COUNCILMEN were amused but unmoved this week in considering a police request that specifications for two new replacement patrol cars include air-conditioning. There will be no air-conditioning despite police arguments, among which included the suggestion that a comfortably cool policeman is likely to be more polite in speaking to traffic violators on hot summer days. Police won one concession, however: the new cars will have two spotlights instead of one.

WITH RECOMMENDATION for rezoning in hand from the planning commission, the council this week set May 15 as the public hearing date on the request to rezone the old Methodist church building from a parking to a commercial classification. The building is to be turned into a restaurant-cocktail lounge.

FORMALIZATION of property sale-parking assessment agreement with R. H. McManus is expected to take place early next week, with construction of the proposed Northville Square shopping center to begin immediately thereafter. Date for moving of the library building, presently located on the site of the proposed center, had not been scheduled by Tuesday of this week.

CITIZENS' group supporting another millage election have named Eugene Cook and William Fuertges co-chairman. Meeting Monday night, the group voted to circulate petitions asking a one-mill levy be placed on the June 12 ballot. With the one-mill, the group hopes extra-curricular activities and the six-hour high school day, which were among items cut following the March millage defeat, will remain.

NOMINATION petitions for three seats up in the June 12 school election are now available at the school board office. Up for election are two four-year terms and one two-year term. Filing date is 4 p.m. Monday, May 15.

An all-encompassing city sign ordinance, sewed together over the past several years, had barely emerged from a three-hour public hearing Monday when it appeared headed for the courtroom.

Approved by the council, subject to review of one section by the city attorney, the ordinance is slated to become effective within two weeks.

Harvey Ritchie, former planner who for the most part praised the ordinance, served notice that he, as a city businessman, may be forced to test its legality.

Specifically, Ritchie found fault with the section of the new law that forces elimination of existing revolving signs. In that argument he found support from Mayor A.M. Allen and Councilman Kenneth Rathert, both of whom, however, voted with the three other councilmen in approving the ordinance.

Ritchie, an owner of Northville Laundry, argued unsuccessfully that it is unfair to force him to eliminate a new $1900 revolving sign at his business place since the sign had been lawfully erected by city permit.

Mayor Allen and Rathert concurred, pointing out that while they favored prohibition of revolving signs in the future they found it reprehensible to force existing signs be removed.

"I'd rather not have any revolving signs," said Allen, "but I don't feel we can now tell them (businessmen) to remove those we've already permitted. We'd be changing our mind at someone else's expense."

Among other businesses in the city that presently have revolving signs are John Mach Ford, Keim Realty, and Union 76.

Retroactivity—removal of existing signs—was also given all portable signs, except real estate (for sale) signs. That means existing sandwich board signs widely used on service station property must be removed.

The ordinance also prohibits roof signs but it does not require removal of existing roof signs.

When Councilman Paul Folino, noting that his business place has a roof sign, suggested that removal of existing such signs is in order to be consistent, City Manager Frank Ollendorff said he "wished we could remove those, too" but that the courts have ruled it cannot be done. Similarly, the court has ruled that non-conforming wall and projecting signs may remain, Ollendorff said.

There remained doubt in the council's mind about the legality of forcing the removal of revolving signs so it directed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to research the law and report his findings.

If Ogilvie determines that the ordinance, as respecting revolving signs, is possibly unlawful the council has indicated it will amend the new ordinance.

Concerning portable signs, the council saw little legal complication since these are not permanent signs.

Councilman Rathert's suggestion that at least one portable sign be permitted at a place of business failed to win support. Other councilmen pointed out that in the case of the Novi Road neighborhood shopping center a one-sign permit could result in a string of sandwich boards—one for each of the center stores—along the road.

Other prohibited signs, which must be removed, include:

4.7 Mill Need Seen By Study

The Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters unveiled its findings and opinion on the unification of the city and township of Northville last Thursday night before a most receptive audience.

One Northville, the citizens' group actively pursuing annexation of the city to the township, heard the presentation which the LWV hopes to make before numerous community organizations.

Far and away the most surprising aspect of the League's updated report is the prediction that a unified Northville could provide services comparable to those now enjoyed in the city for the total city-township area for a tax levy of 4.7 mills.

The original study, now several years old, had

Highland Lakes Homeowners Point to Damaged Roof Facing as Example of Faulty Workmanship

Housing Draws Fire

Homeowner complaint about new housing defects is nothing new—but there are dozens living in Northville's largest housing development, Highland Lakes, who insist problems there have far exceeded normalcy.

Problems reached a boiling point last winter when residents, meeting with representatives of the developer, Levitt & Sons, leveled so many angry complaints that officials reshuffled and increased its local staff in an attempt to resolve the problems.

Levitt, one of the world's largest developers, gave itself 90 days in which to correct a mountain of problems, promising to meet again with residents at the end of this period to report its progress.

In reporting that progress last week, spokesmen for Levitt said it had completed 78-percent of the written work orders and were making every effort to achieve 100-percent correction.

Obviously, progress has been made because homeowners who packed the meeting room voiced fewer criticisms than they had three months earlier, and by a show of hands they indicated response to their complaints has improved.

And in a letter to this newspaper, Earl Goldstein, director of sales & marketing, said, "We are now certain we have the situation well in hand."

Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, who last winter clamped a ban on additional occupancies pending correction of existing problems, told The Record Friday, "Things are a lot smoother now," and that he has been receiving fewer complaints.

Stromberg had asked homeowners to send him copies of their complaints to Levitt so that he could follow up on them. "Most of them have been settled," he reported, indicating that unless complaints increase or others remain unresolved occupancy permits for approximately 100 more units will be issued this month.

More than 226 townhouse units are presently occupied, he said. In addition to the 100 almost ready for occupancy, Levitt has 238 others under construction.

At the initial meeting three months ago which, like the latest, drew an overflowing crowd of homeowners in the development located between Seven and Eight Mile roads in what formerly was a gravel mining site, the reporter for this newspaper counted a total of 23 different kinds of complaints.

These ranged from flooded basements, defective windows and doors, and damage by workmen making other repairs, to defective wiring, unmatched tiling, and improperly installed grouting along bathroom fixtures.

Chief complaint, however, was the company's unkept promise to correct problems...and it is this complaint, apparently, that a majority of residents feel now has improved.

Not so, declared Mrs. Edward J. Olah of 19629

Third Grader Killed by Car

An eight-year-old boy became the city's first traffic death in more than two years when he was struck by a car as he attempted to cross Novi Road last Wednesday

David W. Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Austin, 543 Reed Street, died after being struck by a car shortly before 5:30 p.m. The accident occurred south of Allen Drive at the bridge.

Witnesses told police the youth ran into the path of a southbound car driven by Floyd D. Smith of Detroit. Based on statements made by witnesses, the Oakland County Prosecutor's office termed the accident "unavoidable" and no charges were brought against Smith.

According to police reports, David was crossing from the east side of Novi Road at the bridge to the west side of the road where his brother was waiting for him.

Driver of a northbound car who saw the accident told police the youth had darted out in front of his car but ran back to the bridge. When his car passed the youth, he saw

School Modifies Request

Summer Tax Billing Sought

The idea of split school taxes has been laid aside and school officials are now proposing collection of all school taxes in the summer instead of winter.

That's the word from Superintendent Raymond Spear, who indicated this week that plans are underway now to conduct "some kind of community survey" to determine community reaction.

"Before we ask the city and township to enact ordinances permitting summer school tax collection," he said, "we-want to be sure most people agree with us that the financial savings resulting from the change are worth any initial inconvenience it may create," he said.

The idea of split tax collection—half of school taxes in the winter and half in the summer—was dropped, explained Spear, because of the complications it would create for the collecting agencies (city and township).

Presently, city taxes are collected in the summer, township and school taxes in the winter. All taxes for the school system are collected by the city and township—not by the school itself.

If the proposal now under consideration is approved, city and school taxes would be collected in the summer and township tax collections would remain in the winter.

Financial advantage of summer school tax collection are two-fold, explained Spear. First, it would mean a savings of some $25,000 in interest monies the district now pays in annually borrowing money to operate the school system during the first months of the school year, he said.

Secondly, it would mean the school could invest part of the monies collected in the summer and perhaps collect $15,000 or more interest for the school, he added.

According to Spear, if no change in collection is made the district can expect that the amount of money to be borrowed each year will increase, as will the interest on borrowed money.

In the final analysis, citizens must decide if the savings in interest money is worth the change, the Superintendent said.

Main objection to the switch, conceded Spear, is likely to be the increased amount of taxes collected during the first year of the switch.

If, for example, the change begins July, 1973 taxpayers would pay school taxes this coming December and again the following summer, six months later. Thereafter, they would pay school taxes

Name Given 'Village' Site

"Millrace Historical Village" is the name selected last Thursday by the Northville Historical Society for the Griswold street historical site being donated by Ford Motor Company for relocation of the old library building on Wing Street and the Greek Revival house on Main Street.

At its April meeting the society considered eight suggestions and voted "Millrace Historical Village" the winner.

Mrs. W.H. Cansfield, president, noted that the site "always has had the millrace" so that the choice is appropriate. A millrace is the channel of water that drives a mill wheel.

At the Griswold site the channel still exists although the mill long ago was razed.

It is expected that the old library and house will be moved to the site within a few days and will remain on skids there until permanent foundations are built. The foundations will be started, the society stated, when the deed is processed and it can proceed.

Plans also were made at the meeting to hold an antique show in December instead of the Tivoli Fair held the past three years.

Thirty eight members and friends of the society attended the monthly meeting to hear Frank Wilhelm, executive director of the Historical Society of Michigan. The young man explained that he became interested "in the preservation of our heritage while a history teacher in Dexter."

Baggett - Fowkes Vows Pledged

Barbara Ann Baggett and Ronald Jeffrey Fowkes were united in marriage March 24 at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville. The Rev. Lloyd G. Brasure and the Rev. John Wyskiel performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couples are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Baggett of 8105 Chubb Road and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Fowkes of 321 Rayson, all of Northville.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white lace formal gown featuring an empire waistline. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Patricia Baggett attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor. She was attired in a blue empire styled gown and carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

Sue Van Sickle was the bridesmaid with Sara Baggett and Melissa Fowkes, sisters of the bridal couple, as junior bridesmaids. They wore pink empire gowns and carried nosegay bouquets.

Kelly Fowkes, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl and David Brown, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Ronald Radtke served as best man. Steven Baggett, brother of the bride, and James and Mark Fowkes, brothers of the bridegroom, were the ushers.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the VFW Hall in South Lyon.

Leaving for their trip to Florida, the new Mrs. Fowkes changed to a blue knit dress.

The couple resides in Novi. A graduate of South Lyon High School, the bride is employed at the Plymouth State Home and Training School. Her husband graduated from Northville High School and is employed by Van Every Sand and Gravel Company.

FINERY FROM THE PAST—Mrs. Neil Nichols, 20020 Caldwell, poses in the beige lace gown she is borrowing from another Northville resident, Mrs. James Copland, 616 West Main, for her role as the sophisticated Celia Lathrop in the Plymouth Theatre Guild's upcoming production, "Any Number Can Die," to be presented May 11-13 in Plymouth Central Junior High. Mrs. Copland wore the gown for her wedding 43 years ago. Play ticket information is available by calling 455-3928.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

FIRST business ventures by young newcomers are providing new-and-varied shopping in downtown Northville.

Open house is planned this Sunday at The Northville Gallery, 142 North Center, by the young owners, Danielle Tarnowski and Donald Keyes. Since both have regular jobs, the gallery, at first, anyway, will be open weekends only. It will feature oil paintings, water colors, graphics and serigraphs.

There also will be "a lot of pottery" and work by local artists, according to Miss Tarnowski, a member of the Winkelman advertising staff in the Downtown-Detroit Woodward Avenue offices. She has been in her post two years since graduation from Tobe-Coburn school in New York.

Her partner, a Farmington high art teacher teacher, has his master's degree from Wayne State University. Both are enthusiastic about the new venture and hope to expand it to include handmade jewelry.

They're looking forward to getting acquainted with the community over refreshments at the open house from 1 to 5 p.m.

THE ATTIC at 107 East Main Street is up one flight and to the left. It, too, is a first-time business venture and features a boutique and jeans collection.

It has been open since mid-April from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and also has Friday evening hours until 9 p.m.

Mrs. Carole Fluegel of Farmington, a former legal secretary, usually is in The Attic and wearing the jeans and knit tops that the shop stocks. Her partner is Miss Catherine DiPierro, who is in public relations in Detroit.

Located across the hall from Dr. H.G. Godfrey's offices, The Attic is a bright, attractive shop with a large stock of jeans, shorts, belts, hats and purses.

The young women had leased the location since January, remodeled it with cedar shade "eaves" over clothing racks and attractive fitting rooms. They ordered their jeans and coordinates at a Cobo Hall show in January.

"We're carrying a stock in the moderate price range," says Mrs. Fluegel, pointing out Utopia San Francisco labels on knit tops, Love 'n Stuff and U.S. Male jeans.

AMERICAN Discount Center for drugs and vitamins opened downstairs at 105 East Main Street last week. A chain operation, the store features a wide range of cosmetics, drugs, vitamins and health preparations and candy.

Antiques will be stocked in the little shop at 135 East Main Street east of the P & A Theater. It presently is being painted by Mrs.

Helen Meisel's son. A Farmington resident, Mrs. Meisel is a well-known area antique dealer and for a short time was associated with Arlyn Reilly in Northville Antiques, the shop west of the theater.

THE CRICKET CAGE—about to open May 13 on U.S. 131 south of Petoskey—is the fledgling venture of a former Northville resident, Marion Crump. During the winter months Marion and her husband, Bill, have been overseeing construction of a miniature Connecticut barn-shop.

In addition to imports from such countries as Japan, Peru and India, shelves will be stocked with creative crafts of many area residents.

Norma (Mrs. Fred) Wagoner's paper tole, done in the original French way, will be on display, along with Northville High School art teacher Roy Pedersen's pottery.

Another former Northville resident, Pat (Mrs. Glenn) Jordan of Yardley, Pennsylvania, is sending original oil sketches.

FROM ESSEX, England, comes news of the William Slatterys. Now settled in their apartment on Vicarage Lane, Phyllis Slattery writes that she enjoys her almost daily walks into the town centre for her groceries as English gardens have been blooming for over a month. In addition to the William Davises, also on Ford assignment near London, Phyllis Slattery mentions that she has been in touch with Claire (Mrs. George) Adams, whose husband also is overseas with Ford. They formerly lived in Connemara.

The Slatterys "just missed" seeing the Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes who were in England recently. The Slatterys have been in Holland for the tulip festival and also have visited Portugal and the Canary Islands.

Also moving will be the Douglas Edwards family of 719 West Main Street. While he will be transferring to his firm's Chicago office in June, Mrs. Edwards and their children expect that they shall remain here until August as the home they are building in Naperville, Illinois, won't be completed until then.

MOTHERS' Club marathon bridge tournament is winding up its 1971-72 year. Mrs. Blake Couse, chairman, reminds players that, as always, all games must be played this month with scores to be turned in to scorekeepers by May 30. Winners in all leagues will be announced in June.

Election of officers will be held at the meeting of Mothers' Club at 8 p.m. Monday, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Halton Axtell, 19600 Beck Road. Final plans will be made for the club's one-day thrift-rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 13 at Northville Presbyterian Church.

J-Teen Meeting Set

Northville Jaycees are sponsoring a new organization for teenagers of the area called the J-Teens.

Purpose of the organization, according to sponsors, will be to promote a program of service to the community and schools and to provide leadership training and self-development for members.

First meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. this Friday, May 5, in the Northville City Hall council chambers.

Membership in the J-Teens is open to junior high and high school students from 13 through 17 years of age.

Through the program the Jaycees hope to "provide young people with the opportunity to work for positive social action and to develop and carry out worthwhile projects on behalf of their community and school."

Depending on student interest, the Jaycees suggest as possible projects for the community: River Rouge clean-up, drug abuse projects, Plymouth State Home, Northville State Hospital, government involvement at local, state and national levels.

Fund raising projects may include car washes, selling and the Jaycee haunted house. Social activities that have been proposed are treasure hunts, toboggan parties, dances and sports activities.

Extent of interest in the program by teenagers will be determined at Friday's meeting.

Announce Homes on Tour

Five homes that display collections and hobbies of their owners will be open September 28 on the sixth annual homes tour of the Northville First Presbyterian Church.

For the first time, Mrs. Kenneth Dodds, tour chairman, announces, homes on the tour will remain open until 7 p.m., at the request of many husbands.

Collections ranging from Mexican pottery and artifacts to samplers, antique lamps and clocks will be on display in the homes. Also featured will be hobbies including decoupage, reverse painting on glass, weaving and furniture refinishing.

In the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Fitch are displayed authentic Mexican arts gathered during 20 years of frequent visits to Mexico. Mrs. Dodds adds that both Dr. and Mrs. Fitch are skilled in many crafts that create fitting surroundings for their treasures.

Antique clocks and lamps grace the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wagoner on Old Bedford Road. Mrs. Wagoner will display examples of her view d'optique, decoupage, reverse painting and needlepoint for the tour.

The John H. Teeter home on Randolph Street in the historic section of Northville is a blend of collections and tools of a craftsman. Shaker furniture, antique samplers and a collection of clocks help to furnish a home "for people who have many interest, with potting and weaving among them," notes Mrs. Dodds.

The red house long has housed crafts interests and was open on the second tour sponsored by the Presbyterian women in 1968 when it belonged to Mrs. Kate Edgerton and her daughter Linda. When they moved east, it was purchased by the Teeters, who share many of their artistic interests.

The Walter Carter home in Connemara Subdivision is a contemporary "home base" for a young and active family. The Carters have remodeled the house and added a redwood deck and family room. Mrs. Dodds mentions that visitors to the home will gain many clever decorating ideas. Modern furnishings are the background for Mrs. Carter's oil paintings.

Final home on the tour is the dramatic residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wheaton in Edenderry that is the result of planning, unique ideas and talents.

Tour co-chairman Mrs. Fred Millard predicts that it will be the most successful of any to date as program information is being mailed to friends of the Presbyterian Women's Association in all areas surrounding the community. Funds raised this year are to be given equally to the Council for Community Concern which operates the UKAN counseling center in Northville, the Reverend George Jerome at Northville State Hospital, and Presbyterian missions afield. Mrs. Kenneth Goldi is treasurer for the tour.

Mrs. Philip Anderson is ticket chairman. Tickets again this year will be sold at Northville Presbyterian Church with tour-goers being provided directions for reaching the homes. Mrs. Per Iversen is preparing the program and map.

A bake sale booth will be set up at the church by women of Holy Cross Episcopal Church. St. Paul's Lutheran Church women again will serve luncheon at their church during the tour.

Head hostesses in each of the tour homes will be Mrs. Cass Hoffman, Mrs. Edwin Langtry, Mrs. Robert Bogart, Mrs. Halton Axtell and Mrs. Donald Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cowie will be hosting a dinner at the church that evening for the five home tour families.

Other chairmen are Mrs. Philip Ogilvie, street staging; Mrs. Charles Trombley, baby sitting service for tour workers; Mrs. Thomas Lawson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Seth Whitmarsh, out-of-town publicity.

News Around Northville

New members will be initiated and officers will be installed at the May meeting of Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society at 6 p.m. Monday, May 8, at Hillside Inn.

Officers for 1972-74 to be installed are Elosia Johnstone, president, Grace Pollock, first vice-president, Elizabeth Glenn, second vice-president, Kathryn Giltner, executive secretary; Louva Waterman, corresponding secretary.

The program topic—"Where Does Delta Kappa Gamma Spend its Money?" will be discussed by Ione Palmer, — Miss Pollock, Florence Keith and Ada Fritz.

Some 20 members of the Lyon's 4-H Club participated last week in the club's fourth annual clean-up project.

The youngsters spent several hours Friday, following school, picking up trash along Nine Mile Road between Napier and Currie roads.

Gardeners Set Annual Meet

Annual meeting of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, will be held at 12:30 p.m. Monday, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Keese, 47270 West Main Street.

Mrs. K.H. Babbitt is chairman of arrangements. Chairmen of the club's Christmas Walk will bring some of the handcraft projects to display.

Mrs. Paul Hughes is in charge of reservations for the Meadowbrook tour and luncheon June 19.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. William Switzer, who is concluding two years as president of the branch, will turn the gavel over to Mrs. Gene Cushing, who was elected president earlier this year.

Speaker Coming For Baptist Tea

Guest speaker at the annual mother-and-daughter tea at Novi First Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 12, will be Mrs. Marilyn Barnes, the wife of Paul Barnes, a former pastor of the church. She is coming from Normal, Illinois.

A graduate of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago and Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit, Mrs. Barnes grew up in the Detroit area. As a teenager she was an active soloist with Voice of Christian Youth. Still a talented musician, she now devotes much of her time and energy to speaking to women's groups.

For several years she has been conducting and instructing seminar workshops for women where she covers such topics as "Understanding Myself, My Husband and Children"; "Dealing with Teenage Rebellion"; "Overcoming Inferiority"; "What To Do About Communication Breakdown"; and "Helping My Husband Become the Man I'd Like Him to Be."

Mrs. Jeanette Schuermann, also from Normal, will provide special music. Mrs. Schuermann is the mother of a son and daughter and the wife of a sales representative for Nussbaum Trucking Company.

After voice training at Prairie Bible Institute in Three Hills, Alberta, Canada, and singing for two years on the Chapel Vision program on WRALL-TV from Peoria, Illinois, Mrs. Schuermann now limits her singing to local church and Christian Women's Clubs, and special programs.

The tea, with the theme, "Waters in the Well," is sponsored by the Vera Vaughn Missionary Circle. The public is invited. For information and reservations call 349-3477.

BOOKS GALORE—Busy sorting a few of the many cartons of used book bargains they will be selling May 11-13 at the 18th annual sale are Plymouth American Association of University Women members from Northville, Mrs. Norman Norgren, left, and Mrs. David VanHine. The sale will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. all three days at Wonderland Center.

AAUW Lists Dates For Used Book Sale

"A bookworm's dream come true" is the way members of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women describe their 18th annual used book sale being held May 11-13 at Wonderland Center.

More than 12,500 quality used books will be on display in the center's West Pavilion area all three days from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. Mrs. David VanHine, sale chairman and Northville resident, stresses that the sale will offer a good selection of books—priced at a fraction of their original cost.

There are books for every age and interest, she notes. First editions, paperbacks, quality magazines, sheet music and records will be on sale.

In especially ample supply this year, she adds, are cook books, self-improvement, sports hard-bound fiction and children's books.

"Michigan Books," a popular category introduced for the first time at last year's sale, again will offer books of particular historical interest to Detroit and suburban area residents.

A "True Adventure" category of biographical books of unique experiences will be available for the first time this year.

Rare books, signed and limited editions, and collector's items dating from the mid-1800's will be displayed on special tables and sold to the person submitting the highest written bids.

Proceeds from the sale will be donated by the Plymouth branch to the National AAUW Fellowship Fund, which awards annual stipends and grants to outstanding American and foreign women for doctoral study and post-doctoral research.

The group also sponsors two full-tuition scholarships for local women at Schoolcraft Community College and one scholarship through the University of Michigan Center for Continuing Education for a mature woman working toward an undergraduate degree.

Questers Adopt History Project

Compiling a factual history of Northville is the ambitious five-year project of the Northville-Novl area's four Questers antiques groups.

The project was adopted at a combined meeting of the antiques groups March 15. They hope to have it completed in 1977 to coincide with

Deadline Set

For Awards

Northville Town Hall, which annually shares a portion of its proceeds with worthwhile area organizations, is asking all groups who plan to request funds to send their letters to the town hall awards committee by May 31.

Requests should be sent to the attention of Mrs. Roy Mattison, Awards Committee, Northville Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, 48167.

Representing Northville on the committee are Mrs. Mattison, Mrs. H.F. Wagenschutz and Herman Moehlman, attorney. Mrs. Wagenschutz, 349-2976, may be contacted for more information.

Representing surrounding areas are Mrs. E.Q. Proctor, Farmington, 474-3698; Mrs. M.M. Hough, Plymouth, 453-2814, and Mrs. Robert Fox, Livonia, 474-1372. Since these areas have supported town hall since its inception, the committee explains, they also are eligible to share in its awards.

Northville's 150th anniversary.

Mrs. Milton Holstein, representing Silver Springs Questers on the planning committee, explains that she proposed the project as a result of research she did for a paper on area underground railroads of the Civil War period.

She pointed out that Farmington has a pictorial history and that Livonia and Plymouth also have histories. Working with her from their respective chapters are Mrs. Kenneth Pickl, Novi Toll Gate VI; Mrs. Stewart Oldford, Mead's Mill; Mrs. Thomas Lovett, Base Line. The committee will meet May 16 to make plans to present to the chapters at their final meetings of the year.

"We want to be a listener for everybody," Mrs. Holstein explains as the Questers seek the cooperation of area groups. She adds that the chapters hope to publish the history in book or pamphlet form for the city's anniversary.

Wixom Brothers Eye Bumper Crop

It was back in 1900 when the two brothers moved into the little frame house at the corner of Maple and Wixom Roads.

And it was that same year when they planted and raised their first garden on the half-acre plot that lies next to their home.

Today, 72 years later, Bill and Charlie Tiffen are still going strong. Charlie is now 93 years old, while brother Bill will celebrate his 104th birthday Friday.

Progress has been slow in overtaking the two brothers. They still pump their own water from a well in their front yard every morning and night, even though their home is lighted by electricity and a television for watching the Detroit Tiger's games sits in a corner of their tidy living room.

Still, the continuing trend of the population to the suburbs has not gone unnoticed by the brothers. "Across the road there was just one farm house when we moved here," said Charlie. "Now there are over 40 houses on that one little farm. We'll be right in the middle of the city if this sort of thing keeps on."

The garden, however, has remained pretty much unchanged over the years. "We'll have corn, carrots, beets, lettuce, potatoes, melons, and all that stuff," said Charlie. "Pretty much the same stuff we've always had."

Until recently the two grand old men of Wixom supported themselves solely with the money raised from their garden. Last month, however, they received their first social security check, thanks largely to the efforts of Wixom's Assistant to the Mayor William Travis. "It's not much," Travis admitted, "but together with their garden money they'll be a little more comfortable."

"You know, I think the garden grows just as well as it ever did," says Charlie. "We've been planting on this same piece of ground for 72 years without skipping and you'd think it would get worse, but it only gets better. The land is as rich as it ever was."

"It used to be real sandy out here," he continued. "But the dirt gets darker every year. We've raised some great crops in that soil."

His secret? "We plant a little rye in the fall and then plow it under in the spring. That's all."

"Experience," he says, "is the best factor"

Public Hearings Set

Subdivision Roads Face Resurfacing

Moving rapidly in hopes of persuading Novi's numerous subdivision residents to vote for a proposed one mill increase in taxes, the city council Monday heard a report from City Engineers Johnson and Anderson regarding the resurfacing of subdivision streets.

The report—merely a preliminary one at this point—will be the basis for discussion next week when the council holds a series of public hearings to begin the process for setting up a special assessment district to pay for the resurfacing.

The public hearings are slated for May 9, 10, and 11.

Both the council and the city engineers have moved quickly in setting up the hearings and preparing the necessary preliminary reports. Reason for the speed is the city's desire to make the subdivision residents aware of how passage of the millage will affect them.

"There's no doubt in my mind that the subdivision residents have the power to decide this election," Councilman Denis Berry had said at the council's April 17 session when it was decided to initiate a program to resurface the subdivision roads. "If we want the millage to pass," he continued, "we've got to give them something which will benefit them directly."

With the millage issue slated to appear on the May 16 ballot, the council had to move quickly to hold the public hearings before the election took place.

Subdivisions affected by the resurfacing are Meadowbrook Manor and Meadowbrook Manor Number One, Brookland Farms, Salow's Walnut Hill Number Two, Willowbrook Estates (north of 10 Mile Road), Willowbrook Estates Number Two, Willowbrook Estates Number Three, Connemara Hills and Connemara Hills Number One, Orchard Hills, and Echo Valley Estates.

Estimates for each subdivision are as follows:

- Meadowbrook Manor and Meadowbrook Manor Number One: As drainage appeared adequate, engineers recommended one and a half inch asphalt with placement of topsoil and seed on the shoulders. Based on an estimated footage of 4,300, the preliminary project cost is $6 per foot of road.

- Brookland Farms: Engineers advised that some minor ditching at the west end should be done and recommended resurfacing with one and a half inch asphalt with placement of topsoil and seed on the shoulders. Based on an estimated footage of 1,435, the preliminary project cost is $7.80 per foot of road.

- Salow's Walnut Hill Number Two: As only nominal ditching appeared necessary, city engineers recommended resurfacing with one and a half inches of asphalt and placement of appropriate shoulder material. Based on an estimated footage of 2,700, the preliminary project cost is $7.80 per foot of road.

- Willowbrook Estates (north of 10 Mile): With no drainage problems apparent, Johnson and Anderson recommended resurfacing with one and a half inches of asphalt and placement of appropriate shoulder material. Based on an estimated footage of 4,150, the preliminary project cost is $5.50 of road.

- Willowbrook Estates Number Two: Reporting that drainage was poor along LeBost Drive, engineers recommended resurfacing with two inch asphalt on all of LeBost and one and a half inches of asphalt on the remaining streets, as well as placement of appropriate shoulder material.

Based on an estimated footage of 9,900, the preliminary project cost is $9.40 per foot of road.

- Willowbrook Estates Number Three: Reporting that drainage seemed satisfactory, the engineers recommended resurfacing with one and a half inches of asphalt and placement of appropriate shoulder material. Based on the estimated footage of 6,630, the preliminary project cost is $5.50 per foot of road.

- Connemara Hills and Connemara Hills Number One: The high intensity of house construction made it impractical to assess the existing condition of the road surfaces and drainage,

Ask to Clarify Millage

Citing "obvious confusion" as to what the levying of an additional one mill will mean to Novi citizens, the Novi's Federation of Homeowners Association has asked for a clarification of the entire millage issue before the election takes place.

The millage question will be on the May 16 ballot.

In a letter to Mayor Joseph Crupi and the members of the city council, the Homeowners Association asked that the clarification be published and in its possession well before the millage election. Otherwise, they said, they will not be able to recommend any action on the election to the subdivisions they represent.

Specifically, the Association asked that the city council formulate and publish "the exact plan for using the proposed one mill" levy. The letter asked that special detail be given the following four questions:

- What main roads will be paved out of the one mill?
- Will the subdivision interior roads also be repaired out of the millage?
- Will the homeowners be assessed through a special assessment district over and above the one mill tax increase for the maintenance of the interior subdivision roads?
- If the homeowner is to be assessed, what ratio will the city pay as opposed to the amount the homeowner will pay?

The decision to ask for the clarification was arrived at during the April 20 session of the Homeowner's Association. The major topic of business at that meet, Association President Judson Goltra reported, was the proposed millage election.

The Association also asked for a formal resolution of the Novi council "earmarking" the funds for specific usage.

Discussion of the road millage led the Association to two related topics.

Representing Novi Heights subdivision, Frank Green suggested the Novi School Board help pay for the paving of Taft Road. He also proposed that bond issues, as opposed to a front foot assessment of abutting property owners, be used to finance the paving of all mile and section roads for which Novi has paving and maintenance responsibility.

Westridge Downs representative William Hall stated his subdivision would probably vote against the one mill tax levy as their roads are new and of concrete construction. He also cited taxes which are already excessively high as a reason for his opposition to the millage increase.

Goltra also commented about plans to pave Meadowbrook and Taft Roads with concrete. Although concrete roads may have a lower initial maintenance cost, he contended, when major repairs are needed costs are

Armed Robbery

Thieves Hit Pizzeria

They ordered pizza, but when the two men left Novi's Little Caesar's Pizzeria Sunday night, they took with them $295 from the cash register and left their pepperoni special simmering behind.

What's more, one of the thieves was brandishing a long-barreled, Western-style revolver, making the theft Novi's first armed robbery of the year.

Mrs. Marlene Zorbas, owner and manager of the pizzeria located at 41467 West Ten Mile Road, and two Novi High School boys, Stephen Pelchat and Robert Brown, recounted the incident to police.

She was behind the counter, Mrs. Zorbas, reported, when a young man came in at approximately 10 p.m. and ordered a large pizza. While she was in the kitchen area, a second young man came in through the rear door and ordered her at gun point to get into the pizzeria's large walk-in freezer.

While all this was going on, Pelchat, 18, had been in the bathroom changing clothes and getting ready to go home. Hearing the commotion, he came out into the kitchen area and was promptly confronted by the gunman who promptly suggested he join Mrs. Zorbas in the cooler. Pelchat promptly complied.

The two men proceeded to gather all the money from the cash register, a total of $295, and rip all five phones from the wall. They then made their get away through the rear door.

Shortly after the two thieves left, Brown, 17, returned, after having made a delivery, and immediately observed the phones dangling from the wall. Before he had time to enter the building Mrs. Zorbas and Pelchat came walking out of the freezer.

Novi police were called from a neighboring business and the case is currently under investigation.

The two robbers were described as being between 17 and 19 years of age with long dark, collar-length hair. Both were wearing jeans and dark clothing.

It was the second hold-up of a Novi business within the past month. On March 27, a lone man robbed the West Oakland Bank at the corner of Novi and Twelve Mile Roads. That man was later captured and is currently awaiting trial.

By Wixom Council

Ordinance Eyed

Such crimes as shoplifting, prostitution and larceny under $100 may soon be made illegal in Wixom if the city council adopts an ordinance to prohibit such "undesirable" behavior.

"Actually, these crimes are illegal now," reported City Attorney Gene Schnelz. "But they're illegal under state law. We have no local ordinance pertaining to such offenses as passing bad checks, public disorderliness, and prostitution."

The reason for the lack of a local ordinance, he explained, is that in the past it has always been easier and cheaper to handle minor felonies through the state ordinance. There is good reason now, Schnelz contended, why such an ordinance should be added to the city's list.

First of those reasons was the increase in police business. As the population in Wixom continues to grow, the minor offenses have become more and more frequent.

Secondly, such an ordinance would result in significant savings of money and man hours to the police department. Presently, if the city wants to arrest a suspect for shoplifting, for example, it is necessary to send an officer to Pontiac to secure warrant. If the new ordinance is adopted, however, police will be able to get that warrant locally.

"Basically, what this ordinance does," said Schnelz, "is make it a lot easier to operate a small city police department."

No action was taken on adopting the ordinance at last Tuesday's council meeting, however. Schnelz asked City Clerk June Buck to make copies of the proposed ordinance and distribute them to the councilmen. The matter will be brought up again for

Council Denies Racist Policy

Certain real estate agents have allegedly been telling prospective home buyers that no Negroes will be allowed in Novi and members of the city council are upset about it.

"It's come to my attention," said Councilman Denis Berry in introducing the topic, "that a real estate agent has been more or less indicating that the council is behind keeping a certain type of people out of Novi. Two buyers were told that we didn't allow blacks in the city, and when I say blacks I'm putting what they were told mildly."

"What can we do to protect ourselves from this type of thing," Berry asked City Attorney Howard Bond.

Other councilmen were quick to point out that no such policy, written or unwritten, exists.

"Our actions speak louder than words," contended Councilman Luioie Campbell. "Even at the time of the 'New Town' controversy, colored people were moving into Novi and no effort whatsoever was made to impede them."

When Berry asked about the advisability of a legal suit against the realtor in question, Bond advised against it.

"The council should not initiate any legal action on hearsay," said the Attorney. "If action is to be taken it should be done by the people to whom the statement was made."

The identity of the real estate agent who allegedly made the statements was not revealed.

VOLUNTEER HELP—Efforts of volunteer citizens paid off this week as the Open Door Clothing Center opened at Northville State Hospital. Volunteers, such as those shown here, have been washing, mending and ironing clothing donated for patient use. Assisting here are Mrs. Havery Tull, Mrs. Thomas Mallock, Mrs. Diana Redick, and Mrs. Warren Fittery.

At Hospital

Clothing Center Opens

A volunteer project, in the making for several months, became a reality this week with the formal opening of the Open Door Clothing Center at Northville State Hospital.

Sponsored by citizens from communities in the metropolitan area, including Northville and Novi, the center provides donated clothing for hospital patients.

"We're delighted with the response we've had from the community for volunteers," said Mrs. Josephine Zylinski and Mrs. Jennifer Bolenbaugh, two local women instrumental in originating the project.

Volunteers for the past several months, they explained, have been sorting, washing and ironing donated clothing that has now been hung in large quarters on the second floor of the hospital's main building.

The quarters have been furnished by the hospital, but the center itself is staffed and operated by volunteers.

Patients, accompanied by a member of the staff, may visit the center on any Tuesday or Thursday to select clothing they like. Clothing, hung by size, is available free.

"We think it is just great," a spokesman for the hospital pointed out, "not just because patients can obtain clothing but because of the center's therapeutic value. When a patient is involved in the decision process, such as picking out clothing, it is a direct benefit to his mental health."

According to Mrs. Zylinski, a growing number of volunteers are assisting in the project. Some of them, she said, are assisting by washing and ironing clothing in their own homes.

Still others are needed, however, especially to staff the center during the periods it is open to patients, she added. Interested persons may contact her at 349-6418.

Also needed, she pointed out, is furniture to be used in the waiting room of the center "to make the visit by patients as pleasant as possible."

Among the volunteers who have been assisting in the project are:

Mrs. Harvey Tull, Mrs. Thomas Mallock, Mrs. Isabelle, Mrs. Diana Redick, Mrs. Warren Fittery, Mrs. B. Fuertges, Mrs. Marian Pelt, Mrs. Joan Hoffman, Mrs. Carol Elliott, Mrs. Helma Rice and Mrs. Donna Kane.

This year's event will feature the Wayne State University Men's Glee Club, conducted by Harry M. Langford.

The program will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School Auditorium. Tickets are 75-cents for students, $1.50 for adults. They may be purchased from any club member or at the First Presbyterian Church office.

Annually, the glee club tours the Midwest as well as making numerous appearances at Detroit civic functions. It has been enthusiastically received by critics and the general public alike, both here and abroad.

During the Centennial year of the university, the glee club toured Europe capturing first prize in the Male Choirs Competition at the International Musical Eisteddfod in Llangollen, Wales in July, 1968 in competition with 16 other choirs from eight different countries.

Dr. Langford, the glee club conductor, has been with the glee club since 1945. He received his doctor of philosophy degree in music education in 1959 from Michigan State University.

In other business Schnelz informed the council he is preparing a contract for ambulance service between the City and General Ambulance Service.

Displeased with poor "response time" of Fleet Ambulance, Police Chief George VonBehren has been studying General Ambulance for the past month. General, he reported, has guaranteed an average monthly response time of eight minutes per call.

As the month's study period substantiated that claim, VonBehren asked for and received approval to enter into a contract with General for ambulance service.

Attorney Schnelz, however, objected to several provisions in the contract offered the city by General Ambulance and asked council for time to negotiate revisions before any contract is signed.

Memorial Fund Set For Former Student

An accident in Scottsdale, Arizona, took the life of a former Northville student, Kim Cramer, three months ago on January 28. Kim who was 9, was struck by a car after crossing in front of her stopped school bus near home, her father reports. Kim was killed instantly, he adds, writing to tell area friends that the Devereux Day School she attended as a learning disabled child has established a memorial scholarship fund as a tribute. The James P. Cramer family lived at 45055 Galway Drive until August 1970. Kim attended Amerman briefly and then Moraine Elementary. Her sisters, Debbie and Karen Cramer and Theresa, Naomi and Kathy Till, and brother, Vincent Till, also attended Northville schools.

The family moved to 11002 North 74th Street, Scottsdale. To make sure Kim "will always be remembered within the Devereux Schools" the fund has been established at the school for children described as having average intelligence who still have difficulty in learning in normal traditional ways because of such handicaps as perceptual disorders, minimal brain dysfunction, etc.

The school, certified by the state of Arizona to teach learning disabled children, has a ratio of no more than 10 children to a teacher. While on the subject of our extra special senior citizens, an invitation is extended to all of you by the Wixom Chamber of Commerce to attend a banquet in conjunction with Michigan Week. All Wixom senior citizens, aged 65 or over, are invited to the Vocational Education Center on May 23 (Heritage Day) at 5:30. You may phone your reservations to Lillian Spencer at 624-2655, Florence Coy at 624-1058 or to City Hall, 624-4557.

Juniors Claim Seven Awards

Seven awards, including recognition for its scholarship program, were claimed by the Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club at the Michigan Federation's annual state convention last week in Lansing.

Mrs. Dale Starr, president, and Mrs. Donald Baxter, who will be installed as president this month, both Northville residents, attended and accepted the awards.

Mrs. Baxter reports that the club scrapbook detailing the juniors' events during the past year and titled, "Thank Heaven for Little Girls," won first place among all scrapbooks entered by both junior and senior groups.

An installation dinner meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. May 15 at Masters Restaurant in Livonia.

Chamber Plans Banquet

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Isn't it amazing what a little rain will do to the countryside? After the watering Wixom got on Monday, the grass turned the lovely, yummy green that is Spring—it's a beautiful time of year!

For Bill Tiffin, it's a special time of year. On Friday, May 5, Bill celebrated his 104th birthday. That completely amazes me—he's one of a special few who even attain that mystical age of 100. He attributes his longevity to staying away from women—aw, c'mon now—and doesn't "drink, smoke or chew".

Brother Charlie says he just "can't catch up with Bill"—he turned 94 in March. Charlie bought the farm for $400 in 1895 and has lived there ever since. Bill moved in with him about 10 years back.

They're a hearty pair—still pump their water and use the privy out back, occupy their days tending the "farm" and selling the produce from it and listening to every Tiger baseball game broadcast. No "boob tube" for them. You might say it's just "good clean livin'".

Bill received birthday greetings from Governor Milliken and State Senator Pursell but he's not much for fanfare. A few years back it was determined that the Tiffin boys were the oldest Tiger fans and a regular "red carpet treatment" was arranged for them at Tiger Stadium. But the boys declined saying "they just couldn't take all that excitement".

There has always been some question about the ages of the Tiffin boys and Bill Travis at City Hall questioned whether the government was looking out for the men. Charlie loaned him the family Bible, the only place people had years back to record births, deaths and marriages. It was from that Bible the Social Security Administration officially determined that Bill was born, on May 5, 1868.

You might say that time sort of stands still at the corner of Wixom and Maple roads. Just think of the changes that have occurred during those lifetimes. I wonder if Bill views his birthday as something special or just another day. We're thinking of you—Extra special Happy Birthday greetings on your 104th.

While on the subject of our extra special senior citizens, an invitation is extended to all of you by the Wixom Chamber of Commerce to attend a banquet in conjunction with Michigan Week. All Wixom senior citizens, aged 65 or over, are invited to the Vocational Education Center on May 23 (Heritage Day) at 5:30. You may phone your reservations to Lillian Spencer at 624-2655, Florence Coy at 624-1058 or to City Hall, 624-4557.

May is a busy month. It includes the flurry of activity surrounding Michigan Week, the wind-up of the Wixom Identification Program, and a day you surely won't want to miss—Clean-up Day. In case it's slipped your mind, that special day to rid yourself of all your accumulated junk is this Saturday. And those trucks do seem to come around early so best put it out the night before. Besides, it gives people (like me) the opportunity to drive around town looking for "goodies". I've met some of the nicest people hovering over someone else's discards and it's really loads of fun. You'll just never know what you're going to find.

May also includes graduation ceremonies for the college crowd. I'm sure our list will grow by the end of the month. Our congratulations and best wishes to Ellen Simmons White along with hubby Walter who will both graduate from the University of Michigan this Saturday. Ellen, the daughter of Evelyn and Ozzie Simmons, will graduate with a degree in education while Walter will receive a B.A. in liberal arts. Also, to Lynn Aro, daughter of Bertha and Bruno Aro, who will receive her degree in education from Central Michigan University on May 13. Good Luck.

The last PTA meeting of the year was held at Wixom Elementary School Tuesday night with a student project night being featured.

New officers were also inducted into office by Councilman Val Vangieson. Bill Craig was installed as president with Karl Buttenmiller taking over duties as father vice-president, Nancy Dingledey as mother vice-president and Justine Hickman as the teacher vice-president. Eileen Hinton remains with the board as secretary, with Corb Tillman assuming duties as treasurer. Betty Taylor was installed as historian, Helen Tillman in publicity, Sally Zielinski in membership, Elizabeth Peck as health and safety Chairman and Jane Fitzgerald and Ethel Hough taking over in hospitality.

Proceeds from the PTA Fair held in conjunction with Youth Day of Michigan Week last year went into purchasing of new draw drapes for the stage at the school. They should be installed before the close of school.

Also honored at the meeting were Mrs. Elaine Fox and Mrs. Margaret Christianson. Mrs. Fox announced she had requested a one-year leave of absence from her duties as principal of Wixom School. Mrs. Christianson will be retiring from the school system at the close of this school year. She began her teaching career some 20 years ago, the last seven of them at Wixom Elementary as a first grade teacher. She is looking forward to being a "housewife", doing a little traveling and devoting time to sewing and reading but will remember and take with her many fond memories of her years in teaching.

Both ladies received corsages from the PTA and the good wishes of everyone. We wish them both well—they will be missed.

A group of 12 Wixomites including Martha and George Tuorin, Wilhelmina and Ray Lahti, Ev and Ozzie Simmons, Elma and Paul Salo, Marion and Ken Lehman and Jane and Ollie Wahamaki drove to Vermontville, Michigan last Saturday for the Maple Sugar Festival.

They really went to see how maple syrup was made, or as it was so aptly stated the "sap to syrup business" but were somewhat disappointed because they really didn't learn much. There was one building where the syrup was being boiled down but was about all. The rest they learned from little brochures picked up along the way.

They chose that menu because of the timing—not because they particularly relished eating pancakes.

One gal mentioned she wouldn't walk from her own bedroom to the kitchen to get a pancake. So the day went. How else can you find out what's going on in Michigan than to go to these various events. Like they said, it's a great day for the kids. So for those of you who relish pancakes, loves, parades and don't care too much for how syrup is made, chalk it up on the calendar next year.

A nationally known folk song team will be performing in concert at the Walled Lake United Methodist Church on Friday, May 12 at 7:30. "Dust and Ashes", the team of Tom Page and Jim Sloan have been traveling nationwide with their exciting style of folk music ministry since 1963 and are frequent performers at college campuses across the country.

Center Speeds Delivery

Northville Post Office became part of area mail processing, one of the newest innovations of the U.S. Postal Service, on May 1, Postmaster John Steimel announced.

"The program is intended to speed the ultimate delivery of the mail and to gain maximum efficiency through full utilization of Central Mail Processing Centers", Steimel said.

The Dearborn Post Office,

Steimel pointed out, is a facility serving 49 associate post offices in Michigan.

Area mail processing is a plan whereby eventually all mail originating at these offices will be consolidated at the central facility for complete preparation and processing for outgoing dispatch.

All mail deposited in street letter boxes designated for the deposit of mail for local delivery only, and all mail deposited in a receptacle in the local post office which is designated for the deposit of mail for local delivery only, will be postmarked with the postmark of the local post office.

Mail for local delivery will be processed in that office.

The outgoing mail with local postmark will be dispatched to the Area Mail Processing Center for distribution.

All mail deposited into Northville street boxes, which have not been designated for local deposit, or into the "Out-Of-Town" letter drops at the selected associate offices will be transferred to the SCF for processing, and will bear the postmark designated for the Detroit or Royal Oak SCF Area, as appropriate.

Area mail processing will be applicable primarily to that mail, originating at post offices within the SCF area, which is destined for delivery outside of the city of origin, in this case Northville.

The Sectional Center Facility Area postmark will read, "U.S. Postal Service, MI 481" along with the date and AM-PM designation. The city postmark of Northville, Detroit and each individual associate office will not be changed.

Steimel urged that customers should no longer use the word "City" on mail addressed for local delivery, but spell out the name and add the ZIP CODE.

Killed by Car

the youth run behind his car and into the path of the vehicle driven by Smith.

Smith told police the northbound car blocked his view of the youth and, when the car passed, the youth was in front of his car and he could not avoid hitting him.

Police said 110 feet of skid marks were found at the scene.

Officers at the scene administered mouth to mouth resuscitation and cardiac massage to the boy. A nurse who lives in nearby apartments also aided police efforts to save the boy.

He was taken from the scene by police car and transferred to an ambulance at Eight Mile and Haggerty roads which transported him to Botsford Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

David, who was in the third grade at Amerman Elementary, was described by his teachers and principal as "a very likeable boy - very energetic and bright."

His death is the second to occur on Novi road south of Allen Drive. About eight years ago, another boy was killed crossing the street.

Earlier in April, an 11-year-old girl was injured in the same area when struck by a car.

Lieutenant Louis Westfall, head of the city's traffic division, said 18 accidents have been recorded in the last two years on Novi Road near the bridge.

He reminded children that "if it is necessary to cross Novi Road, cross it with extreme caution at Allen Drive, where visibility is better, and look both ways. Parents should encourage their children not to play at that location near the creek. Traffic on Novi Road is very heavy at all times during the day."

City officials have requested a meeting with the Oakland County Road Commission to discuss possible ways of correcting the traffic problems in the Novi Road - Allen Drive area.

Police Blotter

Driver Hurt in Car-Train Crash

In Novi

John Federsky, an Oak Park man, suffered facial lacerations and possible internal injuries when his car collided with a train at the railroad crossing on 10 Mile Road.

The accident occurred Sunday, April 30, at approximately 5:30 p.m.

According to police, the accident occurred when Federsky failed to heed the crossing signal. Witnesses told police that Federsky was travelling east bound on 10 Mile Road and did not observe the signal in time to stop clear of the crossing.

His brakes locked and his car skidded approximately 75 feet before striking the train, just behind the engine, sideways. The train was travelling at roughly 50 miles per hour at the time of the impact, the engineer told police.

Federsky was transported to Botsford Hospital to be treated for facial lacerations and reported inability to catch his breath. He was issued a citation by officers for failing to heed a red blinking railroad crossing signal.

Patrick Michael Collins has been arrested on charges of driving under the influence of liquor. The Dearborn man was stopped by police Friday, April 28, at approximately 2:30 a.m. He was released on $50 bond.

Charges of driving under the influence of drugs have been brought against 33-year-old Kenneth Myles McNamee of Southfield, and Len Robert Danielson, 32, of Bloomfield Hills has been arrested on charges of possession of barbituates and/or dangerous drugs.

Both arrests stem from the same incident.

On Sunday, April 23, police stopped a vehicle driven by McNamee for erratic driving. As the driver reportedly appeared glassy-eyed, but did not smell of liquor, he was taken to Botsford Hospital for a blood test to determine if narcotics were present in the blood stream. McNamee was then lodged in the Oakland County Jail.

Danielson, a passenger in the McNamee car, was arrested when a tin canister containing some 63 pills fell from his jacket pocket as he removed a camera to take a picture of the violation being issued to McNamee.

The capsules were tentatively identified by Corporal Robert Starnes as barbituates, sleeping pills, and suspected LSD.

Danielson was taken into custody and lodged in the Oakland County Jail.

A Walled Lake man, Zack Fox, reported the theft of his car from the East Shore Bar parking lot last week.

Fox told investigating officers that he had left the vehicle unlocked and with the ignition in the open position thus making it possible to start the engine without a key.

The theft occurred some time between 11 p.m. April 26 and 1:30 a.m. the following day.

Police believe that arson may have been involved in a fire which destroyed part of a two-story wood frame house at 1225 East Lake Drive last week.

According to officers at the scene, the fire appeared to have been set at the base of a closed stairway and then spread to the second floor of the abandoned building. Because of the location in which the fire was started, it was difficult to detect until it was well underway.

Under investigation is a breaking and entering of the new Novi Fire Hall on 13 Mile Road.

Police responded to an open alarm and found the front door of the fire hall unlocked, but with no one around. Everything appeared in order, police said, and nothing had been disturbed.

In Township

Township police are investigating a break-in and theft at the Standard Oil gas station, 47407 West Seven Mile Road.

Taken were a radio, tires, wheels, battery charger, tool box and tools valued at more than $1,080.

According to reports, unknown persons broke a window to gain entry to the station sometime between 9 p.m. last Thursday and 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Police Chief Ron Nisun said this week vehicles illegally parked and obstructing traffic in the township will be towed away.

He noted that several vehicles in the area of Maybury were towed over the weekend, with towing costs charged to the drivers. Previously, the cars had been issued parking violations.

Two juvenile boys from Northville township and a 12-year-old girl from Detroit were questioned by police Friday in connection with throwing rocks at trains.

The incident occurred near the railroad tracks on Mill and Five Mile Road. Police said similar incidents have taken place in the past and windows have also been broken at the Haller building in the area.

A 20-year-old Plymouth youth was hospitalized Monday afternoon suffering from what township police said was a drug overdose.

Police said Michael B. Perron wandered into Kings Mill, creating a disturbance, and stripped down to his tee shirt.

Quantities of suspected narcotics found on the youth have been taken to the Michigan State Police crime lab for analysis. Perron has been charged with disorderly conduct.

In Northville

Charges of resisting arrest and drunkenness have been filed against David L. Luedtke, 26, of Plymouth in connection with an incident shortly after 7:30 p.m. last Thursday on Eight Mile Road near Randolph Street.

City police received a report that Luedtke and Thomas J. Roe, 26, of Garden City, who also was charged with being drunk, were causing a disturbance near the Methodist church. The men told police they could not get their truck started.

Investigating officers reported both men had a strong odor of intoxicants on their breath. When they attempted to arrest Luedtke, he tried to strike one officer and kick two others.

Police said he had to be forcibly put into the squad car and carried into the station. Both men will face charges in 35th District Court May 9.

Vandals broke a plate glass window at Northville Camera Shop valued at more than $100.

Police answered the burglary alarm last Thursday at 4:20 a.m. set off by the broken window but said no one was found at the scene. Nothing was reported missing.

City police are investigating an attempted larceny from a truck which occurred over the weekend at G. E. Miller Dodge, 127 Hutton Street.

According to reports, unknown persons removed a battery from the truck but left it behind the rear tire of the vehicle along with a wrench believed used in removing the battery.

The battery was removed between 6 p.m. Friday and 6:30 a.m. Saturday.

Broken windows were reported over the weekend at State Farm Insurance, 115 West Main Street, and Ritchie Brothers' Laundry, 331 North Center Street.

A go kart stolen April 18 from a garage on North Center Street was recovered this week in a field in the area of Nine Mile and Novi roads. A 17-year-old Northville youth and one juvenile have been charged with breaking and entering in connection with the theft of the go kart and a mini-bike. Three other juveniles have been issued warnings, police said, because it was their first offense.

A 10-speed gold Schwinn bike was stolen from a garage at 589 Langfield. The theft occurred between 8 p.m. April 25 and 7:30 a.m. April 26.

Charges of loitering against two youths were nolle prosequi, meaning no further action will be taken in the case.

The youths are Gary J. Jaskolski of Farmington and Richard R. Stewart, both arrested February 27 by city police.

Cases against three men were closed following presentence investigations. All pled guilty to added counts of driving while ability impaired. Charged by city police with drunken driving, the charges were dismissed after they pled guilty to the added count.

In Wixom

Patricia Ann Mitchell, an Ypsilanti woman, was assaulted and robbed on the I-96 expressway early Sunday morning, April 23, police reported.

Mrs. Mitchell told police who was driving east on the expressway when her car overheated, forcing her to drive to the shoulder and stop. While examining her engine, a second car stopped at the scene and a white male got out and approached on foot.

When she declined his offer of assistance the man hit her over the head, knocking her to the ground, and then went to her car and took $10 from her purse.

Mrs. Mitchell was picked up by a passing motorist and taken to the Union 76 station at the corner of I-96 and Wixom Road where police were notified. She was taken to Botsford Hospital and treated for lacerations to the head and released.

Police are investigating a breaking and entering of a cottage at the Finn Camp on the west side of Loon Lake.

According to police reports, entry to the cabin had been made by prying off a wooden window shutter and then breaking out the glass in the front window.

The stove had apparently been cooked on and the bed showed signs of use. All the drawers and containers in the building has been rifled, but nothing was reported stolen, police said.

Paul Daniel Wholihan of 21344 Seminole reported a larceny from his automobile last week.

Wholihan told police a tape deck and 33 stereo tapes had been taken from his car while it was parked in the Ford's Wixom Assembly Plant's parking lot between 4:45 p.m. April 20 and 1:45 a.m. the following day.

Value of the tape deck was $100, while the tapes were valued at $180.

AFRICAN HUNTER—Charles Bazy, who will tell of his safaris at the May 11 meeting of Northville Presbyterian Men's Club, poses with a game trophy.

Safari Planned By Men's Club

Since Charles Bazy took his initial safari to Africa in 1953, he has returned 15 times. He will tell of his adventures in "African Safari" at the May dinner meeting of Northville Presbyterian Men's Club at 6:30 p.m. next Thursday, May 11, at the church.

On his first trip he hunted for three weeks in the northern area of Tanzania where he shot elephant, rhino and a large variety of plains game.

He cites an old Arab proverb, "Those who drink the waters of Africa will return to drink again," which proved true for him as he since has hunted in Kenya, Uganda, Sudan, Botswana and South Africa.

He also has hunted twice in India and once in Nepal.

In 1961 he conducted a safari in the Southern Sudan where he fulfilled the game department requirements of Africa and was licensed as a professional hunter. He builds his own rifles, loads ammunition and photographs the game.

An avid photographer, he recently returned from a safari in East Africa where he filmed game in the Murchison Falls Park in Uganda and the Samburu, Amboseli and Tsavo Parks in Kenya.

He will be introduced by men's club member, I.M. McLeod, Jr., who is associated with him at Ford Motor Company.

Dinner reservations for the program should be made by next Tuesday with the church office, 349-0911. All men of the community interested in the program are invited to attend.

Man Takes Own Life

A 70-year-old Northville township man died Sunday of what police believe was a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Dead is Irven C. Miller of 47843 West Seven Mile Road.

Township police reports said Mr. Miller was found Sunday afternoon lying on his back in the front seat of his car with the passenger door open. The car was parked on Six Mile Road west of Beck.

He had been shot in the mouth.

A .38 caliber revolver found clutched in his hands was taken to Michigan State Police crime lab for analysis.

Police said Mr. Miller was last seen alive by his son at about 10 a.m. Sunday when he left home.

Several persons told police they had observed the car on Six Mile Road late Sunday morning with a man lying on the front seat and the door open but did not stop to investigate.

A Salem man returning from Detroit stopped at the car about 12:30 p.m., found Mr. Miller shot and called police.

Mr. Miller owned and operated Irv's Barber Shop on West Main Street until about a year ago.

Accidents Drop

Accident rate through the first three months of 1972 is down by 16 percent compared with the first three months of 1971.

A total of 65 accidents occurred in 1972, down from the 77 reported through March, 1971, according to figures released by the city police department's traffic bureau.

Injured in the accidents have been 29 persons, up from the 18 injured last year.

During March, 18 accidents were reported, 11 two-car accidents, one pedestrian and six parking lot accidents.

Police issued 158 moving, 218 non-hazardous and 370 parking violations during March, 1972. During March, 1971, 165 moving, 260 non-hazardous and 375 parking violations were written.

Hazardous moving violations include speeding, 96, disobey traffic signal, 13, improper passing, two, improper lane usage, one, disobey stop sign, eight, improper turn, 21; driving without due care, two;

following too closely, accident, five; drunken driving, seven; and other hazardous violations, three.

Non-hazardous violations included defective equipment, 26, no operator's license, 16; improper license plates, one; no vehicle registration on person, five, and other violations, 12.

In the opinions of 300 viewers the most violent series on television are THE MOD SQUAD, MANNIX, MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE, and IT TAKES A THIEF in that order. The three hundred were telephoned by two Michigan State University researchers. These people also telephoned critics and for the most part the critics agreed with the viewers. Other findings: critics are more aware of violence than the average watcher is. Violent programs are watched more by younger viewers than by older ones and more by men than by women.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

There are 57 miles of unimproved, dirt roads in the city of Novi that have been classified by the State Highway Department as among the worst in the state insofar as condition is concerned.

A troubled city council, already short of operating funds and facing higher and higher expenses as road maintenance costs continue to mount, appointed a citizens' committee to study the problem and make recommendations for improvements.

The 13-member committee presented its final report to the council last November.

And on May 16 the presidential primary election ballot will contain a proposal for a one-mill levy earmarked solely for road maintenance and improvement.

The proposal is merely one portion of the total recommendation, which amounts to a realization that if Novi doesn't embark upon concentrated road program soon it may find the problem economically insurmountable.

Committee members know that the one mill will not pave Novi's dirt roads. But the $70,000 (which will grow as new development increases the city's valuation, and now amounts to about $13 annually to the average homeowner) will provide the money necessary to halt the deterioration and control the skyrocketing maintenance expenses.

Raps Novi Assessment

To the Editor:
I'm sure we are going to be taxed and assessed out of Novi before it ever grows into a great shopping and residential district.

The letter for assessment for two-inch blacktop flooded me. I called city hall and found it would be 5 to 10 dollars per frontage foot to have this done. Our lot would be about one thousand dollars. It appears to be that to be able to afford a dwelling for your family the only thing to do is pitch a large tent on a lot owned by someone else!

There are a lot of nice people in Novi, but with taxes and assessments rising, there will probably be a lot of nice people moving farther out to undeveloped areas to beat costs.

Yet we bicker and fight when anyone mentions support the local police, support drug abuse committee etc.

Sincerely
Carol Mason
23983 LeBost

The one-mill levy would not, for example, eliminate the need for special assessments to be levied against properties abutting the streets slated for paving.

But the one-mill would be a finger in the dike; and it could become a source for future funds that would assure attention to repairs that are needed to prevent further road damage and motorist aggravation.

Novi's problem is one not unfamiliar to many communities undergoing rural-to-urban change.

Country roads that once carried as many horse-drawn wagons as cars are suddenly transporting hundreds of cars, trucks, school buses and service vehicles (police, fire, etc.) per day.

More traffic means deeper potholes; it also means a greater need for maintenance, which becomes more costly and more difficult and hazardous to perform as graders and motorists combine to create a sadly-humorous picture of futility.

The concrete paving of 1.3 miles of Taft road (between Ten Mile and Grand River) and one mile of Meadowbrook road (between Nine and Ten Mile roads) is a "Phase One" recommendation of the Novi Road Improvement Committee.

Actually, this has little to do with the one-mill levy proposal. These roads carry the biggest bulk of Novi's dirt road traffic. Their improvement will account for estimated savings of $10,000 annually in maintenance costs—not to mention savings to be realized by owners of cars (including the city's vehicles) traveling the roads.

Phase Two would tackle portions of Beck, Taft, Nine Mile, West and Meadowbrook roads.

Phase One will cost more than $600,000, part of which can be financed through state funds. Special assessments and existing road monies will pay the balance.

But the first hurdle in a series of many facing Novi is the one that enables the city to stop moving backwards in its maintenance fight with roads.

And the proposed one-mill levy represents this start.

It's money that will stand apart and accountable to community taxpayers—money that must be used for roads alone.

It's a bold and unique proposal; one that the city council has unanimously endorsed and one that should be supported by reasonable Novi citizens who recognize that further delay can only mean further aggravation and expense.

A "YES" vote Tuesday, May 16 on the request for one mill for Novi roads should be given voter support.

GEORGE MCGOVERN

McGovern . . .

Some act as if the survival of the American way of life turned on whether or not some of our children will be bused to integrated schools.

That, I submit, is a sorry spectacle to present to the American people in 1972.

These (antibusing) proposals respond to no national revulsion against busing. The school bus is not public enemy No. 1.

Certainly it is an inconvenience to have to ride a bus to school, rather than to have the school within walking distance. No one disputes that.

But about 65 percent of the school children in this country ride buses and other vehicles to school every day, simply because school is too far away to walk. Such busing has nothing to do with race.

And there is, of course, no amendment to prohibit busing of that kind.

Nor are these amendments directed against all racially motivated busing.

In fact the school bus has been used for decades as a vehicle to affect the racial makeup of schools. It has been used to bus white children past black schools and black children past white schools, and to keep black and white children apart.

And these amendments are not designed to prevent unreasonable or excessive busing. In fact, in some instances they will likely preserve such busing.

The Supreme Court decision which inspired much of today's controversy, for example, involved a situation where some 26,500 pupils were being bused for an average one-way trip of a full hour, for the purpose of maintaining a Busing to Achieve Racial Balance?

RICHARD NIXON

Nixon . . .

I am opposed to busing for the purpose of achieving racial balance in our schools. I have spoken out against busing scores of times over many years.

And I believe most Americans, white and black, share that view.

The purpose of such busing is to help end segregation. But experience in case after case has shown that busing is a bad means to a good end. The frank recognition of that fact does not reduce our commitment to desegregation—it simply tells us that we have to come up with a better means to that good end.

The great majority of Americans, white and black, feel strongly that the busing of school children away from their own neighborhoods for the purpose of achieving racial balance is wrong.

But the great majority, black and white, also are determined that the process of desegregation must go forward until the goal of genuinely equal educational opportunity is achieved.

One emotional undercurrent that has done much to make this issue so difficult is the feeling that some people have that to oppose busing is to be anti-black. This is dangerous nonsense.

There is no escaping the fact that some people do oppose busing because of racial prejudice. But to go on from this to conclude that "anti busing" is simply a code word for prejudice is a vicious libel on millions of concerned parents who oppose busing not because they are against desegregation, but because they are for better education of their children. They want their children educated in their own neighborhoods.

Urges Second Millage Vote

To the Editor:

Having attended the April 24 meeting of the Board of Education, I would like to make the following comments:

1. The Board is deadly serious about cutting a number of high school programs including all varsity sports, and other extra-curricular activities, class hours would be affected, and drastic adjustments in transportation and the school lunch programs will be made. These cuts would be effective for the 1972-73 school year starting in September.

2. In spite of concerns expressed by many attending the meeting, it is apparent that the only real method of avoiding these cuts is another millage election as soon as possible to permit voters to express themselves now that the full scope of the budget cuts is known.

Why another vote, when the first one was so decisive against the 1.5 millage increase?

Three reasons: First, school boards, and other governmental bodies have cried "Wolf!" so often about what drastic actions would have to be taken if millages were not passed that many voters now do not take their warnings seriously. Hence, they neglect to express themselves and leave the decisions to the negative thinkers who miss no opportunity to say "No!"

Second, the entire school picture is so muddled by the continuing controversies on busing, year-around school, and education reform that voters are thoroughly confused about the issues and so choose to be negative or do nothing.

Third, a millage election is one of the very few opportunities that tax payers have of expressing their thorough disgust with anything governmental.

There is an unmistakable revolt against higher taxes, unresponsive government, and bureaucratic waste and this "no" vote is a tangible means voters have of expressing their feeling

Now that the full scope of the cuts has been revealed, I would ask that voters be given a chance to once again express themselves. I cannot believe that Northville voters will allow their high school to become second rate. And make no mistake, these cuts go far beyond football, basketball, and other sports. They also will involve class hours and scholastic standards.

Many people say they moved to Northville so their children could enjoy superior education facilities. Are they going to allow these standards to be lowered by refusing to pay another 1.5 mills in school support? I think the parents of Northville have more pride and concern than that.

Sincerely,
Don Sherman

Dislikes Editorial

To the Editor:

If Mr. Sliger's recent editorial, lashing out at "jocks", parents of jocks and coaches of jocks, was meant to be tongue-in-cheek Archie Bunker treatment it sadly missed its mark. Perhaps our publisher should take a few lessons from Bunker's writers. If not, he should stifle it. Good satire is meant to be corrective and requires great talent.

This editorial was not only unproductive (beneath the responsible tradition of a newspaper publisher), it was counter-productive. And by that I mean simply this, Mr. Sliger: My being the parent of a jock does not mean that I am no less interested in students involved in extra-curricular activities other than sports, or the basic academic program. The fact that there was a large attendance of "jocks" and their parents at the recent school board meeting does not mean that their athletic mentality was confined to saving sports and disregarding other aspects of education. There are probably some jocks who actually engage in other extracurricular activities, difficult though that may be.

And imagine a coach, a has-been jock no doubt, caring enough about his responsibility to his job and our kids to alert the press that a particularly important event was about to occur in town. My God, I considered calling you myself that day, and I've lived here long enough to know that the Record routinely covers these meetings. The coach is relatively new in town. Perhaps he just hasn't had time to catch on to all of the in-ways.

You can't discount human nature. Well, of course you can, and so can those few who liked your editorial. Could

Many have invested their life's savings in a home in a neighborhood they chose because it had good schools. They do not want their children bused across the city to an inferior school just to meet some social planner's concept of what is considered to be correct racial balance—or what is called "progressive" social policy.

There are right reasons for opposing busing, and there are wrong reasons—and most people, including large and increasing numbers of black, oppose it for reasons that have little or nothing to do with race. It would compound an injustice to persist in massive busing simply because some people oppose it for the wrong reasons.

There is another element to consider and this is the most important one of all. That is the human element which I see reflected in thousands of letters I have received in my mail from worried parents all over the country, North, East, West and South.

All of these individual human wrongs add up to a deeply felt and growing frustration. There are wrongs that can be and must be set right.

... The way we handle this difficult issue is a supreme test of the character, the responsibility and the decency of the American people.

Let us handle it in a way we can be proud of—by uniting behind a program which will make it possible for all the children in this great and good country of ours to receive a better education and to enjoy a better life.

dual school system. Now under the decision in the Swann against Charlotte-Mecklenburg case, the average bus ride has been cut in half.

With few exceptions that has been the experience throughout the South. Desegregation, accomplished in part by busing, has been accompanied by reductions in the average distances children must travel to school.

What the court has said, in effect, is that where there have been deliberate official efforts to maintain segregated schools, and where other methods are insufficient to remedy those wrongs, then busing will be used—but only if it is not harmful to health or to the educational process.

It is clear that excessive or unreasonable busing is not a question which is before either the Congress or the American people.

Rather we are considering whether reasonable incremental busing can be used, when other remedies fail, as a means of fulfilling our 18-year-old commitment to integrated schools.

We must consider that question in the recognition that without busing as a tool, desegregation will probably stop dead in its tracks.

What is before the Congress is whether we want to return to the undemocratic dual school system, or move ahead to a society where our children see each other as equals and where there is quality education for all.

Regardless of how they are described, regardless of misleading titles and confusing rhetoric, the amendments now before the Senate are proposals to deny black children the chance for equal educational opportunity. They are proposals to deprive black children of the right to develop their full potential as human beings. That is the inevitable result of these amendments.

'No' Vote Angers Youth

To the Editor:

I would now like to take this time and space to thank all you voters who have helped make my senior year one of the worst Northville will ever see.

Because many people can't seem to see beyond their noses, the possibility of no extra-curricular activities, larger class sizes, no sixth hour, less teachers, and an all round lower level of education is very real.

I can't tell you how many times I have heard people say that kids waste their time. Now the voters are responsible for cutting sports, which involve hundreds of students, plays, the musicals involve two hundred students for almost one semester, year books, band, and newspapers. Many of these programs keep them from turning to drugs and many other things.

So what have the voters of-Northville done? They have decided to do away with some of the few activities we can put our efforts into.

Now that Mr. Hoffman and a growing number of people have come out against senior trips, and the voters have destroyed our extra curricular activities, can you tell us what else you can do to make our senior year miserable? Maybe the state can outlaw Senior Proms. How about sixth hours, if a student wants to spend a full day in school, why should he waste an hour in town? Some of us would still like to enjoy a good education.

However, the school board is not to be blamed for this mess. The simple fact remains that without money, the school board has to cut something. It's fine to say cut the extra curricular program, but it could be beyond that. With everybody in the high school limited to five classes, the board could cut the number of classes offered and the number of teachers, and thus increase the class load and lower the quality of education in the schools.

What I really want to do is this: I want to ask you, the voter, for the money. The schools need money, and the only thing that will get it for us is a petition for a new election. I wish for a few minutes people would put down their fears of busing and look at the whole picture.

First, the millage has only been asked for one year, and the chances of busing next year are almost impossible. Second, defeating a millage won't stop busing anyway. And third, what have you accomplished by lowering the standard of education for us? Will the defeat of the millage solve all of our real problems?

It's funny how two-faced we all are. We claim that in order to keep our kids off school buses that we will raise education by doing so, we defeat millages and thus really lower education levels. We say by an overwhelming majority that we cannot tolerate year-round school, and we then turn around and defeat a school bond proposal. Ray Spear is not forcing year round school down our throats, but we are!

So I ask you, the voter, to petition for us, the students, for a new election. I then ask you to pass the millage. For without your help, the next school year could be hell for a whole lot of people. Once again, please?

Christopher Johnson

Opposes Busing

To the Editor:

Cross district busing has become one of the leading current issues in our state and elsewhere. As a parent and candidate for the Northville Board of Education, I must express my complete opposition to busing our children to the inner city for whatever purpose.

Busing to a low standard area reduces the quality of education. Our children should never be forced to attend school where the teaching methods and equipment are substandard.

Busing also violates the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Some children will be bused greater distances than others, as would be true of Northville students. This denies equal protection of the law and violates the basic principles upon which our Constitution was established.

you, however, conceivably agree that these are very difficult and complicated times, that parents and jocks and coaches are not the natural enemy of the state, the local newspaper or the academic world?

Can you rise above your boredom and concede that millage problems don't fall into the ho-hum category, that they are fact of life and that sports, among all the other things, are not merely "Extra-curricular Activities", rather, they are an integral part of education, of education by association, and, in many, many cases, make the difference for the individual student involved, in having a meaningful high school experience, vital to the future of that student? And I am not referring to scholarships, I am specifically referring to total motivation in the academic area.

If there is a solution to this problem, and it is imperative that there must be, it is that everyone must work together to continue re-examining the budget and perhaps doing some rearranging, to petition for a new millage election as soon as possible, to work for that millage and to pass it.

This can't be done with anything less than community-united enthusiasm, which leaves no room for sarcasm or boredom. Or irresponsibility in the field of journalism.

Sincerely,
Mother of a Jock

It's not applying for the mortgage that gets you. It's waiting for it to come through.

If you've ever bought a home, you know you can expect some time to pass between the time you apply for a mortgage loan. And the time you get it. Weeks on end is not uncommon.

At NBD, we've regularly been approving mortgage loans in as little as 10 days.

Which means that, when you get your mortgage loan from NBD, you can be sure that the time between the day you find your new home, and the day you move in, will be as short as possible.

Another thing you'll appreciate about an NBD mortgage is the cost. It's not uncommon for us to save you $100 and more in closing costs, for example.

If you'd like more information, stop in and pick up our booklet "Buying and Financing Your Home."

It answers just about any question you might have.

And also gives you several more good reasons why we at NBD make more mortgage loans than any other bank in town.

Bat Girl

Pretty Barb Krezel is enough to make any red-blooded American boy clamor to sit on the bench. Barb, along with Cheryl McMillan, have been put to work as "bat girls" for the Novi High School baseball team by Coach Rick Trudeau. Clad in green and white (official school colors) "hot pants," the two Novi cheerleaders also play an important psychological role in Trudeau's game plan — they tend to hinder the concentration of the Wildcats' opponents.

Cellar Dwellers Foil Novi

It was one of those miserable weeks for the Novi baseball team.

Nothing seemed to go right.

When they were hitting, the other team hit better. And when they got a good performance from one of their pitchers, their opponents got an even better job from their hurler. And then there were the errors.

The aftermath of the week's play was a single victory in four games. More importantly, two of the Wildcat's three losses were to Southeastern Conference opponents, as they saw their league mark fall from a promising 2-1 to a mediocre 2-3.

"You can't win championships with a record like that," said Coach Rick Trudeau, who had held none-too-secret hopes that his squad could challenge for the league crown. "I thought we were on our way after we knocked off Chelsea last week, but I guess I was wrong. We can't get up for the weaker teams. Two of our losses were to teams that were in last place at the end of last week," he added, referring to South Lyon and Saline.

Novi lost to the Hornets 2-0 Tuesday, dropped a 7-3 decision to Dundee Thursday, and then split a double-header in non-league competition with Willow Run Saturday, losing the first game 6-1 and then coming back to take the nightcap 7-6 in extra innings.

Saline got the Wildcat's week off to a poor start.

Dennis King was on the mound for the Hornets and he held the Novi batters' to a paltry three hits while striking out 11.

"He had a fastball that wouldn't break a pane of glass," recounted Trudeau, obviously upset with the loss. "He just kept the ball over the plate and we couldn't hit it. He only gave up one walk, and they played good defense behind him."

The Wildcats got a good mound performance from Joe LaFleche. The stocky senior held Saline to three hits, but Hornets got them when they counted. Mike Lindeman doubled in the opening frame to send King across the plate after he had reached base on an error, and Tim Slesky singled Jeff Erskine home in the second after LaFleche had issued a pair of walks.

The Dundee game developed into a pitcher's battle between Fred Ternes of the dreadnaughts, and Dave Brown of the Wildcats. Neither team scored through the first four innings of the game, as each pitcher allowed only a single hit.

But then in the top of the fifth, the Wildcats suddenly surged into a 2-0 lead. After Ternes had retired the first two Novi batters on strikes, Gary Colton and Pat Ford rapped singles and Brown ripped out a third consecutive hit to sent them both across the plate.

The lead didn't last long, however. Ternes started the Dexter half of the fifth with a single and the Dreadnaughts went on to score six times on five hits and a slew of Novi throwing errors.

"They were a running crew," Trudeau reported. "Most teams won't even try to run on (Bob) Pisha (the Novi backstop) when they see how strong his arm is in practice, but Dexter ran and Bob threw the ball into centerfield arm is in practice, but Dexter ran and Bob threw the ball into centerfield three times and that had an unsettling effect on us."

Novi scored a third run in the sixth as Pisha singled home LaFleche, but Dexter held on to take the 7-3 triumph.

Novi's losing streak finally came to an end Saturday as:

SEConference Standings

they hosted a hard hitting Willow Run outfit in Cass Benton Park. But they were hard pressed to get the win. The Flyers stroked out 12 hits to win the first game 6-1 and then fought back from a first inning 4-1 deficit in the second game before finally yielding the victory in the eighth inning.

John Pantalone was the victim of the Flyer's hitting barrage in the first game. The junior lefthander yielded a run in the first inning, held the Flyers scoreless in the second, and then was blasted with seven hits and four runs in the third inning.

LaFleche took over for Pantalone in the fourth and gave up just one run over the last four innings, but the damage had already been done, as Willow Run wrapped up the 6-1 victory.

Novi's lone run came in the fourth inning, as Pat Ford singled to drive in Gary Colton from second base. Colton had doubled.

Novi jumped off to a quick 4-1 lead in the first inning of the second game, as LaFleche and Joe Barnes each reached base on walks and Steve Bosak singled to load the sacks. LaFleche scored on an error by the second baseman, Barnes came across the plate on a sacrifice hit by Ron Buck, and Bosak scored on Dave Brown's double. Tim Assemany then singled home Brown.

By the time the fifth inning rolled around, however, the Flyers had continued their heavy hitting and taken a 6-4 lead, which held up until the bottom of the seventh when Novi scored twice to send the game into extra innings.

The Winning run came in the eighth. With two outs, Brown walked and stole second. The Flyers then gave Assemany an intentional pass to put runners at second and first. A passed ball enabled them to move up to third an second, and then Dan Kardell blasted a shot at the shortstop, who caught the ball, stared to throw to the plate, remembered he only needed a force out at first base to end the inning, and finally threw too late to catch the speedy Kardell, as Brown crossed the plate with the winning run.

HEAD FIRST SLIDE—Novi's Dan Kardell dives headlong back to first base in the Wildcat's game with Willow Run last week. Kardell was safe, but his team dropped the decision 6-1.

Things went considerably better later in the day, however, as Novi tripped the Flyers in the second game of the scheduled double-header.

Boyer, Ross, Miller Win

Chelsea Tops Thinclads

It was Boyer and Ross and not much else last week as the Novi track team ran up against a strong Chelsea squad and were handed a rather convincing 85-38 defeat.

In all honesty, however, the name of Dave Miller should be tossed in there with Coach Del Munson's two record-setting juniors, as the little distance man ran away from the rest of the field to win the two mile by a full minute.

But outside of the victories registered by Boyer, Ross, and Miller, little went right for the Wildcats, as they saw their record against league opponents fall to 0-4 and their overall record drop to 1-5.

"They just had too much depth for us," mourned

Munson after the meet. "That and the fact they were able to capitalize on our weak areas was what beat us."

As far as first place finishes were concerned, the Wildcats weren't as far behind the Bulldogs as the final 85-38 score might indicate. Novi, with Boyer personally accounting for three wins, registered six individual wins, while Chelsea had nine.

The problem was that even when Novi did manage to win, Chelsea invariably managed to push someone into both second and third place to cut the Wildcat's point gain to a mere one.

Only in the long jump where Boyer took first with a leap of 20'3" and Boyer was third with a 18'10" leap did Novi manage to gain more than a point on the Bulldogs.

Chelsea's lopsided margin of victory was rolled up by virtue of Novi weaknesses in certain events. The Bulldogs swept the shot put, pole vault, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, and all three relay events.

"That's 51 points to nothing," Munson pointed out. "That can go a long way toward deciding a track meet."

On the bright side were the continued performances of Boyer and Ross and the success of Dave Miller.

Boyer, who already holds school records in the high jump and the 120 yard hurdles, won the long jump (20'3"), the 120 yard high (15.5), and the 180 yard low hurdles (21.9). He placed second in the high jump in spite of leaping an even 6'. It was the first loss of the season in that event for Boyer.

Ross, the school's 880 yard run record holder, was just a win behind Boyer, as he won the 880 (2:07.6) and the 440 (55.5).

Miller has been a pleasant surprise for Munson this year. His 10:48 clocking in the two mile against Chelsea was a full 52 seconds ahead of the second place finisher. A quick check of the records shows that Miller has now posted four wins in the five times he has run the race.

Only other Novi runners to score points in the Chelsea meet were Kirk Rosey, who finished second in the mile at 4:53.1 and freshman Doug Bard who came in third in the mile in 5:09.1.

"I'm afraid it was an all or nothing meet for us," said Munson. "It seems like if we didn't win, we didn't place. There will be brighter days ahead however," he added.

O'Brien, Buck Pace Jayvees

Novi's junior varsity baseball team had just one game last week, but they made the most of it by taking a 3-2 decision from Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Both teams scored a pair of runs in the second inning, but then Bob Brown of the Railsplitters and Mike Riley of the Wildcats settled down into a tight pitcher's battle that lasted until the sixth inning, when Ron Buck and Sean O'Brien combined efforts to push across what proved to be the decisive run.

Lincoln's pair of second inning tallies were scored by Don Gunther and Scott Hubbard. With one out Gunther doubled and Hubbard singled him home. Hubbard moved to second when the right fielder mishandled his single, stole third, and came home on a passed ball.

Novi got the two runs back in their half of the second. Ron Buck and Roger Pelchat opened the frame with walks and Sean O'Brien's infield hit led the bases. The Lincoln pitcher recovered to strike out the next two Novi hitters, but then Mike Riley walked to force in one run and Brian Wroten beat out another infield hit to drive in the second Novi tally.

It was Buck again, who started the Wildcats off on what proved to be the winning rally. The big catcher singled to open the sixth inning, moved to second on an infield out, and then came home on O'Brien's second single of the game.

Riley went the distance on the mound for Novi in registering the victory. He scattered four hits, while striking out seven and yielding four bases on balls. Novi's record now stands at 2-2 for the season.

Steve Bosak has been selected Wildcat of the Week for his efforts on the Novi baseball team. A .300 hitter in both his sophomore and junior seasons, the senior centerfielder is the second leading Novi batter this spring. In addition, his speed and ballhawking abilities give Coach Rick Trudeau an exceptionally strong defensive centerfielder. When Bosak isn't patrolling the outfield, he takes a regular turn on the mound for the Novi nine.

Harrison Leads Conference

Mustangs Drop Two

Northville's chances to cop the Western Six Conference baseball championship were dealt a serious blow last week as the Mustangs were topped first by Farmington Harrison and then by Walled Lake Western.

And the sad thing about the week's turn of events was that the twin setbacks came just when it seems as if the Northville nine was about to take command of the league race. At the start of the season, the Western Six Conference race was seen as a down to the wire struggle between Northville and Livonia Churchill, and so, when the Mustangs powered their way to a 5-2 victory over the Chargers last week, Chuck Shonta and his Northville squad had good reason to be optimistic about their chances.

There's absolutely no reason for any optimism any more.

The two losses dropped Northville's league record to 1-2, while Harrison has moved into first place with a perfect 4-0 record.

"It's going to be awfully hard to even catch them now," Shonta admitted the other day. "It's funny how fast things change. Last week I thought we were in a real good position for the league pennant and now we find ourselves in a position where we've really got to fight. We can only hope that we've come around and that someone else will give us a hand by knocking off Harrison."

The Mustangs failed in their first effort to stop the Hawks as they suffered a 5-1 setback Wednesday.

"It was just a bad game for us," recounted Shonta. "We didn't do anything right. We didn't hit well, we didn't field well, we just didn't play good baseball."

"They've got a fine team, but I just don't believe they're strong enough to be 4-0 in the league."

Harrison score first, picking up an unearned run off Northville starter Jeff Moon in the top of the first inning. That lead was short lived, however, as the Mustangs came up with a run of their own in the bottom of that frame to knot the score at one apiece.

Jess Stevenson opened the inning by rapping Greg Morrison's first pitch for a single to left. Stevenson stole second and then raced home on team captain Rick LaRue's line single to left after two were out.

But that was it in the run department for Northville as Morrison settled down and all but handcuffed them the rest of the way. Dale Griffith collected a second inning lead-off single, and Stevenson and John Sherman put together back to back singles at the start of the Northville sixth inning, but both times the rally fizzled.

The Hawks scored the decisive runs in the third inning, as a double by Dave Manos, a misplayed fielder's choice, a wild pitch, an error, and a single by Tom Goodwin produced two tallies. Harrison added single tallies in the fourth and seventh innings to move the final score to 5-1.

Moon gave up nine hits and struck out four hitters in the six innings he pitched, as he saw his season's mound record fall to 1-3. Morrison went the route for Harrison, yielding five hits and recording six strikeouts.

The Mustangs game against Walled Lake Western was a much closer affair, but they lost never the less. Final Phil Guider has been tabbed Mustang of the Week. The husky senior has given the Northville thinclads unexpected strength in the 100 and 220 yard dashes this spring. Originally a half-miler, Guider had planned to move down to the 440 this year. It was in the two sprint events where he really found his niche, however. Competing in all but one of the Mustang's nine meets so far this season, Guider has won both the 100 and 220 in six different meets to become one of the top point scorers on the entire Northville team.

score was 2-1.

"We didn't do anything right against Harrison," Shonta reiterated, "but I thought we played well enough against Western to win. We were hitting the ball well, but we couldn't seem to come up with any runs. We should have had six runs and we only got two."

The game narrowed down to a pitcher's duel between Western's Tom Rapp and Scott Evans of the Mustangs. Western got on the scoreboard first, as Frank Marotta and Mark Geary put together singles in the third inning to give the Warriors a 1-0 lead.

The Mustangs knotted the score in the top of the fourth. Stevenson reached first base on an error by the first baseman and Bart Taylor sent him scampering home moments later as he connected Northville's first hit of the game.

But that's where the score stood until the Mustangs came to bat in the top of the seventh. Bill McDonald was hit by a pitch and scored what appeared would be the winning run as Rod Crane ripped a two out double.

The Warriors, however, won the game in the bottom of the inning by scoring a pair of runs. Ron Shekel led off the decisive frame by working Evans for a walk, Rapp aided his own cause by singling to left, and Marotta then go another free pass to load the bases with nobody out.

Shonta pulled his infield in to the edge of the grass to cut the tying run off at the plate, but strategy backfired as Peeling bloomed a single over the drawn in infielders to score two runs and hand the Mustangs a 3-2 defeat.

Twice Northville had threatened to break the game open. In the fourth they had runners on first and second when Dale Griffith blasted a shot to left field that Geary somehow managed to haul in with a fine over the head running catch about 325 feet from home plate. And in the sixth inning they had Stevenson on second with one down when Taylor hit a liner down the third base line that was speared by Western's third sacker who then doubled Stevenson off second.

Evans gave up seven hits and struck out four in absorbing the loss. The Mustangs garnered only three hits off Rapp.

Super-Sophs Lead Mustang Thinclads

It's been some rebuilding year for the Northville track team.

With last year's powerful squad depleted by graduation and with more freshmen and sophomores than you can shake a stick at populating the 1972 team, it looked like it was going to be a long year for Mustang Track Coach Ralph Redmond.

But as of last week the Northville track team had compiled a highly respectable 6-3 record and, with just three dual meets left, we're assured of having at least a 500 record — one of Redmond's pre-season goals.

"And what's really amazing about that record," Redmond emphasized, "is that with any kind of luck we could very easily have been sitting at 8-1."

In three meets last week, the Mustangs topped Walled Lake Central 62-60, but lost to Plymouth 66-57 and Lutheran West 70½-52½.

"We could have won all three of them," Redmond reported. "We had the 440 relay against Plymouth all wrapped up, but we had a bad baton pass on the last leg and it cost us the race. If we had won that relay we would have won the meet 62-61."

The Mustangs entered the Lutheran West meet without the services of Phil Guider, who in all probability would have won both the 100 and 220, and Tom Coram, who would have added points in the 880, as well as Bill Witek, who was limited to competing in just one event instead of his usual four by a heel injury.

"We could have won it without them," Redmond insisted. "We had both the 440 and 880 relays all but in the bag, but again we were plagued by bad baton passes. It's unfortunate, but those are the type of mistakes that plague a young squad. If we'd have won those two relays, we would have won the meet."

One of the reasons for the Mustang success in the rebuilding year has been the development of those freshmen and sophomore members of the team. Names like Shipley and Foust in the distances, Marwick and Bloomhuff in the middle distances, Pickren and Ording in the hurdles, Harrison in the pole vault, and Blair Robinson in the long jump and sprint events presently appear primarily in the statistical summaries. But all are freshmen and all have outstanding potential, according to Redmond.

Several of Redmond's sophomores have already arrived. Half-miler Tom Coram has developed into a consistent threat for first place honors in his 880 events, while shotputter Jim Porterfield and two-miler Guy Cole are quickly establishing a reputation for themselves in Western Six Conference track circles.

Both are undefeated in their specialties this year and both are given good chances by Redmond to establish new school records before the season is over. Cole ran a 4:45.9 in finishing second in the mile against Plymouth and then came back two days later against Lutheran West to post his best two mile time of the season.

The race quickly narrowed down to a two-man contest between Cole and West's undefeated two-miler Mark Storie. Cole followed Storie's footsteps for the first five laps and then took over the lead through the sixth and seventh laps. As the gun sounded, Storie again moved into the lead, but Cole started his kick with about 180 yards left and pulled away to the victory. "Cole adds a whole new dimension to the distance runners we've had here at Northville," said Redmond.

"We've had some pretty decent distance men, but none of them has ever had the finishing kick Cole has. He finishes the two mile as if he were running the 100 yard dash."

But while Cole had to settle for second in the mile against Plymouth, Porterfield kept his undefeated record in the shot intact by getting off a heave of 45'10" — his best effort of the season.

His victory was one of seven registered by the Northville thinclads against Plymouth. Coram won the half mile (2:07.7), Brad Cole took the 120 yard high hurdles (16.3), Guy Dixon moved to first in the two mile (10:27.4), and Phil Guider won both the 100 (10.5) and the 220 (24.2). The 880 yard relay quartet of Guider, Steve Griggs, Brad Cole, and Blair Robinson posted the seventh Mustang win in their event with a 1:37.3 clocking.

Northville gained only four first places against Lutheran West. In addition to Guy Cole's two mile victory, Porterfield won the shot (44.7"), John Pacific won the 100 yard dash (10.9), and Todd Hannert, returning to action after an injury, won the high jump with a leap of 5'10".

Simpson's Switches Help, As Netters Top Fenton

In an effort to stir some life into his Northville tennis team, Coach Bob Simpson did some shuffling of personnel last week.

And the changes apparently did some good. For while the Mustang netters got clobbered by Farmington Harrison 8-0 Wednesday, they came back against Fenton two days later to register their second victory of the season by a score of 5-2.

Simpson's shufflings took two directions. First of all the Mustang mentor adjusted his singles personnel. Greg Boll, John Jerome, and Frank Knott were dropped, from first, second and third singles respectively to the second, third, and fourth singles slots, while Bob Wright, the number four singles man, was moved up to number one.

In the doubles pairings, Simpson dropped Chris Johnson from his number one pairing with Tom Millington to the number three pairing with freshman Jim Bonamici. Bonamici's old partner, Rick Norton, replaced Johnson on the first singles unit.

The changes proved effective, particularly in the Fenton meet.

Wright fell to Stu Groves at first singles and Boll dropped a 6-2, 6-1 decision to Brian Pittsley in the second slot, but after those two losses the Mustangs won the rest of their matches.

Jerome and Knott both stroked their way to easy victories, winning 6-0, 6-1 and 6-0, 6-0 respectively.

Norton, only a freshman, was apparently the spark that Millington needed in doubles competition, as the pair grabbed a 6-4, 2-6, 6-3 triumph by virtue of the victory. Norton has now participated in three wins, more than any other Mustang netter with the exception of Jim Bonamici, also a freshman.

John Sewell and Gary Eaker took a 6-3, 0-6, 6-1 decision at second doubles and Bonamici and Johnson won in straight sets at third singles.

The Farmington Harrison match was something of a mismatch, as the Mustangs failed to win a single set against the Hawks. Wright lost 6-1, 6-0; Boll lost 6-3, 6-3; Jerome lost 6-4, 7-5, and Knott lost 6-3, 6-4.

Scores of the doubles matches were just as bad. Millington-Norton fell 6-1, 6-2; Sewell-Eaker dropped a 6-2, 6-1 decision; and Johnson-Bonamici lost 6-4, 6-2.

Simpson has more shufflings in mind before the season is over.

"Boll has only won once all season," he reported. "He's only a sophomore, but he's our best singles player. As a result we played him at number one and he's taken his lumps up there competing against primarily seniors. We'll probably be moving him down to three or four to try to boost his confidence and get him going against players more his age and of comparable experience."

"Don't forget," says Simpson. "We have a young team. The Ville is on the verge of a dynasty."

Bill Top Rider

Plans for the professional motorcycle races, to be held Memorial Day weekend at Northville Downs, are nearing completion, it was announced this week.

According to a racing spokesman, Gary Nixon, rated ninth in national competition, heads the list of experts who plan to tool their cycles around the half-mile Downs oval. Nixon drives a Triumph.

Ronnie Rall, 52nd, plans to bring his hot 750cc water-cooled Suzuki here for its maiden race. Teddy Newton, 40th, and his BSA and others like Jack Warren, 82nd, Charlie Chaplex, 36th, Al Gasgill, 65th, and Larry Darr, 94th, will be trying to establish the track record, under the lights.

Northville Rec Announces Dates

Tryouts for the Class F baseball team, registration for the Class E baseball team, a meeting for men interested in participating in the 40 and over Slo-pitch softball league, and a call for managers and coaches were all announced Monday, as the Northville Recreation Department's summer program begins to round into shape.

Boys who will be 12 before July 1, 1972, but who won't be 14 before September 1, 1972 are eligible for the Class F baseball team. Tryouts will be held Saturday, May 6, at Ford Field between 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

Boys and girls who will be 14 before September 1, 1972, but who won't be 16 before that date are eligible for Class E baseball and softball teams. Registration should be made Saturday, May 6, at the Scout-Recreation Building on Main Street between 9 a.m. and 12 noon and 1-4 p.m.

Tonight (Thursday, May 4) has been set as the date for a meeting of all men interested in participating in the Men's 40 and older Slo-pitch softball league. The meeting is slated for 6:45 p.m. in the Cady Street Recreation Building.

Managers and coaches for the numerous boys and girls baseball and softball teams are still needed. Interested adults should contact Recreation Department head Robert Prom at 349-2287.

Up to Township Now

Unification Study OK'd

Northville City Council Monday formally endorsed a free updating of the 1968 unification feasibility study by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

Formal request by both the council and Northville Township Board is required before CRC will undertake the project, explained Wilson Tyler, treasurer of "One Northville"—citizens unification committee.

The matter has not yet come before the township board.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who recommended that the council endorse the updated study since it will cost neither the city nor the township any money, explained that CRC is a non-profit organization dedicated to governmental research.

It was this same organization that conducted a similar study of the Plymouth area.

In other business Monday, the council decided to invite Wayne County Commissioner John J. McCann, who represents Northville, to its next meeting to background local officials on the proposed Detroit stadium.

Councilman Kenneth Rathert suggested McCann's appearance following a report by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie that Edmond Verkes, an attorney here, had requested the council join with opponents of the stadium in an attempt to block its construction.

Rathert said he was not sufficiently acquainted with the legal ramifications of the stadium to either support or oppose it.

The council approved a $250 contribution to the Northville Jaycees to help finance the annual July 4 parade.

And it granted permission to Paul Stenck, 562 Randolph, to erect a six-foot high fence, topped by barb wire, along the rear of his property. Use of barb wire in residential areas requires special council approval, and officials concluded it was justified in this case in view of a series of recent vandalism on the homeowner's property.

By a 4-1 vote (Councilman Rathert dissenting) the council approved a $1,647 contract with Sperry Rand for installation of children's book shelving in the public library. A lower bid, which Rathert favored ($1,376), failed to meet specifications.

The library board concluded the lower bid product would be acceptable but it preferred Sperry Rand's shelving because of its mobility and its inch-wider shelving, which is seen as better suited for children's books.

Summer Billing Sought

only in the summer and thus their school taxes for each of the ensuing years would be prepaid.

Presumably, home owners selling their property would recoup their pre-paid school taxes from the buyer in the sale price, he said.

If property owners paid their school taxes this coming December, the next collection would not occur until the following calendar year. However, if they waited until the deadline in February to pay their upcoming winter tax they would be paying twice in the same calendar year.

Property owners paying taxes through escrow accounts, said Spear, may find that, at least initially, their monthly payments will be increased.

Spear said he is hopeful that the switch in Northville will prod neighboring communities to change also. When that happens, he added, the change will be equitable to all.

If it doesn't, however, those Northville school taxpayers in Novi, for example, will continue to pay their school taxes in the winter.

Novi school board officials have been trying for months, without success, to get Novi city officials to adopt a split school tax collection. Novi school officials give the same reason as Spear for wanting the change—namely savings in interest monies.

In discussing the proposed tax collection change, Superintendent Spear emphasizes that it is the school system that is suggesting the change—not the city or the township. If there are any complaints they should be directed at the school, not at the collecting agency, he said.

projected a seven-mill levy. Increased valuation in both the city and township was cited as responsible for the reduced tax rate.

Currently the city levies a 10.3 mill property tax, while the township is limited to one mill. For a rate of 4.7 mills the LWV study predicts that police service, rubbish pick-up, public works and road services now provided in the city could be extended to the township.

The League's presentation, which included current budgets for both the city and township along with a projected combined operating budget, was made by Mrs. Duane Butler, Mrs. William Dayton, Mrs. Kent Mathes and Mrs. Steven Orban. The group had previously been invited to report its findings to the Northville Jaycees and is seeking opportunities to address other groups, large or small. The LWV has announced its endorsement of the proposed unification of the city and township.

In other business last week the One Northville committee adopted a statement of purpose, set regular meeting dates and made committee appointments.

The meeting, chaired by Eugene Guido, heard the "statement of purpose" report from John Canterbury, committee vice chairman.

Specifically, it calls for the committee to "work for the betterment of the Northville community by promoting the unification of the City and Township under one governmental structure in order to provide for coordinated planning, orderly growth and adequate and efficient public services; and to actively seek to achieve such unification through the most practical method available—the annexation procedure."

Canterbury's report proposed that the One Northville committee should direct its attention toward the preparation and compilation of information required for State Boundaries Commissions' hearings slated to be held locally, probably this fall.

It also called for a liaison to be established with the LWV and Jaycees, who, like the LWV, are considering active participation in the unification campaign.

Treasurer Wilson Tyler reported that questionnaires submitted by the Boundaries Commission had been completed and submitted. Tyler also was appointed to seek city council and township board approval for official updating of the jointly-sponsored city-township unification report. The latter service will be performed by the Citizens Research Council without charge upon request of the community's official bodies. (See story elsewhere on page 18-A).

So that the One Northville committee will have the latest statistics for its pending report the following committee assignments were made: utilities, population density and probable growth in population, business and industry—Thomas Derro; township planning commission information on land use—Robert Bogart; Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) information on future growth—Wilson Tyler; Wayne County information on area growth, charts, maps, etc.—Dr. Robert Geake and Eugene Guido; city planning commission land use and growth information—Halton Axtell; township administrative offices information on land use, growth, service needs, etc.—Mrs. Robert Yoder; Northville public schools—Donald Lawrence; and city administrative offices information on growth, services, valuation, etc.—James Hayward; LWV liaison—Dr. Larry VanderMolen; and Jaycee liaison—Charles Gross.

Sign Law Questioned

• Flashing or intermittent signs (prohibited under the old ordinance).

• Structurally unsafe, dilapidated or abandoned signs.

• Signs hazardous to traffic.

• Signs obstructing movement through windows, doors or fire escapes.

• Signs using words such as "Stop", "Look", "Danger" that may confuse traffic.

• Obscene, indecent or immoral signs.

• Unlawfully installed signs.

Although the ordinance permits projecting signs, within specifications, it prohibits them from overhanging public right-of-way (sidewalks). Thus, many existing signs are non-conforming and once removed cannot be replaced.

Specifications for all permitted signs—height, square footage, placement, and number—are outlined in the ordinance.

Community special event signs, approved by the council, are permitted.

Banners, pennants, spinners and streamers may be displayed for up to 48 hours on special occasions, such as new car sales, not more than four times per year.

Political signs may be erected 45 days prior to election day—by permit only—but must be removed within 10 days after the election.

During the lengthy council discussion over the revolving sign matter, Ritchie defended use of such signs by suggesting that their use reduces the necessity for additionally allowed signs. A single revolving sign for a corner service station, he said, is more desirable than two signs, one facing each street.

Councilmen David Biery, Paul Folino and Paul Vernon, who favored elimination of existing revolving signs, emphasized that the ordinance did not require their removal—but rather required them to stop rotating.

Ironically, Ritchie, who told councilmen he may have no recourse but to take the matter to court, assisted in his own dilemma.

Not only did he play a role, as a former long-time city official, in helping lay the superstructure for the new ordinance, but he was still volunteering suggestions Monday knowing full well that some could be personally detrimental.

For example, he noted that the ordinance's penalty clause provided for a $100 fine or 90 days in jail but it did not define length of violation.

Council noted the omission and quickly amended the law to make each day, following citation, a separate violation each subject to fine.

Housing Draws Fire

Neptune Court, who insists that numerous complaints remain unresolved and that while some progress has been made most residents are still unhappy.

"The response to my requests," she wrote this newspaper early last week, "have been bordering on the idiotic. Everyone is extremely pleasant, everyone is firing those at fault, everyone is saying things will be taken care of, and no one is doing anything to correct the situation.

"Sending Levitt & Sons letters of appreciation for some small repairs has given them the impression that I am extremely happy. They can't seem to understand that I had hoped a little show of appreciation in spite of all the criticism we residents had been leveling at them was simply to give some incentive to continue with their service."

To underscore her displeasure, Mrs. Olah fired off a letter—the sixth she has sent Levitt over the past several months—outlining 20 specific complaints that she demanding be taken care of "before the house falls apart or we are washed into the lake."

After sending her letter, she reported later, Levitt promised to "send out an inspector. They've done that before but I'm willing to give it one more chance."

She was fuming again Friday. "They were repairing the sidewalk and when they did they loosened the bricks on our porch. Levitt people told me workmen would be back to fix them. They came to finish their job but said they didn't know anything about the brick problem and couldn't take care of it."

"That's what is so exasperating. The right hand doesn't know what the left is doing. Get one thing fixed and they damage another in the process."

Chief complaint raised by homeowners at last week's meeting concerned what residents called either "defective" or "inferior" windows.

That same complaint last winter had triggered a warning by one resident that her children's health, was being jeopardized. The windows, she charged, were "so bad my children must sleep in sleeping bags...there's an inch of snow on the floor."

Residents last week pointed out that moisture forming on the windows was damaging walls, drapery and carpeting.

Spokesmen for Levitt countered by noting that the window supplier was a very good one, that residents must realize the aluminum frame windows produce more moisture than wood ones they may have been accustomed to elsewhere, that the problem is being increased by heavy use of humidifiers, and that the supplier stands behind its equipment, as does Levitt, and that all window defects will be corrected.

Unresolved heating problems also were raised again by homeowners last week, with some charging that thermostatic control systems are defective.

Still other complaints involved flooding, grading and missing or defective screens.

Some of the problems appeared to be rooted in condominium living itself, such as transmission of voices through walls from one townhouse unit to another and homeowners occupying more than their share of allotted parking spaces.

Coed Kicks Exam 'Blahs'

By ERNEST BROWN

What is there for a freshman to do on a mild Saturday in late April?

"Not much going around on or near the University of Michigan campus here in Ann Arbor. Maybe I ought to study a bit for that exam Monday...."

Thoughts such as these were passing through the mind of pert Candy Mead of Grosse Pointe early Saturday morning.

As things turned out, it was anything but another "blah" college weekend day for the 18-year old coed, however.

The voice on the other end of that "Ma Bell Jingle" that had interrupted her reverie so early this fine morning belonged to a fellow UM frosh, Ted Smith of Port Huron. The question Ted had asked was, "How would you like to do something really different today?"

She didn't have a whole lot of time to muse about the earlier events of a Saturday that had moved with unprecedented speed to this point. This point of watching Ted bail out of a Cessna airplane some 4700 feet above the Salem Airport.

"You're next, Candy," reminded the man with the cameras who had accompanied her, the pilot and veteran parachutist Gordon Collins of Dearborn Heights into the air.

Before long, Candy Mead was experiencing something she had dreamed of trying for some time but had never believed she would accomplish. She was jumping from an airplane.

Candy and Ted were just two of the five first-time jumpers to take advantage of the unique program offered by the Salem based Parahawks Sport Parachute Club.

Trainer for the youngsters was Parahawks President Peter Myks. He worked on fundamentals with Candy, Ted, Gordon Hoeft of Livonia and Salem's own Kathy and John Gillahan as the young brother and sister decided to try what they had been watching so many others attempt.

Also in the training group was one "old pro" Ken Hardesty of Salem was a paratrooper in the Army, but he admitted that he had "grown rusty" in the three years since his release from active duty.

For $35 the beginners were thoroughly trained in how to jump from planes, what to do with the auxiliary 'chute strapped in front if the main chute fails to open and how to land to take maximum advantage of the prevailing wind. Major emphasis was placed on the proper ways to land.

Why do the new jumpers choose Salem for training?

Young Hoeft explained that he got up Saturday and decided "today is the day". Then "I called around to find out where I could learn. Salem was by far the closest place, so I came out here."

Myks, a stock broker by trade, guided everyone through his paces while Mrs.

Myks logged jump schedules carefully and daughter Barbara helped fold chutes, etc., while counting the days until her 16th birthday in August and her first jump.

Among those jumping, in addition to the six newcomers were Collins, a veteran of some 870 jumps, and Jim Flynn of Bloomfield Hills who was making his fifth jump but only his first since last fall.

In fact, Flynn, a slightly balding middle-aged fellow who admitted he had "waited 20 years too long" to make his first jump, may have slowed our kids a bit if they had overheard him.

Said the "jolly jumper", "Most of these guys are aiming to hit that little yellow plastic disk (about four inches

Learning to Roll...

Away She Goes...

Pretty Candy Mead was excited and more than a little nervous Saturday (top right) as she received instructions for her first jump into space. She learned how to hit the ground properly (top left) and soaked up some information about parachutes (bottom right). Then, fighting panic and a lump in her throat, she threw herself into space (above) and marveled when her chute billowed open (left) as she floated into a whole new world of adventure. About Faithway

Rev. Jim Wheeler
Pastor,
Tri-County Baptist Church
Salem

Read: Isaiah 6:1-13
Text: Isaiah 6:3 "The whole earth is full of His glory"
Introduction:

In this chapter of Isaiah we are able to find seven greats. In verse 3, which is our text, we see there is great praise. In verse 8 there is a great question. Also in verse 8 we find a great faith, "here am I, send me." Again in verse 8 there is great obedience because he said "send Me". A great challenge can be found in verse 9, "go". In verse 12 there is a great forsaking in the midst of the land. And in verse 13 there is a great return.

The Bible says in II Corinthians 3:17 "where the Spirit of the Lord is there is liberty."

What more can be said about what is happening in our very midst today?

God has sent His mighty Spirit down to a group of fellow Christian brothers. They have recognized themselves as being undone in a land that has all but forsaken God. They purged their sins and accepted God's challenge. As a result, Faithway is born.

Through Faithway, God will bring this great nation back to Himself, and in returning to God there must be a leaving of some things.

I would like God to challenge every one who reads this message to return to God's way. For you, and also our country to do this, you will be required to leave behind you (1) selfishness (2) strife (3) discord, for "where the Spirit of the Lord is there is liberty."

John 20:24 says, "But Thomas one of the twelve called Didymus was not with them when Jesus came."

Christian, why don't you inquire about Faithway? You can, by calling 482-4057, 482-4058 or 349-7130 or write Box 250 Ypsilanti, Michigan.

This is the soil, the good earth without which man could not exist. Suppose we woke up tomorrow to find a concrete world. Flowers would wilt, plants would die, and famine would sweep the land.

God, in His infinitely wise planning, gave us the earth to make use of — to care for. Without this care, the soil and fields become barren.

People are not very different. We need three kinds of care if we are to flourish — physical, mental and spiritual. Unfortunately the last, in many ways the most important, is often most neglected.

The spirit is a great part of you! Nurture it by attending the church of your choice.

Stricter Billboard Law Sought

I wouldn't give you a George Wallace button to watch a pro basketball game during the regular season. The games are virtually devoid of excitement, unless there happens to be an unusual match-up of players.

Perhaps it's because I don't have any favorite, except for the Detroit Pistons. And they're perennial losers.

The playoffs, however, are another thing. It's pro basketball at its best. Ferocious intensity is wrapped up into a two-hour clash between teams busting their britches to win the National Basketball Association championship, emblematic of the world championship.

There can be let-downs in the playoffs, like last year. The Milwaukee Bucks, behind Kareem Jabbar, ran away from the field to claim the world championship. It was strictly no contest.

This year, however, all the excitement is there—and more.

What more could you ask than the classic match-up of giants Jabbar and Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers? What more, indeed, than the Bucks, defending champs, and the all-time winningest team in pro history, the Lakers?

It was something to behold. The Bucks skated to a lopsided victory in the opening game, which frankly gave me the feeling of impending doom. After that one, I thought it was only a matter of time until the Bucks took the series.

But then 7'1" Wilt came alive. Playing the best basketball in his long career, he began to intimidate people. With his tremendous strength and spring, he blocked shots, scraped the boards and got some crucial baskets.

The job Wilt did on Jabbar has to be the greatest thing since the safety razor. Chamberlain blocked Jabbar's shots, and muscled him under the boards, so that Jabbar's usually hot shooting percentage dipped drastically.

Furthermore, Wilt found Jabbar's weakness. The 7'2" giant can't go to his left. The weakness had gone undetected because never before had a person almost Jabbar's size challenged him the way Chamberlain did. If basketball awarded Oscars, the top one for excellence should go to Chamberlain.

Now comes the finals. LA against the New York Knicks. From what has preceded, you might conclude I'm all for the Lakers. Not so. I'll be pitching for New York, although I won't be sad if the Lakers win.

The Knicks are the underdogs. They have been playing winning basketball without their tremendous center, Willis Reed. Their biggest man is 6'8", which is small by pro standards.

But no other team plays the way the Knicks do. At their best, they are superb. They operate as a team, each man complementing the other. The Lakers will win the championship—they're overdone—but New York will give them fits before it's over.

Women Getting More Income

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Women have been earning an increasing share of the nation's personal income as a result of a number of factors, including equal job opportunities, the same compensation for any given work classification, entree into trades and careers traditionally monopolized by men, and a more highly educated female population.

There is also a related benefit, namely the boosting of the average annual income per family unit. It is estimated that more than half of the adult women in this country currently contribute to family income.

ON THE WHOLE, women are waiting longer before heading for the altar of matrimony, and there is a tendency to delay raising a family. Both of these developments have served to increase the earning power of women, while the preference for "mini-families" means that modern mothers are ready to return to the labor force sooner than was the case in yesteryears.

In addition, it should be kept in mind that over recent years mothers

Army Needs Bandmen

The 14th Army Band (Women's Army Corp) at Fort McClellan, is in jeopardy of losing its concert capability by June 30 if certain positions are not filled in the very near future.

Vacancies now exist or will soon exist for the following: oboe, bassoon, clarinet, French horn, trumpet, tuba, saxophone, percussion, piano, trombone, and guitar.

In addition, for those men who are interested there are many Army bands through out the United States that have vacancies now, according to Sergeant James Dunn of Plymouth.

Interested persons may call the sergeant at 455-7770.

of the infants born in the post-World War II baby boom have been moving back toward full-time work as their parental responsibilities have tapered off.

THE MORE equitable status of women has given them a considerably greater economic clout, but—everything considered—it has not created a really new condition. After all, American housewives have long held the power of the family purse, determining much of the spending for the household and its members.

Little wonder that a good deal of promotional and merchandising effort is directed toward the female—the housewife in particular—on matters related to consumer-oriented goods and services.

With the greatly increased number of shopping-center complexes catering to the suburban clientele and with the extremely high degree of mobility afforded by the prevailing trend toward more than one auto per family unit, it is not surprising that women are largely responsible for channeling back into the economic stream each family's uncommitted current income.

A WIDELY accepted traditional concept in the fields of investment and personal finance has been that the women of this country own the lion's share of the total wealth of the population. The idea is still widely held today, and the greater earning power of women has undoubtedly accentuated the premise of their financial superiority.

One example of growing female financial independence: The Institute of Life Insurance reports that close to one-fourth of new ordinary life insurance policy purchases are being made by women, compared with less than 20 percent in the early 1950s. The fact of the matter is that women today are creating more of material on some stretches of Michigan highways is beginning to resemble the cobblestone streets you see in Europe," Highway Director Henrik Stafseth said recently.

THERE IS some hope, he says, that the campaign his department has been waging against the studs is having an effect. New surveys taken by the department indicate that the proportion of cars and trucks using studded tires dropped this past winter from 15.2 per cent to 11.8 per cent.

Already in recent months, they have gone into Illinois and Wisconsin in search of businesses which might want to expand outside of the home state.

Now officials have expanded their horizons outside the country as well. A delegation went to Toronto this week (May 9) in an effort to interest more Canadian businessmen in expanding their operations in Michigan.

"WE HAVE a lot to offer," says Gov. William G. Milliken. "We have a labor force that is well trained and noted for its high productivity, and we have well developed industrial sites ready for new plants in almost every part of Michigan."

The aim in all this effort is to make the state less reliant on the auto industry so that a dip in autos automatically doesn't mean serious troubles for Michigan any more.

But while they are looking for new business for Michigan, the state officials can't relax about their own businesses, either. Ohio Gov. John Gilligan recently made a pitch to a Detroit audience inviting Michigan industry down to his state.

METAL STUDS are as big an issue as ever, and the State Highway Department is just as much opposed to the idea now as previously.

It still wants the Legislature to ban them from Michigan highways, saying it will cost nearly a quarter of a billion dollars over the next 9 years to repair damage done by the studs if they aren't removed.

PGA Tourney Attracts Big Ticket Sale

The sale of more than 60 percent of available tickets to the 54th PGA Championship at Oakland Hills Country Club, July 31 - August 6, was reported today by general co-chairmen Kenneth S. Reames and Harrison W. Wilder.

"We believe this great advance sale of tickets is evidence of the enthusiasm of this area's golf fans who have not had an opportunity to witness major championship events since the Carling World Championship in 1964 and the U.S. Open in 1961, both of which were played at Oakland Hills," they said.

A limited number of weekly packages and daily tickets remain on sale, according to Joseph H. Carey, admissions committee chairman.

All exchangeable coupon books, which contain 10 tickets good for admission on any day, have been sold, Carey reported.

"We will not issue any more of these exchangeable books because too many people may wait until the final two days of championship play to use them," Carey said. "That would increase the size of the gallery beyond the limits we originally set before tickets were offered for sale. We want to avoid overcrowding so that golf fans will be better able to observe the world's best players in action."

If Jack Nicklaus, the defending PGA champion, can add the British Open and the U.S. Open titles to his Masters crown, when he comes to Oakland Hills he will be in position to do what no other golfer has been able to do — make the Grand Slam of

That publicity has included findings that the studs can be hazardous and can cause hazardous highway conditions.

Studs actually lengthen stopping distances as much as 27 per cent on dry or wet pavement, he says.

In addition, they rub out pavement lane markings and wear out anti-skid materials applied to highway surfaces. And ruts worn in the pavement can cause vehicles to hydroplane during rainstorms and go out of control.

golf by winning all four of the major contests in the same year.

Nicklaus will be challenged not only by Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino, Gary Player and all the great touring professionals, but by Oakland Hills' south course, long rated by golf experts as being among the 10 toughest in the world. Famed golf course architect Robert Trent Jones is having additional traps installed and is having the fairways narrowed to make the course even more difficult for the 54th PGA Championship.

Admissions still available are a book of tickets for three days of practice rounds, four days of Championship play and a playoff, if necessary, plus a copy of the Annual. This package sells for $35 each for admittance to the grounds only, or $65 for grounds, Clubhouse and parking privileges. If purchased separately, the tickets would cost $64 and $94, respectively.

Individual tickets for admission to the grounds only and without parking privileges also are available. They are priced at $6 for each of the three practice days, July 31-August 2, and $9 for each of the days of Championship play, August 3-6. Should a playoff be necessary on August 7, individual tickets

Combat Wind, Rain

Trees Curb Erosion

The most effective protection against soil erosion is the proper planting of trees, shrubs and grass, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Each year about 180 million acres of land lose precious topsoil through the action of wind and water. The waste amounts to about a $1 billion loss. This destruction of the productive top layer of earth, which sustains both man and nature, occurs because of the lack of proper ground cover.

Trees, shrubs, vines and grass provide a protective cover for precious topsoil, says the AAN, because they hold the soil together and protect it from ravishing elements.

The nurserymen point out that the planting of grass, shrubs and vines on sloping land will prevent erosion by wind and water. Wind is a serious threat to land. For example, a 40-mile-an-hour wind has about four times as much power to pick up soil and blow it away as does a 20-mile-an-hour wind. However, trees, shrubs and grass planted as protective barriers will alleviate this destructive common form of erosion.

As a part of their national campaign for "Green Survival" local nurserymen offer counsel and technical assistance on effective methods of avoiding soil erosion.

Treatment Told

Spots Spell Grubs

If circular or irregular dead spots ranging from one to two feet in diameter appear on your lawn this spring, chances are you have grubworms, say turfgrass specialists at Michigan State University.

Grubs are the larvae of hard-shelled beetles that feed on the roots of turfgrasses. They spend the winter some 6 to 10 inches deep in the soil. In March they begin working their way up to the root zone and usually begin active feeding by late April.

If you have grubs in your lawn, begin treatment as soon as the ground has thawed.

Mole activity is one indication that grubs are present. If you get rid of the grubs, the food source of the moles, you will also discourage mole activity.

One sure way to determine if you have grubs is to cut a flap of grass a foot square on three sides and roll it back. Do this in several places over the lawn during the active feeding season.

When during the active feeding season. When the grass flap is rolled back, grubs may be seen lying in a C-shaped position on the soil. They are off-white in color, have a brown head and measure about an inch long.

If you find an average of four to five grubs per square foot, treat your lawn. Use a granular formulation of chlordane, applied uniformly, at the recommended rates indicated on the label. Applications should be made whenever the ground is not frozen, in the spring and fall.

Applications made during mid-summer are not as effective because only the adult stage is active during this period and they are feeding on trees and shrubs, not turf.

Close-up of a white grub shows the insect in its soil burrow at its larval stage. White grubs are the larvae of June beetles and cause extensive damage by actively feeding on roots.

Urge Care in Use Of Insecticides

The proper use of insecticides, herbicides and fungicides is an important tool in the protection of our environment, but the improper use of such chemicals is dangerous, the American Association of Nurserymen warns. The Association advises gardeners to get expert advice on the use of chemical treatments before applying them - either from a local retail nurseryman or county agent.

Use pesticides only when you are sure you have a problem and be sure to use the right pesticide for that problem. Use such chemical agents only at the rate which is recommended on the label. Spraying merely on suspicion is never advisable because nature's own recuperative powers will often correct the problem. For example, songbirds, ladybugs, lacewings, preying mantises, spiders, and other useful predators will often do the job if left alone.

The AAN suggests some simple, common sense methods which are workable alternatives to spraying chemicals. For example, some insects can be controlled by merely hosing them off plants with water blasts or spraying them with soapy water. Weeds can be pulled by hand rather than eradicating them with weed killers. Plants, such as geraniums, can be interspersed among some major plants to repel certain insects.

The nurserymen also caution against improper disposal of unwanted chemical agents such as pesticides. Never put them in the garbage, and never flush them down the drain or toilet. Seek advice from a retail nurseryman or agricultural agent if you have questions concerning the disposal of pesticides.

Better Boy

Four years of breeding now brings Better Boy, a new tomato that is resistant to the three main causes of blight (wilt) in tomato plants: verticillium, fusarium, and nematodes (VFN).

This means that Better Boy gives you more fruit, tastier fruit, over a longer period of time, because it has triple disease resistance... plus F₁ Hybrid vigor.

Year's most honored garden is seen here at Stanley House of the Tryon Palace Restoration in New Bern, North Carolina. Mrs. Richard Nixon presented a special tribute to its sponsors and designers during ceremonies last October in connection with American Association of Nurserymen's annual Landscape Awards. Original Stanley House, mutilated through modifications, was moved to its new site near Tryon Palace where an authentic Colonial setting was created with a unique formal "Townhouse" garden, enclosed by high, antique brick walls and a white picket fence.

Park Features Spring Flowers

Persons who enjoy spring flowers may find just what they're looking for at Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson.

The park, spokesmen point out, "has a marvelous nature study area where the earliest spring flowers such as Hepatica, Bloodroot and Marsh marigold may still be observed the first week in May."

As the month continues, Trilliums, May Apples, Yellow Violet, Jack-in-the-Pulpit, Wild Geraniums and many other spring flowers become conspicuous.

While enjoying flowers along the nature trails, park visitors also will find plenty of birdlife.

Pairs of Canada Geese, with their new families of golden-colored gosling, can be seen on the grassy lakeshores at Kingfisher Lagoon or Wildwing Lake.

Thickets close to the park's nature center are a favorite feeding place for such handsome songbirds as the Cardinal and Rose-breasted Grosbeak.

Warblers on their way to northern nesting areas are most likely to be seen and heard in the taller trees along Deer Run, Wildwing and Aspen Nature Trails.

Trail hours are daylight to dusk. Persons wishing additional information may call the park at 685-2417.

Tree Acreage

At the time of the landings of the Pilgrims, there were 937 million acres of superb virgin forest in what is now the United States. That acreage included all territory except the Great Plains and some western desert areas.

in diameter). With me, they only hope that I'll land in Salem Township."

Back to the kids, however. They were left bailing out of their airplane.

Both did land. In fact, Ted's landing was a pretty good one—only about 100 feet east and about 35 feet south of the target area. Candy, however, made one maneuvering error with the lines to her parachute and landed about 500 feet short of the target. Both landed correctly and followed their teacher's ground movements and turned their bodies in the air accordingly.

Their reactions upon landing?

Said Ted, "Wow, that was a riot! I've never had so much fun in my life. It was so quiet coming down, you can't hear a sound."

"Wow, this is really cool!" bubbled Candy. "Really cool. It was so fun!" She did admit that "you think you've got lots of time, but suddenly the ground starts getting close."

Neither had any thoughts about not jumping but both admitted that seeing that open chute up above was a "wonderful sight."

While only about four or five of the Parahawks' some 100 members are local, the sky above Salem Airport is full of jumpers every reasonably clear Saturday and Sunday from late April to mid-autumn. Myks said that many weekend afternoons will find three planes in constant use and new parachutists often number as many or more than the six he had this Saturday.

Among other facts dealing with the Parahawks, about one of every five of which are women, are the search for a permanent meeting site at the airport, the fact that they will appear at schools and the like to explain their hobby, that training sessions can be arranged on Thursday and Friday afternoons as well as on Saturdays and Sundays and that some of the regulars are available to jump for local promotions.

In fact, Glen and Mae Hoots of E. R. Saddlery lined up three of them to jump into McHattie Park last summer in conjunction with South Lyon's Sidewalk Days.

Of the three or four ladies who jump regularly, one is a local gal. Diane Ruffing of Country Estates has made some 400 or 500 jumps, Myks estimated.

You must be 16 to make that first jump. With training and borrowed equipment, that jump costs $35. Subsequent jumps can be made for $10 and it costs only about $3 if PROUD COED—Beaming Candy Mead proudly displays the certificate proving she had made her first parachute jump from an airplane.

you have your own gear. (very fancy, according to Myks.)

Draft Procedure Changes Noted

New Draft registration procedures were announced this week by Arthur A. Holmes, state Selective Service director.

Under the new provisions, young men must register with a draft board or a draft registrar within the period 30 days before to 30 days after their 18th birthday. They must have some official identification when they register, such as birth certificate, Social Security account number card, drivers license, school or college activity card, or credit card.

The new registration procedures are designed to make registration more registrant-oriented and draft board operations more streamlined. Registration will consist of filling out a registration card. A new registration questionnaire must also be filled out, although the registrant can take the questionnaire with him, or it may be mailed to him. He must return it within 10 days.

The new registration questionnaire requires the names and addresses of three persons outside the registrant's immediate family who will always know his address. The names, relationships, and addresses of all the registrant's family over age 16 must also be listed. In addition, the form includes questions inquiring whether the registrant believes he qualifies for a hardship deferment, for status as a conscientious objector, for a surviving son exemption, or for other Selective Service deferments. Finally, every registrant

It's 'King of the Patio' Time

Babson Report

The Detroit Edison Company announced that the eighth annual search for the "King of the Patio" began Monday and must list a place of permanent residence, as well as a current mailing address. The draft board serving his permanent residence will be the registrant's permanent draft board, regardless of where he registers. Volunteer draft registrars are available at most high schools and public offices in addition to registration service offered at local draft boards.

After he has completed the registration card and questionnaire, the registrant will be issued or mailed his registration certificate and his notice of classification stating that he has been placed administratively into a new holding classification, Class 1-H.

Practically all new registrants will remain in Class 1-H until after their lottery drawing which will be held early in the calendar year in which they reach age 19. Those who receive low lottery numbers will then be considered for classification out of Class 1-H. Young men become draft eligible, provided they do not receive a deferment or exemption, during the calendar year in which they reach age 20.

would cost $9. All types of tickets are transferable. The Championship Annual sells for $1 a copy.

Carey said tickets may be ordered by sending checks to the 54th PGA Championship Office at Oakland Hills Country Club, 3951 West Maple Road, Birmingham, Michigan 48012. The telephone number is (313) 646-4653.

will continue through May 30. Throughout that period, Edison will accept written patio recipes, the initial action required to enter the contest, from southeastern Michigan men who practice and enjoy the art of outdoor cooking and who reside within the company's 7,600-square-mile service area.

Robert S. Howard, Edison's manager of the Oakland Marketing Division, said that the contest, which is becoming increasingly popular and competitive, is open to men, 18 years of age and over.

Professional cooks, chefs, Edison employees and members of their families are not eligible, Howard said.

The contest for King of the Patio has, from its very first year, attracted hundreds of male contenders each year, all in quest of the very elegant and practical contest prizes but, more importantly to most contestants, in quest simply of the honor and heralded distinction of being the best male cook in southeastern Michigan.

The grand prize for the "King" is a complete patio ensemble, including an electric char-cook console, a serving cart, patio dishes and stainless steel cutlery.

An electric rotisserie broiler with patio dishes and cutlery will be awarded as second prize, and the third prize will be an open hearth rotisserie broiler.

First, second, and third place winners will be selected from among ten finalists, Howard said.

Howard said that the entries, or patio recipes, must include name of contestant, address and telephone number. They should be mailed to Electric Living Division, The Detroit Edison Company, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

their own wealth, whereas in earlier years the factor of inheritance was just about the whole show.

AS MENTIONED at the beginning of this article, the influence and scope of buying by women extends to practically every facet of consumer expenditures. Therefore, investors who may be on the lookout for vehicles likely to participate in the prosperity stemming from this powerful economic force will probably have little trouble in doing so. The choice is, in fact, extremely wide.

Within the confines of this discussion, the Research Department of Babson's Reports can only touch upon the highlights of "female economic power." But for all practical purposes it can be claimed that virtually every day is ladies' day in the stock market.
