

Record Centennial Edition Comes Out Monday

We've lived it for years and written about it for months. Next Monday we plan to unveil The Northville Record's Centennial Edition.

What is it? Who will get it? What will it cost?

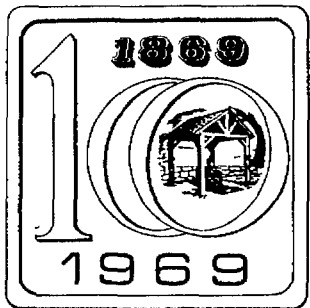

We think it's the most complete history of the Northville area community ever compiled. It will contain six separate sections totaling some 148 pages colorfully enclosed in a book-stock cover, printed on long-lasting white stock and all wrapped-up in a specially-designed, see-through package.

The six sections will cover the history of The Record, churches, schools and government, general history, business and industry and organizations.

All subscribers to The Northville Record-Now News will receive one copy of the edition without additional charge.

The Centennial Edition will go on sale at newsstands Monday, July 14 at one dollar per copy.

Delivery of the special editions to subscribers will also begin Monday.

Because of the size of the Centennial Edition, arrangements have been made with the post office to spread out delivery over four days — Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The regular edition of The Record-Now News will be published on its regular schedule next Wednesday. Therefore, some subscribers will receive their Centennial Edition ahead of their regular newspaper.

It will be possible to buy the special Centennial Edition without purchasing the regular newspaper, or vice versa.

Because of the historical value of the publication, many organizations have already ordered hundreds of extra copies. The Record proposes to send many to libraries, agencies and other sources for preservation and circulation of Northville's history.

Monday morning Centennial Editions will be distributed to the following area business places for sale at one dollar each:

Township OKs Industry, Denies Multiple Zoning

NEW RECORD LOOK? — This is Architect William P. Lindhout's rendering of what The Record building might look like 'next' year after preliminary study of potential remodeling schemes. Extensive interior renovation including installation of modern composition facilities as well as offices on the main and second floors of The Record were completed during the past two years. The exterior, as well as a third floor area, are next in line for expansion and improvement plans outlined as The Record celebrates its Centennial year. In the drawing above Architect Lindhout has taken the main entrance and moved it from the corner to Center Street. The first floor area is covered with an aggregate surfacing of granite chips in plastic matrix. Eight huge wood timbers extend from a weathered textured plywood crown with wood shingles covering the area other than that surface covered by bronze reflective glass. Opal glass lights ring the exterior and extend up the main street corner for better exterior lighting. Lindhout calls the proposed plan a "combination of old and new and a compromise between warmth and texture in modern materials".

Two zoning appeals were heard — one was denied and another sent back to planners for public hearing — and rezoning of property along Haggerty Road was approved by a series of split votes that forced the Northville Township Board into a five-hour session Tuesday night.

Before the meeting ended at 1 a.m. the board also approved a sewer pay-back plan for the Levitt development, axed a proposal to permit the township police officer to enforce state laws, tabled a firearms ordinance, and approved an anti-litter statute

Here were the decisions on the zoning matters:

• Denied the appeal of Ross B. Northrop to permit rezoning of 11 acres of property, just south of his golf course at Sheldon and Six Mile Roads, for erection of "high class" townhouses.

• Approved the request of Stewart Oldford to force the township planning commission to hold a public hearing on his rezoning proposal for a 30-acre site off Seven Mile Road, across from the proposed Levitt development

• Approved the rezoning of four parcels of land along Haggerty Road near Five and Six Mile roads from residential to industrial and business classifications.

It was the latter zoning matter — last on the agenda — that led to three tie votes, each of which was broken by the vote of Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, before the matter was settled.

Recommended for approval by the planning commission and the planning consultant, the proposal was immediately challenged by Trustee Joseph Straub when it came up for board action Tuesday. The trustee argued that homeowners along Haggerty — many of whom, he emphasized, have been citizens of Northville Township longer than some of the planners — were entitled to protection of their homes. Rezoning, he said, would drive them from their homes.

Furthermore, Straub noted that 70-percent of the area in question lies within the Plymouth School District and hence offers little tax base, with industrial and business development, for the Northville schools. If the planners were concerned about a good industrial tax base for the Northville school district, he suggested the planners concern themselves with land within the district.

He noted that the township board had earlier denied a zoning request because it constituted "spot zoning." This zoning, he declared, will put

Board Unveils $2 Million Addition Plan for Schools

Preliminary plans for nearly $2 million dollars in additions to Northville schools were unveiled Monday night at a special session of the school board.

Less than two dozen residents attended the informal public meeting, but those who came voiced an intense interest in the building program.

The meeting held in the board's new quarters in the former community building, was chaired by Robert Froelich in the absence of President Stanley Johnston.

Schools affected by proposed additions include Moraine and Amerman elementary, Cooke Junior and Northville High schools. Main Street Elementary will be remodeled.

Des Hamill, representing the architect firm of Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates, Inc., of Livonia, reviewed the plans with the board and audience.

The additions are aimed at correcting those things that have been found to be inadequate in the schools besides increasing the capacity of each building

Superintendent of Schools Raymond Spear told the audience that after the proposed additions to the buildings are completed, the room per acre ratio will have been reached and any new building programs will take the form of new schools

Earl Busard, business manager, stressed that all useable space would be built in the additions since existing corridors will be used as a base for most of the building projects.

Preliminary building plans for Moraine Elementary include seven additional classrooms, instructional centrum, rest rooms and a teacher planning-lounge area. The addition will be octagonal, located at the front of the school

NEWS BRIEFS

THE DROWNING of a Troy youth who was sucked into a culvert while playing in a rain-swollen drainage ditch last week has prompted Northville city officials to study similar ditch-culvert situations here in hopes of reaching a solution. First suggested solution—erection of fences or grates—might prevent a similar tragedy, officials noted, but it also could result in clogged drains because of the debris collecting against fences.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE July Clearance sales already? They begin today in Northville with more than a dozen local stores running money-saving specials on summer merchandise in Section C of this edition.

NOISY CONSTRUCTION work early Sunday morning upset Northville Estates residents, who Monday night urged the Council to revise the city ordinance to prohibit construction on Sunday. Council members sympathized with residents and appeared to agree that Sunday construction should be banned but when someone asked about the homeowner who may want to swing a hammer or wield a saw about his home on the Sabbath, both councilman and citizens balked. The matter was tabled pending further study.

PRICES for copies of Northville's city master plan have been reduced from $5 to $1 to encourage purchase by citizens who want to learn more about future plans of the community. Citizens who complained Monday night that they have been unable to get satisfactory explanation about sections of the book-thick plan were told officials "would be happy" to meet with groups to explain any part of it. Copies of the plan cost the city more than $5 each but "it's better to get them in the hands of the citizens that to have them collect dust in the basement," councilmen concluded.

WE ASKED THREE prominent state and national citizens to provide us with letters we might publish in our Centennial Edition next week. And we told them early this year that the letters must arrive in March for publication in the July 17 edition. Governor William Milliken was very prompt; so was Free Press Managing Editor Frank Angelo, who serves as president of the Michigan Press Association this year. Their letters are properly displayed in Section A of the six-section edition. Alone and back in Section E is a letter of congratulations that didn't arrive until last week. It's from President Richard Nixon.

Police Enforcement Law Stirs Controversy

Northville Township's one-man police department was the center of another controversial issue Tuesday night as the township board considered whether or not to permit the officer to enforce state laws.

The debate, ending in defeat of a proposal to permit enforcement, was sparked by a letter from Representative Marvin Stempien who noted that recently enacted legislation permits a township to permit enforcement.

Trustee Richard Mitchell and Treasurer Alex Lawrence, who argued in favor of the proposal, found themselves on the losing end of the debate as Trustees Bernard Baldwin and Thomas Armstrong slashed the proposal as a needless, potentially costly step.

"What state law do we need to enforce?" Baldwin asked repeatedly, drawing no answers except the remark later by Trustee Joseph Straub that "We can't anticipate what law might be violated."

Months ago, argued Baldwin, the board was told that a full-time officer was necessary to enforce local ordinances, and now the same officer is to be asked to enforce still more laws under a 40-hour week.

Former Northville Girl Wed in Illinois

The Village Church of Barrington in Barrington, Illinois was the setting for the wedding of Joy Anne Kadey and Gerald Michael Frederick. The couple were married at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 14.

For the ceremony the altar was decorated with two tall topiary trees scattered with American Beauty roses, candelabra and greens. Large roses, made from green leaves, decorated the pews.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Joseph W. Hanscom of St. Petersburg, Florida, uncle of the bride. The challenge was given by Dr. Carl J. Bihl, of Rossmore, California, another uncle of the bride.

Formerly of Northville, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Kadey of Barrington. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Frederick of Bethany, Oklahoma.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a cotillion style gown with the traditional long, pointed sleeve and train. It was fashioned from white peau de soie with the back detail and train in silk organza. The gown was accented by re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearls. A cathedral length mantilla veil bordered in lace was secured by a headpiece of white lace.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

The bride also held a lace handkerchief which her grandmother Kadey had carried for her 50th wedding anniversary. She wore the gift of the bridegroom, a star sapphire ring.

Serving as maid of honor was Judi Bihl of Long Beach, California, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaid was Kris Frogner of Northville and junior bridesmaid was Jacki Kadey, sister of the bride. Laura Kulkis, of Hoffman Estates, Illinois was the flower girl.

The attendants of the bride also were dressed in white peau de soie. The wedding band collars of their princess gowns were beaded with red flowers, crystals and pearls. The gowns had cap sleeves and featured a full length panel train falling from the shoulders. The attendants wore short white gloves and carried one long stem American Beauty rose with extra red petals surrounding the center rose. They wore a red rose and baby's breath in their hair.

The flower girl wore a long, white silk organza dress with red ruffles down the front and a red floor-length sash in back. She also carried an enlarged long stem rose.

Mrs. Dean Ballard, aunt of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Because" and "One Heart, One Hand." Another aunt, Mrs. Joseph W. Hanscom from St. Petersburg, Florida, served as organist.

Roger Frederick served his brother as best man. Ton Dodd, of Missouri was groomsman and Dave Ballard of North Carolina, cousin of the bride, was junior groomsman. The ring bearer was Allyn Decker from Michigan and ushers were Mr. Norman Little of Iowa and Mr. Lance Kulkis of Illinois, the bride's cousin.

The mauve pink floor length gown worn by the mother of the bride was made of heavy re-embroidered lace over peau de soie. The collar, front band and the long full sleeves were matching silk organza, as was the Dior rose and rose buds in her headpiece.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a light blue silk worsted floor-length gown. Her matching lace jacket was double breasted with three quarter length sleeves. She wore a small blue hat. Both mothers carried white butterfly orchids attached to their purses.

Cathy Ballard, a cousin from North Carolina, had charge of the bride's book. Others assisting at the reception were Cindy Haynes of Northville, Cindy Hultman of Illinois and Rachel and Rebecca Goeing from New York. The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the lower auditorium of the church. Then dinner was served at 7 p.m. at the bride's home for 100 guests.

The couple returned to Oklahoma where the groom is presently employed for the summer. A delayed honeymoon in August to Florida will precede their senior year in college.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Northville High School who will be attending the University of Oklahoma this fall. Her husband, a graduate of Putnam High School in Oklahoma, will be attending Bethany College.

Safety Bike Checks Slated

A safety check on bicycles, following a special talk by a representative of the Novi Police Department, will accent the upcoming bicycle Registration and Safety Clinic in Novi. Following the safety check all bicycles will be tagged and registered to aid in identification if the bicycle is lost or stolen.

The Novi Youth Assistance Committee will sponsor the clinic at the Novi Baptist Church, Eleven Mile and Taft Road, on Saturday from 12 to 3 p.m. Later on August 9, another clinic will be held for youngsters living in the Willowbrook area. Both locations have been carefully chosen so that young people with bicycles can avoid crossing roads with heavy traffic, officials note.

The Novi Youth Assistance Committee is the new name assumed by the Novi Child Youth Protective Service. There are several reasons for the change in name explains Mrs. Herbert Farah, chairman of the committee. The group is one of 26 branches of the Oakland County Community Service organization which is trying to unite and consolidate its members, she explains. Also the committee wishes to put more emphasis on assistance, not protection.

Out of the Past

FIVE YEARS AGO...

An amendment to the city charter to replace the justice of the peace system with a municipal court will probably go to voters in the November election, it was announced. The amendment has the strong support of City Attorney Phillip Ogilvie and Judge Charles McDonald.

Northville's board of education held its organizational meeting for the new year and elected James Kipfer as president to succeed William Crump. Attending their first meeting as members were Eugene Cook and E.O. Weber, elected in June.

Northville Rotarians were seeking homes for 100 foreign exchange students who had been living with American foster parents during the past year.

TEN YEARS AGO...

City Engineer Harold Penn was given the green light to prepare specifications for the $300,000 water system improvement program and the paving of South Wing, Fairbrook and First streets and Wing Court.

Ely Peterson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Peterson of Fry road, is one of the 20 winners of the Detroit News carrier scholarships.

The Northville High School band was to have a new look as it prepared for the second concert of the annual summer series at the city ball park.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

Cost of the Seven Mile Road cut-off which was scheduled for completion in December was set for $145,053, according to the construction bids received by the Wayne County Road Commission. The cut-off would run west from Northville Road just north of Rathburn Chevrolet Sales to the intersection with Sheldon Road, just less than half a mile long.

Russell Amerman, superintendent of Northville Public Schools, with a group of "prospectors" went gold-hunting in the mountains of Montana. He went there the previous summer trying to pick up the trail of numerous bags of gold believed to have been stolen and hidden a half century ago by bandits that never returned to their loot.

Albert Carpenter complained to Sheriff Andrew C. Baird's road patrol that thieves stole some of his pigs from his farm at 6545 Cogswell. # Law Threatens Ambulance Services

Recently enacted state legislation regulating ambulance services could place Northville and Novi in a predicament that could conceivably cost as much as $70,000 to resolve.

Legislation went into effect last week Tuesday.

The new law requires that ambulances have two qualified attendants, thus placing pressure on private operators who previously were able to employ an attendant and helper—usually a part-time employee—to make their runs. And oftentimes the attendant was the funeral director himself who was only able to provide the service in conjunction with his mortuary business.

New legislation, in combination with existing labor acts, demands that he increase his personnel to provide ambulance services while potential revenues remain unchanged unless he hikes his rates.

Casterline Ambulance Service, 122

West Dunlap Street—operated by Fred Casterline along with Casterline Funeral Home—recently received a temporary license from the state in order to continue its service.

The only local ambulance service in the Northville-Nowi area, it is one of the few independent ambulance services remaining in the metropolitan area. Within the past five years, ambulance business services in Plymouth, South Lyon, Milford, Walled Lake, Howell and Brighton have been discontinued because of the razor thin profit margin.

Michigan's new law shaves this margin still more.

Recently, a related problem was partially resolved by the cities of Northville and Novi when these municipalities agreed to guarantee at least partial payment of bills for ambulance services requested by their police departments, primarily at scenes of traffic accidents. Previously, some parties receiving ambulance services requested by police failed to pay their bills.

Northville Township failed to take similar action and, while Casterline declines to say how he may treat calls originating in the township, there is a growing possibility that township service will be discontinued.

Northville Police Chief Sam Elkins and Novi Chief Lee BeGole, whose departments frequently work in emergency situations requiring ambulance service, praise Casterline for its prompt service.

But how long that service will continue is questionable in view of the new legislation.

"We've received our license and we're going to try to stay in the ambulance business, at least temporarily," Casterline explains.

He adds that the new law combined with existing labor regulations on the number of hours and hourly salary will increase his overhead for the service which, in itself, couldn't survive in a community of this size without being complemented by the mortuary business.

"We'd give the city as much notice as possible if we found we would have to discontinue the service," he observes.

Other small communities have found, however, that replacing a private ambulance service is a costly — and often hazardous — transition. The City of Plymouth this spring established a municipal ambulance service by adding three men to its fire department, providing extensive training for a crew of 15 volunteer and regular firemen and by acquiring an ambulance—all of which cost approximately $50,000, according to Fire Chief George Schoenneman.

Neither Northville nor Novi, however, have full-time firemen so they would either have to create a rescue squad—apparently impractical because of the size of the communities—or assign the responsibility to the police department or retain an outside agent.

Local police departments probably would require four to five additional men to assume the role—a requirement which, along with the cost of equipment, would represent an investment of up to $70,000 at the outset. In addition, this arrangement could cause some police manpower difficulties.

Police loads are increasing regularly without added areas of responsibility and the demand to provide ambulance service seemingly could become a real stumbling block.

Outside agencies, because of the larger areas they cover, are able to operate more profitably than a local private service but because they cover larger areas service delays are common. And delays in emergency services are hard to transform into dollars-and-cents.

Board Unveils

Each classroom will contain 820 square feet. Folding walls will form large group instruction areas of 1,640 square feet when the wall is pulled back.

All classrooms will contain coat rack storage spaces and doors to the exterior with direct access to the centrum. Student capacity will be over 700.

The preliminary cost estimate of the addition is $341,500.

Amerman addition plans envision four self-contained classrooms, four team teaching areas, a multi-purpose room, office and storage space and restrooms. A telescoping stage is included in the multi-purpose room.

Areas that will undergo remodeling will yield an instructional materials center, audio-visual storage, instructional materials workroom, speech room and remedial reading room.

Capacity will be 790. The addition to Amerman will be constructed on the west end of the building at a preliminary cost estimate of $410,000. The remodeling will cost an estimated $45,000, making the total cost of the project $455,000.

Cooke Junior High will include seven additional classrooms with adjoining project-study rooms, band room, ensemble room, band office and library, instrument storage areas, four small practice rooms, shop storage room, shop paint area, receiving and storage room, exterior and athletic storage room, team locker room, boys general locker room, boys shower room and restrooms.

Capacity will be 900 students. The proposed facilities will be added to the east side of Cooke Junior High. The preliminary cost estimate is $388,000.

Northville High School additions will be built within the periphery of the existing structure.

New facilities will include two science rooms, two drafting rooms, two commercial rooms, hygiene room, arts and craft room, vocal room, two language rooms, shift room for use by all academics and additional English, social studies and math rooms.

Sixteen rooms will be added, bringing the number of teaching stations to 52.

The increased capacity of the high school will be 1,500 students. Preliminary cost figures for the addition is $722,000.

Main Street Elementary remodeling will include repairing the main entry, additional kindergarten room, permanent faculty room, converting a pair of classrooms to a large group instruction area, improving acoustics and lighting in the gym, rest rooms, faculty parking area and improving bus loading facility.

The architect's plans for the remodeling are expected to be completed in August. No cost estimate has been made yet.

Spear said the board will be operating on a "bid before bond" basis. The additions have been designed to include facilities needed to do the job.

The bond issue vote, according to Spear, is scheduled for November, with construction of the high school addition beginning in January. Projected completion date is January, 1971.

Main Street, Moraine, Amerman and Cooke construction also is slated to begin in January, with the projected completion date set for September, 1970.

forecasted," he asserted. "Now we're branching out. We're moving in the direction of increasing tremendously the cost without knowing where we are going." And, he added, the board still must hear the recommendation of the police study committee.

When the police officer, Ronald Nisun, attempted to speak on the matter, Baldwin cut him off by saying, "this is a policy matter for the board." Later, at the conclusion of the meeting, Nisun asked and received permission to speak. He urged the board, which had defeated a motion to permit enforcement, "to reconsider and give it a six-months trial." Within the six months period, the board can weigh advantages against disadvantages and review any recommendation that the police study committee might make, he added. He suggested that traffic offense tickets could actually produce additional revenue for the township.

The board heard his appeal, made no comments and adjourned the meeting.

In an earlier related matter, the board took no action on a proposed ordinance, urged by Nisun, governing the use of firearms in the township but it quickly approved an anti-litter ordinance, also urged by the police officer.

Board members also approved a "pay-back" plan for Levitt and Sons which will reduce the developer's on-site sewer tap fee by $60 each as a concession for the company's financing of off-site sewer construction (extension of the sewer lateral to Levitt's development between Seven and Eight Mile roads, just east of the city).

On the basis of proposed units in the Levitt development total savings by the developer will be $66,300.

It was noted by the board, however, that it could not guarantee the developer that the future tap fee will remain at $400.

Pacing Derby Offers Downs' Richest Purse

Detroit area harness racing fans may see one of the top imports competing in the United States in the 19th renewal of the Michigan Pacing Derby at Northville Downs on Wednesday night (July 16).

The stake will be the richest of the series and probably will have a gross value of $20,000, if the starting field reaches the total of 10 expected by Racing Secretary Harry Peterson.

Northville Downs management boosted the net value of the stake to $15,000 this year from the $12,000 of 1968 and the $10,000 of 1967. The added monies for nomination and starting fees should add another $5,000.

Stanley Dancer, the driving wizard from New Egypt, N. J., has nominated four for the Derby including the brilliant Adapter, who was shipped in from New Zealand during the winter.

Adapter, who was one of the best Down Under, promptly showed his ability when he won a $25,000 stake at Roosevelt Raceway in 1:58.4. And that stamps him as the early favorite in the Derby, should Dancer bring him west.

Others expected to start are: Cashing Beauty, who has been whipping all of the Northville speedsters; Guest Speaker, Kenny Creed, Mister Margay, Mr. Relco, Robert E. Adios, Rusty C, Shiaswassee Squire, Six Rex Pick and Way To Go.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Samuel Harkins Little, where are you?

Record Managing Editor Jack Hoffman has been seeking an answer to this question for more than six years.

You'd have to know Hoffman to fully understand what it means to hear him admit that there is a question he cannot answer—even after six years of searching.

Sam Little, as you may know, was the founder of The Northville Record one hundred years ago.

And next week we are celebrating The Record's centennial with a special 144-page edition that recaps not only the history of newspapering in Northville, but also our century-old school system, our churches, government, organizations, businesses and industries.

If there's one person most responsible for the editorial content in this 100-year edition, it's Jack Hoffman.

Since plans first began several years ago for compiling "the best and most complete history" of the total Northville community, Hoffman has searched libraries, newspaper morgues, cemeteries, photo files, telephone books and conducted countless interviews to find and report every detail of the past.

We at The Record think he has succeeded far beyond any reasonable expectations. And we hope that when you receive your special edition next week, that you'll agree.

But Hoffman ... well, he's a perfectionist, a real historian who is bugged by a single unanswerable fact. And his fingers were slow and clumsy on his typewriter as he composed the lead to the story marking the founding of The Record ....

"Samuel Harkins Little, founder of the 100-year-old Northville Record, was one of Northville's most ambitious inhabitants. Yet, but for the newspaper that survives today, little real evidence remains to prove that he succeeded in life or, indeed, that he even lived and died .... The Northville Record may be his only epitaph".

To the average reader of history the information that Hoffman has gathered on the life of Sam Little would appear to be far more than the average reader knows about himself. But there's one fact missing. Hoffman can't find Little's grave.

The story of how he tried to find the resting place of The Record's founder is an interesting bit of history in itself.

In an effort to find a living relative of Sam Little's Hoffman searched everywhere. He wrote to New York, where one of Little's sisters was supposed to have moved. He received no reply.

Then he was told that Sam's sister was living in Plymouth. It developed that Mrs. Frank Dunn of Plymouth is the daughter of Sam's brother, William. She proved helpful in recalling many facts, but not the whereabouts of Sam.

Hoffman then struck upon the idea of calling every "Little" in the Detroit and Northville area telephone books. Imagine explaining over and over that you are looking for the grave of Samuel Harkins Little.

This proved unsuccessful, as did more letters to New York and Oklahoma.

Finally, a search for death certificates uncovered those of brothers, Andrew and William, as well as Sam's parents in Lansing.

Several visits over the years to examine the Burton Historical Collections in the Detroit Library made Hoffman a familiar and well-known figure at the library. On one of his visits he learned that Mrs. Bushnell, a daughter of Andrew Little, worked at the library until the late fifties. He also discovered that she had died in 1964—after he had been visiting the library for many months.

Next Jack explored the files of the Lansing State Journal, where he found nothing about Sam, but more information on brother Andrew. He examined 10 years of the daily editions of the Muskegon Chronicle, where he came across a poem written by Samuel Harkins Little, referred to as a "Muskegon author".

He carefully examined every tombstone in every cemetery in Lansing, Battle Creek and Muskegon. After many months of this kind of searching he accidentally found the grave of Sam Little's wife—in Milford. William Little is buried at Oakwood cemetery on Cady street in Northville. The late Andrew, who became more famous as a journalist than Sam, once reported on a visit to Northville that "Sam died several years ago in Muskegon" (in the twenties).

Jack Hoffman knows that Sam Little is dead, but he's convinced The Record founder was never buried.

"He probably ended up like most publishers," he remarked as we put the finishing touches on the Centennial Edition.

That can't be all bad.

A great job, just the same, Jack.

Carlos Bids Farewell

Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Carlos Heinemann, a Northville exchange student who returned to his South American home Saturday along with another exchange student, Monica Alsina. Carlos lived with the Conrad Kawel family. Two other foreign students, Diane Ajo of Argentina and Valeria Watt left for home earlier.

To the Editor:

I would like to say goodbye to friends and families who for one reason or another I have not been able to visit during my last days in Northville.

Northville will always hold a fond place in my memory, especially because of the many fine people who made my visit such a pleasant one. Whenever the opportunity presents itself I will be sure to come back and renew old acquaintances and revisit this Big Little town.

On behalf of myself and the other three exchange students, may I say thank you for the community's hospitality and for the reception we received at Northville High School.

Carlos Heinemann

First Time for Flag

To the Editor:

Did you notice our Northville Flag had a place of honor with Old Glory and the Michigan State Flag on the float with Abe Lincoln in the 4th of July parade? It's incidents like this that become part of local history. It was the flag's first parade.

Thanks to all who planned, built and marched and made the 4th meaningful at home.

Best wishes for another parade next year and better weather.

Sincerely,
Bea Carlson

Proud to Carry Flag

To the Editor:

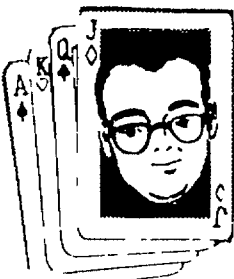

After noticing the State of Michigan American Legion Convention July 17, 18, 19 and 20th in Detroit and after reading the letter to the editor, headlined "Old Glory to Evoke Memories," my own memories carried me back 30 years.

In 1939 the national American Legion convention was held in Detroit and I recalled wearing a Legion uniform (navy blue suit, sailor hat, brown shoes and gloves) and carrying our American flag, Old Glory, at the head of the Michigan Nurses and the Ragan, Lide Post. (The post is named for two Harper nurses, Mabel Ragan and Julia Lide, both of whom were members of my U.S. Base Hospital No. 17, Harper Hospital Unit and who died in France). We marched from the old gallery on Jefferson up Woodward Avenue.

The bands were excellent. And as I carried Old Glory none could have been more proud. I was so thrilled to be the flag carrier I could have marched right on up to the Upper Peninsula.

When Carlos Heinemann, a 17-year-old exchange student from Montevideo, Uruguay, returned to South America Saturday after a six months' visit here he was brimming with emotion:

"It was summer when I left Uruguay," he sighed, "and winter when I arrived here...very cold. It is warm now, very nice, but when I return it will be winter. I will remain only a short while and then go to Germany...to attend (a university). It will be winter again. I prefer warm weather."

For those of us who would bottle up our Michigan winter and sell it wholesale to Africa, Carlos' emotion is understandable. But maybe we should bottle up some of our other unattractive attributes as well, in view of Carlos' use of the word "cold" to describe another aspect of his visit here.

"Perhaps I expected too much," he said. "At first there wasn't an open receiving; they (students) didn't seek a relationship with me. Friendships were difficult. At home everyone would get close to a stranger, ask him questions; here, not so much at first but, later, they become very friendly."

The South American youth was asked to make other candid observations:

On adults—They were very helpful...especially those at the high school because they were the first I met.

On teachers—They are much like ours—they get close to students, others not so much—the same as in our country.

On school buildings—Very impressive. Your laboratories are very nice (i.e., language lab); they are complete, well equipped. (first impression of school: orderly, very clean).

Classroom instruction—First impression, messed up...probably because I had language trouble at first. (He had 11 years of English in his own country—but little conversation experience). I am not sure that we learn more in our schools...but studies are more concentrated...they give you subjects you must take, no extra curricular activities. (Choir band and gym occur after school). We are more strict in our schools, here not so much...no long hair. We must wear uniforms.

On sports—At first I was very surprised by the sports involvement in school. I went to a basketball game and heard all the screaming and thought it was great...wished we had sports like this...but, now, maybe I think it is too much.

On students—I was surprised. I found there is an international mind among students. They are very much interested in what is happening outside their country (even though some believed Uruguay was a European country), perhaps because of Vietnam.

On dating—It is very different. We do not date a girl unless we are serious. Dating in our country is a group thing. When we say, "Let's go out," it means go out in a group.

On his foster home like—My family here was much like my own; I was used to them because they were like my own. They treated me as their own.

On economy—I'm afraid I will not be able to tell my friends about poor. I have heard about it but have not seen it. (Similarly, Carlos believes he would be wrong to describe Northville as a typical small North American town).

On religion—In your country religion appears to be an outward thing. You have full churches on Sunday. In our country religion is a personal thing and I have never seen a full church. Of course, here I have seen only what happens on Sunday."

By ROLLY PETERSON

"MacKenna's Gold" isn't likely to win any Academy awards, because it's not a turgid drama of the old west such as "High Noon," with life-size characters locked in a death struggle. It's more of a spectacular, a long one at that, in which the characters are more than life size.

The movie is more along the lines of "The Big Country" and "Giant" which capitalized on bigness, brilliant color and an array of stars. In MacKenna's Gold, Gregory Peck and Omar Sharif are the protagonists, and a string of stars back them up, some in cameo appearances, such as Raymond Massey, Edward G. Robinson, and Lee J. Cobb.

Nevertheless, "Gold" is a good adventure story, based on legend, which takes on real dimensions because motives and character are allied in a plausible bond.

Use of a narrator, although it seems to abridge, gives the movie a realistic dimension. The story which we are to see, he says, begins in 1874 and centers around an ancient legend about a canyon of gold.

The Conquistadors called it Canyon Del Oro, or Canyon of Gold. To Americans, the canyon was known as The Lost Adam, because a man named Adam, led blindfolded by an Apache, had seen the canyon. But 'Apaches who viewed the canyon as a sacred place, had burned out Adam's eyes. Thus he could only tell of the sight, but could lead no one there.

As MacKenna, once a prospector and now a sheriff, Gregory Peck plays Gregory Peck. But is a romance of intriguing dimensions.

handsome. He has given up the search for The Lost Adam, secure in the knowledge that there is no gold. After all, he searched every inch of the territory for three years, tracked down every lead, and never found the gold.

Driven and maddened by the lust for easy wealth, however, men still pursue the Lost Adam. And the latest story has it that the map carried by an old Apache chief indeed shows where the canyon may be found.

Chance brings the sheriff and a band of renegades together. As the hostage of Colorado (Omar Sharif), MacKenna is forced to lead the way to what the desperadoes believe is The Lost Adam.

Surely, what happens to men in their quest for gold is old news. It is a part of the old west and has been the subject of hundreds, if not thousands, of western movies.

Still, "MacKenna's Gold," brings new excitement to an old story, primarily because it pits every man against every other. No one is to be trusted. Definitely, not the weird assortment of desperadoes, including lionine Apaches, Mexicans and Americans.

Upstanding men in the community—a newspaper publisher and preacher, to name a few—also fall thrall to gold. Even the daughter of the town's revered judge momentarily is blinded by the glitter.

Not everything is perfect in Carl Foreman's screen play; adapted from the novel by Will Henry. There is little that is novel. But is a romance of intriguing dimensions.

Summer Recreation Can't Be Left to Chance

As a recreation program in neighboring Plymouth unfortunately bites the dust, activity under the auspices of the City of Northville and Northville Township is growing at a swift pace with more people apparently having more fun in the history of organized recreation here.

Which has got to make you wonder what's fun this summer in Plymouth.

The turning-point for the Plymouth program was a recent election where voters decided against a one-mill tax levy for the community-school oriented operation.

in the Northville City-Township Recreation program by Director Robert Prom.

Slow-pitch softball and a boys' baseball program that de-emphasizes the oftentimes unwieldy attentions of adults continue successfully on the local level.

Slow-pitch is attracting growing numbers of adult men and its designed to fill the void developing in the traditional fast-pitch due to the inability to produce enough hurlers.

The game, which has become increasingly popular in the 1960's, de-emphasizes pitching adding considerable scoring—which is more appeal to spectators—and action. Oddly enough, your real good slow-pitch teams build on their defenses and consistently win the high-scoring contest simply because they make less mistakes handling considerably more chances.

Prom's baseball program for boys—the Knothole leagues—strictly enforces rules where adults, outside of umpires and a supervisor, are barred from the playing area. All boys get equal time in the game and generally, whether you win or lose is discounted in favor of how you play the game—which is similar to an idea a scribe had once upon a time, sometime ago.

Too often leagues for the little (more commonly, Little Leagues) become over-organized with adults doing everything from taking tickets to seeking Supreme Court action on a decision at first.

It satisfies a lot of frustrated adults and frustrates a lot of innocent youngsters which is anything but a good time for the kids.

And the program should be for the young with maturing bodies and minds; not the immature minds of old bodies.

Slow-Pitch Battle For Second Place

Three teams continue to battle for second place in the Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League while defending champion Northville Lanes extended its undefeated string to 11 last week.

Perkins Engines (7-3), Northville Drug-Casterline's (6-2) and Parker Electric (5-3) all remain bunched behind Northville Lanes who is three-and-a-half games ahead of its nearest challenger.

Northville Drugs-Casterline's strengthened its position last week Monday with a 19-3 victory over winless Necomers' Club. Bill Hopping had two home runs for the winners while teammates Steve Juday and Jim Stevens had one each. Dan Conley homered for Necomers.

Parker exploded for seven runs in the first inning of its game last week Tuesday with Northville Lanes easing its way to a 18-4 victory. Parker's Jim Belz had four hits—a home run, double and two singles—while teammate Ron Hilier had three singles and a home run. Ron Bier also homered for Parker.

Last Wednesday Perkins claimed a forfeit from Erie Trailer and on Thursday, Northville Lanes edged Plymouth State Home, 13-8. George Orwin had a home run and double for State Home.

In action the week of June 23, Erie Trailer scored three runs in the last inning on June 24 to beat State Home, 13-10, while on June 25 Northville Drug-Casterline's defeated Northville Lanes, 18-9.

Little Leaguers Race to Wire

Races in both divisions of the Novi Little League apparently will go right down to the wire before deciding who will meet in the World Series to begin Tuesday.

Michigan Tractor presently has a one-and-a-half game lead over second-place Novi Party Store in the Red Division while Novi Rexall Drug has a one-game lead over Wroten Brothers in the Blue Division. Action this week could scramble the standings with the leading teams in each division

Ceremonies At Facility Announced

Special dedication ceremonies will be held Monday and Tuesday for the newly-completed Novi Little League Field at Eleven Mile Road and Beck Road.

On Monday, the new facility will be featured on WXYZ-TV's (Channel 7) Morning Show, according to league officials.

Official dedication will be Tuesday — opening day of the World Series — with ceremonies beginning at 5 p.m. The series, however, will be played at Novi Elementary School with the new field still in the process of completion.

A group of about 20 Indians will perform during the dedication with tentative plans to tape the event for television.

Largemouth Caught By Boy Fisherman In Man-made Lake

Meadowbrook Lake apparently is coming of age.

Twelve-year-old Doug Abraham, using worms off a spinning rod, landed a 13-inch largemouth bass in the man-made lake last Thursday.

Doug, a seventh-grader at Our Lady of Victory School in Northville, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Abraham, 22685 Ennshore.

Meadowbrook Lake is located within Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision off Meadowbrook Road near Ten Mile Road.

The theory apparently in Plymouth is that if the people want a recreation program, they'll pass the millage election to finance it. Politically, it's proposed to be as simple as that allowing a municipality to omit recreation from its operations claiming that "it's a program decided by the people."

But in our situation, city and township officials have recognized recreation as a need as basic as law enforcement and they are willing to provide the finances rather than make it an issue.

And who knows more the value of summer recreation than a youngster—a non-voter.

A couple trends in recreation becoming evident throughout the nation are proving here as incorporated

Reef Dream Season... Poof

A natural favorite to win the Free Press League championship after a brilliant first round showing, Reef Manufacturing of Northville has discovered that it's now also a favored target for rivals either anxious to gain a playoff berth of their own or just to brighten their season by pulling an upset.

Reef dropped a doubleheader to defending champ Redford Township on Sunday for its fourth consecutive loss—and third without a victory in the second round of competition—after having coasted to a first round title with a 9-1 record on June 29.

Playing three contests within the last week Coach Dick Willing's squad suffered two one-run decisions and fell into the league basement with seven games remaining before the best two-out-of-three championship playoff to begin July 23.

Reef lost its second round opener last week Wednesday to Garden City Darin Construction, 3-2, before losing twice on Sunday to Redford, 7-2 and 1-0. A game with Farmington's Keating Realty slated for Friday was postponed because of rain and rescheduled for this Saturday afternoon.

The local team is to play six games within the next week before concluding its regular season in a contest next week Friday with Redford.

Reef will meet Livonia Cardinal on Friday at Henry Ford Field and then host Keating on Saturday in a make-up contest beginning at 2 p.m. at High School Field. On Sunday it will play a twilight doubleheader with Darin at Henry Ford and next Wednesday it meets Keating again, this time at Cass Benton. All games but the Saturday affair are slated to begin at 6 p.m.

The string of losses, coincidentally, comes on the heels of nine straight victories for Reef in sort of a riches-to rags transformation.

Sunday's finale with Redford was scoreless for six innings before a run was scored with two outs in the seventh.

Redford won the opener, 7-2, before claiming the 1-0 victory in the nightcap in a twinbill originally to be played at Thurston but moved to Redford because of wet grounds.

Redford combined three hits, a fielder's choice and a passed ball in the fourth inning of the first game to jump off a 2-0 lead before coming back with three runs in the fifth.

Reef tallied twice in the fifth on

Stan Nirider's bases-loaded single but Redford added two more itself in the sixth.

Jeff Taylor pitched for Reef in the opener and was reached for 11 hits while striking out eight and walking one. Taylor had four of his strikeouts in the first two innings as the contest remained scoreless into the fourth frame.

Nirider had two singles and Fred Holdsworth one to account for Reef's three safeties against Redford's Tim Carr.

Willing sent Rick Fillmore to the mound for Reef in the nightcap and he and Dan Bjerke dueled for six scoreless innings before Redford tallied after a fly-ball out in the seventh.

Reef threatened early in the contest with runners on second and third and only one out in the first frame but couldn't score. Fillmore had two strikeouts and two walks during the game.

A come-from-behind bid failed for the local team last week Wednesday against Garden City's Darin Construction. Darin held a 2-0 lead with play entering the fifth when Reef tallied once on Doug Anglin's one-run single.

Darin added a run in the fifth and Reef scored once in the sixth on a single by Craig Turnbull. Darin's Bill Topalian blanked the local team in the seventh for the victory.

Jeff Gillespie pitched for Reef striking out five and walking; none.

Nobody's Perfect in Mack

And then there were none. The list of undefeated Connie Mack League teams in the area loop last week became only a memory after Reef Manufacturing Makers of Northville suffered its first losses — back-to-back — just days before they handed previously-unbeaten Stevenson Spartans their initial setback.

The Makers first defeat came in unusual fashion last week Tuesday when an umpire called a forfeit against Manager Art Adams' squad after a squabble with Adams midway through the contest.

Merchants Sit on 4-9 Record; Three Games Slated for Week

Idle last week because of the holiday, the Northville Merchants are scheduled to play three games within the next week with chances of improving on its 4-9 record.

OKs Industry

industrial projects to the rear, front and side of residential property and thus is a "classic example of spot zoning."

Straub was joined by Treasurer Alex Lawrence in his position — and when it came time to vote by Trustee Richard Mitchell. Lawrence, pulling a stack of petitions from his papers which he said were signed by some 300 persons protesting the rezoning, and noting that Schoolcraft College also opposed the measure, argued that rezoning the property to industrial would invite annexation by neighboring Livonia.

"We have two or three good industrial sites better than that one," he asserted.

Retorting Straub's remarks that the township must protect the best interests of the total community, Trustee Bernard Baldwin said to rezone the property to industry and business would be a disservice to the people, he said.

Baldwin emphasized that because the new I-275 expressway will run along Haggerty and because the municipalities on the east side of Haggerty (Livonia and Farmington) have zoned most of their property along Haggerty to industry, Northville Township's property along the road becomes by necessity prime industrial land. With the new expressway and industrial development on the east side of Haggerty, good new housing is not likely to occur.

He suggested the board consider what has happened along expressways elsewhere in the metropolitan area. Where orderly development of industry is planned the results are ideal, he indicated. But where orderly planning is not established, low-cost housing usually occurs along expressways, creating a "hodge-podge" of industry and housing. This proposed zoning, he added, gives the township an opportunity to establish orderly development of the area and at the same time provides tax base for the community.

The fact that the smaller percentage of the property lies in Northville School District does not distract from the soundness of the proposal, he said. As for the threat of annexation, he and others noted that Livonia can annex residential property just as easily as it can industrial property. He found fault with the idea of depriving the township of prime industrial property simply for the purpose of making it unattractive for a neighboring community.

Northville School Board members Richard Martin and Andrew Orphan, who were present, asked why the township did not consider rezoning for industry the entire stretch of Haggerty from Five and Eight Mile roads. Responding, Baldwin and Trustee Thomas Armstrong indicated that such a rezoning is inevitable (except for that land now owned by the Northville State Hospital) but, added Baldwin, the present proposal is what the planning consultant believes is of primary importance at this time based upon land use trends and the township's own land use plan.

Straub, Lawrence and Mitchell moved to deny the request, while Baldwin, Armstrong and Clerk Mrs.

Crispen Hammond voted no. Stromberg joined the "no" voters and motion to deny was defeated.

Then Mitchell, Straub and Lawrence moved to table the matter, referring it back to the planners for consideration of the entire Haggerty corridor from Five to Eight Mile Road. Once again the motion was defeated as Stromberg cast the deciding vote.

Finally, Armstrong, Baldwin and Mrs. Hammond voted to approve rezoning, while the three other board members cast negative votes leaving the decisive vote to the supervisor who voted for the rezoning.

Oldford and his attorney, James Ginn, presented a lengthy and successful appeal that their rezoning of the "Freydl property" on the south side of Seven Mile Road, adjacent to the C&O Railroad, be permitted to come before a planning commission public hearing.

Earlier, the planners had recommended that Oldford's request for hearing be denied, primarily because his proposal to rezone the property from industry to commercial and RM-2 (multiple) classifications to permit development of a neighborhood shopping center and townhouses would hurt the total 75-acre parcel now zoned for industry (which includes the 30-acre Freydl site), and that the township's potential industrial area would be further limited.

Ginn argued that his client's proposal represents "good planning" and he said the proposed development represents immediate tax dollars for the township and schools against the possibility of future tax dollars "if industry" does develop on the property. Furthermore, he suggested that Oldford is willing to eliminate the proposed townhouse development from the plan if that is the desire of the planning commission or the township board.

"We are not asking for rezoning at this meeting," he repeated. "We are only asking for an opportunity to discuss it at a public hearing before the planning commission and the people."

Northrop's appeal of the planning commission's recommendation to deny him rezoning of 11-acres of property from residential to multiple housing zoning was heard but the board accepted the planners' recommendation and denied the rezoning.

The petitioner, in his presentation to the board, emphasized that he was prepared to alter his original site plans to eliminate proposed apartment units on the property and limit development to townhouse units which would rent for from $350 to nearly $500 each.

However, the board contended that they were concerned only with the zoning request — not what would be built on the property — and that multiple housing zoning would set an adverse pattern of development for adjacent property.

Citizens Protest CBD Zoning; Council to Hold Second Hearing

It was the Northville City Council's turn at bat Monday as the controversial Central Business District (CBD) zoning recommended by city planners came up for a council public hearing.

Last month the planning commission conducted its own public hearings, fielding questions and objections and finally deciding upon a "toned-down" version of its CBD zoning district proposal for council consideration.

When Monday's hearing ended, however, the recommendation had neither won nor lost; the matter was tabled pending another council hearing set for August 4 on the related Central Business Parking (CBP) zoning. That zoning, too, represents a compromise recommendation of the planners, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

By prior agreement, the council decided to hold separate hearings on the two zoning districts ("so we don't confuse the people") and to withhold decision on either district until after both are aired at council public hearings.

As happened when the proposals were discussed at the planners' hearings, there was plenty of public objections again Monday although the number of protesters had dwindled.

There appeared to be two major objections: that the proposed CBD zoning district is either too small or partially misplaced, and that the CBD zoning threatens to upset the "quaint, small-town" atmosphere of the downtown area.

The latter objection persisted even after Manager Ollendorff and councilmembers emphasized that the CBD plan does not call for wholesale demolition, a shopping mall, closing of Main or Center streets, or creation of new parking lots. Rather, explained the city manager, it means changing the restrictions on the kinds of businesses permitted in the district bounded roughly by Cady Street on the south, the western edge of Northville Restaurant-Bar and Bloom's insurance building on the west, Northville Refrigeration on the north, and Manufacturer's National Bank and Northville Drug on the east.

Specifically, CBD zoning prohibits wholesale business, theaters, clinics, assembly halls, recreation and dance halls, testing labs, open air sales and car displays, and public utility buildings and stations that are now permitted under C-2 zoning. However, it permits all existing uses and dwelling units to continue indefinitely as non-conforming uses.

CBD permits retail stores, business and professional offices, personal service shops, food and beverage establishments, financial institutions, and public and quasi-public uses (except churches and fraternal halls but including pedestrian malls, walkways, and sidewalks).

Petitions opposing "plans" for the CBD and CBP were introduced by Mrs. Ollie Smith, who also said separate petitions were circulated among concerned non-city residents who encouraged "restoration and quaintness of Northville" but that these petitions were directed at downtown businesses. The latter petitions suggested signers would support and patronize the merchants if they cooperated.

When Councilman Charles Lapham pressed for specific reasons for objecting to the CBD zoning, Mrs. Smith indicated that the people were concerned mostly about the related CBP zoning.

Basic to all of the citizens' objections, said Mrs. Kathleen Edgerton, is that the people are unsure of where city officials stand on the related issues to CBD and CPD, i.e., circle drive, closing of streets, etc. "We're hearing all kinds of things and don't know exactly what you're going to do ... that's why they are objecting."

After it was repeated that none of these side issues are authorized with CBD zoning approval, Lapham said he was "disappointed" that no specific reasons for objecting to the zoning were given in the petitions so that "I can reach an intelligent decision." Then to emphasize that CBD zoning does not automatically approve closing of streets, a circle drive, etc., he said, "As for the 'mall' — I'll fight tooth and nail before allowing streets to be closed."

Closing of streets, a circle drive, etc. are plans under consideration, said Ollendorff, but none can be approved without public hearings if for no other reason than that they will require large sums of money which necessarily means they must be aired at public budget hearings. Furthermore, street closing would require a separate hearing, he added.

Former Councilman Delbert Black, replying to protests that the "plan" will ruin the small-town atmosphere, said downtown merchants recognize the value of the quaintness and that in remodeling their buildings had invested money to preserve this atmosphere.

Black and city councilmen, while conceding the value of maintaining this atmosphere, argued that preservation cannot nor should not stop progress. This atmosphere, through improvement of existing businesses and establishment of more downtown shops, can be enhanced in appearance while adding to the community's tax base, their argument ran.

Mrs. Marie Bonamici, who said she circulated some of the petitions, indicated that in the people's minds it is difficult to separate the CBD zoning from the CBP zoning. "People signed because they like the old fashion look; they're afraid of the mall type of thing."

Robert Humble asked, "Why does the city council deem that it must change? ... Is this a program to get your foot in the door?"

The fact that the population is expanding, which forces churches and schools to expand, and that automobiles are increasing requires that changes or expansions be made to accommodate these increases, answered Mayor A.M. Allen. When he joined the council years ago, the mayor said, there was "not one inch of parking except on the streets. If steps had not been taken to provide offstreet parking, the automobile problem today would be unbearable and downtown business would have suffered economically."

Concerning proposals to block off

Center and Main streets, the mayor tossed a barb at planners for proposing this plan while other officials were trying desperately to develop a new north-south route because of the already congested situation on Center.

Mrs. Helen Whipple voiced concern about what might happen to the old library building (township hall) under the plan. It would be "a shame" to see it torn down, she said, while advising the council to "look at Wayne" where such buildings have been preserved.

Gerald Stone and David Biery, businessmen, objected to the CBD zoning because they believe the zoning district to be too small and because they contend the area within the zoning district south of Main (the bowling alley block) might better be eliminated and the area east of the bank on Main to Hutton street included.

Here's CBD, CBP Changes

The original CBD and CBP recommendations have changed. Here's the latest recommendations of the planners now under consideration by the council.

CBD—Long range CBD plans still encompass a six block area, bounded by Dunlap, Wing, Hutton and a line located approximately one block south of Cady. The smaller CBD zoning district, which Monday's hearing concerned, remains the same except that approximately eight parcels of property south of Cady on either side of Center have been eliminated.

CBP—Still includes those areas outside of the smaller CBD zoning district but it now provides that some 11 individual parcels of land within the CBP boundaries of Wing, Dunlap, Hutton and Cady remain zoned C-2.

Among the latter properties are those housing G.E. Miller's automobile dealership. Long's plumbing business, business properties east of the bank on Main such as Braders and Del's Shoes.

You're Putting Me On Parrot in Pear Tree?

Sunday could have been Christmas in July at the Foreman Orchards, 50050 West Seven Mile.

Strains of the first day's partridge in a pear tree from the "Twelve Days of Christmas" could have floated through the air.

But the words would have to be altered to read "and a parrot in a sweet cherry tree."

Polly, green feathers and all, picked the Foreman Orchards for Sunday dinner, and has been there ever since.

Gary Foreman, 16, was the first to spot her. And it's no joke. The parrot is feasting on sweet cherries, despite all efforts to catch her.

And A White Garter Snake?

A rare albino garter snake was recently found near the corner of Ten Mile and Taft Roads by Herbert Guntzville, 45500 Ten Mile Road.

Guntzville spotted the snake while cleaning a driveway in the area. He went back to the area several times before he saw the snake again.

The 14-inch long snake is "very wild" and its pink eyes are extremely sensitive to light, he said. The snake is about one year old.

Guntzville has made a box for it, complete with sod and water, necessary for the snake to shed its skin.

A snake expert who was called in, said pure white garter snakes are very rare. The only other known albino snakes in Michigan are at Michigan State University where they are being used in a research project.

Hearing Set Monday On Street Assessment

Second hearing on the Center Street improvement assessment roll will take place next Monday night before the Northville City Council. The hearing will start at 8 p.m.

A week later a similar hearing on the proposed Hill Street improvement will be held.

Concerning the latter, the city council Monday night received a letter from several Hill Street residents who reminded the council that the city has failed to live up to a sidewalk improvement program inaugurated in 1962 and now proposes to assess property owners for street improvement that is, in their opinion, unnecessary.

Specifically, the residents referred to an old city proposal to pick up one-third of new sidewalk costs if property owners agreed to pick up the remaining two-thirds cost for immediate installation. Future installations, it was decided at the time, would mean property owners would have to pick up the entire tab.

Some property owners put in sidewalks on the basis of this plan, they argued, but the city failed to force others to put in walks and charge them 100-percent.

"If the council decides to go ahead with the present project, we feel that some plans should be made to enforce the 1962 ordinance," they wrote. "To have some owners assessed two times for precisely the same kind of convenience for the same group of people makes one wonder if their are perhaps many definitions of the word 'fair.'"

The letter was signed by Stewart Robinson, Herman Behr and John Steimel.

Council members took the letter under advisement, pointing out that the matter will be reviewed and a formal answer given the residents.

POPULATION CHANGE in the Detroit Region 1960 - 1968

TALUS Forecast: One Million Jobs

Nearly one million job opportunities will be added to the economy of Southeast Michigan (SEM) by 1990.

By that time, the number of jobs will increase in every major category of employment except two — agriculture and mining.

Manufacturing jobs will increase only slightly. But in professional and related services (teaching, retail sales, clerical services, law, medicine, finance, insurance, etc.), job opportunities will treble.

These are among the forecasts newly-published by TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study) with release of a technical report: "Economic Study — Employment Trends."

The employment forecasts are essential to TALUS' "regional growth model", a complex set of mathematical equations which predict the future distribution of population and economic activities throughout the seven-county region in response to TALUS' 1990 Plan.

TALUS is a special project of the Planning Division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. It is financed jointly with federal, state, county and City of Detroit funds. Initiated in 1965, TALUS this year will finalize recommendations for a comprehensive land use and transportation plan for the region. Total project cost about $5 million.

TALUS recently announced a preliminary land use plan for the 4,500 square mile seven-county region. Work is nearing completion on recreation and open space, highway, public transportation and other elements of the 1990 plan.

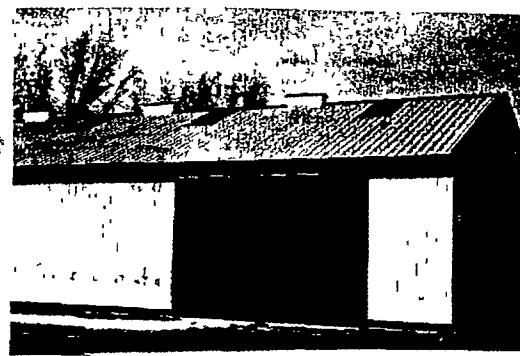

Basic in the TALUS forecasts is a 2.5 million population increase by 1990 to 6.9 million persons in the seven counties of SEM (Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne).

The age 20-65 population in 1990 will include 680,000 more males and 720,000 more females than in 1965 — a total increase of 1.4 million over the 1965 total of 2.24 in this "labor force eligible" category.

Since the total increase in jobs by 1990 will be about one million, even if all the added males were to work all the time, there would be 320,000 added job opportunities for females.

TALUS Forecasts Million Jobs

Percentage of males who will be getting college educations and advanced degrees will more than double, and more men will be retiring earlier. Thus, it is likely that in 1990 more than half of the increased number of working-age females will be employed. In 1965, about 38-percent of females and 78-percent of males aged 20-65 were employed.

TALUS statisticians list occupation groups by 17 major categories.

In 1965, the labor force was divided about equally between "blue collar and white collar" categories with about 841,000 "blue collar" and 847,000 "white collar" jobs in the region.

By 1990, the number of "white collar" jobs will have nearly doubled to 1.5 million, whereas the number of "blue collar" jobs will have increased about one-third to 1.09 million.

More specifically, the "white collar" increase will be concentrated in the "professionals and related" categories which include teachers, the TALUS projections show.

Opportunities in these categories in 1965-66 totaled 336,000 and by 1990 will reach 1,018,000.

In retailing, an increase from 237,000 to 376,000 is forecast.

Finance, insurance and real estate employment will nearly double from 63,000 to 117,000.

Population

Region Experiences 14-Percent Hike

Estimated figures just released in a published report by the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) reveal a Detroit region population growth of 14 percent, during an eight-year period.

The report spans from April 1, 1960 to July 1, 1968.

The Detroit region, composed of the 230 governmental units in the seven counties of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw, and Wayne, showed a total population of 4,181,354 in 1960 as against 4,776,500 in 1968, reflecting an increase of 595,146 persons.

Oakland county posted the largest growth in the region with a gain of 209,741 over the 1960 figure of 690,259.

Other counties showing significant growth are Macomb with an increase of 49 percent, or a gain of 199,196 over the 1960 figure of 405,804; Wayne with a gain of 78,703 over the 1960 figure of 2,666,297. Washtenaw with a gain of 62,560 over the 1960 figure of 172,440.

Most of the total gain has been recorded in the urbanizing townships and newly incorporated cities. These communities comprise all or part of three of the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) including: Macomb, Oakland, and Wayne Counties in the Detroit SMSA; Washtenaw County in the Ann Arbor SMSA; and Monroe County in the Toledo, Ohio-Michigan SMSA.

Utilized in preparing these estimates were: SEMCOG planning division residential permit information; Detroit Edison residential customer counts; vital statistics from Michigan and Detroit City Health Departments; and Detroit City and Macomb County school censuses.

Attendance Declines

Attendance at Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks declined last month due to rain that fell 24 out of 30 days in Michigan.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson had 334,000 visitors in June of 1969 compared to 427,000 persons in June of 1968. The record attendance for June at Kensington Park was 482,000 persons set in 1963.

Twenty-two persons from communities throughout southeastern Michigan participated in the Eleventh Annual Nature Interpretation Workshop Course held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, which will conclude Friday, July 11.

Public Opinion Wanted

A plan to make certain that the ideas of the general public and those of local officials become part of the 1990 TALUS Plan for Southeast Michigan (SEM) was announced today.

Irving J. Rubin, director of TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study) said two types of meetings will be held throughout the seven-county SEM region from late August through November.

One type of meeting will present the preliminary TALUS Plan for SEM to general public audiences and public officials such as councilmen, planning commissions and boards of supervisors to get reactions and suggestions.

The second type would be a series of at least eight public hearings on the Preliminary Plan.

Landscape Lovers

As soon as we met, I knew Rosie was special. She has an air that says she knows who she is and where she is going. I like the way she paints, too—she's quiet and businesslike.

Everything about her appeals to me. She dances like a dream, plays tennis well enough to keep me on my toes and loves painting as I do. She's my kind of girl.

In a world that seems mad, her outlook is refreshing. Maybe it's because her church and her God are important to her! And she isn't afraid to say so.

We'll be married next month—on a shoestring, but, whatever the future holds, we know God and His Church are the source of all goodness.

Your church has the key to real happiness. It is eager to help you.

from the Pastor's Study

Rev. Fred Trachsel
Orchard Hills Baptist Church

Some time ago in a World Missions Conference conducted at one of our camps, a questionnaire was circulated among the participants who were in attendance. "What do you think is the greatest basic issue facing our denomination today?" was the major question posed.

If you had been one of the respondents, what would have more unity in your particular denomination? Would you have singled out the race issue?

Allow me to share some of the findings from the aforementioned survey. "Involvement, that's the major issue. We need to get the church involved in more activities to reach more people." How true that statement is! The way to touch more lives with the Gospel of Jesus Christ is through personal involvement of more people. And most of these activities must take place outside the four walls of the Lord's House.

A second answer given on the survey sheet was, "the failure to live our faith has caused many of the other issues we face." Jesus minced no words as He commented on such behavior. According to the Saviour, we are hypocrites if we fail to practice what we claim to possess. The Apostle Paul recorded: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord."

Still another issue propounded was, "whether we can muster a truly Christian response to the responsibilities and opportunities of our day." Look around you. There are social ills, physical needs and most especially spiritual needs of all kinds. Can we share with the whole world the neighbor at our door, also? Recently, seven other men and myself made a trip to Minot, North Dakota, where the town had been stricken twice with a flood. We put in a 40 hour week in an attempt to help restore flood damaged houses of impoverished families. There were skilled men in our group, such as carpenters, electricians, etc. The Red Cross furnished the materials. It was observed by one of the residents there in Minot, that apathy prevailed among some of the more fortunate people not affected by the flood. One block away from the devastation, people went about their lawn mowing, planting flowers, etc., seemingly oblivious to others losing a battle against the elements. And yet some of our men had missed a week's paycheck back home in the process of donating their labors in such a Mission Action opportunity.

I do not mean to imply that we did something great. But I am saying we must constantly guard against apathy toward all people — near or far.

By the way, what is the greatest basic issue facing your denomination?

STRICTLY FRESH

If you consider the money being raked in by institutions of higher learning, you can better appreciate references to "the hauls of ivy."

One four-letter word that never fails to shock: "bill."

The kind of jam that spreads farthest is of the traffic variety.

The self-made man is often something less than perfect as a designer.

The best thing we've seen in autos in a long time was a redhead stopped at the traffic light as we crossed the street this morning.

Farmland Prices up Again

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — Prices for farm land rose 6 percent last year, on average, reaching another new all-time peak. Sharpest gains were concentrated in the southeastern states, Georgia heading the list with a spectacular advance of 14 percent. Question now is: Will the value of farm land keep going up? If so, at what pace? And for how long?

As of now, the staff of Babson's Reports looks for further gains in the value of farm land, at least for the years immediately ahead. The price climb may be less drastic over the next year or so than it was during the course of 1968, but it will still be noteworthy. Strong demand for such property is assured as long as there is a steadily expanding need for food both here and abroad and a continuing powerful trend toward ever-larger, highly mechanized farms.

As far as return on investment in agricultural property is concerned, prices in some sections of the nation have risen above the point of economic justification. Basically, the value of farm land should be determined by the possible profitability of the acreage. But some land will continue to rise in price in the years just ahead simply because there are people who have a lot more confidence in physical assets than they have in the dollar.

FARM REAL ESTATE prices now average some 175 percent higher than they did in 1950, representing an average annual compound rate of 5.4 percent. This compares with a rate of only 2.2 percent in the level of general prices. Hence, it may be seen how great has been the reliance on the future of farm land over recent years. The average dollar value per acre is highest in New Jersey ($832), Connecticut ($718), Rhode Island ($616), Maryland ($565), and California ($528).

Not including Alaska and Hawaii, lowest per-acre value exists in the states devoted for the most part to ranching: Wyoming ($33), New Mexico ($41), Nevada ($42), and Montana ($51). Where demand for agricultural property is sharpest, there is usually considerable density in population coupled with small farms close to markets.

THE CLIMB in population totals has a tremendous impact on farm land requirements. The decline seen in the national birth rate during recent years appears to be reversing itself, and more young people are reaching the age of consent. Even the earlier move toward planned parenthood and a consequent tendency toward smaller families may also be gradually turning around. All of which will, of course, mean more mouths to feed.

But, all considered, agricultural property still makes a good holding, whether for tilling, leasing, or retaining for the future. Occasional distress sales of farm property may offer buying opportunities. Be sure, however, that purchased ground is not in an economically bad area or of fundamentally poor quality.

Herald's Herald

By MARILYN HERALD

You know how it is when something you read really touches your nerve ends so that they tingle the same as when you're wearing a wool skirt and slide across the car seat. It's a time when you get the point and very sharply.

An item in Jim's Jottings, a syndicated column, hit me that way and I felt that you slaves to the paycheck, which is first made unrecognizable by Uncle Sam's greedy fingers, would enjoy my sharing the item with you.

"The following letter was distributed to workers at Pontiac Motors and is directed at Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington.

"Dear Sir:

"Why do you allow me $600 income deduction to raise my child for one year, when you allow $1,200 per year for a Cuban refugee, and if the Cuban boy or girl is going to school, an extra $1,000 per year? You allow $2,300 to keep a man in the federal pen, and he doesn't use the family car; $168 per month for social security for retired persons, but say I need only $50 for a child's monthly costs.

"The Vista Training Program costs $3.1 million to train only 202 young people. This costs more than $15,000 per year per trainee.

"The Job Corps, so far, has spent approximately $18,000 per year to teach each high school dropout.

"To feed, clothe, and train a boy in the armed forces costs $1,076 but you expect me to do the same for my youngster on $600.

"But this one takes the cake ... you allow me only $600 to take care of my child, but will give, through ADC, $800 care for a fatherless child. This seems to say you think he is more important than my child.

"I am yelling Uncle, because I think it is time someone pointed out these inconsistencies.

Taxpayer"
The letter speaks for itself. Maybe it's time we all did likewise.

Abortion Reform Still Sought

LANSING — Abortion reform efforts were turned down in the current Michigan Legislature, but already plans are afoot to renew the campaign next year.

"We're temporarily down, but far from out," said Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, chief sponsor of a bill to permit therapeutic abortions under prescribed conditions.

"Michigan's abortion laws will change next year — you can bet on that."

Bursley and Sens. John E. McCauley, D-Wyandotte, and N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Deerborn, are sponsoring a continuing study of abortion reform in Michigan until a vote can again be taken on the explosive subject.

"WE WANT PUBLIC hearings in areas where public opinion is uncertain," said Bursley. He listed these "uncertain" areas as Grand Rapids, Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo, Jackson and Oakland County.

The study committee is composed of Mrs. Beebe's five-member Health, Social Services and Retirement Committee plus McCauley and Bursley.

Bursley said the group will consider recently passed abortion laws in other states and review the proposition to change Michigan's 115-year-old law forbidding abortion except in cases where the mother's life is in danger.

As presented to the Senate, Bursley's bill would permit abortions if the mother's mental or physical health were in danger; the child might be deformed; in cases of rape or incest. It was turned down by a close vote despite an impassioned plea for support from her male colleagues by Mrs. Beebe, the Senate's only woman member.

"The people of Michigan want this bill," said Mrs. Beebe, a mother and homemaker. "They have a right to see it on the law books of this state."

Mrs. Beebe predicted that public reaction to the Senate defeat of Bursley's bill will find many lawmakers changing their minds next year.

"The last word," she said, "has not been spoken."

MICHIGAN'S LEGISLATURE has asked schools throughout the state to halt sex education courses until the State Education Department sets up guidelines.

The measure, passed overwhelmingly in both the House and Senate, does not block the teaching of sex information. Instead it "urges" schools to stop specific courses in sex education — at least for now.

"They can go back to what they were doing, including sex information in physical education and health courses, before we passed the law (last year) mandating much more specific courses," explained Sen. Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids.

THE SEX EDUCATION resolution was sponsored by Rep. William Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills, after a member of the State Board of Education criticized a department bibliography of sex education materials.

Hampton said he joined with "ever-growing numbers of parents who are protesting the propriety of the textbooks and the methods currently being utilized in certain schools."

In particular, Hampton was "sympathetic with those parents of children in the early elementary grades who seem to be getting too much too soon."

Hampton's resolution also calls on the department to consult with school officials and "interested parent groups who might grant aid and voice their opinions on ... this vital matter" before it recommends rules and regulations on sex education.

FIVE STATE Senators have been appointed to investigate the "possibility of excessive costs paid to medical and osteopathic physicians for services under Michigan's Medicaid programs."

The action follows charges that 82 Michigan physicians received between $25,000 and $169,000 each in Medicaid payments in the past fiscal year.

120 Year Old
State Fair
Still Frisky

What is 120 years old and still as bright and lively as a teen-ager?

Answer: The Michigan State Fair, which was born in 1849 and is still frisking along and getting bigger and stronger every year.

This year's edition of the fair opens Friday, August 22, and runs through Monday, September 1, on the Michigan State Fairgrounds at Woodward and Eight Mile in Detroit.

The first state fair was staged by the Michigan Agricultural Society, headed by Governor Epaphroditus Ransom, at Woodward and Duffield in Detroit. The dates were September 25, 26, and 27, 1849.

For a while, the fair was a "road show," playing in cities as: Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo, Adrian, Jackson, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Lansing, and Pontiac.

Finally, in 1905, the fair settled on the grounds it now occupies. A committee of civic-minded individuals headed by J. L. Hudson acquired the land and deeded it to the Michigan Agriculture Society. In 1921 the society was dissolved and the Fairgrounds deeded to the state, which has held the fairs there ever since.

Today the Michigan State Fair attracts approximately a million persons each year. It is one of the largest in the nation.

Those early fairs were mainly agriculture expositions. Today, agriculture still plays an extremely important role in the fair. But officials know that the hogs and cattle and agricultural produce, much admired by city-folk, get only passing interest from the rural dwellers. After all, they see livestock and corn every day.

So today's fair officials, under the able leadership of general manager E.J. (Jeff) Keirns, go all out to get the best in entertainment. This year, for example, trumpeter Al Hirt, the Baja Marimba Band, and singer John Davidson are among the top Music Shell attractions. And the Hurricane Hell Drivers and the Gentle Ben Show headline the Grandstand shows.

Through the years, Michigan State Fair officials have made it a practice to give more and more for the dollar, until today the fair is the state's biggest entertainment bargain. Everything is free to the State Fair goer, including the big-name entertainers and the exciting horse shows. Only the rides and shows on the Midway are extra.

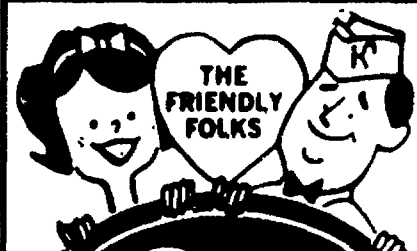

The history of the Michigan State Fair has been a history of enjoyment, excitement, and information. On its 120th birthday, the fair promises more than ever before with something for everyone.

Fatalities
Reach New
June High

Michigan broke another monthly traffic death record when its fatalities for June reached 217, according to State Police traffic division figures.

This topped by three the June mark of 214 set just last year. Only three times have June deaths exceeded the 200 mark since record keeping began in 1933, the first time being 204 in 1966. June's average was 181 for the five years 1964-68.

The June deaths brought the state's accumulated count to 1,081 for the first six months this year, 37 or three per cent higher than 1,044 in the same period a year ago. Should an increase margin persist in the second half of the year, Michigan would be setting a new annual traffic death count exceeding the mark of 2,388 which resulted in 1968.
