

'Don't Forget, Tuesday You're Mine'

Grandma Cheers Lonely Children

As the little grey-haired woman entered the room, the clamor was electrifying: love-hungry toddlers and young teens broke out in smiles, some pushing their twisted bodies toward her, shouting "kiss, kiss, Grandma, kiss."

Grandma, was "home" again and these youngsters, all patients at the Plymouth State Home and Training School, couldn't be happier. Nor could this "part-time grandmother" who is typical of the aging men and women making up the Foster Grandparent Program at this Northville Township institution for the young retarded and physically handicapped.

"I've only been here a few months," explains 71-year-old Mrs. Edith Bennett of 46950 Six Mile Road. "So many others have done so much more. All of us feel it's such a grand program — a two-way street where we can add to our old age pensions and help someone in the process."

Mrs. Therese Randall, program director, agrees wholeheartedly but says there are many more tangible benefits, most important of which is that these foster grandparents are "providing the love and attention a child would normally receive at home."

Plymouth State Home marked the first anniversary of the program yesterday with a picnic luncheon for the 25 foster grandparents and their 50 foster children.

The program was made possible by a federal grant from the Department of Health, Education & Welfare's administration on aging and through the Office of Economic Opportunity's anti-poverty program. Its aim, Mrs. Randall explains, is "to help enrich and fulfill the lives of the elderly so that they may supplement their meager incomes and find purpose and meaning in their golden years."

The program employs foster grandparents over 60 who make less than $1,600 annually. It employs couples making less than $2,000 annually. The wage is $1.60 an hour. They "work" five days a week, four hours a day.

Foster grandparents perform as do all grandparents: giving children special attention, encouraging performance, lending understanding through instruction, and providing emotional discipline.

Underlining all of these, says Mrs. Randall, is love.

Says Grandma Bennett: "These children show their love in so many ways — it's so beautiful my problem is you want to hug them and do everything for them and yet you've got to let them do for themselves, too. You take them home in your dreams you love them so much."

Explains a grandpa: "I feel needed and wanted — I feel that my life is worth living and I don't feel so old anymore."

Grandparents live in Inkster, Wayne, Westland, Livonia, Plymouth, and Garden City. Mrs. Bennett is the only Northville foster grandparent although there are two others on the waiting list.

When the program was started, Plymouth State Home contacted church and senior groups, then tapped the federal poverty program. Now grandparents hearing about the program contact the home for applications. But the Home can't afford to hire any more and is hoping for additional monies.

A two-week orientation for participants is provided by the PSH staff, and there are continuing education classes for the 25 regular employees. The senior citizens attend meetings and take part in discussions led by professionals dealing with physical education, music therapy, and management of behavior problems.

Grandparents receive a screening and a medical checkup before being accepted. Once employed they receive full medical attention.

Together, children and their foster grandparents enjoy a number of activities including an occasional trip to the zoo or a circus. But mostly it is a quiet talk, a walk around the grounds, rocking at naptime, playing games or singing songs.

Thirteen-year-old Diane, who recently discarded a wheelchair and proudly turned to crutches, summed up the children's need when she hugged Grandma Bennett goodbye for the long Labor Day weekend and kept reminding the misty-eyed woman, "Don't forget, Grandma, Tuesday you're mine."

Taps State, Federal Funds

City Seeks Aid for Parks

Applications for state and federal aid for property purchases and development of the city-owned fish hatchery site were authorized by the Northville City Council Tuesday night, two of them coming on the eve of a preliminary deadline.

Specifically, City Manager Frank Ollendorff has requested:

- Federal aid covering the interest on payment of municipal development projects such as land purchases made for parking or street right-of-ways. Under this program, the government offers to pay such interest until the land is put to use.

- State aid for up to one-third (approximately $200,000) of the purchase price for Maybury Sanatorium property.

- State aid of $57,000 for development, including tennis courts, at the fish hatchery.

The latter two requests are aimed at the still untapped multi-million dollar state recreation bond issue approved by voters last year. Preliminary deadline for applications for this money was Midnight Tuesday, the city manager explained, noting that he had prepared the necessary forms in anticipation of the council's approval. Deadline for the "next batch" of applications, he said, would be within six months.

Presumably, the state will first decide the fate of those applications submitted by the initial deadline before considering others.

Although Ollendorff, who was praised by councilmen for his spade work, said the city's applications were for large sums of money, he saw little hope of actually receiving more than a fraction of the funds requested.

Concerning the federal aid, the manager explained that this particular fund covered almost any kind of purchase but purchase of recreational lands.

Meanwhile, the city has revised an offer to purchase Maybury property, notifying Detroit that it wishes its request for approximately 220 acres to be considered separately from any request from Northville Township. The city manager took the action so as not to jeopardize either offer in view of a recently discovered state law that prohibits a joint purchase through a building authority. Earlier, the city and township offered to jointly purchase approximately 450 acres.

In another property purchase matter, the council Tuesday approved a purchase agreement for acquisition of the James Green apartment building, located east of the Spinning Wheel Fabric Shop on Cady Street. Approval is subject to inventory of furniture. Total purchase price, including furniture, was put at $33,000. The city, which some day may develop the land for parking, will collect rent from those living in the building after January 1.

Still another property purchase is in the works, this one calling for acquisition of Dr. I. Dale Kiser's office and residence between the Methodist church parsonage and sanctuary on Dunlap Street.

Cat Bite Victim To Get Shots

An eight-year-old Northville girl bitten by a stray cat will have to undergo a series of 14 anti-rabies shots. Bitten August 25 was Ann Taylor, 902 Ely Court.

Northville Police said Tuesday that they had no word of the whereabouts of the cat since it escaped August 26. The cat had to be found by Tuesday to determine if it carried rabies, or the girl would have to have the shots.

The grayish-white "tiger" cat resisted police who used a dart gun and mace while trying to subdue it.

The cat was captured August 26 but managed to escape while it was being transferred from the patrol car to a cage at Dr. Thomas Heslip's clinic, corner of Seven Mile and Napier roads.

Township Battles Over Land Purchase

Northville Township's plan to purchase Maybury property came within a sliver of instant death Thursday as a board split surfaced, signalling the approach of a major confrontation.

Meeting in special session to consider how best to proceed in view of a state law that prohibits the township from joining with the city in purchasing land for recreational purposes, the board voted 4-2 to investigate the possibility of establishing a separate purchasing authority.

At an earlier meeting the board had voted to join with the city in purchasing approximately 440 acres through a joint authority. A written offer to purchase, at $2,800 per acre, was made to Detroit — owner of the 900-acre facility — but later the snag in state law was discovered.

The legal snag has prompted the city to move ahead with plans to purchase 220 acres independently.

However, it appeared from board discussion that the original vote to purchase is a dead issue so far as the township is concerned and that an independent purchase by the township — regardless of investigative results — has at best only a 50-50 chance of board survival. Whether or not land is purchased independently by the township may, in the final analysis, hinge on the vote of the yet to be appointed replacement to the board seat of recently resigned Thomas Armstrong.

And even this appointment may spark a board battle when it comes up for action next Tuesday (see related story).

After presenting an explanation of the state law governing townships and building authorities, Joe Piell of Miller Canfield Paddock & Stone (bonding attorneys) said he would research specific questions of the board and report back to the township attorney before next Tuesday, then left the meeting along with Northville City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

At this point, Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg asked if there was any more need for board discussion on the subject. Trustee Bernard Baldwin replied that he still strongly favors purchase of recreational land despite the legal setback, and he motioned to authorize the investigation of possible purchase of Maybury land through establishment of a township authority.

"Why is that necessary?" asked Trustee Richard Mitchell.

"Because," replied Baldwin, "if the motion doesn't pass Ashton (Township Attorney John Ashton) and Piell's work is unnecessary."

Straub, referring to board consensus that township purchase of approximately 200 acres of land would require a tax hike of from one to two mills, declared the board "should know now" if it is prepared to increase taxes for such a purchase. If it isn't investigation is needless, he suggested. He, for one, would not support a millage hike, Straub said.

The motion died with a 3-3 split as Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond and Stromberg supported it while Treasurer Alex Lawrence joined with Straub and Mitchell in opposition. Lawrence explained his negative vote by pointing out he could not support something without the facts.

"How else are you going to get the facts?" asked Baldwin, furiously. "This board has exercised extreme shortsightedness... Three members sat there like bumps on a log and didn't say anything when he (Piell) was here. If you didn't want to go ahead why didn't you say so then instead of trying to play both sides."

Mitchell tossed the blame back into Baldwin's lap, arguing that his motion should have been made before Piell left the room. Furthermore, Mitchell indicated by his questions that he had misunderstood the motion to mean that purchase was being authorized not simply an investigation.

It was a clear motion, declared Baldwin, "it just smoked you out into the open."

In view of the fact the motion authorizes only an investigation, "I'll ask for reconsideration," said Mitchell.

"Why don't you stand up and be counted... if you don't want to buy it just say so," countered Baldwin.

Finally, the motion on the second go-round passed, 4-2, with Mitchell joining with the majority.

Vacant Board Seat Stirs Debate, Too

Two planning commission members and a former township trustee are top choices for the vacancy on the Northville Township board.

One of the three is likely to be appointed Tuesday — but the decision probably won't be an easy one since board discussion Thursday indicated anything but unanimity.

The nominees are former board member James Tellum, Planning Commission Chairman Leonard Klein and William Smith, recent appointee to the planning commission.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, Clerk Eleanor Hammond and Trustee Bernard Baldwin indicated a preference for Tellum, while Treasurer Alex Lawrence Trustees Richard Mitchell and Joseph Straub favored Smith.

Klein, while praised for his work as chairman of the commission, was the second choice of both sides because board members reasoned that he was too valuable on the commission.

Those favoring Tellum noted that he has had board experience, performed well while serving, and that he was only barely defeated (by 17 votes) in the last election. Smith, they said, is unseasoned although competent.

Responding to the argument that a man who has run for election is the most logical man for consideration, Mitchell said persons who have not run for office are no less qualified than those who have been candidates.

Lawrence said he wouldn't consider Tellum because of his inability during his board tenure to attend all board meetings.

Mrs. Hammond said Tellum, in indicating to her that he would serve, pointed out that he no longer travels frequently and hence could attend board meetings regularly. She said his performance on the board had been creditable.

NEWS BRIEFS

GROUND BREAKING service for the new sanctuary of The First Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday morning, September 14, the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure has announced. The special program will be held between the regular church services, beginning at 10:45 a.m., in the Main Street yard of the church. Members and non-members are invited to attend.

CAUTION'S IN ORDER for unsuspecting motorists who drive Novi Road. Traffic signals were installed Thursday at Ten Mile Road, replacing stop signs on Ten Mile. Novi residents had appealed for traffic curbs almost annually since 1955.

IT'S ONLY TALK — but, certain township officials are beginning to think the only way to break up a 3-3 split on the board is to call for a special election to fill a board vacancy (see "Speaking for The Record" — page 8-A). At the same time it's suggested that the Haggerty road industrial zoning question could be decided. And while they're at it, they propose tossing out the question of purchasing Maybury property — and unification with the city!

ANOTHER HEARING, this one conducted by the city council, will be held on September 22 to consider the rezoning request of Chatham Food Centers. The company plans to build a large supermarket on the west side of North Center Street, north of Rayson Street. City planners, who held a hearing two weeks ago, have recommended council approval for the zoning change residential to commercial.

Cynthia Allen Marries Thomas Bogart

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS ROBERT BOGART

Cynthia Deborah Allen and Thomas Robert Bogart of Northville were united in marriage in the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth on August 16 by the Reverend Paul Cargo.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Allen of 21204 East Eastfarm Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bogart, 46638 West Main Street.

Soloist Bill Cargo provided nuptial music when he sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord is My Shepherd."

Attired in a floor-length gown of silk organza, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. The A-line dress had an empire waist with chapel point sleeves. Chantilly lace appliques and seed pearls were used to trim the bodice, skirt bottom and floating train.

More pearls and chantilly lace appliques were used in making the regal crown which secured a three-layer, shoulder-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis surrounding four white orchids.

Alice Keeney of Plymouth was the maid of honor. She wore an empire-waisted gown of green crepe with long full sleeves. White peau de soie was used to accent the Peter Pan collar, cuffs, and skirt. She wore a white bow headpiece and carried a Williamsburg bouquet of yellow and white daisies with babies breath.

Bridesmaids included Nancy Butman of Ypsilanti, and Barbara and Judith Bogart of Northville. They wore outfits similar to the maid of honor's.

Curtis Bridges of Dearborn served as best man. The ushers were Donald and Rodney Allen of Northville, and Richard Barnard and Art Wilson of Ypsilanti.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride wore a pink worsted silk jacket and dress ensemble with silver braid trim. The bridegroom's mother wore a yellow silk worsted jacket and dress ensemble.

Following a wedding reception in the church parlor, the couple left for a wedding trip on Mackinac Island.

The bride, with a degree from Western Michigan University, will teach in Ann Arbor this fall. Her husband will finish his senior year at Eastern Michigan University. They plan to make their new home in Ypsilanti.

MRS. KENT ROBERT HUNTER

Speak Wedding Vows In College Chapel

In an evening candlelight service at the Concordia Senior College Chapel in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Kent Robert Hunter took Janet Marlene Hasselman as his bride. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Victor Halboth Jr. and the Reverend Rolland Fritz on August 16.

Kent is the son of Mrs. Dolores Hunter and the late Robert Hunter of West Main Street in Northville. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hasselman of Kendallville, Indiana.

Music for the wedding was provided by organist Diane Rathert of Northville, who played "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "The Bridal Chorus." The chapel was decorated with baskets of white gladiolus and candles on tall wrought iron stands.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a silk, empire gown with bishop sleeves. Lace appliques with scattered seed pearls were used to trim the bodice and skirt. The gown featured a full-length built-in train with matching lace appliques. She wore a bouffant veil attached to a petal headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations and daisies.

Serving as maid of honor was Carol Beights, sister of the bride. Other bridesmaids were Cynthia Shaefer, Kim Hunter, sister of the groom, and Debra Hasselman, sister of the bride.

They were dressed in similar floorlength outfits of lavender chiffon. The gowns featured short puffed sleeves and a princess neckline, accented by a lavender and green embroidered ribbon waistband. Each bridesmaid carried a colonial bouquet of lavender net and carnations and daisies, with more daisies and lavender net worn in their hair.

Paul Griebel served as best man. Other groomsmen were Keith Menze, Lynn Heclif, and William Liebig.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hasselman wore a beige linen A-line dress with three quarter length sleeves. The mother of the bridegroom wore a mint green, linen A-line, also with three quarter sleeves.

Following the wedding about 200 guests from Indiana and Michigan attended a reception at the Country Kitchen in Fort Wayne.

A 1965 graduate of Northville High school, the bridegroom recently graduated from Concordia Senior College and is now attending Concordia Theological Seminary. The bride, also a graduate of Concordia senior college, will be teaching school this fall in Florissant, Missouri.

The new couple will make their home in St. Louis, Missouri.

Play Group Nears Start

The Northville cooperative play group will begin its orientation for parents, covering the school program and activities, at the Scout Building, 215, West Cady Street on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, September 10 and 11, at 8 p.m.

The parents of the Tuesday-Thursday morning group will meet Wednesday evening and parents of the Monday-Wednesday-Friday group will meet Thursday evening. All parents are urged to attend. Health forms, Mother's verification of TB tests and tuition fees must be presented at this meeting.

Anyone interested in having their three or four-year-old child placed on the waiting list is asked to call Mrs. Jane Brown, 349-0401.

New 'Farmhouse' Beautifies 144-Year-Old Homestead

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a series dealing with the houses to be visited September 25 when the Presbyterian Woman's Association presents its annual homes tour.

Hanging in the front hall of the Ross B. Northrop Home is a small framed certificate of great significance. It bears witness to the fact that Northrop's property is a centennial farm, which means that the property has been in the same family for a hundred years. In this case the time of Northrop ownership is 144 years.

Many years ago the original family home came down and after that, the barn. Two years ago Betsy and Blake Northrop decided to recreate the Michigan farm house, circa 120 years ago, and the authentic reproduction is a very fine visible memory of a proud heritage.

Externally, Authenticity is clear, the lines simple and comfortable, the gardens close to the house, natural in color and design, with tiny rustic fences to contain them. The patios are parquered brick miniature courtyards, located one to the back, one to the front of the house adding all day Michigan charm to the lovely setting.

Internally, Mrs. Northrop — while concentrating on certain collections representing early American pieces of special interest, and skillfully placing antique pieces throughout the house — has manipulated a beautifully coordinated home with room-to-room transition whereby one might make the change from personality to personality, taste to taste, decor to decor without ever really losing the feeling of the original intent — that of being in an old Michigan farmhouse.

The front entrance welcomes the visitor warmly with a long vestibule opening into a comfortable sitting room, embellished with small seating arrangement of country benches, a sweet fruitwood wall arrangement of cadenza and three way mirror cabinetry, original antique bird prints and an original lithograph by Morris, circa 1865.

The living room and lower bedroom reflect a colorful later day taste with plush white carpeting, white walls, just the right amount of black and white in the huge matching Williamsburg sofas, touches of red velvet, subtle pastels of the children over the fireplace mantle in the livingroom and two handsome Williamsburg brass and glass light fixtures flanking the fireplace. One wall accommodates Mrs. Northrop's personally prized parchment-toned antique secretary, with hand painted posies scattered here and there, the effect being one of complete satisfaction.

The dining room houses a fine combination of French and English country pieces, the cupboard being the happy holder of a collection of Bennington pottery and Majolica pitchers and the floor to ceiling white louvered panels open to disclose the front patio — an extension of the feeling within.

Floors are dark and distressed, carefully laid with antique nails and continuing on into a farm cupboard kitchen-breakfast room setting. Here the beams from the original barn are very much in evidence, handsomely used to shape the structure of the rooms. They add to the effect of the old brick fireplace, braided rug, collection of antique copper pieces, the Bennington on the antique dry sink and the use of brick, once again, on the kitchen floor and on the back into the utility area.

There is more to this house to be seen. The library and hobby rooms are both trophy rooms, secondarily, displaying endless ribbons and awards for horsemanship, antlers from the Northrop's son's first deer, a fish caught in waters off of Alaska — and everywhere pictures and Mr. Northrop's hunting and fishing trophies.

Two big red Irish setters make themselves happily and playfully at home, very much a part of the family lonesome, no doubt for both Mandy and Ben, the Northrop children now married and moved out of their handsome and lovely second floor bedroom quarters, each with particular antique pieces, much color and warmth and beautiful views of the great outdoors.

NEW FARM HOUSE — A good deal of planning went into the design and construction of this charming home located on the historic Northrop property. It's a new house made to look like the old farmhouses that stood on the farms in this area more than a century ago.

The program for the night features an introduction honoring OLV teachers, C.C.D. and a pre-school program. Also an outline of league activities for the year will be given, followed by distribution of booklets containing the parish calendar.

St. Isabel Guild under chairman Mrs. Steve Adams is hostess for the evening. All women of the parish are cordially invited to attend, with reminders to bring a passing dish and table service.

Coffee to Launch Newcomers' Season

To kick-off the coming social season, the Northville Newcomers will hold their annual fall coffee Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Keese, 47270 West Main Street, from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Invitations for the affair have been extended to all members and prospective members. Chairman Mrs. Dale Starr is hoping for a large turnout.

Free babysitting services will be made available through Mrs. Harold Noffz, 349-3432.

Also at the coffee women will have the opportunity to sign up for the various interest groups, under the direction of chairman Mrs. Alfred Hawraney. The interest groups and their chairmen are: arts and crafts, (Christmas decorations), Mrs. William Broadus, 349-6042; bridge, (ladies day), Mrs. James LaCourse, 349-2994; bridge, (ladies evening), Mrs. Dumont Hixon, 349-4987; bridge, (couples evening), Mrs. Peter Lindholm, 349-1596, and current events, Mrs. Ken Kaestner, 349-0698.

Still other interest groups and their chairmen are: dancing, Mrs. Robert Kuchler, 349-5997; gardening, Mrs. Robert Saif, 349-4731; ladies' golf, Mrs. Jeff Schoof, 349-2491; gourmet (couples), Mrs. Edmund Steel, 349-4427; music, Mrs. William Craig, 349-5562, and softball (mens), Jeff Schoof, 349-2491.

Introducing

an Original REGENCY MEDALLION

As advertised in The Wall Street Journal and House and Gardens September issue, each hallmark medallion, featuring a cross, is individually hand cast in the highest quality bronze by artisans true to old world traditions. The heirloom quality of this fine art piece is assured by the sculptor's name and date of casting. No two pieces are exactly alike.

The cross, as a powerful symbol for good, existed long before Christianity. It has been used as a deterrent to the lawless and inhumane for thousands of years. We at Regency hope that the display of the cross in a work of art will not only introduce a measure of caution in this changing world but will bring pleasure and comfort to its owners.

Early in 1969, R. Dragos was commissioned by Regency to design a medallion for general use which would embody a cross. When the sculpture was complete, a pattern was made and placed with a group of skilled artisans.

We believe this piece of art will increase in value through the years. At the close of 1969, all tools and patterns will be destroyed. The year 1970 will bring a new medallion, also embodying the cross, and requiring the same patience and skill which went into this work. Each year thereafter, a new design will be commissioned.

4" in diameter, this unusual medallion has a polished bronze bas-relief on a Verdigris of Black or Natural background. It can be used as a medallion, wall or door plaque, or as a meaningful gift. Comes beautifully gift boxed.

Remit $30 (Natural) $33 (Black) $37 (Verdigris)

Remittance includes insurance, postage & sales tax where applicable. Return for full refund if not satisfied.

OBITUARIES

JAMES FERRY

James F. Ferry died August 26 in his home at 116 South Rogers Street. He was 70 years old.

Mr. Ferry was born on May 1, 1899 in Butler, Pennsylvania. A retired ambulance driver for the City of Detroit, he came to this area six and a half years ago. He was preceded in death by his wife, Margaret, in 1962.

Among the survivors are three daughters, Betty Hamilton of Detroit, Dorothy Parinello of Berkley, and Shirley De Buque, also of Berkley. He had several brothers and sisters in Pennsylvania and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on August 30 at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville. The Reverend Frances Wojcik officiated, followed by burial in Rural Hill Cemetery.

GLADYS HORNING

Mrs. Gladys Grant Horning, of 43605 West Nine Mile died August 27 at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor following a long illness. She was 71 years old.

Mrs. Horning was born on January 23, 1898 in Bay City to parents Minnie and Lovell U. Grant. She came to this community 35 years ago and was employed as a secretary for The Detroit News.

Among the survivors are her husband Dewey and two children, Gail Horning and John E. Horning. She had one sister, Mrs. Geraldine Grant Curry, and four grandchildren.

The Reverend Henry Lewis of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor officiated at the funeral last Saturday, in the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home. Burial followed in the Glen Eden Cemetery.

ALBERT TAGGERT

A retired farmer and area resident since 1913, Albert Taggart of 7441

Spencer Road, South Lyon, died on August 27 in the Oakland County Sanatorium in Pontiac. Mr. Taggart, aged 93, had been ill for the past three months.

Born January 9, 1876 in Gosfield Ontario, Canada, he was the son of Abram and Lillie Taggart. He was preceded in death by his wife, Sara, who died on March 27, 1965.

Among the survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Lana Cochran of Milan; two sons, Gerald Taggart of South Lyon and Cecil Taggart of Northville; and one brother, Mr. Alvin Taggart of Delhi, Ontario. He had five grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren and nine great great grandchildren.

The Reverend Guenther Branstner of the First United Methodist Church of Northville officiated at the funeral on August 30 at the Casterline Funeral Home. Interment was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

GERALD UDELL

Mr. Gerald Sines Udell, 68, of 44075 West Twelve Mile died Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac following an illness of two weeks.

Mr. Udell was born on June 19, 1901 in Karney, Nebraska to Eliza and Harry S. Udell. A pharmacist, he moved to the community 15 years ago and was a member of the First Baptist Church in Walled Lake.

Included among the survivors are his wife, Gladys, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Udell of Ionia. Others are a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter of Novi, a son, Robert W. Udell of Bloomfield, and a brother, Roy Udell of Ionia. He had five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held last Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Walled Lake with the Reverend Wendell Bagloe officiating. Interment was in Oakland Hills Cemetery.

Parochial Opposition Mounts

"Citizens Against Parochialism," a local organization of volunteers dedicated to opposing legislation which would give public funds to private and parochial schools, has launched a petition drive in the Northville area.

General chairman Robert Swanson noted that the Livonia based organization has extended its door-to-door campaign to Northville because, "It was the logical thing to do. Northville and Livonia together comprise the 35th legislative district. However, the petition drive in Northville will be conducted entirely by Northville residents who will be collecting signatures from their friends and neighbors on a systematic street-by-street basis."

The petitions state: "We, the undersigned, all qualified to vote in the State of Michigan, hereby express our opposition to any legislation that would provide state funds for non-public schools, regardless of the guise under which such legislation is enacted."

"We feel the full educational interests of the people of this state will be served best by maintaining the separation between church and state. We respectfully call upon our state legislators to prevent the enactment of any legislation that provides funds for non-public schools."

Audition Set For Singers

Auditions for women singers interested in joining the Madrigal Club of Detroit will be held on September 8 at 8 p.m. in the rehearsal room of the Covenant Baptist Church. The church is located at 18700 James Couzens Road, near the Lodge Expressway and Seven Mile.

Director of the women singers is Mr. August Maekelberghe, musical director of St. John's Episcopal Church in Detroit. About 35 women are members of the classical music group, which performs in the Detroit area throughout the winter months. Highlight of the season are two concerts in December and April, given at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The regular rehearsal winter season will start on Monday, September 17, reports Mrs. Kent Mathes, local spokesman for the singers. She adds that some knowledge of music is necessary, as applicants will be asked to sight read music during the auditions.

Persons wishing more information about auditions or transportation may call Mrs. Mathes at 476-4421.

Note our new hours

Beginning Monday September 8, we will stay open until 9 P.M. every Monday & Friday Evening.

We're open from 9:00 A.M. to 6 P.M. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday & Saturday as usual.

The charge card that works as hard for 500,000 businesses as it does for 20,000,000 customers.

MASTER CHARGE®, the nation's busiest charge card, is on its way. And a Michigan businessman couldn't have better news—because MASTER CHARGE can do as much for you as it will for your customers.

Consider. Your business would already have a bank of more than 20 million MASTER CHARGE users. And soon, 1,200,000 new customers in Michigan will also receive MASTER CHARGE. Your potential for additional sales and new customers is increased by sheer numbers alone.

Speaking of customers, just what is it about

MASTER CHARGE that appeals to so many of them? The big thing is convenience. They can use it in more ways—for more things—than any other charge card around. They pay no membership fees, enjoy once-a-month billing and, of course, MASTER CHARGE is honored throughout the country.

Great, you say, but what about our claim that MASTER CHARGE works as hard for you as it does for your customers? Well, it's not just a claim . . . it's a fact. With MASTER CHARGE service you'll be faced with fewer receivables. You don't have to prepare statements. You don't have to make collections. You can kiss credit losses good-bye.

In addition, we're going to blanket the state with a major advertising program on television, radio, outdoor and in the newspapers to let people know all about MASTER CHARGE and you, their MASTER CHARGE merchant.

So look. With all this going for you, doesn't it stand to reason that MASTER CHARGE is right for you? Think it over. Our people will be calling on you soon.

Ninth Annual Travel Series To Focus on Six Adventures

"It's going to be one of our finest series—from Michigan to Sweden and plenty of places in-between," said Robert Webber in announcing this week the Northville Rotary Club's approaching travel and adventure program.

The ninth annual series kicks off Wednesday, October 1 with a film trip to Sweden and concludes Thursday, April 23 with an adventure in the Aleutian Islands. Six programs are planned. Each will start at 8 p.m. in the Northville High School Auditorium. The others include:

"Hawaiian Paradise" on November 20, "Welcome to Michigan" on January 21, "We Discover Ontario" on February 26, and "Green Guianas" on March 18.

Season tickets for the always popular series are on sale now, said Webber, and may be purchased from any Rotary or at Northville Drug Company, Manufacturers National Bank, C. Harold Bloom Insurance Agency, Northville Insurance Agency and Northville Camera Shop. Season tickets are $6, with at-the-door cost of $1.50 each for adults and 50-cents for students.

Once again a special "couple" rate is being offered. A single season ticket permits a couple to attend three programs.

Here's a brief resume' of the six programs:

October 1 — Dick Reddy will present a film showing Sweden in her summer best as the modern capital of Stockholm is blended into intriguing farms and camping areas reminiscent of centuries past. Viewers will see the high plateaus, eternal glaciers in the Land of the Midnight Sun and the country's breath-taking Fjords.

November 20 — Headlining this program on the Hawaiian Islands will be Julian Gromer, who explores Waikiki, the glittering gateway to this state's four main islands. Other film treasures include the Lei Day Festival, Torch Lighting Ceremony, sugar and pineapple industries, orchid gardens, Lao Needle and a day above the clouds at the Haleakala Crater. Surfing and the Hanokaa Rodeo also are featured.

January 21 — Michigan is the topic of Robert Brouwer's colorful film that shows in an unforgettable style that the "mitten" state has more beaches than does the shoreline from Main to Florida — 3,200 miles — varying from soft, rolling dunes to Main-like, rugged shores. The film portrays the magic of the past through the impressive Forts of Mackinaw and visits scenic timbered valleys, cradled lakes, spring cherry blossoms, tumbling water falls and sculptured rocks.

February 26 — There is a happy blend of the past between the upper Canada village and the dynamic present in Toronto and Ottawa in this film on Michigan's neighbor — Ontario / Leroy Crooks. The film shows graphics' that this province is blessed with a wealth of natural resources and is rich in agriculture and industry.

March 18 — Art Erickson traveled eight months and 20,000 miles overland to film a blend of six cultures of the three small countries, Guyana, Surinam and French Guiana in this adventure program. The film portrays the fascinating wildlife of these countries and looks at Devil's Island, a voyage up river by dugout canoe in search of trade with the Wajana Indians and the rare and primitive wasp mat ceremony.

April 23 — Dennis Cooper, in this film program, takes the viewer aboard a rugged fishing boat and sails with them up the Inside Passage to Alaska, passing along the way the beautiful old-world Victoria, Prince Rupert, and Ketchikan. Along the way many humorous incidents occur. Sailing guests see awesome glaciers, cataracts, and the towering walls of rock in Alaska as well as the barren, windswept Aleutian Islands.

Another Tourist Record Seen

Mid-season reports indicate Michigan is headed toward another record-shattering tourist year with new seasonal highs already recorded in most sections of the state, according to William T. McGraw, Michigan Tourist Council director.

In his report to the council meeting at the Hospitality Motor Inn, Lansing, August 25-26, McGraw noted too, that the post-Labor Day business is expected to begin under most favorable conditions.

"According to present indications, 1969 will top the record $1.17 billion tourist spending of 1968, probably by $100 million and conceivably more", McGraw reported.

He said late summer fishing in the Great Lakes has already begun with massive schools of salmon reported running in Lake Michigan. Coho catches have been good, and frequent catches of Chinook — Michigan's new game fish — have been reported, pointing toward an optimistic fall business outlook.

Throughout most of the lower peninsula, July and August tourist business showed from 10 to 15 percent increases, while the Upper Peninsula is breaking all records with increases ranging from 15 to 18 percent.

Kenneth Dorman, secretary-manager, Upper Michigan Tourist Association, Iron Mountain, reported that the month of June was average but that July and August were, "tremendous." He said there were a few soft spots in the U.P., but this could be traced to a lack of local promotion or because there were no attractions in those individual areas to entice visitors.

West Michigan Tourist Association secretary-manager Wesley

Tebeau, Grand Rapids, reported that vacation patronage in west Michigan during August was the greatest ever.

The expanded business in August undoubtedly will result in overall patronage for the summer, greater than in 1969," Tebeau said.

Tebeau cited the flight of Apollo Eleven as a low period in which families stayed home to watch television.

"Once the flight had ended, they fled from the heat of the cities to the beaches of west Michigan", he stated.

James Hall, secretary-manager, East Michigan Tourist Association, Bay City, reported that business was off as much as 25 percent during June, blaming heavy rainfall in the area during the month.

MAN ON THE MOVE

James P. Thomas Jr., Division Manager, Consumers Power West Wayne Division

The Consumers Power division manager has a big area to serve. But some of the ways in which he serves it may surprise you. Yes, he manages office operations. Supervises the people who perform their various jobs. Keeps a tight rein on expenses. Troubleshoots in emergencies.

It's an eight-hour day, plus. Plus college foundation and Junior Achievement; plus YMCA and Community Fund; Chamber of Commerce, centennial committee... plus urban problems and rural problems. Study committees, civic projects, advisory groups — all have a claim on this man's time.

The division manager is on the move, participating in community affairs, representing Consumers Power as a good citizen and neighbor. His example is followed by many other Consumers Power people, too. Besides working at their jobs, they work in their communities to help make them better places in which to live.

It's all part of the high standards of service that Consumers Power sets for its people. Plus the recognition of an old truth, what's good for the community is good for the businesses in it.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The soon-to-be-released reform package for financing education in Michigan may answer one of the questions that has been bugging Northville school officials for several years.

As followers of local school affairs know, Northville's board threatened to ban all students residing on tax free land from attending classes unless someone paid their tuition.

Specifically, the threat was aimed at the state-owned institutions where employees reside on the property and send their children to local schools tuition-free.

But the threat was made with a wide broom and also included church-owned residences and the like.

Now the Governor's Commission on Educational Reform is about to introduce a long-overdue package that includes (among other proposed sweeping changes) "state payments to a district equal to property taxes for all publicly owned land and facilities within that district".

If the proposal means what it appears to say, the Northville district would receive property taxes for such facilities as Northville State Hospital, Plymouth State Home and Training School, Maybury and Wayne County Child Development Center.

Under the proposal, however, property taxes would be reduced sharply. A statewide rate of eight mills would be collected by the state (compared to a levy of some 34.9 mills now levied by the local district). In addition the state would boost personal and corporate income taxes and then provide monies to each school district equally on a per-pupil basis. This money would be for operating purposes only. It would be up to the individual districts to finance bond issues for building programs, presumably by means of a local-option school income tax or additional property tax millage.

Another key proposal may be the reduction of the number of school districts from the present 653 to about one-half that number. It has been suggested that each district must have at least 2,500 students — which is about 700 more than the Novi School District, for example. These smaller districts would be divided and combined with a neighboring district or districts.

Undoubtedly, Governor Milliken's reform package will spark controversy. Nevertheless, the fight has been delayed far too long.

Financing public education through local property taxes has become a failure at many levels. It places too heavy a burden on the homeowner; it does not provide an equal opportunity for education throughout the state; and it has turned professional educators into frustrated money-hunters.

There's more than one issue splitting the Northville township board. But the two most important at present are the proposed purchase of a portion of Maybury property for recreation purposes and the appointment of a successor to Trustee Thomas Armstrong, who resigned last month.

While it once appeared that the board stood 4-2 in favor of acquiring Maybury property, it now looks more like a 3-3 split.

Trustee Richard Mitchell is the "swing vote". He's voted both for and against the proposal. Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Trustee Joseph Straub are steadfastly opposed to spending money for recreation purposes, although the township has thousands of dollars earmarked for a township hall site and a future building program — far more than enough to pick up the first year's tab for the Maybury purchase.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, Clerk Eleanor Hammond and Trustee Bernard Baldwin favor the acquisition — and have urged their fellow board members to at least continue investigation of the proposal.

Mitchell is reluctant to endorse anything that might cost tax dollars without voter consent. But he saved the proposal from death last week when he switched his vote thus favoring "continued investigation".

This could lead to a township vote on the proposal and perhaps a request for a special levy of one or two mills.

Meanwhile, the city is seeking to purchase some 250 acres alone, still hoping the township will boost the total area for future open space and recreation facilities to 450 acres.

Another bit of unfinished business that has the board split down the middle is the appointment to replace Trustee Armstrong.

Stromberg, Mrs. Hammond and Baldwin propose James Tellam, a former trustee who was defeated by 17 votes in the last election.

Lawrence, Mitchell and Straub favor William Smith, a member of the planning commission.

Assuming the qualifications of Smith and Tellam are equal, it's difficult to oppose the arguments supporting Tellam.

He's had board experience and could step into the abbreviated term (one year) with a minimum of adjustment; he took the initiative to run for election and placed a close second; his record while a member of the board was good.

Next August those who haven't run for election can challenge the incumbents for a seat.

Speaking for Myself

Are Demonstrations Justified?

NO. . .

The key word to the question is "justified" and if one must give a "yes" or "no" answer based upon performances to date the nod goes to the negative.

Justification for demonstrations, in my view, comes when all other open channels for protest have been explored; when better solutions are offered; and when the demonstration is conducted within the broad provisions of the laws that give us this freedom.

Too often, it seems to me, protest demonstrations are conducted without respect for the rights of the majority. Without regard for personal property, without a "better idea".

Demonstrations, it should be noted, are not always "young people"; even when the demonstrations are conducted on college campuses. It is not unreasonable to assume that within a group of marching protesters there exists widely-divided objectives.

Certainly, demonstrations can be justified. But the suspicion here is that too often the righteous objectives have been replaced by the fun of raising hell and attracting attention.

William C. Sliger

YES. . .

Student demonstrations generally reflect an interest in society by the young and The Establishment's failure to react to that interest — to take advantage of it by directing it through constructive channels.

I cannot condemn a student for being interested in improving the fate of mankind. I would rather have a young adult be interested and dissatisfied and demonstrative than to be apathetic.

Things can be better and young minds often can provide the means for such improvement. But when we continue to take a write-your-Congressman attitude, young adults will continue to be frustrated by the ensuing delays while problems mount.

And what could be more satisfying, under those conditions, than to rebel against the non-responsive monster that's got you hemmed in?

Donald L. Krupp

"Speaking for Myself" is a new weekly platform for the divergent views of Sliger newspaper staff members who seldom agree on any topic.

Readers Speak

Ex-Trustee, Police Study Slapped

To the Editor:

By whose standards will Armstrong determine who is qualified or unqualified to be a Township Trustee? HIS? His very actions at the Township Meeting of August 12 certainly indicated to me that HE was unqualified. Resigning? If he were concerned about the voters who backed him, he would have remained instead of "Picking Up" like a petulant school boy grabbing his bat at a ball game saying, "I QUIT".

My sincere thanks to Mitchell, Straub, Lawrence and Hammond for their stand.

An old quote states, "It is usually easier to hide something than to hide the fact that you are hiding something." That "something" that is so subtly concealed in the Police Study report is the first step in the direction of "UNIFICATION". As was pointed out at the August 12 Township

Meeting, our county and state taxes provide the township residents with the protection of the Sheriff's Patrol and the State Police. Any gradual increase for the need of additional protection can, as Lawrence indicated, be met by gradually expanding the Township

Police Force AND THIS AT A COST CONSIDERABLY LESS THAN THE $77,000!

Sincerely yours
Bill Chizmar

Protests Taxes

To The Editor:

So now there is scheme being perpetrated in Northville City Hall to impose a city income tax on the residents.

How greedy can public officials get. An untapped source of income it is called.

When our paychecks are tapped heavily by the federal government, the state government and the United Foundations (the latter called voluntarily but obtained through pressure and intimidation) it can hardly be called untapped.

Then comes the big joke that if and when an income tax were imposed property taxes would be reduced.

Maybe slightly, temporarily, to make it look good. Then the greed would over-come them again and they would be resumed as before or higher. Do you people in city hall think that the residents are gullible enough to believe you that you would reduce property taxes? After all city councilmen are politicians.

If the brains behind the scheme had to work for a living instead of setting their table at taxpayers expense their thinking would be different. All residents against this proposed grab should protest it vigorously and ask them to please keep your greedy hands off our paychecks.

James Watt

Dislikes Repair Delay

To The Editor:

Where has consideration gone? How does one wait patiently for a return call on repairs for a well after four days?

We were in trouble, no water. We called our local well man and were assured that he would return our call.

Knowing that he is a busy man a member of our family was near the phone at all times to receive his call.

I'm not asking for charity, nor do I mind going to the laundry mat, or hook up a hose for water from our neighbor's but have you forgotten what water looks like after laying in tubs at the end of the day?

All of this will come to past you say when you hear from you local well man.

You call again and again the same story he will call you. After four days I gave up.

I didn't realize that I had asked for the impossible "consideration".

Who said Labor Day's a holiday?

Showered, shaved and hungry, I sat down for an early breakfast only to find a clean table and a perfumed note. It read: "Good morning! It's Labor Day. Time to relax. There's some cereal in the cupboard. Jennie likes Captain Crunch, Mary wants Cocoa Krispies, Debbie will have Bran Flakes, and the boys will eat Rice Krispies or Alpha Bits. The baby likes Oatmeal with Banana. And I'll have toast and coffee on the patio."

How about the dog, I fumed, almost ripping the cupboard door from its hinges. Suppose she's got a favorite, too. Well, if I'm the cook they'll eat what I make and like it!

First, sliced melon, then oatmeal, pancakes, eggs, bacon and toast. That ought to do it; I muttered mentally scribbling down the menu. And coffee, real coffee, none of that instant stuff. Maybe I'll put some berries in the oatmeal. Yeh, that's what I'll do. It'll be great.

So the Labor Day breakfast was launched.

"Whatcha doing, Daddy?" asked the first kid to enter my workshop.

"I'm making breakfast...what's it look like. Get cleaned up. It'll be ready in a jiffy."

"I want Captain Crunch," she sniffed.

"You'll have what I cook," I said. "Now get in there and get cleaned up."

As I poured the oatmeal into the pot, another inhabitant of our house appeared. "Ugh, what's that?" she asked.

"That, my dear, is oatmeal. It's just one of many goodies you'll have for breakfast this morning."

"I'm not hungry."

"Hungry or not, you'll eat what I cook. Get washed up."

Whipping up the pancake batter, I was greeted by another sleepy-eyed youngster. "Get cleaned up," I said. "We'll have breakfast in a little while."

"Someone's in the bathroom," he said, sticking his head into the bubbling pot of oatmeal. "What's those little things in there?" he asked.

"Berries," I barked.

"Berries!" Ignoring me, he rummaged through the cupboard and pulled out a box of cereal.

"What do you think you're doing, young man?"

"Getting my Alpha Bits." "No you don't," I yelled, jerking the box from his grubby hands. "You're having a real breakfast today."

"But I want Alpha Bits," he protested. He left, finally, grumbling about how badly the holiday had started, only to be replaced by his older sister. This one objected to pancakes. "I don't want any," she said. "I don't like pancakes. Can't I have Bran Flakes instead? I'm not very hungry anyway."

"Okay, you don't have to eat pancakes — just eggs and bacon and a little oatmeal."

"Oatmeal! Only the baby eats that. Thanks, but I'm gonna skip breakfast today."

"That's what you think," I said. "You're eating what we all eat today. Set the table and stop complaining."

So in this harmonious atmosphere, I dodged spitting bacon, flipped runny pancakes, wiped up the oatmeal that boiled over onto the stove, and tried closing my ears to the grumbling in the background. Nothing went right. Even the eggs resisted my touch, flopping around in the frying pan like grinning traffic victims.

"Hey, up there, where's my breakfast?" shouted the half-dressed woman on our patio.

Oh, boy, the urge was there but I resisted, turning instead to the bawling baby. Another dilemma: neither she nor I could decide which comes first — diaper or oatmeal with banana. "Hey, down there," I shouted, "I've got the oatmeal but where the dickens are the bananas?"

"It's in the oatmeal," she answered.

"The heck if it is. I've got berries in it."

"Berries?" she screeched as the neighbor's shade snapped up.

She was up in a flash, ordering me from the kitchen and plunking cereal down on the table in the same breath. While one hand uncapped a jar of Oatmeal and Bananas and flipped pancakes, another adjusted the burners, cracked eggs, started a fresh pot of coffee, and fed the disposal with oatmeal and berries. Instantly, the smoke cleared, the baby stopped crying, and the kids wore smiles.

Labor Day may be a holiday for you and me but not for the women who labor in our homes. Thank goodness for that!

A GIRL LIES in critical condition at Wayne County General Hospital following an accident August 28. Sherry Hirth, 17, of Plymouth, was injured when the car in which she was riding was involved in an accident with a huge tractor-trailer at the corner of Five Mile and Sheldon roads. Hospital officials refused to disclose the extent of her injuries. The driver of the car, Mary Berg, 17 of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was treated at the hospital and released. Wayne County Sheriff's Department investigating the accident said the two vehicles collided in the intersection. The truck, loaded with two trailers of garbage, was westbound on Five Mile and the car was traveling south on Sheldon. The driver of the truck, Robert Camp, 33, of Farmington, was not injured. The sheriff's department has the accident under investigation.

Who could think of refurnacing at a time like this?

Seems like a funny time to talk about replacing a furnace, huh? Actually, warm weather's the best time to make home repairs. Like replacing a cranky old heating system with modern electric heat. And now's an especially good time to convert. Right now, your Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor will give you $100 for your old heating system when you change to electric heat. Why electric heat? It's comfortable—really comfortable. No chill one moment nor blast of hot, dry air the next. And operating cost is guaranteed. Call Edison for details, and some names of Approved Electric Heat Contractors. So if your old furnace won't make it another winter, remember now's the best time to refurnace... to modern electric heat.

1,200,000 Michigan shoppers will soon find out they don't need any other charge card.

That's because MASTER CHARGE, the nation's busiest charge card, is on its way to Michigan. And in a very big way.

Bank of the Commonwealth couldn't bring better news for Michigan business people. For MASTER CHARGE not only serves the shopper better than other cards, it serves the participating merchant equally well.

First of all, your business can draw on a national total of over 20 million MASTER CHARGE users. Over 500,000 businesses already do. In the Detroit area hundreds of thousands of new customers will be receiving MASTER CHARGE shortly. Your potential for increased sales and customer conquering immediately increases.

And doing business is so much easier. With our MASTER CHARGE service, you'll contend with fewer receivables. Your sales slips are as good as cash to you. Billing problems decrease. And collections under MASTER CHARGE are no longer your responsibility.

What's more, over $1,000,000 in advertising will support this program, week after, week, on television, radio, newspapers and outdoor. The result? People will know more about MASTER CHARGE and why they will like doing business with MASTER CHARGE merchants.

Best of all, shoppers prefer the convenience and nationwide versatility of our MASTER CHARGE card. They can use it in more ways for more things than any other card. They pay no membership fees and enjoy once-a-month billing.

Looking for greater profit from greater sales in your business? MASTER CHARGE is the card that can do it for you. Our people will be calling on you soon.

Forum Slated On Proposal

A forum designated for the purpose of discussing the $4.5 million Novi Community Schools' bonding proposal will be held next Wednesday in the auditorium of Orchard Hills Elementary School.

The program, organized by the Novi Jaycees, will feature school administrators and members of the Board of Education. It is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Voters from the district will go to the polls to decide the request on September 15. The Board of Education proposes using the funds for the construction of an elementary school and a middle school.

Airport Issue

Still Unsettled

No action was taken on Ron Shoebrieger's request to enlarge his airport for use by Michigan Airlines or for the addition of pilot training facilities at Tuesday's Salem Township Board meeting.

However, Floyd Taylor, Fred Verran and Russell Knight who make up the board of appeals considering the matter, will meet yet this week to make some recommendation, it was learned from Knight on Tuesday.

Shoebrieger's expansion request is not a new issue, but recent indications are that more township residents are in favor of allowing his plan provided adequate safety and noise factors are adhered to.

Four Receive MSU Degrees

Four Northville students were among the 1,339 who earned summer degrees from Michigan State University, officials announced this week. The students and their degrees are:

Nancy L. Bosak, 43000 Nine Mile Road, BA in social science teaching; James B. Hildebrandt, 18331 Jamestown Circle, BS in packaging; Marcia Loeffler, 45849 Fermanagh, BS in home economic teaching; and Nancy J. Slatery, 46812 Dunsany, BA in English.

One day last week Mrs. Herbert Farah took her children and foster children on a boat trip to Bob-lo.

The Charles Wallaces were guests of honor on their 25th wedding anniversary at the Canopy in Brighton last Thursday evening. Ten friends and relatives were present for the occasion.

Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence Smith and family are having a week of vacation at their Augres cabin on Lake Michigan. Among the weekend guests are the Gordon Pahroff family and the Don St. John family.

Mrs. Mabel Chapman of Mt. Clemens is the house guest of Mrs. Laney Henderson this week.

On Friday this week Mrs. Dolly Alegnani, Mrs. Van Nielson, Mrs. Hildred Hunt, Mrs. Russell Race, Mrs. H.D. Henderson and her guest, Mrs. Mabel Chapman will have luncheon at the Swedish Club in Redford.

Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Macaluso entertained for a week, the former sister and her husband, Mr. & Mrs. Edward Meyers, and daughter Cherle of Bay Shore, New York.

While here Cherle had the misfortune to injure herself in a fall from a bicycle and to spend several days in the hospital.

Mr. & Mrs. Bernard Mitten and son, John, of Detroit visited the Macaluses on Labor Day.

Mrs. Richard Leppert and children of Burton Drive have returned from a month's stay in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. & Mrs. Brian Gellately of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, are visiting Mr. & Mrs. William O'Brian and other friends in Willowbrook. Brian formerly lived in Willowbrook.

Lynda Eck of Redford is visiting at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Needham for a few days as the guest of the Needham's daughter, Harriet.

Klukach Still Cautious

Grass Seems Greener On Wildcats' Side

The first full week of practices has left Novi High School Head Football Coach John Osborne satisfied while Northville High School mentor Al Klukach is still cautious as gridders now must turn their attention to the books before season openers September 12.

Novi Community Schools began classes yesterday (Wednesday) and Northville Public Schools today limiting the potential practice time for coaches who last week took advantage of full days with double sessions.

The Wildcats concluded their two-a-days on Saturday with a morning scrimmage while Klukach continued double sessions this week with two on Wednesday along with afternoon and evening workouts slated for today (Thursday).

"We're trying to get in as many sessions as possible now," the Mustang coach explained. "We're hurting on depth and particularly at tackle."

"I think our backfield is coming along pretty well," he added. "As far as conditioning goes, I think we're in good shape."

Halfback Brian Dyke and defensive end Steve Utley, both unable to attend the first week of practices because of minor injuries, were at practices this week bolstering the size of Klukach's squad with some experience.

Meanwhile, at Novi Osborne indicated his pleasure over the results of last week's practices although he interjected that the Wildcats had been pretty flat Tuesday after the long weekend layoff.

"Up through Saturday things have been coming along real well," he observed. "We've pushed the kids hard and they've responded real well."

"The spirit has been exceptional," Osborne emphasized.

Novi divided its squad evenly Saturday and had an intra-squad scrimmage which left the mentor impressed with both units' aggressiveness.

"We have seven or eight boys that are playing extremely well," Osborne added. "A number of kids are coming along but we still have holes to fill."

One setback for the Wildcats last week came when it was learned that defensive regular Dave Adema, a halfback, probably will miss the entire season because of a leg injury received in a motorcycle accident.

The Wildcats also elected senior halfback John Davey captain for the season on Friday.

Both Northville and Novi open at home on September 12 with the Mustangs hosting neighboring Plymouth while Hartland plays the Wildcats. Northville last season was 5-3 overall and 3-3 in the Wayne-Oakland Counties' League while Novi, an independent, was 6-2.

The Wildcats will become a member of the Southeastern Conference beginning with the winter sports season and Osborne, also athletic director, has been able to schedule contests this fall with Dexter, Chelsea, Ypsilanti Lincoln and South Lyon — all members of that loop.

Two Alumni From Novi

Novi's Gary Boyer and Levon Tafraian, both members of the 1968 Wildcat football team, were among candidates who began drills Monday at Alma College.

According to Head Coach Denny Stolz, Boyer will be worked at defensive halfback and quarterback while Tafraian is expected to be a top prospect at tackle.

Cheerleaders Ready for Opener

The 1969 Mustang cheerleading squad, along with the varsity football team, will make its debut next week Friday, when neighboring Plymouth opens the season here. Cheerleaders, coached by Miss Pat

Gridiron Edition Here Next Week

Sliger Newspapers' First Annual Football Preview — featuring area high school prospects for the coming season — will be included with next week's editions of The Record and The News, according to an announcement by Jack W. Hoffman, assistant to the publisher.

The special supplement, to be printed in tabloid format using color, will be available at no extra cost and includes stories and pictures on area prep and college football prospects.

Sliger Newspapers besides The Record and The News are the South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus.

It was also announced today that The Record will honor a Northville High School fall sports participant weekly in its "Mustang-of-the-Week" as selected by the coaching staffs. The News also announced that it will feature a "Wildcat-of-the-Week" as chosen by the Novi High School coaching staff.

The football edition is expected to be 16 pages and, besides stories and schedules on the area high school teams, it will include articles on former prep stars now competing in college along with a brief sketch on the major college teams in the state.

The preview has been prepared by staff members at all four Sliger Newspapers.

Junior Football Association Plans Sale to Raise Funds

For two weeks football will get a sugar coating from the Northville Junior Athletic Association.

Beginning Saturday the 105 players and 12 cheerleaders will be selling boxed candy house-to-house in Northville.

Money raised through the sale will be used to outfit and equip the players and pay for the expense of the games. Children in the program range in age from nine to 12.

"So You Want to be a Journalist" was the title of the paperback, one of a zillion produced by the So-U-Want-2-B Publishing Company of Des Moines.

I already was what I figured I wanted to be — a newspaperman, not a journalist — but I bought the paperback anyway feeling that it should be on my bookshelf.

And so there it has been — on my bookshelf — for these few years and I have yet to crack the binding. But now suddenly during the festive Labor Day week, I'm a little tempted to dig out the book to see if what I'm being coincides with what So-U-Want-2-B said what I wanted to be would be like.

My most recent doubts started Friday when I had scheduled to be part of a press preview for Eastern Michigan University's football season (starting at noon), to have pictures for the Mustangs (1:30 p.m.) and also to shoot the Detroit Zoo (sometime before 5 p.m.). In retrospect, I must admit that my scheduling reflected more imagination than does most of my other creative efforts.

I know guys — probably guys like the guys referred to in the

So-U-Want-2-B series — who only do one of those things in a day.

Well, of all the things I'd planned, this is how they worked out:

*First, let me insert here that I had went to The Zoo the day before and, after taking my time getting there, I discovered the place closed at 5 p.m. I arrived just minutes before — not allowing enough time to shoot the pictures.

It seems that the place is a union shop closing right at 5 p.m. allowing the animals to do the things they want to do without having to be on display before a thousand pairs of eyes.

*I made it to EMU's press day about noon Friday but could only stay long enough to chat with some other sportswriters before having to leave just as Sports Information Director John Fountain announced: "The steaks are ready."

So there I am chopping on a piece of Juicy Fruit gum enroute back to Northville for pictures of the Mustangs.

*We're taking the photos at the stadium where someone had the foresight to leave the sprinklers on. So I'm in the middle of the field trying to dodge the spray while focusing for the team shot and just as I get ready to click the shutter, I shudder as the ice cold water soaks my shirt.

And somehow about the same time I smell steaks being cooked on an open fire and discover my Juicy Fruit's gone stale.

*The football pictures are over with and I'm on my way to The Zoo ignoring threats that it might rain.

I arrive and park and am wandering around almost enjoying myself and I'm almost to the bears — and it's the bears I want to shoot (photograph, I mean) — and, with me the farthest point possible from shelter, it begins to sprinkle. Then it stops sprinkling... and begins to pour.

And I get soaked right down to my bones but, more tragically, the film gets soaked and later I discovered that rain-soaked film makes for ruined pictures.

*Sunday and I'm at The Zoo again and by this time, me and the animals are on a first name basis. I shoot the pictures and nothing goes wrong making me feel a little more professional.

*Labor Day I print the pictures and, thinking back over the past few days, I think that maybe I should pull "So You Want to be..." off the old bookshelf.

Then I decide that I rather be what I'm being than what I should be anyway and consider giving the book to a distraught reporter friend.

Harriers Launch Season Tuesday for Fall Sports

The Greater Northville-Nowi Area fall sports season officially begins Tuesday when Northville Mustang Cross Country Coach Ben Lauber takes his harriers to Plymouth for a 4 p.m. meet — the first of two scheduled for the week.

Lauber's squad will host its home opener next Thursday against Waterford Kettering beginning at 4 p.m. at Cass Benton Park. The Mustangs have 10 dual encounters, two invitationals, the Wayne-Oakland Counties' League meet and the State High School Athletic Association competition scheduled this season.

Other fall sports activity begins next week Friday when Head Football Coach Al Klukach's Mustangs host Plymouth and the Novi Wildcats host Hartland in their grid opener.

Both games are slated to begin at 8 p.m. The Wildcat-Hartland contest will be at Novi.

Junior varsity football schedules for both schools begin the following week the Northville-jayvees to open at Walled Lake Western on September 16 and the Little Wildcats to debut at home September 18.

The Northville eighth-graders are slated to open September 26 at Plymouth Pioneer with the seventh-graders to debut October 1 by hosting Hilbert. The eighth-graders have a six-game schedule and the seventh-graders a five-game slate.

Both teams are coached by Omar Harrison and Mike Janchick.

Due to the defeat of a millage issue last year, the Mustangs were without a cross country team placing Lauber, in his first season as head coach, with limited experience.

"I think we're looking good from the standpoint that we have a young team," the mentor observes. "Because of last year, this is pretty much a building season for us."

Lauber presently has a 16-man squad including seniors Paul Bedford, Paul Boerger, Mark Dixon, Dave Johnston, Bob Cook and Rex Balko; juniors Rick Bell, Kerry Cushion, Wayne Enders, Marty Tuck and David Wright; sophomores Guy Dixon, Phil Guider, Jay Singer and Todd Hannert and freshman Dave Johnson.

The coach plans a meeting today (Thursday) for freshmen prospects.

Ft. Knox, Kentucky — Army privates Paul L. Krauter and Harry R. Sanders have been assigned to units here in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA). Both are from Northville.

Private Krauter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur O. Krauter of 619 West Main Street, is assigned to Company D, 17th Battalion, Fifth Brigade. Private Sanders, son of Mrs. Harry R. Sanders of 504 North Center Street, is assigned to Company B, 17th Battalion, Fifth Brigade.

They will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army — firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Interspersed with constant emphasis of proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize USATCA's many and varied recreational and religious facilities.

Following basic training the two soldiers will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify them in a specialized military skill.

Private Donald A. Campbell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stuart F. Campbell, 411 Horton, has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky and is home on leave for two weeks. Following his leave, he will report to Fort Carson, Colorado for instruction in diesel engine work.

FORCES, Vietnam — Staff Sergeant Charles L. Giauque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Giauque of Sandra Street, South Lyon, is on duty at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam.

Sergeant Giauque, an aircraft mechanic, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces.

Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to McClellan AFB, California.

The sergeant is a graduate of South Lyon High School. His wife is the former Darleen D. King.

U. S. ARMY, VIETNAM — Army Private First Class Richard G. Mengyan, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Mengyan, 2023 West Lake Drive, was assigned August 2 to the 1st Signal Brigade in Vietnam as a teletype operator.

Police 'n Courts

An Oak Park man was injured August 27 shortly after 5 p.m. when he was pinned between two cars.

The incident occurred in the municipal parking lot behind Schrader's.

Jacob D. Homer was taken to St. Mary Hospital for treatment of lacerations on his left arm and hip injuries.

Homer said he was loading merchandise into his car when he saw a parked car rolling backwards. He tried to reach the window of the car to steer it away from other parked cars when he was pinned between the two vehicles.

Northville police investigated breaking and entering at the Cavern Teen Club August 27. Reported missing from the basement of Main Street Elementary School are five gallons of Coca Cola. A solution of hydrochloric acid was thrown on the walls damaging the paint and ruining the tops of some desks. School officials are continuing the investigation.

Fourteen stitches were required to close hand lacerations received by a 15-year-old boy when he was bitten by a dog.

Martin Tuck, 1036 Horton Street, was bitten August 26 by a Siberian Husky owned by Sanfried Dixon, 409 Larry Court.

Police have ordered the dog be confined for 10 days. Dixon asked the animal be destroyed after the quarantine to prevent another incident.

Rathburn Chevrolet, 560 South Main Street, reported a window was broken August 27. Investigation showed a possible pellet shot was the cause, as a small hole was visible.

Theft of a mini-bike valued at $270 has resulted in the apprehension of a nine-year-old juvenile. The bike was taken from the garage of Charles Austin, 410 Beal Street, on August 29. The boy has been released to the custody of his parents.

John Mach Ford reported the theft of two tires and wheels from a 1969 Torino between August 28 and 29. Damage also was done to the trunk lid, and the car jack was stolen. Value of the missing property is pegged at more than $70.

Police received four calls in less than two hours August 29 complaining of odors emitting from Mergraf Oil Company, 175 Railroad Street. The odors were described as "rotten eggs, sulphur and sewer gas." Similar complaints July 8 resulted in a court summons. That case has been adjourned without date to allow Mergraf Oil time to resolve the odor problem.

Eggs and tomatoes thrown at a home on 709 Spring Drive resulted in a complaint of vandalism. The incident August 29, also damaged a car parked at the home.

Damian Makurat, 29, of 25617 Jackson Street, Novi, suffered bruises and abrasions Sunday morning when the car he was driving went out of control on Seeley Road near Grand River Avenue.

According to City of Novi Police, Makurat was northbound on Seeley at about 50 miles-per-hour when he lost control of his car. He sought his own medical treatment.

The mishap occurred at 1:57 a.m.

City of Novi Police shot a dog belonging to Jack Anglin, 42750 Grand River Avenue, on Friday when it attacked them after having bitten eight-year-old Bradley Huntington, of 1395 East Lake Drive, Novi.

The youngster reportedly was attacked at the Aqua-Duck Auto Wash, 42800 Grand River Avenue. According to the officer at the scene, he was also attacked by the dog and forced to shoot the animal.

The boy was treated at Botsford General Hospital, Farmington.

The dog reportedly had been involved in similar incidents twice earlier this summer.

A two-car accident occurred in Novi at Novi Road and Ten Mile Road — the site of a new traffic signal — on Thursday, the day the light was erected.

According to City of Novi Police, cars driven by Donna Elizabeth Vantassell, 31, of 41861 Aspen Drive, Novi, and Patrick G. O'Donoghue, 46, Westland, collided at the intersection about 5 p.m.

Both drivers were injured and the Novi woman, along with Douglas Rimes, 11, and Ann Rimes, 7, of 41861 Aspen Drive — passengers in her car — was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia. O'Donoghue was taken to Botsford.

Police ticketed Donna Vantassell for driving on an expired operator's license.

There was no apparent loss Tuesday at a storage building at 41787 Grand River Avenue after it was discovered broken into about 8:04 a.m. Elton Heathcock, of the same address, reported the entry.

According to City of Novi Police, entry apparently had been gained by knocking out a door panel.

A break-in at the Erie Trailer Company, 25701 Seeley Road, was reported to City of Novi Police on Monday. Vandals reported damaged several vending machines in the building.

A total of 112 days in jail sentences were handed down by Judge Dunbar Davis in 35th District Court.

William H. Smith, Detroit, was sentenced August 19 to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction and given a fine of $503. Smith had been arrested at the Northville Downs July 13 for operating a gambling game.

A Plymouth man, Paul Riley, was given a 16 day term at DeHoCo August 22. Riley, arrested for reckless driving in July, had been allowed to serve the sentence on weekends. When he failed to show up at DeHoCo, the judge ordered the consecutive sentence.

Richard E. Grobbel, Detroit, was sentenced to three days in the Northville City jail and ordered to pay a fine of $53 August 26. He pled guilty to driving with a suspended license.

Glenn R. Huey, Warren, was given a sentence of three days in the Northville City jail beginning August 29. He had been arrested for driving without a license.

Charged with drunkenness, James D. McKinley, Garden City, was fined $48 August 26.

James M. Hallahan, Detroit, paid $38 August 27 for a traffic warrant.

Novi Scientist Wins Top Chemistry Award

Three members of the Chemical Engineering Department of Ford Motor Company's Manufacturing Development Office, including one from Novi, have been named to receive the Carbide Award from the American Chemical Society's Division of Organic Coatings and Plastics Chemistry.

The Novi winner is George E. F. Brewer, staff scientist who lives at 28610 Meadowbrook Road. He will receive the award as co-author of a paper titled "Solubilizer Balance in the Electrodeposition of Paint" which was presented at the Minneapolis meeting of the Division last April.

The Carbide Award is given by the organization each year for the most outstanding paper presented during the year.

The award will be given to Brewer at a meeting of the American Chemical Society in New York on September 10.

New Dress Code Gets Explanation

Interpreting the board's newly adopted dress code, the Northville administration has issued the following explanations:

Neat Dress — shall be the wearing of articles of clothing in accord with the intention of their design and style.

Neat Grooming — shall be the care of hair in a combed and/or styled manner.

Clean Dress — shall be the wearing of clothing which is free of soil, dirt, and/or unpleasant odor.

Clean Grooming — shall be that of clean body.

Moral Dress and Grooming — shall include personal appearance which is not morally offensive to fellow students, school staff and/or citizens of the community.

Legal Dress and Grooming — shall include personal appearance which is not morally offensive to fellow students, school staff and/or state and federal law.

Distractive in Style or Design — shall mean personal appearance which is not exotic, unusual or, in general, a deviation from student-accepted styles of dress and grooming.

Adherence to Good Health Standards — shall mean personal appearance which does not in any way jeopardize the health and well-being of fellow students and/or members of the school staff.

In addition, regulations specifically prohibit short pants, shirt-tails outside of pants and/or skirts when not designed for such wearing, costumes, bathing suits, sunglasses not prescribed by a physician, perts or skirts which would expose the top of hose or garters, bare chest or midriff, see-through garments, and hip-hugger pants or slacks.

City Approves Drain To Empty Frog Pond

Northville City Council pulled the plug Tuesday on the controversial "frog pond" located behind homes at the north edge of Northville Heights subdivision and the city boundary.

Upon the recommendation of the city manager, the council authorized city personnel to begin installation of a short storm drain that is expected to empty the pond — frequent target of criticism from subdivision residents.

Cost of the project, with utilization of city personnel, was pegged at approximately $2,600.

The council, which approved the installation subject to obtaining of an easement from the Slatkin development company (owner of the Novi property on which the pond lies had one of two choices: wait until Slatkin develops the property and pays for installation of the drain, which could result in a delay of years, or order the work done immediately at city expense.

Slatkin had declined to foot the bill, despite the fact that the drain would enhance his property and even though the drain will be required for development of the firm's property.

The Northville Police Department was authorized to erect an east-bound Eight Mile Road reflectorized sign, warning motorists of the crossing and traffic light at Center Street. The sign is to be erected at the crest of the hill near the high school's Eight Mile overpass.

Council took their action following a report by Police Chief Samuel Elkins that a two-day traffic survey (August 28, 29) in a marked patrol car resulted in 30 speeding violations, all but three for non-city motorists. None of the violations, however, were for speeds of more than 15 MPH over the posted 40 MPH zone. All were east-bound vehicles.

Using an unmarked car, early this week, police observed the intersection but spotted no vehicles running the stop light.

Despite the large number of speeding violations, Chief Elkins noted that the intersection is one of the least accident prone major intersections in the city. Of the 152 accidents recorded in the city to date this year, he said, three occurred at this corner. He noted, however, that it is a potentially dangerous crossing, particularly in view of truck traffic and the large number of school children who cross at Center.

Dad—Best Seat of All

By ROLLY PETERSON

Sex education in the United States is being branded by some as a Communist conspiracy to undermine the moral fiber of our youth, to promote degeneracy and to weaken the family unit.

Unknown to us in the United States, however, is what is happening in Russia. There, the issue is the same, but with considerably different implications.

"Comrad Bulganin, we must stop this thing at its evil core. We must root it out as you would a disease, a cancer of the mind and body. It's definitely a Capitalist plot."

"But Comrad Marx. My daughter is a member of the Lutzburg class. I have been in close contact with her teacher. She sends home reports on what is being taught in class. Then I discuss various aspects of the biological facts with my daughter.

There are no barriers. The teacher has my permission. If we have any questions, the teacher and other administrators of the school encourage parents to ask questions, to even attend the classes to see what is being taught.

"Only the other day I attended a class. I saw nothing offensive in it. To my way of thinking, it is a much better way of learning about sex than when I was a child. Anyway, my daughter is 17 and hardly ignorant of the fact that she is a woman."

"To your way of thinking..." You fool, Comrad Bulganin. Teaching sex in the schools, is exactly what the Capitalists want. You don't see it, your daughter doesn't see it. But that class is defiling her mind. You are forsaking your right, your duty as a good Communist parent.

"Ah, Comrad Bulganin,

Capitalists work subtly. Only the other day, in Molensk, they showed a film in the classroom about animals doing the sexual act. You could tell it was a Capitalist plot. The Pigs were fat. They had individual styles."

"Did you see the film, Comrad Marx?"

"No. But Comrad Trotsky, an unimpeachable source, told me about it. He was traveling through Molensk the other day and a good friend of his, a member of the Vladimir Oak Society, told him about it. There is no doubt that the Capitalists are trying to ruin the minds of our young generation. Your daughter, Comrad Bulganin. Your daughter! I am surprised that you, a loyal Communist, have been duped."

"A friend from the Vladimir Oak Society? Why, that's an extremist group, Comrad Marx. They see Capitalists under every chair. If they don't like

Come to THE ZOO

Monkeys Entertain With Playful Scuffle

Wide World of Sights A Short Journey Away

One moment you're in an African jungle and there are elephants ahead and lions to one side.

Then you're home on the range watching antelope graze while bison nap.

You're relaxing with a good book in the cool, sometimes damp breeze coming through the cascading waters of the huge fountain.

Or you're shouting and laughing at ringside during The Chimp Show.

You're at the Detroit Zoological Gardens — more commonly, the Detroit Zoo — and it's as close as a short drive to Ten Mile Road and Woodward Avenue.

Ironically, people either go to The Zoo for the crowds and sights or the peace and quiet as the spacious facility offers both, making it a favorite for young and old.

Access is without problems from this area with visitors able to take I-96-496 to Ten Mile Road and then Ten Mile east (turn left) to its intersection with Woodward.

Hours on weekdays are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays and holidays they are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. with this marking the first year that The Zoo will be open year-around.

Admission is free although parking on the grounds — which fills early on the weekends — cost one dollar. Rates for parking near the facility range up to three dollars on Sundays so the wise motorist will either arrive early or have patience in waiting for a space in The Zoo's lot.

Actually, the variety of activity really rates a number of visits in order to be fully appreciated. Picnic grounds are available while amongst the numerous exhibits of animals, the bears and monkeys probably are the most popular.

But the variety itself is a major attraction and it requires considerable walking to enjoy. Train rides and bus tours are available but the most enjoyable means of sight-seeing apparently is to allow enough time and walk it.

The Zoo's reputation speaks for itself — you've either gone yourself or heard about it — and a return visit can be as enjoyable as the initial one.

Go to The Zoo and see the world of animals.

Let us show you a well located piece of property, with 2,800 square ft. building, plus two small homes just west of Northville at a low figure of $29,000.00

A fine building site, on slightly more than 5 acres, in a very fine area, $15,500, and just west of Northville.

Just 2 1/2 miles west of Northville are 3 acres — a very good building site at $9,900.00.

We just listed this small home, a 1 story ranch — aluminum siding, shade and fruit trees, gas heat on 3 acres, close to Dexter at the low price of $25,000.00

Our office holds the listing on 4 of the most outstanding residential lots in this area. Three of them are slightly over 1 acre and priced at $10,000.00 each. The other is a 2 acre piece at $12,500.00.

Do you want to move into a home at once? If so, see us in regard to an immaculate home, beautiful yard, nice location in Northville and lots of living space at $24,900.00

Michigan Towns Brace
For Autumn Handiwork

LANSING — Autumn creeps quietly into Michigan, gently touching the shores of the upper peninsula at first, then bursts into a wild and violent tantrum of color to shame the spectrum. The disarray of hues and tones quickly overcomes both peninsulas forming a harmonious background for the many things to see and do in Michigan's autumn.

As nature changes the landscape, Michigan communities adapt in their roles as hosts to the thousands of visitors who come to view the scenery. Community events, mostly built around the season, will be staged throughout the state, according to the September-December Michigan Calendar of Events, just issued by the Michigan Tourist Council.

Ahead of the color changes, but leading off the list of events was the annual Bridge Walk across the Mackinac Bridge from St. Ignace to Mackinac City, Labor Day, September 1. This is the only day of the year pedestrians are permitted to walk the bridge. Prizes will be awarded by area merchants.

Also on Labor Day weekend, "The Black Gown Tree", an re-enactment of the land of Father Marquette was performed at St. Ignace.

Among the many activities on the calendar which are color oriented, the Bellaire Autumn Festival at Bellaire is scheduled for October 10-12. Color tours and cruises are planned at Saugatuck, October 11, and at Charlevoix October 12.

The several activities which center around the automobile include the Old Car Festival, Greenfield Village, September 6-7; the Can-Am Auto Race, Michigan International Speedway, Cambridge Junction, September 28, and the Detroit Auto Show, Cobo Hall, November 30-December 8.

Big game hunters get a chance to do their thing in October. Deer are legal targets for bow and arrow hunters, October 1-November 14, and again December 1-31. Those who are so inclined may hunt bear with bow and arrow in the upper peninsula, October 1-November 14. The firearm deer season is from November 14-30.

Fall festivals listed in the calendar include those at St. Louis, September 3-6; Plymouth, September 4-7; Scottville, September 11-13; Posen, September 12-14; Mt. Clemens, September 12-28, and at Albion, September 27. The Kalamazoo Nature Center has scheduled a Fall Harvest Festival, Marquette will be held October 9-11. Kalkaska's annual Christmas Tree Harvest Festival is scheduled for November 22, and the Winterfest, Bessemer, will be held December 26-28.

Copies of the September-December Calendar of Events are available without charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing 48926.

To keep paint cans clean for storage, wrap aluminum foil around the can and set it on top of a paper plate or old pie tin while painting. The foil and plate will catch all the drippings. Just remove both and you'll have a clean container to store.

from the Pastor's Study

Rev. Ivan E. Speight, Pastor
Salem Federated Church

"SOWING AND REAPING"

If a man sows seed in the proper element, he will later reap what he has sown. The farmers' crops are proof of this natural and spiritual law: "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." (Galatians 6:7).

In man's relationship to God, this law is further carried out to the extent that... if he sows to the flesh, he will reap corruption. If he sows to the spirit he will read life everlasting.

No farmer would purposely sow thistles, thorns, poison ivy, weeds and briar patches. He would not want such a crop. But many will do this spiritually. They sow to the flesh and reap corruption and hell.

Man's spiritual environment is always conducive to grow whatever man will sow. You are the one sowing the seed for your eternal destiny. Seeds of good works, church, and religion are good, but they do not save. Salvation comes by faith in Jesus Christ. Sowing the seed of faith in Christ will reap life everlasting. What will you reap?

SMOKESTACKS

All around the world they marvel at American industry. Factory chimneys send great clouds of smoke skyward as we produce more and still more. There seems to be no end to man's progress, whether here on earth or out in the vast mystery of space.

In spite of all we do, there is still so much that we cannot do. For all our power, we are still frail and vulnerable. God has given us many capabilities, but we were never meant to "go it" entirely alone. To think that we need nothing beyond ourselves is not self-confidence—it is brashness.

There are moments when we all need to look into a special kind of mirror, by which we may re-examine our lives. Such a mirror may be found in church where God's word, if we really listen to it, can help show us the truth.

Why not go and listen in your church next Sunday?

Babson Report

Farm Income Hike Predicted Despite Increased Overhead

BABSON'S REPORTS — At this moment in the crop season it looks as though net income going to farmers for the current year will reflect a substantial advance over the levels of 1968. This may well be true in spite of continuing increases in the cost of operations and up-trending taxes at municipal and state levels.

Assessing figures for the first half of 1969, the Agriculture Department reported net farm income at an annual rate of $15.6 billion, up 7% from the first six months of 1968. This worked out to the highest level since 1966 and the fourth-best such period ever recorded. The rather sharp jump was traceable to a number of key developments: Well-sustained consumer demand for almost all agricultural and meat products, higher prices for certain major items including livestock, heightened efficiency in many farm pursuits, and a generally more liberal volume of marketing.

If the annual rate of $15.6 billion should persist through the remainder of 1969, the take for farmers for the year as a whole would be one of the highest in our history. The all-time pinnacle was touched in 1947 when farm income soared to $17.1 billion. There is, of course, no assurance that this will be achieved, if only because of erratic weather conditions in many parts of the country that will have some effect on crops yet to be harvested and sold. But on the hopeful side is the fact that livestock is a huge segment of farm production, and prices have been exceedingly favorable.

FED CATTLE marketings should continue above year-ago levels as we move into the fall months; in fact, they may be extremely heavy. After the brisk price advances for meat animals in the spring came a midsummer downturn, and over the period ahead there may be some moderate further decline. But the average is likely to hold well above that for the year before. Pork production could lag a year ago during the autumn because of an apparent drop in farrowings last spring. Hence, prices may well continue above 1968 levels, with a healthy impact on cash receipts for all kinds of livestock farmers at least through the end of this year.

Poultry and egg prices are also likely to rise slightly above the same period for 1968 despite the well-sustained output anticipated for the remainder of the year. Most dairymen have done well thus far in 1969 in terms of dollar intake, but it must be admitted that in many instances their over-1968 margins will be sliced or even entirely eliminated by the unending climb in production costs.

PERHAPS the wheat farmer has the least clear idea of what to expect over the period ahead. World wheat production has expanded way beyond commercial needs. Latest figures place U. S. stocks at 811 million bushels, some 50% above the volume held at the same time twelve months before. Both overt and hidden price cuts (Canada has made at least six cuts) by the other exporting countries — Australia, Canada, and the European Common Market — have made U. S. wheat virtually non-competitive at support prices. The international grains arrangement aimed to fix minimum world prices has collapsed. So what lies ahead for our wheat farmers?

Hope is that the big producing nations will once more boost their price levels enough to make U. S. wheat again competitive. That would permit this country to get its fair share of the export market. If this is not accomplished, we may be tempted to reduce our wheat price — which would be a cumbersome process at best. And this could be followed by further cuts on the part of the rival nations, putting this country right back where we now are. Excessively low prices can lead to the use of wheat as feed, with a consequent unfavorable repercussion on our export markets for feed corn. Admittedly, there is a bitter wheat-price war on. Let us hope it will be ended with all the export countries re-establishing a sane pricing program.

Hog Cholera Threatens State Farms

LANSING — Hog cholera is a disease which is probably unknown to most urban residents.

Yet the dangers presented by it are so great that both the federal government and state governments across the country, including Michigan, are spending money to try and eradicate it once and for all.

The disease has no effect itself on humans. Neither does it bother any animals other than hogs. But it is highly fatal to pigs and also is highly contagious. There is no cure for it.

The danger it presents to both the rural economy and, in the long run, to the nation's pork supply, has prompted the joint state-federal effort to get rid of it.

IN MICHIGAN, the state veterinarian's office had succeeded in securing a "hog cholera free" rating for the state. It appeared the state's swine industry might never have to worry about the disease again.

Then a case of cholera was reported on the James Rentfrow farm near Jones July 12.

Rentfrow had a total herd of 1,800 hogs worth $61,000.

Since there is no cure for hog cholera and since it is so highly contagious, state law requires that all pigs on a farm on which it is discovered be slaughtered and buried on the farm. The law also provides that the state and federal government each will pay the farmer half of what the hogs killed are worth.

Several days later, a farmer who was a good friend of Rentfrow discovered hog cholera in his swine herd and his 503 hogs were killed, too. Officials had expected the Cholera to show up on the second farm.

They did not, however, expect it to hit a third farm in the area. This happened a month after the first farm was hit. The state veterinarian's office said the virus apparently was carried to the third farm by a vehicle which drove past the two farms but never entered either one. That's how contagious the disease is.

THE OUTBREAK was traced to an area near West Plains, Mo., a state which has not advanced as far as Michigan in its cholera eradication program.

It remains to be seen, and it will be at least late in September before officials can be sure, whether the outbreak has been stemmed in Michigan. And though they may not be aware of the fact, urban dwellers, in both the roles of taxpayer and of consumer, have a stake in stopping it.

Those frightening facts being uncovered about the dangers involved in smoking cigarettes apparently have little effect on Michigan smokers.

The state treasurer's office says cigarette taxes in Michigan brought in a record $81 million in tax revenues last year. That's nearly $10 per resident. And that averages about 150 packs per resident for the year.

The increase was only a 1.19 per cent increase over the previous year, however, while the state's population was estimated to have risen 1.9 per cent last year. So it's possible there was a slight decline in the frequency of smoking.

IF THE LEGISLATURE follows the lead of other states around the nation, it may become more expensive to smoke in Michigan.

Of seven states which recently raised taxes, six raised the cigarette tax. Connecticut now has the highest tax in the country: a whopping 16 cents per pack.

Michigan smokers pay the state 7 cents currently for each pack of cigarettes they smoke. Though the tax figures in the various states change rapidly, there are at least 33 states which tax cigarettes more heavily.

And at least 20 states charge 10 cents a pack or more. After Connecticut's record high levy, Florida charges 15 cents and New Jersey charges 14 cents per pack.

A LITTLE NOTED statistic in the breakdown of fatal automobile accidents in Michigan last year is the fact that nearly one third of the persons killed in urban areas were pedestrians.

The State Police say 703 persons died in urban traffic accidents and that 486 of these were non-pedestrians with the remaining 217 on foot at the time of the accident.

As expected, the percentage of those dying while on foot in rural areas is much less, but the total, 173, was almost as high as the number of urban pedestrians killed. This means a total of 390 of Michigan's traffic fatalities last year were persons who were on foot.

Pedestrians are much the same as motorcycle riders when it comes to traffic accidents. If they are hit by a car or truck there is nothing to cushion the blow.

New Ideas In Art Form On Display

The artists of today's America are going away from what has traditionally been regarded as painting and sculpture.

To the directions in which 34 contemporary artists are taking us will be shown in some detail in Detroit's first extensive survey of different forms, "Other Ideas," which will open to the public Wednesday, September 10, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Listing some of the materials which find new use in the opening show of the museum's fall season, Curator of Contemporary Art Samuel J. Wagstaff describes the selection of more than 100 objects in the South Wing display as a "host of deceptions as far as traditional uses of traditional art forms and materials are concerned."

The 5 1/2-week exhibition — from Sculpture Court through stairwells and reception areas and the special galleries in the South Wing — will be a cross-section of what is happening in certain directions throughout the country.

Only 10 of the 34 artists, according to Mr. Wagstaff, have any sizeable reputation among the art public. The majority are young artists practically unknown outside their own locality. Four Detroiters of promise are included in the show.

It is the artists who decide what art is, Mr. Wagstaff states. When the Detroit exhibition was planned a year ago, he says, he did not know that he would be able to find so large a number of first rate younger artists to fit in with his theme of "Other Ideas."

"Something new is always happening in the art world," Mr. Wagstaff believes, "and this show will disclose a lot of what is going on among our artists." "They are going in their own direction. They are taking us away from what we always thought was sculpture and painting and showing us how it can differ from our preconceived notions."

"As always, the artists are expanding the categories of art and leading us into change and different ways of looking at things."

The "Other Ideas" exhibition, which is free to the public, will be on view through Sunday, October 19.

Four artists represented in "Other Ideas" — Robert Cumming, Royce Dendler, Georg Ettl, Charles Santon — will participate in a panel discussion moderated by Samuel Wagstaff on Thursday evening, September 11, at 8 p.m. in the lecture hall. This event is open to the public without charge.

Superb examples of American painting, furniture, glass and silver — plus authentic rooms of an 18th century Philadelphia home — highlight the Afternoon of Art luncheon-tours offered for groups by the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Dedicated this June, the Robert Hudson Tannahill Wing of 17 redesigned galleries displaying American art from Colonial times to the early 1900's, is the new focal point for the 1969-70 tour.

Following luncheon in the museum's beautiful Rivera Court at 12:15 p.m., members of the Founders Society Docent Committee will guide groups on a one-hour tour.

Organizations numbering eight to 80 members are now welcome to make reservations for the Afternoon of Art, presented each Tuesday and Wednesday from October 21, 1969 through April 29, 1970.

Clubs and organizations which enjoyed the event in past years are especially invited to participate in this season's completely new tour.

Afternoon of Art is entering its fifth season under the direction of the museum's Education Department, and advance reservations are required. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Carolyn Goodrich in the Art Institute's tour scheduling office (832-3488). The only charge for this program is $2.75 per person for the luncheon.
