

Marvin Stempien, Bob Swanson Trade Political Blows

Stempien . . .

Special aids to schools and local units of government, for which he played a significant role, are those areas in which Incumbent Democratic Representative Marvin Stempien points with pride as he seeks re-election.

Concerning "small gains" in school aid, Stempien notes that while "we couldn't get the wholesale revision of education finances that everybody wants to get we did get some improvement especially in the area of specials — over an above the per student allocation."

"Also, I am very pleased that we made a beginning to help local government with additional financing. But, again, it was in the area of special aid. For example, we implemented the bond issue for sewage treatment plants and sewage systems ... This was particularly gratifying because although they (community governments) want to do what is right in the area of pollution and cleaning the environment

EDITOR'S NOTE — Democratic Incumbent State Representative is being challenged by Republican Bob Swanson for the 35th District seat. The 35th District includes the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth and Livonia. This is the final in a series of taped interviews with major local area candidates.

Swanson . . .

The incumbent representative, charges GOP candidate Bob Swanson, has been almost "totally unresponsive" to the needs of people in local communities.

He cites as examples, the incumbent's vote against the SEMTA allocation which would have provided subsidy for public transportation in Northville, his failure to provide state money for school districts forced to pay for books and school supplies, and his failure to secure more racing dates for Northville.

Another major criticism leveled against his opponent in his practice of devoting "less than full time to the job. You cannot hold two full time jobs and do justice to either one.

"If you're going to try to be a full time representative and a full time lawyer, one of them has to suffer. If you come into a natural conflict in priorities of time...that is if you know there is a session in the legislature and you are to be paid if you are there or

Petition Circulated at Hearing

Mobile Homes Plan Stirs Citizen Protests

An overflow crowd packed the board of education offices Tuesday night to voice their opposition to a request before the Northville Township Planning Commission to rezone 188 acres of land on the southwest corner of Six Mile and Ridge Road to permit the construction of an 840 unit mobile home park.

And even as Sheldon Hayes, developer, and his team presented the plans for "Cadillac Green" to the audience and board, a petition was circulated in the audience by Jack Carter, an adjacent property owner, calling for denial of the rezoning from one-family residential to industrial to permit construction of the park.

The development, consisting of 28 clusters of 25 to 30 mobile homes in each, will cost an estimated $2.5 million to construct, excluding land purchase, James Ginn, attorney for Hayes, told the board.

Ginn said that of the 188 acres they are seeking to rezone, 143 acres will be for the mobile home park and 45 acres will be rezoned multiple. The multiple zoning, along Six Mile and Ridge Road, is necessary according to township zoning requirements, Ginn stated, but that Hayes "has no plans at the present for building on the land and it will remain as a large greenbelt surrounding the area."

One of the first questions from citizens attending the meeting concerned provisions that were being made for police and fire protection. Ginn stated that the need "is minimal at first and possibly no internal policing will be needed, judging by the type of people living out here."

His answer did not favorable suit the citizens attending the public hearing.

As far as fire protection, Ginn stated there would be "no need at the beginning. Mobile homes are safer. In five years the development may have a private fire fighting service if there is no fire station constructed nearby."

Another resident asked if the developers expected Ridge Road, Six Mile and Seven Mile roads to handle the possible 1,680 cars (two parking spaces per unit) that the development could generate. "Who will take care of those roads?" he asked.

"The county, with tax dollars paid by you and others," he was told.

Developers said when questioned they have been assured space in an existing sanitary sewer to the east of the property and are confident "we will find on site water."

When asked by the audience, Hayes said he has no intentions of mining sand or gravel on the site before construction and any earth moving done would be to "balance the site."

Developers estimate an approximate density of six units per acre, and residents commented that "six trailers of approximately 24 feet by 60 feet still is crowded. You are degrading the township when we are trying to have bigger lots in the township," a citizen charged.

His comment drew a round of applause from the audience.

Carter, 50900 West Six Mile, said that "larger trailers bring more school children. Of the $3 per month each unit is taxed, only $2 goes to the school, 50 cents to the township and 50 cents to the county."

"Is this better than federal intervention to provide low cost housing?" Carter questioned Ginn on a statement he previously made.

"With the type of home you have shown us here tonight (average price of $7,500 to $8,000) HUD will not be satisfied," Carter commented.

Only three citizens spoke in favor of the rezoning for the park. One woman said she felt the "master township ordinance came about specifically to outlaw trailer courts. I hope this goes through. And if it goes through for Hayes, I hope it also goes through for Lapham."

Milan George, speaking for his mother, current owner of the land, said they gave the option to purchase the land to Hayes "even though he was not the high bidder because we liked his plan and he is a man to keep his word. We would like to see the land rezoned and the park built."

School Officials Rap Parochial aid

No official position was taken but the majority of Northville school board members made it clear by their comments Monday night that they adamantly oppose aid to private schools and therefore support the controversial Proposal C that will appear on the November 3 ballot.

Only board Vice-President Stanley Johnston, who indicated his opposition to direct cash grants to private schools, viewed the amendment as disruptive to existing auxiliary services to such schools.

On that issue apparently board members like many educators, politicians, and legal experts disagree although most of Monday's discussion centered around aid to private or parochial schools in general and not around the conflicting interpretations.

The majority of members seemed to take their cue from Trustee Andrew Orphan, who strongly suggested that electors vote on the proposal based upon their position over private aid in general—not on what the amendment may or may not do to existing services. (These services to parochial schools locally involved such things as health care, remedial reading, etc. for parochial students).

The proposal, which would amend the state constitution, reads:

"(A) Prohibit use of public funds to aid any non-public elementary or secondary school;

"(B) Prohibit use of public funds, except for transportation, to support attendance of any students or the employment of any person at non-public schools or at any other location or institution where instruction is offered in whole or in part to non-public school students;

"(C) Prohibit any payment, credit, tax benefit, exemption or deductions, tuition voucher, subsidy, grant, or loan of public monies or property, directly or indirectly, for the above purposes. "Should this amendment be adopted?"

While it was Orphan who brought the matter to the board table, it was Richard Martin and Eugene Cook who voiced the strong opposition to private school aid and support of Proposal C.

Parochial Issue Spurs Tuesday Vote Interest

Regardless of whether you're "for or against" Proposal C, the controversial amendment to prohibit public aid to non-public schools and students, election experts credit it with serving as the spark for their prediction of turn-out at the polls Tuesday.

A close race for governor, a proposal to lower the voting age to 18 and a star-studded field of candidates for the state supreme court also promise to attract voters. And all state voters will also choose between Incumbent U.S. Senator Phillip Hart and his Republican opponent, Lenore Romney, wife of the former governor.

In this area only Northville township electors have local contests and propositions to decide.

Democrat Joseph Fiorilli and Republicans Leonard Klein and Charles L. Schaeffer, Jr., are competing for two four-year terms as trustees on the Northville township board.

And three local propositions also appear on the ballot.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, Clerk Eleanor Hammond and Treasurer Joseph Straub, all Republicans, are unopposed in Northville township. Likewise, the two percent sliver of Novi that remains as a township has a slate of incumbent Republicans unopposed. They are Supervisor Leo Kalota, Clerk Boyd Armstrong, Treasurer Irene Bacanyi and Trustees Ralph Luckett and Donald Hackman.

A complete rundown of all the candidates and issues that will appear on next Tuesday's ballot, as well as voting locations, appears in the "Voter's Guide" section of this edition.

On the state ballot incumbent Republican Governor William Milliken is facing stiffer-than-expected competition from Democrat Sander Levin, the state senator. The secretary of state's post, long held by Democrat James Hare, pits Democrat Richard Austin, who nearly defeated Roman Gribbs in the race for mayor of Detroit, against Republican Legislator Emil Lockwood.

Baby Suffers Symptoms Of Heroin Addiction

A one-month-old baby girl, suffering from withdrawal symptoms from heroin addiction, and her seven-year-old brother were under care last week at Wayne County General Hospital, police reports said.

The children were taken from their home shortly after noon October 15 by Northville police who were called in to assist the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Hospital spokesmen said the baby will be kept in the hospital until she weighs five pounds. At the time of admittance, the baby weighed only four pounds, eight ounces, less than birth weight, spokesmen said.

The case will be investigated by the sheriff's department and the health department, reports stated.

Sheriff's Patrol Isn't Dead Yet

There's a possibility that the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol may eventually be abolished but last week's action by the board of commissioners did not constitute abolishment, declared Commissioner Carl Pursell, Monday.

Pursell said the unanimous action by board members, sitting in a committee of the whole, simply asked the sheriff to study the matter and to submit to the commission a proposal that considers the possibility of abolishment.

"We did not vote to end the patrol," he emphasized, pointing out that the old board of supervisors in 1963 took the same kind of action.

Publishes reports in Detroit, indicating that the road patrol is to end in six months, stirred immediate local area protests by, among others, Northville Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg. Townships, such as Northville and Plymouth, are serviced by the road patrol.

Possible elimination of the patrol, explained Pursell, "isn't something new." Township officials were aware months ago that the Citizens Research Council had recommended a number of alternatives because the present service is inadequate and the method of financing is poor, he said.

The commission, he said, wants the sheriff to be prepared in the event it is decided to scrap the patrol and instead place emphasis on the Metropolitan Squad, which is primarily concerned with narcotics violations and major county crimes.

Early this year the council's study offered four alternatives:

1. Discontinue local police service by the county (road patrol).

2. Continue to provide local services to unincorporated areas that do not have local departments.

3. Offer comprehensive police services to all local units in the county

YWCA Appoints Mrs. David Vincent

A Northville resident, Mrs. P. David Vincent, 584 Reed, has been named executive director of the Western Wayne County YWCA, the board of directors announced this week. The appointment of Mrs. Vincent was made following the retirement of Miss Barbara L. Locke September 1.

Mrs. Vincent first became a staff member of the Western Wayne YWCA in Dearborn in 1958. She was hired as program director with responsibility for teenage programs in Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Inkster. She also worked to develop a program in Livonia.

Her graduate school training in social work was done at the University of Michigan and the University of Pittsburgh. She majored in art at Allegheny College in Pennsylvania from which she received her liberal arts degree. Her special interest was decorating, a comprehensive senior project being the designed for the student union which was adopted and now is part of the Allegheny campus.

Her work experience includes the YWCA in Wilkesburg, Pennsylvania, and in Springfield, Ohio. After the birth of a son, Todd, in 1962, Mrs. Vincent retired from her staff position with the Western Wayne YWCA and immediately became a volunteer.

This service included serving as a member of the public relations committee and as chairman of the Magic Mart fund-raising project of the YWCA. She was elected to the board of directors in 1964 and became its public relations chairman and recording secretary.

She first returned to the staff on a part-time basis and was in charge of arrangements for classes. Special projects have been her primary interest and she was responsible for establishing the cultural-tutorial program in cooperation with the Inkster school system, a program still in operation.

Mrs. Vincent's volunteer work also has included work with the UF Torch Drive in which she progressed from neighborhood worker to recruitment chairman for all of Western Wayne County in 1968. Last year she was sectional chairman for the WW residential campaign.

Besides Todd, now 8, Mrs. Vincent's family includes her husband, David, president of Management Futures in Southfield. They all share an interest in antiques and are restoring a summer home built in 1800 in Maine.

In assuming the executive directorship, Mrs. Vincent states, "I see the YWCA continuing as a uniting force for rewarding interaction of suburban residents from all streams of experience. We have been a leader in demonstrating how effectively people can work together in spite of racial and economic differences. The alternatives to this kind of understanding are so frightening that even those who have resisted cooperation may see a tunnel of light."

Holiday Fairs, Book Sale Set

BY JEAN DAY
HOLIDAY MARTS and fairs — which seemed in danger of disappearing from the local scene during the past few years — this year promise good Christmas shopping. At least five big benefit events are scheduled during the upcoming six weeks.

For those who circle calendar dates they include: Mothers' Club Book Fair, November 13-14; Northville Historical Society's Tivoli Fair, November 14; St. Paul Lutheran Holiday Bake Sale, November 20; Northville Methodist Holly Mart, December 3; and Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Christmasberry Mart, December 12.

THE BOOK FAIR, annually sponsored by Northville Mothers' Club, is set for 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Friday, November 13, and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, November 14, on the stage of the Northville Board of Education building (old community building) on West Main.

This year, in addition to paperbacks, children's books and specially priced publishers' remainders, there will be a selection of old books.

Sale chairmen are Mrs. Herbert Weston and Mrs. Addison Kline. They are inviting school classes as well as the public to browse among hundreds of paperbacks, hobby, special interest and fiction selections. Most popular for Christmas giving, they point out, is the fresh assortment of publishers' remainders — new books specially priced.

TIVOLI FAIR — a first-time event for the Northville Historical Society — is to open at 10 a.m. Saturday, November 14, in the fellowship hall of Northville First Presbyterian Church with a festive ribbon-cutting ceremony with acting Danish Consul Marshall Fredericks, the noted sculptor, doing the snipping.

Imported craft items, handmade goodies as well as works by such local artists as Roy Pedersen will be sold at booths. Mrs. William Crump and Mrs. Jack Scantlin, co-chairmen, note that in addition to being able to shop for carefully selected-and-unusual gift items, those attending will be helping the "save-the-library" fund with their 50 cent donation at the door. Saving the library building, presently being used as Northville Township offices, is a major project of the historical society.

A HOLIDAY Bake Sale with a "very little" bazaar is set for Friday, November 20, at St. Paul Lutheran Church. Sponsored by the Women's Guild of the church, the sale will include breads, cookies and other holiday fare. There also is expected to be a white elephant booth, and possibly a handcrafts booth.

Mrs. Arthur Witzke, guild president, and Mrs. John Mach are co-chairmen. Mrs. Witzke explains that members worked so hard on the extensive bazaar of last Christmas that this year they decided to concentrate on the baked goodies.

THE HOLLY Mart at Northville First United Methodist on Thursday, December 3, has the added attraction of luncheon served during the noontime. Each year office workers in town, teachers and housewives plan their visit to eat-and-shop.

This year's bazaar co-chairmen are Mrs. Adelbert Heath and Mrs. Fred McCrumb. Mrs. Douglas Bolton is luncheon chairman.

The popular attic treasures shop of last year is to be repeated — here shoppers browse among jewelry, household items and decorations for antiques and useful "finds."

A MILLIONAIRES Party is being scheduled by the Northville Jaycees for Friday, November 6, at the Northville VFW Hall. The Jaycees are reviving a benefit that had been held here in previous years.

Everyone in the community is invited to participate in the games that begin at 8 p.m. Jaycee Russ Anger says that for the $1 admission each person will receive a million dollars in play money. Throughout the evening the Jaycees will sell refreshments. Mixed drinks also will be available. Proceeds from the evening will aid Jaycee community projects.

Five members from Northville attended a Michigan Division Farm and Garden association meeting last Wednesday at the Oakland University campus in Rochester. Mrs. Switzer, Mrs. William Slattery, Mrs. Warner Krause, Mrs. Alfons List and Mrs. Orson Atchinson heard about the state-level ECHO program (Every Child's Home Outdoors) and a talk on communication skills by Dr. Gordon L. Thomas, mayor of East Lansing.

The ECHO program, explained Mrs. Switzer, is designed to supply education and tools to help children appreciate the outdoors.

Busy Mrs. Switzer and her neighbor, Mrs. Dewey Burrell were among the 3,000 women who last Friday attended the Detroit Symphony morning coffee hour program in Detroit. In addition to an "outstanding" morning of music, Mrs. Switzer reported, the women saw a Hudson fashion show of new-season wear with slacks and clinging gowns that swirled just below knee-length" best received. The twosome already has signed to attend the next such event March 26.

KATHLEENE JOYCE HALEY Engagements

KATHLEENE JOYCE HALEY
The engagement of Kathleene Joyce Haley to William Roger Beadle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Beadle, 24400 Borderhill, Novi, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Haley, former Novi residents now living in Southfield.

The bride-elect is a 1967 Northville High School graduate while her fiancé was graduated from Northville High in 1960. She now is employed at North American Photo, Dearborn.

Her fiancé who is serving with the United States Navy with a CS-3 rating is stationed in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. A May 7, 1971 wedding date is set.

GAIL ANN VAN SICKLE
Announcement is made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Gail Ann Van Sickle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Sickle, 27078 Taft Road, to John R. Couch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Couch, 25150 Taft Road.

A November 14 wedding is planned at St. Matthews Lutheran Church, Walled Lake. Both the bride-elect and her fiancé attended Novi High School.

$688 Behind Last Year

Area UF Collections Lag

Residential collections in Northville and Northville Township are running $688 behind last year's total in the current United Foundation Torch Drive, Mrs. Elmer Schubert, Northville area chairman, said Tuesday.

She said she and her workers still hope to equal last year's total of $3,430.50 with call-backs and mailed returns during the remaining ten days of the 24-day campaign which ends November 5.

Mrs. Schubert, a new resident of this area but a long-time UF volunteer and a member of its WOOF board, asks any resident not contacted who wishes to contribute to call her at 349-2556.

She stressed that the automotive strike and the contribution of most men at work make it difficult for housewives to contribute in some cases but that contributions "don't have to be folding money."

"If women would just give their change," she said, "it would be a cooky jar contribution to the 200 organizations served by the UF."

The receipt given this year by door-to-door workers, she pointed out, shows the United Fund allocations to the different organizations.

This year's area chairmen under Mrs. Schubert include Mrs. John Norman, Mrs. Richard Ambler, Mrs. R. E. Zabell and Mrs. William H. Swank.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES LONG

Virginia Clift Wed In Autumn Service

Virginia Clift chose the gold-and-rust hues of autumn as the theme for her wedding to James Long, October 10 in Northville First United Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Clift, 16180 Homer, Plymouth, and Robert Clift, 45285 Grand River, Novi. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Long, 411 East Baseline.

The couple exchanged vows in a 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony at an altar decorated with four bouquets of fall flowers in shades of yellow, rust, orange and gold. The Reverend Guenther C. Branstner officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian-styled gown of white satin with full sleeves gathered into wide cuffs. Rows of lace threaded with yellow satin ribbon circled the skirt and formed a v-shaped yoke. Lace also edged the satin train. Layers of illusion formed the shoulder-veil.

White and yellow daisy mums and orange and yellow rosebuds were used in the bridal bouquet.

Autumn colors were repeated in the gowns of Shelley Houtvitz, honor maid, who wore an olive green linen gown with puffy sleeves of double layers of chiffon, and Cathy Carr, Debbie Eland, Kathy Winner and Sue Vivian, bridesmaids, who wore orange linen gowns, also styled with chiffon sleeves. They carried arrangements of yellow, gold and green mums and daisy mums.

Barbara and Beth Hilton, nieces of the bridegroom, wore flower girls in long, gold linen dresses. They carried baskets of autumn flowers.

Tom Long was best man for his brother. Ushers were Bob Clift, brother of the bride, Steve Hehrer, Pat Hall and Mike Moody.

The wedding and reception following at Sherwood Inn in Plymouth drew 135 guests from Ohio and Delaware as well as from Michigan.

After a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Florida, the newlyweds are making their home in Jamestown Court Apartments in Plymouth. The bride is a 1969 graduate of Novi High School. She attended Michigan State University. The bridegroom, a 1967 graduate of Northville High School, attended Oakland Community College, Western Michigan University and Eastern Michigan University.

JOHNSON AND COMPANY — Ed Johnson displays his "out-of-this-world" characters that he will manipulate in "Beyond the Moon," an original marionette show to be presented at 1:30 and 3 p.m. November 7 in Northville High School auditorium under sponsorship of the Northville Jaycettes.

Space People Star In Marionette Show

"Beyond the Moon," an original marionette show by Ed Johnson and his marionettes, will be given at two performances at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Saturday, November 7, in the Northville High School auditorium.

The presentations are being sponsored by the Northville Jaycettes, who also brought another original show of Johnson's here last April. Tickets at 50 cents will be sold at all elementary schools next Thursday, November 5. They also will be sold at the door.

This fall's program is to take Astronaut John Smith into space in a rocket that flies past the moon. It is designed to interest older as well as younger elementary-age children.

The Ed Johnson Marionettes performed on television for six years on Milky's Party Time program with a series known as "Willy Docit" with Gee Whizzer and Applesauce as the two most famous characters. Johnson founded the Detroit Puppeteers Guild in 1946 and has been president of it and also of the national organization, Puppeteers of America.

As in the past, Johnson is to perform the entire show without help.

Additional information about the show may be obtained from Mrs. John Buckland, 349-0773, or Mrs. Robert Hilton, 349-0583, Jaycette committee members.

Musolffs Wed Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Musolff, 532 Fairbrook, were honored at a surprise 50th wedding anniversary dinner last Friday in the Jacob room at Hillside Inn.

It was given by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis, for 40 members of the family from Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Detroit and Westland.

The Musolffs were married October 20, 1920, at the Plymouth home of Mrs. Musolff's parents with the Reverend Strassen of the Plymouth Lutheran Church officiating. Mrs. Musolff is the former Ella Minehart. The newlyweds of 50 years ago came to Northville to a home on Grace Street. They have lived here ever since, moving to their present home in 1945. He is a life-long resident of Northville.

Mrs. Davis is the couple's only child. For the surprise celebration she gathered old pictures, dating back to her parents' elementary school days, and arranged a slide presentation of their lives.

A white and gold cake and anniversary songs by an accordionist set the party theme. Decorations were white and yellow mums and ferns.

Plays Scheduled At College, Church

A series of four one-act plays entitled "The Subconscious Four" will be presented by the Masque Players of Schoolcraft College in the liberal arts theater at 8 p.m. November 4 through 7.

In the grouping of four one-act plays being presented each of the four evenings the players will deal with the subconscious. The plays date from the earliest on the subject to the latest.

The first play, one of the earliest attempting to picture the subconscious, is called "Suppressed Desires." It deals with the first real popularity of psychoanalysis. The program states, "It is very obvious the characters do not know how to deal with the subject, and after they become involved, they have real difficulty in escaping the problem." It is directed by Ken Cyr of Livonia.

The second play presents the subconscious in the form of two characters — two women and their subconscious beings are meeting to discuss old times. While the women speak, the subconscious overtones tell the truth behind the words. In the cast are Judy Utley and Amy Hannert of Northville.

The third play deals with a young man caged by his subconscious who finds it difficult to communicate. Judy Clegg of Northville is in the cast.

The fourth play, written by Schoolcraft students, is "Everyone Was Out." It is a montage about an office worker's escape from reality. Doug Waldren, Miss Utley and Miss Clegg are in the cast from Northville.

Tickets are $1.50 presale and $2 at the door. They are available each day at the campus bookstore or may be ordered by calling 591-6400, ext. 298, Monday through Friday from 4 to 5 p.m.

"Diary of Adam and Eve," a play adapted from a short story by Mark Twain, is to be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Northville First United Methodist Church.

"The entire family will enjoy this famous version by Twain of the first two people in the world," note the Methodist sponsors. The play traces the lives of the first man and the first woman through happy days in Eden, relates their sadness in leaving and tells of the new life they begin outside. Lyrics and music are by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, composers of "Fiddler on the Roof."

Starring in the fully staged production are Bruce Elliott as Adam, Janet Goodlett as Eve, and Michael Molloy as the Snake. Fourth member of the touring company, called the most active repertory group in the country, is Dianne Risser, who is active behind scenes. The group performed Shaw's "St. Joan" here two years ago.

"Diary of Adam and Eve" will be presented in one performance only. Student tickets are $1 and adult tickets are $2. They are on sale at the church office and will be sold at the door.

AWARD WINNER — Betty Mohney (center) is the second recipient of the Western Suburban Junior Women's Club Scholarship. The award was presented recently by Mrs. Dale Starr (left) of Northville, and Mrs. Ronald Kelley of Plymouth. Betty is a sophomore in the Elementary Intern Program at Schoolcraft College where she carries a perfect 4.0 grade average. She lives in Livonia. The $450 Scholarship is provided yearly by the club to cover tuition, fees and books for a resident of the college district. It is based upon academic achievement and individual need. Mrs. Starr is president of the club which has members from Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Westland. Mrs. Kelley is the group's secretary.

USEFUL LESSON — Officers of the Livonia Police Reserve came to Northville last week to instruct fundamentals in the art of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The occasion was the weekly baby sitting clinic sponsored by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary at Cooke Junior High School. Here, 12-year-old Becky Terpevich practices with a dummy victim. The program, which has been running all fall, is aimed at teaching young people in the Northville area skills which may be useful in baby sitting. The series of clinics was slated to close this week with an examination. A certificate will be issued to those girls who pass.

Youngster Rhymes About Halloween

What's going through a child's mind the last few days before Halloween? Spooks, witches and candy?

Peter Johnson, second grader at Main Street Elementary, put his thoughts into poems for Halloween. A student of Mrs. Jacquelin Butts, Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Jr., 645 Fairbrook.

Halloween witches go through the night
It's very spooky and not very light.

Jack-o-lanterns are out too,
You can get candy, nice white and blue.

You got one that can glow?
I once got 100 or so.

Flying, flying through the air
The witch with not one single hair.
But the witch would never stop.
If she did she'd go pop.

Halloween is lots of fun,
There's candy for everyone.
There's bags of chips too,
But not any apples that are blue.

You go up and down the streets,
You try to get many treats.

Choirs Hold First Concert

Northville High School Vocal Music Department will present its first concert at 8 p.m. today in the high school auditorium. The program will feature a wide variety of vocal music selections.

Seminar on Burns Set

A burn prevention seminar will be sponsored by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary Tuesday, November 10, at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

Dr. James R. Lloyd, director of the burn unit at Children's Hospital of Michigan, will speak on burn prevention and emergency treatment of burns.

"One of the most tragic facts about burn accidents," Dr. Lloyd said, "is that 60 per cent of all burn victims are children under 15 years of age. Many burn accidents could be prevented by following a few rules of safety, such as remembering to keep all electrical outlets covered and being careful to store all combustible liquids, such as gasoline, kerosene, paint thinner and turpentine, out of the reach of children," he commented.

When an accident does happen, it is important to know what to do, Auxiliary spokesmen said. Flaming clothing can be smothered by placing the victim in a horizontal position and rolling him in a heavy blanket or rug, spokesmen noted. "Never apply a home remedy such as butter, grease or alcohol to a burn. Instead, wrap the burn in a clean, dry sheet and take the victim to a hospital," they added.

These suggestions and many others will be presented by Dr. Lloyd at the burn prevention seminar.

The Auxiliary extends an invitation to all interested persons.

Sewer Taps Annoy Citizens; Wixom Investigation Started

"I found that I had to dig down 20 feet in order to find my tap," Wixom resident Gerald Abrams told the council at its meeting Tuesday night.

Abrams was speaking on behalf of several residents of the city who, faced with a November 1 deadline have begun excavation to hook up their sanitary systems with the newly constructed, county built sewer line.

"Also some of those taps are 11 to 15 feet beyond the property line. I understood that the taps were supposed to come right up to the property line," Abrams continued.

DPW Director Robert Trombley said he had been informed by the county that where a right-of-way is involved all taps must be brought up to the property line but in the case of easements, county regulations make no such requirement.

"The county has contracted to build that sewer," said Mayor Gilbert Willis, "and I'm not sure what we can do about deficiencies." Willis directed City Attorney Gene Schnelz to investigate the matter and report back to the council.

Meanwhile, citizens like Abrams, who are faced with the necessity of tying into a sewer tap that may not be there, are up in arms.

"This matter should be investigated and we should make sure that the taps and risers are installed and that they are where they're supposed to be," said Councilman Howard Coe.

Councilman Elwood Grubb agreed: "The permit book spells it out. They (sewer taps) should be 10 feet down and if they're not, the county should be made to tell why."

Schnelz will prepare a report on the matter and have it ready for the council's attention.

In a long agenda of new and old business Tuesday night, the council:

—Moved to lease, for a period of three months and at a total cost of $180, a mobile radar unit.

Councilmen discussed the matter at length. Councilman Robert Dingeldey was the prime opponent of the expenditure.

"We have dire need of more fire equipment in this city," said Dingeldey. "And I can't see spending money on an already well-equipped police department when the one fire truck we've got isn't capable of pumping water while in motion. The vehicle would be helpless in a grass fire and most of the land in Wixom is grass. I think we ought to equip our fire department rather than give our police department a new toy."

"I've seen the radar unit in action," continued Dingeldey, "and I'm the first to admit that it is a good unit but we're working on a tight budget and I don't believe we should be spending the money."

Mayor Willis pointed out that there was money allocated in the city's budget for the purchase of fire equipment and said the radar unit was necessary to deter speeders on Wixom Road.

Decision Due Monday On Insurance Pact

Award of a package insurance contract for Novi to replace the one that is expiring, was postponed until next week by the city council Monday night.

At their next regular meeting councilmen will study a comparative chart that City Manager Dallas Zonkers is to prepare, showing a summary of areas of coverage and the premiums due in each case.

The workman's compensation section of the city's insurance contract, written by Talmay Insurance Company, expired Monday night at midnight.

The city, according to Richard Bingham, agent of the firm, is

Wixom OKs Pool Addition

The Wixom Appeals Board at its regular meeting Monday granted one request and denied another.

Permission was granted for a swimming pool addition to be built on the existing facility at Will-O-Way camp, 47300 12 Mile Road. The pool is 25 by 20 feet and will reach a depth of 10-feet.

Graham Frye appeared before the board asking for a variance in the zoning ordinance which would enable him to store landscaping material on his residential property.

The board denied the request and referred him to the planning commission.

operating currently under a 30-day extension while they make their decision.

Les Bowden of the Carrington Bowden agency, one of the bidders present Monday night, complained that the 12 days, during which his company had been forced to prepare a bid, had not been sufficient. Bowden said his firm had submitted a bid but that it had inflated premiums in areas it had not personally inspected. He estimated that, given time for this inspection, "we could probably reduce our bid by 25 percent." He asked for 45 days time.

Bingham said that under law workman's compensation could not be carried over 13 months.

"As of midnight tonight, you'll have a policy that's 12 months old. A month...30 days...is all the extension we can give."

The council had originally sent out notice for bids in an attempt to beat the approaching expiration date, not being aware that the 30-day extension was available from Townmay.

As a result of the grace period councilmen argued that the bids received should remain sealed and notice be republished so that bidders would have more time to prepare bids.

"We'd be in the same position in the end," stated Mayor Crupi. He referred to the time it would take to get notice in a paper of general circulation and the time that must be allowed for advertisement. "At any rate," continued Crupi, "we can't grant 45-days."

The bids were opened and turned over to Zonkers for summary.

At a public hearing, the Council granted permission for James C. Kern of East Lake Drive to fill in along his property abutting Walled Lake in a curved manner that fits the natural contour of the shoreline, provided that his neighbors on either side, Charles O. Miller and Henry L. McNalley, did the same, and that plans for the total project were submitted to the county Water Resources Commission.

Kern indicated during the course of the hearing that he and his neighbors had discussed the matter at length and that in his opinion they would be agreeable.

Councilman Edwin Presnell stated that such action was necessary because of the traps for trash and other floating refuse that would be created were any permanent structure built out of line with those on either side of it.

"What happens," asked Councilman Denis Berry, "when someone wants to fill in 60 feet to be even with his neighbor and then decides to build on his land?"

"We'll just have to be careful," answered Mayor Crupi.

Crupi explained that he didn't think the city could tell a builder that he couldn't build on adequate land, but that through careful restriction such instances could be avoided.

Following the hearing council adopted an amendment making "concrete breakwaters in Walled Lake, wherever such is necessary," mandatory.

Zonkers was directed to check up on the construction of a sidewalk along the west side of Meadowbrook Road in Meadowbrook Lake subdivision that citizens, who gathered before the council Monday night, claimed was pointless.

Citizens, among them Gary Kidd of 22883 Penten Rise Court and Boris Velianoff of 23117 Meadowbrook Road, objected to the proposed sidewalk being constructed by section — in front of only a few homes between Penten Rise and the Ingersole Creek.

"If it's built, why not build it across the creek at least so it'll do some good?" asked Velianoff.

Noting the sidewalks were being constructed because the money was there, Crupi offered to accept payments from the public, hold them in escrow and at some future date lay the complete sidewalk, levying a special assessment for the difference in price.

"I ordered a sidewalk when I bought my home," said Kidd, "and I expect a sidewalk. But I want one going from someplace to someplace, and now, not in six years when it's

Wixom Delays Zoning Request

Wixom City Council postponed one of three zoning requests to appear before it in public hearings Tuesday night, granted another and took no action on a third.

A request from Fred Dettore of Southfield to rezone 47 acres in the area south of Pontiac Trail between Wixom road the C & O Railroad track to M-1 was put off until November 10 at which time residents in the area could be present to express their views.

City Attorney Gene Schnelz said that although it was not legally necessary in matters other than appeal board hearings, the property owners within 300 feet of a rezoning request were by custom notified of any such hearing.

The land, according to Larry Cohen, acting as attorney for the petitioner, is slated for a light industrial subdivision.

Land to the south, on West road stretching north to the C & O track was rezoned M-1 in accordance with the request of owner-developer Shaw and Slavsky of Detroit.

Robert J. Slavsky, owner of the firm, appeared before the council and mentioned that his proposed industrial development would employ some 300 people.

The Detroit firm, according to Slavsky, is a manufacturer of food marketing systems.

A letter was introduced regarding acreage north of Pontiac Trail and east of Wixom road. The petitioners, Maple-Beck Associates of Detroit, not present at the meeting, and the letter from their office notified the council of intention to go before the planning commission and ask for a new rezoning.

QUEEN OF A CENTURY — Twenty-one year old Pamela Westervelt holds the most coveted title in all of Wixom. There will be queens of this and queens of that — a new one — every year, but there can be only one Centennial Queen...for quite a while at any rate.

TO THE PEOPLE OF:
NOVI SCHOOL DISTRICT

Novi Community Schools is a relatively new institution in its present K-12 form. The organization as a K-12 district was recommended by the Oakland County Reorganization Committee pursuant to Act 289 of the Public Acts of 1964 on December 30, 1965. We are now into our 3rd year as a comprehensive high school district. We have been fully chartered by the Michigan Department of Education and fully accredited by the University of Michigan for our first graduating class. In comparison with the districts which surround us, we could be considered as a small district. Our enrollment is 1809 students in grades K-12. The potential for future growth of the district is phenomenal. It will double in 5 years.

Program improvements have been continuous and such improvements of the total educational system shall be a continuing concern to the Board of Education, the Administration and the professional teaching staff.

The objectives defined by the Novi School Study Group in March of 1961 have been completely achieved.

The objectives defined for the Board of Education by the Superintendent in February of 1969, were authorized by the Board and have been achieved.

The construction program which was authorized by the voters in September of 1969, is now well underway and completion of these buildings will be made during 1971.

The future for the Novi School District looks very promising with the continuing cooperation and support of the residents of the district.

Our objectives for the future may be listed as follows:

1. To operate a financially sound educational enterprise in behalf of the people of the Novi Community School District.
2. To offer a well rounded curriculum to meet the needs of all of the students of the school district.
3. To employ a professional staff who are clearly superior in their individual endeavor and dedicated fully to the Novi Community School District.
4. To furnish an increasing amount of instructional materials and equipment in order to keep pace with the improved techniques in the use of educational media.
5. To furnish such added auxiliary assistance in the district so as to make the schools an excellent environment for the educational process.

Our recommendations to achieve these objectives in the future are:

1. Ask renewal of the 4.5 mills for operation which expires this year.
2. Determine the amount of additional millage which may be required to operate the 2 new schools which are scheduled to open in 1971.
3. Elect a principal for the new elementary school.
4. Hire staff for the new elementary school.
5. Hire necessary staff for the Middle School.
6. Consider the construction and equipping of a bus service garage.
7. Consider the construction and equipping of a central storage building and board of education offices for the district.
8. Consider the purchase of future sites.
9. Evaluate new programs
 - a. Type C consultant for high school age special education children.
 - b. Establish a Type A Special Education program for the Middle School.
 - c. Establish an outdoor nature education and ecology area.
 - d. Establish a closed circuit television system in the Middle School.

Thomas H. Dale,

Snowmobile Race Considered Here

A short-handed city council, meeting in special session Tuesday night, scheduled two public hearings for November 9.

Councilmen Wallace Nichols, Paul Folino and Charles Lapham voted to call for a public hearing to amend the city's "mechanical vehicle racing ordinance" so that a request to stage a snowmobile race at Northville Downs might be considered.

The request was made by Gerald Stone, who explained that he and his associate John Carlo, hope to sponsor a $50,000, three-day snowmobile racing event.

Stone said the event, which would be sanctioned by the Michigan International Snowmobile Association, would be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 8, 9 and 10. He estimates that it would attract some 600 entries.

Hours for the race would be from 6:30 until 11 p.m. on Friday, Saturday from noon until 4:30 and from 7 until 11 p.m., and Sunday from 1 until 6 p.m. Stone said the city would receive $250 daily and five per cent of the gross over $2,000. He estimated this could amount to $5,000. If successful, he said that he and his partner hoped to make the race an annual event.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff noted that the city's ordinance would have to be amended to permit the race. All Sunday racing is now prohibited. In addition, racing hours per day are limited to a total of five hours.

It was noted that the ordinance had been adopted because of the nuisance created by auto and motorcycle racing at Northville Downs. Stone said snowmobile racing would not be as noisy and it was noted that summer racing, when home windows are open, is more disturbing.

Councilmen agreed to set the hearing immediately to test public reaction. The amendment would permit Sunday racing and extend the hours from noon until 11 p.m. during the months of December, January and February only.

The second hearing was called to confirm the special assessment roll for the city's proposed parking deck on Cady Street.

Tuesday night the council accepted the assessments and notices will now be sent to owners of some 50 commercial properties involved. The assessments range from approximately $400 to $7,900.

Bids on the parking deck were to have been received Tuesday night. But the date for opening of bids was extended until Thursday afternoon (today).

Novi Council

going to cost me three times what I have in escrow."

Zonkers was ordered to check with the city engineers, Johnson and Anderson, and look into the matter.

The council listened to a description by Rene J. Peters of Johnson and Anderson concerning projects that the company needs direction on within the city.

These were: changing the course of the Ingersole Creek in Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision; a water supply shortage in the Smokler development near Eight Mile and Meadowbrook; and the northern part of the Kaufman and Broad development of Village Oaks on Nine Mile between Meadowbrook and Haggerty, that could be solved by a water main constructed from Eight to Nine Mile along Haggerty; a drainage deficiency in that area; and the plausibility of taking over the storm drains in the Smokler development.

Halloween Party Tuesday Election Slated in Novi

Games, costume prizes and refreshments will highlight the annual Novi Halloween Party to be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday in the Novi Community Building.

This year the party is being sponsored by the Novi Youth Assistance Committee, which is assuming the project as the request of the Novi Board of Commerce, which sponsored the party for many years previously.

Mrs. Peter Alcala and Girl Scout Troop 924 of the North Oakland Council will be in charge of games.

Judging the costumes — prettiest, funniest, most original — will be Mrs. Florence Harris, representing the Board of Commerce, Mrs. Herbert Farah, President of the Novi Youth Assistance Committee, and the Reverend Albert Hartoog, minister of Novi United Methodist Church.

Cider and doughnuts will be served.

An orientation meeting to present plans for the year and to acquaint the public with its activities is scheduled by the Novi Youth Assistance Committee for 8 p.m. today at Novi United Methodist Church, 41671 Ten Mile Road.

Gravel Pit or Beautiful New Community?

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION 1

On November 3, voters of Northville Township will be faced with a local issue which could determine the character of our community for many years to come.

This issue will appear on your voting machine as local Proposition 1, not to be confused with the statewide proposals also on the ballot. As concerned citizens, we have formed Citizens for Proposition 1, seeking a favorable "Yes" vote.

The issue concerns the development of Highland Lakes, a beautiful new community which will replace a slag mill and gravel pit, removing a long-time public eyesore from our Township. We believe the successful development of Highland Lakes is in the best interest of the Township and all its people.

A "Yes" vote on Proposition 1 will leave standing the rezoning of a small portion of this site, which was recommended by the Township's planning consultants and consulting engineers, and approved after careful consideration by both the Township Planning Commission and the Township Board.

There appeared to be very little public opposition to the rezoning until a handful of vocal dissenters were able to gather signatures of less than 12 percent of the Township's registered voters to get the issue on the ballot. Some of the signers have later stated they were not aware of all the facts when they signed the petition and are now disposed to vote "Yes" on Proposition 1.

We urge you to study the reasons given below for supporting the rezoning, and then to vote "Yes" on Proposition 1 on November 3.

- 1 Engineering problems resulting from the very unusual, but very beautiful, topography of the area rezoned were virtually insurmountable, and made it impractical, from both an economical and land planning standpoint, to build single family dwellings in the area that was rezoned. This fact was recognized by the Township's planning consultants and consulting engineers and confirmed to the Township Planning Commission and the Township Board before they agreed to a compromise plan for rezoning the acreage involved.
- 2 As a result of the rezoning, the number of prospective pupils for the Northville School district was reduced by approximately 152, resulting in a surplus in school taxes of almost $100,000, compared to an estimated break-even point under the original zoning. This effectively reduces the school tax burden for other residents of Northville School District. In addition, the developers, Levitt and Sons, a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, donated a 10-acre site for a new elementary school within the Highland Lakes community, representing a savings of $50,000 or more to the school district and taxpayers.
- 3 The rezoning provides an additional 20 acres of greenbelt and open spaces, and the site will remain in its beautiful, natural state, something that could not have been accomplished had it been possible to build single family dwellings there.
- 4 The additional green space brings to a total of more than 150 acres (out of the whole area of 430 acres) the portion of the community that will be devoted to lakes, meadows, recreational areas, beaches, greenbelts and school sites. This results in a density of slightly under 4.5 residential units per acre, including the single family dwellings, town houses and apartments now incorporated in the plan. This is less than half the density permitted for this area under the Northville Township zoning ordinance, a point that will not go unnoticed when national publications come here, as we believe they will, to tell the story of the remarkable conversion of a gravel pit and slag mill into one of America's most beautiful and best-planned residential communities.

- 5 The character of the neighborhoods surrounding Highland Lakes will be preserved since there will be no town houses adjacent to areas now containing single family dwellings.
- 6 The rezoning plan is vital to the successful implementation of the total Highland Lakes community, and was approved after more than six months of meetings and public hearings, in which little public opposition, sometimes none at all, was voiced. Is it fair now to break faith with our elected and appointed officials, and the competent, highly professional, impartial planning and engineering consultants who are paid to advise them?
- 7 Levitt broke ground for the new community in all good faith in August, after rezoning was approved, and without the slightest hint that a few citizens would attempt to overturn the rezoning in a November election. Is it fair now to jeopardize the entire project by rejecting the action of our elected officials, and to perhaps deprive the Township of a lovely new community, while preserving a public eyesore for our children, and possibly even their children, to inherit?
- 8 Shouldn't we welcome the contributions the attractive new families who will reside in Highland Lakes homes (costing up to $50,000) and town houses (costing from $24,000 to $31,000) will make to our local economy, our school tax base, our churches, our total community?

We could cite numerous other reasons why the rezoning of this relatively small parcel was necessary to the success of the total project, yet favorable to our community — and its residents.

But we believe the thoughtful, concerned, fair-minded residents of Northville Township will agree with us that Highland Lakes represents an exciting, new development that we should welcome to our area.

Won't you join with us in making your voices — and your votes — heard on November 3?

Remember! Vote "YES" on Proposition 1

City...

One adult and three juveniles were arrested by police October 20 and charged under city ordinance with disorderly person, seeking to obtain money by fraudulent scheme, trick, device or false pretense.

The charges stemmed from an investigation by Northville city police and the Secret Service in Detroit after the four allegedly inserted counterfeit bills they manufactured into a coin changing machine at Self-Service Laundry, 202 West Main Street.

Arrested were 17-year-old Bruce MacGregor, 17373 Ridge Road, and three juvenile males.

MacGregor was arraigned on the charge Tuesday before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis and pleaded guilty. He was referred for a pre-sentence investigation, according to court officials, and is free on $100 personal bond.

The three juveniles were released in the custody of their parents and will appear in Wayne County Probate Court.

According to police reports, a total of $9 in counterfeit one dollar bills were changed between October 18 and October 20. Others were found on the youths.

A Detroit man, Charles E. Varnado, was cut on the neck after three youths threw a rock through the back window of the truck he was driving. The rock struck him on the left side of the neck.

According to police reports, Varnado was southbound on Griswold near the gravel pit entrance shortly before 10 a.m. October 20 when the youths threw the rock.

Varnado told police he tried to follow the subjects but lost them.

A 16-year-old Northville youth was charged with failure to yield right of way after the car he was driving collided with another October 20, shortly before 5:30 p.m. at the intersection of Novi Street and Eight Mile Road.

According to police reports, the youth stopped for a stop sign on northbound Novi Street and Eight Mile and proceeded across Eight Mile, striking a car driven by Selwyn A. Alvey, Detroit. Alvey and his wife, a passenger in the car were taken to Herman Keifer Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

A Northville man, Denis R. Janes, 46155 West Seven Mile Road, received minor injuries Friday evening after the car he was driving collided with a parked car on westbound Hines Drive, between Sheldon and First Street.

According to reports, Janes was westbound on Hines drive when the accident occurred shortly after 11:30 p.m. Burt Adkins, Madison Heights, owner of the parked car, was in his car when the accident occurred but was not injured.

Janes refused medical attention reports indicated.

Two businesses were broken into during the past week police reported.

On October 20, unknown persons entered Northville Refrigeration, 135 North Center Street. Investigating officers found the bolt broken off the door leading to the office but nothing was reported missing. No signs of forced entry were found.

On Sunday, police investigated a break-in at Dr. Jahangir Mohtadi's office, 302 West Main Street. According to reports, the office was entered between 2 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Sunday.

Investigating officers found pry marks on the door, a window forced open and hypodermic needles and syringes scattered in the hall. Nothing was reported missing and officers are continuing to investigate the case.

Four persons reported windows broken out of vehicles by BB gun pellets or stones during Saturday evening.

According to reports, Dana Young, Westland, told police the rear window and right door glass of his pick up truck were broken while the truck was parked on Hines Drive near Seven Mile Road.

Officers investigating the damage early Sunday morning found the paint still wet.

Vandals broke tail lights in a pick up truck and a 1971 car parked at John Mach Ford, 550 West Seven Mile Road, between October 19 and 22. The turn signal was also twisted on the truck, police said.

Officers are continuing their investigation of a 10-speed green racing bike stolen October 2 from a garage at 440 Dubuair Street. Owner of the bicycle, Wayne Humble, said the bicycle is valued at $90.

Richard L. Wheaton told police the slide from his trombone, valued at $75, was stolen from the music room at Cooke Junior High between October 14 and 15. According to reports, students found four trombones on the floor October 15 but only one slide was missing. The incident was reported October 26.

A student at Northville High, David Gilders, 19780 Smock Road, told police that unknown persons broke the antenna and windshield wiper off his car and damaged the muffler during the evening October 15, while the car was parked at the high school. Gilders, who reported the incident October 26, estimated the damage at more than $100.

Township Candidates State Views on Two Issues

EDITOR'S NOTE — The three Northville Township candidates for two seats were asked to address themselves to these questions: (1) If you are elected what would you propose relative to Northville Township Police protection? (2) State specifically your views on the so-called Levitt zoning issue that will appear on the November ballot.

Joseph Fiorilli

1. The problem of whether we should have a police department is a highly complex political problem. It is complex because it is tied into the study on unification with the City of Northville.

The problem is complex because it is tied in with Proposition 3 to abolish the annual meeting. Without our approval at the annual meeting our elected officials can increase taxes, establish police departments, and build township halls.

The proposition on the ballot to sell the township's interest in the building on S. Wing St. is also tied into Proposition 3 to abolish the annual meeting and establish a police department. By approving this sale, we are actually approving the high cost construction of a new township hall and police office. A clever play to obtain approval for the police department without coming out and saying so.

To forestall the citizens' power to make these decisions is inexcusable. The monthly township meeting does not provide the time and place for citizens to participate in local government. Attendance without the power to vote is nothing but attendance. The annual meeting gives us the right, the duty, the power to make decisions on police departments and taxes. The annual meeting is our township's most important political force.

On all three counts, Propositions 1-2-3 should be voted "NO". A "NO" vote is a positive call for our citizens to align themselves for community interests. A "NO" vote is a positive call for citizens to assert their stewardship and to preserve their power to exercise control. A "NO" vote is a call to positive electoral action.

2. Concerning Proposition No. 1, I urge Northville Township voters to cast a "NO" vote. A "NO" vote is an invitation to the community to uphold the validity of the 362 interested citizens who believe the rezoning request not in their best interests or the township's.

A "NO" vote reconfirms the original zoning approved by the Planning Commission and township board. A "NO" vote is a more solid and substantial vote based on the many months of study by the Planning Commission, township board and Levitt & Sons engineers. The latest study is nothing more than the usual technique used by big builders to make more money at the expense of the residents.

I do not believe that Levitt & Sons is proceeding in good faith because they, the Planning Commission and the township board, have callously disregarded all of the arguments put forth at the public hearings. To say as our editor does that the planners and board members are more concerned than the average citizen with safeguarding community development is a challenge to the average citizen. Our community is beautiful because the average citizen cares. Our community will become more beautiful because the average citizen will continue to care. Let's accept the challenge by voting "NO" to Proposition No. 1.

Leonard Klein

1. I question whether or not we are receiving adequate protection with our present two-man Township Police Force. It seems to me it is almost humanly impossible for two men to serve an area encompassing 14-plus square miles. I am concerned (1) Are township residents satisfied with the protection they are currently receiving? (2) If not, are they willing to support some form of an expanded program?

If their answer to the second question is Yes, then...when the cost of an expanded program reaches the proposed figure indicated in the Citizens Police Study Commission Report, I would favor sitting down with the City of Northville and seeking an agreement with them combining the Township Police Force with theirs.

By so doing, the Township would hedge against the spiraling cost of expanding the Township force and at the same time would receive an increase in protection at considerably less expense than would be entailed by expanding the Township force separately beyond that point.

The township currently enjoys the following service jointly with the City of Northville: (1) A well-equipped fire department, (2) An active recreation program, and (3) A community library. Why not personal safety and protection of property?

2. At the time the original Levitt request for rezoning was presented to the Township Planning Commission, I was chairman...and supported their request. I felt that it was an acceptable means of rehabilitating the blighted area that had resulted from the mining of sand and gravel on the property lying north of Seven Mile Road and east of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks.

I received their second request for rezoning with reservation. However, after due consideration I felt that, with modification, their request if granted, would not adversely affect the character of the zoning granted in their first request. I.E., the density of the area...and it was still a good land use. It increased the green space areas considerably and provided for single family homes to be built along the northern and easterly boundaries.

I support the action taken by the Township Board.

Charles Schaeffer

1. Concerning police services, I propose that the Township Board make some decision and commitment concerning their development. Further, this commitment must be made soon. My intention is to inform the people of where they stand, relative to receiving needed police services — they have been kept in the dark long enough. The specifics of the "decision and commitment" are not so simple. There is not sufficient information available at this time for anyone, from Supervisor to citizen, to make such a decision.

I propose that a joint committee, comprised of board members and citizens, be appointed in order to investigate and present facts, facts about ALL alternative choices for police services, since all previous "studies" have not done this. I stress facts only, without recommendations. Decisions are the responsibility delegated to our elected officials. I further propose that the committee members possess various backgrounds, in order to provide as broad a spectrum of viewpoints as possible.

2. The Township Planning Commission and the Township Board of Trustees recently concurred in an action to permit rezoning of a portion of the Highland Lakes development. A group of Township residents thought the issue important enough to be decided by the voters. A petition was filed, requesting that the question be placed on the ballot. This action has subsequently placed the responsibility for a decision upon the voters of the Township, and removed it from the Township Board. Thus, the issue is now to be decided by each individual voter in the privacy of the voting booth. If a majority of the voters confirm the Board action, no further Board action is necessary. If the proposal is denied, the matter may not be reconsidered by the Board for two years.

Therefore, to take a public stand, as an elected official, on an issue that may come up two long years from now, would be to make a decision based on incomplete information. To take a stand today, as a private citizen, means I must make a personal decision, based upon current information. The Constitution of the United States and of the State of Michigan guarantees me the right of privacy concerning that decision.

Senior Citizens especially welcome—Coffee Served

105 E. Main

Northville

TALKING IT OVER — At an open house Saturday, sponsored by Levitt and Sons on the site of its new multi-residential development, Highland Lakes, east of the city, citizens gathered to hear designers explain methods, problems, and future plans involved in the project. Coffee and donuts were served as citizens and non-citizens alike wandered around the half completed buildings.

Citizens Group Supports Levitt

Citizens for Proposition 1 has been organized by a group of Northville Township residents to urge a "yes" vote on the proposal to support rezoning of a small portion of Levitt & Sons new Highland Lakes development.

Proposition 1 appears as a local issue on the November 3 ballot as a result of a petition filed by 362 township residents following a vote by the Northville Township Board to approve rezoning of the property by the Township Planning Commission.

In urging a "Yes" vote on Proposition 1, the citizens' group claims that some signers of the petition to place the issue on the ballot "were not aware of all the facts when they signed it and are now disposed to vote in favor of the rezoning."

Listing eight specific reasons for supporting the rezoning in a full-page advertisement in today's issue of The Record, the citizens' committee cited the increased tax surplus of approximately $100,000 that would accrue to the Northville School District as a result of the rezoning.

"This (the rezoning) effectively reduces the school tax burden for other residents of the Northville School District," the committee asserts.

The advertisement also emphasizes the addition of 20 acres of greenbelt and open space as a result of the rezoning, and points out that more than 150 acres of the total area of 430 acres will now be devoted to lakes, meadows, recreational areas, beaches, greenbelts, and a 10-acre elementary school site donated by the Highland Lakes developers, Levitt & Sons, to the school district.

According to the committee, the rezoning results in a density of "less than half that permitted for the area" under the Northville Township zoning ordinance.

"This is a point that will not go unnoted when national publications come here, as we believe they will, to tell the story of the remarkable conversion of a gravel pit and slag mill into one of America's most beautiful and best planned residential communities," the committee reasons.

Pointing out that the rezoning plan "is vital to the successful implementation of the total Highland Lakes community, and was approved after more than six months of meetings and public hearings, in which little public opposition, sometimes none at all, was voiced," the committee asks, "Is it fair now to break faith with our elected and appointed officials, and the competent, highly professional, impartial planning and engineering consultants who are paid to advise them?"

The citizens' group also contends that Levitt broke ground in "good faith" in August" after rezoning was approved "and without the slightest hint that a few citizens would attempt to overturn the rezoning in a November election."

Continuing, they ask, "Is it fair now to jeopardize the entire project by rejecting the action of our elected officials, and to perhaps deprive the township of a lovely new community, while preserving a public eyesore for our children, and possibly even their children, to inherit."

Concluding their statement, the committee says, "We believe the thoughtful, concerned, fair-minded residents of Northville Township will agree with us that Highland Lakes represents an exciting new development that we should welcome to our area."

Elementary Pupils Use Science Kits

Elementary science classes have a new feature this year — science kits that include experiments students in kindergarten through fifth grade can do themselves.

The kits were shown to members of the Northville Board of Education Monday night and board members commended Mrs. Betty Meredith, former grade school teacher from Florida, for volunteering her services in collecting materials for all the science kits. Committee members also drew praise for their enthusiasm shown for the new science program.

According to Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum coordinator, a committee was established last year to review the science program and come up with recommendations for changes at the elementary level.

Members of the committee included James Honey, fourth grade teacher at Amerman; Mrs. Susan Karschnick, third grade, Amerman; Jeffrey Lightfoot, fifth, Main Street; Mrs. Naomi Poe, fourth, Moraine; and Mrs. Katherine Dinsmore, third, Main Street.

Making the presentation Monday were Mrs. Gayle Fountain, Mrs. Michele Kotowicz, both first grade teachers at Moraine, and Mrs. Meredith, along with Miss Panattoni.

Miss Panattoni said the kindergarten through fifth grade science program guides were "developed with the science kit idea in mind, enabling all teachers to teach science."

The program is broken down into two areas, physical and biological science. Included in the physical science are matter, energy and universe. In the biological science are animals and plants.

SPEAKING

for The Record

BY BIL SLIGER

If it has not already past, the time is most certainly rapidly approaching when leadership and unanimity must be exerted in Northville township so that a course for the future can be charted.

Longtime residents have enjoyed the spacious, rural atmosphere and most continue to hope that it can be maintained as long as possible. But they have not been unaware of what the future holds. Township officials and planners of the past two decades have accurately predicted growth patterns. And they set forth a master plan to act as a guideline.

But no one has been so bold as to propose how Northville township should handle the challenge of growth from a governmental standpoint.

The pressures of growth are now beginning to become evident. Certainly we must ask ourselves whether we can cope with the requests from developers and need for services with the same tools used when stray horses and uplifted outhouses were problems.

Hopefully, the new board can act to reduce the divisiveness that has become increasingly evident in recent months. Likewise, the board, itself, must take the initiative in identifying its problems in order of urgency. And in some manner, perhaps through broad citizen participation coupled with the assistance of board members, potential solutions can be established.

In the final analysis, the board must take the responsibility for action. But the various alternatives should be fully aired and examined.

There is evidence that if such action is not taken, or piecemeal problem-solving is permitted to continue, Northville township will face a serious split that will leave it forever divided.

The challenge for the future rests with the new township board and with its ability to gain the confidence and cooperation of its citizens.

An Editorial

Our Choices in Tuesday's Election

In the paragraphs to follow this newspaper will relate to its readers the opinions that have been gathered as the result of personal contact and studied observations.

It would be foolhardy to suggest that the opinions of our staff members, like those of any other observer, are not sprinkled with personal prejudices.

But, unlike some publications, we believe that it is our obligation to give readers the benefit of our opinions; and we think it is our responsibility to arrive at these conclusions with as much objectivity as possible, regardless of our personal prejudices.

Frankly, we consider ourselves experts on local affairs. Just as the banker, the automaker, the insurance agent are well qualified through personal experience to expound on the business that receives their daily attention, we believe the newspaper reporter who is in daily contact with the people who run our local governments has sound advice to offer.

Although not an assignment calculated to win friends and promote business, we believe candidate endorsements and editorial viewpoints on pertinent local issues provide the ingredient that separates a newspaper from a rubbish wrapper and gives the publication its stomach.

To the best of our ability, therefore, we're telling it like it is...in our opinion. And we invite readers to become better acquainted with the candidates and issues by reading the many news stories, candidates' statements, letters-to-the-editor and political advertisements which collectively provide a wide variety of viewpoints.

In addition, a special "Voter's Guide" accompanies this edition. It has been designed not to persuade, but to inform and to encourage a good turnout at the polls. It will tell you what you can expect to find on the ballot when you visit the voting booth.

Klein, Schaeffer for Trustees

Two Republicans and one Democrat seek two seats on the board of trustees in the lone contest in Northville township.

We heartily endorse Leonard Klein, Republican, for one trustee post.

He has a performance record that can be measured. It clearly indicates that Klein reaches his decision after thoughtful consideration of all the facts available. We do not always agree with his conclusions, but we have never found them without support of reason.

Choosing between Republican Charles L. Schaeffer, Jr., and Democrat Joseph Fiorilli for the second seat is difficult if one is honestly trying to decide which candidate would make the better trustee for Northville township.

Neither have held public office locally; both have shown interest in their local government.

Realistically, there's little chance that Fiorilli can be elected. He's running as a Democrat in Republican country.

But our vote will go to Schaeffer and we'll hope for the best. This, despite the fact that, win or lose, we would have been delighted to support Fiorilli. There's something about a solid block (be it Republican or Democrat) that's annoying. And we had hoped that Fiorilli might provide a voice of reason that could be hailed as a needed ingredient.

Instead he has chosen a negative approach presumably on the theory that there are enough disgruntled voters to bring him victory.

We do not agree with his conclusions on vital issues involving the welfare of our community.

Admittedly, it's more difficult to appraise Schaeffer. We are perplexed by his refusal to take a public stand on the Levitt zoning issue that will appear on Tuesday's ballot. His reasoning for straddling the fence introduces a unique loophole for aspirants to public office that's frightening. We continue to believe that a voter has a right to know exactly where a candidate stands on every issue. That's as American as apple pie.

Nevertheless, we hear voices we respect saying that Schaeffer will demonstrate "independent thinking" if he is elected.

Undoubtedly, voters will give him the opportunity to establish his own performance record.

'Yes' on Levitt Zoning

Again we emphasize our conviction that Northville township electors should vote "YES" on all three local propositions.

No. 1 calls for support of the so-called "Levitt zoning" that permits the construction of more townhouse units and fewer single-family detached homes in the Highland Lakes gravel-mining area development.

The zoning modification is not harmful to the township; it represents a compromise set forth by township officials to solve a problem that they considered genuine and worthy of consideration; there would be no direct, measurable gain to the township by reversing the decision.

VOTE "YES" on Proposition No. 1.

'Yes' on Sale of Library Building

Propositions No. 2 and No. 3 likewise should be given "YES" votes. Number 2 grants the board permission to sell its share of the old library building (township hall) in conjunction with the city if a desirable commercial complex (currently under study) becomes a reality. The total community stands to benefit from the proposal. Many citizens, both city and township residents, have worked as a part of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee to convert available business district space into tax-producing, job-providing business developments.

Their efforts deserve a "Yes" vote on Proposal No. 2.

Readers Speak

Trustee Labels Articles Distortions

To the Editor:

After reading the last few issues of The Northville Record, I feel I must comment on untrue and distorted articles that have appeared, written by the editor (owner) and one or two of his followers.

When I was asked to run for the office of township trustee, my commitments were that I would represent all the people in this township, not special interest people or groups. When an item appears on the agenda, I take the time to study it, at home in a quiet surrounding, and by talking to the people in the area most affected, not in some cocktail lounge like the Thunderbird Inn or Meadowbrook Country Club. Then, I base my decisions on facts, not politics.

'Yes' on Abolishing Annual Meeting

A "YES" vote on Proposal No. 3 will eliminate the annual township meeting. If the disappearance of such a meeting threatened to jeopardize citizen control over its elected government, this newspaper would never support the proposal.

But the fact is that the meeting is very poorly attended and consequently does not represent a form of democracy-in-action as was originally intended. It is possible for a handful of people, constituting perhaps less than one one-hundredth of the electorate, to impose their will on the board.

Vote "YES" on Proposal No. 3.

'No' on County Proposal

We strongly urge voters of Oakland County to turn down the proposal that would raise the annual county tax millage limitation from 15 mills to 18 mills. It has been noted, and we concur, that the proposal as written is misleading and nowhere indicates to voters that a "yes" vote would raise property taxes by 3 mills.

That part of the proposal freezing the annual allocations to governmental agencies at specific millage rates we find desirable. We suggest that a different proposal be put to the voters freezing or fixing the allocation of the current 15-mill limitation, thus eliminating the arbitrary county allocation board and establishing firm rates upon which each of the governmental agencies could more accurately base their annual budgets.

Moelke, Coy for Commissioners

While two years ago we opposed the election — and more recently the nomination — of Incumbent Lew Coy for Oakland County Commissioner of the 27th District, our interviews and recent contacts with the two candidates convince us that Coy is better qualified than his Democratic opponent, William Roberts. Furthermore, we are delighted Coy has accepted our earlier criticism and is now making a conscientious effort to communicate with the municipal officials in the southern part of his district.

Although we recognize that Harvey Moelke often antagonizes his opponents unnecessarily, we nevertheless support him for the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in the 26th District primarily because of his wealth of experience at both the municipal and county levels. While our contact with his opponent, John McCann, admittedly has been limited, we are disappointed by his failure to offer constructive solutions for problems he sees in county government.

Stempien, Smart for Representative

While Republican Bob Swanson has been an able candidate, speaking to the issues and challenging his opponent's voting record, on a number of important subjects, we do not see him as the better representative of the 35th District. Incumbent Democrat Marvin Stempien has demonstrated, we believe, that important quality of providing local assistance, especially in Northville, without sacrificing his own principles. In backing Stempien, however, we re-emphasize our strong disagreement with his support of parochialism. On this subject, and perhaps on others as well, we find Swanson's position more acceptable.

Although we often are exasperated by the seeming inability of legislators to carry through on previous campaign promises, we recognize that politics can spoil even the best laid plans. That is how we view Incumbent Representative Clifford Smart, who despite his long service in the educational field and his strong and commendable positions on how best to increase support of schools while reducing the tax burden upon property owners, has been unable to accomplish his goals. Given the same political opposition, however, his opponent could do no better.

Smart's record and his philosophies are sound and we believe voters should give him their support.

Pursell for Senator

Carl Pursell was our favorite in the primary election and he is our favorite in the upcoming general election. His past positive performance as a leading, active citizen of Plymouth and as a member of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners are, we believe, indicative of the kind of positive leadership that he will bring to the Michigan Senate. Voters of the 16th District could ask for none better.

Esch, McDonald for Congress

If you slice through the moss that seems to grow up around veteran lawmakers at election time, Congressman Marvin Esch of the Second District still possesses the intelligence and political acumen that won him our support two years ago. His Democratic opponent, Michael Stillwagon, lacks experience and we fear he is taking positions on issues, such as law and order, out of political expediency and not out of conviction.

In the race for United States Representative of the 19th District, we find both candidates well qualified with our support going to Incumbent Republican Jack McDonald because of his proven Congressional abilities. His Democratic opponent, has impressed us with his forthright stand on major issues and his personable appeal but we do not believe he could or would represent constituents of the 19th District any more ably than has McDonald.

Maybe it's no concern of mine or of anyone else in our area because we are not Detroit residents but the recent so-called auction at Maybury Sanatorium, located between Seven and Eight Mile Roads west of Beck in Northville Township, strikes me as a first-rate boondoggle that should concern the taxpayers of Detroit.

They may not know it but they were robbed a couple weeks ago — and not by their over-publicized muggers.

Area residents will recall that the former nationally famed tubercular institution, owned and operated by Detroit, was shut down last year as an economy measure (there weren't enough patients to warrant its continued operation) and the Detroit Common Council, hard-pressed to find sufficient funds to finance the budget, decided to sell the property — nearly 1,000 acres of land and buildings and equipment.

Northville quickly offered to purchase some 200 acres of land for a municipal park. Many other offers, mostly from developers, also were made. But Detroit's surplus property officials, while agreeing to consider Northville's offer, decided that a marketing analysis was first necessary. That analysis has been in the works for about a year.

Presumably, suggestions that the buildings be used for a job corps center, a drug rehabilitation center, a juvenile detention home, and a police training center, have gone by the boards.

Meanwhile, vandals, despite patrolling by watchmen, have been taking their toll.

But all of that is just background information — not really the subject at hand.

Apparently, in recent weeks Detroit surplus property officials decided to sell the equipment housed in the Maybury buildings, which for the uninitiated, are not just outhouses but large brick buildings that together rival the size of Wayne County General Hospital.

And much of the equipment housed therein was in better shape than that presently being used by staff and patients at Eloise. As a matter of fact some of it was new.

Anyway, the sale was turned into a private auction a couple of weeks ago. I say 'private' because relatively few Detroit taxpayers and hardly any local citizens or officials were aware of it. Of course, wholesalers and their trucks were on hand.

Being a member of the uninvited public, I can only report what others told me — namely that there were fewer persons present than at a local farm auction.

Most of the equipment — furniture, beds, refrigerators, etc. — were sold in lots. Six wheel chairs, for example, went for $5. Beds, in lots of 100, sold for 10-cents each. Altogether some 600 item lots were listed in the auction inventory. Even a giant water tower and a barber's chair were sold.

When it was all over, the City of Detroit grossed the grand total of $17,800 and — after the auctioneer's take — netted about $13,000 or about the equivalent of one Detroit policeman's salary.

Unless I miss my bet Detroit's auditors showed an inventory value of far in excess of $100,000. And if they didn't Mayor Gibbs had better clean house.

In defense of the "auction", Russell Chambers, Detroit's real estate supervisor, told this newspaper that "it would have taken days to sell in smaller quantities."

Which means, I guess, that Detroit taxpayers are more interested in saving time than saving dollars.

The truth is Mr. Straub, after a statement by a spectator from the audience, asked to have the police report reconsidered. I felt that was ridiculous, as Mr. Straub was present and in favor of acceptance. I questioned our attorney and he stated if we accepted this report (which we had) we could change it at any time, at any board meeting we wished. He explained it was not binding on this board or any following boards. Keeping this in mind, I felt the report should be studied by the whole board with its newly elected members after November 3. All this report shows is the projected costs, if approved by you the voters for the next five years.

Evidently, I am, in some way, upsetting someone else's plans that I do not believe are in the best interest of residents of the township.

The next point is a (former) township trustee wants me recalled because I think for myself. This same man, when he could not get his own way in the middle of an official board meeting, got up, threw his papers down, and said, "I quit," instead of staying and trying like he was elected

4. Provide specialized police services on a county-wide basis.

Before learning that the commission's action did not kill the patrol, Stromberg was bitter, charging that the commission had taken action without regard to the safety of township residents. Northville Township, with but a limited police force of its own, depends on the road patrol and without it the township would be largely unprotected, Stromberg said.

Presently being considered by the township board is a controversial report and recommendation by Northville Township Police Chief Ron Nisun that the township begin gradual establishment of its own full-time police department.

to do, thereby depriving those who voted for him. I, personally, do not care for a quitter, or one who takes his ball and bat and goes home when he does not get his own way.

If some small political group in the township wants to join the city, they should put the question directly to all the citizens of the township, not by putting the citizens in a political pinch, by selling one service contract, then another and another until the people have no alternative.

If we are looking toward the area of grouping the government for the benefit of less expense, serious consideration should be given to Plymouth Township and Northville Township merging. Then we could still have the services of the Wayne County Road Commission, for which we pay taxes. If we are annexed by the city of Northville we will continue to pay these taxes, but not receive their total services. If the people of the township elect to be annexed by the city, then I am for it.

In the field of law enforcement, I believe the local government should provide road patrol and emergency service. And most all specialized services, such as narcotics and investigation should be provided for by the County in lieu of the County Road Patrol using our existing county tax dollars.

In local police departments, specialized services spend more time overlapping each other than in their own local area. But the policeman on the beat spends most of his time in contact with people in the local area and should be under the control of the local government.

Voters League Backs Proposal 'C'

To the Editor:

The League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth urges voters in the November election to vote for the passage of Proposal C.

This proposed constitutional amendment asks the people of Michigan if they want to constitutionally restrict the extent of public support for nonpublic schools.

The following facts are given to clarify some of the issues raised by this proposed amendment.

AUXILIARY SERVICES

Auxiliary services, as listed in the law (school code 340.622), include health and nursing services and examinations; street crossing guards services; national defense education act testing services; speech correction services; visiting teacher services for delinquent and disturbed children; school diagnostician services for all mentally handicapped children; teacher counsellor services for physically handicapped children; teacher consultant services for mentally handicapped or emotionally disturbed children; remedial reading; and such other services as may be determined by the legislature.

The Michigan Department of Education has ruled that these services shall be made available at the nonpublic school to nonpublic school children during the established regular school day.

If Proposal C were passed on November 3, 1970, the courts would have to interpret finally whether any of these auxiliary services could be continued in the nonpublic school, or be offered solely in the public school.

SHARED TIME
This is not a legally defined expression. It has come to mean generally two things to most people: (1) enrollment of students part-time in the public schools; and (2) providing the services of certified lay teachers to teach secular subjects in nonpublic institutions (through agreement between schools; there are no laws or rules governing this latter arrangement).

Article VIII, Section 2 of the Michigan Constitution provided, "...Every School District shall provide for the education of its pupils without discrimination as to religion, race, color or national origin."

At the present time, part-time students in the public schools are included, on a pro-rated basis, in the total membership for the purpose of receiving state aid. (This has been confirmed by attorney general opinion August 22, 1963.)

If Proposal C were passed, again the courts would be the final interpreting body.

TRANSPORTATION

This proposed amendment says, "...The legislature may provide for the transportation of students to and from any school," and, therefore, does not affect the existing legislative authority to provide for transportation.

PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTION

The Michigan Constitution states in Article IX, Section 4, "Property owned and occupied by non-profit religious or educational organizations and used exclusively for religious or educational purposes, as defined by law, shall be exempt from real and personal property taxes." The proposed amendment would not affect this present constitutional provision.

LIBRARIES

The Michigan Constitution provides in Article VIII, Section 9, "The legislature shall provide by law for the establishment and support of public libraries which shall be available to all residents of the state under regulations adopted by the governing bodies thereof...."

The proposed amendment would not affect this present constitutional provision.

The proposal would amend the state constitution to restrict aid to nonpublic schools. The LWV of NORTHVILLE LODGE NO. 186 F. & A.M.

Regular Meeting Second Monday

Kenneth R. Pelto, W.M.
Lawrence M. Miller, Sec.

Northville-Plymouth strongly recommends this proposed amendment be approved by the voters.

Passage of the amendment would prohibit the further spending of public funds for nonpublic schools such as the present $22 million appropriated for the salaries of lay teachers teaching

More 'C' Support

To the Editor:

I support Proposition C because it stops efforts of private interests in gaining public money for segregated schools and because our traditional separation of church and state is essential to our country's continued development for all the people's benefit.

But parochial supporters have a great and expensive campaign. They have been most successful in the past; first in 1963 with scholarship legislation, later with transportation, auxiliary services and this year with direct financial aid. Their goal is for the public to pay the bill on private education. House Speaker Ryan makes no secret of his intent to do this and apparently with a minimum of public control. Currently the state governs public schools with rules filling more than 1600 pages; private schools are regulated by 16 paragraphs.

If parochial continues, more than 90 percent of all parochial funds will secular subjects in nonpublic schools.

The league is deeply committed to the principal of equality of opportunity of education for all children in Michigan regardless of race, color or creed. We feel strongly this equality of opportunity is best accomplished in a public school system open to all.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Edward J. Hancock

Chairman: Taxation-
Education Committee

Opposes Rezoning

To the Editor:

We urge the citizens of Northville Township to evaluate on November 3, Proposition No. 1 concerning the acceptance of the revision to the original Levitt zoning request to one permitting more multiple development.

The proposed change develops a new total of 1,706 multiple dwelling units over the former total of 1,314 units and replaces a plan which had exhibited more of a balance between multiple and single dwelling uses.

This issue was thoroughly reviewed in the Public Hearing. The Hearing was attended by an abundant number of Township citizens who, after hearing the presentation, expressed their objections to the proposal.

It is our view that the Master Plan for the Township is sound in its references to population densities. The geography of our area limits the probability of supportive uses such as industrial, etc. There are NOW ZONED sufficient land areas for multiple usage which will swiftly breeze well beyond the guidelines provided in the Plan regarding the numbers of dwelling units allowable.

We, therefore, are in disagreement with the position taken by the Township on this specific issue, and we are satisfied that it shall be well considered by the public.

Respectfully,
James L. Nowka

County Proposal Draws His Fire

To the Editor:

The Novi News of October 1, 1970 printed an article entitled "Tax Increase Inevitable," which contained several statements by Mr. Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors. The statements by Mr. Murphy were a weak attempt to justify the tax increase proposal which will be on the November 6, 1970 ballot.

I do not believe that tax increases are inevitable. The taxpayer revolt is growing, and eventually we will be able to elect public officials who are more interested in eliminating non-essential activities and saving money than in finding "new sources of revenue."

Mr. Murphy stated, "If no more people moved into the county, then we'd be able to provide the services we do now at no increase in fee. But with every new person, costs go up, and taxes go up with them." It may be true that costs go up; however, like most school boards, Mr. Murphy does not recognize that those new people pay the increased taxes and that no tax rate increase is needed.

Mr. Murphy feels that the tax allocation should be frozen and wants it frozen at a higher level. The idea of a set allocation of the millage is very good; however, if Murphy and Company are so interested in doing the job that the taxpayers want, they would freeze the allocation at the present 15 mill level. Elimination of the tax allocation board will not save me one cent unless it results in a reduction of the total millage assessed against my property, and it certainly does not save me any money when it results in a millage increase.

I am not at all interested in a three mill tax increase at this or any other time. If the Board of Auditors are so interested in helping the taxpayers, they could well spend some time in looking for ways to eliminate non-essential activities and reduce county administrative costs.

Wixom Horse Owners to Meet

A meeting of Wixom-area horse lovers has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday, October 31, at the Calico Kitchen, Wixom Road and I-96. Horse and pony owners are invited to discuss the feasibility of a horse-owners association for the area.

Paul Green and Cledis Warren, who have arranged the meeting, have distributed a flyer throughout the area, envisioning the association as a family-type group with barrel and local-track races and trail rides. Saturday's meeting will be dutch-treat refreshments.

Clarkston's the Robber

Two TDs in Final Seconds Spoil Mustang Effort

The same players were wearing the same Mustang uniforms Friday night but it was a different team that very nearly upset visiting Clarkston and came close to ending a season-long losing streak.

But despite a valiant effort, both defensively and offensively, the Mustangs let a tie, possibly even a victory, slip from their grasp in the closing seconds of the game and the Wolves returned home with a 12-0 triumph.

The two teams battled to a scoreless tie through three quarters of football before the Wolves parlayed an intercepted pass and four excellent ground plays into a touchdown with but 1:43 seconds remaining in the fourth period.

That TD was a stunning blow but hurt less than the very next play. Dale Griffith took the Clarkston kick at the Mustangs' 20 yard line and streaked 80 yards for what appeared to be a tying touchdown. But a clipping penalty nullified the six-pointed and to add insult to injury Northville was slapped with an additional 15-yard penalty because its coaches protested the decision too vociferously.

Clarkston then iced its victory by picking off another Northville pass 20 seconds later and galloping in for the second and final touchdown.

Despite the low scoring game, it was an exciting one for fans who were treated to some razzle-dazzle offense ranging from laterals and shotgun plays on the part of Clarkston to multi-receiver combinations by Northville.

Stellar performance of the night was turned in by Clarkston's Rick Prasil who proved to be the real workhorse. Repeatedly the Wolves turned to him whenever a major ground attack was launched and especially when yardage was needed for a first down — and in most cases the choice was a wise one.

It was Prasil, for example, who in three plays ripped through Northville's line to set up Clarkston's first touchdown, with Fullback Mark Swanson pushing over from the one-foot line.

It was End Kurt Richardson who pulled in the Northville pass seconds later to score Clarkston's second TD from 22 yards out.

COACH AL KLUKACH

"We were in the hole because of penalties but regardless I think we played a fine game."

Northville carries an 0-5 league record into their contest with Brighton Friday and Klukach hopes his gridders will continue to "block and tackle."

The Bulldogs also are 0-5 after their loss Friday to Andover.

Following the Brighton game, Northville will close out its season against Waterford Kettering, having dropped its last game to West Bloomfield.

MUSTANG HARRIERS — Closing their season 9-2, with a third place in the Clarkston Invitational and a tie for seventh in the Schoolcraft Invitational, the Mustangs will compete in regional meets to be held in Cass Benton Park Saturday at 10 a.m. From left to right they are (standing) Coach Ben Lauber, David Johnson, David Wright, Curt Sauer, Wayne Enders, and Karl Weber. Kneeling they are Bill McIntire, David Newitt, Rick Bell and Guy Dixon.

Local Thinclads Dump Barons

Northville harriers ran circles around West Bloomfield Andover last week Tuesday as they spotted the Barons 19 points, finishing 20 — 39 to win their last dual meet prior to regional and state competition.

The Mustangs finished their dual season third in the Wayne-Oakland League, dropping only two contests, — to ace Clarkston and second-ranked West Bloomfield — for nine victories.

Coach Ben Lauber will take his squad into regional competition Saturday at Cass Benton Park. Class B runners are to start at 10 a.m. with A's following at 10:30. The brace of tracksters to perform in state elimination meets slated in Ypsilanti November 2, will be the two top teams, plus the top 10 individuals, from the regionals.

In the Andover meet Rick Bell finished a slight .30 ahead of Baron Ted Cavin to ice first place for the Mustangs with a time of 13.01. Other Northville runners finishing inside of the 13 minute mark were Guy Dixon and Dave Wright in third and fourth place with 13:35 and 13:51, respectively. Following for the local squad in fifth, seventh, ninth and tenth were Wayne Enders at 14:04, Curt Sauer at 14:15, Dave Johnson at 14:49, and Dave Newitt at 15:15.

Novi JV Wins

Things started out slow in junior varsity gridiron action last week for both area teams.

For Novi things came together in the final quarter but for Northville, fortune just never smiled.

Novi handed Dundee a 16-14 defeat with the help of Eric Hansor who plunged over from the one foot line to tie the score and then pulled down a screen pass, carrying the ball for 40 yards for the winning TD.

Northville, meanwhile, met Andover on foreign turf and came home nursing a 28-0 shutout.

"Our offensive line was very poor," said JV Coach Robert Simpson. "We had four first downs the entire game. There were three fumbles in the first half, although we recovered two of them. We completed just two passes in

Ned Harkness Speaks

Benefit Boosts Hockey

A capacity crowd of boosters of Northville's junior hockey players turned out last week Wednesday at a benefit dinner program featuring guest speaker Ned Harkness, Detroit Red Wing coach.

The fund-raising event, sponsored by the Junior Hockey Association, was held at the Thunderbird Inn.

Lone association in the metropolitan area to pay for ice time for its young participants, the local group working within the framework of the Northville Recreation Department has planned a number of events to raise funds for this purpose.

"It takes a lot of money just to rent ice time for these youngsters to practice hockey," a spokesman explained, "so any financial support is greatly appreciated."

Youngsters participating in the program will begin league competition next month. Also, for those youngsters who have voiced interest but may not qualify for this year's four locally sponsored teams, special hockey clinics and activities are planned "so that we can reach as many youngsters as possible," officials emphasized.

League participants are grouped in four age brackets — Squirrels, 10 years and under; Peewees, 12 years and under; Bantams, 14 and under; and midgets, 16 years and under.

Each of the local teams has an individual sponsor — John Mach Ford, Thomson Sand & Gravel, Thunderbird Inn, and the Order of the Eagles.

In addition to Harkness, special guests and/or speakers attending last week's program included Hugh Bradley, association president; Bruce Martin, television sportscaster; Jim Kokowicz, president of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association; and Dick LeBeau, Detroit Lion defensive halfback.

Brown intercepted a pass and was downed on the enemy 40.

Following a number of penalties, on a fourth and 20 situation, Brown dropped back and uncorked an aerial to Hansor who with the assistance of blockers Roger Pelchat, Dave Sinicola and Ron Wilenius galloped 40 yards for the TD.

Extra point conversion came on a right-end run by Brown.

Dundee returned the kick-off to Novi's 40 and from there began a sustained march that ended in a touchdown with but four minutes remaining in the game.

Dundee Downs Novi, 26-6 In Friday's Homecoming

With two games to go in their Southeastern Conference debut, the Wildcats are still looking for their first league victory.

Novi took to the field Friday — homecoming night — against Dundee with hopes of stopping star Fullback Bill Busch and producing that first win.

Such was not to be, however, as Busch scored three touchdowns (and assisted in a fourth) to engineer a 26-6 Dundee victory.

Dundee scored in every quarter except the third, beginning in the early minutes of the game as Novi gave them the ball on their own 25-yard-line as a result of a kick-off return fumble.

After six short ground plays, Dundee's fullback punched through Novi's line with a seven-yard run for the TD.

The Wildcats held solid until the tail-end of the first half, assisted by 52 yards of Dundee penalties, when a fumble robbed them of the ball on their own 22 yard line. From there Dundee pushed to the 20, to the 14, to the 10, to the seven, and finally to the two before Busch ripped through the middle of the line to plant his squad's second six-pointer.

As in the first, the extra point attempt failed.

With the start of the third period Novi launched a drive that looked as if it were bound for glory. The Wildcats only made it to their 35, however, as Halfback Gothrell Johnson intercepted one of Steve Likkari's bombs. Dundee started a drive of its own that went through three first downs and a 15-yard Novi penalty to the one-yard-line where Johnson plunged over for the TD.

The extra point was good and with the score at 20-0 Novi returned the kick-off to the thirty-seven and made a first down before it was stopped as Likkari tried twice to complete a pass.

On Dundee's first down, however, a fumble ended up in the arms of Halfback Tom Ford and it was Novi's ball.

A Dundee penalty carried Novi to the enemy 35-yard-line. Likkari connected with an aerial to the 20 and then hit Pat Boyer who weaved through the Dundee defense for the TD.

Dundee returned Novi's kick-off to the home 43, then after throwing 22 yards in the air, Quarterback Mark Schultz hit Busch for a short five-yarder that sent him 15 yards into the endzone.

Novi hosts Ypsilanti Lincoln Friday night and closes out against South Lyon the following week. Both games are grudge matches with the Wildcats coming out on the short end of a 12-6 loss to Lincoln, and 22-16 loss to South Lyon last year.

COACH JOHN OSBORNE

"Any time you play a lot of young kids," said Novi mentor John Osborne, "you're bound to make mistakes... This is what inexperience does... We paid the price for our young kids the other night."

The coach spoke of his squad's 26-6 defeat at the hands of Dundee Friday night.

"We made plenty of mistakes giving them field position a number of times in very critical situations.

"Such things as the failure to catch the ball on the opening kick-off and the fumble once it was recovered which led to the first touchdown, the fumble in the second quarter that led to the second touchdown, and the pass interception in the third quarter that led to the third touchdown just shouldn't have happened.

"We just never seem to get a good position in the first half in which we can use our entire offensive power. Most of the time we're near our own goal line and when you get backed up into your own territory, you find the other team plays a little tougher, is a little more anxious to win, and as a consequence, its tougher to operate."

Novi goes up against Ypsilanti Lincoln in a grudge match Friday night. Last year, the Railsplitters handed the Wildcats a tough 12-6 defeat with the help of Bruce Acuss, a back who made all-league.

"He's doing about as well this year" said Osborne. "He scored four touchdowns last week and our scouts tell us he gained some 200 yards. He'll definitely be another Bill Busch that we'll have to watch out for."

Busch proved to be the Wildcat's nemesis Friday night, scoring three of Dundee's four touchdowns.

Colts Split Three

A romping victory, a shutout, and a scoreless tie marked Colt action Sunday, preparatory to their closing duel with the Plymouth Lyons this week.

The local contingent got off to a flying start by whipping the Garden City frosh 54-0. Garden City bounced back in the Junior Varsity edition, however, shutting out the Colts 14-0. Neither team could get past the other in the varsity match, and the game ended in a scoreless deadlock with the Colts threatening on the one yard line.

Northville started slow in the first quarter of the freshman game but exploded in the second stanza with three touchdowns — the first off a fumble and the second and third on 45 and 35-yard punt returns.

Colt offense was stymied during much of the third quarter, getting through once with a 45-yard run that was good for the TD.

In the closing period the Colts let loose with a 50-yard pass play that went to the end zone and followed up with a 51-yard quarterback option play and a sustained drive from a blocked punt, all three of which were good for a goal.

The Tiger Junior Varsity rallied in the next contest and although they went scoreless through the first period, recovered a fumble in the second stanza and gained control of the ball on the Colt 15.

Three plays later they were in the end-zone and their extra point was good. Their defense held solid throughout the remainder of the game.

Novi coach Rick Trudeau's squad boasts a 4-1-1 record going into its closing battles this week and next with Ypsilanti Lincoln and South Lyon.

Northville, on the other hand, is 1-4 with three games remaining. The Mustangs were to play Clarkston Tuesday night, and are slated to meet Brighton and Kettering during the next two weeks.

That fantastic final stanza of Novi's game started out with the Wildcats six points in the hole and threatening on Dundee's one foot line. Following the score, Dave Brown hit Dan Cardell in the end zone for the two-point conversion.

According to police reports, officers spotted a 14-year-old youth riding the bike on Ridge Road between Seven Mile and Ridge Court. The youth attempted to flee police and lost control of the bike, falling off.

The bike was returned to the boy's parents Monday.

Police Chief Ron Nisun issued a warning to owners of mini-bikes that it is "illegal to operate mini-bikes on public roads, streets and property. The vehicles must be operated on private property only."

A clarinet valued at some $150 was reported stolen last week from the Novi High School band room.

The instrument was owned by Dawn Growell of 23860 Meadowbrook. Police say the clarinet was stolen sometime after band practice on Tuesday, October 13.

Police suspect that Kenneth Bassett, upon returning home in the afternoon, Friday, scared off persons who were robbing his home.

The Bassett home at 42366 12 Mile was found broken into when the

Two Share Third In Grid Contest

All four winners in last week's football contest came up with 14 correct answers so the order of their prizes was determined by the scores they predicted for the Detroit-Chicago game.

Taking first place and the $10 prize was Larry Hoffman of 42350 Hammill, Plymouth, while Patti Boerger, 220 Elm Street, took second place and $5. The third place $3 prize was shared by E.W. Brown, 501 Byron, Plymouth and Bill Bunn of South Lyon, both of whom were 22 points off Detroit's 16-10 winning score.

Larry was just 11 points off the winning score (he picked Detroit 25-8) and Patti missed it by 14 points.

By far the hardest game to pick for contestants was Kansas State's 19-14 win over Oklahoma. Missouri's 30-16 triumph over Colorado and Northwestern's 34-14 win over Purdue also caused them problems.

owner returned at approximately 3 p.m. Friday.

Police theorize that suspects within the house at the time saw him coming and fled.

Warren Reniff, 18, of 1606 Paramount was arrested by Detective Jack Grubb Friday night following investigations, which according to police determined that a mini-bike for which Reniff received a violation for riding without a license earlier this month, had been stolen from the Wolverine Lake home of Ted Robinson on September 23.

Reniff was lodged in the Oakland County Jail and arraigned before Magistrate Dennis Moffitt Saturday. He was placed on a $5,000 cash bond and ordered to appear before Judge Martin Boyle tomorrow at 9 a.m. Reniff was unable to post his bond and was return to the Oakland County Jail.

Forty-five year old Angelo Forest of West Chicago in Detroit was arrested Saturday and released on a $500 cash bond pending arraignment this week on charges of indecent exposure.

According to police, Forest pulled up beside a 14-year-old girl as she was walking in the vicinity of 24350 North LeBost and made "obscene gestures and comments" from his car.

The girl ran to a friend's house and called police.

At approximately 2:20 p.m. Officer William Brown stopped a man answering the broadcast description and asked that he follow him into the station where he was questioned by Detective Jack Grubb and his photo taken.

Peggy Barnes identified Forest's picture from among four others, identified his voice without seeing him, and identified his car in the police parking lot, according to police.

Police said Forest admitted the offense. He was released to the custody of his brother-in-law, Joseph Vendrami, also of Detroit, pending arraignment.

Volleyball Deadline Scheduled Tonight

Northville Recreation Director Robert Prom advises local residents that there are still 10 openings left in the Northville Men's Volleyball League.

Registration will be conducted tonight at Cooke Junior High School between 8 and 10. Registration fee is $7.

All games are slated for Thursday nights.

This is positively the last chance to register," Prom said.

Police report some $15 in change, a movie projector and 150 combination locks were stolen from Novi High School Sunday.

The building was entered through a door and a window in the vicinity of the music room sometime between 12 and 12:49 Sunday afternoon, according to police.

The projector was reported missing from the library while the change and locks were taken from the office area.

The thieves reportedly rammed a freezer through a storage room door in order to get into the office and then kicked out a ventilation grate to get into the room where the change and locks were kept.

The janitor had checked the building at noon, according to police, and the damage was discovered at 12:49 by a teacher in the building.

Tires were reported stolen from an auto at 45640 12 Mile Monday by Vern Esparza of Ionia.

Dale McDaniel, 18, of Farmington, charged that on the way home from his girlfriend's house, also in Farmington, Saturday night, he had been kidnapped, forced to drive to Novi and then robbed at gunpoint of his car and $39.

Police report that McDaniel approached them early Sunday morning claiming that a white male, about 19 or 20, wearing dark pants and a buckskin jacket and sporting "long shaggy hair and a moustache," jumped into his car while it was stopped for a blinker light at Middlebelt and 11 mile.

The car was found in Walled Lake parked in an alley off West Maple and Pontiac Trail approximately 3 a.m. Sunday morning with some small amount of damage done to the body.

Police report that two signs were taken from homes along 12 Mile in the vicinity of Novi Road approximately at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

COURT NEWS

John Wilkins, Southfield man, will appear in the 52 District Court before Judge Martin Boyle for arraignment on charges of simple larceny stemming from a pumpkin theft earlier this month in which he was allegedly involved. Arraignment is set for Thursday.

John R. Couch will stand trial November 10 before Judge Martin Boyle on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Couch was arraigned Monday and released on a $100 cash bond. The charges stem from an incident in which Couch allegedly took three juveniles with him on an extended trip through the Eastern United States and Canada.

Schoolcraft Establishes Wojcik Memorial Fund

A man of loving concern for youth, their education and development as decent human beings, the Reverend Father Francis J. Wojcik had a profound affect upon thousands during his 36 years in the priesthood. A service ended by his death this past July.

As a tribute to both the good man and his good work, the Schoolcraft

College Foundation has established the "Father Wojcik Memorial Scholarship Endowment Fund." Father Wojcik himself was active in the Foundation which has appropriated an initial $1,000 to the fund of his honor.

At the meeting during which the Father Wojcik Scholarship was established, two Foundation members, Jan Reef of Northville and Robert Cadotte of Livonia, each contributed personal gifts to the fund.

Others may wish to join the Foundation in honoring Father Wojcik by contributing to the scholarship fund his life and work has inspired. Contributions should be sent to "Father Wojcik Fund," care of Russell Bogarin, Director of Financial Aids, Schoolcraft College, Livonia, Michigan 48151.

PTA to Discuss Report Cards

Revised elementary report cards will be the main topic of discussion when the Main Street PTA meets Thursday, November 5, at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room, former Annex gym.

The new format of the report cards will be explained in detail, PTA spokesmen said.

On display at the meeting will be books that the PTA is making available to "aid parents and teachers in promoting the welfare of students in the home, school, church and community," PTA President Mrs. Edward Hancock said.

She urged all parents of Main Street students to attend the meeting.

Stempien ... Holds on Parochiaid Chief Gives Tips For Safe Halloween

and although they realize they are polluting the citizenry has been reluctant to give them the tax power to get the money to do it."

Similarly, his co-sponsored amendment providing grants to municipalities with race tracks was aimed at helping local governments with police and fire department improvement. Also the grants and transfers bill earmarked monies for police and fire protection.

"These sorts of things I am very pleased to see happen because these are the areas where state government has been the weakest and that's why local governments have had to turn to the federal government and created more and more of this distasteful federal growth. The more we strengthen state government in its influence on local government the less power that is gravitated to the federal level."

His greatest disappointment during the past two years, says Stempien, was the failure to accomplish any real fiscal reform. "We are not making the best of our resources here in the state of Michigan because we have allowed our state services to grow based upon a tax system that is regressive, that was developed for an age that has gone by. It's tied primarily to a real estate property tax which has reached the limits of its capabilities to support our government. We have to find alternatives to that so that we can introduce more of the philosophy of the ability to pay."

While recognizing that his position on parochiaid may not be popular or politically expedient, Stempien stands his ground and argues, "I support quality education for all children and all schools. I believe limited state aid for all children - even those in non-public schools - contributes to educational quality. I also feel that the public benefits when children receive a good education - wherever they receive it. I don't know what more I can say."

On the issue of the controversial Proposal C, the Democratic representative states:

"The proposed amendment is inconsistent with my long held beliefs. All school children should be given as much government help to secure a quality education as the United States and Michigan constitutions will allow. "The restrictions imposed by the amendment are not necessary to a strong and effective system of public schools which my record indicates I have supported in the past."

Stempien illustrates his support of public schools by pointing to his role in securing aid locally during the Nankin Mills School District when it was annexed to Livonia.

Referring to his opponent's charge that he (Stempien) lies when he claims to have secured $1 million in aid for Livonia in the annexation to avert a crisis, Stempien says, "He keeps saying that the Livonia Public Schools did not get a million because of the Nankin Mills annexation. I have never said that the Livonia Public Schools got a million dollars. I said the state picked up the cost of the Nankin Mills annexation for which they appropriated $1 million."

"That just goes to show his lack of understanding of the legislative process. He can't get through his head the concept that appropriations are made to an account and that they are charged back to an account. And in this instance theirs was a million dollars appropriated for the cost of the Nankin Mills annexation. Three-hundred thousand and some odd dollars went to the Livonia School District as a direct payment at a rate of $150 a student. That was a direct payout and it is automatic... A similar check went to the Wayne Community Schools and that was in the amount of $270,000 roughly speaking. I don't know the exact amount. Then there was an account established in the name of the defunct Nankin Mills School District which is held in trust by the State Board of Education. And against that account is charged any costs of the Nankin Mills district and they will be continued to be paid until there are no costs remaining..."

The "remarkable thing about this aid at the state level," says Stempien, "is that it marked the first time the state legislature took the responsibility of an annexation. It was a major victory. Legislators on both sides of the aisle will concur in that." And the fact that he was able, with the aid of others, to "bottle up" the state aid bill until the local annexation assistance was assured was itself a significant accomplishment.

Stempien also refutes his opponent's charge that he (Stempien) is ineffective: "The primary difference between him (Swanson) and me is that I'm claiming that I have been effective and that I can continue to be effective and I have some results to show for it."

Concerning his absenteeism he says, "In the two years of 1969 and 1970 I did not miss a single day except for my own illness, which consisted of surgery and five days in the hospital, pneumonia and five more days in the hospital and a convalescent period of approximately 90 days. And in 1970 - three days for the wake and funeral of a very close uncle who was killed in an automobile accident. I've had perfect attendance except for those."

Halloween is almost here, and to the children this means the annual custom of "Trick or Treat."

To prevent any problems on Saturday night, the Northville City Police Department has set up guidelines to "assist a safe and happy Halloween for the children," Police Chief Samuel Elkins said.

Police are asking trick or treating be limited to Saturday, between the hours of 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. and all residents are urged to keep their porch lights on.

Children should trick or treat in their neighborhood on foot, not by bicycle, and parents should accompany small children, the chief commented. Parents are asked not to follow children in cars, in order to reduce traffic on Saturday.

Children should cross streets only at corners and should avoid wearing masks and should have reflectorized tape on their costumes or light colored costumes.

Cars should not be parked on the street in order to reduce visual obstruction, the chief noted.

"If you must drive," Elkins said, "keep your speed to 15 miles per hour in residential areas and use extra caution."

If lights are used in pumpkins, as lanterns, make sure they are battery powered and not open flame devices used.

Have children carry identification so if they are lost, they can be taken home.

Officers also cautioned children against taking handouts from strangers in cars since they may contain harmful objects or substances. For the same reason, police suggest children accept no unwrapped candy and wait until they get home before they eat their treats.

"We ask that everyone do their part to make this a happy and safe Halloween for everyone," the chief commented.

Kids to Party Here Tonight

Trick-or-treat fun is on tap tonight for area youngsters who attend the annual Northville Recreation Halloween Costume party in the Scout-Recreation Building beginning at 7 p.m.

There will be contests judging Halloween costumes with cash prizes going to the winners.

Cider and donuts will be available for the asking.

Robert Prom, recreation director, advises that the party will last until 8 p.m. and those wishing to be in on the costume judging should arrive by 6:30.

Swanson ... Favors Stop 'n Frisk

not and at the same time you are an attorney who has a case in which you will not be paid unless you are there...then you have a conflict of time."

Representative Marvin Stempien, says Swanson, missed 580 roll call votes in 1969 alone. "Seventy-four percent of the legislation he introduced was rejected by democratic controlled committees as unworthy of further consideration - committees controlled by his own party rejected his legislation. Of that little legislation that got out of committee, 58-percent of it was rejected by the full legislature."

Because of the conflict of time faced by Stempien, who also maintains a law practice, he failed to knock on doors, to communicate with his constituents and learn exactly what concerns them, charges Swanson.

While he sees a great many issues facing legislators, Swanson contends the chief challenge is the area of pollution control. "I'd like to see established an agency or department that would deal with environmental protection, that would have the competent people, the experts in the field who could first of all define pollution and establish reasonable limits and guidelines. Such an agency should also have the enforcement officials, whether it be a battery of lawyers or a battery of inspectors, to see that these guidelines are respected."

A chief opponent of parochiaid, Swanson says "it is difficult to tell" exactly what proposal "C" on the November ballot would or would not do. But because it (proposal) is misleading, his opposition to the proposal is not inconsistent with his opposition to parochiaid.

In the area of parochiaid, Swanson concedes that his opponent "has been at least consistent" in his voting to support parochiaid. "He's supported every parochiaid bill that's come down the pike. He's introduced three or four of his own for tax exemptions, tax benefits. Bills that would tighten up restrictions on counselors in public schools were passed, but bills that would have tightened up restrictions in non-public schools never got out of committee. As for the amendment that would have made public the financial records of any school receiving state aid was opposed by my opponent. It's like saying, 'give us the money but don't ask us any questions about what we do with it.'"

"If the amendment goes down - and the indications are that it will - and we are left with the same legislature that we have now then we're going to be faced with a continuing battle over the next five to 10 years until finally there is 100-percent financing. They're going to be looking at this pie - the two sides fighting for how much money for public and how much money for parochial schools. And the solution each year is going to be 'enlarge the pie.' And it's going to mean more and more taxation."

Although he finds the governor's parochiaid position totally unacceptable, he is not uncomfortable running on the governor's GOP ticket. "The Governor and I agree on most issues. It's rather unbelievable, I think, if you could find two people who would agree on every issue. He supports parochiaid - it's a matter of principle for him - and I oppose it as a matter of principle. As a matter of fact Governor Milliken's wife opposes it also. He's looking at a statewide constituency. I'm looking at Livonia, Northville, Clarenceville. My primary concern must be how such legislation would affect these areas."

Swanson says if a comparison were to be made, he is much more in agreement with Governor Milliken than Stempien is with the Democrat's gubernatorial candidate Sander Levin. "Levin's against parochiaid, for abortion reform, etc., while my opponent's for parochiaid, against abortion reform."

In the area of law and order, Swanson notes that of the 56 bills that would have given police and the courts additional leverage in those cases where firearms were used in the commission of crime not one was reported out of Democratically controlled committee.

Abortion reform is definitely needed, says Swanson. "The state must either give the woman her own choice or else be willing to accept full responsibility for that child, in the case of deformity and non-support, when that child is born."

The law, he argues, should not force abortion upon mothers nor even urge it upon them. But rather it should give them the freedom of choice. "I don't believe the state has any right to get into the theological area of determining when life begins. We rely upon the medical profession to tell us when a person dies, and I think we can rely upon the medical profession to tell us when life begins."

Board Affirms Book Deposit Policy

Northville school system's controversial damage deposit policy was reaffirmed by the board of education Monday night following a review of public reaction and a recommendation by Superintendent Raymond Spear.

As in the past the board's position was criticized by some members of the audience.

Spear, who purposely toned down his written recommendation, suggested that "no change be made in board policy...and that the board of education direct the administration to take whatever steps are necessary to enforce this policy."

(His written but amended recommendation originally used the words "whatever steps are LEGALLY AVAILABLE to enforce this policy").

Spear said that he found no justifiable reason to change the amount of the deposit by grade designation but noted that "there is merit to the establishment of a 'family maximum'."

He prefaced his recommendation with the words, "In support of our good intentions; the protection of the taxpayers' property; in keeping faith with a majority of the public who have complied with the policy because of insufficient experience in working with the policy; and due to the lack of justifiable reason to change the policy..."

In the vote on affirmation, Trustee Glenn Deibert abstained, noting his previous opposition to the original policy.

The superintendent disclosed the following information to board members:

The district had as of "D" day enrollment of 3,231 students representing an estimated 1,550 families. Of these (as of October 16) 2,559 students (79.2-percent) have paid the deposits representing 1,156 (74.5-percent) of the families; 672 students (20.8-percent) have not paid representing 394 (25.5-percent) of the families.

Total deposit due, he said, is $44,260, with $35,230 of that amount paid and $9,030 unpaid.

A survey of families not paying the deposits, according to the superintendent, disclosed the following major reasons:

21 or 5.4-percent because of "financial hardship"; 107 or 27.2-percent "will pay later"; 39 or 9.9-percent "too high"; 12 or 3.1-percent "illegal"; 15 or 3.9-percent "unfair"; 39(9.9-percent) "waiting to see what happens"; 37 or 9.4-percent "will pay after damage"; 9 or 2.3-percent "because others haven't paid"; 18 or 4.7-percent miscellaneous reasons; and 97 or 24.2-percent who officials were unable to contact.

In view of this information, Spear concluded:

"1. It is obvious that a large majority of our parents have complied or intend to comply with the board's policy.

"2. Reasons for not paying, in most cases appear to be an excuse for their displeasure in the policy and are testing the board and administration.

"3. Hardship and/or concern for the deposit being too high represents only 3.8-percent of school families...1.3 percent hardship and 2.5-percent too high."

Spear said he accepted the citizen VIP Committees support of the policy for the 1970-71 school year together with the recommendation that the policy be reviewed after a year's experience with it. His recommendation specifically carried with it a suggestion that the policy be reviewed at the second board meeting in June of next year.

Among those in the audience speaking against the policy was Mary Ann Beltz, who said she had not and would not pay the deposit for two or three reasons but primarily because she resented the "strong arm tactics" of the administration.

Asked to clarify her charge, she said officials had suggested in newspaper articles that they might take action to enforce the policy. She said she found those kinds of "implied" threats particularly offensive in view of the position of larger school districts on this issue and in view of the fact parents could not legally be forced to pay it.

Trustee Andrew Orphan came to Spear's defense, declaring that the superintendent does not intend nor has he indicated that he will take action to enforce deposit payments that is in violation of the law.

IT'S SIMPLE - You just drive down the road and the machine makes a curb. The curb-making kept workmen busy behind Northville High School last week as work on the paving of Base Line progressed.

Officials Rap Parochialism

Martin argued that recent legislation providing aid to private schools is misleading because it provides a formula for such aid that far exceeds initial appropriations. (Superintendent Raymond Spear subsequently clarified this point, noting that the aid bill provides that the state may subsidize up to 50-percent of the salary for lay teachers in private schools initially and therefore because it also provides initially only $22 million for private school aid actually aid will fall below the 50-percent level).

But Martin would not be deterred, arguing that initial aid is only the first step in subsidizing private schools to a much fuller extent.

Furthermore, he took exception to a newspaper advertisement placed by Representative Marvin Stempien (a proponent of private aid) in which he, Martin, was quoted as praising Stempien for the lawmaker's interest and help "in our recent bond issue." Martin disliked the use of this quote because he said it made him appear to support Stempien's position on parochialism.

Not only was he angered by the use of his quote as a political endorsement but he also indicated he is so strongly opposed parochialism that "I will do everything I can to get him (Stempien) not elected."

Martin saved another salvo for State Attorney General Kelley, who according to the board member "speaks with a forked tongue" when he warns of the dangers of Proposal C.

Cook viewed aid to private schools as the "death knell" of public schools. It will lead, he argued, to the establishment of more and more private schools at the expense of public school money. And, he warned, with such aid available there is the possibility that subversive or militant groups could take advantage of it and establish their own private schools as well.

Cook called board members to the attention of a recent Detroit newspaper editorial, which supported the ballot proposal and which Cook praised for cutting through the "flak" and getting right to the heart of the private aid matter.

The Reverend Timothy Johnson, who labeled opposition to the proposed amendment over the auxiliary services question a "slick campaign", suggested it would be far easier and safer to approve the amendment and later restore any lost services than to risk the chance of not being able to stop more costly aid to non-public schools.

Johnson, who said it is unfortunate that the matter of non-public school aid has been cloaked in a religious atmosphere, took the position that if the ballot proposal is defeated voters can be sure another campaign will be mounted to restore any services that might be lost.

Martin echoed Johnson's remarks, emphasizing that despite the fact that the largest non-public school system is operated by "one religious organization" (Catholic) opposition as he sees it, is not anti-religion but purely a question of public versus private school aid.

Glenn Deibert, who said recent legislation is "just a prelude" of more to come in which the public may not, as it does on the amendment proposal, have the opportunity to indicate its opposition. "I have no desire to support any church oriented school with tax dollars," he declared.

Johnston, who labeled the word parochialism a misnomer, expressed "sincere concern" that passage of the amendment may, as many others have indicated, cut off existing worthwhile services locally and elsewhere in the state and very likely spell the death of many private schools.

"I'd hate to see some of these services lost," he said, "because it may force many private schools to close their doors...and I suspect public schools will then be forced to take these kids. That's not a threat but simply being realistic."

Retorted Martin: "...if we do have to support them (private school children) we may have bought ourselves a year or two before we'll be paying" as much as would be spent for support of both public and private schools. "If they (private schools) must close I'd view it with regret but I think it would be the lesser of two evils."

Finally, the board president said that if as much effort used in opposition to and support of aid to private schools was used in a single combined effort towards more crucial problems facing the nation "it would tend to draw this country together."

Terry Frazer, former Northville student now attending Schoolcraft College, argued that many of the books given to students are already damaged beyond repair. "Who is to say what is normal wear?" he asked.

Spear reminded Frazer that the books were put into their poor condition by students who previously owned them. Under the law, he explained, the school was compelled to buy back these books. The superintendent expressed a hope citizens "will bear with us" until the books in bad condition can be replaced.

Another parent said she opposed the deposit on the basis of an "ethical principle." Specifically, forcing parents to pay for a child's possible book damage in advance, she explained, takes away from the student his own responsibility.

Duane LaMoreaux said the 20.8-percent of the students or 25.5-percent of the families who have not paid the deposit is a substantial number that should be carefully considered.

"I support the superintendent... but they are objecting to a basic policy...and it's about time people in the district count, too," he said. Reminding the board that public trust of its officials is especially important in the upcoming millage issue (17 voted mills expires this year and probably will be put to voters next spring for renewal) "so maybe the board should back down a little."

"You don't trust the people to return the books without a deposit", he continued, "and the people don't trust the board. So I strongly urge, in behalf of (better) trust, that the board back off."

Bernard Baldwin, said the rezoning would come up for approval or denial at the commission's November 24 meeting. Planners approved to have the request referred to the planner and engineer to study and make a recommendation to the board.

One woman commented to the developers "You must be in the wrong place tonight. All the drawings show the development in Northfield Township. This is Northville Township," she pointed out.

The drawings, prepared by a firm in Chicago, Illinois, were labeled "Northfield."

In other planning commission business transacted Tuesday, planners denied a request by VFW Post 4012 for a public hearing to rezone 15 acres of land on the east side of Ridge Road between Six Mile and Seven Mile to B2 (business) from residential to construct a meeting hall. The request was denied by planners because of "spot zoning in a residential area."

Approved a stage one site plan for Roanoke Hills Subdivision on Seven Mile west of Maybury Sanatorium subject to the extension of a 60 foot right of way to Tarryhill Road to the eastern boundary of the property. The site plan had been approved in September 1968 but because of a question of land boundaries, the one year limit had expired and had to be reapproved.

Approved a request from Dewey Burrell to build a warehouse on Gerald Avenue, subject to his wife signing the dedication of and additional five feet for roadway.

Tabled a request from Vettesse Brothers to construct a warehouse on Gerald Avenue.

reapproved the original site plan of Arthur Jahn to construct a soft ice cream building at the A & W on Northville Road subject to enclosing the drain at the back of the property. Jahn withdrew a site plan submitted for board action Tuesday when the engineer found planned structures "beyond the line of fill."

IT STARTED WITH A REGULAR KID, Clayton Kelley. Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, makeup artist, transformed his face into a red mask with lipstick, painted on a wicked-looking mask with black eye liner, added a mascara web and Eureka! It's Spider Man.

Making up for Halloween

A Little Shoe Polish and Lipstick And, Wow! You're a Spook or Clown

You can be a spook...or a clown...or spider man...or a friendly ghost...

In fact, you can be anything you want on Halloween, a fact demonstrated by Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald at a recent Hamburg Library demonstration.

The art of making up for Halloween is a matter of making-do, according to Mrs. Fitzgerald.

The way it works, Mrs. Fitzgerald said, is that first Mom suggests a costume whose makeup will use up all those leftover orange and purple lipsticks and eyeshadows she once thought were so glamorous.

Next step comes when the trick-or-treater decides he needs a facial disguise that requires something that isn't available in anyone's house.

That second step can be overcome, Mrs. Fitzgerald said, by a quick trip to the local dime store where all sorts of treats are in store.

In the shoe polish department — that's right, shoe polish — there are non-toxic polishes available in brown, black and white that are safe for children's skin. Be sure to read the label.

In the ladies' department there are great, inexpensive lipsticks, eye shadows, mascaras, cream makeups. Mrs. Fitzgerald advises the purchase of the less expensive makeups — "they're gaudier!"

Generally shoe polishes, especially those used on baby's shoes, are lanolized, but to make sure the "makeup" won't crack, you add just a bit of inexpensive hand lotion. (You'll need the later, by the way, for the clean up job.)

Most mothers won't have any difficulty with simple makeups like that of clowns where a white polish base is applied and then the face is drawn in with gaudy lipsticks and eye shadows.

But how would you create an eerie look such as Mrs. Fitzgerald did on the face of Mrs. Barbaradell Kelley, who went home from the demonstration to frighten her family with "the outer space look."

The "space face" began with a light coating of cold cream (lip gloss is even better, Mrs. Fitzgerald said). Then she smeared Mrs. Kelley's friendly face with silver cream eye shadow from an inexpensive pallet purchased in the dime store.

The eyes were marked off with grey greasepaint (it's expensive, but grey eye shadow would have served the purpose). With liquid midnight blue eye liner Mrs. Fitzgerald painted around the eye and on the lashes.

The brow, covered with the first coat of "goop", is now replaced by an arched line that creates an aloof look.

Blue or grey lips, painted with eye shadow, a silver lame' type helmet to cover the hair, and Wow! Take me to your leader.

To create the base for faces such as Raggedy Ann and Andy, use a few drops of pink food coloring in white shoe polish. For hand disguise, apply the same technique.

For the rest of the face look at the dolls if you have them, and use them as models.

If your small fry is partial to clowns, remember that the nose and eyes predominate and they can be sad or happy.

Want a Gingerbread man? Dress your youngster in brown tights and turtle neck shirt. Create frosting with bric-a-brac or peppermint braided yarn with bows on the wrist and at the neck. Black buttons make excellent licorice drops. Top it off with a striped cap and you'll have a confection right out of a storybook.

Remember the face is brown shoe polish with a big red lipstick nose and pink cheeks.

Mrs. Fitzgerald has studied street makeup with courses from Ern Westmore and worked on stage makeup.

Her flair for Halloween makeup "comes naturally" by virtue of the fact that she's the mother of eight children.

Christmas Stamps Go On Sale Here

Special six-cent Christmas stamps will go on sale at area post offices next Friday, November 6 — the day following their first-day sale in Washington, D.C.

This year there is the choice of sheets picturing four different toys of yesterday or a religious painting reproduction, "The Nativity."

Post offices in Northville and Novi will not have precanceled stamps, according to Northville Postmaster John Steimel. While there has been publicity regarding the precanceled sheets, he said, they are on sale at only 63 larger post offices.

The four toy stamps are "19th century bits of Americana," notes the post office. They depict a locomotive adapted from artwork by Charles Hemming in the "Index of American Design," and a toy horse, bicycle and doll buggy from "The Golden Age of Toys." Red, yellow, blue and black are combined to produce the stamps.

The religious portrait reproduced as the other holiday stamp choice was by Lorenzo Lotto, 16th century Italian painter. The original hangs in the National Gallery of Art. The stamp was designed by Howard C. Mildner of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

It is in red, blue, yellow and black inks with brown tones dominant. The print order for this stamp is 875 million, of which approximately one-half will be precanceled.

IS THAT PATRICK FITZGERALD? Well, it started out with Pat, but some "awful orange lipstick" that had been discarded as out-of-style turned Pat into Jack O' Lantern. His eyes are masked with white shoe polish and eye liner and "grooves" were created with mascara.

Commercial Plates Retain Maroon and White Colors

LANSING — ANYONE SIGHTING A commercial vehicle with maroon and white license plates these days shouldn't be too quick to assume the plates are old ones.

Maroon and white, the color combination used on Michigan's 1969 license plates, is also the color assigned to the 1971 plates. And commercial vehicle plates went on sale October 1.

Passenger car plates will go on sale November 15.

The return to last year's colors has caused some confusion with several overzealous policemen and/or women ticketing vehicles who bought the new plates as soon as they were available, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

THE COLORS were picked because the state goes into the reflectorized plate business this year.

They were the only colors on which test had been run by the state when it was finally determined at a late date that the 1971 plates would be reflectorized and thus they had to be used.

The white lettering will be reflectorized by a "beading" process. In the process the paint used for the white will be an adhesive substance. As soon as it is put on the plate, the plate is covered with tiny, perfectly round, glass beads which stick only to the letters.

THE LEGISLATURE decided to convert to reflectorized plates in 1969, but then reconsider the decision early this year.

It was decided to go ahead with the beading just barely in time to give officials the time they needed to reflectorize the 1971 plates.

Actually, the Legislature first decided to reflectorize plates in 1959, but then didn't appropriate enough money to pay for the additional cost. The plates weren't reflectorized since Attorney General ruled they did not have to be if the money wasn't there.

REFLECTORIZED plates were adopted for a number of reasons, with safety one of the most important.

The plates are supposed to be visible from one half mile away at night when the high beams of a car are shining on them. One result of this, in states where the plates are not in use, has been a cutback in the number of rear end collisions at night.

Law enforcement officials also approve of the plates, saying they make it easier to identify a car at night.

The new plates will be a huge improvement over this year's "paleface" plates. Law enforcement officials have complained all year that the white on gold coloring makes it just about impossible to read plates at night.

ANOTHER INNOVATION this year: vehicle owners won't have to show vehicle titles when they buy their 1971 plates if they keep a prepared application being sent them by the Secretary of State.

All the needed information is printed on the prepared applications by computer before applications are mailed. Hare estimates most of them will have been mailed out when passenger car licenses becomes available Nov. 15.

That should be good news for those who have spent half a day searching through old papers trying to find the title to their car so they can go and get new licenses.

ANY LEGISLATIVE body has a flurry of bill introductions in an election year so the lawmakers can go home and respond to most any question in this manner: "Well, we may not have accomplished anything in that area, but it wasn't my fault. I introduced a bill (or bills) that would...etc."

The Michigan Legislature has as much of this as any legislature, but probably the worst example comes from the group which should be an example—Congress.

A study of the 91st Congress shows that as of Sept. 16, 27,727 bills were introduced by the membership.

Out of that total, only 401 had been enacted into law, and that isn't a very good average.

While exact figures aren't available, those bill introductions cost the taxpayers quite a bit, since each bill must be printed and filed at taxpayer expense.

By ROLLY PETERSON

November 22, 1969 will always be a memorable day in the minds of football fans. That's when Michigan stunned the nation by beating the super-Bucks from Ohio State, 24-12, and earned a trip to the Rose Bowl.

But last Saturday, October 24, will be almost as memorable to me. Not because it means the Big Ten title for the Wolverines, although that may be debatable after Michigan plays Ohio State on November 21, no, the reason last Saturday and November 22, 1969 are memorable is because of the frustrations they produced.

Television made its heavy hand felt again Saturday during the Michigan-Minnesota football game. The wonder is that the game had any semblance of normality, with television constantly intruding. In fact there was some question in my mind who was running the game, the coaches from the bench or the TV technicians with the cue cards.

Here's how it went, just as it did in last year's U of M-Ohio State game. The teams came out onto the field at a signal from the television booth above. The flip of the coin was repeated for the TV audience. Then, after the introduction of players, the game finally began.

Which isn't too bad, if the fans hadn't been told previously that the game would begin at 1:15. Instead the battle for the Little Brown Jug started some time after 1:30 p.m., the normal starting time of Michigan ball games.

Those shenanigans, however, are small potatoes compared to what went on after the whistle blew. Seemingly, at every exchange of the ball — a score, a punt, an intercepted pass, a fumble — play was stopped on the field for one, two, three or four minutes while a commercial was flashed on the TV screen.

After last year's Ohio State-Michigan game, not a word was mentioned about the possible implications of these TV interruptions, with the exception of this column. Not the coaches, the sports writers, the commentators, or the fans. The delirium of resounding victory has a way of silencing criticism.

Saturday was a different story, although Michigan won, 39-13. Coach Bo Schembechler was irritated, if not thoroughly peeved, over TV's omnipresent hand. He, too, wondered aloud about the frustrating interruptions.

"Television is miserable," he said. "There's more time out there than you can shake a stick at. It's hard to keep momentum. There's too much standing around."

That's the point. Football is a game of momentum, that illusive quality which decides ball games. After scoring a touchdown a team can be riding high, but a time-out, an unconscionable one for a TV commercial, could very well shake up that momentum and actually turn the game around.

It's unfair to both teams. One can only speculate how the TV time-outs affected the outcome of last year's U of M-OSU game. Perhaps not one wit, since Michigan was clearly dominant.

But what of the November 21st game coming up between Michigan and Ohio State? It's scheduled to be shown over the tube and in a close ball game, a commercial could conceivably make the difference.

The game and other games should be televised. It's good for football and good for fans who can't attend the ball games. Television has performed a service in this respect.

What's the solution, then? I don't know exactly what.

But it is conceivable that TV, with all its ingenuity, could offer an alternative, one that is not expensive and yet thoroughly palatable to everyone, something like shorter spots for commercials, or a completely new format that would permit the game to progress under its own momentum.

Babson Report

Bright Spots Seen for Skidding Tire Companies

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS.

— Tire companies have had a tough time, suffering from the economic slowdown, a disruptive strike within the industry, a soft auto market, inflation of raw-materials prices and wage costs, and now the General Motors strike. Then, too, there has been the expense of converting to bias-belted and radial-ply tire production.

Consequently, the lower earnings registered last year have persisted into 1970. First-half results were off markedly, and full-year earnings, reflecting the strikes, will likely be under the year-earlier period.

DESPITE a slow start and some uncertainties, however, the over-all outlook for the industry is far from gloomy. Among the bright spots: Big replacement market; expected pickup in new car output once the auto industry settles its labor problems; a decline in changeover expenses; recent price boosts; benefits from plant modernization.

For reasons of safety, longer wear, and wider variety of uses, the industry has been switching to the new bias-belted and radial-type tires. Estimates show belts have captured between 45% and 66 2/3% of the market for new cars.

These types are longer wearing by 15%-30% than conventional tires, but cost of conversion was underestimated so cost over-runs hurt profits last year and even into this year. But brighter earnings prospects are emerging now that conversion is practically completed and costs can be better controlled. Look, too, for improving demand in both new and replacement markets.

At present, five tire makers control the biggest part of the market: Firestone, Goodyear, Uniroyal, Goodrich, and General. Some have expansive product mixes, but here we will emphasize their place in the tire field.

COMPETITION and market demands have forced manufacture of a wider selection of products in terms of components, sizes, and styles. Safety features were incorporated into quality standards at the same time, adding to the higher operating costs.

Bias-belted tires have taken a good share of the market and are extremely popular with consumers. Companies failing to capitalize on this trend will feel more pressure on profit margins.

WEAK DEMAND for new cars plus the prolonged strike may well reduce 1970 auto production by more than 1 million units...dependent, of course, on how much longer the tie-up lasts. Hence, tire output for the original equipment market will fall by approximately 10 percent. But it should be noted that replacement tire demand currently accounts for over two-thirds of industry sales and could more than offset the dip in original equipment turnover. With more than 100 million vehicles on the road, total shipments of replacement tires are projected to 136 million this year compared with 129 million for 1969.

An encouraging feature of the outlook for tire makers is that cars two or more years old are on the increase because of the bulge in production figures in the auto field from 1967 to 1969. This group is now ripe for tire replacement. These factors should be beneficial to tire companies in terms of future profits and earnings, and increasingly so for the months further ahead.

FOR INVESTORS seeking capital appreciation, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports recommends two common stocks, both traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Among the biggest tire manufacturers is Uniroyal, which is considered at attractive purchase at this time in terms of both price and yield. Another issue with excellent prospects is Armstrong Rubber, also moderately priced and with more liberal percentage yield than many other companies. Armstrong is not among the bigs, but has a very strong market position.

Dairy Farmers Urged To Invest With Care

Dairy farmers shouldn't invest a lot of money in new facilities until they have considered all the alternatives, said Duane Girbach, Livingston County extension agent.

One way to do this is to attend the dairy farm tour November 5 in Clare County, he added.

The five-farm tour features dairy structures and facilities. Dairy farmers can compare, for example, clay base free stalls with cement base stalls and oxygen-free storage systems with conventional storage.

A new semi-automatic milking system and milking parlors using heat from milk coolers will be part of the tour.

Insulated free-stall barns with up to 220-cow capacity, liquid manure systems and automatic temperature and humidity systems can be compared. Visitors will also see a variety of vertical feed storage and automatic feed handling-distribution systems.

Host farmers will explain their operations and answer questions. Michigan state University extension specialists and representatives of the companies involved in planning, constructing and equipping the host farms' structures will also be at each farm to answer questions.

The tour starts at the William Walters farm, 5590 East Brown Road, six miles north of Clare off old US 27, at 9:30 a.m. Free shuttle buses will take visitors to the other four farms.

College President Supports '18 Vote'

Schoolcraft President Eric J. Bradner has announced his support for lowering the voting age to 18.

"As a teacher and as an administrator I've been particularly close to the 18-20 age group during my 37 year career in higher education," Dr. Bradner said. "I have always believed them to be every bit as interested and as intellectually capable to vote as any other given group of adults."

Dr. Bradner's position on the matter was put forth in a letter to Jackie Vaughn III, a state legislator from Detroit and the chairman of a special committee to gain voter approval for the 18 year old vote.

According to the Schoolcraft

President, "the question of the 18 year old vote is one of significance to our country and to people everywhere who embrace democratic principles. That we have so long denied the vote to this group underscores many of the ills our youth today charge against the so-called establishment."

Dr. Bradner congratulated Representative Vaughn upon his appointment by the House Speaker to head so important a committee, and expressed his willingness to be of further service to the effort.

The question will appear on the November ballot as "Proposal B." In lending his name to the cause of voting rights for citizens 18 to 20, Dr. Bradner observed, "Indeed, theirs is a voice which should be heard."

Smart Defends Voting Record On Education

"Some references have been made in the newspapers by my opponent relative to my voting record on education and legislation pertaining to senior citizens," Clifford Smart, who has received the endorsement for re-election by the MEA, said this week.

"It is a simple matter for candidates for public office to take issues out of context, only tell part of the story and draw conclusions. I feel that his statements need some clarification...."

"I voted against the state aid act for several reasons. I was supported on this vote by all of the education groups as well as by 53 legislators who likewise could not support this legislation."

"The state aid act was part of a package of two bills. Accompanying it was Senate Bill 1084, which was a tax bill. One of these bills could not be approved unless they both were approved."

"SB 1084 was the tax bill that reduced the property tax credit against state income taxes by $92 million. This basically means a tax increase for anyone who has been paying state income taxes and has been taking some credit for his property tax payments."

"In addition, the state aid act, approved for 1971-72 is not funded. If the Legislature allows this to stand, it will have to find an additional $280 million to finance it. The bill did not provide proper funding for the handicapped or for transportation. In addition, it authorized local boards of education to levy local school district income taxes."

"I have been charged with voting against senior citizens. This is not fact."

"One significant piece of legislation was passed affecting senior citizens. This was House Bill 2826, which is now Public Act No. 4. The bill eliminated the equalized valuation for senior citizen homestead tax exemptions. It also raised the income level to $6,000 for eligibility."

"I supported this legislation. I voted Yes on the bill on November 5, 1969. I voted Yes again when it returned from the Senate with some clarifying amendments on January 29."

CAMPAIGN TRAIL — Mrs. Richard Nixon and Lenore Romney, Republican U.S. Senate nominee, chat informally with William McLaughlin of 592 Reed, Northville, state chairman of Republican State Central Committee, and Mrs. John Riecker, vice chairman of Republican State Central Committee. The First Lady made a whirlwind visit to the Detroit Metropolitan Area October 19 to boost the candidacy of Mrs. Romney. Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Romney toured a drug clinic at Detroit's Harper Hospital, appeared before students at Southfield High School and were joined by Governor William Milliken at a reception at the Raleigh House attended by more than 1500 Republicans from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Carl Pursell Outlines His Tax Position

Carl Pursell, candidate for the State Senate outlined his tax position before a Livonia Homeowners group.

Pursell recommended that new legislative leadership is needed to direct sound management policies which will:

1. Establish priorities and exercise controls that will balance the budget, limit spending, and eliminate out-dated programs.
2. Establish a property tax reduction with a balanced income and user tax formula to relieve the property owner and people on fixed incomes.

3. Support the Federal Revenue-Sharing Concept to fund state and local government.

4. Require early financial reports in order to plan and implement sound fiscal programs. This would prevent operating continually in a crisis atmosphere.

5. Evaluate the present dilemma which locks 51% of the state funds into 13 separate, fiscal "cookie jars," used for special purposes.

Pursell will appoint a seven-man advisory committee from the 14th district in order to give the citizen a direct voice in matters of taxation, he said. This group will be made up of homeowners, one CPA, a public official, a school official and a businessman.

"This advisory committee will advise me in reviewing the budget; and it will recommend policies and ideas that are representative of this district. Their advice and recommendations will reflect sound fiscal concepts which meet the needs and demands of the people of the 14th district, and the people of the State of Michigan."

Esch Raps Democrats For Their 'Inaction'

Congressman Marvin L. Esch condemned the Democratic leadership of the Congress for its inaction on legislation to assist the unemployed and under-employed in remarks at the League-of-Women Voters Candidates Night at Schoolcraft College.

"Progressive manpower training programs which would help provide training and jobs for hundreds of thousands of unemployed have been languishing in the House for more than a year without any action," Esch explained. "Although the bill has strong bi-partisan support, the Democrats who are in control of the Congress have refused to bring it before the House for a vote."

"Over the past two years we have cut nearly 10 billion dollars from the Defense Department budget," Esch continued. "Such a major cut in one field inevitably means that there will be some dislocation in the labor market. However, this manpower bill would have done a great deal to lessen the impact and help those who were thrown out of work find new jobs and retraining. It is the recalcitrant Democratic Congress, not the Administration, which is to blame for the delay in enacting this bill which would help these people."

Esch called upon the Democrats to schedule the manpower legislation immediately when the Congress reconvenes for its lame-duck session in November. "It is unfortunate that we are faced with a lame-duck Congress," Esch concluded, "but since the Congress has been so irresponsible in refusing to consider many of the important issues facing the nation during our regular session, I believe we should make the manpower training program a top priority item."

Kadish Challenges Republican Opponent

State Senate candidate Paul Kadish, Democrat of Livonia, has challenged his Republican opponent (Carl Pursell) to "repudiate" the economic policies of the Nixon Administration which have brought unemployment and continued inflation to the people of the 14th District.

"In the primary, my opponent told a meeting in Highland, that he was in complete support of the economic policies of the Republican national administration," Kadish told those in attendance at a series of coffee hours in West Bloomfield Township.

"He has not refracted that statement which leads me to conclude that he is still in favor of the policies which have thrown thousands of workers on the unemployment lines, and kept prices going up."

"Many families in the 14th District are much worse off financially as a result of these policies, yet my opponent says he supports them. Does this mean that he will blindly follow disastrous policies just because they are being carried out by his own political party?"

"Does my opponent agree with another national Republican official, Secretary of Defense Laird, who said recently that unemployment is a good thing for the economy?"

"What we need in political office are people who will vigorously attack the problems we face. I pledge to be that type of senator and to work in the State Senate for programs which will boost our economy and reduce the high unemployment figure that my opponent seems to support."

Name Game Politicians Draw Austin's Fire

Richard Austin, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, has criticized politicians who use the "name game" in order to confuse

Levin Slaps 'Payless' Talk

Democratic candidate for Governor Sander Levin has charged that Governor Milliken "is using an irrelevant issue of the 1950's-payless paydays-to divert attention from the state's worsening financial situation."

Milliken spoke Wednesday for Democrats as the "same folks who brought us payless paydays and the flight of industry from the state," said Levin. "The Governor should be showing more concern for the problems ahead of us, rather than dredging up issues from the past."

"Our state treasury may well face a major deficit before the end of the year because of the Governor's fiscally irresponsible policies. That's the problem the Governor doesn't want the people of Michigan to think about."

Levin issued the statement at his Detroit campaign headquarters. The Democrat said high unemployment and the recessionary economy have reduced the state's sales tax and income tax revenues. At the same time, high unemployment has resulted in higher state welfare payments than had been anticipated.

Harris Enjoys His 'Liability'

Fred L. Harris, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 19th District, has taken what his incumbent opponent assumed would be a campaign liability and turned it into what Harris believes is a strong campaign asset.

When the incumbent Congressman began asking campaign audiences if they wanted an Army officer to serve them in Congress, Fred Harris counterattacked.

After pointing out that his opponent has never served in the Armed services, Harris printed a piece of campaign literature showing him standing beside his jet plane.

Harris has stressed that to depreciate service in the Armed Forces Reserve is pander to the most radical elements in American society. "For a Congressman on one hand to advocate bombing Hanoi and on the other hand to advocate disbanding the Armed Forces Reserve is to show a decided lack of judgment," Harris said.

voters and gain or maintain office. He referred to the practice as a "degradation of the democratic electoral process that demonstrates a contempt and disdain for the voters."

In remarks prepared for a talk at the University of Detroit, he pointed out that the "name game" operates in two ways. A candidate may persuade another person to file whose name is similar to that of his opponent, or who is a member of his opponent's ethnic group. On other occasions, an incumbent may persuade a person to file whose name is similar to his own, thus earning him the right to a "designation" as an incumbent on the ballot.

"Either way," said Austin, "it cheapens democracy and encourages disrespect for people in political life. In times like these, we cannot afford either one."

Austin noted that the Secretary of State's office is charged with the responsibility for supervising Michigan's elections. In that capacity, he promised to propose reforms aimed at eliminating the "name game" from Michigan politics.

Lockwood Opposes License Proposal

Senator Emil Lockwood has taken exception to the so-called Illinois Plan put forth by his opponent, Richard Austin.

The plan calls for the surrendering of a person's drivers license to police when a traffic ticket is issued for a moving violation and would allow the ticket to serve as a temporary permit to operate a vehicle until the matter of the violation is settled.

Lockwood, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, said the plan would mean that a driver who is ticketed would, among other things, lose a valuable piece of identification. "One of the principle reasons the Michigan Legislature decided to put a color photograph on Michigan drivers license was to aid in positive identification for people cashing checks, for tavern owners to establish age and identification, and for various and sundry other uses. If tickets are allowed to replace driver's licenses, we will lose this valuable source of positive identification for a period of some days, weeks even months."

Lockwood also said that the taking of a person's drivers license would mean adding more red tape to the already cumbersome process of justice. "I think people might be more inclined to plead guilty to a charge and pay a fine just to get their license back, whether they may be guilty or not."

Crime Fight Seen As 'Band-Aid' Effort

Speaking about the necessity to provide safety for all Americans in the face of the alarming rise in the crime rate, Michael Stillwagon has charged that the "programs of the present administration are 'band-aid' programs of limited scope and of such doubtful constitutionality that they contribute to the crime problem by intensifying the very climate of disrespect for law that nourishes criminal activity."

The Second District Democratic candidate, for Congress said, "We can provide protection for all our citizens and also provide fundamental constitutional rights."

JACKSON-NORTHVILLE FALL MEETING AT NORTHVILLE DOWNS NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN

from the Pastor's Study

Rating Christianity

Rev. Timothy C. Johnson
Assistant Pastor
First Presbyterian Church, Northville

We all have become familiar with the motion picture rating system: G for general audiences, M for mature audiences, R for over 17 years of age unless accompanied by a parent, and X for only those over 18. These ratings, in just a short time, have become a part of our daily life. Kids talk about how to get into the ones they are not legally allowed to see. Parents scrutinize them so they know what their children should see. The movie going public, depending, of course, on personal taste and attitudes, check the ratings, one way or another, to see what to expect from an evening out on the town.

Now wouldn't it be interesting to apply the movie ratings to the Christian religion? How would you rate Christianity? Or your particular denomination? Or your personal faith?

Scripture does a good job of helping us rate our faith. We read in the Letter to the Hebrews. "It is not easy to explain to you since you seem so slow to grasp spiritual truth. At a time when you should be teaching others, you need teachers yourselves to repeat to you the ABC of God's revelation to men. You have become a people who need a milk diet and cannot face solid food. For anyone who continues to live on milk is obviously immature - he simply has not grown up. 'Solid' food is only for the adult." (Hebrews 5:11-13, Phillips)

The writer clearly distinguishes between two groups: the immature and the mature. The ones who have as yet not grasped the truth about God and life, are contrasted to those who have matured in the faith. The immature still need the ABC's of religion taught to them; the mature can teach and serve others. The writer's medifore is beautiful - the immature still need a milk diet, they cannot handle anything tougher. On the other hand, the mature feast on solid food, harder to digest, but so necessary for growth and development as a person. We all started on milk, but we would be the poorer if we did not switch to solids. Christianity starts with a diet of milk, the G rating, but then progresses to the M stage: solid food and meat.

But what about the more controversial R and X ratings?

Christianity can be a scandal and an offense. Again the Scripture helps us. Our word, "scandal" is a Greek word meaning a "stumbling block", an "offense" to rational thought. Listen to St. Paul: "for the Jews ask for numerous proofs and the Greeks an intellectual panacea, but all we preach is Christ crucified - a stumbling block to the Jews and sheer nonsense to the Gentiles." And St. Peter writes, describing Jesus as a "stumbling block" and a "rock of offense". If there is scandal and offense, that surely deserves the R and X rating.

So you see, the Scriptures predate present ratings by nearly 2000 years. G is for the milk babies of our faith; M is for the solid thinkers of the church; R and X are for the claim that Christ is a scandal and offense to the world.

One way or another, we fit the ratings or the ratings fit us. The church contains all kinds: the beginners; the wrestlers with the faith; and those who are willing to apply their convictions so as to improve the quality of life around them.

How do you rate your own faith?

TWO OF A KIND

Now there are two "snaggletooths" in the family. What fun Jerry had trying to duplicate his own toothless grin!

I smiled, remembering his first "jack-o'-lantern" and how he had howled with fright at the eerie smile of the funny-faced vegetable. Jim and I had to work hard to convince him that "jack-o'-lanterns" were fun. Now, just a few years later, the "jack-o'-pumpkin" is one of his special delights.

How easy it is to shape the attitudes of a little child. It seems to Jim and me that Jerry is like a sponge, soaking up thoughts and ideas from the things we do and say. His points of view reflect our own.

That's why we know how important it is for all of us to go to church every Sunday. It was there we learned the love for God that enriches our every day. We want this dominion and joy to become a part of Jerry's life, too.

100 Year Week

The celebration was a 'beaut, Wixom citizens agree as they look back on the centennial activities marking the community's 100th birthday from October 17 to 24.

One-hundred year-old Wixom, which drew its name from an early pioneer, Willard C. Wixom, also is one of Oakland County's newest cities — receiving its charter a little more than a decade ago.

In the short time since its incorporation, it has, despite some rocky storms along the way, won the envy of much older communities by providing many of the services that normally are dozens of years in the making. Paved roads, municipal buildings, recreational programs, sanitary sewer system are examples of that progress.

None of it, however, probably would have occurred had it not been for the imagination and initiative of citizens in forming first a village and then quickly a city. And their action, of course, might not have been so enthusiastic had it not been for one of the area's biggest tax plums — Ford Motor's Lincoln plant.

Wixom late in the 1950's was made up of two townships — Novi and Commerce. When Ford announced plans for a plant on Wixom Road, property then located in Novi, Wixom citizens quickly moved to incorporate as a village around the plant site so that residents could more fully enjoy the tax benefits resulting from the industrial complex. And by the time Novi officials reacted, Wixom responded by incorporating as a city to protect its boundaries.

Few doubt that Wixom's gain was Novi's loss.

But that's recent history. Wixom's recent celebration was the citizens' and municipal officials — way of expressing their pride in the community's heritage.

Old-fashioned church services, ice cream socials, bargain days, and a spectacular review depicting Wixom from the 1830's to 1970 were highlights of that celebration that drew visitors from throughout the area.

The week closed in a carnival atmosphere, complete with merry-go-round for youngsters (second from top on right), a parade featuring bands and floats from Wixom and nearby communities (third from top on left), a battle of bands (center bottom), exhibition of old time fast-draws (bottom left), and a grudge match between Councilman Robert Dingeldey and his 'Dirty Dozen' (top center) and Councilman Vangieson's Heart Attacker (not shown).

Additions for your horse dictionary.

BRUSHING — A horse that, while traveling, catches one ankle with the opposite shoe or ankle is said to have the habit of "brushing". This may be caused by bad shoeing, fatigue, or malformations of the leg. It can usually be corrected by corrective shoeing.

BUCKLING OVER at the knees. Old horses frequently buckle over, i. e., the knee appears slightly bent even when the leg is straightened. It is caused by a shortening of the tendon at the back of the cannon bone and is frequently the cause of stumbling. It may be partly corrected by raising the heels on the shoes but a horse that buckles over badly has passed his stage of usefulness and should be retired.

Introduction...

In an attempt to acquaint electors with the candidates whose names will appear on the November 3 ballot, the staffs of the Northville Record-Novi News, Brighton Argus, and South Lyon Herald have prepared this election guide — a supplement to your regular weekly newspaper edition.

Before you begin reading, we suggest that you first orientate yourself by checking, on the opposite page, for the precincts and districts within your voting area. For example, if you live in Northville Township, find out what precinct you live in, notice the various congressional and legislative districts in your area, and then using the index turn to those pages indicated and find the biographical sketches of the candidates for the two major political parties for whom you will vote.

Only one of the four counties — Wayne — covered by these weekly newspapers has county level races other than commissions, for judicial, and for county propositions. Names of these Wayne County candidates appear on Page 10 — along with biographical sketches of county commissioners.

A special feature of this edition is the sample ballot that appears on Pages 8 and 9. A careful reading of this ballot will save you valuable time when you enter the voting booth.

To vote a split ticket: after you have pulled the party lever (thereby voting a straight ticket) turn up a voting pointer over the candidate's name you wish to cut out, and turn a voting pointer down over the name of any other candidate for the same office.
 4. Turn a VOTING POINTER  DOWN OVER THE NAME  of each NON-PARTISAN CANDIDATE of your choice. Leave Voting Pointers Down.
- To Correct a Mistake—Turn Up a Voting Pointer Voted in Error and Turn Down Another in Its Place
As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting pointers for each office; you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above the name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. Leave the voting pointers down. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle returns the voted voting pointers to the unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.
5. To vote for a Candidate whose Name does not appear on this Machine: Raise the Metal Slide DIRECTLY over the Name of the Office for which he is a candidate and write or place the Name of such Candidate on the Paper exposed.
 6. Move the RED HANDLE to the LEFT.

1970-1971	CHAIRMAN-BOARD OF HEALTH CHAIRMAN-SUB-COMMITTEE ON ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH VICE-CHAIRMAN - DATA PROCESSING AIRPORT

BACKGROUND:

Gerald Sixbey, born in Detroit in 1931, resident Green Oak Township 16 years, 39 years old, married and the father of five children, ages 2½ through 19. Member of St. Patrick's Church, a businessman and former Green Oak Township Trustee and presently County Commissioner from the 14th district.

I feel there is one qualification that should be considered by the voters in my district. That is experience. I believe that after serving as a Township Trustee in Green Oak for four years and having served as a Livingston County Commissioner for the last two years, I have gained the necessary experience to continue to serve you.

Because of the growth of the country, the next two to four years are going to bring important changes in the county and its government. The way these changes are handled will be vital to the people of the county. It will take firm leadership. The greatest problems as I see them will be in the following areas.

1. Solid waste disposal and sewage.

I believe the county must move ahead in this field and establish sanitary landfills throughout the county to serve the people.

2. Police protection.

We must attack the increased crime rate by providing adequate police protection where needed. I favor a Sheriff's sub-station system, especially in the high growth areas such as Brighton, Hamburg, Genoa, and Green Oak Townships.

3. Pollution.

I would like to continue the studies we have begun on the lakes in Livingston County. I would propose new and stringent regulations for any new sewage disposal system begun in the county. As you know there are many other problems which will plague us in the future but with proper and sincere leadership we will be able to handle them. I will try to provide that type of leadership.

Thank You
