

Trustees Discuss Issues

"In time as we begin to urbanize, it becomes logical that we end up as the city of Northville" — BALDWIN.

QUESTION — The police study report. Why did you vote against the motion to "accept and file" the report?

BALDWIN — The chairman of the police study committee was there and he asked that the board meet with the committee to cover these questions, that's the first reason. And I think we should have given them a hearing because there were questions raised with regard to the contents of the study.

The second reason is that this was a citizens' committee that we, ourselves, set up. And I think at the point that there were any questions with regard to rejecting the findings — because that's exactly what we did — we should have sat down with the study committee and try to find out why their position was contrary to that we were going to take. And a third thing, I think just recognizing from the standpoint of a public decision of the advisory board, I think it was extremely discourteous to simply take the report, accept it and file it, then furthermore compound the thing by just doing exactly that which they recommended against.

The police study report made recommendations which had some impact on the future. I think it was incumbent on us to discuss the thing in another meeting ... and that's what the study committee chairman asked ... and Gunnar, himself, (Supervisor Stromberg) did suggest this ... and that was completely ignored. When we ask a QUESTION — The police study report. Why did you vote for the motion to "accept and file" the report?

STRAUB — I made some comments, one of which was that I thought it was a one-sided report. They didn't give both sides; they gave what it would cost for the city. They didn't say what was going to happen to our current police car, what was going to happen to our policeman. They just said go in with the city for $77,000. I had a lot of questions I wanted to ask and everytime I would ask a question somebody would interrupt. I wanted some answers but it seemed as though I couldn't get to first base so I got disgusted.

I don't know what value it would have been to meet with them. They gave us their report. The first paragraph criticized the board, the last paragraph criticized the board — and all we did was to put a man on full-time instead of part-time. I've been in the township hall — some of our board members don't go to the town hall they attend a board meeting and that's all — and the telephone would ring when we had a part-time policeman. In order to answer the call Gunnar (Supervisor Stromberg) would ask the building inspector — a $12,000 a year man and here they're squawking about $9,500 — to go out and see what the trouble was. Gunnar would go out himself. A couple of times he asked me to go out. All we did was to put a full time man on to do this work. They (committee) criticized

EDITOR'S NOTE — Because there have been several issues before the Northville Township Board in recent weeks that have resulted in split votes on the board, The Record interviewed two of the trustees with frequent opposing views. Trustees Bernard Baldwin and Joseph Straub were asked identical questions. They were also permitted to make any other comments that came to mind. Their views were taken down by tape recorder and are reported in this edition.

ANTICIPATING A BIG TURNOUT, the Northville Township Planning Commission plans to hold its public hearing on the rezoning request of Stewart Oldford, who has plans for a shopping center and multiple housing development on the south side of Seven Mile Road adjacent to the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad at the Northville Board of Education office September 30. Oldford was denied a hearing by planners in his initial request for rezoning but the township board, after hearing an appeal by Oldford, ordered planners to hold the hearing.

EUGENE KING, former Northville police chief and later administrative assistant to the city manager here, has resigned his post as village manager in Almont and will leave September 26 for Hayden, Arizona where he will become the "town manager." King told the Almont council he was forced to leave because of the ill health of his wife who requires a warmer climate. King, after leaving Northville, took the Almont post three years ago and was instrumental in moving that community through a charter program, changing it from a general law village to a regularly incorporated village.

Tight Bond Market Stalls City's Improvement Program

It's only four months old but already City Manager Frank Ollendorff is worried about the city's five-year improvement program approved in principle by the council last spring.

"I'm not satisfied with the progress," he said this week, "it's moving too slow."

The program, an all-encompassing plan to complete a host of projects within a five-year period at an estimated cost of $4.5 million, was recommended to the council by the manager. In approving it, however, the council chopped it to $2.3 million, setting aside parks and housing improvements for separate study before putting a price tag on them. Projects are approved individually as money becomes available.

Projects within the program range from sewer installations and street and sidewalk construction to parking facilities, circle drive and tree planting. While several specific projects have been started, some of which are nearing completion, the effort thus far is "far short" of what the manager hoped for.

To date projects that are either underway or for which funds have been firmly committed represent an expenditure $193,000, he said.

"The major problem we've faced," Ollendorff explained, "is the 6-per cent interest ceiling on municipal bonds. It's virtually impossible to sell bonds because the current going rate is 6.4 per cent."

Specifically, the state does not permit a greater than 6-per cent rate on municipal type bonds. Neighboring states, however, have higher rate ceilings so financial investors prefer to do business outside Michigan.

Because of this situation, the city is forced to use cash for the projects it undertakes. And since there is insufficient cash in the city coffers, projects within the five-year program must be dealt with piece-meal, he explained.

Furthermore, when projects are postponed until a later date when cash becomes available the city faces the real possibility of paying more because construction costs are continually climbing. "What we could have done this year, if we had the money, could cost us considerably more next year."

Improvement of Hill and North Center streets, which is to start this week, is being paid for with monies in the city's treasury, he said. "It would be senseless to advertise for bids when no one's going to buy the bonds. We'll just have to wait until the market changes or the Legislature increases the interest ceiling to put Michigan in a competitive market with other states. Meanwhile, we're using money that could be used for something else."

Ollendorff admitted that he has made no special effort to expedite several projects because of the financial situation. He said the Griswold Street extension is an example of a project that he has not pushed because of the bond situation.

The bond sale situation, which is reaching the crisis stage in many Michigan cities and school districts, affects all kinds of improvement projects, Ollendorff said. "There's

Road Work Boost Seen in Donation

Two major road projects, both part of Northville's five-year city improvement program, are expected to get a boost if the proposed donation of $250,000 to Northville by John Carlo, chief executive of the Northville Downs, is accepted.

The money is expected to speed up the extension of Griswold and Wing Streets, both of which have been in the works for years but for one reason or another have moved along slowly.

City councilmen, who Monday night temporarily shelved the proposal pending further study of the written offer, authorized City Manager Frank Ollendorff to begin negotiating for an engineering contract for the Griswold extension.

Council action on the offer was tabled until Monday. In addition to the council's approval, Carlo's offer to donate $50,000 a year for five years must be approved by his partners at the Downs.

Because of reported "rumors" about the offer among citizens of the community, the council also directed the city manager to draw up a public statement concerning its intentions for using the money. Even though the policy statement is expected to be a broad one, its purpose will be to emphasize that the money will be used

Mrs. Mark Ambler

She's 100 And Would Like To Fly

She wept unashamedly. And when the tears were gone from the eyes that no longer see, Mrs. Mark C. Ambler clutched her precious card and struggled for words. "Isn't it wonderful?" she said.

Certainly, but not nearly so wonderful as the silver-haired lady who received the congratulatory card from President Richard M. Nixon.

Born in the same year The Northville Record was founded, Mrs. Ambler celebrates her own centennial birthday tomorrow, September 19, just a short distance from her Farmington birthplace and only a few miles from the home she remembers best — Northville.

Oldest of four girls and three boys, largest family then living in Oakland County, Mrs. Ambler — then Metta Conroy — grew up on a "mile square" farm in the vicinity of 10 Mile and Orchard Lake roads, a short distance from the Farmington Nursing Home where she now resides.

Her grandfather had purchased the large farm for $1 per acre.

She moved to Northville at the age of 21, living for two years before her marriage with the Record's then publisher, F. S. Neal. She married Mark Ambler, son of William H. Ambler and grandson of William H. Ambler, Sr., all of whom figured prominently in early Northville industry and business circles.

The once famous Ambler Mill, located near Rural Hill Cemetery where today only a few crumbling slabs of concrete remain to mark the big dam, and the old Ambler hotel, located on the site of today's bowling alley parking lot at the southwest corner of Main and Center streets, are part of her late husband's family history.

She takes pride, too, in the fact that her mother-in-law, Mary Ambler, was a school principal in Northville.

Her recollections of the early Northville that she knew and loved are many. Horse racing on Dunlap Street, wood sidewalks and dirt streets, circuses that came to town, the country fair, the "wonderful big skating rink (Princess Rink destroyed by fire many years ago)," and her father-in-law's icehouse and brick yard are but a few of them.

"So many changes," she sighed, remembering the past.

But for Mrs. Ambler, the changes "are for the better." In a lifetime of changes and technological advancement none equals the recent walk on the moon "and our airships. I'm sorry I couldn't see it but I enjoyed listening to it. You know I once rode in a four-motor plane. I'd like to try it again."

"Oh, and of course, electricity is important," she added recalling how her family made candles for their "best light."

Her life, she emphasizes, has been filled with happiness. Even now she fully enjoys it, although she wishes out loud, "If only I could hear and see I'd be all over this place — but then I'm not as young as I used to be."

If asked her own personal accomplishment in life, she replies a son and daughter, a grandson and four granddaughters, six great grandsons and six great granddaughters, and four great grandchildren.

CENTENARIAN MRS. MARK C. AMBLER

Original Rites Mark Wedding

An individualized marriage ceremony with guests participating was planned by Kenneth A. Rathert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Rathert, 450 Maplewood, and his bride, the former Barbara Gaebel, for their wedding Labor Day week end in the Morristown, New Jersey, Church of the Redeemer.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gaebel of Morristown, was given in marriage by her father. The wedding party was preceded down the aisle by her young brother, Roger, who carried a white banner made by the bride with velvet braid peace symbols, the cross and motto, "Peace in Love."

The same symbols decorated the front of their marriage ritual distributed to guests. The Reverend Jonathan King read the service which included responses by the guests and concluded with Malcolm Boyd's Prayer for a Wedding. Guests also participated in a chain "Peace of the Lord" handshake in the meaningful ceremony.

The bride's long, sheath gown was fashioned of eggshell serano. She wore a matching lace mantilla and carried yellow roses in a natural wicker basket.

Ginny Schultz of Morristown was honor maid in a turquoise dress of serano cotton. Bridesmaids in matching dresses were Vicki Marti of Berkeley, California, Diane Rathert of Northville, and Patricia Sladung of Morristown. All wore matching lace mantillas and carried yellow and white daisies in wicker baskets.

Neal Brasure of Northville was best man. Ushers were David Boerger of Northville, Sherman Kisner of Cranford, New Jersey, and Roger Gaebel, Jr.

For the 6'o clock ceremony and reception following at the home of the bride's parents for 85 guests the bride's mother wore a light blue brocade dress and coat. The bridegroom's mother chose a deep pink silk sheath. Guests attended from San Francisco, New York City, Wayne, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Michigan.

On a wedding trip to Canada the newlyweds planned to visit Montreal, Ottawa and Quebec as well as Stratford. They then will resume their studies at Valparaiso University in Indiana where both will be seniors. Upon graduation the couple plans to go to Japan with the Lutheran "Prince of Peace" Corps.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THIRD ANNUAL home tour of the Northville Presbyterian Women's Association next Thursday, September 25, promises to be one of the most appealing anywhere — the five houses to be open offer a distinctive variety of colonial styling but share a common background: they have prideful owners who have tended them with "loving care."

In addition there will be a country store of home baked goods and a Christmas Crafts shop at the church. Mrs. William Dyke, Presbyterian Women's Association president and chairman of the Christmas Crafts project, and her committee have worked to create unusual holiday-season items for giving and decorating. Not only for Christmas but for any-winter-day room brighteners will be the prized dried flower arrangements.

After cooperating with the Presbyterian group, the Women's Guild of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be serving luncheon at St. Paul's from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at $1.25. Groups are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Norwood Balko, 349-0391, or Mrs. Arthur Witzke, 349-4374.

A repeat attraction on this year's tour will be the antique sale with a "flea market" corner at the home of Mrs. Robert Froelich, 369 Maplewood.

Mrs. Froelich stresses that anyone in the community is invited to bring items for the sale (the church receives 20 per cent of the sale price). She especially would like one-and-two dollar pieces for the flea market. For pick-up or additional information call her at 349-5135.

Last Saturday Mrs. Froelich, with several friends, drove to Marshall, Michigan, her home town, to attend Marshall's annual home tour and to visit her mother, Mrs. Herman Bunker. Northville's home tour was inspired by Marshall's success and was suggested by Nan Froelich, who has worked on it each year. This year she is assisting Mrs. David Longridge, general chairman.

About 75 churchwomen are working on tour arrangements or during the tour, estimates Mrs. Longridge. Committee chairmen include Mrs. Keith Wright, tickets; Mrs. Howard Meyer, Jr., and Mrs. Arliss Laux, promotion; Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, Jr., publicity; Mrs. Edward A. Hodge and Mrs. Charles Fountain, hostess arrangements; and Mrs. Warren Stoddard, country store.

Tour tickets at $1.50 will be available this year only at the church, according to Mrs. Wright. They will be sold during the tour hours, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and will have a map of house locations.

Each home this year has a different, distinctive appeal — the yellow-shuttered vintage home of the John Swallows is full of do-it-yourself ideas; the Ross B. Northrop home is an impressive re-creation of a Michigan farmhouse on the family's centennial farm property; the Theodore Hecklers' salt box house is a revival of a favorite New England style and holds Ohio-collected antiques.

The bay-windowed colonial home of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Forrer boasts a recent expansion with a teen-age entertainment center created in the former garage.

The Damon Lindleys' Victorian house right in town has been papered and decorated throughout since the family bought it from the Donald Hannabargers when they were transferred to South America last year. For the Lindleys, it was a move into town from Edenderry subdivision.

MOVING INTO town to be "in walking distance" has become a trend here. Just before school started the C. Thomas Sechlers, with Rick, Kathy, Steve and Mike, moved from Six Mile Road, to the handsome, white house at 404 West Dunlap Street, former home of Mrs. William Cansfield.

This Saturday evening the Sechlers will be hosts to the Northville Presbyterian Couples Club for its first fall meeting at their new address.

Mrs. Cansfield temporarily is living in Plymouth while the new duplex she will share with Mrs. Beth Lapham is being completed on First Street.

In the former Sechler home are the William Miron and their four daughters, Gail, Nancy, Sandra and Julie. An automobile executive with Bendix, Mr. Miron has been transferred from South Bend, Indiana, to the company's central office in Southfield. Since the family previously lived here in the Detroit-Bloomfield area, Mrs. Miron reports, this move is an easier one with everyone enjoying the country atmosphere.

"MACKINAC ISLAND, and the luxury of its Grand Hotel were enjoyed by two Northville groups during the past week.

Attending the Republican State meeting at the island last week end were Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. William F. McLaughlin and Dr. R. Robert Geake. As Republican State-Central Committee Chairman, Bill McLaughlin was one of the busiest persons on the island.

The Webers (he is Wayne II District Chairman) stayed at the Grand Hotel, meeting headquarters, but the McLaughlins were guests of Governor and Mrs. Milliken at the governor's official summer residence. They occupied one of the 11 wood-paneled bedrooms and, as Jan McLaughlin enthusiastically relates, "had four wonderful days." (Of all state party conventions throughout the country this one is rated by political writers as the "best," combining decision-making with sociability).

Last Tuesday eight members of the Northville Senior Citizens were joining other seniors from Southern Michigan on a Michigan Parks and Recreation-sponsored bus trip to Mackinaw City. The group spent two nights at the Grand Hotel.

Going from here were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Johnston, Miss Ruth Knapp and Miss Ione Palmer.

It's Northville's Alice Ritchie

Police Radio Beams Feminine Voice

If you call the Northville Police Department expecting a seasoned officer to answer the phone, you're in for a surprise.

The pleasant feminine voice that says "Northville Police and Fire," belongs to Alice Ritchie.

Nine years ago she answered an ad for clerical help with the police department, and she's been there ever since. Alice took a test for the job and was hired. She became the first woman dispatcher employed by the Northville department.

Alice is on the desk Tuesday through Saturday from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., working one of three eight hour shifts. The other shifts run from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. and 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.

In private life Alice is Mrs. Harvey Ritchie. She and her husband have one son who is in the Navy.

What keeps her on the police desk? "This is a fascinating job," she said. "After working here, working any place else would be dull. I like people and this job has lots of contact with people."

Her job is anything but dull. Routine duties are enough to keep her busy the entire eight hours.

She is responsible for dispatching the two patrol cars on duty, answering the police and fire calls and taking the necessary action. Sounding the noon whistle, fire siren and conducting civil defense tests are also her responsibility.

Every call that comes in and every incident investigated by the department must be logged and a record of it typed up. If vehicle registration, driver license or warrant checks must be made, Alice will send a message to Lansing over the teletype.

The teletype also automatically relays the information to the Secretary of State's office for driver's license and vehicle registration information. Michigan is the first state to have this arrangement.

Information will also be relayed automatically to the National Crime Information Center in Washington, D.C., to check for federal offenses.

The computer will return the requested information to Northville instantaneously. Within 15 minutes, Northville can contact any department in the United States and receive information.

During her nine years with the department, Alice has cultivated the art of listening to the police radio with "half an ear."

The police radio is on 24 hours a day, broadcasting information between police departments in the area and also from patrol cars back to their home stations.

"You get so you can recognize the voice of one of your own men," Alice said, "there is constant chatter on the radio, but you can pick out the calls you're interested in, with a little practice."

Rarely will Alice go on patrol. Though her hours include the eight hour shift, she may be called any time of the day or night if the police arrest a woman. Alice will be called to search her.

If the woman is transported to another jail (the Northville jail only houses prisoners overnight), Alice must accompany the officers while they take the woman to another institution.

Most of the calls she receives on her shift are for information. "People call to ask information on streets, how to dispose of animals, driver licenses and parking regulations."

During a shift, Alice will be responsible for dispatching two cars. On each of the shifts, three men will be on duty, plus one dispatcher.

Northville's total force includes one chief, seven patrolmen, three sergeants, three dispatchers and one relief dispatcher.

Novi's police department operates much the same way as Northville's. Three women are employed as dispatchers. Bernice Bischof, Charlene McLean and Shirley Yorch joined the Novi department by answering ads, as Alice did. The shifts at Novi run from midnight to 8 a.m., 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and 4 p.m. to midnight, the routine following that in Northville.

Novi does not have a city jail, making it necessary to transport prisoners to the Oakland County jail. Alice wouldn't trade her desk for anything. "This is a fascinating job."

Couple's Ideas, Skills Transform Old House into Charming Home

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of articles on the houses to be visited later this month on the annual Homes Tour sponsored by the Presbyterian Woman's Association.

Nine years ago, Gay and John Swallow came to Northville to find an inexpensive old house, perfectly aged, endowed with the character of time and weather, and primed for modernization.

Their intention was to set a goal of nine years for re-designing, restoring, and reshaping in the Shaker period they loved so much. In addition to this the goal included the gearing of the house to small children, for comfort, practicality and appeal.

The third goal was to have the project paid for when done. Nine years have passed. Three children have become part of the household and the goals have been accomplished.

The craftsmanship and creativity of both of the Swallows is everywhere apparent from front porch to rear deck. The influence of Cape Cod—the Swallows' annual vacation retreat—can be measured inch by inch, floor to ceiling in every area of the house.

The living room was completely remodeled. Mr. Swallow took up the artificial floor to reveal the original oak floor — beamed the ceiling built bookcase and table and shutters, two sawbuck doors, as well as some of the large wing hinges, and turned the stairway so that it now starts from the living room.

The master bedroom is characteristically Shaker. The canopy bed was built by John Swallow, as well as full wall closets, wall modules, woodwork and window paneling. The adjoining bath features "broken up junk glass" that Mrs. Swallow fired up and then installed in a sort of Bavarian design along the bath-shower wall.

The children's bath is particularly charming, thanks to its built ins, accommodating a small pull out stool, low light switches for full ceiling lighting — the entire room is geared to the convenience of the Swallow children.

Using her own technique Mrs. Swallow redid the kitchen floor and woodwork—once again under the influence of the Shaker period. The handsome cupboards and paneled shutters were built by Mr. Swallow as was the solid cherry chopping block, all pegged together, that serves as counter space.

The dining room is attractively weathered—barned-walled and authentically barn-beamed. The same practical, handsome effect can be found in the mud room, geared, too, for the use of the children.

The Swallows are a skiing family, therefore it is not surprising to find the recreation room completely influenced by the Bavarian Alps.

The upstairs bedrooms are a continuation of the singular and collective creativity of this couple. An example might well be the Captain's bed built by Mr. Swallow and modeled after the Captain's bed in Old Ironsides, anchored now in Boston Harbor.

The antiqueim(a labor of love), the authentic antiques, the great color schemes, are all waiting to be seen along with the many different pieces of interest the Swallows have incorporated in their completely re-done old Northville house, truly a unique addition to this year's home tour

TURNING AN OLD HOUSE into a charming home wasn't an overnight job, nor was it an easy one. But for the Swallows it was a very satisfying project — a dream come true. Every room, as well as the exterior of the house, has been beautifully redesigned, remodeled and redecorated except for the newly constructed garage and recreation room. That's the dining room at the top, the recreation room in the middle, and the house at the bottom.

By DON KRUPP

This is a crucial period in the growth for the City of Novi and Mayor Joseph Crupi's recent observation that we must properly staff and house municipal administrative forces is a timely observation.

Operating now out of cramped quarters and with too few people, attempts to keep up with current growth are almost futile. But most cities are having similar problems.

Novi, however, is somewhat unique in that it appears destined for a population boom within the next decade as families continue to move from Detroit or from outstate to near Detroit. And this community is ideally near Detroit and within an area that's particularly attractive for residential development.

So now's the time when Novi can't afford to just keep up — we must be getting ahead. And we're not keeping up.

The mayor, and the council, is in a position to realize the value of having people to execute their directives. But now, because of the manpower shortage, no matter what the council decides should be done, progress is halted until administrators can find time to do it.

And adequate quarters are a factor — maybe a minor factor — in compelling good employees to do good work. But more importantly, City Hall should be reflected of a city itself — the city should be keeping the kind of house it wants its citizens to keep.

Presently entangled in a legal fight with Novi Township over a division of assets, the council must delay immediate improvements for its city offices but there should be no delay in finalizing plans for alternatives, so when the time comes, the wheels can turn.

And hopefully veteran government official Harold Ackley will accept the council's offer and become assessor. Ackley's past experiences in village and city government allows him to possess an awareness about this community which a new city manager would take many, many years to equal.

At this crucial time here, the city cannot afford to lose a man as close to government affairs as Ackley. And Ackley, who personally has made so many sacrifices to guide the community in its development to date, owes it to himself to remain aboard for fear that all he has worked for could be lost.

More people and more space means more money. But it also means that a city will be more able to resolve its problems. And unresolved problems eventually reduce themselves to more money because of late solutions.

Need for Spare At City (?) Hall Arouses Mayor

After announcing intentions to hire a new city manager and expand the present administrative staff and after reviewing the legal status of the feud between the City of Novi and Novi Township, Mayor Joseph Crupi on Monday emphasized that the council must act to bolster its administrative offices and expand its facilities in order to accommodate the press of government business.

The mayor also interjected the possibility of a lockout against the township because of the need for use of vacant offices in City Hall which presently are being held in limbo awaiting a division of assets.

"We have to implement these administrative offices with the proper manpower and equipment," he stated. "Space is a real critical factor and we're going to have to take steps in the direction of providing more."

The mayor suggested the possibility of changing the council chambers to the building's basement multi-purpose room in order to provide additional space for administrative offices.

"And even if it comes to the point where I've got to come up here and take the locks off of some of these offices and put other locks on — to the point of a lockout — I'm not so sure I wouldn't do that," he exclaimed.

A division of assets between the re-organized city and township, has been pending since late February forcing joint holdings — of which the City-Township Hall is one — to remain unaltered until their ownership is legally settled.

The mayor earlier this summer emphasized that the council is primarily interested in dividing assets so that ownership of the building can be resolved and action can begin to either enlarge the existing structure or to find another facility.

In hopes of expediting the division of assets, the city filed suit against the township on September 1 asking that it show cause for delays.

"If there's another suit that's going to be started, it's going to be started by them (the township) on a lockout," the Mayor stated before revealing the possibility that he may order presently vacant and locked township offices to be forcibly opened for use by the city.

Councilman Edwin Presnell on Monday also instructed City Attorney Howard Bond to draft an ordinance establishing a building department. It was also indicated that Building Inspector Earl Bailey will be appointed director of the new department.

Major Bond Issue Decided by Few

A poor turnout of citizens — about half the size that had been expected — on Monday decided a $4,475,000 bonding issue — the largest in the history of Novi Community Schools.

The proposition to allow the Board of Education to borrow the money for the construction of two schools and the purchase of future sites passed, 262-to-141.

According to Superintendent Thomas Dale, if the bonds are sold by December, construction could begin early next spring. Plans are to incorporate the new facilities — a middle school and an elementary school — for use in the system beginning with the 1971-72 school year.

However, Dale emphasized that presently the market for the sale of bonds is unfavorable with many similar projects being delayed pending action by Congress. Such bonds presently are attractive to investors because they're non-taxable but rumors from Washington indicate that legislators are contemplating revisions which would allow the bonds to be taxed.

The total of 403 voters was about half of the 800 to 900 which Dale had expected. An average turnout is "about 500 voters," the superintendent had explained prior to the election, with totals Monday, therefore, being below average.

"There's no question about the fact that we're pleased with the results although we would have liked to have had a larger turnout," Dale observed.

While administrators are preparing to put the bonds on the market, architects will complete plans for the buildings, the superintendent explained.

"If sale of the bonds is executed by December, bids could be taken in February or March and construction could begin almost immediately," he stated.

The elementary school, designated for location in the Willowbrook area north of Ten Mile Road and between Novi Road and Meadowbrook Road, will be the district's third and is being designed similar to Orchard Hills Elementary.

The middle school is proposed for location at the existing high school-junior high site and is planned to accommodate grades six through eight.

One of the two 12-acre parcels to be purchased with money from the bonds will serve as a site for the proposed elementary while the other will probably be used for another elementary in the near future.

Makes Offer to Ackley

Council Set for Change

The City of Novi Council offered City Manager Harold Ackley the post of assessor on Monday in a move apparently designed, to make way for the appointment of a younger man and to take advantage of Ackley's many years of governmental experience within the community.

It was also learned following the four-hour session that the council will take action within the week in appointing 51-year-old Flushing City Manager Dallas Zonkers to serve in the same capacity here beginning tentatively on November 1.

Salary for the new city manager reportedly "will" be $15,000.

Ackley on Monday did not state whether he would accept the offer to him although indications were that he will. City manager since the community incorporated in February, the 63-year-old administrator had been a longtime village official serving in a variety of capacities.

"The council has reviewed a number of applications for manager and assessor and has come to a decision," Mayor Joseph Crupi announced Monday. "The council has agreed to employ a new manager and has asked Mr. Ackley if he will accept the assessor's job and other duties which he has previously had with the city.

"We want him to continue to assist the city with its progress," the mayor added.

Mayor Crupi explained that the council's choice to become the new manager was to have announced his resignation on Monday before his council.

Councilman Denis Berry introduced a resolution seconded by Councilman Edwin Presnell officially offering Ackley the post of assessor with related administrative duties. The council unanimously supported the proposal.

"We also feel that the job we have created in our growth has become more work than a man of Mr. Ackley's age can handle," the

Cityhood Known To New Manager

The new Novi city manager, expected to be officially appointed within the week, is a veteran in municipal government who recently administered the City of Flushing's transition from a village and who will inherit a similar responsibility here.

Dallas Zonkers, 51, tentatively will assume his new duties on November 1 succeeding City Manager Harold Ackley who is expected to accept an offer to become assessor. Serving as city manager in Flushing since early 1965, Zonkers previously has had experience in engineering, as a city purchasing agent and as an assistant city assessor.

He and his wife, Doris, have two daughters, Bonnie, 18 and 13-year-old Betty.

Zonkers was Flushing's first city manager and acted in directing that communities transition from a village to a home-rule city. He also has had experience at Flushing in extensive water, sewer and street improvements — all of which are

Wixom Fears Hardship

Weed Ordinance Wilts

A weed ordinance introduced by Councilwoman Lottie Chambers reluctantly bit the dust before the Wixom City Council last week with opposition claiming the measure was premature for prevailing wide-open spaces in the community.

Mrs. Chambers, one of two women on the seven-person council, had proposed that City Attorney Gene Schnelz be directed to prepare an ordinance designed to regulate cutting of open fields within the city. Schnelz presented his original draft at the August 27 session at which time revisions were suggested in order to allow the council to grant variances for use in farming.

Schnelz again submitted the revised proposal at last week Tuesday's meeting and he emphasized that he had inserted a clause which would allow the council to receive and decide appeals to the ordinance.

The ordinance proposed that all open fields be cut once before July 1 each summer with the city to perform the service and add the cost to taxes against delinquent property-owners. Schnelz explained that the proposal compared with others enacted by neighboring communities.

"I think the City of Wixom, in view of the wide-open spaces we have, is not ready for such an ordinance at this time," Councilman Gunnar Mettala stated.

Mettala earlier had interjected that a hardship on city crews would develop if they had to cut a large amount of acreage.

Mayor Wesley McAtee, who later was forced to cast the deciding vote on the issue, observed that the original intent of the measure was to eliminate hazards in the city which are being caused by over-growth.

Mettala challenges the proposal claiming that there is only "a couple existing violators" and that the problem isn't of a magnitude to necessitate the legislation.

Councilwoman Mary Parvu, Councilman Howard Coe and Mrs. Chambers voted to adopt the proposed ordinance while Mettala, Councilman Elwood Grubb and Councilman Charles McCall were in opposition.

The mayor's deciding vote supported the opposition.

McAtee Challenges Request by Utility

An appeal by Detroit Edison Company to be allowed to service an auxiliary building at its storage yard in Wixom by septic tank rather than through the public sanitary sewer received a cold reception from Mayor Wesley McAtee last week before being referred to engineers for their recommendations.

Officials of the utility, addressing the council last week Tuesday, explained that its station on Wixom Road will have one building serviced by the sewer but added that another building, approximately 1,800 feet from the existing line, would only be used temporarily and by a maximum of three men.

The Edison spokesman observed that engineers for his company have proposed installing a septic tank to service the one building rather than to spend an estimated $25,000 to connect with the sewer. He also emphasized that because of its limited use, a tap to the public line might not be workable without regular repair.

"It's been real difficult to try to resolve some of the problems of the city — including sewers — and I hope we don't go back to septic tanks after investing $5-million in sewers," Mayor McAtee responded.

The mayor explained that the case "may seem to be individual but could result in a precedent." He stated that all existing sewers in the city have been financed through general obligation bonds and "if Edison had been assessed for sewers, then that cost would be comparable to the estimate for connection."

Councilman Howard Coe supported the mayor emphasizing that "I'm not for reverting back to septic tanks."

"I'm far from condemning anybody for wanting to save $25,000 but I'd like to see what it's going to be," Councilman Gunnar Mettala observed.

WORLD UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS confer on the new idea in education advanced by the University. Dr. John H. Zitko, left, founder and chairman of the board, talks with one of the University's eight trustees, Dr. Willis Hunting, right, 42865 Seven Mile Road. Zitko was in Northville last week in connection with World University accreditation of the Montessori training school near Pontiac. Based in Tucson, Arizona, the World University was created 20 years ago from the World University Roundtable. The college's objectives include peace, order, society and culture on a world basis. Students under the self-study programs are allowed to study courses at their own chosen pace. Instructional seminars replace the classroom for group work. Colleges affiliated with the World University include Montessori Academy of Southern Arizona and the North American Regional College, Tucson, Arizona; Great China Arts College, Hong Kong; St. Olav's Academy, London, England; and Remo Commercial College, Nigeria.

MUSICAL MINISTRY — Roger and Donna Rose of Owosso will present a program September 27 at a meeting of the Christian Women's Club. Billed as a program of musical ministry, the meeting will be held at Lofy's Restaurant in Plymouth. See story on Page 2-A.

Film Strip Tops History Agenda

"New" is the key word for the Northville Historical Society as they begin the 1969-70 season. Coupled with the new season will be new ideas, a new place to meet and a new meeting night.

Beginning September 25, the Historical Society will meet the fourth Thursday of every month at the Scout Building on West Cady Street. Meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

Club president Mrs. William

Cansfield reports the first program will be presented by Miss Linda Kate Edgerton. She will present a slide series, created by the society, entitled "The Pleasures and Treasures of Northville," a living color report of Northville's past and present architectural treasures.

Highlighting the presentation is the old library building on Wing Street, currently housing the Township offices. The society plans to preserve the building for use as a museum for the archives of local history compiled by the group.

Meetings are open to all who are interested in the goals of the Historical Society. For further information contact Mrs. Cansfield at 455-2343.

RE-DEDICATION — A short groundbreaking service, referred to as a "re-dedication" since part of the church still stands, officially recognized the start of construction — already well underway — of the new sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. The Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure (left), pastor, and his assistant, the Reverend Timothy C. Johnson, conducted the service while church officials, members, and building personnel joined in for the traditional shovel-turning.

Downs Donation

for projects that the council plans to carry out, with or without the donation.

William Gaab, a citizen in attendance at Monday's meeting, urged a public statement because of the rumors he had heard that the offer was "some kind of bribe." Gaab, who stressed that he favored acceptance of the offer, said the people should be told what the money is to be used for. Carlo's offer stipulated only that the money be used for street and parking improvements in the city.

Ollendorff reminded the audience that street and parking improvement is part of the five-year program already approved in principle by the council. Furthermore, he noted that plans for extension of Griswold and Wing streets have been individually approved by the council, and that both were indirectly approved several years ago with the adoption of the city master plan.

As for parking improvements, the city manager pointed out that specific projects await a final report and recommendation of the citizens' parking authority committee. That report is due within a week, he said.

It was noted again Monday night that the donor probably was influenced to make the offer for two reasons: One, the money is tax deductible, and two, he probably hopes to prod the council to move along faster with its plans, which inevitably will benefit the race track directly or indirectly.

According to Ollendorff, construction of the Wing Street extension probably will begin next spring. The "very earliest" start for the Griswold project, he said, will be late next summer.

Specifically, the Griswold project involves extending the street from Main Street through several private properties to Beal Street, and Beal to South Main Street. The project will involve the acquisition of some 18 privately owned parcels (only one, the Herman Hartner, Sr. house and property has been purchased to date) and is expected to cost between $300,000 and $400,000. Application for federal aid to acquire properties has been made by the city.

The Wing Street project involves extension of the street south through private properties (owned by former Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson and her son) to Seven Mile Road and widening of Seven Mile to four lanes from Wing to Sheldon Road. Engineering for the project has been completed and paid for. Approval has been received from Wayne County and only relatively minor plan adjustments remain to be resolved. The project is at a point now, explained Ollendorff, that advertising for bids could begin immediately. However, because of recent high construction bids received on another project, bidding probably won't begin until next spring.

5 Year Program

building authority bonds for parking property purchases, separate building authority bonds for purchase of park property for Maybury, special assessment bonds for street and sidewalk improvements, water and sewer revenue bonds, and general obligation bonds for such things as new street construction.

Ollendorff said the tight bond market in Michigan could very well "kill" the city's plan for purchasing Maybury property for park purposes.

Among those projects, listed within the five-year program, that either have been started or for which money has been earmarked are:

Water and sewer improvements — Construction of a short sanitary sewer line on North Center Street is about three-quarters finished; and the city is in the process of purchasing standby sewer capacity.

Street paving — Construction of new surface for Hill and Center streets is to start this week; resurfacing of some Northville Estates streets has been completed; reconstruction of the Allen Drive-Novi Road intersection has been approved and is about to be started by city crews; and $40,000 has been budgeted this fiscal year for the Wing Street extension.

Parking — The city has committed itself to purchase parcels of property for parking at a cost of $96,000.

Auction Comin'

With an October 11 charity auction in the offing, the Northville Jaycees began collecting items to sell this week. Local Man Faces Rape Charge

A 35-year-old Northville man has been charged with rape against a 21-year-old married woman.

Curtis Smith, 410 North Center, has been named in a warrant issued Friday by the county prosecutor.

The charge stemmed from an incident August 21 at the Center Street address. Northville Police worked on the case for nearly a month before the warrant was issued.

Both parties requested lie detector tests and witnesses had to be contacted before the warrant could be issued.

No date has been set for Smith's arraignment.

Previously, they were shown and placed at the Michigan State Fair, the Tri-City event in Detroit and in the All-Morgan show.

Having won top honors in midwestern competition earlier this month, 14-year-old Melanie Cole will participate in the International All Morgan Horse Show running October 3-5 at Syracuse, New York.

GAS Shuts the Door On OVEN CLEANING

Spend the day in town — enjoy yourself while the self-cleaning oven on the '69 gas range cleans up your spills, bubble-overs and splatters! All you do is latch the oven door and turn the self-cleaning switch. Gas automatically transforms your messy oven into one that looks sparkling new.

Cleaning your oven is not the only way the '69 gas range gets you out of the kitchen and opens the way to free time... the range is full of automatic timing devices. Besides, the food's not the same without the flame, so cooking with gas is a matter of good taste.

Northville Township Trustees Express Opposing Views

group of citizens to get together and spend the time to give us a report, then I think they ought to have a full hearing if there's any question on their findings.

QUESTION: What is your opinion of the proposed "Maybury Purchase"?

I took a clear stand at the township board meeting. I think this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to acquire some property which is going to be extremely important to the people in this community. It's probably the only piece of property that's in the hands of public ownership (available to us). If we were to buy it from a private owner, I'm sure it would be more costly than this.

In the years ahead as this community urbanizes, which it will, we're going to need recreational land. And I think we've got to take this opportunity to make every attempt to purchase it.

QUESTION: Supervisor Stromberg has stated that Sheldon Hayes, the gravel mining and asphalt plant operator, would be willing to acquire the site, give the township some 200 acres free for recreation under his plan, which is to turn over the westerly portion of the property (where most of the buildings now stand) to an order of Nuns to operate a senior citizens' village. Hayes would then mine the remaining area for seven or eight years, develop a large lake, then have residences built around the lake and at that point give 200 acres to the township for recreational purposes. What's your reaction to this proposal?

BALDWIN: I would prefer, if it's possible to do so, to go ahead and make the purchase in the name of the township. I don't think it's in the best interest of the people of the township to create another mining operation. Whether it's for five, six or seven years, it's going to put traffic on the roads, you're going to have the problem of reclaiming the property — you're going to have a gravel pit there. You may want to call it a lake, but it's going to be a water-filled gravel pit. And we have no assurances that the thing will end in seven years. I have no knowledge of the deal with Hayes. But I think if we're talking about two mills now, I think the inconvenience of a gravel pit starting in that area and the possibility it may disfigure the property is worth consideration of a two mill tax to buy it outright and keep it the way it is.

I think we'd be penny-wise and pound foolish to go that way unless there's no other way to go.

QUESTION: Why did you vote in favor of industrial zoning along Haggerty road (both as a member of the planning commission and the township board)?

BALDWIN: I think that the impact of the expressway (planned along Haggerty) and the knowledge we have of what has happened elsewhere along expressways would indicate that it's going to develop into other than a residential area. In all probability, it will develop as an industrial area. Therefore it became logical that we rezone it under an industrial classification. Secondly, we know that there are people already interested in settling there on an industrial piece of property. Our planner tells us very clearly that it is a sound classification for that area. I think we have to move to protect pieces of property in Northville township that will supply industrial base, because we need it.

QUESTION: One of the arguments by those opposing it is that it will deteriorate their property values and that, secondly, 80 per cent of the land is in the Plymouth school district anyway (where the zoning is also opposed) and therefore won't help the local school tax, so why do you still want it?

BALDWIN: That's true, but I don't think we can be as provincial as all that to plan along the boundaries of one township. I think that if it's sound planning, it should be there. Secondly, the township itself will generate taxes from it. I think we have to give consideration to supporting such things as police departments, fire departments and other services a township has to provide. Tax support would come from that area. Also as our township taxbase expands, the two-mill levy we might be talking about now to buy Maybury could be less.

QUESTION: Your board is also split on a replacement for Trustee Armstrong. What's your view on this subject?

BALDWIN: I feel that we should replace Trustee Armstrong with a man who has the experience of having been on the township board, who served well, who stood for election and is well known to the people, and utilize that experience.

In the absence of that, since the board deadlocked on Tellam, I proposed that we take Leonard Klein. He's served on the planning commission for a number of years and has done a real conscientious job. He's very much familiar with the problems, many of which are planning problems. I don't depreciate Smith's qualifications, but I think we've got two people with more experience.

QUESTION: If what you say is true, why are three members of the board voting against Tellam and Klein?

BALDWIN: This is something that goes on on the board that I have sometimes been critical of — neither of the three people who voted for Smith gave any real indication of why they were voting for him. So I really don't know why they were voting against both Tellam and Klein.

I'll tell you what I think — it's because they feel Smith will oppose any (city-township) unification. They feel that Tellam may now be in favor of it, and they suspect that Leonard Klein might be in favor of it. I think it goes right back to that and I think a lot of the problems we have are based in that area.

It goes back to the deadlock we got into with the fulltime policeman. My position on the policeman is that at no time did I indicate we shouldn't have the police protection, neither parttime or fulltime. Quite the contrary. I don't feel that we have enough right now.

My feelings on this subject is that we now have ample indications that Northville township is rapidly urbanizing. We know, and even Parisi (executive secretary for the Michigan Townships Association) will admit that the general law township has a great deal of difficulty from the standpoint of powers of handling an urbanizing community. The general law township was founded in something like 1827. And the law has changed very little since that time. Only recently did they come up with a charter township act.

Even Parisi indicates that the charter township is a device to enable a township to handle an urbanizing situation. He indicated in a recent talk that a charter township gives a township the powers nearly of a city. And you do the very thing that he and some of our board members talk about — about township government being closest to the people — you move right away from that. You get rid of the annual meeting, increase your taxing power without having a vote of the people, you enable yourself to hire a manager, you relieve the township supervisor of all the duties that he has directly now. And you go to just exactly what a city does.

So regardless of how you look at it, as you urbanize the township is going to have difficulty handling some of the services that it is going to be called upon to perform. Consequently, there's going to have to be a change. Now that change could be to go to a charter township — but you're only kidding yourself when you make that move. At best it's a stop-gap move, as we saw in Warren — they moved from a township, to charter township to city.

If you look at our situation, our urban center is really the city of Northville. We're half-a-township, so we're not dealing with a great big expanse of land. In time as we begin to urbanize we're going to begin moving to some position to supply services either like a city. It becomes very logical that you end up as the city of Northville. It's not two entities standing apart, we're actually around each other.

Now that is going to be accomplished in one of two ways: either by the two governments working together to begin to consolidate — all or most of the township; or, it's going to be done in another way, and that is the city is going to finally begin to spring its boundaries and go out after annexation. They have to, they can't stand still, anymore than we can. So, at the point when the township begins to consider providing the services that a township admittedly has difficulty in handling — such as fire, police, recreation, then later on a sewer and water commission, which means a public works department (we've nearly got that now with a private contractor, bills come in for $1,000 and $2,000) the supervisor is running around looking at these projects and acting as a public works superintendent, which he has to do under the law — we're going in that direction.

If we're to avoid what I think would be a real problem — that is, annexation — then it behooves the township board that when these things come up that indicate a trend towards urbanization, we ought to begin to consolidate the service with the city so that when the time comes when the township can't afford to move any further, then you won't have any vested interest, you won't have built a hierarchy, it will be just a simple transition of expansion of the whole.

That's why I opposed hiring a fulltime policeman. Because I think within a year we're going to find he'll need a helper. Sooner or later you'll find he needs clerical help.

In other words, it would be cheaper and wiser in the long run to consolidate with city services, such as us for it and they didn't know what they were criticizing us for.

I was all set to vote for a full-time policeman one night when three members of the committee were present. But they said if you put on a full-time policeman the county sheriff and state police will withdraw the coverage of the township. So I voted no for putting on a full-time policeman because I wasn't going to jeopardize the protection we had. Stromberg got a letter from the state police that they wouldn't withdraw their service. I went down to the sheriff's office and they said no. So these people did not tell the truth.

On top of that they made inferences that Ron Nisun is not a qualified policeman. Ron Nisun went to the sheriff's department with me and I asked them if he was qualified and they considered him to be qualified. The only thing they said was that he should take some kind of refresher course.

QUESTION: What is your opinion of the proposed "Maybury Purchase"?

STRAUB: I don't like the way we were pushed into this thing. Everything was hurry up, hurry up. We're talking about $44,000 a year for 25 years and that would mean $1,100,000. That's just the basic site without any improvement. You get a site like that and you're going to have to have restrooms, water, ball diamonds, swimming pool, nature trails, football fields, slides, picnic areas. If you don't I don't know why you're buying 400 acres. No one has said that we can do it for X-number of dollars after we get it. You vote for something when you don't know what it's going to cost? I can't go along with that.

And when it comes to the people, too, I think these costs should be spelled out. I want the people to know what they are voting for — how much it's going to cost them. They shouldn't be asked to buy it just because it (land) is there.

Personally, I think we're suddenly too concerned about buying park land just because Maybury's being sold for $2,800 an acre. We're forgetting that we have Cass Benton Park, that subdividers will provide their own small park areas. It seems to me if we're going to finance parks ourselves (township) we ought to consider small neighborhood parks first. A large recreation like Maybury will take a two-car family. Kids aren't going to walk across the township to get there. Transportation becomes quite a problem. I think if you're going to have an organized, financed recreational program you'd be better off with small, strategically located places in the township where kids can walk or take their bikes. After all, recreation is for the kids.

QUESTION: Supervisor Stromberg has stated that Sheldon Hayes, the gravel mining and asphalt plant operator, would be willing to acquire the site, give the township some 200 acres free for recreation under his plan, which is to turn over the westerly portion of the property (where most of the buildings now stand) to an order of Nuns to operate a senior citizens' village. Hayes would then mine the remaining area for seven or eight years, develop a large lake, then have residences built around the lake and at that point give 200 acres to the township for recreational purposes. What's your reaction to this proposal?

STRAUB: Ultimately, I suppose something like this might seem okay. But I think you'd have to consider the people who live in the area and who would have to put up with the dust and the trucks. Their concerns have to be considered because, after all, the township is getting something for free but those people are paying something because they'd have to put up with the dust and trucks. They're sacrificing something for the township while people in the other end of the township aren't I wouldn't enjoy it if I lived there.

QUESTION: Why did you vote against industrial zoning along Haggerty Road?

STRAUB: To begin with, I think about 1965 they attempted to make that industrial and everyone was against it at a public hearing. The people didn't want it. There's some misconception about it because Baldwin says the people didn't care if it was made industrial but wondered why it had to be made industrial then. I was

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Several years ago I suspected that one of the elected bodies serving the community of Northville had persuaded one of its members to "delay" announcement of his intended resignation from that particular body so it could hand-pick a successor.

It so happened that a regularly-scheduled election was coming up. Early announcement of the resignation would have left the choice of a successor to the people at that election. The members of the public body in question apparently were of the opinion that they could do a better job than the electorate.

It was my contention that such shenanigans were undemocratic. The reply, of course, was that I had my facts wrong and that no public body, particularly the one in question, would attempt to usurp authority rightfully belonging to the voters.

The situation is exactly reversed in the current township board split over picking a successor to Trustee Tom Armstrong, who resigned last month.

In this instance it's the board's responsibility to select an interim member who would serve until the regular election next fall.

But presumably the board can't (or won't) compromise. So instead of exerting its authority to "hand pick" a board member, it would rather have the governor call a special election and let the people decide.

You can't argue that the board isn't being democratic. But it makes you wonder at its ability to reach any meaningful decision, as it is elected to do.

It seems inconceivable that a grass-roots' level body composed of neighbors in a tiny community cannot reach accord on so simple an issue.

Three names have been proposed thus far and each time the vote is the same — three for and three against.

If as suggested, each side is afraid of the long-range influence that the new member might have, and that he might tip the balance of power that is now neutralized, why not select a qualified man or woman who would agree not to run for re-election next fall?

The township has an abundance of highly-qualified individuals who might be willing to devote concentrated attention to the job of trustee for a limited period.

Certainly anyone of these individuals would tackle the job objectively and without any preconceived notion of joining either "team."

One of the "team" members admits privately that he's committed to stick with the team and not change his vote.

He's also committed to the public to do what's best for the community, which might include changing his mind.

Negative reaction in various forms has been levied at the offer made by Northville Downs to donate $50,000 annually for five years to the city of Northville for street and parking improvements.

This is not surprising.

The motives of businessmen bearing gifts are suspect in the minds of many. And, I suppose there is evidence to support such wariness.

But ambition and a desire to promote an enterprise are still not unhealthy characteristics.

And it helping Northville helps Northville Downs, that's not bad, either.

Finally, a reminder of just why the city of Northville receives its rebates from the state of Michigan for the betting conducted at Northville Downs.

The rebates, which amount to 20 per cent of the state's share and should total $270,000 in Northville this year, are intended as compensation to cities in which tracks are located to offset the cost of street wear and tear, traffic control, police protection and other services that are strained by the presence of huge crowds.

It has become customary for legislators from non-track cities to annually question this diversion of state funds. They have wondered aloud whether cities actually do spend this money for services and improvements made necessary by track traffic.

The point being, of course, that whether the Downs gives the city another $50,000 per year or not, there's a genuine basis for argument that more monies should be spent by the city to provide adequate traffic facilities for those attending the races.

Readers Speak

'Let Military Fight, Not Politicians'

To the Editor:

This letter is intended to be not a contemptuous one towards you (your broadmindedness towards me is conceded), but rather an effort to clear myself with your readers. If Fr. Daniel Lyon S.J. and the Editor of our local religious weekly could not agree on the conduct of the Vietnamese war, and both quoted the same source for moral support; if Dickens and Thackeray could not agree on their impressions of life, why should we agree?

First, no one authorized you to print my address. In my P.S. notation, informed you that if it was necessary to print my name to do so; yet, nothing was written about my address. Perhaps a change in the format of my letter might accomplish something.

"The Record refuses to serve as a battle ground for such internal theological disputes." You seem to be perturbed that I might start a religious war; however, you are not alarmed about starting a racial war. "Consistency thou art a jewel."

Did you expect me to smile and shake hands with our Commie friends all the while they furnish approx. 80% of the mats. to kill our soldiers. I refuse to be a part of this hypocrisy; I'll leave this to the President of the U. S.

And this war with a nation that is not worth a picayune, could have been resolved at least 4 yrs. ago, as Richard Tregaskis and I agreed. Some people seem to think that we are becoming a militaristic nation; I firmly believe that we are fast becoming a political nation. If we must fight a war, let the military fight it and not the politicians.

First, you state that "it is the only signed letter that this newspaper has declined to publish in 13 years of present ownership; "and then go on to assert that "It is our contention that the letter we did not publish represented a personal grievance between the writer and his church. "You are right in your contention; but you have not searched for reasons, and I'll not go into this. Suffice it to write that one is a convert; another who recently reached 11 yrs. takes no interest in Church.

If it is declared that the parents are to blame, I declare only indirectly. In the final analysis, I say that my "hippy" Church is to blame. I write about young folks, not about the elderly. Need more be written?

What's left locally but politics and politicians? And if I were a writer and concentrated on the buncombe of politicians, the book would end up as a tome.

Sees Danger in Dress Trend

To the Editor:

Can't help wondering if, in the future, the eyebrows which were raised whenever a mother came to a school conference of P.T.A. Meeting in slacks, will continue to rise when the coming crop turns out in bell-bottoms and barefoot at their children's school functions.

It worries me that your neck muscles will be strained due to the head shaking at that time; and the tune will once again be heard across the land, "What is this generation coming to?"

To you who refuse to say "no" today, I hope you will be blessed with a remarkable memory...for, you brought it on yourselves.

...The "house" that the Novi taxpayers built, the new junior-high, opened its doors to seventh, eighth and ninth graders in the district. Total cost of the building was $985,000. The school was late in opening, so the 275 students had an extended summer vacation.

TEN YEARS AGO

...Novi Village residents voted against changing Novi to a city by an overwhelming 766-175 decision. Under state statute, two years must pass before the proposal can be voted upon again. Voters did pass the industrial zoning measure.

...Northville's new Community Hospital faces a grim future after only one week of operation. It was revealed by representatives from Blue Cross that privately owned hospitals are usually not covered under the insurance plan.

...Hundreds of residents turned out to celebrate Novi's first birthday party. The area was incorporated as a village in the fall of 1958.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

...Enrollment at Northville Village schools totaled 1035 pupils, according to Superintendent Russell H. Amerman. This compares with 1003 enrolled in 1948.

...Abbington of Shady Lawn, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Groom of Eight Mile Road, has taken top honors in the National Morgan Horse Show held at Windsor, Vermont.

...Remodeling of Gursell's Drug Store began this week. Plans include installation of a modern glass front, modern thin-line tube lighting and lighted showcases. A semi-open prescription counter will be installed so customers will be able to view the pharmacists as they prepare prescriptions.

Speaking for Myself

Should Marihuana be Legalized?

YES...

Physical things, both natural and man-made, have, in and of themselves, no moral qualities. Man's every action, however, has moral value. Marihuana growing in a field or smoked in a pipe has no more or less moral quality than tobacco, alcohol or Danish pastry. But promoting the sale of cigarettes to an emphysema victim, of liquor to an alcoholic or sweets to a diabetic is highly immoral though sometimes respectable.

Marihuana laws should be rewritten to "let the punishment fit the crime". Why should a youth go to Jackson Prison's crime school for 3 to 10 years for possession of one marihuana cigarette while another man merely loses his driver's license for six months for causing the loss of a human life with an automobile? Such a gross imbalance of justice suggests that the marihuana smoker's sentence is in violation of the 8th Amendment, U. S. Bill of Rights, prohibiting "cruel and unusual punishment."

Today's marihuana laws are so unjust and unrealistic that they have less chance of enforcement than did Prohibition and are breeding an even greater disrespect for laws in general.

PHELPS HINES

NO...

Absolutely not.

The argument that legalization would reduce temptation, remove the thrill of doing something unhealthy and non-conforming, promote the death of a dangerous and expensive weed, and strike a bell for freedom is as weak as my ability to stop smoking.

I puff a pipe and have smoked cigarettes, knowing full well that in so doing I am endangering my health and jeopardizing the well-being of my family. There's a good chance I would smoke marihuana, too, if it were legal. It is not legal, however, so I do not smoke it.

Which proves one thing: I am weak. But it suggests, too, that man, despite his superior intelligence, is a careless animal who must be guided by law for the protection of himself and his neighbor and for the preservation of society. Man's intelligence, unfortunately, is not so great that he can do without the stop light.

"But why can't I smoke marihuana in the privacy of my own home?" For the same reason one driver can't trust another to stop without a light. To paraphrase a freedom-thinking attorney, Liberty to smoke pot stops where the other fellow's nose begins.

Police investigated two accidents September 9.

Horace Aenchbacher, 212 North Wing Street, was taken to St. Mary Hospital and treated for facial cuts resulting from an unusual accident near 47753 Seven Mile Road.

Aenchbacher, driving a DPW truck, was traveling west on Seven Mile Road following a dump truck. An object fell off the truck and struck the outside mirror. Shattered glass flew into the truck, causing the cuts.

Parochial

Opponents Eye Final Effort

Preliminary reports of the local area drive to obtain signatures on petitions against parochial indicate that about 70-percent of those persons contacted are signing the petitions, according to Robert Swanson, chairman of Citizens Against Parochial.

He announced plans for a concerted effort on Saturday, September 20 and September 27 to reach those areas of Livonia and Northville not already canvassed "and to ensure that every individual is given the opportunity to sign."

On each of these two days, he said, volunteers will meet at the Ford Field Skating Arena parking lot, corner of Lyndon and Farmington, at 12:30 p.m. and then fan out through the two communities with petitions.

August and totals show 45 more calls were received than during the same period last year. In 1968, 514 calls were answered, compared with 559 for 1969.

Lack of rain showed up in the fire calls received. The fire department answered eight city calls, six township and eight assistance calls. In August 1968, nine city, two township and one assistance fire calls were answered.

Nine persons were arrested for disorderly conduct, compared with four in August, 1968. There were five reports of vandalism four less than in August, 1968.

A total of 26 automobile, pedestrian and motorcycle accidents were reported, compared with 14 for the same period in 1968. One fatality was reported.

Forty-three percent more moving violations were investigated in August than for the same period in 1968. Figures this year were 163 compared with 114 for 1968.

Parking violations were down to 53 from 127 in August of 1968.

Though no figures were given for 1968, a total of 12 juveniles were arrested in August. Of these, two were referred to Juvenile Court while ten were handled within the department. Seven were arrested for shoplifting, two for trespassing, two for grand larceny and one for vandalism.

Coach Suffers Heart Attack

Tragedy marred the season opener for the three Northville Colt teams Sunday at Livonia when Head Coach Ed Bagdon suffered a heart attack and was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, where he was reported in fair condition on Tuesday.

The Colts lost all three encounters with the Orioles as the varsity dropped a 16-8 decision while the jayvees lost 8-6 and the frosh were defeated 28-14.

Sunday the Colts will host the Garden City Tigers in their home opener at High School Field. The Colts is a "tackle" football program for youngsters sponsored by the Junior Football Association.

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait! Competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humber."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

engineer representing the utility, Mettala indicated his support for a variance in regulation claiming that a sewer connection would not be feasible "from an engineering standpoint."

"If they used that facility a couple times a day each, the water wouldn't even reach the end," Mettala stated. "From an engineering standpoint, it's just not reasonable."

"I think that we're talking about 1,800 feet and if that's such a great distance, I think they ought to let the whole thing go and have the boys walk back to one of the other locations," the mayor said.

Councilman Elwood Grubb observed that the proposed drainage field for a septic tank would be "a long ways from any homes."

"I'm not so worried about this case," Coe interjected. "But we very well may be setting a precedent — an irrevocable precedent."

Mayor McAtee queried the Edison officials and then observed: "The truth of it is that it could be a pretty permanent arrangement, couldn't it?"

The spokesman responded that tentative plans, are to phase out operations at the one building although they explained that a timetable for operations is indefinite and dependent upon company expansions elsewhere in the area.

The mayor later interjected his "source of irritation" when he presented a letter from Edison revealing that the utility wants $911 for an easement necessary to the city for road improvements. Mayor McAtee explained that the letter from the city requesting the easement had been mailed in June and had asked for an immediate response.

The mayor explained that he had just received the correspondence within which was the surprising cost for easement. Mayor McAtee stated that the city had built roads in the past — roads which have serviced the utility — by general obligation while past easements have been obtained for the one dollar fee necessary for a legal transaction.

An Edison public relations official at the meeting assured the mayor that the company would reconsider its proposed charge for the city's requested easement.

mayor explained. "While this appears to be a sidetracking, the council feels that Mr. Ackley can perform a great many services — almost comparable to those as manager — and it very much wishes to have Mr. Ackley remain in its employ."

Mayor Crupi also expressed the city's gratitude for Ackley's past contributions.

Ackley responded by emphasizing the importance of re-organizing the office of assessor "whoever takes the job." He stated that a capable secretary would be necessary to assist the assessor in order to keep assessments current and fair.

The tone of Ackley's responses indicated an enthusiasm for the council's offer. The position was also described by council to include duties in building inspection, an area in which Ackley is also experienced.

SENIOR HALFBACK Rick Hill, who also plays a linebacker on defense, this week was cited by Wildcat Coach John Osborne's staff on the basis of his performance in Friday's victory over Hartland. Hill rushed for 146 yards, scored a touchdown and almost broke away for two other scores in the game. He also played a key role defensively, according to Osborne.

Breeze by Hartland, 32-14

Wildcats Bounce Back, Bounce Foe

A stunning, first series touchdown by Hartland failed to tame the Wildcats Friday night as home team Novi bounced back with a powerful offensive-defensive display that produced a relatively easy 32-14 victory.

The season opening triumph was especially sweet for the Wildcats who last year suffered one of its two defeats in the opener to the Suburban C eleven, 18-13.

Taking up where his brother, Gary, left off last season, Junior Tom Boyer looked like a seasoned quarterback, rather than the made-over end that he is, in almost single-handedly piloting Novi to its impressive win. The 160-pounder, working from the I, scored two touchdowns and had a hand in two others.

Novi piled up 249 yards on the ground, a hefty share of them resulting from Boyer's running performance.

Almost as impressive as the Wildcat's ground game was its defensive performance. They repeatedly ripped through Hartland's front wall to throttle the Eagles' potentially dangerous backs, limiting the visitors to a scant 135 yards rushing. Quarterback Mike Banfield, Hartland's all-league, all-county star, was rushed and harassed to the point that he was unable to trigger a consistently good attack.

Neither team was impressive in the air, although both sides managed to capitalize on their few completions.

The Eagles took to the air on the first play of the game as Banfield fired a 17-yard pass to end Mike Boyes, pushing Hartland to just inside the Novi 46. Seven quick ground plays later the Eagles were camped on the Novi 2, and Halfback Doug Dalton dived over for the TD. Banfield booted the extra point and Hartland had a surprising 7-0 lead almost before the near capacity grandstand crowd was seated.

Novi bounced back quickly, however, pushing to the Hartland 11 on Boyer's 29-yard gallop around left end. The quarterback came back with his second pass incompletion before racing to the one., then splitting the center for Novi's first score. A pitchout to Halfback Rick Hill failed to produce two extra points and Hartland still clung to a one-point lead, 7-6.

Early in the second quarter Boyer took to the air again. His first pass from the 27 missed the mark but his second hit senior End Rick Dale who hurdled into the endzone despite a tackle at the one. Boyer picked up two extra points with a dash around left end.

Seconds later, Novi struck again — this time after End Bob Vivian intercepted a Hartland pass at the 46. Hill sliced across the left end from 39 yards out to score. The extra points run was stopped short.

On the next series, Hartland pushed deep into Novi's territory but ran out of steam at the 21. Novi then launched another sustained drive, carrying to the Hartland 6 and a first down. On the second play from scrimmage, Boyer rifled a pass to Dale for another TD.

Going into the fourth quarter with Novi out-front, 26-7, Hartland mustered another threat, this one carrying to the Novi 8. But Novi took a short punt and pushed to the one where Boyer dove over for the Wildcats' final score.

Finally, with Novi's starters on the sidelines, Hartland took a punt at the 50 and returned the ball to the 35 where Dalton swivel-hipped his way through tackle and raced down the left sideline for the tally. Banfield booted the extra point to end the scoring with less than a minute to play.

Coach 'Pleased' With Opener

"We were very pleased with ourselves Friday night," Wildcat Coach John Osborne proudly relates. "We were lucky in a few spots — we got a few breaks. But we got a real good performance from the team."

Specifically, what Osborne is pleased about is the fact that his squad won its football opener against Hartland, 32-14, and what he is very pleased about is the way in which they did it.

The Wildcats entered their opener realizing that they had limited manpower and basically an unproven offense directed by Junior Tom Boyer, a once-upon-a-time quarterback turned end and returned to quarterback who last year started as a flanker and backed up his brother, Gary, as the signal-caller.

replay

COACH JOHN OSBORNE

But Friday the manpower proved there are no limitations on its performance and the offense changed from the questionable to the emphatic.

"Boyer did real well at quarterback," Osborne comments. "A couple of times he sensed openings and just instinctively ran sneaks for good yardage."

"He played a real smart ballgame," Osborne adds.

Boyer combined with veteran tailback Rick Hill to gain a major share of the Wildcat's impressive 249 yards on the ground — 146 of which Hill ran for himself. Hill tallied one touchdown on a 40-yard scamper and almost broke loose two other times while Captain John Davey also was commended by Osborne for his performance both offensively and defensively.

"Hill has got the size and speed so he can either break tackles or evade them," the mentor observes. "And he plays a pretty effective monster for us defensively."

The mentor also praised the two-way performances of linemen Dan Douglas, Steve Pomroy, Tom VanWagner and Dale Pohlman.

The victory provided revenge for the Wildcat's following an 18-13 setback handed them in last season's opener by Hartland, one of only two losses which the team suffered during the year.

And the performance seemingly answered a few questions concerning the immediate future of the what may just be a budding tradition over on Taft Road.

Eleven-Year-Old Jim Dales

Records Area's Youngest Ace

At a ripe 11-years-old, Jim Dales today probably walks as the youngest golfer in local history to have hit a hole-in-one.

Jim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dales, 326 Debra Street, Northville, recorded the ace late this summer on Number 14 at Northville Golf Course, Seven Mile Road at Newburgh Road. The shot came in only the youngster's eighth game of golf during his first year of play.

The hole is an 125-yarder and Jim was playing with his younger brother while the shot was also witnessed by two men on an adjoining green.

The youngster is a sixth-grader at Cooke Junior High School.

Paul Bedford led the Mustangs in both meets finishing first at 10:54 against Plymouth and third against Kettering.

Mustangs Click Just Before Clock Stops

First it was a matter of having the ball and not being able to move it, having the ball and moving it the wrong way and then not having the ball.

And suddenly it was a matter of having the ball and moving it with surprising ease only to run into injuries and out of time.

The Mustangs lost to neighboring rival Plymouth, 10-8, on Friday in a contest which saw the home team's offense come alive just minutes before the clock went dead.

Ironically, the Mustangs' sputtering offense — not the defense — allowed the two points which eventually proved to be the difference with a safety in the second period.

Approximately 3,000 persons witnessed the encounter in the comfort of a late summer evening. The victory provided revenge for Coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks who suffered a 20-13 setback in last year's contest.

Moshimer, incidentally, is a Northville High School alumnus — Class of 1952.

The game was the season's first for both teams — the Mustangs a member of the Wayne-Oakland League while Plymouth competes in the Suburban Six Conference.

Coach Al Klukach's squad moves into league play next Friday when it hosts Clarenceville.

Both teams offensively had problems in the first half with the majority of play between the 25 yardlines. But the Rocks launched a drive just before the end of the first quarter taking the ball to within four yards of scoring before running out of downs.

The visitors were able to contain the Mustangs' ensuing series, regained the ball and drove to the 12 before giving it up again.

However, on his own 12 with 1:10 to play in the half, Mustang quarterback Rich Adams rolled out and was dropped in the end zone to give the Rocks a lead which they never relinquished.

Actually, Northville couldn't advance the ball beyond the Plymouth 45 in the first half as the offense had control for 15 plays in the two stanzas as compared to the visitors' 48.

The Mustangs' net yardage in the first half was 28 with 36 yards gained passing combining with a minus eight on the ground. The Rocks, meanwhile, had a net of 131 yards in the first two quarters.

Playing without hard-running Co-Captain Bob Thornblad — a prime all-state candidate who broke a bone in his foot during pre-season practice, the Rocks displayed surprising strength outside with senior southpaw quarterback Jon Cederberg regularly successful on his rollouts mixing both passes and runs.

The Mustangs, meanwhile, were dependent upon their defense to keep them in the game the first three periods before Adams opened up on a successful drive combining on aerials with ends Bernie Bach and Fred Holdsworth.

Trailing 10-0 in the last quarter, Adams hit Bach over the middle to score with 8:40 remaining in the contest. The senior quarterback grooved a down-and-out to the right to Holdsworth for the two-point conversion, effective this season for the first time after a Michigan High School Athletic Association ruling.

The Mustangs last had possession of the ball in a series that began with 3:32 remaining during which Adams was injured while falling on a fumble and Bach hurt on his run after a long pass from sophomore quarterback Bill Andrews.

The Rocks regained possession with 1:57 to play and were able to run out the clock.

Ball control was evenly divided in the second half with the Mustangs running 29 plays and the visitors 26.

The home team won the toss and received and on its opening series, after Co-Captain Terry Mills slanted right for two, Adams rolled out left and connected with Holdsworth on a play that covered 30 yards. But then moments later the Mustangs lost a fumble to end its drive.

Cederberg, a gutty 160-pounder, was particularly effective for the Rocks as he rolled out either way and either ran or passed with husky end Rick Reuther a favorite target.

The visitors' safety was set up when they drove to the Northville 12 before running out of downs with 1:23 remaining in the second period. Adams rolled out on the first play and threw incomplete and then tried the same maneuver on second down when he was trapped in the end zone with 1:10 to play in the stanza.

The visitors received the kickoff to begin the third period and marched down to the Mustang four before running out of downs. The home team failed to gain a first down during the ensuing series with Plymouth regaining possession on the Mustang 35 after a short punt.

With 4:12 to play in the third period, the Rocks began their drive for their only touchdown which came three minutes later when Cederberg hit halfback Charley Wolfe on a rollout pass. Cederberg ran for the two-point conversion.

But the Mustangs responded on their next series with a touchdown drive climaxed by Adams' 22-yard pass completion to Bach for the score. The series began on the Northville 12 and included five completed passes — two to Holdsworth. The Adams-Holdsworth combination also accounted for the points-after.

Andrews, into the game replacing the shaken Adams, connected over the middle with Bach on his first play from scrimmage on a play which covered 30 yards but was nullified by an illegal motion penalty.

Non - Conference Rivals Dominate Grid Openers

wayne-oakland

Members of the Wayne-Oakland League were less than impressive for openers on Friday winning only three of eight football games one week before beginning the battle amongst themselves within the conference.

Milford, Bloomfield Andover and Clarenceville — The Mustangs' opponent here on Friday — posted victories last Friday while West Bloomfield, defending W-O champion, was one of the losers falling 15-0 to a surprisingly strong Waterford Township.

Milford's senior halfback Tom Newcomb scored twice as the Redskins defeated Avondale, 20-14, ruining the debut of new head coach Tom Wheatley. Newcomb ran 55 yards for one tally and then combined with quarterback Mike Monnier for a 55-yard pass and touchdown.

Fullback Matt Partridge accounted for the Redskins' first score when he rambled 35 yards in the first period.

Andover held Oak Park to a total offense of 80 yards in its 20-0 victory while defensive halfback Bob Reid, Howard Tryon and Chuck Palaian all scored for the Barons.

Reid tallied Andover's first TD in the opening period when he ran 37 yards with an interception while Tryon's score came on a 12-yard pass from Quarterback Scott Roley. Palaian ran across the final TD from 15 yards out with about four minutes remaining to play.

Clarenceville also posted a shutout scoring all its points in the first half and then blanking Manchester for a 22-0 decision.

Besides the Clarenceville-Northville clash Friday, Brighton travels to West Bloomfield, Milford is at Kettering and Andover visits Clarkston.

Coach Art Paddy's West Bloomfield Lakers had 201 yards total offense but suffered from two lost fumbles during long marches. Neighboring South Lyon led Brighton all the way before claiming a 26-16 decision.

Brighton's quarterback Tony Bybee scored on a short run in the last period while defensive back Bob Musch ran 40 yards with an intercepted pass on the last play of the game for the Bulldogs' other touchdown.

Brighton last season was winless.

Home Team Strikes Through Air

Mustang Halfback Dave Coe pauses for a pass from Quarterback Rich Adams in the third period of Friday's contest here with non-conference rival Plymouth. Coe caught the pass and ran for a short gain and later the Mustangs' aerial game resulted in a touchdown but time ran out before the home team could overcome the 10-8 margin. Coach Al Klukach's squad hosts Wayne-Oakland League member Clarenceville on Friday. Game time is 8 p.m.

Effort Impresses Klukach; Need for More People Looms

"The effort was real good."

"We were satisfied with our passing game and I think overall we played well."

"I think we were just out-manned. We were sending two men in as replacements on defense and they were sending in nine."

Mustang Coach Al Klukach believes that the Plymouth squad that beat his in its football opener Friday, 10-8, was exactly two points the better:

*The Rocks had considerably more depth.
*And they were better able to control the game.

And Klukach, who takes pride in the condition he keeps his team in, is confident that his individuals are ready to play but it appears that two-ways all the way is just too much today as the pace of the escalates.

Unfortunately, Plymouth controlled the game in the first half with Quarterback Jon Cederberg rolling

Bach and Holdsworth, both excellent two-way performers, are recognized as the best pair of receivers on any one team in the suburban area. And Adams ability to throw has been proven already during the touchdown drive in which he was able to connect with ease both over the middle and to the outside.

with
Coach Al Klukach

Klukach has realized the problem with depth since the team gathered the last week in August. He and his staff have attempted to build around a nucleus of six lettermen hoping to get the most mileage possible from the few experienced hands.

But Friday it became evident that a two-way player can tire to the point where his performance isn't equal to that of a rested opponent who has lesser ability.

"We've just got to get more people into the game," Klukach observed Monday after having viewed films the day before. "In looking at the movies, we were able to realize that at times we played real well."

"But we just got tired," he added.

out on the ends and keeping constant pressure on the Mustang defense.

The Rocks ran 45 plays from scrimmage in the first half as compared to the home team's 15 — a situation which placed considerable pressure in the second half on the Mustang offense, a unit composed basically of the same players who had to assume the constant pressure defensively in the first half.

Mustang Quarterback Rich Adams threw well when he had time with enviable targets in rugged Bernie Bach and flashy Fred Holdsworth. Klukach has emphasized the potential of his squad's passing attack but the key to its success suddenly rests in the offensive line's ability to protect.

The running game, from indications Friday, obviously can't score many touchdowns by itself but does appear adequate enough to operate complementing a successful aerial performance.

But now the fear is that the opposition will key its defenses against the pass — blitzing linebackers to press Adams into mistakes — and take advantage of the small backs forming the final pocket for the quarterback.

Regardless, Klukach is emphatic that in order to do best what his individuals can do best, they need more rest and he needs more people. And the key now, ironically, appears to be in the bench rather than in the nucleus of veteran performers.

Homecoming Rescheduled For October

Homecoming for Northville High School will be observed October 24 instead of September 26 as originally planned, according to an announcement from High School Principal Fred Holdsworth.

Holdsworth revealed Friday that the observance has been re-scheduled in order to allow more time for preparations.

Athletic Director Bob Kucher also announced Friday that Parents' Night — honoring the parents of football players and cheerleaders — will be September 26 — the Milford game. Parents' Night originally was slated for October 24 — the Brighton game which now has been designated for Homecoming.

The Mustangs play Clarenceville here on Friday and then will host Milford before beginning the first of three games on the road. The Brighton contest will be the final home game while an October 31 date at Waterford Kettering will conclude the season.

Schoolcraft Claims Cross Country Win

A young Schoolcraft College cross country team posted a victory over visiting Highland Park Community College on Saturday in season openers for both teams.

Coach Jim Millen's Ocelots, led by veteran Larry Cooper, edged Highland Park, 25-30.

Cooper finished first in the meet running the four-mile course in 24:17.

mustanger

JUNIOR END Bernie Bach this week was designated by Coach Al Klukach and his staff as Mustanger for his outstanding play on Friday against Plymouth. Bach, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bach, 20336 Woodhill Road, played both offensive and defensive end in the contest and combined with Quarterback Rich Adams on a pass play for a 22 yards and a touchdown.

the fire department, then police, then maybe public works, rather than to try to set these departments up ourselves. Township government can't handle it.

Unification need not come next year ... I personally think there are other things the township should be doing, perhaps with the help of the city ... to try to prepare ourselves. One of the things might be road development and improvement. I'd like to see some of the roads paved while the county has responsibility.

We're together (city and township) on the library and to some extent recreation. Two or three years from now (unification) could be a very comfortable transition, very comfortable and natural. I think it's the responsibility of the township board to be looking ahead to that. We just can't ignore the clear indication of what's coming.

If annexation comes, through our lack of cooperation, it's going to hurt the township. Ordinarily, annexation takes the best and leaves the worst.

When a person has chest pains, he goes to a doctor. He may not like the answers, but he does everything to maintain his health because the fact is there. So you take precautions to live to a ripe old age.

But if you were to proceed like our township board is, you would be taking very evident signals of some problems and treating them with aspirin. What they're doing is calming the pain now, and not looking into the future to where they're going.

I don't think if many of the citizens of the community would come in and see what's going on, they would accept it.

What I'm suggesting doesn't need to mean increased taxes now. If someday in the future it does appear that provision of services will become costly, we then can make a very easy transition. And if we don't start doing that now, all we're going to do is encourage a separate duplication of effort so that at that time in the future it's going to cost more.

I can see us moving in the direction of contracting for minimal services, then at some point when we reach the full millage it would cost to provide the services we would be in a better position than if we continue to go in the direction they're going now.

I'm very much afraid the way we're going now — increasing police work, more manpower and at some point administrators — that when we get to that point we'll be so far committed that then we'll have one large tax increase.

With a police force you're going to have a jail sometime. If you arrest people, where are you going to put them? Right now you haul them to Wayne county jail. You'll have to have housing for the vehicles, a place to put the fire engines, sooner or later administrative people in township hall beyond what we have now.

It just seems foolish to me to see the handwriting on the wall and see an administrative structure already here (in the city) with a DPW, city hall, and to decline to attach yourself to that and add people one-by-one.

interested in it then and nothing like that was ever said. And the fact that everyone on that street and everyone in the area signed the petition (recently) is, as far as I am concerned, proof that it is an erroneous statement. I don't mean that Bernie (Baldwin) made it maliciously but it is not a fact.

No one petitioned the planning board to make that industrial. It was done by the board without any petition. If I have a piece of property I should petition to have it rezoned.

Not long ago three or four zoning matters came up in one night. A Mrs. Jones got up and said, 'we are the stockholders and you are the board of trustees, don't we have anything to say?' These people didn't want multiples. So Mr. Ashton (Township Attorney) said you can't tell a person what he can or can't do with his land. Yet the planning commission came right into this area on Haggerty Road, without any petition, and said we're going to make this industrial.

There are 21 homes, I believe, on Haggerty Road and the people have all lived there 15 years or more. I don't think you should uproot someone from his home. He's lived there, he's bought his property — some are retired — and he's got a little bit of space. If you have 20 or 30 acres you can get away with it. But when someone pays $5,000 an acre for an industrial site they're not going to give you anything for your house. They're not interested in your house. Your house is just in the way. It's going to cost them money just to tear it down.

Another thing, this property is in the Plymouth School District. If something is made industrial in the township and it is within the Northville School District everybody within the Northville School District is going to benefit. In this case the taxes will go to the Plymouth School District, nothing to Northville. Sure the township will get something out of it — one mill, but what is one mill compared to what the Northville schools and the township would get somewhere else. So you're not doing the township any good, as I see it, by making it industrial.

Another thing, the same night Mrs. Jones spoke the board turned down three or four zoning requests because of spot zoning. Look at the map of the Haggerty Road zoning. They've made areas industrial, leaving out a piece in the center. If that isn't a classic example of spot zoning I'd like to know what is. The board's inconsistent.

Another thing. Look at the planner's (Consultant George Vilcan) statement at the Levitt rezoning hearing. He talks about our school tax problem and about the Haggerty Road property. He said if the Haggerty Road road property was made industrial it would help Northville's school problem. Well, it won't help Northville a bit because the taxes all go to Plymouth. I don't understand why a man who is supposed to be an expert can make a statement like that. If he doesn't know that it (Haggerty Road property) is in the Plymouth School District then he's certainly not an expert in my book.

QUESTION: You've been critical of the planning consultant on this and other matters. Would you like to get rid of him?

STRAUB: As far as I'm concerned, yes. They put him up here on a pedestal, making him out to be indispensable. I don't believe any man is indispensable. I would vote to have a new planning consultant.

QUESTION: Your board is also split on a replacement for Trustee Armstrong. What's your view on this subject?

STRAUB: I served on the board with Jim Tellam and I like Jim very much. I've worked with Leonard Klein. I like both of them. I didn't like to vote against Jim and I didn't like to vote against Klein. I had made up my mind I would be for Bill Smith because I have watched Bill on the planning commission, I've talked to him, and he has a lot of ideas that I like and agree with. I like the way he thinks and talks.

My voting did not represent opposition to (Tellam and Klein) but a preference for Smith. You can like ice cream but you can have a preference for flavor and that's about the way it was for me.

QUESTION: Can you give us an example of Mr. Smith's thinking that you like?

STRAUB: Well, Bill is opposed to the Haggerty Road rezoning, even though his reasons are a little different than mine. I like his reasoning.

QUESTION: You may not like this question, but are you a member of a "bloc" with Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Trustee Richard Mitchell?

STRAUB: I think that's a fair question. On the trustee vacancy, yes. Now I don't know if you can consider that a bloc or not. On this particular issue we did agree to stick together beforehand. On other matters I've voted strictly on my own. I don't know how they will vote anymore than you. We don't get together before a meeting and say we're going to do this or do that.

QUESTION: What truth is there to the conjecture that your "bloc" vote further indicates an opposition to city thinking?

STRAUB: That, of course, is a question that has been discussed ever since I've been on the board. However, I'm not going to talk for anyone else on the board — just for myself. I am anti-unification. I do not believe, as has been stated, that the city's millage, which is now 13, can be reduced to 6 mills and still have services extended to Napier and Eight Mile, to Napier and Five Mile, to Haggerty and Five Mile, and to Haggerty and Eight Mile. You cannot increase those services and reduce the tax to 6 mills or 7 mills. I don't believe that's possible any way at all.

Suppose a man's got 100 acres of ground in the township and it's worth, let's say, $3,000 an acre. Theoretically, it's assessed at $1,500 an acre. He's got a $150,000 assessed valuation. All right, you put 10 mills and what's he got? He's got $1,500. What benefit has he, a farmer, got from being in the city? What's he going to get for it? You're not going to put these services out to those people. They may reduce it to 6 mills but they will not furnish any service to the township people for that. I haven't had any unification person tell me what that man with 100 acres is going to get for his $1,500.

I think it (unification) is eventually going to come, but I think it's premature. I think for certain areas it would be fine but I don't see why they want to take the whole township. I admit it is advantageous for the city.

QUESTION: How do you think the trustee matter will be resolved? Do you think it will go to the Governor?

STRAUB: I sure do. As far as I am concerned it will go to the Governor. I don't intend to change my position. I'm still for Smith.

Council Orders Study

Citizens Seek Traffic Signs

A traffic study of streets within Northville Estates subdivision was ordered by the city council this week on the heels of a citizen petition for stop, yield and caution signs.

Council members ordered the study and immediate installation of several caution-children at play type signs after hearing a plea from Dennis Roux for stop, yield and caution signs to protect children of the subdivision.

Roux, who presented a petition containing signatures of more than 40 residents of the subdivision, complained that speeding cars, especially on Chigwidden Drive, are endangering the lives of children. To slow traffic, he asked for a two-way stop sign on East Chigwidden at Grasmere with a yield right of way on Grasmere; a two-way stop at Elmsmere and Chigwidden; and two-way stops on Elmsmere at Stanstead with yield sign on Stanstead.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff recommended that the stop and yield signs not be installed, noting that the city has experienced an increase rather than a decrease in accidents where such signs are erected. He cited Base Line and Center Street as an example.

However, the manager suggested a traffic study to determine need. His suggestion was accepted, but the council ordered caution signs be placed immediately. Furthermore, it was pointed out that the study should consider advisability of installing artificial bumps in the road to slow traffic.

Councilmen Paul Folino and Wallace Nichols moved for immediate installation of the bumps as an experimentation but motion was defeated, 3-2.

Results of the study are expected

Supermarket Rezoning Up For Hearing

What could be the last major hurdle for a new Northville supermarket proposal may occur Monday as the city council conducts a public hearing on rezoning of Center Street property.

Specifically, the council will be considering the request to rezone several lots on the west side of Center Street, north of Rayson, from a residential to a commercial classification.

Earlier, Northville's planning commission conducted its own hearing on the request and subsequently recommended the zoning change to the council.

Chatham Food Centers, headquartered in Warren, has revealed plans to build a large supermarket on the property if the zoning change is granted. The property is under option to Chatham.

Plans call for a 21,000 square foot store, similar to the store the firm has at 12 Mile and Telegraph Roads. Presently, Chatham is operating 24 stores.

to be ready next week.

Sidewalk width requirements for (5 feet) were waived in Thompson-Brown's subdivision south of Eight Mile Road at Taft in view of the fact that the firm had been told earlier that the required width is 4-feet. Most existing sidewalks in the city are 4-feet wide.

The council approved written qualifications for an assistant director of public works, thus setting the stage for advertising for applicants. The

By ROLLY PETERSON

This is the week that everyone has been waiting for, according to commercial fanfare. You might term it "Debut Week" and you wouldn't be far from wrong, not as far as television is concerned. This is the season when the three major networks make their bid for prime time audiences.

The battle for ratings should be quite a show, probably most of the situation comedies, low dramas and serializations coming up in '69-70. Unfortunately, the networks will have to wait until mid-season before dumping the insipid stuff that not even an educated ape would watch.

One of the shows to make its debut Sunday was "The Bold Ones" on NBC. And for openers, the episode, "To Save a Life" wasn't bad. Not extraordinary, either. But not bad, which means that the Bold Ones will be around for a while.

If for no other reason, the one-hour drama will survive because it plays a different tune every week. In short, variety is the bulwark of this program, an alternating trilogy of dramas about the worlds of law, medicine and law enforcement.

The controversy over transplants was the drawing card in Sunday's debut. Now, the controversy over transplants is hardly something new for television, yet Sunday's treatment was refreshing whenever it departed from the clinical aspect.

Ever since Dr. Ben Casey, physicians have carried the image of remorseless people involved in their patients only insofar as medicine dictates, an image not altogether undeserved. But not all doctors are the same, just as not two people are the same.

So it stands to reason that one, at least one, should become emotionally involved. Doctors can be humanists, too. Dr. Ben Gould is such a man. Irrational, tardy, but human. When a patient of his is on the brink of death, Gould reluctantly — and only at the last minute — gives permission for a transplant.

Miraculously, the patient revives to the point where modern medicine saves his life. Dr. Ben Gould's personal involvement, his commitment more as a human being than as a man of medicine, saves a life.

Perhaps some people, doctors too, would condemn the episode as being hocus-pokus, a nice bit of sentimentality. Life doesn't work that way, it might be argued. The practice of medicine must be scientific, rather than personal. But the episode clearly points up the need for perhaps more personal commitment as human beings, not doctors.

Missing the Boat?

W. Herbert Glenn
First United Methodist
Brighton

"The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he has sent me to heal the broken-hearted; to preach deliverance to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, and to preach the acceptable year of the Lord". Jesus of Nazareth began his ministry with these words relating to his purpose which in turn was God's purpose for him.

Mostly, it seems, the kinds of people he was aiming at were not the kinds of people we like to minister to as God's congregations of the faithful. Does this mean that we might be, as Christians, for the most part, missing the boat?

Then Jesus, as he began his great sermon delivered on the mountain, said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Blessed are they who mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they who hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the poor in heart: for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God."

Mostly, it seems that if we understand this saying we may find it difficult to see ourselves truly among those whom he called Blessed. Since in newer versions of the scriptures the word happy is substituted for blessed, maybe it becomes plain why so many of us search for happiness and continually seem to fall just short of it.

Then our savior answered questions and taught by using stories: "I will liken that man to a wise man who built his house upon a rock ... A certain Samaritan, as he journeyed came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him ...

Jesus made judgment clear: "Woe to you scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour widow's houses — you pay tithes of mint and cummin and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, justice, mercy, and faith — Depart from me you cursed one for I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, I was a stranger and you did not welcome me — I was in prison and you did not visit me — Truly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did it not to one of the least of these, my brethren, you did it not to me."

From the beginning to end of his earthly ministry Jesus was most critical and most severe to those who "played church" and those who did not use their wealth creatively to reduce suffering, oppression, and hatefulness. But to those who heard him, and understood him, and then actually did something different about it, he said, "Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world."

Thoughts are what we are

We are what we think all day long. Never underestimate the power of your thoughts. They are tremendously influential in molding character and action. They are, in truth, the parents of our behavior. Disposition and personality — even character — will very largely be determined by the thoughts we welcome to our minds each day.

Since it is true that a soul is dyed the color of its thoughts, it is imperative that everyone be given guidance in thinking about truths and values that are noble and eternal.

The Church stands in your community to help you and your children. Worship this week in your church, and find the joy that comes when life is centered upon values that last.

State Reflectorized License Plates to Debut Soon

LANSING — Little more than a month from now, Michigan passenger car owners will begin placing reflectorized license plates on their vehicles for the first time in history.

Babson Report

Search for Untapped Oil Spreads to Far Flung Places

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., — Today the search for untapped petroleum reserves has spread into every section of the globe. Demand for oil, today and into the future, is steadily on the increase. To meet this demand, oil companies now seek out the black gold even in regions having the most inhospitable topography and climate.

Alaska and the Arctic will undoubtedly provide a huge pool of oil in a few years, but some cold-weather operational problems and the very difficult question of getting the oil to the refineries have yet to be resolved. At the opposite end of the thermometer are other prolific fields in South America near the Colombia-Ecuador border. This is a section of dense rain forest averaging 250 inches of rainfall annually, but the difficulties which have been overcome here in getting oil production to market give proof that the Alaskan problem can also be solved.

THE MOST logical outlet for Colombian oil was a seaport on the Pacific Ocean, some 200 miles away. A pipeline of this length is usually not particularly difficult cars, will be treated for the first time with a material which reflects light when a light is shined on it.

The reflectorized plates were adopted earlier this year after the lawmakers became convinced they would be a significant safety factor and would aid law enforcement officers.

The plates are visible from half a mile away at night when the high beams of a car are shining on them. One result of this, in states where the plates are now in use, has been a cutback in the number of rear end collisions at night.

In North Carolina, rear end collisions were reduced by 13 per cent the first year reflectorized plates were used. Similar results were obtained from studies in Maine, Minnesota and Iowa.

LAW ENFORCEMENT officials voice approval of the reflectorized plates.

In addition to the safety factor, they say the plates make it much easier to identify a car at night. Fully reflectorized plates can be read from three to five times the distance from which normal plates can be read, they say.

The use of reflectorized plates has become common in recent years throughout the United States, and Michigan is the 35th state to adopt them.

Actually the Legislature decided originally to use reflectorized plates back in 1959. However, the Legislature at that time failed to appropriate enough money to pay for the added cost, and the plates were not reflectorized after an attorney general's opinion said they did not have to be if the money was not there.

NO ADDITIONAL charge will come with the new plates, at least for the first year.

One reason for this is that motorists were charged an extra 35 cents a plate for their 1960 plates in anticipation that they would be reflectorized. This brought in a total $1,240,000 to the state treasury.

After the decision not to reflectorize the plates was made, motorists were given a 35 cent refund if they applied for it. However, $924,000 of the amount collected never was refunded and state officials say they have no record of where the money was deposited.

As a result, the lawmakers decided that it would be unfair to charge motorists an additional fee for the reflectorized plates at least for the first year, since they had paid for them once and never received them.

SOME 2.5 MILLION students are enrolled in Michigan schools this year, according to the State Education Department.

to construct, but in this case the route of the pipeline took it from the eastern slope of the Andes Mountains, up and over the top at nearly 12,000 feet, and back down to sea level.

A joint venture by Texaco and Gulf Oil, the Trans-Andean pipeline must rank as one of the most awesome construction feats of all time. Heavy jungle, vast swamps, landslides, extremes of heat and cold, and the constant rain added to the difficulties of laying pipe at high altitudes. Much of the work could be done only by hand and at times as many as 2500 men worked on the job. The $50 million project not only spans the mountains, but also crosses six rivers which were rarely at less than flood stage. Helicopters provided access and transport of men and materials. Without either manual labor or the modern helicopter, it is doubtful that this pipeline could have been laid at all.

Pumping stations boost the crude to the top of the mountains, while on the downhill run pressure reduction stations remove the tremendous energy built up due to elevation. The capacity of the line is 100,000 barrels per day, with storage capacity at both ends providing flexibility in tanker operations.

THE EFFORT of constructing this important pipeline would indicate, that Texaco and Gulf have extremely important fields in Colombia and Ecuador. In Ecuador, for example, Gulf had 10 potential production wells out of 11 drilled. Further, since the Trans-Andean pipeline began operating in April, Texaco and Gulf have negotiated new royalty agreements with the two countries.

In Colombia, royalty and tax payments were increased from 40% of net income to 60%, and 1/2 of the oil companies' concession acreage was returned to Colombia. Ecuador received back 2/3 of its concession acreage. For this, permission was granted to build a spur pipeline for the Ecuador oil fields to the Trans-Andean line. Authorization was also given for another new pipeline across the Andes. This would appear to give evidence of oil properties with high potential in these two countries. The roads required to build and maintain the pipeline have opened remote areas, of Colombia to settlers.

Hope Seen In Similarity Of Disease

Striking similarities between multiple sclerosis (MS) and a model of the disease induced in rats and other laboratory animals give hope that this lethal disorder one day may be treated or prevented.

MS most often strikes young adults, beginning with minor symptoms and leading eventually to massive incapacity, including severe in-coordination, speech and vision problems, weakening of limbs or paralysis, stupor, and death in the majority of patients. Remissions occur periodically but the disease usually resumes its course with heightened vigor. About 500,000 Americans suffer from MS and related diseases.

Drs. Barry Campbell and Philip J. Vogel of the University of California at Irvine, believe along with other scientists that multiple sclerosis is a disease which occurs when something misleads the normally protective immunity machinery of the body into producing antibodies against a vital, healthy body tissue. The California researchers found an antibody in the blood sera of some MS patients which is directed against their own myelin, nerve-insulating material in the brain and spinal cord. Once inflamed and damaged the myelin develops scars which prevent the passage of nerve signals. They have shown conclusively that this is an allergic reaction within the system.

The similar condition induced in animals is Experimental Allergic Encephalitis (EAE). As with other allergies, these animals can be desensitized by an injection of the material to which they are allergic — in much the same way hay fever sufferers now are desensitized to ragweed! Possibly humans also could be given the desensitization treatment.

The ability to induce Experimental Allergic Encephalitis is crucial to MS research. According to Dr. Campbell the animal model of MS was first produced by researchers at Columbia and John Hopkins Universities in the 1940's. They were able to induce EAE with only a single dose of small quantities of certain brain extracts. Since then there has been a growing awareness among scientists of the similarity of EAE to multiple sclerosis.
