11.

Police Corporal Dale Gross and "Banner," the department's tracking dog, assisted Wixom Police on Monday in a search for a runaway juvenile. The youngster was reported missing about 9:30 p.m. and discovered soon afterwards by Gross and the dog.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT — Northville Police Chief Sam Elkins inspects a Breathalyzer which his department received earlier this month for testing suspects believed to be intoxicated. The equipment, estimated at a value of $925, was purchased by federal funds with the city to provide its operators. Elkins explains that Sergeant Louis Westfall already has been trained to operate the machine with two other policemen to receive similar instruction soon. Previously, the department had to transport suspects to the State Police's Redford post for testing.

13 Get Certificates

Certificates of completion were awarded on June 6 to 13 persons enrolled in a 12-week course on Michigan's natural history at Schoolcraft College this spring.

Receiving certificates were Dorothy A. Smith, Sister Mary Elaine Koch, Sister Mary Leona Jeromin, Emma S. Makinen, Kay Wittliff, and Patricia Niergarth, all of Farmington; Margaret E. Converse, Eleanor Jones, Bess King, and Hillary McLeod, all of Livonia; Helen McCarthy, Northville; and W. Anne Heller and Dorothy Wicke, both of Northville.

Five instructors, four of them full-time members of the college faculty, were used in the course. They were Grover Niergarth (birds);

Anthony Rizzo (glacial history); William Ryan (geology); Roger Sutherland (ecology); and Mary Ellis (spring flowers).

Also from the Novi area, Edward Segowski of 41624 Sycamore received a master of education degree.

Novi Grocery Changes Hands

Frank's Grocery, a family business for almost a quarter of a century at 43546 Grand River in Novi, is changing hands.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sequin, who have owned the business for 23 years, have sold to William Klasner, 48640 Summit Court, and will retire to a new home on their farm in Fowlerville.

Announcing that they have found it necessary to retire, the Sequins publicly are thanking their customers for their patronage and comment that many are friends also. They have been in process of moving from the store building where they also made their home.

Klasner, who has been in the store for the last three weeks, said that he does not plan to manage it personally, but will have sisters Mrs. Melody Vance and Miss Brook Peavey do so. The new store will be renamed The Quality House.

Klasner and his parents are long-time residents of the area, having lived here for more than 20 years.

Kensington Park Has Record May

Three of the four major parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority had record-breaking attendance for the month of May and for Memorial Day.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near here had a record 317,000 persons using the park in May of 1969 compared to 212,000 in May of 1968. The previous record for the month was 301,000 set in May of 1964.

Kensington Park had a record 57,100 persons using facilities on Friday, May 30, which topped the previous single day's use of 51,000 set on Sunday, June 30, 1963.

HURRY UP and RELAX

Highways, superhighways, turnpikes, freeways, expressways—they crisscross America, leading in every imaginable direction. And, they get you there so fast, you are past the right exit before you know it. We live in such a speed-oriented world that, when we are not working, we feel we must "hurry up and relax." At times we even feel guilty when we are not busy about something.

We don't really like our foolish pace. We speak longingly of peace of mind and quietude, and we take tranquilizers by the ton. We search frantically... on vacations, on "lost weekends," on "fun activities"... but tranquility is hard to find.

Perhaps we are seeking too hard. Perhaps tranquility is not to be sought. Rather, isn't it what happens when you are at peace with yourself, no matter the circumstances?

You can be at peace with yourself only when you are at peace with God. He is the very center of your being, and His peace is freely given when you accept it.

Accept this great gift of God in the very best place of all—His Church.

THE HAPPY HOME ABOVE.

HEAVEN IS A HAPPY HOME. It is a place of no sorrow. "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away." Rev. 21:4 It is a place of no sin. "And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life." Rev. 21:27 It is a place of rest from labors. "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them." Rev. 14:13

HEAVEN IS AN ACCESSIBLE HOME. Heaven is accessible by Christ. "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." John 14:6

Heaven is accessible by faith.

"But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him." Heb. 11:6 Heaven is accessible by conversion. "And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 18:3

Herald's Herald

By MARILYN HERALD

Summer brings with it many things besides mosquitoes and teenage love.

There's Junior League baseball. Will someone please tell me where to buy a bright green baseball cap? Why is it whatever our family takes part in is the most difficult for which to find the correct clothes.

Then there's Day Camp. You pray for sunshine and hope for no poison ivy.

Of course Bible School and swimming lessons are fast on the heels or mixed between the feet of these activities and mother is trampled by the stampede of transportation problems and time schedules.

The most fascinating and time consuming projects to prepare for is sending an offspring to church or scout camp for a week. It takes weeks of planning.

Between ironing clothes and ironing on name labels, you spend hours admonishing the would be camper how to behave while away from your supervision. He must remember to brush his teeth, be sure to wash at least once a day, change his clothes every day, and not get his feet wet. Naturally, you can save your breath, all your instructions wash right over the small fry like Niagara Falls over a rock.

You'll find there's lots of shopping to do. If you're sending a girl, that will take a lot of time because she will know just what she wants and the store won't have it. Then you have to make it. You can grab up the stuff a boy will need in short order and without his help — unless he has reached Junior High age. If so, watch out.

One thing I'm pretty sure of. Unless your camper has at least reached high school age, you don't need to worry about providing a change of underwear and socks for every day. The only time he'll change them is when he goes swimming and with Michigan weather, that's not often. Boys will probably sleep in their clothes three days out of four, unless ordered to put on pajamas.

After you pay your money and are committed to this camp project, some joker who knows all the answers will send you an "information sheet for parents" and a "get acquainted form" for the kids.

As a parent you must "enter whole heartedly into the child's camp plans". So that's easy — unless your little darling has never been away before. Then, you might have some doubts. It's like shoving baby birds out of the nest. After the first one it gets easier and easier.

"You should write cheerful letters or cards two or three times during the week". Okay, but how do you get the camper to reciprocate?

The kids get acquainted sheets are really lots more fun. One small boy filled in the answer to "what is the loveliest thing you've seen lately" with unabashed ease. He put down — GIRLS.

Usury Ceiling Hike Seen As Prime Rate Drives up Interest

LANSING The rising tide of higher interest rates charged by banks is sweeping into Michigan triggering anew the drive for increased home interest rate legislation.

Several Michigan banks have announced they will follow the national pattern — touched off earlier this month in New York — of charging their best customers a record 8½ percent, up one percent.

Bankers generally defend the higher "prime rate" as essential to meet a heavy demand for loans from corporations that had been priced out of the bond and short-term loan markets because of climbing interest rates there.

The surprise development started a new flurry of activity in the state Legislature to enact a controversial bill increasing the state usury ceiling from 7½ to 8½ percent immediately.

MICHIGAN'S usury maximum covers conventional home and small business loans. Installment loans and revolving credit accounts are governed by another law.

House Minority leader Robert E. Waldron, R—Grosse Pointe, floor manager of the home loan bill, said the "pressure for the passage will be even greater now," He said some legislators were holding out because of predictions interest rates would fall.

"These predictions have not come true," he said. "We need some remedies right now."

Waldron said the Michigan money market will get tighter and tighter, and new housing starts smaller and smaller if the Legislature refuses to boost the usury ceiling.

The Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council petitioned the Legislature to hike the interest rate in a hurry so more loans will become available to buy new homes and put carpenters, plumbers and others to work.

"MONEY is not going into any construction financing because of the 7 percent usury ceiling," the Council declared. "It must be raised if we are to prevent further economic decline."

Three months ago, the Senate passed a bill upping the rate to 9 percent for three years, but the measure has been stalled in the House because of strong opposition from state AFL-CIO President August (Gus) Scholle.

Waldron and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D—Detroit, proposed the 8½ percent maximum as a compromise plan, though Ryan's enthusiasm for the plan waned rather than increased in the wake of the prime rate jump.

"Some legislators feel interest rates have gotten out of hand," Ryan said. "It's pretty hard to say how they will react to this latest development."

The compromise bill is scheduled to come up for floor debate in the House soon, despite AFL-CIO efforts to keep it in the deep-freeze.

A KEY provision would limit pre-payment penalty points to one percent of the home loan total for three years, and outlaw this charge completely after that.

Penalty points are a fee charged by a bank or savings and loan association for paying off a mortgage ahead of time. They are assessed against both buyers and sellers of mortgaged homes.

NO RESTRICTION exists at present on the penalty point fee and some legislators have complained that financial institutions are going way over the 7 percent usury limit by adding the charge onto home loans.

A ruling by state Attorney General Frank J. Kelley also spurred the drive for a higher Michigan usury ceiling. Kelley held that Federal Housing Administration (FHA) mortgages are exempt from the state law restricting home loan interest rates to the 7 percent ceiling.

Labor Costs Tied to Inflation Spiral

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., One of the most powerful contributing factors to our apparently unending inflationary spiral is labor costs, but almost no effort has been made to hold them in check. Kennedy's productivity guideline limiting raises to 3.2% annually was ignored by both labor and management. And Johnson's jawbone tactics made just about as little impression, somewhat later on.

To bring this up to date, Nixon has approved fiscal and tax restraints on inflation, but not one positive move has been suggested to hold back labor costs. In fact, most Nixon Administration aides and even the White House itself have indicated their distaste for compulsory pay curbs, despite the fact that they are gaining favor with businessmen and bankers. Thus, as far as we can see, labor will continue to be left to its own devices to get as much as the market will bear in negotiated wage boosts and fringes.

Judging by the pay increases won in bargaining sessions during the first quarter of the current year, the inflationary trend in terms of labor costs appears to be stronger than ever. The rate of raises has been quickening over the past four years, but all records were broken during first-quarter 1969. The median hike for all lines of industry touched 19.8 cents an hour — 4.5 cents higher than for the same period in 1968 and close to 7 cents above two years ago.

BY FAR the highest median pay advance was reported in the construction industry, up 45.2 cents an hour compared with 28 cents for the same three-month span in 1968. Most building negotiations come up later in the year, but even the small samplings for the first quarter reveal how swift the upswing in construction costs has become. This is, of course, unhappy news for those waiting for a real new building boom to start. It may be that skyrocketing wage costs will be even more detrimental to the industry than the already tight money situation.

Next down the line from top-place construction in terms of sizable median pay raises for the first quarter were shipping and long-shore operations, 38 cents an hour; printing and publishing, 24.8 cents; and wholesale and retail trade, services, and transportation equipment, 24.6 cents each. Nonmanufacturing lines as a whole chalked up a median pay advance of 24.7 cents — up 5.2 cents from a year ago — and manufacturing settlements rose 18.4 cents — up 3.5 cents.

APRIL FIGURES from the Department of Commerce indicate a possible small slowdown in the long upsurge in labor costs, but the Department simultaneously issued a warning that no real trend can be read into statistics for one month alone. What was reported, however, was an April boost in the seasonally adjusted annual rate of personal income amounting to only $2.8 billion, a far cry from the $6.5 billion hike registered in March and just a trifle above the $2.6 billion for the same time twelve months ago. And it must be noted that this slowdown was for the most part attributed to less radical expansion of wage and salary totals.

But any way you look at it, the direction of labor costs is still toward higher ground. Forthcoming union negotiations are bound to bring about still further gains in wage settlements, while built-in raises contained in multi-year agreements will exert considerable upward pressure over the two or three years immediately ahead. Nor should it be forgotten that fringe concessions are constantly adding billions to management's costs, especially since more and more such benefits are being paid for solely by employers.

Thus, it may be assumed that the flank of the war against inflation involving labor expenditures can make no genuine headway over the period ahead. Fiscal and tax strategies apparently must still be used if runaway inflation is to be prevented.

'Cottony' Bugs Hit Area Trees

With reports growing locally of bugs attacking area maple trees, District Extension Horticultural Agent Gordon K. Dennis alerted homeowners to get ready to spray.

The pest is the Cottony Maple Scale — white cottony masses that form along the twigs and branches of maples. It may kill large branches or severely weaken trees.

According to Dennis, the insect cannot be reached with an insecticide now. "Nothing can penetrate the scale insect's cover," he said. However, in another two to three weeks the young crawlers will be hatching from eggs laid under the white masses, and when these appear it will be time to spray, he explained.

He suggested spraying about July 1 with "2 T/gal. of 50-percent wettable Sevin (2 lbs./100 gal.) or 2 T/gal. of four-flowable Sevin (1 qt./100 gal.)"

Kensington Park Braces For 'Fourth'

All eight parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority are in readiness for the Fourth of July week-end extending from Friday, July 4 through Sunday, July 6.

These parks offer a wide variety of recreation within the counties of Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Wayne. Locally, here is a summary of events and facilities:

Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson. This 4,300-acre site is one of the largest and most popular parks in southeastern Michigan. Swimming facilities include two bathing beaches along Kent Lake, each with dressing rooms, showers, first aid stations, food service and coin-operated lockers. There are 13-large picnic areas in the park, many with shelters and playground equipment.

Several miles of roadway provide a scenic drive and there is a boat rental building, two boat launching ramps, pier fishing, golf course, nature trails and a nature center. Swimming hours are 9 a.m. to dusk and only at the beach sites.

A special attraction for many visitors is a cruise aboard the "Island Queen" excursion boat, which is a replica of an old Mississippi Riverboat. The 45-minute tours are available noon through 6 p.m. Wednesdays through Sundays only and charges are 25-cents for children and 50-cents for adults.

Park hours are sunrise to 11 p.m. The park entrance is along the I-96 (Grand River) Freeway between New Hudson and Brighton. For additional information phone 685-1561 (Milford).

Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park, Dexter-Huron and Delhi Metropolitan Parks are three smaller picnic-playfield type parks along the scenic Huron River located from seven to twelve miles northwest of Ann Arbor and near the Village of Dexter. There are a few shelters and most picnic facilities are located in the wooded areas. Park hours are 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. For additional information phone 426-8211, the park office at Hudson Mills. The entrance to Hudson Mills is on North Territorial road between Dexter-Pinckney Road and Huron River Drive. The entrance to Delhi and Dexter-Huron are along Huron River Drive.
