Sports Cut Stirs Storm

Board Action Scored

Fearing the "games would be called" because of lack of funds, Northville residents, headed by basketball coach Walter Koepke, asked for and won a two-week extension on the fate of extra-curricular activities for 1972-73 school year.

School board trustees Monday night agreed to postpone their decision until May 8 on cuts, amounting to $159,000, until a report is submitted by the group.

The citizen's committee, informally organized Monday night, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 1, at the high school to discuss paring the proposed $90,000 budget covering all extra-curricular activities.

Cuts proposed by the school board, to make up 1.5 mill hike defeated last month by voters, include:

- all extra-curricular activities;
- reducing the high school class load from six to five hours per day;
- eliminating second assistant principal at high school;
- further reduction in transportation program, eliminating busing of students in Commemora, Clement Road, Dolson and Ogg, Northville Estates areas and shuttle service;
- revision of food service to guarantee it be self-sustaining.

With the "stand-room-only" crowd more than willing to rally to the support of extra-curricular activities, at least one board member and several students in the audience expressed concern for educational cuts which were largely ignored by the citizens.

"No one has said anything about cutting the high school subject load from six to five hours," Trustee Stanley Johnston said.

"I think that's just as important as extra-curricular activities," he continued. "It's going to hurt some students who wish to prepare themselves better for college."

Administrators said that about 65 percent of the high schoolers take six subjects. Several students told board members they were carrying six classes, all of which were required subjects.

"All my classes are required," one high school girl told board members. "I don't have any electives to drop. What do I do?"

Several citizens suggested fund-raising campaigns to keep the extra-curricular activities alive or make them self-supporting.

However, Superintendent Raymond Spear noted that all athletic activities generate only $8,000 revenue, $3,200 of which goes to retire the stadium bonds. "This will have to be paid out of general funds next year," he explained.

"I don't think the citizens of this community can raise the $90,000 necessary to sustain the total extra-curricular activities," Spear commented.

"And if you only raise a portion, who decides what activities are kept and which are not? This is a question the

Bond Issue Back

A bond issue request totaling $755,000 will be placed before voters June 12.

Approved unanimously by school board trustees Monday night, the package represents a reduction from the $145 million issue defeated last month by voters.

In placing the issue on the June ballot, trustees noted "all things of permanency have been removed, giving us only money for site options, rather than purchase."

Items covered in the reduced bond issue include:

- payment of $45,000 for the Highland Lakes elementary school site;
- renovation of high school auto shop and welding facilities to continue the program;
- architect's fees;
- site options;

• money for the Cooke Middle School floor law suit;

• expansion of library at Continued on Page 14-A

MARTHA MILNE

Mrs. Milne Dies

Death Mars Retirement

Martha M. Milne, 57, a woman who devoted much of her life in service to her community, died suddenly Saturday morning at Plymouth General Hospital in Detroit.

She had only recently retired as city clerk of Northville, after serving 10½ years in that post, to coincide with the retirement of her husband, William, who was a graphic arts supervisor for the Detroit Edison Company for many years.

Last month past and present city officials, employees, friends and her family had feted her at a retirement dinner hosted by the city council.

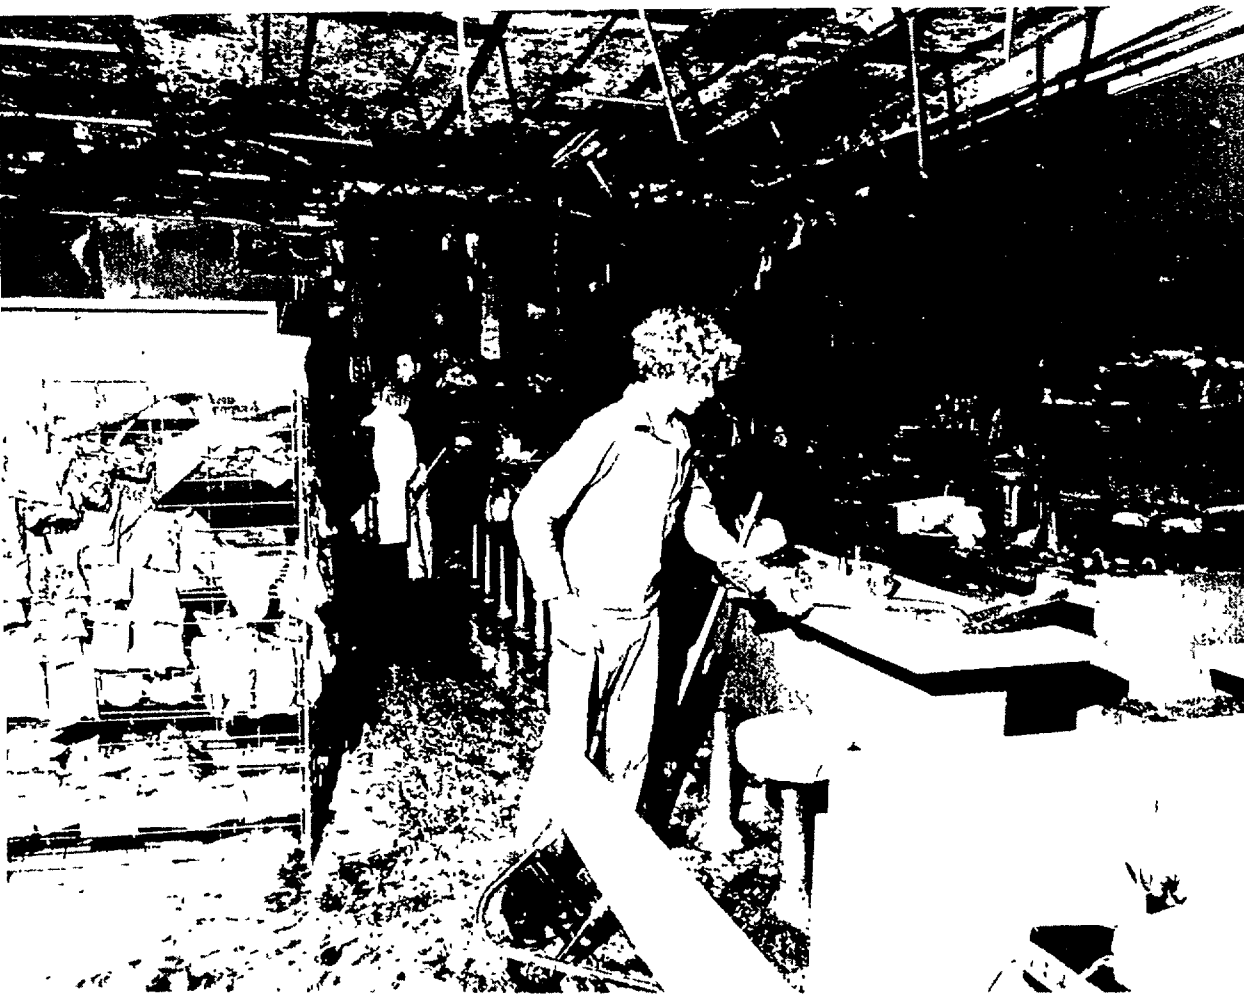

Mrs. Milne entered the hospital two weeks ago for surgery.

In discussing her then upcoming retirement with this newspaper in January, Mrs. Milne commented about her work as clerk, "It has been the richest experience of my life, primarily because of the fine people with whom I've worked and the citizens for whom I've worked."

Of the nearly 30 different areas of responsibility that were hers at one time or another, that of regularly supervising elections had been "the most exciting and the most interesting," she said.

Her most memorable experience, she recalled, was the move in 1963 from the old city hall, then located on the site of the present building, to

HOT FUDGE SATURDAY—Cloverdale Dairy at 134 North Center was gutted by fire at 3:13 a.m. Saturday. The fire, of undetermined origin, also caused smoke damage to Margie's Beauty Salon next door. Remodeling of Cloverdale got underway this week.

District Judge Dunbar Davis Takes Aim at A Decision

Who's Behind Eight Ball?

District Judge Dunbar Davis shoots a pretty mean game of pool.

And for that a Northville resident is thankful.

But a Detroit salesman may have hustled the last laugh.

In typical Judge Davis fashion, the local magistrate not long ago tried out a pool table in the complainant's home to see for himself if the table was defective as claimed.

Firing some of his best shots, the judge quickly decided, "It's a bad table," awarding Howard Meyer, Jr. of Northville a $300 judgment against the Detroit salesman who sold him the table for $500.

"Oh, it wasn't unusual," said Judge Davis in commenting about his on-the-scene inspection. "I probably do it twice a week."

First-hand inspections, he explained, makes for fairer decisions.

Most such cases involve traffic accidents in which the judge wants to learn for himself the circumstances involved. He checks out other complaints as well. Recently, for example, he inspected the paint job on a house.

Although other judges occasionally make inspections before handing down decisions from the bench, Judge Davis admits he does it "quite a bit more than others."

His pool table inspection was a first, however, and he welcomed it because "I like to play."

"My boys stood there with their mouths hanging open with some of those shots of his. He's really good," said Meyer.

Meyer was tickled that Judge Davis agreed with him and awarded the judgment. But all's not well.

Despite the judgment, Meyer has been unable to collect.

"Getting a judgment is one thing, getting the money is another," he observed. "The guy's attorney called me and told me to stop harrasing his client, who he said is unemployed and doesn't have the $300 so he won't pay."

Behind the eight ball and wondering what he will do next, Meyer and his boys are trying to cope with a ouija board-like table on which balls roll sideways and backwards and in circles.

Planners Fear It

'Historical' Law?

Possible danger to the right of the property owner was seen by city officials Tuesday as the Northville Planning Commission discussed a Historical Society proposal to establish a superintending architectural or historical commission here.

The meeting with Society representatives was triggered by last week's stormy planning commission meeting in which the Society protested the proposal for an apartment complex on Randolph Street, west of Center.

Joseph Hudson of Plymouth seeks rezoning of nearly an acre of property on the north side of Randolph to permit him to develop a 16-unit apartment complex. Planners voted to put the matter up for public hearing on June 20.

Chief complaint of the Society is that the development would mean the razing of the old house presently on the property, which, according to the Society, is inside a historical district proposal under consideration now in Washington, D.C.

Working without public fanfare, the Society has been seeking establishment of a historical district here—similar to those in other communities such as Ann Arbor. The proposed district boundaries have been approved by the Michigan

Historical Commission and are now being considered by a branch of the U. S. Department of Interior in Washington.

Spokesmen for the Society explained Tuesday that the district, pared down from the original request by the Michigan Historical Commission, now includes most of the central portion of the city—Rogers, Randolph, Hutton, Church and Cady

Two Ask Zoning For Multiples

Two multiple rezoning proposals on Haggerty Road, south of Six Mile Road were unveiled before township planners Tuesday night.

Both seek to rezone from single family use

A proposal by Dun Rovin golf course to rezone to RM-1 calls for 1,072 multiple units on approximately 137 acres, retaining a nine hole golf course on the perimeter of the development.

Units planned include one, two and three bedrooms with buildings designed in clusters.

The second rezoning petition is located on 61 acres directly south of the golf course and fronts on Haggerty Road.

Submitted by Bernard Gliberman, the development includes condominiums near Haggerty with apartment units on the western part of the property. Rezoning south is RM-2

Both requests were referred to the township planner and engineer for study and are expected to be considered for public hearing dates at the commission's May 30 meeting.

In other action, planners tabled a site plan from Multicon Development-Thompson-Brown for multiples on Six Mile Road north of Northville Commons to permit reworking of the plan.

A site plan from Levitt and Sons to build offices and a warehouse on Gerald Avenue, across from the city's DPW yard, was referred to the planner for study.

Comic Opera Coming in May

A student performance of the comic opera "Rita," or "The Beaten Husband," will be presented at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 10, in the Northville High School auditorium.

A production of the Overture to Opera Company of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, the performance is being sponsored here by the local opera committee Mrs. Ernest Shave, chairman, announces that cost to students will be $1 as part of the expenses are being underwritten.

The opera by Donizetti has as its main character, Rita, a shrewish young woman who nags her timid husband constantly. Together they own an inn. In addition to Beppo, the husband, the cast includes Gasparo, a traveler, and Bartolo, a servant.

In her opening aria, "Was There Ever an Inn," Rita says that her husband is kind but not too intelligent and that she is the boss. She relates how her first husband used to beat her, but now she beats her Beppo.

When Gasparo, the traveler, turns out to be her not-dead first husband, her second husband is delighted to find he is not legally married.

Arias and duets that tell the story include "Here You Are, My Darling Boy" by Rita sung by Betsy Roe, "The Loser Is the Winner," "I'm Like a Bird" and "Now Remember My Directions."

The role of Beppo is played by Richard Conrad. Dr. David DiChiera is general director with Robert M. Heuer serving as managing director.

In announcing the Northville committee's sponsorship of the performance, Mrs. Shave adds that interested adults also may attend.

Acts, Directs 'Plaza Suite'

Northville's Alice Fitzpatrick not only is starring in the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild's upcoming production, "Plaza Suite," but is directing one of the three acts.

She previously starred as Fraulein Kost in the guild's production of "Cabaret," having joined the guild when she and her husband, John, with their six children bought a home in Shadbrook four years ago.

The Fitzpatrick household is very "theatre-oriented" right now as daughters Ellen and Anne are in the cast of "Guys and Dolls" being given May 3-6 at Northville High School. Ellen is mistress of ceremonies while Anne is in the girls' chorus.

"We're all running to rehearsals," comments Mrs. Fitzpatrick as she studies the part of Karen Nash in "Plaza Suite," which will be presented by the award-winning guild in six performances April 28-30 and May 5-7 at the guild building, 15138 Beech Daly Road.

"Plaza Suite" by Neil Simon is three plays, or comic episodes, with a new set of characters in each set. In act one Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Charles Noel play a middle-aged couple who are trying to put new life into their marriage. The plot also involves a secretary a bellhop and a waiter.

For act three Mrs. Fitzpatrick becomes the director. This plot concerns a reluctant bride, Mimsey, her anxious parents and a husband-to-be who is left standing at the altar.

The middle segment deals with the amorous adventures of a Hollywood producer and a suburban housewife.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick explains that she came to be both a star and a director as she first accepted the director position and then tried out for the part of Mrs. Nash.

The Fitzpatrick family came to Northville after four years of living and traveling in Europe. John Fitzpatrick is personnel and organization manager for Ford Motor Company's export division.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick has played leading roles with the English Comedy Club of Brussels, Portland (Oregon) Civic Theatre, National Theatre Productions of New York and the Ford Motor Chorus.

She holds BA and Master of Fine Arts degrees in drama. In addition she has been active in organizing the area barbershop harmony group, Sweet Adelines, which meets weekly in Plymouth. Other hobbies include folk singing, guitar, collecting antiques and gourmet cooking.

Last month in the competition sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Community Theatre Festival at the Detroit Institute of Arts the Livonia-Plymouth Theatre Festival at the Detroit Institute of Arts the Livonia-Plymouth Theatre Guild won the top $1,000 award for "best production." It won with excerpts from "Lion in Winter."

Reservations for "Plaza Suite" must be made in advance, even by season ticket holders, by calling 538-1845 or 425-3796. Tickets are $2 except for Saturday performances, which are $2.50. Opening night, this Friday, already is sold out.

Performances are at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

'RITA' IS COMING—Area students have an opportunity to see a performance of the comic opera, "Rita," or "The Beaten Husband," at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 10, at Northville High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the local Overture to Opera committee. Betsy Rita, sung by Betsy Roe, and her timid husband, Beppo, sung by Richard Conrad, appear in costumes of the period.

Wrinn-Lamont United

Tayna Delores Wrinn became the bride of Albert Edward Lamont, Jr., of 26065 Whipple, Novi, in a double ring ceremony at 6 p.m. Friday, April 14, in Novi United Methodist Church. The Reverend Philip Seymour officiated at the service.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, Frank Wrinn. She wore a long white satin-with-lace wedding dress with a full train. The lace sleeves ended in points at the wrists. Her headpiece was a crown of pearls over lace. Her flowers were white mums.

The bridegroom's sister, Spring Lamont, was maid of honor in a long green satin and net gown with matching headpiece. She carried yellow and green mums.

Best man was Edward Cooper of Novi.

After the ceremony the couple and close friends had dinner at Marco restaurant. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Albert Lamont, wore a turquoise coatdress with white hat and white carnation corsage.

Guests included the bridegroom's grandparents. His parents now are moving to Harrison, Michigan.

After a short honeymoon the newlyweds are living in Livonia.

IT'S GET-OUT-and-help time in Northville.

Rummage sales, bazaars, ticket selling and collecting for the annual Channel 56 Auction are among the involvements of area women — and men.

GO-GETTERS for the Channel 56 Auction May 7-13, which supports the educational television station, have collected from 15 local merchants a wide variety of items.

Northville-Novis area captain Mrs. Donald Kuzilla has a growing list which includes a summer at Pioneer Camp in the Hiawatha Forest in the Upper Peninsula for some lucky boy or girl. It is donated by G. Gordon Young of Northville and valued at $515.

Northville Downs again is donating tickets and Good Time Party Store is repeating its offer of a lobster-a-month for one year ($36).

Gifts range from a ladies golf bag from Brooklane Golf Course, a Cascade wig from Salon Rene, two cameras valued at $76 from Guardian Industries, a wall clock and matching sconces from Northville Drugs to dinner for two (Saratoga Trunk) and dinner for six (Old Mill), both valued at $25.

Others are a humidifier ($110), General Filters; sunglasses, Michael Manning; gift certificates, $25 each, Guernsey Dairy, Braders; cosmetics, Paris Room; a permanent ($25), White Boutique.

Marilyn Kuzilla adds that the active group of young mothers "really gets an A plus on cooperation" as arrangements have been made to share babysitting and driving during auction week. "All are working at least one shift and most, three or four times — so we are exchanging kids and cars — and some of us have even conned our huddies into working one night—our gang isn't large but we're compatible!"

Anyone with donations may still call Mrs. Kuzilla at 349-0498, or Mrs. William Rasmussen, 349-5971, also from Northville but west area regional chairman.

A "SAVE Orchestra Hall" benefit also has the assistance of Marilyn Kuzilla, a member of the Rackham Symphony Choir, official choir of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, who will be singing with the group at Orchestra Hall at 4 p.m. Sunday, May 14.

Composed of 150 adult voices, the choir will be singing works by American composers in the benefit to help save the historic landmark. Patron tickets are $5, general admission, $2, student, $1. Mrs. Kuzilla may be contacted for tickets.

"MASCULINE" donations have been collected by the men of Northville United Methodist Church for their rummage sale at the church, 777 Eight Mile Road, which begins at 6 p.m. Friday and continues from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

A Harvest Home Festival already is in the planning stage by women of the church who are reserving October 20 for the combined bazaar and smorgasbord. The new event will replace the Holly Mart bazaar and will feature three dinner sittings at 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

A ONE-DAY THRIFT Sale is being planned by Northville Mother's Club for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 13, at Northville First Presbyterian Church. The club annually has a nearly-new sale as one of its benefits for the schools.

As usual, a large selection of children's clothes as well as household items is planned. Anyone with items to donate may call Mrs. Edward Hodge, 349-0192, or Mrs. Herbert Weston, 349-9714.

Monday night club members and guests heard firsthand observations of backstage life at the Fisher Theatre from Lillian Hicks, director of its speaker's bureau. The current musical, "No, No Nanette," is a sell-out, she reported, recalling how the revival's original show had its beginning in Detroit "and would have been a flop except for the fact that two songs were added, 'Tea for Two' and 'I want to Be Happy,' during the first days."

In the revival, she notes, Dennis Day is just back in one of the lead roles this week. Against physician's orders, he has continued to wear contact lens and had been out with a severe eye infection.

Another Fisher favorite, "Fiddler on the Roof," she added, is about to break all longevity records for live theatre.

A NEWCOMERS Theatre Party is the upcoming event for Northville Newcomers Club, which has taken a block of tickets for the 8 p.m. Saturday, May 6, performance of "Guys and Dolls." There will be a cocktail party from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. as well as an after-theatre party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jarrie Kissel, 47016 Elmsmere in Northville Estates.

"I'm quite excited about this year's party," says Mrs. John Crotteau, president, "as it is the first time to attend a Northville production." The club has purchased 50 tickets for the Northville High School musical.

Reservations should be made by May 1 with Mrs. Terry Heaton, 16115 Portis, Plymouth, 453-3003. There is a 25-couple limit.

New officers have been elected by the club and will take office in June at a joint board meeting in June at the home of Cathy Crotteau, retiring president. Mrs. Robert Holloway succeeds her as president.

Other incoming officers are Mrs. J. M. Richardson, vice-president; Mrs. Ray Tisch, secretary; Mrs. Walter Smith, treasurer; Mrs. David Burns, Mrs. James Harris, interest group chairman and assistant; Mrs. David Mynatt, Mrs. George Kausler, Mrs. Ray Nied, Mrs. Carl Schwobel, social coordinator and assistants; Mrs. Glen Siwarski, neighborhood relations; Mrs. Daniel Pierre, art director; Mrs. Robert Eppers, Mrs. John Conder, membership chairman and assistant.

New on the slate this year are the assistant posts to help cope with club growth.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Steeper of Romulus announce the birth of their first child, Jeffrey Thomas, Sunday, April 23, at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Steeper is the former Mary Sue Jones of Jackson, Michigan.

The baby, who weighed eight pounds, two ounces, also is the first grandchild of both Mr. and Mrs. Lorne W.

Steeper of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones of Jackson.

The baby's father presently is an analyst for Market Opinion Research at University of Michigan and is enrolled in the university's doctoral program in political science. He was valedictorian of the Class of 1961 of Northville High School.

Singing Star Entertains

The shiny red hip boots met the navy-and-white pantdress that was definitely "mini." The figure was trim and the dark hair long and flowing.

This was Patrice Munsel, former Metropolitan Opera star whose career has ranged from Grand Opera to musical comedy, in the Northville Town Hall spotlight last Thursday at Northville High School.

With a program of conversation interspersed with songs ranging from opera to "baroque rock" Miss Munsel very much had the Town Hall audience in her hand by the time she concluded with "He's Got the Whole World in His Hand."

Operatic selections included "Musetta's Waltz" from LaBoheme (Miss Munsel termed Musetta "one of the first hippies"), and Menotti's "The Telephone."

"I grew up loving popular music and that made an easy transition to musical comedy," Miss Munsel said as she went on to sing "Open a New Window" from Auntie Mame. Explaining that being the mother of teenagers—four ranging from 18 to 12—made it easier to identify with today's music, she included Beatle numbers.

"Saturday Morning Confusion" brought strong applause from the capacity audience of primarily middle-aged women.

Reminiscing about the days "when pot was a plant holder and marriage was before children," she entertained with familiar-to-her-audience numbers including "As Time Goes By," "Lover Come Back," "Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey?" and "Where or When." "Danny Boy," she added, is her most-requested song.

She termed her family life "quite joyous" as she told of Heidi, 18, now in London studying dancing, Rhett, 16, Scott, 13, and Nicole, 12, and her producer husband Robert Schuler. She said that such activities as skiing and scuba diving together has helped make the family a close one.

"We love to travel," she added, explaining that when she is to be away any length of time, the family goes too.

Nursery Plans Night For Visitors

A visitors' night for parents of prospective nursery school children from three to five years old is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 9, at Novi Baptist Church, Eleven Mile and Taft roads, by the Novi Cooperative Nursery.

Parents will have an opportunity to view the nursery equipment and learn what a cooperative nursery program involves from incoming and retiring officers who will be present to answer questions.

Mrs. Todd Price, who has served as president for two years, will be succeeded by Mrs. Edward Brown. Other new officers who will take over in June are Mrs. Barry Killick, Mrs. Glen Warner, vice-presidents; Mrs. Patrick Alexander, secretary; Mrs. Richard Monheimer, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Aron is the newly appointed membership chairman.

Mrs. Douglas Thrush, 476-5375, current membership chairman, now is accepting applications for the fall program, which has two sessions. A three-day program runs Monday, Wednesday and Friday, while two-day sessions are held Tuesday and Thursday.

Study Classroom

Four Amerman Elementary teachers recently participated in "A Window on the Open Classroom" conference held at Eastern Michigan University.

Involved in planning the conference in cooperation with the curriculum and instruction department of EMU and making presentations were Mrs. Nancy Fieldman, Mrs. Myra Moss, Mrs. Sue Karschnick and Mrs. Coral Adas.

In addition, two video tapes, "An Integrated Day in Kindergarten," filmed at Moraine Elementary, and "An Integrated Day in First Grade," filmed in Mrs. Fieldman's first grade at Amerman, were shown to the more than 400 attending the conference.

Miss Florence Panattoni, director of instruction for Northville schools, was involved in the early planning stages of the conference.

"We are very proud of our staff," she commented. "Last year, Mrs. Gayle Fountain, Mrs. Cheryl Mallette and Mrs. Michele Kotowicz, first grade teachers at Moraine, participated in the Michigan Reading Association Conference.

"And this year our teachers shared their 'know-how' in Eastern's open classroom conference," she noted.

Novi Asks Sewer Cost, Final Plans

Development of a major shopping center on the southeast corner of Novi and Ten Mile Roads was brought a little closer Monday as the Novi city council took a slow but steady pace forward in bringing a sewer line to that location.

Specifically, Monday's meeting was a preliminary hearing of necessity to determine the means of financing the proposed Novi-Ten sewer line extension. The action taken by the council was the adoption of the third in a series of seven resolutions which must be passed before a special assessment district to finance the project can be levied.

Resolution number three authorizes City Manager George Athas to draft final plans, specifications, and detailed cost estimates from which the actual special assessment district will be determined.

Still ahead are a preliminary hearing of necessity, a hearing of necessity, and two hearings to set and approve the assessment role. Once that has been accomplished the role will be sent to Lansing for approval, and then bids must be let and approved before construction can begin.

"We ought to be able to begin construction of the line in a year," said Mayor Joseph Crupi in response to a question "If all goes well," quipped Councilman William O'Brien.

The line will extend from the railroad tracks on Novi Road south to Ten Mile Road and then proceed east down Ten Mile until it again ties in with the main sewer trunk line at the railroad tracks. Preliminary estimates of the total cost of the line have been placed at $441,000, according to City Engineers Johnson and Anderson. Of that total the City will pay approximately $62,150 (the cost for oversizing the line along Ten Mile), leaving a total of $378,850 to be spread over the assessment district.

This figures out to a tentative assessment of $30.25 per front foot.

Objections from three of the property owners along the Novi-Ten corridor were raised at the meeting.

Representing Michigan Tractor, George McGrath pointed out that the existing elevation of his company is lower than the proposed sewer trunk. As the sewer line is based on gravitational flow it would be difficult for Michigan Tractor to get any real use out of the line.

McGrath asked the council if he could proceed with the negotiations with the property owner immediately to his north to attain easements so he could tie into the main trunk line which runs along the railroad tracks.

The problem is that if Michigan Tractor does not tie into the proposed sewer lateral and ties into the main trunk line instead, the city could tentatively be left holding the bag with their front foot assessment.

A similar problem arose in regard to the position of the J. R. Snyder Company.

Speaking for the company, Attorney William Dillon told the council that Oakland County had granted J. R. Snyder two plug-ins in the main trunk line in return for the land on which the trunk line was built.

"We don't see why we should have to pay $30 per front foot for a sewer lateral if we already have plug-ins," Dillon stated. "We're being hit by both sides on this thing. First the county hits us for land and now the city wants to hit us for a front foot assessment."

Mayor Joseph Crupi pointed out that the County had no right to grant plug-ins into the main line. "They build the line, but it belongs to the City and we control it. Sometimes in order to gain right of ways the County makes promises it cannot keep and which put the city in a bad light."

Albert Weiss, developer of the proposed major shopping center on the Novi-Ten Mile site, raised questions regarding the means by which the assessment is being proportioned.

Due to the topography of the 135 acres he owns, he stated, the Novi-Ten sewer lateral would only serve the northern-most portion of his land. The majority of the property flows southerly and would have to be a part of a different sewage system.

"Is there any way to assess the cost other than on a front foot basis?" he asked. "The assessment is going to cost me $66,000 but the line will only service a small part of my property."

Weiss concluded his comments by saying he would like to see the work continue regardless of how it is assessed.

Councilman Edwin Presnell objected to the statements made by Weiss. "If my memory serves me right," said Presnell, "this is the very man for whom we're putting the sewer line in and now he says he objects to the way it's being assessed."

Presnell raised two other objections to proceeding with the setting up of the special assessment district. The councilman questioned the engineer's report regarding the topographical drainage districts. "We're oversizing the line along Ten Mile and paying $60,000 out of city monies to do it," he said, "and I'm not certain that the topographical flow out beyond Taft Road which is what the oversizing is to provide for will even flow in this direction. If the line does service the area let's oversize it from 15 to 30 inches, but if the flow is away from the line, let's not build a white elephant. We don't want something we can't use."

Presnell's other objection concerned the source of the city's funding. "We've got no funds budgeted for this line," he said. "How can we approve the expenditure of funds we don't have?"

In spite of Presnell's objections the council passed resolution number three by a 6-1 margin.

Union Issue Faces Vote

A movement to unionize Novi's city employees will be decided one way or the other May 9.

That's the date set by the Michigan Labor Relations Commission for a special election of city employees in which they will be asked to either accept or reject the union.

The date was set Monday as officials of the Municipal Employees Division of the AFL-CIO met with Novi officials in the Michigan Labor Relations Building in Detroit Monday morning.

At that meeting City Manager George Athas presented state labor relations officials with a list of city employees eligible for the union. The union is closed to supervisory and council-appointed employees. At the same time, union officials presented the state with what amounts to cards of intent from Novi employees requesting a union.

In order for the unionization question to be brought to a vote of the workers, more than 30 per cent of the eligible employees must have signed cards. If less than 30 per cent have signed, the matter fails before going to a vote.

Athas indicated approximately 23 employees were ruled eligible for the union. The 23 include Novi High School co-op students.

Asked how the unionization movement will affect the 1972-

NINE MILE ROAD CONSTRUCTION—Residents living along Nine Mile have had to endure a variety of difficulties lately as their main road has been the object of extensive construction projects. On the east end of Nine Mile by Meadowbrook Road, workmen are busy installing a sewer line. Meanwhile, the west end of the road by Novi Road is being prepared for paving. When the construction is finished residents will have a much easier life. Until the projects are finished, however, those people who have to travel Nine Mile have had to battle mud and bulldozers.

Officials Support Millage

Fearful that the proposed one mill increase in taxes will be rejected by the voters in the May 16 election, the Novi city council took two steps Monday to encourage passage of the millage.

First, the council scheduled public hearings for May 9, 10, and 11 to begin proceedings to cap all roads in the city's older subdivisions and secondly, adopted a general statement of policy to the effect that the city will participate on a 20 percent basis whenever a special assessment is levied.

Although the entire council is concerned about the fate of the proposed one mill increase to be used specifically for road construction and maintenance, it was Councilman Donald Young who brought the subject before council Monday.

"We had a millage for roads defeated three years ago," said Young, "and absolutely nothing has been done to improve the condition of our roads. If this millage is defeated we'll probably go another three years before we

Bigger Hike

Seen for SEV

A bigger than expected 1972-1973 state equalized valuation of the Novi School District appears certain, according to Superintendent Thomas Dale.

Dale had anticipated the SEV to increase from $49,854,304 to $53,400,000. However, the city has informed school officials that the city portion of the Novi school district will be $54,846,000—city's total SEV was put at $77,602,000. Valuation information has not yet been received from Wixom or Novi Township, Dale said.

It would appear, therefore, that the district's valuation will approximate $56 million—$3 million more than anticipated, Dale said.

see any progress. It's extremely important that the millage pass and I think it's our job to make the point loud and clear so everyone can hear that everybody is going to benefit from this millage."

"I've always been against millage increases because they're always to do the same job. Here we have to emphasize to the voters that we're asking for the millage to do a job that we haven't been able to do and needs doing desperately."

If the millage is approved, it will bring only an additional $70,000 of income to the city, a fact that was duly noted by Mayor Joseph Crupi.

"The funds from the millage are minimal to the amount of money needed to do the job," he said. "It will take a number of years for these improvements to start becoming noticeable. The only statement we can make to the people is that if they approve the millage we'll get $70,000 and it will be used to finance a variety of improvements. We'll do some paving in some areas and ditching and grading in other areas. The only improvements you can make with this kind of money are limited."

Councilman Raymond Evans reiterated Crupi's point that the money the millage will bring in will have to be augmented from other sources. "A good many people think if the millage passes there won't be any assessments," he said. "We've got to make people aware that there are always going to be assessments."

An additional point was made by Councilman William

O'Brien. The median house in Novi is assessed at $26,000, he pointed out. When that is translated into what the one mill increase is going to cost the average Novi citizen it figures out to $13 per year. "I would hope," he said, "most residents would give up a dollar a month to improve our roads."

Said Crupi, "What it all comes down to is whether or not we have enough pride to improve the roads of the whole city. When the people go to the polls, they must look at the needs of the overall city and not their own particular selfish interests."

"If they have pride in their city, they'll support the millage."

Dates Planned For Gala Days

Novi's Gala Days, the annual summer festival sponsored by the Novi Jaycees, have been officially scheduled for the weekend of July 20-23, it was announced Monday by Bill Lapham, Jaycee Publicity Chairman for the event.

One of the added features of this year's Gala Days celebration will be a chicken barbecue, Lapham reported. The family-style barbecue will be sponsored by the Novi Little League and has been set for Saturday evening.

In the planning stages is the possibility of having a pancake breakfast on one of the three Gala Days, although nothing definite has been set. Lapham and the Jaycees are still looking for and highly receptive to other ideas for special events such as the barbecue and proposed pancake breakfast. All ideas for special events should be submitted in writing to either Philip Cozad or Jerry Fortenberry, the overall chairmen for Gala Days, at Box 249, Novi, Michigan.

Other features of festivities will be the Jaycees "Beer" tent open to 18-year olds and up, the Jayettes' refreshment stands, numerous games sponsored by area clubs and organizations, and a dozen rides.

Board Reviews Candidates

With a list of some 75 candidates for school superintendent paired down to 12 by college placement directors, local officials are to begin interviewing this week the top eight preferred by the Novi board.

The board is seeking a replacement for Superintendent Thomas Dale, whose contract has not been renewed for next year.

A wide range of projects involving remaining monies in the building and site fund were approved Monday by the Novi Board of Education.

Approved projects and costs include:

- Purchase and installation of a gym divider at the middle school, by Laich, Inc., at a bid price not to exceed $5,889.

- Expenditure of $4,500 for new books at the middle school and of $3,000 for new books at Village Oaks Elementary School.

- Erection of an 800-foot chain link fence, six feet high, with posts at 10 foot intervals and larger posts at ends of fence along the Ingersoll Drain, and installation of nine pieces of playground equipment at Village Oaks Elementary school, by the New Hudson Fence Company, at a combined cost not to exceed $2,500.

- Contracts to Green Ridge Nursery of Northville to seed middle school property at a cost of $9,315; to landscape Village Oaks property at a cost of $570.50; to landscape middle school property at a cost of $3,241.75; and to install drainage fields at the high school baseball diamond at a cost of $400, with provision for any additional drainage at a cost of $1 per foot.

Concerning landscaping, the board tabled until its next meeting proposals for repairing (filling and sodding) of the high school football field and landscaping of a steep embankment adjacent to the middle school.

Administrators were also authorized to take quotes and purchase two crowd-control gates in Village Oaks School.

Several other projects moved a step closer to reality with the authorization for bids. These include:

- A 48-inch, 18-foot deep manhole for use in conjunction with the hook-up of the high school to the city's sanitary sewer system.

- Three fenced tennis courts, located on the north side of the high school, to be bid with and without lights.

- Installation of a new roof on part of the Novi Elementary School. Specifications for this project are to be drawn by school officials.

The board also directed that specifications and/or plans be drawn—

- By the architect for installation of a sewer line at Novi Elementary School.

- By the board's building and site committee for abandonment of the high school's present sewage disposal system and future use of the site on which the system is located immediately behind the high school.

Projects tabled for review and consideration later were:

- Conversion of temporary, mobile classrooms for administration offices.

- Installation of two sections of bleachers, 100 seats each, for the visitors' side of the high school football field.

- Construction of a walkway from Village Road to the rear of Village Oaks Elementary School.

In discussing proposals for construction of the tennis courts, Trustee Mrs. Sharon Pelchat suggested the board first consider proper drainage for the existing high school track before taking on a new project.

Hundreds Turn Out

By NANCY DINGELDEY

For Elsie and Chris Nissen their stay in Wixom may have been short in duration but it will be long and vivid in their memories. They arrived here Friday from Naples, Florida, their winter home and returned this past Monday.

However, in those three short days, they were fêted at a family dinner at the Holiday Inn with over 20 relatives present followed on Saturday by a reception honoring their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception was held at the Wixom School from 1 until 5 p.m. with a constant stream of well-wishers attending. "We quit counting in the two hundred's—I just don't know what the final count amounted to," remarked Ev McCall. She, her sister Joan Rourke, along with brothers Don, Andy and Jim Nissen and another sister, Mrs. John Procter of Westland, planned the parties for their proud parents.

Wearing a white dress and a corsage of white carnations tipped in gold, Mr. and Mrs. Nissen greeted their guests. The room was decorated in white and gold and was graced with a large variety of flowers. Irene Rolfe created the towering four-tiered wedding cake centered at the head table.

Guests journeyed from Paradise and Newberry, Michigan and Toledo, Ohio to be with the Nissens. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Willing flew in from Florida to join the celebration. Mr. Willing was the Nissens' best man at their marriage in 1922. Others came from Royal Oak where the Nissens lived after their marriage. "Even their old milk man came". Miss Virginia Murray, who taught in the Wixom Schools for many years and who lived with the Nissens at their home on West Maple Road, drove in from Saline.

For Elsie and Chris, it was a day of memories. They were thrilled and totally delighted that so many old friends and family would help them celebrate their very special day. The trip to Wixom and back to Florida also marked their first air flight. A very happy event for the Nissens, their six children, 22 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. And to the long line of good wishes, may we add ours.

Paul and Elna Salo are happy grandparents again. The newest addition to the Salo entourage was born last Thursday in Ypsilanti to the Salo's daughter, Ann Louise, and husband Bill Mahn. Little one's name is Aaron Matthew. The arrival was followed only two days later by Elna's mother and husband, Sonja and George Stroud from their home in Arizona. The great-grandparents for the second time motored up and will be spending several months in Wixom with the Salos.

Especially important to moms with children entering kindergarten in the fall is the notice of a free immunization clinic in the Walled Lake area. Originally held at the Walled Lake Baptist Church, the clinic will now be held from 9 a.m. until noon on the first Tuesday of each month at the Southwest Oakland Vocation Education Center on Beck Road.

Students studying Medical Office Assisting at the Voc.

Ed. Center will have the opportunity to pick up some practical experience by assisting the Oakland County Health Department operate the clinic. A quick check with your family physician can determine the shots your children may need and a trip to the Voc. Ed. Center will provide them at no charge. Anyone under 18 years of age may receive the immunizations. A Michigan state law requires immunizations for all children entering kindergarten in the fall.

Born to Beth and Tom Brown of Union Lake last week, a baby boy. Mom and dad were still a little undecided about his name at the time of this writing. Mom is the former Beth Nicolay of Wixom.

A sign of changing times...As any little girls will do, my two were playing house the other day with quite a large family of dolls. And naturally, as any little "baby" will do, they all "wet". But, the one little "mommy" said to her little "baby"... "Oh dear, you're all wet, time to change your "Pampers"!!

Police Blotter: Charge Five in Break-In

In Northville

Charges of breaking and entering have been filed against one 17-year-old Northville youth and four Northville juveniles in connection with the theft of a mini-bike and go kart.

Arrested Monday on the charge was Gary E. Bills, of 190 East Main Street. He stood mute before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis and was released on $5,000 bond. No date has been set yet for examination, court officials said.

Bills and the juveniles are charged with breaking into a garage at 718 North Center Street on April 18 and removing the mini-bike and go kart.

Investigation by the city's detective bureau led them to one juvenile who reportedly was bragging about stealing the mini-bike.

Police said the juvenile allegedly traded the bike, which had been repainted, to one of the juveniles for another mini-bike.

The repainted mini-bike was identified by the owner as the one stolen from his garage.

The go kart, which police said had been hidden in a wooded area, has not been found.

Thirteen Redford Township juvenile boys between the ages of 12 and 15 are being questioned in connection with three cases of vandalism which occurred over the weekend.

Under investigation by the detective bureau are incidents of vandalism at Huff Welding, 21043 Old Novi Road, and on Springfield Drive and Morgan Circle in Lexington Commons North.

Two trucks at Huff Welding and three in Lexington Commons had windows, mirrors, lights and dash boards smashed with pipes and wiring ripped out. Padlocks on the trucks were broken and tools stolen from a truck in Lexington Commons.

Two bicycles valued at $180 were stolen Friday night from a garage at 745 Thayer Boulevard.

Missing are a green Schwinn five-speed racer and a gold Huffy three-speed racer.

Sporting equipment and an American flag were stolen from St. Paul's Lutheran School last Thursday evening.

According to reports, there were no signs of forced entry, and police believe the intruder may have found and used keys to the school lost last week.

The thief must have been cold, police surmise following the break-in Saturday night of a home at 256 Griswold Street.

Taken from a bedroom was a gold blanket. Investigating officers found the front door glass had been broken and the screen cut to enter the home.

A 30-year-old escapee from the women's division of Detroit House of Correction was recovered by police shortly before 7 a.m. Monday. The woman was found sleeping in a truck at Huff Welding.

COURT NEWS

Eugene Ford Jr. of Detroit was placed on two years' probation after he pled guilty to an added charge of attempted robbery unarmed.

The action came last week before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James Ryan.

Ford, who was arrested January 1 by city police, had been charged with armed robbery of an off-duty Detroit police officer at Northville Downs. The charge was dismissed after he pled guilty to the added count.

Three persons arrested by city police on charges of drunkenness appeared April 18 before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis.

James W. Depuydt of Detroit, arrested March 3, was found guilty and fined $64; Richard DiCicco of 190 East Main Street, arrested April 2, pled guilty and was fined $54, and Kenneth E. England of South Lyon, arrested February 29, was found guilty and fined $44.

Charlotte B. Callaghan of Salem was fined $24 after she pled guilty to speeding 45 mph in a 35 mph zone. She was arrested by city police April 3 on a traffic warrant.

Driving a vehicle with improper plates resulted in a $19 fine for Kurtis M. Gow of South Lyon. Gow, who pled guilty to the charge, was ticketed April by city police.

In district court last Thursday, William E. Kahler of Walled Lake was sentenced to 14 days in Detroit House of Correction for violation of probation.

Kahler, who was arrested March 16 by city police, had been picked up for being drunk.

In Township

Township police are investigating the report of a theft April 15 from a home at 16931 Franklin Road.

According to reports, more than $85 worth of woman's clothing was taken from the home between 7:30 and 11:30 p.m. Police said residents were home at the time of the theft but did not hear the intruder enter. There were no signs of forced entry.

Unknown persons destroyed a paper box on Clement Road last week after they set fire to the paper. Police are continuing to investigate the destruction.

Township police received reports last week of three juvenile boys running away from home. One of the youths was recovered the following day by city police in a car stopped for a traffic violation.

Another township youth, reported missing to Michigan State Police, was also found in the same car, police said.

In Novi

Charges of gross indecency between male persons have been brought against a Detroit man, Jay Roughley, in connection with incidents which occurred in the Novi City Park last summer.

Roughley was employed by the City of Novi to oversee the park.

Receiving a complaint from a Novi citizen, police investigated Roughley's behavior last summer and obtained sufficient evidence to obtain a warrant for his arrest from the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office Tuesday, April 18. Roughley was arrested the following day at his home in Detroit.

He was arraigned before Judge Martin Boyle in the 52nd District Court in Walled Lake and released on $2,500 personal recognizance bond. Examination date has been set for Monday, May 1, at 2 p.m. before Judge Boyle.

Stanley Slusher, 17, of Detroit has been arrested on charges of falsifying a police report. Slusher had previously given police a written statement accusing two adults of having purchased liquor for him. Later he admitted he had falsified the report and had purchased the liquor himself.

A portable washer and dryer were reported stolen from a residence at 2205 Novi Road. The value of the machines was placed at roughly $320.

Daniel Deaton told police the machines had been taken sometime between Saturday, April 15, and Tuesday, April 18. The case is under investigation.

Charges of driving under the influence of liquor and resisting a police officer have been brought against John Terrance Haupt, 23, of Walled Lake and charges of interfering with a police officer have been brought against Timothy Heffernan, 35, also of Walled Lake.

All charges were levied in regard to the same incident. Haupt and Heffernan were apprehended Monday, April 17, at 2:30 a.m. when the car in which they were travelling was observed being driven in an erratic manner.

Haupt was arrested forthwith for driving under the influence of liquor. When he was handcuffed, Heffernan objected and interfered with the officers' attempts to put Haupt in the patrol car, according to reports.

Heffernan was then placed under arrest for interfering with an officer at which time Haupt, who had previously been cooperative, refused to get into the patrol car and had to be helped into the car by officers, thus leading to the charges of resisting an officer.

Both men were arraigned in the 52nd District Court. Haupt was released on $50 cash bond, while Heffernan was lodged in the Oakland County Jail.

An Orchard Lake man,

William Donald Erickson, 31, has been arrested on charges of driving under the influence of liquor. The alleged offense occurred Saturday, April 15, at approximately 9:30 p.m.

In Wixom

Police are investigating a breaking and entering of a residence at 1862 Hopkins Drive which occurred Sunday, April 16.

The owner of the home told police that he had been receiving phone calls every evening at dusk for about a week, but when he picked up the phone the party on the other end of the line would hang up.

Stolen was a quantity of jewelry valued in the proximity of $1,000. The theft occurred sometime between 1 p.m. Saturday, April 15, and 4:15 p.m. the following day, the owner told police.

Vance McCarthy, a Walled Lake man, reported a cassette tape player had been stolen from his automobile some time between April 16 and April 18.

According to McCarthy, his car was impounded by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and placed in a garage owned by J. Watkins. When he picked up the car two days after it was impounded, the cassette was gone, McCarthy reported.

The tape player was valued at $110.

William Egert, a Milford man, was charged with driving under the influence of liquor. He was apprehended by Wixom police Saturday, April 15, at approximately 2:45 a.m. and detained over night in the Walled Lake Police Department jail.

Auto thefts have doubled but there is a downward trend in the amount of breaking and enterings this year as compared with the same period last year. These were the findings revealed last week as Wixom Police Chief George Von Behren released a report comparing the first quarter of the present year with the first quarter of 1971.

Auto thefts have jumped from four to eight during the period from January 1 to March 31 between 1971 and 1972. Most of the thefts have been from the Wixom Ford Assembly Plant parking lot Breaking and enterings of businesses have decreased from six to two, while the breaking and enterings of residences has risen from four to five, the report revealed. Attempted breaking and enterings have declined from five to two.

The number of crimes involving narcotics was three in both years, although larcenies have risen from 21 to 24 and vandalism has gone from six to eight cases.

Biggest decrease has come in the number of traffic accidents. In 1971 police recorded 43 accidents between January and March, while that figure has dipped to 33 over the same period in 1972.

Police have handed out 221 traffic tickets during the first three months of the present year, as compared with a total of 134 citations written last year. Major reason for the jump has come in the number of parking violations cited. Wixom police have issued 129 parking violation tickets as compared with just three over the first three months of 1971.

In the miscellaneous category, the report revealed that arrests have advanced from 11 to 14, there have been 449 police calls, and that Wixom police have patrolled some 30,082 miles during the first three months of 1972.

Predict Bus Aid Hike

Novi's bus reimbursement aid may be increased next year, according to a report this week by Superintendent Thomas Dale.

Bus routes were audited April 17, he said, and "we have scheduled our runs so that our reimbursement will be increased."

"Six of our eight buses transport eligible students and 701 of the 1,544 pupils transported are eligible." No estimate of the increase was given.

Dale also reported that a satisfactory agreement of a cash settlement in lieu of repair of oil storage tanks at Novi Elementary School have not yet been reached with Frank Johnson Company, a subcontractor of Arctic Air.

An unacceptable $100, possibly a $150 settlement was made by Johnson and unless this was substantially increased repairs of the tank were to begin this Wednesday.

Assistant Superintendent Richard Hendrickson reported that the flashing traffic signal is to be installed and made operable within 27 days—a promise of a spokesman for the Oakland County Road Commission.

Permission for removal of six trees along the south side of 10 Mile Road has been received from the road commission, Hendrickson also reported. Not yet received, however, is the permit to fill the area to develop a walkway, he said. Meanwhile, Practical Home Builders is to propose an alternate route to Orchard Hills School from Meadowbrook Glens, he added.

Novi Adds Half-Time Music Teaching Post

A full-time music teacher position at the Novi Middle School, and adoption of a general music class curriculum and a home economics curriculum at the high school were approved Monday.

All three are to begin with the start of the 1972-73 school year.

Board action of the music teacher position followed a report by Band Director Gordon Seiler on his recommendations for improving the school music program.

By authorizing the full-time teacher, the board actually increases the middle school staff by one-half teaching post. Presently, the school has a half-time music teacher.

Other recommendations by Seiler, including provision of an introductory music offering at the fifth grade level, additional preparatory time, and establishment of the director of instrumental music title, were tabled pending study by the board.

The new, "more flexible," home economics curriculum approved by the board provides for inclusion of some vocational education which, according to Superintendent Thomas Dale, may result in from 12 to 14-percent financial reimbursement by the state. Board members also approved a vocal music text, published by the American Book Company, to be used next fall at Village Oaks Elementary school on an experimental basis. It is a non-graded text.

Another report, this one by Librarian Mrs. Fred Gerhardt, was heard by the board and her written recommendations were tabled pending further study.

Among some of her recommendations were central ordering of books for all schools on a twice-yearly basis; purchase of additional books to put school libraries nearer recommended levels; eliminate use of technicians for class supervision in libraries; consider keeping libraries open during non-school hours; purchase of additional professional teaching books and magazines; and employment of librarians for a week prior to and a week following the classroom school year.

During her comments about the need for magazines, Board Secretary Ray Warren suggested an effort be made to encourage donation of magazines by citizens of the district.

Many people, he said, might be willing to donate their own magazines on a regular basis if they knew that the school libraries could use them.

In other business Monday, the board——Accepted the resignation of Melan T. Groszke, effective at the close of the current teaching year.

—Voted to borrow $500,000 on a tax anticipation note for the 1972-73 school year. These are the monies borrowed annually to tide the district over during the lean late summer and early fall months. It was the necessity of borrowing this money that has prompted the board to urge a split collection of school taxes—half in the summer, half in the winter.

—Heard an announcement that the Senior Class Trip Committee is surveying parents of high school students about senior trips.

—Tabled, pending review and recommendation by the superintendent, a request by Mrs. Todd Price that the non-profit, professionally affiliated Novi Co-operative Nursery be permitted to use a vacant room at Village Oaks Elementary School for one year beginning next fall.

DONATION—As has been its practice in the past the Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147 and its auxiliary Saturday made a donation to Our Lady of Providence school for retarded children in Northville Township. While Sister Judy speaks with a child, Post Commander Norman Schollett and Auxiliary President Mrs. Kay Sieting look at remedial equipment their $200 donation helps purchase.

Senate Bill Excludes College

Trustees Want In

Schoolcraft College is not included in a State Senate bill concerning community college districts and local officials aren't happy about it.

They want in, too.

So last week the board of trustees adopted a resolution asking that the bill be amended to include Schoolcraft.

The bill, SB 1302, seeks to amend the Community College Act of 1966, establishing 27 community college districts (not including Schoolcraft) and providing that these districts be governed by seven member boards for six-year terms on a non-partisan basis.

Election of the boards under the bill, would occur at the same time as regular school elections.

Schoolcraft trustees, by their resolution, ask that the election process in Schoolcraft's case begin in June 1973 with the expiration of two current seats.

If the bill is amended to include Schoolcraft, it would mean the elimination of one seat on the board. Presently, there are eight trustees.

Chances are that the seat to be eliminated will be that of Trustee Erwin S. Brown, who was appointed last year to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of George Martin. He has indicated he will not seek election.

The Schoolcraft board was reorganized last year following a stormy legal battle in which the court ordered that all trustees be elected on an at-large basis. Previously, five of them were elected from the secondary school districts they represented and three at large.

Lone trustee on the board from Northville is R. Robert Geake, who serves as chairman.

Trustee Paul Kadish was the lone board member to vote against the resolution last week. The Senate Bill itself has been endorsed by the Michigan Community College Association and by the Schoolcraft board.

Pick 'Hot Fun' As Party Theme

"Hot Fun in the Summertime" has been chosen as the theme for the annual all-night senior party for Northville's graduating class following commencement June 13 at the high school.

Parents who plan and give the party "for seniors only" that has become a tradition are keying the decorations to this theme. Mrs. Robert Cole, decorations chairman, is working on special lighting effects for the party.

She has issued a plea for help and hopes to find fathers able to help set up electrical connections. Any parents of seniors who can assist with this phase of the party are asked to call her at 349-1373.

General Chairman Mrs. Mitchell Pitak adds that the all-night party concept is being adopted by at least one other community. Principal Fred Holdsworth received a letter from Robert Froelich, a former Northville Board of Education member, seeking planning details.

Froelich, who is vice-president for business and treasurer at Central College, Pella, Iowa, had passed on the party concept to the Pella high school seniors.

Parents of graduating seniors who have not sent their $6 party donation to Mrs. Duane Butler, 21405 Summerside, are asked to do so

An anti-school busing meeting will be held Monday at Cooke Junior High School.

Sponsored by the Tri County Citizens for Intervention in Federal School Action 35257, the 7-30 meeting will feature Attorney Robert J. Lord as speaker.

"There will be no marches, no boycotts, no political promises," emphasizes Shirley Millard of Northville, "just facts on what can and is being done legally in the courts. Citizens do have rights to protect but each must help."

Persons wishing additional information about the meeting or the sponsoring organization may call Mrs. Millard at 349-5656.

During Sound Off '72, we're bringing in some of the country's top manufacturers. Schlage, Borg-Warner, NuTone, Wolverine and Tappan will be here with their products and special displays.

And you're invited to look, touch and even try out these new ideas. Then, give your honest opinion. Because finding out what you think is what Sound Off '72 is all about.

When you're through with them, talk to us. We'd like your reactions to our modern concepts in housing and your opinion of our

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Holy Archie Bunker. Can you imagine the gall of Northville's Board of Education?

Drop Sports? What's this world coming to?

It's enough to drive a Coach to the telephone to call the Sports Editor to find out whether or not they send a reporter to School Board meetings.

It looks as though the paper will have to attend one of those board meetings sometime and maybe do a story on what's going on up there.

I remember they had an election a week or two ago. I voted "YES" because somewhere I learned that they needed a little more money to keep the schools running the same as they are now.

Those people who always want to drop sports right off the bat first time there's a little money shortage are probably the same ones who dreamed up the idea of holding the election on Saturday—and during Spring Vacation, too.

Oh, yeah, I know there's absentee ballots that people can pick up a week or two ahead of the election if they're going to be away, but who has time to think about that when you're planning a vacation?

I dunno about people these days. Just the other night I got a call at home from some dimwit parent complaining that we always run two sports pages but didn't mention anything about her daughter winning a debate, or spelling bee, or something like that.

For heaven sakes, what kind of a gate does a spelling bee pull? You don't fill the stands with cheering parents at a debate. First things first, I always say.

Did you ever see a fast break performed by a really great basketball team, like the Lakers, for example? Or a draw play on third down and six? Or a squeeze play in the bottom of the ninth with the score tied?

Man, that's action.

What are we trying to do in Northville, raise a generation of Egg Heads?

I suppose we'll have to work like the devil now to come up with enough extra money for debate, cheerleaders, librarians, remedial reading and all that other stuff so we can restore sports.

What we should have done was get all the Jocks out to vote and passed that election and showed all them "anti's".

Oh, well. The important thing is to get the boys back out on the fields for old NHS.

We'll put a story and an ad in the paper—and we'll make sure they send a reporter to the meetings so the people will know what's going on.

I used to have a little game I played with the girls at city hall.

I'd call up and pretend I was a Very Important Taxpayer named "Cunningham" who wanted to talk to the City Manager immediately.

My girlfriend, Hilda Boyer, would get all flustered. For a long time I'm convinced she really thought there was a "Mr. Cunningham."

The trick to get right through to the City Manager without delay never fooled Martha Milne, the city clerk.

But she went along with the gag and once even told me she thought it helped "break the tension" that sometimes exists in a busy office.

Once in awhile Hilda would say, "oh, Mr. Sliger, it's you." And I'd deadpan right back, "who's Mr. Sliger?", my name's Cunningham and I insist on talking to the city manager. Doesn't he care about the problems of us taxpayers. I'm floating around my living room because your city sewers have backed up!"

Once when she was really certain it was me, Hilda wanted to know how deep the water was. And I replied that it had reached the point that I was using an extension phone on the roof.

We both broke up and Martha laughed, too.

That was the thing I always admired most about Martha Milne...her jolly attitude.

She was a most efficient clerk, a genuinely fine person, and a real good sport.

Hilda told me this week that she always thought of Martha as "indestructible...I thought she'd always be here, now and always."

Hilda said she hadn't been able to talk to the family since Martha's sudden death.

"I don't know what to say, except I'm sorry," said Hilda.

So's Mr. Cunningham.

Chalk up Another for Chief BeGole

By JACK HOFFMAN

Detroit police got an unexpected assist recently from Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole who captured two burglars who were almost as surprised as was the chief.

A native Detroit, BeGole was in the Motor City attending an American Legion meeting when he decided to leave early to check on his mother, an invalid living in Detroit.

It was dark when my favorite cop climbed the stairs to the porch at his mother's home. He noticed the door curtain was hanging improperly and, upon closer inspection, saw that a small pane of glass was missing.

Always a policeman, on and off duty, the suspicious Novi chief dug out his 357 magnum, a monstrous sidearm that looks like something John Wayne might carry, and reached through the hole in the glass and quietly unlocked the door.

Quietly, he swung open the door. Then...oh, well, let BeGole tell it:

Marvin Stempien

YES...

One of the important issues on the May 16 Presidential Primary ballot is a state constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to enact a state lottery. It would also permit the legislature to legalize bingo.

Six other states now successfully run state lotteries, and Ohio voters will also ballot on a lottery in May. A bill has already been introduced in the Michigan House to establish a state lottery commission which would run the state lottery if the voters allow one.

There are a number of advantages to a state lottery. Obviously, new state revenue is one important advantage. The nation is experiencing a slumping economy and continued high unemployment while the inflationary spiral moves higher. As the economy continues to lag, so do state revenue collections, emphasizing the need for new sources of state revenue.

The proposed House legislation would pattern Michigan's lottery after the one in New Jersey. That highly successful lottery brought the New Jersey treasury $60 million in its first year. It appears that Michigan could do at least as well. This would be new general fund money to meet the heavy demand of citizens for a variety of state services.

In addition, unlike the state sales and income taxes, a lottery is a form of indirect taxation imposed only on those who choose to use it.

If the constitutional ban is lifted the legislature may establish the mechanism for a state run lottery. The decision to lift the ball will provide a valuable source of new state revenue.

Marvin Stempien
State Representative

Speaking for Myself

Statewide Lottery?

NO...

The question of lotteries and gambling continually comes before the Legislature in many different forms. We have considered a state-regulated lottery, dog racing, different types of horse racing, extending the horse racing season, off-track betting and even horse racing funds to finance a stadium in Detroit.

During the several years I have served in the Legislature, it has been my personal conviction that I should vote against all forms of moral degradation — including gambling, liquor and drugs.

It seems to me that extreme family hardships could easily result where a parent becomes "hooked" on any form of gambling. Those people who become addicted do not seem to realize that the odds are against them and in the longrun, they will not win.

Another consideration is the element that is brought into a community by such operations. Do we want our children and youth subjected to this type of element? And, would we want to live next door to such an operation? Somebody would have to, if they are established.

Even if the state prospers, is it morally right to gain by taking advantage of the weakness of a few? I think this is a matter of principle, whether it is applied collectively or in our individual, private affairs. We should not take advantage of others.

While I am personally against the concept of gambling and lotteries, the people in my district favor it, as indicated by my latest survey which included four questions on this subject.

Why Not Cut Salary Hikes?

To the Editor:

After reading of all the "drastic" cuts our school superintendent plans I feel it's time for an ordinary citizen to respond.

I. Cuts to be made.

A. extra-curricular activities. The band is raising all they need for their camp. Others could do likewise. Only a small percentage make the various teams and they are the same ones on one team after another. Why should everyone foot the bill?

Cut it.

B. second assistant principal at high school. Who needs three men to sit in the office drawing fat salaries while the kids are necking and smoking pot in the corridors and holding brawls on the Eight Mile Bridge? You may as well cut one or two.

C. six subject class load. After checking the classes offered and knowing how impossible it is to get certain ones I feel five should be plenty. Maybe the last hour could be spent learning how to make a living.

D. field trips and spectator buses. All students don't use these services. Those who wish to use them should be willing to pay I am.

E. food service. This is something we could do without completely. With an open lunch and numerous restaurants anyone who really wants a hot lunch could have it. My teenagers could spend $1 for your lunch and go away hungry. The elementary students are the ones who really should have it. If they can't why should any?

II. Revised bond issue. A. Highland Lakes site. No. No. No. This site was supposed to be given so there would be an elementary school to serve the residents of Highland Lake. The children of this development would fill the school. There is no reason why others should pay the $45,000 fee. If Levitt doesn't wish to donate land for an elementary school to serve their purchasers but they didn't ask for $45,000 later!

B. Renovations to auto shop, etc. This is one of the valid requests. Although I have no one in these classes they are important in helping young men learn a trade.

C. Architects' fees. No figure was given as to the amount estimated. We do have a right to know!

D. Site options. Why? The new middle school is to be built on the 10 or more acres near Six Mile and Bradner which the district has owned for 20 years or more. If we proceed with paying off Levitt we have the sites for two elementary schools. Do we need to go on a shopping spree for more sites which can be held for 20 years? No. No.

E. Cooke law suit. Obviously this is a necessity.

F. Library expansion. Why? The public library is very up-to-date. If any elementary student is so industrious that Moraine cannot provide for him, let him go there.

G. Security alarm. Do you really think it would make any difference? A little discipline would be more likely to be effective.

H. Inventory. Come now! With the vast secretarial staff this should be easy. Or have the students do it as a community service during

Novi Teacher Gets Support

To the Editor:

It has come to our attention that Mary Hart, a teacher of the First Grade in the Novi Elementary School, will not have her contract renewed for next year. The charge against her is excessive use of force in disciplining a child.

This letter is written as a testimonial to her 16 years in the Novi School system. We feel that our children have profited greatly by their association with this kind and gentle person in their first year of schooling. This is always a difficult period of adjustment and Mrs. Hart has handled our children to our complete satisfaction.

A review of her case is scheduled to take place on May 1st at the School Board Meeting at 7:30 p.m.

We plan to be at the meeting and express our support.

OLD BUSINESS

1. Plymouth Council of Community Concerns. Klein moved that the study committee had met a second time and requests that the municipalities draw up appropriate ordinances which would permit them to collect school taxes in the summer, which agreement should include a clause that would specify that the school board will bear the additional costs. The school board will conduct a survey of public opinion and decide by June whether to ask the city and township to go ahead and implement these proposed ordinances. Schaeffer moved that our attorney meet with the school board attorney and draw up a model ordinance as stated above, seconded by Hammond. Ayes: All.

2. Tax exempt lands. Mitchell moved that this be tabled for further study in May, seconded by Klein. Ayes: All.

3. Summer tax collections. Schaeffer Schaeffer reported that the study committee had met a second time and requests that the municipalities draw up appropriate ordinances which would permit them to collect school taxes in the summer, which agreement should include a clause that would specify that the school board will bear the additional costs. Board Seeks Equitable Aid

A resolution demanding an equitable state aid program for local school districts was adopted by the Novi Board of Education Monday night.

Board members took their action after concluding that neither the Governor William Milliken - MEA proposal nor the Democratic plan will serve the needs of Michigan's students in general and Novi students in particular.

Officials have noted that the state's share of education at the local level has steadily decreased, with local districts being forced to assume a greater burden.

Furthermore, they noted that the state has consistently failed to meet its lawful aid commitments, suggesting that proposed greater control of financing at the state level is likely to compound this neglect.

Following adoption of the resolution, which is to be sent to Governor Milliken, legislators, local school boards and the Michigan Association of School Boards, Trustee LaVerne DeWard expressed confidence that equitable proposals growing out of MASA studies will be put into bill form and introduced to the legislature.

Still another resolution, this one by the Saginaw Board of Education calling for the elimination of the teacher tenure law, received the endorsement of the Novi board.

Copies of the local action are to be sent to local school boards and state officials.

73 fiscal budget, Athas answered it would have no immediate effect. "For one thing," he said, "there is still no way to know if we will even have a union. If it does go through, their first step will be to appoint a bargaining committee," he continued. At that point city officials and the bargaining committee will sit down and negotiate a contract - a process which could well take up to a month.

By that time, Athas pointed out, the budget will be well on its way to adoption.

Two Northville Men Get Honorary Degrees

Two Northville men were awarded honorary degrees Sunday afternoon during the seventh annual commencement exercises at Schoolcraft Community College.

They are Floyd A. Kehrl and Jan Reef.

Also receiving honorary degrees were Governor William Milliken, the commencement speaker, and State Representative James Tierney of Garden City.

More than 1,600 persons attended—the largest number ever to turn out for commencement exercises at Schoolcraft.

Among a dozen or more other dignitaries on hand were State Senator Carl Pursell and State Representative Marvin Stempien.

Conferring the honorary degrees was C. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft College. Dr. R. Robert Geake, of Northville, chairman of the board of trustees, introduced Governor Milliken.

Announcement of special honors was made by Robert Keene, vice-president for instruction, conferring degrees and granting certificates were Dr. Grote, Jon P. Adams, dean of applied sciences, and Frederick S. Stefanski of Northville, dean of arts.

Resolutions accompanying the honorary degrees awarded Kehrl and Reef read:

WHEREAS Floyd A. Kehrl has actively supported Schoolcraft College, especially in its formative years when he and his late wife, Shirley, contributed the three large chiming bells in the campus bell tower, a structure which has since become an important landmark in the area and the symbol of Schoolcraft College.

current president of the Foundation,

NOW THEREFORE be it resolved that the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College authorize the granting of an Honorary Associate of Applied Science Degree to Jan Reef on April 23, 1972, with the rights and privileges appertaining thereto.

Awarding of the honorary degrees came as a surprise to both men. Special recognition of Reef's tribute was made Tuesday at the Northville Rotary Club.

'Seedling Swap' Planned

A unique "Seedling Swap" program is being sponsored by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary and is scheduled to take place this weekend, April 29 and 30, in the parking lot of Demery's Department Store at the corner of Farmington and Twelve Mile Roads.

The program, sponsored by an ecology education team called "Earth Alive," is available to the public at large, reported Mrs. James Cherfoli, spokesman for the Auxiliary.

Under the terms of the "Swap," the Auxiliary will give out one seedling for each grocery bag full of old newspapers that is turned in to them. The seedlings will be either a pine tree or a flowering bush from the Oakland County Conservation Farm.

There is a limit of one seedling to a family.

Members of the Novi Auxiliary will be in the Demery parking lot from noon to 3 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30.

Seedlings received by members of the Novi Jaycees, who bring in their bag of old papers, will be planted at a site in Novi, Mrs. Cherfoli reported.

Top of The Deck

What about the chief's mother? She had been upstairs, watching television when the doorbell rang. The woman who lives with her was away. Unable to answer it, she assumed the caller had left. They hadn't, of course. Her first hint that something was awry was when she heard her son's voice.

Her biggest worry: son Lee's "awful" language in barking at the thugs.

Why Not Cut Salary Hikes?

that hour of classes you will cut. They might learn more that way than in the class anyway.

I Assorted improvement, maintenance, equipment, etc. Let's have some specific figures. It's our money you want to go shopping with.

Then there is a suggestion of my own. If we really need to "cut", how about the latest raises for our administrative staff? For one who spends so much time on speaking engagements across the country for the purpose of promoting his pet project, year-round-school, it seems our superintendent is indeed a very well-paid man. You note

I didn't say he earns a large salary. He is paid one and it's time our board looked closer at this expense. Thank you for letting me voice my views. R.W.

PICK-OFF ATTEMPT — Novi's Pat Boyer has already caught the ball and is ready to put the tag on this Brighton runner diving head-first back into the bag. The pick-off attempt was close but failed. Nevertheless, Novi took the measure of the Brighton squad and posted a 6-3 victory for their first win. The Brighton victory was the first of three games the Wildcats won last week.

HELPFUL HINT: Old tissue dress patterns are fine for polishing mirrors and windows

Bogart the man asking "Sam" to "play it again" is none other than Novi track coach Del Munson.

And instead of "As Time Goes By" the piano player is quietly fingering the chords to "I Ain't Got No Sprinters."

Never mind the fact that there's no such song and don't waste much time trying to conjure up the image of a piano in the Novi locker room just bear in mind that the song is a sad one and one which will in all probability be applicable time and again this season.

The Wildcat thinclads suffered two more losses last week and just as was the case in their first two losses, the lack of an outstanding sprinter cost them dearly.

In both the Dexter and the Northville meets, the Wildcats found themselves on the short end of the scoring in the sprint events. With nine points up for grab in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes and an additional five points available to the winner of the 440 and 880 yard relays, a ready supply of good sprinters is almost mandatory for a track team to be successful.

But in both the Northville and Dexter meets, the Wildcats were completely shut out in each of the four sprint events and found themselves with an imposing 28-0 deficit to try to overcome—a virtually impossible task.

Northville downed Novi 74-48 and Dexter won 76-47 to give you some idea of just how important those 28 points can be.

Should Munson tire of the "I Ain't Got No Sprinters" ditty, however, and want to hear something a little more enjoyable, there's plenty of talent on the Novi track team that would bring a smile to the face of any track coach, and three of those outstanding performers were humming right along in fine tune during last week's losses.

Number one on the Hit Parade has got to be Pat Boyer, the Wildcats' talented long and high jumper and hurdler. Boyer won the high and long jumps in both the Northville and Dexter meets and established another school record in the high jump as he leaped 6'3" against Northville. Boyer already holds the school standard in the high hurdles with a 15.6 clocking.

Actually, Boyer bettered the 15.6 clocking last week, too, as he skimmed over the high hurdles in 15.25 seconds against Dexter to finish second. Boyer's 15.6 time will remain as the school standard due to an unusual ruling which necessitates records be set only in winning performances.

Equally as impressive as Boyer was another junior, Bill Ross. Ross won the 440 and the 880 in both meets. His 54.3 time in the 440 against Dexter is just three-tenths of a second off the school record of 54 flat and his 2:05.6 in the Northville meet set a new school record in the 880.

Both Ross and Boyer won the admiration of Northville track coach Ralph Redmond. "I was really impressed with those two," the Northville coach admitted. "They're two fine competitors."

The third event where the Wildcats have shown exceptional strength is the mile relay. With Ross, Duane Miller, Mel Stephens, and Kirk Rosey taking turns carrying the baton, the Novi mile relay quartet is as of yet undefeated this year.

Their winning time against Dexter was 3:44.6 and they turned in their best time of the season—a 3:43.9—in besting the Northville mile relay team.

The school record in the event is 3:41.2 and Ross, Miller, Stephens, and Rosey seem a cinch to erase that mark before the season progresses much further.

Boyer, Ross, and the mile relay team accounted for all five of Novi's first place finishes in the Northville meet. Against Dexter, they were joined in the winner's circle by Kirk Rosey in the mile (4:57.1) and two-miler Dave Miller, who won his specialty in 11:03.0.

the top of one of the trees before bounding to the ground. Pisha ended up with a triple.

Pisha then walked home moments later as Dave Brown blasted another three-bagger into the left field woods. Brown scored the go-ahead run when Pat Ford grounded to third.

Chelsea tied the game at two-all in the third inning on an error, a single, and a wrong-field bloop double. The score remained deadlocked until the sixth when Novi scored twice to take a 4-2 lead.

Tom Shillito opened the frame by working Welton for a base on balls. Joe LaFleche then tipped a triple to left, scoring Shillito, and Tim Assemany sent LaFleche scampering across the plate with a double.

The game was over. Chelsea rallied in the seventh and succeeded in loading the bases with only one out, but were unable to score as Ralph Stewart lined a shot right back at Pantalone and the Novi pitcher quickly flipped to Assemany at third base to double off Randy Brier and clinch the 4-2 triumph.

"I don't know how John caught it," reported Trudeau of the game-ending double play. "It was purely a case of self-protection. But he got it and now we're right in the thick of the pennant race."

"The key to the game was our defense," he continued. "We've been making six and seven errors per game, but we made just two against Chelsea and that's what it takes to win ball games."

And championships. Novi's other Southeastern Conference game last week saw them take an 8-6 decision from Dexter. The Wildcats trailed 6-5 at the end of four innings, but a pair of fifth-inning tallies and a single marker in the sixth secured the victory.

Steve Bosak's two-out triple scored Assemany from first with what proved to be the winning run, while Pantalone, Gary Colton, and LaFleche put together back to back singles in the sixth for the eighth run.

Dave Brown gave up three hits and struck out eight batters in picking up the win for the Wildcats.

In the Brighton game Novi scored three times in the second and twice in the third to move away to a quick 5-0 lead. A sixth run in the fourth inning gave the Wildcats a 6-0 lead. Brighton rallied for two runs in the sixth and added another in the seventh, when the Novi pitcher ran into control problems, but two of the last three Brighton hitters struck out to end the game with Novi on top 6-3.

Jayvees Lose 2 In Close Games

Close games were the order of the week as the Novi junior varsity baseball squad got its 1972 season underway. Unfortunately, the junior Wildcats came out on the short side of the ledger in two of their three encounters.

Under the direction of Coach Bob Wineburger, the young Novi nine got the season off to a successful start by edging the Brighton Bulldogs 6-5 Monday.

A four run second inning proved to be decisive as the Wildcats strung together two hits and two squeeze bunts for the tallies. Big blow was a bases loaded single by Tom Ford. Ed Brown and Tom McAllen laced doubles in the game to account for the Wildcats' extra-base hits.

Pisha went the first five innings "pitching" the victory. He received relief help from McAllen in the seventh as the Brighton team rallied to narrow the score.

Wineburger's charges were on the short end of a one-run ball game Wednesday as they fell to Chelsea 4-3. Three runs in the third inning, highlighted by doubles by Mike Riley and Ron Buck, gave Novi an early 3-0 lead, but Chelsea came back with single tallies in the third and fourth innings and a pair of markers in the fifth to record the 4-3 triumph.

Mike Riley yielded only a single hit while handling the mound chores for the Wildcats, but was victimized by 11 walks and some poor fielding.

Friday's game with Harland was close until the top of the seventh inning, when the Harland nine broke loose for five runs to transform a 6-5 affair into an 11-5 rout.

"We moved to within a single run of them in the fifth," reported Wineburger, "and we had runners on second and third with just one out. But then they brought in their ace, a kid named Randy Sperry, and it was all over for us. He struck out six of the eight men he faced. He could really throw that ball."

Ron Buck doubled to pace the Novi hitters, belting the ball about 300 feet, according to Wineburger, and Pat McAllen handled the duties from the mound.

Novi is now 1-2 for the season.

Wildcat

Novi catcher Bob Pisha has been tabbed for Wildcat of the week honors. Taking over the catching duties from All-SEC selection Tom VanWagner, the 6'3" Pisha has handled the chore admirably. More important, Pisha has established himself as Novi's most dangerous hitter. After five games, the senior backstop is swatting the ball at an even 500 clip with seven hits in 14 trips to the plate. His triple against Chelsea Friday paved the way to the Wildcats' first two runs.

Taylor's Grand Slam Trips Churchill

Talk about pressure. The Mustangs handled it just beautifully.

And nobody handled it any better than Bart Taylor.

Taylor, the long, thin third-sacker on the Northville baseball team, came to the plate with two down in the bottom of the fifth inning, the bases loaded with Mustang runners, and the score knotted at 0-0. And promptly belted the ball over the left field fence to provide the major blow in Northville's 5-2 conquest of Livonia Churchill Tuesday.

"It was a key game. There's no doubt about that," said Northville Coach Chuck Shonta after Scott Evans had set down the Charger's Bruce Henrikson on strikes to clinch the victory. "It wasn't what you could say was really a crucial game. It's too early in the season. But it was an important game. What it means is that Churchill is going to have to make up a full game on us some time during the season instead of the other way around."

Churchill and Northville are co-favorites in the battle for the 1972 Western Six Conference championships and Tuesday's conference-opening clash was one of just two scheduled between the two teams this year.

So important was the victory that not even a heartbreaking 1-0 loss to Detroit Country Day Friday could diminish Shonta's pleasure with the week's proceedings.

Sharing the limelight with Taylor was Scott Evans, the 6'3" right-handed member of the Northville mound firm of Evans and Moon

Evans yielded a first inning single to Henrikson, but that was the last Churchill hit until the fifth inning when they scored a pair of runs on an error, a walk, and their second hit of the game.

But if Evans was effective, his counterpart on the Churchill team was even more so Jim Wood, the Charger hurler, was in complete control over the first four innings of the ball game. Two walks and an error produced the only Northville base runners over those first four frames as Wood held the

Northville batters without a hit

Until the fifth inning, John Sherman, the Mustang's nifty-fielding little second baseman, opened the inning with a walk and then, after Ed Kritch struck out, Evans himself ended the no-hit bid

by singling to left Jesse Stevenson lefted a fly to left for the second out, but Steve Serkaian managed to work Wood for a base on balls to load the bases and set the stage for Taylor's first four-bagger of the year

Churchill rallied for a pair of runs in the top of the sixth to cut the lead to 4-2, but Northville upped their total another run in the bottom of that frame as Sherman singled and was then brought home on a single by Stevenson

Evans picked up credit for the victory - his first this season, yielding just two hits and striking out seven hitters in going the route. Wood took the loss in spite of registering eight strikeouts in the five and two-thirds innings he pitched.

The loss to Detroit Country Day was a rough one, particularly for the other Northville hurler - Jeff Moon.

Moon yielded a first inning run, as he was touched up for three singles, but after his early problems he settled down to limit Country Day to a mere two hits the rest of the route

The problem was that the Country Day hurler was just as sharp and didn't suffer any first inning troubles whatsoever. In fact, he struck out two of the three Northville hitters in the opening frame and only got better after that

Paul Stennet was his name and he left quite an impression on the Northville hitters as well as on Shonta. "He's only a sophomore," reported the Mustang coach, "and he really had a curve ball. I don't mean to give the impression he wasn't fast, because he was. He was real quick, but it was that curveball that really did it to us. If the count was 3-2 he'd come in with the curve and get it in there. It was his pitch."

"We challenged him a couple of times," Shonta continued, "and had runners on second base three times and a runner as far as third once, but we just couldn't come up with the key hit."

"It's too bad, because Moon pitched a real fine game for us. He deserved to win," he added.

Moon struck out seven Country Day hitters as he saw his season's record fall to 1-2. Stennet retired 10 Mustangs on strikes, while yielding just two hits - one to Moon and the other to Taylor

Northville's all-important second big showdown game with Livonia Churchill is scheduled for next Wednesday at 4 p.m. on the Charger's field. A victory could go a long way toward deciding the Western Six championship

Thinclads Race To Three Wins

Happiness, to be sure, is a relative thing, but Northville track coach Ralph Redmond threatens to stretch all rules of relativity completely out of shape.

Look at what happened last week.

Northville's track team took on three different opponents and came away with the victory on each occasion. What's more, those three wins moved the Mustangs' season's dual meet record to an enviable 5-1 mark. And what's more on top of that, four of the Mustangs are still undefeated in their specialties.

Enough to make any track coach happy, right?

Wrong

"I've been misquoted," cried Redmond in mock indignation. "You wrote that I'm happy. But I'm not. I'm not happy at all," he corrected, setting the record straight. "I might have said that I was happy with the progress of one or two boys, but I'm definitely not happy with the whole team."

"We're just not in shape yet," he continued. "No one is even approaching the kind of time it is going to take to be competitive in the league meet. I just don't think that we're in shape yet. How can anybody be happy under conditions like those?"

If the Mustangs aren't in shape yet, you'd have a tough time proving it by asking anyone associated with the three teams they defeated last week. Northville dumped both Novi (74-48) and St. Agatha (96-27) Tuesday in a double dual meet and then came back two days later to register their very first Western Six Conference track victory by downing Walled Lake Western 71-51.

The pair of victories Tuesday were more or less expected as St. Agatha, a Class C school, is not really in the same league with the Mustangs and Novi's track strength has been cut considerably with the loss of Steve Lukkari and Jim VanWagner through knee operations

But the triumph over

Walled Lake was a different matter. "I didn't expect to win it by as much as we did," Redmond admitted after the meet. "They were missing a high jumper and a pretty decent sprinter and that probably enabled us to win by as much as we did."

Key performer in the victory was Tom Coram, a sophomore half-miler and another of Redmond's "Whiz Kids." "The big race, the one that really turned things around for us," said Redmond, "was Coram's 880. Western had Fuller and he's done a 2:03 already this year but Coram locked legs with him and nicked him out at the tape." Coram's time was 2:10.1.

Northville's triumph over Western was based on the strength of their first place performances. Of the 15 events, the Mustangs won eleven of them and tied for first in another.

Three Northville performers were double winners. Bill Witek won the pole vault (10'6") and the high jump (5'8"); co-captain Brad Cole captured the 120 yard high hurdles (17.0) and the 180 yard low hurdles (22.5); and Phil Guider took the 100 (11.2) and the 220 (24.5) yard dashes.

Cole and Witek are still undefeated this year in the low hurdles and the pole vault respectively.

Two other Northville stars managed to keep unbeaten records in tact with victories against Western. Sophomore shot putter Jim Porterfield won his specialty with a heave of 45'4 1/2", and Guy Cole, another sophomore, copped the two mile run with a 10:40.2 clocking.

Other victories in the Western meet were taken by Blair Robinson in the long jump (18'11") and Guy Dixon, who tied for first in the mile with a time of 4:53.3. In addition the 440 yard relay team of John Pacific, Paul Allum, Blair Robinson, and Mark Robinson took first place with the time of 48.8.

The Mustangs had too much for St. Agatha Tuesday, winning 14 of 15 events, and also managed 10 firsts against the Wildcats of Novi.

One of the highlights of the day was Witek's winning leap in the pole vault. Only a junior Witek tied his best vault ever by soaring over the bar at 12'6". Witek is now just a foot away from the school record set by 1967 state champion Ron Gloetzer.

Another fine performance in the meet was turned in by Coram, who posted his career best in the 880 with a 2:06.9. In spite of the time, however, Coram had to settle for second place behind Novi's Bill Ross.

Brad Cole paced the Northville team by winning three different events, taking the high hurdles in 16.0, the low hurdles in 21.3, and the 100 yard dash in 10.7.

Other victories were turned in by Porterfield in the shot put (42'1"), Guy Dixon in the mile (4:47.5), Guy Dixon in the two mile (10:38.8), and Phil Guider in the 220 yard dash (24.6). Guider, Reed Ording, and Mark and Blair Robinson took the 880 yard relay and the quartet of John Pacific, Paul Allum, and the two Robinsons, won the 440 yard relay.

SWIRL OF DUST — Northville's Bart Taylor kicks up a swirl of dust, as he scores the Mustangs' first run in a 4-3 loss to Plymouth. Taylor also scored a run in Northville's clash with Livonia Churchill last week, but the scene was far different. There was no dust, as Taylor trotted across the plate and there was crowd of three other base runners standing at the plate to greet him - all of them having been carried home on the strength of Taylor's bases loaded home run. Northville beat the Livonia team 52.

Top Clarenceville 4-3

Racketeers Net First Win

Northville's young tennis team notched its first victory of the season Friday and not even a solid 7-0 thumping administered by a veteran Plymouth squad Monday could sour the sweet taste of that initial triumph

It was Clarenceville - and old Wayne-Oakland League foe - who were the victims of the Mustangs' first victory, as Coach Bob Simpson's "racketeers" stroked their way to a narrow 4-3 decision over the Trojans

The victory was sparked by John Jerome, Bob Wright, and the doubles teams of John Sewell and Garry Eaker and Rick Norton and Jim Bonamici

Playing in the number two singles spot Jerome, one of the team's co-captains suffered through a shaky beginning only to come back and top the Trojans' Walter High 6-4, 6-2. Bob Wright, the number four man in the Northville line-up had little trouble with his opponent, winning his sets 6-0, 6-0

Sewell and Eaker, the two sophomores who man the second doubles slot, downed Clarenceville's Dave Pasnik and Gordy Eberhart 6-2, 6-2. It was the first victory of the season for Jerome, Wright, and the Sewell-Eaker team

The decisive victory was earned by the number three doubles team of Rick Norton and Jim Bonamici. Just freshmen, Norton and Bonamici dumped their opponents 6-1, 6-2 to not only break the 3-3 deadlock and give their teammates the 4-3 triumph, but also become the first Mustang unit to win more than one match

"Jim and Rick have been doing a good job for us," said Simpson. "I was also glad to see John (Jerome) and Bob (Wright) come through with their first wins of the season. What we've got to do now is get everybody together. If we can have Jerome and Boll winning every week instead of taking turns we'll do much better"

Other matches in the Northville-Clarenceville match saw Greg Boll lose to the Trojan's Larry LaForest 6-4, 6-4 at number one singles, Frank Knoth fall to Nubar Orackilin 6-1, 2-6, 6-1 at third singles, and Tom Millington and Chris Johnson losing to the Clarenceville number one doubles team of Darryl Turek and Karson Carpenter 6-2, 6-4. Plymouth completely overpowered the Mustangs Monday as they thrashed out a 7-0 victory. Nevertheless, Simpson was not disturbed about the loss

"Plymouth has got a largely senior team," he said, "and we haven't got a single senior on the whole squad and most of our boys are sophomores. I'm not in the least discouraged. What's important is that most of our players have shown steady improvement every week and I can't be discouraged by that."

Scores of the Northville-

Plymouth meet were as follows: Greg Boll lost 7-5, 6-0, John Jerome lost 6-1, 6-0; Frank Knoth lost 6-2, 6-3; and Bob Wright lost 6-3, 7-5. In the doubles competition, Millington-Johnson fell 6-1, 6-0, Sewell-Eaker lost 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, and Norton-Bonamici lost 6-3, 5-7, 6-3

"See that," said Simpson, counting the seniors on the Plymouth squad, "both our second and third doubles team went three sets before losing. The Ville will have a dynasty in a couple of years."

SPORTS Go-Round

By Bob Moore

Horses sleep-walking? Nowadays that's not as unusual as it sounds. In some of our major racetracks horses have recently been found to have been drugged! In one instance this unfortunate happening caused a race to be called off completely. Of course, officials recognize that the greatest difficulty of all surrounding the case is how many races prior to these have been fixed without detection? Steps are now being taken to prevent further maltreatment of the horses. Mysteries, anyone?

It's no mystery that MOORE'S MOTOR SPORT INC., 21001 Pontiac Trail, So. Lyon, 437-2688, is so well known in this and surrounding areas. We are an exclusive SUZUKI dealership-specializing in SUZUKI MOTORCYCLES and accessories and parts. We don't forget you after the sale! Our service department boasts of expert lubrication jobs, tune-ups and brake adjustments. Easy financing available.

Mustanger

Mustang of the Week honors go to Bart Taylor. Only a junior, Taylor has held down first string duties on the hot corner for the Northville baseball team since his sophomore year. It was his bases loaded grand slam homerun in the fifth inning last Tuesday that enabled the Mustangs to take an important 5-2 decision over Livonia Churchill. The Chargers and the Mustangs are expected to battle it out for the Western Six Conference championship.

Swimmers Take A.A.U. Laurels

Three Northville swimmers - two of them members of the High School's crack swim team - took honors last weekend in the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union's Junior Olympics at Oakland University in Rochester.

The three are Art Greenlee, Kevin Kelly, and Randy Roggenbuck. Kelly and Witek were on the high school swim team.

Competing for the Bulldogs Swim Club out of Schoolcraft College, Greenlee garnered second place in the 100 yard breast stroke, and fifth in the 200 yard breaststroke. In addition, he was a member of the Bulldogs' 200 yard medley relay team which finished fourth.

Kelly, also a member of the Bulldogs club, finished seventh in 100 yard freestyle and was a member of both the third place 400 yard freestyle relay team and the fourth place medley relay team.

Both Kelly and Greenlee were competing in the 15-17 year old age bracket.

The other Northville swimmer to win points in the meet was Roggenbuck, who competed in the 11-12 year old age bracket. A member of the Clarenceville Swim Club, the Northville youngster took fifth place in both the 50 yard freestyle and butterfly and was a member of the seventh place medley relay team and ninth place freestyle relay team.

board did not want to get into so all the activities were removed," he explained.

His views were echoed by Trustee Richard Martin, who added that hard feelings and community splits would occur limiting drivers' education to if this were permitted. "Everyone should be treated equally," he stressed.

Spear said several areas were looked at by the board before the list of cuts was established. Areas included cuts in teachers' salaries, reduction of teaching staff, seniors only, dropping middle school elective program, reducing clerical staff and administrative services

He said the board, reviewing these, felt they were necessary to education and decided not to cut those items

Recommendations from citizens included:

- making cuts at the elementary level rather than at the high school and middle school;
- asking again in June for the millage;

• getting volunteers to run the extra-curricular program, including coaching, transportation of players and raising funds to buy equipment;

• paring budgets of all departments to allow extra-curricular activities to remain.

Trustee Martin Rinehart commented that the people in the audience "are concerned with extra-curricular activities. We also have people who are not here who are concerned with the education of their children. It's either cutting extra-curricular activities or teachers."

Johnston pointed out that "the only places we haven't cut are salaries, number of employees or curriculum offerings."

Trustee Andrew Orphan said that when "money is not available to continue with the established programs, the board has the impossible task of reducing a portion of the program without jeopardizing the instructional parts which qualify students for a diploma and college."

Trustee Glenn Deibert said he hoped the cuts considered by the board would be "as far as we must go. I will be surprised if it is. We are being naive if we believe this will be all that we'll have to cut from the proposed budget."

Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson said he would agree to postpone the decision on the cuts for two weeks "and wait for your (citizen's committee) report, but we may come to a conclusion afterwards which you still may not like."

Fear 'Historical Law'

streets being the general exterior boundary.

Some 80 homes inside and outside the district have been designated as having some historical or architectural significance by the Michigan Commission and many are being considered for inclusion in the National (Historical) Registry, planners were told.

The Michigan Commission, according to the Society, is anxious to preserve much of the community's architecture, because it believes Northville has possibly the finest example of Victorian-Queen Anne architecture in the state.

If the district is approved, the Society proposes that the city establish a historical or architectural ordinance and a superintending historical commission. Under such an ordinance, it was explained, property owners would first have to secure approval of the commission before making any exterior alteration to their houses or stores.

Reacting to fears expressed by some planners, Society spokesmen emphasized that the commission is not meant to stand in the way of progress. It has no real power but serves primarily as an architectural guide on how best to preserve building character in making needed or desired alterations, spokesmen said, and thereby enhance property value.

Samples of ordinances used in other communities are now being studied by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie.

Aside from expressed fears that the proposed ordinance-commission may pose a threat to the rights of the property owner, planners wondered if establishment of still another commission would turn Northville government into a Bureaucracy. It was suggested that perhaps the same aims could be accomplished by a council-appointed special planning commission.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who said he neither feared the proposed district nor the commission, nevertheless argued that the Society itself—without establishment of a commission—could serve as a guide by visiting property owners and suggesting how they could improve their properties without destroying architectural integrity.

Society spokesmen countered that without some quasi-governmental sanction, person-to-person contact would unlikely produce positive results.

A HYBRID tea rose, Portrait, won the All American Rose Selections award for 1972 because of the abundance of its large, fully double pink blooms with added assets of hardiness and resistance to disease. The other winner, Apollo, is the most productive yellow hybrid tea rose now available, according to the All-American Rose Selections. For more details about Portrait and Apollo, see page 2 - B..

Artrain's Here Now

All Aboard for Tour of Art World

Michigan Artrain — the five-car touring art exhibit of the Michigan Council for the Arts — has arrived in Plymouth and will remain on the C & O siding at the Starkweather Avenue freight house through May 6.

This will be the nearest location for area residents to tour the "vision of art on wheels" which opened almost a year ago, on May 21, 1971, in Traverse City and made its first circuit to communities in the Upper Peninsula.

In three coaches Artrain carries a distinguished gallery of many original traditional and contemporary paintings, sculpture and other art objects. In the baggage car resident artists and invited local artists work in various media and answer visitors' questions.

Artrain is open to the public without charge from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8 p.m. weekdays; from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturdays; and from noon to 8 p.m. Sundays.

Created under the chairmanship of Mrs. William G. Milliken, Michigan's First Lady, the off-white train with brightly painted windows and flying flags by last month had been visited by more than 130,000 persons.

During morning and early afternoon hours school groups are being taken on tours of Artrain. Group tours also may be arranged after 2 p.m. on weekdays only by calling 453-8010, extension 12.

All Plymouth public school classes are touring the train. Northville classes in which teachers have made individual arrangements for mothers to assist by driving also will visit the exhibit.

In addition to its traveling staff of seven, there are local volunteer guides acting as hosts. Twenty to 25 people can begin the Artrain tour every 10 minutes. Each tour lasts 40-45 minutes.

Original art of Matisse, Renoir, Cezanne, VanGogh, Wyeth, Picasso, Warhol and Vasarely is on display. There's also sculpture, ceramics, graphics and silver.

In the first two cars Artrain visitors are familiarized with the "the importance of art in today's society" by a presentation of films, slides, music and art. The narration, especially, provides an introduction of what art is, and what is on view.

Car Three is the Artrain gallery. Included in the exhibition are examples of art of contemporary artists. Car Four is the studio car where visitors are invited to question working artists. The caboose is the staff office.

When Artrain was created to bring original art to communities throughout the state, Mrs. Milliken expressed the hope that where it visits, it could be the beginning of artistic and cultural programs. In Plymouth, it has become the center for a "Kaleidoscope Plymouth" festival of many events during its stay.

The Artrain site has been renovated for the occasion through the efforts of landscape architect Jim Anulewicz in cooperation with city officials, organizations, businessmen and

Making Use of 'Under-Stair' Corners

Making the ends of a room meet gracefully and effectively in a corner can be a matter of merely adding comfortable seating combined with shelves and cabinets, creating a bonus of pleasant living space. One area with strong potential for utilizing idle space is under stairs of either first floor or basement. Shelves and small cabinets with sliding doors recessed into a wood-paneled wall, convert wasted space into attractive storage.

A banquette built along both walls of the corner, with brightly cushioned foldup seats to allow more storage within, can turn the corner into a relaxing reading nook or conversation area.

Frame in Stairway
If the stairway is open, framing it in with 2x4-inch pine or fir, covered with western cedar board paneling, will allow spacious built-in storage. If stairs already are enclosed, shelves and cabinets can be added.

Another charming and useful corner conversion is possible in family or dining room, adding low cabinets on converging walls, with shelves of western pine boards above. Part of one wall can have slanted racks, instead of shelves, to hold latest magazines.

Build a low table into the corner to house record changer and tape equipment, or for games and hobby supplies. A hanging lamp and couch complete the corner's furnishings.

Beds Fit Better

Corners also improve use of floor space in bedrooms or guest rooms. Placing beds at a right angle in one corner frees space along another wall for a sewing machine, desk or grouping of chairs and coffee table.

Here again a square table, bought or built to fill the corner space between beds, makes better use of floor area. Using screw-on wood legs available at building materials dealers, a table can be constructed so that one of the beds fits partly under the table, adding to the open area. In children's rooms, where shorter closet space is adequate, a wardrobe instead of a table can be built into the corner, again leaving room for one bed to slide into the lower part.

New Prize-Winning Roses Now Available for Gardens

This year's All-America honors go in a clean sweep to hybrid tea roses. Both award winners, APOLLO and PORTRAIT belong to this most popular class and both should take their places in the gardens of the nations as outstanding members.

Both went through the grind of two years of testing in the 22 test gardens of All-America Rose Selections scattered about the United States, and emerged as the only award winners.

This spring they will be available throughout the country, both as bare root and potted or canned plants, and should be appearing in rose show competition by this fall.

APOLLO (Plant Patent Applied For), is an outstanding 1972 AARS award winner, a very free blooming, soft, sunrise yellow hybrid tea, producing long stemmed buds and flowers on a hardy, vigorous, well-formed plant. A distinctive feature is the long, pointed buds of rich yellow, sometimes with a touch of red. They slowly open to large five to six inch blooms of a soft, pleasing yellow, again often tinted or veined with red, depending upon the climate and soil conditions. The large blooms of 35 to 40 broad petals have a moderate to strong tea fragrance which adds immeasurably to the charm of the bloom.

The plant produces a vigorous growth, well branched and with flowers held on long stems. It is without a doubt the freest branching, most productive yellow hybrid tea rose now available. It has a trait of producing a single flower initially and then forming about three breaks just below that flower for a cluster of three more blooms, each producing a long, individual stem.

Apollo has better than average resistance to mildew, is quite free of thorns and is well clothed with attractive dark green foliage, leathery and semi-glossy.

PORTRAIT (Plant Patent Applied For)

A distinctive, colorful hybrid tea rose that really deserves its "All-America award". Portrait has masses of beautiful, urn-shaped buds of rich pink, opening into large creamy blooms edged deep satiny blush. Occasional gold tones wash the open bloom with added warmth of color while an even pink reverse adds depth and sparkle.

More than 50 petals of excellent substance roll back to give a fully double, high-centered bloom four to five inches across. An added asset for this winner is its delightful tea rose fragrance that adds greatly to the pleasure this rose has to offer its owner.

The flowers are borne on well proportioned stems of medium length and last well when cut, or on the bush.

Portrait grows tall and strong. Vigorous, upright canes branch freely, each holding a bright pink bloom to be admired. The vigorous plant produces continuous quantities of the medium to large exhibition quality blooms all season. Even a single plant will put on a colorful display, but three or more should be used to produce a spectacular showing of this variety.

Portrait is particularly resistant to blackspot and its hybridizer, Carl Meyer, feels that, if grown by itself well away from other roses, it would not need any spraying.

Rugged hardiness combined with masses of beautiful flowers make Portrait a rewarding addition to any garden. Here is a charming new rose to give beauty and satisfaction this year and for years to come.

Trees Help

The trees which grow around America's homes contribute to our survival in a number of different and unexpected ways, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Some of these are described in a popular pamphlet produced by the AAN entitled "It Depends On You".

Aside from the shade they offer, trees contribute another cooling effect through their evaporative process. The evaporation from a single properly-watered tree can produce an estimated cooling effect of more than a million BTU's — equal to 10 room sized air conditioners operating 20 hours a day.

The environmental handbook, "It Depends On You," is available free, at many nursery garden centers, or may be obtained by sending 50 cents to the American Association of Nurserymen, 230 Southern Building, Washington, D.C. 20005.

It's Arbor Week

This week, April 23-29, has been proclaimed "Arbor Week" by Northville Mayor A. M. Allen to perpetuate growth and care of trees in the community.

Arbor Day was conceived by J. Sterling Morton in 1872 while a member of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture to focus attention on the beauty of trees on the plains of that state.

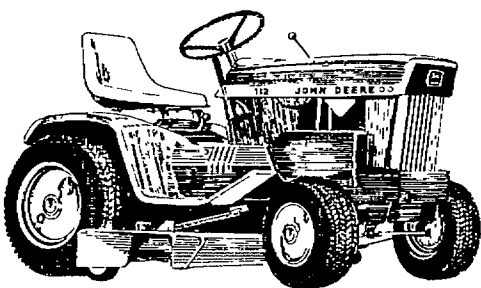

It has since been a day designated by law in every state of the nation as a time for "reflection about trees and their contribution to our health and happiness."

It is observed separately in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas of Michigan due to differences in weather conditions for tree planting.

In 1966, Governor George Romney broke with tradition and proclaimed the last week in April as Arbor Week.

Arbor week has become so popular since 1966 explained Mayor Allen, that the traditional ceremonial planting of a single tree has given way to development of "outdoor classrooms" to promote outdoor education by schools here and elsewhere.

Three ways better

Better Boy

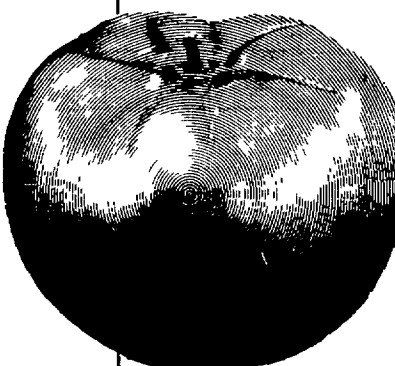

After four years of research, plant breeders have developed Better Boy, a tomato that is three ways better: resistant to verticillium, fusarium, and nematodes (VFN), the three main causes of blight in tomato plants.

Since it's also an F₂ Hybrid, it gives you more fruit, tastier fruit, over a longer period of time. Try it and you'll never go back to ordinary tomatoes again.

volunteers. A complete schedule of Kaleidoscope Plymouth concerts and exhibits is available at the Artrain site.

The freight house has been painted and houses working exhibits, ranging from rug weaving and macrame to pottery making, by local artists.

Teachers, including Northville High School art teacher Roy Pederson, a Plymouth resident, have volunteered their time and also have recruited talented students to demonstrate. Students included from Northville are Steve Elkins, James Dod and Sharon Niedfeldt.

Construction cost of the Michigan Artrain facility was more than $850,000. Funds equal to half this amount were provided by the state legislature through the Michigan Council for the Arts, from the federal government through the National Endowment for the Arts, and from contributions.

Additional construction costs were provided through contributions of services and materials. The rolling stock for Artrain was provided by Penn Central, Grand Trunk Western and the B & O, C & O Railroads.

There is no engine for the 335-foot train as all movement is courtesy of the Michigan Railroad Association.

Termed "an elegant catalyst designed to stimulate people in every community it visits," Artrain in Plymouth is part of an 18-day cultural happening designed to be enjoyed by "the whole family."

Concurrent "happenings" include a Schoolcraft College Stage Band concert, "Glenn Miller to NOW," at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) in Plymouth High School auditorium, "Kaleidoscope People Day," all-day downtown Plymouth celebration, April 29, Grange Show; "Crafts and Tools of Yesteryear," Grange Hall, 273 Union Street, during Artrain hours, April 29-30, May 4, 5, 6.

Others include a Youth, Incorporated, Classic Film Festival, 1 and 3 p.m., April 30, Plymouth High, "Caboose Tool," grand finale party sponsored by Old Village merchants, 9:30 p.m. May 5, Meadowbrook Country Club.

Artrain Areas

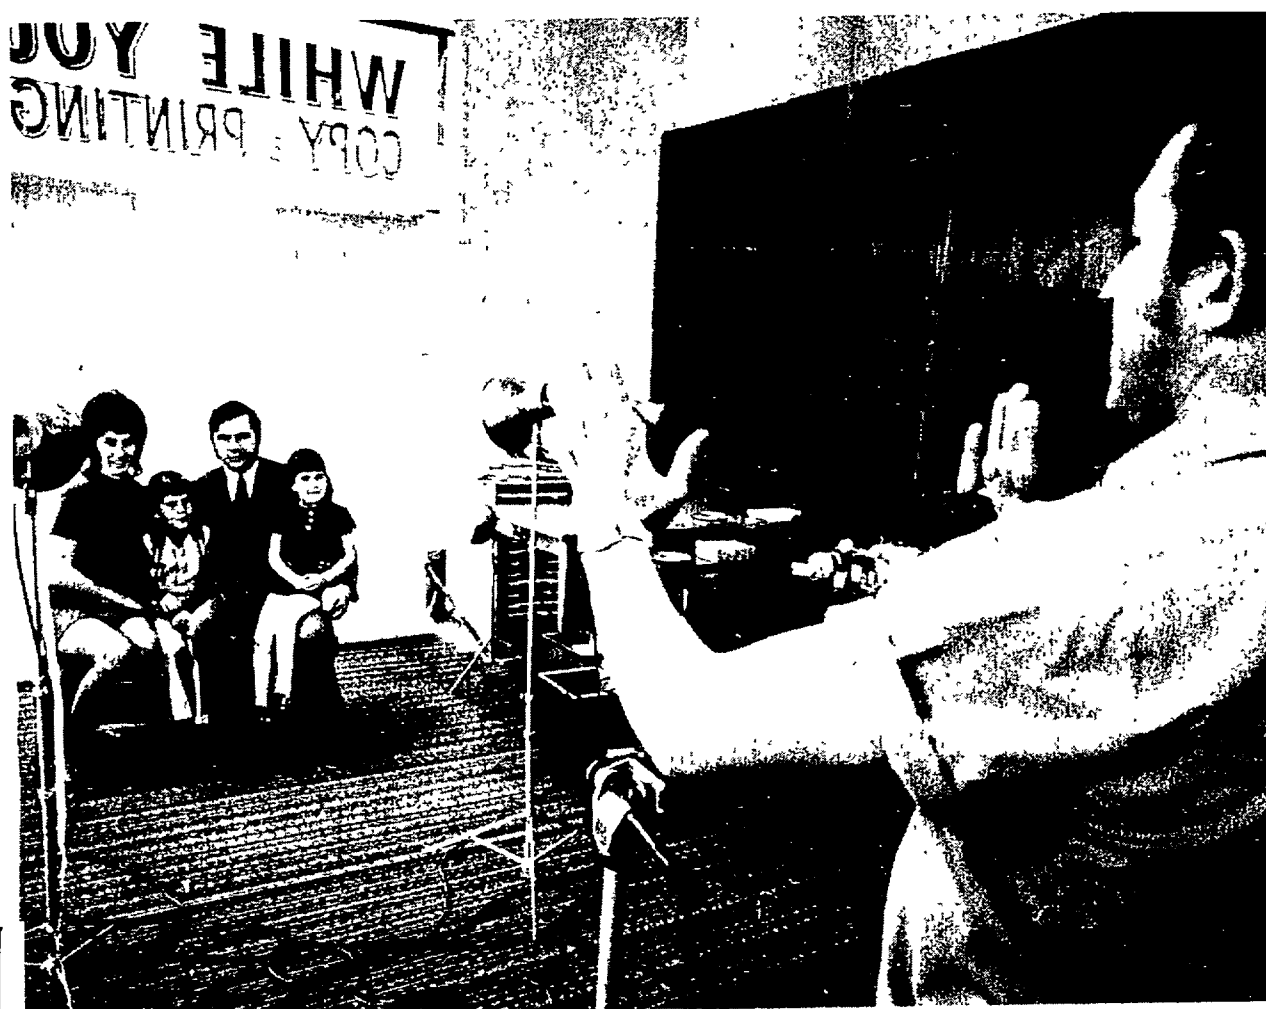

Artrain's three coaches have been divided into seven areas with visitors touring the exhibit in small groups pausing in each for background information from volunteer hosts or taped backgrounds.

"Man Creates" is the theme for the first stop. In Area Two, "Cultural Landmarks" with objects on loan from the Detroit Institute of Arts range from Egyptian, Greek and African to North American Indian. European Renaissance and Far Eastern pieces.

Area Three contains "Creative Motivators" — photographic murals. Area Four contains "The Innovators" — display cases of works by Paul Klee, Henri Matisse, Pierre Renoir and Maurice Utrillo. In Area Five is "Art — the Mark of Man," a motion picture presentation. Next is "Environmental Design" in objects used every day. Finally, "A Vision of Art" shows works ranging from Charles Burchfield's "Dandelion" to Vasarely's "Eridan II."

TRAVELING ART—Original works are at eye-level for these Northville students who are among the hundreds touring Artrain while it is stopped at the Plymouth station.

SAY CHEESE—The Ross Totten family of Northville was among more than 150 families in Northville, Novi, South Lyon, and Brighton who had free color photographs taken of themselves this past weekend as part of this newspaper's recent subscription campaign.

Rep. Jack McDonald Reports

'Revenue' Bill Local Benefits Told

Novi's share of the $5.3 billion revenue sharing plan is $201,791 under the provisions of House Resolution 14370, which was favorably reported out of the House Ways and Means Committee this week.

Under the House version of the bill, the State and Local Government Assistance Act, Oakland County's share is $16,515,185. Communities not specifically allotted funds are eligible for revenue sharing funds out of the Oakland County allotment.

Other allocations specified in the bill included the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville, $45,932; City of Walled Lake, $80,406; and the City of South Lyon, $57,578.

Funds distributed to local governments would have to be used for (1) maintenance and operating expenses for public safety (including police and fire protection, building inspection), environmental protection (including sewage disposal, garbage collection and pollution abatement), and public transportation (including transit systems and streets), and (2) capital expenditures for sewage collection and treatment, refuse disposal systems, and public transportation (including street construction and transit systems).

The distribution within a State to the counties, and the municipal and township governments within a county, is made under a formula based on one-third population, one-third on "urbanized population" (cities of 50,000 or more and the metropolitan areas surrounding them), and one-third on relative per capita income. The latter factor is population multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is per capita income in the United States, and the denominator of which is per capita income in the State.

The amount distributed within a county is divided between the county government and the aggregate of municipal governments within the county on the basis of locally raised revenue of each, excluding revenue raised for education. For example, if the total revenue raised in a county area were $1 million, of which the county had raised $300,000, the county government would receive 30 per cent of the shared funds allocated to that county area.

Two formulas are provided for distributing the remaining funds allocated to the municipalities within the county area: First, distribution would be made one-half on the basis of population and one-half on the basis of relative income (that is on the basis of population multiplied by per capita income in the county divided by municipal per capita income; or second, distribution would be made one-half on the basis of relative income and one-half on the basis of population times the per capita revenue raised in the locality.

In order for States to be eligible for their share of the $1.8 billion, they must continue to distribute as much from other sources to local governments as they did in fiscal 1971.

At Northville

Legislators

Speak Tuesday

Two state legislators serving this area will be guest speakers Tuesday, May 2 at an educational update program co-sponsored by the Northville Area PTA Council, the Amerman PTA, and the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters.

The program previously had been arranged for April 20 but had to be cancelled.

The guests will include Representative Marvin Stempien, Democratic House Majority Floor Leader, and Clifford Smart, a leader of the Republican party in the House.

Stempien, who lives in Livonia, is a former city attorney of Northville, while Smart, a resident of Walled Lake, is a former school superintendent.

Their topics will deal primarily with proposed legislation affecting school financing, including the status of plans for property tax reform.

The 8 p.m. program, to be held in the Amerman Elementary School auditorium, is open to the public. A question and answer period will follow their talks.

Mrs. Betty Hancock of the Area PTA Council will introduce the speakers. Mrs. William D. Aninch of the League of Women Voters will serve as moderator and Mrs. John Federspill, also of the League, will act as timer to accommodate as many questions as possible.

Refreshments will be served.

In Pursell's District

Busing, Taxes Top Priorities

Citizens of State Senator Carl Pursell's 14th District have two clear priorities: preventing cross-district busing of school children, and finding some way to reduce property taxes.

This became apparent when the Plymouth Republican tallied up over 6,000 returns from the questionnaire he recently sent to homes in the area.

Pursell's suburban constituents emphatically expressed their sentiments opposing busing to achieve racial balance. Fully 96 percent of those responding said they do not favor such a program. Only three per cent agreed with cross-district busing, while one per cent expressed no opinion.

"I personally believe that the busing issue, which is under federal jurisdiction, should be appealed all the way to the Supreme Court," Pursell commented.

On the school financing question, Pursell reported that 77 percent of the respondents favored either eliminating or sharply reducing school operating property taxes, with the funds made up through higher income taxes. He said 55 percent favored a "zero millage" plan, while another 22 percent chose reducing school operating millage by one half with a corresponding increase in income taxes. The other 23 percent favored retention of the present taxation formula.

Those who picked one of the two property tax reduction plans were asked what type of income tax they'd like to see replace the property tax revenues. Of this group, 58 percent chose a graduated tax, and the other 42 percent favored keeping the present flat-rate tax. It is probable that any tax reform plan will permit the voters to decide this question by statewide referendum.

Pursell's constituents also strongly favor "no-fault" insurance (72 percent), and mandatory annual auto inspection (70 percent). On another auto-related question, 55 percent agreed with banning studded snow tires, while 29 percent thought they should be allowed and 16 percent had no opinion.

Most citizens in the 14th District are satisfied with public school educational quality. However, the small majority (53 percent satisfied, 39 percent dissatisfied, 8 percent no opinion) indicates our schools have a rather tenuous hold on favorable public opinion.

Opinion was also quite closely divided on outlawing hand guns, although this proposal received majority support (54 percent "yes", 42 percent "no"). Legalized dog racing also received 54 percent support, with 31 per cent opposed and a sizeable 15 per cent undecided.

Aside from the busing question, the largest negative response was, perhaps predictably, to construction of a new State Capitol building. Sixty-three percent advised Senator Pursell they oppose a new building, while only 19 percent voiced a favorable opinion, and 18 percent had no opinion.

Male Chorus

To Perform

When the Finlandia Male Chorus of Detroit presents its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 29, at Southfield High School auditorium, one of the guest soloists will be Eliisa Mannisto, clarinetist, a Northville High School senior.

Her father, Ralph Mannisto of Northville, accompanies the chorus in program selections. In "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" he is the mandolinist while in "Kulkurin Valssi," a popular Finnish folk song, he is the accordion accompanist.

Featured with the 35-voice Finlandia Male Chorus will be the Finlandia string ensemble and the Finlandia brass ensemble. Refreshments will be served after the concert.

LUCKY ESCAPE—William Yackley of Farmington was a lucky man last week Wednesday when he escaped without a scratch from this car-truck collision. Yackley told police he was traveling on eastbound I-96, just west of Kensington Park, when his car (squeezed beneath the truck) blew a tire and skidded sideways under the truck-trailer driven by Arnold Thompson of Garden City. Thompson braked to stop, but dragged Yackley's car for quite a distance before his big rig came to a halt on the shoulder of the expressway.

Public Meeting Zeroes In On Wastewater Problems

A series of public meetings, including one in Northville, have been launched to consider management of wastewater in Southeastern Michigan.

Sponsored by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Northville public meeting will be held tonight (Thursday) at Northville High School beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Similar meetings were held earlier in the week in Detroit, Monroeville, and Utica.

According to spokesmen for the Corps of Engineers, the discussion will zero in on a feasibility report published in 1971 dealing with alternatives for managing wastewater in the counties of St. Clair, Macomb, Oakland, Wayne, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe.

Also to be discussed will be more detailed studies now underway.

Purpose of the meeting is to "provide an opportunity for all segments of the public, governmental agencies, commercial and industrial representatives, and university and environmental groups to present their views, opinions, and questions."

The feasibility study published last year concluded:

- Land disposal systems are a viable method for dealing with at least part of Southeastern Michigan's wastewater.

- Magnitude of the problem indicates the need for regionalization; alternative waste treatment processes including current biological practices, new physical-chemical processes, and land disposal systems on a regional basis need further study.

- The storm runoff problem in Southeastern Michigan is of sufficient magnitude to warrant consideration of a collection system large enough to minimize the overflow risk.

- Combinations of disposal techniques for a regional program warrant further investigation, considering existing and possible future political, economic and institutional arrangements.

- The range of social, aesthetic, and related institutional effects of large scale disposal operations require consideration in all future wastewater system designs.

- The role of viruses and pathogenic bacteria in wastewater and the long-term effects of trace metals and other toxic materials, including persistent pesticides, plus the long-term effects of land use, are not fully understood and need further investigation.

Perch Stage Lake Revival

A comeback by the once-almost-extinct Lake Michigan perch — easily caught and one of the tastiest fresh-water fish — could rival the mighty salmon for fishing headlines this summer, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

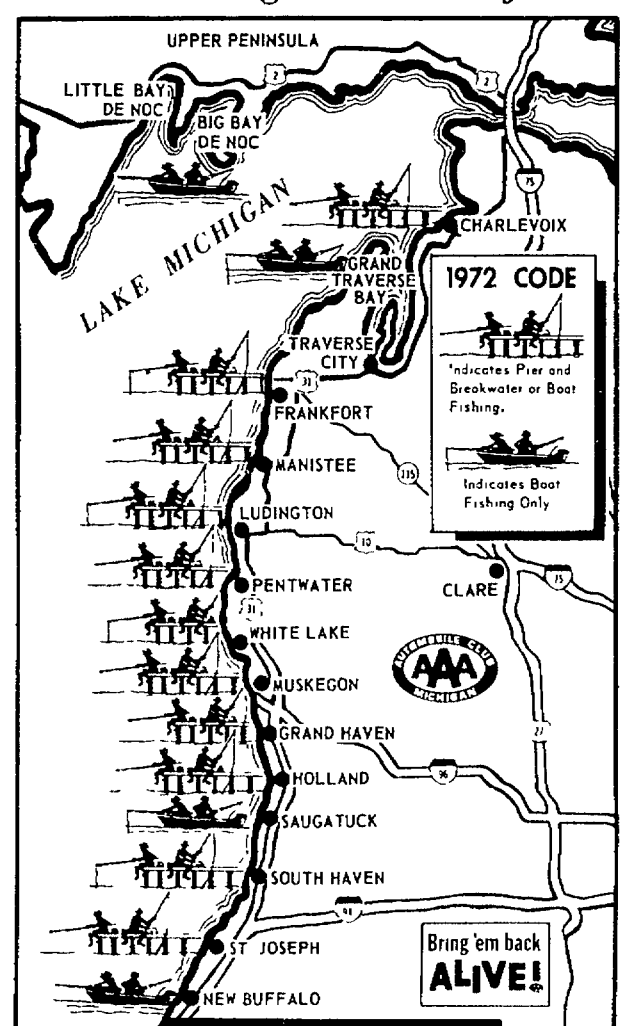

While perch fishing was almost non-existent during the past decade, it should draw more participants than the coho this year, points out an article in the May Motor News.

Major reason for the Perch's popularity is that the green-sided, yellow-bellied fish can be caught by almost anyone from piers and breakwaters and small boats with no more equipment than a hook, sinker, drop line and a can of garden worms.

Auto Club states that Lake Michigan's shore has numerous communities with

- ★ During spring and fall, fish in four to eight feet of water
- ★ Fish in 20 to 50 feet of water for jumbo perch during warm-weather months
- ★ Use a pair of number 6 or 8 hooks, tied 18 inches apart, with a sinker at end of line
- ★ Best fishing is in morning and afternoon, before noon and after 3:00 p.m.
- ★ No closed season or minimum size, and catches are unlimited in Lake Michigan.

Spring perch fishing action begins at the south end of Lake Michigan in mid-May and moves north through June. Bursts of good fishing occur during July and August. During September, excellent perch catches again are taken along the shoreline.

Almost any type tackle—from drop line to costly rod and reel—with wigglers, worms and preferably shiner minnows for bait guarantee success. Keep the baited hook close to bottom and don't move it much.

Flying Gravel

Survey Pinpoints Worst Locations

A state-wide Automobile Club of Michigan survey indicates that I-75 between Monroe and Pontiac is the most likely stretch of road for motorists to receive damage to vehicles caused by uncovered trucks hauling loose cargo

This conclusion is the result of a citizens' information-gathering campaign conducted by Auto Club to show the need for state legislation requiring covers for trucks hauling cargo such as gravel.

Two proposed Michigan bills requiring truck covers are now before committees where Auto Club states they are stalled. They are Senate Bill 1040 sponsored by Senator David A. Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) before the Highways Committee and House Bill 4092 sponsored by Representative James F. Smith (R-Davison) before the Roads and Bridge Committee

Approximately 50,000 windshield breakage claims

(excluding glass damage in collisions) are made by motorists in Michigan each year, with a repair bill of $5.5 million, a recent state-wide Auto Club survey of glass breakage estimates.

About eight of 10 damage claims received by Auto Club through its citizens' complaint program were from motorists traveling paved major roads where gravel and other debris is not present unless dumped or spilled.

"The cost of replacing windshields does not include the damage done to tires, headlights and car bodies as the result of uncovered trucks dropping everything from gravel to scrap metal on roads," Richard R. Dann, Auto Club executive vice president, states.

"There is no way of making an estimate since very few motorists make claims on broken lights or miscellaneous other damage."

He added that uncovered trucks hauling junk, paper and garbage contribute heavily to roadside litter. The cost of just clearing litter from state roads is $700,000 a year. This does not include the cost of cleaning county roads and city streets.

To date, over 450 complaints have been received through the citizens' campaign, with almost four of every five from Southeast Michigan. The survey shows that 230, or 65 percent, of the 350 complaints from Southeast Michigan came from these six stretches of highway:

-I-75 between Monroe and Pontiac, 85 complaints.

-I-94 between Ann Arbor and Mt. Clemens, 58 complaints.

-Telegraph (US-24) between Flat Rock and Lapeer, 35 complaints.

-I-96 and I-696 from Telegraph to Brighton, 24 complaints.

-Southfield between I-75 and John Lodge, 16 complaints.

-John Lodge (I-96 downtown Detroit) to Telegraph, 12 complaints.

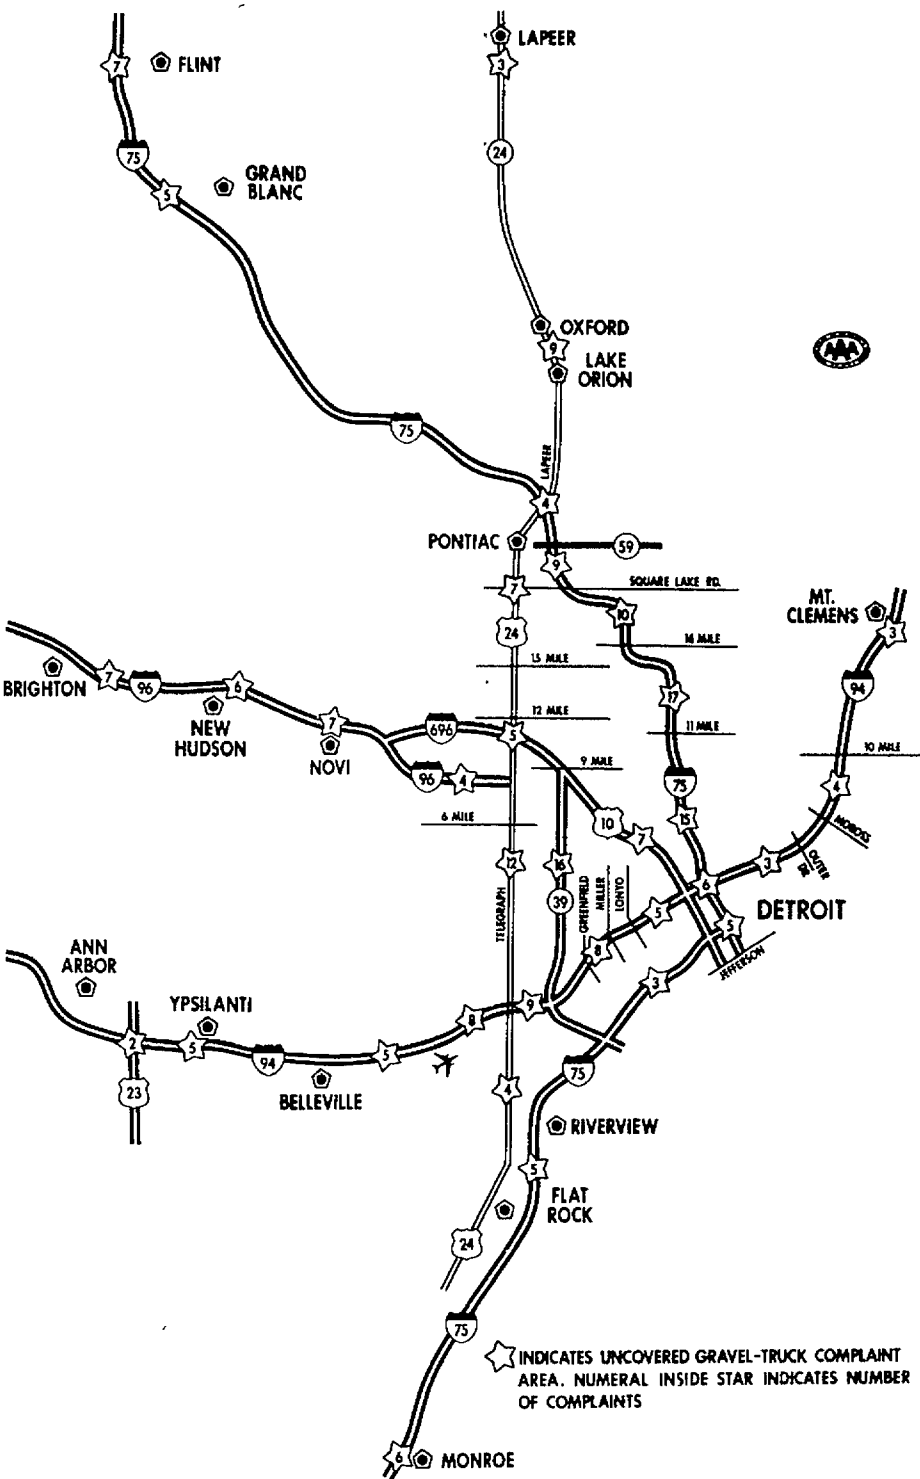

Of the 350 complaints from Southeast Michigan, 77 were scattered throughout Oakland, Macomb and Genesee Counties. Another 42 complaints were collected from across Western Wayne, Washtenaw and Monroe Counties.

Most of the response to Auto Club's request for complaints from drivers whose cars were damaged as the result of uncovered trucks came in November and December.

"Ideally, the information-gathering campaign should have been conducted in spring or summer when uncovered gravel and other trucks are on roads in volume," states Dann.

"However, legislation is now before committees," he adds. "The same survey conducted in spring or summer could result in two or three times as much public response."

Complaints filed through the citizens' campaign from outside the immediate Detroit area are as follows: Alpena, three; Grand Rapids, 20; Jackson, 10; Kalamazoo, 7; Lansing, 7; Ludington-Holland area, 10; Saginaw, 17; Traverse City, 10. Thirty-three other complaints were received, but the areas were not stated on cards submitted

June Groundbreaking For Detroit Stadium

Groundbreaking for the new $126 million Wayne County Stadium on Detroit's riverfront is envisioned for early June as a result of sale of $126 million in revenue bonds to finance the project. A syndicate headed by two Detroit firms and four outside investors was the lowest of two bidders when bids were opened by the Wayne County Stadium Authority April 19. The group bought the bonds for a net interest rate of 6.6399 percent over the 40-year life of the bond issue. The successful bidders were Halsey, Stuart & Co. The prime members of the group included the First of Michigan Corp. and the Bank of the Commonwealth, both of Detroit, plus Blyth & Co. and Drexel-Firestone Inc., both of New York; and the First Boston Corp. of Boston. The other bidding syndicate was headed by the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York. Its bid of 6.655 percent was estimated at about $250,000 higher in interest charges than the successful bid.

"The favorable interest rate for the bonds is, I believe, another indication of the soundness of the stadium project," commented County Commissioner Thomas P. O'Rourke, of Detroit, D-District 14. He is chairman of the special stadium committee of the Board of Commissioners. Bids were taken after Stadium Authority lawyers advised that two court suits aimed at blocking the stadium did not preclude sale of the bonds. However, they said, one of the court actions which raises a constitutional question must be settled before the bonds "close" in 60 days.

The Circuit Court suit was filed on behalf of Mayor Royce Smith, of Belleville, and Marc Allen, of Grosse Pointe Woods. It contends that the stadium project would be using public funds to benefit private business and amounts to taxation without representation.

Charles Moon, a bond counsel for the authority, described the suit as "wholly without merit" and intended as "vexation and delay." He said the suit raises issues already settled by court decisions in other cases. The plaintiffs' attorney, Ronald J. Prebenda, retorted that Moon would "eat those words."

Circuit Court Judge Blair Moody Jr. has set a hearing for 2 p.m. Friday, April 28.

'Rewrap Meat', Advised

Rewrap fresh meat and poultry in foil or freezer wrap for long-term storage, advises Maryann Beckman, Michigan State University consumer information specialist.

Fresh meat and poultry purchased in retail stores are not adequately wrapped for storage longer than one week.

In addition, you can save time by packaging ground meats and fryers in the form in which they'll be cooked, such as patties and chicken pieces—and in the amount needed for one meal, the specialist suggests. Place a layer of freezer paper or foil between slices or patties for easier separation and quicker thawing. Be sure to seal packages to prevent rancidity and freezer burn. Mrs. Beckman cautions

Offers Free Lake Catalog

A free 1972 catalog of Great Lakes charts is now available according to an announcement this week by the Lake Survey Center, a unit of the National Ocean Survey under the Department of Commerce.

The catalog lists, describes and outlines 144 different charts for navigating the Great Lakes system, together with their prices and scales.

Instructions for ordering charts by mail are included in the catalog. Besides listing available charts, the catalog contains a description of Great Lakes levels since 1860, a table of limiting dimensions and clearances on waterways in the Great Lakes area, customs and excise information, and addresses where charters of other waters may be obtained.

Persons in this area who would like the free catalog may write to the Lake Survey Center, 630 Federal Building and U.S. Courthouse, Detroit, 48226.

What Do Horses Think?
Beginning with the horse's head, if both ears of the average horse are laid back, pointing towards its neck, it's probably thinking nasty thoughts

Moving a little lower down, you will look eye-level with the animal. If the horse's eyes are showing lots of white or even worse, rolling about, you should take several paces smartly to the rear - your own rear, not the horse's. This is a clear indication that the horse has taken a dislike to the person looking into his eyes

There used to be a theory that the horses who showed a lot of white in their eyes were vicious. Modern research claims that this is not true. That a normally good-natured horse could be anxiously looking backwards at something it has just left, such as its rider.

A horse which apparently always has its eyes closed, research has proved, is either asleep or hates the sight of humans

Moving on down to the horse's nose - this is not merely used for breathing; the snort is used for horses and ponies to convey their opinion of other horses and ponies, food and humans. Watch your horse's snort, especially when your back is turned

The teeth of a horse, they have found, can be indicative of its mood at the moment. A horse who picks you up by one arm in its long yellow molars is obviously worried about something - probably you. Horses who pick up people whenever they meet them should be regarded as rather untrustworthy

The Michigan State Fair Riding Academy will feature Zander Duffield as host of a riding clinic on the training of hunters and jumpers

Duffield, whose background is extensive, began as a junior rider under well known Chuck Grant and showed under his guidance

While attending the University of Michigan he worked part time teaching and schooling horses for Ruth Everett of Ann Arbor. After graduating he trained horses in Virginia for a hunter sale and show farm

In 1961 Zander opened his own school in Rochester, called Stoney Creek farms where he and his wife are operating a training and show stable. This involves training riders as well as horses. As a result, last year he produced the Junior Hunter Champion (rider) in Michigan and the Junior Jumper Champion in Michigan

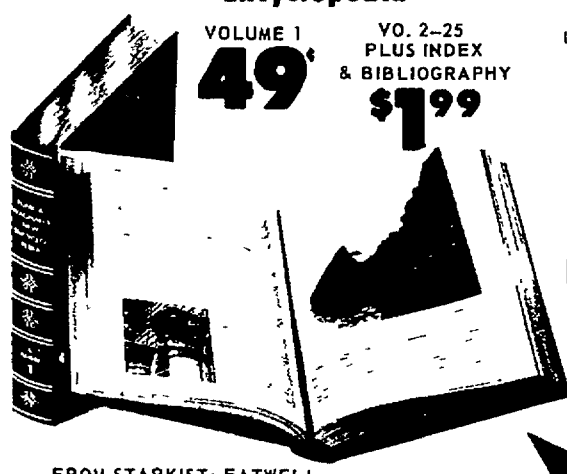

Zander is a recognized judge by the American Horse Show Association and the Michigan Horse Show. He will be presenting the clinic at the Fairgrounds May 10, from 7 p.m. - 9 p.m.

Here's the Answer

Value Added Tax Favored

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—The White House continues to study the feasibility of the value-added tax (VAT), a system being used increasingly to raise government revenues in Europe. Latest word is that Administration aides feel the President is favorably inclined toward the idea and may submit it to Congress after the election in November.

In essence, VAT is a general sales tax, though it differs from any such imposts now in effect in the United States. It is collected—bit by bit, proportionate to the value added—as products pass through the various manufacturing and distribution stages. Each seller receives credit for the tax he has paid to the manufacturer or processor from whom he bought. So in the end it is the consumer who bears the full brunt of the levy.

In order to tone down this blatantly regressive feature of VAT and make it more palatable to consumers, a system of personal-income-tax credits and rebates would be set up. Also, stress would be placed on VAT's overall revenue-raising potential, along with the proposal that these revenues be earmarked for support of public elementary and secondary education.

VAT has a number of facets likely to pique the interest of Senators and Congressmen and ultimately incline them in favor of enacting it. For one thing, it is an indirect levy unlikely to set off the great hue and cry that would be raised if income-tax rates were to be lifted appreciably or current deductions phased out. It scoops up large sums (best estimate is that a 1 percent levy would bring in about $5 billion), requires only minimal enforcement apparatus. And—a very important point at this time—it encourages exports, which could help right our lagging foreign trade balance.

In addition, VAT—which presumably would be advanced as a partial substitute for onerous corporate income levies—has considerable appeal for businesses, especially those engaged in large-scale import and export operations.

ON THE SURFACE VAT would appear to be a relatively simple, straightforward system of raising the added revenues that Uncle Sam so urgently needs. But when you get down to the nitty-gritty, you discover that it could be extremely complex and its impact on various segments of the economy uneven.

VAT is often referred to as a “neutral” tax, the implication being that it is neutral as between management and labor and between various types of companies and industries. This would be true if all goods and services were to be taxed at a uniform VAT rate. However, this has not been the case in Europe, where rates differ from product to product. It is not likely to be the case in the United States, where Congress has a long history of writing complications and exceptions into tax legislation, seemingly for valid social and economic reasons but often to appease pressure groups.

THE RESEARCH Department of Babson's Reports feels that the big hassle in Congress over VAT won't come until some time in 1973. Despite its potential as a revenue raiser, VAT faces hard going in both Houses; it will be hotly assailed for its discrimination against middle-income people.

Yet when all the chips are down, the expanding need for revenue and the fact that VAT is less regressive than most levies will outweigh its obvious inequities. It will pass, and won't bite too hard at first. But eventually the base will be upped as new social programs pyramid, and must be funded by taxpayers.

Here's How to Bug Taxpayers

LANSING — Government seems capable of devising ever new ways to bug the average citizen.

One of the latest examples of this is the decision by the state treasurer's office the past two years not to mail state income, tax returns to individual income taxpayers. In both 1971 and this year, it was decided to “save” $100,000 and make the 3.3 million people who pay income taxes walk or drive to a local bank or state office to pick up a return form.

To force him to do this is a little like sending a child for a stick to be used for a whipping. Since tax forms are not readily available, several trips were sometimes required. If we compute the extra trouble in time, parking meter money and inconvenience at 50 cents each, the collective cost exceeds a million and a half dollars.

Surely taxpayers would rather be charged an extra 25 cents and have the forms sent to their homes.

IT'S IRONIC, though, that while the state was “saving” postage on tax forms last year, members of the Legislature had just finished spending several times that much on postage during 1970.

Even more ironically, more than half of the legislators' postage bills came in the months before elections.

It does seem the state could afford a few postage stamps to make the paying of taxes a little easier, or at least arrange to enclose political campaign material with the tax notices, thus economizing for the taxpayer's convenience.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT OF TAXES, state and local tax collections jumped over the $100 billion mark in this country for the first time last year.

When December 31 arrived, tabulations now show, the 50 states and their cities, counties, school districts and other subdivisions had collected a total of $100.7 billion from their residents. It marked a $9.1 billion leaped over calendar 1970.

Of this total, states collected $54.1 billion, a rise of $4.9 billion from 1970. Local taxes were up $4.2 billion to $46.6 billion.

A BREAKDOWN SHOWS property taxes are still by far the biggest revenue producers for local units. Last year they raised $41.3 billion dollars, or 10.1 per cent more.

Sales taxes remain the second biggest revenue raiser at the state and local level as they raised $19 billion in 1971, a rise of $2 billion from the previous year.

The biggest percentage-wise gain was posted by state income tax on individuals, which produced 14 per cent more revenue than in the previous year, a total of $12.7 billion.

MEMBERS of the state Board of Canners are hoping the public won't feel any confusion over the issue of daylight savings time this November. They think the wording they have adopted for the ballot proposal should keep it clear.

The board came in for some flack in 1968 after DST lost by less than 500 votes. Backers of DST claimed the board had confused the people with the way they worded the proposal.

It is the board's responsibility to devise the description of every ballot proposal and put that description on the ballot rather than the actual proposal.

When voters look at the DST portion of their ballot in November, this is what they will see: THE PROPOSED law would change Michigan to Daylight Savings Time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October of each year. Should this proposed law be approved?

Yes ☒ No ☐

Even the simplest things can get bogged down when they get into the Legislature.

For instance, there is the resolution passed by the House recently declaring the week of March 26 — April 1 as “Week of Concern for Prisoners of War and Missing in Action.” The House approved it April 12.

Urges Kitchen Safety

“Comfort has a price; and the price is your responsibility for using kitchen appliances safely,” says Marilyn Mook, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University.

Refrigerator, range, garbage disposal, blender, mixer, toaster, electric frying pan, waffle iron, bun warmer can opener, trash compactor—each might cause electric shock or burn injury unless you realize the importance of proper installation, power supply and maintenance, she says.

The delivery man should understand the installation specifications for your large appliances, the specialist points out. But it's a good idea for you to know them too.

Be sure there is clearance on all sides of a refrigerator or electric range. This allows air circulation which will cut heat buildup. Also, remember that gas appliances must be vented.

Install smaller appliances where they aren't likely to be bumped or dropped, the specialist warns.

An adequate power supply is a matter of common sense. Most household circuits can carry 15 amperes safely—that means only one major appliance on a circuit. Plan on a larger-than-normal current for the new larger-freezer refrigerators and portable appliances.

Ground all circuits, and don't overload appliances or use them in ways not intended, Miss Mook suggests.

Good repair is an essential part of maintaining your appliances. Replace worn cords and plugs, and check oven thermostats for accuracy.

Kitchen fires may occur because of spills, accumulated grease or carelessness with potholders, paper towels, etc. Don't panic!

If a fire breaks out in the oven, turn it off and do not open the door, Miss Mook says. Smother fires on the range surface or in small appliances with a pan lid or baking sheet.

Near Extinct Perch Stage Lake Comeback

breakwaters an piers from which good catches of perch are expected. The accompanying map pinpoints many of these places.

Jumbo perch have made a spectacular comeback, probably because of the salmon, the article states.

Perch fishing collapsed during the 1950's due to the sea lamprey invasion, intense commercial fishing and growth in the number of alewives. The Motor News article, titled "The Perch Are Back," adds that it was probably the alewife explosion which had most to do with the near end of the perch population.

"Alewives compete with perch for food, space and spawning territory, and perch eggs are high on the alewives' list of preferred snacks," Motor News readers are told. "Theory is that the perch simply could not withstand the alewife pressure and lost out in the survival fight."

Making Lake Michigan capable of supporting game fish like trout and salmon was not intended to restore the perch population. It was a happy by-product for shoreline and small-boat fishermen. This year, anglers are expected to fish calm, shallow water for perch from small boats and shore as they did 20 years ago.

It was the measures taken

Wastewater

On Agenda

The Detroit district of the Army Corps of Engineers has been assigned the task of completing a survey study by early next year.

Planning process for the study places emphasis on public participation and coordination with involved federal, state, and regional agencies concerned with wastewater management.

The study program, spokesmen explained, will emphasize technical evaluation of advanced conventional wastewater treatment processes, physical-chemical treatment processes, land disposal systems, and an array of combination systems.

In addition to the efforts of agency staffs and technical consultants, a full impact evaluation study will be performed by experts in such environmental sciences as hygienics, virology, toxicology, landscape architecture, economics, sociology, and others "to insure a complete evaluation of the impact upon the environment and the region's citizens of the wastewater management alternatives under consideration."

Final selection of a plan for recommendation to higher authority, spokesmen said, will be made only after full consideration is given to the views of responsible agencies, groups, and citizens.

"However, this cannot be taken as an indication that the federal government will undertake any improvements or programs. Although the study may result in recommendations for undertakings by the federal government, their accomplishments would depend upon subsequent authorization and funding by Congress."

College Offers

Special Class

A brand new class designed for persons unsure about the technical career area they wish to enter will be offered at Schoolcraft College the third week in June.

Called the "vocational-technical orientation seminar," the class will give students an opportunity to explore the types of careers available in technical areas. It will provide information about Schoolcraft programs and employment opportunities, and it should help the student make an intelligent choice concerning the technical field for him and the best way to prepare.

The class will be limited to 50 students on a first-come basis. The only charge is a $20 tuition cost, and two hours of credit will be earned.

For further information and enrollment materials, telephone Richard Holmes, director of industrial education, at 591-6400.

to insure success of the coho — lamprey control and tight restrictions on commercial fishing — that helped the depleted perch stock bounce back, Motor News points out. While millions of salmon, lake trout and steelhead have been planted since 1965, not a single perch was planted.

"The voracious predatory salmon and trout began to eat down the alewives to a level more nearly approaching normal numbers," Motor News adds. "Massive natural die-offs thinned the alewives further."

Signs of Lake Michigan's perch comeback were evident in 1969 when good catches of small fish were taken. The size improved during 1970. Last summer, buckets and stringers began to bulge with jumbos — some up to 14-inches long and weighing a pound or more.

"This year, unless all the signs are completely cockeyed, there should be more perch and jumbos, enough to make veterans compare the season favorably with those before the collapse," states Motor News. The magazine adds that the Department of Natural Resources feels this will be the year of the perch comeback because 1969 was the best spawning year for

Lake Michigan perch in more than a decade and perch reach good, catchable size in three years.

Perch can be caught year around, although spring is best. They are almost always hungry and when a school is located a catch is guaranteed. The boat fisherman has an advantage, however, since he can locate the schools while shore fishermen have to wait for the fish to appear.

Lake Michigan perch are not "fighting" fish, the article states. They are more willing to be caught than resist, but they excel in the frying pan. "Floured, crumbed or battered and pan-fried or deep-fried to a crispy brown, fresh-caught perch are just plain delicious," states Motor News. "The flesh is white, moist, flaky and tender, the flavor sweet and delicate, not at all 'fishy'."

Auto Club points out there are few rules governing this state's Lake Michigan perch fishermen, but a fishing license is required. There is no closed season or minimum size, and Lake Michigan catches are unlimited. These helpful hints can make taking home a full stringer easier.

- Fish close to shore, usually not over a mile out.

Use shiner minnows, wigglers or worms as bait.

- Fish close to bottom and don't move the line too much.

- Best time is morning and afternoon, before noon and after 3 p.m.

- During spring and fall, fish in four to eight feet of water.

- Fish in 20 to 50 feet of water for jumbo perch during warm-weather months.

- Use a pair of number 6 or 8 hooks, tied 18 inches apart, with a sinker at the line's end.
