

1970 Census: City--5,379; Township--9,611

Population of Northville Township won't hit 10,000 and the City of Northville will fall below 5,500 in the 1970 census.

Although figures have not yet been released — and probably won't for a week or more — The Record has learned, unofficially, that the population of the city probably will be reported at 5,379, while the township population will be pegged at 9,611.

That means the city grew by 1,412 during the past decade and the township by 1,938.

These 1970 figures fall below what the Southeast Michigan Council of Government (SEMCOG) this past week estimated for these two municipalities through July 1969.

In other words, the agency's planning division estimated populations as of July 1969 higher than what the 1970 census will report later this month.

It would appear on the basis of preliminary census figures, a government spokesman noted, that SEMCOG's annual population figures are running high throughout the area. They may be "far off" in some areas, he told The Record.

The official census of 1960 put Northville's

(city) population at 3,967 and the township population at 7,673.

Both the 1960 census and the yet to be announced 1970 census include the non-household population of institutions in Northville Township — as do the figures released by SEMCOG.

SEMCOG's July 1969 figures just released put the population of the city at 5,450 — or 71 more than what the 1970 census will reveal. Its 1969 township population estimate is 10,400 or 789 more than the 1970 census will show.

While the city difference is not significant, a big difference does show up in the way the 1970 census distributes the population between the Oakland and Wayne counties of the city. SEMCOG puts the Oakland County section at 1,500, and the Wayne County section at 3,950. The 1970 census will put Oakland County section at 2,343, the Wayne County section at 3,036.

The increase in Northville Township is more significant than might appear on the surface, since the populations of the institutions in the township have decreased over the past decade. Maybury Sanatorium, for example, has closed altogether and only a few dwellings are still occupied on the premises.

Presbyterian Church

Dedication Set Sunday at 4

Dedication ceremonies for the new sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, one of the area's oldest churches with a founding date of 1829, will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 14.

The Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure, pastor, announced that the dedication sermon, "My Church," will be delivered by the Reverend Ernest W. Dunn, D.D., pastor of Calvin East United Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

Decision was made by the church congregation in late 1968 to remain in the center of town and to erect a new, 400-seat sanctuary on the site of the old. The building campaign was held early in 1969 to raise the $225,000 (plus furnishings) needed.

Sunday's ceremony in the white sanctuary with new stain-glass windows filtering the light will boast the community participation of the Reverend Father John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory and the Paul Beard, lay representative of Northville United Methodist.

The dedication ceremony will include the presentation of keys of the classic-style brick sanctuary by William Lindhout, architect, and William Schulz, contractor, to John R. Jackson, building committee chairman.

Also participating in the ceremony will be Brian Dyke and Robert Shafer, church youth representatives; Reverend Robert Yolton, synod executive; William G. Williams, choir; Mrs. Edwin Langtry, organist; and Mr. Brasure and the Reverend Timothy C. Johnson, pastors.

The congregation and visitors afterward will be invited to visit the memorial youth room, music room and the ladies' lounge (also the bridal room.) A reception will follow in fellowship hall.

The enlarged sanctuary has added a landmark to the community scene with a white belfry pointing 83 feet into the sky. It houses the church bell which had hung in the previous tower since shortly after it was cast in 1858.

The belfry and the new colonnade facade with a row of six Roman Doric Columns, are illuminated at night, providing a glowing sight when viewed in passing or from the hills approaching town.

Three Enter Race For Treasurer

Petition activity is stirring in Northville township giving promise of competition at the polls in the August 4 primary race.

Nine persons have taken out petitions: one for supervisor, one for clerk, three for treasurer and four for two trustee seats.

Biggest surprise is the interest in the treasurer's post. Incumbent Treasurer Alex Lawrence has already filed petitions. Two others have petitions circulating.

Joseph L. Straub, who serves with Lawrence on the board as a trustee, has announced that he will run for treasurer on the Republican ticket.

The third candidate to announce for the post is Richard S. Dunchock.

Straub has been a board member for the past two years. He resides at 39875 Six Mile road and is a retired Ford Motor company employee. He worked as a member of the general auditors staff and was also internal auditor for the engineering staff of Ford. Prior to his 20 years with Ford, Straub was cost auditor for the army air force during World War II and later supervised auditing for termination costs of orders for Curtiss-Wright corporation.

As a board trustee Straub has been keenly interested in the township's accounting practices and has frequently declined to approve reports until proper corrections have been entered.

Dunchock, 34, lives at 20241 Westview, and is a registered pharmacist. He is owner of Dunchock Pharmacy at Seven Mile and Telegraph

'Year-Round' Goes Down; Johnston, Johnson Win

Incumbent Stanley Johnston and the Reverend Timothy Johnson won four-year posts on the board of education in Monday's election, while the advisory vote on year-round school was defeated by a margin of 96 votes, 422 'yes' to 518 'no'.

Martin Rinehart, candidate for the board, trailed Reverend Johnson by 97 votes, capturing 460 of the votes cast.

It was a lighter turnout at the polls than expected, with only 17.1 percent of the districts 5,545 registered voters going to the polls.

A total of 951 ballots were cast, including 21 spoiled ballots for candidates, eight of which included no vote at all.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said after the advisory vote was announced, "I'm disappointed. I was hopeful of more support than we received."

"To have received more support would have been in our favor in receiving financial support for further study and transition," he continued.

Trustees Johnston and Dr. Orlo Robinson said they felt the lack of support showed voters lacked knowledge of the entire concept.

"When the people know more about the concept, then they will say 'go ahead,'" Dr. Robinson said.

Trustee Eugene Cook said he saw the vote as "a mandate to continue studying the concept. The people are saying they want more information."

Trustee Glenn Diebert was pleased by the margin of the vote. "The narrow margin is a positive factor."

Study of the year-round concept will continue, administrators said, with all students scheduled this summer for the next four years. Parents will then be surveyed via post cards on their views of the concept, taking into consideration the student's schedule.

A total of 45.9 percent of the voters were in favor of the concept, 55.1 percent opposed. Eleven ballots were spoiled.

In balloting for candidates, Johnston captured 73-percent of the votes, Reverend Johnson, 60-percent, and Rinehart, 50-percent.

Of voters casting ballots for only one candidate, Johnston received 11-percent, Reverend Johnson, 7.7-percent, and Rinehart, nine-percent.

The two four-year terms run through June 30, 1974.

101st GRADUATING CLASS — The 216 members of the Class of 1970 march in to receive diplomas in outdoor commencement ceremonies under the

But Everyone's Optimistic

Teacher Pact Still Unsettled

Salaries remain one of the 22 unresolved items in teacher contract negotiations as bargaining moves into full swing with the close of school.

Cyril Nichols, chief negotiator for the Northville Education Association, and Robert Benson, chief negotiator for the administration, said negotiations are moving smoothly, with both optimistic the contract will be settled soon.

Teachers are seeking starting wages of approximately $8,000 going up to $15,000, while the board is offering salaries in the neighborhood of $7,800 to $14,500, negotiators confirmed.

Nichols also said the teachers are seeking to change the way teachers are reimbursed for extra-curricular activities.

"We'd like to have a fixed salary schedule," Nichols said, "with a fixed percent of the base pay of the teachers. This would settle the item and not necessitate opening it every time we negotiate a contract."

An item that may delay talks concerns membership in the teachers association. The association is asking that all teachers join the union.

As it now stands, teachers have the option of joining the union or paying a fixed amount to a fund, unless they state in writing it is contrary to their religion or beliefs.

The administration is against not giving the teachers the choice they now have. "Exceptions are minimal now and always have been," Benson said.

New items presented by the teachers include dental care, extended disability pay, tuition reimbursement and extra credit pay. The association also is seeking a better Blue Cross program and sabbatical leave with a percent of the teachers salary and a guarantee the teacher will receive his position back when he returns.

A total of 53 items were opened when talks began in January, the negotiators said. Many of the items settled include phrasing in the present contract. Teachers have agreed to fill out "professional growth forms to let the community know what the staff is doing besides teaching," Nichols said.

Benson feels a significant item settled is the decision to hold monthly meetings with the teachers and administration to work out problems as they happen. He sees these as "pre-contract talks."

Both negotiators said they saw no effect on contract talks from the teacher surplus.

"The surplus shows that administrators have done a lot to attract and keep teachers," Nichols commented, "while teachers have done much to help their position."

Contract talks will be held weekly during summer vacation, the negotiators said, since "we are anxious to have the contract settled as soon as possible."

Hill-Caliguiri Vows Spoken

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Caliguiri have taken up residence at Anaheim, California, following their marriage in Grace Baptist Church in Detroit on May 23.

Officiating at the 7 p.m. ceremony was the Reverend Roy Bohanan, pastor of Grace, while Mrs. Beulah Christianson furnished the organ music.

The bride, Beverly Anne Hill, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hill of 1740 Beck Road, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Adele Caliguiri of 30566 Southfield Road and Mr. Ralph Caliguiri of Evergreen, Colorado.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white crepe dress with a Peter Pan collar, and featuring long sleeves and decorated with a yolk of Mother of Pearl sequins. She carried a nosegay of white roses, daisies, mums and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Beth Bullock, who wore a street-length green dress and held a nosegay of pink roses and carnations.

Serving as best man was A. Virzi. Ushers were Daley Hill, brother of the bride, and Bewley Priestman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs.

Hill wore a blue chiffon dress with accordin pleated sleeves, a mandarin neckline, decorated with pearls. She wore a corsage of white roses, purple statice with baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother wore a mint green dress with a beaded bodice. Her corsage was made of a green orchid and white roses.

Following the wedding, a reception for relatives was held at the Round Table Club in Plymouth.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a white linen dress with yoke and cuffs decorated with Swiss embroidery.

The newlyweds drove to Denver and then on to California where they have an apartment in Anaheim near Disneyland.

The new Mrs. Caliguiri is a 1969 graduate of Northville High School. Her husband was graduated from Northville in 1966, and has been serving in the United States Navy, with duty at Great Lakes and at the Denang Naval Hospital in Vietnam. In California, he will be stationed at Long Beach.

An Evening Adventure

Take a warm summer evening, mix it with an exciting class, and stir in some historic homes and you've got the makings of a pleasantly profitable experience. That was the case last week as some 20 members of the class on historical architecture, sponsored by the Northville Historical Society, enjoyed a walking tour of the community with their instructor, Professor Richard Daugherty, as he pointed out some of the historical aspects of local homes. It was Daugherty's way of bringing to life some of the shapes, styles and trends his students have been studying in their eight-week course. When Daugherty isn't visiting Northville or instructing local students, he's teaching history at Macomb Community College.

Culinary Treat from France

Crabmeat Stars in Easy Dish

CRABMEAT LORRAINE For a culinary "grand slam" — the easy way — try this!

The country folk of eastern France originated a savory baked custard-cheese tart, known as Quiche Lorraine. Although it began as a simple peasant dish, a little imagination turns it into glamorous party fare.

Quiche Lorraine ranks as something spectacular in itself. This alternative features crabmeat smoothly blended into the custard and Swiss cheese. Dots of scallions and dill weed complete the supreme temptation, when Crabmeat Lorraine bakes in a tender, flaky pastry shell.

Difficult? This special pie requires just minutes — and takes an hour to prepare from mixing bowl to table. Served hot from the oven, this Quiche makes an excellent lunch or supper dish. Or serve it in tiny wedges as a hot hors d'oeuvre.

Nutritionally speaking, Crabmeat Lorraine scores high, too. The filling is rich in protein and the pastry shell, prepared from enriched flour, contains these essential nutrients: thiamine, niacin and riboflavin — three B-vitamins, plus the mineral, iron. All are needed for daily maintenance of good health.

CRABMEAT LORRAINE PIE

One 8 or 9-inch pie
1½ cups enriched flour*
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
3 to 6 tablespoons cold water
1 can (7½ oz.) crabmeat, drained and flaked
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese

Custard Filling
Dill weed

Stir together flour and salt. Cut in shortening until pieces are size of small peas. Sprinkle with water, a little at a time, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Press into ball. Roll out on lightly floured surface to circle 1/8-inch thick and fit loosely into pan. Trim pastry and flute edge. Line bottom of pastry shell with crabmeat. Cover with cheese. Pour Custard Filling over cheese; sprinkle with dill weed. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven 35 to 45 minutes, or until done. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

CUSTARD FILLING:

3 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
1/3 cup sliced scallions
1 teaspoon salt
Dash white pepper
Blend ingredients.

*Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

BRAZILIAN FLAIR

Sauces seem to be popular with vegetables; so many come packaged together. Borrow an idea from the Brazilians and make your own vegetable sauce with coconut.

1 cup milk
¼ cup flaked coconut
2 tablespoons margarine
1 tablespoon corn starch
¼ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Heat milk to boiling. Add coconut.

Remove mixture from heat. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes. Strain. Melt margarine in saucepan. Stir in corn starch, salt and ginger. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in coconut milk. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Cook and stir for one minute. Remove from heat and blend in lemon juice. Serve hot over vegetables. Makes 1 cup coconut sauce.

Wixom Issues Grow Complex

Sometimes solving one problem creates others — and that seemed to be the case Tuesday night as the Wixom Council attempted unsuccessfully to resolve issues involving the building department and property damage.

The former concerned ex-Building Inspector Ralston Calvert's appeal of his dismissal by Mayor Gilbert Willis and the latter the long-standing claim for damages growing out of sewer installation across the property of Lloyd Croft, 50403 West Pontiac Trail.

As things turned out, neither matter was settled, although Croft apparently is prepared to take his case to court and, at least for the time-being, will not continue pressing for city action in support of his claims.

The building department problem surfaced when Attorney Gene Schnelz disclosed that Wixom's two building codes are conflicting — since one calls for stricter enforcement, provides for appointment of a building department chief by the mayor, and stiff qualifications for that administrator, while the other is less strict, leaves the matter of appointment up to the council, and requires loose qualifications for such appointee.

According to Schnelz, the stricter of the two codes must be followed, which means the mayor has the power of appointment. However, his appointee in this case may not meet the qualifications set down in the code, which says the administrator must be a professional engineer, or contractor, or architect, or licensed by the state. (Following Calvert's dismissal, the mayor appointed Kenneth Carothers, who has stated that although he is not licensed he is a former carpenter and has experience in the building trade.)

The problem at hand is this: If the mayor is to have the appointive power, as provided in the stricter code, he could lose his appointee because of the same code's qualification section.

In an attempt to resolve this conflict, Schnelz was authorized to investigate the possibility of modifying the stricter code and to report his findings at the next council meeting.

Meanwhile, Calvert's appeal of his dismissal, which kicked off this dispute, appears to be lost in the dust. It was noted Tuesday, however, that Calvert met the qualifications of the stricter code.

Concerning the appeal of ex-Deputy Clerk Mrs. Donna Thorsberg, who also was dismissed by the mayor, Schnelz affirmed Willis' action by ruling that since she was appointed by ex-Clerk Mrs. Elizabeth Waara she automatically lost her right to office when Mrs. Waara was dismissed. In other words, she was indirectly a mayoral appointee and hence not entitled to compensation given employees.

In the Croft case, most members of council sympathized with the property owner and agreed that he should be compensated for damages resulting from installation of sewers by the Holloway Construction Company.

However, it was noted that neither the county nor Holloway appears ready to settle on the basis of Croft's estimate of damages, which were not disclosed.

Croft Tuesday urged the council to take action in support of his case since it was upon the advice of the city that he signed an agreement permitting installation of sewer lines across his property about a year ago.

(City sewers were installed by Holloway under the jurisdiction of the county DPW. A contingency fund was set aside for such damages but before this money can be dispersed, the county must authorize it.)

Croft contends (and most councilmen agree) that the city has a

Novi Council to Fill Vacant Seat Monday

The vacant seventh seat on the Novi City Council will be filled Monday by the council.

Appointment by the council — by secret ballot — was given the green light this week when, at the advice of City Attorney Howard Bond, the council officially declared the seventh seat "vacant" and decided to nominate and elect a replacement at 9 p.m. Monday.

The vacant post was formerly held by William Duey, who resigned to run (unsuccessfully) for the mayor's post against Incumbent Joseph Crupi last spring.

Election to the council by the council will require at least four positive votes, or a simple majority of the six councilmen now serving. Whoever is named by the council will serve the unexpired term of Duey.

Among the reasons given for not putting the vacant seat up for general election of citizens:

- It would require a costly special election.

- Election of such a councilman at either the primary or the general November election is opposed by elections officials.

- Even if the election were held in conjunction with the primary or November election, it would mean too long of a delay in filling the seat.

- A number of 3-3 votes have occurred on the council and this kind of deadlock is unhealthy. The vacation period, in which members of the council will be absent, further complicates this matter.

- Elections officials frown upon scheduling of special elections within 30 days of regular elections within the same political boundaries. In this case, a special election would not be permitted to be held within 30 days of the primary or the November election. This limitation, plus publication requirements, are seen as prohibiting a special election until after the November election.

Bond told The Novi News Monday that had one person filed for Duey's seat, prior to the filing deadline for the April council election, he could have won the seat hands down. However, since this did not happen, the council had a choice of calling for a special election or choosing a replacement itself.

Duey submitted his resignation prior to the filing deadline but made it effective April 4 — two days before the election.

The city charter provides: "Vacancies in elective offices other than the mayor, shall, within 60 days after such vacancy occurs, be filled for a term expiring on the date of the next regular city election, by appointment by a majority vote of the members of the council then in office of a person possessing the qualifications for office."

The charter further provides that if the council fails to fill the vacancy within the 60-day period a special election must be held.

Wanted: Young Men of Wixom!

A plea for potential members for a Wixom chapter of Jaycees was issued this week by Norm Somers, who is heading up a Novi Jaycee committee anxious to spearhead a chapter in Wixom.

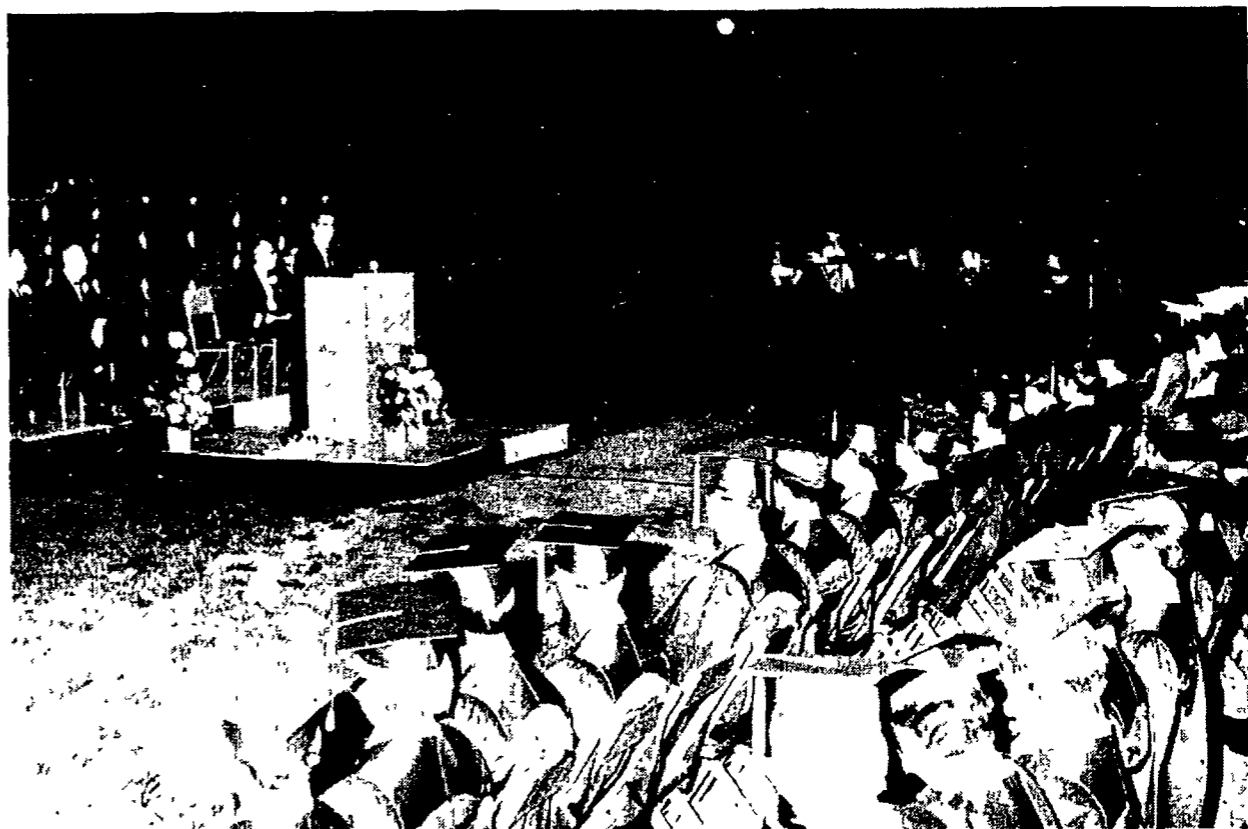

"We've got about 10 very interested young men in Wixom, but we can't get this new chapter off the ground until we've got 25 prospective members," Somers said.

Next organizational meeting for Wixom young men, between the ages of 21 and 35, will be held today (Thursday) at the Wixom council chambers beginning at 8 p.m.

Any young man within these age requirements who would like to join an organization that provides community service while building individual character beneficial to employment anywhere, is asked to attend tonight's meeting.

Novi Jaycees, who are hosting the meeting, will explain the requirements and the purpose of the Jaycee organization and answer any questions concerning the Jaycees.

BIG NIGHT — The second graduation class of Novi High school listens while diplomas wait in the wings. Speakers at the exercises, held under the lights Tuesday night on the athletic field, were the Reverend John J. Fred Trachsel who delivered the benediction. Main speaker was English Department Chairman Calvin Schmucker; he encouraged the graduating class to "Give Yourself Ten Years," and then determine whether or not they were happy with what they were doing. One hundred three students received diplomas.

Warren Wins in Novi

Walled Lake Ousts Long

Voters in Walled Lake school district ousted 22-year veteran board member Joseph W. Long of Milford in balloting Monday, but returned Stuart H. Elwood of Orchard Lake to a second four-year term and elected Roy W. Fogle, Union Lake, to his first four-year term.

Two Wixom residents, Mrs. Jill Hall, 2915 Maganser, and C. James LaFkiotes, 1868 Hopkins Drive, and Mrs. Mary Carpenter, Union Lake, were unsuccessful in bids for board seats.

In Novi, Incumbent Ray Warren, unopposed for a four-year term on the school board, was returned to office capturing 47 of only 50 votes cast. There were no write-in candidates.

Voters in the 28 school districts of Oakland County elected Earl M. Anderson, Madison Heights, incumbent, and Eugene L. Johnson, Bloomfield Hills superintendent, to six-year terms on the Oakland Community College board of trustees.

Novi voters picked both winning candidates for the college board, while Wixom voters favored one of two.

Incumbent David M. Preston, Birmingham, was unsuccessful in his

Population Figures Show Big Increase

The population of Novi increased 29-percent and the Wixom population by 27-percent in the nine-year period from 1960 to July 1969, according to figures released this past week by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

(However, this newspaper has learned that area figures of SEMCOG may be higher than what the 1970 Census will show.)

According to SEMCOG, the population of Novi as of July 1, 1969 — including the few unincorporated township areas — was 8,300 or 1,846 more than the official 1960 census of 6,454.

Wixom's population on July 1, 1969 was put at 1,950 or 419 more than the 1960 census of 1,531.

Other area populations and increases include:

Walled Lake, from 3,550 in 1960 to 4,220 last year; Wolverine Lake, from 2,404 to 3,900; Commerce Township, from 9,608 to 13,400; City of Farmington, from 6,881 to 10,500; Farmington Township, from 25,526 to 44,000; Lyon Township, from 2,880 to 4,500; South Lyon, from 1,753 to 2,300.

Northville's population, as reported by SEMCOG, was put at 5,450 in the city on July 1, 1969 and at 10,400 in the township.

Plymouth, according to SEMCOG grew from 8,766 in 1960 to 11,700 in the city, and from 8,364 to 18,000 (115-percent) in the township.

Population figures for Oakland County reveal a dramatic increase of 33-percent, or a growth of 229,741 persons since 1960 — the largest numerical increase in the Detroit area.

Oakland County's population was put at 69,259 in 1960, compared to 920,000 in July 1969.

No Oakland County community showed a decrease.

Communities registering significant gains in Oakland include:

Southfield, which increased its population to 69,500, a gain of 37,969 over 1960; Troy which increased to 39,500, a gain of 20,442; Bloomfield Township, which increased to 41,500, a gain of 18,970; and Farmington Township's increase to 44,000 — a whopping gain of 18,474.

Here's a comparison of occupied dwellings, between 1960 and July, 1969, of area communities:

Novi — 1,682 to 2,100; Wixom — 436 to 570; South Lyon — 519 to 710; Lyon Township — 779 to 1,170; Walled Lake — 919 to 1,130; Commerce Township — 2,461 to 3,440; Farmington Township — 6,690 to 11,200; City of Farmington — 1,780 to 2,910; City of Northville — 1,266 to 1,700; Northville Township — 903 to 1,700; City of Plymouth, 2,723 to 3,650; Plymouth Township, 2,009 to 4,630.

School's Out!

Summer officially begins at noon today, Thursday, for the more than 1,700 students in the Novi School District.

All classes release at noon, with no official date set when classes will resume in the fall.

Novi Chamber Taps Ackley for President

Harold Ackley, former Novi city manager, was installed as president of the Novi Chamber of Commerce Thursday at Rosewood Restaurant. He succeeds Richard Bur, who remains on the board of trustees.

Other newly installed officers include:

Dean Lacy, vice-president; Florence Harris, treasurer; Peter Alcalá, secretary; and Peter Romanow and Andy Neeley, trustees.

Conducting the installation was Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, a member of the chamber.

Saratoga Changes Ownership

Mrs. Rose Marchesotti, founder and owner of Novi's Saratoga Farms for 21 years, has sold the restaurant to Peter Philips, owner of Detroit's Grand Time Restaurant on Grand River, and Richard Stoychosh.

Philips has operated the Grand Time for 30 years. The new owners took over Saturday.

Plans for improvement of the Saratoga Farms include the addition of a bar to the second floor eating area. The restaurant will be closed for approximately six weeks during construction. When it re-opens in July, it will be named Saratoga Trunk.

Mrs. Marchesotti plans to manage a sandwich shop in Farmington. She will open the restaurant, Jinnys, at 29550 Grand River, the second week in July. Jinnys will feature a menu of delicatessen items, a grill and soda fountain.

Mrs. Marchesotti said she sold the business because it was too much for her to operate alone.

She said she regretted leaving Novi, but expressed "a lot of faith in the new owners."

David Bjery, parking; and William Sliger, publicity.

Still to be named is the chairman of the educational exhibits.

The fair, to be held during the August 8 weekend, has been in the making for more than a year and already is being billed as one of the finest of its kind in Michigan.

Although it will involve no prizes for exhibits, officials are hopeful that initial success will result in funds for prizes next year. Also, once the fair is firmly established, it becomes eligible for state monies normally allocated to community fairs, Webber has explained.

While this year's fair will be a "first", fairs in Northville are old hat. Years ago Northville hosted an annual county fair that was one of the most successful in the Midwest. It was abandoned during World War II, after 27 consecutive years, because of limited manpower resulting from war efforts.

The newly organized fair will carry much of the atmosphere of the earlier county fairs because it, too, will be held on the site of the Northville Downs.

The August fair, however, will have the advantage of having use of much enlarged and improved track facilities. Even the Downs' multi-million dollar clubhouse is to be used.

The Downs facility is being donated, with the Chamber picking up only the tab for utilities, security and cleanup.

One of the big features of the Northville Fair, according to Webber, will be fund-raising activity booths sponsored by Northville organizations.

"By taking advantage of the fair, organizations can sponsor their fund-raising projects at one place and at one time when huge crowds are present. Besides, their participation lends more of a community atmosphere to the fair — and, after all, a fair is something that everyone in the community should enjoy.

Organizations ("we hope all will participate") that have not already reserved space for their projects are urged to contact Richard Norton immediately.

Certain to attract large crowds will be the "big name" entertainment already contracted to appear, said Webber. These include the internationally famous Hurricane Hell Drivers, and Waylon Jennings' country music show.

The former are to perform their breathtaking driving acts on the track, directly in front of the Downs' air-conditioned grandstand, and the latter will perform inside the grandstand, in front of the windows above the track.

Church Meet Draws Local Participants

Mrs. Louise Cansfield, lay member of the First United Methodist Church of Northville, and the Rev. Guenther Branstner, pastor, will attend the 129th session of the Detroit Annual Conference, June 11-15, at Adrian.

Mrs. Cansfield serves on the Conference Board of Missions. Mr. Branstner is the president of the Conference Board of Education. Bob Cook will attend as a youth member representing the Ann Arbor District. He is president of the local Senior High United Methodist Youth Fellowship.

A new format will be in effect at this conference as nearly 1,000 lay and clergy delegates from the Upper Peninsula and across the eastern part of the Lower Peninsula meet at Adrian College.

The "Consent procedure" for dealing with legislative matters will allow for a fuller discussion with wider participation by more members of the conference. Also, by scheduling the conference to run over the weekend, more lay delegates and visitors will be able to attend.

"The Urban Crisis" will be the main topic of consideration all day

Friday. Three main speakers will address the conference Friday:

1. Richard Austin, Detroit, Wayne County auditor, and candidate for mayor in the recent election in Detroit;

2. The Rev. Dr. Hubert Locke, Detroit, on the staff at Wayne State University, will be the conference preacher; and

3. The Rev. W. Clyde Williams, Atlanta, Georgia, will address the Ecumenical Affairs luncheon.

Bishop Dwight E. Loder, leader of Michigan Methodism, will announce the new pastoral appointments for the upcoming year in the opening session, Thursday afternoon. Among the appointments will be the naming of the first black pastor to a district superintendency. This assignment will go to the Rev. James D. Cochran, a native of Muskegon Heights, and presently on the staff of Central Methodist Church, Detroit.

Bringing a different flavor to the conference sessions will be the entertainer-ministers duo, "Dust and Ashes", the Revs. Jim Moore and Tom Page, who serve with the General Board of Evangelism, working out of Nashville, Tennessee.

Muncey Stretches Lead

Standings remained unchanged in the American division of the Novi little league this week, but places bounced up and down in the other three divisions.

In the national league, Paragon moved up to second while the B-V Earthmovers settled into third.

In minor league play, Herbs Standard traded second for third with Fendt Transit Mix in the National division, while in the American division, J.S. Trudeau moved up to fourth and Ray Harrison Well Drillers replaced them in fifth.

Here's how it looked:

Saturday, June 6, 1970

Paragon hurler Tom Vaughn led his team in a 7-5 squeaker over the B-V Earthmovers. The Movers outthit Paragon 9-6 but couldn't get the momentum going to win it.

The only extra base hit for Paragon came off the bat of Lee Briggs, the other five hits were singles with Tom Hardecki tallying a pair.

Extra base hits for the Earthmovers were turned in by John Bosco and Dave Lavery, who cracked two. Leon Blackburn, and Tim Reske each socked a pair of singles.

Friday, June 5, 1970

Don Ling hurled a 8-3 triumph for the Wroten Brothers over the Pink Builders allowing only three hits.

Extra basers came from Mike Tuck, Dennis Mullins and Randy Wroten who, due to an oversight, was not given credit for a no-hitter he pitched two weeks ago against the Rexall Rangers.

The Brothers socked 11 hits in all, including three singles each from Glen Gault and Chuck Mannilla.

The Pink Builders had three hits — singles — with a pair coming from Bill Bailey.

Novi Party Store edged Carl's X-Way Shell 9-8 in a contest that saw the Party Store overmatched by one hit.

The Party Store's power was Gary Ford who walloped a pair of doubles, and Jeff McDermaid who hit a pair of singles.

The Party Store had eight hits in all.

Carl's X-Way tallied nine hits, all singles with three coming off the bats of Bob Banks and Kevin Tornow, and two from John McIlmurray.

Winning pitcher was Gary Ford.

Thursday, June 4, 1970

Carl's X-Way took the Wroten Brothers 6-4. Once again the losers outthit the winners with 10 singles for Wroten, including a pair from Dick Rushe and Dennis Mullins, and seven hits for the X-Way including a pair of singles by Louie Bannatz — and a double by Bob Bannatz.

Winning pitcher was Louie Bannatz.

Mobarak Jayhawks squeaked by the Rexall Rangers 3-2.

Winning hurler was Mike Tuck. He allowed three hits, two singles and a double by Phil Flora.

The Jayhawks tallied six hits, including a pair of singles off the bat of Mike Sinacola.

Wednesday, June 3, 1970

Hurler Jeff Pickeral led the B-V Earthmovers through a no hit game against the Mobarak Jayhawks.

Robin Hager hit a double in that game for the only extra baser of the Movers five hits.

The score was 10-6.

Novi Party Store beat out the Pink Builders 14-13. The Party Store earned its runs off nine hits while the Builders came up with 15. Hits for the Party Store included a pair of singles by Gary

REMEDIES

Section 8. The holder or holders of said bonds or coupons representing in the aggregate not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the entire issue then outstanding may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, enforce and compel performance of all duties of the Authority, or its officers including the collection of the first annual and fixed annual rentals the proper segregation and application thereof as required by this Ordinance, and all other duties required to be performed by the Authority pursuant to the contract and this Ordinance.

If there be any default in the payment of the principal of or interest upon any of said bonds, any court having jurisdiction in any proper action may appoint a receiver to administer and operate said Project on behalf of the Authority, and under the direction of said court, and by and with the approval of said court, to perform all of the duties of the Authority and its officers more particularly set forth in the contract, this Ordinance and in Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended, and in Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

OPERATION OF PROJECT

Section 9. Pursuant to the terms of the contract the operation, maintenance and management of the project shall be the obligation of the City, said contract constituting and being a "net lease."

OPERATING YEAR

Section 10. The project shall be operated on the basis of a fiscal year commencing July 1st of each year and ending on June 31st of each year.

RATES

Section 11. The first rental and fixed annual rentals provided by the contract are hereby established and fixed as the rates to be charged to the City for the use of the Project. Said first rental and fixed annual rentals are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of all the bonds as and when the same become due and payable and the creation of a debt service reserve therefor. Such first rental and fixed annual rentals shall not be reduced until such time as all bonds and the interest thereon are paid in full, or sufficient funds for their payment in full have been accumulated. Such first rental and fixed annual rentals shall be increased by the Authority, as provided in the contract, if necessary to meet its obligations on the bonds.

FUNDS

Section 12. The first rental and fixed annual rentals paid to the Authority shall be deposited, as received into a separate depository account to be kept with Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Northville Branch, Northville, Michigan, to be designated NORTHVILLE BUILDING AUTHORITY 1970 REVENUE BONDS RECEIVING FUND (hereinafter referred to as the "Receiving Fund"). The moneys from time to time in the Receiving Fund shall be transferred periodically to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund in the manner herein provided.

There shall be established and maintained a separate depository account designated REVENUE BONDS, BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND, the moneys on deposit therein to be used solely and only for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the bonds hereby authorized. The moneys in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund shall be kept on hand with the bank or trust company where the principal of and interest on the bonds herein authorized are currently payable.

There shall be set aside into said Fund from moneys in the Receiving Fund on or prior to January 15, 1972, a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds due February 1, 1972 and on or prior to January 15th of each year thereafter sums sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds due the next succeeding February 1st, and on or prior to July 15, 1971, and on or prior to July 15th of each year thereafter sums sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds due the next succeeding August 1st.

Any moneys remaining in the Receiving Fund on August 1st of each year after meeting the above current requirements for the preceding year shall be paid into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and held in said fund and allocated on the books and records of the Authority as a Debt Service Reserve Account which allocations to said Debt Service Reserve Account need not exceed the sum of $60,800.00. The moneys in said Debt Service Reserve Account shall be used solely for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as to which there would otherwise be default. Moneys in said Debt Service Reserve Account shall finally be applied in payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds last maturing. If at any time moneys allocated in said Debt Service Reserve Account are used for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds, the amount so used shall be replaced from the first fixed annual rentals thereafter received which are not required to pay current principal and interest on the bonds as the same become due.

DETERMINATION OF AUTHORITY. REVENUE BOND ACT

Section 13. It is the intent and purpose of the Authority pursuant to the provisions of Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended, to authorize and issue the bonds subject to the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, or such of the provisions of that Act as can be applied to the type of issue here involved. The contract provides that operation, maintenance and administration of the Project is the total obligation of the City, as lessee, and thus the first rental and fixed annual rentals provided in the lease are net to the Authority and pledged solely for debt retirement represented by this bond issue. Thus no Authority operation and maintenance fund is established, as there would be no revenues allocable thereto. The Authority, therefore, determines that the plans and procedures herein followed comply with all substantive provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, in that operation and maintenance of the Project is fully contracted for, and maximum security for the bonds is provided by a pledge of all of the fixed annual rentals established in the contract.

PROCEEDS OF BOND SALE

Section 14. The proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized and other funds to be paid by the City to the Authority as they are from time to time received shall be deposited in an account with Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Northville Branch, Northville, Michigan, designated NORTHVILLE BUILDING AUTHORITY CONSTRUCTION FUND, except that the premium and accrued interest received on delivery of the bonds shall be deposited into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and used to pay interest due on the bonds on said date. Said moneys in said Northville Building Authority Construction Fund shall be used solely and only to pay costs of the Project and any legal, financing or other expenses incident thereto on authorization of the Commission of the Authority in accordance with the provisions of the contract: Provided, However, that any unexpended balance of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds remaining after the completion of the Project, may to the extent of fifteen per cent (15%) of the amount of the issue, be used for furnishing and equipping or for additions, improvements, enlargements and/or extensions of the Project, provided, that such use be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission, and any remaining balance shall be paid immediately into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and credited to the Debt Service Reserve Account. If any moneys remain in said fund after payment of all of such costs, such moneys shall be deposited into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and credited to the Debt Service Reserve Account.

INVESTMENT OF FUNDS

Section 15. Moneys in the funds and accounts established by this Ordinance may be invested by the Authority in bonds, notes, bills and certificates of the United States of America, subject to the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended. In the event such investments are made, the securities representing the same shall be kept on deposit with the depository or depositories of the fund or funds from which such investments are made, and such securities and the income therefrom shall become a part of such funds.

COVENANTS OF AUTHORITY

Section 16. The Authority covenants and agrees with the successive holders of the bonds and coupons that so long as any of the bonds remain outstanding and unpaid as to either principal or interest -

(a) The Authority will punctually perform all of its obligations and duties under this Ordinance and the contract herein set forth, and will collect, segregate and apply the rentals and payments in the manner required under this Ordinance and the contract.

(b) The Authority will maintain and keep proper books of record and account relating to the operation of the project and the rentals and payments received therefrom pursuant to the contract. Not later than three (3) months after the close of each operating year, the Commission will cause to be prepared a statement, in reasonable detail, sworn to by its chief accounting officer, showing the cash receipts and disbursements during such operating year, the assets and liabilities of the project at the beginning and close of the operating year, and such other information as may be necessary to enable any taxpayer or any holder or owner of the bonds, or anyone acting in their behalf, to be fully informed as to all matters pertaining to the financial operation of the Project during such year. A certified copy of said statement shall be filed with the Clerk of the City and the Municipal Finance Commission, and a copy shall also be sent to the manager or managers of the account purchasing the bonds. The Commission shall also cause an annual audit of such books of record and account for the preceding operating year to be made by a recognized independent certified public accountant, and shall mail such audit to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the bonds. At the option of the Authority the aforesaid audit may be submitted in place of the aforesaid report required above.

(c) The Authority will not sell or otherwise dispose of the Project until all of the bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest, and will not do or suffer to be done any act which would affect the Project in such a way as to impair or affect unfavorably the security of the bonds.

ADDITIONAL BONDS

Section 17. Nothing contained in this Ordinance shall be construed to prevent the Authority from issuing revenue bonds to finance the construction of additions to the present Project or any new buildings or projects within the scope of its corporate powers, but said bonds shall be payable out of, and have a first lien on, the net revenues or annual rentals for space in such new project, and shall in no way have any lien on or be payable out of any of the rentals pledged to the payment of the bonds of this authorized issue or any additional bonds issued to complete the Project in accordance with the authorization provided in the contract. The Authority shall also have power to issue additional bonds to complete the Project but only as authorized in the contract.

CONTRACT WITH BONDHOLDERS

Section 18. The provisions of this Ordinance, together with the contract herein set forth, shall constitute a contract between the Authority and the holder or holders of the bonds from time to time, and after the issuance of any of such bonds, no change, variation or alteration of the provisions of this Ordinance, or the contract, may be made which would lessen the security for the bonds. The provisions of this Ordinance and the contract shall be enforceable by appropriate proceedings taken by such holder or holders, either at law or in equity.

BOND AND COUPON FORM

Section 19. Said bonds and coupons shall be in substantially the following form:

Records Fall As Downs Opens

A record-breaking season at Northville Downs appears to be a certainty as the harness-racing track set several new marks for betting in the first four nights of its 27th annual meeting.

Credit for the new surge in betting and attendance goes to the track's new $2 million tri-level clubhouse which greeted fans as the 54-night season opened June 3.

Saturday night the track had enjoyed its biggest night of betting ever — $513,814. The old mark of $464,818 was established last year.

None of the new marks are expected to stand long as Executive Manager John Carlo predicts that a whole new set of records will be set this year. Another record to fall was the largest daily double pool. It went from $40,148 to $46,932. Still another new mark is the mutual handle on a single race. It's now $62,734 compared to $60,202.

Total mutual handle for the first four nights of the new meet (through Saturday) was $1,640,898, up 15.7 per cent over the same period last year which saw $1,417,738 wagered. Average nightly handle for the first four nights was $410,224, compared to $354,434 last year.

Attendance is up 13.9 per cent this year with 23,420 fans attending the first four nights of racing.

Death Breaks Pioneering Link

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for one of Northville's oldest residents and member of a community pioneer family.

Mrs. Charles L. (Elizabeth) Blackburn died June 6 at the Beverly Manor Convalescent Center. She was born October 22, 1882 in the house where she still lived until she was taken to the convalescent center in March. At the time of her birth the house was situated in the present parking lot next to the First Presbyterian church. In 1951 the house was moved to 456 Orchard Drive.

Her parents were Barton and Elizabeth Wheeler and her grandfather was the Reverend James Dubuar, first installed pastor of the Presbyterian church here.

Services were held in the new sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church with the Reverends Lloyd Brasure and Timothy Johnson officiating. Pallbearers were her two grandsons and five grandsons-in-law.

Mrs. Blackburn was graduated from Northville high school in 1900 and in 1904 was married to Charles L., who died in 1937. She is survived by two children, Mrs. George Keskey of Farmington and John Blackburn of Northville, and seven grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Ebert Funeral Home and burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Baptist Church of Northville, the Benton Parkway WW-1 Veterans Auxiliary, life member of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147 of the American Legion Auxiliary, and the Northville Senior Citizens Club.

She is survived by a sister Mrs. Marion Walters of Wayne, and the late Clara S. Stuckey; aunt of Mrs. Margery Traylor of Wayne, Mrs. Dorothy Bryant of Detroit, James Lara of Phoenix, Arizona, and the late Eleanor R. Scott.

Former Residents Headed for Thailand

A challenging mission assignment in Thailand is in the offing for Robert Brandon and his family, former Northville residents.

Mrs. Brandon (Pat) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Willing of Northville, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brandon of Plymouth.

The young Brandons, who for the past 1½ years have been assigned to the Main Street Church of Christ in Olton, Texas, will leave for Thailand on August 13 where he will be working with the Bangkok School of Preaching — a school started in 1958.

The Brandons will join five other families working in Bangkok, all former classmates of Brandon at the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock, Texas.

Purpose of the Bangkok school is to teach Thai people to teach themselves, to establish a permanent two-year school of preaching and a mobile teaching and training program for villages, to carry out a greater correspondence course program, and to concentrate on approximately 60,000 American servicemen stationed in Thailand.

Brandon will attend language classes mornings and teach Bible classes four and one-half hours afternoons. His wife, probably will have to wait a while before attending language courses until their children are a little older.

Their children are Chris, 8, who will be attending an American school in Thailand, Timothy, 18 months, and Michele, 6 months.

Their father is a Plymouth High School graduate, their mother a graduate of Northville High School.

Can it really be 29 years ago?

That's three decades, three wars and six presidents.

So now comes the Class of '70. And the years of promise are ahead. You're 18 and graduating from high school. What should you do?

Well, if you're 18 you probably wouldn't ask anyone three decades older. But if you were three decades older and had another chance at 18, you might.

Unsolicited and without guarantee, here's some advice.

Play it cool, Johnny (or Jill). Stay loose.

No long-term contracts yet, and this includes marriage.

Further education? You bet. Either trade school or college. If you can't decide what you want to do, get involved in anything that seems mildly interesting. If you're bored after a fair trial, junk it and try something else.

More than two-thirds of your life, really the most exciting years, lie ahead. The next four, five or 10 years are merely preparatory for the golden era of productive living — the thirties, forties, fifties and even sixties.

Don't lock yourself in. Not yet. Give your preferences and prejudices time to develop based upon personal experience. Blend the knowledge gained firsthand with that learned through textbooks and environment.

Travel if you can. Get involved: get "lost" in your work. Opportunity will find you.

It won't be difficult to point out what's wrong with our world. Coming up with better answers is the real trick.

Good Luck, Class of '70.

Mrs. Tekla M. Hamilton stopped in to see me the other day. Actually, she walked into the office clutching a newspaper clipping in her hand looking for anyone who could give her some answers.

Whenever I see someone with a clipping in hand and a somber look on their face, I know what to expect. In this business it means trouble, usually with a capital T.

I'd never had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Hamilton and I sensed that if our meeting was to be a pleasure I'd better come up with something fast.

Mrs. Hamilton handed me the clipping. "Who wrote this?" she demanded. "It's all wrong".

I read it. It reported that Mrs. Hamilton had been involved in a personal injury accident at the corner of Rogers and Main street in Northville at 3:30 a.m.

"What were you doing out at that hour in the morning? Drinking again, I suppose", I asked and answered in the firmest voice I could muster.

By that time we had attracted a small audience of curious onlookers around the office.

I thought the gentle-looking, grandmotherly Mrs. Hamilton would burst.

"That's just the point", she retorted in a voice at least two pitches higher.

"It was 8:30 a.m., not 3:30 a.m. And I don't drink, never have. But everyone thinks I must have been at 3:30 a.m."

I detected just a trace of a smile on her face. I decided to stay on the offensive.

"We don't make these kinds of mistakes. Neither do the police. It must have been 3:30 a.m.", I countered.

Then the smile vanished and I decided it was time to begin a retreat. I called the reporter who had written the story and, of course, it was one of those mysterious "typos" that haunt newspapers.

"Alright. We'll report in our next edition that you hadn't been drinking when you were in an accident last week" I suggested.

Mrs. Hamilton was beginning to catch on. First she smiled, then she laughed. Then I apologized and we were friends.

Mrs. Hamilton is a wonderful lady. She was driving her two grandchildren to school when the accident occurred at Rogers and Main street, where not too long ago stop signs were removed on Main street thus creating some confusion for drivers accustomed to the four-way stop corner.

There were a couple of minor injuries. But the judge didn't issue any fines.

So let all know that the accident report in the May 28 edition of The Record was in error. The hour of the accident was a respectable 8:30 a.m., not 3:30 a.m.

Let it also stand as a warning to all of us to drive carefully. Accidents can happen at any hour and to the nicest and best intentioned persons.

It's probably a good thing that all people who complain about our reporting errors and omissions are not as nice as Mrs. Hamilton.

We might slip a few in on purpose just to make their acquaintance.

One of the logical, historical, and necessary functions of government is to support both research and exploration. It was through the support of governments of earlier centuries that ships plied the oceans in quests of new lands and men explored the face of these lands once they were found.

The United States today is the richest, most affluent nation ever to exist on this earth. Therefore we, as a nation, to whom other nations look to for all forms of guidance, must carry the lion's share of the financial burden for research and exploration. We have a responsibility to future generations to leave them as rich a heritage as was left to us.

The space program not only helps us fulfill an obligation to the future, but has already benefited us in numerous ways. Space in this column does not permit me to go into detail or even list the numerous products and services that are spin offs from the space program. Rather, let me mention a comparison between space hardware and commercial products. I once read that if an automobile were built with the same reliability that a space hardware system such as Apollo is, one could be able to drive that car for over 100 years without experiencing a failure.

How much should we spend on meeting our obligations to both the present and future? The proposed 1971 fiscal year budget for space research and technology is $3.4 billion. This is just 1.63% of the total national budget — certainly not a major item in the national budget of $200.7 billion.

I believe that the space program is a good and necessary federal government undertaking, and it is not being overfinanced.

Federal Space Budget. Should It be Cut?

YES...

To soar into space! Since the beginning of time, man has looked to the stars with wonder and awe. Today, he is able to walk on the moon and soon, who knows, he may even be able to live in space.

What will our futuristic man see when he peers down from above at the globe that was once his home? If he develops a telescope that's powerful enough, he can fix his gaze on fish being choked to death by polluted water in our lakes and streams.

Providing, of course, that he can see through the gray haze of smoke floating like a halo around the earth as a result of exhaust from our automobiles and factories.

Our moon man can watch a large part of humanity dying daily from diseases for which there are no cure. Or he can eavesdrop on health research programs that are in danger of ending abruptly because there are no more funds to finance them.

He can peek into windows of tenements or cabins where children go to bed early — in order to put aside the pain of hunger. Or he can watch graduating students across the nation, a large segment of whom cannot find decent employment because they cannot read well.

Should we cut back on Space Program spending? Yes. We should cut it back considerably so that more federal aid can be directed to solve the pressing economic and domestic problems we face as a nation.

Then and only then can Man journey into space and soar among the stars with a conscience unshackled by guilt.

Questions Policy On Police News

To the Editor:

In this week's column of "Speaking for the Record", I read with interest your judgment of certain news media and what you consider improper methods on the part of one T.V. station.

While you seem very able and willing to point out the faults in the other fellows methods, how about your own methods? Are you giving a clear and unbiased report of all the happenings in our city and township? I think not.

It is my feeling and the thought of many people in the township that in your desire to do away with the township you have slanted many of your writings.

One that comes to mind is your report on the township police (gun toters, you called them) do you call this fair and proper reporting, and while I am on the subject of police reporting, just where do you draw the line as to what is or is not reported on your police blotter? I know of one particular party in the township who was told that you reported the entire blotter whether it be dog bite, traffic ticket or assault. Are you still following this same line? Or do you report what you feel should be reported and protect those you feel need protecting? Just where do you draw the line? How do you judge proper methods of reporting?

It is my feeling that you might do some soul searching of your own before you cast the first stone.

After reading the last few issues of your paper, and finding some omissions and slantings of your own, I find it rather difficult to put much stock in anything you might report in the future.

Raps Pro-Abortionists

To the Editor:
Thank you, editors of the Record, for your generosity in printing my letters.

To those pro-abortionists who are really thinking of compassionate reasons, I do apologize. I should have said, "— selfish OR misguided people." You do not seem to be selfish. You are misguided, though. Do you really believe that only those abortions will be performed which are for compassionate reasons? Further, how will we be sure, while they are still in the womb, which babies will be so unfit to live?

Ask the child, who didn't even know her name when she was little because she had been so cruelly treated but who now has a new Mother and finds Life very good, if she values her Life. She wasn't wanted in the beginning. Should she be dead now? Ask any one of the miserable children in the slums of Detroit if he would rather live or if he would like to have you mercifully kill him. Then base your opinion on his answer.

Granted there is much misery in our world. But there must be a better solution for it than abortion, even if abortion would solve the problems and it will not.

I am not trying to FORCE you to my view. I am only trying to convince you that killing is wrong for whatever reasons one does it. Believing that this issue of LIFE is vital to our future and that, if the wishes of the majority were known to the lawmakers we would not have legal abortion in Michigan, I am only urging people to let the lawmakers know their views. If we do allow this law to be reformed, then raise your son to know he someday lose the Life of a son or daughter he would like to cherish because his wife will have the right to kill it and she may use this right against his wishes. The demanding of individual rights without due consideration for the rights of others is wrong in any case. In this case, it is criminally against our highest ideals as human beings. I am only urging, please, let's not allow this cold-blooded, intentional killing of the young to be added to the killing already engaged in.

One thing's for sure: someone took a chicken lickin'.

It may have been Marian Szczepanski of Northville, who was fined $68 last week for being a disorderly person. Or it may have been Michael Mendolia, owner of the Northville Pizzeria, who was winged by fried chicken thrown by Szczepanski. Or maybe both of 'em.

Anyway, Szczepanski was found guilty by District Court Judge Dunbar Davis following the pair's duel at the pizzeria May 19.

Szczepanski plunked a bucket of fried chicken down on the pizzeria counter and demanded his money back because the chicken was "too dry."

Mendolia, who minutes earlier had denied a similar request of Mrs. Szczepanski after noting that the purchase had been made two days before and that half of the 20 pieces of chicken were missing, held firm, ordering the disgruntled customer to vacate the premises.

Whereupon, according to police and court reports, Szczepanski picked up a piece of the two-day old chicken and fired a strike at Mendolia.

No spring chicken himself (he's 38), Mendolia picked up a frying basket and, using it like a tennis pro, fended off succeeding serves by Szczepanski until all the ammunition was gone. At that point Mendolia waved his make-shift racquet at his assailant and, according to Szczepanski, splattered grease on his sport coat.

Both were boiling by now and some deep fried words ensued.

Police arrived to call a halt to the proceedings and, when heated words continued to flow, warned Szczepanski to either "quiet down" or pay a visit to the local cooler.

Faulty Novi Basement Stirs Citizen Charge

Leonard Gerka of 23141 Meadowbrook demanded justice before the city council Monday night in charging that certification of occupancy was given for his home after faulty inspection by the city.

Gerka appeared before council with a letter he had sent to land developer, Thompson-Brown, and builder Cranbrook Building, pointing up faults in the construction of the house he and his family have been living in since last year.

Gerka's letter complained of a concrete basement floor poured over wet ground, lacking of weeping tile in the construction, faulty plumbing under the floor, and a heating fan that failed to function.

Gerka said he had been to the state securities commission and had received a "run-around". He said he had been advised to request the council to report the matter so proceedings could be initiated to suspend the builder's license.

City Attorney Howard Bond said that in all his experience with the securities commission such a thing had never happened.

Councilman Edwin Presnell theorized that if Gerka succeeded in lifting Cranbrook's license he would have no legal channel to go through and the builder could tell him "to go jump on the lake".

Councilman Donald C. Young noted that even if the builder's license was lifted, he could simply incorporate under another name, leaving the matter unresolved.

Bond pointed out that if proper inspection had not been made, and certificate of habitation issued, then inspection should be completed and proceedings initiate to determine whether or not the certificate was issued under fraud.

Presnell noted that the faults in construction might be items that were difficult to notice, reminded Gerka that he hadn't noticed the faulty condition of his basement floor until he had lived there some time.

It was theorized that the building inspector may have taken the word of the builder at the time of inspection.

City Manager Dallas Zonkers was directed to check into the records of inspection to determine whether or not inspection had been faulty and if reinspection is advisable.

Zonkers in talking with the News Tuesday morning, revealed that a check had been made and that the city was found to have fulfilled its obligation.

Mayor Joseph Crupi reported that he had attended meetings with Zonkers and the city engineer and concluded that it was in the best interest of citizens on Buckingham Court to install a drop connection at the trunkline sewer now being installed along 10 Mile Road. Cost of this connection was put at $750 as opposed to a stub or cap over what later could become a drop connection. Cost of the stub was pegged at $200.

Of the six homes on the court, two are owned by contractor David Pink, who has asked that his two unoccupied homes be connected to the trunkline to permit occupancy. The other homes are occupied and are using a private sanitary sewage system.

Councilmen frown on Pink's alternate suggestion that he be permitted to install a separate line to service his two homes. They prefer that a single lateral line be installed in the court to service all of the homes. The preferred suggestion would mean that all six homes share the cost of the lateral, which has been estimated at $12,000 or approximately $1,934 each.

Pink is willing to pay his share of the lateral, but he, Councilman Edwin Presnell, and Robert Discher, 40135 Buckingham Court, contend the estimated cost is too high, and they urged other quotations be secured before the project is authorized.

Crupi suggested homeowners secure their own bids for the project, pointing out that if the city undertakes the bidding process it will necessarily mean a special assessment. Special assessment procedures could take up to a year, thus delaying lateral installation unnecessarily, he added.

In other matters Monday, Ron Birou, representing homeowners in

At Walled Lake

Park Opens Saturday

With the Novi park at Walled Lake slated to open for swimming and limited picnicking Saturday, it was disclosed Monday that a series of Scout workshops will be held there this summer to improve the facility.

Water of the lake earlier had been declared safe for swimming, and David Harrison, chairman of the council's park committee, has stated that basic improvements will be completed in time for Saturday's opener.

These improvements include leveling of the parking area, refurbishing of restroom facilities, installation of a gate, reconditioning of some of the park's picnic tables, mowing and general cleanup.

Peter Alcalá, a member of the committee, disclosed the workshop plans which are to involve restricted weekend camping for Scouts and their fathers engaged in park improvement projects.

General public camping will not be permitted, it was emphasized, until after sufficient park improvements are made.

Scouts, according to Alcalá, will work on reconditioning picnic tables while their fathers cut down dead trees. Scout work will count towards their merit awards, he explained.

In reviewing his written report on the park—improvements already made and those still to be made, along with costs for these improvements, maintenance, and supervision—Harrison noted that still to be resolved is the matter of insurance. The present policy, he said, expires June 30.

It was disclosed that a $2 per season or 50-cent per day charge will be made for Novi residents using the park, and $4 per season or $1 per day for non-residents.

Only the front portion of the park on the south side of the lake drive and the lake beach will be opened for public use this summer. Plans call for the park to be opened from morning to dusk.

Carl Falk, Port Huron police chief, vice-president; Willard Weiss, Fraser police chief, secretary-treasurer, William Hanger, Pontiac police chief, Herman Potts, Royal Oak police chief, and Loren Pittman, Wayne County undersheriff, board members.

The Metropolitan Academy, which represents some 60 cities, will begin training its next class of recruits from area police departments on July 28.

Northville School Board

Contracts OK'd

Personnel matters topped the Northville school board agenda Monday night as contracts were awarded to administrators and seven teachers, and one retirement and two resignations were approved.

Two-year contracts were unanimously awarded to Frederick Holdsworth, high school principal, David Longridge, assistant high school principal; J. Ronald Horwath, junior high principal; Richard Norton, assistant junior high principal; and William Craft, Milton Jacobi and Donald Van Ingen, elementary principals.

New two-year contracts were awarded to Earl T. Busard, business manager, and Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum coordinator.

A three-year contract was given to Raymond Spear, superintendent, with Trustee Andrew Orphan voting against the measure. Orphan said he objected to the three-year length, favoring a two-year contract instead.

Administrators declined to reveal the salaries involved in each contract until teacher negotiations are completed, since salaries of administrative personnel are based in part on teacher salary steps.

Teacher contracts were approved for third grade intern teachers Karen Hemming and Nancy Reynolds. Both will graduate from Michigan State in June, 1971. Miss Hemming will teach at Main Street and Miss Reynolds at Moraine.

Also approved for employment were Mary Margaret Cools, elementary physical education instructor, a 1970 graduate of Wayne State University with a BS in physical education; Mrs. Judy Courts, first grade Main Street, a 1970 graduate of Eastern Michigan with a BS degree in social science.

Myra E. Moss, second grade Amerman, a 1967 graduate of Bowling Green University with a BS degree in elementary education, Mrs. Priscilla Smith, junior high science, a 1970 graduate of University of Michigan with a BS degree in science; and Mrs. Gail E. Evans, high school math, a 1968 graduate of Western Michigan with a BS degree in mathematics. All contracts are effective for the 1970-71 school year.

Resignations were approved for Jefferson Riddell, high school English teacher, who will leave his post at the end of the present year to continue his studies; and for Judith Grant, sixth grade teacher who will be moving to New Jersey.

The retirement of Diana Lance, high school mathematics teacher for the past 27 years, was approved by the board, along with a resolution commending her for service to the district.

The board canceled the meeting set for June 22 and will hold their organizational meeting July 13.

Mustangs: Best Nine in SE Michigan

FRED HOLDSWORTH

TERRY MILLS

They Share W-O Crown as Well!

While earning six runs themselves, the Mustangs shut out Bloomfield Hills Andover Thursday to win their half of a Wayne-Oakland crown split with Milford.

Northville came back from Andover with a 12-2 record — a mark set earlier by the Redskins — that meant a share of the W-O championship.

Fred Holdsworth posted his 12th win of the season in notching the "must" triumph for the local nine. He gave up just two hits — both singles off the bat of Chris Binkley — and fanned 11 men, while walking none.

Losing hurler was John Schmidt, who gave up nine hits, including three doubles — off the bats of Terry Mills, Holdsworth and Rick LaRue.

The Mustangs struck early, scoring two runs in the top of the first. They scored three more in the fifth, and one in the sixth.

In that first inning, Mills opened the attack with a single, took second on a pop fly by LaRue, and third on what should have been a fielder's choice off the bat of Holdsworth. Both were safe on outfield errors, however, and both came home on the catcher's throw over the second baseman's head when Holdsworth stole second.

The second, third and fourth innings were fruitless, leaving outfielder Steve Utley on in the second, and Holdsworth on in the third, both on singles.

In the fifth, with two outs, Mills lined a double, then scored from second on LaRue's single. Holdsworth brought LaRue home with another double. Bernie Bach popped to the third baseman who dropped it, allowing Holdsworth to score. Bach was left on first.

Northville took the undisputed championship of Southeastern Michigan Saturday, walloping Taylor Kennedy 4-0.

Schools from the Wayne-Oakland-Macomb county area met last weekend to decide, in a playoff, the Tournament of Champions.

Northville went to the playoff as champs of the Les Anders Memorial Tournament, an honor they earned in Livonia two weeks ago.

The Mustangs primed themselves for Saturday's victory Friday when they took Frazier High School for a 3-0 ride at Ford Field in Livonia. The victory left Northville and Taylor sole contenders for the crown.

Ace right-hander Holdsworth boosted his record to 13-1 against Taylor, fanning 10 men and allowing four hits.

Losing pitcher was Mike O'Malley, he struck out 11 men, one more than Holdsworth, and walked three.

Action started in the first inning, off the bat of catcher Terry Mills, who singled and then stole second. He scored on another single by Holdsworth, and a sacrifice by outfielder-pitcher Bernie Bach.

Mills smashed a homer in the third with one out and nobody on to score the Mustangs' second run.

The big inning for Northville was the sixth when Bach led off with a single and streaked to second on a catcher's error. Rich Adams hit a dribbler to the third baseman who errored in throwing to first, leaving Adams safe. First baseman Steve Utley, walked and the bases were loaded. Outfielder David Coe hit to the shortstop who errored but managed to make the out at first. He was not in time to stop Bach and Adams from scoring the third and fourth Mustang runs, however.

Northville picked up five hits and committed no errors. The local nine outpaced Taylor by only one hit but the three Taylor errors in the sixth proved fatal.

Under the lights at Frazier Friday, Bach pitched a shut-out to boost his record to 7-1.

Northville held Frazier to two hits, both singles, in the first and fourth innings.

Mustang runs came off six hits, all singles, from the bats of Rick LaRue, Bach, Adams, Utley, and Mills, who accounted for a pair.

LaRue, Bach and Mills crossed the bag in the first, fourth and fifth innings.

Tiger Choice

Northville's star right hander, Fred Holdsworth, has been chosen as a hopeful in the major league draft of college and high school players by the Detroit Tigers, it was revealed Thursday.

Holdsworth was one of three selected from Michigan.

Minor league play in the summer, and scholarships to the school of his choice, are in the offing.

HEAVILY LADEN — Coach Chuck Shonta and co-captain Terry Mills frame trophies the Mustangs have won on the diamond this season. From left they are the standing trophy from the Les Anders Tournament, the traveling trophy from the Tournament of Champions, and the standing trophy from the Tournament of Champions.

All-League Title Goes to Five Here

Northville led league leading partner Milford by one player in all star honors in the Wayne-Oakland league. Four Mustangs won first team distinction.

Novi placed short-stop Phil McMillan on the honor team in the Southeastern Conference.

In the W-O league, it was hurler Fred Holdsworth, with a season record of 12-1, catcher Terry Mills, short-stop Rich Adams, and outfielder-pitcher Bernie Bach placed for Northville.

In 13 games, Holdsworth pitched six shut-outs. He fanned 186 men, allowing 40 hits and 17 walks, finishing with a ERA of .052. Batting .390, he turned 27 hits into 20 runs in 69 times at the plate. He smacked two doubles and slammed a pair of homers.

Mills (.432), made 81 trips, touched home 27 times on 35 hits and knocked in 15 men. He walloped six doubles and a pair of triples in the course of the season.

Bach (.322), had an even 19 runs for 19 hits going to bat 59 times. He knocked out four doubles and three triples, driving 15 men home.

Adams (.301) went 20 for 22 in 73 tries. He had one of each, a homer, a double, and a triple. His RBI record was 18, while he stole seven bases and walked 12 times.

The love Wildcat entry in the Southeastern Conference, Phil McMillan, was .316 for the season. He went to the plate 57 times, to turn 18 hits into 14 runs. He smacked a double and a triple driving in 11 runs.

Milford placed pitcher John Morrison, first baseman Tom Sitko, and outfielder Matt Partridge.

W-O League Death Looms

The Wayne-Oakland County League, which has been in existence for 19 years, may be disbanded as a league after the 1971-72 school year.

Northville and Brighton are scheduled to get out of the W-O with the completion of the upcoming 1970-71 school year, meaning that there will be only six teams left in the conference.

And Clarenceville, it is known, has been casting about for affiliation with a league in its class or other teams that would be interested in forming a new league.

"If Clarenceville gets out," said Bob Kucher, Northville athletic director, "the Wayne-Oakland Conference might fold. I can't see them operating as a five-team league."

Clarenceville is committed, however, through the 1971-72 season. And in a recent athletic directors' meeting, Kucher said, the schools that will remain in the conference agreed to operate as a six-team league, while trying to draw others into the league.

Kucher speculated, however, that if the W-O takes on newcomers either two would be added to bring the total to eight teams or none at all would be added.

Northville will be joining five other teams to form what will be known as the Western Six Conference. The other schools, all brand new, are Walled Lake Western, Waterford Mott, Livonia Churchill, Farmington Harrison and Plymouth Canton.

All teams except Northville will have enrollments between 1,800 and 2,200 students to qualify as class A schools when they open. Northville currently has an enrollment of 1,050, but is expected to reach around 1,200 or slightly over that next year.

"We'll be a small class A school," Kucher said, "but we won't necessarily be at a disadvantage when the new conference opens. I feel we maybe will have the advantage because we're an old school system. The other conference members will be new and organizing."

Kucher sees an enrollment of between 1,500 and 1,800 at Northville in three years. What's more, Northville has more than held its own in the W-O and beat Waterford Mott, 35-0, in football last year and Livonia Churchill, 8-2, in baseball this year.

Brighton, which has been taking its lumps lately in the W-O except for basketball this year and golf, is getting out because school officials say the W-O has been drifting apart and Brighton has much less in common with the rest of the schools than when the league was organized.

Brighton has appealed to both the Southeast Conference and the Capital Circuit League for admittance. An application before December received no reply from the Southeast Conference, but there will be two openings in the Capital Circuit at the end of the 1970-71 season.

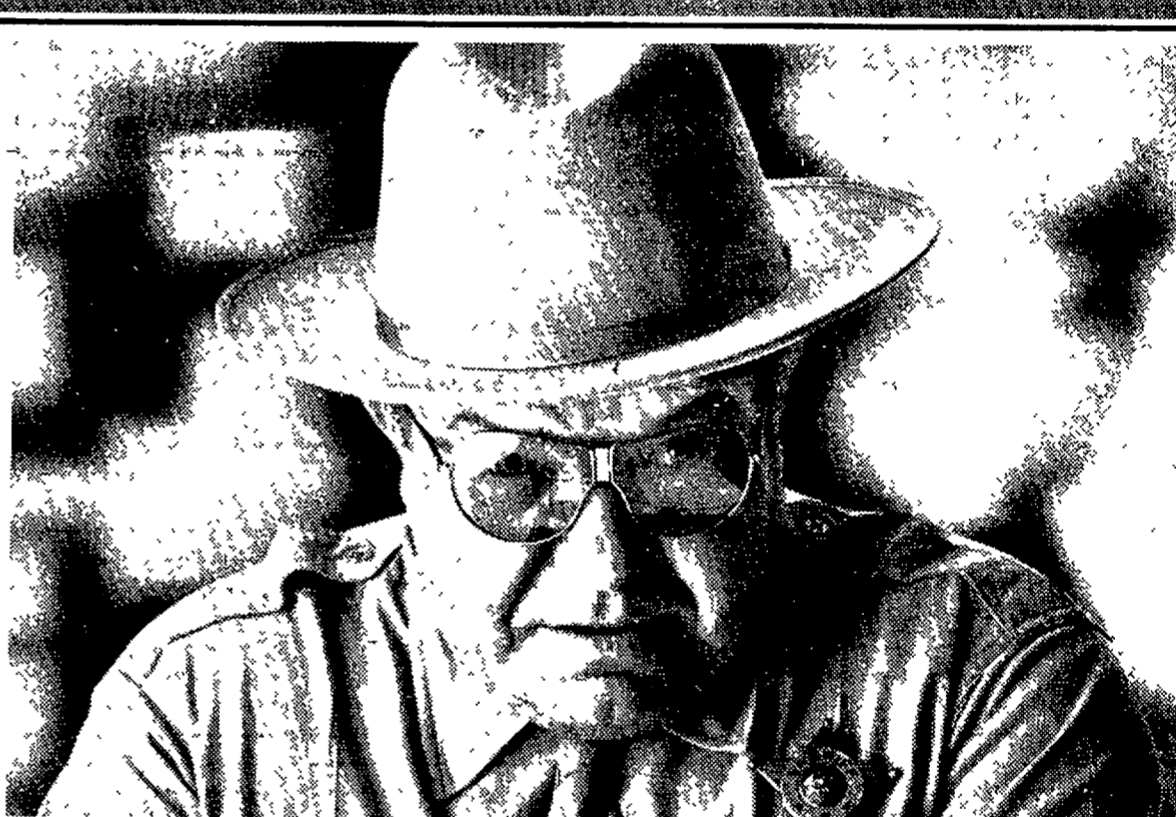

Four teams — Brighton, Clarenceville, Romulus and Dearborn Riverside — were ready to form a new league recently, but a fifth member could not be found. Officials of these schools, it was reported, felt five teams were needed.

Clarenceville, like Brighton, hasn't been a winner lately in the W-O, with all teams but Northville, Clarenceville and Brighton now being class A. Brighton is the smallest school this year with an enrollment of 850; Northville and Clarenceville each have around 1,050 students.

Two years ago, Holly dropped out of the league and affiliated with a class B circuit near Fenton. Waterford Kettering took Holly's place.

The class A schools in the W-O are Kettering, Bloomfield Hills Andover, West Bloomfield, Milford and Clarkston.

The original "six" who formed the conference in 1951 were Northville, Clarenceville, Clarkston, Holly, West Bloomfield and Milford. Brighton joined during the basketball season of 1953 and Bloomfield Hills joined in 1959.

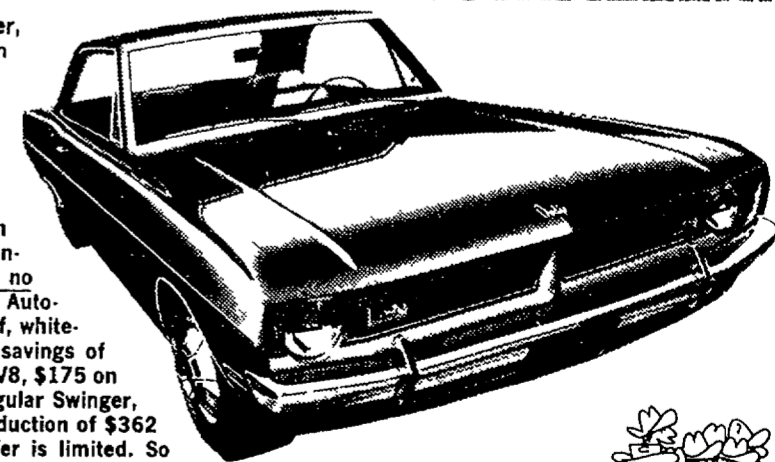

HOLD IT! THE DODGE BOYS JUST MADE THE PRICE OF THEIR SMALL CAR...SMALLER.

We made the price quite a bit smaller, Sheriff. To the tune of nearly $400 on the Dart Swinger Automatic. Here's how the Dodge Boys did it. Sticker prices have been reduced* $157 to $194 per car on all new Dodge Dart models—hardtops, sedans, even the Swinger 340.

Then the Dodge Boys came up with a specially equipped hardtop that includes the automatic transmission at no extra cost. It's called the Dart Swinger Automatic. And it also includes a vinyl roof, white-walls, carpeting, and more. Add the savings of the automatic transmission ($191 on V8, $175 on Six) to the $187 price drop on the regular Swinger, and you come up with a total price reduction of $362 to $378. This Swinger Automatic offer is limited. So hurry. See the Dodge Boys and save now on America's big, 6-passenger compact.

Entrance to the new sanctuary, a blend of classic styles, is from porticos on either side of the new structure. Of late Georgian style the porticos lead into an interior hall area which connects also with the rest of the church.

The new sanctuary has a balcony for additional seating, and the former organ has been installed in the front, which now faces north. Also retained is the oak reredos behind the altar and the baptismal font. Mr. Brasure explained that it was the building committee's intention to retain as much as possible of the old and to blend it with the new.

First meeting place of the organization now known as the First Presbyterian Church of Northville was a log house, primarily used as a school and located at Baseline Road and Griswold Street.

The original record of the founding of the church by a colony from the Farmington church is dated November 28, 1829. The new group was known as the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth with the name being changed in 1889.

Later services were held in a stone school house on Hutton Avenue. In 1835 trustees authorized the erection of a Presbyterian Meeting House, which was moved to Cady street in 1845. It remained there until 1963 when demolished to make way for the new Christian education unit of the church.

roads and Michigan Potato Chip Company, Six Mile and Middlebelt.

Treasurer Lawrence has been a member of the township board for 14 years, first as trustee for six years.

One Democrat and four Republicans are taking aim at the two trustee seats on the board. Petitions have already been filed by Incumbent William P. Smith, Jr., who was appointed to the board last September to replace Thomas Armstrong, who resigned. Smith had served as a member of the planning commission previously. He lives at 15560 Robinwood drive.

Trustee petitions have also been filed for Charles Schaeffer, Jr., 18593 Jamestown Circle, and petitions for trustee are being circulated by Leonard L. Klein, 18450 Fermanagh court, who presently serves as chairman of the township planning commission.

Only Democrat to take out petitions thus far is Joseph Fiorilli, 39914 Harbert, who was once an unsuccessful candidate for supervisor on the Democratic ticket.

Meanwhile, Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg and Clerk Eleanor Hammond are the only unopposed candidates for re-election. Two other board members, Trustees Bernard Baldwin and Richard Mitchell, have two more years to serve on their current terms.

Deadline for filing petitions is next Tuesday (June 16) at 4 p.m. Petitions are available at the township hall.

Meadowbrook Lake subdivision, urged the council to determine a standard minimum for fencing of residential swimming pools, noting that the building department appears to have no standard criterion.

Birou also urged the council to take steps to remove "dangerous" partially destroyed houses on Nine Mile Road (one, the former Heslip property, and the other, the former Guenther property).

The council agreed and, at the suggestion of Bond, voted to proceed with demolition steps as are being used in neighboring Walled Lake.

A liquor license was granted to John Poxon of the Derby Bar 43393 13 Mile Road.

In other council action —

—A letter was received and turned over to Zonkers, containing Bond's opinion that the building inspector should have nothing to do with school inspections; pointing out that such action should be in the hands of the school board and fire marshal. Bond said the city should inspect only if requested, and then should charge accordingly.

—A bid from the Timber Trust Company for a new pole building of $15,684 plus an additional $992 for foundation, frost wall and trenching was accepted with a stipulation that council should wait for a bid on concrete flooring.

Wixom OK's Property Reappraisal

A resolution authorizing Assessor Robert Case to begin a re-appraisal of Wixom property was adopted by the Wixom City Council Monday night.

The re-appraisal is scheduled for completion prior to the 1971 taxroll.

The resolution is to be submitted to both the state and the county as formal notification that Wixom is re-evaluating its assessments to bring them up to state law requirements.

Also, the council authorized Case to use $200 in the current assessing budget for hiring of two college students to assist him in on-site measurements of Wixom buildings.

Case also informed the council of his intention of conducting a public meeting, probably in one of the schools, to explain the purpose of the re-appraisal, steps to accomplish it, and related taxing-assessing matters. At this meeting, he said, citizens will have an opportunity to ask questions about the re-appraisal.

Citizen Lloyd Croft later challenged Case to explain immediately the reason for measurements of property, pointing out that no one would be allowed inside his home for such purposes. He contended that the building department should be aware of any building additions that have occurred over the years without searching for them.

Case explained that in some cases where citizens have built additions or otherwise improved their properties without taking out building permits, it is not always possible for inspectors to note such illegal construction.

As to Croft's statement that no measurements would be permitted inside his house, Case said he hoped that citizens would cooperate. But, where such cooperation is lacking, he will have little recourse but to estimate value "on the high side," he explained.

Mrs. Charles Ware questioned the necessity of the re-appraisal, arguing that some property owners are already financially squeezed by taxes.

Earlier in Tuesday's meeting, a young man spoke in behalf of Ronald Parvu, 22-year-old Wixom citizen, who was appointed parks and recreation director by the mayor but who failed to win confirmation by the council. He noted that while Parvu is young, he nevertheless is thoroughly qualified to hold the post.

Upon the recommendation of the acting police chief, the council endorsed upgrading of the license of the Wixom Bar as provided in a new state law for those taverns that have been under the same ownership (in this case, J. B. Morningstar) for five consecutive years or more.

A public hearing was set July 14 for a request to rezone 24 acres of property near Beck and Potter roads to permit a multiple housing development.

At the request of the planning commission, the council decided to meet jointly with planners on July 6 to discuss urban renewal and acquisition of recreational lands.

Fire Chief Robert Potter was authorized to begin search for a suitable building, on the west side of the C&O railroad, that might be leased for housing of a second city fire truck.

The second vehicle has not yet been purchased, nor authorized for purchase. However, Councilman Robert Dingeldey, suggested Tuesday that the council consider purchase of a 1969 demonstration truck, now available for purchase at what was seen as a bargain price of $18,000. The vehicle, Dingeldey noted, is a John Bean on a Ford chassis, has only 3,000 miles, includes a 200-gallon water tank, a 40-gallon foam tank, four-wheel drive, and is suitable for residential, industrial or grass fires.

PARTING PARTY — Their diplomas tucked away, seniors of the Northville and Novi graduating classes enjoyed a traditional bon voyage — senior parties at their respective schools all night long Tuesday. The party at Northville (top pictures) was based on the theme, "Age of Aquarius," and was hosted by senior parents. It began at 11 p.m. and culminated with a breakfast at 4 a.m. Parents also hosted the Novi party that began at 11:30 p.m. and was concluded at dawn with breakfast. The Novi party carried the theme, "Barn Raising." Besides lots of parting gabfests by seniors, who in many cases will now shelve close friendships gained over the years as they head for college and/or employment, the graduates danced up a storm, ate tablefuls of food, and enjoyed the live music of the Straight Razors (in Novi) and the Profiteers (in Northville). Back for his third year in a row at Northville was CKLW disc jockey, Jim Edwards.

moral responsibility. Because of this responsibility, he suggested that the city start legal action against the county and Holloway rather than leaving litigation up to him.

However, Schnelz pointed out that while the city could pay Croft his claims and then sue the county and Holloway to recoup the money, such a step would be unusual and possibly set an adverse precedent. City intervention also might be challenged in court, he added.

A motion by Councilman Charles McCall that the city pay Croft's legal fees if he successfully litigates his claims also was seen as awkward by the attorney. Such court fees could be excessive, he noted, should the case be appealed to higher courts — possibly even to the Supreme Court.

While no formal decision was made, city officials made clear that they support Croft's claim for damages (although not necessarily the amount) and, upon completion of litigation started by Croft the city would consider payment of legal fees.

Croft, acknowledging the awkward position of the city, said "it's my money both ways... let it ride for awhile."

OUT OF PAST — This stage notice, dated 1856, is a copy of one that hangs in the Henry Ford Museum. It advertises the Detroit and Lansing Stage for passengers going "north and northwest from Detroit to Howell, Lansing, Lyons and Ionia" by the Plank Road (Grand River). The main east-west route of Grand River was soon to be replaced by the new expressway (I-96) under construction in 1957. Businesses all along the route were adversely affected by the resulting drop in travel along Grand River, and even today, through traffic on the expressway has climbed steadily, auto traffic on Grand River is still below its heyday level. None of the pictures on this page appeared in the book, "Valley of A Thousand Lakes," but were taken from The Northville Record files.

"...Pathway of the home builder, trail of empire toward the setting sun."

Thus begins a historical sketch of "the Grand River Road" in a soft-cover book discovered recently by Essie Nirider of Northville.

The 108-page book, titled "Valley of a Thousand Lakes," written by Charles A. Ward of Lakeland and published in Howell in 1922, apparently is a combination advertising gimmick — historical fiction — and short historical accounts of places within the "valley."

The "valley" in this instance is "approximately 16 miles long by five miles wide. It extends in a south-westerly direction from the western limits of Oakland county through southern Livingston and northern Washtenaw. The floor of the valley is broken by rolling hills, by cultivated fields, tracts of primeval forest and the shimmering surface of silvery lakes."

It follows the path of the Huron River:

"The Huron, born a tiny rivulet in the uplands of Oakland, started first southwesterly, groping its way blindly through the hills in an effort to reach the lowland plain and an unrestrained course to the sea. Receiving in its wanderings the outpourings of countless sparkling springs, swallowing the drainage of a thousand timber crested hills, gathering the flow of numberless brooklets of lesser degree, the Huron now reaches the Valley of a Thousand Lakes with the full dignity of a stream navigable for pleasure craft."

"Thence, for 20 miles of its sinuous course, the river winds sedately through green meadows, laves the buttresses of lofty hills, traverses the depths of game filled forests, enlarging its bounds at frequent intervals to form lakes of surpassing beauty; and always presenting to the enchanted voyager an everchanging panorama of nature in her loveliest mood."

The book contains a poem by Edgar A. Guest on the inside cover, Indian folklore written in narrative form and presumably based on local history, histories on Brighton and Island Lake, Hamburg, Portage and Base Lakes, Whitmore Lake, Pinckney, Lakeland, "The Trail of Strawberry Point," advertising, and "guide posts" — a description of routes from Detroit to the valley.

One of the routes is described this way:

"Leave the city (Detroit) on Grand River avenue, take the seven mile road, a mile west of Redford, to Northville, thence north to the South Lyon road, thence west through South Lyon to Silver Lake, in Green Oak, Whitmore, Hamburg, River View, Pleasant Lake Hills, Lakeland and Pinckney on truck line No. 49, from which roads debouch to all of the summer settlements."

Concerning the history of the Grand River Road, the book notes:

"The act of congress establishing the Grand River turnpike was passed on July 4th, 1832, and directed President Jackson to appoint a commission to lay out a road from Detroit to the mouth of the Grand River on Lake Michigan. Construction did not, however, move with celerity, and it was two years before the first 10 miles out from Detroit were completed, after a fashion, at a cost of $2,500."

"March 3rd, 1835, congress appropriated $25,000 for construction work on the thoroughfare and the work was prosecuted with jore vigor. During the years 1835-6 the road was cleared 100 feet wide through the timber, and bridges were constructed across the Rouge, the Huron, the Shiawassee, the Red Cedar and the Grand rivers."

"Then Michigan reached the dignity of statehood and the interest of the Federal government in the road ceased. Congress, however, donated to the new state 5,000 acres of land the proceeds from the sale of which were expended in an effort to make the road passable."

"Leaving Woodward avenue, in Detroit, the road runs northwest through Redford, Farmington, Novi and New Hudson. It crosses the Huron river near the western line of Oakland county and follows that stream into the Valley of a Thousand Lakes, skirting the shores of Briggs, Island and Fonda lakes to the village of Brighton where it crosses the Michigan trunk line No. 65 (US-23) and passes through a gap in the Livingston hills to Howell..."

"The story of the rise of the old way from a mere track through the wilderness, over which the pioneer wagons wallowed in bottomless mud and struggled over impossible grades, to the dignity of a great avenue of early commerce, and its subsequent decline to the level of a commonplace country road is freighted with the hopes and the illusions, the successes and the failures of pioneer life, and today the route is enlivened by monuments created by the success of the far-sighted and littered with the wreckage of blasted hopes."

"When traffic upon the old road reached a point where the maintenance of a passable roadbed became burdensome upon the public purse it was given over to corporations that planked the worst stretches and graveled other portions. A toll of two cents per mile was charged for the passage of loaded wagons, a charge that is about equivalent of the rail charges for transportation today (in 1922)..."

"As you reach the crest of the grade west of the Huron river (now Kensington Metropolitan Park) you will note an ancient one-story brick building standing along in the field by the roadside. In its day it was probably considered imposing. But its day passed into history 70 odd years ago. It was the home of the Bank of Kensington, a financial institution that flourished when a likely village clustered at the river crossing and the restless pioneers were boosting prosperity by making money on printing presses. The career of the building as a center of finance was short. It has long been used as a storehouse for hay and farm implements and chickens have roosted in its vaults..."

The book, which sold for 25-cents, carries a sub-title, "The Legends and Romance of the Lake Country told with camera and pencil."

Clue to what prompted publication of the book and its sale probably in Detroit appears in one of the advertisements: "I have cottages, bungalows, building lots, acre tracts, 10-acre tracts, lake and river frontage all within the reach of the man of modest means."

The ad was signed by the author, Charles A. Ward.

Babson Report

Pollution Battle Puts Auto Makers on Spot

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — President Nixon has made a commitment on behalf of consumers to reduce substantially the level of pollutants in our environment. Since the automobile is a prime contributor to air pollution, the major producers of cars and trucks are on the spot. They will have to come up with workable answers to the problem. Reliable estimates indicate that petroleum-fueled vehicles produce from 50 per cent to 80 per cent of all the air pollution we breathe every day.

MANY STATES are moving ahead rapidly in terms of research and proposed regulations. California, long a pace-setter in enacting and enforcing rules for auto safety, has once again come to the fore, this time with specific methods of controlling exhaust emissions and preventing discharge of poisons into the air. The federal government, to a considerable degree, is taking parallel action toward establishment of compulsory legislation in this critical field.

The U.S. government is now testing natural gas or compressed gas in some of its Government Services Administration fleets. In results released thus far, cars using natural or compressed gas give off only an estimated 10 per cent of the noxious fumes emitted by gasoline-driven vehicles.

CURRENTLY, the major producers of cars and automotive fuel are involved in a controversy over the use of lead in gasoline, which is partly responsible for hydrocarbons released by the internal combustion engine. Unleaded gas, on the other hand, entails manufacturing ramifications and increased associated costs to the auto maker, and ultimately to the consumer.

Bendix Corporation's fuel injection system appears to have good potential in the anti-pollution fight. This electrical method can allegedly cut down on the pollutants ejected by approximately 10 per cent to 15 per cent. It is the hope of Bendix Corporation to see its system replace carburetors on "many" cars by 1975, but it is possible that it will debut as optional equipment of U.S. autos by 1972 or 1973.

WHILE the ultimate system will almost inevitably depend on the outcome of the controversy over leaded gas vs. unleaded gas, there will be in the meantime a spate of trial systems. Echlin Manufacturing has developed a new exhaust emission control product which helps reduce air pollution from cars and trucks. This device is a special teflon-coated positive crankcase ventilator valve (PCV) which helps to prevent valve clogging, one of the outstanding causes of atmospheric pollution. Other manufacturing concerns have under development various exhaust recycling and pollutant "trap" devices.

GENERAL MOTORS, in a co-operative research venture, has been working on a revolutionary engine powered by a silent, vibration-free, pollution-free plant "that will run on anything from alcohol to salad oil." But GM does not think it will ever replace the internal combustion engine in cars. The company is making available for pre-1966 model cars, a device which significantly reduces air-fouling emissions. The suggested retail price, after certification permits commercial distribution, is $9.95 plus installation charges.

IT MUST be noted that regular maintenance is necessary for successful emission control, and effective operation of any devices presupposes a car in satisfactory operating condition. These systems, whether added to the older vintage autos or factory-installed by auto makers, will have an immediate and significant effect on the level of pollutants attributable to the automobile. In any event, the Research Department of Babson's Reports feels the commitment to clean the air will be carried out — by revising the fuel, the engine, or both.

Mental Attitudes Need Change

Money Can't Heal Ills

Improvement in conditions of poverty, crime, pollution and war and answers to the great questions of youth begin with the transformation of human thought, some 10,000 Christian Scientists attending the denomination's annual meeting were told Monday.

"The present state of our world — no matter how much it appears to be objectified out there — is really but the evidence of the present state of human thinking." The Christian Science board of directors said in its annual message read by its chairman, Clayton Bion Craig.

"Mankind's greatest need," the directors said, "always is for the spiritual enlightenment of human thinking." They emphasized that there are no merely material solutions to today's urgent problems and urged that mankind "individually reach out to the guiding intelligence of man and the universe to find the remedy for all our national and international crises."

The theme, "But What Can I Do?", will be developed in a series of meetings continuing through Wednesday, June 10.

The directors' message called upon Christian Scientists to bring the spirit and practice of true Christianity to bear upon local and world conditions.

"All the police forces in the world aren't enough to stop the lawlessness and violence bent on destroying our society and institutions," the directors said. "There are no federal, state or local agencies that can heal racial strife. All the money and food in the world isn't sufficient to permanently eliminate poverty. Pollution will never disappear until the mental attitudes which cause it change."

"With all these situations we know we're dealing with states of human consciousness, rather than material conditions."

The message went on to say, "So, if we would change the external conditions...we must begin with the transformation of human thought."

Recalling that "Jesus lifted men's thought above the plane of materialism into the realm of the spiritual," the directors asked, "Are we truly reaching out with Christly compassion to help those in our community whose need is great?"

The directors, in emphasizing the importance of individual responsibility in helping humanity said, "All of us can't go to the uttermost parts of the earth, but we can all do a better job letting our light shine right where we humanly are — in our homes, in our businesses, in our social and community activities, and in our churches."

Those who attended the annual meeting from this area saw a one-hour documentary film report showing how Christian Scientists in Africa, Great Britain, Europe, Asia, South America and the United States are endeavoring to make a more meaningful Christian response to problems in their communities.

On Tuesday morning a panel of editors and correspondents from The Christian Science Monitor discussed the question, "What Are Society's Most Pressing Needs and What Do They Mean to You?" Responding with firsthand experiences were a group of Christian Scientists whose professional backgrounds include those of university president, ecologist, business executive, city councilor, and worker in social and urban affairs.

The new president of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, for the year 1970-71 is Clem W. Collins, a resident of Boston. Since 1963 Mr. Collins has been publishers' agent, trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy.

A native of Denver, Colorado, Mr. Collins became a member of the Church in 1940. Following Navy service in World War II and later during the Korean conflict, he entered the full-time public practice of Christian Science in 1953. He resided in Los Altos, California, before coming to Boston seven years ago.

Attendance Takes A Dip

Attendance at Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks declined over 43,300 over the 3-day Memorial Day week-end, with over 265,440 persons using the parks in 1970 compared to 308,750 for the holiday week-end in 1969.

Rainy weather on the final day undoubtedly was a factor in reducing attendance, however, last year's attendance a HCMA parks was a record. The 1969 Memorial Day came on a Friday with brilliant weather, giving the week-end a strong start.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had over 75,700 visitors during this holiday week-end, with 44,900 coming on Memorial Day, compared to over 99,400 for the 3-days of 1969 and 57,100 on Memorial Day of 1969.

World Needs Peace

Pastor Ross W. Winters
People's Evangelical Church
Pinckney

THE WORLD NEEDS PEACE: If I were the world and could look into a mirror — I would see scars and bandages caused by war. My face would have wrinkles from inward and outward conflict. I would hear cries for peace, but see only wars — I would hear begging for food and see only famine. Man has made me like I am, and the only way I can change, is when man changes. I do not like the scourge of war — I do not like the misery and famine — I do not like violence and hatred; but alas, I am about to crumble beneath the load. Oh that man might see that if he destroys me, he also destroys himself.

MANKIND SEEKS FOR PEACE: Man's viewpoint differs. Abraham Lincoln said "With malice toward none, with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle...to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting PEACE among ourselves and with all nations." Many years later, Gen. George Marshall said, "If man does find the solution for WORLD PEACE it will be the most revolutionary reversal of his record we have known."

GOD GIVES PEACE: Because of man's sinful nature he has turned his back on God, therefore what man must do is turn about to receive God's love — to be reconciled (brought back into right relationship) to God.

UPWARD PEACE: This has been made possible by the death of Jesus Christ on the Cross of Calvary. Colossians 1:20 — "and having made PEACE through the blood of His Cross, by Him to reconcile all things unto Himself." The second area of peace is INWARD PEACE for our own personal well-being in facing the problems and perplexities of life. We need the PEACE OF GOD. I realize if all wars would cease (but they won't) there still would be sadness and sorrow, sickness and death. We still would need that inward peace which only God can give. John 14:27 "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled; neither let it be afraid." Now if we are at PEACE WITH GOD and have the PEACE OF GOD in our lives then we will experience the needed peace with others — OUTWARD PEACE. Colossians 3:13-15. "Forbearing one another and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any, even as Christ forgave you so also do ye. And above all these things, put on love, which is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts."

Well world, well mankind — there is a solution to your problem of peace. It is up to man to see the error of his ways and turn to the one who gives peace...the Prince of Peace, The Lord Jesus Christ!

THE DOOR through which hundreds of laughing brides and grooms have made their exit in a shower of rice.

THE DOOR through which a thousand babies have been brought for holy baptism.

THE DOOR through which tens of thousands have entered to worship God and left to serve mankind.

THE DOOR which opens and closes countless times — always leaving its mark on the souls of men and women.

Today before THE DOOR boy meets girl. No better time. No better place. Will their friendship blossom into love? Will they one day share that shower of rice — and bring their own child to the font?

THE DOOR cannot answer such questions.

But THE DOOR can open for them, as it does for all men, the Way to God's blessing in our dreams and our hopes.

CALVARY BAPTIST

By ROLLY PETERSON

Call me a chicken, momma's boy or just a throw-back to the Dark Ages and Walden Pond, but I did something Sunday that not even I would have believed. I copped out at the Michigan International Speedway — after five minutes, no less. Me, a sports nut, couldn't take it.

Many, in reading this, will think I'm out of my mind. Racing is part of this age of Aquarius, and has been a part of America ever since Henry Ford and his contemporaries pieced together the first automobile.

Before walking into the Speedway, the closest I had come to racing of any kind was the Indianapolis 500 — over the radio every Memorial Day — and one or two stock car races on dirt tracks. Now, I was going to the big time.

Glamorous names, such as Richard Petty, the Yarboroughs and Bob Unser were on the card. What more could a guy want? My wife and son, 21 months old, and a neighbor were going along. They, too, were novices, eager to lap up the excitement of a race, anxious to find out why people pack the Indianapolis 500 to watch men in souped up cars go round and round and round and round a track for hours.

You couldn't ask for a better day. The sun was high in the clear, blue sky, the Irish Hills looked lushly verdant and the wind raced like a phantom through fields of grass. Finally, the raceway came into view. The stands were packed!

With my son cradled on my shoulder, I walked toward the stands, somewhat hotter but still anxious under the searing sun. My son, who loves cars and goes "vrooommm, vrooommm, vrooommm" every time he sees one, would really have a treat.

Eagerness turned to apprehension, however, as we neared the track. A muffled thunder, like some cataclysmic upheaval rolled in with the hot breeze. With each step, the sound grew in intensity. Now we could feel the cars thundering around the track.

Yelling was the only way to communicate as we made the infinitely long walk behind the stands to our seats. No amount of wishful thinking would make the thundering noise abate. My son, hot in my arms as sweat streamed down my chest, was an inch from crying. I held him closer, hoping to assure him it would be all right. I cursed myself.

As we entered the stands, nothing could be heard as the cars streamed by in an angry mixture of blinding speed, gasoline exhaust fumes and scorched rubber. Bumper to bumper they passed with a deafening roar, and I looked frantically upward for some asylum from this madness.

Seated high up in the stands, sweat everywhere, there was no asylum. The crescendo continued, relieved momentarily only when no cars passed. A voice blared over the loud speaker, but the words were unintelligible. Huddled over my son I heard him say "vrooomm, vrooomm" as the cars flew around the embanked track.

"Do you want to go?" my neighbor mercifully screamed. We were on our feet, making the long descent toward the track. Hot, terrified, we got out of there fast, but not fast enough, seeking and thinking of quieter times in the back yard with my son smiling and happy.

Now we knew the excitement and terror of speed.

Motor Vehicle Inspection to Climb

LANSING IF YOU OWN or operate a motor vehicle in Michigan, the odds are 4-1 that you'll be stopped at a motor vehicle inspection station sometime this year.

State Police Director Fredrick E. Davids estimates that one out of every four motor vehicles in the state will be exposed to either a state or city inspection before the year is out. Davids said the percentage is the result of an increase in the inspection programs around the state.

The State Police inspection program has 12 check lane teams working throughout the state compared with eight last year, he said.

In addition, the cities of Ann Arbor, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Sterling Heights, Livonia, Wyandotte and Muskegon will be conducting the same official inspection within their respective jurisdictions, he said.

THE CITIES of Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Dearborn, Oak Park, Lansing, Traverse City and East Lansing have studied the inspection program, and some have indicated they also will be operating one or more check lanes.

Davids urged motorists to obtain needed repairs on their vehicles and to see that their driver and vehicle credentials are valid.

For example, he said, in April 20,486 vehicles were inspected and 16,124 of them failed for one reason or another.

He said of the cars which failed, 5,435 received citations for various violations. Among these were 2,898 citations for driver license violations, including 145 for driving on a revoked or suspended license.

WORKERS in the complex of buildings which make up the Capitol area in Lansing have been having increasing trouble with crime.

Gov. William G. Milliken himself has said there is a "very coping with the problem are under consideration.

One came from House Speaker William A. Ryan. He suggested expansion of the parking lots surrounding the Capitol building to give more secretaries who work in the building a close parking space. Many of them now park in underground parking lots in the complex and some are afraid to go there at night.

This proposal met instant opposition, however, from persons who feel too much lawn and too many trees already have been torn up on the Capitol area.

OTHER PROPOSALS include a possible beefing up of the security forces in the Capitol; having Lansing police patrol it regularly; and better observation in such areas as the underground parking lot.

While serious in nature, the problem is still small enough that authorities feel they can cope with it. And they want to get it under control before it becomes too big.

"The Capitol is somewhat of a symbolic place in that it serves as a focus point for state attention," said one official. "So I guess maybe this is symbolic of the problems being encountered all over the state and the country for that matter."

"But it's a hell of a note when you can't feel safe in your own state Capitol," he said.

Building Activity Continues Down

Residential building activity in 1969 continued on the downward course that was established in 1967, according to the statistics gathered and tabulated by the Planning Division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Thirteen percent fewer permits were issued in 1969 than in 1968 for the tri-county (Macomb-Oakland-Wayne) Detroit Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area.

However, this decrease was only 8.7 percent for the entire 6-county (Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw, Wayne) SEMCOG region due to an increase of activity in the outlying counties of Washtenaw and Monroe.

According to the report, the general decline cannot be attributed to any one factor, but those which played a significant role included the restraints imposed by the money market and mortgage conditions, and the continuously rising construction costs.

The 18th Annual Residential Construction Report cited single family homes reached an all-time low during the past 18 years, with only 10,220 units authorized. The drop represents 3,273 fewer units than the 13,494 recorded in 1968.

Simultaneously, multi-family units took up part of the slack by remaining near last year's record high. Multiples fell by only 438 units, from 14,020 in 1968 to 13,582 in 1969. This represents 56.7 percent of the total residential units authorized in the SMSA. This general trend in multiples, which began in '62, continues to be a dominant factor in the region's housing market.

Taken as a whole the six-county region showed an actual increase in total multiple units, with 16,536 authorized in 1969 versus 15,592 for 1968.

The overall increase in multiples was made possible by the tremendous increase in Washtenaw County, which authorized 2,464 units for a whopping 72.3% of its permit activity.

Here's a breakdown of building activities in area communities:

WAYNE COUNTY — Northville, 11 single family units, 16 multi-family units, 2 demolitions, net 25; Northville Township, 72 single family, 21 multi-family, 20 demolitions, net 73; Plymouth, 6 single family, 2 two-family, 2 multi-family, 8 demolitions, net 2; Plymouth Township, 29 single family, 96 multi-family, 20 demolitions, net 205.

In Wayne County, Detroit registered a loss of 455 permits while the remainder of the county showed a slim increase of 23 even though it led the county in both single and multi-family housing.

In Oakland County, Troy led the county in new single family homes with 757 new starts, while Farmington Township was third at 333, and Novi fifth at 219. It was Novi's highest showing.

The multiples leader in Oakland was Southfield with 1,124. Farmington Township was third at 400 units.

In Livingston County, where single family units accounted for the bulk of the accumulative total of 737 (down from 802 in 1968), Brighton Township led with 120 followed by Genoa Township with 76, Hamburg Township with 75, and Green Oak Township with 69.

Washtenaw County showed a healthy increase of 36.7 percent over 1968, with the uncontested leader being Ann Arbor with 1,107 multiples. Ypsilanti Township was the leader in single family units with 317.

WASHTENAW COUNTY — Northfield Township, 28 single family, net 28; Salem Township, 37 single family, net 37.

SEMCOG Delegates Approve 1970 Budget

The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) delegates and/or alternates unanimously approved the revised 1970 budget, during their second General Assembly meeting of the year.

The meeting held Saturday, May 23, at the Commissioner's Auditorium of the Oakland County Service Center (Pontiac) reflected an endorsement by the voting body to approve a budget increase of $214,000 over the initial budgeted figure of $1,296,000 presented to the membership last fall.

The increase of approximately 15 percent was due to federal HUD grants exceeding the original estimate presented in the October, 1969 budget.

SEMCOG's 1.5-million budget appropriation covers some 70 different ongoing projects currently being conducted by the organization's 13 divisions or sub-divisions.

Other business transacted during the meeting included staff reports and floor discussion on the development of five regional programs: the refining and updating of the Comprehensive Regional TALUS plan and subsequent recommendations for public hearings to be conducted in fall, SEMCOG's determining the planning needs and their role in a Drug Abuse program, various aspects of the proposed statewide Housing Law Revision, the elements of the State Housing Bond Issue, and, the new HUD housing concept "Operation Breakthrough".

Kuhn Gets Top Post In Senate

State Senator George Kuhn of West Bloomfield, who has not yet announced his candidacy for re-election, has been named the Senate Whip for the majority-controlled Republican Senate.

Announcement of the appointment was made this past week by Majority Leader Senator Emil Lockwood.

Kuhn's senatorial district includes, among others, Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Wixom, and Walled Lake. Should he decide to seek re-election, he will face opposition from Carl Pursell of Plymouth and Al Smith of Farmington, both of whom have announced their candidacy, in the August primary.

Kuhn won his Senate seat in 1966 — after defeating Pursell by a slim margin in the primary and has since served as a member or chairman of several Senate committees.

"The latest elevation to such a high party post (whip) is due to his hard work and continued growth in the leadership area," Senator Emil Lockwood said in announcing his appointment.

Senator Kuhn, besides his many standing committee assignments, was a member of a number of special investigating committees dealing with such problems as crime and riots of 1967, college and university campus unrest and disorders of 1969-70, and the conflict of interest of state employees.

Among the committees on which the Republican has served either as a member or a leader are: Corporations, banking industry, health-social-welfare, rules, municipalities and elections, corporations and economic development, state affairs, and the committee on committees.
