NATIONAL BANK of Detroit opened two new area offices last week in a rush to stake "squatters rights". One of the temporary offices is located in the City of Novi on the north side of Eight Mile road, west of Haggerty road. The second is on Seven Mile road in Northville Township in offices formerly occupied by Wayne McBride, an area home builder. Details appear elsewhere in this edition.

ALTHOUGH A RECENT proposal that water rates be hiked in the City of Detroit apparently does not also include a rate hike for suburban communities which use Detroit water, it appears likely that rates here may be increased anyway. Northville's auditor, commenting on the financial status of the city, noted Monday night that current rates no longer cover city costs and he suggested that rates be adjusted upward to make the water department completely self-operating.

IN VIEW of recent revised state and federal standards regarding pollution, Detroit is considering raising its sewer rates, too. If higher sewer rates become a reality Detroit will pass them on to Wayne County and the county is likely to hike rates for suburbs using county lines. If the current hike proposal is approved and the county passes it on to the suburbs, Northville can expect a 5-percent increase or about 32-cents per 1,000 gallons of water used (sewer rates are based on water consumption).

LARGE 'NO LEFT' turn signs were to be erected this week at Center and Main, prohibiting northbound and southbound motorists from turning left from Center onto Main. Originally authorized by the city council two years ago, the signs were long in coming because of repeated studies and delays by the county. While most councilmen still favor the signs because of the high accident rate at the intersection they wonder what will happen to motorists who will now have to turn left either at Dunlap or Cady. Left turns at Dunlap are difficult because of the narrow width of Center and turns at Cady are considered dangerous. Solutions are being sought.

Board Authorizes High School Plan

The building program at the high school occupied the major part of a short agenda at Monday night's meeting of the Northville Board of Education.

Unanimous approval was given for the architect to proceed with plans for the high school addition.

Clearing up a question that arose at a previous meeting, the architect told the board the planned classrooms are 26 feet square. He said they could handle 30 to 35 students comfortably.

Concerned about the affect of construction on students — who are attending school, trustee Andrew Orphan questioned how construction would proceed.

Superintendent Raymond E. Spear said construction would "be phased so we have the facilities we need." The 16 new classrooms would probably be constructed while school is in session, leaving the remodeling for the summer, it was noted. The board approved by a 6-1 vote directing the architect to proceed on construction of a bus garage. Dr. Orlo Robinson cast the dissenting vote.

Trustee Glenn Deibert made the motion saying he "thought we agreed there would be no more peace-meal additions and that we would bring all the buildings up to snuff now."

Trustee Eugene Cook seconded the motion adding "there are other ways of building a bus garage, possibly a pre-fab building."

Spear said the present one-stall garage would be adequate for now but in two years the space would be needed for expanding the arts and crafts facility.

Orphan reminded the board that "the longer we wait, the more money it will cost."

The decision was made to let bids with the bus garage as an alternate bid.

The architect also presented plans for the renovation of Main Street Elementary School. Included among the items will be moving the office to the main floor, revising the canopy at the front of the building, improving the acoustics in the gym, remodeling several classrooms and creating more rest rooms.

No additional pupils will be added through the remodeling program. Cost estimates are to be given to the board at a future meeting.

Township Board Ends Stalemate

A Northville Township Board stalemate came to a surprising halt Tuesday night when the board unanimously approved the appointment of William Smith to a board vacancy — less than a week before the dispute would have been tossed into the lap of the Governor.

Had the board been unable to pick a replacement for ex-trustee Thomas Armstrong by this weekend, Governor William G. Milliken would have had to set a special primary election to fill the post.

Although the trustee matter will not now go to a vote of the people, Northville electors nevertheless face a special election December 8 when propositions concerning recent Haggerty Road area rezoning and a millage issue to purchase Maybury Sanatorium property appear on the ballot.

Wording of both December questions were approved at Tuesday's special meeting of the board.

The trustee matter was resolved after the board once again cast a 3-3 vote upon the nomination of Leonard Klein, township planning commission chairman, for the post. Those favoring Klein included Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond, and Trustee Bernard Baldwin. Treasurer Alex Lawrence, and trustees Richard Mitchell and Joseph Straub opposed him.

Immediately following the tie vote, Baldwin asked for a five-minute recess, talked to Klein by phone, and returned telling fellow board members that the planning chairman asked that his name be withdrawn from nomination.

Klein, said Baldwin, withdrew rather than perpetuate divisiveness of the board. The trustee reported that Klein "believes unanimity of the board" is essential and in the "interest of harmony asked me to withdraw his name." Earlier, he praised Klein for his open-minded judgment of issues, emphasizing that the planning chairman has repeatedly demonstrated that he is not a member of any voting bloc but rather "calls the shots as he sees them."

When Klein's name was withdrawn, Supervisor Stromberg urged the board to consider the unanimous appointment of Smith, whereupon Baldwin moved to cast a unanimous vote.

A member of the planning commission for the past year, Smith was the favorite of Lawrence, Mitchell and Straub from the outset. Straub told The Record just a week ago that he was prepared to force the issue into the Governor's office rather than change allegiance. Stromberg, Hammond and Baldwin had earlier emphasized that Smith had the least experience of the three men originally nominated by the board for the post.

The latter three officials initially supported former trustee James Tellum because of his previous experience on the board and because he barely lost in his bid for election.

Council OKs Rezoning For New Supermarket

Rezoning of North Center Street property to accommodate a proposed new supermarket was unanimously approved by the Northville city council Monday despite vehement objections of citizens attending the public hearing.

Council action followed an earlier recommendation of the city planning commission by a 7-1 vote that the property be rezoned. The commission also held a hearing on the request.

Specifically, the council approved the rezoning of some 116,000 square feet of property, located on the west side of North Center Street north of Rayson, from a residential to a commercial classification.

Chatham Food Centers of Warren, which has options to purchase the property, has announced plans to build a 21,000 square foot supermarket on the site next spring. Furthermore, the firm which operates 24 such supermarkets has stated that it may later expand facilities on the same property to include complementing stores.

Hardest hitting objections to the zoning change came from Leonard Bogotaitis, who lives on East Street to the rear of the proposed supermarket site. Contending that he represents the thinking of the majority of Northville citizens who oppose commercial development in this and other residential areas, Bogotaitis warned city officials that such development will turn the community into an "asphalt jungle." Such action, he charged, makes past emphasis in "beautifying" Northville meaningless.

Emphasizing that he has lived here many years, the angry citizen revealed a petition containing more than 80 names and declared that it represented but a very few of the many who would have signed it had they been asked.

"No one I have talked to wants it," he said. "Give me a month and I'll get signatures of three-quarters of the town."

Bogotaitis, who charged that the supermarket would create an even worse traffic problem than already exists on Center Street, challenged council members to consider their own reactions, if a supermarket were proposed for their residential areas.

Luther Lapham argues that the supermarket will result in a wall just a few feet away from his apartment house and that it will mean the destruction of some 70 shade trees which, in his opinion, does not represent beautification.

"Isn't the council elected to carry out the wishes of the people?" asked Edmond Yerkes.

Referring to past comments that citizens of Northville prefer the "quaintness" of the town and reinforcing his own position that development means needed revenue for the community, Councilman Wallace Nichols asked if these same people were "willing to go along with the 'quaint' practice of rising taxes?"

Francis Gazlay reminded Nichols that while development may produce tax revenue it may also dry up the attraction that now brings shoppers into the community. Quaintness, he suggested, is people — people who make their community a special kind of place to live, shop, and visit. Impersonal shopping center complexes, such as Northland, have none of this kind of appeal, he pointed out.

In reply to suggestions that he was ignoring the wishes of citizens who elected him, Councilman Lapham declared that electors placed him in office to represent the interests of the total community. He said objections have been raised in the past and will be raised in the future on any particular proposal. He must weigh these objections against the benefits for the majority of people in making his proposal. He must weigh these

Downs Donation Accepted by City

A proposal by Northville Downs to donate $250,000 to the City of Northville was accepted by unanimous action of the city council Monday night.

Authorization to execute an agreement with the Downs carried with it a statement of policy as to how the money is to be used. The statement was issued to quell speculation that the donation demands improvements in the immediate area of the track or that the money will be used for other purposes.

Specifically, the Downs has offered to give the city $50,000 per year through 1973 for the purpose of developing streets and parking facilities in the city. It does not specify where these improvements should be made.

Pictorial Puzzle

A number of old pictures, originally intended for use in The Record's centennial edition, were not published either because of a shortage of space or because the people or the places in the pictures were not identified. Since so many readers have voiced interest in these old pictures The Record will publish one of them weekly throughout the remainder of its centennial year in hopes someone might identify them. Today's starter, reproduced from a glass negative in the files of the Northville Historical Society, is believed to have been taken in Northville since others in the same collection were definitely snapped here. Anybody recognize the "Jren or " buildings in the background?

Campaign to Weigh Facts

Is 'Year Round' School Beneficial?

After nearly two years of study, the officials of Northville School District are ready to begin a comprehensive information campaign about the advantages and disadvantages of keeping school buildings in continuous operation.

Year-round schools are bound to come eventually, according to Raymond E. Spear, superintendent of schools. He believes "it is the only efficient method of utilizing our multi-million dollar investment in school buildings."

"What is important to us," Spear said, "is that we choose the right method of year-round schools for Northville, make sure the people understand it and then find out if they would like to put it into operation in the near future, or put it off to some later date when conditions may force its adoption."

For this reason, the Northville Board of Education began studying the feasibility of year-round schools almost two years ago. Their aim was to insure that Northville would be prepared to meet its future needs in the most effective, efficient and economical manner.

Many citizens and school personnel have been studying every aspect of the year-round plan — its effect on curriculum, its potential for saving money and most of all its impact on the children.

As school officials point out, "If it doesn't result in a better job of educating our children, we might as well stick with the method we are now using."

While Northville was a leader among school districts in Michigan in inaugurating a study of this type, state officials began to see the benefits of exploring this logical method of cutting back the spiraling cost of school construction.

To encourage and assist school districts that showed an interest in studying, and possibly implementing the year-round concept, a grant totaling $100,000 was made available for six school districts to share.

Because of the progress already made on its study, Northville was chosen to receive one of the grants. The district was awarded $19,565, the largest of the six grants.

With money now available to cover the costs involved, the study committee plans to complete its project.

Details of the project will be explained to members of the community through a campaign that will include newspaper articles, brochures and newsletters as well as a color slide presentation showing exactly how year-round schools will operate.

Members of the study committee or school officials will be at the presentations to answer all questions that the study has been able to find answers for.

After the citizens of Northville's school district have been fully informed of every aspect of year-round school operation, a door-to-door survey will be conducted, giving everyone a chance to voice his opinion. Results of this survey will determine if and when Northville will cease closing its schools for the long summer recess.

Penny Balko Picks 'Lucky' Wedding Date

Marriage vows were exchanged by Penny Balko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley C. Balko, 846 Horton, and Ronald Budrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Budrick of Allen Park, in an evening ceremony September 13 in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The date was chosen as a "lucky" one by the couple. It also proved to hold special family sentiment as it was the birthday of Penny's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Edward Balko, a longtime Northville resident. She was honored with a white carnation corsage and a special cake at the reception.

The Reverend Charles F. Boerger officiated at the ceremony at the altar decorated with arrangements of white glads and fuji mums. Green fuji mums were tied with ribbon bows at the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, Penny wore a full-skirted, organza gown fashioned with traditional, long bridal sleeves and trimmed with Chantilly lace. Lace also bordered her detachable train which fell from the shoulders. A petal headpiece held her four-tier elbow-length veil of silk illusion.

She carried a formal cascade of miniature carnations, babies breath and pom pom mums.

Mrs. James Callens was matron of honor in an avocado gown of Karati silk linen. Wearing matching gold gowns were bridesmaids, Mrs. Thomas Budrick, the bridegroom's sister-in-law; Mrs. Al Edmondson and Mrs. Dennis Kantz. Miss Terry Noll, the bride's cousin, was junior bridesmaid.

They carried wicker princess baskets filled with autumn flowers in predominantly gold and bronze hues and tied with velvet ribbons matching their gowns.

Thomas Budrick was his brother's best man. Ushers were Larry Klassen, Larry Hunt and Ray Gunther.

Mrs. Wayne Janetzke was organist. Mrs. George Jerome, soloist, sang the wedding prayer by William Dunlap and the Lord's Prayer.

Dinner was served to 160 guests at the reception following at Botsford Inn. Bill Thomas and his band from Plymouth played music for dinner and dancing on the patio. The Theta Tau fraternity's sweetheart song was sung to the bride.

The tier wedding cake was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Florence Orr. Guests attended from Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Virginia, London, Ontario, and Michigan.

The bride's mother wore a three-piece costume suit of yellow raw silk with matching accessories and a corsage of white mums tipped with green. The bridegroom's mother chose a white and aqua brocade and wore a corsage of white mums tipped with aqua.

For a two-week trip to Niagara Falls, Montreal, Quebec and New England the new Mrs. Budrick wore a gold knit dress ensemble with gray cape. She is a graduate of Northville High School and Grace School of Nursing.

Her husband was graduated from Allen Park High School and Wayne State University. He is a metallurgical engineer.

They will make their home in Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

Northville Man Takes Bride In Orient Rites

Two ceremonies in the Orient united in marriage Diane Bernhard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bernhard of Livonia, and David Wilder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilder, 615 Grace Street.

The bridegroom, who is serving in the U.S. Navy, is stationed at Atsuki.

They were married August 31 in chapel of the Atsuki Naval Base with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Erickson as their attendants. The chapel altar was decorated with flowers.

The bride wore a street-length dress of delicate white lace. It had long sleeves and a ruffle of matching lace down the front. A petal headpiece adorned with seed pearls held her elbow-length veil. Her colonial bouquet was backed with pointed petals of illusion.

Mrs. Erickson wore a blue, A-line dress with an empire bodice and carried a bouquet of pink flowers.

The couple was married first in a ceremony July 30 at the United States Embassy in Tokyo. A reception followed the second ceremony at their new home in Atsuki where the couple cut a three-tier wedding cake topped with a frosted heart decoration.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

VIRGINIA GRAHAM — opening speaker of the season for Northville Town Hall on October 9 — is proving such a stellar attraction that the TH board has voted to depart from previous practice and sell individual tickets for this program.

Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, chairman, explains that the "heavy demand" coupled with the availability of seats in the larger Northville High School auditorium (to which Town Hall moved from the P & A Theatre) influenced the board. The individual tickets will be $5 thus, the season ticket at $10 for four lectures still is the better bargain, but the single tickets will accommodate those wishing to see just this one speaker, or those with house guests or friends they wish to take as guests.

The television personality and author is to speak at 11 a.m. on "Are Women at the Point of No Return?"

Season tickets still are being sold. Either the individual ticket for Miss Graham or the series may be purchased by sending checks to Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, or by contacting Mrs. Hyatt, 349-4896; or Mrs. Philip Wegeng, 349-0484.

Reservations for the celebrity luncheon following may be made for the season (at $12) or individually (at $3.) The luncheons will be at Lofy's Restaurant in Plymouth. They are limited to 200 with Mrs. Robert Ronk, 349-5544, in charge of reservations. (Lofy's, incidentally, changed ownership two weeks ago, and the TH board reports that the new management seems ready to go "all out" to please.)

Town Hall has been encouraging retired men, or those with hours that permit attendance, to come to Town Hall, either alone or with their wives. If there is a demand, the committee will reserve a men's or couples' table at the luncheon.

Mrs. Duane Butler, 21405 Summerside, will be hostess for the next Northville Town Hall Board meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Q WELL-KNOWN VINTNER is staging the wine presentation at the "OLV Cabaret" at 7 p.m. this Friday evening. The candlelight buffet and wine-tasting party is the lead activity for the new year of Our Lady's League.

It is being held in the church social hall. Wally Rosenberg, of the Wine Shop in the General Motors building, is the wine authority. He has appeared many times on the J. P. McCarthy "Focus" show on WJR and teaches wine appreciation. (He is internationally known and will be speaking in Toronto shortly.)

Wine cocktails will begin the evening, Mrs. F. F. Ishac, president of Our Lady's League, explains. Then table wines are to be served during dinner — "a bountiful buffet featuring turkey with those attending asked to bring a dish and table service." Dessert wines will conclude the presentation.

Both new and long-time members of the parish are invited, but reservations at $3 each must be made today with Mrs. Paul Kampman, Mrs. Ishac, 476-4068, or Mrs. Paul Rellick, 349-1827. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Since Our Lady's League also sponsors Town Hall, it's not surprising that door prizes will include a Town Hall ticket as well as choice wines.

OPENING LUNCHEON of the Northville Woman's Club next Friday is the first of two out-of-town programs for the upcoming season — which promises to be an outstanding one with guest speakers including Jacques Dircks-Dilly, Consul General of France to Detroit, and Levi Jackson, Yale All-American recently appointed to the National Selective Service Appeals Board who will speak in December on "Ghettos, the Black People, Their Demands and Advancements."

"An Afternoon at College," the opening program, will take members of the 77-year-old club, to Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus at 12:30 p.m. October 3 for what will be a "first view" for many of that facility.

Following luncheon, members are to tour the campus. Mrs. E. G. Sprunk is chairman of the day which traditionally honors past presidents and honorary members. This Friday is deadline for reservations, which are to be made with Mrs. L. D. Rambeau, 22275 Haggerty Road.

Three historic Detroit churches will be visited on the club's second tour, a luncheon and bus trip scheduled for November 7. Members will leave Northville at 10 a.m., have luncheon at Central Methodist Church and tour afterward. They are to make reservations by October 31 with Mrs. Rambeau.

Other programs planned by Mrs. William Switzler and her committee (and just announced in the yearbook being distributed to members), include performers from the Hilberry Classic Theatre, a discussion of modern dance by Miss Ruth Lovell Murray of Wayne State University and an illustrated lecture by Lynn Bartlett of Oakland Community College on the Holy Land.

On Mrs. Switzler's committee are Mrs. J. Hardee Bathea, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. Calvin Chen, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Samuel McSeveny and Mrs. Sprunk.

Bride Wears Victorian Gown

Linda Findling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Findling, 18227 Jamestown Circle, wore a Victorian-design gown of white chiffon for her marriage to Jerry E. Lyke September 13 at Our Lady of Victory Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lyke, 21550 Napier Road. The Reverend Father John Wittstock officiated at the noon ceremony at the altar decorated with arrangements of white iris accented with apricot daisies and mums.

Linda's gown was fashioned with a tiny, stand-up collar and full sleeves gathered from a drop shoulder and caught at the wrists with narrow lace bands. Brocaded daisies trimmed the gown and carried out a daisy theme. A daisy headpiece held her three-tier shoulder veil of illusion. Her bouquet contained daisies, white mums and sweetheart roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Sherry Walker was honor maid in an apricot chiffon gown which was adorned with daisy trim. She carried a bouquet of apricot mums and daisies. In matching gowns were the four bridesmaids, Mrs. Roger Lyke, Darlene Baggett, Connie Cook and the bride's sister, Leslie Findling.

Roger Lyke was best man with Bob Findling, Norman Balco, Mike Caley and John Robinson seating the guests. Paul Laboda was organist.

For the ceremony and reception following for 125 guests at Thunderbird Inn the bride's mother chose an aqua-blue dress with silver and pearl trimming and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue shantung dress accented with rhinestone buttons and with matching accessories. The had white rose corsages.

For a wedding trip to Northern Michigan the new Mrs. Lyke wore a green wool dress with patent bag and shoes.

The newlyweds are Northville High School graduates. The bride also attended Ferris and Schoolcraft colleges. The bridegroom, a veteran of Vietnam, now is attending Schoolcraft and is working in the engineering department of Anchor Coupling. They are making their home at 23167 Napier Road.

50th Anniversary

Reception Fetes Novi Couple

Gold engraving on the invitations revealed the reason for the reception given last Sunday at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth honoring Mr. and Mrs. George R. Simmons on their 50th wedding anniversary. It was given by their children and their families.

Following their marriage September 23, 1919, in Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons moved to the home at 46320 West Ten Mile Road, where they have lived ever since. Mr. Simmons owned and operated his own fruit orchards until recently when his son, Bruce, took over.

Mrs. Simmons is the former Norine Hogle of Farmington. They were married in her family home when the bridegroom returned from overseas duty after World War I. Both are graduates of Northville High School, Class of 1911.

Mr. Simmons has been active in veterans' organizations, holding membership in both the American Legion and VFW. He is a life member of the Legion, in which he has served as district and zone commander.

Among the 120 guests Sunday were out-of-town friends, classmates and relatives. Hosting the buffet reception, were their four children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Simmons of Novi, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jernigan (Barbara Simmons) of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. N.N. Mihay (Lucille Simmons) of Worthington, Ohio, and Dr. and Mrs. R.H. Simmons of Jacksonville, Illinois.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Simmons' brother, Colonel James C. Hogle of Alexandria, Virginia, who had been a member of the wedding party. Others attended from Ohio, Illinois, New York, Houston, Texas, and from Flint, Detroit, St. Louis, Jackson, Mt. Clemens, Dearborn, Pontiac, Bad Axe, Marine City, Ann Arbor and from surrounding areas.

The Simmons' have 16 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. All were at the reception. Two granddaughters, Audrey Ann Simmons and Sharon Jernigan, circulated the guest book at the reception.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Simmons were hosts at a family dinner at Lofy's Restaurant in Plymouth for 23.

Ambler Family Marks Birthday, Anniversary

A long-awaited centennial milestone celebration and a silver wedding anniversary surprise were dual highlights of last weekend for the Ambler family of Northville.

Mrs. Mark C. Ambler, who marked her 100th birthday September 19, was honored at an open house Sunday given by her granddaughters at the home of Mrs. Lou Bates in Livonia. Co-hostesses were Mrs. George Westphall of Livonia, Mrs. Gerald Smith of Detroit, Mrs. Fred Kendall of South Lyon and Mrs. Richard Ambler of Northville.

It was attended by 100 guests, and the alert little centenarian "knew everyone who came."

The evening before, the Richard W. Amblers were feted at a surprise party at their Timberlane home, given by their children.

Fifty friends were invited by Diane, now a senior at Central Michigan University, Nancy, a senior at Northville High School; and Richard, a sophomore. Diane came home from college for the week-end, but she had been making plans for three months for the celebration and was assisted by her aunts, Mrs. Russell Atchison and Mrs. Kendall.

After attending the University of Michigan football game and having dinner in Plymouth, the Amblers returned to be greeted with poster-scale blow-ups of their wedding pictures - and the congratulations of friends, who included all but two members of their original wedding party. Among them was Dr. Orlo Robinson, who was best man.

The Amblers were married September 23, 1944, in Northville Methodist Church.

'Land of Viking' Kicks Off Ninth Annual Travel Series

SWEDISH SUMMER — The modern capital of Stockholm, as seen in this view from the Stockholm Town Hall, will be blended with intriguing farms and camping areas reminiscent of centuries past when Dick Reddy brings his travel film on Sweden to Northville next week Wednesday. It will kick off the Northville Rotary Club's ninth annual Travel and Adventure Series. Five other travel and adventure programs are planned this season.

A colorful portrayal of the Land of the Vikings will kickoff the annual Travel and Adventure series next week Wednesday as the Northville Rotary Club launches its ninth straight season of sponsoring family entertainment.

Titled "A Swedish Summer", the program is the first in a series of six travel films and narrations to be sponsored over the next several months.

It will be presented in the Northville High School auditorium beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased in advance from Rotarians by calling 349-0105 or at the door.

Headlining the film on Sweden will be Dick Reddy, a professional traveler and film producer who received his first taste of adventure while listening to his grandfather, one of the last Indian fighters of North Central Texas, recount his skirmishes with the Indians.

In his "A Swedish Summer", Reddy visits a farm in the summer and speaks with the family living there. He also visits with the lumbermen working in the forests.

Journeying north, his adventure follows a safari to the Lapland country and produces many beautiful scenes showing an array of Sweden's charm. He crosses the Polar Circle and experiences the long summer days with the midnight sun.

The film also portrays a world famous smorgasbord, takes the viewer camping, shows him Swedish fashions and Swedish apartment living, and tours Stockholm with the summer queen.

Sweden, which lies in the Scandinavian Peninsula between Norway and Finland, is shown in her summer best — from mountain range and barren lands to forests and rich agricultural lands.

News Around Northville

From Sao Paulo, Brazil, comes news of a former Northville family. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hannabarger, who left a year ago on a Ford transfer to South America, were to leave for Europe last week for a seven-week trip combining business with a vacation.

Their former home in Northville is one of the vintage homes open today during the Presbyterian Women's Association home tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Present owners, the Damon Lindleys, have commented upon the Hannabargers' fine restoration and preservation of the Victorian home.

Tickets for the Presbyterian home tour will be on sale at the church, 200 East Main, during the tour today. There also will be a country store, Christmas Crafts and dried flower market at the church. The ticket at $1.50 will admit visitors to five area homes and to the antique sale at the home of Mrs. Robert Froelich.

Luncheon will be served by members of St. Paul's Lutheran Women's Guild from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. today at that church as the "ecumenical cooperation" begun when the home tour originated three years ago continues. It is $1.25.

This is the 20th year that the Lapeer Parents Association for Mentally Retarded Children is sponsoring an annual bazaar and harvest festival. Several Northville families support this activity, which will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the IOOF Hall, 3248 West Twelve Mile, Berkley. Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and dinner from 4 to 7 p.m. All proceeds are used to help mentally retarded children.

"Pleasures and Treasures of Northville," a film made by Northville Historical Society will be shown at the club's opening meeting of the fall season at 8 p.m. today in the scout-recreation building.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the meetings of the society, on the fourth Thursday of the month.

UF Campaign Chairmen Announced for Northville

Northville area chairmen who will work with neighborhood chairmen in the upcoming United Foundation campaign, which is to kick-off October 14, were announced this week by Mrs. William Swank, this year's division chairman for Northville.

Mrs. David E. DeJohn is chairman for area one, bounded by Five Mile, Napier, Eight Mile and Beck Roads. Mrs. Paul Sobol heads area two, from Seven Mile, Beck, Nine Mile and Center Street area.

Because the area chairman who originally was to cover area three, from Center, Seven Mile, Haggerty and Eight Mile roads, has moved, Mrs. Swank is covering that section herself. Mrs. Bernard J. Heenan is chairman for area four, Beck, Seven Mile, Haggerty to Five Mile roads.

Mrs. Swank reports that neighborhood chairmen now are working to enlist volunteers who will ring doorbells for the United Foundation campaign. Anyone willing to devote a day to the cause will be welcomed. Some spots still are needing volunteers. Training meetings will be held the week of October 6-10.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joannise of Chicago with their new son, Jeffrey Richard, are visiting this month with Mrs. Joannise's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Jones, 43550 Six Mile Road. Mrs. Joannise is the former Carol Jones.

The fate of Gala Days apparently will be decided on one of these autumn nights and indications presently are that the observance will be scrapped.

Unfortunately, the event is being evaluated in dollars-and-cents rather than on the basis of its other contributions. And financially, the days haven't been very gala.

*****

The value of such an activity, however, can be much more important than its immediate financial returns. Similar events in other communities have served to build a certain pride and togetherness, if you will, which is reflected in other ventures dependent upon combined efforts.

And in a community growing like this one, the value of a let's-help-each-other attitude translates into dollars-and-cents with city's that have it coming out millions.

But the Novi Chamber of Commerce, on the other hand, would be foolish to continue an observance which too few appreciate and in which too little is accomplished.

*****

A city like Holland — and not just because it's a bigger city — has built a reputation for its Tulip Festival. But more important is what that festival means to the people of that city.

People of all ages participate and the memories live forever — the memories of the long hours in preparation just for an event that transpires in a matter of minutes.

But most important is that people in Holland know that they can do things well together and that confidence is reflected throughout the community every day of the year — not just during the Tulip Festival.

Councilwoman Mary Parvu, apparently walking in Wixom Chief Tom McGuire's shadow as promised, took it upon herself Tuesday to question rumored procedures being used by policemen.

Mrs. Parvu, who on August 25 unexpectedly indicated that she would be keeping an eye on the new chief, asked City Attorney Gene Schnelz questions concerning the legality of a policeman stopping a motorist and asking for his keys, of handcuffing a prisoner to a stationary object and of questioning an individual — apparently not a juvenile but a young adult — without contacting his parents.

Schnelz observed that from a legal standpoint, all procedures would be in order but he advised that the councilwoman contact an authority on the subject...like the chief.

Wixom has a rather unusual situation at its City Council meetings. It seems that people attend and as government officials elsewhere know so well, their sessions usually aren't major attractions.

In Wixom, however, the interest in the council by the citizens seems to be reflective of an interest in the citizens by the council. The community is envious in that its able to communicate and it has officials that go to the problems rather than waiting for the problems to come to them.

Council Denies Edison Request For Variance

A request from Detroit Edison Company asking to be allowed to employ a septic tank at its Wixom Road facility rather than a more costly sewer line connection to service a remotely located building came down to a tie-breaking vote Tuesday by Mayor Wesley McAtee, the most emphatic opponent to the proposal since its introduction September 9.

City Council, after hearing a report on the proposal from engineers, divided 3-3 in casting ballots on the issue with the question coming back to the mayor for a decision. Mayor McAtee had emphasized before the vote that his position had not changed and he cast his ballot accordingly defeating the request.

In other business Tuesday, it was revealed that a new contract with policemen — described by the mayor as "something good for the entire community" — has been settled, the council approved a rezoning request for the expansion of a multiple housing development by James Heller on Grand River Avenue and requested that no fee be charged the Birch Park Improvement Association in its request before the Board of Appeals for permission to erect a six-foot fence to protect the development's lakefront from vandalism.

Edison officials also stated that the connection would cost about $25,000 to construct and that activity at its Wixom Road location might be only temporary.

The mayor, however, challenged the request emphasizing that the city had made a major investment in providing sewers and that citizens had assumed the expense for their connections — the cost of which often reached more than $1,000.

Water (Going) Water Everywhere But . . . (?)

Maybe one shouldn't cry over spilled milk, but linking water is a matter of a different sort ... and City Manager Harold Ackley is crying.

"Something has to be done in the Water Department — we're losing a tremendous amount of water," Ackley revealed Monday at a session of the City of Novi Council. "I have heard that the tops are being taken off of the meters so that they aren't registering. But that isn't where we're losing the most of the water."

"I think we're losing it in the lines somewhere," he added.

According to Ackley, this month's bill from the City of Detroit — supplier of water here — was for more than $5,000 while last month's was for $2,900. He explained that on a use-basis, the increase doesn't appear justifiable.

Councilman Edwin Presnell observed that developers often run a considerable amount of water through their lines after new installations. Ackley explained that the city bills the contractors on the estimated amount of water used in such instances.

The city manager explained that he had received the billing earlier Monday and would refer it to the Department of Public Works.

Officials Huddling Over Property Split

Although the case between the City of Novi and Novi Township, having evolved from an apparent conflict over the division of assets for the recently reorganized areas, will continue in Circuit Court on Tuesday, Mayor Joseph Crupi, Councilmen Denis Berry and Supervisor Leo Kalota were planning to meet this week in order to personally consider the issue.

City Attorney Howard Bond reported on Monday that the case, in which the city has filed a show-cause suit against the township because of alleged delays in division of assets, began September 17 and will 'be continued next Wednesday. He explained that the judge had advised an out-of-court settlement which Bond and Township Attorney Emery Jacques, Jr. were unable to satisfy during a short adjournment.

Mayor Crupi revealed Monday that he talked by telephone with Kalota last Thursday at which time they decided to meet this week Tuesday in order to consider the status of mutual affairs. The mayor explained that he was inviting Berry to sit in on the meeting because he had been involved in an early discussion on the issue.

Beauty and Brains

Pretty 17-year-old Kathy Romanow became Novi High School's first National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist this week following announcement of honors by officials of the program. A senior and secretary of the Class of 1970, Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Romanow, 45241 Grand River Avenue. The semi-finalists — a total of 15,000 in the nation — will compete for 3,000 scholarships to be awarded next spring.

Mayor Crupi Assigns Prelims To Councilmen by Committee

In another apparent move to better accommodate business accumulating before the City of Novi Council, Mayor Joseph Crupi on Monday established six two-man committees with each assigned a specific area for study and recommendation.

The action comes on the heels of a mid-summer decision to hold weekly — rather than bi-weekly — meetings of the council because of the amount of pending business. The council's weekly sessions have been averaging three-and-a-half hours but lengthy discussion on other issues has forced councilmen to neglect many items on the agendas.

The mayor on Monday revealed his intentions for assigning a number of the issues to committee with each councilman to serve as a chairman on one and the second member of another. Mayor Crupi also announced that he will serve as an ex-officio member on all committees.

Committees appointed, with chairmen designated first, are Proposed Ordinance 30 (licensing of all businesses): Councilman Donald Young, Jr. and Councilman Edwin Presnell; Proposed formal organization of an auxiliary police: Councilman William O'Brien and Councilman David Harrison; Proposed re-alignment of office space in City Hall: Councilman William Duey and O'Brien; Property acquisition: Presnell and Councilman Denis Berry; City Manager's reception: Berry and Duey; and Pioneer Meadows: Harrison and Young.

A seventh committee — to be concerned with drainage conditions in Orchard Hills — was left unappointed after councilmen seemingly agreed that residents of the subdivision have successfully organized their own effort to resolve the problem.

The mayor proposed that chairmen make regular reports beginning the first session in October — October 6.

Branch Locates on Eight Mile Banks Rushing onto Local Scene

The rush is on — not unlike the one which evoked shouts of "Go West, Young Man, Go West" except now its people rushing out to put gold in "them thar hills" rather than to mine it out.

National Bank of Detroit, with an established office in the Novi business district on Grand River Avenue, has received a special variance from the City of Novi for locating a trailer unit on Eight Mile Road near Haggerty Road and also has acquired use of a building in Northville Township on Seven Mile Road near Northville Road.

Meanwhile, the proposed West Oakland Bank — with plans to open its main office in Novi on Novi Road near Ten Mile Road — is awaiting action on its charter application through the Federal Comptroller of Currency. Rumors are that the West Oakland application has received preliminary approval with final action expected soon — the likelihood of which apparently incited NBD to make its move to an Eight Mile site.

West Oakland Bank, if granted its charter, would become a home bank for the City of Novi and, according to State of Michigan banking laws, no new bank can enter a city or no existing bank can operate out of additional locations after a home bank has been opened within that city.

National Bank of Detroit moved a 40-foot trailer onto property zoned

C.T. (Commercial-Thoroughway) at 39820 West Eight Mile Road over the weekend and opened for business on September 15. The stipulation in state banking laws is that if a bank is open before a home bank is established and opened, then it can continue to operate.

NBD is open and operating on West Eight Mile and it also opened its other branch on Seven Mile the following day — September 16 — with both offices open from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Fridays. The branch at 43320 West Seven Mile Road, with John Moore acting as manager, is in a small building owned by Wayne McBride, a building contractor.

William Patterson, manager of NBD's Farmington office, is acting manager at the Eight Mile Road branch.

A C.T. zone, however, requires a bank and any type of temporary facility to receive permission through the Board of Appeals before location and use. But the next appeals board session isn't until October 7 — the first Tuesday of every month — and so to operate until then, NBD has received special permission from Building Inspector Earl Bailey upon the legal advice of City Attorney Howard Bond.

The bank is presently acting to comply otherwise with city requirements, according to Bailey, although its future still remains dependent upon the decision expected to be handed down by the Board of Appeals at its October meeting.

But if West Oakland Bank should receive its charter and open before that first Tuesday in October and the Board of Appeals' expected approval of NBD's use on West Eight Mile Road, then some controversy could evolve over the legality of the move apparently made to get a site in an area expected to grow considerably during the immediate future.

A spokesman for the proposed West Oakland Bank has indicated that it will challenge the National Bank of Detroit move to Novi when it comes before the Board of Appeals for approval. And one councilman has unofficially indicated his displeasure over "that wildcat bank out on West Eight Mile."

Otherwise, however, the matter has not been discussed publicly by the council.

NBD officials have reported that soon it will locate a double trailer unit approximately 20 feet by 40 feet — just west of where the present mobile facility is. They have received a permit from the Oakland County Department of Health for installation of a septic tank and expect to expand into permanent facilities — at both the West Eight Mile and the West Seven Mile sites — as the service needs for the Novi-Northville communities increase.

Novi Jaycee Auxiliary Seeks More Helping Hands

The Helping Hand program is a nation-wide project to provide places of help for children. Now in its second year in Novi, the program has a four-fold purpose, according to Mrs. Ronald Mitchell, auxiliary spokesman.

Homes displaying the symbol of an extended hand, offer assistance to any child who is lost, injured, bullied or threatened by a molester. When in trouble, children in the Novi Community Schools have been instructed to go to a home displaying the sign of a Helping Hand.

All volunteers are asked to fill out an application form and are carefully screened by the auxiliary along with the Novi Police Department. Once a volunteer has been selected, she remains a Helping Hand during the time she is living in Novi. It is important that the volunteer be home during school hours.

The project has the support of the Novi Community Schools, Novi Police Department and the Novi Jaycees.

For further information call Mrs. Mitchell at 474-4377 or Mrs. Al Rhudy, 474-1176.

On The Homes Tour

'Salt Box' Construction Seasons A New House

Editor's Note: Following is the fifth and final in a series of articles about the houses visited today (Thursday) as part of the Presbyterian Woman's Association annual Homes Tour program.

It's not often you can move into a new house — one you had no part in designing architecturally — and find precisely the home you've dreamed about.

In the case of the Theodore Hecklers, selection of their new Northville Township home was particularly gratifying because it resembles, in many respects, the historic farm home in which Mrs. Heckler was raised and where, in North Monroeville, her mother still resides.

Her childhood Ohio home, a brick salt box more than 125 years old, was a "stop" along the Underground Railroad during Civil War days. Rows of windows front that house for which she has so many fond memories.

The Hecklers' home here, just four years old, is a New England salt box, with a characteristic Williamsburg look inside and out. Some of the Williamsburg interior decoration installed by the builder — particularly wall paper — was retained by the family. Parts have been redecorated, however, blending Williamsburg with Early American.

Christmas decoration buffs will recall that it is the Heckler home that each winter is so beautifully lighted with single candles in each of its numerous windows. "It's something we started in our Ohio home shortly after we married," smiles Mrs. Heckler. "When we moved to Ypsilanti we were disappointed because we didn't have the windows for the candles. Here there's more than enough."

Windows make the Heckler home and the owners are delighted with them. But window cleaning is a chore, she admits, particularly with more than 500 panes of glass. (Double that — there's two sides to a window).

Scattered throughout this delightful home, antiques are matted perfectly with reproductions and warm Early American furniture. The Hecklers' "pride and joy" is an antique organ occupying a corner of the large living room.

Found by her uncle at Stony Ridge, Ohio, the organ contained a tiny inscription inside with the date, 1865. Now completely refinished and in playing condition, it is an especially interesting piece because of its unusually small size. Most old organs were large, ornate instruments.

Another side of the living room contains a drop-leaf table — a salvaged and refinished black walnut kitchen table that once sported a half-dozen layers of paint. It, like many of the antiques in this home, are hand-me-downs from his or her family. The table, for example, was a much-used piece of furniture in his grandparents' home and the glassware that decorates it came from her grandparents' home.

A restored dry sink — 75 or more years old — decorates the dinette. "It was our second antique," she explains, "the living room table our first." It was purchased by a friend's father-in-law, as he started 50 years of marriage, for just 10-cents.

Hanging in the large family room fireplace is a 100-year-old applebutter kettle, obtained in Parkertown, Ohio, and a smaller black, flat-bottom kettle. As in many homes today, the not-so-long-age essential copper boiler makes a splendid place for storing kindling. Grandmother's butter churn also adds to this charming room.

Quilts made by the owners' mother decorate their daughters' (Nancy and Susan) canopy beds in two of the four upstairs bedrooms. Light and airy, all of the bedrooms are distinctively decorated. The guest room, for example, is painted Apollo Room Blue — an authentic Williamsburg color.

Tucked away in the finished basement of their home is another antique with a special story. It's an old "ice cream" table with matching "wire" leg chairs. It came from an ancient Ohio store, where Mrs. Heckler, remembered watching old men play cards on the table as business went on about them.

Looking for a table for a patio at a previous home, she recalled the store, paid a visit to the closing establishment, and was given this treasure for just $2.

There are many other antiques and homey stories in this "dream house" that today's visitors will find so interesting.

Service Set For Retiring Clergyman

A Festival Eucharist will be celebrated at St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 Sheldon Road, Plymouth Sunday at 10.00 A.M. The Eucharist is in honor of the Rev. Canon David T. Davies. It is in the occasion of his retirement from the active ministry and his final service as Rector of St. John's.

The sermon will be preached by the Very Rev. Frederick B. Williams, Rector of St. Clement's Episcopal Church in Inkster and Dean of the Westside Convocation of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

Canon Davies will be the chief celebrant at the Eucharist and he will be assisted by Father Williams and Father Shank, the Rector-elect of St. John's as co-celebrants.

The service will conclude 41 years in the active ministry for Canon Davies, all but three months of which was spent in the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

A special feature of the service will be the first performance of a new anthem especially commissioned for this service. The anthem "Lauda Anima" was written by Robert W. Jones, composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft College. The anthem will be sung by the Parish Choir of St. John's, under the direction of Allen Shaffer organist and choirmaster.

A reception will be held in the parish hall immediately following the service in honor of Canon and Mrs. Davies.

Northville Township Minutes

Meeting called to order at 8:00 P.M. by Supervisor Stromberg.

Present: Baldwin, Hammond, Lawrence, Mitchell, Straub, Stromberg. Also present: Consultants Mosher & Ashton, the Press and fifteen visitors.

Minutes of August 12, 14 and 28, 1969 were approved as presented.

The treasurer's report was in a new format this month. There was a discussion of the amount of cash reserves on hand. Baldwin asked that the treasurer prepare a forecast of expenses. Straub moved to accept the treasurer's report and the clerk's financial report. Supported by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

Mitchell moved that the current bills be paid and the report of monthly receipts be accepted. Supported by Baldwin. Ayes: All.

Baldwin moved that the appeal board minutes of August 11 and September 8, 1969 be accepted. Seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

Hammond moved that the planning commission minutes of August 26, 1969 be accepted. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

Straub moved that the water & sewer minutes of August 21, 1969 be accepted. Seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

CORRESPONDENCE
Lawrence moved that the resolution from the Township of Van Buren be accepted and filed. Seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

Letter from Mosher indicating that the board approve a payment on Estimate No. 1 of the W No. 5 contract to Territorial Construction, in the amount of $6808.86. Baldwin so moved, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

OLD BUSINESS

1a. Change of fiscal year ending. On recommendation of the auditor in his letter of May 12, 1969 Mitchell moved to revise the fiscal year-end for the township to March 31, beginning in 1969-70. This change will involve having one extra half month period in the current fiscal year. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

1b. Discharge of firearms ordinance. After considerable discussion, Hammond moved that this matter be tabled until the next meeting and that a committee of two be appointed to work with the officer in somewhat revising the ordinance. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

1c. Industrial rezoning petition. These petitions have been validated and bear sufficient signatures; therefore, a referendum is now in order. Straub moved that the township proceed with a special election regarding the rezoning of parcels of land all located in T-1-S., R-8-E., Northville Township, Wayne County, Michigan, from R-4 (one-family residential district) to I-1 (Industrial) and B-1 (Business) and B-2, election to be held as soon as feasible. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All. Ashton indicated that a special meeting would have to be called to set a date and pass on the exact wording of the referendum.

1d. Commercial site plan fees - engineering. Straub moved to table this question until the next meeting after the board has heard the views of the planning commission. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

2a. Joint zoning and planning - City of Northville. The clerk read the letter of August 20, 1969, from the City of Northville. Hammond moved to have the supervisor appoint four persons to represent the township at a joint meeting with representatives from the City Council and City Zoning Commission (two from the township planning commission and two from the township board). Meeting to be held September 18, 1969 at the City Hall. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

2b Recreation report. Baldwin moved to table this report until October. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

3. Maybury Sanatorium property. The attorney summarized the report of the bonding attorney, Mr. Piell. It is legally possible for the township to form an authority and pass extra millage without the vote of the people. However, it may also be put to a vote of the people, at a special election. It would take about sixty days to prepare for such an election. Township mills would raise about Sixty Thousand Dollars, which would take care of annual payments, but not enough to make the original purchase so bonds would have to be floated. Baldwin said that because this is a once in a lifetime opportunity to secure these valuable lands for the township for recreation purposes, he would move that the attorney draft a ballot question with regard to the purchase of Maybury property for presentation to the public at a special election in the month of December. Seconded by Hammond. Ayes: All.

4. Trustee appointment. Stromberg announced that three names were submitted for the vacancy on the board: James Tellam, Wm. P. Smith, Jr., and Leonard Klein. Baldwin moved that Tellam be appointed. Seconded by Hammond. Ayes: Baldwin, Hammond, Stromberg. Tie vote. Lawrence, Straub. Tie vote. Mitchell moved to appoint Smith. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: Lawrence, Mitchell, Straub. Tie vote. Baldwin, Hammond, Stromberg. Tie vote. Baldwin moved to appoint Klein. Seconded by Hammond. Ayes: Baldwin, Hammond, Stromberg. Nays: Lawrence, Mitchell, Straub. Tie vote.

When questioned the attorney said he felt that the election of a trustee could be put on the special election forthcoming, but there would probably have to be a primary. Some action has to be taken before September 28, 1969, or the Governor can call a special election to fill the vacancy.

NEW BUSINESS

1. Recommendation from building official. Mr. Kaiser feels that anyone who applies for an occupancy permit should have some type of a driveway in case of an emergency. Lawrence moved that the attorney be directed to draft an amendment to the building code to be submitted at our next meeting. Seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

2. Recommendation from Planning Commission. On recommendation of the planning commission on August 26, 1969, Baldwin moved that the board approve the Preliminary Plat, Stage 1, of "Highland Lakes", covering approximately 145 acres, comprising all that area of the Levitt & Sons proposed development heretofore rezoned R4 excepting the parcel of approximately 21 acres designated on the plan "Outlot A-Reserved", and consisting of 285 single family lots plus included open spaces to be dedicated, with the following conditions:

1. that a stub street be provided north of Lot 232 so as to connect with land easterly of this subdivision.

2. that lot 232 be redesigned so as to provide all required yards as set forth in the zoning ordinance.

3. suitable easement or other access route will be provided for outlet of storm and sanitary sewers from property lying east of this development.

Motion seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

2. Fee, Vilcan-Leman & Associates, Inc. On recommendation of the planning commission on August 26th, Baldwin moved that the board continue to retain Vilcan-Leman & Associates, Inc. and pay the new fee as set forth in the schedule in Mr. Vilcan's letter of August 4, 1969, on the basis of $450.00 per month retainer for the principal's time. Seconded by Hammond. Ayes: Baldwin, Hammond, Mitchell, Lawrence, Stromberg. Nays: Straub. Motion carried.

3. Snow Acres, Mr. N. Shelley. Mr. Shelley spoke about what he considered to be a violation of the building restrictions in Snow Acres. The attorney explained that our building official can only enforce the township zoning restrictions, not subdivision restrictions.

4. and 5. Lawrence moved to table these two items until another meeting. Seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

6. Hayes split. As no action by the board was deemed necessary, Hammond moved to refer this matter to the Supervisor. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

7. Addressing machine. Hammond explained that the numbers of people served with water and sewer bills is increasing and there is need for either more help or a machine to address, etc. She presented bids from three companies, Addressograph, Pitney-Bowes and Elliott. Straub thought an electric machine would be advisable to take care of future needs. Lawrence moved to allow the clerk to select the machine that would best meet the needs of the water and sewer department. Seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

8. Boron Oil Company. Baldwin moved to authorize the attorney to enter into a discussion toward a proposed consent judgment with the Boron Oil Company and report back to the board. Seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: Baldwin, Hammond, Lawrence, Mitchell, Stromberg. Abstain: Straub. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned at 11:35 P.M.
Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor W. Hammond, Clerk

Novi Marks Library Birthday

Celebrating its ninth birthday this month, the Novi Public Library may hit a book circulation of 25,000 or more this year if past growth is an accurate gauge.

During its first year of operation, points out Librarian Mrs. Robert Flattery, the Novi facility circulated about 7,500 books during the 24 hours a week it was open. Some 320 Novi families used the library at least once.

"Today, the library boasts a book collection of approximately 7,200 books all owned by the library and 750 families are registered users. From July 1968 through June 1969 a total of 23,725 books were circulated."

When the library doors first opened in September, 1960, recalls the librarian, it had approximately 1,155 books. These were either donated or bought with funds donated by persons interested in starting a Novi library.

Also on hand were 1,000 books from the Michigan State Library which loaned the books to give it a starting boost.

In 1963 the library became self-supporting when voters approved a one-half mill to support it. Hours were extended to 38 a week and a full-time librarian and an assistant were hired.

Another major step in the library's growth over the years, she points out, occurred in May 1968 when the Novi library joined the Wayne County Federated Library System. There are now 52 libraries in Oakland and Wayne County that are members of the system, and Novi library patrons have free borrowing privileges in any of them.

Through the federated library system, library loans are available from member libraries, the system's headquarters, Michigan State Library, the University of Michigan Library, and the Dearborn and Detroit libraries. In addition, a collection of 3,500 films are available to community groups delivered directly to the local library.

As Mrs. Flattery and her assistants, Mrs. Joseph White, mark the Novi facility's ninth birthday today, they note with pride its accomplishments and remind citizens of the community "we're now open 41 hours a week ... why don't you come and visit us."

55 YOUNGSTERS RESPONDED TO SAFETY CALL

VFW Chalks up Another Successful Bike Project

Another successful project was chalked up by the Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 4012 Saturday as the veterans and their wives conducted the second annual Lite-A-Bike safety inspection program in the city hall park.

Fifty-five bicycles and — believe it or not — one unicycle were inspected and checked out.

Boys and girls brought in their bikes for mechanical inspection, to obtain their licenses, and to have reflective tape attached to the bikes.

While the veterans performed the mechanical work, co-sponsoring Women's Auxiliary members wrote up prize tickets and passed out booklets on safe operation of bicycles.

Concluding the program, the VFW and the auxiliary once again gave away two bicycles to lucky ticket holders. All tickets, which youngsters received free, were collected for a 5 p.m. drawing.

Winning the girl's bicycle was Rose Harmon, 109 South Wing Street, and the winner of the boy's bike was John Wallace of 117 South Rogers.

With Our Servicemen

A special United States Army commendation medal has been presented to recently discharged Staff Sergeant Don R. Biery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elden Biery, 18363 Jamestown Circle. Biery is now attending Schoolcraft College.

The citation reads in part: "Sergeant Biery made numerous contributions to the overall improvement of training in the unit. As a drill sergeant, his leadership and talents as an instructor guided his platoon to lead the company in all phases of training. This was reflected by his platoon winning the Platoon of the Cycle award several times.

"His abilities warranted his selection as acting senior drill instructor on numerous occasions in the absence of the SDI. (His) abilities as an instructor were continually in evidence, leading to his selection as the Brigade S-3 Seminar instructor. His classes were consistently praised by his superiors and were so well thought of that he was asked to prepare a class on bayonet training for use by educational television.

"His enthusiasm and dedication to duty have contributed greatly to the accomplishment of the overall mission of the Third BCT Brigade, and have set an enviable example for others to follow. Staff Sergeant Biery's exemplary service and devotion to duty are in keeping with the finest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, the noncommissioned officer corps, and the United States Army."

freshmen cadets who have entered the U.S. Air Force Academy class of 1973.

Cadet Kline was accepted into the cadet wing after completing seven weeks of basic training, including field training at a simulated frontline combat base near the Academy, strenuous physical conditioning and survival instruction.

This is the largest class ever to enter the 15-year-old Academy and brings the current enrollment to more than 3800.

The cadet now begins a four-year course of study leading to an Air Force commission and a bachelor of science degree with an academic major in one of 27 fields of interest provided in the curriculum.

Cadet Kline is a 1969 graduate of Northville High School where he lettered in track and football.

Police Blotter

Rash of Auto 'Part Thefts Hit City

A rash of auto part thefts have occurred in Northville during the past month. The largest haul was made between September 12 and 15 at Ken's Collision Shop, 128 West Main Street.

Ten wheel covers, one Monaco insignia and one outside mirror were taken from cars parked at the shop.

Total value of the theft was more than $140.

Since August 22, ten wheel covers, six tires and wheels, one car jack, one mirror and one insignia have been taken from cars.

The majority of items have been taken from car dealerships and repair shops in town.

One of the tires was taken from the back of a truck and one from a garage.

The total value of the goods taken exceeds $500.

Whoever is responsible for the thefts has been selective in what cars they hit. Most of the items have been taken from 1969 and 1970 model cars.

Police have had no leads in the thefts but say incidents like this usually occur in such a pattern, all in a short period of time.

Earl Jennings, 100 East Cady Street, was treated for leg lacerations by Dr. H. L. Dyer, after he was bitten by a dog September 12.

Jennings was visiting at 200 Hill Street when he was bitten. The owner of the dog, Glen Kennedy, Walnut, California, was not ticketed.

An attempted breaking and entering of a residence at 607 Fairbrook was reported by Leslie G. Lee September 17. The Lees had been on vacation since August and when they arrived home, found their living room window cracked.

Police investigating the incident discovered finger prints and smudges on the outside window-sill. They theorized the window had been broken when pressure was exerted on it while trying to break in.

Entrance was not gained and nothing was reported missing.

Police received the fifth complaint of eggs being thrown at passing cars in two weeks. Each time the description of the car has been the same. The case is still under investigation.

Three needles and protectors and a syringe were found September 16 by police at the high school athletic field. The property was inside a gold earring case.

COURT NEWS

Four men paid a total of $395 in fines September 16 in Judge Dunbar Davis' 35th District Court.

James A. King, Plymouth, and John D. Clark, Detroit, paid fines of $128 each on reduced charges of driving while ability impaired.

Paul J. Kelly, 48449 West Nine Mile Road, pled guilty to charges of drunkenness and paid $103.

A Farmington man, Charlie R. VanMeter, paid $36 in fines for disobeying a stop sign and not having proof of insurance.

School Tax Notes Approved by State

Michigan's Municipal Finance Commission has approved $510,000 of tax anticipation notes for Northville Public Schools.

The announcement was made by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the commission.

The proceeds from the sale will be used by the district to meet operating expenses until school tax collections begin coming in after December 1.

Earl Busard, business manager for the district, is optimistic about the sale of the bonds. "We are certain of a bid," Busard commented.

The notes will be dated October 1, 1969, and must be repaid April 1, 1970. The maximum interest rate will be 6%.

Busard explained that late collection of school taxes have forced the district to sell bonds to obtain operating expenses.

"We stand to lose $25,000," he said. "We don't collect $12,500 we would have gotten from interest, while we pay $12,500 interest on the bonds."

Busard said the district has often asked the city to collect school taxes early, "but they have the option under law not to collect school taxes until December 1."

Of the $510,000 collected from the sale of the bonds, most of the money will go to meet the district's payroll.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The final report of the city-appointed Parking Authority is now in the hands of the city council. Specifically, the report limits itself to the two-block area bounded by Dunlap, Cady, Center and Hutton-Church streets.

Its purpose is to provide a means, as well as a plan, for locating sufficient customer-employee parking areas within the particular two-block business district under consideration.

For the first time the Parking Authority sets forth a formula for financing public offstreet parking. It calls for the cost of such parking to be divided equally between the city and building owners within the two-block district.

The Parking Authority suggests that three lots in each of the two blocks must be purchased with a deck over the lots in the southern block.

Estimated cost of the parking project is $350,000, which would be financed by means of a lease between the city and Parking Authority for 50 per cent of the cost and a special assessment against building owners for the remainder.

The Parking Authority proposes a complicated formula for determining the assessments. It is based floor area and proximity to the parking. The assessments, which would be levied against some 38 buildings in the two-block area, would range from $500 to $10,500 payable over a 10-year period.

In its first look at the proposal this week the council favors expanding the assessment area to include the two business blocks west of Center street bounded by Dunlap, Wing and Cady. The assessments in the outlying blocks would be less because of the distance factor, but they would serve to somewhat reduce the assessments against the 38 buildings in the immediate two-block area. The logic in the council's proposal is that all business area properties benefit from increased parking in the central business district area.

Excluded from the assessment are vacant lots, five houses used as residences, the church and parcels designated to be purchased to provide the proposed parking.

It is noted that new businesses that might wish to locate in the two-block area where vacant lots or houses now stand must provide approximately three parking spaces per square foot of retail floor space, thus assuring that new business as well as existing businesses participate in the cost of providing parking.

The report concludes that an attempt should be made to obtain unanimous consent to set up the assessment program on a voluntary basis so that the expenditures by businesses can then be declared tax deductible.

Duane Butler serves as chairman of the Parking Authority. Other members are Robert Freydl, Del Black, Jack Ruland and Dorothy Kluesner.

Their report is the first concrete proposal for getting a needed job done. It was well received by the council and should be applauded by businessmen who recognize the urgency of providing convenient customer parking, if Northville is to survive as a shopping center.

Finally, the report fails to mention whether or not the parking would be free or metered. But it is understood that it would be free parking.

Centennial Sparks Recollection

To the Editor:

In a round about way I received a copy of your Centennial Edition. I found it very interesting.

In the Church Section you printed a letter which my father wrote about the formation of the First Baptist Church at or near Northville when he was 87 years old. My grandfather (my father's father) was born in 1797. He came to Michigan from Lockport, New York, in 1826 and took up a 160 acre homestead at Eight Mile and Beck Roads. The land grant deed, which I still have, was signed by John Quincy Adams. The cost was $1.65 per acre. It is now estimated to be worth over $3,000 per acre.

My father was born in 1834 in a log cabin which was replaced in 1851 by the house now owned by the City of Detroit. I was born in that house in 1894. My father married my mother when he was 52 years old. My mother, who was 20 years younger, was a daughter of Samuel Blackwood who established a Covenant Church at Novi. Mr. McClough was the first and only minister, as this church was not a success. Most of the congregation, including the Blackwoods, became Presbyterians.

A guy over in Pontiac who has the audacity to call himself a principal and a member of the Hoffman clan wondered aloud this past week why our '69 summer trip to the wilds of Canada failed to warrant any space in this column. "I don't understand it," he said, "I figured it was worth two or three columns of your regular nonsense."

No one, was my rejoinder, likes to open old wounds — this writer least of all. Besides, it is common knowledge that my life would be an ordinary one — if it were not for the people with whom I associate.

Take, for instance, a visit recently to the University of Michigan museum. Had my brother not accompanied me the trip would have been uneventful. But since he was present the worst of tragedies occurred.

Residents of these parts who have visited the museum will remember that the highlight of the exhibits contained therein is a mechanical man who permits viewers to look beneath its skin at the various components of the human body. Computer operated, this mechanical genius moves about on a pedestal, "talking" about parts of its body that light up to pinpoint location.

The mechanical "man" happens to be a "woman," which means it has a good deal more to talk about and a lot more lights to flash on and off.

When all the guests (about 25 adults and children) were seated for the demonstration, the museum host introduced himself, explained that the mechanical man (oops, woman) is operated by a computer and elaborately programmed to do its thing, and then lowered the auditorium lights to start the show. Let me tell you it was a show to end all shows. That the place was not raided and the whole bunch of us weren't carted off to jail was simply our good fortune.

Suffice it to say that when the host pushed the button, the computer lost its cool and the Donald Yerkes' grandmother was my father's sister. Another sister, Diredna, married Samuel Bassett who owned a farm on 12 Mile Road east of the Northville-Walled Lake Rd. My father's mother, whose name was Wakeman, traces back to the signing of the Magna Charter four times. In my grandfather's family, there were twelve children, eight of whom lived to maturity. Our family included Albert, myself, Helen and Henry. Albert, who died 20 years ago, was the founder of The Twin Pines Farm Dairy. I am a realtor and still active as a Real Estate Counselor. Helen is a retired librarian and Henry is a retired teacher.

Your Centennial Edition contained another picture the Haddock Grocery, which is interesting to me. Mr. Haddock, Ray Haddock's father, hired me as a substitute driver for his delivery wagon. He paid me 50 cents a day. It was the first money I ever received working away from our farm.

Later my father let Albert and me take our farm teams to haul gravel from the Knapp pit to improve the road between Northville and Plymouth. For this work our day started at 4:00 a.m. and finished at 9:00 p.m. We received 50 cents an hour for man and team.

In front of the Haddock Grocery, there is a horse and buggy that I am quite sure belonged to us. The buggy was owned jointly by Albert and myself but the horse, Lady Jane, was mine.

William and Mary Slater, our cousins, lived with us for a time. William was a Physics Professor at the University of Michigan. Mary married William A. Paton who became the head of the Accounting Department in the School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan. Dr. Paton has written many books on economics and accounting. He did much to establish the prestige of the Certified Public Accountant, and was in great demand all over the United States as an expert witness. At one time he was considered to be the outstanding authority in this country on accounting theory and practice.

From the above, it is not hard to understand that although I left Northville more than fifty five years ago, I am still interested in Northville and its people.

Sincerely yours,
H. P. Holmes

Contests Trustee On Police Issue

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to the article in last week's Record entitled, "Trustees Discuss Issues". As chairman of both Police Study Committees, I must take exception to Mr. Joseph Straub's answers to questions asked him relating to the "Police Study Report".

First he claims the report was one-sided, doesn't he yet realize the report embodied, in the main, a recommendation? It certainly didn't and couldn't possibly go into all the minute details he keeps referring to. That's exactly why at the outset I suggested a special joint meeting with the full Township board and study committee with the public invited, where nothing but that report would and could be cussed, discussed, and detailed as to the how's, why's and wherefore's! If he read the report at all and gave it any consideration, he would have seen it is not one-sided. The trouble is, as I see it, very simple: Straub, Lawrence, Mitchell, and Hammond committed themselves to hiring Mr. Nisun on a full-time basis even before the annual meeting and in light of that fully intended to completely ignore whatever the report had to say unless it recommended hiring one man 40 hours a week!!

The report printed in full, as a public service by the Northville Record, related more than just the $77,000, required at that time, to contract with the City of Northville, any qualified person would have noted that it said that this figure was approximately half that which would be required to contract with the Sheriff. In other words, 2 X $77,000 = $154,000!! That already sounds like two sides' given, even though three types of service were discussed, and naturally only one of those two sides could be recommended. I never ever heard of recommending more than one side of a two-sided issue. We weren't concerned with out police car in the report. However, we didn't suggest it be dropped in the lake either. Discussion-wise it could have been

Speaking for Myself

Should Teachers have the Right to Strike?

YES...

What is the bargaining process without the right to strike? It is a meaningless word exercise that reduces collective bargaining to a toothless argument.

Yet state legislators, in drafting Public Act 379 in 1965, gave teachers the right to organize and bargain collectively — and deprived them of the right to strike. It doesn't make sense.

There are other reasons the law should be changed, that teachers should be given the ultimate right in the collective bargaining process. The law serves no apparent purpose. Teachers are, in fact, striking.

In essence, the State Supreme Court has ruled in favor of teacher strikes in the Holland case. It is incumbent on school boards seeking injunctive approval to prove that they are bargaining in good faith and that a strike would cause irreparable damage.

Wiping out the no-strike clause need not leave school districts defenseless. Injunctions could be sought in the name of "public health, safety and welfare" if indeed the public was so threatened.

Rolly Peterson

NO...

The cry goes up: "We're not different from anyone else. Why shouldn't we have the right to strike?"

They're teachers that issue the appeal and the basis for my opposition to their right to strike simply is because I do feel teachers are different from anyone else. It's because of this difference — this great opportunity to help a youngster, through understanding, to find happiness in himself and others — that capable people are attracted to the profession to become excellent teachers.

But the hours and hours spent with a student emphasizing the value of patience towards understanding turn to ruin when teachers choose to set an example to the contrary.

No, Teacher, you should not strike because yes, Teacher, you are different.

And if you choose to sacrifice that difference, then you must also sacrifice its resulting satisfactions which, I fear (and I hope), are sacrifices that you realize you cannot make for your own happiness.

Out of the Past

ONE YEAR AGO...

The long standing wooden fence, which had been recently decorated with artistic designs by high school students, was removed from Northville Downs track property and was soon to be replaced by a concrete wall.

The 42-year-old Walled Lake Amusement Park was permanently closed. Park equipment was being removed and a report that the property would be sold was confirmed by a real estate agency.

ALSAC - Aiding Luekemia Stricken American Children - was the cause which would put 100 Northville teenagers on all the city's streets to collect from house to house.

FIVE YEARS AGO...

A meeting last week between area officials and Gerald Remus, general manager of the Detroit Water Board, failed to settle the question of what route the Detroit water line would follow through the city of Northville. The Northville city council had balked at Detroit's suggestion that the line be extended through town, down Center Street to the Wayne County Training School.

First winner of the First Lady Homemaker award at the Michigan State Fair was Mrs. Fred W. Cobb of Northville. The new award, presented by Mrs. George Romney, was given for most points in canning, baking and needlework combined.

Twenty-four hours after he was nominated as a candidate for the township board's trustee position, Jim Tellam was sworn in as an official board member. The switch took place when Trustee Donald Robinson, defeated by Tellam in the primary race resigned.

Gurnsey Farms Dairy - long established in Northville - would soon move into a new building. Ground-breaking ceremonies were staged at a new site on Novi Road just east of Village Green subdivision.

City council members had given their stamp of approval to a resolution calling for the creation of a municipal court in the city. The new local court was to replace the justice of the peace court then serving the city.

In five days qualified electors of the village of Novi would decide an issue that had become the hottest in the history of the community. By casting "yes" or "no" ballots voters would determine whether or not Novi should become a city incorporated with its same borders.

A holiday break-in at the junior high school - believed the work of children - resulted in some $25 damages to newly-painted and plastered walls.

More than 600 area residents toured the renovated Community General hospital in a special open house showing prior to re-opening the former sessions hospital. New owners were H.L. Bergo and Abraham Farris.

A 400,000-gallon spheroid water tower was to become a landmark for the community of Northville. The tower had been chosen by the city council to be constructed near the reservoir in the northwest section of the city.

Northville's business district sidewalks were rapidly being replaced. Workers had completed North Center street between Main and Dunlap; Main and South Center Streets were next.

Dr. Charles E. Brake, deputy superintendent of Wayne County Schools, was a featured speaker at the annual Community Church and School Night. His talk was on the role of the church and the community in strengthening the public school program.

Remodeling of Gunsell's Drug Store was started. Plans for remodeling the store included the installation of a modern glass front, asphalt tile floor, new ceiling, modern thin tube lighting, and lighted showcases.

Bob German, 18, Northville, wanted to go to Michigan State to become a veterinary so he sold his four-year-old trotter, Ben Brooks. That week the new owner, John H. Toner of Detroit had refused $10,000 for the horse.

The annual flower, fruit, and vegetable show, sponsored by the local branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, was planned.

A total of 1,035 pupils had enrolled in the Northville grade and high schools, according to Superintendent R. H. Amerman. The previous year's enrollment was 1003.

The men who were paving Main Street called a strike, demanding a 60 cents an hour wage.

Northville's County Fair was slated to open.

An American Legion was organized here.

Chamber Endorses Downs Donation

To the Editor:

With regard, and respect to the contribution of Northville Downs to the City of Northville and irrespective of anybody as to the reason for the contribution, it appears without question that this is an outright gift to the City of Northville in the sum of $50,000.00 annually for a period of five (5) years, and equivalent to about ten (10) per cent of its annual operating budget and at a time when all small communities are having difficulty in obtaining funds for operational purposes. Northville Downs has to be congratulated by our organization, whose duty it is to be interested in the general development of our City.

Moreover, assuming that Northville Downs benefits by these improvements and we are sure that it will, Northville Downs operates for two months out of the year, and would benefit from it for that period of time only. The fact remains that the entire community will benefit and enjoy these improvements for the entire year.

In addition the money allotted to the City (twenty percent of the money derived by the State from the absorbed by either the Township Water Department, the City or County, in any contract.

We also weren't concerned in the report with what happened to any "policeman" because we didn't have one. We had and still have a Township Officer or Ordinance Enforcer. Mr. Straub, let's quit fooling around and call a spade a spade. You and your cohorts had no intention of paying any heed whatever to the study committee you yourself asked for, for the express purpose of answering questions relating to the needs, and if any, what, when, and how in matters of police.

You state that we criticized the Board in the first and last paragraph, and all you did was to put a man on full-time instead of part-time. Clearly and easily said. Back up in time a little and search your conscience and I'm sure you'll find that your motion on April 1, 1969 led all concerned to believe that all matters relating to police were to be held in abeyance until the study committee made its report. Sometime immediately after that meeting one of you discovered the omission of Agenda Item 2E being included in Armstrong's motion and took advantage of it at the next meeting. If your group did not in fact take advantage of it, what then, was the sense at all in your motion???

You mention our "squawking" about $9,500. If you will honestly recall, we squawked, if you will, about that figure being a starting figure and totally out of line with any other full-fledged policeman in the metropolitan area. Even Detroit and Wayne County, start at $7,500 and eventually after certain years of service and training progress to $10,300 which I have no quarrel with. We were talking of a pay range as opposed to any single figure.

Now let's put the facts straight and we'll see who's not telling the truth, as you say we weren't. The original committee had seven members, the recent committee was composed of nine members, so they all heard the same questions and answers we put to the police experts we called in for assistance. I'm referring to the business of the Sheriff and/or State Police withdrawing their services. First let's get the question straight. Yours and Mitchell's question, not ours, has to be "If the Township hires a full-time officer, would you withdraw our present services", and the answer has been and still is NO. None of us on the committee ever said otherwise.

Out question in 1966 was, "If the Township contracts for full-time, 24 hours, 7 days a week, police service from the City of Northville or has its own full-fledged police with full authority to perform all police services, would you then withdraw your present regular patrol service? The answer was YES, from Deputy Inspector Novak of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol. He did indicate that the Road Patrol would still be, as they are elsewhere, including Detroit, a backup in the event our force was in dire need. The State Police said much the same thing in response, except to say they conduct no "regular patrols" in our area as is the same in other areas, therefore there would be no change in the service they provide throughout the state, which they also do in Detroit. Priority, however, would go to those areas having no police force of its own. Incidentally, Mrs. Hammond heard this repeated by Colonel Frederick Davids, Commander of the State Police, just this past Thursday evening.

Sheriff Gribbs said they do not provide regular patrol services to Redford Township since it has its own police force. I'm sure you would find the Wayne County Board of Supervisors frowning on the Sheriff's patrolmen patrolling in areas that have full service police forces. You see Detroit might ask for regular patrol service as would Dearborn, Allen Park, etc., etc.!!

Now in the matter of Officer Ron Nisun being hired by the Sheriff, or more accurately as you state we, "made inferences he is not a qualified policeman". Frankly Sir, I don't have any way of knowing whether or not Mr. Nisun is a qualified "policeman" or not. Please right here let me say I don't even know Mr Nisun whom I am given to understand is really a pretty nice fellow. Through no fault of his own he seems to be right in the middle.

What I personally meant when I said, and let's get it right this time, Messrs. Straub, Lawrence, and Mitchell, "I'm afraid Mr. Nisun does not meet the qualifications of the Sheriff's Patrol". Let's get one other thing straight. When Mitchell asked Sheriff Gribbs, at one of our meetings if he would hire Mr. Nisun, the Sheriff said, "Yes, if he meets the qualifications! Now for your information Mr. Straub and any others in error on this point, the Sheriff of Wayne County does not have the authority to hire any patrolman! The Wayne County Civil Service Commission hires all personnel for all departments of county government for the employer, the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

I am attaching an announcement from the Wayne County Civil Service Commission for an Open Competitive Examination for Patrolman. The pay range is $7,500 to $10,300 a year. I direct your attention to Qualification No. 3. It is a fact Mr. Nisun does not meet this qualification, since he is in his 40th year.

3. Have passed their 21st birthday, but not have passed their 36th birthday; Note: Applicants over 35 years of age who are otherwise qualified and who have not passed their 51st birthday will be admitted to the examination, if for each year of age, or partial year, that the applicant's age exceeds 35 years he has an equal number of years, or partial years, of full-time paid police experience in a recognized public police agency.

Raps Litterbugs

To the Editor

Those who regularly drive between 7 and 8 Mile Roads on Haggerty will notice that an old refrigerator, complete with a kid-trap door, has replaced the VW hulk that was abandoned there earlier. The VW had replaced countless bathtubs, mattresses, bed springs, and couches over the years, each waiting for public clean-up crews. The bottles, beer cans and smaller pieces of junk seem never to get picked up - or is it that the local residents and clean-up crews just can't keep up with it? I can't help thinking that an open, advertised, and supervised public dump would be cheaper in the long run.

Public roads aren't the only litter collectors. Subdivision lawns are getting more and more of it. What do parents think happens to the plastic cups, candy and gum wrappers, bottles and other junk they send out with their children? It lands on the streets and lawns of their neighbors. Where do they think their unsupervised dog goes when they let it out to "air"? Aren't these parents as thoughtless as the man who would dump his rusted washing machine on a public road? I think so.

They are teaching their youngsters either by example or neglect to be selfish and thoughtless. No wonder other forms of the pollution problem aren't being solved. Some people don't seem to be conscious of the most obvious form of it. litter.

Parents, where is your sense of responsibility?

Sincerely Yours,
G. Michael Abbott

Many physical education departments look at the $2.7-million building being erected at Schoolcraft College and just naturally envy Athletic Director Marv Gans and his six-man department.

And a majority of the many sit back and say: "Oh, with a building like that, the program I'd have."

And that's the difference between Marv Gans' department and many others — without its own facilities since the beginning, Schoolcraft has refused to sit back but instead has wheeled around and dealt with other area educators in order to have a place to play a multitude of extra-curricular and intercollegiate athletics.

That impressive physical education building going up on the Schoolcraft College is the house that ambition has built.

It all began back in 1964 when Marv Gans' physical education department was Marv Gans period. The only man on the staff in the first year of the college, Gans launched cross country, swimming and basketball on the intercollegiate level in 1964-65 and has constantly worked and expanded the program until today Schoolcraft offers a variety of intercollegiate and extra-curricular athletic activities and is also the home of the nation's fourth-best junior college soccer team in 1968.

Gans, himself a chunky easterner who played soccer, wrestled and "believe it or not" ran cross country at Hunter College, maintains a busy schedule which makes it impossible for little things like eating dinner with his family on weekdays or getting haircuts during regular hours.

"We believe in a total program here," he emphasized. "We must offer a variety of activities on both intercollegiate and instructional levels."

"We look at ourselves as an area resource center in physical education and athletics and we're striving to build that image," he adds.

Obviously, it's physical education — not just gym class — at Schoolcraft.

"When we started out it was swimming practice at one school on certain nights and someplace else other days," he explains, "and one year we had to practice swimming at 6 a.m. in order to get a pool."

"Of course, we offered coffee and donuts," he muses.

Presently, in order to have a golf instructional program, Gans has a class that combines practices at Hines Park, an area driving range and Brooklane Golf Course.

But soon — completion of the physical education building is slated for January — things will be different: Schoolcraft will have its own place to play and the building which Marv Gans knows so well will indeed be one of the finest of its kind.

The physical education building will provide facilities for swimming, wrestling, basketball, modern dance, hand ball and volleyball with spectator accommodations, classrooms and offices. Gans can point to one area and show compromises that have been made in order to provide a little something elsewhere or in order to meet the limitations that dollars-and-cents have imposed.

"Now we're working to build the image of junior college athletics — to tell the people what we offer," he explains.

Today Schoolcraft has an intercollegiate program including the originals — cross country, swimming and basketball — plus soccer, tennis and golf. But the lack of facilities and staffing in the past has imposed several obstacles in the department's growth and caused delays in an ambitious plan for development.

"We've come a long way to where we are and we've got a long way to go yet," Gans observes.

And so the Schoolcraft program continues to grow setting an example within itself of doing with what it's got — an enthusiasm which builds buildings but cannot be built into them.

Lions' Loss Tricks Picks

Pittsburgh's stunning 16-13 upset win over the Detroit Lions on Sunday also proved to be an upset for the overwhelming number of entries in the annual Northville Record-NOVI News football contest.

Nevertheless, four contestants in the first weekly contest managed to come out on top even though they, like the majority of contestants, picked Detroit to win their first regular season game.

First-place money of $10 goes to Ed Kritch of 860 Spring Drive, who missed only one of the 16 games. He guessed Detroit to win over Pittsburgh, 31-14.

Second place winner with three mistakes was Jerry Asher of 453 Grace Street. Jerry beat on the two contestants tied for third by picking a closer score in the Detroit-Pittsburgh game even though he had incorrectly picked Detroit to win.

Tied for third with three mistakes each were Howard Kern, 126 North Center, and Mrs. Barbara McDonald, 332 Sherrie Lane.

Aside from the beating contestants took in trying to pick the National Football League winner, two college games also proved difficult for them. Most picked Iowa to defeat Oregon State and Illinois to thump Washington State. But when the games ended, it was Oregon State smashing Iowa, 42-14, and Washington State nipping Illinois, 19-18.

Contestants who failed to win last week and those who failed to enter will get another crack at prize money again this week. See contest rules on Page 12A.

Ocelots Suffer Setback In Triangular at Macomb

The Schoolcraft College cross-country team, suffering from injuries to two of its runners, was unable to qualify in its triangular meet Friday with Washtenaw Community College and Macomb Community College at Macomb.

According to Coach Jim Millen, ex-Redford Union athlete Craig LeRoux was forced out of the meet by a recurring leg injury while teammate

Don Yanschenson became ill on the course. A team must have five runners finish to qualify for scoring and without LeRoux and Yanschenson, the Ocelots were left with only four.

Schoolcraft will host Oakland Community College — Auburn Hills on Friday and then travel to Oakland Community College — Orchard Ridge next Tuesday. The Ocelots are 1-0 in dual competition.

Wildcat Jayvees Drop First of Season—18-0

The Little Wildcats, after an impressive opener against Hartland on September 12, suffered their first defeat last Thursday in losing to Dexter, 18-0.

The visiting Dreadnaughts broke open a 0-0 tie by scoring twice in the third quarter and once in the last period.

Jayvee Coach Fred Gerhardt complimented Wildcat linebacker Gary Collins and Guard Pat Ford for their performances during the contest. Ford played both ways while Collins was forced to sit out the last half because of a minor injury.

Today (Thursday) the Little Wildcats were to play at Chelsea. Gerhardt's squad blanked Hartland, 34-0, in its opener.

Clarenceville Breezes, 16-0 Mustangs Take Beating

Northville took a 16-0 pasting at the hands of Clarenceville here Friday but the score was hardly indicative of the real beating.

On the ground, in the air, and at the line, the Mustangs were simply no match for the Trojans who controlled the ball from start to finish.

Only three times did Northville cross the midfield and one of those was a deep penetration on an interception. Less than 20 plays by both sides originated in Clarenceville's territory. Only twice did Northville engineer more than four plays in a row.

Significantly, for the second consecutive week Northville suffered a safety — a fact that harassed backs are not likely to let the offensive line forget when Milford comes to town this Friday.

On the other side of the ledger, the Mustangs can point with some satisfaction at its defensive line and backfield. That Clarenceville was unable to score more often while camping inside Northville's 50 most of the night says something for the Mustangs' defense.

Northville intercepted two Clarenceville passes and on three other occasions the Mustangs stopped Trojan drives inside the 20.

Even Clarenceville's first touchdown can be blamed on Northville's aggressive defense. Clarenceville was just getting its first series underway shortly after the game opened when a deflected pass was batted downfield by a Northville defender and into the outstretched arms of Jim Barrons, who galloped 45 yards for the TD.

The Trojans beefed up the score early in the final quarter after pushing the Mustangs to their own 11-yard-line. Quarterback Rich Adams, back to pass, was smothered at the two on the first play from scrimmage. On the next play, Bruce Laufer smashed through the line and into the end zone to bring down Halfback Scott Stuart for the safety.

Taking the kick after the safety, Clarenceville drove to the Northville 35 with two yards to go for the first down. Then, even though Northville's defense had been alerted for a possible fake kick, Clarenceville executed it beautifully as Rob Weller fired a perfect pass down the left side of the field to Bob Ridling who raced across the goal for a 35-yard TD. Mike Dunan carried the ball for the two-point conversion.

Northville's biggest scoring threat occurred late in the first quarter. With Clarenceville on Northville's 24, Dave Coe intercepted a pass at the 16 and raced 68 yards before the Trojans brought him down. On the first play, Northville punched to the Clarenceville 14 before staggering backwards and finally running out of steam at the 21.

Just before the intermission, Northville took advantage of three successive Clarenceville penalties to push to the opponent's 40. Late in the fourth quarter, a short-lived Northville drive carried to the Clarenceville 41 for the only other "threat" of the game.

That last first-half effort by the Mustangs was set up by Bob Prisk, who intercepted a Clarenceville pass at Northville's 10 and then fought his way back to the 25. The Trojans had pushed to the 15 before losing the ball on the interception.

Another Showdown Ahead for Novis

It seems like lately every time the Novi Wildcats turn around, they're faced with what the sporting world likes to call A Showdown. And this Friday they're faced with two — one (defending Southeastern Conference champion Chelsea) plus one (explosive tailback Larry Gorton).

But there also is one plus on the Wildcats' side: Coach John Osborne's team will be playing at home and it's been a long time since the Green has lost before the home folks.

And another definite Wildcat plus has to be 180-pound tailback Rick Hill who has rushed for an average of 144 yards in the season's first two games.

The Wildcats opened their 1969 season against Hartland, one of only two teams which handed them a defeat last year. Showdown No. 1 today is a happy memory on Taft Road after an impressive 32-14 victory.

And then last week the Wildcats were confronted with their first Southeastern Conference opponent and, since Novi next season will be in the Southeastern, pressure mounted around Showdown No. 2.

The Wildcats continued to be impressive Friday jumping off to an early lead before suffering their first defeat of the young season to Dexter, 14-6. And so the most recent showdown is a satisfying memory if not an entirely happy one.

And now an undefeated Chelsea and Gorton — Showdowns No. 3 and No. 4, respectively.

"I don't know what to say," Osborne related after reviewing Friday's game with Dexter. "The kids played good ball. We definitely have trouble playing catch-up. We'd rather be ahead and playing ball control than fall behind and have to resort to the long pass."

Osborne emphasized that the pass — frequently from Dexter's Greg Ianni to Tom Snyder — came at crucial times in the contest Friday.

Meanwhile, Chelsea was handing conference rival Dundee a 14-20 shutout — the second of the season for Coach Phil Bareis' squad. And Gorton was scoring touchdowns on runs of 12 and 46 yards.

But the Wildcats haven't lost at home since October, 1967 and Hill has yet to be stopped by anybody offensively — two factors, two pluses if you will, which could equalize or overcome Chelsea's one-plus-one.

Game time will be 7:30 p.m.

with

COACH JOHN OSBORNE

Wildcats Impressive in Loss

Novi High School has apparently established itself as a power to be reckoned with in the Southeastern Conference although it's a wait-until-next-year proposition before the Wildcats begin competition for a football title in the rugged area league.

Playing its first game against a Southeastern member, Coach John Osborne's squad on Friday made a good first impression against the Dexter Dreadnaughts before being overcome by their opponents' more balanced attack.

The Wildcats took a first-period lead after marching in to score on their first series but then were unable to launch another successful drive while Dexter proceeded to power its way to a 14-6 victory.

The contest, played in brisk temperatures before about 800 people at Dexter, was Novi's first loss and the Dreadnaughts' second victory after both teams posted successful openers the previous week.

The Wildcats host Chelsea, defending Southeastern Conference champion, this Friday in a game to begin at 7:30 p.m. Chelsea, Dexter and nearby South Lyon all have been listed as contenders for the SC title.

Novi becomes a member of the conference beginning with the winter sports season with Osborne, who is also the Wildcat athletic director, having scheduled Dexter, Chelsea, Ypsilanti Lincoln and South Lyon — all of the Southeastern — for this fall.

Lincoln upset South Lyon last Friday, 14-6, with indications now that the Wildcats this season will be sampling the best the conference has to offer on the gridiron.

The Dreadnaughts won the toss and chose to receive with the ensuing first series from scrimmage unsuccessful as 105-pound Quarterback Greg Ianni's first two passing attempts went incomplete. Later, however, it was the Ianni-Tom Snyder combination through the air which sparked Dexter's first scoring drive.

The Wildcats assumed possession for the first time on their own 29 and proceeded to march 71 yards in 14 plays — and five minutes — with Rick Hill climaxing the drive as he swept into the end zone on fourth down from four yards out.

It was Hill's running off the tackles and Junior Quarterback Tom Boyer's rollouts which accounted for all the yardage — along with a pass from Boyer to Quarterback-End Phil McMillen — in the successful march. Hill, a 180-pound senior speedster, had ran for a total of 38 yards in the drive while Boyer's 21-yard rollout to the Dexter 20 was the largest gainer.

top 'Cat

WILDCAT RICK HILL'S average performance apparently is an excellent one as the senior halfback-linebacker was selected as Top 'Cat again this week for the second consecutive time. Hill on Friday against Dexter rushed for 143 yards and made 18 tackles while the week before he had rushed for 146 yards and also starred defensively. "We talked it over and the players just figured that he's 'Top 'Cat' again and that's the way it should be," Coach John Osborne reports.

Colts Claim Victory Against Garden City

The Northville Colts, of the Junior Football Association, won its junior varsity contest with the Garden City Tigers on Sunday, 2-0, but suffered a 13-6 setback for its varsity and a 20-6 loss by the frosh.

Thus Sunday the Colts play the Livonia Hawks at Livonia Bentley High School. Game time is 1 p.m.

Jayvees Beaten By Western, 48-0

The Mustang jayvees suffered a 48-0 defeat in their football opener last week Tuesday at Walled Lake Western.

Coach Pete Johnson explained that he used his entire 38-man team in the contest in order to give playing time to the inexperienced squad. Eight of the original jayvee members had been promoted to the varsity leaving Johnson with a number of starting positions to fill for the encounter.

This week the jayvees were to host Clarenceville on Tuesday.

Klukach Eyes Surprise Over Surprising Milford

Earlier this season when Coach Al Klukach was looking ahead to the Wayne-Oakland League football race, he picked Milford to make a surprise run for the title.

And now after two games, and looking for his first victory, Klukach would like to surprise the surprising Redskins who have lived up to his expectations in winning their first two games.

Friday night the neighboring W-O member invades the local scene in a Parents' Night contest slated to begin at 8 p.m. And Klukach would like his Mustangs to show Mom and Dad and a lot of other people how they can

mustanger

VETERAN HALFBACK Dave Coe was chosen by the Mustang coaching staff as Mustanger this week following his two-way performance last Friday against Clarenceville. Coe was moved from defensive halfback to linebacker for the contest and his ability in making the transition, along with his offensive efforts, were the home team's best during the game, according to Coach Al Klukach. Coe, a 160-pounder, is a senior and was a regular defensively last season.

with

COACH AL KLUKACH

upset Coach Jerry Ganzel's Redskins.

"They've got a pair of good, fast halfbacks in John Newcomb and Matt Patridge," Klukach observes of this week's opponent. "The favor the run but they've also got a fast end and they can pass."

It seems that the Redskins literally ran away with the 1968 conference track title and many of the same athletics have allowed the school to run off to an early lead in the league's blooming football season.

Speed is a key asset in their game but, more importantly, Klukach is concentrating on getting his own forces up psychologically.

"We made an awful lot of mistakes last week," the mentor explains referring to the 16-0 defeat by Clarenceville. "I think we just came off the Plymouth game flat and just couldn't shake it.

"We just didn't seem to be hitting like we have been," he added.

Co-Captain Terry Mills re-injured an ankle in the Clarenceville contest and his status for this week is doubtful. Scott Stuart is expected to step in if Mills is unavailable, according to Klukach.

Otherwise, the team is healthy and hopefully the Parents' Night observance will inspire a better performance than last week's.

"I think that they play a little better on Parents' Night and Homecoming," the coach relates.

Offensively, the Mustangs last week slumped to a point that it could muster only 23 yards. Rushing represented an embarrassing minus-29 yards with the passing attack, accounting for 52 yards, keeping the final totals out of the red.

Therefore, on Friday the Mustangs won't only be forced to contain what appears to be a pretty explosive Milford attack, they must also get their own going.

decision, he said. Later, in moving to approve the rezoning Lapham said he did so to benefit the community even though friends and relatives opposed his position.

Among others who spoke in opposition to the rezoning were Joseph Shipley, Mrs. Kate Edgerton, Robert Davis, Howard Sherman, Robert Crawford, and Steve Folino. Other objections ranged from arguments that previous newsstories on the proposed supermarket site had inaccurately pinpointed its location on North Center, that the development would cause safety problems for children walking to and from school along Center Street, that another A&P supermarket is already slated for Novi Road. (Novi officials have no word of it), to a charge that city planners have failed to develop property already zoned for commercial use in the downtown area.

Capsule positions of other council officials:

Councilman Kenneth Rathert — Sympathizes with property owners adjacent to the proposed supermarket but must consider the interests of the entire community.

Councilman Paul Folino — The development will benefit the community and he is confident that the "old" Northville atmosphere of the community will survive.

Mayor A.M. Allen — It's unfortunate that council decisions cannot please everyone but decisions must reflect each councilman's judgment as to what is best for the community.

questions concerning the proposal, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie pointed out that the annual donation begins this fiscal year, that the Downs cannot guarantee that future owners will carry through on the agreement in the unlikely possibility that the race track is sold, and that the Downs considers it the city's responsibility for purchasing right-of-way land for the proposed extension of Wing Street.

In accepting the proposal, councilmen expressed their appreciation of the gift, noted that it was made with "no strings attached," and pointing out that improvements resulting from the money will aid both the city and a large taxpayer.

Councilman Wallace Nichols, while approving the gift, commented that it is unfortunate that it requires a gift to "get us off dead center" on city improvements.

The policy statement issued by the council points out that the money is to be deposited in the city's public improvement account and to be budgeted annually for projects included in the city's five-year public improvement program.

"This donation is accepted as a showing of faith by Northville Downs in the future of our city," the policy states. "This city council pledges to ensure that the funds are used for those public improvements deemed so necessary for the realization of our previously determined goals."

Among the projects high on the list within the five-year improvement program is the extension of Griswold Street and the extension of Wing Street.

'SPECIAL OLYMPICS' WINNERS — A total of 19 medals were won by the 23 students from the Wayne County Child Development Center who took part in the Great Lakes regional Special Olympics for retarded children. ## New Polk Directory For Area Completed

The 1969 Plymouth and Northville City Directory published by R. L. Polk & Co., Detroit, is off the press and is now being delivered to subscribers here.

Persons 18 years of age and older are listed in the directory as well as business concerns. The directory shows occupation or business connection, marital status and name of wife, whether head of a house or roomer, names and titles of proprietors and officers of corporations, and other items of information.

Special features include the designations of tenant-owned and rented homes, numerical telephone guide, telephone-number listings by streets and houses and a descriptive and statistical story of Plymouth and Northville. The variety of business hereabouts is revealed by the 241 groups cataloged in the yellow pages of the new Directory.

Voters Leagues Meeting Today

Two local Leagues of Women Voters will hold a joint meeting today (Thursday) at Schoolcraft College to take consensus on school financing.

Members of the Provisional League of Northville-Plymouth Area and the League of Women Voters of Livonia will decide questions on which level or levels (local, state, federal) should be responsible for financing education, which of these should bear the greatest share and why, and should the greatest share of the funding be derived from property tax, income tax or some other source.

The 8:30 p.m. joint meeting will be held in the faculty dining room of the Waterman Campus Center. For more information about the League of Women Voters contact Mrs. Donald Birkmeier, 453-2681.

Time Guide for Color Season

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"Then Came Bronson" isn't likely to turn the world upside down and its hero is suspect because he rides a motorcycle. But there's every indication, from the preview movie and the first hour-long program last week, that "Then Came Bronson" will be one of the more substantial TV programs this season.

"Bronson" has the same ethereal appeal that "The Fugitive" had when it was going strong some years ago. Played by Michael Parks, Bronson is an ex-newspaper man in search of meaning to life. Rather than flow unquestioningly with the tide, Bronson has decided to fight the flow and see the world.

Last week's episode carried him, aboard his motorcycle, into a mountain camp converted to help the mentally disturbed in tranquil surroundings. The episode was as touching as it was ephemeral, and had some of the gossamer quality of the premiere movie on which the weekly programs are based.

There was one flaw. And that was the inclusion of an attractive girl in the script, a girl whose professor father was operating the camp. The amorous asides injected an unnecessary glamorous escapist element that detracted from the flow of the story.

Otherwise, the episode wasn't half bad. Instead of ascribing to any "school approaches" to disturbed children, Bronson chose to be himself and deal with a disturbed youngster as he saw fit, relying heavily on love and understanding.

The little boy Bronson took charge of sat on the bed, his head covered by a football helmet as he stared at the floor. One of the counselors sat beside him, waiting patiently, trying to teach the little boy by holding cards with elementary words on them in front of his face. No response.

Enter another counselor with a youngster on his arm. The helmeted youth explodes into a tantrum, bent on destroying himself or at least inflicting severe injury by bashing his head uncontrollably on the floor. After some grappling, the counselor calms him as the intruding child is led from the cabin.

The little boy is a castoff who has never spoken a word, and it's Bronson's mission to communicate somehow with the youngster. The therapy involves trips through the woods, one on one contact, a rope around the boy's waist so he won't run away, establishing a certain reliability and dependence.

Only after some travail, Bronson breaks through the boy's armor of silence. No words are spoken but the boy does respond to people. He's far from cured, but at least he has been started on the road to normalcy as Bronson breaks camp and continues his swim upstream.

On Cranbrook Campus

Flowers, Atoms Await Visitors

Internationally famous Cranbrook is but a single name for a number of autonomous institutions located on a 400-acre campus that owes its existence to the imagination and financial contributions of the late George G. Booth and his wife, Ellen Scripps Booth.

Founded early in the Twentieth Century, Cranbrook is the former home and estate of the Booths. It was named for the village in Kent, England, ancestral home of the Booth family.

First of the institutions in this vast educational and cultural center in Bloomfield Hills was the "Meeting House," used first as a church and later as a school. It has been in use since the first session in 1922, serving as a community religious, social, and educational center. Today, the meeting house is called Brookside School Cranbrook and is a co-educational elementary day school.

Over the years numerous other facilities were launched at Cranbrook. Today, Cranbrook includes:

Cranbrook Academy of Arts, the Academy Galleries, Cranbrook Institute of Science, Christ Church Cranbrook, Brookside, Cranbrook School, and Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Among the special features at Cranbrook that visitors find especially interesting are the gardens of Cranbrook House. Surrounding the home of the late founders, 40 acres of casual and formal plantings delight visitors from spring through October. Located in the gardens are sculpture courts, a Greek theater, cascades and pinewalks.

The gardens are open Tuesday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Grounds fees are 75-cents for adults and 25-cents for children on weekends, and 50-cents and 25-cents on week days.

Christ Church Cranbrook, a Protestant Episcopal parish, is an impressive example of English Gothic architecture. It houses artistic treasures representing the work of outstanding artisans from the 12th Century to the present. Visitors are welcome from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Cranbrook Academy of Arts Galleries display student work, historical and contemporary art from its permanent collections, and changing exhibits from national and international sources. Educational activities include gallery talks, adults' and children's classes, lectures and exhibits.

Admission to the galleries, open Tuesday through Friday from noon to 5 p.m. and on weekends from 1 to 5 p.m., is 50-cents on weekdays, 75-cents on weekends for adults and 25-cents for children at all times.

The Academy of Art, which supervises the galleries, is an accredited institution that offers the bachelor of fine arts, master of fine arts, and master of architecture degrees. The late Carl Milles, renowned Swedish sculptor, was a resident artist for 21 years and created the majority of the pieces for the gardens and fountains.

Featuring exhibits that trace the history of the earth from its beginnings to the cultural development of man, the institute of science features among its permanent displays one of the world's finest mineral collections, the Hall of Numbers, and the physics section with exhibits in atomic and nuclear physics. The atomarium, planetarium and observatory offer public demonstrations. Additional classes and field trips for children and adults are conducted throughout the year.

Open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and on weekends from 1 to 5 p.m., the institute of science charges an admission fee of $1.25 for adults and 50-cents for children (K-12) at all times.

Cranbrook School (not to be confused with Brookside) is a secondary boarding and day school for boys, grades 7 through 12,

Visitors from this area can best reach Cranbrook by taking I-696 to Telegraph, Telegraph north to Lone Pine Road, and east to the campus.

First Baptist Church of South Lyon

His Hand is Extended

The Old Testament is filled with prophecies even if we concern ourselves with only those predicting the Coming Messiah and surrounding incidents. The minutest details with which these prophecies have been fulfilled leave even the Bible scholar in awe and wonderment. Man would have to be blinded by Satan himself who trembled at the truth, not to see the Old Testament prophecies fulfilled in Christ. The Jewish Nation embrace the promises of the Coming Messiah but fail to see them fulfilled in a Lowly Galilean.

History has been stated as being fulfilled prophecy and prophecy as history yet unfulfilled. However, we do not have to look back to ancient history or forward to what is yet to come to see God's Mighty Steps resounding for the Jew today. Great nations have persecuted and executed millions, but fail to crush or prevent history that they shall 'number as the sands of the sea'. How easy it is to see God working in the destiny of the Jew and fail to realize that His judgements and promises are not reserved for only the Jew.

The most amazing and direct promise of judgement came to Belshazzar, ruler of Ancient Babylon. He had defied God, walking contrary to His teachings, and calling his leaders to do likewise in a riotous, sacrilegious feast which would have been a fast if they had known that the enemy already crouched within the city walls!

The warning came directly from the Hand of God, "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting" — too light in our Spiritual possessions to balance out the Scales of God. Rather, we are weighed too heavily with material things, blasphemous conduct, and unbelief that His judgements are sure. We already stand condemned in our trespasses but because God is longsuffering, His Hand is extended in a Call to Revival such as this generation has never known; or accept His Hand of judgement.

ONE IDEA OF GOD

At the entrance to the valley where they buried their kings an ancient and industrious people carved the Sphinx.

This was their idea of God: the body of a lion, suggesting power... the face of a man, suggesting personality... the whole amazing image suggesting their belief in a MIGHTY deity who could be KNOWN.

Today, in our churches, we worship God as Jesus Christ revealed Him: almighty but merciful... knowing and eager to be known... loving man and seeking man's love... saving all who believe in their Saviour — His Son!

Can the ancient Sphinx have any significance for men and women like ourselves who have before us the Gospel and example of Christ?

Only this. As long as it remains, the awesome Sphinx will remind us of man's search for God. Just as our own church bells remind us of our opportunity to know, love, and serve Him!

Babson Report

Recreation Boom Continues in Wake of Leisure Time

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS. — Over the past decade or so, the spurt in all forms of leisure time activity has been phenomenal. Because of the public's penchant for travel plus the popularity of skiing, bowling, snowmobiling and other wintertime activities, the leisure time field is now a year round affair. It is estimated that the annual overall recreation market in the U. S. is currently worth about $100 billion, and by 1975 will rise to $250 billion.

The field of leisure and recreation extends far beyond the makers of sporting goods, boats and camp trailers. To be all-inclusive, one would have to regard as being at least partially in the general recreation area the producers of sports clothes, photographic supplies and television sets, publishing companies, hotel and motel operators, auto and tire firms, transportation companies, motion picture firms, and many other companies and industries that benefit directly or indirectly from the public's yen for amusement or entertainment.

TWO GROUPS that are directly related to the recreation boom are naturally those in the sporting goods business and those who produce pleasure boats. It is estimated that the market for sporting goods is around $4 billion with about $250 million of this being spent on golfing equipment (excluding club membership, greens fees, etc.) and over $25 million for tennis rackets and equipment. Many additional millions are expended for fishing and hunting items, ski equipment, billiard tables, bowling products, archery equipment, etc.

As for boating, it is estimated that there were nearly 8.5 million boats in operation last year. Total boat and retail engine business was in the area of $3.15 billion. By the middle of the next decade, boating expenditures could approximate $4.5 billion.

The boom that has occurred in the recreation field for more than a decade shows no sign of abating; all factors point to further good progress. Among the more positive factors are: high and growing personal incomes; a shorter work week; more long weekends; and an increased population (especially in the under-30 age group).

Obviously this growing and lucrative industry has attracted a great many companies so that competition is severe. Among the better known entries in the field are American Machine & Foundry, Bangor Punta, Brunswick, Chris-Craft, Coleman, Fugua, Outboard Marine, and Wilson Sporting Goods. All of these firms should continue to benefit in coming years from the expected growth in the recreation market.

THREE OTHER companies that appear to be favorably situated in the leisure time field are Gladding Corp., Questor Corp., and Warnaco. We recommend purchase of the stocks of these companies.

GLADDING CORP. is an important though relatively small producer of fishing equipment and accessories. Through acquisitions, it has expanded into toys, sleeping bags, campers and recreational vehicles, specialty textile fibers, sporting goods, and marine electronic equipment. Earnings are on the uptrend. The stock has good appreciation potential.

QUESTOR CORP.'S well known trade names are Spalding, Dot, Reach, Kro Flite, Wright & Ditson, and Executive. It is a leader in the field of sporting goods; recently it also entered the education products market through acquisition of Child Guidance Toys, and the infant feeding field. Company is also a large producer of automotive parts.

WARNACO is an important producer of men's and women's sportswear. Ski clothes, tank suits, and tennis outfits are all included in the Warnaco line. Clothes are sold under the Peerless, Hathaway, Puritan, and White Stag labels. Company has a good past record and we expect further sales and earnings progress. In the judgment of the Babson's Reports research staff, both the common stock and the $1.50 convertible preferred may be purchased for appreciation.

Junior Horse Show Slated in November

Plans are set for the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show to be held at the Michigan State Fairgrounds November 7, 8 and 9.

The junior livestock show, which has included steer, swine and lamb entries for the past 39 years, will be twice as big this year because horse classes are being added for the first time.

The public is invited to attend. Admission will be free of charge for both the livestock judging and the daily horse shows in the Coliseum.

E. J. (Jeff) Keirns, Michigan State Fair manager who is the new president of the Detroit Junior Livestock Society, expects 200 entries in the steer, swine and lamb market classes and another 200 entries in the horse classes by the October 17 deadline.

The expanded show will include 42 horse performance classes and 18 in-hand classes, according to James B. Jones of Flint, junior horse show manager. He said it will be the first All-Junior State Horse Show ever held in Michigan.

Northville Eyed For Housing Delinquents

The possibility of housing delinquent children in vacant cottages at Wayne County's facility for retarded children is being studied by the County Board of Supervisors to alleviate overcrowding at the Youth Home.

"There are many problems involved in the idea, but we are leaving no stone unturned in our efforts to combat the serious problem of juvenile delinquency," said Supervisor Jerome A. Szymanski, of Detroit, D-District 6. "The idea has been explored before, but it never hurts to take a fresh look."

Szymanski is chairman of the supervisors juvenile affairs committee. The Youth Home, located on East Forest St. in Detroit, was designed to hold 160 boys and 60 girls, but often houses as many as 235 boys and 130 girls.

Three of the 15 two-story brick cottages at the Child Development Center, a residential school for retarded children, are vacant at present. Use of them to house juvenile delinquents was proposed by Robert R. Needham, of 8060 Darwin, Detroit, president of the Van Dyke Taxpayers Association.

The Center is located in Northville Township.

Registered classes are available for five horse breeds: Quarter Horse, Arabians, Morgans, American Saddlebreds and Appaloosa.

There will be open classes for English Pleasure, Western Pleasure, Saddle Seat Equitation and Stock Seat Equitation.

Open fitting and showmanship horse classes also will be held.

Youths, ages 10 through 18, may enter animals in the show.

Copies of the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show premium list and entry forms may be obtained by contacting Robert McLachlan, Michigan State Fairgrounds, Detroit 48203.

Exhibit Set For Artifacts

A colorful exhibition of artifacts from three Equatorial tribes in South America will open at the Cranbrook Institute of Science at 1 p.m. October 4.

"Ways of the Wayana", scheduled to remain on view for an indeterminate period of time, was collected by Art Erickson during an eight-month expedition to French Guiana, which originated from his Birmingham home.

Stamp Club Forms

Organization of a stamp club covering the Northville, Novi, Wixom area will take place tonight (Thursday) at the home of Lauren R. Januz, 41444 Ivywood Lane, Plymouth. All stamp collectors in the area are welcome to attend the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Thousands
To Enjoy
Spectacle

At least one-half million families are expected to take special weekend trips through Michigan between now and early November to see this state's autumnal show — when woodlands turn from summer green to blazing, multi-colored hues of red, yellow, brown, orange, scarlet and purple.

"This means that approximately 1.5 million persons will be on our highways for the sole purpose of viewing forest from late September when colors reach their peak in the Upper Peninsula through the first week of November when colors fade throughout southern Michigan," according to Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan's touring manager.

He points out that weekend fall color tourists alone will contribute approximately $40 million of the record $1.35 billion expected to be spent on tourism in Michigan during 1969.

"The average color tour will last two days and will cover 300 miles, which means that a total of 150 million miles will be driven, adds Fisher.

Fall color dates for Michigan — which can vary as much as a week depending on weather — are as follows:

Upper Peninsula and northern tip of Lower Peninsula — September 26 to October 5.

Northern Third Lower Peninsula — October 3 to October 12.

Central Lower Peninsula — October 10 to October 26.

Southern Lower Peninsula — October 24 to November 2.

Warm, dry weather means that colors can remain in an area for two weeks. Cold, wet weather means that colors will be muted. Wind knocks leaves from the trees causing a short season.

Persons wishing to see the earliest color should tour along Lake Superior in the Upper Peninsula. As the days progress, colors begin to show inland and move southward.

Motorists will find that the fall touring season is, less expensive than summer since many motels now have reduced rates. However, reservations at many motels and resort areas are still essential since hunters and fishermen are putting more pressure on facilities than ever before.

Venison Delight Available

A new bulletin detailing how to prepare venison for the dinner table is now available through the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

Entitled "Venison...Upper Peninsula Style," the 20-page pamphlet offers guidelines for the handling of deer meat from the moment the animal is shot through dressing out, skinning and cutting up into traditional dinner parcels. Included are 45 different recipes originating in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Single copies can be obtained free of charge by writing for Extension Bulletin E-657 at the Bulletin Office, Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. 48823. Additional copies are 10 cents each.

Six Killed
In Buses

Six persons, three of them children, were killed and 681 others injured in the 1,002 school bus and related type accidents reported in Michigan in the 1968-69 school year, according to the State Police traffic division.

Compared with the previous year, deaths decreased by three while there were increases of 129 in injuries and 148 in accidents. Both the injury and accident totals were new highs.

Of the accidents five resulted in fatalities, 349 in injuries and 648 in property damage only.
