103rd YEAR—Tuesday's graduation will be the 103rd in Northville's history and next September, Mrs. Metta Ambler, who has seen several members of her family receive diplomas from NHS, will be 103 years old. Her great grandson, Rick (in cap and gown), graduates Tuesday. Her daughter, Mrs. Leota Ambler (rear, left) was graduated in 1912; Rick's mother and father, Richard and Jean (left and right, foreground), both were graduated in 1939; and Rick's sisters Mrs. Diana Smeed (rear) and Nancy, now an MSU sophomore, were graduated in 1966 and 1970, respectively.

Mergraf Oil

Utilities Sought

A proposal to establish a special assessment district to permit extension of water and sanitary sewer lines to the Mergraf Oil Company property east of the railroad received council approval of intent Monday night.

Specifically, if the proposal becomes a reality, sewer and water lines would be extended from near the department of public works property to the northern edge of Mergraf's property.

Mergraf would, under this proposal, be required to pay for the total installation (estimated at $20,000) under a multi-year installment, with a provision for a payback of a portion of the cost as other properties tap into the line.

Major discussion at Monday's city council meeting concerned the kind and amount of effluent Mergraf would be dumping into the sanitary sewer.

It concluded with an agreement that no formal action is to be taken pending approval by the county, which operates the sanitary sewer system.

According to Jack Swain of Mergraf, installation of a sewer line will eliminate unsightly and hazardous holding ponds currently used by the company. These ponds hold water resulting from waste oil that Mergraf obtains from major industrial plants and then recycles.

This waste water, he emphasized, would necessarily have to meet the requirements of the county before it could go into the sewer. He saw no difficulty in meeting interceptor specifications.

Generally, councilmen were enthusiastic about Mergraf's request, particularly because it could enhance the possibility of industrial development of adjacent property.

In a related action, council also acted to begin proceedings to establish a special assessment district in the Center Street area, opposite the Bell Telephone station, for extension of water and sewer lines.

Six lots are involved. Besides authorizing the establishment of the district, council also authorized its engineers to begin work in engineering the proposed lines.

In another matter Monday, council was asked for but declined to give an informal position on a proposal to establish a party store on the Eight Mile cutoff, adjacent to the Boron Oil station at Taft and Eight Mile.

Instead, councilmen told Leslie R. Seeligson, attorney for a potential developer, that they could not properly advise him until after his site plan is considered by the city planning commission.

Specifically, Seeligson wanted to know if the council, after his client has obtained site plan approval from the planners, would approve a beer-wine license for the development.

During the discussion, councilmen did voice concern about access to and from Eight Mile road.

The property in question is presently zoned for commercial development, and all that is to be legally considered for development is a site plan.

In other action Monday, the council—

Bond, Mill Hikes On Ballot Monday

More than 2,000 of the 6,300 registered voters are expected to go to the polls Monday to cast ballots for three of seven school board candidates and vote on one county-wide and two local questions.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the board of education building, 303 West Main Street. Voters should use the rear entrance of the building.

Voting machines, instead of the usual paper ballots, will be used.

Issues on the ballot include one mill for an indefinite number of years to finance four Wayne County vocational-technical centers, a one mill for one year request for operation of the local district and a request for a $750,000 bond issue which will not require an increase in the debt levy.

The millage request to finance school operation is expected to bring the voters to the polls Monday, school officials say.

A 1.5 mill request and a $1.45-million bond issue were defeated April 8 by the voters. School officials placed the pared down bond issue on the June 12 ballot while citizens petitioned the board to put the

Can City Own Right-of-Way?

How can two street rights-of-way be vacated and still come under city ownership as park property?

This question was posed by Mayor A.M. Allen Monday as he directed the city attorney Monday to "find a way" to vacate Carpenter and Horton streets, between Maplewood and Hill streets, and yet retain city ownership.

Neither of the two streets exist except as rights-of-way in this block where the city owns several lots as open space-neighborhood park.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who has acquired permission from adjacent property owners to vacate the rights-of-way, recommended eliminating the street and alley rights-of-way to prevent the possibility of vehicular traffic eventually using them.

Ollendorff's proposal would leave an easement for pedestrian traffic, thus reserving walking and service access to the interior park area. The easement he has in mind would not permit installation of power utilities.

Councilmen concurred with Ollendorff's intent.

However, when the city manager explained that vacated rights-of-way automatically become the property of adjacent property owners, Mayor Allen protested.

Even though the land would remain as open space on which no construction could take place, it would be under private ownership. Allen contended the city should own the property, thus enlarging the park area.

Repeating that a way must exist in which the city can vacate rights-of-way and still retain ownership, he directed Attorney Philip Ogilvie to research the matter and report back to the council.

One suggested way to resolve the matter, it was explained, would be to vacate, thus giving ownership to adjacent property owners, and then have the property owners deed the vacated land back to the city.

Of Mizpah Circle

Mrs. Harold Dayton of South Lyon was installed as president of Mizpah Circle, King's Daughters, for a second term at the circle's annual picnic Tuesday afternoon at the Eight Mile Road home of Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr.

Serving with her will be Mrs. Ralph Simons, vice-president, Mrs. John Litsenberger, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Straub, treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Hammond, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Douglas Bolton, financial secretary.

This begins the circle's new year, with dues now payable. Mrs. Straub notes there will be no July or August meetings. Money-raising projects for the fall were planned.

Grosjean of Plymouth; Emil Schroeder of Garden City; and George Van Husen of Livonia. College administrators who work closely with the committee are Ron Griffith, left, community services director, and Dr. C. Nelson Grote, president.

Senior Citizen Needs Viewed

Special needs of the more than 15,000 senior citizens living in the Schoolcraft College District will be the focus of a survey to be conducted by the college during July.

many other sources as possible.

The major areas of concern identified for the study are medical care needs, social security, legal, and other retirement problems, nutritional problems, recreational needs and interests, educational needs and interests, transportation needs, and the whole area of effective use of leisure time.

Griffith said the college would help conduct the study and compile its results. He is hopeful that at least one program and possibly a number of new programs can be offered by Schoolcraft in the fall, based on survey responses.

Senior citizens comprise 9.7 percent of the population, nationally. In the newer suburban areas, such as the college district, the percentage is somewhat lower. Conservative estimates place the number of Schoolcraft area senior citizens at 15,000, but there could be more since the total population exceeds 250,000.

Hospital Director Gets MNA Post

Mrs. Theresa Dixon, R.N., director of nursing at Northville State Hospital since December of 1969 and formerly that hospital's director of nursing education, was elected president of the Detroit District, Michigan Nursing Association recently.

At the district's annual banquet at the Latin Quarter in Detroit, Mrs. Dixon said, in her acceptance speech, "The professional organization exists in the society. It is, then, this District Nurses' Association's responsibility to strive to bring about more professional solidarity among nurses in this area. Strengths inherent in a unified group of nurses can be mobilized and utilized to raise the standards of health, for all citizens."

Mrs. Dixon, a graduate of Grady Municipal Hospital School of Nursing in Atlanta, Georgia, holds master of science degrees in psychiatric nursing and in administration from Wayne State University. She has held numerous offices in nursing and allied health organizations.

Aim of the project is to determine if senior citizens have educational or other needs which Schoolcraft can provide or assist in providing. It is being co-sponsored by the Schoolcraft College Foundation and the University of Michigan's Institute of Gerontology.

Director of Community Services Ron Griffith said the idea for taking a comprehensive survey was proposed by members of an advisory committee recently appointed by Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote. Its function is to advise the college on ways it can better serve senior citizens.

Members of the advisory committee represent four cities within the college district: Mrs. Gladys Grosjean, Plymouth; Emil Schroeder, Garden City; Mrs. Richard Sharon, Northville, and George Van Husen, Livonia.

Mrs. Betty Andrews of Plymouth serves as an at-large member of the advisory group. She is a University of Michigan graduate student in the Institute of Gerontology. Carl Johnson of Northville serves as the Schoolcraft College Foundation representative to the committee.

According to Griffith, volunteer survey takers and workers headed by Mrs. Andrews will make personal contacts with individuals and groups to insure broad response to the poll. They will visit senior citizen social centers and nursing homes, meet with church groups and gather information from as

Residents Threaten K&B Shutdown

Already deluged with complaints from irate Village Oaks residents, the development firm of Kaufman and Broad found itself faced with yet another antagonist Monday as citizens from Lakewood, the condominium portion of the 640-acre Village Oaks complex, descended en masse on the Novi city council to request that the developer's license be lifted and all further construction be halted immediately.

In addition, William Winters, spokesman for the Lakewood group, informed the council that the residents have picketed the K&B sales office and are filing a law suit charging the developer with fraud and misrepresentation. Their complaints fell on receptive ears, and particularly receptive was Councilman Raymond Evans.

"Personally, I'm past the talking stage with Kaufman and Broad," Evans stated after listening to the complaints. "They've violated the building codes and they've violated plat approvals. It's getting so that K&B thinks they are bigger than the city."

Evans added that he was not responding specifically to appease Monday's large turnout which completely filled the council chambers and necessitated moving the meeting to the Community Building, but that he has had these feelings about Kaufman and Broad for some time.

The council took no direct action on the Lakewood requests. Many of the complaints involved contractual matters between the individuals and the developer and therefore are not liable to city jurisdiction. Complaints regarding violations of city ordinances would be just cause to shut K&B down, City Attorney Howard Bond advised the council, but should be documented in order to avoid legal retaliations.

Winters told the council that he would compile a list of all such violations and present them Monday to the council for its action.

According to one councilman, who chose to remain anonymous at this point, direct action could be forthcoming. In addition to Evans' vote, three other councilmen are ready to lift K&B's license, he said—four votes is a majority on the seven-man council. Essence of the Lakewood complaints is that Kaufman and Broad has failed to live up to its contractual agreements.

"When we were sold these condominiums," Winters told The Novi News Sunday, "we were told that we'd have air-conditioners, landscaping, sidewalks, frost-free refrigerators, and prompt attention to individual requests for repairs. Up until the last five days, I would say that almost 100 percent of those promises have been false."

Also irritating to the Lakewood residents is the matter of maintenance fees. "We're paying approximately $30 per month for maintenance," Winters added, "and there's been no maintenance. Until they finish the landscaping there's nothing to maintain, but we're paying for it anyway."

Representatives of Lakewood met with Kaufman and Broad President John Tedesco and Sales Manager Donald Alexander last week and received a verbal commitment to provide all the items that had been contracted for.

Work forces were substantially enlarged and the construction pace was increased, but the work was not completed by the deadlines set by the Lakewood representatives, resulting in the picketing of the sales office Sunday and Monday's appearance before the council, as well as the decision to proceed with the law suit.

Representing the condominium owners in their legal proceedings is Daryle Salisbury, an attorney as well as a Lakewood resident.

"There just haven't been any suits against condominium developers," Salisbury

PICKET LINE—Residents of Lakewood, the condominium portion of Kaufman and Broad's Village Oaks development, staged a protest Sunday at the developer's condominium sales office on Haggerty Road. Claiming Kaufman and Broad has failed to live up to its contractual agreements, the Lakewood residents attempted to influence potential buyers away from the development.

Kaufman and Broad

'We'll Take Care Of All Problems'

Kaufman and Broad - developers of Novi's 638-acre Village Oaks complex - has been the target of much abuse lately, and at least a portion of that abuse, they feel, is undeserved.

"We're building virtually a new city in Novi," says John Tedesco, 29 years old and President of the Michigan division of Kaufman and Broad. "When you develop an area as large as Village Oaks is you expect problems. We don't deny that there are problems out there, but we do deny that we don't care about them and have no intentions of taking care of them."

"The crux of the matter is that we have a huge investment in Novi. We have a vested interest in making Village Oaks pleased with us. We have a lot of houses to sell yet out there."

Criticism of developers is almost commonplace. But the dissatisfaction of Village Oaks residents with Kaufman and Broad has risen from a mere undercurrent of rumblings to the point where legal action is being threatened.

The rumblings surfaced last week in a front-page article in The Novi News and have steadily increased in crescendo ever since to the point where the Novi city council was asked Monday to suspend Kaufman and Broad's license until they have taken care of all outstanding complaints.

"The thing that really hurt," Tedesco said Friday referring to the newspaper article, "is that statement that we have a 'shoddy attitude' and don't try to solve our problems. I think it's unfair to say our attitude is 'junky.' We've spent untold hours and money in trying to take care of all the complaints as quickly as possible."

Complaints listed by Village Oaks residents in last week's Novi News article included drainage problems, faulty construction, and the overcrowding of the swimming pool and clubhouse as well as the lack of parks.

As evidence of their intentions to solve all problems, Kaufman and Broad point to their Complaint Department.

"We have four full-time people who do nothing all day long, five-days a week, but make certain people's complaints are resolved," said Robert Theison, executive vice-president of the Michigan Division.

When a complaint is submitted, an inspector is dispatched to the location to make a full investigation. If that complaint is deemed justified work orders are prepared in triplicate with one copy sent to the appropriate contractor, one copy placed on a large board indicating outstanding orders, and one copy filed into company records.

When the contractor completes the job, he has the homeowner endorse his work order and sends it back into the company.

"Any developer who has more than five work orders over two weeks old," explains Mrs. Jan Rubin, head of the complaint Department, "gets a delinquent tag and we hold up payment on all checks until he gets caught up."

"We know there will be construction complaints," says Theison, "and we've given a lot of thought to this service department. We haven't just gone about this thing in a helter-skelter manner."

If the Service Department has failed, K&B officials contend, it is due in part to the homeowners.

"We had a major problem with the chimneys and the city made us go in and change all of them," Theison reported. "The problem is that people don't report their problems to us, they go to the city. When the problem with the chimneys arose we didn't have a single complaint registered."

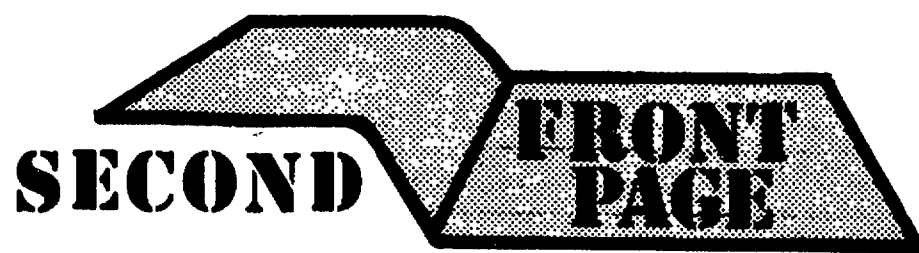

"We can't solve problems we know nothing about."

An unusually wet spring has hampered efforts to repair drainage and grading problems, claims Don McMullen, K&B's chief engineer.

"All the grading has been done to the specifications of Novi's city engineers (Johnson and Anderson)," adds Theison. "Our grading doesn't pass until J&A say so."

Again Theison admits that drainage problems exist. Last November Johnson and Anderson submitted a punch list of drainage items to be completed, but because the frost had already set into the ground work on the list had

Four Seek Seats In School Election

When voters of the Novi School District go to the polls Monday in the annual school election they will be choosing two board members from a slate of four candidates that includes an 18-year-old

No propositions are to be considered.

Names of eight candidates for six-year terms on the Oakland Community College board of trustees, however, will appear on the ballot.

Seeking election to two four-year posts on the Novi Board of Education are:

James T. Assemany III, 46400 10 Mile Road; William A. Moak, 22718 Chestnut Tree Way; Mrs. Sharon Pelchat, 41910 Aspen Drive, and LaVerne DeWaard, 22871 Gilbar Drive.

The latter two candidates are incumbents.

The seven nominees for the community college board of trustees include two incumbents, Lila R. Johnson of Huntington Woods and George R. Mosher of Birmingham, and the following five challengers:

Celia Chapin of Franklin, Dante DiVitto of Farmington, J. Harold Ellens of Farmington, Hope Frey of Bloomfield Hills, Rosemary Hull of Royal Oak, and William M. Lefell of Lathrup Village.

The two officials elected Monday will join five others on the seven member college board.

Of the candidates for the Novi board, Mrs. Pelchat and DeWaard are incumbents.

Mrs. Pelchat, a homemaker and current treasurer of the board, was elected to the board last June to fill the unexpired term of former board member Russell Taylor.

DeWaard, a business owner here, was elected to the board four years ago in 1968.

Assemany, an 18-year-old now attending Oakland Community College, is the first teenager in the history of the district to seek a board seat.

The other challenger, Moak, is associated with an insurance firm in Southfield. All four have been actively involved in local school functions in one form or another.

(Biographies and responses of candidates to questions put to them by this newspaper appear on Pages 6-A, 7-A).

The two candidates elected Monday will join five other members on the board, including:

Board President Gilbert Henderson, Vice-President Bruce E. Simmons,

Secretary Ray L. Warren, and trustees Robert W. Wilkins and William G. Ziegler.

Adopt '72-73 Budget

Over the objections of Councilmen Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry and with a minimum of citizen comment, the Novi city council adopted a record-high 1972-73 budget Monday.

Following a public hearing, the council by a 5-2 vote approved a general fund budget totaling $750,250, up from $666,250 in the current budget.

Also adopted were budgets for four individual city departments. In addition to the general fund budget, the council approved:

- A budget of $213,602 for the Department of Building and Safety, up from $151,600 last year;

- An operating budget of $82,050 for the Water Department, up from $71,225 last year;

- An operating budget of $52,260 for the Sewer Department, up from $45,700; and

- A total budget of $151,200 for the Highway Department (Department of Public Works), an increase of $36,200 over the 1971-72 budget of $115,000.

In presenting the budget City Manager George Athas pointed out that the city receives a relatively small percentage of the overall tax billing. "If you live in a $50,000 house," he told citizens at the hearing, "you only pay $162.50 per year for the operation of the city. The majority of your taxes go to support the schools."

The city levies 6.5 mills for operational expenses, .5 mills for the library, and an additional one mill, recently approved by Novi voters, for road construction and maintenance.

The 1972-73 budget was adopted without change from the one submitted by the city manager, although Councilman Presnell raised several objections. Thrust of Presnell's objections was that salaries in the city manager's department were too high and salaries in the builders department were too low

Novi High School

Grads Hear McDonald

Espousing a "renaissance of human values," United States Congressman Jack McDonald delivered the keynote address at the fourth annual Novi High School commencement ceremonies Tuesday night.

In a break with past procedure, the Class of 1972 received its diplomas outside on the High School Athletic Field. The 115 graduating seniors were presented their diplomas by Board of Education President Gilbert Henderson.

As Representative of the 19th Congressional District, McDonald flew in from Washington to address the graduation class.

"This is a very traditional evening," he told them, "but there is one important break with tradition this time. You are fully franchised citizens of this United States. High school graduates have always had responsibilities, but for the first time most of the graduating class of 1972 has rights as well."

"Your idealism must not be allowed to destroy the freedom which permits your idealism to exist. Dissent all you wish in your quest for a renaissance of human values, but protect with your life the enduring principles of honesty with your self and others, toleration for the ideas of others, and freedom for others to pursue their destinies."

The Reverend Leslie Harding of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church delivered the invocation. The benediction was said by the Reverend Charles Fox of St. John's American Lutheran Church.

Ceremonies began five minutes before eight o'clock as the high school band under the direction of Gordon Sailer played the class song - "We've Only Just Begun."

The seniors then entered to "Pomp and Circumstance," again played by the high school band.

permit construction of a bridge which will carry 10 Mile Road traffic over the future interstate 96 and 275 freeways.

The Grand River—10 Mile intersection will be posted for local traffic only, Simmons reported, and through traffic will be routed between Ten Mile and Grand River via Haggerty Road.

Voters will be faced with choosing two trustees for the Walled Lake Board of Education at the annual school election on Monday.

Election is for two four year terms. Seeking re-election is John C. Clark, currently president of the board, and Dwight L. Wiseman.

By NANCY DINGELDEY
Our congratulations to Wally Sprenger on being named Policeman of the Year. A large crowd was on hand last Saturday night at the VFW to honor the six policemen from the lakes area who had been nominated for the award.

Wally and his wife, Kathy, received a lovely trophy and citation along with a book containing letters from the Attorney General of the United States, Michigan's two U.S. Senators, the Governor and Representative Jack McDonald.

The two also will be enjoying a "night on the town" at the Elmwood Casino in Windsor later this month—a little added feature of winning the award.

A permanent plaque was given to Chief VonBehren to be installed in city hall. On display until next year will be the "traveling trophy". The city can be justly proud of Wally and of Gerry Pastula, who was also nominated.

I received some interesting news from Jack Pike, secretary-treasurer of the Kiwanis Club. It may require some early waking hours, but when the circus comes to town on June 24, you'll be able to see the circus set up from the ground up so to speak.

The schedule shows the troupe arriving in town between 7 and 7:30 a.m. What I'm really looking forward to is seeing the elephants pull the big top into position. Unfortunately, I've never been able to see a circus. I've been except in Cecil B. DeMille's "Circus" so I'm anxiously awaiting the day. Tickets for the circus are on sale at the Wixom Co-op. Why not purchase them early and save a little money at the same time? Proceeds go to a good cause and you can have a fun day at the same time.

Word comes from Finland that Marc Karell has been hospitalized with a kidney stone attack. Marc has been in Finland about a month readying an ocean-going sail boat for a voyage he and his wife Heidi plan for this summer. Heidi had planned on joining Marc later this month although her plans may be advanced because of his illness.

Today is the last day of school and for many parents this means trying to keep the kiddies occupied. It needn't be difficult thanks to several summer programs planned in the area.

Wixom Parks and Recreation has set up a recreation program geared to all boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 13. The program begins on June 19 and runs through July 28 at the Wixom Elementary School.

Hours are from 9 until noon and from 1 p.m. until 3. Sports, games, arts and crafts and field trips are being offered to Wixom youngsters free of charge. There will be a small fee for arts and crafts.

Beginning June 26, free tennis instructions will be offered at the City Hall courts for fifth through twelfth graders, on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Tuesday and Thursday is set aside for free golf instructions for the same age group at the Hickory Hills Golf Club.

The Walled Lake Community Schools is offering a day camp for youngsters 8 through 12 years old. The program will be held at the new Outdoor Education Center with bus transportation available.

Children will have the opportunity to participate in boating, horseback riding, swimming, archery, nature crafts and a wealth of other activities highlighted by an overnight camping experience. The first period runs from July 10 through July 21 with the second beginning July 24 through August 4.

Cost is $20 for district residents which includes all activities including food for the overnight and milk at each day's lunch. Campers will be expected to provide a sack lunch each day.

Also scheduled is a full program of swimming instruction offered at the Walled Lake Western Pool. The fee is $8 per child for a two week period covering everything from aqua-tots to senior lifesaving.

Other recreational activities are being offered throughout the district including baton and gymnastics. If you did not receive a blue brochure listing the various programs being offered, you may call the community education office at 624-0202 for further information.

Coming up... another production of the Interlake Masquers.

"Ring Around the Moon," a three act comedy by Jean Anouilh will be presented Friday and Saturday, June 16 and 17 at Western's E.V. Ayres Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door for $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 14.

The annual school election for the Board of Education is this Monday, June 12. Polls open at 7 a.m.

County to Ask 26 Prizes Set for Parade

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners plan to ask the voters to renew a one-mill operating levy in the August 8 primary election and to approve a half-mill construction levy in the November final election.

The board voted to put the two property levies on the election ballots at its June 1 meeting.

The proposal on the August 8 ballot will seek to renew an expiring one-mill levy for another five years. One mill equals $1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation, amounting to $5 per year on property worth $10,000.

Revenue from the levy totals about $12.5 million annually and helps finance operation of many county services, such as Wayne County General Hospital, the Child Development Center, courts, correctional facilities and parks.

"Renewal of this millage is the only way to avoid disastrous cutbacks in all county services," said Robert E. FitzPatrick, chairman of the Board of Commissioners. He added:

"We face a potential deficit of $12.5 million this year, and the Board of Commissioners already has imposed stringent austerity measures on all county departments. Further cutbacks would impose hardships on many thousands of people when they need service."

The one-mill was renewed once in 1968 and is due to be levied for the last time on December 1, 1973.

The half-mill levy (50 cents per $1,000 of equalized valuation) planned for the November ballot would be used for construction.

The Board of Commissioners did not accept a Ways and Means Committee recommendation that the levy be earmarked specifically for construction and staffing of correctional facilities and be continued for up to 25 years.

Duration of the levy and its specific purposes will be spelled out when the board adopts the actual ballot proposition prior to the November election.

Commissioners also approved, with minor reservations, the recommendations of a correctional needs study conducted by two consulting firms.

The study recommended construction of a new downtown jail to house 750 inmates by 1975 at a cost of some $21 million, and construction of additional jail facilities by 1980, bringing the total cost to about $40 million.

The Board of Commissioners has set a target date of next January 1 for the start of construction as a result of a Circuit Court order which virtually requires that new jail facilities be built.

At the June 1 meeting, the board also directed that bids be sought for the preparation of schematic drawings for the new downtown jail facility. The board plans to apply for federal omnibus crime control funds to pay for the drawings.

Twenty-six prizes and trophies will be awarded in eight categories in the annual July 4th parade sponsored by the Northville Jaycees.

Three cash prizes will be awarded to the best musical units in the parade.

Theme of this eighth annual parade, according to Parade Chairman Sam Hall, will be "America's Leaders in Review."

The parade will be held Tuesday, July 4th, beginning at 10 a.m.

The 12 mile parade route will again start and finish at Northville Downs, with Main, Rogers and Cady Streets being utilized as the parade route.

Area groups and organizations are invited to arrange to enter floats and other parade units by contacting Hall at 349-6593. There is no entry fee to participate, he said.

Parade units will be judged in the following categories:

Band, marching unit, musical group, float, antique automobile, equestrian and special unclassified judges awards. In addition, five ribbons will be awarded to the five best decorated bicycles participating in the parade. All parade units will be judged by a panel of community leaders, according to Judging Chairman Pat Dustin.

Prefer Single Book

Residents served by Michigan Bell in communities covered by the West and Northwest area telephone directories have indicated they prefer a single telephone book for their combined area.

John Peard, local Michigan Bell manager, said the company's statistical research group mailed questionnaires to representative samples of both residential and business customers in the West and Northwest communities asking their directory preferences.

Wixom Policeman Honored

Walter V. Sprenger, a sergeant in the Wixom Police Department, has been selected Outstanding Police Officer of the Year from the InterLakes area.

The announcement of the award was made Saturday at special banquet held at the Wixom V.F. W. Hall to honor the area's police officers.

Sprenger was selected from six other nominees for the honor by a panel of judges consisting of Thomas Plunkett, Oakland County O'Brien; and Oakland County Road Commissioner Fred Harris.

Presenting the award to Sprenger was Richard Stout, assistant to Secretary of State Richard Austin. Representative Clifford Smart presented citations to the other officers nominated for the honor.

Gene Schnelz, city attorney in both Wixom and Walled Lake, was the keynote speaker at the awards presentation.

Officers from Milford, Wolverine Lake, Wixom, Novi, and Walled Lake were eligible for the honor. In seeking nominees Program Director Arthur Cronin approached the chiefs of police of the communities involved and received their nominations.

Other nominees for the award were Ralph Fluhart of Novi, Gerald Pastula of Wixom, Alfred Galloway of Wolverine Lake, Ralph Smith of Walled Lake, and Raymond Clinard of Milford.

Sprenger has served with the Wixom Police force for the past five years. After serving three years in the United States Navy Shore Patrol, he enrolled in the Oakland County Police Academy in November of 1967. Sprenger returned to school in 1970 where he completed a 240 hour Criminal Investigation Course in 1970.

A patrolman until January of this year, Sprenger was promoted to the rank of sergeant in the Wixom police department reorganization and assumed the newly-formed duties of investigator. Sprenger, 29, is a Wixom resident. He is married and has two children.

For One 2-Year Term...

Chinni

ANGELO A. CHINNI
Age 40, born in Detroit, received BS degree in education, MA in philosophy from University of Detroit, studied at University of Michigan and Wayne State University, philosophy teacher at Schoolcraft Community College, taught seven years elementary level, eight years college, served in US Army, member NEA, AFT, married, four children, lives at 300 Sherrie Lane.

1. The proposal to require pre-payment of the total school tax would place a burden upon the taxpayers of the district, which is not proportionate to the suggested benefits. Several considerations are in order:
First, Taxpayers are already paying up to seven months in advance.
Second: I don't see how taxpayers will achieve a savings if they personally have to pay the interest instead of paying it through the school board.

Third: The idea that a taxpayer should pay in advance in order that the District can invest and accrue that interest instead of the taxpayer doesn't seem fair to me. There are already too many funds: pensions, social security, etc., where the individual loses out on the interest he could personally accrue to such investments.

2. The millage was defeated by a two to one margin. This is decisive. I appreciate the energy and efforts of many residents who have asked the community to reconsider their vote and we will have the response on June 12.

My own efforts will be directed towards the establishment of a budget which matches the community's will-to-pay. If the school board wishes to keep faith with the community and the confidence that elections demonstrate, it should set policies which are consistent with the will of the voters. In my opinion, you diminish the importance of the vote by continually re-scheduling elections until you get the results you want.

Bond issue. The bond issue will not result in the increase of the present tax rate. Voters should be aware that its defeat will be used as an argument to introduce compulsory year-round school, a plan which has been overwhelmingly rejected many times, in many ways.

3. The rejection of millage, implies the willingness to accept some inconvenience resulting from the necessary economy measures. One problem is the question of priorities. In the matter of priorities I will be guided by a survey which I am presently tabulating designed to obtain the voters' decisions and preferences in this sensitive area.

A detailed, line item review of the budget is also required, if sensible judgments are to be made. I do not have this detailed information, but it will be the first order of business for the new board member, since he has not had the volume of information available to incumbents.

4. Governor Milliken's tax reform plan will abolish property tax and substitute a flat rate income tax as a source of revenue for the schools. On balance, the flat rate income tax is a better index of the ability to pay than is the property tax. Consider the senior citizen who lives on a fixed income; the reform will be of great benefit to him. We all hope to be senior citizens—and so, one day, we will be able to experience the benefit. People who suffer a loss of income due to illness, unemployment, etc. will also benefit. Further, the inevitable inequity arising from unequal assessment of property values of various homes is, for the most part, averted. All reforms have disadvantages also, but the Governor's plan is more equitable than the existing property tax.

Age 30, born in Butler, Pennsylvania, received BS degree in education from Pennsylvania State University in 1962, taught

1. I favor the summer tax collection request in order that operating funds may be made available at the beginning of each fiscal school year. The board has demonstrated this action would save at least $25,000 in interest and short term investments would add $14,000 or more to the district's revenues.

The board of education is conducting an opinion poll on the community's attitude toward summer tax collection. This survey includes information about the economic advantages to the school district and the inconvenience for the taxpayer for the first year. I believe that this is representing the community responsibly and would like to encourage more issues to be faced in this manner.

2. I will vote "yes" on both requests. The district is experiencing a school population growth and will continue to do so. The bond issue will not raise the debt levy. It will provide the revenues to plan for district's future buildings; improve existing buildings and grounds; and equip the automotive laboratory in accordance with required safety specifications.

The one-mill request is a stop gap measure for one year in the face of fiscal reform. It is placed on the ballot at the request of citizens of the district who are concerned that the student activities, throughout the grades, be maintained. I believe this request to be in the best interest of each student.

3. Before a decision on the budget cuts can be made, I must know: (1) proposed budget, (2) total revenues including state aid.

Neither of these facts are known at present. When budget cuts are necessary, I believe the board must do everything necessary to match the community's objectives with the given budget. To assure this, the board must do everything possible including public meetings, impartial surveying, etc. The board must evaluate, with the staff, students and community, the value and effectiveness of all programs.

4. Unfortunately, the Michigan legislature has failed to present a fiscal reform proposal to the people, thus the vote is presented with several confusing petition drives. I cannot totally support Governor Milliken's proposal. True, it provides property tax relief, but it is not specific on replacement revenues.

I will support a fiscal reform proposal that is fair and equitable; provides specific sources of revenue; retains local control, relieves senior citizens with low fixed incomes of spiraling taxes and does not overburden low and middle income families.

children, lives at 18558 Jamestown Circle.

1. I am in favor of summer tax collection. This will enable the school system to better regulate and coordinate the budget to the advantage of the educational system of our community.

2. I am in favor of the 1-mill. A quality education costs money.
3. A general proportionate cut of all aspects of the program without any one particular part of the program being sacrificed for the needs of another, if the millage issue passes.

If the millage is defeated, I favor the same type of proportionate cuts.

4. I am for tax reform program on a graduated tax basis and the discontinuing of the present property tax system to finance the school program.

For Two 4-Year Terms...

Lysinger

RICHARD M. LYSINGER

Age 39, born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, received BS degree in transportation economics from Ohio State University in 1957, associated with Ford Motor Company for past nine years serving in capacities ranging from coordinator of multi-million dollar projects to management of the traffic department, currently is supervisor of operations planning, served five years on administrative faculty at Ohio State, served in finance corps in Korea with US Army, chairman of public relations for Northville Commons, president of Northville Commons bowling league, member Northville township fire committee, member Northville Newcomers Club, married, two children, lives at 41805 Banbury Road.

1. I agree with the current proposals made by Mr. Spear to switch to summer collection. However, since the district will receive two collections in a six month period, some portion of the one time savings should be rebated to the taxpayers.

2. I am in favor of the school district improving its bonding authority level. However, this does not imply that funds will immediately be spent. A thorough review of

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are the responses of the seven candidates for the Northville Board of Education to four questions put to them by this newspaper. Angelo A. Chinni, Sylvia O. Gucken and Robert Mandell are seeking a single two-year term; Richard M. Lysinger, Martin L. Rinehart, Orlo J. Robinson and Lynn A. VanderMolen are seeking two four-year terms.

The questions asked of the candidates were:

1. What is your position on the matter of summer school tax collection?
2. What is your position on the bond issue and the 1-mill request appearing on the June 12 ballot?
3. Since school officials have indicated that even the one additional mill will be insufficient to operate the system, what cuts do you propose (A) if the 1-mill passes and (B) if the 1-mill is defeated?
4. What is your position on Governor William Milliken's proposed tax reform measure as it concerns schools?

future requirements is lacking, in my opinion. I recommend this review receive top priority by the new board.

3. In the face of current State and Federal actions (busing, tax reform, etc.) I feel the voters recently have been saying through their rejections of millage requests something that the present board and administration have not responded to.

The key issue is not whether additional funds are necessary, and if rejected by the voters what cuts will be made. In my opinion, what the voters have been saying is: (a) Why have school costs been growing at a faster rate than other public and personal costs? and (b) Are we sure we're getting our money's worth from present expenditures?

These two questions must be answered before the voter should be asked for higher tax payments. I recommend the new board attack these two questions immediately and communicate the answers to the voters. At this point, I feel the district can continue the present quality of education with a limited amount of additional funds.

4. No response

Rinehart

Age 31, born in Denver, Colorado, received BS

degrees in civil engineering and business from University of Colorado, associated with Standard Oil Division of American Oil Company in Southfield, former treasurer Amerman PTA, former president of adult board of Cavern Teen Club, chairman of elementary school specifications committee, two-year co-chairman of the outdoor activities for the old PTA carnival, member advisory committee for recommended additions to Amerman school, member Steering Committee Experimental Year-Round School Program, member One Northville committee, served one year on Northville Board of Education, present secretary of Northville Board of Education, attends Northville First Presbyterian Church, married, two children, lives at 552 Reed.

1. Preliminary studies indicate that we would have $40,000 more for education in the first year if we have summer tax collection. I am in favor of summer tax collection, but I believe the citizens of the district must be told well in advance, so that proper financial arrangements can be made to increase escrow accounts or otherwise provide for the first year tax payment.

2. I am supportive of both the 1-mill request and the bond issue. While I believe the original request for 1½ mills is needed to continue programs at the same level, I believe we must be sympathetic to what the people have indicated they will support. The bond issue is needed to provide funds for repairs and/or additions to all the schools and to provide funds to purchase sites (Highland Lakes), and option other new sites to save our taxpayers money in future years.

3. If we are fortunate enough to pass a 1-mill increase, I believe that we can continue most of our programs at a reduced level; that is, such things as the budget for extra-curricular would be reduced to a one year, stop gap budget that would not provide for new equipment. In addition, we can investigate a 45-minute class period to allow for sixth hour instruction. This would require changes in our teacher contract.

If we are unable to obtain the 1-mill, drastic cuts will have to be made in all areas. Our class size will have to increase because of a reduction in teaching positions. Extra-curricular programs would have to be reduced severely or eliminated. Sixth hour of education would have to be eliminated.

One should remember that projected budgets are based on the best information available at the time. Only time will tell how accurate the projections of revenue and expense have been.

4. I sincerely believe that educational tax reform is needed; it is becoming increasingly difficult to run schools under the present system of financing. I do not agree in total with Governor Milliken's proposal, because I believe it weakens the concept of local control of schools. If the state acts as it has in the recent past, we will still be uncertain of the financial assistance we would receive each year. I would favor tax reform that is a combination of income and property tax that provides that a mill levied in one district provides the same revenue as a mill levied in another district.

Robinson

ORLO J. ROBINSON, M.D.
Age 50, born in Ypsilanti, received BS degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1912, MD degree from Wayne State University College of Medicine in 1946, practices family medicine at Doctors Clinic at 501 West Dunlap where began practice when he moved to Northville

25 years ago, member of St. Johns Episcopal Church in Plymouth, member Michigan State Medical Society, Washtenaw County Medical Society, Detroit Conservation Club, St. Mary hospital staff, Lost Lake Woods Hunt Club, fellow of American Academy of Family Practice, served past four years on Northville Board of Education, married, four children, lives at 718 West Main Street.

1. I favor summer tax collection. The first year's increase in costs will be a temporary hardship but the long term savings should offset this temporary disadvantage.

2. It is absolutely essential in my opinion as well as the unanimous opinion of the school board that both the bond issue and the 1-mill request pass. I hope the majority of our clear thinking citizens will support this position on June 12.

3. The citizens' committee that initiated the petition drive for putting the 1-mill on the June 12 ballot has indicated its desire for us to maintain the full school program on the 1-mill. I feel it should be our objective to do precisely that if it is at all possible.

If defeated, I feel we would be forced to make the cuts previously announced by the board but tabled pending outcome of repeat millage election petitioned by 1,147 citizens of our community.

4. I agree that school financing needs updating and change; however, I would like to know precisely what the changes will be before I give my unqualified support and approval. Also, I hope local control can be maintained. Changing to income tax for school financing will have a number of benefits. Two of the major ones are (1) property tax relief for retirees and other persons on fixed income, (2) provide a vehicle for financial support of schools in depressed areas to promote equality of education.

LYNN A. VANDERMOLEN

Assemany, has three brothers and two sisters, has been employed for more than a year at Aero and Auto Stud Company of New Hudson and formerly was employed at Meyers Jewelry Company in Livonia, unmarried, he lives at 46400 10 Mile Road.

1. I am for split school tax collection for three reasons:

A. Because it gives the taxpayers a break in paying their taxes. With split school tax collection the taxpayer can pay half of his school tax in January and the other half in August, thus making it easier on the taxpayer.

B. Split school tax collection gives schools money in the fall when money is needed to purchase materials for the beginning school year.

C. Split school tax collection would save the schools money. In August the schools have to borrow money to purchase materials for the coming school year. Schools have to pay interest on the borrowed money. With split school tax collection schools would not have to borrow and pay interest.

2. I feel that Governor William Milliken's proposed tax reform is a step in the right direction. Schools need a different way to finance them. Property tax is no longer an ample way to obtain money to run a sound school budget. I am not sure if Governor William Milliken's is the best way to finance schools, but I do not have a better way as yet. There are many advantages and disadvantages to the tax reform measure, but it is a sure thing that something must be done to help the school systems.

3. I personally am against cross-district busing or any form of busing for the purpose of integration. In my opinion a good alternative to cross-district busing, would be to take the money that would be put forth to furnish buses and bus drivers, and put that money into the schools which are supposed to be in poor shape in construction and education. And in doing so, set a standard that all schools must meet or exceed. This standard should be set so that when met by all schools, it will put schools on a level comparable to each other.

4. No, I feel the school should not accept an assessment for Taft Road, because they money that the school has, has come from the taxpayer for the purpose of education. That money is used for building, maintaining, and operating the schools. The only way I can see putting money out for a road would be if the road were a driveway on school property. I feel we would be robbing the students of money that could better their education if the school accepted an assessment for the improvement of Taft Road.

Green Post 117 of Northville, married, has two children, lives at 2287 Gilbar Drive.

1. Yes, I am in favor of a split tax collection. When thousands of dollars can be saved the taxpayers by not having to borrow on notes issued by the district, I say then every effort should be made to save these dollars. The school board has agreed to pay the city the cost of administering this collection but as yet nothing has been resolved. The people of this

1. What is your position on the matter of split school tax collection?
2. What is your position on Governor William Milliken's proposed tax reform measure as it concerns schools?
3. What, in your opinion, is a good alternative to cross-district busing?
4. Do you believe the school should accept an assessment for improvement of Taft Road? Why?

school district have voted in favor of a split tax collection so why hasn't it been done?

2. I am not in favor of his or any other (Dem-MEA) proposal as it is written. That is why the committee which I serve on drew up a tax reform proposal for financing public education so that the Michigan School Board Association could have something acceptable to present to the people of our legislative bodies in Lansing. I do not believe in ZERO millage on property for the support of local schools for by doing that the people would lose all local control to the State. I feel that local school districts by the vote of the people should be allowed to levy taxes up to an X amount for the operation of their schools. This way they will still have a voice in the education of their children.

3. I will do everything possible for the people of this school district and any other district to prohibit the busing of our children out of the district for their day to day educational instruction. While we may be busing now out of the district this is only for special education and vocational education. That will be the limits. You ask for a good alternative, I have none and no one else has one, and if we did we would be in Lansing or Washington on a different level.

4. My position has always been that Novi Community Schools should not obligate themselves to an assessment of the improving of Taft Road. The money that has been given to schools by millage proposals should used only for that use, be it land purchases, buildings-equipment- or the general operation of the schools. Educational monies are hard to come by. The people are being taxed their limits and no relief is made up by the state. Federal, state, and local governments do not pay taxes on property they own to any local school district, so why should the local school districts have to assume any assessments that is not directly connected to the operation of their school district.

1. I am completely in favor of split-school tax collection. As a businessman, it does not make sense to me for the Novi Board of Education to borrow money and pay interest when funds are available at no additional cost to the taxpayer

2. It is true that the property tax as a method of school funding is discriminatory because poorer districts with less property value will generate less tax than wealthy districts at equal tax rates. Governor Milliken's proposal to eliminate property taxes in favor of an increase in state income tax and a value added tax on business seems to me to be the best solution to date.

3. I believe an alternative to cross-district busing is a revision of school financing. Governor Milliken's proposed tax reform will equalize school districts financially resulting in equal educational opportunity. This will eliminate one of the major reasons for cross-district busing.

4. No. I believe school funds are for building, equipping and operating the schools, not for building roads. Although I am 100-percent in favor of the road improvement program now planned for Novi, I am also 100-percent in favor of improvement of our school system and I do not believe tax dollars earmarked for schools should be used to improve roads. Not only is the school exempt from assessment by state law, but also tax dollars collected in the Novi School District would be used to benefit all Novi residents, some whose tax dollars are going to finance other school districts.

Pelchat

SHARON L. PELCHAT

Age 37, born in Detroit, incumbent school board member, currently serving as Novi's representative to Task Force 28 at Oakland Schools, member of committee studying cross-district busing, member of Novi United Methodist Church where she teaches Sunday School, member Orchard Hills Booster Club, Novi Athletic Booster Club and Novi Rebekah Lodge 482, married with four children, she and her husband, Roger, a builder, live at 41910 Aspen Drive.

1. I wholeheartedly support collection of local property taxes in July. We currently collect property taxes in January which necessitates borrowing money to balance the first six months of the budget. The interest on the borrowed money this past year was about $9,000 which is a cost item to our taxpayers. Most of this could be saved by July collections. I would be willing to have the Board of Education underwrite the city's additional cost of posting the tax rolls twice a year.

2. This is a complex question with many different proposals before the people of this state. We recognize and I support a need for more state funding of public education. This must be done quickly with the local board of education maintaining its present level of control. I do not support total elimination of the local property tax, but would like to see it greatly reduced so local citizens can enrich their district's programs by adding local money to the level of state aid.

3. Personally I'm opposed to cross-district busing, as I'm convinced by research, that the education of all youngsters will not be enhanced. I resent public education being used as a tool to solve our society's ills. This is a broadly based problem as it is an economic concern, not an educational or racial question. To solve the dilemma it would seem prudent to increase state funding of education in the more disadvantaged districts.

Also, communities in all major metropolitan regions should encourage even distribution of all levels of economic housing so as not to force the poor or upper income families to concentrate in give regions.

4. I feel we as a board should give some money for the improvement of Taft Road. I realize the school traffic is quite heavy on that road, but is also heavy on some subdivision roads. If we start spending money in road repair, I'm afraid we will lose sight of what we are in business for—and that is to educate our children.

I appreciate this opportunity to express my views on a few issues. Keep in mind that questions 2 and 3 are out of the jurisdiction of the local board of education. If I'm re-elected it will be a great opportunity for me to serve our children in providing them with the best education that our tax dollars can provide.

According to police, Hibbard was stopped at a red light in front of a patrol car at North Center and Dunlap streets. Police said he waited until the light turned amber before proceeding through the intersection, drove his car over the curb and struck a utility pole.

Hibbard received mouth and facial injuries but refused medical treatment. He also declined breathalyzer tests, police said.

Novi OKs New Budget

Presnell's contentions were supported by Councilman Berry. Referring specifically to the proposed salary of $19,400 plus $150 per month in automobile expenses for the city manager, Berry said, "I don't think the city can afford a $20,000 city manager. We were asked to consider an austere budget and I think we've been pretty austere everywhere except when it comes down to the city manager's department."

Last year's budgeted salary for the city manager was $17,000.

Both Presnell and Berry stressed that their objections were in regard to the position itself and in no way involved specific personalities.

Other members of the council supported leaving the manager's salary as originally proposed. "If we're going to keep good personnel within the city and prevent other cities from banding our good employees away," said Councilman Louie Campbell, "we're going to have to pay them to stay."

Whereas Presnell and Berry proposed lowering the city manager's salary, they suggested raising the salaries of the employees in the building department. Spurred by a rising tide of citizens complaints about violations of building codes and a substantial increase in construction, the two councilmen urged that the building inspector's salaries be raised from $11,500 as originally budgeted to $12,000 and the building department director be boosted from $15,000 to $15,500.

The proposed rates were too low, they argued, to attract qualified personnel to the city to fulfill the rising demands in man-hours in the department.

Mayor Joseph Crupi supported the pay hikes, but the remainder of the council remained firm on the figures as originally proposed, claiming the fringe benefits, such as a city car, sufficiently raised the base salaries.

Property taxes are expected to produce $504,400, up from $439,385 last year. In addition the city expects some $22,750 in revenue from township properties annexed to the city last week. Other major sources of income for the general fund are $170,150 in state shared revenues and $16,500 in a federal employment program.

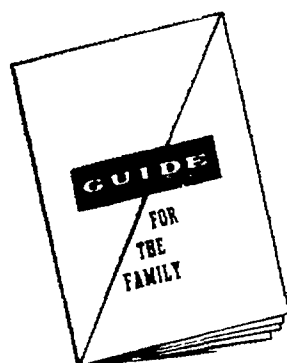

Biggest outlay in the operation of the city goes to the police department where $362,405 in revenues will be directed, an increase of $42,000 over the last fiscal year.

The police department receives approximately 45 percent of the total general fund budget.

Other proposed general expenditures by broad categories, compared to last year's proposed expenditures, are:

Mayor and council, $5,000, down from $6,500; clerk's department, $23,000, down from $29,650; clerk's department for elections, $9,280, down from $9,300; manager's department, $40,000, up from $21,430 (the increase reflects a shifting in department personnel and responsibilities); assessing department, $44,945, up from $43,650; board of review, $750, up from $550; planning board, $11,750, down from $15,000; treasurer's department, $21,500, down from $25,700; controller's department, $25,410, up from $23,725; city hall and other buildings, $16,250, down from $27,965; department of public works - non-highway, $31,640, down from $42,660; fire department, $86,535, down from $93,630; and parks and recreation department, $9,500, up from $7,000.

A DOLLAR'S WORTH—Reverend Guenther Branstner of Northville United Methodist Church poses with a display of staple foods at the church altar. The 300 pounds of food were borrowed last week from Kroger's to illustrate to his congregation how much a dollar "buys" for Bangladesh relief. He explains that the food sent is government surplus and shipping is subsidized. In the fund appeal the two weeks prior to his display, the Reverend Branstner says, $25 was collected. With the display, $120 was donated.

Re-elect Chief BeGole

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole has been elected to a fourth consecutive term as president of the Metropolitan Police Academy.

BeGole was one of the founders of the Academy in 1961 when it was formed to provide training for suburban police officers when the Detroit Police Academy excluded all but city recruits. He is the only man to serve more than one year as Academy President.

The Metropolitan Police Academy was the first in Michigan for training suburban police cadets. Today there are 12 academies, but the Metropolitan remains the largest.

Other officers of the Academy for the 1972-73 year are Warren Police Chief Charles Grosbeck, vice-president and Clawson Police Chief Frank Cribb, treasurer-secretary.

Members of the Board of Directors were also elected. They are Wyandotte Chief Marion Jezewski, Livonia Police Chief Robert Turner, Chief Carl Faulk of Port Huron, East Detroit Police Chief Arthur Zato, Southfield Police Chief Milton Sackett, Pontiac Chief of Police William Hanger, and Royal Oak Police Chief Jim Soule.

Knots and sap streaks in wood: they look beautiful but they demand special treatment. For example, never try to paint over these knots and streaks until you have used some sort of sealer. Otherwise, your paint job will eventually be spoiled by brown marks left from bleeding of these knots and streaks. Your paint may peel too. Shellac is as good a sealer as any. Use it to touch up the wood before you try to paint.

Before you begin any touch-up or repair jobs, get your supplies and materials from NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220. ## Name Stefanski Vice-Chairman

Fred Stefanski of Northville, Schoolcraft College dean of arts and sciences, has been elected vice chairman of the Michigan Engineering - Community College Liaison Committee, which held its charter meeting at Traverse City the middle of May.

The organization has been formed to coordinate engineering programs throughout Michigan so that students who take their first two years of engineering in community colleges may transfer to any of the state's four-year engineering colleges as juniors with the maximum amount of credit.

Representatives from the 29 public community colleges, nine engineering colleges, and the state board of education constitute the committee.

Serving with Dean Stefanski as officers of the new organization for the 1972-73 academic year are Dr. William J. David, assistant dean of Engineering at Wayne State University, Chairman, and Dr. John Polomsky, Michigan State University College of Engineering, secretary.

The liaison committee will meet three times a year, in one general session and in two task-force meetings at various college campuses to work on specific assignments.

K&B-'We'll Solve Problems'

legally to be delayed until this spring

Once the ban was lifted, the Novi area experienced unusually heavy spring rains and it was impossible to move in the heavy equipment required to fix the grades without doing more damage than good, K&B claims.

Still, they claim that 90 percent of the punch list has been completed and Tedesco emphasizes that there is no question that it will be completed in entirety.

"I have ten different grading contractors out there on a full time basis," he says, "I don't think we can be faulted on the amount of work we've done this spring."

Economics play an important role in Kaufman and Broad's plans for club house facilities. Tedesco admits that for some 1,100 families to be served by one club house and one swimming pool may be overestimating the potential capacity of the facility

"We're considering the possibility of a clubhouse for the single family residents south of Nine Mile," he says. "But we're not categorically committed to having one south of Nine Mile any more than we're categorically committed not to have a clubhouse and pool south of Nine Mile."

"The question is at what point does it become economically feasible to put up a three-quarter of a million dollar facility. In my own mind that point is 200 houses. If I was sure we would sell 200 houses south of Nine Mile I think I could proceed with the authorization of a club house."

"But," he adds, "if we only sell 50 houses over there I'd lose my shirt installing a facility of that size."

Preliminary site plans call for almost a 50-50 split of the single family residences north and south of Nine Mile Road. If Tedesco proceeded to authorize the new clubhouse and pool, it would go a long way to relieve the projected congestion in the existing facility.

The point that Tedesco and Theison emphasize time and time again in their discussion is that K&B has a vested interest in Novi. "We're there to stay. We have a lot of houses to sell and it behooves us to make the present residents happy with our performance."

"We know we have problems, but we're working hard to correct them," says Tedesco. "We're always ready to meet with people who have complaints and resolve the difficulties. We're prepared to do everything we've said we'd do."

"It's a convincing presentation."

But Village Oaks residents say they've heard it all before. "What you hear and what you get," say Kaufman and Broad's critics, "are two different things."

Northville Officers Installed

Dennis Dildy Heads Jaycees

Dennis Dildy, 29, of 355 Orchard, was installed as president of the Northville Jaycees Friday night at a dinner and inaugural ball in Detroit.

And as his first official act in the post, he installed the remaining officers and members of the board of directors.

Ron Reitenour, internal vice-president; Larry Szuh, external vice-president; Harvey Tull, treasurer; Rex Spencer, secretary; Sam Hall, director of Ways and Means; Tom Walts, internal director; Arlan Westling, director of community involvement; and Dave Pevovar, director of youth and sports community involvement.

Following the dinner Friday, the Jaycees and

DENNIS DILDY

Jaycettes presented their annual awards recognizing outstanding members who devoted unusual time and service to the community during the past year.

Award winners were: Jaycee of the Year, Dildy; Spoke of the Year, Rex Spencer; Sparkplug, Pete Magnan; Standing Committee Chairman of the Year, Robert Foster for drug abuse; and Key Man of Year, Douglas Loomis.

Special honors and recognitions were paid the immediate past presidents of the Jaycees and Jaycettes, Richard and Sharon Rayborn, a husband-wife team.

The two received a personal gift as well as proclamations of outstanding service from officials of both the city and township of Northville.

The new president expressed his appreciation for being chosen to lead the Jaycees for the ensuing year and gave an inaugural address titled, "The Keys to Success."

Dildy emphasized that the growth of the community means more opportunities for Jaycees to provide leadership training through community involvement. He noted that one-third of the newly elected Jaycee officers live in Novi while another one-third come from the Kings Mill area—both representing large new developments.

A special educator of emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children at Hawthorn Center, Dildy also serves as director of probation and chief probation officer for the 35th District Court.

Married, with two children, he joined the Northville Jaycee chapter in 1968. He was appointed external director in 1969 to fill a vacancy, and in 1970 was elected external director in charge of community relations and ways and means.

Last year he was elected external vice-president, in charge of all external portfolio, including ways and means.

Since joining the Jaycees he has been chairman of many of its special projects.

Among the honors he has received are: Jaycee Outstanding Young Man Award in 1969; Top Ten Michigan Jaycee Sparkplug Award in 1971; District 30 Speakup winner in 1972; Michigan Jaycee State Mental Health chairman 1970-71; and during the past year he was named as an awards judge by State President Pat Sheridan.

Mr. Gordon Rutan, Detroit, stated he had come to the Council to express concern about the credentials of the developers of this property. City Manager Ollendorff stated this rezoning action was only the first step in the development, serious questions on the type of financing, the architecture, and the developers would be dealt with as the project is submitted.

for site plan and building approval. Mayor Allen pointed out that he felt the rezoning provided for the highest and best use of the property.

Councilman Rathert called the question.

City Attorney Ogilvie presented a Resolution directing the City Clerk to publish a notice of intent to issue bonds in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars for the purpose of defraying the special assessment district's share of the cost of acquiring and improving public parking in the City, in compliance with the requirements of Section 5(g) of Act 273, Public Acts of Michigan, 1969, as amended.

May 31, 1972

Mayor Allen called the special meeting of the Northville City Council to order at 8:10 p.m. on Wednesday, May 31, 1972, at the Northville City Hall.

ROLL CALL. Present, Allen, Biery, Folino, Vernon, Rathert.

Present in the Council Room were Messrs. John Burkmann, John Canterbury, Francis Gatzley, and Thomas Wheaton.

BIDS FOR 1972 POLICE CARS. City Manager Ollendorff recommended accepting the one bid submitted. He said other dealers contacted could not submit bids because it is too late in the model year to accept orders, and that repair costs on the two cars to be replaced were mounting.

Moved by Councilman Folino, supported by Councilman Vernon, to let the bid for two 1972 Police Cars to John Mach Ford Sales, Inc., Northville, for $3,510.27 each, less $525 each for trade-ins.

Unanimously carried. MILL POND SITE PLAN REVIEW. City Manager Ollendorff stated that throughout the twenty-year talks with Ford Motor Company to acquire the Mill Pond Site, it has been only recently that plans have included provisions for the placement of historic buildings. He advocated a compromise between open spaces and historic preservation areas.

Mr. John Canterbury traced the history of the negotiations to acquire the land, and emphasized that the property has not yet been deeded to the City.

Mr. Francis Gatzley pointed out that the nature of the entire project has produced some misunderstandings about the ownership of the land and its usage.

Councilman Vernon stated that it is the intent of the City to retain jurisdiction and control over the site after it is deeded over to the City. Mr. John Burkmann and the Historic Society is very concerned about protecting the buildings from vandalism.

Mr. Thomas Wheaton, Chairman of the Planning Commission, stated that the Commission had accepted the recommendation of the Historical Society for the placement of the historic buildings, but that site plan approval must wait until the property is deeded to the City. Final approval will be at the Council level.

After considerable discussion, Council recommended the historic buildings be placed closer to Griswold Street to allow for better protection and to provide open spaces.

APPROVAL OF BILLS. The bills for the month of May 1972 were discussed in detail, including the value of the semi-annual audit. Council requested that the city manager provide certain total project costs, and a breakdown of legal fees in two instances.

Councilman Biery moved, supported by Councilman Vernon, to pay bills in the following amounts:

GENERAL FUND DEBTS $59,607.64
LOCAL STREET DEBTS $5,358.10
MAJOR STREET DEBTS $4,707.42
PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT FUND DEBTS $74,798.41
TRUST AND AGENCY $3,187.46
WATER FUND DEBTS $11,576.75

Unanimously carried. HORTON STREET EXCAVATION PROJECT. On the recommendation of City Manager Ollendorff, it was moved by Councilman Biery, supported by Councilman Folino, to place the Horton Street Excavation Project on the Agenda.

Unanimously carried. Based on the facts that the city manager has contacted three local contractors and Council is satisfied that no benefit will be derived to the City from going out for sealed bids, it was moved by Councilman Biery and supported by Councilman Folino, to waive sealed bids for the Horton Street Excavation Project.

Unanimously carried. Moved by Councilman Folino, supported by Councilman Vernon, to contract with Stephen J. Keenan to excavate Horton Street at $2.40 per yard, the City to receive all excavated material.

Unanimously carried. There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Next Monday, a second attempt will be made to win voter support for operating millage and a bond issue for the Northville public school system.

Both proposals failed in April; both have been reduced in an effort to reverse the result; both are important to the present and future welfare of the local schools.

In these days of high property taxes, uncertainties involving education ranging from busing to tax reform coupled with normal taxpayer opposition to any tax hike a smart gambler would never risk any cash betting on the success of these requests at the polls.

But a concerned group of citizens and a conscientious board of education are hoping the odds-makers can be upset.

The stakes are important in Northville, or any community, where education plays such a vital role in the lives of both parent and youngster.

Last April the board asked for a 1.5 mill hike for one year to maintain school operations at their present level. The proposal was soundly defeated, 889-585.

In the minds of those closest to school affairs the defeat left little hope that a second attempt to win passage could succeed. So cuts, mostly in the area of extra-curricular activities, were proposed.

But a hastily-organized citizens' group collected more than 1,100 signatures on petitions calling for a request for a one-mill increase for one year for operating expenses.

Admittedly, they reasoned, this may not be enough to avoid some cuts, but hopefully the belt-tightening will not be so severe and will not eliminate one complete aspect of the school educational program, such as varsity athletics, debate, cheerleading, a sixth hour, etc.

The board has made no promises. Obviously, it must maintain the position that 1.5 mills are needed, otherwise it would have sought just one mill initially.

But one mill is better than none.

Undoubtedly, there are many reasons why voters denied the first request. Some simply cannot afford to pay more taxes. Others do not believe that the board needs more money to maintain the present level of school operation. Others are angry and concerned over recent court decisions involving busing between districts to achieve racial balance and they are demonstrating their protest at the polling place.

Yet, it is unrealistic to believe that a "NO" vote will serve to solve any of these objections.

Admittedly, the chief function of a school program is to educate; but anyone who would maintain that the candy-coating of extra-curricular activity isn't an important part of the learning medicine has forgotten his school days.

The pursuit of hobbies, the competition of debate and athletics, the feeling of participation create a spirit that inspires many youngsters to achieve in all areas of school life.

Without this spark interest and desire could be reduced or die entirely.

And who would want to predict that a community without a full program of extra-curricular activities in its school system would not have greater problems and expenses on its hands?

Or would one suggest that the board profits from seeking more tax dollars? Would any person sitting on a school board today want to propose a tax hike to his fellow citizens if he could avoid it?

But if he accepts his responsibility to provide the community with a quality educational program, can he do otherwise?

And, finally, what have we gained in the form of an "anti-busing protest" (if this is a reason for some of the "NO" votes) by diminishing the quality and endangering the welfare of our own local school district?

Perhaps, Northville school district voters will reverse themselves next Monday. Maybe their protest has been recorded and now they will provide what is needed to continue normal operations.

If so, it will be an upset victory, and one that will preserve an ingredient that has long made Northville the kind of town that so many people have chosen as "a good place to raise a family".

Proposition Two on next Monday's ballot will not increase taxes. It will permit the school board to sell bonds to obtain money for school renovation, elementary site acquisition and site options, architectural fees and various improvements to existing buildings.

Originally, the board had requested $1.45 million for its present and future building plans. This proposal came much closer to passing than the millage request, probably because it doesn't boost taxes.

Now the request has been reduced to $750,000. It still includes the purchase of one elementary site and the renovation of several buildings and facilities, but includes money for future site options rather than enough for acquisitions.

If we are to provide space for the growing school population, we must plan for the future. The money is needed; the growth is already on us. State-financed bonding permits such loans to be retired by maintaining the same millage now levied for building programs.

Thus Proposition Two will not add new taxes, yet it is essential for the board to obtain taxpayer support if a program to provide necessary classroom space for students is to be accomplished.

Vote "YES" on both Proposition No. 1 and No. 2.

Voters will also find a special "Proposal A" on Monday's ballot seeking a one mill limit to operate vocational-technical educational programs in the Wayne-Oakland-Monroe-Washtenaw counties' area.

Four vocational-technical training centers are proposed (one near Plymouth) to train junior and senior high school students in some 40 different occupations.

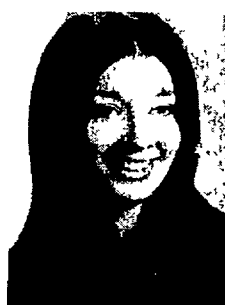

Unlike such programs now offered at the college level (Schoolcraft, for example) these centers would be strictly for high school youths, particularly those who do not seek further education after high school.

It is proposed to build and operate the facilities on a maximum one-mill levy in the four-county area.

It has been pointed out that the high school drop-out rate is increasing and that about 35 per cent of the youngsters in the Northville system who graduate do not seek further education. A voc-tech program could reduce the drop-out rate and provide youths with job skills.

Some 20 per cent of Northville's junior and seniors would be eligible for the vocational program while continuing to take basic subjects at the high school.

The program has the support of the Northville board of education and should also be given voter approval.

YES...

The old terminology of dating is definitely behind us. Very rarely does the male of our species find enough courage to pick up the phone, or more rare yet, to come face to face with a girl and ask the question, "Would you like to go out this week-end?"

It seems to be much more common these days to find a carload of girls and a carload of boys headed in the same direction. These segregated groups eventually end up at a party in someone's house or an open field whichever the case may be.

Eventually, couples finally begin to pair up and one is usually not driven home by the same party who picked them up.

Also—at least around our school—it seems the "going steady" fad has declined. Students seem to be more independent today and do not find the idea of going steady as appealing to them as the liberties of being unattached.

I enjoy being around many different people and feel much more comfortable around many people in an atmosphere where the stuffy "pleases and thank yous" of formal dates are absent.

However, it would be nice to just once have someone say to you, "Would you like to go out to dinner and then catch a flick?" and end up somewhere other than McDonald's and a living room with a color T.V.

Speaking For Myself

Dating Outdated?

KEVIN HESSE

NO...

Not only do I believe that dating is still in style, but I feel that this custom is necessary to future generations to come.

It is one of the best times of a young person's life. It gives a young man the opportunity to accompany someone he likes, to protect, and to show affection. It gives a young woman a chance to accept or decline, to be accompanied, to be protected, and to show affection in return.

There are so many places to go, and things to do available to today's young people. Most young men have good transportation at their fingertips. With all that there is to do, there is no reason why dating cannot be a modern, stimulating, and exciting experience.

People actually need dating. It provides the machinery for young men and women to be with each other—which eventually leads to a life-long companionship. Dating provides fun and it is a constructive channel for the emotions of young people.

Dating can offer someone a challenge, laughter, heartbreak, and many pleasant memories. I really cannot believe that something that offers so much, can ever be called out of style.

In Northville

Robinson, Rinehart And Gucken

Four candidates seek two four-year terms, and three seek a single two-year term on the Northville Board of Education in Monday's annual school election.

All seven are competent, in this newspaper's judgment, and are to be complimented for volunteering their services in the education of our children.

Nevertheless, three of the candidates, in our opinion, have the added credentials that set them apart from the others.

Carrying our strong support are incumbents Dr. Orlo Robinson and Martin Rinehart, and Mrs. Sylvia Gucken. Robinson and Rinehart are running for four-year terms, Mrs. Gucken for the two-year term.

The two incumbents have impressed us with their performance, as they have others of the relatively few who regularly watch and listen as the board deliberates and reaches its decisions twice monthly.

They are intelligent, reasonable members whom we are proud to support.

(Three propositions also will appear on Monday's ballot. See Speaking for Myself elsewhere on this page.)

Of the two other four-year candidates we are impressed, too, with R. M. Lysinger, a relative newcomer to our community. He offers the kind of qualifications that would benefit any board of education. If we were not so convinced by the proven performance of the two incumbents, this newspaper would not hesitate in giving Lysinger its endorsement.

Mrs. Gucken, who did not receive this newspaper's support in her bid for election a year ago, impresses us because, unlike some candidates, she has shown a continual interest in the school system.

By frequently attending board meetings and by otherwise actively participating in school matters following her defeat a year ago, she demonstrates that her interest is not a transient one.

We hope all of the losers in Monday's election will follow Mrs. Gucken's lead by continuing their active interest in the school system and try again for election another year.

In Novi

DeWaard, Pelchat

Novi school voters face, we believe, the fortunate dilemma of trying to pick the best two of four good candidates for the board of education.

Both incumbents have served admirably and the two challengers are well qualified. All of them share a common, involved interest in providing the best possible education for children.

Thus, we are convinced Novi residents will be well represented with the election of any one of the four candidates: James Assemany, William Moak, Mrs. Sharon Pelchat, or LaVerne DeWaard.

Although we have no strong preferences, nevertheless this newspaper favors the two incumbents because of their proven ability as

Beautifying Northville

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has done a lot of dumb things.

Like letting the Russians watch our rockets take off... and return home.

Or like planning to let our astronauts crawl around in space with a bunch of Communists.

But by far the dumbest of them all was to blast into space a picture of a naked man and a woman... and then telling us about it.

Not the run of the mill, mind you; but a gold-plated engraving showing all the accouterments of two humans in the buff.

Well, not exactly all. The artist apparently ran out of courage when she got to the lower anatomy of the female.

NASA sent the pornographic plaque into space last February aboard Pioneer 10, the first of our spacecrafts that are to sail beyond our solar system and into the never-never land.

In fairness to NASA, it wasn't the space agency that dreamed up this dirty picture.

The blame rests with a covey of smart-alecky astronomers who figured such a plaque would tell something about earthlings to the freaks in space who might find it. Of course no one's likely to find it for awhile because the experts say it will be about 80,000 years, give or take a few centuries, before Pioneer 10 reaches the vicinity of the nearest star.

It wasn't enough that the astronomers didn't have the decency to put some clothes on their picture. They had to have the nude woman drawn shorter than the man; and they gave an Oriental face to the female and Negroid facial features for the male.

And to top it all off, they let the male wave his hand in sort of a Nazi-like salute.

To make matters worse some newspapers even published the picture, a few air-brushing out the more obscene parts.

Lots of good people naturally fired off letters to the newspapers and to NASA, angrily denouncing them for sending this filth into space. "It's bad enough that we've got to put up with it here on earth; why in the world must we force it on others?"

Female liberationists, however, were the loudest in their criticism. They found the picture "sexist," and they charged the government with being a purveyor of male chauvinism, mostly because the female in the picture was shorter and wasn't waving like the male.

It was racist, too, others charged. Blacks were mad because the nudes looked white, and whites were mad because they looked like blacks.

And that Nazi salute so infuriated one writer that he insisted another spacecraft be sent up to destroy the Porny Pioneer 10.

Like I said before: NASA has done some dumb things.

The dumbest was to tell humans about the picture. If it had kept its mouth shut, we'd all go to our graves, long before the spacecraft reaches its destination, believing we were born with clothes on.

Millage, YRS Discussed

To the Editor:

Free education. That's what's written in our constitution. But why, if people vote not to pay more money, do I lose going to one of my six classes next year? The sixth class is important to lots of students. If six classes are taken for 3 1/2 years, it is possible to graduate early, thereby going to work and earning money to help get through college. There are many other valid reasons for an early graduation.

The administration says if classes are cut, then requirements would be cut also, but that doesn't help the situation. A very large quantity of classes are offered at Northville, but what good is it if we don't get a chance to select as many classes as possible?

The upcoming millage election is important for the sixth class and for the equally important sports program. I'm not debating whether the property tax is constitutional for paying for education. But it is unfortunate that some people, because it's the only tax which they are able to choose how much they pay or don't pay, vote "no" on every millage that comes up. And it's the student who doesn't have anything to say about it who gets hurt.

Mark Haynie, '74

To the Editor:

Time after time during recent years, the school board has asked the taxpayers to sacrifice and approve millage increases because they, the school administration, could not manage to live within the school system tax income. The school millage has increased 44 percent during the past ten years and assessed valuations have increased tax levels even more. In our own case, the total tax increase has been 386 percent over the past ten years. Now the school board wants even more.

Only a few weeks ago the taxpayers overwhelmingly rejected a tax increase and in effect said, let's have a little equality of sacrifice. This year, we taxpayers have our incomes controlled by the government and so the school administration should also make their present income do the job. Get busy fellows, negotiate a little harder at the bargaining table, forget about the big increases for the administrators, cut down on administrative personnel, do the job within your present income like we taxpayers have to do.

As was expected the school administration reacted true to form by cutting the motherhood items, the extra-curricular activities, etc. At the same time, teachers are asking a 7 1/2 percent salary increase and coincidentally, the next bargaining session is set for June 14th, just two days after the millage election. This would indicate the millage is requested for salary increases, not for the welfare of the students.

I am again going to vote against the millage increase and I would suggest that those people who are not happy with the negative vote, direct their anger at the school administration for not doing a proper job of cost control. The taxpayer is tired of doing all of the sacrificing.

I am also going to vote to reject the bond issue. It would appear that the school administration is doing maintenance work on bond issues rather than out of general operating funds. In effect the school administration has taken another unvoted tax increase in this way. I feel that maintenance is normal operating expense and I want no part of approving payment of operating expense from a bond issue.

Donald C. Young Jr.

To the Editor:

On June 12, Northville speaks! Will it tell us that its future depends on its young people? Will it tell us that Northville is judged by the kind of school system it helps develop? Will it realize that a reduced educational program is the first step toward community deterioration?

Having moved to Northville only three years ago, I well remember our first and immediate concern before we selected Northville as our place of residence. We asked, "How good are its schools?" Will we be able to give a positive answer to the same question when someone asks after June 12?

Will our property values be maintained because of our superior schools? Will Northville be progressive enough to take a careful look at its future and vote an additional one (1) mill for operating expenses for one (1) year? I know all of these are challenging questions - How about it Northville?

Otto C. Leu

To the Editor:

If you are tired of inflation, high taxes, corrupt politicians, and other similar nonsense, then busing and Year-Round School are simply the last straws that have frustrated the American voter. Busing is a final blow to the sanctity of the neighborhood school concept that we all hold to a high level of esteem. It is the ultimate insult to the intelligence of the average American citizen. Politicians have failed to give our children quality education, so rather than bearing their own burdens, they are forcing our children to bear the load of their mistakes.

Year-Round School Proposals in Northville are an indication that the voters are losing control of their local school system because these proposals have been rejected by a majority, but they continue to be included as a foot-in-the door tactic used by school officials ignoring the wishes of the community.

We need to change our educational system to provide quality education for all children. Busing fails to provide the answer, because it is simply a magician's shuffle of the same old cards, and the sending of our children to the ghetto areas of Detroit fails to produce equal education. Manipulating days in the Year-Round Proposal fails to enrich the learning process because new teaching methods are not proposed, and the proposal does not include the proper design aimed at measuring the learning process because new teaching methods are not proposed, and the proposal does not include the proper design aimed at measuring the learning results achieved when compared with the more traditional approach.

Busing and Year-Round School Proposals are two examples of how self-seeking politicians are frustrating the desires of a majority of honest Americans seeking to work faithfully within our democratic political system.

To the Editor:

Taxpayers of Northville!! Are you tired of high property taxes to support our schools—and yet you want to be sure this community has good schools?

There is a simple solution to this dilemma!!!

On Monday, June 12, members of the Northville Education Association will be near the polls with two petitions.

These petitions call for changes in the state constitution to guarantee property tax relief, and adequate money for good schools.

Both changes are needed to give you the property tax relief you want—and still maintain good schools.

Remember—on Monday, June 12—sign two for tax reform.

Gans Gets Doctorate

Marvin Gans, 40, Schoolcraft College director of athletics who has been on leave for the past year, was awarded his Ph.D. from the University of Utah Saturday during the university's 103rd annual commencement.

A Northville resident, who makes his home at 40123 Six Mile Road, he will reoccupy his college post here July 1.

While at Utah, Dr. Gans majored in health, physical education and recreation, with a minor in educational administration.

His doctoral thesis was titled, "Sequential Steps in Planning Facilities for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics."

While at Utah, he maintained at 4.0 grade point average, serving as a member of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation and as junior college physical education curriculum chairman.

Married with three children, Dr. Gans received his BA degree in 1955 from Hunter College in New York and his MA degree in 1956 from the University of Michigan. In 1964 he was awarded his Ed.S. degree from U-M.

Dr. Gans joined the Schoolcraft staff in 1964, the first year the college was opened for studies.

Commencement speaker Saturday was Esther Peterson, former Assistant Secretary of Labor. The June graduating class at the University of Utah numbered about 3,000. The University has an enrollment of 23,000 students.

He Authors Third Book

Herman A. Breithaupt, the man who designed the outstanding culinary arts program at Schoolcraft College, has authored his third book, released May 22 during the National Restaurant Association convention in Chicago.

The book's descriptive title is "Chef Herman's Story: How We Started Students on Successful Foodservice Careers." His previous books have been textbooks for use by senior high schools.

Chef Herman's son, Robert, who directs culinary arts and foodservices at Schoolcraft, collaborated on the new book. He said it was not available yet in local bookstores, but that the author and his work will be featured by Hudson's downtown in the near future.

Chef Herman's association with the college began in 1965 when he served as a consultant to design the program his son now directs. Before retiring earlier that year, he was director of the commercial foods program at Chadey High, Detroit, a job he held for 30 years.

working board members. That is not to say, however, that the two challengers would not do as well.

In DeWaard's case, we have disagreed with his position on a number of matters. Among these is his opposition to major Michigan school reform measures because of a myopic suspicion that they represent loss of so-called "local control."

He and others, it seems to us, encourage the very thing they oppose by their unwillingness to bend to ensure state-wide equal educational opportunity.

Our differences pale, however, in the face of DeWaard's performance. He is, in our opinion, the hardest working, most involved member of the board.

Similarly, our differences with Mrs. Pelchat on some of her board decisions do not deter from the fact that she is capable and has performed well in the single year that she has served.

In short, change on the board, just for the sake of change, is neither necessary nor justified in Tuesday's election.

Northville Softball

Top Squads Post Wins

Powerful That's the word for the Northville Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League.

Last year's champion—Northville Lumber—established itself as one of the top squads in the Detroit area, but this season the Lumbermen have already lost one game and are only in second place in the league's tough American division.

Two challengers to the Lumber's supremacy have arisen. Don Thompson's Choo-Choo Car Wash squad is composed of some of the members of last year's Lumber team augmented by some standouts from Plymouth.

And from South Lyon comes Lipon's Sporting Goods—a team that swept the championship in a strong Men's Softball League in Brighton last year and is looking for new worlds to conquer this summer.

All three teams—the Lumber, Choo-Choo Car Wash, and Lipon's—were active last week and all three posted victories as the Car Washers maintained a half game lead over the other two in the league standings.

In the only other American division skirmish Exotic Plastic and Rubber topped B.C.A. Trucking 12-4.

Over in the National division the Ford Valve Plant topped Novi's Village Oaks squad 14-11, John Mach Ford edged C.A.T. Diesel Power 6-5, and the Presbyterian Men's Club was swamped by both the Northville Newcomers 19-11 and the Northville Jaycees 18-1.

Choo-Choo Car Wash wasted no time whatsoever in demolishing Renwick, Grimes, and Adams Insurance, as they blasted out 14 hits and 12 runs in the opening frame and then coasted to an 18-3 triumph.

Brian Gillis got the Car Wash off to a good start by blasting Bob Wall's first pitch for a home run. Jerry Imsland also collected a round tripper for the Car Wash, and Ken Kisabeth and Joe Hay went three for three, collecting three and two doubles respectively.

Northville Lumber registered a decisive 13-4 triumph over the Plymouth State Home squad but the game was hardly a rout. The Lumber led 5-4 after three innings, but then broke loose for five runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth to pull away for the victory.

Stan Nirider and Steve Juday stroked doubles in the Lumber's big fourth inning, and Nirider also collected a second inning home run to claim batting honors for the Lumbermen with three hits in three trips to the plate. Jim Williams homered for the Home.

Lipon's was hard-pressed but managed to hang on to defeat Civitan-Casterline 6-4. The South Lyon team grouped a triple, two singles, and two doubles in the first inning to score four times before the first out, but then saw that lead disappear as Civitan-Casterline scored three in the third and one more in the fifth on Norban's four-bagger to tie the score at 4-4.

Lipon's pushed across two runs in the bottom of the fifth to regain a 6-4 lead they never relinquished.

Ed Hock doubled twice in three trips to the plate to pace Lipon's, while Norban added a single to his home run to take hitting honors for the losers.

B.C.A. Trucking hurler Joe Humphries held Exotic Plastic and Rubber scoreless for the first three innings, but the P&R team erupted for 12 runs over the final three innings to top the Truckers 12-4. Brad Cole, Todd Hanner, and Scott Stuart hammered round trippers for Exotic Plastic and Rubber. Roger Atchinson's two doubles and a single in four trips was tops for the B.C.A. squad.

In the National division games, the Northville Newcomers took over sole possession of first place by defeating the Northville Presbyterian Men's Club 19-11, while previously unbeaten Village Oaks dropped a 14-11 decision to the Ford Valve Plant.

The Newcomers broke open a 5-5 game with the Northville Presbyterian Men's Club with a 12-run fourth inning and then coasted to a 19-11 victory. Philippeau's four for four performance, including a home run, topped the Newcomer batters. Rick Curli homered for the Men's Club.

Village Oaks scored in every inning, but it wasn't enough as Ford Valve held off a seventh inning rally to win 14-11. Higley and Gramlich stroked four-baggers for Village Oaks. Wolfrom, Krause, and Poling each collected three hits for Ford Valve.

John Mach Ford finished his scoring by the fourth inning but held on to top C.A.T. Diesel Power 6-5. John Mach's three hits in three trips topped the winners. Coe had three singles and a double in four trips to pace the men from C.A.T.

It was home run derby for the Northville Jaycees in their 18-1 shellacking of the Presbyterian Men Thursday. Ron Hellier, Paul Vandenberg, and Ron Reitenour each collected four-baggers, but Jim Belz and Rick Bonner each had a pair of circuit clouts.

STEVE BOSAK

BOB PISHA

Pisha, Bosak Gain All-SEC Honors

Bob Pisha was tabbed for first team honors and Steve Bosak was named to the second team as the Southeastern Conference All-Star baseball team was announced last week.

Pisha, a 6'3", 225 pound catcher, spearheaded the Novi High School offense this spring, clipping the ball at a .370 rate in conference games and at a .390 pace in the overall season.

With the naming of Pisha as All-SEC catcher, it marked the second consecutive year in which the all-league backstop has come from Novi. Last year Tom VanWagner copped the honors.

Named to the second team was Steve Bosak. A fleet, sure-handed centerfielder, Bosak shored up the Wildcat's ballchasers and hit .359 in conference competition. He had a .363 average overall.

Both Pisha and Bosak are seniors

Named to the honorable mention list was pitcher-outfielder John Pantalano.

League champion Chelsea and runner-up Milan dominated the first team. The Bulldogs, who won the conference title with a sparkling 13-1 record, placed four men on the starting team, while runner-up Milan (9-5) had three players on first team.

In addition to Pisha, Dundee's hard-hitting outfielder Rick Dethloff and South Lyon's singles-hitting centerfielder Chip Parham rounded out the first team selections.

The Chelsea players named to the first team were pitcher Wayne Welton (who was also the all-conference quarterback), first baseman Jeff Daniels, shortstop Randy Brier, and outfielder Kim VanSlambrouck.

The only sophomore to make the starting nine was Milan's third baseman, George Armstrong, who also copped the conference batting crown with a lofty .451 average.

Jaycees, Novi Inn Top Novi Softball League

Novi's Jaycees and the Novi Inn remained in an undefeated deadlock for first place in the Novi Men's Slo-pitch Softball League by virtue of victories in last week's games.

But Novi Heights, one of last week's co-leaders, dropped from both first place and the ranks of the undefeated as they were topped by Novi Inn in the first showdown clash of the season.

The Novi Heights-Novu Inn contest highlighted the week's action. Dick Pennla was on the mound for the subdivision squad, while Butch Shoemaker received the starting nod for the Inn.

And for the first inning at any rate it seemed that the Heights team would win the important contest. Jim Peikola and John Heimonen stroked first inning singles and Bill Lassila doubled them both home to give the Heights a quick 2-0 lead.

Singles by Jim Kuptz and Bob Engel narrowed the gap to 2-1 in the Inn's half of the second, but Heights nine regained their two run advantage in the fourth as Lassila crossed the plate on Dan Fessler's two-base hit.

Again the Inn cut the lead to one run with a tally in the fifth as Shoemaker singled in Ray Brooks, who had doubled, and then in the bottom of the sixth the men from the bar broke the game wide open with a six-run outburst.

Big blow in that rally was Tony Olivich's second round tripper of the year, which gave the Inn a 4-3 lead—their first lead of the game.

The subdivision nine rallied for a single tally in the top of the seventh, but it wasn't enough, as the Inn took an 8-4 triumph in the first important game of the season.

The Jaycees joined the Inn in first place with an identical 3-0 record by stopping the Novi Police 21-5.

The Jaycees got off to strong start by tallying four times in the first inning as Ray Icenogle and Jerry Fortenberry stroked doubles and Doug Thrush and Jim Price belted triples. But when the first inning was over, it was the Police who held the lead, 5-4.

Singles by Brown, Corubb, Tobel, and Father Harding and a two-bagger off the bat of Ed Butler sparked the copper's first-inning brutalization of Jaycees ace Jim Price.

But the first inning rally was the only offense the police could muster as Price limited them to no runs and just four hits the rest of the way.

The Jaycees, meanwhile, were clubbing the cops consistently. By the time the game was over the Jaycees had stroked 26 hits and sent 21 runners across the plate.

Fortenberry and Chuck Gramlich paced the winners with four hits in five at bats and Gramlich collected his first four bagger of the season.

In the only other game of the week the M.O. Air Filters tenderized the Northville Burger Chef squad 30-2.

If the burger-men were discouraged by the fact the Filters scored five runs in the first and six runs in both the second and third, they were thrown into deep despair by a ten-run fifth-inning Filter outburst.

Finally, in the top of the seventh the Burger Chef squad broke into the scoring column with a pair of runs, but by that time the Filters had 30 and the game ended 30-2.

Denny Skvarce's two hits in three at bats paced the losers, while the Filters were paced by Big Ted Battistone and Ron Balogh. Battistone went five for five and socked his third home run of the season to tie the Jaycees' Doug Thrush for the league leadership, while Balogh collected three hits in three at bats—two of his three safeties being home runs.

Rowing is a sport for people of all ages and all conditions. As a matter of fact, rowing was first a necessity with ancestors who could not depend on power vehicles. But rowing as a sport has a long history. The earliest established sculling race first took place in England. In 1716, as today, competitors raced from London Bridge to Chelsea. The Doggett's Coat and Badge is the name of the race, and it is an event in the lives of those who live near the river.

There's no substitute for practice, right? Wrong!

Two talented golf teams from Northville and Divine Child shot holes through the old adage that says "practice makes perfect", as they pulled away from 13 other schools to finish first and second in the Willow Run Invitational last weekend.

"All the other schools had been playing all spring long," pointed out Northville golf coach Al Jones. "It's kind of ironic that the only two teams that didn't play were the two who won the tournament."

Divine Child won the Invitational with a 72 hole total of 335 strokes. Northville was second with 341 strokes, far ahead of third place Saline (352 strokes). "Actually, we should have won it," said ones. "We got one bad round from one of our players and that's what killed us."

John Hlohenic paced the Northville linksters with an 18-hole total of 80; Bob Simmons had an 82, and John Ridley shot 83. Brian Mills, the usually reliable fourth member of the Northville team, skyrocketed to a 96, however, and that's what cost the Mustangs the victory.

"If Brian had shot an 89 we'd have won," said Jones. "He just had a very bad round. He got off on the wrong foot psychologically and never got turned around."

Still, Jones was pleased with his squad's performance. "Second place isn't bad in light of the fact we haven't played this spring," he said.

Hlohenic, Simmons, Marshall, and Mills will form the nucleus of what Jones hopes will be a state Class B championship team next fall.

For further information contact Ridley at 624-4355.

HAPPY HITTER—It was the kind of day usually reserved for the likes of Jack Armstrong and Frank Merriwell. Northville sophomore Randy Oginski can't hold back a happy grin as he heads for home after socking his second consecutive home run in the Mustangs' 6-1 victory over Stockbridge. All in all Oginski accounted for four rbi's in the Northville triumph.

Mustangs Nearly Blow District Title - Again

Deja-vu. That feeling you've been there before. Northville baseball coach Chuck Shonta had it Saturday and who could blame him?

It was exactly one year ago that Shonta and his Northville Mustang baseball team breezed into the seventh inning of their district championship game with Chelsea on the bright side of a 5-1 score only to see the Bulldogs score four times on a succession of walks and errors to send the game into extra innings.

Two frames later, the Northville hurler was struck by another spell of wildness, loaded the bases on walks, and then grooved a pitch that was promptly belted over the fence to give Chelsea the victory the Mustangs three innings earlier seemed to have in the bag.

Saturday's events were almost identical.

Fifth inning. Northville leads 6-0. And Scott Evans is sailing along on a one-hitter. But then the same wildness set in. The errors followed. And suddenly the game was tied 6-6.

"Sure I was thinking of last year," Shonta admitted in the dressing room after the game. "Who wouldn't be? All I could think of was here we go again."

But this time the game had a happy ending. And credit for that ending is directly attributable to Jeff Moon and Dale Griffith.

It was Griffith who led off the sixth inning immediately after the South Lyon had tied the score and the fleet centerfielder promptly socked a high fast ball some 375 feet over the fence in centerfield to give the Mustangs a 7-6 lead and silence the previously jubilant South Lyon bench.

And it was Moon who recorded the third out in the almost-disastrous fifth inning by striking out Joe Stephens with the bases loaded and then proceeded to hold the Lion bats quiet over the next two innings to preserve the victory.

The triumph gave Northville the district championship and the right to proceed to the regional tournament Saturday at Yale High School.

The Mustangs are now one of just 16 teams left in the state Class B Tournament and, should they make it through the regionals, they will be one of four teams who will meet at Wyoming High School June 17 to battle it out for the state crown.

Sharing the hero's role with Moon and Griffith in the Mustangs district championship was Randy Oginski, the sophomore sensation who was brought up from the junior varsity three weeks ago only to become the leading Northville hitter.

Oginski was hitting a paltry .327 with the jayvees, but he has absolutely thrived on varsity pitching, clipping the ball at close to a .450 pace.

The Mustangs earned the right to meet South Lyon for the district championship by taking a 6-1 decision from Stockbridge in the morning and without a doubt the hero of that game was Oginski.

Jack Armstrong and Frank Merriwell combined couldn't have done better.

Clyde Whitaker, the Stockbridge pitcher, had retired the Mustangs in order in the first two innings when Oginski came to the plate leading off the third. And Oginski promptly put an end to both Whitaker's no-hitter and shutout as he unbound and clobbered the ball over the fence at the 303 marker for a round tripper.

And that's not all. John Sherman and Steve Serkaian opened the fourth inning with singles and Oginski then brought them both across the plate by hammering his second consecutive home run in almost the identical spot.

All in all Oginski accounted for four of the Mustangs' six runs.

Northville went into the district tournament expecting its toughest challenge to come from Stockbridge in the 10 a.m. first game, but it just didn't work that way.

While Oginski was providing all the offense that was needed, Jeff Moon was hurling one of his finest games of the season. The big left-hander scattered six hits, registered 11 strikeouts and was never in trouble.

The championship game figured to be a breather. South Lyon, a team that won just four games all year long and finished dead last in the Southeastern Conference, was paired against Ypsilanti Lincoln, the team that finished seventh in the SEC with winner slated to provide the victim for Northville's championship. The Lions earned that dubious privilege by beating Lincoln 6-5 in spite of six errors and nine Ypsilanti hits.

Once the championship game got underway, it seemed the predictions of an easy victory were accurate.

The Mustangs scored three times in the first inning as Rick LaRue doubled, moved to third on a passed ball, and then rode home on a long sacrifice fly off the bat of Bart Taylor. The other two runs came across as Griffith walked, the South Lyon shortstop threw away John Sherman's ground ball to enable the two runners to take second and third, and catcher Bill McDonald singled to left-center to score both runs.

Northville added three more in the second. Singles by Oginski, Scott Evans, Jesse Stevenson, and LaRue did the damage as Stevenson picked up an rbi and LaRue picked up two.

Scott Evans, meanwhile, was mowing down the Lion batters easily. He retired the side in order through each of the first three innings and did not give up a hit until the fourth.

But then in the fifth disaster struck. A hit-batsman and two walks loaded the bases and Chip Parham bounced a ground rule double over the fence to bring in two runs. A throwing error by usually-dependable John Sherman brought in two more. And then two more throwing errors by the most dependable of all the Northville infielders - shortstop Rick LaRue - tied the score at 6-up.

And South Lyon almost scored more. LaRue's second error put a runner at second base. Kim Sveska was safe on an infield single that put runners on first and third, and a walk to Paul McIntyre loaded the sacks with Lions and two down.

At this point, Shonta replaced Evans with Moon and the winning pitcher of the first game struck out Joe Stephens on a 3-2 count to set the stage for Griffith's decisive home run.

WINNING PITCHER-TWICE—Sharing the heroes role with Randy Oginski was Jeff Moon. The big hurler throttled Stockbridge through seven innings to win the first game and then came off the bench to relieve Scott Evans in the second game after South Lyon knotted the score. Dale Griffith's sixth inning home run regained the Northville lead and gave Moon his second win of the day.

But Scout Likes Homers

Catcher's 'Too Slow

It didn't take Babe Deschamps long to find out what he wanted to know Saturday.

All the Tiger scout had to do was time the big Stockbridge catcher from home to first once and he knew his organization wouldn't be interested. Too slow.

"We had a line on this kid," Deschamps said, "and we wanted to take one more look before we crossed him off our list. He hits well, but he throws sidearm and he's just too slow to be considered a prospect."

Deschamps is what is known in baseball parlance as a "bird dog" - something less than a full-time scout whose job it is to locate prospects and check out leads. If the player merits a longer look the "bird dog" turns the name into the main office and one of the full-time scouts is dispatched.

Deschamps finished his job early in the Northville-Stockbridge game of the District Tourney Saturday, but he decided to stay to watch the rest of the game anyway.

"I played in the St. Louis chair back in '38, '39, and '40," he reported, "and I've been a scout ever since. I own my own insurance agency in Detroit. It's the largest one in the state, but still manage to take in at least two games per day all during the spring."

It was the fourth inning now and Stockbridge and just put runners on first and second. The score was Northville 6, Stockbridge 0.

"That's Moon's trouble," said Deschamps, indicating the Big Mustang hurler. "They got a lucky hit off him and now he's fussing and fuming out there. He's not arching his back and throwing the ball anymore. This team's not going to touch him. All he has to do is reach back and throw the ball. They'll be lucky if they get another hit off him the rest of the game."

Moon settled down and got the side out without any runs being scored.

"How often do you go to a game with a line on one kid and spot another," Deschamps was asked.

"It happens very rarely, almost never. Take this game for example," he said. "I'll probably make a note in the back of my book about that Northville sophomore who hit two home runs (Randy Oginski) and check up on him in two years. But the chances are good he won't pan out. The senior fizzle will hit. We see lots of kids who have potential and desire as underclassmen, who fizzle out when they're seniors. They get a car and a girl and they think they know all there is to know. They stop working, and attitude is one of the most important things we look for. We see more good prospects go down the drain because they stop working."

The game was over. Moon gave up a lone run. Oginski struck out in his third trip to the plate. And the Stockbridge catcher had struck out and grounded weakly to shortstop.

Deschamps walked briskly back to his car. "Hazel Park plays at 3 o'clock over at Warren Cousins," he said. "They've got a couple of hitters I want to see."

Taylor, Evans Named Western-Six All-Stars

SCOTT EVANS

BART TAYLOR

Pitcher Scott Evans and third baseman Bart Taylor were named to starting berths on the Western Six Conference All-Star team selected by league coaches last week.

In addition, three other Northville stars - second baseman John Sherman, shortstop Rick LaRue, and centerfielder Dale Griffith - received honorable mention in the all-star balloting.

Eleven players were named to the first team as the coaches selected two pitchers and four outfielders and the division of players between the five Western Six squads was surprisingly even. League champion Farmington Harrison had three players on the all-star team and Northville, Waterford Mott, Walled Lake Western, and Livonia Churchill had two apiece.

Heading the Northville selections was senior pitcher Scott Evans. In a year when each Western Six squad boasted at least one strong pitcher, Evans was one of three just players to be selected to the team by the unanimous vote of the coaches.

The other two unanimous selections were Churchill's Bruce Van Wagoner behind the plate and Harrison's hard-hitting, slick-fielding centerfielder Dave Manos.

The other Northville star receiving a first team berth was third baseman Bart Taylor. One of just two underclassmen on the team, Taylor impressed coaches with his abilities both with the glove and with the bat.

In receiving honorable mention consideration, LaRue, a senior, and Sherman, a sophomore, were just one vote away from making the first team. Had they been selected the Mustangs would have placed their entire infield with the exception of their first baseman on the All-Star squad.

Face Strong Regional Field

Victorious in the districts, Northville's baseball team could well find its bid for the State Class B championship come to an end Saturday when they journey to Yale High School for the regional tournament.

Detroit Lutheran West will take on Marysville in the 10 a.m. game with Northville meeting Madison Heights Bishop Foley at 12:30 p.m. The two winners will then battle it out for the regional championship and the right to be one of four teams who will travel to Wyoming High School Saturday, June 17 to determine the state Class B championship.

Biggest obstacle to Northville's hopes in the regionals is Lutheran West. Winner of the Class B title last year, West has virtually the same team vying for the crown again this year.

Pacing Lutheran West are its two pitchers - John Poloni and Leon Druckenmiller. Poloni, a 6'3", 195 pound left-hander, is rated as one of the best pro prospects in the state and Druckenmiller, a right-hander, is not far behind.

Lutheran West advanced to the regionals by edging Redford St. Mary 2-1 Saturday as Poloni and Redford's Jim Murray, another top prospect, hooked up in an outstanding pitcher's duel.

In the second game of the districts, Lutheran West had no trouble with Benedictine, taking a 10-0 victory as Druckenmiller fired a two hitter and collected a home run, double, and four rbis.

that without the millage we cannot offer all existing opportunities and cover the expansion of student enrollment, staff and wage increases in accord with set guidelines."

If the millage question passes, Spear said he favors retaining the six-hour day at the high school and extra-curricular activities.

Although extra-curricular activities will cost more than the $90,000 one mill will raise, the superintendent said the "athletic department is reviewing its budget and it can operate on less funds than anticipated."

He noted that "We can't do for one mill what we said we'd do for 1.5 mills, but the six-hour day and extra-curricular activities are top on the list of priorities."

Two key items included in the $750,000 bond issue are corrections in the welding facilities at the high school and payment of $45,000 for the 10-acre school site at Highland Lakes.

Spear said that if the bond issue is defeated, "the welding program will be seriously threatened. If we cannot add on to the existing shop to correct the problem of inadequate air for welding, the health department has said we cannot continue the program next year."

Payment of $45,000 to Levitt for the school site would have to come out of the general fund, Spear said, "unless we can negotiate an agreement to extend the July 1 deadline."

Other funds in the bond issue are ear-marked for renovations of existing facilities at all six school buildings in the district, options on future school sites and preliminary steps in the bid before bond process hoped to be used to finance and construct new elementary, middle and high schools.

If the bond issue is approved, voters would be asked to pass a $5- to $8-million issue in the spring of 1973 to construct new schools.

Should the bond issue fail, the superintendent said the "board and administration will have to seriously consider alternatives such as half-day sessions or year-round school for when classrooms reach capacity during the 1974-75 school year."

"It takes a minimum of two years to build an elementary school, three years for a middle school and four years for a high school," he explained.

Spear said he "favors support of both local issues, even though it forces the school board to proceed one year at a time with future planning of the district. That is not desirable but it is understandable considering what is confronting the district and the state at this time."

The one mill request placed on Monday's ballot by Wayne County Intermediate School District would provide funds for construction of four area vocational-technical schools.

During the first three years, funds raised by the mill would be used for simultaneous construction of the centers and afterward to operate the centers.

Approximately 20 percent of the juniors and seniors enrolled Northville High would be eligible to attend the area centers.

School board members unanimously supported the millage request at their May 22 meeting.

Continue Study Of Fire Service

"We haven't reached any decisions yet...we're still gathering information," according to Trustee Richard Mitchell, chairman of the township board's special fire department study committee.

Mitchell indicated Saturday it will be "quite some time" before the committee's study is completed and its recommendation is made to the township board.

Members were to interview a spokesman for the Plymouth Township Fire Department this week, and then begin compiling the data it has gathered over the past several weeks.

About the only conclusions reached to date by the committee, said the trustee, is that the fire chief should become involved in site plan approval and occupancy permit matters.

Preliminary data gathered thus far, he said, indicates that should the township establish a full-time fire department it will require a minimum of four firefighters and a chief.

Even if the committee recommends establishment of a full-time department, however, "we would continue to use the present city-township department," Mitchell said.

The committee to date has met with spokesmen for the Michigan Inspection Service, the fire division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the Oak Park public safety department, a former Plymouth Township fire chief, and the Northville fire chief and city manager

THE SOUTH LYON HERALD

Wed.-Thurs., June 7-8, 1972

During this spring season hundreds of area students and adults were treated to guided tours at Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson.

General theme for the guided walks, which concluded last week, was "Nature's Response to the Spring Season."

Although the spring guided tours and instructional sessions have ended, the park's large Nature Center and its nature trails remain open for those who may want to enjoy a unique experience within the metropolitan area.

As the guided tours ended spring's freshness was rapidly turning into an explosion of color and mature growth.

At left students begin a tour along one of the park's nature trails; Miss Patricia Eising, supervising naturalist at Kensington, gives students some background information about the growth found in the park (extreme left); while some geese enjoy a lazy swim, a mother tries to coax her three youngsters to the water; and below students take notes on what they find along the trails.

Michigan Fun

Pageants, Fairs
Slated in June

Everything's coming up "spring" in Michigan—in June—according to the Michigan Tourist Council

Art fairs, flower festivals, fishing contests and boat races dominate the month's 30 days. Extra special events for the month include the Bavarian Festival at Frankenmuth, the Muzzle Loaders Festival, Greenfield Village, Dearborn, the Miss Michigan Pageant, Muskegon and the Gold Cup Race at Detroit.

In the art department, Flushing will hold their Art Fair on June 3 and Grand Haven's downtown sidewalks will be adorned with chalk art for their Side Walk Art Contest. Kalamazoo and Augusta hold Art Fairs on June 10 followed by Milan's Arts and Crafts Fair June 11. An Outdoor Art Exhibit will be held in Irving Park, Battle Creek, June 17 and the YWCA Art and Craft Festival days are 24 and 25 and the Arttrain pulls into Lapeer on June 25.

Roses will reign supreme June 12-18 at the Jackson County Rose Festival, Jackson and again June 17 and 18 at the Rose Society Show, Westmain Mall, Kalamazoo. While Kalamazoo shows off their prize roses, Mackinac Islanders will be holding their Lilac Festival. Not showing favoritism of any kind, South Haven holds their Spring Garden Show June 24, with entries open to all varieties.

Visitors to Frankenmuth's Bavarian Festival, June 11-17, will enjoy a variety of daily activities plus special events scheduling during the week long celebration. Following the opening parade on Sunday, June 11, the center of activity will be Heritage Park. For flavor there will be bratwurst and sauerkraut and polka bands to keep things on a lively note.

The flash of muskets, the roar of cannon and Gatling gun intermingled with stirring tunes of the fife and drum bring back American frontier days at the Muzzle Loaders Festival, Greenfield Village, Dearborn, June 17-18. Hundreds of colorful costumes, frontier scouts and Civil War soldiers add authenticity to this impressive, and popular, annual event.

There's more to beauty than just a pretty face as the 35 contestants for the title of Miss Michigan will verify. The four day pageant will be climaxed on Saturday June 24, at 8 p.m. in the L. C. Walker Arena, Muskegon. The winner will then go on to Atlantic City to vie for the glamorous title of Miss America.

Competition of a different sort, for an equally coveted trophy, takes place Sunday, June 25 at the running of the Gold Cup Race for unlimited hydroplanes on the Detroit River. These are the world's fastest propeller-driven powerboats. The race attracts boats, drivers and owners from all over the United States and thrilling is the byword.

Other events scheduled between June 1 and 15 include a Fishing Derby at South Haven; Michigan State Speed Championship Roller Skating at Midland; Flea Market and Antique Sale at Wyandotte; Grand National ATV Racing Championships, Monroe, and the Great Muskegon River Canoe Race from Ewart to Big Rapids. Saginaw will host the Antique Auto Festival and there will be an Antique Auto Tour from Grand Rapids to Kalamazoo. Battle Creek will hold a Little Folks Fair and the Tawas River Canoe Race will be held at East Tawas.

During the last half of the month, Rockford holds their Start of Summer Celebration and it will be Red Cedar Jubilee time at Williamston. The 5th Annual Invitational Women's Track and Field meet will be held in Midland June 17. This is an AAU sanctioned track meet for girls and women and one of the largest outdoor meets of its kind.

Father's Day events feature a Fishing Derby at Bergland and Boat Drag Races at Ypsilanti, followed closely by the Michigan Amateur Golf Tournament at Charlevoix June 20-24.

Winding up the month will be the International Festival at Pontiac featuring ethnic gifts, food, entertainment and craft demonstrations, the Memorial Race from East Tawas to Port Huron and back; National Amateur Archery Championships at Grayling and the Seaway Festival at Muskegon.

It's a full month of fun for the whole family in all directions. For a free listing of dates and events scheduled for June through October, 1972, write for a copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events available from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926.

Attendance Soars in Parks

Hot, summer weather hitting the 85-degree mark or higher during the three-day Memorial Day holiday weekend of 1972 attracted over 409,493 visitors to eight of the nine Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson had a total of 116,000 visitors this weekend compared to 104,400 in 1971. Daily totals for this 1972 holiday weekend were: Sat. - 19,500; Sunday - 43,100, and Monday - 53,400.

HOW IMPORTANT IS AGRICULTURE IN MICHIGAN?

Did you know how important agriculture in Michigan is, to you and me as food shoppers? Agriculture is the second largest source of income in Michigan, which ranked 5th or higher among the states in production of 19 foods in 1971: 27% - over one quarter - of all Michigan citizens derive some part of their income from agriculture! Yet, only one out of a hundred Michigan citizens operates a farm, while each one provides enough food for 45 people.

We at Chatham feel it's a great time to salute Michigan agriculture. We rank first in the nation in the production of blueberries, red tart cherries, dry beans, soft winter wheat and prune plums.

Half of our blueberries are sold fresh, half are processed. The tart cherries thrive in the Grand Traverse Bay area, and we grow about 64% of the entire nation's cherry crop. Our annual crop of dry beans would fill a train load of over 4000 box cars!

In case you wondered, the soft winter wheat is the kind that you like for cookies, pastry, etc. while the prune plums make up those delicious jams and jellies.

There are pickles galore in Michigan. In 1971 we held second place in cucumbers for the pickling industry. As for hothouse mushrooms - no longer considered a gourmet food - we are second in their production, too, and over half of the crop grows right at our door step. - in Macomb County.

For years Michigan has been known for its shiny, red apples, and you'd have quite a job of "polishing the apple" if you tackled the whole 1971 Michigan crop of 720 million pounds. We rank 3rd totally - 1st in Jonathans and Spies and in total processing. We are also 3rd on the list in the production of carrots and celery and yields, color and uniformity are improving every year.

So, have fun selecting your own Michigan menus from Michigan's abundant agricultural harvest. The suggestions given are only the beginning - almost all the foods you eat are - or could be - grown in Michigan!

Taps of Civil War Era

Scribbled Notes 110 Years Old

When the Civil War general scribbled a few notes on an envelope, he had little idea that the music he had written would live so long or choke tears from so many generations of people.

But that's exactly what General Daniel Butterfield did that July morning, 110 years ago.

And the irony of it all is that Butterfield wasn't trying to create a moving score but rather simply trying to find a substitute alert to tell troops to snuff out the lights and hit the sack.

What he produced was a thing eventually called "Taps."

It was intended to substitute for the then existing final call of the day, titled "Extinguish Lights," which Butterfield found too formal. Taps was first played by Private Oliver Norton, brigade bugler for the 83rd Pennsylvania Infantry.

Though unpublished, the music spread rapidly to other union posts, and soon it was adopted in the camps of both the union and confederate armies.

And after the war it is said to have had a healing affect on the split still existing between the two armies. It reportedly brought tears to the eyes of veterans of both forces during memorial services years later at Gettysburg, where a soldier played it spontaneously on Little Round Top to quell animosities that

Symbols represented in the American flag, which next week is spotlighted on a day of national observance, are not, as many believe, originations of this nation.

Like so many of the symbols of mankind, they may be literally as old as the Egyptian pyramids.

What symbols? The star: a symbol of the heavens and the divine goal to which man has aspired from time immemorial.

The stripe: symbolic of the rays of light emanating from the sun.

Both may have their origination in the banners of the astral worshippers of ancient Egypt and Babylon, according to historical research.

What's more they were subsequently represented on the standards of numerous other nations of the world long before their adoption in this country 200 years ago.

And even today they are represented on the flags of several other nations of Europe, Asia, and the Americas.

Earliest settlers of this country preferred other kinds of symbols for their flags which they felt better represented the struggles in the wilderness of a new land.

That's why beavers, pine trees, rattlesnakes, anchors, and various like insignia with mottoes such as "Hope," "Liberty," "Appeal to Heavens," or "Don't Tread on Me," showed up on the different banners of Colonial America.

First colonial flag to have any resemblance to the present Stars and Stripes was the Grand Union flag, sometimes referred to as the "Congress Colors."

It consisted of 13 stripes, alternately red and white, representing the 13 colonies, with a blue field in the upper left hand corner bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, signifying union with the mother country.

This flag was first flown by the ships of the colonial fleet in the Delaware River in December, 1775. It became the standard of the Continental Army a month later, and of the Marines and the American Bluejackets that same year.

Many Americans still believe that Betsy Ross made the first flag, although historians dispute this story.

Another disputed story is that the first Stars and Stripes displayed in the face of an armed enemy was at Fort Schuyler on August 3, 1777. Most likely the latter flag was the Grand Union. It was improvised: the white part came from a soldier's shirt, the blue from a captain's cloak, and the red stripes from the petticoat of a soldier's wife.

The Stars and Stripes was officially established on June 14, 1777 by the Continental Congress.

The resolution establishing the flag did not specify the arrangement of the 13 stars on the blue union, except to note that they should represent a new constellation. As a consequence varieties developed.

First Army flag, popularly known as the Betsy Ross flag, had them arranged in a circle, based on the idea that no colony should take precedence.

First Navy Stars and Stripes had its stars arranged in staggered formation in alternate lines and rows of three and two on a blue field. Close inspection of this arrangement of stars shows a distinct outline of the diagonal X-shaped cross and the cross of St. George of the English

OLD FRIEND—When local area servicemen speak of their "dearest, oldest friend," they're talking about the banner that waves from porches, buildings, ships and wherever this nation is represented. Preparing for observance of Flag Day next week Wednesday (June 14) representatives of area service organizations gathered at Kensington Metropolitan Park recently. Shown here (left to right) are N. ## Bugged by Pests?

Each spring homeowners are "bugged" by insects pests attacking trees and shrubs. Controlling these pests often becomes a baffling task for the amateur gardener.

According to entomologists at Michigan State University, effective pest control is based on proper application of the appropriate chemical at the correct time. Although no chemical will adequately control all pests, a combination of several applied periodically can provide an all-purpose spray and relieve some of the homeowner's headaches.

A mixture of sevin, malathion, and kelthane, applied on a regular schedule and in accordance with the label directions, provides general plant protection.

However, warn the specialists, all-purpose sprays are generally more expensive and will not control all insects. Certain pests will require special treatment.

For information on specific chemicals and their rates of application, see your local county extension agent or write to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State University, P.O. Box 231, East Lansing.

Benefits Of Trees Explained

The trees which grown around America's homes contribute to our survival in a number of different and unexpected ways, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Some of these are described in a popular pamphlet produced by the AAN entitled "It Depends On You". . . a handbook for individual action in the environmental crisis.

Members of the American Association of Nurserymen point out that the selection and placement of trees for today's homes requires forethought and information about the various trees available. Most modern homes are served best by medium sized trees with a maximum height of 30 to 40 feet at maturity and a total spread of about the same dimensions. If a tree is placed properly in the yard, and separated from the house by a distance equal to half its spread, it will case shade on part of the roof and sides of the house either in the morning or afternoon

To provide the best shade and cooling effect, the placement of the trees should be in relation to the east-west path of the sun, and its position in relation to the house itself will be determined by the direction the house faces and the rooms to be shaded. The best source of information and guidance is your local landscape nursery or garden center.

Trees, which provide cooling shade during hot summer months and shed their leaves to let warm sunlight through in winter, also serve as Nature's most effective dust traps and sound barriers, the nursery expert say. Twelve million tons of particulate matter (the dirt in the air we breathe) are released into the atmosphere of the United States every year. . . and trees, shrubs, vines and flowers act as natural traps for this airborne matter.

The hairy leaf surfaces clutch falling particles and keep a steady rain of dust and dirt from saturating the air with solid pollutants. In fact, trees are such effective dust trappers that the city of Los Angeles washes it trees periodically with a detergent solution.

Trees play an important role in reducing the noise pollution around us, too. Heavy street traffic registers a noise level of 70 decibels. Proper landscaping with the use of trees can reduce that noise about 60 percent according to a University of Nebraska study—to cut the sound of a heavily-traveled highway running past a home to the level of a suburban street in the quiet of evening

Aside from the shade they offer, trees contribute another cooling effect through their evaporation processes. The evaporation from a single properly-watered tree can produce an estimated cooling effect of more than a million BTU's—equal to 10 room sized air conditioners operating 20 hours a day.

The environmental handbook, "It Depends On You," is available free at many nursery garden centers, or may be obtained by sending 50 cents to the American Association of Nurserymen, 230 Southern Building, Washington, D.C. 20005.

Commission Gets Award

The National Society of Professional Engineers has chosen the Oakland County Road Commission to receive the 1972 Government Professional Development Award.

The award was presented to Paul McGovern, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission, at an award luncheon held at Boyne Highlands, May 19.

The award is presented each year to the government agency in Michigan that has contributed most to the advancement of engineering employment practices. The award presentation reflects the National Society of Professional Engineer's desire to publicly recognize and honor the government agency most progressive in implementing professional employment policies for engineers.

Soaring Like An Eagle

Pastor Geo. Tiesel Jr.
Immanuel Lutheran Church
South Lyon

PSALM 103

Bless the Lord, O my soul:
And all that is within me, bless his holy name
Bless the Lord, O my soul
And forget not all his benefits.
Who forgiveth all thine iniquities:
Who healeth all thy diseases,
Who redeemeth thy life from destruction.
Who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies,
Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things:
So that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's

Soar like an eagle! Who can soar like an eagle? The true child of God can! For he has been born again to a "lively hope" through the Gospel of God.

In olden times the eagle had a reputation for quick recovery and the ability to make a fresh start, with energy, wings, and feathers renewed. And such also is the rebirth which the Holy Spirit accomplishes in God's people. That is why their jubilation and thanksgiving are not a sometime thing, but a way of life. "Bless the Lord, O my soul!"

Outside of Christ it is hard to think of life as a celebration of God's benefits. For the eye of reason surveys the ruin of human nature caused by the Fall—everywhere there is greed and strife, disease and death. Yes, even within ourselves we sense the corruption and weakness which come from sin. Deep in their hearts all men tremble at the ripening judgment of God. The Holy One!

What, then, is different about the child of God, that his heart brims over with praise to the Holy One? Nothing but the exceeding charity of God in Christ. For through Jesus Christ God has bought our lives back from damnation and eternal death. God has satisfied his justice with that one precious death upon Calvary's cross—there need be no more. The Christian lives in this truth.

Now if God's love is the great, active reality in my heart, then all of life wears a new face. There is healing when I need it and ask for it, in order that I may live and praise the works of the Lord. There are good gifts at every turn: parents, spouse, family, friends, food, shelter, the air, the earth, the land I love. Even hardship and heartache become forms of grace when I think upon God's tender care. And at the last, the crown of eternal life! "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits!"

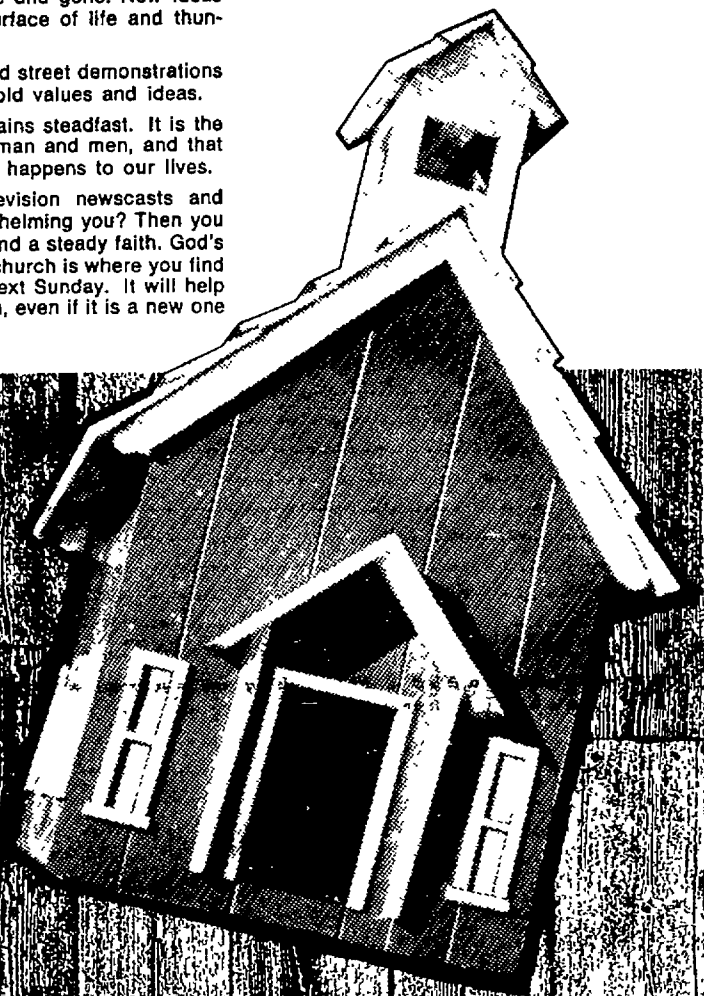

"I will sing my Maker's praises
And in him most joyful be,
For in all things I see traces
Of his tender love to me.
All things else have but their day,
God's great love abides for aye!"

It's pretty evident that we have toppled the little red schoolhouse. Ideas we had about economics, science, race and education itself, have come and gone. New ideas are broaching the surface of life and thundering over us.

Campus unrest and street demonstrations make us reappraise old values and ideas.

But one idea remains steadfast. It is the idea that God loves man and men, and that He cares about what happens to our lives.

Are shouting television newscasts and bold headlines overwhelming you? Then you need an open mind and a steady faith. God's love is for you. Your church is where you find out about it. Try it next Sunday. It will help you grasp an old idea, even if it is a new one for you.

Disciplining Raises Eyebrows

LANSING—Eyebrows were raised recently when the Michigan Senate Republican caucus disciplined the man many have considered the most powerful member of the caucus.

That man is Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles Zollar of Benton Harbor. Zollar was stripped of his title of caucus chairman in a secret ballot.

THE ACTION was taken because Zollar voted with Senate Democrats at a crucial point in the legislative struggle over Congressional reapportionment. His vote resulted in the scuttling of a plan which would have preserved all 12 Republican incumbents now in Congress from Michigan.

It further resulted in a legislative deadlock broken when Federal District Judge Damon Keith adopted a plan which will result in the elimination of at least one Republican. The plan also, incidentally, gives Zollar a better shot at knocking off incumbent Republican Edward Hutchinson in the August primary.

THE MOVE to discipline Zollar surprised many people, however. After all, every major piece of legislation which has passed the Legislature in recent years has done so without unanimous support from either party.

Many of Gov. William Milliken's programs, in fact, have enjoyed as much if not more Democratic support than Republican support. Yet Republicans who defect from those programs are not subjected to caucus discipline.

Why this time, then?

The answer is that this was a matter of pure party politics with no philosophy considered. The result of Zollar's action probably was the loss by the Republican Party of one, perhaps two, seats in Congress and the concurrent gain for Democrats.

"WE CAN'T let our people go out and vote against the party's interest and get away with it," explained one caucus member.

The caucus members, by the way, didn't demand blood with their pound of flesh. After making the point within the caucus, they okayed the writing of a letter by Republican Leader Robert Vander Laan saying Republicans made the chairmanship change because Zollar said he would resign if he ran for Congress.

The catch on that, however, is that there would be no reason for Zollar to resign the post even if he ran for Congress, which he is doing. The post involves no extra time. If Zollar wanted to cut down his workload, he would do that by giving up his Appropriations Committee post, something he didn't do.

CAPITOL observers now are waiting to see what happens to the second Republican who voted with the Democrats on reapportionment—Anthony Stamm of Kalamazoo. Some action is expected, but no one is sure what it will be. And there isn't the hurry for him, a caucus member explained, because he isn't running for Congress.

AN ANNOYING PROBLEM: Secretary of State Richard Austin says he's having trouble with motorists laminating the new driver license the state has been issuing since last June.

The new license is much thinner than the old and many people are having them laminated in the belief this makes them more sturdy, he says. But, he quickly adds, they don't need it.

"Our new license is thinner, easier to handle and a decided improvement over the older laminated types," he says. "Laminating will do nothing to improve its quality."

AUSTIN SAYS lamination of the new license, in fact, might be considered mutilation of it by some law officers. It is against the law to mutilate a license.

It also can damage the license to the point where it needs to be replaced. That's a $1.50 job.

What About Low Priced Stocks?

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Lower-priced stocks—those selling under $20 a share—can offer aggressive investors a chance to achieve smart capital gains on a modest investment.

These issues allow the small investor to deal in round lots (usually 100 shares) and chalk up good percentage gains on a relatively limited increase in price. For example, a stock selling at $14 a share will show almost a 29 percent advance on a four-point market gain. In contrast, the price of a $50 stock would have to jump 14½ points to provide the same percentage increase.

NATURALLY, not all low-priced issues are good buys, and a stock should not be purchased merely because it is selling under a certain price level. Many investors, however, are attracted to such issues solely on the basis of price and without regard to the fundamentals of the companies themselves they become especially intrigued with a low-priced stock if it has sold at far higher levels in the recent past.

While one such issue may return to a previous high level, many others are as likely to decline further even when the general market is in an uptrend. Hence, those who buy lower-priced stocks indiscriminately may find their money tied up in profitless situations.

Market timing is another important consideration. Regrettably, the investing public tends to become overly enthusiastic about lower-priced stocks at or near market tops. In fact, expansion of trading in cheaper issues is seen by many technical analysts as a warning of a possible market decline.

Thus, lower-priced stocks should be bought when relatively inactive and not after a period of brisk turnover.

INEXPENSIVE stocks are not appropriate for all investors. A number of issues selling under $20 entail more risk than many are in a position to assume. These should be considered for the most part only by aggressive investors who can afford the added risk.

An individual's overall investment program and personal circumstances are important factors to be considered.

For those who do decide to consider the "under $20 group," it is essential to outline their objectives before making commitments. If a stock is being purchased for shorter-term capital gains, there is justification in taking profits once the issue has made a worthwhile percentage advance. If purchased for longer-term growth prospects, however, a stock should not be sold just because it has risen a few points.

Too often, investors forget their objectives. As a result, a stock bought for a short-term capital gain is held too long, with the purchaser riding the stock up and then back down again without taking profits.

Conversely, many who buy lower-priced stocks for their longrange growth sell out after a rise of several points and miss out on some exceptional long-term profits.

AMONG LOWER-priced stocks currently recommended by the Research Department of Babson's Reports are Apco Corp., Giant Portland Cement, Houdaille Industries, Servico, and Superior Surgical Manufacturing.

Representative Seeks Re-election

House Republican Leader Clifford H. Smart (R-Walled Lake) has announced he will be a candidate for re-election to the Michigan House of Representatives from the 24th District.

Smart is completing his fourth two-year term in the legislature, and his first term as Republican Leader in the House. The recognized educational expert in the House of Representatives, Representative Smart served as Chairman of the House Education Committee during the 1967-68 session, and currently is the Republican Vice-Chairman of the Education Committee.

He came to the legislature following a 35-year career as a school superintendent, 19 of those years as superintendent of Walled Lake Schools.

"Because of the many serious problems in education, including the financing of educational operations, and because I believe this issue will be of prime importance during the coming session, I have made my decision to seek re-election."

Rep. Smart also indicated that there were a multitude of other areas of concern. "This, perhaps more than at any other time in our history, is a time where experience in dealing with the issues before us is critical. These issues demand experience and I am confident my experience in the legislature and in the education field can be beneficial in seeking solutions to our problems."

Smart cited the emotional issue of busing, the need for more equitable financing of education with less emphasis on the property tax, the need for a comprehensive transportation program, reform of the welfare program, and proper scheduling of legislative activities as major issues to be faced by the new legislature next year.

At the same time, Smart indicated his willingness to be a candidate for re-election as Republican Leader. "This caucus is working together as a unit in the best interests of the general public better than I have ever seen it work in the legislature. As a minority voice, we have attempted and I believe have succeeded in insuring that good legislation, a proper function of the minority.

"I also believe we have demonstrated good faith with the public in our efforts by pointing out the failings of this legislature. We firmly believe that we can return reason and decorum to the legislative operation, and feel that we have earned the right to be given the opportunity by the voters in 1972 to gain control of the Michigan House of Representatives."

"Should we be given this responsibility, I pledge that we will return order to the operation of the House of Representatives, establish schedules and deadlines for the completion of our work, particularly as regards the preparation and completion of the state budget, and finally, we will strengthen the operation of the committee system, the very backbone of our system."

Representative Smart served on the Board of Trustees of Oakland County Community College and on the Board of Managers of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers. He is a member of the Walled Lake Rotary Club, the Michigan Education Association, the Michigan Association of School Administrators, the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce.

He is a graduate of Kalkaska High School, and holds a Master's Degree from Wayne State University. Representative and Mrs. Smart live at 555 West Walled Lake Drive, Walled Lake.

flag indicating that the break with England was pretty hard to accept.

General George Washington, the nation's first president, reportedly said this of the flag when first flown by the Continental Army:

"We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

Following admission of Kentucky and Vermont, a resolution was adopted in 1794 making the flag one of 15 stars and 15 stripes.

While the 15-stripe flag was in use Francis Scott Key wrote the "Star-Spangled Banner."

It was Captain Samuel C. Reid of the Navy, who suggested that, because a stripe for each new state would become unwieldy, the stripes remain 13 in number to represent the 13 colonies, and that a star be added to the blue field for each new state coming into the Union.

Subsequently, a law was enacted on April 4, 1818, requiring that a star be added for each new state on the July Fourth after its admission.

A 48-star flag came with admission of Arizona and New Mexico in 1912. Alaska added a 49th star in 1959, and Hawaii paved the way for 50 stars in 1960.

servicement throughout the country.

Today, it is heard most often locally during Memorial Day services in area cemeteries.

Although originally written to play by the bugler, it is most often played today on trumpets and cornets, according to South Lyon Band Director Frank Kochalko.

The bugle, explains Kochalko, "has open tones, no valves and I think most would agree that the cornet or trumpet have nicer sounds. Not many high school bands use the bugle, so you don't hear it played much this way."

While Taps is a relative simple piece of music, it can either be done extremely well or "just played."

Because of the seldom occasions on which it is most often played, when the attention of the listeners are riveted to the sound, the player is "under a great deal of pressure" and hence he is inclined to be nervous.

Nevertheless, it's an "absolutely beautiful piece when done well. During the University of Michigan's 'black balloon' band performance last year, for example, it was done with a full band compliment and it was tremendous," recalls Kochalko.

The music when it signals the last call of the day for funerals or memorial services, evokes a sad serenity while suggesting strong hope in the future.

Butterfield, who was present at Gettysburg when the bugler made his impromptu, stirring performance, remembered the occasion this way:

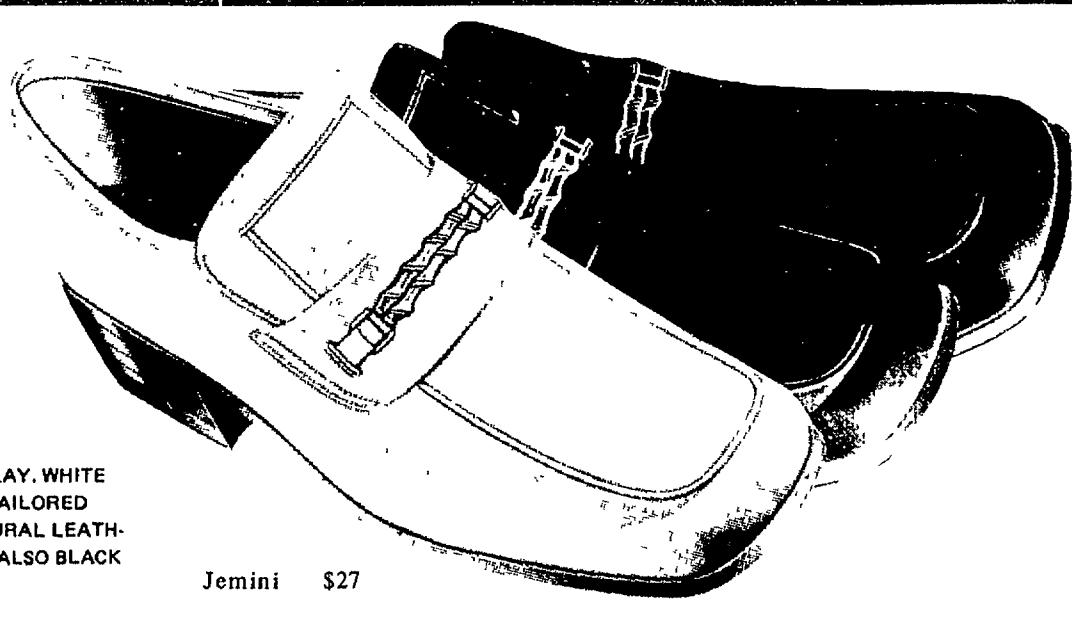

"Somehow, in a way I cannot explain, it removed from my mind the last trace of bitterness carried over from the battlefields. When I reached Little Round Top, I saw no blue or gray uniforms, just old comrades."
