Haller Plant Closing

Operating Costs Cited As Reason

Federal-Mogul Corporation's powdered metal parts' plant on Northville road in Northville Township will soon be closed.

Plans to transfer the manufacturing operations to Gallipolis, Ohio were announced by Haller Division General Manager M. C. Sarnes.

Federal-Mogul maintains two plants in Northville township. One is the ex-Ford Waterford plant at 16580 Northville road which houses the manufacturing operations as well as Haller division offices. This plant presently employs 151 hourly and 36 salaried employees.

It is the plant slated for phasing out beginning January 1. Sarnes estimated that it would take one year to complete the move. He noted that the division offices would remain "in the Northville area" and only manufacturing operations would be moved to Ohio.

The Haller division of Federal-Mogul includes plants in Plymouth, Northville and Ohio.

The second Federal-Mogul facility in Northville Township is the relatively new Haller Research Center, 17000 Northville road, constructed in 1965. Its operations will be maintained here. fremploys about 25 persons.

Federal-Mogul began its operations here in 1964 when the corporation acquired Haller, Inc., from its founder, John Haller. The latter no longer resides here. He moved his complete powdered metal parts operation into the Ford plant in 1958, purchasing the plant from the auto firm after it had been vacated for several months.

Specifically, the local manufacturing operations consist of making structural parts, mainly for the automotive industry, using powdered metal as the base material.

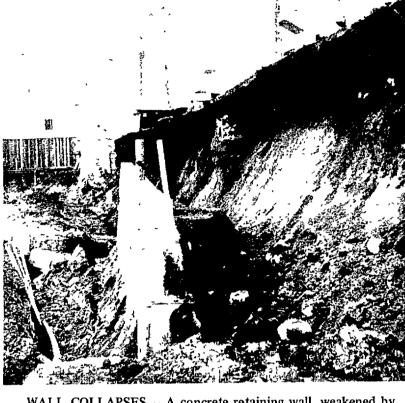

Company spokesmen decline to comment on the future use of the powdered metal plant. It appears at this point that it will be totally vacated in January, 1972.

While company spokesmen would not comment on the specific reasons for moving manufacturing operations to Ohio, other than to indicate a "deteriorating competitive position", it is known that manufacturing costs including labor and other services were the main factors.

Prior to a 17-week strike in the summer of 1969 the local Federal-Mogul plant employed as many

School Office Closed

WALL COLLAPSES - A concrete retaining wall, weakened by wet weather and traffic in the alley behind Main Street stores, collapsed Wednesday night but fortunately the men, who had been working beneath the wall earlier in the day, had left the site. The wall is located at the north end of where the city's new parking deck will be constructed soon off Cady Street. The cave-in also brought down a utility pole that came to rest against a construction trailer office on the site.

Offer to Purchase 'Park' Land Dims

A general announcement regarding the long-anticipated sale of Maybury Sanatorium property by the City of Detroit is expected within the next week, ending months of speculation on the disposition of the choice 900 acres.

Northville's offer to purchase part of the property may not be considered, The Record learned.

"We have been studying procedure for the sale and have a lot of legalities we're working on," Russell Chambers, real estate supervisor in the surplus property division of the Detroit city controllers office, said last Friday.

"There will be general announcements and we expect to receive proposals before the fiscal year ends June 30, 1971," he stated, pointing out also that "the city (Detroit) did include credit in this year's budget for the sale of the property."

Chambers added that "the City of Detroit is aware of condition of the buildings on the property and the (vandalism) problems they are presenting and is anticipating taking action toward overcoming this by demolition."

Chambers and Robert Roselle, city controller, met in Northville last Thursday with Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg.

Stromberg reported afterward that Detroit is getting ready to tear down buildings on the property and will be letting contracts. He said, however, that it is his understanding that the homes on the property, except for those long vacant, will not be demolished.

Stromberg said also that brochures listing the property for sale are being prepared and that it is expected that it will be offered in one piece with Northville City and Northville Township forced to deal with the purchaser if they wish recreational property.

Stromberg said he had expected that Detroit would list the property in one large parcel as it would decrease in value if portions were deducted on the road for area parks.

It's A First: Exchange Student's at Schoolcraft

For the first time, Northville has a collegiate exchange student, Frans Mols, 19, of the Netherlands, as well as two high school students, Sirkka Kupiainen, 17, of Finland, and Elser Nuval, 16, of the Philippines. Frans is at Schoolcraft Community College while the others are at Northville High.

students whose families have hosted The Crawfords themselves are newcomers to Northville, coming here from Westfield, New York, only nine days before Frans arrived. They have three children in high school and a son in the sixth grade annex.

Sirkka's Northville parents, the Glenn Deiberts of 9825 Napier Road, also are the parents of four, only their family, except for Lorrie, a high school junior, is older. Skip is a senior at Harvard and Colleen is a Michigan State University freshman. Kristen, now Mrs. David Kerr, is teaching in Ypsilanti while her husband is in University of Michigan Medical School, Elser's Northville parents are neighbors of the Crawfords, the G. Michael Abbotts, 532 Langfield. They have one son, Brian, 12, a seventh grader at Cooke Junior High. This is a contrast to Elser's own family with five sisters, ranging in age from 12 to 24, in the Philippines.

Since Thanksgiving is not a holiday Leppavirta, Finland, Tilburg, the Netherlands, or in Manila, the newcomers have no idea of what to expect this week.

From what they have seen of early Christmas decorations here, however, they have concluded that our Christmas is more commercial.

"Santa really comes on Christmas Eve in Finland," explains Sirkka, who already is known as "CK" by her Northville family and friends. A neighbor or friend dresses in Santa costume and is given toys for little children in the family as he enters at the back door. Then, she says, the children sing to Santa as he delivers their gifts.

CK has a nine-year-old brother as well as one 23 and a sister, 22, in Finland. The Christmas menu she lists is quite different in Finland. Special treats, such as codfish balls with cream sauce, are made only at Christmas.

In the Netherlands Christmas gifts are exchanged on December 5, St. Nicholas' birthday, Frans says, pointing out that Christmas Day is a religious one. This, Elser agrees, is true also in the Philippines, Families go to Christmas Eve midnight mass, Noche Buena, and exchange gifts the next morning. "What is really celebrated," he adds, "is Easter as this is a Catholic population."

All the young people speak English well. Sirrka occasionally resorts to an English-Finnish dictionary, but language is not a problem with the friendly newcomers

When CK returns to Finland, she will have two years of high school to complete as Finnish children attend school from their seventh through nineteenth years. She hopes her year in America will help her gain admittance to a Finnish college later, as, she says, it is difficult to do with not enough colleges for the number who wish to attend.

Frans realistically expects to go into the Dutch army when he returns as the two oldest sons in every family are required to serve. There is a possible "out" if the government does not need men and cancels that year's conscription. Elser will be returning to his senior year of high school in Manila and "hopefully" will receive credit for his year here.

"Getting around" can be a problem for the foreign students as none has a driver's license. Expense, explains Frans Mols, is the reason many Dutch youths do not have one. It costs about $350 to get one as instruction charges are included. In Finland, according to CK, the cost is $180 unless parents teach the youngster, then it's $25. "But my father never would," she adds.

The cost in Manila is less, about $10, but, Elser says, it is not possible to get a license until you're 18. This also is the age in the Netherlands and Findland. Already overcrowded roads, comments Frans, keeps the age limit so

The beginning of next year the exchange students will be joined by two more students from South America. Working with Youth for Understanding on the project is a Northville parents' committee, headed this year by Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Sterner, Jr. Mrs. Glenn Deibert has application forms for families who would like students in the future.

On the committee are parents who have had exchange students in their homes as well as those who currently are hosts. Northville High teacher Kathy VanHorn has volunteered to represent the school.

In the future the committee hopes to encourage a student exchange club to help the newcomers get acquainted and to encourage our students to go abroad.

Meantime, every resident of the 'area is invited to help "host" the youngsters by including them in special activities. A former host family, the Harold Wrights, mentioned that their exchange student enjoyed being invited to dinner at friends' homes.

Local Career Night, Focuses on Trades

The "World of Work" career night being planned for January 21 at Northville High, will include numerous leaders from the field of business and industry.

The purpose of the "World of Work" is to make students aware of the skills that are available today, spokesmen said, the kinds of jobs that will exist in the future and the skills that will be needed for those jobs.

"World of Work" will focus on those students who plan to enter the occupational world upon graduation, those who plan to pursue further technological study and those students who look forward to part-time employment to help finance an academic educational program.

Members of 'the committee who are planning the career night include Thomas Zander, Wayne Saunders, Barbara Morrison, Kathleen Miller, Cheryl Hayes and counselors Mrs. Violet Bradford and Mrs. Alta Olson. Working with the committee are David Longridge, assistant high school principal; Earl Busard, business manager; and Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum coordinator.

The committee said they welcome the assistance of any members in the community who would help with arrangements for the career night or who would like to participate in "World of Work."

Following the insurance contract, the council, in three ballots, elected Tom Lawson and Ed Butler for three years, Richard Bingham and Peter Alcala, for two years and Tom Marcus and John Gorham to serve one year as citizen members of the Parks and Recreation Commission. Councilman Berry was nominated and elected as council representative and named as temporary chairman of organization.

President of the Novi Police Officers Association, Gordon Nelson told councilmen that there was nothing in the contract, other than that which was mentioned in the recent arbitration award, that was new. Councilmen. Denis Berry blocked signature, however. "I've learned through long experience," Berry said, "never to agree to something, unless you've read it, and I havn't read this contract."

Measures instituted were a $20,000 life insurance policy, confirmation of current pension studies, uniform allowance, holiday pay, back pay (deducted for pension) and three new police officers.

The contract is expected to be signed next Monday.

School Board Eyes Millage Increase

A millage renewal issue and perhaps a millage increase appear to be in the works as the Novi Board of Education studies future financial needs of the district and points towards a special spring election.

Board decision on the millage question probably will be made at a December 21 meeting, which will replace the originally scheduled December 28 meeting.

Action was tabled this past Monday pending more study.

Specifically, the board considering the renewal of 4.5 operational mills, which expires this year, and the addition of three mills to cover the additional expense of operating the new middle school and elementary school now under construction.

The latter tentatively would include 2-mills for operation of the middle school, 1-mill for operation of the elementary school.

While no decision has been reached, board discussion Monday indicated that the millage election probably will be held prior to the regular annual school election in June - perhaps in May.

Likewise, there appeared to be little if any board disagreement over Superintendent Dale's recommendation that the millage renewal issue to put to the voters. Not so certain is the millage increase proposal.

According to Dale, and board members, renewal of the 4.5 mills is imperative. Without it, the district would suffer irreparably damage, they

The 4.5 mills was first approved by voters (472-200) in 1962 and last renewed in 1966 by a vote of 271 to 131. This year the 4.5 mills produced a tax levy of $209,428.

In his report to the board Monday, Dale noted that of the 28 school districts in Oakland County, Novi ranks 27th in operational millage. Altogether, it levies 21.13 mills for operation -9.63 allocated at the county level and 11.50 mills voted locally. Elsewhere in the county, the operational millage levy ranges from a high of 32.63 mills in Berkley to a low of 18.49 mills in Lake Orien.

Also, Novi ranks sixth in state equalized valuation ($46,539,595) and 15th in per capita cost ($765.42), the superintendent reported. He noted that during the past five years, voters of the Novi district have supported millage proposals by 2-1 margins.

"With the opening of two new buildings in 1971," said Dale, "I anticipate we would need an increase in operational millage." He estimated that additional need at $144,000.

Dale predicted an eight-percent increase in valuation during the next fiscal year and a similar percentage of increase in enrollment. The proposed 3-mill increase represents a 13-percent

Sports Activities Re-instated Here

Junior varsity baseball and seventh grade basketball programs, tentatively sliced from the 1970-71 budget, were re-instated Monday by a unanimous vote of the Novi Board of Education.

Board action followed review of a breakdown of student activity costs and a recommendation Superintendent Thomas Dale that the programs cost of which was pegged at $540 each, be re-instated.

The superintendent earlier had tentatively scrapped these two programs in order to balance the budget. However, since approval of the budget it appears the fiscal income will be up sufficiently to cover the two sports programs, he said.

In an explanation to a large delegation of parents and students, who were present to urge re-instatement, Dale said he had picked these two sports for elimination because, in the case of seventh-grade basketball, no faculty sponsor (coach) was immediately available, and in the case of JV baseball, because this sports activity would not occur until spring and conceivably by that time sufficient money might be found to finance it.

Board Vice-President Vern DeWaard voiced criticism of the elimination of the two sports in view of the $91 per student outlay for varsity cheerleaders. He argued that far more students participate in the two "eliminated" sports than do for cheerleading.

(Per pupil costs, as discussed by the board and Dale, involved expense for faculty sponsors, not money spent on individual students or money spent for equipment).

Trustee Robert Wilkins, however, noting that the ratio of boys to girls is about equal pointed out that there are a disportionate share of school financed activities for girls. He said he had no objections to either of the boys' sports in question but nevertheless argued that in the area of sports girls are treated less than equal.

Later, Wilkins challenged parents supporting re-instatement to show an equal concern and support when the board is forced to consider millage renewal and possibly a millage increase (see related story).

Secretary Ray Warren noted that sports programs at an earlier age are important to the development of varsity athletes. However, he added a tongue-in-cheek comment that with re-instatement of these two sports programs the district should be able to expect eventually a better win-loss record at the varsity level.

President Bruce Simmons reminded board members that the board predicament resulting in the cutting of two existing sports activities Continued on Page 9-A

County Planners Recommend Denial of Mobile Home Park

Wayne County planners have unanimously recommended denial of a rezoning petition for 188 acres of Northville Township land to permit development of a mobile homes park.

The county action was taken last inesday.

Yesterday (Tuesday) members of the Northville Township Planning Commission were expected to take their action on the requestrecommending either approval or denial of the petition to the township board.

The parcel in question is located on the southwest corner of Six Mile and Ridge Road and option to buy is held by Sheldon Hayes who has proposed the mobile home park.

Presently zoned one family residential, Hayes has requested rezoning to multiple and industrial, the latter (143.3 acres) to permit the park.

In recommending denial of rezoning, Wayne County Planning Commission noted that "While the area may lend itself to an acceptable mobile home development, the method being used raises inherent problems which should be eliminated before the project is approved: i.e., the industrial zoning permits other uses; the intent of the existing ordinance — that mobile homes be buffers — is not being served."

Hayes' proposed development calls for an 840-unit park consisting of 28 clusters of 25 to 30 mobile homes in each. He estimates the park will cost $2.5 million to construct and the first phase of the development will accommodate 200 home units.

Included in the proposed plan is a par three 18-hole golf course, tennis courts, club house, nature trails, day care center, swimming pool and small

Hayes said that the 44.7 acres he is seeking to have rezoned multiple is merely to conform to township zoning requirements and he "has no plans at the present for building on the land. It will remain as a large greenbelt surrounding the area."

DISTINGUISHED — Erik Mettala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Mettala of 2752 Look Lake Road, Wixom, was recently designated as a "Distinguished Military Student" at Michigan State University for the school year 1970-71. Wayne County's Board of Commissioners has approved expansion of the highly-successful undercover narcotics unit known as the Metro Squad, but rejected a bid to restore six positions to the Sheriff's road patrol.

A $267,295 outlay was approved unanimously November 19. It formally established the Metro Squad as a separate unit within the Sheriff's Road Patrol and Investigation Division and expands its staff to 13 members. The Metro Squad has been operating with six officers "borrowed" from other Sheriff's functions.

The appropriation will also permit the purchase of additional specialized equipment for use in communications and surveillance.

The committee will consist of two commissioners plus representatives of the board of auditors, sheriff, prosecuting attorney and the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. Its recommendations are to be submitted within six months.

Commissioners opposed to the impending manpower cut argued it would weaken the Sheriff's position in negotiating contracts with local communities.

Those who voted with the majority argued that rescinding the cut would lead local communities to believe the board did not seriously intend to phase out free local patrol for the Novi-Northville-Farmington area said she has placed three students in Northville but as yet has found no homes for the three designated for Novi. '

Mrs. Orr emphasized that the 'foreign exchange student' as they are often called, does not come to a family as a guest, "nor does a family offer its home as a charitable contribution, students bring their own clothes and spending money," said Mrs. Orr.

Tap C.A. Smith

Charles A. Smith, representing the Northville Rotary Club, has been named local fund raising chairman for the 1971 Easter Seal Campaign on behalf of crippled children and adults in Western Wayne County.

"What hosting a YFU youngster amounts to for an American family is paying 100m and board," she noted.

"The student is here to be a part of an American family, a part of the American way of life and exposed to both the favorable and unfavorable aspects of everyday life," said Mrs. Orr

Youth for Understanding, according to its Ann Arbor office, is the largest international teenage exchange program in the world. In less than 20 years, it has grown from a small organization handling 20 to 30. students - all from Germany in the first six years - to an international program involving over 4000 students a year from 40 different nations.

The three students requested by Novi High School will arrive, according to Mrs. Orr, "sometime between the first and the middle of January."

Anyone interested in participating in the program is urged to contact Mrs. Orr at 474-2056.

Editorials... a page for expressions ...yours and ours

A banquet last week marked the 10th anniversary of the Northville Jaycees, the 35-and-under citizens serve their community in so many ways.

Actually, the Jaycees started a chapter in Northville in 1956. But it sputtered after two years and the present chapter started anew in 1960.

The Jaycees are best identified by the traditional Fourth of July program which includes a parade, chicken barbecue and fireworks.

But in reviewing the highlights of the past 10 years, it's evident that the Jaycees and their Jaycettes have done much more to help make their community a better place in which to live.

For example, there's the Christmas lighting awards, the horse show, Easter egg hunt, the Jaycee park, Miss Northville Jaycee contest, curb painting project, Junior Miss contest, Halloween parties, Outstanding Young Man awards, community Santa Claus, soap box derby and many more community events.

The local chapter has won its share of awards as one of the outstanding groups in the state. Immediate past president, Dave Van Hine, was named one of the top five local presidents in the state, and the Northville chapter's newsletter "The Pacer" was named the best in the state for two years and won second place in national competition.

In addition, the chapter has grown steadily and now numbers more than 50.

This year's president is Pete Magnan. At last week's banquet he recognized his predecessors and some of the work they had done. Bob Prom was the charter president; Dick Norton has the distinction of being the only two-term president. Others to head up the local chapter are Walt Ribant, Charles Ely, Jr., Karl Knoth, John Macauley, Orville Beemer, Dennis Snow and Van Hine.

Congratulations, Northville Jaycees. You help put a lot of life and goodwill in our town.

You can't mention goodwill this time of year without thinking of the Novi and Wixom Goodfellows. They make certain each year that there are no families in their respective communities without a Christmas.

In another 10 days they'll be selling their Goodfellow newspaper editions. The funds they collect from this sale provide food, clothing, toys, etc., for needy families.

When you see a Goodfellow selling a newspaper in Novi or Wixom, be sure to buy one and tell him to "keep the change".

Ever wonder, Mr. Merchant, where lost customers go and

A recent national survey states that one per cent die, three per cent move, five per cent find new business friends, nine per cent go elsewhere for lower prices, and 14 per cent depart because of grievances.

But 68 per cent leave because of "indifference".

Obviously, treatment of customers is the important factor in doing business. Most will even pay a little more for friendly service. So be good to your old customers, and new ones, too.

No one can accuse the city's DPW crews of being late this year with the Christmas street decorations.

They're up and operating well ahead of Thanksgiving, the traditional kick-off time for Christmas shopping activity.

Northville merchants have purchased several new decorations, which help brighten the business district.

And you'll notice in this edition that local retailers are distributing their annual Christmas gift guide. It also includes a schedule of Christmas season events, including the visiting hours of

Speaking for Myself

Should Pant Suits Be Worn to Work?

YES...

Let's hear it for pantsuits! This is the greatest thing to hit offices since "coffee breaks."

Of course, it seems the men are the ones who are objecting the most. In my opinion, this has to do with those two big bad words "Women's Lib." Men feel that pantsuits are one of our giant steps to equal opportunity; in other words, trying to appear masculine.

Now, I ask you, how many women have you seen who look masculine in a pantsuit? About as many as men with ruffled cuffs and shirtfronts. That isn't many! Woman are. born feminine, endowed with certain assets that nothing, short of surgery, can take away.

The indiscreet micro-mini in the office has got to go, whether it be pantsuits or midis. I happen to believe that would like to leave more to the imagination and the mini certainly doesn't leave much!

My last point, which is important to me in particular, is the warmth offered. Now, for the first time since Mother allowed me to go without leggins, September through June may find me tolerating the cold back and forth to the office and home with more enjoyment and patience.

> Wanda Fisher Brighton

Pantsuits - an intriguing term, whether it be a woman's "lib" or a more conservative feminist speaking. Let's examine some of the pros and cons of the subject. In most instances, pantsuits are more becoming to the average wearer than the dear old "mini" and more modest in most respects than are

Thus far, I sound favorable to this new type of clothing for women but the question put to me was "Pantsuits in a City Clerk's Office?" One of the chief responsibilities of a Clerk's Office is public relations and inasmuch as the majority of women visiting this office on business are attired in skirts, I hesitate to digress from the traditional.

Traditionally, a Clerk's Office has always been a conservative place of business but this, too, may pass. As we see many age-old customs and traditions being flaunted and discarded perhaps "pantsuits" may invade the Clerk's Offices throughout the land; but as of now I'll keep my pantsuits for my home and traveling and eschew the cause of more masculine apparel in my place of business.

And the band played on - and on

When the music started eating into the game time (or so it seemed), the referee, anxious to get home for a beer, ordered Rowan off the field. But the band played on. The beer-hungry ref, looking on in disbelief, finally screamed at Martin, "Get that band off the field or your team gets a 15-yard

Martin's ulcer started acting up again. He shouted and stomped his foot and almost cried. But the band, oblivious to sounds around it, finished the number and launched into another. Rowan smiled his approval.

The ref fumed and shouted some more. And now Martin's ulcer was hurting like blazes. "Get off! Get off! Get off!" he screamed in time to the drums. The fans took up the chant between the umpalis.

Maybe the band mistook the shouting for cheers or maybe the band was just too intent on bettering the performance of the competitor. Whatever it was the band played on.

Martin stormed onto the field, waving his fist in Rowan's face and hurling tinted eulogies while his players bellowed and shoved at the bandsmen, some of whom began to cry.

The ref, urged on by the scteaming demands of the visiting football team, scooped up the ball and walked off a 15-yard penalty.

More umpalis...and shouts...and

But, finally, Rowan brought his show to a close and marched his charges off in a huff.

It was during another halftime -Saturday at Columbus (via electronics) that another band director, Buckeye Kochalko, turned in a beautiful performance. "Listen, you, there's another side to that story you haven't heard," he barked waving his fist menacingly.

"I talked to the band director...something you vicious reporters haven't done. He had every right to be on the field," he continued.,

"He was to have 10 minutes to perform. But they (officials) didn't clear the field immediately so the other band started late. Instead of starting the clock when the other band took the field the stupid timekeeper started it just as the first half ended. So by the time (Rowan's) band came on he had only eight or nine minutes to do his 10-minute show. Any other place they would have given him time to finish.

"And let me tell you something eise...

And the band director talked on...and on...and I almost missed Michigan's lone touchdown.

Like I said at the outset, band directors are sleeping volcanoes.

Says 'Thank You' to Novi

To the Editor:

May I share my thoughts at this "Thanksgiving" season? I am not generally or publicly articulate about myself or personnal happenings. Usually it is a cause, an obvious need or a project I can serve that enables me to speak out. We go along in our everyday world taking care of our families needs, some of our own and assisting where we can in our community. #### Extends Thanks

To the Editor:

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lund and family wish to extend their most grateful thanks to the NOVI POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS for their tremendously efficient response to the emergency which occurred at our home about 5:15 P.M., Thursday, November

Their speed in answering our call and the gentle concern they showed for Mrs. Lund was life-saving. We do not have the names of any of these men, but they know who they are, and by reading this letter will know how much they meant to us.

And now, thanks in part to these wonderful men and to her doctors, she is on the road to recovery.

This Thanksgiving I am looking back on four and one half months that have been quite unbelievable for my family and myself.

It was not easy to be the person receiving & not understanding why, so many kind wishes, so many inquiries about your progress, the cheerful cards & notes, the flowers and plants, the other gifts and honors.

The amount of personal concern shown continues to amaze me. Prayers were offered in local churches for my recovery. Many main dishes and desserts were brought to my family.

Questions Cost Estimate

On the front page of your entitled "Parochial Schools, Still Intact", I would like to quote Supt. Spear. "I have no reason to believe it will hurt us." (Passage of Amendment C.) He further stated as an estimate, that it would cost approximately $16,000 quote "If the parochial schools closed tomorrow, that's including state aid and teachers

On Page 4-A an article "State Aid Law Could Hurt Here", it says that estimates anticipate an expenditure of $918 per student for the 1970-71 schoolyear. If the parochial schools were to close tomorrow it would add 350 students to the Northville school district. Mr. Spear estimates this would costabout $16,000 including state aid and teachers' salaries!

I went to a non-public school and the way they taught me arithmetic (and they had a hard time of it) I would come up with a different answer than Supt. Spear. Namely, 350 students at $918 a piece would be $321,300! Cut that in half for the last semester of the school year and it would amount to $160,650, not $16,000!

Question - Do the parochial schools in Northville save the Northville taxpayers approximately $300,000 a year?

W. P. Madigan P.S. Perhaps next year the Northville taxpayers will have that amount added to their property taxes.

EDITORS NOTE: The $16,000 figure was determined by the number of students that would transfer to the Northville District, multiplied by the income needed to educate them, minus the state aid given to the district. The $918 per pupil cost is derived by dividing the total outlay for operating the district by the number of students enrolled. The per pupil cost decreases as the number of students increases, provided the budget remains fixed.

Aid Probationers

University of Michigan graduate students currently are participating with the 35th District Court Probation Department as part of their masters degree work.

According to Dennis Dildy of Northylle, director of the probation department which has some 60 volunteer probation officers, the unique U-M probation counseling internship was instituted at the suggestion of Donald Brown, former Northville High School counselor who is now working for the university while finishing his own doctorate degree candidacy.

Brown, who serves as field placement coordinator, called Dildy and asked if the local probation department would be interested in the university program.

During the current semester at U-M, eight students have been assigned to Dildy and Dave Busch, chief probation officer, to work four hours a week with the department much in the same way the regular citizen does who serves as a volunteer probation officer.

Specific breakdown consists of three students serving as aides in pre-sentence investigations, four students are counseling with local probationers on a one-to-one basis, and one counselor is in charge of a group counseling situation each week.

Participating graduate students are Todd W. Areson, Barbara Dore, James D. Kirk, Taimo Leps, Linda Molnar, Linda Morganstein, Michael Schuette, and Linda Tepoot. Dildy, who reports that "so far the program has proved very beneficial to all concerned," is hopeful a similar program can be continued indefinitely.

TANKSTERS - Water suits the Mustangs well as they practice daily for an upcoming season of swimming action. The season officially opened this week with a last minute addition to Coach Ben Lauber's schedule. The tanksters traveled Monday to the Mount Clemens relays to compete with 'A' ranked teams from East Detroit, Utica, Mount Clemens and St. Clair Shores. Next meet is scheduled for December 17 when Dearborn Crestwood invades home waters.

Vince, form with Dave Kochalko a strong hand from which to pick a pair of guards. The Lions finished up their season last year with a 5-12 record, starting out with a loss to Northville, so it can be safely assumed that they'll be up for Tuesday's clash with the Mustangs. Mustang Schedule

Watch For It

Who in 1970 were the best prep football players in the area covered by Sliger newspapers? Next week you'll know.

That's when the second annual area all-star team will be published in this newspaper. The top_players from Brighton, Hartland, Northville, Novi, Pinckney, South Lyon and Whitmore Lake will win berths on this year's team.

Selections will be made by the editorial staffs of the Northville Record-Novi News, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus newspapers, working in cooperation with area coaches.

The top player in the area will also be named.

Football Winners Saw Unio

All three of the winners in the final weekly football contest set aside their personal perferences in picking Ohio State to defeat Michigan Saturday.

With all three making just two mistakes in picking the winners of 16 games, Ruth Cole of 356 Fairbrook came out on top by virtue of her tie-breaking score. She picked Ohio to win 21-17 - just nine points off the actual 20-9 outcome.

In second place, 10 points off the actual score, was Elmer Horwath, 42767 Phoenix Court, and in third place, 23 points off, was C. O. Rapp of Livonia.

Like so many others, two of the three winners incorrectly guessed the high-riding Air Force eleven to beat Colorado, which turrned in a 49-19

Harvard's 14-12 triumph over Yale. Northwestern's 23-20 win over Michigan State, and the Lion's 28-7 victory over San Francisco marred the entries of many other contestants.

GREAT BUY BUT raising and selling turkeys isn't the profitable business it used to be - witness the number of farmers still in business. Asked why so many of the local farmers have gone out of the business, one ex-farmer's wife quipped: "Just look at the stores. Turkey is averaging 39-cents a pound and sausage is up around a dollar a pound." One of the few local area places still going - and doing a brisk business – is the Gottschalk Farms, 48175 North Territorial Road, where the big white birds (above) relax before taking their place on the

Visions of Golden Turkey? Here's Tips on How to Do It

Thanksgiving brings visions of golden brown turkey to most people's minds. Kathleen R. Bufton, Extension Home Economist for Wayne County, has a few pointers for making those turkeys a great taste success tomorrow.

'Count on about three quarters of stuffing per pound of turkey."

Mrs. Bufton recommends. "Be sure to stuff the tarkey lightly, since stuffing expands during the cooking period."

For true roast turkey flavor and carve-at-the-table attractiveness, Kathleen Bufton recommends placing the turkey breast side up in an open roasting pan and covering lightly with a tent of foil. The foil protects the turkey from browning too rapidly during the roasting.

"A covered roasting pan will cut down on cooking time," the specialist says, "but the turkey is not quite as attractive in appearance and does not have the characteristic roast turkey flavor."

Basting is not necessary, Mrs. Bufton explains, if you spoon melted fat over the turkey before putting it into the oven. Once the bird is in the oven, you don't have to look at it again until it is time to test for doneness.

There are two tests for doneness, Mrs. Bufton says. One is to pinch the thickest portion of the drumstick. The meat will feel very soft if the turkey is

The other test is to insert a meat

Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the third quarter of 1970 - up 6.8 percent from the same period a year ago - are being distributed to Michigan counties, cities and villages, the State Highway Commission said.

State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth said net receipts in July, August and September totaled $77,766,148, an increase of $5,271,480 from the third quarter of 1969. Normal growth in motor vehicle registrations and fuel consumption accounted for the increase, he said.

The highway fund is made up of the seven-cent-a-gallon state tax on gasoline and diesel fuel and motor vehicle license plate fees paid by

After deduction of Department of State collection costs, 1.5 per cent of the gasoline tax for the State Waterways Commission and $3.5 million annually for the Mackinac Bridge Authority to retire bridge bonds, 46 per cent goes to the Department of State Highways, 34 per cent to the 83 counties and 20 per cent to the state's 529 incorporated cities and villages.

Under this formula, the Highway Department receives $35.77 million as its share of third quarter collections, the counties $26,44 million and cities and villages $15.55 million.

Amounts received by area counties and communities in the third quarters of 1969 and 1970 are:

Oakland - $1,871,447 in 1970 and $1,720,723 in 1969; Novi, $22,338 and $21,048; South Lyon, $4,642 and $4,358, Walled Lake, $9,331 and $8,765; and Wixom, $6,948 and $6,454.

Livingston - $232,969 and $213,974; Brighton $8,246 and $7,960; Howell, $15,713 and $14,786, Pinckney, $3,046 and $2,863.

Wayne - $4,802,932 and $4,542,294; Northville, $11,026 and $10,395; Plymouth, $21,100 and $19,000; and Livonia, $192,115 and $179,369.

from the Pastor's Study

What Happened To Spirit of 1623?

Rev. T. D. Bowditch, Pastor Brighton Wesleyan Church

The first American Thanksgiving was celebrated less than a year after the Plymouth colonists had settled in the new land. That first dreadful winter in Massachusetts had taken the lives of nearly half the members of the colony. But new hope grew in the summer of 1621 with the prospects of a fruitful harvest. Governor William Bradford decreed that a three-day feast be

The first Thanksgiving Day, set aside for the purpose of prayer as well as celebration, was decreed by Governor Bradford for July 30, 1623.

Three hundred and forty-seven years later Americans will observe another Thanksgiving Day. Families will gather in traditional fashion. Color television sets will bring football games right into the livingrooms. Dinner tables will creak under their burden of roast turkey, cranberry sauce, mince pies, sweet-potatoes, salads, fruit cake, and many other bounties.

Members of each household will stuff themselves, arise from the table, groan and stretch a bit, and retire to the living room for a nap and then tune-in for the later gridiron contest.

Who would dare deny that this is a fairly accurate account of American Thanksgiving 1970 style?

There can be no doubt about this being another American Holiday, but can it safely be called a day of thanksgiving and prayer? Disease and death had invaded the ranks of the early pioneers. Fresh graves dotted the hillsides of that Massachusetts Colony on that first Thanksgiving Day in 1623. Many family circles had been broken.

They didn't have the latest medical techniques with which to treat the sick. They didn't have comfortable, self-propelled carriages. They didn't have modern supermarkets where every conceivable food item could be procured. They didn't have paid vacations and other extended benefits. They didn't have public schools to educate their children. They didn't have paved streets and super-highways. But they did have grateful hearts. They did have family prayers. They did have well-worn Bibles. They did have faith in a great God that sustained them through the storms of life. They did count the blessings that God had bestowed upon them.

In America 1970 we have a few additional "benefits" they did not have. Campus riots in 1623 were unheard of, but of course, they had no college campuses. Perhaps they should have staged a "Freedom March" to register a protest against the privations that plagued them and the long hours of labor.

They didn't have the problems of delinquency and social unrest of 1970. There is nothing in the records to indicate that they had to protect their property against thieves and vandalism. Neither did they have much property to protect. They didn't have war and mass murder, but they did suffer from death and disease.

Indeed, we have a lot they didn't have, but much of what we have in 1970 would not contribute to the true spirit of giving thanks. Who shall we thank for the problems and conflicts of this modern day?

On the other hand, if we had the higher values of life - Christian confidence, faith, honesty, dedication, the spirit of sacrifice, trust - which the pioneer fathers had, perhaps we too could embrace the true spirit of

Parochiaid Battle Started with Skirmish in 1842

LANSING - If you have the feeling the battle over state aid to parochial schools has been going on for quite a while, you're even more right than you probably

The issue is 117 years old in Michigan. Despite passage of the constitutional amendment designed to kill off state aid to parochial schools, the issue appears destined to stay with us . for some time.

It first came up in 1853,

Energy Crisis Feared

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS., November 26, 1970. There is today considerable apprehension that this country may be approaching an energy crisis, mainly in oil, natural gas, and coal. These three still provide more than 90% of our energy requirements, nuclear power notwithstanding.

Where the coming winter turns out to be other than mild, some fuel users will experience inconvenience, if not discomfort. Many large commercial and municipal users have already had difficulty negotiating fuel contracts, and some suppliers of natural gas will take on no new customers and will probably ration others at times. With all three basic fuels under simultaneous pressure from demand and anti-pollution factions, production or import incentives may have to be revised to get the fuel needed to keep industry on the upswing.

ONCE "FLARED" or burned off as a by-product of oil : exploration, natural gas is now a major energy element. Western gas producers have been able to reach the Eastern market by way. of the nation's vast network of pipelines. Even as we speak of a gas shortage, we know there are vast untapped sources of gas in this country.

Answer to this contradiction lies in the fact that regulated pricing of gas has made it uneconomic for producers to tap. new fields. One move being studied to help the situation has to do with the gas which has been discovered (along with oil) on the Alaskan North Slope. The most feasible means of removing this gas may be by pipeline from the Slope, across Canada to the only matter of religion which has been batted back and forth, either.

They specifically objected to remarks by the man who then wa's serving as state superintendent of, public instruction, Ira Mayhew. He had given a lecture to the Legislature on public education sprinkled with phrases such as "We, the decendents of the Puritans."

The Detroit Board of Education, back in 1842, banned the reading of the Bible in the city's schools. But three years later the board changed its mind, largely under pressure from influential Protestant leaders.

When it acted in 1845, it allowed both the King James and Douay versions to be read Michigan Supreme Court upheld the use of a book in the Detroit schools entitled "Readings from the Bible." After the ruling, however, the board decided to withdraw the book from the schools anyway in December, 1898.

IN THE 1920's persons opposed to the existence of parochial schools attempted to have them abolished in the state.

First in 1920 and again in . 1924 they attempted to add an amendment to the state constitution which would have required students to attend public schools rather than private, schools. Both times the proposal was defeated by voters.

until the 1960's. In 1963 the Legislature provided for the transportation of nonpublic school students in public school busses and in 1965 the state provided for nonpublic school students to receive the same auxiliary services, such as counseling, as public school students receive.

Now the whole question is up in the air again as a result of the new amendment to the constitution, and it will probably take years for completion of a myriad of court tests before the situation clears up.

THE ENROLLMENT of students in Michigan's public school systems is up again this year, but not by very much.

Statistics drawn up by the State Education Department put the official public school census for 1970-71 as 2,180,699, an increase of only 16,000 from last year. :

The rate of increase has been declining for several years as a result in the slackening of the birth rate a few-years ago.

The enrollment figure produced by the census, incidentally, is only 1,301 students less than the state's budget bureau estimated earlier this yéar.

****** MAILBOXES HAZARDOUS

THE $TATE HIGHWAY Department wants Michigan residents to stop beating their plowshares into mailboxes.

They feel the same way about wagon wheels, welded chains, iron pipes impeded in concrete-filled milk cans and other assorted obsolete farm equipment.

It's not the mailbox itself the department objects to, but the solid, unyielding nature which the objects have when a motor vehicle hits them.

... The department says traffic accident statistics for last year show 2,510 accidents involved mailboxes and 21 of them were

AN APPEAL to Michiganders was issued to use small pipe or wood in constructing the bases for mailboxes.

It said highway engineers favor the pipe construction with the base set off the shoulder of the road to facilitate highway maintainance in the winter and summer. '

From a safety point of view, the ideal mailbox support will bend, or fall away from the vehicle when it is struck and not hurdle the hood and smash into the windshield, it said.

It said, for example, wood posts not more than five inches in diameter or a regular four-by-four board make satisfactory supports.

WEEKLY CROSSWORD PUZZLE

The first episode was as simple as a Mother Goose thyme. But it had a dramatic tautness which originates from an author's

All he than see a high-budget, low must do to walk normally again is to have a relatively simple "Corwin," is one such dramatic production which falls operation.

Sharing as much of the considered the Canadian dramatic spotlight as the mailman is his professor son who, in his classroom teaching and in his popular, new book, scorns marriage as an outmoded way of life. Fidelity to this celibate philosophy prevents his marriage to the librarian whom he loves.

The reason why his mailman father won't submit to an operation arises out of this condition - the two separate worlds of father and son. One a Continued on Page 10-B air pollution becoming a steadily more popular cause in recent years, many industrial and utility plants have been pressured out of using coal and toward other fuels. Many marginal mines have been closed down and, with nuclear power supposedly just around the corner, few new coal operations have been opened.

Much of our coal output has been contracted for export at high prices. Thus, those who still burn coal must buy domestic supplies at virtually prohibitive prices. One user estimates cost at $20 a ton this year, up from $14.55 last year. Federal safety simple laborer who has, apparently unquestioningly, provided well for his wife and son; the other a professor admired by students and reknown for his life views.

The father resents the son, not for the son's success as much as for the son's ingratitude. While the father has toiled slavishly for years at a humble job to provide his son with an education, the son has taken all without as much as a "thank you."

It sounds like a simple story and it is. But few episodes of "Welby" can compare to this linear, dramatic realism which unfolds stitch by stitch, weaving climatically to the confrontation scene between father and son.

regulations, expensive to implement, are partly responsible for this spectacular price jump. In fact, as far as coal is concerned, it is more a matter of high prices than of basic shortage.

OIL, the third energy source, is also expected to be in short supply, near term. Mid-east disruptions, tanker shortages, and required use of low-sulfur oil to curb pollution have distorted the picture. Alaskan oil is plentiful. but this black gold will not be marketed for several years. Offshore Indonesia is showing its potential as an oil-producing region, with much of its output slated for Japan. The North Sea between Norway and Scotland also has tremendous promise. Major finds have been made in this area, and production and transport to European markets should not pose insurmountable problems.

AT THE present time the staff of the Research Department of Babson's Reports is favorably disposed toward certain petroleum companies: Cities Service, Continental Oil, and Standard Oil of California. These firms all have interests in the energy elements discussed in this article, and in the regions mentioned. It should be noted, also, that they are involved with other natural resources as well. Babson's Research staff also looks with favor on some of the natural gas pipeline companies, including Tenneco and a regional outfit of considerable promise, Florida Gas.

Out of the Horse's M

Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies.

Important tips on cooling a horse down in cold weather:

Remember even if the air is cool, a horse being ridden or driven can get very warm and with their long winter hair it becomes harder to walk them until the body becomes dry. The hair will actually freeze before it drys, then when the horse is put in the stable his hair thaws and becomes wet, thus getting him chilled, resulting in either founder or a bad cold.

To prevent this, walk the horse until the breathing becomes normal and the body is cool, then cover the horse with a wool blanket or anything similar which will keep the air from chilling the animal, then stable. The blanket should cover the neck, as well as the animal's body and be left on at least a couple of hours or until the hair is completely dry.

If the horse is to be worked a great deal and hard it may be wise to look into clipping the neck and lower body hair. This, however, is not recommended for the average horse.

UNITED STATES

EQUESTRIAN TEAM Bert de Nemethy, the coach of the United States Equestrian Team was highly satisfied, at the performance of European horse shows this year.

They won 17 first-place ribbons in the six shows in which they competed. The shows the team took part in were Cologne, Wulfrath, and Aachen, Germany; Lucerne, Switzerland; and LaBaule, France. In addition to the 17 firsts, the team won 8 seconds, and finished third 17 times.

The riders included Bill Steinkraus. Norton, Connecticut, Frank Chapot, Somerville, New Jersey, Kathy Kusner, Monkton, Maryland, Neal Shapiro, Glen Head, New York, Joe Fargis, Vienna, Virginia and Bob Ridland, Rancho Santa Fe, California.

Nine of the 15 horses they used had never competed in international shows and the coach thought they could use three in the 1972 Olympic games. Although they're still short of horses for those games.

The coach also went on to say that he had not seen any new riders or horses, from other countries, of Olympic potential.

The two youngest riders on the U.S. team, Fargis and Ridland, showed great promise. Many of the Europeans said Fargis' style of riding was much like Steinkraus'.

"Snowbound", the horse Steinkraus rode to win a gold medal, for the U.S.A., in the 1968 Olympic games in Mexico City, was back in action after resting for more than a year because of an injured leg.

He won three classes and jumped well, however, they will use him carefully on the fall circuit as they don't want to take any chances of over using him.
