A battle for financial survival was lost last week as Northville Coach Lines, Inc. announced abruptly that it had ceased operations as of Thursday night.

The decision idled 18 buses, put 24 people out of work, and left 200 passengers without transportation.

"It just wasn't profitable," said Adolph Schiller, general manager of the operation for the corporation that purchased the bus company from Quentin Biddle seven years ago. The Northville Township company's headquarters is located on Seven Mile Road, across from the Northville State Hospital.

"It's bec., a losing battle for .. year or more," he said. "We kept hoping for the best but it never happened. Today you just can't operate a bus service without some kind of subsidization and there was none to be had. It's a shame, I know, becausy the people really need

Schiller said there are no immediate plans to sell the property, which includes the bus garage, office, grounds and 18 buses - 14 of which are charter buses. He said the corporation, which is to be dissolved, is still hopeful that "some company will pick up the business."

Attempts to persuade the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority to take over the local bus operation as part of that organization's plans to provide and coordinate mass transportation for the metropolitan area were unsuccessful, said Schiller. As late as Friday, officials of the authority, established by the legislature, indicated it had no funds to operate the bus service.

"They've got money for studies and plans - and I think they are necessary, too - but when it comes to actually providing service they've got nothing," he said. "Yet, the idea of the authority is to buy up and operate all of the existing bus companies in the metropolitan area, including the DSR. By the time they're ready to begin

Shopping Center Plans, Levitt to Get Hearings

The public later this month will get a crack at three rezoning requests involving separate plans for what could represent one of the largest shopping center-multiple housing developments in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Northville township planners Tuesday ordered public hearings on Thursday, April 30, for two regional shopping center proposals, one that suggests a development larger than the Livonia Mall, and they set Tuesday, April 28, as the date for the public hearing on Levitt & Sons' multiples

The latter involves Levitt's proposal to eliminate single family homes from its 400-acre Highland Lakes subdivision plan and to substitute multiple housing, thus making a total development of 1,414 townhouse units and 400 apartment units on the site located east of the city between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

Specifically, Levitt seeks permission to eliminate 350 single family homes which it originally included in its plans along with 914 townhouse units and 400 apartment units. The original subdivision proposal has already gained the necessary rezoning but in, order to change those 3" plans Levitt must rezone that section of its property, roughly 80 acres, where it plans to substitute townhouse units, for the houses.

proposals, one by Nate Shapero on nearly 57 acres, of land at the southwest corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty roads, and the other by Leonard Brooks on 65 acres at the northwest corner of Seven Mile and Haggerty roads.

(Neither proposal should be confused with the neighborhood shopping centers, for which zoning already has been granted, to be located on the south side of Seven Mile Road, east of Northville Road. Each of these developments involves about 13 acres of land. One is by Stewart Oldford and the other by Levitt).

Brooks' proposal, according to a spokesman, would mean an enclosed shopping mall larger than the existing Livonia Mall and larger than most other shopping malls in the Detroit area.

It suggests an all-enclosed development of 700,000 square feet (Livonia Mall represents about 560,000 square feet), with numerous retail stores complementing "at least two" but "preferable three" large department stores. The all-enclosed,

Patrolman Roger Beukema resigned from the Northville police force, effective April 3, to take a position with Bloomfield Township police. Beukema hinted he left for a better paying job. He had been with the Northville department for nearly Hired to replace him was Robert Kramer, a member of the auxiliary police force for the past year. Kramer is expected to join the force full-time within two weeks.

Beukema is the fourth officer to resign from the force since the beginning of the year. In January, Ronald Wankowicz left to join the Bloomfield Township department. County Eyes Maybury For Park Development

A park system encompassing most of the 1,000-acre Maybury Sanatorium site in Northville Township may be wishful thinking but it nevertheless is being given serious consideration at the county and state level.

With the city of Northville's request to purchase 220 acres of the property from Detroit still in the Motor City's active file, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has now gone on record as strongly favoring a county or regional park covering 700 additional acres of the Maybury property.

Detroit, meanwhile, still plans to sell the property - but cost and to whom it will be sold has not yet been established.

Last week, the board of commissioners (formerly called the board of supervisors) gave special priority to the purchase of the 700 acres in recommending to the State Department of Natural Resources how best it could utilize $81/2-million of the $25-million State recreation bond fund money for urban projects in Michigan.

Of the $25-million, the state is expected to allocate $81/2-million for Wayne County. Based on the $8½-million figure, the county approved suggested priorities for its Top priority was assigned to development of neighborhood youth centers which would be established throughout the county and in Detroit. No cost estimate was assigned to this proposal, however

Of all of the priorities, purchase of Maybury property was given a fourth-place ranking, behind the neighborhood youth centers, a nature center development on Detroit's west side, and a marina in Trenton's Elizabeth Park along the Detroit River.

Commissioners recommended that the state consider using $11/2-million or the $8½-million as part payment for the 700 acres of Maybury property.

No figure was attached to the number two priority-a nature center in Eliza-Howell Park on Detroit's west side, in cooperation with Detroit, but it suggested $2 million be assigned the marina project.

Other priorities, following the Maybury land purchase suggestion, in order are.

• Detroit River front park immediate west of the Ambassador Bridge and a park on Mud Island at Ecorse (no cost estimate).

• Winter sports development in the Middle Rouge Parkway, $350,000.

 Parkway development, including golf course, between Inkster and

The regional shopping center Annual Meeting Slated Saturday

Old-fashion democracy will be re-staged here Saturday when citizens of Northville Township assume the role of decision-makers at the annual township meeting.

The meeting in which citizens can assert their opinions, originate proposals and vote on them will take place in the Northville board of education room located in the former community building on Main Street at

Last year's annual meeting drew a capacity crowd.

Major business on the agenda will be consideration of the proposed 1970-71 township budget. Citizens may, at this meeting, alter the budget if they see fit before actually voting to approve or disapprove it.

The budget, which last week received the unanimous endorsement of the township board, calls for a total outlay of $175,400-$11,180 more than the budget approved at last year's annual meeting.

Garden Club to Host Tea

by JEAN DAY

THIS IS THE year for the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association to host the annual Tri-Club program with Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens branches, to be held at 12:30 p.m., Monday, April 13, in Northville Presbyterian Church fellowship

The Northville hostesses are breaking with tradition to start the program with a tea this year, instead of the usual luncheon.

Mrs. William Switzler, program chairman, explains that the change is being made with the hope that the meeting, which also is a guest day, will bring out a large portion of the three clubs' memberships to hear the speaker.

John Duff, a student at Michigan State University who participated in an International Farm Youth Exchange Youth-Development Program in Honduras for a year, will tell of his experiences and show color Appearing through the 4-H department at the university, the young speaker will explain about the exchange program following the tea. Northville branch members who have not been contacted by the telephone .committee may make reservations with Mrs. Switzler.

Mrs. George Kohs, hostess chairman, and her committee are planning to create a spring welcome with yellow arrangements of forsythia, daffodils and pussy willows in wicker baskets on the tea tables. On Mrs. Kohs' committee are Mrs. Hiram Pacific, Mrs. Alfred Millington and Mrs. Donald Ware.

Since the tea is replacing luncheon, 'the committee has made plans to serve tiny 'sandwiches and cakes. There will be no charge. It promises to be a popular innovation with Rosedale Gardens branch already having 40 reservations made.

SILVER SPRINGS Chapter of Questers Antiques Society will see the miniature antique lamps which are personal treasures of Mrs. Robert B. Willoughby, who will be hostess to the chapter for its April meeting at 12.30 p.m. next Wednesday, April 8, at her home at 15349 Lakeside Drive in Plymouth.

She is to present the paper on miniature antique lamps. Mrs. refreshment hostess.

Northville's newest chapter already has found in its first year that it has a goodly complement of members with choice collections.

The chapter's first paper on silver flatware was presented by Mrs. Beecher Todd, who used her own pieces for examples.

At its March meeting at the home of Mrs. Milton Koenig the hostess carried out the study program theme of "Toys" with cookies cut with an antique cookie cutter in the shape of a drum. Each member also received from Mrs. Koenig an 1890 lemon cracker recipe used by her grandmother, Minnie Hayes, It had been published several years ago in Parade Magazine.

Girl Scouts Given Health Center

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council this week received a gift of $40,000 to build the new health center at Camp Linden, the council's camp in Livingston County used by local Girl Scout troops.

The gift is part of the current camp development fund drive being conducted by the council to raise $600,000 to build 15 buildings and to make other improvements on the 430-acre site.

George Zerbel, who heads the campaign locally, reports that team captains have recruited workers to call on residents interested in the scouting program. No local tally has been taken yet as many workers are just beginning their solicitations.

In announcing the health center gift, William P. MacFall of Ann Arbor, drive general chairman, said the donors prefer to remain unidentified. The

When the summer resident camp is not in session, all equipment and interior partitions, which will be removable, will be stored and the building will become a troop camp cabin to accommodate 24 girls and leaders on week ends and school vacations.

MacFall, in expressing gratitude for the generosity "which will enhance Girl Scout camping for generations to come," said that the health center gift is more than an investment in a building - "it is an investment in youth and in the future of our country."

According to MacFall, the Girl Scouts hope construction of the building will be completed in time for use this summer

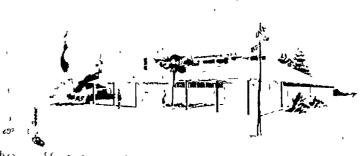

In addition to the health center, other buildings included in the development plan for the camp are a dining hall, boat house, caretaker's residence and workshop, three winterized cabins, several small administrative buildings and a shower

Society Starts Month - Long Campaign

A month-long campaign to combat cancer was launched here Wednesday under the banner of the American Cancer Society.

Mayor A.M. Allen has proclaimed April as "Cancer Control Month" to give emphasis to the Society's efforts to raise funds and to focus attention on the dangers of cancer.

"We'll be marshalling the efforts of volunteers in Northville to bring home the message--'Fight cancer with a checkup and a check'," according to Mrs. John Norman and Mrs. B.A. Zaytı, who have been appointed crusade chairman by Wayne Walker, general crusade chairman professional football star and general crusade chairman for Wayne County.

Additional volunteers are needed, the women emphasized in asking interested persons to contact them.

"We have a triple aim this April," they said. "First, we want to encourage every member of the community to have a regular health checkup, including cancer tests. Examples of these tests are the Pap test for early detection of uterine cancer, and the procto, and examination for a common cancer, cancer of the bowel.

"Second, we hope to teach people protective measures against cancer. By that we mean personal action-forexample the use of caution in the sunto avoid skin cancer. Another example is quite famous-an end to cigarette smoking to prevent most lung cancer

"Third, we must raise the' money to support vital American' Cancer Society programs of research, education and service to cancer patients. We look to the laboratories for the final solution to the cancer problem. Today there are 1.5 million Americans alive and cured of cancer. What tomorrow may bring depends on , the imagination and expertise of scientists and the support of us all."

There were no objections to the $82 million project, which has been in the works for almost a year, from either councilmen or citizens at Monday's public hearing. The planning board also voted unanimously to recommend the rezoning changes.

Three citizens and a representative of Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision endorsed the project.

Novi Election Wrap-up

State Rules Candidates Eligible

William Duey, William Brinker and Philip Anderson are eligible for Monday's election after all.

Duey is running for mayor of Novi. Brinker and Anderson are seeking council seats. Their eligibility as candidates had been in question because of unclear wording in the city charter.

14 But a ruling from the state attorney general's office this week cleared up the confusion and listed all three as bonafide candidates.

Maxine Virgue, assistant attorney general in charge of the municipal law division, handed down the opinion.

Duey, currently a councilman, resigned effective Saturday. Mayor Joseph Crupi had challenged him, arguing that he should have resigned effective February 25, the filing deadline for candidates.

City Attorney Howard Bond had interpreted the charter to mean Duey had only to submit his resignation before February 25. Mrs. Virgue agreed with the interpretation.

See final article in series on "new community" page 1-B.

"The question isn't really whether or not he is a qualified candidate, because he legally is," she explained. "The question is whether he had to resign his council seat. And he did that."

Mrs. Virgue applied the same reasoning to Brinker and Anderson's case. They had failed to resign their positions on the board of review before filing for council.

After being notified of the oversight, they resigned and filed new nominating petitions.

"The problems was whether they could still be members of the board of review - and they solved that problem by resigning," Mrs. Virgue noted. "There was no problem about them being eligible candidates."

Wixom Election Wrap-up

She pointed out Brinker and Anderson had acted in good faith in refiling their petitions.

Her ruling was a decisive vindication for Bond, who had been criticized for his interpretation earlier this month.

Councilman Denis Berry, who had asked from a ruling from the state, apologized to Bond Monday night. "I'm sorry I doubted your legal opinion," Berry told Bond. "But I felt so strongly about the matter I had to find out."

Council briefly discussed amending the charter to correct other possible disagreements on future elections. However, Crupi cut the discussion short, insisting that the next council could decide the matter. After refusing Duey's resignation early last month, council accepted it Monday Bond had earlier told the council the best rule of thumb on eligibility conflicts was "to make sure the voter is not disenfranchised.'

Mrs. Virgue's ruling kept intact the Duey team which has continued to campaign as a unit.

Duey has alligned with Anderson, Ray Harrison and Raymond Evanss in the first political slate ever to run in Novi's non-partisan city elections. Duey this week squashed rumors that the team was breaking up because of internal conflicts. "We're out campaigning harder than ever," Duey said. "And we're going to win as a team." The team concept has been condemned by several people who believe it is prematurely sophisticated for Novi !

Anderson has also been singled out for criticism? because of his conservative views and his involvement in dn b alleged violation of the city's landfill ordinance.

'Anyone who's afraid of putting one conservative on the council doesn't know much about city government," Duey charges. "One man doesn't run the council."

Anderson has claimed the council's decision to seek a warrant against the landfill operation on his property was Continued on Page 6-A

Novi voters will decide on a three mill increase for 10 years for roads in

Paragon Local Threatens Strike

Labor negotiations at the Paragon Division of Portec Corporation in Novi are continuing this week under threat of a strike.

Members of Local 508 voted, 178-3, Tuesday afternoon to give their bargaining committee the option to call a strike if negotiations break down. Wages and an insurance package remain the points of contention.

supporter of the millage, has asked that people vote the same on each proposal. Most of the candidates in

Monday's election have opposed the increase. And most observers give it less than a 50-50 chance of passing. The referendum will be only for constructing and improving roads, not for maintaining them. If passed the millage could generate as much as $2 million in total tax revenue, assuming the anticipated growth of Novi.

Critics have argued that the road millage may be premature since the city has no master plan for roads. Crupi has pointed out the city does have five priority roads which could be improved while a master plan is being drawn.

The electorate in Novi and Wixom will each choose a mayor and three councilmen in elections

Two candidates are running for mayor in both cities. Mayor Joseph Crupi and Councilman William Duey are challenging each other in Novi. Councilman Charles McCall and Gilbert Willis are opposing each other in Wixom.

Novi has 11 candidates for council, Wixom has seven.

The candidates in Novi are Philip Anderson, Denis Berry, Louie Campbell, Eugenie Choquet, Russell Button, David Harrison, Ray Harrison. Raymond Evans, William Brinker, Herbert Koester and Edwin Presnell.

The candidates in Wixom are Howard Coe, Elwood Grubb, Lottie Chambers, Robert Dingeldey, Dr Val Vangieson, Jill Hall and Earl Madary.

All council terms in both cities are for four years. The mayoral terms are for two years.

In Novi the mayor has a vote under a weak-mayor system of government. In Wixom the mayor has no vote under a strong-mayor system. Both councils have six seats.

Beamish Drops Fight With Chief McGuire

Wixom Police Sergeant Larry Beamish is not going to press a complaint against Police Chief Tom McGuire.

JoAnn Beamish wrote a letter three weeks ago to the city council alleging that McGuire had threatened to fire her husband. "Everything's pretty well straightened out now," Mrs. Beamish says. "I don't think Larry will have to worry about such a threat again." The complaint involved the Beamishes' social contacts with mayoral candidate Gilbert Willis and council candidate Jill Hall. "The men on the police force have been repeatedly reminded by the police chief that neither they nor their wives were to involve themselves in the city's politics," Mrs. Beamish wrote.

'The police chief, however, apparently feels .. he can regulate and dictate their social contacts with persons who happen to be running for political office. On February 15, Larry was threatened with dismissal by Police Chief McGuire because it was reported to him that we, as a family, made a Sunday afternoon visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis, and because I was seen driving in the same car with council candidate Mrs. Hall."

McGuire's position as police chief appears to be the most shaky. He has been under attack repeatedly since his appointment last August.

Several sources have indicated he may not be recommended for re-appointment in July, no matter who is elected mayor.

Charles McCall, currently a councilman, is Willis' opponent.

Instead of arguing with McCall Thursday, Willis did most of his fighting with McAtee. A later clash came over a reported $2,000 payment made by Holloway Construction Company's insurance agency to Lloyd Croft, Wixom resident.

McAtee said he could sue because a certified audit of the city's receipts is on record proving neither he nor the city received the money. He added that no funds ever came to the city on damage claims by citizens.

"You can't prevent a newspaper from printing what is said at a public meeting," Willis told McAtee.

Earlier, however, Willis had blasted the press for using "power over the minds and thoughts of the public through faucet-like control of the information available...to influence local and state politics."

Willis drew particular applause from a group of Birch Park area residents who comprised about one-third of the 150 people present.

McCall, on the other hand, attracted repeated criticism from the same group who questioned a statement he made at a council meeting last fall. "Did you really mean

Police Seek Check Writer

Novi police are looking for Robert M. Stanley, alias John Scott, who is wanted on seven felony charges of Traud.

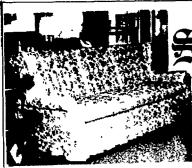

Police said he is a suspect in a bad check case at Novi Drugstore March 10. According to police, Stanley purchased six cases of liquor, worth $19630, with a bogus check written on a Michigan Bank account.

Police described the man as five feet - nine inches, 156 pounds, close-cropped brown hair. "He is an impeccable dresser," added Detective Corporal Gordon Nelson, "and a smooth talker."

Gordon said Stanley has a salesman's identification card from Michigan Tractor and usually pretends to be buying liquor for a large sales party.

Besides Novi, Dearborn, Southfield, Livonia, Northville and the Michigan State police have warrants for his arrest on similar charges. Livonia also has one for jumping bond.

An Open Letter from Mayor Crupi

To Novi Voters:

Several hundred of you learned at the March 9 Rezoning Public Hearing that I am not a politician. I could have so easily curried your favor by voting yes as did other candidates, because I was not opposed to the overall plan.

It was obvious, however, that there were several glaring oversights that needed correction -- the pressures of MDCDA not withstanding. If we cannot win the MDCDA matter on our excellent Master Plan, it would be difficult to win at all. I refuse to panic or to take a defensive position.

From the beginning, I have had confidence that we had a better than even chance of overcoming the threat to Novi by MDCDA on high densities and I have acted accordingly. This has been shown in my interviews in the newspapers and my handling of the Public Meeting as your Mayor.

If you want a Mayor that bends with the slightest stir of wind, then I am not your man.

should stand on his own and not be part of a think alike coalition, with political debts to pay. I prefer to stand alone as an independent because politics creates

For example, Mr. Duey, my opponent for Mayor, and Mr. Evans, a candidate for councilman, have joined forces with Mr. Anderson and Mr. Ray Harrison and are running as a coalition. Mr. Duey and Mr. Evans will no doubt recall that they, along with several other City Charter Commissioners, invited me to Mr. Duey's home at the last minute before the last election and asked that I run for the first office of Mayor. Mr. Duey wanted to run for Mayor, but he felt that he could not beat Mr. Anderson, whom they felt would not make a good councilman, let alone a

Now, isn't it strange that in a little over a year's time, Mr. Duey and Mr. Evans embrace Mr. Anderson as a running mate along with Mr. Ray Harrison, who was piqued because an ordinance was passed to prevent his business operation of dumping septic tank sewage in Novi? Mr. Anderson has also had some problems of running a "Sanitary Landfill" on this property.

must assume the coalition means that the Dueys really covet the title of Mayor and its social ammenities. Otherwise, Mr. Duey would not have resigned as councilman, to run for the office of Mayor. My main interest is being Councilman-Mayor. Being the ceremonial head of Novi is more of an obligation than an honor

This letter is my total campaign for my re-election to the Office of Mayor because I choose to run on my past record of two four-year terms with concurrent election as Council President under the Village Charter starting in 1963, my election to the City Charter Commission, and the City's first Mayor. I have never been beaten.

On the other hand, from what I have heard, Novi will be experiencing its first big politics, blitzkreig campaign by Mr. Duey -- with a coalition slate, coffees, teas, campaign buttons, youth for Duey, etc. I am honored and flattered that it might take big politics to beat me.

All that I ask, if you believe in the job I have done as Mayor, is your vote, your passing the word along to those who have little knowledge of me, and possibly the reproduction and passing of this letter on to others.

Mr. Duey and Company outwardly are running to oppose my road program. Yes, I suggested and urge your vote for a road improvement program. It is not my program, but yours, -- the Community's program. I don't need paving, but the Community needs paving of its main roads -- the essence of the program. have my same faith and pride in Novi -- all you have to ask yourself is, "Does Novi need main road improvements?"

I have been told -- "If you had a definitive road program, I would vote for it". This is probably the sorriest excuse or alibi to shirk a responsibility to the community.

As for a beginning program for the doubtful: the City has $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles of fully engineered, priority roads ready to go -- those having most use from Novi citizens. Other similar roads are on a priority list but the Community, since its incorporation in 1958, has only been able to afford the cost of engineering of the 42 miles of roads. The sequences of exact priorities are so obvious that they must fall like dominoes in a line, regardless who is on the Council. Thirdly, you have always entrusted your Council to bind the full faith and credit of your community to projects of far greater money value without a vote from you. Can you not trust your Council on this restricted project?

The City has about 35 miles of unpaved main or mile roads. While developers along these mile roads will be required to include paving along the boundaries of their development in their plat plans, such paving will be sporadic, patch-like, and would not provide a complete road system even when the City has reached its full development. No city, even the faster growing cities having a greater millage than Novi, has been able to achieve good roads without an independent road construction program by the City. Even with developers paving roads contiguous to their developments; with millage allocated money for roads alone; and with special assessments to those who live on mile roads to the degree of direct benefit received, Novi will be lucky if half of the mile roads would be paved in the next ten years, as covered in the two propositions on the ballot.

In closing, I urge your support for the two propositions, and would appreciate your vote for my re-election and your passing the word along.

According to Duey, his team is designed to represent the Walled Lake area with R. Harrison, the subdivisions with Evans and the old guard with Anderson.

Lately, however, duey has dismissed the road millage as a peripheral issue and has clashed with Crupi over the "new community" idea. The "new community" would introduce low-cost housing and integration into Novi.

Crupi and Duey tangled at the meet-your-candidates night two weeks ago, quarrelling over which was most opposed to the "new community."

On the basis of his undefeated record as a candidate in Novi, Crupi is given a slight edge in Monday's election over Duey. Most local observers agree the mayoral race will be

In all likelihood, however, the council race will be even closer. A record 11 candidates are running for three Few observers are willing to make predictions about the race, though most narrow it down to a contest between Ed Presnell, Russell Button, Louie Campbell, R. Harrison, Brinker, Berry and Evans. The other candidates are Eugenie Choquet, Herbert

Koester, David Harrison and Anderson. Berry, Presnell and D. Harrison are the incumbents. Except for Brinker and D. Harrison, all council candidates have come out against the road millage. Some have said they would support an increase for three years but not for 10 years.

Crupi has maintained that the road program could get aborted in the middle of construction if funds were cut off after three years.

All candidates have opposed the "new community" plan. Koester, however, was the first to announce his all-out opposition, promising he would fight it "anyway I can." Koester said he is against racial integration.

1 Most other candidates, though, have downplayed the racial issue and pointed to the economic liabilities it would impose on the city.

"I think we should do something for the people around Walled Lake before we do anything for inner-city people," Campbell has explained.

Most of the "new community" residents would be factory workers who work in the Novi area but live in Detroit.

Several of the candidates have complained of vandalism against their campaign signs and posters but none have filed formal complaints with the police department.

"There were tempers flying all around," McCall answered. "But I meant it sincerely when I said it then." Later McCall explained he did not intend to discriminate against Birch Park and did not hold a grudge for past McCall is rated a slight favorite in the election by local observers. However, Willis, who was regarded an outclassed underdog at the beginning of the campaign, has emerged as a solid threat and should make the outcome close.

McCall led all candidates two years ago when he was first elected to council.

Almost all accusations Thursday came from citizens rather than from opposing candidates. Willis and McCall did not challenge each other directly on any issue.

Robert Dingeldey, council candidate, read a statement ripping Willis after Willis claimed he was a hand-picked candidate of the present administration. Dingeldey denied he'd been approached by McAtee asking him to run for council. (See page 10-A)

Dr. Val Vangieson and Dingeldey, who ran one-two in the primary six weeks ago, are considered the best bets for two of the three council seats open.

Howard Coe, running as a write-in candidate, and Lottie Chambers - the two remaining charter members of the council seeking their fourth consecutive terms - are expected to fight over the third spot.

Jill Hall, whose popularity as a candidate has apparently suffered because of controversy surrounding her campaign, is rated a darkhorse threat. Elwood Grubb, incumbent, and Earl Madary are the other two candidates.

Mrs. Hall and Willis have been the most outspoken on the issues, calling for city investigations, opposing the urban renewal plan, opposing the storm drain proposed for Loon Lake and promising a cutback in city expenses.

Vangieson and Grubb have also said they would delay installing the storm drain until an opinion comes down from the Michigan Water Resources Commission. A show-cause hearing is pending in court right now on whether the city can go ahead with the project.

Council voted, 4-2, last fall to continue the project despite vocal opposition from Birch Park residents. A group of residents later got a court injunction to stop installation, forcing the show-cause hearing.

On the other issues, Coe and Chambers have come out against urban renewal. Madary has favored using federal funds for urban renewal. And Madary and Vangieson have agreed an investigation of city departments might be

Shopping Center Hearings Set

However, during the discussion it was noted that the Brooks' poposal is flexible in that the sponsor could scale down the shopping center complex (to 628,000 square feet) to allow room for several high-rise apartment-office buildings at the north end of the property.

Also, spokesmen said the feasibility study did not take into account the neighboring proposal of Shapero. One representative, however, said he was familiar with side-by-side regional shopping centers elsewhere.

Should Brooks later decide to modify his plan to include high-rise buildings it would require different zoning than is presently being requested.

Brooks' proposal now asks rezoning from residential (R-1) to B-3, a new township zoning classification permitting regional shopping centers. Shapero seeks B-2 and B-3 zoning.

Shapero's request, first to be made to planners and first to be considered at the April 30 hearing, suggests a smaller regional center but nevertheless of major proportion.

Originally, Shapero planned a development on 88-acres of property, according to his attorney, James Littell, but scaled it down to provide a 30-acre buffer between it and Meadowbrook subdivision. That buffer acreage separates Shapero's proposed development from Brooks'

At an earlier meeting before planners, Littell said his client's proposal suggests a project valued at $13 million.

Shapero's plan envisions an all-enclosed mall, with two large department stores and supplementary stores in one complex, with a bank, restaurant, a shoppers automobile service garage, service station, supermarket and motel located elsewhere on the site. The latter would involve about 16 acres, the former about 40 acres.

During earlier discussion it was pointed out by planners that a million-plus square foot Sears & Roebuck shopping center is planned in the vicinity of Haggerty and 13 Mile roads in Farmington, and a still undisclosed Hudson center is slated in Novi, off Novi Road between I-96 and 12 Mile Road.

However, despite these proposed centers, marketing potential for the Shapero development appears favorable, a-spokesman said, particularly in view of the proposed north-south expressway to run parallel with Haggerty Road. Success of more than one of the proposed developments - Farmington, Novi or Northville Township - will depend somewhat on which materializes first, it was noted. Littell emphasized again Tuesday the importance of not delaying consideration of his client's request, suggesting that the first plan to reach the development stage is likely to have the best chance of materializing. Long delay, he indicated, could result in the loss of a regional center for Northville Township.

Neither Shapero nor Brooks has revealed the names of any possible tenants for their proposed developments.

Levitt won its public hearing position - but no unanimously. Commissioner Luke Bathey voted against granting Levitt the public hearing, pointing out that when Levitt brought his initial plan up at a public hearing, citizens had objected to it then because of the large number of multiples. Furthermore, he suggested that Levitt's decision to eliminate the single family houses for financial reasons may be premature. He noted that the prime interest rate has dropped, indicated that single family homes may be in demand.

Reportedly McGuire had attended post-primary party for Robert Dingeldey, council candidate. And Mrs. Waara had posted campaign signs for Charles McCall, mayoral candidate, and Dingeldey, at her home.

Schnelz suggested Beamish file a grievance with the police union if he wanted to pursue the issue. However, Mrs. Beamish says her husband is dropping the matter.

Even though the Beamish dispute is now apparently settled, McGuire's police department still has internal conflicts.

Walter Sprenger is appealing a week's suspension handed down by McGuire three weeks ago. A three-man trial board is expected to convene sometime next month to give a binding verdict on the appeal.

McGuire has declined to comment

Novi Council OK's Paving Law; Specifications to Come Later

Novi to pave the access roads to their development is now law.

The Novi City Council passed two amendments Monday night to formalize a resolution it had passed in January. One amendment, to the plat ordinance, affects subdividers. The other, to the street improvement ordinance, affects all other developers residential, office, commercial, industrial, etc.

Council's original motion had only asked developers to pave half of the main roads fronting on their development. However, council decided Monday to delay setting specifications.

"In some cases we might want the developer to pave the whole road and

A clause requiring all developers in to put in acceleration and de-acceleration lanes," pointed out Denis Berry.

City Attorney Howard Bond said council could set standards by resolution later, Edwin Presnell, who had proposed the idea and engineered it through council, was the only one to vote against it Monday.

William Duey made the motion to pass the amendments, angering Presnell. "This has been mine from the beginning," Presnell explained. "Then some guy jumps in at the last minute with the motion. I didn't even want to give him the satisfaction of voting 'yes'."

Council also passed the landfill ordinance and the building permit ordinance Monday.

The landfill ordinance includes all the provisions of the state statute plus extra conditions council can impose at the time it issues a city license. It is identical to the old ordinance.

Council changed the building ordinance, however, to require permits for all buildings, regardless of cost. Previously only buildings costing more than $5,000 came under the ordinance. Permit fees will be set later by resolution.

Presnell propsed a resolution which would have frozen this year's tax roll at a -.91 equalization factor until all Novi homes had been reassessed.

"If you do that, you could invalidate your tax roll," Bond pointed out. "Then you'll be in hot water you won't collect any taxes at all this year. I mean this sincerely.'

After hearing Bond's opinion, Presnell withdrew the motion and said he would return with a properly-worded one next week.

Several councilmen have been distressed over a +1.1 equalization factor - a jump of 21-percent anticipated for this year.

David Harrison suggested appealing the factor to the Michigan Tax Commission. Bond noted the deadline for appeal might be passed but also pointed out council may not have been properly notified of the impending Apparently a letter sent from the Oakland County Equalization Board did not reach the city or was lost in city files before it reached the council.

City Manager Dallas Zonkers and Bond said they would investigate the matter further.

Council appointed Mrs. George Athas chairman of the mayors-exchange festivites scheduled for May 18 with Mason.

In action last week council agreed to take the roads from Pioneer Meadows No. 1 Subdivision into the city road system, climaxing several years of dispute over the roads.

Previous councils had refused to accept the roads because of their sub-standard condition. Harrison recommened they be accepted because at one time they had met standards and hadn't been accepted.

He estimated Village Oaks would , generate $444,000 in taxes annually under a millage assessment of 42.7 (which includes all of Novi's present miliage except 1.5 for Oakland Community College).

The only disagreement for the 11 rezoning came from Bob Shadduck, "planning consultant from Vilican-Lehman Planners. Shadduck objected to a three-acre shopping "center fronting on Nine Mile Road.

"We prefer to have shopping areas " at main intersections so you don't have problems with left-turn traffic off Nine Mile," Shadduck explained.

Stulberg pointed out the shopping area would have speciality shops - not supermarkets or department stores and was an experiment designed to add environmental character to the subdivision.

Shadduck then proposed setting up two shopping areas, one on either side of the road, but moving them off the road into the subdivision - "if ethey're going to be just neighborhood centers."

Stulberg faulted the idea because it would bring outside cars into the Jen subdivision and cause a traffic hazard for pedestrians. Shadduck then went back to his original suggestion, moving it out of the area to a main intersection.

But council approved the plan with the shopping center on Nine Mile, after Stulberg promised to work out a traffic control plan, K-B is currently building on 138 lots on land that had been previously rezoned and expects to start on 182 more immediately. Single-family homes are going up right now but some multiples will be included in the next batch, Stulberg said.

K-B is also going to start work on a clubhouse and two man-made lakes for Village Oaks.

Stulberg predicted single-family homes would be available for occupancy next month and condominiums would be ready next Denis Berry, councilman, pressed Stulberg on dates for the multiples. "We've rezoned a lot of land for multiples in Novi," Berry said, "but I haven't seen any go up yet." K-B filed a site plan for multiples early Wednesday morning.

Council postponed action on allocating sewer taps for Village Oaks but is expected to discuss the allocation at its next meeting Monday.

Of the 638 acres, Village Oaks will have 462 acres for single-family houses and 176 for multiples. Figured in the acreage for multiples is 85 acres of

The rezoning, which was requested originally in April, 1969, was to R-1 and R-2A. K-B made several changes in its plan during the year delay, on the advice of the council, the planning board and the planning consultants.

Police Ask Pay Hike

The City of Wixom police are asking for a $2,000 across-the-board pay increase for next year.

The current wage and fringe benefit package expires June 31.

Novi Planners Delay Rezoning

The Novi Planning Board Monday night delayed until April 20 a rezoning request from a private club to move into Novi.

The Furniture Club of Detroit, a group of 200 business men in the furniture field, had asked for a zoning change from residential to office on a 300 x 300 foot plot at the corner of Haggerty and Nine Mile Road.

Office zoning is necessary for a private club. The planning board vote, 4-3, to postpone action until city inspectors could check on the sewage facilities. Robert Kelly, a nearby resident, complained at Monday's public hearing that the club could present drainage and sewage problems for the neighborhood.

David Sklar, vice-president of the club, said 25 cars a day would be the maximum average and that 65 cars would be the maximum ever needing parking at the club.

Kelly feared that a large paved parking lot would cause run-off problems.

Bus Firm Gives up Battle

Schiller said the metropolitan area is left now with six bus companies and one of those is to cease operation soon. He identified the company as the "B" Line of Keego Harbor.

Recently, Northville Coach Lines has operated two buses in 18 daily trips from Northville to Seven Mile Road and Grand River and back.

Most of the passengers were employees at Northville State Hospital and students at Schoolcraft Community College, Schiller said. In the summer, many of the passengers were patrons of Northville Downs, the manager said.

The company had tried numerous other bus runs in an attempt to survive, but all of them were unsuccessful, he said. Among these were runs to the Lincoln plant in Wixom, a Northville to Plymouth run, express run to downtown Detroit, and a run to Livonia Mall.

Operation of its charter service came closest to being profitable, Schiller indicated. "If only they (Interstate Commerce Commission) had given us a permit to operate outside the state we could have kept going because it would have offset losses in the short runs. We seve times for a permit but were denied on grounds that there was no need. There hasn't been a permit issued in the Detroit metropolitan area since 1932. Can you imagine?"

Attempts to gain subsidization from the cities of Northville and Livonia were unsuccessful, said

Schiller. Of the 12 full time employees (there also were 12 parttime remployees), one of them, Henry Biddle, had close to 20 years of service as, a driver. "Don't know, maybe I'll have to go into retirement," Biddle said when asked what he will do now that the bus company has come to an end.

Biddle is a relative of Quentin Biddle, founder of the bus company, back in 1932. Quentin Biddle sold out his business in 1963 to S. W. Leib, M.Wolfe and Schiller. Schiller gave up his interest in the corporation a year ago but remained as manager.

Continued from Novi, Page 1 voters-about 50-percent of those registered-are expected to go to the? polls in Novi. This will be the last election for Novi as two precincts; the next time it will have four precincts! 301

The current dividing line between' the precincts is 11 Mile Road. Theb northern precinct votes at thਵੋ Community Building, the southern precinct at the Fire Hall.

About 800 voters-more than 90-percent of those registered-could go to the polls in Wixom. Donna Thorsberg, deputy clerk, expects a record turnout because of the prolonged eight-month buildup to the election.

Council meetings in Wixom have been packed since last September when a group of dissidents began cuticizing the incumbent administration. Wixom electors vote at the City, Hall.

This will be the first full-term election in Novi after its incorporation as a city February 24, 1969. Crupi was elected to a 13-month term as mayor, as were Berry, Presnell and D. Harrison as councilmen.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to & b.m. in both cities.

Fire Destroys Township Home

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed one room of a home in Northville township at 42770 First Street and caused extensive smoke and water damage, to the rest of the home March 26.

A neighbor turned in the fire alarm at 1:21 p.m. and city firemen stayed at the scene until 3:24 p.m. after contacting the township and city police to watch the house.

Fire Chief Herman (Bud) Hartner said officials were unable to immediately locate the owner of the home. Township police remained at the scene until 4:15 p.m. when the owner, Douglas Helpel, returned home.

Destroyed in the fire was a back room, reportedly used to store furniture and its contents. Value of the damage is not known.

Meet Eugenie Choquet CANDIDATE FOR NOVI CITY COUNCIL

(CLIP HERE AND TAKE WITH YOU TO THE POLLS)

I am Eugenie Choquet.

I would like to represent you again as Councilman, a sheet as a second of the like to represent you again as Councilman. I've lived in Novi for 22 years and have been a property owner in Novi for 32 years.

Ladies and Gentlemen, I regret that I do not have the top brains of some corporation to help me woo your vote with honey words as some of my opponents have nor do I have the talented artists to put a brochure together with a lot of fancy words and fancy do-dads that promise much and deliver nothing... but then I really think that after years of these empty promises you will no longer be fooled

You will no doubt hear whispers and rumors that women should not be in politics. Why not? Don't women have the brains to exist in a man's world? Women sure know when their families have to bear the brunt of a heavy tax burden for which they receive not one service in return.

I had the honor to serve you on the only Council that gave you the tax-payer something for your tax dollar... without additional shelling out of your pocket of your hard earned dollar... you got your roads chlorided and we resurfaced another road... more could have been done yearly but no one followed up the program after I left the Council... The following Councils were in no mood to give the taxpayer a thing for their tax dollar.

I want to be truthful with you; I was always in favor of township government because of its low cost. I was talked into becoming a Village to protect our boundaries... but this was not so... when the majority of people voted for a City... I was not for it because I knew it would bring higher costs if there was no one to hold the purse strings.

I have served two years as secretary of the Planning Board for the constructive development of Novi a community I am most proud of.

I feel that priority needs must be established if Novi is to live within budgeted income. Taxes are straining every resident's pocketbook and that is why a lid must be kept on tax costs... we have to also

Dumps and the stench of dumping areas close to subdivisions do not reflect the best thinking for the constructive development of Novi... we should not be considered the dumping area for the city of Detroit or any other area. I believe that our employees should receive fair and equitable treatment and deserve competitive wage rates but at the same time, however, the public should receive efficient service. Service is really the only thing city government has to offer and it has to be provided at the lowest possible cost. The 1970's will require imagination and dedicated efforts to reach our goal and I want to be part of it and at this time I can devote 100% of my time to the task before us. We've witnessed the many evils that have hit at metropolitan structure and we should recognize that we are not immune from the same problems because we live outside the big city ring. I do not believe that a Councilman should be in business directly or indirectly with the communtiy he represents. Furthermore, I think it is unfortunate that a citizen, elected to office repeatedly, would think so little of his community that he would permit the dumping of raw sewage in the community without regard for the health of fellow citizens. You may be sure, as must be evident by this message, that I shall speak my mind openly and frankly where the welfare of our community is concerned. I owe no group any patronage, nor am I aligned with any other candidate. Whether you honor me with your vote that is of course up to you, but do yourself the honor of voting April 6th.

Like other candidates I could have used the names of the 40 people who signed my petitions to boost my candidacy but I do not believe in "using" people.

Important Elections Face Novi, Wixom Voters Monday

Important local elections will take place Monday in the cities of Novi and Wixom.

Both communities are experiencing the problems that normally accompany the infancy years of incorporation. Both are facing the pressures of rapid growth...new homes, new business and new industry. And both have people with different ideas on how these challenges should be met.

Many of the residents of Novi and Wixom are "oldtimers." They're witnessing change in their hometowns that troubles them. And some of the "newcomers" moved to the open-spaces to get away from the problems now confronting them. Others welcome the growth and see economic advantages for themselves and their communities.

The majority in both Novi and and Wixom, however, recognize that neither growth nor change can be impeded. But their priorities and procedures in dealing with these problems may differ sharply.

The controversies are particularly evident in both communities at this time, as witnessed by attendance and participation in public meetings by

We view this citizen interest as healthy. It should result in more and better informed voters.

Because of this increased citizen interest in local affairs in the communities of Novi and Wixom most voters know now how they'll cast their ballots when they go to the polls Monday.

We think that's good. And we hope they have selected their favorites on the basis of what's best for the total community and the qualifications of the candidates.

But there are some voters who have hot attended many (or any) meetings. And some who' may still be uncertain in their selections. We believe many of these voters honestly seek and welcome qualified recommendations.

We think this newspaper qualifies as an authority. It has been represented at nearly every public meeting in Novi and Wixom, not just in recent weeks, but for years going back to pre-incorporation days in both communities.

And despite the criticism levelled at this publication (some of it justified on the basis of inadvertent errors, but more because objective news reporting is not always flattering to individuals involved), one inescapable fact remains:

This newspaper is the only publication with enough interest in the communities of Novi and Wixom to assign professional reporters to cover their activities on a regular basis.

We have recognized the fact that Novi and Wixom are communities of the future since the township days of Supervisors Frazer Staman and Hadley Bachert and the village beginning under Walter Tuck in Novi.

And we well remember the pre-incorporation days in Wixom when ex-postmaster Herb Abrams, his brother, Gerald, Everett Pearsall, Ray Lahti, Wes McAtee, Joe Stadnik, Jesse Birchard and many others were "plotting" village and city incorporation. And the early councilmembers and mayors - Lottie Chambers, Stadnik, Gunnar Mettala, Donald Brooks, etc.

So we have been there...and we are there...at. the schools, the activities, the meetings. We are interested in the welfare of the communities we serve. As they grow, we hope to grow, too. It would be self-defeating to want this growth to be other than orderly and prosperous for present and. future citizens who are and will become our

For these reasons we believe we are authorities on what's happening in the communities we serve. Our opinion should mean something. And for us not to express it on our editorial pages would constitute desertion of, responsibility.

We want Novi and Wixom to have the bester leadership available. Our choices sing the accompanying editorial on this page represent the concensus of all staff members who have covered the activities of these communities and have watched the candidates perform watched the candidates perform. Admittedly, endorsing candidates 1"11 211 a difficult assignment. Personal friendships and animosities must be set aside.

Our selections in Novi and Wixom have not been easy to reach. There are many good candidates. And all deserve recognition for their willingness to devote their energies and spare time to the improvement of their communities.

We hope voters take as much time to consider their qualifications and then VOTE MONDAY.

Crupi for Mayor; Brinker, Campbell, Evans for Council When Novi's city charter basis of his past performance and commissioners were debating just two years ago whether or not to have the mayor elected by the public or elected from the council by the council, as was the procedure under village government, one of the arguments used against the direct vote procedure was that Novi could lose a good potential official if both candidates were equally qualified but only one could serve office. In the end, the commission decided - and we agreed with it - that the direct election process was best.

In Novi...

... Ironically, now in just the second election since city incorporation, this newspaper finds itself in the position of endorsing Joseph Crupi for mayor even though we are convinced that his opponent, William Duey, is qualified and, as a councilman, has performed well.

Nevertheless, we believe Crupi should be re-elected on the

because of the experience edge he has over his opponent. Not withstanding his surprisingly wilted exhibition at the recent MDCDA hearing, he has generally taken a firm stand on issues and refused to be influenced by special interests simply to win favor or a few votes.

One of the most frequent criticisms of Crupi is that he does poorly in guiding council meetings, which have had a habit of getting out of hand. In view of the often exasperating, inept performance of the present council, however, we believe Crupi has done as well as could Duey were he in the mayor's seat facing grandstanding councilmen.

Because Duey has demonstrated qualities that were especially refreshing in view of the performance of some of his fellow council members, we hope, should he lose the mayor's race, that he will seek election to the council from which he resigned. and give it some professionalism that it desperately needs.

In supporting the election of: William Brinker, Louie Campbell, and Raymond Evans we are not merely suggesting but urging a major overhaul of the present council. Citizens of Novi who have attended council meetings and witnessed for themselves the performance of the present council must agree that change is necessary.

While Brinker, Campbell and Evans have no council experience, their public statements and their performance in other capacities for Novi earn them our support. They are, we believe, the best qualified council candidates for office, offering rapidly growing. Novi its greatest hope for sound guidance.

With their election and hopefully, with the election of Duey later as a councilman, Novicould expect to see good governmental leadership replace grandstanding brickbats.

A jurist in a letter to a Detroit newspaper last week took the press to task for using the word "innocent" in place of "not guilty" when referring to the decision of a jury. "Not guilty," he argued, is not a proper synonym for "innocent."

The point of his argument was that while a jury may find a defendent "not guilty" it does not necessarily follow that the defendent was actually innocent since under technicalities of the law the jury may have been limited in the evidence it could consider in making a decision.

He would say, for example, that the jury may have felt the defendent was somewhat guilty but they nevertheless had to find him "not guilty" because of reasonable doubt.

He may be technically correct, of course, but my dictionary says the word "innocent" means "free from blame, censure, or guilt; not guilty." Furthermore, my pocket Thesaurus lists "not guilty" as its first synonym for the word "innocent."

It is interesting that a jurist should find the newspaper guilty of misusing the word because when I broke into this business 13 years ago as a crime reporter one of the first commandments I received was that I should never use the words "not guilty."

The initial reason given was that the judges in that community preferred the word "innocent." Later, however, I learned the hard way of a more practical explanation: an inadvertent comission of the word "not" from the newspaper can rub an innocent man the wrong way.

All of which reminds me of an essay from "Vanity Fair" back in 1935 of blunders in print. Here's a few of the samples I remember:

Returning in the dusk of the evening, his soul aglow, a reporter composed a column concerning a yacht race. "Both yachts," he wrote, "presented a gorgeous appearance as they rounded the outer mark, well heeled over, their crews perched up and their bronze bottoms shining in the ruddy light of sunset."

Of a collision between a cow and a train: "The train, putting on a full steam, dashed up against the cow, and literally cut it into CALVES.

Of a young lady who chose eight bridesmaids for her wedding: "The bride was accompanied to the altar by TIGHT bridesmaids.

Of a political speech: "The crowd rent the air with their SNOUTS.'

Of a gathering of poets, with this description of the chief bard in which the single letter "e" was omitted: "He was the POT of the evening.'

The latter drew this rejoinder from the 'pot' upon reading of himself in the newspaper: "They probably thought it was a recital of chamber music."

Philip Ogilvie, Northville attorney and former municipal judge who delights in finding . similar goofs of this writer, may or may not have recognized a recent all-time classic.

While our women's editor was away I wrote a wedding story, using details written out by the bride. The bride ran out of space on the front side of her informational copy and put in a notation "flowers on the back", so I blithely wrote, "the bride's mother wore a blue dress with flowers on the back."

His two years on the council three seats on the Wixom council.

and grasp of community projects, personnel and problems make Charles McCall best qualified to serve Wixom as mayor for the next two years.

McCall's written statements clearly 'demonstrate he possesses an awareness of the city's many-pronged responsibilities and a level headed approach to meeting the challenges.

'His leadership at this time in Wixom's history is essential.

His opponent, Gilbert Willis, should not be cast aside until another élection rolls around. We believe Willis is very articulate and we like his avowed desire to improve communications and thus reduce rumor.

But his threats of housecleaning scare us. We think Wixom may need some tidying-up, but widesweeping headchopping can do little for morale. And we question that Willis possesses either the familiarity with government in general, or Wixom in particular, to undertake change before gaining experience.

Therefore, we would hope that in the event McCall is elected mayor the new council will see fit to name Willis to the vacancy on city council.

In the next two years Willis could gain experience and the public could observe both McCall and Willis in action. And in two years, if the two men wish to run for mayor again, the public will have an opportunity to make a choice based upon their past performances.

Clearly two candidates stand out in the field of seven seeking

He has demonstrated his dedication, fair-mindedness and interest in the welfare of Wixom.

Speaking for Myself

Save the Mini?

Marilyn Herald

YES ...

Mini skirts are here to stay despite what the fashion designers predict. Women are fortunate to have various lengths to choose from, mini, midi, and maxi. All three lengths were shown in the Paris spring fashions. The secret is to choose the most becoming length for you!

I favor the shorter creations for practical purposes, comfort and less wrinkles. Ever try to gracefully exit from a car with the longer styles or stomp thru snow and rain?

Out of the New York garment district comes the dire prediction that as hemlines plunge downward, prices will soar upwards - up to as much as 15 percent. But no price will be popular in these times if it is higher than it has been.

A rally was held recently in Detroit, called a "leg-in." It was the first official gathering of Gams (Girls Against More Skirt). About 25 girls marched in defense of the mini, followed by 300 howling businessmen.

Women are protesting the drastic length changes and with good reason. It took mini several years to reach accepted popularity, now the designers want to cover up the legs and women are not ready, not yet anyway! I know I'm not. How about you?

> Mrs. Darline Hughes Brighton Township Resident

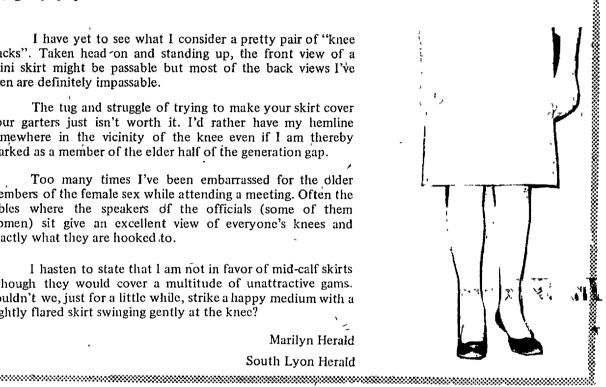

I have yet to see what I consider a pretty pair of "knee backs". Taken head on and standing up, the front view of a mini skirt might be passable but most of the back views I've seen are definitely impassable.

The tug and struggle of trying to make your skirt cover your garters just isn't worth it. I'd rather have my hemline somewhere in the vicinity of the knee even if I am thereby marked as a member of the elder half of the generation gap.

Too many times I've been embarrassed for the older members of the female sex while attending a meeting. Often the tables where the speakers of the officials (some of them women) sit give an excellent view of everyone's knees and exactly what they are hooked to.

I hasten to state that I am not in favor of mid-calf skirts although they would cover a multitude of unattractive gams. Couldn't we, just for a little while, strike a happy medium with a slightly flared skirt swinging gently at the knee?

His Campaigning Defended

In the March 12 issue of your newspaper you wrote an article that mentioned my wife's name. I am referring to Mrs. Jo Ann Beamish's letter that Councilwomen Lottie Chambers read to the public at the March 10 council meeting. In the letter Mrs. Beamish asked for my wife Elizabeth Waara to resign because Mrs. Waara was breaking City of Wixom administrative regulations. I wish to bring your attention to certain facts related to this matter.

Fact No. 1 is that Elizabeth Waara is not the sole owner of this house or land because I own half of it.

Fact No. 2 is that I made the campaign signs that were for Charles McCall and Robert Dingeldey and put them on the tree.

Fact No. 3 is that I planted that tree and have been taking care of it since 1957 and I feel that I own over 70% of that tree.

Fact No. 4 is that I am not an employee of the City of Wixom and am not breaking Administrative regulations with my campaign signs.

Calls Letter Mud Slinging

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on a letter the Citizens of Wixom received from their council man, Gunnar Mettala. To call people liars because they disagree with you openly and publicly is "Fascist". I believe open debate and discussion of the issues is a prerequisite for a democratic government.

Why does Mr. Mettala have to stoop to throwing mud?

Wixom Citizen

Fact No. 5 is that being an beliefs American citizen I stand on my individual right of the Constitution of the United States to have the right to campaign for any person that I so wish

Fact. No. 6 is that since when can anyone or the government hold my wife responsible for my actions or

And in conclusion may I add that I know that Wixom is a very small city and that I found that it has some very small people also.

Asks Novi Voters To Block New Town

To the Editor:

Are the voters in Novi going to the polls just to vote for the first names on the ballot? They should consult their neighbors first and get the low-down on what is going on at the administration building and the gang they formally voted in to care for our tax dollars. They should vote to correct the city government mess. Do they want an extra three mills added to their

Do they want to be dogged by many other problems that are making it tougher for the tax-paying citizens of Novi? They should talk to their neighbors first.

We have a very good fire department and an excellent police department of great value, merit, virtue and ability. But how about the administration affairs? As one citizen remarked, should we start a gang group and march on the city hall in protest such as students of several universities marched on their colleges in protest of mismanagement?

No - we will act as gentlemen and use the sober way by voting those butterflies and band-wagon hoppers out of office.

Now that spring has come with mild sunshine weather the sleeping bear has aroused from his hibernation only to see the great mess of land grab in the very heart of our highly residential area of Novi, whereby financial musclemen from our big sister city to the east have quietly and secretly come into our city and gobbled up 562 acres of top residential property to build a separate city of 25,000 population with low cost homes. A NEW TOWN... BIG

We know our big sister city is so loaded with crime population beyond their control it would like to push their unwanted ghetto off on Novi. This would cause our police department to be doubled, more fire fighting equipment and extra road building expense. This must be defeated. Does Novi want an African gold coast for a 'neighbor and what have you?

They should talk to their neighbor first. This is a time when every voter should take notice and in interest to defeat and hand-cuff this mess. A smart group of Novi citizens have banded together to form a four-man team. When the voters go to the polls April 6 they should check the ballot carefully and look for their names.

Sees Flaws in MDCDA

To the Editor:

The last two issues of your paper have bothered me. You've suggested that I am being prematurely "hostile" toward and "fearful" of MDCDA. Let me present some viewpoints that your writers have not brought forth.

First, MDCDA, unlike an elected legislature or a government-formed body, is self appointed. That means I cannot vote on its members or its proposals. Nor can my legislators vote. In this sense, MDCDA is dictator-like and can ignore majority desire. Your paper alluded to the possibility of MDCDA seeking legislation exempting it from local zoning. If MDCDA divested itself of our last "mini-control" over it, it could become the most powerful organization in this state. I am inherently "hostile" toward any group that seeks that much power Second, MDCDA hides under the umbrella of philanthropy and/or public good. But philanthropically-oriented bodies are given special rights, public funds and tax considerations because they seek only voluntary support for their cause. The American Cancer Society or the Heart Fund, for instance, cannot levy a tax on me-nor can they demand special zoning privileges to avoid the majority will of as community. Their actions cannot affect my property, my taxes or my life-unless I choose to allow such influence. And if their actions could control me, without my having a voice in their decisions, I would reject their power-no matter their goals.

Third, MDCDA is a non-profit organization. That means I cannot influence its actions by such economic means as rejecting its product or avoiding its place of business. No profit-seeking business would dare force its way into any community with MDCDA-like "public-be-damned" public relations techniques.

Fourth, MDCDA is an absentce citizen of Novi-injecting its unique all-powerful influence, but risking neither its physical or human assets here. It even has the unbelievable gall to suggest a 33 percent representation on its board of directors. Your paper thought this was good. I think it is arrogant "tokenism". How many 10-5 votes would there be?

In abort, MDCDA avoids the voter pressures felt by elected officials, the non-aggressive", requirements of a philanthropic organization, the consumer demands facing profit-seeking corporation and the neighbor-to-neighbor restraints with which all local citizens must abide by. Few groups in America have-or seek-such total power. It's difficult to obtain. MDCDA seems to have almost reached the ultimate plateau. So I'm hostile. Their goal does not justify their

I've called or heard from all our local, state and federal representatives. Through them, maybe I can retain more than a MDCDA-approved 33 percent voice in how my community

Urges Economy In New Budget

To the Editor.

I agree with Mayor McAtee that there are certain inequities in our budget, but they are not on the level he mentions. They are on the higher levels. We are the smallest city in the vicinity and have the highest paid department heads.

Last week, my husband and I had the pleasure of watching a very efficient young lady at work. She is an office girl for three very affluent businessmen. Her duties include handling six phones, three appointment books, a dictaphone, all the typing, messages, and all of the necessary correspondence. This girl earns less than $10,000 a year. We suggested that she come out to Wixom and apply for a job. We thought possibly the city could eliminate at least two other girls and reduce our over-worked budget by

I certainly hope the 1970 budget gets more in line with a city-of approximately 1,600 people, according to the last census, instead of being way ahead of our neighboring cities with 11,000 and 12,000 people.

Since we are not running for office and do not live in Birch Park, this letter. cannot be considered politically motivated.

it is urgent for the voter, to exercise his right to vote - to sort out in his own mind whether this is an election based on qualities or an election of personalities and to decide which of the candidates running for election will be truly thinking of the city as a whole! I find inyself in an awkward position. I allegedly have said and done things. But yet, during my campaign for election I have striven to forget personalities and to only deal with facts. I have not involved myself with name calling and have tried to meet, in one way or another, the people of this city - regardless of their political beliefs - believing instead that all facts and opinions should be listened to and weighed carefully.

At this time I would like to make it most clear that I am master of MY OWN mind - I am a man who can stand on MY OWN two feet. I have a brain that functions well -- I cannot be led by the nose even though it appears that some think quite differently. It grieves me to think that a man who can barely utter a "hello," to me, who hasn't bothered to know me personally, can make a "brash" statement in a letter to the newspaper saying he "could not work comfortably" with me because I am "a hand picked candidate of the present Mayor?" I would like to state here and now that the present mayor never approached me to run for council. It was a decision made of my own accord. I say again that I am master of inty OWN mind.

Stuyvenberg Wins Twice

If John 'Stuyvenberg's junior year in track keeps getting better, he'll be able to hang up his spikes and skip his senior year.

Stuyvenberg was the only double winner in the two-day Huron Relays in Ypsilanti last Friday and Saturday, taking the long jump and the 60-vard dash.

This was Northville's team debut in track this year, and the Mustangs placed ninth with 21 points among 56 Class B teams. Amherst, Ohio, won the meet.

Stuyvenberg had competed in two invitationals last month where he finished first twice in the long jump But this was his first victory of the season in the 60.

Actually Stuyvenberg won the long jump in the preliminaries and skipped the finals. His best pre-lim jump of 21 feet, 7½ inches was more than a foot better than the runnerup's best jump.

"John would have liked to break the meet record that's been around for quite awhile," Coach Ralph Redmond explained "But we needed him for some other events So"he didn't jump in the finals."

He didn't need to. '

In the 60-yard dash he turned in a time of 6.5 seconds, the best among both Class A and B runners. The Class B competition was on Friday and Class A on Saturday.

Stuyvenberg, however, wasn't the only Northville junior to impress Redmond.

The two-mile relay team of David Wright, Rick Bell, Phil Geider and Wayne Enders took seventh with an 8.52.0 clocking.

"They've done better in practice and they could have won this event," Redmond pointed out. "But last year our relay teams peaked too soon in the season, so we're coming along slower in our training."

All but Geider are juniors on the two-mile

The 880-yard relay quartet, all juniors, also captured seventh. Jim Darnell, Jamie Carter, Dave Mitchell and Stuyvenberg made up the team.

The shuttle relay team took 31 seconds for eighth place in the hurdles Brad Cole, Rick Pickren, Dave Veresh and Mitchell were on the team. All but Veresh are juniors.

Stuyvenberg's performance drew enthusiastic praise from Redmond, "He had a great day. He's got tremendous competitive power and concentration."

But Redmond also singled out four other Mustangs for individual effort.

"Jim Darnell is getting stronger," he noted.
"He's needed some more confidence in himself and I think he picked it up"

Redmond touted Paul Bedford, who anchored the sprint medley, "He should be our best miler this year." And he noted Geider, a sophomore, and Mitchell "also did a nice job."

Northville's thinclads go to East Lansing for the Spartan Relays Friday, where Stuyvenberg will be defending champion in the long jump and the favorite in the 60.

About 45 teams should show up at Jennison Fieldhouse. Preliminaries start at noon

County Eyes Maybury

Middlebelt roads in Inkster, $565,000. • Parkway development in the City of Wayne between Merriman and Hannan roads, $500,000.

According to Commissioner Carl Pursell, the suggestion that 700 acres of Maybury property be purchased and developed for park purposes has been discussed with state officials. It does not jeopardize Northville's park plan but rather may enhance it, he said.

The county planners and the commissioners, explained Pursell, see the 700-acre site as becoming either a Wayne County park or a park operating by the Hurc..-Chuton Metropolitan Authority—the authority that operates numerous parks, including Kensington, throughout the metropolitan area.

Several months ago, said Pursell, the county submitted its suggested priorities under the separate $30-million local units portion of the $100-million state recreation bond fund. Northville also requested state funds for its proposed purchase of Maybury property and for development of the fish hatchery property on Seven Mile Road. It and Northville Township were granted $43,000 for the fish hatchery project, but the Maybury request for financial aid was shelved since, according to the state, the $43,000 was all that Northville could expect based on the population of the city and township. However, state officials said it would keep Northville's Maybury aid request in case other state or federal monies become available.

The difference between the earlier recreation bond money allocations and the latest is that under the former, aid went directly to the municipalities for self-development of their recreation projects whereas the $25-million for urban projects will be administered by the state but presumably based on priorities recommended by counties and approved by the state.

It is unlikely, said Pursell, that the state would operate the proposed Maybury park but instead would delegate this responsibility to an organization such as the ccu y park system or a regional system such as the Huron-Clinton authority since additional monies would be needed for purchase, development and maintenance.

Pursell said he would suggest that

Huron-Clinton Authority and perhaps, the City of Northville discuss the proposal in depth with the City of Detroit, which really will have the decisive vote since it owns Maybury and proposes to sell it.

County planners and county commissioners, said Pursell, see development of the 700-acre Maybury site along the lines of the Middle Rouge Parkway system, which includes Cass Benton Park in Northville Township, with nature trails, picnic facilities, play area and ball diamonds.

City manager Frank Ollendorff expressed interest in the county proposal, particularly as it might involve the Huron-Clinton Authority. He said he hoped Northville could be involved in the meeting with Detroit as suggested by Pursell since the city's request for purchase of 220 acres of the property from Detroit is still being considered by Detroit.

His off-the-cuff reaction was that Northville probably should go ahead its park plan as a adjunct to the county 700-acre park proposal.

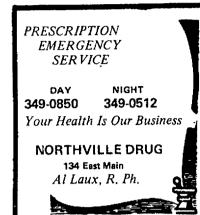

Together, the proposals would entail most if not all of the nearly 1,000 acres at Maybury, a former TB facility closed last summer.

A SI a year lease of part of the property, obtained by the federal government from Detroit for the purpose of operating a job corps center at Maybury may never be exercised, the Record has learned, because the government is considering instead the establishment of the center at the Fort Wayne facilities in Detroit.

Should the 700-acre park become part of Huron-Clinton, it would be under the jurisdiction of one of the nation's largest and most successful regional park systems.

Huron-Clinton Authority was established by state statute and approved by the people of the five metropolitan counties in 1940. The authority is financed principally by a tax levy, limited to one-quarter of one mill. Property owners throughout the five-county area, including Northville, Novi and Wixom, pay this tax.

Among the parks operated by the authority are Kensington, a 4,300-acre park near New Hudson, the 3,500-acre Stony Creek park near M-53 and 26 Mile Road, and the 960-acre Lower Huron Park near Belleville and I-94 freeway.

the stone up the hill in an unending toil of anguish.

The movie tears apart the romantic vision of bygone years and makes a shambles of the great American dream and the chauvinism of the 1930's. It exposes the free enterprise system as a sham.

Although the movie may be caustic in the extreme, there is no detracting from its resounding artistic accomplishment, or the excellence of the acting.

The story revolves around a dance marathon in 1932 which appeals to all down-and-outers in search of the grand prize, $1,500. The money holds the promise of release from drudgery, a way to get off the treadmill of life.

In quest of the money comes Gloria (Jane Fonda), the girl from parts south who has been hardened by disillusionment; Robert (Michael Sarrazin), the namby-pamby who rolls with life like a benumbed boxer; Alice. (Susannah York), the aspiring 1. actress living in a fantasy world; high."

The itinerant sailor (Red Buttons) who is simply putting into another port; the pregnant girl and her brute husband who want a new start in life, and a contingent of other lost humans who seek, like us, the end of the rainbow.

Miss Fonda is the most captivating soul. Throwing off lines with the aplomb of a well-honed Helen Hayes, she is completely true to her part as the ascerbic see-all who knows what life's about and soon finds out if she doesn't know already.

There are other sterling performances: Sarrazin, Buttons and Miss York, contestants in the marathon that goes on endlessly; Gig Young as Rocky, the ruthless casino operator who would sacrifice his mother to earn a

Almost unanimously Novi people resent the idea of a low-cost "new community" for factory workers being dumped among their $30,000-a-house problems.

"What about Novi's problem?" asks Mrs. Durling. "Doesn't anyone care about them?'

Edward Robinson, MDCDA executive director, says he does. "In fact, we are going to do a detailed plan especially for Novi, better than any other developer will bring in, Robinson promises.

One woman, who preferred to remain anonymous, said she thought people might stay and fight it, "White people can be pushed only so far," she noted. "Something like this could start another civil war.' 'More than anything else, the

Mrs. Durling, like many of her Novi neighbors, believes her lifestyle is being jeopardized by an impersonal

"The dreams of the middle-class people who moved to Novi in recent years seeking all that suburban living connotes, will be violated by MDCDA," writes Larry Wind. "Novi can grow beautifully into a dream community. To turn it into anything Historians have chronicled the death of the general-purpose farmer as a sad but natural outcome of our society. "You can't have your cake and eat it too," Warner explains. "You can't live by yourself and ignore the rest of the people in the country. They won't let you'

Still Mrs. Durling and her neighbors feel their suburb is being discriminated against while other all-white high-class suburbs remain

"MDCDA wouldn't even consider going into Grosse Pointe or Birmingham," complains Mrs. William

At one point in the discussion, the women searched for ideas to block the "new community." MDCDA owns 562 acres on Taft Road between 9 and 10 Mile Roads and is negotiating for about 400 more so it can qualify for federal

"Maybe we could talk to the people and ask them not to sell to MDCDA," suggested Mrs. Len Millross.

"They're probably just holding out for more money," replied Mrs. Bryant. "I don't think we could outbid

This kind of frustration is shared by the Novi city leaders who have been writing to everyone with "influence," trying to put clamps on the project.

Mayor Joseph Crupi sent off a letter to George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Romney, former Michigan governor, says he's still enthusiastic about the "new community" - at least, in theory.

Apparently no one is exactly sure what the "new community" will do to Novi in practice.

Vilican & Lehman, city planning consultants, say they know nothing about the plan except what they read in the papers. The mayor, the city council and the planning board say the same thing.

Robinson says he was pressured, because of newspaper leaks, into releasing the project before it was ready. However, he pooh-poohs most of the arguments put up against it.

Land for schools and even money for school buildings, he says, will be provided, if necessary Federal grants will take care of the sewer lines, and MDCDA influence might help get Novi greater sewer capacity.

"Okay, but what about our property values? Who's going to protect them?" questions Mrs. Flora.

"If my husband were transferred, we would have to sell at a loss or be stuck here," adds Mrs. Millross.

Real estate brokers in the area admit trading has been slow since the "new community" story broke six weeks ago. But they can't yet predict whether prices will remain deflated.

There are lots of factors involved right now, besides 'new community,' explained one realtor. "You can't judge the market by one thing."

Once development starts booming in Novi, he says, nothing will hold down the deals. "But something like the 'new community' might make a difference in what kind of developments you get in Novi," he

And that seems to be the critical issue whether Novi is to have a sheltered suburban style or a rambunctious central city atmosphere.

"Personally I don't think a 'new community' is going to do anything to solve inner-city problems or the racial issue," argues Jake Durling.

"I wonder how many black people really want to come out here to live anyway," adds Mrs. Flora.

MDCDA hasn't taken any surveys in the black community on its reaction to the "new community," Robinson admits. "But we think this will help us get integration in an all-white area without turning a few black families into guinea pigs," he adds.

Black militants, however, see an ulterior motive in MDCDA's move. They protest that MDCDA integration will break apart the black community with tokenism, depriving the blacks of a powerful political and economic base.

MDCDA is going to spend the next six months putting together details of the "new community."

At first glance, its major problem is to draw the plan within the limits of Novi's zoning laws and to devise some scheme for paying extra costs it will

But a more serious problem, one that can't be worked out with an architect's blue pencil, is the lifestyles of the white suburbanite and the black urbanite that it will throw into direct

Wrong Purpose Given Pastor's Church in Today's Society

Rev. Arnold B. Cook First Baptist Church

In light of present day events, this statement convinces us that such has come to pass. The Church has failed to abide by the teachings of the Word of God. It seeks to adopt the principles and practices of the world it is supposed to save. The church should, through the preaching of the Word change men, but instead, the church is being changed by man. Seeing this, man ponders, 'If the church is so unsettled, how then can it promise stability to me, floundering in a troubled world?"

Religion - theres plenty of it, but how much of our modern days religion has the divine imprimatur upon it. Chrisendom, like the mustard seed has grown to gigantic proportions, and indeed the fouls have found lodging in the branches of it. Forgiveness - who preaches that today? And Salvation 7 now theres a word for you. Character development, moral adjustment, social betterment, are terms used to replace the supposed archaism of salvation. Politics without God. Men seem inclined today to think that man can govern best without the aid of divine wisdom. Heaven without Hell. Now this would be nice if it were true. Modern man would like roses without thorns, and sin without its consequences, but there is an accounting and however inconvenient hell may be, it remains a reality.

> But what have we gained in this religious turnabout? Has society improved or has it degenerated? One glance at a newspaper will tell you that the restlessness and revolution so prevalent throughout the world evidences the fact that society is out of control. We have cast off the divine restraints and now, "we are reaping the whirlwind" of anarchy.

What then is the answer to our problem? Where do we go from here? The answer seems so simple. If we continue on in the same manner, taking God and His Word so lightly, then we shall see the further and faster decay of our society. Of, if we are willing to pay the price for recovery, then we must return to the fixed moral principles given by God and eternally recorded in His Word.

youth-by the drawerful

In a nation as big as ours there is always a tendency to overlook the individual and to think only of groups, Youth gets the brunt of this generalizing.

Many of our boys and girls are delinquent. But some folks would have us believe that every child is a potential delinquent.

Time we realized that children aren't chicksl They don't grow up by the drawerful to have the same characteristics and habits.

Children respond to love, parental example, religious guidance. They possess an ever-increasing aptitude for responsibility,

Most of our boys and girls will grow up to assume their rightful place in an orderly, Christian society. Some will populate our jails. But the destiny of the individual youth is not a

Who Says Things Haven't Changed?

LANSING — THERE IS A temptation among many commentators, especially on rather gloomy occasions, to say the human race in general and the country or state in particular isn't making any social or political progress.

When one steps back from the picture, however, it becomes apparent progress, or at least change, has come rapidly. One example of this is a comparison of the Michigan of 1899 at the end of the 19th century with today's Michigan.

You wouldn't believe they could be the same place.

FOR EXAMPLE, the Michigan Legislature in 1899 had members with names such as Zachariah, Vespasian, Hezekiah and Oka. Today names like this appear unusual, to say the least, and they haven't appeared in the Legislature for some time.

The Governor in 1899 was named Hazen S. Pingree and his salary was $4,000 per year.

In those days of low salaries, the Attorney General and Secretary of State both were paid $800 per year and the state veterinarian was paid $5 per day plus expenses.

TEACHERS HADN'T HEARD about strikes for higher wages. Their average wage at the turn of the century was $43.05 a month for men. The women's rights organizations weren't as powerful then, either, since women teachers averaged only $35.28 per

The 469 students at the State Agricultural College (now Michigan State University) paid no tuition and had boarding expenses which ranged from $1.75 to $2.25 per week. Out-of-state students paid a $15 per term tuition.

TITLES GIVEN VARIOUS state institutions were a lot blunter in those days, too.

For example, what is now know as the Lapeer State Home was called the Michigan Home for the Feeble Minded and Epileptic. The Kalamazoo and Pontiac State Hospitals were both known as "Asylum for the Insane."

THERE WAS A WAR on then too, but the public reaction to it was quite a bit different.

The Michigan Manual, official state record book, that year calls the Spanish-American War a "glorious conquest for humanity" which was "actuated by the highest motives."

The manual notes "by good fortune the Legislature of Michigan was in session at the time when war with Spain on account of the Main incident and on general principles seemed inevitable, and with great patriotism and promptness enacted such legislation as was suggested by the military department in view of the threatened war."

THE POPULATION PICTURE was quite a bit different then. Detroit, the state's largest town, had a population of 234,000 in those pre-automobile days.

The Detroit suburb of Warren, which now has 90,000 inhabitants, had 371.

At the same time, the Upper Peninsula, with mining and lumbering operations going strong, actually had more people than it does now.

Menominee had a population of 12,532 in 1899, compared to its present 11,289. Manistee has dropped from 13,450 to 8,324 from 13,450 to 8,324.

THE SOCIAL PICTURE was markedly different as well.

The right to vote for example was not granted to such elements of the population as women, Indians,

"duelists and abettors."

And one footnote in the Michigan Manual says the election returns on various state elections were "excluding colored population."

Who says things haven't changed?

FIRST HALFWAY HOUSE — A unique halfway house for youth from the Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville. Township will result from a cooperative effort of a Detroit church and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. Yout'ts who 'tave' completed vocational training at the county school located in Northville Township will live at the 20-room house at 2362 East Grand Boulevard, Detroit, while working and learning to be self-reliant. The Boulevard United Church of Christ, which originated the idea, will purchase the building and pay for its maintenance, while the county will meet the $15,000-a-year cost of having a married couple live there as resident advisors. A dozen youth in their late teens will board at the house while working in the area. The Rev. Rodney L. Doep said his congregation hopes to inspire other churches to take direct action in solving community problems.

Babson Report

Costs Trim Projected Farm Income

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — Supply-demand trends and spiraling costs suggest that farm prices will work moderately higher in the months immediately ahead ... with first-half strength being only partially canceled out by later selective easing. While the odds favor a small boost in farmers' realized gross income to a record high of nearly $56 billion for 1970, a continued upturn in production expenses will hold realized net at, or perhaps a shade below, 1969 levels.

The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service is forecasting a $1.5 billion increase in cash receipts from farm marketings over the 1969 level of $47.4 billion. Data compiled from private sources by the staff of Babson's Reports pretty well bear out Agriculture's prediction. We also concur in the belief that the expected advance will reflect a larger volume of farm marketings as well as higher farm-product prices.

larger volume of farm marketings is increasing. The Crop Reporting Board says farmers intend to plant 6.4 million acres more than a year ago, over one-third of it in com. Large acreage increases are slated also for sorghum, soybeans, and spring wheat other than durum while plantings of barley, cotton, hay, flaxseed, potatoes, dry peas, and peanuts are likewise expected to rise, though more moderately.

As was the case last year, however, most of the increase in cash receipts will come from livestock and products. The boost over a year earlier could well be as much as 4-percent. Beef production is topping that of a year ago because of the larger output of fed cattle. But demand is holding up well, too, and though prices for the year could lag 1969, cash receipts will be up on the basis of the higher volume.

As for hogs. Prices have been sharply above a year ago due to smaller supplies. But soon this wide margin over 1969 quotes will narrow as first runs of a spring pig crop -- 4 percent larger than a year ago — are marketed. Further price declines should come later in the year. Even so, hog receipts for the year will top 1969.

FARMERS' costs for production items, interest, taxes, and wage rates won't go up as fast—or far—this year as in 1969. But higher usage of feed, fertilizer, and pesticides combined with larger outlays for replacement of worn-out machines will prevent any gains in net income from farm operations on a national basis

Nor will farmers' position vis-a-vis their city cousins show any real improvement, even though their receipts from nonfarm sources may top those of 1969. Hence the ratio of the average disposable income of farm people to nonfarmers should be at or near 75 percent.

THE WEEKS just ahead will be critical for the future of farm programs. The White House farm bill, embodying flexible farm price support loans, has no chance of passage as submitted. Neither have most of the ideas advanced by farm organizations and farm state Congressmen. The once powerful farm bloc in Congress has weakened and can no longer dictate the shape of farm legislative programs.

As a result, any 1970 farm bill will be compromise, reflecting to a larger degree than ever before the ideas of nonfarm interests. Farm price supports may not yet be cut back very drastically, but they're on the way out

The Michigan Shore-to-Shore Riding-Hiking Trail from Lake Michigan to Lake Huron is completed, according to the Michigan Department of Conservation. It winds through beautiful, wild country, is well marked and covers 218 miles.

A branch trail from Scheck's Place Campground in Grand Traverse County to Cadillac is now in use. A section from Scheck's to the Blue Holes near Fife Lake has been developed as a multiple-use Forest Trail. Along this section of trail, various forestry and game activities are described on interpretative signs.

A branch trail from Grayling to Cheboygan has been started and the northern portion is usable. Camps will be built at strategic points when this trail is completed.

The Midland to Mackinac Hiking Trail is being built by troops of Boy Scouts. Foresters from the State Department have assisted the boys in laying out the route across state lands. The actual physical labor is being done by the scouts. Each troop is assigned a four mile section on which the boys clear the trail, prune overhanging branches, remove logs, and in some instances build small foot bridges across streams.

The trail goes through Midland and Gladwin Counties and extends almost to the northern boundary of Roscommon County. Rustic trail camps will be built along the way as funds are available. ORCHARD PRIDE OLD FASHIONED

Most of the private ranches servicing the Riding-Hiking Trails rent and board horses and have camping facilities.

Further information on these trails may be obtained by writing the Michigan Department of Conservation. Lansing, Michigan 48926.
