Plan Job Center Here

Maybury to House Federal Program

A residential work training center for 250 young men and women in the 16-21 age group will be opened early next year on a 140-acre Maybury Sanatorium property site.

The program, newly designed by the Nixon administration and now being introduced in 30 major cities throughout the nation, will be fully federally financed.

An annual grant of $2 million for a minimum of five years has already been awarded the city of Detroit for the project.

Northville township board members were told Monday night that the only formalities remaining are Detroit common council action granting a "use permit" to the federal government for the site and state approval of the program by Governor Milliken.

A representative of the national Job Corps Task Force reported that both Mayor Cavanagh and Mayor-Elect Gribbs favored the proposal, and that the existing and new common council had expressed approval. The governor has also indicated support.

Richard Jaffe, projects manager for the Job Corps Task Force, and David Nelson, an assistant to Mayor Cavanagh, outlined the program in a special meeting of the township board Monday night.

Actually, the purpose of their presentation was for information purposes only. Community support for the program is naturally desired, but legally speaking Northville township cannot restrict the city of Detroit from making public use of its Maybury property.

It was noted that the 140-acre parcel, which would include the administration buildings in the westerly-most area of the 900-acre site, would not interfere with local efforts (city of Northville and possibly Northville township) to acquire from 200 to 400 acres for community recreation use.

Jaffe described the program as one for youngsters "not disadvantaged in talent, but in opportunity." He said the purpose of the training would be to prepare youths for specific jobs and to give them enough ability to progress in their jobs.

Specifically, Jaffe pointed to these aspects of the new residential work training centers as unique and improved over previous efforts in job corps training:

- smaller, fully controlled facilities with a maximum of 250 youngsters and an operation staff of between 100 and 110 including instructors and counselors,

- a five-day, five-night program with home-visitations on week ends;

- placement commitments prior to training;

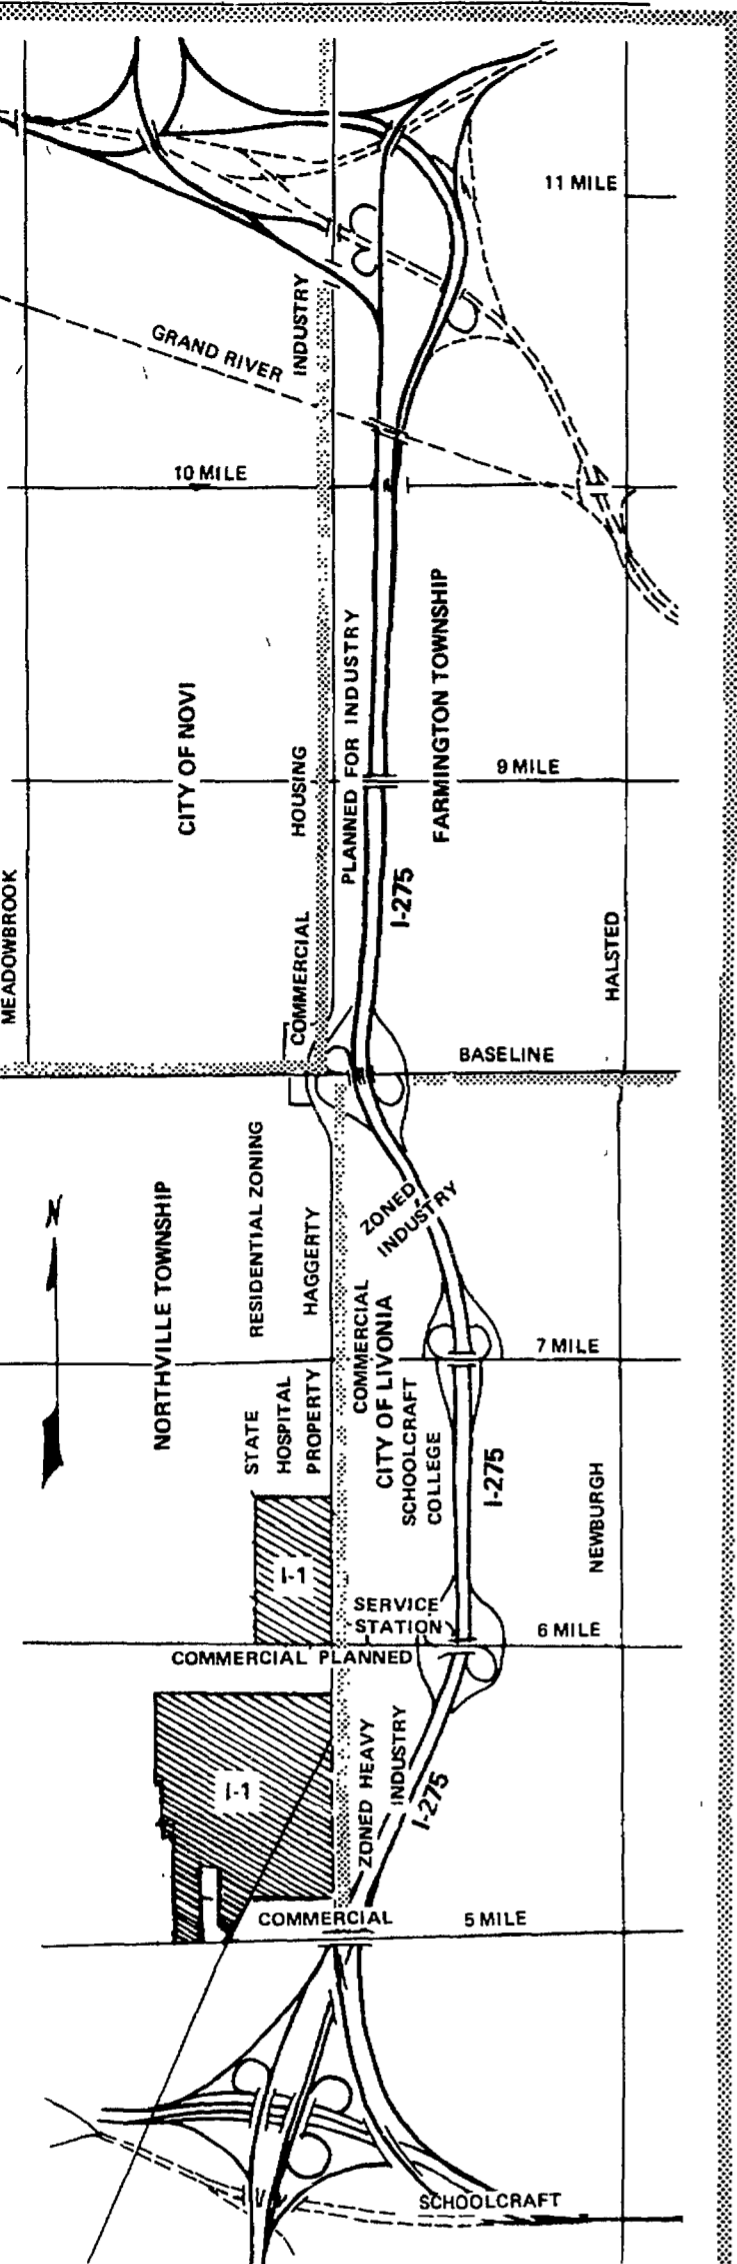

- voluntary enrollment program with parental approval and certain qualifications including youth "relatively free of any offenses," Jaffe explained that this meant that the youngsters "could not be certified by the court as offenders;"

- youngsters would not be uprooted from environment, or shipped from one part of the country to another as previously practiced;

- fully controlled environment; Jaffe emphasized that students would not be permitted to leave the school area, that they would be taken by bus to and from their homes on weekends.

"The program has been successful elsewhere," Jaffe noted. He explained that training covered a six to eight month period and that in addition to

Zoning Battle Looms

Industrial zoning shown above in the two shaded areas marked I-1 will be approved or disapproved by Northville Township electors at a special December 8 election. The map shows the route of the proposed north-south expressway and the planned or zoned development in adjacent areas. Livonia has zoned heavy industry for the area between the expressway and its Haggerty road boundary. In addition to the zoning question, a proposition concerning park land acquisition also will appear on the ballot. For details of both propositions turn to Pages 8-A and 9-A.

Orlo Owen Ends Career In Racing

After more than 25 years of developing and promoting harness racing in Michigan to a position of leadership in the country, "Mr. Harness Racing" of this area has finally called a halt.

Orlow G. Owen, personable vice president and general manager of Wolverine Raceway since 1952, has decided to retire because of ill health and devote his attentions to his family and his Northville farm located on West Seven Mile Road.

Following Owen's request, Wolverine President Frederick L. VanLennep yesterday made the retirement announcement. Owen, who for years has been one of the most influential persons in Michigan harness racing circles, is expected to spend a portion of his time in a consulting capacity because of his wide knowledge of the standardbred business, but will retire from active management duties.

"It is with sincere regret that we accept Orlow's retirement," said VanLennep. "He has played a most important part in the success and growth of Wolverine ever since he became a member of our executive family back in 1952 when we first took over the operation of the harness racing activities at the Detroit Race Course."

Owen, age 64, has been associated with night pari-mutuel harness racing since it was first pioneered by Northville Downs in 1944.

At that time he served as announcer and assistant to Sam Wiedrick, who then was manager. He gained a reputation as the "golden voiced" race caller of the midwest and could still call a race with the nation's top announcers at the time of his retirement.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Owen served as a high school coach, proprietor of a men's clothing store, owner of a restaurant and owner of an automobile agency in the Northville area before turning his attention to pacers and trotters.

As it turned out, he was particularly qualified in this field because of his genial personality, ability to handle all situations with a smile and his manner of making a friend almost from the moment he met a person, plus his life-long love of horses.

He always had time to sit and talk with everyone at the track — grooms, trainers, drivers, owners and all track personnel.

He helped pioneer harness racing

Levitt Plan For Stores Cut in Size

Plans for a huge shopping center were trimmed Tuesday night as Levitt & Sons revised its zoning change request to include only 13 of the 33 acres of land it is acquiring on the south side of Seven Mile Road west of Northville State Hospital.

The revised request was referred by the Northville Township Planning Commission to Consultant George Viljan for review and recommendation by the planners' December 30 meeting.

Explained by a team of Levitt representatives, the plan calls for rezoning of 13 acres in the front portion of the property for the shopping center, with the remaining acreage developed in multiple housing as it is presently zoned. Originally, Levitt sought commercial zoning for the total acreage.

The shopping center proposal calls for approximately 103,000 square feet of floor space, with four building complexes constituting a shopping mall. In addition, it calls for a service station near one of two 27-foot wide drives to the shopping center and to the housing development in the rear.

Levitt proposed building 250 apartment units in the rear of the property, separated from the stores by an existing green belt of trees and a stream that crosses the land.

The shopping center complex is expected to include a large supermarket, a variety of stores and shops, offices and a bank. Preliminary plans call for these facilities to be built in a cluster around a shopping mall made of some "special material" other

Portable Classroom Idea Out

In discussing the second semester high school program, Superintendent Raymond Spear has told members of Northville's school board he "will not recommend the rental of portable classrooms."

His decision was revealed at the board's Monday night meeting.

"The utilization study shows other areas that may be used instead," Spear said. "By using all our facilities at the high school, even those not designed for the specific class being taught, we will not have to rent portable classrooms."

Spear said by September, 1970, there must be a new approach to scheduling or "the costly item of portable classroom rental."

He listed split class schedules or an extended school day as alternatives.

Unanimous approval was given to the final plans for Amerman and Moraine elementary school additions.

Final plans for Northville High and Main Street Elementary schools will be considered at the Board's December 8 meeting, along with specifications on all projects.

Tentative schedule for the building program includes bids due, January 22, 1970; board review of bids, January 26; bond issue vote, February 14; bond minimum price for development of a multiple housing complex of perhaps 30 units or more. While the buyer will be acquiring the total acreage (4.91 acres), he will be permitted to build only on land east of the stream crossing the property. However, he will be permitted to use the entire acreage — or nearly all of it — in computing the density of his development.

The proposal also suggests that the City May Trigger Sale Monday

Northville City Council is expected to make a decision on the proposed sale of the city-owned well site property off Novi Road Monday night.

And if council comments, expressed during and following a discussion with neighboring property owners this past Monday are any indication, the sale proposal probably will receive the green light.

Councilmen Kenneth Rathert appears to be the only council member who opposes retention of part of the property for open space park land as suggested by Village Green subdivision residents.

Other councilmen, including Mayor A. M. Allen, contend the site is a "poor one" for open space recreation.

If the present sale proposal is approved next Monday, the property will be advertised for sale to the highest bidder above a yet-to-be-determined

NEWS BRIEFS

FRIGHTENED by the possibility of a large number of "very high density" townhouses and apartments in neighboring Novi, Levitt & Sons has asked Northville township planners to consider permitting it to substitute multiple housing units for 350 single family homes it has planned for its "gravel pit" development stretching from Eight Mile to Seven Mile roads east of the city. Levitt believes Novi's high density units could adversely affect its development, making it economically unwise to proceed with plans for homes in the $40,000 to $45,000 class near Eight Mile. Caught by surprise, planners took the request under advisement Tuesday night.

PUBLIC HEARING on the proposed rezoning of the northeast corner parcel at Taft and Eight Mile roads for development as a Boron service station will be conducted by the city planning commission next Tuesday night. Meanwhile, planners are studying the request of George Lloyd of Detroit for rezoning of 2.7 acres of adjoining property to a professional office classification.

SENIOR CITIZEN HOUSING is likely to become the subject of a city study soon — and don't be surprised if the council eventually suggests rezoning of the block opposite the high school for such a project. Officials have informally discussed what should be done — zoning wise — with the property along Center Street and they have generally agreed that entrance and exit from Center would be hazardous. They would prefer that access be made from Grace Street. Senior citizen housing is part of the city's five year improvement program, and the Center Street property is seen as a possible place for its development.

FINAL APPROVAL for rezoning of nine lots for track parking in the Church-Cady Street area was granted John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, for track parking by the city council Monday night. No one appeared to object at the public hearing. Earlier, the planning commission had recommended the rezoning from a residential classification. In rezoning, the council stipulated that the matter of green belts be left in the hands of the city manager.

Bride Choses Gown of Satin Brocade

Sharon Hlohinec, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hlohinec, 529 Randolph, became the bride of Andrew Gladd, Jr., in a late afternoon ceremony November 8 at Our Lady of Victory Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gladd, Sr., 18890 Valencia.

The bride had made her wedding gown of white satin brocade. It was a sheath with matching train and elbow-length sleeves trimmed with white mink. A matching fur headpiece held her silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white carnations, daisy mums and white roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Father Dennis Fallon officiated at the altar decorated with an arrangement of blue and white flowers. Andrew Pelto was soloist with Paul Laboda at the organ.

Sandra Smith came from New Salem, Pennsylvania, to be her cousin's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sue McSeveny, a classmate of the bride, and Mrs. Thomas Byrd, the bridegroom's sister. Another sister, Katy Gladd, was flower girl.

All wore blue velvet gowns, fashioned with empire waists, and had matching headpieces. The honor maid and bridesmaids carried cascade arrangements of white glads centered with light blue daisies and star flowers. Katy carried a basket of blue and white flowers.

Thomas Gladd was best man for his brother. Ushers were Mike Hlohinec and Thomas Byrd who were assisted by Mark and Johnny Hlohinec.

A reception followed at the Ann Arbor Sheraton Motor Inn for 125 guests from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Bill Thomas and his band played for dancing.

The bride, a 1968 Northville High School graduate, attended University of Michigan. The bridegroom is a mechanical engineer in Farmington where the newlyweds are living.

Flower Show Plans Move into High Gear

"Deck the Halls," Christmas flower show and sale of the Northville branch, Michigan National Farm and Garden Association, is in the final stages of preparation this week with a last-minute change in exhibit regulations being announced by Mrs. H. J. Frogner.

The all-day show is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, December 5, in the Northville VFW hall.

Both students and adults may enter the flower show, Mrs. Frogner said Monday with young people asked to note theirs is a junior registration. Advance registration is necessary with exhibits to be taken to the show between 10 and 12.30 a.m. Thursday, December 4.

It is not necessary to be a club member to enter, Mrs. Frogner emphasized. Additional information may be obtained from her at 349-2647. There are categories for dried as well as fresh arrangements. Mrs. C. E. Ratliff is exhibit co-chairman.

The show will be judged Thursday with ribbons to be in place on Friday when the public is invited.

Six boutique booths also will be open Friday with items for holiday giving and eating. Mrs. Donald Ware is boutique chairman. Individual boutiques and their chairmen include door swags, Mrs. William Switzler; potpourri, Mrs. William Scantlin; permanent arrangements, Mrs. George Kohs; kitchen cupboard of jams, jellies and pickles, Mrs. George Miller; boxes and bows, Mrs. Ware; and bake sale, Mrs. Warner Krause.

Painters to Meet

A workshop on the technique of painting strawberries will be conducted by Mrs. Goldie Latchford at the next meeting of the Northville Spring Chapter of China Decorators at 10 a.m. Thursday, December 4, at the Plymouth Credit Union.

News Around Northville

Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association is holding its annual Christmas Walk from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. December 11. Eight homes, varying from colonial to modern decor, will be open with baked goodies and Christmas decorations to be on sale at two. Tickets are $2 and may be obtained by calling GL 3-6248 or GL 3-6295.

R. Douglas Lorenz, 19640 Clement, is recuperating in New Providence Hospital after an operation for a ruptured appendix last Tuesday. His family reports that the Northville druggist is in intensive care and can receive cards, but not flowers or visitors.

Lieutenant Colonel Richard M. Gussell, a former Northville resident, now is on his second tour of duty in Korea where he is in charge of the American Forces Far East network. He was graduated from the Fort Leavenworth Staff and Command School in June and promoted to his present rank. He expects to be in Korea for two years.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gussell, moved earlier this month from Northville to Sand Pointe on Lake Huron. They have had a summer home there and now are enlarging it.

Annual Christmas concert of the Suburban Chorale, which now has four Northville members, is to be presented at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, December 7, at the Gallean Baptist Church, 28875 West Seven Mile Road.

Northville Chorale members are Mrs. William Craig, Mrs. Gordon Griesemer, Mrs. Roy Herald and Mrs. Kenneth Myers.

Christmas Tea Set Tuesday

Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters will meet for an annual Christmas tea at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harold Bloom, 710 West Main Street. Members are bringing unwrapped gifts for children at the University of Michigan Hospital school.

Guests will be two Northville girls who were sent to Camp Missauki by the circle last summer. They will tell their experiences there.

As in past years, the circle is providing holiday fruit plates for shut-ins of the community and Christmas dinner baskets for needy families. Names for the latter should be sent to Welfare Chairman Mrs. Harold Bloom or to Mrs. Oscar Hammond.

The King's Daughters Home Christmas party is to be from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, December 14, with several local women attending. Mizpah Circle provides an oyster stew supper for the home family on Christmas Eve.

In Our Town

JEAN DAY

THANKSGIVING-to-Christmas is a 28-day season of reunions, bazaars and parties.

Many local organizations traditionally fete life members or past officers at this time.

This year Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church will honor the Northville Town Hall committee as well as its past presidents at a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the church.

Mrs. F. F. Ishac, league president, explains that this seems an appropriate time to honor the town hall workers who have made the current season another successful one. (Since inception Town Hall has been sponsored by Our Lady's League which shares the proceeds with other organizations with the feeling that it has been so strongly supported by the community that others should benefit.)

A blessing of the advent wreath will precede the dinner Tuesday. A program will follow the tributes and a short business meeting. Games and prizes will conclude the evening.

MOTHERS' Club continues the tradition of honoring life members at the Christmas potluck party, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. December 8 at the home of Mrs. H. O. Evans, 20311 Woodhill Road, club president.

Punch and hors d'oeuvres will precede dinner.

Always a popular meeting, the program includes the exchange of small gifts, usually the handwork of members. In addition to greeting life members, the club will be welcoming a new member, Mrs. Edward Hodge.

Mrs. Frederick Hart is hostess chairman of the evening, assisted by Mrs. Richard Huston, Mrs. Robert Bogart, and Mrs. Stanley Schaefer.

HOLIDAY plans were made by Northville's Business and Professional Women at their dinner meeting Monday at Hillside Inn. Mrs. A. Malcolm Allen, president, will entertain the chapter at her home at 7:30 p.m. December 29. Each member is to bring a $2 gift for Santa's grab bag.

A World Affairs Night program Monday was under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Kellogg who had decorated the table with miniature flags in gumdrop bases. Each member was notified in advance that she was to serve as a "delegate" of a foreign country.

The program also included a demonstration-talk on graphic analysis by Mrs. J. L. McKinney. She explained the ways in which business and industry use handwriting analyses and briefly analyzed each member's handwriting. She is a teacher of the homebound and has conducted classes on graphic analysis.

FIRST CONCERT of the year for Detroit's illustrious Madrigal Club will be a Christmas program at 8:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the lecture hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Mrs. Kent Mathes, president of the singing group for its 54th year, has been juggling top duties with the singing group and rehearsals with the task of moving. (Last week-end the Mathes family moved from Willowbrook to the former home of Mrs. Beth Lapham on West Main Street. Mrs. Lapham and Mrs. William Cansfield now are settled in the former's new duplex on First Street.)

Mrs. Mathes suggests that anyone interested in attending contact her at 349-7334, or another local member of the Madrigal singers, Mrs. Ronald Hellier, 349-0910.

A highlight will be the performance of conductor August Maelkelberghe's own composition, "On December 25th," a series of three carols.

AN EARLY Thanksgiving was celebrated Sunday by the James Cowies, who entertained 15 for dinner at their home at 845 Horton. Guests included Mrs. Cowie's former neighbor, Mrs. Alex McCarroll who is visiting in Sterling Heights from Scotland.

Others were her nephew and his bride, the William Hunters of Detroit, and her niece and her husband, the Robert Sitkos of Petoskey.

Thursday the Cowies were to have a second Thanksgiving with their daughter and her husband, the Boris Dimitroffs, and their three children in Agawam, Massachusetts.

HOME in time to celebrate Thanksgiving are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ware, who have just spent a month in Tokyo. They visited a nephew, John Genitti of Detroit, who was on temporary assignment from Vietnam with a special forces newspaper, a subsidiary of Stars and Stripes.

The Wares stopped in Hawaii to break up the long trip. Now, Mary Ware enthuses, she's busy tying Christmas bows for the boutique booth she's chairman for at the "Deck the Halls" show and sale sponsored by the Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, to be given December 5 at the VFW hall.

"If you can't tie a bow, let us - we can," she promises.

ANNUAL Holly Mart of Northville United Methodist Church is a "must" for anyone wanting handmade knitted items, such as warm mittens. It will be held from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. next Thursday at the church with an all-day snack bar.

A special feature this year will be an assortment of knitting and tote bags in specially-gathered fabrics. Mrs. Adelbert Heath, chairman, also reports there will be a "children only" booth for young ones to purchase at little prices.

The Attic Treasures booth in the lower level of the church also should be visited early as it promises to have antiques. Mrs. William Brown, who has been taking care of publicity, explains that this booth really does hold "treasures"; this year as many WSCS members have moved and donated items.

A HOLIDAY bazaar is scheduled again this year at the King's Mill clubhouse - from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. this Saturday. All items have been made by residents and include baby wear and home and Christmas decorations. Everyone in the community is invited.

Happy Thanksgiving.

Junior Miss Pageant Revived

Northville's Junior Miss contest is on again — with a 1969-70 winner to be selected Sunday from a field of four candidates.

A public pageant, originally scheduled for this Friday, previously was canceled for lack of contestants.

Four Northville High School seniors are to compete at 7 p.m. Sunday for the title. They are Deneice Bidwell, Patricia Hoffman, Bonnie Lee Wilson and Linda Wilson.

Jaycee Pageant Chairman David Van Hine said Tuesday the pageant will be conducted Sunday on a limited scale with the winner to receive all the honors of a Pageant winner and to represent Northville in the Regional Junior Miss Pageant. She will succeed Leanne Steeper, 1968-69 Northville Junior Miss and a regional winner and state finalist last year.

The contest will be held in the home of the Cass A. Hoffmans, 16181 Homer, so that their daughter may use her piano for the talent portion of the contest.

Judges are to be Ron Beier, Plymouth elementary school teacher, Dennis Dildy, vocational instructor at Hawthorn Center and recipient of the Physical Fitness Program Slated

A program on "Physical Fitness" will be presented at the next meeting of the Wayne-Westland Chapter, Parents Without Partners, at 8:30 p.m. December 3 at the John Glenn High School in Wayne. A couple representing Vic Tannev will present the program.

Guests are welcome, and single parents are invited to call 728-4064 for additional information about the group, a non-profit organization devoted to the interest and welfare of single parents and their children.

Jaycee's 1969 Outstanding Young Man award; Peter Magnan, Hawthorn Center instructor; Ken Marsh, mental retardation coordinator in the Farmington school district, and Richard Rayborn, design engineer at the Great Lakes Window Corporation.

Judging is to be based on 35 points for the judges' interview, 15 points for scholastic achievement; 15 points for poise and appearance; and 20 points for individual talents.

Talent exhibitions planned by the contestants are: ballet interpretive dancing by Deneice Bidwell, daughter of the Lawrence Bidwells, 9650 Chubb Road; a piano solo, Intermezzo from

"Carmen Suite" by Patricia Hoffman; a dramatic reading from A. A. Milne's Christopher Robin story by Bonnie Lee Wilson, daughter of the Edward Wilsons, 418 Randolph; and a guitar solo, "What Do You Get When You Fall in Love?" by Linda Wilson, daughter of the Willford Wilsons, 10247 West Seven Mile Road.

A runner-up also will be named Sunday and the new Junior Miss will be crowned by Leanne Steeper.

The winner will have the right to represent Northville in the Metropolitan Junior Miss regional pageant at the Holly High School December 13.

Living Lord Sets First Service Date

Survey work on the new congregation in the establishment of the Living Lord Lutheran Church is progressing with plans to hold the first family worship service on December 14, according to newly-arrived Pastor Norman Borsvold.

The church is located in a new building at 40700 Ten Mile Road and Pastor Borsvold has been assigned here from Flaxville, Montana.

The pastor also has announced the arrival of Barbara Williams, a parish worker for the American Lutheran Church, to assist in organizing the new congregation.

Miss Williams, a resident of Rochester, is a 1964 graduate of Lutheran High East in Detroit and she presently is conducting a survey "to determine who will be interested in affiliation with the new congregation."

In revealing the date for first family worship services, Pastor Borsvold also announced that the first classes in Christian education will begin December 21.

The clergyman, his wife and two daughters live at the church's parsonage at 24260 Hampton Hill. He is a graduate of St. Olaf College and Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minnesota, and was ordained in June, 1960 at Detroit's St. Olaf Lutheran Church.

SPEAKER — Marvin R. Stempien, State Representative of the 35th District, will speak December 3 at Our Lady of Victory Social Hall. The topic will be "Education and Taxes." The meeting begins at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

Holidays Are Bright Thanks to Youths

There will be a happy Christmas in Sunset Gap thanks to the high school youth of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The youths are sponsoring a special holiday project entitled "Christmas in Sunset Gap."

Last summer, members of the group spent a week at the Center in the foothills of the Smokey Mountains, participating in a work camp. Sponsored by the Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, they worked closely with the staff at the Center.

The youths built a museum for the local citizens by transporting and re-building a century old cabin. Log by log, the cabin was moved three miles from its original site to the Center.

The group is collecting, sorting and fixing up clothing and toys so they may bring a little Christmas cheer to the people there.

Anyone wishing to help should contact the Presbyterian Church, 349-0911, for information or pick up service

Board Okays New Staffers

Three changes were approved in the teaching staff for Northville Public Schools at the November 24 meeting of the Northville Board of Education.

A request for release of contract from Miss Karen Herbst was approved, effective January 16, 1970. She taught fifth grade at Moraine Elementary.

Teaching contracts were approved for Mrs. Irla Wuestnick and Mrs. Uta Filkin.

Mrs. Wuestnick, will teach fifth grade at Amerman Elementary. A student at Madonna College, she will receive her B.A. Degree in elementary education in December, 1969. She will begin teaching December 22 with a salary of $4430 for the remainder of the school year.

Mrs. Filkin will fill a new position with German language classes at the high school. A 1968 graduate of Munich University, Germany, she received her B.A. degree in secondary teaching, majoring in English and French.

She will begin teaching January 26, 1970, with a salary of $3832 for the remainder of the school year.

Novi Baptists Host Guest Evangelist

A week of special revival services will be held at Novi's First Baptist Church beginning Sunday, November 30, and continuing through December 5.

Services will begin each evening at 7 p.m.

Reverend Charles Bray of Toronto, Canada, will be the guest evangelist. Reverend Bray is pastor of the Dorest Park Baptist Church of Toronto, where he has served for the past six years.

Ordained in 1947, Reverend Bray entered into fulltime evangelistic work. After eight years of evangelism, he served as pastor in Springfield, Missouri. He then moved to his present pastorate.

Educated at Piedmont Bible College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Campbell College, Buies Creek, North Carolina; and Bob Jones University, Greenville, South Carolina; he did post graduate work at the University of Missouri, Columbia.

A Masters degree in religious education was earned from Central Baptist Seminary of Toronto. In 1967, Bob Jones University honored Reverend Bray with the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

He currently is serving as president of the Baptist Evangelical Missionary Association, board member of the Alcohol and Drug Concern, Incorporated, of Toronto and a member of the board of the Association of Baptist for World Evangelism.

Reverend Bray also serves on the faculty of Central Baptist Seminary, where he teaches church history and theology.

The revival services are open to the public. Novi's First Baptist Church is located at Eleven Mile and Taft roads.

Auxiliary Sets Holiday Sale

The Novi Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary will present a Christmas bazaar Friday, December 12, through Sunday, December 14. The bazaar will be held at the Novi Community Building, 26360 Novi Road.

Christmas decorations, children's toys, home decorations, gifts, baked goods and inexpensive gifts that suit a child's allowance will be on sale.

The kitchen will also be open during the bazaar.

Citizens and groups from Novi are participating in the bazaar with each having a separate booth for their items.

Children will have a chance to meet and talk with Santa and Snoopy.

SANTA'S COMING! — Santa will be on his throne at 10 a.m. this Friday in his workshop at Del's Shoe Store, 153 East Main. His hours will be 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturdays and December 19, 22 and 23. Other Thursdays and Fridays he will hear wishes from 4 to 8 p.m. He will be there Christmas Eve from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The workshop was organized and decorated by the Northville Newcomers with the Chamber of Commerce assuming financial responsibility and the Jaycees making certain Santa is on the throne.

Assembly Explains Exchange Program

The newly formed exchange parents group presented an assembly to sophomores and juniors at Northville High on November 20.

The four exchange students presently enrolled at Northville from Holland, Germany, Finland and France spoke to the students, relating some of their experiences.

A representative from Youth for Understanding, sponsor of the exchange program based in Ann Arbor, also showed a film, hoping to stimulate interest among the students to participate in one of three phases of the program.

Included are summer exchange programs to foreign countries, a thirteenth year program and a musical and choral group. This year a wind ensemble will be formed and will tour abroad.

Over 3,000 students are expected to participate this year.

The same day, Northville's exchange students were guests in the homes of Livonia families.

Church Needs Used Clothing

With an eye towards helping Detroit's inner city families, Orchard Hills Baptist Church, is currently holding a clothing drive.

Clothing for adults and children is needed.

Any family, members of Orchard Hills Church or not, wishing to donate clean, usable clothing for needy families, should call 349-5872 or 349-9904.

Clothing will be picked up on request.

Orchard Hills Baptist Church is located at 23455 Novi Road.

Just Something To Think About

City of Novi Council has languished for some time now over the general condition of this community's roads and Mayor Joseph Crupi's request that councilmen consider seeking additional tax dollars for improvements is one that should also be taken seriously by citizens at this time.

Acting within the limitations of the City Charter, the council will only decide whether or not to propose a millage request on the ballot at the spring election. And if it makes it to the ballot, the citizens will decide if a road improvement program will make it to reality.

The council's responsibility at this time is as it always is: to act in the best interest of the community; and roads are a key factor in a sprawling community like this one.

And the citizen must concern himself with the issue because old roads don't improve themselves and additional mills means more taxes and that's where the citizen evolves right back into the program. The question which the council is expected to place on the ballot for the citizens' decision won't be should the roads be improved; it'll be should we improve the roads—and that's where we divide the citizens from the taxpayers.

The issue, however, if it comes to be won't be just dollars-and-cents—it'll be dollars-and-cents for better roads.

It may be premature to take your stand on more tax dollars for better roads but it's not too early to give it some serious thought. Bad roads uncared for grow worse and more costly to repair and eventually either this spring or later — you're going to have to decide whether you want to live with bad roads or whether you want to improve them.

The role of the council in regards to a possible road improvement program unfortunately isn't just a matter of deciding whether or not to place the issue on the ballot. The difficult part of the situation, and this is where we divide the councilmen from the politicians, is deciding how many mills to request.

The mayor's request acknowledges the fact that we need more money to improve roads. How much more money is needed, therefore, is directly related to the extent of improvements necessary now in order to establish a program that will satisfy the demands of a growing community.

A token millage request at this time could create more problems than it would solve. City Manager Dallas Zonkers reports that he's been considering financing alternatives for such projects and the council has a long list

Council Considering Millage for Roads

Mayor Joseph Crupi has asked the City of Novi Council to consider placing a millage request to establish a road improvement fund before citizens at the regular election on April 6.

And Councilman William O'Brien also indicated Monday that he might personally direct a referendum petition in order to have a proposal for one-half mill for parks and recreation to be placed on the same ballot.

Road conditions became a topic of discussion at Monday's meeting of the council when Councilman Denis Berry observed that Meadowbrook between Nine Mile and Ten Mile "is probably the worst road I've ever driven over in my life."

City Manager Dallas (Barney) Zonkers explained that Department of Public Works' crews have had difficulty maintaining the non-surfaced roadway because of its increasing traffic load.

Mayor Crupi interjected that the lack of necessary equipment is a factor hindering the DPW in road maintenance.

"There's no question about this section of road being in terrible condition," Zonkers stated. "But on a gravel road you have to hit it just right — with the weather and all — and then with heavy traffic you soon find yourself right back where you were."

"I think it's a good idea that we consider putting a mill or two mills aside for roads," the mayor said.

Mayor Crupi later modified his proposal when pending improvements to a railway crossing on Nine Mile Road was introduced for discussion. The city has been cited by the Michigan Public Service Commission because of the low road elevations approaching the crossing between Novi Road and Meadowbrook.

"We've got to have something done there," Councilman Edwin Presnell observed. "Frankly, if there was an accident there, I feel we would be liable."

Zonkers revealed that he has been studying alternatives for financing road improvements.

"Let's wait for Barney's survey on this but I think you're going to have to go to the people and ask for two mills for about 10 years," the mayor stated.

Two mills would represent about $100,000 in revenue per year at present valuations, according to city officials. A mill is one dollar in taxes for every thousand dollars in assessed property value.

Besides Nine Mile and Meadowbrook, the condition of Taft Road also has been a frequent topic of discussion amongst the council within recent months.

Councilman David Harrison also suggested Monday that the council "start working on parks and recreation."

"I think we ought to have some thoughts on this now because we'll soon be faced with land acquisition here," he observed. "I think we're going to be called upon soon to account for a program in this area."

The Novi Jaycees have revealed that they're in the process of preparing a presentation to be made before the council in regards to community needs in parks and recreation.

O'Brien expressed his support of Harrison's position and he also explained that he has been studying the possibility of an initiatory referendum "to go back to the people and see if they want to set aside funds for this purpose." O'Brien, who first introduced the possibility of requesting one-half mill for recreation at a council session early last summer, indicated that he would personally participate in the campaign with hopes of placing the half-mill request on the spring ballot.

Although the mayor did not state specifically, his request for council to consider a millage request for roads was assumed to be directed towards making a decision in time to place it on the same ballot if councilmen supported the idea. The tax rate within the city currently is six-and-one-half mills.

Board to View Debated Site

Doubts On Price

Appraisal of a controversial elementary school site is tentatively scheduled for Friday morning, Novi Community School board of education members were informed Tuesday.

Trustees will accompany Harold Ackley, city assessor, and an appraiser to view the site offered to the school district by Kaufman and Broad Incorporated. The parcel of land, located in the southeastern portion of the district, has been offered for sale at $85,000, while the board values the land at $60,000.

The new elementary school, approved by voters as part of a $4.5 million building and property acquisition program in early September, is tentatively scheduled to be completed in 1971.

In other business Tuesday, contracts were ratified with the superintendent and the district secretaries, a board of canvassers was appointed, a program with Eastern Michigan University was endorsed and the position of principal for the new elementary school was discussed.

A three-year contract with Superintendent Thomas Dale was ratified by board members, retroactive to July 1, 1969. Recommended by the board's personnel committee, the contract states that 120 days notice must be given prior to expiration date to terminate or renew the agreement. His salary is $18,800 per year.

The district secretaries were granted a 10 cent per hour increase, retroactive to July 1, 1969. The one-year contract ranges from $1.95 per hour for class one, step one secretaries, to $3.25 per hour for class three, step eight personnel.

Mrs. Claude Earl and James Mitchell were reappointed to terms on the board of canvassers for the district. Their terms will continue through June 30, 1970.

All school district canvassing boards will be abolished on July 1, 1970. All succeeding elections after that date will be canvassed by the Oakland County Board of Canvassers.

Over 'Trial Run' Chief Issues Apology

An emergency trial run by the Wixom Police Department through the city has officially been declared a mistake with Chief Tom McGuire assuming "full and complete responsibility."

McGuire's statement was issued yesterday (Wednesday), one week after Wixom City Council held a closed hearing on the incident, and apparently was drafted in order to clarify the role played by Officer Wally Sprenger in the "test" on October 22.

Mayor Wesley McAtee revealed at a council meeting Tuesday that "the problem has been resolved" with Sprenger, apparently upon the advice of his attorney, deciding against persisting in an earlier demand for a public hearing on the matter.

Sprenger was the driver of a patrol car, accompanied by the chief, in which a trial emergency run explained on Tuesday by City Attorney Gene Schnelz as being "not within the limits of the law" — was conducted between Loon Lake Road and the expressway at Wixom Road.

Housewife Mrs. Jill Hall, of 2915 Manganser St., served as a spokesman for citizens objecting to the practice claiming that it was creating a hazard when routed over streets with heavy pedestrian traffic.

The mayor reported on November 5 that he had handled the matter as "an administrative affair" and that the chief had been reprimanded. But Sprenger, referring to an article in the November 6 issue of the Detroit News and claiming that his role in the incident had been misrepresented by published comments of the chief, addressed the council and asked for a public hearing.

A one paragraph letter signed by Chief McGuire and released through Sprenger's attorney made reference to the incident and then concluded.

"I apologize to Officer Sprenger, to the members of this department and to the City of Wixom for the embarrassment and adverse public reaction the test has caused. Any criticism of the trial run should be directed to me personally as chief of police and to no other individual or group."

Restaurant Planned At Novi Road Site

A developer has announced that he has received a franchise for a major restaurant chain and that he will locate the business here on Novi Road near the expressway.

Ron Lord, of Orchard Lake, reports that construction of an Elias Brothers' Big Boy will begin "as soon as the ground is ready" with an opening planned for "late spring or early summer."

According to Lord, the facility will be located on about one-acre of property on the west side of Novi Road, south of the expressway. The land presently is zoned for commercial development, he explained.

The developer stated that the restaurant will be "one of the largest Big Boys around" and that it will be "a strictly indoor dining operation." Many of the chain's outlets also feature drive-in service.

"This will be consistent with other Big Boys in that it is to be a nice, family-type dining facility," he explained.

Lord said that it will seat 160 people and will have parking to accommodate from 80 to 90 cars."

Rezoning Request Tabled at Wixom

A request to rezone property on Pontiac Trail near Spencer Airport to accommodate a suburban contractor was heard and tabled Tuesday with the Wixom City Council deferring action to a later session.

The Boam Company, of Livonia, initially had its request denied by the Planning Commission earlier this fall with the firm choosing to appeal the decision.

Convening late Tuesday due to the failure to gain a quorum, the council heard the request for rezoning in an existing residential area and then chose to delay a decision for a full council.

Councilman Gunnar Mettala, detained because of a death in the family, arrived at 8:20 p.m. creating a quorum and allowing the council to hold a public hearing on the request.

Councilman Howard Coe and Councilwoman Mary Parvu both had excused absences with Coe on vacation and Mrs. Parvu at the hospital with her sister.

It was explained to the council that the property for the proposed rezoning is within an area designated to be light industrial in an amended master plan.

The planners recommendation claimed that the action would be spot zoning since it would create an industrial use surrounded by residential. Mettala in the brief discussion on the request Tuesday defended the rezoning explaining that it would increase potential industrial sites within the community.

In other business Tuesday, the council enacted Mayor Wesley McAtee's recommended appointment of Cletus Warren to serve on the Oakland County Human Relations Council.

Thieves Return To Area

A pair of daylight burglaries in the same neighborhood along Nine Mile Road within a four-day span last weekend has caused the City of Novi Police detective bureau to repeat its appeal for citizens to report any suspicious vehicles traveling in predominantly residential areas.

Household items valued at nearly $500 were reported missing Monday from the Herman Wedemeyer residence at 45189 Nine Mile Road after the house apparently was entered by forcing a door in the daytime.

According to Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner, listed amongst the missing items were two woman's coats, a portable tape recorder and cash amounting to $129.

Faulkner also reported that detectives are investigating the breaking-and-entering last Friday of the John Brugeman residence at 46040 Nine Mile Road.

Method of entry again was by a forced door, the sergeant explained, and missing was a shotgun, rifle, portable television and stereo unit.

"People should be aware that this type of activity is occurring in the city and they should notify us — just pick up their telephones and call — when they see any suspicious vehicles," Faulkner observed.

City of Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi (seated) and Jaycee Chuck Collins share the gavel in announcing a reminder for the special "Ask The Council" session to be held Tuesday at the Community Building. The program, designed to give citizens and councilmen an opportunity to discuss community problems and projects, will begin at 8 p.m.

'Newsboys' Eye Sale To Aid Unfortunate

Christmas will be a little brighter for many Novi-Wixom families — thanks to the efforts of the Goodfellow organizations in the two communities which next week will conduct their annual newspaper sales.

Sale of The Novi News, donated by the publisher, is one of the ways the Goodfellows raise funds for aiding families who might otherwise have a pretty dismal Christmas. Receipts from the sale are used to purchase food, clothing and gifts.

While the sales conducted by the Goodfellows of each community are separate projects, they have the same common goal: "Help us brighten Christmas for those, especially children, who haven't much else to look forward to during the holiday season."

Novi Goodfellows will sell their newspapers throughout the community on Friday and Saturday, December 5-6. Persons knowing of a family that can use some help are asked to call MA 4-1248, MA 4-5622 or FI 9-3396.

Wixom Goodfellows will sell their newspapers December 6 through December 8. They will be delivered or sold to homes on December 6 and 7 and will be sold at the Lincoln plant on December 8.

A Plea From Your Letter Carrier...

SAVE OUR SERVICE

NO CORPORATION NEEDED

Postal reform is badly needed. The surest path to postal reform is through good postal pay. It cannot be achieved by turning the postal service over to a corporation that will simply put a new name on old practices. Postal reform is up to Congress. The Postal Service, however, should remain in the hands of the people through their elected representatives and not in the hands of a profit-motivated Board of Directors.

Your letter carrier is struggling against overwhelming odds.

For years we've done everything we can to get the mails delivered as promptly as humanly possible. We have regarded your letters, checks, post cards and packages as symbols of trust, knowing that in each daily round we carry the hopes and fears of millions of people.

We've faced the ancient perils of snow, rain, heat and gloom of night as well as dog bites, traffic, endless flights of stairs, and increasingly heavy burdens. We've done our part to maintain the honored traditions of our service.

Now we need your help

As a result of short-sighted fiscal policies of the Bureau of the Budget, discriminatory pay scales and scandalous working conditions have reached the point where employment in the postal service imposes a sacrifice on postal workers that no citizen should be forced to bear in the ordinary course of events.

Wages of postal workers average thousands of dollars a year less than the amount determined by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics as necessary for a "modest but adequate" standard of living.

To reach the top step of our postal pay scale takes up to 25 years of service - a goal most postal workers never reach. Over 90% of the letter carriers never rise above level 5 of the 21 level scale.

The rate of turnover among postal workers is nearly 10 times the turnover rate among factory workers—23 per hundred compared to 28 per thousand. That costs the postal service . . . and the taxpayers . . . over $100 million a year in locating, hiring and training new employees.

To remedy these conditions and to achieve the kind of postal service Americans want and deserve, Congress has passed a bill. That bill is HR 13000 and is now before President Nixon for approval.

Here's what HR 13000 would do:

- Provide step increases equivalent to a 5.4% pay increase.
- Establish a Federal Wage Commission to determine future postal and federal pay scales.
- As of July 1970, provide for top pay scales after eight years of service instead of 25, thus increasing the incentive for postal workers to stay in the postal service.

Here's what you can do:

Please sign the coupon at the left and mail it to President Nixon

That way you will help us and other organizations of postal workers who are now fighting to better their condition of life. We want to receive from our government employer the same treatment accorded, as a matter of course, workers in the private sector. We want to be paid as well as workers in similar jobs in private industry.

The simple fact is that postal reform begins with good postal pay

President Nixon can take that first large step toward postal reform by signing HR 13000

Postal wages are not inflationary.
Postal workers are the victims of inflation.

County to Bid For Park Funds

Wayne County plans to bid for $1,220,000 in state recreation bond money to help finance extensive improvements of county recreation, including new facilities at Phoenix Lake.

Top priority was assigned to development of a recreational and educational facility proposed by the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service at a total cost of $500,000.

Projects in this area include construction of two fishing piers at Phoenix Lake at an estimated cost of $13,000, and construction of one fishing pier and a dock area for paddle boats at Wilcox Lake, $22,000.

Well Site 51 See Slides, Sale Near Express Opinions

Slides of the year-round school plan went through their final showing last week and now are being made into six identical film strips.

A total of 51 persons saw the slide presentations on a formal basis, according to Raymond E. Spear, superintendent of Northville schools. The presentation also was made to members of the school's VIP committee and administrative staff.

Questionnaires answered after the slide reviews showed 41 people believed the slides helped them better understand the year-round concept, while four said it did not. All persons viewing the slides did not complete questionnaires.

Thirty-two were satisfied with answers to questions asked by the audience, while 12 were not satisfied.

Nineteen said the meeting changed their mind about the concept, while 20 said it did not. Twenty-three said they were interested and had a stronger feeling of being interested in the concept. One person became uninterested, one changed from being uninterested to interested and seven said the slides gave them a stronger feeling of being uninterested.

Of those who filled out the questionnaire, 40 felt the concept is worthy of further consideration by the board of education, though seven did not.

Thirty-three wanted to know more about the year-round school. Specifically, they wanted more information on when their children would attend school and what changes would be made in the curriculum.

The slide presentation was made to the staff at Moraine Elementary on November 20. The entire staff returned questionnaires and all said the concept is worthy of further study.

The staff members queried administrators on the curriculum changes, whether their vacations would have to be taken the same time each year and what effect the concept would have on their salary schedule.

Though the filmstrips are in the process of being developed, six meetings have been scheduled for the week of December 1, the premiere week. All but one are in private homes.

The meeting dates, times and places are:

December 1 - 9:15 a.m., Mrs. Richard Lyon, 218 South Ely Drive.
December 2 - 1 p.m., Mrs. Keith Wright, 541 Linden Court.
December 3 - 9:30 a.m., Mrs. Fred Harper, 18415 Fermanagh Court.
December 4 - 9:15 a.m., Mrs. Larry Meyer, 47103 Timberlane.
December 5 - 9:15 a.m., Mrs. Howard Meyer, 279 Maplewood.

The sixth presentation will be made to staff members of Northville schools.

With the six filmstrips, six or eight additional showings can still be scheduled for the week.

However, city officials point out that the buyer cannot legally use acreage not owned by him to compute density. And, they add, without being able to do this the land is economically unsound for multiple housing investment.

Paul Vernon, representing the Village Green homeowners association, suggested that the council sell the property west of the stream with the stipulation that once density has been established it be deeded back to the city.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff and others strongly opposed this alternative because it would be a back door method of violating the city ordinance.

Key council objections to retaining the rear portion of the land for public open space included the land's distance from the center of the subdivision and its inaccessibility. An easement, owned by the county for utilities, enters the property from Novi Street but cannot be legally used as a public entrance or exit. The only other easement, held by the city, is off the Eight Mile cutoff but because of the steep embankment is virtually unusable for a public right-of-way.

Suggestions from some adjoining property owners that they are perfectly willing to continue to permit subdivision children to walk through their lots to enter the area was interpreted as an immediate solution by the council but of no future value. Later owners of these homes may not want children to walk across their lawns and, like some property owners today, may fence their lots to prevent it, councilmen emphasized.

Mayor Allen viewed it as a landlocked parcel that in the final analysis would enhance the back yards of adjacent property owners but be of no future value for the city or its citizens at large.

Concerning a council comment that few children other than those in the immediate neighborhood use the property, citizens argued that it is used regularly by youngsters, particularly in the summer, for baseball or nature study from as far away as Amerman school.

Councilman Rathert agreed and he once again urged fellow members to seriously consider retention of the rear portion of the property. Noting that the city master plan calls for neighborhood open spaces and that to date the city has done little to provide them, he suggested this site as a starting point since the property is already owned by the city.

Vernon also pointed out that the planning commission had recently suggested that the property be used for public open space.

Ollendorff countered by pointing out that a study committee a year ago found this site less acceptable than one on Maplewood and North Center Street which also have been proposed for neighborhood parks.

While the sale proposal prohibits building on the land west of the stream, citizens fear that the developer will fence it for use exclusively by residents of the new housing development.

vocational skills, reading, physical education and other social studies would be taught.

"It is a highly-controlled program designed to develop manpower needs. It is not a center for troubled kids," Jaffe insisted. He reported that some youngsters had advanced to college-level work following the training but noted that this was not the purpose of the program.

He explained that following state and city of Detroit approvals, which he estimated would come within six weeks, bids would be sought for operators of the program. Jaffe stated that the federal government designs the program but that private enterprise, unions, foundations or governments may bid to conduct the program.

Jaffe estimated that bids might be awarded by the end of January. He explained that rehabilitation of the buildings would then take place to prepare for the program. A slow build-up of students would follow with the full 250-enrollment anticipated by fall.

He said that the students are given board, room, clothing, medical and dental care in addition to instruction. They are paid between $30 and $50 per month and are compensated at the rate of $50 per month upon completion of the course to provide each student with a "readjustment allowance."

Novi Drug Buys Store

Three Novi druggists have expanded their business. They are the new owners of South Lyon Pharmacy, formerly Enders Drug, at the intersection of Lafayette and Lake Streets.

The trio includes George McCollum, Norm and Chuck Somers, who also own Novi Drug on Grand River in Novi and a pharmacy in Walled Lake. The new owners have hired George's mother-in-law, former South Lyon Justice of the Peace Mrs. Florence Renwick, in the store in addition to retaining previous employees.

Change of ownership took place last week Wednesday. The Novi trio alternate between the Novi and South Lyon stores, keeping both open seven days a week.

Lin Enders, a druggist for 42 years, has operated Enders Drug for the past 20. He originally purchased the business from Everett Jones.

Stating that they plan to continue living in South Lyon and pursue their civic activities, Enders added that they "do plan to do some traveling" and that he "is glad to get a chance to relax and take things easy" now that he has retired.

Mrs. Enders, who is slowly but surely recuperating from a pinched nerve in her back, also is happy to retire from the business.

under the lights at Northville Downs, was a member of the group that first started harness racing at night in the Chicago area at Maywood Park and was the first general manager of Pompano Park in Florida - the first harness racing plant in Southern Florida.

He supervised the planning and construction of the ultra-modern Florida plant which was built by VanLennep and is now a part of Castleton Industries Inc.

Owen always found time to travel around Michigan and visit the county fair operations. It was chiefly through his efforts that the racing act was changed to turn a portion of the State's share of the mutual handle over to the county fairs to boost purses.

Owen was instrumental in getting passage of the bill which provides that the State, through the Department of Agriculture, adds $3 to every single dollar put up by the county fair associations for harness racing purses.

It meant that a race that formerly went for $100 would have a purse of $400.

That single bit of legislation is credited with doing more for the growth of harness racing throughout Michigan than any single factor.

Owen had a big hand in the establishment of the Michigan and Wolverine futurities which today have values of up to $25,000; a far cry from the days of the three-heat stakes with a total value of no more than $500.

During his term at Wolverine, he initiated plans along with VanLennep for the installation of the film patrol. They also decided to use the Visumatic timing device which is so popular with fans, and became the only harness track in the Detroit area to use both the timer and the film patrol.

Owens always had a keen mind for promotions. The Ladies Night programs at Wolverine on Tuesdays, when a mink stole is presented to some lucky woman in the audience, has been a long-time successful tradition.

Owen gave up his position at Pompano Park four years ago to devote fulltime to Wolverine Raceway.

Richard S. Wilson, director of public relations, has succeeded Owen as Wolverine's vice president and general manager. Wilson, who has been associated with Wolverine Raceway for 18 years, was Owen's successor as vice president and general manager at Pompano Park.

Industrial Zoning Rides on Election Decision

Should the action of Northville Township planners and board members in rezoning two large parcels of land for industrial development stand or be overturned.

That, in a nutshell, is one of two questions township electors will decide when they cast their ballots in the special December 8 election.

A "yes" vote will support the rezoning action, a "no" vote will revert these industrially zoned areas along Haggerty Road to residential zoning.

A controversial matter for years, the Haggerty Road zoning matter will appear on the ballot because citizens, primarily homeowners living in adjacent areas to the west of the rezoned property, petitioned the township board for the special election and, because the petitions were found valid, the township board was legally compelled to call for the election.

Since an election was already necessary, the board decided to place another proposition — that concerning the proposed increase in millage to permit acquisition and development of park property — on the ballot as well.

The industrially rezoned property involves two large tracts of land. The largest of the two, constituting about 398 acres, is bounded on the west by Haggerty Road and the Livonia city limits; extends north to within approximately one-quarter mile of Six Mile Road; abuts a small portion of Five Mile Road, Tanger Elementary School property, and an area zoned for business to the south; and it borders on the eastern edge of Park Lane property to the west. The other land involves nearly 85 acres of property fronting on Haggerty Road and the north side of Six Mile Road.

The larger of the two tracts (82-percent) lies entirely within the Plymouth School District (including Tanger Elementary), while the other (18-percent) is part of the Northville School District.

The total acreage is but a part of the area that planners originally classified for industry in preparing the township's master plan and, subsequently, in airing the proposed township zoning ordinance at a public hearing in January, 1966.

Following a May 14 public hearing this year, the planning commission late in June voted unanimously (then Commissioner William Smith, was absent) to recommend the industrial zoning to the township board. On June 9, the township board approved the industrial zoning following three tie votes, each of which was broken by Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg.

Straub, Treasurer, Alex Lawrence and Trustee Richard Mitchell moved to deny the request, while Trustee Bernard Baldwin, former Trustee Thomas Armstrong, and Clerk Mrs. Crispin Hammond voted "no." Stromberg joined the "no" voters and the motion to deny was defeated. Then Mitchell, Straub and Lawrence moved to table the matter, and again: the motion was defeated by Stromberg's key vote. Finally, Armstrong, Baldwin and Mrs. Hammond voted to approve the industrial rezoning, while the three other board members cast negative votes leaving the decisive vote to the supervisor.

Originally, (in 1965-66) planners suggested an industrial classification for 786 acres (not all located in the Haggerty Road area). They proposed an industrial corridor in the vicinity of the C&O Railroad and Seven Mile Road, a potential industrial site in the western section of the township at Five Mile Road between Ridge and Napier, and the Haggerty-Six Mile area.

Because of the strong objections of citizens attending the 1966 hearing, township officials scratched the industrial zoning for the Haggerty-Six Mile Road area and substituted R-4 (residential). The two other areas were approved for industry. The industrial property adjacent to the railroad, however, has since been reduced in size by rezoning for other uses, and the Five Mile-Napier Road site is, as it was in 1966, owned and used by the Detroit House of Correction. In zoning this latter property for industry, planners theorized that, should DeHoCo ever abandon the property, it would be ideal for industry because of the railroad that cuts diagonally across the property.

Township officials, in defending recent action in rezoning the Haggerty Road property for industrial development, emphasize that citizens who objected in 1966 were generally agreed that the property eventually would be developed for industrial use but that they did not want the industrial zoning at that time. Action in 1966 giving the area a residential classification, they point out, was a "temporary" one to satisfy citizens who wanted officials to delay industrial zoning.

Today, some of the citizens say that in objecting in 1966 they conceded nothing in influencing the R-4 residential zoning.

Who are the people who felt so strongly opposed to the industrial zoning that they petitioned for a referendum?

"Any tax benefit from industry," he says, "will go to Plymouth and not to Northville which has a financial problem."

Secondly, Straub says "it constitutes spot zoning because they left a piece along Six Mile Road in residential. The planning commission has turned down four or five requests because of spot zoning and yet they've seen fit to approve the zoning here (along Haggerty) that is the classic case of spot zoning if there ever was one."

Furthermore, the trustee charges that planners and fellow board members who approved the zoning did not take into consideration what their action would do to those people who live in the rezoned area. "It will uproot possibly 30 families who have lived in the area approximately 15 years or more." These people, he continues, have invested in their homes — one home is valued at $125,000 — and industry will pay "good money for their land but won't consider the value of the house in offering to buy."

The proximity of the industrial zoning to Tanger Elementary School; "which would mean more traffic than we have now," is Mrs. Stroschein's main objection. "That, plus the fact that we would have industry on one side of us and apartments on the other." Mrs. Stroschein lives at 15563 Marilyn.

On the other side of the coin, George Vilican of Vilican-Leman, township planning consultants, says "I am fully aware of the opposition of some people, but as a professional planner it is my duty to make recommendations based on good, sound planning — not on emotional appeals."

Vilican, who notes that his firm originally recommended a larger area along Haggerty for industrial zoning, explains that given the existing set of facts the industrial zoning is a logically sound decision. He ticked off these reasons for the zoning: It lies along the proposed route of the north-south expressway, it is near two proposed expressway interchanges, the topography is flat and ideal for industrial development, utilities (water and sewer) will be available in the near future, Livonia has zoned for heavy industry along its adjacent border, and relatively few homes exist in the area today.

Industrial land could be developed on the west side of the township along Napier — but it's unrealistic in view of the unavailability of utilities, he emphasizes.

"Don't misunderstand me. I don't mean that industrial zoning is the only logical development for property along expressways. In Troy, for example, we have proposed about 85-percent of the land for large residential lot sizes (adjacent to the expressway). The situation here is different, however; because of the land's flatness, the interchanges, availability of utilities, the industrial zoning across Haggerty in Livonia."

The consultant referred to conclusions his firm reached in the township's master plan study several years ago:

"Northville, Township's potential for industry is limited by the lack of flat land and the lack of municipal water, supply and sewers. The key physical advantages which the township offers are the C&O Railroad and the pending proximity to the future I-275 Freeway. Heavy industries of the on-rail-type are less prevalent numerically among new industries which can be located on smaller sites, and which are more compatible with residential areas may be what the township should try to attract. Also, the residential areas in the township provide for a lower density of housing. These low density areas tend to attract the higher income groups in the professional, managerial and similar categories.

Leonard Klein, chairman of the township planning commission, defends the zoning as good planning based on years of study. No matter where property is zoned industrial someone will oppose it, he notes. He emphasizes two points in defending the Haggerty Road industrial zoning: it is adjacent to Livonia's heavy industrial zoning as well as the proposed expressway, and Northville's industrial zoning is more restrictive than that of other communities.

Northville township zoning, he says, does not permit heavy industry but restricts it to light manufacturing, which, with buffer requirements, can be very attractive.

Pointing out that relatively few homes exist on the industrial property, Klein notes that, contrary to popular belief, the zoning does not mean citizens must sell or move from their homes. "They are entitled to live in their homes as long as they wish. No one is forcing them to sell their homes. The zoning means that when they do

It will uproot possibly 30 families...
Straub
They are entitled to live in their homes as long as they wish. Klein

A check of the nearly 400 validated signatures on the petitions shows that the largest percentage of them live in homes west of the property near Five Mile Road. Thirteen of them live on Haggerty Road, 15 on Six Mile Road, and 48 live in the area of the Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile. The remainder come from other areas of the township.

Those who circulated the petitions were: Mrs. I. Stroschein, Marvin Gans, Edwin Schroeder, Jack Taylor, Mrs. Bernice Thompson, Mary Kay Thompson, Ronald Thompson, Joseph Straub (township trustee), Mrs. William Smith (wife of the recently appointed township trustee), Mildred Storti, Ina Martin, Mrs. Constance Whittlesey, and Howard Norris.

Why do the petitioners object to the zoning?

Trustee Straub of 39875 Six Mile Road, who is leading the opposition, says the primary reason is that the industrially zoned property is almost entirely within the Plymouth School District.

If the township is to have a good balance between industry and residential areas "they're going to have to have industry someplace else even if industry comes here (along Haggerty). When that happens you'll have it spread all over — on the east side, along the railroad (C&O) and over on the west side near the railroad.

"They're worried about traffic problems there (at Seven Mile and C&O) because of business and industrial development. We've already got a traffic problem on Haggerty because of the college. Look what will happen if they put in industry, too."

Arguments of other petitioners are similar. For example:

Mrs. Smith strongly objects to the zoning "because we feel property next to the school is no place for industry, which would subject the school to industrial traffic. It's poor planning. We feel any industry attracted to the area would be transient, with rapid changeover leading to equally rapid blight and slums. The area already has been established over the years as residential. I feel these people are decent people. They are not wealthy, but they should be entitled to the same protection under the law as are other sections in the township that have been protected. Maybe that's just being idealistic... but we feel that Northville Township has such an excellent chance to zone properly, that it's a shame that it is not done by planning but by politics.

"Let's be fair — we are for something, not anti-something as some people have charged. We feel there is an excellent area for industrial development in the southwestern portion of the township. Plymouth Township is progressing along this line."

Mrs. Whittlesey, who lives at 20146 Woodhill, consented to circulate petitions at the request of Trustee Straub "because I thought his argument that the area was not in the Northville School District was a valid one. If we need industry it should be in our school district."

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Township electors will be asked to vote "YES" or "NO" on two different proposals at a special election on December 8.

Proposal One involves a request for a two-mill levy for a period of 20 years for acquisition, development and operation of recreational facilities.

Proposal Two appears on the ballot as the result of a petition campaign conducted by citizens protesting recently-adopted industrial zoning near Haggerty road in the Five and Six Mile road area.

This week I'd like to examine Proposal One—the recreation millage—and explain why I'll vote "NO"

On the one hand, a vote against preparing for near-future recreation needs is contrary to what I believe to be essential.

Yet under the particular set of circumstances now existing in Northville township—the development stage, the growth potential and the political atmosphere—I think another course of action would best serve our township and total community.

It is important, therefore, to define a "NO" vote as I view it, versus the interpretation that a majority of the members of the township board may place upon it.

I do not view a negative vote as a mandate opposing proper planning for future recreation needs.

Neither do I consider a "NO" vote as an indication that the township board should not pursue development of the fish hatchery property along with the city for total community recreational use. I believe this can be accomplished without an increase in taxes.

It is the overall course of action currently being followed by the township board majority that disturbs me and prompts me to oppose placing additional tax dollars in their hands.

What new services, what improved operational procedures do they propose to offer when the millage rate triples and becomes $3 versus the present $1 per thousand dollars of property valuation?

It cannot be a surprise to anyone who has glanced at this column over the past 13 years that I believe ultimately the city and township of Northville should unite and establish a new, single government.

It should cause township taxpayers to at least pause and consider why the city estimates it can acquire some 200 acres of Maybury property without a tax hike, while township residents must pay an additional two mills for 20 years for the very same acquisition.

And it should prompt review of an impartial, city-township sponsored unification study less than one year old which states without qualification that the city and township could operate as a single incorporated unit for a tax rate of just seven mills.

And clearly the report indicates that there would be enough monies in revenues earmarked for capital improvements to support the total acquisition of 400 recreational acres—again without a tax hike.

If one were to harbor ulterior motives, a good course of action might be to encourage a "YES" vote that would boost township millage to three. The township tax burden would then rest just four below the combined city-township rate of seven mills.

And who wouldn't be disposed to consider another four mills if it offered fulltime, prompt and professional police service, rubbish pick-up, street cleaning and repairs, department of public works service, and professional management?

I cannot conscientiously support such a back-door approach to what I believe to be the single most important issue for township taxpayers to consider.

Instead I hope that enlightened leadership will direct our community into an era of cooperation that will eventually lead to unification.

I view the "honeymoon" period between the city and township as that time between now and unification when whatever resources available to the township—short of invoking a tax hike—can be employed to strengthen and improve total community services.

As stated previously, I believe the township can afford $13,000 per year for five years as its share of the fish hatchery development. I believe there may be time, and means, through joint city-township efforts to acquire sufficient Maybury property to properly prepare for the total future community recreational needs.

It is time for Northville township taxpayers to begin examining the need for professional management for its growing governmental needs. It is not the time to hand over more money.

Frankly speaking, the issue boils down to a sharp difference of opinion.

Those township officials who would oppose a goal of ultimate unification with the city see instead the creation of a government that will yield more power of taxation, more opportunity to duplicate existing city services with an ultimate goal of a separate entity.

Anyone who would believe that this could lead to a more economical operation has not reviewed the findings of the unification study and has not listened to experts who point to efficiencies that are gained through expanded use of such central facilities as professional administration, DPW buildings, city halls, jails, etc.

We cannot escape the fact that continued rapid growth will increase the necessity of providing such facilities (including recreational areas).

The question to be answered is which path do we follow to meet this challenge.

Speaking for Myself Instant Analysis: Good or Bad?

GOOD . . .

Instant analysis is more than good. It is a necessity if television newsmen are to fulfill their responsibility as journalists in a very unique medium.

It's not enough that television serve as a conduit, bringing action to the people as it happens. In a world of complexities, there must be comments of one kind or another — analysis or editorial — to put the event into perspective, to enlighten, to criticize, to praise, to serve as a sounding board for ideas.

In a highly competitive business, TV newsmen must be capable of commenting on major news events while a captive audience is in front of them. Fairness dictates too, that comment be made while the event is fresh in the minds of viewers.

Who's in a better position than the newsmen, for instance, to quickly analyze a presidential speech? Newsmen appearing on national networks are skilled in their business through schooling, experience and day-to-day contact.

It's true, newsmen are human and capable of error. They may on occasion be biased. But since when are Americans unable to think for themselves, to turn a knob or to avail themselves of more than one expert opinion?

ROLLY PETERSON

BAD . . .

We're confronted here with a question of "policy," not authority or rights.

Is it good to grind out a rebuttal to a position seconds after it has been presented?

Would it be better policy to digest first and reply later?

Every business, and television is big business, must make policy determinations designed to improve the quality of its product. In the communications field — newspapers, TV, radio — it is particularly important to consider more than balance sheets alone. A hastily composed phrase can cause ever-lasting damage to an individual, or even a nation.

Editorial analysis is a responsibility of all media and newsmen are far and away the best source for commentary in their specialty fields. But sober consideration and studied thought are desirable before going to press or on the air.

A television commentator repeating what the President has said immediately following an address is fine. This helps correct one of the broadcast media's greatest weaknesses: the possibility that a listener or viewer did not hear the total presentation.

But greater benefit would be derived, and more confidence evoked, if both the viewer and commentator were given time to consume before dishing up an editorial, either written or aired.

Urges 'Yes' Vote On Park Question

To the Editor:

On Monday, December 8, the residents of Northville Township who are property owners and who are registered to vote will have an opportunity to vote for two additional mills so that the township may acquire additional recreational land. Some of the best land for this purpose still to be found anywhere in the tri-county area is right here in our own back yard — Maybury Sanatorium.

What a marvelous opportunity! And what a tragic loss to all of the people of this area if this prime piece of land with all its natural beauty should slip out of our hands and into the grasp of profiteering subdividers!

Once this property is lost it can never again be regained. The City of Detroit is determined to sell it. The only question is to whom. Property in this part of the state is disappearing so rapidly that we may well see in our own lifetime the day when such land will be literally priceless. Priceless — "unobtainable at any price." But on one day, December 8, it will be available to us for two mills.

We urge everyone who is eligible to vote to circle December 8 on their calendar NOW and to vote YES on Proposition No. 1.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

The door slammed, signalling the return of our tardy son, and he skipped up the stairs in his traditional disregard for dinner-time solemnity. Even before his coat hit the floor we knew what had happened.

"Guess what?" he bragged, flopping down in the chair and reaching his grubby hands for a roll. "I almost got squirted by a skunk."

If there's anything that can disrupt dinner-time conversation and sour a pork roast it's a son who "almost" got hit by a skunk.

I was still choking on a potato and the chairs had hardly stopped tumbling when the fleeing members of our household shouted from adjoining rooms, "Get him out of here." Even the dog streaked for cover.

In a house so conditioned to surprise and so accustomed to explosions, it's hard to believe one smelly kid could cause panic. But that's what this one did. My reflexes refused to reflex. Frantically, I searched my brain for solutions but I kept coming up with the same ridiculous answer. And before I came to my senses I was standing in the dining room, clutching a shovel and muttering, "gotta bury him ... gotta bury him."

Naturally, my words didn't go over very big with the kid sitting alone at the table eating his curds and whey. And his mother wasn't very understanding, either. "Not him, you idiot, his clothes!" she shouted, cracking her bedroom door enough to sample the air.

From behind another door I heard a daughter ask incredulously, "Is daddy really going to bury him?"

Anyway, by the time I started escorting him from the room he was thrashing about like a convict taking his last walk. His screams brought his mother on the run. In an instant she had stripped him naked, hustled him into the bathtub heavily spiked with detergents, destroyed his clothing, and filled the house with clouds of air sweetener.

He emerged wrinkled but glistening. Later, I overheard the questions of his curious brother.

"We trapped him," the clean one said referring to the black and white animal.

"Trapped him?"

"Yup," he chortled proudly.

"Was he alive?"

"Nope."

"Then how could he squirt you?"

"His motor was still running."

Turns 95 Tuesday

Old Vet Remembers The Maine

One of the nation's few surviving veterans of the Spanish-American War, stepfather of a Northville resident, celebrated his 95th birthday Tuesday at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Allen Park.

He is John T. Edwards, stepfather of Kenneth Cockin of 376 First Street.

A native of Michigan, Edwards enlisted in the Navy as an apprentice at the age of 16, serving aboard the USS Portsmouth, a full-rigged 34-gun sailing ship. He still remembers that a voyage from Newport Rhode Island to Portsmouth, England, took 35 days. He later served on the gunboat USS Petrel on China station, and also the USS Oregon, the then modern coal burning battleship sporting armor plate up to 13 inches thick.

As he reached his 95th birthday, Edwards recalled when news that the USS Maine was blown up in Havana harbor was received on February 15, 1898, the Oregon left Bremerton Navy Yard, Washington, for San Francisco to take on ammunition. He recalled that the voyage around the Horn to Jupiter Inlet, Florida, took from March 19 to May 13. His ship participated in the naval blockade of Santiago, Cuba, and he recalled being the first on the Oregon to spot the Spanish fleet, and thereafter being a part of the naval battle. He remained in the Navy until 1901 when he was discharged as a chief electrician.

As a civilian, Edwards began a 32-year career with the Ford Motor Company, mostly in the Ford Power House. He was a friend of the late Henry Ford, to whom he was known as "Jack." Following retirement, Edwards lived in Los Angeles, Florida, Phoenix and Detroit. He has two sons, a grandson, and six stepchildren. The sons were by his first wife, who died in 1920, and the stepchildren are of his second wife, who died in 1966.

Edwards lives an active life in the hospital's nursing home care unit. He makes his own bed, rides an exercycle, avidly listens to Tiger broadcasts, and writes poetry.

His advice to all is to have a goal in life, and enjoy life every day. His advice to young men is to enlist in the Navy and take advantage of its many trade schools, and to learn obedience and self-care.

FLAMES DESTROYED THE OLD DEPOT SATURDAY NIGHT

Fire Destroys Depot

While city officials were planning to raze Northville's historic depot, vandals beat them to the punch in destroying the building by fire Saturday night.

The fire, the fifth in two months, was touched off about 9 p.m. Firemen fought the blaze until 1 a.m. Sunday, according to Fire Chief Herman (Bud) Hartner. Heat from the blaze knocked out railroad signals between Northville and Wixom, and trains were halted for three hours.

Three firemen stayed at the scene all night, as did a railroad flagman and a communications crew. Communications were not restored until late Sunday.

Used for storage by Northville Laboratories, the depot was built just before the turn of the century.

During its heyday, the depot included a waiting room, ticket and freight office, baggage room and warehouse facilities.

Six passenger trains made daily stops in Northville when Pere Marquette operated the depot. About 30 years ago the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad took over the depot. The last passenger run was made nearly 20 years ago and the depot was finally closed 11 years ago.

Another fire in the depot October

28 held up a C & O train for 20 minutes while firemen battled the blaze.

CORRESPONDENCE

1. Smith moved to accept and file the resolutions from Brownstown, Allen Park and Van Buren regarding government tax exempt bonds, supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

2. Straub moved to accept and file the resolutions from Van Buren, Romulus and Rockwood regarding senior citizen exemptions, supported by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

3. Mitchell moved to accept and file the letter of October 24, 1969 from Wayne County Road Commission regarding no left turn on Six Mile Road at Haggerty Road, seconded by Smith. Ayes: All.

4. Letter of October 25, 1969 from Northville Area Development Committee. Stromberg invited all board members and interested citizens to attend the annual meeting of the Northville Area Development Committee. Baldwin moved to accept and file the letter, seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

5. Ashton explained his letter of October 21, 1969 regarding removal of six percent interest rate until July, 1971. Baldwin moved that the township go on record as supporting proposed legislation now before the House in Lansing regarding this interest rate. Supervisor to send letters to state legislators, seconded by Smith. Ayes: All.

6. Baldwin moved to accept and file the letter of October 16, 1969 from the City of Detroit regarding water pollution, seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

7. Baldwin moved to accept and file the November 4, 1969 letter from the City of Northville regarding joint dumping area, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

8. The Wayne County Road Commission does not accept road drains to carry runoff from commercial or industrial property. The township may negotiate with the property owner and contract with the county. Baldwin moved to forward a copy of the October 30, 1969 letter from Boron Oil Company to the Wayne County Road Commission and request an estimate of the cost to provide drainage, seconded by Straub. Ayes: All.

9. Hammond moved to accept and file the November 7, 1969 letter from the League of Women Voters regarding "observers" at township board meetings, seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

10. Baldwin moved to make a payment of Estimate No. 3 ($12,404.43) to the Territorial Construction Company in accordance with Engineer Mosher's letter of November 7, 1969, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

5. Gerald Avenue Violation Case. The attorney explained that the township had received an adverse opinion from the Wayne County Circuit Judge, dealing with the mobile homes on Gerald Avenue. The board must decide whether or not to take the case to the Court of Appeals. Hammond moved that the supervisor set a date for an executive meeting to study this case, seconded by Smith. Ayes: All.

6. Boron Oil Company vs. Township of Northville. The attorney presented a new consent judgment proposal with changes having been made in sections 4, 5 and 6. Straub moved that further study be tabled for an executive session, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.

7. Fire Protection in Northville Township. Lawrence reported on the results of a study done by the committee. He said that H.U.D. no longer has matching funds available for such projects (fire stations and equipment) but that money could be procured on a bond basis, at 5 3/8% extended to 40 years. For the necessary station and vehicles, etc. the cost estimate is about $200,000. The necessary land for such a station has not been settled on. The building could also be used as a DPW. No action as this was simply a beginning report to give information to the board.

NEW BUSINESS

Newcomer Wildcats 'Good As Anybody in League'?

Mustangs Polish for Cage Debut

Will Open On Tuesday

'Perfect' Jayvees To Bolster Squad?

A nucleus of six veterans combined with five juniors coming off a perfect season, a transfer student and a 6-5 sophomore make for a variety of pieces which Mustang Basketball Coach Bob Kucher is in the final stages of putting together for Tuesday's season-opener here.

The Mustangs, opening a 17-game schedule, will be hosting non-conference rival South Lyon on Tuesday before launching their Wayne-Oakland League campaign three days later at Clarenceville.

Kucher has six games in the first three weeks of the season before taking a holiday break from December 20 to January 9 with half of the pre-Christmas schedule to be played against non-conference opponents.

"We're bigger than last season," Kucher observes in reference to his 13-man squad which has been practicing since November 5. "We plan pretty much to play a running game and we feel we can use quite a few people because we have good depth."

The Mustangs last season posted a 10-6 mark but were hampered by their lack of size with nobody over 6-2 on the squad. But Kucher this year has considerably more size without any apparent loss in speed and the additional strength on the boards is expected to bolster his preferred fast break.

"Actually we feel we can plan either way," the mentor adds. "In most cases we'll just adjust to whom we're playing but there's no question that we favor the running game."

All Wayne-Oakland League choice Ron Hubbard is one of the six veterans back and is respected as a major scoring threat at either guard or forward. Hubbard, a lean 6-1, last season scored 333 points in 18 games for a 18.5 average and won the first team all-league berth.

Also back is forward-guard Fred Holdsworth (6-2), Jim Penrod (6-0) and guards Terry Mills (5-9), Rich Adams (6-0) and Rex Balko (5-9).

Newcomers include five juniors up from Omar Harrison's Little Mustangs which posted a perfect 17-0 mark in 1968-69 along with transfer Scotty Stuart and 6-5 sophomore Todd Hannert.

Hannert, of course, and three of the five juniors will be making major contributions in size and could be rebounding assets if they can mature against varsity competition.

Kerry Cushing, also at 6-5, Bernie Zach (6-2) and Steve Utley (6-2) are battling for starting berths up front while Stuart, Rick Sechler (5-11) and Kirt Suckow (5-11) are all guards.

"A lot will depend upon how our younger players make the transition," Kucher explains. "We're fortunate in having a good nucleus of veterans back but we'll need strong performances by our underclassmen for a good season."

The Mustangs are favored by many Wayne-Oakland coaches to unseat defending champion West Bloomfield although Andover and Milford also appear as contenders.

Northville's Alvin Wistert (right) and brother Albert glance at an old press clipping after learning that Alvin, one of the three Wistert brothers to play football for the University of Michigan, was named by fans to U-M's all-time team selected to

Honored by Fans

Alvin Wistert Selected On All-Time U of M Unit

University of Michigan football fans have voted Alvin Wistert of Northville to the All-Time Michigan team.

Results of the poll taken in recognition of football's 100th anniversary were announced between halves of the M-O-S-U game Saturday.

Alvin played for Michigan in 1947-49, winning All America honors in 1948 and 1949 as left tackle. He captained the 1949 team and was a member of the 1947 Rose Bowl team. Michigan's appearance in the Rose Bowl that year (January 1, 1948) came 46 years after the only other trip to the Rose Bowl for a Michigan team at that time. The results were identical to the first encounter and prompted this headline in a San Francisco newspaper: "Michigan Hasn't Improved in 46 Years, Wins 49-0"

Alvin was the last of the three famous Wistert brothers to attend Michigan and all gained All America honors at left tackle. Francis (Whitey), 1933, was named with Alvin to the All-Time Michigan team. Albert (Ox), 1942, missed being selected but like his brothers has had his share of other honors.

Whitey, who now resides in Toledo, was a pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds following graduation from Michigan. Along with his brother, Albert, he has been named to the Hall of Fame by the National Football Foundation.

Now a resident of Sherman Oaks, Calif., Albert played nine years of professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles and was named All-Pro tackle for six years.

Northville's Alvin waited until after service with the Marines in World War II before entering Michigan and adding more laurels to the Wistert legend.

Like his brothers he wore the familiar No. 11, which always seemed to be the first jersey to greet an opponent catching a Michigan punt.

Actually, it was his delayed entry into college that kept Alvin out of the professional football ranks. He received several bids but declined on the basis of his age. Al was 34 when he graduated from U of M in June, 1950.

Alvin and Albert attended Saturday's M-O-S-U game. Whitey rarely misses a game, but business kept him away from what many term Michigan's greatest victory.

Albert, who journeyed from California for the game, called "the most thrilling college game I've ever seen." He said the West Coast fans and news media had shown little regard for the Wolverines and had even considered petitions to bring Ohio State to the Rose Bowl.

Originally, the Wistert brothers were natives of Chicago. Alvin, who is a sales representative for Owens-Illinois, resides with his wife Nancy at 10250 West Seven Mile road. Their daughter Kristen is a freshman at U of M, while Beverly is a freshman at Northville high school.

When Winter Season Comes Rushing In . . .

The winter sports season comes rushing onto the Greater Northville-Nowi Area scene within the next eight days as prep basketball, wrestling and swimming teams make their debuts with a special "Meet Your Mustangs" night squeezed in between.

Basketball arrives first with both Mustang and Wildcat varsity scheduled to play Tuesday and then next week Friday while Coach Jack Townsley's Mustang wrestlers host Churchill on Wednesday. And on Friday, the first Mustang swimming team in the history of the school becomes official as it travels to Milan for its first meet.

Next week Thursday the Northville Boosters Club and the high school athletic department will host the "Meet Your Mustangs" affair with all winter sports teams to be introduced and with demonstrations to be provided for the benefit of the fans.

The program is to begin at 8 p.m. Both varsity basketball contests Tuesday begin about 8 p.m. following jayvee preliminaries slated to start at 6:30 p.m. Coach Bob Kucher's Mustangs will host neighboring South Lyons while Coach Jim Ladd's Wildcats travel to Chelsea to make their Southeastern Conference debut.

Wednesday's wrestling match begins with a jayvee preliminary at 6:30 p.m. while the Mustang tankers will start swim competition at Milan at 4 p.m.

"I think we have as good a chance as anybody," Wildcat Basketball Coach Jim Ladd observes bluntly in reference to the upcoming Southeastern Conference campaign.

"We really haven't got much experience but it's a well-balanced league," he adds.

In effect, what Ladd appears to be saying is that despite the fact the Wildcats will be making their debut in the rugged area conference, they're ready to play for keeps.

The mentor has four lettermen back from a team which posted a 8-10 mark last season playing as an independent. And he's also inherited a transfer student who's young and inexperienced. . . and 6-6.

The Wildcats open Tuesday on the road when they meet Chelsea and then host their home opener next week Friday with Dexter.

Senior Phil McMillan is one of the four returning veterans and Ladd has been particularly pleased with his performance in early practices. McMillan, who is 5-11, has been working at guard with 5-10 junior Tom Boyer with Denny Diem (6-0) and Rick Hill (6-0) at forwards and Dave Fear, a 6-6 sophomore who transfers from Ohio, at center.

"McMillan has come along real well - I've been pleased with his progress," Ladd reports. "And I've been satisfied with Fear so far. He's pretty young but I've got to say I've been satisfied with what I've seen."

Diem, although a senior, isn't a letterwinner but he's improved considerably since last year and has been a pleasant surprise for the Wildcat mentor. Rick Dale, at 5-9 a combination guard and forward, is the other veteran and he's presently in contention for a starting berth at either post.

"We have to be fast break mostly if we're going to play our game," Ladd explains. "I'm not sure what we'll do on defense - zone or man-to-man, press or not."

Boyer is a junior who lettered both as freshman and sophomore and who could combine with McMillan to give The Green one of the better pairs of guards in the conference.

Hill is a rugged 190-pounder who could provide some muscle along the front line. Five-eight Tom VanWagner, a junior, is also expected to see considerable action at guard while Bob Vivian (6-1) has been impressive working as a forward.

Tom O'Neal and Roger Johr, both 5-9 and juniors, are working at guard while senior Tim Bowman (6-1) and juniors Jack Smith (5-11) and Bob Clift (5-10) are considered candidates at either guard or forward.

Jackson In Action At Downs

A crowd of 2,152 people attended opening night of the winter meeting Jackson at Northville Downs on Monday with the mutual handle reported at $178,485.

A spokesman for the Jackson Trotting Association explained that heavy fog early in the evening apparently kept many race fans away from the historic opening night. The winter session, first ever held here, is hosted by Jackson and runs through December 30 for a total of 30 sessions. Opening night per capita was reported at $83 - an active night despite the modest attendance.

Ten races per night will be held on Mondays through Saturdays at the local facility which features an enclosed, heated grandstand. Post time is 8 p.m.

Local Gridiron Fan Knows (and Picks) Best

How sweet it was!

Ask Rick Talbot of 361 South Wing Street. Rick was one of the few football contest contestants who correctly predicted the demolition of the "greatest" Ohio State team in history.

And because Rick knew that Michigan - not OSU - is the greatest, he was awarded first place and the $10 first prize. The only college game he missed, an indication that he wasn't completely partisan, was Michigan State's convincing 39-7 victory over Northwestern.

Rick also missed guessing Oakland's three-point triumph (27-24) over Kansas City, but he picked Detroit to win over Green Bay by the score of 17-14. Actually, the Lions won 16-10.

Terry Hoffman of 42350 Hammill, Plymouth, won second place with three mistakes and 10 points off the Detroit-Green Bay game (20-16), while Wendell Stowell of 42485 Parkhurst, Plymouth took third with three mistakes and 13 points off the Detroit game.

Both Terry and Wendell figured Ohio State was a sure winner, although Wendell correctly picked Michigan State to win.

Besides the Michigan and MSU games, Terry also missed out in Minnesota's 35-10 victory over Wisconsin. Wendell missed the Minnesota-Wisconsin game and he also incorrectly guessed UCLA to defeat USC in its Rose Bowl bid.

Of the four other contestants who missed only three games, two figured Michigan to become the co-champions of the Big Ten by virtue of its exciting 24-12 win over the Buckeyes.

Picking the Rose Bowl-bound Wolverines were Ty Cole of 356 Fairbrook and Byron L. Brown, 501 Byron, also of Plymouth. The two who missed the biggest upset of the decade - if not longer - were John Fialon and Ruby Cole.

Despite the large number who incorrectly picked Ohio State to win, it was Duke's 17-13 triumph over North Carolina that proved to be the most difficult game to pick for contestants. The easiest game to pick was Iowa's 40-0 win over Illinois.

A surprisingly large number also picked the Packers to defeat the Lions.

Youth Cut During Attack

An 18-year-old Whitmore Lake youth was attacked and cut, with a broken bottle November 18 near East Main and Hutton streets.

William Fink, Jr., told police he was delivering candy and cigarettes to local businesses when a man, between 28 and 30-years-old, came at him with what he believes was a broken bottle. He was taken to St. Mary Hospital, Livonia, where the half-inch cut on his upper left arm required stitches.

The incident occurred shortly after 5:30 p.m. The suspect fled on foot. Fink said the man was six feet tall, 180 pounds with short dark hair and wearing a three-quarter length blue jacket.

Fink said at no time did the man say anything to him.

Two injury accidents were reported during the first snow storm of the season, November 19.

At 7:18 a.m., two cars collided at the South Center Street and Seven Mile Road intersection. Injured was David John Taylor, Ann Arbor, driver of one of the cars.

He was taken to St. Mary Hospital, of road improvement priorities.

Now is the time to be reasonable about this whole situation. Good roads are in the best interest of the community and therefore taxes necessary to build good roads makes a justifiable request.

Surfaced roads are less expensive to maintain and maintenance of roads can be an overwhelming expenditure in a community of this size.

Some serious thought now - by councilmen and citizens - could assure that a bonafide program is proposed and that it is decided on it's own merits.

COURT NEWS

Thomas M. Wade, Milan, was given one year's probation by Judge Dunbar Davis in 35th District Court on November 18.

Wade also paid $78 fine for leaving the scene of an accident, $38 plus restitution for destroying a bed in the city jail and $18 for driving while his license was suspended.

Curtis Smith, 410 North Center Street, was fined $128 for driving under the influence of alcohol, $38 for failing to report an accident and $38 on a reduced charge of assault and battery.

Marc E. Jenesel, 931 Carrington, was given six months voluntary probation and paid $30 probation costs on a charge of assault and battery.

A fine of $128 was paid by Frederick J. Watson, 341 East Cady Street. He pled guilty to a reduced charge of driving while ability impaired.

A Jackson man, Raymond L. Baker, was fined $48 on a charge of drunkenness.

James M. Weston, Westland, was fined $35 plus restitution for a nonsufficient fund check.

Violation of a swimming pool ordinance resulted in a $28 fine for Gloria Mayer, 47016 Elmsmere Road.

A Farmington man, Albert D. Fielding, paid $13 for speeding and $13 for displaying improper license plates.

Steve Gallentine, 350 East Cady Street, was sentenced to spend 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction, two years on probation and fined $43 on a reduced charge of simple larceny. The sentence, handed down November 4, will be served on weekends.

Lorraine Montgomery, South Lyon, was fined $38 on November 4 for drunkenness.

Levitt Plan Cut in Size

than standard concrete and further enhanced with fountains.

Parking would be provided on the east and west sides of the complex, with no interior traffic permitted from one to the other. Drives on either side of the complex would serve these parking areas and continue to the rear and service the apartment units.

Levitt indicated it had taken a closer look at its original shopping center plan and, after professional review, concluded that it would be unrealistic to utilize the entire acreage for shopping.

Representatives emphasized that the shopping center would be very different than common centers, buffered from Seven Mile Road and its housing development on the opposite side by an attractive eight-foot high berm and landscaping and from the apartments in the rear by the existing trees and stream.

Lone objection to the proposal came from James Ginn, attorney for Stuart Oldford, who has sought unsuccessfully to convince planners to rezone for commercial use property adjacent to the railroad and west of the Levitt site. Recalling that planners found his client's shopping center proposal as a likely traffic hazard, Ginn said the Levitt center poses real traffic problems because of the bend and hill on Seven Mile Road near the project.

"The site plan appears nice, assuming it will be developed that way," said Ginn, "but it is not a good land use for this parcel."

James Littell, attorney for the William B. Walkers who are selling Levitt the land, took the "exact opposite view" of Ginn in calling it an excellent site for a shopping center. He noted that presently the property zoning would permit the highest multiples density permitted in the township.

Social Security Office Moves

The Detroit-Northwest Social Security office will move tomorrow (Friday) from its present quarters at 18500 Grand River to 17500 Lahser Road, two blocks north of Grand River, District Manager Sam F. Test announced this week.

More than 660,000 residents from Northville, Plymouth and other northwest Detroit communities are served by the office. There are more than 75,000 beneficiaries in the area who are receiving retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits through the office, according to Test.

Because of the move and the Thanksgiving holiday the office will be closed until 8:30 a.m. Monday. Regular office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

OBITUARIES

HARLOW INGALL

A former supervisor and treasurer of Salem Township, Harlow Ingall 85, of 10493 Joy Road died November 6 of a heart attack. Mr. Ingall was driving his car on Ann Arbor Trail near Plymouth when he was stricken. The car hit a tree but the medical examiner said that he died prior to the impact.

A 55 year resident of Salem Township, Mr. Ingall was a farmer all of his life until his retirement. He served as Salem Township supervisor for several years and as treasurer prior to that time.

He was born August 22, 1884 in Morenci, the son of Frederick and Martha Ellen Dewey Ingall. He and Agnes Gallup were married August 3, 1910 in Ann Arbor. She died in July, 1967.

Survivors include two sons, Lawrence of Joy Road, David of Plymouth; four daughters, Frances McGlone of Oregon, Emily Shafer of Ohio, Harriet Ackerley of New York City and Martha Ellen Wood of Monroe; 12 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

A memorial fund for Mr. Ingall has been established at the Plymouth Methodist Church where he was a member.

The Rev. Paul Cargo of the United Methodist Church of Plymouth officiated at funeral services November 10 at the Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth. Burial was in the Riverside Cemetery at Plymouth.

MRS. EMIL NUOTTILA

Funeral services for Mrs. Emil Nuottila, a former Northville resident, were held earlier this month in Calumet. Mrs. Nuottila, 61, died November 12 in Calumet Hospital.

Survivors include her husband, Emil, of Calumet; a daughter, Mrs. Ronald (Sally) Rutledge, of Whitmore Lake, and two sons, William, of Northville, and Roger, South Lyon.

MRS. JENNIE EDWARDS

Funeral services were held November 19 for Mrs. Jennie Edwards, Highland Park, who died November 16 at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Born January 14, 1889, in Homer to Sarah (Gordon) and Joseph Martin, she was 80 years old.

Mrs. Edwards, a retired school teacher, was a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Detroit, American Association of University Women, Eastern Star, North Woodward Loyalty 427 and the Darcus Circle of the Westminster Church.

Surviving Mrs. Edwards are a sister, Mrs. Cora Reed, Albion; two brothers, Milo Henshaw, DeKalb, Illinois; and Russell Henshaw, Frankfort, Kentucky; and two nieces, Mrs. Marcia Frid, 374 North Rogers Street; and Miss Carol Ann Sparling, Fraser.

Preceding her in death were two sisters, Dr. Irene Sparling, Northville; and Mrs. Bessie Henshaw, Albion.

Funeral services were conducted at Casterline Funeral Home, with Reverend George R. Street, Westminster Church, officiating.

Burial was at Fairview Cemetery, Homer.

Team's A Dream

Wed.-Thurs., November 26-27, 1969

Blessed with speed and power, poising a strong passing threat and bolstered by some rugged defensive specialists, the First Annual Sliger Newspapers' Football Selections assumes dream-team qualities despite average-to-mediocre seasons by most area schools.

And Coach Bob Keezer's South Lyon Lions were chosen the 1969 Team-of-the-Year on the merits of their 6-3 record in the rugged Southeastern Conference.

The Lions, appropriately, dominated the 16-man area squad with five selections including Quarterback Dave Brandon, the only consensus choice. Brandon, a senior at 6-3 and 210, was named to the first unit of the Class B All-State team announced last week by the Associated Press and he has also received numerous other post-season honors.

The Northville Mustangs and Novi Wildcats each had four players selected while the Brighton Bulldogs had three. The Mustangs as a team posted the second-best mark (3-5) while the Wildcats were 2-6 and the Bulldogs 1-7. The combined record of the four area schools was 12-21.

Recommended either by their coaches or Sliger Newspaper staff members who covered their teams, the selections were decided on the basis of individual merit resulting in three ends and three tackles being chosen plus three defensive specialists.

Joining Brandon in the backfield is Mustang Dave Coe along with Tom Boyer and John Davey, both of Novi.

Ends chosen are Bernie Bach and Fred Holdsworth, of Northville, and South Lyons' Dave Perkins with Lions Tim Cash and Glenn Wiseman and Brighton's Marv Tyler. Wildcat Tom VanWagner and Tom Bowditch, of Brighton, are guards on the honor team while Mustang Brian Myers was named as center.

Brighton's Skip Pless and Rick Hill, of Novi - both linebackers - were chosen as defensive specialists along with Lion Dave Willacker.

Bach, Boyer, Wiseman and VanWagner are juniors with the remainder of the selections all seniors.

With Brandon having the speed and power to run the quarterback option, to rollout and to pass, the selections immediately inherit a strong offensive threat which is strenghtened by the speed of Coe and Boyer to the outside and the power of Davey running inside.

Boyer played quarterback for Coach John Osborne's Wildcats but his ability to run the rollout established him as one of the area's finest backs. Davey, gaining a reputation for his ability to gain yards crashing off tackle, while Holdsworth was a master on longer patterns.

Cash and Wiseman are the two biggest members of the team weighing 230 each without sacrificing the quickness necessary to lead the offensive charges. Tyler played at 203-pounds and was tagged as "the best offensive lineman I've seen" by Bulldog Coach Keith Anderson.

Bowditch (175) was often called upon to pull from his guard slot to lead plays around end while VanWagner (170) was a leader in the line for the

1-Card of Thanks
I wish to thank everyone for the many inquiries, visits, cards and gifts during my stay in the hospital and after returning home. Each remembrance was greatly appreciated.
John Lakvoid H-48

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our relatives, friends & neighbors for their many acts of kindness & the beautiful flowers, cards and prayers at the loss of our loved one. Special thanks to Rev. Glenn & Rev. Smith for their comforting words, to the Brighton Lodge No. 247 F. & A.M., The General Motors Proving Ground for use of car and driver - The Dorcas Circle for the lovely lunch and to the Keene Funeral Home.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my wonderful neighbors and friends, for their acts of kindness, the beautiful flowers, cards and the food during my time of sorrow. Special thanks to Rev. Mitchinson for his comforting words, to the Lyon Township Fire Dept. for their quick response, Ladies of the New Hudson Methodist Church for the lovely dinner and to Mr. Richard Phillips for his thoughtful consideration.
Thank you Mrs. Beryl Pettengill H-48

3-Real Estate
I wish to express my sincere thanks to my neighbors, friends & relatives for all the prayers, cards, gifts & flowers I received while in the hospital. Also for the many kindnesses shown to my husband & me since I have been home recuperating. God bless all of you.
Mrs. Mervin Greener

I would like to thank all those who remembered me with cards, prayers and many acts of kindness during my stay in the hospital. A special thank you to Rev. Mitchinson for his many trips and kind words of encouragement.
Thank you Mrs. Anne Wallace H-48

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

It wasn't announced til later, but there they were — 103,588 jumping people jammed into Michigan Stadium — the largest crowd ever to witness a football game.

This was the traditional clash between Michigan and Ohio State, which is pulling power enough. But Saturday's game was more than just the clash of arch rivals in a premiere Big Ten game.

The mighty Buckeyes were coming to town, a team touted as the best in the nation in 1969, if not all time. Buckeye fans, the most avid in the country, were out in force. The end zone was saturated with them as they waved red and grey pom-poms and shouted vociferously.

It was kickoff time. Everybody waited for the teams to come out of the tunnel and for the ball game to get underway. Enough of this pre-game hoopla. Let's get to the head knocking.

Still no teams.

Finally, from a plywood booth on the second deck of the Michigan press section across the field, a man motioned for the teams to come out. The huge television camera in the same booth was pointed directly at the tunnel, was ready. The show could begin.

And quite a show it was with the Michigan Wolverines upstaging the No. 1 ranked Buckeyes by beating them at their own game. Nothing flucky about this one. It was just a question of a superior team prevailing, 24-12. The Buckeyes were outplayed in every phase of the game.

There was a flaw in the otherwise perfect day, however. The intrusion of television probably didn't alter the outcome one wit. Nothing short of Wolverine genocide would have accomplished that.

But it might have and this is the irritating fact.

The beginning of the game was signaled by television. Time outs were called or extended to accommodate TV throughout the game.

Michigan stopped an OSU drive and took over on the 20. Time out for a TV commercial. Both teams stood around, waiting to get on with the game. The fans waited anxiously. Finally, play resumed.

Irritating? You bet, although the victory wiped out all unpleasant thoughts — almost.

As Bo Schembechler said, this was an emotionally charged game. A substantial part of victory is momentum, that emotional ride on the wings of enthusiasm. It flits back and forth like a fickle mistress who is normally influenced by little things — like timeouts at the right or wrong time.

Everybody knows, for instance, that a timeout may put the damper on what seems to be an unstoppable tide. Fortunately the TV timeouts had little effect on Saturday's game. Michigan was that determined.

But what if...

Parochial School Ties Disclosed

LANSING — When Ira Polley was forced to resign as state superintendent of public instruction this fall, he said he had been forced out by a "parochial bloc" on the board.

While most observers close to the scene agreed with Polley's analysis of the situation, there was really no one thing they could put their finger on to demonstrate this to the public.

Then someone decided to check to see where the five board members who forced Polley out send their own children to school.

It turned out four of them send all of their school age children to parochial schools. The fifth, James O'Neil, sent one of his children to a parochial school for one year but the student didn't like it and went back to public school.

THE FIVE BOARD members maintained their denial that their close ties to parochial schools affected their actions on the board.

"Having children in parochial schools does not affect the decisions I make on the state board," said board member Edwin Novak of Flint.

But the disclosure opened up a new round of criticism of the beleaguered board, which can't seem to keep itself out of the public eye.

The Executive Secretary of the Michigan Education Association, Terry Herndon, said, "We MEA leaders have long believed that a large measure of Dr. Polley's difficulty resulted from the fact that he would not support the diversion of public monies into private school coffers."

ONE OF THE BOARD'S creators, State Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, was more outspoken.

Wildcats despite being a junior.

Myers (180) worked as a guard for had several 100-yard-plus games rushing for Novi while Coe, a speedy 155-pounder, was a workhorse for the Mustangs regularly busting tackles against bigger rivals in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Perkins, a 195-pounder, was also chosen as the Lions' outstanding lineman serving as a popular target for Brandon's aeriels and a key blocker for runs on his end. Bach (190) and Holdsworth (170) operated from tight end and flanker, respectively, with Bach particularly effective on the receiving end of passes over the middle the Mustangs but has had experience at center and won praise throughout the season for his efforts within the interior line.

Pless (140) and Hill (190) were both outstanding as linebackers throughout the season oftentimes coming up with the big play and regularly claim honors in solo tackles and assists. Willacker was a hawk as a defensive halfback claiming an unusually high number of interceptions while also coming up fast numerous times to halt end runs.

Each selection will receive a medal to commemorate the honor while the team trophy will be presented to Keezer and his squad at a special assembly.

The Sliger Newspapers include the Northville Record, Novi News, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus with the selections made from the high schools in those communities.

Here's Financial Tips for Retirees

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — The following comments are aimed toward the individual on the threshold of retirement but not adequately prepared for it. Upon retirement one is naturally confronted with numerous changes which are destined to alter seriously a heretofore normal daily routine. These alterations can be either physical or psychological, but they represent a series of burdensome challenges to those who have neglected to plan carefully for the day when withdrawal from active business or professional endeavor becomes a reality.

The major financial requirement for comfortable retirement is, naturally, a dependable income, sizable enough to maintain a living standard consistent with that to which one is accustomed. As regards the source, retirement income can be conveniently divided into two types: (1) Non-portfolio revenues, and (2) funds derived from interest and/or dividends; i.e., portfolio income.

SOCIAL SECURITY benefits, pension income, annuity allotments, rental income, and the like would fall under the first (non-portfolio) classification. Essentially it is that income which will be in some fixed, predetermined form, to be received in periodic instalments, rental income, and the like would fall under the first (non-portfolio) classification. Essentially it is that income which will be in some fixed, predetermined form, to be received in periodic instalments. Accurate advance measurement of this type of income will considerably ease the complexities of drawing up a workable retirement budget. Several other possibilities could perhaps be exploited in an effort to buttress your income structure. For example, apartment living might conceivably enable you to rent your home at an attractive rate, or the purchase of a duplex home could serve the same purpose. If you are the owner of industrial/commercial property, machinery, or equipment, investigate the feasibility of renting or leasing such holdings, thereby putting idle assets to work advantageously.

AS TO THE MATTER of the investment portfolio, preservation of principal must be a mandatory objective, followed closely by as good a yield as can safely be obtained. We view the safety factor as being the overriding consideration, because being unemployed the individual is no longer capable of recovering security losses by investing additional funds from non-existent salary or wages. Hence, the only way to recoup losses would involve market speculation — a risky procedure which few retirees can afford to undertake. Thus, adoption of the safety-income objective at the outset of retirement is essential.

With these ideas in mind, we recommend that approximately half of one's portfolio be invested so as to provide an assured income. Savings deposits and high quality corporate bonds and preferreds would be appropriate income producers. Examples include Beneficial Finance Deb 5s 1977, exaco S F Deb 5 3/4s 199 and Uniroyal 8% Non-cumulative Pfd. One could also include some convertible preferreds such as Gamble Skogmo $1.75 Conv. Pfd., or Amerace-Esna $2.60 Conv. Pfd. Not only do these convertibles offer attractive yields, but they also give the holder an opportunity for capital gain.

DESPITE the higher yield on most bonds and preferreds as compared with common stocks, strong equities should continue to provide a defense against a continuing inflationary trend (which quietly erodes principal). Accordingly, a reasonable amount in common stocks seems justified. But, the common stocks selected for purchase should be beyond reproach in terms of quality. We have in mind such issues as CPC International, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Union Carbide, Norfolk & Western, etc.

Common stock yields while having improved somewhat this year (largely because of price declines) are still quite low. If, however, stock prices declined further, thereby uplifting yields, then part of the funds in fixed income assets could be switched into additional common stocks.

Essentially, we advocate a strategy of "revolving flexibility," which constantly seeks good returns, income wise.

The Brevity of Life

Pastor Geo. Tiefel Jr.
Immanuel Ev. Luth. Church

There is a play called "The Time of Your Life," which is currently being revived. Its message is so up-to-date, that it is hard to believe it was first performed thirty years ago. "In the time of your life, live." In other words, do your own thing now. Tomorrow is uncertain. (Time Magazine 11-14-69, p.57)

A cardiac arrest (to use the spooky jargon of medics) can end it all. Death awaits a percentage of us on the public highways. Day follows day with accelerating tempo. Sooner or later even the sluggard perceives that he has thrown the time of his life away. Did you do the things that were really important for you to do, before it was too late?

Some old-time Roman pagan ways also understood the brevity of life and opportunity. "Carpe diem," he said - Seize on the day! But the holy scriptures have put it best: "As for man, his days are like grass; he flourishes like a flower of the field; for the wind passes over it, and it is gone, and its place knows it no more" (Psalm 103). "My days are like an evening shadow; I wither away like grass" (Psalm 102). "Our days on earth are a shadow" (Job 8) "My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle" (Job 7). "Our years come to an end like a sigh... they are soon gone, and we fly away... So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom" (Psalm 90).

We Christians remind ourselves of this, and bear witness to friends and neighbors, including you, dear Reader: there is one thing needful, above all others, to get done during the brief and uncertain span of years allotted to you here. Know your Creator and find his love. "God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them" (2 Corinthians 5).

That is the truth to know and believe, and toward which to orient your life, before this brief "time of grace" is gone. Do you understand yourself as a redeemed child of God? Do you know the upward call of God in Christ Jesus? (Philippians 3).

WE GATHER TOGETHER

We all went to church this morning. Later as I carved the turkey, Mary and I began to reminisce about our first Thanksgiving in our own home.

It was the year Joe was a baby. Always before we'd gone home to our parents. We set a festive table, and pretended not to be lonely.

And were you?" asked Jane.

Did you pray before you ate?" asked Ruthie.

Of course, they prayed," said Joe importantly. After all, he'd been there. That's what Thanksgiving is all about."

Mary and I smiled at each other remembering how we'd nearly forgotten. We'd bowed our heads together, baby son at our side. Suddenly, the real meaning of Thanksgiving swept over us and we gave thanks for the blessings of the hour.

How grateful we are for the teachings of our church, which through the years has helped us interpret the source of all goodness!
