

Natural Wooded Setting Saved

City Buys Park Open Space

Preservation of open space, last of its kind in the city, has become a reality here with the purchase over the past several months of seven interior lots in the northern part of the city.

And, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff, if negotiations for the purchase of what is the equivalent of three more lots are successful and if the city is able to vacate two street rights-of-way it will mean 3.1 acres of wooded play area for Northville children.

The lots are located inside an area bounded by Grace, Maplewood, Novi and Hill streets. While neither Carpenter nor Horton, between Hill and Maple, exist at this point, street rights-of-way are platted and it is these that officials hope to vacate.

Vacation of streets requires petition signatures of all adjoining property owners.

The city plans to retain easements along these rights-of-way to permit access — on foot — by those using the open space.

City councilmen, who Monday night authorized negotiations for purchase of land in the area owned by Joseph Gendrisak, hailed acquisition of the wooded area as a significant step towards preserving open space for present and future generations.

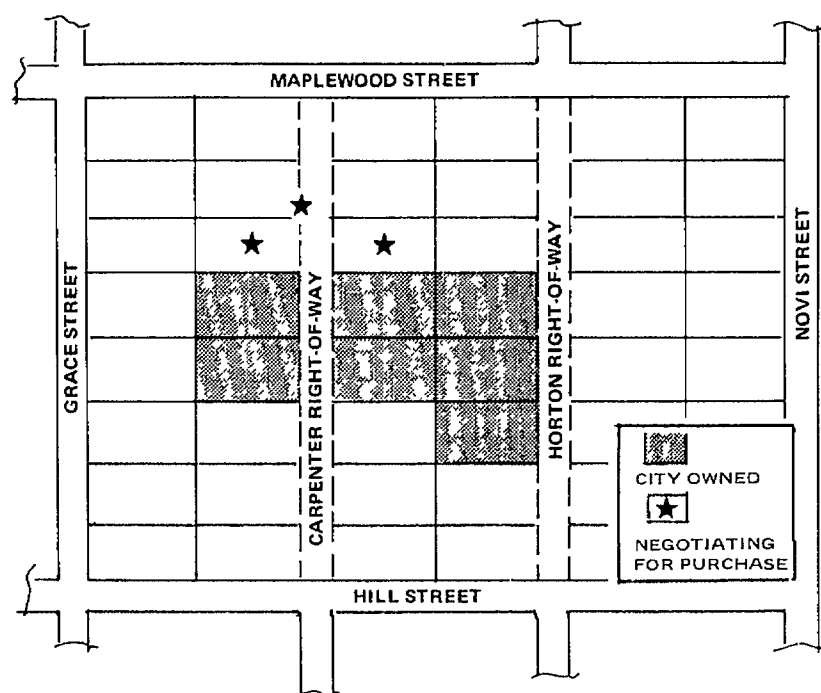

None of the land is to be developed, councilmen re-emphasized, pointing out that it is to remain in its natural setting for the recreation of both children and adults.

Ollendorff has recommended to the council that the land be dedicated as a park to prevent any other kind of use for the property in the future. Once land is dedicated as a park, he explained, it cannot be sold or used for anything but that except by a vote of the people.

Purchase of the land by the city was recommended last year by a citizens recreation committee.

Councilmen authorized each purchase at $5,000 per lot. Four lots were purchased from Ivan Berdan, two from Stuart Thomson, and one from William Soellner. The two lots the city hopes to purchase from Gendrisak are larger, about the size of three lots, Ollendorff explained.

Maybury State Park? It's Up to Detroit

Attempts to head-off Detroit's intended sale of Maybury Sanatorium property to a private developer gained the support of the state this past week as the Michigan Natural Resources Commission ordered its department to begin negotiations for purchase of the Northville Township property for a state park.

The commission acted Thursday at the urging of two legislators, serving Northville, Senator Carl Pursell and Representative Marvin Stempien. Democrat Stempien, former city attorney of Northville, is majority floor leader of the House while Republican Pursell is a member of the Senate's powerful appropriations committee.

"If the resolution does nothing more than stall the sale of Maybury until some means of preserving the property for recreation is found, it will have been a great benefit to citizens of Michigan," Pursell told The Record.

Detroit, which owns the property, has asked that bids from private developers be submitted by March 1.

Stempien viewed the commission's action even more optimistically. It means, he said, "that the major hurdle in the battle has been won and I am confident that, with the genuine interest, cooperation and expertise that the City of Detroit and the Department of Natural Resources have shown in the past in this regard, the two parties will reach a speedy agreement on a purchasing price and will proceed with the further planning and development of this valuable property expeditiously."

Specifically, the resolution adopted by the commission directs the Department of Natural Resources "to negotiate with the City of Detroit for purchase of the Maybury Sanatorium property, at a fair and reasonable price, to be dedicated and developed as a public recreation facility."

Furthermore, it requests Detroit "to withhold any further action on the sale of Maybury Sanatorium property until the Department of Natural Resources has had an opportunity to enter into negotiations with the city."

It also requests Governor William Milliken and the state legislature to lend their "strong support to purchase" Maybury by the state.

Whether or not Detroit postpones sale and agrees to negotiate with the state, remains to be seen. Certain, however, is that the common council is under increasing pressure to set aside March 1 bids from private developers and to negotiate sale for recreation.

From within, its president, Mel Ravitz, is tightening the screws in favor of sale for recreation while from outside the common council is under the pressure of Detroit newspapers, citizens, union leaders, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, and the city and school district of Northville to sell for recreational purposes.

Ironically, Northville Township's board of trustees which has ultimate jurisdiction over the development of the property has not yet taken any official stand.

The Huron Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority, which Pursell as a member of the county board of commissioners last year tried to interest in purchasing the property to operate as a park such as it does Kensington, apparently has decided against the purchase.

Authority spokesmen indicate that the Authority prefers development of parks that include lakes and the nearby

Ravitz to Request Bid Opening Delay

Detroit Council President Mel Ravitz indicated Monday that he will be asking his colleagues on Common Council to hold off any action, including the opening of bids, on the sale of the Maybury property pending negotiations with the state.

"I'm delighted," he said, when asked about his reaction to the resolution proposing the sale of the property to the state Natural Resources Commission. He pointed out that he "has been working toward that end (recreational use of the wooded property)"

His request to fellow council members, he said, will be made informally with the matter not coming before the council officially until an offering price has been made and evaluated by Detroit's controller. If the price is accepted, he said, the bids which are being sought by March 1 will be scrapped.

The only statement Common Council has made, Ravitz pointed out, is that "price is not to be the sole determinant on who will be getting the land."

UP IT GOES — Pre-stressed concrete forms were lifted into place this past week as the city's municipal parking deck on Cady Street, east of Center, began taking shape. An early spring opening for the two-level structure is expected. Entrance to the bottom level will be off Cady, while entrance to the top floor will be off the alley behind Main Street stores.

Bottoms Up— But Bottles Out

Returnable beer and pop bottles will go the way of mids here in less than a year when a new prohibitive law goes into effect in the City of Northville.

Following a public hearing Monday night the city council unanimously approved a new city statute banning the sale of beer and soft drinks in throw-away bottles effective January 1, 1972. Wine and whiskey bottles are unaffected by the law.

City officials view the new law as a

Split Vote Authorizes 'Land Bank'

City councilmen authorized the purchase of the home of Mrs. Fred VanAtta, 136 East Cady Street, by a 4-1 vote Monday night.

Casting the dissenting vote was Councilman Paul Folino, who took the position that since the property adjoins Northville Downs and is near the area in which the Downs eventually plans a parking deck purchase of the VanAtta house and lot should be made by the Downs.

Other councilmen, however, viewed the property as a good "land bank" for future parking or development at a "very reasonable" cost. Purchase price has been put at $20,000, several thousand dollars less than the appraised value and some $9,000 less than the original asking price.

Mrs. VanAtta plans to move from the city soon. When Folino suggested that the Downs should purchase the property, with the city later leasing it should additional parking be needed, Mayor A.M. Allen countered by saying the city would be in a better bargaining position if it owned the property, perhaps later leasing it to the Downs for parking in exchange for municipal parking during non-track hours.

Councilman Kenneth Rathert pointed out that the city's earlier purchase of the Green property on the opposite side of Cady has proven to be a wise one.

first, though minor legislative step in the battle against pollution.

It also is expected to set the stage for similar legislation throughout Wayne County and parts of Oakland County as a concerted inter-municipal action to press the state legislature to enact a similar state-wide law.

Meanwhile, a ban-the-bottle law enacted by a Northern Michigan county is being tested in the courts, which could affect the new Northville law and all others enacted by Wayne County communities.

During Monday's hearing, all but one of the citizens speaking on the subject, urged adoption of the ban, although several suggested the ban should also include throw-away metal cans.

Lynn Bourne, 551 Reed, argued against the new law, pointing out that throw-away bottles are not a threat "to water we drink nor the air we breathe." Furthermore, he questioned the legality of the law, saw it as an unfair attack on an industry "that has bettered our standard of living," predicted it would do little or nothing to lessen the litter problem, and he warned it may give anti-pollution fighters a false sense of accomplishment that could reduce

Appeal Procedure Outlined

Rezoning Fees Go Up

Two zoning ordinance additions that detail procedure and cost for rezoning requests were approved unanimously by the city council Monday night.

One of the additions requires a $100 fee of applicants for zoning changes before the planning commission. Previously, applicants were charged a $25 fee.

The second addition, outlines the procedure for appealing to the council following a negative decision of the planning commission without public hearing. Fee for filing such an appeal was set at $25, with a second fee of $25 to be charged if the council decides to put it up for public hearing.

Should the planning commission recommend approval of a zoning change, the matter goes automatically to the council for final action without any additional fees beyond the original $100 fee.

Furthermore, the second addition provides that should councilmen grant a public hearing before the council the resulting zoning decision must carry a two-thirds vote with at least four of the five councilmen being present.

In other business Monday, the council opened three bids on fleet insurance and, following a review of those bids by City Manager Frank

NEWS BRIEFS

AN INITIAL hearing is scheduled in the Wayne County Circuit Court of Judge James Canham on March 12 in condemnation action brought by the city of Northville. Two Beal street lots owned by Ronald Allen and the residence of Mrs. Jennie Watson, Cady street, are sought by the city to provide right of way for the proposed extension of Griswold street to Beal street. Both property owners have rejected the city's appraised purchase price. Allen was offered $6,700 for his lots, Mrs. Watson $16,500 for her house. The properties are the only parcels not owned by the city lying in the path of the street extension.

RALPH NADER speaks on "Consumer Promises and Corporate Responsibility" at 8 p.m. today at Schoolcraft College in the upper level area of Waterman Center. Schoolcraft students and staff are admitted without charge. Other students are $1 and the public is $2.

ANOTHER VACATION day is on tap for students in Northville public schools next Wednesday, February 24, as a curriculum study day for teachers and staff is slated.

FIRST SERVICE in the new Methodist Church facilities at Eight Mile and Taft roads will be held on Sunday, March 7, the Reverend G. C. Branstner, pastor, revealed this week. Details of that historic service are to be announced later, he said.

A JOINT MEETING of the Northville City Council and the Northville Township Board will be held tonight (Thursday) to review the proposed recreation budget. The 8 p.m. meeting in the township hall is open to the public and, according to officials, it is an opportunity for those interested in any aspect of the city-township recreation program to voice their opinions.

A BRITISH TEA—Mrs. Alan Brailsford, right, offers tea to Mrs. Louis F. Mortenson, in grey pantsuit, and Mrs. William S. Chisholm of Birmingham. A newcomer to Northville last August, Mrs. Brailsford opened her home on Clement Court in Lexington Commons for a tea last Wednesday for Daughters of the British Empire. Mrs. Chisholm is the organization's past national president. Mrs. Brailsford, an Englishwoman who has been in this country 14 years, invites women of British birth or ancestry interested in the philanthropic organization to call her.

Elementaries Plan Bundle Collection

Youngsters in Northville's three elementary schools are being asked to bring good used clothing to school next week in the annual Bundle Days collection of the Save the Children Federation, Incorporated.

Parents are requested to send clean, wearable clothing for children or adults to school between February 22-26. Some of the donations are kept for needy youngsters in the state, but most go to the Save the Children Federation clothing center in Knoxville, Tennessee.

"Clothing a child or adult will be proud to wear" is the collection slogan and guideline for donating.

Good school clothes are most needed, especially warm coats and jackets, cotton dresses, jeans, slacks, blouses and shirts, sweaters, socks and underwear. Shoes that still have some mileage left are welcome, according to the federation. Baby clothes and blankets also are sought.

Elementary teachers are explaining to their pupils that the wearable used clothing is needed for deprived children of Appalachia this winter. It is processed for distribution by responsible authorities to poverty-stricken families or made available at low cost to low-income families too proud for hand-outs.

The children are encouraged to have their families check closets for discarded items. Worn-out garments cannot be shipped as the cost of shipping is high, but most families have outgrown clothing that is needed.

The federation points out that good clothing donated to Bundle Days is deductible in accordance with Internal Revenue code provisions.

This year's collection campaign is headed by Andy Griffith who is pictured on Bundle Days posters, urging "Now you can help children who are cold — children who are poor."

Twins' Mothers Forming Club

If there is enough interest, a Plymouth-Northville Mother of Twins organization will be formed in the area. According to Mrs. Jerry Foster, the group will be able to affiliate with the national organization. At present, there only is a Western Wayne club in the area.

Mothers of twins who are interested are invited to call Mrs. Foster, 349-5767, or Mrs. John Gladden, 453-3995. They hope to hold a first meeting in March or April.

Historic Home List Accepted

By JEAN DAY

THE PIONEER craft of candle making — with 20th Century improvements — will be the program for the February meeting of Northville Historical Society at 8 p.m. next Thursday, February 25, at the scout-recreation building on Cady Street.

(The society reminds that the official name for the colonial building is the Jennette Lawrence Scout Building.)

The society learned at its January meeting that a giant step forward has been taken in its preservation-research project with the acceptance by the Michigan Historic District Commission of 78 area historic buildings.

John Burkman and his research committee prepared the report on the buildings and submitted it to the commission which designates historic districts for Michigan and then sends the recommendation to the National Commission for consideration — those deemed significant then are recorded in the national registry.

Since the research and collection of house histories took months of work, the historical society is "gratified" to have accepted at state level.

The candle making craft project next week will be under the direction of Mrs. Jack Scantlin and Mrs. Roland Bonamici. The candles will be sold at the 1971 Tivoli Fair.

Mrs. C. R. Hosler and Mrs. W. E. McCarthy are in charge of refreshments for the meeting. Members are asked to save and bring to the meeting coffee and 46-ounce juice cans, small juice cans, crayon stubs, candle ends, clean odd jars with interesting shapes. Old nylon stockings (washed) also are needed by nimble-fingered members for the society's doll project.

Winter memories of Northville's early days were recaptured at the historical society's January meeting as Mrs. E. A. Chapman recalled, through her mother's memoirs tales of bob sledding on a specially constructed run down Buckner's Hill (present site of Eastlawn Convalescent Home) with sleds coasting past the race track area and part way up Sheldon Hill.

MEAD'S MILL Questers will view and study an extraordinary collection of about 250 fairy lamps when they meet at 8 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Robert Willoughby, 153491 Lakeside Drive, Plymouth.

The lamps, collected by Mrs. Willoughby over several years, are displayed on glass shelves on a room-wide glass wall. Sunlight in the daytime and lights at night illuminate the display and show to advantage the colored pieces.

Several owl lamps are included in the collection. It also has whale oil and kerosene lamps (miniatures) as well as fairy lamps, which have candles. Most fairy lamps, Mrs. Willoughby explains, were night lights. She speculates that the small Gone-With-the-Wind types in her collection were salesman's samples. Others were for children.

TOWN HALL board will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, March 2, at the home of Mrs. Stanley Sonk, 18297 Edenderry, to finalize plans for its March program. Since the March 11 Town Hall (11 a.m. Northville High School auditorium) on "American Heritage" marks the first Town Hall appearance anywhere of Mike Whorf, the committee expects a sell out. Whorf, the producer, researcher and writer of the WJR Kaleidoscope program, has received the distinguished prize in broadcasting, the George Peabody Award.

The committee announces that individual tickets at $5 will be sold now for the program. Mrs. William Tucker, 349-1875, is the new TH ticket chairman.

AMERICAN music will be featured as part of the Parade of American Music Program of the National Federation of Music Clubs by the Farmington Musicales at its February meeting at 12:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the Farmington Community Center.

The Farmington group's program is entitled "When the Green Land Sings..."

Highlighting American musical comedy, spirituals, ballads, art and patriotic songs, the program will feature a triple trio performing a medley of Jerome Kern tunes, and four selections from musical comedy arranged and played by Pianist Marion Daniels.

Mrs. Neil McCallum and Mrs. Robert Williams are program co-chairmen. Mrs. Robert Stevens is tea chairman. The Farmington Musicales draws its membership, not only from Farmington, but from Northville and other area communities.

Engagements Announced

MARTHA VERESH

JOY BARNUM

DARLENE STODDARD

Barnum Betrothals Told

From the campus of Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant comes news of the engagements of Joy Marie and Ronald Lee Barnum, the daughter and son of Harold E. Barnums of 46151 Bloomcrest.

The Barnums are announcing Joy's engagement to Bruce Wayne Mach, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mach, 45241 Byrne. The bride-to-be is a 1969 graduate of Northville High School while her fiancé was a 1968 graduate. She is presently a sophomore at Central; he is a junior at Valparaiso University.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Veresh of Highland, Michigan, are making the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Martha Elizabeth, to Ronald Barnum. Both are juniors at Central Michigan. Ron, who is affiliated with Beta Sigma Psi fraternity on campus, is a 1968 Northville High School graduate. His fiancée was a 1967 Milford High School graduate.

No wedding dates have been set.

Announcement of the engagement of Darlene Stoddard to A/C Henry Andrew Rochon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Santangelo, 729 Horton Street, is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stoddard of Taylor, Michigan.

The future bridegroom, who attended Northville High School, is stationed at McConnell Air Force Base in Kansas. His fiancée is a June, 1970, graduate of Taylor High School.

They plan a June 5 wedding.

Presbyterian Film Festival Continues With Double-Bill

Two films will be presented in the third of six offerings at Northville First Presbyterian Church in the 1971 film festival. "A Chairy Tale," a 10-minute presentation in black and white, and "The Hat," an 18-minute animated color presentation, will be shown at 8 p.m. Thursday, February 25.

In the first, a young man and an ordinary straight chair have an encounter. The young man attempts to sit in the chair, but the chair resists his advances. Empathy, rebellion, mutual respect, anger, frustration and the problems of communication all are portrayed in this film.

Trick, stop-action photography and a lively score by Ravi Shankar are used. The program suggests the film may be enjoyed as pure farce, as a kind of ballet, as an exercise in perception or as a symbolic suggestion of various kinds of relationships.

In the second presentation, "The Hat," two border sentries separated only by a national boundary do not communicate with each other. One day one of them drops his hat by mistake on the other side of the border. The issue of what to do about the hat forces them to recognize each other's existence and to talk things over.

The film story is described as a "very cool, calculating one." The dialogue is termed "comically colloquial and enlighteningly off-beat."

Sponsored by the Christian Education Committee and the Couples Club of the church, the film festival is presenting 11 films in the six-evening series for adults and young people. All showings are in the fellowship hall with coffee and discussion following the presentation. A free-will donation is accepted.

The community is invited.

With Two New Varieties

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starts

It's Girl Scout cookie sale time in Northville with order-taking to begin this Friday and continue for two weeks. The price still is 50 cents a box with five varieties available.

Two new varieties this year are joining three old favorites. Frosties—an iced cookie — and peanut butter patties

School Seeks Mothers' Help

Mothers who would like to donate a few hours of their time to help children learn how to read are asked to attend a meeting tomorrow, Friday, at 9:30 a.m. in the library at Main Street School.

Mrs. Richard Wolf, vice-president of the Main Street PTA, recently attended a workshop for training participants to work as assistants to teachers in the area of reading.

She is currently heading the program at Main Street. Mothers who would like to volunteer for the program are asked to attend the meeting or call Mrs. Wolf at 349-0411 or the school at 349-3400.

are offered for the first time. The Huron Valley Council points out they are available only through Girl Scouts.

The popular thin mints, chocolate-and-vanilla sandwich cremes and sugared shortbread types also are available.

All Girl Scouts except Brownies will be taking orders through March 6. Delivery will be April 13-26.

Mrs. G. Michael Abbott again this year is Northville cookie chairman for all troops in the area. Each troop has a mother chairman who will see that orders are delivered to the scouts for distribution. This year's goal for the Huron Valley Council, of which Northville and Plymouth are a part, is 320,000 packages, an increase over last year's sale of 310,000 packages.

If the goal is achieved, the council points out, it will receive profits of $64,000 which are used for outdoor programs and services. Primarily the monies go for the Camp Linden mortgage payment, camp equipment, camp maintenance, caretaker costs, future property purchase for camping and caretaker costs.

Council cookie proceeds also are used to give financial assistance to scouts for national and international events.

Individual troops will share profits of approximately $16,000. The 50-cent cookie box cost is divided four ways — 23 cents paying for the cookies, 20 cents to the council, 5 cents to the troop and 2 cents for state sales tax.

The Girl Scouts are being asked to do their order taking in pairs and only in their own neighborhoods. They are asked not to go inside homes unless the people are friends. The girls may take orders by telephone, but are honor-bound not to do so before Friday. Money is not collected until the cookies are delivered.

The two new varieties offer a cookie that is vanilla iced and topped with bits of cornflakes and a sandwich cookie filled with peanut butter and topped with a chocolate frosting. The latter replaces the savannah cookie sold previously.

The hour-long color motion picture is to take viewers "the length and breadth of Israel, relating the events of today with prophecies of the Scriptures."

Authentic sights and sounds will be featured what is termed the "musical journey into the soul of a nation." Mrs. Dean Ward, club president, reports that the picture is considered "very outstanding."

This is the only evening meeting of the club, she adds, pointing out the change from the usual luncheon meeting to the new time and place for the men's night. Reservations at $5 person should be made with Mrs. Ward, 349-3456, by next Tuesday.

Student Involvement at NHS They Built Course From Ground Up

When students at Northville High expressed a keen interest in learning how to weld, they didn't let the fact that there wasn't a welding program stand in their way.

Eleven students, along with their instructor Thomas Zanders, built welding facilities last semester, learning the techniques while they constructed the welding booths, tables and partitions.

"All the work was done by the students themselves," Zanders explained. "They actually learned how to work with metal and follow drawings in order to build the welding shop."

Once the facilities were completed and the semester ended, the students had learned the basics of welding and were ready to take a course in advanced welding. Twenty students are enrolled in the advanced course and about 30 in the beginning course.

In the advanced course, taught by Ronald Spaniol, the students are building shop equipment, engine stands, traction bars, mini-bike and go-cart frames.

"Mostly the students can choose their own projects," Spaniol and Zanders said. "As long as the project includes some of the exercises the students are to learn, they can build whatever they like." A small machine shop and electric shop has been set up along with the welding enabling students to complete a project.

"We've got a better program here than I've seen in most high schools," Zanders said. "When they graduate from high school, the students will have a skill they can put to use in any of the auto plants or shops in the area. The program is up to date, using the same equipment you'll find industry using."

Presently, the welding shop is equipped with six AC arc welders, a DC arc welder, spot welder, butt welder, mig (metal-inert gas) welder and ten oxy-acetylene welders.

"With the help of donations of metal by the students' parents and Paragon Bridge and Steel, we were able to hold down the cost of the program and still provide students with necessary experience in each welding process while setting up the program," Zanders said.

Army surplus welding equipment has also been used to outfit the welding program.

The instructors credit students Dave Bagdon, Marvin Carver, Brad Conklin, Dan Fleck, Louis Katzbeck, Jim Keegan, Mike Klorh, Dave Munzinger, Jim White, Dave Wright and Les Thomas with helping set up the facilities now in use for the program.

Curriculum Coordinator Florence Panattoni commented that "Northville Public Schools is at last making some progress in the area of occupational skills — an area which we have ignored in the past."

"The students in the welding program are being trained for 'on the job' skills and when they graduate, they will have a saleable trade," she noted.

Principal Fred Holdworth said that "About 50 per cent of our graduates do not go on to further academic training at four-year colleges. About 25 per cent go to Schoolcraft College and 25 per cent go into the job market immediately after graduation."

"By upgrading our occupational education program, we're offering the students something they can use upon graduation," he explained.

"Once the welding program really gets going it will be great," Zanders said, "and the students are the ones who worked to put the program in action."

Hearing Friday On Embezzling

A preliminary hearing will be held Friday for James L. Price, former manager of the Wixom Credit Union, who has been charged with embezzling $12,324 from the organization.

The hearing begins at 2 p.m. before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle of Walled Lake.

Robert P. Briggs, state financial institutions commissioner, said the alleged embezzlement was not involved in action he took Monday declaring the credit union insolvent.

The warrant against Price was signed January 15 by Cledis Warren, a former director of the credit union. The warrant charges that the money was embezzled between July 12, 1968 and April 26, 1970. Price was arraigned on the charge January 18 and stood mute. A plea of "not guilty" was entered by the court on his behalf.

Wixom Credit Union.

Both institutions were declared insolvent—the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank on Thursday and the credit union on Monday—by Robert P. Briggs, state financial institution commissioner.

Frantic search over the weekend (banks were closed Friday through Monday because of Lincoln and Washington birthday celebrations) netted a buyer for the six branches of Birmingham-Bloomfield and the bank reopened for business Tuesday morning.

The credit union, located ironically just three doors down Wixom Road from the branch bank on Wixom Road opposite Ford's Lincoln Plant, sifted through some $173,000 outstanding delinquent loans.

Commissioner Briggs appointed the Michigan Credit Union League as receiver and was assured by it that "the league will pay the credit union losses and that no member will suffer any loss." Details of when and how members are to be paid were not immediately known.

A spokesman for the MCUL, who declined to be identified, told this newspaper Monday evening that the Wixom Credit Union had never been a strong one — especially in the last two years.

Meanwhile, most Wixom residents and business places were still shaky Tuesday following the weekend collapse of the former banking empire of Donald H. Parsons. Despite assurances by the banking commissioners that the new bank owners—members of the Edward Rose family—are prepared to meet all outstanding obligations and that the new bank is one of the most liquid in Michigan, local depositors were not altogether convinced.

Missing Girl Rewards Mount

A combined reward of $2,400 has been offered for any information leading to the whereabouts of 17-year-old Kathy Radtke, of Novi's Willowbrook subdivision, who was last seen 17 days ago.

The reward is in contributions from the Detroit News Secret Witness program, $1,000; Michigan Bell where her father is employed, $500; the Communications Workers of America, of which he is a member, Local 4015, $500; Willowbrook Homeowners Association, $200; and the Novi Police Officers Association, $200.

Facts in the recent murder-disappearance, which claimed the life of Jack Keyes of Northville and left the Radtke girl missing, were summed up this week by Novi Detective Jack Grubb.

At approximately 7 p.m. on January 31, a Sunday, Jack Keyes and Kathy Radtke left the girl's home for the boy's home in Northville. They were due back for dinner at the Radtke home.

They were seen at Cal's Gulf Station in Northville before 7:30 p.m. Keyes was having car trouble.

The two then went to Keyes' home two blocks away.

They were asked to get two cases of pop at a Clark gasoline station on Northville Road. They left the Keyes' home at approximately 7:30 p.m.

They went to Cal's a second time to get Keyes' car fixed, police assume. They arrived at the gas station about 7:45 p.m. and were gone by 8 p.m.

At 10:16 Monday morning Keyes, partially clothed, was found shot to death in his car in a lovers' lane area near Five Mile and Napier roads in Northville Township.

Police investigators theorize the car may have been driven to the spot where it was found by Keyes or his murderer, or it may have been pushed or towed by a jeep.

Meanwhile, the search for Kathy continues.

Kathy: 'Everybody's Friend'

Parents Still Hopeful

Who is Kathy Radtke? Blue eyes, long brown hair, 5'6", 110 pounds. What else?

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Radtke of 23931 LeBost, in Novi's Willowbrook Subdivision, talked about their daughter Saturday, nearly two weeks after the disappearance of the 17-year-old Novi High School honor student.

Meanwhile, authorities in Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw counties continued investigation into her disappearance last week Monday and the murder of her boyfriend and last known companion, Jack Keyes of Northville.

"She never held anybody above anybody else... she never singled out anybody for a friend... she was everybody's friend," said her father.

"She did everything... just everything..."

"She was a normal 17-year-old. She wanted to try everything," her mother mentioned. "She wanted to go

Licensing Policy Refined, OK'd

Novi councilmen adopted the much debated business registration ordinance by a split vote Monday night.

Councilmen Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry, who maintained that the measure before council "had no teeth in it," cast the negative votes.

The original proposal, calling for the licensing of all area businesses, had been reworked by City Attorney Howard Bond into a registration — licensing measure following complaints from area businessmen that the bill was "detrimental to the business of Novi."

Thus businesses must be either licensed or registered.

The re-drafted ordinance was declared "liveable" by businessmen after they had gone over it section by section in a study meeting with the council two weeks ago.

Previously, the major objections to the ordinance had been requirements calling for the registration of all local

New Town Plan Shows Novi Site

A study in "new-town development" requested by Governor William Milliken was made public yesterday in Detroit by the Metropolitan Fund, a private research organization.

The study, "Regional New Town Design", identified nine potential sites within the Detroit metropolitan area and 10 on its suburban fringe as recommended areas for "paired but separate communities."

Suggested suburban sites named in the study are Novi, Chelsea, Belleville, Carleton, New Baltimore, Paint Creek, St. Clair, Scripps-Keatington, Whitmore Lake and White Lake.

The study's designers called it "a bold and imaginative alternative to the urban suburban housing crisis... A paired new town community," they said, "could be developed in Detroit and a suburban location, simultaneously and under a single development authority."

Kent Mathewson, president of Metropolitan Fund, told this newspaper Monday that earlier attempts at what was described as a new town in Novi last year, "are not at all along our way of thinking."

Mathewson referred to an earlier proposal by the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority (MDCDA) which had incurred the wrath of local citizenry, in trying to establish a community of low and middle income housing in Novi.

Metropolitan Fund's 159-page study described a one billion dollar, largely private venture, to be developed over a 20-year span. As envisioned, the "paired new-town" would provide housing for 100,000 people and create new jobs for 40,000 residents. Some 75,000 would reside in a suburban half of the community, with 25,000 living in the Metropolitan half, officials said.

Wayne State University's Dr. Hubert Locke, who directed the study, said the "paired-town" concept is an attempt to "make certain that future urban growth — both physical and economic — takes into account the needs of both the cities and the suburbs, so that one is not expanded and enhanced at the expense of the other."

Suggestions within the study concern new forms of service, delivery of service, health care, education, recreation, public safety, communications, judicial-legal workings, shopping, religion, employment, garbage collection and lighting.

A need for an "in-town" site of 600-2,000 acres was predicted with an accompanying out-town site of 8,000 acres.

The central city, according to the report, would be a single community of 25,000 residents, while the suburban component would be a trio of "villages" of 25,000 each, clustered into a "town" setting. A rapid transit system would link the two sites, with "people mover transportation technology" operating within each half.

The study reportedly will be reviewed by the state executive branch for possible future consideration by the legislature. Presumably, implementation of the new-town concept will require state legislation.

NORMAL DAY — Although several depositors on Tuesday voiced distrust Henry German, bank manager of the new Fidelity branch in Wixom, called Tuesday "a normal day." Questioned Wednesday morning, he said the bank "had" a few withdrawals which is natural after a four day weekend. But I believe the majority of people in here were depositors."

School Seeks 5-Mill Hike

Though united in their desire to provide the best educational program possible in Novi schools, school board trustees split 5-2 Monday night in their decision to place an additional five mills for operation on the April 19 ballot. The additional millage is over and above the 4.5 mills up for renewal.

Casting the dissenting votes were board president Bruce Simmons and trustee Ray Warren. Both said they felt "asking for an increase of much more than three mills will jeopardize any additional millage."

Superintendent Thomas Dale told board members that an additional "three mills is needed just to stand still in our current program." Dale explained that with two more school buildings open next year and increased enrollment, more than three mills would be needed to upgrade the current program.

Dale based his figures on an expected increase in enrollment valuation in the district, increased cost of operation and the assumption that the grandfather clause would be dropped from the state aid act. "To maintain our approximate $764 per pupil expenditure we need at least three mills over the 4.5 mills up for renewal."

Each mill is worth approximately $50,000 in revenue.

Currently the school district millage is 31.1 mills. Broken down, seven mills are levied for operation (voted 1968-72); 4.5 mills for operation which is up for renewal in April; 9.97 mills, debt retirement; and 9.63 mills, allocated from the county.

The additional five mills for operation would bring the district levy to 36.1 mills.

Dale said he anticipates the "millage levied for debt retirement will go down slightly this year and some of the millage allocated from the county may be lost."

The two millage requests will be separate questions on the ballot and the district is seeking to levy the millage for a total of five years.

Trustees noted that unless "Section 8-B" of the current state aid act is rescinded, Novi school district will not be able to levy more than 2.66 additional mills "no matter how many mills the people vote."

("Section 8-B" puts a ceiling on the amount of revenue that can be raised through local property taxes and per pupil state aid for the 1971-72 school year.)

Trustee Gilbert Henderson said he was in favor of asking for more than

Novi Jaycees To Host Tour

Activities planned by the Novi Jaycees and their auxiliary include an "information session" Tuesday for the men and a tour of the National Bank of Detroit's main office for Plymouth State Home and Training School patients sponsored by the ladies next Thursday.

Membership drive chairman Todd Price advises young Novi men who are interested in the Jaycees or who have any questions about the organization to attend an information session Tuesday evening at 8:15 at the Village Oaks Community house. Refreshments will be served, said Price.

The Auxiliary will chaperone 25 young adults from Plymouth State Home through the main office of the National Bank of Detroit next Thursday. Lunch and a visit to a local bakery will follow.

Mrs. Ron Cowden reminds the members that the regular group meeting day has been changed to Wednesday and will be held at her house. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to call 476-9380.

Ski Trip Spells Weekend Fun

by Nancy Dingeldey

This past weekend Bob and I had the pleasure of doing some good hard skiing. The place was a delightfully cozy ski lodge about a three hour drive north of here — Sheridan Valley by name located near the town of Lewiston. We were the guests of Faye and Fred Waara and a greater time we just couldn't have had.

We've really never had the opportunity of skiing on "virgin" snow but this time we got it. What a thrill and a good many laughs to boot. Olga and Walt Tuck and their son Dave, along with Frida Waara, completed our group but it was almost like old home week. Julie Tate, youngest daughter of the George McCollums, was a guest of the Chuck Longs, and also seen among the "schooshers" was Marianna Karell of Nalene.

That's one way to see your neighbors. A great group of people, lots of ski talk and the pleasure of seeing some really great skiers. And they do start them out young — one little guy was only 2½ years old and I wish you could have seen him go. We got rather used to watching the really young kids take a hill with ease. Kind of makes you wonder!

Confidence grew as the day progressed so as my mentor Fred looked on I decided to show him my skiing skill. Off the hill I took just like "Superman" and hit a patch of powder dead center. Of course, this cut my speed in half which caused the body to pitch forward and I did a dive head first into the snow and executed a perfect summersault. Whoopee for me! the next boo-boo was great... I was being shown how to do a certain turn and I was to follow suit. Something happened and I wound up face first in the snow again only this time in a perfect spread eagle.

Don't get me wrong — those two little jolts to my vanity weren't bad for all the hours we were out on the slopes. It just kind of put a few giggles into the sport. I have found muscles that I didn't even know existed — just wait 'til next time. I won't forget to pack training.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sigsbee and daughter, Rechell, and Arthur Sigsbee spent the weekend in Plainwell with Mrs. Sigsbee's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Skeltis and family and the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Niblock and son, Warren of Howell attended the Campers Show at the Army on Eight Mile Road this past Sunday.

Thursday dinner guests of Mrs. Marie LaFond were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Hazen, and granddaughter from Milford.

Mrs. H. D. Henderson spent Sunday afternoon and evening with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rix in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blough and family of Hastings were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coleman.

board in the Narthex or they may call Sylvia Howison, 349-140, by Thursday noon of each week.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF NOVI

The pastor's sermon Sunday morning was entitled "Facing the Problem of Death". His sermons for the next few Sundays will be concerning problems of life such as fear, temptations, etc.

The lovely floral arrangement in the sanctuary Sunday was in memory of Bill McQueen. It was provided by the McQueen family.

A surprise luncheon was held for Arthur and Ella Karschnick last Sunday following the morning worship service. It was to honor their 25th wedding anniversary. The luncheon was organized by members of their family with daughter-in-law, Sue in charge. Gifts of a set of china, matching glasses and money were given to them by the church congregation. Lord willing, next fall the Karschnicks will become students at the Appalachian Bible Institute.

Word was received from Richard Pierce, one of the church's young members now serving in Vietnam, sending greetings to the churchfolk. He sent news clippings and bulletins from the chapel services he attends there.

Deacons monthly meeting was held Monday evening. Hereafter, the meetings will be held on Wednesday evenings following the prayer service.

The Vera Vaughn Circle produced a good attendance last week. Due to the Women's Retreat, next month's meeting will be held on March 16 instead of March 9.

Picture Policy

The Northville Record and The South Lyon Herald publish wedding stories and pictures if they are received in the office within 15 days after the wedding date. After this deadline, only a brief story can be used without a picture.

No color pictures can be used — for wedding, engagement or anniversary news. Similarly, polaroid snapshots can be used only if the quality of prints is exceptional.

Wedding, engagement and anniversary forms are available at the newspaper office. Information must be typed or printed clearly. It cannot be accepted by telephone, but the staff will be happy to help with any questions.

As has been the Sliger newspapers' past practice, no charge is made for publishing wedding, engagement or anniversary stories or pictures, although many other papers do so.

You Can Expect Postal Hikes Soon

Area mail users can expect a rate boost soon. In a Postal Service press release through local post offices it is stated that, proposed new postal rate increases will place the nation's postal system on a sound financial basis and shift more of the costs from taxpayers generally to those who use the mails the most.

Recent Postal Service proposals submitted Feb. 1 to the Postal Rate Commission will yield additional revenues of $1.45 billion during fiscal year 1972, starting July 1. The proposals call for increases in virtually all mail categories except parcel post.

If the Rate Commission does not present to the Governors of the Postal Service a recommended decision on rate changes within 90 days, it is anticipated that a temporary rate increase will be put into effect by the Postal Service, the release indicated. It points out that higher rates had been sought by the Post Office Department under both the current and previous administrations, but no action was taken.

In addition to the long-standing Postal Service proposal for a 2-cent boost for letters from 6 to 8 cents, advertising mail (regular bulk rate third-class) would be increased to a minimum of 5 cents per piece, plus additional increases for heavier weights.

Substantial increases also are proposed for magazines, newspapers and other categories of second-class mail. These rather steep increases will be phased in over five years to soften the impact on the mailers.

Other highlights of the proposal: Airmail rates would go up a penny, from 10 to 11 cents, and airmail cards, from 8 to 9 cents each.

If temporary rates are placed into effect, post cards will go from 5 to 6 cents although the proposal provides for a full increase to 7 cents each.

Concerning "Priority Mail" — packages weighing more than 12 ounces and receiving first-class treatment — higher rates are proposed only for parcels weighing less than 5 pounds. For a 5 pound priority mail package sent across the U.S., the rates would remain $4.08, under the proposal however, for a 1 pound package, an increase of from 80 cents to $1.00 is proposed.

Regular second-class publications — those mailed for delivery outside the publishers county, excluding certain categories — will be raised 1.9 cents per piece plus higher advertising rates ranging from 9.1 to 20.9 cents per pound. Non-advertising will be at a new rate of 7.2 cents per pound.

Controlled circulation publications — usually periodicals without subscriptions fees mailed to specific audiences or markets — face an increase in only their minimum per piece rate to 5 cents from the existing 3.8 cents postage fee. The pound rate remains the same.

In third-class, the rates for single pieces — often a circular or small parcel — would rise to 8 cents for the first two ounces and the fee for each additional ounce would be raised from 2 to 4 cents under the permanent-rate proposal.

Mailers holding third-class permits would find their rates per pound raised from 16 and 22, to 22 and 28 cents per pound, respectively, when the proposal is fully effected, and the minimum-per-piece charge would be raised to 5 cents.

Special delivery and registered mail fees would both be increased. The minimum fee for a special delivery letter would rise from 45 to 60 cents, while the rate for registered mail valued up to $100.00 would be increased from 80 to 95 cents under the proposal. There would be proportionate hikes in the fees for shipments registered at higher values.

When the proposed domestic changes go into effect, similar increases in letter mail rates to Canada and Mexico are planned.

The total yield under the proposal, when fully effective, is estimated at $2,125.8 million, including all of the rates to be phased over a period of years.

In the first year $670 million of the $2,125.8 million would be provided from appropriations by Congress under the Postal Reorganization Act.

About 80 percent of the nation's mail volume of nearly 90 billion pieces in fiscal year 1972 will be business-type mail.

Wixom Shocked

When the new bank opened Tuesday morning, under the name Fidelity Bank of Michigan, a line of depositors on hand at the Wixom branch expressed dismay as a result of the weekend events. Some withdrew deposits.

However, Wixom Mayor Gilbert Willis later Tuesday said he saw no reason to doubt the financial soundness of the new bank nor any reason to withdraw city funds. Wixom has some $330,000 in general funds and sewer construction monies on deposit with Fidelity, according to Robert Case, mayoral assistant. On Friday, before the new bank owners were announced, Case admitted he was a little shaky.

Roland Langerman, assistant superintendent of Walled Lake Schools, could not say whether or not his school board would keep its $942,000 on deposit with Fidelity, but he said the matter very likely would come up for discussion.

Frank Cristiano, financial secretary of the UAW Local 36, located next door to the Wixom bank branch, said his local planned to continue doing business with the new bank.

"We only have about $650 in deposit now, although we have had as much as $15,000 to $20,000 there," he said.

Ford employees who showed up at the credit union's locked doors Tuesday morning were philosophical. "If I get it back, I get it back," said one seven-year Ford employee. "I didn't have as much in there as some guys...Sure it's money but if it's gone, it's gone. What can I do about it?"

Of the 14 people questioned at Fidelity, nine were making withdrawals. Three expressed confidence in the new bank. Some were putting money in the bank.

"I've no confidence in banks anymore," said one of the men standing in line Tuesday morning. "I'm taking my money out."

One of the women making a

Judges Pledge Relief for Jail

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners has received pledges from judges representing Circuit Court, Recorder's Court and the district courts that they will cooperate to relieve overcrowding at the county jail.

Meeting with a board committee, the judges agreed to order that low-risk defendants be held at the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) when feasible in order to reduce the jail population.

The judges met February 10 with the Commissioners' Law Enforcement and Public Safety Committee, chaired by Eugene A. Sikora, of Detroit, D-District 7.

It was estimated that about 200 of that day's jail population of 1,397 could be transferred to DeHoCo, which is located in Plymouth and Northville Townships on Five Mile Road.

Long-planned jail renovations, for which $1.5 million has been set aside by the Board of Commissioners, have been stalled because of the overcrowded condition of the jail which was designed to hold about 1,000 prisoners.

Judge Horace W. Gilmore, who handles all criminal arraignments in Wayne County Circuit Court, told the commissioners he was willing to begin sending defendants to DeHoCo immediately.

Dearborn Heights District Judge Richard D. Dunn said the county's 16 district judges already had agreed unanimously to order criminal defendants held at DeHoCo pending trial.

In most cases, DeHoCo is more convenient to the district courts than is the downtown Detroit jail, said Dunn who is president of the District Judges Association.

Judge Robert L. Evans, executive judge of Detroit Recorder's (Criminal) Court, pointed out that the bulk of the jail prisoners, currently 1,100 are from Recorder's Court.

He said a sizeable number of Recorder's Court defendants could be housed at DeHoCo except during the first month or so after they are arrested. During that period, he said, a defendant must be readily accessible to attorneys, relatives and the downtown Detroit court.

In Township . . .

A 16-year-old girl was killed instantly Monday night after she ran into the path of a car on Seven Mile Road near Northville State Hospital. The accident occurred at 8:15 p.m.

Police reports stated Miss Barnes, a permanent ward of Wayne County Juvenile Court who lived at Hawthorne Center for the past 5½ years, ran away from the center at approximately 7:55 p.m.

An attendant from the center who was attempting to apprehend Miss Barnes told police she ran across Seven Mile to the north side of the road and was narrowly missed by one vehicle. He told police he shouted at the girl to stay where she was when she attempted to re-cross the road and was struck by a car traveling westbound on Seven Mile, police reports stated.

The driver of the car was cleared and Miss Barnes' death was listed as accidental. According to police, the whereabouts of her parents is unknown.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The sad truth about humanity is that we never learn.

Our frailties are innocent enough at the beginning.

Mother says Johnny may have a chocolate. He clutches all he can hold, consumes them rapidly, grabs another handful, gulps them down, and wipes his hand clean on his shirt.

When confronted by his mother, he declares he "only had one." But the evidence would indicate otherwise.

Johnny ends up punished, usually sick and probably minus the freedom to help himself to an occasional chocolate.

Not many years ago local communities enjoyed the privilege of determining their own property assessments for purpose of levying local, school and county taxes.

Soon it became apparent, however, that all properties were not being assessed in the same manner. The property (house, lot, commercial or industrial building) of a lifelong community resident (who might be a friend of the assessor) frequently carried a remarkably low assessment when compared to the absentee property owner, or the large industrialist with a subsidiary plant in the community.

So a higher authority (in this case the state assumed the role of "mother") introduced the "equalization factor," which really didn't equalize things at all, but merely served to point up the many inequities in assessing practices.

Actually, application of the equalization factor was like giving Johnny a spanking. And it brought about widespread reappraisals of all properties based upon uniform standards established by a higher authority.

Simply explained, the "equalization factor" severely penalized those property owners who had not been given favorable assessments by increasing them to such heights that the inequities became obvious.

"Mother" responded with guidelines that removed another measure of independence from local communities.

Recently, it was pointed out in this column that abuses could lead to the loss of another power from local-level authority, namely zoning.

Northville Realtor Stan Johnston passed along a copy of the February 1 "Realtor's Headlines" publication which carries the same warning.

"The implied threat of federal government intrusion into local zoning matters presents a genuine challenge to Realtors and to citizens everywhere," the magazine quotes its new association president.

And the Realtor spokesman further points out that the loss of this local authority is almost certain to come about "unless local leaders change their attitude about housing for low-income families." He sums up by urging community leaders to take corrective action "where the zoning laws are working against the common goal, where the low-income family seems to be squeezed out of an opportunity for housing where it might logically be feasible.

The same warnings are coming from George Romney's Department of Housing and Urban Development. It is urging the administration to take action against communities where zoning devices are being used to discriminate against low-income housing.

The loss of zoning control at the local level would be tragic. Yet it may be the only solution.

The threat should serve as fair warning to all local zoning authorities and they should make every effort to re-examine their respective zoning maps to be certain they provide a reasonable ratio between all zoning categories.

And in fairness, if federal action is taken to usurp local authority in the area of zoning, let it be where abuses exist.

Take the candy away from Johnny, not his brothers and sisters.

One of the best ideas I've heard in recent local government history is the joint meeting called tonight between the city council, township board and recreation commission.

The latter will explain the need for funds in the up-coming budget while the two bodies controlling the purse strings can listen and question.

In the past separate appearances were made before each governing unit and communication suffered.

*****

A number of city residents have suggested that mention should be made of the excellent job done by the DPW crews in snow removal this winter.

It has been outstanding... so Congratulations to Bud Hartner and his diligent workers.

Speaking for Myself

Should The Flag Be Worn As Clothing?

Yes....

I answer yes to this, but a qualified yes.

To dismantle a flag, then reassemble it or parts of it into a garment — No!

To use as an ornament in a degrading manner (such as sewing it on a jacket upside down or using it as a patch on the seat of a pair of jeans) — No!

Never with disrespect.

The rules of etiquette for the American flag indicate that it should not be used as part of a costume or on a uniform. Yet many police officers, military personnel — even our astronauts wear an American flag patch or pin. Certainly they are telling us, "I'm an American. I'm proud of my country! I will serve and support it."

Many of today's mod fashions are designed of red, white and blue, using a stars and stripes motif. This is really nothing new. It's been a favorite color scheme from military uniforms to marching bands to Easter finery. Even mothers have dressed their little sons in blue and white sailor suits with stars on the collar! The strongest advocate is our own Uncle Sam. How patriotic he is, in his red, white and blue, star spangled suit!

When I see our young people in striped "Uncle Sam" pants or wearing a stars and striped hunting scarf and mittens, I believe the "Spirit of '76" is still with us.

How fortunate we are to have colors so strong and patterns so secure to endure for almost two hundred years.

Patricia Thomas
Northville Businesswoman

No....

First of all because it violates our national flag code. Our flag code says a flag should not even be draped over a car, train or boat, certainly not over a person. When displayed flat, the folds are to fall free as if the flag was staffed-impossible on a pair of pants. The flag should never touch anything beneath it such as the ground, the floor, water or merchandise and should never be handled in a manner as will permit it to be easily torn, soiled or damaged in any way. As a piece of clothing how can these requirements be upheld? Further the flag should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard or use as any portion of a costume or athletic uniform.

Our flag is the symbol of our country. The respect or disrespect we show this symbol is a reflection, maybe subconscious, but nevertheless it is a reflection of our overall attitude towards our country.

It is possible for people to display the flag wrong through lack of knowledge but wearing this greatest of all freedom symbols shows complete disrespect for all of these millions who have fought and died to uphold its wearing.

Mrs. George Merwin
Novi Resident

Charles Ely, Jr., one of the

'Whistle or Salute?'

Thanks Park Backers

To the Editor:

The decision by the Michigan Natural Resources Commission to work strenuously toward the preservation of the Maybury Sanatorium property could well be the most momentous decision in Northville's proud history. Many citizens have worked long and hard to avoid the prospect of several thousand homes with perhaps as many as 10,000 people replacing our most beautiful natural resource area and severely taxing our economic resources.

The goal is not yet reached: tough negotiations and state legislative action still lie ahead. I am encouraged enough, however, that a moment should be taken to thank all of you who have brought us this far. The Northville Area Development Committee, the City's Open Space Study Committee, The Northville Record and the Township's many interested citizens all deserve credit. The School Board as a body and many Township officials gave strong backing. The City Council pledged major funds and permitted me time to give attention to this matter.

Although I am sure to omit some, several individuals should be cited: State Senator Carl Pursell, Representative Marvin Stempien, Representative Thomas Anderson, Detroit Council President Mel Ravitz, and our own Development Corporation President John Canterbury. Each of these men gave top priority to this goal and deserve prime credit for bringing it this close to fulfillment. Knowing these men and their interest, it seems probable that at least a major portion of this property will be preserved.

Very truly yours,
Frank Ollendorff

Fort Carson Remembered

To the Editor:

Your "Top of the Deck" column in this week's paper truly struck a responsive cord. I spent 22 months at Fort Carson in '62 and '63 and the conditions were much the same as you described. We certainly did not enjoy any of the resort atmosphere which is now prevalent on the eastern slopes of Cheyenne Mountain.

Beer, Broads and Big Times... Bah. All I recall was mountain climbing, maintenance and misery.

Luckily, however, I don't have your problems of convincing the little woman that it really wasn't that way. My wife, Deanna, shared most of those 22 months with me. Come to think of it, we were newlyweds then and maybe that's why I didn't notice all the Beer, Broads and Big Times.

Thanks for the Memories,
William G. Ziegler

entrepreneurs of Ely Fuel Oil, took a peek at his firm's home-made weather forecaster Monday and predicted a warmer than usual March, April and May. And if by some quirk of nature that prediction doesn't hold out, look out for a sizzler next summer.

Chuck admittedly hedges a little in making his prediction but the degree-day records upon which he bases it are probably just as reliable as Sonny Eliot's grab-bag system.

The "forecaster", which is the brainchild of Chuck's father, is really just a daily record of average temperatures and a comparison with averages for like periods over the past 20 years. Daily averages are converted to the Ely degree-days by daily subtracting the average outside temperature from 70-degrees the mean inside-the-house temperature.

For example: the average temperature this past Monday was 17 degrees. Therefore, subtracting 17 from 70 gives us 53 degree days for that date. Fifty-three is then added to the cumulative degree days since September 1, which incidentally totaled 5,260 compared with 5,466 on the same date last year.

The Ely forecaster makes one basic assumption, which over the years has proven pretty accurate: The cumulative degree day total on January 21 will always be about half the total through the degree-day year.

As of January 21 this year, Ely records showed a total of 3,950 degree days (last year the January 21 total was 4,250). That being the case, we can expect a total of 7,900 degree days by September 1.

Assuming that the degree-day accumulation for June, July and August will, as in past years, total between 250 to 300, the period January 22 through May will use up the remaining 3,650 degree days. As of Monday 2,506 of these 3,650 degree days already had been used up, leaving only 1,144 degree days for February 16 through May. That's not many considering the fact that 1,200 degree days were recorded in March alone last year, while 650 were recorded in April of 1970.

That's why Chuck is predicting unusually warm weather just around the corner. And if March, April and May gobble up more degree days than anticipated, it means there will be practically nothing left for summer.

The 1967-68 degree-day year appears to be about the closest thing to what we've experienced, and are likely to experience this 1970-71 year. On February 15 of 1968 the cumulative degree days totaled 5,239 — or 21 fewer than were recorded on the same date this year.

The average temperatures in March, April and May of 1968 were 36, 50 and 55.5, respectively.

Also, for those interested in self torture we've had six days this year in which the temperature dipped below 0 — the lowest being -10 on February 2. Last year we had 11 days of below zero weather, including six consecutive days of it in January.

employees and a listing of "whether or not the applicant, or person conducting or managing the applicant's business, had been convicted of a crime, misdemeanor or the violation of any municipal ordinance."

After being re-worked, the ordinance provided for "registration of merchants or persons engaged in business, manufacturing, trades or occupations in the city of Novi and for the licensing of certain businesses."

Businesses requiring licensing are spelled out as an "auctioneer, convalescent home, hawker and/or peddler, junk and/or scrap dealer, pawnbroker or transient merchant."

Those businesses falling within the licensing category, according to the ordinance, must still register all local employees in addition to all owners, proprietors, officers and managers.

They also must advise the city as to past conviction of misdemeanor, crime or ordinance violation as in the previous measure.

A $100 fee, with a partial fee of $50 paid if application is filed after July 1, is demanded of those taking out a license.

For businesses requiring registration, the fines and fees are somewhat looser.

Registration of owners, proprietors, officers and managers are required, but clauses calling for filing of police records and the listing of all local employees were deleted.

The registration fee was adjusted to $5 with a $5 renewal figure instead of the original $15.

"This is not the original ordinance," said Presnell. "It has no teeth in it. It should be much stiffer."

Berry disagreed with the fee. "I think anybody would tell you," he said "that clerical costs are running $5 for a fee and not lose money."

The building department will be the enforcing agent, according to City Manager Dallas Zonkers, and will be responsible for policing of violations. "that clerical costs are running $5 an hour now. I don't see how you're going to charge $5 for a fee and not lose money."

"She liked to write poems, enjoyed English, art. She was athletic," said her mother. "She won medals in five events in the Kiwanis Junior Olympics. She went and participated every year before she got too feminine for it."

"We can never thank the people enough," said Radtke. "It's not until you really get into trouble that you find out how wonderful people are. The police, the searchers, the phone company... everybody has been just wonderful."

Radtke installs multi-line receiver/transmitter devices for Michigan Bell. More than 100 of his fellow employees have joined police in a volunteer search of the Wayne-Washtenaw county area.

The family — mother, father, brother — are hopeful that Kathy will be found.

"We live with hope all through our lives — don't we?" Radtke was stating a fact, not asking a question.

"Kathy's coming home," said her girlfriend Jan, "for sure."

Held at Thurston the victory marked the fifth for the ninth graders in as many tries.

First places were produced by both relay teams Mark Hayne, Bob Wright Wendell Wegeng and Scott Jensen performed in the 200-yard medley at 2:13.3, and Mitch Robbins, Ted Howman, Tom Cook and Juergin Helms turned the 400-yard free in 4:19.6.

In addition to his medley performance, Hayne turned in a first place 1:14.6 in the 100-yard backstroke.

Taking duo honors for Northville were Don Cook at 2:14.7 and 59.5 in the 200 and 100 yard freestyle events, and Kevin Kelly in the 200-yard individual medley (2:32.2) and 100-yard fly (1:01.1).

Other firsts were posted by freestylist Tom Cook in the diving competition and Bob Wright in the 100-yard breaststroke (1:19.6).

The ninth graders will take their undefeated record against Pierce in a home meet tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Republicans Tap Northville Men

Two Northville residents figured prominently in activities at the Republican State Convention this past weekend in Detroit. In addition to the re-election of William F. McLaughlin as state chairman for the next two years, the Second Congressional district elected E. O. Weber as its Vice-Chairman. Weber succeeds Mrs. Fawn Platt of Adrian.

Weber was formerly chairman of the Wayne County portion of the Second District. The Second district is composed of the township of Northville and Plymouth and the City of Plymouth in Wayne County and the full counties of Washtenaw, Monroe, Lenawee and Livingston.

Mrs. C. Borden Chase of Ann Arbor was elected to the Chairmanship of the district which is represented in Congress by Congressman Marvin L. Esch. In addition to the Second District chairmanship, Mrs. Chase will continue on as Washtenaw County chairman and this dual responsibility is expected to result in added responsibility for Weber.

Others attending the convention from the Northville area included Mrs. McLaughlin and Dr. Robert Geake.

Novi Five Takes Pasting

25-Point Rally Falls Short

Despite a 25-point Novi surge in the final quarter, Dundee had little difficulty in polishing off the hosting Wildcats 82-66 here Saturday night.

By losing to Dundee, Novi fell a little deeper into the SE cellar. The Wildcats are winless in 11 tries.

Coach Milan Obrenovich's quintet was slated to battle second-place Milan Tuesday night—a game originally scheduled for last Friday night but canceled when Novi bus drivers refused to buck the weekend snowstorm.

It was a story of quarters Saturday night as invading Dundee consistently out-scored the local five in all but that big final stanza.

Quarter scores were 24-13, 44-25, and 67-37.

Too late with too little, Novi bounced back in the fourth quarter and out-hut the visitors by 10 points.

Baskets in that quarter came from Bob Vivian, two, Bob Pisha, John IMMOVABLE? — South Lyon grappler Steve Archey (top) tries to move Novi's Kevin Schingeck in 158-pound battle for third place in Dundee SEC meet. Archey's failure to budge the Wildcat resulted in a narrow decision for Novi.

Novi Grapplers Lose

Novi's matmen came out on the bottom in two sets of action last week as they battled South Lyon Thursday and traveled to Dundee for a conference meet Saturday.

South Lyon breezed past the Wildcat with four pins and three decisions for a 34-14 triumph.

Wildcat grapplers worked decisions from Pat Ford (1-0 at 126), Jack Morris (6-2 at 134), and Kevin Schingeck (6-5 at 155).

Bob Kovach carded the only Novi pin in the second period over Steve Grace at 126.

The loss marked the fifth straight for the Wildcats since the season's lone victory over Milan.

Milan came to the Southeastern Conference meet Saturday and out-placed the Wildcats who wound up in the cellar with 29 points.

Dexter took championship honors in the eight-team competition with 91 points, followed by Salme with 78, Chelsea with 63, Dundee with 55, South Lyon with 41 and Milan and Ypsilanti Lincoln each with 31.

Terry Auten took second in the heavyweight division of that meet, losing to Don Craigmile of Saline.

Two contests pitting Novi against South Lyon for second place saw the Wildcats on the bottom by decisions. Duane Miller and Kevin Schingeck each took a third at 138 and 155.

Novi travels to Walled Lake Thursday in re-scheduled action against a combination of junior and varsity wrestlers.

Loses Suit Not Match

Seven state records were set last weekend in the state community junior college swimming and diving championships held Friday and Saturday at Schoolcraft College.

Genesee Community College won the event and became state champions with 101 points.

Tim Cuddohy of 1st place Grand Rapids swam the last half of the 1650 freestyle race without a suit but managed nevertheless to turn in a record 18:59.3 Friday night. He lost his suit in the water.

Cuddohy came back Saturday, suited, and swam to his second record time in the 500-yard freestyle event: 5:23.6.

Also from Grand Rapids, John Szuba won the 400-yard individual medley in 4:37.7, the 200-medley in 2:07 flat, and the 200-yard backstroke in 2:06.7 and the 100-yard backstroke in 57.9. All were good for state records.

Marshall Backeroot turned in a state record time of 2:13 flat in the 200-yard butterfly for Oakland Community College.

Other noteworthy times came from Schoolcraft tankers Don Day, in the 100-yard and 200-yard breaststroke with times of 1:06.2 and 2:30.8; Ray Woods in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle at 23.4 and 51.3; and Craig Auten who notched a 355.75 diving score.

Schoolcraft notched a total of 57 points for fourth place behind Battle Creek Kellogg's 57.

Vivian copped scoring honors for both teams with a 32-point tally that went 10 points over the '22 point showing of Dundee's ace Bill Busch.

In the third quarter, the Wildcats netted 16 points, of which 13 were Vivian's. In the second they came up with 12, and in the first 13.

Novi went just under 50-percent in its free throws, hitting 18 out of 37 compared with almost 60-percent from Dundee (20/27).

With two shots left at a league victory, the Wildcats face Lincoln tomorrow and South Lyon next week Friday.

Novi owes Lincoln for an 84-65 upset and South Lyon for a 58-51 defeat, both of which occurred last month.

Lincoln's victory sent it on its way to the Dundee-Chelsea three-way tie, while South Lyon's victory help keep it out of the conference basement.

It's Bad Weekend For JV's

It was a bad weekend Friday and Saturday as local jayvee cagers took it on the chin three times with Clarkston and Dundee administering the licks.

Northville dropped both ends of weekend action — Friday, 63-31 to Clarkston, and Saturday 53-49 to Brighton. And Novi's power was cut short by Dundee 59-52 Saturday.

Mustang cagers couldn't find the stuffing Friday to stand up to Clarkston's sustained attack. They trailed through the entire game: 10-4, 22-19 and 43-25.

The junior cagers bounced back from a four-point opening stanza to pot 15 points in the second quarter — their best of the night — but Clarkston's dust was blinding as the Wolves streaked to an 18-point lead at the end of three and 32 by the final buzzer.

Mike Brown capped scoring honors with 10 points. He was alone in double figures.

Saturday's game with Brighton was a little better but not enough to make a difference as the junior Mustangs ended up in a four-point hole after scoring nearly half of their 49 points in the concluding stanza.

In that final period, the juniors went for 20 points with Rod Crane's nine-point tally leading the way.

Crane accounted for a total of 24 points to lead the team along with Bart Taylor's 10. The two were the only Mustangs to notch double figure marks.

Quarter scores in that game were 13-12 (B), 26-23 (N) and 39-33 (B).

Novi hustled through three quarters to come within seven points of a tie Saturday against Dundee.

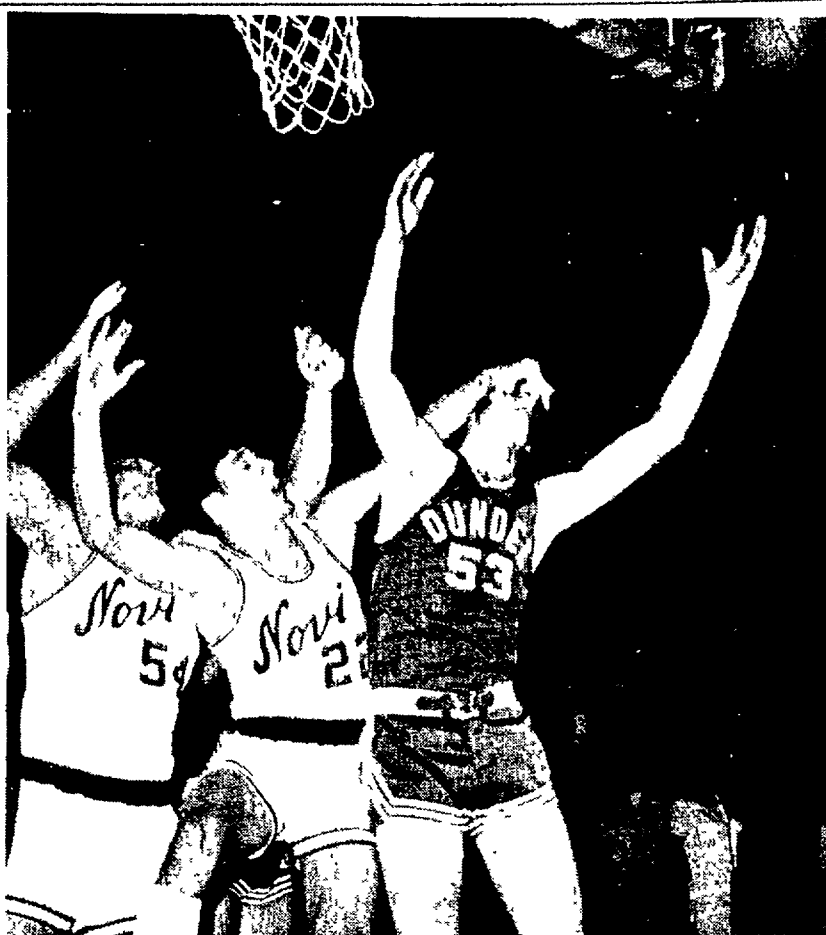

At the half, the Wildcats were 18 points down, 36-18, after losing the two opening stanzas.

With the opening of the second half, however, the local cagers began to click and came back slowly scoring 12 points in the third and 22 in the final stanzas.

Quarter scores in the game were all Dundee — 13-10, 36-18 and 42-30.

Scoring laurels for the Wildcats went to Steve Lukkari who hit 18 points.

Jim VanWagner followed closely with 17.

LOOK OUT — Rebounds are a tough business and Novi cager Pat Boyer (22) is tough enough to take it — or dish it out. At least it looks that way as he and Bob Pisha (54) go up after the ball against Dundee Saturday night. Novi lost 80-66 despite a 25 point scoring drive in the final quarter. It was the same story Tuesday as the Wildcats dropped both ends of the action against Milan the varsity by 21 points, 80-59, and the JV in a 50-49 squeaker.

Hockey Action Produces Split

Northville ice action this week split itself between Jackson, Lansing and Detroit as the PeeWees went zip against Trenton Sunday and the Midgets picked up both ends of weekend action from Trenton and Lansing.

The PeeWees came up on the bottom of a 7-0 shuffle Sunday with Trenton on Detroit ice.

The Northville defense folded repeatedly before first, second and third period scoring drives that netted two in the first, two in the second and three in the third stanzas.

The Midgets didn't find the going as tough with Trenton Saturday, coming up with a 3-2 victory in the third period at Jackson, or with Lansing Sunday, defeating their hosts 6-1 at the Michigan State University.

In the Trenton game it was Northville 2-0 first and second period goals unassisted from Art Autio going into the final round.

Trenton bounced back, however, and carded two, at 15:43 and 5:00 to go.

At the 4:05 mark, Autio set one up and Chris Thomas slapped it in to cement Northville's victory.

Northville had an easy time Sunday, walking through three periods in the lead.

Thomas led off in the first round with an assist by Autio. Autio got one himself later in that period with assistance from Rick Kabanuk.

The second period saw scores by Chris Thomas and Mike Swinko with assists from Kevin O'Brien, Rick Buttery and Mike Pattwell. An unassisted effort by Mark Andres was engineered at the close of the second stanza.

Buttery and Pattwell closed up Northville scoring at 7:04 in the final period with Buttery slapping the shot.

The Midgets split two games not reported last week.

Northville dropped one to Dearborn Heights February 6 at Jackson but made up for it the next day by lambasting Plymouth at Flint.

Dearborn ended up on top of a 6-3 showing.

The Plymouth game saw Northville up front all the way to an 8-2 victory.

Girls Post Cage Wins

Last week was a good one for the girl basketball players as both Northville and Novi varsity squads posted victories.

Northville junior and senior girls split with Walled Lake Western Wednesday as the varsity carded a 38-35 victory and the juniors swallowed a 25-10 defeat.

Novi's varsity ripped Milford 26-22 in single billing Monday as the Redskins failed to post a junior varsity team.

Sherrie Balko earned top honors for Northville with a total of 13 points. Amy Phillips (10), Debby Burkeen (7) and Debby Cook (7), helped out in that victory drive.

The contest ran away from Northville for a time as Western led by one point at the half, 16-15. Northville failed to cut down Western's lead in the third period, and it began the closing stanza still one down, 24-23.

In the final quarter, however, the local squad outdistanced the hosts by four points, 15-11, to finish three up, 38-35.

The juniors went zip through the first stanza of their contest to wind up on the bottom after four quarters of losing basketball.

Quarter scores in that game were: 9-0, 19-4, and 23-8.

Novi dominated Milford throughout the game Monday as Mary Ann Pierce and Donna Thompson notched scoring honors with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Milford exploded in the concluding stanza for its biggest tally, 11 points, but Novi's lead of 11 points at the third quarter mark proved insurmountable.

Quarter scores in that game were 8-3, 13-6 and 22-11.

IT'S A STEAL — Northville's Scot Stuart (23) creates a turnover by stealing the ball from a surprised Bulldog, Pat Hoyle.

Cushing Sparks Win Over Clarkston Five

Kerry Cushing turned in his finest game of the season as he led the Northville Mustangs to a 58-53 conquest of the Clarkston Wolves Friday at Schoolcraft Community College.

The victory snapped a six game losing streak for the Mustangs and was only their second win of the season in Wayne-Oakland League play.

The triumph was a particularly pleasing one to Northville Coach Omar Harrison as he watched his charges overcome their season-long nemesis — the fourth quarter slump. Time and again this season the Mustangs have entered the final period very much in contention only to see their opponents pull away for the victory.

That very pattern seemed to be developing in the game against Clarkston. But just when things began to look darkest, the Mustangs came to life with 10 consecutive points by Scot Stuart, Bernie Bach, Kerry Cushing, and Scott Evans in the crucial closing minutes of the game to leave the Wolves baying at the door.

Northville dominated the first half of play and Kerry Cushing was the key. Employed as the middle man in the Mustang's 2-1-2 offense, Cushing drove repeatedly and successfully to the basket as he tallied nine points to pace the team.

Only the high, arching, long distance bombs of Clarkston's Don Brown kept the Wolves in contention during that first half. The Clarkston star netted 15 of his team's first half total of 27 as Northville left the floor at half time with 10 point, 37-27 lead.

It was in the third quarter that the Northville quintet faltered, setting the stage for the fourth quarter dramatics. Jeff Moon scored two baskets during that quarter, while Cushing added three points to account for all the Mustang's scoring. Meanwhile, Clarkston kept plugging away and turned Northville's numerous turn-overs into 16 points to cut the Mustang's once commanding 10 point lead to a scant one point margin, 44-43.

Clarkston scored as the fourth quarter started to take their first lead of the evening, but Rick Sechler came down the floor to regain the lead for Northville with a conversion of his own rebound. Clarkston again forged into the lead as Don Brown notched his final bucket of the night. It was then that Scot Stuart started the 10 point spurt that clinched the Northville victory.

Cushing led the Northville scorers with 15 points, the only Mustang to hit in double figures. He received support from a well-balanced attack in which Bernie Bach, Scot Stuart, and Rick Sechler shared the runner's up position with eight points apiece. Clarkston's Don Brown led all scorers with 23.

Bernie Bach paced the team in the rebounding department as he grabbed off 13 rebounds, nine of them in the crucial second half. Steve Utley, returning to the line-up after suffering an injured hand, added eight more while Cushing had seven.

Coach Harrison was particularly pleased with the work of Kerry Cushing and called it Cushing's "best game of the season."

The reason Clarkston came back so well in the second half," Harrison said, "was that they were able to keep us from getting the ball into Kerry." Harrison also expressed pleasure with his team's "running game." "We ran real well right at the start of the game and that enabled us to get off to an early lead and set the pace for the whole first half."

The game was played at Schoolcraft College as Northville's own gym is undergoing repairs for a buckled floor resulting from rain water seeping beneath the hardwood.

Northville will host league-leading West Bloomfield this Friday. The Lakers, fresh from a last second 57-56 victory over Brighton, will be seeking to add to their conference record of 8-3. The Mustangs are currently in last place with a 2-8 league record.

Brighton Downs Mustangs, 81-62

A hustling zone defense that featured a press throughout most of the game enabled Brighton to march past the Mustangs of Northville, 81-62, last Saturday night as the schools made up for a game postponed due to an ice storm.

Northville might be wishing that the game could have been held as scheduled, since Brighton has toughened up their entire game and has made their defense particularly stingy in the last two games.

Because of the defense, Northville could manage only a 27 percent mark from the floor as they were forced to take the low-percentage shots from the outside. The Mustangs made 21 of 77 shots from the floor while Brighton worked the ball inside and finished with a 46 percent tally by making 31 of 67 shots.

The final margin, which was the largest winning edge for Brighton this year, was inflated by the shooting of Carl Roberts who dumped in nine field goals and six free throws for a 24 point total. Other Brighton high scorers were Bruce Ritter with 15 and Pat Hoyle with 16.

Northville had double figure showings from Bernie Bach with 18 and Scot Evans with 14. Steve Utley was the next best for the losers with eight points for the night.

Early in the contest, it looked like a Brighton runaway. The Bulldogs jumped out to a 15-5 lead midway in the first period and showed no signs of slowing down. But the Mustangs rallied to cut the lead to three points before some accurate shooting by Brighton left the spread at seven after the first eight minutes.

After that, the Mustangs couldn't keep the pace as Brighton's press forced some costly turnovers. Brighton led by 12 at the half and by 21 at the third quarter to put the game out of reach.

Unlike the teams' last meeting, rebounds in the game were almost equal with Northville getting a slight edge. When Brighton defeated the Mustangs earlier in the year, they took a rebounding edge of almost 20 to help them onto victory.

The difference must be partly due to the play of Bach. An aggressive player, Bach has the height to pull down the rebounds.

But aside from rebound equality and a slightly better percentage from the charity line, the Mustangs have little to be proud of in the statistics department.

Unable to hit from the outside, Northville could not crack Brighton's zone defense and the number of Mustang turnovers (30) killed any hope they had of breaking the Bulldog press.

SHOOTING THROUGH TRAFFIC — Bruce Ritter goes up for a shot as Jeff Moon (11) and Todd Hannert (35) attempt to defend. Awaiting the outcome are Cas Scranton (52) and Bill Springstead of Brighton along with Bernie Bach of the Mustangs.

Northville Loses Wrestling 'Tie'

Mustang wrestlers took a 63-point fourth place behind West Bloomfield (70), Brighton (66), and Kettering (64) in the Wayne-Oakland Conference League Tournament Saturday at Clarkston.

"We were tied, or within sight of a tie going into the 185 and heavyweight matches," said coach Jack Townsley.

"We had 60 points at that time and if we'd won both of those matches by a pin we'd have picked up enough points to win," Townsley said.

Brad Conklin took the heavyweight championship with a decision. David Griffin grabbed first at 119 with a pin and Kevin Hartshorne won the 105 division with a decision.

John Coleman lost a 3-2 decision at 185 to West Bloomfield on a one-point penalty pinned on him in the last second of the match.

"That one point," said Townsley, "in essence decided who was going to win the tournament. It was bad judgment on the part of the official," Townsley declared.

Other honors for Northville came from Bill Norton with a second at 126, and John Fialon and Byrn Hartshorne each with fourth places at 112 and 98.

Northville goes to the district tournament, also in Clarkston, Saturday.

Cornerstone laying ceremonies are planned sometime in March at Novi's two new schools, school board trustees announced Monday.

Ceremonies will be held at the Middle School on Taft Road south of the high school and at Village Oaks Elementary School. The exact date depends on the construction schedule, Superintendent Thomas Dale said.

Further details of the ceremony will be announced later, Dale said.

Donation Set At Hawthorn

A $250 donation to Hawthorn Center "to help provide some of the necessities of children who come to the center with little more than the clothes on their backs" will be made Saturday morning by the Sunset Scottish Rite Club serving northwest Wayne County.

"We're planning to make this an annual donation program," explained Llewellyn Hughes, past president and secretary of the club.

"Hopefully, it will provide some emergency care for children beyond that which is provided by the state," he said. "We learned recently of a little girl who came to Hawthorn wearing only a dress. She didn't even have underwear and her shoes were taped to her feet."

"Our donation and perhaps the donations of others will make this little girl and others a little happier while at Hawthorn."

Swim Club Sets Meeting

The annual general membership meeting of the Northville Swim Club will be held at the Northville council chambers on Saturday at 11 a.m.

Included on the agenda will be discussion of 1970 operations under pool manager Gary Davis and the Instruction Program and Competitive Swimming under Coach Ben Lauber. Three new directors will be elected to replace retiring directors Kenneth Dodds, David Biery, and Harry Wieser. The new nominees for election will be Biery, Thomas Sechler and Clifford Bunker.

Continuing into 1971 on the board will be Hal Axtell, Dan Boland, Bob Crane, Lanky Lancaster, Bob Regenhart and Keith Wright.

The annual Swim Club Membership Drive will begin immediately and information is available through Keith Wright at 349-9956 or Dan Boland at 349-2918.

Novi Library Gets Copy Machine

"The response has been very good," according to Novi Librarian Mrs. Robert T. Flattery to the recent placing of a Docustat copying machine in the Novi Public Library.

"The copying machine," said Mrs. Flattery, "has been installed in the library for a two-year trial period after which an evaluation will be made to determine whether to continue the service."

three additional mills. "If we ask for three mills and can levy them, we will have two new schools we can't open and five unions we can't negotiate contracts with because we won't have enough money. No matter what our decision is, we will be unpopular."

Trustee Robert Wilkins told fellow board members "We're damned if we do and damned if we don't, and I'd rather be damned for sticking my neck out and trying to give the people in this community the best educational program possible."

Warren said he could see a "rough road ahead for getting approval of a five mill increase, but if you vote for putting it on the ballot, I'll work to get it approved."

Henderson said he "would like the people in the district to tell me no on the five mill increase and then I'll make the necessary budget. Let's not try to second guess the voters."

Simmons restated his thought that the five mill hike "will jeopardize millage we could put across to the people. The state must come up with a fairer way to tax, and as long as people go along with the present way, the state will do nothing to change."

The motion to put the five mill increase on the ballot, made by Henderson and supported by Wilkins, was approved by a 5-2 vote of the board.

Fire Study Still In Talk Stage

With just a "general idea of how it might work," a joint-municipal study committee is still two months away from a concrete proposal for a joint fire department serving Northville, Plymouth, and Canton.

That's the word from A. E. Vallier of Plymouth, committee chairman, who Monday said it is "premature" to discuss specifics "because we just do not have any of those kinds of details yet."

To date, committee representatives from the city and township of Northville, city and township of Plymouth, and Canton Township have met formally only three times, Vallier said, "and we haven't gotten down to the business of how it would be financed."

Basically, "as I personally see it, we would set up a central dispatching system and firemen would be criss-crossing municipal boundaries," Vallier said.

"Frankly, one of our biggest problems will be with Northville (city).

Those on the fire will be tough to convince. We'll just have to come up with a sound proposal and take it to them."

Meanwhile, Northville is treading water on the single fire district idea. "Our only purpose in attending the meetings is to listen," said City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

The city's present fire department setup is very adequate, said Ollendorff. "Right now we're doubtful it (inter-municipal department) would benefit us."

Northville Township, on the other hand, sees the single fire department as a potential solution to providing more effective protection for township residents and businesses on the southern boundary of the township. It could affect the township's plans for establishment of a fire station in the Six Mile area.

Presently, the city and township of Northville are served by a jointly operated department with equipment stationed at the city hall.

Name Stempien To Top Committee

State Representative Marvin R. Stempien, (D-Livonia/Northville) has been reappointed to the House Committee on Appropriations, the most powerful committee of the House of Representatives.

Again this year he has been designated chairman of the General Government Subcommittee which reviews and recommends the budget for the following branches of state government: Executive, Legislative, Judicial, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Civil Service, Civil Rights, Treasury and Administration. The appointment was announced by the Speaker of the House, William A. Ryan.

Because of the importance of the Appropriations Committee and the workload involved, Representatives are not customarily appointed to any other standing committees of the House. In addition to the standing committee assignment, however, Speaker Ryan also named Stempien to the House Fiscal Agency Board. The fiscal Agency assists the House, and particularly the Appropriations Committee in fiscal planning and research. Stempien is a member of the Legislative Council by statute, in addition to his other assignments, because he is the elected Majority Floor Leader of the House. The Legislative Council provides the Legislature with a variety of specialized and general services. He will serve in all of the assignments during the 1971-72 session of the Legislature.

"Representative Stempien," Ryan said, "has been asked to accept an unusually heavy workload. However, he has shown in the past that he is the type of legislator who will devote as much time and energy as is necessary to get the job done."

Dan Dierdorf To Get Award

Michigan's All-American tackle, Dan Dierdorf, will receive Meadowbrook Country Club's Michigan Amateur Athlete award for the year 1970 Friday at the 16th annual Sportman's Night.

Featured speakers at the popular event will be: Don Canham, U of M Athletic Director; Alex Karras, Detroit Lions all-pro tackle; and Red Jones, the former major league umpire.

The dinner will get underway at 7 p.m. WJR's sports director, Bob Reynolds, will act as master of ceremonies. Chairman of the program is George Rice, who is assisted by William Lindhout and R. L. Hallam.

New Law Aids Victims

Here's How to Stop Smut Mail

A new, stiffer pornography law that hits at the sender went into effect this month and postal officials are hopeful it will dry up some of the material being sent through the mails.

Congressman Marvin Esch, Republican from the Second Congressional District who was one of the law's sponsors, shares that hope.

Initially, federal law makers hoped to prohibit mailing of all pornographic literature but this approach was a virtual impossibility, explained Esch, because it meant a satisfactory (legal) definition as to what is or is not pornographic. And in view of Supreme Court rulings on matters of censorship, it was dropped.

Similarly, legal cobwebs make prohibition of the sale of mailing lists to smut publishing houses difficult. Not only may names and addresses be purchased from book clubs, magazines, etc., but some federal agencies actually sell such lists.

The legal question arises, when a citizen subscribes to a magazine and gives his name and address who becomes the owner of that name and address?

So Esch and those who worked with him on the legislation decided instead to regulate the material at its source. Basically, it provides citizens with machinery to keep unwanted, sex-oriented literature out of their mailboxes. Furthermore, it requires the sender to place on the outside envelope warning that alerts the addressee that the mail contains sexually oriented advertisements. Hopefully, said Esch, the new law will withstand any Supreme Court test.

Here's how it works:

A citizen opposed to the receipt of such material fills out a form at the post office stating his name and address and declaring that he does not wish to receive sexually oriented advertisements from any source.

The U.S. Postal Service compiles by computer a list of such persons and sells the list to smut peddlers, who face up to a $5,000 and five years in prison if they send their material to anyone whose name has been on the list for 30 days.

A sexually oriented ad is described this way:

"Any advertisement that depicts, in actual or simulated form, or explicitly describes, in a predominantly sexual context, human genitalia, any act of natural or unnatural sexual be removed.

"I feel sure it's (the new law) going to work," said Northville Postmaster John Steimel, "because of the cooperation we received in the past from our customers."

To date, however, Steimel has issued only one form to an individual and 100 to a local church. Similarly, few postal patrons in the Novi, Wixom, South Lyon and Brighton areas have taken advantage of the new law — probably, explained one spokesman, because "people don't know about it yet."

'Once a person receives the kind of literature we're talking about chances are he'll come in to see us. . .'

intercourse, any act of sadism or masochism or any other erotic subject directly related to the foregoing."

The Postal Service will charge smut mailers $5,000 for the list. It will issue the first list this month. Thereafter, it will be updated periodically mailed out every month.

The advertiser willing to call himself a smut peddler must make a $5,000 deposit to get the list, which he must have in order to avoid breaking the law.

To prevent non-smut dealers from obtaining the list, which they could then use for their own purposes, the law provides criminal prosecution of anyone not dealing in sexual material to purchase the list.

A person's name remains on the list for five years unless he requests in writing to his local post office that it of literature we're talking about chances are he'll come in to see us," said Steimel.

According to Congressman Esch about three-percent of the mail he receives from his constituents consists of complaints about pornography coming through the mails. It's so bad, he said, that when writers send in the pornography with their complaints it embarrasses his staff members.

The new law does not affect pornography coming into the United States from foreign countries. As a matter of fact, U.S. postal methods of handling this kind of mail just recently were ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, according to Richard H. Jones, superintendent of mail children and adults from various sources, send their literature through the mail with or without the person's consent. It is mailed legally.

"Once a person receives the kind

Typical is the letter received last month by an elementary-grade girl in Northville. An envelope postmarked from California arrived at the child's home. Inside the envelope was still another envelope cautioning the recipient that if he or she is under 21 not to open it.

In this instance the parent intercepted the letter before the child had an opportunity to see it. "Chances are she would have disregarded the warning, or perhaps not even seen it, and opened the envelope," the parent said. "Or the warning itself might have aroused her curiosity to prompt her to open it."

The letter contained literature about the availability of books on sexual relations, complete with sample pictures of male and female sexual organs, demonstrative intercourse, and lurid written explanation.

"The thing that upsets me so much," the parent said, "is that the company had access to my child's name and address. They got it, presumably, by buying the names of subscribers to a legitimate magazine."

Mailing lists may be purchased legitimately in this way, explained Northville Postmaster John Steimel, who says his office received complaints from 25 to 30 patrons about the receipt of pornographic literature this past year.

The number of complaints is not necessarily an accurate gauge of how much of the material is received locally. Often times, he said, people destroy the letters and don't report it.

Some are too shocked and embarrassed to discuss it with the post office.

"And, of course, some of this stuff is requested by the person receiving it," he added.

Novi Postmaster Elmer Balko reports his office has received about 10 complaints in the past year. Most complaints come from adults who received the mail themselves. New on the job in Novi, he has no knowledge of any complaints about children receiving smut through the mail in Novi.

"Many pornographic houses get names from book clubs," he explained. "This is where some companies get names for compiling their 'new product' sampling."

These are selective as to the communities and as to what parts of a community is sampled. Northville, for example, has been 'sampled' seven times while Novi hasn't been sampled once.

"It hasn't been a major problem here," said Wixom Postmaster Elwood Grubb. "We've received about six complaints in the past year."

One Wixom firm two years ago received pornographic literature at its

12-Help Wanted

HELP! SOS! MAYDAY! Over 1,500 American men are missing in Southeast Asia. The families of these men are in distress. WON'T YOU HELP!!! The wives, children and parents of these men do not know if they are alive or dead. The other side has never officially released the names of all the men they hold prisoner. The Geneva Convention signed, clearly specifies that all prisoners will be immediately released — POW camps will be impartially inspected and that POW's should be allowed to write not less than 6 cards and letters per month. The North Vietnamese REFUSE to honor any of these provisions. WHAT CAN YOU DO??? North Vietnam and her allies do not believe that we as Americans are concerned about the fate and inhuman treatment of "only 1,500 men." YOU can help prove to them that AMERICAN'S well being is the concern of ALL OF US by spending a few minutes and 20 cents and writing to THE NORTH VIETNAMESE DELEGATION PARIS, FRANCE (Air Mail Postage is 20 cents) (1st Class Postage is 13 cents) and DEMANDING that they: 1. Identify all POW's they hold; 2. Release all sick and injured POW's to a neutral power; 3. Allow impartial inspections of POW's facilities; 4. Allow free exchange of mail between POW's and members of their families. Prisoners of War are guaranteed basic human rights by International Law. Their families have the right to know if they are alive — and to communicate with them if they are. WRITE YOUR LETTER — AND MAIL IT TODAY — NOW!!!

Satisfaction In Today's World?

Pastor Bruce Stine
Tri-Lakes Baptist Church

Is anyone satisfied in this world? We see abnormal drives for money, pleasure, sex and power all around us. Real satisfaction are not in these.

Real happiness is in rejecting the temporal and gaining appreciation for eternal things. Surely the fountain head of all meaning in life is God. God is. Only the irrational person says there is no God. The prophets declared that the Bible was God speaking. What does He say?

Modern man, in his unsatisfied state, is ready to listen. With Job he says, "Oh, that I knew where I might find him! That I might come even to his seat." Job 23:3. Deep in the heart of man, man knows there is satisfaction in knowing God the Creator. God has revealed Himself in the person of His Son that we might know Him as a person, in a vital, heart-gladdening way.

Knowing God, life begins to come into focus. His Word gives me absolutes to live by. We are delivered from the snare of the fowler by the wisdom He gives. There is an appreciation of the good things all around us.

Satisfaction... in today's world? Note these additional things.

There is satisfaction in living in a country where God be worshipped freely. Many, in their restlessness, are attacking our government today. We are instructed to pray for those who rule over us. I am sure we will find satisfaction if we are faithful to do it.

Man is to find satisfaction in his home. The home is a basic institution ordained of God. When God is worshipped in the home by Bible reading and prayer much is gained. Following its teachings, each member desires the growth and betterment of the other.

There is satisfaction in work. The Bible says, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." Eccl. 9:10. It takes a courageous person to find another job if he is not happy in what he is doing. Some reason that they are making good money and they will use it to give them satisfaction in another area. This will not minister to a person like being able to give all of your energies to his work day by day.

There is satisfaction in attending Church. Jesus said, "I will build my Church..." Matt. 16:18. Surely the assembling together to worship God with others of 'like precious faith' is another of the great satisfactions of life. Not that the Church will get us to heaven. Salvation is in a person, the Person of Jesus Christ. He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" John 14:6.

The Church is a fellowship of Believers. These people have a goal to honor God. The Church has work to do. Proclaiming the Gospel and doing good in His Name.

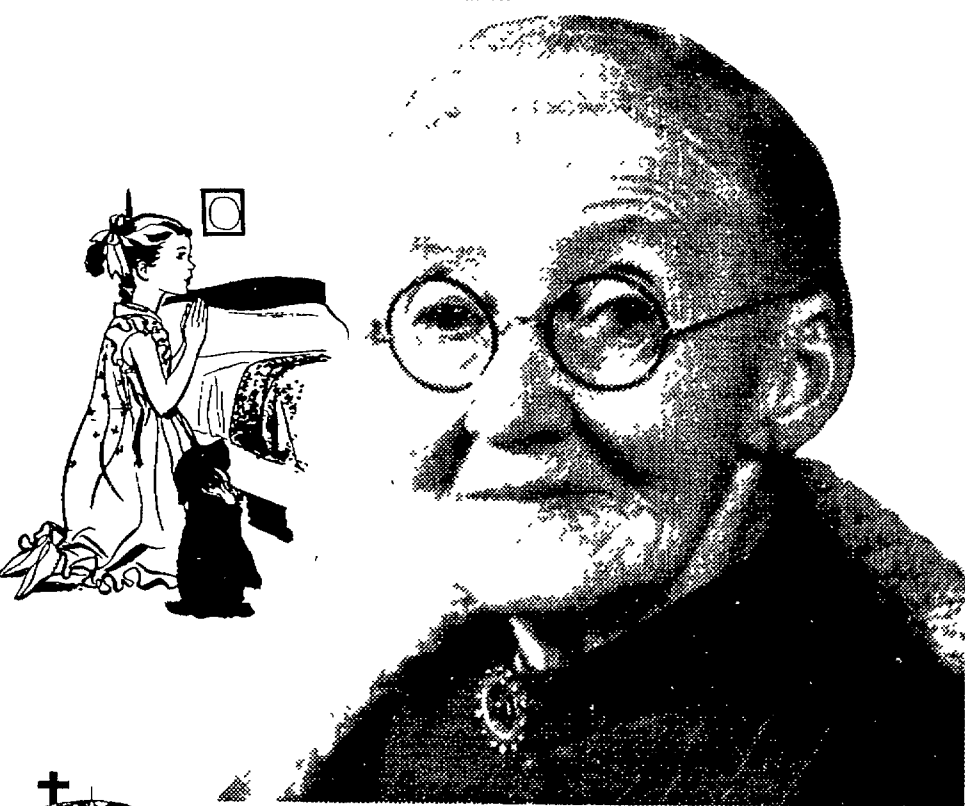

Satisfaction in today's world. I hope you find it too.

In this age of medicare, social security and homes for the aged, sometimes people forget an important part of growing old—tranquility!

Yes, tranquility and peace are just as important in growing old gracefully as is sufficient insurance or all the other means with which we show our concern for the elderly.

Have you ever noticed that old people have a knack of putting things in order? In fact, they need everything tidy, neat and sure. Certainly their greatest need is for peace and security—but this can come only when they are at peace with God!

If we want to reap the harvest of friendship with God in our old age, then we must cultivate our relation with Him—when we are young and able. Regular church attendance and worship is your assurance of peace and tranquility during your own gentle lengthening years. It will be a heaven-sent reward and one which you cannot, will not, want to miss.

States Cheer Nixon's Revenue Sharing Plan

LANSING — When President Nixon proposed that Congress return a little of the federal wealth with the states in the form of revenue sharing, he hit a responsive cord with nearly every governor and legislature.

Though Congress hasn't been very quick to pick up the ball and run with it, the cheering from the sidelines has been almost deafening. A quick look at the financial condition of the various states shows why.

Michigan, it turns out, is not alone in its financial worries. In fact, after looking at some other states the condition here looks almost rosy, despite the fact about $100 million must be cut out of this year's budget to avert a deficit.

FOR EXAMPLE, Pennsylvania's General Assembly came into the new year with the task of finding $350 million to $600 million in new revenue by the end of March.

Connecticut faces a $200 million deficit.

The Texas legislature is seeking to raise $58.5 million in emergency taxes to meet welfare costs for the current fiscal year.

New Hampshire, the only state left without either a sales or an income tax, ended the year with only $120,000 in its treasury and its short-term borrowing authority exhausted.

CALIFORNIA Gov. Ronald Reagan has restricted new state construction, hiring and equipment purchases.

New York is in the process of writing an $8 billion budget for the next fiscal year.

Wisconsin's governor went into office by asking a freeze on state hiring and construction.

In Arkansas, schools of higher education have been told they will be allowed no new construction for four years.

TAX INCREASES, as a result, are seen as a certainty in 13 states and possible in at least nine others.

It's no wonder, then, that state officials met the president's program with such enthusiasm. A decent revenue sharing program would at least cut down on the amount of a tax increase necessary to keep the various states from going in the hole.

But the reluctance of several key Congressmen to even give much thought to revenue sharing has caused at least a partial letdown among the officials of the various states.

No matter how they get the money, it isn't going to be easy.

IT SHOULD be noted that state and local tax collections totaled $4.1 billion for fiscal 1970.

That's an increase of 62 percent, or $1.6 billion, over the period just four years earlier, when the total take was $2.5 billion.

The breakdown goes this way:

—Total state taxes of $2.3 billion.

—Total local taxes of $1.8 billion.

The increase is about even for both forms of taxation with local tax collections up 64 percent and state collections up 60 percent since 1966.

the economy," all the bonds should be retired before 1985.

The bond redemption didn't start in 1965, though the bridge opened in 1958. The bonds were sold in December, 1953.

About $80 million of the bonds were four percent notes while the other $20 million are paying five and one-fourth percent to their owners.

Brown said the first $17 million of par value bonds were retired at a cost of $14 million. He said the state also saved more than half a million dollars because they were purchased in the open market rather than called in.

1970 Stock Splits Hit Low

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — Last year, due to the generally poor stock market atmosphere, stock-split activity was at one of the lowest levels in over a decade. The peak period for stock splits was in 1968-1969 when corporate earnings were generally rising, business for the most part was exceptionally good, and the stock market was soaring. None of these factors was present last year so stock splits slackened notably.

This year we expect that general economic conditions will be better than in 1970 and, thus, corporate profits are likely to be higher. Furthermore, the stock market, which has already had a sharp advance so far this year, should hold up reasonably well — barring some very adverse unpredictable event. If the above factors come to pass, then there will most likely be a good increase in stock-split activity this year as compared with last year.

ACTUALLY, some well-known companies have already announced that they plan to split their stocks if holders approve. These include General Electric, Manufacturers Hanover Corp., and Texas Oil and Gas. Additionally, Walt Disney and General Foods are planning to pay 100% stock dividends in March. Many others are likely to take similar action as their stocks move into higher price zones.

There are various reasons why a corporation may decide to split its stock. However, of primary importance is the desire to improve the marketability of the company's shares by broadening the ownership base. A stock split accomplishes this as it increases the number of shares available and lowers the price of such shares. Thus a larger number of investors can participate in company ownership. As a general rule smaller investors tend to avoid higher-priced issues as they are not able to buy in round lots and are unwilling to buy odd lots because of the cost differential.

IN RECENT YEARS the most popular price level for stocks has been between $30 and $50 per share. More investors have purchased a meaningful number of shares in this general range than at higher prices. Thus good-grade issues priced at from $60 to $100 per share or higher can often be considered as stock-split candidates. However, there have also been many instances when stocks priced under $60 have been split. The split ratio will not necessarily be 2-for-1, but may be any multiple or percentage.

Stock splits are usually accompanied by a dividend increase. This is almost always the reason why a stock invariably advances in price upon the announcement of a stock split.

Below we have listed some of the companies that appear to be in a position either to split their stock or to declare important stock dividends this year.

office addressed to its female employees.

Supreme Court rulings concerning pornography virtually prevent any kind of censorship by postmasters, according to a spokesman for the South Lyon post office.

"We've received no complaints recently," she reported, "but there was a heavy amount of it received earlier last year. Most of it was addressed to kids, some who were not even in their teens."

"There's quite a bit of it going through (the mail)," said Brighton Postmaster Al Bosworth. He said it is difficult to judge if there has been an increase lately because now pornographic material must be identified on the outside envelope whereas before it was not.

In the past year, he said, his office received approximately one complaint a week.

TIPS ON SHOWING IN HALTER CLASSES PART I

Many horsemen lack knowledge of the correct showing technique for breeding classes, even though they may be quite professional in exhibiting in performance classes.

Breeding classes are shown "in hand" which means that they are exhibited at the halter or when wearing a bridle. The halter should be clean, properly adjusted, and fitted with a fresh looking leather or rope lead. If the horse is shown when wearing a bridle, the exhibitor should avoid jerking on the reins so vigorously that injury will be inflicted on the mouth.

The guiding principles adhered to by most successful horsemen when showing at halter are:

1. Train the horse early.
2. Groom the horse thoroughly.
3. Dress neatly for the occasion.
4. Enter the ring promptly and in tandem order when the class is called; line up at the location requested by the ringmaster or the judge, or if directed, continue to move around the ring in tandem order.

5. Stand the horse squarely on all four feet, with the forefeet on higher ground than the hind feet. The standing position of the horse should vary according to the breed. For example: Arabians are not stretched, whereas American Saddle breeds are stood with their front legs straight under them and their hind legs back slightly. Other breeds are generally stood in a slightly stretched position; somewhat intermediate between these two examples.

When standing and facing the horse, hold the lead strap or rope in the left hand 10 to 12 inches from the halter ring end in such a manner as to encourage a head-up position.

What Judges like and don't like -

JUDGES LIKE PLEASANT EXPRESSION ON FACES. They also like good manners: boys who take off their hats when receiving trophies, riders making room for others who want to ride past them in the ring, being sure to keep far enough behind the horse ahead so as not to tempt him to kick.

JUDGES LIKE WELL-GROOMED HORSES AND WELL-GROOMED RIDERS. - Both boys and girls should have well-fitted, conservative clothes. Clean polished boots and hat. In the case of girls, their hair should be particularly neat. If long, it should be done up in a bun or if the girl is young, pigtails.

It's true in the A.M.H.S. rule book it states that a rider's ability rather than personal attire should be judged. Although this is right and proper, the attire of the riders will still play a considerable part in the exhibitor's over-all appearance, and this he or she will be judged on. If appearance is sloppy, it can't help making his performance look sloppy.
