Proposed City Budget Holds Line on Millage

A proposed new City of Northville budget, which suggests no millage increase, was presented to the council Monday by City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

Preliminary estimate as the council goes into its budget work sessions is that the 1972-73 budget may be several hundred dollars less than the anticipated general expenditure in the present 1971-72 budget.

Specifically, it calls for an outlay of $792,015—not including public improvement revenue received from race track parimutuel returns to the city.

The anticipated 1971-72 general fund expenditure is put at $792,572—up considerably over the projected general fund outlay of $761,350 approved by the council late last May.

In presenting the budget proposal to council, Ollendorff said it represents "our best efforts to hold down expenditures to the point that the city's property tax rate (10 3/4), currently the lowest in Wayne County, will not have to be revised upwards."

"No change in levels of service is anticipated by this budget," he added. "This means that in several areas, new or expanded programs which merit serious consideration had to be postponed but no fewer or reduced services should result."

The proposed budget is based on an anticipated state equalized property valuation in the city of $32,500,000—about 7-percent greater than last year, the manager said. An increase or decrease in this anticipated SEV would affect the budget's final outcome.

Although no millage increase is built into the new budget, taxpayers nevertheless will be paying more because of larger state equalized factors applied to locally assessed properties.

"One basic assumption underlies the budget," Ollendorff told councilmen: "That parimutuel revenues will not be used for operating purposes."

"These funds are kept for capital outlay and track-related use, as has been the council's policy for many years. It is indeed politically very tempting to drop this policy. We could cut the tax rate substantially by transferring racing revenue to the general fund."

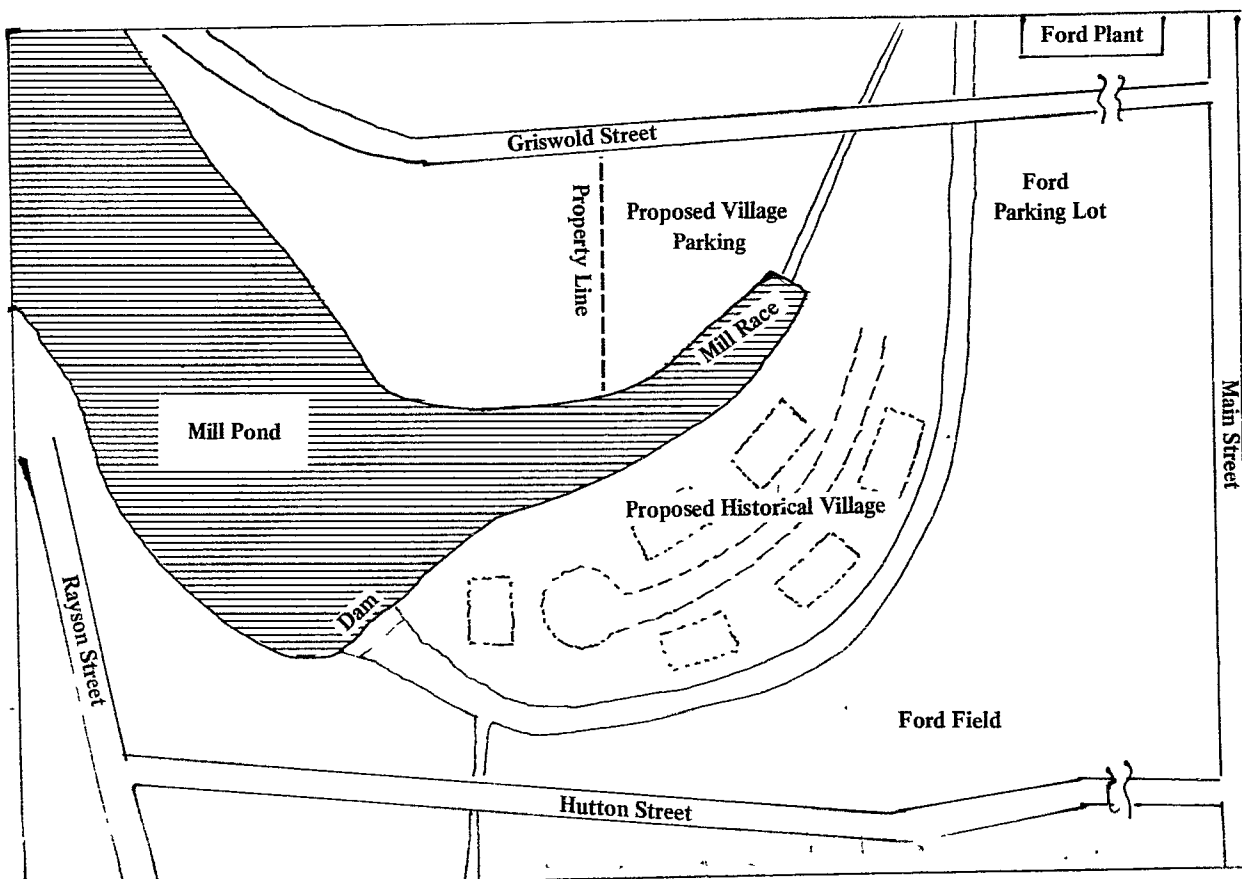

"Anyone proposing this would probably win great credit with the voters, but would be responsible for creating a very unsound financial basis for our city government. Put briefly, if we change this approach we are forced to start a bonding program for improvements or see our city plant deteriorate rapidly."

Estimated 1972-73 race track revenue is put at $470,000—about $20,000 more than anticipated this budget year.

Estimated property tax revenue is pegged at $326,015—or about $26,000 more than anticipated this budget year. In other words, use of track revenue for general fund expenditures could easily cut the city's millage rate in half.

Proposed general expenditures by broad categories in the new budget, compared with the present budget, are:

Council $4,800, down from $4,839; clerk's office $37,580,

HISTORICAL SITE? If the Ford land donation and Historical Society plans materialize this property on Griswold may one day house a village of old buildings with period furnishings. The old library building is to be moved to the site to become a museum.

Plan Moving Of Old Library

A "Greenfield Village" in Northville?

Certainly nothing as elaborate as Henry Ford's Dearborn landmark, but there's a good chance a small historical village may be developed on the vacant Ford property on the west side of Griswold Street.

Mayor A.M. Allen announced this week that Ford officials "have just about completed" arrangements to donate the nearly seven-acre site, located just north of the Ford parking lot, to the city for an historical site.

Council named Allen and Councilman Paul Vernon and the planning commission named Commissioner Francis Gazlay to a committee to meet with representatives of the Northville Historical Society to immediately begin planning for the site's future development.

Of immediate concern is the moving of the old library building, to be vacated soon by the township board, and of the Greek Revival home on East Main Street to the site.

Tentative long range plans call for the moving of several other old buildings to the site for restoration and furnishing for public viewing.

Among suggestions made so far—none of which have been formalized or approved by the council—are siting perhaps a half-dozen homes along either side of a wide pedestrian street. The old library building would be located at the foot of a cul-de-sac—focal point for visitors to the site.

The Historical Society, which has been campaigning for nearly a decade to save the old library building, hopes to turn it into a museum featuring artifacts from Northville's past.

Some city officials have suggested also that part of the property—probably that portion adjacent to the millpond dam at the north end

SENIOR TRIP—Dave Marino's smile pretty much tells the reaction of the more than 100 Northville High School seniors who spent the weekend in the Bahamas as part of the 1972 senior trip. The students left Friday morning and returned on schedule at 9:30 p.m. Monday. Dave was instrumental in arranging this year's trip.

Assistant High School Principal David Longridge shows his six-year-old son, David III, how he used to shoot marbles "knucks down" in the good ol' days.

KNUCKS DOWN!

Remember Cat's Eyes?

Ah, yes, raw knuckles and dirty knees were as much spring as spring was kites and buckety-buck and emmy-inny-over and pitching big league player cards.

But good gracious, talk to some of the people around town about "knucks down" and they give you that blank stare that suggests you're getting soft in the head.

That is until you run up against fellows like Dave Longridge, Reverend Gunther Branstner, Cliff Hill, and Frank Ollendorff.

Now these gentlemen are of the old school of shooting marbles "knucks down." They still wear the scars and the memories proudly.

They'll tell you about hunkering down over five-foot circles and blazing away with their special shooters and maybe leaving the kid next door in tears...and marbleless. About peeries and cat's eyes and boulders and steelies and teeing up. And about winning—or losing—whole pots.

Those were the days of winners keepers...those professional, serious, no foolin' games of skill that demanded a snappy, accurate thumb.

The good pastor remembers. "Oh, yes, I played 'em but I usually was the kid who went home empty-handed," recalls Mr. Branstner, still a little envious of those neighbor kids who stored away their winnings in cans and jars lining the garage walls.

None of this modern-day, panty-waist stuff of tossing marbles like a girl tosses a baseball. No sir.

Turn your shoe and draw a circle in the dirt maybe four, five and six feet in diameter. Remember?

"You bet," says Ollendorff-the-city-manager, hoping you'll invite him to a game out back of the city hall. "Knucks down and no hunching!"

Most remember the knuckles down-circle game this way:

Big circle, three or four or more

By Split Vote

Township OK's Budget

By a split vote of trustees and over strong objections from two township residents, the 1972-73 budget for Northville Township was approved.

The action came at Tuesday night's Settlement Day meeting and saw Treasurer

Joseph Straub and Trustee Bernard Baldwin casting the dissenting votes on adopting the budget. The balanced budget totals $325,075.

Citizen objections came from Wilson Tyler and Eugene Guido who criticized the budget not showing what figures had been proposed in each category for 1971-72 and how the figures stood, either over or under the anticipated amount.

The budget prepared for approval by trustees included actual expenditures for 11 months of 1971-72 and the proposed figures for 1972-73.

Tyler also urged board members to "delay adoption of the budget until an apparent $40,000 in excess of revenues over expenditures for this year can be explained."

Tyler said he was "suspicious of padding the expenditures to catch up with revenues" for the 1970-71 budget.

However, Clerk Eleanor Hammond said several expenditures, including $25,000 for the fish hatchery development, did not show in the current budget since they were incurred in March.

Tyler maintained that with the $40,000 excess the township should not assess taxpayers an excess of roll

In Edison Cook-Off

Chowder Wins Second

IT'S CHOWDER—Preparing her "Fifth Avenue Chowder" recipe which won second place in Edison's Queen of the Kitchen contest last week is Mrs. Archie Wilfong, a secretary and mother of five.

Joan Wilfong's recipe for "Fifth Avenue Chowder" won second prize for her last Wednesday in Detroit Edison's 11th annual cook-off for Women Who Work.

Mrs. Wilfong, her husband, Archie, and their five children make their home at 14 Hillcrest Road in Country Estates Mobile Homes park off Eight Mile Road—so both Northville and South Lyon can claim the winner.

The third time she was named to a finalist spot in the contest proved to be a lucky one for Mrs. Wilfong, who is a secretary for the Ann Arbor Housing Commission. She was one of 10 finalists in the 1969 and 1970, but this is the first time she has become one of the top three winners.

As second prize winner she received an electric hostess set consisting of fondue pot, hot platter and table broiler. First prize winner Annie Mae Owens of Detroit won the Queen of the Kitchen crown and top-of-the-line electric range of her own selection.

Mrs. Wilfong confides that she is a regular contest entrant and that she gave "as much thought to the recipe title as to the recipe itself."

She explained that because her recipe was not a cheap one—"seafood isn't"—she used the term "Fifth Avenue" to imply elegance.

Contest rules only stated that a recipe for a main dish based on the use of frozen foods be submitted. Mrs. Wilfong's choice utilized frozen cod filets, frozen baby shrimp and a package of frozen peas. It also contained a can of lobster meat and clams.

The week before the contest cook-off, judges Lee Murray, Janet O'Dell and Kay Savage selected 10 recipes from the more than 200 submitted during the month-long contest. Wednesday they tasted the recipes made by the finalists and chose the top three.

The finalists then were honor guests at lunch to which their bosses were also invited, as well as the press and Edison executives. Each finalist wore a large white orchid as she sat at the head table.

The room was bright-aspring with aqua cloths on the tables and arrangements of BYGONE ELEGANCE—Mrs. Paul Robinson steps outdoors on the first day of spring at her home on Reservoir Road in a white afternoon dress and parasol from yesteryear that is part of the Detroit Historical Museum's collection. Distinguished historic costumes will be modeled by Mrs. Robinson and other guild members in a "History a la Mode" show Saturday.

Discuss Move

Northville Historical Society will meet at the scout recreation building at 8 p.m. today (March 23) when a presentation will be made about moving the Old Library building and the Greek revival house on Main Street.

Mrs. Milton Koenig will present a historical paper about the structures. Anyone interested in the preservation project of the society is invited to attend the meeting.

Novi Jaycees Host Meeting

Novi Jaycee Auxiliary will be hostess for a spring district meeting April 20 at the New Holiday Inn on Ten Mile Road. About 175 women from seven areas are expected.

Miss Carol Duvall of WWJ-TV, guest speaker, is to present a program of arts and crafts for members from Novi, South Lyon, Milford, Walled Lake, Farmington, Southfield and Birmingham.

Novi Auxiliary committee workers Mrs. Ronald Mitchell and Mrs. John Milnichuk explain that the Jaycee Auxiliaries meet twice yearly at district sessions to further their community-oriented activities through joint action. Door prizes as well as the program are planned by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

WHEN SIXTY of the Detroit Historical Museum's collection of distinguished historic costumes are modeled in a benefit, "History a la Mode," March 25 in the museum's Dodge Hall, one of the models will be Mrs. Paul Robinson of 43430 Reservoir Road.

Judith Robinson, pictured in a white lawn afternoon dress, demurely sashed, from the museum collection also will wear a fabulous ball gown worn by Mrs. Russell A. Alger in 1890 to a Washington event. Mrs. Alger was the wife of a Civil War general who served as Secretary of War and as a Michigan governor.

"I've been a member of the Detroit Historical Guild ever since I was 18 years old," Mrs. Robinson recalls, noting that this month's issue of "Detroit Adventure" publication has a picture of her on the cover taken at the museum 20 years ago.

Looking back on her monthly trips to meetings, she adds that they have been worth while as "you learn something every month."

A highlight of the 2 p.m. show this Saturday will be the viewing of four generations of wedding gowns worn by members of the Kresge family. From the years 1875, 1897, 1923 and 1952, they originally were worn by Mrs. Wesley Banghart (Josephine Davidson), Mrs. Walter McVittie (Callie Banghart), Mrs. Stanley Kresge (Dorothy McVittie) and Mrs. Bruce Kresge (Peggy Sale).

They will be modeled by contemporary Kresge ladies, the Misses Kathy, Cynthia and Susan Kresge and Mrs. Bruce Kresge.

"Sports" enthusiasts of an earlier day will be represented by bathing costumes, as well as those for walking and riding.

Proceeds will go to the Detroit Historical Commission to help offset budget cuts imposed earlier this year. Tickets for the show and tea are $5 and may be obtained from the society office, TE1-0168. Mrs. Robinson also has a few and may be reached at 349-5137.

SIXTEEN members of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club heard Congresswoman Martha W. Griffiths at the BPW spring district meeting Sunday at the Mayflower Hotel.

She urged all women to contact their senator to tell him to vote down any amendment to the Equal Rights Amendment, now on the Senate floor, and to work to secure passage of the ERA. She also spoke on welfare reform, Social Security inequities and other items of interest to women. Mrs. Terry Danol, club president, reports.

Next meeting of the Northville club will be March 27 at Hillside Inn. Guests will be District Nine director, Mrs. Myra Roose, who will induct new members taken into the club this past year. Mrs. Grace Reed of the finance committee is meeting chairman.

MRS. JOHNSON

MRS. BOYDEN

TWO LIFELONG residents of Northville were honored last Friday as Northville Woman's Club presented 50-year gold pins to Mrs. Waldo Johnson and Mrs. H.A. Boyden.

As they were honored at the club's annual luncheon at Northville Presbyterian Church, they recalled school days together when Mrs. Johnson was Ruth Christensen and Mrs. Boyden was Hazel Perkins. Both continue to live in family homes.

"It isn't often you are able to live all your life in the home in which you were born," commented Mrs. Johnson as she also noted that this is a time of milestone for her. She and her husband marked their golden wedding anniversary last December 31.

As an added honor, Mrs. Stanley Sonk, social chairman for the luncheon, had arranged that miniature cakes decorated with golden numbers be at the honorees' places. Mrs. Leonard Klein, club president, cited their service to the organization. Mrs. Johnson is a past president and Mrs. Boyden has been membership chairman for many years.

As Northville Woman's Club concluded its 79th year, two members received corsages marking 25 years. Mrs. W. Leonard Howard came from her home in North Muskegon to receive her life membership with Mrs. George Kohs, a past president. Another out-of-towner attending was Mrs. Raymond Stillson, who came up from Gatlinburg, Tennessee, and was most enthusiastic about their retirement area.

Mothers' Club To Plan Sale

Northville Mothers' Club will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Glenn Deibert, 9825 Napier Road. Hostesses will be Mrs. Douglas Day, chairman, Mrs. Leroy Ording and Mrs. Samuel McSevery. It will be a business session, according to Mrs. Harold Wright, president, with plans to be made for a May benefit sale.

Martha Jean the Queen

Closes Lenten Series

Martha Jean "The Queen" Steinberg was the featured speaker last night (Wednesday) for the closing program of the First United Methodist Church's Lenten series.

Mrs. Steinberg spoke at the church at 7:30 p.m. with the usual potluck meal at 6:30 p.m. preceding her appearance.

"The Queen" has a regular daytime disc jockey program on WJLB radio and combines recorded music with her philosophy of "Radio for the People."

In the early part of 1970, she joined with Detroit's police commissioner, John F. Nichols, for a show called "Buzz the Fuzz," also shown monthly on television. Last night at the church she spoke on life in the city as she knows it and as her listeners and viewers experience it.

Couple in Bahamas

MRS DONALD C. ROOT

A trip to the Bahamas followed the marriage last Thursday evening of Sandra Lynn Nichols and Donald Charles Root at Our Lady of Victory Church. The Reverend Father John Wittstock officiated at the double-ring service at 6 p.m. in Northville.

The bride's father, Charles Nichols, 727 Carpenter, Northville, gave his daughter in marriage. She also is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Earehart of Plymouth. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Root, 27210 Pontiac Trail, South Lyon.

Sandy chose a floor-length gown of white organza fashioned with a full, gathered skirt and banded at the waist and wrists with satin. Ruffles of lace edged the high neckline and formed a portrait-yoke on the bodice. Lace also outlined the waistband and the hem, as well as her full-length veil of illusion.

She carried a nosegay arrangement.

The bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. William Root, were the couple's attendants. The matron of honor's gown was floor-length with long sleeves in beige with blue, brown and green. She carried one long-stem yellow rose.

Guests attended from Kentucky, South Carolina and Michigan. Following the ceremony the wedding party and families of the couple had dinner at Weber's in Ann Arbor.

For the occasion the bride's mother wore a floor-length beige chiffon culotte dress with brown velvet belt and orange butterfly detail. The bridegroom's mother chose a green, street-length suit.

Both the bride, a 1971 Northville High School graduate, and the bridegroom, a 1968 South Lyon High School graduate who is attending Oakland Community College will be going to Eastern Michigan University. He also is employed at Thermofil.

They will make their home in Ypsilanti.

Speak Vows

In Wayne

Gail Lynn Petzinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Petzinger, 20110 Whipple, became the bride of Kenneth Leonard Garfat in an evening ceremony March 3 at Saint Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Garfat of Plymouth.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Leight's banquet hall in Westland. After a wedding trip to southern California the couple will live in Westland.

Parents of the bride, who have been Northville residents about five years, also are packing. They and their 11-year old son, George, are moving to Nagoya, Japan, for four years.

What does a company specializing in good cooking and electric living serve its guests? Edison's professional staff chose a menu that began with fresh fruit cup. Highlight was roast beef on a plate with fresh asparagus and stuffed, stewed tomato with a biscuit.

Dessert was a jelly roll with lemon custard topping.

Since many in the audience were men, it was chosen with them in mind. Marion Ryan, director of the electric living department, announced at the luncheon that the company's next event will be for men, a King of the Patio contest with men to enter favorite patio recipes from May 1 to June 1.

As Joan Wilfong repeated, the day out alone is a "prize." Third place winner was Miss Judith Mosier, a speech teacher in Birmingham, who prepared "Souffle Quiche Aux Epinards" or Spinach Quiche. First place, Mrs. Owens, a member of the maintenance staff for the Detroit post office, prepared "Broccoli Supreme" with chicken.

At the conclusion, Mrs. Wilfong vowed, "I'm coming back next year for the crown and the stove!"

Novi's 'Cattle Barons' Celebrate First Calf

They're admittedly a long way from being cattle barons, but two enterprising young Novi men figure they're already the owners of the city's largest and fastest growing cattle herd.

"I don't think anybody else in Novi has any cows," says Kevin Hessee, a handsome clean-cut senior at Novi High School and co-partner with another Novi senior, Bob Pisha, in the cattle-raising venture. "I guess that makes our herd of three cows the largest in the city."

Actually, Novi's largest cattle herd numbered just "two-head" until some time early last Thursday morning when one of those "two-head" gave birth to a calf.

"I walked out to the shed before school," reported Hessee, "looked in, and there was the calf lying over in the corner. It had just been born. I ran right over to Bob's house in Meadowbrook Lakes and then we both came back and threw some straw in there. We were really excited."

News of the new-born calf spread quickly through Novi High School where the two youth's venture has been an item of interest of both students and faculty alike.

The proud "fathers" passed out cigars and in return received several cards of congratulations from neighbors and teachers.

But if two boys raising cattle and getting excited about the birth of a calf seems a bit out of place in this day and age of long-hair and the pop- and drug-cultures, it might in part be due to the two young men involved.

Both Kevin Hessee and Bob Pisha are the clean-cut, athletic types, who seem definite throw-backs to the All-American boys of days gone by.

Pisha was an All-State performer on Novi's outstanding football squad, and Hessee and Pisha were tabbed for All-Southeastern Conference honors for their prowess on the basketball court.

In addition, Pisha is president of N-Club, while Hessee is vice-president of the same organization. Hessee is also senior class treasurer.

"I guess it does seem a bit old-fashioned for us to be doing what we are," admits Hessee, "but we really enjoy it and definitely aren't embarrassed by it."

How did the two ever decide to get into the cattle-raising business in the first place?

"Well, we always liked to work outside and one day while we were driving around we started talking about buying a cow," recalls Hessee. "The next thing we knew, we had done it."

That initial transaction took place last September, as the boys purchased a black angus heifer. The venture was hardly a successful one, however. "We lost our shirts," said Hessee concisely.

By January the pair had already taken a financial loss and were far from pleased with the growth rate of their black angus "herd". It was at that time that they heard about a French-bred cattle called the Charolais. Referred to as the "silver cattle" because of their white color, the Charolais is supposed to be among the fastest growing species of cattl.

In 1960 there were a mere 25,000 Charolais in the United States and today there are only 500,000 - a very small figure, points out Hessee, when compared with the millions and millions of black angus and other cattle species.

But what really attracted the pair was the growth rate of the individual cows. The growth per unit of feed is faster than any other brand of cattle.

The Charolais, the "silver-cattle," was, then, what the pair wanted, but another problem soon reared its head - finances. The Charolais cost $600 apiece as compared with the $250-300 cost of most other brands.

The problem was solved with the formation of a partnership. Bob and Kevin managed to talk Bob's father, Claude Hessee, into entering into a business deal with them.

Mr. Hessee drew up a tentative contract, which the boys then revised with Bob's father acting as their attorney. Mr.

Hessee then revised the revision and finally, after much haggling, the terms of the contract were written out.

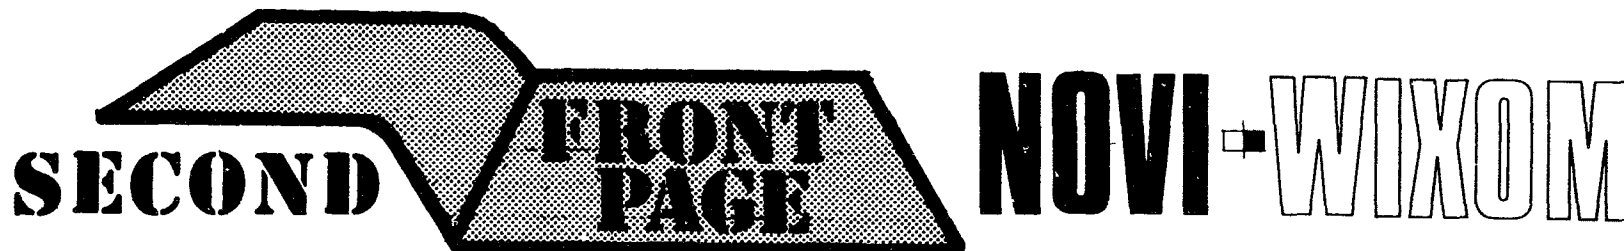

The partnership would be known as K&B Beef. Finances would be divided 50-50 with the boys putting up half of the money and Mr. Hessee putting up the other half. Profits would be split on a one-third basis, but Kevin and Bob had to contract to do all the work.

Those basically were the terms of the agreement, duly signed and witness, although Kevin says there are a couple of loop holes thrown in that evaded the gaze of his father.

In February the two Charolais arrived from Nova Scotia, Canada, both "with calf."

Thursday's "happy event" was the first. The other calf is expected any day. Because the two cows were only three-quarter bred Charolais, the calves will be seven-eighths Charolais.

NOVI'S BIGGEST CATTLEMAN—By virtue of having Novi's only cattle herd, Kevin Hessee figures he has clear-cut claim to the title of the city's biggest cattleman. Recently, the size of Hessee's herd increased 50 percent with the birth of a calf. Born sometime during the night last Thursday, the calf is nestled in the straw in the upper right hand corner of the picture, while the mother carefully stands guard.

By Council, Residents

R.U.D. Plan Criticized

Lingering criticism of developers Kaufman and Broad (K&B) and their use of common areas in the multi-sectioned Village Oaks subdivision continued to receive the attention of the Novi city council Monday.

Specifically at issue is the city's Residential Unit Development (R.U.D.) ordinance. The provisions of this ordinance allow developers to reduce subdivision lot sizes in R-1 (residential) areas provided the resultant savings in land are utilized elsewhere in that development for parks and other common-usage areas. K&B has utilized the RUD ordinance extensively in its Village Oaks subdivision. Approximately a month ago, Village Oaks residents started complaining that K&B had not fulfilled their obligation to create common areas in Village Oaks. Four different sections of Village Oaks had been completed, they charged, and there were still no parks.

Their grievances were answered by K&B Vice-president Barry Stolberg, who claimed no promises had been broken and his company was living up to its commitments in utilizing the RUD concept. "Nothing has changed between now and the time we received original plat approval for all of Village Oaks," said Stolberg. "We have laid out exactly where the parks are going to go and that's exactly where we intend to put them. The park distribution has already been approved by both the council and planning board."

The problem lies in the fact that Village Oaks is being constructed in sections and the distribution of parks is based on the overall development rather than the individual sections. For example, residents of Fairfield Farms, newest of the Village Oaks sections, have had their lots reduced, but the resultant savings of land will not be put in Fairfield Farms but in a different section of the overall Village Oaks development.

At last week's council session City Manager George Athas asked Attorney Howard Bond for his interpretation of a section of the RUD ordinance which requires "equal amounts of land shall

To Re-open Drive

Reach Agreement For Willowbrook

Willowbrook Drive will be re-opened, probably some time this summer, as the Novi city council and representatives of Willowbrook Homeowner's Association, Village Oaks Homeowner's Association, the Novi School Board, and developers Kaufman and Broad (K&B) hammered out a tentative agreement Monday.

Basically that agreement calls for the division of Willowbrook Drive into two separate roads. That section approaching Village Oaks Elementary School from the south through K&B's Fairfield Farms subdivision will be terminated to be a cloverleaf turn-around in the general vicinity of the front of the school.

A similar cloverleaf turn-around will terminate that section of Willowbrook Drive approaching the school from the north through Willowbrook subdivision.

The double cloverleaf plan will be divided by curbs and a strip of land.

The plan came amazingly close to satisfying the many varied interests and concerns involved in the re-opening of Willowbrook Drive.

As originally intended Willowbrook Drive was to be a through street, connecting residents of K&B's proposed Fairfield Farms subdivision with 10 Mile Road.

The matter was complicated within the past few years, however, with the construction of Village Oaks Elementary School on a 10 acre parcel of property located between Willowbrook and the proposed Fairfield Farms subdivisions.

Faced with an ever-increasing volume of traffic using Willowbrook Drive as the main access route to the school and fearing for the safety of their children, the Willowbrook Homeowner's Association received the city's permission to have the road closed last November.

The status of Willowbrook Drive has been up in the air ever since. Should the road be closed permanently, or, if reopened, on what terms should the re-opening take place?

The question was prompted Monday by K&B's request for preliminary site plan approval for Fairfield Farms.

In working out a satisfactory solution to Willowbrook Drive's future several viewpoints had to be taken into consideration.

The position of the school board, represented Monday by William Ziegler and Robert Wilkens, is that Willowbrook Drive should go through to the school on more than a temporary or emergency basis.

"We have a contract with K&B to put in a permanent vehicular bridge," said Ziegler, "and we expect them to honor that contract. A permanent vehicular bridge has got to be put in across the Ingersoll Creek on Willowbrook as you approach the school from the north."

Ziegler went on to indicate that the school board would agree to the two Willowbrook Drives not being connected as long as there was access to the school down Willowbrook from 10 Mile Road for busses and emergency vehicles such as fire trucks and ambulances.

"Anything less," he cautioned, "will not be acceptable."

Prime concern of the Willowbrook Homeowner's Association was the safety of the children. "There are no sidewalks along Willowbrook," pointed out Ray Thompson, "and the kids have to walk in the road. If you open Willowbrook to heavy traffic, you open it to disaster."

Gerald LaFave, President of the Association, was agreeable to the cloverleaf turn-around arrangement. "We can live with the school traffic," he said. "Our concern is that all the residents of Fairfield Farms don't start using our road as their major entry point."

Representatives of Village Oaks Homeowner's Association were concerned primarily that emergency vehicle should have access to Fairfield Farms down Willowbrook from 10 Mile and that all of the school traffic not be directed through their subdivision.

"I sympathize with the people along Willowbrook," said Village Oaks spokesman Osie Jackson, "but we don't have sidewalks in our subdivisions either. We feel that some of the burden of the school traffic should be shared by making Willowbrook Drive open at least as far as the school."

K&B Vice-president Barry

In Walled Lake

Eye New High School

A twenty-six member citizens committee formed to study future building needs within the Walled Lake School District made its recommendations to the board of education last week.

After 18 months of study, the report, which was presented to the board by Assistant Superintendent Rolland Langerman, cited increased enrollments and unequal educational facilities as reason to recommend the construction of the new high school.

Remodeling or the constructing of additions to Central High School was ruled out by the committee because of lack of space, sanitary sewer system and the high cost of producing satisfactory results especially in vocational facilities.

Currently, students from Central are being bussed daily to Western High School in the attempt to attain equality of education particularly in vocational courses, it has been noted. This program has not been as successful as originally anticipated because of scheduling difficulties, officials reported.

Committee members felt this method could not be utilized as a permanent solution to the senior high school growth problem.

Further, the report stated that "as senior high school enrollment begins to exceed capacity, the curriculum at Walled Lake Central will be far more restricted than at Walled Lake Western."

Western was built in 1969. Continuing, the committee suggested transferring Walled Lake Junior High students to Central which would provide those students with educational facilities similar to Clifford H. Smart Junior High.

The current junior high school would then be utilized for additional office space, centralization of administrative personnel, a small junior high, an elementary school, for daytime community education programs or a combination of uses, committee members said.

The continuing purchase of future school building sites under the assumption that undeveloped land will become scarce and that land values will continue to rise.

It was noted that when the district is fully developed, the educational facilities needed will total three senior high schools, seven to eight junior highs and 21-23 elementary schools.

Year-round school was rejected as a means to solve the current lack of space at the senior high level, although the committee felt there was future potential in the idea. The Board of Education was urged to "give further study and be alert to any breakthroughs in the innovative plan but felt that "savings in the construction of new schools would not offset the increased operating costs of running schools on a year-round basis."

No decision was made by the board at the meeting but the report was accepted for further study.

SAD STATE OF AFFAIRS—Definitely displeased with the heavy rains which turned Novi's roads to mud and flooded valuable plays areas late last week is four-year old Tommy Marcus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marcus of 40976 Hollydale. The looks on the faces of Novi residents who had to navigate the city's muddy thoroughfares were just as unhappy.

CHECKING IT OUT—Mrs. Jane Wiegand (right) receives a check for more than $480 from Mrs. Sylvia Torma, president of the Northville Education Association, and Raymond Spear, Superintendent of Northville Schools. Mrs.

Wiegand, who is chairman of the Library Commission, said the joint donation will be used to purchase children's books and reference materials.

Commission Request

Novi OK's Park Money

Novi's City Park should open on schedule this summer as the city council last week approved an increase of $2,000 to the budget of the Parks and Recreation Department for the remaining of the current fiscal year.

The increase was not approved, however, until City Manager George Athas had verbalized displeasure with the procedure used in asking for the funds and Councilman Louie Campbell had received assurances from two Parks and Recreation commission members about the proper operation of the park.

The Parks and Recreation Commission first made its plea for additional funds to the council several weeks ago. The money, they said, was needed in order to open the City Park on Walled Lake. At the time of the initial request City Manager Athas told the council that he had no idea where he could come up with the funds to meet the request. The council instructed him to keep looking, however, and Monday Athas revealed a plan to take $1,500 from the general fund gained via the trailer tax and $500 from interest earned on certificates of deposit.

Even with the additional $2,000, the Parks and Recreation Commission's budget will still end the year some $500 in the red, Athas said.

The majority of the increase, $1300, will be used for salaries for park personnel.

After revealing his plans for financing the increase Athas said he was getting "pretty damned mad" at the Parks Board. "I hate to see the precedent set of different departments coming to the council and asking for an increase in their budget. There is an established procedure for requesting additional funds and it should be followed."

Nevertheless, the city manager termed the request a "valid one," necessary for opening the Park on time in the spring.

Campbell's concerns regarded supervision of park personnel. Saying he had heard several complaints from citizens about the conduct of the life guards, Campbell said he would not approve the request for funds until some kind of "accountability for these people is made."

Councilman Denis Berry, a member of the Parks and Recreation commission, responded to Campbell's charges about park personnel. "Last year was the first year that Parks and Rec operated the City Park and we made a lot of mistakes," he said. "We hope to hire a higher grade of employee this summer. The only other alternative is to hire a full-time parks and recreation head which is kind of ridiculous."

Richard Bingham, another member of the Parks and Recreation Commission present at the council meeting, affirmed Berry's statements that a higher quality personnel will be sought this year and that members of the commission will provide better supervision.

LBM Names Arthur Seiler

Appointment of Arthur Seiler, 120 Rayson, as a district representative for Lutheran Brotherhood, Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society, has been announced by Karl Mueller, CLU, (Chartered Life Underwriter), Dearborn general agent.

Seiler received a bachelor of arts degree from Wayne State University, Detroit. He served in the U.S. Air Force and attends St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Northville.

Novi Sells 4 Buses, Hires New Teachers

Four old Novi school buses were sold last week after the school board opened and considered six bids—all but one of them from Baptist churches.

And even the one non-Baptist church bid came from a citizen who had hoped to donate two of the buses to a Baptist church.

When it was all over, however, all of the buses were sold to the Rawsonville Baptist Church of Ypsilanti—high bidder at $1,157.

In awarding the bid, board members indicated that while they would prefer selling the buses to a local church (Novi First Baptist was one of the bidders), they said they could not, in the interest of all taxpayers, ignore the high bid.

Novi Baptist bid $126 for one of the buses, $137 for two others.

In other business, Trustee William Ziegler requested that the board reconsider at its next meeting the possibility of accepting some kind of assessment for the proposed Taft Road paving project.

"I am not satisfied with our lack of action," he declared. "In still other business, several board members indicated displeasure with a budget study suggesting the hiring of a business manager and a bookkeeper for the next school year."

Informed that the suggestion was just that and nothing more, Ziegler and Trustee LaVerne DeWaard made it plain that they were prepared to battle such a suggestion when and if it comes up for serious consideration. DeWaard indicated he was displeased with those who "take for granted" board acceptance without pre-investigation.

The board also—Accepted the resignations of middle school physical education instructor, Mrs. Mary Warren, and high school English teacher James Karas and appointed as replacements Miss Sarah M. MacLeod (salary of $2,047) and Russell G. Gardner (salary of $2,670).

Authorized the administration to sell an old boiler and two used water heaters from Novi Elementary School.

Decided not to accept, at the recommendation of the athletic department, an invitation by Plymouth to rent its new hockey rink for any possible ice program that might be developed locally.

Authorized advertisement for bids on a plastic gymnasium for the middle school gymnasium.

Directed the administration to ask Kaufman & Broad to install slag on the Willowbrook drive to Village Oaks School and, if K & B declines, to inform the developer that the school would install it. Trustee Robert Wilkins urged immediate action, pointing out that children walking to school by this route must travel through mud daily.

—Heard a report from DeWaard that transportation of students to the airport by bus for non-sponsored class trips may be illegal, and it directed Attorney Frederick Knauer to investigate the matter and report back his findings.

—Heard a report that the conversion from oil to gas heat at Novi Elementary School has been completed, and that investigation into what caused the leakage of oil is continuing.

Revised the wording of the salary contract with principals and the assistant superintendent, without changing salaries, for clarification purposes.

Decided not to accept final payment bills for new school construction or installations except when the architect and building principals are present to answer questions of the board.

Last week's board meeting was held in Orchard Hills Elementary School, following a dinner meeting of board members and elementary staff members. A similar meeting with non-teaching personnel is planned later.

Faces Rabies Shots

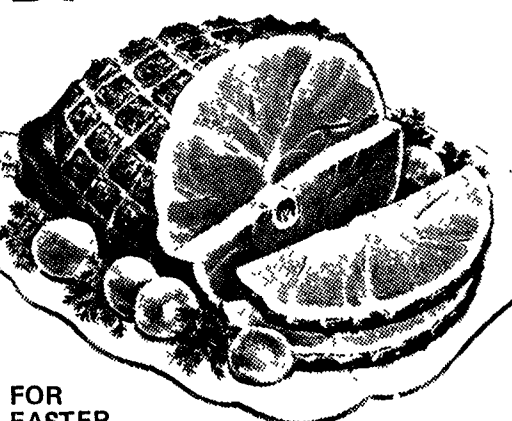

A Novi Man, Thomas Hada, 24, of 22949 Novi Road, may not have to undergo a long series of painful rabies shots if police can locate the dog which bit him Saturday, March 11.

Hada reportedly heard barking in his backyard at approximately 11 p.m. Investigation of the disturbance revealed a Siberian Husky dog fighting with his own dogs. He was bitten on the hand by the Husky as he attempted to break up the fight.

If the Husky can be located, a rabies check can be given. If not, Hada will have to undergo the shots as a precautionary measure. The dog was described by police as having black colorings over light brown fur.

Township Budget

charge (which a township legally may do with the fee going back to the township) and even suggested not leaving the one mill for the coming year.

Trustee Baldwin said it "may be mathematically possible to live without millage, but all departments will not always be self-supporting."

Baldwin said he was in favor of deferring action on the budget until estimates of next year's excess of roll revenues were checked.

Trustee Straub, commented he could not answer questions on the excess of roll estimates without investigating the matter.

Though he gave no reasons for voting against the budget, he has, in previous meetings, said he objected to money being put into the budget for the hiring of a third police officer.

Trustee Charles Schaeffer said he felt it was a "mistake to defer the entire budget because of (the excess of roll question). It can be investigated later."

The motion to approve the budget was made by Trustee Leonard Klein and supported by Trustee Schaeffer.

In other action Tuesday night, trustee voted to

- levy one mill in township taxes.

- designate Manufacturers National Bank, National Bank of Detroit and Detroit Bank and Trust as depositories for township funds.

- have the treasurer submit a report following purchasing of certificates of deposit noting interest rates offered by the three depositories.

- designate the second Tuesday of every month for regular board meetings, and

- tabled action on hiring a new township attorney to replace the firm of Draugelis and Ashton which said it will not renew its contract which expires March 31, with the township because of the demands of its growing private practice.

Scouts Mark Birthday

Northville Girl Scouts filled the Ida B. Cooke gymnasium last Wednesday as they celebrated the 60th anniversary of Girl Scouting in a community program arranged by the senior scouts with their leader, Mrs. Charles Lapham.

In addition to participating in the birthday celebration, the 17-member Brownie Troop 220 which meets at Amerman Elementary School also has had a special project of its own. Brownies, their leader, Mrs. James Simpson, explains, have been making friends around the world by studying other lands.

"The girls have worked so hard on their project which has led to an understanding of International Scouting," she commented.

The Brownies found that scouts overseas actually make clothes to help refugees, build roads in India, help with sheep and cattle and work in hospitals.

Colleges Are Topic For April

Selecting the right college will be the topic of the "Planning for College" program presented Wednesday, April 19, at Northville High.

Geared to sophomores, juniors and their parents, the program is being sponsored by the counseling department at the high school. Chairman of the program is Mrs. Alta Olson.

Speakers for the evening include Lyle See of Olivet College who will discuss four-year colleges and how to select colleges, Barbara Geil, admissions director for Schoolcraft College, speaking on what community college have to offer high school graduates, and Russell Bogarin of Schoolcraft, speaking on financial aids.

Mrs. Olson emphasized the program is designed to help students who are thinking of going on to college and to aid them in selecting the right type of college for their needs.

State May Pay Taxes

A LONG-STANDING battle to force state and county agencies to pay local taxes on its locally inhabited property appears to be producing some measure of success. According to Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, the state is now prepared to begin paying taxes on those housing properties, such as located at Maybury, that are occupied by year-round residents. Pressuring of county agencies, such as the Detroit House of Correction and the Child Development Center, to do the same is continuing he said.

Lauber to Return

Swim Club Elects Ed Kelly

Edward Kelly has been elected president of the Northville Swim Club, with Mrs. Keith (Sue) Wright named a vice-president in charge of membership.

Picked as secretary was Hal Axtell with David Biery serving as secretary. The new officers were recently elected by swim club members.

Robert Crane will be director of staff personnel and Mrs. Robert (Andy) Bogart will serve as social director.

Past president Dan Boland will remain on the board of the swim club after serving three years as president. Dane Trembath has been hired as manager of the club with Denise Sterner as his assistant.

Ben Lauber, Northville

High swimming coach, is returning to the club this year as advisor and consultant in the instructional program and competitive swim meets.

The club reports they plan to open on Memorial Day weekend.

Due to poor volunteer turnout, the annual membership work day has been canceled this year and the manager and his staff will be responsible for opening and closing the club.

This change, coupled with the expansion program, is reflected in the slight increase in annual dues for members, Kelly commented.

Area residents interested in joining the swim club may contact Mrs. Wright at 349-9956.

ARE YOU CHILDREN PROTECTED FROM ACCIDENTAL POISONING?

The "Safety Medicine Chest" pictured above is being promoted by Michigan pharmacists as an effective aid to prevention of accidental poisoning in the home. 'It's A Great Trip'

By NANCY DINGELDEY

On the first day of spring which proved to be partly sunny and what could be considered "warm" for a change, I couldn't resist a quick check of the flower beds. Well, delighted, I must add, I found my tulips poking out of the ground! I also found all the dead weeds that didn't get pulled out last fall!

One thing about snow... it covers up a lot of "not-so-pleasant" looking items. Lots of work facing me out in the garden but the thought of seeing some flowers bloom makes it all worthwhile.

Several Wixomites have just returned from the warm, sunny climes to the south. They were lucky enough to escape the mud and waters created by melting snow for a short time and bask in areas already green and lush.

The Bob Trombleys enjoyed a delayed 25th wedding anniversary trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico along with Irene and Jim Rollo and Beverly and Sam DiLaRosa. Sam was smacking his lips over the hot tamales, enchiladas, tortillas, all doused with extra hot sauce.

Florence says you need an asbestos lined stomach to make it through dinner or any meal for that matter! And since Sam speaks Spanish, the six had little trouble getting where they wanted to go.

The night before departure, the group, which numbered 99 in all, stayed at the airport motel and the "six from Wixom" enjoyed a little predeparture party. Then it was six days on the Pacific Ocean surrounded by mountains and palm trees — "The closest thing to Hawaii and absolutely beautiful."

And as always the case when you're really enjoying yourself, there's not enough time to squeeze all the "let's do" things in. There was surfing, sunning, swimming, and moonlight excursions with the palm trees at each night spot lighted up with tiny lights that reflected into the swimming pools.

They toured Jalisco where President Nixon stays on "retreats" and where Elizabeth Taylor spends the month of September. "It's all so beautiful and lush, but the difference between the rich and poor is so stark and unbelievable," they report.

Probably the most unusual thing they did was to take a parachute ride. Jim Rollo took pictures of this. Anyway, somehow they got strapped into a parachute and a boat shooting out into the Pacific Ocean created the velocity needed to get the chute up into the air. Once up, they enjoyed a seven minute spectacular view of the coast for miles. How they got down is another story but Florence said it was great and really different.

Fortunately, a larger plane was available for the flight back to the States. "Fortunately," says Florence, "because everyone brought back so many things — jewelry, purses, shoes, Mexican tapestries and you name. Bev brought back some things for the shop and that is truly worth investigating, and as for Irene, it's a good guess as to what she brought back. Seems to me that on one trip she and Jim took she hauled home a huge fountain.

In the meantime, Florence Coy has returned home from a trip that took her to Melbourne, Florida and a six-day visit with her stepmother. Gone nine days in all, she had a three day leisurely drive down with several other friends and then returned last weekend by plane.

And Mary Parvu is back from a stay in Hollywood, Florida. Probably a few more families will be "hitting that trail" come Easter vacation.

Janie down at the General Store is all smiles. She's a grandma again. Her daughter in Chicago had a baby boy.

Speaking of the General Store, I'm sure you are all acquainted with Jane and Fran but it might be nice to mention the new faces. Sam Poota owns the store, Frank Mann is the young fellow busily stacking the shelves, while Amra Bahoura is at the check-out counter. When Fran isn't behind the meat counter, Kathy Bell usually is. And from time to time there might be a few others but those I mentioned are usually there during the day.

Right next door in what used to be the barber shop you'll find two attractive ladies eager to serve you. There's been quite a change in the place. Stop in and have a cup of coffee with Nancy Southerland, whom a lot of you probably already know. Gracing the other desk is Jean Miles and their business is the National Income Tax Service of Wixom.

Both gals are notary publics and offer complete bookkeeping, income tax and printing service. They have several years of experience in all phases of accounting and tax work, and at this time of year especially, it sounds like, the place to go.

Curtain goes up tonight at the E.V. Ayres Auditorium of Western High School and the musical "Oklahoma." It will be staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday night at 8 p.m. Scattered tickets are still available and is well worth the $2 admission price. "Break a Leg!"

A three-act comedy by the French playwright Jean Anouilh, "Ring Around the Moon", will be the next offering of the Inter-Lakes Masquers. The group, sponsored by the Walled Lake Community Education Department, will be having auditions in room E-105 of Western High at 7:30 on Monday, March 27 and Wednesday, March 29. Announcement of parts will be made at the general meeting on April 5 and will also include back stage and technical jobs.

The play will be staged in June, and it is noted that a variety of ages and types will be cast in the parts. So all of you that want to hit the stage, now's your opportunity.

Be on the lookout! A blue and white 20" Sears girls bike with a banana seat was reportedly taken from the Jerry Naragon garage on Hopkins Drive. The bike has a W.I.P. sticker and has been engraved. The bike "disappeared" the evening of March 19.

New Director Named

William M. Womack, Ph.D., assistant superintendent at Caro State Home and Training School since January, was named superintendent of the Plymouth State Home and Training School succeeding Dr. Homer Weir.

Dr. Weir was appointed superintendent-designate of the proposed center in Wayne county last October and since that time has also continued as Plymouth superintendent.

"With site acquisition in Southgate completed Dr. Weir's full time is required to expedite planning and construction of the new center," said Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health and former Northville State Hospital superintendent.

"Dr. Womack brings to his new post an extensive background in special education and administration," said Dr. Yudashkin. "In addition, he has broad experience with a variety of health care agencies in the metropolitan

State Money Released For Maybury

The U.S. Department of Interior had released $55,000 toward the purchase of a vital 26-acre tract at the new Maybury state park along Seven Mile Road in Northville Township, Senator Carl Pursell revealed this week.

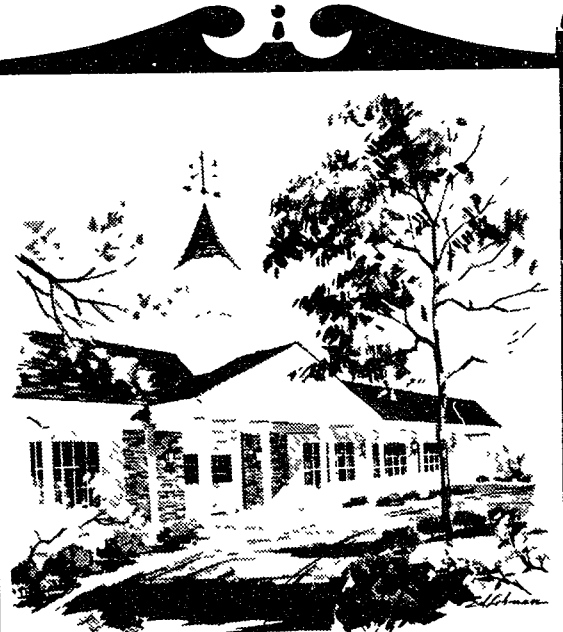

"The price of the land, which fronts for 600 feet along 7-Mile Road and extends more than 1,800 feet deep, is $115,000," said Senator Pursell.

"The remaining $55,000 will be made available through the state recreation bonding fund administered by the Department of Natural Resources.

"Acquisition of this important piece of land will be a vital addition to the 865-acre park, which was the former Maybury Sanatorium site.

"It will be a valuable adjunct to the state's already fine park system."

The Natural Resources Commission recently authorized the purchase of the 26-acre site.

Traffic Survey Cites Problem Intersections

A study of five problem intersections in the city of Northville has been completed by AAA and, along with recommendations, is currently being reviewed by the city police department's traffic division.

The survey, conducted during the past five months, zeroed in on the intersections of Seven Mile and Center Street, Eight Mile-Randolph Street-Taft Road, Main and Center streets, Center Street and Baseline Road and Seven Mile and Northville Road.

Also studied were the areas surrounding Cooke Junior High and Amerman Elementary schools.

City Police Chief Samuel Elkins commented he and Lieutenant Louis Westfall are currently studying the AAA report along with City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

"Those recommendations which we believe are feasible we will try to bring into being," Chief Elkins said.

According to the study, the Seven Mile and Center Street intersection where horses cross from the barn area to Northville Downs is currently carrying the maximum number of vehicles for a two-lane road.

A traffic volume count showed 4,545 vehicles traveled through the intersection in a 24-hour period when races were not being held at the Downs.

The report found much of the congestion in the intersection is due to all lanes of traffic being stopped while the horses cross. It recommended relocation of the barns to a site where the horses could take a more direct route to the track.

However, realizing this may not be feasible in the near future, AAA traffic analysts recommended a bridge for horses be built in the interim over the creek to the southwest corner of the intersection.

"This would eliminate horses from the Center Street roadway," the report states, "and would also make the horses and intersection visible to all concerned."

Also recommended for the area were stop lines painted on the roadway and signs stopping traffic several feet back from the intersection, allowing horses sufficient room to cross the road.

The Eight Mile - Randolph Street - Taft Road intersection study noted that the heaviest traffic flow is on Eight Mile Road where about 75 percent of the total 17,600 vehicles per day using the intersection can be accounted for.

Due to the design of the traffic island at Eight Mile and Randolph, the study suggests marking the pavement to channel traffic for right and left turns off Randolph and left turns from westbound Eight Mile Road.

Traffic volume counts were not high enough to warrant a full-time traffic signal at the intersection, but the report recommended a signal be in operation during times when students cross to and from Cooke Junior High.

The Main and Center street study showed more than 10,600 vehicles traveling through the intersection in a 24-hour period.

During peak hours of 3 to 5 p.m., approximately 25 percent of all vehicles entering the intersection make either right or left turns.

The study showed turns are restricted by cars parked close to the corners and recommended parking be prohibited within 30 feet of the crosswalk to give better sight visibility.

Also suggested was 20 additional feet of parking lanes be reserved for right turn only lanes, allowing through traffic to continue through the intersection.

At Center Street and Baseline Road, location of trees and a house on the northeast corner restrict sight visibility to the north for drivers stopped at the sign on Baseline, the report found Removing trees was suggested along with erecting a double-arrow sign on the west side of Center Street facing Baseline indicating a right or left turn is necessary at the intersection.

Seven Mile and Northville Road review suggested a traffic light and a right turn lane on northbound Northville Road south of Seven Mile.

AAA noted they contacted Wayne County Road Commission and the traffic signal will be installed as soon as the area is inspected by the railroad division of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The report also stated an extra lane is being considered for the area by the county.

Advertising signs which impair sight visibility should be moved, the study said.

At Amerman Elementary, the report showed 60 percent of the 2,300 vehicles which go through the intersection of Eight Mile and Center between peak hours of 3 and 5 p.m. are making turns.

Recommendations included limiting student crossing to three areas, eliminating the crossing on Center Street south of Eight Mile.

Also suggested were a left turn lane on westbound Eight Mile and a right turn lane on northbound Center, since 82 percent of the turns were made in those two directions.

Traffic volume counts taken by AAA in September and October of 1971 showed the Eight Mile and Center Street intersection to be the busiest.

Broken down by intersection, Eight Mile east of Center, 12,619 cars were counted in 24 hours with 1,049 between 4 and 5 p.m.; Center south of Eight Mile, 10,161 cars with 858 between 4 and 5 p.m.; Center north of Eight Mile, 2,468 cars with 305 between 6 and 7 p.m.; Eight Mile west of Center, 506 during the peak hour of 7 to 8 a.m.

Eight Mile west of Taft Road 7,322 with 662 during peak of 5 to 6 p.m.; Eight Mile east of Randolph, 5,597 with 538 during peak of 3 to 4 p.m.; Randolph south of Eight Mile, 3,320 with 307 between 4 and 5 p.m.; Taft north of Eight Mile, 1,367 with 163 between 7 and 8 a.m.

On Center north of Main, 10,608 cars with 1,029 during peak hour of 4 to 5 p.m.; Center south of Main, 4,111 cars with 1,030 during peak hour 4 to 5 p.m.; Main west of Center, 6,955 cars with 575 between 3 and 4 p.m.

Main east of Center, 5,770 in 24 hours with 513 between 3 and 4 p.m.; Northville Road north of Seven Mile, 6,168 with 599 between 3 and 4 p.m.; Northville Road south of Seven Mile, 9,557 with 1,028 between 3 and 4 p.m.

TRAFFIC SURVEY — Reviewing the results of the AAA study of problem intersections in the city of Northville are (seated, left to right) Samuel Elkins, chief of police; Charles Gordon, traffic analyst for AAA; and Lieutenant Louis Westfall, head of the police department's traffic division. Standing are Robert DeCorte, AAA traffic engineer; and Richard Roberts, AAA manager.

Weight Limits Take Effect

Enforcement of truck axle load limit reduction started last week on highways under the jurisdiction of the Wayne County Road Commission

Normal axle load limitations are reduced each year to protect roads from damage during the "spring breakup period" (Normally occurring in March, April and May). This normal axle loading is reduced by 25 per cent on Class "A" roads and by 35 per cent on Class "B" roads.

To provide a reasonable continuous and homogeneous system with Wayne County in conjunction with the City of Detroit and Michigan Department of State Highways road networks and the frost restrictions followed by each jurisdiction, all Class "A" roads will be designated as "frost free" with the following local area exceptions on which axle loadings shall be reduced by 25 per cent:

Sheldon Road, - Base Line to Main, Six Mile Road, - Inkster to Middle Belt; Seven Mile Road, - Rodgers to Napier, Sheldon Road, - Five Mile to Six Mile; Sheldon Road - Ann Arbor Road to Ann Arbor Trail; Five Mile Road - Northville to Eckles.

Axle loadings are imposed on the above Class "A" roads because of their age, condition, and structural insufficiency.

Armed Men Hit Gas Station

In Novi

An armed robbery of Ventura's Mobile Station at 43407 Grand River netted a trio of thieves some $105 last week.

According to Gary Ortwin, the station attendant at the time of the robbery, three subjects, two Negro and one white, arrived at the station at approximately 6:15 p.m.

Under the pretense of asking for paper toweling to wipe their hands, the trio went inside the station where they suddenly pulled out a sawed-off shotgun, a pistol, and a knife.

They searched the safe, but found no money and then went to the cash register where they found $105 in cash.

The trio then fled north along Grand River in a 1966 dark green Pontiac Catalina, according to police reports. The rear license plate had been removed from the car, Ortwin told police.

The case is under investigation. It was the first armed robbery in Novi this year.

A cassette tape player was stolen from the car of a Novi man, while it was parked in front of his home overnight last week.

Terry Goyt of 44118 McMahon told police he had parked his car in front of his home at 11 p.m. Wednesday, March 15, and when he returned to the vehicle at 6:30 a.m. the following day the cassette player had been removed.

An automobile stolen from Ann Arbor Wednesday, March 15, was recovered by Novi police on Thursday.

Mrs. Pashigian, owner of Nick's Grocery at 2206 Novi Road called police and reported a 1965 green Volkswagen had been parked in front of her store for some time with no apparent owner in sight. Officers checked the vehicle and discovered it had been stolen the previous day.

Dale Kopke of 1321 West Lake Drive reported to police that someone had stolen his bicycle. The bike, which had been left next to his home, was apparently stolen some time between Wednesday and Thursday, March 15 and 16.

Cynthia Taylor of 15454 Gilcrest reported someone had been cutting down trees from a lot located near Connemara Drive off Nine Mile Road. Police investigated and discovered that approximately 9 to 10 trees had been cut down and many of them were just left lying on the property.

The cutting has been going on for the past two months, according to information received by police.

Duke's Bar at 801 South Lake Drive has had its liquor license suspended for 30 days by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. The suspension will begin Monday, March 27.

In a hearing before Commissioner Van Tiems Monday, March 20, Orville S. and Peggy J. Duke, owners of the bar, were found guilty on two counts — selling liquor to an intoxicated person and allowing intoxicated persons to loiter on their property.

The sentences were identical on both charges. The license is to be suspended for 30 days and a $300 fine must be paid. If the fine is not paid, the license will be suspended for an additional 60 days.

It was further ordered that the 30 day suspension periods on both charges run simultaneously. Police are to pick up the license Monday, March 27.

The suspension of the liquor license of Duke's Tavern is directly related to a hit and run property damage accident that took place September 25, 1971.

A car driven by Horace Reed Hamilton was hit by a blue pickup truck on Novi Road near 10 Mile. Seconds after the impact the pickup took off headed north on Novi Road.

Approximately 20 minutes after the accident, police located the pickup outside Duke's Bar. From descriptions of the hit and run vehicle and from damage on the truck itself, police surmised that the pickup truck at Duke's was the one involved in the accident.

Police entered the bar and found the owner of the truck, Claude Lambden, 42, of Brighton, seated at the bar with an open bottle of beer, half-finished, sitting before him. Lambden was arrested on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

Lambden pled guilty to leaving the scene of an accident Thursday, March 16, in the 52nd District Court. He was fined $154 and given 120 days probation. In addition, he was ordered to pay $400 in restitution for damages done to the Hamilton vehicle within 90 days. The driving under the influence of alcohol charge was dismissed.

James Gibb, 34, a Farmington man, has been arrested for violation of Novi's dumping ordinance.

On Sunday, March 12, Gibb allegedly drove into an open field at 11 Mile and Wixom Roads and dumped the shell of a 1963 Carmen Ghia automobile body, police reported. He was apprehended and arrested at approximately 2 p.m. by Novi police after removing the junk body, Gibb was issued a ticket for violation of the dumping ordinance.

He is to appear in 52nd District Court on or about Thursday, March 23.

Corporal Frank Barabas and Patrolman Gerald Pratt conducted approximately 30 two to four year old children from the Village Oaks Co-operative Nursery through a tour of the Novi Fire and Police Departments Friday, March 17. The youngsters were shown various police and fire paraphernalia, including hand cuffs, gas masks, and riot helmets.

In Northville

Charges of possession of narcotics against Robert W. Handyside of 496 West Cady Street were dismissed last Thursday.

The action came before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis.

Motion for dismissal was made by the prosecuting attorney, court officials said, based on the recent Michigan Supreme Court ruling invalidating the state's marihuana laws.

Handyside had been arrested by city police February 27 in a raid on his apartment.

William S. Boyce, 35, of Detroit will face examination charges of possession of dangerous drugs Monday in district court.

Boyce was arrested by city police last Thursday. He was arraigned on the charge, pled not guilty and is free on $2,000 bond.

According to police, Boyce was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and was being taken to the station for booking when officers noticed him emptying pills from his pockets onto the floor of the patrol car.

A search by police turned up more than 500 pills in his possession. Pills analyzed by the Michigan State Police crime lab showed more than 150 of them to contain amphetamines and barbiturates.

Boyce was also arraigned on the charge of drunkenness, stood mute and trial was set for April 25.

Police are investigating the theft of a high rise manifold valued at $250 stolen from an apartment at 164 East Cady Street. The theft took place between 10 p.m. March 12 and 5:30 p.m. March 14.

Police said unknown persons broke into the apartment by kicking in the door.

Odell Peek of Detroit picked up by city police March 15 for allegedly passing counterfeit $10 bills, has been turned over to agents from the United States Treasury.

Police said Peek is suspected of passing five of the bills at Northville Downs and the Good Time Party Store.

COURT NEWS

In district court last Thursday, Edward D. Kortman of Pontiac was fined $64 after he pled guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He was arrested by city police March 10.

Terry Brand of Pontiac was found guilty of driving left of center causing an accident and fined $79. Brand was ticketed by Wayne County Sheriff's deputies following an accident February 18 on Northville Road just south of Seven Mile.

On March 14, Terry E. Lynn of 168 East Main Street pled guilty to driving with a revoked license and was fined $39 (suspended) and sentenced to three days in jail, credit given for time already served.

Lynn was picked up March 10 by city police.

Following a pre-sentence investigation, Gary F. Adcox of Wayne was given three days voluntary work detail and six months voluntary probation. He was arrested February 13 by city police for drunken driving.

Milton E. Williams of Plymouth was fined $29 for drunkenness. He was arrested February 10 by city police.

On March 13, Robert H. Rattai of 100 East Cady Street pled guilty to driving with a suspended license and was fined $54. He was arrested March 12 by city police.

On February 22, Bernard L. Jackson of Detroit arrested February 12 by township police, was fined $100 and placed on one year probation for drunken driving.

In Wixom

Four cases of larceny from an auto — each of them stemming from the Ford Motor Company plant on Wixom Road — were handled by Wixom police last week.

Monday, March 13, Wiley Runions of Walled Lake told police a spare tire valued at $35 had been stolen from the trunk of his car while he was at work at the Assembly Plant. Admittance to the trunk was gained, police reported, by punching out the lock.

Also on Monday, a Detroit man, Willie Johnson, reported his trunk had been broken into and a quantity of items had been taken. Missing were two drills valued at $89 and $25, miscellaneous tools valued at $86, and a spare tire and rim valued at $100. Total estimated value of the items taken was $300.

The theft took place, Johnson told police, sometime between 4:50 p.m. Monday and 4:30 a.m. Tuesday while he was at work.

Two more Ford employees were victimized in a similar manner while at work Wednesday. Peter Kovach, a Roseville man, and John Crawford of Union Lake, each had tires stolen from the trunks of their cars.

Mary Margaret Reinhardt, 36, was arrested on charges of being drunk on a public street and was issued a traffic violation for having no proof of vehicle ownership for her car. The arrest came when officers were called to the scene of an automobile accident on North Wixom Road. Mrs. Reinhardt was observed staggering around and officers detected the smell of alcohol on her breath, according to reports.

Novi City Manager Collapses at Work

Novi City Manager George Athas was back at work Monday after collapsing at City Hall Friday afternoon and being transported by ambulance to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

"I had meetings every night last week," said Athas, "and was really tired Friday afternoon. I had just decided to go home and was walking out of my office when I started to get dizzy. I must have passed out on the floor in the council chamber because the next thing I remember is someone saying 'get some oxygen'."

Doctors at St. Mary Hospital diagnosed the collapse as being due to exhaustion. Athas was released Friday evening and spent the weekend relaxing at home.

Last October the city manager suffered a minor heart attack. An electrocardiogram conducted Friday revealed no further heart problems.

Crisis Walk-in Center Located in Plymouth

Jaycees Join Council To Fight Drug Abuse

Northville Jaycees have joined with two other Jaycee organizations—Canton and Plymouth—in a financial campaign to support the Council for Community Concerns (CCC), an organization based in Plymouth to combat drug and related problems in this area.

First benefit program will be a community dance scheduled for June 16 at Roma Hall in Livonia.

CCC got its start in November, 1970 when a group of citizens joined together to discuss the drug problem in the areas of Plymouth, Northville and Canton.

From that discussion, according to Northville Jaycee Dennis Dildy, it was found that drugs were not the only problem faced in those areas. "An idea of a crisis phone and an emergency drop-in center developed."

Out of the discussion came the idea of establishing a "crisis phone and an emergency drop-in center."

Because the drug problem had its roots in other problems, the organization's name was not limited to drugs. Under the all-encompassing name Council for Community Concerns, the new organization charged itself with dealing with a variety of problems.

First two functional programs developed by the council were the emergency phone line and the crisis walk-in center, explained Dildy.

The phone line was (455-4900) called "Buzz Line" and it became operational February 26, 1971. In the succeeding year more than 2,000 calls were received requesting solutions to a host of problems.

Second functional program to go into operation was the crisis walk-in center, which was located in a house at 185 South Harvey Street in Plymouth. It was named "Our House."

An average of 85 persons come to the center each week seeking answers to their problems.

Dildy said the center and phone line "are open and operating about 12 hours a day, seven days a week. Persons working on the phone lines and at the center go through 70 hours of intensive training, he said.

Training covers areas of pharmacology of drugs, suicide, depression, family and peer counseling, empathy skills, alcoholism, and related subjects. Volunteers range from 16 years old up to and including adults.

What does the future hold for such an organization?

"Better service to the entire communities of Plymouth, Northville and Canton," said

Dildy. "It is important to recognize that the problems of those three areas inter-relate to each other and the problem can best be solved through them working together towards those solution."

"Some of these better services can be job placement, better counseling, more drug prevention work and being an aid to the community in the education of the drug problems as well as the other problems that should be faced in the communities."

"The more alternatives offered to a person to fulfill his individual needs the better that person will be to the community and himself."

Insulation is Housewarming!

Send for this Free Booklet

What a warm difference insulation makes in every room in your house. Like an invisible blanket, it prevents the heat from escaping to the outside and the cold from creeping in. Makes a difference in your fuel bills, too...makes them go down! Next summer, the same insulation will save you money on cooling costs. It's easy to install insulation yourself, or, as shown, have it pneumatically blown in. Consumers Power Company neither sells nor installs insulation, but for a number of years has encouraged their customers to investigate the benefits of insulating their homes.

If you'd like to get a more complete story on how insulation can give you more personal comfort and save you money, mail the attached coupon and we'll send you our free bulletin, "Gas Heating Insulation Facts."

Citizens May Force Vote

Unlimited Tax Power Seen in 'Authority'

Last week's action by Northville township board members naming three members to the building authority sets the wheels in motion for construction of the proposed township hall - fire station.

Under Michigan laws governing authorities, an authority has unlimited power to issue bonds without a vote of the people and to levy whatever millage is necessary to pay off the bonds.

The building is slated to be constructed on 8.9 acres of land donated to the township by Thompson - Brown developers. The site is located on Six Mile Road north of the proposed Winchester Road and east of Bradner Road.

Although the township has not received the deed to the land, the board has authorized the supervisor and clerk to sign the deed, pending language clarification in the document by the township attorney.

If residents of the township wish to force the question of building the $500,000 complex to a vote, petitions signed by at least 10 percent of the registered voters in the township must be filed with the clerk asking for a referendum vote on the issuance of bonds.

However, the petitions cannot be circulated until the building authority has published its articles of incorporation.

Steps the authority, which is composed of Kenneth West, William Chizmar and Carl Lundquist, must take include:

- drawing up articles of incorporation.
- having the articles approved by the township board.
- filing articles with county clerk and secretary of state.
- publishing the articles, after which residents have 30 days to circulate and file petitions asking for a referendum.

If petitions are not filed or if the building authority is upheld in the referendum by a simple majority of the voters, the building authority proceeds with issuing bonds to raise funds to finance the construction of the township hall - fire station.

Crime Rate Climbs, But Calls Decrease

Although city police calls decreased slightly in February compared with the same month last year, most categories of crimes continued to increase.

A total of 453 calls were made to police last month compared with 473 in February 1971. To date, 990 calls have been received, up from the 897 received during the first two months of 1971.

The figures were released recently in the city department's monthly report.

Categories showing an increase include assaults, two compared with none in February, 1971; attempted larceny, one compared with none; thefts from homes, one compared with none; thefts from cars, one compared with none; vandalism, six compared with one; burglaries, four compared with one; and bad check complaints, 10 compared with four.

City police arrested 20 persons for drunkenness, compared with 10 on the same charge in 1971; disorderly conduct, four compared with six; narcotic violations, one each month; weapon violations, one compared with none, possession of illegal weapon, one compared with none, and drunken driving, three compared with none.

During February, city police also recovered two bicycles, investigated one tampering with an auto complaint, recovered two stolen cars, one stolen from Northville and one stolen from another city, investigated four family trouble calls, treated six injured persons, investigated one suspicious vehicle and one drug overdose, arrested six persons wanted by other police agencies, arrest 15 persons on warrants held by the local department, recovered two walk-aways and one escapee.

Four fires were reported last month, down from 15 reported the same month in 1971.

In juvenile activity, five youths were arrested by police, one for a traffic offense.

Two girls, ages 14 and 16, were charged with larceny from a building, one 16-year-old boy with attempted larceny and one 15-year-old girl with larceny under $100.

Four of the cases were handled within the department and one was referred to juvenile court.

Fire Insurance Rates Could Drop in Novi

Property owners in certain sections of Novi could well be entitled to a reduction in their fire insurance rates, City Manager George Athas reported Monday.

Insurance premiums are based in part on the fire rating assigned to specific areas by the Michigan Fire Underwriters. Many portions of Novi have a rating of ten, which, in the words of Athas, is "about as low as you can get."

Recently, however, the city has applied for and received a lower fire rating in certain areas, dropping from a ten rating to an eight rating. The drop in ratings could save residents in the affected areas as much as $10 per month in fire insurance, said Athas.

Areas affected by the rating drop are all of the Willowbrook subdivisions, Meadowbrook Glens, Orchard Hills, Westridge Downs, and all of Village Oaks. People living in these areas should contact their insurance companies and request the reduction in their fire insurance premiums.

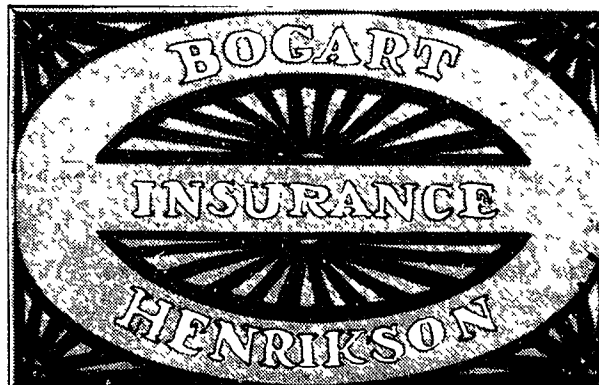

The city's request for lower ratings was based on the availability of Detroit water, the location of fire hydrants, and the fact that the areas in question were all within four miles of the city fire station.

A further reduction of the fire rating from an eight to a seven is still being sought.

Open Handball Courts

The handball-paddleball courts at Schoolcraft College will be open for public use on Saturday mornings starting April 8.

The College has six courts which may be rented for $6 an hour from 10 a.m. until noon. They will be open to singles and doubles on a first come basis.

The Saturday openings have been established by the office of community services in response to numerous requests for use of the popular facilities.

Lockers and showers will be available, but persons using the courts on Saturday will need to furnish their own gym clothing and game equipment.

For Millage, Bond Issue

Election Eyed

"It's quiet, very quiet," commented Superintendent Raymond Spear on Northville Schools' upcoming bond issue and millage request.

"And if it's quiet and there is not a lot of negativism, that's usually a sign that chances are good for passage of the questions," he explained.

In a special election April 8, the school district will ask voters for an additional 1.5 mills for one year only for operation and $1.45 million bond issue which, Spear emphasizes, will not necessitate an increase in taxes.

The superintendent attributed the pre-election quietness to the fact that "people recognize the community is growing and they are prepared to meet the needs of an expanding school system which is trying to meet its commitment of providing schools to educate the students."

Spear said the district is seeking the 1.5 mill hike in operational millage to "maintain our current educational program and keep up with the expanding enrollment. The millage increase is for today's children today."

"The $1.45 bond issue we are asking for," Spear said, "is for today's children tomorrow."

"The community is growing and the first bond issue, which does not require a tax increase, starts a three-phase building program for schools to meet the needs through the middle or late 1970's," he said.

Included in the $1.45 million bond issue are monies to purchase additional school sites (including $45,000 site improvement costs for the 10-acre site in Highland Lakes), renovations and improvements to existing schools in the districts, equipment for buildings, alarm system, lighting of tennis courts and equipment inventory.

The millage hike, which is for one year only, is expected to raise an additional $142,000, based on an increase in state equalized valuation from the current $87 million to an estimated $95 million in the 1972-73 school year.

Spear said the preliminary budget for the coming school year is pegged at $3.75 million, cut from the original $3.9 million. The current budget is $3.25 million.

He said the additional millage is being sought for one year only because the "whole financial structure of the state is up for revision and may exclude the property tax as a method of financing school districts."

If approved, the money will be used to —handle an estimated 5.5 percent increase in operation costs of the district;

—handle an estimated 10 percent increase in enrollment; —expand the teaching staff of offset the increased enrollment;

—make up anticipated loss of one-quarter mill from county tax allocation to fund Wayne County Community College.

—offset the anticipated decrease in state aid per pupil for the 1972-73 school year; and —finance salary adjustments of up to 5.5 percent.

"The district has got to ask voters for the money now," Spear commented about placing both requests before the voters at the same time.

"The property tax is overburdened," he admitted, "but now is the only way we can get the money to get the job done."

Currently, residents of the school district are paying 35.97 mills in school taxes — 28.9 mills for operation and 7.07 mills for debt retirement.

Polls will be open April 8 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Absentee ballots are available daily at the board of education office and Spear reminds voters the election will be held during spring vacation.

First Calf Arrives

"The object is to get a full-bred Charolais," explains Kevin. "We ought to be able to achieve that in two more generations."

As of right now, the two Novi High School seniors are not sure whether their calf is a bull or a cow as the mother is still very protective and won't let anyone near it.

If it's a bull, they'll castrate it and in a year's time it should weigh 1,100 pounds and be ready for butchering. The first steaks from K&B Beef have already been spoken for by the Hesse's and Pisha's.

If the calf turns out to be a heifer, the boys will be another step closer to their pure-bred Charolais.

What is the future for K&B Beef? "We'd like to keep breeding our cattle until we get a large pure-bred herd," says Kevin. Both boys are planning to attend college in the fall with Bob probably going to Ferris State in northern Michigan so he can play football. Kevin, however, plans to go to the University of Michigan at Dearborn from where he'll be able to keep a close eye on the development of his venture with the Charolais.

(b) Deputy Clerk read a letter from Senator Griffin congratulating Northville on the National Clean Up Award. This letter will also be forwarded to the Beautification Commission.

(c) City Manager presented a letter from the Michigan Municipal League regarding an amendment to the Home Rule City Act concerning establishment of a local officers' compensation commission. He stated he has in the past urged Council to accept higher compensation for local officers.

(d) Deputy Clerk read a letter from W.J. Sheldon, President of Northville Commons Association, regarding street lighting in Lexington Commons South. Mr. Sheldon was present and stated that Thompson Brown would like to urge Council to consider installing the same lights in Lexington Commons North as are in Lexington Commons South. He cited increased esthetic and marketing value of the area as reasons for the change. Mr. Carl Darvil, also of Thompson Brown supported this view.

City Manager Ollendorff stated that Thompson Brown had approved the original lighting plan earlier. He said the two main reasons not to change the existing lighting plan are economy (proposed lights are shorter therefore the total light spread is less), and the likelihood of increasing reluctance on the part of Detroit Edison to change lighting plans frequently.

Councilman Folino stated that although there was some opposition to the lighting in Lexington Commons South at first now most residents seem very pleased with the plan.

Councilman Folino moved that the lighting plan for Lexington Commons North be changed to conform with the existing lighting in Lexington Commons South. The type of lights provided are to be changed, but not the total number of fixtures involved. Support by Councilman Vernon.

Unanimously carried.

(e) City Manager Ollendorff reported that the School Education Association has offered a gift of money to the Northville Library, subject to the approval by the Township Board and the Northville City Council.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: None.

MINUTES OF BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS: The minutes of the Planning Commission February 1 and February 15 and the Minutes of the Library Commission were accepted as presented.

PUBLIC HEARING-TITLE VIII CHAPTER 1 SECTION 8-126 "LIQUOR-PROHIBITIONS FOR MINORS": City Attorney Ogilvie presented the proposed ordinance amendment, which would change the age of majority from 21 years to 18 years.

Councilman Folino moved that Title VIII Chapter 1, Section 8-126, of the Code of Ordinances be amended to change the age of majority to conform with State Law. Support by Councilman Biery.

Unanimously carried.

PUBLIC HEARING-TITLE VII CHAPTER 1, SECTION 8-128, "FALSIFYING OF PARI MUTUEL TICKETS": City Attorney Ogilvie presented the amendment, and stated that Livonia had recently adopted an amendment that was nearly verbatim to this one.

Mr. Paul Steencken 562 Randolph, questioned whether this amendment provides for the offense to be classified as a felony. City Attorney Ogilvie stated that all City Ordinances cover misdemeanors only.

Mr. Carl Darvil, General Manager of Northville Downs, stated that there had been some efforts to modify tickets in the past and that he is in support of the proposed amendment.

Councilman Folino moved that the amendment Title VII, Chapter 1, Section 8-128, be adopted. Support by Councilman Vernon.

Unanimously carried.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT REPORT & ROLL NO. 37 ALLEY FROM CENTER TO GRACE AND ALLEY FROM EIGHT MILE SOUTH TO ABOVE ALLEY: City Manager Ollendorff presented the proposed Special Assessment Report and Roll No. 37, and stated that there was no local precedent for paving an alley.

He recommended that the matter be brought to a public hearing to determine the wishes of the residents affected, that is whether they wish to assume 100 percent of the cost, since the benefits to the general public are negligible or whether they wish to keep the alley as it is and consequently will have little or no maintenance and service by the City.

City Manager Ollendorff felt the paving of the residents on Granding Street local and therefore questioned whether Center St. residents could be assessed proportionally. City Attorney Ogilvie stated that it would be extremely difficult to assess abutting property owners on any other than an equal basis.

Councilman Vernon moved the Special Assessment Roll No. 37, "Alley from Center to Grace and Alley from Eight Mile south to above noted alley", be set for a Public Hearing on April 3, 1972 8:00 p.m. at Northville City Hall. Support by Councilman Folino.

Unanimously carried.

RANDOLPH DRAIN: City Manager Ollendorff presented the proposed cost apportionment for the Randolph Street Drain. He said the plans are not final, and mentioned several areas in which costs had been carefully reviewed and reduced somewhat for Northville.

Northville's greater share in cost is based on the fact that it is a more developed community. The City Manager pointed out that the method for determining the apportionment is a standard formula, and that the cost proposed is close to the probable final cost.

The cost to the City could be reduced if the project is completed only as far as Eight Mile and Taft Roads, the remainder to be paid for by developers when the land is developed.

City Manager Ollendorff stated the procedure for the project is as follows: The Drain Commission will hold public hearings in each community affected to review the plans and costs. Then the Drain Commission will sell bonds, and the City will be assessed. The City may, in turn, assess benefitting property owners or use public funds to pay its share.

NORTHVILLE DOWNS: Mr. John Carlo, Northville Downs, stated that City Ordinance provided for four days of motorized vehicular racing per year. He said the motorcycle group proposing the race date is sanctioned by a national association and that they race in several prestigious areas in the U.S.

Mr. William Gabb, 106 Fairbrook, spoke in opposition to allowing motorcycle races. He felt the South end of town has suffered from being torn up and from excess noise from the track, and was concerned about undesirable people coming to the proposed event.

Mr. Gaab stated he had been designated as spokesman for a number of residents, and Councilman Vernon asked why more of these residents weren't present to voice their objections.

Councilman Folino recalled that several years ago there had been motorcycle races and that the noise and general disturbance had been considerable. Thus, he was opposed to this activity.

Councilman Biery stated he feels the request for one day's racing is reasonable on a trial basis.

City Manager Ollendorff reiterated Mr. Carlo's request for one day of motorized racing as a trial. If this proves to be unsatisfactory, Mr. Carlo stated he would not request it again.

Councilman Vernon stated he felt most people would be opposed to the race, and that the benefits to the City would be negligible.

Councilman Rathert said the request for one day of racing is reasonable.

City Attorney Ogilvie said that since the ordinance was established to provide some control of motorized vehicular racing by limiting the number of events possible, the only legal recourse Council has is to repeal the existing ordinance.

Councilman Rathert suggested this item be placed on the agenda of the first meeting in June 1972 to consider further action.

NORTHVILLE RECREATION DEPT. PROPOSED BUDGET 1972-73: City Manager Ollendorff presented the proposed Recreation Budget for 1972-73. He noted there were very few changes from the current year's budget. It was also noted that the actual expenses had come very close to the budgeted amount.

Councilman Vernon stated the Director had done an outstanding job in preparing the budget and staying within it. Councilman Folino said the Recreation Committee watches things pretty carefully, and that many events are self-supporting. Councilman Vernon questioned the Vehicles Department item and suggested that in the future this item be broken down for clarification.

Councilman Biery moved Council accept the 1972-73 Recreation Budget, and direct the City Manager to include it in the 1972-73 Proposed City Budget. Support by Councilman Vernon.

Unanimously carried.

APPOINTMENTS: Councilman Vernon moved to appoint Stanley Johnston, Charles Buttermore, and Daniel Conley, with Wallace Nichols as Chairman and Liaison to the Planning Commission, to the Special Planning Committee to Review the Comprehensive Plan. Support by Councilman Folino.

Unanimously carried.

Planning Commission: (a) Councilman Folino moved that Donald Jones be appointed to the Planning Commission to fill the unexpired term of Del Black, term expiring July 1, 1972. Support by Councilman Biery.

Unanimously carried.

(b) Councilman Folino moved that David Van Hine be appointed to the Planning Commission to fill out the unexpired term of Robert Lang, term expiring July 1, 1973. Support by Councilman Biery.

Unanimously carried.

Housing Code Appeals Board: City Manager Ollendorff stated that five members are needed for this new board three with background in housing code. It was suggested that a list of candidates and a summary of the Code be placed in the packet for the next Council meeting.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT-1971 MOTOR VEHICLE HIGHWAY: City Manager Ollendorff presented the Motor Vehicle Highway Financial Statement for 1971. He said this will be included in the semi-annual audit.

MISCELLANEOUS: Removal of Parking Meters: City Manager Ollendorff presented the recommendation of the Police Department to remove certain parking meters. Councilman Biery moved that the following parking meters be removed: Support by Councilman Vernon.

1 Meter in front of Legion Hall (Dunlap St.)

2 Two meters in front of Methodist Church on Dunlap St.

3 All remaining meters on East Dunlap St.

4 All remaining meters on Hutton St.

5 Three meters in front of Presbyterian Church.

6 Meters on both West and East sides of Center in front of Northville Lanes.

Unanimously carried.

No Parking Areas: Councilman Vernon moved that "No Parking Areas" be established for the two spaces on the Northwest, Southwest and Southeast corners of Dunlap at Center and the East side of Hutton from Main to Dunlap. Support by Councilman Folino.

Unanimously carried.

City Manager Ollendorff suggested that no parking be allowed during the daylight hours on the North side of Dunlap near Linden. Councilman Vernon moved that no parking be allowed 100 feet West and East of Linden on the North side of Dunlap, from the hours of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Support by Councilman Folino.

Unanimously carried.

It was suggested that the South side of Dunlap be posted with "No Parking Here to Corner" signs.

Community Meeting: City Manager Ollendorff stated that several members of the Northville Development Corporation have suggested a general community meeting to include the following:

1 Northville Downs presenting a review of their plans for the future.

2 Review by the Council and City Manager on recent developments and projects being worked on currently.

3 Presentation by McManis on Northville Square Development.

4 Major improvements of the exits and entrances to the City.

5 Questions of the architectural integrity of the City.

Some of the organizations to be included are the Council, Planning Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals, Northville Economic Development Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Northville Downs, Board of Education, Township Board, and service clubs.

City Manager Ollendorff stated he would like the Council to sponsor such a meeting. Councilman Biery moved Council sponsor a Community Meeting at City Hall, on March 30, 1972, as outlined by the City Manager. Support by Councilman Folino.

Unanimously approved.

Work Session: Council decided to plan a Work Session for next Monday to discuss the Trailer Code and Heating Code, among other things.

R.U.D. Zoning Faces Criticism

be dedicated to the common use of the lot owners in the subdivision" from which it is taken.

Bond's ruling, delivered Monday, was that K&B was within their rights in not putting common areas in each individual section.

"When original plat approval was given," said Bond, "it was given for the whole development. Village Oaks was approved as one large development rather than a series of smaller subdivisions and therefore K&B has not violated the RUD ordinance as long as the common areas appear before the whole of Village Oaks is completed."

Mayor Joseph Crupi pointed out that the size and location of the common areas had been enumerated at the time of plat approval and were a matter of record.

Bond went on to say, however, that in the future the city should take steps to require developers to put these parks in the general area from which they are taken. "We have had a trial and error experience with RUD," said Bond, "and through experience we learn."

Later in the meeting, during the audience participation section, Stolberg took exception to Bond's "trial and error" comments.

"It's about time someone came to the defense of the council which originally approved Village Oaks," said Stolberg. "I don't think any errors have been made in regard to common areas. At the time we were given original plat approval, the council and the planning board looked very hard at the common areas and it was decided that the present plan was the best."

Physicians Hear Acupuncture Talk

Two area physicians attended a presentation of acupuncture over the weekend at the Dearborn Inn under the sponsorship of the Michigan State Chiropractic Association.

Attending the presentation, featuring chief lecturer Kunzo Nagayama of Kaoto, Japan, were Dr. R.J. Stiles of Novi and Dr. Harry Oknaian of Plymouth.

Dr. Nagayama, who is an M.D. with a specialized degree in anesthesiology as well as a PhD, has lectured extensively in Russia, Germany and recently at the World Health Organization in Copenhagen. He is director of the Kyoto Pain Control Institute in Japan.

Purpose of his lecture was to expose American doctors to the technique of acupuncture and how it relates to various forms of healing. These ancient methods include use of needles, heat, ice and various Chinese herbs.

The American Acupuncture Society was chartered in January of this year, according to Dr. Stiles, and is making "available to all practitioners the training and application of Chinese healing."

Art Show Display Slated at Old Mill

The preview display will be at the Old Mill Restaurant, 130 East Main Street, and includes work from students in Amerman, Main Street and Moraine elementary schools and sixth graders at Cooke Junior High Annex.

Media represented in the display includes weaving, rug hooking, painting, copper tooling, chalk, paint, crayon resist and print making.

The show is the result of the combined effort of Mrs. Shirley Talmadge and Mrs. Gail Raben who both said they wanted the community to be able to view the students' art work.

Dates of the individual school art fairs are Cooke Annex, May 3; Moraine, May 18, Amerman, June 9; and Main Street, to be announced.

Rezoning Hearing Slated

Public hearing to rezone the old Methodist Church building property has been set for April 18 by the Northville Planning Commission.

Commissioners set the hearing Monday following a committee report that no reasons existed for not considering the zoning change from parking to a commercial classification.

The property has been purchased by a group of men who plan to convert the building into a restaurant-cocktail lounge. Preliminary sketches shown planners indicate that the new owners plan to preserve the building but remodel part of the exterior to include a drawbridge entrance and moat at the east side of the building facing Center Street.

Vacant property at the southwest corner will be used for restaurant parking, next to this side entrance, according to Gerald T. Harris, a Westland consultant who arranged the purchase. He declined to disclose the purchase price, but unconfirmed reports suggest it exceeded $100,000.

In other business Monday, planners referred to committee two other rezoning requests.

A petition of Dennis Raux to rezone a lot at 424 North Center Street, opposite Chatham supermarket, from two-family residential (R-2) to professional office space (PO) was heard.

Raux told planners that the property, located next to property already rezoned to PO and also owned by Raux, will be used for parking and future development.

Also, Dr. Jerome McDonald, a recent college graduate optometrist, seeks to rezone two lots at North Center and Walnut from R-2 to PO. He told planners he hopes to open an office there.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

On May 16 voters throughout the state will go to the polls for Michigan's first presidential primary election.

But there will be more than a list of White House hopefuls on the ballot.

Proposal A will be a proposed amendment to the state constitution which would permit the legislature to institute a lottery in Michigan.

Normally, this newspaper confines itself to local issues and lets its big brothers in the communications' field inform the public about statewide and national affairs.

But, really, the question of legalized gambling is a local issue, one that calls upon the individual to decide what means he wishes to have his legislators employ to raise taxes.

And, in addition, there have been few, if any, adequate explanations of the proposal for public consideration as legislators have raced to place a controversial question on a ballot where their names will not appear as candidates.

First, let's examine the lottery question as it will appear on the ballot so that we may know what could happen if it were to win approval.

Specifically, a YES vote to amend the state constitution, which now prohibits lotteries in Michigan, would give the state legislature the power to write laws for lotteries, bingo and casino gambling.

It is generally understood that if such an amendment were approved, the legislature would establish a state-controlled lottery, similar to those now conducted in New York, New Jersey and New Hampshire; that it would legalize bingo for charitable and non-profit organizations; but that it would not provide for casino gambling establishments, similar to those in the state of Nevada.

But a constitutional amendment providing for lotteries opens the doors to any kind of gambling, so long as the legislature comes up with a majority of votes to legalize it.

It's important to understand that approval of the amendment does not create a lottery, nor does it legalize bingo or casino gambling. It merely provides the legislature with authority to enact laws for gambling.

Advocates of the lottery point out that the authority to permit all types of gambling in Michigan does not necessarily mean that anything other than a state-controlled lottery or charity bingo will ever be permitted.

They point out that under the state racing act the law permits pari-mutuel betting on horse races, but efforts to conduct dog racing in Michigan have failed. Yet the legislature has the authority to enact dog racing legislation if it wishes.

The legalization of bingo is defended by the fact that it's already being conducted by church, veteran and other charitable organizations throughout most state communities. Prosecutors don't enforce the law where these groups are concerned, and they become slightly red-faced when they prosecute private operators conducting bingo games for profit.

With a constitutional amendment, they argue, they could write a law that would make bingo legal for charitable groups only. Then profiteers could be prosecuted and the prosecutors wouldn't have to wrestle with their guilt complexes!

So much for bingo.

Why a lottery? The answer, of course, is tax dollars, pure and simple.

Advocates of the lottery point out that the Irish Sweepstakes already take a slice of money out of the state. And law officials admit that it is impossible to stamp out racketeer-controlled gambling on numbers, sports' contests and the like.

So the state might as well get its cut of the action by taking some of it away from the racketeers, they argue.

They point to New Jersey, where the lottery has been most successful, for estimates of some $60 million annually diverted from rackets into state tax coffers.

And this may be argument enough to vote for the lottery amendment.

It is becoming increasingly more difficult for many of us to separate the wheat from the chaff. Old beliefs are constantly being disputed; and always there is the argument of whether or not the end should justify the means.

For those who have held that to permit gambling is an admission of its social acceptance, there exists the challenge to support costly programs for education, welfare and the like by paying higher taxes.

It is not that these people necessarily oppose gambling, but rather that they fear the human tragedies that frequently result from its activities.

In one sense, the approval of a lottery to provide taxes to support education and our society's broad range of programs for the needy and underprivileged, represents a cop-out of sorts, an admission that we cannot afford, or that we are unwilling, to support the cost of government.

On the other hand, it is the recognition of reality...the "telling it like it is" in our world today. Gambling is with us, it will not leave.

Should we not legalize it and pluck from it its plums?

Ford Property Already Steeped in History

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Ford Motor Company's property on Griswold Street, which Mayor Mike Allen is reasonably sure will be donated to the city as a historical site for old Northville buildings, including the soon-to-be-vacant township hall, is already steeped in history.

Located on the west side of Griswold Street, immediately north of the Ford Motor parking lot and extending west and east to the Rouge River and the millpond dam, it is the site of what was Northville's first and most famous grist mill.

The mill closed for business in 1921, and its last owners and operators, Don Yerkes and his father, built new facilities on Base Line now called the Northville Lumber Company.

Mrs. Jennie White, daughter of pioneer Captain William Dunlap, recalled the early history of the well in several articles ap-

Mrs. Douglas Day

Speaking for Myself

Mrs. Douglas Or Ms. Marilyn?

Ms. Marilyn Green

Mrs. Douglas . . .

For those of us who have been women's libbers since long before the term was coined, the issues of whether a married woman uses her own first name and whether the designation Ms. is used for all women really aren't vital. Job opportunities at administration levels and equal pay are.

As a writer, the trend toward both Ms. and the use of a woman's first name distresses me. A first rule of communication is "the more specific the better." Now, is Ms. Jean Day single, married, widowed or divorced? What does it matter? — that's not relevant, say proponents.

Maybe not, but what's wrong with being part of a family unit? I like being Mrs. Douglas Day, wife and mother of two daughters. The use of first names in business is fine. When I'm being referred to as a writer, I should be Jean Day. This makes sense for teachers, tellers, artists and anyone who is working.

But when a woman goes to see her child's teacher, takes him to the doctor or works on the club benefit or PTA carnival, she's not doing it because she's Jane Smith. She's doing it because she's a wife and mother — and she ought to get credit as Mrs. John Smith!

Women are giving away more and more — without getting much in return. Now, will those Ms. women be taking off wedding rings if they're married? After all, it's the same sort of designation. But let me keep mine.

Jean (Mrs. Douglas) Day
Record Women's Editor

Ms. Marilyn . . .

It could be questioned "What's in a name?" The use of a woman's own name can be considered representative of a larger striving for recognition of women in their own right.

Probably the practice of a woman taking her husband's name evolved from the ancient time when men began believing women, if not merely chattel property, were complete non-entities.

But the days of women being non-entities, at least in their own eyes and hopefully in the eyes of men, are over. Women have recognized, and rightly so, that above everything else, they are individuals with their own identities.

A woman should not rest on her husband's laurels, his accomplishments or identity. Instead, all women should realize that their accomplishments, whether as a working individual or a wife and mother are invaluable and important.

Many people will compromise by saying that a woman should use her husband's name socially but her own in business or professional situations.

I would seriously question the difference — the woman is the same individual, and should be recognized as such in her own right either professionally or socially.

Clark Backs Annexation

To the Editor:

The Northville Record of March 10 contains interesting news about annexation of the township with the city. The approach to the problem as reported in the lead news article is an excellent way to proceed to bring about the consolidation of the two communities. The good men named in the article who circulated the petitions deserve much credit for their efforts in the interest of the Northville community.

The explanation written by you in the article entitled "Story Behind Unification Action" is a good explanation of the reasons why unification will be so beneficial to the Northville community in the years which are ahead.

I am particularly interested in the points you made, because most of them are the reasons I advocated when the area in which I live on West Main Street was taken into the city. You have stated them much better than I did so I hope they will convince people of their feasibility. I was interested in annexation of some of the township with the city but from a practical viewpoint I recognized that the larger area did not wish annexation at that time. Also,

I thought the southeast area of the township might want to go with Plymouth since that area is Plymouth oriented.

For these reasons, with the support and help of five neighbors, we became part of the City of Northville. The change has been satisfactory for us because we are now as you said in your article "taking advantage of an existing city manager form of government", and are receiving the services we want at a low cost.

We like our city manager form of government, because it is non-partisan, and there appears to be no favoritism, or dirty politics. It is a good clean operation, with an excellent City Manager, an honest, efficient Chief of Police, a good Mayor and City Council; all working for the people, and not for personal gain or power. Also, we have no bonded debt to be repaid with our tax dollars.

My experiences as Northville Township supervisor (1959-1963), and later as interim Northville City Manager has convinced me that annexation is in the best interest of the people in the Northville community.

Very truly yours,
George L. Clark

Dislikes Editorial

To the Editor:

Last week I read an article called "Loser of the Day". In this article Eleanor Hammond supposedly held information from a reporter pertaining to the budget for the township. What actually happened was, the reporter was told she would have no special privileges and would have to wait just like anyone except the seven township board members. Mrs. Hammond did not jump when The Northville Record clicked their fingers. Gunnar Stromberg indeed did present a copy of the budget that same day, which was one of the seven. He forfeited his copy. Furthermore that copy is now obsolete because since then the figures have changed many thousands of dollars.

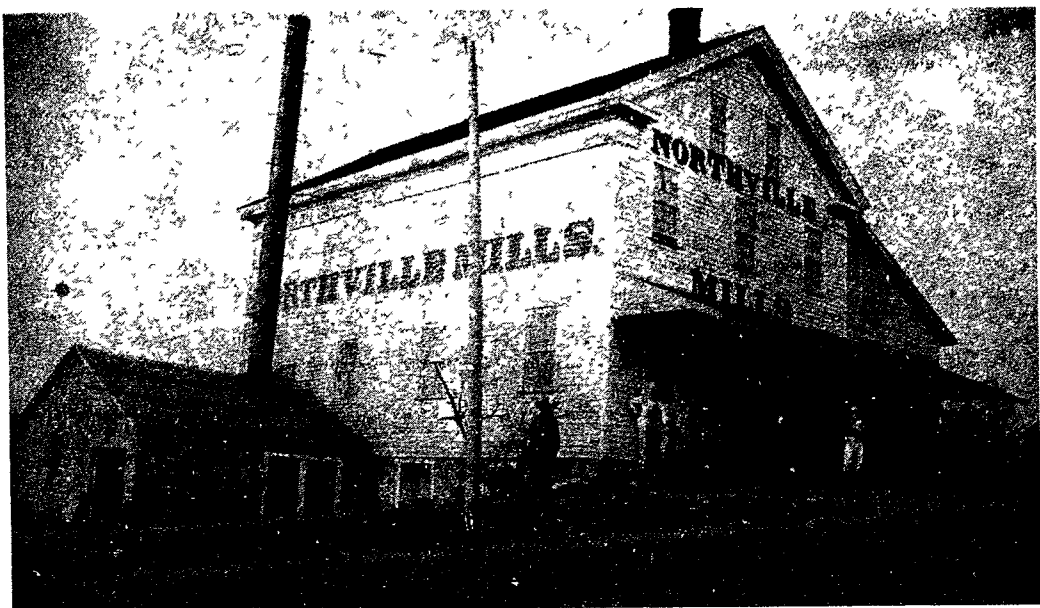

It would do me great pleasure to see that the power of the press be handled justly.

In the article the "winner" was given nearly equal word space which means that "The Winner of the Day" be presented as the head. The reason I point this out is because I would like to see the media present every thing possible in a positive manner.

I'm sure that the article had no politics involved what so ever. I'm also sure that the press is not being used in absolute favor of the township becoming the city. I as a young American would like to see some good leadership qualities and from what I see you treat the township very one sidedly. The city and township people get along fine but you couldn't guess that by reading the paper. I believe if you show truth and good will that there is a better chance the generation to follow will Griswold and Rogers. Included in the purchase was the original grist mill.

"This mill brought customers from as far away as Shiawassee County, the men coming with ox teams, bringing grists for themselves and their neighbors," recalled Mrs. White.

"As there was no hotels in those days near than Detroit the patrons of the mill were compelled to remain overnight and they were cared for by Captain and Mrs. Dunlap in their little log cabin.

In 1848 a larger mill - the one purchased by Henry Ford from Yerkes and his father and soon thereafter razed - was constructed on the property a little north of the original by Dunlap.

"I well remember the raising of the present mill, as the timbers were so large and heavy it took all the men who could be found to put them in place," Mrs. White said. "A bountiful supper was provided and placed on tables in the front yard of what was then our home, now the Ball-Neal place (and now the American Legion hall)..."

"The mill was run by water power for several years before the steam engine was put in and when the spring freshets carried off the mill dam it made hurrying work both indoors and out, requiring 15 or 20 men for two or three weeks to rebuild.

"After the mill was sold to John Smith it changed owners several times before it came into possession of the Yerkes Brothers."

One of those owners was Edward Simonds, grandfather of E.M. Bogart who now lives in Plymouth.

In 1878, Clarkson recalled that the original mill "was very cheaply constructed; the gearing, or machinery being made mostly of wood. Compared with mills of modern construction, it was a very primitive affair..."

"The water wheel was 12 feet in diameter and buckets 6 feet in length and was on the outside of the mill building; one end of the shaft going through a hole in the wall into the mill pit. On this end of the shaft was the pit-wheel 10 feet in diameter, with a row of wooden cogs, about two inches apart around the side of the rim like teeth.

"These meshed into the wood rollers of the crown wheel on the lower end of the upright shaft. Above the same shaft was the spur wheel, which turned the pinion on the spindle that turned the millstone..."

With this history as the setting, Northville Historical Society, together with the city, hopes to locate a number of old buildings in a village like setting along the mill race that still exists on the property.

New Nursery Opens In Old Schoolhouse

The old Base Line School on Eight Mile Road west of Beck Road will once again ring with children's voices.

The schoolhouse will reopen September 11 as a pre-school for children three to five years old.

Called the Little Red Schoolhouse Nursery, it will be operated by Mrs. Larry Beaupre who received a bachelor's degree in child development from Michigan State University.

Trained to be a nursery school teacher, Mrs. Beaupre will serve as director and head teacher at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Beaupre purchased the school in December and are currently in the process of remodeling and adding to the building.

"Although the school has been used as a home since 1950," Mrs. Beaupre said, "we are planning to rip out the inside and bring back the atmosphere of an old country school."

Believing the pre-school years are important to the child's total development, she said it is "up to us to nurture the continuing individual growth of each child as he passes through his early years on his way to maturity. It is in the nursery school that we offer opportunity to young children to meet these needs."

'Taxpayers Disregarded'

To the Editor:

The politicians are disregarding the taxpayers again with their casual attitudes regarding the salaries of the Township supervisor, clerk, and the treasurer. They are ignoring the importance of fiscal responsibility and financial integrity and the desires of President Nixon to control inflation. They also ignore the possibility of the adoption of unification by the voters within the near future. Instead, the Township Board is planning to increase salaries, and appeal to the Pay Board to receive permission to cover up this hanky panky.

As if the above activity isn't enough to raise doubts about their motivations, the politicians add another punch to their financial disaster policy. They also voted to create the authority to finance the building of a new township hall. It is obvious that they will demand a millage vote, at a later date, to support the operation of a monument after it has been built.

However, if they operate in this manner, they might follow the recent Supreme Court decision, and raise the millage without requesting a vote of the people. The politicians might assume that if they were able to get away with this type of hanky panky once, why not try it again?

Northville Chamber of Commerce Fair Committee

Reader Clarifies Stand on Annexation

To the Editor:

Clarification with regard to the recent submission of annexation petitions seems to be in order. As ONE member of the so-called Citizens Action Committee that circulated the annexation petitions, I would like to correct the statement in Thursday's News of March 16, 1972 wherein it was indicated that I am a spokesman for the Committee. As indicated above, I am simply one of the members.

One of our objectives, as the News reported, was to "fight Township plans to build a new city hall-fire station". It is our intention, more correctly, to circulate petitions to force the concept of a building authority in the Township to a vote of the people. There were some misstatements credited to me as to the amount of millage needed. May I suggest, as I did at the time of petition circulation, and in my opinion, Township to go independently and attempt to provide all of the services that will be needed shortly would cost Township residents between 12 and 15 mills. For just police services, fire services, and Township hall building construction, now being contemplated by the Township, I have suggested will run in the neighborhood of 7 mills.

I believe as a consolidated unit of government, that all of the services including DPW available in the City of Northville, and expanded to the degree necessary to furnish similar services at current city levels to both units would cost Township and City residents somewhere in the neighborhood of 7 mills. Obviously, the Unification Study Report which mentioned 7 mills for both communities needs updating to reflect truer cost estimates.

To clarify some of the comments made in the "Readers Speak" column of the Northville Record. We as a Committee had many meetings at which time the pros and cons of unification and what procedures could be utilized to accomplish such were discussed. Let the record show very clearly, that no one on this Committee wanted a unification of the two communities by annexation. However, we came to realize that we had no choice. The reason for this deduction is because the procedure of consolidation, do the same. Eleanor Hammond has had mud thrown in her face two too many times for me to stand by and watch. Not only in the article I refer to now but one in the past which was unnecessary and uncalled for. Both of these printings not only were harmful to her job as the township clerk but to her pride and decency.

which we favored, called for a vote of the people, as we also wanted, but concurrent with that on the same ballot would be an election for charter commission members which is based by law on population counts of each community. Included in the township's 9,500 population are 3,000 institutionalized patients. This clearly meant that on the same ballot asking the question of yes or no on consolidation, would be an election for SIX charter commission members - from the Township and THREE from the City. It is obvious that such a proposition, insofar as City residents are concerned, would be unfair and would thus be an exercise in futility since both communities must vote favorably on consolidation.

Since there is no other vehicle other than annexation or consolidation for unification, annexation was the procedure we were forced to choose. We wanted the people in both communities to vote on the issue because we feel firmly that it would carry by large majorities in both communities, and as pointed out in earlier issues of this paper, there can eventually be a vote on the question of unification by annexation which we do not oppose.

There was discussion relative to that portion of the Township lying in the Plymouth school district not wanting to become part of such a unification. There was talk about leaving that portion out on our petitions. However, the majority of the Committee felt that we wanted to talk about total unification and if that portion of the Township desired by their own arguments to be left out at a subsequent hearing before the Boundries Commission, we would not oppose that argument.

Rest assured the Committee intends that everything we have done or will do will be fully aboveboard and open to questions by any segment of the residents of either community. Our actions and intentions, at least as far as I am concerned, is to put two communities together where one will suffice in a more competent, efficient, economical manner to the best interests of all residents of both communities. Whatever happens in Northville Township in the immediate future is bound to cost more money, I am simply saying we want the greatest return for each and every dollar you and I spend.

Sincerely,
Eugene S. Guido

SQUIRT DIVISION CHAMPIONS—Northville's entry in the Squirts Division (ages 9-10) of the Inkster Suburban Hockey league made a complete shambles of league competition. Coached by Doug Pattison and sponsored by the F.O.E., the Northville Squirts went undefeated through the regular season to cop the league championship and then added to their laurels by sweeping through the post-season play-offs to add another trophy to their collection. Pictured

Squirts Pace Skaters

You'd think Northville's Squirts would be running out of steam pretty soon, but not so. Last week the Squirts scored their way through three games to lead the Bantams and the Midgets through a relatively light schedule of games. The Bantams played twice, while the Midgets took the ice just once.

Squirts teams are for boys in the 9-10 year old bracket, and the Northville Squirts are one of the best teams in the area. Coached by Doug Pattison and sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Squirts copied two victories and tied a third game. The tie came at the hands of the Livonia North Stars. Northville took a quick 2-0 lead in the game as Tod Mack and Doug Horst pumped in first period goals. Roger Pattison picked up the assist on Mack's score, while Jerry Sherwood and David Ward assisted Horst.

Livonia cut the lead to 2-1 in the second period and then knotted the score early in the third period. With a little less than 10 minutes remaining in the contest, Horst took a pass from Rod Michael and slid it past the Livonia goalie to provide what might well have been the winner, but Livonia tied the game once again with just six minutes left and the siren sounded with the score knotted at 3-3.

It was a real scoring spree when the Squirts played the Livonia Bruins, but Northville finally copied a 9-6 victory.

The game started off well enough for the Northville skaters. John Pawlowski, Tod Mack, and then Mack again netted first period goals to give the Squirts a 3-1 lead. And when Roger Pattison and Ken Stelmach scored early in the second period it looked as if Northville was on its way to a lop-sided victory.

But then the Livonia club scored three consecutive times to cut the score to 5-4. Northville regained its three goal lead as Roger and Rich Pattison upped the score to 7-4. But once again Livonia moved to within a single goal of Northville at 7-6. Finally, Ken Stelmach tossed in his second goal of the game and Roger Pattison completed the hat trick with his third goal of the contest to secure a 9-6 triumph over the Bruins.

There was never any doubt about the Trenton game, as the Squirts took a convincing 7-1 victory. Doug Horst, Rod Michael, and John Pawlowski each netted a pair of goals in the contest. Tod Mach scored the other other.

The 13-14 year old Bantams club, sponsored by John Mach Ford and coached by Bill Winemaster, split their two games.

John Wilson was the only Northville player to score as the Bantams dropped a 3-1 decision to Plymouth. Phil Jackson assisted on Wilson's third period goal.

The Bantams had no trouble whatsoever in their next game, however, as Dave Beall, Rudy Horst, and Rod Michaels combined forces to ambush Inkster 6-0. It was Beall who paced the scoring in the rout as he scored Northville's first four goals. And it was Michaels who picked up assists for each of those goals.

Horst added the other two Northville scores, as Michaels picked up another assist to make it five for the day.

The Midgets, ages 15-16, played just once but they made the most of it and dumped Trenton 5-1.

Greg Phillips, Rick Buttery, Ronnie Roy, Kurt Stevens, and Bill Houck each scored once in the game.

Graduation Hurts Mustangs

Track Team Rebuilds

For the first time in a good long while, Northville track coach Ralph Redmond finds himself in the first year of a complete rebuilding program. There are to be sure a few talented veterans still on the Mustang track scene from whom much can be expected, but on the whole Redmond is starting over with a whole new crew of runners, jumpers, and throwers.

This year's edition of the Northville track team will boast some 55 members, and almost half of them are freshmen. The actual breakdown runs like this: 11 seniors, 11 juniors, 11 sophomores, and 22 freshmen.

"Actually," says Redmond, "it's fun to work with a young team. Their enthusiasm for the sport is infectious. As long as we don't expect to win a lot of meets, it should be a pleasant year."

"Our emphasis will be on the steady improvement of our youngsters and the instilling of the proper attitudes that could produce another strong team for us in a couple of years."

Graduation hit the Mustangs hard. Sixteen seniors graduated from the team that posted an 8-4 record in dual meet competition and finished second in the Wayne-Oakland League. What's more most of those seniors were what Redmond calls "quality" performers.

Two-time state long jump champion John Stuyvenberg has graduated, as have team record holders David Wright in the 440 yard dash and David Mitchell in the hurdles. The loss of those three stalwarts was not the only one suffered by graduation, however. Gone also are a pair of 6 foot high jumpers, a 47-foot shot-putter, and two 20-foot plus broad jumpers.

Heading up the 1972 Mustang team will be a trio of seniors. Hurdler Brad Cole, distance runner Guy Dixon, and middle-distance man Dave Newitt have been elected captains of the present squad.

"What we need more than anything else this year," Redmond says, "is a sprinter. If we're to become a competitor this is the area we're going to have to develop."

Under the current Michigan High School Athletic Association's (MHSAA) track set up, a team with several good sprinters has a decided advantage.

In addition to the 100 and 220 yard dashes, sprinters are essential in the long jump where speed is often as not the determining factor, the 880 yard relay, and the 440 yard relay - an event added this year which would seem to make the emphasis on sprinters even more lop-sided than it was before.

Presently, Redmond is taking a long look at three potential sprinters in the persons of juniors John Pacific and Mark Robinson and freshman Blair Robinson, Mark's younger brother. It is, however, doubtful that any of the three has the basic speed to become a consistent winner this year.

Working up to the 440 yard run, the Mustangs will be paced by Phil Guider, a converted half-miler. Last year Guider, a senior, had an 880 time of 2:07 and by moving down to the 440 will be able to capitalize more on his speed. Other quarter-milers are Dave Earehart and Bob Bloomhuff.

Th longer the distance, it seems, the better the Northville performers. In the 880 senior co-captain Dave Newitt should provide the Mustangs with occasional first place points. Not far behind Newitt is sophomore Tom Coram, a youngster who has already made an impression on the Mustang mentor.

"He's a real spunky kid," says Redmond. "He's got good speed, but his best qualities are his desire and his spunkiness. If he continues to work hard and sets his goals high enough, I think he'll have a good shot at the school record by the time he's a senior."

Other possibilities in the 880 include Terry Priest, Jeff Stabenau, and Scott Slocum, as well as Bill Petit, a 440 man who Redmond is moving up to the longer distance this year.

One of the strongest areas on the Northville team is the distance events - the mile and two mile runs - where Redmond has his entire cross-country team performing.

Heading up the distance men is senior co-captain Guy Dixon. Last year Dixon posted a fine 4:46 clocking in the mile and he is definitely the number one Northville runner in both distance events.

Another distance man who figures prominently in Redmond's plans for both present and future is Guy Cole, sophomore brother of team co-captain Brad Cole. The younger Cole distinguished himself as during the cross-country season and seems determined to keep up his impressive early pace.

Already he has posted a 10:25 two-mile time this spring and that came on an indoor 16-lap two-mile track.

Tim Taggart, Jeff Menyhart, and freshman Fred Shipley and Robbie Foust are other distance runners, who will make the mile and two mile runs one of the Mustang's strong points this year.

Northville can also expect to do well in the hurdles. Brad Cole is a seasoned performer, who with Mitchell, accounted for many one-two Northville sweeps in hurdle events last year.

Potentially, Redmond feels, Cole is capable of equalling and even surpassing Mitchell's school records.

Steve Griggs, a junior, is another hurdler, who'll be running both the 120 yard highs and 180 yard lows for Redmond this spring. Griggs is a hard worker who could develop into a consistent point scorer in dual meets.

In the field events the Mustangs expect to be strongest in the pole vault where Bill Witek, a junior, and Dave Earehart, a senior, return to action.

By vaulting 12'2" last year Witek established himself as the finest sophomore pole vaulter in the history of Northville High School, and when you stop to consider that Ron Gletznor was state champion as a senior in 1967, Witek's achievement seems even more impressive.

Earehart earned Redmond's praise also. "Dave is working harder than POLE VAULT ATTEMPT—Northville's Bill Witek races down the runway, as he gets ready to clear the bar in the pole vault. Witek, a junior, is being counted on heavily by Mustang track coach Ralph Redmond this spring.

anybody. His best leap last year was 11'3" and he's already topped that this year. What's more," adds Redmond, "we're getting real leadership from him. He's really helping to encourage the younger boys."

The shot putters are presently being headed by Jim Porterfield, another sophomore. Luke Earehart, the 205 pound Porterfield is working extremely hard.

"He's got the dedication it takes to become a real champion," reports Redmond. "By the time he's a senior I think he'll be a definite threat to the school record. In fact, if he keeps up his present weight program I see no reason why he won't get it."

Two seniors - Randy LaFevre and Tom Edwards are also capable of putting the shot within the 40 foot range.

Todd Hannert, Brad Cole and sophomore Don Jones are the Mustang high jumpers. Hannert, with a jump of six feet to his credit last year, is potentially the best of the lot, but Cole also proved last season that he can place consistently in the event and Jones has a leap of 5'7" last year, a more than respectable leap for a freshman.

The long jump is wide-open.

Again the three sprint-hopefuls - John Pacific and Mark and Blair Robinson hold the best chances. Blair jumped 18 feet consistently as a freshman and by the time he's a senior Redmond feels he could be a consistent 20 foot jumper.

What kind of season should Northville track fans expect? Probably a long one in terms of team victories. With such performers as the two Coles, Witek, and Dixon the Mustangs can expect their share of individual triumphs, however.

But the key word for the 1972 track season is "building."

Swim Meet Slated

Members of Northville's fine high school swimming team will be competing Saturday and Sunday, March 25-26 in the Michigan Age Group A.A.U. Championship Swim Meet at Clarenceville High School.

Jeff Kappler, Mark Haynie, and Bill Bretz will be swimming for the Clarenceville A.A.U. Swim Club, while Kevin Kelly, Bill Witek, Joe Boland, and Bob Wright will swim for the Schoolcraft A.A.U. team.

Sponsored by the Clarenceville A.A.U. Swim Club, the meet is expected to draw some 1,931 entries from 41 state-wide clubs. Entries include boys 10 years old and younger through boys 17 years of age.

Mrs. Marie Santo is meet director and Edward Gabriels is entry chairman. The Clarenceville High School pool is located at 20155 Middlebelt Road between Seven and Eight Mile Roads.

Ex-local Star Hangs Up Spikes

Doug Swiss doesn't look like an ex-professional baseball player.

In fact, at six feet, two inches and 210 well-distributed pounds, he would seem to be in the very midst of his professional playing career.

But an ex-professional ball player is exactly what the 23 year old 1967 graduate of Northville High School is. Swiss decided to hang up his spikes at the end of the 1970 season in spite of a promising career in the Detroit Tiger farm system.

"There were a lot of things that entered into my decision to retire," said Swiss the other day while sitting in the living room of his apartment in the married-student housing section of the Eastern Michigan University campus. "But I guess there were two major reasons. First, there was the realization that there were a couple of catchers in the Tiger organization who were being considered ahead of me and I didn't have the patience to wait my turn."

"The second reason, of course, is that Don Lund (former director of the Detroit farm system and presently assistant athletic director at the University of Michigan) approached me about the assistant coaching job at U of M. He knew I always wanted to coach and I had heard that the Tigers were interested in hiring me as a coach in their farm system after I retired. I decided to take the U of M offer. Coaching at the University of Michigan is a lot better than coaching in the minor leagues."

Swiss is one of a quartet of outstanding athletes who performed at Northville High School between 1965 and 1970. Steve Evans, the 1965 graduate, is in the St. Louis Cardinal system; Dennis Primeau is an infielder in the Oakland A's system; and Fred Holdsworth, who graduated in 1970, is currently being touted as the "type of pitcher who comes along once every 20 years" by the Detroit Tigers.

Swiss, a catcher, was one of the key performers on the Northville team that captured two consecutive Wayne-Oakland league championships and a slew of tournaments.

After hitting a robust .367 his senior year, he was signed to a contract the day he graduated in June.

"It was always my goal to be a big league ballplayer," he admitted. "This may sound kind of corny but when I was a little kid I used to make up contracts and then pretend I was being signed by a major league team."

"As I got older I began to realize I could play with the better athletes - with other players who were getting big-league contracts. When the opportunity to sign a real contract came I took it. The Tigers gave me a moderate bonus and guaranteed me a college education. The guaranteed education was the big factor in my accepting the offer."

His first season was spent with an Erie, Pennsylvania, team in the New York-Pennsylvania League. Still fresh from high school, Swiss discovered that first season was primarily an adaptation to living away from home and having games every day.

Long bus rides and crowded schedules were very much a part of that first year. "There was also the amazing realization," recalled Swiss, "of how many talented people there really are trying to make the big leagues."

Swiss spent the major portion of the 1968 season with Detroit's Double A team in Montgomery, Alabama. There were a lot of older, fringe players there still trying to hang on, he remembers. Sharing the catching duties with a fellow named Tim Hosley, he finished the season with a .236 batting average and four home runs.

The following year, 1969, was a key one in Swiss' fortunes. "I had a very good spring training camp," he says. "They'd call me over to work out with the big club and whenever I worked out with big club everything went right. Things were really looking up for me."

At the same time, the young Northville backstop was featured in a Ray Lane special on channel two entitled "The Long Trail to Tiger Town."

"That show was really a big boost for me," says Swiss. "It showed me that some people in the Tiger organization were aware of me and knew I had a lot of potential."

Almost as soon as the taping of the show was finished, however, Swiss got a registered letter from Uncle Sam, ordering him to report for basic training. "That shot the whole summer, it interrupted what could have been a big season for me," he recalls. "I'm not bitter about my army experience. The army can teach you a great deal about yourself. It's just that it came at such an inopportune time."

Swiss came back the next summer, but the 1970 season was to be his last in professional baseball.

He spent spring training with a Double A club and was doing well, but at the end of spring training he was told he was going back down to Lakeland in the "A" league.

"That was really a strong blow for me to take. They told me I was being sent down because there were a couple of young pitchers they wanted me to work with, but still it was a strong blow," he says.

"What made it worse was that I started pressing and got off to a bad start. I think I was something like 0 for 16 or 17. It was terrible. I finished the season hitting around .230 with six home runs."

After the season was over, Swiss returned to Northville, where he married Marcia Lipa, a 1968 Northville High School graduate. After a brief six-day honeymoon, it was back to Florida for winter ball.

Marriage apparently agreed with the former Northville star. He caught the first eight games of the season and was blasting the ball with regularity at the plate. At the end of those first eight games he was hitting a healthy .312 and had collected eight rbis.

But then the Tigers sent two other catchers - Tim Hosley and Gene Lamont - down to the club and Swiss sat out the next sixteen straight games.

"There's nothing as terrible as sitting on the bench," said Swiss. "I could see that Hosley and Lamont were ahead of me as far as the Tiger organization was concerned. I know my time would have come if I had stayed with it, but I couldn't see waiting around."

"There's a great deal of insecurity and uncertainty connected with the big league machine," he continued. "Look at Jim Price. He established himself as fine, dependable second-line major leaguer. But the Tigers sent him down to Toledo at the end of last season. Price had too much going for him, a lot of personal integrity, so he retired rather than accept the demotion."

"The player they brought up to take his place was Tim Hosley. But Hosley is already back in the minor leagues. Just when it started to look like his time had come, along came Paul Jata and Hosley was pushed out of the picture. Jata has had a couple of fabulous seasons with the bat so the Tigers will find a place for him. They've re-converted him into a catcher."

By the end of the 1970 winter season, Swiss was depressed and disillusioned. "I was tied up in a knot," he said. "I had no patience with my talent. It's frustrating when you know you've got the ability and yet you can't quite seem to get the job done. When I didn't do well it was because of my intensity, my desire to excel placed too much pressure on me. When I got back to Michigan I discovered I had lost 20 pounds. That's when the coaching offer came up and I decided to take it."

Could he have done better in an organization without the wealth of young catchers currently being developed by Detroit?

"Perhaps Washington was interested in getting me and so were the Mets, but nothing was ever worked out," he reports.

Regardless, Swiss is happy with his current position with the Michigan baseball team. "Being here has opened up a lot of doors for me," he says. "There are an awful lot of fine people associated with the University. They're willing to help you. They make nice things happen for you. Ultimately, I suppose I would perhaps like to be an athletic director at some university. Whatever I do it will have to be associated with athletics. My one love is still athletics."

"Yes, there are times when I miss professional baseball. I find I miss the friendships, the struggling through a slump, having a six for seven day at the plate, getting the winning hit, or tagging someone out at the plate. Who knows what would have happened if I had stayed on, maybe I would have been with the Tigers today instead of Paul Jata."

"There were definitely a lot of good things about my career though. Maybe I even helped those two young pitchers down at Lakeland."

Novi Closes Little League

Novi Little League President Frank Buck this week issued a reminder that registration deadline for the summer baseball program is rapidly approaching.

All registrations, registration fees, and committed candy money must be turned in April 3. After that date no boy will be allowed to register for the program.

Teams and leagues will be determined after spring tryouts which are scheduled to begin shortly after the April 3 registration deadline.

Registration forms may be obtained by contacting Jerry Surles at 349-0298 or Buck at 474-6293.

Remember Cat's Eyes?

players, each teeing up a marble on a little mound of dirt shaped with the palm. First shooter got first crack at the teed up marbles. Shooting from behind the line, he tried to knock one or more marbles from the circle. If he succeeded and his shooter remained inside the circle he could keep right on shooting. Second and succeeding shooters had a crack at what was left in the circle.

Peeries and boulders...those were specials of Ollendorff and principal Longridge.

Cat's eyes and steelies were preferred by the pastor and ace shooter-turned-attorney Hill, who also remembered those "clay models"—the predecessor of the aggie.

Mr. Branstner says steelies—the ball bearings—were as welcome as Saturday night baths.

"You could use 'em in the game of Mibbs," insists Hill, "cause in that one you didn't hit the other guy's marble but just shot at a line. Closest to the line won. Use a steelie in knuckles down and you'd knock the blazes out of an aggie."

"If you used a steelie you could count on your thumb being black and blue for the season."

"We also called cat's eyes beggie eyes. They were something like an aggie but they had a black dot in the center."

Hill asks, "Remember the cigar box...the promoter's game?"

Yes, but everyone would prefer to forget that con game.

Some used a can instead of a cigar box. Invite a kid to try to drop his marble through the hole in the top of the box or can from waist high. Tempt him by offering five marbles to his one. Hardly anyone succeeded and the operator usually had a basement full of winnings.

"There was one rule in that game," recalls Hill. "Never let some short kid play. He was just too close to the hole." "Remember chase?" asks the minister. "Sure do," says the principal. "You and the other kid chased each other's marble all the way to school and back."

"How about the hole game?" asks Ollendorff, working his thumb and still hoping. "You know...put four or five holes in the ground and shoot your marble from one hole to the next. Just like croquet only you used marbles and holes instead of balls and mallets and wickets. Get to the last hole and you were poison and you could 'kill' the other guy."

Marbles seemed to be a game for dusk, says Longridge starting to warm up. "Play chase home from school then baseball until it was a little too dark and then, oh great, it was knuckles down and winners keepers!"

Ah, yes, raw knuckles and dirty knees.

Let's shuck it all and join Ollendorff out back. Tell Ma we won't be home 'til late.

of the property—be left as open space.

Mayor Allen recommended to council Monday that a historical committee or commission be established as a quasiofficial body to work with the Historical Society and to ensure the project's continuation in future years should the society ever lease to exist.

Among the questions to be explored by the council-planning-historical society committee are financing, building ownership, operation, sewer and water needs, insurance, etc.

The Historical Society, which has been working with the city in attempting to procure the land and which requested the committee meeting with the city, surveyed the property Saturday and is presently preparing a topographic, scale model of the site to assist in the planning.

The present old library site is to become part of the downtown Northville Square development, while the Kerr house sits on the right-of-way of the Griswold Street extension.

Since construction on these two sites is expected to begin early in May, both buildings are slated to be moved by then. Because Ford Motor does not expect formal transfer of the deed to occur prior to that date, Ford officials have stated that the buildings could be moved to its property if necessary pending the deed transfer.

Open House

Fetes Authors

An open house featuring young authors will be conducted by the Orchard Hills Elementary School Boosters Club tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m.

Philip Hilaire, reading consultant for the Oakland Schools, who is an authority on Young Author Reading Clubs, will give a presentation at the meeting to be held at the school.

According to Gloria Cifaldi, the open house "is a good opportunity for parents to visit their child's classroom and see their works as young authors."

The council granted preliminary plat approval to K&B for Fairfield Farms with the exception of that portion on which the two Willowbrook Drive cloverleaves will be constructed. Approval of that section is pending engineering studies for the turn-arounds.

In the meantime, however, Willowbrook Road will remain closed until such K&B has constructed a permanent bridge across Ingersoll Creek and the two main access routes through Fairfield Farms to Village Oaks school have been paved.

Both projects should be completed sometime this summer, said Stolberg.

Northville Glass

City May Condemn Property

Reluctantly, the city council Monday authorized its attorney to begin condemnation proceedings against the owners of the Northville Glass building located along the alley between Main and Dunlap streets.

The site is part of the parking expansion agreed to with downtown merchants under an assessment program that helped finance the parking deck.

With Councilman Paul Folino given permission to abstain from voting because he is a relation of the owners of the property in question, the council took its action in hopes that an agreement to purchase the property may be consummated before the matter goes to court.

According to City Manager Frank Ollendorff, the owners—Jim and Joe Spagnuolo—apparently have decided not to sell the property after a verbal agreement had been reached. However, no formal rejection has been received by the city, he added.

The city has offered to buy the property at the appraised price of $30,000.

In another purchase matter, the council authorized the real estate committee to negotiate the purchase of the Raymond Garrod house, 117 South Center, at the appraised price of $22,500.

The council plans to hold the rental property until some future date when the adjacent alley, between Main and Cady, is widened and a commercial development takes place between the alley and Cady.

Council also authorized the city manager to attempt to secure an easement from Robert Cole for a drain through his property, adjacent to Northville Downs.

Several proposed storm drain routes are presently under consideration, with construction costs ranging from $145,800 to $176,200. The drain would service the area from Main and Center south to near the race track, then east to the Rouge River near Beal Street.

Construction of this drain is expected to start this year. City Manager Frank Ollendorff also was authorized to negotiate a "50-50 split" of costs for the extension of a gas line in the Gerald Avenue area with the owner of the Northville Collision garage. Total cost of the extension is estimated at $2,000.

Without taking formal action, the council indicated it would "go along" with a summer tax collection proposed by the school district, provided the township does the same. However, councilmen made it clear that it would be the school district, not the city, that would establish such a collection.

Councilmen also suggested school officials consider the possibility of an alternate solution to obtaining taxes early by perhaps offering a 2-percent savings to those who pay their taxes early.

A public hearing was set for April 3 on a proposal to rezone two lots on South Main, just north of Beal, from residential to a professional office classification. The planning commission earlier recommended the rezoning.

Council authorized the city engineer to proceed with a survey of city-owned Gerald Avenue property (where the city dump was formerly located and where the DPW buildings are now located). The survey is to include some elevations, test borings, building and utility locations, etc.

Upon receipt of this information, councilmen are to determine how much of the property it will retain for future DPW yard expansion and how much of it should be sold for industrial development.

The township board may soon be asked to help share the maintenance of the new senior citizens center inside the city.

Following a preliminary report by the city manager Monday, the council agreed that the township has some financial obligation because approximately half of the senior citizens using the city owned facility are township residents.

Pending a more detailed report by the manager, councilmen were reluctant, however, to ask the township to pay a portion of the building's $30,000 plus cost. The building, was opened last month.

Mayor A.M. Allen suggested the council consider establishing a separate budget for senior citizens—separating it and the club's operation from the recreation department.

Wed.-Thurs., March 22-23, 1972

Unless ol' man winter decides to blow up a re-run, golfers will be swinging their clubs on most area golf courses by April 1—April Fool's Day.

Club managers report that winter dealt courses little trouble over the winter and at the moment it appears that less spring water than usual will blanket fairway dips and low-lying hazards.

Aside from minor tee changes, re-seeding, and greens grooming, most courses in this area will be much the same as they were at the end of last season.

And with the arrival of spring this week, you can bet golfing buffs have unpacked their clubs in anticipation of another "this will be my best year" migration to the open spaces.

Following is a brief description of what golfers may expect at their favorite public courses:

BOB-O-LINK

Pro-Manager Midge Cova is still vacationing, but his spokesman says Bob-O-Link Golf course, located on either side of Grand River, west of Beck Road in Novi, is slated for opening April 1—provided the weather cooperates.

No changes are anticipated. The club features a bar and dining facilities with banquet services available for up to 400 persons in one party and private space for smaller groups.

Fees probably will remain the same:

On weekdays $4 and on weekends and holidays $5 for 18 on the south course where nine-hole play is discouraged. On the north course the rate is $3 on weekdays and $4 on weekends and holidays. Nine hole play on this course remains at $2. Twilight play on either course is $3.

BRAE-BURN

John Jawor, who took over as general manager two years ago when Red and Lilian Block sold to an investment club, returns this season as does greens superintendent Jack St. Germain of Northville.

Located at Five Mile and Napier roads, the course offers 18 holes of challenging golf over the 6,320 yard layout. The club features a clubhouse with lockers, showers and carpeting, and it provides breakfasts and banquet meals. Golf carts are available.

Slated to open March 31, the club will maintain last season's greens fees: On weekdays, $3 for nine, $4.50 for 18; and on weekends and holidays, $3 for nine, $6 for 18.

BROOKLANE

John Koch, former assistant at New Castle Country Club in New Castle, Pennsylvania, is back at Brooklane that, according to Manager Ben Northrop, will open April 1—weather permitting.

Now in its eighth year of operation, this challenging 5,000 yard, par 60 course at Six Mile and Sheldon roads in Northville Township features completely watered fairways.

The remodeled clubhouse has carpeting, air-conditioning, bar facilities, light lunch accommodations and a completely furnished pro shop. A spring sale on golf merchandise is now underway.

Green fees are up: On weekdays, $3 for nine and $4 for 18; on weekends the fee is $5 for 18 or all-day.

Koch, a PGA club pro, provides lessons.

DUN ROVEN

Fees are up at Dun Roven, located between Five and Six Mile roads off Haggerty, according to Earl Myers who starts his eighth year as pro.

They are $3.50 for nine holes and $5 for 18 holes on weekdays. Weekend fees remain the same, $6 to 2 p.m. and $4 after 2 p.m. for 18 holes. Cart rental is $5 for nine holes, $9 for 18. Nonine-hole rounds are permitted on weekends.

Open when weather permits, the course offers golfers a 6,800 yard, par 72 layout.

Light lunches and banquet facilities are available.

GODWIN CLEN

The plush new clubhouse here will reopen with the first golf swings on April 1, weather permitting.

About twice the size of the sister clubhouse at Salem Hills, the clubhouse which opened at Godwin last season has carpeted floors, full bar and a complete kitchen.

Joining Manager Bob Szilogyi this season is Ernie Burgess, who replaces Dean Clement.

Novi's golf team is expected to play its matches on this 18-hole, 6,944 yard Lyon Township course, located at 11 Mile and Johns roads. However, this play has not yet been sewed up, reports Szilogyi, who says South Lyon's high school squad probably will play at Salem Hills.

HICKORY HILLS

"The grass weathered the winter well and is coming right along," reports Manager George Catto, who hopes to open this par 35, 2,865 yard course about the end of this month.

Golfers this season will be greeted by some new tees and additional trees along the watered fairways. Catto, who just returned from vacation, has not yet set the new greens fees but expects they will be "about the same as last season": $2.50 and $4.50 on weekdays and $3.25 and $5.50 on weekends.

Hickory Hills is located in Wixom off Loon Lake Road. It features a clubroom for light lunches and space for banquets.

HILLTOP

Officials opening date for this 2,862 yard, par 34 course was Tuesday (March 21), according to Pro-manager Chris Burghardt.

No changes to the course, located at the corner of Powell and Ann Arbor Trail near Plymouth, have been made. Rates are up, however.

Golfers can play nine holes during the week for $2.75 for nine, $4.50 for 18, and after 6 p.m. $2.25. Saturday, Sunday and holidays the rates are $3 for nine, $5 for 18, and after 5 p.m., $2.75.

KENSINGTON

An April opening date is planned at this 6,380 yard par 71 (36-35) 18-hole course located north of I-96 between New Hudson and Brighton. A more definite date will be announced later. Those wishing to use the facility are asked to call 685-1408.

Richard Yeager is expected to return as manager.

Established by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, the course will offer the same fees as last year: Nine holes on weekdays, $2.50, and $4 for 18 on weekdays. Saturday, Sunday and holidays fees are $3.50 for nine, $5 for 18.

Kensington has no equipment to rent, except for club carts. It sells some golfing necessities (balls, tees, etc.). In addition, the club offers a snackbar with a limited number of sandwiches, soft drinks, chips and candy bars—and, best of all, scenic park atmosphere.

7 MILE & MIDDLEBELT

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

The article is "Dropout Wife" and it told of how 35-year-old Wanda Lee Adams, after 14 years of marriage decided to leave home and strike out on her own.

"There was no great animosity then, nor is there now," the story in Life magazine said. Ten-year-old Susan decided to go with her mother, while the two boys, Christopher, 7, and Patrick, 6, stayed with their father, Don Adams.

The drop-out wife is called a current phenomena. The married woman, tired of being tied down to mundane chores of keeping house and tending children, suddenly decides this isn't for her. She lives apart from her family and the marriage may or may not end in divorce.

Frankly, I found the story a little disturbing—and sad. The "no great animosity" bit seems like a cover-up. The split-up may indeed be a current phenomena and it came as a result of a female's dissatisfaction, but it is by no means new.

It's been with us quite a while and before the women's lib movement, it traveled under the name of irreconcilable lives. And ended in divorce.

The Adams reportedly are accepting the change in their lives. They are responding like mature adults, at least this is the impression conveyed. But they're really deluding themselves, afraid to come to grips with what has happened.

The simple truth is they no longer have a marriage. They haven't resorted to divorce yet, but all the ingredients of a family-break-up are there. If they were honest with themselves, they would file for divorce tomorrow.

You can't help but wonder why they got married in the first place. Everybody else was doing it. Loneliness. Two can live as cheaply as one. Convenience. Perhaps love—now tarnished.

You also can't help but wonder why Wanda Lee Adams couldn't continue to grow in the marriage. She now has the time to talk with her intellectual friends, it is said. She can make her own decisions. But there are many married women who still accomplish in marriage what Wanda Lee Adams could only find outside it.

Some people may call her circumstance a new movement. To me, it's just a matter of two people unable to live together.

YOU AND THE JUDGE

Your attitude toward the judges and other officials of a show, should be one of utmost respect. They are the people on whom the show's very existence depends and should be treated accordingly.

Under the rules of the A H S A., no judge is required to explain his decisions to an exhibitor. As an exhibitor, you may, in an attitude of humility and respect, ask a judge what faults he found in your performance, and if he so wishes, he may explain them to you. As a rule, a judge is glad to do so, when courteously asked.

Under no circumstances has an exhibitor the right to inspect the judge's card, though he may ask the show committee the reasons for any decision, and the committee, at their discretion may require the judge to give his reasons for the decision in question. A judge is never to be approached concerning any decision while he is judging or about to judge.

No exhibitor or employees or relatives thereof shall commit any act of discourtesy or disobedience toward any judge or official of the show or of the association. Any such act shall be considered a violation liable to penalty by the Association. This includes any remark made during the show which might be considered offensive or intended to influence or cast aspersions upon the judging.

Penalties include censure, suspension, or expulsion from showing, forfeiture of winnings or a combination of any of these. These rules exist in the best interest of showing and of the people involved therein.

If an exhibitor, however, is aware of a specific violation of a rule or condition of a class, and is ready to substantiate such a claim by his testimony, he may make a protest. This protest must be signed by the exhibitor, and must be given to the show secretary along with a $25.00 deposit. If after a hearing of the show committee the protest is sustained, the deposit is returned to the protestor. If it is not sustained, the deposit is forfeited to the show.

Generally, protests are to be avoided because they are a mark of poor sportsmanship as they are seldom valid. If, however, you are sure of a violation by another exhibitor and this violation directly affects you, you are perfectly free to protest under the above conditions.

SEMCOG Processes Requests

Requests for $368 million in federal funds in 1971 were processed by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) for the seven-county southeast Michigan region.

"The total value of all programs referred through SEMCOG as required by federal agencies under the A-95 review process was $501,614,465," E. Robert Turner, SEMCOG executive director said.

"The federal government makes billions of dollars available for communities in the nation annually," Turner said.

"Rational allocation of these funds requires that there be a review by a regional agency and a regional plan and program to avoid duplication and conflict."

More than half the funding requests—$191,419,328—were directed to the Environmental Protection Agency, he said. These originated, for the most part, from the Detroit Metropolitan Water Board (DMWB). Total estimated

Rose Planting Instructions

3. Work in soil around roots to eliminate air pockets. Firm soil about roots and add more soil until hole is three-fourths full, then firm with foot or tamper, using care not to injure roots.

4. Fill remainder of hole with water and allow it to soak in, then refill. After water drains, see that bud union remains at proper level and fill remainder of hole with soil and tamp. Head canes, making cuts one-fourth inch above an outside bud.

5. Mound soil around and over plant to height of eight to ten inches. This protects the rose canes from drying out. When buds break, gradually remove mound of soil — probably within a week or ten days. Loosen name tag so that it does not restrict cane. When vigorous growth starts, apply plant food according to manufacturer's specifications.

1. Well prepared, deeply spaded bed in well-drained area. Dig each hole 15" to 18" wide and as deep. Add a quart of peat moss or compost and mix well with the soil. Form blunt cone of the mixture in planting hole.

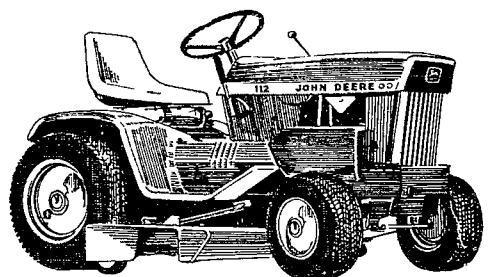

2. Prune all rose canes to 12" and remove any broken or injured roots. Position rose on soil cone so that bud union (swelling at base of stem) is just above the ground level after the ground settles in mild climates and about 1" below the surface in climates where winter temperature falls below freezing. Spread roots out in a natural manner down slope of mound.

Beware of Con Men With Miracle Plants

LANSING—Spring time brings the annual warning to home gardeners against the miracle plant con men and the miracle plant racket by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Michigan Association of Nurserymen.

This warning is emphasized

Get Equipment In Shape Now

It's time to begin putting lawn mowers and garden tillers in shape, says Steve Bolen, Michigan State University extension specialist.

For equipment powered by an air-cooled engine, the MSU expert suggests that you consider the fuel system first. "Most problems on small gasoline engines stored for long periods of time are related to the fuel system," Bolen explains. "This is particularly true if the unit was stored with a partially filled fuel tank."

"Fuel stored for a lengthy period of time tends to build gum deposits and varnish formations on the interior surfaces of the tank, fuel lines and carburetor."

To remove these deposits drain the fuel tank, lines and carburetor and then flush with a commercially available solvent or cleaner designed to dissolve these deposits. In severe cases, it may be necessary to remove the carburetor and soak it for several hours in the cleaner.

It is also wise to give the cooling system a quick check, especially if the equipment was used in extremely dirty conditions.

Bolen suggests that you inspect the air passages and cooling fins around the engine cylinder head and block. All air inlets and passages should be free of debris. If necessary, remove the metal shields surrounding the engine to thoroughly inspect and clean the air passages.

Oil level should also be checked on all four-cycle engines. Old or "worm-out" oil should be drained and replaced with clean, high quality lubricant as recommended by the manufacturer.

On two-cycle engines, it may be necessary to inspect and clean the exhaust ports which occasionally become clogged by carbon deposits. This is a common reason for power loss with these engines.

On all engines it is good practice to inspect, clean and regap, or replace the spark plug. Be sure the plug is tightened properly, Bolen cautions.

Maintenance details, along with other suggestions for improving air-cooled engine performance, can be found in the operator's or owner's manual. "Check this information now to be sure you are ready to go later this spring," Bolen says.

by the increased desire of the public to improve environment and fight air pollution because trees, shrubs and even grass give off needed oxygen and absorb carbon dioxide.

The public is warned against high pressure salesmen and mail order advertisers using fancy names for ordinary shrubs and plants and making exaggerated claims for their plant material.

Beware of glowing word descriptions and faked photographs of climbing vine peaches, giant climbing strawberries, 1,000 giant red roses on a single bush, flowering shade trees that grow roof high in a single year, etc.

"All consumer complaints, including verbal misrepresentations are received by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office and appropriate action is taken, said Assistant Attorney General Edwin M. Bladen. "It is our experience that purchasers who deal with established local merchants can see what they are buying and are not misled by photographs or lurid verbal pictures."

There are reliable mail order houses but there is no substitute for the expert service on selection, planting and care of the plant that your local nurseryman can give you," said M.A.N. Exec. Sec. Victor C. Beresford. "He wants to protect your interests so he can continue to serve you. That's why we advise—'Ask Your Nurseryman First'."

Most Courses Open April 1

SALEM HILLS

Dick Osborn rejoins Manager Bob Szilogyi as assistant pro this year, at Salem Hills—one of the longest Detroit metropolitan courses.

Located on Six Mile Road just west of the Salem Township center, the course is 7,074 yards long.

The tee-off system used the previous two years will be used again this season to speed play on the par 36-36 (72) yard course.

Fees are: weekdays for nine, $3, and for 18 holes, $5; and on weekends and holidays, $6 for 18.

Tentative opening date is set for April 1.

SAN MARINO

Nine holes of golf during weekdays costs a little more this year at this par 36, 3,299-yard course in Farmington.

Located at 26634 Halstead Road, south of 12 Mile Road, it offers these rates:

For nine holes on weekdays, $3 for weekdays and $3.50 for weekends and holidays.

Tony Dalessandro, who started here two years ago, returns this year as pro-manager. The course will open as soon as weather permits.

The course has a clubhouse with a snack bar.

TYRONE HILLS

A longer and more challenging course plus a completely remodeled clubhouse dining room feature this spring's new look at the Tyrone Hills Golf Course on U.S. 23 near Fenton.

The whole course has been lengthened and re-seeded, and in co-owner Tom Newell's words, is in such good condition that "it looks like a great year" ahead.

Tyrone Hills' ninth hole should prove to be a new challenge to many golfers this year, according to Newell. It has been lengthened from 480 yards to 550, and the par five hole should be a real test this season.

Other course improvements include an expanded water sprinkling system which will help keep the course in good condition all season.

Another major improvement which is sure to catch the eyes of most visitors is the newly remodeled dining room, which will serve until 9 p.m. every weekday night.

The new room will have complete banquet facilities and will feature special noon-day luncheons. Even a new manager, Bill Steinacker has been added.

Course fees at Tyrone Hills will remain the same as last year's. Golfers will be charged $2.50 for nine holes and $3.50 for 18 during the week; on weekends and holidays, the cost for nine holes will be four dollars, and the rate for 18 will be six dollars.

Tyrone Hills also features a complete pro shop, club rentals and motorized golf carts.

WHISPERING WILLOWS

Rates remain the same at this municipal course in Livonia, located at the corner of Eight Mile and Newburgh roads.

Rates for nine holes, Monday through Friday, are $2.75 for Livonia residents, $3 for non-residents; for holes, Monday through Friday, $4 for residents, $4.50 for non-residents.

Special rates are available for resident senior citizens—Monday through Friday, $1 for nine holes. Tee off must be before noon for senior citizens, who are defined as persons 65 years old or older.

Rates for Livonia boys and girls, 17 years old and younger, are $1 for nine holes, $2 for 18 holes on Mondays only, from 8 a.m. to noon.

Twilight rates, after 6 p.m., are $2 for residents, $2.75 for non-residents. There is no league play.

Pro-Manager Gary Whitener notes that this 18-hole, 6,400 yard layout features a driving range, snack bar, pro shop and lessons.

WOODLAND

A new sprinkling system is the newest major feature to be found at Woodland Golf Club near Brighton this spring. Located on Grand River just west of the city, the nine-hole course has added a complete sprinkling system, first ever for Woodland.

The club features club rentals and a pro shop, and has tentatively scheduled the same rates as last year's, with green fees set for $2.25 through the week, and $3.50 on weekends.

Membership fees are $125 for a single membership, $150 for a double and $175 for a family membership.

These rates may be revised upwards in April, however. According to a spokesman for the club, rates may be raised slightly to help defray the cost of the new sprinkling system.

NEW LOOK—A newly remodeled dining room, with complete banquet facilities, will greet spring golfers at Tyrone Hills where the ninth hole has been stretched into a 550-yard par 5 monster to test the driving skill of the longest hitters.

cost of all EPA-supported projects processed by SEMCOG in 1971 was $248,816,960.

Another $73,686,609 was in the form of requests for highway construction funding to the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) for $108,635,200 in highway and freeway construction.

"This review process, utilizing a council of governments in a metropolitan region as the clearinghouse, is rapidly expanding throughout the nation and is a clear demonstration of the need for a regional agency and a regional plan," Turner said.

He said the regional review system began in the mid-sixties when the U.S. Congress required that highway funding be continued in metro areas of 50,000 or more persons only when regional planning was ineffect-

Since that time, other federal funding has been similarly regulated and

"Southeast Michigan, as other metro areas in the nation, has been hard-pressed to develop coordinated regional systems capable of meeting federal requirements," Turner said.

The dollar value of applications to federal agencies by local units processed by SEMCOG trebled in the last year, he said.

State agencies, such as the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan State Housing Development Authority, also utilize SEMCOG as a review agency.

"Refusal of SEMCOG to favorably review a grant application does not necessarily mean it will be rejected also by the state or federal authorities," he said.

"But in a few instances, that has been the effect and the trend is for the federal government to insist on a favorable review before it will approve a given project."

Following is a complete listing of the type and value of projects scrutinized by SEMCOG during 1971:

'Pete's Sake' Drama Slated

"For Pete's Sake," a fast paced comedy-drama, premieres at the Penn Theater in Plymouth April 19-25.

Set in the Rocky Mountains in and around Denver, the film appeals to youths and their families with a look at the ups and downs of the faith of 20th Century man.

Advance tickets for the premier may be purchased at the Penn Barber Shop in Plymouth or the Alpha Bookstore in Livonia. Tickets are $2 for adults and coupon books of 20 tickets, may be purchased for $30. Churches and youth groups are encouraged to save by purchasing the books. Tickets at the door will be $25 for adults and .75 for children.

"For Pete's Sake" tells the story of Pete Harper, a middle American, who tackles the questions about Christianity today. He and his family learn how to use faith as a working commodity while they meet the challenges of a Christian commitment.

Pete finally collides head on with a gang of motorcyclists who challenge him with the honesty of today's youth. He proves he's not afraid to try their world with a dare-devil ride over mountain trails.

Starring are Robert Sampson as Pete and Pippa Scott as his wife. Sampson played in the movie "The Restless Ones" and Miss Scott has starred on Broadway and television.

"For Pete's Sake" is being brought to the Northville-Plymouth area by a group of men in the communities who are concerned about the youth.

The steering committee represents a cross section of with Jack Norton, director of Christian education at Plymouth Wesleyan Church as chairman.

Members include Harold Head, former director of Victorious Christian Youth in Detroit; the Reverend Paul Thompson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Plymouth; Jim Houk, former Plymouth mayor; Ken Evans, youth evangelist from Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth; Dick Kirchgatter, Plymouth veterinarian; Donald H. Sutherland, certified public accountant with offices in Northville and Plymouth; and Don Pickren, manufacturer's representative from Northville.

'Village' Plans Easter Features

For area residents who are spending Easter vacation at home, two special attractions are announced by the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

A steam locomotive "Torch Lake" begins operating on weekends on Saturday, April 1.

An Easter-season family theater program features a live production of "Hansel and Gretel" in the museum theater. The Greenfield Village Players are reviving their successful Christmas show to present again this lively production.

Adapted from the original German script, this version retains many of the songs, dances and background music from the original Humperdink score. The staff points out it is entertainment designed for the whole family.

It will be shown at 2:30 p.m. daily April 1-9 and also at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 8.

Horse-drawn carriage tours of the village also are available daily.

Village hours are 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays. Weather permitting, a village snack stand is open. Clinton Inn is open during the noon-time hours.

In the museum, hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Museum visitors can get snacks or cafeteria-style lunches in the Garden Room from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Busing's No Big Deal in Jackson

LANSING—Amid continuing controversy over the busing of pupils to schools, 70 unusual pupils are being bused on a daily basis in Jackson and with no ballyhoo.

The 70 are all inmates from the trusty division of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. They are attending advanced vocational courses at Jackson Community College. The courses are held from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.—a time when the college's classrooms would normally be closed down.

Courses range from business to electronics to electrical welding, and the program will be expanded. The classes make use of outside lectures. On one occasion the welding class took a field trip.

THE INMATES in the program have between six and 18 months left on their sentences and have to meet academic prerequisites.

Special provisions have been made for the inmates to sleep late on the mornings after the night classes, and their classroom time is treated as a regular work assignment by prison officials.

The dean of vocational and technical education at Jackson Community College, Harold Matthews, says he thinks the program is a success.

"I'M VERY PLEASED with the attitudes of the trusties," he says. "And I'm amazed at their thirst for knowledge. They are making the program work."

"In most cases, we find that student enthusiasm is high at the beginning of the semester but tends to flatten out as times goes on. These, men, however, remain highly enthused."

"It may be that they are just glad to get away from the prison for a while."

THE JACKSON program isn't the only one underway in the Corrections Department, but it's the most ambitious. At Camp Pontiac, some 30 men are taking courses at Northwestern Oakland County Vocational Center and Clarkston High School. At Camp Pugsley, some 45 men are being transported three nights a week to Traverse City High School for instruction.

THE DRIVE by women for an equal footing took another step recently. It came with the appointment by Michigan Republicans of a special assistant to Chairman William McLaughlin to work for women's rights.

Vicki Toensing, 30, who insists on the "Ms." designation in front of her name, took the job in the firm belief women can do more than type or take shorthand in political campaigns.

She will be traveling the state urging Republican women to participate more in the party and vie for policy making positions, as well as secretarial jobs.

McLAUGHLIN said the appointment itself shows that women are making progress in their efforts to attain equal status.

"The fact that this position has been created in itself shows that we are concerned about the status of women in the party," he said. "Just a couple of years ago no one would have thought about creating this post."

McLaughlin knows first hand what women can do as administrators as he worked as state vice chairman when Elly Peterson was state chairman.

WHILE THE CREATION of the position showed strides are being made, it brought out some old customs as well.

One of the news stories about her appointment started out referring to "An attractive Dearborn housewife" and at another point referred to her as a "30-year-old brunette."

If that doesn't seem unusual to you, try to remember when, if ever, you saw a story about a male politician starting out "A handsome Dearborn husband." Or a story referring to a male politician as a "30-year-old brunet."

The old attitudes and customs die hard, but if Ms. Toensing has her way, they'll go the way of the belief women shouldn't even be allowed to vote.

Mozart Featured At EMU

The Palm Sunday presentation on the Eastern Michigan University campus, traditionally a major event, will feature Mozart's "Grand Mass in C Minor" this year.

Performed by the University Choir, four guest soloists, the University-Civic Symphony Orchestra and University organist, the program is sponsored by the Department of Music and the Office of Religious Affairs. It will be presented at 8 p.m. March 26 in Pease Auditorium.

The Mass is Mozart's most important religious work apart from his Requiem Mass. It was written in 1783 following his marriage and its first performance took place in Salzburg. A strict manner of composition is used and monumental choral movements result. The breadth of the solo movements and treatment of the orchestra raises the Mass to a level of distinction.

The 96-voice choir and the 90-member orchestra, directed by Blaine Ballard, will be accompanied by University Organist Erich Goldschmidt.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

Trying to stay young—or at least look that way—is an obsession in this mod age. But looking young may be even tougher for men and women who smoke.

Facial wrinkles like crowsfeet may be caused more by cigarette smoking than by exposure to sun and wind—according to Dr. H.W. Daniell of Redding, California.

In a recent article in the Annals of Internal Medicine, Dr. Daniell describes his study of 1104 subjects between the ages of 30 and 70. Each subject was asked to fill out a questionnaire about his or her smoking habits, sun exposure, weight changes, and medical history.

Without seeing the questionnaires, the doctor first signed each subject a wrinkle score from one to six. Closeup photographs were taken. And three other sets of observers also scored the pictures.

After all correlations were made, prominent wrinkling and heavy smoking were related for all age groups.

Babson Report

Gold Hike Doesn't Hurt

THE NIXON Administration's bill to devalue the dollar by raising the official price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce was recently approved without change by the House Banking Committee.

The approval at a time when the dollar was again under pressure from foreign currency speculators, focuses attention on the probable effect of devaluation on U.S. companies.

The extent of the devaluation of the dollar in relation to the price of gold is relatively minor and the stock market had been "psychologically prepared" for it for some time. Hence, investor reaction to the move has been generally favorable. After an initial period of indecision, the Dow Jones Averages moved strongly upward and (as of this writing) prices have held their gains quite well.

LOOKED AT FROM an investor's point of view, the decision to devalue the dollar and realign other key currencies has bullish long-term connotations. It has been thought that one reason for the slow recovery of the national economy from the 1969-1970 recession was that the flood of foreign merchandise into this country over recent years depressed demand for U.S. merchandise.

So, making foreign goods more expensive should increase demand for U.S.-made goods, thereby boosting domestic employment. And exports of our merchandise should expand because prices to foreigners will be lower in terms of their money.

On the face of it, then, both U.S. firms that derive a sizable portion of revenues from exports and those that have been hard pressed by foreign competition here at home should benefit from a devalued dollar. However, things are not quite that simple. Caterpillar Tractor, for example, could be expected to show significant gains as a result of dollar devaluation since 53 percent of its volume comes from foreign sales.

Yet competitive benefits from lower prices of its equipment in terms of foreign currencies will be restricted by (1) slowdowns in economic activity in many of Caterpillar's customer countries, (2) inelasticity of demand for earth-moving equipment, and (3) the fact that Caterpillar already holds a dominant position in its own particular industry.

IN SPITE of the somewhat muted benefits to Caterpillar from devaluation of the U.S. dollar, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is of the opinion that higher profits are in prospect for this company for 1972 as a whole, and retention of the issue is recommended.

There are, of course, a number of corporations with heavy foreign business that could be expected to derive some benefit from dollar devaluation. Those mentioned here all carry "hold" advice.

Particular attention is directed toward those concerns with 50 percent or more of total sales in foreign markets: Santa Fe International (70 percent); American Smelting & Refining (65 percent); Otis Elevator (61 percent); Colgate-Palmolive (55 percent); and Columbia Pictures, CPA International, and Reading & Bates (each 50 percent).

CLOSE ON the heels of these leaders are some important companies with 40 percent - 50 percent of their sales made abroad: Pfizer (47 percent); Ferro (46 percent); National Cash Register and Standard Oil of California (each 45 percent); Black & Decker, Chesebrough-Pond's, and Gillette Company (each 43 percent); Dow Chemical and Texaco (each 40 percent).

Even those firms with foreign sales in the 30 percent - 40 percent range are worth considering by investors eager to take advantage of the opportunities stemming from devaluation of the U.S. dollar: International Business Machines (39 percent); Culligan International (38 percent); Singer Company and Warner-Lambert (each 36 percent);

Burroughs Corporation (35 percent); Honeywell (34 percent); Eastman Kodak, Trans World Airlines, and Upjohn Company (each 33 percent); Sperry Rand (31 percent); Avon Products, Bucyrus-Erie, and Xerox Corporation (each 30 percent).

College's Concepts Center

Writing Program Praised

Two instructional leaders from the Northville Schools visited a pilot program in English composition at Schoolcraft College recently and they liked what they saw.

Mrs. Violet Bradford, chairman of the high school guidance department, and Miss Florence Panattoni, director of instruction, visited the Writing Concepts Center, a Schoolcraft College innovation in freshman composition.

The center affords students the opportunity to work in a new learning experience, utilizing methods and materials designed to meet individual needs.

Traditional methods and setting associated with the English classroom, like listening to lectures and questions and answers of other students, occasionally participating in a group discussion, appearing in the same room at the same time each day and sitting at a desk has been abandoned. These traditional things have been discarded because the instructors involved in the Concepts Center approach feel they produce an inactive, passive student, or at least encourages an inactive attitude.

Miss Panattoni said their impression of the center was "extremely favorable," and observed "at last a college recognizes that each student is individual and is building programs such as this to meet individual needs." Mrs. Bradford added that she liked the program for its individual approach because "it holds promise for students with varying degrees of English ability."

Schoolcraft's Writing Concepts Center opened last fall on a trial basis. It was developed by English instructors John Kyriacopoulos, Elizabeth Lichty, Michael Malinowski, and LaSalle Mayes.

They designed the program as an answer to three basic and underlying factors: 1. that no two individuals learn at exactly the same rate, the same things at the same time in the same class; 2. that each person studying a subject has a different background, ability and point-of-view. 3.

Mouth Pollution Contaminates Society

by The Rev. Ivan E. Speight
Salem Bible Church

Recently a Supreme Court judge ruled favorably in a case regarding the use of profanity in public. He declared that what is profanity to one man is poetry to another. One of the curses of our society is "rethinking" and redefining evil, and classifying it as good and necessary for some people to function in society. The Bible says, "Woe unto them who call evil good, and good evil: who put darkness for light, and light for darkness." (Isa. 5:20)

"Mouth pollution" has permeated our society. The smog of profanity has contaminated the public places, the factory, the school, the office, the respectable place of business, the printed page, the T.V., radio, and movie screen.

The Bible says, "For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh." If any man likes his "spiritual house" dirty, and wishes to go to hell in his uncleanness, that's his privilege. But to spew forth filth and profanity from his "house" onto the public is the worst pollution of its kind. "Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain" is a commandment of God.

To use the name of the Lord in a curse, vulgarity, or in an unholy way, is to take God's name in vain. To profane words of Scripture is just as bad. Psalm 138:2 says, "For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name." In other words, it could be worse for a person to misuse any of the words of Scripture.

The "respectful" society of our day commonly misuses some very meaningful words used in Scripture besides the name of God and His Son, Jesus Christ. For example: to be damned is to be lost and condemned to hell. Hell is the eternal place of punishment for those not obeying the Gospel and believing in the Lord Jesus Christ as Savior. A bastard is an illegitimate who was not to enter into the congregation of Israel, and is used to describe the spiritual condition of one who is not a child of God. (Hebrews 12:8)

The Shittim wood (acacia wood) was used to make the altar and holy ark of the covenant and other sacred things of the tabernacle of Israel. These holy things of the tabernacle came from shittim wood (King James Version) and not dung, as the common abbreviated form of the word is used to express.

To profane the Scriptures is to profane the work of the Holy Spirit. Such profanity can result to blasphemy shall be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Holy Spirit shall not be forgiven men" (Matthew 12:31). The answer to "mouth pollution" is a changed heart. The way to a changed heart is by faith receiving Jesus Christ as your personal Saviour.

The night was dark and calm. All creatures were silent and leaves stood still as a lone man knelt in a garden called Gethsemane and prayed, "Not as I will, but as Thou wilt."

Around Him Jesus' disciples lay sleeping. Soon He knew would come betrayal, public condemnation and derision . . . and the long last march. And yet He prayed, "Thy will be done."

In the shadow of the Cross Jesus demonstrated perfect love and trust for God, His Father. In the hours ahead He would establish His Sonship for the atonement of all mankind.

And so today, in a world that needs this message of hope, let us commemorate that first Good Friday by acknowledging God as our Father, helping our churches to illustrate His way to the hungry, the sick, and the needy.

ANTIQUE SHOW—Antique lovers should have no difficulty taking delight in the exhibit planned for March 23, 24, 25 and 26 at the Brighton Mall. There'll be 40 exhibits by local and area antique dealers. Among the wares to be displayed are dolls, china, art glass, furniture, jewelry, Rockwood pottery, silver, paperweights, orientals, primitives, brass and copper and books. Here, Betty Hatfield, a local dealer, Emil Jacobs, president-elect of the Brighton Mall Association, and Louis H. Korn (right), advertising representative for the association, discuss some of Mrs. Hatfield's antiques. Jean Fishman is handling the exhibit.
