

Rinehart Switch Elects Secord

Wayne County's
Oldest Weekly Newspaper
Established 1869

In action that caught most observers, as well as board members, by surprise B. William Secord was elected to fill the vacancy on the Northville board of education Friday night by a 4-2 vote.

Although Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson called for a secret ballot, Secretary Martin Rinehart announced immediately after the tally that he had been the member who switched votes.

Until Friday night the board had been divided 3-3 in its selection to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Reverend Timothy C. Johnson.

Dr. Robinson, Rinehart and Stanley Johnston favored Mrs. Lawrence (Sylvia) Gucken, an unsuccessful candidate in the last election.

Board Members Glenn Deibert, Richard Martin and Andrew Orphan supported Secord.

It was reported, and later confirmed, that one of the trio backing Secord had indicated he would switch to Mrs. Gucken to break the deadlock.

But while this board member was apparently having second thoughts and coming under pressure from the other two Secord supporters, Rinehart was also reappraising his position.

After counting the ballots, Secretary Rinehart told the handful of people in the audience (including Mrs. Gucken) that he felt the public had a right to know how he had voted and why.

"I've been troubled by the frequently-heard complaint that the board is not sensitive to the will of the people", Rinehart explained.

Rinehart explains vote switch

"While I think both candidates have similar qualifications, Sylvia had run as part of a group which represented a different philosophy, another segment of community thinking.

"Both philosophies are for the good of the schools, but the complexion of the last election was such that I feel I would not be responsive to the people who rejected this philosophy if I supported Sylvia", Rinehart stated.

"I think Sylvia and the public should know how I feel and why I switched my vote", Rinehart added, noting that the decision had come after studied deliberation on his part.

Secord, not present at the special meeting, was called at home. He came to the session and was sworn in by Trustee Johnston.

The new board member has been closely associated with school activities and was once an unsuccessful candidate for the board. He was a trustee of the Schoolcraft college board for three years but did not run for re-election last September.

The appointment runs until next June's school board election.

Fire Loss: $Zero

Vacant TB-Unit Torched

Flames apparently touched off by vandals destroyed a large, empty building in the children's unit complex on the Maybury Sanatorium property last week Wednesday night.

Detroit officials discounted any financial loss because the vacant building already had been "written off" as having no value. However, Township Treasurer Joseph Straub saw it a different way. Noting that vandalism and illegal entry is growing at Maybury, resulting in expensive police action, he said last week's fire cost township taxpayers $500.

He urged fellow board members Tuesday to insist that Detroit beef up its patrolling of the vacated facility.

First Northville firemen to arrive on the scene reported smelling gasoline.

Fire fighters and equipment from Novi and Plymouth Township aided local firemen who could do little but keep the flames from spreading to adjacent buildings. The building was already engulfed by flames by the time firemen arrived.

Arriving at the main gate shortly after a township resident reported the fire at 11:11 p.m., firemen were unable to unlock the gate. A key provided firemen was useless because the lock had been changed. Firemen were about to ram a vehicle through it when a Maybury watchman arrived to unlock it.

Located about a block or more east of the administration building and the central complex of empty buildings, the children's unit had already been completely wrecked inside by vandals since the last TB patients were treated there years ago. All furniture of value was sold a year ago.

SEARING FLAMES, so hot that firemen had difficulty getting close enough to fight the blaze, raged out of control last week, destroying a vacant building on the Maybury property. Firefighters, however, managed to keep the fire from spreading to larger buildings.

Curbs Proposed For Snowmobiles

A pre-Christmas "gift" for snowmobilers may be wrapped up December 20 when the Northville City Council conducts a public hearing on limiting the operation of these vehicles inside the city.

The proposed new ordinance would bar operation of snowmobiles on city streets and sidewalks, in city cemeteries, and in park areas and it would prohibit excessive noise and smoke caused by snowmobiles.

At least one councilman, Paul Folino, would prefer that all snowmobile operation inside the city be banned or at least limited to properties of five acres or more in size.

As presently worded, however, the proposed ordinance would permit snowmobile operation on private property except between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. During these hours no snowmobile operation would be permitted.

The proposed ordinance further prohibits——Excessive speed as may be deemed unreasonable and improper under existing conditions.

—Operation by those under influence of alcohol, narcotic drugs or barbitol

—Operation in darkness without lighted headlights and taillights

—Operation in any nursery, planting area, or natural area of forest reproduction where growing stock may be damaged.

—All vehicles not properly equipped with mufflers, and —those creating excessive or unusual noise and annoying smoke

Early Deadline

Because of the Thanksgiving Holiday, The Northville Record—Novi News will be published one day early next week.

All deadlines have been moved ahead to accommodate the early publication.

Classified advertising (want ads) must be submitted by noon Saturday. Call want ads to 349-1700, or bring them to our Main and Center street offices.

Deadline for regular display advertising and all news items is 4 p.m. Monday.

—Transportation of bows or firearms

The ordinance, if approved, provides that operation of snowmobiles on public lands may be permitted only upon specific permission of the city council. As for operating them on streets, the chief of police may, in emergency situations, grant special permission.

Prohibition extends to that area between sidewalks and streets, and on the shoulder of streets and in ditches. It permits crossing of streets only when such crossing will not interfere with free movement of automobile traffic.

When Councilman Folino suggested the proposed ordinance be extended to include other types of recreational vehicles, such as dune-buggies, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie and City Manager Frank Ollendorff explained that "snowmobile" is defined by state statute and cannot be interpreted as meaning any other kind of vehicle.

Earlier in the meeting, the city attorney was directed to investigate the possibility of

For New Township Hall

Accept $450,000 Plan

A major step towards the proposed construction of a township hall complex was taken Tuesday night by the Northville township board. The $450,000 structure would be constructed on an 8.9-acre site on the north side of Six Mile at Winchester road on property to be given the township by Thompson-Brown development company.

The board voted unanimously to accept the plan as submitted by the architect for the 11,200-square-foot facility and to retain the services of a professional consultant to determine methods of financing the project.

While the board agreed that it is necessary at this time to proceed with plans for the township hall complex, members were not in unanimous agreement on what it might contain.

Trustee Richard Mitchell's motion to accept the architect's plan as submitted specifically included office facilities, fire station and police station.

Trustee Leonard Klein omitted any reference to a police station and called the complex "municipal offices and fire station".

Trustee Klein also sought to delay adoption of the plan until the site actually belongs to the township. Thompson-Brown has verbally promised to donate the land to the township. Klein's motion died, 4-2.

Because the township board is currently preparing to mail out a questionnaire to all registered voters seeking public opinion on police protection for the township, most board members took the position that facilities for police should not be specified in the proposed township complex.

Alternatives for police protection in addition to expansion of the township force include contracting with the city of Northville or Wayne county.

Strongest advocates of moving forward with plans for the township complex were Trustee Mitchell and Clerk Eleanor Hammond.

"People don't realize the problems facing us. A poll is fine, but we must exercise leadership and tell them what we have and ask them if they want it. The building will always be needed, even if eventually there should be unification," argued the clerk.

She noted that some $10,000 had already been spent on plans and that "this would be

NEWS BRIEFS

WHERE'S SANTA? The Northville Merchants' Association is seeking a Santa who "is not adverse to arriving December 4 by helicopter, hopefully, on the new parking deck and otherwise at the Downs parking lot," according to Charles Lapham. He adds that the helicopter substitutes for reindeer who have "the flu" and that this may be Santa's only Northville appearance unless a local group comes forward to sponsor the project for which both funds and space are available. Santa, call him at 349-5175.

HARRY BUCKEL, vice-president of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, was a guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Northville Rotary Club.

JAIL SPACE in the city hall building is likely to become pretty cramped at times during the next year in light of a county directive that no more prisoners will be accepted at the Wayne County Jail during renovations there. The directive means Northville must house all of its felony and misdemeanor cases (occurring in the Wayne County section of the city). With only three cells here, Police Chief Samuel Elkins sees some real problems should the number of prisoners climb substantially. Last weekend, the three cells held six prisoners, most of them drunks. Each cell contains just one bunk. What happens if some of the prisoners are women? Elkins would rather not think about it.

NEWLY ELECTED Councilmen David Biery and Paul Vernon and re-elected Mayor A. M. Allen were sworn into office by City Clerk Martha Milne at Monday night's council meeting. The procedure followed the approval of minutes by out-going members, Charles Lapham and Wallace Nichols, who were awarded their council table nameplates as a souvenir of their service to the city. First action of the newly organized council was the naming of Councilman Kenneth Rathert, who was absent, as mayor pro-tem.

SURFACE MAIL to Europe, including Christmas packages, currently is under an embargo due to the east coast dock strike and will not be accepted by area post offices. Northville Postmaster John Steimel reports turning away customers daily. The west coast embargo, however, was lifted last week. Last week also two designs of eight-cent Christmas stamps were placed on sale.

City to Fight 'Hike' In Street Light Rate

Northville City Council voted 3-1 Monday to join with other metropolitan Detroit area communities in opposing a proposed 45-percent rate increase for street lighting.

The dissenting vote was cast by Mayor A. M. Allen, who argued that if a rate increase was denied, Detroit Edison very likely would pass this "loss" on to private property owners by increasing their rates.

"One way or the other someone is going to have to pay the bill either it will be through taxes (charge to the city for street lighting) or by the homeowners," he said.

Commission, would cost Northville approximately $12,000 annually.

He reported that 29 Michigan municipalities have intervened in the Detroit Edison rate increase petition.

By enacting the resolution, he explained, Northville joins with at least a dozen other Detroit area municipalities who will present arguments against the increase proposal before the Public Service Commission.

The resolution was amended to provide that Northville's share in any legal or auditing expense not to exceed $300.

In other business Monday, the council heard a complaint and suggestion by Gerald Stopper, 43798 Doris Court, that the city's practice of charging a fee for on-street parking permits be eliminated.

Stopper contended that the charge is "unfair". Ollendorff explained that the nominal fee of $1 per month is charged to offset the clerical cost of filling out and providing permits.

City ordinance prohibits all-night parking on streets except in cases of unusual hardships, in which case permits may be issued.

Stopper's suggestion was taken under advisement and council is to make a decision on the matter at the next council meeting.

Luke Duerst, 1200 Hillridge, was appointed to the Northville Board of Appeals to fill out the unexpired term of newly elected Councilman Paul Vernon.

The term expires July 1, 1973.

Plan Annual Walk, Farewell

By JEAN DAY

THIS SUNDAY offers two special events that will bring a good portion of the community into town during the afternoon.

Coinciding with the annual Northville Merchants' and antique dealers holiday open house preview from noon to 6 p.m. is the farewell open house at Northville Presbyterian Church for the Reverend Timothy C. Johnson.

The assistant pastor at the church is leaving to become pastor of the Montpelier, Ohio, Presbyterian Church, located in northwest Ohio with a congregation of 320. He has been the assistant here for four and a half years.

Everyone who has known the young minister is invited to attend the open house scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. in the church fellowship hall, Mrs. Howard Meyer, Jr., clerk of the session, announced, citing his many community affiliations. These include service as a member of the Northville Board of Education and with the DARTE program.

He will give his last sermon in his present position next Sunday morning and with his wife and young son will move the day after Thanksgiving. Mrs. Johnson went to Montpelier this week to work on redecorating the manse there.

Working with Mrs. Meyer on the open house arrangements are Mrs. William Chase and Mrs. Paul Robinson.

THE CHRISTMAS WALK preview will be "the biggest ever" this Sunday as 15 local merchants hold open house, dispense refreshments and exhibit gift and decorative items for Christmas. Joining them again will be the area's dozen antique and arts and crafts shops.

Area residents familiar with the merchants' annual Sunday-before-Thanksgiving open house know that windows and stores will be decorated for the holidays and new merchandise will be on display. The stores will be open from noon to 6 p.m., or within those hours.

Downtown Northville's holiday street decorations and greens were installed the beginning of this week.

Open on Main Street will be Stone's Gamble Store, Lila's Flowers and Gifts, Del's Shoes, Brader's Department Store, Freydl's Men's and Women's Wear and Lapham's Men's Shop. Joining them for the first time will be two new merchants—Pease Paint Store and, in the Record building block, the Fashion Cellar, where women are invited to "step down and view the beauty salon."

At the east end of Main Street the Palace Restaurant will be participating. On Center Street Banbury Cross gift shop and Northville Hardware will be open.

Completing the list are Northville Lumber Company on Baseline, the new Bedspread Place and the just-opened Factory Outlet Store adjacent on Park off East Main, and Long's Plumbing Company, on East

Dunlap, which now boasts a bath boutique.

The Sunflower Shop on Main Street and the Book and Easel Shop on Center are the crafts shops to be open. Also open on Main will be the Littlest Gallery with both antiques and crafts.

ANTIQUES will blend with old-fashioned Christmas decorations in the antique shops. The Stone Cellar and Village Pump Antiques will be open on Center Street. On Main Street there will be the Barn Door, Bibelotage, Northville Antiques and the Owl and the Wheel. Others are Bodelm's on Seven Mile, the Weather Vane on Eight Mile, and Mel Anderson's Clocks on Dunlap.

THE NEW BAND Parents' Club of parents of Northville High School marching band members also is participating in the downtown event Sunday. Beginning at noon, band students will be selling homemade pumpkin bread, usually made by their mothers, in the downtown area.

(The recipe went home with band students this week and 200 loaves are being baked, the committee hopes.)

The project is to raise funds to send the marching band to band camp next August. Mothers and band students also have started a series of weekly bake sales at the high school on Tuesdays to aid the fund.

A TIVOLI HOT DOG TREAT — Presenting a "Tivoli Fair Hot Dog" to Danish Consul Marshall Fredericks at the opening of the second annual Tivoli Fair sponsored by Northville Historical Society last Friday and Saturday was Mrs. R. M. VanEe. Fredericks, who opened the first Danish-inspired fair last year, flew back from a vacation in Oregon to do so this year, reporting he "wouldn't miss it."

Births

Mr and Mrs Dean Johnston of Belleville became the parents of a seven pound, twelve ounce daughter named Rebecca Ruth November 11. Mrs. Johnston is the former Debra Forsyth, who lived in Northville.

Paternal grandparents are Mr and Mrs James Johnston of Plymouth. Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Olive Forsyth of Northville and Robert Forsyth of Plymouth.

Mr and Mrs Dan Beetler, 43756 Westridge Lane, announce the birth of their first child, named Lori Elizabeth, November 6 at St. Mary Hospital. Their new daughter weighed six pounds, two ounces.

Grandparents are Mrs. Nora Jessee of Cincinnati and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beetler of Cleveland.

BIG 'TIVOLI' TURNOUT — Crowds attended the Northville Historical Society's second fair both Friday and Saturday, touring the exhibits and booths and bringing the total attendance to more than 1,000. The Tivoli Fair was held at the new Northville United Methodist Church.

'Indians' Are Topic For CAR Program

In compliance with Governor Milliken's request that "all citizens give appropriate recognition to the important role the American Indian has played in this nation's history," the Plymouth Corners Society, Children of the American Revolution, studied the Michigan Indians at its meeting Saturday morning at the home of Terry Lapham, 46907 Grasmere.

The society's research and displays will be used at the state conference this spring. Governor Milliken's proclamation further urged that "all educational, religious and governmental institutions to observe this occasion by making every effort to create public awareness regarding the culture and history of the American Indian."

After the meeting luncheon was served by the hostesses. Attending were Susan Sebenaller, Mimi and Jacki Merwin of Northville, Dawn and Collette Hurlburt of Brighton with their mother, Mrs. Richard Hurlburt, and the senior society president, Larry Willoughby of Plymouth.

DAR Gift Will Help School

Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, celebrated its 45th birthday Monday at a luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel. It presented a check for improvements at the Tamassee DAR school in South Carolina, to Mrs. Leslie O. Carlin, state regent.

Mrs. Carlin came from Mount Pleasant to be guest speaker. She had been a house mother in a boys' dormitory at Central Michigan University for 19 years until such offices were abolished. In addition to mentioning some of her experiences, she outlined the chapter's 45-year history.

The improvements at the Tamassee School are Mrs. Carlin's regent project of the year. It was pointed out that the Michigan Laundry equipment is in need of replacement and repair. The school was the first of the DAR schools to be established and was founded by the South Carolina Daughters in 1919 and made a national DAR project in 1920.

It is a boarding and day school, co-educational, with grades one through eight. It has an average enrollment of 450. To be a boarding school pupil a child must not live within walking distance of the school or of a highway. The society gives assistance to ten other approved schools, including two Indian schools, it was reported.

Hostesses at the birthday luncheon were Mrs. David Christensen, chapter regent, and chapter officers.

Castillo, Lorrie Deibert, Diana Black, Carol Turnbull. Winner in the pageant sponsored by the Northville Jaycees will receive an Eastern Michigan University scholarship and go on to compete in the regionals.

Nine Seek Junior Miss Title

Nine Northville High School seniors will be competing for the title of Northville Junior Miss in the fifth annual pageant sponsored by the Northville Jaycees at 8 p.m. Saturday, November 27, in the high school auditorium.

Seeking the crown will be Melissa Eddy, Carol Turnbull, Diana Black, Eliisa Mannisto, Robin Fox, Kitty Castillo, Lorrie Deibert, Sarah Horner and Nancy Chadwick.

The girl named Northville Junior Miss will receive a Board of Regents' scholarship to Eastern Michigan University as well as the Junior Miss trophy. Second and third place winners are to receive cash prizes.

Northville's Junior Miss then will compete in the Detroit Regional Pageant to be held in Livonia December 11. Twelve regional finalists will go on to vie for the state crown in Pontiac in January.

Michigan Junior Miss will appear in national finals in Mobile, Alabama, next March. Pam Smith, Northville Junior Miss, went on to become Michigan Junior Miss, in a previous competition.

At the pageant next Saturday contestants will be judged for talent, for their appearance in sportswear and evening dress. Earlier judging will include personality and scholastic achievement.

Tickets at $1.50 for adults may be purchased at the door. Proceeds will be used to increase the financial grants to winners after pageant expenses have been deducted.

Kampen At Town Hall

Humorist-Author 'Tells All'

"Here comes that funny lady—watch her!" That "funny" and wittily charming lady last Thursday was Irene Kampen, writer and Town Hall speaker who doesn't mind telling candid stories about herself.

She gained her "funny lady" reputation when commissioned by her publisher (Doubleday) to write a story about ski resorts and learning to ski. She visited Sugarbush and other resorts, she recalled, telling how she fell in all of them, broke her leg and wrote a book.

Her first book, "Life Without George," became a best seller and the basis for The Lucy Show with Lucille Ball, still in re-runs.

At the celebrity luncheon following Town Hall, a member asked, "Who is that person in your publicity pictures—it doesn't look like you!"

Author Kampen's prior publicity picture showed her with short-cropped dark hair and wrinkles of any forty-plus woman. She appeared with long, blonde hair and smooth, tanned skin.

"I had my face lifted last summer—that's the subject of my next book," she explained, conceding the validity of the question. She related how she came to join such celebrities as Johnny Carson, Joan Rivers, Zsa Zsa Gabor and Vivian Vance in having "tucks" taken.

She had complimented Miss Vance, who co-starred in The Lucy Show, on "looking great," and the star insisted on taking her to her doctor.

Miss Kampen said that The Lucy Show followed her book with one major exception: the producers made Lucy a widow instead of a divorcee. The book was the basis for the second of a series of three "Lucy" shows.

Miss Kampen returned to the University of Wisconsin campus after 25 years (or, quoting the words of the university, "a quarter of a century later") to pick up seven units of journalism, required for graduation.

"This experience resulted in 'Due to Lack of Interest Tomorrow Has Been Cancelled.' The title of this best seller, she reported, came from student graffiti.

Another bit of graffiti she considered, she told her audience at Northville High School, was "Candy is dandy, but sex does not rot your teeth."

When she left the university to marry, she recalled, the student body numbered 15,000, she returned to a campus with 40,000 students.

Asked how she was accepted by demonstration generation, she replied that she felt well accepted—"they thought I was some middle-aged nut but there were so many nuts on campus that nobody noticed another."

In the late sixties she said, students were protesting and holding sit-ins and sleep-ins.

"I signed petitions against house mothers, deans of women, deans of men, closing hours, segregated housing (that didn't mean racial—both sexes are now in the same buildings, but not the same room, maybe next semester.)"

"There also were petitions against freshman English (it's abolished as a requirement) and Charles Dickens—I did take the precaution of signing each petition 'Louisa May Alcott'—and when I gave it back the petitioner would invariably say, 'Thank you Miss Alcott'."

"In all, I felt like a combination of Mother Machree and Betty Coed."

Books and public appearances (which she prefers to writing) have continued. Her eighth and most recent book is "Are You Carrying Any Gold or Living Relatives?"

This chronicles her trip through the Soviet Union with Nga Magidoff. On her seven-week visit she observed that Soviet women are "fat with gold capped teeth because Soviet men like this kind of beauty."

Because American beauty standards are not so generous, poundwise, Miss Kampen decided upon a week's stay at a beauty spa instead of spending $1,000 on a cruise. Her six-pound loss became the subject of another amusing story, especially so when she added the post script that three were regained the following week at her mother's Thanksgiving dinner.

SPECIAL TRAINING—Ruth Douglas (left) and Marci Brooks, both of Novi, are among the 60 Cadette and Senior Scouts who are being trained in the techniques of teaching their skill in songs, games, outdoor know-how, simple puppets, hand arts, singing games, folk dances and flag ceremonies.

Miss Kampmann Wed In Mother's Gown

When Patricia Irene Kampmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kampmann, 47100 Stratford Court, became the bride of Ralph Anthony Karkoski, Jr., in a fall ceremony at Our Lady of Victory Church, she added to the sentiment of the occasion by wearing her mother's wedding gown.

Of ivory satin, it was fashioned on traditional lines with an illusion neckline and long sleeves. The skirt extended into a full train. The bride carried three long-stemmed yellow roses.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anthony Karkoski, Sr., of Allen Park. The Reverend John Wittstock officiated at the October 1 ceremony for which David Sprunk was organist, playing "We've Only Just Begun" and "A Time for Us." Both Mr. and Mrs. Kampmann gave their daughter in marriage during the ceremony.

Mrs. Michael Shute (Donna Bissa), a long-time friend of the bride, came from Germany to be matron of honor. Margaret Kampmann was honor maid. Both wore ivory crepe blouses, needlepoint waistbands and linen skirts of maize and brown, respectively, and carried baskets of dried fall flowers.

Bridesmaids were Kelly Kampmann, Linda Karkoski, Kathy Kamm of Ann Arbor and Mrs. William (Diane) Kampmann, sister-in-law of the bride. Their gowns and flowers matched the maid of honor's. Katie Kampmann was flower girl in a gold linen dress.

Marc Karkoski was best man with Bill and Jim Kampmann, Paul Karkoski, Peter Pelouquin and Paul Hammel of Allen Park ushering. Bruce Karkoski was ring bearer.

A reception for 200 guests followed at Karas House in Westland. The bride's mother wore an ivory silk coattress ensemble while the bridegroom's chose a green linen coat and matching dress.

The bride changed to a navy knit dress for a wedding trip to Northern Michigan. She is a 1969 graduate of St. John the Baptist High School and a 1971 graduate of Mercy School of Nursing. Her husband is a 1967 graduate of St. Francis Cabrini High School and is an apprentice with Harlan Electric.

They are making their home in Royal Oak.

Teacher Strike Near?

Contract Extended

Temporary extension of last year's teaching contract was approved by both teachers and the board of education this past week pending definitive interpretation by the Wage-Price Review Board of retroactive salaries.

Teachers agreed last week to extend the contract through next Tuesday and the board met in special session late Saturday afternoon to also approve the extension.

Teachers already had been working under an extended contract, which expired last week, during negotiations for a new agreement.

A proposed new contract, supported by a majority of teachers, was rejected unanimously by the board last week Monday because, in the opinion of the district's attorney, it called for retroactive pay.

(Wage-Price officials were to rule this week on whether or not retroactive pay would be permitted teachers.)

Meanwhile, alternate proposals reportedly are being considered, according to Superintendent Thomas Dale. Teacher discussion of actions the Novi Education Association might take in lieu of a settlement, is expected next week.

Spokesmen for both sides have indicated an eagerness to reach a mutually satisfactory settlement to avoid any confrontation.

Although the possibility of a mid-year teacher strike exists here and in other districts where contracts have not yet been ratified, the teachers' chief negotiator, Milan Obrenovich, has declined publicly to consider this possibility.

While voicing displeasure with the board's position during the lengthy negotiation process, he has insisted that teachers want a settlement fair to both sides. The proposal offered the board last week, he contended, represents a very modest gain that falls short of settlements elsewhere.

City Council Seeks Speed Limits in Novi

Lower speed limits for 10 Mile Road and the city's subdivisions are a distinct possibility after the Novi council Monday night directed City Manager George Athas to broach the matter with the Oakland County Road Commission.

The topic was first raised by Councilman Edwin Presnell in regard to 10 Mile Road and was broadened to include subdivisions by Councilman Denis Berry.

Said Presnell, "The speed limit on 10 Mile is too high and very dangerous. We must remember that we have subdivisions up and down that road and there are no sidewalks for the children to walk on. On 'bloody Telegraph' the speed limit has been lowered to 45 in some spots and I don't see why the same can't be done on 10 Mile. I don't think we should ask for the limits to be lowered, we should demand it."

Athas indicated that he would write a "strong" letter to the Oakland County Road Commission and would also bring the matter up with them personally.

Child Killed On 10 Mile

A Novi child, two-year-old Kenneth Alan Discher, was struck and killed by a truck, while playing outside his home on the edge of 10 Mile road Monday.

Funeral services are being held at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville.

The accident occurred at approximately 10:35 a.m.

According to police reports, the child was killed when struck by a stake truck driven by Theodore Kress of Walled Lake. Kress told police that he was traveling westbound on 10 Mile and saw two youngsters on each side of the road just west of the Buckingham Court subdivision entrance.

Kenneth, he reported, walked into the side of his truck and was struck by the left front fender.

Police investigation confirmed Kress' story and witnesses driving directly behind the truck verified that the vehicle was traveling at a speed lower than the posted speed limit. He was not held and no charges have been issued.

Kenneth, who would have been two years old Sunday, was born November 21, 1969, in Livonia. He had lived all his life in Novi. His mother is the former Wanda J. Barnes.

In addition to his parents, survivors include sister and brothers, Steven, 9, Terri, 7, and Bill, 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Discher of Brighton and Mr. and Mrs. John T. Barnes of Toledo.

Prayer services were to be conducted Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Casterline Funeral Home. Following the 10 a.m. service today at Our Lady of Victory Church, interment will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield.

While the topic of speed and children's safety was on the floor, Berry raised the question of subdivision speed limits, asking that an amendment be added to the city ordinance lowering the present 25 mile per hour speed limit to 15.

Several councilmen were skeptical, however, that the change in posted limits would accomplish the desired goal of slowing traffic. "If people won't stick to the 25 mile per hour limit," asked councilman Louie Campbell, "what makes you think lowering it would do any good?" and councilman Donald Young suggested that the answer lay in stricter enforcement of the present limits.

Another suggestion, made by city manager George Athas and mayor Joseph Crupi, proposed that stop signs be placed at every corner.

Whatever direction will be taken to remedy the problem of speed along 10 Mile and within Novi's subdivisions is still up in the air. There was little doubt, however, of the council's intent to "slow things up" on the city's streets.

LINK Line Open Now

Telephone lines to LINK will open for the first time Friday night and will be open every weekend hereafter, it was announced Monday by Father Leshe F. Harding, vicar of the Holy Cross Episcopal Mission on 10 Mile Road in Novi.

LINK, which stands for Listeners in Novi Kare, is, in the words of Father Harding, "simply a listening and referral service for teens and adults with information on all problem areas including drug abuse and alcoholism."

The phone numbers for LINK are 349-3240 and 349-3241. Lines will be open from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. every Friday, Saturday, and Sunday night.

LINK is sponsored by the Novi Drug Abuse Committee, a group of citizens concerned with providing help for people who need counseling with their problems.

Directors of LINK are Father Harding, chairman; Ray Warren; Robert Starnes; Mary MacDermaid; and Gloria Soulliere.

Council Roadblock

Anti-Busing Move Fails Third Time

Efforts to get an anti-busing resolution passed by the Novi city council have been considerably less than successful.

Monday councilmen Louie Campbell, Raymond Evans, and Donald Young made yet another attempt to bring the matter to the floor, but were outmaneuvered in a battle of parliamentary procedures and the issue was never discussed.

An anti-busing resolution was first brought before the council by Campbell on October 26. At that time, however, the resolution was not well received. Some councilmen felt that passage of such a resolution would needlessly alarm the citizens, while another stated that they whole matter of busing did not really apply to the council's area of jurisdiction.

The school board has gone on record in favor of this resolution, one councilman had noted, and I feel that they are the ones who should properly be dealing with this issue.

When a motion to table the matter passed by a 4-2 vote, Campbell angrily charged that two councilmen—Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry—would vote against any matter he brought before them.

At that moment Mayor Joseph Crupi excused the press and called the council into executive session in order to hash out personal differences and the hard feelings that had been expressed.

Last Wednesday, November 10, Campbell reintroduced his resolution by moving, via proper parliamentary procedure, that the matter be removed from the table. The motion was defeated, however, as only Campbell and Evans voted in favor of re-opening discussion, while Presnell, Berry, O'Brien, and Young voted against it.

In spite of the motion's defeat, however, mayor pro tem Berry allowed discussion.

"Resolutions can be both good and bad," said Berry. "They're bad when they needlessly alarm the citizens. This issue is being fought on both the state and national levels. What little action we could take here seems almost senseless in view of the concentrated effort already underway."

Evans, however, expressed displeasure with the council's decision. "If busing is allowed," he said, "I'm afraid the people of Novi will be extremely upset with this council for not taking action."

At Monday's meeting, the busing resolution was again on the agenda for discussion.

Campbell moved the resolution be removed from the table for the purpose of withdrawing his original motion that the resolution be passed.

O'Brien, Berry, and Presnell voted in favor of leaving the matter tabled, while Young, Campbell, and Evans voted in favor of returning it to the floor.

Placed in the position of breaking the deadlock, Crupi voted affirmatively. Campbell withdrew his motion that the resolution be adopted and Evans withdrew his second.

At that point, Young pulled a new anti-busing resolution out of his briefcase and prepared to pass out copies to council members, but was stopped by O'Brien who raised a point of order.

"We decided at the last meeting," said O'Brien, "to not deviate from our approved agenda and this resolution is not on the agenda because we just voted to remove it."

Councilman Presnell promptly moved to the next item of business and the anti-busing resolution forces were forced to quietly grit their teeth and wait for another week.

Campbell indicated to the Novi News after the meeting, that he would not re-introduce his original resolution. "It is obvious to me," he stated, "that this council has no intention of passing my resolution." Young, however, has already asked that his new anti-busing resolution be added to next week's agenda.

Building Permits Squeeze Through

Developers Kaufman and Broad (K & B) were granted permission by the Novi council Monday to obtain building permits for 50 homes in their Heatherwyke subdivision prior to final plat approval, but it took a team of three lawyers and the tie-breaking vote of Mayor Joseph Crupi to accomplish that end.

K & B Attorney James Dwyer's original request for the permits last week had been denied by the council. But Monday the request was made again as Dwyer and two other K & B attorneys — Barry Stolberg and Richard Carnegie — appeared before the council.

In addressing the council, Stolberg prefaced his remarks by asking if his company had done something wrong in their eyes. "If there are any gripes or complaints," he said, "I'd like to hear them so that we can get this thing back on the right track. We've been working very hard to do right by Novi and right by the council and we're getting a lot of abuse in return."

"Last week we came before you to ask permission for 50 permits, and were denied. This is a perfectly logical idea and a perfectly logical request, and we just didn't expect to get a lot of flak on it. We're simply asking for something that we thought you would like."

Usually building permits are not granted until final plat approval has been received and the plats have been recorded. It is not unusual, however, for municipalities to grant permits for a specified number of permits prior to that approval, and, in fact, that very thing has been done by the Novi council in regard to another Kaufman and Broad subdivision.

K & B's request was prompted by their desire to have models ready for sale by spring, a feat they feel would be impossible if they're forced to wait through all the red tape involved in getting plat approval finalized.

Spearheaded by Edwin Presnell, several councilmen questioned the attorneys about their progress in attaining that final plat approval and learned that the papers were just a few signatures away from being sent to Lansing. It is in Lansing, K & B feels that the major hold-up will take place due to the heavy backlog of work.

Stolberg estimated that final plat approval would not be received until February, saying that this was the reason K & B was requesting the permits now.

The council was divided equally on the request with three members in apparent approval of granting the request and three members opposed.

Reasons for opposing the request covered a wide range. Councilman Raymond Evans asked why work on attaining the final plat approval had not been started early enough to avoid having to make a special request, and councilman Louie Campbell was opposed to granting the request before the city engineer had inspected the area.

Presnell raised two points in opposition. Citing the emergency problems created by the fact that so many streets are named similarly, Presnell chided the developers for not having changed them when the point was first raised some time. "We've got Heatherbrae, Heathlea, Heatherbrook and who knows how many other Heathers. In times of emergency calls to the police or fire department, these names get garbled and create a real hazard. I don't care what you name the streets, as long as they don't sound alike."

City manager George Athas concurred with Presnell about the danger. "We've already had several cases where emergency crews have gone to the wrong location because of a similarity of names," he said.

Presnell also raised the point that there are still 40 lots unsold in K & B's Heatherwood subdivision.

Other councilmen were obviously satisfied, however,

Colony Given Car Contract

With councilmen Louie Campbell and Donald Young holding out to the very end, the Novi council Monday approved the bid of Colony Chrysler-Plymouth for four new cars to be used by members of the building department.

Acceptance of the Colony bid brought to a close a matter that had resulted in a stalemate when first brought to the council at their meeting on November 1.

Eleven dealers had originally submitted bids to the city — the low bid being that of the Plymouth (Michigan)-based Colony dealership. City Manager George Athas recommended acceptance of their bid.

But councilmen Campbell and Young took the position that the city should accept the second lowest bid — that of Shuman Ford of Walled Lake.

They based their arguments on two points, that it would be less expensive to accept the Walled Lake bid because that city is closer to Novi than Plymouth is and thus fewer man hours would be involved in driving the cars back to the dealership when they needed to be serviced, and that there would be continuity of all city cars (the police department cars are Fords).

At issue was city policy regarding whether or not to deal exclusively with Fords. "I've received calls," Athas pointed out at the time, "from dealers who've asked me not to bother them for bids if we have no intention of accepting non-Ford automobiles."

Motions to accept first the Shuman bid and then the Colony bid were both defeated and the matter was postponed for further study until last Wednesday's meeting.

Councilman Edwin Presnell opened the discussion by moving to accept the low bid of Colony Chrysler-Plymouth. Again objection came from Young. Referring to a study made some years ago by the city, the councilman said, "Our study showed that in the long run it costs more to operate Plymouths than it does Fords."

Athas and councilman William O'Brien refuted Young's claim saying that the study was done in relation to police cars — a far different matter than cars for building inspectors.

The council finally approved the Colony bid by a 4-2 margin. Presnell, Berry, O'Brien and Evans supported the motion, while dissenting votes were cast by Young and Campbell.

Eye Computer For Novi Taxes

Computerization of the Novi tax rolls is likely as the council has referred a tentative contract with Oakland County for that service to City Attorney Howard Bond for his legal opinion.

The change is necessary because the county is in the process of phasing out its addressograph department which currently handles the tax rolls.

"We must have a way to reproduce the assessment rolls," said City Manager George Athas, "the question is how do you want to do it." According to Athas, county officials have stated that the service would cost Novi less than $5,000 over the next two years. Although funds for the service have not been budgeted, the bill is not due until next September and Athas indicated he would request the funds in the next fiscal budget.

Council members generally supported the move to computerization of the assessment rolls, and one of the, William O'Brien, said "I wish we'd done it two years ago."

If council gives final approval, the service will not be ready for the December tax billing, but would go into operation with the June tax bill.

Horse Tests Protect Harness Race Fans

Preservation of the integrity of harness racing is uppermost in the minds of everyone connected with this gigantic sport-industry.

In the excitement of racing, fans seldom are aware of the thousands of dollars spent annually by harness track operators to protect the public and horsemen who live by the rules from the very few, horsemen who do not, says,

Dave Garland, publicity director for the Jackson meet here

Horsemen themselves spend countless extra hours after each race each night for the same purpose, he adds.

"By state law every winner in every race as well as other starters selected at random must undergo tests to detect if the horse has received drugs of any kind," he explains

"Such testing has been performed nightly almost since the very start of pari-mutuel harness racing in the state."

So sensitive are the tests that in one case the innocent spilling of coffee on the hand of a groom who later inserted the bit into the mouth of a horse resulted in a "positive" caffeine show-up in the test, he recalls from his years in the business.

"No matter how innocent, the consequences of a positive test are immediate and far-reaching," he says. "Both the owner and the trainer are affected. The contaminated horse cannot share in the purse, and it is almost automatic that the trainer receives a long-term suspension and-or a large fine."

Just the fact that horses must undergo this testing procedure, administered by state personnel, is a major deterrent against those who might be tempted to drug their horses, he says.

"It has reduced the number of 'positives' to the near zero point, and almost invariably the intensive investigation following a 'positive' has proven that those that do occur are the results of unintentional violation of medical rules."

(During the entire 1970 harness racing season the testing of every winner and hundreds of other starters turned up just two "positives".)

According to Garland, the advent of winter harness racing posed a special problem in performing these tests.

It takes from several minutes to several hours, depending on the individual horse, to take the required sample, he explains. And in cold weather these tests necessitates a facility with at least 10 stalls—and an area where many horses can be 'cooled out' at the same time, he adds

Completed just in time for Jackson's action at the Downs, which continues through December 18, is a huge new detention barn for this purpose. It provides horsemen and testing technicians, says Garland, with one of the most comfortable, modern facilities for winter testing in the sport

Immediately after the victorious horse parades to the winner's circle, the horse must be brought to this detention barn. There its lip tattoo is again checked to verify identification (All racing horses carry an indelible identification number on its upper lip.)

After identification a urine specimen is taken. It is this procedure that can be so time-consuming, says Garland. "It may require several hours to take a specimen. And during this period the horse must be cooled out."

Once the sample is taken it is stored—under lock—in a refrigerated unit. Following receipt of the final specimen for the night, all are transported by locked, sealed carrier to the state testing laboratory. In the morning the many drug detecting tests are performed on each sample.

Within hours the tests for the previous night are completed and the results forwarded to the state racing commission. Release of purse checks is then—and then only—authorized or, in rare instances of a 'positive' test ordered held for redistribution.

IDENTIFICATION—To ensure against any mix-up in identification, inspectors check at the tattoo that all racing horses have on the inside of their lips. Here Inspector Martin Boelkins and the groom check the tattoo of Supreme Gold, just returned from a winning race on the Downs oval.

SATURDAY NIGHT BATH—Groom Allan Redman washes down winner Supreme Gold in the "washrack" inside the new, fully equipped testing barn at Northville Downs.

table near Knudson) and then, following the night's racing, all of these containers are locked inside still another larger box which is transported to the state testing laboratory for analysis. This detailed, nightly procedure at the downs is aimed at protecting the public from anyone who might try to drug a horse to win a race.

LANDMARK FALLS—Michigan's largest barn fell to progress this week when the historic, cathedral-roofed "big red barn" on the Erwin Apple Farms, Silver Lake Road at Kent Lake Road in Lyon Township, was demolished. The 1907 creation of an MAC (Michigan State University, today) student withstood even a May, 1956 tornado which removed two of three cupolas, but did no other damage to the structure. Edwin Erwin had C. Knox Wrecking of Ypsilanti tear down the landmark this week to make way for a metal crate-storage shed. The barn had been a chicken coop (heated by an oil furnace in a nearby building) during its history. Original owner of the farm on which the barn stood so many years was L.R. "Chum" Hunter who was succeeded by Howard Blood, president of Borg-Warner and later by the Erwins (in 1954).

Art Cronin Hurt in Fall

By NANCY DINGELDEY
Trouble and injury has again beset Wixom's Art Cronin, who has been in the hospital four times in the past 10 months, unfortunately has another long stay facing him.

While placing a cover on an air conditioner at his home, Art fell from a ladder. Preliminary examination shows that he has suffered a broken back. All X-ray work has not yet been completed but it is feared that he may have several other fractures of the spine.

One cannot help but feel for the man in the tremendous ordeal that he must now face. Art will be confined at Botsford Hospital for an indefinite time and cards and letters from his friends will certainly be one bright spot in his day.

"Get well soon" sounds rather trite but we wish him strength, with thoughts and prayers for a speedy recovery.

For those of you who are wondering where the blue "blue" buttons and stickers have gone, I have received the solemn promise of the supplier that a new batch will be available by the end of the week. She complains that her hectic schedule interfered with face painting and also that she gets very upset everytime she paints one because Andy and Tony won't be around much longer. No excuses — we want buttons!

Something new for Wixom! For you holiday bazaar goers, this is perfect. A bazaar that won't take you but a few short minutes to get to and it promises to offer to the public the same variety of "goodies" that are offered at bazaars in the surrounding area. Wixom's very own "unique boutique". Holiday bazaar or whatever you'd like to call it.

Tentative plans include the offerings of the bake shop, candy shop, pottery pieces, clay work, ceramics, stained glass, knitted articles, decoupage and a variety of other colorful items to please the most discerning of shoppers. The date, is hopefully set for December 4 but will be firmly announced in the next week. Light lunch will also be served in the "cafe".

Sounds like an interesting new endeavor for Wixom citizens. The leaders of the event have also announced that a portion of the proceeds will go to a local charity.

The Junior Varsity of the Little League Football Association had their awards dinner last Wednesday at Walled Lake Western. A pot luck dinner with tubs and tubs of "Chicken Delight" was the menu for all the boys and their parents. Each player received a good looking trophy as their reward for all the bumps and bruises they collected on the playing field. And each kid went out smiling. It was an enthusiastic crowd with lots of happy people.

A couple of weeks back the kids who participated in the Wixom Decathlon received their medals and ribbons of achievement. It didn't seem to matter whether it was first, second or third place — they were delighted. Again, thanks go to the Parks and Recreation Department for sponsoring the event — may it grow and develop even more next year.

Coming up this Sunday is the annual Open House Fantasia at Flowers by John. This is the fifth year John has had the open house to welcome in the Christmas season with a delightfully beautiful display of arrangements suited for any home.

Punch and cookies will be served throughout the day which is planned from noon until seven and a cordial welcome is extended to all. John calls it his "Gemutlichkeit" — wish I had a German dictionary.

And Hershel, our misplaced St. Bernard has hopefully found a new home. I can imagine that his gambling through the neighborhood irked the ire of many people and he managed to get caught by the Dog Catcher. St. Bernard's must be on the loose because he was housed with a couple of other displaced giants in the Pontiac Animal Shelter.

Hopefully some poor soul has found their lost love or maybe he's moved in with a new family who don't know the trials and tribulations connected with a loveable beast his size.

So — to Hershel and his new family, if he has one, GOOD LUCK!

Parents of Orchard Hills Elementary School students who are interested in the topic of "Drugs" will find tonight's meeting "very interesting and informative." Gloria Cifaldi announced.

The Reverend Leslie Harding of Holy Cross Episcopal Church and Corporal Robert Starnes, narcotics and juvenile officer will be speakers.

All parents are invited to attend and learn more about today's drug problems.

Olof Reng, 718 Thayer, was awarded a life membership in the National Society of Professional Engineers early last week during a local chapter meeting at the Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

With some 25 years of continuous membership in the National Society, he also is the recipient of life memberships in the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers and in the local Rouge Valley Chapter.

He received his professional engineering certificate in 1946.

Reng was awarded a mechanical engineering degree in Sweden, moving to the United States and starting his engineering career in 1923.

Over the years he has been associated with Link Belt Company in Chicago, Palmer Bee Company in Detroit, the Buick Motor Division of General Motors, GMC Truck & Coach Division, U.S. Rubber Company, and finally with Shatterproof Glass Company where he remained until retirement.

He has been a continuous resident of Northville since 1931 except for the four-year period with Buick Motor

Council Defeats

Continued from Novi 1 with the answers given by the trio of attorneys to questions raised by Campbell, Evans, and Presnell. And K & B promised to remedy the problem of name confusion.

"I just can't see any problems here that haven't been answered to my satisfaction," said Denis Berry. "I don't see why the council is stalling on granting this approval."

"I suffer from the same malady as Mr. Berry," added William O'Brien. "From a consumer's point of view everything has adequately been checked out and I see no reason for denying the request."

Donald Young concurred and stated that his opposition last week had been based simply on the fact that due to a mix-up in the Kaufman and Broad mailing room, he had not received the material in time to study it prior to making his decision.

Berry moved the granting of the permits with the stipulation that the streets be renamed and that no certificates of occupancy be issued until the plats had been finalized and recorded.

Support was received from Berry, O'Brien, and Young, while Presnell, Evans, and Campbell were opposed. Mayor Crupi then cast the deciding vote that granted the request.

Paving on the Heatherwyke roads was slated to begin Tuesday morning.

Flood Data Disclosed

A recently completed Middle Rouge Flood Plan report for the Northville area will be unveiled here Monday night at the city hall by representatives of the United States Corps of Engineers and the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

According to Maruice Rapkin, chief of the Army Corps' flood plain management services, the report provides guidance necessary to "continue the best use of flood prone lands along this reach of the Rouge, focusing attention on its qualities as an irreplaceable, naturally endowed facility."

The report contains information to evaluate flood hazard and offers guidelines for the continued protection of existing and future protection of new development, he said. "Not only will the cause of potential flood problems be better understood (by the report)," he added, "but new insights into the attributes of one of our more abundant local environmental resources, the flood plain of the Rouge River, are realized."

Residents should be aware of the danger of flooding along the Rouge, and that damage can be avoided only if precautionary measures are taken, Rapkin said.

The report highlights existing conditions by presenting data on the largest recorded floods and possible future floods.

While the greatest known flood in Northville occurred in April, 1947, the modern-day flood of June, 1968 is the earliest flood well enough documented to permit appropriate evaluation, Rapkin explained. However, even larger ones probably went unrecorded, he added.

"All past floods are compared to two theoretically and reasonably possible floods which are used as yardsticks in examining known floods and natural cover. These are defined as the Intermediate Regional Flood (IRF) and the Standard Project Flood (SPF).

"The IRF is the flood that would occur once in 100 years or has a one-percent chance of happening. Comparison of historical or projected data has established that flows associated with such a flood would closely correspond to experienced extremes.

"SPF represents that flood which could result if the most severe weather and stream flow conditions documented within the Rouge Basin were to occur at the same time in this area."

Rapkin noted that profile maps depicting water surfaces under the various flood conditions are "extremely interesting in that they show the affect of the various bridges along the stream on its flow characteristics."

Steps in the water surfaces indicate that the flow is obstructed by the lack of sufficient opening under these bridges to pass flood flows, he said. Consequently, some damming does result with subsequent spreading of water unable to escape through the bridge opening, he added.

"The 1968 flood of record is not considered an unusual flood having a recurrence interval of approximately once in 20 years," he said. "However, it caused considerable damage as well as widespread concern as evidenced by the photograph of flooding."

"This observed data can be interrelated so as to project a theoretically possible flood sufficiently characteristic of the Rouge Basin to permit its consideration in planning flood plain uses."

Through such data, it can be seen that future floods along this reach of the Rouge could be considerably higher than those of the past, he said, particularly because of the continued loss of open space.

Although physical protection against floods has not accomplished flood control, land-use plans which recognize flood hazards can avoid the excessive costs for protective measures necessary to safeguard damage-prone development, he said.

Rapkin said acquisition of lands along the river for parks and open space represents the most inexpensive method of applying available flood plain management tools.

"A well-balanced land-use plan includes the identification of flood hazard areas and the adoption of channel encroachment laws, especially zoning ordinances and subdivision regulations. "Floodproofing and flood warning are often times referred to as additional tools of flood plain management. But they are at best stopgap measures, a periodic source of inconvenience and unnecessary expense."

Pointing out that Northville and the Wayne County Road Commission have restricted development susceptible to flood damage, Rapkin nevertheless indicated that the report will help these governmental agencies to avoid future abuses.

The report itself is first of a series to be completed on the middle Rouge for the state. "Its continued usefulness will depend to a large degree on the extent to which communities adjoining Northville coordinate their flood plain conservation activities," he said.

"A unified plan of action will ultimately be required for the development of a well-integrated comprehensive program for the proper management and use of the entire flood plain," he concluded.

'Bread' Sale Benefits March of Dimes Here

Anticipating the need for extra bread for the Thanksgiving holiday, junior members of the American Legion Post 147 and its auxiliary will be participating in a door-to-door bread sale throughout Northville this Sunday to benefit the March of Dimes.

The group will be part of the thousands of young people in many areas holding their first project for the 1972 March of Dimes campaign, announced John Steimel, Northville's general chairman.

Money raised will be used to further the work of the National Foundation in its fight to prevent birth defects. Local drives have made possible the new Birth Defect Center at Hutzel Hospital in Detroit as well as supporting centers at Ann Arbor, Lansing and Grand Rapids.

The Metropolitan Chapter has been active also in the Rubella program, has given a grant for the Sickle Cell Anemia Detection Center and gives six scholarships locally to high school students entering health fields. It also participates in the national program of research, professional and public education and the aiding of families with birth defect problems.

"Our young people are becoming more aware that the work being done by the National Foundation-March of Dimes vitally affects them and their future families," Steimel stated.

Work already is being done in lining up volunteers for the annual Mothers March to be held in Northville the end of January. Mrs. Allan Potts of Jamestown Circle is Mothers March chairman.

Auxiliary To Boost Members

November is membership month in the American Legion Auxiliary with the Northville Auxiliary to Lloyd H. Green Post 147 reminding any women desiring information to contact Mrs. Robert Pohlman, membership chairman.

The auxiliary, which meets on the second Wednesday of the month at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall, offers information regarding eligibility and activities through Mrs. Pohlman, 474-7048.

It points out that the establishment of the auxiliary to the American Legion was provided for by the first national convention of the American Legion in 1919.

"For nearly every man serving in the wars who endured the dangers and hardships of camp, ship and battlefield, there was a woman serving at home to help make possible America's victory—the soldier's wife, mother, sister or daughter," reports the auxiliary in proclaiming membership month.

"These women," it continues, "carry this work forward under the leadership of the American Legion Auxiliary. The works of their many programs are of benefit to the community, state and nation."

New Store Adds Boutique

Anderson Crafts, 634 Main Street, Plymouth, has added a section for boutique items made by local artists and presently includes paintings by a Plymouth artist, reports Mrs. Charles (Mary Ann) Anderson, owner and former Northville resident.

BOOK FAIR COMING—Placing posters inviting the community to attend Northville's annual book fair this Friday and Saturday on the stage of the board of education building on West Main Street is Mrs. A. B. Kline, co-chairman of the Mothers' Club project. Children's and adult books—all new—in hard cover and paperback will be on sale from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Fees Increased For Swim Club

Northville Swim Club board of directors has voted to increase the initiation fee from $45 to $75, effective January 1, 1972, it was announced Monday.

The board noted that the increase has been approved by the Wage-Price Review Board.

Arrangements have been made for any family who wishes to join before the end of the year to take advantage of the present rate by financing the membership for the next 12 months at $95 down payment and $25 a month with no additional costs or interest charges.

Those taking advantage of the arrangement, according to Mrs. Edward Kelly, publicity chairman, would receive full use of the pool and club facilities during the 1972 season.

The club's expansion program, she reports, is 98 percent completed and will be ready for next spring's opening. It includes a basketball court, shuffleboard, sand box with jungle gym, cabana with picnic tables and outdoor grills.

There may be an increase in the cost of new memberships next spring, Mrs. Kelly stated, depending on budgetary needs at the time. The club suggests that families consider buying a membership as "a Christmas present." Keith Wright, membership chairman, 349-9956, may be contacted for additional information.

Turkey Set For Seniors

Northville Senior Citizens Club will have its annual turkey dinner at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the Northville Presbyterian Church social hall. As usual, members are to bring table service and a passing dish, which should not be a meat recipe as the turkeys will be the main course.

City Council Minutes

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES

NOVEMBER 1, 1971
 Mayor Allen called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order at 8:00 p.m. Monday, Nov. 1st, 1971, at the Northville City Hall.

ROLL CALL Present: Allen, Folino, Nichols, Lapham (late) Absent: Rathert (excused)
ACCEPTANCE OF MINUTES
 Correction in minutes of Oct. 18, 1971 - last page, 3rd last paragraph - should read: "City Manager reported he was going to attend a meeting with League of Women Voters in regard to police protection for the Township." Also typographical error in first line of last paragraph on 2nd page.

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Northville City Council of Oct. 18, 1971, were approved as corrected.
APPROVAL OF BILLS Motion by Folino supported by Nichols, to pay bills in the following amounts:
 General Fund Debts $18,737.19
 Local Street Debts $,808.67
 Major Street Debts 6,737.16
 Public Improvement Debts 698.64
 Water Fund Debts 8,101.38
 Unanimously carried.

COMMUNICATIONS (1) City Manager read communication from Mrs. Matthew Grace Street, Northville, referring to a red tag placed by Consumers Power Company on the furnace at this address, which had been improperly installed also asking if people don't have to get a permit to cut down trees.

The red tag matter is a good item and will be checked into. Regarding cutting down of trees City Attorney stated there can be no control on this but City can demand a permit on the basis of safety to adjacent property owners. Attorney to report back.

(2) City Manager reported communication from Don Lawrence, resident of Northville Estates Sub division, that children do not use the over-pass to the school and there have been several close calls because of this. Mayor Allen expressed his opinion that this would seem to be a matter of the parents to instruct the children to use this over pass. City would have to secure approval from County to erect any signs prohibiting crossing 8 Mile Road instead of the over-pass. Mayor Allen felt we should use the publicity medium first and see what effect that would have.

No further communications or comments from the audience.
BOARD & COMMISSION MINUTES
 Minutes of the Zoning Board of Appeals meeting on Oct. 6, 1971, and City Planning Commission's meeting on October 19, 1971 were placed on file.

ACCEPTANCE OF QUARTERLY FINANCIAL REPORT City Manager reported that the financial report was sent to the auditors last week, will take this matter up at a later work session.

ADOPTION OF 1968 PLUMBING CODE Motion by Folino, supported by Nichols, to set Public Hearing on December 6th, 1971, to adopt the 1968 City of Detroit Official Plumbing Code.
 Unanimously carried.

SALE OF AMBULANCE Fire Chief Donald Fletcher, City of South Lyon, was present at this meeting.
 It was noted by the City Manager that the ambulance is not a necessity for the City of Northville at this time we have adequate service from outside sources, other ambulance companies were contacted for the purchase of this vehicle but no one showed any interest in this matter.

Chief Fletcher stated they do have a definite need for the ambulance, they operate with a converted van but it is not adequate would like to purchase same for $800.00. Chief Fletcher was asked if City of Northville ever had a dire necessity for the use of this ambulance could we call on them for assistance and the Chief replied they would be more than willing to cooperate.

 Motion by Nichols supported by Folino, that we sell the ambulance to the City of South Lyon for $800.00.
 Unanimously carried.

LOWERING AGE OF TAXI CAB DRIVERS City Manager Ollendorf read communication from Star Cab Company requesting City to lower age limit for cab drivers to 18 years because older drivers are not available and other communities are hiring 18 year olds as drivers.
 Survey showed that Farmington has a minimum age of 19 years, Plymouth now in process of amending ordinance to reduce to 18 years, Novi has minimum age of 21. Wixom has no set age.

City Manager suggests that we try lowering it a year or two on a trial basis and City Attorney Ogilvie is to amend the ordinance to 19 years. Mr. Rathert is in favor of lowering it as suggested. Motion by Folino, supported by Nichols to set a Public Hearing by December 6th to amend the ordinance on taxi drivers to 19 years of age.
 Unanimously carried.

NORTHVILLE SQUARE PLAN REVIEW City Manager Ollendorf suggested this matter be held over for later in the meeting in the event Mr. McManus would make his appearance, otherwise it would be held over until the next Council meeting.

RANDOLPH DRAIN PLANS City Manager gave a detailed report on this drain.
 A Drain Commission meeting on this matter is scheduled for November 17th, 1971, at 11 a.m., at the Northville City Hall.

City Manager Ollendorf stated Council might want to consider Novi's plan which Novi had subsequently withdrawn. This matter is to be studied in more detail at a work session between now and the 17th of this month with Engineer Harold Penn.

NORTHVILLE ESTATES SANITARY SEWERS A report from Mr. Penn was presented on the preliminary estimate of sanitary sewer from Thompson Brown property to and thru Northville Estates Subdivision. The total of this estimate is $341,910 which does not include sewer leads from the house to the street but each connection could be as much as $600 to $800 each, cost of tap fees for entering the existing sewer system has not been included in this estimate. Of the above total it would cost about $120,000 to get the main to Northville Estates, divided on a pay back basis.

City Manager stated we should get water costs and present both the sewer and water to the residents of Northville Estates in a letter and let them discuss it and come to us. He stated it would be best to do the entire job at one time rather than each one separately, however there might be even less demand for water than sewers.

LINGTON COMMONS SOUTH STREET LIGHTS Messrs. Tincher, Wendt and Pegrum, representing the lighting committee for the subdivision, were present, as were other interested residents of the subdivision.
 Mr. Pegrum stated the committee had met with Mr. Gallagher of Detroit Edison Company, and had presented a proposed lighting plan for the subdivision, specifying 12 lantern type fixtures approximately 15 ft. in height, to be placed around the subdivision as shown on the map attached to his report. This report was also accompanied with the signatures of most residents approving and desiring this plan. This report is to be placed on file. Mayor Allen stated thatasmuch as this list represented about 29 or 30 occupied homes out of a possible 60 homes, he wonders if more questions would arise as the subdivision gets filled up. It is an impossibility to please everyone.

 The following comments were made by the audience:
 Mrs. Folino, resident Most definitely wants the lights.
 Mrs. Haltum, resident Feels strongly about this, more homes coming in will light up the community, cards also will in all probability be lit up, no hurry for more lighting do not want privacy taken away.
 Paul Folino Feels 12 lights is not adequate and a few more should be added to give a better lighting program, opposed to letting it go for 6 months.
 Mr. Tincher, resident Feels it should go through at this time and program is a good one.
 Folino moved that we go ahead with the plan as submitted, two more lights be added, one more on Clement and one more on Lexington Blvd.
 Folino's motion dies for lack of support.
 Further discussion followed with pros and cons on this subject.

Motion by Lapham, supported by Folino, that City order 13 lights, approximately 15 ft., lantern type, substantially as per Edison plans.
 Yeas: Nichols, Folino, Lapham, Nays: Allen, Absent: Rathert.
 Passed.

APPOINTMENT OF 4TH MEMBER TO CITY COUNCILING BOARD
 Motion by Folino, supported by Nichols, that John S. Lemon be appointed the 4th member of the Northville City Canning Board, said term to expire Dec. 11, 1973.
 Unanimously carried.

POLICE CAR BIDS City Manager Ollendorf presented bids from Chevrolet Ford, Plymouth, Dodge and Mercury.
 Folino asked Chief Elkins which model would be the best to which he replied that they have problems with about all cars, best value in his opinion for the City would be the Mercury, bid that City Manager recommended is for the Ford with single exhaust.

Motion by Lapham, supported by Nichols, to purchase the Ford with dual exhaust, from John Mach Ford, Sales, at the cost of $32,700.
 Unanimously carried.

PURCHASE OF LOT NO. 250, PLAT NO. 3, SOUTHEAST CORNER CADY & WING STS. City Manager Ollendorf reported a cash payment of $25,000 with a deposit of $500.00 now, to be credited when the sale is closed. The seller shall have free occupancy for one year from date of closing, seller shall be responsible for all maintenance and utilities, purchaser shall be responsible for all taxes.
 Motion by Folino, supported by Lapham, to purchase the property known as Lot No. 250, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 3, for the cash payment of $25,000 with $500 earnest money to be credited when sale is closed. Seller to have free occupancy for one year from date of closing, seller to be responsible for all maintenance and utilities, purchaser to be responsible for all taxes.
 Unanimously carried.

MISCELLANEOUS Councilman Lapham stated that he has a pleasure to serve with the members of the City Council.
 With regard to the correction in the minutes of Oct. 18, 1971, as noted, Folino stated that City Manager reported that he had met with the League of Women Voters and discussed the costs involved to police the entire township.
 Council Member Nichols requested City Manager to make a study of opening the alley between Center and Grace Streets.
 There being no further business the meeting was adjourned by Mayor Allen at 10:45 p.m.
 Hilda Boyer

MEETING OF NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL
 MONDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1971
 Mayor Allen called the meeting of the Northville City Council to order at 8:00 p.m. on Monday, November 8, 1971, at Northville City Hall.

ROLL CALL Present: Allen, Nichols, Folino and Lapham Absent: Rathert (excused)
HORTON ST DRAINAGE WAIVING OF FORMAL BIDS AND AWARDED CONTRACT City Engineer Harold Penn stated the purpose of waiving sealed bids for this project was due to the urgency to get this done as quickly as possible.
 This project consists of installing Sanitary Sewer and Appurtenances and Underdrains on Horton Street North of Baseline and South of Eight Mile Road.
 Engineer presented a report on the various costs of having the work done at $8494.10.
 Motion by Nichols, supported by Folino thatasmuch as time is of an essence, sealed bids be waived on the Horton Street Drain Project.
 Unanimously carried.

Motion by Folino supported by Lapham, to award the contract for the Horton Street Drain Project, consisting of installing Sanitary Sewer and Appurtenances and Underdrains on Horton Street, North of Baseline and South of Eight Mile Road, in the amount of $8494.10, the work to be completed during the month of November, 1971.
 Unanimously carried.

MISCELLANEOUS Mr. Lapham requested the feeling of the Council on the use of the Methodist Church.
 Local antique dealers might be interested as a group to rent the church. Mr. Lapham met with them last Saturday, Nov. 6, 1971, to discuss this matter. He told them they would have to form an identity and band together under one identification.
 The rent matter was discussed as around $1,000 month. This would take three antique dealers from the City and would open space in the main district does not include the corner and the parking.
 Mr. Lapham was instructed to proceed on this and keep Council informed as to the progress.
 There being no further business the meeting was adjourned at 8:40 p.m.
 Hilda Boyer

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

It isn't often that this column strays from the confines of its local boundaries to express opinion.

As a rule, our community newspapers have taken the position that we possess some expertness when it comes to what's happening in the local areas we cover. But in state and national affairs, we have no better pipeline to the facts than most interested citizens.

But, of course, there's always an exception. And this week I'd like to comment on the activities of Michigan's Governor William Milliken.

I've had an opportunity to talk directly to the Governor on his program relative to education and to read carefully his recent public address on the subject.

It is my firm conviction that Governor Milliken is proposing a plan for the future that holds the only logical, practical solution to the problems strangling public education today: taxation, equity and integration.

Although the Governor's quiet, unemotional manner is sometimes mistaken for timidity or lack of forcefulness, he is in fact firm and committed to a program of improvement in public education and plans to take that program to the public in the form of a series of statewide meetings.

A great deal of misunderstanding surrounds the action of Governor Milliken in his quest to seek clarification relative to court-ordered busing and property taxes for school education.

He has been assailed from all sides—liberals and conservatives—because indeed what the Governor seeks is not wholly palatable to either.

But his position, I believe, is where reason and practical solution lies.

Consider these points expounded by Governor Milliken:

—in the Judge Roth ruling that a segregated educational system exists in Detroit, he has called for an appeal to clarify the law and facts, noting that the court has ruled that busing across district lines MAY be an appropriate remedy in the Detroit case;

—he has refused to endorse a proposal for constitutional amendment that would outlaw all busing to achieve racial equity, recognizing that within some districts this vehicle might be necessary if proper balance and equity of opportunity in education are not offered within the district;

—he is striking at the heart of the real problem of educational opportunity in the public school system by challenging in the courts the use of property tax dollars for school support.

The latter action is widely misunderstood. The suit filed by the Governor and Attorney General is not designed to make property taxes off-limits for school purposes.

Rather it is attacking the UNEVEN distribution of the property tax funds. It is attacking the variations in taxable wealth (huge industrial complexes, etc.) within school districts and calling for equal distribution of these funds on a statewide basis.

As the Governor explains it, "the level of spending for a child's education may not be a function of wealth other than the wealth of the state as a whole."

Court rulings in other states have upheld this position.

While the Governor's plan would call for equal distribution of funds per student in property-tax collected monies, it does not envision a state-takeover of local district authority. To the contrary, it emphasizes that the state should provide an equitable financing system for public education and that local districts should provide that education.

In addition, the plan provides that while the state levies the tax for operating funds, the local districts still control millage for building and additional educational enrichment, if desired.

Obviously, the Governor's proposal must provide for other means of taxation if property tax relief is to be granted.

Just what form this tax will take has not been determined, but the Governor has said he will not recommend a graduated income tax.

Property taxes would be cut approximately in half and frozen at that level by constitutional amendment.

Cities, counties and local school districts (for buildings and enrichment programs) would still look to the property tax for support. And local property owners would still have voter rights on these tax levies.

The end result, hopefully, would be a closer level of equity in educational opportunity.

And one of the dividends, in addition to improved education for all youngsters, could be the end to the need for busing to achieve equal opportunity.

The Governor's crusade in the field of public education deserves to be recognized and supported by Michigan citizens.

Now that 18-year-olds have obtained the right to vote, I feel that presidential primaries are more important than ever. In an election it's difficult to get people involved by voting. Only after the election, when it's too late, do they exercise their right to opinions.

At 18, an individual is still learning in an open state of mind. He is not yet set in a definite life pattern like many adults who always vote Republican or Democrat & never for the candidate.

In a presidential primary this opportunity for learning is given to those who will vote. Candidates as well as the public are given a chance to see whom the majority supports. Very often this is the deciding factor which determines whether an individual becomes involved or not through voting.

People have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the candidates' stands on particular issues. It provides a chance to more or less screen the candidates.

Not only do these primaries present an excellent opportunity for the public to get to know the candidates, but also vice versa. The candidates become aware of the needs and wants in specific areas.

I believe most importantly however, the success of the presidential primaries has a direct affect on how many people participate in the national elections and how successful they are.

Presidential Primaries?

BEV WISTERT

CON...

In most states, delegates to national conventions are not legally bound to vote for the candidate receiving a majority in the primary election. Because of this, presidential primaries are virtually used only for publicity, that is, to publicize the candidates' strength to the electorate and to their party. Since the political composition of each state is unique, it is impossible to represent the entire nation, no matter how "representative" the states holding primaries may be. If primaries are to be of any value, they must be held in every state, and since this may be impractical, mass media could handle the job accomplished by most primaries.

Further, there is growing concern over the exorbitant cost of campaigning. While extravagant spending was once unnecessary, any chance of nomination now demands it. Senator Fred Harris of Oklahoma was recently forced to drop out of the campaign, the only reason being a lack of funds. Cutting out primaries could drastically reduce campaign costs.

Finally, campaigning costs most candidates too much time away from their immediate responsibility, their jobs. Often, candidates seeking the presidential nomination are senators, representatives, or governors, men who can afford little time away from their elected positions.

Vo-Ed Stymied by Prejudice

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Status symbols are everywhere and all of us, this writer included, spend part of our lives trying to achieve recognition socially and professionally even though often it and much of what we do to obtain it is artificial.

This being the case in society it should come as no surprise that education exerts a good deal of effort building images, too.

Let me be more specific and step on some toes. I am convinced that accreditation of secondary institutions by the North Central Association or the University of Michigan is largely a status symbol.

That these accrediting bodies influence the upgrading of high schools, both physically and educationally, cannot be denied. Unfortunately, while such accreditation should be the byproduct of a good educational system it has become too often the goal—the end product of education.

Not so long ago a parent voiced alarm because her school might not be accredited because it lacked a specified number of books in the library. She was so bent on achieving accreditation that she seriously offered to donate books from her own home library.

Coming away from the meeting I had the distinct feeling that comic books would have satisfied her so long as the "quota" was met.

Educators and parents who place this kind of emphasis on status symbols must share much of the responsibility for the stigma attached to vocational education. They have helped produce the society that sees vocational education as the training dumbbells who cannot or will not enter college.

Take the recently opened Southwest Oakland Vocational Education Center near Wixom.

Even though it is one of the finest institutions of its kind anywhere in the nation and even though it has enjoyed tremendous initial success—perhaps doing more in turning out productive students than the most prestigious college-prep curriculum in Oakland County—its administrators confess that people continue to downgrade it. And that goes for teachers as well as laymen.

Society has so maligned vocational education, our Wixom reporter, Nancy Dingeldey was told, that part of the job of teachers at the center is convincing youngsters that they are as important as the kids headed for college.

"Let's face it," an administrator said, "for a lot of people we are the dumping ground for misfits."

Recently, upon completing a tour of the facility, a school board member of one of the districts served by the center, expressed delight with what she saw but added, "Now that we have this marvelous center we won't have to worry any longer about doing more with vo-ed in our own high school."

That's like telling U-M, "Since you're doing such a good job educating our kids we don't have to worry about improving our high school curriculum."

Despite this negative, head-in-the-sand attitude, the image of vocational education is very likely to change. But not probably because of what adults do or say.

Students at the center have become its best image builder. So little interest has been paid them, so meager generally has been the training facilities provided them in their own school systems, that they are simply overwhelmed by what they see and do at the vocational center and they are returning to their high schools with enthusiasm and praise.

Their reports to fellow students are generating a widespread interest that not only is creating a demand for admission that already exceeds the center's capacity but it very likely will pressure school systems to expand and upgrade their own vocational education programs.

All of this is not meant to criticize Oakland County school systems served by the center. Not at all. They at least have made a good start, Wayne County, meanwhile, continues to plod along, savoring status symbols while neglecting the bulk of its students.

GROUND WAS officially broken last week for a new Manufacturers Bank building at Independence Green in Farmington Township. Scheduled for completion by late spring, the split-level, colonial-styled building will replace a mobile banking unit which is presently located at Grand River and Halstead Road. The address of the new building will be 36600 Grand River. Joining David Biery newly elected Northville city councilman and branch officer at the Grand River-Halstead Office, and other Bank officers in the ground-breaking ceremony were Farmington Township Supervisor Earl Teeples, Township Clerk Floyd Cairns; John Breed of the architectural firm of Giffels Associates, Inc.; general contractor Paul H. Johnson and George and Thomas Duke, developers of Independence Green. The new building will have a brick exterior with two-story high, wooden columns across the front. Nestled into a wooded hillside, the building will face north, away from Grand River. Four drive-in banking stations, a night depository and parking for 48 cars will be provided. Inside, the banking area will be a full two stories high, with eight teller windows, a customers' conference room, officers' area and a safe deposit vault. Beyond a balcony overlooking the banking floor will be mortgage and trust department offices and headquarters for the Farmington Division of the Bank's Branch Department which services the Northville area.

Weigh Police Appeal

A Northville police officer is awaiting legal answers to proceed with his appeal against action taken by Police Chief Sam Elkins which has resulted in the demotion of the officer from corporal to patrolman.

Officer Phillip Young has filed a letter with the city council through the attorney for the Northville Police Officers' Association (NPOA), Clarence Charest. Officer Young's initial appeal on the reprimand issued by Chief Elkins was heard by City Manager Frank Ollendorff who upheld the police chief's action.

There's no question that Officer Young is entitled to at least one more appeal hearing before the appeal can be taken to court, but the council has asked for clarification on who should hear the appeal. Personnel rules for all city employees stipulate that a three-member panel should hear the next appeal. One member is appointed by the council, one by full-time, non-supervisory employees and the third by the two appointed members

But the council notes that a different appeal procedure is outlined in the personnel rules governing members of the NPOA and it suggests that these rules should be followed

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie and Attorney Charest must reach agreement on the next step before proceeding, thus the council did not act Monday night on Officer Young's letter for an appeal hearing. Officer Young was reprimanded on several counts and has been placed on one-year probation in addition to losing his rank as corporal. Chief Elkins accused the officer of using poor judgment in ordering arrests of suspects in two different instances. In another matter handled by Young, the city is currently facing false arrest charges involving the issuance of a bad check

Don Cooper to Open Rotary Travel Series

Announcement of two travelogue productions—the first scheduled for Friday, November 26—was announced this week by the Northville Rotary Club.

Featuring two nationally known adventurers, Don Cooper and Robert Brouwer, the programs will be held at the Northville High School at 8 p.m.

Brouwer's film program, titled "Scenic America," will be presented March 8

Cooper's film, "Mountain West Trails," explores first Coronado's trail as he came north into New Mexico searching for the fabled "Seven Cities of Gold" and ends with the Denali Highway as its winds through the Alaskan Range to Mt. McKinley on the edge of the Arctic.

Packed between these are breath-taking adventures of the Santa Fe Festival, Santa Fe Trail, Silverton Railroad, Denver, Wyoming cattle drive, Oregon Trail, Wind River Wilderness, Earthquake Dam, logging and reforestation, the Canadian Rockies, and close-up look at wildlife

Producer of many high-adventure films, Cooper entered the travelogue field in 1959 and since then has presented hundreds of performances, many which have been repeats and to sold-out houses

Portions of his films have won national television acclaim

A natural humorist of the "Will Rogers" type, he is known coast-to-coast for his delightfully humorous and unhibited narration. And in the same informal manner he learned how to operate a 16 mm motion picture camera. Since he spent considerable time in the logging camps of Montana, Alaska and other parts of this hemisphere, his films concern the most unusual events and sights to be found there

One of his trade-marks is his adventuresome nature, with all of his film-journeys taking the audiences off the beaten path to find extraordinary scenery and thrilling experiences.

While Cooper uses humor and unusual scenes to generate his popularity, Brouwer's acclaim is based primarily on the exciting manner in which his films are carried to the audience

Using his electrical training background, he has developed a revolutionary presentation incorporating three screens and four projectors. He also utilizes hi-fidelity stereophonic equipment and music and sound effects recorded on-the-spot

A resident of Grand Rapids, his programs began as a hobby in which he shared slides with friends and neighbors. When his slides won national contests and received widespread acclaim, friends and experts prompted him to produce a finished slide program. Since then he has designed much of the special equipment he uses for his unique presentations.

He was commissioned by interested groups and the national tourist agency of Holland to produce a similar travelogue on The Netherlands—an unprecedented arrangement in the travelogue field.

"Scenic America" gives audiences a delightful variety of scenes ranging from Niagara Falls and autumn color in Vermont to time-hallowed Jamestown and sunrise above the clouds at Acadia National Park.

Tickets for either show, which are $1 for students and $2 for adults, may be purchased at Manufacturers National Bank, Northville Agency, Northville Drug, Bloom Insurance Agency, and the Northville Camera Shop.

Band Decision Stirs Criticism

To the Editor

I would like to comment on an article that appeared in your paper in regards to the way a gift to the Northville High School Band is to be used. I would just like to know why the school board insists on wasting this fine gift on a "responsible" band director who will be only working three months, when one is already employed by the school system FULL TIME. It also seems rather strange that the administrator of this gift has the gall to deny money for material things for the band, and then turns right around to spend the money for a duplication that we all can do without. As has been already said, this money will be used to provide a band for the Fourth of July. That's great, but if you don't have any music or uniforms, well

If our school board would help the band, (so they wouldn't have to sell candy to exist) by caring a little more, (like they do about Year Around School) then everyone would be better off

Respectfully yours,
Kurt H Glaser

Eyes Campaigns

Committee appointments were made by President Glenn Long at the November meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce

In starting off the new year Long called for emphasis on membership and new projects.

He named Les Bowden to head up the membership committee and direct a campaign to boost Chamber membership.

Dempsey Ebert was named chairman of the new projects' committee Ebert's group will also propose community improvements in addition to seeking new promotions for the Chamber to sponsor.

Jerry Stone and Dave Biery will serve as Chamber representatives between the retail merchants and city council, respectively.

In final business the Chamber board discussed means of encouraging employees of merchants to park their cars in all-day lots on the extremities of the shopping area, such as the lower level of the parking deck and the Wing Street lot.

"This enables customers to have easy access to the more convenient spaces which have been provided for shoppers," President Long noted.

The board also encouraged action by merchants and the city cleaning crews to keep business streets clean.

Lauber Won't Predict Success for Tankers

Northville swimming coach Ben Lauber does not like to make predictions.

"If I predict where I think the team is going to finish," he explains, "that puts all the pressure on me. What I like to do is get all my swimmers together and discuss with them their capabilities. That puts the whole thing back on them. They decide how far they want to go and what price they're willing to pay to get there."

"I just stand on the edge of the pool, I tell them you're the ones in the water. I can't do anything but give advice on what they can do to realize their capabilities."

Lauber is a soft-spoken man who takes a low-key approach to his coaching. Few things are mandatory — he's not a whip-cracker type of coach. It is left to the individual as to how hard he's going to work to accomplish his goals.

Practice sessions, though filled with hard work, are usually "fun" times with the strains of Jim Hendrix or Joe Cocker blaring over the loud speaker

But whether you like Hendrix and Cocker or not, few can argue with Lauber's techniques. He has been one of the most successful of all Northville coaches, not only in the performances he coaxes from his swimmers, but also in the devotion and admiration he evokes from them.

Swimming was first introduced to the Northville athletic picture just two years ago, and with Lauber at the helm, the team was an instant success.

In their first year, the Mustangs posted an 11-2 record in their dual meets and finished in tenth place in the state. Last year, the Northville tankers were even more successful, sweeping through their entire schedule of dual meets without a loss and then copping the number four position at the state meet.

Although Lauber held fast to his policy of making no predictions, he was willing to discuss the capabilities of the 1971-72 swim team.

"It's possible," he said, "for us to be in the top two in the state. Riverview took second last year and they've got practically their whole team back. They will be a very good team, but I think we are capable of being right up there with them."

Gone from last year's team are four key performers — Tom Thompson, David Wright, Mike Ivey, and Ralph Luckett. Biggest loss was Thompson, who highlighted the Mustangs' performance in the state meet by finishing second in the 100 yard backstroke and swimming a leg on the 200 yard freestyle relay team that finished fourth.

Luckett and Wright also earned points at state with their performances on relay teams.

But in spite of the losses, Lauber feels that the present team will be his strongest.

At the very top of Lauber's list of performers for the new season is senior co-captain Joe Boland.

Boland is where we start," said the Northville coach. "He could go in any event on the whole card and give as good a performance as anyone else we've got."

Last year Boland was the second highest point scorer on the team, trailing only Thompson in the individual points category. Already he holds school records in the 200 and 400 yard freestyle events, as well as being a member of the record-holding 400 yard freestyle relay team.

Boland is admittedly shooting for a state championship this year in the 200 yard freestyle. Last year he took sixth in the state. "I think he'll probably get it," said Lauber. "He's the hardest worker we have on the team. If he doesn't get it, it won't be his fault, that's for sure."

But Boland is not the only outstanding performer on the Northville team. "I'd have to say that this is the best all-around team we've ever had," Lauber stated. "We've got strength in every event. It's a good feeling to know that we won't be giving any points away to anybody in any event."

Strongest area on the team is in the middle distance freestyle events, the 100 and 200 yard sprints. Boland, of course, is a free styler and right behind him is Bill Maguire, who holds school records in the 50 and 100 yard events as well as both relay events. Maguire was the third highest Northville point scorer last year.

In fact, the entire group of middle distance freestylers is so strong that Lauber admits to breaking his policy about predictions. Boland, Maguire, and Bill Witek all return from the team that took third place in the state in the 400 yard freestyle relay. "They're shooting for first this year," said Lauber, "and frankly, I think they can do it. I rarely go out on a limb like that, but I really believe they can."

Pete Bedford, Dennis McLaughlin, John Jerome, Steve Mohr, and John Pacific are other freestylers who Lauber feels could potentially come through for him.

Boland will head up the long distance freestyle events, with Bill Bretz, Frank Jones, Jeff Pitak, and Don Cook all backing him up.

Another area in which Lauber expects to be strong is the breast stroke. Junior Jay Ivey and sophomores Bob Wright and Kevin Kelly are all listed by the Northville coach as above average, but the top performer in the event could very well be Art Greenlee. Already Greenlee has posted the fastest breast times ever recorded by a Northville swimmer.

Co-captain Gary Putrow presently leads the field of backstrokers, but Jeff Kappler is pushing him and Mark Haynie is creeping up on Kappler. "I love the intrasquad competition," smiled Lauber. "When that goes, I go." Last year both Putrow and Kappler qualified for the state meet, and Putrow finished tenth in the 100 yard backstroke.

That name — Joe Boland — pops up again when Lauber discusses his butterfly swimmers. Kevin Kelly and Bill Witek are also strong performers in the stroke.

The Mustangs also have a returning school record holder in the diving category — Glynn Simmons. But, like most of the other events on the team, the divers are battling among themselves for the top spot.

Simmons is currently bothered by a foot injury that limits his mobility on the board, and Tom Cook and Brad Phillips are eager to wrest the top spot away from him. Cook, in particular, is taking his diving seriously and spent two weeks in Florida during the summer studying under Richard Kimball, a former United States Olympic Diving Coach.

"I envision a lot of first and second place sweeps in the diving this year," Lauber admitted, "but it could be Simmons, Cook, or Phillips who get the points for us. I suspect that they'll switch around from meet to meet."

One problem that Lauber might have to face if his swimmers live up to what he feels they are capable of this year is what can he shoot for next year, or, for that matter, the year after that.

Success is a wonderful thing. Maybe its those Jim Hendrix records

NUMBER ONE — Just like halfback Jim Van Wagner, the 1971 Novi Wildcat football team was number one in the history of the high school. Due in part to the talents of Van Wagner, the Wildcats posted their highest number of wins and practically rewrote the record books.

To Final Victory Green Machine Rolls

John Osborne cranked up the Big Green Machine for one last time Friday night and, as they have time and again during the season, Novi's talented array of running backs treated their fans to an explosive offense display in racing to a 39-28 victory over Dearborn Crestwood.

This time it was Pat Boyer, who was the big gun in the Novi arsenal. The big junior halfback scored three times on runs of 50, 14 and 20 yards and finished the night with a total of 188 yards on the ground in just 12 carries — a rushing average of just under 16 yards, and that's not bad work for a guy who wasn't even given second team consideration on the Southeastern Conference All-Star team.

Meanwhile, Jimmy VanWagner, the other outstanding Wildcat halfback, had a relatively quiet night, scoring just two touchdowns on runs of 49 and five yards and picking up 77 yards the eight times he was called upon to carry the ball.

One of the things VanWagner did to while away the time was treat the Crestwood team to an exhibition of downfield blocking. On Boyer's first touchdown jaunt, Jimmy Van cut down the Crestwood safety with a block that would have left Dandy Don Meredith saying, "Howard, that's how the coaches want you to do it." The victory brought Novi's season to a close — and what a season it was. The Wildcats posted the finest record in the history of Novi High School, finishing with an 8-1 mark and second place in the Southeastern Conference.

What's more, only a heart-breaking fourth quarter loss to powerful Chelsea kept them from a perfect season and the conference championship. In that lone defeat, the Wildcats outgained their opponents by a 200 yard margin on the ground.

Friday's Crestwood game was a wild offensive affair, especially in the second half when the Chargers and Wildcats traded touchdowns after touchdown.

By the time the second half was over, each team had scored three touchdowns and 20 points. And Novi almost had a fourth touchdown, as Jim VanWagner intercepted a Crestwood pass on the last play of the game and returned it 70 yards for an apparent touchdown only to have his return nullified by a clipping penalty.

If anything, Crestwood's second half surge helped to point out the value of big Bob Pisha. In the first half, the Dearborn school had scored just one touchdown, and that was the result of a fumble deep in Novi territory and a face masking penalty charged against the Wildcats that moved the ball all the way to the nine yard line.

But early in the second half Novi's All-Conference defensive tackle was forced to the sidelines for the rest of the game with a knee injury and Dearborn took advantage of his absence. With Pisha gone, the Chargers moved at ease against the Novi defenders and picked up a total of nine first downs on the ground.

Crestwood's Sandy Posa did the bulk of the damage to the patched up line, scoring two of the three Charger touchdowns on runs of one and 13 yards and rushing for 147 yards on 26 carries over the course of the entire game.

Dearborn's third second half touchdown came on a 20 yard pass from Jim Brady to Bob Shortt with just 59 seconds left in the game.

VanWagner opened Novi's second half scoring, going across from the one to complete a 73 yard, seven play drive after the opening kick-off. Boyer was the key in that drive as he reeled off runs of 21 and 25 yards to set up VanWagner's score.

Crestwood came right back to score a touchdown of their own to cut the score to 27-15, but the Wildcats came right back themselves to score another touchdown and up the lead to a more respectable 18 points, 33-15. This time it was Boyer himself who carried the ball over the goal line, climaxing a 48 yard drive by going in from the 20 yard line.

Crestwood scored again, but the Novi offense is ready, willing, and able to match touchdowns with anybody, and it took them just two plays and 40 seconds to do it. Dave Brown carried the kick-off back to the Dearborn 41. Jim VanWagner skirted his own right end for 18 yards and Steve Lukkari then hit John Pantalone with a 23 yard scoring pass that made the score, 39-21.

The wild second half was in almost complete contrast with the first half, as far as Crestwood was concerned. Novi scored and moved the ball with ease in the first two quarters, but Crestwood was held pretty well in tact.

The very first time the Wildcats got the ball they moved from their own 44 to the Dearborn 19 in just four plays, but there they lost the ball as Boyer fumbled after a 15 yard gain.

There were no fumbles the next time Novi got the ball, however, and the Wildcats moved ahead 7-0 with 11 seconds left in the first quarter on Boyer's 50 yard touchdown burst and Steve Bosak's conversion.

Novi upped their lead to 19-0 with two second quarter touchdowns. Boyer got the first one with a 14 yard run and VanWagner tallied the second on a 49 yard dash.

Crestwood scored their lone first half touchdown with just 35 seconds left on the clock. Boyer fumbled a Dearborn punt and the Chargers recovered on the Novi 21. A face mask penalty moved the ball to nine and quarterback Jim Brady sneaked over from the one three plays later to make the score 19-8 at the half.

COACH JOHN OSBORNE

Novi had just brought down the curtain on the most successful season in their history with a 39-28 victory over Dearborn Crestwood.

As usual, the Wildcat offense had been quite literally unstoppable. Not once during the evening had the Crestwood defense forced them into a punting situation, as their wishbone offense scored six of the eight times they got the ball.

On the other two attempts, fumbles halted their drive. But the powerful offensive display was nothing new to Novi fans. In at least half their games, the Wildcats have simply blown their opponents off the field in the first half, if not the first quarter.

But the season is over now, and even though Wildcat fans will be able to watch the same talented crew of backs perform next year, Osborne is losing some important talent in his line. All-conference performers like center Kevin Schingeck, guard Pat Ford, tackle Terry Auten, and end Bob Pisha will not be returning next year.

"You kind of hate to see the season come to an end," said Osborne, when asked his feelings about the 1971 Wildcats. "When you're successful you'd really like to play a little more. It has been a long season, though. I'm exhausted and Rick (Assistant coach Trudeau) is, too. I slept an awful lot this weekend, but still, you hate to see it end, especially when you're exciting and you can score like we've been able to."

The Crestwood victory was marked by a wild second half in which the two teams moved the ball at ease against each other — each club scored three touchdowns and 20 points in the spree.

Novi had contained Crestwood fairly well in the first half, limiting them to just 39 yards rushing and a lone touchdown, but two factors made the second half quite a different matter.

One of those factors was the absence of big Bob Pisha. The all-conference tight end and defensive tackle injured his knee after catching a 24 yard aerial from Steve Lukkari early in the third quarter and had to sit out the rest of the game. His absence opened up the left side of the Novi line and Crestwood took advantage of it.

The other factor was Crestwood halfback Sandy Posa, a 5'9", 170 pounder. "He's been out of action since the third game of the season," Osborne said, "and I didn't know we were going to see him. It kind of upset me when I saw him out there. He's definitely one of the better backs we've seen all year. He gained over 130 yards and he's out of condition. He'd probably have been even more exciting if he'd been playing regularly and been in shape."

Ten Novi Players Are Named To Conference All-Star Team

Chelsea, Novi, and Milan — the top three teams in the league — dominated the Southeast Conference All-Star team named last week by copying 33 positions on the 45 member squad.

League champion Chelsea led the way with 12 selections. Novi had 11 and Milan 10. The team was rounded out with four players from Ypsilanti Lincoln, three each from Saline and Dexter, and one from both South Lyon and Dundee.

Heading the Novi selections was Bob Pisha, a 6'3", 225 pounder, who was one of only two players in the league to be named to both the first team on both offense and defense. On offense the big Novi star received recognition at tight end and was one of the tackles on the defensive squad.

The only other player to be named to both the first offensive and first defensive teams was Dexter's fine defensive tackle and offensive guard Rick McCullough.

Another Novi player to receive special recognition was 5'10", 183 pound center Kevin Schingeck. Schingeck was a unanimous choice for center on the offensive team. Chelsea's defensive end Tom Luxey and Dexter's McCullough at defensive tackle were the only other unanimous selections.

Novi's first team offense selections were rounded out by halfback Jim VanWagner (5'10", 178), who joined Chelsea's quarterback Wayne Welton, Lincoln halfback Ray Dufek and Milan halfback Jim Patterson in the starting backfield.

The Wildcats also had three selections on the first team defensive squad. In addition to Pisha, linebacker Pat Ford and defensive back Dave Brown received first team recognition.

Ford (5'8", 160) was also named to the second offensive team, being elected to a guard spot. Quarterback Steve Lukkari was also named to the second team offense.

Tackle Terry Auten (6'2", 210), end Pat Boyer (6'1", 170), and back Steve Bosak (5'8", 160) were named to the second team defensive unit.

All but 11 of the players named to the squad were seniors and Novi players headed the delegation of underclassmen with four. Van Wagner, Boyer, and Lukkari are juniors, while Brown is a sophomore — the only one in the league to be tabbed for all-star honors.

For Novi fans who are already looking ahead to the 1972 season with thoughts of a league championship and a victory over Chelsea on their mind, one statistic is interesting to note. Of the 12 Bulldog selections, only one — second team offensive end Jeff Daniels — is returning. All the rest, including first team all-star quarterback Wayne Welton and second team all-star halfbacks Jeff Hughes and Mark Collins, are all slated for graduation in the spring.

Wildcats of the Week

Coach John Osborne selected two players for Wildcat of the Week awards. Halfback Pat Boyer (left) received the honor for the second time this year after his outstanding game against Crestwood. Boyer tallied three touchdowns and gained close to 200 yards. Tackle Terry Auten (right) was also singled out for honors. "He played a heck of a game for us on defense," praised Osborne. "Crestwood was running away from him all game."

Grid Guessers Hit New Depths

More contestants had 11 or more mistakes than those with fewer than five wrong guesses. It was that kind of week in the football quiz—worst in memory of judges who wondered if it might not be more appropriate to hand prizes to the losers instead of winners.

More than three-quarters of the 109 entries last week made seven or more mistakes, and over half had eight mistakes or more. Try another: More had seven mistakes than those making six or less.

With those kind of results, first-place winner Craig Love, 23580 Meadowbrook, Novi, can be pretty proud of his entry. He correctly guessed 13 of the 16 games—including the Rams' victory over the Lions.

And alone in second place with just four mistakes was Karen Duguid, 46270 Bloomcrest.

Picking the third place winner was more difficult. Eight contestants made five mistakes, but it was Dagmar Regentik, 46144 Neeson, who came closest to guessing the score in that Los Angeles-Detroit game. She picked the Rams to win 24-17 (they really won 21-13).

Others with just five mistakes were: Carl Kohs, Bob Cole, Ruby Cole, Neil Fitzpatrick, Mike Gellner, Frances Kritch, and Barry Zufel.

thrown in a great big hole." Trustee Baldwin supported the position that both township hall and fire station facilities are needed soon. He also noted that space in the proposed complex designated for police could be used for other purposes if the township contracts for police protection. He urged the board to obtain expert assistance in determining financing methods and to make studies of cost operations of the new complex so the board will know what millage will be necessary to finance and operate the expanded facilities.

Although the board has some $155,000 in capital improvement funds to pay towards construction of the complex, and may be able to borrow limited funds from the water and sewer department, additional tax millage will be needed to finance and operate the complex.

This will require a vote of the public.

Trustee Baldwin proposed gathering all facts and holding a public meeting.

It is unlikely that an election for millage to build the complex could be held before spring.

Meanwhile, the board must seek temporary township hall quarters. It has been notified that it must vacate the present township hall by next April.

In other business at Tuesday night's special meeting Treasurer Joseph Straub urged the township to investigate the possibility of providing housing for senior citizens.

He said the need for low cost housing for retirees was critical and noted that the federal government has a plan for financing such projects. He reported that the city of Northville is currently planning such a facility and he urged the township to either join with the city and expand its size or plan one for the township.

The board voted unanimously to investigate the possibilities.

The board also voted to hire a fulltime public works employee to work in the water and sewer department. His salary will be mainly supported by a federal employment program the first year, Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg noted.

The board also supported a Farm Bureau resolution which included opposition to hunting in Wayne county and use of Wayne county tax dollars for a domed stadium.

board, Vernon was told that an amendment to the ordinance regulating the make-up of the board is being considered by the appeals board, would provide for the appointment of alternate members to serve whenever absences occur on the board.

Council voted to approve a request by Richard McManus to eliminate plans for a third floor on his proposed Northville Square Development at Main and Wing streets.

The third floor was planned to accommodate professional offices. However, McManus had indicated to the city manager that in view of the lack of potential office tenants he found the proposed third floor as economically unfeasible.

No other changes are contemplated, Ollendorff said, and at last report McManus indicated that sufficient tenants for the two commercial floors are available.

Elimination of the third floor means the total square footage of the building will approximate 80,000 square feet or about the same size as was first proposed but later expanded to 110,000 square feet with inclusion of the third floor.

Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit was redesignated the depository of city monies. Newly elected Councilman David Biery, an officer of the bank, was given council permission to abstain from voting on the measure.

Purchase of a high velocity O'Brien sewer cleaning machine, at a bid price of $8,124 was approved by the council. Lowest bid was submitted by John Bean at $7,050, while two other bids came in at $8,134 and $8,750.

Council picked O'Brien, upon the recommendation of department of public works personnel, because it met all bid specifications, including equipment not provided by John Bean, and because O'Brien has a local agent.

Proud Lake Range Busy

Some 35,000 persons used the firing ranges in the Proud Lake, Pontiac Lake, Bald Mt and Rochester Utica State Recreation Areas during the month of October, the heaviest use ever recorded for a one month period.

Firing ranges are supervised on weekends with the exception of Proud Lake, near Wixom. This range is supervised every day that it is officially opened.

enacting an ordinance regulating dune-buggies. It followed a complaint of a Northville Estates resident, Harold Ferris, 46906 Grasmere that a dune-buggy operator adjacent to his home has created repeated nuisances by noise.

He urged the council to consider adoption of an ordinance either prohibiting or restricting the operation of these kinds of vehicles inside the city.

And during the discussion of the proposed snowmobile ordinance Ferris suggested their operation be prohibited.

Council also set public hearings on December 6 for proposed code amendments concerning downspouts and below grade drainage.

These amendments would regulate existing and new building or house downspouts to ensure runoff of water away from buildings, and as well as regulating below grade drainage, including footing tiles, sunken patios, etc.

Also referred to the city attorney for drafting of a proposed ordinance was a citizen suggestion that the city be notified in all cases in which utility equipment is "red-tagged" or shutdown pending repairs.

Fire Loss: $Zero

The destroyed building was located on the north side of the main buildings. To get to it firemen either had to go through the main buildings and climb down a wall or drive smaller equipment around the west end of the main buildings.

One fireman fell from a ladder while fighting the blaze but no injuries were reported. Lack of water supply meant firemen had to depend upon water carried by fire equipment.

Heat from the blaze was so intense by the time firemen arrived at the scene that it was difficult to get close to the building with fire hoses.

Any loss in value of Maybury property as a result of the fire was discounted by Russell Chambers, real estate supervisor in the City of Detroit's property management division.

The abandoned building, he indicated, already was "written off" and in no way influences the active negotiations for the state to purchase the property from the City of Detroit.

He said purchase options have been signed with the state and the transaction merely is "in a waiting period" until federal grants come through. The state plans to develop a state park on the property—first in Wayne County.

Chambers criticized news media for "making it sound as if we'd lost a palace instead of an abandoned building, one we hardly knew existed."

He explained that the city also has issued a use permit for occupation by the state of the home on the Eight Mile road side of the property formerly occupied by Dr. W. L. Howard, Maybury superintendent, and then by Dr. W. Paul Reagan.

The city, he said, receives rent from the state which has a state employee occupying it as a policing action. He added that the same procedure is planned for a white farmhouse on the property as neither body wishes to leave the dwellings empty.

Crowd Control Little Problem Here

Park Violations Negligible

The Northville Record / THE NOVI NEWS

The Brighton Argus / THE SOUTH LYON HERALD

Wed.-Thurs., November 17-18, 1971

A mounting problem for park managers throughout the United States during the past summer was control of large groups. As never before, reports were heard of confrontations involving various groups using the parks.

Some of these disturbances erupted into serious clashes, either between park authorities and a group or between a group and other park visitors.

But in two major parks near here — Kensington Metropolitan Park and the Island Lake Recreation Area—there were no major outbreaks.

Matter of fact, the number of violations was negligible considering 2,750,000 people visited the two parks through September 30 of this year.

Paul Wigg, manager of the Island Lake Recreation Area, a facility operated by the Department of Natural Resources, said only 75 tickets were issued, all of them for misdemeanors.

This amounts to two one-hundredths of (0002) or one percent of the persons, some 425,000, who used the recreation area facilities. And the same percentage, coincidentally, was recorded at Kensington Metropolitan Park, the facility operated by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Charles Damm, manager, said 563 summons were issued, all of which were handled by the Park Ranger force at Kensington Metropolitan Park. Through September 30, 2,323,000 people visited the park.

Most of the Island Lake Recreation Area tickets involved what could generally be labeled rowdiness at the overnight camping facility.

The bulk of tickets issued at Kensington involved traffic violations. To be exact, 386 of the 563

Why the absence of incidents at the two parks, located between Brighton and Wixom off I-96? Damm pinpointed four reasons:

- (1) The fact that they are primarily picnic parks.
- (2) The large number of families which visit the parks.
- (3) Many of the visitors are repeat visitors out for rest and relaxation.
- (4) Good relations between park personnel and visitors.

Kensington Metropolitan Park, said Damm, is primarily a picnic park with the emphasis on rest and relaxation. Some other parks, like Metropolitan Park near St. Clair Shores is an activities park which attracts more active persons and has had some serious confrontations.

Kensington also attracts many families, which have a stabilizing influence. Furthermore, many are repeat visitors to the park, who, remembering a good time, return again to relax.

Another principle factor in maintaining quiet in the park, explained Damm, is fact that the Park Rangers try to be helpful in every situation demanding their services. The stress is on good public relations.

If a large group is expected, Damm says, suggestions are made to the leader as to what area might best meet the desires of the group. A clash between two large groups that wish to use the same area might thus be avoided.

Wigg emphasizes that contact with the group leader is made when ever possible in an attempt to gain his cooperation, to help him to understand what is expected, and to place the responsibility with him. If a situation arises that might cause trouble, the leader is quickly contacted and the situation normally is disarmed.

It may not always be possible to avert trouble, however. For these situations, Kensington Park has emergency plans to follow.

Only two incidents the past summer, according to Chief Ranger Robert Skellenger of Novi, could be classified as disturbances of a serious nature. Both of them were dealt with quickly and defused.

One confrontation arose when a large group of youths from Milford, feeling high on beer and perhaps drugs, tried to take over an area in the Rangers quickly responded, isolated the leaders, and in fact issued six tickets for minor in possession and broke up the attempted take-over. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, the State Police from Brighton and Milford Village police were on alert as back up in case the rangers were unable to resolve the matter.

The second incident at Kensington involved a large group of 18 to 25-year-olds from Ann Arbor who clashed with persons on the beach when they tried to set up an exclusive dance area to the loud music of a live combo. Rangers interceded, convinced the group that another area would accommodate them better, and the potentially explosive situation was resolved, explained Skellenger.

Only one incident involving a large group required forceful action at the Island Lake Recreation Area. A group of high school youths from the Detroit metropolitan area came to the park on their "skip" day at school.

Wigg said they refused to tone down and arrests were necessary. Unlike Kensington Park where rangers took care of all disturbances during the year, Island Lake Recreation officials called principally on Michigan State Police and also summoned the Green Oak Township police when arrests seemed imminent.

During some days, when about 50,000 persons are using Kensington Park facilities, as many as 27 persons are on duty as regulatory personnel, overseeing 4,300 acres, including two beaches, 13 picnic areas, two boat launching sites, nature trails, the golf course and parking lots.

On a peak day, the Island Lake Recreation Area draws about 10,000 persons to its 3,420 acres, which include two major day use facilities with beaches, an outdoor center, a family camp ground and an organization camp ground. Three rangers and parttime people patrol this area.

Why the increasing potential for major outbreaks at parks? "Increasing pressure on the parks," explains Damm. "There are more people with more leisure time. As long as pressures remain, the potential for incidents will remain."

"I believe we have to give people breathing space," Wigg concurred. "People come out to get away from the crowded conditions they experience all week they want to stretch their arms. But because the parks are jammed, they aren't finding the open spaces and relaxation they seek."

Another reason for the mounting troubles at parks, Wigg added, is "relaxation of the social structure, a more liberal attitude as far as discipline is concerned. More youths are using the parks, the number has increased tremendously. I believe a segment of youth don't respect the law."

Damm and Wigg see one essential way of relieving the pressures which have led to disturbances. "We must provide more recreation space," they say. "We must develop more parks."

Licenses by Mail

Tab Purchase's Easy

Michigan motorists are able to purchase 1972 passenger car license plate tabs by mail for the first time now that these plates are on sale.

"Prepared applications have been mailed to Michigan's more than five million passenger car and Auto Club Licensing Manager Joseph Ratke. "These forms can be mailed back to the Department of State immediately."

"These tabs also are available at 51 Auto Club offices and Department of State branches starting Monday," Ratke says. "They are being issued in place of new plates. One tab will be issued and it should be fastened to lower right corner of the rear plate."

Deadline for tabs being ordered by mail is December 31. The deadline for having 1972 tabs on passenger cars and motorcycles is March 31.

Between 10 and 20 percent of the tab orders are expected to be filled by mail. However, these sales aren't expected to reduce long lines that occur the final week of sales in March when approximately one in seven vehicle owners buy 1972 tabs.

"The mailing probably will make lines smaller on the first day of sales," Ratke points out.

Ratke reminds passenger car or motorcycle owners to check closely the renewal application mailed to them. Missing information should be completed, wrong information should be lined out with the corrections made and the certification on the reverse side should be completed and signed.

Besides the completed application, licenses to be renewed by mail should include:

- A check or money order payable to State of Michigan for exact amount of license fee

- Checks or money orders should be signed by vehicle owner

- If vehicle is not insured, add a separate certified check or money order for $45, which goes to the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund

- Applications and remittance are to be mailed to Secretary of State, P. O. Box 1000, Lansing, Michigan, 48904

To obtain a license tab at Auto Club or Department of State offices, passenger car or motorcycle owners should bring proof of ownership (title or Department of State prepared application), and if insured, bring proof of public liability and property damage insurance.

Department of State offices will accept a check or money order for exact amount of license fee only. Uninsured motorists must have a separate certified check for $45 to cover Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund. No personal checks will be accepted for this fee.

Auto Club offices will accept a personal check made out to Automobile Club of Michigan for entire amount.

The $1 fee formerly paid by insured vehicle owners for the Motor Vehicle Fund isn't in effect this year.

Babson Report

Auto Accessories

To Receive Boost

THERE HAS BEEN a gradual but steady rise in the prices of most automobile-accessory stocks since the second quarter of 1970. This appreciation in investment prices for the industry has been due in large measure to improving earnings, and also—more recently—to the expectation of an excellent automobile year in 1972.

Because of the advances in price of auto-accessory issues, many of these have now moved out of reasonable buying ranges. However, there are still a few that appear attractively priced for current purchase.

For the most part, production increases in 1971 over the year before reflect the industry's "comeback" from the strike-depressed levels of 1970. In addition, the Nixon game plan which was first announced back in August contained some favorable proposals as far as the auto industry was concerned.

For example, the repeal of the 7 percent federal excise tax (estimated at $200 per car) was designed to spur consumer demand. Its impact has already been widely felt even though at this writing it has not yet been approved by Congress.

FURTHERMORE, the increased tax on autos produced abroad (excluding on-hand units) should reduce the competitive edge the imports previously had over the domestics. The auto market has been in a gradual and slow recovery phase concurrent with the general economic recovery. In view of the aforementioned factors, prospects for the auto industry in 1972 are bright.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports expects sales in the coming year to be in the area of 10 million units, with foreign vehicles capturing 1.5 million—or about 15 percent—of the total. This means great gains for most auto-accessory firms.

One bright aspect of the auto-accessory market today is the trend toward additional safety features on or inside cars. Because of government regulations concerning the use of new safety items, the auto-accessory industry as a whole should receive a substantial boost.

There is presently a long list of required safety devices that are now being manufactured, and there will be a great many more protective or safety products in the future that will become necessary equipment on all cars. Some of these, of course, will be produced by the auto makers themselves, but there will still be a great many made by suppliers.

APART FROM the matter of mandatory safety features—though certainly not unrelated to them—there are several newer-type auto accessory products that are gaining in usage. One that is of particular importance is the disc brake.

Discs were installed on close to 60 percent of 1971 model cars, and further substantial increases are anticipated in 1972. So far, disc brakes have been used primarily on the front wheels because of rear-wheel parking brake complications. But Bendix Corporation has developed a rear disc-brake system with a parking brake that would allow installation of the discs on all four wheels.

Thus, we view the disc brake as a growth item, not only because of the greater number of cars expected to be produced next year but also because of the strong possibility that discs will be used on all four wheels in the future. Discs and components can be produced for both original-equipment and replacement markets, and are considered superior in many respects to traditional brake systems.

Parents: Here's Tips On Drugs

EDITOR'S NOTE:
Following is the fifth in a series of articles by Oakland County Prosecutor Thomas G. Plunkett intended to inform parents about the drug threat and what it means to their children.

Barbiturates, unlike Marijuana, Heroin and hallucinogens, are legitimate drugs. Although they can be and are prescribed legally by physicians, they can be extremely dangerous when misused since they depress the central nervous system—the brain and spinal column.

In this category are:
SECONAL, SECOBARBITAL: These are red capsules, referred to by drug users as "Red Devils";
NEMBUTAL, PENTOBARBITAL: These are yellow in color and in capsule form also. The slang term for these are "Yellow Jackets";
TUINAL, AMOWITH SECOBARBITAL: These are half red and half blue capsules, called "Rainbows" on the street market—AMYTAL, AMOBARBITAL: These are all blue capsules, called "Blue Heavens" by abusers.

These are all dangerous drugs which are usually prescribed as sleeping pills. They are the most commonly found barbiturates on the illegal street market. Barbiturates have an addiction potential. A user who becomes addicted or "hooked" on these drugs may:

— Require increased doses regularly because the body builds up a tolerance to these drugs.

— Be depressed, drowsy and demonstrate marked slurred speech.

— Become psychologically or mentally dependent on these drugs.

— Suffer withdrawal pains if the drug is not available. This could consist of nervousness, tremors, convulsions, delusions, hallucinations and delirium. "Intoxication" on barbiturates can range from lethargy to deep coma, depending on how much of the drug is taken. Oftentimes, after taking an overdose of a drug, the misuser does not remember how much he has actually taken and may take more and more until a coma results.

In addition to this dangerous possibility, a drug user may drink alcoholic beverages while taking these drugs—a combination which has proven to be deadly in a number of instances. Intended or accidental death can accompany the use of Barbiturates. More people commit suicide with barbiturates than with guns!

Some Barbiturates are obtained from the home medicine chest, but most are obtained from the "street market." Some Barbiturates are made legally in the U.S.A., sold legally to Mexican and other foreign firms, and reappear back in the U.S.A. on the illegal "street market" within six months. They cost about $.25 each and are usually packaged in foil wrappers containing 4-6 pills for a dollar.

It is of some comfort to know that stimulants and Barbiturates are regulated by the Food and Drug Administration under the drug abuse control amendments of 1965. These provide for a strict accounting of supplies of the drug by the manufacturer, distributor and seller, and restrict the user to five refills of the prescription, at the discretion of his doctor.

Therefore, these drugs can be used legally only through a physician. Illicit sale or possession of Barbiturates can bring fines up to $500 and jail terms up to 1 year.

Your Conscience: Right or Wrong?

Rev Ralph G. McGimpsey
Rector
St Paul's Episcopal Church
Brighton

Today, as opposed to even a few years ago, the stress seems to be more and more upon the dignity of the individual; the responsibility of the individual "Follow your conscience!" is the battle cry. As we look around us we see more and more evidence of individuals and groups following their consciences: the anti-busing advocates, those opposed to increased taxes to operate the schools, those opposed to the testing of nuclear warheads, etc.

Most of us do follow our consciences in the actions that we take, bit unfortunately few of us ever ask the question as to whether our consciences are right or wrong. Conscience is a judgment of the practical reason on the moral goodness or sinfulness of an action. That is, in our intellect, we weigh an action we contemplate performing, and arrive at a conclusion: "This is right" or "This is wrong." Once we have made this judgment, we cannot act with integrity unless we follow it. Conscience is correct if it is in accord with objective truth, that is, reality. It is erroneous if it disagrees with reality.

Unfortunately, for many people conscience means merely, "How do I feel about something?" For them, conscience is a matter of emotion. For some Christians conscience is an attitude of following Christ on their terms, not his. This is why we see so many things being done in the name of the Church or Christianity that run directly counter to the Scriptures

The dedicated Christian, the really "concerned citizen" employs three steps in making a conscious judgment: reflection, investigation, and counsel.

First, he needs to apply the law—be it natural, civil or of God—to the particular action or doubt that confronts him, taking into account all the particular and individual circumstances that surround the situation.

Secondly, he needs to investigate such things as the nature of the act itself, the motives behind the action, the end he hopes to attain and the effect it is likely to have on those around him.

The third step is of extreme importance. It permeates all of Biblical history and all of human history for that matter. He needs to always seek the advice of wise and prudent men and women for he knows that he is the worst judge of his own acts.

If only each one of us would spend more time developing and forming a correct and certain conscience and less time following a conscience flavored by emotion and prejudice, we would not be faced with crisis like busing, ecology, taxes and the like. Acting in good conscience we would have met these issues as they arose instead of waiting until they achieved crisis proportions.

Last year thousands of new books were published in America. Some are already forgotten. Others became best-sellers. Yet the best-selling book of all time is probably not listed in your weekly book review.

This book is the Bible. It contains the record of God's love for mankind and His wish to reconcile man to Himself through Jesus Christ. That's quite an order, isn't it?

To understand the meaning of life and our relation to God, we cannot lightly scan the pages of this book like a recent novel. In fact, we must have the help of scholars and students of centuries past.

Your church represents generations of accumulated knowledge and faith which will help you discover, in fellowship with others, the meaning and direction of life.

Census Sweeps Away 'Frontier'

LANSING—The American frontier was "conquered" according to the U.S. Census of 1890.

The declaration signaled a final victory for the "foreigners" who had been streaming to America for nearly 400 years. But for the original inhabitant—the only "true American"—it marked a final defeat and continuation of his status as a second-class citizen in his own land.

That second-class status has, unfortunately, continued almost unabated since then.

A national survey recently found that Indians:

—have an average income of $1,500 a year, or 75 per cent below the national average.

—have an unemployment rate of 40 per cent, almost 10 times the national average.

—have a life expectancy of 44 years, compared with 65 years for the white population.

—have a school dropout rate twice the national average and approaching 100 per cent in some school districts.

IN RECENT YEARS, however, the American public has experienced an increasing awareness of the inequitable treatment Indians have received and things are changing, even if the changes are slow.

By far the most publicized change in Michigan this year involved Indian fishing rights. It started April 5 when the state Supreme Court overturned the 1965 arrest of William Jondreau, a L'Anse Chippewa, caught with four lake trout from the Keweenaw Bay on Lake Superior in violation of State game laws.

The ruling said Indians, by virtue of treaties they signed with the United States government in the 1800's, had the right to hunt and fish without restriction anywhere in the state.

"The way I look at this opinion, they can fish and hunt on all land ceded to the United States," George M. Dahl, chief of the law enforcement division of the Department of Natural Resources said the following day.

BUT SOON A STORM of protest started rising from the sportsmen lobby and the DNR itself. Complaints were lodged that Indians were "raping" the Great Lakes with unlimited fishing, especially commercial fishing.

The Indians denied the charges, saying they weren't fishing enough to affect the levels of fish in the lakes.

Finally, in August, the Supreme Court issued a second ruling that the unlimited fishing rights belonged only to the L'Anse band of the Chippewa tribe. Members of other bands of Chippewas complained the court was "honoring one treaty and not others."

THE BAY MILLS BAND of the Chippewa tribe decided to fight the ruling. One of its members, A.B. LeBlanc, went fishing on Lake Superior to be arrested so a test case could be started.

Le Blanc was convicted October 5 of illegal fishing and is now in the process of appealing the ruling.

The case is far from over, and even if Indians are granted unlimited fishing rights it is only a small start in repaying them for the conditions to which they have been subjected in what originally was their land.

BIRTH-LIKE pains are resulting from the new program under which car owners use the mail to secure new license plates.

Secretary of State Richard Austin says many people who send back the applications make errors which require his staff to mail the applications back a second time. The most common mistake, he says, is failing to sign the prepared application on the back. There are two places which must be dated and signed.

Others send in too much money because they add $1 to their check for the uninsured motorists fund, even though motorists with insurance don't have to pay into the fund any more.

Also, he says, some people separate the prepared application into two parts and return only one part.

"Maybe they want to save us a little time or work," Austin says. "Unfortunately, we need both halves. Both have to be stamped and recorded, and, quite frequently, the owner has sent in the wrong half."

Out of Horse's Mouth Receives Top Honors

Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, MI 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies.

A Northville resident, Carol Bellenir of 40380 Stoneleigh, was presented top honors at the Central Michigan Horsemen's High Point Awards Banquet held in Laingsburg on November 7. Miss Bellenir and her four-year old mare,

"Topper's Tawny Miss," received a trophy for junior fitting and showing champion and another trophy for the non-registered horse at halter championship

The winning pair also were awarded the reserve champion ribbon for open English equitation and reserve champion open English pleasure horse. Points towards these awards were compiled during the show season of 1971 at all Central Michigan Horsemen's Association Show. At the Detroit Junior Horse Show on November 5-7, Susan Altman of Hartland, showing her new two-year-old gelding, "Cutler King's Dandy", won the registered Appaloosa gelding two years and under. Later, they went on to receive the award for reserve champion Appaloosa gelding in the championship class.

Horse's Teeth — did you know that a horse's teeth never stop growing upward from the roots. Nature provides the horse with teeth that have very long, strong roots which are pushed up as the horse grinds away the surfaces. Unfortunately, as he grows older the roots do finally give out, hence the horse's inability to go on chewing.

An animal that breaks a front tooth, even if it breaks at the gum line, will grow another from the root to take its place in about a year's time. Since the horse chews in a grinding motion, and since he often does not grind off the entire surface of the molars, very often points are left along the edges which irritate the sides of the mouth.

This is why it is a good idea to have a veterinarian check your horse's teeth at least once a year. Then if there are any sharp points he can float the teeth, that is, rasp off the points. This is not painful to the animal.

Teachers Job A Vacation Breeze? No Way

Ask the man on the street what he thinks of teaching and teachers and chances are nine times out of 10 he'll spout off something about teachers having it made. They work only half a day, get more days off than a retired GM executive, are paid too much and have a glorious summer vacation.

While not all teachers are dedicated to their profession, and I ask you in what profession aren't there some less devoted people, the majority of them are sincerely interested in their profession and seriously tackle one of the most difficult jobs in the world.

Let's take a look at all those benefits, like short work days and long vacations, which teachers reportedly have

Although a teacher may spend anywhere from five to six hours in the classroom teaching some substantive course, what the public generally doesn't realize is the number of hours spent in preparation.

An English teacher, for instance, normally teaches two to three different kinds of courses. College prep English and general English and perhaps business English or journalism.

It's just not a matter of walking into a classroom and talking off the top of one's head. Each different course demands preparation, like research for an hour, or two, or three. Reading, getting materials together, devising a test.

It is often said that today's children are more intelligent, more precocious and more sophisticated than yesterday's children. It's true. So to meet this challenge, the teacher has to be better prepared than ever before.

There is nothing more humiliating to a teacher than to enter a classroom unprepared. The kids seldom are deceived by a teacher faking it. Either the teacher knows the answer or his position with the class is compromised.

Perhaps the biggest hang-up for the teacher is the papers that he must carry home each day after work. He normally has 30 students in each of his five classes, so if everyone is assigned a paper, the teacher has 150 to correct.

Depending upon the course, each paper demands five to 20 minutes to correct. Multiply 150 papers times five minutes and you come up with an astronomical total of 12 and one-half hours minimum—to correct one batch of papers.

While classroom related work might be the major part of the teacher's job, there are other things he must do during the school year, like being advisor for some extra-curricular activity.

And of course, there is always the necessity for the teacher to continue going to school. He can do it during the school year, or during the "summer vacation", but more than likely he goes to school throughout the year.

If the teacher is a man supporting a family, he probably has to supplement his income, so he works part time or during the summer or probably both times.

The wonder is that teachers do their job so well. If the same demands were put on all other workers, you'd hear more than a little grumbling.

U-M Fans Face Detour For Game

Unless two construction zones in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area are completed before November 20, many motoring football fans attending the grudge match between the University of Michigan and Ohio State could encounter two severe bottlenecks, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

State highway officials say current construction on Washtenaw Road between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor and on I-94 between the Grove Street and Ecorse Road overpasses south of Ypsilanti should be cleared and open to full traffic before the game.

Although another project, the demolition of the Grove Street bridge across I-94, is scheduled to begin shortly before November 20, traffic will be routed around the area.

A short length of temporary freeway will be built, and two lanes of eastbound as well as westbound traffic will be maintained.

In the Ann Arbor area, motorists will reach the stadium quickly and easily on major roads if they follow the stadium route signs.

As an aid to freeway traffic headed to and from Ann Arbor on I-94, Saline Road which leads from the freeway to the stadium, will be changed from two-way traffic to one-way inbound before the game and one-way outbound afterward. This is the only city street which will be controlled this way.

Those who use Saline Road from the freeway to the stadium will find plentiful parking at Pioneer High School at the intersection of Stadium Blvd, the University of Michigan Golf Course across the street, or behind old Yost Fieldhouse on State Street.

Michigan Booklet Available

The full story of Michigan as a vacationland is now available for distribution, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Designed to sell Michigan as a year-round vacation state, the new 32-page book, "The Seasons and The Seas", was produced by the Michigan Tourist Council, and was a year in preparation.

Spring, summer, fall and winter vacation opportunities and the recreational opportunities of the Great Lakes are featured in the publication which replaces two former vacation booklets, "Magic of Michigan" and "Great Late Seasons".

Illustrated with full color photos, the book suggests things to see and to do in Michigan during each of the four seasons.

Copies of the publication, "The Seasons and the Seas", are available without charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Michigan - 48926.

 DIRECTOR OF CONSUMER AFFAIRS
 Chatham Super Markets Inc

Things you wanted to know about turkeys...

Q How long does it take to thaw a frozen turkey?

A A turkey weighing 12-20 pounds will take about 2 to 3 days to thaw in the refrigerator or 6 to 8 hours under cold water. The time can be reduced for a smaller bird and increased for a larger bird.

Q How much stuffing should you make for a 12 pound turkey?

A Count on about 3/4 cup stuffing per pound of turkey or about 9 cups stuffing for a 12 pound bird.

Q What basic method for roasting a turkey do you recommend?

A For true turkey flavor and table attractiveness, we recommend placing the Chatham turkey breast side up in an open roasting pan and covering lightly with a tent of foil or several thick pieces of cheese cloth dipped in fat.

Q How can you tell when the turkey is done?

A There are two tests you can make to determine whether the turkey is done. The most reliable one is the meat thermometer which should be inserted into the thigh muscle next to the body cavity. This is the portion of the turkey that is last to cook done.

The temperature should read about 185-190 degrees for the turkey to be done. The other test is to twist the drumstick - the leg joint breaks and moves easily. Of course, Chatham's E-Z Roast Turkeys have their own Magic Cooking gauge which automatically pops up when your turkey is done.

Q What is the proper way to treat what is left of the roast turkey?

A To Refrigerate. Remove stuffing from body and neck cavities. Place in bowl and refrigerate. Leftover poultry may be whole or stripped from the bones. Refrigerate broth & gravy as soon as possible. Cover when cooled. Use within 3 to 4 days.

To Freeze. Wrap meat properly and freeze. Use within 2 months. Stuffing may also be wrapped and frozen. Use within 1 month.
