College Board Split 4-3 As Teacher Strike Continues

With the Schoolcraft College teachers strike now in its fourth week with apparently no settlement in sight, public pressure is rapidly mounting with most vocal citizens aiming their guns at the tight-lipped board of

Among new developments this night, the board of trustees voted 4-3 on the proposed contract agreement, thus for the second time in a week reaching a deadlock. (Four members favored approving the proposed one-year contract, but approval requires five of the eight members).

• In executive session Monday

McNamara publicly urged the teachers to accept a less than satisfactory settlement while pledging to urge the board of trustees to do the same (He did not, however, attend the Monday night meeting of the board). Growing speculation that prolongation of the strike will force cancellation entirely of the first semester of school.

(The Record has learned, however, that current board plans call for cancellation of all vacations during the school year, and, in the event, these are insufficient to makeup lost time, any cancellation of instructional period will take place at the end of the school year starting end of school.)

• Angry charges by students who claim the board and/or administration is being less than candid in appraising students of specific problems they may face upon returning to school.

• Trustee William Secord of Northville, who favors approval of the one-year contract, and who has so voted twice, has stated that board silence on its negotiating position is self-defeating and leads the public to wrongly assume that all claims of teachers are valid.

• Board of trustees boycotted a public meeting, called by teachers, at Stevenson High School in Livonia Monday night.

• Angry teachers claim the situation has changed from a strike to a "lockout", noting that locks on college doors have been changed and keys are not being made available to faculty members.

Trustee Secord confirmed that locks have been adjusted but merely as a security measure, and that while the school is closed entrance may be gained through the administrative offices. As soon as a settlement is reached or whenever teachers indicate a willingness to return all doors will be open, he declared.

• Democratic Senatorial Candidate Paul Kadish urged a "lock-in" of both the board and the teachers representatives until a settlement is

With an overflow crowd of teachers, students and citizens of the college district on hand for Monday's meeting at Stevenson, the board came under a scathing attack. The fact the Only newly-appointed Public Relations Director David Heinzman was present to represent the board. He read a written statement, authorized by the board in explanation of its absence, and then added that he was not at liberty to elaborate on the statement or answer any questions.

Two basic reasons were given for its absence: one, some members were not informed of the meeting until late last week and the board itself was holding a special meeting at the same hours; and two, that consistent with

A large number of parents are refusing to pay the controversial damage deposit, Superintendent Raymond Spear told school board members Monday night and "at the high school level it may validate the complaint that $25 deposit is too

In preliminary figures released Monday, Spear said 801 students had paid the deposit while 230 had not at the high school. At the junior high, 457 paid and 63 had not as of Monday, Of these 63, 31 have indicated they will pay later, seven will pay damage after it occurs, 27 refused without a reason, four said they could not afford the deposit and four gave other reasons, Orphan told the board he was opposed to "paying for the teachers' lunch hour. At the high school level they have a 42 minute duty free lunch hour and throughout the district lunch hours cost us roughly $160,000.

"The wording of the contract should spell out the work day excluding the lunch hour," he stated. He cited the high school as an example where "teachers are paid for a 71/2-hour day including the lunch hour, while in truth they are only working approximately a six-hour 45-minute Orphan later told this newspaper he was in favor of defining the work day as a "71/2-hour day including a duty free lunch period, or a six-hour 45-minute day excluding the lunch time." Presently the contract defines the work day as 7½ consecutive hours.

"In no other business does the work day include lunch hours. Working from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with a one-hour lunch period would be defined as a nine-hour day, following the definition in the teaching contract," Orphan said. "Let's not cloud the issue."

Trustee Martin commented that "In spite of the fact that the length of the teaching year is 189 days, only 176 are required teaching days. We are paying for ten sick days and three personal business days too.'

Orphan also criticized the "hit and miss manner in which salaries increase with length of service in the district. There should be a systematic progression where teachers benefit most through their length of service to the district.'

Trustee Cook moved for an immediate vote on the motion, saying "Two things have been brought up that have not been discussed before and this is neither the time nor the place for it."

In other contract matters, Mrs. Neil Nichols asked board members if they thought "administrative salaries are justified by the number of pupils in the district."

Specifically, she questioned Continued on Page 11-A Levitt Rezoning Goes To Voters in November

Recently approved rezoning of the Levitt & Sons property between Seven and Eight Mile roads has run into public opposition that will force the appearance of a third proposition on the November general election ballot.

The Northville Township Board, meeting briefly in special session Tuesday night, approved the wording of the proposition that, by law, must go to the voters for a decision because of the petition request.

Submitted last week on the last possible day in which it could be presented (within 30 days of the township board action in approving the rezoning), the petition contained "many more than the required 190-odd names necessary" to force the matter to a vote, said Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond.

The petition requests the matter be placed before voters in a 'special election', but "by acting quickly in getting it validated and the wording approved we're able to get it on the November ballot," explained the clerk, who pointed out that calling for a special election for this one purpose 'would be very expensive.'

"This way it will not cost much, and more people are likely to vote on it at the regular election than would vote in a special election," she said.

While the clerk and Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg expressed disappointment in the petition, they indicated "we have no choice but to place it on the ballot since it is perfectly legal".

Specifically, the ballot question will ask: "Shall amended zoning Map No. 14 of the Northville Township Zoning Ordinance which was passed by the Northville Township Board of Trustees on August 11, 1970 be approved? Yes or No."

Besides this proposition, two others will be put to voters: one asks if the annual township meeting should be abolished and another asks if the township's interest in the township hall (old library building on Wing Street) should be sold. Decision to place these two questions on the ballot was by board initiative.

"I think, some of the people who signed (the petition) didn't know what it meant," said Stromberg. The supervisor said he has spoken to some of the signers who indicated to him they signed without full knowledge of the latest rezoning.

Mrs. Hammond concurred. "I just don't believe some of these people would have signed if they knew all the facts. If they oppose multiple zoning, and no one denies them that right, the appropriate time to do something like this would have been back when rezoning was first considered for the property."

Even if voters should overrule the board's action, explained the supervisor, it means only the latest rezoning action of the board would be affected. Earlier rezoning would be unchanged "and there isn't much difference," Stromberg added.

News of the referendum "shocked" Levitt vice president, Irwin-Adler. Well into the development phase of 418-acre parcel, Adlet expressed the view that township planners, board members and the company had acted in good faith and that the approved changes benefitted

Called 'Biggest in State'

City Opposes Phone Hike

Michigan Bell's proposed telephone rate hikes will be opposed by the city of Northville when the Michigan Public Service Commission number of telephones there. To holds its public hearing on the new statewide schedules September 22. At the direction of the city council

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie will argue that the new schedule will boost local area phone users' rates far out of proportion to other areas.

The Northville telephone area includes the city and township of Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Farmington, Garden City, most of Novi and parts of Westland and Wixom.

While the new schedule would boost rates throughout the state an average of three per cent, Northville area users will receive a 15 per cent hike in residential rates and about 22 per cent in business rates.

"It's the biggest increase in the state", says City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

Local Michigan Bell Manager John

Peard explains that the basic rate for resident and business telephones is set in each locality according to the recognize the overall growth in telephones in recent years, all rate band classifications have been expanded. But despite this, Peard noted, the growth in Northville has been so much that it has been reclassified into a higher rate

But local officials argue that the biggest growth has taken place in the Livonia area which enjoys a wider calling range than Northville and that the Northville area users are being unduely penalized for growth outside its environs.

Michigan Bell points out that this is the first general rate increase for the company in over ten years.

"Every effort has been made to simplify the new rate structure so that rates may be more easily understood by customers," said Peard. "The new rates also are designed so that customers pay on the basis of the amount of service and facilities they actually use," he said.

Peard said the new rates obviously result in higher phone bills for most customers. However, by streamlining rates and making them more flexible, he added, the company is seeking to have charges relate more closely to customer usage.

Major features of the new rates include a discount to customers for dialing their own long distance calls; the dropping of the three-minute initial period for long distance calls within Michigan with all such calls being charged by the minute; and a uniform $9 charge for installing, moving or changing service, including customer initiated number changes. This is the first statewide use of the one-minute charge for all intrastate long distance

Women Voters Mark Founding

Nearly 100 women from the Northville-Plymouth area will celebrate League of Women Voters Week, September 21-28, with special membership and finance drive activities.

Proclaimed by Governor William Millikin and by Mayor A. M. Allen in Northville, League of Women Voters Week is an opportunity for citizens to become better acquainted with the aims and goals of the non-partisan organization.

Founded in 1920, the year woman suffrage was written into the Constitution, the LWV grew out of the National American Woman Suffrage Association which spearheaded the 72-year drive to get women the vote.

As its first task the League took on teaching the 20 million recently enfranchised women how to carry out their new responsibilities. League emphasis then, as now, focused on the importance of individuals working together to achieve good government responsive to the needs of all citizens.

For 50 years League members have provided Americans with information on candidates, furnishing a non-partisan platform from which candidates may make themselves known to the electors and allowing voters to make intelligent choices. In addition, the League's concern has been for the pressing problems of our society including education, urban issues, the environment and public health.

The League functions on three levels: local, state and national. When a woman joins the League in her own community, she also becomes a member of her state League and of the LWV of the United States. She works with other members of her local League on issues important not only to her community, but also to her state and country.

Locally, League members have provided the community with a variety of voter service and program activities since the group was organized in the Northville-Plymouth area less than two years ago.

The Northville-Plymouth LWV has prepared voters guides for all elections including the recent primary in August. Members sponsored a public forum on the Northville school bond issue and were stationed at the polls during this election to explain ballots and voting procedures. In addition, observers from the League regularly attend meetings of the school board, city council, township board and planning

Northville Girl Enters Academy

Margaret Ann Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Morse, 44154 Cottisford Road, Northville, is among the new students enrolled here at St. Mary's Academy.

She is a sophomore and one of 250 students from throughout the United States and several foreign countries attending the college preparatory school.

St. Mary's is one of the oldest private schools in the United States, having been founded in 1844 by the Sisters of the Holy Cross. The first school in Bertrand, Michigan, was later moved to the site of St. Mary's College at Notre Dame, Indiana. For the past 25 years St. Mary's Academy has been located on a wooded estate in Twyckenham Hills at South Bend.

Sr. Marie Celine, CSC, heads a faculty of 35 lay men and women and Sisters of the Holy Cross.

Soon to be published by Northville League members is a "Know Your Town'' book explaining the governmental structure of the city and township. The local study item for this group is community planning, including an examination of land use, zoning, city and township relationships, recreational facilities, and public protection.

In addition to the local study program, League members are engaged in an analysis of financing of education in Michigan, an evaluation of the U.S. Congress, and research in methods to combat poverty and discrimination. On the national level, they are also studying environmental quality. including problems of air and water pollution and of population growth.

As a lobbying group for action on issues which the League has studied and in which members have reached consensus, they actively support legislation which favors equality of opportunity in education, employment and housing. Another current issue in which LWV members are involved is support of the direct popular election of the President and Vice President, a position League members throughout the country reached last year after a two-year study of the electoral college. A non-profit organization, the include support of state, national and local work. About one-fourth of League income comes from local League dues and the rest from contributions of members and other public-spirited individuals.

The LWV finance drive, in which members visit local business and community leaders to explain the operation of the League, will coincide with League of Women Voters Week. Assisting the group in its finance drive plans are businessmen in the two communities. Serving on the Men's Advisory Committee for the Northville-Plymouth LWV are: A. R. Clarke, Manufacturers National Bank, Northville; Dr. Russell Atchison, Northville physician; R. H. Amerman, former superintendent of Northville schools; L H. feeling of gracious living coupled with a hint of the unusual, which predominates inside.

The brick building with a high mansard roof is nestled deep into a tree-covered hill, giving almost a Tudor appearance to the front entrance way. A side view reveals three levels of the house, including a terrace outside the downstairs recreation room and a large balcony-type porch off the dining room on the first floor.

Standing in the front entrance hall one suddenly is treated to the full flavor of the Spanish decorating theme

From there view the large two story living room, bordered on three sides by the carved wooden banisters of an upstairs balcony. The balcony ends in an open stairway to the right, carpeted in pale gold.

The fourth wall of the living room is dominated by a large brick fireplace, with a two story window on either side. A rectangular red sofa faces the fireplace, flanked by two gold chairs and a glass top coffee table.

The room features a pale gold rug and white walls, accented by touches of red and black. This same color scheme of gold, black and red is repeated in variations throughout the

"We bought most of the tables and smaller chairs when we were in Mexico City," explains Mrs. Bauss, referring to the Spanish style furniture.

Of particular interest is a Mexican bookcase or "hutch" with intricate wooden trim. In another corner stands a high back carved wooden chair drawn to a tall, narrow table, also from Mexico. "Frank uses this as a desk," his wife explains.

From there enter the dining room, which contains more of the same gold carpeting and white walls. The room is furnished with a Spanish styled table and chairs, bordered at one end by a wall of windows which reveals an adjoining balcony porch and the nearby woods.

In contrast to the muted tones of the living and dining rooms is the kitchen, which features brick walls and bright red carpeting. An informal table and chairs, wooden with a Spanish feeling, occupies the separate eating

Going past the downstairs bathroom tour guests will re-enter the living room and proceed upstairs to the second floor. "This is essentially a three bedroom house," Mrs. Bauss explains, "although we have converted one room into a study for Frank."

The study, the guest room and the master bedroom are all done in shades of white and gold with more of the same pale gold carpeting. Of particular interest is the carved wooden headboard on the bed in the master bedroom, purchased in Mexico by Mr. and Mrs. Bauss.

At the far end of the balcony hall is a circular wrought-iron stairway which winds down to the living room, then to the recreation room on the lower level. This room features brick walls and a brick floor, accented with touches of antique gold.

Recipients of the Wixom City Council's Certificate of Merit, Robbie Fawcett (left) of 3030 Potter, and Tommy Johnson (right) of 1358 Flamingo were honored last week in the city council chambers by Mayor Gilbert C. Willis. The two found a woman's purse in front of the Wixom General Store two weeks ago and promptly telephoned police who located the rightful owner. The purse contained some $195 plus an amount of foreign currency. "We first thought it had about $40 in it," said Tommy, "but we took it home and found it had a lot more."

Tractor Purchase Tops Novi Meeting

Novi will buy its new back-hoe tractor from Broquet Ford Tractor and Equipment company of Detroit.

Low bid from Broquet was $7,625 and, following recommendation from City Manager Dallas Zonkers, the city council unanimously accepted it.

Money will be transferred from last year's budgeted reserve for highway equipment as well as expected surplus from the last two years.

. In other action concerning the DPW, Zonkers asked for permission to take bids on street salt for the coming winter. He also noted that the city had in its possession a plow it couldn't use, and he asked for permission to take bids on plumbing and heating work to be done in the DPW garage.

Report Due On Pollution

Citizens for Environmental Action will meet tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Oswell, 43999 Durson, Novi.

The group will discuss preliminary reports on its investigation of pollution along the Rouge River branch that flows through the Northville-Novi area.

A regular schedule of bimonthly Thursday meeting will be determined at tonight's meeting. Also on the agenda are considerations for sponsoring booths and displays featuring information on the environment.

The future goal of the Citizens for Environmental Action will be establishing a permanent pick-up place or time for collection of non-returning glass containers to the Owens-Illinois Corporation," spokesmen said.

The meeting is open to all citizens in the Northville-Novi area who are interested in doing something for the environment on a community basis.

Moose Lodge Gets Boost

With a "successful" first meeting under their belts, organizers of a Novi chapter of the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge are planning a second organizational meeting on Sunday, September 27.

The 2 p.m. meeting will be held in the Novi Community Building on Novi Road, adjacent to the Novi Elementary School, as was the first meeting last Sunday.

According to the organizational chairman, William Coulter, 100 members are needed to charter a local chapter "and it looks like we're well on our way in meeting that goal."

by the council and Zonkers was ordered to direct Schram to cut them

Councilman Donald Young cited a similar problem along 10 Mile road. He said clumps of dead trees during high winds or heavy rains dump their branches on the roadway.

Councilman Edwin Presnell, in reference to 10 Mile Road said the city "ought to clean it's own house first." Council action on this matter was delayed, however.

A resolution was drafted giving support to the regional hospital concept proposed for the 13 Mile Haggerty area of Farmington Township.

, Such a hospital would serve the Walled Lake, Wixom, Novi areas with an estimated 200-bed capacity, reports

Young said he had "heard a lot of gripes over the distance this area is removed from a general hospital."

Councilman William O'Brien observed that, by ambulance and expressway, the Novi City Hall is only 10 minutes from Providence Hospital at Nine Mile and Greenfield in Southfield.

Action was drafted urging "our state representatives to support an amendment" currently before the State House of Representatives, which would give municipalities the option of selecting spring or fall elections.

Advantages of spring municipal elections, according to a letter received from the Troy City commission last week, are shorter ballots and more attention given to local municipal issues by the voters.

"I don't see where that's true, "said Mayor Joseph Crupi, "I don't see where it makes any difference whether your elections are in the spring or the Council accepted and filed a letter' from County Commissioner Lew Coy, notifing it of a 15-mill tax bill to be divided among the county, the townships and various school districts, which will be placed on the November

The measure appeared before the board of commissioners according to Coy at its September 3rd meeting as a petition filed by the county tax allocation board. The board was advised, Coy's letter read that according to law they could do nothing except "examine it as to form and accuracy and put it on the ballot."

City Council listened to much discussion concerning Governor Milliken's controversial suggestion for municipal ordinances door gatherings and then dropped the matter without taking any action.

Argument arose as to whether or not such an ordinance was needed in Novi and whether or not enforcement of the ordinance would be possible if one was enacted.

New Elementary Plans Approved

Middle School Construction Starts Here

With final approval Monday of plans for a new elementary school and a decision to take bids, the Novi Board of Education is close to seeing two major projects realized.

Bids for the new elementary, temporarily called Village Oaks. are to be opened October 13 with construction tentatively scheduled to be launched shortly thereafter.

Meanwhile, site work has been completed and construction of Novi's new multi-million dollar middle school just started, spokesmen for Lane-Riebe-Weiland, the district's architectural firm, revealed Tuesday.

Also, Superintendent Thomas Dale has announced that the Oakland County Department of Public Works has begun advertising for bids for the 11 Mile Road sewer arm that is to serve the new middle school. Bids for this project are to be opened on October 6.

Trustees have been informed that the sewer arm is to be let under a separate bid and contract from the remainer of the city's multi-million dollar sewer project, thus providing the school district with an accurate cost. Officials had voiced some fear that if the sewer projects were lumped together they might never know exactly how much the 11 Mile arm

The school district has pledged $100,000 for sewer construction under a yet-to-be approved payback arrangement with the city.

Novi's new middle school, to cost some $2.8 million, will be located south of the present high school on Taft Road and will provide sixth, seventh and eighth grade classrooms arranged in clusters as self-contained units, with general classroom facilities such as industrial arts, located elsewhere in the building.

The 14-classroom elementary school is to be located in the middle of the Village Oaks Subdivision, south of 10 Mile and east of Meadowbrook Road. It also will contain two kindergarten rooms, and it will provide for an eight to 16 room future addition.

Plans call for completion of the middle school by December 1971, and for completion of the new elementary school by September of the same year.

In addition to these two new school facilities, long-range plans call for future construction of still another elementary school probably on the high school-middle school site.

MUST BE STRAIGHT - Laying out the lines along which the new middle school will rise are employees of the Osgood Construction Company. "Corners have to be exact," says Art Tucheney (right), "if they're 1/4 inch out of line, on the outside wall, the entire building will be out of kilter." Denver Sprinkles holds the line which will be the south wall while adjustments are made. Construction was scheduled to begin Wednesday.

Wixom Weighs Appeal For Multiple Housing

An appeal for rezoning to permit development of a $10 million multiple housing development was tabled by the Wixom City Council Tuesday night.

The request from Edward Rose & Sons of Detroit to rezone at least part of an 85-acre parcel south of Pontiac Trail, west of Beck Road was denied earlier by the city planning commission

Council Delays Filling Post

Due to the excused absence of Councilwoman Mary Parvu, action on Wixom's vacant council seat, created two weeks ago by the retirement of Charles McCall, was tabled until next Tuesday's regular council meeting.

Among those seeking the post are Neil Taylor, Howard Coe, Mrs. Lillian Spencer, Gerald Hieber, Fred Evans, Arthur Cronin, Melvin Hardesty, Leslie Kent and Peter primarily because of proposed high unit density.

A special meeting time of 7 p.m. has been set.

The area is presently zoned single family residential and light industrial. The requested change in zoning to RC-2 would permit multiple housing.

Wixom's zoning ordinances provide two classifications of multiples zoning. The difference is calculated on the basis of rooms per acre and is figured with the development's total square footage taken into account. According to Planning Commission Secretary Leslie Kent, the ordinances permit differences in dwelling unit density to insure adequate open space

According to the formula used to determine whether the development is RC-1 or RC-2, Rose could fit more units per acre under the requested

"In all previous cases," said John Shaheen, representative of Rose, "applications have been granted for RC-1, and to my knowledge they have all been townhouse types with 3-4 bedroom units. We propose 1-2 bedroom units and we can effectively build more of them on the same area of ground without going ouside the bounds of the ordinance.

"The ordinance provides," Shaheen continued, "for a variance when 1-2 bedroom units are mixed which is what we propose to do.'

The development would include streets owned and maintained privately, five and a half acres of recreational area, and a community building for the use of development residents, spokesmen said.

"We will prohibit children below the age of 16 (13 for girls)" said Shaheen, "so as to do away with the problems of noise and schooling.

"Our development is designed primarily for young married couples and senior citizens and this is the group most attracted to a two bedroom unit. A three or a four bedroom unit is a small home, young marrieds can't afford it, and senior citizens don't want it. We'd never be able to market such a development."

Action on the request will come up on next Tuesday's council agenda. Regular meeting time has been moved up one hour to allow time for the decision and an election to fill the vacant seat of former councilman Charles McCall.

The multiples appeal was tabled because one council member was

Planners Tap Miner

John Miner was elected chairman, James Lahde vice-chairman, and Leslie Kent secretary of the Wixom Planning. Commission at the commission's regular meeting Monday night.

All three have served the board in the past year, Lahde as secretary and: Miner and Kent as members.

In other action Monday the planners recommended approval of applications requesting the rezoning of certain districts to light industrial, but; rejected a site plan review, and denied a request to rezone a land parcel for business and professional office development.

Light industrial, M-1 zoning, was recommended for an area north of West Road, between Wixom and Beck Roads, and an area west of Wixom Road and south of Pontiac Trail near the center of town. The two areas are to be developed by separate firms.

"This is an example of the procedure we have determined to follow," said Secretary Kent. "We're attempting to rezone industrially from Wixom Road, in an easterly direction, between West Road and the C & O Railroad track.

The board denied two requests concerning land in the area of the Potter-Beck Road intersection.

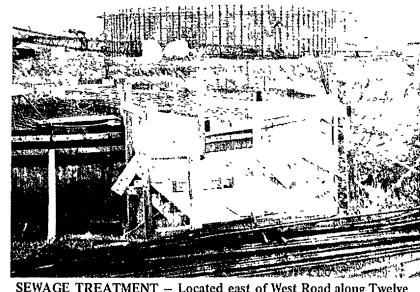

The first, involving a zoning change from agricultural to local business and professional office, concerned land to the east of that corner; the second, a site plan review for a multiple housing development, involved land to the west.

Help Needed For U-F Drive

"Let's Help Each Other With All We've Got" is the slogan for this year's United Foundation Torch Drive.

Mrs. Victor Miller, Division chairman for the drive in Novi, said area and neighborhood chairmen and bell ringer volunteers are still needed.

The Torch Drive begins October 13 and women interested in helping with the drive in Novi are asked to contact Mrs. Miller at 349-9717.

SEWAGE TREATMENT - Located east of West Road along Twelve Mile, the partially completed plant will treat sewage from the city of Walled Lake and residential lake areas within the city of Novi. Estimated cost of the project is $1,655,550, with 65% being absorbed by Walled Lake, and 35% by Novi. Bonds have been sold by Oakland County DPW. Construction began last March and is expected to be concluded by spring of 1971.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The real losers in the Schoolcraft college deadlock over teacher negotiations are the students and the taxpayers.

Failure of the school to resume its regular sessions on schedule creates obstacles that could endanger career opportunities or kill educational incentive.

Young college students should not be forced to sit around home waiting for classes to begin because their peers cannot face each other in public and resolve their differences.

The situation is as senseless as the sit-down, boycotting and stone-throwing episodes conducted by student demonstrators.

At the same time the public is being robbed of its right to know all the facts by a board of trustees that insists upon conducting its polls in private.

Press releases and "position advertisements" that skip the gut issues and decline to reveal exactly how each elected board member stands on the issue, and why, should be nauseating to the taxpayer.

It is utterly amazing how quickly a candidate for public office, eager to tell anyone who will listen anything he wants to hear, runs for cover once elected and faced with a minor skirmish in the field of personnel relations or negotiations. Suddenly the public becomes too blessed dumb to comprehend.

At this late date in negotiations, when a contract has narrowed down to a single issue and agreement appears to be but one vote away, game-playing should cease.

It's time for face-to-face confrontation and clear enunciation of differences.

If teachers and trustees in institutions of higher learning cannot resolve their differences through direct communication and compromise, what is education all about...what hope does the future hold?

The latest petition campaign to reverse by referendum a decision of the Northville township planning commission and board of trustees takes a strong slap at the officials of those bodies.

Township voters will be asked to deny Levitt and Sons, developers of the 418-acre Highland Lakes community in the gravel pit area between Seven and Eight Mile roads, rezoning it gained in public hearings before planners and the board.

It must be concluded that proponents of the petition campaign are opposed to the entire development...or else they detect something in the rezoning terribly detrimental to the community that is not readily evident to the township's professional consultant, the planning commissioners, the board majority, or this writer.

Admittedly there are more townhouses and fewer single-family, detached homes. But there are no more "rental" units...the townhouses will be privately owned and priced in the $25,000 to $30,000 class. The total density will be increased less than 10 per cent but will remain well under limits as prescribed by township ordinance. And the school-age density will be substantially decreased while the taxbase for school support will increase.

Big developers are easy targets for politicians (and editorial writers) protecting the public interest.

But before voting November 3 on the rezoning reversal, 1 hope Northville township electors make it their business to know what they're for or against and why.

Levitt was granted the rezoning after careful and long deliberation by dedicated members of an appointed body serving the

Their recommendation was upheld by the majority of the elected members of the township board.

The rezoning represents a compromise that recognizes problems encountered by the developer, while preserving important protection for the total community and the area which the new development viii adjoin.

A vote for reversal of the rezoning would certainly cause problems for Levitt. But it would hit harder at the judgment of those citizens responsible for granting the rezoning...the ones most familiar with all the facts surrounding the action.

I hope everyone reads Jack Hoffman's "Top of the Deck" column this week.

The skeptical Hoffman was hypnotized by the aged newspaperman he met at Northville State Hospital. But he couldn't bring himself to believe all the wondrous tales related by the octogenatian.

So finally he blurted out his doubts.

"Look," he said to the oldtimer. "I'm interviewing you in a mental institution...I mean.. well, how do I know I can believe what you're saying?'

"That's true," came the reply of the ex-reporter who seemed to appreciate that a newsman must cheek his facts. "Why don't you call up the National Press Club in Washington, D.C.? Somebody might remember me there."

Hoffman did. And a longtime secretary of the Press Club remembered "Mr. M" very well, indeed.

"Oh I'm so happy to know you're going to write about him...yes, he did all the things he says...he's a wonderful man, a wonderful man.'

Can you imagine the stories he could tell a history class...or a woman's group...or Rotary?

Speaking for Myself

Are Spiro Watches in Bad Taste?

YES...

To characterize one of our political leaders in the form of rotating arms on a timepiece dial is, to say the least, somewhat humorous. Humor and comedy, favorite American pastimes, are always accomplished at the expense of other persons. The "in thing" has been to build humor and comedy into our political system. Our editorial cartoonists would never let Kennedy forget his rocking chair, Johnson and the proper way to pick up beagle hounds, Agnew and his beautiful execution of golf drives and tennis serves.

We have to ask if humor is "good taste"? YOU

If we should ever cease to make humor a basic American trait, then we would cease to be a free American. The role of a politician, an industrial leader, or simply a good American is, indeed, a difficult role. If we ever cease directing humor at ourselves, we cease doing our part, in and for society.

I can't remember humor being directed at the Hitlers or the Benedict Arnolds, but then, I choose not to remember them. My memories instead are with the Paul Reveres, the Mickey Mouses and the Spiro Agnews - my fellow Americans.

NORM SOMERS Pharmacist

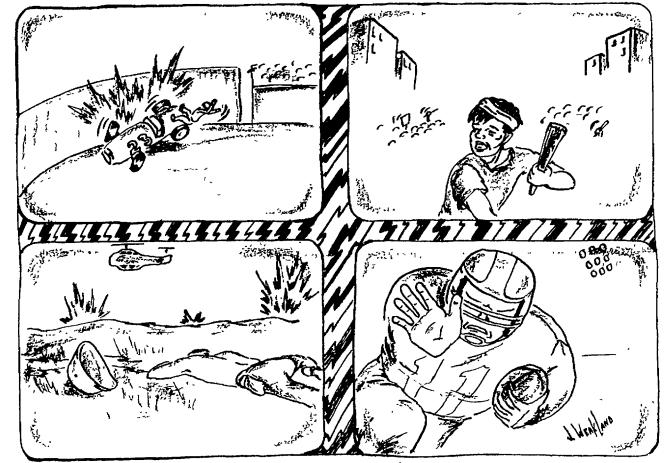

Yes. Spiro Agnew watches are in bad taste. The reason I say this is that anytime someone or some company uses the office of the president or vice president for commercial exploitation demeans that office. This despite the fact that I do not agree with what the vice president says or does and have a right to criticize him personally and will continue to do so when I feel he is wrong.

I was brought up to respect the office that he holds. Spiro Agnew watches are just another example of lack of respect for the office of the vice president of the United States or for that matter the president of the United States.

I often wonder what the people in other countries think about the president and vice president when they see a Spiro Agnew watch or some other product of equally bad taste.

met Russell McLean Sunday afternoon and I think he would fascinate you as he did me.

Russell McLean isn't his real name. But the man and his story are not ficticious. He is a patient at Northville State Hospital but mentally and physically alive. He is simply an old man without family who in the ember of life has found a solace in an institution.

"I am 85," he told me, "an old man who has had a good life but now, with nowhere to go, will live and die in an institution. It is as simple as that. I am here and I do not regret it."

He paused, and then added: "I'm not dead yet, mind you; life's still bubbling in me and it wants to be useful.'

Therein lies a tragedy.

The Russell McLeans - the past productive tools of society have no local outlet for their remaining talents. The greater loss is society's.

Russell McLean, a man who for nearly half a century watched and lived history in the making as a reporter-editor-correspondent in our nation's capitol, is but one example.

Listen to him recall in clear, precise English his interviews with President Woodrow Wilson. Let him tell you of Wilson's emotional decision to carry this country into World War I.

Hear his recall of history, based on personal acquaintance, concerning the United States presidents succeeding Wilson. Listen to this man, who was a friend of Henry Ford (the first one), who lived in the home of Thomas Edison during a 10-day writing assignment, who worked for Joseph Pulitzer, who for a period was an associate of the late Roger Babson (whose column, now written by the Babson staff, continues weekly in this newspaper), and who in a semi-governmental capacity collaborated with the labor giant, Samuel Gompers, in promoting labor peace during a war.

Share with him his cherished memory of an interview with the junior law partner of President Abraham Lincoln.

And relive with him his reportorial assignments ranging from the Teapot Dome scandal to the Alger Hiss disclosure.

Unfortunately, few will be so fortunate.

He, like others, lives and eats and will die here in our own community without, perhaps, ever having the opportunity to share his wealth of experiences with a classroom of history students or a clubroom of adults. Not because of any institutional locks but because a sophisticated society is still reluctant to accept those who walk to and from the doors of a mental institution.

Ironically, this man has more reason than most to be embittered by society that now shuns him. It was an attack by young thugs in mid-day in mid-town Grand Rapids who put him in the hospital.

But he is not bitter: "I've got no reason to feel sorry for myself. Afterall, all they (thugs) got was 90 cents. It could have been my life."

I met Russell McLean Sunday afternoon and I'm the richer for it. Maybe you can strike it rich someday, too.

Deposit Policy

To the Editor:

Much has been said regarding the school book deposit, but I would like to add my comments.

I have two complaints. The first is regarding the payment of a damage deposit: I feel no one should pay if EVERYONE idoesn't have to topayo Many families are taking a "free" ride while parents like myself pay their way. If the school can't force payment from EVERYONE, they should not ask payment from anyone.

My other complaint is regarding the amount of the payment. I have two high school students. I have paid $25 for each one. I would like to make reference to Dr. Robinson's statement appearing in last week's Record - "The amount parents pay for the deposit will not be more than the price they would have paid for a new set of books."

Our oldest child received $14 worth of books for which we paid a $25 damage deposit. It happens the not cost more than $14 if he damaged or lost every one. While I was in the book store picking up my kid's books, I heard another parent complaining about paying a $25 damage deposit for $8 worth of books.

We receive $20 worth of books for our other students' $25 deposit. This child still has a book coming to her, however, which will bring the total of her books near $25. I still question the amount in her case because I wonder how many students lose or damage ALL their books.

I also wonder why I can't pay for them if and when they are damaged or lost. Why must I pay ahead of time for something that may never happen?

The school wants to deposit my money and earn the interest. I think they should realize that many of us are not in the same financial position they are and we could use our money in our own homes.

I already mentioned that our one child had a book coming yet. She is one of several students in her math class with no book. The teacher told her not to worry about it. Naturally, she's not worried. As a parent, I AM worried. She is not a real good student to begin with and she will be off to a poor start in math with no book. I would be upset about this under any circumstances but I am angry about it

Superintendent Raymond Spear earning a salary of $25,000. Mrs. Nichols maintained that Spear made a salary comparable to that of the superintendent in Farmington and "he has a district of more than 17,000 students while our district is small, only 3,200 students."

Dr. Robinson said he felt the salary was justified "if the man is doing the job and I believe he is."

Trustee Cook pointed out that the salary must be competitive and "we are competing in the same market for administrators as other school districts. The population of the district does not matter."

Cook pointed out that the percentage of administrative salaries represented in the total budget has "decreased each year and this is a calculated and positive direction in which we are moving."

He also cited the current building program in the district where more Spear said he did not take Mrs. Nichols' argument personally and "I think I earn every penny of my salary. And if I am not worth it, there are seven men on this board who have that decision to make.

"Comparing my job to that in Farmington, I have the same responsibility he has to uphold and enforce the same laws set down by the state," he said, "and I do not have nearly as much help in the central office as there is in Farmington. The larger the district, the more help a superintendent will get."

"because it believes settlements are best reached through careful study and negotiations between Faculty Forum and Board teams, than at mass meetings or through the media."

(A board advertisement, refuting teacher allegations, appears on page 14-A of this edition this week, however.)

Furthermore, the statement said: "A communication is being prepared for distribution to all members of the college community, further clarifying the board's position. It will be released to the press after it has been received by the staff."

According to spokesmen for the Faculty Forum and its negotiating team, so far as teachers are concerned a bonified agreement was reached by both sides, has been approved by teachers, and now awaits approval by a "retrenching" board of trustees.

A written agreement on settlement of basic issues, signed by the chairmen of both sides of the bargaining table, was read to the highly partisan audience. It noted that the proposed contract was to expire in August of 1971, meaning therefore a one-year agreement.

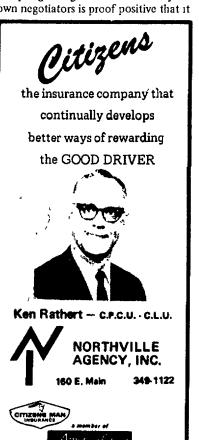

The mutually agreed upon expiration date was emphasized because the hangup now apparently is over a one-year versus a two-year contract, with the board holding out for the latter.

According to Secord, who was contacted after the meeting, there is no argument that the proposed agreement was for one year. It boils down to the fact that the board had instructed its negotiators to come up with a two-year agreement, he said. However, in view of the teachers adamant opposition, the board negotiators came back with a one-year proposal it hoped the board would accept. Three board members, however, refuse to budge and insist on a two-year agreement, he said.

Teachers contend that the board's team did not bargain in good faith in that their decisions were governed after-the-fact by the board.

Stuart Bloom, president of the Faculty Forum, charged the board with "foot-dragging" and "stalling tactics" almost from the beginning of negotiations nine months ago.

He said the board's action in not accepting an agreement reached by its own negotiators is proof positive that it

To the Editor:

After reading the letter to the editor last week by a Northville graduate concerning high school instructor and Coach Ben Lauber, we wish to submit our appreciation to the Northville Record for printing it and the high school graduate for writing it.

In our troubled times, such recognition is hard to come by. Ben Lauber is an outstanding instructor and leader of men and is a credit to the Northville Board of Education and school system. His contributions to the school through the athletic teams he coaches are well documented and publicly acclaimed. These accomplishments, however important, screen the tremendous influence he has upon hundreds of students through his counseling and honest approach to their problems. He treats each student with dignity and manages to find time to listen. This is a good man.

Through his efforts we can perhaps live up to the parable "It's Better to Build Boys than Mend Men."

Northville Colts Win, Lose and Draw

The Northville Colts won, lost and drew in their opener Friday night against the Westland Jets.

Action in varsity, junior varsity and freshman divisions saw a win, a loss and a tie, respectively, as youngsters from ages 9-12 battled it out on the Western Suburban Junior Football League gridiron.

The Colt varsity broke a final quarter tie when it ran the pigskin 25 years for its third touchdown and then made good on an extra point run to nip the Jets 20-13.

Westland lost no time in scoring it first TD - a 95-yard run at 8:53 of the first quarter - and then adding the extra point. The Colts bounced back with a TD of their own, but still trailed as the extra point run was frozen by the Jet defense. Before the end of the half, however, the Colts were in charge 13-7 on a 20 yard TD run. This time the extra point attempt was good. The Jets came back after five minutes in the third quarter with a TD run from the 50-yard line to tie the ball game and set the stage for Colt victory in the game's closing minutes.

The local junior varsity squad was less fortunate as the Jets piled up an early 20-0 lead. In the early minutes of the third quarter the Colts returned the kickoff in scoring their first and only touchdown.

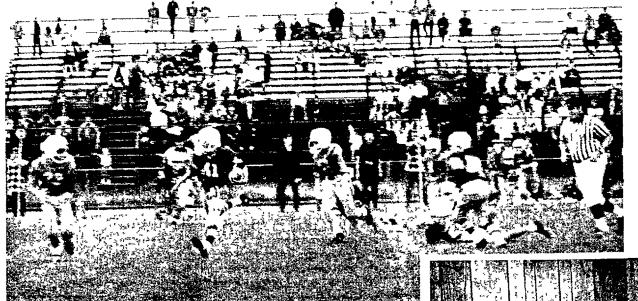

The remainder of the game was a stand-off offensively and defensively as the trailing Colts were able to contain the Jet offense but were unable to muster a successful attack of their own.

The only productive use of the airways during the entire three-game series was turned in by the freshmen Jets in a 15-yard play around right end that gave them a 6-0 lead.

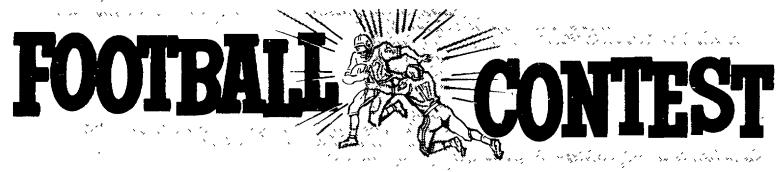

The Colts came back in the third quarter with a one yard plunge that tied the ballgame. The extra point attempt failed and the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

Next up: The Colts go against the Romulus Flyers Saturday at Northville

High School beginning at 5:30 p.m. Games are free and the public is invited to attend.

Mustangs Runners Take First

Missing a perfect score by two points, Northville streaked past Dearborn Crestwood in its cross-country opener Tuesday, taking first, second, third, fifth and sixth places.

The Mustangs piled up a 17-38 victory.

Crestwood finished fourth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth with their opening five runners.

Under Michigan High School Athletic Association rulings, cross-country is scored with one point given to each first, two to each second, and so on through a starting roster of five runners. Low team takes the meet.

Placing first for the Mustangs in the 2 1/2 mile race was Rick Bell at 14:32, followed in second and third by Dave Wright (15:07) and Guy Dixon

(15:12). Crestwood took fourth, with Rick

Hargis turning in a 15:21 time. Wayne Enders and Curt Sauer iced fifth and sixth for Northville with times of 15:31 and 15:44, respectively.

"We were real proud of the showing today," said Coach Ben Lauber, "especially because it was our first meet."

The Mustangs take on Plymouth at Cass Benton today.

"It'll be a good meet," said Lauber. "Northville and Plymouth always seem to give each other real fine competition."

Puppies Compete

The biggest Airedale match ever held in the state of Michigan, including 31 Airedale dogs, was held Sunday, August 30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Bemish, 43334 Seven Mile.

The match was the first to be sponsored by the newly AKC sanctioned Airedale Carrier Club of Southeastern Michigan. About 100 people attended to view the judging of puppies in different age categories by Robert Fisher of Almont.

Bodelm Challenger, the Bemish's five-month-old puppy, won first place in his age group.

Mustangs, Wildcats Brace for Openers

CALM BEFORE THE STORM — Co-Captain Scot Stuart, representing the Mustangs, expresses some pre-game friendliness with Plymouth Rock leader Ed Scott. The two teams meet in a grudge match tomorrow night with the traditional bell trophy riding on the outcome. Plymouth defeated the Mustangs last year, and Friday will be Northville's last chance to savor sweet revenge. See story on the history of Plymouth-Northville rivalry.

Classic Ends Tomorrow

Rocks Hold Wide Margin In Annual Grid Rivalry

A football rivalry that reportedly stretches back to the formulative years of Northville and Plymouth high schools will come to a close here tomorrow when the Mustangs and Rocks meet for what may be the last tittle!

"Next year's schedules will not permit continuation of the traditional season opening, non-league battles between these two clubs.

The Mustangs skip out of the Wayne-Oakland League with the close of the current season, and join a newly formed conference and the Rocks will remain with the enlarging Suburban Eight conference.

A new rivalry may be in the making. however, since Northville's new conference will include Plymouth's new second high school located at Joy and Canton Center roads.

While there appears to be no evidence of exactly how many times the two schools have met in football, one thing is clear: In the past 40 years Plymouth, by far, has dominated the action — winning 26 of the 33 times it has clashed with Northville in football.

The two teams did not play each other in 1951, 1945, 1944, 1943, 1942, and 1941. And in 1950 they, battled to a scoreless tie — the only tie, incidentally, since 1930.

Since 1952 when the traditional season opening clashes between the two teams began, Plymouth has won 13 of the 18 games. Previous to 1952, the two squads did not meet in the first game of the season.

victory was turned in by the Mustangs, who in 1965 clobbered the Rocks, 45-0. But, interestingly, Plymouth notched and identical winning score in 1935.

While Plymouth has dominated play since the two teams began meeting in the season opener, the scores were a good deal closer than they were earlier. Last year, for example, just two points separated them, with Plymouth taking the edge, 10-8. In 1968 it was

Swiss Joins Tigers' Winter Florida League

Doug Swiss of Northville will join 26 other prime prospects to represent The Detroit Tigers in the Florida Instructional League starting September 22, Director of Player Development Hoot Evers announced this past week.

Nine of the 27 saw service during the past season at Montgomery, the Tigers' second-place finisher in the Southern League and most of them also were on the 1969 championship team at Rocky Mount which is expected to be the core of a contender at Toledo in 1971.

The entire group will report to Manager Wayne Blackburn on September 21 for a week of drills before the Instructional League season opens.

The league schedule has been expanded from 40 games to 55 this year, ending November 20. Fourteen major league clubs are represented in the two divisions — nine in the North, based at St. Petersburg, Clearwater and Dunedin, and five in the South, based at Sarasota and Bradenton. The Detroit squad is based at Dunedin.

Swiss is one of three catchers on the roster. The others are Tim Hosley and Gene Lamont. Swiss, a Northville High School graduate, played at Lakeland this past season. He batted .196, accounting for 11 runs batted in and two home runs.

College Hosts Meet Saturday

The fifth annual Schoolcraft College cross country invitational for high school teams will be held this Saturday morning.

Eighteen teams including defending co-champions Garden City West and Farmington High have entered. The challengers are Bentley, Bishop Borgess, Clarenceville, Northville, Wayne Memorial, Edsel Ford, Dearborn, John Glenn, Redford Union, Stevenson, Thurston, North Farmington, Plymouth, Churchill, Franklin and Garden City East.

The meet, slated for a 10 a.m. start, will be contested over a hilly two-mile course in Cass Benton Park, located along Edward Hines Drive just south of Northville.

Northville by seven points, 20-13; in 1967 Plymouth by six points, 20-14; in 1966 Plymouth by six points, 18-12; and in both 1957 and 1956, it was Plymouth by one point, 13-12.

Perhaps the most heartbreaking Northville loss occurred in 1959 when the Rocks shutout the Mustangs 9-0, ending a 17-game Northville streak in league and non-league games.

Longest streak put together by either team in rival contests occurred in the 1930's when Plymouth shutout Northville five times and then added two split decision triumphs to make it seven straight.

A story appearing in the 1939 edition of this newspaper noted that "this great rivalry has been going on for 23 years. When they first started playing Northville won almost every game but in the last few years. Plymouth has had the upper hand. Northville started as a Class D school and Plymouth was Class C. Now Plymouth is Class A and Northville Class B."

In 1946, Northville, which earlier had played its games in Cass Benton Park, hosted a game that saw the dedication of Ford Field. With a boost from the Exchange Club, the Northville Village Commission had obtained property rights from the Ford Motor Company and the Ford Field recreational facility became a reality. Some 3,500 people attended the game and the dedication ceremony.

The following year (1947) during the game between the two clubs, the newly installed lights at the Plymouth field were dedicated.

Rocks, Eagles First Up

Plenty of rugged action is on tap tomorrow night as both Northville and Novi launch their 1970 football seasons by tuning up in non-league openers.

Northville travels to Plymouth for its tradition-ending battle with the Rocks, while Novi takes to the road in their clash with the Eagles of Hartland.

(See related story on the history of the Northville-Plymouth rivalry).

Coaches of both the Mustangs and the Rocks had their hopes and fears crystalized in pre-season scrimmages last Saturday. And each squad, as a consequence, crammed in last-minute corrective drills this week.

Northville Coach Alex Klukach smiles ruefully and says of his scrimmage with Pontiac Catholic: "Our blocking and tackling were not as I'd hoped but the backfield looked better than early indications."

Plymouth has scrimmaged Ann Arbor Pioneer, Jackson Parkside, and Port Huron Northern — "no pushovers" in the words of Rocks Coach Tom Moshimer — and coach's resulting observation leaned toward the positive.

"I was pleased with our over-all show," said Moshimer. "We've improved a lot in the last week on technique but beyond our first lineup we don't have much depth."

That first lineup includes battlers like Greg LaMirand, a 6'1", 175-pound senior quarterback who was converted this year from halfback, Dan Chopp, and Rob Blackmore. Chopp at 5'9" and 160 pounds is playing his second varsity year, and Blackmore, a senior, is a converted center. Both will play halfback positions tomorrow.

"They're pretty good ballplayers," said Moshimer, "and we're looking for good things from them."

Klukach's biggest proglem against Plymouth, as things look now, will be his line. "As far as I can see," said the coach, "we did the right things The Northuille Record/11 NOVI NEWS

Saturday but our execution was bad."

Working with average weight — offensively and defensively — of 190 to 195 pounds, Klukach's defensive hopes are pinned on Jack Murtha, a 6', 190-pound end who will play defensive end Friday.

Other offensive linemen for the Mustangs are Steve Knapp (5'11", 190) at center, Doug Boor and Charles Cook (5'11", 180 and 6'4", 205) at guard, John Coleman and Rick Ruland (6'4", 205 and 6', 205) at tackle and John Crane (6',175) at the other end.

In the backfield, Klukach has Steve Utley at quarterback with Rick Sechler and Scot Stuart at the halfs.

"I think we'll be able to run both ways," he said, "If Utley developes his arm we have receivers waiting for him." Utley, however, had some trouble making connections in Saturday's scrimmage, the coach noted.

"Generally, Utley had some good spots but he had trouble hitting his receivers. He was up and down all morning.

"But I think our line is going to be our biggest problem. They weren't working Saturday and we've got to get that out of them."

Novi will be looking for its second victory in three years over Hartland tomorrow. Last year the Wildcats turned in a 32-14 triumph.

In view of last year's showing, Coach John Osborne looks forward "with some hope of success" in the opener.

Some of that hope is pinned to his defensive line. "We're pleased with them, but we're having a hard time getting the offensive team going," he

Following last week's scrimmage with Farmington Harrison, Osborne described his backfield this way: "We're playing some pretty young kids back there and we're just not sure yet how they're going to react to the game. The kids are young and as a whole lack speed and size."

Novi will start Steve Bosak (5'8", 150) at a 'cornerback' position described by the coach as a 'monster man' slot. "The monster man," he explained, "is a moveable position. You can switch him between the line and the backfield. We hope for some productive combinations from Bosak and our halfbacks, Tom Boyer and Jim VanWagner.

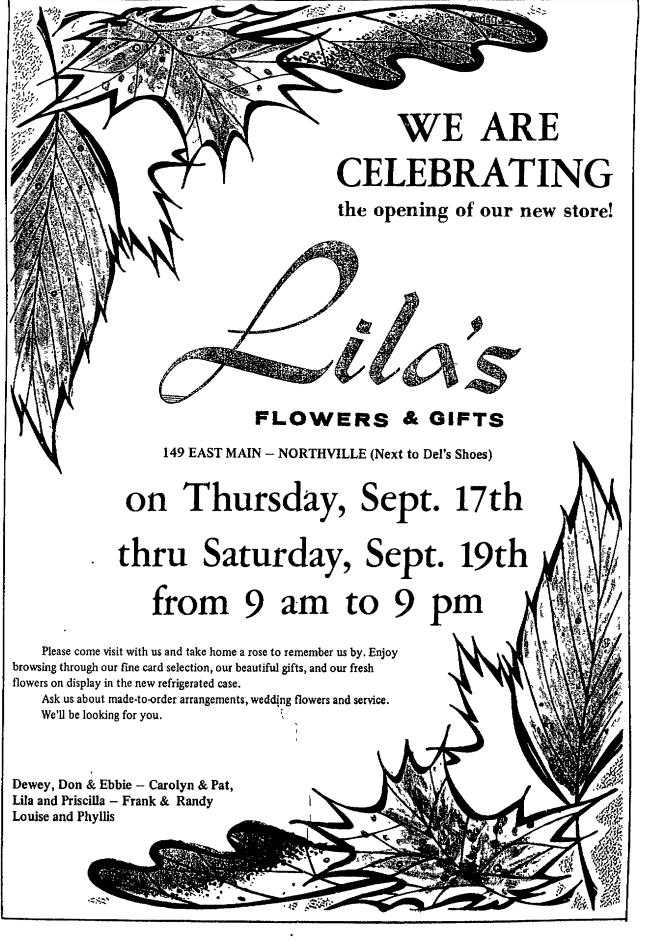

"Boyer (5'10", 150) is our second best blocker. He's not very heavy but he's tough. VanWagner, moved up from the junior varsity ranks, is expected to perform well as a varsity player.

Winning over Hartland will be tough, observed Osborne. "Jerry Cowan's always got a good team and he's usually hard to beat."

But Cowan looks at it a little differently, pointing to Novi's heavier players. "We'll probably be losing 25 pounds per man on the line, and we're going to have to make up for it with better shape and a lot of hustle. We'll need a lot of desire to win."

Osborne doesn't see much weight advantage. He's got Tom VanWagner and Joe Pelkola (5'8", 195 and 5'10", 166) at the guards; Bob Pisha and Steve Fear (6'3", 218 and 5'11", 166) at the tackles; Steve Pelchat and Bob Vivian (6', 145 and 6',161) at the ends; and Andy Bowman (6', 165) at center.

That figures out to be less than 175 pounds, he said. "It's light for a defensive line but they make up for it with a lot of speed, skill and guts."

GRAND OPENING - "Drop in sometime this weekend and pick up a rose to remember us by," says Dewey Gardner, manager of Lila's gift shop which celebrates the grand opening of its spanking new quarters tomorrow and Saturday. The new building, which features an attractive modern interior and a colonial exterior theme, adjoins Del's Shoes store and the two stores are connected by an open interior archway. The front of the new shop is designed to complement the design of the shoe store, forming a continuous single effect. Lila's, formerly located at 115 East Main, features wooden and wrought-iron works imported from Spain, glass from Sweden and Finland, hand-made silk flowers from Germany, and dried floral arrangements from Italy. A wide selection of domestic gifts are featured, too – everything from cards to reading lamps.

Northville Composer's Music Gets Hearing

A new composition with music by Northville composer, Charlene W. Slabey, and lyrics by June Rado of Farmington received its first hearing on September 16.

Entitled "The Green World", the tone poem for solo voice and piano set the theme for the year's programs at the Farmington Musicale's Guest Salad Luncheon which was held in the Farmington Community Center.

The new piece, commissioned by the Farmington Musicale's Program Committee, was composed during the past summer. It was sung by Merva Mackin, contralto, whose accompanist was Marie Walck. Mesdames Slabey, Rado, Mackin and Walck are all members of the Farmington Musicale.

The program also featured a performance by Jerra Gorrell, a senior at North Farmington High School, winner of the Musicale's 1970 scholarship for piano.

The Farmington Musicale, now in its fifth year, is an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Drawing its membership from Farmington and nearby communities, the club welcomes inquiries from those who enjoy performing or listening to good music, and invites them to call Mrs. James Skillman, membership accounts will be established for the deposits and for the interest accrued to the funds, trustees noted.

Many Refuse to Pay Deposit

Though not attending Monday's meeting, Trustee Glenn Deibert told this newspaper that the sections of the school code cited by the administration as giving the district the right to handle damage deposits "do not, in fact, apply to such funds.

"In my opinion, any fund established and the handling of it is faulty in the beginning and in fact seems to suggest, therefore, the policy as established August 24 is faulty, since there is no provision for handling the deposits once collected.

"The absence of such provision tends to support my view that the policy voids the intent of the free education ruling by the State Supreme Court," Deibert concluded.

Administrators maintained that after conferring with the district's attorney, the establishment of the separate accounting system is legal.

Levitt Vote Set

Although the latest zoning change was less than the company had requested, it satisfied topographical and marketing problems outlined by the company.

Specifically, the new zoning changes the number of single-family detached homes from 350 to 127 and increases the number of townhouses from 914 to 1,306. Apartment units remain at 400.

Register To Vote

In cooperation with Northville city and township clerks, Northville Jaycees will conduct a "registration drive" soon to "get out the vote" for the November election.

"It's a way," explained Jaycee 🖁 Dennis Dildy, "that our organization can render a community service."

Registration will be conducted $ at the Convenient Mart and the Kroger store in the city of Northville and in the Kings Mill clubhouse in the township.

Dates and times are: Saturday, September 19 and 3 26 and October 3, from 11 a.m. to 8 3 p.m. and on Friday, September 25 and October 2 from 7 to 9 p.m. V armonina a

In defense of the new plan Adler points out that the townhouse units are not "rentals", but $24,000 to $29,000 homes that must be purchased. Plans call for 5 to 8 townhouse units per building and three such buildings in a complex. Total density of the parcel was increased from 4 units per acre to 4.4, which Adler notes is far below township density limits. He also points out that some 25 percent of the area is open space-83 acres of lakes, 10-acre school'site, 10-acre beach area, etc.

And the company spokesman emphasized that the new plan would produce $120,000 more in school tax revenues with some 278 fewer children.

The latest plan was recommended by the township planning commission and approved by the township board by a 3-2 vote with Trustees Richard Mitchell and William Smith dissenting.

The Northiille Recard/111 NOVI NEWS

THE SOUTH LYON HERALD

Wed.-Thurs., September 16-17, 1970

For me, as for many others, WWII is a well-known war that happened "back then". There is a certain unreality to it all, which no history book or personal account can mold into human dimension.

Last week on television, CBC to be exact, a chapter of WWII came closer to reality for me the German invasion of Poland. It was a documentary on the blitz of Poland, put together with German, Polish and Czechoslovakia film strips, a rare behind-the-scenes view.

Called the "most concentrated and ferocious assault in history", the Nazi blitzkrieg of Warsaw took a startling toll, the narrator said. Then came the long list of casualties.

Six million Poles dead.

One million, three hundred thousand Poles killed in Warsaw alone. Twenty-two thousand buildings destroyed, 31 tram lines, two bus lines, 15 theatres and two cabarets. Warsaw was reduced to rubble.

Those are the statistics which have a calculated shock effect. But because they are statistics, they are devoid of emotion, devoid of human dimension.

The film strip's were what was extraordinary. Warsaw was shown before the blitz on September 1, 1939. It was a large, proud city inhabited by peace-loving people, who were shown going about their everyday activities.

The Germans were shown, too, preparing for war, training its young for the fatherland. Czekoslovakians also got on film, and like their Polish neighbors, went peacefully about their business.

The Czechs and Polish, at least on the diplomatic level, were aware what was happening in Germany, the narrator informs us. Yet war for them was a thing unlived and therefore unreal. Germany was a threat but a distant threat, despite the fact that Germany borders both countries.

When a Nazi invasion was imminent, the Poles took preparatory steps. School children bought guns and cannons for the Polish army; Poland's fine cavalry went on maneuvers, just in case.

When the invasion came, it was strictly no contest. The mechanized German army ripped through the Polish country side with virtually no opposition. The people-fled to Warsaw, as if it was a heavenly citadel that somehow would fend off the German onslaught.

With the Germans sweeping the countryside, the newspapers still said Poland would win. The Nazi conquests were ignored by the press, and the people remained lulled into "false hopes".

The pulverizing of Warsaw then began. Every building was destroyed. Round after round after round of German aftillery fire is shown, as are tons of bombs dropped on the city. Finally, on September 29, the Poles surrender, a shattered nation.

What one immediately realizes is that if the Poles could be lulled into thinking they could win the war, even when the war was on, what was the attitude in America at the time? Obviously, security in isolation.

Those First-Day Shakes Grip New Teachers, Not Just Kids

That first day of school is an emotional one for the five-year-old entering kindergarten. And it's a little frightening for the student entering junior or senior high school.

But consider the apprehensive excitement of the new teacher who faces his or her first classroom of students. It's a "big day" they'll not soon forget.

"After the first day, I know I have a big job ahead of me for the next nine months," said Mrs. Judith Coutts, new first grade teacher at Northville's Main Street Elementary School.

She was tired and her feet hurt.

But "it was a good kind of tired," she smiled, "and I felt good about the day" even though she felt "lost" and saw a need for "better organization."

Similarly, Gary Kelly, new junior high geography-history teacher at Novi, "was pretty scared the first day and I thought some of my ideas were too

"Knowing that you are responsible for the education of students (135 in his classes)" is a sobering realization, he said. "It's a bit | frightening because there's no one to blame for mustakes ; but yourself."

Just as important to the new teacher is that first impression made on youngsters, he explained.

Is he a pushover? Is he super critical? Can he control us? Those are some of the obvious questions the new teacher answers indirectly by the way he conducts his first classes.

For Mrs. Kathy Wandzek, sixth grade social studies teacher at the Brighton Middle School, her first days - and the succeeding days, for that matter - were surprising.

"I expected chaos," she said, "I really expected not to be able to get anything done. When I was in the sixth grade, teachers never got anything

So what happened? "I found they were really quick to grasp things," she chirped. "The kids are really so much smarter than I thought they would be. They're very aware of everything going

She's had no trouble with the kids, the 120 which she teaches in four social studies classes. Much of the success she's had she attributes to "the tight ship" her principal, Bob Scranton,

The students don't have time to fool around. Nobody goes out of the classroom once the doors are closed, except in emergencies. The children have only three minutes in which to get to their next class.

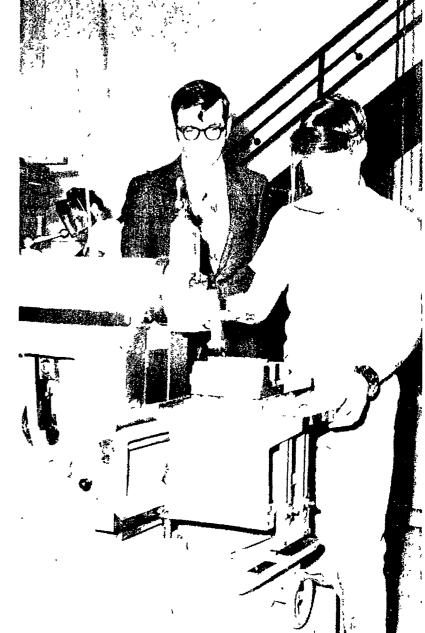

Kathy says her youth - she's 22 also has helped her to avoid any initial discipline problems, that and a stern hand with which he approached her

When the children come in, she stated, they sit down immediately. They must sharpen their pencils in the first three minutes, and they must ask permission to leave their seats.

"They've accepted me," said Kathy. "Since I'm young I think they feel I'm aware of what's going on." Is she going to let up on discipline? "I don't think so," she replied.

The success Kathy has had in the first 10 days perhaps aren't unusual, but in one sense, at least, it is. She recently received her degree in special education for the mentally retarded from the University of Michigan. But

Pastor's Study

What's in It for Me?

Rev. Robert A. Mitchinson New Hudson United Methodist Church

Time and time again when you confront people with a challenge, especially the Christian challenge, they seem to be asking, "What's in it for me?" Interestingly enough, Peter once asked Jesus the same kind of question following his confrontation with the rich young ruler. In Mark's Gospel, Peter says to Jesus, "We have left everything and followed you." (10:28) To which the writer of Matthew's Gospel adds, "What then shall we have?" (19:27) This certainly is a very human question.

To begin with, the life to which a Christian is called is difficult. In fact, s Jesus never promised that the way & would be easy. To meet the challenge 1 of Christianity brings its own reward. One might suggest then that too often Christian people and others outside the fellowship fail to attain satisfaction in life because of failure to meet challenge. We allow ourselves to be only partially committed. We might dare to say that this might be the reason that Christian people sometimes become less impressed by the Christian life. One will often hear people remark that the Church doesn't mean much any more as far as they are concerned. Recently I read where a church member was reported to have said, "I seem to have reached a plateau in my religious life. I've stopped making progress, and, what's worse, it doesn't really bother me very much."

What's in it for me? Could it be that concern for self has robbed a great many of a unique experience? One of the characteristics of the age in which we are living is the preoccupation with what can be gained rather than what can be given. This is to be seen in our reluctance to give of our time so as to meaningfully share the love of God with others. This causes us to treat people around us, even our loved ones, as things rather than persons. To quote Lance Webb, "We must have something more than a care for cars or cats, an affection for dogs, or even a neighborly feeling for people." Not only are we reluctant to give our time to others but we cling tenaciously to our material resources even in the face of crying human need. Could such selfish living be the reason we are so often empty and powerless.

What's in it for me? A way of life that uses up everything that a man has and is. It gives an individual something to live for by giving the whole of life as Jesus gave to transforming a selfish world into a kingdom of love.

talking it over

Some of the key moments in our education are those times when we discussed with someone older the interesting things we

But, to speak frankly about religious education today, one of the serious handicaps facing boys and girls who are sent (not brought) to church is that they have little opportunity to "talk

Moral and spiritual growth is nurtured by family discussion of the truths taught in classroom and pulpit But this presumes that parents and children together are sharing the experiences of worshipping God and studying the Christian Faith. Candidly, too, it presumes that the parents will be the pace-setters advanced enough in their own religious growth to answer simple, urgent questions

It was always fun to tell "Sis" what we had learned at school. But, remember, it was Dad and Mother we counted on when we couldn't find the answers!

For your children's sake - and your own - attend church regularly.

LANSING - Some experts on pollution feel the recent furor over mercury pollution is just the beginning of a major problem.

State Health Director Dr. Maurice Reizen sums up their feelings with the statement: "I think we've only seen the tip of the iceberg with chemical pollution."

"How many other poisons such as cyanide and arsenic are floating around in the water?" he asks. "Who knows?"

"One thing is certain. We cannot become complacent about this problem. It's a very real threat."

EVEN IF NO more pollution similar to the mercury contamination were discovered, it still would take years to clean up the situation.

Officials say they don't have enough information on the subject to make concrete predictions.

"The best we can do is draw upon the experience in other states and countries," says William Turney, assistant chief engineer in the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

"In Sweden, for example, some biologists believe it may be tens of years before their inland lakes clear up."

TURNEY DOUBTS, however, that it will take that long to clear up the mercury pollution in Lakes St. Clair, Huron and Erie and the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers.

The main reason is that Michigan's contaminated waters are fed and emptied by a large river system. "This flushing action will act in favor of helping the problem," he said.
Gov. William G. Milliken has said the ban on eating fish from the St. Clair area may go on "for years and years and years? because of the pollutant's

MERCURY has a long life inside the human body, or other living creatures once it is taken into the system.

The metal has a half life of 70 days. This means the body expels half the mercury in it in a 70 day period. In the next 70 day period it expels half the remaining mercury, and so on.

As a result, the body never gets completely rid of it and any person on a steady diet of mercury continually is building up the amount of it in his body.

Mercury has a slow, but deadly, effect if it is built up to too high a dosage. It destroys brain cells one by one. Early symptoms involve fatigue and loss of memory. If carried far enough, the condition, known as Minimata Disease, produces a human vegetable who eventually ignored. At such times, management of one's portfolio requires careful adherence to a sound investment program.

The main function of portfolio management is to guide an investor toward a desired objective. A prerequisite, therefore, is selection of a goal best suited to the investor's personal situation. Choice must be predicated upon many factors, such as age, family circumstances, health, income, and personal temperament.

A person who is retired and must have some investment income to supplement social security, annuity and pension payments, should seek the highest current yield commensurate with the continuity of such income and the safety of investment capital. But for the investor whose earning power is still rising, emphasis should be on capital growth since the income is not needed for normal living requirements. With the aid of a sensible family budget, investors in this category can generate some new investment capital each HAVING SELECTED one of the two aforementioned goals or one somewhere in between make your investment commitments in line with your objective. It is always well, however, to remain flexible enough to contend with changes in business and financial conditions, and to weather unexpected domestic or international reverses. One aspect of this flexibility is maintenance of a backlog of investment reserves, including bank deposits and good-quality bonds. These can be used to make new commitments in depressed or undervalued securities, and they serve as a tranquilizer for jangled nerves in times of stress.

The balance of one's investment portfolio may be devoted to convertible securities and common stocks. This segment should be protected by diversification, as to industry and geographical region.

WITH BOTH the bond market and the stock market still not too far from their recent cyclical lows, the investor can advantageously implement his investment policy. The reserve sections of an investment account may still reap generous current investment returns from high-quality bonds and preferred stocks.

And, despite the stock market's advance since late May. there are still many attractively priced convertible securities and common stocks of well-established and financially sound industry leaders. The frightful pummeling suffered by the glamor issues of the past bull market has also uncovered attractive buys for investors who can undertake the risk of possible further temporary slippage.

FOR THE INCOMEoriented, the Tennessee Valley Authority 8 3/4s of 1975, the Texaco 5 3/4s of 1997, and the Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania 8 5/8s of 2006 are buys among bonds. Aluminum Company of America $3.75 Cumulative Preferred and General Motors $5 Cumulative Preferred are also suitable for safety and continuity of income, with a measure of capital appreciation potential when money rates ease further.

In the realm of convertible securities, the Florida Gas debentures 4 3/4s of 1987, the Ralston Purina debentures 4 7/8s of 1992, and the Tenneco Inc. $5.50 Convertible Preference stock are worth considering.

"I think I've got about 80-percent less disciplinary problems now than I had when I did my student teaching here," explained Kelly. "I'm in authority now and the kids know they have me to answer to and not a critic

"I feel I've got a social responsibility as well as an academic one. If we don't help them now we'll have trouble later. There are too many classes where kids sleep with their eyes open.'

Students in Kelly's classes seem pleasantly surprised when he informs them they are to have a voice in the grades they will receive.

"I'm giving the kids at least a chance to do something about their grades. Afterall, kids know more about what they've learned than anyone else. They'll submit to me at the end of the semester a slip of paper saying what they think they deserve and I'll match it with what I think they deserve."

For Dave Miller, new metal shop teacher at South Lyon, the switch from Over 1,417,610 visitors used Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks in August of 1970 compared to 1,432,255 in August of 1969, which was a decline of about 14,645 visitors for the month.

David O. Laidlaw, Authority director, noted that in August of 1969 three of the four major parks of the Authority had record attendance due to "month-long" hot weather.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson had 352,000 visitors, a drop of 68,600 visitors from the "record high" of 420,600 persons coming to the park in August of 1969.

industry to the classroom is a "momenteous" one. "There's so much difference." he explained. "in industr you're so restricted, and it just wasn't as satisfying for me." "Finding so many kids graduating from high school who were not prepared for anything," Miller spent some time helping in the apprentice program and enjoyed it so much, "I decided to go into teaching. Working a regular shift while attending Henry Ford Community

College and Wayne State University, he degree and thus was able to complete his college education in four years of night school. With some past working experience under his belt - even though it was not in a classroom made his first-day initiation more natural and perhaps less : frightening than it may have for others. To help youngsters make an intelligent choice in their vocation is an exciting, meaningful experience, he said. "How many men are really in an occupation because they really want to be? So many just drift into something. With shop courses boys can find out if they really hate welding, for example, before taking a job in industry.'

Just as Miller experienced a big difference between the classroom and industry, so, too, Mrs. Coutts quickly felt a "big difference" between practice teaching and the real thing. "It's going to make the year a big responsibility,' she said. "While practice teaching there was always someone else in charge and I could rely on others."

Some experience with children should help, too, she said. She has four children of her own - in grades 4, 5,

What with getting her own children ready for their first-day return to school and her own preparations for her first day as a regular teacher, "things were a bit hectic around the house in the morning."

Practice teaching in the Main Street third grade last year also proved beneficial, she said. It helped to know some of the other teachers beforehand, "and they were all helpful."

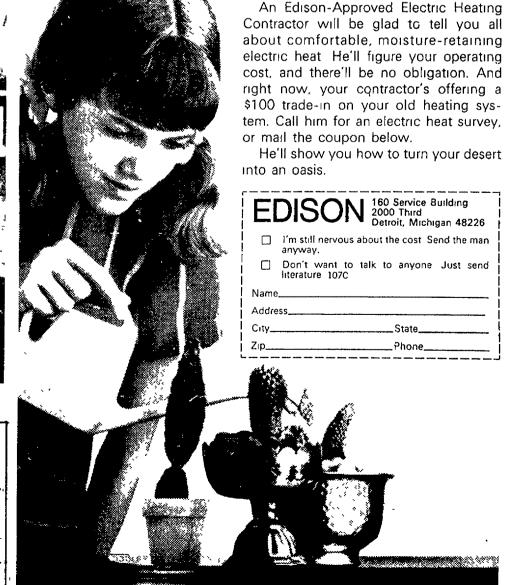

Spending much of her first day teaching youngsters the color "red", Mrs. Coufts found pupils as uneasy as herself. "They couldn't get used to the fact that they are in school for a whole day (having moved from half-day kindergarten classes). From 10 a.m. on they kept asking how much longer until they could go home."

Dear Sally Saddle,

As an avid reader of your column, I want to thank you for your sensible and easy to follow advice and the interesting "horse-centered" anecdotes you often include.

I wonder if you would offer some specific suggestions for me and other "senior citizens" who have a desire to enjoy the world of horsemanship, on how we may build our confidence when mounted without fraying our aging nerves and fracturing bones no longer limber.

I sure would appreciate a boost in the courage. (signed) Old Gray Mare

 Dear Old Gray Mare:

Thank you for your letter and here are a few helpful hints for relaxed horsemanship.

The first step is getting a horse, try to choose an animal that is quiet and gentle. If you already have the animal, then of course you would work with that one. Spend a lot of time working this horse from the ground, until both of you know each other very well. This work should be done in the form of grooming and work on the lunge line, so that the animal will begin taking his commands from you.

When the horse will stand still, back-up, walk, trot, canter and reverse on the lunge line with reasonable obedience, then we may move to the second step, riding.

At the beginning, do this only in familiar surroundings, (in a medium-sized ring) and keep it down to a walk, halt, walk, etc., until you feel relaxed and secure. (This could take anywhere from three hours to a month). When you feel you have control over the horse at the walk, then you can start some trotting with more walking, halting and more trotting.

Don't try the canter or trail CAPTAIN KIDD'S riding until you feel perfectly at ease with the horse, while Assorted Drinks. 19 doing all gaits in the medium-sized work area.

Some riding instruction, with you riding your own horse, from a qualified horseman would be most helpful.

Good luck and I hope you have many happy hours in the saddle.

Streaky Flash, owned by Fred Knorn of South Lyon, Fred Knorn of South Lyon, recently compiled sufficient points to obtain his AQHA Champion status Included in his winnings were: second in DOZ western riding at Guelph, Ontario; first in reining and second in halter at Hartford, Michigan; fourth in western riding at Dresden, Ontario and third in halter at the Michigan State Fair.

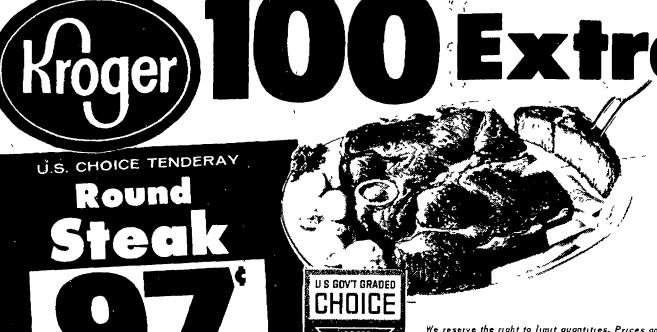

Streaky has earned enough ribbons and points to make him, to date, number four in the state in his class. He will be shown at the Quarter Horse Congress in Columbus, Ohio in October and at the Chicago International Horse Show in December.

Linda Lovgre of Dixboro, an up and coming dressage rider in the middlewest, won the Midwest Dressage Medal and the Sash for being the leading rider of the Bloomfield Open Hunt's Summer Horse Show recently. She was astride her chestnut Quarter Horse mare, "Love Pat."

At the same show Velta Baumanis of Ann Arbor rode her white gelding "Sniega Putenis" to first place awards in second level, test one open and third level, test one open.

Complete sketches, coaches' comments on all area teams

According to League Coaches

Andover Favored to Repeat

Bloomfield Andover and West Bloomfield ought to top the Wayne Oakland Conference League this year at least that's the consensus among the league's coaches.

Most coaches predicted that Clarenceville and Kettering might be up there, too.

Alex Klukach, Northville's coach, had no doubts about Andover's strength: "They've always been tough and they've got a lot of returning talent, they'll unquestionably be tough to deal with."

What about Northville's team?

Klukach said that the defensive team would be the strong point. "We've got a lot of experience there and we shouldn't have any problems."

But the backfield might lack punch in the coach's opinion. The backfield has been weakened by departing seniors, so most of the Mustang hopes ride with a 6'2" senior named Bernie Bach who has been moved from tight end into the fullback slot.

Brighton's second year coach, Keith Anderson, agrees with Klukach's choice of Andover: "They've got a fine team and will be pretty strong."

Anderson also said that West Bloomfield will be fighting it out, with Milford being a darkhorse in the race.

The Bulldog future holds more hope than in the years past; but, as Anderson said, "We're going to be inexperienced but if the kids learn fast we might be in there."

A light turnout plagues the Bulldogs as they face the season with some where near 25 varsity gridders.

Robert Kesgen, the coach of favored Andover, says that his team is in better shape at this point than "we ever have been in the past," which doesn't sound good for the rest of the league considering Andover's power last year.

As most coaches tend to do, Kesgen emphasized his team's inexperience; but John Whitty, Bob Reed, Marshall Neal and Rollie Barrett will bring back their considerable experience to the Andover attack this Surprisingly, the coach at West Bloomfield, Art Paddy, didn't agree with the other coaches choice of his school as a contender.

"The coaches who say we'll be fighting it out with Andover must be out of their minds," he said.

Paddy said that his biggest player weighs only 205 and that only seven players returned. Of those seven only three have experience. The defense is West Bloomfield's strongest point, but, Paddy carefully added, "we lost all our linebackers."

Summing up his own team, Paddy said, "We're small, slow and green."

He picked Andover as the strongest team.

Clarenceville's coach fails to share the optimism for his team that the other coaches expressed.

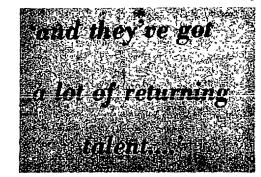

The coach, Ralph Weddle, classed his team in the "rebuilding stage." He said they'd lost almost all the power they had last year.

In a distinct tone of understatement Weddle said, "We're going to field a ball club, but about being a contender, I don't know."

When asked about the toughest teams in the league, Weddle followed the familar refrain: "Andover should be favored to take it again, but West Bloomfield ought to give them a run for the money."

Clarkston's Paul Rakow agreed with the other coaches about the league leaders and said that the backfield was the main strength of his team.

Even with eighteen returners, Rakow says that Clarkston is inexperienced in the offensive and defensive line. The weight average of the line is about 185 pounds.

The coach of Anderson's dark horse choice, Jerry Ganzel, called his team "fair - light but quick." Most of Milford's hopes rest with their quarterback, Mike Monnier, who is, according to Ganzel, "a good ball carrier and faker but just a fair passer."

He also pinned some of Milford's future success on Davey Parks, a 165 pound junior guard. Based on his performances last year, Parks ought to be a big help not only on offense but also on the defensive squad where he serves as a linebacker, Ganzel said.

2nd Dream Team To Climax Season Another select team of outstanding area football athletes will be named at the conclusion of the 1970 season, Jack Hoffman, assistant to the publisher, has announced. Players will be picked from seven high schools within the circulation area of the weekly chain of Sliger newspapers in Northville, Novi, South Lyon and Brighton. Final selection will be made by staffers of these newspapers, with nominations by the coaches. The high school teams include Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Brighton, Whitmore Lake, Hartland, and Pinckney. Honored players will receive medals commemorating their selection. In addition to these second annual Sliger Newspapers' Football Selections, a traveling team-of-the year trophy also will be presented to the individual school which is considered to have had the best season. Also, the group of community newspapers will honor a Football Coach-of-the-Year based on his contributions to his school and community. Last year the Lions of South Lyon walked off with the giant team trophy, finishing the season with a 6-3 record in the rugged Southeastern Conference. In addition, the Lions dominated the individual all-area selections, placing five players on the dream team, and Lion Coach Bob Keezer was giant team trophy, finishing the season with a 6-3 record in the rugged Southeastern Conference. In addition, the Lions dominated the individual all-area selections, placing five players on the dream team, and Lion Coach Bob Keezer was named the Coach-of-the-Year.

The 1969 selections included four junior classmen and 12 seniors from four schools. They and their schools were: Dave Perkins, Tim Cash, Glenn Wiseman, Dave Brandon, and Dave Willacker of South Lyon; Bernie Bach, Fred Holdsworth, Brian Myers, and David Coe of Northville; Tom Van Wagner, Tom Boyer, John Davey, and Rick Hill of Novi; and Marvin Tyler, Tom Bowditch, and Skip Pless of Brighton.

This year, as last, the number of selections made will be in proportion to the crop of exceptionally-talented players. Thus, the number could range from 11 to 22 players.

"We are pleased to continue this program of honoring outstanding athletes," said Hoffman. "Some receive fine recognition in other ways such as through all-league, and daily media selections, but we believe young men especially appreciate the local area honors that come their way.

"Selection by reporters and photographers who regularly attend and write about local games has special meaning."

Sliger newspapers include the Northville Record, Novi News, South Lyon Herald and the Brighton Argus.

Chelsea Picked To Win SE Again

There's little doubt among those who should know, namely the coaches in the Southeastern Conference, about who will walk away with championship honors at the end of the season.

Chelsea, undefeated in six games last year, is expected to make a repeat performance.

Mervin Ward of Saline, Joe Smith of Milan, John Osborne of Novi, Bob Keezer of South Lyon and Elvin Ritt of Dexter said as much at any rate in talking about the relative chances of their schools.

Dexter was also expected to make a good showing and end up part of the Saline, with the fastest stable of backs (five) in the conference, was placed in a darkhorse role. "He's (new Coach Merv Ward of Saline) got them believing they can win it," said Elvin Ritt of Dexter.

Actually, whether it's because of caution being exercised by coaches, which is perfectly normal, or legitimate feeling, every team is given an even shot at the league crown.

But for teams other than Chelsea and Dexter, and possibly Lincoln and Saline, it will take a combination of luck, good health and some surprising new replacements to enable them to take the title. Such was the concensus of opinion from coaches who have been playing the league long enough to know the odds.

South Lyon, Dundee and Milan fall into this doubtful but still hopeful

Novi, stranger to the conference this year, is not given much hope despite what looks like a tough line and experience at quarterback.

Ask Saline head coach Mervin Ward who are the favorites and he'll reply Dexter and Chelsea. "Lincoln's got a pretty good chance too," he says. What about his team? "Well," he says, "we could be a darkhorse, but we need luck to stay away from injuries as well as replacements for two tackles who have graduated."

Joe Smith of Milan points to Chelsea as definitely the team to beat. "Look at their reserve record," said Smith, and Baréis hasn't lost that many men.

Local Leagues Follow Trend

Growth Areas Face League Shuffling

"There's been quite a lot of re-shuffling in the last few years. What happens is schools get out of balance. I expect this trend to continue."

With those words, Northville Athletic Director Bob Kucher stated what's happening to prep athletic leagues throughout the state, especially in metropolitan areas, where significant population shifts are taking place.

As more and more people move out of heavily populated areas to adjacent suburbs and even more distant rural regions, more and more schools are finding it necessary to search out other schools compatible in size and close enough to form natural rivalies.

As a result, new leagues will be formed, old ones will be abandoned and some leagues will undergo re-alignment as other teams are added or subtacted.

The Wayne-Oakland Conference is no exception. After the 1970-71 school year, Northville and Brighton will cut ties with the league they have been associated with since the 1950's.

Northville, together with Waterford Mott, Walled Lake Western, Livonia Churchill and Farmington Harrison, will form: a new league and begin competing against each other in 1971-72. Plymouth Canton won't join the league until the 1972-73 school year because of lagging construction.

Brighton will drop out of the W-O after this school year and compete as an independent during the 1971-72 sports seasons.

But the Bulldogs may not be independent long. An application for admittance to the Capital Circuit League is being given serious consideration and the Brighton Board of Education has endorsed the move to the Lansing-area conference.

Replacements for Lansing Gabriel and Lansing O'Rafferty, who consolidated to form Lansing Catholic Central, are being sought for the 1972-73 school year. For this school year, Lansing Catholic Central will fill what was Gabriel's spot in the league.

Teams that will remain in the Capital Circuit are Howell, Haslett, Holt, Eaton Rapids, Okemos and Brighton's application for entry to the Southeastern Conference, of which South Lyon and Novi are members, was politely rejected recently because of no vacancy. Presently there are eight teams in the league.

Clarenceville, which is about the same size as Northville with about 1,200 students, is known to be looking for affiliation with another league. Like Brighton, which has about 1,000 students, Clarenceville has been overmatched against the class A schools in the W-O having enrollments of 1,300 to 1,700 in grades 10 through 12.

Northville, Clarenceville and Drighton have grades nine through 12 in their high schools.

If Clarenceville should drop out of the W-O, it could force either re-alignment of the conference through admittance of other schools—or the W-O might be disbanded.

Competition between Northville, Clarence ille and Brighton won't cease with the conclusion of this season. Northville will continue to play these two teams in football in 1971, but Brighton will be scratched from Northville's schedule in 1972. That's when Plymouth Canton will join the new league.

Milford and Novi with Clarenceville, will remain on Northville's schedule through 1972. What happens after that, however, will depend on any new teams that may wish to enter the new league. If some are admitted, Northville would sever connections with Clarenceville, and or Milford, Kucher said.

With Novi growing by leaps and bounds, it's doubtful whether Northville will eliminate Novi as an opponent. What's more, "Novi, being a next door neighbor to Northville, is a natural rival, just as Plymouth is at the present time.

One observor predicted that Novi with its accelerated growth will soon grow to a class 'A' size school and thus will have out-grown other Southeastern Conference schools in about five years. That eventuality might force another shake-up of the Southeastern Conference.

Concensus: It's Chelsea Again

We're definitely a dark horse," Smith said. But added, "I'll be satisfied if we break over 500, since we lost both tackles through moving and one quit."

Smith has a veteran backfield returning, including Quarterbacks Larry Lemerand and Mark Schultz, Right Halfs Dennis Williams and Steve Ketola, Fullback Jeff Black and Left Halfbacks James Patterson and Bob Nobel.

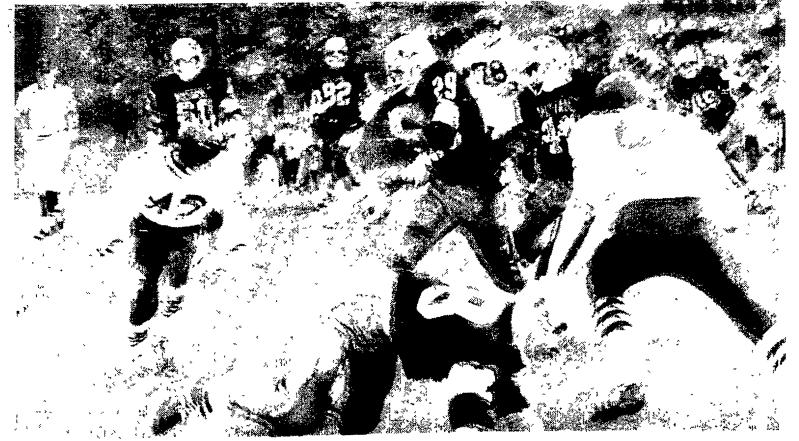

"Chelsea has had good jayvees for the last three years," said Dexter's Elvin Ritt, "Their varsity was undefeated and was tops in the state last year." About his own team Ritt noted the loss of Dan Arbour, the 6'4" all-state end. "We have a lot of veterans, particularly Greg Ianni who will be the key to our offense. He was a poised quarterback last year, and with practice and maturity we expect him to be better this year."

South Lyon mentor Bob Keezer called Bill Busch, Dundee's third year veteran senior, "the league's best running back," with Bruce Acuff, a junior from Lincoln, right behind him.

About the Lions, Keezer mentioned all Southeastern Conference man Glenn Wiseman and Pat Riordan at defensive end, he matched Riordan with captain Jim Goers as his best prospects for offensive guards, and named John Pfeffer as top defensive halfback and flanker.

"We've got a few holes," said Keezer, "our junior quarterback Jim McIntosh (6'4", 200) is untried. He has good credentials, but no backup. We've only got three running backs, an inexperienced receiving corps and no proven kicker."

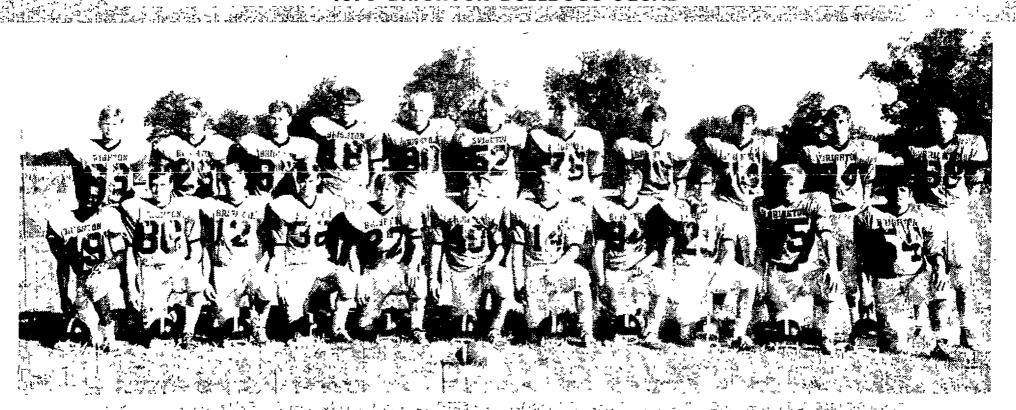

Keezer points to Chelsea, Dexter, Saline and Milan as strongest. "The league is better balanced than last year," he said, "the way it is now, two losses could qualify a team for at least a tie for the championship."

The Bulldogs, under second year Head Coach Keith Anderson, will be working to improve on its 1-8 record last season. Anderson has indicated that prospects look good for his squad which is undergoing a change of attitude with hopes of climbing up the ladder in the Wayne-Oakland Counties' League race.

Bulldogs Strive To Improve

The Bulldogs have their work cut out for them this season as they go into what will be their last season in the tough Wayne-Oakland Conference League with a team short on depth and experience.

Head Coach Keith Anderson, now in his second year, is optimistic. "We're going to be a better football team this year," he promised.

One of the reasons for Anderson's enthusiasm is Mike Shosey, a tight end that the coach "expects big things from." Shosey has good size, good hands and is a pretty good blocker in his coach's opinion and most probably will be used both ways.

Cass Scranton, who plays center and tackle, ought to deliver some power in the Bulldog line. Weighing in near 200 pounds, Scranton brings a year of varsity experience to this year's squad.

The Bulldogs have already suffered a slight setback when senior tackle Bruce Cox broke his hand in practice. Although he won't see action in the first game, there's hope that he'll return for the September 25 game a gainst West Bloomfield.

Other positions are wide open, according to Anderson, who said that the scrimmage held last Friday night will settle the line-up once all the information is tabulated.

The coach is impressed with the showing of the juniors on the squad w h o h a v e demonstrated such spirit and drive that many of them are now challenging the seniors for starting slots.

One of the nicest surprises for Brighton is the growth of Dennis Horal, a junior, into a sharp quarterback with the ability to get the team in motion.

Horal will supplement the already good quarterbacking of Bruce Ritter, who has moved up from a defensive position to try his hand at guiding the Bulldogs.

Dallas Sebold is vying with junior Tom Kearns for the slot back honors. Sebold picked up some experience as a member of last year's squad but will have to develop this season if he is to be really effective.

At the fullback position, the Bulldogs lack an experienced candidate, although Joe Wilkinson saw some action last year.

Bob McCann and Jim Mitchell are likely junior candidates for Wilkinson's job.

The tail back job has two juniors, Don Wilson and Bill Cully, and two seniors Neil Schulz and Dennis Dolbritt, vying for the starting honors.

The coach says it is still a toss-up. With all this manpower trying to get backfield work, there might be the impression that the Bulldogs have lots of depth. Not so, says Anderson.

The squad number nears 25 with most of the team having little or no varsity experience.

Anderson said that, due to the light turnout, each player is learning two positions and not just offense and defense, sometimes they learn two offensive positions.

Even with the manpower drought, Anderson feels better about this team than last year's.

One of the most important things to the coach is the speed of the young players and their desire which he hopes will be enough to surmount their lack of playing history.

The really heartening thing, the coach said, is the attitude of the players which might give Brighton a good chance to bring victory back to Brighton.

In South Lyon

At least eight South Lyon high grads are performing on college football teams this fall. Three are sophomores, while five freshmen are active as well.

One freshman, Dave Brandon, is preparing to step into Don Moorhead's shoes next year at Michigan. The 6' 3", 205 pounder has the passing, running and kicking ability to do just that in the future.

Sophomores Dave Penley and Larry Janes must overcome problems if they are to become Franklin College (Ind.) guards this fall. The two offensive threats have beaten out senior competition, now must overcome health troubles. Penley had his tonsils removed recently and Janes must lower his blood pressure.

Jim Riordan, a rugged running back at tough Southern independent Memphis State, is the other sophomore.

Brad Lloyd, a running back at SLHS, is being counted on as a defensive halfback at Hillsdale, where freshmen can play varsity ball.

Dave Perkins, tight end, has moved on to Wayne State where he is sure to be a welcome addition.

Tim and Tom Cash, twin tackle terrors for the Lions, could make fine guards for Michigan Tech.

In Brighton Area

A 1970 graduate of Brighton High School, Miles Vieau is out for freshman football at Olivet College.

While at Brighton, Vieau was a top wrestler and twice won his weight class in the Wayne-Oakland Conference. As a prep gridder, Vieau was a sturdy halfback at 5'8" and 150 pounds.

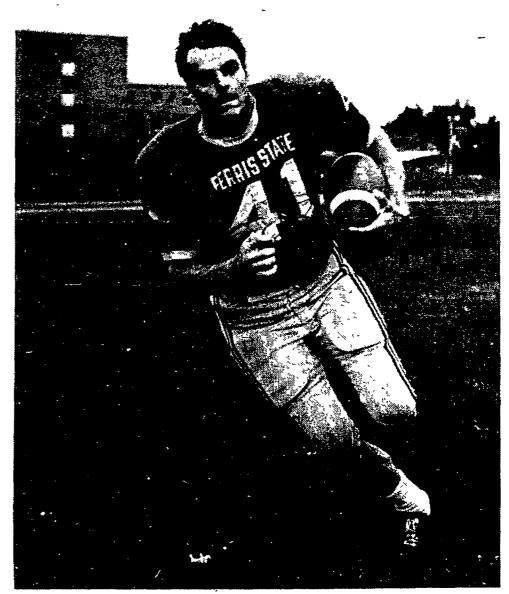

Small as far as football players go and especially college football, Skip Pless nevertheless is out for freshman football at little Hiedelburg College in Ohio. He's a gritty player who makes up in enthusiasm and courage what he lacks in size.

A 1969 graduate of Brighton High, Pless at 5'9" and 140 pounds was hardly big enough to play linebacker. Yet he did and spearheaded the Brighton defense by twice making the most solo tackles on the team. He gained all-county honors.

In Al Cone, Northwood Institute has a stocky back capable of taking as well as giving out punishment. At 180 pounds and measuring 5'8", Cone for the past two years has been Hartland's fullback and a linebacker on defense.

He also played basketball on the Hartland varsity that in Cone's senior year (1969) earned a share of the Suburban C Conference title.

A 1969 graduate from Pinckney High School, Nelson Haas is a former all-county, all-league offensive end and defensive linebacker who will be the starting tight end for Fort Dodge Junior College in Iowa. While at Pinckney, Haas helped the Pirates through the frustrating 1969 season that saw injuries spell doom for the team's hopes.

After playing tackle both offensively and defensively for the Pinckney Pirates in 1969, John Towsley is now a defensive end for Western Michigan's varsity squad. The sophomore Bronco hopes to move into a starting position with the experience that this year will bring.

In Northville

A Ferris junior this year at 6'1", 190 pounds, Mike Zayti will be looking for an improvement over his last seasonal record of 263 yards in 74 carries. Zayti earned Coach Bob Leach's "Player of the week" award last year before he was beset by injuries, and contributed often to Ferris's 5-4 record.

Zayti's total record is 712 yards for 191 attemps, and five touchdowns.

He will start as tailback against Wisconsin's Lakeland College in the Bulldogs opener Saturday.

A freshman at Hillsdale this year, Stan Nirider (6'2", 165) is slated to perform at safety when his team travels to Minnesota to battle Mankato State College in its opener Saturday.

Nirider spent time since his graduation in June, at Michigan State where he thought he was too small to play football and transferred.

"He has a lot of speed," said one source concerning Nirider, "and he makes up for his size with a love for the game."

Former Mustang quarterback, 6'1", 170 pound Rich Adams is finding college football more intense than the high school variety but he's attracting attention of coaches at Findlay.

Findlay Coach Byron Morgan has been putting his gridders through a tough schedule of two-a-days, followed by nightly meetings and conferences. Easing off a bit this week, the coach will switch practice to one-a-days in preparation for his opener with Waynesburg, Ohio Saturday.

"Adams is too tough to quit" said Morgan.

Adams, a freshman, is scheduled to perform at both quarterback and safety.

A sophomore guard this year for Western Michigan University, Fred Hicks starts his second season. At 6'3", the 215 pound former Northville tackle is expected to shine this year.

At Northville, Hicks played football, track, and wrestling, took two letters in each sport and clinched All-League honors in 1968 and 1969. He was named most valuable lineman in 1969.

Western opened its season last Saturday against Central at Mt. Pleasant.

Pirates Make Bid To Move Up

Coach Tom Wilson

Promises to Win

Tom Wilson, is now in his second year as coach of the Pinckney Pirates and he aims for improvement over last year's winless season.

"We'll win some ball games this year," he promised.

But Pinckney football still has a way to go to get out of a three year losing steak. The football program that Wilson is trying to build up demands time to train the younger players in the fundamentals of the game.

As a result, Wilson said, much of the pre-season practices have been devoted solely to basics. In future years, Wilson hopes that players coming up to the varsity will have the basic down so well that there will be more pre-season time to concentrate on building up plays.

This year, Wilson said, "The biggest thing we have going for us is that we're a team that has a fine attitude and that works together. We have terrific workers on the team, but they lack experience, and that can hurt."

Although the Pirates have 14 returning lettermen, Wilson is careful to point out that only four of these gridders have starting experience. And three of those four have only one year of experience.

These men will form the experienced core around which the coach hopes to build the Pirate power.

Senior Tom Shaner is expected to be the same solid center he was last year, while senior Ivan Deering will return with his experience at tackle.

Scott Towsley will again be what the coach calls an "up-back" which is something like a blocking full back. Steve Latimer ends the list of experienced ball players returning.

The strongest Pirate asset is their overall defense, says Wilson.

Junior Bill Bishop as monster man, Dave Beckman as a junior linebacker, Ivan Deering also at linebacker and Doug Faust will contribute much to the defensive effort, according to their coach.

He also said that two other juniors, Bill Beasley and Mark Milton, and a senior named George Marshall ought to be strong on defense.

As for the Pirate line, Wilson said it "has to improve as the season goes along." A football program in its developmental stages does not produce real strong linemen because that is the area least attractive to the players and it is the area which demands the most coaching time, Wilson said.

The line is also hurt by the fact that the Pirates are a very small team, averaging somewhere around 165. At least as far as the line goes, size is the name of the game.

The quarterback slot is still up for grabs as Bill Beasley and Bill Bishop are even for the starting slot. The coach considers Beasley the strongest man on the level of technical know-how but Bishop is slightly stronger at the passing aspect.

Looking over the prospects for this year, Wilson feels that the spirit of the team and their willingness to work will snap the Pirate winless streak and show improvement throughout the year.

HARTLAND'S BACKFIELD — Ready to protect their quarterback, Rick Hamway, from the terrors

"Interesting" Season Ahead

Youth Is Hartland's Hope

After predicting a good season last year and seeing his prediction's turn into a 5-4 season, Jerry Cowan, Hartland's head coach, is being careful this year.

"We're young, slow, inexperienced and small," Cowan said.

, while senior Ivan Deering will rn with his experience at tackle.

Scott Towsley will again be what that grim statement would indicate.

This season (termed "interesting" by the coach) ought to be better than that grim statement would indicate.

Some bad injuries and some bad luck kept the Eagles from reaching a high point last year and, though they've lost some players, Hartland should once again be a force in their league.

Two of the reasons for optimism are Rick Hamway and Rick Lanning, the team's co-captains. Both will make appearences in the backfield with Hamway quarterbacking the team and Lanning playing tailback. Cowan says,

"They're tremendous athletes."

A lineman who earned all-league honors in his sophomore year is now back as a junior. His name is Rick Perkins and promises to be "real, real tough," in the words of his coach.

And sophomore Joe Clark plays a good game of defense at the linebacker slot.

One problem that has cropped up is an injury to Bill Hamway, a sophomore, who had shown a lot of promise. By being out of action from four to six weeks, he will be missing some experience that could help him to develp into a strong player next year.

Cowan said that the Eagles had weak spots in guard and center positions and that he is counting on many of his younger players to fill out positions left vacant when last year's seniors moved up in the world.

But Hartland's youth and inexperience will surely turn into an asset, if not this year, then at least during next season.

A young team sometimes shows surprising spirit and manages to win games that they aren't expected to.

Even though Cowan seems to discount his team this year the youth guarantees that Hartland will remain a football power in their league for some years to come.

Inexperience Hurts Trojans' Upswing

The Trojans of Whitmore Lake face a problem familiar to many area high schools — rebuilding.

Phil Davidson, trying to get Whitmore Lake back on the winning streak, places his team in the "young, light, inexperienced" column.

Of the eight lettermen returning from last year's squad, only three have experience.

Tom Deakin, a junior, will take care of the wing back position while Doug Bennett will help out the offense at half back and the defense at linebacker.

Probably one of the Trojans' most promising athletes is A.J. Gillespie, a sophomore tackle. Gillespie is quick and strong and promises to beef up the Trojan defense and, perhaps, open some holes for the backfield runners.

Depth is a problem with the Trojans as they have 25 varsity players. Davidson does have hope that the Trojans will better th 1-5-1 record of last season.

In addition to Tom Deakin, Gillespie and Bennett, Davidson is also betting that Bob Deakin, a senior, and Rodney Douglas will turn in good performances.

Deakin will go both ways as end while Douglas will take over quarterbacking chores in this his sophomore year.

The new JV program which Davidson started last year has yet to produce results after such a short time. In the long run, Davidson thinks that the expanded program will produce winning records.

The coach thinks that football is on the upswing at Whitmore Lake.

If the younger members of the team develop, Davidson's Trojans might well bring happy moments to their new home field.

Fourth in the Southeastern Conference (3-3) in 1969, the Lions nonetheless did well enough against non-conference foes (3-0) to cop the First Annual Area Football Trophy.

Coach Bob Keezer, area Coach of the Year, has only one all-area returnee in defensive end, offensive tackle Glenn Wiseman and has numerous holes to fill. But, barring injuries to limited personnel, Keezer expects to equal 1969's fine record.

Lions Must Avoid Injuries

South Lyon has some gaping holes to fill and a small, inexperienced squad with which to perform the transfusion of new blood.

A bleak outlook for the team whose 6-3 record won the area "Best Team of 1969" award? Not at all, says Head Coach Bob Keezer. In fact, Keezer expects to equal or better last season's success.

To improve on 1969, however, a quarterback and all his receivers, two-thirds of the defensive backfield, a defensive tackle and a punter and place-kicker must be found.

Actually, Keezer is not just replacing personnel at these key positions — he is trying to fill the shoes of outstanding football players in each case. Dave Brandon, the graduated quarterback, has moved on to the Big Ten (at Michigan). Defensive tackle standout Tim Cash is at Michigan Tech, tight end Dave Perkins at Wayne State. Dave Willacker, free safety, running back Brad Lloyd, receivers Rick Fike and Bob Bruner have all graduated. The kicker was Brandon.

Who can step into these spots? "Barring injuries — and we cannot afford any injuries, including the one that has sidelined Ron Wiseman — all positions have eager, willing football prospects ready to take over," Keezer says.

Junior Jim McIntosh, 6'4", 200 pounds, is the quarterback (the only quarterback) to replace Brandon. Pat Riordan and Jim Goers, two really good seniors, will double at guard on offense along with all-SEC Glenn Wiseman at a tackle and form the nucleus for the defense as well. The 6', 180-pound Riordan and Wiseman, 6'1", 215 pounds, will be the solid defensive ends and Goers will be the heart of the linebacking corps at 5'11", 180 pounds.

Keezer views several others as key personnel. Two seniors around whom much must be built are the 5'10", 170-pound John Pfeffer, the sole returnee in the defensive backfield and a good one and 5'8", 155-pound George Murray. The two-some are Keezer's top wide receivers on offense.

Four sophomores beef up the roster and South Lyon never includes sophomores on the varsity if they are not counted on to help. Roger Cash, 5'8", 150 pounds, is a wide receiver and defensive halfback. Workhoise running back Ray Givens stands just 5'6", but packs 195 pounds on a rugged frame, can get those tough short yards and still run well in the open field. Kevin Taylor, at 5'11", 165 pounds, may have the inside at tight end. Steve Archey, a 165-pounder who goes 5'7", is a guard and linebacker.

Juniors, also, must make important contributions. McIntosh has already been mentioned as the team's only quarterback. The center is Rod Ison at 6' and 180 pounds. Gary McMahen, who played outside linebacker as a sophomore, could double at tight end. He stands 5'11", weighs 180 pounds. Mike Opachick, at 5'7", 150, could fill out the defensive backfield.

Ron Wiseman, 5'11", 170 pounds; Jim Baran, a 5'10", 180-pound senior and Dave Kochalko at 5'7", 160 pounds and another senior, are the remainder of the backfield. Baran has the most experience, while Wiseman came along well as a sophomore. Kochalko, a regular linebacker as is Wiseman, has performed well in a back-up capacity in the past and looks to be a regular if the back injury to Wiseman sidelines him. Besides McIntosh and Givens and he receiving corps, Keezer has no other backs, so all must stay healthy.

Seniors Darrell Maynard (5'11", 190) and Garry Anderson (6', 195) and junior Milt Lakvold (5'11", 175) stack up as key linemen for the Lions. Maynard and Lakvold are the defensive tackles, while Anderson will perform opposite Glenn Wiseman at offensive tackle.

Keezer feels the most unsettled spots at present are inside linebacker (Ron Wiseman's slot) and tight end. He views his defense as solid and feels the team will score barring crippling injuries.

The Lions open the league season at home this year with always tough Ypsilanti Lincoln after meeting old rival Brighton at home tomorrow.

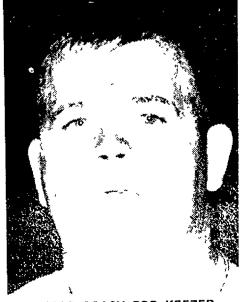

Athletic director Garvin Smith is again an assistant to Keezer while Roger Proctor replaces Jim Rockel as the other aide. Rockel moved up to assistant principal at the junior high school and the additional duties dropped him from the football coaching ranks.

QUARTERBACK'S NIGHTMARE — Glenn Wiseman, South Lyon's all conference defensive end will produce sleepless nights for many opposing quarterbacks this fall. He shows his specialty to the consternation of veteran Lion back Dave Kochalk in this shot.

Injuries Haunt Mustangs

The spector of injury, ever present in football, has worked its grim handiwork in pre-season practice at Northville and could spell real trouble for the Mustangs as they launch their eight game schedule tomorrow.

Coach Alex Klukach's 1970 crystal ball was all but shattered when Bernie Bach (6'2", 204), the senior fullback on whose shoulders the backfield strength rested, was wiped from the roster with a knee injury that necessitated emergency surgery last week.

Co-Captain Bach, who was a stellar performer at end last year, was expected to give the Mustangs their nammering drive at the new position this season.

Compounding Bach's injury was the loss of Robert Norton, 230-pound defensive tackle who must sit out the season with back injuries.

And to make matters worse, End Scott Evans (6'2", 175) came up with a broken hand in practice. Although he was back at practice this week, he will miss tomorrow's opener at Plymouth. If all goes well, he'll be ready to go against Clarenceville next week in Northville's first Wayne-Oakland League contest.

With those kinds of injuries already haunting him and in view of the losses through graduation last June, Klukach must shore up the holes if the Mustangs are to better their 1969 3-4 record in the W-O loop and avenge their two-point loss to Plymouth last year.

Among the star performers who picked up their diplomas in June were Dave Coe, Brian Myers and Fred Holdsworth, all three of whom were picked for the all-area dream team last season.

In conference this season, stiffest competition is likely to come from Clarenceville, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Andover and Waterford Kettering — all of whom tripped up the Mustangs last year.

"No push-overs either," says Klukach, "will be Brighton, Clarkston and Milford." That being the case, there's nothing easy on the gridiron horizon.

In view of the injuries, Klukach is placing his hopes on star performances by Russ Mills and Jeff Moon.

Both pegged to play at fullback with their 6', 175-pound frames, they possess what Coach Klukach describes as "average speed."

"I think they'll work fine for us but we may have to pull men up from the junior varsity to fill the rest of our backfield."

Piloting Northville's hopes this year will be Steve Utley, who like Bach also played end last year. His football experience, hopes Klukach, will pay off as the 6'2", 180-pounder takes over the quarterbacking reins.

"We're counting on him to develop that arm," says the coach, "and if he comes through we'll have four receivers ready for him."

On the receiving end of Utley's arm will be Rick Sechler (6',170) and Scot Stuari (5' 10", 170), both playing halfback slots, and Todd Hannert (6'3", 185) and Jack Murtha (6', 190), who are billed to play at the ends.

"I think we'll be able to run or pass," says the coach. "Murtha was a good defensive end last year and will be one of the keys to our defense this year.

"Our line, both defensively and offensively, will be an asset. We have an average between 190 and 195 both ways. With guys like John Coleman at 215, and Mike Dresch at 220, we should be alright."

It's New Ballgame for Novi

Faced with a new league, a new season and a new schedule, Novi Coach John Osborne hopes there's some real meaning in the old saw about 'new ballbames'.

He's bent on improving the Wildcats' 2-6 record last year, but he knows it won't be easy. Newcomer to the Southeastern Conference, Novi enters a field of competition that is, for the most part, tougher than it experienced last year as an independent.

The Wildcats have battled four of the conference teams in previous seasons with little success.

"We've discovered a few surprises that may give us some choices in what we do," Osborne said. "We've been running inter-team scrimmages and have discovered a lot of talent that won't limit us in one direction."

The Wildcats are looking for revenge against Dexter, Chelsea, Ypsilanti Lincoln and South Lyon — all of whom ended up at the top end of last year's league standings. Chelsea finished 6-0, Dexter and Lincoln tied at 4-2, and South Lyon broke even at 3-3.

Other teams in the conference not encountered last year include Saline (2-4), Milan (1-5), and Dundee (1-5).

Osborne sees it as a season of "alternative rather than dictates", in which he can choose between a running or passing game without being forced into one or the other.

Possibilities that Osborne sees in the upcoming season include a running-passing combination, with Steve Lukkari and Tom Boyer alternating at quarterback and halfback.

Boyer, (5'10", 150) is fast, said the coach, and most likely to start at quarterback. "He's turned a 5.2 in the 40 yard-dash and he's a good blocker. He's not very big, but he's tough."

Lukkari, (5'6", 130,) a sophomore, has given "a real good

happens, it should be safe behind Pat Ford, 140 pound guard, (far left in front); Tom VanWagner, 195 pound guard; Bob Pisha, 218 pound tackle; and Bob Vivian, 161 pound end, or so Osborne hopes.

* * * *

performance," said Osborne, "and it looks now like we can use him."

Pat Boyer, Tom's younger brother, playing interchangeably with Gary Collins at fullback "gives us a lot of depth in the backfield that prior to the this we didn't know we had," said Osborne.

"Our line will definitely be tough to beat," the coach continued. "What with guys like Tom VanWagner (5'8", 195 G,) Bob Pisha (6'3" 218 T,) and Bob Vivian (6'0" 161 E,) we'll have a lot of power and protection for whatever we plan to do."

Osbome seems to be pinning many of his dreams on senior Tom VanWagner. "He's one of the best football players I've ever seen," the coach explained. "He's always in position, his execution is perfect, and he blocks and tackles exactly as he should. Physically he's strong and mentally he's all business. He and Vivian have been playing since seventh grade and they know a lot about football."

A defensive and offensive end last year, Vivian, also a senior, brings experience and "a lot of praise from the coaching staff" to the offensive end position this season, Osborne said.

"He did a good job both offensively and defensively last year, and we expect him to really show us something this year."

In the market of experience, Pisha is the stranger. A junior this year, he was taken out of play in the beginning of last year's opener with ankle injuries. According to Osborne, he exploded in the closing days of last year's practice with a "lot of strength and a lot of speed," but a idle season has left him untried.

"Despite his lack of experience," Osborne said, "we look for him to do us a lot of service. He's quick for a boy his size, and he's strong. His teammates have a hard time holding him in scrimmage."

- Steve Bosak (5'8" 150 HB) is looked to for extra points, and kick-off service. "I don't know what it is," said Osborne. "He just has a good foot and we look for him to put most of them over the bar. He can also run. He and Boyer are about neck in neck for speed (Bosak has done the 40 in 5.1 1/10 of a second better than Boyer) and will make an excellent offensive running back."

Osborne also looks to Pat Ford, at the 'nose-guard' position, for some rushing speed. "At defensive nose guard you play right over the other team's center and have to go through either the right or the left hole," the coach explained. "It requires a quick boy and somebody who's tough. Ford has quick reactions and his blocking and tackling are excellent."
