Northland-Like Complex Seen Here

A Northland-like development looms in Northville Township's future, according to the crystal ball of TALUS, planning arm of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments

And in the opinion of Irving J. Rubin, director of TALUS, development of this scope will occur, in one form or another, with or without the assisting role of local government. A rapidly urbanized community will demand it, he said.

The development - labeled a "multi-purpose center" in TALUS preliminary regional plan for the five county metropolitan area - is one of 60 such centers seen for the wide region by the year 1990.

Rubin gave Northville and Plymouth newsmen this definition of a multi-purpose center:

"It's sort of like Northland! right nothing but retail opportunities." now in that you have a major regional shopping center coupled with growing Rubin, noting the trend in similar developments elsewhere in the nation, office space and development of high sees the multi-purpose center as a rise residential buildings. Across the "kind of community center where the

these multi-purpose centers "might street you've got another satellite before 1990, in and around Northville shopping center which also has a theatre. It might (I'm not saying Northland will) include a community college campus, with cultural facilities of some sort. It (multi-purpose center) doesn't have to have all of these elements but the term is meant to distinguish it from the traditional shopping center that consists of more rational approach to it."

The preliminary TALUS plan, he said, suggests to the local government that it recognize that these demands will exist and that the best way to provide for it both from a regional and local standpoint is to encourage multi-purpose development.

"If some major developer should pick up a huge chunk of land, say, 'by golly this is the way I want it done' and then begin providing these kinds of buildings, he alone might make it happen. On the other hand, local Communities that zone primarily for costly home sites and that fail to provide adequately for low-income families do an injustice to themselves and to the metropolitan area of which they are a part, TALUS Director Irving J. Rubin charged last week.

He referred indirectly to Northville Township in his discussion with Northville and Plymouth newsmen.

Such zoning, he suggested, is made under the guise of good planning when really it represents legal discrimination against blacks and/or poor whites.

Failure of "high-class" suburban communities to provide for this kind of housing is the biggest single problem confronting the metropolitan region, said Rubin. Ultimately, this kind of discrimination could lead to new laws that force local communities to accept their responsibilities in the overall regional picture.

While emphasizing that he has not yet made any recommendations along these lines to the Legislature, he indicated that state changes in the community "zoning game" must be made and Federal monies must be dangled in front of the community's nose to convince it to change its "lily white" course.

"Given a choice," said Rubin, "a community will zone itself in such a manner that it attracts clean, neat, high tax-producing, low smoke-producing industry. Everybody wants research type, computer oriented operations like the stuff over in Southfield. Nobody is anxious to have big, dirty, smelly factories unless they can tuck it away in the corner where the prevailing winds blow it away from the rest of the

"A community also will zone itself so that it will attract middle and upper middle income white folks even though this generally means lots and lots of kids. They will zone themselves, generally, to exclude poor people and black people."

Under the present setup he said, local services must be funded largely out of money captured within the community through the tax base. "And as long as this is the way the game is played, we can preach, weep and wail and nothing will happen. A couple of changes are needed:

"One, to say to a community that you can't incorporate unless you include X square miles so that we avoid government can encourage or discourage this kind of thing. The opportunity is there, the needs will be generated. It's basically a question of whether the local government chooses to try to encourage development in a center, which would be the more rationale, efficient way, or permit it to happen as happens in far too many communities such as in Livonia."

Township Board Back at Full Strength

With a full-seven member board on hand for the first time in two months, township officials waded Tuesday night through a lengthy agenda ranging from a liquor license to sewer rates.

First order of business was the swearing in of the new township trustee, William Smith, who was appointed by the board earlier to fill the seat of Thomas Armstrong, who resigned last summer over recurring dispute with fellow members.

Smith was a member of the planning commission before taking the board seat. A replacement for the now vacant planning post is expected to be made soon by the board, following a recommendation from the commission. The commission still has one other board representative in its ranks -Trustee Bernard Baldwm.

Following a request by Philip Ogilvie, attorney for the applicant, the board unanimously voted to recommend to the Liquor Control Commission that the tavern license of Brookland Golf Course be changed to a Class "C" (liquor by glass) license. Ross Northrop, owner, disclosed plans to enlarge his clubhouse facilities, and his attorney stated the bar would be operated only during golfing hours. ******

Approved also was a 5-cent increase in sewer rates by local residents to offset a corresponding increase charged the township by the

The board also voted to accept and maintain the sewer pumping station on the Greenspan subdivision property, to reject a proposed consent judgment with the Boron Oil company relative to a proposed service station at Five Mile and Haggerty roads, and to waive sewer tap fees for Donald Thomson pending completion of proposed enlargement of his car wash and construction of a laundrymat on Northville Road near Seven Mile Road.

Among matters discussed or tabled control ordinance proposal.

Cost Fixed For School Remodeling

Cost of remodeling Main Street Elementary is pegged at a tentative figure of $102,258, according to information revealed at the Monday night meeting of the Northville School

Of the total preliminary cost, $65,816 is architectural cost, $19,942 is mechanical and $16,500 is electrical.

Included in the remodeling will be repairing the main entrance, providing an additional kindergarten, creating new restrooms for teachers and students, converting a pair of classrooms into a flexible area for large group instruction, improving accoustics and lighting in the gym, improving the bus loading facility and consideration of faculty parking area.

Preliminary plans are expected to Continued on Page 8-A

Park Cost Sharing With City Shelved In Split Board Vote

Hope the city might have harbored that Northville Township would share in the cost of developing the fish hatchery property for park purposes took a nose dive Tuesday night as the board indicated at least temporary reluctance to commit itself.

After defeating a motion to pay up to half of development costs by a 4-3. vote, the board decided instead to investigate the per capita contribution the township might be able to receive through the state's new parks bond fund program before considering the

It was apparent from board discussion, however, that some members have strong reservations about contributing money for the 10-acre city facility (located in the township on Seven Mile Road)

Voicing objections to the specific motion to contribute up to half of the estimated cost ($14,000 annual for five years) and challenging the value of the facility for maximum township use were Treasurer Alex Lawrence and Trustees Richard Mitchell, William Smith and Joseph Straub. On the other side of the coin were Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, Clerk Eleanor Hammond, and Trustee Bernard

Discussion and the resulting action followed a report by Baldwin on city plans for development of the property at a total estimated cost of $94,500 - beyond the $23,000 already invested by the city in land purchase and improvements. Development, Baldwin reported, would include tennis courts, parking, dramage, picnic area, foot paths, toilets and shelter, foot bridge, play equipment, ball diamond, and ice-skating pond improvements.

Proponents of township participation emphasized that close to half of the youngsters now using the facility live in the township; that the township ratio probably will increase dramatically in the next few years; that the Northville recreation program, now jointly financed by the city and township, is in need of physical facilities; and that more youngsters than city youngsters live near to the

Opponents, on the other hand, argued that the township already enjoys the county park system in the township; that this park system is "next door" to the fish hatchery property; that the facility does not serve youngsters in other parts of the township, and that the board should consider establishment of small, strategically located parks throughout the township rather than put all its "eggs in one basket."

Concerning a study for location of small parks throughout the township, Mitchell moved that such action be started but he failed to find support for DETROIT has decided to let the next administration decide the fate of the Maybury Sanitorium property, according to Detroit Controller Bernard Klein. Mayor Cavanagh, he said, has postponed sale of the property, leaving the matter up to his successor and the reorganized Detroit Common Council, who takes office in January. Klein earlier indicated that he hoped to wrap up the sale before he (Klein) leaves office. The city has formally requested to purchase some 200 acres of the property, while the township will vote in December on whether it should make a similar purchase.

THE STATE's Department of Natural Resources has recommended to the legislature that Northville receive

$44,581 in state aid for development of its fish hatchery park property, state officials told The Record Tuesday. "There's no guarantee Northville will get the money, however. "We've just recommended it should receive that much," said a Natural Resources spokesman. "It's up to the legislature to approve or disapprove it." Northville made two applications under the $100 million recreation fund approved by voters last year. One was for development of the fish hatchery property, to include tennis courts, and the other was for assistance in purchasing Maybury Sanatorium property. The latter was not included in the Natural Resources recommendation. City Manager Frank Ollendorff had applied for $57,000 for the fish hatchery project and for approximately $200,000 for the Maybury property.

NORTHVILLE SCHOOLS' anticipated enrollment figure of 3,634 students won't be met this year. Raymond Spear, superintendent of schools said Monday 3,120 are currently enrolled in the district, with an estimated 3,400 projected when schools close in June. The reason for the lower than anticipated figure is many of the proposed subdivisions within the district have not been started or are behind on construction schedules.

Car Goes Visiting In Neighbor's House

Some days it just doesn't pay to get up in the morning.

Mrs. Donald Austin, 543 Reed Street, probably felt that way last Thursday morning after her car shot across the street and buried itself in the

Walter Murphy house at 576 Reed. No one was injured, fortunately, except for the car, the house, and Mrs. Austin's pride. She and her 10-year-old son were the only occupants of the cai. The car moved out of the Austin driveway at about 7:45 a.m., its accelerator stuck and the runaway station wagon roared across the street, over the curb, across the lawn and smack-dab into the Murphy house.

The car plunged halfway into the basement utility room and the impact ripped down the adjoining recreation

Police shut off the gas line at the meter and DPW Director Bud Hartner was called in to shut it off at the street to prevent an explosion. Before the car could be removed, the house was shored up to prevent it from caving in.

There was no estimate of damage.

Later that same day (about 3 p m.) cab driver James E. Walker got out of his Star Taxi vehicle to help a passenger load groceries. The extra courtesy didn't pay because the unbraked vehicle promptly rolled backwards into the large windows on the south side of the Kroger building.

No one was injured.

Two windows were smashed and the metal window frames were damaged. Damage was estimated at between $500 to $1000.

The bride's gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta was styled in a bouffant silhouette with miniature seed pearls adorning the basque-waist bodice of lace. The detachable court train fell gracefully from the back waist to a full sweep. A petal headpiece held her four-tier veil of silk illusion. She carried cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations with apricot sweetheart roses and centered with a white orchid corsage.

The matron of honor's gown carried out the autumn theme in an apricot hue. It was floor-length with an Empire waist and pleated bishop sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet with ice green glads, butterscotch mums, apricot sweetheart roses and avocado star flowers.

Bridesmaids were Christène Jendrowski, Sandra Elliot and Kristigene Burgess, a niece of the bridegrooms, who wore gowns styled like the matron of honor's in willow green and carried matching bouquets.

The bride's brother, Jamie North, was ring bearer. Marvin Beyer was best man. Ushers were Gerald Ward, Dale North, brother of the bride, and John Burgess, a nephew of the bridegroom

For the wedding and reception for 130 guests from Michigan and Ohio, the bride's mother wore a champagne silk sheath with lace trim and a three-quarter lace coat and brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a mint green sheath with matching lace coat and accessories. Both had corsages of apricot sweetheartiroses...

For a wedding trip to New England the bride changed to an apricot linen suit with brown accessories. She is a 1966 graduate of Northville High School. Both she and her husband are Schoolcraft Community College graduates. They will make their home at 25530 Elsinore in Redford.

MARGARET ANN FREDSELL

The Reverend and Mrs. Harold F. Fredsell of Stamford, Connecticut, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Dennis Lyle Arvidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Arvidson of Milford.

The Reverend Fredsell is a former pastor of Northville Presbyterian Church.

The bride-elect received her BA degree from Alma College and presently is working on her master's degree at Oakland University while living in Highland, Michigan. Her fiance also attended Oakland University.

A December 27, 1969, wedding date is set.

Our Town

INTERNATIONAL affairs will be the topic for the first "home" meeting of Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. this Friday in Northville Presbyterian Church.

The guest day meeting to be followed with a tea will be the second of the new season for the club - the first being a luncheon tour of Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge campus.

Friday's speaker is an assistant professor of social science on the Auburn Hills campus of Oakland Community College – Harold A. Richards. He holds an AB degree in economics from Hillsdale and has his master's in counseling from Wayne State where he also studies economics and history. He will be introduced by Mrs. E. A. Chapman.

Topic of the day is "First and Second World Wars and Effects on Present International Situation."

Reservations are now being taken for the woman's club November 7 meeting – a luncheon tour of historic Detroit churches. Churches include Central Methodist, St. Ann's and Old Mariners. Mrs. William Switzler and her program committee are reviving a club custom from years past in planning stimulating excursions for the 77th year program.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. E. G. Sprunk.

DAR MEMBERS of Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter have two not-to-be-missed meetings in October and November. For their luncheon meeting at noon next Monday Mrs. Sherman Hill is opening her landmark home at 38125 Eight Mile Road in Livonia. The gracious white home with its stone fencing and spacious grounds has been cited as a "magnificent example" of Greek Revival period architecture.

'Early American Kitchen Utensils" will be the program topic to be discussed by Mrs. David Christensen, program chairman. Mrs. Claude Crusoe is luncheon chairman for the general

The November 17 meeting is be the chapter's annual birthday luncheon with Jack McDonald, Congressman for the 19th District, coming to discuss "National Defense." The meeting will be in the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

Because of the wide general interest in the speaker and his topic the chapter will welcome guests to the meeting. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Christensen, 349-4034, for reservations.

Regent of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Mrs. George Merwin, was a guest this week at the birthday luncheons of two other Detroit-area DAR chapters. Monday she attended the meeting of the Southfield Three Flags Chapter at the Holiday Inn. Mrs. Robert Willoughby, state recording secretary, accompanied her.

HOME TOUR committee members and the owners who opened their homes for the benefit tour of Northville Presbyterian Women's Association were feted last week at a luncheon given by Mrs. Charles Fountain. As a special "thank you" memento, Mrs. Robert Froelich presented each home owner with a small, brass Indian betal box.

Mrs. Fountain will be chairman for the fourth annual home tour next year. She will be assisted by Mrs. Theodore Heckler, a member of the committee who also lent her home for this year's successful tour which netted almost $1,700.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY members working on a Christmas boutique have been searching for old bow ties. The committee uses the clips from them for felt holly bows. Anyone with any to donate is asked to call Mrs. William Crump, 349-0128.

Pet collars for the holiday season, pencil dolls and other items are being fashioned in workshop sessions.

Levi Eatons Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Levi M. Eaton of 365 Eaton Drive, who have been Northville residents almost all their married life, celebrated with close relatives their 50th wedding anniversary last Saturday, October 11.

Before their marriage in her parents' home in Toledo, Mrs. Eaton was Alice Comlossy. The ceremony was performed by the rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Toledo, Dr.

The newlyweds first lived in the cobblestone farmhouse on a 57-acre fruit farm bought 55 ýears ago by Mr. Eaton's parents. This is the present Rogers street home of Dr. and Mrs. Russell Atchison.

Mrs. Eaton recalls that the property, instead of continuing as a fruit farm, was purchased and developed as Orchard Heights by C. C. Yerkes, Milo Johnson and Louis Babbitt, local lawyer, realtor and banker, respectively.

The Eaton family retained two acres of the farm property, extending from Rogers street to Eaton. The Eatons first lived in a house built in 1920 next to their present home, which was built in 1925. They have lived there since, with the exception of a year spent in Rochester, New York, on a job transfer for Mr. Eaton.

A part of the Orchard Heights property was the present Joe Denton Park, which originally was a natural spring. It supplied water to the entire Village of Northville with the Eaton family permitted free water and electricity for its use.

The television personality, whose "Girl Talk" program made her familiar to her audiences (it's due to return), established immediate rapport with her listeners as she breezily confided that her make-up was covering two black eyes. She was welcomed to town Hall by its president, Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, whose gold knit suit with white pencil stripes also was in new long lines. She lived up to the introduction that "she comes on like Gang Busters."

What's Wrong With Harmony?

The logic of the matter simplifies Novi Township's request for fire protection from the City of Novi to a point where the issue almost settles itself.

Following a rather heated prelude and some fatherly advice from the honorable Judge Beer, the two governments appear near a settlement in a division of assets which is something they should have had behind them several months ago and without the need of His Honor's influence.

But that battle's nearly over now and we should all be better men because of it. And, ironically, because of the foregone battle and battles foregone long ago, some of us appear reluctant to approach any city-township matter with any objectivity.

The fact of the matter is, of course, if the township wants fire protection it should either establish its own fire department or pay for protection provided by someone else's or share in sponsoring a department with another government.

Now the City of Novi has an established fire department and the township has indicated a desire to employ its services apparently because township officials feel it would be economically the most sound of the three alternatives.

And so the city, with certain councilmen seemingly taking pleasure in having the township on bended knee. have offered the service at a rate which equals the city's total millage.

The point is well made that the city provides only fire and police protection and planning consultation for its citizens at a rate of six-and-one-half mills (which simply translated is $6.50 in taxes for every $1,000 in assessed valuation). But I think citizens of the city at six-and-one-half mills are also investing in a concept a belief that unified in cityhood they can eventually build a community in which its government can mean more than just fire and police protection and planning consultation.

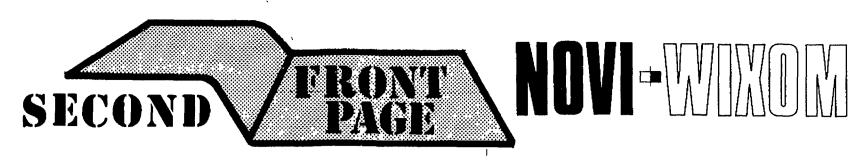

I don't feel - or at least I don't want to believe - that in deciding to become a city, citizens were primarily interested in just fire and police and planning at about $130 per average household. I've got to believe that they were looking ahead a little bit towards parks and recreation and better libraries and things like that.

And I think it's time that those peoples' councilmen looked ahead, too.

I think it's time that those peoples' councilmen realized that in considering the township's request for fire protection, they are considering the safety of people - of families - not a lot different from the people and families of the city except they've chosen to act within their rights and remain a township.

After Citizens Express Fear

Wixom Stops Road Program

A $117,000 road improvement program in the City of Wixom came to a screeching halt Wednesday after a large and spirited group of predominantly Birch Park Subdivision residents had packed into City Hall the night before urging councilmen to order the project stopped until State Health Department officials have the opportunity to check allegations that upon 'its completion, hazardous quantities of pollutant will be fed into Loon Lake.

Approximately 110 citizens attended the session Tuesday, many of whom apparently were responding to a letter sent from the council to residents in Birch Park stating that a special discussion would be held during the meeting on the fate of a road improvement program which came under fire last week with charges that planned drainage would be making dangerous contributions of pollutant to the lake at a popular bathing site.

The discussion, frequently becoming heated and featuring a brief political skirmish between Mayor Wesley McAtee and County Supervisor Lew Coy, dominated two-and-one-half hours of an unusually lengthy four-hour session for the council.

City Council averages about 90-minute meetings on a semi-monthly

Mayor McAtee inserted discussion of the road improvement program high on the agenda and he received the brunt of objections from citizens before the council voted unanimously in support of a motion by Councilman Gunnar Mettala to halt improvements on Bell Coney and Maganser streets in the subdivision until State Health Department officials can inspect the project and determine if pollutant fed into the lake from a drain servicing the improved streets will be creating a

Supervisor Coy began the discussion by asking that the mayor read a letter sent to him by the County Health Department regarding the road improvement project in Birch Park. Mayor McAtee then stated that the supervisor had directed county officials to inspect conditions at the new storm drain and the mayor emphasized that Supervisor Coy had ignored addressing a key role in the seven-county regional development plan being proposed by the Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS).

Irving J. Rubin, TALUS director, addressed a modest turnout of about 150 community leaders last week Wednesday at the Oakland County Community Services Center in Pontiac emphasizing that several major growth areas within the region are anticipated for the county between now and 1990.

Rubin stated that Novi in combination with neighboring Walled Lake is designated as one of four metro centers in the county with commercial-educational development proposed to accommodate a population of 50,000 or more.

The estimated population of the Walled Lake and Novi presently is 11,700, according to TALUS, with Novi having 7,500.

Rubin also cited the Novi-Farmington freeway as a hub for further growth - primarily commercial - while property in the area of the city has been designated as necessary under the plan for acquisition and use to satisfy expected recreational needs.

The TALUS director's elaborate presentation employed the use of colored slides and made reference to booklets distributed to the audience. He emphasized that according to the study, Oakland County's population is expected to increase from 791,000 to over 1.5 nullion by 1990 representing one-third of the total increase projected for the seven-county region.

The basic purpose of this study is the development of transportation and land use plan," Rubin explained. "It's an attempt to accommodate the bundles of demands that will be generated in future years."

The study administrator reviewed procedures in preparing the extensive report which represents in itself an investment of about $4 million in cash and nearly five years in time. "The real test, and I mean this sincerely, is how it affects the growth and development of the area," he explained. "Otherwise, the four-and-one-half years of preparation and the $4 million will be wasted " Rubin stated that the purpose of the plan is to coordinate development throughout the region and to preserve land for recreation while improving roadways to accommodate projected travel needs with the least amount of congestion.

The director explained that the proposed metro centers will include populations ranging from 25,000 to 100,000 with commercial, cultural and educational facilities within or close by and offering a variety of housing types to accommodate a wide range of households. Northland, in Southfield, was offered as an example of a metro center development.

He said that TALUS has designated 11 centers throughout the region on the basis of accessibility, utilities, employment opportunities and other factors. Rubin emphasized that Novi, with the major interstate interchange developing to service it, will be "as accessible as any point in

City Makes Township General Service Offer

Novi Township officially made a request Monday for fire protection from the City of Novi and City Council, having appearing to divide on the issue, 5-2, official made an offer to provide general services - fire plus police and planning - at six-and-one-half mills.

And the development put the two governments officially at a point they had stalled at unofficially earlier this Township Supervisor Leo Kalota, accompanied by Clerk Robert Armstrong and Trustee Leonard Chomic, approached councilmen late in their session Monday formally making a request for fire protection to be extended the township following the pending division of assets. The supervisor and Mayor Joseph Crupi, while discussing procedures for a property settlement, had also considered the extension of services with the mayor having indicated that the city would charge six-and-one-half mills to the township for fire protection, according to statements by Supervisor Kalota earlier this month.

At the township's estimated current valuation, six-and-one-half mills would represent $10,400. A mill is one dollar in taxes for each $1,000 in property valuation.

The mayor's earlier offer on behalf of the city was for fire protection only although on Monday, after discussion in which Councilman William Duey and Councilman Donald Young voiced favor for a lesser rate, the council voted 5-2 to offer general services - fire and police protection and planning consultation - at six-and-one-half

City property owners currently pay taxes at a rate of six-and-one-half

In making the township's request, Supervisor Kalota reviewed his discussions with the mayor and emphasized his feeling that the unofficially proposed rate would be unfair. He said that the township possibly would be willing to pay in nulls whatever portion of the total was used to maintain and operate the fire department - "one-half mill or whateyer.''

"I assume there also is going to be a time when the township will not only need fire protection but also police protection," Councilman David Harrison observed. "To be practical about it, in emergencies you really can't have one without the other.'

The supervisor explained that the township presently is being serviced by State Police and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Mayor Crupi emphasized that the city presently offers three services fire and police protection and planning - to its citizens at six-and-one-half

"Essentially, our budget is based on the three services," he stated. "The question really rises as to whether you want to extend services or not."

The council evolved to its eventual offer after a series of motions with Councilman Denis Berry initially moving not to extend services. Berry's motion failed for support after which Councilman Edwin Presnell moved that fire protection be offered at six-and-one-half mills.

Harrison asked Presnell to withdraw his motion so that the council could offer general services instead of just fire protection - at the same rate. Presnell then restated a motion offering general services and

Industrial Zoning Request Withdrawn

A large delegation of citizens in opposition apparently talked a developer out of his intentions to pursue an industrial zoning for property on Meadowbrook Road near Grand River Avenue on Monday during a hearing in a joint session of the City of Novi Council and Planning Commission.

Albert Weiss initially requested that property southeast of the Grand River-Meadowbrook intersection be rezoned from single family residential to light industrial in order to allow for his planned development of a 38-acre industrial park.

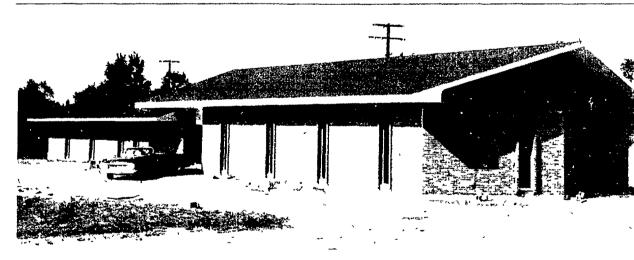

But after several from the large turnout of citizens voiced opposition to the proposal and following a recommendation from the planning consultant that the request be denied, Weiss asked that he be allowed to withdraw his proposal while indicating that he might proceed with preliminaries for a multiple housing development on the property instead.

have the property rezoned, which will require another public hearing, if he chooses to use it for multiple units.

"I believe as the city grows - and it's growing by leaps and bounds - and you're going to need more services for more people and you must be looking for some method where you can get a little tax base to lighten your financial burden," Weiss observed. "I think that this development would be good for the city and all persons involved."

The developer explained that the proposed development would be similar to one in Farmington and would probably attain a valuation of about $4 million.

Citizens speaking in opposition emphasized that there is considerable undeveloped property in the city which is zoned for industrial and they feared an industrial complex in the Meadowbrook area would be inconsistent with existing residential

Arthur Thomson Succumbs

Arthur M. Thomson, 72, of 48055 West Seven Mile road, died early Monday morning in St. Mary hospital following a six month illness.

He was the founder and owner of Thomson Sand and gravel.

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, October 16, at 2 p.m. at Van Strien-Alman Funeral Home, Grand Rapids.

Born March 26, 1897, in Caldonia to James and Lydia (Vincent) Thomson, he married his wife, Helen, April 11, 1919

Mr. Thomson, a Northville Township resident since 1939, was one of the first men to mine gravel deposits in the Northville area.

Mr. Thomson, who had prospected and mined gravel in the Grand Rapids area since 1927, explored the Northville area during the late 1930's and discovered what he thought to be excellent potential on what was then the Starkweather farm on West Seven

In 1941, he bought a small parcel of land there and, lacking further capital, worked single handed for the next ten years selling unprocessed

In 1953, Mr. Thomson built his first washing plant and during that summer, the first truck load of processed gravel was sold. Since then, the operation has grown and is now one of the major suppliers of sand and gravel in the surrounding area.

Surviving are his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Charles (Alta) Sorenson, 48227 West Seven Mile Road; Mrs. Elmer (Barbara) Ybema, Grand Rapids; and Mrs. William (Luella) Horan, Guilford, Connecticut; a son, Donald, Marilyn in Northville Township; 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Northville Public Schools Annual Report — 1968-69 School Year

-Superintendent's Annual Report-

October 8, 1969

This report is published in order to inform the taxpayers of the Northville Public Schools regarding the educational program and receipts and expenditures of the District for the 1968-69 school year.

Your District experienced an unfortunate curtailment of its educational program during 1968-69, due to the rejection of three requests for a two (2) mill increase in school operational millage. However, even in the face of a $100,000 budget reduction, were were able to maintain a balanced budget for the year.

The 1968-69 school year established Mr. Stanley Johnston as President of the Board of Education. Mr. Robert Froelich was elected Vice President, with Dr. Orlo Robinson, new member, as Secretary and Mr. Andrew Orphan as Treasurer. The three trustee Board positions were filled by Mr. Eugene Cook, Mr. Glenn Deibert and Mr. Richard Martin.

Board meetings were held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month during the school year. Due to the many problems confronting the District for the ensuing school year, several special meetings and work sessions were also held during the year.

The Board was extremely pleased that some of its many hours of extra work resulted in the securing of the District's second new school site at no cost to the taxpayer. This will represent a savings of approximately $50,000 to $60,000 to

Other major projects of the Board during 1968-69 included:

- 1. Seeking of tax relief on the many acres of land in the District which is tax
- 2. Seeking of State financial support for educating children residing on tax-free land.
- 3. Organization of and direction for a new Building Program.
- 4. Direction for utilization and disposition of old Junior High building and old Community Building.
- 5. Updating of our population projection and its resulting ramifications on facility and staff needs.
- 6. Further study on the feasibility of the Year-Round School Concept and qualifying for a State financial grant to assist in further study of this educational concept.
- 7. Selection of the Ralls-Hamill-Beck Associates, Inc., Architectural Firm, to assist with our next Building Program.
- 8. The establishment of the VIP Committee to bring about a better working relationship between the Board of Education and the citizens of the community.
- 9. The establishment of a committee of citizens, students, teachers, administrators and Board members to study and suggest desirable revisions in the

- 10. A successful millage campaign to bring about needed operational funds for the 1969-70 school year.
- 11. Study of and commitment to a totally new concept in school
- construction in Michigan: "Bid before Bond."
- 12. Establishment of an shift to a full accrual system of School Budgeting. The administration of the District's program and activities was carried out under the direction of Raymond E. Spear, Superintendent of Schools, with assistance from Miss Florence Panattoni, Curriculum Coordinator, and Mr. Earl T. Busard, Business Manager.
- Miss Panattoni devoted the major portion of her time working with teachers and principals to bring about needed revision and improvement in the instructional program.
- Among other things during the year, Miss Panattoni spearheaded a complete review and revision of our social studies curriculum, grades K-12, and a thorough evaluation of the District's testing program.
- Mr. Busard devoted his time and energies in maintaining a balanced budget and overseeing the maintenance and operation of our buildings, cafeteria and transportation program.
- The High School program was administered under the direction of Mr. Frederick Holdsworth, Principal, and Mr. David Longridge, Assistant Principal. The High School staff consisted of 44 teachers, including three counselors and a
- The Cooke Junior High School was administered by Principal J. Ronald Horwath, with assistance from Mr. Richard Norton, Assistant Principal. A staff # 32 teachers, including two counselors and one librarian, carried out the Instructional program.
- The Elementary Schools were administered by Principals William Craft at Amerman School, Donald Van Ingen at Main Street School, and Milton Jacobi at
- The three Elementary Schools had a staff of 48 classroom teachers and a special services staff of 14, including such services as psychologist, visiting teacher, art and music teachers and speech correctionists. This special services staff was reduced by five positions over 1967-68.
- The total teaching staff for 1968-69 was 137 full-time equated positions; two less than last year. Although five positions were cut from the Elementary special services, it was necessary to add three more classroom teachers to stay even with the increased enrollment.
- The third Master Agreement between the District and the Northville Education Association was ratified during this school year. This Agreement of two years' duration resulted from many long hours of negotiations. The 1968-69 eases for teachers which ranged from a minimum of $830 to a maximum of $2277 for some of the long-tenure teachers. The salary schedule established in this Agreement provided a beginning salary in 1968-69 of $6800 per year for teachers with a B.A. Degree and $7400 for teachers with a M.A. Degree. Maximum salaries for 1968-69 were established at $10,375 for a B.A. Degree and $12,844 for a M.A. with 14 years of service. The average teacher's salary in 1968-69 was $8800.

357.719 223,008

BALANCE - June 30, 196

The 1968-69 school year saw the school enrollment increase from 2690 pupils on "D" Day in 1967 to 2805 pupils in 1968. However, our enrollment did reach 2837 pupils by the close of the school year.

Building facilities to accommodate our student population included the 17-room Amerman School; 19-room Main Street School, and the 17-room Moraine School.

Also available to our students was our new Ida B. Cooke Junior High School with its 26 rooms, and the High School with its new facilities which provided for a total of 35 teaching stations.

We are extremely pleased to report a very fine year with our first experience in operating a swimming pool. It served as an instructional as well as a recreational facility.

The facilities and teaching staff available to the District enabled us to maintain a teacher/pupil ratio of 25 to 1, which we feel assisted in carrying out a good educational year in a year of necessary curtailments.

Our Extra-curricular Program was broad and brought many honors to the District. However, this part of our program in 1968-69 must be remembered primarily because of the efforts and personal contributions of many interested citizens who donated a total of $19,300 to enable the reinstatement of the Extra-curricular Program into the 1968-69 Budget and school year program.

Many individual honors were achieved as a direct result of this program and the parents who made it possible through their extra efforts.

All in all, the 1968-69 school year can go down in the record books as a good year under extenuating circumstances.

Although the District now faces a new school year which will experience some curtailments from the curtailed 1968-69 program, it does offer some reinstated programs as well as an expanded staff to handle a rapidly expanding student population.

The support and cooperation of the citizens of the District are encouraged, and are of the utmost importance if we are to continue to move forward in the task of providing a well-rounded education for the pupils of Northville.

The 1970 VW will stay ugly longer.

What hath Volkswagen wrought this year?

A longer-lasting engine, that's what.

It's more powerful than the old engine. (Top speed: 81 mph vs. 78 mph.)

It has better acceleration.

But most important, it doesn't have to work as hard to get you where you're going.

Thus, according to every calculation known to man, it will last even longer.

And just to make sure the engine and every other VW part leads a long, happy life, we have another surprise for 1970:

The Volkswagen Diagnostic Checkup. Now before the name scares you away, listen to what it is:

VW Diagnosis is an exclusive free service checkup by trained technicians using special diagnostic equipment.

The equipment is faster and more thorough than any mechanic alive.

And it's so advanced, it can actually tell you you have a problem early, before it becomes a real problem.

For instance, let's say the resistance in one of your spark plug wirès is too high.

Nothing serious, but it could reduce your gas mileage and eventually foul up your spark plugs.

During a Diagnostic Checkup, our equipment can find and we can fix this problem in a matter of minutes.

When you buy a new VW, you're entitled to four of these advanced checkups free.

What could be a better deal than that?

You buy a bug.

We take care of the bugs.

for The Record

It's a change-of-pace week - time for bits of this and that.

Like the "Pray for Peace" program sponsored by the pastors of Northville from the First United Presbyterian, St. Paul's Lutheran, First Baptist, Our Lady of Victory Roman Catholic and First United Methodist churches.

Their notices, distributed about town and in the schools, stated simply:

"Pray for Peace, October 15, 12-2 p.m., First United Methodist Church, No Speakers, We are not 'hawks or doves', we are concerned for a just peace - a chance for you to witness with your feet - and on your knees."

And who could not endorse this everyday?

But when it is suggested that one should march in protest to administration policies of this nation as it desperately tries to find "a just end" to the Vietnam war, it becomes difficult to determine right from wrong, good from bad.

I cannot bring myself to believe that a college student, or a Woody Allen, is wiser than President Nixon or the leader of the opposition party, Hubert Humphrey, who believe our country is following the proper course to peace.

Personally, I'll do as Senator Hugh Scott has suggested - and as our Northville pastors propose - turn on the lights - and pray.

Isn't It Ironic Dept. - Who would want to bet how many of our U. S. Presidents, or potential Presidents, could win Senate approval to serve as a Justice of the Supreme Court?

Jim O'Neil, member of the State Board of Education, was speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the Northville Rotary Club Tuesday.

O'Neil has come under fire, and won praise, for his stand on sex education.

He does not oppose sex education. He does question some of the existing material used in teaching, particularly on the basis that it (according to O'Neil) approaches the subject on a biological basis without regard for morals or marriage.

He would oppose sex education in grades K-5. He would insist upon teachers with special qualifications for teaching the subject. He places the primary responsibility for sex education with the parents and views the school and church responsible for a supporting role.

O'Neil would make sex education voluntary with courses offered at times when parents could attend with their children - in sexually segregated groups.

Other O'Neil observations: He opposes the Governor's recommendation to abolish the state board of education and replace it with a governor-appointed education director. He would prefer a non-partisan, elected board.

He supports parochiaid, at least to the extent that he would propose a token program of support so that the legality of such support could be tested by the Supreme Court. He believes that state controls existing over public schools should be applied to private schools receiving state aid. His preference would be for an expansion of the "shared time" program now used in many districts. This permits private school students to use some public school facilities, such as laboratories, pools and gymnasiums, etc., thereby reducing the high cost of financing duplicate facilities.

Finally, he favors year-around use of schools and has asked the Livonia Board of Education, before building a fourth high school, to ask voters which they prefer: spending perhaps $15 million for another high school or a staggered quarterly semester program for year-around use of existing high schools?

"If they say NO to the year-around concept, then they are saying YES to a bond issue to build another school," O'Neil concludes. *****

"I'm not voting for any school millage until they change the system of financing. My property taxes are too high."

I've heard this reason (or excuse) for voting against local school millage issues for the past decade. Governor Milliken has now proposed a program for reform.

We think it's practical and workable. The total reform package as well as latest specifics provided by the Governor and reaction by area legislators appear in Section B of this edition.

I hope all citizens interested in education will become familiar with this important legislation and let their views be known to their representatives in Lansing.

Gun Control: Do We Need It?

YES...

It's simply beyond my comprehension why legitimate hunters and target shooters get so steamed up over the new gun control legislation.

I suspect they've been hoodwinked. Like mobs who can be cajoled by a carefully honed phrase here and a challenge to their manhood there, hunters rush head-long into the fray ignoring their own good common sense.

Few if any, hunters have been unable to carry their rifles into the field or to buy ammunition because of recent restrictions. Ignoring this fact, they follow the lead of others in arguing, for example, that the Constitution guarantees them the right to bear arms or that it is the human, not the gun, that spawns crime.

Overlooked, of course, is the fact that law enforcing agencies actively support gun legislation and that the Bill of Rights, dealing with the "right to bear arms," speaks to this right in the context of a militia and state security.

I, for one, prefer to leave my protection to the police and to the army - not to my hunting companion who sees a need to carry a gun to protect me.

JACK W. HOFFMAN

NO...

. Attempting to control the use of guns by controlling who gets to use them, although outwardly appearing logical, in reality isn't practical in a society where so much is available so easily to so many.

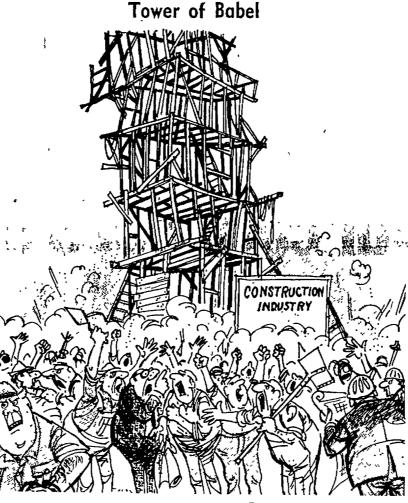

And unfortunately, those seeking to do harm aren't logical people restrained by logical controls.

I feel that a civilization sending men to the moon should have some basic respect, through understanding, for weapons whether they be precision guns or primitive clubs. And I don't feel the result would be anymore than temporary and annoying to restrict the use of something for which there are so many substitutes available if a person is determined to do

Unfortunately, a gun is only able to operate upon the discretion of the human mind and for us to think that we can contain all unstable minds by removing the means through which they can express themselves is only a game of pretend.

To the Editor:

Every school day, the kindergarten's huge yellow bus gently rolls through our subdivision with the most wonderful bus driver you could ever imagine. With each child receiving a greeting by his very own name, and a big smile, he is made to feel a little more secure as he travels off into the big world away from mom.

This kind young woman driving bus No. 20 through Brookland Farms deserves a public thank you.

Sincerely, Norma Firebaugh

To the Editor:

It has been brought to our attention of a move at the University of Michigan and elsewhere for the elimination altogether or curtailment of the R.O.T.C. program.

The R.O.T.C. is a worthwhile and essential program and should be supported. We urge all individuals and groups to write their congressmen and college heads telling them of their desire to see R.O.T.C. Programs continued.

> American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 147 Northville

To The Editor:

On behalf of the Northville Jaycees, I wish to extend the Jaycees' most sincere thanks to the community of Northville, for having helped to make the Jaycee Auction a most successful effort in raising future funds for further Jaycee community projects.

We wish especially to thank the people of Northville, who donated their many items for our charity auction, as well as to the store owners for providing space for our publicity, the NORTHVILLE RECORD for the splendid write-up, and a very special thanks to Paul Folino, who contributed a large bulk of our items to auction.

Sincere thanks also to the Northville City Council for providing the park for our sale and to the very fine Northville Police Department for assisting in our disposal of left-over

Sincerely,

Dennis Dildy Auction chairman

Old Fred Atworthy used to hold court on his rickety porch three lots back of our place.

He was a miserable failure in all that he did but for two remarkable talents. He could shovel a wad of tobacco into his mouth, lather it up in nothing flat and then, with uncanny accuracy, fling a syrupy bullet over the porch railing and splatter a fly on the Stains on the porch side of the railing were either from deliberate misfires or sudden crosswinds. In steady wind he could adjust his aim, lead the fly a little more, and still score a bullseye. Yet, he never learned to cope with the swirling breezes that? sneaked in around the corner of the coal box that hung from the side of the house. But no one discredited him for this singular weakness.

Although he commanded the kids' respect with his chewing and spitting abilities, his greatest claim to fame were the stories that he somehow managed to splice in between his shots

Old Fred Atworthy could breath life into the simplest, most ordinary story. Buried deep in his memory or imagination, his first invariably would come out slowly, almost as if it pained him, pick up speed, and then, as it tumbled swiftly down the stretch, drag others after it. Like all good story-tellers he always saved his best

When old Fred Atworthy worked himself into a lather over his final story he was the world's best. He was like a belching, hissing steam engine on the verge of popping its rivets. And there wasn't a kid around who hadn't wet his pants or ignored an angry parent's call rather than leave and miss the explosion.

He told his most memorable story a few days after a couple of us boys had untied two of his pet goats, opened his screened door, shoved them inside, and then ran laughing for our homes. It bothered us a little that he didn't mention the prank but as his stories Northville Jaycees started to flow we soon forgot about it.

"I don't like to talk about it," he started, "but I got this here power that scares 'the dickens out of me sometimes. It goes a long ways back to the time I was out in this storm and got hit by lightning. Lightning's awful stuff, you know. Most times it'll burn you to a crisp. But sometimes, just when you ain't expectin', it goes in one side and comes out the other. Next thing you know you're standing there, alright, but it ain't really you. The sun comes out and your shadow's you and you're your shadow.

That's the way it happened to me. It's a secret, 'course, and I ain't told no one before. Shadows' got powers you. ain't eyer dreamed of.'

By now all ears were hanging on every word but all eyes watched the old man's shadow hugging the wall. We couldn't be sure who was who.

"Well, most times shadows are nice and don't hurt anybody. But you take a shadow that's really somebody else well, you know there's nobody any meaner. They sneak around on walls and streets and things just waitin' to grab somebody 'cause they want 'to trade places. Ain't no other way they can come back, less they get hit by lightning and everybody knows lightning don't hit shadows very much. "Anyway, awhile back I seen my goats were actin' up. Real edgy, like somebody's after 'em. Then it dawns on me. My shadow wants to trade places with them goats. After awhile they settled down again and didn't mind nobody. But, you know, the other day those goats come walkin' into my place just as nice as you please. But 'stead of goat shadows on the wall I sees shadows of boys. Now what do you think of that?"

Old Fred Atworthy isn't around anymore, nor is his shadow. But whenever I revisit the old neighborhood, saddened because even his stained porch is gone, I automatically look for a goat shadow. It isn't there of course, but neither is the shadow of the little boy I once be approved by the board at the October 27 meeting.

October 27 the school board will meet at 7 p.m. at Main Street Elementary to tour the school and also Cooke Annex. The public is invited to accompany the trustees. The board meeting will follow at 8 p.m. in the board room.

Preliminary cost figures for additions and remodeling of the five schools in the district indicate the bond issue will ask for approximately $2,004,000, including the architect's contingency. Not included in the figure is the cost of constructing a bus garage. The board's building and site committee is studying costs of various buildings.

In other business the board rejected renewing membership in the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), approved the release of one teacher and the hiring of Membership in SEMCOG was defeated by a vote of 50, Dr. Orlo Robinson and Eugene Cook absent Membership was dropped last year due to the "austerity budget" on which the district operated.

Trustees Andrew Orphan and Stanley Johnston said they could not see the total value from renewed participation at this point. Orphan said the board "should not close the door entirely to SEMCOG but should review it at a later date"

Plante and Moran, certified public accountants, were retained as the district's auditor for the 1969-70 school year.

Unanimously carried.
COMMUNICATIONS. Request from

Dennis Dildy, for the Northville Jaycees, to use the park area in the rear of the City Hall to conduct an auction for the benefit of the Northville Jaycees. Mayor Allen asked that the nature of the Auction be determined/and 'a report made at the Special Meeting of the City Council.

(2) Letter from David VanHine, pres. of the Northville Jaycees, reviewing their July 4th Parade and Fireworks' budget and asking for payment of previously approved donation from the City of $250.00. Councilman Rathert made the suggestion that any additional payment be held over for further consideration - unanimously agreed.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Beatrice Carlson, speaking as Chairman of the Northville Beautification Commission, urging that a project be instituted to have the "Depot" on the C & O RR demolished. City Mgr. mentioned contacting City Attorney; City Mgr. and DPW Supt. agree that the building is not repairable.

BD. & COMMISSION MINUTES: Zoning Board of Appeals' minutes of Aug. 6, 1969 placed on file. Councilman Folino asked regarding the appeal concerning Rushlow's fence, - this appeal has been tabled until October meeting. Planning Commission minutes of Sept. 2nd, 1969, were placed on file. Councilman Lapham asked as to the lots that Mr. Carlo is requesting to be rezoned - whether the lots included all properties on both east and west side of Church St.

NORTHVILLE POLICE DEPT.-AUGUST, 1969: The August, 1969, report of the Northville Police Dept. was placed on file.

PUBLIC HEARING - RE-ZONE LOT 351 of PLAT NO. 4: Dr. Fackler made a presentation, as the petitioner, for the rezoning of Lot 351, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 4. He explained the "turn-around area" for vehicles and mentioned extra fire-hydrants being installed at proposed new building; a bridge will be built over the culvert or spring at the end of the parking

He also stated there would be 30 units instead of 32 as mentioned in the re-zoning application, Mayor Allen asked that City Engr. Penn look at the final plan for width of street and ingress and egress plan.

Moved by Rathert, support by Nichols, to rezone the Lot 351 of Assessor's Northville Plat No 4 from R-2 (2 family Residential) to R-2A (Restricted Multiple Dwellings). Unanimously carried.

REQUEST FOR "STOP" SIGN ON E. CHIGWIDDEN DRIVE: Mayor Allen suggested item No. 18 on the Agenda be the convenience of interested and in attendance.

Mr. Denis Roux, E. Chigwidden Dr., presented a petition containing 4 requests for signing on E. Chigwidden, Elsmere, Stanstead and Grasmere - all in Northville Estates (intent of above to slow traffic on perimeter of the Subdivision - Elsmere and E. Chigwidden). There were 43 signatures of residents of Northville Estates. A lengthy discussion ensued, City Mgr. suggested (1) installation of sidewalks in subdivision and (2) install street lights, but felt there should be further study made.

Moved by Folino, support by Nichols, to install 2 signs on E. Chigwidden and 1 sign on Elsmere between Holmsbury and Stanstead: install 2" humps as soon as possible on E Chigwidden (to slow traffic).

Yeas: Nichols and Foline Nays: Rathert, Allen and Lapham

Motion denied. FIREMEN'S (VOLUNTEER) INSURANCE: A representative from Burnham and Flower Agency conferred with City Mgr. regarding an insurance policy for the Volunteer Fire Dept. which has been endorsed by the Mich. Ass'n. of Twp. Supervisors. City Council asked City Mgr. to check further on this and report to them before cancelling present policy, which expires next May, 1970 (City Attorney requested that Company be checked)

SIDEWALK WIDTHS IN LEXINGTON COMMONS' SOUTH SUBDIVISION: City Mgr. stated that a problem has arisen regarding the sidewalk's widths in Lexington Commons South Sub. Originally, Thompson-Brown had been told 4 feet by the City Mgr. and later the City Engineer stated 5-feet is the City requirement. Some subdivisions have gone in with 4 and some

Moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, to approve 4-feet sidewalks instead of 5-feet in Lexington Commons South Subdivision; also waive the requirements of the City Engineer's standard of 5-feet in Lexington Commons South Sub.

City Manager Ollendorff - they would have to come to the Planning Commission for additional stores.

Councilman Nichols to City Manager -How much would this increase our taxes? Answer: Possibly $15,000.

Councilman Lapham - not a question of how much will it increase, but rather if it doesn't go through, how much will it decrease. Other developments will not come Councilman Rathert - As a Councilman I would have to be sympathetic to neighboring people but have an obligation to the City as a whole to help the planning.

Francis Gazlay - commented on the quaintness of Northville and asked if we are losing sight of this fact.

Councilman Nichols - Some people have indicated they do not want any progress; we are going to have changes v hether we want them or not, It is our responsibility to find wherewithel and increase tax base to make this possible.

Councilman Folino - Rusiness can go only two ways; East Main or North Center. Any decision made by Council is made in good faith; hope that any decision that is made is for the best interest of Northville. If we can better our Community it will be better for everyone.

Mayor Allen made the statement that it is unfortunate if we do this against our neighbors and friends but we have had to make a decision that is to the best interests of the City and hope that each and everyone will vote on your own thinking.

Mayor' Allen declared the Hearing closed and asked for a motion.

Motion by Lapham, seconded by Nichols, that the area as described be rezoned from R-2 (residential two family) to C-2 (commercial).

AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH AND MAINTAIN A FREE PUBLIC JILIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

THE CITY OF NOVI ORDAINS:

Section 1.01, Establishment, There is hereby created and established a public library and reading room, for the use and benefit of the inhabitants of the City of Novi, Michigan, under the authority of Chapter 16 of the Novi City Charter and Act 164 of the Public Acts of 1877 of the State of Michigan, as amended (Sections 15.1661 - 15.1677 Mich. Stat. Anno.).

Section 2.01. Name, Said public library and reading room shall be known and described as the "City of Novi Library".

Section 3.01. Board of Directors. The Mayor shall, with the approval of the City Council, appoint a board of five (5) directors, chosen from the citizens at large, with reference to their fitness for such office, and not more than one (1) member of the City Council shall be at any one (1) time a member of said board of directors. Section 4.01. Term of Office. Of the five (5) persons appointed directors, one (1) director shall be appointed for a term of five (5) years, and one (1) director shall be appointed for a term of (4) four years, one (1) director for a term of three (3) years, one (1) director for a term of two (2) years, one (1) director for a term of one (1) year, and annually thereafter the Mayor shall with approval of the City Council, appoint one (1) member of such board of directors for a term of five (5) years. The directors duly appointed shall hold office until their respective term has expired and their successor duly appointed and qualified.

Section 5.01. Removal for Cause. The Mayor may, by and with the consent of the City Council, remove any director for misconduct or neglect Section 6.01. Vacancies, Vacancies in the board of directors occasioned by removals, resignation or otherwise, shall be reported to the City Council, and be filled in like manner as original appointments.

Section 7.01. Library Fund. There shall be levied, beginning with the winter (December) Tax Roll of 1969, one-half (1/2) mill on the dollar annually on all taxable property in the City of Novi, such tax to be levied and collected in like manner with other general taxes of said city, to be known as the "Library Fund".

Section 8,01. Directors-Powers, Duties, Fund, Accounting. Said board of directors shall:

a. Immediately after appointment as the first board of directors, and annually thereafter, meet, organize and elect from their numbers a President, a Secretary and a Treasurer and such other officers as they deem necessary. b. Make and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations for their own guidance and for the government of the library and reading room as they may deem expedient, not inconsistent with the statute, charter or this ordinance. o. Have exclusive control of the expenditure of all moneys collected to the credit of the library fund, and of donations or funds received from other sources, for the benefit of said library, provided, that all moneys received shall be deposited in a separate fund, and shall be drawn upon only by majority action of the board of directors, upon properly authenticated vouchers. The President and Treasurer shall be only authorized members to jointly sign checks, and the Treasurer shall be bonded in the amount of $25,000.00.

d. Have exclusive care and custody of the grounds, rooms or buildings constructed, leased or set apart for that purpose.

e. Have power to appoint a suitable librarian and necessary assistant and fix their compensation, and shall have power to remove such appointees. f. Maintain a public library and reading room for the inhabitants of the

Mustang Gloom Prevails in Daylight

There's little difference between daylight and dark for Coach 'Al Klukach's Mustangs ... unfortunately. And similarly, the difference between playing football games and losing football games is growing pretty slim.

Having proven themselves as an unpredictable but generally ineffective noctumal combination during the first half of their season, the Mustangs on Friday in broad daylight for a change were lumiliated 24-0 by a pretty aggressive Bloomfield Hills Andover team which apparently has blended a little ability with lots of desire in attaining its perfect 5-0 record.

The luggish Mustangs, now 1-4 after suffering their second shutout of the season, had one early touchdown nullified by penalty and then thwarted by an interception and failed to go in from the two on another series in a performance which made minutes of uninspired play seem

Grasping for something favorable from the afternoon, it did represent the last of the biggies for the Mustangs who now begin battle with the likes of winless Clarkston, Brighton (1-4) and Kettering (0-5) for second division honors in the Wayne-Oakland League.

All four of the local team's losses have come at the hands of title contenders and Friday's setback followed a 40-14 beating suffered the week before against West Bloomfield. Andover and West Bloomfield, apparently headed for a showdown in their October 31 contest, are unbeaten after four league games while the Barons have been scored upon only once in five contests during the entire

The Mustangs appeared destined to at least avoid a shutout in the early moments of the game Friday when Quarterback Rich Adams connected in the end zone with Halfback Terry Mills on a 17-yard aerial which was called back by officials because of illegal motion against the offense.

But then on the same drive and with the help of an unsportsman-like conduct penalty against a Baron coach, the Mustangs found themselves on the Andover six with a first down.

The visitors proceeded to complete a flat pass, lose a yard on a rushing attempt, have a pass fail incomplete and, with fourth down and still on the six, a desperate pass by Adams was intercepted on the goal line to end the

The Mustangs had another drive cover 43 yards in the second stanza before being stopped by the clock at halftime on the Andover nine and in the last period, they moved the ball to the Andover two from where they were unable to score in four plays.

The visitors received the opening kickoff but failed to gain a first down and punted out to the Andover 25. On the Barons second play from scrimmage, Halfback Rick Kaufman galloped 41 yards on a sweep bringing the ball to the Mustang 34.

The drive continued to the Mustang 26 where, with fourth down and two, Quarterback Scott Roley had a pass intercepted by Mills on the goal line. The Mustangs proceeded on the ensuing drive to register their nearly-successful drive which. ironically, was also halted by a goal line pass interception.

Adams combined with End Bernie Bach on consecutive completions of eight and 14 yards during the march and connected for 28 yards on an aerial to Flanker Fred Holdsworth before having its touchdown nullified and then having another attempt halted with the interception.

Andover's first score came early in the second period when Kaufman again broke away and scampered 34 yards to score. Roley attempted to run the first of four conversions - all of which

The Barons came right back to score again the next time they had possession marching 74 yards in 13 plays with Fullback E.J. Levy crashing in from the three.

The Mustangs then launched their drive just before halftime which went to the Andover nine before running out of time.

Andover received the kickoff to start the second half and marched 60 yards to score in six plays with Roley passing to Halfback Howard Tryron for the touchdown on a 48-yard aerial.

The visitors fumbled on the first play of the ensuing series and Andover recovered on the Mustang 31. Five plays later Roley took the snap from center and darted through the middle of the defense going in to score standing up from the 12 for the final touchdown.

The Mustangs staged their last threat early in the final quarter when they drove to the Andover two and, from a first down situation, were unable to cover the short yardage to convert the touchdown in four plays.

Halfback Dave Coe, dominating the Mustang rushing attack, ran well when he had the room and Adams appeared poised in launching his aerials early in the game although both individuals, and both aspects of the Mustang offense, eventually faltered under the pressure of the Baron

Mustang Halfback Dave Coe gains yardage on a sweep against Bloomfield Hills Andover on Friday in one of the few bright moments for the visitors. Andover won the contest, 24-0, and remained tied for the Wayne-Oakland League lead while the Mustangs are now 1-3 in the conference with three games remaining. One year later, due to

has made his coaching debut and a successful one - in cross country.

"See that guy standing there by the pool?" Athletic Director Bob Kucher asked while showing me through the high school last summer. "He's the swimming coach. Got a reputation as a real good coach and we hired him last year at this time with plans for him to develop a swimming program here but then we had this millage defeated and had to cut out a bunch of things—"

Kucher just kind of shook his head in sympathy then quickly inserted that everything was set Mustangs in the summer of 1968 unexpected delays, Ben Lauber include other schools in the early training techniques. But definitely stages of competition and the a factor was Ben Lauber's meets will be after classes on enthusiasm. Friday and -

But for Ben Lauber, the disappointment of not being able to start and build the swimming team last season is something that only another coach, like Kucher, can understand. For somebody who has spent the late falls and winters wrapped up in swimming for as long as you can remember, it's difficult having to sit a season

Particularly when the challenges are as great as they only are when you're introducing a sport into a program.

But then this fall there came to be a vacancy on Kucher's staff with the need for a cross country coach. And although it wasn't swimming, it was coaching and Lauber grabbed at it.

"We haven't got much experience but we have some good young prospects, observed at the outset of the season.

It seems that cross country, too, was a victim of cutbacks resulting from the millage battle and so, ironically, Lauber again found himself affected by the same bummer that had delayed his plans in swimming.

"Five and two now, not bad, huh?" Kucher observed the other day. "The cross country team. Cross country is now 5-2.

And since the AD made the comment, the harriers have won another and will go into Saturday's Wayne-Oakland League meet as a darkhorse which could come home winner.

****** Obviously Lauber has done a good job. Coincidentally, cross country is similar to swimming in as much as the participants have to be disciplined well enough to put themselves through some pretty grueling hours of training in order to be ready for a few minutes of competition.

Probably a factor in Lauber's success is the similarities in Because cross country is important to a group of boys, Lauber made it important for himself and he's given that 100 percent that every coach asks of his athletes. And success has been the result which is fair enough no matter how you look at it.

And a few weeks from now Lauber will begin his initial swimming season here - with an established reputation as a successful cross country coach.

Who would have guessed 15 months ago that -?

Things Looking Up? Local Team Favored

It's been a long time coming, but the Mustangs on Friday will go into a football as favorites. And on the heels of a 24-0 setback for a team with a I-4 mark, the circumstances are a little unusual but probably not unwelcome.

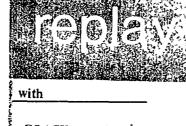

Thursday, October 16, 1969

For new Clarkston Coach Paul Rakow at Clarkston, being underdogs this season is nothing new since his club is admittedly rebuilding with hopes of better things to come after having suffered five decisive losses in five

"Clarkston really doesn't have much of anything," Mustang Coach Al

MUSTANG HALFBACK Dave Coe again this week was honored by Coach Al Klukach's staff for his outstanding 'performance in last Friday's game at Bloomfield Hills Andover. Coe, a senior and two-way player, previously has been Mustanger and has shared the honor on weeks earlier this season.

COACH AL KLUKACH

Klukach observes bluntly. "Our kids know the personnel they're playing and this is one we just got to win.' Klukach reports all hands healthy despite Friday's loss to Bloomfield Hills Andover although he observes that psychologically the team may be in the doldrums.

"We're healthy except we have to keep working on our spirit," he explains. "We need this one bad Friday."

Rakow, meanwhile, finds that he's inherited a program in need of considerable improvement. The Mentor, who formerly built some Michigan small school powers at Bloomingdale before moving to Benton Harbor St. John and on to Clarkston. logically is anxious for that first victory any way he can get it in order to stimulate the confidence necessary in a successful program. And an upset over the Mustangs would be acceptable. But deciding what team needs the victory most obviously would depend upon your allegiance.

And Klukach, whose allegiance is pretty obvious, wants the victory probably with hopes that it will be the first of a happy three-game string to end what hasn't been an entirely happy season on.

Councilmen endorsed the plat on the basis that it would be altered and approved by the attorney and engineers before Clerk Mabel Ash, representing the city, will sign it.

In other business Monday, the council accepted the low bid of $2,749.95 from Dom Marino Colony Plymouth-Chrysler, Plymouth, for a police car after deciding to keep rather than trade one of the department's older models, previewed a computation machine being considered for purchase and use in the offices of the treasurer and controller and then officially submitted its offer to provide general services to Novi Township at six-and-one-half mills.

The bid on the police car, a Plymouth model, was the lowest of three submitted last week Monday at which time the council tabled a decision awaiting the recommendation of Police Chief Lee BeGole concerning whether or not to trade in an older model in the purchase. Councilman Denis Berry had stated last week Monday that he believed the older model would be worth more as an additional unit for the department rather than in trade.

BeGole, present Monday, observed that his force could use the additional vehicle as a back-up unit for patrol and

16-Mill Maximum

Governor Proposes Tax Hikes, Cuts

To implement his school reform package, Governor William Milliken proposed to the legislature Thursday

• The state income tax be increased 1.5 percent over the present oproperty taxes be reduced correspondingly to the increase in

• the corporate income tax be increased from 5.6 percent to 7.7

•the 7 percent financial institutions tax be increased to 11

• a state-wide 16 mill property tax max mum be established.

As an immediate step to raise additional money for education the governor called for raising $45 million from a five-cent increase in the cigarette tax, and $116 million through elimination of the property tax credit.

Key to the governor's package is the 16 mill property tax, which is eight mills lower than the present average of 24 mills for school operating expenses (in Northville the present operating millage is 27.9 mills, in Novi 21.13 mills, in South Lyon 25.63 mills, and in Brighton 21.25 mills.

Under the proposed property tax plan the local district would have the authority (by local vote) to raise up to three mills over and above the statewide maximum. The state would allow each district a yield from such voted millage as though the district had a SEV of $30,000 per student. In districts where the SEV is less, the state would provide matching funds to bring the yield to the same as a district with $30,000 SEV per student.

A little-known feature of the 16-mill statewide maximum levy is that it is not actually a maximum, insofar as millage is concerned. The proposal states that in future years the property tax millage levy can equal the same percentage of total state monies spent for education that the 16-mill levy represents in percentage of the first

The board proposals for school reform are contained in the Report of the Governor's Commission on Educational Reform on Page 10-B. E. O. Weber, Republican chairman of the Wayne County's Second district and a Northville Township resident, served on the commission's advisory committee.

"hubris" or "hybris", a form of education at the trade school. To pride which elevated man above earn instant money, he robs the his peers and made him a deity of sorts.. And although pride was a magnificent distinguishing trait, it also doomed the protagonist to certain death or a similar fate.

Surely, CBS Playhouse's first production of the year, "Appalachian Autumn," was hardly a drama in the classical mold. But nonetheless, the character of pride, ascribed to the protagonist was closely akin to hybris and elicited the same response—the feeling of great loss through the anguished fate of the

The protágonist in Appalachian Autumn was Jerod. the independent father, played sensitively by Arthur Kennedy. Out of work since the coal mines closed, Jerod asserts his pride by spurning handouts.

His town, Harper's Gap, is slowly dying, caught in the grasp of a dead economy and ignorance. The only hope, the only salvation of the town is his son, Hugh, whose hands have the talent to mold distinctive pieces of pottery. The solution to the town's economic ills lies in Hugh's hands, his ability, in short, to teach other residents of Harper's Gap to produce pottery on an assembly-line basis.

Financially unable to send his son to trade school, Jerod agrees to take items on loan only and to repay when Harper's Gap thrives as a center of ceramic industry. The town is on the verge of a new future; the father has retained his pride while obtaining the money needed for Hugh's schooling.

Hope crumbles, however, on the wheel of fate. Hugh does the manly thing when his girl friend

The ancients called it turns up pregnant and foresakes abandoned coal mines with his

> Hugh dies in a cave-in. With the same quiet determination inherent in his pride, the father faces now a life apparently without hope, a life of anguished thought and regret. But Jerod does not crumble in the face of anguish.

> As he tells Joe Borden, the college youth who triggered the town's enthusiasm by planning Hugh's future; Hugh may have died, but life will continue in Harper's Gap and the same problems must be borne and

The implications for all men are clear. Adversity is a part of life which man cannot avoid. Thus he had better face mis-fortune with courage and pride, rather than succumb and lose his claim to manhood.

While Governor Milliken's announced plan for educational reform has turned the attentions of parents and property-owners to Lansing, the

The program, revealed earlier this month with preliminary legislation introduced Monday, proposes increasing the general statewide educational standards while relieving the burden of taxation against property-owners - a manuever which is expected to demand a substantial increase in the state income tax rate.

The plan also proposes financial assistance from the state for non-public schools and the termination of intermediate school districts in favor of a regional system for administration all major revisions if adopted to present operations.

The early response from property-owners has been favorable as they welcome the proposed relief apparently confident that the subsequent increase in state income tax, to be shared from the combined purses of landowners and non-landowners, will be easier to assume individually.

Similarly, many parents particularly those from poorer districts (districts of low property valuation) have indicated support for the program since it is designed to assure minimum standards of quality in education regardless of the trend or potential in local property values.

And likewise, many parents presently assuming the high costs in what appears to be a losing battle for the privileges of parochial education have greeted indications of future assistance as assurance of more time in which they can continue their search for more economical means of

But the majority of the Governor's points for revision are areas which have been long entangled in controversy with opposition prevalent, and often dominant, against certain recommendations.

"I've got to give Governor Milliken credit for taking the leadership on this because that's the only way it can get done," Rep. Marvin, Stemplen (D-Livonia) observes, "A legislator can be for it and act accordingly and so can a House or Senate leader. But you really can't launch a plan like this without the Governor's leadership.

"The juniqueness now is that we have a Governor fighting for this and I feel he deserves a lot of credit," he adds. "But all of his major points in the proposed reform are subjects of controversy by themselves which makes this a tremendous step to be attempting politically."

Stempien, former Northville city attorney, indicated his support for the general program and emphasized the importance of "taking an open-minded position now in fairness to the Governor's commitment."

"As far as specifics, it's difficult to make endorsements because much of the program remains indefinite and in the hands of legislators," he continues. "But I feel the primary factor at this point is for us to be open-minded with the interest of the children at heart.

"In general, I think the proposal sounds sensible and logical," Stempien relates. "There are proposals included which have been fought for by many of us in the past but now the uniqueness is that we have a Governor who is fighting for this."

Rep. Stempien indicated his support for the proposed revision in taxation "shifting the burden of responsibility to an ability-to-pay While Stempien is probably the most enthusiastic of area legislators in his support for the Governor's program, Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti) is obviously the most enthusiastic in opposition.

"There are some good parts and some bad parts," Smith states. "The real crux of the matter is that I'm disappointed in it. To me it provides in a disguise a means for the same worn out people to be nipped away at just a little bit harder in providing tax dollars to support education.

The reason I feel I can be critical is because I've got a better proposal," he explains bluntly. "I'm in the process for petitioning for a plan that offers some relief for the property-owner. The financing end as proposed by the Governor is neither nothing new nor innovative whatsoever,"

Sen. Gordon Rockwell (R-Mt. Morris) also challenges the proposed reform claiming that it's the desire of the public to have the caliber of education revised and improved without an increase in financing.

"It's true that the people feel a need in the K-12 area but I think the stress has been on money rather than reform," he observes. "Reform to me means doing better with what you

"I think first of all we had better repair the ship before traveling on, Rockwell, a member of the senate taxation committee, explains. "We seem to be talking about money reform when we should be talking about educational reform. I think there are too many inequities in the smaller school districts and I feel major reform is a big step in the right direction.

"But if we're going to have successful reform, we've got to do the best with what we have," he adds. "The Governor's proposed program would require quite a few changes before I'd go along with it."

Sen. George Kuhn (R-Birmingham) has expressed support for the program although he favors financing it either by eliminating some of the existing exemptions on the income tax or by increasing the sales tax by a vote of the people from four to five percent.

"My initial reaction is that I want to do whatever I can to give the Governor as much help as I can in educational reform," Sen. Kuhn explains. "I am very interested in financing it by removing some of the existing exemptions which is allowing $1.5 billion to be 'lost' in exemptions from the income tax."

The senator emphasized that "only about 30 percent" are paying the income tax at its current 2.6 percent rate indicating his desire to spread the tax on 60 percent by eliminating many of the existing exemptions. He also stated that an increase by one cent in the sales tax could provide $100 million for schools and, upon being approved by the citizenry through a vote, "would hit everyone."

"I have to say that there's no doubt in my mind that Governor Milliken's program here is a most controversial and courageous step which will have far-reaching affects,' he continued. "But I have a deep concern in this area because I don't want to see our people paying an unfair share of taxes."

Sen. Gilbert Bursley (R-Ann Arbor), an early opponent to aid to non-public schools, has described the program as having "a great deal of

Decline in Price of Silver Appears to be Leveling Off

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. The downturn in the price of silver - which has declined sharply since mid-1968 - appears to be flattening out. Although it is unlikely that quotes will move significantly higher over the near term (unless there are renewed upheavals' in, the international monetary scene and/or passage of the proposed bill to mint an Eisenhower silver dollar), future supply and demand factors strongly indicate that the price of silver could move considerably higher over the longer term. Because the amount of silver consumed for industrial usage far exceeds new production, there is an annual production - consumption gap. Domestically, this deficit amounted to more than 100 million ounces last year and was met primarily by the sale of U.S. Treasury silver stocks. This supply of silver, however, is limited and is expected to be exhausted by early 1971. Although there are other sources of above-ground silver (which include speculative holdings, sizable quantities in India and the Near Eastern countries, and silver coins), it is probable that a substantially higher price level than that which currently exists will be necessary to dislodge these supplies in any quantity.

Consequently, once the Treasury's stock is seen to be near depletion, it appears likely that silver prices will move significantly higher, Also, since silver is regarded as an attractive hedge commodity against possible currency devaluation, the metal's outlook is further enhanced. THE RESEARCH

STAFF of Babson's Reports feels that both Sunshine Mining and Hecla Mining (two important domestic silver producers) offer investors an excellent opportunity to participate in the bright outlook for silver. Purchase of the common stocks of both companies is recommended for investors looking for longer-term capital gains. Investors seeking current income with the possibility of capital appreciation should consider Sunshine Mining Company's Convertible Deb. 61/2s 1989.

One of the leading domestic silver producers. Sunshine Mining Company operates the largest U.S. silver mine and owns about 57% of output.

Farm Show Coming Up

Michigan Farm youth are reminded this week that Friday (October 17) is the closing date for steer, swine and lamb entries in the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show to be held November 7,8 and 9 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

For the first time in 40 years, horse classes have been added for juniors. Closing date for horse show entries is October 31. Premium lists and entry forms are now available from Robert McLachlan, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 48203. Rules for the 40th annual market livestock division of the show remain the same except that cattle will be mouthed to determine the showing of senior calves, summer yearlings and junior yearlings without regard to actual age limits as in

Reserves at the beginning of this year amounted to about 1 million tons, of which the company's share was slightly over 600 thousand tons. Sunshine recently announced a substantial ore strike in the eastern portion of the mine. Although the company is now involved in a number of other activities, silver production is being expanded and still accounts for the greatest part of earnings. Both sales and earnings have grown substantially in recent years. While the upward trend in profits may be temporarily interrupted in the current year (due to the reduced first-half results), the future earnings outlook is good. . HECLA MINING is a major U.S. silver producer.

Mine production also includes lead, some gold, zinc, and other base metals. The company has undertaken a rather substantial exploration program in the Western U.S. and Canada, and arrangements have been worked out to explore and develop areas around its existing mines in the Coeur d'Alene section of Idaho.

Hecla has a 35%

equity interest in Granduc Mines. Copper property owned by Granduc is leased to American Smelting and Newmont

Mining for development. Output of 42,500 tons of copper is planned by 1970. Looking still further ahead, the company is well positioned to benefit from the expected uptrend in silver prices over the longer term. The common stock, down considerably from its 1968 high, now appears to be an attractive commitment for investors seeking longer term appreciation.

WHY I BELIEVE THE BIBLE INFALL-IBLY INSPIRED:

"The writing was the writing of God" - Exodus 32:16.

"These are the true sayings of God" Revelation 19:9.

I believe because of the testimony of Jesus. Jesus put His stamp of approval on every single book of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation. John 5:39 - Jesus said "Search the Scriptures for in them ye think ye have eternal life."

I believe because of fulfilled prophecy. Three-fourths of the Bible prophecy and three-fourths of that is already accurately fulfilled. Isaiah 34:16 -

"Seek ye out of the Book of the Lord and read." There will be a fulfillment every prophetical statement in the Bible.

I believe because of its indestructibility. John. 10:35 - "The Scripture cannot be broken, "Isaiah 40:8 "The grass withereth the flower fadeth; but the WORD of our God shall stand

I believe because of its unparalled unity. It has sixty-six books, forty human writers, written over a period of fifteen hundred years on more than one continent, and written in three different languages; and when you put it together, it has ONE harmonious theme, the blood of Jesus Christ and not one contradiction in

I believe because of its transforming power. John 5:24 - "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." I Peter 1:23 -"Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the

WORD of GOD, which

LIVETH and ABIDETH

forever."

I believe because of its inexhaustibility. Romans 11:33-34 - "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath —been his counsellor?"

Read Isaiah 55:8-9.

I believe because of its inward witness. I Corinthians 2:14 - "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." Please study Corinthians 2:10-13.

I rejoice in the inward testimony that this is the word of God. Exodus 32:16 - Revelation 19:9.

Do you know the author of this Book? Whose face is stamped on every page, and His atoning blood stains every syllable. He is the Savior of those who believe in Him. God help us all to turn to Him.

We'd be lost, wouldn't we, if suddenly computers were withdrawn from our daily life? We have become dependent on them to schedule airplane flights, point out scholastic aptitudes and aid the Internal Revenue Service in checking income tax returns.

But there are things a computer can't do. It can't make a home a better home or a man a better man. A computer can't heal sorrows and disappointments. It can swallow up a lot of statistics and clank out a lot of conclusions, but it can't direct a man to God's love.

As today's world is run more and more by automation, we need the help of the Church to guide us in the spiritual realm of life. We need to experience God's great love for all men. In our mechanical world, only the Church can help us find God's love.

Report of Governor's Commission on Educational Reform

THE PRESENT PROBLEMS

With these educational values stated, we asked ourselves, and many others, what in our present circumstances stands between the people of Michigan and an adequate and responsive educational system. It is these circumstances which require total educational reform so that each child can reach his full potential.

The basic problems may be summarized as follows: ORGANIZATION — The State Level

The organization of public education at the state level in Michigan is a classic case of arrested development. Evolving as it has from a 1908 constitutional provision which merely required the State "to continue a system of primary schools whereby every school district in the State shall provide for the education of its pupils," the State, despite the new Constitution of 1963, still plays a passive role, generally exercising only its custodial charge to "continue" local school districts and see that each provides for its pupils.

This is the case, even though the State will spend nearly $850 million over and above the approximately $850 million provided by local tax efforts for public elementary and secondary education during the current fiscal year, and even though many local school districts are unable to meet local revenue demands from local revenue sources.

A real crisis in Michigan's public education, in our view, is presented by the failure to assign educational responsibility at the State level. This failure cannot be blamed on any single person or institution. The Governor, the Legislature, the State Board of Education, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction/seem to share, or, more accurately, to divide, the power, authority, and responsibility for education in Michigan in a manner which defies the fixing of accountability and frustrates the development of any unified approach to Michigan's educational problems.

It is difficult to conceive of a less workable structure, fraught with such possibilities for inaction and lack of focus for leadership than the one existing at the state level in education.

It is a procastinator's paradise in which no one, except on an extremely long-term basis (and then only in a fragmentary form) has responsibility to the public for the results achieved.

The Governor has no direct responsibility, except in his general role of Chief Executive and under his budgetary powers, for the operation of the state educational structure. The Legislature exercises fiscal control in varying degrees of effectiveness, and from time to time, passes new legislation for whose sound execution it is impossible to establish responsibility.

The State Board is an eight-member partisan body, the terms of whose members expire two at a time at two-year intervals. It thus takes six years of sustained effort for the public to change effective control of the Board. Further, the Board members are elected at regular partisan elections, in which the convention process is the only selection device.

Once the conventions have nominated their choices, the public's role is limited to attempting to select among these.

Such a board, members of whom are nominated almost as an afterthought by both political parties, brought into office on the tide of presidential or gubernatorial elections, forced to function in a political unit which is apt to be fiercely partisan, and given only limited powers to fulfill the requirements of their office, is bound to fail, and has failed as an effective governing body.*

The members of the Commission have no quarrel with these individuals who undoubtedly are doing the best they can under the circumstances. We submit, however, that such a board, however gifted its individual members, cannot meet the crisis in educational leadership which presently exists in Michigan.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction, who should be the central and key figure in making the state structure function, is selected by a majority of the State Board and serves at its pleasure. While he serves as chairman of that Board, he has no vote, and his impact on the Department is largely a function of the Department's confidence that he will be able to continue to keep a majority of the Board voting to employ him.

Even under better conditions than now exist, the role of the board would still be to shield the chief executive of the Education Department from accountability to the Governor and the Legislature, just as the board is itself presently shielded from accountability by its structure, size and slow turnover.

We do not believe that the present state structure is capable of sustaining and being properly accountable for its present functions. Still less do we believe that, unreformed, it is capable of being entrusted with the larger, more significant responsibilities that it is essential to place at the state level.

We believe there must be accountability to the Governor and to the Legislature, and through them, to the people for the great stakes that this democracy has always risked on the success of the educational enterprise.

*Commission Member Otis M. Smith dissents from the above part which is critical of the method by which the State Board is nominated and elected, "there being ample precedent in Michigan for such method." It is his opinion that the substantive deficiency in the Board is that it has constitutionally defined responsibility but no authority.

ORGANIZATION — The Intermediate Level

Intermediate school districts evolved from the old county boards of education. At one time in our history they served a useful purpose and a few, within present limitations and under great handicaps, have tried effectively to respond to current education needs.

Too confined to take advantage of many advances in modern technology. which require large populations to achieve economies of scale, the intermediate districts, in most cases, are a largely ineffective part of our educational structure.

Lacking well-defined goals, adequate financing, or vital administration, most intermediate districts play no important role in educating our children. The future holds no meaningful place for them in their present form. ORGANIZATION - The Local Level

We find a disturbing tendency on the part of many to feel that the major effort in school district reorganization is nearing completion when, in fact, the difficult and important work lies ahead. There are school districts in this State which actually operate no schools. There are well over 100 districts which offer only an elementary program. There are an additional 100 to 200 school districts which are operating elementary and secondary programs but which, because of small size or other factors, are operating them ineffectively or inefficiently or

hoth. FINANCING - Revenue Collection

We believe it a legitimate goal of educational reform to have the financial burden of educating our children fall as equitably as possible on all our citizens. Michigan has grown too interdependent, the lives of its citizens too intertwined, the mobility of our population too great, to fail to recognize as individuals, what we have collectively recognized in our Constitution - that education must be a primary state responsibility. Only through statewide financing of education can we insure that the burden of education is equally shared by all citizens.

The present system of revenue collection virtually insures that educational opportunity in Michigan will be unequally distributed. These inequities result because of the heavy reliance on local property tax, the huge variations in property wealth among school districts, and the local determination of school Property assessment practices in Michigan do not produce a uniform relationship between the assessed valuation or State Equalized Value and the true market value of property. The State Equalized Valuation on property in Michigan ranges from less than 10% to more than 50% of market value.

Some school districts levy 35 mills or more for schools while others levy 10 mills or less. If the unequal rate is applied to the unequal base, the resulting compounded revenue gathering inequalities almost defy systematic analysis. There is, however, one certain result - many Michigan citizens pay far more in property taxes to support their schools than do other citizens having the same income and living in comparable housing.

Some people have suggested to the Commission that public education should be financed without any reliance on property tax, with the revenue loss to be made up by increasing the income tax. This has some appeal to us as a more equitable approach, but we consider it impractical as it would require the income tax rate for the state to triple in present level without providing any additional funds to public education. We believe the state should continue to rely on the property tax for educational purposes but that the methods of determining the tax base value or assessed valuation should be equitable and that the tax rate applied to the base should be uniform across the state.

FINANCING - Revenue Distribution

The school aid distribution formula for the state has all the rate and base inequities built into it plus the most critical statistic in educational finance - the State Equalized Value per child within the school district. This figure ranges from less than $3,000 per child to more than $60,000 per child. Although the formula attempts to equalize actual dollar distribution to some degree, the final result is a range of from less than $500 per pupil per year spent in some school districts to more than $1,100 per pupil per year spent in others.

In addition, the existing distribution structure with its multiple sources of income for district operation - state, county, and local - virtually guarantees that the local district will be unable to plan effectively or manage efficiently. Without stability of income and power to allocate resources, our local districts stagger along from crisis to crisis, in the sure knowledge that sooner or later each of them will face a financial dilemma beyond its ability to solve.

The three-part distribution pattern also means that no one has the authority to establish accountability for the method and manner of local district expenditures. Districts simply spend as they see fit, and, in a rapidly growing number, they are being forced into deficit spending. Educational Evaluation

There are no clearly stated objectives for our educational system, criteria for assessing its accomplishments, or systems for assuring its accountability. Cost increases for education are highly measurable (they have more than doubled in the past few years), but improvements in educational achievement have not been measured. Responsibility, accountability, and equality of educational opportunity are meaningless terms until we can begin to find ways to measure the quality of our educational product and the effect it has on our children. Non-Public Schools

The non-public schools have public value.

The existence and strength of non-public schools contribute to educational choice in Michigan. And educational choice can contribute to educational quality. Today, programs in many non-public schools are severely strained due to a lack of resources. In some cases, classes are being curtailed, and the students involved are transferring to — and putting a new strain on — the public schools. When non-public schools close in Michigan, the pressures on public schools are

When non-public schools curtail their programs, it impairs the education of their students, many of whom ultimately will be enrolling in the public schools for one reason or another.

There is, therefore, a public stake in the plight of the non-public schools. In 1968, the Michigan School Finance Study (Thomas Report) amply documented this plight. The situation has deteriorated considerably since then. Non-public schools, which have about 15 percent of Michigan's total school population, this year enrolled about 287,000 pupils, down 28,000 from last year, and down about 74,000 since 1965. Accelerating costs have forced closing of more than 100 non-public schools in the past five years. From all indications the trend will continue, if not accelerate, unless there is some form of financial assistance forthcoming from public sources.

One school of thought contends that if immediate financial assistance is not available to non-public school children the whole system will collapse. This seems highly unlikely. What is more likely is that non-public schools would be open only to the children of affluent parents who could afford the rapidly accelerating tuition costs. Obviously, then the children of lower income families would be effectively barred from attending such schools.

On the other hand, another group contends that any support to non-public school children would be unconstitutional and legally void. This is for the courts to decide. We agree with the Thomas Report's chapter on non-public schools that "Questions of constitutionality are not identical with questions of advisability, and the objective here is to suggest guidelines for beneficial public policy, not for litigation."

We are of the collective opinion that no study of education reform can avoid the plight of the non-public schools. But we also believe that this issue must be considered in the context of total educational reform and that any steps which might be taken to forestall financially-induced closings and otherwise relieve the plight of non-public schools and their less than 300,000 students must be consistent with the best interest of, and state responsibilities for, the public schools and their more than two million students; with the Constitution, and with public policy.

GOALS AND RECOMMENDATIONS ' -

We set out to design a new educational structure with these objectives:

(1) To assure to each child, no matter where he may live or what his circumstances may be, an equal educational opportunity. (2) To assign appropriate administrative and educational responsibilities to local, regional, and state levels. (3) To provide a rational financing process through which needs of local districts can be recognized and met. (4) To devise systems of testing the effectiveness and efficiency of the educational system and measuring the educational progress of our children. (5) To distribute equitably the tax burden for education in Michigan. (6) To help preserve in an appropriate and constitutional manner the educational diversity, choice, and public value offered by non-public schools. (7) To provide maximum educational benefits for children appropriate levels of educational funding. The recommendations which follow clearly show that problems which have evolved over the past 100 years cannot be corrected in a year. These reforms must be phased into our educational system, following a closely prescribed timetable, over a 3-year period. They call for basic changes which relate directly to all the major problems which confront us. They deal with causes rather than symptoms. They are intended to rebuild the foundation rather than to repaint the walls.

State Administration To fix responsibility for operation of the Department of Education, we recommend that the existing State Board of Education structure and the position of State Superintendent of Public Instruction be abolished by Constitutional amendment and replaced by a State Director of Education appointed by the Governor, subject to Senate confirmation. This Constitutional amendment should be submitted to voters in the primary election of August,

Regional Administration

To strengthen further the organizational structure and responsibility of the State Department of Education, we recommend that intermediate school districts be discontinued and replaced by 10 - 15 regional education areas. The boundaries of these regions should be set by a special commission, with boundaries subject to approval of the Legislature.

The new regions we envision should operate in a well-defined structure of accountability and responsibility. To them should be assigned specific functions for which an adequate level of funding should be assured by the state. These functions should include, among others, special education, vocational and technical education, transportation, data processing, central business services, curriculum consulting; and budget review of constituent districts.

The chief executive officer of each region should be appointed by the State Director of Education and should be required to utilize advisory committees appointed by the constituent school districts. Further Reorganization of Local Districts

To strengthen the regional administration, and to provide wider educational opportunities, we recommend further consolidation of local districts. To accomplish this, the Educational Reorganization Committee should be reactivated and should be given legislatively approved guidelines. These guidelines should include the merging of all K-6 and K-8 districts into K-12 districts and further reorganization of K-12 districts. In further reorganization of K-12 districts, consideration should be given to such factors as appropriate size, density of population, distance traveled by pupils, location of physical facilities, and the need to improve social and racial integration.

This reorganization should have two phases. First, there should be a period when, within legislative guidelines, affected districts have an opportunity to reorganize voluntarily. Second, in those cases where voluntary efforts fail, there should be proceedings which result in the state reorganization committee ordering reorganization.

Financial Support of Education - a State Responsibility

We concur with Farris Bryant, Chairman of the national Advisory Commission in Intergovernmental Relations, who said:

"State assumption of substantially all financing of local schools is the most practical way of coming to grips with local educational disparity while at the same time shielding the local property tax base from crippling pressures. States have the responsibility to eliminate significant variations in educational opportunity that stem from differences in local tax resources. Neither the financing nor the quality of education should be shaped by the accidents of local property tax geography."

We further concur with J. Alan Thomas, Director of the comprehensive Michigan School Finance Study, who said: 'The most effective way to guarantee that the educational opportunities of children in Michigan would be equitably distributed would be through a shift toward state responsibility in providing revenues for operating schools."

A fairly administered and uniformly imposed property tax can and should be a valid and legitimate source of funding for schools. The degree of reliance on this tax source for education should become a matter of statewide public policy, although we believe that the present funding level of our school operating costs from this tax source is excessive and should be reduced. Property tax relief is very much in order. Such tax relief is possible only when a single legislative body is in a position to make decisions about the proper balancing of revenue collection among the state property, sales, and income taxes.

Therefore, we recommend: (1) that the constitution be amended to enable the Legislature to collect a uniform statewide property tax for school operating purposes in place of the existing local property taxes; (2) that measures be taken to assure that property assessment practices are improved before the statewide school property tax becomes effective; (3) that such a uniform state tax should be set at a rate somewhere below the statewide average for school operating purposes to provide property tax relief where it is most needed; (4) that the existing constitutionally imposed millage maximums on local property taxes be correspondingly reduced to reflect the substitute of a state property tax for school operations; (5) that, if local option property taxes are permitted by the Legislature for funding meritorious educational enrichment programs, the state, through legislation, should guarantee an equal per mill yield for all districts, impose a maximum on the number of mills that can thus be levied, and exclude teacher salary increases from the enrichment purposes for which the additional money may be spent. . Equitable distribution - The Budget Process

The uniform statewide property tax has an additional virtue in that it makes possible the development of an equitable statewide system for distributing state funds for the operation of both regional and local school districts. For the first time, Michigan will have the opportunity to guarantee stability of income, adequacy and uniformity of support, and proper allocation of financial resources to all districts.

Free of the cumbersome and inequitable state aid formula, Michigan can develop a budget system for its school districts. Such a system, properly administered, can assure fair treatment for all children in the distribution of money available for education, while, at the same time, providing the basis for employment of modern techniques of analysis and accountability to assure tax payers that their money is being spent effectively and efficiently.

We recommend a budget system funded on the basic unit in the educational process — the classroom. The budget process should be established to guarantee a maximum ratio of certified personnel to students. The amount of state support for the salaries of these individuals should take into account the experience and educational background of each, related to a base salary rate, adjusted by regions for demonstrated variables in the cost of operating schools. There should also be some control on the degree to which payments to school districts may deviate from an aggregate base rate salary level.

Overhead costs to the district for such factors as administration, utilities and maintenance should be related to the aggregate professional costs of the

Under the classroom unit system, now used in some form by most states, the costs of education can be related rationally to one another, without any element of cost consuming more than its proper share of the available money. Thus each district would be required to adhere closely to its budget and allotments within it.

Such a budget system, used creatively and effectively, can provide great benefits. Michigan can maintain its leadership in teacher salaries and continue to improve the quality and equality of education.

In order for such a budgeting system to be effective, however, all parts of the system must be coordinated and act responsibly. The state director must each year set realistic guidelines for the school districts in preparing their budgets. The districts must, in turn, prepare accurate budgets based upon sound appraisals of the costs of providing an adequate education to the children entrusted to their care. At the regional level, in reviewing district budgets and in preparing regional budgets, economies of scale must be employed to the fullest extent consistent with excellence. At the state level, the Director, the Governor and the Legislature must act promptly and within specified times on the budget requests. The Director, Governor, and the Legislature must insist upon solid performance, but they must also be aware that the future of our children cannot be secured in an educational bargain basement.

We are persuaded that, responsibly applied, a budget system of the type outlined offers the best means of guaranteeing that all children in this state will receive the fairest treatment in the allocation of the financial resources available for their education.

Accordingly, we recommend that in fiscal 1972-73, a budget system be adopted for the elementary, and secondary school system based, at the district level, upon the classroom unit and employing such factors as teacher-student ratios, professional base salary rates adjusted by experience, education and region, and overhead costs keyed to professional costs and based at the regional level on students and programs.

For the interim two years before the new budget structure becomes effective, we urge that the Legislature revise the school state-aid distribution formula for the purpose of producing greater program and dollar equity among school districts and providing a smooth transition into the "classroom unit" concept of school fund distribution proposed in this report for the 1972-73

Local Powers and Responsibilities

The budget process just described is but a means to the end of assuring stability, equity, and allocation of resources to the local school district as it seeks to accomplish its primary responsibility of educating children. We believe strongly that primary control, within the framework of state fiscal support and constraint for the educational process, should remain in local hands. The local districts should have maximum freedom in hiring teachers, in negotiating with their employes, in determining local curricula, in developing operating procedures, and in other matters dealing with the general education of our children.

Local districts should be relieved of concern for raising and distributing educational funds, running school buses, and providing special educational programs which can better be handled on a regional basis and have proved frustrating and overly expensive to operate on the local level. They should have available to them data processing, business services, educational media, central purchasing and other benefits which can be effectively provided on a regional basis.

These should all be viewed as supportive functions designed to permit the local districts to concentrate on the engrossing task of actual education. Educational Evaluation

The Commission believes that the State should undertake a systematic, statewide evaluation of its educational program in order to determine our present position and measure our future progress. It is necessary to begin this effort immediately. Our basic purpose is to identify underachieving pupils, specify their areas of deficiency, and develop programs to help them improve.

We firmly believe that resources allocated to help pupils with learning problems should be concentrated in the early grade levels and in basic reading and arithmetic skill areas.

Therefore, we recommend that the Legislature allocate funds immediately to develop and administer a statewide educational evaluation program. These funds should be used to contract for the services of an agency which has the human and material resources to develop such a program. Such a program should provide pupil testing at several grade levels and in many subject areas but impact heavily on the early grades. The evaluation should be the basis for allocating additional funds to pupils with learning problems and subsequent evaluations should be conducted to determine the effects of such additional funds on the learning levels of these pupils. Non-Public Schools*

We believe that sound public policy requires that the people of Michigan recognize a measure of responsibility for providing all children with an education in secular subjects. Our abiding concern is for children, wherever situated. Our

Educational Reform Commission

recommendations can be no less comprehensive. We would be remiss if we failed to help position this issue for reasoned consideration in the context of total educational reform.

The Commission recommends that the Legislature approve salary support for certified lay teachers of secular subjects in established non-public schools according to the following plan: 50% of such teachers' salaries for that portion of the time they teach secular subjects during the 1970-71 and 1971-72 school years, and 75% during the 1972-73 school year when other recommendations for educational reform will be fully effective.

We further recommend that the maximum allowance of aid to non-public schools in future years shall in no case exceed 2% of the total public school budget in Michigan; that by 1972, non-public schools receiving state and be subjected to the same evaluation, accountability, and quality controls as public schools in Michigan and that a responsible legislative committee be appointed to determine the effects of this provision if accepted, on racial, ethnic, and socio-economic segregation in Michigan education with a view toward making recommendations designed to reduce such segregation in conjunction with state aid to Michigan's non-public schools.

Further Key Recommendations For The Fall Session

The interim period, from now until educational reform can become fully operational in 1972, must be used to the fullest extent possible to improve the educational process so that no time will be unnecessarily lost.

We recommend strongly that the Legislature, during its fall session:

(1) Pass a State Aid Act for the 1970-71 school year providing substantially higher payments for program improvement and a substantial increase in the deductible millage to begin building toward a uniform property tax rate. The membership total should be increased by about $100 million, and about $25 million should be allowed for aid to non-public schools, as outlined earlier. About $500,000 should be included for setting up the regional districts. Other needed increases would go for remedial reading, special education, transportation, environmentally disadvantaged, intermediate districts, and retirement. Total state aid fund costs for 1970-71 are estimated at $1,035 million, as compared with this year's $849 million:

2) Pass needed revenue measures, based on ability to pay.

3) Pass resolutions enabling the people to vote on constitutional amendments needed to improve the state educational structure and permit the state to levy a uniform operational millage for schools, both as outlined earlier in this report. These amendments should go on the ballot in August, 1970.

4) Pass the entire educational reform package, so implementation can begin immediately.

We further recommend that the Governor:

1) Ask the Legislature to appoint a joint committee to recommend appropriate action on teacher certification, evaluation, training, and incentives. 2) Ask the Legislature to approve an extensive pupil testing plan which will establish levels against which pupil progress can be measured.

3) Propose, as soon as feasible, neighborhood education centers, street academies and other means of meeting educational problems, with particular reference to drop-outs. This should include special attention for migrant, non-English speaking, and economically disadvantaged children.

4) Propose means of achieving fuller utilization of available buildings and

5) Propose new approaches to vocational and technical training keyed to regional operation and allowing maximum flexibility, which would include and, indeed, encourage the practice of contracting with business, industry, and other agencies for job training and other educational functions.

SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

The reforms we propose focus on the relatively few causes of the many educational problems which confront us. They deal directly with the structure and financing of education in Michigan, with responsibility and accountability for educational activities at all levels of government, and, ultimately, with an evaluation of our educational product which will enable us to allocate our resources more intelligently and improve the quality of our future educational

But for all this, there is only one truly significant question to be asked in evaluating our proposals: Will the suggested reforms, if implemented, be beneficial to the children of our state? We are of a single mind in believing that they will. It is the "Child Benefit" question which has called us to account as we have labored this summer. It has provided the focus for the unified, highly-interrelated reform package presented in the preceding pages.

We believe children will benefit, if the ultimate responsibility for cation in Michigan is structured as we have recommended. With such an arrangement, decision-making in education will be far more responsive to public insistence on educational improvement.

We believe the regional concept, as an extension of state responsibility in education, will help our children. Under the regional concept, education for handicapped children will be adequately funded and professionally staffed. Vocational and technical training for youngsters will be modern, flexible, well-planned, and subject to continuing evaluation. Modern technology will be phased into educational decision-making and offered as a service to educators. Efficiency in busing, purchasing, data processing and other non-educational aspects of school work will make additional dollars available for reading, writing, mathematics, science, and social studies. Local educators, relieved of special functions and the necessity of raising funds locally, will have far more time and energy for activities which are vitally important to children.

The reorganization of schools, the removal of property tax base inequities, and the distribution of revenue according to educational need will eliminate the inequality of educational opportunity for our state, so effectively dramatized by the cold hard statistics of the Thomas Report. Acceptance of our recommendations means that every child in Michigan, regardless of wealth, social position, or geographic location, will have a fair opportunity to learn the things he will need to know as a free man and a useful contributing member of society. No state has ever done that for its children. We believe Michigan should be the first state to do so.

It is the child benefit principle and our unwillingness to ignore the educational future of 300,000 of our young people which produces our recommendation for aid to non-public schools. But it is also the child benefit principle which limits that aid, makes it contingent upon the level of financial support for our public schools, and monitors its effects on racial, ethnic, and socio-economic segregation.

Our recommendation for the development of a statewide evaluation program is designed not to fix blame, not to punish teachers or administrators, not to withhold funds from school districts, but to find where children need help educationally and to provide that necessary help. We want every child with learning problems in some important educational area to receive special assistance in that area. If such children are not mentally, physically, or emotionally handicapped, we want to use our resources to bring them up to reasonable, pre-defined performance standards. This proposal too adheres strictly to that same child benefit principle which has guided all our efforts.

These recommended reforms will require money which, we believe, our citizens will be willing to provide if they are assured a high quality educational product. The reforms will require time, which makes it imperative that we begin immediately. The Legislature, acting for the people, will make those decisions which determine the future course of education in Michigan. We know that each lawmaker will follow the dictates of his conscience and reason. We ask only that each reflect, as we have, on how his decision will influence the future lives of all our children.

*In signing the report, Dr. James W. Miller withheld approval of the portion dealing with assistance to non-public schools, giving the following reasons:

"No assistance beyond provision for shared time or dual enrollments should be provided presently to the non-public sector of education until both adequacy and equity are forthcoming in the public sector.

"Non-public education, if it is to receive public relief, should be no less subjected to the rigorous examination of economy and efficiency than the public sector.

Tax Burden Grows Elsewhere, Too

LANSING - Michigan June 1 of this year. residents feeling the ever increasing burden of taxes may be consoled at least slightly to know they're not alone.

No matter where one lives in. the United States today, the tax rates are getting higher and higher as governmental services increase and the cost of existing programs

The latest example of this came in a survey conducted by Commerce Clearing House, a Chicago firm which gathers information on taxes and business law from around the country.

The survey showed only five of the 50 states have not levied some type of sales tax.

In one of the five, Oregon, disgusted voters adopted a constitutional amendment making a sales tax unconstitutional, -voiding the tax.

Vermont was the latest state to add the sales tax to its arsenal of revenue gathering machinery, voting in a 3 per cent tax effective State Board of Equalization, over the past 30 years shows the Besides Oregon, the other four states where you can live and not pay a sales tax are Alaska, Delaware, Montana and New Hampshire.

.The 45 states which adopted the sales tax have placed more and more dependence on it in recent years, the survey showed. This year alone, 11 states boosted their rates by rates ranging from .25 per cent up to 1.5 per cent.

The most popular increase was from 3 per cent to 4 per cent. The states doing this were Utah, Maryland, South Carolina, New Mexico, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and North Dakota.

New York increased its tax the legislature enacted a tax, but, from 2 per cent to 3 per cent while Connecticut upped its from 3.5 per cent to 5 per cent, Maine went from 4.5 to 5 per cent and Texas went from 3 to 3.25 per

> One state, Nebraska, actually saw its rate drop from 2.5 per cent to 2 per cent last Jan. 1. But the

the rate by the legislature this summer, may be forced to raise the rate again by next Jan. 1 to pay for rising governmental costs

Nebraska legislators, in transferring the authority to set the tax to the state board, which is headed by the Governor, thus rid themselves of the responsibility for both the state income tax rate and the state sales

*******

Illinois will drop its sales tax rate from 4.25 per cent to 4 per cent Oct. 1, but on that date the maximum local sales tax rate will rise from .75 per cent to 1 per cent, resulting in the same sales tax in most towns.

Two other states, Florida and Pennsylvania, made what originally were billed as temporary increases permanent. Pennsylvania now charges each citizen six cents for every dollar spent in the state.

In 1939 only 22 states levied a sales tax of any sort, with 15 of them levying only a 2 per cent tax, six levying a 3 per cent tax and one levying only a 1 per cent

In 1949 the number of states levying a sales tax had jumped to 27, although the maximum rate had risen only to 3.25 per cent.

By 1959, some 32 states had levied a sales tax, but only two states had dared go above the 3 per cent mark, with one charging 4 per cent and the other charging 3.5 per cent.

This year, however, the floodgates are open. Pennsylvania has upped the rate to 6 per cent and five other states are charging 5 per cent. In addition, the number of states charging 4 per cent has jumped from one to 12 and another state is charging 4.25 per cent and another is charging 4.5.

Where 20 years ago 18 states found a 2 per cent levy enough for their needs and 12 states still were using it 10 years ago, only four states have a 2 per cent levy now.

The rising of the state levies, while startling enough on its own. does not present the total picture.

More and more, state legislatures are authorizing local governmental units to levy sales taxes as the local governments feel a bigger and bigger squeeze.

The states which recently authorized one form or another of local levy include Wisconsin, Nevada, South Dakota, Missouri, North Carolina and Nebraska. One state. New Mexico, however, went against the trend and repealed its municipal sales tax authorization parochiad clause and will not support that but I feel that the vocational training aid clause and the clause for general reform in administration have merit," Sen. Bursley, a member of the senate education committee, explains.

"I have been opposed to parochiad in general because I feel that it's our responsibility, to provide a better quality for public schools before spreading ourselves in support with the parochials," he adds. "And I also feel that the parochials would eventually be disappointed when they discovered they were losing control of their system because of necessary standards

Rep. Thomas Sharpe (R-Howell) commends the Governor's efforts labeling the proposal "a bold step forward in the educational field."

"I think it represents a broad revision of our educational programs and I feel this is the only way we can cure our troubles," he explained Representative Clifford Smart (Walled Lake-R) sees the governor's package as meriting serious consideration by the legislature. "In my judgment the Governor has gone into some areas that need thorough examination and Consideration. But I wouldn't say I fully agree with all of his proposals.

"He (the governor) has touched some very sensitive areas.' A lot of things that have been so scared just haven't worked. The regional concept he proposes for example is completely new and I'm sure it will be one of the areas around which much of the debate will center. Establishment of 300 K-12

U-M Eyes Education For Adults

The University of Michigan has begun to take a broad look at its educational and cultural offerings for the state's adults. "We are a state-supported University," said U-M Vice President Arthur M. Ross, "and we want to make sure that we offer the best possible service to the people of the state." Ross, vice president for state relations and planning, has named a 13-member committee to study the University's current "Gutreach" programs and activities and to recommend how those programs ought to be changed to suit the state's changing social and cultural environment. He commented:

"Leisure time is expanding for millions. Americans are growing more affluent. Knowledge is becoming obsolete more rapidly than ever before! There are major educational gaps to be overcome if we are to achieve social equality.

Beyond those considerations is the awakening to the fact that education is a life-long occupation. It is not just for schoolchildren or the college-age youth The university of the future will have to be an intellectual resource for all society. That being true, extension and continuing education programs could move into the very heart of the university's activities."

The planning study is being undertaken now, Ross said, because the leadership of the U-M Extension Service soon will change. Dr. Everett Soop, director of the service since 1948, will retire at the end of this year.

The planning committee will be headed by William Haber, economist and former dean of U-M's College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, who is now adviser to U-M's executive officers.

It includes two students. Morgan Crossland, a freshman from Toledo, Ohio, who is majoring in education, was nominated to serve by Student Government Council. Laura Ponstein, a graduate student from Zeeland was nominated by Students for Educational Innovation, a student group in the School of Education.

Other members include Dean Wilbur J. Cohen of the School of Education, former U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare; Associate Deans Wade Eilis of the Graduate School, Hansford W. Farris of the College of Engineering, and Alfred Swinyard of the School of Business Administration; Prof. Gerhard L. Weinberg of the history department, a member of the faculty's Senate Advisory Committee on University Affairs; and Prof. John V. Field of the journalism department.

Remaining members are Richard L. Cutler, assistant to U-M's president for urban affairs; David V. Heebink, assistant vice president on Ross's staff, Dr. Alfred W. Storey, associate director of the Extension Service, and Dr. Floyd Mann, director of the Center for Research on the Utilization of Scientific Knowledge.

Ross has asked the committee to define what should be the University's guiding philosophy with regard to continuing education.

He has also asked it to identify the implications of this philosophy for such varied groups as persons who have not completed college, prospective full-time college students, alumni, professionals catching up with new developments in their fields, and adults seeking intellectual and cultural stimulation.

Beyond philosophy, Ross wants the committee to define the character and scope of activities to be offered by the Extension Service and the dozen or so other U-M units which offer continuing education programs, and how those activities should be coordinated and supervised.

The committee is also to suggest which current programs might be eliminated, either because they duplicate programs offered by other institutions, because they are obsolete, or because they are less important than new activities.
