

Circuit Judge Blasts Sobbing Ultra Liberals

A "wave of lawlessness" — from organized crime to rebellious degenerates — came under the verbal gun of Judge Edward S. Piggins here Thursday night as the former one-man grand juror lashed out at "hippies," "brainless intellectuals," and "provocateurs."

The Wayne County Circuit judge, who served four years as Detroit police commissioner, was the guest speaker of the Greater Northville Republican Club in a public meeting at the city hall.

According to Piggins the United States is losing its battle against crime — "the greatest wave of lawlessness and criminal activity in the 193 years of its existence" — resulting in large part to an increasing contempt for law and order at all levels.

Capable law enforcement officers, trained, willing and able to fulfill their responsibilities, he said, are often "forced to stand by, helpless, frustrated, unjustly criticized, their efforts impeded, and in some instances figuratively handcuffed, while thieves and looters and muggers roam about unrestrained."

Because of technicalities, said the jurist, courts have freed criminals who return to the streets to prey again on society.

"I cringe, sometimes, at the mournful sobs of the mawkish sentimentalists, the ultra liberal crusaders, who are always there, always ready to cry out for the protection of the sacred individual rights of the 'poor oppressed knife wielder or rapist."

"... But what about the legal rights of the law-abiding, the decent, the responsible society? What about the sacred rights of the victim who lies face down in a dark alley with a knife in his back, the dedicated young police officer who has his head blown off by the blast of a hidden sniper's shotgun...? Who cries out for him?"

A staunch defender of the American judicial system, Judge Piggins nevertheless places part of today's lawlessness in the laps of his contemporaries.

"I deeply fear for our Constitutional system of government," he said, "when life-appointed judges can strike down a law passed by Congress or a state legislature with no more justification than that judges believe that law is unreasonable."

Family breakdown, disregard for the teachings of churches ("God is now

Bid Opening Set Tonight

Bids will be opened tonight, Thursday, for the proposed additions and renovations to five of Northville's schools.

The special meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the board of education offices, 303 West Main Street.

Earl Busard, business manager for the district, said he expects a "long meeting, with over 80 bids to be opened."

Board members will select a bidder or bidders at their regular meeting Monday, January 26, when the architect will make his recommendation of a bidder or bidders from among those submitted tonight.

The exact amount of the bond election and what projects will be included will be determined at Monday's board meeting.

Thursday, January 29, the combined PTA's are sponsoring a public meeting at the High School auditorium at 8 p.m. to explain the proposed building program and bond issue.

Robert Froelich, president of the Northville Board of Education, announced his resignation from the board this week.

Froelich, 44, has been named vice-president for business, and treasurer of Central College located in Pella, Iowa. He will assume his new position in about four weeks.

The board is expected to act on his resignation at their next regular meeting, January 26.

A graduate of Hope College, he earned his master's degree from University of Michigan. Following graduation he was employed by General Motors Institute and was industrial relations supervisor for Ford Motor Company for nine years. Froelich spent one year as assistant to the director of the Toledo Art Museum.

In August, 1964, he was named assistant to the president at Schoolcraft Community College. He went to Oakland Community College in March, 1965, receiving a series of promotions until being named to his present post as director of instructional systems administration.

Froelich won a four-year term on the Northville Board in 1966, and was elected vice-president of the board for 1968-69. In June, 1969, he was elected board president.

Central College is a liberal arts Dutch Reform school with an enrollment of 1,400 students. Dr. Kenneth Weller, president of the college, has been a friend of Froelich's since their college days at Hope. Ron Schipper, former Northville varsity football coach, is director of education and director of athletics at Central, and has been instrumental in attracting several Northville graduates to the college.

Froelich and his wife, Nan, have three children, Robert, Jr., 19; Sue, 16; and Heidi, 13. The family, active in the Northville Presbyterian Church, lives at 369 Maplewood. They will join Froelich in Pella before the end of April.

Recreation Squeeze Seen Despite Big Budget Hike

The budget of the Northville Recreation Department may take a $10,000 or more jump this next year but even then fall short of meeting the needs of the community, according to the director of the department, Robert Prom.

At work now preparing the budget which must be endorsed by the city-township recreation committee before submission to the city and township governments for approval, Prom says the new budget, despite a significant increase, will represent "only a minimal expenditure in view of what the growing population requires."

The current budget approximates $23,000, with about $19,500 of this shared by the city and township and the remainder resulting from donations, sponsorships and registration fees. The city township split is based on participation of residents from these two municipalities. As of December 1, 637 residents were registered compared to 309 township residents.

In a report to the township board last week, Prom pointed out that the new budget will provide for the addition of several new recreational programs and facility improvements at Ford Field and the Fish hatchery site.

"Northville is now, as at no other time in the past, feeling the pressure of surrounding communities," Prom told board members.

"Their exploding population is increasing the demands on recreational facilities of Cass Benton Park. Northville residents are finding it more and more difficult to make use of the picnic facilities, baseball diamonds, tennis courts. On major holidays and weekends the facilities are utilized by residents other than Northville. The (Northville) recreation department has found it necessary to register at least a month in advance for even the use of picnic facilities."

Use of Cass Benton Park tennis courts is virtually impossible, he said, and only two park diamonds are available for local use of eight teams — and use "has been decreased every year."

All of which, concluded Prom, means the local community must begin preparing its own new facilities — either by improving existing facilities and/or developing new neighborhood parks.

Prom said the following facilities are inadequate.

Scout Hall — inadequate for the growing Senior Citizens Club, any additional adult education classes and additional Girl Scout or Brownie groups, but adequate for present summer day camp needs with school sites expected to meet future needs.

High School Diamond — at maximum now, with five recreation teams utilizing it after school use.

First Street Diamond — (part of the parkway system), used by 12 ball teams but big enough only for youngsters up to eight years of age.

City Hall Pistol Range — Maximum capacity of 138 participants already reached, and the range itself is

Political Storm Brewing

Pursell Raps Senator

A political storm appeared on the election horizon this past week as Supervisor Carl Pursell of Plymouth took a poke at a fellow Republican, Senator George Kuhn.

The two Republicans, opponents four years ago in the primary for the State Senate, could conceivably battle for the GOP nomination again this year.

SUPERVISOR PURSELL

Pursell, who represents Northville as well as Plymouth and Livonia on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, charged Kuhn with blocking his (Pursell) appointment to the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority board. Because of the senator's behind the scenes opposition, Pursell told reporters he has withdrawn his nomination to prevent a conflict between the Governor and the Senate.

Nominated by the board of supervisors for the Governor's consideration on the SEMTA post appointment, Pursell said, "I'm sorry he (Kuhn) cannot support a Republican, or the Governor on this important matter. I was happy to learn that I was the number one choice by the Governor, but because these appointments need Senate confirmation I have asked the Governor to withdraw my name."

Pursell revealed at a press conference in Plymouth that Senator Kuhn told the Governor's office that he opposed Pursell and would not support the appointment if it came to the floor of the Senate.

Asked for his comment on the matter, the senator told this newspaper that Pursell mistakenly assumes that he (Kuhn) has the power to block an appointment by the Governor. He conceded that

For Ambulance Service

It's Tough Finding Help

Northville's city council may be discovering one of the reasons why so many ambulance services are going out of business: lack of qualified personnel.

Hoping to provide emergency service within the city limits after Casterline drops its ambulance service January 31, the council learned Monday night from City Manager Frank Ollendorff that at the outset service may be offered only 14 hours per day — from 6 p.m. until 8 a.m.

The manager told the council that he has been unable to hire enough attendants for around-the-clock stand-by duty. "We don't have anybody for days," he reported.

The city has advertised for volunteers willing to answer emergencies for $25 per week. It's estimated that there would be one or two calls per week at the maximum. The volunteers will be given emergency first aid instructions required by the state in classes to be conducted by the Red Cross today, Friday and Saturday at city hall.

The council stuck to its decision to go ahead with the effort "I would rather try and fail than to let a citizen die in the street for lack of an ambulance," commented Mayor A.M. Allen. But Councilman Kenneth Rathert expressed some concern about the expense and advocated "broadening the base of operation," if possible. Most of the councilmembers agreed that if another community is interested in sharing the service it should be considered but Councilman Paul Folino warned that "we should try it and see how it works first."

Manager Ollendorff advised that it is not necessarily true that expanding the service to another community would reduce the cost to the city. "It could more than double, or necessitate another ambulance," he warned.

He reported that if enough attendants are not hired to cover daytime service, the police department (which will receive all emergency calls at 349-1234) will summon one of two other private services within seven or eight minutes of the city. "If these are not available, we could use some of our other personnel in an extreme circumstance," the manager stated.

In other business on a routine agenda the council approved the

Cars Crash on Icy Joke

What may have started out as a practical joke ended up as a three-car accident January 14.

Pranksters again opened the fire hydrant at the high school around 10 p.m. Below freezing temperatures caused the water to freeze while running down the high school drive and out across North Center Street.

Three cars traveling on North Center skidded out of control, slammed into each other blocking traffic. No injuries were reported.

The fire department was called to shut off the hydrant and police blocked off North Center Street from Baseline to Eight Mile Road while salt was spread on the ice.

The hydrant had been opened the evening of January 11, but no accidents were reported from the icy conditions.

NEWS BRIEFS

Action was taken to close the club after finding empty beer bottles and cans in the boys restroom during a search resulting from bomb threats last week. At present, the club, housed in the basement of the old junior high building, is closed until the end of February.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD was honored by the Senate of the State of Michigan in Resolution No. 152 offered by Senators George Kuhn and Raymond Dzendzel. The resolution cited The Record on its 100th anniversary and for its publication of a special centennial edition. It also recognized The Record's Michigan Press Association award for General Excellence in 1969. Presentation of a framed copy of the resolution was made at The Record offices this week by Senator Kuhn.

A CAMPAIGN to recall three Northville Township board members has been scrapped because of an insufficient number of signatures on petitions for a recall election. Officials named in the petitions were Treasurer Alex Lawrence, and Trustees Richard Mitchell and Joseph Straub. In announcing the end of the campaign this week, Ex-trustee Thomas Armstrong said, "Interested people will just have to wait until the November election to do anything about this township board." GETTING AWAY from it all — especially the ice and snow — has been taking Northville residents south and west.

Two area families are just back from vacations in Puerto Rico that also were reunions with friends. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ward spent five weeks in San Juan where they had an apartment. They had lived in San Juan for two years previously; so there were old friends to visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent P. Mathes climaxed a busy two months with a flying trip to Puerto Rico where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Handy, and celebrated New Year's Eve on the island.

In late November they moved to their home at 835 West Main Street and were ready for a holiday open house in December. Then they left after Christmas for Puerto Rico. The Handys, whom they visited, formerly lived on Stoneleigh, moving to Puerto Rico two months ago. They and their four children have just moved from hotel headquarters to a home in suburban Guyanabó.

Since returning, Annalee Mathes has been busy with arrangements for winter auditions of Madrigal Club of Detroit. She is president of the club which has membership from the entire Metropolitan area. Its spring concert is to be April 20 at the Detroit Institute of Arts lecture hall.

(Sightreading of music is necessary for membership in this professional-calibre group, notes Mrs. Mathes. She invites anyone interested in auditions or membership to call her at 349-7334.)

THE FLORIDA vacation of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams also was a reunion with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Houghton, and their family in Miami. They were joined there by another daughter and her husband, the Richard Kings of Saginaw, who flew south.

Last week, just after they returned, Mrs. Williams' brother, Arthur Chenoweth, flew in from Oakland, California, to visit them and his mother, Mrs. Camilla Chenoweth.

A FORMER Northville resident, Mrs. Hugh McKay, was the house guest of the Orin Hoves earlier this week. She also visited her sister and family in Kalamazoo as well as relatives in Dearborn and Birmingham before returning to Miami.

A FAREWELL dinner Sunday in Shadbrook feted the John J. O'Briens of Pickford Road who are moving to West Lake Village in California. The John F. Allans hosted the gourmet potluck dinner and wine-tasting party of neighbors. The O'Briens and their son,

John, who is a senior at Northville High School and is graduating at the end of the semester, have lived in the community 12 years. Their new home is in a pilot-type community near Malibu Beach and Los Angeles. Mrs. O'Brien says it incorporates greenbelts, underground wiring and such model restrictions as limitation of signs to simple wood ones — 'no neon!'

Mrs. Carl H. Johnson of 800 West Main Street is on a three-week business trip in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

MOTHERS' MARCH Chairman — Mrs. Russell Anger, Jr. — returned Sunday with her husband and children, Jeff, Jill and nine-month-old Julie, from a vacation in Bahamas. They visited her parents, who make their home in Freeport.

Now Mrs. Anger is conferring with her co-chairman, Mrs. Russ Totten, on final details for the March, January 28 — February 2, which again this year is being done as a Northville Jaycette project. This is the second year Mrs. Anger and Mrs. Totten have assumed its chairmanship.

TWO NORTHVILLE women are among the seven new members of Western Suburban Junior Women's Club, which includes women in the Western Wayne communities. Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. Donald Baxter were among those welcomed to membership at the January meeting.

Mrs. Dale Starr, first Northville member of the group, reports that the club now has 28 active members. As membership chairman, she invites women interested in the worthwhile projects of the club, a member of the Federation of Women's Clubs, to call her at 349-4956.

The club meets the second Monday of the month at 8 p.m. at Sword of the Spirit Lutheran Church on Seven Mile Road. The February program is to be a demonstration of Ukrainian egg decorating.

THE SMORGASBORD offering of a whole baked salmon is one of the choice items on the menu of the fund-raising smorgasbord dinner being given by Northville United Methodist WSCS January 30 at the church.

The salmon will be "frosted" with mayonnaise and served cold — a typical smorgasbord dish, according to Mrs. W. H. Cansfield, whose recipe is being used. The fish will be stuffed "just to hold its shape" to look attractive.

Ham, turkey, spaghetti and meatballs and homemade bread also will be on the menu. Dessert will be individual tarts and cream puffs.

Three sittings for 100 persons at each are planned, but the 6:30 p.m. hour already is sold out, the committee reports. A few tickets still are available for 4:30 and 5:30 p.m., according to

Mrs. Maryann Anderson will continue as director. During the election it was pointed out that the club has grown from an initial number of 30 to its present membership of more than five times that of the first year.

The new president presented a colored slide program of a recent trip to England. Retiring President Blackburn was presented with a gift of appreciation for his leadership during the past two years.

The club will meet for a cooperative dinner at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the Northville Presbyterian Church fellowship hall. Raymond E. Spear, superintendent of schools, will speak on the subject of possible year-round schools.

Survive While You Drive — Relax Racer Plugs Safety

Relaxation must be a key to survival — whether you're driving Detroit expressways or the Indianapolis "500", or speaking to a group of clubwomen as Peter DePaolo, former Indianapolis winner, was Monday.

DePaolo, who was acclaimed the "Golden Man of Racing" when he became the first driver to top 100 miles per hour for 500 miles at the Indianapolis Memorial Day classic, spoke to the Sara Ann Cochran Chapter, DAR.

He stressed, as top safety priority, that a car should be in A-I shape for winter driving.

"Without a horse, you can't be in the race," he emphasized as he urged women to make absolutely certain their windshield wipers were in good condition and that washers were filled with non-freezing solvent. Adequate tires also are needed for Michigan-type driving, he added.

DePaolo was asked about the Ford cutback in its racing plans. He suggested that this move could be because "they've won everything."

DePaolo's actual record-breaking speed at the 1925 Indianapolis Classic was 101.13 miles per hour, a record that stood for seven years and gained the Indianapolis trophy for him that year. He also was named National Champion in racing for 1925 and also for 1927. He was elected to the Auto Racing Hall of Fame in 1963.

His racing career took him to all parts of the world and ended in Barcelona, Spain, in 1935, when he purposely crashed his racing car to avoid hitting three small children. He was born in Philadelphia and served in the U. S. Air Force in both World War I and II. After World War II he was discharged a lieutenant colonel.

While his home is in California, DePaolo makes Michigan his midwestern working base, staying at the Dearborn Inn. He was escorted to the DAR luncheon by a long-time friend, Mrs. George Merwin, who is chapter president.

For the past few years he has been active in safety promotion for Firestone Tire and Rubber Company and now is a representative of the American Rubber and Plastics industry.

Mrs. Merwin recalls that she and her husband first met the racing driver when he made a movie for Ford Motor Company in 1956. Her own husband had been close to the racing field as he first was associated with stock car racing in this country in conjunction with his work with Ford and then was Ford's competition manager for European rallies.

'GOLDEN' SAFETY HINTS — Peter DePaolo, acclaimed the "Golden Man of Racing" when he became the first driver to top 100 miles per hour at Indianapolis, points out the dangerous winter driving period to Mrs. George Merwin, Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, DAR, president. He presented safety hints to the chapter at its luncheon Monday.

Mothers' March Starts Thursday

Again this year the Northville Jaycettes are conducting the Mothers' March which benefits more than 110 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers. It will be held January 28 through February 2.

Postmaster John Steimel, chairman for the Northville March of Dimes, announces that Mrs. Russell Anger, Jr., of the Jaycettes will be chairman for the Mothers' March for the second time. Co-chairman Mrs. Ross Totten also is taking the post for a second year.

Mrs. Anger reports that her 15 area chairman are instructing door-to-door workers to make their calls any time that is convenient during the six-day campaign. She points out that weather conditions make a one-day march impractical.

This year's area chairmen are Mrs. Peter Lindholm, Mrs. Joseph Kluesner, Mrs. Ronald Hellier, Mrs. James Belz, Mrs. Douglas Loomis, Mrs. Robert Hilton, Mrs. Ronald Beier, Mrs. William Broaddus, Mrs. Dennis Dildy, Mrs. John Buckland, Mrs. Paul Vandenburg, Mrs. Norman Norgren, Mrs. Richard Norton and Mrs. Wesley Klocke.

Steimel still needs volunteers for the fund-raising drive. Anyone willing to help may call him at 349-0068.

Steimel said the march has been planned for weeks with workers checking addresses and preparing envelopes. The March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers carry on research, education, patient care and community services with the twin aims of prevention and treatment of birth defects.

News Around Northville

Civil War Books . . .

Lincoln fans and Civil War buffs will be pleased to discover a collection of 38 books on Abraham Lincoln and his times which were purchased for the Northville Public Library recently by Mr. and Mrs. Jan Reef of Northville. Reef, who came here from the Netherlands, was inspired to give the books as a token of correspondence with an Oklahoma industrialist, also a Civil War buff.

The collection includes, in addition to standard works such as the five-volume Sandburg biography of Lincoln and Boatner's "Civil War Dictionary," pictorial works like "Divided We Fought" edited by David Donald.

The Northville Library Advisory Commission voiced its thanks to the Reefs on behalf of the citizens of the community at the December meeting.

Contemporary Dance . . .

Northville Woman's Club members will take "A Look at Contemporary Dance" through the eyes of Miss Ruth Lovell Murray at their meeting at 1.30 p.m. Friday at Northville Presbyterian Church.

Miss Murray is artistic advisor and coordinator of dance activities at Wayne State University, and chairman of Women's Physical Education staff.

She is bringing two students with her to demonstrate the dance movements. Mrs. E. G. Sprunk is program chairman of the day.

attend to retain the "Nike" attendance trophy the local club now holds. Reservations are to be made by January 26.

January dinner meeting of the Northville Business and Professional Women will be at 6.30 p.m. Monday at Hillside Inn. Miss Florence Panattoni, director of curriculum for the Northville schools, will speak and present a slide program on the year-round school study.

Artists Name Mrs. Bonamici President

Northville women were elected top officers of the Three Cities Art Club at its annual meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Doris Saunders in Plymouth.

Mrs. Roland Bonamici was named president and Mrs. Dale Beltz, vice president.

Other officers are Franklyn York, Westland, treasurer, Mrs. Ronald Gentry, Plymouth, secretary; and Eugene Smith, Plymouth, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Mabel Bacon of Plymouth is chairman for library exhibits while Mrs. Jessie Hudson, also of Plymouth, is publicity chairman. Following the annual meeting the group heard a presentation by Mrs. Margie Moon and Mrs. Gae McCord on the work being done and future work planned by the Plymouth Fine Arts Council. It is pointed out that many goals of the club and the council are identical. Promises of mutual cooperation between the two for the future were made.

Artists interested in knowing more about the club or anyone interested in becoming a patron member to learn more about art will be welcome at club meetings, Mrs. Bonamici or Mrs. Hudson, 453-3551 may be contacted.

The club now has a new exhibit of paintings by members on view at the Dunning Hough Library in Plymouth. A variety of techniques and styles is displayed by the seven artists represented.

Edna Heng has two studies, one called "Lonely Child," in "pensive greens" in acrylic, and the other, a black-and-white "Devil's Canyon," a tissue paper collage. Another, different collage is Penny Wright's small, brilliant, glued cord design.

Eugene Smith, Wayne Schools art teacher, chose a small, mixed study of artichokes in muted hues to exhibit. Ann Depa, a new member, brought two oils in soft greens and a still life and "Flowers." Mabel Bacon shows "Jungle Pattern," a wet-on-wet water color.

Mrs. Hazel Severence of Northville is showing a surrealist landscape, a vivid autumn landscape and a small

School Begins Survey Tally

Survey takers in the random sampling for opinions on the possibility of a year-round school program for Northville, being conducted January 12-23, report they have been welcomed at almost every home.

By the first of this week six of the 35 Mothers' Club members visiting 725 residents for the opinion sampling had completed their calls and reported that "Northville people are nice."

Almost everywhere they have been invited in while the form is completed. Superintendent Raymond Spear said that from a "very brief" review of forms completed many of the suppositions of the administration are holding true, indicating what some of the major problems will be. He expressed "sincere appreciation to the community for its cooperation."

Club members, each completing an average of 18 calls, who turned in early tallies were Mrs. Cass Hoffman, Mrs. Martin Rinehart, Mrs. Keith Wright, Mrs. James Tellam, Mrs. Harold Wright and Mrs. Elden Biery. Spear said that all indicated the community has been "very responsive."

The survey is being financed with a state grant. Mothers' Club agreed to conduct the survey for the school system and will return money earned to the schools for an enrichment project.

Members, venturing out in the season's coldest weather, report that it can take only minutes (the survey takes only five-to-ten minutes to complete) or it can take considerable time to find residents at home.

NAOMI PRICE

Lecturer Looks At 'Miracles'

A miracle is neither a piece of extraordinary luck nor a supernatural event.

On the contrary, a marvel of good or a miracle is the appearing in human experience of what is natural to God, says Naomi Price, C.S.B., of London, England. Mrs. Price will lecture on Christian Science in Plymouth, Friday, January 30, 1970.

The lecture, which begins at 8:00 in the church at 1100 W Ann Arbor Tr., Plymouth, is free and open to the public. It is called "A New Look at Miracles" and is sponsored by First Church of Christ Scientist, Plymouth. Mrs. Price entered the healing ministry of Christian Science more than twenty years ago, after a career in social service. She is a teacher of Christian Science as well as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

About Our Servicemen

A Wixom serviceman, who was instrumental in the building of roads, bridges and a four-room school for children, despite steady bombardment of rocket and mortar attacks, recently returned from Vietnam after a year of duty there.

He is Specialist 4 Loren E. Kohlhorst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kohlhorst of 1412 Morning Dove.

Specialist Kohlhorst will be home until he reports for duty at his new unit - the Army Engineer Depot at Granite City, Illinois, on the Mississippi River.

For his service in Vietnam, the soldier was awarded the Army Commendation Medal and the South Vietnam Service Medal.

Portsmouth, Va. (FHTNC) Dec. 31 - Navy Air Controlman First Class John S. Waterloo, son of Mr. J. Stanley Waterloo of 134 Rayson Street, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence.

The carrier is currently undergoing an up-keep and maintenance period at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard here.

training comprising the difficult course. During his four months at OCS, he spent a total of 520 hours on military, tactical, organizational, and technological subjects.

Sets Campaign Dates

Easter Seal Seeks Volunteers

Volunteers for varied clerical tasks are being sought by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Western Wayne County to work during the annual appeal for funds to support its local service program.

Charles A. Smith, 43643 West Nine Mile Road, is Western Wayne general chairman for the 1970 Easter

Seal campaign which opens February 23 and reaches its climax March 29, Easter Sunday.

Northville area chairman is Eugene Surmont, 117 Base Line, a member of Northville Rotary Club, as is Smith. Rotary is helping with the annual appeal in many Western Wayne communities.

Anyone interested in helping with the annual appeal may call Smith, 349-0854, or Surmont, 349-4407, or the society at PA 2-3055.

Volunteers help bring a variety of services to handicapped area residents. More than 200 individuals were involved directly in personal service at the Easter Seal Center near Middlebelt and Michigan in Inkster during Christmas holidays.

The annual campaign provides a foundation for year-round direct services to those for whom research into causes of disability and advances in techniques of prevention came too late. The core of these services, the society says, is a helping hand to handicapped individuals and their families who are seeking specific help but who find it easy to get lost among the many services offered in the metropolitan area.

The society points out that it does not duplicate what is available from other agencies supported by Torch Drive or from taxes. However, when a

Schoolcraft Players Stage 'Summertree'

A Northville man has been picked for a starring role in "Summertree," playing February 4 - 7 in Schoolcraft's Liberal Arts Theatre. Dennis Mannisto, of 19659 Fry, will portray a soldier in the college production.

"Summertree" is a tragic story of a young soldier who, in the last moments of his life, sees his past revolving around him. The play uses the "flashback technique," giving the soldier and audience a chance to see what has gone wrong with man. The story is not only a comment on war, but it is a statement for people who send their sons off to a mindless-sensless death.

The play is a fantasy about a soldier's last minutes. Shot and dying under a tree, he recalls the tree in his backyard at home. He recalls his childhood, his parents, his first and last love affair and romanticizes on the effect of his death on the folks back home.

"Summertree" begins each evening at 8. Tickets are available in the college bookstore for $2, or $1.50 with student I.D.

Jaycees Observe Birthday

Novi-Northville men are marking the golden anniversary this week of a group which began because some young men weren't satisfied with the "establishment."

The Jaycee movement was launched in St. Louis in 1910 with a few men interested in sparking more civic awareness in public affairs. Mostly they wanted to prod the Chamber of Commerce into more action. By 1920 the group was large enough to hold a national convention and charter 12 separate chapters throughout the United States.

That convention was in January - 50 years ago.

The organization was incorporated as the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The name was officially changed to Jaycees in 1965.

This week, January 18-24, has been formally labelled National Jaycee Week, and 269 chapters in Michigan are joining with Jaycees throughout the nation in marking the occasion.

Two of the most active are in Novi and Northville.

Novi, youngest of the two chapters, was organized in 1967 with 20 members and has since increased its membership to 33.

Novi Jaycees were a driving force in the successful move to incorporate Novi as a city, starting in their first year of operation. They're also responsible for finding a city seal through a competitive contest.

One of their first projects back in 1967 was a collection of gifts for servicemen in Vietnam, a project they continued in 1968 and 1969 and anticipate doing again in 1970.

They joined, too, with the Novi Chamber of Commerce in co-sponsoring the annual Novi Gala Days, which attracts thousands of people from throughout the metropolitan area.

Northville Jaycees had rough sledding during their first four years and subsequently recognized 1960 as the formal debut into the community.

From that inauspicious start, the Northville chapter has moved all the way to the top, winning first place in overall point competition at the 1969 state convention.

Part of the reason for Northville's present status is the 4,600 man-hours expended by 43 members - an average of 100-plus man hours per member - on 70 different projects in 1969.

The Northville group also has been instrumental in developing recreation facilities, safe driving campaigns, the annual Fourth of July festivities, Christmas tree pickups, park maintenance and curb painting.

Both Northville and Novi have auxiliary chapters of Jaycees wives. Northville Jaycettes were formed in May-1961 and the Novi auxiliary in October-1967.

The Novi auxiliary is riding the crest of the biggest honor, having earned the Michigan Milestone Award given annually to the best new chapter.

In cooperation with the Michigan Jaycettes, Northville's chapter collects Betty Crocker coupons used to purchase kidney machines (Coupons can be dropped off at the collection box in the D&C Store on Northville's Main Street).

Also, the Northville Jaycettes organize marchers for the March of Dimes drive, which this year is scheduled for January 28 through February 2.

Loon Lake Looms in Background

Eight Fight for Wixom Council

Two incumbents and six newcomers filed for the Wixom city council race, and two men filed for the mayoral contest before Monday's deadline.

The eight council candidates will face each other first in a primary February 17. The top six vote-getters will then proceed to the general election April 6.

Three four-year terms are in contention.

The two mayoral aspirants will skip the primary and go directly to the spring election.

The council list includes incumbents Mrs. Lottie Chambers and Elwood Grubb. Mrs. Chambers, a charter member of the council, will be seeking her fourth term. Grubb, appointed to fill a vacancy, will be facing his first election battle.

They will be in a fight with Earl Madary, Robert Dingledey, James Dufresne, Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. Arthur Cronin and Bill Van Gieson. None have been on the council previously.

Incumbent Howard Coe, who served for 10 of the council's 12 years, has announced his retirement.

Mayor Wesley McAtee, who governed for eight years, has joined Coe in stepping down. Either Charles McCall or Gilbert Willis will become Wixom's fourth mayor. The mayoral term is only two years.

McCall was elected to the council two years ago and thus has two years to go in his tenure there. If he's elected mayor a fourth council position will automatically open.

But that seat will not necessarily go to the fourth-place finisher in the election. The new council will appoint McCall's successor, if he becomes mayor, and may choose from any eligible voter in the city.

The two remaining council members are Mary Parvu and Gunnar Mettala. The election could upset the balance of power on the council, especially if the campaign focuses on the Loon Lake controversy as it likely will.

Mrs. Parvu and Grubb are steadfast foes of the Birch Park road program which would empty its storm drain into Loon Lake.

At least one prospective candidate, Mrs. Cronin, is in the race as an ally of the Parvu-Grubb faction. Her husband is president of the Birch Park Improvement Association.

The Birch Park association has been active in the fight to halt the $128,000 road project in its subdivision. Recently several association members won a temporary court injunction to stop the city from resuming the project.

The controversy surfaced in October when Oakland County Supervisor Lew Coy (R-Wixom) called county health department officials to check the drain. The health department sent a letter to Wixom claiming "the risks involved are too great" to permit the drain to discharge into Loon Lake.

Mayor McAtee echoed majority council sentiment when he blasted Coy's demand to either eliminate the pollution first or forego the project. "This will set the city back 20 years," he bemoaned.

But he reversed his position after angry citizens twice packed council meetings. And the council, led by Mrs. Parvu and Grubb, agreed to postpone the project for further investigation.

Then in November the council, with Mrs. Parvu and Grubb dissenting, changed its mind and voted to reactivate the project. That prompted the Birch Park association members to seek the court injunction.

At the height of the controversy some council members charged the issue was being exploited by political opportunists out after their seats. McAtee had been particularly under fire for his strident support of the project, and his retirement may defuse some of the expected vehemence in the race.

Crupi Keeps Promise, Puts Millage on Ballot

Work of an Arson?

Fire gutted the inside of this abandoned farmhouse on Nine Mile Road east of the C & O railroad crossing early Saturday morning. Edward Gunter, whose late brother (Frederick) had owned the house, inspects the ruins. Police arrested Barry Clark, 17, of 56999 West 10 Mile Road, South Lyon, and charged him with arson Monday night. He was arraigned Tuesday morning. Bond was set at $1,000 and trial set for January 30. Clark became a suspect when Corporal Dale Gross and Patrolman Jerry Pratt stopped him in a car which was cruising back and forth in front of the burning house. Police say the youth has confessed. He faces up to 20 years in state prison if convicted.

Novi residents can help Mayor Joseph Crupi keep a New Year's resolution by voting three extra mills for roads in the spring election.

At Crupi's request, the Novi city council moved unanimously Monday night to place a road referendum on the ballot April 6. Crupi had pledged to get more millage for roads in the Novi News' "Preview of the 70's."

"It is simply a question of suffering bad roads for years and later go into a road program at even higher costs; or initiate a program now and have immediate benefits at lower cost," Crupi said. "I am for the 'now' program and I firmly believe (it) will go a long way in getting us out of the mud."

The referendum will ask for three mills for 10 years for constructing and improving roads - or about $2 million in total tax revenue and $500,000 in potential bond receipts.

It will also seek to amend the charter to permit a 10-year levy. Currently the charter limits levies to three years.

"It's my opinion that we can't have a road program without a charter amendment," Crupi argued. "If we can't have a continuing road program, we might as well have none at all. And we can't have a 'continuing' road program for three years."

"I believe the road proposal and the charter amendment should stand or fall together."

Crupi's political career may also stand or fall with this referendum.

Councilman Edwinn Presnell has already promised to work against the referendum. Both he and the mayor are up for re-election in April.

"I voted to put it on the ballot because I think everyone should have a chance to decide for himself," Presnell explained. "But I do not think this is the best way to get new roads" (See related story).

Presnell was the most vocal of Crupi's opposition; but other councilmen voiced some hesitancy.

"I just want to make sure the public gets what it thinks its paying for," David Harrison said in urging the

Presnell Dislikes Millage

Councilman Edwinn Presnell thinks he has a better idea than Mayor Joseph Crupi on how to get more new roads in Novi. Presnell said Monday night he will fight Crupi's millage hike for roads. Instead of hitting the taxpayers, Presnell wants to hit the developers.

Presnell proposed an ordinance requiring developers to pay for having one side of roads on which their subdivision will have access. Denis Berry seconded, but the plan was tabled pending further investigation.

But it prompted a lively round of debate.

"My concern is for the people on the other side of the road," Crupi explained. "If the developer puts in half of a four-lane highway on his side, will the people on the other side have to foot the whole bill for the other half of the highway?"

Presnell admitted he didn't know but pointed out Westland and Livonia have enacted similar ordinances. Crupi then suggested the city manager look at the situation there and report back. Presnell and Berry agreed to postpone a decision.

If his assumption is correct, Crupi fears the proposal would mean a serious burden on people who happen to live across from a developing subdivision. The assessment for their share of the road could conceivably be many times more than the normal assessment.

Lawbreakers Make Excellent Taxpayers

People who violated city ordinances and traffic laws last year contributed $5,140 to Novi, $2,743 to South Lyon and $1,990 to Wixom.

These figures were released in the first annual report of the 52nd District Court, 1st Division, seated in Walled Lake.

Novi heads a list of seven municipalities which received money from the court. One-third of all fines collected are returned to the city or village which initiated the complaint.

Others in the division are Milford Village ($2,848), Wolverine Lake ($2,348), Walled Lake ($2,181) and Milford Township ($991).

The 52nd court replace six justices of the peace and the Walled Lake Municipal Court when the "JP" system was abolished January 1, 1969.

This court has jurisdiction only over traffic offenses, city and state misdemeanors and civil suits involving less than $3,000.

Judge Martin Boyle presided last year. The annual report shows he handled more than 7,000 traffic cases, more than 1,000 non-traffic misdemeanors and 1,458 civil cases.

Rec Board Outlines Plan

If everything works out as planned, Novi will have a rounded recreation program this summer.

The newly-created Novi Recreation Board has prepared a tentative schedule calling for two daily sessions at two locations for two age groups.

The recreation board has set the times at 9 a.m.-1 p.m. and 3 p.m.-7 p.m. going simultaneously at Orchard Hills Elementary School and Novi Elementary School. The mornings will probably be for children ages six through ten, the afternoons for ages ten through 16.

These guidelines came out of a January 15 meeting at Novi High School, only the second official meeting of the recreation board.

The program is expected to run on a budget of $4,000, including $1,200 for a program director, $1,000 for equipment, $800 for two playground supervisors, and $600 for a recreational specialist, a committee spokesman said.

The specialist will be responsible for giving lessons in golf, swimming, archery, and horseback riding.

Most of these activities will be centered in the older age group. But the younger group should be able to do some swimming and horseback riding.

The recreation board will work out a more specific curriculum with the program director when he's hired. The board is currently advertising for all the anticipated positions.

The recreation board will now hold regular monthly meetings open to the public. Next one will be Feb. 19 at the high school.

A-choo! . . . A Pox on Flu

Watery eyes? Runny nose? Muscle aches? Temperature?

If that description matches the image you see in the mirror, you're a candidate for the latest outbreak of influenza.

While the kids are home polka-dotted with chicken pox. Mom and Dad are reaching for the last piece of tissue and popping down two more aspirin to combat those aches and pains.

Doctors caution against labeling the outbreak an "epidemic," since the calls received by their offices have run just slightly above what is normal for January. As yet, the virus has not been identified, they report, though it is striking those not hit in last year's bout.

Student absenteeism this week is the same or lower than last week, with some classes reporting perfect attendance. Orchard Hills, Amerman and Moraine elementaries are reporting more cases of chicken pox than normal for this time of year.

Flu may have avoided the schools, but it is attacking the adults. Nearly 25 percent of the Northville Township employees have been partner to the flu, along with several officers in the police departments of Novi and Northville. Two Northville officers ran gambit with flu, only to be bed-ridden with pneumonia.

Medical journals say a marked rise in incidence of pneumonia, a complication of influenza, usually accompanies flu outbreaks.

Flu catchers can consider themselves cosmopolitan, if nothing else. Influenza, an Italian word, was given to the disease when first recorded in epidemic proportions in 1173 in Italy, Germany and England. But it wasn't until 1932 that the virus was isolated and named (Virus A) by British bacteriologist Wilson Smith.

None the less, the kids still have the edge. Once they finish with the polka-dots, they are usually immune for life. Not so with the flu. Depending upon what virus it is (A, B or C), it'll be back in two, four or six year intervals.

Hand me a tissue, please.

appointments of Bruce Turnbull and William Bingley to the planning commission; okayed a contract for the city's participation in the Wayne County Police Task Force, an emergency mutual-aid police force involving several western Wayne county communities; granted the transfer of some $30,000 mostly from the contingency fund to police and DPW funds; okayed the manager's plan for selling large trash containers to commercial establishments and providing free pick-up; and sanctioned a study of future library needs by the city-township library commission.

The council also approved the expenditure of some $800 for soil tests at the fish hatchery to determine if the site is suitable for construction of tennis courts, skating rink or buildings.

A public hearing was scheduled for February 16 to consider a request for rezoning of 2.7 acres on the east side of Taft road just north of Eight Mile. George Lloyd of Redford township is seeking a change from residential to professional zoning so that a 15,000 square foot office building can be erected.

The planning commission recommended the rezoning by a 6-1 vote. But the city's planning consultants have advised against the change. Slated to be heard by the planning commission on February 3 is a request for rezoning of the northeast corner parcel at Taft and Eight Mile for a gasoline service station.

George Kohs, a resident of Cady street, complained to the city council that the construction of a fence by the school board along the north side of Cady street behind community building property depreciates his property. He also told the council that he believed the school board was in violation of the fence ordinance and that the structure was on street right-of-way property.

Manager Ollendorff replied that the fence was not in violation, that it was on school property and that it complied with the city's zoning ordinance.

He said the only thing the school board hadn't done was to obtain a building permit before erecting the 6-foot chain link fence. "But school districts aren't required to obtain permits for such construction, so they're not in violation there, either," the manager added.

At the direction of the council the manager promised to meet with Kohs and the city engineer to determine exactly the location of the fence in relation to street right-of-way.

Levitt to Build Homes in Factory

In announcing this past week the formation of a new subsidiary to produce factory-built homes by mechanized assembly line methods at Battle Creek, Levitt and Sons emphasized that it has no intentions of using these kinds of homes in its proposed development here.

"Our plans call for the construction of our units (in Northville) in accordance with existing codes and regulations and we have no plans to introduce factory-built homes in Northville," Levitt's Coordinator of Community Affairs William Voss told The Record.

Irwin Adler, manager of Levitt's Detroit area operation, echoed Voss' assertion, pointing out that a Detroit press story linking the Northville proposal with the factory-built homes concept was "false."

The World's largest home builder, Levitt has plans for a gigantic 900-home community of single family and townhouse development for the "gravel pit" area just east of the Northville city limits, between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

Much of the planning and engineering for this development has been completed and has received preliminary approval by Northville township planners.

Although Levitt through its Detroit manager recently explored the possibility with planners of adjusting its plans here to include only townhouses, a formal request has not yet been made.

Concerning its factory proposal at Battle Creek, which drew the praise of Governor William Milliken, Levitt contends that "sectionalized housing" to originate in the factory "can help solve our present shelter dilemma by providing quality housing at moderate cost."

Sectionalized housing - sometimes referred to as pre-fab homes - is defined as both detached and multiple residential units produced either in whole or in significant part in a factory.

Levitt envisions this type of housing as three-dimensional building modules transported from its proposed Battle Creek factory to points of use in the Midwest.

In 1949, Levitt revolutionized the building industry by introducing mass production techniques to combat the post World War II housing shortage.

"Ever since then," said Richard M. Wasserman, president of the corporation, "the spirit and keystone of the company's philosophy has been 'innovation'. Sectionalized housing can be a definitive step forward in reducing the housing crisis of the 70's."

The first housing units designed for production by the new subsidiary are townhouses.

The Battle Creek factory will have a floor area of 140,000 square feet to house the mechanized assembly lines, corporate offices and other facilities. The first units are scheduled for late Fall, 1970, increasing to a rate equivalent to 2,000 dwelling units per year after an initial shakedown period.

roads are to be built by the city, for instance, are expected to pay only for their share of a typical suburban street - even if the road being built is a four-lane highway according to current council planning.

The council did agree on one new ordinance Monday, unanimously passing a law designed to prevent interference or vandalism in and around schools.

Council also had the first reading of a proposed "disorderly person" ordinance. Council is expected to act on it in two weeks.

Police Chief Lee BeGole asked for a special ordinance for snowmobile drivers, in addition to the "disorderly person" one. Council agreed to have one drawn up.

Leon Dochot of Novi withdrew his request to serve as city warrant officer after BeGole said his force could take care of serving warrants and transporting prisoners. Judge Martin Boyle of 52nd District Court, 1st Division, said in a letter that his court did not need a warrant officer either.

Senator Rapped

he had spoken to an aide of the Governor and that he has some "reservations" about Pursell but that in the final analysis it is the Governor, not himself, who appoints.

Kuhn, whose district includes Northville and Plymouth, said he would not engage in a name-calling battle nor comment on Pursell's possible candidacy for the senate seat.

The senator said if Pursell's nomination came to the floor for confirmation he would not publicly oppose the appointment but "probably take a walk" during the vote.

Pursell, who admitted that he is eyeing the GOP nomination race for Kuhn's senate seat and that he would announce his decision within 30 to 45 days, said Kuhn's opposition obviously was prompted by the senator's fear of his possible candidacy.

"Our carpetbagger senator has declined to support a Republican who has lived 36 years in both Oakland and Wayne County and has served as a Republican Party leader for many years," commented Pursell.

"It's difficult to understand how a senator who has not lived in this district, but ran on his brother's coattails in the 1966 election would not support a Republican selected by the Governor.

"The traffic and transportation problems of this area need attention and my interest and concern to offer leadership will continue regardless of the senator's lack of support," he said.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A man who should know has informed Governor William Milliken that Michigan needs a State Commission on Investigations.

Wayne County Circuit Judge George E. Bowles, who served as a one-man grand juror for one year from 1966 to 1967, has written to the Governor supporting recommendations made by the Governor's committee on the "Investigation of Organized Crime and Public Corruption."

Judge Bowles, who incidentally moved back to Plymouth recently after several years' residency in Grosse Pointe, stated in a January 8 letter to Governor Milliken that "the one-man grand juries in Oakland and Wayne counties did establish the existence of organized crime in the State of Michigan" but that experience has demonstrated the limited effectiveness of either the one-man or 23-man grand jury insofar as dealing with sophisticated and powerful organized crime.

I know from private discussions with Judge Bowles that the scope and influence of organized crime surpass the imagination of the average citizen. I know, too, that placing the responsibility of heading up such an investigation, particularly on a limited time basis, creates pressure and conflict humanly impossible to bear without ill effects.

It is Judge Bowles' conclusion that the concept of a permanent State Commission on Investigations would plug up most of the loopholes in the one-man county system of investigation.

First of all statewide jurisdiction would be achieved. Continuity of existence would be assured, adequate financing and independent non-partisan status achieved.

Judge Bowles also points to the advantage of having a qualified professional investigative staff which would require "strategic intelligence, highly coordinated on a statewide basis" which implies to me that such a commission to be effective cannot depend upon existing local and county enforcement agencies which already may be infiltrated by organized crime.

Interestingly, he cites "public understanding and support" as the most important consequence of such a state commission. He states that these ingredients are not forthcoming with one-man or citizen grand juries.

In other words, he'd continue with the far-from-perfect one-man and citizen grand jury systems until a better method for combating organized crime had been tested and proven.

Finally, while supporting the proposal for a constitutional amendment that would make the establishment of a State Commission on Investigations possible, Judge Bowles cautions that "we should not scrap any present weapon unless we are certain we have in operation something better."

There's a suspicion here that a city council study on the merits (and demerits) of a city income tax has been pigeon-holed.

It's generally conceded that the income tax is far more equitable in its application than the property tax. Certainly it holds advantages for retirees or persons on limited incomes owning their own homes.

On the other hand, there are definite disadvantages in introducing an income tax, not the least of which are political.

At any rate, enlightenment cannot hurt.

C'mon fellas, tell us what's in your study report.

Martin Miller

YES...

There are implied in the question some errors made in our foreign policy in the past. Yes, we have made errors, and bringing the boys home is part of the necessary correction.

1. We are there by a subterfuge in violation of our constitution.

2. International law forbids any troops on foreign soil without due process.

3. The 1954 Geneva Accord specifically stated the terms of a Vietnam truce. We flagrantly violated that international agreement.

4. Learned men throughout the world are frank in their assessment of our mistakes.

5. Our defoliation, search and destroy policies are morally indefensible.

6. Since we are traditionally anti-imperialist we should not take on the mantle of imperialism.

7. The tradition of self-determination we helped to establish must be respected.

8. Our economy is suffering by our continued presence in Vietnam, our progress toward useful and necessary social improvements hindered.

It is now past time to change our course. We must do this as quickly as possible. The first step is for us to humble ourselves and acknowledge our mistakes; then let our legislators know our convictions, so they become responsive. In this way our country can retain its leadership in the application of human values.

Speaking for Myself

Vietnam: Pull Out Now?

Robert Pohlman

NO...

"Do not desert the search for freedom in South Vietnam and the world" asserts the American Legion.

"War is hell!" No statement is truer than that; and no human is more aware of that truth than one who has been in war - A Veteran.

The American Legion, an organization composed of veterans, is representative of those men who have been 'to hell and back'. Naturally we cannot speak for all veterans or all citizens. During the history of man, or if you will, the history of our great country there have been those who would evade the draft, desert from the ranks or in various other ways avoid paying their 'dues' for the continuation of this Society of Free Men. We can only speak for those who love and appreciate Freedom and are willing to defend it against all aggressors.

The American Legion - nationally, statewide and locally - has repeatedly supported our President and his decisions regarding "Nam". Don't be mistaken; we are as concerned about our sons who are presently or potentially servicemen as anyone else. But we and they recognize our responsibilities as Americans, Patriots and Free Men.

When the voices and weapons of totalitarianism are raised against the 'Rights of Man' we must NOT desert those who look to us as the Shield for Democratic Growth.

The American Legion asserts that it is far better to quell the enemies of Freedom in foreign fields than to retreat to our own national boundaries and eventually engage them in our homeland.

Robert J. Pohlman, Commander
Northville American Legion

Ex-Trustee Scraps Recall Drive Here

To the Editor:

We completed a tally of the signatures obtained on our recall petition for the three board members and find that we have the bare minimum of the number of signatures required by state law to force a recall election. We are sure that some of the signatures we have will not stand up because of some technicality, and as time is running out on the first signatures obtained, we are not at this time planning to continue to obtain the other 50 to 75 signatures we feel are necessary to make sure there would be enough valid signature to force the recall election; so as of now there is no recall campaign for the three township board members. Interested people will just have to wait until the November election to do anything about this Township board.

I have thanked personally, but would like to thank publicly, all of the persons who have worked so hard to circulate this recall petition, and also all of the residents who so willingly signed the petition. These are the real people in our township who are concerned about our Township Government and the direction our Township Board has and is following. I sincerely hope that by election time this year, enough people will have become informed to vote for a change in our board. Then maybe we can have a board that represents the entire township and not just three or four board members.

Very truly yours,
Thomas Armstrong

Foot-Long Dent Angers Driver

To the Editor:

I would like to express my disgust and anger to the person who drives a red car in this town. On Thursday Jan. 16, 1970 while parked in Northville's municipal parking lot by Northville Drug Store at 3:20 p.m.; I would like to thank you for leaving a one foot long dent on the left rear side of our 1967 yellow Camaro.

A person with any principle and character would have left their name and phone number. This would have taken a total of five minutes. If your conscience bothers you about this matter, please call me.

State Hospital Thanks Readers

To the Editor:

Members of our staff join me in expressing our appreciation to the many readers of the Northville Record who have helped us remember, during the Christmas season, our "forgotten patients." In addition to many gifts for individual patients, several organizations and employee groups devoted their generous contributions to special needs throughout our units. With such sharing, Christmas at Northville State Hospital indeed was brighter.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

As soon as she put her arm around my neck I knew she was up to no good, and when she whispered, "You're an open-minded man," it was like the whisper of wind just before the funnel drives a straw through your heart.

"Yes, I guess I am," I answered swelling my chest.

"Well, then, if I were Janey Hart you wouldn't be mad at me, would you?"

"Who is Janey Hart?"

"Mrs. Hart the Senator's wife," she snapped.

"Oh, that Janey Hart. No, I wouldn't be mad. Wives have a right to their own opinions. They are slaves, of course, but even the Southern taskmasters permitted an occasional opinion from their slaves."

The Michigan Senator's wife, you'll recall, said some prayers in the lobby of the Pentagon as a public peace demonstration, was arrested, tried and is now awaiting the judge's verdict.

Her involvement in the peace demonstration and the resulting trial is seen by many as a timebomb in Senator Hart's re-election bid. I happen to be one of those "apparently few people who believe the Senator ought not to be judged in the polling place by the actions of his wife. Neither do I believe Attorney General Mitchell's popularity should rise and fall on the exercise of his wife's mouth.

But back to my story. My wife's smile had disappeared and in its place was a snarl:

"If you're so open-minded about these things why don't you practice what you preach?"

"Why, what do you mean by that?" I asked innocently.

"Just what I said. Ten years ago you raised the roof just because I signed a petition against that new liquor place."

For an instant I couldn't recall the incident and then when it did begin to dent my memory I was speechless. Wives have an unsavory habit of digging old discards out of the closet and dusting them in a guy's face.

"Well?" she asked, breaking the silence.

"Well," I sputtered, "that was different."

"Different! The only difference was that I wasn't photographed and arrested!"

"No, but it was embarrassing just the same. When I defended liquor and that minister waved the petition in my face...well, what could I say? Besides, an editor's wife isn't suppose to have an opinion - at least not one different than her husband's."

Some things are better left unsaid. Such as what followed my last remark.

Suffice it to say that after giving the matter a good deal more thought, I've concluded, perhaps like Senator Hart and Attorney General Mitchell, that it's a whole lot safer to risk public abuse than to try to straighten matters out in the home.

Tourism Tops National Increase

LANSING — It probably comes as no surprise, but Michigan's tourist industry has grown by leaps and bounds during the past decade.

The amount of money tourists spent in the state last year was exactly double of what they spent in 1959, with total spending coming to $1.3 billion, compared to $650 million.

Michigan not only has kept even with the national increase, it surpassed it since spending in the entire country rose only 88 percent from $17 billion to $32 billion.

THE GROWTH is the result of a concerted effort on the part of state, regional and local organizations as well as heavy participation of private firms and individuals.

The total investment by the private sector over the 10-year period is estimated at $100 million by the Michigan Tourist Council.

The number of Michigan businesses directly serving tourists increased from 28,000 in 1959 to 40,000 in 1969, and these figures don't include gas stations and retail stores which derive much of their income from dollars of tourists.

The result of the increase in businesses is an increase in the number of employes in the tourist field from 100,000 to 140,000.

THERE ARE many other statistics showing the increase in tourism in the state. The number of tourists visiting Michigan last year is put somewhere between 14 million and 20 million, depending on whose estimates are used.

In 1959, the total number of tourists was 9,750,000.

The total number of miles traveled on state highways jumped from 32 billion in 1959 to 50.5 billion last year.

The number of commercial airline passengers in Michigan skyrocketed from 3.6 million in 1962 to 9.3 million last year.

SOURCES IN the Governor's office say Gov. William G. Milliken intends to attempt to put even more effort into the state's tourism business in the next year.

Milliken, when the Council issued its report, said he was "highly encouraged" by the rapid growth of tourism.

"I was highly encouraged to learn that the decade of the 1960's saw the greatest 10-year growth in tourism in the history of Michigan," he said.

"We have tremendous potential for further growth," the Governor said. "It should be possible to achieve a total expenditure of about $3 billion in the 1970's. But before we realize this potential, we must deal with a number of problems, including highway development. We also must have adequate backing of tourist promotion."

MICHIGAN IS far from the only state in which parochialism has become a burning issue, and with state legislatures reconvening across the nation in January the issue has heated up again.

Most state aid plans, including the one proposed last year by Gov. William G. Milliken, are patterned after the so-called "Pennsylvania Plan" adopted by the Pennsylvania legislature in 1968.

It provides for the state to pay part of the salaries of parochial school teachers who instruct students in secular subjects.

The theory is that the state thus is not supporting religion, but is purchasing services.

STATE AID plans similar to Pennsylvania's were enacted during 1969 in Ohio, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

They were defeated, however, in 17 other legislatures, including Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Vermont, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Aid bills either have been or will be introduced in all 17 of those states this year and in several others besides. Whichever way the votes go, the issue surely will come back again and again in following years.

CURRENTLY there are more than 12,000 Catholic elementary and high schools in America.

These schools are educating about 4,860,000 children.

Enrollment has dropped nearly 700,000 pupils during the past three years, however, and additional school closings are said to be imminent in many states with large Catholic populations.

Backers of parochialism say state aid is the only thing which can stop this downward trend in enrollment by alleviating the burdens caused by ever rising prices.

Opponents say the public schools could handle all the parochial school students cheaper than it would cost to aid parochial schools and that any state aid, no matter what its form, violates the principle of separation of church and state.

Babson Reports

Discount Stores Set Trend

Currently there is a strong trend back toward the community shopping center of generations past, but with the big difference that it will be in the form of a gigantic discount market with annual sales of some $10 million. Already, food stores reporting sales of better than $1 million a year account for more than half of total grocery sales, up from only 15% twenty years ago. The average annual volume for an individual outlet of a supermarket chain (a firm with eleven or more units) is $1.7 million. And this will be dwarfed by stores of even more impressive size and scope that will be opening during the course of the 1970's.

Many factors have contributed to the changes in customer habits that have given impetus to the move toward larger, more diversified markets. The grand migration from city to suburbia has caused the death of hundreds of "family" groceries unable to match the vast buying power of the upcoming giants. Consumers have come to enjoy shelf-shopping rather than the over-the-counter buying of years gone by, with the enormous visual arrays resulting in the purchase of more and more foods. While the population over the past decade has risen at a rate of 1.7% a year, expenditures of food have increased 3%.

Added to the pulling-power of supermarkets is the preponderance of frozen foods, prepared dishes, and convenience items that have become available in ever-mounting numbers over the past twenty years. Additionally, 35% of American families enjoy an annual income in excess of $10,000, up sharply from only 8% in 1950. With this increase in affluence, the housewife is upgrading her family's diet. For example, per capita consumption of meat rose from 176.7 pounds in 1950 to 219.5 pounds for the latest year of record.

BUT, PROFIT margins for grocery chains have dropped from 1.44% in 1957 to just under 1% in 1969. Higher labor and construction costs have been largely responsible, although rising wholesale prices — for the most part absorbed by the retailer — and increasing pressure from sharpening competition have played their roles. Two roads to better profitability are being tried by supermarkets: Diversification into non-food items where there is a wider profit margin, and elimination of fringe incentives such as trading stamps (but in some instances replacing these with discount pricing in hopes of upping profits through higher turnover volume).

Leading supermarkets chains are looking for increased sales and earnings through 1970. Most labor agreements signed in 1968 are for three years, with the biggest dent in profits being made in the first year. Hence, this part of increased costs for the remaining two years will be minimal. Wholesale prices, which were increasing over earlier months, may show some softening as 1970 works along. This decline for the most part will not be passed on to the consumer, but more probably used to offset that part of the earlier increase absorbed by the companies in order to remain competitive.

The research staff of Babson's Reports — generally optimistic on supermarkets despite continuing inflation problems — recommends current purchase for appreciation of Kroger Company, price near 28 (NYSE), buy ceiling 36; Pueblo Supermarkets, price near 22 (NYSE), ceiling 25; and Weis, price near 35 (NYSE), ceiling 38.

CONTINUATION OF PLANNING COMMISSION REPORT

Mr. Wheaton asked Council if they were familiar with Planning Commission minutes of December 16th in relation to the Novi Well Site property and was told they were aware of them. Mr. Wheaton stated it was a rather unusual situation and Planning Commission thought a discussion was recommended. He hoped good planning was a major consideration in Council's decision on this matter. City Mgr. said he thought the next step might be a Public Meeting to discuss the matter of open space usage for this area. After much discussion as to various Councilman's opinions on the matter, it was decided to leave the adjacent parcels zoned as they are presently. Chairman Wheaton asked if he understood City Mgr.'s statement "best economic reasons are not always the best planning reasons."

CONTINUATION OF AMBULANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

City Mgr. reported that Councilman Nichols and Lapham met and he then read their "Ambulance Committee Report." City Mgr. reviewed the ambulances available: 1966 Oldsmobile (98) - 40,000 - $5400; 1965 Oldsmobile (98) - 4,000; 1964 Oldsmobile (98) - 50,000 - $3000; 1960-61 Cadillac are usually about $1,000 to $1,500. City Manager would like the pay scale approved for stand-by ambulance people and the money approved for ambulance purchase and transferred from Contingency to General Fund.

CONTINUATION OF POLICE CAR BIDS OPENING:

Moved by Folino, support by Nichols, to accept low bid of Dameron Motor Sales of Farmington in the amount of $1496.65; because of the way specifications were submitted and in order to comply with specifications. Yeas: Folino, Lapham and Nichols. Nays: Allen. Motion carried.

Councilman Folino requested that accurate records be kept of the repair costs to Police Cars and cost of officer's time in travelling to and from Farmington, and whether officer stayed at Dameron Motor Sales' garage while car was being repaired; these records to be kept for one year or until next bids for police cars.

Councilman Nichols moved specifications for Police Car bids be sent to dealers within 7 mile radius from Northville instead of 15 miles. Above motion withdrawn by Councilman Nichols.

Council unanimously agreed to appoint Councilman Nichols as liaison member from the Northville City Council to the City Charter Review Advisory Commission.
SIDEWALK REPORT

City Mgr. distributed Memo No. 70-1 and a map showing (1) Good Streets - missing sidewalk (2) Poor streets - missing sidewalk. A Work Session will be held to discuss a definite program on above.

Moved by Folino, support by Nichols, to approve salary of $9500 per yr. and regular over-time pay at non-supervisory rates (approximately $360 for 6 months) for position of Asst. DPW Supt., beginning January 26, 1970. Unanimously carried.

City announced appointment of Ted Mapes for position of Asst. DPW Supt.
MISCELLANEOUS

Councilman Folino asked about the vacation of West St. - relative to blocking of north-south sidewalk. City Mgr. will check this.

Councilman Nichols reported on the request from Judge Davis wherein he stated it is time to make the quarterly payment to the District No. 35 Court - in same proportion as cases determined by Judge - approximately 25% for the City of Northville. The exact share cannot be computed until early in 1971. City of Northville's share based on 25% would be $1919.50 and is asking for check for that amount.

Moved by Nichols, support by Lapham, that City Mgr. be instructed to send a check, as requested for payment, to District No. 35 Court.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Slides Explain Upcoming Election

In a unique move to insure that voters are familiar with the bond issue slated for February 14, Northville school officials and citizens have prepared a slide presentation covering all proposed additions and renovations.

The slide study was previewed by members of the community Thursday, January 29, at 8 p.m. in Northville High's Auditorium.

The presentation is sponsored by the PTA Coordinating Council.

Included in the study is an explanation of the bid before bond procedure used for the first time in Northville and in Michigan.

Under this process, voters will be asked to approve the exact cost of the school additions and renovations as presented by the firms submitting bids tonight, Thursday, at a special bid opening session beginning at 8 p.m.

Unlike the old system, voters will be assured of getting exactly what they approve. Raymond Spear, superintendent of Northville schools, said,

"The cost will be known, Spear said, and 'we will not be forced to eliminate parts of the building program because bids came in for more money than the voters approved.'"

Additions and renovations to the schools will boost the district's capacity to 4,574 or 980 more students than the present capacity of 3,594.

Earl Busard, business manager of the district, said the decision to "add on to present facilities will save on the construction of hallways, boiler room and office facilities and added maintenance personnel."

The slide presentation is also available for showings in homes. Scheduling of these showings can be arranged by contacting your PTA representative.

Lyon Isn't King--Novi Wins Cage First

A 10-game losing streak came to a halt Friday on the edge of a razor thin free shot as Novi squeezed past arch-rival South Lyon, 58-57, at South Lyon.

The victory was the first this season for the Wildcats and first ever in the Southeastern Conference. The loss tumbled the Lions into a tie for the league cellar with Novi, both having 1-6 marks going into Saturday's games.

It was a free-shot off the arm of Phil McMillan in the closing seconds of play that finally decided the game after four quarters of see-saw action.

With less than a minute to play South Lyon clung to a two-point lead on the strength of two baskets from the charity line by Lion Brad Lloyd.

But McMillan came back with a two-point, was fouled in the process, and then netted the game winning free shot.

Lloyd uncorked a shot in a desperate effort to pull out the victory but the ball rolled off the rim at the buzzer.

Both teams had ample opportunities to break the game open but failed to capitalize on the breaks.

The Wildcats, playing one of their best games of the season, jumped off to an early lead and held on to a two-point, 17-15 edge going into the second quarter.

Coach Bill Thomas' cagers outscored the visitors in the second period, however, and left the floor with a 29-28 edge, at the intermission.

In that first half McMillan was the big gun for the Wildcats, picking up four field goals. But the real scoring punch was turned in by the Lions' Glenn Wiseman, who netted four field goals in the first period and added three free throws in five trips to the line in the second quarter.

Both teams came back cold in the third stanza, with the Coach Jim Ladd's taking the edge and regaining a tie, 41-41.

Forward Rick Hill led the Wildcats in scoring with 18 points, with two of them coming off the line and the remainder from the floor. Second high was McMillan with 13.

Two players hit double figures for the Lions, with Dave Brandon taking top honors with 20 points followed closely by Wiseman with 19.

South Lyon outscored Novi at the line, cashing in on 21 of its 40 shots for a 52-percent pace. Novi converted 12 of its 25 shots for 48-percent but took the edge in field goals, 23-18.

South Lyon gained some satisfaction from its encounter with Novi as its junior varsity five swept the preliminary game, 68-48, behind the effort of Ron Wiseman and Jim McIntosh, each of whom garnered 17 points. Scoring laurels for Novi went to John Pantalone and Steve Bosak, both of whom scored 11 points.

The South Lyon squad got off to a fast start, taking an 18-5 first quarter lead and what appeared to be a runaway victory. But Novi fought back in the second quarter, cutting South Lyon's lead to only three points, 28-25, at the intermission.

The third period was a repeat of the first, however, with South Lyon pushing far out in front, 46-33, going into the final quarter.

Streak Stopped at One

Close on the heels of its first conference win, Novi ran into a fired-up Dexter quintet Saturday night and an 81-59 defeat.

Dexter wrapped up the victory early, taking a 22-first quarter lead then pulling out of range at the half, 49-33, despite a 19-point burst by the Wildcats.

The hosts kept up their sizzling pace in the third quarter, pumping in 21 more points while Novi's offense slipped to 9 - its poorest quarter effort of the game.

Center Bob Vivian was the big gun for Novi, picking up 19 points on the strength of a 5 for 5 free throw effort and seven shots from the floor. Dennis Diem' and Dave Fear were runners-up, with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Forward Greg Tanni was high for Dexter with 26 points, followed by Mike Kinsaschuk at 15.

Dexter posted a hot 81-percent effort at the free throw line, converting 21 of its 26 shots. Novi came off with 11 of its 21 shots for 52-percent.

The Wildcats failed to follow the example of Novi's junior varsity squad, which bounced back from a two-point deficit at the three-quarter mark to claim a 51-43 victory.

Schoolcraft Tops

Swim Triangular

Schoolcraft swimmers garnered seven firsts in posting a win at a triangular meet at Oakland University Friday.

The local tankers dinked both Calvin College and Oakland Community College in piling up 68 points to Calvin's second-place effort of 59 points.

First place winners for Schoolcraft included:

400 yard medley relay - Ted Wasilewski, Dave McCollum, Stan Swiatkowski, and Jim Doherty, time of 4:27.1

50 yard freestyle - Wasilewski, 24.3.

200 yard individual medley - Craig Notebaert, 2:20.

Diving - Craig Auten, 170 7 points.

200 yard butterfly - Swiatkowski, 2:34.9.

200 yard backstroke - Notebaert, 2.24.

400 yard freestyle relay - Notebaert, Swiatkowski, Wasilewski, and Ray Woods the opponent's net. At the end of the first quarter it was Novi's game, 12-8. That four-point lead held up to the intermission, 27-23, but disappeared by the end of the third quarter.

A 13-point output by Bob Pisha was high for Novi, with Andy Bowman in the second position with 10 points. Dexter's leading scorer was Brad Rutledge at 16.

Northville Wrestlers Outmatched

Despite a commendable 2-1 conference record, Coach Jack Townsley admits his Northville wrestlers will be hopelessly outmatched in tonight's home meet with defending champion Waterford Kettering.

"We've been hurt a lot by injuries," Townsley explains. "For instance, we have to forfeit the 185-pound division every meet."

Brad Conklin was supposed to be Townsley's 185-pounder. But he's been out all season with a knee problem. Conklin, who finished fourth in the state last year, was expected to inherit the state championship this year.

Townsley has also lost two top men at 115 pounds. Captain Mark Griffin is just starting to practice after missing the entire season thus far. His replacement, freshman Bill Norton who won his only three matches, is out now because of a nose operation.

Townsley was hoping to use Joe French, a transfer student from Detroit Country Day, in Conklin's place at 185. But French is unavailable because of stomach trouble. That means Northville gives away an automatic five points at 185 every meet.

Since Townsley began with only an average team this year, his pessimism about Kettering seems understandable. Besides, Northville's last two meets didn't do much in raising his hopes.

Clarkston bombed the Mustangs, 43-9, January 9, and Walled Lake Western whopped them 37-9, on January 15. In each meet, Northville won three matches on decisions.

Against Clarkston the individual winners were John Fialon (107), David Griffin (123) and Randy Marburger (165). Against Western they were Jim Armstrong (137), Marburger (165) and Rick Lamp (175).

Previous to the two losses, Northville had walloped Bloomfield Hills, 38-8, January 6. In that meet, four Mustangs won by pins, all in the first round.

They were Fialon (107), Norton (115), Griffin (123), and Marburger (165).

Northville's January record dropped its overall mark to 3-3 in dual competition.

The Mustangs have been even less fortunate in tournament action. They finished seventh out of eight teams in the Fenton Invitational Saturday.

Lamp took a third to become the only Northville medalist in the tourney.

Northville will be one of 16 teams in another invitational Saturday. Hosted by Jackson High School, the Michigan Center Tournament will feature wrestlers from across the state, including some with national and international experience.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS

Thursday, January 22, 1970

TIPPING THROUGH THE TULIPS - The ball went up for grabs in a tussle below the Northville basket in last week's game against West Bloomfield. Northville senior Richard Adams (10) tipped the ball back to his waiting teammates and thus frustrated the taller Bloomfield frontmen. As a matter of fact, Bloomfield went home frustrated, losing, 51-59.

Barons' W-O Lead on Line

Bloomfield Hills stamped itself Friday night as the team to beat in the Wayne-Oakland Conference by overpowering Brighton, 65-57 on the Barons' home court.

The victory snapped Brighton's five-game winning streak in the league and enabled Bloomfield Hills to take over the top spot with a 6-0 record. Brighton is 5-1.

But there won't be much time for the Barons to gloat over their victory. The W-O race is that close.

Friday night they will put their undefeated record on the line at West Bloomfield, where the two arch-rivals will clash in what promises to be the top game of the night in the W-O.

West Bloomfield, which dropped to 4-2 as a result of a 51-49 loss to Northville Friday, is still very much in the race and will be priming for an upset.

In other games Friday night, Brighton will journey to Clarkston to meet the Wolves, who lost to Milford last Friday, 65-59, while Northville will play Kettering at Waterford and Milford will travel to Clarenceville.

In the only other game last Friday, Kettering nipped Clarenceville, 65-48. Rick Colonna, the 6'2½" senior for the Captains sparked the victory with a 19-point spree. Teammate Mitch Foltz bagged 15 points for Kettering.

Chip Meyrellis had a game high of 22 points, and Bob Ridling, the Trojans' marksman guard, gained runner-up honors with 12 points.

Ron Hubbard keyed Northville's victory over West Bloomfield. He scored 21 points as his team notched a 33-25 halftime lead, only to see West Bloomfield take a momentary lead in the third quarter. Northville then surged to a 10-point advantage, before the Lakers spurred in the waning moments.

'Best Effort Since Fenton'

"It was about our best team effort since the Fenton game."

That's how Coach Bob Kucher summarized the Mustangs' 51-49 triumph over West Bloomfield, the W-O five that came to town favored to cart off its fifth league victory of the season.

"All of our guys played well; they rebounded aggressively, and they hustled all four quarters - something they haven't been doing regularly."

Key to the win, said Kucher, was "our defense. We played zone, and they (Lakers) came back in the second half without any major adjustments.

"We were worried about Johnston (West Bloomfield's scoring ace, Dave Johnston). He's got good size, and they try to get the ball inside to him. Our kids covered him well; most of the credit goes to (Kerry) Cushing, (Bernie) Bach, and (Steve) Utley. They guarded him well and did an outstanding job on the boards.

"Also, they weren't able to fast break us - something they like to do - so they didn't get many cheap baskets.

"Another thing: We had only 15 turnovers, which isn't bad at all for a high school team. Some of these resulted because of an over-eagerness on our part."

Although Northville could have won more handsily had it been more accurate with its free shots late in the game, it "was ironic that the game was decided at the free shot line," said Kucher.

Encouraged by his squad's performance, the Northville coach says it's an unsafe assumption that tomorrow's game at Kettering will be an easy one. "They're erratic," said Kucher, playing well one night, bad another. We can't let down; we could be playing them the night they're up."

Scoring Ace Shot Down

Mustangs Dump Lakers Here

"Never give up" may be an overworked cliché but it produced a thrilling 51-49 over favored West Bloomfield here Friday night as Northville bounced back after losing its lead in the third quarter.

The victory toppled the Lakers (4-2) from second place in the Wayne-Oakland League and shook up their ace center, 6'4½" Don Johnston, whose widely heralded 25-point average took a nosedive. Johnston was limited to three first-half field goals and a single charity shot in the third quarter.

Defensive rebounding and an edge at the free throw line were decisive factors in this second Northville victory in three starts since the holidays. The Mustangs picked up 24 defensive rebounds, just four on offense. And even though their performance at the charity line wasn't much to write home about, their 60-percent (15 of 25) pace was better than the 45-percent (7 of 17) turned in by Art Paddy's crew.

The Lakers had the edge in field goals, however, 21 to 18. Northville hit 42-percent of its 43 shots.

Off to an aggressive, fast start, the Mustangs led throughout most of the game, momentarily losing their edge in the third quarter as their shooting performance fell apart.

Northville led 15-13 at the end of the first quarter, stretching its lead to eight points at the half, 33-25. But as the third quarter got underway, the Lakers chipped away at that lead until with just 1½ minutes remaining in the visitors went out front 37-36.

Northville scored just two points during the first half of the third period. But by the end of the quarter Coach Bob Kucher's quintet still clung to the lead by a razor thin point, 39-38.

The Mustangs built up a 10-point lead in the final quarter 51-41 with 2½ minutes to play. But in the closing minutes the Lakers shaved the lead to just two points.

Each team saw one of its players foul out in the last quarter - Forward Dick Schmalzried for the Lakers and Northville's lanky center, Kerry Cushing, who turned in one of his finest performances of the season. Cushing went out with just 36 seconds to go.

Forward Ron Hubbard continued to pace the Mustangs, firing 21 points to lead in scoring. His effort boosted his season average to 18 points per game.

Terry Mills came in with 13 points, Rich Adams 10 the first time this season. Bernie Bach was shutout. The forward, who just three days earlier shared scoring honors for the Mustangs (18) against league leading, was limited to just one shot from the floor and one from the line.

With the Lakers' scoring ace laced up that by Northville's defense, teammate John Hamill took up some of the slack by turning in 16 points to lead his team's losing effort. He was followed by Forward Bill Bullock at 10 points.

Turnovers Cost Colts A Game

Thirty turnovers and a poor performance at the free throw line cost the Northville Colts the game here Friday night as West Bloomfield's junior varsity five won going away 57-51.

The Colts came up with just seven points in 25 attempts from the charity line.

Down 13-15 at the end of the first quarter, Northville bounced back to take the lead at the intermission, 29-27. But by the three-quarter mark the visitors were back out front - this time by five points, 44-39.

Brad Cole was the leading Northville scorer, pumping in 22 points.

Thieves Loot Model Homes

Northville police are continuing to investigate the breaking and entering of four model homes on Lexington Court, near Taft and Eight Mile roads.

Between 8 p.m. January 12 and 9:15 a.m. January 13, thieves gained entrance to the homes by kicking in doors and breaking windows.

With only a partial inventory available of the items stolen, police reports indicate more than one person was involved and a truck must have been used.

Items missing include a garbage disposal, light fixture, bathroom sink and mirror, electric stove with attached hood, sofa, chair, end table, several lamps, candleholders, knick-knacks, two out-door garage lights, two potted plants, a typewriter, coffee pot and a radio.

Most of the items were taken from one home, where the persons involved removed a door from its hinges.

Police said smudged fingerprints were found at the scene, indicating gloves were worn during the time of the theft.

John Edward Pilon, Jr., 20 Hillcrest Road, was injured in a two car accident January 15 on Eight Mile Road, east of Horton. Pilon received a cut on his leg when the car he was driving and one driven by Ruth Tuomisto, 45340 West Ten Mile Road, collided. He was taken to St. Mary hospital, Livonia, for treatment.

Traffic was blocked on Center Street from Cady to Main streets Monday morning when a fuel oil tandem truck couldn't make the grade on the hill.

The truck, headed for a delivery at Amerman Elementary, became stuck around 7:45 a.m. Officers cleared the scene and escorted the truck to the school at 9 a.m.

A toboggan was stolen from a car parked at the Northville Hotel between 11 p.m. and midnight Saturday.

Clark Gas Station, 510 South Main Street, reported $25 missing from their daily receipts. The money was found missing Saturday evening.

Burglary at Novi Party Store, 43025 Grand River Avenue. The loss, which included 43 cartons of cigarettes and a portable television, was estimated at $1,061. Police discovered the burglary early on the morning of January 15. They said entry had been forced through the front door with a tire iron.

Nicholas Kohalsky, operator of the Boron Oil Station on Novi Road, has been fined $25 for possession of stolen property. Value of the stolen tools, which were purchased by Kohalsky from a Farmington man charged with the theft, was placed at $1,000.

Two 17-year-old Sterling Heights residents, arrested Saturday, for possession of narcotics, are in jail this week awaiting trial. Bond was set at $5,000 each.

Arrested by Novi police, with assistance by State Police, were John F. Koloskey and James K. Bracken. A third youth was not charged.

The trio were stopped on a traffic violation in the 13 Mile Road vicinity and upon investigation police discovered marijuana in their car.

A car parked at Northville High was vandalized Monday during school hours.

Bruce Cinader, 41695 Eight Mile, said he returned to his car around 3 p.m. to find the doors locks jammed, plastic inserts on the hubcaps kicked in and a wire holder torn off the fire wall under the hood.

Judge Raps Liberals

unwelcome in our public educational institutions and He may soon even find Himself barred from outer space", public acceptance of obscenity and vulgarity, seditious antagonism are all symptoms of the criminal disease sweeping the nation, he suggested.

"Drug addiction, the illegal and harmful use of marihuana, LSD, heroin, and other hallucinatory opiates, are reaching alarming proportions among a certain 'sophisticated set' on some high school and college campuses."

(During a question and answer period following his address, Piggins agreed that "perhaps" a change in drug laws concerning users but "not sellers" should be considered "since these kids need help - they're sick - not jail".

Piggins suggested there is a good deal of validity in the contention of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's that one of the "most dangerous threats" to the American system is the "New Left Movement."

The sole objective of the Leftists, he charged "is to utterly destroy the precious values of a free society. Let me not quibble or mince words. I point my finger directly at the Students for a Democratic Society, the Minutemen and the Black Panther Party, and others on both the extreme right and left of our social spectrum. The SDS is a self-constituted gang of hoodlums, the leaders of which are neither students nor democratic.

"In no sense do they represent the thousands of wholesome young Americans who attend our institutions of higher learning bent only on acquiring an education and who want no part of these rebellious degenerates. And the Black Panther Party is no more representative of the millions of honorable black Americans than Billy Graham is representative of the Mafia. These organizations have but one objective - destruction! They strive only to undermine the forces of constituted authority. They propose nothing constructive.

Equally disturbing to Piggins is the "soft gentle opposition with which they (rebellious young) are met by too many spineless, weak-kneed educators and too many administrative officials.

"... Any organization that seeks to destroy America is a treasonable enemy, and it is way past time for those in this country charged with the responsibilities of government to have the courage - and, yes, the guts to take those measures necessary to rid our land of these insidious vermin. The Congress of the United States should legislate them out of existence. They should be barred from our streets and campuses. Courts, in the interest of national security, should uphold the validity of such legislation. Their treasonable assault on American institutions should be made a criminal offense and law enforcement agencies should have the authority to eradicate them from our society."

While on the one hand he blasted opponents of the "American way of life," on the other hand he saved a volley for the "socialistic" tendency of the government. "There are those holding high public office today," he said, "whose limited vision or mental capacity offers but one answer to all of our ills - money!"

The "give-away" philosophy reaches down to the family level, he said, resulting in the sacrifice of "the moral virtues of yesterday."

"Deep within our own hearts we know that those undestructible rules of human conduct on which the foundation of America rests must never be abandoned. We believe in these things, yet in our frenzied struggle for luxury and affluence we have neglected them.

"We blame the younger generation - the economic gap, the racial gap, the generation gap, when we ought to realize that the real gap is the gap between the virtues we preach and the standards we live by."

Concerning the so-called "generation gap," Piggins minimized three mills be specifically allotted for building new roads.

Crupi replied that some of the money should go to maintenance "because we don't have enough money now to keep our roads passable."

But Donald Young joined Harrison in stressing, "Voters will vote for new roads, not for maintaining old roads."

Finally Crupi conceded to have the referendum read "for primary construction and secondary improvement of roads, streets and highway in the city of Novi."

Councilman William O'Brien tried unsuccessfully to attach another referendum to the ballot seeking one mill for three years to set up a department of recreation.

Crupi led the fight to defeat O'Brien's suggestion. "I don't want to jeopardize the road program by placing another tax proposal on the ballot," he maintained.

"I think you're more interested in hardware than people," O'Brien neighborhood play area only at the present time.

With installation of lighting at Ford Field by next summer, use should be greatly enhanced, said Prom. Even so, however, three football teams and one soccer team must use it even though the field is inadequately sized.

Plans for development of the fish hatchery site are only tentative and it is unlikely that improvements will be realized in time to substantially benefit next summer's recreation program, he said.

Tentative plans, which must first be completed and then approved by the city and township governments, call for eight tennis courts, an artificial ice rink, one fish pond, one or more ball diamond areas, nature trails and open space, and a Scout camping area.

Taking into consideration the existing facility inadequacies, plans for expansion of the program during the 1970-71 year, "we're going to have some real space problems," warned Prom.

The number of baseball and softball teams, which increased from 22 in 1966 to 46 last summer, is expected to jump to 56 or 57 teams next summer, which much of the increase resulting from night use of Ford Field.

Other new recreation programs envisioned for the 1970-71 year, said Prom, include hockey, women's softball, soccer program expansion, and a touch football program for men.

The director predicted that during the next decade the number of baseball teams will increase from 50 to 100, requiring an increase of from two existing facilities to eight; from three football teams on two fields to 20 teams on three fields; and one soccer team on one field to six teams on three fields.

Most important need of all, he said, is the development of tennis courts. No public courts are available at present even though there is a need for eight of them, and by 1980 a need for 40 courts will exist.

In comparison with Livonia, Plymouth and Garden City, said Prom, Northville is running a poor fourth in providing facilities for tennis and baseball based on one facility per 10,000 population.

Prom pointed out that the minimum standards of the National Park & Recreation Association is one acre per 100 population. Current Northville facilities do not even approximate this minimum, he said.

Within the next one or two years, Northville will need a minimum of 50 additional acres just to accommodate the program expansion - and even then it will be barely adequate for half of the population, Prom asserted.

By 1985, he said, Northville will require 590 acres - not counting special facilities such as a municipal golf course, indoor activities, and swimming.

This need, he explained, will include neighborhood play areas as well as community play areas. While open space and recreational areas provided by subdivision developers are essential, "they cannot substitute for community investment. The city and township have a responsibility to provide facilities in addition to subdivision play areas, and the longer we wait the more difficult and expensive it will be to meet even minimum requirements," he emphasized.

Historical Society: Key To the Community's Past

Northville Historical Society's January meeting at 8 p.m. today in the scout-recreation building will be an open business meeting to plan for the upcoming months. Anyone in the community interested in Northville history and the work of the society is invited to come.

Mrs. Kathleen Edgerton points out that society membership is open to anyone in the area, adding that the group has been confused with local antiques clubs which are limited because they meet in members' homes. She may be called at 349-3040 for additional information.

Plans will be made at the meeting for the February program at which Professor Richard Daugherty of Macomb Community College is to talk on American architecture, including slides of Northville's vintage homes.

He'd Rather Fight Tobacco Than Smoke

CIGARETTE BATTLER — Dr. Arthur Weaver of Northville, whose battle against cigarette smoking has gained fame through television, radio and newspapers, says there is no doubt that tobacco is dangerous to health and therefore a public menace that must be stamped out.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Saturday night, at least as long as I can remember, was always the night of the week that offered the most in entertainment. And my recollection goes back before the days of television, when it was more popular to hit the night club or bar circuit to quaff a few beers with your buddies, or take your best girl to the movies.

Just as television has made inroads in every part of our lives, it has changed Saturday night from "on the town" to "in your front room" before the television set. No matter. The important thing is an escape from the more mundane activities of the other six days.

So what does television offer on the biggest night of the week? Jackie Gleason and Andy Williams (in the same time slot, of course, on different networks), the Saturday night movie that more often than not wouldn't catch the fancy of dunderhead and Mannix, a private eye serial that occasionally borders on the stimulating.

Oh, there are other programs. Lawrence Welk, who I thought had died of lumbago some where in North Dakota in the 1950's is still alive. And believe it or not he's still a popular figure with the older set, as my parents informed me not too long ago. But Welk turns me off, so I don't bother to turn him on.

A sprinkling of situation comedies during the middle hours of the evening — My Three Sons, Green Acres and Petticoat Junction — don't put any heat on the bones of lean Saturday night TV, either. Escape is one thing; escape into inanity — (or assinnity if you prefer, is another). Most situation comedies fall so short of good humor or satire that they leave me cold.

Hollywood Palace. Now there's a bust. A poor man's Ed Sullivan. Mediocrity at its best. Stars parade before the camera as name MC's try their hand each week at cracking stale jokes and marshalling the talent.

That leaves the news and the late night movie or a Johnny Carson re-run — actually the best part of the evening, if there's nothing else to do on Saturday night. TV's creme de la creme. A heart transplant, a new political candidate, a victory for the Pistons, no less, more oil off the Pacific coast fouling up the wildlife, a mugging on 35th street and the culprit is caught, the weather — more snow. Hallelujah.

Finally, an old standard. Jimmy Stewart, Gary Cooper, Clark Gable, Humphrey Bogart or Marilyn Monroe. My night picks up. Sure I've seen the movie before, but I've forgotten enough details to make it interesting. Anyway, the past has an appeal in itself and those late nighters offer some mighty fine acting.

Next Saturday, give me a good book, a magazine, a game of scrabble. What ever happened to those Saturday nights? The TV monguls, who surely aren't any spring chickens, can remember what they're like. So why the lean night on TV?

Eight years ago he was prevented from placing anti-cigarette posters in Pontiac schools.

Today his smoke signals are welcome everywhere.

For Dr. Arthur Weaver of Northville, whose war has given the tobacco industry a darker blackeye than the guy who'd "rather fight than switch," the social acceptance of his battle is an encouraging sign.

Smoking is no longer the "in-thing" among adults or teenagers, he smiles with a grin wider than a general who has just won a battlefield victory. "It's more sociable to be a non-smoker today than a smoker."

A chief surgeon at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Allen Park and assistant professor of surgery at Wayne State University, Dr. Weaver is probably best known to the average guy on the street as a TV, radio and news celebrity whose smoking withdrawal clinics are as popular as Gunsmoke.

He's a favorite subject of Detroit Columnist Doc Greene and of Disc Jockey J. P. McCarthy.

His hour-long anti-smoking program over Detroit Channel 2 last summer drew more favorable public response than any other program in the history of the station. Channel 2 received more than 10,000 letters from enthusiastic viewers.

He receives numerous requests for speaking engagements.

He and his cause are so popular he cannot begin to fulfill the requests — a far cry from the day not so many years ago when he was considered an embarrassing pest, when radio, television and newspapers "wouldn't think of saying something bad about smoking."

The tool of his popularity is the Five Day Withdrawal Clinic, such as the one he will conduct in Plymouth, beginning January 25, under the sponsorship of the Seventh Day Adventist Church and Gallimore Elementary PTA. Assisting him will be the Reverend William Dennis of South Lyon and three other physicians.

Reluctant to describe in full a typical clinic session (if I tell you everything your readers will pass it up), he offers these h d'oeuvres:

It involves hard-hitting films, tips on how to successfully kick the habit and how to fight off "the urge," changes in diet, and it offers group therapy. And, of course, a clinic is free.

To make the clinic even more inviting, he notes that about 50-percent of those who make it through five sessions without smoking are still not smoking a year later.

He defines group therapy this way: "If you see that the other guy is still not smoking you fight to keep from letting him beat you."

Dr. Weaver places absolutely no faith in the so-called "gradual withdrawal" technique. For him, kicking the habit means the cold turkey cure — absolutely no smoking at all. "You can't stop smoking by cutting down," he insists. Nor, he adds, is the smoker winning the battle by switching from cigarettes to a pipe.

(His wife joined the conversation by asking the reporter, "Do you smoke?" "Certainly, he smokes," said the doctor without waiting for the answer. "You can smell it.")

Why is he convinced the reporter and the reader must "join the unkicked generation?"

"In my line of work (surgery) I've repeatedly come across and deal all the time with tobacco related disease," he points out, adding that the warning on the tobacco package is no myth. Heart attacks, cancer of the lungs, mouth and throat are in many instances related to smoking. "I personally have never seen lung cancer in a non-smoker. It happens so rarely that such a case is remarkable."

Heart attacks induced by smoking is a proven fact, he emphasizes, even more dramatic than cigarette produced cancer.

Concerning heart attacks, Dr.

Weaver points out that the heavy smoker who gives it up after 30 years has as much to gain as the light smoker who quits after five years. Similarly, the heavy smoker who has not already developed a cancer cell isn't doomed to get cancer after he quits.

What he's saying is that the old crutch, "It's too late to stop," isn't worth a puff of smoke

However, he concedes that the guy who smokes just one pack a day compared to the guy who smokes two "is better off." But, he adds, "the man who doesn't smoke is better off than the guy who smokes just one cigarette a year."

For parents, he offers this warning "Children in homes of smokers are generally sicker than those in homes of non-smokers."

Does Dr. Weaver smoke? No, and he never has. But that makes him no less of an authority on the subject, he asserts. Fewer and fewer doctors are smoking, he suggests, because (1) they know from first-hand experience what smoking can do to the body and (2) the smoking doctor sets a poor example for his patients.

"Today, the doctor who smokes is in social trouble."

Dr. Weaver says he has not encountered any one group of people who smoke more than others. But he points out that professional people and educated men and women are more interested in his clinics. "We haven't reached many of the blue collar workers yet."

"Motivation — you've got to want to stop smoking to succeed," he concludes. "See you at the clinic?"

'Children in homes of smokers are generally sicker than those in homes of non-smokers.'

'I have never seen lung cancer in a non-smoker.'

'You can't stop smoking by cutting down.'

from the Pastor's Study

'Your Young Men Will See Visions'

Rev. Timothy C. Johnson Assistant Pastor First Presbyterian Church, Northville

There is a portion of Scripture, which appears in both the Old and New Testaments: "Your sons and your daughters will prophesy; your young men will see visions; and your old men will dream dreams." (Joel 2: 28; Acts 2:17) People dream and people see visions, and they are condemned for their foolish idleness. But it is such a common pastime among us all, especially among younger people: To dream the impossible dream, to visualize what life could be, to ponder what lies ahead in the future. This is the stuff which eventually leads men and women into action, leads them into adventure, to where the action is.

Many years ago a solitary lonely man walked the highways and byways of a dusty little country, a man without a home or family or any visual means of support. He was a man, who, wherever he went, told of a vision and did his best to live according to that dream. To many people who heard and saw him, he was radical. Why? Not because it was a new vision; for almost everything he said was at least a thousand years old, and what could be more traditional than that? He was radical because he dared to live according to the vision he had.

His vision led him to live a life of mercy and love, of justice and compassion, of understanding and concern, of humility and unselfishness. It was the only way of life that could be called truly human. His vision should be ours, not only as we preach it and teach it and give lip service to it, but also as we live it out in our daily lives. 2000 years after he lived, the vision is still alive among some people. But among a great many, it has become dim. The vision that shone so brightly and fiercely has become cool and timid. Rekindle that "impossible dream" and live it in your daily life. Do not be afraid to act out the vision which is yours from Christ: love, mercy, justice, understanding, compassion and peace.

Deep inside each person, where no one can see, stands a dream castle. The nature of it varies according to one's character and personality. An artist may dream of creating a masterpiece—not yet painted—which will inspire many people. Another person may see a vision of how he can make life happier for others.

Everyone must believe in his dream in order to go forward with patience. Jesus hoped that the world would hear His message through the uneducated fishermen He chose as His close companions. He did not give up His dream that the disciples would carry on His work... even when they argued over places of honor in heaven... or when Peter denied any connection with Him.

His dream came true. Showing courage and faith, this small group of twelve grew through centuries into today's worldwide congregation of millions. You will find inspiration and help for your dreams of spiritual accomplishment when you attend the church of your choice.

Out of the Horse's Mouth

EDITOR'S NOTE: The "Horse's Mouth" includes information on all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions or show news to "The Horse's Mouth," care of The South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mich. 48178. Columnist "Sally Saddle" will attempt to include all items of general interest.

Did you think that cattle cutting is just for the Texas cowboy?

Not so. There is a cutting horse school available right in this area every Thursday at 7 p.m. at Colonial Acres, 61661 11 Mile Road, South Lyon. There is plenty of fast action and visitors are welcome.

Area people participating in these classes include: Ron Fink, Northville; Darwin Prieskorn and James Pelky, South Lyon; Bruce Adams, Salem; Murphy Collins and Bob Greenstein, Plymouth; Pam Kapacki, Walled Lake; Ron Uranesh, Farmington; Dave Brown, Milford; Tom Dooley and Mike Haron, Southfield; Bob and Phyllis Jacobs and Kathy Whitfield, Belleville; Mary Sowkin and John Montrose, Romulus; Gerald Rushlow, Flat Rock; and Lynne Preppernau, Yale.

Anyone interested in taking cutting lessons should contact, Dallas or Lynne Prieskorn, 437-1345.

Which is best for the beginner, English or Western saddle?

Your choice of tack should depend on the type of riding you're going to do and your own personal preference. Many people feel more secure in a Western saddle, because they can grab the horn and hang on. That, however, should not be a reason for choosing it.

For the beginner to start off properly, he should go to a stable and invest in riding lessons, either private or group. Try riding English and Western. When you are familiar with both, you'll be in a much better position to decide which type of riding is best for you.

For those people interested in the American Saddlebred, there is big news. An American Saddle Horse Association of Michigan has been established. There are nearly 100 members and all interested in promoting the American Saddlebred in every area of showing and breeding.

This versatile horse can easily be adapted for pleasure riding, children's mount, family pet and dozens of other uses.

If you're interested in more information about this enthusiastic organization, contact Mrs. Patricia Jenkins, 27770 Forestbrook Drive, Farmington, Mich. 48024.

Teachers To Study

"Nature in Winter" is the title of a workshop for teachers to be held at the Nature Centers of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and Stony Creek Metropolitan Park on Saturday, February 7.

"Hours of the workshops are 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.," stated William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which has eight parks serving the citizens of the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw, and Wayne.

The program will be conducted by park naturalists and consist of an indoor discussion on winter nature study and a conducted walk on the nature trails at the parks to observe the winter aspects of the woods, fields and waters.

Hopkins pointed out that naturalists will interpret the activities of animals in winter as revealed by their tracks in the snow and birds at the feeding stations will also be observed.

For additional details persons may phone the Nature Centers by calling Kensington Metropolitan Park - 685-2417 (Milford) or Stony Creek Metropolitan Park - 781-4621 (Washington Exchange).
