

Communities Mourn Loss of Slain Teenagers

"Events may frustrate ourselves but not the plan of God; in this we can be joyful."

Those words of the Reverend Father John Wyskiel, associate pastor of Our Lady of Victory church, were representative of messages delivered in Tuesday services as the communities of Northville and Novi mourned the loss of two of its young citizens—Kathy Radtke and John (Jack) Keyes.

Both were slain last winter. (See related story on Novi, Page 1.)

Funeral service was conducted Tuesday morning at Our Lady of Victory for Kathy, 17, and a memorial service for both her and John, 19, were held that afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church.

Novi High School, where Kathy was a junior, and Novi Elementary School, where Kathy's mother, Mrs. Robert G Radtke is a secretary, were dismissed for the day.

A funeral procession from the Thayer Funeral Home in Farmington to Northville, escorted by Novi police patrol cars, carried Kathy's body to Our Lady of Victory following a short prayer at the funeral home by Father Wyskiel.

The procession, several blocks in length, motored slowly along Main Street in Northville at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Probably the longest ever seen locally, the procession attracted numerous observers.

Rosary was recited at 8 p.m. Monday.

Six students served as pallbearers. Mike Esch, Charles Olewnik, Richard Fisher, Ron Fokes, Brad Sjöholm and Joe Barnes.

With fellow students, family and friends and relatives of the family, and residents of both communities present for the funeral service, Father Wyskiel reminded his audience that "We start our celebration of death as a completion of what began in Christian Baptism."

"Baptism," he said, "begins initiation into the Lord; death and resurrection begin a new life."

"Although we mourn here on earth—mainly because we see potential, a flower not brought to bloom—we mourn for ourselves and the love taken from us."

Father Wyskiel's referred indirectly to the slaying with the words, "Basically, we have this hope—that even through men's human events, men cannot interrupt the plan of God."

Burial followed the service at Glen Eden Cemetery.

"Let us now regain our Christian composure and allow our sorrow to heal with the strength that comes to these who love God and trust in His mercy," said the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, at the afternoon memorial service.

He noted that the memorial was done in "the affectionate and loving remembrance of Jack and Kathy.

"Theirs was a time for youth and the fullness of life, the happiness of home and the convivial relationship of friends," he continued. "Family joy and home duties were accepted along with the work and job of school and learning and growing to a place of usefulness in the world."

Noting that two teenagers had sat in the Presbyterian Church balcony "for worship and prayer together" the Sunday before their disappearance, Mr. Brasure asked mourners to "let the sunshine in your life for this is a day for rejoicing in the knowledge that God loved Jack and Kathy and now cares for them beyond the bounds of our limited sight."

Visitation and cremation of John Keyes took place several weeks ago through the Casterline Funeral Home. Private committal service followed.

Kathy's parents live in Novi at 23941 West LeBost Drive; John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Keyes, live in Northville at 142 Randolph

YOUNG PALLBEARERS CARRY CASKET INTO OUR LADY OF VICTORY CHURCH

NEWS BRIEFS

LOCAL MERCHANTS are doing their best to observe Michigan Week's "Hospitality Day" Friday with shoppers' specials. The day-long bargains (see pages 8 and 9-A) are being offered by a majority of the members of the Retail Merchants division of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce. Merchant President Del Black said local retailers hope to sponsor a series of regular promotions, perhaps on a monthly basis, designed to attract more shoppers to the Northville business district. Next promotion: a grand opening observance for the nearly-complete offstreet parking deck.

A MANDATORY YEAR-ROUND school plan for the State of Michigan has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative Jackie Vaughn III of Detroit. Known as House Bill 5011, Vaughn proposes the 45-15 plan be implemented in the state's schools. The plan calls for students to be in school for 45 days followed by 15 days of vacation with the schedule repeated four times each year. Currently the bill is being studied by the education committee.

THREE ACCIDENTS greeted the installation of a stop light at Northville Road and Six Mile in Northville Township this past week. "One driver told us he was looking up at the light when his car rolled into the vehicle in front of him," Township Chief Ron Nisun said. "And that happened just a few hours after the light went up." No injuries were reported in any of the mishaps.

Police Pact Signing Near

With six weeks remaining before the contract between the City of Northville and its police department expires, spokesmen for both sides said Tuesday they are confident a settlement will be reached soon.

"In a couple of weeks the contract should be settled," Frank Ollendorff, city manager, said. "There is no major disagreement on any of the issues."

Patrolman Howard Reeves, president of the Northville Police Officers Association (NPOA), commented that "negotiations are going smoothly. There is a good relationship and cooperation between both sides."

Among the contract items on which tentative agreement has been reached is the salary schedule for patrolmen with a starting salary of $9,000 to a top of $12,000 after three years.

Longevity pay of $40 per year goes into effect after the fifth year.

Currently, the starting salary is $8,658 to a top of $10,478 after three years.

Agreement has also been

Open Lunch Views Vary

Northville's new open lunch policy began Monday with the youngest students — sixth graders at the junior high annex — taking most advantage of the program.

Two thirds of Northville High School's student body remained at school to eat in the cafeteria Monday — the first day the Open Lunch policy was in effect — estimated Assistant Principal David Longridge.

"It looks as though there's a good possibility that most will be staying at school," he said, adding that no complaints had been registered with the school.

Northville Police Department did not receive any complaints either when a first-day check was made.

The picture changed, however, at the Cooke Junior High where Principal Ronald Horwath reported the cafeteria served only half the usual number of lunches Monday and Tuesday. Noting that it was not the same youngsters running into town both days, he predicted "the novelty will wear off."

There was a rather complete exodus, however, at the Junior High Annex, located closest to town on West Main Street.

"I went to the lunch room right after the beginning of the lunch period, and there was nobody there," commented Principal Richard Norton. There also was a problem with afternoon tardiness with 43 reporting back late. Norton stated that with a 42-minute lunch period there just doesn't seem to be time for the sixth graders to go home for lunch.

Budget OK'd But Cut Seen

A record-high city budget drew council approval Tuesday night but it conceivably could be reduced next week to wipe out a projected 3 millage increase.

In approving the budget by a 4-1 vote Councilman Paul Folino cast the dissenting vote, the council called for a special meeting next Monday to hear a committee study report on the police department in hopes that the budgeted outlay for this category can be pared by $9,000 to $15,000 and thus make unnecessary a millage increase of from 10.3 to 10.6.

Technically, by approving the budget, which includes a $770,850 general fund expenditure, the council fixed the budget at 10.6 mills. Budget approval at Tuesday's public hearing was required by city charter.

However, councilmen are confident that a possible millage reduction next week is not likely to draw citizen protest. Even if the millage rate is rolled back to 10.3, taxpayers will still face a tax increase because of the higher equalization factor applied by the county this year. That factor increased from 1.32 to 1.402 (Wayne County) and from 1.37 to 1.48 (Oakland County).

The council split vote occurred after Councilman Folino proposed (it was not supported) that sufficient funds be transferred from the public improvement budget to the general fund to maintain the current 10.3 millage rate. Fellow councilmen were sympathetic to Folino's suggestion that the current rate be maintained but they opposed using public improvement funds to do it.

(The general fund is supported by property taxes, while the public improvement fund results from parimutual monies at Northville Downs. The public improvement budget calls for an outlay of $450,000 — none of which is earmarked for the general fund.)

Strongest objection to Folino's proposal came from City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who said "I can appreciate your (Folino) intentions but I must disagree with your method."

Ollendorff said to use parimutual funds would be "like living on overtime."

Noting that "the track may not always be there," the city manager said it would be fiscally unsound for the city to become dependent on monies that may one day not exist.

"It seems to me," said Mayor A. M. Allen, "that it would be better if a reduction in salaries were made instead of (using) public improvement money. There's a limit on how much you can raise salaries." (See police salary negotiations story elsewhere on Page 1).

"Maybe we should hold the line on salaries," Folino replied. "It just seems somewhere along the line the city must give up something to economize."

Taking the position that the budget — already pared down from his original proposal that would have meant in excess of 11 mills is an economizing one without "fat", Ollendorff reminded councilmen that to say that the city can economize by holding down salaries means the employees are doing the economizing.

It was at this point that Councilman Kenneth Rathert reminded fellow members that his committee studying the makeup of the police department has nearly completed its work. In view of the fact that recommendations coming out of that study could lead to a reduction in the police

Luncheon to Honor Students

Youth Day Concludes 'Michigan' Activities

Northville in full spring bloom greeted dignitaries from Sparta on Mayor's Exchange Day Monday, a highlight of annual Michigan Week festivities. An innovation this year, a Youth Day program for representatives of all schools to be held Saturday at the scout-recreation building, will conclude the celebration.

After welcoming ceremonies at the city hall and a Rotary luncheon at Northville First Presbyterian Church, Sparta Village Mayor and Mrs. Roy Titus, with three Sparta councilmen and Police Chief Robert Apel and their wives were taken on a tour of the area by their Northville hosts.

In Monday's sunshine, Mrs. Donald Ware, Michigan Week chairman, commented, "Northville was a picture you wouldn't believe."

The group visited the all-purple gardens at the H. B. Putnam home on Seven Mile Road, Schoolcraft college, Northville schools and the Northville Downs before touring the Edenderry-Shadbrook subdivisions where Mrs. Jack Scanlin, representing the Northville Historical Society, served punch in her garden.

The expanded racetrack facilities were shown the guests by John Carlo.

Monday morning women guests and their hostesses visited Mrs. John Burkman for a tour of her authentic Victorian home on Base Line

While having coffee served by the Northville Jayettes after being welcomed at city hall, the visitors were serenaded by Northville High School band.

Seven candidates are vying for three seats up in the June 14 school board election.

Candidates filing petitions by the deadline Monday for two four-year terms were Andrew G. Orphan, incumbent, 701 Spring Drive; Richard Martin, incumbent, 20173 Whipple; Angelo A. Chinni, 300 Sherrie Lane; and Mrs. Sylvia O. Gucken, 307 Sherrie Lane.

Both Orphan and Martin are seeking their second four-year terms, having been elected to the board in 1967. The terms run from July 1, 1971, through June 30, 1975.

Three men have filed petitions for the remaining of a four-year one-year term which expires June 30, 1972. They are Martin Rinehart, incumbent, 552 Reed, David D. LaFond, 46040 Neeson; and Duane LaMoreaux, 292 North Ely Drive.

Rinehart was appointed in April to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Eugene Cook. Election of candidates will be the only question on the June 14 ballot. Last week members of the board of education voted not to include a millage request on the ballot, delaying a decision on whether or not to ask for additional millage until July.

Joining the officials for the Rotary luncheon was Sparta High School Principal LaGene Quay, former assistant principal here, who visited the high school with two seniors from Sparta. Sparta High School, with a student body of 800, is a little smaller than Northville's, which has 1,400 according to Principal F. Holdsworth, who visits Sparta in the exchange. Sam Hornor and Steve Elkins, Northville juniors, accompanied him.

Acting Mayor Paul Folino, Councilman Charles Lapham, Police Chief Samuel Elkins, City Manager Frank Ollendorff and their wives served as official hosts. Tables at the Rotary luncheon were decorated with red rose arrangements by Lila's Flowers.

Sparta Mayor Titus, Councilman Henry Beverwyk, William Bloom and Howard Emmons were wearing string ties to mark that community's 125th anniversary, which will be celebrated in August.

Before leaving Monday afternoon, the visitors were presented with samples of a new Northville product, mint-flavored fudge sauce from Northville Laboratories.

For their community, they were given a flowering crab tree to plant. Mrs. Ware announced that the sale of flowering crab trees downtown Saturday yielded a profit of $25, which is being given to the city for Joe

FLAG RAISING—A flag raising tradition Monday saluted Michigan Week guests from Sparta. Taking part in the ceremony were policemen, representatives of Explorer Post 905, Boy Scout Troop 721, Cub Scout Troop 721, Girl Scout Troop 222, Cadette Troop 371, Junior Troop 361, and Brownie Troop 236, and the high school band.

Novi Man Takes Bride in Ohio

In a ceremony in Wadsworth, Ohio, Jack B. Anglin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anglin, Sr., of Novi, claimed Doreen Ellen Daniels as his bride April 24. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry W. Daniels of Wadsworth.

The Reverend Robert C. Johnson officiated at the 1 p.m. service in First Christian Church. Dale Guiley was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire-waisted gown of organza over acetate taffeta. The high neckline and bodice were trimmed with Venice lace. A small comb decorated with pearls and crystals held her bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of multi-colored roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Mrs. Richard White wore a pink gown as matron of honor. Miss Pat Krueger of St. Clair Shores, in lilac, and Miss Darlette Lenskey of Detroit, in mint green, were bridesmaids. The bridegroom's attendants for the double-ring service were Douglas Anglin, Jim Needham, Jere and Mark Daniels.

A reception followed for 120 guests in fellowship hall of Trinity United Church of Christ. The bride's mother wore an apricot-hued dress with long chiffon sleeves for the occasion. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue suit.

Afterward the bride changed to a red, white and navy dress. She is a graduate of Deaconess Hospital School of Nursing and is employed at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Her husband attended Schoolcraft College and is employed with the Jack Anglin Construction Company.

The newlyweds are making their home in Plymouth. They plan a delayed honeymoon for the winter of 1972.

'Singles' Invited to Launch Club

By JEAN DAY

A NEW club is making its debut on the Northville scene — the Northville Singles. It's being organized for the "over 30" group with the first meeting scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Friday, June 11, in the scout-recreation building.

One of the organizers, Mrs. Lois E. Turner, explains that the group hopes to "fill a void" in this area. Future activities and meeting times will be determined by those attending the first session. Tentatively, the club will meet either every Friday or every other week.

"Some of us had attended Parents Without Partners meetings in other areas," Mrs. Turner explained, "but had not found them exactly what we wanted." They then contacted Northville Recreation Director Robert Prom and are forming under the Northville Recreation Program.

Donation at the meeting will be $1. Single men or women over 30 may obtain more information from Mrs. Turner, 349-9969; Mrs. Vivian McKeever, 349-5059; or from Mrs. Dorothy Sheffield, 624-4262, in Walled Lake.

GRADUATION Night Party — the traditional "gift" of Northville parents to their graduating seniors — is scheduled to follow the ceremonies June 15. Mothers working on the project are becoming concerned, however, as donations from the seniors' parents have been slow in being sent.

(Parents of graduates all are asked to help with the donation of $5 or more.)

With entertainment costs soaring for the all-night event (10:30 p.m. until 4 a.m.) the committee needs to be able to count on funds. The group is tightening costs on decorations and other details to provide top entertainment — Steve Hunter, a disc jockey, and the Cold Sweats band.

Checks should be sent to Mrs. Harold Wright, 19850 Westhill. She may be reached at 349-1276; or Mrs. Bernard Bach, 349-2306, may be contacted for more information. This is the party for ALL seniors following commencement.

MISS Florence Panattoni, director of instruction in the Northville School System, left Tuesday for England on what might be called a "busman's holiday." She explains that she is taking her vacation now to join a group from Oakland University which will visit the Infant Schools of England.

Pointing out that these schools seem to be having "extreme success" with their learning program, Miss Panattoni was most enthusiastic about the project, making it plain that while this is "vacation" her personal and professional interests are intertwined.

In a group of eight, she will visit schools in Leicestershire, Bristol and Harrogate. She returns May 31.

FARMINGTON Musicale, an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs, boasts three Northville members, including Composer Charlene Slabey. Because it would like to have more Northville women as members, it is inviting area women with an interest in fine music to attend an annual membership tea.

Tea will be from 1 to 3 p.m., June 2, in the Farmington Community Center. The program will be presented by Mary Dulmage, soprano, and Betty Monahan, violinist.

Program chairman for the tea is Mrs. Paul Notestine, outgoing club president. Hostesses are members of the 1970-71 executive board: Mrs. Archie Mallette, tea chairman, Mrs. Donald McDaniel, Mrs. Notestine, Mrs. James Skillman and Mrs. Richard Truitt. Interested women may call Mrs. McDaniel, 851-1933, for tea reservations.

The musicale, the only group of its kind in the Northville area, also is making plans for a guest luncheon for scholarship winners of 1971 at noon May 26 at Raleigh House. The students will perform.

Program chairman for the day will be Mrs. Albert Pfluecke.

Mrs. Don McEachin and Mrs. Jerry Weiss are luncheon chairmen. Mrs. Skillman will be installed as president; Mrs. McDaniel, vice-president; Mrs. James Roberts, recording secretary; Mrs. George Kaston, corresponding; Mrs. Donald Wilson, treasurer.

WEIGHT Watcher Ruth Krammer, who leads both a Thursday evening and a Friday morning group at Northville Presbyterian Church, called in to report that the new group has lost more than 1,300 pounds, working toward the ton mark.

Steering Group Sets Drug Program Goals

A two-prong program with primary emphasis upon prevention of use of drugs by young people was set as the goal of Northville's new Community Drug Action Committee at the first steering group meeting last Tuesday night.

Mrs. Robert Lang was named chairman. The new group met earlier this month as a composite representative of schools, students and the community to deal with the problem of drug abuse locally.

From the group of about 40, a steering committee was named to formulate a program to be presented to the Drug Action Committee June 7. At this meeting the film, "How Can We Help?", is to be shown. It depicts a community that has worked on drug prevention through schools.

The prevention program, which the steering committee indicated it feels will work best to combat abuse, could take two directions, Miss Florence Panattoni, Northville schools director of instruction, reported.

A program of education about drugs will be developed in the school district, which, she emphasized, also will be concerned with human relations—stressing personal values and a good concept of self for young people.

The second part of the prevention program will be an "action area."

"We realize we have at the secondary school level much in the area of performing arts," Miss Panattoni explained, "but not a lot in the non-performing areas which would involve other youngsters."

For this program the group discussed summer activities, including a "Jobs for Kids" program, possibly a street dance and a small summer theatre program.

David Graff, high school government teacher who participated in the DARTE (Drug Abuse Reduction Through Education) workshop sponsored by Wayne County Intermediate School District, has agreed to survey students to see who wish jobs this summer and what their interest areas are. Community groups will be asked to seek jobs.

These could go beyond cleaning and lawn care to include help with French lessons or such sports as tennis, the steering committee felt.

The Community Drug Action Committee's other aim will be to work in the area of help for the drug user. The steering group is naming two representatives to meet with representatives from the Plymouth program to discuss possible cooperation in this phase of the problem.

As part of the drug education program, the DARTE group of five high school teachers and staff and students has agreed to meet with interested small groups throughout the community to share its findings.

Alpha Nu Names Teacher to Post

Miss Ada Fritz, a teacher at Main Street elementary school in Northville, was elected state recording secretary for 1971-73 at the 33rd annual Alpha Nu State Convention last week-end at Ramada Inn in Benton Harbor.

Other members of Northville's Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma attending were Miss Ione Palmer, president, and Miss Florence Keith, immediate past president.

The convention was attended by 350 Michigan elementary, junior high, high school, college and university women teachers.

Miss Fritz holds a life membership in the Michigan Education Association and in the National Education Association. She has a BS degree from Eastern Michigan University and an MA degree from the University of Iowa.

She is credited with attending more Delta Kappa Gamma conventions and workshops than any other lay member, traveling from San Francisco to Cleveland and, last summer, to Portland, Oregon.

Dr. Mary Frances White,

international president of Delta Kappa Gamma, was featured speaker at the presidents' banquet. A distinguished member of the teaching profession, Dr. White currently is associate professor of English at the University of Kansas and has received many honors in education, Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary and professional organizations, church and social groups.

At the banquet Miss Palmer participated in the President's Rose March.

Sunday a memorial service was held for 31 members who have died during the past year. Miss Palmer placed two white roses in the vase of red ones in memory of Mrs. Orpha Moshimer and Mrs. Thad Knapp, who was an honorary member of Delta Kappa Gamma. Alpha Nu Chapter is giving a grant-in-aid to Elaine Rybka in honor of these two women.

Mrs. Philip Keeling, Alpha Nu state president, presided at all executive board sessions. A teacher in Jackson, she is the sister of Mrs. Mabel Cooley of Northville. Her theme was "I have Climbed Mountains Since I Last Saw You."

TELEPHONE BOOK PLANNERS — Preparations for a telephone book for the Northville area only are checked by Mrs. B. William Secord, outgoing president of Northville Mothers' Club, right, and Mrs. Harold Wright, who will be installed as president Monday. Mrs. Wright is chairman of the telephone book project. As a result of many requests, the club is preparing a new directory. It published one for the first time three years ago.

Bouret Named Cavern Advisor

Donald Bouret has assumed the advisor post for the Cavern, Northville's teen club, which has been vacant since the first of the year, the club's corporate board announced this week.

Under the new leadership, the board said, it is planned that there will be more and varied activities. Presently, there are Friday night coffee houses and several dances throughout the year. By September, the board hopes to hold these monthly.

Bouret, a Northville resident for three years, is married and the father of two teenagers, a son, 16, and a daughter, almost 19. The family lives on Napier road. Bouret is in charge of the tree department at Green Ridge Nursery.

The family moved here from Plymouth where Bouret had been active in the Indian Guide program. Originally the family came to Michigan from Massachusetts where Bouret served as a scoutmaster.

In assuming the advisor post, which temporarily had been filled by several parents, Bouret said he felt he could fill a need in the community and that he had not otherwise become active in the area.

In making the announcement, the board stated it felt "fortunate to be able to obtain the services of a concerned individual so interested in teens."

The Reverend Timothy Johnson and Brian Ehrle were previous advisors.

Mothers' Club To Install

Mrs. Harold Wright will be installed as president of Northville Mothers' Club at the final meeting of the year, a picnic May 24 at the home of Mrs. Bernard Bach, 20336 Woodhill.

She succeeds Mrs. B. William Secord. Other officers elected for the coming year at a business session May 10 are Mrs. Alvin Wistert, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Bogart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Glen Deibert, recording secretary; and Mrs. Samuel McSeveny, treasurer. Mrs. H. O. Evans was nominating committee chairman.

In charge of picnic arrangements are Mrs. Wistert, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Kaln Johnson and Mrs. E. O. Weber.

Fete Staff

In observance of Michigan Week, members of the Moraine Elementary PTA board will honor teachers of the school at a luncheon today, Thursday.

Following the luncheon, students in grades three, four and five will present a music program at 1:30 p.m. for all PTA members. A short business meeting and election of officers is also planned. Refreshments will be served.

Announce Births

Michael Norman Mathes, born Monday at St. Mary Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Kent P. Mathes, 835 West Main Street, shares a mutual birthday with his grandfather, Norman MacLeod, a Kings Mill resident. The little namesake weighed six pounds, one ounce at birth.

The Mathes family marked Mr. MacLeod's 82 birthday Sunday at their home. Then the baby arrived on his birth date to complete the celebration.

He joins a sister, Michelle, 7, and brother, Kent Robert, 4, at home. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvar Lindblad of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sherck of Wooster, Ohio.

A son, Brett Norman, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart C. Oldford of Plymouth April 28. His birth weight was eight pounds, two today. Mrs. Dulas will speak on her collection of old fruit jars.

Members of the antiques chapter attended a state Heritage Day program Tuesday at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Creative arts presentations, including music, art work, and dramatic readings, provided the central theme for the innovative Spring Honors Assembly at Hillsdale College May 11.

Among those honored, was Stanley Nirider of Northville, who was presented a 'certificate of merit-Epsilon Delta Alpha scholastics honorary.

A former Northville youngster, now a senior at Western Michigan University presented a research paper earlier this month before a national meeting of the American Society for Microbiology.

Steven C. Quay, son of ex-Northville residents Mr. and Mrs. LaGene Quay, appeared before the society's delegates at sessions held in Minneapolis. Student presentations at conventions are considered rare.

Quay was assisted in his research project by two professors from the biology department of WMU.

An undergraduate major in biology, Quay will enter the University of Michigan medical school this fall.

The Quays now reside in Sparta where Mr. Quay is the high school principal.

The baby joins a brother, Stewart, 6, and a sister, Amy, 4, at home. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burkman of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Oldford of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cooper, 18683 Jamestown Circle, announce the arrival of a new grandson, David Jay, born April 24 to their daughter and her husband, the David Williams of Mt. Prospect, Illinois, a Chicago suburb.

The baby whose weight was eight pounds, has two sisters, Sheri, 7, and Debra, 16 months. He also is blessed with ten grandparents. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, they include Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams of Detroit, and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merrell of Pompano Beach, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Cooper of Idabel, Oklahoma, and Stanley Payne of Redford. He also has a great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Pratt of Pompano Beach, who is 97 years old.

REFLECTIONS — An evening of dinner, dancing and entertainment at the Raleigh House in Southfield filled Thursday for Northville High Seniors. Theme for the Senior Prom was "Reflections," based on the song by the Supremes. Decorations for the evening were highlighted by a gazebo built by students and posters keyed to the 1890 to 1920 era. Music for dancing was provided by the Johnny Wallace Five and included a female vocalist. The prom, the last major social event before graduation ceremonies, was well-attended by seniors who took one last chance to reflect on their high school years.

'Inner - Lib' Talk Set

"Inner-Liberation" is seen as the solution for women's discontentment by Mrs. Jill Renich, founder of Winning Women, Incorporated, who will speak at the May meeting of Christian Women at noon next Thursday, May 27, at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

The Winning Women organization evolved accidentally from inspiration given Mrs. Renich as she realized the needs of women while living in Australia. She reports seeing the discontentment among so many women with their lot — married women dissatisfied with marriage and single women dissatisfied with their freedom.

Kathy Radtke's Body Found

New Evidence Aids Search for Killer

As police continued their investigation following the recovery Thursday of Kathy Radtke's body in a northern Oakland County lake, they remained optimistic this week that the killer soon may be identified and arrested.

Law enforcement agencies involved in the case, according to Novi Detective Jack Grubb, have "a number of prime suspects who are being investigated."

Grubb declined to comment further but said Wednesday morning that no arrests are immediately contemplated.

Not since the disappearance of the 17-year-old Novi High School student and the discovery of her murdered boyfriend, John Keyes, 19, of Northville, on January 31 in Northville Township, have police had as much evidence to aid them in the search for the killer.

Both victims, according to police, were killed by the same .22-caliber rifle which, among other evidence, was removed from Crotched Lake where two boys found Kathy's body floating in shallow water.

However, the rifle contained no fingerprints, according to State Police criminal lab technicians in Plymouth who say ballistics positively identify the rifle as the murder weapon.

Police believe her body had been in the lake for several months—probably since within a day or two of her death which they believe occurred at the time of her boyfriend's death or shortly thereafter.

The body was discovered by two brothers, Michael 16, and Donald, 8, who, with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hayden of Livonia, had been fishing and boating on the lake, located about seven miles south of the Genesee-Oakland county boundary—some 30 miles north of the Northville- Novi area.

It was floating in shallow, weeded water near the north shore of the lake. A cord was tied to the victim's neck. She had been shot once in the chest area—a wound that police believe was fatal. There is a possibility, however, that she may have been strangled. Either way they believe she was dead when the body was wrapped in a plastic shower curtain and dumped into the lake, which at the time was covered with a thick layer of ice and drifts of snow up to eight feet deep.

In addition to the rifle, divers recovered a rifle case, the girl's clothing, her boyfriend's jacket and identification, a pickaxe, a concrete block, two plastic bags, and two shower curtains in some 40 feet of water about 150 yards from where the body was discovered. There were no bullet holes in the clothing.

Police theorize that the killer chopped a hole in the ice with the pickaxe, tied the cord to the block and the body and dumped them into the lake. The rifle and the other articles, they believe, were placed in the bags, then SHALLOW WATER — Kathy Radtke, missing for three and one-half months, was found Thursday evening in these shallow weed choked waters. Her body, police say, had been in the water between three and four months.

'Mediator' Request Angers Novi Council

A Novi Police Officers Association (NPOA) request for a mediator's presence at the current city-NPOA contract negotiations, rankled councilmen Tuesday night.

In a NPOA letter originally sent to Hyman Parker of the State Employment Relations Committee, Police requested the assignment of a state mediator due to a situation in which NPOA officials claimed they could not bargain effectively with the city.

The "situation," according to another letter received by the council Tuesday from the NPOA, resulted from a comment of City Manager-George Athas, prior to his leaving on vacation last week.

Athas reportedly told councilmen during a discussion on the status of contract talks that "nothing would be done" until he returned.

By so saying, the NPOA charged, Athas indicated that the other two city negotiators, Councilman Denis Berry and Farmington Township Supervisor Earl Teeple, "lack the authority to bargain and therefore constitute an unfair labor practice."

Mayor Joseph Crupi, who says he could not remember Athas' remarks, took the position that Athas merely meant that consummation of contract talks was unlikely in the city manager's absence.

In another second letter, Association President and chief negotiator Ralph Fluhart, demanded a complete explanation of the remark.

Councilman Berry was explicit: "I have as much power on that body as Athas does because of my position as councilman—perhaps I have more."

"If anybody thinks that I don't have authority on that board they'd better refresh their memory a little bit."

Berry said that Association attorney Harvey Wax had expressed satisfaction with the productivity of contract meetings to date and that he had been invited to phone

Neither had received a phone call, Berry said. In related business Tuesday night, Councilmen were informed in a letter from Frank Barabas, secretary of the NPOA, that Herbert Farah would hereafter attend their meetings as "council watcher."

Crupi responded angrily, saying that he hoped Farah, a local citizen and volunteer fireman, would have "as much fun as bird watchers would have watching night owls."

"I am answerable only to the general electorate," Crupi said, "and not to council watchers."

Farah explained that his only purpose was to bring back information to both the police and firemen's associations and to answer their questions as to council proceedings.

either Berry or Teeple at home during Athas' absence should any problems arise or any question need clarification.

Farah explained that his only purpose was to bring back information to both the police and firemen's associations and to answer their questions as to council proceedings.

"They want to be better informed about things that concern them," Farah said.

He went on to explain that he preferred the term observer to watcher and that the original intention of his presence was to benefit the community.

The council also passed a resolution objecting to a bill currently before state legislators which would remove permanently, according to Councilman Donald Young, the expiration date on House Bill 312 which provides for compulsory arbitration in police and fire contract talks.

According to Young, Bill 312 is due to expire June 30, 1972.

In still further business Monday, councilmen fielded questions from a visiting troop of Novi Girl Scouts and passed back to Kaufman and Broad for revision a set of contract covenants outlining a restrictive body which would regulate the style, workmanship and materials used in building improvements made in Village Oaks subdivision and including a fee schedule for use of the development's parks, lakes, and clubhouse by area residents.

Six Petitions Filed for Board

Six candidates will seek three seats in Novi's school election as two four-year terms and one one-year term along with a request for five additional operating mills will be on the June 14 ballot.

Candidates seeking the four-year terms, which run from July 1, 1971, through June 30, 1975, are Gilbert Henderson, incumbent, 44080 Marlson; Claude Earl, incumbent, 40670 Ten Mile Road; John Summerlee, 22639 Heatherbrae Way; and William Zeigler, 24275 Hampton Hill.

Seeking the one-year term are Jacob Durling, incumbent, 24040 Woodham; and Sharon L. Pelchat, 41910 Aspen Drive. Durling was appointed to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Russell Taylor. The term expires June 30, 1972.

Also on the ballot in June will be the 5-mill increase defeated by voters in April. The board decided unanimously last week to put the question to the voters, while also making a commitment not to levy any part of the millage (if approved) should it later appear that not all of it will be necessary to operate an effective school program.

MAYORS EXCHANGE — Monday's Michigan Week celebration was highlighted by visits to Novi by Grand Ledge Mayor Alvin A. Kempf and his City Administrator Eugene Briggs; and to Wixom by Omer Mayor Miss M. Baldora Moat and her fire chief Roy Knoodle. The courtesy was returned by Mayor Joseph Crupi and Councilman Denis Berry of Novi and Mayor Gilbert Willis and Councilman Howard Coe of Wixom. The key to the city was presented to Novi's guest by Councilmen Donald Young and Edwin Presnell (From left below) as activities director Mrs. Leslie Harding looked on. A little later in the day, a morning flag raising was the occasion for the presentation of a plaque to Wixom guests (above) in honor of the day and "the brotherhood of cities."

Send Letter on Hartman

Novi Teachers Protest Firing

A letter protesting the manner in which High School Principal Gerald Hartman was fired last week has been sent to Superintendent Thomas Dale with a copy to Board President Bruce Simmons by Novi teachers. The letter was signed by 36 members of the Novi junior-senior high school. (See related comment in the Top of The Deck column, page 10-A).

At its meeting last week, Monday, the board indirectly removed Hartman by (not including) him among administrators extended contracts for the 1971-72 school year. No vote on his removal nor public comment was made by the board.

In extending the contracts, the board, through Vice-President LaVerne DeWaard, asked that specific positions not be included in the contracts—presumably because a change in assignments is forthcoming to fill Hartman's position.

Following the meeting, this newspaper asked DeWaard if exclusion of Hartman meant he is to be fired. DeWaard said the board action did not represent a dismissal since Hartman, under the tenure law, will have the opportunity, if he chooses, to return next fall as a teacher.

Asked for reasoning behind the board's action, DeWaard said only that it was because of "disciplinary problems" in the high school.

The board action came as a surprise to teachers and students, who the following day expressed "shock" and "concern."

Hartman, principal since 1965, was surprised but non-committal since he was not formally notified of board action until later in the week. He said the matter had not been discussed with him but either the board or the administration.

The letter by the teachers reads:

"The staff of the Novi Junior-Senior High School wishes to express its concern over the apparent callousness with which the administration and board of education have terminated the administrative responsibilities of Mr. Gerald Hartman."

"We feel that the manner in which this has been done lacks the dignity and consideration due a human being. We believe that if an employee is to be reassigned to a lower position, the facts should be clearly and definitely stated to him privately, sufficiently in advance of public action, so that he might voluntarily step down.

"We also believe that, at the time such action is taken, public recognition should be made of all that such a person has done for the school system, rather than focusing attention on alleged shortcomings."

"By a copy of this letter, we are expressing our appreciation to Mr. Hartman for all that he has done during the past six years in helping develop The Novi Community School System."

Prom Set Saturday

Saturday is Prom night for Novi high school seniors who will attend the third edition of the annual dance at the invitation of the Junior class.

"A Night in Camelot" is the theme and the high school commons will provide the setting complete with a moat, drawbridge, courtyard, and winding stairwell leading to King Arthur's pantry.

The Allen Brass Orchestra will provide music as couples dance from 8 p.m. until midnight amid decorations resulting from contributions by Timberlane Lumber and Mather Supply, Novi, Greenridge Nursery, Northville, and Detroit Edison.

Admission is $6 per couple.

'Split Tax' Vote Goes on Ballot

An advisory question concerning a split tax collection will join a millage hike proposal and board candidates' names on the June 14 election, the Novi Board of Education decided last week Monday.

Specifically, the question will ask voters whether they support or reject payment of their school tax bill at two different times instead of at one time as is the present case. If instituted part of the school taxes would be paid in the winter, part in the summer.

Approval of the measure would not necessarily mean the split tax is to become a reality since, in the final analysis, it will require the approval of the Novi City Council because the city, not the school, is the tax collecting agency.

However, because the advisory question is being put to voters with the support of the council, voter approval or rejection, is likely to be viewed as a mandate.

Board members are anxious to have tax collections made at two different times because, under the present setup, tax monies are not available when they are most needed and, because of this, the board has been forced to annually borrow money at interest against anticipated income.

As if to illustrate its ongoing dilemma, the board also at Monday's meeting voted to borrow $450,000 to carry the district through the summer and into the winter when it receives tax monies. The financial pinch results primarily because of delinquent state aid payments to the district (Novi has yet to receive its February state aid payment). Part also results because of recent state aid cutbacks.

Besides deciding the advisory question and the millage proposition (see story elsewhere), voters also will pick three board members—one to fill a one-year term and two to fill four-year terms

'Mame' Opens Four Day Run

"Mame," the musical currently playing at Northville High School, opens its second performance tonight (Thursday) with curtain time set at 8 p.m. The show, which opened Wednesday, runs through Saturday.

Tickets for performances, which begin nightly at 8 may be purchased at the high school. Prices are $2 advance and $2.25 at the door.

Starring Sandy Richmond as Mame Dennis, Jan Zayti as Vera Charles, Debbie Guido as Agnes Gooch and Bubby Eddy as little Patrick Dennis, the show "is positively the biggest undertaking Northville has attempted," according to Robert Chapel, director.

"It will undoubtedly be the closest thing to Broadway that Northville High School can present," he said.

Based on the novel "Auntie Mame" by Patrick Dennis and the play by Laurence and Lee.

"Mame" rushes headlong into the swinging jazz age of the 20's through the depression-filled times of the '30's to tell the story of how an eccentric aunt raises her orphaned nephew.

"Mame" ran for over four years on Broadway, playing to "standing room only" audiences. The musical includes up-beat tunes as well as quiet songs between Mame and Patrick. Receiving many awards the show was voted the best musical on Broadway in 1966 and won the "Tony" award.

Included in the cast are Craig Barnard portraying Patrick Dennis as a young man; Andy Bonomici, Beauregard Burnside; Doug Mowat, Jr.; Reese Lenheiser, Dwight Babcock, John Regenhart, M. Lindsey Woolsey; Doug Boor, Upson; and Theresa Buckmaster, Mrs. Upson.

messenger, John Jerome stage manager, Andy Walter, Gregor and Richard Shank, Junior Babcock.

Members of the chorus include Tim Anderson, Mario Bracin, Billy Hay, Chris Johnson, Eric Johnson, John Jerome, Bill McGuire, Art McHardy, Rick Pickren, Richard Shank, Scott Stevens, Jim Tellam, Andy

Also on the properties and set construction is Diane Stabenau.

Other members of the stage crew are Scott Evans, John Coleman, Jane McCullum, Rick LaRue, Jeff Kappler and Lee Kuschmal.

"The students have all worked extremely hard on the performance of 'Mame,'" Chapel commented. "I have never worked with a finer group of kids and feel they have much to be proud about."

Merchants Aid Auction

Items as "far out" as a three-man parachute jump (entertainment for a fair or party) or as useful as a picnic table are among the $1,600 worth of merchandise and services donated by area merchants for the Channel 56 Auction being held all this week.

Almost as remarkable as the generous assortment of items is the fact that they have been gathered by a five-member team brought together by Mrs. Donald J. Kuzilla of Kings Mill.

After watching last year's auction which raised operating funds for the non-profit television channel, she decided she would help in 1971. She solicited Mrs. Albert C. Phelps, Mrs. David Lee Keller, Mrs. Neil Wasserman and Mrs. Richard Johnson to work with her.

"We really feel good about all the stores that donated in the area," Mrs. Kuzilla commented on behalf of the little crew. She added that the $1,600 total includes some donations from merchants in other areas whom they knew personally.

A second-time donor is Northville Lumber Company which is giving two $25 gift certificates. General Filters of Novi also is a two-time giver with this year's donation a $90 humidifier.

Green Acres Ranch in South Lyon also is giving for the second year and is the donor of a live pony valued at $100 as well as a hayride for 20 people ($50) and five riding lessons ($30).

The parachute drop also is a South Lyon donation from D-

Ring, Incorporated.

Other Northville donations are: Northville Downs, 20 tickets to the clubhouse, a $50 value; Salon Rene, a Cascade wig; Williams' Paris Room, a $40 wig; Good Time Party Store, a lobster for a month for a year ($36); Michael Manning family, three pair of sunglasses (value $35); Freydl's Men's and Women's Store, $25 gift certificate; Little People Shoppe, $25 gift certificate; Hugh Jarvis Gifts, a $25 jewelry case, Northville Pizzeria, 10 chicken dinners.

From the Littlest Gallery two unfinished pieces of statuary will be auctioned. As part of the gift, materials for completion and instructions ($100) will be offered.

Novi donations also include Saratoga Farms gift of dinner for two ($25); Cartop Carrier Products, toboggan ($35) and boat loader ($30); and Novi Rustic Sales, picnic table, $32.

The Northville team also received two Plymouth-area donations: Little Angels Shoppe, $25 gift certificate, and Clothes Tree, $25 gift certificate.

Marilyn Kuzilla mentioned that a volunteer team was active in Plymouth, too, and that city's donations included Schrader's Furniture Stores.

She adds that the "crew" already is making plans to work next year. Now, members are watching the auction for the donations they were responsible for getting -- and hoping area residents will be calling in bids.

Activities Mark Week

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Michigan Week always brings a flurry of activity to Wixom, especially among the younger set. Two very excited little ones, all scrubbed and shined, had the honor of presenting our visiting Mayor with a plaque honoring their day in Wixom.

Deborah Young of Mrs. Moore's afternoon Kindergarten class and David Menzel of her morning class were chosen in the annual event at Wixom school. Tammy Prover and Jeffrey Fawcett were runners-up.

The children drew pictures and then wrote a little story about what they liked in Michigan. They were then voted on by the other elementary classes.

As King and Queen of the City for Michigan Week, they will also ride on the fire truck in the Youth Day Parade which will probably be their biggest thrill.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade class drew posters as their project for Michigan Week. Brian Nissen, Kelly Naragon, Dolly Shaw and Cher-El Fawcett were winners in the fourth grade while Heidi Schimmel, Janine Spencer, Nancy Musynski and Carla Poyner were chosen as fifth grade winners. A dual poster made by Chuck Green and Brian McDermott and one made by Pam Barron won in the sixth grade division. The posters can be seen hanging in the various businesses in Wixom. They also were used as decorations at the Goodfellow Dance.

Let's keep the fingers crossed these past beautiful sunny skies hold out long enough for the big weekend coming up. There has been great response to the pet show and for those of you who lost, mislaid or did not get entry blanks, they will be available at City Hall prior to the judging.

Special thanks go to the following people for helping to make Mr. Whoodini and the rest of the day a success. To Dan Holloway of the Holloway Companies for the hot dogs and cokes and to the Patrons of Youth Day: The Howard Coes, Gunnar Mettala, Merritt Marshall, the Lew Coys, Birch Park Improvement Association the Joe Callahans, the Vern Vangiesons, the Vern Spencers, Mayor and Mrs. Willis, the Fred Moreheads, the Dingeldays, the Hickory Hill Civic Association, the Detroit Finnish Summer Camp, Mr. C. M. Smith and Edward Rose & Sons.

The Goodfellow's started off the week with a great dance that was a huge success insuring, in part, baskets for those in need come Christmas. The band was terrific and my feet still hurt!

A few of us were singing "Oh where, oh where has our pony gone" for four days this past week, and to tell the truth, we were getting a little anxious since the pony that was lost was the grand award on Youth Day. It was tethered in the Vangieson's field and managed to break loose. Calls were made to all the surrounding law enforcement agencies. Those calls rounded up other people's strays but not ours. Fortunately, a Milford man driving west on the expressway spotted an outline in the woods near Old Plank road and reported it to the police. Several drives in the area did not turn up anything and the search was nearly called off except for the sharp eyes of Officer Paul Green.

It was decided it would be fruitless to go after the animal on foot so Officer Green offered to become the Wixom Mounted Patrol during his off-hours. He and his son Todd got their horses Friday afternoon and made their way through swamp to reach the long lost pony. It is now firmly enclosed again and our special thanks go to Paul and Todd for saving the day!

Three Wixom students from Walled Lake Western have been named to the Honor Society. To be eligible, the student must maintain a 3.0 average and then is chosen on the basis of character, leadership and service. The following were inducted among 66 other juniors and seniors on Monday night. Our congratulations to Bobette Hardmyer, Gary Lentz and Beverly Warren.

The members of the Planning Commission and their wives enjoyed dinner and the evening out at Andy's this past week. This is a group of hard working, civic minded individuals and deserved a little respite from their arduous tasks.

George and Martha Tourin and Aila and Louie Weeks spent this past weekend in Cadillac at the McGure's. For the past two years, the Loon Lake Men's Bowling League have taken their wives to this lovely spot for a weekend of golf, swimming and eating. Martha said the weather was ideal and it was a lovely thing for the men to do. Husbands, please read!

Because of a deadline last week, the winners of the Centennial raffle were missed. Olga Tuck drew the names for the May 10 drawing and the winners were $50 to James D. Morningstar, $35 to Sandy Giocandini and Jim Beeny was $15. That's the second time Jim has won in the drawing. The first time it was $50 - now he says he's trying for second prize. And here I am, still trying for the first one!

Montessori Program Is Organized Here

Northville residents interested in starting a Montessori school in Northville met last week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wilis B. Hunting.

Topics discussed at the meeting included the formation of the Northville Montessori Society and the organization of the six week summer program for introducing pre-school youngsters ages 2½ to 4½ to the Montessori methods.

The working committees were organized, including Mrs. Timothy Johnson, chairman of the site and property committee and the faculty-academic committee; Mrs. Edward Hancock, chairman of the membership committee; and Mr. Douglas Lucas, chairman of the publicity committee. Also, Mrs. Edward Hancock accepted the office of vice-president and Mrs. Douglas Lucas became secretary and Mrs. Raymond Casterline became treasurer.

During the meeting not only was the goal of setting up a summer program outlined but the objective of establishing a Montessori pre-school program for the 1971-1972 school year was also discussed. Information concerning the program and enrollment procedures may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Lucas at 349-0329 or Dr. Hunting at 349-4316.

Finally, it was further noted that those who might be interested in learning more about the Montessori method of education could observe actual classroom activities by making arrangements with Dr. Hunting in advance to visit the Grosse Pointe Academy Montessori School during the week of May 17 to May 21.

At last Sunday's first parent orientation lecture, guest speaker Robert Charette, director of the Windsor Ontario Montessori School, drew an enthusiastic audience as he discussed the subject, "What Montessori Education Can Do For Your Child."

Parents of pre-school age children attended from Northville, Novi, Farmington, Redford and Warren.

Next Sunday's program, to be held at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville beginning at 3 p.m., will be conducted by Sister Mary and Sister Marlene, co-directresses of the Montessori Peter Pan Nursery of Detroit.

Thirty representatives from Northville and the Sparta communities met Monday night for a mid-way dinner in Lansing. Northville Councilmen Walter Nichols, serving as mayor pro tem, and Kenneth Rathert, with their wives, represented Northville in Sparta. Joining the dinner group were Mayor A. Malcolm Allen and Attorney Philip Ogilvie.

Today officially is Education Day of Michigan Week, which has been marked in the schools as children created pictures and posters of their state. Friday is Hospitality Day, theme of the 1971 celebration, with all residents asked to welcome visitors to the state.

Sunday was observed as Spiritual Foundations Day in local churches. At Northville Presbyterian Church, the Reverend Lloyd Brasure pointed out that early settlers in the 26th state included Christian missionaries whose work is preserved in historic schools and churches, many of which were underwritten partially by the U. S. Department of the Interior for education of Indian children.

Youth Day Saturday will have a "first" for Northville as 22 youth representatives are served luncheon at the scout-recreation building. For the first time, too, the band was treated to a snack after its appearance at the city hall welcome Monday. It was served by Northville Mothers' Club.

The club, and many other civic organizations, participated in a "clean-up" last Saturday which saw members picking up roadside litter. Earlier that morning the celebration officially began with the washing of downtown streets by the fire department.

Continued from Page One reached on adding one paid holiday, bringing the number to 10; union shop, with a limit on the amount of dues; and a new category of cadet, with a salary of $110 per week.

 - expanded disability pay.
- Ollendorff said the NPOA's request for two-man cars has been dropped. "The city will not be expanding the police force and there is no need at the present time to add more men."

24 Booths Reserved For Fair

Twenty-four of the 30 booths that Northville Fair Manager Jerry Stone hopes to have operating under the "big top" were reserved at the first meeting held last week for the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce Fair, August 6-8.

The response by local organizations related Stone, who said he was sure that the remaining six booths would be filled shortly. He set a mid-July deadline for reservations, but warned that it was strictly a "first come, first serve" situation.

Most of the tent booths will be games of chance, although three organizations will sell items. Stone said that the games will be under the management of a professional company, but operated by the sponsoring organization. Profits will be split approximately 50-50.

Space for commercial display booths under the clubhouse are still available and reservations may be made by contacting N. C. Schrader at 349-1838.

Non-profit organizations wishing to sponsor booths to raise funds for their group should contact Stone at 349-4843, or by calling Northville Downs, 349-1000.

In addition to the games, Stone said fair entertainment will include 20 rides, a dunk tank and pony rides, the Hell Drivers, Diamond S Rodeo, and a 4-H Club horse show.

Poppy Sale

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 will hold its annual Buddy Poppy sale on Thursday, May 27.

Post Commander William Durham, incoming Commander Jerry Rotta, Poppy Chairman William Widmaier and volunteers from the post and auxiliary have joined to ask the community to support the annual poppy sale.

"Our slogan, 'Honor the dead by helping the living,' is more meaningful today than ever before," Durham said.

The poppies have been sold since 1922 and are made by disabled veterans. Proceeds from the sale are used for relief of the disabled, their dependants and orphans of war. The sale also helps support more than 200 children at the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids.

Poppies will be sold from "sun-up to sun-down" next Thursday, May 27.

The safety program has been presented to elementary students in Novi by the auxiliary for the past several years.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought an $18,000 home in 1963—today it's worth about $24,200. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all its worth and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Detroit Common Council President Mel Ravitz told Northville's Presbyterian Men's Club last week that it would be a "tragic mistake" to sell the 865-acre Maybury site for "just another development of houses".

And he added that Detroit wouldn't consider selling the rolling acreage located just west of Northville between Seven and Eight Mile roads "if it weren't for our desperate financial condition".

The eloquent Ravitz didn't have much to say that hasn't already been reported about the status of Maybury, but he did suggest that local residents could boost the development of the site as a state park by contacting their congressmen and senators.

(For local residents that would be Congressman Marvin Esch in the township and Jack McDonald in the city. The former's local address is 200 E. Huron, Ann Arbor, while McDonald can be contacted at 23622 Farmington Rd., Farmington. U. S. Senators Philip Hart and Robert Griffin receive mail at U. S. Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.)

There's no question that the State Department of Natural Resources is enthusiastic about acquiring Maybury and converting it into Wayne county's first state park. But there is a shortage of money and matching federal funds will be needed. That's where Michigan's U. S. Senators and the congressmen representing this area in Washington can help.

And one of the best sparks to ignite such political action is letters from constituents.

While Ravitz expressed confidence that the state would become the new owner of Maybury and the site would eventually become a "showplace for year-around recreational pursuits", he did not close the door on that possibility that it might yet fall into the hands of private ownership for housing development.

He noted that his resolution restricting the sale to either the state or some other recreational authority did not win council support.

Instead, the Detroit council declined to limit the bidding, but only to acknowledge that money is not the only consideration in selecting the buyer.

Admittedly, the city of Detroit has established Maybury as a $3 million credit on its books, so it isn't likely it will be sold for less. "It's really worth a lot more", Ravitz stated.

Ravitz also put in a strong plug for SEMCOG (Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments). Currently its chairman, Ravitz sees the organization as a "regional United Nations".

"It's not another government and does not levy a tax", he noted. Instead it provides a source for information and accumulation of ideas for governments of all sizes to help one another.

One such project is a study of the growing and acute problem of disposal of solid waste. Ravitz believes that solutions to such community problems will eventually establish the utility of SEMCOG and assure its continued existence.

A warning from John Miller the nurseryman: better water those trees. Even if there's rain this week (as predicted), the extremely dry spring threatens to kill many trees unless proper watering takes place.

Miller recommends slow, prolonged soaking about every four or five days.

John Haller, the man who developed the powdered-metal process and later sold his flourishing industry on Northville road to Federal-Mogul, is visiting the Northville area this week.

Looking tanned and healthy, Haller and his wife are now enjoying life in a new home in Switzerland.

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

If ever a medal is created for honest public officials who belittle the intelligence of their constituents and thereby demean their own good intentions and give credence to rumor, the Novi Board of Education, Superintendent Thomas Dale and his assistant, T. Richard Hendrickson are ideal recipients.

Just in case someone someday awards such a medal I offer the following resolution to be transmitted therewith:

Whereas, the Novi Board of Education, duly elected (or appointed) by the people to represent the people, ascribes to itself the task of discerning what the people should know and should not know; and

Whereas, these officials deem it proper to conduct a growing number of "executive sessions", "study meetings" and "workshops" to discuss those subjects that an "unintelligent" public would not understand or appreciate; and

Whereas, from time to time the board of education meets prior to, during, and after public meetings apparently to hide board debate and deliberation on controversial matters; and

Whereas, the board of education deems it proper AND courteous to interrupt or delay public meetings by "recessing" to secret discussion away from the prying ears of the public it represents; and

Whereas, decisions ARE made in such secret meetings and later "legalized" by public official action,

GOOD...

The value of a university as a unit of "living and learning" is reflected in its prime components: the students. Their commitment to the search for knowledge indicates the value of the university as a living institution, and more important, as a living situation. In everyday living we are learning constantly; by interaction with others our experiences guide us into new realms of thought. We are intellectually challenged to question issues, re-evaluate opinions, and form new ideas.

The learning process through human interaction is severely inhibited by a separation of the sexes in the living and learning community. Sexually segregated living restricts communication between the sexes to a social basis; the date, the party, etc. Consequently in this situation there is a tendency for each sex to categorize the other sex under generalized headings such as "prospective date," "past date," "not interested." Because of the lack of freedom to communicate on an everyday level, each sex does not see the other sex as they commonly are—as people.

In co-educational residence halls, a male and female student can share ideas on a continuing friendly basis without the competition and jealousy that develop from a strictly social relationship. The two students view each other not as "potential steadies" but as people—two individuals with unique ideas receptive to new knowledge. Living in close proximity with the opposite sex cultivates a natural and casual atmosphere conducive to the exchange of knowledge, which constitutes our learning.

The realistic informality of co-educational living provides learning experiences to exercise the student's responsibility and judgment derived from ever-increasing knowledge. The value of a university with this ease and enthusiasm for learning is priceless to the men and women it has educated.

BAD...

There is a time for laughing and a time for crying, and at college the time is for learning. Anyone privileged enough to be able to attend college should not waste time in foolishness that can be acquired after graduation during business hours, coffee breaks, etc.

Art of Study must be learned and practiced. Distraction does nothing for study nor does it help mental processes. It is impossible for any student to assimilate everything in a class room or library as they must concentrate and memorize. Where is there a better place than in one's own room, without exorbitant activities?

Today, the moral issue is nil. Not many years ago smoking was taboo. So what did that habit get them? A bigger spending budget and emphysema. So what will Co-Ed Dorms get them? Nothing!

Co-Ed dorms are an excuse with no rewards, they are as harmless as L.S.D. Sure it is fun "playing" house but the results can be disastrous, in more ways than one.

Let there be separate dorms. Let there be some interesting mysteries left. Stark reality is morbid.

Cleaning City Everyone's Job

To the Editor:
This is in regard to the letter "Dirty Town Disturbs Her".

I received a similar letter and was unable to answer it direct because there was no return address. There is no telephone listed under this name, no water bill listing, no voting record, in fact, I explored other avenues of information to no avail, so I wrote a letter to the Editor quoting the letter I received and also my answer and then, not the exact wording but a similar letter appeared in The Record today, May 13th, so here is my answer in the childlike manner of the writer's letter.

Dear Friend:
Your letter received. I am glad you know about our pretty books. We wish more Northville people would look at them. Yes, we are proud of our awards and books. I am not happy because you are sad.

I did tell the truth. The books prove it with the before and after pictures — of how our City takes care of the fallen leaves in the fall, the snow in the winter, the sidewalks that have been fixed, paving done, new trees planted, old buildings removed, new ones built, ordinances passed, the many things Organizations do, and I could go on and on, but I think what you have seen is only the part of our City where thoughtless people throw papers, popcorn boxes, cigarette butts and even cans in the streets.

What would help is when you see this and don't like it, pick the papers and the boxes up and put them in the trash can. There are several on the streets. You see, keeping a City clean is everybody's job.

The citizens who live and work on these streets could help if they would sweep up the litter and put it in the litter cans.

I am glad you like Northville, I do, too, and I, sure will tell the people to do a better job and I will keep trying too.

Thank you for your letter,
Mrs. Bea Carlson

Questions Survey

To the Editor:

When I gave information to the school census taker I supplied the usual information about children's names and ages. When asked about vacation preferences for year-round school my response was that none of these choices was acceptable. In the work shop I attended, Mr. Spear said I could indicate my opposition to year round school by checking the box which said no scheduled choice was acceptable. He also pointed out that if I checked that box it would be pointless to vote in order of preference the three statements in order of priorities. After talking to others who had been interviewed by the school census taker I became aware that my response was evaluated, coded and regarded on a sheet I was not given the opportunity to examine after it was completed. I still do not know how my response was judged and tabulated. I gather these were coded as 6 and 7, one of which would indicate that I was unco-operative. People seem to have been asked questions differently. Some were even pushed to make a choice of vacation times under threat of being left with the least desirable times.

Can a survey of this sort be considered valid? To whom can it be of value?

'Incumbents Are Deaf To Voters Wishes'

To the Editor:
In last week's paper, the three incumbents for the school board placed an advertisement that claimed they represent the TOTAL community.

Far from representing the community, they have shown complete disregard for the voters' wishes. Look at their record:

1. These board members continued the year-round-school study after the voters advised them they would "not cooperate" with the implementation of Y.R.S.

even if they could show economic or educational advantages."

2. They turned a deaf ear to the parents in the book deposit fiasco. One of the incumbents even implied in an open meeting that they could not trust the people of this community to pay for damages that might occur to the books.

3. The board has held many closed meetings which have deprived the public of hearing both sides of many issues such as book deposits, year round school, purchasing, replacement of resigning board members, etc.

4. One of the incumbents remarked at a public meeting, "Why are you fighting Year Round School so hard? In a few years the State will implement it anyway and you won't have any more to say about it then than You do now." (emphasis is mine)

Voters of Northville! Is that the kind of representation you want?

He Faults Survey

To the Editor:
The Committee Opposed to Year-round School held its weekly meeting Sunday, May 16.

Numerous complaints about the recent survey or "mock scheduling" instrument prepared by the Administration and circulated by the census takers has raised doubts in our minds about the validity of the date which was recorded: both the format of the survey and the interview procedures leave many questions unanswered:

1. Why wasn't the simple, direct question asked viz. "Do you find Year-round School acceptable?"

2. How could a survey purportedly designed to measure acceptability omit such a concise, direct question?

3. Why weren't people allowed to see the survey form?

4. How could people respond to questions when they were never permitted to see the coding system for recording their responses?

5. How could uniform responses to questions be recorded when uniform questions were not asked?

6. Census takers were instructed to advise people who didn't indicate a preference that they would not have a choice of vacation period. Isn't this a form of coercion which produces distorted data instead of unbiased research?

Lauds McDonald

To the Editor:

In spite of heavy pressure from Republican leadership in the nation's capitol, U.S. Congressman Jack McDonald split from his party to vote against any extension of the Selective Service Act and against further funding of the U.S. supersonic transport (SST) project.

As part of his constituency in the 19th congressional district, the New Democratic Coalition of Livonia wants to thank Congressman McDonald for the stands he's taken on these issues.

We are cognizant of the fact that these were difficult decisions to make. Only rarely will an elected public official have the courage to defy the leadership of his own party—putting principle over political expediency.

We commend this type of independent thinking. Jeaneane Havstad, on behalf of the New Democratic Coalition of Livonia

Opposition Gets Vote

To the Editor:

I certainly agree with last week's editorial in the Northville Record when it admonished the present Board of Education for holding secret meetings, handpicking candidates (I assume he was referring to Reinhart), criticizing the Record for publishing the YRS Opposition viewpoint, and for criticizing a candidate for his alleged conflict of interest (where there really is none). What puzzles me is: why, after this obvious contempt for the people of this community, the Record recommends rewarding the offenders by re-electing them? Wouldn't it be better to elect the candidates who want to re-establish true representation on the Northville School Board? For this reason my vote goes to Chinni, Sylvia Gucken and LaMoreaux.

$84.4 Million in Quarter

Realtor Sales Climb 60%

More buyers are buying and sellers selling through a Realtor in western Wayne and Oakland counties than ever before in history.

First quarter sales and listing figures for 1971 released recently by the United Northwestern Realty Association-Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors indicate members sold property worth in excess of $84.4 million during the quarter.

The figure is 60 per cent greater than the first quarter last year, according to Frank L. Crosby, UNRA-WWOBCB Executive Vice-President.

March alone, said Crosby, accounted for $37.9 million of the total. It was 33 per cent greater than the Board's previous record for a single month of $28.5 million set in July of 1970.

The soaring increase was attributed to the recent lifting of artificial restraints experienced by the real estate market during the past two years.

"All along we've been tagging our sales results as good despite the restraints of a less than ideal national economy and the financing conditions in 1969-70."

"Now we're beginning to find out what happens without them."

A first quarter total of 3600 residential units sold through the Board's Multi-List includes a 1608 sales completed in March.

The nearest one-month record in number of sales was recorded in May 1968 when 1259 homes were sold by UNRA-WWOBCB members.

Owners of more than 6400 homes gave exclusive listings to members of the Board during the year's first quarter.

Nearly 2800 of the total were listed in March. Previous monthly record was set in May 1970 when 2177 listings were taken.

The unusually high first quarter statistics experienced by the UNRA-WWOBCB again assures its claim as the country's most successful Realtor Board in terms of the numbers of completed sales and listings.

While not the largest Board in terms of membership, the Board does have approximately 2500 members all of whom subscribe to a strict Code of Ethics.

Each also must complete educational requirements above those necessary simply to attain a real estate license.

REALTOR WEEK—Members of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors will celebrate "Realtor Week" May 23-29. Officers of the area organization, which includes Realtors in Northville and Novi, got together for an official signing of a proclamation by Northville Mayor A. M. Allen. They chose the new entrance sign to the city and adorned it with one of their "Realtor" signs. Pictured are: (front, l. to r.) John Hussey, Vice-President; Daniel R. Williamson, President; Mayor Allen; William Bowman, Secretary; and Jerry Rozema, Treasurer. Back, left to right: Jean Utley; James Cutler; Carl Johnson; Harry Draper; and Stan Johnston.

about with little or no explanation; and

Whereas, not satisfied with conducting public business in secret, the board further muzzles, confuses and stirs suspicion by making frequent public reference to mysterious documents distributed to the board but not to the public by the superintendent and his assistant; and

Whereas, the board of education desperately in need of additional operational revenue casts suspicion on its millage hike plea by discussing financial matters in private with a promise to later divulge (probably a week before the election) those details that presumably led to their decision to place the matter on the ballot; and

Whereas, by one of the most secretive, back-door methods, of dismissing an executive—apparently in hopes it would escape the public's eye or at least soften public criticism, the board and its chief executives without vote or without explanation either to the public or to the man in question, dismissed the high school principal; and

Whereas, the superintendent felt it proper that said principal should learn of his dismissal first from teachers, pupils and the press, before notifying him of the action (or inaction) himself;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Royal Order of Secrecy be awarded these Novi officials who of their own doing have so superbly managed to generate public suspicion and distrust.

Wants 'Fair Play'

Letter to the Editor:

The Record provided a valuable insight last week when it mentioned the tendency of any school board to become "a closed corporation." It is for this reason that candidates Gucken, Chinni, and LaMoreaux should be interviewed and not merely labeled. Since members of the community may have some reason to feel some dissatisfaction with their schools an effort should be made to probe and assess the ideas of these candidates who are expressing some common community concerns, viz. "The Year Around School Concept."

I would like to appeal to The Record's sense of ethics and fair play which they have so often demonstrated in the past and recommend that they:

1. Read a biographical sketch to determine whether these candidate's qualifications are useful to our community on our School Board.

2. Interview these candidates to determine how they stand on the broad issues involving our school district.

3. Compare this information with what is learned or known about the other three candidates.

A process is needed that will provide the community with a dependable source of factual information.

Dumont F. Hixson Jr.

EDITOR'S NOTE—For the past 15 years The Record has compiled and published the information suggested above by Mr. Hixson at every local election. It will do so again for the June 14 school board election.

appropriate for a study? The advice given at the workshop was to indicate an "X" for "None of these," if you were opposed to Year-round School and then to disregard the other information regarding Year-round School. How is it some census takers used a code "7" which indicated INFORMATION REFUSED for such responses?

In all fairness, can we consider this a valid research project? Isn't this a waste of precious taxpayers' funds (whether State or Local) which fails to measure acceptability and distorts the truth about the Northville residents' attitude towards Year-round School?

Wildcats Nip Saline But Drop 3 Games

Novi's varsity nine defeated visiting Saline Thursday, 11-7, only to lose both ends of a double-header at Country Day Saturday—5-0 and 14-4.

Thursday's triumph followed a loss last week Tuesday to Chelsea, 6-2.

An explosive second inning provided the Wildcats with the victory punch over the Hornets as Novi pushed across four runs on three hits.

Pat Ford waited out a walk in the lead off slot of that rally and went to second on a single laid down by Steve Bosak.

A left field error put Ford on third and he galloped home on a ground out by John Pantalone while Bosak stole from second.

Joe LaFleche drove in Bosak with a single, stole second and came around on a single off the bat of Gary Colton.

Tom VanWagner, on base from an error, scored the fourth run, following LaFleche home on Colton's single.

Other runs in that game were scored by Bosak and John Pantalone in the first, Ford in the third, Colton in the fourth and Bosak, LaFleche and VanWagner in the fifth.

The best of 12 Wildcat hits came from Ford and Bob Pisha who blasted doubles in the third and fourth innings. Bosak and VanWagner formed the battery that dealt eight hits, five walks, and four strike outs. The victory was Bosak's second in as many starts.

Last week Tuesday's loss to Chelsea saw the Wildcats save themselves from a shut-out with two runs gathered in the final inning.

Football Mentor Named

Eddy W. McCloud, a 25-year-old veteran teacher with a B.S. degree in social studies from Michigan State University and experience on the 1966 Rose Bowl team from that school, will assist grid mentor Chuck Shonta as line coach when the Mustangs open the 1971 season next fall.

Appointment of the coach was announced this week.

McCloud served the Michigan Spartans as varsity center for three years before he graduated with a major in social studies and a minor in physical education in 1968.

He taught special and physical education in Fairborn, Ohio, a suburb of Dayton, and coached the wrestling team there before signing a contract to come to Northville as a social studies teacher with coaching responsibilities.

He will finish the current semester at Fairborn before starting here in the fall.

His boss, Shonta, is no stranger to football or to Northville but is a newcomer to the head coaching position, having taken over from former coach Al Klukach after last year's losing season.

A veteran of both the Northville school system and the Boston Patriots, Shonta served as an assistant football coach himself two years ago under the current athletic director, Robert Kucher.

Novi Thinclads Split Pat Boyer Qualifies for State

Novi thinclads split their final two meets of the season last week as they rolled to a 68-50 victory Monday over South Lyon then dropped a 62-56 contest Thursday to Pinckney.

The week's showing left track coach Del Munsen with a 3-5 showing for the season.

Saturday, at regional competition held in Flint's Houston Stadium, Pat Boyer won the high jump with a 5'10" stretch that secured him a shot at the state championship Saturday at Central Michigan University.

The Wildcats won nine out of 14 events against South Lyon and captured second in the remaining five last week Monday.

Dave St. John was a double winner in the 220-yard dash (24.75) and the 100-yard dash (11.4).

Other were turned in by Dave Miller in the two-mile run (11:05.5), Jim VanWagner in the 440-yard dash (56.5), Duane Miller in the 880-yard run (2:14.4), Boyer in the high jump at 6'0", and Kirk Rosey in the mile at 4:55.2.

Both relay teams also notched first places as the mileists (Miller, Jim Wilenius, Bob Clift and Jim VanWagner) raced to a 3:46.1 and the 880-relays (Randy Woodward, VanWagner, Wilenius and St. John) were clocked at 1:40.

Gary Collins captured a second in the shot put with a loss of 38' 7 3/4". VanWagner earned second in the long jump at 19' 4" and Boyer finished second in the 120-high hurdles at 18.3. Wilenius grabbed second in the 180-low hurdles at 23.3.

The Wildcats took the top three places in the high jump Thursday against Pinckney as Boyer leaped 5'8", Steve Lukkari 5'6" and Don Cook 5'6".

Lukkari soared to an 11-foot mark in the pole vault against Pinckney while other firsts were turned in by VanWagner in the long jump at 19' 6 3/4"; Duane Miller, in the 880-yard run at 2:12.3, Kirk Rosey, in the mile run at 5:00.7; and Miller, Wilenius, Clift and VanWagner in the mile relay at 3:49.4.

Novi JV Nine Rides Four Game Win Streak

Novi's junior varsity nine stretched a winning streak to four games Monday by upsetting the Eagles, 10-9, at Hartland Monday.

Monday's victory over Hartland saw the Wildcats steal an even dozen bases as they nicked hurlers Tom Larsen and John Benning for four hits and eight walks.

The local pitching staff — Tom Ford, Gene Reske and Dave Brown handed out nine hits and 10 walks to the opposing squad which failed to capitalize on its five-hit advantage.

The local pitching staff — Tom Ford, Gene Reske and Dave Brown handed out nine hits and 10 walks to the opposing squad which failed to capitalize on its five-hit advantage.

The junior Wildcats wound up on top in an earlier squeaker against Country Day as they finished 3-2 in the opening of Saturday's double-header.

That first game saw Kim Smith (3-4) blast a triple in the seventh and score Novi's winning run on a sacrifice from Gene Reske.

Tom Ford worked the mound with help from Dave Brown, and together they gave up five hits.

In the nightcap, the local juniors went wild in their 9-0 destruction of Country Day as Gene Reske worked a one hitter with no walks.

The best of five local hits were produced by Smith and LaFleche, each of whom smashed a triple.

The Wildcats streak had its roots in a Thursday shut-out over Saline.

"It was a well pitched ball game, definitely dominated from the mound" said Weinburger, whose hurler Dave Brown walked one man and gave up two hits for seven innings.

The Wildcats nicked Saline's Ronny Miracle for six hits.

Tennis Squad Falls in Tourney

Northville's young and inexperienced tennis team was treated to an exhibition of tennis by some of finest players in the Wayne-Oakland League Friday.

The youthful Mustangs were participating in the Wayne-Oakland League championships at Bloomfield Hills Andover. And as if their inexperience weren't problem enough, even the luck of the draw seemed to be working against them as they found themselves pitted against some of the finest talent that the league could provide.

The predictable results were that all of the Mustangs were eliminated in the opening round of play.

Simpson took a seven man squad to Andover, a team that consisted of four sophomores and three freshmen. Of the seven no one had ever participated in a major meet before and only John Jerome had seen anything that resembled regular duty throughout the season.

Jerome, Mark Robinson, and Chris Johnson represented the Mustangs in singles competition, while Tom Millington and Ian Dingwall formed the number one doubles team and Bob Wright and Wendell Wegeng were at the second doubles slot.

While all of the Northville netters met quick elimination, Jerome and the Wright-Wegeng doubles pairing fared best. Jerome fell to Bill Jackson, the number one Kettering player, 6-3, 6-4, while Wright and Wegeng also managed to win seven games while losing in straight sets to Clarkston's Foote and Perry, 6-3 and 6-4.

Northville also lost a dual meet in last week's play when it fell to Livonia Churchill five matches to none.

Juniors Grab Third Win

Northville junior thinclads turned in outstanding performances Friday as five of eight first placers notched 3-0 records against Hilbert Junior High to help the Mustangs to their third victory in as many starts, 68-41.

Bob Bloomhuff in the 440 yard run (60.2); Larry Pink in the 330 yard dash (43.5); Doug Crisan in the shot put (43'5 1/2"); and Blair Robinson in the 100 yard dash, (11.3), and the running broad jump, (18'1 1/2") retained flawless records going into tomorrow's meet with Brighton Junior High and next Thursday's clash with Plymouth East.

The 880 relayists were no slouches either Friday as they turned their best time 1:48.3 for top honors.

Bill Lusk ran lead in that race, with Mike Salmelo, Larry Goss and Doug Crisan handling second, third and anchor legs.

Other firsts for the Mustangs were recorded by Pat Aenbacher 7.5 in the 60-yard dash; by Tom Marzonia, 13.3, in the 100-yard low hurdles; and by Art Greenlee, who sped through the 60-yard lows

Northville Golfers Place Fifth in 'B'

John Hlohenic, John Marshall, Brian Mills, and Mark Krause stroked their way to a fifth place finish last Friday as Northville completed with 24 other schools at the Class B regionals held on the Burroughs golf course in Brighton.

"We played very well," said Coach Al Jones of his team's performance. "We could have made the top three and gone on to the state finals, but I was still very pleased with the way they played."

The team championship went to Detroit Austin, whose four golfers covered the 18 hole course in 315 strokes. Cranbrook was second with 318 strokes. Northville had 335 strokes in taking fifth place.

"The interesting thing about the meet was that we were still fifth after the first nine holes, but we were two strokes ahead of Austin who went on to win the whole thing," said Jones.

Mark Krause had the low score for the Mustangs as he toured the course in 82 strokes. It was a day of peaks and valleys for the junior medalist. On the front nine Krause carded a 36, even par, and was the only player in the tournament to achieve that accomplishment.

It was on the back nine that Krause had troubles. After paring the tenth hole, he three-putted the next three greens as his score jumped to 46 for an 18 hole total of 82.

John Marshall was a stroke behind Krause with an 83 and John Hlohenic carded an 84. Brian Mills, the fourth Northville golfer, had an 86 to bring the Mustang total to 335.

dual meet with Dearborn Crestwood on Monday and the results were indeed satisfactory as the Mustangs copped an 11 stroke victory.

Crestwood and Northville first met at the Dearborn Tournament two weeks ago with the Mustangs walking off the course with a one stroke victory.

On the familiar contours of the Meadowbrook Course, however, the Northville margin of victory was much more decisive.

John Marshall and Brian Mills led the Mustangs with a pair of 41's; John Hlohenic carded 7 pars and two triple bogeys for a 43; and Bob Simmons an Tim Slagle had 44's to bring the Northville total to 213 strokes. Crestwood had 224.

Little League Opens in Novi

The opening week in Novi Little League action saw B-V Construction in a first place tie with Rexall Rangers, each with 2-0 records.

General Filters, Carl's X-Way Shell and Novi Party Store wound up the week 1-1. On the bottom were Wroten Brothers and a new team this season - the Novi Police - each with 0-2 records.

Elect Officers

New officers took over the Northville Hockey Association this week following their election Thursday.

Serving during the 1971-72 season are Harry Schaeffer, president; Dave Houck, vice-president; Ed Pawlowski, secretary; and Paul Mack, treasurer.

Wildcat linksters wound up a 3-10-1 season last week Tuesday in a tri-angular with Milan an Ypsilanti Lincoln on Lincoln's Hickory Woods course.

Local golfers fired a 176 to fall between Ypsilanti's 183 and Milan's 175. Les Branch captured medalist honors with a five-over-par 39.

Other Wildcats were in the mid-forties as Roger John carded a 44, Craig Hessee 46, and Tom Boyer a 47.

The split afternoon set the stage for regional action on Friday at Romeo Golf and Country Club, a par 73, 18 holes.

Novi finished with 411 (Branch 87, John 100, Boyer 109, Hessee 115) far behind match winner Goodrich which squad took medalist with a 79 turned in by Jim MacGoff and first place with a low 328.

Following Goorich, a suburban Flint school, into state competition will be second place Farmington's Our Lay of Sorrows, which carded 342, and third-ranking Dearborn Sacred Heart with 343.

Linksters were slated into a final conference meet Thursday morning at Godwin Glens.

Coach John Osborn looked for Chelsea with a 12-1 record to be "tough to beat" while he expected a closer battle between Novi, Lincoln, Milan an arch-rival South Lyon.

5 Mustangs Qualify for State

Five outstanding members of the Northville track team qualified for the State Class B championships this weekend and the Mustangs grabbed third place in the team standings at the Clarenceville Regionals last Saturday.

Royal Oak Shrine won the meet with 39 points, Lutheran West had 38, and Northville had 31½.

But according to Northville coach Ralph Redmond his squad might have won the team honors. "It could have been our regional," he said. "If we had the whole team ready and raring to go we'd have won it. We could have taken the 100 and the 220 and taken a place in the 880 yard relay. That would have been enough to win it for us."

Perhaps the most pleasant of all the surprises was the performance of sophomore pole vaulter Bill Witek. "Bill had never been over 11 feet in any meet this year," said Redmond. "But he was able to really put it all together in the regionals. He cleared the bar at 12'2" and took second place. That's the best that's ever been done by a sophomore at Northville."

Another pleasant surprise of sorts came in the long jump where John Stuyvenberg took Northville's lone first place with a jump of 21½' and qualified for the state finals and an opportunity to defend his state long jump title.

Two weeks ago Stuyvenberg came down with a bad case of strep throat and his participation in the meet was questionable. Finally doctors permitted him to enter the long jump competition, but held him out of the running events.

Top Field

Meadowbrook Country Club's assistant professionals, Ernie Burgess and Jim S Germain, found the fairways of Western Golf and Country Club to their liking Monday.

Playing in the weekly Michigan Section PGA tourney, Burgess led all fellow professionals with a par 72, while St. Germain tied for second place with a one-over 73.

Some 65 professionals and 195 amateurs competed in the pro-am event. Next Monday the action turns to Jackson Country Club and Arbor Hills Country Club in Jackson for USGA local qualifying for the U.S. Open.

"The meet was particularly hard on John," said Redmond. "He had a good chance to win the 100 and 220 at the state this year, before he got strep throat. I was glad that he was able to come back, and qualify for the long jump, though. With an extra week to recuperate from his lay off he'll be able to come up with a good effort at the championships."

One of the meet's highlights, at least from the Northville standpoint, was Dave Mitchell's second place finish in the 120 yard high hurdles in finishing a scant 1 of a second behind South Lyon's Rioridan. Mitchell set a new school record of 15.0 seconds, breaking his own record time of 15.3 set four days earlier -- against Bloomfield Hills' Andover.

Other Northville second places were provided by Dave Wright in the 880 (2:04.0) and Rick Bell in the two mile run (10:12.0).

Andover Wins, 74-41

Northville's track team suffered a 77-41 loss to Bloomfield Hills Andover last Tuesday. For the Mustangs it was a bitter loss and for Andover it was a somewhat hollow victory.

Coach Ralph Redmond's Mustangs entered the meet deprived of the services of their two outstanding sprinters, John Stuyvenberg and Jamey Carter, and Andover capitalized on their absence, sweeping all three places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and beating Northville in the 880 yard relay.

"We just didn't have the whole team," Redmond said assaying his team's defeat. "With Stuyvenberg and Carter in there it would have been a different story. I think we might have beat them." From the start of the season Redmond had been pointing to the meet with Andover as being crucial in determining the Wayne-Oakland league championship.

Midway through the season Northville was undefeated, while Andover had lost once to Waterford Kettering, a team the Mustangs defeated without much difficulty. But then Stuyvenberg and Carter contacted respiratory illnesses and the Mustangs fell to Milford and entered the Andover meet with a severely handicapped team, a team with no sprinters.

It was the absence of Stuyvenberg that contributed most heavily to the Bloomfield Hills victory. Over the past three years Stuyvenberg has been undefeated in Wayne-Oakland league competition in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the long jump.

With Stuyvenberg gone, Andover won all three of those events as they took ten firsts while the Mustangs were able to take only four.

Two of those Northville victories were the personal contributions of David Wright, who is having an outstanding year, won the 880 with a time of 2:04.3 and then came back four events later to take honors in the 440

Mustangs Tied for First

Snap 3-Game Losing Streak

The Mustangs snapped a three-game losing streak Monday as they edged Milford's Redskins, 1-0, and grabbed a share of a three-way tie for first place in the Wayne-Oakland baseball league.

By upsetting Milford, thus avenging an earlier 3-2 defeat, Northville sweetened its record (10-3) in the league and put in its bid, along with the Redskins and West Bloomfield, for the W-O championship.

Milford's earlier win over Northville was the local squad's first league defeat. A double-headed disaster against Clarkston Saturday, 4-0 and 6-2, marked the second and third losses.

Coach Chuck Shonta would no doubt be quite happy to bring home a second crown title in two years, but a game today with Andover still stands in the way. The Redskins lost in their first encounter with the Mustangs, 5-4.

Things didn't look so good for the local nine last week following a non-league loss to Churchill (8-7), the Mustangs dropped both ends of a double-header action Saturday as they collected only three hits the entire afternoon.

Things were going the same way against Milford Monday as the two squads battled - through five scoreless innings before hurler Bernie Bach exploded with a lead-off triple in the top of the sixth. John Crane sacrificed him home before the side was retired.

Other than Bach's triple Mustang batsmen were unable to nip pitcher Brad Harris for any other extra bases except for off the bat of Bart Taylor in the second inning. That effort died as Taylor was left stranded with a pair of strike-outs.

Bach gave up two hits, walked two, and struck out six Redskins in gaining his seventh win of the season.

About his three earlier losses Shonta was philosophical: "Our kids just weren't ready for any of those games," he said.

"We played Churchill on prom night and the kids weren't thinking about the game at least not as hard as they were about getting out of there. Consequently, we lost by one run."

"Against Clarkston," the coach continued, "we just weren't hitting. I think when you get three hits in two games it tells you something about the way you're playing."

Those three hits were singles by Bach and Jeff Moon in the first game and by Kenny Lach in the second.

Moon hurled that first game, (Clarkston 6-2), giving up eight hits and one walk while dealing out six strike-outs.

Northville's two runs were turned in by Scot Stuart and Kurt Suckow who tripped around on walks and errors in the top of the second and third innings.

In the second game the Mustangs went zip before a Clarkston onslaught that clipped hurler Scott Evans for four runs on six hits. Evans dealt four walks and six strike-outs.

JV Nine Dumps Milford

With Rod Crane hurling a three-hitter here Monday night, Northville's junior varsity nine knocked off league-leading Milford 3-0 to avenge an earlier, heartbreaking defeat.

The upset triumph came on the heels of double defeats at the hands of Clarkston in a double-header Saturday, a 14-4 loss to Livonia Churchill Thursday and a 4-2 win over West Bloomfield last week Monday.

In taking the pitching credit for the triumph over Milford - his fourth against three losses, Crane saluted his three-hitter with six strikeouts and five walks.

The junior Mustangs iced their victory in the first inning with two runs and then capped the scoring with a single run in the bottom of the sixth.

In the first inning, with John Forrer anchored, both on base having picked up walks and with two outs, John Sherman uncorked a double that pushed both runners across. It was an error, a single off the bat of John Kritch and a pitcher's error that made Kritch a scorer in the sixth.

The triumph was sweet medicine for the local nine which previously had lost a three-hitter to Milford in eight innings of play Monday's win cost Milford its uncontested hold on first, which it now shares with Clarkston.

Clarkston earned a piece of the league lead by polishing off Northville twice Saturday - 12-4 in the first game, 17-4 in the second. The junior Wolves put together a whopping total of 33 hits in the two games, while limiting Northville to 13.

Joe Bishop was the losing pitcher in the first game, Crane the loser in the nightcap.

wrapped and tied in a plastic curtain and they, too, dumped through the hole.

Apparently, according to Novi Detective Grubb, changes in the lake temperature and currents worked the body loose of the concrete block and it floated to the surface.

The body was identified by a neighbor and through a Novi high school ring worn by the victim and a scar on the heel of her foot. Kathy's father, Robert, a Bell Telephone Company employee, was at work when the body was discovered.

Because the lake is so secluded, with but three cottages in the vicinity, and because heavy snow and ice covered the lake last winter, police believe that the killer was familiar with the area and that he was probably driving a four-wheel drive vehicle to enable him to negotiate lake access roads and the lake itself.

Tracks of a four-wheel vehicle were found in the vicinity of where John Keyes' body was found inside his car at the foot of a "lovers lane" near Napier and Five Mile roads.

Obviously, the killer "knew the area", said Grubb. If he drove from Napier to Grand River, north up Milford road he would pass 40 small lakes,

"so why did he pick that lake?" "He just wouldn't go driving around aimlessly with a body in his car and risk the chance of being stopped."

Police believe the killer may have been an outdoorsman—perhaps having camped or fished in the Crotched Lake area. He may have been driving a truck camper, police said.

They identified the rifle as a bolt-action (firing either short or long 22-caliber shells) Ranger model—at least 15 to 20 years old. The shower curtains—or what appeared to be shower curtains—were white in color and contained a yellow gold swan design. Anyone having knowledge of these articles—or anything else that might aid in arrest of the killer—is asked to call Detective Grubb at 349-2444.

Rewards (totaling nearly $10,000) are being offered.

department outlay, he suggested that the budget hearing be adjourned until next week.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie advised against the delay because of charter requirement that the budget be approved no later than this week, but he suggested that a later reduction in the budget and millage would not likely be challenged.

With but one citizen present to comment on the budget, council did not object to any specific category in the budget other than agreeing with citizen Robert Strachan, 540 Horton, that the police department outlay appears "high."

"Many of us are concerned by the $347,000 (police outlay) and some of us feel it is high," said Rathert. "But we're looking at it very carefully," he added in reference to the committee study.

What specifically the committee may recommend is unknown, but it is known that the number of policemen—part and auxiliary officers—and the policing at Northville Downs is being given attention.

Besides the general and public improvement budgets, two other budgets also were approved by the council's single vote. They include $74,303 in the street fund and $192,200 in the water fund.

The latter two funds, explained Ollendorff, are separate budgets by law. Separation of the general and public improvement funds is by council choice, he added.

In other business Tuesday, the council authorized the sale of the well site (near Novi and Eight Mile roads) and the purchases of the Kerr house and property (between the post office and the recreation building on Wing Street) and the Rathburn buildings and property (on the north side of Main Street east of the Pure Oil station).

Purchase price of the Kerr property is $31,020, and the price of the Rathburn property is $48,000.

Most Prefer May For Planting Roses

Faced by unpredictable fall weather, Most Michigan gardeners prefer to set out new rose plants in May.

Michigan State University rose experts offer the following advice to help insure good growth of roses planted this month.

LOTS OF SUN

Pick a site that gets lots of sunshine. Roses grow best where they have full sunshine all day. They will grow well, however, with at least six hours of sun a day.

If you have a choice, plant roses where they will get sunshine in the morning. This prevents the leaves from staying wet with dew for long periods—a situation that can lead to leaf diseases.

PLANT SPACING

Plant spacing is important for maximum growth and flowering.

Plant hybrid tea, grandiflora, polyantha and floribunda roses about 2½ feet apart in Michigan. Space hybrid perpetuals 3 to 5 feet apart and climbers from 8 to 10 feet apart.

FIX SOIL FIRST

According to Dr. W. H. Carlson, MSU horticulture scientist, soil preparation is very important.

"If you are just planting a few roses, dig individual holes 12 inches deep and 18 inches in diameter," he says.

Roses will do well on most good garden soils. However, very heavy or sandy soil probably needs organic matter (peat moss or leaf mold)—added to it. Thoroughly mix the soil from the holes with the organic matter," says Carlson. "Use one part of peat moss or leaf mold to four parts of soil."

He notes that it's a good idea to prepare soil in advance so that you can plant roses as soon as you get them.

PLANT HANDLING

When you buy your rose plants, inspect the roots. If they are dry, soak them in water for an hour or two before planting.

Check the roots again when you are ready to set out the plants. Cut off all dead or injured growth. Also, remove broken or dead canes and, if necessary, cut long canes back to about 12 inches. Don't overdo it—shorter cutting can delay flowering.

Protect roots from drying. Never expose them to the sun or to drying winds. Carry the plants in a bucket of water or cover the roots with wet burlap.

SETTING THE PLANTS

The first step is to place a small pile of soil in the center of the hole. Then set the plant on top of the pile and spread the roots down the slope.

Make sure that the bud union (where the top of the plant was grafted onto the rootstock) is one to two inches below ground level.

Gently work soil around the roots to give them good contact with the soil. When the roots are covered, add water to help settle the soil. Then fill the hole.

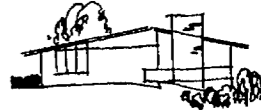

For bush and climbing roses, mound the soil up around the canes to a height of 8 or 10 inches. Mounds for miniature roses should be 3 to 4 inches high. Remove the soil mound when all frost danger is past.

ROSES—When pruning roses don't leave bare stubs. Cut off each cane close to its point of origin—either the plant crown or a main cane—as shown here. All dead wood and weak growth should be removed from the bush and then the remaining canes should be cut back to a uniform height of about 2 feet.

It's Time to Plant 'Tender' Crops

The success of gardeners with a "green thumb" is due to simple, but practical planting schedules, says J. Lee Taylor, Michigan State University horticulture scientist.

If you don't fall into the green thumb category, Taylor offers these planting time tips:

HARDY CROPS

Plant now if you haven't already. If planted in early April, these crops are seldom damaged by cold. This group includes radishes, leaf and head lettuce (all varieties), onion sets, peas, and greens.

LESS HARDY PLANTS

These crops can stand some cold and freezing. The normal southern Michigan planting time is late April or early May. Included are: table beets, carrots, spinach, parsnips, kohlrabi, early sweet corn, early potatoes, raspberries, strawberries, grapes, rhubarb, asparagus roots, fruit trees, and ornamental trees and shrubs.

Apartment Dwellers Can Pot Green Thumb

Being an apartment dweller or not having any yard space shouldn't keep you from growing flowers, vegetables and even some fruit. You can be a container gardener.

According to Everett Emino, Michigan State University instructor in horticulture, container gardening includes portable or movable planters, window boxes, containers on patios and balconies or even rooftops and indoors.

The container can be anything that will hold soil and suits the size of that plant that you'll grow in it. Its appearance should please you, if it will hold an ornamental plant.

The growing medium is the most important item in container gardening, Emino believes. And it isn't all soil. While field soil is fine for plants growing in the ground, it isn't suitable for containers, because the depth and drainage are changed.

Emino recommends using one-third field soil, one-third aggregate—sand, perlite or vermiculite—and one-third organic matter—peat moss or homemade compost. This creates a very porous and well-drained medium. Excess water will run off easily.

With that in mind, Emino also recommends a container that allows drainage—one with a hole in the bottom. The old-fashioned clay flowerpot

Trees Need Drainage

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Trees have more influence on landscape beauty than any other plant.

"To function properly, trees should provide shade in summer, protection from wind in winter and improve property appearance," says Dr. Harold Davidson, Michigan State University horticulture specialist.

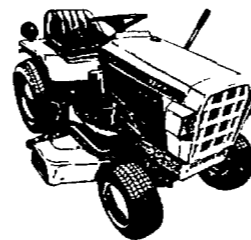

Early spring is the best time of year to plant hardwood trees. "Plant them while they are dormant—before the leaves have begun to grow," Davidson says. "They can be planted later in the summer, however, if they get careful handling and aren't allowed to wilt."

Three ways better

Better Boy

After four years of research, plant breeders have developed Better Boy, a tomato that is three ways better: resistant to verticillium, fusarium, and nematodes (VFN), the three main causes of blight in tomato plants.

Since it's also an F. Hybrid, it gives you more fruit, tastier fruit, over a longer period of time. Try it and you'll never go back to ordinary tomatoes again.

It's planting time! Plant the hybrid—plant Better Boy.

Crop Problems Seen With 'No-Tillage' Soil

Out of the Horse's Mouth

TENDER PLANTS

Seeds should be sown when the soil has warmed and almost all frost danger is past May 15 is about right for the southern half of the Lower Peninsula. Such crops include: beans, cucumbers, squash, melons, okra, lima beans, watermelons, late potatoes and sweet corn.

If there is room in the garden, another planting can be made 7 to 10 days later to hedge against frost damage in earlier plantings.

TRANSPLANTS

Many gardeners in the green-thumb crowd use Memorial Day as a planting date guideline for tender, young crop transplants. However, in the extreme southern areas of Michigan (including Detroit) transplants can be set out as early as May 20.

For earlier planting, hot caps or some other means of frost protection are necessary. Spring frost chances in the central and lower parts of the Lower Peninsula are: Last week of April—100 percent; first week of May—75 percent; second week of May—50 percent; third week of May—25 percent, and Memorial Day—zero percent.

Common transplants include: tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, sweet potatoes, and most of the bedding flowers such as petunias.

ALL SEASON CROPS

A few crops that can be planted at regular intervals beginning in the spring and running well into the summer. They are tolerant to a wide range of temperatures as long as enough water is available. Included are: radishes, bibb or buttercrunch lettuce, snap beans, beets and carrots.

MIDSUMMER-EARLY FALL CROPS

These crops are well adapted to planting during the hot months. They mature and are ready for harvest in the cooler fall weeks. In this category are: Chinese cabbage, turnips, rutabagas, late carrots, late beets, parsley, late cabbage and plants grown for greens.

time to transplant trees is in the late spring—after leaves have begun to form and before they mature.

When planting a tree, good soil and adequate drainage are important. The hole should be at least twice as wide as the existing roots. When the hole is dug, add a layer of good soil on the bottom.

If the tree is in a ball of soil, soak the ball—along with the wrapping—in a tub of water. After a few minutes the tree is ready to plant. Wrappings around the roots should be removed with care to avoid disturbing the ball of soil.

After setting the roots in the hole, Davidson advises adding soil to fill two-thirds of the hole and packing it down firmly. Then fill the rest of the hole.

Build a small, circular dam of soil the same diameter as the hole. This will serve as a water reservoir.

According to Davidson, trees should be watered thoroughly, using at least one pail of water, after planting.

"Watering should continue at least once a week during the growing season," he says, "unless there has been an inch of normal rainfall."

Soon after planting, a mulch of straw, peat moss, decayed leaves or other mulching material should be spread around the tree. "Two or three inches of mulch, spreading out as far as the branches extend, will keep the roots cooler, hold soil moisture during the summer and guard against frost damage in winter," says Davidson.

Most Plant Roses in May

To prevent tree roses from whipping in the wind and loosening their roots, tie the trunk to a sturdy pole.

WATERING

For newly planted roses watering is especially important—even where rainfall is plentiful. The soil around the bush should be occasionally soaked to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. A good method is to direct a slow stream of water from a garden hose around the base of the plants.

No tillage? Better check pros and cons first, says Duane Gribach, Livingston County extension agent.

Pros are—less labor, lower production cost, savings of $8 to $14 per acre, more moisture saved, less soil erosion, easier double cropping, food and cover for wildlife.

Disadvantages include a lower soil temperature and the possibility of increased insect, rodent and disease problems. Seed germination may be slower in the spring, but moisture conserved by the mulch may offset this delay later in the growing season, Gribach said.

Lower soil temperatures may be a key problem for Michigan corn growers, believes Robert Lucas, Michigan State University soils specialist.

Soil temperatures may be four or five degrees colder under no-tillage compared to conventional tillage systems. Farther south this soil temperature difference has much less effect than on the northern edge of the corn growing area.

The crop before a no-tillage corn crop appears to affect yields. On one Lapeer County farm, no-tillage corn planted on corn stubble yielded 105 bushels per acre, 95 bushels on alfalfa sod, and 85 bushels per acre for corn planted on idle ground.

Agronomists report a vast difference in response of soils to various tillage practices. On a rolling, light-colored silt loam, a complete crop residue cover left on the soil surface contributed 30 bushels per acre to the yield compared to plow systems. By contrast, a complete cover of residues on poorly drained dark loam in northern Indiana caused a 50 bushel reduction in yield.

The moisture-conserving aspects of minimum tillage farming may be partly responsible for the effectiveness of the system on well drained silt loam soils. But weed control problems in a no-tillage system can be three times as severe as under conventional tillage systems, notes J. L. Williams, Purdue agronomist. Weed problems change, and often intensify, with adoption of no-tillage systems.

Williams points out that with no-tillage systems annual grasses often become dominant in fields previously troubled by broad-leaved weeds.

After two or three years of no-tillage farming, the annual grass problem often shifts from foxtail and other species to fall panicum.

"Systems with decreased tillage rely on herbicides more and put more pressure on the herbicide system used for weed control," Williams concludes.

Corn can be planted with no tillage after a sod crop anywhere in Ohio—if the internal drainage of the soil is adequate for crop growth without tile drainage, according to reports from Ohio State University.

These viewpoints emphasize that no-tillage can boost yields in many cases but it doesn't guarantee higher yields. Consult with your county extension agent and other farmers who have tried no-tillage to help you evaluate the possibilities of no-tillage for your farm.

Legislators

See President

Two local legislators, both leaders of their respective parties, attended a White House briefing on domestic programs Tuesday.

Attending from this area by special invitation were Representative Marvin R. Stempfen (D-Livonia), House majority floor leader, and Representative Clifford H. Smart (R-Walled Lake), House minority leader.

The conference was held on Tuesday in the East Room of the White House, starting with a briefing by President Richard Nixon at 10 a.m.

In addition to the President, Cabinet level officials participating in the conference included John Connally, Secretary of Treasury; George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development; Elliot Richardson, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; and Clark MacGregor, counsel to the President for Congressional Relations.

The Administration was assisted in planning the meeting by the National Conference of State Legislative leaders of which Stempfen and Smart are members by virtue of their leadership in the Michigan House.

Gardens Grow Inside

is a good example. If a container doesn't have a drainage hole, you can still use it by allowing for drainage in other ways. Emino suggests gravel or charcoal in the bottom of the container to hold the excess water.

Container gardens do need to be watered, he stresses. Soil in containers dries out quicker than regular garden soil, and has no deep moisture reserve. That means you must water thoroughly—until you get some runoff.

Your watering schedule will depend on the size of the plant and its growth rate and the container. Sun, wind and rainfall will also affect your watering of outdoor containers.

"A good rule of thumb is to water when the plant starts to dry out," Emino suggests.

Fertilizing is also important for container gardens. Emino recommends liquid fertilizer that you can apply as you water the plants. The amount of fertilizer depends of the type of plant and its growth rate.

Where you locate the plant depends on your own taste, and certainly on the location of your home. Some plants have limitations according to their need for sun or shade. One of the main advantages of container gardening is plant rotation. You can bring potted plants indoors for a special effect, or move them to different locations in your yard. You can move indoor plants from room to room, and to some extent from sunny part of the room to darker corners temporarily.

Since vegetables aren't necessarily for show, the container may be anything from an old wheelbarrow to a plain plastic bucket or garbage can. Vegetables grown in containers by MSU horticulture students including string beans, beets, zucchini, Swiss chard, cucumbers (trained to grow up a pole), onions, carrots, peppers, tomatoes and herbs and spices.

The board adopted a resolution which prohibits the vehicles from all Wayne County parks, except in specially designated areas determined by the County Road Commission, which operates the parks.

No such special areas are presently available, however, and none are contemplated for the immediate future.

In taking the action, the board followed a recommendation of its Public Works Committee, which urged the ban "due to reasons of public safety."

The Public Works Committee, chaired by Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., Grosse Pointe, R-Dist. 3, heard testimony from Park Division personnel who said that snowmobiles and minibikes interfere with other recreational activities.

They also said that minibikes quickly denude whole slopes, while snowmobiles cause extensive damage to land surfaces. Both require large tracts of land isolated from other recreational areas, they said.

The commissioners acted May 13 as the Ways and Means Committee. Since Ways and Means is composed of all 26 Board members, the action is likely to receive final approval at the next meeting of the full Board, May 20.

Is Love Missing?

Reverend Weldon Kirk
Brighton Church of Christ

Our youth see the need in our society and cry for love. Is love missing from our lives?

I think most people today feel that they are loving, as they know love: but let us look at this love for a moment and see if this is the love that Christianity is known for.

Is the emphasis placed on what we want for self and what self wants for others, or is it devoted to the needs of others?

Paul said, that in the last days, men would be lovers of self, lovers of money, lovers of pleasure, etc (II Timothy 3). Is this what your life is devoted to? Self-centered people will destroy any home or any nation. What senator would you admire: one who does everything for himself, or one who does everything for others.

John said, "He that loveth not, knoweth not God, for God is love" (I John 4:8). We have in our churches what each feels is truth, but which may have become dead tradition, because of the spirit of Christianity being lost to selfish ends.

Paul described Christianity as "Faith working through love" (Galatians 5:6). Through salvation is the free gift of God to those who accept through faith, it must be an obedient faith (James 2:17).

We could never do enough to merit God's gift, but there is a condition to be met to accept it. We must prove our faith through a life of love, which our world needs so desperately.

"Grow old along with me . . . the best is yet to be," the sundial seems to say. It's a nice thought—but is it true?

What is best in life? Childhood? Adolescence? The Middle Years? The peace that should come with the twilight of life? Who is to say?

Life is full of many questions and very few answers. The hours bring with them unexpected contrasts of happiness and sorrow—of assurance and dismay—of wealth and poverty, both spiritual and material.

Because of this very uncertainty, we need something far more stable than a sundial to "grow old along with." We need substance, endurance, solidity. We need faith.

Where to find it? How about looking, first, in the church of your choice? Next Sunday?

Bill Softens Pay Hike Chagrin

Discipline in the schools, or rather what some see as lack of it, is becoming of topic of major concern at the dinner table, the local pub and social gatherings.

Corporal punishment, which is regulated in most states, is not a thing of the past.

"At a time when students' rights have become a national issue — and when many educators are seeking new ways to make learning a more joyful, humane experience — the reality of life in numerous classrooms around the country is still rooted in nineteenth-century notions of discipline," said Newsweek this week.

Then Newsweek tells about the situation in Dallas, Texas schools. Corporal punishment of students is condoned and the paddle, which reportedly went out of school with the graduation of grandfather, is being used with blistering success.

What is happening, one might ask, so that the public is demanding corporal punishment in one form or another? Indications are a backlash is setting in. The Dr. Spocks and the humanists be damned. Let's have the good old days.

You know what is needed. The teacher walks around the classroom, looking for a student with gum in his mouth, or one with a hangnail that doesn't strike the teacher's fancy, then bend him over a desk and lace him good.

What's accomplished? A sore behind, an indelible lesson for the student, and the indignation of class embarrassment. Don't get out of lock step. Shape up in all respects or there'll be more of the same tomorrow.

Makes sense? Positively. A good teacher is one whose students sit ramrod straight all day long while the teacher pours facts into his head, like a little vial just waiting to be filled.

The next step, to assure this discipline, is a requirement that teachers be at least 6'4" and 200 pounds and capable of slugging a baseball 400 feet.

And how about arming the teacher with brass knuckles, or a night stick? That way he can keep your kid in line because you readily admit you can't handle him at home and God only knows someone must give him his comeuppance.

Oh, it's Johnny down the block who's causing all the trouble. Your kid's a good boy? Well hallelujah, then give Johnny what he deserves.

Babson Report

Explains Dollar Dip In European Market

THIS MONTH a sudden storm blew across European money marts, creating a potentially hazardous situation for the Free World's monetary structure and especially for the American dollar. A plethora of dollars swamped the central banking system of West Germany, plus a few other major countries to a lesser degree. It did not happen overnight, it had been building for some time. But the acute stage came with speculative swapping of U. S. currency for German marks and Swiss francs, and to some degree for monies of other leading Free World nations.

OUR NATION'S leaders being unable or unwilling to curb domestic inflation and quell the dollar outflow in our balance of payments, the erosion of the status of the American dollar reached crisis stage. The problem was two fold: (1) Flight from the dollar, and (2) speculation that the West German mark and the Swiss franc would be revalued upward relative to the dollar.

Since the U. S. either could not or would not come to grips with the forces combining to tarnish our country's currency, and since a unilateral devaluation of the dollar would compound an already serious inflation and unemployment problem some of the European nations, in effect, devalued the dollar for us.

Switzerland and Austria raised the value of their currencies by 7 per cent and 5.05 per cent respectively. The net result of these upward revaluations of the Swiss franc and the Austrian schilling was tacit devaluation of the dollar in relation to these two currencies.

On the other hand, West Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Luxembourg took a less direct route. They chose to allow their currencies to "float" on the open market. The resultant value gain in these monies vs. the dollar had the same effect, at least temporarily...lowered the value of the dollar

LANSING — Irritation and chagrin about pay increase for legislators would be reduced if a proposal by Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, becomes law. Taxpayers were irritated earlier this year and legislators were chagrined when a $2,000 per year pay increase was permitted to become law at the same time the same legislators were looking for ways to cutback the payroll and reduce expenses so the state would not sink so far in the red financially.

Raises were approved by the State Officers Compensation Commission, which is required by law to meet shortly after the November election in even numbered years. It works out the pay scale for the next two years for legislators, the Governor and the Supreme Court justices.

Complainants felt the raises should have been proposed and either accepted or rejected before the election, rather than just after, so that the people could have made them part of the election campaign.

Reprinted from the Morris Animal Foundation Newsletter—"The threat of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis to the horse and human population of the United States is very real, Fred D. Maurer, D.V.M., associate dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University, said at the horse seminar."

"If it strikes a non-immune U.S. horse population," he said, "chances are it will stop all horse movement, all races, all shows, infect and kill many horses, cause illness to many people and put a lot of horsemen out of business."

Dr. Maurer said it is typical of people to look upon a foreign disease as something to be concerned about only if and when it arrives in the United States.

"While the disease has not reached the United States in a virulent form, it has moved so close and has such a potential for great destruction to the U.S. horse industry that stronger steps are needed to stop it in Mexico or at least reduce the losses when it hits the United States," he said.

"Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis is a costs to operate the house and what kind of a profit the home seller will make.

Anyone who bought a home and then found the law governing the sale had been violated could either cancel the sale or seek court damages within 18 months of the sale.

UNDER THE FORBES bill, persons selling a house would be required to disclose all housing code violations in the house and information on taxes, heating, insurance and other costs.

The real estate dealer would have to disclose the amount paid for the property by the present owner, any repairs which have been made, and the length of time the present owner has held the house. Also, where a dealer is involved, the house would have to be covered by a warranty in compliance with all applicable codes.

"It must be recognized that an individual seller may not be financially able to bring a home into compliance," Forbes says. "However, a real estate dealer should be able to do so."

A REAL THREAT for harassing

a seller could develop if the bill became law. A buyer could threaten court action for real or imaginary failure to comply. Deficiencies the seller did not know about could develop after a sale to haunt him.

Forbes feels Michigan "badly needs" this legislation.

"Facts have shown that home buyers commonly do not know all the facts," he says. "If they don't ask, they aren't told. If they do ask, in many instances they are only told halftruths at best."

"Once they sign the purchase papers, they are stuck."

"THEY HAVE PRACTICALLY no real recourse under the law. Unfortunately, it is the low income family, who can least afford to be bilked, who is hurt the worst."

Forbes says some speculators make an "enormous" profit selling homes to low income families.

"An average profit of 109 per cent was indicated by a recent study in Detroit," he says. "This inflated price is borne by the low income families, or in the case of welfare recipients, by the State Department of Social Services and the taxpayers of Michigan."
