

Santa to 'Drop in' Here Saturday

"There he comes now...out of the north...swooping from the skies into the parking lot of Northville Downs!"

It's Santa Claus arriving via helicopter at 10 a.m. Saturday to bring greetings to all his little friends from the North Pole.

On hand to welcome Santa—in addition to an expected crowd of youngsters—will be members of the Northville high school band.

They'll greet Santa musically and escort him through town to his Northville headquarters, Northville Hardware, 107 N. Center street.

Santa has promised to remain in Northville until 5 p.m. Saturday and take Christmas orders back to the North Pole where his Workshop Helpers are busy preparing for his annual Christmas visit.

The Jolly Gent in the red suit hasn't forgotten that his little friends enjoy Christmas candy. He will reward each with a candy cane.

And to make sure that he doesn't miss seeing any Northville area youngster, Santa will return to Northville Hardware Fridays, December 10, 17 and 24 from 4 until 8 p.m., and on Saturdays, December 11 and 18 from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m.

His visit to Northville is being sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce with assistance from the High School Band Parents.

NEWS BRIEFS

TOYS FOR TOTS is the Christmastime community project of the Northville Jaycees who are seeking new or like-new toys for children at Plymouth State Home. A drop box for donations is located in the city parking lot next to Northville Drugs with Jaycees to pick up toys daily through December 19. They will clean and do minor repairs.

SHOULD 19-year-olds be permitted to drive taxicabs inside the City of Northville? That question will be discussed at a public hearing Monday night as the city council considers lowering the minimum age from 21 to 19. Other proposed ordinance changes to be considered will be those affecting downspouts and below grade drainage. Also, the council will consider adoption of the Detroit Plumbing Code to upgrade the local regulations.

SCHOOLCRAFT COLLEGE trustees will study the question of advisory seats to the board at a special session December 8. The meeting was prompted by a faculty request at its November 17 meeting that such a seat be established. Postponing action on the faculty's request, the board has set the study session to investigate advisory seats in general. The study session will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

OPEN SWIMMING at Northville High has been cancelled until Tuesday, February 2, 1972. "Lack of community participation and a tight budget forced the closing of the pool," explained Earl Busard, business director. "With only 12 to 15 swimmers participating in the program, we couldn't afford to continue it," he said.

A Funny Lumberjack

Cuts Forest of Laughter

Even though he's delicately cradling a two-month old baby in one arm, when he unwinds his big frame and extends a handshake that makes you want to holler uncle there's no doubt that you're meeting Don Cooper—the lumberjack turned film lecturer.

The Coopers—wife Ruth, baby son Matthew, and the funny man—tooled their little van into Northville last weekend and were the overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webber, 44880 Thornapple Lane.

Friday night they were featured in the opening travelogue lecture, sponsored by the Northville Rotary Club, before moving on to Elkhart, Indiana for a Saturday night performance.

They're working their way from the East Coast to their home in DeBorgia, Montana, showing a new film, called "Mountain West Trails," that was three years in the making.

Meanwhile, Don's older "worthless brother," Dennis "Bones" Cooper and his sister-in-law (the one with toothpick legs) are traveling, too, and showing the same film and probably, says Don, ruining the family name.

Poking fun at each other, both in film and in their narrations, has become the national trademark of these two men who came out of a lumbering camp and "accidentally" carved out a whole new career with their home-spun humor and exciting films.

And nowhere are they any more loved than in the Detroit area where their films are beamed periodically out over George Pierrot's internationally famous television show.

This unnatural career, explains Don in his Will Rogers delivery, began just 10 years ago in an Alaskan lumbering camp.

In this camp, he says, there happened to be one of those characters who is continually short of cash. He put the bite on Don, who likes spongers even less than Dennis' biscuits. "He wanted $70 why seventy I'll never know. In desperation he offered his new camera as collateral until the loan was repaid."

With that "hocked" camera, Don began taking pictures, not really knowing how to operate the "confounded thing." He filmed mostly wildlife in the camp area, ruining much of what he shot because of his inexperience with cameras. He had never owned one previously.

He carried the film around in his knapsack for months before finally acquiring a projector so he could show fellow workers his pictures. While showing his film in camp one day when a movie crew was present, Don was invited to California by the impressed director who promised to feature it on his television program.

Don accepted and when the film was Conceivably this winter people will begin using part of Michigan's newest state park — Maybury, located in Northville Township.

That's the word from DNR Deputy Director Samuel Milstein, who told the Record Monday that formalization of purchase of the 865-acre site from Detroit is imminent.

Once that purchase is consummated — perhaps next week, said Milstein, it is quite possible the DNR will open part of the facility for winter activities such as skiing, sledding, etc.

Major park development is not expected to begin for two years or more, he added. "You can be sure we won't let the property stand idle very long. We won't wait for development to begin before using it."

Initial state action, he explained, will be to move personnel into the area so that security can be tightened. "We understand there's been quite a bit of vandalism but until the state actually owns the property there is little we can do about it."

Tax 'Gift' Mailed

Property owners in the city and township of Northville are receiving their annual pre-Christmas "greetings" this week: commonly known as winter tax bills.

And depending upon the residency of the taxpayer, the tab will be up between 10 and 12 per cent over last year.

Two conditions account for the increase: 1 — a raise in millage in the Northville public school system of $2.08 per thousand dollars of equalized valuation from 34.21 mills to 36.29 mills, and 2 — an increase in the state equalization factor.

The hike in property values, imposed by state authorities to keep the total valuation of the city and township at 50 per cent of the market value, varies within the city and the township.

The factors in the city of Northville are .141 in the Wayne county portion, compared to .133 last year, .148 in the Oakland county portion compared to .137 last year; and .118 in the township, compared to a previous factor of .112.

To the taxpayer this means that the assessed valuation of his property is multiplied by the factor applicable to the area in which his property is located to increase its taxable value to what the state considers is 50 per cent the market value.

This taxable value is called the "state equalized valuation" (SEV).

The state equalized valuation of Northville township this year is $43,606,593, up from $40,024,226 last year. Part of the increase is due to new buildings, part to the hike in valuations.

Township Treasurer Joseph Straub reports that all township tax notices for real and personal property have been mailed out.

The total tax levy in the township is $2,031,409.92. Broken down, this total includes $1,748,800 in taxes on real property and $282,609 on personal property (equipment and inventories).

This money is raised by levying 46.25 mills ($46.25 per thousand dollars of SEV) in the Northville school district portion of the township, and 42.80 mills in that portion of the township in the Plymouth School district.

Here's how the millage levy breaks down in the township:

— 7.17 mills for county, which equals $312,659.96, — 1.01 mills for township government, which equals $44,043.10, shown George Pierrot happened to see it and invited him to Detroit. And that's how a lumberjack became the nation's most widely acclaimed film lecturer.

Asked how brother Dennis became involved, Don gets lost in his explanation, preferring perhaps to fan the erroneous impression that the old curmudgeon is simply riding his coat tail to fame.

It was during a tour of Canada that Don met the pretty girl who became his wife and projectionist. He remembers it now as "black Friday", the day she sneaked into his show without paying.

Shortly before his scheduled appearance in Northville last year, Don broke a leg while lumbering and brother Dennis obligingly filled in. During recuperation, remembers Don, the biggest accident of all occurred—baby son Matthew, now just two months old but already having visited 20 states with his traveling parents.

The Coopers' newest film took three years "in our spare time" to make. Containing more gag sequences than any of their previous films, it features both brothers riding the Western trails aboard a home-made mobile home built on a Model T Ford chassis.

tapped the federal contingency fund. And even if only half of the $1.5 million is earmarked from it in this case, it will still represent one of the largest allocations ever awarded a state, Milstein said.

It is possible, he said, that the DNR commission will vote today (Thursday) to execute its option.

Where's The Youth Vote?

Young adults here apparently are not as politically inclined as recent national demonstrations on various platforms would indicate.

Figures disclosed this week show that only 17.5 percent of the registered 18 to 21 year-olds voted in the recent Northville city election.

It was the first time in history that local 18, 19 and 20 year-old citizens were permitted to vote in a city council-mayor election.

According to City Clerk Martha Milne, only 10 of the 57 youths who were eligible to vote exercised their newly won right. In that election, 16 were registered to vote in Precinct 1, seven in Precinct 2, and 34 in Precinct 3.

Since the election, 11 more have registered thus increasing the total registration for this age group to 68. No precise number of 18, 19 and 20-year-olds living in the city is available, but it is believed the number is far greater than is now registered.

Northville Junior Miss

Lorrie Deibert Wins Title

Lorrie Deibert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deibert, 9825 Napier Road, was chosen Northville's Junior Miss for 1971-72 in the sixth annual pageant sponsored by the Northville Jaycees Saturday night at Northville High School.

Robin Fox and Sarah Horner were named first and second runners-up respectively. Nine Northville High senior girls participated in the pageant with judging being done on the basis of poise and appearance, scholastic achievement, creative and performing arts and on the judges' interview.

Lorrie was crowned by Wendy Wheaton, last year's Northville Junior Miss, at the conclusion of the ceremonies presided over by Doug Loomis. She will represent Northville in regional competition in Livonia in December. There 21 local winners will compete for 12 places in the state contest to be held in Pontiac in January.

Other contestants in the local pageant were Melissa Eddy, Kitty Castillo, Carol Turnbull, Elisa Mannisto, Nancy Chadwick and Diana Black.

The girls each appeared three times during the contest. They wore street clothes as they were asked a variety of timely questions. They appeared in costumes for the performing arts portion, and then in evening clothes.

Judges were Mrs. Louise Cutler of Cutler Realty and a member of the Farmington Players, Miss Florence Panattoni, director of instruction in the Northville Public Schools; E.O. Weber, Ford Motor Company industrial relations executive and former Northville Board of Education member; and Gerald D. Large of St. Clair Shores, a systems analyst with K-Mart enterprises.

For her talent presentation Northville's new Junior Miss gave a talk-sing comedy solo, "Can't You Take Back and Change It for a Boy?" She was accompanied by Stacey Evans.

In the question session she was asked what new high school course she would institute if she were assigned to do so, and what its purpose would be.

"The only course we don't have is sex education," she replied, explaining, "If parents do not take this responsibility, then school is the best place for students to learn about it."

First runner-up Robin Fox introduced and sang a solo from the 1960's, "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg." Her question was "Some say God is dead; what is your reaction?"

She replied, "Some say with a lot of suffering and pain in the world that there cannot be a God, but there are too many wonderful things also in the world. That's why I believe in Him."

Second runner-up Sarah Horner played a piano sonata excerpt from Sonata No. 20 by Haydn. She was asked what contribution teenagers can make to support ecological efforts and responded that teens can help support recycling and anti-pollution drives but most of all can remember not to litter and, later as they grow up, consider the problem of over-population.

Other contestants' talent acts included Melissa Eddy's vocal solo, "Scarlet Ribbons," Kitty Castillo's flute medley of songs from "Sound of Music," Carol Turnbull's original composition, "Memories," which she sang while accompanying herself on the guitar, Elisa Mannisto's clarinet solo, "Russian Dance" from the "Lake of the Swans" ballet.

Others were Nancy Chadwick's flute solo of the theme from "Romeo and Juliet" and Diana Black's vocal solo from the "Merry Widow" opera.

The judges stressed that it was a "very close" competition.

Northville's new Junior Miss is active in the high school choir, cheerleading, Pep Club, student council and in her church fellowship. She lists among her interests swimming and sewing. She plans to study dental hygiene at University of Michigan or Ferris Institute. She and her family have been Northville residents for 15 years.

As Northville Junior Miss she receives a trophy, a $100 cash prize from the Northville Jaycees and a regents scholarship to Eastern Michigan University. Cash prizes also go to the runners-up as well as gift certificates from the following local merchants — Paris Room, Brader's Department Store, Freydl's and Summit House. The winners also receive a basic make-up kit from Mary Kay Cosmetics.

News Around Northville

Word has been received from Rodney, Michigan that retirement for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hollis, long-time Northville residents who moved in September, has been exciting.

Recently, Mr. Hollis bagged his first buck — a big 10-point buck — with a "single shot" from a distance of 400 yards. It was a lucky shot, says the hunter, adding "I didn't think I could hit him but might as well try." He credits his wife, Leona, for his luck. It was she who saw the buck while bringing him his lunch.

Mr. Hollis retired from Burroughs last June. Before moving they lived here at 16903 Northville Road. Their present address in Rodney is 12205 West 13 Mile Road.

Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a special ceremony of initiation at 7:45 p.m. Friday, December 3, at the Northville Masonic Temple. A social hour and refreshments will follow.

A chapter business meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. December 17.

Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters will hold its annual Christmas tea and meeting at 2 p.m. next Tuesday, December 7, at the home of Mrs. John Litsenberger, 132 West Dunlap Street.

Mrs. T.J. Heintz of Saginaw, King's Daughters state president, will be a guest of the circle and will speak on the organization's work.

Members are to bring unwrapped gifts for children at the Mott Hospital school in Ann Arbor as well as wrapping for the gifts. Other needed articles for projects, such as yarn, old jewelry, old containers, also may be brought to the meeting.

A holiday bake sale will be held by the Sweet Adelines chapter, We-Way-Co, beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday in the mini-mall in downtown Plymouth. The women's singing group with Northville and Plymouth members meets from 8 to 10 p.m. every Wednesday in Plymouth Central High School.

A Christmas potluck dinner will be held by the Past Matrons Club of Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of Eastern Star, at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple.

Honor guests will be Mrs. Katherine Cobb, Worthy Matron, and A.J. Maier of Milford, Worthy Patron. Guests also will include husbands, past presidents and their wives and honorary club members.

Mrs. Herbert Famuliner, new president, is in charge of arrangements. Other officers elected at the November 17 meeting are Mrs. H.A. Boyden, secretary, and Mrs. E.E. DeKay, treasurer, both re-elected.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

A MITTEN TREE is the new, first-time project of the Northville Jaycees who are asking all interested residents of the community to adorn it with knitted wear for children at the Plymouth State Home.

The live evergreen tree will be erected in the lobby of the Northville branch of Manufacturers National Bank next Monday. The Jaycees themselves will start the decorating with mittens, scarves and hats made by members. The tree will be up through December 21 when the Jaycees hope to have it filled with warm wear for children at the home.

"So many people like to knit that we're hoping they will want to help with this holiday project," explains Mrs. Richard Rayborn, Jaycee president. She may be reached at 349-7134, for additional information.

But it's not necessary to call her to donate. Christmas tree hangers will be ready by the tree for hanging items.

"A FASCINATING place to visit" is the way Mrs. Kenneth Rathert sums up the trip she and her husband have just made to Japan.

They returned last week after visiting their son, Kenneth A. "Bud," who met them in Tokyo. With him as their guide, they visited the "very beautiful" Fuji area as well as Osaka where Bud teaches.

The trip also was a reunion with Miss Asako Yamanoi who had been the Ratherts' houseguest here. Her family hosted a Chinese meal in a Chinese restaurant in their honor. Doris Rathert adds that their trip was not the usual American-type visit as they slept on the floor in Oriental inns and ate with chopsticks.

The Ratherts' son is teaching English conversation to junior college classes and, in company schools, he plans to return next March.

Enroute home the Ratherts spent two days in Hawaii and stopped in Denver to visit daughter Diane and her husband, the Walter Diekrogers. He is a Lutheran church vicar there. In St. Louis they visited Adrian Rathert, Kenneth Rathert's 86-year-old father.

They arrived home to spend Thanksgiving with daughters Carol, home from Michigan State University, and Lynne, a student at Kalamazoo College.

MADRIGAL CLUB of Detroit's Christmas concert being presented at 3 p.m. this Sunday in the Detroit Institute of Arts lecture hall also is the 25th anniversary concert for its director, August Maekelberghe.

With two very active club members living in Novi and Northville, the community is receiving a special invitation to attend. Mrs. Kent Mathes, who is past president of the club, 349-7334, and Mrs. Clifford Kirkland, 476-8985, have tickets available. They are $2 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Mrs. Mathes points out the program will contain three selections arranged for Madrigal by the director — "How Do I Love Thee?," "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," and "A Choral Suite for Christmas."

GREECE, one of Europe's great tourist attractions, is the topic for the Northville Woman's Club program at 1:30 p.m. this Friday at Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Two travel representatives, both Greek, will tell about their homeland. Miss Mary Kotinas of Atlas Travel in Detroit, representative of the Greek Line, and George Marudas, representing TWA Airlines, will speak. A film also is planned.

They will be introduced by Mrs. William Quigley, program chairman of the day, who will be moving the next day. Since their new home in Dexter isn't quite complete, Mrs. Quigley is having to plan to store their furnishings for a short time.

Another Northville resident who also is preparing to move assisted her with program arrangements. Gordon Smith, who is associated with the Mac Donald Travel Company in Southfield, is moving with the firm to Dayton, Ohio. His wife, Ollie Nan, has operated antique shops in the area and was chairman for the Our Lady of Victory show at the Downs.

The program is a guest day with tea to follow.

Gloria Pacific Wed In Ann Arbor Rites

In a candlelight ceremony last Friday evening Gloria Marie Pacific became the bride of Wesley Allan Wright in Ann Arbor Concordia Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram R. Pacific, 46959 Grasmere. Her husband is a former New York resident who now lives in Ann Arbor.

For the ceremony at 6:30 p.m. and dinner reception following for 30 guests at Hillside Inn, the bride wore a long white velvet gown with a portrait neckline and long sleeves edged with white mink. She carried pink rosebuds and Stephanotis.

The bride's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Pacific, attended the couple. Another brother, John, Ushered.

The bride's mother wore a long pink gown with beading trimming the neckline and wrists of the long sleeves. Both parents of the bridegroom are deceased.

The newlyweds are employed at Bendix in Ann Arbor and are making their home in that city.

Laird-Dancha Vows Recited

Lynne Laird, a former Northville resident and a 1966 graduate of Northville High School, became the bride of Michael Dancha in a 6 p.m. ceremony last Friday, November 26, in the Shiawassee Apartments clubhouse in Southfield.

She was given in marriage by her father, Fred Laird of Plymouth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dancha of Livonia.

Officiating at the ceremony before 56 close friends and members of the families was the Reverend Joseph Wood of Cassopolis, Michigan. The Reverend Wood is a lifelong friend of the Laird family, having baptized the bride.

For the ceremony and reception following the bride wore a pale blue floor-length gown fashioned with full sleeves and lace at the neckline.

Christina Frogner in a floor-length pink gown was maid of honor. The bridegroom's attendant was Robert Gartner.

Both the bride and her husband are 1970 graduates of Michigan State University. He is a security officer employed by Montgomery Ward Company. The bride was a member of the Northville Presbyterian Bell Ringers here.

After a wedding trip to Chicago the couple will live in Minneapolis.

It's a 'Children's World'

Novi Day Care Center Open

READY TO GO — Lori Pasz and Heidi Goebel are about to try the slide equipment at the Children's World educational day care center at Living Lord Lutheran Church while Jimmy Ayala climbs up for his turn — all under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Lorraine Steimel of Northville, left, and Mrs. Ann Cohen of New Hudson.

Jimmy, sitting at a child-size table, is coloring but also is keeping an eye on two classmates playing in the "cage" underneath the slide. On the other side of the room little girls are setting out tea in a "housekeeping corner."

In all, it's a very relaxed setting as it should be in a "Children's World."

The educational day care center, which opened this fall at Living Lord Lutheran Church at 40700 Ten Mile Road between Meadowbrook and Haggerty roads, is one of three in the Detroit area under sponsorship of the American Lutheran Church.

Open from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. week days, the center accepts children two and a half to five years old.

Mrs. Ruth Slade, director and teacher, points out that the day care center, realistically designed to adapt to a mother's schedule, has as its goal "providing early childhood education programs to help each child form a satisfying self image."

Children are accepted for all, or part of the day Mrs. Slade explains that she sets up schedules individually with mothers who work, go to school or who just wish their children to have the social experience of nursery school.

She and her staff of three are in process of instituting a plan for mothers who want a day out weekly. The only requirement is that children must be registered in the nursery to comply with state regulations.

For the first hours each morning there's free play. Then structured periods with arts and crafts, music and storytelling follow with breaks for morning and afternoon snacks and lunch.

Last week youngsters, whose average age was three and a half, were creating Indian headbands and talking about Thanksgiving celebrations.

One young man confided that when his family celebrates they "go to the Burger King" but conceded that Thursday, however, might be marked with a turkey dinner.

Among the many brightly colored displays on the walls was a Thanksgiving arrangement centered with a turkey.

The center is a large, sunny room with carpeting and equipment for both active and quiet play. Living Lord Lutheran Church is just two years old. Its pastor, the Reverend Norman Borsvold, and the congregation in making room for the day care center are carrying out their philosophy that a church should be used by the community every day.

The educational day care center, part of Children's World with headquarters in Dallas, Texas, receives assistance from the American Lutheran Church as it is not yet self-sustaining.

Other Detroit-area centers are located at Gracious Saviour and St. Olaf's Lutheran churches. Because both are inner city churches, those centers offer breakfasts as well as lunches.

The philosophy of Children's World is stated by the Reverend Timothy Hepner, director of a center: "We are seeking to preserve the individual preciousness of each child, providing a program for a child to form a realistic and satisfying self image, building upon the child's curiosity and providing opportunities for discovery.

"There will be experiences of joy that come from learning and using intellectual, social and physical experiences and activities based instructional programs for childhood education and guided by trained adults."

At the center in Novi Mrs. Lorraine Steimel, wife of Northville Postmaster John Steimel, usually works in the morning with Mrs. Ann Cohen, a teacher from New Hudson.

On duty afternoons with Mrs. Slade is another Northville resident, Miss Judy Utley.

Youngest pupil presently in the nursery is Jimmy Sparta of Novi, who is two and a half.

Other Novi children enrolled are Javed Ali, Jimmy Ayala, Tabatha Brown, Heidi Goebel and Lori Pasz.

Children are accepted for a full day at $6 a day or $25 a week. A half-day program is $3.50. There's room for many more children, and Mrs. Slade feels her only problem is making the community aware that the center exists. Interested parents are invited to call 477-6296 for additional information or to schedule a visit.

Style Show Slated By Christian Women

A holiday fashion show, Christmas music by the Stevenson High School concert choir and an inspirational talk by Mrs. W. Dean Ward of Northville are to be highlights of the December luncheon meeting of the Dearborn-Plymouth Chapter of the Christian Women's Club at noon next Thursday, December 9, at the Mayflower Meeting House.

The style show is being presented by the Tow-Bari Shop in Dearborn with the commentary by Jackie Crampton, television personality who has narrated many professional style showings.

Mrs. Ward is past chairman of the Christian Women's chapter and lives at 47266 Dunsany with her dentist husband, two sons and a daughter. She is a University of Michigan graduate and has been active in the development of the Christian Women organization in this area.

Deadline for luncheon reservations at $3.50 is next Tuesday with interested area women invited to call Mrs. J. B. DeRusha, 349-5178. She reports that the chapter now also has many Novi and South Lyon members.

A nursery for young children is available at the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union, 500 South Harvey at a charge of 50 cents for one child and $1 for two or more. They are to bring a sack lunch as only light refreshments are served.

Schedule Play

"Babes in Arms", a Rodgers and Hart production, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Bentley High School, Livonia, by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford.

Savages Mark Golden Year

Former Northville residents Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Savage marked their golden wedding anniversary November 13 by repeating their marriage vows in Faith Bible Church in Marion, Michigan.

They chose 4 p.m. for the ceremony—the same hour and date they were married 50 years ago in Kansas City, Missouri. Mrs. Savage (Minnie) wore an aqua dress with matching lace trim to which she pinned a mum corsage. The Reverend Mark Norris officiated.

Baskets of fall flowers decorating the altar were gifts of the church. A reception followed in the church basement.

Mrs. Savage was well known in Northville as she worked for many years at Sessions Hospital. The Savages retired to Marion in Northern Michigan about five years ago.

Split Votes Avert Strike

Teachers-Board
Ink New Contract

The long-awaited 1971-72 Novi teachers contract was ratified Monday night, thus averting a possible pre-Christmas strike.

Ratification by both teachers and the board of education occurred just one day before the extension of the previous contract was due to expire.

Settlement left neither side happy, however.

Teachers approved the contract by a vote of 39-15, while the board split 4-3 in approving it.

Depending upon which side is represented, the new contract calls for pay-fringe benefit increases of from 4 to 10.5 percent.

Chief negotiator for the teachers, Milan Obrenovich, said that while teachers are happy negotiations have ended and a strike avoided, we are by no means delighted with the salary package. Many of our people voted to ratify only because they did not want to hurt the district by striking.

"They (teachers) were pushed to the edge of a strike this year, and next year they may not hesitate to take that step."

On the other hand, at least three board members were equally unhappy. In a stinging rebuttal of the settlement, members LaVerne DeWaard, Bruce Simmons, and William Ziegler charged that the package violated the "spirit of phase II" of President Richard Nixon's economic plan.

Voting against the contract, they said the settlement represents an average teacher salary increase, including fringe benefits, of more than 10.5 percent.

They warned that the increased salaries will force the board to make "serious cutbacks" in other areas of the 1971-72 budget which has yet to be approved.

The 10.5 percent increase, they noted, is "more than double the amount paid to the other employees of this school system."

Furthermore, they argued that it "further expands the disparity between the salary of our teachers and other educators throughout the nation. Even without this increase Novi's salary scale was higher than eight of the 10 largest school districts (Chicago, Washington, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Houston, and Dallas) in the United States."

The new salary schedule provides for a BA degree range of from $8,320 to $13,650 in 11 steps; for BA plus 15 credits, from $8,679 to $14,399; for MA, from $9,048 to $15,147; for MA plus, from $9,334 to $15,433; and for MA plus 30 credits, from $9,620 to $15,720.

The previous contract provided a BA salary range of from $8,000 to $13,125 in 11 steps, and for an MA salary range of from $8,700 to $14,565. In addition to salary increases, the new contract provides for a dental care plan ($6.62 per teacher per month), and $5,000 life insurance.

Part of the disparity between estimated percentage increases (10.5 as seen by three board members and 4-percent as seen by teachers) revolves around built-in salary step increments or seniority.

Teachers do not figure this in their calculations, arguing that it is not a salary increase.

In this respect, school attorney Frederick Knauer concurs.

Asked for his opinion, Knauer said the president's pay board has stated that increments are not counted in the government's 5.5 percent guideline. However, he did not refute the charge by three board members that while perhaps not violating the "letter of the law," it violates the "spirit of the law."

Obrenovich, angered by the charges by the three board members, commented, "I

Jaycee project chairman Jerry Mercier has said that his group has received Santa's solemn promise to answer as many as the letters as possible.

Wixom to Hire
Another Officer

Wixom police department received permission to hire one additional officer and create the position of investigator as the city council Tuesday approved the recommendations of Chief George Von Behren for the reorganization and upgrading of the department.

Under current plans, the new officer will begin January 1, 1972.

The addition of the officer and creation of the investigator position were foremost among several recommendations made by Von Behren in a six page written report and oral presentation before the council. Also accepted were his other recommendations. They were:

—Probationary periods for new personnel will be extended from the present six months to a 12 month period and a probationary period of six months will be instituted for personnel promoted within the department to new positions. Presently, there is no probationary period for promoted personnel.

—Financial consideration for education will be given to all officers with the exception of the Chief and Lieutenant. The scale set forth by Von Behren and approved by the council would provide a $250 increase per year over the base pay for each year of college completed. An officer with 2 years of college education for example, would receive a bonus of $500 in addition to his standard rate of pay.

—The temporary position of corporal will be created and be in effect until the department reaches the point of having 11 full time officers, when it will be discontinued and replaced with the office of sergeant.

All of Von Behren's recommendations were accepted enthusiastically by the council and will go into effect January 1, 1972. Sole concern of the council members was the availability of funds for the recommended upgrades and additional hirings.

Mayor Gilbert Willis, however, referred to the possibility of a grant of $11,000 from Oakland County's Act 51 Funds. "There is no assurance," he said, "that our request will be granted, but I feel we can still afford these changes."

According to Von Behren's estimates, the total cost of the additions would be $14,122 less some $3,300 that the new officer would save the city in current overtime pay - a net total of $10,822.

Von Behren based his request for additional manpower on three factors - population increases, a rise in the city's crime rate, and improved community service.

'Ackley Won't Get CM Post'

Speculation that Harold Ackley, former city manager of Novi, would be named city manager of Walled Lake was denied Tuesday by Walled Lake Mayor Marshall Taylor.

Many observers of the currently unsettled Walled Lake situation had assumed that Ackley would be named to the post after he had been named assistant city manager by the Walled Lake council last week.

The city manager's position opened up November 23, when present city manager Frank Hamilton announced his resignation in order to accept the same position in Wolverine Lake.

Faced with the prospect of having no city manager, the council at that time hired Ackley to serve as assistant city manager to Hamilton until his departure from Walled Lake. Hamilton announced he would be leaving his duties at the end of the week - Saturday, December 4.

Under the Walled Lake city charter, the mayor - in this case Taylor - will assume city manager's duties until such time as a full-time city manager is appointed.

Ackley's appointment to the assistant's job had prompted rumors that he was in line for the job and Ackley, himself, reports he suggested to the council at their Monday night meeting that he be appointed city manager on a temporary basis.

Taylor, however, stated emphatically that Ackley would remain as an assistant and that he, Taylor, would assume acting city manager's duties as provided by the charter.

Group Says
Think LINK

"Think LINK" is a phrase members of the Novi Drug Abuse Committee would like to become well known to area residents needing help with any type of personal problems.

Primary focus of LINK which is an acronym for "Listeners in Novi Kare," has been to establish telephone lines which are open from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. every Friday, Saturday and Sunday night.

LINK numbers are 349-3240 and 349-3241.

Basically, LINK is a listening and referral service. In addition to being trained for proper handling of family, moral, medical, and drug problems, the people manning the telephone lines have a complete listing of community services available for every type of personal problem.

Heading into just its third week of operation, the LINK lines have not been over-burdened with calls. "A program like this takes time to develop," explained Father Leslie Harding, a LINK organizer and rector of the Holy Cross Episcopal Mission. "Once people become aware of the service we are providing and develop confidence in its ability to help them solve their problems, LINK will provide an invaluable service to the residents of Novi."

Proposed paving of portions of Taft and Meadowbrook Roads brought forth a sizable turnout of citizens that more than filled Novi's council chambers Monday and led council to set a public hearing on the matter.

The hearing, which will be for the determination of necessity for paving the two roads in question, has been set for Monday, January 10, at 8 p.m. in the Novi Community Building. Mayor Joseph Crupi indicated that discussion on any city road would be accepted at the hearing.

The paving of Taft and Meadowbrook Roads was the major recommendation of the Novi's Road Improvement Committee's report, which was submitted at last week's council meeting.

Specifically, that report urged that the city begin immediate steps to pave Taft between Ten Mile Road and Grand River and Meadowbrook Road between Nine and Ten Mile Roads.

Also submitted was a tentative plan for financing the project, calling for utilization of state Act 51 and Act 175 funds and a front footage assessment of $12 per foot.

It was the assessment that drew the bulk of the complaints.

"I object to the assessment of only the abutting property owners," said one man. "The report showed that 2,400 cars use Meadowbrook Road per day and yet there are only about 50-60 residents on that street. It seems only fair that the cost of paving should be carried by everyone who uses the street."

Another citizen suggested that the major failing of the Road Committee's report was the absence of alternate plans for financing the paving. "These are community-use roads," he said, "and yet the report doesn't distribute the cost equitably over the community."

A complaint from one citizen that the Road Committee did not have enough representatives from Meadowbrook Road drew a firm rebuttal from Mayor Joseph Crupi.

"A committee of 12 is a sizable committee," he said. "It is obvious that we don't have the entire population of the city available to us, but the committee had a good cross section of people from all over the city. The study was not just for Meadowbrook Road, but for the entire city of Novi."

Because of the large turnout of citizens, councilman Edwin Presnell proposed that a public hearing be held specifically on the matter of the Road Committee's report.

This hearing, he said, would allow citizens a better forum for expressing their opinions, citing the fact that the crowded conditions Monday night forced some people to stand in the hall outside the council chamber.

Presnell was opposed, however, to a "hearing of determination of necessity" specifically for Meadowbrook and Taft Roads. Such a hearing, he pointed out, allows for the hearing of legally involved parties. "I would like to hear the feelings of the entire city on the road situation," he said.

City Attorney Howard Bond confirmed Presnell's point about the hearing of determination of necessity, but at the same time said that the chairman could open the floor to other parties if he wished to do so.

As Mayor Crupi will be the chairman at the December 10 hearing and had expressed his feelings that all citizens should be heard, the council voted to set the public hearing for that date.

In other business, the council —accepted the bid of Growleau Brothers, a Union Lake company, in the amount of $157,167.90 for the paving of Nine Mile Road. Paving is tentatively slated to begin in the spring and be completed by late summer.

—accepted the bid of Town and Country Dodge for purchase of a new pick-up truck for the Department of Public Works. Town and Country submitted the low bid of $2,114.

—reappointed Thomas Marcus and Thomas Gorman

Tax Notices
Go Out Here

One of the less pleasant traditions of the holiday season was carried out yesterday (Wednesday) as the last of some 5,250 winter tax notices totaling in the neighborhood of $5,031,019.53 were required by law to have been mailed to Wixom and Novi residents.

Novi City Treasurer Gerry Slipp reported that approximately 4,000 notices had been mailed for a total tax levy of $2,766,700.

In Wixom, assistant to the mayor, William Travis, reported the mailing of roughly 1,250 notices totaling $2,264,319.53.

In Novi, $2,230,700 of the total billing will be split among four school districts. Novi schools will receive $1,575,400, Northville schools will receive $375,700, Walled Lake schools will be sent $254,635, and the South Lyon school district will receive $24,965.

Of the remaining money, $502,200 will go to Oakland County and $33,800 will go to the Novi library fund.

Taxes for the operation of the city are collected in the summer.

Novi's total 1970 winter tax levy was $2,501,461.53.

In Wixom $1,857,990.45 of the total billing will be divided among three school districts. Walled Lake Consolidated Schools will receive the bulk of that figure with $1,819,168.30 slated for their coffers. South Lyon schools will receive a $37,237.00 slice of the levy, while Novi Schools will receive $1,585.15, according to Travis.

In addition, the Oakland County Intermediate School District will receive $107,168.19.

The remaining $309,160.59 will go to Oakland County. Last year's total winter tax levy in Wixom was $1,856,013.69.

Both communities have a February 14 deadline for paying taxes. After that date, residents will be charged a four percent late fee until the end of the month. On March 1 outstanding bills will be turned over to Oakland County and must be paid in Pontiac with the four percent penalty and an additional charge of 1/2 percent interest per month until payment is made.

Russians 'Sneak'
Into Ford Plant

Eleven top automotive experts from the Soviet Union toured Wixom's Ford Assembly Plant last week. The visit was not announced until the Soviet delegates returned home Wednesday.

The tour of the Wixom plant was one phase of a tightly kept secret 10 day exchange of information with the Ford Motor Company.

Russian officials also toured the Ford Manufacturing Development Center in Redford Township, the Reliability and Safety Center in Dearborn, The Michigan Casting Center in Flat Rock, the Auto Emissions Laboratory and Transmission Plant in Livonia, and the Woodhaven Stamping Plant.

The Russian's visit was an outgrowth of Henry Ford II's nine day tour of Soviet manufacturing complexes in April of 1970. A Ford spokesman indicated that the visit was entirely a private venture and the United States Department was not involved in its planning, although they were aware of the venture.

Detroit Pact Possible

Novi Seeks New Water Lines

Negotiations with the City of Detroit to bring water to Novi will get underway soon as the council Monday approved the Detroit Water Survey prepared by Johnson and Anderson, the city's engineering firm.

Presently, only a small portion of Novi - the southeastern corner - has access to city water lines. The purpose of the Johnson and Anderson report was to provide a master plan for supplying water to the entire city.

The first stage of the plan, as outlined by Johnson and Anderson engineer Charles Fensky, would provide water to the northeastern sector of Novi. A "feed point" into the Detroit water system would be established near 14 Mile and Haggerty Roads and lines would extend from that point down 14 Mile to Meadowbrook Road, down Meadowbrook to 12 Mile, down 12 Mile to Novi Road, and then down Novi to Grand River where the main would be tied in with the lines currently supplying the southeast section of the city.

Water would then be available to all residents living within those boundaries. This plan, Fensky pointed out, would supply water to the Shopping Centers, Incorporated development at the corner of 12 Mile and Novi Roads.

Cost estimate to the city for the first stage is $1,165,000. If negotiations with Detroit for its water are successful, Fensky said the plan could be implemented within a year to a year and a half.

Stage two of the plan would provide water to the rest of Novi and is more tentative.

"The second phase of the program," said Fensky, "would be developed in conjunction with developers in that area." No cost estimates exist and implementation of the second phase would take place within a five to ten year period.

The ability of the city of Novi to supply water to its northern portion has been a point of much discussion. Primary ramifications of the Johnson and Anderson study, if negotiations with Detroit are successful, will be to speed development in the northern part of the city.

In addition, one of the major contentions of Novi Township officials in their fight against the city's annexation proceedings is that the city would be unable to supply city services, such as water, to much of the land slated for annexation. Again, if implementation of the Johnson and Anderson plan takes place, that argument would no longer be valid.

In a matter related to the city's present inability to provide water to its northern sector, councilman Edwin Presnell leveled charges that the Walled Lake city council was guilty of "favoritism" and that certain Novi councilmen were "blind and naive."

His charges were made in regard to a request by developers Kaufman and Broad to enter into an agreement with the city of Walled Lake to supply water to their development of the former Buffmeyer property.

Previously, the Novi council had agreed to allow developers with projects in the northern part of the city to go to Walled Lake for their water until such time that Novi was in a position to supply the water.

Although the council has already allowed some developers to go to Walled Lake for their water, councilman Presnell was opposed to approving the Kaufman and Broad request.

"It seems like the Walled Lake council is showing favoritism to certain developers and not to others," he said. "Gill Homes applied for Walled Lake water over a year ago and they still haven't received permission. I don't believe in this type of hogwash. If we don't do it for one developer, we shouldn't do it for any."

Early 'Park' Use Seen

Formalization of sale-purchase by Detroit and the state is expected to follow shortly.

With that purchase the facility will become the first state park in Wayne County — the 77th in Michigan.

It undoubtedly will be named Maybury State Park, he said.

It will be the first of its kind in Michigan, perhaps unlike any other in the United States, emphasizing, according to Milstein, human resources instead of natural resources.

Plans call for 515 acres to be developed for indoor-outdoor activities, with approximately 350 acres left in its natural state.

Specifically, the DNR plans to provide year-round, day and night activities for the general citizenry as well as for the underprivileged, the handicapped and for senior citizens.

It will be primarily an urban park with supervised activities.

A major fieldhouse is envisioned, covering some four acres and costing approximately $5 million.

An additional $2 million is planned for other park developments.

Thirty acres will be reserved as a picnic area, 75-acres for a par-three golf course.

Also planned are camping grounds, winter sports facilities, a day camp, a living farm, walking, biking and nature trails, an ice rink, swimming and diving pool, workshops, basketball court, tennis, baseball and softball facilities.

The "living farm" will feature farm animals that children may see and touch as well as gardens.

One of the hiking trails will be developed especially for the blind.

Instructions in camping procedures, fishing and boating very likely will be provided. Similarly, instructions are to be an integral part of the golf course.

Present plans call for the demolition of existing buildings on the premises. Cost of this work has been estimated at $500,000.

Long range plans include acquisition of some adjacent lands to the present Maybury site, although Milstein said it would be premature to pinpoint their location.

It was disclosed earlier that the main entrance to the park would be off Eight Mile Road. Presently, the main entrance to the facility, located between Seven and Eight Mile roads and west of Beck Road, is off Seven Mile.

Eventual widening of Eight Mile Road has been discussed by state and county officials.

It has been estimated that the park would employ at least 100 persons, including naturalists, physical education instructors, maintenance and security personnel.

Law Wives Sponsor Auction

Area residents are invited to attend an art auction and exhibit being sponsored by the Wayne State University Law Wives Sunday, December 12, at Congregation Beth Abraham in Birmingham.

Mrs. James R. Deamud of Novi, corresponding secretary for the club, explains that it is an organization of wives of Wayne State law students which holds three money raising events a year to raise funds for scholarships for married law students.

Chairman for the project is Mrs. Richard Heikkinen, who is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, Jr., of Northville. She also is the niece of the Paul Beards.

A champagne preview from 7 to 8 p.m. December 12 will precede the auction at 8 p.m. A door prize is planned. Donation for the benefit is $1.

Coordinated by Fred Grossman of the Gallery Art Center in Berkley, the show will include works of such world-renowned artists as Mercier, Hibel, Dali, Miro, Lebadang, Boulanger, Moscovitz, Baskin and others.

Testimony Indicates Torture

Murder Exam Recessed

After three days of testimony describing the brutal murder of a Flint girl in northern Livingston County, the preliminary examination of Mrs. Janet Musser, 17, and Raymond (Roy) Humbel, 22, was recessed until January 3.

Mrs. Musser and Humbel are charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Kathleen Ann Gilbert, which, according to testimony, about 12 persons witnessed or took part in.

District Court Judge Richard Robinson called a recess Friday afternoon after defense attorneys Carl Schoemer of Brighton and Donald Wascha of Flint requested transcripts of the examination so arguments could be prepared as why the two defendants should not be bound over to circuit court for trial.

Chief witness for the prosecution was 17-year-old Thomas D. Hammond of Flint, who was granted immunity from prosecution in connection with the murder. He was accompanied by his attorney, Terrance Sheehan of Flint.

In addition, a taped statement from Mrs. Musser taken at the Flint post of the Michigan State Police on November 5 was played in which she said she stayed with Humbel in the cabin when he shot Miss Gilbert.

Hammond testified and underwent cross examination for one and one-half days during the examination, describing how Miss Gilbert was taken to a log cabin near Bennett Lake, stripped, tied with fishing line to floor joists in the cabin, beaten, whipped, urinated upon and shot.

The 17-year-old explained that the abandoned cabin was the clubhouse of a Flint group called the Satanical Angels, and the night of October 19, when Miss Gilbert was murdered, was the first time he had been to the cabin.

He testified he had known something was going to happen to Miss Gilbert before he and David Louis Shaw, 18, picked her up at her house. Hammond said when he, Shaw and Miss Gilbert left for the cabin about 6 p. m., —Dale Shaw, 14, a 15-year-old boy named Jim, and Vickie Stone, 16, (Mrs. Musser's sister) were also in the vehicle.

On the way to the cabin, Hammond said, Miss Gilbert said she did not want to go and attempted to slash her arm with a piece of plastic, but it was taken away from her. Subsequently, she attempted to jump out the window and out the door of the car, but was stopped, Hammond testified.

He said he had no idea she would be murdered until after he heard the shot from outside the cabin. He explained he had been told by a person nicknamed "Animal" that Miss Gilbert was to be gang-raped.

Supposedly, Miss Gilbert set up a gang-rape of a 16-year-old girl several days before in which allegedly at least 25 males participated.

The taped interview with Mrs. Musser was played only after a lengthy recess in which Schoemer, her attorney, heard the tape outside of court. The court-appointed lawyer objected to the tape being played in court because he claimed it violated his client's constitutional rights.

Mrs. Musser had indicated at the beginning of the tape that she wanted an attorney but would talk to the police officers without one. The taped testimony was taken by Detective Sergeant Vincent Demsky of the Brighton post and Detective Sergeant George Schloegl of the Flint post.

Mrs. Musser said on the tape that Humbel did not plan to murder Miss Gilbert. Instead, he was just going "to beat her up," she said.

The defendant said in the interview that Humbel wanted to get even with Miss Gilbert for allegedly giving him venereal disease and "having some guys after him."

After they arrived on the scene, she said, Humbel told her Miss Gilbert would have to be killed and Mrs. Musser said she agreed because she was thinking of her child.

She explained how she held Miss Gilbert while Humbel stripped her. She said she, Humbel and Louis Shaw each hit Miss Gilbert at least once. Mrs. Musser explained on tape that she was angry with Miss Gilbert for trying to steal Humbel's affections from her. Eventually, Humbel ordered everyone out of the cabin, but Mrs. Musser said in the taped interview "I told him I wasn't leaving because I loved him."

She said that Humbel shot Miss Gilbert, then slit her throat with a knife. She said the knife belonged to Humbel, but it had fallen out of her Levi jacket on a road somewhere "up North."

She testified on tape that Miss Gilbert's body was then carried down to the swamp but she wasn't dead. She said Humbel stabbed her in the heart and either Jim or Thomas Hammond slit her throat, but she didn't know which one.

Hammond testified the day before that he and two others, —Jim and Floyd Raymond Rickman, 17, helped carry the body down to the swamp, with Humbel leading the way with a flashlight.

He testified he had one of Miss Gilbert's arms when she grabbed his hand. He then said he dropped her and started walking back to the cabin but Humbel ordered him to return.

The 17-year-old witness explained that Humbel was examining the body with a flashlight when Miss Gilbert started kicking and swinging her arms.

He said Humbel then stomped on her heart and stabbed her in the chest. Then Humbel and the 15-year-old kicked her in the head.

Hammond explained he then saw Humbel pass the knife to the 15-year-old and told him to cut her throat, which he said he then did.

Mrs. Musser said in the taped interview that Humbel had threatened to kill her or anyone else who told about the incident.

She said in the interview there were 12 people allegedly in the area during the slaying. These included herself, Humbel, Vickie Stone, Lester Stone, 15, (her brother), David Louis Shaw, 18, Dale Shaw, 14, Donald Bentley, 17, Hammond, Jim, 15, Floyd Raymond Rickman, 17, a person nicknamed Uncle Billy and Dallas Freeman, 30.

ON WAY TO COURT—Handcuffed to a jail matron and a sheriff's deputy, accused murderers Raymond Humbel and Mrs. Janet Musser (left) begin the short walk from the county jail to the Courthouse Annex for the beginning of the preliminary examination. After three days of testimony, the examination was recessed until January 3.

Masque Players Plan Film Treats for Kids

The "Ostrich's Christmas Party," a special film and puppet program for elementary school children, is being presented by the Masque Players, Schoolcraft College drama club, on two Saturdays, December 4 and 11, in the college liberal arts theater at 18600 Haggerty Road.

On each Saturday the showings are at 10 a. m. , 1 and 3 p. m.

Since seating capacity is limited, only enough tickets will be sold to fill the theater. They are on sale at the college bookstore and will be at the door. For ticket information and reservations call 591-6400, extension 206, between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. week days. Tickets are 50 cents.

Two movies for children,

"Pied Piper of Now!" and "Dragon's Bread," are the first attempt in film production of the Masque Players who are aiming their work at a potential audience of young people.

One film is a modified form of the story of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. It deals with the story of a boy, played by Bryan Dumsick of Livonia, who longs for a pet of his own. In the film the boy encounters dogs, cats and mice, but all seem to elude him until finally his father sees that he has a pet of his own.

Cynthia Price of Livonia, also appears in the film. Parents are played by Sharon Milligan of Plymouth and Robert Budesick of Detroit. The second film, "Dragon's Bread," an all-puppet movie, teaches a lesson about brotherhood. The story is about a princess who is captured by a dragon and then is saved by a child when adults fail.

Ralph Kelley, English and theater instructor, directed the productions. Len Stone was in charge of photography.

The Masque Players are extending a special invitation to all boys and girls in kindergarten through sixth grades to attend the program. As an added treat, they have arranged for Santa Claus to put in a special holiday appearance and present candy canes to all children in attendance.

Prisoners To Receive 'Furloughs'

Women inmates at Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) will be able to go home on 48-hour "furloughs" beginning Friday, December 10.

To qualify for the new program, women must have less than six months to serve on a sentence, have a good behavior record and have been sentenced to DeHoCo by the State of Michigan, according to Gus Harrison, director of the State Department of Corrections.

The program is not available to county or city prisoners, he explained. "We decided with 'fem lib' getting stronger, we'd better institute the program," Harrison commented. The program has been available for male prisoners the past year and had "good success," he added.

The women's division of DeHoCo, located on the north side of Five Mile Road in Northville Township, is the only prison facility for women in Michigan.

Winter Concerts Scheduled

The choirs of Schoolcraft College will perform Winter Concerts the evenings of Friday and Saturday, December 3 and 4.

Director Bradley Bloom has announced the first will feature the Symphonic Choir (community singers) and pianist Donald Morelock. The program includes Mozart's "Piano Concerto Number 20 in D Minor", and Bach's "Magnificat".

Morelock is a member of the Schoolcraft staff. He teaches private and class piano and music literature. The concerto he will play is described as the most dramatic of all the Mozart piano concertos.

The Symphonic Choir presentation of the "Magnificat" will be accompanied by members of the Schoolcraft Wind Ensemble and instrumentalists from the community. Soloists, all members of the choir, are Judy Slade, Rosemary DiDomizio, Robert Cassidy and James Graham.

The text deals with Mary's prayer of praise for being chosen to be the mother of Christ. The "Magnificat" is one of the greats in choral literature and has tremendous appeal for all ages.

The Schoolcraft Chorale and Madrigal Singers (college students) under Director Bloom will be in concert on Saturday night.

Their program includes "The Peaceable Kingdom" by Randall Thompson, madrigals, spirituals, and selections from "West Side Story".

The Chorale is a choir of select Schoolcraft students and the Madrigal Singers are members of the chorale.

Both concerts begin at 8 p.m. in the Auxiliary Gymnasium in the Physical Education Building. Both are free and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

Plan 'Career' Night

With the thought that a student's future depends upon planning with an early beginning, the Parent-Teacher-Student Association of Walled Lake Central and Western High Schools will sponsor a Careers Night to be held at Western High School on December 6 from 7:30 until 9:30.

The night will be organized into three, 30-minute sessions where students and their parents will be able to hear first hand information from men and women who are actively employed in occupations that the students may wish to explore. A question and answer session will follow each speaker.

More than 60 occupations will be represented at the program including conservation, law enforcement, medicine, social work, drafting, tool and die and various apprentice programs.

Some of the businesses represented during the evening will include the J. L. Hudson Company, National Bank of Detroit, Michigan Bell Telephone, Community National Bank, Parke-Davis and Company and local businesses such as Walled Lake Pharmacy, Watkins Flowers, Michigan Tractor and Ecco Tool Company.

All area students in grades 7-12 and their parents are invited to attend the sessions.

Novi Newcomers

Again, just a note of reminder that this group is interested in meeting those who are new to Novi within the last five years and who are interested in meeting their neighbors and making new friends in the area.

The Arts and Crafts group had a very enjoyable time with Lee Dean of the Brookview Subdivision in Livonia at a recent luncheon meeting when she demonstrated some craft ideas. They plan next to meet with Mrs. Barb Williams on Meadowbrook Road and will be working on their pinecone wreaths on Wednesday, December 8.

The Theatre group needs to know as soon as possible those wishing reservations to attend the Hillberry Theatre on December 10 to see "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead". Cost is $2.50, and plans should be made with Dianne Rollands at 349-7646 after 5 p.m.

The Card Club has weekly bridge meetings at different homes. However, club spokesmen would also like to hear from anyone interested in playing other games such as "Pinochle" and "Five Hundred" either in a day time group or an evening group. For further information on this call Barb Williams at 349-0269.

Novi Rebekah Lodge Regular Lodge Meeting will be on December 9 - not on December 2, and this will be an important meeting as it is election of officers.

On November 22, District 6 had visitation at Berkley Lodge in Berkley.

The Rebekah Club will have its Christmas party on December 6 at the Rebekah Hall on Novi Road. This will be a potluck dinner with gift exchange. The committee in charge will be Irene Wendland, Frances Denton and Hildred Hunt.

Wixom Newsbeat

By NANCY DINGELDEY

It sure was nice of the weatherman to wait until Monday to dump all that white, slushy stuff on us. Since the Dingeldeys drove to Chicago to spend the holidays with our relatives, snow would have made the journey somewhat miserable. At least we got back home safe and sound and hope that all the other friends and neighbors in Wixom made it home safely before the snow came.

As it was, we had dry, clear pavement all the way there and back which does much for the sanity of the driver. We did have a delightful time.

Probably the most enjoyable evening was that spent at "Pheasant Run" in St. Charles, Illinois. A little ingenuity (and money) made an old farm into an exciting area housing three restaurants, indoor-outdoor swimming pool, motel, convention area, shops and a theatre-restaurant. We had dinner, watched a light romantic comedy starring Noel Harrison and afterwards strolled down "Bourbon Street." A night club atmosphere created in the old barn. The floor of the barn is completely bricked creating a "street" and "sidewalks" complete with enchanting stores.

A Dixie-land band blared away from a balcony above street level while the audience sat at little tables in the "street" below. An occasional mellow tune brought couples to the sidewalks to dance.

So, if you ever make it to Chicago, this is one place to put on the agenda.

This is the weekend to get some Christmas shopping done and you can easily pick up some "rare" and different goodies for those lucky people on your holiday lists. One place to go is the "Unique Boutique" a Christmas Bazaar this Saturday. It will be open from 10 in the morning until 7 and hopefully, there will be items there to please everyone. Most all the talent comes from Wixom gals and a portion of the proceeds will go to the Wixom Goodfellow.

And if one bazaar in a weekend isn't enough, drive down Loon Lake Road on Sunday afternoon and join the one at the Finn Camp Club. Their bazaar will be from 1 to 6 p.m. and the ladies will be offering another wide variety of lovely gift items and Christmas decorations.

It will be well worth your time to stop at both these bazaars - hope to see you.

A busy, busy week in Wixom Thursday and Friday night, the Performing Arts Department of Walled Lake Western will present "Miracle Worker" - the story of Helen Keller.

The kids really put their heart and soul into everything connected with their plays and this one is no exception. I've heard them rehearsing and they really sound great. Definitely a great evening for the whole family - do try to attend.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. at the Western Auditorium. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Any high school student would be happy to sell you a ticket. Tickets also will be available at the door.

Bright pieces of news this week David Marshall has been released from the hospital and is now at home recuperating. He'd still be cheered by a happy greeting to speed the time along while he's laid up. We're all pulling for you, Dave - get well soon.

News has leaked from the General Store that our happy proprietors probably won't be hanging up their aprons until at least Christmas or possibly after the New Year. For those of us wearing "sad" buttons that's good news. However, they haven't given up the idea of not leaving so buttons and bumper stickers are still in order. By the way, you'll be able to find them at the bazaar this Saturday.

Art Cronin is coming along well at Botsford Hospital but he will be remaining there for a time.

The Police Department paid Art a call last for a very special reason. Art had a presentation to make to them which meant a great deal to him personally. Since he was unable to get to them, they went to him.

Art is treasurer of the VFW and it was, with great pride, that Art presented the Police Department with a check for $50 towards the newly formed Police Community Fund.

As Chief George VonBehren explained, it is an on-going fund to be used for any Police-Community activities held during the year. Although mainly aimed at the youth of Wixom, there are many activities planned for the community as a whole and monies from the fund would be used to defray expenses.

Mayor Willis has donated $100 to the fund, so it's on its way.

Good luck to the Police Department in their endeavors.

For you Moms and Dads who don't have a first grader at Wixom Elementary you really missed the "play of the season."

The three first grade rooms presented "Through the Eyes of the Pilgrim Children" just before Thanksgiving. They were really cute, complete with "ad libs." One little fellow who carried a sign across the stage was so intent on what he was doing that he walked right off the stage.

Fortunately, he wasn't hurt and in the true spirit of the stage, he crawled back and finished his part.

On Wednesday, all the first grade kids gathered again for a Thanksgiving feast which they helped prepare. On the menu was chicken stew, squash, cranberries, corn meal bread and pumpkin custard. Great fun and all in keeping with the Tradition of Thanksgiving.

Looking around the neighborhoods we find lots of people already have their Christmas displays hooked up and twinkling away. Just another of those reminders that Christmas isn't too far off. Where has the time gone? Seems like I just packed all that stuff away. As usual, we aren't among the "early bird" group so we can look forward to decorating in the snow. C'est la vie!

EBERT FUNERAL HOME
404 W. MAIN STREET NORTHVILLE, MICH.

Dear friends,
Yes, there is such a thing as an 'expensive' funeral. Any funeral is expensive if the cost means undue hardship to those who survive.

Many clients have talked this matter over with us frankly and they have found that the problem can be solved without detracting from their natural desire to pay a fitting tribute. Complete information is yours for the asking.

Respectfully,

Charge Youth in Assault, Theft

In Northville

A Novi youth will stand trial on charges of aggravated assault December 14 stemming from a simple larceny Thanksgiving Day at Hamlet Foods, 1051 Nov Road.

Robert D. Otlewski, 19, of 24759 Glenda Avenue pled "not guilty" when arraigned on the charge of aggravated assault Friday in 35th District Court. He pled "guilty" to the charges of simple larceny and is awaiting sentencing on the charge, court officials said.

According to police reports, a clerk at Hamlet saw Otlewski leave the store with a fifth of wine hidden in his shirt.

Salim Abraham, owner of Hamlet, chased the youth across Novi Road where John McGuire, owner of Guernsey Farms, Dairy, 21300 Novi Road, joined in the chase.

Police said the youth dropped the bottle of wine and hid in a trash bin behind the Pepper Tree Restaurant. When the men tried to apprehend Otlewski, a scuffle broke out and Abraham received a deep gash on his hand.

Abraham was taken to St. Mary hospital where 10 stitches were required to close the wound.

Otlewski is free on $1,000 bond awaiting trial on aggravated assault and sentencing on simple larceny.

Two Northville juveniles have been released to custody of their parents pending investigation of the theft of a wallet Saturday.

According to police, one youth entered B&J Restaurant, 126 East Main Street, about 1 p.m. and asked to use the telephone. A short time later a waitress noticed her wallet was missing from her purse which she had left near the telephone.

The girl told police another youth returned the wallet to her the same day. Police apprehended both youths and the case remains open pending further investigation.

ding investigation by the juvenile officer.

Two Northville residents reported the theft of stereo tape decks and tapes from their cars this week.

Clayton E. Walker of 539 Rouge reported the theft to police Saturday and Margaret Dinsor of 20311 Lexington Boulevard reported the theft Sunday.

Both said the thefts occurred while their cars were parked at their homes.

In Township

Township police captured two women escapees from the Detroit House of Correction Monday night.

According to reports, the two were attempting to enter a cottage at Our Lady of Providence school, 16115 Beck Road, about 8:30 p.m.

When police arrived at the school, the women ran south on Beck Road where they were apprehended and turned over to DeHoCo guards.

November 26 - 4:55 p.m., Highland Lakes, brush fire.

COURT NEWS

A Detroit woman has been sentenced to one and one-half to five years in Detroit House of Correction after she was found guilty of attempted uttering and publishing (forged check).

Michelle M. Steffen was sentenced November 18 before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman. A plea under the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act was denied, court officials said. The sentence carried no recommendation for parole.

Miss Steffen was arrested by city police at Northville Downs on July 29.

In 35th District Court on November 23, two men arrested by city police November 10 were fined after being found guilty of attempted uttering and publishing (forged check).

they pled guilty to charges of drunkenness.

They are Carlton Clay of Detroit, fined $64, and Donald W. Martin of Rogers Street, fined $54.

In Novi

A noisy exhaust system led to the arrest last week of a man wanted by the Michigan State Police for armed robbery and parole violation.

Arrested was Brent Duane Hosmer, 22, who lives at the T.P. Riding Stables, 49000 11 Mile Road.

Hosmer was apprehended when officers stopped his 1964 Chevrolet Corvair to issue a citation for driving with an excessively loud exhaust system. Hosmer was unable to produce either an operator's license or vehicle registration at that time and was consequently placed under arrest for driving without a license, police said.

A subsequent check of the registration numbers on the Corvair revealed that the car had been stolen from Detroit. Further investigation revealed that Hosmer was wanted for parole violation from the Detroit House of Correction and that the Michigan State Police at the Flint post held a felony warrant for Hosmer's arrest on charges of armed robbery.

Hosmer will be arraigned before the 52nd District Court for possession of a stolen automobile.

Charges of malicious destruction of property have been lodged against a Novi High School student, Ronald Campbell, 17, of 41911 Quince.

Charges stem from damage done to a high school teacher's car Friday, November 19, while it was parked in the school lot.

According to police reports, the automobile was pelted with approximately two dozen eggs and the hood was damaged by someone jumping up and down on it.

Investigation of the incident led police to three students who were called in for questioning. The three were Campbell, Dicron Tafrahan, 17, 46135 Grand River, and Stan Jackson, 18, 47201 Glamorgan.

Tafrahan and Jackson, police report, admitted to throwing the eggs and were released. Campbell, who allegedly was responsible for the damage done to the hood, was charged with malicious destruction of property.

Twelve juveniles, the authorities as Novi detectives majority of them 14 years old and Novi residents, were released to their parents last week after having been charged with being delinquent minors.

According to police reports, detectives were called to investigate a large teen-age gathering in a mobile home at 25635 Monroe in the Highland Hills Mobile Home Court.

Officers went to the address and requested entry from the teen-age host at that location, but were initially refused. During a five minute discussion with the host, officers reported hearing many vulgarities about police and smelling a strong odor of marijuana coming from inside the trailer.

When entry was finally granted by the host, police found 26 youths at the party. Confiscated were dozens of bottles of alcohol, suspected marijuana, and narcotics paraphernalia.

Further investigation of the matter will be made by the Novi Police Department, detectives report.

Two Detroit men — Henry Howard, 26, and Robert Eubank, 26 — have admitted to more than 240 breaking and enterings stretching from Southfield to Farmington to Novi.

Arrest of the pair stemmed from a breaking and entering of the McLean residence at 46800 11 Mile Road. Investigating officers found large amounts of blood apparently caused by the breaking of a window to gain admittance.

Detectives proceeded to check doctor's offices and hospitals in the area — a procedure which led to the apprehension of Howard and Eubank. The pair admitted to 240 burglaries, saying they were seeking ways to augment their income.

They are currently lodged in the Oakland County Jail awaiting examination.

A juvenile living in the Walled Lake area of Novi has been turned over to authorities as Novi detectives have solved a number of larcenies in the Novi-Walled Lake area.

According to police reports, detectives went to the juveniles' home on another matter. At that time the father turned over a number of items found to have been stolen from homes in Walled Lake and Novi. Tape cartridges, stereo tape players, jewelry, and radios were some of the items found by police.

The find led to a number of other juveniles who were implicated in the larcenies.

Novi Teacher Contract Inked

just can't understand their thinking. Teachers are getting less under this contract than the one we originally agreed to and still they complain.

"Look, nearly half the school year is over and teachers will be paid at the new rate only from November 15. They saved money because we can't receive retroactive pay; they've saved money because they didn't have to pay dental care or life insurance for those first months.

"If they run short on their budget it isn't the teachers' fault — nor is it the taxpayers' fault. The taxpayers approved their five mills — but the board, not the teachers or the taxpayers, decided not to levy it."

Superintendent Thomas Dale recommended approval of the contract, arguing that it would not force any major cutbacks in other areas nor result in deficit financing as defined by the State Department of Education.

He predicted no shortage by the end of the fiscal year.

Secretary Ray Warren voted for the contract based on the superintendents budget analysis and recommendation.

Trustee Mrs. Sharon Pelchat, in defense of her support of the contract, said she is more concerned about "deficit education" than a deficit budget.

Simmons warned fellow board members that they — not he nor the other two dissenting voters — will have to take the responsibility of a deficit budget and answer to angry parents who complain of cutbacks elsewhere in the budget.

While Dale argued that the teacher-pupil ratio is no better today than last year and no major cutbacks are foreseen, Trustee Ziegler reminded him and fellow board members that recommendations of the instructional committee for additional personnel will be impossible in light of the teachers' salary increase.

Approved along with the contract was a catch-all clause providing that should any part of the contract later be found violative by the pay board of the Cost of Living Council, the contract is to be modified automatically without changing the remaining terms of the contract.

Furthermore, it provides that should such violation be found after teachers have received increased wages, they must refund excess wages either immediately in full or in as many nearly equal installments as practicable during the remainder of the school year.

It can be flooded in the winter to provide an ice skating area. Two "magic squares" will be constructed, it was indicated by Parks and Recreation Chairman Alcalá. One will be at the Orchard Hills Elementary School and the other will be at the Novi City Park.

With Township Road Pact Acknowledged

Gunnar D. Stromberg, supervisor, has received for the Township of Northville a certificate of acknowledgment from the Inter-County Highway Commission of Southeastern Michigan.

The certificate declared township's approval of the I-C.H.C. Plan and Right-of-Way Requirements. Northville Township is one of an increasing number of local units of government who are cooperatively planning a regional highway system.

Through the Inter-County Highway planning, southeastern Michigan will have a continuous and uninterrupted highway system and local communities will still retain their individual integrity through the cooperative program.

Since the start of 1970 the Inter-County Highway

— 36.29 mills for Northville public schools, or $1,395,573.10;
— 32.84 mills for Plymouth public schools, which yields $169,141.59.

In the city the "winter tax" levy is slightly less than the township because it does not include the township tax levy of 1.01 mills (the city levies its 10.3 mill levy for operating city government in the summer.)

While the millage rates for schools, the county and Schoolcraft college are the same in the city as the township, the increase in the equalization factor is slightly higher.

Township Minutes

Meeting convened at 8:00 p.m. by the supervisor.

Present: Stromberg, Hammond, Straub, Baldwin, Klein, Mitchell and Schaeffer.

Also present: Consultant Mosher, the press, and two visitors.

1. Northville Township Hill financing. After long discussion Mitchell moved seconded by Baldwin that the board accept the municipal building design concept as presented by architect Ralls Ayes. All it was felt that it would be necessary to get professional help to study ways and means of financing such a building and of what the costs might be to the people. The supervisor stated that he would contact the cities of Northville and Novi and Township of Plymouth in regard to the cost of building and maintaining a fire department. Also he would determine if Price Kimbrough might be willing to act for us as financial consultants when the proper time comes.

2. Emergency Employment Act. During man for D.P.W. Mr. Stromberg stated that to qualify under the act we should hire a man for this job who was a resident of the township presently unemployed and a war veteran. He then asked Mr. Mosher if he would elaborate a little on the need of such a person in the Water & Sewer Department and what the job would entail. Mosher said that our Water and Sewer Department is rapidly becoming big business and he would predict that by the end of 1972 we would need two men rather than just the one that is being considered now. Our new extensive water line system serving Northville State Hospital and the eastern half of the township will be complete and in operation by the first of 1972. Pressure valves throughout the township need regular attention. Sewage pumping stations need daily checks, fire hydrants need constant supervision and maintenance meters have to be read and installed and maintained and so on. The township should hire a man who will learn the system and be knowledgeable about it. However, we will also need to retain our present contractor with his heavy equipment to do certain jobs for us. The supervisor expects that the new man can be trained by the local contractor who has been doing the work by our engineers, and by manufacturer's agents, plus on the job learning of course. Baldwin moved, seconded by Straub, that the supervisor be authorized to employ a man for the above mentioned D.P.W. work. Ayes. All.

3. Senior Citizens Housing. Mr. Straub said that he has felt for

Given a journalism assignment what better way to practice reporting than to write about your husband.

That's the position of Amy Conley, a journalism student at Michigan State University, who wrote about her husband Edgar, also an MSU student. He is the son of Mrs. Edgar A. Conley of 745 Grandview.

Amy sent her completed assignment to The Record. It notes that her husband, a graduate of Schoolcraft College, will receive his bachelor of science degree in engineering at MSU in December.

Lumberjack Cuts Forest of Laughter

It's a hilarious vehicle for tying together the storyline that begins in Montana, skips to Sante Fe and then makes the long, adventurous trip north to Mt. McKinley.

Unlike many professionals, Don and Dennis do not shoot their films to a script. Instead, they start with an idea, research the historical significance of the places they will visit, and then set off with their cameras. The script comes later, after the film is put together. This procedure permits them to change and improve their narrations even while touring.

Mountain West Trails, for example, is still undergoing changes, says Don, noting that Dennis is giving the film his own personal touch, making changes, too, and probably panning his brother just as Don is doing.

The Cooper humor is natural, alive on and off the stage. Around the breakfast table at the Webber home, Don's still wiping the sleep out of his eyes and already making people laugh without really trying.

It's this naturalness—the conversational humor that reaches out from the television screen or stage and tickles funny bones in the living room or auditorium—that makes the Coopers unique in the profession. Only their close friend, Stan Midgley—"the guy with the bike"—comes close to their style.

Admittedly professionally not polished photographers ("but we're getting better"), the Cooper brothers shoot six times more film than is finally used in one of their productions. Weather conditions, technical inexperience, and maybe even a misplaced roll of film frequently mars what otherwise might have been a great sequence, says Don.

Few of the millions who view the colorful, breathtaking films would agree.

But whatever technical excellence their films might lack is more than compensated for by humor, which Don says audiences everywhere are demanding.

Because he believes audiences are "tired of being educated," he carefully minimizes the "lecture". A conservationist who deplors the waste of the nation's forests ("the kind that all but wiped out the logging industry in Michigan"), he gets his story across in subtle film sequences and words without boring his viewers.

His latest film, for example, shows a reforestation sequence that is educational but nevertheless interesting enough to easily hold his audience.

The funny man finds nothing incongruous with his serious insistence upon forest conservation and his lumbering background. Having been a lumberjack (who is still getting in some licks now and then with the cross-cut), he explains that he and others like him are more personally aware "why our forests mean so much to our country."

Not even the rolling log that smashed into his leg last year has dented his love for the forests.

And why should it? After all, it was old age—not the log—that did the damage, brother Dennis explained awhile back, noting that when they peeled the bark off the log it was just big enough to pick the teeth of an average size lumberman.

Bannan Foresaw Problems With Prisoners' Transfer

"For once I guess I was a prophet," commented Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) Superintendent W.H. Bannan as the last of the 40 women prisoners were transferred back to Wayne County Jail Saturday.

To ease crowded county jail conditions and allow for remodeling of the facility, approximately 40 women and 60 men were transferred to DeHoCo on November 1. The women's division is located on Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

"I fought the thing (transfer of prisoners) for two years," Bannan said. "The county jail was in bad shape and the city (Detroit owns DeHoCo) thought this would help. 'I didn't think it would work', he explained.

The county prisoners transferred to DeHoCo are awaiting trial while the inmates normally housed at DeHoCo are serving sentences.

While Bannan said there has been no problem with the county's male prisoners who are still at DeHoCo, it was a different story with the women and led to the women being sent back to the county jail in Detroit.

Prison matrons objected to the transfer, claiming a work overload, prisoners escaped and several Northville Township residents voiced concern over security measures at DeHoCo.

"Mainly we had problems with escapes," Bannan explained. "Eight county prisoners and 2 inmates from DeHoCo left in two escapes. All the women, except one of our inmates, were recovered," he noted. During the last escape, the prisoners tied up three matrons "and that was it," Bannan said. "We sent them all back."

Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg said he received a few complaints from residents concerning the transfer of prisoners.

"Most said they were concerned about the type of prisoners escaping. The residents were leery but not really scared," Stromberg commented.

While at DeHoCo, the county prisoners were housed in a separate cottage and kept apart from the other inmates, Bannan explained. "We didn't pay much attention to them—only feeding," he said.

"But people waiting for trial, as the county prisoners are, are much different from those already sentenced," Bannan reported. "Once a person has been sentenced, he knows how much time he has to serve. The county prisoners don't."

Viewing the prisoner transfers in and out of DeHoCo, the superintendent said they "had no effect on our women. Things are pretty quiet now and we can handle the situation."

Bannan acknowledged that it has been proposed the state take over the women's division and the county assume responsibilities for the men's division, but rumors to that effect "have been going on for a long time."

"Personally, I feel it should be done," he said. "The city (Detroit) has less than 10 percent of the prisoners out here and they're losing money every year."

Gus Harrison, director of the State Department of Corrections, told this newspaper there are "plans to build a new women's institution in Michigan but no appropriations have been made for that purpose."

Presently, DeHoCo is the only prison facility for women in the state.

"There was some talk a few weeks ago (about the state buying DeHoCo) but we've remained neutral," Harrison said. "A lot would depend upon the conditions of the deal."

The director explained there are some officials of the state who feel a new facility could be built for the same amount of money it would cost to purchase and remodel DeHoCo.

"Acquiring DeHoCo is not included in our long-range plans," Harrison noted.

Hospital Plans Told

FIVE YEARS AGO...

Attempts to gain a new north-south route through the City of Northville have picked up support from Jack McDonald, past chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and a candidate for Congress. One of the "most economical" routes under consideration by the city council parallels the west side of the C&O railroad tracks from Novi Road to Griswold.

A proposal to hold the senior prom at Botsford Inn in Redford was all but scuttled Monday evening as the board of education heard student-parent arguments in favor of the location. Instead of turning down the location, the board asked representatives of the class to review needs and desires and return with some alternate proposals.

A $50,000 price tag placed by Thompson-Brown on a 10-acre elementary school site offered Northville encountered a cool reception from the board of education.

Proceeding with caution, the Novi Village council turned its attention to a recurring basic problem Monday night—What's the best method of sewer assessment? By lot or by foot?

Representatives of the federal anti-poverty organization are expected to establish temporary offices in the Novi Township Hall soon, Supervisor Hadley Bachert said this week.

Karen Peterson was named runner-up in the Metropolitan Detroit Sweetest Sixteen Smile contest, while 11 other area contestants voted her "Miss Congeniality" in contest finals held at the Detroit Press Club.

Whatever steps Novi decides to take to protect its boundaries, it ought to stay together as a single unit, according to Dr. L. L. Friedland, a Wayne State University professor of political science. Dr. Friedland spoke at a board of commerce-sponsored meeting on city incorporation last Thursday.

Novi police warned about 85 hunters last week who were in violation of Novi's new hunting ordinance.

Northville city and township officials, worried the additional 2,900 sewer taps from Novi will overflow Northville's sewer interceptor line to Plymouth, met with Wayne County officials to see what could be done to block the county's proposed sale of sewer service to Novi.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

State officials this week announced tentative plans for a 2,500-bed hospital for mentally retarded children to be built south of Northville. It is hoped that construction of a $5-million first unit of the facility, to be known as Plymouth State Home, could be started in the spring.

Horseplay that caused a serious accident marred the gaiety of the Northville-Thurston homecoming football game last Friday. A 16-year-old cheerleader from Thurston suffered burns from a firecracker thrown from the stands by a Detroit youth.

Judy Junod was named queen of homecoming festivities. Serving on her court were Sandy Gotro, Barbara Mapes, Virginia Sutton and Mary Hill.

The long-standing question of consolidation of four Novi Township school districts will go before the public next Tuesday. Voters in the four districts—Novi 8, East Novi 2, Durfee and Putnam—will then decide whether to unite into a single district serving children in a 15-square mile area.

Willowbrook Community Church will open next Sunday. The Reverend Byron E. Chapman is the minister of the new church.

Novi Township Supervisor Frazer Staman has been appointed to the advisory committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, it was announced this week.

Qualified voters of Northville Village will be asked to approve two changes in the village charter at the November 5 election. The first abolishes the present one, two, three choice ballot and reverts to the regular form ballot used in other elections. The other change asked is to increase the time period between the closing date for filing candidates' petitions and the date for election.

Seek Bids For Truck

Bids are to be taken for purchase of a "suitable truck" with a snow blade attachment by the Novi Board of Education.

Superintendent Thomas Dale has been authorized to secure the bids.

The vehicle under consideration is likely to have four-wheel drive with an enclosed box to permit a dual assignment—removal of snow and transportation of equipment and supplies between schools.

Dale has recommended the purchase, pointing out that present snow removal equipment cannot "do the job" at all the district's schools.

Von Behren also referred to Wixom's industrial growth. Industrial locations, he pointed out, are usually a source of increased crime and therefore require more man hours from the police force.

In referring to the city's increase in crime from 1970 to 1971, Von Behren revealed figures that showed an increase of 35.23 percent in known offenses. Arrest statistics have not kept pace, he stated, with only a 23.4 percent increase in that area.

Concluding his presentation, Von Behren said he thought that changes were important and would benefit Wixom greatly. The council concurred unanimously.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Although it may be a subject most people would prefer to forget, winter tax notices always reveal a few interesting statistics.

And this year's batch is no exception.

Appropriately arriving as the first sting of winter, the notices include levies against property for support of schools and township and county governments.

The property taxed includes residences as well as professional, farm, commercial or industrial buildings. In addition, there's a personal property tax against inventories and equipment of any business.

Basically, the formula for levying taxes is that the millage shall be applied against an assessment constituting 50 per cent of the market value of the property.

For example: the millage rate paid by property owners in the Schoolcraft college district for support of that community college is 1.78 mills, or $1.78 per thousand dollars of state equalized valuation (SEV).

So, if your home is located in Northville township, and it is assessed at $10,000 (which means the tax assessor thinks your home is worth $20,000 on the market), you would pay a Schoolcraft college tax of 10 times $1.78, right?

Wrong. The state says Northville township assessments are low and do not represent 50 percent of the market value. So the state applies an "equalization factor" to bring all local assessments to a true 50 per cent market value.

In Northville township the factor 1.18 this year (last year it was 1.12).

So the property owner must first multiply his assessment ($10,000) by the factor (1.18) to determine the SEV of his property.

This equals $11,800. Now you multiply $11,800 times 1.78 mills, and if my multiplication is correct, the property owner with a home worth $23,600 on the market in Northville township would pay $20 annual tax to support Schoolcraft college.

The resident of the city of Northville pays the same Schoolcraft college millage. For Northville public schools, the millage rate is 36.29 (or $36.29 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, which means the property owner in the example above pays $428.22 for local school support).

Tax bills are not uniform throughout the community of Northville. For example, city residents pay their tax for local government in the summer (10.3 mills), but the township government tax (1.01 mills) is included in the winter tax notice. Also township property owners in the Plymouth school district pay a school tax of 32.84 mills, rather than 36.29. And in the Wayne county portion of the city and in Northville township the county tax rate is 7.17 mills, but it's only 5.6 mills in the Oakland county portion of the city.

More differences occur when you consider the "equalization factor". As noted above, it's 1.18 in the township. But in the Wayne county portion of the city the state says assessments must be multiplied by 1.41 to bring valuations up to the 50 per cent level.

Oakland county residents of the city must apply a factor of 1.48.

Admittedly, these so-called "interesting" statistics rapidly become confusing.

But consider these figures tabulated by City Manager Frank Ollendorff:

Of the total $29,965,068 in state equalized valuation (real and personal property) in the city of Northville...

—$3,214,477 is in the central business district, or 10.7 per cent of the total;

—$4,282,235 constitutes industrial property, of which more than $3 million is the Ford Valve Plant, a percentage of 14.3;

—$2,190,689 of the city's SEV is in outlying businesses, or 7.3 per cent of the total;

—$801,450 is utilities, or 2.7 per cent;

—and finally, Northville Downs and the owners of the track buildings, the Northville Driving Club, have property with a state equalized valuation of $2,391,610, or 8 per cent of the city's total SEV.

That adds up to the fact that 43 per cent of the city's SEV is in commercial or industrial properties.

Which means that homeowners constitute 57 per cent of the city's tax base.

Five years ago the residential area represented less than 50 per cent of the total.

This not only reveals where growth is taking place in the city of Northville, but it should give homeowners some cause to consider Governor Milliken's property tax reform package.

The inequities arise when you consider that in many school districts industrial taxbase equals as much as 75 per cent of the total.

A mill levied in the city of Northville means the homeowner picks up 57 per cent of the tab; a mill levied in a district top-heavy with industry or commercial complexes reverses the load.

Yet the children from many of these industries may attend schools in any one of a number of districts outside the industrial area.

So why shouldn't the major property tax revenues be distributed according to number of children, not numbers of buildings?

Snoopin' for A Playboy

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

As one good American to another, I must express my profound shock upon learning of the dastardly practice of one George Garver, former superintendent of the Walled Lake school system.

In case you missed the wire story out of Houston, Texas, let it be known that Dr. Garver has been exposed as a reader of Playboy Magazine!

This shocking disclosure was made by the wife of a Houston mailman who protested having to deliver the filth to Garver — the ex-Houston superintendent who previously had been fired because of a breakdown in discipline and too much progressive education in Houston schools.

Said the postman's wife in a letter to the Houston Chronicle, "A man who reads Playboy should not have a position in the schools."

Fellow Americans, give that woman three cheers and a centerspread from June, 1971

MRS. SICLOVAN

YES...

It is a privilege for any woman to make a home for her husband and family.

Clean, attractive rooms and appetizing, well-balanced meals are an essential part of this, but not the most important. It is the security and love she can give her children in a troubled, unsettled environment, the confidence and pride she instills in her husband, that also are a part of making a home.

A housewife must be an understanding, open-minded to whom the whole family can bring their Mother and Wife pleasures and disappointments. Problems may not be solved but in an honest atmosphere, they can be talked over and perhaps be seen more clearly.

Her family, under these conditions, is happy at home and will bring their friends there instead of searching for their Shangri-La in less desirable places. Her husband looks forward to the relaxation from the business world and the warmth of love and understanding he knows are waiting for him. He will bring his friends and associates home with confidence knowing he will be proud of his wife, his family and his home. The love she gives him is reflected in their personalities making them acceptable to society with strength of stature and character needed to face all situations.

The satisfaction of knowing this is more than adequate reward for any of the tedious chores that may be involved in the final accomplishment of providing a real home.

Carolyn Siclován
South Lyon Housewife

who subscribe to Playboy.

While the new group's initial target will be educators, especially superintendents, long range plans call for exposing those in other fields as well.

Barbers and hair dressers, dentists and doctors need to be watched, too. And what about the clergy?

Snoopers' members won't limit themselves to the mails or garbage cans. Close tabs will be kept on those who frequent public libraries, especially those who, like my wife, sneak into the restricted files.

All of which, quite possibly, will cause a massive cancellation of Playboy.

Which brings me to the point of all this. Just in case the good superintendents in our area are moved to avoid controversy, they may transfer their pre-paid subscriptions to my home.

Oh, yes, any back issues of April, 1969, would be much appreciated. Just be sure they are wrapped in a brown paper envelope.

Speaking for Myself

Is Homemaking A Wife's Duty?

MRS. JEROME

NO...

Unfortunately, the spirit of the Suffragettes of the 1900's got bogged down with the two o'clock feedings of the Fifties, leaving little time to debate whether or not housekeeping is a wife's duty.

The woman of the Seventies, however, has "come a long way, baby," to paraphrase a popular commercial, and she is as well educated and informed as her husband. With the advances of educational and occupational opportunities and the biological freedom granted by "The Pill," there is absolutely no justification for today's wife to spend her most productive years sitting by her electrical hearthside, while her husband pursues an exciting career.

It seems almost passeé to direct myself to the question. There can be no doubt that the wife is moving from the kitchen into the job market. And whether that move is motivated by financial necessity or choice, when the wife returns home with the husband at 5 p.m., certain essentials need tending. If any semblance of an equal distribution of work is to exist, housekeeping duties will have to be shared.

If the husband truly respects his wife as an individual he will honor her right to pursue a career. And, if he is truly secure in his own manhood, he will not let someone else's definition of masculinity keep him from the dishpan.

Retarded Need Activities, Too Pleads Mother

To the Editor:

I would like to introduce to you my son, Kevin. Kevin is brain damaged — retarded. I don't hide him in the attic or in closets. I'm not ashamed of him. As a matter of fact I'm quite proud of him, and I take him anywhere I go. He is an All-American boy. He loves people, he loves to play, he loves sports and he loves to belong.

The reason I am writing this letter is to seek assistance for all the Kevins — the special children of our community — in setting up a recreational and social program of their own right here in Northville.

I hear about all the activities that are available and sponsored for our normal children such as: little league football and baseball, cub scouts and boy scouts, brownies and girl scouts, crafts, swimming, and many more.

I am very happy to say that Kevin did play baseball last summer with the other boys on a team. He loved it and was so proud.

What does Northville have to offer for these children?

He attends school in Livonia, his Boy Scout troop is in Livonia. He attends religious classes in Farmington Township, Christmas parties are given by the Garden City Jaycees and Moose Lodge and they're taken to a Tiger baseball game by the policemen of Wayne County and to a football game by the Livonia Jaycees.

These are wonderful things and are greatly appreciated but it involves a lot of driving and time — time which is spent away from home and away from the other children.

I would like to see some of these programs for our special children right here at home — in Northville.

These children need recreation and socializing. They should learn to swim. They should have special classes at our high school pool. They should be helped to become useful, productive citizens.

Many teenagers are looking for part-time and summer jobs. Teenagers are needed for these children as:

- camp counsellors.
- to help with Scouting programs.
- as pre-school helpers
- as baby sitters.

The Mentally Retarded can be helped. They need understanding and acceptance.

I am writing this letter — not only for my son — but on behalf of all the Special Children and Adults of our community. They need you. The rewards are great — these children and adults Appreciate!!!

If anyone is interested in learning more about the problem of Mental Retardation just pick up one of the pamphlets that I will be distributing in the Northville area.

Mental retardation can strike ANY family in ANY neighborhood in ANY community. Yours too. It did strike mine. It is everybody's problem.

Sincerely yours

Wixom Chamber Guest

Senator Slated to Speak

State Senator Carl Pursell of Plymouth will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Wixom Chamber of Commerce next Wednesday (December 8) at the South-west Oakland Vocational Education Center, located on the eastern boundary of Wixom.

Pursell, who represents Wixom and other communities in Oakland and Wayne Counties, will discuss recently enacted legislation and other laws in the process of development.

Following his 1 p.m. address, questions will be invited from the audience. Afterwards, Chamber President C. A. Smith will announce his committee appointments and outline a "program" for accomplishments for the immediate future.

Members and guests are invited to attend a luncheon, preceding Senator Pursell's talk, in the school's dining room at 12:30 p.m. Those unable to attend the luncheon are invited to hear senator's address in the school's data processing room.

Concerning his presentation, Smith said, "We believe the most important item to accomplish is a central business district. Work is in progress to this end. Some parcels to be rezoned have been referred back to the planning commission and then to the council for final decision. Once this has been accomplished, work towards making the center, a reality will get underway."

High on the list of future developments, he said, is a senior citizens complex. Information is being accumulated now from various sources, such as HUD, to lay the ground work for such a development, Smith said.

Minister To Speak

Featured speaker at the dinner program of the Presbyterian Men's Club on Thursday, December 9 will be the Reverend Lloyd Brasur, pastor.

Title of his address will be "Success for Christian Living."

Dinner will be served at 6:30 in the fellowship hall of the Northville Presbyterian Church. Members, guests, or other men of the community who wish to attend are asked to call in their reservations to the church office.

A special election to confirm the grant of a gas franchise from the township board to Consumers Power Company will be held on Thursday, December 16, in the Township of Northville.

A positive vote would renew the franchise granted by the people of the area 30 years ago. Renewal is necessary to meet the requirements of the state constitution, a Consumers spokesman explained. The new franchise will

Shaves Budget Outlay

President C. Nelson Grote has detailed steps he has taken in reducing college expenditures by $204,940 for the current fiscal year.

"We have balanced our budget," Dr. Grote said, "for the first time since it was adopted last June 23." He added, "Of course, we have data now that we couldn't possibly have had then."

Dr. Grote said the imbalance was corrected without any cuts in personnel, programs, or services. He sounded a note of caution, however, that such cuts still might have to be made if retroactive pay for Phase One is ordered.

It has been estimated that the college will realize a reduction in expenditures of $84,000 from employee wage increases not permitted during the August-through-November wage and price moratorium.

"Let me make it perfectly clear that this is your money," the president said, "and we will pay it to you if it is legally possible." He continued, "if retro pay is possible, then we will have to go back and reduce expenditures by an additional $84,000. This will mean a loss of personnel, programs, or services, one or all three."

"If that happens," Dr. Grote concluded, "we'll be getting down to the 'nitty gritty' of budget adjustment." The total budget imbalance Dr. Grote and his staff have been concerned with of late amounted to $270,000. It was caused by various factors, some of which have been carried over from the previous fiscal year.

Revenue shortages for 1970-71 (income anticipated but not received) included $217,000 less from state appropriations, $76,500 less from tuition and fees, and $57,250 less from federal and state vocational funds.

One of the bright spots in current budget adjustments was a check just received for $64,000 more than the auditors anticipated this year from federal and state vocational funds. Dr. Grote said it couldn't have arrived at a better time and congratulated Dean Jon Adams, who heads Schoolcraft's division of applied science, for his efforts in obtaining the reimbursement.

but to evaluate our expenditures line for line, postage stamp for postage stamp."

In retrospect, the budget adopted last June actually had a deficit of $132,601, something they couldn't know then. This, coupled with a three percent reduction ordered by the state from Schoolcraft's current state appropriation, has resulted in a total deficit of $204,940. This has been realized by reducing expenditures by $120,000, plus the $84,000 wage savings from Phase One.

A number of printed materials were distributed at the meeting, and Dr. Grote invited employee reaction and suggestions through supervisors and directors. He said further changes could be effected by December 1. He added, though, any changes would at this point have to be "dollar-for-dollar." By this he meant restoration of any cuts would result in cuts elsewhere to maintain the now-balanced budget.

The president announced periodic review of the budget, which will take place shortly after the first of the year and again during the fourth quarter. He also announced a faculty and staff meeting for 11 a.m. December 17 in Waterman Campus Center to present the 1972-73 revenue schedule guidelines.

Gifts Sought For Patients

To the Editor:

Each year at the Season we receive inquiries from citizens of our communities asking how they may remember with Christmas gifts our indigent patients and others who may be forgotten by relatives and friends. The greater number of our patients will be at home for Christmas or relatives will bring gifts to them a few days before the holidays.

Presently our nursing staff members and our Family Care Coordinator are sharing with us names of these patients and for each, two or three of that patient's Christmas "wishes". We relay these slips, in turn, along with a letter of instruction, to each interested individual and group in our areas.

Please assure your readers

we shall welcome their letters of inquiry

Sincerely,

Novi-Northville Wrestlers Prepare for Opening Clash

Before the 1971-1972 wrestling season comes to a close, Northville's Ed McCloud and Novi's Rick Trudeau might very well catch themselves wishing their respective schools had never decided to go their separate ways four years ago.

As it stands now, both mat coaches find themselves in charge of teams that are strong in some weight classes and weak in others. Ironically, one coach's strength is the other's weakness.

Says McCloud, "We should be strong through the 155 pound class." Trudeau's strong spots are on the other end of the scale. "I expect us to be strong from 145 on up," he says.

Together, the Novi and Northville squads would present opponents with a formidable line-up all the way from the Mustang's Jimmy Watson in the 98 pound division to the Wildcats' Terry Auten in the heavyweight class.

One of the by-products of the ironic distribution of wrestling talent should be an extremely interesting meet when the two schools kick off their 1971-1972 seasons tonight (Thursday) as they face each other at 6:30 p.m. in the Novi gymnasium.

Northville is pitting their chances on four key performers - Dave Griffin, Bill Norton, Kevin Hartshorne, and John Fialon.

Of the four, Griffin has got to be rated at the very top of the list. A Wayne-Oakland league champion last year as a junior, Griffin has established himself as one of the top grapplers in the 119 pound bracket in the state of Michigan. Both as a sophomore and again as a junior, the Northville star fought his way to district championships in the state Class B tournament.

Norton, a junior, is another standout on the Northville team. As a sophomore, he notched a second place finish in the Wayne-Oakland league championships in the 126 pound class.

This year Norton is bigger and stronger and McCloud has indicated that Norton will wrestle in the 138 pound division. "He has looked extremely good in practice," said the Mustang coach. "He was good last year and this year he looks greatly improved. I'm expecting really super things from him."

Kevin Hartshorne is another Wayne-Oakland league champion returning to action for the Mustangs. He took top honors in the 105 pound weight class, but will wrestle at 118 this season, although McCloud expects him to get down to 112 before the state tournament.

The fourth key Mustang wrestler is John Fialon, who finished fourth in the league championships last year as a 112 pounder. "John's a lot bigger this year," said McCloud, "but I expect him to be every bit as good. He's fourth year wrestler and he's very aggressive." Fialon will wrestle at 145 pounds.

Novi coach Trudeau has high hopes for five of his Wildcats. "I've got five guys with three years experience," he says, "and I'm looking for big things from every one of them."

Novi's best wrestler is Duane Miller, a 167 pounder. "He's the quickest, strongest, and most knowledgeable wrestler on the team," said Trudeau. "He's extremely rough and he moves all the time on the mat. He's going to win a lot of matches for us this year."

Also highly touted by the Novi mentor is heavyweight Terry Auten. Generally a lot heavier, Auten has trimmed his weight down to 204 and greatly improved his speed. Last year Auten took second place in the Southeastern Conference championships and Trudeau is expecting him to finish first this year.

Auten led the team in points last winter, as he posted a 22-6 record in his matches, registering 12 pins.

Kevin Schingeck will hold down the 155 pound weight class for the Wildcats. "He's not a particularly strong wrestler," said Trudeau, "but he's very quick and has outstanding balance." Schingeck finished third last year in the conference championships.

The fourth and fifth Novi veterans are brothers Pat and Tom Ford. Pat wrestles at 145 and Tom wrestles in the 119 pound division. Tom had the second best record on the Novi team last year with 20 victories in 25 matches. "Technique-wise, he's my best wrestler," said Trudeau.

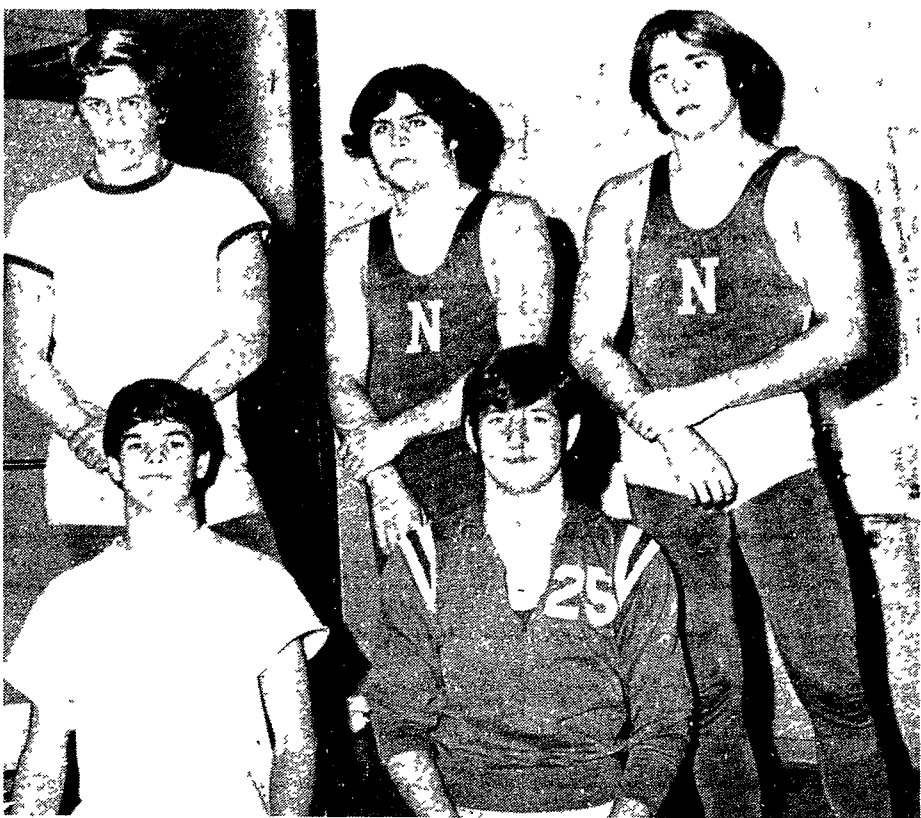

The major difference between the two teams is their depth. While Novi's experienced wrestlers stop after Auten, Miller, Schingeck and the two Fords, the Mustangs can fill practically each of the 12 weight classes with an experienced grappler.

"I'll have to start six first year wrestlers against Northville," lamented Trudeau. "They've had only one week of practice in the sport and in wrestling experience is perhaps the most important factor."

Thursday's match will mark just the second time that Novi and Northville have met on the mats. Last year the Mustangs walked off with a lop-sided 40-8 victory and five pins. Schingeck with a pin and Tom Ford with a decision were the only Wildcats to score points in that meet.

Of the returning Northville wrestlers, Griffin, Fialon, and Norton all took decisions over their opponents in the meet, as did Doug Boor at 167 and Ron Mills at 105. Mills pinned his man.

And although Trudeau is not predicting a victory for the Wildcats this year, he is making certain other predictions. "I'll tell you one thing," he said confidently, "it will be a lot closer this year than it was last year. I think we've got three boys who are pretty sure of pinning their men. Our problem is that we're going to have to start those six first year wrestlers, and I think Northville will probably pick up some pins against them."

Koepke Debut Spoiled

Mustangs Fall in Opener

Walt Koepke unveiled the 1971 edition of the Northville basketball team Tuesday night, and although their brand of play bore a distinctively new look, the same old errors of poor shooting and sloppy passing ruined the new coach's debut as South Lyon handed his Mustangs a solid 74-65 defeat.

The score might have been much worse except for a 28 point fourth quarter spurt by the Mustangs at the expense of the South Lyon reserves.

The Lions held a 20 point lead at the end of the third quarter with the score 57-37 and coach Bill Thomas flooded his lineup with substitutes.

Northville, however, was unwilling to yield the victory. With their full court, press producing turn-over after turn-over, the Mustangs cut the lead to nine points before Thomas realized that Northville had every intention of winning the game and sent his first string back in with just

Northville after a highly successful coaching career at Mount Clemens. For him defeats do not come often. In the quiet of the dressing room after the game he analyzed the defeat. "They played 28 minutes of basketball and we only played four."

He turned to his charts, tabulating the figures. "These show we had 20 turn-overs, but they must be inaccurate. I know we had many more than that. We gave the ball away at least 15 times on bad passes alone." "Our defense was extremely unaggressive," he continued. "We gave them too many shots in the three second lane, and those are high percentage shots. We played aggressive defense in the last four minutes of the game, but that was it."

The shot charts also showed that the Mustangs' own shooting left a great deal to be desired. Northville took 67 shots from the floor and yet had only 18 field goals to show for their efforts—a mark of just 27 percent.

"Twenty-seven percent is unbelievably bad," said

Koepke. "We're a very poor shooting team and we just can't afford to let our opponents get that far ahead. We've got to get our shooting up to 40-45 percent if we're going to win any games."

The Lions put up a zone defense against the Northville quintet and it proved to be effective. "I was hoping they'd try the zone," said Koepke, "because I felt our attack against the zone was better than our attack against a man to man defense. But as it turned out our zone attack was poor. We didn't drive enough, we didn't put any pressure on them at all."

It was the second quarter that proved to be the decisive one. At the end of the first period, South Lyon held a 17-11 lead. Paced by the hot shooting of sophomore guard Tony Kern, they proceeded then to outscore Northville by 12 points in the second quarter. Kern alone accounted for 10 points in that frame, two more than the entire Northville team.

By the time the buzzer sounded at the half, the Lions held a 37-19 lead. They upped that lead to 20 points by the end of the third quarter, taking a 57-37 margin into the final quarter of play, and then held off Northville's late surge to take the victory 74-65.

Koepke singled out the play of Brad Cole in Northville's 28 point fourth quarter. The senior forward finished the game with 13 points—12 of them coming in the late barrage. Cole hit on eight of eight free throw attempts in that fourth quarter.

Scoring honors for the Mustangs were taken by Scott Evans, who tallied 15 points on just three field goals and nine free throws. Todd Hannert and Jeff Moon added 11 and 10 points respectively, as four Northville players hit double figures.

Hannert paced Northville in rebounds with 14, while Evans cleared the boards nine times.

South Lyon's Kern copped scoring honors in the game even though he sat out most of the second half. Kern had 17 points.

JUMP SHOT—Northville's Brad Cole soars over South Lyon's Clay Woodard as he launches a jump shot. Cole's 12 points in the fourth quarter played a major role in the Mustang's late surge. One the whole, however, the Northville offense left a great deal to be desired as they shot only 27 percent from the floor.

Tankers Stroke to Victory In Mount Clemens Relays

Northville's swimming team got their 1971-1972 season off to a flying start last week, as they stroked their way to a lop-sided 42 point victory over five Class A rivals in the second annual Mount Clemens Relays.

The Mustangs completely dominated the meet, sweeping to first place finishes five times in the meet's 10 events and setting five new Mount Clemens Relay records in the process. What's more, the Northville swimmers also took three second places, one third and a fourth, as they carried off 32 of a possible 40 medals.

"The boys were really flying," said Lauber. "I could hardly believe it. I just stood back in amazement and watched the funny thing was that we hadn't tried to peak or gear our efforts for this particular meet. The boys just got themselves up and went out and did a job."

Northville's strong showing was in direct contrast with their performance at the meet last year. In 1970 Lauber's swimmers finished in a tie for fourth place and failed to win a single event with only one finish as high as second place to show for their efforts.

"I think one of the things that helped to motivate our boys this year," suggested Lauber, "was their poor showing last year."

"I talked to the fellow who is in charge of the meet and asked him who he thought would be tough. He never even mentioned us. We went into the meet as underdogs, and I think that was one of the reasons our team did so well—they wanted to show them not to take us so lightly."

But if any of the coaches from the other schools were taking Northville lightly this time, they won't make the same mistake again, as they were quite literally left in the wake of the Mustang swimmers.

Northville ran up 114 points in taking the victory. Lakeview and East Detroit tied for second with 72 points apiece. Utica Stevenson was fourth with 66 points, and Mount Clemens and Utica rounded out the field with 62 and 40 points respectively.

If the Mustangs had a standout performer in the meet, it was senior freestyler Bill Maguire.

Maguire turned in a clocking of 54.7 seconds in his 100 yard leg of the 400 yard freestyle relay to pace a team of Joe Boland (56.2), Jeff Pitak (57.6), and Bill Witek (56.3) to first place and a new Mount Clemens Relays record of 3:44.4.

Practically the same thing happened in the 200 yard freestyle relay. Maguire's 50 yard leg of 24.1 seconds paced Steve Mohr (26.2), John Pacific (25.5), and Pete Bedford (25.9) to first place and another record with a time of 1:41.7.

"Bill did an outstanding job for us," said Lauber. "His splits in the relays were significantly faster than anyone else's and that made an important difference."

Northville's swimmers also set meet records in three other events. The 300 yard freestyle relay team of Pitak (2:14.1), Don Cook (2:04.2), Kevin Kelly (2:03.6) and Boland (2:05.7) set a meet record with an 8:27.6 timing; the 200 yard backstroke relay team of Mark Haynie (31.0), Dennis McLaughlin (30.8), Jeff Kappler (30.8), and Gary Putrow (27.4) set a record of 1:56.7, and the 200 yard breaststroke team of Kelly (32.6), Art Greenlee (32.4), Bob Wright (34.1), and Jay Ivey (33.0) set a record of 2:12.1.

In spite of the barrage of new records, Lauber was just as pleased with some of his second place finishes. "There were a couple of events," he said, "in which I just didn't expect to do well and our boys came through with second places for us."

The Mustangs took second in the 200 yard butterfly relay with the team of Frank Jones, Chip Thomas, Tom Cook, and Bill Bretz; the 200 yard medley relay with the team of Mark Haynie, Jay Ivey, Gary Putrow, and John Jerome; and diving with the team of Bob Simmons, Brad Phillips, and Tom Cook.

But in spite of the Northville rout, Lauber was quick to sound a note of caution. "You always enjoy winning a meet like that," he said, "but at the same time you find you have a concern that your swimmers don't get to feeling that they're too good and stop working. We've got a long way to go before we can start calling ourselves a powerful team."

Jayvees Take Easy Win

Todd Eis dumped in 20 points and everyone else on Northville's junior varsity basketball team scored at least two points as Coach Omar Harrison's squad bombarded South Lyon 72-28 Tuesday night.

It was a sweet victory for Harrison who returns to the junior varsity helm after a one year stint as the head of Northville's varsity cage team.

Local Fives Play Bulldogs

Brighton's Bulldogs will provide the opposition for both Novi and Northville in the days ahead. The Mustangs journey to Brighton Friday, while the Wildcats will play host to the Bulldogs next Tuesday.

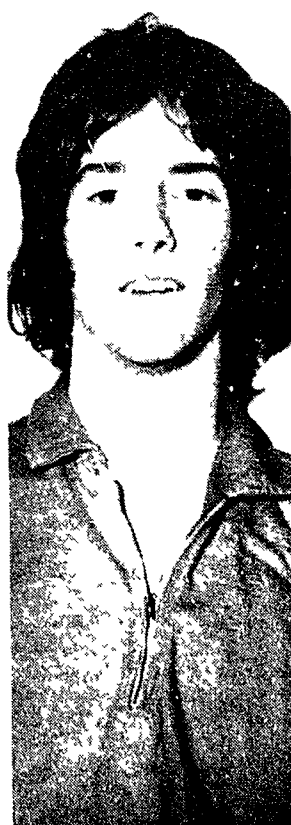

Under new coach Allan Burnett, the Brighton quintet will be led by 6'3" center Jim Wood and 6' guard Hugh Jones. Both Wood and Jones averaged in double figures last year, and Jones moved up to the 20 points per game bracket late in the season.

Rounding out the Brighton line-up will be 6'1" Steve Bandkau and either 6'1" Rich Gobel or 6'3" Mike Sheldon at the forwards and either 5'7" Danny Shosey or 6' Bill Colley at the other guard spot.

Last year Brighton posted a 6-11 record.

The Bulldogs, according to one observer, are suffering from a lack of depth and are "hurting if they get in foul trouble."

Mustanger

Mustang of the week honors go to swimmer Bill Maguire. Already a school record holder in four different events, the senior freestyler paced his team to a lop-sided 42 point victory in the Mount Clemens Relays last week.

$500,000 for City in '72

Downs Gets 147 Nights

There'll be harness racing at Northville Downs on 147 nights in 1972.

The biggest schedule ever for the local track was announced this week by State Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley.

Actually, Executive Manager John Carlo's Northville Downs will operate two meets for a total of 75 nights.

The Jackson-at-Northville, operated by Leo Slavin leasing Downs' facilities, will also conduct two meets with a total of 72 nights.

No matter who is operating the meet, the city of Northville stands to pick up its biggest pay check.

The 1972 revenues from 147 nights of racing could amount to $500,000 to the city of Northville in the form of rebates from the state's share of the total mutuel handle.

Although the current Jackson-at-Northville meet is slated to close December 18, under the new 1972 schedule it will re-open on Saturday, January 1, for 25 nights. Immediately following the Jackson-at-Northville meet Northville Downs will stage its own winter meet for 39 nights from January 31 until March 15.

Harness racing then moves to Wolverine Raceway in Livonia until June 21 when it returns to Northville Downs for a 36-night summer meet through August 1.

After an 82-night harness meet at Hazel Park (August 2 through November 4) Jackson again returns to Northville Downs for its 47-night fall meeting, November 6 through December 30.

Jackson races at Jackson for 60 nights from August 21 through October 28.

Because of over-lapping of dates between Jackson and Hazel Park, there's actually a total of 371 nights of harness racing in Michigan scheduled for 1972.

It marks the first time Michigan has had "year-around" harness racing.

RECEIVES DEGREE — David W. Adair, counselor at Cooke Junior High School, will receive his educational specialist degree in guidance and counseling from Eastern Michigan University on December 12. He presently holds a bachelor of science degree in elementary physical education and a master's degree in guidance and counseling.

For Day Care Center

Planners Approve Rezoning

Northville Township Planners recommended to the township board approval of a rezoning request to permit the operation of a child day care center.

The action came Tuesday night by a vote of 5-0. Planners Bernard Baldwin and Robert Bogart absent.

The 6-acre parcel of land is located at 49875 West Eight Mile Road, surrounded on three sides by Maybury Sanatorium property. Currently standing on the parcel is an old red school house which the petitioner, Mrs. Nancy Beaupre, said would be used for the child care center.

Rezoning sought is from R2

(single family) to RM1 (multiple dwellings).

In recommending the rezoning change, planners noted the parcel of land is surrounded by Maybury Sanatorium, intended use of the land does not conflict with adjoining property and the land is "ideally suited to the proposed use."

In other business Tuesday, planners changed the public hearing date on a rezoning request from Greenspan developers to January 12, 1972, at 8 p.m. in the board of education offices. The hearing had been set for January 10 but was changed to avoid conflicting with other meetings scheduled at the board offices.

Greenspan is seeking to rezone 16 acres of land in the area of Five Mile, Winchester and Robinwood to permit construction of 123 multiple dwelling units. Currently the land is zoned for single family homes.

Planners also tabled discussion on a suit filed against the township by Mrs. Oka George over the township's denial of a rezoning request to permit construction of a mobile home park, pending a meeting today (Thursday) between township planning consultant George Vilcan and attorneys for Mrs. George.

-recommended to the township board a one year extension be granted on a preliminary plat approval for Roanoke Hills Subdivision on West Seven Mile Road, west of Beck Road; and -cancelled the December 28 planning commission meeting.

Welfare Reform Discussion Set

In an effort to help people understand the pros and cons of welfare, Epiphany Lutheran Church and the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom are sponsoring a program Wednesday, December 8.

A film entitled "None of My Business" will be shown at the 8 p.m. meeting. A representative from the Leadership Conference for Welfare Reform will be available to answer questions and lead discussion.

The meeting will be held at Epiphany Lutheran Church, 41390 Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

Attendance Dips, But Betting Up

Although attendance has taken a dip at the Jackson-at-Northville winter harness racing meet, betting is up 2.1 per cent over last year.

Through the first 24 nights of the 42-night Downs' meet some 77,212 fans have bet $6,439,690, an average nightly handle of $268,320.

The line up for $10,000-est. championship leg of the Jackson-at-Northville racing series is beginning to take shape. The finale is slated for action Saturday night, December 11.

With but one preliminary leg remaining, the Saturday, December 4 feature, Thimble, Prince Knox, defending champion, Tricky Dares, and Shiaway Doctor would seem all but set for positions in the rich finale.

Such stalwarts as Michigan Mack and Baron Phillip, Bedford Jet, and Winter Dean are among those still in almost a win or else situation in their efforts to gain the finale.

Thimble, the three-year-old filly pacing sensation made it 3 straight in the series with a last desperate lunge at the wire, Saturday night, that carried her a nose past the leading Prince Knox.

It was a crowd-pleasing finish to a mile that saw driver Fred Hess back the filly off in the early going in contrast to the two front-pacing victories in her first trips. Time for the mile was 2:09 and one-fifth over a heavy track.

Frank Alexander, trainer for Northville's Briar Lea Farms, has an enviable record. Through the first three and a half weeks of the meet Frank sent 12 horses to the starting gate. Two were involved in accidents and did not finish. Of the other 10, six paraded to the winners circle.

Area-owned trotters and pacers continued to appear in the winners circle frequently. Northville's Briar Lea Farms posted two wins during the week, Briar Lea Andy and Briar Lea Febe. Ellarene LaFontaine's Trailer was also a winner. Al Pearson, Jr. of Novi, saw his Star Reporter score a pair during the week, and Jodi Lynn, for Howard and Bonnie McVey, New Hudson, was a winner.

Ford Files Suit Against Wixom

The Ford Motor Company has filed suit against the city of Wixom protesting their 1971 tax billing. The announcement was made last week by City Attorney Gene Schnelz.

Ford is protesting $205,928.76 in personal property tax and an additional $43,036.02 in personal property tax paid by the Ford Marketing Corporation, a subsidiary of the Ford Motor Company.

"The whole matter of tax law is extremely complicated in regard to this suit," said Schnelz, "but very simply Ford is saying that they've been wrongfully assessed in excess of the real value of their property and are thus paying a disproportionate share of the taxes."

In addition to the assessment, Ford is disputing a state equalization factor of 1.005 that was levied by Oakland County.

The law suit is only half the action taken by Ford in disputing their assessment. In addition, they are appealing their real property taxes before the State Tax Commission. Both real and personal property taxes are based on the same assessment figures, so, in essence, Ford is protesting the same issue before the Commission.

Attorney Schnelz was quick to point out that the suit was in no way connected with the city's past problems with its assessor. "This whole matter has nothing to do with our past assessor problems," he said, "but is a long standing dispute over what value should be placed on the Ford property in Wixom. There is no doubt in my mind that this suit would have arisen at this time regardless of any assessor we might have had."

There is a strong possibility that the suit will never get to court, according to Schnelz. In as much as the question of whether or not the assessment is equitable is slated to be discussed by the State Tax Commission within the next three months, their ruling would be applicable to both the real property and personal property disputes and make any further court action redundant.

'Your Guess is as Good as Mine,' Says Puzzled Leroy Brooks

Shelves of Traveling Harness Shop Are Packed with Ointments

Leather, Metal, Clothing, Mud—You Name It—They've Got It

Chuck Altman hitches up his pants and says, while trying to hold back a bellylaugh, "A guy walks in and says, 'Gimmie a Gombaults'."

"Hey, now I'm not the smartest guy in the world but I'm probably not the dumbest either. So I say, 'What size?' And he says, 'A large bottle'."

"You see? Now I've got it narrowed down to a bottle of something and the customer doesn't know I don't know a Gombaults from a horseshoe."

Chuck Altman's explaining how he and his partner managed to bluff their way through the first months of operating a completely foreign business that has since doubled its sales volume.

He and his partner, Leroy Brooks, operate a traveling tack shop that moves from one harness racing track to another selling everything from baking soda and horse liniment to sulks and mud.

Admittedly a "Laurel and Hardy" team that has no business being in this business, they're literally laughing their way to the bank.

Their 50-foot by 10-foot trailer is filled with about 10,000 items for horsemen, not to mention the little harness repair shop in the back end where Altman "winds bobbins for the sewing machine just like grandma did." Merchandise ranges from a 10-cent whip cracker (the snap that fits on the end of a whip) to a custom-painted, $600 racing sulky.

One of their featured products is California mud. "We have the exclusive franchise," they boast. "Stuff comes right out of the San Francisco bay. Horsemen think it's greatest. Use it to pack into the horse's feet to keep them moist."

The business is licensed by the State Racing Commission and competes with two others that travel from track to track.

Neither partner knew much more about a horse except that it has a front and back side when they started 18 months ago. Now they're experts. Well, maybe not exactly experts "but we know that when boot ain't a boot and a Gombaults ain't chewing gum," says Leroy.

How can two guys—one who owned a Northville liquor store and another who was clerking in that store—go out and make a big success of something they knew nothing about?

"It's simple," says Chuck, "you use an old tip my father gave me years ago: never tell a customer you haven't got what he wants."

Boiled down, it's the old cliché, "The customer is always right."

Couple that with some good buying sense—"knowing where to get the best merchandise for the least cost and then buy in quantity"—and you've got a good idea why they've succeeded.

But, really, that's only part of it. The fact that both partners are having fun is perhaps even more important.

"I never really liked the liquor business (I don't even drink) and Brooks, well, he'd been with me a long time and I knew he wasn't really happy either. And when I sold out I figured I owed him something for his loyalty."

"So when he comes in one day and asks if I'd be interested in financing a new business—selling stuff to horsemen—I said, 'Hey, that doesn't sound half bad. You manage it and I'll work for you.'"

Meanwhile, Chuck and his family moved away from the hometown of Northville and got themselves a little horse farm in Highland. Now Chuck's kids are winning show ribbons and trophies and their father is knee-deep in horsemanship—member even of the Livingston County Sheriff's Posse and a 4-H horse club leader to boot.

"I've never enjoyed myself more—even though Brooks is the meanest, most cantankerous boss you'd ever want to work for," insists Chuck.

"He runs things and has me in the back room sewing and repairing leather harnesses and what have you. Imagine that! Me, Chuck Altman, sewing harness or fixing a sulky tire. Nobody's gonna believe you."

Upon buying out Stevens Harness—a traveling tack shop that had been in business 20 years—the pair decided to keep the old name because it had been a dependable firm that horsemen liked. They opened up at Wolverine Raceway.

"Getting started was a laugh a minute," recalls Chuck. "What Brooks didn't know I knew even less. We had a whole trailer load of merchandise and we didn't know what it was or why horsemen used it."

Fortunately, they had three things going for them: enthusiasm, an old, dependable name, and the fact that grooms and trainers just naturally figured they must be experts because they were the owners.

"So until we knew what we were selling we had to bluff our way," explains Chuck. "I mean these guys are the greatest bunch you'd ever want to meet but they've got a whole different language."

"What would you do if a guy comes in and says he wants a barbed wire or a quarter boot? You'd do what we did—look for a ball of wire or rubber boots you'd wear."

"Pretty quick you learn that when a horseman talks boots chances are he's talking about something you put on a horse or when he wants barbed wire he's talking about an old-fashioned ointment."

"Boots! We've got a whole raft of them. Boots for the horse's ankles, his knee or elbow or what have you. Then again maybe he does mean boots for people. And we've got them, too."

"Or the driver comes in and he wants a new saddle. You soon find out he's not talking about something you ride in but part of the harness that rides on the back of the horse."

Sweeping his hand along the shelves lining the sides of the long trailer, he boasts, "We've got everything. And like I said, if we haven't got it we'll get it. See that oatmeal up there? Betcha didn't know we sold oatmeal, corn meal and baking soda."

"When I first saw that stuff up there I figured we'd bought into a grocery business, too. Didn't know the grooms used the stuff to clean felt."

SUCCESSFUL PARTNERSHIP—Chuck Altman (left) and Leroy Brooks surprised lots of people (including themselves) by buying a business they knew nothing about and turning it into a whopping success.

"Look here Blankets. We've got blankets coming out of our ears. Winter blankets, summer blankets, sheets, coolers all of them for horses."

"You know what a sulky is? Sure, bet you did. Okay, then tell me what's the difference between this one and that one. Can't do it, can you? One's for racing and the other's for jogging (tramping)."

"Bandages. Oh, boy. We're a traveling drug store. "Drinking pails. We've got big ones, little ones, metal ones, plastic ones, round ones and flat ones. Brooks sees a guy's leaning towards a plastic one, he can give the guy 10 good reasons why he ought to get a plastic one. But if it looks like he prefers a metal one, he can give him 10 reasons why the metal ones are best."

"Bits. We've got 87 different kinds."

"Time was when ol' Brooksie Baby didn't

Will Japanese-US Rift Heal?

Will Japan and the United States mend their strained economic and political relations to form a closer alliance? Or will they fail to compose their differences and drift further apart? Hanging on the answers to these questions is the near-term prosperity of both nations, as well as the shape of the trade and political arrangements that will be forged in Asia as an intermediate-to long-term result of China's emergence as a catalytic force in world affairs.

The similarities of the economies of the U.S. and Japan are themselves root causes of the strain between the two. Each must export in great quantity to prosper and to maintain and expand acceptable living standards. Each is plagued with many internal social problems crying for solution. Hence the rising tide of protectionist philosophies and practices to which both Washington and Tokyo are in danger of succumbing. At the moment each sees the other as overly aggressive.

expansion of Japanese business has put it into major competition with the U.S. economy in a number of industrial areas in addition to textiles. Tokyo's financing of exports has been carefully planned, superbly managed via close co-operation between government and business. Now it is obvious even to Japan that if her exports are to continue to thrive, she must also import more, provide a wider opening of her own market to the world.

Japanese officials and businessmen insist that they stand ready to co-operate with the U.S., to aid us in shoring up the dollar and bolstering the American trade balance. In the main, this appears to be true. However, there are such wide divergences of opinion in Japan with respect to recent U.S. diplomatic, economic, and political moves and their impact on Japan that Tokyo has been moving cautiously and seems unsure how far to go to meet our demands.

been pro-Washington in its stance, in fact so much so that opposition leaders label it a tool of the U.S. Yet Japan proved quite adamant in her position on the dispute over Tokyo's textile exports to the U.S., and the strained settlement has left a bad taste on both sides of the Pacific. It should be noted, too, that Japan is particularly miffed because the U.S. has not moved similarly to limit the heavy inflow of textiles from European countries.

President Nixon's rapprochement with Peking poses fully as many and as complex challenges for Tokyo as does the U.S. economic game plan. Having followed almost docilely for two decades and more Washington's lead in its economic and political ties with its Asian neighbors, Tokyo is suddenly brought face to face with the awesome bulk of China, a dragon that so far has only snarls for the Japanese.

Young 'Voters' Missing at Polls

LANSING — Despite well publicized successes of campaigns to utilize the youth vote as in the recent election in East Lansing, a survey of the state shows young voters aren't breaking down the doors to register to exercise their newly-won right to vote.

A survey conducted by the Michigan Democratic Party in 16 of the state's industrial counties found that fewer than one in five young adults has registered to vote.

In the 16 counties there was a potential young voter enrollment of some 350,000. Of that total, only 65,998 had registered to vote.

THE SURVEY was conducted by Ed Bruley and Joyce Hightower, both officers-at-large for the Democratic party, who are heading the party's young adult registration drive.

"In East Lansing, where a determined effort was made to involve young people in the city elections and where registration programs were carried through, the impact of the 'youth' vote was decisive," Bruley said.

He further said it is necessary that other counties "cut bureaucratic red tape and make registrations easily available to all eligible young voters."

Ingham county had the largest percentage of its potential young voters registered with 31.5 percent. The lowers of the counties checked was Monroe county, where 3.4 percent had registered.

AMONG THOSE PREDICTING an upswing in Michigan's economy next year is Richard E. Whitmer, State Commerce Director.

Whitmer says the state's "gross state product," may soar over the $50 billion mark next year.

"Preliminary figures indicate this year's gross state product will be slightly more than $46 billion, up about 9 percent compared to last year," he says. "It should increase by about 12 percent next year to an estimated $52 billion."

If the projection holds up, it will mean the gross state product has doubled in eight years. It stood at $25 billion in 1963.

THE MICHIGAN Legislature took a big step toward reducing the number of traffic accidents in the state by getting tougher with drunk drivers. At least, that is the hope.

It passed a bill lowering the amount of alcohol which needs to be in the bloodstream for a presumption of intoxication from 15 percent to 10 percent. Since half of all traffic fatalities are attributed to drunk drivers, the bill's proponents had strong ammunition.

Among those pushing hard for the legislation was Secretary of State Richard Austin who is in charge of licensing the state's drivers.

STUDIES INDICATE that from 50 to 70 percent of traffic fatalities are caused by drivers who had been drinking," he says. "With this type of overwhelming evidence against the heavy drinking driver as a highway menace, the legislative action in Michigan was totally warranted."

"This law can be the first meaningful step in solving our problem driver situation since the drinking driver remains public enemy number one for the traffic safety community," states Austin.

MICHIGAN STILL isn't nearly as strict as some foreign countries, however, where a drunk driving conviction carries an automatic, non-suspendable prison sentence, sometimes with mandatory hard labor. In Finland, for example, all the public airports have been built by drunk drivers.

Steps other than getting tougher with drunk drivers are also being taken to improve driving safety in Michigan.

For instance, the Highway Commission reports improvements it made to a curve on southbound US-27 in Gratiot County near Ithaca, cut the accident toll on the curve dramatically. The curve had a new surface patch put on its beginning and was adjusted so water would run off much faster.

In the year prior to the change 16 accidents with 15 injuries were reported, as well as 42 calls for tow service by persons who lost control on it. In the year since the improvements were made, two accidents with four injuries were reported and three additional calls were made for tow service.

125: Cut Off Draft Number

Random sequence number 125 has been set as the year-end ceiling for 1971 draft calls, it has been announced by Arthur A. Holmes, state director of Selective Service.

Class 1-A registrants who are 20 years of age or older with RSN 125 or below who are not inducted in 1971 will have their liability for induction extended into 1972. They will be subject to induction during 1972 along with other men who are in the extended priority selection group.

Other registrants in Class 1-A during 1971 with RSN 126 and over who have never been assigned to an extended priority group will be transferred to the second priority selection group in 1972 and will not be subject to induction except in a national emergency.

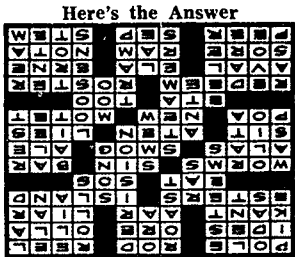

Deferred registrants with RSN 126 and over who have never been assigned to the extended priority group may drop their draft deferments in favor of a 1-A classification during the remainder of 1971. By dropping their deferments, these men complete their exposure to induction in 1971. They will then be transferred to a lower priority in 1972. They would be liable for induction only in a national emergency.

Application forms are available at all draft boards for registrants who wish to request termination of present deferments under this policy. Written requests must be received by local boards no later than December 31, 1971.

This policy applies to deferred registrants such as high school students in 1-S, occupational or technical student deferments in 2-A, agricultural deferments in 2-C, college students in 2-D, divinity students in 2-D or 4-D and hardship deferments in 3-A.

Alex The Great Ain't Bad

Say what you want about Alex Karras, the desposed king of the Detroit Lion defensive line. Say he's a cut-up with a screw loose somewhere, a bad actor with about as much perception as a bat in broad daylight, a corn-belt character who thrives on shenanigans. Or the greatest defensive lineman the Lions have ever had.

As far as I'm concerned, all of these judgments could be right. And they may well be, for Alex the Great is something else, whether you admire the guy or not, or whether you're strictly neutral, which is pretty hard considering the nature of the guy

Now Alex is putting his playing days into writing for the Detroit Free Press. It's called "In My Time", as if that matters. But anyone who even pretends to be a football fan would have to agree the daily episodes are the best thing to come along since Peanuts and his friends.

Believe me, the stories Karras tells, are screwy. All at once modern-day football takes on the legendary sweep of the old days, when Bronko Nagurski and Red Grange and the Four Horsemen came galloping out of the shadows of history and cast shadows forty times the size of actual events.

Karras blisters some people, like coaches and players he has known during his long playing days. He either likes a guy or he hates him; not much in-between for the would-be comedian.

But he takes some good pokes at himself, too. And herein lies his best writing. Like the story he tells about his first year as a pro and his very unique relationship with Bobby Layne, the greatest Lion quarterback of them all.

Karras tells how Layne, the undisputed leader of the Lions, claimed him (Karras) as Layne's puppy, who, because he was a rookie, had to fulfill the wishes of the veteran quarterback.

Layne, Karras says, would go off on all-night drinking sprees, lapping up the scotch as if today was the end of the world. Karras was forced to follow Layne and do everything he said.

What happened was Karras, by his own account, ended up drunk most of the time, while Layne never showed any visible signs of slowing down because of the alcohol.

Scared, Karras says he hid under his bed whenever he heard Layne calling, "Puppy, Pupppee," but by the time Layne reached Karras' room in training camp he would be standing by his bed, ready to follow his master's command.

The incongruous scene of a 250-pound tackle acting indeed like a puppy is hilarious stuff. Even the sober and vitriolic episodes provide unusual reading.

Wilderness Versus Mining

State Decides Porkies' Fate

Apples Keep Dentists at Bay

Shall Porcupine Mountains State Park on Lake Superior remain one of Michigan's last unspoiled public wilderness areas or will it be opened to timbering and mining interests and concessions?

The answer to this recurring question may be given for all time at the December meeting of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources Commission in Lansing today and tomorrow, according to Automobile Club of Michigan's Motor News.

Porcupine Mountains State Park comprises almost 59,000 acres, including 23 miles of Lake Superior shoreline, and the finest stand of northern hardwood timber in the Midwest.

Last winter the commission was forced to order an "in-depth, comprehensive study into the projected public needs in Porcupine Mountains State Park," Motor News Editor Leonard Barnes writes. Reason given by the Commission for the study was that "events that have happened in and near the Porcupine Mountains in the past seem to be prophetic of the mounting pressure of retreat from the original concept of maintaining the wilderness character of the park."

"Translated," Motor News says "this means another attempt has been mounted to force the Department of Natural Resources to open the Porcupine Mountains to lumbering roads, motorized paths, souvenir stands and the like."

At a public hearing in Ontonagon near the Porkies recently, all but one of some 30 persons who testified wanted the Porkies to remain a wilderness," Barnes writes. "The lone person speaking in favor of change was State Senator Joseph Mack, whose constituents the 30 persons who disagreed with him are. Even many lumbermen said they thought the Porkies should not be lumbered."

The Michigan Legislature has repeatedly refused pleas to log the wilderness timber, mine its copper, build roads through it, construct a fish ladder on its border, and other projects which would destroy the wilderness.

Direction of this year's dispute was indicated at last December's DNR Commission meeting. Senator Mack, in whose district the Porkies lie, said: "Wilderness concept as interpreted today is leading one of Michigan's most beautiful and precious forest tracts (the Porkies) to an absolute state of rot."

Mack pointed out that before he intervened, the UP got no tax revenue from the park. But $250,000 was paid last year to Ontonagon and Gogebic Counties in lieu of taxes on the park, a figure arrived at by using the top value of all the timber in the park in its prime, as estimated by a timber cruiser.

Some called this a gift from the rest of Michigan, and point out that if some timber is harvested the yearly amount paid should go down, since the park would not be as valuable as it is today.

"What is the value of the Porkies to the people?" Mack asked. "They serve the whims and desires of one-tenth of one percent of the people who like wilderness and will destroy the forest."

Denying he wants the park logged, Senator Mack said dead or dying timber should be removed to preserve what's left and fire lanes built which "protect the wilderness," as he put it, while others pointed out that any tampering destroys wilderness.

"Last year, the Porkies attracted 250,000 persons. What is their lure?" the article asks. "In a word, wilderness. The only wilderness in the Midwest and the only real timbered wilderness around."

The park, located as far from Detroit as New York

City, was established in 1944. It was created so that one huge wilderness would remain forever untouched by civilization. It is one of the nation's largest state parks. When it was purchased at urging of former Governor Harry Kelly, he said, "We want to preserve this virgin territory for eternity."

Within the park are three picturesque lakes, Lake of the Clouds, Mirror Lake and Lily Pond. Thirty miles of river course through it, plus 70 miles of small creeks. Almost 100 miles of well-marked trails thread through the trees. Some are more rugged than others, but all can be hiked by any able-bodied person. The entire park is open to hunting in season, with some of the best deer and small game hunting in the state. Measured from sea level, the Porkies rise up 2,023 feet, one of the highest land masses in the Midwest.

"This is the second attempt to commercialize the Porkies in my 25 years at Motor News," Barnes states. "The first was in 1958, when it was proposed that the Upper Peninsula's perennially depressed economy be given a shot in the arm by allowing private interests to mine copper on 933 acres smack in the middle of the Porcupines. This was defeated after a determined fight led by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs."

"The present controversy may be good for the Porkies," Barnes says, "if it brings a policy of preservation forever. As in 1958, we oppose a policy of blacktopping trails or permitting motorized vehicles in the park."

"Wilderness persists," concludes Motor News, "where nature is free and only man's actions are disciplined. All National Parks are protected by law forever from mining, grazing, dams and lumbering. So should the Porcupine State Park be protected."

Now "an apple a day" keeps the dentist at bay, according to a Michigan State University consumer marketing information agent.

"For two years," reports Mrs. Sheila Morley, "British dentists fed apples to children after meals. When comparisons were made, the apple-eaters had 'significantly better' gum condition and only half as many cavities." (The study also noted that there were no complaints from the children as they took their "medicine.")

About 10 years ago Michigan State University researchers confirmed that there is some truth to the apple-doctor saying. After a three-year study involving 1,300 students, they reported that the students who ate apples regularly: 1) had one-third fewer calls at the health center for colds and other respiratory infections, and 2) showed fewer skin disorders, gastrointestinal ailments and viral infections.

Even more significant was the apple-eaters' ability to withstand the pressures of college life, Mrs. Morley says. The comparison of tension-pressure ailments - headaches, nervousness, inability to concentrate - showed apple-eaters six to one winners over the rest of the college population.

Engineering Tops Agenda

The November meeting of the Rouge Valley Chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers was a joint meeting with engineering Explorer Post 910. It was held at Hillsdale Inn.

The program consisted of two opposing panels, one of practicing engineers from the chapter and the other of future engineers from the Explorer post.

Preston Clements of Plymouth, as a member of the sponsoring group and advisor of the post, served as moderator.

John Hanskat of Plymouth; "Red" Wedrig of Inkster; Bill Maguire of Farmington; and Thomas Weyand of Wayne made up the panels of engineers. Paul Heinmiller, Linda Hagopian, Rick Clements and Kathy Romary and Doug Shepherd of Bentley High School made up the panel of explorers.

Each panel asked questions of the opposing panel. Questions dealt primarily with engineering and education as both the veteran engineer and the high school student see them.

Japan has developed a thriving trade with Taipei, and built up heavy capital investments on the island of Taiwan. All this may now be threatened and ultimately may have to be forfeited as the price of detente and increased trade with Peking. But what worries Japan even more is the U.S. attitude toward her. She wants to be a full partner in an alliance with Washington. If she cannot be that, the political climate at home she'll be wary, mistrustful friend whose pro-American leanings could one day be reversed.

If our Asian policy is to evolve favorably, Japan must play a vital supporting role. To deny her that role or degrade it would be folly. Though already a world power, Japan is still naive in many ways. While not prepared for it yet, she is sure to become the financial and commercial center of all Asia before this century's end. There will be many pluses for the U.S. if we help prepare her for that role.

Heritage of Faith Traced to Colonies

Lloyd G. Brasure
First Presbyterian Church of Northville

All is not gloom in the world. It is difficult at times, to have an attitude of hope, in the midst of crime, and wars in many places. Today we are witnessing greater interest in the Bible. New versions and translations of the Eternal Word are making appearances by many groups of scholars. We have in our Church library a publication by Zondervan of Grand Rapids, first printing in 1967, titled "The New Testament from 26 Translations." It proves to be fascinating reading and gives new ways of telling the "old old story."

I wonder how many of us realize the heritage of faith that comes through the beliefs and lives of some of our national "Founding Fathers." There is a fairly large group of men from Colonial times whose religious beliefs did much to determine the course of U.S. history. The documents, letters and principles involved, came from a fairly youthful group (many in their thirties) of gifted men of that era. Benjamin Franklin, along with Thomas Jefferson, was much interested in the idea of making the Scripture more accessible, and of new and varied translations. Franklin actually composed a new version of the prayer by Christ in Matthew 6:9-15. It compares favorably with current new ways of presenting this prayer. I believe it is worth our time to say it now as he wrote it in November 1779:

"Heavenly Father, May all revere Thee, and become Thy dutiful children and faithful subjects. May Thy laws be obeyed on earth, as perfectly as they are in heaven. Provide for us this day, as Thou hast hitherto daily done. Forgive us our trespasses, and enable us to forgive those who offend us. Keep us out of temptation, and deliver us from evil."

New Groups both in and out of the established Church organization are searching for new meanings and new expressions for faith, in study groups, in worship forms, in music sounds, verbalizing the Gospel, and personal witness. May we who come to God in the name of the Lord of Life, have for each other, regardless of manner of expression, a great respect and trust, that a better way come to His world.

I find inspiration, as do many of you, in reading of other days and other people. A book which I have had for several years tells much about the men who literally put together a nation, and based it upon certain basic principles. Some believe those principles are being eroded away. This could bring us to difficult reckonings. The book is "In God We Trust", by Norman Cousins, pub. by Harper, 1958.

Everybody and his cousin too...notice the lone man in the foreground of the picture. He must be wondering if he will ever get his shopping done. Even with his back to us he looks confused and bewildered.

Most of us have felt the pangs of loneliness in the midst of a crowd. Surrounded by people, we couldn't escape that feeling of utter desolation. It may engulf us in a busy department store, a crowded supermarket, a jam-packed subway, but suddenly it strikes...this feeling that no one cares about us or about our burdens.

When our hearts cry out for assurance that somebody cares, we can always turn to the truth and love revealed by the Holy Word of God: "Lo, I am with you always."

At the heart of the universe there are great resources of strength. Discover them for yourself by worshipping each week in the church of your choice.

Tourism: 2nd Biggest Industry

Tourism is Michigan's second largest industry, responsible for well over a billion dollars in revenue each year. More than half the land here is woodland, providing thousands of campsites.

In addition to its Great Lakes, Michigan has 11,037 inland lakes and 36,350 miles of rivers and streams. It has ski slopes and snowmobile trails and natural beauty that would be difficult to surpass. Thus, hundreds of thousands of visitors are attracted to the Michigan each year and the number is increasing, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

It is obvious then that tourism is vital to the economy of our state and the livelihood of many of her citizens. It also follows that Michigan's tourist industry and environmental programs should walk hand in hand.

On June 19, 1971 Governor Milliken in remarks addressed to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs stated "I have directed the Michigan Tourist Council to give the upmost priority to environmental considerations in implementation of its current programs and consideration of its future programs. This applies with elements of the industry in Michigan and its communications with tourists." He went on to say that, "The travel industry has a major stake in the environment in seeing that we have clean water and clean air, in seeing that our visitors linger but not litter, and in combating scenic pollution."

The Council accepted this mandate and as one of the first steps in implementing the goals set forth appointed Charles E. Budd to serve as its Environmental Specialist. Among Budd's responsibilities is coordination of the ecology policies and programs of the travel industry with those of the environmental organizations of the state.

He is also in direct and continuous contact with these organizations explaining the aims of the Council and the preservation of the natural resources that are important to the vacation business. He also works closely with the four Regional Tourist Associations in environmental programs as well as assisting private tourist-oriented establishments in improving their specific situations.

The Council has implemented ecology promotion in its general advertising campaigns. Public service announcements on environment have been scheduled with radio stations throughout the state, with spot announcements nightly on WJR's Night Flight 760 program. In addition, anti-litter messages appear on several of the Michigan Tourist Council publications and plans are underway to include litter bags — bearing an anti-litter message — in travel Fun-Paks requested by prospective Michigan visitors.

"The Council has and will continue to involve itself closely with the environmental programs of Michigan at the same time promoting the state's natural beauty and multitudinous, year-round vacation opportunities," said Signey L. Baker, Council chairman.

AUCTION

(NOTE — in the auction ring sales are made under certain well understood rules which are published and are announced from the auction stand, recorded and stand as a guarantee. The following are the principal rules which govern sales in the auction.)

1 Sound — Perfectly sound in every way

2 Serviceably sound — Virtually a sound animal, bearing slight blemishes which do not interfere with his usefulness in any way. His wind and eyes must be good, but a spot or streak in the eye which does not effect the sight will be considered serviceably sound as long as the pupil of the eye is good. He must not be lame or sore in any way.

3 Wind and Work — The only guarantee this carries with it is that the animal has good wind and is a good worker.

4 Work only — He must be a good worker and everything else goes with him. No other guarantee than to work.

5 Legs go — Everything that is on the animal's legs go with him, nothing is guaranteed except that he must not be lame or crampy. He must, however, be serviceably sound in every other respect.

6 At the halter — Sold just as he stands without any recommendations. He may be lame, vicious, balky, kicker or anything else. The purchaser takes all the risk. The title only is guaranteed. Exceptions to the above rules may be announced from the auction stand pointing out the defects, in which case they are recorded and go with the horse.

What is meant by a "quarter crack?" It's a vertical crack on the side of the hoof, usually corrected by keeping the hoof moist, shortening the toes, and using a corrective shoe designed for the particular situation.

AID FOR COUNTIES—Senator Carl D. Pursell (R-Plymouth) looks on as Governor William G. Milliken signs the bill he sponsored to allow counties to borrow money to create a delinquent tax revolving fund for use in purchasing the delinquent property taxes of all taxing units of the counties. Senator Pursell said the new law would allow taxing units to pay the full amount of the tax levy without waiting for delinquent tax collections and would save large sums in property tax administration funds at the county level.

know one from another. I still don't. We'd get in a shipment of new harnesses and he'd open it up, scratch his head and wonder if it was all there. Now he knows at least I think he does."

Despite their admitted lack of horse savvy, "Laurel and Hardy" squeezed humor out of everything they didn't know, and the horsemen like it. Honesty ("I'm honest," quips Chuck, "but I don't know about ol' Brooks") and a determination to satisfy customers produced remarkable results.

In less than a year, the pair just couldn't keep up with increased sales. For a time they considered selling their growing new business but just before moving into Northville for the winter racing meet at the Downs they decided instead to expand. So they bought a new, much larger trailer and hired a "girl Friday," who goes by the name of Ruth Williams.

Now they're hawking more horse wares than ever but bragging more about a fully carpeted shop than even their California mud.

"A guy walks in here now, baby, he walks on class to get his mud."

Snow Calendar Ready

The snow white months of December through March have everything going for you in Michigan, according to the new Michigan Calendar of Travel Events, just released by the Michigan Tourist Council.

One of the highlights of Christmas month is Fantasyland at the John F. Kennedy Memorial Center in Lincoln Park. Call it "just an old-fashioned Christmas display." Then add animated scenes, a circus, a street of toy and candy shops with elves and pixies everywhere. The doll house features five hundred dolls dressed by youth groups and service organizations, that will be distributed to charitable groups. And, reigning overall, the spirit of Christmas.

December will also be kick-off month for the Mardi Gras De Snow snowmobile winter carnivals scheduled throughout the state through February.

In January, ski enthusiasts can watch a great show of exciting thrills and spills at the United States Olympic Team Tryouts on the world's highest man-made ski jump at Pine Mountain, Iron Mountain, Michigan.

The North American Speedskating Championships are scheduled for February at Alpena with the best skaters from 37 states and Canada competing. There will be fun for the whole family in March at the Snowmobile Races in East Jordan. Ladies are invited to display their prowess in maneuvering the motorized ski machines in the Powder Puff Races, and men can vie for championship honors in their own competition.

Skiing competitions, snowmobile races, dog sled races, winter carnivals, antique, camper and trailer,

About Drugs

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the sixth in a series of articles by Oakland County Prosecutor Thomas G. Plunkett intended to inform parents about the drug threat and what it means to their children.

While discussing Heroin it is immediately alarming to parents to learn that most city, county and state arrests for Heroin possession or sale, have increased from 100 per cent to 250 per cent in the past two years.

What is Heroin? Heroin is diacetylmorphine, an alkaloid derived from morphine; it does not occur in opium. It is most usually a white, off-white or brown crystalline powder. It has for many years been the first choice among addicts of opiates. In slang terms, Heroin is referred to as "H", "Big H", "Smack,"

Army Opens New Recruiting Office

An Army Recruiting Office was opened this week in Plymouth, serving the Plymouth-Northville area, Staff Sergeant Robert McAndrew announced.

The office is located at 819 Penniman, near Main Street. Initial hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sergeant McAndrew also announced the new pay scale for Army personnel which went into effect last month.

This pay scale provides $268.50 per month for the newly-enlisted soldier—up from the $134.40 paid under the previous law, he said.

The pay raise also provides for raise quarters and ration allowances.

According to government statistics, the average hourly wage in the manufacturing industry was $3.36 in 1970. Army pay for a sergeant, E-5, by comparison, will now amount to $3.11 per hour if the sergeant is authorized and receiving quarters and ration allowances.

Parents: Here's Tips On Drugs

"Junk" or "Dope." It is an injected, potent, highly addictive narcotic and its mere possession is illegal.

Heroin has a generally sedative and analgesic effect. The first reaction to introducing it into the body is unpleasant to most people, but a calming effect follows and, depending on how much is taken at a time, may very well progress to coma and death from respiratory failure.

A Heroin user may have "needle tracks," small needle marks on his body, most often over the veins in the arms. An injection might also be given in other parts of the body. Abscesses (boils) often become apparent at the site of injections. Dirty needle diseases, such as hepatitis, are common among users.

Many Heroin users actually seem to have a dream-like disposition, but when in need of a "fix," (another dose), they can become capable of aggressive or even violent behavior. Among the signs of Heroin use are pinpoint pupils and a pale complexion. The body builds up a tolerance for the drug and the user needs an increased dose regularly in order to achieve the same desired effect. Withdrawal pains occur when the drug is not available. The psychological dependence on the drug makes the user think he needs the drug to function and he is extremely uncomfortable without it, once he is "hooked." Ex-addicts often return to the habit of Heroin, and the history of complete recoveries is disheartening to say the least.

Infections in the user's blood stream, lungs and heart can result from Heroin injections. Blood clots may develop in the lungs and when this type of infection occurs, it is usually caused by bacteria that can be very resistant to treatment. The death rate, therefore, is very high.

The source of Heroin is the illegal "street market" and the cost is usually about $1 to $1.50 per capsule. Physical dependence can cost from $20 to $200 per day.

What could possibly be appealing about the use of such a frightening drug? To the user, the great appeal is that these drugs induce a sense of good feeling, depress or overcome emotional pain temporarily and minimize feelings of fear, anxiety and tension. But, when it is so unmistakably evident that narcotics can become a way of life, consuming complete attention, energy and income, it is the duty of everyone with any contact or influence with young people, to educate them whenever possible about the facts surrounding drug misuse.

Be with me next week for more helpful information on drugs—their use and abuse.

Holiday Eating Can be Fun for Weight Watchers

If the Christmas and holiday-season eating cause consternation at the thought of getting on the scales afterward, here's encouragement from the Weight Watcher organization.

You can eat your turkey and pie and not worry about calories by serving a Weight Watcher menu, featuring roast turkey with savory apple "stuffing."

Begin the feast with an appetizer of stuffed mushroom caps, as follows:

STUFFED MUSHROOM CAPS
16 medium mushrooms
1/2 c chopped fresh parsley
1 1/2 oz. can mushroom stems and pieces chopped fine
1 tbsp dehydrated onion flakes
1 tsp thyme
2 packets instant chicken broth and seasoning mix
OR 2 chicken bouillon cubes, crumbled freshly ground pepper
1/2 c water
Remove stems from mushrooms. Cover caps with water, bring to a boil and boil until caps are semi-soft. Finely chop stems and add to remaining ingredients. Heat in non-stick skillet until mixture is tender. Remove from heat and stuff into caps. Place on baking sheet and bake at 375 degrees for about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

PUREE OF ASPARAGUS SOUP
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) cut asparagus
1 c tomato juice
1 c water
3 packets instant beef broth and seasoning mix

OR 3 beef bouillon cubes, crumbled
1/2 tsp celery salt
1/2 tsp onion powder
freshly ground pepper to taste
Empty asparagus and liquid into blender and blend until smooth. Pour into sauce pan. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

ROAST TURKEY
Roast the turkey uncovered at 300 degrees until tender.

allowing 25 minutes a pound under 12 pounds, 20 minutes a pound for a larger turkey. Baste about every half hour with diced unlimited vegetables (celery, green peppers and mushrooms) cooked until tender in chicken bouillon and other seasonings to taste.

SAVORY APPLE MOCK STUFFING
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped broccoli
1 pkg. frozen cauliflower
1/2 c finely chopped celery

1 fresh green pepper, finely chopped
4 tbsp. dehydrated onion flakes
2 medium apples, peeled, cored and diced
1/2 c water
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
Cook broccoli and cauliflower according to package directions, allowing additional 2-3 minutes cooking time. Drain and place in mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients and mix well with electric or hand mixer. Turn into 9 x 9 x 2-inch baking dish and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes four servings.

TANGY RELISH
3c whole cranberries
2 medium oranges
Artificial sweetener to equal 1c sugar (or to taste)
Cut oranges into quarters. Remove seeds. Put cranberries and oranges through food chopper (or coarsely chop in electric blender). Add sweetener to taste. Refrigerate. Makes eight servings.

Cheese please! . . . especially for entertaining

Cheese is good and good for you—perfect for holiday entertaining! In making the selections your family will like best, there are 4 basic types found in our markets:

—NATURAL CHEESE (unprocessed) made from milk and containing all the original ingredients of the milk. The only thing usually added is color and seasonings. Characteristic flavor and texture will depend upon the type and quality of the milk used: whole, skim, etc. It's great for appetizers, desserts, sandwiches.

—PROCESS CHEESE (pasteurized) made from one or more natural cheeses heated and blended together to a smooth texture. It melts and slices more easily, and pasteurization prevents further ripening so it has a more uniform flavor.

—PROCTER'S CHEESE FOOD (pasteurized) contains less fat, but more milk solids and moisture than process cheese. Other things like pimientos are often added. It makes excellent sauces.

—PROCESS CHEESE SPREAD (pasteurized) contains less fat and considerably more moisture than process cheese. A stabilizer is added to help make it spreadable at room temperature and ideal for canapes and sandwiches. Each type is identified on the package label, and prices will vary according to the amount of cheese in the product. Natural cheese is All-American! You use less to achieve the same pure concentration of flavor as from processed cheese. So expect natural cheese to cost more. However, pure process cheese is much more concentrated than the processed cheese food or spread. Prices also vary by flavor: mellow, medium or sharp. Flavor is determined by the length of time the cheese has been aged. The longer it's aged, the sharper the cheese and the higher the price per pound due to the cost of handling and storage. Packaging determines price, too. You must pay for those special services done for you—cubing, shredding, slicing or cutting into special shapes to fit a cracker!
