GUESTS TOUR TRACK—The last stop in the day's activities for Mayor's Exchange Day Monday was Northville Downs. Executive Manager John Carlo is pointing out some of the features of the track's new clubhouse to city of Northville officials, their wives and "exchange mayor" and his wife, Linden Village President and Mrs. Keith Wenger. On hand when the tour took place was Michigan State Racing Commission Leo C. Shirley (front row center). For more about Michigan Week and Mayor's exchange Day activities see page 7-A and "Speaking for The Record", page 10-A.

Bus Talks Bog Down

While state and local officials await the fate of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) this week, alternative plans for restoring bus service to the Northville-Livonia area are being considered.

Senator George Kuhn, who moderated a meeting of area officials here Tuesday afternoon, has called for another meeting Monday morning in an effort to resolve the busing problem locally and regionally.

Northville Coach Lines ceased operation five weeks ago.

Meanwhile, Joseph P. Bianco, Jr., vice-chairman of SEMTA, has appealed for public and official support of Governor William Milliken's proposed $2.5 million transportation aid package that early this week appeared ready for burial.

The House Appropriation Committee, ignoring the plea of the governor and officials from both parties, reported out a bill Monday that failed to provide the governor's aid package, said Bianco. Without aid, SEMTA is "dead," he declared.

Bianco joined Kuhn, Milliken's budget bureau representative John Hall, and Carl Buchanan, manager of the Michigan Motor Bus Association, for Tuesday's meeting attended by representatives of the city and township of Northville, Plymouth Township, Livonia, Schoolcraft Community College, Northville State Hospital, Madonna College, and Livonia Mall businessmen.

While Bianco was primarily concerned over the fate of the total governor's aid program, he noted that with such aid SEMTA would be in a position to restore bus service here within a month.

State established, SEMTA represents the metropolitan six-county area and over the past two years has developed a master plan, for the consolidation and operation of all privately owned bus companies in southeastern Michigan, Bianco explained. It hopes, he said, to GUESS WHY so many Northville merchants look forward to their mail deliveries these days? Grumpy, harrassed and busy merchants, who formerly yelled to the mailman "drop it on the counter" when he entered the shop, are now opening the doors and exchanging pleasantries with the carrier. Even bills are welcome. Peggy Roof likes her job and customers, too. She's a Northville resident and attends Schoolcraft college as a freshman.

$1,200,000 Budget Approved

Council Delays Parking Hearing

A $1,200,000 budget won city council approval Tuesday night with hardly a whimper from the audience.

But a public hearing to consider a $360,000 offstreet parking development project didn't get off the ground and was adjourned until June 1.

The city's 1970-71 budget, covering the period from July 1, 1970 to June 30, 1971, calls for general fund expenditures of $640,980, public improvements of $415,500 and water fund expenditures of $177,200.

By adopting the new budget the council approved a tax rate of 10.3 mills, a reduction of 1.2 mills from the current levy. But assessments will be increased by approximately 10 per cent this year, thus resulting in a net tax cut in the city of about one-half of one per cent.

The budget also provides for reduction of water rates by 70 per cent on January 1, 1971. The rates were hiked 70 per cent January 1, 1970 to pay for water system improvements.

Robert Strachan, Horton street, questioned the size of the city budget and noted that while most employees had been given an eight per cent pay raise, the city manager received more than a 10 per cent increase (from $14,000 to $15,500).

Councilman Paul Fohno noted that the council had unanimously recommended the manager's increase feeling that his performance warranted the additional money.

There were three objections raised to the proposed 50 per cent assessment against all commercially-used properties in the business district within 500 feet of the two planned offstreet parking sites.

All came from properties located north of Dunlap street which were not included in the original plan for spreading of assessments.

Donald Severance, judge advocate of the American Legion, said the Legion took the position that the Veterans Memorial building was not subject to assessment.

A letter from Attorney Clarence Alandt on behalf of Casterline Funeral Home objected to the assessment stating that the proposed parking would not benefit Casterline, which had paid to provide its own parking.

A spokesman for the Kroger Company took a similar position. John Johnson, real estate manager for the food chain, said that the company supported the city's approach to providing parking, but pointing out that its local store already provides parking for 131 cars. "That's a ratio of 4 1/2 to one", he noted in referring to parking area versus retail shopping space, "far above the local requirement".

Manager Ollendorff urged the council to adjourn the hearing until June 1 when "these and other questions can be answered".

A public hearing to consider stricter firewall provisions for multiple dwellings was also adjourned. It will be re-opened June 15 after the council has had an opportunity to receive information on various fire wall materials.

A contract was awarded to John Carlo, Inc., of Warren to pave a deceleration lane on Novi road at Allen drive. The work gets underway this week. Bids were waived after it was determined the offer by Carlo, who is doing work in the city for the Thompson-Brown company, was some 20 per cent lower than bids received last fall for the job.

In other business the manager informed the council that the city's ambulance service is being reduced to a back-up service. He reported that two private concerns, General and Superior, had provided adequate service, that the city had received only three calls for emergency help in four months, and that there were only four qualified men who would serve as paid volunteers. They'll remain for emergency back-up service only.

Re-Paving Streets Next Improvement

Repaving of badly worn improved streets is scheduled to take over an important role in the city's improvement program that has concentrated in the past on surfacing unpaved streets.

"There are more paved streets in poor condition now than unpaved streets", City Manager Frank Ollendorff told the city council Tuesday night.

Mayor A. M. Allen agreed. "If we don't get started on repaving, we'll need new streets", he asserted.

High on the list of priorities for repaving will be Allen drive, Grace (from Rayson to Baseline) and Lake streets, as well as intersections at Rogers and Seven Mile road, both ends of River street and Dunsany.

The manager said he would propose to use gasoline tax funds for the intersection repaving.

But Northville has not had experience with repaving of complete streets yet and just how much will be assessed against benefitting property owners has not been settled.

"I'd hope that it would be less than the assessment for original paving", Councilman Rathert stated.

The council will decide that after the manager presents a program for 1970 repaving. The assessment against property owners for original paving is 75 per cent of the cost of a front footage basis.

NEWS BRIEFS

A COMPLEX of seven or eight small industrial units is being considered for city-owned land in the Gerald avenue area where landfill operations were recently curtailed. City Manager Frank Ollendorff reported to the city council that a firm inquiry has been made. It would require more land than the city owns in the area, probably 17 acres. But the Northville Economic Development Corporation is also interested in industrial development of the site and the manager has called for the group's assistance in the project.

A WAYNE COUNTY resolution presented by Commission Carl Pursell supports the city of Northville's request for 200 acres at Maybury Sanatorium, sought under the State Recreation Bond proposal, and urges the state to look favorably on the city's plan, as well as the county's. Under the county request an abutting 700 acres at Maybury would be developed as a county park. "This recreational program would then jointly total 900 acres of combined parks which would complete the County Master Plan for the Northwest area of Wayne County and provide a more comprehensive recreational program for both the County of Wayne and the City of Northville", the resolution concludes.

THE VFW post of Northville has requested permission to construct a fountain in the city hall park in memory of the community's war dead. Specific design details will be considered by the council with representatives of the veterans' organization.

ABSENTEE BALLOT applications are now available at the board of education offices daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registered voters in the Northville school district who wish to vote in the June 8 election by absentee ballot may obtain the applications any time before June 8.

Deadline's June 16

Petitions Slow in Township

Petition activity for Northville township offices is still slow, reports Clerk Eleanor Hammond, who to date is the only candidate to file for the board.

Petitions are being circulated, however, for Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg and Treasurer Alex Lawrence.

Two other board members whose terms expire this fall, Trustees William Smith and Joseph Straub, have not yet taken out petitions for the August primary.

Deadline for filing petitions for the Northville township board of trustees is June 26 at 4 p.m. About 25 signatures of qualified electors are required on the petitions.

Board positions up for nomination in the August primary are supervisor, treasurer, clerk and two of the four trustee seats. Trustees Bernard Baldwin and Richard Mitchell have two years to run on their current terms.

Deadline for filing petitions for precinct delegate for the Democrat and Republican parties is May 26 at 4 p.m. Four petitions are currently being circulated for delegate: Robert Geake, precinct one; Lawrence Wright, Larry VanderMolen, precinct two; and Richard Wolfe, precinct three.

New Hope Expressed

Schoolcraft Negotiations Stalled

New optimism prevailed this week over negotiations at Schoolcraft College following the return of Kenneth Lindner, college vice-president for business affairs, to the bargaining table after a long illness.

"We are most happy to see Mr. Lindner back on campus," said Stuart Bloom, president of the college Faculty Forum. "We have every expectation that completion of contract negotiations for the year starting July 1 will proceed rapidly."

This new optimism wasn't apparent a week ago when Larry VanderMolen, co-chairman of the Faculty Forum's negotiating team, declared that negotiations had reached a total impasse on all major issues discussed.

VanderMolen charged that the college board had refused "even to accept the current language of the present contract offered by the faculty as a major part of their non-economic proposal."

Among other factors given for the breakdown is that the board is using a labor attorney as its chief negotiator — a man "who demonstrates relatively little knowledge or interest in college affairs."

In addition, faculty representatives charged that the board's team has cancelled four out of 12 scheduled meetings.

Because of the breakdown in negotiations, the Faculty Forum voted unanimously to adopt a "no-contract, no-work" resolution, VerderMolen said.

Frederick Stefanski, Schoolcraft's administrator, told The Record this week in response to VanderMolen's charges, "I don't think we've reached an impasse."

While admitting that progress has been slower than hoped, Stefanski said negotiations nevertheless are progressing. "We've had to cancel some meetings because of conflicts and sickness but they've (faculty team) has postponed a couple, too."

In making his announcement this week, Bloom indicated that "negotiations had proceeded slowly during Lindner's absence."

Negotiations are slated to resume May 28. The present contract expires June 30.

Apple Blossoms Greet New Officers

By JEAN DAY

NORTHVILLE STATE Hospital Auxiliary held its annual meeting last Thursday in the midst of an apple orchard in full bloom. Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, who lives in a carriage house apartment across from Apple Crest Farms on Eight Mile Road, was hostess for the potluck meeting. Her living room windows overlook the flowering trees.

Mrs. Levi Eaton turned over the office of president to Mrs. James Sugrue, Jr. Other new officers elected are Mrs. Robert Nesbitt, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Brosius, treasurer. Mrs. Eaton is continuing her service to the group as secretary.

A new constitution and by-laws also were presented. Under a reorganization recommended by the board the auxiliary is in charge of the gift shop and is a money-producing group, "dedicated to serve the hospital and its patients."

Mrs. Eaton explains that there now are two other groups of volunteers under the direction of Mrs. Jean Bachelder, volunteer services coordinator at the hospital, composed of clubs or church groups (who provide special treats and entertainment for patients) and individual volunteers who serve in various ways.

Termination of the Northville Coach Line has affected hospital gift shop sales, it was reported. As Saturday proceeds dwindled as low as $2, it was decided to cease Saturday operation. This service had been the volunteer responsibility of Mrs. Robert (Cecilia) Williams, who now is seeing gift shop workers or substitutes are on the job.

Sixteen members are planning to attend an all-day hospital workshop under the direction of Mrs. Bachelder starting at 9 a.m. this Friday.

CRISTIE BECKER, a freshman at Wayne State University and daughter of the Wilfred C. Beckers, 543 Dubuar, has the part of Louisa, the only feminine role in the "Fantastiks," which is being presented at 9:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights in the Belcrest Hotel theater through mid-June.

The production is independent of Wayne State, but Cristie heard casting was being held for the part and tried out. Northville residents Mr. and Mrs. George Weiss and the Reverend and Mrs. George Jerome who saw her perform last week end are full of praise.

An honor graduate of Northville High, Cristie now is staying at the Helen Newberry Joy dorm on the Wayne campus.

A PICNIC-in-the-park was the activity enjoyed Tuesday by youngsters of the Northville Cooperative Nursery, their teachers and mothers.

Last week Mrs. William Wilkinson, a Northville nursery member and new state president of the Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries, attended the annual state meeting at Kellogg Center in Lansing.

Also attending from the Northville Cooperative were all three teachers, Mrs. Francis Gazlay, Mrs. Glenn Deibert and Mrs. Lawrence Bemish, as well as several mothers, including Mrs. Lawrence Meyer, Mrs. Kent Mathes, Mrs. John Swallow and Mrs. George Podolski. Mrs. Marilyn Kaestner, a Northville teacher, joined them.

Dr. Armin Grams, a psychologist and member of the faculty of Merrill-Palmer Institute of Human Development and Family, spoke on "The Development of Sexuality in the Preschool Child." He was heard here last fall at a joint elementary PTA meeting.

In stressing the importance of preschool attitudes, Dr. Grams said that the toddler needs to develop the conviction "I can do well." His abilities should be affirmed, Dr. Grams said, as he goes from the close hugging and cuddling relationships of infancy to the independence of walking and talking.

He referred to education in human sexuality as "developmental" as it is a continuous process beginning at birth and continuing through life. He added that human sexuality for the infant, consists of the experience of warmth and closeness to others and the assurance that the body is wholesome and wonderful.

"By the time a child is in kindergarten," Dr. Grams said, "he ought to have at least two basic ideas about sex—he should know there are important anatomical differences between boys and girls and he should know where babies come from. It is necessary that a child be comfortable with his own makeup and to understand that others, though different, are equally comfortable."

NORTHVILLE NEWCOMERS are beginning the picnic season with their annual steak fry to be held this Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David DeJohn, 17637 Beck Road. Sports events will begin at 6 p.m. Those with energy, the committee says, may dance, play baseball, volleyball or badminton before or after dinner.

Each couple attending brings steak, to, barbecue and, place, settings. Salad, rolls and dessert are arranged by the committee.

Reservations at $2.50 a couple should be made immediately with Mrs. Charles Coltran, 624 Reed.

BABY-SITTING will be available at the OLV Antique Fair this Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. by a new Northville organization, the Junior Peace Corps. Sponsor Mrs. Joseph Petro says money earned will go to missions.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made of the marriage of Mrs. Claude Crusoe to Dr. Joseph C. Menendez of New Orleans. Officiating at the May 2 ceremony at Our Lady of Victory Church were the Reverend Father John Wittstock and the Reverend Father Clement Crusoe, S. J., a cousin from Toronto who said the wedding mass.

The newlyweds now are on a European wedding trip. They plan to see the passion play at Oberammergau, which Dr. Menendez also saw performed ten years ago.

Upon their return they plan to divide their time between an apartment in Birmingham and a home in New Orleans.

ANTIQUE 'RECORDS'— Among the prizes to be given away at the OLV Antique Fair which concludes Michigan Week this Saturday and Sunday are two issues of The Northville Record, dated April 12 and December 20, 1873. Examining the old papers are, from left, Mrs. James R. Hayward, Mrs. Gordon Smith and Mrs. Frank Korte, committee members for the show to be held each day from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. About sixty antique dealers are to use the paddock stalls as their booths while such fair-type activities as sketch artists and glass-blowers will hold forth in the parking lots. Snacks, lunch and dinner will be served in the old restaurant.

Author to Speak To Christian Women

May traditionally is the month of mother-daughter events. A variation of this celebration is planned by the area Christian Women's Club which is scheduling a mother and adult-daughter luncheon, for 12:30 p.m. next Thursday, May 28, at Lofy's Restaurant.

Mrs. Mildred Stamm will be guest speaker. An author also, Mrs. Stamm wrote "Meditation Moments for Women," and inspirational book now in its fifth printing. The program also is to include a "Kaleidoscope for Spring," a preview of fashions and fabric for dawn-to-dusk by the Cotton Pickin' Shoppe.

Mrs. Stamm has been associated with Christian Women's Clubs, Christian Business and Professional Women's Councils for many years. She now is serving as National Executive Secretary and is the author of their devotional materials. She also has worked closely with the Gideon organization, serving for three years as International Chaplain and for another three, as International Chairman of the Gideon Auxiliary.

Although she was born in Michigan, Mrs. Stamm has spent a great portion of her life in Denver, where she taught in the Colorado School of the Bible. She now is in Kansas City, Missouri, at the National Headquarters for Christian Women's Clubs. She has traveled more than 250,000 miles in the U.S. and Canada for CWC.

Special music is to be provided by Charles and Carol Hardy, who are returning by request. A nursery will be provided for preschoolers.

All women of the area are invited to attend. For additional information and reservations call 349-2759 by noon next Tuesday.

College Week Slated in June

Area women again this year are invited to attend the 1970 College Week for Women program June 16-19 sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

The 1970 program consists of two classes of one-and-a-half hours per day, plus dialogue forums pertaining to the general theme, "Michigan Women Who Care." On consecutive days the dialogues will cover "About People," "About Their Communities" and "About the Future."

Classes range from garden and home plants, Michigan history and interior design to family travel. Rooms, meals and the majority of classes are in Hubbard Hall on the MSU campus. For those who cannot attend the entire session, Thursday, June 18, is open to one-day visitors and is geared to young homemakers.

Program books will be distributed on registration at Hubbard Hall. Interested homemakers may receive a pre-registration form from 103 Home Economics Building, Michigan State University, East Lansing, 48823. Additional information is available locally from Mrs. Vivian Seden, 349-3371.

Poppie Sale Starts Today

Distribution of poppies begins today and continues through Saturday under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Disabled war veterans working in hospitals and convalescent homes throughout the country made millions of the artificial flowers to be distributed on these days and worn in honor of the war dead, according to Mrs. Bernice Denune, poppy chairman for the Lloyd H. Green unit of the Legion auxiliary.

Veterans of three wars have been given employment by the auxiliary in its poppy making work this year, she explained. "The only paid workers in the poppy program are the veterans who make the poppies. They are shaped to resemble closely the European wild poppy which bloomed on the battlefields and in the cemeteries of France and Belgium during World War I."

The local auxiliary unit will have a corps of volunteer workers on Northville's downtown streets distributing the flowers. Contributions will be used for disabled veterans and their families.

"We hope everyone will wear a poppy to honor the war dead and contribute to help the living victims of all wars," Mrs. Denune said.

MRS. ANTHONY DANIAL MARRONI

High Mass Marks Wedding

Seven attendants preceded Kerry Lynn Bellanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eugene Belanger, Jr., 23869 Lynwood Drive, down the aisle as she became the bride of Anthony Danial Marroni in a Nuptial High Mass May 9 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Oscoda.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wuttie Joseph Marroni, 538 Grace Street. Father Fredrick Thomas officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk organza gown, its Empire bodice fashioned with a scoop neckline and full, puffed sleeves gathered with embroidered bands which were laced with pale blue satin ribbons. Embroidered silk organza and lace tiers formed the skirt and edged the chapel train of organza.

She wore a veil of illusion and carried a colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses, carnations and stephanotis tied with blue satin streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. J. Savage of Duluth, Minnesota, cousin and godmother of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Govan, Howell; Miss Marlene Blais, Flint; Miss Martha Moore, Dearborn; Mrs. Donald Smith, Plymouth; and Miss Louise Marroni, sister of the bridegroom.

Another sister, five-year-old Jenny Lynn Marroni, was flower girl.

All wore floor-length gowns of pale blue voile with scoop necklines, full sleeves with ruffled cuffs and blue satin sashes. The little flower girl wore daisies and ribbons in her hair, and all other attendants wore wide-brimmed crocheted hats trimmed with blue satin and lace. All carried baskets of blue-tinted roses surrounded by daisies. Miss Julie Marroni, who was in charge of the guest book, wore a bracelet of roses. Miss Jane Laramie was organist with Miss Danielle Vachow, soloist.

Michael Mahoney of Plymouth was best man. Ushers were Fred Bodnar, Ann Arbor; Donald Govan, Howell; Craig Zurn, Novi; Patrick Belanger and Michael Marroni, brothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Decorating the altar were arrangements of white roses, daisies and gladioli. Aisle bows of pale blue satin were tied with daisies and greens.

For the ceremony and reception following, the bride's mother chose a matching dress and coat of turquoise Crystalline with pearl trim and turquoise-and-blue flowered hat. Her corsage was white Phalaenopsis orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace coat over a matching crepe dress, a pink flower hat and corsage of green Cymbidium orchids.

The buffet dinner and cocktail reception, which was followed by dancing, was attended by 155 guests from Toledo, Duluth, Superior, Flint, Davison, Grand Blanc, Howell, Laingsburg, Ann Arbor, Dearborn, Fenton, Holly, Oscoda and the Detroit area.

Pre-wedding parties were given by Miss Moore, Mrs. Govan and Miss Blais, all bridesmaids, and by Mrs. Henry E. Belanger, Sr., Mrs. Robert Egan, Mrs. Edward Quinlan, Mrs. Jules Cantin, Mrs. Edward Krupa and Mrs. George Latrielle.

The rehearsal dinner, held at the AuSable Inn in Oscoda was hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The new Mrs. Marroni changed to a tangerine-hued Dacron knit suit-dress to which she pinned a white rose corsage for a wedding trip to Atlantic City.

Both graduates of Northville High School, the couple attended Schoolcraft College for two years and will attend Eastern Michigan University this fall. They are making their home at Crestwood Park Apartments in Plymouth.

Exchange Vows in UP

Iron Mountain Trinity Methodist Church in Michigan's Upper Peninsula was the setting for the marriage of Marita Anne Seppala of that city and Ashton Brent Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hardy, 41345 Llewellyn Road, on May 16.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Seppala of Iron Mountain. The Reverend Tom Brown officiated at the 6:30 p.m. ceremony for which the church was lighted completely by candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory silk organza gown with bodice and cuffs of the full sleeves of Alencon lace embroidered with tiny pearls. She wore a shoulder veil of illusion.

Mrs. Edward (Pattie) Price of Louisville, Kentucky, a sorority sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Another sorority sister, Diane Wagner of Kalamazoo, and a high school friend, Mary Jo Sieber of Ann Arbor, were bridesmaids. All wore apricot chiffon gowns with white roses and green leaves embroidered on the waistbands. Each carried a white candle circled with apricot-tinted roses and baby's breath.

Andrew Craig of Troy, a Hillsdale College friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Maxwell Wallace of Bloomfield Hills, also a Hillsdale friend, and Edward Price, Jr., of Louisville, a Western Michigan friend, ushered.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise peau de soie floor-length gown while the bridegroom's mother chose pink peau de soie, also floor-length.

They welcomed between 150 and 200 guests at a reception following at the Dickinson Hotel in Iron Mountain.

For a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale the new Mrs. Hardy changed to a white linen dress with black trim and white coat.

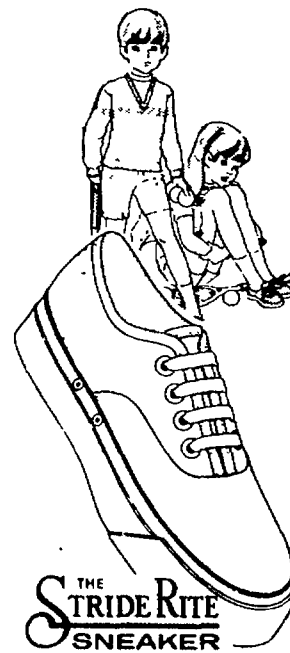

The bride recently received her degree from Western Michigan University where she was affiliated with Phi Mu sorority. The bridegroom attended Hillsdale College and is an alumnus of Western Michigan and presently is employed by Detroit Diesel. They are making their home in a Plymouth apartment.

Students Cited By Colleges For Honors

Eleven area students were among more than 1,000 high school seniors throughout the state named as Regents-Alumni Scholars by the University of Michigan.

Although the awards are primarily honorary in recognition of the students' outstanding academic achievement, each designated student will receive a token $50.

Local recipients are:
NORTHVILLE — Fred W. Holdsworth, 46778 Grasmere, and Patricia Ann Long, 48385 West Eight Mile Road.
NOVI — Carol Ann Bruce, 23780 East LaBost, Diane E. Krezel, 21900 Meadowbrook, and Deborah C. Kuick, 41881 Quince Drive.

WALLED LAKE — Teresa L. Kiyler, Carol Milton, Donna M. Sills, Michael R. Stewart, Gwendolyn M. White and Kenneth C. Woodard.

Ronald M. Brown, financial aid director, said that this year applications for financial help have been entirely separate from the Regents-Alumni Awards. In fact, students do not now apply for the Regents-Alumni designation. Those honored are selected from freshman applications.

Alumni volunteers throughout the state participated in the final selection process by conducting interviews with students.

"We believe that the honorary awards, both this year and in the future, will fulfill the important function of recognizing people who have the potential of making an outstanding contribution to the academic community of the University," he said.

Three Northville residents were among those Western Michigan University students who have won recognition as scholars by being named to the university's Dean's List for the recent winter semester.

They are Luanne McGovern, 385 Eaton Drive, Kirk D. McSevny, 20148 East Whipple, and Kyle E. Stubenvoll, 875 Grace Street.

To win the honor, students must have taken at least 14 hours of class work and maintained a point average of 3.5 out of a possible 4.0 (all A's). The group of 1,316 recognized for their academic work is slightly fewer than the 1,617 to achieve the distinction in the winter semester of 1969.

Larry Forth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Forth, 21718 Kilrush Drive and a senior at Michigan State University, is one of 12 students chosen from the College of Hotel and Restaurant Management to represent the university at the National Restaurant Show being held May 23-26 in Chicago.

Dr. Blomstrom, president of the college, will accompany the group. Larry is a Northville High School graduate, Class of 1965, and will be graduating from Michigan State June 14.

George Garroett Davis, a senior at the College of Wooster, was recently initiated into the Local Alpha Beta chapter of the international history honorary society, Phi Alpha Theta.

To be considered for admission to the honorary, a student must have achieved a B-plus average in his major and a cumulative average of B.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis, former Northville residents now living in England.

WUF WORKERS — Oakland member of Women for the United Foundation (WUF) will be hostess for the annual luncheon scheduled for May 27 in Detroit's Latin Quarter. At right is Mrs. Elmer Schubert, of 413 Beal, Northville, with Mrs. Donald Schlack (left), Farmington, and Mrs. Clarence Kragenec, of Detroit, all members of the meeting committee. Featuring a zodiac theme, luncheon favors will include individual horoscopes gaily tied with colorful ribbons. Included on the program will be accessory fashions from Saks Fifth Avenue and name entertainment. Women from throughout Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties are being invited to attend.

News Around Northville

Mrs. Clifton Hill, 17740 Beck Road, will be hostess for the annual picnic and installation of officers that concludes the year for Northville Mothers' Club at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Books still are needed by the Friends of Northville Public Library for a book booth at the OLV Antique Fair at Northville Downs this Saturday and Sunday.

Proceeds from the booth sale will be used to purchase extra materials for the Northville library. Anyone with books to donate may drop them in a box at the library or call Mrs. G. S. Urban, 349-5322, or Miss Linda Edgerton, 349-3040, for pick-up.

Forty-one retirees of the Ford Valve plant are feted at a dinner program at the plant Thursday. Sponsored by UAW Local 896, the banquet paid special honor to Joe Bujak who retired recently as the plant superintendent after 25 years service.

DEBBIE KUICK

Debbie Kuick Picked to Solo

Novi senior Debbie Kuick has been selected as one of ten soloists with the Michigan Youth Symphony and will be featured in concert Saturday evening at Parkside High in Jackson.

The concert is part of the Michigan Youth Arts Festival in conjunction with Michigan Week.

Miss Kuick, selected from a field of 80 musicians, will play the bassoon.

A first chair flutist with the Novi senior band, she will major in both flute and bassoon at the University of Michigan's school of music. She has been awarded a four-year full-tuition scholarship to the school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kuick, 41881 Quince Drive.

Northville Senior Citizens attending the Tiger baseball game this Saturday are to meet at the Scout-Recreation building at 11:30 a.m. They will go by bus and be returned to the same location. Admission to the game, 50 cents, is to be the only charge.

Thirty-seven members enjoyed a trip to Frankenmuth where they had dinner and went sightseeing last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ely, former Northville residents, visited relatives in Northville and Marshall on a brief trip to Michigan from their home in Dade, Florida. They attended a family dinner for 35 at the home of the Kent Esbaughs in Marshall and stayed with Mr. Ely's sister, Mrs. J. H. Vroman, in Northville.

Gunnar Tjernberg, rector of a seventh grade school in Sollefka, Sweden, is visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stefanski, 840 Carpenter, while studying the makeup of United States schools. He arrived two weeks ago and is expected to return to Sweden early in June.

Mr. Tjernberg, incidentally, was the foster parent of the Stefanski's daughter, Karen, when she spent a summer in Sweden three years ago. Mr. Tjernberg's own daughter spent a year at Belding, Michigan as an exchange student.

In a ceremony in Farmington's St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday, Kirk Suckow of Northville Scout Troop 755 was awarded the God and Country Award for meritorious service to the church.

The award is given by the church in the name of the Boy Scouts of America when a boy has fulfilled certain qualifications.

To earn his award Kirk worked 150 hours for St. John's, cutting grass, refinishing chairs, and shoveling snow.

Kirk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Suckow of 917 Novi Street.

Two Ex-Wixom Officials Plan to Appeal Dismissals

An appeal is expected to be filed yet this week by two of the four Wixom officials fired last week by Mayor Gilbert Willis.

Those requesting hearings of the council will be the former deputy clerk Mrs. Donna Thorsberg and former building inspector Ralston Calvert.

Others who were dismissed were Mrs. Elizabeth Waara, former clerk-treasurer, and Thomas Burke, parks and recreation director. Appointed replacements are Miss June Buck, clerk-treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Zancanella, deputy clerk; Ronald Parvu, parks and recreation director; and Kenneth Carothers, building inspector.

In both of the appeals, the former employees will charge that Mayor Willis declined to give public reasons for their dismissals, thus leading the public to believe that they may have been involved in some kind of wrongdoing.

Mrs. Waara, who also is demanding that the mayor make his reasons public, is not appealing her dismissal because the city charter makes no such provision for appointees. Mrs. Thorsberg and Calvert contend they were employees, not mayoral or council appointees. Mrs. Thorsberg was named to her job by Mrs. Waara, Calvert by DPW Director Robert Trombley.

When asked Tuesday by this newspaper for his reasons in dismissing the four ex-officials, Willis declined, taking the position that his action was simply a decision not to reappoint. He scuttled a prediction by a former official that others will soon get the ax, pointing out he has no such plans. "I haven't dismissed anyone yet," he declared.

"When asked, during his campaign, if he intended to replace any city employees, Mayor Willis publicly stated that he intended to 'investigate' all departments and dismiss only those he found guilty of wrongdoing," said Mrs. Thorsberg. (See letter to Editor, Page 10-A).

"No investigations have been made, except possibly one incomplete one started in the police department which, I believe, was dropped as soon as Chief McGuire (Thomas) left. On Monday, May 11, Mrs. Waara and I, in the presence of Robert Case (assistant to mayor), were told by Mayor Willis that we would not be reappointed. He said he had been threatened that if he did not reappoint us the whole city hall staff would walk out, and he did not like to be threatened.

"I pointed out that he was acting on what must only be a rumor since no such action had ever been advocated or asked for by either of us. I then asked if he had any complaints about my work and he said none whatsoever; on the contrary he had only found it to be excellent and that I was very dedicated to the job. It was just that he had other people to appoint. Mrs. Waara asked the same question and the answer was the same. He gave us no opening to discuss the matter further and terminated the meeting."

Mrs. Thorsberg had been an employee of the city since September, 1964, having been named deputy clerk in April, 1965.

Mrs. Warra was appointed treasurer in April, 1962, clerk-treasurer in April, 1965. She had four years remaining before retirement.

The mayor's actions were "shocking," said the former clerk-treasurer, because "Willis gave us no indication that we were to be dismissed. But the real tragedy was letting Tom Burke go. Here's a man who has done an excellent job and who hasn't involved himself in any politics at all. So what does he do — he gets rid of Tom and appoints a councilwoman's (Mrs. Mary Parvu) son to take his place."

Appointment of Parvu to replace Burke is seen by some Wixom citizens as a "clear violation" of the city charter in regard to nepotism (appointment or hiring of relatives of city officials).

According to Mrs. Waara, as of Monday she had been unable to get an audit of the books to verify the financial status of her department while she was in office. "When I took the treasurer's job," she said, "I was given an accounting of my

NEW OFFICIALS—While a storm brews over the dismissal of their predecessors, Wixom's newly appointed Clerk-Treasurer Miss June Buck (right) and Deputy Clerk Mrs. Virginia Zancanella have little time to concern themselves with rough political seas as they go about the business of their new jobs.

Novi Studies Bids On Dump Truck

Bids were opened Tuesday night on a new medium dump truck for the city, advertising for bids on air conditioning units for the city hall was authorized, and receipt of bids for construction of a new DPW garage was postponed until June 1.

Novi City Council, after opening the truck bids Tuesday night, referred them to the city manager and the DPW director for study and recommendation.

Bids ranged from $5,447 (International Harvester of Farmington) to $6,096 (Miller Dodge of Northville). Four others submitted bids.

City Manager Dallas Zonkers was authorized to take bids on window air conditioning units for the first and second floors of the city hall. Cost of air conditioning has been estimated at approximately $4,000.

In a related matter, a proposal to purchase new furniture for the council chambers ran into objections of Councilmen Raymond Evans, Donald Young, Jr., and Mayor Joseph Crupi. Evans led the opposition, pointing out that he was opposed to expenditure of funds for furniture particularly in view of the fact that many recent council meetings and public hearings have been held in the community building. Furthermore, he argued that furniture purchased now may not be satisfactory for a new city hall that eventually may be built. Also, the financial status of the city does not warrant the expenditure, he added.

Councilmen Denis Berry and Edwin Presnell, however, argued that furniture need not be elaborate and they referred fellow members to the Wixom council table as one that is appealing yet not elaborate. Citizens, said Berry, had informed him that they were delighted when they learned that the council was considering new furniture since the existing tables and chairs are seen as neither appealing nor practical.

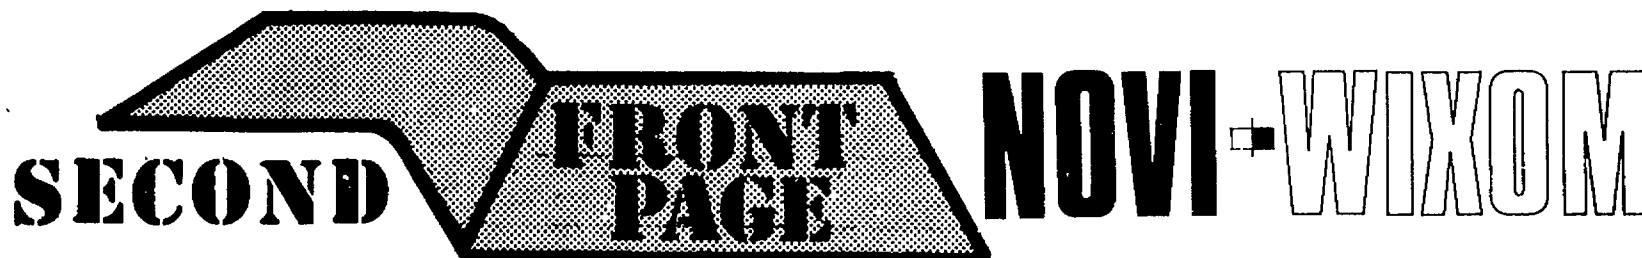

Berry and Evans were asked to inspect the Wixom furniture and report estimated costs to the council.

In other action Tuesday, the council——Voted to accept only cash deposits on up to 600 sewer taps in the Rouge Interceptor Extension 2 at $677 and $26 annual interest each year, to reserve 400 taps, and to sell taps for use only on property designated upon purchase.

—Established a $50 fee for applicants wishing a special hearing before the board of appeals.

—Discussed status of the library, community building and cemetery boards, which formerly came under the jurisdiction of the township, and agreed to review the makeup, needs and recommendations of these bodies.

Council Leans Toward Chloride Elsewhere

Meadowbrook Gets More Oil

Novi's long-standing policy to chloride roads rather than oil them appeared likely to stand following Tuesday's meeting of the city council.

While no decision was made, comments of councilmen indicated that the majority seemed to favor the chloriding process. The subject was to have come up again for discussion yesterday at a budget study session.

Should the policy stand, however, it is not likely to stop the council from ordering oiling in special situations.

One such situation exists on Meadowbrook Road, between 10 and Nine Mile Roads, where homeowners recently petitioned the council for oiling because of the "dust-bowl" condition there. That petition, carrying the signatures of a large majority of the homeowners, was given to the city manager and, because of the urgency involved, he ordered the oiling immediately without waiting for official council review of the petition.

Subsequently, the manager, Dallas Zonkers was taken to task because he failed to wait for council action and because he also ordered the oiling of other roads as well. Council pointed out at the time that while it, too, may have ordered oiling in respect to Meadowbrook, it was a policy matter for the council to make — not the manager.

Then, at the direction of the council, Zonkers Tuesday gave his recommendation on oil versus chloride. He recommended oil for most major city roads where fewer homes exist, to minimize problems of tracking, smell, and other nuisance. But that recommendation called for chloride on Meadowbrook, which surprised and angered property owners who had come to the meeting to argue that so little oil had been applied originally that the dust problem had become as great as ever.

Ironically, earlier in the meeting citizens of Meadowbrook Road had come to the defense of Zonkers because of his action in ordering the original oiling without waiting for council action.

Apparently, the council was dissatisfied with the recommendation because, after authorizing a second application of oil on Meadowbrook, it postponed a decision on all other roads

Wixom Awaits Big Parade

Mayor's exchange festivities together with a number of other activities, are past history in Wixom, one of the biggest events of all is still to come.

That's the Youth Day parade and baseball games slated Saturday as a wrap-up of Michigan Week.

According to Michigan Week Chairman Mike Leahy, the parade will be the "biggest and best ever staged here."

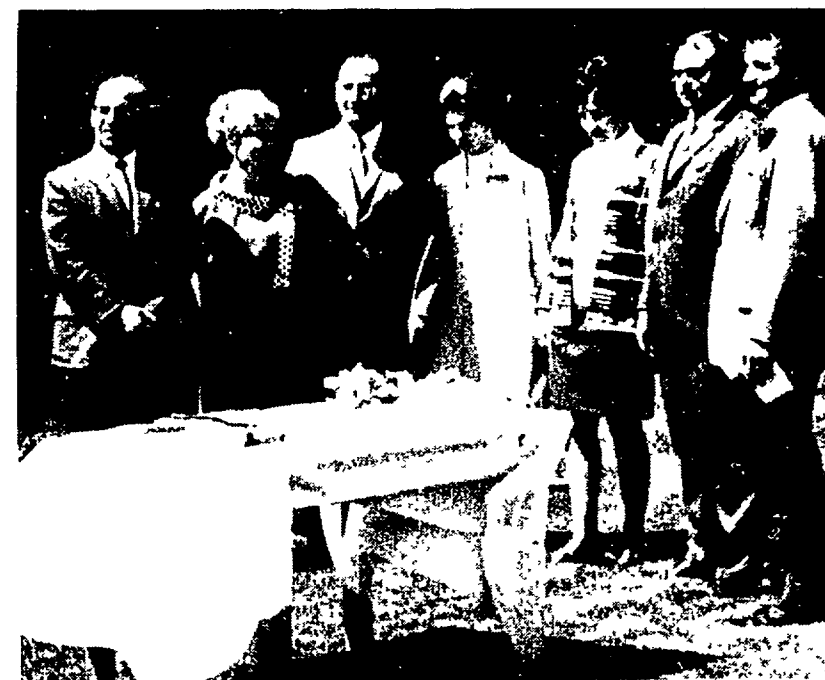

The parade, scheduled to get underway at 10:45 a.m. barring any unexpected hitches, will begin at the First Baptist Church of Wixom and end up at the city hall.

At least a half-dozen floats, a band, antique cars, horsemen, representatives of the Scouts, Pioneer Girls, VFW, baseball teams, Paul Bunyon, Buffalo Bill, Tonto, and five clowns are expected to participate. In addition, when the parade reaches Wixom Elementary School (on Wixom Road) dozens of youngsters riding decorated bicycles will join it in the march to the city hall.

Because of the large number of parade participants and an expected large number of spectators, watchers coming by automobile are asked to arrive early because parking space will be at a premium. Motorists will not be permitted to park at the city hall because of the festivities there and because the floats are to be parked there. Parking Chairman Robert Trombley and his committee will put up signs to indicate places to park.

Following the parade, hot dogs and soft drinks, will be served free to both children and adults at the city hall. Another feature at the city hall will be the sale of baked goods made by citizens throughout the community.

At 1:30 p.m. a Michigan Week little league game will get underway, with Mayor Gilbert Willis and Mayor Protem Charles McCall throwing out the first balls. In addition, the drawing for raffle prizes will be held.

NOVI GUESTS—Novi Planning Chairman George Athas converses with Mason Mayor and Mrs. Allen Shapley during the mayor's exchange dinner program Monday night. Guest speaker for the dinner, which capped day-long Michigan Week activities in Novi, was Wayne County Probate Judge George Bashara.

Two-Stage Construction

State Reveals Freeway Schedule

A two-stage highway building schedule involving the proposed I-275 freeway at the eastern border of Northville and Novi and several related projects were revealed this past week by the Michigan Highway Commission.

The highway projects are divided into two stages: those slated in the previously announced five-year program, ending June 30, 1974, and those scheduled in a new extended program from July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1977.

Basically, the current program calls for completion of the new I-275 expressway from the Monroe-Wayne boundary to the present I-96 and I-696 expressways at the eastern boundary of Novi. That portion of the freeway north of the I-96 and I-696 intersection is slated to be constructed during the 1974-77 period. The freeway north of the present I-96, I-696 intersection is to be called M-275.

Officials of the highway department told this newspaper that the portion of the expressway from the present I-96 and I-696 location at Novi's eastern boundary south to the Schoolcraft Road area is to be a dual highway carrying both I-96 and I-275 designations.

In other words, officials explained, the present I-96 freeway will "dip south" from its present location at the eastern boundary of Novi, becoming both I-96 and I-275 running south, parallel with Haggerty Road, to the Schoolcraft Road area.

Local area projects in the current schedule by county include:

WAYNE—Construct 21.8 miles of Interstate 275, from the Wayne-Monroe county line to a connect with Interstate 96 and the M-14 Freeway near Schoolcraft Road at the west limits of Livonia, $57.8 million, 1970, 71, and 72.

Construct 21.6 miles of Interstate 96 (also called I-275 at this point), from the Wayne-Oakland county line (Eight Mile Road) southerly to Interstate 275 and the M-14 Freeway near Schoolcraft, then easterly through Livonia and Redford Township to a connection with the Davison Freeway east of Grand River in Detroit, then southeasterly to Interstate 94 just west of Grand River, including tunnel sewer and watermain, $183 million, in 1970, 71 and 72.

OAKLAND—Construct 2.1 miles of Interstate 96, from I-696 east of Novi southerly to Eight Mile Road, $9.9 million, 1971.

Improvements on Interstate 96, including 12.3 miles of resurfacing from the Oakland-Livingston county line easterly to I-696, reconstruction at the Novi interchange, construction of ramps at the Milford interchange, and construction of modern restroom facilities at the rest area on eastbound I-96 west of Novi Road, $2.1 million, 1973.

Construct a bridge to carry the M-275 Freeway over Interstate 696 east of Novi, $131,000, 1971.

Construct bridges for three miles of M-275 Freeway, at 12 Mile, 13 Mile and 14 Mile roads, $575,000, first half of 1974.

Preliminary engineering and acquisition of right-of-way for construction of 19.5 miles of M-275, from south of 12 Mile Road near Novi northerly to Interstate 75 west of Clarkston.

Area projects scheduled in the 1974-1977 program by county:

OAKLAND—Construct 3.5 miles of M-275 Freeway, from south of 12 Mile Road north to Maple Road, $3.7 million, second half of 1974.

Oil or Chloride?

until after it had received a recommendation from the city engineer. Councilmen Donald Young, Jr., Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry went on record for maintaining Novi's chloride policy elsewhere, while Councilmen Raymond Evans and William O'Brien preferred to wait for the recommendation of the engineer before making their decisions.

Major council objection to oil was that it tends to "ruin" roadbeds and quite likely necessitates greater maintenance and therefore more expense.

Oil, itself, is less expensive - 6-cents per gallon versus 8-cents, the manager reported.

Since the roadbed of Meadowbrook is already in "extremely bad shape" the council saw little danger in oiling there. However, in ordering oil from 10 Mile south to the last house in the Pink subdivision, it emphasized that care be used in application to avoid runoff into ditches and pollution of the stream. Furthermore, the council made it plain that before a third application is made the manager is to come to the council.

When asked by a councilman if they were still prepared to circulate a petition calling for paving of Meadowbrook, citizens indicated they were not.

During an ensuing discussion of the necessity for a tax increase to fund a paving program throughout the city, former councilman William Ducey suggested the council use additional tax money resulting from a 20-percent increase in equalized assessment to get such a program underway.

For Fourth of July Prize

Jaycees Offer Bahama Trip

Northville Jaycees are sponsoring a Fourth of July raffle in order to assist the financing of local community projects. The prize of a round-trip to the exciting Bahama Islands includes a Delta flight for two with three nights' hotel accommodations at the famed Kings Inn, in Freeport. Meals on the modified American plan are included at the hotel.

For those birdie enthusiasts, the package includes golf green fees on the nationally known course. The trip is scheduled for the Labor Day weekend; however, this may be re-arranged for any time between July 10 and December 12, of this year.

Tickets may be obtained from any Northville Jaycee for a donation of $1. each or three for $2. The draw will be made the evening of July 4 at the Fireworks display. For further information, Jaycee members Pete Magnum (349-4328) and Paul Vandenburg (349-4513) may be contacted.

A large contingent of Northville Jaycees and auxiliary Jayceettes attended the State Convention in Detroit this past week end. Keynote events for the Northville chapter were centered upon the award luncheon Saturday.

Northville Jaycees competed in statewide categories in their division based on population. Northville earned honors in six activity areas with a first place award in Publications and International Involvement. The club earned second place awards in Chapter Growth and Management, Community Health and Safety, and Ways and Means projects. A third place award was achieved in Interclub Relations. Northville had stiff competition from the Rockwood and Fenton, Michigan, chapters. Awards were judged from an impressive total of 1884 projects turned in from over 200 Michigan Jaycee chapters competing in the five population divisions established.

Northville gained further honors in the program with the state award for the activities of the Northville Jaycees in the field of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. The chapter received a coveted medallion in recognition of the work done to increase the community awareness of the mental and drug abuse problems. Northville had hosted the state seminar in February this year.

The 1969-70 chapter president, Dave Ven Hine, was awarded the Top Sparkplug Award for his service and guidance of the Northville chapter, making the local group the Number One chapter in the State.

The 1970 Michigan State Jaycee Convention culminated with the election of 1970-71 state officers. An inaugural banquet Saturday evening was attended by the Northville group to witness the installation of new State President Don DeMoss by the outgoing President, Patrick Nowak. An address by the President of the U.S. Jaycees, Andre LeTendre, concluded the convention and the activities of the 1969-1970 Michigan Jaycees year. LeTendre's address conveyed the Jaycees' national effort to "Do Something" and become involved in the solution of community problems.

Confirmation Rite Conducted

On Pentecost, May 17, two Northville residents were received into the adult membership of Epiphany Church (LCA), by the rite of confirmation. They are Deborah Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoffman of Langfield Street and Gary Stockhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stockhaus of Bloomcrest Road.

Residents of Plymouth who were a part of the same confirmation class included: Steve Benson, Mike Godfrey, Duane Hasley, Mark Olson, Mike Schmidt, Keith Sprengel, David Troppi, Barbara Vogel and Pat Wilken.

At worship services the week before, members of the class participated in a public review of the material covered in the three years of instruction that preceded the rite.

Epiphany Church is located in Northville Township at 41390 Five Mile Road. The pastor is the Reverend Fred Prezioso.

SPEAKING for The Record By BILL SLIGER

Just when the whole world seems fouled up and there's little reason to rejoice, a bright, blue and sunny day like Monday comes along.

And it's Michigan Week. And it's Mayors' Exchange Day.

I followed the activities in Northville. Other staff members covered similar ceremonies in Novi, Wixom, South Lyon and Brighton.

What's the purpose of Mayors' Exchange?

You have to be there to really appreciate the significance of the occasion. And it helps if the program has the touch of a master organizer like Mrs. William Slattery, chairman of Northville's Michigan Week activities.

It also helps if the visiting dignitaries are as interesting and as interested as the Keith Wengers of Linden.

And you have the cooperation of people...like Principal Fred Holdsworth at the high school who greeted the visitors on their arrival; like Bob Williams and his high school band who escorted them in grand musical style to the city hall; like the League of Women Voters who served mid-morning coffee and pastries; like the Rotary Club and its president, Ray Spear, who switched their weekly luncheon meeting from Tuesday to Monday to host the visiting guests and local dignitaries; and like John Carlo who graciously escorted the group through his expanding harness racing plant.

And, of course, the council team that stayed home while Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman and Mrs. Kenneth Rathert were being honored in Linden must perform its chores, too.

Mayor Pro Tem and Mrs. Wallace Nichols, Councilmen Paul Folino and Charles Lapham and their wives, City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Clerk Martha Milne made up the party that escorted the visitors throughout our town.

What was the significance? What was accomplished?

Perhaps not much. But Northville found out that Linden has problems not unlike ours.

Oh, maybe some of them were solved locally many years ago. Like the one that Linden President Wenger pledged himself to complete...the riddance of outhouses from the village of Linden.

"There's only one left and just as soon as our sewers are completed, it's coming down", he promised.

A $2.2 million sewer program has the streets of Linden torn up, the village president reported. "We had to put the sewers right down the middle of the streets because of underground utilities on both sides"

His next assignment: a street paving program by special assessment.

His problems brought chuckles from sympathetic Northville officials who have been down the same road.

The informal, witty manner of the village president made him a hit with all who met him or watched him conduct a "council meeting" at City Hall, or speak to Rotarians.

Wenger became involved in government quite by accident. A village councilmember quit abruptly. Wenger was asked to fill out his term. He decided not to run for election, but was forced to when no one else filed for office.

He's still puzzled by the fact that 52 votes were cast when he ran unopposed, and he received 51 votes. He glanced towards his wife as he explained his curiosity about the identity of the lone voter who did not support him.

Mrs. Wenger smiled, the way a woman smiles when she knows something you don't know.

In the span of a few hours the communities of Northville and Linden became more closely linked. A new friendship, a mutual appreciation were born. The Wengers promised to come back...especially to see Carlo's track in action ("you don't have to bet", Carlo confided, and Wenger smiled).

What's Michigan Week all about? It's hospitality, pride, heritage, and all these were demonstrated Monday.

If you're ever in Linden, look up President Wenger. Ask him to see the old grain mill, that now houses village offices, a library, a historical museum. And look around and see if there's an outhouse still standing.

The most attractive and informative booklet I've ever seen on our state has been published by the Michigan Department of State. It is entitled "Know Your Michigan" and was produced by the Public Information Department headed up by Peter F. Bommarito.

Beautifully illustrated with reproductions from the oil paintings of Artist Robert Thom, the 32-page booklet covers important events in Michigan's history from 1608 through 1969.

Just released, the booklet will be distributed free at a later date to all Michigan public and private schools and libraries. Groups or individuals interested in obtaining copies may contact Peter F. Bommarito, Michigan Dept. of State, Public Information Office, Lansing, Michigan, 48918.

YES...

Realizing that there are well-meaning men and women representing both sides of the abortion issue, I will try not to reescalate the level of emotional rhetoric. Here are six observations:

1. "About 1 million illegal abortions are performed in the U.S. annually" (Newsweek, 4/13/70), resulting in an estimated 500 to 1,000 deaths. Abortions will continue; legalized abortions could have saved the lives of most of these women.

2. The belief that only unwed women seek abortions is statistically unfounded; and the belief that pregnancy serves both as deterrent and "punishment" for "immoral" sexuality can be seen as quite immoral itself.

3. Many commentators feel that the ability to live independently of the mother constitutes "person-ness" (i.e. at approximately the 24th week of pregnancy). This is not provable, but neither is it disprovable.

4. Among the rights of any child is the right to be loved, wanted, and well cared for.

5. Legalized abortion reserves to every woman the right to follow the moral dictates of her own conscience.

6. This issue is part of a larger problem. If we do not resolve the whole question of population, then the abortion issue may very shortly be academic.

Speaking for Myself

Abortion: Should It be Legalized?

Frances Caughey

NO...

Look at the child you did not kill. Could you kill him now? Do you really believe it is alright to kill the child, asleep within the womb, his hand trustingly in yours?

The mother should not be allowed to control the fate of the human living within the body nourished for her own mother. To make killing legal and intentional will not right the wrong of present illegal killing.

With better contraceptives, supposed needs for legal abortion will soon be non-existent: (1) illegal abortionists can be an evil of the past; (2) if contraceptives cannot solve over-population, how will abortion? From ideas, societies develop. We are used to the idea of killing. Many are now able to consider intentionally killing their own young. Value of life is lost in material demands of the aggressive.

The ideal of law (to protect the helpless) is lost in law contrived to serve the convenience of selfish people. There is dread foreboding in this and in proposed "safeguards (?) of the new law. Ex.: "No official or agent of government at any level shall urge, suggest, or attempt to require that a pregnancy be terminated under any circumstances." (Statement, Gov. Milliken, 3/17/70.)

Is this portent of future law changes giving the decision of individual life or death to powerful, organized groups? Unfortunately, mankind is able to rationalize regarding other, helpless, humans. We go up, or down, one step at a time.

Yesterday we began to control life that might have been today. Shall we kill life that is, but not yet able, to voice its urgent pleas. 'Keep me, alive, mother, keep me alive. Tomorrow (?) will it matter.

Fired Wixom Clerk Returns Fire

To the Editor:

When asked, during his campaign, if he intended to replace any city employees, Mayor Willis publicly stated that he intended to "investigate" all departments and dismiss only those he found guilty of wrongdoing. No investigations have been made, except possibly one incomplete, one started in the Police Department which, I believe, was dropped as soon as Chief McGuire left. On Monday, May 11, Mrs. Waara and I, in the presence of Robert Case, were told by Mayor Willis that we would not be reappointed. He said he had been threatened that if he did not reappoint us the whole city hall staff would walk out, and he did not like to be threatened. I pointed out that he was acting on what must only be a rumor since no such action had ever been advocated or asked for by either of us. I then asked if he had any complaints about my work and he said none whatsoever, on the contrary, he had only found it to be excellent and that I was very dedicated to the job. It was just that he had other people to appoint. Mrs. Waara asked the same question and the answer was the same. He gave us no opening to discuss the matter further and terminated the meeting.

I resent the implication of wrongdoing. My conscience is entirely clear and I can produce written and verbal confirmation that my work was above average and beyond reproach. Our recent salary dispute was strictly a matter of principal. I enjoyed my job and money was never uppermost in my mind. I felt that other employees with equal, and in some cases, less responsibility, had asked for and been granted increases to compensate for the higher rate of pay given the police chief, therefore Mrs. Waara and I only asked for equal consideration. Apparently, this may be one of the results of that "audacity".

There is not one person now working for the city whose familiar or experienced with all the many functions of the clerk's office, the building department, or the treasurer's office. This can only lead to chaos. The records will show that people are still employed by the city who have not performed their job well and have caused continuous dissension. Obviously, it's the old story of, "It's not what you know, but who you know." There is a real need for protection against dismissal without reason or recourse. There was absolutely no logic in his appointments. On what sound business principal were they based?

I believe there should be a charter revision initiated to prevent "little dictator" type of politically motivated decisions. I'm sure the many, many good people of Wixom assumed that any person elected by the majority would feel an obligation to place the "good of Wixom" uppermost in his mind. I feel that Mayor Willis has already violated that trust in fulfilling what obviously were campaign promises made to a few. The City of Wixom citizens must do something to protect the rights of their workers, or they will have a succession of untrained, unskilled people mishandling a complex and ever-increasing business. Pension plans, hospitalization, life insurance, etc. are fringe benefits designed for the sole purpose of encouraging good employees to remain and to discourage costly turnover and retraining. They are meaningless when one person has complete authority to hire and fire on any whim.

Says Schools Stifle Minds

To the Editor:

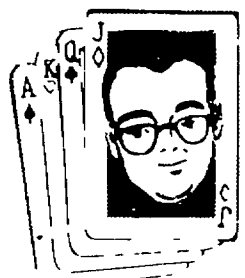

Most schools, in spite of their good intentions, do untold harm to most children. This is a sad and difficult thing to have to say, but there is no doubt in my mind that before he gets to school, virtually every child is an eager, curious, confident, competent learner. It is in school that he gets turned off. All little children are, ceaselessly active - looking, listening, tasting, touching, and trying out everything. As they take in information about the world and try to make sense out of it, they are tireless investigators and experimenters.

Eventually these curious, eager, energetic, wholly involved little people arrive at school. How are they treated there? For the most part, behind all the kind words, they are treated as if they are nitwits, lunatics, gangsters, or worse....As a matter of fact, school children are given less freedom to talk and move about than criminals in a maximum security prison.

Our educators assume a child will never recognize a mistake unless it is pointed out, and certainly never correct it unless he is made to do.

Our educators also assume that children will never learn anything of importance unless they are made to, that unless they do something exactly the way they are told to, they won't be

Open letter to Novi High School Principal Jerry Hartman:

You really knew how to hurt a guy when you bragged awhile back about the new hunting bow that your wife let you buy. Your comment that it is a real beauty but only suitable for honest to goodness hunters like yourself was a cutting blow, deliberately executed.

But what hurt most were the subsequent remarks of my wife when I suggested, as tactfully as possible, that since you had a new bow it would be only proper if I had one, too.

"Mine's old and worn out," I had pleaded, "and unless I get one I'll have a disadvantage when we go into the woods next fall."

"Jerry's a nice man," she had answered, "and maybe he needed a new one. But you don't need a new one because you're not getting one. Besides, what good would a new one do? You can't hit anything with the one you've got."

Like you she knows how to hurt a guy, too. Also, like you, she seems to ignore the fact that in our many years of hunting together you also drew a big fat zero.

It isn't often a guy like myself can avenge injustice so quickly but it happened, Mr. Robinhood, just last week.

What would you say if I told you that Friday morning I bagged one of the biggest, meanest animals you've ever seen? What if I said I shot it with my old, worn out bow?

Before you start laughing and saying things you may regret I suggest you talk to the woman in our house who is wandering around in the state of shock asking, "What in the world am I going to do with a 275-pound wild Russian boar?"

And I suggest you ring up Louie's Big Game Preserve over in Dexter where Hunting Guide Jack

BWANA HOFFMAN

Quigley, brother of Northville's Bill Quigley, will tell you how, despite the ferocious charge of this razor-tusked animal, I held my ground and brought him down with a bow and arrow - the first hunter ever to accomplish such a feat there.

(Incidentally, Jack's a former principal and, as you know, principals are truthful).

Or talk to Ed Stone of Northville who went along on this safari and witnessed it all.

Or call Fred Bear. I understand he may have my bow bronzed and placed in his factory showcase next to the one he used in bagging an African elephant. But don't call me...I'm expecting calls from Mort Neff and Jerry Chiappetta and I don't want the line tied up.

Although we obviously are no longer in the same class, I promise not to forget those like yourself who have not reached stardom - and perhaps never will - but I shall dedicate myself to teaching the rudiments of the hunt.

Let's begin next week with lesson one. Bring your new bow and your South Lyon contemporary, Calvin Kern, over to the house. While I show you how the bow and arrow works, you may eat some smoked Russian sausage - and, hopefully, choke on it.

Rips 'Surplus Teacher' Article

To the Editor:

During a time in education when communication between teaching staffs and superintendents is feeble at best, it is unfortunate that those responsible for the publishing of the educational article in the May 7 Northville Record have taken it upon themselves to further alienate these groups. The article referring to teacher surplus was alarmingly one sided. If there is an adequate supply of teachers, it is only due to the efforts of teacher negotiating teams working together with school boards to establish a strong attractive profession. To a group working to establish a sound education program in Northville, the article seemed to ignite an old fire that has burned too many times at the negotiating table. Good salaries will be necessary to attract good teachers whether a surplus does or does not exist. As teachers who are concerned with the quality of education we will work continuously to provide a profession to attract outstanding prospects to the field of education.

Robert J. Sharrar
President-Northville
Education Association

EDITOR'S NOTE—The article clearly credited improved salaries obtained through the efforts of teacher negotiating teams as being one of the factors accounting for the teacher surplus. It stands as a factual report of a condition that is existing for the first time in recent history...new graduates with teaching certificates who cannot find jobs. We feel confident that the teaching profession would be the last to suggest that such "history" should be distorted or go unreported even during the sensitive period of negotiations. The Record upholds the content of the article as accurate, unsalted and informative. We find the reaction of President Sharrar difficult to understand.

Al Smith Seeks GOP Senate Nod

Alfred W. Smith, 42-year-old political newcomer from Farmington Township, has jumped into the race for the Republican nomination for the State Senate seat presently held by Senator George Kuhn.

The primary election is August 4. Smith's announcement means he faces a stiff fight from Carl Pursell of Plymouth, who announced several weeks ago, and quite conceivable from the incumbent himself. Kuhn, however, has yet to formally announce his intention to seek re-election.

Seeking the Democratic nomination is Paul Kadish, 33-year-old Livonia resident.

Smith, who lives at 21016 Westfarm Lane in Farmington (Northville mailing address), is an employee of the Ford Motor Company. He has a BA degree from New York State University, a BS degree from the University of Buffalo, and an MA degree from the University of Michigan. He also has completed work towards a doctorate at Wayne State University.

Father of seven children, he is active in several youth programs in his community, is president of the Northwest Hockey Club, vice-president of the Gill Road School PTA, a director of the Detroit Skating Club, and an active member of several professional organizations.

AL SMITH

He served in the South Pacific during World War II and was in the Naval Reserves during the Korean conflict.

Smith is campaigning for——“More sophisticated” narcotic control and drug elimination program.

—Law and order, to include capital punishment for “cold blooded murder, police and firemen killers through criminal and riot acts.”

—Elimination of all taxes from food products “to enable large families to upgrade their diets through better and enriched foods.”

—Spending control and new tax bases instead of spending reform he sees new taxes coming from institutions that are now tax exempt, from a state lottery, a “little Las Vegas in the Upper Peninsula”, and from X-rated movies shown in the state.

Concerning college and university rioting, Smith maintains that a university is like a city and must have its own government, sovereignty and constitution to maintain a high level of education. He claims that “if school officials and college presidents continue to be kidnapped and the offenders go unpunished because it is for the social advancement, then rape the on the street would be for a social advancement and should go unpunished.”

He is against forced school integration, claiming that busing of school children, white or black, “is a sheer waste of taxpayers' money, lowers educational standards and causes unnecessary social controversy.”

First Baptist Plans Spring Bible Series

The First Baptist Church of Northville will begin its Spring Bible Conference Sunday with Dr. Lester Pipkin as the conference speaker and Bible teacher.

The Sunday meetings will be held at the regular church service hours, 11 A.M. and 7:30 P.M. There will be conference meetings Monday through Wednesday evenings at 7:30, and morning meeting Monday through Wednesday at 10 until 11.

A well-equipped and well-staffed nursery will be available for both morning and evening meetings to which the public is invited, said Reverend Cedric Whitcomb, pastor of the church.

Dr. Pipkin's morning topic will be, “Islands of Inspiration in Isaiah.” He is a former pastor and now the president of the Appalachian Bible Fellowship.

“Dr. Pipkin is an outstanding Bible Conference speaker and is a gifted preacher and expositor of the Word of God,” Reverend Whitcomb said.

able to do it at all. Educators decide WHAT he is to learn, WHEN he is to learn it, HOW he should go about learning, and then decide HOW WELL he is doing.

The child is given virtually no room for choice, judgment, initiative, or imagination. In effect the message in “What is important to you counts for nothing. The only things that count are what WE know, what WE care about, and what WE want.” In short the child's existence as a person is denied. He is treated like an empty jug into which his teachers intend to pour their skills, their learning, their attitudes, and their ideas. Whether for good or evil only the parents of an “educated” child can decide.

Naturally, treated thusly, our child any wonder they are “led” by uneducated drop-outs into drug abuse, campus rioting, and defiance of law and order. They follow so easily, and why not? They have been doing what they have been TOLD to do for so long, they have not been taught to investigate.

Parents are screaming, “How could this happen?” Well, our eager, happy five year olds go to school only to discover boredom and fear; to learn to be afraid of not having the right answer, afraid of what he can't understand and soon he learns that the best thing to do about anything new or strange is to have as little as possible to do with it. He learns how important it is to tell others whatever they want to hear. He learns to bluff the teacher into thinking he knows what he does not, simply because getting “A's” is so important to teachers and parents alike. He learns how to con someone else into doing for him what he does not think he can do for himself. (Or maybe he doesn't want to do it and he knows nobody really cares as long as the assignment is turned in on time). In does NOT gain a strong sense of who he is, let alone any idea that he may be a person of dignity, competence and worth. In time, most students consider themselves to be worthless lumps of raw material, fit only to be led. Is it other words, in the primary grades he learns to cheat. He cheats his teacher, his parents but more important, himself.

This sad game goes on for the next 10 or 12 years, day after day. Our children spend these years on self-protective and evasive strategies, fooling teachers every way they can, not knowing that they are limiting their own powers of learning and growth. Some children simply give up the business of learning altogether. Some do it openly by clowning and raising Cain, while others simply retreat into a world of their own and deny in their minds that school exists. These drop out as soon as possible to explore activities that too often lead them into trouble.

A certain number of youngsters rebel against this pressure, but by spending their energy in rebellion, they wind up no better off than the compliant children. It is indeed an exceptional child who can come through our public school system with some sense of his own identity and worth as an individual.

In some schools this is beginning to change but these schools are in the minority and will remain so until parents demand an education that respects the natural curiosity and desire for growth and understanding that is in every pre-school child. Then, and only then, our children will be discovering the way to their own identity. They will be too involved in their quest for learning to have time for rebellious and subversive activities. Their aims and goals will be too vivid and exciting and time consuming for ANY other time wasting activities to appeal to them.

What's YOUR opinion of Year-Round School?

- Northville Schools have tried to explain all the advantages and disadvantages
- We have surveyed 50% of the parents of school-age children and more than 100 business firms in the Detroit Metropolitan area.
- Now we want to provide an opportunity for persons not surveyed to express their opinion.

We are going to conduct an advisory opinion poll at the Annual School Election, June 8. The question will be stated in the following words.

If educational and economic advantages become evident, would you cooperate with the Board of Education in implementing a full year (Quarterly Sessions) school program in the Northville Public Schools?

This advisory vote on June 8 is part of our continuing study of the feasibility of year-round school for Northville. It will help us determine community attitudes based on what is known today and help us determine if these attitudes have changed since our survey of six months ago. It should be emphasized that the results of this survey are not binding on the Board of Education. No decision will be made until the results of four separate stages of the study have been completed. These include:

These include:

1. Full analysis of our community survey.
2. Consideration of the out come of the June 8 advisory vote
3. Pre-registering and scheduling of each child into a typical year-round situation, to see how it would work and how satisfied you would be.
4. Determining where the funds would come from—state or federal sources—to convert to year-round operation.

At the conclusion of these four stages a definite decision on year-round schools can be made. Your cooperation in helping us gather this necessary information will be greatly appreciated

In Flint Track Regional

Wildcats Shatter Three Records

Novi shattered three school records and qualified three men for state final competition Saturday as Coach Hanert's track team took a 19 point fifth place in class 'C' regional competition at Flint.

Two other meets, a 61-57 win over arch-rival South Lyon last week and a 65-53 defeat at the hands of Dexter on Monday, left the Wildcats standing 4 and 3 in dual meets, and 5 and 3 overall.

Breaking his own record of 20' 11 1/2" in the high jump was John Davey with a first place effort of 21' 3". Davey chalked up the record for the 100 yard dash at 10.5 a tenth of a second better than the previous mark. Dan McGarry's mile time of 4:44.2 which qualified him for the state finals this Saturday, was also a record breaker — three seconds better than the previous best time.

Qualification for the state finals to be held at Central Michigan University meant the Wildcats had to place in the top three of any event or deliver a qualifying time.

Besides Davey and McGarry, Syd Chapman, who took third in the high hurdles with a time of 16.1, also made the competition.

Other notable times came from Tom Boyer, who turned in a fourth place in the high jump at 5' 9", and Jim Wilenius, who did a 22.5 turn through the low hurdles to place fifth.

The mile relay team of Tom Boyer, Brad Burnham, Dan McGarry, and Larry Eggleston, turned in a fifth place 3:43.8, while the 880 squad of Tom Karch, Jim Wilenius, Pat Boyer, and Dave St. John also grabbed fifth place with their time of 1:43.5.

Novi was pressed by South Lyon Saturday but the Wildcats managed to come away with five firsts and nine seconds in notching the home track victory.

The wet day didn't seem to slow down Hanert's squad, particularly Davey who piled-up 16 points in the overall competition, or Steve Lukkari and Steve Coon, both of whom tied for pole vault honors at 10 feet. Neither had ever seen that height before.

Davey took first in both the shot put and the long jump, scoring his longest jump of the year at 20 feet, 8 1/2 inches, as well as second in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

From its victory over South Lyon, Novi went down to defeat at home against Dexter Monday. The thincad's four firsts came from Davey in the long jump, with 19' 9 1/2", and the 100 yard dash, with 10.9, Steve Lukkari in the pole vault at 5' 8" and McGarry in the mile run with 5:01.7.

Another close win for the Wildcats came at the expense of the Northville JVs who took it on the chin, 55-54, dropped one point behind a Novi score at Northville last week.

Novi's Pat Boyer had a day in the clouds as his first attempt at competitive long jumping carried him 19 feet into first place, and a 5 foot, 6 inch high jump secured him second place.

The Wildcats will travel to South Lyon today for the Southeastern Conference Meet.

Golfers Place 9th In Regional Meet

Northville competed against 12 teams to capture ninth place in the regional class 'B' golf tournament in Brighton Friday.

The local golfers shot 342, just two strokes out of a two-way tie for seventh place between Albion and Jackson Northwestern.

Coach Al Jones paired veteran seniors Jim Penrod and Ken Neish with freshmen John Hlohenic and Chris Tomas in the state competition. It marked the first time Northville freshmen had played in state competition, the coach said, "and I'm really happy with them."

Neish and Penrod, with this best round of the year at 79, Penrod was one stroke off with an 80. Hlohenic came in with 90 and Tomas shot 93.

Lansing O'Rafferty captured the regional title with a 311 score, followed by Chippewa Valley at 322, and Brighton at 327.

Holt (333), Mason (335), and Lansing Gabriel (336) took the next three positions.

Lansing O'Rafferty's Phil Klebba fired a 74 to take class B medalist honors.

The Mustangs traveled to the Pontiac Country Club Monday to place 17th in the invitational sponsored by the Pontiac Press. The Mustang foursome of Neish, Penrod, Ed Zywiec, and Hlohenic shot a 346 with individual scores of 84, 85, 88 and 89, respectively.

Northville trailed West Bloomfield's record setting pace by 36 strokes. Bloomfield's 310 was five strokes under the previous best.

The Mustangs claimed their second straight victory as they took the Andover Barons for a 179 - 181 ride across their home links Thursday afternoon. Victory was particularly sweet as it almost exactly turned the tables on an earlier defeat handed the Mustangs by their Bloomfield Hills rivals.

The contest was razor close, Northville taking it by only three strokes, and emerging with an average score of 45.

Northville's identical low scores were 42, carded by Jim Penrod, and Ed Zywiec. John Hlohenic followed up with a 47, and Andy Walters closed with a 48.

Andover's scoring round ran: 43, 44, 45, and 49. Penrod, absent for the Mustangs last bout with Milford, was tops for his third consecutive match.

Novi Takes Sixth Place

Novi's linksters claimed sixth place in the Southeastern Conference meet Monday at Dundee, carding a combined score of 368.

Wildcat Les Branch took medalist honors for the day, firing a 77 in a field of 40 golfers. Branch split 18 holes 38 and 39.

Coach John Osborne's squad trailed meet winner Chelsea by 22 strokes, and finished behind Dexter (351), Dundee (355), Milan (359), and Saline (364).

Dennis Fritz carded an 84, followed by Dan Massman at 93 and Roger Johr with a 114 for the Wildcats.

Although Chelsea won the tournament, third place Dundee took the overall league championship. The championship is based on dual meets and no one could touch Dundee's 13-1 record.

Novi's showing, particularly that of Branch, represented "lots of improvement," noted the coach.

The team shot a 429 at the state regional meet Friday at Brighton, far off Lansing O'Rafferty's winning 311 pace. Branch was low for Novi with a 94.

Novi closes its season this week and next with two matches against Northville. One, at home, is tomorrow, the other, in Northville, Monday.

Novi Bats Can't Stop Saline

Novi's battery banged out 10 hits Thursday — one more than Saline — but lost 9-6 to the Hornets in a game marred by four costly errors.

Paul Chamberlain started for the Wildcats, but was lifted in the fifth after striking out three and giving up eight hits and four walks.

Relief pitcher Steve Bosak gave up one hit and three walks.

Novi scored once in the second inning, came up with a pair in the sixth, and got three in the seventh. Saline scored a pair in the first, second, fifth and sixth innings and once in the third.

The Wildcats were plagued by defensive mistakes throughout the game, leaving a total of nine men on base. They had trouble throwing runners out, allowing all nine Saline runs on eight singles, a double and five stolen bases.

A rally in the seventh netted the Wildcats three runs and it chased Saline's pitcher, Dennis Bishop, from the mound.

"We just didn't get them when we needed them," lamented Coach Fred Gerhardt.

It's Sign up Time For Summer Fun

Northville's summer recreation program, which promises to be the biggest in history, moves close to kickoff time Saturday when registrations begin.

Recreation Director Robert Prom, in announcing the registration schedule, said he expects between 500 and 600 boys and girls to sign up for a host of summer activities.

SPORTS BANQUET—A near capacity crowd was on hand last week Wednesday as the Northville Boosters hosted their second annual All Sports Banquet at Northville High School. Dozens of young athletes, including varsity cheerleaders, drew praise from their coaches and were awarded citations for sports accomplishments this past year. Capturing the top award—the coveted Athlete of the Year trophy—was Senior Fred Holdsworth, right, center, son of the high school principal, shown here accepting the award from last year's winner, Fred Hicks, with guest speaker Lofton Greene (left), Rouge basketball mentor and winningest coach in Michigan, and Booster President B.R. Bach. On hand again to add his colorful plaudits and humor was Toastmaster Andy Bertoni. Receiving a surprise bouquet of flowers from the Boosters was Mrs. Marie Knapp, who headed up the kitchen staff that prepared the buffet dinner. Young Holdsworth was picked for the top award on the basis of his outstanding performance on and off the field in baseball, basketball and football. Recipient of a baseball scholarship to the University of Michigan, he plans to study to become a math teacher.

Mustangs Thump Wolves; Two Away from W-O Title

The conference title is still up for grabs as Northville's varsity nine clashes with Clarenceville today and closes out the season next week against Bloomfield Hills Andover in a makeup game.

Northville is still leading the Wayne-Oakland League pack by a half game but Milford is breathing down the Mustangs' necks and bent on claiming at least a share of the league crown.

If the Mustangs should win their final two games and the Redskins their final three contests, the two teams would share the title with identical 12-2 records. A loss by either would push the loser into second place.

Milford, which crushed West Bloomfield Monday 9-2, plays Brighton today, Kettering on Saturday and Clarkston Tuesday.

Northville, originally scheduled to take on Andover last Thursday but forced into a makeup by rain, waltzed past Clarkston here Monday, 10-2, to keep their narrow lead intact. In their first encounter last month, the Wolves fell, 9-4.

The Mustangs' ace hurler, Fred Holdsworth, fanned 13 batters and gave up just three hits while he and his teammates were banging 10 hits, including a double off the bat of Terry Mills.

The Wolves bounced back in the top of the fifth to knot the score at two runs, but Mustang bats exploded in their half-of the inning producing six runs on five hits, a walk, two stolen bases, and two errors.

In the sixth, Northville added two insurance runs to close out the scoring. Northville had scored its opening run in the first and added its second tally in the third.

Carrying the big stick for Northville's battery was Holdsworth, who cracked two singles in four trips.

Each of the remaining eight hits were collected by different Northville batsmen.

Coach Chuck Shonta's title-bent squad will be out to avenge an earlier 3-1 loss to Clarenceville's Trojans when they meet today.

Next week's make up game with Andover isn't likely to be an easy one. Bloomfield would like nothing better than to sidetrack Northville's championship run by avenging its April 25 loss (3-1) to the Mustangs.

Novi's Lee Snow Shines

Pitcher Lee Snow of Novi has sparked in a relief role for the Raiders of Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College.

The Raiders have posted a 1-3 record in the Western Division of the Michigan Community College Athletic Association.

In five innings of relief, Snow hasn't yielded a hit, and coach Tom McPhillips says the youngster has been one of the pleasant surprises among freshman players.

When he isn't trying to put out a fire, Snow holds down the first base position.

Snow and his teammates were slated to play a doubleheader Thursday at Dearborn Henry Ford and then take on Flint in a twinbill Saturday on the Southfield High School diamond. The first game is slated to start at 1 p.m.

Another hurler on the Raiders' squad from the Novi area is Chuck O'Brien of Walled Lake.

McPhillips says he believes O'Brien, a sophomore right-hander, will come around when the weather warms up. He said the team had played only four games because of the weather. "We really haven't an opportunity to work," says McPhillips.

Finishes 4th in Regional Northville Defeats 19 Track Teams

Northville's thinclads placed fourth out of a field of 23 in the regional meet at Clarenceville Saturday as John Stuyvenberg qualified for state competition.

The Mustangs' individual showing was "excellent," according to Coach Ralph Redmond, who described the meet as "the toughest class 'B' regional held in the state."

Redmond's squad finished behind Ecorse, Lutheran West, and East Catholic with a score of 19 1/2. Winner

Ecorse was "real strong," said Redmond, "although the other teams also proved plenty tough."

Star of the day for the local contingent was Stuyvenberg, who streaked to a first in the 220 yard dash with a time of 22.5, a first in the long jump with a leap of 22' 2 1/2", and a second in the 100 yard dash at 10.1.

Stuyvenberg beat out statewide third ranker Oscar Suddarth in the 220 and ran second to him in the 100. He had little competition in the long jump beating his nearest rival by three feet.

Stuyvenberg was the only Mustang to come out of the regionals headed for the state finals at Michigan State University beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Other placers were Jim Armstrong, who notched a fourth place at 11' 6" in the pole vault, and Rick Bell, who took fifth in the two mile run with a time of 10.15.

To qualify for state competition, the Mustangs had to place among the top three in any event or come up with a qualifying score. Northville's 880 team missed the qualifying mark by three tenths of a second. Clocking at 1.33.8, they had to have 1:33.5.

Last week Tuesday was a great one for Redmond's trackmen. Their long-time rivals, West Bloomfield, ventured into Mustang territory and were trounced 70 to 48. The Mustangs slammed the 100 and the 220 yard dashes and the long jump to complete a record of five firsts and eight seconds. Stuyvenberg took first in the 100, the 220 and the long jump. Other firsts were notched by Pickren in the high jump with a 5' 8" leap, and by Dave Wright in the 440 yard dash with a time of 53.5. Northville also took the 880 yard relay in 1:34.9 with Jim Carter, Jim Darnell, Dave Mitchell and Stuyvenberg carrying the baton.

High consistency showed up in performance, particularly in the high jump, the 440 yard dash, and in the half mile, said Redmond.

The Mustangs will be looking forward to their last league meet of the season at Milford next Wednesday. Eight teams will be in contention and Redmond's squad has what he calls "a dark horse chance" of coming out on top.

A wet track and a lot of opposing talent spelled bad news for Cooke Junior High Thursday as the local thinclads fell 60-49 to Hilbert Junior High.

Seventh Grader Tom Marzone had a good day, claiming two of his team's four first places, in the 60 and 100 yard low hurdles. Jim Porterfield had the junior high's best put in three years, 37' 7 1/2", to claim a first place, but he missed the junior high record by 5' 4 1/2". Township Question Answered

Northville Road Completion At Least Two Years Away

The following letter was sent in reply to an inquiry from Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg seeking information on the completion of the improvement of Northville road (between Northville and Plymouth).

The question came up for discussion at the township annual meeting in April.

Dear Sir:

Please be advised that the first project in the long-range program for the improvement of Northville Road was the re-design of the curve south of Seven Mile Road. This necessitated the construction of a new bridge, which, in anticipation of future traffic demands was constructed to accommodate a four-lane pavement.

Since this first project, four of the remaining bridges have been widened. This was done because the parapets were badly deteriorated, their position with respect to the 20-foot roadway offered a serious interference to traffic, and, as previously stated, future traffic demands warrant a four-lane pavement.

There remains one major project, that of correcting horizontal and vertical alignment at the lower end of Phoenix Lake. When this is accomplished, it will be possible to consider widening Northville Road for its entire length.

Although the traffic volume on Northville Road is high enough to justify widening, it is not nearly as high as on other roads on which we are presently committed. For example, Five Mile and Middle Belt have three times as much traffic as Northville Road, and Cherry Hill Road has twice as much.

At present funds for primary road construction are very limited. As you are aware, the Board just recently had to borrow $20,000,000 for this purpose through a bonding program. The improvement of Northville Road was not included in this program and is not scheduled in the current two year construction program.

Yours truly,
Board of Wayne County
Road Commissioners

implement part of that plan — including restoration of bus service in the Northville area — with money proposed in the governor's aid package. Without the money the plan is worthless, he said, and SEMTA becomes an organization in name only. Most of its staff will have to be dismissed, he added.

Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara voiced the position of many of those in attendance when he asked why, in the interest of solving the local crisis immediately, representatives of the Detroit Street Railway (DSR) has not been invited to the meeting by Kuhn. DSR, he reasoned, offers the best immediate solution since it already operates suburban lines (including one into Livonia).

Wayne County Commissioner Carl Pursell pointed out that two weeks ago he asked DSR to consider extending its Plymouth run west to Sheldon Road, south to Seven Mile, and then east through Northville and Livonia. That proposal is now under study by DSR.

Pursell asked Bianco to give his support to this plan as a more immediate solution to the local problem.

Also, it was pointed out that a contract between DSR and SEMTA, which would give SEMTA management over operation of DSR suburban bus service, should come up for a Detroit Common Council vote soon.

Another alternative was offered by Buchanan, who owns the bus company at Lansing, when he suggested that his own company or some other private bus firm probably would come in over night if some assurance could be made that it would be a profitable operation. What he meant was subsidization by local governments and businesses.

Northville City Attorney Frank Ollendorff indicated the city council probably would consider some form of subsidization — but only after it were given details of the service to be offered, cost, bus fees, scheduling, etc. A spokesman for Sears & Roebuck in the Livonia Mall concurred, pointing out that there is no reason to doubt that such service could be profitable without subsidization if the service rendered was satisfactory.

Based on one bus making one hour stops over a 10-hour period, subsidization could run from $60 to $120 a day, it was estimated.

Spread over two or three local governing bodies and contributing businesses, this daily cost, said Kuhn, may be a worthwhile investment for a six-month trial period.

No decisions were made Tuesday.

'Day in May' Called Success

Sue Deisley, chairman of the recent "Day in May" cleanup project, announced this week that the project was a distinct success.

"Our group completed the Northville area by filling dozens of garbage bags full of non-returnable bottles, candy wrappers, plastic bags and dirty papers," she said. "Local participation was great. We had bags and bags to empty, and people offered their facilities to help us dispose of them."

"Our purpose," she explained, "was to demonstrate in a constructive way our concern for our environment, to dramatize the pollution threat, and to focus public attention and support on the anti-pollution legislation being sponsored in the Michigan Legislature."

The chairman of the youths, extended appreciation to "those this great effort and hard work that made May 9th such a great success. Without their help, the day would have been a failure."

but Kuhn called for Monday's meeting "to keep on top" of the local problem and the "far reaching" one involved with the governor's aid package. He and Bianco indicated that the fate of that package and that of SEMTA itself should be known by the weekend or early next week.

Meanwhile, citizens and officials were urged to write their legislators asking their support of the $2.5 million package.

predecessor's work. But now I'm not given the same privilege."

If for no other reason than to safeguard the city and the new treasurer such an accounting should be made, she said.

"I'm not so concerned about losing my job as I am over the fact that the mayor is resorting to the old spoils systems. It's pure and simple a political move," Mrs. Waara said.

Concerning a report that the mayor may have dismissed Mrs. Thorsberg because she is not a resident of Wixom (she lives in Commerce Township, one half mile north of the Wixom boundary), Mrs. Thorsberg asked, "if that's the case why did he appoint Virginia (Zancanella) to replace me? She lives in Dearborn Heights."

The ex-building inspector also is a non-resident, living in Walled Lake.

According to Calvert, his successor — Kenneth Carothers — has no license to show that he is professionally qualified. Carothers, however, told this newspaper that while he has no license, none is required and that he once was a carpenter and is familiar with the building trade. Inspection of electrical and plumbing projects, he said, would not be handled by himself but "probably by an outside firm."

Pancake Breakfast Attracts 255 Here

More than 225 persons were served at the pancake breakfast recently under the sponsorship of Scout Troop 731 at the VFW Hall.

First prize for the most tickets served went to Frank Brown. Second prize was won by Pete Rozelle, and third prize by last year's winner, Kevin Hartshorne. Of the 295 tickets sold, Frank sold 43.

The efforts of these Scouts as well as several others, plus the response by the public made it a "tremendously successful" project, Publicity Chairman Harry Hartshorne said.

The troop is planning a canoe trip for the weekend of May 22, 23, 24. Unfortunately, this coincides with the bake sale but it is anticipated that both will be well attended. The canoe trip on the Rifle River is usually the most popular Scout activity. Many fathers usually participate.

The bake sale will be held May 23-24 as part of the Antique Fair to be held at Northville Downs.

Troop 731 also will be represented at the annual Scoutorama to be held at the State Fairgrounds. Assistant Scoutmaster Ned Steel is preparing a first aid show demonstrating life-saving techniques. Hours of the show will be Friday, June 5 (7-10 p.m.), Saturday, June 6 (1-10 p.m.), and Sunday, June 7 (1-5 p.m.).

On Saturday, May 9, the troop cleaned up Seven Mile Road from Northville Road to Clement as its contribution to local beautification efforts.

REV. ADDISON WRIGHT - ST. JOHN'S RECTOR

SEMINARIANS ATTEND CLASS IN STREET CLOTHES

Today Seminarians Enjoy Open Campus

Catholic Seminary: 'Prison' Atmosphere Disappears

If you're a middle aged alumnus who raises an eyebrow over the revolutionary changes at the old alma mater, consider then the shock of the middle-aged priest who returns to his theological campus to find girls visiting seminarians in their rooms.

Martin Luther's demonstration couldn't have been much more startling.

Yet, the change in today's seminary is as real as it is on the college campus, and for the young (he's not quite 38) rector at St. John's Provincial Seminary near Northville the change is "fantastic...a great improvement."

Reverend Addison G. Wright, the Sulpician priest who heads up this seminary for the five Catholic dioceses in Michigan, is in an excellent position to assess the change: he taught theology at St. John's during the 1958-59 school year, then left to return a decade later to take the helm.

And it's been in the past 10 years that most of the revolutionary changes have occurred at St. John's and other seminaries across the nation.

"The distance we've covered in those 10 years, particularly in the past five, hasn't been easy; it's been a real battle because so many have resisted changing the values they grew up loving," he explains. "Unfortunately, many of those values were superficial. Young men were offended by them. They began asking 'why?' and 'is it justified?' and 'what good purpose does it serve?'"

"Meaningless values were challenged, and it has resulted in a wave of personalism in our seminaries."

The day of the monastery-like rules and regulations that forced seminarians to march to classes on signal, to eat in silence, to perform like robots is dead, he declares, "thank God for that." Today, seminarians live in an "open campus" atmosphere, not a prison, he says.

St. John's is not unique in this respect.

But its very existence is unique among United States Catholic seminaries. It represents the first successful instance when the bishops of the dioceses of an ecclesiastical province (Michigan makes up such a province) united their authority in order to establish a seminary for the training of their future priests.

It is the first provincial seminary of its kind in the nation.

St. John's is not an old institution, however. Under the leadership of the late Edward Cardinal Mooney, construction of the impressive Spanish-like buildings on the 187-acre site was begun on March 17, 1948. The cornerstone was laid by Cardinal Mooney himself on October 10 of the same year, and a year later he dedicated the seminary in the presence of his associate bishops of the province and more than 500 priests.

The five dioceses of Michigan are headquartered at Detroit, Lansing, Saginaw, Marquette and Grand Rapids. The archbishop of Detroit together with the bishops of the other four dioceses constitute the board of governors.

Education and training of the seminarians is entrusted to the Sulpician Fathers, a society of diocesan priests, specially trained for and exclusively engaged in seminary work. It is from the ranks of this society that most of the instructors come, although not all instructors are Sulpician priests. Indeed, today one of the part-time instructors at St. John's is a Lutheran minister.

Primary purpose of the seminary, of course, is to train young men to become priests. The scope of the training at St. John's has been widened, however, to include non-resident instruction for nuns, laymen, and even non-Catholic clergymen. Recently, a "pep-up" program for priests was launched.

The resident seminarian that comes to St. John's has already completed his secondary education and has earned at least a bachelor of arts degree at some college or university. He is usually 21 years old or older.

A candidate for the seminary is recommended by the diocese from which he comes; the young man does not apply for admission directly to the seminary. The cost of his training is paid for by his home diocese, which shares the cost of operating St. John's with the other four dioceses on the basis of the number of seminarians it has in training there.

When St. John's was launched 21 years ago, the idea that seminarians necessarily must be cut off from Anti-Malnutrition Program Announced by Kroger Co.

The Kroger Co. has announced a major program designed to help fight malnutrition and provide more nutritious products for the consumer's food dollar.

The program will be in four phases:

-All white flour used in Kroger's ten regional bakeries serving 1500 supermarkets will be enriched with riboflavin (Vitamin B-2), thiamin (Vitamin B-1), niacin and iron in accordance with the standards of identity established by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Kroger, which produces in excess of 300,000,000 pounds of baked goods a year, is the 10th largest baker in the United States. The new program means that the company's enrichment program will be broadened to include some 230 additional food items baked by Kroger which were not previously enriched. Kroger is the first food retailer and baker in the United States to take this step, which was recommended by several panels of the White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health.

-In addition, outside food manufacturers who pack Kroger private brand products are being contacted regarding the use of enriched flour in Kroger products. This group includes such items as cake mixes and refrigerated biscuits, which are among several dozen products using white flour which are packed for Kroger by other food manufacturers.

-Low-cost, nutritionally-balanced recipes and menus will be featured in newspaper food advertising to help educate consumers concerning better diets for their families.

-Research into the development of entirely new food products which are high in nutrition has been instituted.

Kroger's broadened enrichment program will now include such items as snack crackers, sweet rolls, cakes, doughnuts...and even ice cream cones. The move recognizes the changing eating patterns of the 1970's and brings the benefits of enrichment to the broadest possible group of consumers. Previously, only white bread and roll items had been enriched.

In making the announcement, B. D. Reusser, vice president of the company's baked goods division, said: "This major step to improve the nutritional intake of all consumers has been under consideration for some time. The final decision came after evaluation of mounting evidence of persistent malnutrition in the United States at every economic level."

Nutritional studies have indicated a steadily-dropping percentage of Americans who are consuming proper diets.

For example, the U. S. Department of Agriculture conducted nutritional surveys in 1955 and again 10 years later. By 1965, only 50 per cent of Americans were consuming diets which provided as much as two-thirds of the recommended daily allowance of nutrients - a drop of 10 per cent. Evidence is that this problem is growing each year.

The White House Conference in Washington last December identified problem areas and made recommendations on how to alleviate them.

The food and nutrition experts from throughout the country who gathered for the Conference reported that:

-Malnutrition in the U.S. is not confined to low-income groups, but extends to the affluent as well.

-Private industry should take immediate steps to provide foods with a higher nutritional content for consumers.

-Food companies should begin by improving the nutritional qualities of those foods which people enjoy and are accustomed to eating.

-Changing eating patterns of the American public should also be recognized. Snacks and sweet goods are forming a large part of the cereal portion of the diet of many consumers, particularly young people and the poor.

Kroger's experience bears out the Conference conclusions in this area, Reusser said. Eighty-five per cent of the newly-enriched bakery items fall into the snack and sweet goods category.

Reusser pointed out that Kroger has produced enriched white bread and rolls since 1941, when current standards of enrichment were formulated.

At that time, white bread was chosen as the vehicle for enrichment because it is a basic food, and was considered probably the most universally consumed food throughout the country.

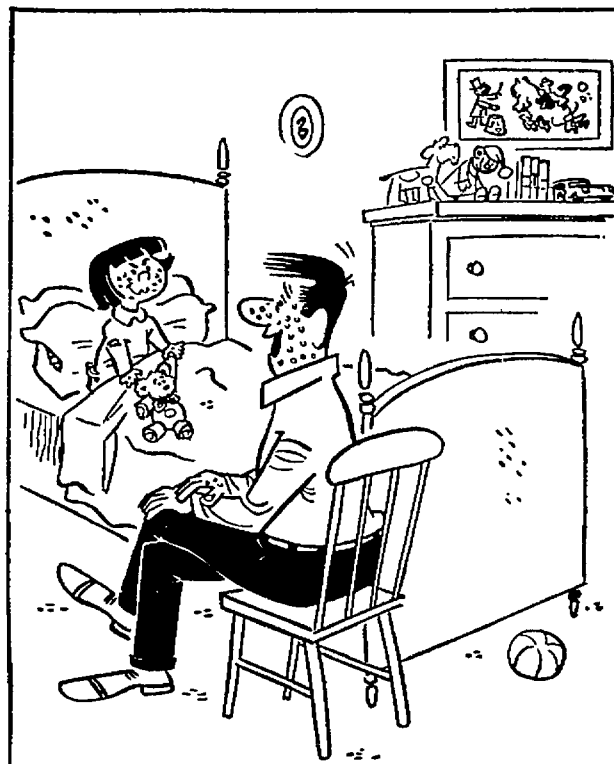

The use of enriched flour and bread has been credited with virtual elimination of such deficiency diseases as pellagra, which was prevalent in the United States as late as the 1930's.

The recipe and menu program, which will be made available throughout Kroger's 23-state area, has been planned to emphasize meals that are well-balanced and nutritional and make them more attractive to homemakers.

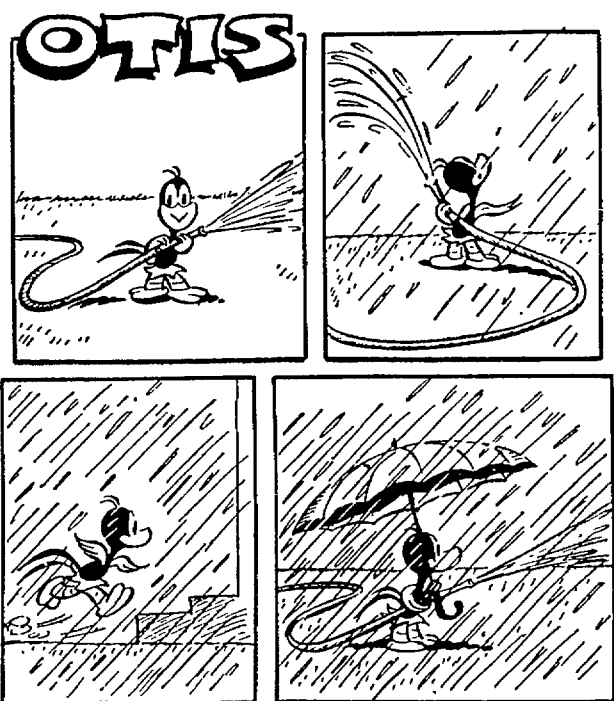

Menus and recipes were planned around the U. S. Department of Agriculture "Smart Shopper" releases (based on plentiful foods) and the "Low Cost Cookery" series developed by Hunt-Wesson Foods, Inc. (using U.S.D.A. recommendations).

Kroger, third largest food retailer in the nation, has operated bakeries since before the turn of the century. B. H. Kroger, who founded the company in Cincinnati in 1883, has been recognized as the first grocer to operate his own bakeries to supply his stores.

"worldly sources of temptations" was a built-in part of training. He had to be isolated, trained in an "ideal atmosphere" that placed heavy emphasis on discipline. It was for this reason many seminaries, such as St. John's, were erected far from the influences of societies.

"That's why," explains Father Wright, "many seminaries are located way out in the boondocks. It's difficult to find them even if you know where they are."

"I Don't Know, I Just Don't Know"

Rev. W. Herbert Glenn
First United Methodist Church
Brighton

Now that it is spring, I've had time to think at great length about an event which happened last Christmas Eve at Howell, Michigan after the Peace march. On my way back to my car, I was joined by a very curious and inquisitive college student. He was not particularly long-haired, nor did his dress indicate that he was "strange" in any way.

"Are you a Christian minister?"
"Yes."
"May I ask you some questions?"
"Surely."
"Didn't Jesus tell us, 'Thou shalt not kill'?"

"Yes, he did and he was quoting from the commandments, but he even went further than that. He told his disciples 'If you are angry with your brother you shall be liable to judgement'" (Matt. 5:21)

"Didn't Jesus try to teach us to love other people and help them, heal them, and teach them and stuff like that?"

"Yes that seemed to be the thrust of his whole life."

"Well, aren't Christians supposed to follow his teachings?" And here, I couldn't help but notice his frustration and confusion caused by the small number of marchers. I said,

"Yes, but you've got to remember that Christians are people and people are sinners and even the most ardent Christian can and often does let his sinful nature — his animal, jungle nature — overcome his life. I wish they could understand love, mercy, and understanding and doing good rather than hate and harm, too; but most of us, without Christ as our constant helper, seem to believe that force, and killing and economic power are the only things that will save us."

"These are our idols and our false gods. And as a result we are almost always afraid. But the Christians who seem to have learned to live also seem to have learned to say God is the creator, and sustainer and source of all love, energy and matter — the indestructibles. If we do things God's way, as Christ taught, instead of our way, then, we shall have a new birth of freedom as individuals and as a people. We won't have to kill anymore because we are no longer afraid of the unknown which God controls. We shall enjoy even complicated lives because we trust in him."

"Well how come," he asked, "there aren't but only two of you Christian ministers and so few church people in this peace march tonight?"

And with teeth chattering because the question chilled me deeper than the wind that caused my eyes to water at that moment until the lower eyelid over-flowed, I could only answer, "I don't know, I just don't know."

And I thought what a great young person he is, and how tragic that the examples we live as church people had so confused him instead of strengthened him for life today.

GOOD NEWS

"Too good to believe!" Sometimes we receive news so joyous that we are almost afraid to accept it — the birth of a child, a crisis past, a successful business venture. Yet the greatest good news that can be ours, we often take for granted and lose the profound joy of it.

What if we had never heard the message which the Christian Church proclaims? What if we knew nothing of a Saviour who died that all men might be forgiven, who gives us the assurance of everlasting life!

If this good news were revealed to us suddenly, we might well say, "It's so good that it's hard to believe." But it has been verified by countless millions of believers in all lands, through many generations. We accept it in our own hearts, and the confirmation becomes personal.

We know, then, that in the Christian Church we hear the best news that has ever come to the human race.

By ROLLY PETERSON

"Mark Thridge, now retired from the Louisville Courier Journal, used to say, 'I like an editor with fire in his guts.'"

"To this I would add the ingredients of wisdom, perception, understanding, compassion and sound judgment."

The man I have quoted in the above two paragraphs needs no introduction to people in the Detroit metropolitan area who keep abreast of what's happening by reading newspapers.

Those comments were made by John S. Knight, editorial chairman of Knight newspapers, in his extended Sunday editorial which he writes every week.

Winner of a Pulitzer prize, Knight speaks out every Sunday in a lucid and candid manner, addressing himself to the problems that beset a nation and extracting nuggets of truth from a welter of propaganda and facts that can confuse those less perceptive.

That Knight can comment cogently week after week on major issues is indeed amazing, especially to journalists who know the oppression of the typewriter and the demands of time.

Last Sunday's "Knight's Notebook" which appeared on the editorial page of the Detroit Free Press was no less apt and bold. It was an excerpt of his speech at Ohio University and dealt with the role of the press.

"The role of the press vis-a-vis the government is essentially that of eternal vigilance," wrote Knight. "The struggle in behalf of a free and responsible press is, as Alexander Hamilton said in his defense of John Peter Zenger, a cause to secure 'the liberty both of exposing and opposing arbitrary power by speaking and writing the truth.'"

Knight was speaking, to be sure, of the bureaucratic federal government which more clearly defies scrutiny by a vigilant press. But his words aren't wasted on state and local government, either.

Then he sets down a list of responsibilities that a courageous press must assume. They are liable to boggle the mind of the weekly newspaper journalist, but Knight would probably maintain that they apply with equal validity to all journalists.

—Expose corruption, both in public and private affairs.

—Interpret social change—fearlessly and honestly.

—Maintain the sanctity of an accurate news report.

—Uphold the view of Judge Harold Medina that of "all the constitutional rights, the freedoms of speech and assembly are the most perishable, yet the most vital, to the preservation of American democracy."

—Preserve the right of dissent, remembering that while history has been filled with attacks upon dissenters, there were also moments when dissent led to change, and where speaking out in an unpopular cause has shifted the nation's course by changing the persuasion of its citizens.

Michigan Mirror

Five Parties Vie for August Votes

THE TWO MAJOR political parties will be receiving 99 per cent of the attention between now and November, but Michigan voters will be choosing between five parties when they ballot Nov. 3.

In addition to the Republican and Democratic parties, candidates will be listed from the American Independent Party, the Socialist Workers Party and Socialist Labor Party.

All five were on the 1968 ballot, so they won't be totally unfamiliar to voters, especially the American Independent Party, which was created by former Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Two other parties which were on the ballot in 1968 will be off this year, however. They are the New Politics Party and the Prohibition Party. Neither tried to get on the ballot.

MINORITY PARTIES must gain at least 1 per cent of the votes cast for the successful Secretary of State to automatically qualify for a spot on the general election without collecting new qualifying petitions.

Since the American Independent Party drew 331,968 votes last election, it qualified for both the primary and general elections and did not have to file qualifying petitions.

That vote total was the most by a third party ever in Michigan. The previous high was by the Bull Moose Party in 1912, when it accumulated 152,909 votes.

THE 1968 ELECTION marked an all-time low for the Prohibition Party, which bills itself as "America's oldest third party."

They collected only 60 votes for president, marking the low point in a decline which set in after they picked up 13,052 votes for president in 1948.

Each presidential year since then the party has received fewer and fewer votes.

The last time it ran a candidate for governor was in 1960, when its candidate drew 2,183 votes.

THE MOST minor parties to appear on a Michigan ballot came in the Depression Era.

In 1932, 1936 and 1938 there were six minor parties in addition to the two major ones.

They included the Socialist, Socialist Labor, American, Commonwealth, Protestants United and Square Deal parties, all of which were on the 1938 ballot.

In 1932 the Proletarian Party, the Communist Party both made an appearance on the ballot. It was the biggest showing for the Communist Party in Michigan and it drew 7,906 votes.

Other minor parties in those years included the Prohibition Party, the Liberty Party, National Party, Farmer-Labor Party, and the Workers Party.

THE LANSING SCENE produces many "newsletters" dealing with just about any subject under the sun.

Many special interest groups publish newsletters to keep their membership informed of happenings in the Capitol which affect the interest they have and to inform government officials and legislators of how the group stands on various issues.

Unfortunately, most of these newsletters tend to be pretty dull reading, unless you happen to be one of the few persons who is deeply interested in whatever special interest they represent.

Now, a new newsletter has appeared in the Capital which is a happy exception to this rule.

PUBLISHED BY THE UNITED AUTO Workers lobbying group, it is well written, concise and to the point.

It presents a "fickle finger" award in each issue as well as such designations as "winner of the week" and "loser of the week."

Babson Report

Cable TV Gains Ground

BABSON'S REPORTS INC., Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Born right after World War II, Cable TV (formerly known as CATV) has grown into a viable rival of the major broadcasters. It began as a system erected in mountain communities (where reception was poor) to receive and distribute television programs from original broadcasters through a network of coaxial cable and electronic components to the homes of individual subscribers for a nominal fee.

However, the industry's frontier has been extended to the metropolitan centers where an even larger market promises a far more rewarding profit potential. In addition, recent regulatory decisions coupled with Cable TV technology are expected to stimulate expansion far beyond the initial goals of the founders. The FCC now authorizes the origination of programs and the right to sell commercials. Also, the Commission will permit the industry to transmit via microwave — possibly making way for a national Cable TV network. And cable operators have blocked the telephone companies from further controlling the needed physical facilities (pole attachments).

BESIDES BEAMING in TV of adequate quality, the cable system provides reception of far higher fidelity, vastly improving both the picture and the sound. The betterment is particularly substantial in the case of color TV where there are "ghosts" or shadows.

Cable TV means greater program selectivity — many more channels than are ordinarily provided — and offers far more services such as around-the-clock weather information, local educational broadcasts, stock market and financial reporting, public service, and a number of local entertainment programs.

Although this industry is still fragmented, there is a trend toward consolidation by major operators. There are — according to latest available count — some 2,300 Cable TV systems in operation, running their cables into an estimated 3.6 million homes, mostly in small cities and towns. But despite the phenomenal growth in the last three years, only 6.2% of TV households are wired for cable systems.

Total industry revenues now stand at about $250 million. Charges for service run around $5 a month, plus an additional $25 one-time installation fee. The ten top operators account for 29% of the total industry. As it stands at this time, the contenders in the field are the Cable TV operators, the national broadcasters (many of whom own such systems), and the pay or subscription TV proponents.

FOR MOST manufacturers and distributors of coaxial cable and electronic components, the industry has offered lucrative opportunities. Except for the component suppliers, many of the firms are involved in more than one segment of Cable TV. Most systems are depreciated on schedules of ten years, even though they have a usual life expectancy of 20 years or more. The fast write-off policies produce a substantial cash flow and significant tax shelters. Subscribers pay an average of $60 annually, while operating expenses are around $30. Thus, the pre-tax profit potential can be considerable.

General Instrument Corporation, a diversified electronics company, is the long-term choice of the Research Staff of Babson's Reports for participation in the industry. Its Jerrold division is one of the leaders in Cable TV. Earnings were adversely affected by temporary problems in Jerrold's activities for the fiscal year ended February 28, 1970, plus production difficulties in semi-conductor operations. Management, however, has indicated that a return to former levels of profitability is in store for fiscal 1971. The speculative stock near 15 (NYSE) appears to be a turnaround candidate for appreciation.

Out of the Horse's Mouth

Send your questions, comments, and news of horse shows to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, MI 48178.

Ten-year old Carrie Earehart, daughter of the Eddie Eareharts of Northville, riding her Morgan mare, "Pebbles", won the 13-year and under saddle seat equitation class at the horse show at Belleville Sunday. Carrie went on to win the championship in saddle seat equitation also.

Dar-val's March King, a four-year old Morgan owned by Mr. and Mrs. David Batton and ridden by Miss Nancy Hoffman, won the Morgan Junior English pleasure class and the open championship in pleasure at Belleville.

If you are an average horse owner, you depend on the services of a professional farrier rather than attempt your own shoeing. And, as such, you should be interested in how to secure the best possible service from the man you employ.

Horsemen vary in opinions of how often a horse should be re-shod. Generally speaking, the average horse under normal usage will do nicely on a six to eight-week period. Horses with poor feet may require attention more often.

Have the horse in captivity on the day the farrier is to call. Too many people go off on business of their own, leaving the horse in a 10-acre field, assuming that because they themselves have no difficulty catching the animal it will be a simple matter for the farrier to do likewise. Sometimes it is, but often the shoeer spends valuable time staging a one-man roundup.

The average man takes care of his regular customers first and then works in extras as he is able. Peak seasons are spring time, and the period preceding any horse show. Owners should take this into consideration and make appointments in advance of such periods. Do not forget: he can only do so many in a day (five to seven head), and much as he might like to get rich in one season, there are still limits to his time.

Good shoers are scarce, and as it is, most work seven days a week in the busy seasons.

Lameness can develop from a variety of causes, and rarely is it the fault of the shoeer, when the work is done by qualified men. It is well to remember that a horse with long feet, shod after months of neglect, will sometimes be "gimpy" the following day. This is due to the strain put upon muscles and ligaments forced into longer stretch by paring the hoof down to normal. Such lameness usually disappears in a day or so.

Occasionally, a horse may lose a shoe soon after being shod, usually in winter months when the hoofs are soft. Front shoes are sometimes lost off a long-striding, over-reaching horse or by pawing at wire fences. If a shoe is lost shortly after it is put on, most farriers feel it their responsibility to replace it free of charge; however if it happens repeatedly, an investigation should be made of the enclosure and possible pawing habits of the horse.

Shoeing horses is far from being the easiest work in the world, nor is it the safest. These however do not bother the shoeer. One thing that does irritate him are people who abuse their animals, such as the incompetent amateur who invests in hammer and rasp and sets himself up in business. Such competition is usually short-lived, and no wonder. It once actually happened that a farrier was called in to replace all four shoes on a horse shod by one of these fly-by-nighters who had driven all nails straight up, with never a nail showing, or clinched! Further, the hero had bragged about how much "neater" his job was than that of "professionals"!

However, that horse was seriously lame for a considerable length of time, due to being quicked by those very neatly placed nails.
