

City Council Aims Rebuttal at Township Board

Remarks and action last week of the Northville township board concerning commercial rezoning on Seven Mile Road sparked an official rebuttal by the city council this week.

Toned down from early drafts to make it "more positive," the statement reaffirms the city's commitment to support and encourage development within the downtown district and it suggests that the township board is ignoring a mutually agreed upon method of orderly development of the Northville community.

Concerning commercial development, it notes that it was agreed that neighborhood convenience centers of two to six acres would be needed in the township to compliment the major shopping center in the city but that the action of the board in rezoning 13 acres of industrial property on the fringe of the city for commercial development "seems to" disregard this philosophy.

While the statement does not specifically mention the "remarks" the council found objectionable, the spur was the suggestion by Trustee William

Smith and some township citizens that the city's antique-oriented shopping center is a lost cause because it promotes no major shopping development.

The council, through its statement, refutes this suggestion by noting that within the past 60 days private businessmen have prepared plans for four new commercial developments, while five other developers are in the process of completing plans for joining the downtown district.

"Each of these nine groups have considered thoroughly and rejected the current approach now coming into vogue outside our existing city limits."

Furthermore, the council's statement pledges intensified efforts to "promote the planned expansion of the business district."

A draft of the statement was read at Monday's council meeting. But before it received unanimous council approval, it was modified to make it less of a slap at the township and more of an affirmation of the city's policy to allay misgivings generated by township officials.

Mayor A. M. Allen was particularly miffed by the township board action, viewing it as an affront to both city and township residents who have given of their time and money to insure orderly growth of the downtown section for the benefit of the total community.

Other councilmen bristled but guarded their words in hopes of averting a greater split between the two municipal governments

The complete text of the council statement follows:

The future of Northville's traditional shopping area has again become a subject of open discussion. The City Council hereby declares its continuing resolve to finish the work started and supported by so many concerned persons in both the City and Township. We make this statement to avert any concern in the minds of developers, businessmen, and citizens about the future of our growing and healthy central business district which may have resulted from recent Township Board action and statements.

Several years ago, both governments simultaneously prepared Federally financed Comprehensive Master Plans. A number of meetings were held between citizens, the governing bodies, Planning Commissions, and professional consultants of Northville City and Township, during which both jurisdictions agreed on the principle of cooperative and complementary planning for our community, rejecting the usual competitive and self-defeating approaches found in many less far-sighted communities.

Specifically with regard to commercial development, it was agreed that neighborhood convenience centers, of 2 to 6 Acres, would be

Casterline Siren Silenced After 32-Years Service

Casterline Ambulance Service of Northville, last of its kind in this area, will cease operation January 31 after 32 years of continuous service.

Decision to discontinue the service was made by the owner, Fred A. Casterline, who, like many other funeral home director companies, finds the newly enacted state law governing ambulances economically prohibitive.

In view of Casterline's decision, the council Monday weighed alternative emergency measures...see story on Page 7-A

The new law requires rigid specifications for ambulances and related equipment along with first-aid requirements for attendants.

A spokesman for the state health department, who notified Casterline that his license would be suspended upon its expiration February 1 unless he met new state requirements, told The Record Casterline "apparently" meets all requirements except that he does not have a "recent first aid certificate."

The law, he said, requires

Maybury Job Center Gets OK

A federal government plan for a residential work training center at Maybury Sanatorium was given the green light Tuesday as the Detroit Common Council voted to "rent" part of the facility to the government for $1 a year.

Earlier, federal representatives had disclosed plans for the center here, which would involve the training of some 250 young men and women who would live on the Maybury property beginning next spring.

An annual grant of $2 million for a minimum of five years already has been awarded Detroit which is to supervise the program. The "rental" agreement is for five years with five one-year renewal options.

Involving some 140-acres of the 900-acre site, utilization presumably leaves unaffected a 200-acre parcel the City of Northville hopes to purchase for park purposes. Detroit has yet to decide, however, whether it will sell any of the land.

interpret the law as we see it."

For Casterline, the first-aid certificate requirement is the straw that broke the camel's back. It, together with other state and federal requirements which necessitated investment of additional thousands of dollars in an already unprofitable ambulance service, created just too many headaches to continue. "I've been bothered about this for weeks," he said, "and it reached a point where my doctor simply advised me to give it up to protect my health."

It's a case of being legislated out of business, he observed, and its forcing companies out of the business all over the state.

Ambulance services in Plymouth and Livonia discontinued earlier, leaving Casterline to service Northville, Plymouth, Salem, Livonia, Farmington, Novi, and Walled Lake.

City's Gift: Free Parking

Northville City Council has decided to play Santa Claus again this year, offering free parking for holiday shoppers.

Beginning immediately and extending through January 1, motorists may disregard parking meters in the city without fear of receiving a policeman's ticket.

In announcing the holiday free parking policy, the council emphasized that the temporary order is for the benefit of holiday shoppers — not employees who may be tempted to park in front of their places of business.

1970 Racing Dates Trigger Criticism By Track Managers

Although Northville Downs was given the greatest number of racing dates in its history during 1970, the executive managers of the Downs and the Jackson Trotting Association voiced strong disapproval this week.

Reaction followed on the heels of Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley's announcement Monday of 1970 racing dates for Michigan standardbred (harness) tracks.

The Downs regular summer meet was pegged at 54 nights — the same as this year — from Wednesday, June 3 through Tuesday, August 4.

While these dates appeared acceptable to the Downs' executive manager, John Carlo, he and Jackson manager Slavin were "very disappointed" with the commissioner's establishment of 40 qualified nights of Jackson racing at the Downs next year.

The 1970 Jackson-at-the-Downs dates were set from Thursday, October 15 through Saturday, December 19. While the 40-nights meet represents an increase of 10 days over the current meet, Slavin and Carlo found fault with Shirley's decision to prohibit racing during the 1970 winter meet on all Mondays in October, on Mondays and Tuesdays and Thanksgiving in November, and on Mondays and Tuesdays in December.

"I can't understand his (Shirley's) attitude," said Slavin. "People just don't remember that there's no racing on certain days of the week or month. We're trying to be competitive with Windsor Raceway, but his kind of thing forces Detroit and other Michigan fans to Canada. There's just no reason for it."

"Frankly, I was shocked when the commissioner's office called with the dates," said Slavin, who had hoped as did horsemen that the current racing dates would be extended into January as part of the 1970 winter racing meet.

Shirley met with horsemen at the Downs for several hours Friday night, listening to their pleas for extending the current season. They left the meeting, a spokesman said, optimistic that some January dates were likely. Basically, they argued that with the Downs facilities already in operation and with horses and horsemen already on hand here it would be logical to extend racing.

"I'll tell you one thing," said Slavin, "the horsemen aren't going to be very happy. They'll have to pack up and start all over again next year."

Carlo found the 1970 winter dates "a little ridiculous."

The additional 10 nights of racing for the 1970 winter meet here was expected, said Slavin, but the limitations were totally unexpected "and very disappointing."

Slavin also had reservations with Shirley's decision to move Jackson's fall meet in Jackson to spring. This 30-night meet will be from Monday, April 27 through Saturday, May 30.

In view of the open facilities at Jackson, said Shirley, this spring meet should be more suitable. It should benefit "both the public and the horsemen," he said.

However, Slavin said it may create a scheduling problem at the Jackson track. "We lease the facilities," explained Slavin, "and the owners schedule other activities there the rest of the year." They were expecting another fall meet and have made other commitments for spring, he said. "I don't know if we can work out something now."

Harness racing dates at other tracks in 1970 include:

Wolverine — 60 nights, from Wednesday, August 5 through Tuesday, October 13.

Hazel Park — 61 nights, Monday, March 23 through Tuesday, June 2, with no racing slated on Good Friday.

Shopping Center's Still Alive - Levitt

The request of Levitt & Sons for commercial rezoning on Seven Mile Road stands firm this week despite action of the Northville Township Board in approving commercial zoning for a nearby Seven Mile development.

A spokesman for Levitt told The Record Monday that the board's action does not affect the company's request to rezone 13 acres of land on the north side of Seven Mile Road, located several hundred feet east of the proposed Oldford development that received the board's green light.

Meanwhile, Leonard Kline, chairman of the township planning commission which is currently weighing Levitt's request, indicated that the commission will continue its deliberation and make its recommendation on the Levitt request at its December 30 meeting. The public hearing on this request has already been held.

Planning Consultant George Vilcan, although expressing disappointment with the board's 4-3 decision to rezone 13 acres of the Oldford property for commercial development, saw no reason why the planning commission should now scuttle further consideration of the Levitt request. If the Levitt request is approved, he said, it means the two developments simply would have to compete for business to survive. "I'm not against giving anyone the opportunity to go bankrupt," he said.

Levitt's spokesman said the company was surprised by the board's action but had considered the possibility. Levitt, he said, still sees its

Yogurt: An Oasis For Calorie Buffs

Just in time for holiday entertaining comes a new product to use in dips and other appetizers, salads and desserts. It's Yubi yogurt-and it's low calorie, having one-third the calories of sour cream.

Named after an oasis in the Sahara Desert, in the area where yogurt was born thousands of years ago, the Yubi yogurt is being produced by the Kroger Company in Livonia and is available at the Northville supermarket.

Called a "first cousin to cottage cheese and buttermilk," the yogurt has a creamy consistency and easily keeps a week or more in the refrigerator. Yubi yogurt is a new process developed by Dr. Robert H. Williams, a food chemist, Kroger announces.

In addition to vanilla and plain, it comes in seven fruit flavors to use as dessert. Half an eight-ounce cup makes a 124-calorie dessert.

From the new yogurt recipe book, here's a quick dip that has been tested by the Northville Record Women's Department:

Junior Miss Performs Before Crowd of 450

Northville's 1969-70 Junior Miss Deniece Bidwell competed with 25 other local pageant winners before a panel of five judges in the Metropolitan Regional Junior Miss Pageant held in Holly Saturday night.

Although Deniece was not chosen as a state finalist, Northville Jaycees report that the red-haired 17-year-old did "an excellent job" before a crowd of 450 people. For her performing arts portion of the program she did a tap dance routine to the tune of "The Continental." During the poise and appearance portion, she appeared in a jewel gown velvet formal that drew warm applause from the audience.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bidwell, 9650 Chubb Road, Deniece will appear in many local activities, including reigning over the 1970 Fourth of July parade and the crowning of her successor next fall.

She plans to enter Eastern Michigan University next fall to study elementary education. She will be assisted by a four-year scholarship provided by the local Jaycees in cooperation with the university.

Judges who selected 12 state finalists who will compete in the state pageant to be held in Pontiac in

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

GREENS ARE Hung and the punch bowl is filled as our town's residents offer Christmas-season hospitality.

There's a special reason for the tea being given this afternoon by Mrs. Raymond Green at her home on Pickford. It's a "thank you" to women of the community who have contributed and, in some cases, helped deliver clothing to the Sumpter Used Clothing Center.

Mrs. Green discovered the center, located in the southwest corner of Wayne County, on a teaching assignment in that area. As a public health nurse helping organize expectant parents' classes, she found the center had been started by people of the community. The need for clothing was so great, she explains, that she enlisted help of her Northville neighbors and friends.

This morning Mrs. E. V. Ellison and Mrs. Raymond Stillson are co-hostesses for a Christmas coffee at the former's home on Dunlap street. Invitations went out to 75 friends.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Richard T. Martin entertained at a holiday coffee that has become an annual event. The Martins are expecting their son, Frank, this Saturday. He is a sophomore at Reed College in Portland, Oregon.

At Thanksgiving the Martins visited their other son, Richard, and his bride at their apartment in San Antonio. He is stationed at the Lackland Air Force Base.

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Atchison are holding holiday open house this Sunday evening at their home on South Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shelly, new residents of Northville who moved into their Pickford road home in Shadbrook the first part of August, are having open house for friends this Saturday evening. Then they are hosting an open house for neighbors on January 3.

"We like it here so much that we wanted to entertain," explains Mrs. Shelly.

The Norman Faustyns of Pickford Court entertained their Shadbrook neighbors and friends at a cocktail party last Sunday evening.

Among the first to entertain were the William Farringtons who invited friends from Grosse Pointe, Birmingham and Dearborn as well as Northville neighbors for a buffet at their home on Laramie December 5.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weiss invited a group of friends who play bridge together often for a Christmas dinner party last Saturday.

The holiday brunch given by Mrs. Leonard Klein December 4 at her home on Fermanaugh introduced Northville friends to her houseguest, Mrs. Sam Draper of Del Rio, Texas. Mrs. Draper left Saturday for home after a two-week visit. Last year she toured Europe with Mrs. Klein.

Mrs. Robert Crane, who moved into the former Woodhill Road home of the John Pappins earlier this year, entertained last Wednesday at a Christmas coffee for neighbors and friends.

Other Taft Colony residents, the Howard Kennedys, are inviting neighbors and friends in the Saturday after Christmas.

A YULE ART show will be held at Our Lady of Victory church from 3 to 5 p.m. this Sunday.

Eighty-five pictures-both portraits and scenes-by Mose Edward McKinley, an inner city artist and employee of Detroit General Hospital, will be displayed.

Mrs. Eugene Kampmann, who is in charge of arrangements, thinks his work is "terrific" and is hoping many will drop in to see

THE JOYS OF Christmas, annual holiday tea and program of Northville Woman's Club being held at 1:30 p.m. this Friday at Northville Presbyterian Church, traditionally honors new members who have joined the organization during the past year.

This year--the club's 77th--there are 10. They are Mrs. Douglas Bolton, Mrs. Frederick K. Bentley, Mrs. Thomas Fagan, Mrs. William F. Fuertges, Mrs. Timothy Eis, Mrs. Clifton Church, Mrs. Earle McIntosh, Jr., Mrs. Robert Kucher, Mrs. Arthur Lee and Mrs. C. T. Coppett.

Those attending will be welcomed by Mrs. Blake Couse, president, and, presented with corsages by Mrs. Leonard Klein, vice-president. Mrs. H. A. Boyden is membership chairman.

The program under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Jerome will be "A Child Is Born," a drama written for radio by Stephen Vincent Benet during World War II.

It is being presented by the Youth Fellowship of Northville Presbyterian Church and also will be done at the 11 a.m. service Sunday at the church.

Mrs. George Weiss is directing the story, described as "simply and poetically, a world that waits for the Christ child and affirms Christ's advent into daily existence."

Mrs. Jerome is in charge of music with instrumentation by David Sprunk. The Reverend Timothy Johnson has directed the set-making.

Roles are being taken by Elma Sarto, who plays the innkeeper's wife; Scott Evans, the innkeeper; James Penn, Dismas; Kay McElroy and Debbie Myers, servant girls. Musicians are Bob Shafer, string bass; Sarah Horner, oboe; Lisa Armstrong, guitar; and Mrs. Sprunk, piano and reed pipe.

He and Miss Horner are composers of two songs, written for the Northville production. His is "There Shall Be Born a Child" while the "Shepherd's Carol" is by Sarah, a Northville High sophomore.

Greenfield Village Wraps History in Holiday Ribbons

Skilled craftsmen recall the ways our ancestors prepared for Christmas during the special "Crafts at Christmas" exhibit which opened last Friday in the Henry Ford Museum.

The potter, the baker, the candlestick maker, plus the pewterer and several other working craftsmen, will present a wide variety of holiday activities for visitors this season. The exhibit will continue daily through the end of the year, except on Christmas Day.

Children and their parents can see the potter handcrafting candle holders for the bayberry candles made in old molds in the candle shop. The pewterer will be fashioning toy soldiers while glassblowers will create colored glass tree ornaments. The items may be purchased.

Eleven homes and buildings in Greenfield Village also are specially decorated this year. Others are open to look in or to go in. Sleigh or carriage rides — depending on snowfall — take visitors back to the village gate after a refreshment stop at historic Clinton Inn.

The non-profit educational institution has announced that the Crafts at Christmas exhibit is to be an annual one in the museum's avenue of shops.

A total of 14 crafts will be on display this year to recall an era when almost all Christmas gifts and decorations were made in the home.

The museum is demonstrating arts "that have all but disappeared from the American scene" as the baker uses, not mixes, but a 19th century cookie recipe. The printer will print a Christmas scene on the museum's hand press.

In the village, authentic greens and ornaments are used. One of the most-visited houses is the stately Webster House, in which Noah Webster compiled his famed dictionary. Green laurels mixed with pine form doorway swags; cedar and bittersweet berries are twined on the bannister rail; and wreaths with holly branches hang above the Webster portraits.

Troop 361 'Adopts' A Friend

In addition to making Christmas gifts for their mothers and for area institutions, Northville Girl Scouts have started a variety of special projects this month.

"Adopt a Friend" is the new activity of Junior Troop 361. The girls have adopted a 10-year-old girl named Katherine at the Plymouth State Home. Other troops are being invited to participate in this activity.

Troop 361, led by Mrs. Dave Bery, plans to make and buy clothes and Christmas gifts for Katherine and will have many projects for her in the future. Names of children who have no family may be obtained by calling the home, GL 3-1500 and asking for Mrs. Marilyn Butcher.

The troop also has been practicing two plays, "No Room in the Inn" and "Christmas House," which will be presented for mothers at a Christmas party this Friday. Refreshments will follow the performance.

Handmade gifts will be exchanged by Girl Scouts of Junior Troop 573 at their Christmas party this Friday at Cooke Junior High. The troop is planning to join two others in a roller skating party in Brighton December 29. A camping trip is scheduled for the end of February.

Candlemaking was one of the holiday projects of girls in Junior Troop 331. The scouts have been making presents for their parents. They plan to go caroling and will have a hot chocolate treat afterward.

Junior Troop 562 is to go caroling in Northville today. Both Troop 562 and Troop 336 will participate in the roller skating outing December 29 at Lakeside Rink in Brighton.

Cadette Troop 371 plans to carol at Plymouth State Home. The scouts also hope to sing for Northville shut-ins. With troop 407 they plan a camping outing for this weekend. Troop 371 has been making Christmas wreaths to sell locally to raise troop funds.

Senior Scouts of Troop 222 are entertaining their sponsors, the VFW Auxiliary, at a Christmas tea where they are making holiday favors for the Veterans' Hospital.

Each month two girls of the troop attend the senior planning board meetings in Ann Arbor, meeting with other council representatives to exchange ideas. The seniors also are publishing a monthly Northville Girl Scout newsletter.

'Freedom's Challenge'

Winners Named In VFW Contest

Winners of the local and district Voice of Democracy contest were announced this week by the sponsoring Northville VFW Post 4012.

The annual program, now in its 23rd year, is open to all youngsters in grades 10 through 12. Contestants must write and present an original three-to-five minute statement on "Freedom's Challenge."

Following local high school competition, winners compete at the district, state and finally national level for a grand prize $5,000 college scholarship.

The Northville program, which was under the co-chairmanship this year of Mrs. Ray Paquin and Walter Sousa, included two high school contests—at Northville high school and at Ladywood high school.

The local VFW post, which has always been a leading promoter of the Voice of Democracy contest, actually puts up bigger prizes for the area high school winners than is paid at the district level.

Northville and Ladywood winners will receive a $500 savings bond for first place, and $100 and $25 savings bonds for second and third.

In March of Dimes Contest Local Girl Named Finalist

Miss Barbara Fagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fagan, 46120 Fonner Court East, has been selected as a finalist in the 1970 Miss Wayne County March of Dimes contest.

As Miss Northville she is representing the community in the annual competition for the county title. Winner of the Miss Wayne County March of Dimes title will be determined by the number of 10-cent votes collected by the respective contestants representing 22 Wayne County communities during the month of December.

John Steimeil, Northville postmaster who heads the annual March of Dimes campaign locally, said Monday that he and his son, Jon, who heads the junior division campaign at the high school, will plan a canister collection this month to try to garner the largest collection for Miss Northville.

Miss Fagan is a 1968 graduate of Northville High School. She attended Ferris State College and now is working in Detroit at the Robert Hund Advertising Agency.

The annual March of Dimes campaign, whose goal is the elimination of birth defects, will take place during the month of January, with the Miss Wayne County March of Dimes queen reigning over special events.

The campaign kick-off dinner last Wednesday was attended by Miss Fagan and Stempel.

Who's to Make What Decisions?

I think the time has come when the roles of the City of Novi Council and City Manager Barney Zonkers should be examined closely and objectively in order for both to act in the best interest of this community.

Zonkers, having assumed his duties here November 3, is in the process of acquainting himself with the city and the council and the council is developing its working relationship with the new administrator.

And now so that everybody may live happily-ever-after and the city may prosper, I feel some thought should be given to where the council's authority leaves off and that of the city manager picks up...and this will require a little objective self-analysis.

First, to fully appreciate our situation you must realize where we've been and where we're going.

Not so long ago when ours was the Village of Novi instead, councilmen had to make numerous administrative decisions for different departments because it wasn't economically feasible to hire administrators to serve in these areas. Hence, a councilman remembers when he decided who drives what truck and where he drives it. That's where we've been.

But now city government has become considerably more complex and there are more day-to-day decisions which, if delayed, can only become more troublesome.

And so city governments created city managers proposing that a person prepare himself in the complexities of the process and direct the day-to-day municipal operations under policies established by the council.

That's where we're at.

This council was impressed enough with Zonkers' credentials to hire him and now it must be confident enough to allow him room to work. Certain decisions which councilmen "have always handled" now must be re-examined and it must be decided whether they are legislative or administrative matters.

A city manager must know his realm of responsibility — he must know which decisions are his to make and which decisions are not. And a council, which has the right to define a manager's authority, must reduce as many things to black-and-white as possible: it must act to define the manager's authority so that an administrator knows the role he must assume and so that he can be judged either on what he does or doesn't do within that realm of responsibility; not on what he doesn't do because of a failure to understand his own authority.

Shines Over Farmlands

Huge Wreath Creates Special Setting

In the stillness of a chilly winter night it seemingly joins with a smug of a moon in singing a duet of silence.

It conveys a message where words would fail and at first sight, it's unreal. And then very real and overwhelming.

"I just wanted something like that and couldn't buy one so I built one," local contractor Paul Bosco, a partner in B & V Construction Company at 25301 Novi Road, explains. "I'd seen them downtown at Hudson's and places like that but I couldn't find anyplace to buy one."

So Bosco simply decided to build a huge Christmas wreath himself for display during the holiday season on the large barn at his attractive farm residence on Beck Road at Eleven Mile Road.

The wreath, created on framework in the shop at his Novi Road construction headquarters, measures "about 30 feet" across and is serving in its second season of shining over farmlands to greet passers-by during the holidays.

Originally Bosco had intended to hang the wreath on the broadside of the barn only to discover that it was too large. So then last season it took a crew of eight men considerable time and patience to hang it on the north end while this year it was more easily erected by employing a tow rope from a door near the roofline.

Red lights are mingled within the green trim and a large bow and candle—made out of metal—adorns the bottom of the ring.

"We've been here five years this month and so this is a special time of year for us in that respect, too," Bosco's wife, Kaye, says. "And that's just something he wanted to do."

"Next year maybe we'll build a manger scene at the foot of the barn to go with the wreath," the housewife adds.

And meanwhile many motorists go a little out of their way to see the large wreath on the big red barn which is a little bit of Christmas in a big way.

Mayor Seeks Huddle

Amendments by the Novi Township board of trustees to Supervisor Leo Kalota's proposed terms of settlement seemingly has jeopardized chances of the plan's acceptance by the City of Novi Council with Mayor Joseph Crupi asking for a "face-to-face" meeting on the lingering division of assets.

The supervisor's informal plan — proposing that the township exchange all of its public assets if the city will assume its financial liabilities, return $1,000 in cash and supply a five-year fire protection contract — was "favorably received" by council men last week Monday but the mayor revealed this Monday that when Supervisor Kalota presented the proposal to his board, it instituted several amendments.

The supervisor was to meet with the township board last week Tuesday — the day after his plan was revealed before councilmen.

According to Mayor Crupi, he learned through a telephone conversation with the supervisor that the township also wants the city to consider providing its officials with office space in the City-Township Hall along with a membership on the authority controlling use of the Community Building and seeking the fire contract provision to be expanded to include an option for renewal.

"In the back of my mind as I heard these additional requests I had the thought to have the council meet face-to-face with the township board to resolve the matter once-and-for all," the mayor explained. "And the basis of what they added, we're right back in the same stall."

City Attorney Howard Bond reported Monday that he and Township Attorney Emery Jacques, Jr. are planning to meet this week in order to resolve payment of bills evolving from township operations. A court order has restricted use of funds by the township board until the division of assets although a provision has been instituted under which the attorneys review certain operational debts for payment now.

Councilman Edwin Presnell then moved that Bond be directed to inform the township that discontinue stipulation of future township bills — apparently until negotiations on a settlement have progressed.

The council divided on Presnell's motion with Councilman William Ducey, Councilman David Harrison and Councilman Donald Young, Jr. opposed.

Council Stands By Vacation Policy

Late winter suddenly became vacation-time for several municipal employees Monday when the City of Novi Council refused to approve more than $1,800 for payment in lieu of vacations while extending the deadline for compliance with a recently-adopted policy from the calendar year to April 1.

Mayor Joseph Crupi brought the matter before the council late in its four-hour session Monday explaining that six employees apparently had decided to take additional pay rather than vacations with the resulting cost totaling $1,820. The mayor reviewed that the council had acted in October establishing a policy which requires all personnel to take earned vacations within the calendar year and which eliminates payment in lieu unless the employee is asked not to take a vacation by his supervisor.

The decision, evolving over a request by Building Inspector Earl Bailey for clarification regarding his absence with leave for Michigan National Guard duty and for vacation, had been drafted to take effect immediately.

Mayor Crupi explained that the provision does not allow "carry-over" vacation days from one year to the next and that it was designed to permit payment in lieu of vacation for skilled personnel when qualified replacements are not available.

City Manager Barney Zonkers, having assumed duties here on November 3 — about one month after the policy was established, informed councilmen Monday that the matter was first brought to his attention "two or three weeks ago and since it was getting pretty late in the year, I approved the requests."

In previous years, employees who didn't take vacations received special compensation at the end of the year. The mayor explained Monday that the former arrangement was a burden to accommodate in budgeting.

"I think the names are important because they should have known better," Mayor Crupi stated in reference to the six requests.

"I feel, perhaps as you have indicated, that they were taking advantage of a new city manager," Councilman Denis Berry explained.

Zonkers explained that several other employees presently are in the process of taking their vacations between now and the end of the calendar year.

Listed amongst the six requesting pay in lieu of vacation was Bailey (for $354), from whose case the policy originally evolved, Dispatcher Larry Fest ($296) and Dispatcher Shirley Yorch ($176), City Assessor Harold Ackley ($240), Police Chief Lee BeGole ($634) and Sergeant Richard Faulkner ($115).

BeGole, who was in the audience when the council began to discuss the issue, explained that because of their knowledge of the city and departmental procedure, dispatchers cannot easily be replaced during vacation periods. He also said that he personally had not requested the additional payment and since he was not interested in taking a vacation, he would "donate" the money to the city.

The council then considered directing Zonkers to determine which personnel could be sacrificed and to order vacation time to be taken before the end of the calendar year before Councilman William Ducey proposed extending the deadline for compliance by three months during the policy's initial year.

"I think we as a council should take some action here because we've got the manager in the soup," Ducey explained.

The councilman proceeded to propose his "compromise plan" which would allow the deadline to be extended and would permit payment in lieu only upon approval of the city manager.

Berry indicated his favor for payment in lieu this year with the new policy to take effect in 1968 and Councilman Edwin Presnell favored either payment of all requests or payment of none.

The mayor, in accordance with Ducey's eventual motion, then proceeded to void the $1,800 in checks before him with the city manager directed to execute the council decision.

Regarding Statement

Principal Asks to Clarify

Claiming that he was misquoted in last Thursday's edition of The News, Novi Junior High School Principal Jack Jordan released the following statement to bus drivers, cooks and teachers within the system and asked that it be published in this newspaper: "Sometimes it happens that a good reporter misses part of a statement when the statement is made. I imagine that is what happened Tuesday night at the Novi School Board meeting.

"Today's Novi News quotes me as stating that I resent 'bus drivers, cooks and teachers contracting (bargaining) for their salaries.' This quotation is inaccurate. What I did do was to express my disappointment with the board for not sitting down and discussing contract terms with administrators as they do with other staff members such as bus drivers, cooks, secretaries and teachers."

Jordan was quoted in this newspaper from last week Tuesday's meeting of the Novi Community Schools' board of education during which he revealed his displeasure with "the lack of communication between the administrators and board members" and asked to be relieved of his principalship. He also stated that he desires to remain in the system as a teacher.

The board received Jordan's written statement at the meeting and immediately adjourned into executive session after which it moved to table the request.

More Guards Sought for Jail

An emergency request for 32 more guards at the Wayne County jail is being studied by the County Board of Supervisors.

Undersheriff William Lucas made the request by letter.

The supervisors law enforcement and public safety committee, meeting December 12, referred the request to a special subcommittee for a recommendation.

"This deserves serious consideration because there is no doubt that we have a crisis at the jail," said Ralph Patrick Turco, of Westland, D-District 25, chairman of the law enforcement and public safety committee. "But we also face the question of how to finance the

Changing Colors

If the legislative appropriations committee give the expected go-ahead, Michigan motor vehicles in 1971 will bear maroon-and-white license plates with the numerals and legend reflectorized with glass beads. This stems from a meeting of legislators and state officials last week at the height of a strong protest by police authorities against Secretary of State James M. Hare's decision to choose the Oakland University colors of light gold-on-white for the 1970 plates.

additional positions."

In his letter, Lucas reported that the jail, designed for 1,200 prisoners, had a prisoner population of 1,658.

The parent committee directed the subcommittee to work with the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, the County Board of Auditors and the Sheriff's office in arriving at a recommendation. The same group is already working on long-range staffing recommendations for the jail.

In addition of Turco and Trapp, Carl D. Pursell of Plymouth is a member of the law enforcement public safety committee. Pursell also serves on the jail subcommittee.

noted from a Department of Public Works' report that the city had transported a load of cold patch to the Novi Senior-Junior High School for use by school maintenance workers in repairing a driveway.

The matter was discussed and it was decided by the council that in the future Zonkers shouldn't permit the loaning of such service unless the city is providing similar services in the same area for itself.

Moments later, in continuing to review the manager's report, the council explained that it welcomed his recommendations on specific items along with his review of certain situations.

One councilman inserted that they preferred Zonkers to assume the role of a lion, rather than a lamb—in effect, to be more aggressive.

Back-to-back, I feel the two incidents show themselves to be glaringly contradictory. At one point the council takes it upon itself to handle a matter that's strictly administrative and then it encourages the manager to make more administrative suggestions.

If a qualified professional administrator hasn't got the authority to decide whether or not a DPW truck is allowed to drop a small load of material at the high school as a favor, then he doesn't have much authority at all. And if I was that administrator and I encountered that type of reception for such minor decision, believe me, in the future I would only handle matters requiring decisions of lesser consequence and refer all others back to the council.

And that's where we've been.

Personally, I don't think there's any doubt amongst councilmen that Zonkers is very capable. But his success or failure is as much dependent upon what he's allowed to do as it is upon what he is capable of doing.

An indefinite role for a city manager can only result in an indefinite city manager and such circumstances can only grow worse if not given some attention.

I regretfully announce that after midnight, January 31, 1970 I will no longer be able to provide ambulance service to Northville and the surrounding area. Due to certain recent changes in laws concerning ambulances it is impossible for me to continue after 32 years of service. We hope everyone understands how much we regret making this decision. Meanwhile, I will do all I can in any way to assure that some kind of ambulance service is provided in the area.

CASTERLINE AMBULANCE SERVICE

Casterline Praised

Ambulance Plans Weighed by Council

In the wake of Fred Casterline's announcement of intentions to cease operation of his ambulance service, the Northville City Council Monday night adopted a statement complimenting the Northville businessman for his long dedication while at the same time assuring city residents that efforts will be made to provide some kind of emergency service substitute.

The statement reads:
"The Northville community owes a debt of gratitude to Fred Casterline, for over 30 years the provider of ambulance service to any of us in need of this help."

"Long after most funeral homes and other ambulance operating establishments had given up this type of financially marginal enterprise, Fred has continued to give the highest level of professional ambulance service most of us have ever seen."

"The city council wishes to assure the citizens of the City of Northville that we will provide an adequate emergency ambulance service to city residents upon retirement of Mr. Casterline from this service. Definitive plans will be announced early in January, 1970. While the service to which we have become accustomed and possibly even taken for granted will be almost impossible to equal, the city government will attempt to meet its citizens' needs in this area of great concern."

Seven alternatives were considered by councilmen Monday, with City Manager Frank Ollendorff recommending a paid volunteer service. Study of this alternative is underway.

"Details of operation must be drawn up with extreme care," the manager said. To make a paid volunteer service plan workable, it necessitates training qualified personnel, solving problems of scheduling, equipment, cost control, and defining limits of responsibility (emergency vs. non-emergency)," he said. The latter also means deciding whether or not to extend the service beyond the city boundaries.

The other alternatives discussed included:

- Contract with a private company, cost of which was seen as prohibitive.

- Hospital-based service, unworkable because no one hospital serves the entire area.

- City full-time service, prohibitive cost-wise.

- Police operated emergency service. Such a method could result in conflicts of jobs and require policemen to leave the city for extended periods, Ollendorff said. Furthermore, he said that police cars make poor ambulances and ambulance wagons make poor patrol vehicles.

- Fire operated service. The drawbacks here, he said, are the same as with a police operated program — and even more difficult because the fire department is a volunteer agency.

- Unpaid volunteer ambulance club, which was seen as the least desirable in terms of service, dependability, efficiency, and training but advantageous because of cost savings.

City Council Rebuts Township Board

needed in various areas of the Township to serve the predicted population explosion. It was further agreed that the city should concentrate on developing the existing traditional shopping center to meet future needs of the total community. At the same time several industrial areas were earmarked by the Township planners. One of the prime planning objectives was the development of a sound tax base for the School District encompassing both government jurisdictions by avoiding an over-saturation of one type of development, in this case commercial.

The recent approval of a speculative strip commercial development adjacent to our city seems to depart from the comprehensive plans previously agreed on. This may not, however, prove harmful to our total community's traditional shopping area due to the inherent strength of that district coupled with the progressive and orderly controlled growth underway through the cooperation of citizens, merchants, civic leaders and local governments.

It is our contention that more sound and desirable commercial development will be attracted to an existing and expanding shopping area centered in the midst of a balanced, carefully planned and growing residential community than to a speculative strip development on the fringe of a subdivision existing only on paper.

This contention is far from being idle speculation during the past six days, for example, private businessmen have prepared plans for four new commercial developments within the boundaries of Northville's existing business community. Five other developers are in the process of completing their plans for joining this district. Each of these nine groups have considered thoroughly and rejected the current approach now coming into vogue outside our existing City limits.

The Northville City Council intends to intensify its efforts to promote the planned expansion of the business district. We do not intend to dwell on past accomplishments. The forthcoming major actions are presented as proof of our determination:

1. Details will be finalized at a special meeting of the Council and the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation (made up of citizens from both jurisdictions) for the early sale of sites for twelve (12) new businesses, presently owned by the City and/or the Development Corporation. Land prices will be set at a level very attractive to prospective developers;

2. Final action on the acquisition and development of a $350,000 project to provide over 300 well-located free parking spaces will be finalized at a January meeting with Northville merchants and business property owners. This will be a joint effort financed in part by the City and in part by private businesses.

3. The recently approved Development Coordinator for the City of Northville is tentatively scheduled to begin work on January 5 under a contractual arrangement assuring the City of Northville of high-quality professional commercial development guidance.

We assume that the majority position of the Township Board is varying from its comprehensive plan was carefully thought out in terms of its affect on the tax base of our schools. The largest single tax source for our schools is our central business district. All concerned officials owe it to our taxpayers to do everything possible to upgrade this area.

These steps that we have taken and will pursue vigorously reiterate our commitment to carry out the intent of the Township and City Master Plans as originally conceived and agreed.

development as the major center and would welcome Oldford's shopping competition.

Vilican said he found the board's decision concerning Oldford especially disappointing because of the major safety hazard it posed since it is located near the C&O Railroad crossing and the Seven Mile-Northville Road intersection.

Reacting to the board's decision reversing the planners' recommendation that the Oldford request be denied, Kline emphasized, "we're just a recommending body. It's the township board that must answer to the voters, not us." He noted that in the five years that he has served on the commission the board has only twice overruled the recommendation of the planners.

Agreement Reached On Well Site Sale

Sale of a little more than half of the 4.9-acre city-owned well site on Novi Road is assured, with both neighboring residents and city officials reaching a mutually satisfactory agreement Monday night.

Specifically, the city will offer for sale to the highest bidder that portion of the property on the east side of the stream and a small triangular piece of land on the west side of the stream.

This plan means about two acres of property nearest Village Green Subdivision homes will be retained for open space or park purposes. Paul Vernon, president of the subdivision association, found the compromise plan satisfactory. He said his organization has never intended to stand in the way of progress, noting that it long ago called for orderly development of the land east of the stream with the remainder being left for play and recreation use by citizens of Northville.

It was agreed that a covenant be placed in the deed prohibiting erection of fencing or barriers around the triangular piece of property on the west side on the stream.

According to City Manager Frank Ollendorff, the property is to be sold for development of an apartment-like complex. He noted that under the ordinance the prospective developer could erect a maximum of 41 one-bedroom units.

Because of the "buildable" area on the property, he explained, the developer would be unable to develop a larger complex even if he were sold a larger part of the site. Thus, councilmen saw no financial loss to the city in retaining two acres and moved to approve sale.

Earlier, when it appeared the city would offer the entire site for sale, representatives of the association appealed to the council to reconsider. Even a petition, containing the signature of some 60 youngsters who urged retention of the land for a play area, was presented to the council.

Some citizens, including Recreation Director Robert Prom, recommended that the entire site be retained for recreational purposes.

In other business Monday, the council adopted a resolution authorizing the application to sell bonds for the blacktopping of Hill and North Center streets, agreed to meet with two property owners along the improved North Center Street in an effort to resolve a landscaping dispute, voted to waive bids in accepting the quotation of $1,234 for printing of city ordinances (the only other quote came from Maxwell Printing, Plymouth, at $1,215), and learned that bids for two replacement police patrol cars are being sought.

Michigan Mirror

Dictionary Hasn't Heard About 'Parochiaid' Yet

LANSING — Quite a few Michigan residents are excited over the issue of state aid to parochial schools.

The touchy issue is one of the most emotionally charged ever to come before a Legislature.

During the December session the state PTA marshalled its forces to the statehouse in an attempt to dissuade wavering lawmakers from voting for the most recent parochiaid proposal.

The women were highly emotional and in a moment of frustration, a senator who favored parochiaid, after attempting to explain his position to them, told them to "go to hell."

Another lawmaker accused the women of "trying to put pressure on me" and walked away from a meeting with them. Many lawmakers, on both sides of the issue, refused to meet with the women at all for fear of emotional outbursts.

ONE THING which seems to have gained little notice in Michigan is the advances parochiaid has made in other states.

In the past two years four of the states of the Union have inaugurated some form of state aid to parochial schools. The four states are Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island.

The Pennsylvania statute was passed in 1968. The other three states passed theirs in 1969.

Both Ohio and Rhode Island authorized the use of state aid to supplement teacher salaries in secular courses taught in non-public schools. This is the method backed by Gov. William G. Milliken. Connecticut and Pennsylvania both authorized the funds for materials as well as nonsectarian teachers.

CONNECTICUT'S legislature appropriated $6 million for parochial schools, with the first payments to be made next Sept. 1.

Rhode Island had the smallest appropriation, $375,000 for the first year. Ohio, on the other hand, appropriated $35 million for the first year.

In Pennsylvania, no specific amount of money was appropriated. Instead, a special fund financed by revenues from state harness racing and horse racing will be used to help the schools.

Pennsylvania's law has been challenged in a suit filed by six religious, civil rights and educational organizations joined by three individuals. A suit is planned against the Connecticut law.

THE WORD "parochiaid" itself, by the way, is a product of the battle in Michigan over state aid to private schools.

You won't find the word in any dictionary and it is unheard of outside Michigan.

It was created several years ago by a group of newsmen mulling over the situation and frustrated by the length of the phrase "state aid to parochial schools," which was a barrier to tight writing.

The newsmen began working out various combinations of phrases which could be made into one word. Suddenly, one of them came up with "parochiaid" and before long the new word had become an accepted part of the language of the state.

IN CASE you've been wondering about it, the federal government spends 40 cents of every $100 it collects financing its tax collection activities.

In comparison to the past, the 40 cents spent last year is one of the more efficient figures, according to a report by Commerce Clearing House in Chicago.

The all time low was 32 cents per $100 in 1944 in the midst of World War II. The all time record for cost came back in 1871, when $5.87 of every $100 or nearly 6 percent of the total collection, went for the expenses involved in collecting money.

Total collections weren't so high then.

As recently as 1932, the revenues dropped nearly $1 billion and the drop was 38 percent of the total collected in the previous year.

A drop of that size today would be little more than one-half of one percent, since the government collected $187.9 billion in taxes last year.

NEBRASKA GOV. Norbert T. Tiemann has announced he'll seek re-election next year.

The only Democrat who has announced against the Republican incumbent is Nebraska Democratic National Committeeman J.J. Exon.

This prompted pundits in that state to refer to what they expect will be a "year long run of The Governor and J. J."

Babson Report

Savings & Loan Industry Recovers After Setback

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS. After weathering a series of setbacks during the mid-1960's, the California Savings & Loan industry has been making a substantial recovery over the past few years. Despite the burdensome tight money situation, the industry seems well positioned to achieve further significant gains over the period ahead. Some easing of interest rates during the course of the new year should allow most of the Savings & Loans companies to register improved earnings again in 1970. More importantly, the pent-up demand for housing should result in continued growth through most of the new decade.

Let's look at the causes of the Savings & Loans running into troubled times in the mid-1960's. First, housing in California became over expanded, and most companies consequently became heavily burdened with foreclosures. This resulted in lower margins as expenses and losses on resales mounted. The credit crunch of 1966 created even greater burdens. Margins came under pressure to an even more marked degree as the interest paid on savings was increased. The industry's liquidity became impaired as savers withdrew funds for investment in other areas at considerably more attractive yields. As a result, housing starts in 1966 reached a 20-year low in California.

In 1967 and 1968 the industry made significant and encouraging progress in recovering from the depressed 1966 showing. By this time the temporary housing surplus was quickly vanishing, and demand for living quarters was once again on the upswing. Foreclosed properties were being liquidated, and at more favorable prices, new foreclosure rates began declining steadily; the interest rate paid on savings was lowered and the industry achieved a far better savings flow. By the end of 1968 earnings for most companies revealed marked betterment over 1966 results.

IN SPITE of tight money, which has resulted in an adverse savings flow during the second half of the current year, most Savings & Loan companies reported a smart gain in per share earnings results both for the third quarter and for the first nine months of 1969. Earnings benefited from a further reduction of foreclosures at favorable prices; re-investment of mortgage payments into higher yielding current loans; and a more flexible posture on the part of the Federal Home Loan Bank. Results for the full year should be well ahead of the level for the same time a year earlier in most instances.

Although the near term is destined to continue clouded until there is at least some easing of interest rates, the long-term outlook definitely favors substantial growth. The current housing shortage, the projected need for a great deal more shelter in the 1970's, increased lending powers in the rapidly growing mobil home field, and new guidelines by the Federal Home Loan Bank — all paint a bright picture for the Savings & Loan industry. A business slowdown (which appears to be slowly emerging), especially coupled with significant progress in concluding the Vietnam conflict, would do much to ease interest rates and clear the path for the S&Ls.

AT CURRENT levels despite the probability further general market weakness, the research staff of Babson Reports recommends aggressive investors purchase at least a few selected issues in the Savings & Loan field. Such common stocks of such organizations can be extremely volatile market performers. As such, they offer opportunities (to those who can afford to take the risk) for substantial market appreciation. As of now, Babson's research department favors the purchase of First Charter Financial (the largest publicly held Savings & Loan holding company) and Gibraltar Financial (which has increased its savings base via recent acquisitions).

Township Opposes Detroit CFS Bid

A suggestion by the Detroit Water Board that additional sewer capacity be given Detroit and western Wayne County properties owned by Detroit has prompted disapproval of the Northville Township Board.

Board members adopted a resolution last week urging county supervisors and the county department of public works to ignore the water board's suggestion and to continue plans calling for the allocation of additional sewer capacity to Oakland County (in Novi) and Northville Township.

Efforts by the DPW departments of Wayne and Oakland counties have been underway for some time in developing a plan whereby Novi and Northville Township could "rent" surplus sewer capacity now owned by the City of Livonia in the Rouge interceptor system.

Livonia has agreed to provide some of its extra capacity and the agreement reportedly is close to approval by the county. The Detroit Water Board's suggestion is seen locally as a disruption of this plan.

Under this plan, Novi would be awarded 10 additional CFS and Northville Township would receive 2 CFS.

If Novi is able to secure additional sewer capacity (it now owns 4 CFS) the Rouge interceptor would be extended from its present terminus in the 10 Mile Road area north to Walled Lake. Such an extension would mean the Grand River pollution problem, for which Novi has been cited by the state, could be resolved.

Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, in noting that the additional CFS would boost the township's total to 4.6, has stated that the proposed addition "should hold us until the new interceptor is built."

Construction of the Hannan Road (Haggerty) east arm of the Rouge interceptor is expected to begin within two years.

Convocation Slated Here

A convocation on home and school education methods will be held Sunday by the World University Roundtable at the Wayne County Child Development Center, according to officials of the university.

The program, open to the public, will begin at 3 p.m. in the Canteen Club of the center which is located at 16000 Sheldon Road.

The university, with its headquarters in Tucson, specializes in instruction of the Montessori method of education.

The Canteen Club is located in the building just west of the Clock Tower. The program will be directed by Dr. Willis B. Hunting, a trustee of the World University.

In Record-Shattering Performance

Tankers Beat Rouge, Remain Undefeated

Breaking a bunch of records which had been established the week before in the school's first meet, the Mustang swim team posted its second consecutive victory Friday by thumping River Rouge, 77-28.

Coach Ben Lauber's tankers broke seven records scoring a first place in every event with Tom Thompson, Ed Zywiec and Marty Tuck winning top honors in two events.

The meet was the last for the Mustangs until January 9 when they resume competition by hosting Clarenceville.

Thompson won both the 200-yard freestyle and the 100-yard backstroke with record performances while Zywiec also established a new mark in the 50-yard freestyle with Tuck breaking the record for the 100-yard backstroke.

Zywiec was also first in the 400-yard freestyle while Tuck also won the 200-yard individual medley. Mark Dixon set a Mustang record in the 100-yard freestyle while the 200-yard medley relay team and the 400-yard freestyle relay team also established new records.

Thompson cut seven seconds off the 200-yard freestyle mark of 2:18.6 set by teammate Dave Wright on January 5. His time of 1:02.6 in the 100-yard backstroke also bettered another record of Wright's by nearly nine seconds.

Zywiec swam the 50-yard freestyle in 25.1 breaking his own mark by seven-tenths of a second while Dixon turned in a 1:00.4 performance in the 100-yard freestyle representing a one-and-six-tenths improvement over his former mark.

Tuck's 1:16.7 performance in the 100-yard breaststroke was two-tenths of a second better than his own previous record.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Gary Putrow, Ralph Luckett, Gary

Allen and Bill Witek set a mark of 2:06.7 while the 400-yard freestyle relay combination of Dave Mitchell, Pete Dulas, Bob Cook and Frank Jones turned in a 4:16.3 performance for another record.

Glynn Simmons remained undefeated in diving and Wright took first place in the 100-yard butterfly.

Griffin Wins Title, Wrestlers Place 3rd

The Mustang wrestlers, led by Sophomore Dave Griffin individual championship at 123 pounds, placed third in the Dexter Invitational held Saturday. Dexter, the host and defending champion, again claimed team honors.

Coach Jack Townsley's grapplers and Jackson Northwest each had 51 points to tie for third in the tourney while Tecumseh was a close second with 96. Dexter had 98 points for first place in the nine-team field.

In other competition, the Mustangs last week Tuesday lost to Farmington, 33-13. The grapplers host neighboring Brighton on Thursday in their last match before a break for the holidays.

The Mustangs also had two second places, two thirds and two fourths at Dexter.

Brian Jones (145) and Randy Marburger (165) won seconds while Kevin Hartshorne (98) and John Fialon (107) placed third. Fourth places were won by Mike Petteys (155) and Rick Lamp (175).

In the meet last week Tuesday at Farmington, Senior Jim Armstrong posted his second consecutive dual meet pin at 137 pounds while teammate Brad Conklin (185) also scored a pin. One-hundred seven pounder John Fialon accounted for the remainder of the Mustangs' points when he won a 4-2 decision.

The grapplers first meet after their holiday recess will be January 9 when they travel to Clarkston.

Cagers Flop in Last Of Frantic Finishes

Frantic finishes in basketball aren't planned nor is there usually more than one per game.

But in a Wayne-Oakland League thriller last Friday featuring a series of frantic finishes, the Mustangs eventually found themselves in a situation which planning ahead couldn't have improved upon.

And then suddenly the final frantic moment came and went and the Mustangs got finished, 67-66, as the aggressive Milford Redskins posted their first victory of the season.

The loss was the second of the week for Coach Bob Kucher's Mustangs, with a total point differential of six, and it evened their record at 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the Wayne-Oakland. Kucher was to send his charges against neighboring Novi this week Tuesday in their last non-league tilt between now and district tournaments.

The lead exchanged hands 10 times during Friday's contest with the score tied at 12 points keeping the crowd of about 800 fans on its feet throughout much of the last period.

Ironically, neither team scored during the final two minutes although both squads maintained an aggressive pace rather than assume control for a final basket.

Cushing, at the line with 1:02 to play, missed both free throws and the Redskins proceeded to control the ball until Bach successfully deflected a pass to Cushing with 41 seconds remaining.

Kucher promptly called timeout, apparently to determine a play which would get the ball to Forward Ron Hubbard, the team's leading scorer, for a final shot.

But then the visitors intercepted a Mustang pass only moments before Bach caused a jump ball with 16 seconds remaining. The Redskins controlled the jump, but, due to a violation in the process, lost the ball to the Mustangs who proceeded to free Hubbard for a short hooker that was missed with Hubbard and Redskin Gary Neighbors tying up on the rebound. Hubbard controlled the tip and eventually received a return pass after which he was fouled with two seconds to play.

Shooting at the line in a one-and-one situation, Hubbard missed the free throw with the buzzer sounding with Milford in possession.

"You couldn't have planned it any better," Kucher observed afterwards. "Probably the best shooter in the school's history and if you ever wanted anybody to be in that situation, it would be Hubbard."

Kirt Scores 22

Little Mustangs Rally, Smash Visiting 'Skins

The Little Mustangs, trailing 10-6 after one period of play, out-scored the visiting Milford Jayvees 51-27 in the last three quarters Friday for a 57-37 victory to break a two-game losing string.

Bob Kirt led Coach Omar Harrison's squad with 20 points and Scott Evans had 11 while Todd Hannert scored eight points and had 18 rebounds.

The Little Mustangs are now 2-2 for the season.

The visiting Redskins on Friday jumped off to a 10-6 lead at the end of the first period but the home team took a 28-22 halftime advantage. The Little Mustangs held their opponents to 15 points in the last half.

Mustang Guard Kurt Suckow (far left) finds himself in heavy traffic during Tuesday's basketball game here against the Wildcats. Also in the same contest, Forward Steve Utley grabs a rebound (center) and Mustang Forward Fred Holdsworth drives for a layup. Holdsworth led the Mustangs with 14 points in their 75-52 victory. Mustangs Rule Neighborhood

Wildcats Slowed By Start

A faltering start and poor ending hampered the Wildcats in their Southeastern Conference basketball encounter Saturday at Milan as Coach Jim Ladd's squad — scoring only six points each in the first and last periods — were defeated, 71-42. The loss was the third without a victory for the club.

Milan sped away to a 21-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and then out-scored the visitors by only four points during the next two periods. But the Wildcats managed only six points again in the last quarter allowing the Big Reds to pad their lead to 29 points.

Rick Hill led the visitors with 11 points while Dave Fear scored 10. Milan's Steve VanWinkle topped all individuals with 14.

Milan also won the jayvee game, 46-31.

Three Pins By Green

The Wildcat wrestlers scored three pins Monday at Ypsilanti Lincoln but suffered their second loss of the season, 33-19. Coach Rick Trudeau's grapplers, competing in their first season, were defeated last Thursday, 50-6, in their opener against South Lyon.

On Monday, sophomores Pat Ford (123) and Ron Coon (130) scored pins along with 137-pounder Jack Morris while Jim Wachtel (185) won by forfeit.

Against South Lyon last decisions were won by Freshman Tom Ford at 98-pounds and Sophomore Keven Schingek (165).

Race Predictably Close In League from Outset

Predictions that the 1969-70 Wayne-Oakland League basketball race will be a close one seemingly already are coming true with the campaign only two-games-old.

West Bloomfield, Andover, and darkhorse Brighton all remained undefeated in conference play last Friday with the biggest margin of victory a conservative eight points (Andover 76, Clarkston 68).

Meanwhile, the Mustangs suffered their first loss and Milford chalked up its first victory while Kettering and Clarenceville remained winless.

Defending champion West Bloomfield was forced to come-from-behind to edge Kettering, 55-53, when a reserve forward tipped in the deciding basket with 42 seconds to play. The Lakers out-scored Kettering 14-6 in the last quarter after having trailed 47-41 when the period began.

Andover, to the contrary, was forced to put down a last-quarter surge by Clarkston as Baron Dick Souther and the Wolves' Dan Brown clashed in a scoring dual.

Brighton, after recovering from a dismal first quarter, bumped Clarenceville, 58-52, while the Mustangs suffered a 67-66 loss to an aggressive Milford squad.

League action this Friday will find West Bloomfield at Milford, Andover hosting Kettering, Clarenceville and Clarkston meeting in a clash between the winless and the Mustangs will travel to Brighton. In non-conference play this week, the Mustangs were to host neighboring Novi on Tuesday while Clarkston was to be at Hamtramck and Kettering was to host cross-township rival Mott.

Brighton, the surprise of the league to date, trailed Clarenceville, 10-6, after one period of play but then rallied to take a 22-20 halftime lead before out-scoring the Trojans 36-32 in the second half. Eddie Gardner scored 16 points for Coach Bob Marks' Bulldogs and teammate Dave Harmon had 10. Chris Meyrellis and Bob Ridling led Clarenceville with 18 points each.

Brown and Souther each had 27 points, for Clarkston and Andover, respectively, in the contest at Bloomfield Hills where the Barons gained a lead for keeps just before halftime. The Wolves scored 25 points in the last period in an attempt to catch-up, but without success.

Tree Care's Important Here's Tips for A Green Christmas

Want to select a Christmas tree that will stay fresh and green throughout the holiday season?

Lester E. Bell, extension forester at Michigan State University, recommends that you:

1) Bend a needle on the tree. If it is resilient, the tree is fresh.

2) Bump the base of the tree hard on the ground. If the needles do not fall, the tree is fresh. (Some species, spruce, for example, do not retain their needles well. This is characteristic of the tree and does not necessarily reflect a lack of freshness. Any brown needles falling may be disregarded since they are merely remnants of the normal shedding process.)

3) Feel the bottom of the stump. On fresh trees it feels sappy moist.

What size tree to buy depends on ceiling height and where the tree will be placed in your home," says Bell. "Although most people prefer a well-rounded and shapely tree, you may find it more practical to buy one that is somewhat flat or sparsely branched on one side so that it can fit into a corner or against a wall. This type, you will find is often more economical."

Symbol of the Christmas season since the Middle Ages, the lighted tree has adorned Christmas celebrations since the days of Martin Luther (1483-1546).

The custom of the Christmas tree was introduced to America during the War of Independence. To celebrate the season, Hessian troops, homesick in an alien wilderness, used wild American forest pines to remind them of their homes and families in Germany.

Once the tree has been purchased — whether it be from local business, private dealers, civic organizations or directly from "cut-your-own" tree farms — it will require the care of its new owners to keep it fresh and attractive.

"If you decide not to set it up immediately," advises the Forestry Service, "it will keep better if placed in a bucket of water in a cool, shaded area, sheltered from the wind."

"Just before putting the tree in the stand you should cut about an inch or two of the trunk off squarely at the base. This will allow the tree to take up water more readily."

A tree stand filled with water, says the Forestry Service will help prevent needle drop and will greatly increase the tree's fire resistance. "Using a bucket of wet sand for a tree stand will also help keep a tree fresh. A pint to a quart of water should be added to the stand each day; keep the water level above the bottom of the trunk.

"For safety, the tree should not be decorated with cotton, paper, or other materials that burn readily. Wax candles and other types of open flames should be avoided. Lights and wiring should be checked for worn spots and cracks, and care should be taken not to overload electric circuits."

Attaching burning candles to Christmas trees is about as safe as standing next to a fire with an open can of gasoline, warn safety experts. But there was a time — before the advent of electricity — that old tradition held that a tree's burning candles represented flowers that were supposed to bloom on Christmas Eve.

Use of mistletoe, another old custom, comes down from the Druids (priests and medicine men of the Celtic peoples), to whom it was a sacred plant.

Convenience and family custom determines how long the Christmas tree will remain in the home.

Christmas trees are brought into the home anywhere from two weeks before Christmas to Christmas Eve. Although most Americans dispose of their trees on New Year's Day or the following day, some, notably in Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands, keep their trees until after the Epiphany.

Trees should be properly disposed of — never burned in a fireplace, advises the Forestry Service. "Many small communities (such as Northville under the sponsorship of the Jaycees) have special tree disposal programs after the first of the year. After collecting trees, they may hold Twelfth Night ceremonies to insure that all Christmas trees and greenery are burned safely under the supervision of the local fire department."

SCOTCH PINE (Pinus sylvestris)

In young trees, branches are regularly whorled. Needles occur in clusters of two and are usually twisted, 1½ to 3 inches long, bluish or grayish green.

WHITE PINE (Pinus strobus)

Its branches are dense and horizontal. Needles occur in clusters of five, and are soft, slender, bluish green, 2 to 5 inches long.

RED SPRUCE (Picea rubens)

Branches are brown and fuzzy. Needles are quadrangular, dark green, and shiny, and 1½ inch long.

By ROLLY PETERSON

The movie, "Easy Rider," is like a line drawn on a page at a rakish angle. There is a definite beginning and ending and a heavy-graphite line as evidence that someone has made a mark.

But it's disconcerting to the point of madness why the line defies the vertical or horizontal, defies the mind that likes things orderly and neat. Vertical or horizontal would be much more logical.

Perhaps the most disconcerting thing is why the line at all. Why not a written word in the same space of time? A nice, neat word that overtly says something and puts the mind at ease.

Easy Rider is that kind of movie. There are no easy answers. Yet the movie is simplicity itself. A ride across the country — on motorcycle, of course — by two Hippies, Billy and Captain America. The story line begins in the far west and ends in the southeast.

It ends as it begins, with violence. The trip is financed by the illegal purchase of heroine in Mexico and the sale in the United States, and it ends with shotgun blasts which kill our heroes.

The "why" is the thing. Some would say poetic justice. Anybody with long hair who traffics in drugs, smokes pot and defies the order of things as a majority wants it is begging for trouble, if not death. No loss anyway. After all, what were they contributing to society? Surely, nothing constructive.

Something is wrong, however. What is it in society that won't let a man live his life, that judges the man (in this instance two Hippies) on appearances alone? After all, the slayers of Billy and Captain America killed them out of perverseness. They knew nothing of the Hippies as human beings.

Maybe that's the point. Hippies are different. And, God only knows, that's reason enough to rid society of them. Like the movie, Billy and Captain America are rakish lines. They're disconcerting. But to the point of madness?

What makes "Easy Rider" a movie to remember is more than the question it poses. Billy and Captain America take on life dimensions. They become human beings, perhaps not thoroughly understandable, but human beings nevertheless.

They're presented without any preaching or moralizing. There they are. Two Hippy types crossing the country. You draw your own inferences. Bring your own humanity or inhumanity to the movie and make of the movie what you will.

That's why the movie is good.

Incidentally, it's written by Peter Fonda, Dennis Hopper and Terry Southern, produced by Peter Fonda and directed by Dennis Hopper. It also stars Peter Fonda and Dennis Hopper as Captain America and Billy.

All of which indicates that there should be no loss of nuance between script and screen, between writer and performer. What the eye sees and the ear hears is no mistake.

BLUE SPRUCE (Picea pungens)

Needles are about 1 inch long, four-sided, silvery green to blue green, stout, rigid, short-pointed, and extended at right angles from nearly all sides of the twigs. The twigs are straight and dark yellow brown.

★ ★ ★ Tree Lights Can Be Hazard

Area Fire Departments issued the following reminder to avoid disastrous tree fires during the Christmas season.

- Be sure and check each light socket for bare or frayed wires before putting them on the Christmas tree.
- Destroy or throw away old sets of lights, for old tape can be broken or punctured easily.
- Clamp each light bulb in an upright position, not against branches.
- Turn off tree lights before leaving home or retiring for the night.

Why Was Jesus Born?

Glenn Mellott, Minister
Church of Christ, South Lyon

Almost 2000 years ago, in the little town of Bethlehem of Judea, Jesus was born of Mary. Then after a speedy journey into Egypt, and a short stay there, he was taken by his parents to the small, northern village of Nazareth, where he spent the rest of his first 30 years.

The exact date of his birth is unknown, and there is no scripture anywhere telling us to remember the day of his birth or to observe it as a special day. On the contrary we are to remember him, and sing his praises, and live in peace and do good unto all men, all year long. Paul said that we are afraid of the brethren in Galatia, "lest I have bestowed upon you labor in vain." "Ye observe days and months, and times, and years." Gal. 4: 10-11.

Why then was Jesus born? The angel told Mary, "he shall save his people from their sins." Matt. 1:21. Again the angel of the Lord told the shepherds, "For unto you is this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Luke 2:11. Paul tells us Jesus was sent from God, "to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons." Gal. 4:4. From this we see Jesus was born to be a savior, "to save his people from their sins," to redeem us from the law, and to receive the obedient as sons.

Jesus was born to die for our sins. He told his disciples, that he must die and rise from the dead the third day, Luke 24:46-47, "And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem." Jesus told Pilate before he died that he had been born to die a king, and to bear witness unto the truth. John 18:37.

When we hear his voice we are of the truth. His voice, (the word of truth, the Bible) tells us to, "Repent and believe the gospel." Mark 1:15. His voice tells us to believe and be baptized and we shall be saved. Mark 16:15-16. This baptism is for the remission of sins. Acts 2:38.

Have you obeyed the gospel? In Christ is there salvation and no where else. Thus baptism puts you into Christ. Gal. 3:27. There is no other way into Christ. We hope you will read these scriptures and consider your soul's condition then come and worship God, and study his word with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

It was a newspaper picture of a crowded street. Then we examined it closely. There we were, nameless faces in a crowd to the rest of the world, but important faces to us.

Ours is a world of fast-growing urbanization. More and more people are concentrating in crowded areas. Ours is a world dominated by the gang, the club, the party, even the mob. It's mighty easy to get that "one drop in the ocean" feeling, as if no one knows we are here.

That's why we treasure our church. In it we are individuals. Our minister, our teachers and our friends, even visitors, know us. Each of us is seen as a separate person. Each of us is known to the same loving Father.

You might call us the "fellowship crowd" . . . a crowd in which we are never lost. Discover for yourself the wonderful blessings your church can impart to you. Attend this Sunday and every Sunday.

Holiday Push May Spark Alcoholism

Helen Roninson, a suburban Detroit housewife who throws simply divine holiday parties, is a pusher.

"Our last party was a huge success," she'll say. "Our guests drank everything in the house. I even got old Fred to have a highball — and you know he never drinks."

She doesn't stop to think that by pushing old Fred to have a drink, she may have sent him on the way back to the agony of alcoholism.

Some people simply cannot drink and — with the holiday party season approaching — the Greater Detroit Council on Alcoholism (GDCA), a Torch Drive service, urges hosts and hostesses to respect their guests' right not to drink.

"With a recovered alcoholic, one drink can lead him back to addiction," warns Mrs. Phyllis Tuttle, executive director of the GDCA.

"But he gets to a party, says he doesn't want a drink and the host says, 'Oh, just one won't hurt you. Come on, be a man.' I've heard people being pushed so far that they respond by saying, 'I can't drink, I'm an alcoholic.' And even then the host says something like, 'But you're too young.'"

"People should accept the right of others to refuse a drink without questioning it," she emphasizes. "You don't want anyone to question your right to drink, so why question their right not to drink?"

Mrs. Tuttle said that the "don't push" rule applies to both the guest who doesn't want any liquor and the guest who's had several drinks but doesn't want any more.

In both cases, she said, the guest is liable to be hit with questions like, "Don't you feel well?" "What's the matter?" Or, for women, "Are you pregnant?" Mrs. Tuttle said that on occasions she'll take a drink she doesn't really want just because it's really not saying no.

No hostess should feel that, after all, there are no alcoholics in HER crowd. According to GDCA statistics, one out of every 15 people who drink is an alcoholic, a rate that indicates about 125,000 alcoholics in the Detroit area alone. Probably as many women as men are affected, although women alcoholics are much more easily hidden.

Only 3 percent of these alcoholics live on Skid Row. The rest are living, working and partying right in the "normal" world.

Mrs. Tuttle said one of the reasons the holiday season is especially hard for heavy drinkers or people trying to stop drinking is that it's a socially acceptable binge period.

She adds, "It isn't just the fact that if you go to a social affair booze is forced on you. It's partly emotional. Christmas is emotional, and the tensions can make you take a drink even though you shouldn't."

"In moderation, liquor enhances social activities," she said. "Most people use it for this and most people don't have trouble. You can enjoy it, and you can serve it knowing you're helping others relax and enjoy themselves. But a small percentage of the people can't guarantee their behavior when they drink. And you should have something non-alcoholic for them."

For these people, Mrs. Tuttle said, even the joker who spikes the "innocent" punch is a danger.

The normally controlled drinker may also have problems due to the special conditions of the holidays.

For one thing, at many parties food is served late, and the guest is drinking on an empty stomach, which intensifies the effect. Mrs. Tuttle suggests eating before the party or stationing yourself by the potato chip bowl.

She also warns that the adage to "Make the one for the road coffee" is not foolproof.

"If you've been drinking heavily, a couple of cups of coffee won't sober you up," she said. "The only thing that will sober you up is time. Which means it's wise for a hostess to start cutting off drinks an hour or so ahead and start serving food and coffee."

College Club To Sponsor Film on London

"London Town," a colorful film portrayal of London as a modern and historical center of the world, will be presented at Schoolcraft College on Thursday, January 8, under the sponsorship of the students' International Club.

Tickets may be purchased or reserved at the college or by calling, 591-6400, Extension 252.

Howard Pollard's "London Town" moves quickly from the London of the Romans to the modern swinging London of the "mods" and the "rockers."

Pollard's film looks at the London the Romans knew as a center of trade on the banks of the Thames, moves on to the city in the 1500's, notes the fire of 1666 that destroyed nearly all of Londontown, moves on to the World War II years, and then explores why young people throughout the world look upon London as the "In-City."

The viewer visits Bond Street and its tailors and bootmakers, the home of Charles Dickens and "The Old Curiosity Shop" he made famous, the pub where Samuel Johnson relaxed, the home of John Keats, and takes a trip to Stratford-on-Avon for a look at the beautiful Shakespeare country.

Other highlights include the pageantry of England's royalty, a cruise up the Thames and along quiet canals, the London Zoo, Wimbledon Tennis Championships, and a Saturday morning in the outdoor markets.

Proceeds from the film showing will be used to establish scholarships to enable Schoolcraft College students to study abroad next summer.

Schoolcraft College to Host Four Lectures, Six Concerts

Four lectures, seven films and six concerts will be featured in the 1970 winter series of Schoolcraft Community College's Humanities program, officials revealed this week.

Kicking off the series will be a film on January 9, while a piano concert will mark the end of the series on April 20.

College officials remind residents of the community that the program series is open to the public. Residents are urged to attend and to make their suggestions to the college on the kinds of programs they would enjoy during the next series now being arranged.

Two lecture programs likely to stimulate thinking and comment in the upcoming season will be "The End of Obscenity" by Charles Rembar and "Sex Mores on the Campus Today" by Vance Packard.

It was Charles Rembar, an attorney, who in 1959 accepted the defense of the publisher in the government prosecution of "Lady Chatterley's Lover."

In 1966, after Rembar had spent seven years of fighting against the suppression of "Lady Chatterley's Lover," "Tropic of Cancer" and "Fanny Hill," the Supreme Court made the radical ideas of Rembar the law of the land. He defended "Lady Chatterley" on its literary, social and historical value.

He wrote of these historic trials in his 1968 book, "The End of Obscenity," which was awarded the George Polk Memorial Award and selected as the "Outstanding Book" of 1968.

One of America's most celebrated social critics, Vance Packard is internationally recognized for his incisive, meticulously researched investigations of trends in modern society that bear on individual liberty. A former newspaperman and magazine writer, he is the author of several best sellers including, "The Sexual Wilderness," "The Hidden Persuaders," "The Status Seekers," "The Waste Makers," "The Pyramid Climbers," and the "Naked Society."

His talk, "Sex Mores on the Campus Today," addresses itself to today's campus generation as well as parents and teachers who wish to know the facts concerning student behavior

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

"What in the world's going on in the township?"

That's a stock question posed by many city and township residents in recent weeks.

Funny thing. I suspect the same question is passing through the minds of at least three township board members, numerous appointees to the township planning commission, and more than one township-employed consultant.

I can only guess from an outside observation post. But I suspect that there's no strategically planned plot afoot.

I think it's more dangerous than that.

I'd describe the situation on the Northville township board as being akin to pitching to Yogi Berra, playing poker with a beginner, wrestling a trained bear or going out on a blind date.

There's no way to predict what might happen.

Except in one or two instances there's little evidence that any members have agreed to stick together and vote as a team.

As a matter of fact, lack of such planning has proven embarrassing in some voting situations when at least one member has discovered that his vote is contrary to his avowed position.

Another way out of the confusion is to "abstain."

Three board members employed this vehicle last week. One of them might explain his reason by declaring that he was personally involved in the question.

But I've always viewed an abstention as a "fink out."

Elected (or appointed) board members are expected to make their positions clear to the electorate. They accept this responsibility when they choose to serve on a public body.

What is going on in Northville township?

This question prompted a closed meeting of the board, planners and consultant Tuesday night. Many of those elected and appointed members of the official family would like to know, too.

It's obvious that the new board majority has but a single common thread binding its marriage. It fears the threat of city government. But not for the same reasons. While one would prefer to "out-city, the city," another would hope to retain rural, low-millage government. Still another is divided in community allegiance.

An alliance so based invites retaliation. It breeds turmoil. And it promises to accelerate township self dependence, encourage the establishment of services and the people and facilities to administer them, and raise the taxes to support them.

Meanwhile, it has created an uneasiness within the official family of Northville township, which may force — or invite — resignations at the consultant level.

It is no secret that board members residing in the southeastern portion of the township resented the industrial zoning that they were successful in reversing at the polls. They also take a dim view of proposed service station near a Plymouth school and have decided to test the strength of the township's zoning regulations in court.

The outcome could trigger a new board controversy.

Funny thing happened at the township voting polls last week.

Ex-Township Trustee Thomas Armstrong decided to seize upon the opportunity to obtain more signatures for his recall petitions. He set up a table outside the polls and started conducting business.

A complaint was registered by Township Officer Ron Nisun with the city of Northville police. The complaint charged that Armstrong was "accosting and interfering with people attempting to vote."

The city police sergeant investigated, found no evidence of interference and wrote in his report that "Armstrong was very friendly and pointed out that his petition had nothing to do with the issues on the ballot and his action therefore not illegal."

Township Officer Nisun refused to divulge the identity of the complaining citizens, so with no evidence of "accosting or interference" the city police refused to make an arrest.

(I can't help wondering what reaction the township attorney might have to this situation? That is, if he had been consulted).

Urges Vote On Parochial

To the Editor:

On November 26, 1969, I sent, by registered mail, a letter to our State Representative expressing my concern over the manner in which Parochial is being passed and the effect such passage would have on the attitudes of the people. I asked him to join with me in calling for a public vote on this issue.

I have not received any reply what-so-ever from our State Representative. Neither have we seen any action, on his part, which might possibly allow such a vote to take place. From this I can only conclude that Mr. Stempien is not interested in allowing the people to vote on Parochial but would rather work to prohibit a public vote on this issue.

Now that the Parochial portion of the School Aid Bill has been altered in such a way as to actually encourage RELIGIOUS SEGREGATION it is more important than ever before that the people be allowed to vote. To that end I most respectfully request that you print this and the attached letter in their entirety.

On October 15, 1969 and November 15, 1969 demonstrations were carried out against the part of the Vietnam conflict that the United States of America is involved in. At least, that is what the leaders said. In reality, these demonstrations were against our form of government. Even the political 'flip-flops' jumped on the bandwagon — the guys you see on T.V. and hear on the radio that talk and talk and say nothing. Furthermore, these political 'flip-flops' do nothing once they are elected by the deluded public.

Many of you people in Northville saw the American flags flying along the streets in Northville on the aforementioned days. We, the members of the Lloyd H. Green Post no. 147, American Legion, put those flags out. 51 of them to be exact. Why were these flags flying so proudly on these days? Because they were saying "The Great Majority of the people in this Community are proud of their country, proud of our fighting men, proud of our commitments to strive for world peace, and above all, swelled with the tremendously great pride in the banner for which so many have fought and are still fighting."

We members of the American Legion deplore the tactics of the 'so expressive minority' that so

A Merry Christmas To All

Speaking for Myself

Christmas Cards Necessary?

YES . . .

"To keep in touch" and to "wish our friends well" are standard reasons for sending Christmas cards — and they're valid.

For many — such as I — this is the only time of the year that we take time to bring friends and distant relatives up-to-date on family news as the card note that our first baby sitter is now at Michigan State, that Uncle Harold is spending Christmas in Florida. For the many older people who can't see friends or relatives easily, cards are anticipated eagerly.

Each year, too, more friends are helping good causes by choosing cards of the heart or cancer foundations or of UNICEF or churches to convey their greetings.

Call me a sentimentalist, but I think cards less commercial than gift-buying, more practical than a visit. And, unless your list is loaded with business names, cards say you "care enough to send your best."

JEAN DAY

NO . . .

It's not that I don't care enough to send the very best but, ironically, it's because I care so much, I don't feel I need to send anything at all.

Any friend of mine who thinks I don't wish him a Merry Christmas merely because I don't send him a card declaring those sentiments is really no friend of mine at all.

People I like I like every day of the year and I don't hesitate to express those feelings when I'm in their company.

Unfortunately, too often we rely upon devices such as greeting cards to annually express a sentiment based upon our own thoughtlessness.

I fear that greeting cards many times express a thought but not a thought of the sender. And too often greeting cards are sent because "it's the thing to do."

A true friendship sets its own standards and is built upon the exchange of love and understanding between individuals; and it's a relationship which cannot be delegated to commercial interests.

DONALD KRUPP

The ruined face and the gravel voice of Johnny Cash were harmless — obviously a signal that at long last I had been cured of what one medical expert diagnosed as Leaping Tremens, a wicked derivative of malaria.

There was a time when the likes of Cash and Country Music automatically triggered delirium. Yet, there he was, warbling like a sick dog on my TV screen last week and instead of a rash I broke out in a smile. I actually enjoyed it.

Unshackled, free at last! It's a marvelous feeling, I tell you, and except for one sad fact I would be an entirely happy man.

It began when the Army, with its uncanny ability of misfitting men to jobs, maneuvered me into an outfit calling itself the Dixie Division — an activated Alabama National Guard infantry that prided itself in Country Music cadence. Our squad tent was 99-percent pure South and I was its impurity.

Songs of broken lives and hominy grit blues were daily diet. Hank Williams and his Opie cohorts bellowed constantly from tent radios, over the company public address system, and in the mess hall. Confederacy was everywhere. Even latrines were built for southern comfort.

Believe me, living under leaky canvas is depressive enough without the 'baleful sound of Country Music to complicate matters. Driven to the edge of lunacy, in desperation I bartered an extra issue of long underwear for a tiny crystal set and wired it to pull in a station of my choice. Nightly, I huddled deep in my bedroll, shutting out "I'm Drinking 'Cause You Left Me" and listened instead to Lowell Thomas' "Good Evening Everybody."

It was a blundering mistake. The ground fleas that shared my bedroll had a pensant, apparently, for Country Music and to this GREAT COUNTRY OF OURS. The U.S.A. stands head and shoulders above them all. There is no comparison with this Country of ours. Certainly, there are improvements to be made. Thank God the 'Great Majority' of us are still striving to make the necessary improvements. We just do not feel the proper action is 'destroy first and then find, or try to find, a replacement.'

Corrects Quotes On Youth's Death

To the Editor:

In regard to the article appearing in the Thursday, December 4th issue, I would like to correct two statements attributed to me in your article concerning the recent tragic death of Bennie Potts at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

First, I did not say that I couldn't understand why the Prosecutor's Office was investigating the incident nor did I say that the investigation was "ridiculous." What I did say was that I did not understand what additional aspects of the case were being investigated on that particular day and that it was "ridiculous" to assume, as many reporters for TV and the press were apparently assuming, that there was any connection between the death and a fight which occurred a month earlier in which Bennie sustained bruises. I might add that the final report of the Prosecutor's Office confirms my medical judgment that there was no such connection.

The article correctly reported the facts otherwise and I am sure the misunderstanding was due to the fact that the interview was conducted over the phone. Please be assured that as an administrator of a State agency, I welcome visits to my office by members of the press at any time when necessary to comment on matters of public interest arising at this facility.

Levitt Explains Reasons for Change

To the Editor:

Recently, the Northville Record carried an article regarding a discussion I had with Township Planners regarding a possible modification in the plan for the Levitt-Highland Lakes Community. The article seemed to emphasize that the sole reason for proposing this change is the result of concern as to the development of a tract adjacent to Highland Lakes in Novi by Smokler and Company.

Beautification Tops Agenda

To the Editor:

Once again as we pour over the clippings from the 1969 Northville Record, pictures, minutes and programs of the efforts and accomplishments in the improvements in our City, and fashion the scrap books that go to Washington, D.C., for judging in the National Congress on Beautification, we wish to thank everyone for their participation and compliment those who contributed to the progress and well being of our City.

We look forward, with your co-operation, to a better program in 1970 and wish you and yours a BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY SEASON.

Sincerely,
Northville Beautification Commission

We are concerned, but would be concerned regardless of the builder. We are pleased and consider it to be to our advantage to be participating in the orderly growth of the Northville/Novi area with a builder such as Smokler and Company which has a proven record of competence in its' building programs.

In deciding to discuss plan modification, other factors were equally as important. First, the economy has changed since the Highland Lakes concept was developed. Money is tight and inflationary forces considerable. House prices have risen dramatically over what was originally projected for the area. Generally, the character of the overall community surrounding the Eight Mile area is noticeably changing. Further, a plan modification would not have been pursued had we not felt that it would be in the interest of sound planning and to the benefit of the residents of Northville Township. Certainly, it will be on this basis that any modification will be justified.

Sincerely,
Irwin M. Adler

State Focuses on Northville Plan For Taking Bids Before Bond Vote

All eyes will be watching as Northville Public Schools moves closer to a unique bidding system that may save both taxpayers and school administrators a few headaches.

The Northville board of education has decided to let bids on additions to four schools and remodeling one school before holding a bond issue, just the reverse of what has been done in the past.

The district will become the first in Michigan to try this method, according to Raymond Spear, superintendent of Northville schools.

Administrators feel the bid before bond system is better than the old method since voters will know exactly how much the additions and remodeling will cost and exactly what will be included. Voters will get all the items they approve, with nothing being cut to make up for an unexpected variance in cost.

The bond issue, slated for February 14, has been pegged near $3 million by school officials. Of the preliminary figure, $2,012,950, will be needed for additions and remodeling of the five schools.

The $2,012,950 figure is based on the architect's estimate of what the total project should cost. The final project cost will be known after the bids are opened January 22 by the school board.

In the bond election, voters will be asked to approve the cost for additions and remodeling as one package, not as separate projects. No additional millage will be voted officials said. The existing seven-mill levy will be retained and the district will borrow from the state school bond loan fund, they explained.

Because of the bid before bond system, a seven percent contingency was included in the contract with the architect to offset differences between bonds and estimates.

If the contractors' bids run more than seven percent over the architect's estimate, the architects will redraw the plans at no additional cost to the district. If the board does not choose to accept bids that are less than seven-percent above the architect's estimate, the board will be charged for any redesigning or additions to the plans.

When the bids are opened January 22, architects also will be present to review the bids and establish the efficiency and quality of the contractors who are bidding.

The meeting is open to the public and will begin at 8 p.m. in the board of education offices, 303 West Main Street.

The following Monday, January 26, at the board's regular meeting, the bidders will be selected, additional priorities will be selected for inclusion in the bond issue and the exact amount of the bond issue will be established.

Listed among the priorities are a bus garage, paving of old Baseline Road behind the high school, improving bus loading facilities and a new roof at Main Street Elementary, screening the high school overpass and additional funds for new site acquisitions.

Officials have indicated that the construction of a bus garage is a "must" since the present facilities at the high school will be removed for expansion of the shop area.

Broken down by projects included in the $2,012,950 figure, Main Street Elementary is expected to cost $111,030 for remodeling; additions to Moraine Elementary, $310,280; Amerman Elementary, $451,000; Cooke Junior High, $421,640; and Northville High, $719,000.

Bids have been let separately on the high school addition, with the elementary schools as one package or broken down into two projects of two schools each.

Contractors will be bidding on the construction of the buildings and the built-in equipment. No other equipment is included in the specifications or in the architect's preliminary construction cost. The equipment will be included in the bond election figure.

If the bond issue election carries, on February 14, bids will be awarded to the construction company (or companies) whose bid was selected on January 26. Administrators have said this will probably be at the board's first meeting in March.

In the event of an unsuccessful bond issue, the school district has agreed to buy the bids of the successful bidders and pay one-tenth of one percent of the bid price.

Earl Busard, business manager for the district, said the bid before bond system should save the district about eight months in time. With the previous method, the bond election would have been held in August and the district would be selling the bonds now. Bids for the projects would have been let about nine months after the election.

"No other business operates like school district's do," Busard said. "If contractors know you have $5,000 to spend on a project, the bids will be $5,000," he continued. "Businesses don't ask for a certain amount of money until they know what they will be getting and how much it will cost."

Both Spear and Busard agree the bid before bond system makes much more sense than the old method.

Administrators are confident they will not have trouble selling the bonds for the building project.

The calendar for the building program includes:

January 22 - bids due and reviewed; January 26 - selection of bidders; February 14 - bond election; March 10 - state bond approval for sale; March 23 - bond sale; April 1 - construction begins; and April 1, 1971 - all projects completed.

The calendar is based on a successful bond issue.

Spear said construction plans call for a minimum of classroom interruption. The new facilities will be constructed first, with classes moving into the additions before any remodeling of existing facilities is undertaken.

Architect's drawings of all projects are on display at the board of education offices, along with the specifications on the projects.

In addition, drawings of the new facilities are displayed at the respective schools, showing placement of the addition on the existing school.

The architect, Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates of Livonia, will receive a fixed fee of $139,800. Included is $32,800 for preliminary and schematic drawings, $80,000 for preparation of plans and $27,000 for supervision of construction.

Walled Lake School Plans Story Hours for Tots

The Walled Lake Elementary School has scheduled pre-school story hours for children who will attend kindergarten there in the fall.

Children will meet once a week for eight weeks beginning January 12. They may attend Mondays from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., Mondays from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. or Wednesdays from 10 to 11 a.m.

Parents interested in sending a pre-schooler to the class should contact Principal Spencer T. Rush at the school or Mrs. Elaine Giglio at 624-5034 by December 19.

The purpose of the program is to help pre-schoolers adjust to school. Volunteer mothers run the story hour which also includes a special project such as coloring or games.

Other elementary schools will announce pre-school story hours in the future.

(b) Letter from Paul Vernon, Pres. of Northville Civic Ass'n., outlining major points of discussion from the November 24th Council work session. (copies of Mr. Vernon's letter sent to Council) He requested that the unbuildable flood plain area west of stream be retained as a playground and recreation area for Northville children.

(c) Letter from George Zerbel (dated December 1, 1969) resigning from Northville City Planning Commission, no later than Jan. 1, 1970. Council unanimously agreed to regretfully accept Mr. Zerbel's resignation and instructed that a letter of appreciation for his many years of faithful service be sent to Mr. Zerbel.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: None

BOARD & COMMISSION MINUTES: Zoning Board of Appeals minutes of November 5, 1969, were accepted and placed on file.

Planning Commission minutes of November 18, 1969, were corrected by City Mgr., page 2 - last paragraph "City Mgr. tendered a letter requesting Novi Rd. re-zoning" instead of "City Mgr. 'A request'".

Mayor Pro-tem Nichols requested that Agenda item 11 (Novi Well Site) be considered out of progression order.

NOVI WELL SITE SALE: Mr. Nichols asked that each person speaking be limited to 2 minutes. City Mgr. spoke regarding density for this 4.91 A. parcel - stated that 40 units should be maximum considered.

Councilman Rathert stated there was an additional consideration - he presented a petition requesting retention of playground and recreation area - signed by 60 children.

Mr. Paul Vernon and John Bock, Martha Bingley, Virginia Newbold, all of Allen Drive, expressed their reasons for retaining this area for children's recreation.

Robert Prom, Recreation Director, stated he was a member of the Ad Hoc Committee - studying parks. They have not made their final recommendation and are considering the Well-Site property. He felt that if the total property is sold - children will have only north and east boundaries which are bridges. He reminded Council there had been a fatal accident at this locality a few years ago. Considerable discussion regarding density factor and approximate land that could be sold and that might be kept. 3.1 A. could be sold and 1.8 A. that might be kept for either flood plain or open space or recreation. Units to be considered would be 34 or 35 and up to 38 or 40. Council instructed the City Mgr. to report back to Council at the next regular meeting on December 15th regarding the details of this sale.

BADALUTZ' REQUEST FOR RE-ZONING: Mr. Badalutz request to re-zone Lot 185 and S 1/2 of Lot 184 was reviewed and recommendation from the Planning Commission considered. After some discussion, moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, to turn down Mr. Badalutz request to re-zone Lot 185 and S 1/2 of Lot 184 of Oakwood Subdivision from R-1 (one family) to R-2 (two-family residential) as recommended by Planning Commission.

Unanimously carried.
NEW SIDEWALK POLICY: This item postponed until next meeting.

DISCUSSION OF REFUSE CONTAINERS: City Mgr. explained the specifications and bid proposal that was sent out and advertised. Council received a "recap" of the bid opening for refuse containers - one bid was received. This bid will be held for future decision. City Mgr. is recommending that charges be dropped for any business with 2 containers or less. Businesses with 6 or 8 would pay more than they do now. Merchants would buy the containers. City Mgr. will report to Council after talking to merchants.

APPT. OF CHARTER REVISION COMMITTEE: This matter postponed for future meeting.

CODE OF ORDINANCES: City Mgr. requested prices from Northville Record and 3 printers outside the community - ordinance printing will be just under $1,000. If it should be more than that figure, City Mgr. will report to Council. He explained the printing of the Zoning Ordinances, also.

NOVI TWP. FIRE PROTECTION: City Mgr. distributed a map showing Novi Twp. as they have approached the City of Northville for fire protection.

City Mgr. felt that Northville Township should be consulted regarding this.

APPOINTMENTS: Moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, that Barbara Zerbel be appointed to fill the unexpired term of Geraldine Soule on the Northville City Canvassing Board. (Dec. 31, 1971)

Unanimously carried.
Moved by Folino, support by Lapham, to appoint Wilson Funk to the City of Northville Board of Review for a one year term, Jan. 1, 1970 to Jan. 1, 1971, succeeding Kenneth Rathert.

Unanimously carried.
Moved by Folino, support by Rathert, to appoint Mr. Paul Vernon to the Beautification Commission to fill unexpired term of Jerry Rotta and Geraldine Kohs to the unexpired term of Mrs. Alice Eaton. (both terms expire July 1, 1970).

City Mgr. asked Council to consider replacements for George Zerbel and also Dale Kiser (who will be moving out of the City shortly) on the Planning Commission.

MISCELLANEOUS: City Mgr. reminded Council that a Housing Committee should be appointed - need 6 or 8 names - asked Council to let him know their recommendations within next few days.

City Attorney announced that Judge Beasley of Oakland County Circuit Court had ruled that the City of Northville is to be allowed to vacate Barnhardt Springs.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

Martha M. Milne
City Clerk

Area Groups Cheer Patients

Patients at Northville Convalescent Center have been kept quite busy lately thanks to several groups.

Students at Bryant Junior High, Livonia, held a dance with all proceeds going to the center. More than $100 was raised and a sewing machine and iron were purchased by the students for the patients.

VA Awaits Applications For Training

About 1,242,000 beneficiaries will participate in the Veterans Administration's training programs this school year, according to Robert M. FitzGerald, regional office manager of the VA.

FitzGerald said these programs include 24,000 disabled veterans in rehabilitative training, 1,158,000 veterans and servicemen receiving educational assistance under the G.I. Bill, and 60,200 dependents of deceased and disabled veterans.

The number of persons participating in education and training programs is expected to increase by 113,000 to 1,355,000 during 1971.

According to FitzGerald, the number of veterans and servicemen seeking educational assistance is related mainly to the size of the armed forces and the yearly rate of discharge. Increased participation by veterans who served after January 31, 1955, is another factor.

Another reason for the rise in the number of trainees is the wide publicity being given the programs through U.S. Veterans Assistance Centers, the VA's "Outreach" program, and hospital visitations by VA contact officers.

FitzGerald urges Vietnam veterans and other who have served in the eligible period beginning January 31, 1955, to contact their nearest VA office for further information.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church has donated, calendars and sent Christmas cards to patients.

Students of Mrs. Helen McCarthy's third grade class at Main Street Elementary School donated Halloween candy and have sent cards to the residents.

Patients were guests at a guitar concert presented at the center by seminarians from St. John's Provincial Seminary.

Pioneer girls furnished

Thanksgiving decorations, while the First Baptist Church holds services once a month on Thursday for center residents.

Mrs. Jacqueline Driller, spokesman for the center, said students from Our Lady of Victory school have arranged to entertain patients with Christmas carols during the holidays.

Persons who would like to spend time with patients at the center or help in any way may contact Mrs. Driller weekdays by calling 349-4290.

On Year Round School

Film Schedule Wide Open

With the holidays fast approaching, the schedule for year-round school concept filmstrip presentations is wide open for the coming week.

Arrangements to have the filmstrip shown to clubs or neighborhood organizations can be made by calling Raymond Spear, superintendent of Northville schools at 349-3400.

Spear said though no public showings have been scheduled this week, the first week in January presentations will average two per night.

With a total of six strips, as many as six presentations can be made simultaneously, he said.

During the last week, 135 citizens and 54 members of district's faculty viewed the filmstrip.

Of the 135 citizens, 78 responded to the short questionnaire handed out after the presentation. All but one of the 78 felt the concept was worthy of further consideration by the Northville board of education.

Of the 54 teachers responding to the questionnaire, 53 felt the concept should be further studied by the board.

The biggest question most parents and teachers still have about the year-round school concept concerns vacation schedules.

Spear pointed out that with the suggested four-quarter school year, schools would be closed to all pupils from July 23, the end of the fourth quarter, until August 3, the beginning of the first quarter.

The times of the proposed quarters are first, August 3 to October 23; second, October 28 to January 29; third, February 3 to April 28; and fourth, May 3 to July 23.

In addition to the survey of half of the district's families, teachers, high school students and junior high students also will be questioned on their views of the concept.

Students will be asked questions similar to those asked of the parents. Teachers will be quizzed on when they would prefer to teach, how many of the quarters they would be willing to teach and whether teachers should be forced to take a vacation after teaching a given number of quarters.

When all questionnaires have been tabulated, the board will then decide if the concept is worthy of being further pursued or if the majority of the school district favors the present school calendar.

Slate Puzzles Officials

Wayne County officials are puzzling over a 1970 election ballot that looms so long it might not fit on election machines.

"It is the belief of the Commission that returning to paper ballots would cause chaos," the three-member Wayne County Board of Election Commissioners declared in a letter pointing out the problem.

On the ballot next fall will be everything from school board and municipal offices through County offices to State posts.

The County is responsible for preparing the ballots in such elections.

The threatened lack of space on the voting machines would be confined to the City of Detroit, but would have County-wide impact because any changes in the State election laws to solve the problem would apply State-wide, according to Joseph Martina, County elections director.

In a letter to committees of the State Legislature, the election commissioners suggested the possibility of holding all nonpartisan elections in odd years and partisan elections in even years.

Members of the supervisors legislative committee opposed that solution, however.

"This would force school board elections onto the ballot with municipal elections through-out the County, and the school boards are strongly opposed to this," said Harvey J. Beadle, of Redford, D-District 19, the chairman of the legislative committee.

"School officials feel it is very important that they have their own elections. We have instructed the County elections director to meet with his Detroit counterpart and the Detroit Common Council, and see if they can come up with another solution."

New Vaccine Offered For German Measles

Parke, Davis & Company announced it had marketed a new vaccine to prevent German measles.

Joseph D. Williams, director of U.S. Marketing, said an initial shipment of 280,000 doses of Rubelogen had been made this week to the company's 23 branch offices and distribution centers.

Williams said the vaccine is recommended for all children between the ages of one year and up to adolescence, especially those in kindergarten and early elementary grades, as they are the major source for the spread of the virus.

Routine immunization of adolescent and adult females is not recommended.

Williams added that additional supplies of the vaccine would be distributed as soon as it becomes available.

Parke-Davis conducted massive clinical trials of the rubella vaccine to obtain the data necessary for government approval, under an accelerated program. I.W. McLean, M.D., and Dr. Robert G. Brackett, both of Parke-Davis, served as medical and scientific monitors for these studies which were the largest ever conducted by the company.

More than 20,500 children were given the vaccine, including about 12,000 from Michigan's Wayne, Oakland and Branch counties, in 14 separate clinical studies, conducted over a nine-month period from last December.

Dr. Joseph F. Sadusk, Jr., vice president, Medical and Scientific Affairs, said the trials proved that the vaccine provided effective protection against German measles in from 96 to 100 percent of those immunized.

Medical authorities report that while the disease is usually mild and self-limiting, it is known that when this type of measles is contracted by women during pregnancy it frequently causes abnormalities in, or even death of, the fetus.

The last major rubella epidemic, according to scientists, was in 1964, following which there were 20,000 children born with severe defects and at least that many stillbirths or miscarriages occurred.

In recent years, retrospective studies have established that almost 100 percent of the children born to women who had German measles during the first two months of pregnancy have serious birth defects.

'Taint Necessarily So'

St. Nick's Only for Kids?

VETS PLAY SANTA — Getting ready for Christmas parties the VFW will stage tonight and Friday at two Northville convalescent homes are (l to r) William Widmair, chairman James Dingwall, and Cloyce Meyers.

Often it has been said that Christmas is for children. Remembering their shining eyes after a visit from St. Nick, not too many would argue the point. However, "Tain't necessarily so," insist the officers of Northville VFW Post 4012 and its Ladies Auxiliary.

Upon this decision, the vets this year are dropping their traditional Kiddies Party and are pointing their seasonal efforts in the direction of the aged and infirm — specifically the residents at Northville's two convalescent homes. Christmas parties for these elderly will be given at the homes on successive nights: Thursday, December 18 at Northville Convalescent on West Main and on Friday, December 19 at Eastlawn on High street.

Under the direction of James Dingwall, post community services officer, committee members Cloyce and Dorothy Meyers and Loretta Sperkowski have planned and arranged a full and exciting evening for the patients. Bingo games will be played with fun and practical prizes to the winners. Christmas carols will be played and sung during the after the games. Refreshments and cookies in the holiday theme are to be served after which members of Cub Pack 721 sponsored by Post 4012, and the Girl Scouts sponsored by the auxiliary, will distribute gayly wrapped gifts to each of the patients.

Selected by and with the cooperation and suggestions of the homes' respective administrators, these gifts will be useful and timely and tendered in the real spirit of Christmas giving, Dingwall said.

"The members of the V.F.W. and their Ladies sincerely hope that this new venture will bring a sparkle to the eyes of many who, by virtue of circumstances, have missed or might miss the excitement and special cheer of the holiday season. They also hope that St. Nick won't be too miffed that they are turning the children back to him this year," he said.

Phone Links War Zone With Home

Local residents were advised this week by Michigan Bell Telephone Company to plan ahead if they wish to talk during the coming holiday season to relatives or friends stationed in Vietnam.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said John Peard, manager here for the company. "And to avoid disappointments, servicemen are encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays."

More than 42,000 calls were completed between the United States and Vietnam last year. Most of the calls were made from Vietnam rather than the U.S. because of the difficulty in locating servicemen when calls come in from the States, Peard said.

"The heavy concentration of so many troops in a small country at war creates some real communications problems," he added. "Service is still not what we would like it to be but it has been improved substantially in recent years."

Travel restrictions and curfews in Saigon complicate the task of locating servicemen to take telephone calls. For this reason, when a call is made to Saigon it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he can be reached.

Until 1967, servicemen could call home only from Saigon. Calls now can be placed from hospitals and bases in Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Rahn Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang.

The first three minutes of a station-to-station call to Vietnam is $9. A person-to-person call costs $12 for the first three minutes.

Two Students End Teaching Assignments

Western Michigan University students who plan to become classroom teachers will end their directed teaching assignments in schools throughout the state this month. Two are from this area.

A total of 802 WMU education majors complete their practical experience in classrooms with the close of the fall semester at the university. They have been working throughout the period under skilled supervisors in the various schools. Of the total, 481 are enrolled in secondary education, 258 in elementary education and 63 are training in special education.

The local students and the schools where they hold assignments are:

Wayne R. Rice, of Novi, secondary education at Piere and Waterford; and David Chabut of Northville, secondary education at Martin.

Red Cross Needs Drivers

If you have a driver's license, a good driving record and a few free hours, you can become a Red Cross volunteer driver. Both men and women are needed.

"There are a variety of interesting assignments for transportation volunteers. They may be asked to transport volunteers to and from a bloodmobile, to bring food and clothing to a recent disaster site or to deliver blood to a hospital for a critical operation. Whatever the task, they are all vital to the smooth operation of Red Cross service," official state.

Transportation volunteers need never use their own cars. The familiar Red Cross wagons are always available.

Persons with some free time and are interested in doing volunteer work either during the day or in the evening are asked to contact local Red Cross office, 422-2787, 31228 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

Supervisor Pursell Urges Outside Audit

Carl Pursell, Wayne County Supervisor for Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, and Canton, has strongly urged that the board of supervisors hire an outside audit firm to come to grips with the facts concerning the records in the sheriff's department which indicate the county owes from $80,000 to a quarter of a million dollars to their employees in overtime and compensatory time.

Pursell, speaking before the law enforcement committee stated "This poor businesslike procedure has existed over the last few years and its time to bring in an outside firm as neither the auditors or the Sheriff's department can keep the records straight."

"The auditors were directed by our committee last November 26 (after we had received a report from an analyst that this accrued overtime dates back as far as 1937) to submit to us at this meeting an item by item audit of each employee who has overtime due. We realized said Pursell, that the auditors could not complete the audit by December 12th, but had directed them to submit a list of a few employees so that we could establish the legal and other problems related to paying this off. This they did not do, said Pursell and furthermore, they will not resolve this problem in the next year."

Pursell also stated that this report submitted to us was laid before our committee the day after the election in the City of Detroit. "It seems strange," the report which began in April, printed on August 26th and then was released publicly to our committee was timed just one day after the election. I wonder if the taxpayers are getting honest answers and the employees a fair bargain."
