

'Beating Bushes for Teachers' Gives Way to Surplus

Just a few years ago school administrators were beating the bushes for qualified teachers as the opening of school approached, hoping to unearth a Johnnie-come-lately or to entice a teacher out of retirement to fill abundant vacancies.

There simply weren't enough teachers to go around, despite the fact the financial lot of teachers had improved considerably over the bargaining table.

Novi's assistant superintendent Richard Hendrickson remembers those days well.

"Four years ago we took a house-to-house survey trying to find former teachers or even college graduates who might want to teach or at least be put on our substitute list," he commented.

"This year we've got at least six applicants for every position and our substitute list is made up of certified teachers."

The story is the same in Northville, South Lyon, Whitmore Lake and other districts.

Raymond Spear, superintendent, confirmed last week that the Northville district has a surplus of applications and "the lowest teacher turnover rate ever this year. The positions are just not available."

South Lyon Superintendent Donald Burns and Edwin Heathcote,

Whitmore Lake superintendent, told the same story.

Elementary, social science, English and business teachers, according to local and state officials, are a dime a dozen, to put it bluntly.

A shortage still exists in the fields of instrumental and vocal music, math and vocational education.

Last year, Spear said, it was almost impossible to get an industrial arts teacher. "We literally had to comb the colleges to find one. This year we have four applicants and no position open."

With the exception of a few specialized areas, Northville has enough applicants "to restaff the district twice. We have over 700 applicants on file now and about six positions available," Robert Berelson, administrative intern, explained.

Burns said South Lyon is no longer accepting applications for upper elementary positions. "We're loaded with applications for positions, with 20 percent more applying than last year," Burns said. Twenty-two teachers out of 160 are leaving, a low figure compared with previous years.

The district is also having an increased number of teachers with experience applying.

In Whitmore Lake, Heathcote indicated a large number of teachers are applying for positions in the district, with about half of the applicants having experience.

He attributes the number of applicants to the proximity of University of Michigan to the district.

Ewart Artis, director of the University of Michigan's Bureau of Appointments, said the surplus not only applies to Michigan, but throughout the country. One local administrator ventured there's a surplus of 100,000 teachers throughout the United States.

Recent past president of the Association for School, College and University Staff, Artis said he is presently compiling statistics on the teacher supply situation which will be used as a yardstick in determining enrollment at the U of M's Education School.

"I'm sure," he said, "they'll limit the number of social science applicants."

The U of M is no exception as far as difficulty in teacher placement is concerned. Artis said Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan, Michigan State, Wayne State, and other public and private universities throughout the state are in the same boat.

WHY THE sudden surplus of teachers?

It can't be traced to one single factor, but chief among those mentioned by all local administrators

MARTIN L. RINEHART jumped into the school board race Tuesday, taking out petitions for one of two four-year terms to be decided in the June 8 election. Rinehart, an assistant regional engineer with Standard Oil, joins Incumbent Stanley Johnston and Reverend Timothy Johnston, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in the race. Deadline for returning petitions is Monday, May 11. Voter registration deadline is tomorrow, Friday. Also on the June 8 ballot will be an advisory vote on year-round school.

BECAUSE OF Mayor's Exchange Day falling on Monday, May 18, the city council has rescheduled its next regular meeting for Tuesday, May 19.

A CONTRACT is being prepared for council approval to construct a deceleration lane along the west side of Novi road at the entrance to Allen drive. City Manager Frank Ollendorff told the council he has received a low bid of $9,391.20 from John Carlo, Inc., contractors who are now doing work in the area for Thompson-Brown company.

THE PURCHASE of land to extend Wing street south to Hines drive has been completed by the city. Using $50,000 donated to the city by Northville Downs and earmarked for public street and traffic improvements the city acquired the necessary land from Mrs. Bea Carlson and her son, Arthur Carlson. The city paid Arthur $27,500 for a house and lot. Mrs. Carlson received $13,500 for 30 feet of land including a wing of her house. Under the agreement the city must replace a wall on Mrs. Carlson's home, which will be about nine feet from the street extension. Work on the street will begin this summer with paving slated for next year.

But Citizens Oppose Rezoning

Centers Compete for Favor

Tuesday, May 26 will be a night of decisions for the Northville township planning commission.

The seven-member body has promised to reveal its recommendations regarding three major rezoning requests on that evening.

Latest petitions for rezoning were heard last Thursday evening when two regional shopping centers were proposed for parcels bordering the new Haggerty expressway at Seven and Eight Mile roads.

Earlier, last week the commission aired an appeal by Levitt and Sons seeking rezoning to replace some 350 single family homes with 500 townhouse units in its 400-acre Highland Lakes development in the gravel mining area between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

While the audience was smaller at the shopping center hearings Thursday evening, the reaction was identical to the Levitt hearing...solidly opposed.

Practically all of the opposition came from residents of neighboring Meadowbrook subdivision.

Specifically, the proposed sites for the shopping centers are located at the southwest corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty roads, and at the northwest corner of Seven Mile and Haggerty roads, both in the extreme northeastern corner of Northville township.

First to be heard was a 57-acre parcel at Eight Mile requested by Nate Shapero and presented by Attorney James Littell.

Nate Shapero and his Son, Ray A., who head up Cunningham's Drug chain, attended the hearing. The land is owned by the senior Shapero.

Littell emphasized that the $13 million all-enclosed mall would be confined to some 40 acres with approximately 32 acres between the proposed center and Meadowbrook subdivision remaining as a residential zoning classification and serving as a buffer.

The Shapero parcel includes a total of 89 acres. The center would occupy 40 acres and require B-3 zoning (regional center). A 17-acre triangle where the proposed expressway will intersect the site at Eight Mile and Haggerty would be zoned B-2 (general business), possible as a motel site.

Littell noted that the site is ideally located for a shopping complex and that land will no longer be desirable for residential use once the expressway is completed. He pointed out that it is bordered on the north by the city of Novi, and on the east by the city of

Council Approves Sidewalk Program

Despite some citizen objections the city council Monday night voted unanimously to proceed with its sidewalk program for 1970.

While the council voted to go ahead with the project as proposed, it assured citizens that specific plans for installation would be available for their inspection before the project is undertaken.

Installation of sidewalks on four streets totalling an estimated $8,000 in special assessments was approved. The streets include the west side of North Rogers between Main and Dunlap, the north side of Fairbrook between First and Rogers, Orchard drive on both sides where walk is missing, and West Cady on the north side west of the school property to Rogers.

The fact that the council had dropped eight streets from its 1970 program prompted two citizens to ask why they should have to pay assessments while the others were dropped.

Councilman Paul Folino explained that the city is limited in the number of projects it can finance each year (although the property owners are assessed 100 per cent for the improvement, they may repay the city for the work over a five-year period at six per cent interest). Folino added that it was the council's judgement that the four selected needed sidewalks most.

More Businesses Added To Parking Assessment

Northville's proposed offstreet parking additions moved ahead Monday night even while slowing up.

An addition of several more business properties to the original list to be assessed for the $360,000 development project made it necessary for the council to adjourn its public hearing until June 1.

The assessment list now includes all commercially zoned and used properties within 500 feet of either of the proposed new parking sites.

Originally, only business buildings within 500 feet and located in the four block area bounded by Cady, Dunlap, Wing and Hutton streets were included in the assessment roll. On the advice of the city's bonding attorney the assessment district was extended to include all properties within 500 feet, which extends the district north of Dunlap and adds Casterline Funeral Home, A & P, Kroger, C.R. Ely and Sons, First Federal Savings, American Legion, Jack's Barber Shop, Manufacturers National Bank drive-in office and Dr. H. L. Dyer's offices.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff reported that this was the only change since the April 27 public hearing. He said that the bonding attorney had advised against any other changes in the proposed formula. Some had been suggested by businessmen at the original public hearing.

The project will provide approximately 300 parking spaces in two sites — one a double deck facility on Cady street west of the Spinning Wheel and the second a lot on Dunlap west of Glenn Long Plumbing.

Cost of the project will be divided on a 50-50 basis between the city and the businesses. The $180,000 assessment will be levied over a 10 or 15 year period on a formula based upon building floor space and proximity to the two parking areas.

In other business Monday night the council voted to proceed with engineer plans for paving West Baseline road at the rear of the high school. The school board has indicated it will participate in the cost of the project with the city.

The council also agreed with a school board request that the guard rail on North Center street should be extended northward to the high school entrance. But first, suggested Mayor A.M. Allen, the school should be urged to cut back the walk path into the hill so that the sidewalk can be moved away from the street.

W. James Knox, 370 Maplewood, told the council he objected to the proposed extension of Carpenter street south from Maplewood forming a culdesac two-thirds of the way to Hill street. He questioned the legality of such a proposal inasmuch as the plat shows Carpenter being extended through Hill.

The city manager pointed out that the culdesac had been proposed because area residents objected to a thru street because of traffic. Knox was told he could register his objection at the public hearing. The extension is being sought by property owners who wish to develop interior lots.

Michigan Week To Salute Youth

An added feature of this year's Michigan Week celebration in Northville, May 16-23, will be a Salute to Youth. It will be an event of the latter part of the week, Mrs. William Slattery, who has taken chairmanship of the Michigan Week activities for the second year, announces.

This year Northville will be exchanging with Linden, Michigan, on Mayor's Exchange, a part of Government Day, May 18. Linden President Keith Wenger and other Linden visitors will be honor guests at the annual Rotary-sponsored luncheon. They will be welcomed by Superintendent of Schools Raymond Spear, Rotary president.

Theme of the 17th annual Michigan Week observance is to be Land of Hospitality, stressing "homecoming" for former Michiganders and a welcome to everyone, Mrs. Slattery said.

The week traditionally opens May 16 with Community Pride Day. This is being planned by the Northville Beautification Commission with the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, assisting. One of its contributions will be redecorating the hanging floral baskets that are hung throughout downtown.

Sunday, Spiritual Foundations Day, will be highlighted this year with the dedication service for the new sanctuary of Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Heritage Day will be marked Tuesday with the Northville Historical Society planning to sell State of Michigan flags through the week. The society also is helping with other events.

Last year Mrs. Slattery instituted a Salute to Women. This year the salute is to youth with young people being invited to take over city hall officers' desks for a day.

Throughout the week there will be displays in windows of downtown merchants. All organizations in the community are invited to participate in Michigan Week activities. Mrs. Slattery requests any with special events scheduled during Michigan Week to call her, so they officially may be included.

Closing the week will be the Our Lady of Victory Antiques Fair May 23-24 at Northville Downs.

MOTHER'S DAY — There are five good reasons why Mrs. Don E. When Barbara Scantlin took a moment from gardening at her Pickford Road home to answer questions last week, she didn't seem too aware of the rarity of having an article accepted and published nationally on her very first writing attempt.

She wrote of European flea markets in Amsterdam and Rome which she visited and photographed last year. (The article includes her pictures). "They're lots of fun and crowded," she commented.

The magazine is new last year, Mrs. Scantlin explained, adding that she heard about it on Channel 58's antique show by George Michaels. It fills a need in

THE ANTIQUE Fair being sponsored by Our Lady of Victory Church May 23-24 at Northville Downs is not being set up as a flea market but is to be more like an English fair, Mrs. Ollie Smith, chairman, explains.

In the parking lot area of the downs there will be outdoor demonstrations by handcraft artisans, including a glassblower and a pastel portrait artist. Mrs. Kathleen Edgerton of Northville will give a spinning demonstration.

Right now Mrs. Smith is looking for a service organization that would like to sell balloons throughout the fair, which is to be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. both days. Snacks, lunch and dinner will be served throughout the day.

Individual antique dealers are renting stalls in the paddock for the antique show. Mrs. Smith, owner of the Four Sails shop on Center street, will be among the local dealers, as will Jean Magee of the Stone Cellar. CIVIC PRIDE--Beautification of Wixom, part of the Civic Pride Day activities for Michigan week, got off to an early start Saturday as planting of 40 of the city's official trees, the Purple Plum, along main streets was begun. Planting one of the trees here on Pontiac Trail are (l to r) William Watson, Robert McCool, Peter Zline, and Richard Hall. Hall is the project chairman.

"JUST WONDERFUL"--That was comment of Mrs. Clifford Winter, chairman of the Northville community blood bank, as she described Friday's turnout of donors at the First Presbyterian Church social hall. A total of 158 "good pints" were donated, with 28 persons rejected for health reasons. It was the third highest blood bank turnout in history, said Mrs. Winter, who extended "deep appreciation to all the wonderful people who helped make it such a great success."

Youth Urge Cleanup Effort

Saturday, May 9, Northville residents will have a chance to help save their surroundings by participating in the statewide "Day in May" cleanup campaign.

"There will be hundreds of local cleanup projects in communities all over Michigan," local chairman Sue Deisley said.

"The cleanup effort in Northville will concentrate on Northville Road, town, town boxes, high school and Rouge River areas," Sue said.

She issued a plea for all segments of the community to pitch in and help in the youth-organized environmental quality campaign.

"Everyone abhors pollution and its detrimental effects on our lives," Sue said, "but rarely does an entire community have the opportunity to pull together and do something really visible and meaningful to combat this problem."

"We all have an opportunity this Saturday, and I hope the community will make an unmistakable commitment to the pollution fight through this local project," Sue said.

Anyone wishing to help with the "Day in May" project can contact the local area chairman for further details: Nancy Ambler, Northville Road, 349-1814; David Kenger, high school, 349-1273; Sue Deisley, town and town boxes, 349-4059; and Don Meadows, Rouge River county-wide cleanup, 349-5295.

"Day in May" is sponsored by the Youth Against Pollution organization and State Representative David M. Serotkin of Mount Clemens, overall director for the activities.

Horses Fitted with Artificial Eye, Contact Lens

A milestone in veterinary medicine was recorded in the village of New Hudson last Thursday as a valuable thoroughbred filly and a rare imported stallion received plastic sclera lenses, each for their right eyes.

Working in the surgery room of Dr. R. J. Keeran at 57533 Pontiac Trail, Fritz Jardon, the inventor of the plastic eye for humans, placed a lens in the right eye of "April", a one-year old filly who punctured her eye in a fall last October. Jardon also fitted a cosmetic contact lens to a champion Peruvian Paso stud named "Fascination", who recently lost the vision in his right eye due to glaucoma.

The carefully made and meticulously crafted lenses fitted perfectly, according to Dr. Keeran. Although the specially designed artificial lenses will beautify the fine animals, they cannot improve the horses' eyesight as this is irreplaceably lost.

Dr. Keeran did the preliminary surgery and treatment of "April's" injured eye to prepare it for the prosthesis. "Fascination", a patient of Dr. David Forbush of Dearborn, underwent the corrective surgery and was prepared for the lens by the two doctors working together.

At Dr. Keeran's request, Jardon, an oculist, agreed to do the highly skilled molding procedure at his Plastic Research Corporation in Detroit. The horses thus become the first to receive an eye designed by Jardon, who invented the all plastic artificial eye in 1938.

German-born Jardon is an associate professor at Wayne State University and a director of the Kresge Eye Institute. Working over a period of three weeks in preparing the eye devices, Jardon took the molds at Dr. Keeran's with the horses lying down under complete anesthetic. He put the completed lenses in place with the horses standing, after they had been tranquilized and treated with local anesthetic. The actual placement procedure took only a matter of minutes.

Several hours after the devices were placed, Dr. Keeran said, "Neither horse seems to be bothered at all. They blink their eyes and are eating oats." "We are very pleased and consider ourselves very fortunate that Mr. Jardon would take the time to do this for us," the doctor added.

Mrs. Keeran explained that the coloring of the eye had to be an exact match for "April's" good eye, as the owner, Stephanie Reeck, a sophomore at Hillsdale College, plans to show her later on. "I took the technician, who did the coloring of the lenses, through the stables so that he could see how much difference there is in the eyes of individual horses," she said.

"April's" sclera lens is precision molded and color-matched to her good eye, even to the veins in the white of the eye. The perfect-fitting lens will stay in place indefinitely without sutures," Jardon stated.

The 11-year-old "Fascination", the champion Peruvian Paso stud imported by the Al Bensons of Fenton, will not find his eyesight improved by his new "contact" but certainly his appeal with "girls" should go up several notches.

BATTER UP — Mayor Joseph Crupi tosses in the first ball to open the 1970 edition of the Novi little league baseball program Monday afternoon. That's Police Chief Lee BeGole, at the left giving the mayor some pitching tips. Neither was swamped by major league scouts although the youngsters figured they could find a place for them on the bench.

More May Join Mobile Home Fight

The court was slated to decide yesterday whether or not to permit Arnold Aronoff and associates to intervene in the trial between the city and Lynn Matthews, over the city's rejection of zoning to permit a mobile homes development on Napier Road.

Aronoff had requested permission to join with the city in its defense of the rezoning denial.

Matthews contends the city's decision is arbitrary, pointing out that the existing residential zoning is inconsistent with the operation of a sand and gravel business on the opposite side of Napier in Lyon Township and with nearby industrial property.

Aronoff, an associate in the sand and gravel operation in Lyon Township and who also has property in Novi, wants to join the city because he believes the residential zoning is consistent with the residential plans he has for both his Lyon Township and Novi property. The sand and gravel operation, he contends, is only temporary and that this property is to be developed with homes.

Meanwhile, the city council has authorized the use of its planning consultant and a real estate expert by Novi Township, at city expense, to help fight the township's defense of a zoning denial for a mobile homes park on 13 Mile Road.

24 in Running For Talent Show

More than 50 acts were auditioned last week for the upcoming youth talent show to be sponsored by the Novi Police Officers Association, with the number of entries finally trimmed to 24.

"All of the acts were good," said Detective Gordon Nelson, "but we had to eliminate many of them to shorten the program."

The amateur talent show is to be held May 28.

Michigan Week Salute

Wixom to Stage Giant Celebration

Preliminary plans for Michigan Week activities in Wixom are revealed Saturday as chairmen for the specific days of the week worked feverishly to wrap up their agendas.

"It's going to be the finest program ever presented here," promised Chairman Joseph Leahy. "I've never seen so much enthusiasm shown by so many and I'm confident this event will do much to bring our citizens together."

The week will open with Community Pride Day on Saturday, May 16, and conclude Saturday, May 23 with a Youth Day program featuring everything from a parade to a bake sale.

Here's a brief sketch of what is planned:

May 16, Community Pride Day — In anticipation of this date in which citizens will be asked to beautify their homes and businesses, a committee under the direction of Richard Hall has already begun planting 40 of the city's official trees — the flowering plum — and flowers along main streets. Capping the day will be a Goodfellows Dance that evening at the UAW Hall.

May 17, Spiritual Foundations Day — Under the chairmanship of the Reverend Robert Warren, citizens of the community will be encouraged to attend the church of their choice.

May 18, Our Government Day — Six officials of the community of Hudson, Wixom's exchange city this year, will visit Wixom, touring new subdivisions and business places. They and their hosts and hostesses will be luncheon guests of the Ford Lincoln plant, and that evening they and local Michigan Week officials will attend a special banquet at the Calico Kitchens restaurant. Chairman of this date is Mrs. Nancy Dingelday.

May 19, Our Heritage Day — Wixom, under the chairmanship of Elwood Grubb, will pay tribute to some 70 senior citizens in a dinner trip to Frankenmuth. The group will leave the city hall at 10:30 a.m., enjoying music and sing-along enroute. They'll see the poultry farm where poultry is raised for Frankenmuth's famous inn, and they'll arrive in time to watch the Lockenspiel, a tower which houses hand-carved and hand-painted figurines that move in telling the story of the Pier Piper. After dinner, they'll tour an art gallery and Bronners, a Christmas decoration factory.

The day-long activity will wind up with a tea at the city hall.

May 20, Livelihood Day — Citizens will be asked to express their pride in their places of business.

May 21, Education Day — Under the co-chairmanship of Judy Kimmel and Betty Taylor, poster, theme, and the traditional King and Queen contests will be held in the school system. Winners of the King and Queen contest will ride the fire truck in the Youth Day parade.

May 22, Hospitality Day — A dance for teenagers living in Wixom will be held, under the chairmanship of Gunnar Mettala.

May 23, Youth Day — With Irene Rollo serving as city hostess, this fun-filled day will get underway with a parade starting at 10:45 behind the First Baptist Church of Wixom and ending up at the city hall.

At least a half-dozen floats, a band, antique cars, horsemen, representatives of the Girl Scouts, Pioneer Girls, VFW, baseball teams, Paul Bunyon, Buffalo Bill, Tonto, and five clowns will take part in the parade, not to mention the dozens of youngsters who will join the parade on their decorated bikes when it reaches the elementary school.

The parade is expected to take about one hour and will require special parking (residents are urged to arrive early and park only where signs so indicate, not at the city hall).

Hot dogs and soft drinks, plenty for both youngsters and adults, will be available free at the city hall — compliments of Holloway Construction Company, and a sale of baked goods, donated by citizens throughout the city, will be held inside the city hall.

At 1:30 p.m. a Michigan Week little league baseball game will get underway, with Mayor Gilbert Willis and Mayor Protem Charles McCall throwing out the first balls. In addition the drawing for prizes, for which raffle tickets are already being sold, will be held.

Robert Trombley is in charge of parade parking. Robert Dingelday is responsible for the parade. Sandy Evans, Dee Watson and Jane Wahamaki are in charge of the bake sale, and Neil Taylor, Wes McAtee and Donna Thorsberg are heading the raffle sale.

Mrs. McCall is the publicity chairman, and Mrs. Vern Spencer and Mrs. J.B. Morningstar have been in charge of raising funds for Michigan Week activities.

9 Mile Paving Shelved; Meadowbrook Gaining

Proposed paving of Nine Mile Road appears dead this week but prospects that Meadowbrook Road could be paved brightened this week as a handful of Meadowbrook homeowners indicated they would begin circulating petitions calling for a special assessment.

The city council tossed in the sponge on the Nine Mile Road proposal Monday night, deciding instead of paving to substitute "some gravel and grading" as a temporary solution to existing road problems there.

Meanwhile, besieged by Meadowbrook Road homeowners protesting the "terrible" dust condition along that roadway, the council indicated it would substitute oiling for calcium chloride applications — provided a substantial number of homeowners would agree to the change.

The council also encouraged a suggestion of "dust-eating" homeowners that they launch a petition drive calling for special assessment to pay for the paving of the road, Meadowbrook, from Ten to Nine Mile roads.

Raymond Anchors, 23950 Meadowbrook Road, led Monday night's protests over road dust, saying "I can't even take down my storm windows" because of the choking dust. It's even impossible to walk across the grass without getting dirty, he said.

The property owner, who drew support from other residents along the road, took the position that dust-control by chloride, the city's standard practice, is a waste of money. He argued instead for oiling of the road, which, in his opinion, would last longer.

He and others brushed aside arguments that oiling damages a road bed, pointing out that the Meadowbrook roadbed is already beyond the point of repair. Oiling, he said, at least would protect citizens from the dust that is making living there unbearable.

When it was suggested that some property owners might object to oiling because it could be tracked into homes by children, those attending Monday's meeting said they would prefer this inconvenience over the dust. Neither were they concerned by the argument that oiling might cause pollution. The real pollution, said Anchors, is the dust.

Fearing that oiling preferred this week might be protested by other homeowners next week, the council asked Anchors to survey the homes along Meadowbrook to get an indication of preference. Council members said they would order the oiling if sufficient numbers of homeowners preferred it.

When Anchors suggested he would begin circulating petitions for both oiling and for special assessed paving, the council emphasized that citizens ought not be given the alternative of oiling or paving. Oiling, councilmen emphasized, is only a temporary solution and does nothing for improving the roadway.

Much of the engineering for the paving of Meadowbrook has been completed, and the initial estimated cost of improvement has been pegged at $243,889.

Former Councilman Russell Button, an engineer, warned the council that piecemeal improvement of Meadowbrook could boost costs. He pointed out that part of the Meadowbrook roadway has a muck base and this material will have to be removed and substituted with fill dirt. If the entire length of Meadowbrook were improved, he explained, dirt removed from one section could be used as fill in another thus making the purchase and/or hauling of earth unnecessary.

New Law Governs Swimming Pools

A swimming pool ordinance, regulating pools within the city, was adopted by the city council Monday night with one councilman dissenting.

Voting against the measure because he felt the fencing requirement for pools two-feet in depth is too restrictive was Councilman Donald Young, Jr.

Young contended that fencing for pools only two feet in depth would work a financial hardship on those homeowners with wading-type pools in their backyards.

Basically, the ordinance calls for four-foot high non-climbable type fencing for standard outdoor pools, portable pools up to four feet in depth, and for above ground pools.

Fencing surrounding residential homes, provided it meets the pool ordinance requirements in type and position, may suffice. However, homeowners are advised to check with city officials about specific requirements.

In addition to regulating pools, the ordinance calls for a once-only $5 permit fee on pools, of two to four feet in depth and a $20 once-only fee on larger pools.

OUR HERITAGE—Plans for Wixom's celebration of Our Heritage Day during Michigan Week are moving into high gear as Mrs. Ray Little, Mr. and Mrs. Thor Eklund, and Chairman Elwood Grubb finalize details for a bus trip to Frankenmuth for some 70 senior citizens of the community.

the vandals were unsuccessful in removing the wheel.

A two-car accident April 30 at 7:40 a.m. resulted in minor injuries to one driver.

Injured was Kirk T. Atton, 19690

Marilyn, who received arm bruises but refused medical attention.

Atton, was westbound on East Main Street, when a car driven by Mark W. Gredell, 380 Griswold Street, turned right from southbound Griswold onto Main. Police said Gredell failed to yield the right of way and struck Atton's vehicle.

John Xenos, principal of the new Southwest Oakland Vocational Center opening next year, will be the guest speaker at the Wixom Elementary PTA meeting on Tuesday, May 12.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting will give Wixom residents an opportunity to hear about this new center on Beck near Potter Road and to ask any questions they may have about it. The guest speaker will present the film entitled "The Empty Lot", a message to parents and young alike about their futures, according to Melva Alired, PTA publicity chairman.

Refreshments will be served and child care will be provided for 3 to 8 year-olds by the Girl Scouts.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Eino Pilo and Co-worker Mrs. Jensen, the fifth grade Girl Scout troop has adopted a little six-year-old boy, named Vincent. This little boy is emotionally disturbed and lives permanently at Pontiac's Children Village. These girls want to share some of their happiness with this little boy. Each month a certain amount of cash is taken out of their treasury to buy him some things he can enjoy. At Easter time they prepared a large basket for him, and bought him a coloring book, crayons, and toys. Last week they purchased a new pair of tennis shoes and a truck to present to him. Later on they want to have a party for him and invite some of the children in his age group who are living in this home to enjoy this occasion with him.

Linda Cheeseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cheeseman, was one of those students honored at the Honor's Convocation at Eastern Michigan University, Wednesday, May 6, having been on the Dean's list every semester.

Linda will receive her Bachelor of Science degree in June. She majored in occupational therapy and will work at University Hospital in Ann Arbor and Children's Hospital in Detroit this summer before taking her state examination. In her sophomore year she was instrumental in starting a girl's precision drill team at the University which participated in the National Competition at Champaign, Illinois, in March, and was defending State Champions at Central Michigan University in April. A background of several years experienced in the Walled Lake Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol helped greatly in this endeavor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes announce the arrival of their first grandchild. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes (Dianne Deyo) have named the baby Ted Evan. They are living in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Byrd celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary Sunday, May 3, by attending a smorgasbord at the Masonic Temple in Walled Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary April 20.

Q Where does our gas come from?

A Like many other states, Michigan's sources of natural gas are limited. Most of our supply therefore comes from the gas-rich area of the Gulf of Mexico, and it travels some 1500 miles, through large transmission pipelines, to reach Michigan. Upon arrival, it is either directed into the Consumers Power system for immediate use or pumped into underground storage fields for future use.

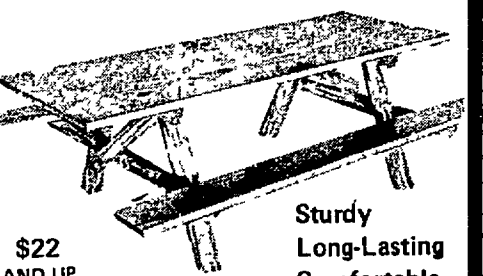

Q What is underground storage?

A Consumers Power operates six underground storage fields. These are for matings of porous rock that have been depleted of natural gas. During periods of the day when demand for gas is low, incoming gas is stored in these underground fields, where it is readily available when needed. In this way, the company is always prepared with a dependable supply of gas to meet peak demands.

Q How is the gas controlled throughout the Consumers Power distribution system?

A Along the 1100 miles of transmission pipeline in Michigan, through which Consumers Power supplies customers in 213 cities and villages, regulator stations control gas pressure. Keeping an ever-watchful eye on the entire system is the Gas Control Center in Jackson. Here technicians monitor a complex data acquisition and control system that scans 600 checkpoints throughout the area. Every two minutes, computers report on all conditions at each checkpoint, thus alerting the Control Center before problems have a chance to develop.

City Overwhelmed by Trash Clean-up Response

Like it snows in Minneapolis in the wintertime, trash appeared in all shapes, sizes and descriptions Monday in the city of Northville.

City Manager Frank

Ollendorff's reply to the question of whether or not the special trash collection day, which annually kicks-off beautification month in Northville, was a success was "overwhelming".

As a matter of fact, the city manager and DPW Director Bud Hartner were literally overwhelmed by the task of removing all the rubbish placed at curbsides over the weekend.

"It was more than double any other single special collection day we've ever had", the manager proclaimed.

Two or three times a year the city encourages residents to clean up their attics, yards, garages, etc., and place items normally too heavy for the regular collector at the curb for city DPW crews to haul away.

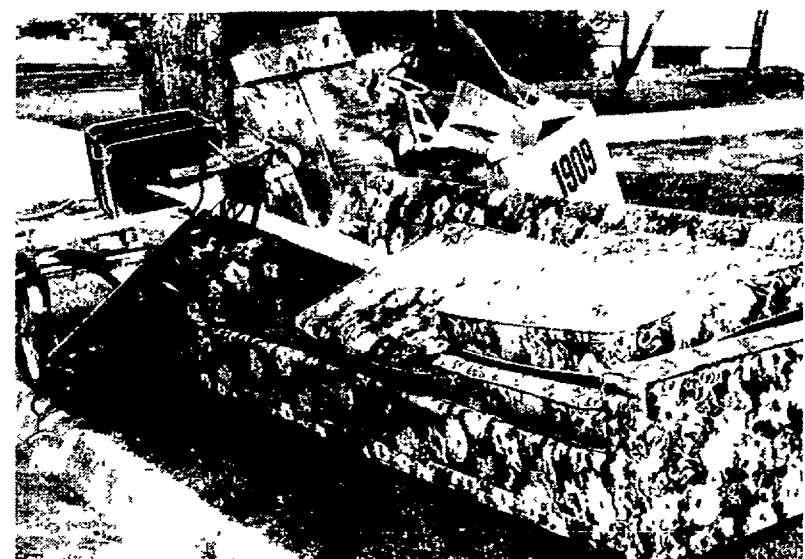

Monday city crews awoke to find an avalanche. Seven truck loads were hauled to the Salem landfill area Monday and the city manager estimated only 10 percent had been collected.

He said he hoped the balance would be picked up by Wednesday. "We'll just have to put more men and trucks on the road", Ollendorff stated. The crew was doubled Tuesday.

Residents took the city at its word when they were invited to toss out anything that "two men can lift".

A drive around the city Monday found the following at curbsides: a piano, television sets, washing machines, water heaters, stoves, chairs, sleds, couches, bikes, tires, toys, mattresses and carpets.

The "loot" looked so inviting that scavengers removed some of the more valuable discards Sunday night.

Progress is a word with as many definitions as there are people and sets of circumstances.

It is an ever-changing, illusive term.

It means different things to different people; and it means something different to the same person at different times under different circumstances.

In nearly twenty years of covering public hearings called to review petitions seeking some change in the status quo I'm convinced that guidelines do not exist that can be used more than once.

I've heard objections to mass residential development because of its impact on school taxes.

In support of this argument I've heard testimony that industrial or commercial development that would boost tax base while not increasing school enrollment would be preferable.

Conversely, there's the position that commercial and industrial development invite other problems, such as the erosion of residential property values, pollution, congestion and crime.

Depending upon circumstances, I've heard multiple dwellings, single family residential subdivisions, commercial complexes and industrial projects praised and denounced.

I've heard citizens testify that they would prefer to pay higher taxes to preserve the status quo, while others implore officials to do something to attract tax base to retard the escalation of taxes.

There is, of course, validity in both positions.

There is a third consideration. And that comes under the heading of the individual's right to develop his property as he sees fit so long as the proposed use is not detrimental to the welfare of the community.

When you're the individual, you're thankful for this protection.

On the other hand, if you are an individual who stands to suffer as the result of an act of development by your neighbor, you deserve the same protective consideration.

All these factors must be considered by planning consultants and the members of the planning commission and elected bodies when they are faced with petitions for rezoning, such as now face Northville township.

They must concern themselves with the total welfare as well as the rights of individuals — both those petitioning to develop their properties and those who reside closest to the proposed projects.

Specifically, of course, I'm referring to the regional shopping center proposals abutting the Haggerty expressway at Seven and Eight Mile roads.

Homeowners nearest the proposed centers stand vehemently opposed for understandable reasons.

Opponents argue that such a development would destroy the residential atmosphere and depress their home values.

Proponents point to the changing complexion of the area along Haggerty road due to the impending state expressway. They argue that the logical use of the land has been changed by this prospect. And they believe that means are available to provide protection for abutting residential developments to the west.

There are these hard facts that must be considered.

Whether or not we believe commercial development is desirable, it will follow people (and highways) to the area. If it is not in the Northville school district, it will be in the Livonia or Novi school districts across the street.

The argument that this tax base could be lost through annexation to Livonia or Novi is not valid for two reasons.

First the courts do not look favorable upon "land grabs" obviously designed to steal tax base where the proposed annexation lines do not make topographical sense.

Secondly, school districts cannot be annexed. Therefore, the only loss the community would suffer if the area were annexed by either Novi or Livonia would be the one mill levy collected by the township. The 32.9 mills levied for school taxes would remain in Northville.

A community cannot block legitimate development without good cause. Perhaps, in this instance, sufficient cause does exist. In the final analysis, if we as a community cannot decide this, the courts will.

A community can do its best, however, to control development...to make certain that maximum protection for all individuals is obtained, while hopefully gaining whatever dividends do accrue.

In this instance it would seem that the worst result would be to end up with the objectionable aspects and gain none of the benefits.

On the shoulders of the planners and township board members rests the responsibility of weighing all sides of the issue and making a judgement that can be defended as in the best interests of the total community.

Hopefully, all citizens will recognize that this is another example of "progress" with its multi-set of definitions.

MRS. KARL L. ZINN

Yes...

Here we are dealing with the very survival of mankind — what could be more important! By definition "environment" covers all people in all places at all times, no matter what their situation, color or country. We all depend on this Earth for life; and we have nowhere else to go should it fail to support us any longer. We MUST CARE for it; and we've done a poor job so far. Pollution of our air and water alone has reached a point where it could soon threaten all life.

The U.S. must be especially concerned because we, as the world's greatest consumers and producers, are doing the most damage to our small planet. We are responsible for most of the pollution: For example, air polluting exhaust from huge numbers of cars, poisonous industrial wastes dumped into water systems, and indiscriminant use of herbicides and pesticides. The irresponsibility towards the natural world that supports us must stop. Everyone must act: become informed on individual personal actions and above all VOTE — for those representatives that care!

By becoming more concerned and responsible towards the environment, we automatically become more respectful of other people, countries, the Earth, and life itself. This would go a long way toward solving many other more localized problems such as war, ghettos, taxation, etc.

We must make environment top priority, because if we don't, these other issues won't matter. We won't be around to care!

Wants Answers on Year-Round School

To the Editor:

The article on 'year-round school' in the April 30, 1970, issue, caused several questions to be asked and comments to come to mind.

1. If as Mr. O'Neil said there is probable, or possible, harm to a child as a consequence of the present policy regarding when a child starts school why has there been no word, let alone action, to correct this 'problem' — even now?

2. Is a child's birthday a relevant test for determining when a child's education should start? Or for any other matter?

3. How many of the 55 million kids we shove out on the streets are of legal age to work? A comment with respect to the idea of 'part-time work load' being spread over the year, this would move toward a permanent cadre of low-wage help constantly available to help depress wage rates.

4. The statement that 'year-round school would provide the maximum of education for the money expended' is a glittering generality. It might well, if well planned, result in maximum occupancy and/or use of facilities — this does not mean anyone is becoming educated. Education is a different process from filling up buildings and time.

5. The comments that business doesn't operate efficiently in the summer when all department heads and supervisors are off on vacation and that year-round school would help the increased winter work load in industry that now goes unaided raise these questions:

(a) Is the education institution designed to serve the needs of industry or is it to educate people?

(b) The absence of just ordinary workers doesn't affect the efficiency of an operation?

6. Who bears the cost and direction of recreation programs have no necessary bearing on school scheduling.

7. The 'holding school' concept brings to mind visions of an 'extra' school need with 'extra' teachers, equipment and taxes.

8. High school baby sitters for parents, both of whom work — so?

Because there are potential baby-sitters, does that mean no problems exist for the kids left home by working parents? Is this a valid argument for 'year-round' school?

9. What has 'year-round' school sessions to do with the drop-out problem? If thought relevancy, economic need had more to do with this.

10. More remedial services, counselors and directed community services would have to be provided — this means more facilities, more employees and — taxes.

11. When teacher salaries are computed on a per-pupil basis does that mean a higher salary for a large class (and consequent probable lower educational achievement) and lower salary for a small class (potentially more excellence in educational opportunity)? This sounds like the piece-rate wage system of early industrial societies.

12. Just what industrial position is in any meaningful sense comparable to a teacher?

The discussion as outlined in the Record's article certainly added no real clarity to the basic issues presented by the 'year-round' school proposal.

It is well past time that those who occupy places of responsibility begin to clarify and explain explicitly these matters that hold so much concern for us.

Opposes Centers

To the Editor:

First of all, let me be completely honest with you, and admit that my stand against a shopping center being erected in my backyard, is purely a selfish one.

It doesn't really make a difference that my swimming pool will no longer be in use. After all, I did without one for thirty-six years; and a shopping center will always be in someone's backyard, you say. It is of little consequence, then, to anyone else, that we scrimped and saved for fifteen years to move out to Northville.

Northville, a sleepy little town that NOW thinks big. A town that does not realize what it has going for it. The same Northville I hope to wake up and shake up today, as I need help.

Do you, for one minute, believe you also will not be affected by these proposed shopping centers? You will grow tired saying "no" to your children wanting to hang around these stores, the same as I. The traffic will affect your ears, the same as mine. You will not receive tax relief due to either Brooks' or Shapiro's proposed shopping centers, nor will I. These proposed centers border on cities such as Livonia and Novi, and these same cities can annex the land to make our tax base non-existent. If these centers come in, and then fold, the blighted area will hurt your eyes, and mine too.

The help of everyone is needed. You, the merchants in town. High on their lists will be a furniture store, shoe store, florist shop, gift shop, nursery, dime store, drug store, bakery, pizza parlor and yard-goods store. You are the people I deal with now, every day. Can you help me, or do you think your businesses will not be affected?

This land was zoned and platted for residential use, and, for all concerned, it should stay this way. This is prime residential land, so let them look elsewhere. Help me, and if, by chance, the decision should be made to move these proposed shopping centers into your backyard, call on me.

One last remark. Horrors! Can you imagine that they might even be planning on bringing in their own newspaper?

Your neighbor,
C. Zabell
1925 Meadowbrook

"I don't know where it is; I never saw it."

If there's a parent around who has never heard that grating statement I'd like to shake his hand. Better yet, I'd like to inspect his offspring to see what makes it tick. He's obviously raising a robot.

Hammer, saw, even my scaley plane disappear with regularity and, inevitably, whenever my search ends in futility and my raging shouts rout the little people there is none who will admit theft or complicity.

"I don't know where it is; I never saw it."

Oh, it's enough to make a grown man cry.

"What do you mean, 'you don't know'? That hammer didn't walk off by itself. One of you kids used it. Now, which one was it?"

"Not me." "Not me." "Nor me." And on and on, as innocent as the Dirty Half Dozen. I'd buy a polygraph machine if I was sure it wouldn't go the way of the hammer.

I zeroed in on my youngest son. He's the one that used my plane awhile back to scale a carp he pulled out of a nearby stream. And if you've ever tried planing a $15 piece of oak with a plane plugged with scales you know the pain of whittling dollar bills with a dull knife. Anyway, the little shaver backed away, looking for a way to escape. "Alright," I said, "What do you suppose happened to the hammer?"

"I don't know?"

"Try guessing," I suggested.

"Well, maybe the dog took it."

That poor animal has been accused of everything from taking apples from the refrigerator to breaking ceiling light fixtures.

"Maybe, she was building a dog house," I said. "Guess again: where do you suppose the dog put it? If you were the dog and you wanted the hammer where would you put it?"

"In the backyard?"

"Where in the backyard?"

"Out by our tent?"

Later, when questioned by my wife, I told her I found the hammer, a little rusty, in the backyard.

"Did the kids have it?" she asked.

"No," I said, "the dog was using it. Pounding tent pegs with it, I guess."

"See, what did I tell you. You're always blaming the kids for nothing."

Ben Duguid Gets College Post

Ben Duguid of Northville is the newly-appointed director of development at Marygrove College, Dr. Arthur W. Brown, president, announced this week.

Duguid will coordinate and develop financial support for both operational and capital aspects of college financing.

He was public relations manager of Northland Center before coming to Marygrove. Prior to that he was assistant to the president of Sienna Heights College, Adrian. He was public relations manager for Allstate Insurance Company from 1954 to 1963 when he was appointed public affairs manager for Michigan.

He is a past president of the Michigan Safety Conference, the Michigan Rural Safety Council and the Southfield Rotary Club. He served on the board of directors and was secretary of the Greater Detroit Safety Council.

Duguid has a bachelor of business administration degree from Albion College.

He is married and the father of three daughters, Kathryn, 18, a freshman at Central Michigan University, Karen, 16, a sophomore at Northville High School, Marilyn, 13, at Our Lady of Victory School and David, 10, at Moraine Elementary School.

The Duguid home is at 46270 Bloomcrest.

Novi Police Blotter

As police clamp down on the growing dumping violations in the community, tickets were issued in two more cases this past week. Three 18-year-old Livonia youths, John McArthur, Lee Snider and Mark Ramsey, were ticketed to appear in court on charges of dumping scrap wood along Haggerty Road near Eight Mile Road. Also, an old water heater dumped in the vicinity of 48600 11 Mile Road led to the ticketing of John Perkins, 45750 11 Mile Road, who police traced through a tag on the tank.

An estimated $1,000 worth of assorted tools, ranging from wrenches to a hydraulic jack, were reported stolen over the weekend from the Copland Asphalt Company property located in the rear of the business at 4640 Grand River.

With the arrest last weekend of two suspects in Farmington Township, who are believed to have been stripping cars, the Novi police dog, Banner, has been credited with tracking down more than 40 felons. The dog, owned by Officer Dale Gross, also has assisted local and area police departments in scores of other non-felonious cases. Gross and fellow officers are convinced the animal is "a better tracker" than the original police dog, Rusty, killed two years ago.

Attempted theft of a $400 water pump from the home of Ann Bodenmiller, 1201 South Lake Drive, occurred early Saturday morning. The thieves, according to police, were frightened away.

A 12-foot aluminum boat valued at $200, was reported stolen from 1321 West Lake Drive Friday morning. The theft was reported by Sylvester Kopke.

Robert Flattery, 24367 LeBost, who suffered a heart attack while mowing his lawn Thursday afternoon, was given oxygen by Novi police and rushed to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he was reported improving.

Police credit a new oxygen apparatus, now carried in patrol cars, with saving the life of Flattery as well as several other persons aided since the oxygen equipment was placed in the patrol cars.

Unlike standard oxygen equipment, the new apparatus consists simply of a softball size canister with an attached mouth mask. It is light and requires no gauging.

John Radcliffe of Milford, arrested early Thursday morning for being a minor in possession, pleaded guilty Friday and was fined $35 in district court.

Household items valued at $300 were reported stolen from a vacant house at 1331 East Lake Drive by Charles Proper. Proper, the owner, reported the theft last week Wednesday.

Tire and rim, valued at $75, was stolen last week from the James Cramer home, 45055 Galway Drive. Glenn Catering, 24901 Novi Road, also reported the theft of $100 worth of hubcaps from a car parked in the company's lot.

Other thefts last week included a rabbit, stolen from the John Richter residence, 26444 Taft Road, and some $200 worth of equipment from the Haverhill Riding Stable, 40965 14 Mile Road.

A 35-year-old Novi man was arraigned on a charge of arson Friday before Judge Robert Shipper and then jailed in the Oakland County Jail when he failed to post a $1,000 cash bond.

Jailed was John M. Powers, 1920 Novi Road, charged with setting fire to the Farrell and Clinton Hackney home, 111 Duana Street, on April 10 while the Hackneys were away on vacation.

According to Detective Richard Faulkner, "we have every reason to believe that Powers set the fire to cover up his B&E of the home."

Official Proceedings of Northville Township Board

Northville Township Board Minutes of April 14, 1970
107 South Wing
Meeting called to order at 8:05 p.m. by Supervisor Stromberg.
Present: Full board, Consultants Ashton and Mosher, the Press, and nine visitors.
Minutes of March 10, 1970. Smith moved that these minutes be approved, seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.
Minutes of March 24, 1970. Settlement Day. Baldwin asked that the minutes of Settlement Day be changed so that the insurance resolution has these words added: "without the GXO provision." In connection with the police car bids Mr. Baldwin wished to be quoted as saying, "The board was accepting the second highest bid according to specifications that were written for one vehicle only" and he felt this was an improper bidding procedure.
Smith moved that the minutes be approved with these changes, seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.
Treasurer's Report for March. Straub questioned the amount of $42,000 that was shown in the water and sewer department report as a liability owing to the township general fund. Mosher explained that this sum is related to the fact that over the years the township has paid from the general fund certain assessments that were levied by the drain commissioners plus certain contractals. To his knowledge, there has never been a determination made that those payments - before there was a water and sewer fund - have ever been officially established as something to be paid back to the general fund out of receipts that might have come from water and sewer system operation and charges for connections and in his thinking this will bear investigation before the assumption is made. If it were proper, the general fund should be compensated when the water and sewer system derives enough income. It should be a carefully analyzed study. Straub moved that when the auditors are here this April they be asked to determine the source and disposition of this $42,000, seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.

Mitchell moved to accept the treasurer's report, seconded by Hammond. Ayes: All.
Financial Report. Bills Payable. Monthly Receipts. Baldwin asked the supervisor to determine the location of the reserves' practice shooting range and the number of shells used by them in a session. Smith moved to accept the above reports and that the current bills be paid, seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: Hammond, Lawrence, Mitchell, Straub, Smith, Stromberg, Nay Baldwin, until he could see the invoice in question. Motion carried.
Minutes of planning commission for March 31, appeal board for March 23 and April 6, and water and sewer minutes for March 4, 1970 were accepted and filed on motion by Straub, supported by Baldwin. Ayes: All.
CORRESPONDENCE
1. Wayne County Drain Commission, March 31, 1970. Ashton stated that he had investigated, received supporting data on how the percentage of interest was determined, and was satisfied that the agreement with the county should be executed and returned. Baldwin moved that the supervisor and clerk be authorized to sign this agreement which would entitle the township to receive a refund. This is the township share of the final allocation of surplus funds as of December 31, 1969, on the Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor Drain. Supported by Smith. Ayes: All.

2. Jaycees, March 31, 1970. The Jaycees are planning the annual July Fourth parade and area-wide celebration and need an additional source of funds. They asked the township for a donation of $250 which would match the city's donation. Ashton felt that there was recent permissive legislation which would enable the township to spend the money in this way. Baldwin moved to table the request pending additional dollar information, supported by Smith. Ayes: All.
3. Carl Pursell, April 3, 1970. Anti-pollution Meeting. The supervisor and clerk attended this meeting at the City-County Building. Baldwin moved to accept and file this letter, supported by Mitchell. Ayes: All.
4. Resolution. Van Buren Township. March 27, 1970. Lawrence moved to accept and file this resolution concerning non-resident income tax in Detroit, supported by Mitchell. Ayes: All.
5. Deputy Secretary of State, March 26, 1970. Straub moved to accept and file this letter of thanks, supported by Mitchell. Ayes: All.
6. Ambulance Service, March 26, 1970. The clerk read a letter from the General Ambulance Service in which they agree to the five terms stated in our letter to them. Baldwin moved to accept and file the letter, seconded by Smith. Ayes: All.
7. State Department of Treasury, March 13, 1970, regarding excess of roll. Mitchell moved to accept and file, supported by Baldwin. Ayes: All.
8. G. Kuhn, March 27, 1970. Odd-year Elections. Mitchell moved to accept and file this letter of acknowledgement, supported by Baldwin. Ayes: All.
OLD BUSINESS
1. Non-conforming Trailers report. Due to illness, the building official was unable to be present, however, he had sent photographs and a few notes taken of a survey of existing non-conforming trailers in the township. Smith moved to table consideration of the proposed ordinance change until the next regular meeting when the survey should be completed. Seconded by Mitchell. Ayes: All.

2. Building Fees. (Tabled from March 10, 1970) There were many questions, especially regarding the meaning and application of the "zoning fee". Hammond moved that since the building official was not present, the matter be tabled until the next meeting when he could be present to explain his request, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.
3. Solicitation Ordinance. Stromberg showed several such ordinances from neighboring communities. Mitchell moved that the matter be tabled and that copies of these ordinances be reproduced and sent to board members, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.
4. Drains-at-large Bill. Mosher is to meet with Patterson of the drain commission next week and will also get a clear definition and map of exactly where all township drains-at-large lie.
NEW BUSINESS
1. (a) Police Ordinance. Ashton stated that the supervisor had sent him a proposed township police ordinance asking him to review it and put it into proper form. He mentioned that the present township police department exists on the basis of a resolution passed in October, 1967. The ordinance under study would firm up the existence of the police department and would provide not only for enforcement of local ordinances but state statutes as well. (In 1969 the board adopted the Uniform Traffic Code as an ordinance of the township). The police ordinance also goes beyond the original resolution in that it assigns the hiring of personnel to the police chief, who in turn is appointed by the supervisor. The State statutes include such things as larcenies, breaking and entering, concealing weapons, and other criminal activities.
Hammond moved to take Item 1(b) out of order so that the police reserve report could be read at this time, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All. Hammond read the report on the history and training of township police reserves written by the police chief. There was a lengthy discussion and then Mitchell moved to adopt a police ordinance with the provisions, 1, that language be incorporated that would make the township board responsible for hiring the police chief, and 2, that the ordinance should not take effect until ninety days so that a committee could be appointed - by the supervisor - and have time to set up a minimum standard of requirements for hiring police personnel. Motion supported by Lawrence. More discussion followed. Ashton stated that whether or not this ordinance were passed, the present reserves should be approved by the board and sworn in after such acceptance. He felt it would be necessary to re-administer the oath if the police ordinance were approved. Motion was called for and passed: Ayes: Mitchell, Lawrence, Hammond, Smith. Nays: Straub, Stromberg, Baldwin.

Mitchell moved that the five acting reserves be approved by the board and sworn in under the present resolution, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: Mitchell, Lawrence, Hammond, Smith, Straub. Nays: Baldwin, Stromberg. Motion carried.
Stromberg stated that he would appoint a requirements committee and notify the members before the next meeting.
2. Annual Meetings. Straub moved to table this item until the next meeting, seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All.
3. Wayne County Library. Hammond reported that the Wayne County Library System had notified us that because of our higher tax evaluation in the township this year, our share of the library bill will be higher by about a thousand dollars.
4. Widening of Northville Road. Stromberg stated that he had talked to Mr. LaGosh in regard to the schedule for widening Northville Road. Money is being sought to accomplish this.
5. Public Hearings. Public hearings have been set by the planning commission for April 28 and April 30. The first is due to a request by Levitt & Sons for additional multiples and the second is for rezoning on two plots to B-3. Hearings to be held at 303 West Main.

6. Report on St. Clair Shores. Mosher reported that he saw no reason for our township to become involved in this matter at the present time. Baldwin moved to accept and file the letter about water rates, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All.
7. The clerk announced that on August 4 there would be a Primary election and on November 3 a General election. Petitions for the Primary must be filed in the clerk's office by June 16 and must have twenty-three signatures minimum this year, but not more than forty. The supervisor, clerk, treasurer and Trustees Smith and Straub are all up for election.
8. Recommendation from Water & Sewer Commission, March 4, 1970. Mitchell moved that the recommendation of the water and sewer commission on March 4 regarding fee schedule for water meters be approved, seconded by Lawrence. Ayes: All. (This would amend Resolution 67-13 and 68-60).
APPOINTMENTS
1. Stromberg said he would appoint a committee to study the needs for fire protection, a department of public works building and a township hall and send letters to the appointees before the next meeting.
OTHER BUSINESS
Stromberg announced that he was setting up a joint meeting of the City Council of Northville and our township board and would send meeting notices very soon.
Meeting adjourned at 11:10 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor W. Hammond, Clerk

BUILDING CODE AMENDMENT - FIREPROOF CONSTRUCTION

City Mgr. reported that Mr. Moelke of Livonia had proposed this amendment in the Abridged Bldg. Code by adding to Sec.

107.12 - Multiple Construction - with addition of "every 4" in "a". Mr. Salow discussed above. City Mgr. recommended Council's approval of this.

After considerable discussion, it was moved by Folino, support by Lapham, to place matter of Bldg. Code Amendment concerning Fireproof Construction on the agenda for the Special Meeting on Monday, April 27, 1970.

(City Mgr. is to check with neighboring communities, particularly Detroit, Southfield and Troy).

Mr. Salow introduced the matter of accessory buildings and that BOCA code requires a rat wall. This matter to be on the May 4th agenda. (Check with other communities).

SIDEWALK PROGRAM DISCUSSION:

At the advice of the City Attorney, property owners whose sidewalks were to have been installed under the 1970 Sidewalk program and have been deleted from this program could be notified of same.

MISCELLANEOUS:

City Mgr. reported that after examining minutes of the Zoning Board of Appeals and the number of their meetings, it appears that 75% attendance within a year might be a good standard, or missing 2 consecutive meetings without excused absence.

City Attorney explained the request for division of Lot 372, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 5 (belonging to Harold Bloom) as per the Resolution which was read to Council, (creates 3 parcels of land - westerly parcel lot added to northern boundary, 3rd parcel created on easterly side).

Moved by Rathert, support by Folino, to adopt Resolution creating 3 lots from Lot 372 of Assessor's Northville Plat No. 5, subject to drainage and sidewalk requirements.

U.C.

Mr. Ed Welch of 222 S. Wing asked regarding the greenbelt matter for P. O. and attorney reviewed the evening's discussion for Mr. Welch.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:25 p.m. to go into a Work Session.

Martha M. Milne
City Clerk

Sidewalks OK'd

The council also pointed out the assessments, that will range from an estimated low of $136 to a high of $605, will actually be financed over six years because the first payment is not due until July, 1971.

In another objection to the sidewalk installation George Kohs and James Huff maintained that the school fence along Cady street is on public property. The city manager reported that a survey had been made by the city engineer at Kohs' request. He said the survey showed the fence is on school property. Kohs then questioned whether or not the engineer was a qualified surveyor. Although the survey was signed by the city manager, it was reported Tuesday that the survey had been made by a registered surveyor.

Kohs also asked the council to recite the state law that exempts school districts from special assessments. He objected to the fact that the walk is not being installed behind school property because the school board declined the assessment.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie read the provision from a state law manual.

Huff suggested that for safety the entrance to the walk from school property be changed. He also asked that the walk not be extended the entire length to Rogers, but stop at a line even with First street so that trees might be preserved.

The council said it was interested in saving trees and would wind the walks around the trees.

Novi Nine Downs Dundee, Saline

Coach's Father Dies

Fred Gerhardt, Sr., father of Novi's varsity baseball coach, Fred Gerhardt, Jr. and husband of Novi High School's librarian, died of a heart attack Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The senior Gerhardt, on leave of absence from Kearney State College where he has been coaching for the past several years, was scheduled to undergo heart surgery soon.

Former baseball coach at South Lyon High School, he had watched his son debut as a varsity coach with the opening of the Wildcats' baseball season this spring. He was living in South Lyon at the time of his death.

Mr. Gerhardt was coaching at South Lyon when Novi's principal, Gerald Hartman, was principal in South Lyon and when Novi teachers Robert Weinburger, Milan Obrenovich, and his son were student athletes there.

Novi's varsity nine sandwiched two triumphs around a defeat at the hands of league-leading Lincoln this past week in Southeastern Conference action.

JV Coach Bob Weinburger, who took the reins of the club for Monday's victory over Saline following the death of Coach Fred Gerhardt's father, was scheduled to pit the Wildcats against arch-rival South Lyon Tuesday afternoon.

The Wildcats found Lincoln just too powerful at the plate Thursday, dropping a 9-3 contest here following an 8-5 triumph over Dundee on the opponent's diamond. The local nine bounced back after its loss to Lincoln, however, to down Saline her, 6-3.

Bob Pisha, who hurled four innings of ball before being replaced by Phil McMillan, was credited with the win over Dundee. They were nicked for six hits.

Novi collected six hits, scoring at least one run in every inning but the sixth. Dan Flattery, second baseman, led Novi's hitting attack with two hits in four trips. Dave Bumann picked up a double for the winners.

Lincoln wasted no time in wrapping up its triumph over the Wildcats, pushing five runs across in the top of the first. The visitors added two more in the second and a pair of runs in the fifth, while Novi scored once in the second, third and fifth innings.

Pitcher Joe LaFleche, who went the distance for the Wildcats, was nicked with the loss.

While Lincoln was pounding out 10 hits, Novi was settling for five.

Steve Bosak was on the mound Monday as the Wildcats tripped Saline. He gave up seven hits, while Novi collected nine.

Tom VanWagner was the big punch at the plate for Novi, collecting three hits in three trips — including a one-run triple. Jay Hansor, who was two for three, doubled, and McMillan, cracked two hits in four turns at bat.

Novi spotted Saline a one run in the second inning, then expolded for four runs in the third. The local nine added two insurance runs in the fourth.

Saline scored once in the second, third, and sixth innings.

The Novi junior varsity nine, coached by Rick Trudeau while Weinburger fills in at the varsity coaching slot, lost a squeaker to Saline, 5-4.

Novi Thinclads Edge Brighton But Lose Out to Milan, 81-38

Novi varsity thinclads split two meets last week, edging Brighton 60-58 in a heated battle that wasn't decided until the last two events and then losing to Milan here Thursday 81-38.

In the only other competition of the week, Novi ninth and 10th graders swamped South Lyon junior varsity 100-17.

Hosting Brighton in the school's first night meet in history, the Wildcats battled the Bulldogs to a tie going into the final two events—the 220 yard dash and the mile relay.

"We had little hope of taking the relay," explained Coach Fred Hanert, "so our only hope was to take the first two places in the 220 dash if we were to win. Rick Dale and John Davey came through with just what we needed."

One of the highlights of the meet was Dan McGarry's first place in the mile run. His time of 4:50.9 set a new school record.

The Wildcats were just no match for the Milan club, however, as the visitors claimed first places in all but three events. Mark Earl took another first in the two-mile. John Davey came up with the winning put, and Sophomore Larry Eggleston took first in the 880 yard run.

In Saturday's junior varsity meet, Novi took first in every event but the 440.

Winners in that JV meet were: Gary Collins, shot 33' 10 1/2"; Jim VanWagner, long jump 17' 4"; Collins, high jump 5' 4"; Mike Morrison, pole vault 9' even; Tom Karch, Collins, Stan Jackson, and Dave St. John, 880 relay 1:45.1; Eggleston, 880 yard run 2:10.7; Pat Boyer, high hurdles 18.7; Kirk Rosey, mile run 4:58; St. John, 100 yard dash 11.5; Jim Willenius, low hurdles 23.9; Mike Holroyde, 2-mile run 12:18.5; St. John, 220-yard dash 25.4; and Rosey, Steve Lukkari, Wilenius, and Eggleston, mile relay 4:06.1.

It's Pierson, 84-25

Two Records Fall But So Does NJH

Northville's junior high track team took the short end of an 84-25 score with Pierson last week Wednesday but the local thinclads nevertheless notched two new school records.

Altogether, Coach Pete Johnson's young athletes came up with two firsts, four seconds, and four third places.

Blair Robinson set a new school record in the 60-yard low hurdles with a mark of 9.1, good enough for one of the two firsts. The other first was notched by the Northville 880 yard relay team, including Joe Bishop, Dan Fleck, Guy Cole and Bill Pettit. Their winning time was 1:57.6.

The other school record was posted by Steve French in the 330 yard dash. His time of 46.5 was second to Pierson's 45.8.

Other local second place finishers were Howard Bates, 35' 6" in the shot put (winning put was 38"); Larry Pink, 7.6 in the 60 yard dash (Winning time, 13.2).

Third places finishers were Frank

Knott in pole vault with a jump of 7 feet (winner, 9' 6"); Jim Porterfield in the 440 yard run with a time of 73 seconds (winning time, 61.8); Dave Muccino in the 220 yard dash with a time of 29.8 (winning time, 26.3); and Bishop in the long jump at 14' 7 3/4" (winning jump, 15' 6 1/2");

Pierson swept the high jump, 100 yard dash and the 440 yard relay.

Upcoming junior high meets include Hilbert here on May 14, Farmington east there on May 22, and a triangular here on May 27 with Plymouth East and Pioneer.

Banquet Features Lofton Greene

King of Coaching to Speak Here

Lofton Greene, the winningest high school basketball coach in Michigan history, will be the guest speaker next Wednesday when the Northville Boosters present their annual All-Sports Banquet at Northville High School.

The River Rouge coach will join Northville's colorful Andy Bertoni, who once again will highlight the event as toastmaster, in paying tribute to 102 varsity sportsmen and cheerleaders at the dinner program.

Attending with Greene will be his assistant, Jim Duffy. Topping the honors will be the awarding of the coveted Athlete of the Year trophy to one of Northville's student athletes. Selection is made by all varsity coaches.

Fred Hicks, last year's top athlete, will be on hand to help make the presentation along with Greene and Booster Club President B. R. Bach.

Parents, friends of the athletes and sports enthusiasts are invited to attend. Dinner reservations ($3.75 per person) must be made by tomorrow (Friday) by calling Bach (349-2306), Art Adams (349-2519) or Bob Cole (349-1373).

Those wishing to attend the program but not the dinner may do so by making a 50-cent donation at the door. The program will get underway at 8 p.m.

The dinner in the cafeteria will be under the direction of Mrs. Marie Knapp, while decorations will be furnished by the High School Pep Club.

Northville varsity coaches are: Robert Simpson, tennis; Ralph Redmond, track; Al Jones, golf; Chuck Shonta, baseball; Ben Lauber, swimming and cross country; Jack Townsley, wrestling; Bob Kucher, basketball; and Al Klukach, football.

In addition to honoring the athletes, the Boosters Club will announce its board of directors for the 1970-71 year.

Under the coaching eye of Lofton Greene, the River Rouge Panthers wrapped up their 10th Class B basketball championship last March — a 76-66 triumph over Saginaw Carrollton at East Lansing.

In his 24 years at Rouge, Green, who was a 1941 All-American court star at Western Kentucky, has produced more champions and near champions than any other coach in Michigan. Beside his 10 championships, his teams have finished in the runner-up spot in the state finals four times.

Why has Rouge been so successful in basketball?

DeWayne Smith, an assistant coach and member of Greene's first state championship team, credits his coach. "He has made River Rouge into one of the most basketball-conscious communities in the country because of his great love of the game, his skill as a coach, and his quiet enthusiasm."

Rouge develops most of its talent by encouraging boys to play on organized teams throughout the school system, from the fifth grade on into high school. All coaches train their boys in Greene's style.

WINNINGEST COACH LOFTON GREENE

CLEAN-UP—Northville's annual cleanup campaign got off to a big start Saturday morning as the Tumble Weeds camping and hiking club staged their regular cleanup of the railroad bank and boulevard on South Main Street, from Seven Mile Road to the community well.

But Drops Two Others

Northville Swamps Plymouth

Despite the record-breaking performance of John Stuyvenberg and several other exceptional individual performances, Northville thinslads lost out to both Milford and Waterford Mott in separate meets last week.

In losing to Milford on the Redskins home grounds, 68-50, last week Tuesday, the Mustangs' long-jumping Stuyvenberg got off his best jump of his career — a 22'6" effort. The Northville track ace also took first in the 100 yard dash, beating out Dave Smith, last year's league champion, in 10.3 to 10.5.

Also, Northville's Dave Wright turned in his finest time of the season for the 880 yard run, taking first place with a time of 2:04.6.

With Coach Ralph Redmond experimenting, in an attempt to give his youngsters experience, the Mustangs lost at Waterford, 63-55.

In that meet, Jim Darnell got off his best long jump, a 19' 7½" leap — good enough for second place behind Stuyvenberg. Dave Mitchell and Dave Veresh also turned in their best low hurdle times, 20.8 and 20.9, respectively, to take second and third places.

"They were just great," beamed Coach Ralph Redmond Tuesday evening after the Mustangs swamped arch-rival Plymouth 77-41, taking 12 out of the 14 first-place finishes.

Local Golfers To Host Milford

Northville's golfers will be out to avenge a 159-172 loss to Milford tomorrow when the Redskins invade Braeburn's back nine.

The Mustangs came up on the long end of a match last week Wednesday at Milford's Duck Lake course, followed by a 181-191 triumph over Livonia Franklin on their wind-swept home course.

Three Milford players came in with 38's and a fourth player carded a 48 as the hosts won easily. Jim Penrod and Ken Neisch were low for Northville with a pair of 42's, followed by Frosh John Hohenic at 43 and Andy Walter at 45.

None of the scores were spectacular in the Franklin match, as the 50 MPH wind raised havoc with tee shots. Neisch was low with 41, followed by Mark Dixon at 44, and Penrod and Mike Fagan both at 48. Franklin had two 44's, a 51, and a 52.

Northville turned in what may have been its poorest invitational showing in history Monday afternoon, finishing far down in the pack at the Dearborn Country Club.

The Mustangs beat out only five of the 27 teams entered in the Dearborn Invitational, which Stevenson won. Plymouth and Brighton finished second and third in that order.

Jim Penrod was low for Northville with an 86. Mike Fagan fired an 89, Ken Niesch a 90, and Mark Dixon ballooned to a fat 102.

Mustang Nine on Top In W-O League Race

Northville clipped two more league opponents last week in taking lone possession of first place in the Wayne-Oakland League, then split a double-header here Saturday against Class A Oak Park.

Those three victories gave the Mustangs an 8-4 overall record for the season and a 6-1 mark in the W-O conference — one full game ahead of second-place Milford.

The Mustangs collected 11 hits in powering past Clarkston 9-4; edged Clarenceville 3-1; and then split with Oak Park, winning the first game 2-0 and dropping the second 8-5.

Bernie Bach fired a four-hitter, walked three, and struck out one before the other half of Northville's mound punch, Fred Holdsworth, took over in helping Bach to the victory over Clarkston.

Following a four-run Northville barrage in the top of the fifth, the Wolves bounced back with three runs of their own but by then it was all over. Bach added an insurance run in the sixth — a four-bagger with none on.

Terry Mills led Northville's hitting attack with three hits in five trips, while Holdsworth and David Coe supplied two hits apiece.

Holdsworth fanned 14 batters while spreading out six hits in claiming the victory over Clarenceville. He had at least two strikeouts per inning except in third when he managed only one.

Northville scored one in the second, two in the fifth on a game total of seven hits, including a pair of singles by Tom Singer and Steve Utley. The Trojans picked up its lone tally in the seventh inning on two walks and a single.

Bach was back on the mound in the opener against Oak Park, giving up just two hits in going the distance in the 2-0 shutout victory.

Northville, which collected seven hits (at least one in every inning), scored its two runs in the second inning on two singles, a walk, an error and a sacrifice fly. Mills led the attack at the plate with two singles.

Bruce Griggs started the second game and was replaced by Scott Evans in the seventh in a game marred by five fielding errors.

Oak Park, which is leading its league with a 6-1 mark, came up with a run in the third, three in the fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth. Northville scored a lone run in the third and then came back with two in the fifth when Rick LaRue ripped a three-run homer over the right field fence.

A NEW DART FOR NEARLY $400 LESS.
THAT'S WHAT I CALL A WINDFALL!

To be exact, Sheriff, it's $378.15 off the sticker price on this Dodge Dart. Here's how the Dodge Boys did it. First, the sticker price has been reduced on all Dart models. (On our Dart Swinger hardtop, this price reduction amounts to $187.)

Then the Dodge Boys came up with a specially equipped Swinger that includes the automatic transmission at no extra cost. It's called the Dart Swinger Automatic. And it also includes a vinyl roof, whitewalls, carpeting, and more. Add the savings of the automatic transmission ($191 on V8, $175 on Six), and you come up with a total price reduction of $362 to $378. Makes this 6-passenger Dart America's biggest compact value by far.

Teacher Surplus

and Artists are the following:
—Improvement of teacher salaries, primarily since 1965 when it became legal for teachers to bargain collectively, has attracted many more students to the teaching profession.

—Local defeat of millage issues has forced school districts to cut back on the number of teachers.

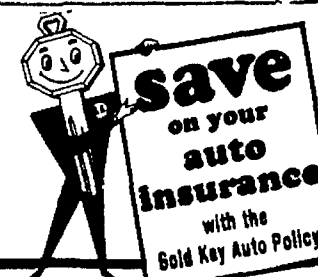

—More young people are going to college than ever before with many of them going into teaching, so that education schools are bulging.

—Nationally, the number of elementary school children is tapering off and the number of high school students has stabilized, due largely to students growing up of the post-WWII babies.

—Some men have drifted into teaching because of the possibility of draft deferment.

—More wives and mothers are going back to teaching now than five or ten years ago because of the increased cost of living.

"The condition won't improve radically in the next few years," Artis predicted. "It'll be as bad or worse than last year. It'll be several years before supply and demand get back in balance."

Citizens Oppose Shopping Center Plans

Livonia, while Farmington township lies directly to the northeast.

"Shopping centers will be located someplace in our area", Littell stated, "why let it be just outside our border?"

The attorney noted that the complex would yield some $280,000 in school taxes annually on real property values alone... "not counting personal property". He emphasized that the center would not add "one more student" to the school system.

"We would make a grave mistake not to take advantage of this self-help opportunity, particularly where we're given protection for neighboring homes".

In his one-hour presentation Littell was assisted by consultants in the planning and architectural fields. The proposed center, which would be named "Meadowbrook Mall", was pictured as containing a major department store at each end in an enclosed complex with a supermarket and other stores between.

Attorney John Nellis handled the presentation for Leonard Brooks, who owns 65 acres just south of the Shapero parcel on the Northwest corner of Seven Mile and Haggerty.

The presentation was highlighted by aerial views of the site as well as drawings of the proposed mall.

The proposed Brooks' mall would be larger than the Shapero facility, although both would be major centers. It was emphasized in the Brooks' appeal that 600,000 square feet are required for the area. Between 600,000 and 700,000 square feet of retail area plus a parking area for some 4,000 cars facing Haggerty road is proposed in the Brooks' plan.

Plans for green belting to screen the center from the abutting subdivision were shown. Like the Shapero mall, the latter proposed center would be enclosed and contain at least two major department stores. Neither developer named specific tenants for the centers, however.

Richard Zabell, speaking as president of the Meadowbrook subdivision, opposed both projects. He noted that the huge centers would make the area vulnerable for annexation, which would remove the tax base. (Annexation by a neighboring community would not change the school district status, but would cost Northville township its one mill tax levy).

In addition Zabell noted that subdivision property values would be depressed by the centers and that residential development of the site would be preferable.

Several citizens objected to the consideration of two centers side-by-side. Planners explained that both petitions were properly made and had to be considered.

In other objections made by citizens in the audience it was stated that:

— shopping centers attract trouble such as shoplifters, car thieves, drug pushing, heavy traffic and cause destruction of trees;

— an abundance of centers in Livonia hadn't eased that city's tax burden;

— commercial centers depart from the master plan for the community which calls for residential in the area;

— thousands of cars will pollute the area;

— "we moved out here to get away from centers and congestions...commercialism is not progress".

Township planners have scheduled a study session for May 11 to consider the Levitt and shopping center rezoning requests. Their decision will be made May 26 and forwarded as a recommendation to the township board which will take official action on the proposals at its June 9 meeting.

BUFFALO STILL ROAM IN 550 ACRE PRESERVE ON NORTH TERRITORIAL ROAD

You Bet! Out on Louie's Preserve

Buffalo, Wild Boar in Our Backyard?

Remember the giant gate in the King Kong movie and the awful feeling that something was lurking around out front in that other world?

If so you've got an idea of what it's like when Louis Ruggierello swings shut the gate of his big game preserve and you're locked inside.

King Kong's not out there nor are any hairy elephants, but that high, reinforced fence surrounding this 550-acre cage is just window dressing. You're walking in the playground of more than 300 wild animals, some of which could send you scrambling for the nearest tree.

Louie thinks his preserve is the greatest thing this side of Africa. He could be right. Certainly, it's the only public big game preserve in Michigan and one of the finest hunters' paradises in the Midwest.

It's located on North Territorial Road, west of Dexter Road, less than a quarter's worth of gas north of Ann Arbor.

Opened just two years ago, Louie's Game Shooting Preserve is stocked with four kinds of deer — including the illusive European red stag — Aoudad, big horn, and Mouflon sheep, Corsican rams, wild goats, elk, and buffalo.

And for the hunter who likes to live dangerously, there's Russian and razorback boars with flesh-ripping tusks.

Louie combined a businessman's acumen with a penchant for the outdoors in launching this unusual "jungle" in Detroit's backyard. He owns and operates two large mobile homes parks — one in Farmington and another in Saline — and has hunted big game for most of his life throughout the United States and Canada.

"I've always liked hunting...the outdoors, so what better business could you have," he explains.

But it isn't an easy job nor an inexpensive business. It began with the purchase of a large chunk of wooded land, followed by years of land development that included excavation of whole valleys, digging of artificial lakes, and planting of thousands of additional trees.

It required stretching a 1½ foot high fence around the property and reinforcing it with a five-foot cyclone fence. And, of course, it meant the purchase of animals — wild animals that could survive the Michigan climate, live together on the same land, and offer the paying hunter prize trophies.

Louie is proudest of three preserve features:

It has been made so that the hunt is as natural as possible, with a combination of hardwoods, rolling hills, grassy knolls, swamp and open fields; it features healthy, imported game; and its one of the safest ways to hunt around.

"No one can hunt here if he's been drinking," says the owner. "And before the hunter goes out, he must zero in his rifle to make sure it's on target. Then when he enters the preserve he's accompanied by two experienced guides."

"We've had over 225 hunts since opening and we haven't had a dissatisfied customer yet."

Each hunter (rifle or bow) is assured a wild trophy boar or other big game. If the guides are unsuccessful in leading him to a trophy animal and the kill there is no charge. He pays for only what he kills.

Trophy kills range anywhere in cost from $100 for a wild goat to $800 for a buffalo.

That's a lot of smackers, Louie admits, but if you take into consideration that it includes a guaranteed trophy and lots of fun, including a crack at well-stocked bass and rainbow trout lakes on the property, it's a pretty good buy.

A trip South in search of a razor back can run into the hundreds of dollars and then you'll be lucky to bag a boar half as large as those roaming the Dexter preserve, the owner points out.

And if you think hunting on the preserve is easy, consider the fact that one of the TV outdoors hosts recently tramped the woods for more than eight hours before bagging a trophy deer.

The preserve has proved especially popular for hunters who bring their young sons or wives out to introduce them to hunting. "It's a perfect place to give a boy a chance to bag a prime buck," he says.

For the non-hunter, Louie provides free tours of the preserve (outside along the fences) for youth groups.

Michigan Mirror

1969: Our Worst Traffic Year

LANSING — STATISTICS DEALING with motor vehicle crashes usually center on the number of persons killed in a given period of time.

This year, these numbers alone are shocking enough. In 1969, the worst year in Michigan history for traffic deaths, 2,487 persons were killed on the state's streets and highways.

But perhaps more shocking in terms of detailing total involvement of Michigan citizens in these crashes is the fact 175,400 other persons were injured. And a total of 331,223 accidents were reported!

All these figures were new highs, also, surpassing records set the previous year.

ECONOMIC LOSS as a result of these crashes reached a new high: it touched the $500 million level. This was a rise of 7.3 percent from the $465 million cost of 1968.

The increase was attributed mainly to the rise in the number of motor vehicles, drivers and miles driven during the year.

Registered motor vehicles rose 5.3 percent to 4.56 million, licensed drivers rose 1.6 percent to 5.1 million and total vehicle miles traveled rose 5.9 percent to 50.9 billion.

The death rate actually dropped during the year, averaging 4.89 deaths per 100 million miles of travel, compared to 4.97 deaths per 100 million miles in 1968.

IF A RECENT sample survey of marriage counselors is indicative of the situation now existing in Michigan, more than one-third of the marriage counselors now operating in the state are unlicensed.

The state Auditor's office conducted the survey. It checked a total of 43 counselors who were advertising for business. Of the 43 checked, 16 were not licensed.

The report concluded that procedures need to be established to properly police public advertising of marriage counselors to make sure only licensed counselors advertise.

As of the first of this year, only 123 persons had been certified as marriage counselors and authorized to practice in the state.

STATE LICENSING and Regulation Director Charles E. Harmon said he doesn't doubt that a large percentage of the marriage counselors now advertising are unlicensed.

"The board (of Marriage Counselors) has begun to look into enforcement of the 1966 act governing counselors," he said. "Enforcement is a problem but up to this point the board has not had the time to really look into it."

Harmon said the seven-member board has just finished organizational duties involved in setting up the controlling commission.

MICHIGAN HAS STRICT requirements for licensing marriage counselors.

To obtain a license a person must hold a doctorate in psychology, sociology, psychiatry, marriage or pastoral counseling together with five years of professional experience under the supervision of a certified counselor. Licenses also are given to persons with master's degrees in social work or marriage counseling and with five years experience.

Besides having the required education, an applicant must be a Michigan resident, be of "good moral character" and pay a $25 annual fee.

Harmon said if a person wants to make sure a marriage counselor is licensed, they should contact the department in Lansing, which can make a quick report.

HORSES ARE making a comeback in the state which did the most to put them out of business, says a Michigan State animal expert.

Professor Byron Good says the horse population in Michigan has grown from a low of about 15,000 in the 1940s to around 100,000 today.

"The investment in horses and facilities in Michigan has reached nearly $250 million," he says. "In addition, 1969 pari-mutuel betting in Michigan totaled $175 million. The state's share from horse racing in 1969 was about $20 million."

God says most of the growth in horse population is not coming on farms, but instead "has been in metropolitan areas such as Wayne, Kent and Oakland counties."

Babson Report

Trucking Caught in Profit Squeeze

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — In recent years the motor carrier industry has experienced excellent revenue growth. Although this trend may be resumed after the current labor dislocations, the 1970 earnings outlook is less impressive. Trucking is caught in a profit squeeze. Increased equipment costs, higher operating expenses, and rising taxes have narrowed profit margins.

Given reasonably early labor peace, trucking revenues in 1970 should rise 6 percent to 7 percent over 1969's levels, but the industry's expenses will increase at an even swifter pace. Adding to the problem, tie-ups are still in progress and seem destined to constrict profit margins further. Although freight rate boosts granted last year may partially offset these higher costs, the truckers are going to have to seek additional rate hikes in line with contract settlements. However, rate relief notoriously lags behind cost increases on an industry-wide basis.

ALTHOUGH 1970 prospects for the trucking firms are lackluster, the industry's longer-term growth outlook remains favorable. In the future the motor carriers should be able to acquire an ever-increasing share of the transportation dollar. The American Trucking Association, in fact, predicts that by 1980 truckers will account for 61 percent of freight revenues, with railroads commanding only 29 percent of the total.

The trucking industry is changing. The existing profit squeeze is forcing many marginal carriers either to go out of business or to merge. Better management, computerized operations, and streamlined technology should create a viable trucking industry for the future.

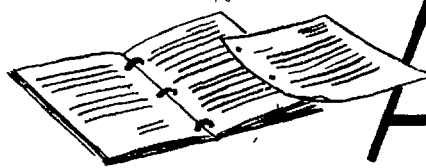

In 1945 there were 25,000 truckers; today there are less than 14,000 companies. There is little doubt that this trend will continue; many, in fact, believe that there could be a very substantial reduction in motor carriers in just the next few years.

TERMS of the 3-year labor contract, when finally accepted, are going to be exceedingly costly. It looks at this writing as though the Teamsters will end up with an agreement providing a raise of $1.65 an hour over 36 months, as opposed to an earlier settlement of $1.10 for 39 months. Currently, at least, large sections of the Teamsters Union are ready to hold out for the top-package figure. Ratification of such a pact will make it more certain than ever that companies will seek new freight-rate increases. However, there is a lag factor between rate-boost requests from the ICC and time of approval. Thus, relief may not show up in profits until late 1970.

In the trucking industry labor is an outstanding expense, accounting for 65 percent of total operating costs. So the upcoming raises and benefits will be a heavy burden for trucking. The 3-year contract which expired at the end of March increased wages 5 1/2 percent a year. But final provisions, when they are ratified, may be slightly better than 9 percent annually for the 3-year span, including wage lifts and fringes.

MOST TRUCKING stocks have fallen badly in the current weak market, owing largely to the industry's near-term prospects, which are still clouded by labor uncertainties. However, most of the truckers' problems appear to have already been discounted by the stock market. We recommend retention of common stocks of the leading truckers at their present levels because of their long-term growth potentials. Indeed, many issues look very tempting at this point. We feel it best to postpone buying temporarily until a clearer picture of the settlement pattern emerges. Investors may then have an even more golden opportunity to go bargain hunting in this sector of the stock market.

One of the first rules of the army is that officers do not fraternize with enlisted men. The whole relationship is predicated on the recognized fact that familiarity may lead to disrespect, or put another way, distance lends enchantment.

The same might be said for elected officials and among them the President of the United States. At least as far as Richard Nixon and his relationship to the people is concerned, he keeps his distance.

The only time he speaks out on the issues is through pre-arranged television appearances, when he has an important message for a captive audience. Then he reads from a prepared statement.

Some might argue the President does it out of necessity. He has a busy schedule involving weighty decisions and any slight slip of the tongue could be detrimental to him and the nation. No one would doubt this is true.

In President Nixon's case, however, his present manner of addressing the people is dictated more by past experience. The televised debates with the late John F. Kennedy during the 1960 presidential campaign are generally recognized as the one factor, more than any other, that contributed to Nixon's 1960 downfall.

During the 1968 presidential campaign, as a result, President Nixon's appearances were carefully staged. No more public debates over television. Instead, the illusion of public debate was accomplished by carefully placing selected questions before the President during a pre-arranged question and answer period.

The vacuum approach, which he continues to use with his addresses to the nation, has

by Rolly Peterson

decided advantages. The President avoids querrulous exchanges with the public and the press and thus preserves his image as a man above petty bickering. With no verbal opposition and with careful make-up, he is at his television best.

But there are drawbacks, too. His prepared statements, released in advance, can be scrutinized by the press, which then can criticize the President's remarks immediately following his television appearance.

Vice President Spiro Agnew has done much politically to neutralize this opposition, however. His broadsides at the news media and particularly television, the medium President Nixon has used to his advantage, have cowed some network commentators.

There is another drawback, however, which can't be neutralized. The thinking viewer can't help but wonder why the President always appears on television in a contrived situation. Is it that he, personally, and his policies cannot withstand the rigors of informed questioning?

State Proposes Fish Hatchery

High in the plans of Michigan Department of Natural Resources is a hatchery in southeastern Michigan with annual output of 74 million warm-water fish.

The first major need, according to the Department, is a comprehensive engineering study to determine location, design accurate cost figures.

For the study the Department seeks $225,000 in recreation bond money. The over-all objective is production of pike, bass, walleyes, Muskellunge and other warm-water species for the state's inland lakes with emphasis on southern Michigan waters.

The Department's current annual production of warm-water fish is about three million.

Grooming and Preparation for the Show Ring:

The first step should be the horses feet. Daily inspection of the feet will give you an opportunity to check on injuries, loose shoes, small stones, or other objects that may have become embedded in the foot, and thrush. Most important is a good cleaning of the bottom of the commissures or depressions between the frog and the bars. The deepest part of each depression is near the heel. It is the part most often cleaned improperly, and is the usual seat of thrush.

If the wall of the foot is dry, brittle, and cracked, it is wise to use a hoof dressing on the foot occasionally. The frequency of this will depend on the condition of the feet.

For the Show ring, make sure the wall of the foot is clean. This may require washing with water and a stiff brush to remove caked mud or

A Name Above Every Name

Rev. Robert Beddingfield
First Baptist Church of South Lyon

"For unto us a Child is born. Unto us a Son is given; with a scepter on His shoulder, His name shall be called Wonderful! Counsellor! The Mighty God! The Father of Eternity! Prince of Peace! What a description of one who was not yet born; but promised 750 years before his birth. His name shall be called Wonderful! This is not an adjective but a glimpse of the unfathomable mysteries of His Person. Men have attempted and failed to fathom that Name, for "None by searching can find him out", and when he does come forth to the sight of men He has "a Name written that is above every name." How elusive is the true meaning of that Name to the unbeliever until Christ is Born to him personally.

"He shall be called Counsellor! This is a noun denoting a quality as well as an action, and reveals His coming role as intercessor and One who will counsel for us before the Father. This name also carries with it the thought of "One who gives advice." I have seen Christians take hurts and heartache to everyone except the One who can heal the pain. No wonder he beckons: "Come unto me all ye that are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

"The Mighty God". Who can imagine the depths of His word when, Jesus said, "If you have seen me, you have seen the Father." He came from the bosom of the Father to reveal the grace and love of the Father; "For God so loved man that He gave..."

In the same manner that He is Father of Eternity, so is He the Prince of Peace. To me, this is the most precious of His roles, and the most needed. We seemingly belong to a peace-seeking community while neglecting the true Source of Peace, "Not as the world gives, give I unto you." He has been tried and proven, and found sufficient. The Christian may learn about the birth of the Christ Child at Bethlehem, but little does it mean until he awakens by faith to his own personal part in that One so born.

The red rose decorating the notebook paper is a little lopsided, and the spelling is awful. But what a wealth of love went into the message. I know, because I was the little girl who made it.

Now it's my little girl who struggles with pen and crayon to fashion a card of love for me.

And as I watch her I think of Mama — sliding down the back hill with us in Daddy's worn-out knickers, kneeling with us as she heard our prayers, singing sweetly Sunday mornings as she stood between us in the family pew. I remember her joy in life, the way her Christian faith glowed in everything she said and did.

Do you wonder that our church is a continuing source of joy and strength for me and my family?

Out of the Horse's

manure. Hoof dressing or light oil, such as neatsfoot oil, improves the appearance of the feet for show. Shoe polish is not recommended, since the new water repellent kinds seal off all air holes in the hoof and stop moisture from entering.

The long hair on the inside of the ears and under the chin and jaw is clipped off. Some horsemen prefer not to remove all the hair from inside the ears since it is there for a purpose—to help keep dirt and insects from entering the inner ear. The hair around the fetlock joint is trimmed to give the legs a neater, cleaner appearance. Some exhibitors clip the legs from just below the knees and hocks down to the hoof head. Run the clippers with the natural lay of the hair. Clipping a couple of weeks before a show will allow the hair to grow enough to eliminate clipper marks and contrasting shades of color. The whiskers and face hair should be retouched a day or two before show time.

On all saddle horses, the mane is usually clipped where the head stall of the bridle crosses behind the ears. This clipped area is called the bridlepath and may vary from one and one-half to seven inches in length. The reason some people cut so much off is to give the horse's neck the appearance of looking longer and having a finer throatlatch.

Your show horse should be kept out of the sun as much as possible to avoid a dull, sunburned appearance of the coat.

If you are grazing your horse, turn him out to pasture at night or early in the morning.

Washing the horse or pony is one method of getting him clean. However, washing should never take the place of regular grooming since it does remove the protective oil of the hair and skin. But if you decide that washing is necessary, use lukewarm water and a mild soap (regular animal shampoo is best). Rinse thoroughly with cool water and walk in the sun until dry. I would not wash a horse unless the temperature is at least 60 or above.

If you have a gelding or stallion, don't forget to clean the sheath occasionally. Some horses require it more often than others, especially those which urinate without protruding the penis, use warm water, mild soap and remove the secretions, including the "bean" or ball of waxy secretion which sometimes develops in a depression in the head of the penis and which may interfere with urination. Again rinse well.

In addition to regular grooming such as currying and brushing, some horsemen will bring out the bloom on their horse by hand rubbing. Hand rubbing removes loose hair, stimulates circulation, and helps to produce a glossy coat.

Before exhibiting your horse, the final touch consists of going over the horse's body with the grooming cloth. This should be done just before entering the show ring, since the cloth will pick up any dust which may have accumulated since brushing.

Avoid using oily rub rags for this final grooming, because oil on the surface of the haircoat will cause dust to stick to the animal. With a clean cloth or damp sponge wipe around the ears, eyes, nostrils, lips and dock. Sometimes a LITTLE baby oil on these areas will take away that dry flaky look. Just put a small amount of baby oil on your hands and rub them together. Then lightly run hands down inside of the ears, around the eyes and nose.

A good showman will carry a small rag concealed in his pocket just in case it is needed in the show ring. Of course, it is used to "touch up" your horse ONLY when the judge is occupied elsewhere in the ring.
