'FARMERS' BILL AND CHARLIE TIFFIN

Corn Grows Taller As Pair Grow Older

Nearing their centennial years, two Wixom bachelors are bursting with pride these days but it isn't their ages that's exciting them. It's their sweetcorn crop.

"Best corn crop we've had since movin' here in 1900," boasted Charlie Tiffin, 90, Friday morning while his 99-year-old brother, Bill, hoed cucumbers. "Seems to me that 'stead of wearin' out, this old ground's gettin' better all the time."

That these two grand old men still make their livelihood working a half-acre garden patch next door to their tidy little home and another one "down the road a piece" is hardly worth mentioning, insisted Charlie.

"If you ask me," he philosophized, "if other people worked for what they got it'd be a whole lot better world."

Neither thinks age is a "fit subject," they'd rather talk about the garden, although Bill's conversation wandered a bit afield as he chopped at the earth: "Baltimore's gonna win, I think. Tigers ain't got a chance."

"Tell you what it is," explained Charlie. "Too many people think fertilizer's everything. Not me. I put in a little lime, maybe plow under some rye in the fall. That's all. Some things just can't take fertilizer, don'tcha see."

He must be right, don'tcha see. Who else has grown their best crop of sweetcorn at ages 90 and 99?

"It's going to be our biggest and best."

That's the word from Charles Lapham, chairman of the annual Sidewalk Sales day slated here Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

According to Lapham, 24 arts and crafts dealers and 14 antique dealers have reserved space for curbside booths — the largest number in history — and requests for space continue to come in.

"Nearly every available space has been reserved," he said, "and it looks like we may be sold out by Friday."

The flea market (antiques and discards) will feature everything from valuable antiques to household items that area families are putting up for sale at bargain rates just to get rid of them.

Pottery, paintings and a host of other artwork will be featured in the arts and crafts booths.

Other booths will include those sponsored by local clubs and organizations, including stands for refreshments and bake goods.

Of course, most downtown merchants will again move their bargain sales to the sidewalk as they attempt to reduce their inventory to make room for fall merchandise.

Booths will be located on both Center and Main streets, bounded by Dunlap and Hutton. To permit easy pedestrian access to booths and merchants' sales stands and stores, the central business district will be blocked off to automobile traffic.

In the event of rain, the Side Walk Sale, sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, will be postponed until the following Saturday.

Female Convicts Offered Training

Editor's Note: Following is the second of three articles, written by Reporter Sally Burke, about the women's division of the Detroit House of Correction. It is the only Michigan prison for women.

A crime is committed in Michigan. The perpetrator is a woman. After the jury hands down a decision, what next? If the woman is judged "not guilty," she goes free. If the verdict is "guilty," she is sentenced and serves her term in the Detroit House of Correction, the only women's prison in Michigan.

DeHoCo, as it is commonly called, is located on Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

New inmates arrive daily at the prison. Some stay for only five days, while others will live there for life. They may be serving sentences for anything from prostitution to murder.

The first stop is the hospital on the grounds. Here the women are given a complete physical, shots and put in

Township Planners Weigh Proposal For Industrial Park

A rezoning request to permit development of a nearly 60-acre industrial park on Six Mile Road was referred to the planning consultant by the Northville Township Planning Commission Tuesday night.

Concerning the William Marlin property, located on the north side of Six Mile Road, west of Haggerty, the request seeking an industrial classification for an area now zoned residential came from Steve Polgar, a former Livonia city attorney.

Polgar said he and a number of associates, mostly business and professional people, propose to develop an industrial park with 60 sites for small "tool and die-like" industrial businesses.

Similar industrial developments elsewhere, he said, have proved to be highly successful. Most plants are sold before the developments are completed, he said.

While Polgar submitted a proposed site plan in making his request for the zoning change, he indicated that the plan could be enlarged considerably before the area is rezoned. He hinted that adjacent property could be included in the total development.

The Martin property is located immediately west of an area just recently rezoned for industry by the township board.

Also referred to the planning consultant was a request of Mrs. Nick Marginean of Farmington to rezone an eight-acre parcel, located on the south side of Six Mile Road in the same general area, from residential to industrial.

Both request are to come up for discussion on August 26.

In other action Tuesday, the commission set a September 30 public hearing date on the zoning change request concerning the Freydl property on Seven Mile Road. Earlier, the commission had denied a hearing but the township board subsequently ordered the commission to set a hearing date.

Controversial CBP Zoning Goes to Council Monday

The most controversial of the planning commission's recommendation for the central business district — CBP (parking) zoning — comes before the city council for public hearing Monday night.

The council has heard objections and recommendations for improvements to the proposed CBD (central business district zoning) in a previous hearing. Monday the idea of setting aside certain areas of the central business district for parking only will come under scrutiny.

Most property owners object vehemently to having their own property zoned CBP. They do not object to CBD, which is not unlike existing business zoning.

It is known that several councilmembers also have reservations about the CBP zoning.

However, the planning commission has pointed out that perhaps the only way to reserve areas for needed parking is to thus zone them. They (the planners) deny that parking zoning decreases the value of property.

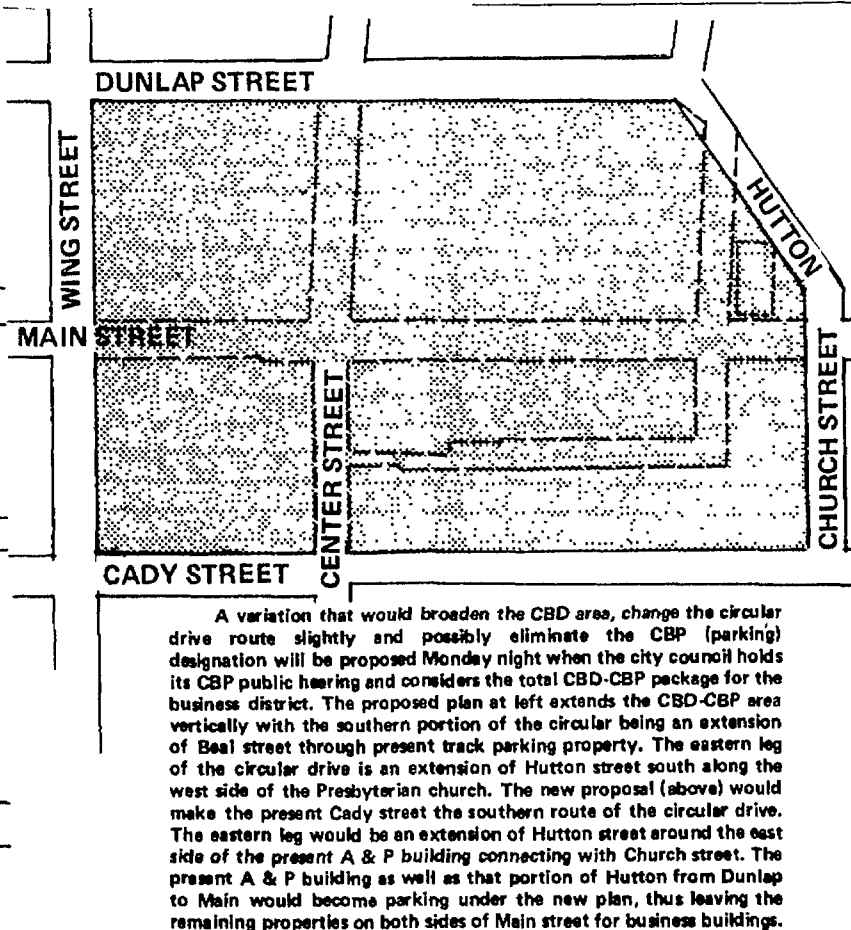

A former city councilman and planning commissioner, Del Black and George Clark, have announced that they will present a plan that would depart from the master plan proposal in several details — and would probably eliminate the need for a CBP designation (see maps below).

To some degree their idea coincides with the Chamber of Commerce idea of spreading the business district eastward and northward rather than southward into present track area.

Mainly, the route of the circular drive would be changed to existing streets (Cady on the south and Hutton and Church on the east). And offstreet parking would be provided by double-decking on Cady street plus using the area now occupied by the A & P Building and the Hutton street area between Dunlap and Main.

The idea of assessing business property owners for offstreet parking, including double-deck structures on Cady, will soon be introduced by the council-appointed city parking authority.

The city council will not reach a decision on the CBD and CBP zoning Monday night. Instead it will study all recommendations and render its decision next month.

A variation that would broaden the CBD area, change the circular drive route slightly and possibly eliminate the CBP (parking) designation will be proposed Monday night when the city council holds its CBP public hearing and considers the total CBD-CBP package for the business district. The proposed plan at left extends the CBD-CBP area vertically with the southern portion of the circular being an extension of Beal street through present track parking property. The eastern leg of the circular drive is an extension of Hutton street south along the west side of the Presbyterian church. The new proposal (above) would make the present Cady street the southern route of the circular drive. The eastern leg would be an extension of Hutton street around the east side of the present A & P building connecting with Church street. The present A & P building as well as that portion of Hutton from Dunlap to Main would become parking under the new plan, thus leaving the remaining properties on both sides of Main street for business buildings.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD RICHARD GARDNER

Horsfall-Gardner Speak Vows Here

In a candlelight wedding on June 21, Mary Louise Horsfall married Donald Richard Gardner in the First Baptist Church of Northville. The Reverend Cedric Whitcomb officiated at the 8 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Horsfall of 490 Orchard Drive, and the bride groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George D. Gardner of Wixom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father before an altar banked with palms, candelabrum and baskets of red roses and pink fugi mums. A fireside log basket completed the altar decoration, and candles lined the church aisle.

Music was provided by John Hyde who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Oh, Lord Most Holy." Playing the organ was Mrs. Susan Gardner, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a victorian style wedding gown fashioned from white organza. The dress featured long pointed sleeves and a detachable formal train trimmed with seed pearls and lace. She wore a fingertip veil of French silk netting decorated with appliques and seed pearls and edged with Duchesse lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Lois Horsfall served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a white crepe floor length dress with pink insert in back and a floor length detachable pink lace train. The gown and train were trimmed in daisy lace. She carried a small fireside log basket with pink blossoms, baby's breath and statis.

Other bridesmaids were Valerie Richmond, Carolyn Davis (sister of the groom), Kathy Miller, Dianne Crawford and Shirley Lamp. They wore pink Melissa McDaniel was the flower girl. She wore a dress matching the bridesmaid's gown and carried a similar floral arrangement. Jeffery Nieukoop served as ring bearer.

G. Dewey Gardner, brother of the bridegroom served as best man. Ushers included the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Calvin Davis, and David Fletcher, a friend from Westland.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Horsfall chose a Bermuda Blue crepe with a turquoise daisy lace overlay and turquoise accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise brocade sheath with beige accessories. Both mothers wore corsages made from red roses and pink sweetheart roses.

Following the wedding about 300 guests attended the reception held in the lower auditorium of the church. Friends and relatives attended from Illinois and Michigan.

For a wedding trip to Nassau in the Bahamas, the bride chose a beige knit dress with long sleeves and a cowl neckline. She wore beige accessories to complete the outfit.

She is a 1967 graduate of Northville High School and recently graduated from Schoolcraft College with an associates of arts degree. The bridegroom, too, graduated from Northville High School and also Lawrence Institute of Technology. He is now employed as a designer with the Ford Motor Company, and is a partner in Lila's floral business.

The couple will make their new home at 525 Fairbrook in Northville. crepe floor-length dresses with a white lace detachable train. More daisy lace was used to edge the gowns and trains. Like the matron of honor, they carried fireside log baskets of flowers.

Detroit Kids Get Lift from Suburbs

A picnic in the country or a trip to the zoo are "old hat" for most children but not those in Detroit's Brewster-Douglas Housing Project.

Two Northville families are helping make the summer brighter for the children in the project. The Stanton Schaefer, 47000 Six Mile Road, and the Edward Keilys, 44009 Brookwood Drive, are working with the children.

Families take the children on picnics, to museums, Belle Isle and the zoo.

The program began in the summer of 1965 and since has grown to a year 'round activity.

Mrs. Dorothy Mann, director of Operation Understanding, said "Some of the children in the project have never ventured outside of Brewster-Douglas. They have never been to downtown Detroit or in the country on a picnic."

Children are matched by age and sex with children in the volunteer families.

Each week the volunteers plan an activity with the children. Sometimes one children will come to Northville with the Schaefer and Keilys and other times the activity will take them to Detroit.

During the winter, monthly outings are planned.

Operation Understanding benefits both the families and children, giving each the opportunity to become acquainted with the other. The children can also take what they have learned from the volunteers and expand the world of their families.

The summer program continues through August 25. For further information on Operation Understanding year 'round contact Mrs. Mann at 962-4312 or 961-4313.

College Sets New Test Date For Counseling

Because bad weather prevented many applicants from attending the last of the regularly scheduled counseling tests at Schoolcraft College on Thursday night, July 24, the college admissions office has announced a new test date.

Director of Admissions Barbara Geil said the test is rescheduled for 9 a.m., Saturday, August 16, in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center. The test is required for admission to the college. Registration for the fall term is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, August 26 and 27.

Miss Geil said the rescheduling of the test will provide an opportunity for other applicants who may have missed one of the three previously scheduled dates to take the test prior to the beginning of the fall semester.

Applicants intending to take the test on August 16 must make a reservation by calling the Schoolcraft College Admissions Office at 591-6400.

OCC Offers Dental Training

Area residents have the opportunity of completing a one-year program in dental assisting in their own back yard.

Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes Campus in Union Lake offers a certificate for completion of the program. According to Robert Montgomery, D.D.S., assistant professor and chairman of the allied health department, the dental assisting students take a program of dental theory, office skills, human relations, first aid and x-ray technology.

"The students learn all aspects of dental assisting which varies from Girl Friday to chair-side assisting to laboratory work. They also learn dental terminology, he said.

In addition to Dr. Montgomery, the program is taught by Mrs. Marion Edson, a registered dental hygienist.

"The second semester the students are offered an opportunity of in-service training for approximately 12 hours a week," Dr. Montgomery added.

He explained that there is a large work market for dental assistants in the area and that it is inefficient for dentists to train their own assistants. "There are over 500 dentists in Oakland County and more than 2,000 in the metropolitan area," he continued.

According to Dr. Montgomery, OCC is the only institution in the county to offer dental assisting.

"We have made the program available on a co-op basis for the last three years to seniors at Walled Lake High School. These students spend two days a week, three hours a day taking introductory dental assisting classes and receive college credit," he said.

"Dental assisting is an excellent field because the assistants work with people, the hours are good, and it's pleasant work," Dr. Montgomery explained.

SEWING — ONE OF SEVERAL PRISON OCCUPATIONS

introduced to the staff.

Before an inmate joins the general population of 300, the Classification Committee studies her file and gives her a work assignment. She may be assigned to clerical, laundry, canning factory, sewing room, hospital work or food service. If she is not capable of work, she is put in the occupational therapy class.

The Friday before she joins the other inmates, she is issued seven outfits of clothes, according to the type of work she will be doing.

Blue jeans and green blouses or blue dresses are worn for work, checked dresses (each cottage having a different color to cut down on theft) for use in the sewing room and during free time. Shoes, underwear and linens are also given to the inmate. She may wear her own shoes, underwear, housecoat and pajamas if she wants, as "long as they are within reason and not too expensive."

Each woman is assigned a private room in one of the cottages. The cottages are kept "stable," so short-time women usually are in one cottage.

Every inmate must follow the rules. They are awakened at 7 a.m., eat breakfast, go to work, lunch, return to work and then home for dinner.

Free time is allowed after dinner until "lights out" at 10:30 p.m.

The inmates are expected to help with the upkeep of the cottage, flower and vegetable gardens and lawns.

A woman earns from 15 to 50 cents per day, according to her work assignment. Extra money can be earned by participating in research projects conducted by Parke-Davis, Dow Chemical and the University of Michigan.

The money earned can be saved, spent through mail order catalogues for clothes and room decorations or at the inmate store where each woman may spend up to $10 per week.

The institution also has a beauty shop where women can learn cosmetology and have their hair done for about 20 cents. The women are encouraged not to have extremely short hair or long fingernails.

During orientation, each inmate is given an aptitude test. If she is found to have below fifth grade education (the average education among the inmates) she is required to attend school in the evenings.

The women may attend school and earn a high school diploma through classes taught voluntarily by 10 nuns. Currently 107 inmates attend classes. Typing and key punch also are taught. Key punching is done for the State of Michigan and the City of Detroit.

Each Sunday religious services are conducted by Catholic and Protestant chaplains, with weekly services held by the Salvation Army and Christian Scientists.

Sunday also is visiting day at DeHoCo. Each woman is allowed visiting privileges every two weeks, divided alphabetically. In the summer, families and friends may bring basket lunches and eat on the picnic grounds.

Coffee and soft drinks are available. No beverages may be brought from home because "spiked" lemonade and liquor in soft drinks has been found.

During the winter, visitors are met in the auditorium. Matrons supervise visiting periods to cut down on the chance of illegal goods entering the prison. Each inmate is searched before returning to her cottage.

There is no approved list of correspondents for an inmate, but out-going letters are limited to three per week. More may be written with inmate paying the postage.

Out-going mail is checked and each woman must insert a form giving the name and address of the person to whom she is writing and the relationship between the two.

No limit is put on in-coming mail.

Each letter is opened and money orders and cash taken out. The inmate signs for the money and is given credit. Money is not allowed on the grounds, another precaution against theft.

Clinic facilities are available through the hospital with a doctor on call 24 hours a day. Daily clinics are conducted along with dental classes and bi-weekly dental clinics. DeHoCo has a plastic surgeon and foot specialist for corrective surgery. Minor illnesses are treated at the hospital.

Pregnant women are housed at the clinic from the seventh month, with Detroit General Hospital handling the delivery. Arrangements for child care or adoption are made before delivery through the inmate's family or Special Services.

There are numerous recreation facilities available to the inmates. Competitive baseball, basketball and table games are offered along with television, record players, radios and a weekly movie.

Before a woman is released from DeHoCo, she goes through an orientation program designed to help the probationer and the parolee.

A group meeting is held to teach the inmates how to live in the outside community and how to use community resources to meet the community standards.

Two outside work programs operating at the prison are "work-pass," where a woman spends nights in DeHoCo and works daily at St. John's Seminary in Plymouth, and "work-release" which allows a woman to work in Detroit during the last 90 days of her sentence. While in Detroit, she will live at the League of Catholic Women.

DeHoCo is a treatment oriented institution, working toward rehabilitation of the inmates and teaching them a skill they can put to use after release.

NEXT WEEK: The director talks about discipline and the future of inmates after release.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

One of the national magazines featuring femininity uses the slogan "never under estimate the power of a woman" to help sell its pages to advertising agencies.

Somehow the slogan came to mind as I enjoyed breakfast Monday morning as the guest of the Northville-Plymouth branch of the League of Women Voters at the Mayflower hotel.

I was invited along with Mayflower-owner Ralph Lorenz, Phil Power of the Observer, Plymouth Chamber Secretary Lewis Goddard and Russ Amerman and Russ Clarke of Northville.

What the Women have in mind is a fund drive. And after filling us with eggs, bacon, rolls and coffee they let it be known, ever-so-tactfully, that we had been selected as their "expert advisors" on how to raise money.

I must admit that Mrs. Howard Meyer had forewarned me. But she didn't tell me what a selling job her cohorts were capable of performing in the short time it takes to eat breakfast.

I'm not unfamiliar with the League of Women Voters. As a matter of fact, since their group organized in Northville and Plymouth I've noted that it has managed to gain more than the normal measure of space in area newspapers, including ours. Now I know how and why.

This is not a run-of-the-mill woman's club. Cards, flowers, recipes or small-talk are not their forte.

These girls, at least the ones that hosted our breakfast, are devoted to enlightenment of themselves and the public at large.

I've witnessed some of their representatives covering local city council, school and township board meetings, taking notes, listening intently. And I learned Monday that this information and a lot more, is being gathered and discussed by the local League. In addition they're studying the problem of financing education and several other local, state and national issues that should be better known to all persons, men and women, who vote.

They're enthusiastic, they're informed and they're dedicated to learning more and helping others become better informed.

Needless-to-say, their "expert advisors" accepted the invitation and by next fall we'll be helping; the local and national League of Women Voters—soon to be celebrating its fiftieth year—raise funds for a most worthy cause.

I've been convinced, and I hope you will be too, that every civic-minded citizen and organization should want to support the League of Women Voters. It helps us become better informed citizens. Their work benefits us all.

One more suggestion. The League could use more members. All you have to be to join is a woman and at least 21. Call Mrs. Meyer, 349-3045.

It isn't true that City Attorney Phil Ogilvie is accepting appointments to give diving lessons.

The rumor started last week at the Swim Club when he volunteered to instruct a small boy in the art of diving from the side of the pool. Ogilvie forgot that he was giving his lesson at the shallow end.

The dive was perfect, but the stop was sudden. It only required a few stitches on top of his scalp.

Chamber of Commerce President Bob Webber had better luck in the role of an "expert."

As one of the guests of Northville Downs on "Chamber of Commerce Night" last week, Webber decided to show his wife Betty how to win a fast buck at the windows.

After long study of the program Webber picked the No. 5 horse. He ran to one of the windows, a little late and confused by the fact that he had never before placed a bet, and ended up at the $5 win window.

"Give me one," Webber told the mutuel man, meaning "one ticket." Naturally, the seller gave him a ticket on the No. 1 horse.

Webber returned to his seat and as the horses crossed the finish line—No. 1 well in the lead—he proudly produced his winning ticket, which netted a neat $40 profit.

WHO ARE THEY? asked The Record in its centennial edition. The ink was still wet when two people called to identify the members of the "entire Northville high school." Both of them, Mrs. Pearl (Little) Dunn of Plymouth, niece of The Record's founder, and Ralph Gibson of Six Mile Road, said the picture was taken in 1902. They are identified in six rows, left to right, beginning at the top: Mark Willis, Ralph Gibson, Clyde Lewis, Charles Hamilton, Charles Gentz, Vernice Sanford and Evelyn Bryant (both teachers), Professor Charles Martin, Art Phillips, Ed Perrin, Ray Holcomb, and Lynn

To the Editor:

Received The Centennial Record which is really outstanding and it brought back memories of 1942-1948 when we once lived in Northville. I knew many of the people mentioned in the history of Northville. Thank you so much for The Centennial Record. I remain yours truly

Mrs. Carl Gasper

To the Editor:

You are to be commended for the Centennial Edition of the Northville Record!

I have one question. In the section pertaining to churches in the area there was no mention of the Orchard Hills Baptist Church, 23455 Novi Road, Northville. This church has meant a great deal to us since moving to Michigan. We are wondering why it was omitted?

Thank you for your kind consideration of this question.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller

Editor's Note: Try as hard as we could to avoid omissions there were, nevertheless, a number of churches, businesses and industries that were inadvertently overlooked in compiling material for the centennial edition. Also missing were a number of potentially interesting histories of individuals and places. For these omissions and for the errors that occurred we can only apologize and point out that they are as painful to us as they are to our readers.

Dear Bill:

Just received your Centennial issue — Congratulations on such a beautiful job! I devoured the entire issue.

Dear Bill:

Sorry for the delay in writing you to extend my sincere congratulations

"Police were here today," she said tossing the words over her shoulder while squeezing out a diaper at the kitchen sink. "I called 'em," she added quickly.

Washing diapers has never really fascinated me. As a matter of fact I've found this kitchen recipe a little repulsive. Nevertheless, this time the art had me hanging in suspense, and it occurred to me to pose a question.

"Why, pray tell me, did you call the police? And don't you dare tell me someone robbed the place. You and I both know a thief would starve to death on pickin's in this house."

"Oh, nothing that serious, silly. It's just that Jim came running in to tell me that Joey had been bitten by a water moccasin."

Suddenly, diaper washing was no longer interesting.

"What! Good gracious, woman, a water moccasin?"

"Not really," she said.

"Well, was he or wasn't he?"

Whereupon she delivered herself of this story:

The boys had been "down at the creek again, catching frogs and things" as is their habit when Jim came bursting into the house screaming that Joe had been bitten by a water moccasin.

His revelation scared the dickens out of my wife, who envisioned her youngest son convulsing on the creek bed with a ballooning leg. When she asked the whereabouts of the victim, the runner of bad news said, "Oh, he's coming along."

And, sure enough, along comes Joe, clutching a dirt-crusted paw, that bore the telltale marks.

Frantic, it occurred to her to grab the snakebite kit but, such countermeasures being uncommon in our medicine chest, she thought next of calling her blood-fearing husband. Recalling his propensity for violence, she decided instead to call the police. "I don't know why, I just did."

The good policeman arrived shortly, quizzed the tight-lipped victim, examined the snake ("we killed it," explained Jim, "so we could have it tested for rabies"), and pronounced it harmless.

"And do you know," she said, "he hardly spoke a word all the while. Then after the policeman's gone and I'd stopped shaking he says to me, 'Don't that policeman think I know anything — I could have told him it wasn't poisonous right from the start.'"

The art of washing diapers may not be fascinating but it beats watching television.

Why Not 'Northville Day at Maybury?'

Si Quaeris Peninsulam Amoenam Circumspice.
An adaptation of Michigan's state motto, translated "If you seek a pleasant peninsula, look about you", can be made in Northville: "If you seek nature's pleasant, untouched beauty, look about you."

Northville need not look far.
The area lying west of Beck Road, bounded by Seven and Eight Mile roads, offers as much beauty as some of our favorite Northern Michigan haunts. It offers stately pines and hardwoods, leafy shrubs, swamps and shallow lake, stream and icy springs, deer and squirrels.

The Record believes it is the finest remaining natural beauty spot in Northville.

So do others.
But for most Northville area residents the Maybury Sanatorium property — if they know where it is — represents unseen buildings where people are treated for tuberculosis. That the area may contain a piece of Northern Michigan is for them an unlikely fairytale.

Recent talk by public officials of possibly purchasing part of the property for recreation couldn't interest them less except that, perhaps, they are concerned that such talk "is just another wild scheme" for spending their tax dollars.

We have tramped the property and, frankly, the natural beauty of it alone convinces us that purchase of at least a good portion of it would be a worthy investment.

We are equally sure that many others — adults, teens, and children — would share our enthusiasm if they could see the property themselves. That is why we urge the city — AND township officials to endorse a plan of the recreation department to conduct a public tour of the property so that our citizens can make their own judgments.

Reef So Close But...

Dreams of dethroning defending Free Press League champion Redford Township became a wait-until-next-year proposition for Manager Dick Willing's Reef Manufacturing of Northville last week as the local team lost a crucial 2-1 playoff opener before falling 9-4 in a contest Friday which decided the title.

In the opener last week Wednesday, Reef out-hit Redford 5-4 and briefly held a 1-0 lead before being overcome by a fourth-inning rally. The initial victory allowed Redford, the league's second round winner, to maintain its late-season surge climaxed by its 9-4 decision Friday at High School Field.

Originally, the Livonia Parks & Recreation Department had planned to begin the playoff last week Wednesday with the second game slated for Sunday. However, within the week of the series it was announced that the second game would be played Friday.

The playoff concluded an outstanding season for Willing's squad as it surprised many suburban fans with a 9-1 first round showing. Reef was particularly impressive winning its first nine games before dropping a decision the day it claimed the title but the second half it was all Redford with its tourney savvy apparently contributing during crucial moments along its way to the championship.

The season seemingly will establish Northville as a contender in the league which has been traditional dominated by the Livonia-Redford entries.

The playoff's opener, played at Thurston, matched Reef's Fred Holdsworth against Dale Bjerke of Redford in a pitching duel resulting in five scoreless innings.

Holdsworth finished the contest with six strikeouts and no walks while Bjerke had seven by strikes and three bases-on-balls.

Singles by Terry Mills and Jeff Taylor in the third inning got Reef off to a 1-0 lead before Redford combined two singles and an error for two runs in the fourth. Neither team scored during the final three innings.

Holdsworth also led the local team's attack with a triple.

On Friday at the high school, Redford turned 13 hits into nine runs while a four-run rally in the last frame by Reef was too little, too late.

Jeff Taylor got the assignment on the mound and struck out six while walking three over the seven innings. Catcher Pat Cayley had two doubles at bat and teammate Bill White tripled.

The local team's four-run seventh included a single by Stan Nirider, an error, one of Cayley's doubles and White's triple plus a sacrifice.

Drop Three, Now 5-20

Week Dismal Experience For Slumping Merchants

Bad was the week that was for the Northville Merchants in the Stan Musial Baseball League.

Manager Bill Primeau's squad dropped all three decisions last week — the last of which was a disappointing 11-10 loss in extra-innings to Livonia's Village Rambler. The Merchants previously had lost, 5-1, to Redford Township and 10-1 at the hands of league-leading Hubert Realty of Livonia.

Now 5-20 for the season, the Merchants were to play Rambler again on Monday and Plymouth K of C yesterday (Wednesday) before meeting Redford on Sunday at Thurston. Game time is slated for 3:30 p.m.

The regular season is scheduled to close its local season on Monday in a contest with Rambler at Henry Ford Field beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Last week Monday the Merchants show a one-run lead vanish as Redford came-from-behind capitalizing on several errors to win, 5-1. The local team was handed setbacks by Hubert (10-1) and Rambler (11-10) in a doubleheader Sunday.

Sunday's loss to Rambler was a heartbreaker as the Merchants spent a seven run lead with the game forced into an extra inning. Then in the eighth, Primeau's team rallied for two runs only to see Rambler come back with three to lead the decision.

Roy Thibedeau had three hits — one a double — while Jim Carron, Jerry Insland and Don Cuicchi each had two hits each in the Rambler-Merchant encounter. Carron and Insland had a double apiece and one of Cuicchi's hits was a triple.

Bill Diemer started and worked the first seven innings on the mound for the local team striking out eight and walking four. Mike Kisabeth relieved in the eighth.

Scoring once in the first and three times each in the third and fourth, the Merchants commanded a 7-0 lead entering the bottom of the fourth.

Rambler rallied for five runs in the fourth and tied the score with two more in the fifth. The local team added a run in the sixth but so did Rambler and both teams were scoreless in the seventh with the 8-8 deadlock forcing the game into extra innings.

An error and Cuicchi's triple combined with a single by Mike Schaffer allowed the Merchants to take a 10-8 advantage in the eighth before Rambler combined three singles and an error for three runs.

In the first game Sunday, Hubert's Bill Ziegler held the Merchants to three hits and a lone run in the fifth as the Livonia team won easily, 10-1. Carron, Cuicchi and Thibedeau each had singles to account for the Merchants' safeties. Harry Swyston pitched for the local team and struck out three while walking eight.

The Merchants-Redford game last week Wednesday saw the local team take a 1-0 lead in the fourth on singles by Chris Holman and Gary Fox and a sacrifice fly. But Redford combined two singles with three errors in the sixth for four runs and then added a run in the seventh for its 5-1 victory.

Diemer pitched for Northville and had four strikeouts and two walks. Fox and Holman each had two singles.

August 1 — Entries for the Battle of the Bands contest are due. Auditions will be held the week of August 4.

Holdsworth Just Perfect Mackers Win League Championship

Connie Mack Champs

and Jan Reef, sponsor. In front are Tom Singer, Rich Adams, Terry Mills, Fred Holdsworth and Rick LaRue. The team begins Connie Mack district tournaments Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Lanky righthander pitcher Fred Holdsworth had been working up to perfection all season long and Tuesday, with a Connie Mack League title riding on the outcome, he was.

Holdsworth's perfect game from the mound — including eight strikeouts and, of course, no walks — combined with batterymate Pat Cayley's big bat and some exceptional defense by their teammates powered Reef Manufacturing of Northville Mackers to an impressive 2-0 victory over visiting Redford Big Boy and onto district tournament competition in Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti.

The contest, played at High School Field before about 100 people, was a make-up of one weathered-out last Thursday and decided a Livonia Connie Mack League title for Manager Art Adams' Mackers.

Reef was in contention for the championship all season but held first place only since the weekend as Stevenson Spartans and Big Boy couldn't come up with crucial decisions.

"We just played a perfect game tonight," Adams observed afterwards. "Our defense was superb."

The Mackers open district tournament play Saturday in Ann Arbor when they meet Wayne in a contest to begin at 6 p.m. The game is to be played at Veterans' Memorial Park in the northwest section of the city.

The tournament is to continue Sunday with sites and pairings to be announced. It's a double-elimination affair with the winner advancing to Marshall.

Holdsworth, outstanding all season in Free Press League and Connie Mack play, sparked Tuesday despite a sore arm. The Mackers scored in the first inning as Terry Mills doubled, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on a passed ball.

Then Cayley boomed out his fourth homer of the season in the second frame to conclude the game's scoring. Big Boy's Ron Munson and Holdsworth dueling over the last five innings without any scoring and only one hit — Steve Utley's second-inning single — the remainder of the way.

City 'Nine' Persists In March for Title

If the sun's out and the Reef Manufacturing of Northville Mackers shine, they could claim the Livonia Connie Mack League championship this week and head to Ann Arbor for the beginning of district tournament competition Saturday.

Manager Art Adams' club last week defeated Plymouth K of C, 3-2, and Stevenson Spartans, 6-0, extending its win string to five and seven in the last eight attempts. The Mackers, re-scheduled to play Redford Big Boy on Tuesday in a contest which will decide the title, are now 11-3-1 for the season.

The Reef-Big Boy game was originally slated for last Thursday but the threat of bad weather and a mix-up caused it to be postponed.

Last week Tuesday's encounter with Plymouth was highlighted by the long ball with catcher Pat Cayley and Stan Nirider swatting homers.

Jeff Taylor held the Knights to five hits as he struck out eight and walked two.

Plymouth tallied once in the fourth and after the Mackers tied the count in the fifth, it added a run to take a 2-1 advantage. But Nirider connected with teammate Fred Holdsworth on base in the sixth for the decisive runs. Cayley's homer was a solo blast in the fifth.

The homers were the third of the season for both Cayley and Nirider. Holdsworth also had a double in the contest.

Making of a Champion

Literally it was a perfect finish to a pretty darn good season and if you believe anything, you've got to believe that it couldn't have happened to a better team.

The old cliché, almost destroyed by writers needing a crutch, is "better bunch of boys." And although you're confident that the boys that play for Jan Reef's Mackers are a pretty good bunch, it's their ability as a team which has got to impress you the most.

It'll be entered in the records that Reef Manufacturing of Northville Mackers won a 1969 Livonia Connie Mack League championship but years later only the fans — and more importantly, the players — will remember how it was done.

Credit, of course, should go primarily to the kids because it's their game and because they played it better, they're the best in their league and there's only one "best" along with many not-so-goods. Winning is what it's about and championships aren't given away.

But then there's Art Adams and Dick Willings and Jan Reef and all you've got to do is ask one of the youngsters about "the Coach" or "Mr. Reef" and they'll tell you how important to them it is to be able to play and to have someone help you play well and learn the lessons the game has to teach.

It wasn't an easy road. It wasn't a matter of leading the league all season and coasting home. It wasn't a matter of loading up with talent from several school districts and overwhelming the less fortunate.

It was a matter of taking your guys — your team — and doing the best with what you had convinced that your best was the way you have to play the game if you're going to play at all.

Willings and Adams, directing the team in the Free Press League and the Connie Mack League, respectively, sacrificed time that other men selfishly keep to themselves and Mr. Reef wasn't a sponsor who just paid the way, he cared and made it obvious.

And the players — where do you start and where do you stop? The beauty is that once you start giving credit you can't stop because everyone played a part and you can't separate those parts from the whole when you're talking "team."

Everybody likes a winner but few winners are champions.

And we've got champions.

Newcomers Pull Switch

Things definitely have taken a change in the Men's Slow-Pitch League for Newcomers' Club ... and, surprisingly, for powerful Northville Lanes.

Newcomers', after having lost its first nine games, last week witnessed better things registering its third consecutive victory and moving out of the basement ahead of Erie Trailer (2-11).

The Perkins-Newcomers' tilt was last week Monday and featured a late-inning rally by the clubbers. Three-run innings in the fifth and sixth propelled Newcomers' to the victory.

Bob Marshall and Harry Hartshorn led the attack for the winners with three hits each while Perkins' Bob Oaks homered.

And Lanes, already having clinched the league title by winning its first 12 games, suffered its first defeat dropping a 7-6 decision to Northville Drug-Casterline. The decision was only the third in the last 39 outings for Northville Lanes and it allowed Drug-Casterline to move into second place.

Perkins Engines was one of Newcomers' victims, 8-5, forcing it into third place.

Last week Wednesday Newcomers' dueling Plymouth State Home for eight innings before Dan Conley's two-run homer in the eighth decided the game, 10-9. Conley had five hits — two of them doubles — during the contest and teammate Bill Broadbudd had three.

For State Home, third baseman Tom Hall had a perfect four-for-four at the plate including two homers, a triple and a double.

Parker Electric coasted by Erie Trailer last Thursday, 24-6, as Ron Hellier, Dick Norton and Paul Vandenberg each had four hits.

The Lanes-Drug contest was on Friday with Drug scoring three times in the last inning for its 7-6 victory. Bill Hopping led the winners at bat with three hits — one a home run. Joe Humphries had three singles and a double for Lanes while Jim Allen had two doubles and a single.

All-Star Game, Derby Slated in Slow-Pitch

The First Annual Men's Slow-Pitch All-Star game, with a team selected by managers to meet champion Northville Lanes, will be held August 8, according to Northville City-Township Recreation Department Director Robert Prom.

Prom also revealed plans for a home run derby sponsored jointly by his department and the Northville Record to precede the game slated for Ford Field. The derby is scheduled to begin at 5:30 p.m. and the game at 6:15 p.m.

Admission will be free. Members selected for the all-stars are Bill Bell, Joe Gotro and Jeff Crawford (all of Northville Lanes), Jim Belz, Jim Bishop and Ross Totten (Parker Electric), Charles Runyon, Fran Wagner and Ed Mantzaria (Erie Trailer), Earl Hundley, Bob Oaks and Bill Narkus (Perkins Engines), Marty Rinchart, Dan Conley and Wes Henrickson (Newcomers' Club), Bill Hopping, Al Axtell and Steve Juday (Northville Drug-Casterline) and Ken McDermott, Ray Courter and George Orwin (Plymouth State Home).

Lack of Board Quorum Forces Delay of School Plan Approval

Lack of a quorum forced the Northville School Board to open and close the meeting in one breath Monday night.

The agenda was adjourned until August 11, the next regular board meeting.

Final approval of preliminary plans for Amerman Elementary is expected at that meeting.

An informal discussion of the proposed school addition plans took place with architects from Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates. A handful of interested citizens, board members Richard Martin, Andrew Orphan and Stanley Johnston, Superintendent Raymond Spear and Business Manager Earl Busard reviewed the plans.

Architects presented a revised plan for Amerman Elementary. The multi-purpose room has been reduced in size to 4,480 square feet, a size felt to be more than adequate.

The board had surveyed multi-purpose rooms in area school districts before deciding on the size.

The Board is expected to give approval to the plan at the August 11 meeting.

In a progress report on the plans for Moraine Elementary, the architect said the folding walls in the octagonal classroom addition have been rearranged. The present design allows four rooms to be opened up into one large group instruction area.

Ensemble and practice rooms in the band room at Cook Junior High have been moved to allow easy access from the hall without going through the band room.

Revisions in the senior high school plan are continuing. Monday's discussion favored grouping classrooms of each department into one area.

The architect is expected to have a comparison of costs on the original plans and the revised plan for the senior high August 11.

Plans for the remodeling of Main Street Elementary include adding a second kindergarten and making one large group instruction room out of two existing rooms.

Additional restrooms will be added on the second floor. The office will be moved to the first floor with the teachers' room going into the old office area. These are just a few of the changes.

Spear told the group the inside of Main Street has been completely repainted.

The architect requested permission to begin soil borings at Amerman Elementary to determine the type of footings needed for the addition.

Action on the proposed school district budget for the 1969-70 school year will be taken at the August 11 meeting.

FROG LEG SPECIAL — If 13-year-old Gary Gooch liked frog legs (he doesn't) he'd be in for an extra treat this week. Gary and "a pal" went froggin' Friday in the branch of the Rouge River and came back with eight beauts, including this small fella that sported five legs instead of the conventional four. Gary, who lives at 430 North Center Street, said he'd "probably" let his captives go. But if anyone knows of a frog leapin' contest coming up, let him know. He might change his mind.

Police & Courts

City of Novi Police arrested James Michael Campbell, 33, of Windsor, Ont. last Thursday on charges of carrying a concealed weapon.

Campbell, driving a car which Farmington Township Police had issued a lookout for, was stopped at Novi Road and Eight Mile Road where he allegedly was in possession of a .25 caliber pistol.

A missing car owned by Richard McCordle of Howell was found by City of Novi Police last week Tuesday destroyed by fire on Meadowbrook Road.

The 1968 model sports car reportedly had been stolen the same day from the parking lot of Dave's Hamburgers, 43410 Grand River Avenue. The case remains under investigation by police.

Barbara J. Blanton, Westland, was ticketed for failure to yield causing an accident after the car she was driving collided with another vehicle Thursday night.

The accident occurred on North Wing and West Dunlap as Miss Blanton pulled from a stop sign into the path of a car driven by Mary S. Longeman, 224 Linden.

The Blanton car was damaged on the right rear side. Front end damage to the Longeman car was reported. There were no injuries.

A hit and run accident caused $300 damage to a parked auto July 18.

Richard Miltello, Farmington, told police he parked his car in a driveway at 105 Baseline. When he returned he found another car had struck the car in the rear, pushing it into rocks stacked on the driveway.

Damage amounting to $75 was reported at the lower grandstand area of the Downs on July 19. An unknown vehicle backed into a newspaper rack and an "I" support beam.

Vandals damaged two front lawns and a tree when they drove a car across the lawns July 24.

Mrs. Eugene Flannigan, 330 Hill St., told police she was awakened at 1 a.m. by a noise outside. She saw a car drive across the lawn and back onto Hill.

The same evening, Mrs. John Steimel, 488 Hill, told police an auto drove across the lawn damaging sod and a large tree.

Investigating officers found tire tracks leading from Hill Street, across the lawn and exit on Novi Street. Another set of tracks showed the car was driven twice across the lawn.

Plywood and wooden studs valued at $600 was taken from a building site at 20348 Lexington Boulevard. The incident occurred in the early morning hours Monday.

Officers found tire tracks at the scene and are still investigating.

Beulah Elison, 562 Baseline Road, told police her apartment had been ransacked early Sunday morning.

Shortly after 4 a.m., investigating officers found the front door jimmied, a bedroom window broken, furniture overturned, pictures and dishes broken and jewelry missing valued at $60.

Joseph S. Smalley, Garden City, reported he was the victim of a pickpocket Saturday night at the Downs. A wallet containing $170 and credentials was taken.

The same evening Jack E. Skitch, Royal Oak, had $78 stolen by a pickpocket at the Downs. Ernest L. Hopton, Dearborn reported a $90 social security check was stolen at the Downs the same evening.

A battery was taken from a car owned by Milton L. Bronson, Montrose, while parked at the Downs Saturday night.

Donald A. Mohlman, Detroit, reported the battery from his car was stolen and cables cut July 24. He had parked the car on Hines Drive while he attended the races.

Eight-year-old Tammie Jean Lewis was bitten by a dog July 22 in Barn "L" at the Downs. She was treated by Dr. L.W. Snow for bites on the upper left arm. The owner of the dog, Odie Boring, Adrian, was not ticketed.

Joel Hoffman, 8, of 573 Langfield was bitten by a snake July 23. The snake was not poisonous and no treatment was required.

Legion Plans Installation

The Lloyd H. Green Post 147 and the Auxiliary will install their officers Saturday, August 2, officials announced this week.

"This impressive ceremony will be held in the Methodist Church hall at 8 p.m. It is open to the public and anyone is welcome to attend."

The ceremony will be performed by the 16th District Ritual team which has been state champions several times.

All officers of the Legion and Auxiliary are asked to be at the Lloyd H. Green Post Home at 7:30 p.m. for group pictures.

Two Churches Plan School

As the "lazy, hazy, crazy" days of summer begin to drag, a fresh form of summer activity will be offered youngsters in the form of daily vacation church school.

The First United Methodist Church and The First Presbyterian Church are cooperating in the joint church school, which will begin on Monday, August 11 at 9 a.m. and close on Thursday evening, August 21.

Enrollment is open to all children of both churches and the community. There will be classes for children who will be entering public kindergarten this fall, continuing up for those who have just completed the sixth grade. Classes will be held in the Presbyterian Christian Education Building, daily, from 9-11:30 a.m.

Fishing Provides Ups and Downs

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

A black patch covers his right eye. Looking craggy with his long hair disheveled, he sits astride his horse, eyeing four men on horseback about 300 yards away. Unflinchingly, he unsheathes a rifle from his saddle and draws a pistol from his holster.

It's showdown time in the old west. Then the charge begins. One against four. But these are more than fair odds. After all, there are few men like Rooster Cogburn, the hard-bitten marshal who revels in gun-play and bloodshed.

With guns blazing, Cogburn cuts down all four unsavory bandits. One, however, lives long enough to put a bullet in Cogburn's horse and nearly finishes off the venerable law enforcement officer as he lies sprawled on the ground with his leg pinned under his horse's foot rings out from a distant hill and bull's eye, the bandit topples from the saddle.

The role of Rooster Cogburn fits John Wayne to a T, and has even prompted Life magazine to say that Wayne may be in line for an Academy award. If so, the movie industry is likely to fold immediately after Oscar time next year.

The character of Cogburn might be amusing, but it's just another stage stop in Wayne's long movie career, 99 percent of which has been spent in the saddle. There is nothing distinguishing about Cogburn or Wayne's performance.

So saying that Cogburn is the best part of the movie, "True Grit", isn't saying much. The story is flimsy, the dialogue is trite, the setting is as prosaic as the Arizona desert. Only the camera work surpasses the western norm.

Per most westerns, "True Grit" is the story of dastardly murder which, according to the code of the old west, must be avenged. The responsibility for avenging the death of her father falls to a young girl, Mattie Ross.

She's equal to the task, despite her youth and civilized ways. Rooster Cogburn, through some sharp horse trading, is hired to track the killer. And a Texas lawman, LaBoeuf, joins the hunt, like Cogburn, for the sheer love of money.

The killer is as good as dead.

"True Grit" marks the film debut of Glen Campbell and Kim Darby.

For Campbell, it should be his last celluloid appearance. The pop-western singer is that bad as an actor. Not even copious retakes or film editing can give him a natural posture as LaBoeuf. His speech and acting are obviously labored.

Kim Darby as the ingenuous, but tough daughter of a murdered rancher is as amusing as Cogburn. The incongruous relationship between a determined young girl and the rough-shod Cogburn may prompt laughter. But it is hardly the stuff that good movies are made of.

... Just Look About You

Island Lake Makes A Big Splash

The Island Lake State Recreation Area is an anomaly of sorts. Flanked by two major expressways — 196 and U.S. 23 — it nonetheless is a controlled wilderness wonderland of over 3,150 acres which offers the nearby city resident a chance to enjoy what is popularly called "The Great Outdoors."

One of 74 state parks, which range in size from 45,000 to 50 acres, the recreation area near Brighton has two major beach and picnicking facilities, two "primitive camp grounds", an Outdoor Center for groups, canoe and boat rental. It is a haven for hiking birdwatching, and to a lesser extent, hunting and fishing.

Six miles of the Huron River course through the park's rolling hills, farm land, and woodlands, beginning at Kent Lake near the northeastern edge and terminating at Old U.S. 23 on the southwest.

By canoe is perhaps the most scenic way to travel from one end of the park to the other. Canoes may be rented at Kent Lake at a cost of $6 per day for weekends and holidays, $5 per day during week days, or for $1 per hour.

Kent Lake may be reached by taking the Kensington road exit off I-96 and proceeding south for approximately one mile, past the park headquarters on the corner of Kensington road and Old Grand River. A sign on Kensington road clearly marks the paved road to the lake.

As at all state parks, the user must purchase a State Park Motor Vehicle permit, $3 annually or $1 per day for all Michigan residents. Out-of-staters must pay $5 and $2, respectively. Stickers must be displayed in the car window.

The Kent Lake section offers swimming, picnicking, along with canoe-rentals, swimming in a designated area under supervision of a life guard, four parking lots, a bathhouse, concession booth, boat dock and picnic areas.

Boats may also be rented by the day or hour. There is a deposit of $5, plus a charge of 50 cents per hour on weekdays, 75 cents per hour on weekends and holidays. There is a two-hour minimum, and life preservers rent at 25 cents each.

According to Paul Wigg, park supervisor, the best fishing may be found at the foot of the dam, constructed by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, yet located on state land at the southwestern end of Kent Lake. There, Wigg says, there are black bass, croppies and blue gills, and of course, sun fish.

It's a popular fishing spot, however, with as many as 60 persons angling for big ones on any summer weekend. Fishing further down stream and in Kent Lake bring happy results also, but not as consistently as at the dam base, Wigg advises.

While boats may only be used near Kent Lake, canoes may be taken downstream through the recreation area — all six miles of it — and on down river to the point where the Huron River empties into Lake Erie.

Pick-up service is provided, but there's a charge for it, 25 cents per mile for individuals and within the park, $2.50 to $5.50 for groups of eight canoes

One of the unique facilities along the river and open only to groups is the Outdoor Center, a complex of barracks-type cottages, dining room, restrooms with running water and an outdoor amphitheater.

Minimum limit for a group is 30, with a minimum charge of 40 cents per night for persons under 18 and 60 cents per night for people 18 and over. The Center is in operation throughout the year, and many schools use the facility for an entire week to teach studies connected with the outdoors.

There's a hitch, however. For all intents and purposes, the popular Outdoor Center is booked solid through 1970. Reservations for 1971 will be taken, beginning in January of that year.

En route down the Huron River, the canoe may stop overnight for $1.50 at the Outpost Camp, located just south of the park's other beach and camping facility — Island Lake. Like the Kent Lake facility, Island Lake has a beach, changing house, toilet facilities, picnic area, concessionaire and parking lots.

Perhaps the most interesting aspect of this lake site is the pavilion, made of huge, sculptured stones and cement and built during WPA days before WWII. A balcony on the pavilion offers a scenic view of Island Lake, plus a fire place and tables.

Within a few short yards of the beach facility is the Camp Ground, a wooded area with lots staked out for trailers and tents. Like the Outpost Camp, the Camp Ground is a "primitive camp ground" in that there is no electricity, or running water. Pit toilets and a pump are available.

Hunting in season is permitted, Wigg said, for any game, providing the hunter has a license.

Intend to hire a painter to do the interior of your home? Save him some time and yourself some money by taking down all curtains, blinds and wall decorations. Dust the walls and windows, or wash them if there is an accumulation of grease or grime. Move all furnishings to the center of the room where they can be covered with protective drop cloths.

It is sometimes necessary, when replacing or fitting window glass, to tap the pane to loosen it or push it into place. A rubber crutch tip slipped over the handle of your putty knife will enable you to do this without the danger of breaking the glass.

Don't throw away screw-top jars. Instant coffee and peanut butter jars especially make wonderful storage containers for leftover paints. Be sure to fill the jars to the brim. Then screw the lid on tightly. By sealing out the air, you can keep your paint fresh until you're ready to use it again.
The clear glass jars enable you to see exactly what color the paint is.

Make a disposable brush for those quick touch-up wise several times, then attaching it to a piece of wood with a string or rubber band.

from the Pastor's Study

Rev. Timothy C. Johnson
Assistant Pastor
First Presbyterian Church, Northville

Many people have travelled through Europe and on each trip a visit to one of the Gothic cathedrals is a "must." These beautiful and graceful buildings are unmatched in the grandeur of architecture. But a curious phenomenon exists: where are the people who were served by them? Many of these cathedrals have become monuments, marking the place where once upon a time a congregation worshipped God. Now they stand empty, except for the tourists.

Jesus said, "Whoever would save his life will lose it; whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." (Luke 9:24) Could it be that the cathedrals stand empty because their congregations failed to match outer renewal with inner, spiritual renewal? In our country spiritual renewal is at a low ebb. Church attendance, interest, and giving are down. And we are losing ground. Could it be that the words of Jesus, "whoever would save his life will lose it," hold some truth for us? If they mean what they say, then as churches and individuals seek to save our church life, we must be concerned with not just ourselves, but with others. Perhaps we have been misled into believing that success of parish life depends on budgets, buildings, bodies, and baptisms. We are seeking to find our life, by living too much to ourselves.

As long as our energies and programs seek to serve only ourselves, we shall never see a true renewal of church life. We may see some sterile re-organization. But for genuine renewal to take place we need to minister to people who are in need of love and attention. "Whoever loses his life for my sake will find it."

VITAL BRIDGE

Living on an island has its problems! Islands are just fine . . . until you run out of bread or need the refrigerator fixed. That's why we built this rustic bridge last summer. It's safer for the children than our old boat, and it links us with our neighbors if we or they need help in a hurry.

There is great need for another bridge these days . . . not of wood or stone, but of understanding between the world's people. "No man is an island . . ." We are all children of God, made in His image.

The Christian Church is the living bridge that seeks to unite men everywhere in the fellowship of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace. By supporting your church and striving to live by its teachings, you help to span the gulf of ignorance and fear that still separates us from our brothers.

Sex Education Guidelines Stir Boiling Pot

LANSING — SEX EDUCATION has become a topic which equals, if not surpasses, parochial school aid when it comes to raising the tempers and blood pressures of Michigan residents these days.

The specific subject which served as a lightning rod for the furor in the last few weeks is a set of proposed guidelines for the teaching of sex education in public schools. The proposals were drawn up by a 25-member committee selected by the State Board of Education after the board was instructed by the Legislature to set up some guidelines.

Opposition to the guidelines arose even before they were made public. This was led by state board member James F. O'Neil of Livonia and by a group calling itself "the United Committees of Michigan."

The specific guidelines around which the controversy is boiling may be unique to Michigan, but the controversy around sex education in general is not.

AT LEAST 35 STATES have had controversies over the subject erupt to some degree, all in the past year or so.

The National Education Association conducted a survey earlier this year and concluded that the controversies were being touched off by the John Birch Society and similar right wing groups.

This is not to say all opponents of sex education or of forms of sex education are extremists or right wingers, for they come from all political persuasions. It does mean, as one Birch Society official has been quoted as saying, "That this is a highly emotional area and is ripe for exploitation by a group in need of a cause."

Robert Welch, founder and leader of the John Birch Society, has labeled sex education "a filthy communist plot." His group has formed committees entitled "Movement to Restore Decency" around the country in an all-out campaign against sex education.

PART OF THE controversy here in Michigan revolves around what exactly is sex education. Mrs. Pauline Iyenaga of Lansing, one of the 25 members of the advisory committee, talked of this in helping present the report of the committee to the state board.

"Sex education involves a great deal more than the mechanics of sex," she said. "In some ways it is unfortunate that the name 'sex education' is given to this area since it prompts such an emotional response in some persons."

"What we're really dealing with is all relationships which persons of one sex have with another on many different levels," she said.

THE COMMITTEE REPORT itself, anticipated organized opposition of some type to sex education in the schools.

"Schools welcome questions and constructive criticism by informed groups and individuals," it said.

"However, nationwide and statewide extremist organizations counter the public school's responsibility for directing the educational process within the democratic philosophy by trying to stifle free expression of views opposed to their own."

"They make irresponsible, uninformed and near libelous attacks on individuals, institutions and organizations that disagree with them," the report said. "Their goal is disruption and undermining of democratic procedure through coercion, intimidation and even violence to prevent or to force change."

As might be expected, that section of the report was booed loudly by the unruly crowd which attended the public presentation of the proposed guidelines.

IT PROBABLY WAS to be expected, at least by the males in the state, but the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has confirmed that it's the female mosquitoes which cause all the trouble for humans.

A report issued by the Department says female mosquitoes make all the noise and do all the biting.

"Male mosquitoes are harmless," the report said. "Their beaks are not fitted for piercing."

"Females bite and hence can transmit disease," it said. "They are the only ones which buzz."

Now, if they'd only come up with a way to spot the difference before the mosquitoes get to you...

Growth Coats Paint Future

Paint sales are generally broken down into two categories—trade and industrial.

Trade sales consist of paint sold to consumers, contractors, and professional painters for new construction and for repainting, refinishing, and maintenance. Industrial sales consist of coatings sold to manufacturers for application during the manufacturing stage of a product. Until recently, trade sales had been more important in the paint industry's growth. However, future sales of industrial coatings should surpass sales of consumer paints by a considerable degree.

The superior growth projected for industrial coatings is based on (1) the overall growth of U. S. industry and (2) the technology of coatings which is moving ahead so rapidly that paints are being used on surfaces unheard of a few years ago, such as the superdurable finishes on space vehicles. Although the automotive, appliance, and furniture industries consume the greatest volume of industrial paints each year, uses range from coating the inside of food and beverage cans to the thin film of varnish on motor armatures.

GROWTH in the paint industry in recent years has been steady and reliable, though the rate has been unspectacular. Despite being an integral segment of the building industry, the paint field tends to resist downturn phases in new construction because a large part of spending on paint is for maintenance and renovation.

Weather conditions, however, can adversely affect paint consumption in a given year. Thus, in 1967 when poor weather conditions combined with a relatively unenthusiastic automobile year, paint sales rose but a sub-par 3 percent, well below the usual 4 percent-5 percent year-to-year increase. With costs up sharply, earnings for many paint manufacturers declined. On the whole, 1968 was a much better year for the paint industry, although substantial spending on expansion and modernization instead of new building, along with the surtax, depressed earnings for some of the industry leaders.

Indications are that 1969 will be a good year for the paint makers. Industry leaders are estimating that trade sales will rise from $1 billion in 1968 to $1.1 billion this year, with water-based paints increasing their share of the market from 60 percent to 66 percent to 70 percent.

NATIONAL LEAD, manufacturer of the well-known line of "Dutch Boy" paints and pigments, is the country's largest manufacturer of products in which lead is a basic material; it is also prominent in nonferrous die castings.

COOK PAINT & VARNISH makes paints, varnishes, enamels, lacquers, synthetic resins, and waxes as well as prefinished plywood and wallboard and printed hardboard. Poor weather and rising costs are hurting this year's sales and earnings, but good long-range prospects make the stock worth watching as a rebound candidate.

Consumers May Combat High Prices

As the weather gets hotter, the economy could get cooler, says Dr. George Dike, Michigan State University agricultural economist. Consumers may become more careful with their food dollars, and high price tags on meat might come down. Dr. Dike offers the following market outlook for Michigan-raised agricultural commodities:

MILK — New Class I price levels have been announced to become effective August 1. The new price will be $6.62 per hundredweight in the Detroit area. This is 17 cents per cwt. higher than the previous price of $6.45. The same 17 cent increase will also apply to prices in other markets throughout the state.

CATTLE — With a booming economy, and the kind of demand seen in June, high prices for choice slaughter steers could again reach $35 to $36 in Chicago in the last half of 1969. But a more conservative estimate is warranted, however, because demand in June, 1969 was higher than usual. While choice slaughter steers will continue to be high priced for the remainder of this year, they will probably stay somewhat above $32 in Chicago.

HOGS — The rise in demand which we have been witnessing will probably continue into August and September helping to maintain prices at Chicago around $23 to $24 for 2s and 3s. The late spring crop is estimated to be 7 percent less than a year earlier. If this projection holds, the usual price drop seen in late fall will not be as noticeable as a year earlier. Hog prices could actually be very steady from August to January 1970.

EGGS — Prices paid by wholesale distributors in late June for Grade A large white eggs averaged about 35.5 cents in Detroit. This was about one cent over the price paid the first half of June.

From July to September, U.S. farm egg prices are expected to average about 34 cents, 2.5 cents below the same months of the previous year.

BROILERS — Wholesale broiler prices in nine major cities are expected to average about 29 cents in the third quarter of 1969 — about 1/2 cent above July to September 1968. During the last half of 1969, marketings will likely average 7 to 8 percent about the same period in 1968.

Increases in consumer incomes are expected to slow this year, and if expected increases in red meat and broiler supplies materialize, broiler prices will be under pressure the rest of 1969.

TURKEYS — Wholesale turkey prices in the major marketing period of September through December are likely to be 36 to 37 cents. Farm prices during this same period are expected to average 22 to 23 cents, compared to 20.7 cents for the same period last year.

CHERRIES AND APPLES — The USDA estimates the 1969 tart cherry crop in Michigan will be 110,000 tons compared to 100,000 tons in 1968. Crop estimates for the five Great Lake states, which account for the bulk of U.S. tart cherry production, are up 8 percent from the relatively small production last year. The American Agricultural Marketing Association's Tart Cherry Division has asked 12.5 cents per pound for the 1969 crop, which is down from the 15 cent price received by growers a year ago.

The 1969 state apple crop is being "guesstimated" at 14 million bushels. The National Apple Institute "guesstimates" total U.S. production will be 154 million bushels in 1969. These crop estimates can be compared to a relatively small 1968 apple production of 12 million bushels in Michigan and 119 million bushels in the U.S.

FIELD CROPS — The outlook for the rest of 1969 points to larger supplies of most field crops, including those grown in Michigan. Net returns to farmers from crop production will be under pressure from rising costs as well as large supplies and their effect on the market.
