

DeHoCo Warden Raps Attica Critics

If Warden William Bannan, has any criticism of the Attica, New York prison tragedy it's aimed at the critics of actions taken there.

"Monday morning quarterbacking is not my game," declares the former warden of the world's largest walled prison at Jackson and now warden at the Detroit House of Correction in Northville-Plymouth townships, "and those who play it are foolish."

"They don't know what happened and I don't know, so how can we make an intelligent judgment."

Bannan, 71, will neither support nor criticize the action of prison officials in quelling the Attica disturbance with force that led to the deaths of 40 guards and inmates.

Without knowing everything about the prison and its particular problems, he cannot, he says, project what he might have done in the same situation.

Nevertheless, some of the philosophies and practices of Bannan suggest that he might be less prone to use force than some, but, given the situation of inmate violence, he would move with much more rapidity.

And violence in Bannan's book includes the holding of hostages—no matter how kindly such hostages are treated.

Generally speaking, Bannan takes the position that, unless violence occurs, prison disturbances can be more satisfactorily resolved by letting them wither on the vine.

That's why, he explains, he refused to use force recently to break up a sit-down strike by the female inmates of DeHoCo. "They weren't hurting anyone but themselves so why should we go in there and bust heads? If they had been looting or burning that would be a different matter."

Bannan concedes that his inaction was not popular among some guards and prison officials, who favored "storming" the prison yards to stop the strike.

Key to the success of this kind of inaction and to coping with rioting in general, he says, is to ban all contact between inmates and the press—a procedure he followed during the recent sit-down strike. "You start letting in everybody and their uncle it encourages inmates to hold out and intensify their demands. They thrive on the publicity."

"If it happens to me nobody gets in to help stir them up. And if they get violent we move right now. No waiting, no talk."

Contrary to recent reports, the New York prison system, insists Bannan, is one of the better ones in the United States. And Attica, he adds, has a pretty good reputation among correctional officials.

He knows both the Attica warden and the New York prisons director.

Shortcomings at Attica and elsewhere, he contends, fall right in the lap of the public which fails to provide funds to improve their prisons. Here in Michigan, he adds, the situation "is better" in that the facilities themselves are being improved. Nevertheless, insufficient funds are provided for personnel and in this area, he argues, Michigan must plead guilty.

But compared with other states, Michigan prisons, like those in New York, are at or near the top, he says.

At Jackson, where he served as warden for more than 10 consecutive years—longer than any man in its history, there are no major problems suggesting it is "ripe" for a situation such as at Attica, he says. However, "these things come and go in cycles. So, I think you'll probably be seeing more of it just because of the communication between inmates of prisons."

(He defines this communication as newspapers, radio, television, magazines, visitors, letters, etc.)

Bannan is convinced, as are many other correctional officials, that a radical element is spearheading revolution from within and without the nation's prisons. It is a minority element but

SHOW STOPPER—There had been many top-notch shows at Lofy's in Plymouth Township but none as big as Sunday's show stopper—a roaring early morning fire that reduced the popular nightclub to a pile of rubble. Nine Northville firemen joined fire fighters from throughout Northwestern Wayne County in a futile battle against the flames that wiped out singer Gordon MacRae's scheduled appearance this week. The fire is under investigation. See related picture on Page 11-A.

Water Bottleneck

Solution Sought For Rusty Line

Three alternative suggestions concerning city water lines serving township residents west of the city limits will be presented to the Northville Township Board soon.

The city council Monday directed City Manager Frank

Ollendorff and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to present the alternatives to the boards in hopes of resolving a knotty problem.

Basically, the alternatives are these:

1. Do nothing, which means water service will continue to be inadequate and faulty.

2. Turn the lines over to the township, meaning the township would then be responsible for improving the lines if it so desires.

3. Permit the city to make a major improvement and permitting the city to accept new township customers to help pay for the cost of the improvement.

Presently, the lines west of Clement are in poor repair, under-sized, and lack adequate pressure to satisfactorily service existing township residents, according to the manager. (The lines were installed before the township got into the water business).

Frequent township complaints are received, especially in summer months, he said.

Cost of the first phase of the proposed improvement, which would involve looping a main from Thompson-Brown's Lexington Commons development, south on Clement to West Main to the city limits, has been pegged at $18,000.

River Cleanup Set Saturday

The Rouge River clean-up campaign will get underway at 10 a.m. Saturday in Northville with volunteers asked to assemble at the Horsemen's Track Office, corner of Beal and Church streets.

The clean-up, sponsored locally by the Jaycees and Rotary Club, has been coordinated with clean-up drives in all communities through which the Rouge River flows.

The City of Northville has donated two trucks and a front end loader for the clean-up and Michigan Bell Telephone has also donated a truck. Volunteers with power saws are still needed, a spokesman said.

Lunch will be provided for all workers by the Northville Jaycees.

The clean-up is expected to last until 3 p.m.

Over Police Protection

Verbal Barrage Rocks Township

A meeting at which long-range police protection proposals for Northville Township were to be discussed turned into a stormy public hearing Tuesday night when more than 40 persons crowded into Township Hall to express their views on police protection.

Motions were made and supported by the audience to cease further discussion with the City of Northville to provide police protection and one resident even questioned the township's policy of allowing rezoning for multiple dwelling units.

A few of those who attended the meeting came to have questions answered, only to learn township trustees themselves have questions that must be answered before any decisions can be made.

The majority of the audience, however, voiced the feeling the township should establish its own force and not contract with any other agency.

Proposals before the township include:

- Contracting with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for one car (eight men), 24 hours per day, seven days a week at a cost of $189,000 per year.
- Contracting with the City of Northville Police Department which has proposed a 23-man force to patrol both communities at a yearly cost of $360,000 (total budget for the entire department, approximately half of which would be paid by the township).
- Building up the current two-man township force to where it can provide adequate protection for the township.

Though no firm cost estimates have been placed on building up the township force, a five-year plan prepared last year by Chief Ronald Nisun estimated that an 11-man force by 1975 would cost an estimated $205,000.

However, Nisun noted his figures are based on the township force working with another police agency as a back-up unit.

He also said no provisions are in the figure for a building to house the department, fringe benefits, administrative costs or more rapid growth of the township than projected which could result in the need for more officers than anticipated.

Trustee Bernard Baldwin contended the township police force projection figures "are not accurate and must be updated before we can tell the community what it will cost to provide a township force five years from now."

Mrs. James Tellam told trustees she wants "enough information on the three separate proposals so I can determine in my own mind what is best for the township."

Trustee Charles Schaeffer noted that it has not yet been discussed what protection we need," he said, "then what we can afford to pay and what has been offered to us."

Salaries Revealed

Following the ratification this week of the master contract between the school district and the Northville Education Association, salaries for central office administrators have been announced.

The salaries, which have been in effect since July 1, are not affected by the wage and price freeze.

Superintendent Raymond Spear will be earning $26,750; Earl Busard, business director, $19,500; Miss Florence Panatoni, director of instruction, $20,000; and Robert Benson, director of personnel, $17,000.

Principals' salaries have not been resolved yet, Spear said, and will be "partially affected by the freeze."

Teacher-Board Ink Contract

By a unanimous vote, school board trustees ratified the master contract with the Northville Education Association Thursday night.

The vote marks the first time in the last five agreements the board has unanimously ratified the pact.

On Wednesday, NEA members ok'd the contract by a 91-24 vote, according to Cyril Nichols, president of the association.

Only one section of the contract met with disagreement from trustees. The section, new this year, provides that should the school district change insurance carriers, "provisions will be made in any new contract for coverage of retired employees at no expense to the district."

Trustee Richard Martin took exception to the provision, noting the district is "laying the ground work to get mouse trapped."

"You're starting to worry

Township Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond said that if the township "works within the framework of our budget and gradually builds up the township force, we can afford our own department" financed through the growth of the tax base.

"We can't afford an elaborate 15-man force overnight without a millage increase," she said.

Though Nisun's report indicated his plan did not call for extra millage, he explained that the entire increase in revenue from an expanded tax base would have to go toward the police budget. Increases in any other township services would necessitate a millage increase.

Melvin Mitchell, father of township Trustee Richard Mitchell, asked board members why "money is being spent for meetings when we have an efficient police department."

"Why are you fooling around with the city police department when they have only two square miles to patrol and are inefficient," he charged. "We have a force that can grow with the township."

Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg said the board has been meeting with the sheriff, city "and tonight's meeting so we can get the opinion of the residents and see what is the best way to go.

"The money for meetings is not being spent foolishly," he retorted.

(Trustees Mitchell, Schaeffer, Baldwin and Klein, who was absent from Tuesday's meeting, are paid $20 per meeting. The clerk, supervisor and Treasurer Joseph Straub, employees of

Carl Lehtola Weds Roberta Willacker

Roberta Rae Willacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Willacker, Jr., 27650 Taft Road, Walled Lake, became the bride of Henry Carl Lehtola, son of Mrs. Laila Lehtola of West Bloomfield, in a Nuptial Mass August 27.

Father James Mayworm officiated at the 6:30 p.m. ceremony at St. William's Catholic Church in Walled Lake.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with a sequin-trimmed wedding ring neckline, Victorian sleeves, fitted waistline and full skirt extending into a chapel train. A seed pearl petal headpiece held her full-length Chantilly lace mantilla veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, baby's breath, carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Martin Willacker III was matron of honor for her sister-in-law in a long-sleeved gown with white bodice and orchid chiffon over taffeta skirt with a deep purple sash at the empire waist. She wore a white picture hat with orchid streamers.

Bridesmaids, in matching costumes in white and deep purple, were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Richard Lamphier, Denise Buskin, Mrs. Anthony Rogiero, and the bride's sister, Annette.

Leigh Ann Lamphier and Carla Willacker were flower girls in identical gowns made by the bride's mother. They were fashioned with long-sleeve bodices of white dotted swiss with lace and purple button trim and deep purple skirts. They wore purple-ribboned white hats.

All attendants carried baskets of multi-colored carnations, mums, daisies and greens.

James Lehtola was his brother's best man. Ushers were Richard Lamphier, Gordon Kinnunen, John DeBruyn and the bride's brother, John Willacker. Ring bearers, carrying the rings on orchid heart-shaped pillows, were Alan Lamphier and Jeff Willacker.

Guitar music by "The Carpenters" chosen by the couple was played and sung during the ceremony by the bride's cousins, Mike and Teresa Gardner of Battle Creek. Robert Desomier of Walled Lake was organist and soloist during the offertory.

Both mothers chose pink ensembles for the wedding and wore corsages of multi-colored sweetheart roses and carnations.

A wedding reception for 300 followed at Roma Hall in Livonia.

For her wedding trip to Mackinac Island and the "Upper" Peninsula, the bride chose a three-piece hot pants suit of white and purple satin. The newlyweds will make their home in Farmington.

LWV Target: Young Voters

League of Women Voters Week in Michigan, September 19-25, ushers in a far-reaching local program to help educate and register new voters in the 18-20 age group.

Through civics class programs in Northville and Plymouth high schools, the Northville-Plymouth League announced, it will help provide voter registration information.

It also will aid in sponsorship of a public political awareness course at Schoolcraft College and will continue to hold nonpartisan meetings to introduce candidates for public office to the public.

As Governor Milliken officially proclaimed LWV

Week and urged recognition of the "innumerable and meaningful contributions to the more effective and responsible citizenship that have been made by the League of Women Voters," the local league initiated its fall finance drive here.

League members point out that the league is non-profit corporation which derives funds from members and the community which it serves. Funds enable the league to "pursue concerns for the deepest problems of society," which it lists as welfare, taxation, education, environmental quality, U.S. Congress and locally, schools and community planning.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER ANDERSON WHITE

Outdoor Rites Unite Couple

Pines and birch trees formed an "outdoor cathedral" as Ellen Marie Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Simmons, Jr., of Wixom, became the bride of Walter Anderson White, Jr., in an outdoor ceremony beside the Black River at Gaylord, Michigan, September 3.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. White, Sr., of Walled Lake. The Reverend David E. Church of Walled Lake United Methodist Church officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Music for the informal, peasant-type ceremony was taped and included Handel's "Water Suite," selections from "Flower Drum Song" and pieces from a recital at Interlochen in which the bride had performed.

For the wedding she wore a French peasant dress, bone-colored and trimmed with matching crocheted lace. Her tiny nosegay and floral crown were fashioned of fall flowers and baby's breath by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Thomas Simmons of West Bloomfield.

The bridegroom wore a white lace wedding shirt to carry out the peasant theme. Cynthia Buttenmiller of Walled Lake wore a cream-colored gown, similar in style to the bride's and trimmed with embroidery. She also carried a nosegay of fall flowers.

James Bennett, a friend from University of Michigan, was best man.

Both mothers made their long, peasant-style gowns. The bride's mother chose pale green with deeper green trim while the bridegroom's was in a floral print.

Sixty guests, close friends of the couple and relatives, attended. A reception was held at "The Riverhouse," summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barley of Milford, friends of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Toronto, the new Mrs. White changed to a one-piece pantsuit in rust, covered with a brown suede-look cardigan. Both are seniors at University of Michigan where she is majoring in education and he is in pre-law. They will make their home in Ann Arbor.

In Our Town

BY JEAN DAY

NEW TOWN HALL Chairman Mrs. Jack Doheny "coped" with her first big emergency this week as, within hours of the fire which ravaged Lofy's Restaurant in Plymouth, she had found a new location for the first celebrity luncheon to follow Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen's opening lecture October 14.

The group will be welcomed at the new Holiday Inn in Farmington at Ten Mile Road near Grand River and the expressway. By 9:30 a.m. Monday morning—the day following the Lofy fire—Mrs. Doheny had telephone arrangements completed and ready to take to her board Tuesday.

Town Hall will have the use of newly-opened banquet facilities with luncheon price remaining at $3.50, the same as the board had negotiated at Lofy's. Transportation, it was pointed out, will be convenient as members can drive from the lecture at Northville High School north to Ten Mile and then directly east to the new inn.

(Perhaps Director Romney remembered the poster collage Lynne and other Young Republicans had made to welcome him when he was governor.)

In Washington Lynne lived with the family of a Kalamazoo College classmate.

ANNUAL FALL membership tea of the Western Suburban Junior Women's Club, which now has many Northville members, is planned for 2 to 4 p.m. this Sunday at Kings Mill Clubhouse.

Mrs. Bruce VanDeusan, assistant junior director of Michigan, from Birmingham, is to be guest speaker.

Mrs. James Clarke, club membership chairman, invites interested young women (under 40) who would like to attend the tea and learn about the group's activities to call her at 349-4558.

One of the club's most successful fund-raising projects has been classes in wreath-making. Proceeds are earmarked for scholarships at Schoolcraft College, Girlstown at Belleville and a baby clinic in Livonia.

ADD to the list of residents-on-the-move the H. Clarks of Fanner Court West. They moved last week to Hinsdale, Illinois, where "H" (who managed firmly to use only one initial) has been promoted to divisional sales manager of Nalco Chemical Company.

The Clarks moved away almost exactly three years from the time they arrived, but have been active community participants. Mrs. Clark was a girl scout leader and a worker for Newcomers.

While looking forward to decorating the 40-year old, three-story country home they have purchased in the Woodlands area of Hinsdale, Callie Clark comments that they "enjoyed living in Northville so much."

TODAY (Thursday) is the fifth annual Presbyterian Home Tour in Northville. Five homes will be open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Tickets at $2 are available (with a map) at Northville Presbyterian Church on Main Street where a bake sale is being held by women of Northville United Methodist Church.

Tickets also can be purchased for the luncheon at Northville St. Paul Lutheran Church.

NEW PRESIDENT of Schoolcraft College, Dr. C. Nelson Grote, and Mrs. Grote have been invited to meet Northville civic and educational leaders at an open house Sunday being given by former Schoolcraft Trustee and Mrs. B. William Secord at their new home at 20001 Springwood Drive.

Many will be meeting the new president for the first time as he arrived during the summer. He follows Dr. Eric J. Brader, founding president, who retired. Dr. Grote comes from Morehead State University in Kentucky where he was dean of the school of applied science and technology.

LYNNE RATHERT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rathert of 450 Maplewood, returns to Kalamazoo College to begin her sophomore year. Sunday after holding a summer job with the HUD program in Washington, D. C.

Politically oriented Lynne, whose mother reports—is working toward a career in government, national or foreign, wrote HUD Director and former Michigan Governor George Romney, seeking a job on the HUD staff. To her surprise, she received a telephone call, took the civil service examination and was on her way to Washington, D. C.

Elsie Price Aids Oakland Writers

Area authors will join writers and editors from throughout the United States at Oakland University October 16 for the 10th annual conference on the Craftsmanship of Creative Writing, which is now the largest one-day writers conference in the country.

Forty working writers will discuss their writing techniques during the conference, which is co-sponsored by Detroit Women Writers and Oakland University's Division of Continuing Education.

along with co-chairman Phyllis Green (Mrs. Robert) of Livonia.

Mrs. Price, who writes articles for The Detroit Free Press, Detroit News Sunday Magazine, The Lutheran Witness, The National Observer, Women's World, Young Explorers, and Concordia Children's Newspapers, will head up one of the conference topics—"Cutting Your Manuscript."

Keynote speaker will be Hayes B. Jacobs, author of Writing and Selling Non-Fiction and of articles and stories in The New Yorker, Harpers, Esquire, Saturday Review. He also is director of Writing Workshops at The New School in New York City, and editor of The New York Market Letter published monthly in Writers Digest.

Novelist Alison Lurie, author of Real People, Love and Friendship, The Nowhere City, and Imaginary Friends, will highlight the first of three sessions in which conferees can choose round tables on fiction, non-fiction, poetry and drama.

Other out-of-town speakers include nationally syndicated columnist Ellen Peck, editors Joan Kahn of Harper and Row, Richard Grossman of Viking Press, Norma Ainsworth of Scholastic Magazines and Virginia McFarland of Poet Lore.

Detroit poet Peter McWilliams, who has sold more than 250,000 copies of his books and is known as "the young Rod McKuen of Michigan," will lead off the first poetry section themed to 'the art of creating' and will be followed by Michigan poets Elinor K. Rose, Albert Drake, Naomi Long Madgett, Eugene Haun and Dudley Randall.

Sessions on writing and marketing the short story, article and book have been expanded to include science fiction techniques.

Persons wishing additional information may call Mrs. Price at 349-0138 or Marilyn Lyman at MI 6-0846.

Ward Cooks Mark 60 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ward A. Cook, 242 South Center Street, were surprised on their 60th wedding anniversary last Wednesday, September 15, with many congratulatory cards and plants.

They first lived as newlyweds in Northville with his parents at their present address. They were married at the Detroit home of Jennie Cook's parents by a Presbyterian minister.

Her husband, who is 91, was born in the Cherry Hill area of Detroit and was brought here as a baby when his parents moved to Center street.

After they had been married five years, he was transferred to Duluth, Minnesota, to become foreman and then superintendent of a U. S. Fish Hatchery. When it closed in 1949, they retired to Northville.

The couple has no children. Both have been active in local Masonic work, belonging to the Eastern Star. He belonged to the local lodge, chapter and commandery until a recent fall made it impossible to get out.

Both have been active members of the Northville First Presbyterian Church. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure cited their "genuine loyalty" to the church in a special prayer September 12 as he mentioned their attendance in church has not been possible recently.

Many friends, therefore, had an opportunity to remember their marriage milestone.

Engagement

An October 2 wedding date has been set by Patricia Susan Leppien, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Leppien of 42065 Baintree Circle, Plymouth, in Northville Commons, are announcing her engagement to Donald James Finney of St. Louis, Missouri.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finney of St. Louis. The Leppiens, who are newcomers to Northville, formerly lived in St. Louis. The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of Parkway Central High in St. Louis.

Her fiancé is a 1971 graduate of Riverview Gardens High School and is attending Florissant Valley College in St. Louis. He also is employed with A & P there.

News Around Northville

A surprise dinner party given by her husband feted Mrs. C. A. Smith Sunday afternoon in honor of her 80th birthday. Some 28 members of the family, relatives and close friends attended the dinner at the Holiday Inn at 10 Mile and Grand River.

Lending a special touch to the festive occasions was the large message on the Holiday Inn sign located at the front of the facility. In large letters so that all passersby could read it, the message proclaimed, "Happy 80th Birthday Ida Smith."

The Smiths, long-time residents of this area, lived on Nine Mile Road.

Moraine Elementary School will hold its annual fall PTA open house at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, September 30.

Northville High School on-the-job training students are selling candy to raise funds for a spring banquet honoring their employers.

The door-to-door sale will continue through September 30 with a goal of 2,250 chocolate bars.

Lapeer Parents Association for Retarded Children will hold its 22nd annual bazaar and fall festival from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday, October 2, at the I.O.O.F. Hall, West Twelve Mile Road, Berkley, between Coolidge and Greenfield roads.

Lunch and dinner will be served. A variety of booths is planned, as well as door prizes.

Eight state employees at Northville State Hospital attended the 21st annual general assembly of the 19,000 member Michigan State Employees Association (MSEA) September 17-19 in Grand Rapids.

They were Robert Hampton, Leonard Weems, Martha Tregear, Sallie Dinwiddie, Shirley Gerber, Georgia Brown, Billie Kirk, and Mickey Bryce.

Northville Mothers' Club will open its fall season with a business meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. H. O. Evans, 20311 Woodhill Road.

Mrs. James Armstrong was hostess for the first meeting of the new year for Silver Springs Quilters last Wednesday at her home. Mrs. Richard Fox of Plymouth presented the program on "Iron Banks."

Methodist Picnic Set

The First United Methodist Church will hold its annual all-church picnic Sunday, September 26, at 1 p.m. The picnic will be at the "Willows" at Waterford Bend, Six Mile Road just off Northville Road.

The potluck picnic is for the entire family, the Reverend G. C. Branstner, pastor of the church, said.

Coffee, soft drinks, hot dogs and rolls will be furnished.

Games, both planned and impromptu, are set for the afternoon. Included will be the mysterious castle, smile-frown, treasure dig and balloon toss.

"Last year's unscheduled football game will probably 'happen' again, too," Mr. Branstner said. "Everybody wins in some of these games and there are boxes of prizes and no real losers."

Newcomers to the community are invited to attend and Mr. Branstner said they "will find this a pleasant setting in which to get acquainted."

She brought both mechanical and "still" banks from her collection, which was begun 10 years ago. She noted that the price on most has doubled since then. Next meeting will be October 20. Chapter members also are making plans to attend the state fall meeting in Ann Arbor's Hilton Hotel October 13.

Northville Senior Citizens Club will hold a cooperative dinner with social hour following at 6 p.m. next Tuesday in the social hall of Northville Presbyterian Church. New members who have joined during the summer are reminded by the social committee to bring a passing dish and table service.

Church Plans 'Big' Bazaar

A preview of the wide variety of items for the fall bazaar of St. Paul Lutheran Church is being given today as the Lutheran women serve luncheon from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the church during the Presbyterian Home Tour.

At the luncheon there are to be displays of knitted and crocheted work, which ranges from baby wear to afghans and vests, candles, wooden wares and Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Roy Herald and Mrs. Warner Krause, bazaar co-chairmen, have been working to make the bazaar November 12 an especially large one in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the church.

The women of the church have been saving proceeds from their projects for a kitchen remodeling, but to mark the milestone anniversary have voted to donate the first $750 of the bazaar proceeds directly to the church.

Every alternate year the Lutheran women plan a large bazaar with baked goods, candy, candle, Christmas, nearly new, card and boutique booths.

A sewing workshop was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles Kehrner, and a craft one using pine cones is slated today at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Rathert.

The committee emphasizes that there are to be no advance sales this year of bazaar items so that the early shoppers will receive the choice bargains. These include solid walnut candleholders and bowls (made by hand by a member's father), colorful afghans in washable wool and fresh breads and cakes.

The bazaar will run from 9:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. with a snack bar open for coffee and donuts. Luncheon snacks will be available through the noon hours.

'GETTING TO KNOW YOU'—Marge Gibbs, director of consumer affairs for Chatham Food Centers, talks with Mrs. Sam Stephens, 326 Debra, about her grocery shopping habits, while three-year-old Kara, listens. Mrs. Gibbs, Detroit's only consumer representative for a grocery chain, paid her first visit to the new Northville store last week.

She's First in Detroit

Chatham Hires 'Consumer Voice'

Marge Gibbs, director of consumer affairs for Chatham Food Centers and Detroit's only consumer representative for a grocery chain, came to Northville last Wednesday to inspect the firm's new store at 425 Center Street.

She hadn't made it here for the opening as she was busy judging canned and baked goods at the State Fair at the time. Mrs. Gibbs has been a fair judge for 20 years through her previous work as consumer marketing information agent for Michigan State University and the Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"It's a people program," is the way she describes her new post with Chatham. Roaming the aisles of the new Northville store, Mrs. Gibbs concentrated on the meat and produce areas as she stopped customers to ask for comments.

She cited these departments as most important in the highly competitive food industry in the Detroit area. (There was only praise for the new store Wednesday, but shoppers are invited to write her with questions and suggestions.)

Pointing out the "unit pricing" labels on the store shelves, Mrs. Gibbs asserted that shoppers can save 10 per cent on family food bills "when shopping by price alone" and checking the shelf prices.

She regrets that many shoppers still are not aware of the "unit pricing" concept which Chatham was one of the first to introduce in Detroit. One of her job aims is to make the public more aware.

By checking a "unit price" label, the shopper can see exactly how much she is paying by measure for an item. One can of fruit may cost 17 cents an ounce while another would be 25. Mrs. Gibbs illustrated, explaining that one may be fancier to serve as a dessert while the other would be just as satisfactory in quality but perhaps not so perfect. The latter would be a better buy for using in a recipe or for economy.

"Detroit area has the lowest food prices of any major city in the United States," Mrs. Gibbs declares, explaining that the grocery business here is "highly competitive" with many food specials regularly offered.

Another Gibbs suggestion for economy-minded shoppers. Shop for the store's own brand name products. "Staff," the name brand at Chatham stores, she illustrates, is the name used on products packaged especially for the chain.

"You're not paying for a national brand name," she said, so the items are a few cents cheaper. She defended national brands by pointing out that there would not be the quality of products available today without them.

Mrs. Gibbs, who is well known for her years of service in the food field, says she has had more than 150 letters from consumers since assuming her post in June.

She hopes to establish a Chatham Consumer Council similar to those she operated when she was MSU marketing agent.

For her consumer work, which began long before the term became a popular one, Marge Gibbs has been cited as one of Detroit's Top Working Women and was recipient of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Award for superior service in 1967. She has served as an appointee to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and as president of the Women's Advertising Club of Detroit as well as on Detroit Budget Council and Red Cross and UWCA advisory boards.

A graduate of Wayne State University in home economics, Mrs. Gibbs stresses that she hopes to "serve the consumer" as well as "sell" Chatham.

While she is the only consumer affairs representative for a food chain in the Detroit area, she points out that she has 50 counterparts in other major cities throughout the United States.

When asked about Ralph Nader's criticisms of the food industry, Mrs. Gibbs conceded that "there's a place for Ralph Naders" but pointed out quickly that he has generalized in his statements and "every state has different food laws. Michigan has one of the most strict ground food laws with standards above federal ones."

Michigan, she stressed, long has watched meat content in hamburger and hot dogs. She added that the widely publicized film on contaminated meat "never should have been shown in Michigan" as those conditions do not occur here.

Authority May Build Municipal Complex

First steps toward construction of a new municipal complex for the City of Novi were taken Monday night by the city council with the adoption of a resolution for formation of a public building authority.

Basically, the building authority will allow the city the right to raise money for public building projects without having to go to a vote of the people.

(It is the same kind of organization that in Northville recently constructed that community's parking deck).

Due primarily to objections raised by councilmen Raymond Evans and Edwin Presnell, approval of the articles of incorporation necessary before the building authority can come into being were postponed until the October 4 meeting of the council.

The objections of both Evans and Presnell concerned proper notification and education of the people.

Said Evans: "I can foresee a lot of possible static from the people once the building commission actually starts building."

He urged the council hold a public hearing so that possible future negative reaction to the work of the commission can be met with the announcement that a public hearing had indeed been held on the question of incorporating the commission.

Mayor Joseph Crupi stated, however, that although he had no objections to a public hearing, legislation of this type did not require one.

Presnell's objections concerned proper notification of the public of just what formation of the commission would entail.

"Does the public know," he asked, "that under the proper set of circumstances an ad valorem tax can be spread to cover the costs of a default in a lease?"

"We're giving broad powers to a building authority," he continued, "that might affect the faith and credit of the community. I am not questioning the need for such an authority, but I think it's important that the public should know what we're about to do."

Although incorporated by the city council, a building authority exists as a separate entity and is governed by a three-man commission, usually headed by the city manager, appointed by the council, it was explained.

The building authority raises money for construction through the sale of bonds, going first through the Municipal Finance Commission, which must approve all bond issues.

Once the buildings are completed, the authority then leases them out while maintaining ownership, acting as virtual landlords.

Although there have been instances where building authorities have leased buildings to private concerns, in most instances buildings are leased to municipalities.

The probability of an ad valorem tax being levied on the people rests on the possibility of a default in the lease. In that case, the people of the city must then bear responsibility for repaying the building authority.

In another item of business, the council approved a request for an approximate $30,000 increase in the budget of the building department for the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The action came in response to a request from Director of the Department of Building and Safety Earl Bailey for more personnel.

Citing the increased work load on his department created by the great influx of inspection work resulting from the Walled Lake-Nowi sewage treatment plant and such developments as Kaufman and Broad, Holtzman and Silverman, Smokler, and Practical Builders, Bailey requested two more building inspectors, a plumbing inspector and a full time permit clerk.

Funds for the salaries of the new personnel are expected to come from an increase in the department's revenue.

The annual budget anticipated the department's income at $133,000 for the fiscal year but, according to Bailey, the department has already taken in more than $30,000 in just two and a half months, an excess of roughly $10,000 per month over the anticipated income.

With the number of requests for building permits expected to rise even more sharply, Bailey predicted that the income would exceed even its current accelerated pace.

The building department is self-supporting.

In other business the council passed a resolution introduced by councilman Louie Campbell that would place a freeze on all real and personal property tax assessment for at least as long as the current national freeze on prices and wages.

The resolution was adopted by a 4-2 vote with mayor Crupi and councilman Presnell casting the dissenting votes.

"The purpose of this resolution," said Campbell, "is to follow up the action of the President. We've had a steady rise in taxes every year. If you can freeze peoples wages then you ought to freeze their taxes."

Although Presnell stated that the intent of the resolution was good, he contended that it might in fact be harmful if it prevents changes within assessment rates that would correct current inequities.

The resolution was sent to the assessor, the Oakland County Board of Commissioners and the Oakland County Equalization Department.

In other business, the council—

Wixom Boasts Centennial Sites

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the third in a series of articles about historic homes in Wixom.

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Last week marked the 100th birthday of the City of Wixom and so it would seem fitting to feature the two centennial farms that lie within the boundaries of the city.

Specifically, a centennial farm is property that has been used for farming and owned by the same family for at least 100 years. The designations are made by the Detroit Edison Company and all facts relevant to the property must be verified before the square white sign with black printing may be erected.

The two farms are located on opposite sides of the city — one on the north on Loon Lake Road, the other on the south on Pontiac Trail. Both are well known to local residents although the stories behind them may not be.

A family having its roots deep in the soil of Wixom since "around 1834" is the Hopkins family. The farm stands alone on a stretch of Loon Lake Road overlooking "Hopkins Hill" — a lovely, rolling piece of land that finds its end on the shores of Loon Lake.

Behind the Hopkins home and its faded red barn that looks as though it belongs on an artists' canvas are more rolling hills with trees that come alive with color in the fall.

As with most farms that found their beginning in the mid-1830's, the land was granted by the government. Chapman Hopkins, the great-grandfather of the Wixom clan, began the building of the homestead containing 122 acres while his brother, Calvin Hopkins, settled on the other end of town. His place was on Pontiac Trail and it was he who built the Ware home featured in the first of this series.

Both men were seafarers who sailed the oceans and the Great Lakes. They also owned schooners but gave up that life to turn to the soil.

What is now the site of Palmer Lakes Estates located on Wixom and Loon Lake Roads was the property owned by the Ben Hopkins' who are "fourth or fifth cousins" descended from Calvin Hopkins. The main thoroughfare of the subdivision is aptly named Hopkins Drive.

Renna Hopkins was born and raised in the lovely old home and through the New England Historical and Genealogical Register she can trace the family back to the Mayflower and England of the 1620's. The two-story part of the home is the original with additions on the west and north side of the home having been added several years later.

The main cattle and horse barn was located across the street from the house. Hand-hewn 8x8 wood pinned beams supported the large hipped roof but when Loon Lake Road was paved, the barn had to go. It was either that or the two maple trees that Grandmother Hopkins had planted in front of the house so many years ago.

Electricity didn't get to the farm until 1929 so the 30 head of cattle had to be milked by hand by the light of lanterns. The house was lighted with kerosene lamps and each day's chores included the cleaning of chimneys and equipment so necessary to lighting the way.

The telephone was the first "modern" implement to come to the farm. It appeared in 1908. Since then, plumbing, running water and sewers bedrooms because George used to "put up" the buyers in his thriving livestock trade

Road Threatens Unique Bog

By NANCY DINGELDEY

A fascinating adventure in nature awaits those who are willing to don boots and do a little walking.

You need not travel far to reach this picturesque area — for many, it's right out the "back door." It is the Proud Lake Recreation Area on Glengary Road between Bensten and Wixom Roads just north of Wixom.

Majestic trees line the winding gravel road. Only the occasional call of a crow breaks the peaceful serenity. There is a rustic, backwoods beauty to be seen along this road — lush and green in spring and summer, blazing with a multitude of colors in fall, transformed in winter to a crystal white wonderland. In a sandy area beneath towering oak trees, Proud Lake Naturalist Hartley Thornton began a nature hike for a group of people concerned with preserving the area for posterity.

The rolling countryside, much of it included in Proud Lake territory, was formed during the last glacial period almost 2,000 years ago, he explained. The glacier, estimated by scientists to be one and one quarter miles thick, covered the area creating a ridge or parallel moraine which dominates the surrounding terrain.

A lobe, or finger, of the glacier broke off, part of it, melted and the remainder slowly sunk into the ground. A piece of that glacier still remains far below the surface of the ground and causes a constant 41 degree temperature at the lower depths of the bog, he said. All matter surrounding it is completely and permanently preserved in a natural refrigerator. The valley, created by the glacier's movement filled with melting ice and formed a lake which is now a natural watershed area. The main branch of the Huron River starts from Proud Lake. As the glacial ice melted, it deposited material and debris collected through its movement southward.

As a direct result of this movement in Michigan, there are to be found more varieties of soil, land formations, the largest gravel quarries in the world, just about every mineral and even industrial diamonds, explained the naturalist

Thornton went on to explain the difference between bogs and swamps adding that nature plans everything and there are always definite stages followed. A swail is a very shallow lake, rich in top soil and grasses called swail grass. A marsh is covered with grasses, but the water, which is shallow, is clean and moving. A true swamp has hardwood trees, the soil is super-saturated with water and has no inlet or outlet, streams or springs making the water brackish. A dead lake or pot hole lies between hills with no inlet or outlet, thus the lake dies.

Thirty-six acres within Proud Lake have been set aside as natural preserves by state legislation. The park encompasses 3,500 acres. In the natural preserve areas, nothing can be altered or removed and only the existing trails may be updated.

Extensive botanical and scientific studies are carried on in this area, one of the richest botanical spots in lower Michigan, by university groups. The Universities of Illinois and Ohio as well as Michigan, Wayne, Detroit, Assumption and Marygrove, among others, study the flora and fauna to be found in the bogs.

Child Abuse Charges Get Police Attention

For the sixth time in as many weeks, Novi police investigated charges of either child neglect or child abuse.

Acting on a tip, Detective Jack Grubb and Patrolman Jerry Burnham drove to 47200 11 Mile Road in Novi in response to a report that there were children living in a house without electricity, running water, and food.

The officers were greeted at the door by a 16 year old boy, who told them that he and four other brothers, all between the ages of six and 15, were in the house alone.

The boy went on to say that his mother and father were separated and the father had left the house earlier in the day and hadn't been seen since.

A search of the house revealed no electricity and no running water. Toilet facilities did not work, candles were the only means of light, and the total food supply consisted of five containers of canned goods.

Unable to contact the father, James Murray, 45, police removed the children from the house and placed them in the Oakland County Juvenile Center. According to police reports, all children were healthy and there were no signs of any abuse. The children were placed in the center due to the fact that there was no parental supervision in evidence at the time and the condition of the home.

The house was cleaned up the next day by the grandmother and Murray attained sufficient funds to pay the light bill and purchase food. When the lights and the water had been restored, the children were returned by Oakland County authorities.

Commenting on the increase number of child abuse and neglect cases over the past weeks, Grubb stated that the police can get involved only through people's involvement in reporting the cases.

"It's a problem that we can solve only with the help of other people," he said. "Our interest is in getting proper home care for these children and we need the help of others to do that."

Of the six cases all children have been returned to their parents except in one case which is still pending.

To date, a total of 3,980 calls have been answered by city police, while 3,250 calls were answered through August, 1970.

The figures were released recently in the department's monthly activity report.

Categories showing an increase include assaults, up to seven from six in August, 1970; arrests for drunken driving, up to three from one; drunkenness, three compared to two; minors in possession of alcoholic beverages, two compared to one; and breaking and entering autos, two compared to none.

Police also investigated 19 accidents during August in which two persons were injured. During the same period last year, 16 accidents were investigated in which seven persons were hurt.

A total of 123 moving and 75 parking violations were written last month, compared to 52 moving and 71 parking tickets issued in August, 1970. To date, 1,052 moving and 1,417 parking tickets have been written.

Other categories showing an increase are larceny of bicycles, seven last month compared to five during August, 1970; larceny from a person and attempted larceny, one each compared with none during the same period last year.

Areas showing a decline in activity include vandalism, down to 12 complaints from 17; larceny from a building, two compared to three; larceny from a vehicle, four compared to seven; arrests for disorderly conduct, two compared to three; reckless driving, one compared to two; and burglaries, two compared to three.

Last month city police also recovered one stolen auto, investigated 14 cases of forged, stolen or non-sufficient fund checks, handled 40 animal complaints, arrested three persons on warrants issued by other police departments, arrested eight persons on warrants held by the local department, treated eight injured persons and assisted the fire department six times. During August, the fire department answered 24 fire calls, up from 16 fires fought in August, 1970. Of the fires occurring last month, four were in the city and 20 in the township.

Two Homes In Wixom 100 Years

Although the exact date is not known, it was about 1850 when George Spencer appeared and settled in Wixom. In his teenage years, George walked from Ohio and chose the 100-acre site located on what is now Pontiac Trail. He was granted the land, again by the United States Government. It was also during these years that he fought in the Civil War. Several medals awarded to him remain with the family.

The home, also distinguishable by its centennial plaque, originally contained eight rooms. Many of those rooms were

He owned and operated the stock yards in "downtown" Wixom and dealt not only in cattle but wool as well. His business took him away from home for long "spells" and it was during his buying trips in Montana that his wife would call in the carpenters and add a room to the house. When he returned, what could he say? Grandmaw would have her way.

George's son, Vern, who died recently, carried on the cattle business, branching into dairy herds. He became a prime breeder of Brown Swiss cattle and was not only designated the "Premier Breeder" in the state, but was known throughout the nation for his animals.

Second only to the cattle was a hobby that was to turn into a busy airport. Vern learned to fly in World War I during a stint with the Royal Canadian Air Force. He carved a landing strip in one portion of his land and erected a hanger. Others soon asked to land their planes and one by one, more hangers appeared.

All is placid and serene around that big white farm home with its huge cattle barns directly behind and tenant house to the west. The gentle Brown Swiss cattle, the tall, stately trees and colorful, well-kept flower gardens all add up to a picture-perfect setting a life begun so long ago, but capable of keeping pace with the times.

Training Zeroes In On Earth

Secondary school students may be putting less time on textbooks and more into the problems of their community environments in the future.

That's the emphasis in lesson plans of 26 earth science teachers including one from Novi returning to classrooms this fall after a six-week environmental summer institute in southern Ohio.

The Novi teacher is Joseph Blackman, 40891 West 10 Mile Road.

The institute was sponsored by the National Science Foundation and conducted in Ohio State University's College of Education.

Dr. Victor J. Mayer, who holds a joint associate professorship in the college and the department of geology, headed the institute with a staff of five consulting faculty members in natural resources, geology, biology and science education.

"Effective learning," says Mayer, "isn't something portioned out of a textbook from teacher to student."

"Given the information and the procedures, the student must be motivated to apply his imagination to the problems in his environment."

According to Mayer, imaginative teaching requires that a teacher rethink the traditional patterns in which he has been trained and conditioned.

Progress of the teachers will be followed with a meeting on November 12 and 13. Another evaluation of their work will be made next April.

The "Interlake Masquers", under the sponsorship of the Community Education Program, are hard at work on their first production of this season. The play "Come Blow Your Horn," written by Neil Simon, will be staged on October 8 and 9 at 8 p.m. in the Western High School Auditorium.

The Interlake Masquers is an outgrowth of the Wixom Centennial Play and since its beginning last year, the group has grown in size and participants come from throughout the school district. This is the third production the group has put on and it promises to be the most polished venture so far. Don Craig is the director but all members take turns and try their hands at the various facets of stagecraft.

Although the cast itself is small for this particular play, there is always the group of "unseens" that work so hard in making a play a success.

The Community Education Program for this fall seems headed for a good, successful variety of classes. People have responded quite well and many of the classes are totally filled. Officials report. However, there are still a few openings available in a variety of interest classes (they'll squeeze you in). If you missed registration and still want to join or did not receive a brochure in the mail, a call to the Community Education Office at 624-0202 will bring quick results.

Progress Threatens Park Bog

a bog situation, the ever present Poison Sumac lead the way to the most primitive of nature's landscape — the Quaking Bog.

Through the course of time, a thick mat of sphagnum moss has grown over the top of a lake and when walked on, the ground heaves or "quakes". Water lies only two feet below this surface. The first step in the plan of nature — the soil and then the grasses.

From the sphagnum "mat" have sprung grasses, weeds, dwarf birch and willow, native to Canada, ferns, cranberry, pitcher plants and a multitude of others. Three rare and protected varieties of wild flowers can be found around the quaking bog — the dog-toothed violet, the fringed gentian and no-less than twelve varieties of orchid.

Nearby a large golden garden spider laced after spinning its web, the sides of which were three feet long. The outside strands of the delicate web belie their tremendous strength. These strands were used in the Nordon bomb sights of World War II and are still used today in some surveying equipment.

The hike came to a close beside a nondescript hole almost completely covered with leaves. Although it had no scientific significance at one time, it was probably the most photographed hole in Michigan. In that hole was buried the bullet-riddled body of the last of the Purple Gang, hastily covered, only to be found a short time later by hikers.

To some people the bog and its densely wooded area is useful for other purposes. Target practice and trash disposal seem to be the favorite pastimes. An abandoned oil tank, two hot water heaters, a car door, bottles and cans — human scars in a privileged spot. Hunters, snow mobilists and young people add to the breakdown.

But the road and its habitat are also in jeopardy. Paving is destined for Glengary Road. Opponents of paving have appealed to the State Department of Natural Resources to designate Glengary as a "natural beauty road" by virtue of a new Michigan law, Public Act 150, the preserving of naturally beautiful roads.

Although the road will not cut directly into the natural area preserved by the state, it is felt the pollution and siltation of salts used on a paved road plus erosion will do irreparable damage to the bog as well as destroying the age old trees bordering the road.

But millage has been approved by the voters of Commerce Township to complete paving of the few remaining gravel roads. Supporters of paving point to dust and better safety factors as reason enough to go ahead with the job.

The road, its primitive bogs, flora and fauna remain, for awhile, for all to see. Also, plans are being made for an "open house" of Proud Lake facilities and acreage for communities bordering the Recreation Area in conjunction with the dedication of the new activity and education building.

"After all, our neighbors know less about our area than people far away," said a park spokesman.

Drug Seminars Start

Second in a series of drug abuse training sessions for volunteer probation officers in a four-district court area was held yesterday (Wednesday) at Schoolcraft College.

Eight more sessions are planned, including the third next week Wednesday by an instructor to be selected from the methadone staff in the Detroit area.

Performance objective of the program is to train 50 volunteers to effectively deal with the probation of drug abuse offenders, according to Dennis R. Dildy, director of the probation for the 35th District Court.

Three other court districts are included in the program, originated and planned by the Livonia Probation Department, under a government grant. The Livonia Probation Department, under a government grant. The Livonia Probation Department is directed by Kenneth Kirkwood.

Other performance objectives, according to Dildy, include:

- Providing structured observation and counseling on a one-to-one basis for drug offenders.
- Conducting supervised group counseling sessions.
- To engage in learning seminars through the use of consultants.
- To instruct volunteers in case handling and counseling through the use of training sessions, empathy training and a counseling internship utilizing video-tape equipment for offering critique of counseling styles.
- To equip the volunteer with enough information so that he in turn can become a community resource person available to speak at civic or club meetings.
- To select from the group five or six to act as instructors for the continuing of training for future volunteers.

To teach the selected volunteers the use of videotaping techniques.

Training sessions scheduled beyond next Wednesday include:

- 4 October 6—Discussion of how to use observation as a tool, explanation of the diagnosis, discussion of neurosis and psychosis and the case study method.
- 5 October 13—Discussion of general psychology; explanation of psychological tests most frequently used in work with drug offenders, review of tests and how they are used in case evaluation, and general overview and discussion about psychological tests in general.
- 6 October 20—Technique of counseling; explanation of counseling and discussion about effective counseling, goal oriented counseling, and group discussion about drugs with former addicts.
- 7 October 27—Techniques of counseling, role playing, discussion, and video-taping of role playing sessions.
- 8 November 3—Continuation of the previous week.
- 9 November 10—Community problems-panel discussion with a police narcotics agent, director of community commission on drug abuse, director of probation, Judges James R. McCann and James E. Mies, two former addicts, and four area high school students.
- 10 November 17—Post tests, review of material, questions and answers, assignment of cases and court report dates.

The first two sessions, held on September 15 and 22, dealt with an explaining of the program, pre-testing, and history of drugs; and detailed explanation of barbiturates, hallucinogens, stimulants, marijuana, glue and gasoline sniffing.

City Council Minutes

Mayor Allen called the regular Northville City Council meeting to order on Monday, September 7, 1971 at 7:30 p.m. at the Northville City Hall.

At the recommendation of Auditors, moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, to adopt the following Resolution.

City of Northville Council Resolution 630-71.

In accordance with Section 8.5 of the City Charter, it is hereby resolved that the net budget over/under of $39,169 for the year ended June 30, 1971 in the General Fund be appropriated as follows:

- From Public Improvement Fund $9,906

TOTAL $39,169

Unanimously carried (1 absent)

City Mgr reviewed the letter addressed to him by the Auditors, containing certain recommendations which he is already instituting. The letter addressed to the City Council contained 3 items — (1) Loan from Cemetery Trust Fund should be extended with portion paid back in next year and remainder within stated number of years (2) Year-end transfer Resolution has already been accomplished (3) Street Loans from Public Improvement Fund to be made separate budget account (Councilman Folino entered meeting at 7:45 p.m.)

Councilman Nichols asked if quarterly reports or audits would be done for 1971-72. Councilman Rathert Lapham felt semi-annual audits were sufficient. After some discussion it was decided to have a semi-annual audit with quarterly financial reports being sent to auditors. Mayor Allen thanked Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Swetala for their report and their attendance at the Council Meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS. Mr. Sid Ford owner of 430 and 450 E. Main St. reported tenants of the two aforementioned buildings are complaining about noise, dirt and fumes from gravel trucks traveling on E. Main. Also trucks from time to time park at nearby gas station leaving motor running for as long as 30 minutes. Mr. Ford also complained about noise emanating from Ford Motor Company which is across the street and the fumes coming from Mergraf Oil Co.

MINUTES OF BOARD & COM MISSION MEETINGS. Minutes of the August 4, 1971 Board of Appeals on Zoning Meeting and August 11, 1971 Housing Commission meeting were placed on file.

PUBLIC HEARING FOR HORTON STREET IMPROVEMENT (About 15 residents of Horton St. were present) Mayor Allen explained that the first Public Hearing for Horton St. improvement on August 16, 1971 was adjourned to September 7, 1971 so that a full Council could be present. Mrs. Howard Beller stated she had been asked to represent Mr. George Jerome, 743 Horton if he was unable to attend. The City Mgr. categorized the cost for improvement of Horton St. from Baseline to 8 Mile Rd. This paving would be typical residential — 6 1/2" deep strength asphalt.

Elmer Balko asked why the $10 difference in lineal ft. cost of street north of 8 Mile Rd. and street south of 8 Mile Rd. and was told drainage on the block south of 8 Mile Rd. is more expensive.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beller, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Corcoran, Mr. Daniel McDermid, Mr. Elmer Balko and Mr. Harley Balko voiced various opinions but essentially were against street improvements as presented. Mr. Glenn Long felt Horton Street should be paved (particularly block from Baseline to 8 Mile Rd.) but did not feel Horton Street residents should be assessed for it. There was some discussion as to possibility of borings being made at "sink hole" area on the block between Baseline and 8 Mile Rd.

Folino moved that the "sink hole" be dug and whatever work necessary to correct this situation be done with City bearing the expense. (Motion died for lack of support.)

City Mgr. explained the various steps in Resolution of Determination the next procedure to be considered. Moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, to approve Resolution for improvement of Horton St. from Baseline Rd. to 8 Mile installing deep strength asphalt paving with concrete curbs and gutters, together with necessary drainage improvements as per plans and specifications presented by City Engineer U.C.

Moved by Folino, that aforementioned improvements, including any unusual cost of drainage of "sink hole" be made with no special assessment to affect property owners. (Motion died for lack of support.) Mayor Allen stated that streets would never be paved if general fund had to bear total expense. Councilman Rathert felt that a switch in policy would not be fair to those that have been assessed in past years.

Moved by Rathert, support by Lapham, adopt Resolution providing for 75 percent of cost of improvement, not including the cost of underground drainage necessitated by the unusual ground water conditions over and above normal storm sewer installation be special assessed. Abutting front footage and 50 percent of side footage be the basis of assessment.

Yeas: Nichols, Rathert, Allen and Lapham. Nays: Folino. Motion prevailed.

Moved by Lapham, support by Nichols, to approve Resolution stating number of installments — 10, interest at rate of 6 percent — property owners abutting improvement to be assessed.

City Mgr. reported there is some doubt as to whether fees can be raised at this time. He thinks he will have answer before next meeting.

APPROVE PERSONNEL RULES.

AMENDMENTS. Moved by Lapham, support by Folino that Personnel Rules dated August 2, 1971 be adopted as corrected — Article X — Leave of Absence, 1st sentence — insert "without pay" after "Other leaves of absence" U.C.

(Councilman Rathert left meeting at 10 p.m.)

DUNLAP STREET LIGHTING. Tabled until September 20, 1971 meeting.

APPROVE PURCHASE AGREEMENT OF NORTHVILLE GLASS BY CITY. City Mgr. stated that the appraisal and offer were the same — $30,000 cash with proviso that City of Northville issue a Building permit for a one-car garage on other property owned by the Spagnuolo family.

Moved by Folino, support by Lapham, to approve purchase agreement offer at $30,000 cash for building and lot (Lot 696, except N 60 feet, etc. of Assessor's Northville Plat No. 7) with the City agreeing to issue a Building Permit for a one-car garage on other property owned by Spagnuolo family in the same block U.C.

APPOINT MERS DELEGATE & ALTERNATE. Moved by Nichols, support by Lapham, to certify Councilman Folino as Delegate and Ted Mares as Alternate Delegate for the City of Northville to the Annual Meeting of MERS on October 6, 1971 at Traverse City U.C.

WORKMENS' COMP INSURANCE BIDS. City Mgr. reviewed the "Recap" of bids for Workmens' Comp Insurance for the City of Northville as follows:

Citizens' Mutual Insurance Howell, Mich. 160 E. Main, Northville, TOTAL NET PROPOSAL $6876
Based on 10 percent Loss Ratio $4533.90
Based on 20 percent Loss Ratio FINAL PREMIUM COST $4847
Sentry Insurance, Southfield Total NET PROPOSAL $6487
Plan D Minimum $3866
Plan A, maximum 6033

City Mgr. felt Citizens' Mutual was the best in the 20 percent area, Plan D of Sentry would be less expensive if losses were less than 10 percent.

Moved by Nichols, support by Folino, to award Citizens' Mutual Insurance Company the contract for City of Northville Workmens' Comp Insurance for one year at $4847 bid estimate U.C.

PURCHASE OF PARKING PROPERTY. This to be discussed at Work Session.

MICHIGAN BELL PARK. City Mgr. suggested that neighbors might like to have information on the Michigan Bell Park. He will send letters to people in a 2 block area.

PARKING AGREEMENT. City Mgr. explained the agreement whereby in 1962 City of Northville obtained a quit claim deed from Nelson and Betty Schrader for 4 parking spaces in the rear of his furniture store on N. Center St. with a reservation that this would apply against parking if and when City develops parking in the downtown area. Mayor Allen was appointed to discuss this agreement with Mr. Schrader and both agreed on a $3400 credit against his parking assessments on Lots 539 542 of Plat No. 6 relative to 1962 agreement between the City of Northville and Nelson & Betty Schrader for 4 parking spaces U.C.

RANDOLPH DRAIN DISTRICT. City Mgr. reported he had a meeting with Nov. City Mgr. last Thursday and they agreed to ask their respective engineers for some answers on how much it would cost Northville to take care of their problems and cost for Nov. to have retention facility that would not allow any water through to City area.

UTILITY VEHICLE BIDS. City Mgr. reported only one bid received for Utility Vehicle for DPW. The bid from John Mach Ford Sales was 1972 Ford Bronco Wagon $3346.70 1969 Ford Bronco Trade in 1400.00 TOTAL NET BID $1946.70 Delivery date — 30 days.

Moved by Folino, support by Nichols, to award bid to John Mach Ford for 1972 Utility Vehicle, as per specifications, for $1946.70 and 1969 Trade In U.C.

W. MAIN ST. S. CENTER & CADY STS. ENGINEERING. Mr. Penn explained the proposed engineering for sewer for W. Main, S. Center and Cady St. — alternate routes and the estimated cost of $158,820. City Engineer and City Mgr. will take plans and discuss them with Mr. Carlo.

City Mgr. asked if proposed meeting for September 28th with Northville Township should be cancelled. It was decided to ask Northville Twp. officials to cancel the Sept. 28th meeting and meet on Monday, Sept. 13 at 8:30 p.m. at the Northville City Hall to discuss Joint Police Services for the City and Township of Northville. Council will meet prior to that meeting, at 7:30 p.m. for a Work Session.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Injured in Explosion, Youth Is Recovering

In Novi

The combined efforts of FBI agents and the Novi Police Department led Friday to the arrest of Glenn Alexander, 25, of 263 Farmer Street in Plymouth on a federal warrant for desertion from the United States Marine Corps.

According to Novi Detective Jack Grubb, Alexander was a suspect in the Radke-Keyes murder case. A polygraph examination, however, cleared him of any involvement in that case.

Alexander was arraigned before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle on charges of falsifying a police report and driving without a Michigan license. Those charges stemmed from an accident which occurred in Novi July 21 of this year. At that time, Alexander gave investigating officers a fictitious name.

Alexander was sentenced to eight days in the Oakland County Jail and a hold was placed on him by three different law enforcement departments in reference to five outstanding warrants.

After civil authorities have finished with Alexander he will be turned over to the Marine Corps where he faces charges of desertion since 1968.

A potentially dangerous situation was averted last Sunday through the combined efforts of more than 10 area law enforcement agencies.

Source of the potential trouble was a "Poker Run and Pig Roast" sponsored by the Detroit Motorcycle Club located on Eight Mile Road in Novi.

Last fall a similar event erupted into violence when it was interrupted by the Highwaymen, an "outlaw" Detroit motorcycle club well known as trouble makers by area police. One person was stabbed in that melee and several others were injured.

More than 600 motorcyclists attended this year's event, according to police reports.

Monitoring the affair were officers from the City of Novi, Novi Auxiliary Police, Northville Township, City of Northville, Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Wayne County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police, as well as observers from the United States Treasury Department.

Police report that numerous arrests were made, primarily for traffic violations, investigations of stolen vehicles, and outstanding warrants.

In Northville

City police are investigating the break-in of a home during which a color television set valued at $535 was taken.

Lester Blevins of 121 North Wing Street told police he returned home September 14 and found the set missing. Investigating officers found entry to the home had been made by kicking open the back door.

The theft occurred between September 13 and 2 p.m. September 14.

Golf clubs and auto parts valued at $82 were reported stolen from a vehicle parked behind Phil's 76 Station.

Richard L. Vance of Westland told police the car had been towed to the station September 2 following an accident. The articles were discovered missing September 15.

In Township

Township police arrested five youths September 14 between the ages of 18 and 20 and charged them with discharging firearms within the township.

The youths were arrested near Waterford Lake, police said, and one 20 gauge and four 12 gauge shot guns were confiscated.

James G. Grogan of Pontiac appeared before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis Thursday, pled guilty to the charge and was fined $18.

The other four appeared in court Tuesday, pled guilty and were each fined $14. They are Thomas L. Earl of Southfield, David L. Williams of Pontiac, David C. Asher, Jr., of East Lansing and Mark L. Frakken of Bloomfield Hills.

COURT NEWS

Barbara A. Rowe of 341 East Main Street was fined $104 and placed on one year probation after she pled guilty to a charge of driving while ability impaired.

A charge against her of drunken driving was dismissed after she pled guilty to driving while impaired.

The action came September 14 before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis. Mrs. Rowe was arrested August 25 by city police.

A Detroit man, Clyde J. Mueller, was fined $54 after he pled guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He was arrested July 24 by city police.

Duncan S. MacLaren of 40075 Eight Mile was fined $39 after he pled guilty to making an improper left turn causing an accident.

MacLaren was ticketed September 2 by city police.

Peter G. Butterworth of 278 Sherrie Lane, arrested on two warrants for driving with an expired license, was fined $29 on one warrant. A $29 fine on the other warrant was suspended.

Butterworth was arrested by city police September 7.

Littering resulted in a $14 fine for Brian J. Roy of Detroit. Roy was ticketed August 29 by township police.

On September 16, Mark N. Hyatt of 21482 Summerside Lane was fined $39, placed on six months' probation and ordered to pay repair costs of $107.70.

Hyatt was found guilty of following an emergency vehicle (city police car) too closely during a chase. According to reports, he slammed into the rear of the car when it stopped. The accident happened on Hines Drive near Seven Mile.

He was ticketed June 27 by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Township Building Booms

Northville Township produced in 1970 the most new residential units for communities within this newspaper's circulation area, according to statistics released by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

A new total of 217 units, based on the number of building permits issued, were recorded in the township—11 more than the next highest community, Novi.

Wixom was third with 48, followed by the city of Northville with 14.

Predicts Tax Relief

House Republican Leader Clifford H. Smart (R-Walled Lake) said this week he was pleased with reports that House Speaker Ryan was now apparently ready to consider his (Representative Smart's) proposal for property tax relief through the Legislative process.

Representative Smart has introduced a bill (co-sponsored by 43 House Republicans) providing a $5,000 property tax exemption to Michigan property owners.

"I realize that the price for such an agreement would be for Republicans to support placing the graduated income tax on the ballot at some future date. The Speaker apparently wants to write into the constitution a personal exemption provision plus the scale of graduation. This demand will present disagreement in the Republican caucus. A clean cut proposal removing the constitutional prohibition on graduation would attract considerable Republican support in order to secure Democratic votes for property tax relief."

"But Republicans have recognized the need for property tax relief and have been the prime movers for relief, and we feel that the legislative process method is less difficult to attain."

"Republican opposition to the property tax resolution recently stalled in the Senate was the direct result of Democratic demands to tie the issue together with a graduated income tax and to place in the constitution language which should be handled statutorily."

"We may be willing to provide the votes to place the graduated income tax on a ballot, in return for some property tax relief."

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A little (friendly?) rivalry is developing between Northville and Plymouth involving the possible location of a State Police Post in this Western Wayne County area.

It's ironic that a few short months ago the State Police, jammed into crowded quarters in both their Detroit-Redford post and their crime laboratory in Plymouth, were desperately seeking larger quarters in the suburbs.

They made their needs known to this writer. They could afford to lease, but they had no money for building.

So the wheels were set into motion in Northville. Township officials, city officials and members of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee agreed this was a project worthy of combined effort.

The first attempt was a failure, thanks to the refusal of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to permit use of two vacant buildings at the Child Development Center for a State Police Post and Crime Laboratory.

By this time the quest for State Police quarters in this area had received considerable publicity. Plymouth township officials decided maybe they'd better get into the act. They've enlisted the aid of their (ours, too) Republican State Senator. And reportedly they are being spurred on by promises of help from a representative of a major hotel chain, which may need some official help itself getting its plans approved for a new facility in Plymouth township.

Naturally, the State Police are elated by the sudden interest in a problem that had fallen on deaf ears at the official state level. Now two local communities are working to relieve their crowded conditions and to bring their home station closer to the area they must patrol.

What is poor little ol' Northville doing in the face of this competition from Big Brother Plymouth, a State Senator and a Hotel Magnate?

It's hanging in there.

You might say we started first, slipped into second place, and hope to recover by trying harder.

For credentials right now Northville has:

- 1—The best site;
- 2—The necessary financing;
- 3—A Democratic State Representative.

It ought to be an interesting race.

Speaking of Plymouth, I'm reminded of two favorite people of mine, longtime friends, who are making news in their community. Miss Margaret Dunning captured the front page of The Plymouth Mail & Observer this week with the announcement that she will donate funds for construction of a museum to exhibit possessions of the Plymouth Historical Society.

Margaret called me to reveal her plans. She's most appreciative to the community for the many good years it gave to her and her parents and she wants to express this appreciation through a gift that will preserve many of the things that were part of Plymouth during their lifetimes.

The structure, expected to cost in excess of $100,000, will be named the Dunning Memorial Museum in honor of Margaret's parents, Charles and Bessie Dunning.

It will be located across from the Plymouth City Hall at Main and Church streets.

Coincidentally, if you stood on the site of the new Dunning Memorial Museum on almost any Sunday morning in Plymouth, you could almost hear the voice of the second "favorite person" to which I've referred.

He's the Reverend Henry Walch, who will soon retire after 28 years and some 1,500 sermons from the pulpit of the Presbyterian church.

Religion is a living thing when Henry talks to you on Sundays. He brings it right into your life, whether you want to recognize it or not.

I will never forget his silent pauses, followed by the words "people, I'm talking to you" and the uneasiness I've felt when I've secretly wondered whether or not he wasn't, indeed, talking directly to me.

Anyone who has passed through the doors of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth and heard a sermon by Henry Walch will be saddened to return and find him gone.

This is a special week for members of the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters.

This most active and productive group is celebrating national observance of League of Women Voters Week by placing emphasis on registration and education of the newly-franchised 18-20 year old voters.

It is also soliciting financial aid to continue its activities in the encouragement of responsible citizenship.

It is the only non-partisan women's organization dedicated solely to matters of government.

It's efforts to enlighten citizens deserve everyone's support.

It's All in The Family

By JACK W. HOFFMAN
Some people worry about other people and their drug problems but we worry about the drug problem of the dog.

There are clinics for people problems but where do you take a dog with a drug hangup?

Her problem as near as we can figure out started this past summer when, affectionately, the boys and I fed her tranquilizers so that she could enjoy the 600 mile car trip to the Porcupine Mountains. It's the same kind of stuff, I'm told, people take to avoid car sickness.

Anyway, because she has the memory of an elephant (as well as a close physical resemblance), she remembers how great she felt on the trip. Since we sneaked the pills into her food, she has this mistaken notion that it was the car that gave her the high.

Now she is constantly trying to get into the car.

A week after our return from the UP, she escaped the house and headed straight for the car, leaping through an open window. For her it's not exactly a leap since she is of St. Bernard lineage and her head is about window level lying down.

Not especially intelligent, her next effort was less successful. She tried jumping through a closed window, cracking the glass. Now she gallops around the car first, hoping to find an opening. If there is none, however, she is not adverse to making her own.

None of this would be so embarrassing except for the fact that any car will do.

Unsuspecting guests who pull into the drive are shaken to their roots when suddenly they find themselves sharing the seat with a panting, tail-waving dog, whose 130-pound frame leaves little room for maneuvering.

"Close your window," we screamed at one of our guests (who, incidentally, are becoming fewer in number). The dear lady leaned out the window, looked at the sky for

Speaking for Myself

City Control Of County Roads?

Michael Merritt

Frazer Staman

YES...

With proper safeguards to insure against indiscriminate or arbitrary opening, closing and/or re-routing, I am in favor of placing control and jurisdiction over local main roads and streets within the respective municipalities.

I would urge this concept even more strongly in the case of cities and villages such as South Lyon as, by reason of geography (located some 30 miles from the source of present jurisdiction over main roads), the streets and roads in question tend to be neglected and a controlling body (in this case, the Oakland County Road Commission) can hardly be expected to be adequately responsive to the needs of such a small municipality when more "powerful" demands and pressures can be brought to bear by more populous cities, villages and townships who may be, in addition, considerably closer physically and otherwise to the seat of control.

On the other hand, it is arguable that the local governing body would be more immediately aware of arising problems with these same roads including the need for repairs, improvements, extensions, etc. and would be considerably more responsive and certainly would be more accountable to the local residents, who comprise the greater bulk of the traffic upon the streets and roads in question.

Michael F. Merritt
South Lyon Attorney

NO...

Obviously, there are certain types of roads such as freeways that should not be under city control, and most cities would be extremely disturbed if the State Highway Commission abandoned responsibility for almost any state trunkline through their cities.

The theory and reasons for having freeways and state trunklines go through cities and yet remain under state control also apply to many county routes and account for the fact that the Oakland County Road Commission has control of county roads through most cities in the county.

Each route in question should be judged on its particular merit and circumstance, but generally speaking the following considerations would speak strongly for state or county control:

1. The route carries a fair amount of through traffic or traffic that has an origination or destination outside of the community.
2. Design and capacity is more likely to be consistent.
3. Load limits, speed limits, parking restrictions, and even road names are more likely to be consistent and in harmony with the type of road facility that exists.
4. Sign and pavement marking will more likely follow state and county wide criteria.
5. The standard and level of maintenance will be more consistent and in some cases better.

There are many examples in the southeast part of Oakland County where frequent change of road control has created problems of traffic control, capacity, names, parking, and type of roadway.

Walker 'Hurt' By Suspicion

To the Editor:
I have spent many months walking miles and miles daily in beautiful areas, besides swimming an hour or more at a time. Always people were so kind, waving and offering me rides which I never accepted of course. I am not young nor do I consider myself old—just "sweet 16", turned around plus seven.

In the area for a short visit Tuesday, I decided to visit an old neighbor in Northville, Mrs. A. Wicke of 120 Fairbrook. How? Of course, I walked from her son's home at Joy and Sheldon roads in Plymouth—only about six miles.

Between Six and Seven Mile roads I was stopped by a sheriff's deputy and asked who I was and where I was going. It seems someone had called the sheriff's office and said, "A woman is walking toward Northville."

I would like to inform whoever it was that called the sheriff that it embarrassed me beyond words. It was shocking and humiliating. Please tell me, why? Shame on you no matter who you are. Can't a person go where they want anymore?

Since leaving Northville, I have been in 47 states, including Alaska and Hawaii, and in Canada, Japan, Hong Kong, Mexico, the Bahamas, England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Germany and never once was I so insulted by having an officer stop me and question me.

I can't leave this part of Michigan soon enough. No wonder your rest homes are full of old people taking pills and having no interest in life. Is that the way you treat your senior citizens?

I ride my three-wheeler on the West Coast of Florida and I am never stopped on the busy Route 41. The last single day ride was for 32 miles...and I hope to make one of 50 miles sometime this winter.

I hope never to grow old,

Thanks, But....

To the Editor:
I would like to use the facilities of the public letter box to speak with the registered voters of the Northwest Wayne County Community College District. To all of you who voted for me in the recent September 13th election may I say, "thank you for your faith and confidence."

I want to thank the newspapers for their kind words and cooperation in trying to make the public aware of the qualifications and views of the candidates.

To the out going board may I say, "thank you for a job well done. We have a great college!"

And now to all of you out there, a little scolding and an appeal: Only about ten percent of you turned out to speak at the ballot box on the very important issues of the millage and those whom you will entrust the stewardship of our college. That's not good. Let's do better the next time. Maybe some of us just weren't aware of the gravity of the situation. And it is to these people that I would most specifically direct my last and concluding remarks: When we founded the district ten years ago and built our first, and so far only college (Schoolcraft), we planned in terms of a maximum of 5000 students. We have now reached the 6000 mark. With the major colleges and universities having appreciably upped tuition, (and other spiraling costs of living away from home), along with the normal growth within the district it isn't hard to see that something must be done. Somewhere, somehow, and in some manner we must find the money to either expand Schoolcraft (which is what the

The incident led to the Hoffmans' Early Warning network. Invited guests are pre-alerted by phone, with a precaution to "turn off the engine and coast into the drive."

Then, while one child signals an approaching car another detracts the dog's attention while still another runs out to tell the guests not to open the car door until someone waves an "all clear" signal.

Year-Round School

It Isn't Dead Yet—Spear

Northville Public Schools may eventually be out of step with the rest of the country if the district does not adopt a year-round school plan.

According to an article in The Wall Street Journal September 14, year-round school is seen as "the wave of the future."

The Journal's survey of educators across the United States included an interview with local superintendent Raymond Spear on the outcome of the preference poll completed in June. In that poll, 40 percent of the voters in Northville voiced opposition to year-round school.

Spear is quoted as saying the district "felt it wasn't in the best interest to implement the program with such a large minority opposed."

However, as the article notes, the plan may come up in Northville in the future.

"We're on the verge of a $20 million building program in the next five years," Spear explained. "If we can't find the money, we have an outstanding safety valve in the year-round plan," Spear is quoted as saying.

Commenting on the article this week, Spear said, "Year-round school is not a dead issue in Northville, it's just quiet."

He noted that it is "not necessarily the failure to get public support to build buildings that will bring about year-round school."

"Most likely, it will be an outgrowth of trying to meet the needs of the community and offer the best educational program possible that will bring about year-round school in the future," he explained.

Spear said he feels strongly that if the people don't want year-round school now, "that's fine. But, if we get into trouble the concept could serve as a safety valve."

Currently the district is completing a report on Phase III of the year-round study. The report, which will answer the question "Is year-round school acceptable?" will be submitted to the State Department of Education.

The Bedspread Place Opens for Business

Historic Building Gets Unique Tennant

Steeped in Northville history, the old VanAtta building near Park Place and Cady, was reopened recently with one of the most unique businesses in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Occupying the building, which housed the Quik-Lock Company until it moved this past summer, is a factory outlet retail establishment that carries the unusual name, The Bedspread Place.

Operated by Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Willseck, the business may be the only one of its kind in the Midwest.

As the name implies, the business features bedspreads—quilted bedspreads—along with other quilted merchandise such as quilted yardage, drapery and mattress pads. It also sells pillows and towels.

Selling only quality merchandise, The Bedspread Place "buys close-out materials direct from factories in the East and South and retails it at 40 to 60 percent off of the regular retail price, the owners explained.

So far as the Willsecks know, it is the only store of its kind in the Midwest. In the East, factory outlet stores in all lines of merchandise are quite popular, according to Mrs. Willseck, who is an interior decorator and a former employee of American Needlecraft in New York.

The Bedspread Place occupies the lower level of the 35,000 square-foot building, owned by Roy VanAtta of Northville and leased to the Willsecks. The store owners hope to interest a complementary factory outlet to locate on the second level.

Merchandise is not "seconds" or "spoils", the store owners emphasized, but rather the close-out patterns and stocks of factories which are starting their new lines.

While the remaining factory stocks are limited, the Willsecks are able to purchase sufficient colors and patterns from the factories so that customers who purchase a bedspread locally may also obtain complementary drapery.

Coming on the heels of the previous occupant, a factory that produced concrete forms, hardware and accessories, the new business is all the more unusual.

But in view of the wide variety of previous occupants, it should please the old building, said VanAtta, who speaks of it with the fondness of a family member.

Now dressed up in new paint and signs, the building probably dates back well before the turn of the century, he said. Most familiar to him, of course, is the automobile dealership (Plymouth-Dodge) that he operated there from 1934 to 1950.

Just prior to his business, the building was occupied by Al Zimmer's Hudson Essex dealership.

Other small factory businesses have occupied all or part of the building in more recent years, but history buffs will remember, said VanAtta, that it has been used as a furniture factory, by the Stinson Aircraft Company, by the Stimpson Scale Company, and by the volunteer Northville Fire Department.

Dr. Hoffmann to Speak

Lutherans to Mark 75th Anniversary

Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, regular speaker on "The Lutheran Hour," will deliver the sermon address in a festival service marking the beginning of a month of special 75th Anniversary services for St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The theme for the anniversary year is "Blessed to Serve" and Dr. Hoffmann will relate his address to this thought.

The special anniversary service will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, September 26, in the Northville High gymnasium.

Serving as liturgists will be the Reverend Howard Allward, second vice-president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, Michigan District, and the Reverend Charles Boerger, pastor of St. Paul's.

Highlighting the service music will be the Concordia Lutheran Junior College Choir of Ann Arbor, under the direction of Dr. Paul Foelber. A joint children's choir composed of youths from St. Paul's and neighboring congregations will also participate.

Guest organist will be Professor Herbert Garske, chairman of the organ department from Concordia Lutheran.

Dr. Hoffmann has served as speaker for "The Lutheran Hour" for the past 16 years and is an author, professor and ambassador of Christ to the world, Mr. Boerger said in announcing his appearance.

Dr. Hoffmann has toured South Vietnam during Christmas seasons, visiting with United States servicemen. He has conferred with Ferdinand Marcos, president of the Philippines, and also with President Richard Nixon, relating to him his experiences abroad.

"The Lutheran Hour" is the radio ministry of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod and is broadcast throughout the world. Weekly programs are heard on more than 1,000 stations in North America and on more than 700 stations in 125 countries throughout the world.

Harriers Keep Winning

Northville's rapidly developing cross-country team upped its season's record in dual meets to 3-0 by taking victories over Brighton and Plymouth last week, but it was a 17th place finish that made coach Ralph Redmond happiest.

That seventeenth place finish came last Saturday in the Schoolcraft Invitational, and when you take into consideration that there were 24 schools competing and Northville was the only non-Class A school in the bunch, seventeenth place doesn't sound too bad.

"Everybody turned in their best time of the year," said Redmond, obviously pleased with his team's performance. "Everyone of the guys on the team set a personal best on the course."

First Mustang across the finish line was Guy Dixon. Dixon recorded a time of 13:24 over the two and a half mile course, good for thirteenth place in the 171-man field.

"If Dixon would have run that time in the Invitational last year," Redmond pointed out, "he'd have finished in second place, that's how much tougher the competition is this year. The first six guys across the line Saturday all broke the course record set last year."

Guy Cole was the second Northville finisher. The sophomore runner, who has come on to establish himself as the number two man behind Dixon, had a time of 14:03. Other Northville times in the meet were Tim Taggart (14:21), Dave Newitt (14:37), and Jeff Menyhart (14:38).

Guy Dixon leads the field against Brighton.

Northville's first dual meet victory of the week was gained at the expense of Brighton last Thursday. The Mustangs, led as usual by Dixon, swept the first seven places against the hapless Bulldogs to take a 15-40 victory. Dixon's winning time was 13:46. He was followed across the line by Cole, Taggart, Menyhart, Newitt, Gary Kohn, and Mike Anusbigian. Facing Plymouth last Tuesday, the Northville runners had a bit more competition, but they still moved to a decisive 23-32 victory.

Dixon, who's almost as used to finishing in first place as the Baltimore Orioles, once again topped the field. His time was 13:39.

Plymouth copped second and third place to break up the Mustang sweep, but they were followed by Cole, Taggart, Menyhart, Newitt, and Kohn before the third Plymouth harrier crossed the line.

In addition to Dixon who is not only the best runner on the team, but also the hardest worker, Redmond singled out Tim Taggart for special mention.

"Tim's really been coming on," said Redmond. "When he started the season he was only our number five or six man, now he's worked his way up to number three and I think he's going to start shooting at Cole's number two spot."

Northville's undefeated record is likely to come to an end shortly Thursday they face Livonia Churchill, a team that Redmond calls one of the top three in the state.

Jaycees Sponsor Novi PPK

Plans to sponsor a Punt, Pass, and Kick competition for Novi boys between the ages of eight and 13 were announced today by the Novi Jaycees.

The Punt, Pass, and Kick program is sponsored on a nation-wide basis by the Ford Motor Company. Boys qualify on a local level and winners progress through a series of successively larger contests, leading ultimately to the national finals, which take place during half time at the Super Bowl.

Novi's PP&K competition will be held at the High School Field on Saturday, October 2, at 10 a.m.

Boys may register for the contest at their schools by seeing their athletic instructor. No football gear is necessary and there is no charge for entering.

There will be three categories of competition — eight and nine year olds, ten and eleven year olds, and twelve and thirteen year olds.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers in each category, and first place winners will be invited to move to higher levels of competition.

High School Golfers Set Course Record

It was quite a week for Northville's golfers. Not only did they get their season off to a fine start by sweeping easily through their first two matches, but they also stroked their way to a new school record in the process.

Golf is being offered as a fall sport for the first time this year. Previously, Michigan's high schools have always taken to the links in the spring.

Most coaches are pleased with the change of season. "What it does," said Mustang coach Al Jones, "is put the season at the time of the year when the boys are playing their best golf. With a whole summer to get their game in shape, the boys should be shooting a lot lower scores this year."

In the season's opener against Milford last Monday, the Mustang golfers registered a 172-184 on the plush fairways of Meadowbrook Country Club.

Leading the Mustangs was sophomore Brian Mills, who shot a 41 over the front nine. John Hohenic, a junior, carded a 43, while John Marshall and Bob Simmons each recorded 44's to bring Northville's total to 172.

On Thursday the Mustang golfers did even better.

Playing against North Farmington at Brae Burn, coach Jones' squad shot a five man total of 188 on the front nine — a new school record. North Farmington had 217. This time it was Simmons who led the pack, but he had to share honors with Gary Penrod, who didn't even play against Milford. Both Simmons and Penrod had 38's. Chris Thomas and John Marshall recorded a pair of 38's, and Brian Mills toured the course in 40 strokes.

If the Mustang golfers are doing well this year, it comes as no surprise to either Jones or Dave Graff, assistant coach who is handling the team while Jones is involved in teacher negotiations with the school board.

Last year's golf team was comprised almost entirely of freshmen and sophomores and did remarkably well considering their youth and inexperience. There were times, in fact, when the young golfers seemed ready to establish themselves as one of the top Class B golf teams in the state.

Now with a year of play and maturity on their side, the team seems to have conquered the inconsistency that hurt them from time to time last spring.

Major tournaments call for four sound golfers and Northville has six — all of them trying to establish themselves in the top four. On one day a Gary Penrod won't even play and the next time out, for example, he'll shoot a 36.

Can the 1971 Northville golf team become a state Class B power?

Says Graff, "If they play the way they did against Farmington at Brae Burn, they can beat anybody in B or A."

Loyalty Betrays Contest Entries

Team loyalties proved the undoing of a raft of contestants in last week's opening football contest sponsored by The Northville Record-Nowi News.

As might be expected most Northville fans backed their local high school eleven as did Novi residents, and a majority picked the Lions to upset the Vikings in the professional opener.

Grabbing first place and $10 prize money was Bill Pettit, 21234 Stanstead, who picked only two losers (discounting the 20-20 tie between Wisconsin and Syracuse). None guessed the tie.

He edged out Dagmar Regentik, 46144 Neeson, who also missed two games, but came up with a closer score prediction in the Lions game to win first. Dagmar took second and $5.

Third place winner of $3 was Doosie Cole, 9262 West Six Mile Road, who, like a host of others, missed three games but came up with an almost perfect Lions-Vikings score prediction. She guessed the Vikings to win, 17-14, while fans (and those lucky enough to pull in the game by television) watching the Monday sell-out game saw the Vikings really win, 16-13.

Among others who missed just three games but who were not as close in predicting the score were:

Bruce Greenshields, K. E. Goyt, Mrs. Joseph Szabo, Marjorie L. Lenheiser, David Kleckner, Kurt Stelmach, Michael Regentik, and Jared Cole.

The most missed game of the week involved San Diego's 21-14 victory over Kansas City. But Novi's 22-7 upset over Northville, Michigan State's 10-0 loss to Georgia Tech, and Duke's 28-12 win over South Carolina also were difficult for contestants.

Ohio State, was incorrectly listed as playing Colorado (the game is to be played this week) and hence was discounted even though almost everyone saw the Buckeyes winning. Although Ohio is a favorite, contestants backing the Buckeyes in this week's contest might be fooled by the strong Colorado eleven.

See this week's contest line-up on Page 16-A. Entries must be postmarked or delivered to The Record's editorial office, corner of Main and Center streets, no later than 5 p.m. Friday.

Colts Lose To Jets

It was the Colts versus the Jets all over again.

Not Baltimore and New York, mind you, but Northville and Westland, as the two little league football teams met last Saturday night at the Northville High School field.

Northville's varsity Colts handed the Westland Jets an 8-6 defeat, but the Jayvees lost 14-0 and the freshmen suffered an 8-6 setback.

Colt officials hope to meet expenses by raffling off a snowmobile at their November banquet. Tickets are available for a $1 donation at the Colts' home games.

Saturday night the Colts will meet the Westland Comets in Northville. Games start at 5:30 p.m. and admission is free.

Top Cat

Pat Boyer was an obvious choice for Wildcat of the Week. The junior halfback scored 14 points, gained 81 yards rushing, and 63 yards on pass receptions.

Halfback Dale Griffith was cited by Coach Chuck Shonta for his play against Novi. A major contributor on both offense and defense, Griffith picked up 53 yards on the ground.

Boyer, Van Wagner Lead 'Cats' To Upset Victory Over Mustangs

Led by halfbacks Pat Boyer and Jim Van Wagner, the Novi Wildcats overcame a first half deficit to score 16 second-half points and defeat the Northville Mustangs 22-7 last Friday night in the opening game of the season.

The game was an historic one for it marked the first gridiron meeting between Northville and Novi, and because of the close ties between both the two communities and the two schools, rivalry was high.

What's more, both teams were coming off poor years and each coach wanted to get his team turned around and started toward a winning season.

The two teams battled on even terms throughout the first half.

Novi tallied in the opening quarter, but its extra point attempt sailed wide, and when Northville finally tied the score with a touchdown of its own late in the second quarter, Jeff Moon booted the extra point straight through the uprights to give the Mustangs a 7-6 lead they carried into the dressing room at half time.

Novi made an important switch in their offensive tactics during the break. Instead of trying to break through the middle of the Northville defensive wall, Quarterback Steve Lukkari started sending Boyer and Van Wagner around the Northville ends and Novi was practically unstoppable.

Friday's Games

Novi at Milan

Clarenceville at Northville

In the third quarter alone, the Wildcats rambled for 94 yards on the ground, more than the Mustangs gained in the whole game, as first Boyer and then Van Wagner swept around the Northville line for important chunks of yardage. The two halfbacks alone accounted for 82 of those yards, carrying the ball 11 times.

By the end of the third quarter, Novi had already scored eight points on a touchdown and a two point conversion and were poised on the Mustang 10 yard line.

Lukkari carried for three yards, and on the next play Van Wagner blasted off tackle for the final seven yards. Boyer carried the ball for another two point conversion and Novi had its 22-7 victory.

The awesome Novi domination of the second half was in contrast to the first two quarters of the game when Northville held a slight edge in the play.

Novi opened the scoring at the 4.53 mark of the first quarter, marching 43 yards in seven plays after a bad pass from center enabled Eric Hansor to tackle Mustang punter Jeff Moon before he could get his kick away. Boyer scampered the last 12 yards for the touchdown, as the Wildcats took a 6-0 lead.

Bosak's extra point attempt was wide.

With 56 seconds left in the half, the Mustangs had the ball on the Novi 44 yard line. McDonald hit Steve Griggs for a 24 yard gain to the 18 and then hit Moon for the final 16 yards with just 27 seconds left.

Moon's extra point attempt sailed through the uprights as the Mustangs moved out in front 7-6.

There were only 10 seconds left on the clock after Novi received the kick off, but that didn't prevent the Wildcats from trying to move back in front and they came surprisingly close.

On the last play of the first half, Lukkari hit Boyer with a short pass on the sideline. Starting on his own 30 yard line, the 170-pound junior halfback took off for the distant Mustang end zone. Eluding first the linebacker, then the halfback, and finally the safety, Boyer carted the ball all the way to the seven yard line before linebacker Doug Boor finally moved in to make the tackle as time ran out.

If the first half belonged more or less to Northville, there was no doubt whatsoever as to who owned the second half. It was Novi, particularly Boyer and Van Wagner.

In the first half the pair had been called on to carry the ball just three times, while fullback Gary Collins had been given the ball eight times.

In the second half Boyer and Van Wagner carried 17 times, while Collins ran just three plays from scrimmage. The change in plans from attacking Northville's middle to attacking their flanks proved to be decisive.

Novi started their first touchdown drive from their own 22. Van Wagner opened the drive by going 12 yards. On the next play, Lukkari hit Van Wagner with a pass at the 40, but the big back dropped the ball with nothing but green turf between himself and the goal line.

Van Wagner quickly vindicated himself, however. After Collins had carried for three yards, he set off on another 12 yard jaunt. Boyer hit for 16 yards, Van Wagner hit for six, Boyer for 13, Van Wagner for seven, and the ball was at the Northville 11 yard line. Lukkari got into the act and carried to the four before calling on Boyer, who raced across from the four for his second touchdown of the game.

Lukkari then hit Van Wagner with a pass to give Novi a two point conversion and a 14-7 lead.

The Wildcats scored again the next time they got their hands on the ball, and again it was the ball carrying of Boyer and Van Wagner that produced the touchdown. Van Wagner carried the ball over from the seven to cap a 59 yard, 9 play drive.

This time it was Boyer who was responsible for the two-point conversion, taking a Lukkari pitch-out and dashing around the Northville end.

The points brought the score to 22-7 and that proved to be the final margin of victory.

For Boyer and Van Wagner it was a great day.

Altogether the pair accounted for 211 of Novi's 314 total yardage. Northville had a team total of 179 net yards.

Unfortunately for Mustang fans, Griffith was hurt late in the game when he was tackled while trying to return a punt. The injury, a stretched ligament in his knee, was not believed to be a serious one and Griffith may be ready for limited action against Clarenceville Friday night.

Arrangements Set For Mustang Opener

parents will be charged 50-cents.

Kucher stressed that there will be no parking in the athletic field area. All parking should be done in the High School, Cooke Junior High School, and Amerman School parking lots.

Starting time for this year's football games is 8 p.m.

COACH JOHN OSBORNE

John Osborne had been looking forward to this game, he had once admitted, ever since it was first scheduled a year and a half ago.

And now that his Wildcats had dealt the Northville Mustangs a stunning 22-7 defeat in the historic first meeting between the two schools, Osborne was enjoying all the spoils of victory from the many well-wishers to the triumphant ride on the shoulders of his players.

Even the unscheduled, fully-clothed trip into the showers given him by the team was not an unpleasant experience.

Later, in a more refined mood, Osborne reported that he was "pleased." "We were very pleased," he said, "with our line and with the entire team effort."

The turning point in the game came at the start of the second half when Quarterback Steve Lukkari stopped sending Fullback Gary Collins bucking into the middle of the Northville defensive line and went instead to the wide running game of halfbacks Pat Boyer and Jim Van Wagner.

While the Wildcats had gained 65 yards rushing in the first half, they netted 138 in the second half.

"We told Lukkari to go more with the belly series at half time," said Osborne. "We didn't even try to run it in the first half and we probably should have. We didn't stick to the ground enough."

Novi completed just two of seven passes in the first half and only four of 13 in the game.

Osborne was not willing, however, to say that it was wrong to go with Collins' first half burst up the middle as often as he did. "I think," he said, "that going to the fullback set things up for us in the second half. It made the Northville defenders very aware of the middle and when we finally did go wide it was open."

If anything pleased the Novi coach more than the victory it was the work of his line. "Some of our linemen have had experience," he said, "but most of them are unproven. That's why we were so pleased and surprised when some of our kids we didn't expect much from really came through for us."

But, as Osborne put it, "When you beat Northville, they're all stars."

COACH CHUCK SHONTA

It was a bitter loss for Northville's Chuck Shonta. "I guess that's the way it goes when you don't play football," said Shonta. "We stopped them in the first half, but then we just stopped playing ball. The movies showed that when our kids wanted to do it they could."

The game had been a close affair throughout the first half with the Mustangs holding a slight edge both in score and in actual play. But when the Wildcats took the field in the second half, they changed their tactics, and the tone of the game changed with them.

Instead of trying to dent the middle of the Mustang line, they switched to the belly series, putting the ball in the fullback's belly but then pulling it out and pitching out to the halfbacks, who swept around the flanks for big yardage.

Shonta did not feel, however, that the belly series did his team in as much as their own play did. "It wasn't the belly series," he said, "it was a matter of missed tackles and players not staying at home, not guarding their positions."

"Our ends were getting sucked in; they let themselves get beat to the outside and weren't maintaining their outside positions."

There were good points, however, and Shonta enumerated them.

"For one thing," he said, "we were down 6-0 and were able to come back and take the lead, and for another thing, I was very pleased with the play of our quarterback (Bill McDonald). He showed a lot of poise for a sophomore."

"We found out from the films," he said, "that our younger kids were more aggressive. Norton, Porterfield, and Weachock all played good games, and so did Steve Griggs, a junior out for the first time. We put him in at safety and he made some good plays. He had some good hits, and he also caught a pass for us." But in spite of the bright spots, the fact remained that the Mustangs had lost their opener to Novi.

There is also the realization that of all the teams on Northville's 1971 grid schedule, the Wildcats had represented perhaps the Mustang's surest chance at victory.

because the "press plays it up" and "gives them the coverage" it feeds their ego and they are able to exert more and more pressure, he asserts.

"Political prisoners? Ridiculous. They are in prison because of crimes against society."

Prison riots, says Bannan, are a good deal like riots outside of prisons. Agitators manage by slick words to encourage unthinking mob action even though the majority of participants may in fact be neutral. Unlike riots on the outside, however, inmates cannot "just walk away" or ignore leaders. "They have been shut off from society and they have been forced to develop their own culture. So when a riot occurs 'going along with the crowd' is a natural action. Of course, fear plays a role, too."

It is this total isolation from society that Bannan finds most abhorrent about prisons. It flies in the face of "correction" or "rehabilitation," he says, making readjustments to society all the more difficult. If there is no interaction between society and the inmate how can he successfully take his place in society once he has paid his debt? he asks.

"People just don't care until it is one of their relatives. Then they wonder why nothing was done to help prepare him for the outside. People seem to forget that the inmate will be a neighbor someday."

This kind of talk, he admits, may be considered "soft" or contrary to his "ban the press"

Set Grave Fees

Lots (baby graves in baby section) $35, with $15 to general fund, $10 to trust fund, and $10 for equipment.

Opening of graves on lots is put at $110, with $80 to general fund, $30 for equipment. A $10 extra charge is made for opening and closing of graves on Saturday, and $20 extra charge for the same service on Sunday.

A $25 monument setting fee also was established.

In still other business, the council formally voted to purchase the Beckel property (Heritage House), 114 North Wing Street, at a total cost of $40,000, with $10,000 down and the balance to be paid on November 1.

Councilmen also discussed proposed changes in the city's permit schedules, and set a public hearing for October 18 on two amendments to the plumbing code requirements. The latter would require a hot-cold shut off valve on second floors, and separate sink waste arms for disposal units.

A cemetery loan to the city's general fund ($26,272 of which $18,772 is still owing) was extended to September 1, 1972, and a proposed drainage ordinance was discussed and tabled for future review and possible adoption.

the township, are not paid extra for meetings.)

Melvin Mitchell proposed the township board "finalize this (police protection) thing and have nothing to do with the city."

Marian Szczepanski supported Mitchell's proposal and called for a vote of the audience.

While Strömberg called him out of order and told him to return to his seat, Szczepanski charged he had a "voice in what happens since I am a resident."

Earlier in the meeting Szczepanski said he felt cost of police protection "is one thing and quality is another. I am against any cooperation with the city force," he said, citing personal reasons why he was opposed to contracting with the city for police protection.

Trustees explained plans are being made to mail questionnaires to township residents asking their opinions on which way they wish to go for police protection.

Baldwin said the 40

Solution Sought

It would involve the installation of a 10-inch line.

Second phase, for which no cost estimates have been made, would involve extension of lines from the main to the customers.

Although the township, like the city, now sells Detroit water it services only a limited area in the eastern section of the township. The city furnishes water to a limited number of township customers west of the city at "double rates."

Over the years, the lines to these customers have deteriorated and are frequently being repaired piecemeal at a mounting cost to the city, Ollendorff said. By completely replacing the main these problems could be eliminated, but the cost is seen as economically prohibitive unless additional customers are added to the lines, he added.

Potential new customers are available but since the township is itself in the water business, township permission is required if new customers are to be tapped into the city main, he said. Additional customers would be purely voluntary, he emphasized, pointing out that he has already received requests from township residents for water.

It may be several years before township mains are extended to this township area, Ollendorff told councilmen.

THE NOVI NEWS

The Brighton Argus

THE SOUTH LYON HERALD

Wed.-Thurs., September 22-23, 1971

It was a brisk night that soon warmed up with the action on and off the playing field—a sure sign that prep football is underway. Making it all the more interesting was the fact that local Friday openers featured two big rivalries—Northville at Novi and South Lyon at Brighton. From the opening coin toss (above at Brighton) to the spirited cheering (top to bottom, Novi, Northville, Novi) and the band performances (Novi, top) it was an exciting night even though two teams, Brighton and Northville, both former products of the Wayne-Oakland League, lost out to two Southeastern Conference contenders.

Park 'Color Tours' Seen at Kensington

The next few weeks should bring brilliant fall color to southeastern Michigan and among the sites easiest to observe the changing season are the parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. Persons may take "self-directed" color tours at all eight HCMA parks, with the best color expected from early October through the week-end of October 16th

Persons wishing a map showing the location of all nine parks may write to Metropark Guides, HCMA, 600 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226 or phone 961-5865 (Detroit).

Highlights of fall color at Kensington Park include: Sumac, Virginia Creeper, dogwood and sassafras provide early fall color, followed by aspen, oak and ash which bring new hues to the hills surrounding Kent and Wildwing Lakes. Several miles of roadway provide a restful, colorful drive through the 4,300 acre park

The Canada Geese, located near the Nature Center, are a popular attraction. Individual and family groups are welcome to take a nature hike through the labelled trails. Exhibit hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. week-days, with overflow parking at the West Boat Launching site.

Other facilities during the fall color season include boat rental service and Island Queen tours until mid-October, operating week-ends only and "weather permitting"; plus daily operation of the 18-hole golf course and food service at the starter building. Park hours are sunrise to 11 p.m. For information call 685-1561 (Milford).

Property Tax Out of Line?

LANSING—ONE OF THE SAFEST THINGS for politicians to attack in recent years has been the property tax.

Taxes in general have always been a safe thing to unleash some heated rhetoric upon, but the property tax in recent years has become the main whipping boy. Michigan voters, in fact, may be presented with one or more proposals in the next year to totally abolish the use of property taxes to finance school operations.

But despite their unpopularity, they remain the primary source of revenue for local governments.

In Michigan, property taxes represent 91 per cent of total tax revenue for local governments. Nationally, they account for 85 per cent of the total.

WHEN CONSIDERING all tax revenues pulled in by both state and local governments in Michigan, the property tax accounts for 35 per cent of the total. Nationally, it accounts for 40 per cent.

This means that it would take a whopping increase in another tax before the property tax can be partially or totally eliminated. In his proposal to eliminate property taxes for schools, Gov. William G. Milliken said it would take an increase of at least 2.3 percentage points in the personal income tax to finance the doing away with that part of the property tax.

SENATE TAXATION CHAIRMAN Harry De Maso, R-Battle Creek, who has his own proposal for property tax relief in the form of a $5,000 homestead exemption on all property taxes, is using the same 2.3 per cent number in calculating what it would take to make up the revenues lost from property tax relief under his proposal.

"I think we owe it to the people to tell them we aren't really giving them anything for free," De Maso says. "Anytime you talk about cutting back sharply on one tax, it means you have to increase another to make up for what you lose."

A COMPARISON of Michigan's property tax rates with those in the rest of the country, by the way, shows they are almost average.

For example, Michigan in fiscal 1969—the last year for which comparable figures are available—raised $165 through property taxes for each resident of the state. Neighboring Indiana raised exactly the same amount per person.

Wisconsin had a higher per capita amount from its property tax—$193 per person. Ohio, on the other hand, raised $146 per person from the property tax.

The national average was $152 per person from state and local governments from the property tax.

"PYRAMID" proposals are a new threat says the Michigan Consumers Council.

A pyramid proposal involves a scheme in which a salesman promises a reduction in cost for his product if the buyer supplies a list of friends as potential buyers and the friends also buy.

Council Chairman William Morrison says if one customer refers 20 names and those people each submit a list of 20 friends, by the sixth time around 3,368,421 persons are involved. That's a lot of friends.

In one case, he says, a salesman sold a vacuum cleaner for $400 and didn't stay in the vicinity long enough to contact any friends.

THE STATE POLICE are trying to find young men in the state who are interested in a career as a state policeman.

Eligible to apply are men 21 to 30 years of age who are U.S. citizens and who have been residents of Michigan at least a year prior to application. They must have a high school education or the equivalent.

Candidates must be at least 5 feet 9 inches tall and weigh between 150 and 240 pounds, depending on their height and age. They must be in good physical condition and meet vision and hearing standards. They should have no serious arrest record.

Starting troopers earn $9,228 per year to start. After five years they earn $12,381 per year. They are eligible to retire on pensions at half-pay after 25 years.

Out of The Horse's Mouth

Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of The South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies.

The State Buckskin Association will hold an open horse show Sunday, October 3, at Kline's Woods and Water Farm on Nine Mile Road in Pontiac Trail, South Lyon. Opens at 8 a.m., rain or shine; judge, Doug Kline of Ann Arbor.

There will be a few classes limited to buckskins. Open classes will include English and western pleasure, horsemanship, pony pleasure and halter, Appaloosa halter and pleasure, Quarterhorse halter and pleasure, stock horse non-registered, plus speed and action classes with pay back. The last class of the day will be a championship open with no entry fee. Food will be available on the grounds. Spectators' admission is $1 per person.

Michael Mathews has taken over supervision of the Majestic Farms, local riding school, at 1300 West Joy Road, Ann Arbor. Besides acting as manager, Mathews who was born in Vienna, will direct the horsemanship classes as well as horse training and boarding activities. Mathews received his early equestrian training from instructors at the Spanish Riding School, the home of the famous Lipizzaner horses. He came to the United States in 1939 and operated a riding stable with his brother until he joined the U.S. Army Signal Corps in 1942.

For more than 25 years Mathews has been manager of the Racoon Valley Horse Center of Des Moines, Iowa. Several of his pupils have competed in national shows at Madison Square Garden and one, Charlotte Robson, was a member of the U.S. Olympic Equestrian Team.

Joining Mathews in his move here will be his son Paul, 15, also an accomplished rider.

As part of his initial duties at Majestic, Mathews will supervise construction of a new indoor ring, an 8500 square-foot arena.

Once he's warmed up, move him at a hand gallop for two miles. Pick a flat course for this two-mile gallop and try not to work him on a hard surface.

After the gallop, thoroughly cool out the horse before putting him up. In time the pulse of about 36, and some will go down to 32 for a low pulse. As you condition your horse, you will discover his working pulse which may be around 78-90. But when you rest him, with 10 minutes his pulse will drop back to the reading you get when he is standing around in the paddock—perhaps 44 on his pulse and 12 for respiration.

When you first start conditioning your horse, his pulse will go up quickly and take a relatively long time to recover or return to normal when he is rested. This situation will reverse itself when the horse is conditioned for competitive riding.

P&R (pulse and respiration). When you first start conditioning your horse, his pulse will go up quickly and take a relatively long time to recover or return to normal. You condition the horse so his P&R will drop down to normal or close to normal within 10 minutes.

Now we're ready to start the actual conditioning program. This is built around a two-mile per day gallop over a period of six weeks. When exercising the horse each day, walk him at least three-quarters of a mile to warm him up before starting the gallop.

Once he's warmed up, move him at a hand gallop for two miles. Pick a flat course for this two-mile gallop and try not to work him on a hard surface.

After the gallop, thoroughly cool out the horse before putting him up. In time the cooling-out period will become shorter.

As you continue this part of the program, check your horse's P&R at the end of each day's gallop and again in 10 minutes. You should find his recovery rate improving.

Conditioning the Competitive Trail Horse.

Before you begin to condition a horse for competitive trail riding, you should have a veterinarian make a general health check of the animal.

You should be familiar with P and R's (pulse and respiration) so you can take these readings on your horse when he is at rest or out on the trail. These readings will give you an indication of what shape he's in. The same system will be used on competitive rides to determine what his condition is. These P and R readings are probably the most important factor in judging competitive trail horses.

The pulse may be picked up underneath the jaw, down on his legs, or underneath his tail. If you watch the animal's flanks as they expand and contract, his respiration will be easy to pick up.

You should know your horse's P and R when he is at rest. Check him when he's standing around half asleep and you can usually get what will be his lowest count. If you can check him in his home surroundings, you may find that his pulse may get down to the low 20's. But usually, if you get him haltered and move him around, even if he hasn't been working, or if he's awake in the corral with people moving around, a cold-blooded horse's pulse will usually be around 40-42. Some of them may show a normal pulse as high as 48.

Electric baseboard heating units are clean by nature. But you can help keep them that way with an occasional vacuuming, inside and out. Clean them thoroughly a couple of times a year. Just before the heating season and during any decorating project. Keep the units clean and you'll go a lot longer between wall washings.

Babson Report

Fabric Companies Sew up Profit

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — Over the past ten years there has been the greatest interest in home sewing since the old days when the rural American housewife made most of the clothes for the family, buying her dress patterns and piece goods at the local general store.

In fact, it is estimated by the industry that total sales of patterns, fabrics, sewing machines, and other related items will reach $3 billion for 1971, a sizeable advance from the $2.2 billion chalked up last year.

Also on the optimistic side are a number of developments indicating that the current big expansion in home sewing is more than just a passing fancy. For example: Six out of seven teen-age girls now make some of their own clothes; two out of five women's and children's garments are made at home; and home economics classes, on the decline in popularity following World War II, have now reached an all-time record in terms of demand in high schools.

Adding momentum to the movement have been the skyrocketing prices of ready-to-wear dresses, plus the inferior quality and poor fitting of cheaper dresses bought off the rack. Today's consumer is proud to say, "I made it myself."

THERE IS NO doubt that the great skirt controversy of 1970 provided further impetus for home sewing. With unprecedented firmness the American female decided that she would no longer be told what she would and would not wear by the houses of high fashion in Paris or the trade magazines of New York's garment district on Seventh Avenue. The "do it yourself" method gave her complete freedom of choice in style and fabric, and she did not hesitate to take advantage of this.

In addition to its appeal in permitting the individualization of fashions, home sewing can mean substantial dollar savings for the consumer during an inflationary market.

FOR EXAMPLE, ten years ago

a dress purchased off the rack in a department store might have cost $18. Today that same dress, or one of comparable quality and fashion, could easily cost $35 or even more. In a home sewing or fabric center, a dress pattern costs only 75 cents, two and a half yards of material about $10, accessories perhaps $1.25. The result can be a dress costing some $12—one-third the price of a ready-to-wear garment—and probably with a better fit than she would be likely to find in the product of a Seventh Avenue mass producer.

An increasing number of home-sewing and fabric centers are offering classes not only in sewing techniques but also in fashion coordination. Singer, one of the leaders worldwide, has six-class programs for a fee of $30 through which they are training 120,000 women each year. Some centers have even brought the men into the act, reserving certain evenings of the week just for them.

FABRIC manufacturers no longer consider the over-the-counter market as a dumping ground for remnants of material and manufacturers' rejects. Home-sewing consumers are now regarded as an extremely viable market and are extended the full line in all price ranges. Manufacturers of notions have recognized what a gold mine there is in this field, and have come up with innovative do-it-yourself ideas.

A variety of industries are benefiting directly or indirectly. Such companies as House of Fabrics, Minnesota Fabrics, Fabric-Centers of America, and Simplicity Pattern are committed to serving this market;

For others it is a preoccupation of one or more subsidiaries. For the investor seeking to participate in this growing industry, the Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends purchase of Norton Simon (McCall patterns) and King's Department Stores, and retention of American Can (Butterick patterns), Scovill Manufacturing (Dritz zippers), Singer, Textron (Talon zippers), and Zayre.

TV Overlooks City Manager Job

It's the same old story on television this fall. A plethora (Thank you, Howard Cosell) of series on doctors and lawyers, playboys and detectives, policemen and cowboys, straight-laced or comedy.

As if there were no other occupations fit for portrayal on television. The only new occupational show is "The Man and the City", starring Anthony Quinn as the mayor of a large southwestern city, which has a plethora of possibilities, if for no other reason than that it's new.

as the conditioning continues. A fit horse can be maintained in top condition with this two-mile gallop every two or three days and an extended workout every seven or 10 days. But for the first six weeks, stick with the two-mile gallop each day with one day off each week. Remember to cut down on his feed on the day he is off and give him a little exercise to loosen him up.

Now you're ready to start on the next phase of his training on the trails.

Start his trail work gradually. Don't get him in over his head. It may cause the horse to lose confidence in you and you will probably take the same attitude toward him.

There are always water and bridges to cross, so get him used to both. Show him something new each time you go out.

Your training program now may go something like this: Monday — two mile gallop; Tuesday — 10-15 mile trail ride; Wednesday — two mile gallop; Thursday — 10-20 mile trail ride; Friday — two mile gallop; Saturday — 20-40 mile trail ride; Sunday — brief workout on long line.

Remember that your objective in this training program is to put stress on your horse. You can do this in two ways: travel a long distance as a slower pace or travel a shorter distance at a faster pace.

The idea is to help your horse a little below his potential all along. Otherwise he may be in terrific condition, but if the horse is restless, he doesn't travel well in the trail; he'd bored with the whole thing. He's over-trained.

A normal, fit horse is capable of making a 60-mile ride each weekend; that would be 30 miles per day for two days, and it won't phase him. If you reach the point where you are making a ride every weekend, a two mile gallop on Tuesday and Thursday will probably be enough to maintain his level of conditioning.

You will still want to watch his P&R to determine that he is recovering and if he isn't you will have to determine why. You will want to keep him fit without over-conditioning. This is the point that often separates the winning horse from the others.

By this time you should know your horse well enough that you can make any changes in his training schedule that will maintain him at the level of condition you desire.

Sally Saddle

Completely overlooked are thrilling occupations such as city manager, township supervisor, county commissioner, veterans counselor, planning consultant, banker, engineer, accountant, ad infinitum, and of course, that small town wonder, your weekly newspaper editor.

They're not fit for TV portrayal, you say. Not enough spice or activity? How wrong can you be. Take the job of city manager.

John Carver, age 30, is city manager of a small (5,000 people) midwestern town. Married, he has three small children and a shapely wife whose tasty cooking is only excelled by her good looks. John, of course, is as handsome as his wife is attractive. Six-foot three, wavy hair and a deep, resonant voice, he tackles life and its problems with more than usual vigor.

Today is an average day in his life, if any day is average. He walks briskly to his large, plush city hall office, greeting townspeople along the tree-lined boulevard, pausing briefly at the corner of Plush and Greenbelt streets to size up a situation that has been brought to his attention by complaining nearby residents. Motorists are dragging from this corner, exceeding the speed limit and endangering the lives of pedestrians and other motorists.

Moments later John enters city hall, calls a hearty "good morning" to his beautiful secretary, the beautiful clerk and the beautiful deputy clerk and the handsome police chief. Once behind his desk, the work day of the city manager begins in earnest.

John Carver pulls out a study of the new sewer assessment district, but before he has turned the second page, a police call comes through that there has been an accident at the corner of Plush and Greenbelt Streets. The handsome police chief signals to the city manager and together they rush out of city hall, jump into the Cadillac police car and, siren blaring, race to the accident scene.

June Havoc, waitress at the Luxury Liner, a plush local restaurant, is standing by her car, which is lodged against a utility pole. She says a dragging motorist forced her to swerve into the pole.

Distraught, in tears, June, beautiful June who happens to be one of the most attractive, single waitresses in town, obviously needs comforting. So compassionate John, with a few "There, nows", offers to walk her to her apartment, meanwhile helping to dab away the tears.

One might give this story any number of twists, all of which might be compatible with the beginning. It is but one incident, however, in the life of John Carver, city manager, that could furnish the "stuff" for a television series of no mean dramatic import.

What is This Thing Called Love?

Rev. Gerald A. Nitoski
St. Joseph Catholic Church
South Lyon

About 20 years ago Pitrim Sorokin, a social scientist at Harvard University, wrote a book about love. In it he compared Christian saints and good neighbors. He was tired of reading about murders and sex crimes and scandals. He wanted to get away from "the muck of the social sewers" and climb to "the fresh air of high social peaks".

Sorokin found that love is an unselfish, peaceful and fruitful way to have a worthwhile life. Love has the power to inspire the forgotten, to elevate our hopes and dreams and to make full, an empty life. Love can make the world a warm and friendly and beautiful place. In addition, "it pays to be unselfish, loving and saintly" because love's dividends are greater and more lasting than selfish activity. Sorokin's finding should be no surprise to us. We know, hopefully, that love or charity should be the trademark of the Christian.

One of the lesser-known stories told by Christ was about a rich man named Dives and a beggar named Lazarus.

As the story unfolds, the beggar goes to heaven and rich man ends up in hell. Dives doesn't seem very bad. He is rich, dresses well, and eats good food. But the rich man's chief sin was not gluttony; it was blindness. Dives ignored the poor man seated at his doorstep all covered with sores. He didn't hit Lazarus, nor talk about him, nor torture him. He just pretended Lazarus was not there; he looked the other way.

The point of the story, you might say, is that the idle and the selfish rich will end up in the same way and that it serves them right. If we jump to this conclusion, we miss the whole story. It was designed to teach us all that we cannot afford to ignore the needs of others.

Just recently, in Attica, N.Y., the worst bloodletting and slaughter ever in the history of the United States penal system shocked and sickened our nation. Whatever political activities, inside or outside Attica's walls, motivated that tragedy we may never fully know. One thing seems quite obvious: the needs of others were not apparently being listened to. As one inmate-spokesman angrily shouted: "We're not animals! We're men! And, we'll die like men if we have to!" And they did. Authorities listened then but too late.

Early in life we are taught that we must love others as we love ourselves for love of God. E. Boyd Barrett takes us one step further: "Love is a young soldier at the front, scared and miserable, who writes a cheerful letter home to his parents. Love is a man who promises to find a job for an unfortunate misfit and keeps his promise. Love is a woman who, on discovering another woman's painful secret, does not reveal it. Love is a thrifty housewife who takes the best she has in her icebox to lay before an unwanted guest and serves him with style on her best table linen. Love is a college boy who learns the deaf alphabet in order to converse with a lonely old lady who cannot hear. Love is the one who gives abundantly and gives gladly when a beggar returns and asks another alms. Love is the person who, instead of recriminating, sees his own shortcomings in another's faults. Love is the grateful soul who remembers his own indebtedness and repays the best he can."

Yes, and love is treating a man behind bars and walls with the dignity he has as a child of God despite his failure to respect the rights and dignity of others,—crimes for which he is paying with his freedom.

A hard lesson for us all to learn. And, oh, so painfully and slowly do we learn it.

Visiting Hours

MORNINGS 11:00 Until 12:00
AFTERNOONS 2:00 Until 3:00

It is a beautiful afternoon, and Ken and Monica might have gone for a ride in the country. But they've come to the hospital to visit a classmate.

It isn't always a "fun" thing to visit someone in the hospital, to call on an elderly aunt, or to take a gift to a shut-in. But usually you feel better when you do.

This is a "hurry up" world we're living in. We tell ourselves that there isn't time for the little kindnesses. There isn't time for a lot of things — like, maybe, going to church.

Who are we kidding? Ourselves, perhaps?
