

'New Nut' in Kitchen

Sunflowers Liven Dessert

There's nothing new under the Sunflower — except maybe Sunflower nuts.

Until recently, these nuts with a distinctive, if delicate flavor, were not widely available. Now the "new nut" is here in abundance for adding to sweets, casseroles, salads and snacks.

For the cookie lover, home economists at Fisher Nut Company have developed a basketful of taste treats with the sunshine baked right in. Your fledgling baker can easily turn out "Pineapple Sticky Buns," canned buttermilk biscuits crowned with a nutty sweet topping.

PINEAPPLE STICKY BUNS
(makes 10)

3/4 cup drained crushed pineapple
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 can (9 1/2 oz) refrigerated buttermilk biscuits

Combine pineapple, butter, sugar, cinnamon and nuts. Spoon into 10 greased muffin cups. Place biscuits over mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Let cool in pan 5 minutes; invert to remove from pan. Serve inverted.

SWEDISH NUT SQUARES
(makes 24)

1/2 cup butter 1/4 cup gran. sugar
2 eggs 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tbsp. dairy sour cream
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup salted, roasted sunflower nuts

Cream butter and granulated sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour cream to creamed mixture. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Spread in greased pan. In heavy saucepan, mix egg whites, brown sugar and nuts. Heat gently 2 or 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Add remaining vanilla; spread on dough. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool slightly and cut into squares.

SUNFLOWER CRISPS
(makes 5 dozen)

1 cup butter 1 cup sugar
1 egg 1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups corn flakes, crushed
1/2 cup salted, roasted sunflower nuts

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Blend in sifted dry ingredients and corn flake crumbs; reserving 1/2 cup crumbs. Stir in sunflower nuts. Chill dough thoroughly. Shape dough into 1-inch balls.

Roll in remaining crumbs to coat evenly. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

MARCH WINDS — Horticulture isn't their bag but making paper flowers for the "March Winds" dance, sponsored by the Northville Jaycess, is decorative and fun for these three Jaycettes, (l to r) Mrs. Fred Zellich, Mrs. Russell Anger, and Mrs. Ronald Beier. The dance will be held Saturday at Dun Rovin Country Club, 16377 Haggerty Road (between 5 and 6 Mile roads), from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. The dance will feature music and entertainment by the Jerry Fenby-Five, door prizes, favors and midnight snacks. A limited number of tickets are still available from Jaycess or by calling 349-4042, 340-0068, or 349-3482.

TOP SCHOLARS — It doesn't happen often — if it's ever happened before — but two Northville residents, not just one, have received what amounts to be the highest scholastic honor accorded University of Michigan graduates. Mrs. Charles Freydl (left), 455 Eaton Drive and Susan Kay Hill, daughter of Mrs. George Hill and the late Mr. Hill, 18175 Jamestown Circle, received notification this past week of their election to the Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa in recognition of their superior academic records. Formal initiation is slated at a banquet March 21 on the campus, when the eminent biographer and political scientist, Dr. James MacGregor, will speak. Both near all-A students throughout their undergraduate work, they recently received their bachelor degrees from U-M. Mrs. Freydl in speech education and Sue in mathematics. Both plan to continue their studies towards masters' degrees and both also have been named to departmental scholastic honorary societies.

Appoint George Zerbel

Scouts Name Chairman

George Zerbel has been named Northville chairman in the area division of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Camp Development Fund Drive.

His appointment was made this week by Gerald J. Prescott, Ann Arbor, chairman of the area division of the campaign for the entire council. Zerbel is the second of seven town chairmen to be appointed by Prescott. Jim Cregar, Ypsilanti, will be chairman of the area division there.

Zerbel, president of Tri-West Products of Detroit, will organize and head an organization in Northville of 60 volunteers who will be working during March to raise a portion of the $600,000 goal the Girl Scout council is seeking. They will be asking for contributions from businesses, clubs, and individuals in Northville. The funds will be used to finance the development of Camp Linden, camping facility in northern Livingston County used by the Scouts for day camp and resident camp in the summer and by troops on weekends during the school year.

Pointing to the importance of the campaign Zerbel said, "This camp development campaign is more than money, more than camp sites and buildings. It's an investment in girls and human values — in the mothers and community leaders of tomorrow."

Zerbel has long been active in civic affairs in Northville, having served 18 years on the city planning commission.

His wife, Barbara, is a member of the board of directors of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Their two daughters, Mrs. Sue Carpenter and Miss Barbara Zerbel, were both Girl Scouts when they were children.

'Candidates' Forum Tuesday

Novi Jaycees are sponsoring a meet-your-candidates night Tuesday, 8 p.m., at the Community Building. Council and mayoral candidates, plus council members not up for re-election, will be on hand to answer questions. Jaycees Jerry LaFaive (left) and Denny Wolcott announced the meeting.

See 'New Community' Friday

The cause may not be popular but the meeting should be. A crowd of 700 is expected for Friday night's unveiling of plans for a 15,000 member "new community" in Novi. The meeting is scheduled for the Novi High School gymnasium, 8 p.m.

The Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority (MDCDA) will give a formal presentation complete with sketches and diagrams. The "new community" is proposed for 765 acres on Taft Road between Nine and Ten Mile Roads.

Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi will chair the meeting. Both the city council and planning board will be there, along with representatives from the Northville and Novi school districts, Novi homeowners' association and area city governments.

Last night officials from eight area governments met to discuss the "new community" idea. The meeting was initiated by the Northville school board.

Nearly 80-percent of the site would be in the Northville school district. The rest would be in Novi.

In a summary report of the "new community," MDCDA said it would set aside 30 acres for schools but did not explain how the schools would be funded.

Probably the most serious criticism raised so far against the "new community" is the added responsibility for school, police, fire, etc. services that would be placed on Novi and Northville.

MDCDA officials, headed by Edward Robinson, executive director, are expected to give at least a tentative answer to that question Friday.

If the meeting follows previous indications, however, the most vocal objection will be to the low-cost housing and racial integration.

If adopted the "new community" would introduce black residents to Novi for the first time.

Before the proposal can be acted on, however, MDCDA will have to ask for rezoning of its property to accommodate apartments and townhouses. MDCDA is expected to present its rezoning request Friday.

Then the planning board will get a chance to pass on it in a public hearing, before council can act on it. If hurried along, a decision could be reached in two or three weeks.

Council will likely wait until after the April 6 election, however.

Crupi points out that Friday's meeting will not be a public hearing in the same sense as Monday's meeting. The official public hearing will come later.

Wixom Divides Into Factions

If the political vibrations get any louder in Wixom, there may not be anyone left to run the city government.

Councilwoman Lottie Chambers read a letter Tuesday night which suggested the police chief and the treasurer resign because of a political conflict of interest.

JoAnn Beamish, wife of Police Sergeant Larry Beamish, wrote the letter. She claimed Police Chief Tom McGuire and Treasurer Faye Waara violated the city administrative rules by endorsing candidates for the April 6 election.

Donna Thorsberg, the clerk, and Mrs. Waara had already been considering resigning because council turned down salary raises for them (see page 1-b).

McGuire has been under attack for several months for a series of allegations.

Mrs. Beamish said McGuire had threatened to dismiss her husband because the Beamishes had visited Gilbert Willis and Jill Hall in his off-hours. Willis is running for mayor and Mrs. Hall for council. Both are members of the Birch Park Subdivision, focal point of the anti-McGuire and anti-administration criticism.

"I am all in favor of rules and regulations governing employee conduct, but shouldn't they be applied equally to all employees?" Mrs. Beamish asked.

She charged Mrs. Waara with displaying campaign posters at her home. The posters, which are no longer up, were for Charles McCall, mayoral candidate, and Robert Dingledey, council candidate.

Mrs. Beamish added that McGuire had attended a party in Three Oaks Bar.

Urged on by a handclapping audience, Novi City Council rezoned nearly 4,000 acres Monday night, including 480 which belong to the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority (MDCDA).

Though the action came less than a week before MDCDA was to present its formal plans for a 15,000-member "new community," the rezoning was the result of a September, 1969 directive from the council.

"We wanted to have our zoning conform more closely to the master plan," explained Mayor Joseph Crupi. The master plan was adopted in 1967 after a 10-year study.

The planning board has been studying zoning changes. This was the first recommendation the board has given.

Several citizens attended the crowded meeting at Novi High School apparently to make certain the MDCDA land was rezoned.

Justin Weaver, an attorney for MDCDA, explained that MDCDA had no objections to the rezoning. But his speech was interrupted by boos and catcalls and he finally sat down without finishing.

Of the land MDCDA owns or has options on, 240 acres were zoned for 80-foot lots and 240 were set for 90-foot lots. This is the smallest and second, smallest residential lot size allowed in Novi.

Most of the 4,000 acres rezoned had previous agricultural labels. This prompted protests from two farm owners.

Alvin Smith, 48755 Ten Mile Road, and Mabel Ash, city clerk, 21666 Garfield, noted the rezoning would restrict them from expanding their farms.

Mrs. Ash suggested the council consider a "grandfather clause" which would permit them to expand their farming business under the zoning ordinance.

Mayor Crupi agreed with the idea and asked council to delay the rezoning until an amendment to the zoning ordinance could be adopted.

Council balked at the postponement, however, and voted, 6-1, to accept the rezoning. The planning board had voted, 6-0, in favor of the rezoning to the accompaniment of loud cheering.

Crupi was the lone dissenter in the council vote. "I just wanted to avoid any legal problems for individuals like Mrs. Ash and Mr. Smith who might get hurt by the rezoning," he pointed out.

The rezoning included parts of Sections 27 through 34, the southwest portion of the city.

For New Middle School Trustees Approve Plans

Plans for Novi's middle school won unanimous support from school board trustees Tuesday night as the architect received the okay to proceed with working drawings.

Tuesday's meeting, largely devoted to discussion of the plans, was attended by a dozen citizens showing a keen interest in the future school.

Commenting on the plan approved, Superintendent Thomas Dale told board members and the audience it "is the best plan we have seen to this date."

Consulting engineers presented a discussion of the total energy concept, using a single utility concept for all energy to achieve school operation.

Board members, feeling the concept was not economically feasible for the one building, voted unanimously to instruct the architect to continue plans, taking into consideration electrical purchase of energy.

Relating to middle school plans, trustees set March 25 as the date to sell bonds totaling $4,475,000. Profits from the sale will be used to construct the middle school, elementary school and purchase of future sites.

In other action Tuesday, an attorney was hired for the school district and Dale explained the complications of switching property from one school district to another.

Board members gave approval to hiring Frederick Knauer as attorney for the district, setting up an initial retainer fee of $1,000.

A citizen in the audience asked Dale what the possibilities were for annexing his property to the Novi School District from the South Lyon Schools. The property in question is on West Ten Mile Road between Wixom and Napier roads.

Dale explained property owners can request the county or intermediate school district for the right to annex to another school district, but that any debt voted on his property through millage in the South Lyon district would remain on the property. Future school millage voted by the Novi schools would also be assessed against the property.

Dale said many citizens have "expressed the same concern, but when they hear of the double taxation, it is just too much to bear."

The superintendent also told the board that tax collections have been the best in years, with 96.6 percent of school taxes now in.

Measles Clinic Here Saturday

German measles vaccine will be offered free to all area children ages one through 12 this Saturday, March 14, at the Novi Community Building, 26450 Novi Road.

The vaccine, available only in the last year, will be distributed by the Oakland County Health Department.

According to health department officials, children who have received a small pox vaccination within the last month should not receive the measles vaccine. Children under treatment for a chronic condition should consult their doctor before coming to the clinic.

Pregnant women and those who might be pregnant should ask a neighbor to bring their children and not come to the clinic themselves.

Novi Sewer System Needs 'Spadework'

Local officialdom broke ground Tuesday to signal the start of an $11 million sewer system in Walled Lake and Novi.

The sewer lines and treatment plant will service 4,000 homes around the lake of Walled Lake in both cities. It is expected to be completed within a year.

Meanwhile, the city of Novi is still trying to finalize plans for extending sewer lines into the Grand River - Novi Road area.

Raw sewage from the commercial center there is being dumped into a stream which runs into Meadowbrook Lake. Although sanctioned in the first half of the century, the practice of pouring sewage into drains or creeks was formally abolished in 1957.

"The city wasn't prepared to handle the situation when the law changed. And it's having a tough time to catch up even now," points out Ed O'Rourke, associate director of the Oakland County Health Department.

Novi was cited three years ago by the Michigan Water Resources Commission for permitting businessmen to empty their waste into the stream.

Since then the city has tried several unsuccessful ways to expand its sanitary sewage capacity for the area. The current plan is to build a holding tank near Nine Mile Road and the C & O Railroad to increase the overall capacity.

Also the city is hoping to install sewer lines from the intersection of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads north to collect both industrial and residential effluent.

"Almost every business in that area is still putting waste directly into the stream," O'Rourke adds. "Of course, if you stopped them you'd turn Novi into a ghost town."

Tuesday's ceremonies are supposed to mean the beginning of the end of pollution miseries from sewage in the Walled Lake area.

Royce Downey, Walled Lake city manager, was particularly praised for his work in completing the project that first began in 1962. Congressman Jack MacDonald (R-19th District) also participated in the groundbreaking.

The sewer lines from that project will extend about a half mile south of the lake but will go no farther.

Political Static in The Air

Who's Trying to Stab Whom?

PHILIP ANDERSON

DENIS BERRY

Philip Anderson thinks his opponents on the Novi City Council are trying to do him in politically.

His opponents say he did himself in.

"They're using cheap politics, that's all there is to it," he charges.

Anderson is a former village councilman running in an 11-member race for three city council seats. He failed in a mayoral bid last year.

He's upset because he's been implicated in an alleged violation of the landfill ordinance.

Anderson has rented his property at 50250 Eight Mile Road to Munn Contracting Company of Birmingham for several years. Munn is operating a landfill for rubbish and refuse there.

But for the last year and a half Munn has not had a city permit to operate.

In a move engineered by Councilman Denis Berry, who's up for re-election, the council last week issued a warrant against the company. Rather than face repeated citations, it closed down the landfill Friday.

As owner of the property, Anderson could also have been cited. However, council didn't follow through against him, though Berry had suggested it should.

"Anybody who's been around this community as long as Mr. Anderson should know what is going on right on his own property," Berry argues. "He sat on the village council when the whole thing first came up."

"This is a citizen who knowingly violated the law," he charges.

Anderson says he didn't bother to find out whether Munn had a permit or not. "It was none of my business what they were doing," he explains. "All I did was pick up my check every month."

Papers, bottles and cans were scattered across the landfill before it was closed. Munn had been planning to move from Novi to a site in Canton Township but had been delayed because of weather conditions.

Councilman Edwin Presnell, also up for re-election, seconded Berry's motion to start action against Munn. "I don't care who it is, if somebody is doing something wrong, you are remiss in your duty if you do not do something about it," he says.

Berry says Anderson is aroused because he was caught red-handed.

"We could have ticketed that place every day if we had wanted to," he points out.

"Anderson's the one who's bending it out of shape. He even threatened to fire Earl Bailey if he got elected."

Bailey, building inspector, issued the citation against Munn.

Ruth George, a building department employee, admits Anderson came into the department with some angry objections to Bailey. "He was just upset," Mrs. George says. "We don't hold anything against him."

Frank Davis, 22001 Beck Road, advised council to table action until the MDCDA plan had been acted on. He argued that one acre and one-half acre plots, as zoned by council, would be too large to develop.

"They're all right if you're going to build $100,000 homes. I wish we all could afford one," he said. "But let's be practical. No developer is going to touch property like that because they can't sell homes like that."

Davis referred to land he owns adjacent to the MDCDA site.

Council had passed a resolution of intent the previous week, introduced by Denis Berry, that it would live up to its master residency plan.

At that time William O'Brien questioned Berry's motives, "Will this rile up more people, or is this really going to put oil on the waters?"

Crupi also criticized Berry, "It's more likely to put oil on the fire than oil on the water. I think it's the wrong move and premature."

Both O'Brien and Crupi voted "yes" on the resolution, however.

Still Waiting

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Last week this newspaper carried a quotation in a news story that's being given an unintended ugly twist.

While I defend the right of a newspaper to print just about anything an elected official says, in public or private, I think a publisher must also accept the responsibility for printing quotes that somehow take on new meaning when read - a meaning unintended but one that political critics are eager to apply.

In this instance I'm referring to a statement attributed to Wixom Mayor Wesley McAtee following his unsuccessful attempt to win raises for his treasurer and clerk (see story, page 1-B).

I don't think the mayor was misquoted. But I know that he was fumbling for the right thing to say to a highly disappointed employee on the verge of tears following an emotion-packed session marked by contrasting opinions and political maneuvering.

So he said "what about a last drink as a city employee?"

Big joke. But not so funny. Not when there are fellow human beings with ready-made interpretations for such offhand, tension-relieving remarks.

I count Mayor McAtee as a friend - one of a select few public officials who I have come to respect for their sincere devotion to their communities and the welfare of the citizens they serve.

I know what was intended by McAtee's remark. So do his friends; so do his political opponents. Their stature can be measured by the significance they attach to the incident.

The future of the city of Wixom will remain bright indeed if those who succeed Mayor McAtee as he retires after eight years as its chief executive provide the same measure of talent and leadership he has given his city.

Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg believes that the Salem landfill (on Chubb between Five and Six Mile roads) currently being used by the city and township of Northville has about six months remaining before it is filled.

He reports that another area site is being sought where a "strip-filling" landfill operation will be conducted to accommodate members of the newly-formed Northwest Wayne County Sanitation Authority composed of the communities of Canton township, Plymouth city and township, and Northville city and township.

Stromberg predicts that the new landfill site will last for 30 years. The supervisor also believes that this most important community service can be best provided at this time through a landfull operation, rather than an incinerator.

The new Authority was established to study all possibilities, however, and must look into future needs extending beyond a decade.

Tom Bowditch

YES

The common expression and belief of many people today is "do your own thing." Individualism is fine to a certain extent, but as in anything, there is the time and place for it. This applies particularly to personal dress and grooming.

People are often judged by their physical appearance. Whether or not this is a fair or accurate method of judging, the fact remains that individuals are associated with various groups in our society by the way they dress. This situation is very prevalent in schools. A few students can create a bad image for their school by failing to take pride in their own physical appearance.

While it may not be wrong to "do your own thing", school is NOT the place for this. Just as there are rules and policies governing all phases of school procedures, there must be restrictions as far as dress is concerned. If there were no restrictions at all, who is to say that some students would not go to extremes and create an unjust and undesirable reputation for the school? The risk is too great.

A dress code of some sort is a definite necessity. If for nothing else, restrictions on dress are needed in school for the simple reason of maintaining neatness in a public place. Keep school dress codes - keep America beautiful!

TOM BOWDITCH PRESIDENT, BRIGHTON HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

Michael Fitzpatrick

Speaking for Myself Are School Dress Codes Necessary?

NO

Based on my experiences as a student and on the recent liberalization of the Northville High School dress code, I feel that school dress codes are unwarranted for several excellent reasons.

Dress codes are counter-productive, in that they cause more administrative problems than they cure. Administrators are forced to spend valuable time tracking down minor rule-breakers. This causes more acrimonious feelings than the offenders' clothing or looks ever would.

Dress codes are based on several false premises. The first contention is that students are not mature enough to dress themselves appropriately. This argument ignores the fact that parents exert considerable influence over dress. Secondly, it is contended that relaxed dress codes have an adverse affect on the behavior of students. This argument is unfounded, and my conversations with administrators from other schools with no dress codes supports this fact: there has been literally no change in the behavior of the students, for better or worse, since the codes have been liberalized or abolished.

Dress codes are an infringement on the personal liberties of the students, and as such are insulting. The school should have no right to tell students how to dress if their appearance is not disruptive to the educational process. The abolition of dress codes would improve student-administration relations, improve the students' self-image and sense of responsibility, free valuable time for administrators, and remove one more shred the doctrine of LOCO PARENTIS that has been causing much of the trouble in our high schools.

MICHAEL FITZPATRICK MAYOR, NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Readers Speak

She Sees Injustice in 'Panic' Letters

To the Editor: I am writing this as a rebuttal of several letters written by panic-stricken Novi residents. They have accused the "new community" plan of being "A Rape of Dreams." But, do any of us

Says Eligibility's Not in Question

To the Editor:

I'd like to clarify one major point made in the March 4-5 issue of The NOVI NEWS in the article "Who's 'It' in Political Tag Game."

Novi City Attorney Howard Bond's ruling given on Friday, February 27, 1970, that Mr. Anderson and I would have to resign from the Board of Review, does not reflect upon our eligibility as candidates for city council. Mr. Bond's ruling was based upon Chapter 9.6 of the Novi City Charter which refers to the eligibility of members of the Board of Review. Chapter 9.6 says that members of the Board of Review shall not be nominees or candidates for public office.

Therefore we resigned.

Chapter 5.1 of the Charter outlines the following requirements for eligibility for elective office:

- 1. must be a resident of the city for at least one year
2. must be a qualified and registered voter of the city
3. must be an owner of real property in the city
4. shall not have been found guilty of a felony

Since Mr. Anderson and I meet these requirements, there should be no question that votes for either of us will count.

William D. Brinker Candidate for Novi City Council

really know what "A Rape of Dreams" is? The black family, who is thought to be encroaching upon our communities could better provide a definition. "A Rape of Dreams" is when you move into a neighborhood and everyone else moves out, and when your children go to bed in tears, not because they "have to move again," but because they can't move and the "nice" communities won't have them.

But, even if "new community" is built, will things change for the blacks? Not if the present attitude in Novi and surrounding communities remains as it is now. The majority of white families will move out, not to the blame of "new community." If anyone "has" to move, prejudice, hatred, and ignorance are the cause. This is ignorance because it is thought that we can simply leave, finding another comfortable subdivision somewhere else, and the biggest problems we'll face as a result will be finding a new bridge club and playmates for Suzy and Johnny. How wrong this is! Our cities are dying due to the mass exodus and even the foundation upon which this nation is based (liberty and justice for all) is quickly decaying.

Sincerely, Laurel Wroten

He Sounds An Alarm

To the Editor:

I'm writing this as a former Detroit who has already been taken down the primrose path.

The homeowners and parent of Novi and Northville had better get off their apathy and attend the meeting on the 13th at Novi High School.

What is being proposed is not integration but saturation.

If this "community" is allowed to be injected into the area, you may safely assume a 50-percent reduction in property values. No one wants into this type area; everyone wants out.

I've seen what happens to the school system and more importantly to the children in such a situation. Unless you've seen it, it is difficult to believe.

If this sounds alarming, it is meant to be just that. My children and life savings are at stake, so are yours.

Some interesting tidbits from the 1969-70 edition of the Michigan Manual, compiled and published by the Department of Administration:

The greatest percentage of legislators in both the Senate and the House of Representatives come from the field of law (20 in the House and 8 in the Senate). The field of education ranks second in the House (12), and is tied for second (2) in the Senate with real estate, union, insurance, and accounting.

Agricultural representation is dwindling. Today, eight farmers are serving in the House, just one in the Senate. And to cope with all the deadwood there's two morticians in the House, one in the Senate.

We in the field of journalism must content ourselves with three representatives in the House and one in the Senate.

George Washington is director of the Department of Administration.

Enforcement of state liquor laws and regulation of cemeteries comes under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce - the same department that governs financial institutions, insurance, utilities, securities, and aeronautics.

The same Department - Regulation of Licensing and Regulation - that supervises undertakers also is responsible for athletics.

Only nine times in the history of Michigan, (1836-1968), the student population showed a decrease - in 1905, 1936, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1945, 1946, and 1968. Student population increased more in the 15 year period from 1953 to 1968 than it did in the 117 years from 1836 to 1953.

The state equalized value of Wayne and Oakland counties in 1969 ($14,843,872,862) was greater than 77 other Michigan counties combined. And it was more than twice the equalized value of the remaining four counties Genesee, Kent, Macomb, and Washtenaw.

Genesee County, which houses much of the giant General Motors complex, had a lesser state equalized valuation than did Macomb ($1,935,910,201 versus $2,436,097,215).

Michigan had 391 newspapers in 1969, with 57 of them in Wayne County.

The highest paid governor in the United States is Nelson Rockefeller of New York ($50,000) and the lowest paid is his brother, Winthrop Rockefeller, governor of Arkansas ($10,000). The lieutenant governor of Arkansas, incidentally, receives less ($2,500) than the poverty level.

Oh, yes; Governor Milliken receives $40,000.

Raps Council for Discrimination

To the Editor:

Why are three members of the Wixom City Council, Mary Parvu, Lottie Chambers, and Elwood Grubb, discriminating against the City's female employees?

Why should these two women, Elizabeth Waara, clerk treasurer, and Donna Thorsberg, deputy city clerk, not be paid on the same scale as their male counterparts who have the same type of qualifications, experience, and most of all responsibilities?

run treasurer's or clerk's office in Oakland County or even possibly in the State of Michigan

It would be impossible for the City of Wixom to hire a full time experienced male employee with the qualifications of either of these two women and expect him to work the hours and attend the meetings that are required.

To obtain the quality of work which is presently put forth by these two employees the City will have to hire someone at a higher salary. Why should they not give this higher salary to those who have earned it?

Possibly the councilmen opposed to the salary increase that was proposed by the Mayor and Rutten, Welling, and Co., management consultants, feel that they will be able to hire someone for less. Remember the saying, "YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR". Should we the Citizens of Wixom SETTLE for Less!!!!

Citizens interested in good, fair, and efficient government.

Sees War 'Withdrawal' as Tragic Mistake

To the Editor:

So many of Americans mistakenly believe that people of other countries in the world oppose our involvement in Vietnam. I am in possession of a recent edition of the Sunday Post of Scotland, which does not mince words in supporting the belief of American Legion posts throughout the United States.

The Post, for example, states that immediate withdrawal from Vietnam couldn't be more dangerous to world peace but in fact would be "an outstanding victory for Communism."

If the Americans went overnight, says The Post, "there's little doubt the Communists would take over. That means a blood bath. When the Reds took over North Vietnam, they liquidated 50,000 opponents. Hundreds of thousands more died in labor camps."

Like the Legion, The Post sees a humiliating American withdrawal as having far greater consequences. "Vietnam's neighbor, Laos, could easily fall next. Already a 30,000-strong Communist army is operating in Laos. It's getting its arms from Russia and China. It's supported by 60,000 North Vietnamese troops." The Post contends that Cambodia and Thailand also are in danger from Communist aggression.

An untimely American withdrawal from Vietnam would have other repercussions. For years China has been saying America is a paper tiger. It would be a golden opportunity to say, "There, what did we tell you?"

Mao's greedy eyes may fall also on Formosa. He could well try pressure on Burma, India, Malaya and Singapore. That's why Australia and New Zealand are against a panic withdrawal.

On top of all this, a Communist victory in Vietnam - and that's what a withdrawal represents - would enhance their growing influence in the emergent countries of Africa and South America. It would also harden the Russian attitude to the West.

It boils down to this, the Post says. "American humiliation in Vietnam will only serve to put the Communists' tails up and spur them on to greater effort"

Hopes Hospital Layoff Can be Avoided

To the Editor:

I am employed at Northville State Hospital as a Psychiatric Attendant Nurse 04 on the midnight shift. I attended an emergency meeting of hospital personnel at 1 p.m. Tuesday, March 3, for the purpose of averting the lay-off of some 50-60 hospital employees. (I am not one of those employees threatened by this layoff.)

I wish to convey some points which were brought out during this meeting:

(1) There is an inadequate supply of funds for Northville State Hospital; therefore, 50-60 employees must be laid off immediately.

(2) The administration is aware of its annual financial allotment in July of every fiscal year.

(3) Dr. Richard Budd, administrator of the hospital, stated that he is personally responsible for the financial status of the hospital (and therefore, for the impending layoff.)

(4) Dr. Budd also stated that overspending hospital funds is illegal.

(5) It appears that the impending layoff is completely independent of the recessionary layoffs occurring outside the hospital, being solely the result of administrative mismanagement of funds. The layoffs would have taken place even in the event of continuing inflation.

(6) Dr. Budd accused the individual divisions of the hospital of overspending their budgets.

(7) A psychiatrist from one division stated that he had inquired about a budget record for his division - and there was not one to be found.

(8) When insufficient funds are evident for the operation of certain programs, the costs of the programs must be cut or the program itself must be cut. There is no evidence that either remedy is being utilized.

(9) Mr. Jack Patterson, director of personnel, at the request of Dr. Budd, hired 15 professionals for which the hospital did not have sufficient funds. Dr. Budd said they were hired because of previous "considerations" or "promises". (This point, which he seemed to let slip out, makes me very suspicious that he is politically "back-scratching.")

(10) Dr. Budd was generally evasive to all questions asked of him, and was especially evasive when asked, "Have you made a formal request to Lansing for emergency funds to prevent this impending layoff?"

His answer was (and I quote), "I have been on the phone constantly to Lansing concerning this matter."

(11) Northville State Hospital is already short-staffed of nursing personnel. Those most affected by the impending layoffs ARE the nursing personnel, who are the least paid of the professions, and are the least likely to find other jobs considering the recessionary layoffs taking place elsewhere.

Hiding Mistakes Solves Nothing

To the Editor:

Demosthenes, when he was trying to rally the Athenians against Philip of Macedonia, said that "if you analyze it correctly, you will conclude that our critical situation is chiefly due to men who try to please the citizens rather than to tell them what they need to hear." To build a good country you must separate the weeds from the wheat, you must take your mistakes and learn from them rather than hide them and hope no one will find out.

Taxpayers Do Have Recourse

To the Editor:

In the Novi News of Thursday, March 5, 1970, under the article Speaking For The Record by Bill Sliger, one paragraph reads, "But bear this fact in mind. After the March Board of Review hearings there is absolutely no way to bring about a reduction in your assessment." This is an incorrect statement. After appealing to the Board of Review, taxpayers who are dissatisfied with the Board of Review ruling can appeal to the State Tax Commission, and after the State Tax Commission can still take court action if desired.

Novi Police Blotter

Area Man Faces Murder Charge

James Freeman, 31, of Plymouth is facing an open charge of murder in the death of his ex-wife's boyfriend.

Marion Smith, 35, formerly of Livonia and Northville, was fatally shot in the stomach by shotgun blasts early Wednesday morning. Police said Smith was visiting Ouida Freeman, 23, who was divorced from her husband in December, 1969.

Smith has been legally separated from his wife since June, 1969.

Police said Smith and Mrs. Freeman were sitting on the couch of her home, 26930 Taft Road, Novi, about 1 a.m. Wednesday when Freeman burst into the house carrying a 12-gauge shotgun.

Police said Freeman shot Smith and then backed Mrs. Freeman into a bedroom, where he shot her once on the thigh. Freeman then left, according to police, when the two Freeman children woke and asked him not to shoot anymore.

Freeman came immediately to the Novi police station, police said, and informed them of the shooting.

He will be examined Friday on the murder charge, which can become either first or second-degree, pending further investigation. Police said Freeman had no previous record.

Mrs. Freeman is listed in good condition in Wayne County General Hospital and is expected to be released within a month.

Freeman may also be cited with an assault charge for shooting her, police said.

Novi Road. The department sent one truck and a jeep.

Police Chief Lee BeGole warned that grass fires are usually common between now and the end of March.

Burglars broke into the Inter-City Press Incorporated, 46585 Grand River, and stole the change from two vending machines February 23, police reported.

Sergeant Richard Faulkner of the Novi police has issued a warning for homeowners and businessmen to watch for salesmen who do not have proper permits.

Faulkner said the detective division is investigating reports of solicitors who have tried to sell stolen merchandise or who have tried to defraud their customers.

"The biggest problem right now is solicitors who are going from business place to business place, particularly gas stations," Faulkner added.

He said all solicitors must first get permits from the chief of police, as covered in city ordinance.

Police arrested Julius Fantich, 53, of Southfield March 5 for concealing stolen property. Police contend he tried to sell power tools stolen from the Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors. He was released on $1,000 bond and set for examination Friday.

Police nearly caught burglars in Campbell Machinery, 46400 Grand River, February 27. The suspects got away because of a faulty alarm, police explained.

Sniping Case Still Unsettled

Donald Groom, 18, arrested after shooting at cars two weeks ago, is still being examined at Mercywood Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Doctors are trying to determine if he is mentally capable of standing trial on a charge of malicious destruction of police property, a felony. He has not been arraigned yet, pending the doctors' recommendation.

Groom is a senior at Plymouth High School and is not a "special education" student, as previously reported. According to his mother he does not have a history of mental disorder.

He has been treated for nervous tension for the past year. But his doctors could not agree in their diagnosis whether his trouble, was physiological or psychological.

Groom gave himself up after police fired tear gas into his home, 946 Holbrook. Police said he shot at passing cars, including theirs, but apparently did not try to hit any people.

Novi Recreation Board Names Program Goal

Novi's recently-organized recreation board is on its way toward an announced goal of $4,000 for this summer's program. Since the rec board is not an appointed auxiliary of the city council, it is not automatically eligible for general city funds.

However, the city has appropriated $1,000 toward recreation expenses. Willowbrook Homeowners Association has added another $200.

The Novi Youth Assistance Committee has pledged arts and crafts equipment and the Jaycees have promised some of the proceeds from one of its benefits.

The city council earlier this year refused to put a millage hike for recreation on the April 6 ballot at the same time it agreed to put a tax increase for roads on the ballot.

Some critics have questioned whether $4,000 will be adequate to fund a recreation program that can be open to all Novi young people.

Next meeting of the board is set for March 12, 7:30 p.m., at Novi High School.

Youths Complete Safety Course

Five Northville youths graduated from the latest four-week hunter safety program sponsored by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Northville Recreation Department.

They are Bill Bates, Jim Egbert, Victor Renaud, Fred Shipley and Barry Prom. They fulfilled a recently passed requirement that all first time hunting license applicants be a graduate of an approved safety course.

The next in a continuing series of courses will start Monday (March 16), 7:30 p.m., in the basement of the Northville City Hall.

Northville Police are investigating a breaking and entering Monday evening at 47250 South Chigwidden Drive.

According to reports, pry marks were discovered on the edge of a sliding door where vandals attempted to enter the home. Entry was gained by smashing a glass pane in the front door. Contents on dressers and closets were strewn on floors of the home in an apparent search for money. Nothing was reported missing.

Police placed the time of the incident between 5 and 9 p.m.

Union 76 station at 130 West Main Street reported $33 was stolen from a purse in a car parked at the station. Police said the car had been involved in an accident earlier in the week. The theft took place between March 3 and 7.

A plate glass window at the Cue Ball, 120 West Main Street, was broken shortly before noon March 3, when a car rolled into it.

The car had been parked across the street, rolled down an incline, across the roadway and into the window, police reported. The car sustained minor damage.

Forty-two pellet holes were found in nine windows of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and School, Elm and East streets, police reported.

Pellet holes were also found in a door window of an employees cottage at 409 High Street. Police estimated both incidents occurred late March 4 or early March 5.

The window of a home at 516 Randolph Street was broken February 28 at 7 p.m. when a stone was thrown from a passing car.

Seven broken windows were discovered in the First Methodist Church on Sunday. Police, who found rocks inside the church, estimated the vandalism occurred between noon and 7 p.m.

The rear door window of a car parked at 143 East Main Street, was broken by a rock and the air was let out of the tires between midnight and 9:30 a.m. March 2, police reported.

Two tires and wheels were taken from 616 Oakland Street between 11 p.m. February 27 and 4 p.m. February 28.

Two youths reportedly smashed bulbs in the P and A Theater's marquee. Police said the incident took place shortly after 9 p.m. March 1.

Vandals cut the bottom edge of a screen at 425 Yerkes Street on February 27. Entrance was not gained to the home and no signs of forced entry were found, police reported.

Northville Native Gets Promotion

Washtenaw County Detective Sergeant David B. Severance, a native of Northville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Severance of Northville, has been promoted to lieutenant.

In addition to his promotion, Severance has been assigned on a full-time basis to head the sheriff department's marine patrol division.

In announcing the promotion and Severance's new assignment, Sheriff Douglas Harvey said the full-time assignment was made possible through the cooperation of state authorities who have released funds which pay for two-thirds of the salary for a marine lieutenant.

Severance has headed the marine patrol division for several years although before May and after September of each year he was assigned to investigative work with the detective division.

Local Woman Wins Trophies

A Northville woman walked off with seven trophies and "lots of ribbons" from the Detroit Kennel Club show held Sunday at Cobo Hall.

Margaret Benish, 43334 Seven Mile Road, took top honors in two airedale classes with Bodelm Barnacle Bill winning best of breed and Bodelm Bouncing Bettina winning best of opposite sex.

In Louisville, Kentucky, the previous week, both dogs also took top honors, with Bettina winning best of breed and Bill taking best of opposite sex, Miss Benish said. Both shows were five point shows.

Miss Benish, owner of the former Bodelm Kennels in Northville, said the airedales are the first litter raised in twenty years.

$104,000.00 OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE CITY OF NOVI

COUNTY OF OAKLAND, MICHIGAN

1969 SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the City Hall, 25850 Novi Road, Novi, Michigan, until 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Monday the 30th day of March, 1970, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be coupon bonds consisting of four (4) bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each and twenty (20) bonds of the denomination of $5,000.00 each, numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 to 24, both inclusive, will be dated December 1, 1969, and will mature serially without option of prior redemption as follows:

- $ 9,000.00 August 1, 1970;
- $15,000.00 August 1, 1971;
- $10,000.00 August 1, 1972;
- $15,000.00 August 1, 1973;
- $ 5,000.00 August 1st of each year from 1974 to 1982, inclusive;
- $10,000.00 August 1, 1983.

Said bonds will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or any combination thereof. Said interest will be payable on August 1, 1970, and semi-annually thereafter on February 1st and August 1st of each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and shall be represented by only one coupon for each coupon period and all bonds maturing in the same year shall carry the same interest rate. None of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate per annum which is less than 50% of the rate borne by any other bonds of this issue. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company qualified to act as paying agent under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the United States of America, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, subject to the approval of the City. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from April 1, 1970, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds herein offered, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

The bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of a like amount of deferred installments of special assessments on Special Assessment Rolls Nos. 11 and 12 of the City, and in addition to the special assessments, will pledge the full faith and credit of the City for their payment. The bonds are divided between the special assessment districts in the manner provided in the bond authorizing resolution. These bonds are being issued for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of paving and sanitary sewer improvements in Special Assessment Districts Nos. 11 and 12, in the City of Novi.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $2,080.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the City of Novi, must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys, of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof and will be printed on each bond. There will also be furnished the usual closing certificates, dated as of the date of delivery of and payment for the bonds, including a statement that there is no litigation pending or, to the knowledge of the signers thereof, threatened, affecting the validity of the bonds. The City shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan, or such other place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. In the event that prior to delivery of the Bonds, the interest received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law, ruling, regulation or court decision, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase the Bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

Envelopes containing the bids should be marked plainly "Proposal for Bonds."

RON HUBBARD

Hubbard Elected All League

Northville's Ron Hubbard won a repeat berth on the Wayne-Oakland Conference basketball all-star first team in selections announced Tuesday.

Hubbard missed being unanimous by only one of a possible 14 points.

Bernie Bach of Northville was picked to the second team, and teammate Terry Mills was awarded honorable mention.

Hubbard led the Mustangs in scoring with a 19.3 average. Bach was second with 11.3 and Mills third with 9.1. Hubbard and Bach teamed up on the boards, accounting for most of the rebounding strength, and Mills was a scrappy playmaker from his guard position.

Hubbard and Mills are seniors, Bach is a junior. Hubbard was on the first team last year as a junior.

Dick Souther of Bloomfield Hills and Don Johnson of West Bloomfield were the only unanimous choices. Hubbard and Bob Musch of Brighton were one point short of unanimity. Don Brown of Clarkston was the other first team player.

Could Be State Champ

Inkster Wins at Northville

The Michigan Class B basketball championship might be decided Friday night when Inkster plays River Rouge in the regional semi-finals at Ypsilanti. Whoever wins should be the favorite for the State title.

Inkster plowed through the district at Northville last week, taking easy victories from Dearborn Heights, Riverside and Livonia Churchhill.

Riverside eliminated Northville in the opener last Monday. Churchill nudged Clarenceville in the other game.

Inkster, ranked second in the state, is 18-1 on the season, its only loss coming at the hands of Ecorse. River Rouge whipped Ecorse by 20 points last week in snapping up its own district tournament.

Rouge, the defending state champion, is now 17-3 after defeating New Boston Huron in the regional opener last night at Ypsilanti.

Most Wayne-Oakland Conference teams fared exactly as Northville. Only Brighton won a district championship, downing Chelsea and Dexter for the title at Chelsea.

Milford and West Bloomfield got into district finals. But Milford lost to Ann Arbor, and Bloomfield dropped to Southfield. Waterford Kettering won its opener against Clarkston but then lost the second night out.

All the other conference teams took it on the chin the first game of the districts.

Golf Pro

John Jawor (above) has been appointed general manager and golf pro at Brae-Burn Country Club in Plymouth. Jawor said the club is installing new lockers and showers and buying golf cars for the upcoming season.

Griffins Lose Out In 'State'

Northville's wrestling brother tandem got the cold shoulder in the Michigan Class B tournament at Okemos last Friday and Saturday.

Mark Griffin got Northville's only point with a victory in his first match at 107 pounds. He then lost his next two and was eliminated.

David Griffin dropped two straight at 115 pounds.

They were the only two Mustangs to qualify for the state meet. "At that stage it's pretty tough going," admitted Coach Jack Townsley.

Mark is a senior and David a sophomore. Both received special recognition at last night's wrestling banquet.

Mark, this year's captain, was named most valuable player in balloting by team members. David was named co-captain for next year. John Fialon, another sophomore, was elected the other co-captain.

Townsley pointed out he'll lose most of his starting lineup to graduation. He's especially worried about replacing his heavier weights where Randy Marburger, Rick Lampe and David D'Haene — all regional finalists — will vacate.

He has several second-string boys coming back but most will be concentrated at the lower weights.

Schoolcraft Stars

Schoolcraft Community College has the ninth best swimming team in the nation among junior colleges. Schoolcraft scored 14 points in the National Junior College Swimming meet last week at Miami, Fla.

Two Michigan teams — Henry Ford of Detroit and Grand Rapids Community College — placed first and second, respectively.

Northville: Swim Capital of Class B?

Tom Thompson (above) swims the butterfly. Marty Tuck (right) takes off from starting block as Coach Ben Lauber times him, with Ed Zywiec watching. Team (below, from the left) is Mike Ivey, Bob Cook, Mark Dixon, Thompson and Tuck in bottom row; and Lauber, Glynn Simmons, Ralph Luckett, Peter Bedford, Bill Maguire, Gary Putrow, David Wright and Zywiec in top row.

Northville probably has one-tenth of one-percent of all Class B students in the state. But it has about three-percent of the best Class B swimmers.

Of approximately 400 swimmers in this weekend's state meet at Michigan State University in East Lansing, 12 will be Mustangs.

Northville is sending three individuals and two relay teams.

Sophomore Gary Putrow and junior Tom Thompson will be competing in the 100-yard backstroke. Sophomore Glynn Simmons will be taking off from the diving board.

The freestyle relay team will be Robert Cook, Mike Ivey, Mark Dixon and Ed Zywiec with alternates Bill Maguire and Pete Bedford. The medley relay team will be Marty Tuck, Putrow, Zywiec and Thompson with alternates Ralph Luckett and David Wright.

On Friday the preliminaries will narrow a 36-man field in each of 11 events down to 12 swimmers (or relay teams) per event. "If we can at least match our qualifying times we hit earlier this season, we can reach the finals," predicted Coach Ben Lauber.

The finals will be Saturday. Lauber's team is in its first varsity season and just finished a 10-2 record.

A NEW DART FOR NEARLY $400 LESS. THAT'S WHAT I CALL A WINDFALL!

To be exact, Sheriff, it's $378.15 off the sticker price on this Dodge Dart. Here's how the Dodge Boys did it. First, the sticker price has been reduced on all Dart models. (On our Dart Swinger hardtop, this price reduction amounts to $187.)

Then the Dodge Boys came up with a specially equipped Swinger that includes the automatic transmission at no extra cost. It's called the Dart Swinger Automatic. And it also includes a vinyl roof, whitewalls, carpeting, and more. Add the savings of the automatic transmission ($191 on V8, $175 on Six), and you come up with a total price reduction of $362 to $378. Makes this 6-passenger Dart America's biggest compact value by far.

The Dodge Boys are driving down your cost of driving in style.

you think but what will happen along the road."

Trustee Stanley Johnston said it "does not have anything to do with it. I am in favor of meeting to give information and get information back from the quarterback." Johnston was referring to the Novi council and planning board.

"This is all a matter of conjecture until we see the actual plans that will be shown Friday," Cook said.

"We do not know the details," Johnston said, "but we know we will have 3,300 school children from the project."

"We do not want panic in the community," Spear interjected. "All governmental units are saying that but no one knows it. We should get together and work together."

Cook argued that citizens in Northville would not be directly affected by the proposal.

Johnston disagreed saying the "impact on governmental units involved will be felt from the point of services they (Northville citizens) provide. All property in a 20 to 30 mile radius will feel the impact. The impact will be felt by all governmental bodies within that radius."

Deibert said he was against setting up a meeting of the eight units. "Had our superintendent attacked the problem in small coffee klatches," he said, "it would have been perfectly legitimate. But to call a gathering of the clan before the formal presentation Friday, we cannot say afterwards that we have clean hands. That may be important down the road when we want someone to listen."

Orphan countered, "That would be important would we be forming battle strategy, but if the meeting is to explore and to examine the problem of impact on the units, then it is okay."

No vote was taken, but the board agreed to hold the meeting Wednesday.

In other business transacted Monday, the board authorized test borings in the gym and boy's locker room area of Ida B. Cooke Junior High to determine why the gym floor is settling, and agreed to consider placing the year-round school concept on the ballot in June.

By unanimous vote, board members authorized test borings to be taken at the high school. A representative from O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenback, Incorporated, architect for the junior high, told the board no cracking of walls is evident and the floor problem may be caused by an improper compacting of 10 feet of fill below the floor.

If test borings bear this out, it could require removing the floor, concrete, and fill and recompacting it the architect said. The board also requested Spear determine who would bear the cost of the project.

Concerning the year-round school survey, preliminary findings suggest the concept is feasible in the Northville school district.

Spear said the data obtained will undergo further analysis and students and teachers are still to be surveyed.

The board agreed to determine March 23 whether or not the concept will be put to the advisory vote of the people in the June election.

Board members said it would give voters without school-age children a chance to express their opinion, but that the board will make the final decision as to using the concept in the Northville system.

KENNETH SEWELL

Edison Taps Local Man

The appointment of Kenneth I. Sewell as assistant to the manager of operations has been announced by the Detroit Edison Company. Sewell has served as director of the company's project and cost control department since November, 1968.

According to John W. Drummond, vice president and manager of operations, Sewell will report directly to him and will be responsible for cost reporting, savings objectives, and other staff performances related to operations management.

A member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Sewell began his Edison career in 1945 as an engineer in the electrical apparatus division. He transferred to the general engineering department, planning division, in 1949 and has continued involvement in various phases of planning and development ever since.

After a series of promotions through levels of staff and supervisory posts in engineering, he was named chief of the project coordination division in 1963. He became system development engineer in 1965 and was appointed project control engineer in early 1968, the post he held at the time of being named director of project and cost control.

Sewell also serves as a deputy director of the Defense Electric Power Administration.

A veteran of World War II with service in the U.S. Army Signal Corps, Sewell is a native of Detroit and graduate of Cooley High School. He earned his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology in 1942.

Sewell and his wife, Dorothy, make their home at 18320 Laraugh Drive in Northville. They are the parents of three children: Andrea, Timothy, and Jon. Sewell is a member of the Northville Township Planning Commission.

Levitt Rezoning

revenue reduction of $12,660 but a school cost reduction of $100,350.

Because the zoning for multiples that it seeks is less restrictive than the number of units Levitt proposes, even with the suggested increase, the firm has stated that it is prepared to offer deed restrictions as a protection for the township.

Levitt admits that its decision to change its plan in mid-stream (preliminary plans are well underway and thousands of dollars have already been invested in engineering) after receiving the originally requested zoning is purely economics.

Single family homes proposed originally were to sell in the $30,000 to $36,000 range. But, says Levitt, the economy and development costs would force this home into the $38,000 to $46,000 price range.

"Further, high interest rates have caused a major increase in the monthly payments necessary to sustain a home in this price range. And if this is not problem enough, the absence of any source of conventional mortgage financing, and the $33,000 FHA mortgage ceiling resulting in sizable down payments requirements, make the sales prospects for these units dim at best," Levitt spokesmen note.

The changing character of Eight Mile Road and the area north in Novi also has played a role in Levitt's decision to modify its development plans.

In its concluding remarks in a detailed brochure, Levitt says:

"Levitt considers itself fortunate to be in the position of suggesting such a positive alternative to a very real business problem. The modification will generate 77 additional acres of open space. The prospect of developing a community which boasts 50-percent open space is not less than exciting. The change in housing type and slightly increased density does not substantially alter the impact of the development of adjacent properties or public facilities. In fact, the impact reduced as in the case of traffic, schools, road maintenance, and open space and recreation facilities."

marketing potential for the Eight Mile-Haggerty road development appears favorable, particularly in view of the proposed expressway to run parallel with Haggerty Road. Success of more than one of the proposed developments - Farmington, Novi or Northville Township - will depend somewhat on which materializes first.

The architectural firm that prepared preliminary site plans for the Meadowbrook Mall is Charles N. Agree, Inc., and the architect for Brooks' site plan is Wah Yee Associates

Township Meeting

FOR - That the amendment is constitutional, that it merely spells out in detail restrictive regulations that officials "thought" the original ordinance contained but were found inadequate by the Wayne County Circuit Court; that if removal or replacement of trailers do not constitute breaking of non-conforming use permission than trailers can exist in non-conforming areas forever with one replacing another; that the amendment governs all areas of township whether or not non-conforming trailers exist today in areas other than Gerald Avenue.

AGAINST - That the amendment is unconstitutional, that it is confiscatory in that it prohibits the continuation of trailer rental business existing prior to enactment of the original ordinance, that the proposed non-conforming language as it pertains to trailers are more restrictive than the non-conforming language for businesses; that the amendment is another example of township hall harrassment against Gerald Avenue residents and property owners; and that it will lead to unnecessary court action.

In another zoning matter, the board approved an amendment providing that regulation of service stations be removed from B-1 zoning classification and placed under B-2 zoning.

Bids from three dealers on a new police car, replacement for the township's present three-year-old vehicle (30,000 miles), were discussed and then tabled pending a review of the specifications provided bidders by Chief Ronald Nisun.

Officials were informed that the bids arrived sealed on March 2 and were opened by Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond. They ranged from $2,747 to $3,044 without trade-in, and from $2,447 to $2,553 with trade-in.

The board voted to grant Nisun the title of police chief, at no additional pay and with the clear understanding that the top authority of the chief township law enforcement officer still rests with the supervisor by statute.

Disclosure that a township auxiliary police force was being formed caught some board members by surprise. It was pointed out by the supervisor that non-paid volunteers have been taking professional police training from Nisun, the Novi Police Department, and the State Police. They are unpaid volunteers, the supervisor said.

Township Attorney John Ashton, when asked about the legal liability of such officers, said he, too, was unaware of the volunteer program here.

The supervisor was requested to furnish the board with a detailed written report of the program.

after the recent primary election. The party was for Dingledey, who finished second in the balloting.

"Conversely, the men on the police force have been repeatedly reminded by the police chief that neither they nor their wives were to involve themselves in the city's politics," she wrote.

Neither McGuire or Mrs. Waara had any comment on the complaint.

Mrs. Beamish later admitted her letter had only been intended as a personal message to Mrs. Chambers. "There's been a misunderstanding," she said. "I didn't want this read in front of the council."

Mrs. Chambers asked for a city attorney's ruling on the situation after reading the letter. City Attorney Gene Schnelz promised an opinion by the March 24 meeting, two days before the meet-your-candidates night set for Wixom Elementary School.

In an unrelated case on Monday, McGuire suspended Walter Sprenger, city patrolman, for not following proper grievance procedure. Sprenger's suspension was reduced from one week to four hours, however, after discussions with Mayor Wesley McAtee and Howard Draft, a police union representative.

According to Robert Case, assistant mayor, Sprenger had taken a complaint to the mayor and city attorney rather than to the chief. "I think we got everything resolved for now," Case said. "It's time to stop playing kid's games and get down to the business of running the police department."

Female Discrimination?

Wixom Salary Hassle Points Up Growing 'Women's Rights' Battle

Donna Thorsberg and Faye Waara took time out to pose for newspaper pictures last week. "Boy, you're getting the special treatment," kidded one of their assistants.

Mrs. Thorsberg and Mrs. Waara feel the same way. They feel they're getting special treatment because they're women.

Specifically they feel they're getting less money from the City of Wixom because of their sex. Mrs. Thorsberg functions as clerk and Mrs. Waara as treasurer of Wixom.

"This is a complaint you're going to be hearing more about in the next few years," admits Keith Bateman, a legal counsel for the Michigan House of Representatives.

The House recently opened hearings on job discrimination against women.

Apparently the hearings are a reaction to a growing trend toward militancy in the women's liberation movement. Although women's lib groups tend to attract younger members who chafe at the prospect of married-housewife roles, the big issue in women's lib remains money.

If women weren't exploited economically, the argument goes, then they might be able to choose lifestyles other than being chief cook and bottlewasher.

Mrs. Thorsberg and Mrs. Waara are definitely not in the vanguard of the movement. They're both married with families. They like their careers but they like their husbands more.

"We're not really being militant," says Mrs. Thorsberg. "But we do feel we're being discriminated against."

The question for them is simply a matter of consistency. The city council raised the salaries of the men department heads in October. But it refuses to do the same for the two women.

The issue is not that simple, of course, because two council members are facing re-election in less than a month. "Politics is at work here and everybody knows it," Mayor Wesley McAtee charges.

McAtee recommended the raises to the council two weeks ago. The two women had asked for raises immediately after the men got theirs last fall, but McAtee blamed his delay on two long-standing controversies. Council has been debating almost every meeting.

A group of Wixom citizens, most from the Birch Park Subdivision, have been packing council meetings since last fall bent on two things: stopping the city from putting a storm drain into Loon Lake and getting rid of Police Chief Tom McQuire.

Now, with the added conflict over the alleged discrimination, the election campaign is becoming something of a circus.

The three candidates most directly on the spot are those sitting on the council. Lottie Chambers, up for her fourth term, and Elwood Grubb, up for his first after being appointed last year, voted "no" on the raises.

Charles McCall, council man running for mayor against Gilbert Willis, a Birch Park resident, voted "yes" for a compromise $1,000.

Mary Parvu, who's been against the storm drain along with Grubb (the other four council members are for it), also voted "no". Howard Coe, who's retiring, and Gunnar Mettala, who's in the middle of his term, voted "yes".

McAtee, also retiring after eight years, does not vote as mayor. The 3-3 tie vote on council means the women lose.

Mrs. Thorsberg and Mrs. Waara see the discrimination in mathematical terms. The other department heads are averaging $12,000. All are at the third step or beyond on the salary schedule

MRS. FAYE WAARA

MRS. DONNA THORSBERG

CHARLES McCALL

MRS. LOTTIE CHAMBERS

adopted last year.

The women receive $7,700, which is below beginner's wages on the scale. Mrs. Thorsberg has five years and Mrs. Waara eight years of experience at Wixom.

The women concede it is difficult to compare their jobs to some other department heads, like the police chief, who is on 24-hour-a-day call and puts his life on the line. But the administrative assistant-assessor, whose job is strictly administrative like the clerk and treasurer, gets $14,000 a year. But again the comparison does not fit the legal definition under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The women are willing to compromise. They want a raise only to $9,500—which would still leave them short of the men.

And even though their jobs can't legally be compared to the others yet, the law may be amended soon. "There may come a day when jobs that aren't exactly the same can be treated the same under the law," advises Bateman.

Grubb sees the situation in a completely different way. He points to other cities which also pay their clerk and treasurer less than other department heads.

ABC Pilot Film Falls Flat In Sunday Night Debut

By ROLLY PETERSON

The last time a pilot film for a television series came around it promised much but delivered little. The pilot was "Then Came Bronson", a story about a soul-searching newspaperman who was disenchanted with the establishment.

Now "Bronson" is a television program on its last legs. After a strong start it lapsed into mediocrity, if not boredom, and will not appear next year on television.

Sunday night another pilot movie came along — "Dial Hot Line" — and unlike Bronson, the ABC production didn't even have a good beginning. The movie was superficial at best, a drag at worst.

The great stone face, Vincent Edwards, took the lead as Mr. Leopold, head of a psychology clinic in a major American hospital. He also supervises a new project called Hot Line.

His hard nosed approach, it is proclaimed, is just the ticket for today's wayward juveniles in need of helping hand in a troubled society. Leopold's clinic offers the help, but Hot Line makes no overt move to convert or cure.

"The option is always at the other end of the line," Edwards intones as he speaks to the young people manning the telephones. What he means is that the Hot Liners don't offer counseling. Untried amateurs, they just provide a contact for young people in trouble, a touch with the norm, if you will. It's up to the caller to solve his own problems.

The format is a good one, despite the desultory form it took Sunday night. Each week next year a different episode could focus on a particular problem, hopefully in depth with some realistic endings.

That was the problem with Sunday's pilot. The Hot Liners were just a little too hep, Edwards as the psychologist was a little too perfect in his deadpan manner, and the focus never settled on any one situation so that characters came across as nothing more than one-dimensional.

Case in point: Mrs. Carruthers who was a Hot Liner until told by Edwards to forget her job and stay at home to straighten out her delinquent daughter. The Carruthers home is ultra-modern and expensive, yet Mrs. Carruthers has no visible means of support.

Happily, the daughter comes around after some weird hangups and clasps her mother's hand in a final scene of reconciliation. Reconciliation in a short time, however, is a little too much to expect from a girl who icily ignored her mother for years.

Centurion ...the $65 tennis racquet that's not for everybody. Just winners.

Space-age magnesium alloy frame with tensile strength of over 34,000 pounds per square inch allows open throat construction.

You get greater velocity with less effort.

One-piece frame has no laminations, rivets, or hollow areas for exact weight and balance control.

You get the weight and balance you need.

Strung conventionally with gut, in recessed grooves around the head allowing for equal tension throughout the face and near the frame.

You get great control, a full "sweep spot."

Contoured grooves protect the strings — strings don't touch the ground when racquet is dropped.

You get assurance of less string breakage.

Oval head design with open throat for minimum air-resistance, maximum acceleration.

You get a quick stroke that is quicker.

Fairway Grip made in England, wrapped of fine quality soft leather with special tacky feel to minimize handle slippage.

You get a grip that's comfortable, sure.

Frame checked for surface flaws by the fluorescent penetrant technique used in the aerospace industry. Samples from each batch of frames X-rayed for internal flaws.

You know that your racquet is perfect.

This is the Centurion, a totally new tennis racquet, made of a single solid piece of magnesium alloy by people who make parts for America's space program, people who are used to leaving no margin for error. No Centurion is accepted for sale unless it is flawless. The Centurion costs $65 strung. It's definitely not the racquet for all players. If you're an expert it will help you to be more expert. It gives you more power and reliability — if your game is already powerful and reliable. The Centurion is unique. Come see it. Come swing it. This is the racquet that could mean more winning points in a match. That's worth $65—to a winner.

Doodling Points Up Probing Questions

Rev. Timothy C. Johnson Assistant Pastor First Presbyterian Church, Northville

People doodle on church worship bulletins; this is no secret. Sometimes this doodling is a response to what is happening or not happening to the person during the church hour.

On one occasion, a pastor of a northern Michigan church, found a piece of poetry written on the back of a bulletin.

Hey Dad! It says here that 200 men were killed today in the war. How about that, Dad?

Can't talk now son I'm late for my meeting.

Hey Mom! I read today that 200 men were killed in the war. How about that Mom?

That's fine son, Now carry out the garbage.

Hey Teacher! the paper says that 200 men were killed in the war. How about that?

Never mind, boy. Just remember that x+y=z.

Hey Preacher! did you know that 200 men were killed in the war? How about that, Preacher?

Come forward and be saved, son And pray for forgiveness.

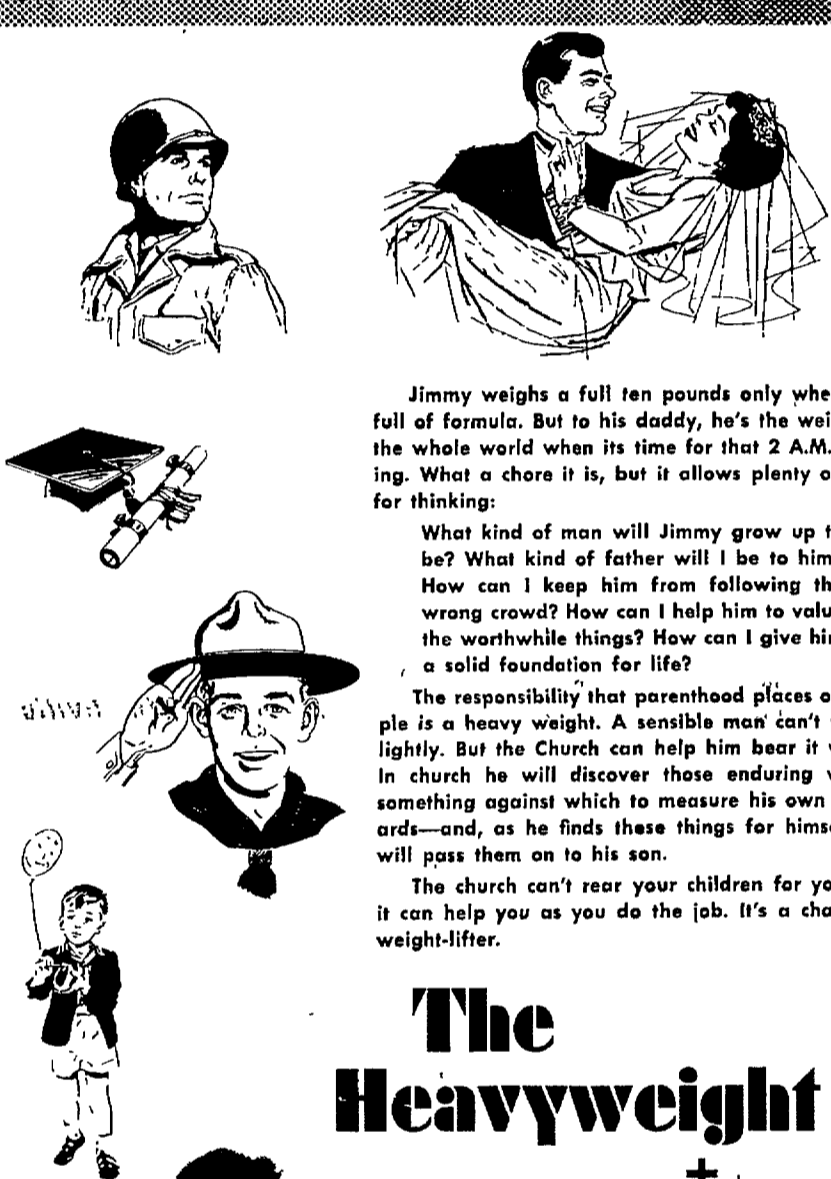

Hey God, what the hell am I doing here?

The youth who had written the poem listened carefully to the sermon. Much to his surprise, people afterward objected to the use of "hell," and others missed the point entirely.

same handwriting, the youth's response to the people's criticism: Some of you were disturbed by the language I used—

These are the people I was talking about.

This illustration stands by itself. I wish to add only one comment: The time is long since gone when important people can so crassly ignore the probings of an inquisitive mind, belonging either to a youth or an adult.

Jimmy weighs a full ten pounds only when he's full of formula. But to his daddy, he's the weight of the whole world when its time for that 2 A.M. feeding.

What kind of man will Jimmy grow up to be? What kind of father will I be to him? How can I keep him from following the wrong crowd? How can I help him to value the worthwhile things? How can I give him a solid foundation for life?

The responsibility that parenthood places on people is a heavy weight. A sensible man can't take it lightly. But the Church can help him bear it wisely.

The church can't rear your children for you, but it can help you as you do the job. It's a champion weight-lifter.

There's No Party Line on Abortion Issue

LANSING—ABORTION REFORM is one of those topics which come before the legislature which results in complete erasure of party lines.

There is support for and opposition to various shades of revision of current laws in both political parties.

In the end, it becomes a matter of conscience for each individual lawmaker. There is no party line.

A poll taken recently among the members of both the Michigan House and Senate would indicate the lawmakers don't even do much talking with one another on the subject. It indicates the lawmakers drastically underestimate the strength of the sentiment for abortion law reform in both houses.

MORE THAN one half of the legislators responding in both houses said they could vote for some form of abortion law revision. But less than one fourth of them think a new law actually will be passed.

In answer to the question: "Would you vote for some form of abortion reform?" 55 percent answered affirmatively; 22 percent said they definitely wouldn't and the remaining 23 per cent were undecided.

But when asked "Will some form of abortion reform be passed this session?" only 24 per cent answered yes; 40 per cent said no, and another 36 per cent said they didn't know.

Perhaps the safest conclusion to draw from the poll, in terms of what will happen, is that there are quite a few things that could happen.

WHATEVER the legislature finally does do, it has a number of abortion bills to pick from--ranging from a slight loosening up of the present century-old law to complete and absolute repeal.

Three of the bills have been waiting in a Senate committee for a year. Five others were introduced earlier this session. The Senate Health, Social Services and Retirement Committee, headed by State Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, held 14 public hearings on abortion reform throughout the state last year and early this year.

Mrs. Beebe, a strong advocate of abortion law reform, lost her fight last year when the Senate narrowly rejected an abortion reform bill.

SHE HOPES her efforts meet with more success this year and says the poll would tend to indicate success is possible.

When asked why so many lawmakers would say they will vote for some form of a bill while being dubious about passage of one, she pointed out the fact the issue is one involving an individual decision.

"POSSIBLY, it's because the legislators know they are for it in their minds, but haven't stopped to assess the fact that many of their colleagues share their feelings," she said.

"And another reason for this is that abortion reform is a very individual thing," she said. "Many legislators are for reform, but they don't know what form it should take yet."

THE EIGHT BILLS being considered can be divided into three general categories:

-complete repeal. If passed, these bills would eliminate any mention of abortion and criminal consequences from the entire body of Michigan law.

-permissive. A bill recently introduced by Sen. Gilbert Bursley would allow a woman the right to a legal abortion in a licensed hospital, clinic or doctor's office for any reason during the first three months of pregnancy.

-moderate revision. These bills would revise the present law to allow abortions if it is shown that continuation of the pregnancy could pose serious threats to either the physical or mental health of either the mother or the unborn child.

WHATEVER the eventual outcome of the issue this year, it is sure to be occupying a great deal of public attention in the coming months. And while the outcome isn't sure there is one thing that is: the final decision will come after much soul searching on the part of every legislator who casts a vote on this emotionally-charged and highly complex issue.

Babson Report

Bank Earnings Show Increase

BABSON'S REPORTS Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Commercial bank earnings increased during 1969 because of the strong demand for loans and the high interest rates. However, the same high interest rates also limited and, in many instances, eliminated growth in deposits. This is particularly true in business-oriented banks located in major money centers such as New York City. These banks were forced to find other sources for funds such as Eurodollars which demand interest in excess of the domestic prime rate. The result was a profit squeeze for many commercial banks.

New regulations have resulted in a basic change in the way banks report earnings. They must now show two different sets of earnings--net operating earnings, which include loan losses, and net income, which reflects losses or gains from security transactions. In 1969 this tended to suppress earnings somewhat, but in future years the net income figure will be greatly influenced by the securities market.

Thus, banks may enhance or depress these earnings if they desire. Managing the bank portfolio, consisting primarily of bonds, will be more difficult. A decision must be made whether to upgrade the bond portfolio and obtain a better yield for several years and sacrifice reported net earnings for the year involved, or maintain the status quo for the sake of the year-to-year earnings picture. Another factor is the new regulation on bond appreciation now taxed as regular income rather than as capital gains for commercial banks. Regardless of the decision made on investment policy, net income is subject to fluctuations under the new method of reporting earnings.

THE COUNTRY banks, which are consumer banks, fared somewhat better last year than banks in major money centers, but disintermediation prevented even greater earnings growth. During the latter part of 1969 there was a strong run on Certificates of Deposit, and these banks were forced to find other sources of money. One Philadelphia bank circumvented Regulation Q of the Fed by offering $20 million 7 1/2% subordinated notes in denominations of $100 to attract funds from the small investor.

This had proven quite successful, and it was visualized that these notes could be further utilized if money remained tight. However, the Federal Reserve Board is considering closing this loophole by imposing a minimum $20,000 denomination and a minimum maturity of five years per note.

The increase in the minimum denomination of Treasury Bills from $1,000 to $10,000 should result in more deposits for commercial banks, as the small investor loses what is considered the safest and most liquid form of savings other than bank deposits. The Fed's ruling in late 1969 to allow banks to pay higher interest on time deposits proved to be too little, too late.

The Research Staff of Babson's Reports foresees a reduction in interest rates during the year, which should result in expanding deposits for all banks. At the present time, there are indications of some easing in the demand for loans. However, this is slight, and the overall demand is still brisk. Many banks would prefer to reduce the expensive borrowing they have done, such as in Eurodollars, than to expand loans. This would improve liquidity and should mean better profit margins.

Salary Hassle Points up Fight

He thinks Wixom's salary schedule should be adjusted so the clerk and treasurer have a much lower starting and lower maximum salary than the others.

"I don't buy the idea they should get the same," he explains. "These are completely different jobs, not on the same level as the others."

The other two "no" voters did not agree with Grubb on this or with his suggestion to accept the proffered resignations from Mrs. Thorsberg and Mrs. Waara.

Mrs. Chambers, whom McAtee says has been perennially opposed to raising anyone's salary, says she wants to wait until budget time in June to review the salaries.

Mrs. Parvu says she might vote for it if all clerical employees were given raises, too. But she is reluctant to do so now, even though McAtee says he's willing to hike wages across the board.

The Birch Park citizen group is also against the raises. Jill Hall, a council candidate who's been one of the spokesmen for the group, claims McAtee "is using this as a political issue."

McAtee, in turn, has charged that opposition to the raises is based on a strategy to collect more votes in the April 6 election.

Moreover, the mayor argues in behalf of the salary increase primarily because of what he says is an obvious inequity. Although the council unanimously adopted a salary schedule, it has placed all department heads on that schedule but the two women, who receive less than a beginner, he notes. "Their salary ($7,700) doesn't even appear on the schedule."

Whether or not Wixom's salary is higher than other municipalities isn't the issue, he argues, pointing out that comparisons must take into consideration job requirements as well as job titles. The point is that the council approved the schedule but applies it only to male employees, he emphasizes.

"It's unfortunate, and I'm very sincere when I say it, that some people must try to boost their own political ambitions at the expense of two excellent employees who do a yeoman's job."

All of the politicking, however, remains a side issue for Mrs. Thorsberg and Mrs. Waara. Their request has been considered at two council meetings, including a special one called just for that purpose, and the 3-3 impasse seems irresolvable.

Now they're faced with either giving in or resigning. Until the federal law is changed, they have no legal recourse.

So far they've found most of their supporters to be men and most of their opponents to be women. "But that doesn't change the fact it's still discrimination against women," maintains Mrs. Thorsberg, who's more outspoken than Mrs. Waara. "If we were men, there'd never be a question about getting more money."

Winter Visits Up At Park

A reasonably good winter sports month attracted record or near-record use at most Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks during the month of February.

Over 312,800 visitors used HEMA facilities last month compared to 225,500 in February of 1969, according to David O. Laidlaw, director of the Authority, which has eight parks serving the citizens of the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had over 148,000 visitors in February, 1970 compared to 117,000 in February, 1969. This tops the previous high of over 117,000 set in January of 1969.

The HCMA parks in Washtenaw County reported over 17,400 visitors in February of 1970, compared to 12,700 in February, 1969. Individual park totals are as follows (with 1969 figures in parenthesis): Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park - 7,500

Out of the Horse's Mouth

Your comments and questions on horses and ponies are invited for this column. Address correspondence to "Horse's Mouth", South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi. 48178.

Farmers Week at Michigan State University will have "Horse Day" on March 25. Horse's care will be demonstrated in the morning. The afternoon will feature Robert Eggert, former Michigan Horse Show Association Director, speaking on the economic impact of the horse.

GENERAL SAFETY RULES for Horse and Rider
1. Control your temper at all times, but let him know that you are his firm and kind master.

2. Horses require kind, gentle, but firm, treatment. There are few vicious horses. Most of those become vicious through abuse. However, you must be firm and consistent. Decide what you want from your horse and insist on getting it.

3. Never tease your horse. He may develop bad and dangerous habits the rest of his life. If so, your safety is in serious jeopardy.

4. Do not punish your horse except at the exact instant of his disobedience. If you wait even a minute, he will not understand why you are punishing him. Never strike or kick your horse about the head or legs.

5. Riders and attendants should not be loud or rowdy. Noise makes a horse jumpy and nervous both on the ground and under saddle. Eventually some horses will react by kicking. A sharp tone of voice may be used for checking an animal, but your voice should never be louder than is required to meet the situation.

6. Manners and suitability to the experience of the rider are prime qualities in any horse. Above all, know your horse, and make sure your manners are at least equal to his.

7. Never race. Horse play is only for the unmounted horse, not for the horse and rider.

8. Always treat other people on horses and afoot in the same way you would like to be treated.

SAFETY RULES FOR JUMPING

1. The rider should be able to go over Cavalletti (poles on the ground which are properly spaced) and do this adequately both with and without stirrups.

2. Before starting to jump, the main objective is to instill confidence in the rider. Therefore, a safe, quiet, but willing horse is a necessity.

3. A great variety of low jumps should be used at first until skill has been sufficiently developed.

4. The rider should go over these low jumps at the trot to develop control and the ability to "stay with the horse."

5. Riders should wear "hard hats" at all times when jumping.

6. Only rider's with superior riding ability should be permitted to jump.

7. If a rider should fall from the horse in the process of jumping, he should not be moved until checked by a nurse or a physician. These rules should be followed when riding and jumping on the trails as well as when showing in or preparing for a horse show.
