No Hitch as Northville Schools Open Today 'No Lock-Out'— Spear 'Won't Strike'— Teachers

metropolitan newspaper, Northville teachers have no intention of staying out of their classrooms for school opening this week, "unless the school doors are locked", said Cyril F. Nichols, president of the Northville Teachers Association (NEA).

"We're trying to abide by what President Nixon has asked. We're returning to work under our last existing contract," he declared.

It's on this point that there appears to be a wide breach of misunderstanding the teachers and between ministration and board of education.
According to Nichols. Superintendent Raymond Spear has refused to permit the teachers to work under the existing contract. Instead, says Nichols, the superintendent and board of education have declared that the teachers can return only under one of the following circumstances:

-with no contract at all; -with the newly-negotiated contract minus the unsettled

-or with the last offer as submitted by the board of

"We think this is contrary to the intent of President Nixon's guidelines which have appealed for a ban on strikes during the freeze with the understanding that work continues under old contract rules while negotiations proceed towards settlement,"

Obviously upset over Superintendent Spear's position, the teacher spokesman said he had appealed for guidance to the State Board of Education, the Attorney General's Office, the Governor and the state and national education associations.

"We've been informed by the State Attorney's office, state labor mediators and our own state and national associations that we're on firm legal grounds. They have instructed us to simply declare that we are returning to work under our old contract and then to do so."

"And that's what we intend to do," said Nichols.

Nichols noted that the teachers had tried staying out of class and found that is was "no good." In addition, he pointed out, "we can't get any

There will be no lock-out of teachers should they report for the opening day of school today (Thursday), Superintendent Raymond Spear declared this week.

His statement was meant to clarify any "misun-derstanding" harbored by teachers who had stated they plan to report unless the doors to open just as do teachers,' he said.

Spear denied that he or the board has refused to permit teachers to work under last year's contract in lieu of a new agreement. "The only thing we have said in this regard is that we will not put into writing the temporary extension of last year's contract. We do, however, plan to honor the same conditions under last year's contract. I don't know how much plainer we can make it.

He withdrew plans to implement some of the issues already agreed upon in the current negotiations. Basically, until a settlement is reached he said teachers will be working under last year's rules.

Asked to explain why he and the board are unwilling to altogether different position.

extend the previous contract in a written agreement, the superintendent said, "If we did that they'd let everything ride until the freeze is lifted and then try to renegotiate a whole new contract. We want to settle this thing before the freeze ends ..now, and not in November."

"Doesn't it seem a little strange that in 1967 and 1968 when we offered to extend their contracts (pending settlement) they refused? Now that we have a wage freeze and the shoe's on the other foot, they've taken an

Spear said if teachers want a written agreement, it either will be a negotiated new contract or extension of the previous contract for the entire 1971-72 school year.

Concerning teacher charges that he has made salary proposals and then withdrawn them, Spear conceded that this may seem true to teachers But, he emphasized, when such proposals were made, teachers countered with suggested changes that necessarily required change on the district's side.

Voters to Decide College Mill Hike

go to the polls Monday. Registered citizens in the Northville School District will cast their college votes in the auditorium adjacent to the board of education offices, 303 West Main Street Northville Township residents who live in the Plymouth School District will vote at Farrand Elementary School, 41400

Polls open at 7 a.m., close at 8 p.m. The millage proposal appearing on Monday's ballot will consist of two separate questions: One asks for a halfmill "general purpose" increase, the other for a half-mill increase for capital improvements (buildings).

Together, according to the board of trustees, the one-mill increase represents sufficient revenue to complete the campus buildings and site development and to operate these new buildings and additions.

Revenue produced by the half-mill capital im-provement millage is expected to be matched by state and federal monies for a total $40 million construction program over the next 10 years involving the following:

Seven new buildings and additions to three existing buildings, conversion of the library to a new use, new sewers, drains, parking lots, drives, and sidewalks, improve the water system, and provide educational equipment and furniture for the new buildings and additions.

(Schoolcraft's present campus, located on the east side of Haggerty Road just south of Seven Mile Road in Livonia, has nine buildings).

The remaining half-mill increase, according to trustees, will be used to operate the proposed new

While the current board does not anticipate use of this half-mill until after part of the construction is completed, necessary to ask for the addition now, along with the construction millage, in order to comply with matching funds requirements. In other words, before the government will grant monies for construction it must be assured that local money is earmarked for operation of the new buildings, they pointed out. If the full mill increase, which has a 20-year-lifetime, is approved, it will mean the college district's millage levy eventually will increase from the existing 1.77 mills to 2.77

While there is no legal requirement that the board use the "general purpose" increase only for operation of the additional buildings, board members have indicated that the present millage rate (1.77), together with anticipated increasing property values within the college district, appears sufficient to continue indefinitely the operation of the existing facilities without dipping into monies generated by the half-mill hike.

Among the proposed seven new buildings, which will be constructed if the millage proposal is approved, are: A -fine arts building to be built in two stages; a new library to be built in three stages; a second science building, two new liberal arts (general education) buildings, a new business education building to

17 Seek 5 Seats

While it is anyone's guess which five of the 17 candidates seeking election to the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees Monday will be elected, one thing's for sure: there will be plenty of new faces when the board next meets.

Only two trustees who were on the board when the election was ordered by the court earlier this year will remain.

They are Trustees Robert Geake of Northville and John LaRue of Livonia. The only other member of the board who will remain, but who will not be elected Monday, is Erwin S. Brown who was appointed to the board two weeks ago to fill a vacancy created with the resignation of George E. Martin.

Geake, LaRue and Brown will be joined by five of the following candidates:

Leroy C. Bennett, Mark J. Bowlby, Roger R. Carver, Milan A. Emanuel, James E. Higgins, Mrs. Raymond, Ernest Rosina mitter, the Reverend Ivan G. Smith and Archibald E. Vallier, all of whom are seeking election to three six year terms;

And, Gerald L. Cox, Mary E. Dumas, Harvey Hershey, Paul Y. Kadish, Wayne Larcinesi, Ron Mardiros, Lawrence, P. Nolan, and George F. Shirley whom are seeking election to two two- year terms.

Barry M. Sherman, originally a candidate for a two-year post, has withdrawn

They will be replacing five board members who are not seeking re-election: B. William Secord of Northville, Mrs. Jane K. Moehle, Paul Mutnick, L. Clarke Oldenburg, and James W. Boswell. Of the 17 candidates in Monday's election, only Bennett cannot be labeled new. He served on the college board in 1963 to 1967..

Unlike in previous Schoolcraft election, all of the candidates will be running "at-large"; that is winners will be elected by virtue of having the greatest combined votes cast in all five of the high school districts that comprise the college district. These include Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City, and Clarenceville.

Three Injured In Accident

Three persons are in St. Mary hospital with injuries they received Tuesday night in a motorcycle-pedestrian accident on Hines Drive, just south of Six Mile Road. The accident took place at 9:50

Hospitalized are Daniel G. Smith, 20, of Detroit, driver of motorcycle; Kathy Ballam, 17 of Redford, his passenger; and Patrick Knoth, 21, of 19236 Jamestown Circle, pedestrian.

According to Wayne County Sheriff's reports, Smith was traveling south on Hines Drive with a defective headlight on his cycle. He told offi-cers the light went off and when it came back on Knoth was crossing the road in front of him. Smith said he could not avoid hitting him.

Extent of injuries of the three is unknown. Smith was ticketed for driving with a defective headlight.

The council's compromise was two-fold. First, it decided to improve only one of two blocks under consideration. Second, it acknowledged that a "sink-hole" condition in the street caused by underground springs was an "unusual" expense that should not be included as part of the total improvement to be assessed.

NEA BRIEFING—Al Jones, chief negotiator for the Northville Education

Association updates members Tuesday on the progress of contract talks with the school district. Jones is flanked by members of the negotiating team which spent the summer months deadlocked in talks. Teachers voted almost unanimously Tuesday to go back to work under last year's contract, a choice which has not been offered by the school district. Said Jones, "We will be assessing our position periodically and if we get to the point where it is intolerable or depending on the factfinders report, we may have to go out"

(strike) later in the year. "We are trying to go back under what we consider to be President Nixon's program," he commented. "We believe the spirit and intent of his wage and price program is to operate on last year's contract until we reach a new agreement which would be subject to the freeze."

The public hearing on the Horton street improvement began at the council's August 16 meeting. It was adjourned until Tuesday night so that a full council could act on the

About 15 citizens attended the second session; 25 had appeared at the first hearing. The majority were opposed to the improvement.

Those residing on the block between Eight Mile road and Hill street were excluded from the improvement. But the council, by a 4 to 1 vote, decided that the 750-foot-long block from Baseline to Eight Mile road should be paved. Councilman Paul Folino voted against the improvement stating that he opposed all special assessments for street paving. A motion by Councilman Folino to improve the street entirely out of general without special assessment failed for lack of a second.

Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman Kenneth Rathert argued with Councilman Folino on the question, the Mayor on the basis that "paving projects would never get done if the general fund had to bear the total ex-, and Councilman Rathert on grounds that a switch in policy now would be unfair to taxpayers who have been assessed in the past

Councilman Folino won scattered applause from the audience when he declared that the total community benefits from street paving and abutting property owners shouldn't be speciallyassessed for improvements in front of their homes.

In approving the one-block project the council called for assessing 75 per cent of the project against abutting property owners, minus the cost of repairing the "sink-hole" area in the street. Total estimated cost of the project, which includes a 30foot wide asphalt street with concrete curbs and gutters

Supports Millage

The Record supports the two-part millage proposition appearing on Monday's ballot, and Record Publisher William Sliger outlines reasons for that stand in his Speaking for The Record column on Page 10-A

Also appearing on Page 10 is the Record's endorsement of candidates seeking election to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees. With 17 candidates seeking the post (one has withdrawn even though his name will still appear on the ballot), four receive this newspaper's unqualified support.

For biographies, pictures and statements of most of the college candidates turn to Page 8-A and 9-A.

TWO MORE parcels of business district property earmarked for offstreet parking appear to be lined up for purchase by the city of Northville. It was reported at Tuesday night's council meeting that the building and property at 106 East Dunlap (which houses Northville Glass) owned by Joseph and Pete Spagnuola would be acquired by the city for the appraised price of $30,000. Mayor A. M. Allen also revealed that tentative agreement has been reached on purchase of the Heritage House, 114 N. Wing street.

BREAKFAST SNACK program begins operation today (Thursday) at Northville High. The cafeteria will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. daily, serving coffee, hot chocolate, juice, milk, toast, sweet rolls and fruit. "We plan to try the program out and see how students respond to it," Earl Busard, business director, commented. Cancellation of mandatory study halls this year due to staff cutbacks opened the cafeteria for use the first hour of the day, Busard said.

TWO SPECIALS are upcoming next week as The Record publishes the annual area prep football special as well as a new Northville Student Handbook. The latter newspaper format is a change from the traditional little book normally distributed in schools. School officials are anxious to get them into the hands of parents, thus have chosen the newspaper format. Additional copies will be available at the high school. As for the football special, it's a colorful, actionpacked section with a pre-season look at area high school teams and the new league affiliations.

MILLION DOLLAR PLANT—The new Novi-Walled Lake sewage treatment plant is one of the most modern and efficient in the nation. Experts report that by the time the sewage has passed through the tertiary treatment system, it is 97 per cent free of impurities and is fit for drinking.

Territory Loss Staggers Novi

Editor's Note: Following is the sixth in a series of articles concerning the various artificial boundaries that affect people and officials living within the circulation area of

"Now we know how the Indian feels when the white man comes along and starts taking

That statement in 1956 pretty much sums up the position of Novi officials as Northville began "scalping" the southern edges of Novi through annexation. It was made by the then Novi Township supervisor, Frazer Staman, who now is an Oakland County road commissioner and a resident of Wixom.

Even now, after 15 years, he still views the Northville annexations as improper and he is convinced the annexations were based on an unconstitutional law despite contrary interpretation by the courts.

But the worries in 1956 over the Northville annexations soon were overshadowed by still another kind of boundary change - the incorporation movement by residents of what now is the city of Wixom.

Everything seemed to be happening at

A new expressway (I-96) was underway, a movement to consolidate the school district appeared headed for success, Ford Motor was nearing completion of its giant new factory on Wixom Road, a horse race track was approved for development, and the township's newest and largest subdivision Willowbrook - was well underway.

The irony of it all was that just a Novi began to experience a boom, a new impetus for knitting a largely rural area together, allegiances to the community were drifting

Initially, the township opposed the village incorporation movement of Wixom in an effort to keep its boundaries intact. But this was abandoned when it was learned the movement was legal.

Nevertheless, fears of township officials persisted. Though a "Wixom village" would still be part of the township, it was feared Wixom might not stop with village status but go beyond, claiming cityhood and thus snatch the tax revenue form the new Ford plant.

So as the year 1956 ended there were plenty of dark clouds on Novi's horizon. Not only was a Wixom incorporation election slated February 5 but the race track proposal had split the community apart and forced a February 18 rezoning referendum.

The first was decided in favor of Wixom, as voters approved village incorporation by a vote of 253 to 166 and elected Ken Rocker, Everett Pearsall, Herbert Abrams, William Richards, Jesse Birchard, and R. W. Lahti to the charter commission.

Two weeks later the race track rezoning was approved by Novi voters even though the development was never to be realized.

Because the incorporation measure a in a deadlock (64-64) in the Novi section of the new Wixom village (Commerce Township residents had approved it 189-102), Novi contested the election. It was a futile fight, however, because weeks later the court dismissed Novi's suit, and Wixom completed its charter and submitted it to the state for

Early in July, 1957, Wixom voters by a 201 to 149 decision approved the charter, and the newly elected village mayor, Joseph Stadnik, lost no time in confirming Novi's fears by predicting Wixom cityhood within a year.

Meanwhile, Novi citizens, taking up a countering suggestion by Supervisor Staman, stepped up incorporation plans for Novi itself.

Wixom, however, barely two months old as a village, filed city incorporation petitions in September even as Novi planned its village incorporation movement. Then, one week before Novi filed its village incorporation petitions, Wixom voters approved cityhood by a vote of 267 to 61. Thus, the two communities were officially split, with Wixom getting the "spoils" in the form of municipal jurisdiction over the multi-million dollar Ford plant.

For Novi, now planning its incorporation, it was too little too late.

And to add insult to injury, a successful court fight with Northville over the an-nexation to Northville of the Warren Products and Village Green property went down the drain when voters for the second time—this time by votes of 9-5 in the Novi section and 159-32 in Northville-approved the annexation.

It marked the second annexation in 1957. The 82-acres surrounding Amerman Elementary School became part of the City of Northville when a suit contesting the 1956 annexation election of the property was dropped by Novi.

The newest addition to Northville and loss by Novi involved the 220-acre section between Novi Road and a line 1000 feet west of Taft Road and extending north to the 81/2 Mile line.

Warren Products officials had contested annexation of this same area in 1956 and won a reversal in circuit court. Following the second election in 1957 it again challenged the annexation in court.

Novi's new $1.69 million sewage treatment plant offers the area one of the most efficient and modern water purification plants in Michigan, if not the entire

"By the time the raw sewage has been processed through our plants," says Michael M. Strachow, the man who designed it, "we estimate that 97 percent of all its impurities have been

'It's better than any other plant now in operation," he continued. "You just can't find a plant that is any more advanced than this one is."

Located on West Road, near Beck and just a quarter of a mile from the southwest corner of Walled Lake, the new sewer treatment plant is part of a joint venture bet-ween the Cities of Novi and Walled Lake to alleviate their

Lake has been without sewers completely and Novi has had sewers only south of the expressway.

Pressure to come up with an adequate water treatment program was put on the two cities by the Michigan Health Department, which put them both under edict to stop polluting Walled Lake by dumping their sewage into it. Novi City Manager George

Athas was pleased with the plant not only for the service it provides for the people of Novi, but also for the prominent role it will play in "The most important aspect of this plant," said

Athas, "is that it will open up the entire northern part of Novi for development."

Novi, which will ultimately have some 2,200 taps in the treatment plant, will pay for its share of the construction costs by charging a tap-in fee and a debt retirement fee.

The plant operates on the contact stabilization, or , "activated sludge" treatment process. Activated sludge consists of millions of organisms which quite literally feed off the waste material in the sewage.

In activated sludge treatment these organisms are given ideal living conditions so that they thrive and multiply rapidly. By the time they have finished their work, the water is relatively clean.

The most important addition to the activated sludge process at the Novi-Walled Lake plant is the multifloc filter system that the water passes through in the final step before being dumped into the Fenlay Drain. This multifloc filter consists of two and a half feet of different sized mineral beds, ranging from thicker, larger particles on the top to very fine particles on the bottom.

The activated sludge treatment and the multifloc filtering treatment are only two of the stages, however, that the water goes through in the three-stage, or tertiary, purification system. The third stage involves the use of chemicals, as chlorine is added to the sewage just before it goes through the final filtering stage.

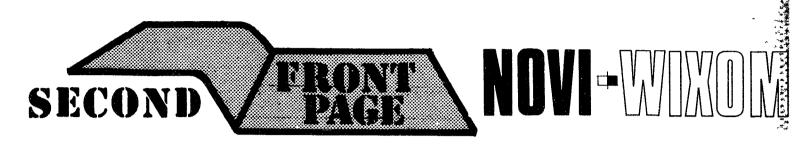

When the sewage first reaches the plant, it passes through a coarse screen that removes limbs, bottles, and other large items that occasionally get in the sewers and would clog the pumps if allowed to continue through.

From there it passes into a wet well where it is, in turn, pumped through a communitor. In the communitor solids are ground into small particles. Sand and pebbles are allowed to settle out during this stage and are then washed to removed any clinging garbage before being disposed of. From the communitor the effluent, or sewage, is sent into one of two 90-foot tanks where the activated sludge process takes place. Here the tank is supplied with a steady input of oxygen, which speeds up the work of the microbes that consume the organic solids in the sewage. After the activated sludge process has been completed the effluent passes into the settling zone, which is in the center of the large 90-foot tanks. There the activated sludge is divided into two parts. One part is sent back into the aeration chamber, where the activated sludge

Assessor Hiring Snags on 'Freeze'

Two council expendituresone already approved and another proposed-ran into legal snares Tuesday forcing the Novi City Council to take delaying action.

They concerned earlier board approval in hiring a city assessor and a proposal to purchase 11 new chairs to go with the new council table on order.

The assessor dispute arose even before the council began deliberations when Councilman Edwin Presnell took issue with the previous council minutes, asking that they be changed to reflect more accurately his comments relative to the discussion about and the hiring of an assessor.

(Following last week's discussion, the council voted to hire John Merrifield of Otsego, the unanimous recommendation of a council committee, at an annual salary of $14,000.)

other things, Presnell charged and was joined by Councilman Denis Berry in his position, that the $14,000 represented an increase over the budgeted $12,500 and therefore appeared in violation of President Nixon's wage and price freeze.

Berry said he had discussed the matter with an internal revenue representative who confirmed his suspicions. Although some other councilmen neither agreed that the council minutes inaccurately reported Presnell's previous com-ments nor that the council action constituted a wage violation, Mayor Joseph Crupi directed City Attorney Howard Bond to investigate the "freeze" matter and report his findings to the council.

The minutes changes also were ordered.

Meanwhile, just how the delay over the assessor matter will affect the employment of Merrifield remains uncertain. He was told, in writing and verbally, said City Manager George Athas, that he was being hired at the $14,000 salary.

Furthermore, Athas and others noted that Merrifield will in fact be paid less than $12,500 during the 1971-72 fiscal year since he is being paid on a pro-rata basis for the remainder of that year. In other words, while his salary was set at $14,000 his wages will fall short of that figure because part of the fiscal year has already elapsed.

Concerning his vestigation, Berry said he had learned that employees transferring from one job to another, when that job is comparable, cannot be given a wage increase under the freeze rules. The jobs are not comparable, observed Coun-cilman William O'Brien, because Merrifield is moving from a community with a lesser population and a much less property valuation.

Others argued that because the new assessor has a higher professional classification than originally contemplated by the council in setting the $12,500 figure, he is in fact by such stiffer certification a higher paid official. 'Let's face it,'' said Councilman Raymond Evans, "when we set the budget we didn't know anything about different classifications. didn't know ourselves how much an assessor would cost. I think we are sort of nit-picking."

Evans disclosed later that if Novi had to pay the "scale" normally paid top certified assessors it would cost in excess of $17,000.

Finally, Crupi ordered the minutes tabled pending

Bond's findings. Concerning the chairs for

Half Days in Offing

Schools reopened Wednesday morning in Novi without any major disrup-tions-except of course for the dilemma represented by the unfinished new middle school. Late last week teachers voted unanimously to return to school, without a new contract, provided the board agreed to temporarily extend last year's contract. In line with that proposal, the board in a subsequent special meeting agreed to the extension.

Specifically, the agreement means that the old contract will be extended no more than November 12---the date the Presidential freeze ends, according to Obrenovich, chief negotiator for the teachers.

Furthermore, it provides that the contract extension can be lifted by mutual agreement of both the teachers and the school board prior to the November date, he said. This latter clause, he explained, was added in the hopes that a new contract settlement can be reached before the expiration of the freeze.

Minor changes in last year's contract will have to be made, however, because of changes resulting in this year's school calendar and because of changes in class schedules, he added, noting that he saw no problems in such changes. "The teachers want to teach and they will not dispute minor changes to accommodate the school school district," he said.

Meanwhile, however, sewer delays at the middle school have forced a revisement of earlier announced schedules

at the junior-senior high school level, Superintendent

Thomas Dale revealed.

Because of the unanticipated delay, beginning Monday junior-senior high school classes will go on halfdays sessions and continue in this fashion for perhaps the remainder of September.

It will mean that middle school students as well as high school students will be using the high school facilities, High school students, explained Dale, will have classes from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., while middle school students will have classes from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. According to Dale, even though construction is far from finished at the middle school, officials believe part of the new facility could be used for classes had it not been for the sewer delay.

By NANCY DINGELDEY

It was quite a week, this past one. The kids are all settled back in school and mothers' are more or less getting used to the early morning routine Doesn't seem possible that the summer has almost drawn to Pearl Willis, along with Joanne Beamish, had a luncheon honoring the Police Chief's wife, the wives of two patrolmen, and the wife of the new city treasurer. Jerry VonBehren, Mary Pastula, Loretta Darlington and Joan Travis were introduced at the buffet luncheon at the Willis home last Tuesday.

The gals had the opportunity to meet and get to know some of the women of the city 'Among those attending were Lottie Chambers, Lillian Coe, Florence Trombley, Florence Coy and Marie Walsh. Mrs. Roger DeClerk, Beverly Paisley and Sharon Green, along with Mrs. Jesse Byrd, enjoyed the afternoon. An interesting note was that Gundella the witch, whom I told you about a short while ago, had appeared on the Morning Show on TV just a few days before the luncheon. During the conversation about Gundella, the gals found that Sharon Green probably knew her best of all Sharon had Gundella as a sixth grade teacher, although that was not the name she was known by and she also lived around the corner from her. According to Sharon, she didn't practice any witchcraft on the kids and was quite an energetic teacher My kids thought it was delightful to see on TV the lady I had told them about. Bob and I left on Wednesday for Mackinaw City and the Michigan Municipal League Convention which was held on the Island. It was my first trip to the Island so I was really looking forward to it. The weather was glorious all the time we were there but, according to the Islanders, it was unseasonable warm.

The Island is a beautiful sight when approaching by boat with the Grand Hotel dominating the scene. First impressions on entering the harbor was that of a quaint New England fishing town.We took the horse-drawn taxi up to the Grand Hotel, the convention headquarters and first impressions there were something of granduer. he grounds were impeccably landscaped and flowers bloomed everywhere. The world's longest porch was bordered by bright red geraniums and there's something about the red carpet that leads to the front doors!

I decided that the DPW jobs just couldn't be in much demand-those poor fellows were constantly patrolling the roads with wheelbarrow. shovel and broom. Twice a day the streets were completely hosed down

While Bob attended the various meetings, I had the opportunity to meet and spend some time with women from all over the state, one of which was a "backdoor neighbor", Mrs. Wilson Tyler from Northville.

2 Special

The Governor spoke at the opening luncheon and af-terwards, we had the chance to meet him. He is completely charming, very "electric" and looks just as great in person as on TV. Afterwards, the ladies had a tea at the Governor's residence which commands a spectacular view of the Island and surrounding straits.

The building was constructed in 1908 and the mansion itself is very stately and Victorian in architecture. The rooms are panelled as are the ceilings and fireplaces dominate each room. The porch which surrounds the front of the mansion is very wide and the atmosphere is one of total comfort and relaxation.

The mansion was bought by the State in 1945 and has since been designated the summer residence of the Governors of the State The land on which the Governor's residence stands was once a part of the nation's second National Park, Yellowstone being the first 'such designated area But in 1895, when the garrison was withdrawn from Fort Mackinac, the area, by Federal grant, became Michigan's first State Park. became

The Island is a picturesque place, with traffic jams caused only by the horsedrawn carriages and bicycles.

Congratulations to Dominique and Neal Salo on the birth of their daughter on August 24. She weighed in at 7 pounds, 7 ounces and has been named Carla Rachel. To welcome to baby home were Grandparents Elna and Paul Salo and Mrs. Wilhelmina Saenen of Valkenswaard, of the Netherlands who will be spending six weeks in Michigan. This is Saenen's sixth grandchild but the first girl Also on hand to greet little Carla was Mrs. George Stroud of Tuscon, Arizona, paternal great-grandmother. She and Mr. Stoud left last week after spending three months here in Michigan.

After spending three weeks in Finland, Esther Cavallero and Irja Salo have settled back down into the regular routine. Esther was a regular gad-about this summer. She no sooner arrived back from Finland but was off again with husband Al for a short fishing expedition 700 miles North of here in Ontario. The next weekend found them at Six Mile Lake for more fishing. While in Petosky, they celebrated their wedding anniversary by dining out at "This Old Place".

Most of Esther's time in Finland was spent in Helsinki although they did journey to Kuopio, about fifty miles from the Russian boarder, to, spend some time at a summer home.

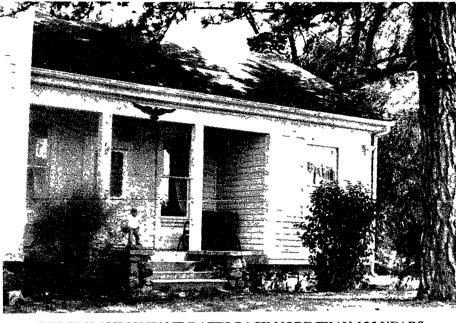

Esther said it was an enjoyable trip and everyone was very nice to her. The country itself reminded her very much of Michigan with white birch trees and pines everywhere.

Bill Calls For County Executive

A bill introduced recently by Senator Carl D. Pursell (R-Plymouth) to reorganize and restructure county governments earned favorable comment from the majority of some 500 delegates attending the annual convention of the Michigan Association of Counties August 21-25 at Boyne Mountain.

Pursell, in outlining his proposal to commissioners, emphasized the provision which calls for appointment or election of a chief administrator responsible for overall operation of county government.

"S.B. 1036 would permit county commissioners to détermine the policy of government and to administer their duties and responsibilities through a chief administrator who in turn would direct the many boards, commissions and authorities entrusted with day-to-day operations,"

Pursell's bill, which follows closely the recommendations of the Citizens Research Council, is permissive legislation, as opposed to mandatory. It makes optional the hiring of a county manager by the board or the election of an executive officer by the people.

, Should the county board feel that neither course is to its liking, it can proceed with the same form of government under which it is currently operating, the Senator noted. If elected, the executive officer would have veto power over the actions of the commissioners. The veto could be overridden by a two-thirds vote of all commissioners elected and serving, he explained.

In either event, appointment or election, chief administrator would be responsible for operation of county government, except for those areas under the jurisdiction of other elected county officials, Pursell said.

He observed that should the county board decide not to follow either course, his bill would provide for an election through successful petition drives by interested citizens. Regardless of which option us exercised, he said, some boards, commissions and sauthorities would be retained.

Also retained would be the elective offices of county commissioner, prosecuting attorney, clerk and register of deeds, treasurer and sheriff.

Pursell stressed that one of the chief streamlining features of his bill would be the combining of the offices of register of deeds and county

As now drafted, his bill specifies a partisan election if that route is followed. However, the Senator said he was contemplating a change to permit a choice of partisan or non-partisan elections for the office of chief administrator

... He explained that the administrator's four-year term would run concurrently with at of the governor

Pursell's departments responsible to the chief administrator would be: administrative services, finance, planning development, public safety, corrections, corporation counsel, parks and counsel, parks and recreation, personnel and employee relations, health and environmental protection, libraries, public works, institutional and human services.

The Senator said S.B. 1036 has received the unofficial endorsement of many "key members of both parties. Now in the Senate Committee on Municipalities, the measure will be discussed this fall in , joint hearings of the House and Senate.

1. Alternative methods of financing education must be found to replace the property tax. Under the present financial structure, however, the choice open to the Schoolcraft Board and to the public is property tax or nothing. I support this proposition because we must portunities for the young people and the older people who wish to attend college as we have for those already attending The half-mill for construction will allow the cour own first, and worry about college to sparticipate in others later, matching Federal and State funds, thus multiplying the amount of money available to the district. Participation in the Federal matching funds requires that the college show that it has funds to operate the building when completed. If there is tax reform on the part of the Legislature prior to the completion of the buildings, then there might be no need to levy any of the operational millage even upon completion of construction Over one-fourth of Schoolcraft's students are adults over the age of 25 Many of these people would not go to any college if Schoolcraft were not available Certainly we need to expand the college in the direction these people wish to with emphasis on vocational and work related courses. Another area that needs more emphasis is the Cultural center. Cultural activities, which are both enjoyable and constitute a part of our continuing education, should be expanded.

MARK J. BOWLBY

Born in Detroit, 18, lives at 16385 works parttime as surgical orderly a st Mary Hospital in Livonia, father is a Church plans to transfer to the University of Michigan (to live at home) where he plans to enter pre law

1 I support the proposed millage increase that will appear on the September 13 ballot. I can see first hand the good Schoolcraft has done those students who would otherwise drop out after high school, and I can see the quality education transfer curriculum students receive Schoolcraft has provided, through technical-vocational gram, an opportunity for students to receive the education or special skills necessary to hold a respectable job after graduating. It also helps those students on limited budgets to get a quality education while staying home. It is poor reasoning to assume that Schoolcraft can maintain its present level of income and expanding community. 2. I would be very much opposed to an increase in millage prior to completion of any of the new buildings. One

still maintain its level of education to an ever-reason would be a loss of confidence in the board by the community The public would become wary of any suggestions set forth by the board from that point on Yet, if it was absolutely necessary, through a gross oversight by the present Schoolcraft administration, that more was needed, one way would be to increase the tuition of residents from $10 to $12 per credit hour. That way the burden would fall on those utilizing the college rather than the community as a 3 The one major change I would like to see at Schoolcraft would be a change in the admissions policy Instead of taking both residents and non-residents to fill classes, the college should take all residents first, and then if there are any openings, take the non-residents. It is the residents who pay the taxes, so it should be the residents who have priority in choosing classes, or filling programs, such as the nursing program Let's take care of

1. Yes, I support the millage proposition as I feel that this is the only method to continue the financing of the program originally projected It is the type of millage that everyone should be in favor of for many reasons One reason is that it is a small amount of money for the amount of good it can do for our community. Also, it is this type of education that I feel has maximum importance in the education of our young people whether or not they wish to go to a fouryear college or whether they are interested in just one or two continuing education

2. I am assuming that you are interested in an answer to do with allocating monies from the half mill operation to be used for items other than the operation of the new facilities.

At this point I cannot see any need for using any of the millage money except to pay the bond requirements for the buildings and only at that time should these momes be used for the operation of the new facilities

Of course, there are always extenuating circumstances and unforeseen problems develop, in which event if these problems merit the use of these funds, I would reconsider. However, I am a believer that funds voted by the public for a specific purpose should be used for such purposes And only if I felt that the public wanted these funds transferred or used in another area would I monies for other than what the voters prescribed.

3. I am mainly interested in the development of the vocational-technical building and programs. I would like to see programs in this part of the college utilized for the specific needs of the community by having various noncredit courses for specific occupations or needs within the community I think the college must keep up to date on these needs and continue to be alert to the necessities of what the college can do in specific curriculums and courses that can give our community immediate the ballot millage is a voter amount The decision requested is not high for the 10-year expansion it will finance. Schoolcraft College should not be increased to provide for outsiders It should remain a college for residents of Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Northville and Clarenceville this millage can be rejected by 1971 voters and possibly approved in the future. Before more millage is approved non-resident tuition should be increased to approximately three times resident tuition 2 One mill has been presented by its sponsors as adequate for a 10-year building program. Assuming one mill is approved, the voters should not be pressed for additional millage for 10 years. Since the scope of Schoolcraft College should be limited to a localized Community College, it should not try to compete with a state university

1 Supporting or opposing

3 The General Catalog 1971-72 lists six purposes or objectives for Schoolcraft College. Major changes might stem from adding one additional purpose "To education students who will have a constructive loyalty to the United States, and will level constructive, not destructive criticism at American capitalism." This new purpose, because the educational system is the source of the rapid changes occuring in America today.

When we first established the Northwest Wayne County Community College District (Schoolcraft) 10 years ago the thinking and planning was in terms of an ultimate enrollment of 5,000 students. We have now exceeded that number and will continue to do so because obviously Schoolcraft is serving the educational needs of an increasingly large number of high school graduates and others in the district. The twoyear transfer programs and various technical programs, plus the comparative low tuition of $10 per credit hour all help account for the increased enrollment.

In the light of these factors, and until a better method of financing community colleges is found I must favor the passage of the millage proposals

2 I do not foresee the necessity of levying additional millage should the two proposals on the ballot pass. After all, this is an expansion program and the operation thereof, and the buildings will be constructed over a period of at least five vears to accommodate the additional five to seven thousand projected student enrollment by 1980

Should costs increase, the equalization factor in our present method of financing would presumably also produce more revenue for the mill that would be levied in stages as construction progresses. I am not in favor of an additional millage beyond this one mill, and concur with many homeowners who feel that a person's home is no longer a criteria of his wealth and that the legislature must come up with a more equitable means of funding schools and colleges.

3 There should be more extensive communication between the boards of education, administration, and advisory groups of the individual school districts and

Certainly, I would place greater emphasis on the vocational and technical programs, for in this era of advanced technology, technicians of every kind are in great demand and every student has a right to help be prepared to make a living

l. This was not an easy decision to come to. People seem to be reluctant when it involves an increase in millage. However, I do feel we must face facts. More funds are necessary for the continued growth of Schoolcraft College. The needs developing in this area are increasing and we should be prepared to meet them.

thought preparation must go into the development of facilities at Schoolcraft College. I for one do not want to find Schoolcraft College in the predicament of having more students than educational facilities. 2. I believe that a decision of this type is of such great importance that to give a negative or affirmative answer at this time would be out of line. But I will say this: the communities that comprise the Schoolcraft College district will grow. If a 2.77 mill is sufficient to grow with the communities I would not be in favor of additional 3. Schoolcraft College must develop programs that will be of help to the citizens it serves. In keeping with this I believe further development of the vocational-technical programs would be in order. There are many fine programs now being offered. But these should be expanded and new ones instituted as the need is seen.

1. I support the millage proposition since it seems evident that the need for more student facilities will increase the community population. A one-mill levy to follow through on the master plan seems reasonable and necessary.

2. No trustee or school official would go through the trauma of suggesting additional millage if there was any acceptable alternative. To say yes or no at this date would be to admit to a "stonehard mind" or a "don't give a darn" attitude. The situation of additional millage for completion or after completion, will have to be decided when that time

3. The only change or action that would aid Schoolcraft College would be some other means of support than the millage route, but until the legislature makes some other method possible or an oil well is opened, the communities involved will need to accept responsibility.

1. I disagree with what the money will be spent for. It is planned that facilities will be built so that the enrollment can be increased from 5,000 to 14,000. A student body of 14,000 is too big for Schoolcraft College. Also the Master Plan calls primarily for the construction of liberal arts facilities and expansion of the liberal arts aspect of the college and not the vocational education programs. In my opinion the major expansion should be in the field of vocational education as there are plenty of schools where the young people can receive training in liberal arts but there is not enough capacity where they can receive training in a vocational subject.

2. I would only favor additional millage if it was absolutely necessary to operate the vocational training courses.

3. Other than the expansion of vocational education I would insist that the so called executive or secret sessions of the board be eliminated. The public and the press are entitled to hear the pro and con debate on any subject before the board After all the public is paying the bill and are entitled to know why decisions are made.

, 1. I am not taking a position of support or opposition on the general purpose tax rate increase (.5 mill) or the capital improvement tax rate increase proposition (another .5 mill). I believe the newly elected members of the Board of Trustees, who are to represent the entire Schoolcraft College district can, with the results of the millage vote, follow the vote of the entire College district. I urge every citizen to study these two propositions and then vote their own conscience.

2 Postive action on the millage by the electorate must be seen as a mandate to move ahead with the Phase II Master Plan for Schoolcraft College's development during the next decade. I would levy the millage as the need for classroom and laboratory space becomes manifest by student applications. 3 The foremost problem Schoolcraft College has is to elect a Board of Trustees effectively representative of the entire college district. When this board is elected they set to work immediately on the problem of the college, listening to students, faculty, and administration. tlement of the office workers' dispute has first priority.

The board needs to improve its performance in contacting civic leaders in business, and government labor, organizations. I would like to the board minutes published in our newspapers as is now the custom in some school districts.

separation of capital, bond retirement and operating millage as understood in public school (K-12) levies. As I understand it, the .5 mill general all-purpose millage can be used for all three purposes; therefore conceivably, a salary and other operating increases could necessitate levying of additional millage for operating purposes on or near completion of buildings. Because the voters are led to believe this half mill is soley for operating costs, I oppose the present proposal as written and would insist any future millage proposals be fully explained to the taxpayers. 3. Immediate future emphasis should be in the improvement of Voc-Tech and career programs and facilities. I am pleased that the new president, Dr. Nelson Grote, is an expert in this Our young people, many financing their own reducation, need to develop marketable skills keyed to progress in business and dindustry. 1. I am in support of the millage proposals. millage increase is needed if the college is to continue its 'expansion plans to meet the growing needs of the community. The increase is necessary to retire the debt created by the systematic development of campus structures needed to house the 'rapidly growing student body and to operate the facilities once completed.

2 The Board of Trustees requested the constituency of the college district to approve a millage increase to expand the present programs of the college by new construction The millage increase is to be used to cover the additional operational costs created by the new facilities. I do not believe the new millage should be levied until the new facilities require additional funds for operation.

3. Rather than a major change or addition to the programs at Schoolcraft College, I would prefer to see more emphasis place on

1 I support the millage. The funds will be necessary if the college is to expand its facilities in order to provide a "quality" education for an increasingly larger student enrollment.

There are many students who cannot attend the major universities for one reason or another, as well as those who are particularly interested in some of the fine career-two vear courses. These students need a "Schoolcraft College."

2. If the millage passes, I would vote for levying part of the millage for programs specifically related to the additional new buildings, otherwise---no.

3. I would like to see the students and faculty represented by one of their own on the Board of Trustees. At present, the law allows them to have a non-voting advisory seat

Psychologically, this should provide for better cooperation and improved communication between the board of trustees, administration, faculty and students, therefore providing an all-around better environment in the college community.

1 I oppose the millage propositions that will appear on the September 13 ballot; I cannot in good conscience support a millage for the college under the present conditions Of the millage increase one-half is intended for maintaining present services, and one-half for construction. Presently, 30-percent of the students enrolled at the college are non-residents; this in a community long waiting list of resident students! Furthermore, scholarships for tuition, transportation, and lunch money are being granted (largely to inner city students) when students in the college area could use such

2. If I am elected, and the millage is approved, I will continue to oppose any further levy. Not only does the number of non-resident students admitted over residents force this decision, but the people of the college area, especially in Livonia, are too heavily taxed to allow me to betray their trust. I have witnessed so much irresponsibility in Livonia's school budgeting, coupled with murderous tax hikes that are half-killing senior citizens and seriously hurting working people, that any increase over the present taxes would probably be too much for them to bear. I think that the place to make the present cuts would be in their high-priced public school system, rather than allow the college to suffer.

3. At the present time I would not say that there are any changes which need to be made in college programs. I would favor more equality in hiring teachers; presently, the proportion of liberals to conservatives is lopsided and does not allow the student to hear more than one point of

I must also urge tougher law enforcement on the campus; some of the bolder students attempt to gain prestige by igniting reefers in the halls and campus center. The traffic in drugs at Schoolcraft must be stopped.

1. In view of the present economic circumstances and property assessment taxes I cannot support the millage proposal. Property tax reform is long over-due. Any additional millage would be adding to the problems of the already over-burdened taxpayer and also delay the much needed tax, reform.

2. No, I am not in favor of ANY additional millage for reasons previously mentioned.

3 Besides myself on the board, I would like to see Schoolcraft College become more of an active part of the community. There are many people in our community who are not even aware of the location of the college.

education.

Next Monday there's a millage election in Northville.

("Oh no, not again!")

Yes, again. For the second time in 10 years, Schoolcraft College is asking voters within the confines of its district—Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City, Clarenceville—for additional tax support.

("How much do they want this time.")

The request is for one mill, half for capital improvements and half for general operating purposes.

("How much are we paying them now.")

The current millage rate supporting Schoolcraft college is 1.77

When the college district was formulated in 1961, the rate was one mill. Building of the college actually began in 1963, when Northville joined the district.

In 1966 the college board of trustees asked the voters to approve an additional .77 mills to meet the needs of the rapidly-growing

So if voters approve next 'Monday's request, the millage levy for Schoolcraft College would become 2.77 mills.

("What do they want the money for?")

Glad you asked, that's what I was leading up to.

("Do you realize that you ended the last two sentences with prepositions? Don't they offer any courses in English grammar at Schoolcraft?")

I'll ignore that question. You're tampering with the literary freedom of the press.

The point is, my fellow taxpayers of Northville, we have in Schoolcraft College one of the best bargains ever offered by any form of government.

Assuming that the average taxpayer owns a home worth between $20,000 and $30,000, he's been paying about $25 per year for support of Schoolcraft College.

If Monday's request for one additional mill is approved, he'll pay another $15 per year.

What have we been receiving for our $25 per year? And what will we get for the new total of $40 per year?

Since classes began in 1964 Schoolcraft has served 16,469 students from the total district.

Northville's enrollment at the college has been 1,173.

Originally developed for 5,000 students, the campus is composed of nine buildings totaling 344,050 square feet on 150 acres. It is fully accredited by the North Central Association, has a library of 46,000 volumes, opened its doors to some 2,000 students in 1964 and currently accommodates more than 6,000.

Wisely, the administration and board of trustees has developed a plan for the next decade which envisions a 200-acre campus with seven new buildings, additions to three existing buildings and a student body of 14,000.

Even more wisely, in my opinion, the leadership of the college has recognized the tremendous demand for vocational-technical training and has clearly indicated its intent to place continued emphasis on this important phase of

In this regard it is significant to note that the new president of Schoolcraft, Dr. C. Nelson Grote, brings a background of voch-tech experience to the college. He was formerly director of industrial education for the Kentucky Department of Education an president of the American Vocation Association.

While still maintaining its accredited standing in liberal arts for the student planning to transfer to a four-year college, Schoolcraft is successfully creating a campus that mixes students with varied interests and goals.

The future English teacher, lawyer, doctor or sociologist becomes acquainted with the young men and women who will operate restaurants, repair engines, serve as nurses, landscape lawns and gardens and feed technical data into computers.

With the one mill it seeks Monday Schoolcraft plans to build additions to its vocational-technical center, the administration and campus center buildings, and to construct seven new buildings for fine arts, a library, a second science facility, two general education buildings, a business education building and a second vocational-technical building.

The 10-year plan cannot be accomplished all at one time, therefore the millage will be levied only as it is needed.

In addition, the college will continue its efforts to obtain federal and state funds to assist in its expansion program for the future.

Schoolcraft College is a goldmine of opportunity for young and old alike who live within its district and who have a desire to learn.

It is well worth the $25 a year it costs us now.

Monday every voter in Northville should stamp his YES vote of approval on the request for another $15 per year.

The administration and trustees of Schoolcraft College have proven in their first decade that they ask only for what they need, and they provide a giant-sized bargain in

Speaking for Myself

Should Nixon Dump Agnew?

Robert J. Huber

YES...

As a political scientist I am firmly convinced as to the efficacy of a liberal-conservative ticket-balancing strategy in contemporary American Presidential politics. Moreover, due to the relative liberal bias producd by the electoral college arrangement (which requires the successful candidate win in the big-city-states), I think reality dictates the balance favor the liberal position especially in terms of the image of the Presidential candidate. President Nixon has recognized these political facts of life and, faced with the potential threat of a united Democratic opposition and a seemingly diminished Wallace threat, attempted to "liberalize" his appeal as well as to develop a more statesman-like less political image with his recent foreign and domestic policy pronouncements.

Vice-President Agnew has in the meantime dutifully and quite successfully (I think too successfully for his own good) performed his assigned responsibilities of placating conservative interests, both within the Republican party and without. However, he has at the same time cultivated an image which has produced divisiveness and hostilities both within the GOP and amongst potential Nixon supporters. He has in other words worn out his political usefulness and I think threatens to undermine the credibility of Nixon's new 'liberalized-statesman-like' image.

The solution as I see it is for President Nixon to reassign Agnew's speech-writers to Martha Mitchell and select a more credibly responsible conservative---ideally John Connolly. As the GOP is clearly the minority party Mr. Nixon can ill afford to cross-pressure potential sup-

Mr. Agnew's qualifications include his years as a Governor and his years as the Vice President, which certainly are an excellent background for being kept as the running-mate of the President.

But far ahead of these qualifications is the symbol in the minds of the citizens of this country that Mr. Agnew's outspoken positions have created. The great silent majority believe that in the person of Mr. Agnew they have an honest, unbiased spokesman for the basic principles of freedom that have long been buried beneath the fear of a critical news media or militant, vociferous minorities.

These outspoken positions are necessary in a free society and the silent majority constantly searches for those individuals whose moral and political courage enable them to take such positions regardless of the consequences to their own personal future.

By picking Agnew as a running-mate, Nixon associates in the mind of the voters this concept that he also believes in this outspoken, honest, and uninfluenced position on key issues.

Our Choices: Bennett, Dumas, Raymond, Vallier

Many of the 17 candidates seeking election to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees are, we believe, well qualified for office.

With five to be elected---three for six year terms and two for two-year terms---we give our unqualified endorsement to the two women seeking election, Mrs. Mary E. Dumas and Mrs. Rosina Raymond, and to Leroy Bennett and Archibald Vallier. Mrs. Dumas seeks a two-year term, and Mrs. Raymond, Bennett and Vallier seek six year terms.

For the remaining two-year seat we are convinced that both Gerald Cox and Paul Kadish would make excellent board members but we are hesitant to rate one above the other.

In giving our endorsement to Mrs. Dumas and Vallier, we DO NOT share their opposition to the millage proposal appearing on the ballot. On the contrary, we are convinced the millage increase request is meritorious and deserves voter approval.

Our major difference with Mrs. Dumas and Vallier lies in the fact that these two candidates fear that not enough vocational technical education emphasis is represented in the millage proposal, while we are convinced that voch-tech is substantially enhanced by the proposal and that the liberal arts program also is improved but not at the expense of voch-tech.

In Vallier's case, we have long admired his critical analysis of all issues as a veteran member of the Plymouth City Commission and as a member of the old board of supervisors. If he is elected, voters can be assured that he will not become a "yes" man. Not easily convinced, he will rip apart all proposals, even his own, in an effort to reach intelligent decisions. The board will have to be constantly on its toes if it wants to avoid his prying, often stinging, criticism

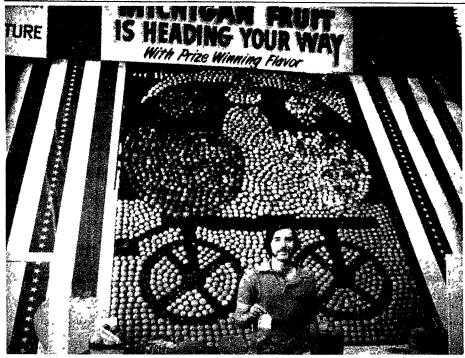

This same kind of thorough examination of all matters coming before the board will exemplify, we believe, Mrs. Dumas should she be elected. A very active, civic-minded woman, Mrs.

Dumas is perhaps the most conservative of the candidates we are supporting. While her views may at times clash with those of Mrs. Raymond, a liberal, we see their mixture of ideas and positions as a healthy balance. Like Mrs. Dumas, Mrs. Raymond has demonstrated an active interest and participation in her community and school system.

Although Bennett might be considered part of the college's "oldguard" because of his past service on the board, we believe his experience will be beneficial on a board that will be almost totally new. And we do not agree with those who, like Trustee James Boswell, discredit previous board members as being "provincial." Of all previous members, we are happiest to be rid of the do-nothing, belly-aching Boswell.

Cox, a darkhorse candidate in this election,

ANOTHER WINNER-That's a first-place smile Bill Foreman, 20, is wearing and it's no wonder. In this his first year entry in the coveted artistic division at the State Fair, he was awarded first place and $600 for his exhibit of fruit in the design of a wagon. Competition was a family affair as Bill's sister, Narda, placed second in the same division, with a fruit design of a schoolhouse, to win $500 prize money. Narda, incidentally, has won five firsts in this division over the past seven years. The Northville residents, who live at 49854 West Seven Mile Road, also teamed up in the educational division to win first and third places—good for an additional $400 in prizes. Winning State Fair fruit exhibit prizes is nothing new for the Foreman family, which has been exhibiting there for the past 40 years. The artistic division is one of the highest paid exhibits in the State Fair Agricultural

The future of

Schoolcraft College

(Our Community College)

Deserves A "YES" Vote

The Present

Founded in 1961 and opened to students in 1964, Schoolcraft College was originally designed for a capacity enrollment of 5,000. Over 6,000 students have registered for the fall semester which just got underway. Clearly, the college needs to expand its facilities.

The Proposal

The Board of Trustees proposes a one-mill tax increase to finance an expansion program which is designated "Phase II" of the Campus master plan. With voter approval September 13, the college can build, staff, and operate three additions and seven new buildings over the next ten years. This will allow Schoolcraft to meet the needs of a capacity enrollment now projected to number 14,000 students.

The Future

The request is in two parts:

1. One-half mill (.5) is earmarked for Capital Improvement — This will enable bonding for building and equipping the new buildings.

2. One-half mill (.5) is designated for General Purposes — this will provide money to staff, operate and maintain the new buildings.

Schoolcraft College is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Gridders Accelerate Drills

With their season-opening showdown just a week away, Northville coach Chuck Shonta and Novi mentor John Osborne are stepping up the pace of their workouts. Both Mustang and Wildcat gridders have found their practice sessions filled with more and more of the heavy contact work that so often spells the difference between victory defeat. At the left Novi starters Terry Auten and Bob Pisha seem to be trying out a new variation of the latest waltz, but there is nothing at all waltzlike when the two 200-plus pound linemen crash together. Nobody will confuse the intentions of Mustang linebacker Russ Mills with dancing (right). With the assistance of an anonymous lineman, Mills brings halfback Dale Griffith's short trek with the football to a rough and unpleasant end.

In Nichols' opinion, it's the board of education's fault that settlement hasn't been reached already He said that the NEA is now considering action against the board on two counts involving unfair negotiating practices.

'Twice we have accepted salary proposals offered by Superintendent Spear. Both times he returned to say the offers had been withdrawn because of refusal from the board. In addition, we think their 'take it or leave it' attitude is improper", Nichols stated. The areas where settlement has not been reached include class size, the school calendar and salary schedules.

"It's our belief (the teacher negotiating team) that Superintendent Spear is trying to circumvent factfinding, despite the fact that he called for it. As a matter of fact, he's admitted to us privately that we'll probably win under fact-finding", Nichols declared.

When scores of area resident travel this weekend to historic Marshall, Michigan for the widely publicized annual homes tour they may miss what could be the highlight of their trip.

That's because tucked away in the little community of Concord, several miles off the freeway route to Marshall, stands a house that has no rival in Michigan and yet is relatively unknown.

It's the Mann House, the only facility outside of Lansing operated by the Michigan Historical Commission—a division of the Michigan Department of State.

Opened to the public only 11 months ago its furniture and furnishing, according to Curator Richard H. Davis, "may very well make it unique in the United States. I've never seen a collection of period furniture in such remarkably good condition."

But the Mann House is more than a museum, explained Davis. "When you step through the 200-year-old fence surrounding the house you're stepping into the living past. you're visiting a home just as it was when built back in 1883, and everything about it gives you that feeling its original occupants will greet you in the next room.

Unlike the traditional museum, the Mann House, which is open free to the public, is unique in respect: visitors may not only look at its furnishing but they may also touch and handle them

"Have the urge to play the 1906 Edison phonograph? Don't hesitate. Put on a cylinder yourself...that's what it is for. We want our visitors to experience the past," he told this newspaper.

Surprised by the absence of "don't touch" admonishers, the more than 2,000 school children who have visited the home since it opened are its biggest boosters, said Davis

"But unfortunately, so few people are aware of the house or know where Concord is located that we haven't yet attracted the attention of many residents in your area who we know are fascinated by history. Maybe they'll visit us during the Marshall

Fully endowed, the house was built by the Daniel Man family in 1883-1884 and was left to the state by two history loving sisters, decendents of the pioneering Mann family, Miss Jessie Ellen Mann and Mrs. Charles H. (Mann)

Arrangements with the state were completed before the death of Mrs. Cady in 1959 and after the death of Jessie

Much of the planning had already been done when the state assumed responsibility for its operation since the sisters during the last 20 years of their lives began to inventory all furniture, paintings, and other household items. They also gathered related information about early Concord and of other Jackson County communities. Hundreds of photographs were preserved, and most of them contain complete identification.

The 11-room building has three large bedrooms, sewing room and toy room on the second floor, a father-mother bedroom, sitting room, for-mal parlor, dining room, kitchen and pantry on the

In addition, a large twostory carriage house stands on the spacious, picturesque lot next door to Concord's Presbyterian Church. It was here that the family horse. cutter, and buggy were kept. The cutter and buggy are on display as well as many exhibits of farm implements and household utensils.

Among the features inside the house which Davis finds particularly fascinating are Dining room—The table "is all set for a meal," with a sterling silver caster, sterling silver napkin rings, bone dishes, and a dried flower centerpiece which was so popular 100 years ago. Also in the dining room is a built-in china cabinet with pieces dating back to 1812—19 years before the little village was first_settled.

(Daniel Mann, born in New York in 1803, moved to the Concord region in the late 1930's. He was a prominent farmer and community leader until his death in 1876, His son. Daniel Sears Mann, was born in Concord in 1841. The latter was the father of sisters who bequeathed the house to the

Lawmaker's Unicameral Drive Picks Up Steam

LANSING - Nearly everyone dismissed the proposal as impossible last winter when state Rep. Joe Swallow of Alpena announced he was starting a drive to change Michigan from a two house to a one house Legislature.

After all, only one state in the nation has a single house setup and that state — Nebraska — initiated its system back in 1934. There have been no followers.

Swallow also has to contend with the fact that many groups which might be favorably disposed to the change can't really do much for him. They have to deal with the current Legislature and can't afford to offend lawmakers. Since Swallow's proposal would throw at least 72 lawmakers out of work by cutting the number of legislators to 76, it isn't very popular with most of his colleagues.

But the drive has begun picking up some steam and some observers are taking second and third looks at it.

BIGGEST SHOT in the arm by far came when the state Junior Chamber of Commerce voted to back the drive at its state convention. The move means that a statewide organization which has proven its ability to circulate petitions is now actively in the one house corner.

The Jaycees were instrumental in the petition drive which produced the constitutional convention 10

Rep. Jim Brown (R-East Lansing) was the first to join Swallow in supporting the unicameral concept. Rep. Dennis O. Cawthorne (R.Manistee) was second. Swallow's resolution asking for a referendum on the unicameral Legislature was introduced with the sponsorship of 19 representatives, so the drive is picking up steam. Many lawmakers are privately worried that if the proposal does make it on the 1972 ballot a disgruntled public will approve it as a means of "getting even" with the lawmakers by insuring that at least 72 of them have to go job hunting.

STATE SENATOR Basil Brown of Detroit voiced the fear on the floor of the Senate recently when he was complaining about the inaction of the Legislature on the state budget for the current fiscal year.

"We couldn't be doing Joe Swallow a bigger favor if we wanted to," he said. "Both houses of this two house Legislature are sitting around doing nothing. The voters may decide that if two houses do nothing, one house can do nothing just as

The drive, of course, still has a ... ), long way to go and is far from being successful. The point is that it isn't dead yet, and that in itself is a strong indication the idea is hitting a responsive note with a lot of voters.

THE LEGISLATURE inadvertently helped provide for the eventual end of the branch offices which for years have sold license plates for the Secretary of State's. office. It approved the use of checks to pay for license plates earlier this Result of this action will be that -. the party which holds the Secretary of State's office — that has meant's the Democrats for years — is going ... to lose more than $11,000 a year in donations.

Prior to this year, license plates had to be purched by cash. Thus, everyone had to go in person to a branch office to purchase his or her motor vehicle license plates.

Now that checks can be used, the Secretary of State's office has instituted a plan allowing license plate buyers to mail the check directly to the Secretary of State.

THE PREPARED applications for all persons who currently own ... motor vehicles will be mailed out shortly and the deadline for returning them will be December 31.

Secretary of State Richard Austin says the mail plan will probably result in an annual reduction of 15 percent in the sales volume of . branch offices. Since the branch managers are paid a commission on each plate sold, that means eventually the position of branch manager will be financially unprofitable.

THE HIGHWAY Department has been carrying on a steady campaign recently against the use of metal studded tires in Michigan. The tires, department researchers say do millions of dollars of damage to state roads each year while not, providing much additional traction for drivers who use them.

It had been assumed that one state highway - M-185 - would have been immune from the damage. The highway is eight miles long and runs around Mackinac Island, which bans all motor vehicles.

But the department now says that even that highway is being damaged by metal. The metal is the shoes of the horses on the island. The horses until recently were shod with rubber horse shoes but now use shoes with metal similar to that used in metal studded tires.

Babson Report

Savings 'n Loan Stocks Rebound

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. The common stocks of the savings and loan associations have rebounded sharply with the Administration's announcement of its new economic game plan. Much of this enthusiasm is attributed to the anticipated increase in loan demand and the lessened fear of disintermediation (withdrawal of funds to place in other higher-yield opportunities).

The outlook for loans should be enhanced by the stable or generally lower interest rates resulting from this new program, permitting the S&Ls to compete more favorably for the savings dollar.

SAVINGS DEPOSITS have been flowing in a record rate thus far in 1971. While it is doubtful that such a pace may long continue, it has nevertheless placed the S&L industry in a strong position to cope with the expanding demand for mortgage loans.

This improved liquidity has also allowed the Savings and Loans to repay the expensive Federal Home Loan Bank advances that were made during the tight money periods of 1969 and early 1970. The current rate of the FHLB funds is 63/4 percent, which is quite costly compared with the 5 percent paid on regular pass book deposits. Along with the decline in rates paid on term deposits, this resulted in solid first-half earnings gains for most S&Ls. We expect this upward trend to continue.

SUBSTANTIAL provement in demand for mortgage loans in the past few months is in sharp contrast to mortgage demand last year, when business was flagging badly and rates on mortgage loans were historically high. There has been considerable decline in rates from the peaks of twelve months ago, with chances favoring a sidewise movement for the balance of the year. The increase in the volume of loans has, however, offset much of the decline in rates.

'It is generally agreed that housing construction will be a significant contributor to the economic recovery. And, based on recent statistics for housing starts, residential construction appears to be heading upward.

This should result in a higher demand for mortgage loans for the remainder of this year and into 1972. Over the longer term, the market for housing - which in turn governs demand for mortgage money should show good growth. All this points the way toward more favorable conditions for the S&Ls.

THE BUSINESS weakness and the tightness of money over the past two years gave the Federal Home Loan Bank an especially good opportunity to demonstrate its importance to the savings and loan industry. In order to help the faltering S&Ls, the FHLB loosened reserve requirements, permitted the establishment of higher and more competitive savings interest rates, and made them special advances.

Last month reserve requirements were lowered in order to abate the climb in mortgage interest rates which began during the spring months. If this action should fail to get the desired results, the FHLB has indicated that it will reduce the rates charged on FHLB advances.

IN ADDITION, last year the Federal Home Loan Bank created a secondary market for conventional loans with the formation of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation. Even more recently, it proposed less stringent requirements on participation loans and has made provisions whereby S&Ls can make conventional loans with only 5 percent down payment.

These actions should serve to make the S&Ls more important factors in the mortgage market on a national scale over the years ahead. It also demonstrates the concern felt by the federal government for the housing market and how important the construction of residential homes is to the general recovery of the nation's economy.

Is there any price control over exports? : A. No.

Q. If farm prices of "raw agricultural products" are exempt, does this exemption of raw products follow through to retail?

A. Yes, if they move all the way in raw or unprocessed state. A head of lettuce is exempt from farm to housewife. Fresh eggs are not covered. Meat in the meat Icase is covered. Oranges aren't, but orange juice is. Fresh fish is, but frozen fish

A No.

Q. What is the selling price for a material if there have been dual price situations, i.e., a published price and a discounted price at which actual transactions were

A. Sales may be made at the highest price at which substantial volume of actual transactions were made during the 30-day period of time ending August 14. If products have been selling at a discounted price and not at the published price during the base period, the maximum price would be the highest discounted price at which substantial transactions were

If all homes were the same there'd be only one kind of electric heating system.

Homes are as different as the people who live in them —so just one type of electric heating system won't do. These are the more widely used kinds.

1. CENTRAL WARM AIR FURNACE Very compact. In it are electric heat coils through which air is propelled by the blower. For the best job yet of air cleansing, install an electrostatic filter.

2. HOT WATER HEAT Hot water from an electric boiler circulates to shielded radiators that look like baseboard. The boiler is small enough to hang on a wall or suspend from floor joists. 3. BASEBOARD UNITS These are installed along outside walls to provide a curtain of warm air between room occupants and the walls and windows. Temperature in each room is thermostatically controlled, independent of any other room. 4. HEATING CABLE Electrically insulated wire makes a grid across a ceiling; is fastened in place before finish plaster is applied. The entire ceiling becomes a radiator. Paint or decorate it as usual.

5. RADIANT PANELS Like the sun, they transmit heat by radiation. Panels are mounted on walls or ceiling. Heat radiates from such large areas that surface temperature of the panels need not be high.

With such variety, there are few heating problems which cannot be solved with electric heat. An Edison-approved electric heat dealer will survey your home; recommend the proper equipment; quote on installation; estimate your annual operating cost. No obligation, of course.

Trinity: Same God But Much More

Rev. Guenther C. Branstner First Methodist Church of Northville

The youth membership class was struggling with the word "trinity". Not exactly a household word for seventh graders. "Father, Son, and Holy Spirit." The question was raised that it sounded a little as though we believed in three gods...That thought was quickly shot down for if any one thing is clear in Old and New Testaments it is the idea of One God. But the idea demanded some better understanding.

The pastor tried to explain the concept of one God in three Persons. He told how old St. Patrick made the shamrock famous as his illustration for teaching trinity to the barbarians on the Emerald Isle. Three blades, but one Another familiar analogy was used. The idea of the Trinity has a similarity to water. Water can be an invisible gas, a liquid, or a solid. But it is always the same substance. This illustration lacks a key feature. God is personal and real. No where does this analogy convey the warmth and presence of personality.

Selecting one girl whose family the pastor knew well, he asked, "What do you call your mother?" "I call her Mom." "And what does your father call your mother?" With some girlish hilarity, "Sometimes he calls her Poonsie."

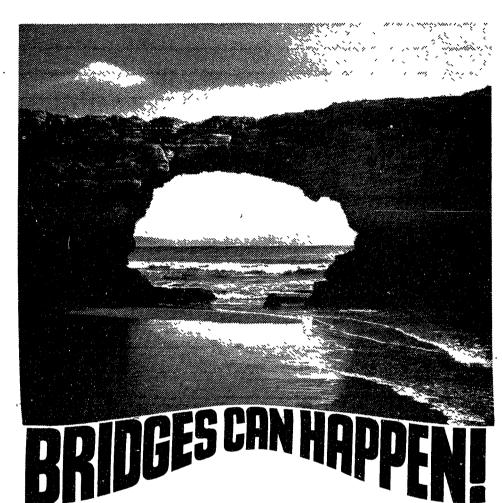

"Fine," smiled the pastor, "and I would call her Esther. 'Mom', Poopsie', 'Esther'; we have just proved that your father is married to three different women."

'On, no." protested the girl, "those are all the same per-

"Yes," added the pastor, "and now you can see how it is possible for one God to be seen as Father, the Son Jesus, and as the Holy Spirit present with us here and now." She nodded agreement at this clarification.

But the most important point was yet to be made. Singling out the girl who had contributed so much to the conversation, the pastor concluded. "But keep in mind that your mother, as a person, whatever names we may call her, is much more than the total of those names."

So it is with God

Not all bridges are built. When the sea pounds its relentless waves against a wall of rock . . . when the icy crust of a glacier spans a mountain chasm . . . when a giant of the forest falls across a stream . . . bridges simply happen.

Here perhaps is the parable of God's kind of engineering. Seemingly there are no calculations, no blueprints, no construction equipment. But results man can behold with awe and Yet some men are so wrapped up in their human projects they simply forget that God accomplishes anything . . . until their errors begin to show . . . their bridges start to crumble. Then they need Someone to stop the collapse.

It makes better sense to work with God in all that we build and in all that happens. The Church has been man's greatest source of help across the span of centuries.
