

Head Football Coach Al Klukach Resigns

In the wake of a dismal 1-7 season, Head Football Coach Alex Klukach and one of his assistants, Cy Nichols, have resigned as coaches, Northville Superintendent Raymond Spear revealed this past week.

Nichols reportedly resigned shortly after the season ended and Klukach submitted his letter of resignation recently following a coaching staff evaluation, Spear said.

Klukach declined to discuss his resignation, indicating only that he plans to remain at the high school as a teacher.

Meanwhile, Spear has directed the athletic director, Robert Kucher, and the personnel director, Robert Benson, to begin interviewing for a new head coach. Spear said he personally has no one in mind for the post but he noted that if they (Kucher and Benson) find a "top notch" coach they will have to be sure that a classroom position is open to him.

"It has been my experience," said the superintendent, "that a good coach will make a good classroom teacher."

Ralph Redmond, another assistant football mentor who also coaches varsity track, has not resigned, Spear said, adding that the new head football coach will have the chance to select his own staff.

Rumors that Klukach would either resign or be fired have been circulating for weeks, particularly following three shutout losses midway through the season.

At that time Spear voiced concern over apathy on the gridiron for which he held both coaches and players responsible. "I will do whatever I can at the administrative level to bring about a better attitude that hopefully might reverse the performance on the field," he said then.

Klukach was named head coach in 1966, replacing Ron Horwath, now junior high school principal. He had served five years as an assistant. In that first season, his squad finished with a 3-5 mark. In 1967 the Mustangs notched a 4-4 record, 5-3 in 1968, and 3-5 last year.

Thus, in five years as head coach Klukach's teams have posted 16 wins against 24 losses.

While in earlier years Northville had been a powerhouse in the Wayne-Oakland League, its competitive performance has since deteriorated at least in part because some of the other W-O schools outstripped Northville in size, moving from Class "B" to Class "A" status.

Ironically, the end of Klukach's reign also marks the end of Northville's long association with the increasingly tough league. His successor will take over a team that next year will play in a new league involving at the outset Waterford Mott, Walled Lake Western, Livonia Churchill, and Farmington Harrison. The following year Plymouth Canton will join the new league.

Organization of the new league grew out of an attempt to develop competition between schools of more equal size.

Brighton also will drop out of the W-O League with the end of this school

County May Get Prison

DeHoCo Land Sale To Follow Auction

When 160 cows and two boars are auctioned off at 9 a.m. Monday at the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo), it will signal the phasing out of the prison's farming business. Plans are being made to sell a total of 900 acres of the 1,200-acre prison property.

"The farming operation at DeHoCo (located in Northville and Plymouth Townships on Five Mile Road) has been run as a private firm," Robert Roselle, Detroit city comptroller, said, "and has consistently lost money each year.

"Milking requires skilled help," Roselle explained. "We have good supervisors and a paid staff out there, but the prisoners don't know how to milk. We felt it was better to phase out the milking and pig raising, and the prison administration agreed they did not need this type of work to keep the men occupied."

DeHoCo Superintendent W. H. Bannan expressed different views. "The decision to phase out the farming was made downtown and I'm not for it. I don't know why it was made. You'll have to ask them."

Milk produced at DeHoCo used to be sold to Maybury Sanatorium when it was in operation, "but the health inspectors said we would have to tighten our regulations if we continued to sell the pasteurized milk," Roselle said. "We have been selling the milk to a cheese processing plant."

DeHoCo will continue to raise and can vegetables, operating much the same as a truck garden, Roselle said. The buildings and 160 acres surrounding them will be kept but the remainder of the land will be sold.

"By closing the dairy we can free pasture land for sale," Roselle explained. "Some of the 900 acres we plan to sell is in orchards and is under consideration by the city and Bannan for sale. Bannan hopes to keep the orchards."

Roselle said that depending upon the outcome of the sale of Maybury, which he said will be sold before the end of the year, 160 acres of DeHoCo will be sold. The parcel of land, zoned industrial and located on the north side of Five Mile Road beyond Ridge Road in Northville Township, will be advertised as an industrial park. The parcel adjoins the proposed mobile home park under consideration by the township planning commission.

Did the proposed sale of DeHoCo to Wayne County spearhead the sale of land?

(Detroit Common Council is considering the sale of the prison facilities to Wayne County, which is seeking ways of eliminating over-crowded conditions of the county jail in downtown Detroit. Originally, Wayne suggested that Detroit lease part of DeHoCo to the county, but Detroit countered with a suggestion that it sell the facility to the county. A formal offer to sell reportedly is now in the works).

Roselle said no. "Generally there has been a cut back on farming among the institutions. Jackson has been JUNIOR MISSES — 22 of them — who won their crowns in local pageants will be competing in the regional contest being held in Northville for the first time December 12 at the high school auditorium. Twelve winners will be selected at the Jaycee-sponsored event to go to the state competition in Pontiac in January. Connie Sutherland, 17, of Wixom, has been named Walled Lake Junior Miss and will join Northville's Junior Miss, Wendy Wheaton, in the regionals. Since tickets will be in limited supply, local residents interested should call Pat Dustin, regional chairman, 349-7378.

AN OPEN house will be held at the new bus garage tomorrow, Friday, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Bus drivers and administrators will be on hand to answer questions and explain the new facility. The 3,500 square foot building is designed to accommodate buses in the school district for the next 20 years, Earl Busard, business manager, said, and was constructed at a cost of $50,000. The public is invited to attend. The bus garage is located on the north side of Eight Mile Road near the athletic field.

A SUSPECT HELD by Northville city police may just have been guarding against the chance of getting a flat and not having a spare tire, but police officers think otherwise. Officers stopped a motorist Monday night for a traffic violation and upon closer investigation found the back seat of the car had been removed, ten spare tires of various sizes piled inside and covered with a bedspread. Police are continuing to investigate the case while the suspect is trying to post bond. He was charged with driving on a suspended license and with failing to appear in court earlier this year on a traffic violation.

TRUCK ARRIVES — Northville firemen were beside themselves this past week when this giant new fire truck arrived to take its place in the firehall. Chief Herman Hartner and Assistant Chief Louis Westphal took delivery of the 1,000 gallon John Bean in Tipton, Indiana. Built on a Ford chassis, the $38,000 unit features high and low pressure pumps, built-in foamite system, air brakes, and many others. The new truck replaces a 1946 John Bean. It is jointly owned by the city and township.

Construction to Start Soon On Novi to Livonia Freeway

If all goes well in two years motorists traveling east on existing I-96 will turn at the eastern edge of Novi near Haggerty and zip south along the borders of Novi and Northville on a spanking new freeway that will have fingers stretching from Schoolcraft Road east into Detroit, south to I-75 in Monroe County, and west to Ann Arbor.

Construction of this long-awaited freeway system, according to a top planner for the Michigan Highway Department, Donald Rush, will begin "in a couple of months" with completion of the I-96 leg to Schoolcraft Road anticipated within three years and perhaps in just two years.

With completion, I-96 will no longer travel east of Novi through Farmington. Instead, I-96 will be coupled with another designation, I-275, turn at the eastern edge of Novi and go south along Haggerty Road, skirting the east side of Schoolcraft Community College, to Schoolcraft Road.

At the Schoolcraft interchange, the dual designated freeway (I-96 and I-275) will part ways, with I-96 freeway turning east along Schoolcraft Road into Detroit and with I-275 continuing south to I-75 in Monroe County. A third freeway finger will branch off the Schoolcraft Road interchange. It will be M-14 freeway going west to Ann Arbor along a new route.

More specifically, the new I-96 route from the Schoolcraft interchange at the western boundary of Livonia will travel along Schoolcraft Road easterly through Livonia and Redford

Township to a connection with the Davison Freeway east of Grand River Avenue in Detroit, then turn south southeasterly to I-94 just west of Grand River.

(Already, preliminary work on the east freeway finger along Schoolcraft has begun as has widening of nearby Five Mile Road in Livonia).

I-275, as it leaves I-96 at the Schoolcraft Road interchange, will travel south along the Haggerty Road corridor through Canton Township, cross US-12 on the east edge of Haggerty and I-94 west of Romulus, cross the Huron River near the Willow Metropolitan Park area, and eventually tie into I-75 in northeastern Monroe County.

Planners Table Zoning Requests

Northville township planners tabled action on a rezoning request by Sheldon Hayes for a mobile home park, tabled action on a question of whether or not industrial land must be rezoned to permit parking and appointed Kenneth Sewell chairman of the planning commission on November 24.

Planners tabled the request from Hayes to rezone 188 acres of land to industrial to permit construction of a mobile home park pending reviewing action taken by the Wayne County Planning Commission November 18.

County planners had recommended rezoning be denied, noting that "the method being used (for mobile home parks) raises inherent problems which should be eliminated before the project is approved: i.e., the industrial zoning permits other uses; the intent of the existing ordinance — that mobile homes be buffers — is not being served."

Township planners said they wanted to review the minutes of the county planners meeting before making a recommendation to the township board to approve or deny the request.

Hayes proposes to build the park on the southwest corner of Six Mile and Ridge Road.

Action on an inquiry by National Bank of Detroit (NBD) as to whether parking is permitted on industrial zoned land was tabled, pending a clarification of the zoning ordinance by the township attorney.

NBD said they need additional land to the east of the proposed bank site in Oldford's shopping center on Seven Mile Road to permit parking.

The need for additional land is caused by the placement of the eastern most entrance to the shopping center, creating an odd shaped parcel of land where the bank proposes to build a branch office.

In other business transacted by planners, Kenneth Sewell was unanimously appointed chairman of the planning commission, succeeding Leonard Klein who resigned his position successfully to run for township trustee.

New Records Set at Track

The 40-night Jackson-at-Northville Downs harness meet closed Monday night setting records in both mutual handle and attendance.

In addition, rebates to the city treasury from the state's share of some $112,000 bringing the city's total take from 1970 harness racing at Northville Downs to more than $323,000.

Sponsoring Jaycettes Seek Mothers to March

Date for the Mothers' March in the 1971 March of Dimes Campaign has been set for Thursday, January 28, Mrs. Omar Harrison, Northville co-chairman, announced this week.

The upcoming march is being sponsored by the Northville Jaycettes, who for the past two years assisted Postmaster John Steinel with the project. Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Albert Tilley of the Northville Jaycettes are co-chairmen of the march.

Ten area co-captains have been recruited from the Jaycette membership and are getting neighborhood marchers. Mothers are needed badly, Mrs. Harrison notes, to march January 28. She adds that mothers can march during the day or in the evening as some areas are not well lit and women prefer to go in the daytime.

Captains are to receive their materials kits and instructions at the January meeting of the Northville Jaycettes. The Mothers' March is held during March of Dime Week, January 25-29.

Mrs. Harrison says that the March here seems penalized by following closely upon the United Foundation collection. The March of Dimes in Detroit does not receive United Foundation funds.

"Whatever anybody wants to give is most welcome," Mrs. Harrison emphasizes, pointing out that no set amount is asked and that coins add up. The original collection to fight polio sought dimes, but in recent years quarters have been replacing dimes.

Volunteers Record for Blind

by Jean Day
RECORDING for the Blind, a United Foundation Agency that supplies free recorded educational books for blind students, now has five local volunteers who travel into Detroit every Monday to record on tape at the Kresge Science Library at Wayne State University.

What they do will be explained by Mrs. Lester H. Dressel, chairman of the executive committee for the Detroit unit of the national organization, at Northville Woman's Club meeting at 1:30 p.m. this Friday at Northville Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. George Weiss, a long time volunteer, is to introduce the speaker. Other local volunteers are Mrs. George Jerome, Mrs. C. Thomas Sechler, Mrs. A. E. Jones and Mrs. Robert D. Dawson. Mrs. Dawson, who lives in Novi, is the most recent volunteer to join the group. (All are choir members, not too surprisingly, as voices that record well are necessary to the project.)

Mrs. Dressel has titled her talk Friday, "Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, Chief" — to emphasize the point that the tapes primarily are used by blind college students who, with this help, are able to go into any career.

Ruth Dressel, who retired in 1965 after teaching for 40 years in the Detroit Public Schools, is an active volunteer in several fields. A graduate of Wayne State, she has served on its alumni association board of directors, as vice president of a St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham, women's guild and as parish librarian. She is vice president of St. Anne's Mead Auxiliary, a non-profit, non-sectarian retirement home.

Except for studio directors and a paid staff in New York headquarters where a library of more than 16,000 recorded books is maintained, the entire Recording for the Blind program is handled by volunteers. It was established after World War II to aid blinded servicemen who wished to attend college under the G.I. Bill. A national organization with 21 studios throughout the U.S., it tape records textbooks at the specific request of students. Tapes are duplicated and sent to students without charge.

Friday's club program will be a guest day with a tea.

JUNIOR MISS regional pageant plans were explained at a coffee given Wednesday morning by Mrs. Russell Anger, Jr., at her home on Novi Road. She invited the 11 area women who will be hosting two contestants each during the regional pageant at Northville High School December 11-12.

Eleven local families are to have contestants in their homes during the regional competition, being held in Northville for the first time. Contest regulations of the Jaycee-sponsored event were outlined over coffee cups.

The regional competition is one of 12 being held throughout the state with 22 girls competing for the regional crown and the chance to go on to the state finals. Among the contestants will be Wendy Wheaton, who was named Northville Junior Miss for 1970-71 in the local contest November 21.

Rorabachers Celebrate Golden Anniversary

A family dinner party by their five children honored Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Rorabacher on their 50th wedding anniversary November 3. Their congratulations and gifts included a message from President Nixon.

Mrs. Rorabacher is the former Gladys I. Wilson. Her husband grew up in Northville. They have lived in Plymouth ever since their marriage in a Detroit Methodist Church.

Their children are Herbert, Jr., of Northville, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Robert and James of Plymouth, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Purchase of Ypsilanti. They also have 20 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren. Also attending the golden anniversary party were Mr. Rorabacher's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rorabacher of Wayne, who had served as attendants at the wedding.

Mrs. Rorabacher's sister and husband, the Mervil Gydes, and a nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Risner, and family also were present.

Mrs. Darrel Wilkie, a grandson's wife, made them a three-tier cake.

Mr. Rorabacher was employed at the Daisy Air Rifle Plant for 38 years, retiring 12 years ago at the age of 65. He is a life member of the Northville Masons.

CALLING CART hostess for the Northville-Novu area Marge (Mrs. Dean) Lenheiser, 45095 Mayo Court, is back welcoming area newcomers after a vacation in Spain and Portugal last month.

Her trip with the Michigan Cultural Catholic Society covered such picturesque spots as a tiny fishing village and Sintra—the summer palace of kings of old. She also toured Madrid, Toledo and Lisbon.

This is Mrs. Lenheiser's third trip with the charter group, as she visited Rome two years ago and Bermuda last year. On the latter jaunt to the Atlantic island she was accompanied by her husband.

Marge Lenheiser, who calls on 40 newcomers a month, is one of those persons who "delights" in her work. She says, "People are so nice and so grateful to know about the community." She tries to give "a good introduction" as she presents gift cards from local merchants.

She relies on the Northville and Novi water departments for names of city newcomers and upon friends in area subdivisions for neighborhood newcomers in the township areas. She admits that it helps being a long-time resident of the area in Connemara.

The Calling Cart welcome from local merchants is for newcomers to the Northville area and to the southern portion of Novi, including Brookland Farms and Village Oaks subdivisions.

The service is 16 years old and was begun by Harriet (Mrs. C. M.) Goodrich of Kingsmill. Mrs. Lenheiser assumed the hostess job almost two years ago from Mrs. Philip Wegeng.

OUR LADY'S LEAGUE of Our Lady of Victory Church honored past presidents and the Northville Town Hall Committee at its annual Christmas potluck party Tuesday. The social hall of the church was decorated in Christmas red and gold for the event.

Among those attending were Mrs. F. F. Ishac, immediate past president, Mrs. Earl L. Egbert, 1967-68 president, and Mrs. William Tucker, 1964-65 president. The league also honored its first president, Mrs. R. G. Wetterstroem, who was sent a bouquet.

Mrs. William G. Quigley, Jr., current president, announced that the league's card party November 19 was the largest ever and netted $400 for league projects.

A program of Christmas music was presented Tuesday evening by the Mercys from Mercy High School. St. Gabriel Guild was hostess for the evening.

One of its members, Mrs. Robert A. DeAlexandris, designed the original block print of the madonna decorating the cover of the league's 1970-71 program book. She was chairman of the decorating committee for Tuesday's party.

Sharon DeAlexandris also was responsible for the block print of a Michigan farmhouse, done in blue and white, decorating the cover of the Northville Newcomers yearbook for 1970-71.

By Northville Composer

Cantata to Premiere Sunday

A new Christmas cantata in eight parts, by Northville Composer Charlene Winslow Slabey, will have its premiere at 6:30 p.m. this Sunday in a community concert of worship at St. John Lutheran Church in Farmington.

The cantata, "A Star out of Jacob," will be performed by the senior choir of the church. It presents the Christmas narrative "as a unique experience from the point of view of God the Father," Mrs. Slabey explains. The libretto is by June Rado of Farmington.

Written for a full chorus with piano and organ accompaniment, the work will be directed by Marie Walck, choir director of St. John. Sandra Weiss will be organ accompanist with the composer at the piano.

Soloists will be Gloria Richardson of Farmington, alto; Don Otto, Farmington, bass; and Theodore Slabey, husband of the composer, tenor.

Madrigal Club Plans Two Christmas Concerts

Madrigal Club of Detroit — whose president is Mrs. Kent Mathes of Northville — is presenting two Christmas concerts for the public this month.

Both Mrs. Mathes and Mrs. Clifford Kirkland of Novi will be singing in the 38-member chorus as the well-known singing group presents a program of holiday music at 3 p.m. Sunday, December 6, at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and at 3 p.m. Sunday, December 13, at the Henry Ford Centennial Library.

The club's spring concert is scheduled for April 25 in the Ford Central building auditorium. Auditions to sing with the club will be held at 8

The Reverend Charles Fox, pastor of St. John church, is inviting everyone in the community to attend the premiere. The church is located at 23225 Gill Road, between Freedom Road and Grand River.

Mrs. Slabey, who is the mother of three children, also is a piano teacher. She has invited her 35 pupils and their families to attend the cantata, pointing out that it is open to everyone interested in music of the season.

In May, 1969, Mrs. Slabey's original cantata, "The Light of the World," was presented by the combined choirs of St. John Lutheran Church and Trinity Episcopal Church, Farmington. Participants were members of the Farmington Musicales.

Farmington Musicales now has four Northville members. Mrs. Slabey adds that its present membership now totals almost 70 and will be closed at 100. Any Northville resident interested in singing with the group may call her or Mrs. Albert R. Pfluecke.

Schoolcraft Sets Auditions

Auditions for high school musicians and those on campus have been set for December 10 and 12 at Schoolcraft College which will sponsor a stage band workshop for 16 weeks beginning in January.

Schoolcraft's director of fine arts, Wayne Dunlap, said the purpose of the workshop and creation of a stage band will be to offer students an opportunity to study and perform musical compositions and performance styles related to the jazz idiom.

Tentative plans call for the scheduling of performances in the early spring at Schoolcraft and, possibly, area high schools. "Performance is the ultimate objective of the ensemble," Dunlap said, "therefore, rehearsals will be directed to this end."

The workshop will be under the direction of Richard Saunders, band and orchestra director at Livonia Stevenson High School. He will be assisted by Robert W. Jones, composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft.

Membership in the band will be by audition only and a maximum of 25 instrumentalists will be accepted. The instrumentation includes trumpets, trombones, saxophones, piano, guitar, drums and bass. Tuition for the 16 sessions will be $20.

Auditions are scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. on December 10 and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on December 12 in Room F-310 of the Forum Building on the Schoolcraft campus. Two-hour rehearsals will be held at the same location one evening each week.

Additional information is available from Dunlap who may be reached at 591-6400, extension 312.

Connie Wins Pageant Crown

By Mrs. Robert Dingeldey

And in our town this week, our own Junior Miss! Congratulations to Connie Sutherland, 17-year-old daughter of the Robert Sutherlands of Wixom Road. Connie, a senior at Walled Lake Western High School, won her title at Western High School on November 21. During the talent presentation of the Walled Lake Area Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Walled Lake Jaycees, she played Handel's Sonata No. 2 on the flute.

Connie plans to use her prize money for college — she will be entering Taylor University in the fall majoring in sociology. Connie's next stop will be Northville for the regional Junior Miss Pageant held on December 11. So to Connie, all our good wishes go with you!

The Thanksgiving holidays brought a flurry of activity to many of our homes — some packing for trips, others making ready for guests. Who can resist all the delicious odors and goodies fresh from the oven, the good cheer and sharing of a table full of delicious food — followed by "I ate too fast, I ate too much." Many of us had guests — among those, the Ray Mattson's of Lakeridge Road welcomed their daughter and son-in-law, LuAnn and Charles Kendall and children Wayne and Kelly from Kankakee, Illinois. We joined in by having my mother, Mrs. Florence Fail of Riverside, Illinois and Bob's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Garth Owen and daughters Laurel and Sharon from Westchester, Illinois.

The Wes McAtees spent the day with the Allen Pierce family at their home in Milford. Mrs. Judy Kimmel and sons Kevin and Craig motored to Covington, Ohio to spend the long weekend with her folks. Gunnar, Vi, and Erik Mettala drove to Erie, Pennsylvania for Thanksgiving with their daughter and son-in-law, Vivi and John Germain. They were greeted with 15 inches of snow, followed by much rain and dreary skies. The Robert Case family had his mother and step-father from Battle Creek for a combination turkey-venison feast. And now on to Christmas!

The Corb Tillman family of Maple Road left Wixom on November 21 for Iowa. They spent some time in Dows, Iowa with Corb's mother, then journeyed to Des Moines to visit Helen's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jayne. While there they were delighted with a surprise fly-in visit from another sister, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Evenson and family from Seattle, Washington. The Tillmans returned this past Sunday with many fond memories.

Congratulations to Erik Mettala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Mettala of Loon Lake Road who was awarded a "Distinguished Military Student" citation at Michigan State University.

The combined third grade classes at Wixom Elementary presented a Thanksgiving program to their parents and schoolmates on November 23. Mrs. Kimmel, Mrs. Kinsel and Mrs. Woodward produced and directed the play.

Mrs. Jessie Nicolay, a 30-year resident of Wixom and her daughters, Vickie and Ellen, have moved to Milford. Their former home was on Pontiac Trail.

Colds, pneumonia, flu, chicken pox and mumps are taking their toll, especially among the school age group. We're glad to see Donnie Warren back with his first grade classmates at Wixom Elementary. Donnie, son of the the Reverend and Mrs. Robert Warren of West Maple was confined at St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac for a week with pneumonia. He returned home Saturday. Get well wishes go to all of you suffering with any of the assorted bugs.

Sympathies are extended to Ray and Wilhelmina Lahti of Nalome street. They were called home from a vacation trip by the death of his mother, Mrs. Edith Tuomi. Private services were held. It is asked that memorial tributes be made to the Arthritis Foundation.

Evelyn and Ozzie Simmons made a leisurely combined business/pleasure trip through Kentucky, Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia. While in Kentucky they visited many horse farms and had the opportunity to see "Nashau" and "Majestic Prince". Their trip also took them to New Orleans, which Evelyn described as a delightful city, and down to the Gulf of Mexico. While in Georgia they came onto a stand of pecan trees. Ev gathered up a sackful and her lucky family had a great treat on Thanksgiving — genuine Southern Pecan Pies made from "scratch" — really and truly. They also toured the Battleship Alabama moored in Mobile, Alabama. It is a tribute to those who served in World War II. An interesting note is that the school children of Mobile contributed their pennies to a fund, collected $150,000 and enabled the city to buy the battleship from the federal government. Ev gave a delightful commentary, in between splitting those pecans — really gave one the wanderlust.

With the Thanksgiving holidays, lots of college students were in for good home cooking. Among those, with many missed we know, were Alexis Smith and Ellen Simmons from the U of M, Cheryl LaChance and Lynn Aro, both from Central.

Terry McAtee, daughter of the Wes McAtee's of West Maple Road, was among a group of high school students from this area who toured college campuses in Tennessee and South Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. George Mackey acted as chaperones for the group who were gone for a week. George is the Youth Leader at the Wixom Baptist Church. Temple and Bob Jones Universities were the main stops and Terry attended classes at both schools. Another college tour is tentatively planned for spring.

Harry Lentz of Potter Road is at home nursing a mighty sore hand. Seems Harry and a bracket for an electric garage door opener had a confrontation. The bracket slipped and Harry lost! The end result was many, many stitches in a badly gashed hand. Ouch!

Just a reminder — if you haven't already done so, chances are still on sale for the "basket of cheer" benefit for Mrs. Drayton.

Septic Tank Stirs Debate

A request from Ralph Small of Mt. Clemens to install a septic tank on his Potter Road property was denied last week Tuesday by Wixom councilmen.

The action came after representatives of the Oakland County Health Department had declared that on site sewage disposal is inferior and that its use was intended to be made only until sanitary sewers became available.

"Our problem in Wixom," said City Attorney Gene Schnelz, "is not available sewer but that we have a number of people like Small who build their homes in excess of 200 feet from their property lines."

James Rothschild, county health representative, indicated that the 200-foot figure was the criterion used by the county in issuing septic tank permits in areas where sanitary sewers are available. Those living within the 200-foot figure must, by law, connect to sanitary sewers, he added.

Sewer facilities run along Potter Road opposite the Small property. The main problem, according to Councilman Val Vangieson, is the cost to Small of cutting through Potter Road with a lateral.

Vangieson said he didn't think Small would mind the cost of laying 200 feet of sewer pipe but an estimated $4,000 to cut through the road was an exorbitant cost."

Councilman Gunnar Mettala took the position that in cases where residents build their homes in remote areas, they should be allowed on-site sewage until there are enough neighbors to defray the cost of connection.

"I agree that septic tanks are inferior," said Vangieson, "but I also think that in this case we have an exorbitant cost, and I wish we could think of some way to defray the expense. I think if we don't make it more palatable, we'll discourage development."

Schnelz disagreed: "We've forced people to dig under Wixom Road at expenses exceeding $5,000," he said.

Councilwoman Mary Parvu sided with Schnelz: "We make existing residents connect; we should make new ones connect, also."

Rothschild noted that a septic tank permit could be issued from the county where cost was a factor, and he mentioned a senior citizen on social security as an example, but he also noted that county permits do not override those of the local government. He went on to say, however, that the county in general frowns on septic tanks. "They are temporary measures that will not last more than 10 or 12 years and when they wear out the owner will still have to connect to the sewer."

Vangieson voted for denial of the permit after recommending that a study be made to discover the feasibility of tying into a line which already exists under Potter Road to the Alton Adams property next door.

Assistant to the Mayor, Robert Case estimated that if this could be done expense would be cut by $1,000-$1,500.

JAMES MITCHELL

Ex-School President Here Dies

James D. Mitchell, 66, of 26019 Whipple, Novi, a past president and 12-year member of Novi Board of Education, died November 25 at Botsford General Hospital of a heart attack.

He had retired from his post with the Michigan Employment Commission in July, 1969. He was a graduate of Alma College and the University of Michigan.

When he decided not to run for re-election to the Novi School Board in July, 1958, Mr. Mitchell was serving his fifth year as its president. He previously had been its secretary for seven years. In deciding not to remain on the board, he pointed out that he had seen the growing district through two building programs and was ready to turn the post over to a new man.

Mr. Mitchell also was a member of Novi Chamber of Commerce, Novi First United Methodist Church, Oddfellow Lodge No. 487 of Novi, Northville Lodge No. 186, F & AM.

Officiating at services at 1 p.m. Saturday at Casterline Funeral Home were the Reverend Albert E. Hartoog and the Reverend George Nevins. Oddfellow Memorial Service was held Friday at the funeral home. Interment was in Oakland Hills Memorial Park Cemetery, Novi.

He leaves a wife, Signa I., a daughter, Mrs. Lois Dingman of Novi, and a son, James A. of Paris, France, who came for the funeral. There also are four grandchildren.

Mr. Mitchell was born May 6, 1904, in Stanwood, Michigan, to James and Jennie (Carson) Mitchell.

Retirement Plan Still Non-Existent

Although there is no existing city retirement plan, according to City Manager Dallas Zonkers, funds are being deducted from employees pay checks and held in escrow pending the formation of one.

The funds are deducted monthly following a schedule set up in the Municipal Employees Retirement System drafted by the state of Michigan which calls for 3 percent to be taken from the first $4,200 yearly salary, and 5 percent from everything over that, Zonkers said.

The MERS plan has been officially rejected by the Novi police because of the rigidity of retirement ages. Police had objected to the fact that such ages could never be changed, and therefore the retirement program, paid for by them would be out of their hands. The financial schedule, however, acts as a guideline for the payment of premiums retroactive from July 1, 1970.

By council action Monday night, employees will have their back premiums: (from date back to July 1) deducted at a rate of $10 per month over and above the 3 percent-5 percent figure.

Councilmen Denis Berry was concerned about the ability of the average employee to afford the deductions. "The police have a raise to offset the new expense," said Berry, "but these other employees don't."

Berry is working with Councilman Donald Young and Mayor Joseph Crupi investigating potential programs in an effort to determine which will provide the city with the best investment possibilities.

Wixom Official Resigns Post

Resignation of Joseph J. Juenic, provisional appointee to the post of building official, was announced by Mayor Gilbert Willis at last week's council meeting.

Reasons for the resignation were given by Willis as "personal."

Willis also said last week that "due to unforeseen difficulties," his appointment of a police chief, promised for November 10, would not be coming until "at least December 15."

The post has been vacant since April 20 when the resignation of Thomas McGuire was announced by Willis.

McGuire, who succeeded D'Arcy Young in the post, and who told this newspaper that he would not resign voluntarily but only if he were asked to, had been the center of controversy over a 100 MPH test run through the city of Wixom.

Sergeant Larry Beamish is serving as temporary police chief.

"We have a set of specifications made up," said Berry "...but as yet no conclusions have been reached."

Argument flared Monday night over a proposed contract with the school board to house a full time mechanic, paid for by the board, in the city's new DPW garage to service vehicles of both bodies.

Among the points that were contested were the training of the mechanic, and what would be done with a job if it proved to difficult for him, and also whose repair work has priority — the city, which owns the garage, or the school district, which pays the mechanics salary?

"We shouldn't have to move our trucks out of our building, because their mechanic can't fix them," said Councilman Berry.

Councilman Young pointed out that although problems did exist, it was possible for the city to gain on the deal in that the mechanic would only tie up one stall in the garage at a time and that if he were paid by the school board, and serviced city vehicles, money would have to be saved.

Other questions to surface dealt with insurance, what would happen to school board vehicles if they were damaged by fire in a city building, who owned the tools the mechanic used, and how much space would be involved.

Councilmen Louie Campbell and William O'Brien were directed to meet with school board representatives to arrive at an agreement.

In other business Monday night, the council:

— Directed City Manager Zonkers to buy a $1,500 portable salt spreader for the city. The unit, according to Zonkers, has its own power supply and can be mounted on the back of a pick-up truck with "little trouble."

Zonkers said that the city currently had one vehicle that will spread salt plus another out of which men can shovel salt.

Lone opposition came from Councilmen Campbell and Edwin Presnell. Presnell objected to the "hurry-up" nature of the measure. "It should have been taken out on bids," he said, "and we directed the City Manager last summer to make sure that we had all the equipment for the winter that we needed so we wouldn't find ourselves in this emergency situation."

— Directed Councilman Campbell to prepare a list of names and backgrounds for appointment to the board of appeals.

Mayor Crupi said he expected to make the appointment January 1.

SURE FIRE — Wixom's newest weapon against speeders is a radar unit. "It'll track a car coming or going, whether the unit is standing still or moving," said acting Police Chief Larry Bemish, "and the results will stand up in court." The city has signed a 30-day lease with option to buy. Cost of the unit is $17,850. Cost of the lease is $321.

Police Contract Gains Approval

The police and city will sign a contract this week following unanimous ratification of the agreement Monday by the council.

Discussion centered around the formation of a traffic bureau, an item included in the contract and marked for study.

Councilman Denis Berry maintained that the city was being led into a decision that it might not want to make. "The city according to this contract, is agreeing to study the proposal and next year the police are going to turn around and ask for the results of our study," he said.

The organization of a traffic bureau, complete with men and equipment, according to Gordon Nelson, president of the Novi Police Officers Association, is fundable with state and federal monies.

"The item was put there strictly for study purposes," said Nelson who objected to its deletion. "I don't know what next year is going to bring. What we're asking is that sometime during the next 365 days the city look at the programs that are in existence."

At the suggestion of Mayor Joseph Crupi, action was taken setting up a joint committee between the NPOA and the council to "study the availability and use of state and federal funds for the police department."

The new contract, retroactive to July 1 of this year, provides for a starting salary of $8,400 a year for a starting patrolman with a raise after six months, one, two and three years, reaching a ceiling of $10,500.

Nelson has stated in the past that the NPOA considers the salaries "fair" but has repeatedly objected to the "Council's reluctance to seriously consider our manpower shortage."

Chief of Police, Lee BeGole, expects to hire three new officers as soon as they leave their present jobs. The new men will bring Novi's police force to 15 men, including an acting chief.

One woman was injured in a three car accident Monday at the intersection of Sheldon Road and Seven Mile shortly before 10:30 p.m.

According to police reports, Joan E. Ward, Plymouth, was stopped behind another auto on southbound Sheldon, waiting for horses to cross, when the car she was driving was hit from behind by a car driven by Edward D. Fisher, 100 Dunlap.

Miss Ward sustained minor injuries but refused medical attention. Fisher, who was not injured, was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance, police said. Driver of the third car was not injured.

Two persons were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, with minor injuries they sustained in a two car accident in front of city hall Friday at 10:30 a.m.

Injured were Lonja G. Coleman, South Lyon, driver of one car and Linda Coleman, 109 South Wing Street, a passenger in the car. Both received minor injuries.

Robert B. Freydl, 207 North Rogers Street, driver of the second car, told police he was eastbound on Main Street behind the Coleman vehicle and could not stop in time to avoid hitting the car because of wet road. The Coleman car was attempting to make a left turn when the accident occurred. No tickets were issued, police said.

An attendant at Boron Gas Station, 710 West Eight Mile Road, reported to police a customer entered the station and took a book of trading stamps while the attendant was filling the car's gas tank.

According to reports, the incident took place at 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

Police reported a utility wire down at the rear of Lorenz Drugs on Main and Center Street at 6:35 p.m. Friday. According to reports, the wire was not smoking and the officers notified Detroit Edison.

between 9 p.m. and 11:55 p.m. Nothing was reported missing, police said.

Two persons received minor injuries in a two car collision Thursday shortly after 7 p.m. on Novi Road 50 feet south of Allen Drive, police reports said.

Injured were John J. Crane, 20404 Woodhill Road, driver of one car, and Ralph Luckett, 44040 Wyngate, a passenger in his auto. Both refused medical attention.

According to police, Crane was southbound on Novi Road when one wheel went off the pavement, hitting a deep rut in the shoulder of the road, causing Crane to lose control of the car.

He collided with a car traveling north on Novi Road driven by Hiram A. Smith, 790 Horton Street. Smith was not injured, police said. No violations were issued.

A Madison Heights man, Virgil Whitmer, told police a battery valued at $30 was taken from his car while it was parked at Northville Downs Tuesday. According to reports, the theft occurred between 8 p.m. and midnight.

James D. Adams, Jr., Plymouth, reported to police Monday night his car had been entered while parked at the Downs. Investigating officers said nothing was found missing from the car but the steering column had been tampered with.

Three bottles of liquor valued at $12.53 were taken from Spagy's Grocery shortly before 7 p.m. Wednesday. According to police reports, a male customer left the store without paying for the merchandise.

In Township . . .

Four persons were injured when the car in which they were riding was struck by another vehicle on Eight Mile Road, four-tenths of a mile east of Napier Road. The accident took place Friday, shortly after 3:30 p.m.

According to Wayne County Sheriff's Department who handled the accident, a car driven by Dorothy M. Mittelstadt, Detroit, was traveling east on Eight Mile when the right wheels of her car hit the shoulder, causing her to lose control of the car.

The car veered across the eastbound lane, striking a westbound vehicle driven by Kathleen E. Wastle, Albion, which in turn hit a tree.

Mrs. Wastle and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pietkow, passengers in the vehicle, were taken to Wayne County General Hospital and treated for visible injuries. Mrs. Wastle's eight-year-old son, Patrick, was treated for minor injuries at Wayne County and released. Mrs. Mittelstadt was not injured.

In Novi..

Some $89 was stolen over the Thanksgiving holiday, as thieves broke into a tool crib and safe at Trudeau Poured Wall Company on 10 Mile Road.

Entry was made through the rear garage and several tools taken from the tool crib located there, according to police. Thieves then took some $50 from the office area, and $35 in cash plus some $4 in change from the safe.

The home of Louis Tank, 47549 Nine Mile, was ransacked Friday, according to police, as thieves took some $500 worth of rifles, money, watches and a portable television.

Entry was reportedly gained through the back door while the Tank family were out.

A 15-year-old juvenile has been arrested by police in the stabbing two weeks ago of a Brighton man, David Edward Fegan. The incident reportedly happened in the parking lot of the Novi Inn.

A Farmington youth, 17-year-old Roland Thieleman, has been arrested by Novi detectives in connection with the theft in early November of nearly $1,000 from Robert Ronk, owner manager of the Peppertree Restaurant.

Thieleman, according to reports, had worked for Ronk for some 1½ years. The youth was expected to be arraigned this week.

Warrants will be sought this week, according to police, against Owen Pierce in connection with injuries incurred by Officer William Brown in the process of stopping a bar fight November 20 in the Derby Bar.

One man was arrested early Monday morning and at least two are currently being sought in connection with a breaking and entering at the Sunoco Station on Novi Road and I-96.

While on regular patrol, Monday approximately 2:15 a.m., Officers John Johnson and Jerry Burnham spotted three cars parked in the service plaza of the gas station and a robbery in progress inside.

Before the officers could investigate the thieves fled the scene, leaving behind their cars which were already partially filled with $500 worth of tires stored on the property.

Investigation found the three vehicles to have been stolen from Detroit.

Police report that two of the men fled into the Seely Road Trailer Camp, some 1½ miles from the Sunoco Station, stole a car and fled into Farmington.

The car was spotted by Farmington officers who attempted to stop it. The attempt led to a chase which ended in an accident near 12 Mile and Orchard Lake. Both suspects fled the scene on foot, and one 20 year old, Joseph Clyburn of Detroit, was picked up minutes later attempting to hitch-hike on the I-696 freeway.

GENE SCHNELZ

Speaking for Myself Should Wives Shovel Walks?

MRS. JOHN McMILLAN

YES...

Our recent snow storm led me to perform one of my favorite tasks, shoveling snow. Other favorite tasks are: paying my income tax, visiting my mother-in-law, and taking castor oil.

While going about this joyful procedure, I began reflecting on Women's Lib, and suddenly came to a conclusion. Being naturally unselfish and seeking always the truth about my person, I realized how unfair I had been. I was depriving my wife of this joy. I had taken for granted that shoveling snow was one of man's inalienable rights. That only he was entitled to know the satisfaction of a well shoveled walk with fresh crisp edges; the sudden uncovering of what had been hidden, the immediate self gratification of a job well done.

Forgotten too, other than the aesthetic rewards, was the sense of the physical well being, the invigorating air, the muscles rippling and responding to each impulse from the brain, the lungs inhaling and exhaling, the heart increasing its beat, pumping fresh blood throughout the body, the twisting of the hips and torso, all calculated to develop a tremendous physique with out the expense of a health studio. Then also, the communion with others, the feeling of sharing, being able to look about you and see neighbors joining with you in an overall effort to once again restore order to the sometime confusion of a snow fall.

Immediately, I quit shoveling and went in to discuss these thoughts with my sweet wife and wonder of wonders as she listened, she became overwhelmed with the logic thereof, and agreed. She would help with the snow shoveling! In fairness, however, she suggested that the job be divided in half, and I, in good conscience, had to concur. Therefore, henceforth, I will shovel all snow from October through March and she will shovel all snow from April through September.

Gene Schnelz,
Wixom City Attorney

NO...

Regardless of women's liberation advocates I feel that we wives should not be expected to shovel snow. We have traditionally been known as the weaker, softer sex and I for one would like to see us remain in that light. I hear, however, that we women are losing some of our feminine heritage much to the dismay of dear mother nature who went to such pains to balance our environment. It is apparent throughout the animal kingdom that certain chores do go hand-in-hand with each specific sex. Child rearing and house chores have likewise been the woman's duties as lawn mowing and snow shoveling (outside chores) have been the man's.

Men who adamantly reject the women's new liberation movement should fight it by not allowing their wives the chance to undermine their masculinity which has been sadly declining the past few years. Your waistslines seem to be expanding (or exploding), too! What a fantastic way to kill two birds with one stone by merely shoveling snow.

From where I stand as a working mother and wife it is essential that the man of the house perform the outside chores. With dishes, laundry and the preparation of dinner ahead of me every night there just isn't time for me to shovel snow, and being the feminist that I am I prefer to keep our chores separate.

If there is some physical reason why your husband can't perform some of the more strenuous household tasks think about hiring your neighborhood boys. Helping them to earn extra spending money is helping to keep them off the streets by providing the boys with spending money for the movies, bowling or some school activity.

The feminists must unite and a start is by standing fast by our declaration of "No" to shoveling snow.

Mrs. John McMillan
Secretary,
Novi High School

SPEAKING for The Record By BILL SLIGER

State Police Sergeants R. H. Robertson and T. G. Meehleder, commander and assistant commander, respectively, of the post (at Redford) responsible for the Northville-Plymouth area visited The Record office Tuesday.

They talked at length to Jack Hoffman and myself about police protection in Northville township.

What they had to say should be of utmost importance to every township citizen; and it should give cause for thoughtful reconsideration by township officials as they attempt to provide police service in relation to its need at this time in the township.

First consider these points as presented by the state police officials:

-the state police encourage township residents to call them when police assistance is needed;

-the state police have a minimum of two cars on duty 24-hours per day in the Northville-Plymouth area;

-emergency calls will be given immediate attention;

-post officials have appealed to have the state provide a toll-free line for residents of this area (the number is 531-4100) but because of a shortage of state funds this service has not been initiated;

-the some 34 members of the post serving the Northville-Plymouth area are housed in crowded district headquarters at Redford with 100 other state policemen and are most anxious to move into their own post quarters in this area, but again, the ultimate move is being detained by the lack of money.

At this point in its development, Northville township's police service needs must be considered minimal. Further, its ability to pay for any service without additional millage is limited.

Yet a truly professional force to act in cases of emergency and to supplement the ordinance-enforcing duties of the two-man township department would certainly provide reassurance. Especially in the light of the precarious future and already limited service performed by the county sheriff.

Clearly, there's an opportunity for Northville township to increase its use of state police service many-fold, and at a relatively small cost.

First, the township board could exercise its influence through its state representative and state senator to cause the state to provide a toll-free telephone line to the Northville-Plymouth post.

Police officials contend that citizens are reluctant to pay a toll charge for routine police calls. "People have the idea that we're (the state police) interested only in 'big stuff'", Sgt. Robertson noted. "Actually, we're happy to supply any information, including weather and road conditions".

He explained that in emergencies, citizens turn to the same source for help that they are accustomed to calling for routine matters. Thus it is important that the call is toll-free.

In efforts to persuade the state to pay for a toll-free line fail, the township board should consider providing the service itself. For approximately $70 a month, it might be a most worthwhile investment.

Most important of the revelations by the state police, however, is the imminent move of the post to this area. It's definitely projected within two years. It would be sooner if funds for a post site were available.

The officers explained that for temporary quarters "an old, large house would do". While the state is short of funds for capital investments, it could enter into a lease for post facilities that would be adequate until construction monies are available.

The state police officers noted that in many northern townships the state police post serves as the only local law enforcement agencies for communities in which post's are located.

Experience shows that state police post services are utilized most by citizens residing within 10 miles.

The state police are definitely planning to locate a 34-man post in the Northville-Plymouth area. The site should be on a main road; it could be in a city. At any rate, community effort might very well determine the location of the post.

There are some possible sites on publicly-owned properties in Northville township. There are even existing houses on such sites. Or there might be an individual, or group, interested in providing a facility and leasing it to the state.

At any rate, the township could stand to gain the services of the best police protection available - without a tax hike.

Child Safety A Priority

To the Editor:

At the Novi Board of Education meeting on Monday, October 26, Mr. Roy Williams, principal of Novi Elementary School, made several comments one of which we feel merits further discussion.

Mr. Williams expressed his concern because the large group of parents present were apparently indicating more interest in how their children went to and from school, rather than what they learned while they were there. Mr. Williams based this comment on the fact that far more parents attended this particular session than any other Board of Education meeting over the past 10 years.

We can not speak for all the parents in attendance, but we can confidently speak for the 20 residents of Meadowbrook Glens Homeowners Association who were present. Since its inception late last spring our association has attended at least 80 percent of the regular and special Novi Board of Education meetings. Our representatives have faithfully reported all pertinent matters to our Board of Directors and to the interested parents. We purposely expanded our attendance at this particular session for three reasons:

1. It was specifically designated as a public hearing by the Board.
2. The administration sent a letter to all parents specifically requesting them to attend.
3. Our association had presented its views at several previous meetings through our representatives and we felt that we needed "voter" support to properly impress the board.

Considering these facts we feel that Mr. Williams unjustly chastised the members of our association for what he Adam was beguiled by Eve, not Eve by Adam.

Therein lies the clue to woman's subordination to man - Women's Lib not withstanding.

In 1804, a frequent pulpit argument, according to a handy guide (vintage 1900) that has come my way, noted that "It is just that woman should take as her ruler him whom she incited to sin, that he may not fall a second time through female levity."

This guide, titled Woman's Century Calendar and autographed in 1901 by Susan B. Anthony, is jammed with tidbits about injustices suffered by the female, who by today's standard, obviously has come a long way.

Here are some samples:

1801. Dr. Gregory's advice to boarding-school girls of the day was, "If you happen to have any learning, keep it a profound secret, especially from men..."

1803. A man sold his wife, as he would a cow, in the Sheffield market (England) for a guinea. Newspapers commented upon it as a common occurrence.

1805. It was pronounced "good form" for a modest girl to faint often, and especially if frightened. Robust health for women among the upper classes was considered quite indelicate.

1810. Sydney Smith, in a plea for better educational opportunities for women, wrote: "Women may be inferior beings, but there seems to be no reason why women of forty should be as ignorant as a boy of twelve."

1811. During this period women were not infrequently dipped in a river, while fastened to a board provided for the purpose, amid the jeers of lookers on, the punishment being adapted especially to "scolds." In 1889 the law was repealed in New Jersey.

1817. It was not uncommon, at this date and for years after, for husbands to will their children away from their wives to other guardians.

1824. A New York woman was found, during a revival at her church, praying with three women "under conviction" in an ante-room during the general service. She was stopped, reproved and held up to scorn of the church. "History does not record whether the souls of these women were saved through masculine prayer, or lost for the want of feminine prayer."

1840.-The Texas legislature gave married women the right, to make a will.

1844. Pauline Wright Davis lectured on physiology and used a manikin for illustration. She reported that "women frequently dropped their veils, shocked at the indelicacy, ran out of the room or even fainted at sight of it."

1848. The right of organizing and meeting in clubs was denied to the women of France by act of the National Assembly.

1867. Austria forbade women to become members of political associations.

1869. Women were admitted to Michigan University in Ann Arbor.

1878. A loose gown, called the "Mother Hubbard," had been introduced by the "fashions," which for some unknown reasons excited the animosity of innumerable legislators, and many town and city councils by enactment forbade women to appear upon the street wearing the costume.

1882. Demark permitted women to study law but stipulated they should not practice.

1893. Control of wages and property was given to women in Rhode Island and West Virginia.

All of which suggests that the next time your husband exclaims, "Oh, for the good old days," he's not just being a sentimental slob...he'd like his rib back.

Jaycee Pageant Gets A Bouquet

To the Editor:
I would like to thank the Northville Jaycees for sponsoring the Junior Miss Pageant. All of the hard work created one day that the eight of us girls will never forget.

Also, I'd like to thank all of the people who helped me prepare for the pageant. It was an impossible task without your help. Those of you that encouraged me will never know how much I appreciated your words.

Next, I'd like to thank the other girls in the pageant. I really believe our friendship skit was the best example of the relationship that developed in the last few days before the pageant. I hope that every girl that ever enters any contest is lucky enough to find a group that is as nice and as much fun as the one I worked with. Getting seven new friends was worth every minute of the contest.

Finally, the biggest thank-you goes to my parents for all of their help, support and love. They have really put up with alot the past few weeks. Without them, I would have never dared to dream.

Thank you all so much.
Congratulations Wendy! Best of Luck in the Regionals!

Sincerely, Debbie Duey

Patient Aid Sought Here

To the Editor:
Each year at this season we receive requests from people interested in remembering our patients here at Northville State Hospital. Relatives assume the major responsibility of remembering our patients. But there are many, through long years of hospital care, who are without relative or friend. Many remain in our hospital, while others are living in a Family Care of County Referral Program home somewhere in our area.

For each of these patients to receive a gift individually chosen and wrapped - something that patient particularly wants and would appreciate - indeed could be most worthwhile. Typical gift requests fall within the range of $4 to $6.

Here's A Way To Join Fight

To the Editor:
Like many other residents of this area, I have recently become aware and concerned with the serious problems that face our environment today. I felt the necessity to do something about these problems but feared my efforts as an individual would be insignificant and to no avail.

Recently, however, I was invited by friends to attend a meeting of the Citizens for Environmental Action. It was at this meeting that I discovered how to direct my concern for our environment. This organization is a small group of citizens who not only are concerned and aware of our environmental problems, but are intent on doing something about them.

Citizens for Environmental Action are indeed in action. They have sponsored a glass collection, roadside clean up, an investigation to find the polluters of our area lakes and streams, as well as writing letters to our congressmen, food manufacturers, and the automobile industries stating their approval or disapproval on their efforts to combat pollution.

C.E.A. meet every other Thursday and welcome any interested persons. For information about time and place of meetings, contact Donald Oswell, 349-4456.

There is something that you can do.

Zoning Trend Spoils Progress

To the Editor:
If Wixom residents will glance through this and the other local papers, you will find a great amount of space is being allocated to requests for, or notices of rezoning.

"Well, that's progress", you say. Fine I'm sure we are all pleased that we are progressing. But what kind of progress do we have without proper planning? We are presently being besieged by the almighty realtor with beautiful site plans in one hand and plentiful cash. Let us pause for a moment and look around before these visions of Dearborn's that are dancing in our head's blind us to some simple facts!

First the interest rates on mortgages has just been lowered again, thus increasing the possibilities of permanent residents with a vested concern for our city.

Second, with this increase in multiple dwellings there also will be an increase in fire, police, traffic control, road repair, etc. for which we will all pay.

Third, our present sewer system was not designed for multiples everywhere. Those that have been built still stand almost vacant.

Finally, not too long ago we adopted a flexible master plan, thus enabling the home owner to build and live in a residential district without congested traffic and excessive noise. Can anyone in Wixom safely tell me where that area has been moved to. If so please call me.

AT CARLO TRIBUTE - Some 120 well-wishers were on hand Tuesday evening (November 24) at Northville Downs to pay tribute to John J. Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, at a dedication ceremony for the track's new clubhouse. Among the special guests were: (l. to r.) State Racing Leo C. Shirley, State Representative Marvin Stempien, Mayor A. M. Allen, Orlov Owen, Carlo, Dr. L. W. Snow and Leon A. Slavin. Mayor Allen thanked Carlo on behalf of the city "for the many contributions made to the city" as he unveiled the dedication plaque. Carlo responded by promising to "finish the job I've started". Owen, a longtime Northville resident, was once associated with Northville Downs but recently retired as general manager of Wolverine Raceway. Dr. Snow represented Northville Driving Club, landlord of Northville Downs, at the tribute. The Driving Club, under Dr. Snow's leadership, joined with Carlo and Northville Downs in the program to erect the new clubhouse. Slavin conducts the Jackson meet at Northville, which closed its season this week.

Two Receive Ford Awards

"Hard work is its own reward" - except at Ford Division where there are other compensations.

Sanfrid A. Dixon of Northville and William H. Allen of Novi know this.

They are two of the 45 Ford Division employees to receive the third annual Achievement Awards, given to employees who have made exceptional contributions to the Division's success.

To be considered for the award, an employee must be exceptionally effective and make a contribution that goes beyond normal job requirements.

The two men received their awards at a banquet at the company's headquarters in Dearborn on November 19. In addition to engraved wristwatches, mantel clocks and pen-and-pencil sets for their wives, the award included a one-week, all expenses paid vacation for the winners and their families at one of seven resorts.

Dixon, who lives at 409 Larry Drive, is graphics supervisor for the Ford Division, while Allen, who lives at 23210 Gilbar Drive, is truck price coordinator for heavy truck sales and marketing.

College Choirs In Concert Sunday

Vivaldi's "Gloria," music from the Renaissance, Negro Spirituals and an original composition for speaking chorus and percussion will highlight the winter concert of the Schoolcraft College Choirs to be presented Saturday evening, December 5.

Both the Symphonic Choir and the Schoolcraft Chorale will perform under the direction of Bradley Bloom.

The Symphonic Choir is composed of singers from Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Westland, Farmington, Redford Township and Detroit. Participation is voluntary and members are not required to enroll in the college.

"Gloria," their major work of the evening, will be performed with orchestra. Soloists are Lynn Wolfe, soprano; Gail Steslick, mezzo soprano; Connie Heidt, soprano, and Rosemary DiDomizio, alto. All are members of the choir.

According to Director Bloom, "Gloria," is a work based on the Gloria section of the Mass. It is a well-known work containing a great variety of interests with appeal for all ages.

The Chorale, a select choir of Schoolcraft students, will perform music dating from the Renaissance to the contemporary period. Both sacred and secular works are included. These range from a double choir motet by Johann Pachelbel based on the chorale melody, "Now Thank We All Our God" to Negro Spirituals.

The Chorale will also present an original work by Robert W. Jones for speaking chorus and percussion. Jones is composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft.

The concert will be given at 8 p.m. in the auxiliary gymnasium of the Physical Education Building. Admission is complimentary.

Two Complete Fire Course

Herman Hartner, chief and Louis Westphal, assistant chief of the Northville Fire Department, recently completed a special two-day Fire Apparatus course at the John Bean Fire School, Tipton, Indiana, according to Vern Cole, Fire School Instructor.

Novi Opens Cage Season Friday

Hustle Expected From Young Team

"I've got a comparatively young team," said Novi mentor Milan Obrenovich of his varsity cagers, "but I count on them for a lot of hustle and a lot of drive."

Obrenovich, no stranger to the Novi coaching staff, but a freshman in the varsity ranks, takes his cagers onto the court against Dexter Friday in a grudge match played on a foreign court.

The Dreadnaughts whipped the Wildcats, 78-47, last year in the second game of the season.

Obrenovich, a four-year junior varsity coach, is moving into his first varsity slot at Novi with this season's basketball schedule.

His first move may buy him a lot of trouble.

Because of absence from practice this week and last, senior guard Tom VanWagner will sit out the starting line-up Friday night, the coach said.

"I have to cut somebody," said Obrenovich, "and I'm not going to take out somebody who's been here working all the time. VanWagner will see a lot of action during the season. I just don't think it's wise to start him."

Obrenovich looks for strength under the boards from two juniors.

UP IN THE AIR - With their opener against Dexter Friday, and a game Tuesday at Country Day, the Wildcats are waiting to see exactly what will happen. Coach Milan Obrenovich's "young team" outscored the Hartland Eagles during eight quarters of scrimmage basketball prior to the Thanksgiving break.

Mustangs Lose Opener

The Mustangs came from behind Tuesday to catch-up but not quite beat the Lions as the two squads met in a non-league opener at South Lyon. Northville lost 47-44. The Mustangs trailed by five points at the end of the first period 13-8, six at the half - 25-19, and four at the end of the third stanza - 31-35. High point man for the Mustangs was Rick Sechler with 13. Above, Steve Utley (45) and Lion Dale Beddingfield (24) battle for a rebound while Scott Evans (51) holds off Mike Muir (54). At right, it's a scramble as Sechler fumbles and Curt Suckow speeds to recover.

Mustangs Open At 'A' Meet

Northville was the only class 'B' team to compete at the Mount Clemens relays last week Monday as the Mustangs tied for fourth place in a last minute prefix to their regular seasonal schedule.

Mustang tanksters are due to open officially against Dearborn Crestwood December 17 in the high school pool.

Mount Clemens High School took the meet with Utica High School and East Detroit running second and third. Northville tied for fourth with St. Clair Shores Lakeview. Livonia Stevenson took the dress.

Standout performance for the Mustangs was that given by Gary Putrow, Jeff Kappler, Dennis McLaughlin and David Wright in the second place 200 yard backstroke relay.

Other honors taken by Northville were third place in the 200 yard butterfly, 200 yard medley, 400 yard freestyle, and 400 medley.

College to Train Girls for Officials

The shortage of women to officiate at girls athletic contests no longer will be a problem in the Schoolcraft College area providing women will take advantage of the officials training clinic being offered at the college beginning in January.

The training clinic will be held in the Schoolcraft Physical Education Building from 6:30 - 8:30 Wednesday nights for six weeks beginning January 6. The deadline for registering for the clinic is December 18.

Successful completion of the clinic and registration as an official will qualify those who take the training for officiating at girls basketball games. In addition to being badly needed, they'll be paid for covering the games and mileage expenses.

Additional information may be obtained from Miss Barnes at 487-0347 or 482-4604 after 7 p.m., or from Alice Kildea, news director, at 722-0109.

Our 1970 All-Area Football Stars

Topped by Novi's Tom Van Wagner, 17 players were voted to the second annual All-Area Football team by the sports staffs of The Northville Record-Novis News, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus newspapers.

Van Wagner, a 5'8", 195-pound guard, gained the unanimous nod as the outstanding player in the circulation area of Sliger newspapers. He will receive a trophy emblematic of this honor.

A senior, he was equally effective and durable on offensive and defense and fulfilled to a 'T' his responsibility as captain and leader of the team.

Stocky but quick, Van Wagner gained credit for 201 tackles, carried the ball eight times for 15 yards, scored one TD, intercepted one pass, blocked one punt and centered for all punts.

His excellence didn't end on the football field, either. He carries a 3.89 grade point average in his classroom work.

The team which landed the most berths on the all-star squad, however, was Hartland with four. Novi, Pinckney and South Lyon each contributed three players, Whitmore Lake two and Northville and Brighton one each.

Among the 17 players chosen, 11 are seniors, four are juniors and one is a sophomore.

Pick 17 All Stars For Dream Team

The one sophomore to make the team was Tackle A. J. Gillespie, a truly outstanding football player. At 6'4" and 190 pounds and still growing, he made 53 solo tackles and 51 assisted tackles, caught three passes on tackle-eligible plays for 36 yards and spearheaded the Trojan offense.
 Juniors named to the squad were Pinckney's Steve Latimer and Dave Beckman, Hartland's Rick Perkins and Whitmore Lake's Doug Bennett.
 Besides Van Wagner, senior members of the all-star array are George Murray and Glenn Wiseman of South Lyon, Bob Vivian and Tom Boyer of Novi, Rick Hamway and Rick Lanning of Hartland, Scot Stuart of Northville and Bruce Ritter of Brighton.

Despite his size, Murray, a split end, was one of the top receivers in the Southeast Conference. He caught 13 passes for over 500 yards, including three touchdown catches of over 50 yards.
 Tight End Latimer, described by Coach Tom Wilson as "a real pressure ball player", had 23 receptions for 279 yards in his second year as a regular.
 Although named to the squad as a tackle, Wiseman's real reputation for standout football was gained as a defensive end. From that position, the 220-pounder terrorized quarterbacks and offensive backs with his brutal rush.

In recent balloting for the all-league team, he tied for second and earlier was named the MVP on the 1970 edition of the South Lyon Lions.
 Joining Gillespie and Wiseman at tackle is Bob Vivian, a 161-pounder senior. Vivian recovered five fumbles and was involved in 94 tackles, as well as playing offense.

For a lineman to make the team on the basis of his offensive blocking is something to take note of. But that's exactly what Guard Rick Perkins, a junior, did. When yardage was needed, it usually came behind Perkins' fine blocking.
 "He was the one I couldn't lose," said Pinckney Coach Wilson of his big center, Tom Schaner. A 6'2", 210-pound senior, Schaner was a fine blocker and snapper and according to Wilson, "worked hard to improve throughout the year."

Quarterback of this year's all-stars is Rick Hamway of Hartland, who, despite the fact that he didn't reach the stardom predicted for him, nevertheless was talented signal caller.
 Teammate Rick Lanning was one of the four backs picked. Lanning, although slowed by injury throughout the season, proved a jolting tackler and a tough runner when short yardage was needed. He ranked second in Hartland tackle.
 Tom Boyer of Novi is small (5'10" and 150 pounds) for a running back, but he was unsurpassed in determination and successfully made the conversion from quarterback. He caught eight passes for 166 yards and carried 32 times for 70 yards, and at defensive halfback he made 60 tackles and intercepted two passes.

Doug Bennett was hard-nosed as a back and also as a linebacker. He carried the ball 129 times for 594 yards (a 4.3 average), completed seven of nine passes for 80 yards, caught 12 passes for 129 yards and scored 22 points.

On defense he had three interceptions and ranked second to Gillespie in tackles with 25 solos and 37 assisted.

Back Scot Stuart was Northville's prime weapon in a season that saw the Mustangs go into a tailspin. He gained 450 yards in 120 thrusts for a 3.3 average, scored one touchdown and was awarded the Sportsmanship Award during the annual banquet.

Brighton's contribution to the all-star team is Flanker Bruce Ritter, a rangy (6'4", 185-pound) senior whose interceptions were the Bulldogs' key threat. He gathered in 19 passes for an 18.6 average and a 254-yard total, with his longest reception being a 65-yarder for a touchdown. As a defensive halfback he made nine interceptions.

No one in the area surpassed Pinckney's Dave Beckman at the linebacking position. A 6'2", 187-pound junior, he averaged no less than 13 solo tackles per game, was the Ingham County League's leading tackler, recovered five fumbles, intercepted five passes and dumped the opposing quarterback for losses 13 times.

Jim Goers, a solid 185 pounds, was the Lions' number one tackler, called the defensive plays and captain of his team.

Through his fine play at defensive halfback, Hartland's Dennis Bidwell was named to the squad. He's only 5'7" and 155 pounds, but he led the team in tackles and often dropped opposing backs who were much bigger than he.

'Best Team' Trophy Held

A trophy for the best team in the circulation area of Slinger newspapers, which includes Northville, Brighton, Novi, Pinckney, Hartland and Whitmore Lake, will not be awarded this year.

The records of teams in this area is self explanatory: Hartland 3-6, Novi 2-6, South Lyon 2-7, Pinckney 1-6-1, Whitmore Lake 1-7, Northville 1-7, and Brighton 0-9.

Last year's winner, the year in which the trophy was initiated, was South Lyon.

LITTLE SORRELL PONY

Little sorrel pony, standing by the gate, Don't snort and whinny anxiously, Your mistress won't be late. While others stop and dawdle, Straight home from school she goes, Around the house and through the yard, To stroke your velvet nose.

Little sorrel pony, shaking silky mane, She's only in to change her clothes, Then free you'll fly again. While others shop for lipstick, and curl and tease their hair, She's busy with her boots and jeans - The woods are waiting there.

Little sorrel pony, pawing at your door, She's quick to grab an apple red, Your share is more than core While others learn their lessons, You two as one will go; Both pony tails a-flying out, Your gait cannot be slow.

Little sorrel pony, big dark eyes aglow, How did you ever learn so fast Her every wish to know? While waiting for her bidding, It may be you recall, It's always she who brings your oats, and even cleans your stall.

Little sorrel pony, flying out of sight, Do take these next years slowly, please, She's learning what is right. While drinking from the creek bank, You snort and start at turtles, While winding through the wooded trails, Her heart is jumping hurdles.

Little sorrel pony, dancing through my rhyme, You'll carry her quite safe and sure, Through this tempestuous time. A time between the dolls and dates, When loved thing must be living. A time to learn with gladness that, True love is also giving.

Little sorrel pony, you never will be sold, The things that you have taught her well, Could never have been told. Dear God, I wish that others -

Every girl I've seen, Could have a sorrel pony for These years of in-between!
