Giant Parade to Kick Off Fourth

Snappy bands, colorful floats and precision teams are among the near 40 units entered in the annual Fourth of July parade Saturday scheduled to step off at 10 a.m. under the theme "Peace in the Seventies."

Activities for the day, sponsored by the Northville Jaycees, include a chicken bar-b-que following the parade and a finale fireworks display beginning at dusk. The event is the largest hosted by the Jaycees to date, according to parade chairman William Broadus.

The parade will begin at Northville Downs and proceed north up Beal Street to South Main Street, west on Main Street to Rogers Street then south on Rogers to Cady Street, east along Cady to Wing Street then south on Wing to Fairbrook ending at the Downs Center Street parking area.

Carl Pursell of Plymouth has been named as this year's parade marshal.

Local units entered in Saturday's parade are Northville High School Band, color guards from the Northville Police, VFW and American Legion posts, Miss Millie's School of Dance Baton Majorettes, floats from the Jaycees, Newcomers, Lutheran Church, Co-Op Nursery and several private citizens.

Riding the Jaycee paddle-wheel float marking the beginning of the Jaycee organization in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1920 will be Northville Junior Miss Deniece Bidwell and young daughters of Jaycee members.

Musical units entered include the Canadian award winning Wyndso, Optimist Club Band, South Windsor Lions' Band, Michigan Highlanders Pipe Band, Chemical Valley Fife and Drum Corps, Silver Chaparrals Fife and Drum Corps, Clan MacRae Pipe Band and the Mapleaires Girls Drum Corps from Chatham, Ontario.

Also on hand will be the Moslem Temple Cycle Patrol and Lancers from Detroit, Detroit Edison calliope, prize winning All State Security Color Guard, Farmington Township Mounted Police, Miss Jean's Dance and Twirl Baton Corps from Dearborn and the Oakland County Locomotive with Madam Lucyle.

The Model "A" Restorers' Club will enter eight cars in the parade and the Classics Car Club will also be represented, Broadus said.

Trophies and ribbons await the winners of parade categories established by the Jaycees. The group reminds children they are invited to participate in the parade with decorated bicycles carrying the parade theme "Peace in the Seventies." Ribbons will be awarded to the best entries.

Post-parade activities will shift to the park behind Northville City Hall for the Jaycee hosted chicken bar-b-que beginning at 11 a.m. Chairman of the bar-b-que Howard Kern reports that chicken, salads, home baked beans and refreshments will be served.

Prices are $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for children. The bar-b-que will continue through the day. Proceeds will be used to defray the cost of the parade and the fireworks display.

Capping festivities will be the fireworks display at the high school athletic field. The show begins at 9 p.m. and will climax with the drawing for the Jaycee sponsored raffle of a trip for two to the Bahamas.

Tickets are still available for the drawing and will be sold during the parade and at the chicken bar-b-que or may be obtained from any club member.

Repaving Decision Slated Monday

Councilmen Weigh Assessing Formula

Monday night the council is scheduled to decide what assessment, if any, to levy against abutting property owners for repaving of their streets.

Specifically, the council is considering its first repaving projects on Allen Drive, Lake Street and Grace Street from Rayson to Baseline.

Total estimated cost of the 1 1/4-inch asphalt recapping for the three streets is $25,700. Just how much of the total will be assessed against the 97 properties involved remains to be determined.

(See Speaking for The Record, page 8-A).

But about 50 of the property owners were on hand Monday night at a public hearing on the proposal to give the council some idea of their reaction to the project.

For the most part the discussions remained amiable with Manager Frank Ollendorff explaining the basis for his suggestion that 75 percent of the cost be assessed against abutting properties on a front-foot basis.

The manager attempted to prove the necessity of the improvements, the basis for charging at least a portion of the cost to property owners and the general special assessment procedure.

It is up to the council, he explained, to determine if the improvements are needed, and if so, whether there should be an assessment, and if so, how much.

Most residents agreed that the improvements are needed, although some argued that not all parts of Allen drive and Lake street need resurfacing.

The question of the amount of the assessment was the main concern of the residents. They pointed out, too, that it is the first time the council has undertaken a repaving program and that the ratio of assessment established now will probably set a precedent for all future repaving projects.

Questions from the audience ranged from whether or not recapping was an improvement or just maintenance, to challenging the city's program of maintenance and suggesting that the streets need repaving because they have not been given proper care or were not properly installed in the first place.

Others suggested that truck traffic was responsible for much of the street deterioration, that paving on Allen Drive will cause more and faster through traffic and that some measures should be taken to slowdown traffic.

City Manager Ollendorff admitted that the city had been slow to repair many street cuts caused by digging holes to reach broken water mains. He also noted that stricter regulations were being enforced to see that utility companies making street cuts make proper repairs.

But he insisted that the improvements must be made soon or total replacement of the streets will be necessary. He said the capping should last from 10 to 15 years.

Cost of the repaving is estimated at $3 per front foot, which would mean that a 50 per cent assessment would cost the average lot owner (65-foot lot) $97.50, or about $20 per year if the assessment were paid over a five-year period.

Several residents supported the council's plan for improvement but urged the members to "consider carefully" the assessment policy.

In other action Monday night the council heard a second request from Northville Pizzeria, 168 East Main street, for a request for an SDM license (beer and wine carry-out). Earlier the council had denied the request. Monday night the owner submitted a plan that would separate the beer and wine section from the food service.

A police report advised against issuance of the license. The council promised an answer Monday night.

Francis Gazley was named to the zoning board of appeals replacing Peter Gross, who resigned at the end of his term. Gazley, a planning commission member, will serve as liaison between the two boards.

Study Suggests Change

Sheriff's Patrol Could be Ended

Elimination of "free" police services in Northville Township could result if the key recommendation of the Citizens Research Council is adopted by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Basically, that recommendation suggests that either the patrol service to our-county townships be eliminated or be continued only if serviced communities are required to pay for such services.

The patrol is financed by county taxes but so far as unincorporated townships are concerned, the service is regarded as "free" because cities, pay the same county tax but receive no similar services. Spokesmen for Wayne County cities view "free" service as unfair, since their taxpayers must pay for their own police departments as well as for the road patrol servicing townships.

According to Carl Pursell, Wayne County commissioner and a member of the board's police and public safety committee, township supervisors, mayors, and police officials are to be invited to a meeting in Detroit to discuss the research council's report and recommendations. Date for the meeting has not yet been set but it will take place after the August primary.

Meanwhile, an agenda is now being prepared for that meeting. It is to be mailed soon to city and township officials, Pursell said.

For Northville Township, which receives the police services of the county while maintaining a one-man police operation of its own (not including a small force of volunteer auxiliary policemen), either of the two alternatives suggested by the research council could force review of police service directions—establishment of a complete department separate of the county and/or city or a joint city-township police operation.

The latter had been recommended by a special citizens committee but shelved by officials as being too expensive.

Studies of the county patrol service noted a "dire need for improvement."

Two major conclusions were: "One, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department as presently organized and operated does not provide a suitable vehicle for providing police services in the county.

"Second, the present method of financing the local patrol and investigation services through general county-wide taxes is inequitable. Most unincorporated areas pay very little for police services even though they have relatively greater ability to pay than many of the incorporated areas that may pay both for their own services and for the services in unincorporated areas."

The report offers four alternative solutions:

1. Discontinuing local police service by the county.
2. Continue to provide local services to unincorporated areas that do not have local police departments (but not free).
3. Offer comprehensive police services to all local units in the county on a contract basis.
4. Provide specialized police services on a county-wide basis.

While the report recommends service be continued only if townships pay for the service, no cost figures for such services are suggested.

NEWS BRIEFS

NINETY-SEVEN windows from Cooke Junior High Annex are for sale at $1 to $2 each, Earl Busard, business manager for Northville Public Schools, said. The glass and frames may be purchased at the administration offices, 303 West Main Street. The windows are various sizes and perfect for use in greenhouses, cottages and garages, according to Busard.

AN OFFER to purchase the city-owned three-acre well site on Novi road has been made that interests the city council. Although the price was not revealed, it was indicated by the city manager Monday night that it exceeds the $30,000 the city hoped to obtain for the parcel. Although some citizens of the adjoining Village Green area voiced objections to the sale and encouraged the council to retain the site for recreation, the council decided to review the offer, and any others, and the apartment project plan proposed for the site. Councilmembers noted that the city would retain nearly two acres between the well site and the residential area for open space.

BETTING is up 11.6 per cent through the first 22 nights of racing in the current 54-night meet at Northville Downs. Through last Saturday the mutual handle was $8,368,637, an average of $380,392 nightly compared to $340,798 for the same period last year. Attendance is up 17.2 per cent. Some 111,731 fans attended the harness races during the first 22 nights.

A SUIT ASKING $50,000 damages on charges of false arrest has been filed by Leonard Kowalewicz of Hamtramck against Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins, Sergeant Louis Westfall, Auxiliary Officer Robert Schronce, state racing commission officials and the Northville Downs co-partnership. Kowalewicz was detained for approximately 20 minutes June 15, 1968, when he attempted to cash in what looked like a forged daily double ticket for $562. It was later determined the ticket was good and that the machine had skipped, producing the faulty ticket, and he was paid the money. Papers were served June 17, two years after the incident took place.

—News Around Northville—

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Assemany, 811 Horton, this week are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Taylor of St. Petersburg, Florida, formerly of Detroit. Taylor, a cribbage buff who has been playing for over 40 years, was elated last Wednesday when his daughter dealt him a perfect 29-point hand. This was only the third time he had ever been dealt a perfect hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fair of 404 Welch Road were among the 275,000 Kiwanians who attended the fifty-fifth Annual Convention of Kiwanis International at Cobo Hall in Detroit from June 21 - 24.

During the three and one-half days of the convention Kiwanians heard from top personalities including Arthur Godfrey, radio and TV personality; Pamela Anne Eldred, Miss America 1970; Fred W. Haise, Jr., Apollo 13 Astronaut; and Sam Levenson, noted humorist and TV personality.

Mrs. Eleanor Lowell, owner of the Barn Door antique shop here, will exhibit antiques at the first annual antique show and sale at Holly High School on June 17 and 18. The show is sponsored by the Northwest Oakland County Historical Society.

A month-long auto trip to the West Coast and back began last Sunday for the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and his family.

Accompanying the Brasures will be their oldest daughter Diane, returning from a year's work in Washington D.C. where she was secretary to the Director of the American Alumni Council. She will be teaching Spanish in the Port Huron school system this fall.

Neal, the Brasure's oldest son, graduated on June 13 from Alma College with a B.A. degree in business and accounting. This summer he expects to enter officer training camp at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiilikka of 20300 Westview Drive left Tuesday for a month's vacation in Finland. In Finland they will be visiting relatives and their daughter Peggy, 19, who is living with a family in Hanko as an exchange student through Youth for Understanding.

The trip to Finland has special meaning for the Tiilikkas because many of their ancestors immigrated from there to the United States. During their stay they will be present for the summer holiday season centered around a big midsummer night festival.

The Robert Setter family of Westland is staying with the Tiilikka children until their parents return on July 14. Mrs. Setter is the former Lynn Tiilikka.

Bob Smith, 330 Lake Street, is one of the 100 music students who were invited to attend the Youth for Music conference held this summer at Michigan State University. The program lasts from June 27 to July 25, during which two concerts will be given.

Last February the youth was awarded the outstanding trombone trophy at the Michigan State University Jazz Band Festival. He will be a sophomore at Northville high school next year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith.

Swimming and golf are slated to highlight the annual Fourth of July festivities at Meadowbrook Country Club this year, climaxed by a fireworks display at 9 p.m. on Saturday evening.

Holiday swimming begins on Friday, followed by a husband and wife golf tournament on Saturday morning. In the afternoon there will be family swimming with races, water games and a watermelon eat. A buffet dinner for club members in the early evening will precede the annual fireworks display.

The next social activity at Meadowbrook will be the annual summer lauan on July 11.

Carol Anne Harper has been named to the honor role at Michigan State University by ending her freshman year with a 3.9 grade average on a four point scale.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Harper of 18415 Fermanagh. A 1969 graduate of Northville High School, she is majoring in math at MSU.

The Northville Senior Citizens will meet next on July 28 at 6 p.m. An outdoor barbecue on the grounds of the Scout Recreation building is planned for which meat and dessert will be furnished.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Couple

The First United Methodist Church of Northville was the setting for the afternoon ceremony which united Elaine Kay Chizmar and Patrick D. Brier in marriage. The Reverend William Richards, the bride's uncle, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony on June 26.

For the wedding floral arrangements of gladiolus and mums decorated the church. Special music was composed by Samuel Chizmar, brother of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chizmar of 19360 Maxwell Road in Northville, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brier of Gregory, Michigan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length empire waisted gown of white peau de soie. The dress featured bell sleeves and a silk embroidered organza overlay. She carried a nosegay of white rosebuds which matched a white rosebud headpiece.

Serving as matron of honor was Carole McLean, sister of the bride, who wore a turquoise shantung floor-length gown. She wore a headpiece matching her bouquet of mums and roses.

Randy Brier, brother of the bridegroom served as bestman. Ushers were brother Robin Brier and Steve Adams, a friend of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Chizmar chose a pink dacron double knit dress with jeweled embroidered trim. Mrs. Brier wore a cream linen dress trimmed in lace.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. About 100 friends and relatives attended from Ypsilanti, Chelsea, Waterford, Belleville, Rochester and Indiana.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Central Michigan University where he plans to continue his education. They will make their new home at 1303 Bruce Street in Mt. Pleasant.

Novi Girl Married

Katherine Louise Goltra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson C. Goltra of 48140 Rushwood Lane in Novi, married Stephen Geoffrey Harshfield in a double-ring ceremony on May 30 in the First United Methodist Church of Farmington.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. Harshfield of 21606 Collingham in Farmington.

Following a reception held for 230 guests at the Farmington Masonic Temple, the couple left for a wedding trip in Miami and the Bahamas.

Both are graduates of Farmington High School and the bride attended Ferris State College. The bridegroom attended Eastern Michigan University and was employed by the FBI before entering the U.S. Army. He served in Vietnam and is now a traffic analysis instructor stationed at Fort Devens, Massachusetts, where he is attending Northeastern University in Boston.

They will make their new home in East Pepperell, Massachusetts.

GETTING A FEW POINTERS ON LINING UP SIGHTS

She'll Try Anything

Matches Wits with .38 Revolver

By Sally Burke

John Wayne has got to be the greatest man alive. If he can shoot his enemy at 100 yards while riding a horse over rough terrain, that's a super-human feat in my book.

After my first attempt at firing a .38 caliber service revolver I'm confident I could graze my enemy — provided he was unarmed, agreed to stand in one position for at least a minute while I took aim and was no further than 40 feet away.

Under the watchful, and I must say patient, eye of Northville police officer Howard Reeves I took my first lesson in firing a hand gun.

Contrary to how easy John Wayne makes it look, I encountered problems right from the beginning. Holding a service revolver at arms length with one hand can only be compared to taking aim with a pound of hamburger. That gun is heavy, and trying to steady it with even two hands is not easy for a girl who has trouble pointing with a pencil.

Lessons started out with safety rules and eased into the actual pulling (or was that squeezing) the trigger of the unloaded gun. Compensating for my lack of strength, I was allowed to steady the gun butt on my left hand while squeezing the trigger with my right.

And then "click." It all seemed easy enough, and I was ready to switch from dry fire (no ammunition) to the real stuff. Patrolman Reeves demonstrated — body at right angles with target, left foot parallel to target, right foot perpendicular to it, left hand on hip, take aim and bang!

Even through earphone-like plugs, that bang was enough to send me into cardiac arrest.

He tried it again. This time I watched the gun and not the target. Well, nobody ever told me about the blaze of fire or whatever streaks from the barrel. And on top of that, he hit the target where he called it.

My turn? Unfortunately yes. Needless to say, I was shaking more than ever. I closed one eye, took aim and closed the other eye. "You can't hit the target with both eyes closed." I was gently reminded. Okay eye, open. Yup, the gun was still in my hand and the target in front of me.

Carefully I lined up the front and rear sights, steadied my hand and fired. I hit the target, but the gun ended up pointing at the rafters — reflex action, I apologized.

I fired the remaining five shots before nearly collapsing into shock. We moved twice as far from the target, fired a few dry fire practice shots and then Patrolman Reeves suggested I try single action — pulling the hammer back with my thumb and releasing the trigger with my finger. All the trigger needed then was to be touched and it would fire.

Through dry firing, I discovered my thumb was not overly strong, so I tried two thumbs. "Don't let it slip," Patrolman Reeves cautioned, "because it will fire automatically."

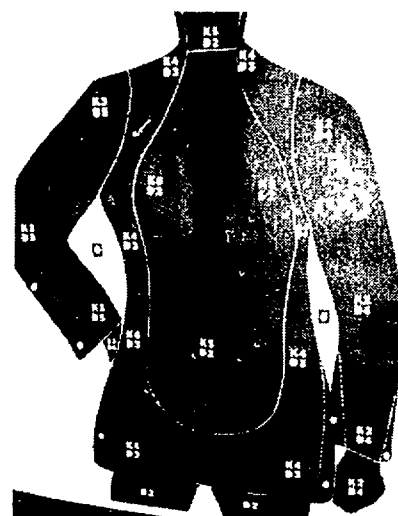

"It will?" I asked not wanting to believe what I heard. We went back to double action, at least then I knew when the revolver would fire.

From 40 feet back I could still hit the silhouette target, through not the precise "K5 or L6" or whatever those letters were. And I did glance back once catching the officer holding his ears and desperately looking as though he would have liked a third hand to cover his eyes.

A bit disillusioned by my first experience with a hand gun, I asked how I could hit what I was aiming for.

"Practice," Patrolman Reeves suggested. "But look, if you hit him anywhere near the heart, he's dead."

"Yes, but what idiot is going to stand there and let me take pot shots at him from 40 feet away? None of John Wayne's enemies I assure you.

HITS AND MISSES AT 40 FEET

Name Omitted

One name was inadvertently omitted from the committee member list in last week's story concerning a citizen's parks and open space study prepared for the Northville city council.

Mrs. Edna Johnson was a member of the tot-lot subcommittee and regularly attended and served on the committee of the whole.

The report, which urges the council to act promptly on site acquisition for community parks, will be reviewed by the council at its July 6 meeting.

Project Help Gets Jaycees' Support

Northville Jaycees have joined forces with Project Help, the newly organized volunteer program organized by Northville-Novi area clergymen and laymen.

Donald Burch, representing Project Help, spoke to the Jaycees at the June 24 general meeting, outlining the volunteer program the ecumenical groups have established.

Project Help is designed to assist widows, elderly people and those incapacitated by sickness or accidents. Volunteers call on the sick, make minor home repairs, provide transportation and other needed services.

The Jaycees report they wholeheartedly support the program and have named Cecil Morin, 996 Allen Drive, to coordinate the Jaycee assistance and volunteer services with Project Help. One of the key services the group will provide is the needed manpower for major projects the program undertakes. This year the Jaycees have begun a nation-wide campaign called "Do Something" coordinating citizen groups, volunteer services and community need services for the improvement of each chapter's local community.

The program received President Richard Nixon's endorsement in mid-March and provides citizens with an opportunity to help change conditions they don't like, Morin said, by making a commitment of their time and abilities.

"Do Something" is compatible with Project Help, Morin said, and together the programs will provide service to the community.

The Jaycees turned out last weekend for their second annual car wash at Robo-Wash on Novi Road, north of Eight Mile. Operator of the facility, Donald Kreeger, turned over $93 to the Jaycees for their assistance in washing and drying cars.

Twenty-five Jaycees participated, drying approximately 200 cars and earning an additional $110 in donations from customers.

Douglas Loomis, chairman of the project, said the funds will be used for Jaycee projects in Northville during the year.

OLD BOTTLE — Some boys hunt frogs, but John Mickalacki of 505 Griswold hunts bottles in a dump behind his house that his mother estimates to be 80 to 100 years old. He found this one, with a 1914 Northville seal, half buried in the field between Griswold and Rouge.

Garden Club Tells Annual Picnic Plans

In the spacious gardens of the William Walker home, 39900 East

Eight Mile, the Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will again hold its annual summer picnic on July 13.

Mrs. Arthur Cox, chairman of conservation for the state of Michigan, will be featured speaker following a potluck luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Publicity chairman Mrs. Joseph Keese reminds members that it is a guest day. Bring a passing dish with service for yourself and your guest.

Social chairman for the day is Kay Rathiff, assisted by Alice Eaton, Louise Bryan and Thelma Schoulz.

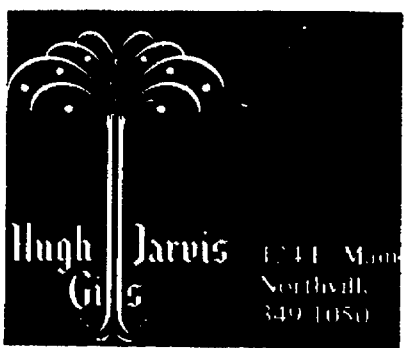

Art Club Plans Display at Fair

Three Cities Art Club executive board met June 23 to discuss an exhibit in art work and crafts planned for the education section of the Northville Fair at the Northville Downs on August 7, 8 and 9.

The art group will show paintings by members in a formal exhibit with demonstrations by members and craftsmen. Activities are planned to be of interest to children as well as adults.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Matheus will organize the display materials, while Mrs. Lawrence (Jane) Gaitskill will schedule host and hostess teams to supervise the exhibit Mrs. Roland (Marie) Bonamici will arrange demonstrations by members and craftsmen.

The art club will meet Sunday, July 12, at 1 p.m., to paint display boards in preparation for the Northville Fair and the Plymouth Rotary Fall Festival in September.

Garden Blooms Strike Up a Symphony of Color

One of the surest signs of summer is the symphony of color now erupting in open fields and private gardens of area residents.

Bright, fragrant flowers open their blooms to the hot sun and new leaves sprout like magic from the firm green stems of vegetables.

Gardening, once a necessity, has become a creative hobby in most places. But not in Wixom where two bachelors, William and Charles Tiffin, who can count nearly 200 years between them) still garden for a livelihood. Their flower and vegetable gardens (bottom right) are among the most productive and profitable in the area.

Fruit and vegetable gardens are also maintained by the George Johnson family of 645 Fairbrook in Northville (lower left). "My husband grows strawberries and I preserve them," explained Mrs. Johnson. The Johnsons also cultivate flowers like the hydrangea near their front door (center left). A geranium plant grows inside an old-fashioned scale near the doorway.

Typical of many local gardens is the rock flower garden in the front yard of the Ronald Birou home at 23088 Ennshore Drive in Novi. Pink petunias lie among the leafy, rock-climbing vines (top left).

Below red roses climb a white bird feeder like a trellis at "Happy Acres", the William Walker home on East Eight Mile Road.

Mrs. Larry Jayko, 23211 Gilbar Drive in Novi, says she has just transplanted the flowers in her new front yard garden, dotted with daisies and orange callas (top right).

FORWARD MARCH - Novi Jaycees, their wives and their children sweep across Novi's new park facility on Walled Lake, their noses to the ground, looking for trash, glass, tin cans, "anything that doesn't grow." The Jaycees sponsored two work sessions last week in an effort to clean-up, paint-up, fix-up the park for use this weekend.

Novi Park Shapes Up

Walled Lake swimming water was still under inspection earlier this week as the county continued to take water samples Sunday and Monday, according to park committee Chairman Peter Alcala in a report issued to the city council Monday night.

Although it was previously believed that the park on Walled Lake had been cleared for swimming, Alcala reported that final confirmation would not come from the county until Wednesday of this week.

Meanwhile, last week, fix-up campaigns conducted by the Novi Jaycees, Novi Scout Troop 54, and Novi Little League groups readied the park almost to the point of completion, Alcala said.

Still needed Monday night were five buoys in the swimming area, a slide still to be placed in the water, painting in the toilet building, removal of algae.

Also still needed Monday were a first aid kit, a megaphone for beach use, four truck loads of sand for the beach, plus additional paint and spare tractor parts.

Alcala thanked businessmen in the community for donations they had made to the committee, among them Stricker Paint, Pepper Tree Restaurant, and Marcus Glass Company.

Special credit was given to LeRoy Wixom of Novi who has given his time free to the city to run the park's heavy equipment.

It's Called Necessity

Wixom Reappraisal Aired

The city of Wixom will undergo a reappraisal of real property.

The project is necessary, according to City Assessor Robert Case, because of inequities that have developed between assessment figures applied to industrial and residential property since the last appraisal was conducted in 1957.

This is particularly true in the case of residential property, Case reported at a special meeting called Thursday night to explain the need for the reassessment.

The state of Michigan requires all property to be assessed at "not more than 50 percent of its current market value." If this figure is not met, an equalization factor is applied to adjust the assessment to 50 percent. This year the Wixom equalization factor is 1.21.

The property valuation of an individual community is determined by the county, and confirmed by the state, on a basis of four main classes of property: residential, industrial, commercial and personal.

In Wixom's case, it is primarily residential property that is underassessed, Case stated.

For the year 1969-70 a factor of 1.18 had been applied to all Wixom assessments. This year it was hiked to 1.21.

The new appraisal is an effort to install uniformity in the tax base, Case explained.

Some of the newer homes in Wixom, Case reported, have been assessed at 25 and 30 percent to maintain uniformity with other properties.

Because of several factors, including home improvements, many of which, according to Case, have been done without building permits, assessed valuations in Wixom are not uniform.

It is important, Case noted, that assessments be both accurate and uniform. Uniformity, or the lack of it, is the purpose for which equalization is applied. The equalized valuation of a property is the figure used for the levying of tax millage.

Case and two Wixom residents hired to assist him in measurement tasks began the project this week.

The two assistants are Oakland Community College sophomore David Taylor of 1891 Charms Road, and Eastern Michigan University senior, Peter Gatteri of 50280 Grand River.

Case said the reappraisal program had to be completed before the annual board of review hearings held in March.

He said property owners would be notified of any changed in their assessment and will have an opportunity to discuss differences at that time.

Novi Names Planner For Vacant Position

Novi City Council made two appointments and retained the present city auditor in unanimous voting Monday night.

William Weber was appointed to the seat on the Novi Planning Commission vacated by Charles Tobel of Summit Hills, who resigned recently due to business commitments. Weber, a resident of Pioneer Meadows and president of a citizens association there, was the recommendation of commission Chairman George Athas. Weber will serve out Tobel's unexpired term.

Argument continued among councilmen as to whether or not fact finding in current negotiations with the Novi Police Officers Association (NPOA) was an applicable step.

Councilman William O'Brien maintained that according to his interpretation of the statute, binding arbitration was to be resorted to only after fact finding and the initial arbitration had failed.

Councilman Donald Young quoted opinions from Charles Long, Pontiac counsel, acting as representative for the city in the talks, and Hyman Parker of the Michigan Employment Relations Committee, to the effect that fact finding was not an applicable step in Novi's case and that a representative to sit on a board of binding arbitration should be chosen by the city.

"We have until Wednesday," said Young, "and if we have no representative the state employment relations committee will appoint one for us."

There was feeling on the council that an opinion from the Attorney General, requested last week, should be read before making a decision. But since it has not yet been received, Young maintained that the council had no time to wait for it.

Councilman Edwin Presnell nominated vacationing Mayor Joseph Crupi to fill the post. Young repeated the nomination he had made last week, that of William Duey. Mayor pro tem Denis Beery left his chair to nominate councilman O'Brien to the post.

Young quoted an opinion from Long that a council member would "look bad" on the negotiation board.

A secret ballot was held and Mayor Crupi was elected.

Crupi, when he returns, will consult with the representative of the NPOA and the two will choose a third board member. If a choice cannot be agreed upon, the state will make the appointment.

The council voted to retain Arthur Young and Company as city auditors.

Oakland County Commissioner Lew Coy voiced concern over a sewer problem in a trailer park located on Haggerty Road north of the I-96 expressway.

Coy said he had received complaints of a "terrific stench" and upon investigation had found complaints were valid. He was directed to have the complainants inform City Manager Dallas Zonkers of the problem and ask that the state Environmental Health Commission be invited to look at the situation.

Russell Button, owner of the property, explained that the state commission has already examined the property, but he had no objection to re-examination.

Philip Cozadd, 24308 Hampton Hill, in Meadowbrook Lanes, complained of mail delivery in his subdivision. He reported that, according to the Novi postmaster, mail could not be delivered until the council accepted the roads in the development as complete. Berry explained that the subdivision was as yet unfinished and roads couldn't be accepted until the city engineers gave approval.

Zonkers was directed to investigate the matter and determine if there was any action council can take.

In other action Monday night, council:

—Directed Zonkers to petition the Oakland County Environmental Control Commission to determine the source of raw sewage reportedly being dumped into Walled Lake.

—Granted the transfer of a Liquor license from the estate of Nicholas Pashigian to his widow, Clara. She operates Nick's Grocery at 2206 Novi Road.

—Passed a resolution stating that there is a necessity for the sewer project in the area of Novi Road and Grand River. This action followed a hearing of necessity held last week.

—Directed Presnell to go back to Buckingham Court and bring to the attention of citizens involved in sewer construction the fact that a mistaken price had been quoted them. The six families involved has signed a special assessment order calling for more money than was actually needed.

—Requested reports from Johnson and Anderson, city engineers, to report on the dangers, to lake and roadway, of allowing building and fill-in operations along the shore of Walled Lake.

Wixom Seeks Answer

Who Hired Fired Wixom Inspector?

The hearing slated July 14 to determine how the ex-Wixom building inspector was originally hired could have some far-reaching ramifications.

At issue is the contention of Ralston Calvert that his dismissal by Mayor Gilbert Willis was improper since he was not, he claims, a mayoral appointee.

Willis, who dismissed Calvert last spring and appointed Kenneth Carothers to replace him, contends that the building inspector post is an appointive one and it is therefore his prerogative to dismiss and appoint whomever he chooses.

Wixom Police Reject Offer

Wixom councilmen learned last week that a breakdown in negotiations between the city and police association leaves the city little recourse but to move into arbitration.

Representatives for the city reported that the police organization has rejected a revised top offer of $9,800, including fringe benefits. The police organization is demanding a $10,200, maximum, salary, it was reported.

The city's offer reportedly represents a 7 3/4 percent increase.

that the mayor has the appointive power.

However, Calvert argues that he was a hired part-time employee, responsible to DPW Director Robert Trombley and only indirectly responsible to the mayor. It was Trombley, not the former mayor, who hired him, says Calvert.

And he quotes sections of city council minutes to support his claims.

Under the Wixom charter, an employee may request a formal hearing, if dismissed, and may obtain severance pay, officials explain. An appointee is not entitled to the same provisions.

Calvert, who points out that the mayor has neither stated to him (Calvert) nor made public any dissatisfaction with his work, indicated to the council a week ago that he is entitled to at least a letter of recommendation and severance pay.

Should the council find that Calvert was indeed hired and not appointed, it is conceivable but unlikely that he could be re-instated. In that case, the mayor's new appointee would be forced out of office.

However, according to the city attorney, the power of the mayor to appoint is definite. It is unlikely that the council will battle the mayor over this point.

Nevertheless, another sticky

By Rumor

McAtee Angered

J. B. Morningstar, frequent critic of former Wixom Mayor Wesley McAtee, came under fire himself last week after reporting rumors that two sets of books are being kept by a department of the city.

A backer of Wixom Mayor Gilbert Willis, Morningstar urged the council to develop a complete list of the city's physical assets while suggesting that "if there is an ounce of truth" to rumors of departmental mismanagement such a list is essential.

Morningstar's rumor report angered McAtee, a candidate for county commissioner and election opponent of Incumbent Lew Coy, also a member of the Morningstar-Willis camp, and he demanded during the council meeting that Morningstar either substantiate his repeated rumors or desist.

He charged that Morningstar for years has "reported" rumors but has failed to come up with any facts to substantiate them. "I'd like to see the facts," said McAtee. "I'm getting awfully tired of hearing your rumors."

Morningstar defended his report by noting that "at no time did I say I have facts," he indicated he received his information from another person and was simply reporting it.

Turning to Mayor Willis, McAtee asked him if he had any information to substantiate the rumor. Willis said he had no knowledge of dual books.

Morningstar declined Willis' request that he ask his undisclosed source for facts but he agreed to give the name of his source to the mayor and let him investigate the matter.

Record Wins Contest Award

The Northville Record and its sister publication, The South Lyon Herald, have won national awards in competition with community weekly and daily newspapers from throughout the United States.

Only other Michigan newspapers to win top awards at the National Newspaper Association convention in Des Moines, Iowa were the Birmingham Eccentric publications. The Eccentric was the winningest newspaper in the nation.

With nearly 3,491 separate entries judged this year, 170 United States newspapers received plaques or honorable mention certificates.

The Record was awarded a second-place plaque in the special issue competition for its centennial edition published last July, and The Herald won its third-place plaque for its editorial page. Both were winners in the "under 4,000" circulation category.

Taking first place in special issue competition was the Williston (N.D.)

WIXOM NEWS

By Grace Byrd

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jackson returned home Friday from a two-week trip to Cape Coral, Florida. There they visited their brother, William Jackson, and spent some time in Ft. Lauderdale, among some other very interesting places. Before returning home, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore of Englewood, Florida, who were former Wixom residents and who lived in the home the Jacksons are now residing in.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Barnard and daughter, Karen, from Midland, Michigan spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Verman Spencer of 51225 West Pontiac Trail.

The Wixom Chamber of Commerce has discontinued its meetings for the remainder of the summer but will continue to meet in September. The first meeting will be held on the second Monday in September, with hopes that more businessmen will attend.

The 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Byrd, 1865 Charms Road, was celebrated on June 28.

Outdoor drive-in services at the First Baptist Church of Wixom began with record attendance June 21, as 214 participated in the worship services, the Reverend Robert V. Warren, pastor, reports.

The services are held each Sunday evening in the summer from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday evening, June 28, 37 students who recently returned from Camp CoBeAc presented the congregation with special songs they learned at the camp.

Record attendance was also recorded in Family Bible School, with 361 participating, compared with 318 the previous year. Average attendance for the five day school was 340 every evening. Mr. Warren said, including 40 adults and 50 teenagers.

Special activities planned for the summer are a "Teen Afterglow" following each outdoor drive-in church service beginning about 8:15 p.m. Cookouts, swimming and games are scheduled, with a devotional challenge ending the evening. Students entering the seventh through twelfth grades are invited to attend.

The First Baptist Church teens are planning a trip to a Tiger baseball game July 11, a teen canoe trip July 17 and 18 and an all-sports day with Northville, Farmington, Union Lake and Wixom church youth on July 31. The teens will meet at Wixom that evening for a special service to hear a Gospel team from Tennessee Temple.

SPEAKING for The Record BY BILL SLIGER

The Northville city council, perhaps at its Monday night meeting, will make a decision that will establish a policy for many years to come.

For the first time the city is launching a street repaving program.

The decision facing councilmembers is what assessment, if any, should be levied against the abutting property owners for the improvement of paved roads.

It is known that opinion on the council is divided, ranging from no assessment to 75 per cent.

Currently the city charges abutting property owners 75 per cent of the cost of first-time paving costs.

The policy is not uncommon; many communities assess new paving at 100 per cent. In fact residents of new subdivisions in Northville actually pay 100 per cent because the city's subdivision ordinance provides that all subdivision streets must be paved. And the ordinance insists that the paving must be concrete, which is both more expensive and longer-lasting than asphalt paving, as required elsewhere throughout the city.

There is sound defense for assessing new paving projects, even up to 100 per cent. If a city were to assume the full responsibility for original paving, it is unlikely that the improvements would ever be completed and certainly the tax rate would be much higher.

The city's policy of 75-25 has enabled the council to move swiftly in its program to pave all city streets. And the policy has stood the test of reasonableness when challenged in court.

It is one of the factors that has helped the city maintain a relatively low tax rate, approximately one half the millage it is authorized to levy.

Repaving, however, is another matter.

I confess that a public hearing conducted by the council Monday night is partly responsible for some change in my view of assessments for repaving.

I'm certain at this point the council is leaning towards a compromise assessment for repaving, probably one-half the assessment used for new paving, or 37.5 per cent.

It is hoped councilmembers will give the subject some soul-searching.

There's evidence that the city has been less than diligent in its attention to maintenance of paved streets, thus an argument can be made for stating that part of the blame for needed repaving lies with the city itself.

Perhaps if the total burden for repaving streets rested with the city itself, more attention would be directed towards proper and regular maintenance.

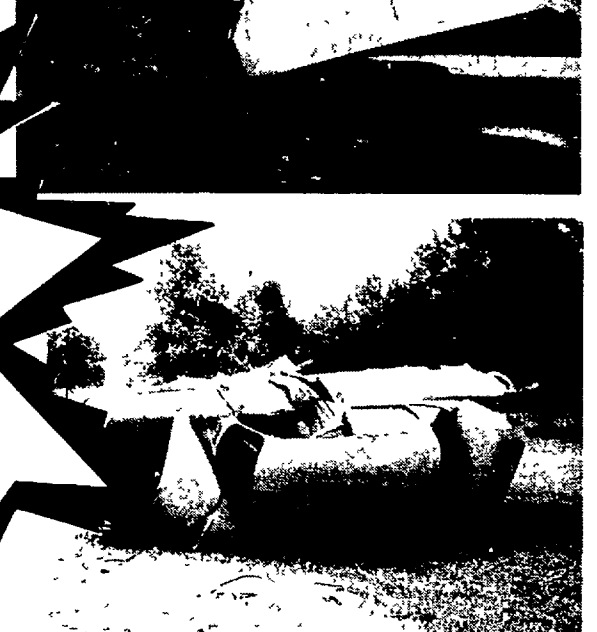

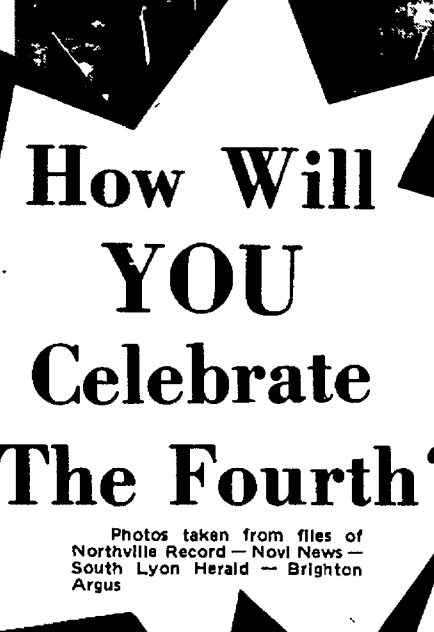

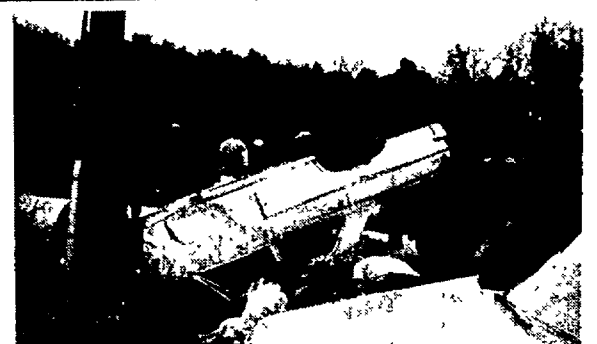

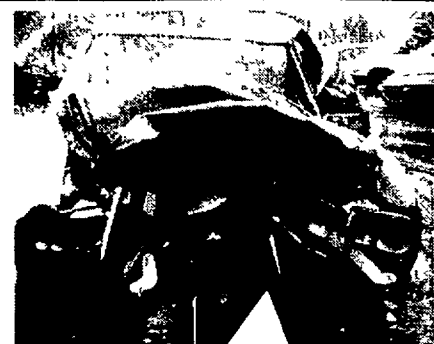

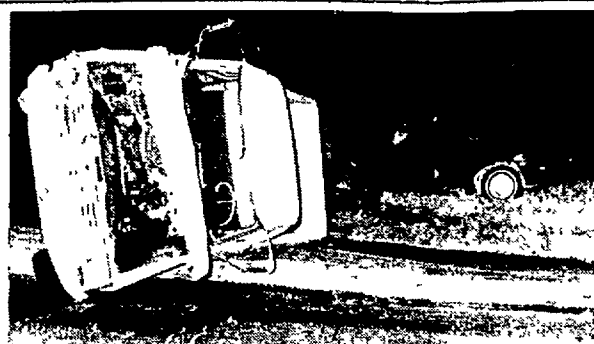

Secondly, as the council itself notes, repaving compared to original paving is inexpensive...about one-tenth the cost.

So if the repaving assessments would be nominal to the taxpayer, conversely they would be a minor item to be included in the total street improvement budget.

I believe the council would find stronger justification for its application of a 75 per cent assessment for new paving if it were to adopt a policy of no assessment for repaving.

In its budget deliberations the council must consider its projected costs each year. Possibly, repaving might add a fraction or one mill to the total levy. But it's more likely that new tax properties and increased track revenues will more than make up this difference.

And the council will have gained a tangible service that it can point to when irate taxpayers ask, "what are you doing with my tax dollar?"

Raps Comments on Child Center

To the Editor:

I would like to express my objection to statements that Carl Pursell made about the Wayne County Child Development Center in an article that appeared on page 14A, in last week's paper.

Unfortunately, Mr. Pursell didn't stop after giving a misleading and inadequate assessment of the Center. He went one step further and suggested the possibility of replacing the Center with a foster home program. This is at best, a naive and unrealistic solution.

In contrast to one of Mr. Pursell's statements, We educate - not train, high grade mentally deficient children. A large number of our children are functioning at a deficient level, but are not retarded in the two senses of the word. More often than not, they are the victims of emotional, cultural and environmental deprivation - in short, they are mentally ill.

Mr. Pursell forgot to mention that the figure given of our daily cost does not tell the whole story. For example, by using trained students from local universities we were successful in personalizing our treatment program. In addition we also made the program more efficient without any additional cost to the county. Looking at just three of our cottages (30 children in each) for a period extending from Dec. 1, 1969 to January 29, 1970 we provided 4,000 hours of meaningful supplemental tutoring. We saved the taxpayer $20,000.00.

No mention was made of the fact that our vocational program is producing tax payers out of would-be welfare recipients.

It is disturbing to read that Mr. Pursell would like to increase our patient population without increasing our staff. Many of us work on our days off in order to expedite programming. This, too, should be figured into our cost statement, since we do not get reimbursed for the extra-time put in.

Contrary to what Mr. Pursell may think - the majority of our children DO NOT return to "the same unfortunate environment from which they came." We believe in treating the family along with the child.

The exclusive application of a foster home program is not the solution to rising costs. Most of the families from which our children come are willing to accept our help.

During the last two years we have developed some excellent treatment programs at the Center - with a little cooperation we could implement them.

Sure, $42.00 per day sounds like a lot of money - but the days of the sand boxes and rubber dollies are over. Our children must be prepared to survive in an urban-industrial society. These children are our most important natural resource.

I think that the citizens of Wayne County should take pride in the fact that the Child Development Center is one of the few places where the disadvantaged can get treated rather than stored.

I would like to conclude by informing my fellow tax payers that while certain individuals are talking about saving 3.2 million dollars by eliminating the Center - they are, at the same time making plans to expand the Mental Health Waste Land by spending about $10 million to build a new one. As usual the tax payer is relieved of an additional $6.8 million dollars.

Respectfully,
James J. Danielski,
Staff Psychologist

★★★ She's Sorry For Impression

To the Editor,

I have just finished reading the letters in the paper in answer to my letter of last week.

I am sorry if I gave the impression that all kids are bad. Certainly all aren't bad, and I know that only a few bad apples try to spoil the whole barrel.

Sure students have to have fun and there are the percentage who have good clean fun. Last week was the example of the percentage of kids who make their fun at the expense of others, namely the good students, and their parents who have to pay, out of their taxes, for their kids damage.

I would like to thank Mark D. Dixon, Russ C. Lenheiser and John Wilson for reading my letter and writing their thoughts down so I could read how they feel.

They have made good points and there is no reason why they, and the other GOOD kids should suffer for the destructive fun of a few, "bad apples."

Thank you
Mrs. Sharon Watson Young

Agnewism Has Press Running Scared

DES MOINES, Iowa - Vice-President Agnew may not like what the press is saying in print but he'd click his heels with joy if he knew what it is saying behind his back.

So many strange, new ingredients for "freedom of the press" were uncorked here at the National Newspaper Convention that I'm beginning to believe my journalism professors of nearly two decades ago either wore blinders or dunce caps.

Recipes here seemed to call for dashes of "tell it like it is" and "truth and objectivity" to heaping spoonfuls of "moderation" and "popularity - right or wrong."

It's the latter that scares the dickens out of me.

Not so much because convention panelists - some from our nation's journalism schools - encouraged publishers and editors to form citizens councils (shades of vigilantism!) to police the content of their newspapers as a means of regaining credibility, a little popularity and community stability. But mostly because unpopularity or the threat of it weighs so heavily on the minds of many of the newspaper people with whom I spoke.

Some suggested, "It's better to have a little local control than federal control." Others implied that a few self-righteous crusaders are giving the journalism profession a blackeye. And a surprisingly large number of newspaper people who came within hearing distance, supported the thesis, "It's better to play the middle ground and survive than be dead and not be able to say anything."

God help journalism if what I heard is the pulse of today's press.

The "better read than dead" remarks of Roland Gardner, who after 16 years of publishing the Hickman (Ky.) Courier and editorially stepping on toes was "run out of town."

Gardner's forced exodus gained national attention and earned him a place on one of the panels here. But that's about all. While the press worried about Agnewism and about how best to protect its image, here was a guy who exercised "free speech" editorially and found himself fighting virtually alone an economic boycott, threats and obscene phone calls to his family, ostracism by friends and even his church. But worse, he had very little help from his peers.

"It would have been nice," the disillusioned ex-publisher told me, "if they (press associations) had given me a little financial aid. But I probably could have lasted only a few more months even if they'd helped out. I guess they figured I'd dug the hole so it was my problem not theirs."

What kind of hole did Gardner dig?

Well, he blasted the government's financing of the local country club with farm subsidy money; he didn't like the way government failed to feed the black hungry of his community; he demanded the courts make public their records; he embarrassed industry by writing about pollution; he antagonized both liberals and conservatives; and he spoke out against slipshod education and government in his community.

"I probably could have survived some of these things," he said, "because they pleased some of the people."

But when he, a white Mississippi native, had the audacity to report both sides of a black-white confrontation in the high school at Hickman late last year, his embarrassed white readers and advertisers launched a successful campaign to rid their community of "newspaper trash."

While vilification of Gardner and his family zoomed upwards ("I could have lived with that"), the Courier's income dwindled to a trickle and finally this past spring he was forced to sell and get out.

Would a citizens council have worked in Hickman?

"Oh, sure, for those who didn't like what I was saying. In a sense, they had a council and it worked. I'm not there any longer and the Courier doesn't step on toes any more."

"But for me? Never. Journalism means a hell of a lot more to me than being popular."

Unfortunately, I didn't hear many Gardner's at this convention. Running scared, the press was too busy saying nice things behind Mr. Agnew's back.

Speaking for Myself

Should Michigan Host Clay Fight?

YES. . .

Even before Cassius Clay was found guilty of draft refusal by a federal court, he was tried and found guilty in the court of public opinion, or what appeared to be public opinion, and was stripped of his heavyweight crown.

Apparently there has been little change of attitude, at least among those influential people in Miami and Texas who turned down a title fight featuring Clay. He wasn't permitted to fight, although his sentence is on appeal and the matter of Clay's guilt still is a legal question mark.

A loud mouth who swaggers about beating his own drum and taking healthy pokes at anything and everyone, Clay was tolerated as long as he confined his comments to boxing and his adversaries.

But to enter the political ring? That, for Clay, is considered a no-no. Yet, as a citizen of this nation, he is entitled to the same free speech protection as anyone else.

So why shouldn't he be permitted to fight in Detroit. Public opinion? If people were really dead set against Clay, they could boycott the fight site and consign the whole promotion to fiscal disaster.

But it'll be bad publicity for the state of Michigan, some people contend. That is no grounds for refusing to allow a man, even a loudmouth like Clay, from earning his livelihood until he has legally been found guilty of a crime.

Rolly Peterson

NO. . .

The question occurs: Why? What's in it for the state of Michigan or its people?

For an ex-mayor, an ex-referee and an ex-columnist there's a shot at a fast buck.

For an ex-champ there's a chance to do "his thing", which is fighting in a ring for big money.

His thing isn't fighting for his country; his thing isn't serving his country even in a non-combatant assignment.

At a time in history when patriotism is becoming out of fashion and too few people are prepared to concede that they have any responsibility to anyone or anything, other than their "own thing", it would be unwise indeed for Michigan to knuckle-under to a money-motivated pressure group.

Three states have declined to issue the ex-champ a license. Michigan would distinguish itself by following suit until such time the man with the Big Mouth recognizes that he is not living in a vacuum, that he does have responsibilities to his country and fellow man.

For pure ring ability Cassius has earned his spurs. But the title Champion, as youngsters of my era were taught its meaning, belongs to men like the Brown Bomber.

Asks Investigation of Wixom Police

To the Editor:

It has been so apparent that the Wixom Police Dept. has not had any publicity since Mr. McGuire resigned as Chief. It seems that the leak to the public has been silenced, even to the point where the Wixom Police Dept. was not mentioned in ANY of the newspapers or on television when a homicide was committed within the city limits.

I refer to a statement made by Mayor Willis in another weekly newspaper's May 13-19 editorial, "He (Mayor Willis) will not tolerate a lack of discipline or a disregard for professional police operations." I therefore have to theorize that NO professional police operations cannot constitute a disregard for such.

hired by Mayor Willis as a clerk typist. If one remembers Mrs. Hall was responsible for much of the leakage of police matters being printed, and was also a major adversary of the old administration and its employees.

Yours truly,
Mary Ann McGuire

Since my husband has left office I have had two instances where it was necessary to summon the police. In one instance the patrol car never arrived and the other I was never informed of the results of the investigation which Acting Chief Beamish said I would be. Which is worse, omission or commission? This is what the citizens and administration have to decide. Will Wixom hire another "Out sider" who might be guilty, as my husband, of enforcing the law no matter who is involved or will it maintain the philosophy, "because you are my friend and supporter I will look the other way."

Wixom cannot afford to let politics interfere with the running of an efficient and competent police department. I therefore challenge the Mayor, the Council, and the Citizens to PROPERLY investigate the police department as my husband requested months ago and as the Mayor promised to do but never has.

If this is done, then maybe the question will be answered that is being asked throughout the county, "Does Wixom have a Police Department?"

In a final note it seems very interesting that Mrs. Jill Hall has been

We could use that money to improve the State land around the Dunes. Michigan is blessed with more State Parks and recreational facilities than most. Let's not condemn unnecessary farm land; let's not lower local tax-basis; and let's not keep cutting up all the beauty spots with high speed and expensive roads. A NEW DART FOR NEARLY $400 LESS.
THAT'S WHAT I CALL A WINDFALL!

To be exact, Sheriff, it's $378.15 off the sticker price on this Dodge Dart. Here's how the Dodge Boys did it. First, the sticker price has been reduced on all Dart models. (On our Dart Swinger hardtop, this price reduction amounts to $187.)

Then the Dodge Boys came up with a specially equipped Swinger that includes the automatic transmission at no extra cost. It's called the Dart Swinger Automatic. And it also includes a vinyl roof, whitewalls, carpeting, and more. Add the savings of the automatic transmission ($191 on V8, $175 on Six), and you come up with a total price reduction of $362 to $378. Makes this 6-passenger Dart America's biggest compact value by far.

The Dodge Boys are driving down your cost of driving in style.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price standard 5-cylinder 2-door sedan. Price excludes state and local taxes, destination charge, optional equipment, and dealer preparation charges. Reduction includes placement of floor glass bonded tires by Goodyear and a 6-month or 50,000-mile warranty on standard equipment.

WSU Degrees

Among the 4,493 graduates who received degrees at Wayne State University's commencement exercises June 20 at Cobo Hall were:

Betty Jean Findlay Willis, 18273 Jamestown Circle, bachelor of science; Paul Matuff, 18854 Jamestown Circle, master of fine arts; and Betty G. Curtis MacKinley Albers, 21168 Centerfram Lane, master of Education.

Three men were arrested Thursday after a disturbance on eastbound Eight Mile Road at Center Street when one of them reportedly threw a rock through the windshield of a car.

Arrested and charged with felonious assault was John W. Sevakis, 21, of Farmington, who allegedly threw a rock through the windshield of a car driven by Robert A. Heussner, 17, of Birmingham.

Arrested on charges of disorderly person (conduct) were Terry L. Minzey, 24, of Pellston, and Glenn Robbins, 32, of Livonia.

According to police reports, Heussner pulled out from Lexington Boulevard onto eastbound Eight Mile in front of a car driven by Minzey. Minzey followed Heussner and when the cars were stopped at the traffic light at Center Street, Minzey and Sevakis allegedly left the car and approached Heussner's car shortly before 3 p.m.

Heussner told police he rolled up the car windows and locked the doors. An argument developed and a five-inch rock was thrown through his windshield. Heussner was treated for cuts by police but refused further medical attention.

Police apprehended the three shortly afterwards. Minzey and Robbins will be arraigned on the charges in court Tuesday. Police reported Sevakis failed to appear in court to face charges Tuesday, June 30. A warrant for his arrest will be issued.

Cinader, who is free on $1,000 bond, stood mute when arraigned before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis on June 23 and a plea of "not guilty" was entered by the court on his behalf.

Jennie Briggs, 321 Yerkes Street, was taken to Botsford Hospital after the car she was driving left Main Street at the curve and hit a tree in front of the Ford Valve Plant.

According to police reports, Mrs. Briggs was westbound on East Main Street when the accident occurred Saturday shortly before 2:30 a.m. She was treated for lacerations above the left eye.

Owner of the dog, Frank Hurley, 45189 Mayo Drive, was ticketed for allowing his dog to run at large.

League leader Snow's Standard, 3-0 last week, met cellar dweller Mario Sinacola last Wednesday and took it on the chin 5-0.

John Pantalone engineered Sinacola's shut out allowing only two hits, but walking nine.

Snow's two threats came from a left-on-base single by Tom Karch in the fifth, and a pop fly off the bat of John Henson in the seventh that resulted in a double play.

Sinacola's biggest inning netted two runs.

Dave Brown got on with a single in the second, then stole second. Steve Lukari followed him with a walk. Both runners came in on a wild pitch and two errors by Snow's hurler, Joe LaFleche.

In the fourth it was Lukari on again — thanks to an error in right field. He went to second on a balk, stole third, and crossed the bag on an error by the catcher.

In the fifth LaFleche, with three runs, two hits, one walk and eight strike-outs to his credit, was switched for Gene Reske.

In the sixth Dave Brown tagged Reske for a walk, stole second, and went to third on a fielder's choice. Mike Butler drove him home with a single.

With two outs in the seventh, Ron Buck gained first and second on errors, took third on a single by Roger Pelchat, and came home on a single off the bat of Pantalone.

Sinacola made two double plays in the sixth and seventh innings.

Reske allowed two runs on three hits and he gave one walk and fanned five. LaFleche took the loss.

Golf Pro Wins

First in Tourney

John Koch, pro at Northville's Brooklane Golf Course, took first place honors in the weekly 'Best Ball for Four' tournament sponsored by the MPGA at Gowan Golf Club in Mt. Clemens on Monday.

Koch, shooting 29 on the front and 31 in the back nine, played with Ed Krys, a fellow Northville resident, John Weipert of Plymouth and Bob Evans of Detroit.

Rain Wipes Out Adray Action

Reef Wins Two, Drops One

Rain drowned action in the Adray league last week but Reef Manufacturing managed to pick up two wins while dropping one in the Connie Mack side of Livonia league play.

Reef had a big second inning against Garden City East last week Tuesday, scoring five of its final seven runs in the first inning when Coe, Adams and Bach came home in a bases loaded situation set up by a single from Coe, a fielder's choice on Adams, a single by Crane, and two walks.

John Crane worked the victory, handing over seven hits for one run and fanning seven men.

In that second inning, David Coe led off with a single. He was pushed to second by another single off the bat of Rick Asher. Crane batted a fielder's choice that got him to first, but Coe was erased at third. Scott Stuart walked and the bases were loaded.

Asher came in on a sacrifice by Ken Lach. Another walk put Terry Mills on first and loaded the bases again.

Rick LaRue singled Crane and Stuart across, drove Mills to third, and stole second.

Rick Adams cracked a single that drove in LaRue and Mills.

The side was retired leaving Adams on first.

In the fourth Mills walked, stole second, and scored the sixth run on a single by Coe.

Reef closed out its scoring in the sixth in a loaded situation set up by a single from LaRue, a double by Rick Adams and a walk by Bernie Bach.

Coe was decked by a wild pitch forcing LaRue across. Adams, Bach and Coe were stranded.

Last Thursday Reef suffered its lone defeat of the week as Tom's Service of Livonia posted a 5-1 triumph.

The Northville squad's four-hit, two-error performance fell short of Livonia's eight-hit, one-error record.

Bernie Bach took the loss for Northville, giving up three walks and striking out six.

Livonia's edge at the plate was generated by Welch, who had four-for-four singles, Henderson with two singles and a double, and Chilink with a double.

Reef's power was measured in singles, they came from Asher, Mills, Stuart and Steve Utley.

The local nine's lone run came in the first inning when Mills walked, went to second and third on an error and a ground out, and then streaked home on a sacrifice by Bach.

The closest game of the week long series saw Reef nip Franklin 4-2 on Saturday.

Both teams produced six hits but Franklin committed two errors while Reef made only one. Reef scored three runs in the first inning when Coe, Adams and Bach came home in a bases loaded situation set up by a single from Coe, a fielder's choice on Adams, a single by Crane, and two walks.

The fourth and final run came in the second when Coe smashed a bases empty homer into right center.

Crane hurled the full seven allowing four walks and striking out four.

Connie Mack teams from both Northville and Novi will meet at Northville High School this Saturday at 6 p.m. Fans of both teams are invited to come and watch a fireworks display after the game.

question arises that does pose a threat to the mayor's new appointee. Wixom operates under two building codes, one of which requires stiffer requirements for building and which also requires professional qualifications of the building inspector. The other is less restrictive and requires non-professional qualifications for the building inspector post. Schnelz has told the council that the city must adhere to the stiffer code.

Dennis Primeau of Livonia, a 1968 graduate of Northville High School, has signed a contract with the Oakland Athletics.

Primeau, an infielder, was a draft choice of the Detroit Tigers upon his high school graduation and of the San Francisco Giants in January of this year.

Primeau was selected all tournament shortstop in the National Junior College Tournament held last spring in Grand Junction, Colorado. He held a .422 average going into that tournament, and his team, St. Clair Community College, place fourth in the nation.

Primeau is a graduate of St. Clair and plans to complete his education at Eastern Michigan University this fall. He will play for the Athletics during the spring and summer.

Harness Driver Jim Curran was fined $300 and suspended for 10 days following an incident at Northville Downs last Friday night.

Specifically, Curran was reprimanded by the state stewards after he pulled out of the sixth race at the start and returned to the paddock.

Stewards on duty reported that photos of the action indicated that Curran has passed the eighth pole, which is just ahead of the starting post, when his horse broke. Once past the eighth pole there is no valid reason for pulling out of a race unless there is interference, broken equipment or the horse falls, Stewards noted.

Numerous fans who had placed bets on the Curran entry demanded refunds. Rules state that no refunds are granted unless a horse is scratched.

Police Chief Sam Elkins called for assistance from the state police and sheriff's patrol when the crowd became unruly. Order was restored and the balance of the 10-race card proceeded without further incident.

Curran is appealing the suspension and fine to Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley and will be permitted to continue racing until a hearing is held and final determination made.

The Reverend Norman Borsvold, pastor of the Lutheran Church, at 40700 10 Mile, reported the rear door of his church was forced open Monday.

Willard Lambert, 23745 East LeBost, reported Saturday his home was broken into while the family was away.

A stolen car was recovered at the corner of Quince Drive and 10 Mile early Tuesday morning. The car is believed to have been stolen by a juvenile escapee from the Adrian Boys Training School.

Max McCullum of the Novi Tool Company, 25806 Novi Road, reported gasoline siphoned out of two trucks Thursday morning.

Lewis Dean Martin, 18, of 3268 North Pontiac Trail, was arrested Wednesday along with a juvenile in connection with a breaking and entering that occurred two weeks ago at the Inter-City Press on Grand River.

Four machines were broken open, with money and cigarettes stolen from two of them.

Martin was arrested as the result of a tip from Orchard Lake Police Wednesday.

Samuel Belleperche, 54, of 359 South Lake Drive suffered a fatal heart attack at 5:28 Saturday morning.

An eight inch piece of steel was imbedded in the neck of Francis Rosanski of Brighton as he was working on replacing a tractor track Monday morning 11:22 a.m. Rosanski is an employee of Michigan Tractor, 24800 Novi Road.

John Marsh, 303 Eubank, suffered a broken shoulder and cuts when he lost control of his motorcycle on 13 Mile Road at noon Thursday.

Marsh, 17 hit a chuck-hole in the road, police reported.

Robert Donald Adeir, 14, suffered a depressed fracture of the skull when he rode a minibike from a driveway of his home into the path of a southbound car at 26821 Meadowbrook.

Robert, stepson of Merle and Vera Jenkins of the Meadowbrook address, was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where he underwent surgery Thursday night.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole noting that his department has had policed "several accidents" in recent months as a direct result of mini-bikes. warned, "You're just safer on four wheels than on two."

Thomas J. Logan, former Detroit police officer, was arraigned Thursday before Judge Martin Boyle of the 52nd District Court on charges of felonious assault and entry without permission in connection with events in Novi which led to his suspension two weeks ago.

He demanded an explanation of the assault charge and was released on $5,000 bond. He stood mute on the second charge, a plea of not guilty was entered for him, and bond was set at $100. Trial was set for July 28.

ON TOUR IN BRITAIN — Currently appearing with Musical Youth International in the British Isles is Donald Buckmaster, 19677 Maxwell, who plays first chair clarinet with the MYI band. He and Robert Shafer, Jr., 18101 Sheldon Road, left Sunday on the five-week tour which will take the band and chorus throughout England, Scotland and Wales. Shafer sings bass in the choral group. Both are recent graduates of Northville High School.

Northville Man Was Bike Racer

Here's Challenging Hobby

"I just had to do something. I couldn't stand it without a hobby."

Amiable, Italian born, Vince Muzzin relaxed in his home at 911 Jeffery Drive in Northville, and reflected on a 10 year career in bicycle racing that netted him numerous trophies before he gave it up three years ago.

"It was a challenge," he said.

Muzzin began racing in his last three years spent in Italy. "There was some money in it," he said, "but not much."

He moved to Canada in 1952, settled in Windsor where he was a cement contractor.

He didn't race at all the four years he lived in Canada because he never knew of any bicycle races.

After he married and moved across the river to Detroit, Muzzin saw an ad for a race at what was then the Motor City Speed Way.

He went down and entered.

"I bought my first bike for $125," he remember, "it was English."

The race at Motor City led to a ten-year 'hobby' that took Muzzin all over the United States, to Quebec, Mexico, Guatemala, and South America racing in one-heat races of 30 to 35 miles, team races of 150 to 175 miles, or torturous tours like the Quebec race, which is run in 70 to 80 mile stages for 1,400 miles across country.

Although in the Quebec, Muzzin said, racers have been known to run two or three stages a day, as they have in the Mexican and Guatemalan tours, "my longest race was a 175 mile heat from Quebec to Montreal." He came in second out of 75 racers.

Muzzin, a well-built 36-year-old, talked about team races.

"You have to chase them," he explained. "There's a team of five men, and they help each other, one guy riding in front, to take up most of the wind, while the guy behind rests. Then another guy breaks away, and makes everybody chase him. Then you have to keep at least one guy with the pack to keep an eye on them. It's good shape that helps, but brains are the most important thing."

"You gotta psych everybody out...a guy being up front...that doesn't mean anything at all...til the end of the race."

He talked about different kinds of bikes.

"There's a road bike, that weighs about 20 or 22 pounds; it's got front and back brakes and a 10 gear axle. Then there's the track bike, it's light, about 17 pounds, there are no brakes and only one gear."

He shrugged at the obvious question.

"You're wearing gloves and to stop you just grab the front wheel. It burns," he said "but you gotta stop." Races sometimes run to 45 miles an hour.

"If there's an accident, you just grab the wheel harder."

"A bike has to be designed for you," he said. Everything has to be within easy reach. Everything has to be right there or else you'll get a terrible backache; gears, brakes, pedals, the bike has to be made so you don't have to reach for anything, he said. Asked if he ever had a backache, Muzzin laughed, "maybe...once or twice."

Muzzin has been a member of three cycling clubs in the Detroit-Windsor area.

Training, he said, is something you

Bike racing — a crazy, grueling sport?

Perhaps, but Vince Muzzin, now of Northville, raises some doubts by noting that his boyhood idol, Italian Fausto Coppi, amassed $62 million bicycle racing in Europe. Muzzin is pictured here in competition.

All of us Sunday joggers should give thought.

have to start new every year. "You're off for about three or four months during the winter." I keep in shape ice skating and playing hockey, but it's tough to get your muscles loosened up."

A year's training program will start off by riding 25 to 30 miles, twice a week, on a low gear bike," he explained. Then "after awhile, you get up to 40, then 50, then 60 and 70 miles twice a week."

Muzzin trained after work. He and friends rode from Grand River and Eight Mile, out to Kensington Park, and around Milford and the GM test area. "There are a lot of hills around there, and you really suffer, but that's what's important."

Muzzin went into business for himself when he moved to Northville in 1967. That also was the year he quit racing.

He says Northville is the same type of town as the one he grew up in in Italy: a town of about 10,000 population some 50 miles northeast of Venice, called Casarsa.

His last race was the four-stage Tour of Michigan that finished in Tawas.

Babson Report

Drug Review Underway

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — By the end of this year the Food and Drug Administration, under its new leadership, intends finally to complete its review of the effectiveness of several thousand drugs. So far, it has acted on only about 15 per cent to 20 per cent of the approximately 4,300 drug products subject to the study which was authorized by Congress in 1962.

have no reason to suspect that there will be a sharp slowdown in 1970.

The Research Department of Babson's

Reports looks for sales and earnings of most of the leading drug companies to record

Government is Important

Reverend Bruce Stine
Tri-Lakes Baptist
Brighton

"Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." Proverbs 13:34.

Human government is one of the three basic institutions given to us by God for the blessing of mankind. Today we see many with no respect for those who rule over us. This is wrong according to the Scriptures.

Government is important. It should be synonymous with law and order. The book of Judges in the Bible ends with, "In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes."

It was an evil time and a time of great weakness for Israel, the people of God. Do people have a right to do that which "is right in their own eyes?" No it wasn't good for the nation Israel then and it is not good for our nation today.

Jesus had respect for government. He could have had many reasons for not respecting Rome in His day. In Matthew chapter seventeen He paid His own and Peter's taxes by working a miracle.

Paul wrote to Timothy, even after the Apostles had been mistreated a number of times by government officials, "I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men, for kings, and for all that are in authority..."

Men are in authority under God. God can remove them in His time. We are told in Romans 13:3 "Whosoever therefore resisteth the power (government) resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation."

Let the wise take heed to the Holy Scriptures.

The Spirit of '70

People sometimes make cynical remarks about flag-waving. But it sure beats flag-burning.

Our belief in this nation is something far deeper than mere patriotism. It is the expression of honor and respect for the institutions and blessings we possess as Americans.

One of those institutions is a church independent of state control. One of those blessings is the right to worship according to the dictates of conscience.

Of course, there are some earnest, well-meaning people who don't give a nickel for the Church — or to it either. Even their right not to worship is equally guaranteed by our Constitution!

That kind of freedom is hard to come by. It was hard to come by in 1776. And, in our opinion, it is best understood and most firmly preserved by those who thank God for it.

Along The Campaign Trail

Governor

"The days merge, the meetings are endless, the reaction of the people...tremendous," is the comment of George N. Parris, Macomb County prosecuting attorney and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Parris listed crime, unemployment, pollution, and a shaky State and National economy as paramount on the public's list of priority issues.

"When student unrest is getting the headlines, the public is passionately concerned on that subject...but the bread and butter issue is personal security. The people demand stability in our society and a dedicated attack on security issues."

James Turner, GOP candidate for governor, accused the teamsters of "openly and blatantly trying to buy a bill" on the floor of the state House of Representatives.

The Howell publisher told his audience at a fund raising dinner last week at the Country Club in Livingston County: "I received a call from a close friend who was on the floor of the House, and the teamsters were openly and blatantly trying to buy a bill."

The bill to which Turner referred was the one concerning drivers have two licenses, one normal and one chauffeur, and the possibility of breaking the point system through accumulation of 24 from the two licenses.

Turner also commented about "open and deliberate" corruption in government, facts told to him by law-makers behind closed doors.

U.S. Senate

Congressman Jack McDonald (R-Michigan) levelled a blast at the Civil Aeronautics Board Thursday for taking what he termed a "cavalier" attitude toward the consumer.

McDonald told the House he objected to CAB approval of a proposal which permits air carriers to round off air fares to the highest dollar, yielding an additional $50 million annual income to the airlines.

"Another government agency has reared its inconsiderate head and taken steps to protect the industry it was organized to monitor," McDonald said.

Supreme Court

State Supreme Court Justice John R. Dethmers, who seeks re-election, said upon announcing his candidacy, "I have not, in the past, and will not in the future join the so-called 'bleeding hearts' who would spring prison doors wide open."

State Senate

State Senator George W. Kuhn (R-W. Bloomfield) hailed the action of the State Court of Appeals for ordering the Daylight Saving Time issue on the ballot for the November general election.

"I think it is only fair that when an issue is defeated by only 490 votes in a state-wide election the matter should be reconsidered," Kuhn said.

"I hope the legislature will do everything in its power to concur in the Court's decision and take immediate action to place this matter on the ballot, especially since just last week the legislature again allowed the eighteen year vote question to go on the ballot, even though it lost by better than a two to one margin," said Kuhn.

"My latest poll of my district shows that close to 70% of my people are in favor of Daylight Saving Time," Kuhn concluded.

Kuhn also urged that the House Judiciary Committee take early action on several important measures to fight organized crime in this state.

Kuhn said the bills they discussed were: SB 817 which provides authority for the Attorney General to have access to Grand Jury records suppressed by the Supreme Court; Senate Joint Resolution "JJ" which establishes the Governor's Commission on Investigations; and SB 1207 which provides for the Attorney General to revoke the charters of any foreign or domestic corporation engaged in organized crime activities.

"I regret that, to date, no action has been taken by the House Judiciary Committee on any of these measures that are so important to fight the battle on organized crime," he said.

"Knowing that we are now entering the final weeks of our legislative session, I strongly urge that Speaker William Ryan, Attorney General Frank Kelley, and Republican Robert Traxler as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, show a little leadership and move these bills to the House floor. To do otherwise is in my judgment an indication that the leaders of the Democratic party are not interested in vigorously fighting organized crime or official corruption," Kuhn concluded.

County Commissioner Carl D. Pursell has called for a five-point program to better manage state taxation policies and he has promised to set up a special citizens advisory commission on taxation in the 14th State Senate district if elected to that seat.

In making his proposals before a meeting of Oakland County Republicans in Commerce Township June 25, Pursell also attacked incumbent Senator George Kuhn for talking too much and doing too little about taxation.

Pursell said he would push for better taxation management based on a five-point approach:

1. Establishment of priorities and exercise of controls to balance the budget, limit spending and eliminate out-dated programs.

2. Limited property tax reduction balanced by an income — use tax formula to relieve property owners and people on fixed incomes from a disproportionate share of the tax burden.

3. Active and aggressive support by the state legislature for federal revenue sharing with states and municipalities.

4. Requirement of early financial reporting to make possible sound fiscal planning and prevent continual operation of state government in a "crisis" atmosphere.

5. Thorough evaluation of the present funding situation that locks 51% of state taxes into "special interest" funds to be used only for specific purposes.

Commenting upon his opponent, George Kuhn, Pursell said: "His approach is typical of the kind of slipshod legislative attitude that has contributed to the state's financial problems." Pursell pointed to Kuhn's actions during the 1967 legislative debate on the state income tax.

"When the state income tax came up for the key vote in 1967, my opponent, the great friend of the taxpayer, was out of town. When his party brought him back to Lansing, he resoundingly abstained," Pursell said.

"If my opponent spent more time evaluating problems and working at effective solutions and less time making speeches, the people of the 14th district would be getting better representation in Lansing," Pursell said.

State House

Robert Swanson, GOP candidate for State Representative, blasted Incumbent Democrat Marvin Stempien by charging this past week that he has been "consistent in two areas:

"(1) His support of increased taxes, having voted in favor of four separate tax increases in the past 12 months alone, and (2) his steadfast support of Parochialism despite the opposition of the State Central Committees of both political parties, the Education Associations, the PTA's, the Council of Churches, the League of Women Voters and many others including over 10,000 people here in Livonia."

Asked to comment on the state's involvement in Detroit school decentralization, he said:

"The State Legislature created last June a monster which it is now unable to control. I firmly believe that control of local schools must remain in local hands. The present fiasco in Detroit is an excellent example of what can happen when the state government and politicians stick their noses into local school operation. By their action, the legislature has established a dangerous precedent."

The race for the State House seat in the 51st district heated up this week as GOP Candidate Richard E. Fay accused Republican Incumbent Thomas Sharpe of favoring special interests.

Fay, a Howell resident like his opponent, singled out Sharpe's support of a bill which would exclude large landowners from the provisions of the State Plat Act.

"Sharpe seems to feel," Fay charged, "that if he continues to take care of a few of his influential cronies he'll be elected forever."

Fay said that Sharpe's bill would except landowners with 80 acres or more from the requirements of the Plat Act, which spells out rules for subdividing.

Lenore Ignores What's His Name

LANSING — One of the standard rules of political campaigning runs something like this: "If you are ahead of your opponent, then don't acknowledge that he (or she) exists."

The reasoning behind the rule is simple why give the guy exposure when he's behind? And if he (or she) doesn't exist, then you don't have to answer campaign charges or engage in things like debates.

The rule is being followed in several campaigns during the current primary election. Perhaps the most notable one involves the Republican contest for the party's U.S. Senate nomination.

If you were to examine very closely all the campaign literature and all the speeches of Mrs. Lenore Romney, you'd still have no idea she has a primary opponent.

HER CAMPAIGN AGAINST incumbent Democratic Senator Philip Hart completely ignores State Senator Robert Huber of Troy.

When asked why she is ignoring Huber she says the Republican Party "should be united and our main objective is beating Senator Hart. That is where I am concentrating my efforts."

When Huber challenged her to a debate recently she didn't even refuse the challenge, but merely said she had "no comment" on it.

And when a reporter pressed her on the subject by asking why she should be the Republican nominee instead of Huber, she said only, "If you have to ask that question, then I feel sorry for you."

HUBER HASN'T taken this treatment sitting down. After some initial fears about the dangers of making any sort of political attacks on a woman, he started campaigning hard against her as well as for the nomination.

Huber says he feels Mrs. Romney is a "delightful" person, but she has no experience in government and thus has no business in the Senate.

In an attempt to exploit the "bossism" issue, he is calling her Mrs. George Romney rather than Lenore to call attention to charges her husband strongarmed the party to get the nomination for her.

Mrs. Romney is still considered a heavy favorite and as a result has not bothered to reply to Huber. But some Republican strategists are beginning to feel the original estimates that Huber would receive only 15 to 20 percent of the vote may be pretty light.

And if polls show Huber is making solid gains, it will be interesting to see whether Mrs. Romney begins to acknowledge his existence.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE LOREN D. ANDERSON, R-Pontiac, is worried the current political campaign may contribute to the pollution problem now being pondered by most citizens.

As a result, he has proposed that all candidates for office make sure their campaign posters are pulled down after the elections in August and November.

"Either we are serious about doing something to stop the litter and the visual pollution or we are not," Anderson said.

"Politicians in particular should be aware of the problem and be willing to take the necessary steps to undo what they have done."

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Elizabeth Pond sounds like a very proper name, the name of some Jane Austen creature who could just as well have lived in Victorian England as been one of the few woman correspondents in the far east.

But her uniqueness, apart from being a woman and a correspondent, is the fact that she is the one of three American correspondents who were captured (on May 7) by guerrillas of the Cambodian National United Front and lived to tell her story afterward, when she was released after five and one-half weeks.

Her four-part series telling about her captivity in the Christian Science Monitor is engaging in the first place because she did survive, whereas many other journalists in Cambodia never were heard from again. And the incidence has been high.

What makes her meticulous stories singular, however, is the sprawling ease with which she writes objectively. None of the passions easily connected with the Vietnam and Cambodian wars grip her writing.

Not that she doesn't experience the normal range of emotions any woman possesses. It's that she subordinates any political leanings she might have to the task at hand — a factual account of her captivity.

The tipoff comes early in her writing, when she treats her capture and that of two male correspondents as if it were a casual morning stroll through the park. "When the two men with rifles, one Vietnamese, one Cambodian, stepped from behind a tree and motioned our automobile to stop, we stopped."

So what should have been a nightmare began. Although their life of captivity was hardly what one would think the norm, it was, in comparison to my pre-conceived notion, merely time out from the normal flow of life in a war zone.

At first treated with suspicion and rough indifference, the threesome suddenly was accorded gloved treatment. Five men were assigned to guard them and to be their constant companions to keep them out of harm's way.

The most interesting article was the one in which Miss Pond described these five men — Hai, Ba, Tu, Ban Tun and Wang — and their identification with the revolutionary cause. Not merely men caught up in an unfortunate war, they were truly committed to their Communist cause and able to discuss their ideology intelligently.

How they became involved in the war Miss Pond didn't surmise. But, as Communist cadre they had their eyes wide open and knowingly pursued their objective of Communization. They weren't mere puppets.

"As presented to us, these (nationalism and social justice) meant broad concepts rather than doctrinal niceties. Nationalism in one conversation would mean Vietnam for the Vietnamese, in another Indo-China for the Indo-Chinese. Whichever it was, the essential objective was to get the Americans out of Indo-China."

So Miss Pond tells her story, with ruthless objectivity, letting the cards fall where they may. At least from her writing she embraces no prejudicial stand. It's a matter of telling a story.
