

Township Seeks To 'Rent' More Sewer Capacity

Still holding out only "faint hope," Oakland County DPW Chief R. J. Alexander confirmed this week a report that new efforts to secure additional sewer capacity for Novi appear to be gaining ground.

Meanwhile, Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg is considerably more optimistic than Alexander, taking the position that both Novi and Northville Township are certain to get more capacity.

Basis for this optimism is a plan now in the contract stage calling for the "rental" of unused sewer capacity from the City of Livonia in the Rouge Valley Interceptor. The plan would, if approved by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, permit Oakland County to rent 10 cubic feet per second (CFS) for Novi, and it would provide an additional 2 CFS for Northville Township.

Building booms in both communities require additional capacity. However, in the case of Novi, the need is even greater. Cited for pollution by the Michigan Water Resources Commission, Novi is under orders to clean up the problem in the Grand River-Novi area. Also, Novi is involved in a multi-million dollar sewer installation plan with the City of Walled Lake, which also has been cited for pollution.

If Novi is able to secure additional sewer capacity (it now owns 4 CFS), the Rouge Valley Interceptor would be extended from its present terminus in the 10 Mile Road area north to Walled Lake. Such an extension would mean the Grand River pollution problem could be resolved and need for a $1 million sewage disposal plant servicing the northern part of Novi and the City of Walled Lake would be unnecessary.

Without the interceptor extension, plans call for Walled Lake sewer laterals to feed into the disposal plant. Sewage passing through the plan's purification system, would then empty into the Rouge stream that flows south through Novi and Northville.

Not only is the disposal plant an expensive proposition, explains Alexander, but it represents at best only a temporary solution for Walled Lake sewers, and it does nothing to solve the Grand River pollution problem. Furthermore, some downriver critics insist the disposal plant, despite its purification process, will pollute the Rouge stream.

Alexander, who has grown hot and cold so often over proposals for additional capacity that he's reluctant now to hold out any great hope, points out that a $1 million grant from the federal government, originally intended to offset cost of the disposal plant, could and should be used for extension of the interceptor.

David Jones, assistant director of Livonia's DPW, told this newspaper that Livonia has already agreed to rent some of its unused capacity to Novi and Northville. Contracts, through the Wayne County Board of Public Works, have been extended to both communities, he said, and the only real obstacle remaining is approval by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Livonia's water and sewer board fully endorses the rental plan, said Jones, "and we find it a completely workable plan for communities like Northville and Novi. I think you'll find that the board of supervisors will agree."

The agreement, said Jones, makes no provision for profit-making on the part of Livonia. Rental, he explained, means the communities "using some of our capacity would rent it at the same cost we're paying to buy it."

Originally, Livonia contracted to purchase nearly 78 CFS in the Rouge Valley Interceptor based upon what that community believed would be its ultimate need upon total development. Since then, according to Jones, studies have shown that Livonia will have a lower ultimate population than originally anticipated, meaning "we have more than we need."

Presently, Livonia has more than 24

City Offered $250,000 Gift

There's probably never been a city council (in any community) faced with a decision quite like the one that must be made by the Northville city council Monday night.

Simply, and with no strings attached, the council has been asked:

Will it accept $50,000 per year for five years to be spent for street and parking improvements in the city?

The offer comes from John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs.

All that is required for the first $50,000 to be made this year (and through 1973) is acceptance by the city council and agreement from Carlo's partners in Northville Downs.

Carlo reports that Mrs. Margaret Zayti, recording secretary and one of the partners, has already agreed to the proposal. Other partners are the estate of Leo Sauer, Mrs. Dorothy Reed and Dr. Peter L. Battista, all of Buffalo, New York.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie stated this week that he had examined the offer and knows of no legal reason why it cannot be accepted by the city.

(For the reasoning behind the unique offer made by Carlo and Northville Downs — see "Speaking for the Record" — page 8-A).

Township Election Set On Park, Zoning Issues

A special December election appears likely today following action by the Northville Township Board Tuesday in considering a proposal to purchase Maybury Sanatorium property and citizens' petitions demanding the rescinding of industrial and business zoning along Haggerty Road.

While the exact date of the election and the wording of the two ballot propositions have not been established, township voters will be asked — — To approve or disapprove a proposal to increase township taxes, probably by two mills, to enable the township to purchase about 220 acres of Maybury property for recreational purposes.

— To approve or disapprove a proposal to rescind recent board action in rezoning property on the west side of Haggerty, near Five and Six Mile roads, from residential to business and industrial classifications.

While board members voted to set the election machinery in motion, the day of the election — or even the month — remains questionable. Earliest the election could be held, according to officials, is late November, with the most likely date sometime in December. However, because the school board reportedly is considering a bonding election late this year and because elections must be held at least 30 days apart, even a December vote is uncertain.

The board had no choice but to put the Haggerty Road issue to a public vote. Clerk Eleanor Hammond reported that more than the legally required number of signatures were on the petitions submitted to the board early in August.

Of the more than 400 signatures, 394 of them were found valid — well over the legally required 15 percent of the number of persons owning property in the township, the clerk reported.

Citizens living in the area objected to the new zoning because they contend it will reduce the property values of their homes, pose a safety threat to Plymouth School District youngsters attending the Tanger School at Five Mile and Haggerty, and upset their living habits.

Township planners and board members approving it note that Livonia property on the opposite side of Haggerty has been zoned industrial, that the proposed new expressway (I-275) will parallel this area. These, the fact that proposals for industrial development have been received, and because industry is seen as township asset economically, prompted the rezoning action.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg urged an early election, pointing out that until a decision is made no residential building in the area can be permitted (since it's zoned industry business) and industrial developers must be warned that the zoning could be overturned, thus thwarting their plans.

One of the chief opponents of the rezoning has been Trustee Joseph Straub, who lives in the area and who has been voicing objections of himself and his neighbors.

On the matter of Maybury land purchase, the board took its action following a report by Attorney John Ashton who reviewed the findings of Joe Piell of Miller Canfield Paddock & Stone (bonding attorneys).

Split Votes on Klein, Smith, Tellam

Board Can't Agree on Trustee

With the Northville Township Board split down the middle with no apparent solution in sight, Governor William Milliken may be forced to order a special election to fill a vacant board seat.

The state executive order became a distinct possibility Tuesday night as the board voted three separate times on three different nominees for the post of ex-Trustee Thomas Armstrong and three times failed to reach agreement.

The vote on each of the three nominees was 3 to 3, thus dooming the selection. Candidates, in order of their nomination, were James Tellam, a former trustee who ran unsuccessfully in the last election; William Smith, recently appointed to the township planning commission; and Leonard Klein, chairman of the planning commission.

According to Township Attorney John Ashton, if no appointment is made by the weekend of September 27 the matter then goes to the Governor who orders a special election.

Here's how the voting went

Tuesday: Trustee Bernard Baldwin moved to appoint Tellam, picking up the votes of Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond and Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg. Voting against Tellam was Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Trustees Richard Mitchell and Joseph Straub.

Trustee Mitchell moved to appoint Smith and was joined in support by Lawrence and Straub, with the other three members voting no.

Then Baldwin, who said Klein

Work Starts Soon

Paving Contracts Awarded

Construction of asphalt paving on North Center and Hill streets is expected to get underway soon following action by the city council Monday in awarding construction contracts.

Both projects are expected to be completed by December 1.

Bids for asphalt paving Hill Street came in as about predicted but the North Center project bids "far exceeded expectations" so the council accepted the low bid for Hill, rejected all bids for concrete paving of Center and instead awarded an asphalt paving job for Center to the lowest of two sealed quotations.

In both cases the contract went to Cadillac Asphalt Paving Company.

Here were the sealed bids for both projects:

Hill Street — Gooding ($40,240); Cadillac ($36,379); Barthel ($40,641); and Maraldo ($42,048). All bids were for asphalt. The city had estimated $38,188 for the project.

North Center — Gooding ($65,057) and Barthel ($80,761). Both bids were for concrete. The city had estimated $36,000 for concrete, $33,000 for asphalt.

Acting upon the recommendation of City Manager Frank Ollendorff, the council rejected the Center Street paving bids, waived bids for asphalt, and accepted Cadillac's sealed quotation ($37,921) minus work that the city is to perform. The only other firm to submit a quotation was Gooding ($41,385).

Ollendorff had asked for asphalt quotations after learning of the high concrete bids. He noted that assessment figures were based on deep 6½-inch thick strength asphalt on which both Cadillac and Gooding submitted their quotations.

Total expenditure for asphalt paving of Center is expected to be approximately $2,600 less than Cadillac's bid because the city is to install the storm sewer. The council authorized the work by the city when Ollendorff estimated city personnel could do it for $6,860 as compared to $9,460 by Cadillac. Cadillac's $37,921 quotation included the storm sewer.

City Engineer Harold Penn and Ollendorff, both of whom were surprised by the high concrete bids, theorized that increasing cost of concrete plus the fact that paving companies are "knee deep" in current work may account for the higher than estimated figures.

In another bidding matter Monday, the council awarded the residential garbage pickup contract to a new South Lyon firm, Wolff Sanitary Removal, based on its low bid of $1.35 per residence per month. C&B Disposal, whose contract for city work expires at the end of this month, bid $1.85, while R&S Rubbish Removal came in with a bid of $1.59.

Unlike past contracts, the latest agreement does not include commercial garbage removal since the city has decided to do this work with city personnel and a recently purchased garbage packer equipment.

Included in the colorful, 16-page tab are facts, figures and comments about teams in the Northville, Novi, South Lyon, and Brighton area together with previews of college football.

It also reveals plans for selection of area all-star team.

NEWS BRIEFS

LOOK FOR THE COUNCIL to begin advertising for an assistant DPW director next week. Qualifications for the back-up man to the city's Herman "Bud" Harner will be reviewed by the council Monday. Informal discussion indicates that candidates for the post will have to have six years' experience or an equivalent amount of college training. Depending upon qualifications the man selected will be paid from $8,000 to $10,000.

BY NOVEMBER 1, Northville Public Schools will have a new personnel director. The school board approved Monday the acceptance of applications for the position and interviews of candidates. Main duties of the new post will include recruitment of the school personnel and serving as chief negotiator for the school district. Salary for the position has not been set.

A FINANCIAL BONUS in returns from parimutuel betting at the Northville Downs appears likely. Expecting about $250,000 as the city's share of returns from summer and winter meets, the city has already banked a summer check for $210,888. With the winter meet — 30 nights beginning November 24 — still to come, city officials now are guessing that the total local share may hit $270,000.

Her chapel train was caught with a wide satin ribbon. A pill box secured her imported French illusion chapel length veil scattered with tiny white daisies.

She carried a cascade of gardenias, stephanotis and a spray of Hawaiian orchids.

Maid of honor was Nancy Bosak. The bride chose Nina Siegel, Birmingham, Nancy Nirider and Mary Harrison, Northville, as her bridesmaids.

The attendants were attired in floor length gowns of Mediterranean blue chiffon. Dior bows held their matching blue veils. They carried colonial bouquets of red and pink sweetheart roses, tied with ribbons matching the gowns.

Brian Sturgell was his brother's best man. Jay Cummings, Steve Jackson, Grey Menich, all from Michigan State University, Stan Nirider and Bruce Sturgell seated the guests.

Mrs. Richard Somers was the organist and John Hyde was the soloist. The mother of the bride appeared in a bone colored lace gown with a matching coat. The groom's mother chose a gown of pink.

A reception for 150 in Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony. Guests attending the ceremony came from Lansing, Belding, Eaton Rapids, East Jordan, Dearborn and DeWitt, Iowa.

Couples Speak Vows In Livonia Churches

Benson-Mason

Betsy Ellen Benson and Stephen Morse Mason pledged their wedding vows Friday, September 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ward United Presbyterian Church of Livonia. The Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure of Northville performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Benson of Livonia Hills. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James M. Mason, Jr. of Birmingham.

For her wedding the bride chose an Alfred Angelo floor-length gown of silk organza with a scalloped lace neckline. The dress featured elbow-length lace sleeves with a wide band of lace trimming on the A-line skirt. Her illusion veil was fastened with a circular crown of seed pearls and sequins. The gown was completed by a cathedral train.

Serving as maid of honor was her younger sister, Susan Meredith, and as matron of honor, her older sister, Mrs. Michael G. Crain. Mrs. John Bradley, former college roommate of the bride, also was an attendant. Diane Mason, sister of the bridegroom, took charge of the guest book. They wore mint green floor-length Gibson Girl shirtwaist style gowns with fresh flowers in their hair. They carried baskets of yellow pom-poms, roses, and bunches of small green grapes.

Serving as best man was Mr. James Hauff of Mt. Clemens. Ushers were Mr. Thomas Draper, III, and Mr. Charles Brooks, both of Birmingham.

The bride was given in marriage by her father Theodore H. Benson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Benson wore a pink linen, sheath topped by a matching lace coat and tulle headpiece. The bridegroom's mother chose a royal blue ensemble of matching dress, shoes, and feathered headpiece.

Following a reception for 250 guests at the Meadowbrook Country Club the couple left for a wedding trip in the east. They will make their home in East Lansing and attend Michigan State University in the fall where Mr. Mason will complete his senior year in Labor Industrial Relations and Mrs. Mason will finish her college education in social sciences.

Sova-Blackburn

A honeymoon in Chicago, Illinois followed the candlelight ceremony August 22 at St. Genevieve Church in Livonia in which John W. Blackburn, Jr. of Northville claimed Michele Suzanne Sova as his bride. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. James Sova of Livonia, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Wheeler Blackburn, Sr. of 456 Orchard Drive.

The Reverend Fr. Stanley Krogulecki performed the rites before an altar flanked with white mums and gladiolus. Music was provided by soloist Miss Patti Scarlett who sang selections from Panis Angelicus and Ave Maria, accompanied by Mrs. E. Sydowski on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length empire styled tunic dress of pure white cream puff lace. A finger-tip mantilla fashioned from Venetian lace imported from Italy, completed the outfit. She carried a flowing cascade of white standard mums and pom-pom mums.

The two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Leonard D. Habel (Carol Anne) and Suzie Sova served as matron and maid of honor. Both wore soft pink maxi length gowns of Karate material, with an A-line empire waistline, short sleeves and a squared back neck. Venice lace flowers were used to accent the bodice, with lace trim on the sleeves and around the bow at the back waist. They carried cascades of carnations and mums in tones of pink.

Serving as flower girl was Cindi Lee Sova, cousin of the bride. She wore a miniature copy of the bridesmaids dresses and carried a wicker fireside basket of mums in tones of pink.

Tom Bingham served as friend and best man. Ushers were Michael Schott, Dennis Anchors, Howard Ambinder and Paul Soubank. Robin Scheffer served as junior usher and ring bearer was Nobel Smith.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore an oriental styled coat dress of gold embossed on white with white and gold accessories. She had a corsage of pale green cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom chose a straight line dress of turquoise peau de soie with a matching lace coat. She wore accessories of turquoise and white with a purse corsage of coral gladiolus.

A buffet supper immediately following the ceremony was served to approximately 300 guests at Union Hall in Livonia. Friends and relatives attended from Ohio, Colorado, Arizona and Michigan.

For their honeymoon, the new Mrs. Blackburn changed to a white on white tailored coat dress. A former student at Wayne State University, she is presently employed at the main offices of the National Bank of Detroit. The bridegroom is completing his studies at Eastern Michigan University.

They will make their new home on Griggs Avenue in Detroit.

Board Split on Trustee

represented an excellent compromise, moved to appoint the planning chief. Once again he gained the support of the clerk and supervisor, but the three remaining officials voted no.

On the surface, board members failed to reach agreement because opponents of Tellum found fault with the ex-trustee's past attendance record, because opponents of Smith contended he has the least experience, and because opponents of Klein considered him too valuable as the planning commission chairman.

However, beneath the surface talk of unification and cooperation with the city may be the key factor. Political pundits see Tellum as pro-city, Smith as anti-city. Klein is seen as not sufficiently committed one way or the other to satisfy either side.

Despite the deadlock, Supervisor Stromberg is still hopeful that a compromise can be reached before the matter goes to the Governor's desk. Chances are that the board will hold a special meeting soon to make one more attempt to resolve the matter.

It was pointed out Tuesday that if the Governor is forced to set an election he could tie it in with the special election slated late this year on the park and zoning issues. In any case, such an election probably would be a primary because township elections of officials is partisan. Thus, conceivably the board's inability to act could mean two elections — a primary and a regular special election.

Dead Man's Plan

Robison and the plan revealed by Howard L. Green and Associates, Inc. call for the development of an industrial complex around a major airport. The latter involves property in both Wixom and Lyon Township, roughly including the present Wixom Airport and the land lying between Pontiac Trail and I-96 west to Old Plank Road.

See Related Story on Plans For the Wixom Proposal Page 10-A

Plans for the proposed Wixom complex were unveiled recently to officials of Wixom and Lyon Township.

Lyon Township officials were not aware of a similar plan proposed by Robison at New Hudson — an unincorporated part of the township where the New Hudson Airport is located.

McKinley, however, confirmed that Robison had been involved in plans for a similar airport center. He told this newspaper that he had talked to Robison or his associates several times about it before Robison's death.

"We (Robison and McKinley) were good friends," he explained, primarily because Robison had learned to fly at New Hudson and had a plane hangared there.

Robison, said McKinley, was very interested in development trends for southeastern Michigan and saw development of an international airport-industrial complex at New Hudson as a very real possibility.

"He talked of having a control tower, instrument landing system, and even about customs," McKinley said. "From what I've heard about this other plan (at Wixom) it's a lot like the one Robison had in mind."

McKinley said he has been questioned by the two detectives as have Supervisor Lew Coy (R-Wixom) and Supervisor Wallace Gabler, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisor's aviation committee.

"I wasn't able to tell them much," said Coy, "because, frankly, I don't know much about it (the plan proposed for Wixom). He said he had discussed the matter with McKinley."

Gabler told this newspaper that the county had been approached because Green and Associates were looking for ways of financing their plan and "because they knew we are interested in adequate airport development for the county."

The county, he said, is investigating the proposal but "personally, I doubt if it's feasible." He said the matter of financing is very questionable. "Besides, we're interested mostly in airport facilities for the Pontiac area."

Gabler said recent disclosure that one of the men involved with the Wixom proposal, Aubrey J. Meyerson, is awaiting trial following indictment for bribery by former Oakland County grand juror Philip Pratt "points up why we should be very careful in analyzing all plans we receive."

The airport committee chairman said the Wixom proposal is just one of many that supervisors have considered. "It doesn't make any difference to us who proposes them — we'll consider them but be careful before we make any decision."

Plan Rent Of Sewer

CFS of unused capacity, he said.

Specifically, the rental contracts between Livonia and Northville Township and Oakland County cover a five-year-period until January, 1975. At that time, Livonia will review its needs and, perhaps, extend the contract. Rental cost for Oakland has been pegged at $28,000 annually and for Northville Township, approximately $2,700 annually.

When confronted with official comments that "nobody in his right mind believes a community like Novi can be forced to 'disconnect' once it has started using the capacity, Jones concurred. "But why should we worry? There is little likelihood that we'll ever need that extra capacity, and by the time five years are up you can bet Wayne County will have started a new interceptor. Pollution's become such an issue that the federal government will step in and order a solution."

Jones had reference to the proposed Huron Valley Interceptor, which eventually will service parts of western Wayne County and communities as far west and north as Ypsilanti, South Lyon and Wixom. It calls for a gigantic filtering plant on Lake Erie — center of today's greatest pollution problem.

Supervisor Stromberg, who presently is reviewing the contract for 2 CFS (boosting Northville Township's capacity to 4.6 CFS), estimates that construction of parts of this (Huron Valley) interceptor will be started within two years. And he notes that the contract for Livonia capacity by Oakland commits that county to help pay for the Hannan Road (Haggerty) east arm of this interceptor in Northville and Plymouth townships.

"The two extra CFS," said Stromberg, "should hold us until the new interceptor is built."

Referring to the contract, the supervisor said "it's a good one, and I'm sure it's going to be approved (by the county board of supervisors)."

Alexander's not so sure. He's aware that some downriver communities, such as Dearborn Heights, forced the axing of an earlier proposal. Administrators of some of these communities argue that recent storms have caused flooding of their sanitary sewers. Proponents, on the other hand, accuse these communities of causing their own problems by permitting sanitary sewers to carry storm waters.

"They (current plans) look good on paper," said Alexander, "but they're meaningless until Wayne (board of supervisors) approve them. I won't get too optimistic until then."

Novi Schools Sets Policy on Tuitions

The Novi Community Schools' Board of Education unanimously adopted a formal tuition policy at its Tuesday night meeting. The action, governing students whose parents are not residents of the district, was launched nearly six months ago at a March 12 meeting.

The policy states:

*Prospective residents of the district who will move into their home within a reasonable amount of time after the beginning of school, may send their children to Novi, provided they pay tuition for the time before their actual residence.

*Seniors, who have completed three previous years of high school at Novi and whose parents move from the district, may continue to attend school here, paying tuition for the year.

*Students, whose parents move from the district during the last six weeks of a school year may complete the year on a tuition basis.

*Court placed children and special education students will be accepted on a tuition basis.

*The school district will assume no responsibility for the transportation of tuition students to, or from school. This is up to the parents.

Superintendent Thomas Dale, in recommending the policy to the board, stressed that tuition students would not be accepted if they desire to enter

Novi schools only for educational purposes. Dale said only those students who meet the requirements would be accepted.

Students must live in the district with a relative, court approved guardian, parents or plan to move to the district within a reasonable length of time, he explained.

In other action, the board approved a request from Youth for Christ for the use of the school building, free of charge.

Representatives from the organization had asked they be allowed to conduct non-denominational religious discussion groups after school hours.

Dale, after studying an opinion from the attorney general, found the group not to be in conflict with the "no prayers in public schools" law.

The club was approved on a trial basis. The school will not provide leadership for the group nor will it act to secure attendance at the meetings.

In making the motion to admit the organization, Trustee Robert Wilkins said, "The program is so beneficial to the children that we must stand up for what we think is right. We should think of the entire education of the children."

The board also accepted the audit for the 1968-69 school year from the firm of Janz and Knight.

Decorator's Delight

Old Home Becomes 'Fun House'

Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of articles on the houses to be visited later this month on the annual Homes Tour sponsored by the Presbyterian Woman's Association.

Mrs. Damon Lindley says her historic home at the southeast corner of Wing and Randolph streets is "our fun house." Fascinated guests prefer to call it an exciting adventure.

Both are correct. The Lindleys have found it fun because, upon moving into this charming, two-story frame house a year ago, it had been so superbly maintained that all of their efforts could be channeled into the pleasant, carefree task of refurbishing it.

"Not all old homes offer this luxury for the new occupants," explains the hostess.

Their refurbishing efforts, together with the natural attractiveness of the home — parts of which may be one-hundred years old or older, produce the adventure enjoyed by guests. From the spacious, semi-formal living room, up to the exquisitely furnished bedrooms, and down into the cozy, plushly carpeted basement recreation room there's something to satisfy anyone's taste.

Perhaps, it's the colonial-early American decorations, the grainy desk in the dining room, the marble topped commode in the upstairs hallway, the elegant main-floor powder room, the modern alley kitchen, the Gay Nineties basement motif, or simply the stereophonic music throughout.

Overriding all of these is the house's own history and its association with Northville's past.

Like most houses in the city, the Lindleys' home stands on property that can be traced back either to the Dunlaps or the Cadys.

Carefully unwrapping the ribboned abstract of title, Mrs. Lindley points to the original lot plat recorded July 29, 1840. And she notes, with natural pride, the yellowed paper that shows the lot was part of property deeded by President John Adams to Alva Smith on June 1, 1831.

While the abstract does not indicate when the house was built it does contain some clues. Best guess is that at least part of the present house may have been built about 1870 or as early as 1860 when the property was owned by the Solomon and Benjamin Gardners.

Edmund Yerkes recalls that his grandmother, a Starkweather, lived in the house when she was a youngster — "about 1880." Samuel Starkweather acquired the property in 1879, according to the abstract.

Most oldtimers recall that the house was most often referred to as the "Carpenter House." It was owned by the Fred and Gibson Carpenters for a number of years during the early part of this century, the abstract shows.

Of middle-Victorian design, the exterior of the house has quite a few examples of "carpenter's gothic." It may very well have been a small farmhouse at the outset, expanded over the years as its ownership changed.

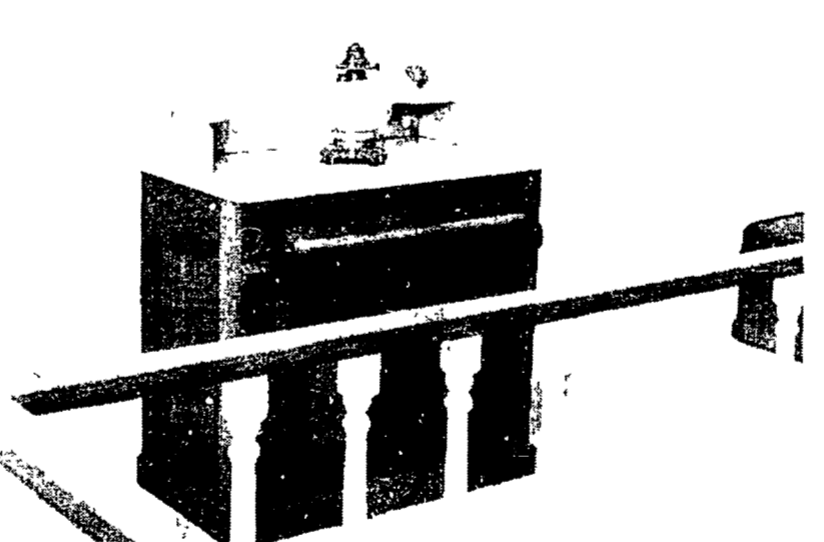

It has entrances off both Wing and Randolph streets, although the Lindleys seldom use the Randolph entrance into the dining room. The front entrance today leads directly into the living room from a spacious bungalow-like porch. The left side of the living room, originally the parlor, has been mated perfectly with the main part of the room, serving now as a comfortable sitting room.

A handsome staircase leads from the sitting room to the upstairs bedrooms and bath. The upstairs includes the large master bedroom, a combination guestroom-library, and the rooms of two Lindley children.

Off the hallway, on the main floor, leading to an enclosed side patio, is the powder room — a richly decorated niche that satisfies any craving for elegance.

The basement is the decorator's delight. Combining cedar shakes, louvered cabinet doors, and lively wallpaper, it offers comfort and entertainment in a delightful Gay Nineties atmosphere centered around an old but much used piano.

Mrs. Lindley considers herself an "amateur" antique collector who invests frugally, but she has done a magnificent job. Throughout the house are examples of her keen eye for bargains. These alone are certain to excite Homes Tour visitors later this month.

PLENTY TO SEE — Take an old but sound and attractive home that boasts plenty of carpenter's gothic, fill it with some of your favorite antiques, use your decorative imagination, and you've got a "fun house" — the kind that the Damon Lindley family enjoys and that fascinates visitors.

Salem Approves School for Pilots

Salem's board of appeals voted unanimously late Tuesday afternoon to award Ronald Shoebridge a conditional permit to conduct a flight school and advanced pilot training at his Salem airport.

According to Floyd Taylor, chairman of the three-member board, the permit carries five stipulations. Briefly, they are:

1. That Shoebridge must obtain all necessary state and federal permits and live up to permit requirements.
2. That a township inspector may inspect the facilities with or without the owner's permission.

3. That he must take every step possible in having Detroit Edison power lines removed on Six Mile Road to lessen danger to planes and area residents.
4. That he must take all necessary steps to ensure the safety of persons on or near the airfield.
5. That he must agree to release the township from any liability.

Shoebridge sought the permit in a recent public hearing in which he drew overwhelming support of those citizens attending. Many critics of the proposal were not present.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

John Carlo is not a fast man with a buck. Neither is he a skinflint.

So how is it that the executive manager of Northville Downs is offering the city council a quarter-of-a-million-dollars over the next five years to improve the streets and parking facilities in the community?

There's more than one reason. But Carlo, an attorney and a darned smart businessman might not be willing to admit to all of them.

He'd scoff if it were to be suggested that since becoming involved in the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce and the Northville Area Economic Development Committee he's become interested in something else besides the track.

John Carlo community-minded?

It won't be the purpose of this column to prove this point, and maybe embarrass Carlo, but following (and in no special order) are the reasons he's making this most unusual offer of $50,000-per-year for five years to the city of Northville for street and parking improvements:

1 - Such a 'no strings attached' contribution to a municipality can be declared as a tax deduction (at least that's the latest legal interpretation);

2 - Northville Downs is in the midst of a multi-million-dollar expansion program that's slated to boost attendance accommodations from 7,000 to 11,000 fans;

3 - Any improvements in traffic facilities and parking accommodations almost anywhere in the community are bound to be beneficial to the track;

4 - Carlo isn't exactly happy about the snail-pace the city has taken in making street and parking improvements and he figures, this might get the point across;

5 - Carlo, once a hard-bitten big city guy from Buffalo, has found a home in Northville and has become involved in community projects: helping some of these projects take form and become realities will give him personal pleasure.

No doubt about it, Carlo's first love is the track. He's one of the charter members of the group that introduced night harness racing and opened Northville Downs 26 years ago. He's lived racing and dreamed of the day when Northville Downs would be a model harness racing track. Along the way he's had his share of disputes with local officials, citizens and his landlord, the Northville Driving Club. Sometimes, it seemed, Carlo was so intent on accomplishing what seemed right to him - for Northville Downs - that he forgot it might not be right for other interested parties.

Conversely, sometimes it seemed that other parties were so opposed to racing and Northville Downs that even if what the track sought would have been routinely granted to any other local business or industry, it brought crowds of objectors to public hearings.

Subsequently, Carlo has adopted a new approach. He has sown his seeds of profit back into his business and he has asked racing officials, who once wrote-off Northville Downs as a poor country cousin, "how can you help but give us more racing dates?"

Consequently, they've taken a second look at the Downs. This summer the track was awarded a 54-night meet during prime months. And for the first time, the track will have a 30-night winter meet this year.

Carlo knows that Northville Downs is now nearing his dream: the finest all-weather harness racing facility in the state.

He's not going to slow down now - he's in the stretch and driving.

But if you're going to attract 10,000 fans to Northville Downs, good roads and ample parking is pretty important. And the $250,000 the city will make this year as its share of the state-take from betting at the track might not be enough. And who can guarantee that the property taxes collected from the Downs will be used for streets and parking?

Why not give the city $250,000 earmarked for citywide street and parking improvement? It's tax deductible.

Speaking for Myself

A Woman For President?

YES. . .

A woman president: why not?

The American woman's role as arbitrator, counselor, budget expert, bookkeeper and controller of 80 percent of the nation's wealth more than qualifies her for the position of president.

Women must daily mete out justice in their homes and generally they award favors only on the basis of merit. That's more than can be said for most male presidents to date.

It's been argued that women are too emotional to hold such an office. Are they? And if they are, what's so shameful about having emotions?

It was a woman, overwhelmed by her emotions as a mother, who said something to the effect that, "It takes almost 20 years for a mother to raise a son and only a minute for a war to destroy him."

If that kind of thinking could help settle differences at the conference table rather than on the battlefield, then give me an emotional woman president any day.

Mary Ann Belyea

NO. . .

Contrary to the opinion expressed by many, a woman's place is not in the home. By the same token, a woman's place is not in the house, as in "White House."

The question here is not whether a woman is or is not too emotional, but rather can she control her emotions well enough to continue the orderly operation of a country like the United States?

It may be argued that women have ruled countries before. England has had her queens and India has their Ghandi. True, yet all the women rulers, past and present, were advised by men. The women were merely figureheads. The real decisions were made behind the scenes.

Women are less open-minded than men, more stubborn and less willing to listen to the other side, especially if it is being advanced by a man.

Men have beat women down for so many centuries, that women have developed a resistance to them. Often women refuse to compromise for fear they may lose ground they have thus far gained.

Should a woman be President of the United States? Maybe in the future, but for the present breed of women, more responsibilities and more experience in government are needed first.

Opposes Supermarket Rezoning

To the Editor:

I am writing in regards to the Chatham Market to be erected on Center Street. I am one of the owners affected by this market as I live on East Street, and will be directly back of this market. I understand the need of expansion but why does this market have to be put in the middle of a residential area? We are not only having this shoved down our throats, our property value will decrease - the only alternative being a rezoning of our adjoining property to "Commercial".

Attending the Planning Commission meeting last Tuesday night I got the impression that despite public outcry, the commission would make its decision according to its members personal and private concerns. The "Commission" is composed of several merchants in Northville, who, above all, are concerned for their future financial welfare. This market, located in central Northville, would of course benefit these merchants by "drawing in" potential customers. In another location, one further from town, but more desirable in that it would not disrupt another residential section in

'Old Northville', might allow more building area for other businesses which might compete with existing businesses. Needless to say, present merchants fear this. We do need another market, but so, too, could we use more small businesses. This latest recommendation of the commission is only a feudal, narrow-minded attempt by these merchants to postpone growth and progress. Their end result will bring about a destruction of the beauty and intimacy of Northville's small town atmosphere.

I love Northville and have been here around 25 years. I live in a beautiful section and hate to see it torn up for the sake of progress when there are other suitable locations for shopping centers that will not affect homeowners. I asked the commission if they would like the market in back of their place and not one would answer, not only did I ask once, but twice - with the same results. I very seldom raise my voice on what is done to our town, but this is more than I can take. I hope this will do some good, if not for my own home and neighborhood, perhaps for someone else's. Just remember - it won't stop at the Chatham Market. It will gradually consume the property next to it, and go on and on. If you want this beautiful town turned into a vast parking lot and shopping center just keep your eyes closed.

Urges Defeat of CBD-CBD

To the Editor:

After reading in The Record about the proposed CBD-CBP plan for Northville, I want to add my opinion that it will only ruin a small city that is one of the nicest in the Detroit area.

Northville is known for its older homes, so beautifully kept up; its small stores and tree-lined streets; the antique shops which draw so many people here. I like Northville because of these things and many more - the Hartley-Powers Gallery; the Sidewalk Sale and Flea Market with local antique dealers displaying their wares; the friendliness and helpfulness of the people at Krogers, A & P, and most of all the Good Time Party Store where I never have to carry in empty bottles or carry out anything heavier than six Pepsi's. And I enjoy being called by name at these places and at G.E. Miller & Sons, to name another friendly Northville business.

Demands City Remove Weeds

To the Editor:

Despite repeated efforts to satisfy a wrong at city hall, I have been unable to convince officials that high weeds and timber should be ordered removed from the vacant lot next to my home on High Street. It seems to me that the safety of our children should be a chief concern of our city. Don't we have an ordinance for this kind of hazard and nuisance? Let's keep the city safe.

"That's a good way to make friends," my wife chided in a whisper as we threaded our way out of a buzzing crowd during a recent coffee clatch. "If they ever speak to us again we'll be lucky."

She was voicing her displeasure with some angry remarks I had made when one of the guests during the course of a conversation inserted the cliché: "Don't believe everything you read... it's just a newspaper."

Bristling, I'd cut him down, unjustly perhaps, by asking him his favorite news authority - comics or restroom walls.

Momentarily stunned, he gave me one of those "what hole did you climb out of" looks and then launched into a dissertation on the foibles of newspapers. His main point - but certainly not his only one - was that newspapers have a penchant for misquoting newsmakers.

"In your case," I argued, "a reporter would have a duce of a time making any sense out of your comments in a direct quote."

To illustrate my point, I suggested he make two short statements on any subject while someone tape-recorded them. He eagerly accepted the challenge, choosing for his topic, "Trashy News." Here was the result:

"Is it on? Okay, here goes. Are you sure? It seems to me... you can pick up any paper, even yours probably, that you seldom find the front page filled with lurid or those kind of stories about crime or something. Why can't you print something good for a change? No, but you have to use the trashy news, no matter... and you bury good about someone under the obituary or you don't even bother to print anything. Is that enough? Ah, you know what I mean. What good have you done if all you read... Oh, that's enough."

The newspaper critic had made his point and all of us knew what he meant. Transcribed, however, his comment appeared to be that of a first-grader.

The experiment wasn't appreciated by either the critic or my wife.

"I don't care how he said it," she snapped. "You embarrassed him and me as well. Besides, he was right, you know. You're always misquoting me. Even making up things that never happened. 'Top of the Deck', phooey! It's 'Under the Deck' if you ask me."

"Careful," I warned, "I'll get out the tape recorder."

VFW Plans Annual 'Lite-A-Bike' Project

Members of Northville V.F.W. Post 4012 expect a busy day on Saturday, September 20 - the day local veterans will hold their second annual "Lite-A-Bike" project at city hall park, corner of south Wing and west Cady streets.

Last year 66 boys and girls participated. More are anticipated this year.

Any boy or girl who owns a bike is eligible. These youngsters are invited to bring their bikes to the park between 41 a.m. and 5 p.m. Veterans will inspect each bike for proper license and check to see that each is in safe riding condition. Reflective tape will be installed on each inspected bicycle to "Lite-A-Bike."

"It's not all a dull affair," officials emphasize. "Each participant will be given a raffle ticket."

At 5 p.m. a drawing will be held and one new boy's bicycle and one new girl's bike will be presented to the lucky ticket holders.

"This safety program," said officials, "is indicative of the civic interest the Veterans of Foreign Wars take in their respective communities. Northville Post 4012 is no exception."

If rain should mar the project the safety inspection and raffle will be moved up to Saturday, September 27 - same time, same place.

Legion Seeks Flag Displays

President Richard M. Nixon has designated September 17th as Citizenship Day and the week of September 17 through September 23 as Constitution week to commemorate the signing of the Constitution of the United States.

In recognition of these two great events the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 174, The American Legion is asking all families to fly the American flag during the entire week. Flags also will be displayed in the downtown area on September 17 by the local Legion Post members.

Bridge Offers Winter Break

As winter approaches with its endless chain of cold, dull evenings, the Northville Mother's Club is recruiting bridge-players who want to fill the void. There are still openings in the women's night group of the bridge marathon, states Chairman Mrs. Gwen Marburger. Anyone with an interest in this area is especially urged to sign up at once.

The games will be played from September through May with prizes awarded at the end of the session, she continued. Each hostess will collect $1 per person which they will send to their prescribed chairman along with a copy of the records. Proceeds will go toward various school funds and the local teen club.

All members who sign up will be sent a scoring table, bridge marathon rules and a schedule. To facilitate the distribution of this data, it is important that all potential bridge-players sign up as soon as possible, Mrs. Marburger said.

To sign up for the 1969-70 season, contact these women: Mrs. Betty Hoffman, 349-1092, all women night groups; Mrs. Betty Mathews 349-1754, all daytime women's groups; Mrs. Rae Diebert 349-0285, all couples night groups; Mrs. Carol Couse 349-3069, all duplicate groups.

If any of these women cannot be reached, Mrs. Marburger asked that interested persons call her at 349-0524.

Introducing

an Original
REGENCY MEDALLION

As advertised in The Wall Street Journal and House and Gardens September issue, each hallmark medallion, featuring a cross, is individually hand cast in the highest quality bronze by artisans true to old world traditions. The heirloom quality of this fine art piece is assured by the sculptor's name and date of casting. No two pieces are exactly alike.

The cross, as a powerful symbol for good, existed long before Christianity. It has been used as a deterrent to the lawless and inhumane for thousands of years. We at Regency hope that the display of the cross in a work of art will not only introduce a measure of caution in this changing world but will bring pleasure and comfort to its owners.

Early in 1969, R. Dragos was commissioned by Regency to design a medallion for general use which would embody a cross. When the sculpture was complete, a pattern was made and placed with a group of skilled artisans.

We believe this piece of art will increase in value through the years. At the close of 1969, all tools and patterns will be destroyed. The year 1970 will bring a new medallion, also embodying the cross, and requiring the same patience and skill which went into this work. Each year thereafter, a new design will be commissioned.

4" in diameter, this unusual medallion has a polished bronze bas-relief on a Verdigris or Black or Natural background. It can be used as a medallion, wall or door plaque, or as a meaningful gift. Comes beautifully gift boxed.

Remit $30 (Natural) $33 (Black) $37 (Verdigris)

Remittance includes insurance, postage & sales tax where applicable. Return for full refund if not satisfied.

Proceedings of Northville Township Board

Northville Township Board
Minutes of Special Meeting
August 28, 1969
107 S. Wing

Meeting opened at 8:05 by Supervisor Stromberg.

Present: Baldwin, Hammond, Lawrence, Mitchell, Straub, Stromberg.

Also present: Consultants Ashton, Mosher, Piell, the press and two visitors.

1. Maybury Sanatorium property: Mr. Piell, of the bonding company, detailed the make-up of a building authority which it would be possible for the township to create for purpose of site acquisition. It would be a separate legal entity made up of three to seven commissioners, usually working for no pay. Any contracts made by them would be on approval of the township board only. A lease arrangement for the site could be worked out on an annual rental basis, the rental money from the township being utilized to pay off the bonds. However, the township must be able to show that it could meet the first year's interest and payment out of present tax returns. The board asked Piell to ascertain whether this money must come from current funds or from surplus funds.

Ollendorff asked that Stromberg meet with him to decide how much of and exactly which pieces of sanatorium property the city and the township would each want to buy. Federal funds to help purchase were suggested, but the idea was discarded because of the time element involved. Government moves too slowly to be of help in this particular situation. June 30, 1970 is the last possible day to put the money in the hands of the City of Detroit, and they must have a firm offer to buy by January, 1970, according to Klein.

Ashton was concerned whether the Municipal Finance Commission would allow the township to issue bonds under the present one mill set up, and whether the necessary 1 1/2 to 2 mills could even be raised, with or without the consent of the people; in time. Operation and maintenance would add to the costs of the project, of course.

Baldwin moved that the township proceed independently of the city of Northville to investigate the possibility of setting up an authority in the name of Northville Township for the purchase of approximately two hundred acres of Maybury Sanatorium property for recreational purposes. Seconded by Hammond. Ayes: Baldwin, Hammond, Stromberg. Nays: Mitchell, Lawrence, Straub. Tie vote. No decision.

Baldwin moved to reconsider the previous motion, second by Hammond. Ayes: All.

Baldwin again moved that the township proceed independently of the city of Northville to investigate the possibility of setting up an authority in the name of Northville Township for the purchase of approximately two hundred acres of Maybury Sanatorium property for recreational purposes, seconded by Hammond. Ayes: Baldwin, Hammond, Mitchell, Stromberg. Nays: Lawrence, Straub. Motion carried.

2. Discussion, replacement for Armstrong: Three names were placed in nomination: James Tellam, Leonard Klein, and Wm. P. Smith, Jr. This matter will be voted on at the September 9th meeting as someone must be appointed before September 28, 1969.

3. Water and Sewer recommendations:

a. Moved by Hammond, supported by Lawrence that item No. 1 from the June 4th Water and Sewer minutes be referred back to the Commission, as it has become obsolete. Ayes: All.

b. Off-site construction charges: Moved by Lawrence and supported by Baldwin that, on recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission on June 4, 1969, it becomes the policy of Northville Township to not contribute to the costs of construction of any off-site sanitary sewer or water mains provided by the developer of any property for the purpose of servicing this development. Ayes: All.

c. Greenspan Swim Pool Charges: Moved by Straub and supported by Baldwin, on recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission on July 10, 1969 that a capital charge for water service to the swimming pool and community building of the Greenspan development be $400.00 with a 2" service and 1 1/2" meter. Ayes: All.

d. Shadbrook fire hydrant: Moved by Lawrence and supported by Straub, on recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission on July 10, 1969 that a fire hydrant be installed on Lot - No. 4 in Shadbrook Subdivision. The total charge to the residents will be $500.00 and any amount in excess is to be paid by the Water & Sewer Department. As there are 25 lots and 20 owners, the charge will be $25.00 per lot. Ayes: All.

e. As-built plans, cash deposit: Moved by Straub and seconded by Baldwin on recommendation from the Water and Sewer Commission on July 10, 1969 that the township board include in subdivision requirements a cash deposit from the developer, which will be refunded, to guarantee delivery of as-built plans for pavement, storm drains, water and sewer. Ayes: All.

f. Minimum sewage disposal bill: Moved by Baldwin, supported by Straub, on recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission on August 21, 1969 that to correct a secretarial error in minutes, Resolution No. 68 - 43 be amended to read "that the township charge a minimum rate of $2.00 per quarter up to 8000 gallons (25 cents per thousand gallons thereafter) when billing on sewage disposal". Ayes: All.

g. 2 CFS's for Township: Moved by Baldwin, supported by Straub, that the Supervisor contact the Wayne County Board of Public Works and ask them to prepare a contract to allocate the use of two additional cubic feet per second in the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal System for Northville Township. Ayes: All.

h. Miles easement: Moved by Baldwin, supported by Lawrence, on recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission on August 21, 1969 that the Supervisor obtain the signatures of Mr. and Mrs. Miles on the easement agreement. Furthermore, the clerk and supervisor be authorized to sign and accept the easement agreement and dedication of easement and then pay $1,120 to Mr. and Mrs. Miles for same. Ayes: All.

4. Seven resolutions from municipalities: These resolutions all had to do with the two proposals that were acted upon at the August 12, 1969 meeting so were merely accepted and filed, on motion by Baldwin, supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

5. Storage for Water & Sewer Department: Supervisor Stromberg presented the need for additional storage space for the increasing amounts of supplies for the Water & Sewer Department. Mr. Kocian has room for a large metal shed on his nearby lot. It could be kept locked and would provide ample room for the needed equipment. Lawrence moved to purchase such a shed for $614 from Water & Sewer funds, to be placed on Kocian's lot. Seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.

6. Letter of August 20, 1969 from City of Northville was read, but no action taken.

Meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor W. Hammond
Clerk

★ ★ ★ ★

The traditional showdown between Plymouth and the Mustangs goes on Friday night as the two neighboring rivals clash in their prep football opener here.

Despite the fact that the Rocks haven't started classes yet because of a stalemate in teacher contract negotiations, Coach Tom Moshimer's squad will come to play a non-conference battle in a rivalry heralded for its wide open, anything-can-happen nature.

Unfortunately for Moshimer, who coincidentally is a Northville High School alumnus, the Rocks will be forced to play without 200-pound halfback Bob Thornbladh, a two-way all Suburban Six Conference selection as a junior last year who has been sidelined at least for the opener because of a broken bone in his foot.

And unfortunately, for Coach Al Klukach, the Mustangs apparently will be forced to play without Co-Captain Terry Mills, a 160-pound senior who seemingly was making the transition to tailback successfully until he turned an ankle Saturday in scrimmage.

Thornbladh, labeled as one of the area's best college prospects, will travel with the Rocks on Friday but won't dress while Mills at best will see only limited action, according to Klukach.

The Mustangs also suffered an additional setback Saturday when it was learned that sophomore tackle Joe French will have to sit out the year following his transfer from Detroit Country Day. French, a 200-pounder, had been cited earlier in the week by Klukach for his work on offense and appeared to be ready to break into the lineup as an underclassman.

The Rocks, too, are in the process of recovering from a number of early season injuries, Moshimer reports, and they will field a nearly all-junior backfield offensively.

But despite the few unfortunate factors, the contest is expected to be well-played and, of course, well-attended.

"I don't know what Northville has back but if what happened last year is any indication it'll be a good game," Moshimer observes. "We expect a real good game."

The 1968 clash was won by the Mustangs as they scored of fourth down in the last period to break a 13-13 deadlock. The recent series, however, has been dominated by the Rocks who have won 12 out of 17 encounters since 1952.

Klukach has indicated that junior Scot Stuart, a newcomer, will fill in for the injured Mills at tailback Rich Adams to direct the offense from quarterback with Dave Coe and Dan Corcoran completing the backfield.

Senior Fred Holdsworth and Bernie Bach, a junior, will be veterans working at ends and are expected to be popular targets for aerials from Adams.

Bob Hutcherson, a former tackle, has been converted to center while Co-Captain Brian Myers and Randy Marburger will be running at guards and Jeff Dawson and Dick Lamp at tackles.

Moshimer expects to start either Dave Egloff or Bill Donahue at one end and Duane Olds or Eric Haarz at the other. Two hundred twenty-pounder Dave Schantz will be at a tackle along with Co-Captain Bob Clayton while Bob Kenworthy and Barry Pate will be at guards and Dale Rumberger at center.

Both lines average exactly 180 pounds per man.

Senior quarterback Jon Cederberg will be joined by juniors Charley Wolfe, Gred LaMirand and Ed Scott in the backfield.

The Rocks have a total of 14 letterman, compared to six for Klukach, but only Clayton, Wolfe, Pate and the hobbled Thornbladh were regulars last year.

Plymouth finished 4-4 overall in 1968 and was tied for third in the Suburban Six. The Mustangs, of course, are a member of the Wayne-Oakland Counties' League and last season posted a 5-3 mark overall and 3-3 in the loop.

The Rocks operate from the I-formation almost entirely, Moshimer reports, lining up in other variations "about 20 percent of the time." He emphasizes that his team is limited in the number of experienced regulars but also admits that he has more depth than usual.

"We're greener in the one respect but we do have more depth," he observes.

Moshimer considers the Rocks a traditional running team while Northville often has favored passing game. In a five-team 'scrimmage Saturday which included Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Ann Arbor Huron, Detroit Divine Child and the Rocks, the mentor was pleased with his team's showing defensively.

Kenny Smith and Greg Ash, a pair of ends slated for regular duty earlier in the season, both will be out Friday with injuries, Moshimer reports.

The Mustang scrimmage Saturday against Pontiac Catholic Central had some pleasing moments for Klukach despite Mills' injury.

Klukach planned the last contact of the week Wednesday after which he will make his final adjustments with a light workout scheduled for today (Thursday).

Back Home Again (to Win)

Tom Moshimer comes back to the old hometown Friday and although he hesitates to admit it, he'll be out to win a football game. His loyalty to alma mater again must take a back seat to his dedication in building a program for Plymouth High School.

Tom Moshimer, '52 of Northville High School and later from Michigan State University, was brought to Plymouth on his reputation to produce good football teams and good football teams at Plymouth High School beat the Northville Mustangs.

For After The Game

A coffee and doughnut hour will be held in the Northville High School cafeteria following Friday's opening football game.

Sponsored by the Northville Boosters Club, the social gathering will be repeated after each home game if this first event is successful, according to Club President Bernie Bach.

Bach also announced plans for the club's first meeting of the season — to be held next week Thursday. The 8 p.m. meeting will be at the junior high school.

She Rolls 607

Look out for Doris, fellows. Chances are she can spot the average male bowler 25 pins a game and still take the honors.

Last week in Northville Ladies' Classic competition at Northville Lanes, Doris Maltby rolled a 607 series with games of 189, 176 and 242. That's an average of 202 for the evening.

But Doris gets a lot of practice. She's employed at Northville Lanes.

if you don't beat the Mustangs, then yours wasn't a good team.

And of course it's a great team for Northville when the Mustangs better the Rocks — a school whose enrollment is about 500 students or 45 football teams and five cheerleaders the bigger.

"I guess it probably means a little more," Moshimer comments while considering how important, personally, the Northville-Plymouth game is to him. "I guess it's just natural to want to go back home and win."

"And this is a pretty big rivalry anyway," he adds.

It's the granddaddy of them all — the Sheldon Road showdown, the neighborhood tussle, the my Dad's team beat your Dad's team and so my team's got to beat yours.

Moshimer played four years of football at Northville, two seasons on the varsity for Al Jones. And Tom Moshimer knows from those days how important it is for Northville to beat Plymouth.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moshimer, who still live here at 355 Baseline, Moshimer has been head football coach at Plymouth for two seasons; therefore, he knows how important it is for Plymouth to beat Northville. Few people, if any, have had the opportunity like Tom Moshimer to appreciate both sides of such a situation.

Moshimer's first coaching job began the fall after he had graduated from State — 1959 — and he inherited a tradition at Dundee which included 25 losses in the last 26 games.

But then he proceeded to build a power which won 35 in-a-row while sending several boys on to play in the college ranks.

Moshimer went to Plymouth in 1967 and again inherited a less than spectacular team — remnants from a squad that had won only twice in the preceding two seasons.

After a lonely 1-5-2 mark in his initial season, Moshimer was 4-4 last year with a trend seemingly in progress.

But the 1967 season really wasn't so bad and last year's really wasn't so good for Tom Moshimer. For the record shows, upon closer examination, that the line victory in 1967 was The Game and last season nussing amongst the four victories — was one Tom Moshimer will be looking for Friday night.

Game time is 8 p.m. and Tom Moshimer will be the guy on the sidelines that gets kind of uneasy when its third down and three and the band strikes up the Northville fight song.

LAST YEAR'S RESULTS

The football season starts Friday at Novi for the Wildcats and Suburban "C" Conference rival Hartland and both squads already will be trying to make comebacks.

Ironically, Wildcat Coach John Osborne reports this week that he has had a number of players slowed by sickness while Hartland Coach Jerry Cowan was forced earlier in pre-season practice to cancel sessions because of illness.

But the Wildcat recovery might be faster than expected — medically, at least — as the team will be hosting one of the two opponents who last season handed it losses.

Opening at Hartland in 1968, the Wildcats lost, 18-13, but then proceeded to win their next six games before dropping their finale. So it appears that the most immediate way Osborne's crew could improve on last season's impressive mark would be by revenging one of the two losses.

"We've been a little bit flat just recently," Osborne reports. "But we scrimmaged Saturday and started to come along near the end."

The Wildcats have a total of 12 lettermen back but missing is a number of veteran regulars. Osborne plans to continue to operate offensively from the I-formation and has been working in transforming junior Tom Boyer, a junior who was a regular end last season, into a quarterback to replace his departed brother, Gary. Tom actually has had experience at the position having operated as a back-up man last season.

The mentor expects much of the Wildcats' attack to evolve from Rick Hill, a 180-pound tailback who goes both ways. Also in the backfield will be Captain John Davey and junior Doug Osborn.

Osborne's line will be anchored by 290-pound center Dan Douglas with Tom VanWagner and Dale Pohlman at guards and Dave Morrison and Steve Pomroy at tackles. Bob Vivian and Phil McMillan are expected to get the assignments at ends and sophomore Bob Pisha, at 6-2 and 210 pounds, will move in to the lineup as a defensive tackle.

Much of Hartland's offense is built around quarterback Mike Banfield, a 185-pound senior who last year was all-league and all-county for the Eagles as the team posted an 8-1 mark.

Cowan also will have his team run from the "I" with Banfield considered a good threat on the option or inside. His entire backfield from last year's campaign returns and has size although the coach reveals that his line is inexperienced and slow.

"We anticipate a good ballgame, as far as that goes," Cowan observes. "But we feel we're a long ways behind in preparation."

"We're small overall and don't have any great speed to speak of," he adds. "And we don't have any depth."

Osborne, too, has indicated that his material is limited as both coaches apparently will spend their final days of practice getting healthy.

When the Wildcats host their opener Friday, there will be a number of familiar names on the roster with several brothers of former players members of Coach John Osborne's 1969 squad. Keeping football in the family are

For Tax Exempt Land

Attorney General To Rule on Tuition

A sticky problem that has been plaguing the Northville School Board for months, continues to remain in limbo.

Monday night, the school board heard a report on the progress of initiating legal action concerning the admission of students from tax-exempt land on a non-tuition basis.

Two weeks ago the board, though passing a motion to admit the students to school, directed Superintendent Raymond E. Spear to investigate the legality of requiring the non-paying students to pay tuition.

The school's attorney has advised the board that the Attorney General's office in Lansing is drawing up a legal opinion on the Northville problem. The opinion has been requested by Northville State Hospital.

The board voted to withhold further action pending the ruling by the Attorney General.

In related action, the board approved non-resident tuition rate for the 1969-70 school year. Elementary students will pay $488.79 per year, while the high school students will be charged $511.89.

The board reviewed a third plan for the addition to the high school, but asked Spear to get the exact size of the proposed classrooms and the number of students they could accommodate.

Consideration of pedestrian controls for the traffic light on Eight Mile and Center came up at the meeting. The board tabled action, wishing to review the total traffic pattern in the area before making a decision.

Representatives from the certified public accounting firm of Plante and Moran presented the audit for the past school year. The total project took only six weeks, much less time than in previous years.

The firm attributed the short time to the school's good accounting department and its good organization.

Teaching contracts were approved for two positions at Main Street Elementary. Jacqueline Butts will teach second grade. She graduated from Louisiana State University in 1968 and has one year of experience.

Patricia Keeler, a 1960 graduate of Ball State University, will teach a fourth and fifth grade combination. She has three years' experience.

Spear reported September 4 was the smoothest opening day of school the district has ever seen. He attributed this to the readiness of the staff.

A total of 3161 students were enrolled in Northville Public Schools as of Monday morning.

In other action, board president Robert Froelich appointed committees for the coming year. Froelich will sit on the curriculum and systems committee chaired by Dr. Orlo Robinson. The personnel and labor relations committee will be chaired by Eugene Cook, with Glenn Diebert serving on it.

Stanley Johnston will act as chairman of the physical facilities committee. Andrew Orphan will sit on the committee, and Richard Martin will chair the finance and budget committee, with Orphan also serving on it.

Froelich said the committees were limited to two board members to encourage additional lay and professional people in the community to take an active part in the district. He did not rule out the possibility of students serving on the committees.

OLV Launches New Concept In Education

A new concept in religious education will be launched September 23 at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Parish.

The high school students enrolled in the CCD program will be treated to a topic series, covering subjects that affect and interest the youth of today.

The series will begin with a Youth Day September 23 for seniors and juniors and September 24 for sophomores and freshmen. The students will meet in a body and the topic will be presented for consideration. The topic of violence will kick off the program.

During the second and third week follow up meetings will be held with small discussion groups meeting in homes of the adult guiding couples. The fourth week the students will be excused with the couples meeting for discussion.

The cycle will be repeated eight times throughout the year. No textbooks will be used and the classroom atmosphere will be absent.

Robert McCauley, a new full-time religious education director at OLV, is the creator of the program.

McCauley holds a B.A. degree in liberal arts and is completing work on a masters degree in religious education. He has directed CCD programs in two Wisconsin parishes and has taught in Catholic high and graded schools.

The elementary CCD program will be conducted once every two weeks during the year. The alternate weeks will be devoted to teacher training. McCauley said quality and not quantity of the education will be the main concentration.

Pie-schoolers will again have the opportunity to attend a religious "head start" program during the 10:30 a.m. mass on Sundays. The program is designed to help the child form basic religious concepts.

Supervisor Slaps County ADC Plan

"ADC mothers are going to find that they lost more than they gained," Supervisor Lew Coy (R-Wixom) declared following the County Board of Supervisor's decision to allot $90,000 for clothing for the children of these mothers.

Coy, who represents Novi, Wixom, Lyon and the Oakland County portion of the City of Northville, referred to the board's 14-12 vote Thursday on the controversial issue.

Mothers under the Aid to Dependent Children program had been demanding money for clothing of their school-age children. Heretofore, they have received clothing through a county store for this purpose.

According to Coy, mothers who obtained clothing through the store "were getting the equivalent of about $40 in clothing for each of their children." Action of the board, which accepted the recommendation of the Oakland County Board of Social Services, means instead of credit at the store they will receive up to $30 per child for clothing, he said.

Coy, who voted against the measure, contends the $90,000 allotment falls far short of offering $30 per child in view of the more than 9,000 ADC children in the county. Furthermore, "there's no guarantee any longer that the children will actually receive the clothing because the mothers will now receive cash," he said.

"At the county store, there was no dollar limitation on the amount of clothing the children could receive. On the average, they received about $47 worth of clothing per child.

"I feel the board has sold out these children just to get the votes of their mothers."

Township Election

Ashton told members that Piell, investigating the possibility of establishing a building authority to purchase Maybury land, found that the township could legally establish such an authority, and that it could levy additional millage to pay for such property without a vote of the people.

Piell, who conferred with representatives in the State Attorney General's office, learned that the state municipal finance commission probably would approve bonds of such an authority provided the township use some of its surplus funds to help cover the first year's payment.

Since, according to Ashton, "timing is a tossup" between whether an authority is formed for purchasing purposes or whether the matter is put to a public vote, the board chose the election route upon a motion by Trustee Bernard Baldwin.

Even if voters approve the proposal in December, it could be spring before bonds are approved and sold so that Detroit can be paid for any property purchased. That could be too late. Detroit plans call for sale of the property within the current fiscal year (ending in June). Furthermore, Detroit City Controller Bernard Klein, who is engineering the sale for the Motor City, has stated that he wants to wrap up the sale before he leaves office in January.

Police & Courts

Elmer T. Irwin, Farmington, pled guilty to a reduced charge of driving while ability impaired and paid a $128 fine. He appeared September 2 before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis.

Northville police investigated an attempted breaking and entering at Margie's Beauty Shop, 128 North Center Street. The back screen door had been cut near the lock during the evening of September 3.

Frank Heintz, 767 Carpenter Street, reported the theft of a spare tire from his truck September 2. The new tire was taken about 8:45 p.m. while the truck was parked at the rear of 117 East Main Street.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

One good thing deserves another, and so, movie producers, through what appears to be compulsion but is really an unimaginative thirst for money, usually crank out a sequel to the original money maker.

Quo Vadis, which incidentally will be shown on TV this week, was a very successful extravaganza of ancient times. What happened after that is now history. Historical extravaganzas became the thing to do and so the movie audience was "treated" to a string of them.

The same thing happened after "Psycho", Alfred Hitchcock's macabre story of the weird and frightening. All it took was a twist of the mind drawn taut with suspense. And so, among others, on came "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane," a tale of a psychopathic, elderly sister who dispatched humans with the remorseless zest of a Nazi executioner.

A sequel, or the closest thing to it, was bound to come along. And recently it did, as the name clearly indicates — "What Ever Happened to Aunt Alice."

For those who believe that entertainment is the only goal of any creative work, "Aunt Alice" should fill an hour and some odd minutes without any difficulty, along with the popcorn and hot dogs. Except for a few suspenseful moments, however, "Aunt Alice" just isn't up to snuff.

We might say that in trying to be original, or clever, or weirdo, or something, the producers created only what is far fetched (and thus entertaining). Nothing more, nothing less.

The subject, of course, is a woman in her fifties who is slightly off her nut. Geraldine Page, an actress of some rank and more talent, plays the weirdo widow and her ability to make even the lowliest character fly high gets the story off the ground.

As the widow gone mad, Miss Page has a unique way of getting rid of her housekeepers and claiming their money. She does them in over huge holes she has dug for her pine trees, then watches her beloved pine trees grow with gruesome fascination.

Suspense rides with her new housekeeper, Aunt Alice. Will Aunt Alice successfully escape the fate of previous housekeepers? It's really not worth finding out.

The question which should arouse your interest is "Will there be another sequel to Aunt Alice?" Odds, anybody?

... Just Look About You Art Institute's Elegant But Free

Elegance does not always denote expense. Take the Detroit Institute of Arts, for example.

"Probably, the best thing you can say about us," explains the institute's public relations department, "is that we're free. We want people to visit us and enjoy this great museum."

Located at 5200 Woodward in Detroit, opposite the main Detroit Library, the institute with its 80 galleries boasts a comprehensive collection of art telling the story of man's creative endeavors from pre-historic to contemporary time.

Built, owned and operated by the City of Detroit, the institute is open six days weekly — Tuesday, 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Wednesday through Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. And it's free — even for anti-Detroit suburbanites.

Annually, nearly a million Detroiters and guests visit the institute, which enjoys the benevolent assistance of the Founder's Society.

In addition to its permanent collection, the institute sponsors a host of special exhibits and programs throughout the year. For example, it opened the current season yesterday with an exhibit of 100 new forms in "plastic, cloth, wood, moving plywood, rubber, steel, TV sets, water, wire and many others. Also just opened is an exhibit of drawings by Elihu Vedder. In October a special feature will include "Men Who Make Our World: Portraits by Yousuf Karsh."

Because arts loan exhibitions have been a part of Detroit for 125 years, those closely associated with the Art Museum find it a little irritating when people automatically refer to the museum as "across" or "opposite the library."

"Why doesn't anyone say the library is across the street from the museum?" they ask.

Actually, it's very simple. The library got there first.

Although plans for a new museum were made simultaneously with the then new library, early in the Twentieth Century, the library was in full and active service a year before the first spadeful of ground was turned for the long-delayed art museum.

Consequently, when the newspapers, visitors or city residents fixed the position of the yawning hole in the ground "out North Woodward," the natural reference was to the site "across the street from the library." Thus, a habit was born.

The grimy Jefferson Avenue Museum was closed in July, 1927, and three months later the $4 million Detroit Institute of Arts building was opened.

Throughout the years — and even before the new facilities were opened — numerous valuable collections were obtained by the museum thanks to the generous financial donations of citizens through the Detroit Museum of Arts Founders Society.

Typical was the acquisition of rooms from the Colonial home — Whitby Hall — at Philadelphia in the Twenties. Built in 1754 by Colonel John Coultas, the home's parlor and dining room, original paneling, portal and windows, shutters and stairs were installed as a center of the American art exhibition in the institute. Subsequently, the bedroom from a house built even earlier in Salem, New Jersey was added.

Today, the institute contains some of the world's most famous treasures — including masterworks of Picasso, Monet, Renoir and Rembrandt, displays of armor and African handiwork, an Egyptian Mummy, and contemporary sculpture.

It provides lectures, youth theatres, concerts, plays, and filmed art at little or no expense.

Furthermore, it contains shops offering books, museum-quality reproductions, children's toys and selected gift items. And next Tuesday a new Christmas shop will be opened, featuring special gifts for Christmas.

But most important: the institute's elegance is free.

Everyone Needs Icebreaker

Rev. Charles F. Boerger
St. Paul's Lutheran, Northville

Twenty years ago I lived in Cheboygan, Michigan — on the Straits of Mackinaw. The Mackinac Bridge had not yet been built, and cars were carried across the Straits from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace in huge car ferries which made the trip at regular intervals, summer and winter.

In the long, cold, northern winter the ice would sometimes become very thick — often as much as four feet of solid blue ice. But the ferries were big ships and could crunch through the ice and push it aside in huge chunks which clattered and clanked against the side of the vessel. But every so often the shifting winds would pile these huge chunks of ice one on top of the other, to a depth of 10 or even 15 feet, and the ferries would become stuck fast in the middle of the Straits. Though big and powerful, they could not move an inch — and a radio call for help would go out to the Ice-Breaker — the Coast Guard ship Mackinaw — based in the Cheboygan River.

The ship's bell would clang and the whistle would sound and the sailors would hurry back to the Mackinaw. The Mackinaw was not as large a ship as the ferries, but its engines were more powerful, its front end shaped in such a way that it could be pushed up on top of the ice, and by shifting its water ballast from one side quickly to the other it could rock from side to side until the ice was broken and a path was cleared for the ferries to follow.

No one in this world is so big and strong that he does not need help. None of us could survive alone. We may have the strength to sail along in smooth waters, but when the seas become rough and the walls of trouble and affliction close in upon us, we must ultimately turn to someone and say: "Help us, or we perish!"

Children ought to be grateful that they have parents who are always willing to help them in time of need and who will guide them along the pathway they should go. But there come times when even those who love us very much cannot supply the strength that is so desperately needed. Even as the disciples needed the help of the Master long ago on the Sea of Galilee (Matthew 8:23-26), we too, as we grow older, need Him to help us in the storms of life. How fortunate we are to be able at any time to turn to the Savior and say: "Lord, You help us, or we perish!"

We have a Savior who is always ready to help us out of the dark places into the glorious liberty of the wide open waters. His strength is always sufficient!

Sometimes a mother wonders what makes a boy's mind work.

Even when boys still seem like babies, they have a preoccupation with tools and a desire to "make" something that goes beyond their actual years. This is an urge that should never be "squashed." Out of such beginnings come great inventions, machine marvels, electronic wonders and all the rest.

Then, allow your child to explore and experiment, even if what he is creating doesn't have any significance to you. Let him expand his horizons in every direction. He was, after all, meant to explore three worlds: the physical, the mental and the spiritual.

Don't stint on any of them. Be sure he gets a good start in every area. If your son isn't going to church school and to church services with you, why not start now?

Autumn Equinox Nearing

The autumnal equinox and the Harvest Moon are among the astronomical highlights of this month, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

Autumn will arrive officially at 12:07 a.m. on Tuesday, September 23. On this day the sun, which has been moving steadily southward, will cross the equator.

Contrary to the common belief, Professor Losh points out, the day and night will not be of equal length on the day of autumnal equinox. This will come three days later on the 26th, because of refraction or the apparent lifting of the sun by the earth's atmosphere. From the 26th on, the daytime will grow steadily shorter.

The Harvest Moon, or the full moon that comes nearest the date of autumnal equinox will rise on September 25. "The peculiarity of this full moon, as distinguished from others, is that the delay in its rising is slight from night to night," Professor Losh explains.

This delay varies considerably during the year, because of the angle that the moon's path makes with the eastern horizon. The delay is the shortest in the fall, about 20 minutes, compared to more than an hour in the spring.

"Consequently, the nearly full moon, rising at approximately the same hour for several successive nights, gives bright moonlight in the early evening for an unusual number of nights, a traditional aid to harvesters," Professor Losh says.

The Harvest Moon is likely to appear larger than usual and reddish near the horizon. This is due to the earth's atmosphere, and not to the moon itself.

Among the constellations to watch during September is the Big Dipper, Professor Losh notes. "The oldest and most talked about constellation may easily be traced in the northwestern sky just after dark, one of the first groups to make its appearance."

The two stars at the end of the bowl are very important, for they serve as pointers and a measuring stick. The line through these pointers extended to about five times its length ends close to Polaris the North Star."

Other autumn constellations to watch are Perseus, the Hero; Pegasus, the Winged Horse, and Andromeda.

Attendance Up at Parks

Three of the four major parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority had record-breaking attendance during the month of August and a fourth site had its highest attendance in seven years.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near here had over 420,600 visitors last month compared to 335,000 for August of 1968. The previous record for that month was 360,000 set in August of 1959.

Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens had over 388,300 persons last month compared to 302,700 in August of 1968 which was the previous high for that month.

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica had over 318,000 persons during August this year compared to 233,000 in 1968, which was the previous high for that month.

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Utica had 242,600 visitors in August of this year compared to 206,100 in 1968. This year's August figure was the highest in seven years, but below the record high of 281,500 set in August of 1961.

H.C.M.A. parks in Washtenaw County had a total attendance of 62,755 visitors in August, with 30,245 at Hudson Mills, 16,450 at Delhi Park and 16,060 at Dexter Huron Park. No previous figures are available for these three parks.

Warm sunny and summery weather in August accounted for the unusually high park attendance at HCMA parks during August and better than average attendance during the Labor Day week-end.

Laughing My Way to Football Fame

A youngster must take sports seriously to be successful or he wouldn't make the necessary sacrifices — the long hours and hard work. But probably some of the fondest memories of any athlete are the funny things that happen and in the case of this ex-athlete, the funny things that happened make for my favorite stories (a situation which probably evolves from the fact that I did more funny things than great things as a high school and college athlete).

Being blessed by a little size and coordination young in life, I made our varsity back home as a freshman and I can still remember the night of that first game.

I was a third-string quarterback and my neighbor, the guy who had been my idol before I suddenly found I was his teammate, picked me up in his folks' car for that first game. For some reason, I felt I didn't belong in the company I was keeping but I sure was enjoying the experience.

I had went out for tackle feeling anybody as big as I was had no right playing anyplace else. During the first two weeks of practice I had been moved from tackle to guard to halfback to quarterback and so I went into that first game as a quarterback, I guessed.

Our head coach was in his first year and he apparently was as nerved up about the opener as I was. The team we were playing was considerably better than us and had run up a 20-0 score with minutes remaining in the first half.

So the coach turns to me — for some unknown reason — and tells me to go in as an end and to tell the quarterback — my idol — to throw passes to me for the next three plays.

I tried to talk the coach out of the idea but I started stuttering and before I knew it, I had been pushed onto the field.

The next thing I knew I had mysteriously made it to the huddle and it was time to break the news to the team.

And almost started out by saying "I'm sorry fellas but the coach says..." but instead caught myself and just said that "the coach says" concluding the instructions with an apologetic "the coach says so."

Well, I ran the patterns but as it turned out, the defensive halfback was a colored guy and me being a small town boy, I'd never seen a colored guy before. So there I was totally dumbfounded of what I was supposed to do and the company I was keeping.

The passes? I recall one bounced off my helmet and the others hit me in the back because I was just too excited to turn around and catch the ball. As a matter of fact I think I had my eyes closed from the minute the ball was snapped because I knew, if nobody else did, that the ensuing action was going to be a sorry sight for open eyes.

And it was the funniest thing that happened to me until the next season, anyway, when I crashed into a goal post while trying to catch a pass. But that's another story and one you almost had to see to appreciate — and one which I would have rather seen than experienced.

Grid Selections Highlight Season

Composed of the 15 best high school football players from Northville, Novi, Brighton and South Lyon, the First Annual Sliger Newspapers' Football Selections will be revealed in climaxing coverage of the upcoming season, according to an announcement by Jack Hoffman, Assistant to the Publisher.

A team-of-the-year trophy will also be presented to the individual school which is considered to have had the best season.

The all-area squad will be the first of its kind for the area with players to receive medals commemorating their selection. The squad will be selected after nominations through each community newspaper and upon evaluation by films and in person.

Members of area college football coaching staff have consented to assist in the evaluation of nominees.

The establishment of the all-area squad by Sliger Newspapers follows on the heels of the First Annual Football Preview — 1969; also, this season.

The group of community newspapers will also honor a Football Coach-of-the-Year based on his contributions to his school and community.

"We feel that it's important that youngsters who work hard and play well are recognized," Hoffman explained. "We try to do this in each community on a week-to-week basis and now we are expanding it to the area because we feel that sports is a common interest here."

"And we also feel that a coach who is successful — after oftentimes sacrificing his personal convenience — should also be recognized," Hoffman added.

Fifteen players are to be selected — rather than 11 or two teams of 11 — because upon consultation, area coaches agreed that four high schools would be more able to produce that many outstanding players rather than 11 or 22. However, it was explained that the size of the team might vary from 11 to 22 in proportion to the crop of exceptionally-talented players.

The trophy to be awarded the outstanding team will be a large one which will be allowed to remain in the school's possession until it is presented at the end of the following season. Each school recipient will be engraved on the trophy and a large team picture will also be presented.

Coaches and athletic directors from all four communities have praised the proposed selections. Sliger Newspapers include the Northville Record, Novi News, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus.

Can 'Cats Stay Healthy? 9

Novi High School, on the heels of a 6-2 mark last season; hopes to make up in quality what it lacks in quantity as Head Football Coach John Osborne continues to build his future Southeastern Conference entry. The Wildcats have key personnel which must remain healthy.

'69 Bulldogs Eye Reversal 11

There's a new head football coach at Brighton High School and Keith Anderson is emphasizing the necessity of a winning attitude in order to change the Bulldogs grid fortunes. Can Brighton, in his first year, improve on its 1968 mark of 0-9?

Klukach Needs Tackles 7

"I'm not making any excuses, but if we could fill out tackle problems, we could be tough," Northville High School Head Football Coach Al Klukach observes. The Mustangs have what appears to be the makings of a good passing attack and adequate rushing but needs to bolster its offensive line.

Lions a Step Away? 15

Finishing runners-up last season in the rugged Southeastern Conference, Coach Bob Keezer's South Lyon Lions this year could be just a step away from the title. The team will be led by all-conference quarterback Dave Brandon on its bid to unseat defending champ Chelsea.

foreword

With this edition...

I guess here is where we tell why we've done what we've done — that which you're about to read and we hope enjoy. We could say we put out our first football edition because we like football — and, yes, we like football.

But it's not just because we like football.

We could say that we enjoy being unique and doing a special edition — and, yes, we like being unique.

But it's not just because we like football and we like being unique.

Really, there's probably a lot of reasons but the biggest "why" without a doubt is "because we like what our youngsters, our young men are doing themselves."

Too often we turn our attentions to what a minority of teenagers and young adults are doing — or, more likely, are not doing. And too often we don't take them for what they're worth and, in the process of over-exposing them, we don't recognize too many others doing too many good things.

Blocking and tackling and throwing passes in themselves aren't vital acts in the American way. But playing as a team — working as a team and blocking and tackling and throwing passes is pretty important and it's not how well you function by yourself that's important; it's how you work together.

Good football coaches – as the faces often reflect – realize what football can mean and they work hard to make it meaningful to a boy. And the important thing is, stated so well below, that a boy – no matter what talent he has – tries to do his best at what he's doing.

And another pretty important thing is that we recognize a youngster for trying his best rather than giving our attentions to those who aren't trying at all.

Football is just one of a multitude of good things our young people are doing and this is what we're doing for them, for football and for the fun of it – in that order.

-DON KRUPP

What is a football player?

By CHARLES LOFTUS
former sports publicist at Yale

BETWEEN the violence of boyhood and the dignity of man, we find a sturdy creature called a football player. Football players come in assorted weights, heights, jersey colors and numbers, but all football players have the same creed: to play every second of every minute of every period of every game to the best of their ability.

FOOTBALL players are found everywhere—underneath, on top of, running around, jumping over, passing by, twisting from or driving through the enemy. Teammates rib them, officials penalize them, students cheer them, kid brothers idolize them, coaches criticize them, college girls adore them, alumni salute them, and mothers worry about them. A football player is Courage in cleats, Hope in a helmet, Pride in pads and the best of Young Manhood in moleskins.

WHEN YOUR team is behind, a football player is incompetent, careless, indecisive, lazy, uncoordinated and stupid. Just when your team threatens to turn the tide of battle, he makes a block, fumbles the ball, drops a pass, bumps offside, falls down, runs the wrong way or completely forgets his assignment.

TO HIS own coach he has, for press purposes, the stability of a mush, the fleetness of a snail, the mentality of a multi-handled together, adhesive, toe-hailing wren, sponge rubber and has about as much chance of playing on Friday as would the town drunk.

TO AN ALL-STAR a football player is someone who will never kick or throw a ball, or take a defensive stance, or even be seen. That is, if he is healthy, that is, if he is not hurt. He is usually found in the hospital, the doctor's office, or the living room of his wife, who is usually the one who is hurt.

A FOOTBALL player likes game films, trips away from home, practice sessions without pads, hot showers, long runs, whirlpool baths, recovered fumbles, points after touchdowns and the quiet satisfaction which comes from being part of a perfectly executed play. He is not much for wind sprints, sitting on the bench, rainy days, after-game compliments, ankle raps, scouting reports or calisthenics.

NO ONE ELSE looks forward so much to September or so little to December. Nobody gets so much pleasure out of knocking down, hauling out or just plain bringing down the enemy. Nobody else can cram into one mind assignments for an end run, an off tackle shot, a jump pass, a quarterback sneak, a dive play, punt protection, kick-off returns, a buck lateral, goal line stands or a spinner cycle designed to result in a touchdown every time it is tried.

FOOTBALL players are a wonderful creature—you can criticize him, but you can't discourage him. You can defeat his team, but you can't make him quit. You can get him out of a game, but you can't get him out of football. Might as well admit it—be you a player, coach or fan—he is your personal representative on the field, your symbol of fair and hard play. He may not be an All-American, but he is an example of the American way. He is judged, not for his race, not for his religion, not for his background or not for his finances, but by the democratic yardstick of how well he blocks, tackles and sacrifices individual glory for the overall success of his team.

Desire Pays Zayti Reward

Football coaches commonly are overheard emphasizing that desire is essential for success in athletics. And generally throughout life.

"Winners never quit and quitters never win."

"When the going gets tough, the tough get going."

Time and again a coach will harp that no matter what ability you've got, it's the ability you use and appeal: "I'll take the kid who really wants to play every time over the kid who has the potential but not the desire."

And Ferris State College Head Football Coach Bob Leach conveniently can use Northville's Mike Zayti as living example of what wanting to play the game is worth.

Zayti, a junior this fall at FSC and 24-years-old on the heels of a four-year stint in the U. S. Marine Corps, in appearance isn't unlike many other college juniors.

He's a rangy 185-pounder with sandy hair and serious blue eyes. He prefers to wear his loafers without socks when he feels it's appropriate; he likes his sideburns to dip just below the cheekbone.

From appearances — at least until the point when he starts talking about football and Ferris State College — he's got a lot in common with a lot of people.

But then you mention football and he begins to ramble — it's almost like he's in open field with one blocker and a defensive back and otherwise daylight ahead of him —

"You get the taste of winning in your mouth and you just don't want to let go," Zayti observes using both hands while he talks to add emphasis in expressing a feeling which words alone don't seem to do justice.

"We sure surprised a lot of people last year — they just wouldn't believe we were that good," he explains. "They kept making excuses for us winning."

The Bulldogs, after a 0-7-1 mark in 1967, did a complete turnabout last fall posting a 7-0-1 record. And before it was over with, Ferris State had won some believers besides.

The college made it into the national college ratings with its impressive season and the experts now will be looking — and expecting — other similar performances from the Bulldogs this fall.

Zayti carries a wrinkled newspaper clipping in his billfold attesting to the fact that Ferris State made it within the national's top 20 small college football teams. And, looking to the future instead of the past, he also carries a 1969 Bulldog schedule which includes a number of obstacles by which college football powers are often humbled.

But things will be considerably more difficult this season, Zayti admits, because opponents now will be

Imsland Makes Transition Discovers College More Complex

NORTHVILLE'S JERRY IMSLAND end for U-M

"Everything's more precise on the college level," ex-Northville High School three-sport star Jerry Imsland, now beginning his third year as a member of the University of Michigan football team, explains. "In high school you just run a pattern and waited for the ball."

"But now I've got 2.5 seconds to get to a point on the field and I have several patterns I got to run in getting there," he adds.

And if the quarterback is doing his job, the ball is at that point whether the receiver is or not.

Imsland, a strapping young man at 6-3 and 200 pounds, was at the right place at the right time often enough in his first two seasons at Michigan to be a regular after a brilliant prep career at Northville.

Playing for former Mustang Coach Ron Horvath, Jerry won all-Wayne-Oakland Counties League honors during his prep career and in one game caught 15 passes for a school record.

Last season Imsland caught 19 passes for 269 yards and one touchdown.

He began his college career at the University of Kentucky but then transferred to Michigan as a sophomore. In accordance with National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) regulations, Imsland was forced to set out his sophomore year of competition at U-M but he practiced with the Wolverines and earned a starting assignment for his junior season.

As a Mustang, he played offensive end and was a linebacker on defense. But at Michigan he goes only one way because of the complexity of modern college football.

"You find you're playing against guys who were the best on their high school teams," he observes. "It's tougher and you've just got to keep working on your techniques in order to be able to clear yourself."

"You find the simple things you used to take for granted are the things you're working on again in order to improve every detail," Imsland explains.

Michigan State should have an improved football team in 1969, but moving up from last fall's 5-5 mark in which the losses came by a total of 31 points against top-ranking teams, may not be easy.

The potential pluses appear to be better over-all depth, improved experience bigger and stronger lines redesigned offense and defense and some talented newcomers.

Factors which counsel caution include a mind boggling schedule, dangerous thinness at some key positions and the same restructured offense and defense just counted in the plus column. New systems often are perfected slowly over several seasons and bugs may appear next fall.

Duffy Daugherty, now in his 16th season as State's longest tenured head football coach, summed things up in this fashion:

"We definitely should be an improved team next fall.

"We were one of the younger teams in the conference in 1968. Our sophomore group was an eager, enthusiastic bunch which should get better with experience. Our junior group, headed by co-captains-elect Rich Saul and Frank Foreman, should provide fine leadership.

"Our freshman team of last fall contained some high quality players who should help us quite a bit.

"Spring training was good and I think I can promise Spartan fans an exciting year.

"This doesn't mean that we don't have plenty of problems. We have. But we have hopes of working them out.

State will employ on offense what Duffy calls the "veer option and powers" attack. It will combine features of the Houston and Texas attacks of recent seasons with some variations of Duffy's own.

"Bump has left us some fine football players and we don't consider this a rebuilding year at Michigan," the University of Michigan's new Head Football Coach Bo Schembechler emphasizes.

"Football games are won and lost by your defense. At Michigan we will stress defense."

The preceding are two of the "Quotes from Bo" as provided in the Wolverines 1969 Gridiron Guide and probably tell the fan as much about Bo Schembechler and the situation he finds himself in than anybody's words could.

Bump, of course, is Chalmers (Bump) Elliott who Schembechler succeeds. Elliott is now associate athletic director to Athletic Director Don Canham.

Michigan has 14 regulars back including Northville's Jerry Imsland — from a team which compiled an 8-2 mark for a second-place finish last season in the Big Ten.

Most prominent vacancy on the squad will be tailback from which All-American Ron Johnson has departed through graduation. The Wolverines will also have to replace All-Big Ten Quarterback Denny Brown along with three offensive linemen and two defensive backs.

End Jim Madich is being heralded as a possible All-America candidate while Detroit's Henry Hill (5-10, 210) will be a key as a middle guard on defense.

The Wolverines open at home with Vanderbilt on September 20 and begin Big Ten competition, also at home, on October 11 in an encounter with Purdue.

The traditional Michigan-Michigan State contest will be October 18 at East Lansing while the Wolves will conclude their season November 22 at home with Ohio State.

MSU

U-M
CMU

Apparently on the brink of becoming a traditional college football power, Eastern Michigan University this season will embark on one of its most ambitious schedules in history, according to Athletic Director F.L. (Frosty) Ferzacca.

Coach Danny Boisture's Hurons, after having posted an 8-2 mark last season while being rated eighth in the nation amongst small college teams, are preparing for a nine-game slate which includes the University of Akron, Kentucky State, University of Tampa, Montana State and Ball State — all recognized as prominent rivals on anybody's schedule.

Eastern this year will also be playing its home encounters at the spacious new Ryneerson Stadium.

Two hundred forty-five pound John Sharp, a two-year starter on defense for EMU, is being moved to offensive guard to replace departed All-American Jack ...

is expected to be a key in the Hurons' attack.

Tackle Bob Lints (6-2, 234) is expected to anchor the defense which features big, quick linemen and linebackers along with an experienced secondary.

Tailback Dennis Hewitt, the Hurons' leading ground-gainer last season, is back with Larry Ratcliff, an impressive candidate reportedly pushing Hewitt for the starting assignment. Veteran Pete Yelorda is expected to get the nod at slotback while Royal Oak's Mike Yankee, an outstanding blocker who Boisture has tagged as "the key to our attack," will be a fullback.

Top quarterback candidate is Don Stewart, a junior who stepped into the starting lineup last season.

The Hurons' opener will be September 20 at Murray State (Kentucky) with the first home encounter with Albion on September 27.

Coach Roy Kramer and his staff at Central Michigan University head into the 1969 season (Kramer's third) with high hopes but a tougher schedule.

The Chippewas have been 8-2 and 7-2 and shared the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title in his first two years. They should threaten for the league crown again.

The formidable presence of Bob Miles at quarterback in the Chips' potent I-formation attack gives them the only experienced signal-caller in the conference. In addition, Miles is expected to have 14 other seniors joining him as starters.

Only three of the 22 offensive and defensive unit regulars won't be lettermen, and just one — 285-pound tackle Tony Falletta who transferred last year from Notre Dame — will be a sophomore.

Many of the backup choices, though, will be first-year varsity prospects and they'll have an early baptism of fire. CMU will open the campaign September 13 at rugged Western Michigan University. WMU holds a 30-11-1 edge in the overall series but the Chippewas have prevailed in nine of the last 14 meetings.

This will be the first encounter between CMU and the Broncos during Kramer's career at the Mount Pleasant campus. Game No. 2 this fall will be a first both for the coach and the school — a night outing at the University of Northern Iowa.

The University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee will provide CMU's first home opposition September 27 and hopefully will be a springboard into the IAC competition at Illinois State (October 4) and Western Illinois (October 18) and Homecoming with Illinois State (October 25), plus the annual head-knocking with Northern Michigan (October 11) at Mount Pleasant.

Wanted: Help in Line

Never has the axiom "a chain's no better than its weakest link" meant more to Northville High School Head Football Coach Alex Klukach.

And Klukach has given a considerable amount of his attention during pre-season practice sessions to strengthen all the links — and particularly tackle.

Mustang Sportsman-of-the Year Fred Hicks, second team all-Wayne-Oakland Counties League last season as a senior, has departed and left some pretty big shoes to fill in the front line.

Klukach also will miss all-league halfback Barry Deal although talent available in the backfield apparently is more plentiful than in the line. Yet depth — overall — could prove to be a problem if the team falls victim to some freak injuries like last season.

"We haven't got a lot of depth so we're just going to have to find out what our people can do and then not keep hitting so much like in the past," Klukach observes.

"I'm not making any excuses, but if we could fill our tackle problems, we could be tough," he adds.

The Mustangs ran off to an impressive start last season winning its first three games before falling 21-6 to West Bloomfield who went undefeated in winning the W-O title. Northville finished fourth in the league at 3-3 and was 5-3 overall.

Two starters, keys in the Mustang attack, suffered unusual injuries sidelining them before mid-season last year. Fullback Pat Cayley landed off-balance after being tackled and broke his ankle while Quarterback Stan Nirider suffered a broken wrist.

"Loosing two regulars like that — at key positions — was a real setback," Klukach relates. "If they had been injuries resulting from regular contact, they'd been easier to accept. But these just were bad breaks."

The Mustangs had a difficult time recovering from the loss of Nirider and Cayley dropping three-in-a-row after having won its first three. Then they won their last two games — the finale against Livonia Clarenceville, 20-0 — giving them a two-game win streak on which they'll open the 1969 season.

A group of six lettermen, all expected to assume starting assignments, will form the nucleus of the Northville Mustangs slated to open their 1969 football season Friday by hosting Plymouth. The veterans are (front, left to right)

Bernie Bach, Brian Myers and Fred Holdsworth. Standing is Rich Adams, Dave Coe and Terry Mills. Bach and Holdsworth are ends, Myers an interior lineman, Coe and Mills halfbacks and Adams is quarterback.

One of the results of the two injuries — a positive factor one year later — was the opportunity for Rich Adams to gain playing time at quarterback in Nirider's absence. And now the Mustangs are anxious to capitalize on Adams' talents.

"Rich throws real well and he can run," the coach reports. "And we've got exceptional receivers. Our passing game should be good."

Adams, 5-11 and 165 pounds, is expected then to get the assignment at quarterback in Klukach's I-formation. He is one of six lettermen back.

Amongst the other veterans is junior end Bernie Bach (6-1, 190), senior end Fred Holdsworth (6-0, 170), Co-Captain Terry Mills (5-9, 150) — all three of whom are expected to be key targets for Adams' aeries.

Mills is being shifted to tailback to replace the departed Deal while Bach will be a tight end and Holdsworth split. Dave Coe, a letterman but not a regular last year, probably will get the nod at halfback with Brad Conklin, a regular last year as a sophomore, back at fullback.

Co-Captain Brian Myers (6-0, 180) will anchor the line at center while Marc Scheffer, the Mustangs' kicker last season, also returns completing the list of veterans. Scheffer is also a tackle.

Depth in the backfield comes from senior Bryan Dyke (5-10, 150) a first-line replacement along with fullback Dan Corcoran (5-10, 160) and quarterback Dale North, a senior.

The tackle problem hopefully will be solved between Sheffer (6-2, 190), junior Rick Ruland, transfer student Mike Dresch and Jeff Dawson (6-0, 175).

Randy Marburger (5-10, 150) and West Bloomfield transfer Randy Caswell are running at guards although Klukach explains that he may move Myers back to guard with Dresch inserted at center. Richard Lamp is also a candidate at center.

Its opener Friday with Hartland will allow Coach John Osborne's Novi Wildcats an opportunity for revenge against one of only two opponents who had them defeats in 1968.

The Wildcats posted an impressive 6-2 mark last year and this season, their last as an independent before joining the Southeastern Conference, they will be building on with limited depth in personnel.

Hill Offensive Key Injuries Threaten Cats

Just about every football coach on any level of competition will preface remarks on his coming season with an "if we can stay healthy —" which is usually considered to be the groundwork for some post-season rationale.

But Novi Wildcat Head Football Coach John Osborne makes the observation with a little more justification.

On the heels of the young school district's best football season ever — an impressive 6-2 showing, Osborne finds himself in the unenviable predicament of having only a 28-man squad confronted with a difficult schedule — probably the best in the school's history.

"Right now we just hope we can stay healthy," the mentor explains. "We could run well but we obviously don't have a lot of people."

The Wildcats will be building around a nucleus of 12 returning lettermen from a 1968 squad which, after dropping its opener to Hartland (18-13), proceeded to win six in a row.

But in its finale last season against Flint St. Mary, the Wildcats came up flat and lost, 19-0.

This season's schedule is bolstered by a number of Southeastern Conference rivals with the Wildcats slated to officially begin competition as a member of the league with the winter sports season. Novi presently is an independent.

And gone from the Wildcat roster will be a number of regulars lost through graduation.

Novi again will open with Hartland but this time at home on September 12. It also meets Flint St. Mary again late in the season but otherwise has a completely new schedule including Dexter, Chelsea, Ypsilanti Lincoln and South Lyon of the Southeastern.

The schedule, therefore, would allow the Wildcats to revenge its two defeats from last season and also make a good first impression upon its future conference associates.

But it'll be a rugged eight-game schedule in which injuries to key personnel could emphasize a lack of depth.

One-hundred eighty pound senior Rick Hill is expected to be the Wildcats' major offensive threat running from tailback in Osborne's I-formation attack. Hill is making the transition from up-back to fill the vacancy created by Jon VanWagner's graduation following an outstanding season.

Osborne feels that Hill, if he remains healthy, can be one of the finest two-way performers in the area but he emphasizes that his squad must create other threats on offense in order to keep opponents from keying against him.

Considered as capable in sharing the load offensively, junior Tom Boyer is being converted from split end to quarterback replacing his brother Gary, another key performer in 1968 who has since graduated.

The younger Boyer, a back-up quarterback last season, is a 150-pounder and, like Hill, possesses considerable speed. Osborne reveals that his staff is grooming its new quarterback to run the option either way with the threat of his speed inside and Hill's outside expected to make the play difficult for defenders.

The Wildcats plan to employ senior John Davey in Hill's former up-back slot. At 178 pounds, Davey is an exceptional blocker although he has a questionable knee which makes him one of Osborne's "ifs."

Junior Doug Osborn, a brother of 1968 fullback and now departed Ken, is a chief candidate for the other backfield position if a broken hand mends in time.

Other veterans returning this season are junior Tom VanWagner, brother of Jon, at tight end, 185-pound tackle Steve Pomroy and guard Dale Pohlman — all regulars in 1968.

VanWagner, only 5-7 but 170 pounds, is "an extremely good blocker" and seemingly could make the option his way money-in-the-bank. He's only a junior.

Pomroy is a holdover starter and senior while Pohlman — a six-foot, 187-pound senior — is an offensive

New Bulldog Fate?

Keith Anderson, new Brighton High School head football coach, would like to steal a page from Norman Vincent Peale, the pastor who authored the book, "Positive Thinking." That's the attitude Anderson is trying to instill in his varsity gridders as they face a new year.

It won't be easy getting the Bulldogs untracked from last year's dismal season. In nine consecutive ball games, Brighton was out of it by the end of the first quarter.

Positive attitude is important, but it's not everything by a long shot. If the Bulldogs can get a few breaks and strong performances from returning veterans, the tide — in part at least — could be turned.

Twelve letterman form the nucleus of this year's squad, which Anderson and Assistant Jim Peterson, who comes from Dexter, are working diligently to mold into shape for the traditional season opener Friday against South Lyon at home.

Tops among the holdovers are Skip Pless, a halfback who excelled on defense last year. Pless made 45 solo tackles and assisted on 102 from his defensive halfback spot to earn a berth on the all-county squad. He is a gritty kid at 5-7 and 145 pounds.

Another standout is Mark Warren. As a linebacker he made a habit of knocking people down and the record shows it. The 5-9, 180 pound senior had 34 solo tackles and 68 assists to rank right behind Pless. On offense, Warren's a hard-nosed fullback.

Perhaps the most crucial spot is quarterback and offensive results depend on the performance of two young men who are battling for the starting call: Ed Gardner, 5-8 and 140 pounds, and Tony Bybee, 5-10 and 150. Both are seniors.

Bybee was the second leading rusher on the team last year with 116 total yards, an average of 2.1. A strong passer who can throw long, he needs to improve on accuracy to make the Bulldogs an aerial threat. He threw 167 passes last year and connected on only 32 attempts.

From a defensive halfback position Bybee led the team in fumble recovery last year with nine.

Passing could be a vital part of the Brighton Bulldogs attack this season as new Head Coach Keith Anderson attempts to rebound from last year's 0-9 mark. Providing protection for quarterback Tony Bybee are, left to right, Mike Doyle, Mark Warren and Miles Vieau. The Bulldogs open Friday by hosting neighboring South Lyon.

Gardner, like Bybee, plays both offensive and defense. When Gardner was calling signals, however, Brighton was bound to run. He threw only 16 times last year and hit on three passes. He's got leadership potential, however.

In Miles Vieau (5-7, 140 pounds) and Carl Roberts (6-3 and 195 pounds), Anderson has two capable halfbacks. Vieau, a senior with fair speed, is a hard runner who doesn't flinch through heavy traffic.

Roberts may be the surprise of the season. As a sophomore last year he got his first taste of action. With improvement, he could blossom into one of the best halfbacks in the country.

Fullback shouldn't pose any problems. Warren, a regular last year, holds the decided edge. Last year, for instance, he rambled for 300 yards and a 4.1 average. Right behind Warren is Rich Ames, 5-11 and 200 pounds, a capable and experienced replacement.

The line is what will need bolstering, on offense and defense. Only four letter winners are returning: Center Mickey Kourt, Guard Tom Bowditch, Tackle Marv Taylor and End Joe Hoffman.

Kourt, at 6-1 and 170 pounds, nailed down a starting job last year as a sophomore. With the experience, he should be a key player in the line.

outing last year and broke into the starting lineup for about the last four games. He packs 175 pounds on a 5-9 frame.

Tyler saw only one spot action last year, but he's sturdy at 5-9 and 215 pounds. And he's only a junior.

Hoffman, stronger on defense that offense, takes care of the punting chores. The 6-1, 160 pound end punted the ball 30 times last year for a 25.1 average.

Sure to win a spot in the line, probably at guard, is Doug Hartman. A sturdy catcher on the Brighton baseball team, Hartman was hurt before the season began last year and sat out the season. Before that mishap, however, he was ticketed for a starting berth.

There's some top prospects up from the Jayvee squad that may provide the help that is needed, especially in the line. Cas Scranton and Harold Bussey are being touted highly, as are Mike Shosey, an end, and Bruce Ritter, a quarterback.

It's primarily these gridders who will carry the brunt of the attack when Brighton enters Wayne-Oakland Conference competition. West Bloomfield, Waterford Kettering and Bloomfield Hills Andover are expected to battle for the title.

HIGAN BOTTLED GAS

Big Challenge Ahead For New Pinckney Coach

Pinckney's new football coach isn't fooling himself. Tom Wilson recognizes it'll take plenty of work and fast maturing to mold a winner out of a team that hasn't won a ball game in two years.

Last year Pinckney posted a 0-8-1 mark, slightly better than the 0-9 record of the previous year.

As far as Wilson's concerned, however, the 28 gridders battling for starting varsity jobs are already furnishing one necessary ingredient for a successful season — willingness to work.

"We have fine attitude and the boys are really working hard."

But that second ingredient — experience — will only come with time.

"We're playing a lot of inexperienced kids," Wilson explained. "Hand (Assistant John Hand) will have to go with linemen who have never played football."

That spells some rough sledding — especially early — in the tough Ingham County League that includes Stockbridge, Williamston, Leslie, Dansville, Fowlerville, Bath and Perry.

Since Wilson is a newcomer to the league, he isn't picking any conference winner. But he predicted, on the basis of past performance and reputation, that Williamston, Fowlerville and Leslie will once again fight for the league title.

On the shoulders of five holdovers from last year's squad rests Pinckney's chances for an improved year. They're Bill Reck, Dennis Urbany, Tom Hoeft, Dudley West and Ivan Derring.

Reck, described by Wilson as "the leader," is a six-foot, 165-pound halfback. Not exceptionally fast or big, Reck nevertheless has the all-around talent and good attitude that make for solid ball players.

Urbany, at 5-10 and 155 pounds, will probably get the starting call at quarterback. He lettered last year in a reserve role, but saw considerable action.

Whether or not Pinckney will have a potent aerial attack is one question that Wilson was unable to firmly answer.

"I don't know whether we'll be able to throw," he stated.

Hoeft, who goes both ways at end, is another of the veterans that Wilson's depending upon. "A tough kid," Hoeft packs 165 pounds on a six foot frame.

Dudley West, only 5-9 and 175 pounds, is one of two linemen expected to lead the offensive charge. He plays defensive guard and offensive tackle.

Ivan Deering, an offensive guard who lettered last year as a sophomore, will be back described as quick and aggressive at 5-10 and 175 pounds of him.

"I'm not pessimistic about the season," Wilson said, "But we've got our work cut out for us. We want to lose that image of ours."

Pinckney hasn't had a winning season since 1961-62.

Hartland Apparent Power

A top quarterback, a veteran backfield and a smattering of offensive linemen promise to make Hartland one of the kingpins in the Suburban Conference again this year.

Even Jerry Cowan, Hartland head coach, thinks his boys, who were 6-1 in the conference last year and 8-1 overall, will be contenders along with Lake Fenton, Linden and Goodrich.

But Cowan has some reservations.

"With a couple of breaks," he says, "we could be right up there."

And there's one problem nagging Cowan — finding interior linemen who can open the holes for his veteran backs.

What that amounts to is finding replacements for some key personnel, namely Tackle Steve Morgan and Guard Chip McGoren, both all county and all league.

The backfield...

An all-league and all-county selection last year, Mike Banfield has all the equipment at quarterback. He's an accurate passer and smart signal-caller. In addition, the 5-10, 180-pound senior handles the punting chores.

The versatile Banfield is also hefty enough to play linebacker on defense.

Fullback Al Cone isn't especially fast, but he's quick enough at 5-9 and 180 pounds to get to holes fast. Once on the move, he's tough to bring down. With a year of experience under his belt, he should be improved this year.

Doug Dalton, a 5-7 senior who weighs only 155 pounds, has what Cowan describes as good moves. He'll probably get the starting call at tailback in Cowan's "I" and pro formations. At defensive halfback, Dalton has had few peers in the league.

There's a question mark hanging over Dalton, however — whether a hand broken last year will mend with no after-effects. If healthy, Dalton should be a top-flight performer.

Denny Bidwell, the only junior in the backfield, should get the call at wingback, primarily on the strength of his blocking ability. At 5-6 and 155 pounds, he is what Cowan describes as "one of the best blockers on the team."

Dan Steiner, another veteran back, is a valuable man to have around. The 5-11, 170-pound senior is equally adept at tailback and wingback and saw a lot of action last year at both spots.

Heading up the offensive line will be Dave Riedel, a guard, Dan O'Connell, who was a regular at center last year for the final four games, and Mike Boyes, offensive tight end who saw considerable action.

Other top line prospects are lettermen Roger Anderson, a defensive tackle; Kane Graves, a defensive middle guard; Robert Olding, a tackle; Gary Wesley, an offensive tackle.

Altogether, about 30 gridders are bidding for starting berths under the watchful eyes of Cowan, who handles the offensive line, and Assistants Carl Wayer and Frank Delvere.

Wilson Determined To Build Winner

For Tom Wilson, Pinckney's new football coach, landing a head coaching job is a dream come true. Only two years ago he was delivering milk for a living.

regular expected to play both ways this season.

Five-foot eleven Bob Vivian, a junior, is a split-end candidate although he has been hobbled by a bad knee. Senior Dave Adema, a regular defensive halfback and last year's punter, is expected to hold down his post while big Dan Douglas — 290 pounds of senior — could see action if he drops a few pounds at Osborne's request.

Douglas last season won a letter working on defense at middle-guard.

Other lettermen back are sophomore Rick Marvin, a 155-pound halfback with one year's experience, and 200-pound tackle Dave Morrison, brother of tackle alum Joe.

"I was an assistant coach at St. Johns for six years," Wilson explained. "During the first five years, I was a milkman. You didn't have to be a teacher to be a coach."

But working with kids got to Wilson. While delivering milk and coaching he also was going to school at Michigan State University.

In August of 1968, the former milkman got his degree. He completed another year of assistant coaching at St. Johns before finally landing the top football job at Pinckney.

Now Tom's objective is to build Pinckney into a winner. After all, he's used to winning. At St. Johns, Wilson coached teams won 44, lost 4 and tied 2, while carting off four championships in the class B West Central League.

Tom and his wife, Joyce, have three children: Mike, 8, Pat, 6, and Jenni, 4. A fourth child is expected in October.

Zayti Likes Winning Ways

looking to their Ferris encounter, not beyond it.

"We want to go all the way, there's no question about that," he observes. "But we've got to be reasonable. We did things as a team last year that they said we couldn't and now we know we're a good team."

"With our schedule like it is, we could be 6-2 or 5-3" the collegian adds. "Of course we'll be shooting for that 8-0."

Mike Zayti's bid to play college football demanded the characteristics which eventually have allowed him to become a regular on the newly-created powerhouse.

Upon graduating from Roosevelt Military Academy in 1963 and after approaching a few coaches about continuing his career in college, he learned that the good life which had been high school had showed itself in an academic record which wouldn't qualify him to get into many colleges, let alone play football.

So Zayti hitched up with the Marines and after completing his service in 1967, he decided to again pursue his ambition of playing college football.

Officials at Ferris advised him that he would be accepted in the fall if he successfully completed a couple courses that summer at Schoolcraft College.

Zayti then went back to school that summer and satisfied the entrance requirement and that fall he was a member of the Bulldog varsity.

After a season of work on specialty teams as a freshman, Zayti became a regular offensive halfback last season and is expected to be a key in Leach's attack during the coming season.

Like his team in general, Zayti himself surprised a lot of people last season rushing for 448 yards in 116 attempts (3.9-yard average) — the seventh best season mark in the history of the college. He scored two touchdowns in the Bulldogs' 29-28 upset of Illinois State — a prize victory in 1968.

Advances in the FSC pressbook this season claim Zayti "should become one of Ferris' all-time top rushers."

And with that new season just days away, Zayti now speaks frequently in reference to "we" and "us" and "winning." As a member of a ranked power, he also realizes that there's somebody out there a little bit better who wants to beat them.

But Mike Zayti and the Ferris State Bulldogs have come too far to quit now.

"Winners never quit and quitters never win."

'69 Lions

Southeastern Conference champs in 1967 and runners-up by a slim half-game margin last year, Coach Bob Keezer's South Lyon Lions this season will be battling to regain the title from Chelsea.

Keezer has a number of veterans back and, although the team is somewhat smaller physically, he expects it'll be quicker and a definite contender.

Finishing second-best when you're playing to win is disappointing even if you're second in a seven-team league.

And especially if you're second by the narrowest of margins.

But many of the members of Head Football Coach Bob Keezer's South Lyon Lions are back from last season when the team finished runner-up to Chelsea with only one-half game separating the two Southeastern Conference rivals.

Actually, the Lions handed Chelsea its lone defeat last year but South Lyon also lost once — to Saline, 26-7 — and then suffered a crucial 6-6 tie with Ypsilanti Lincoln.

The Southeastern, a traditionally tough football league, looks to be strong again this season and Chelsea, bolstered by undefeated records in its jayvee, freshman and junior high ranks, apparently will make a strong bid to defend its title.

"We'll be right in there with them," Keezer observes. "We'll be smaller but we'll also be a little quicker."

The second-place finish in 1968 followed on the heels of an undefeated season and championship for the Lions in 1967 — and therefore, was a little tougher to take.

But his squad has only lost once in the conference in two seasons and Keezer has 15 lettermen — seven of them regulars — back for this season.

"Our record gives us a lot to build on," he relates. "If we get off to a good start, I think we'll be right in there."

The Lions' offense will be strengthened by the return of senior quarterback Dave Brandon, a veteran who has been a regular since his sophomore year and who appears capable of winning all-state recognition.

And on defense, Keezer welcomes back Glenn Wiseman — a 230-pounder who the mentor describes as "probably the best defensive end in the league."

The Lions will again operate from the popular pro-type offense with Brad Lloyd (5-10, 170) in the backfield with Brandon at one halfback slot while junior Jim Baran (5-8, 175) and Ron Wiseman (6-0, 175) vying for the other post.

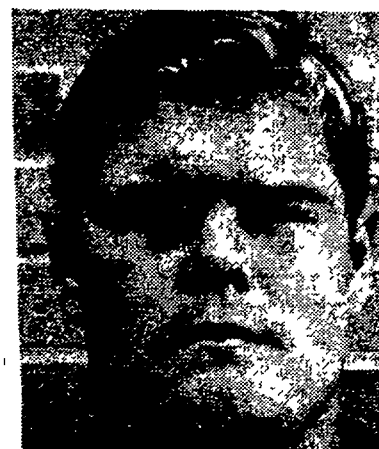

Either Tom Amrhein (5-9, 160) or Norm Bishop (5-7, 150) — both seniors — are working at flankerback while 195-pound Dave Perkins is expected to get the assignment at tight end. Rick Fike (5-11, 150) and Bob Bruner (5-11, 150) are contesting for split end.

Expected to get the nod in the interior line is senior Tom Cash, a 230-pounder, at right tackle, 170-pound Jerry Pelky at right guard and junior Jim Goers (170) at center.

Ken VanBuren (150) and Ed Rohraff (150) are dueling for the left guard assignment while Glenn Wiseman and Tim Cash — Tom's twin — will work offensively at left tackle.

Defensively, Keezer expects to insert Harry Turner, John Pfeffer and two-year veteran Dave Williker in the backfield with Pat Riordan, a junior, at an end and sophomore Gary McMahon working as a linebacker.

Brandon, entering the final year of his prep career, has run for 18 touchdowns and passed for 20 in his two previous seasons — one of which, of course, was the 1967 run for a title. The youngster is respected throughout the conference and, along with several other veterans, could key the march to another championship.

capsule comments

'We'll be right in there with them. We'll be smaller but quicker.'

'Our record gives us a lot to build on.'

The Lions open Friday with neighboring Brighton before starting league play September 19 at Ypsilanti Lincoln — a rival that is part of the bad memory leftover from last season.

Back this year as Keezer's assistants are Gar Smith and Jim Rockel.
