

State Police Units Coming To Northville

Architect's Rendering of Proposed Seven Mile Road State Police Post, District Headquarters, Crime Laboratory.

A long-sought Michigan State Police complex now appears to be definitely slated for construction in Northville township.

The 34,000-square-foot district headquarters, police post and crime laboratory will be located on 11½ acres of state-owned property just west of the Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile road.

Key legislative work by both State Representative Marvin Stempin and Senator Carl Pursell helped pave the way for the proposed project. (See "Speaking for The Record"—Page 8-A.)

A community effort to bring the state police post to Northville began more than one year ago when it was learned that facilities were overcrowded in the Redford post at Seven Mile and Grand River.

Initial proposals called for location of the post on the Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon road. Vacated buildings there would have housed both the post and the Plymouth-located state police crime laboratory, which also needs more space.

Opposition from Wayne county commissioners cancelled this proposal. Later state police officials decided that if space were to be sought in this area for a post and crime laboratory, second district headquarters' facilities should also be added.

This brought the total need for space to some 30,000 square feet. It also invited competition from Plymouth for the complex.

Specific proposals for the headquarters-post-crime lab complex were made to Michigan State Police Commander Colonel John Plants by both the Northville group and a Plymouth township contingent. The latter group sought to erect the facility on Northville road across from the Thunderbird Inn and the new hotel currently under construction.

Colonel Plants announced that he favored the Northville proposal because of its location near expressways, relative isolation on property already owned by the state, and because of its unique design, created by Architect Karl C. Nelson who worked with key personnel from the state police post, crime lab and district headquarters to determine their needs.

Another factor in Northville's favor stressed by Colonel Plants is that the committee working to bring the state police to Northville represented a community effort and a non-profit organization.

While no definite timetable has been established yet for construction of the new facility, Second District Commander Captain Fred LaPointe is hopeful details can be completed immediately so that construction can begin this fall. "We're 1½ years late now,"

Arson Suspect Held

ARRESTED—Thirty-year-old James B. Wynneparry has been charged with arson following a number of fires Saturday night and Sunday morning, including one which destroyed the Book and Easel at 150 North Center Street.

Hearing Set On Multiples

Public hearing will be held Wednesday, July 12, to consider a rezoning request to allow for construction of townhouses and apartment units.

Beginning at 8 p.m., the hearing will be held at 301 West Main Street before the township planning commission.

Asking to rezone approximately 61 acres of land on Haggerty Road south of Dun Rovin Golf Course is Bernard Glibberman.

Currently the parcel is zoned R-4 (single family residential) with RM-2 (multiple dwellings) classification sought.

Spokesmen for Glibberman have said townhouse units are planned near Haggerty with apartments on the western portion of the land.

Engineering consultants for the township have studied the proposal and noted that without sanitary sewers in the area, it will be impossible to develop.

However, spokesmen for Glibberman have stated they wish to continue plans for the development.

A 30-year-old man has been arrested on charges of arson following a string of fires Saturday night and Sunday morning, including one which destroyed the Book and Easel at 150 North Center Street.

Arrested on the charge Sunday was James B. Wynneparry who has no present address. However, he has been in the Northville area for the past several months and had been working as a groom at Northville Downs until last week.

Wynneparry pled guilty to the charge of arson but the plea was not accepted by 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis. The court entered a plea of "mute" and he is in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond. Examination has been set for today, Thursday.

Wynneparry was arrested by city police shortly after 4 a.m. Sunday as he sat across the street from the Book and Easel watching the blaze.

Patrolmen Robert Pankow of the city's detective bureau and William Harrison said they had received information from several citizens that Wynneparry had been at the Palace Restaurant, 333 East Main Street, earlier in the evening.

Reportedly, he was throwing lighted matches on the counter, lighting dinner checks and attempting to burn money.

Wynneparry was arrested at the fire for being drunk and through questioning by the detective bureau was charged with arson.

According to police, the first fire was reported at 11:43 p.m. Saturday in a trash container in the alley behind Ramsey's Bar at 105 North Center Street. The fire was extinguished by the fire department.

Two fires occurred about 11:30 p.m. in the Winners Circle bar and hotel at 113 West Main Street in the hall and bathroom but were put out by residents.

At 1:59 a.m. Sunday, fires were reported at the Book and Easel by residents who lived in apartments next to the building.

Police said they had been through the alley that runs behind stores on East Main and North Center streets about 20 minutes earlier on routine patrol and had stopped a traffic violator on Center Street but did not see any fires at that time.

When the fires were reported, police went to the scene. Patrolman Harrison said, "Flames were shooting over the (north) side of the Book and Easel when I arrived."

Patrolman Pankow drove into the alley and "saw fires in four places. I didn't know what to think."

Police extinguished fires started in cardboard boxes behind American Discount, 105 East Main, and a trash container behind Stone's Gambles, 117 East Main.

Two fires, at the top and bottom of the wooden stairway leading to apartments above the Kountry Katerer, 146 North Center, burned themselves out, police said. Fires at the Book and Easel originated on the stairway on the north side of the building leading to four apartments above the store.

Damage to the building, owned by Charles Lapham, was estimated at $50,000. Owner of the Book and Easel, Kenneth Burnstrum who had been in business for a year and a half, estimated contents lost in the fire at $15,000.

Residents in apartments above the Book and Easel and above the laundromat next door were evacuated. No injuries were reported in the fires.

Firemen and equipment from the city of Plymouth were called to assist the Northville fire department in fighting the blaze.

NEWS BRIEFS

SUMMER hours for Northville District's central office are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The office, located at 303 West Main Street, and the switch board are closed on weekends.

DEPUTY City Clerk Katherine Gurof will be leaving her full-time post at City Hall Friday but will continue working part-time throughout the summer. In September she plans to move to Ann Arbor where she will continue her studies. No replacement has been named yet, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

CITY MANAGER Frank Ollendorff was authorized last week to contact property owners on the south side of Cady Street, Wing to Center, to determine whether or not they will sell their property to the city for parking.

ADVANTAGES of township government will be outlined tonight (Thursday) in an address by Colonel Joseph A. Parisi, Jr., executive director of the Michigan Townships Association, at 8 p.m. in the Northville High School auditorium. Parisi's appearance is sponsored by the Northville Township Board. This program is open to the public—both city and township residents. Title of his talk is "The Strength of Township Government in the Twentieth Century."

WORD has been received by the Northville Education Association that the MEA has "nearly reached" the minimum goal in its initiative petitions campaign for state tax reform. Signatures of 250,000 citizens have been obtained. Minimum needed to place the issue on the November ballot is 265,000 signatures. Members of the Northville organization assisted in the campaign. Teachers are circulating two petitions, one to reduce local property taxes as the basis of school financing and the second to remove the constitutional ban on a state graduated income tax.

Jaycee Survey Shows

City - Township Opinions Differ

Unification of the city and township is favored slightly by local residents, according to a comprehensive survey conducted by the Northville Jaycees.

Copies of the community survey results have been distributed to officials of both city and township. Copies also are available for interested organizations by calling the project chairman, David Van Hine, at 349-3015.

Conducted in late 1971, the survey is the third project of its kind conducted by the local Jaycee chapter in recent years. It represents an attempt to determine community needs by polling citizens as to their evaluation of existing facilities and services, explained David Van Hine.

The survey covered a population base of 11,600 residents of the city and township (excluding an estimated 3,200 persons in institutions).

"Using a random computer selection of respondents, a list of 347 households was selected for the interview base in order to obtain a 300-interview completed base," Van Hine said.

"With a 300-interview response, a survey validity of 93.9-percent was projected. An actual total of 316 forms were completed and returned to the chapter."

Concerning the question, "Should Northville City and Northville Township be consolidated?", the Jaycees found that while the community "slightly favors unification," the question produced the sharpest difference of opinion between city and township residents.

Of the city residents interviewed, 74.6 percent stated the city and township should be unified compared to 41.1 percent of the township residents, according to the survey.

The Jaycees also found that, by length of residency classification, unification was "strongly opposed by newcomers to the community with only 30-percent being in favor of the proposal."

Deadline's Friday

Tomorrow (Friday) is the last day to register to vote in the August 8 primary election.

City and township offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. to register voters. Both offices are also open until 5 p.m. today (Thursday).

City offices are located at 215 West Main Street and township offices are at 301 West Main Street

M. Darleen Murphy Weds Gary Francis

The First United Methodist Church of Ferndale was the setting for the June 23 marriage of M. Darleen Murphy and Gary Michael Francis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Murphy of 576 Reed Avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Francis of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The double ring ecumenical candlelight ceremony was performed by the Reverend Joseph Edwards of the First Methodist Church and Father John Chateau of St. Joan of Arc Church, Grosse Pointe. "O Precious Love" was the music chosen for the bridesmaids entrance and the processional music for the bride was "Trumpe-tune Overture".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown made of ivory silk organza. The chantilly lace appliques which accented the princess lines of the dress and the seed pearls at the neckline and bodice were all hand sewn by her mother.

The sheer bishop sleeves were cuffed with ivory organza. They were appliqued with chantilly lace as was the detachable chapel-length train. Her bouquet was made of white sweetheart roses, miniature carnations and stephanotis.

Jill Ann Pauler was maid of honor and Nancy Freeman was matron of honor. They wore gowns of sheer peach voile with white lining which featured a high neckline, an empire waistline and long sheer sleeves. The dresses were accented with white ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mavis Donahue of Northville and Jane Francis and Joan Francis, sisters of the bridegroom, of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Their gowns were styled identical to the honor attendants' They were made of peach voile with peach lining and ribbon.

The bridegroom's cousin, Gary Francis, was best man. Ushers were Robert Frye of Farmington, Edward Larson, Thomas Zinc and Michael Santi, all of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Immediately after the ceremony, a candlelight reception was held in the church fellowship hall for 200 guests. The wedding cake was made by the bride's mother. It was over four feet tall and was decorated in white and peach.

Following a wedding trip to Mackinac Island, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Michael Francis will live at Pine Grove Terrace at Eastern Michigan University where the bride is studying. The bridegroom will be commuting to classes at Wayne State University.

Montana Honeymoon For Bruce Machs

Joy Marie Barnum and Bruce Wayne Mach were married at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. on June 17 by the Reverend Charles F. Boerger.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and made the dress which she wore for the double ring ceremony.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barnum of 46151 Bloomcrest. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Mach, 45241 Byrne.

The bridal gown was made of dotted Swiss whipped cream and was trimmed with lace. It featured short puffed sleeves, an empire waistline and pearl buttons. The bride also made her fingertip length veil. She carried a nosegay of white carnations, pink rose buds, and baby's breath with pink streamers.

Mary Bellman, of Mt. Clemens, a college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was made of pale blue flocked cotton and had a blue velvet ribbon at the empire waistline. She wore pink daisies in her hair and carried a nosegay of blue carnations, pink daisies, and baby's breath with blue streamers.

Joella Phillips, Northville, and Martha Veresa of Highland were bridesmaids. They wore pale green flocked cotton gowns with pink velvet ribbons at the empire waistline, pink daisies in their hair and carried nosegays of pale green carnations, pink daisies and baby's breath with pale green streamers. John C. Mach of Northville was his brother's best man.

Ushers were David Wolfram and Fred Hackett, both of Livonia, Ronald Barnum, and Thomas Lewis of Drummond Island.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the church hall after the ceremony. After a two week honeymoon at Glacier National Park in Montana the couple will live in Farmington.

News Around Northville

Seven young women from Northville are attending a week-long session at Camp Linden which is operated by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

Attending the "Wider Opportunities" session for older Girl Scouts are Nananne Gould, 908 Ely Court, Margaret Anne Penn, 46150 West Main Street and Kelly Marie Thomas, 40301 Fairway III Drive.

Younger Scouts in attendance are Dennie Lynn Colttis, 43534 Cottisford; Leslie Ann Drawe, 44159 Cottisford; Heather Regan, 21622 Beck Road and Susie Siebenaller, 43440 Cottisford.

Scott R. Lenheiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lenheiser of 45095 Mayo Court has been named to the Dean's List for academic excellence at Hope College in Holland, Michigan.

The Northville Senior Citizens' Club will not meet for business on Tuesday, July 11 however, as is customary, there will be a picnic for members at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, July 25, on the grounds of the Scout-Recreation Building.

will be furnished and the rest of the meal will be cooperative.

Richard Miller, 47843 West Seven Mile Road, has an unusual geranium. The plant is well over three feet tall; Miller says that he has done nothing special to the plant to make it grow to such heights, he's "just watered it" for four years.

Fortunately for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merithew, 536 Rouge, there was no damage when half of their huge box elder tree cracked and fell last week.

According to Mrs. Merithew, the huge tree "was probably about 75 years old," and while it was growing it split down the middle and grew in two sections. Last Tuesday evening while out in the yard she heard the tree cracking. By the time she had gone into the house to tell her husband and returned to the yard, half of the tree had fallen.

The Merithews had the tree trimmed annually so there was no damage when the hollow tree fell between their garage and house.

Childbirth Film Showing Locally

Two films explaining the Lamaze method of childbirth will be shown tomorrow (Friday) at the council chambers in Northville City Hall.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the showing is open to all interested couples in the Northville-Novi-Wixom area.

Films to be shown include "Marco", winner of both the Venice and Chicago film festival awards in 1971, and

"The Story of Eric". Both show couples preparing for the birth of their children using Lamaze breathing exercises and techniques.

"They are both beautiful examples of the Lamaze method in action," said Patricia Van Bonn, R.N., who is associated with the Lamaze Institute in Detroit.

She will be on hand tomorrow, along with Dr. Hugo Sanchez, an obstetrician from Northville, to answer questions following the film showings.

Also attending will be Mr. and Mrs. David DeJohn of Northville, who recently used Lamaze methods during the birth of their daughter, Lisa.

The Northville showing of the films are sponsored by the area For further information contact Mrs. William (Sue) Rasmussen at 349-5971.

Foster Parents Plan

Family Helps Jung Soo Oh

In place of their former foster child who no longer needs PLAN help. Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Wikman, 26220 Taft Road, have "adopted" Jung Soo Oh, a 10-year-old Korean boy through Foster Parents Plan, by contributing $16 a month for the child's care.

The child remains with his family. The entire family benefits from medical and dental care, the sustained guidance and counseling of social workers, a monthly cash grant, distributions of useful goods and the aid of special educational programs.

Education is a vital part of the organization's program. All Foster Children are able to attend school. Vocational training courses are available in some countries.

Despite the distance between the Foster Parents who contribute the funds and the Foster Children who receive them, the two keep in touch with monthly letters, translated by the organization a spokesman explained. Foster Parents also receive a photograph and case history of their Foster Child, and annual progress reports as well.

Established in 1937, Foster Parents Plan works in ten countries in South America and Asia. Over 48,000 desperately poor children are being aided by individuals, families and groups in the United States, Canada and Australia.

For further information write Foster Parents Plan, 352 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Bernice Farber, Horse Trainer

She Invades 'Man's' World

Many people would probably say that Bernice Farber has invaded a "man's world." She races and trains harness horses and considers herself a "professional".

"Everyone competing in a race," she said, "is out there for the same thing. They are competing to win." She says that she has never received resentment from a male driver.

Mrs. Farber and her husband Charles have 57 horses on their Brighton farm and they race about half of them. She says that she would like to race and train "for the rest of her life. I was a legal secretary before, and there is no way that I would go back to four walls."

Although her involvement in harness horses began in 1967, Mrs. Farber has been around horses ever since she can remember. She received her first horse at the age of nine. Her interest used to be in showing jumpers and western horses.

"I wasn't what you'd call a pretty rider," she said. She was more interested in speed than impressing the judges.

"In driving, all that counts is speed and cunning and who gets to the finish line first. There is no partiality from judges to worry about."

In June, 1970 Mrs Farber began racing at fairs and matinees. That year she drove in 40 races. Last year she received her mutual license which enables her to drive horses at tracks like Northville Downs where there is pari-mutual betting. In 1971 she had 38 wins at such tracks. This year she has driven in 25 races and has won nine of them. "I'm happy with my record," she said.

Mrs. Farber finds an "equal thrill" in both driving and training. "I wouldn't be as good a driver if I didn't train. I love to train and work with the colts." She said that exercising 20 or more horses a day enables her to get more driving into her schedule. "If you're just driving one or two horses you don't learn much."

The most difficult thing for her in races, she said, is "coming out of an outside position. You have to please the fans. If I go out the favorite and don't win, it bothers me."

The main reason people are pulled toward horse racing, she says, are the chances that everyone involved must take.

"It's not only the individual who bets on the race that takes a chance," she said, "it's even more of a gamble for the horseman."

She explained that every horseman who enters a race is out for the win but only the first five finishers in an eight horse race "get a check." In taking the risk the horseman doesn't know whether or not something will happen to his equipment, his driver or his horse.

When a horseman puts money into a horse, she said, it is the same thing "You don't know whether or not he might be a loser or whether or not he'll break a leg in a race. If I break a leg I'll mend and can come back to what I was doing. A horse can't do that."

The Farbers have a method of raising their horses that is considered by most horsemen to be unorthodox. "Our horses never see four walls," said Mrs. Farber. They are out in the fields 24 hours a day all year long. This, she says, enables them to have companions among the other horses. "That is something they would not be able to do if they were kept in a stable all of the time," she said.

Of all of the horses that she drives and trains, Mrs. Farber says the ones she likes best are the ones that may not win a race but "put their whole heart into the race."

She said that she would like to do more catch driving which is driving horses owned by other people, but she has enough of her own to keep her busy. Her only complaint is that there are not enough race tracks in Michigan and she feels very strongly that both horsemen and the state would benefit if there were.

Mrs. Farber is a busy woman, but she says that each day is still a routine. "There's no woman's lib here. Even though I train 24 horses every day and usually have to drive in as many as six races a night I still have to do the housework."

Bogarin Appointed Schoolcraft Registrar

Russell S. Bogarin, Director of Financial Aids and Placement the past four years, has been appointed Registrar of Schoolcraft College.

President C. Nelson Grote announced the appointment at the Board of Trustees meeting on June 28. He said he was pleased with the selection of Bogarin because "the job demands a special kind of person, and having that person already on staff enables us to accomplish a very smooth transition in this important function."

Bogarin succeeds Norman E. Dunn who retired this year from the post he has held since formation of the College.

The registrar is responsible for conducting registration and for maintaining all official student records. He determines grade-point averages, evaluates credits for graduation and program completion, prepares official transcripts and conducts follow-up studies on those who transfer to senior colleges.

Bogarin entered the profession in 1956. He has been a counselor at Schoolcraft, Eastern Michigan University, the Lincoln Laboratory School in Ypsilanti, and was guidance director for the Van Buren Public Schools in Belleville. He holds degrees from Northern Michigan University and the University of Michigan, and currently is working toward an education specialist degree at Eastern Michigan.

A past president of the EMU Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, Bogarin belongs to numerous professional organizations. He recently worked on a committee which developed a standardized financial aid application for use by all Michigan community colleges this coming academic year. He was named to "Who's Who in the Midwest - Tenth Edition."

Bogarin, 40, and his wife Phyllis have three sons: David is 13, Daniel 11, and Mark 7. They live at 1082 Coleman, Ypsilanti.

She's Nurse

Ann Catherine Bunker Mitchell of Novi is one of 73 recent graduates of the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing, Dayton, Ohio. Ceremonies were held June 16 in the National Cash Register Company auditorium, Dayton.

Mrs. Mitchell, who lives in Miamisburg, Ohio is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bunker of 41007 Mooringside.

GOP Delegate

E.O. Weber, Northville precinct delegate and member of the Wayne II District Republican Committee has been elected alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention.

Weber will represent the Second Congressional District Republicans at the convention in Miami, along with two delegates, Mrs. Nancy Chase of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Fawn Platt of Lenawee County, and Alternate Craig Ruff of Ann Arbor.

Council to Reopen Taft Road Paving?

Even though the Novi city council officially moved to abandon the project in a public hearing two weeks ago, plans to pave Taft Road are far from dead.

In fact, several councilmen are investigating the possibility of reopening the hearings at the point they had reached before being shot down two weeks ago, thus avoiding a lengthy and time-consuming repeat of four previous public hearings.

Behind efforts to reopen discussion of the Taft Road paving plans is a deep-rooted belief that it is imperative for the city to pave the road. Every member of the council has stated at one time or another his belief that the road desperately needs paving.

It was a series of generally unrelated issues that led to the defeat of the paving plans in the public hearing. Residents facing a special assessment have a right to oppose that assessment if they do so in written form. Close to 90 percent of the property owners along Taft signed a petition objecting to the spreading of the assessment.

According to the city charter, if more than 50 percent of the property owners object to an assessment, it cannot be levied unless overridden by a five-sevenths vote of the council.

At the hearing in which the Taft Road plans were abandoned, the council voted 4-2 to proceed with the program. Councilman Louie Campbell was not yet present at the time the vote was taken.

Apparently feeling that Campbell would vote to continue with the program and thus provide the necessary five-sevenths majority, Councilman Raymond Evans, a strong supporter of the paving of Taft Road, persuaded the council to wait until Campbell's arrival before deciding the issue.

When Campbell arrived at the hearing he was advised of the situation and cast a "no" ballot, bringing the final vote to 4-3 - short of what was needed to override the petitioners.

When Campbell arrived at the hearing he was advised of the situation and cast a "no" ballot, bringing the final vote to 4-3 - short of what was needed to override the petitioners.

Jacobs also said financial considerations were extremely important. Because it takes a building of nearly 30,000 square feet to house a rink, a large amount of land is necessary. To have to purchase the more expensive commercial property instead of the cheaper industrial lands would deter most developers from constructing such a rink.

Furthermore, there is a six times greater chance of such a building abutting residential property in commercial zonings than in industrial zonings, Jacobs contended.

The council agreed to reconsider the action with the exception that the skating rinks and tennis courts be allowed only in M-2 and M-3 zonings instead of M-1, M-2, and M-3 zonings. Reason for deleting the M-1 properties was that much M-1 serves as a buffer between industrial and residential districts, and council does not want the huge buildings needed for the indoor recreational facilities next to private residences.

In other business, the council unanimously agreed not to enter into a payback agreement with Kaufman and Broad for Heatherbrae and Heatherwyke subdivisions. K&B had constructed a 12 inch water main along Nine Mile Road to service the

The belief that it is important for the city to pave Taft Road is not the only reason for the interest of several councilmen in reopening discussion, however. Also at stake, some council members felt, is the council's credibility.

When Novi voters approved a one mill increase in taxes to be used specifically for roads, they did it with the idea that Taft and Meadowbrook Roads would be paved first. When the council failed to proceed with the Taft Road paving, some feel, that confidence was betrayed.

(See letters to the editor). For the council to reopen discussion of the Taft Road paving at the point it was defeated, a certain amount of maneuvering with parliamentary procedure is necessary.

First, a motion to reconsider the action taken at the meeting must be made by one of the three councilmen voting against the paving plans. Then, the council must pass the motion with a simple majority.

If the motion reaches the floor it will probably pass. The battle facing proponents of reopening of talks is to get the motion introduced in the first place.

To do that, one of three councilmen must be either persuaded to change his position or have his objections accommodated. The latter seems to be the greater likelihood.

The three councilmen who voted 'no' at the public hearing are Donald Young, Edwin Presnell, and Campbell. Strangely, each had an entirely different reason for

SEMCOG Blamed

Park Plan Irks Novi

Novi officials have long felt the city has been the target of persecution by SEMCOG (the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments) for not belonging to that organization. Now they have an ally in their thinking.

In a letter to City Manager George Athas addressed June 24, Oakland County Commissioner Lew Coy wrote that he "was alarmed at SEMCOG's willingness to punish non members by withholding federal grants (blackmail) and its seeming willingness to injure non-members with preposterous planning."

SEMCOG is a federal commission set up to serve as a regional planning board for the entire southeastern part of Michigan. Membership in SEMCOG is purely optional, but Novi is one of relatively few municipalities declining to join.

Latest issue to boil up between Novi and SEMCOG concerns the location of an 800-acre regional park. SEMCOG would like to put it in Novi and city officials have said they might like such a park, but definitely not in the area where SEMCOG plans to put it.

SEMCOG planners have been developing an "Open Space Plan" for more than a year now. Their first plan, submitted for study last fall, was roundly denounced by members of the Novi city council as a study in inept planning.

In that original plan, more than 50 percent of the land in Novi was designated for parks, including property on which subdivisions already existed.

A second plan was submitted approximately two months ago, but again the council objected violently. The revised plan called for an 800-acre park to be constructed in the northwest section of the city, covering property that included the sewer treatment plant and the railroad tracks.

The land designated for the park comprised a sizable portion of the property Novi has projected for industrial development. "To take that land away from us and put it into a park," Athas commented at the time, "would be paramount to robbing us of our proposed tax base."

The council authorized Athas to write SEMCOG, objecting strongly to the plan. Nevertheless, SEMCOG

A DAY FOR FLAG WAVING—The Fourth of July was made for flag-waving and Novi's two-year old Paul Harding did his share of waving the Red, White, and Blue Tuesday as he watched Northville's Independence Day parade perched securely on his father's arm. Paul is the son of Father and Mrs. Leslie Harding. Father Harding is rector of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Eye New Ordinance

Review Ice Rink

Novi may yet have an indoor ice skating rink constructed within its boundaries.

At the request of the Sugden Company, the Novi council Monday agreed to ask the planning commission to prepare a new ordinance which would allow the location of indoor ice skating rinks, indoor roller skating rinks, and indoor tennis courts in M-2 (medium manufacturing) and M-3 (heavy manufacturing) districts.

Currently the city's zoning ordinances allow such buildings only in commercial districts.

The Sugden Company, represented at Monday's council meeting by Vice-president Robert Jacobs, owns a parcel of land east of Novi Road between 11 Mile and the I-96 expressway on which they would like to construct an indoor ice skating rink. The property is presently zoned M-1 (light manufacturing).

Recently, the Planning Commission recommended the city adopt an ordinance which would allow the three types of indoor recreational uses in all manufacturing districts. The council, however, rejected the ordinance.

Sugden's request to reconsider that ordinance prompted Monday's action.

In a letter to the council Jacobs pointed out that most cities in the Detroit area allow the recreational uses in the manufacturing districts. Of the five indoor ice rinks presently under construction, he said, all but one are in M-2 zonings.

Jacobs also said financial considerations were extremely important. Because it takes a building of nearly 30,000 square feet to house a rink, a large amount of land is necessary. To have to purchase the more expensive commercial property instead of the cheaper industrial lands would deter most developers from constructing such a rink.

Furthermore, there is a six times greater chance of such a building abutting residential property in commercial zonings than in industrial zonings, Jacobs contended.

The council agreed to reconsider the action with the exception that the skating rinks and tennis courts be allowed only in M-2 and M-3 zonings instead of M-1, M-2, and M-3 zonings. Reason for deleting the M-1 properties was that much M-1 serves as a buffer between industrial and residential districts, and council does not want the huge buildings needed for the indoor recreational facilities next to private residences.

Antique Theft Worth $4,000

Thieves helped themselves to more than $4,000 worth of antiques from The Golden Cherub in a robbery which occurred last week.

Located at 42050 Grand River, The Golden Cherub is a combination antique and interior decorating business owned and operated by Mrs. Esther Quattiere of Franklin.

Mrs. Quattiere told police she arrived at the store at 7:30 a.m. and found the front door standing open. Upon entering the building she immediately noticed a few missing antiques and called police.

Investigating officers reported they could find no signs of forced entry and theorized the thieves had entered through the front door.

Stolen items included a painting valued at $1,500; various pieces of cut crystal; sterling silver flatware; candlesticks; sterling silver coffee pot, tea pot, and service set; and several pieces of antique jewelry.

Planning Board Gets 5 Members

Five seats on the nine-man Novi Planning Commission were filled by the Novi city council Monday. Three of the vacancies were created by the expiration of terms. The other two openings were a result of resignations.

Re-appointed to three year terms were Merle Jenkins, Robert Weber, and Robert Bretz. Bretz is chairman of the commission.

Newly appointed members to the Planning Commission are Donald Gleason of Village Lake Road in Village Oaks and Edward Dobek of Twelve Mile Road. Gleason and Dobek were named to fill the unexpired terms of Peter Alcalá and Mrs. Barbara Enzor, who have submitted their resignations from the commission.

Gleason and Dobek were elected from a field of three candidates for the position.

In announcing the results of the council's voting, Mayor Pro-Tem Denis Berry noted that two residents from the northern sector of Novi had been nominated, but declined.

"We hear a lot of comments that the north end is not represented in city government," Berry said. "But if they aren't represented it's not because the council doesn't give them the opportunity."

EASY RIDERS—Bikes decorated and waiting for the starting sign, these youngsters from Novi's Meadowbrook Glens participated in a special Fourth of July parade through the subdivision. Although the city had no large Independence Day parade, several of the subdivisions held small celebrations. In addition to the Meadowbrook Glens festivities, residents in Village Oaks staged a similar parade and enjoyed a fireworks display in the evening.

Winners Announced Fourth Just Great!

It was a glorious Fourth in Northville. Everyone cooperated: the weatherman brought blue skies and seventy-ish temperatures; people turned out in droves; the bands, bikes, horses, classic cars, floats, pretty girls and kids were plentiful. And the Jaycees worked like beavers to provide good food and a sparkling display of fireworks to cap off the daylong event.

Lyn Bourne was the overall Fourth chairman. He had help from David Van Hine, Bob Hilton, Tom Walts, Sam Hall, Pat Dustin, Doug Loomis, Ron Heliier, Omar Harrison, Ron Beier and a host of other Jaycees.

Judges for the parade were Miss Florence Panattoni, David Biery, Richard Mitchell and Martin Rinehart.

They awarded trophies to the following winners in their respective categories:

To Fight Crime

Businesses Join Wixom's WIP

With 84 percent of the Wixom residents cooperating in the Wixom Identification Program (WIP), Police Chief George Von Behren is spreading the crime-prevention program to Wixom's business places.

Businesses are being encouraged by the police department to participate in the program by engraving the drivers license number of the president or another employee on all valuables. The engraving tool, along with other materials needed, will be delivered on request to business places by the Wixom Police Department

After numbers have been etched onto the desired items, a WIP sticker will be placed on the door to warn burglars of the protection.

The police department anticipates an increase to 90 percent involvement among the residential areas in Wixom.

Coordinator of the residential program, Mrs. Jane Wahamiki, was awarded a citation in recognition of her work in organizing the program. For residential program, Wixom was divided into twelve geographic areas. A co-coordinator who lived in the area was named for each one.

The twelve areas and the percentage of participation in each are as follows: Finn Camp, 100 percent; High Gate on the Green, 100 percent; Palmer Lake Estates, 85 percent; Beck Road, 86 percent; Potter Road, 81 percent; West Maple, 95 percent; North Wixom Road, 66 percent; Pontiac Trail, 71 percent; South Wixom Road, 50 percent; Hickory Hill, 71 percent; Birch Park, 93 percent; and Grand River, 88 percent.

It's Fun Touring Europe on Bikes

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Two young couples are having the time of their lives pedaling through Europe this summer and writing a journal of their experiences while they go.

Marty and Mike Garrels, along with their friends Shirley and John Sechrist of Waterford, are spending the summer touring England and the Continent on bikes.

Marty is the Medical Technology instructor at the Voc. Ed. Center, while Mike is the popular band instructor at the Junior High. Shirley is an elementary teacher at Loon Lake School. And, fortunately for me, Marty's parents, Elna and Paul Salo, are neighbors so I can keep up with the journal entries and pass on the interesting things that occur along the way as they're reported instead of waiting until they get back.

Gear all packed and bicycles loaded, the foursome left Windsor Airport June 14 for the flight to London. They spent several days in the city seeing all the sights. Marty wrote that the black situation in Rhodesia and other parts of Africa was the highpoint of discussion. The foursome sat in the House of Commons where the Rhodesian problem was discussed and the sermon for Sunday at Westminster Abbey also delved into it.

They saw the "changing of the guards" at Buckingham Palace where it was terribly crowded and Marty noted that the "changing of the horse guards" at the other end of the mall was "a much better show".

A boat trip down the Thames to Greenwich, watching a performance of the rock spiritual "Godspell," and a tour of the "tube" (subway) completed their stay in London

Imagine though, being some 5,000 miles away from home, in a city with hundreds of thousands of people, and bumping into neighbors Martha and George Tuorin, while they were also taking a tour of the "tube" How small the world!

After finding they must be aggressive to survive on bicycles in big city traffic, our group took the train out of the city to really begin their travels on the bikes.

Their first day took them to Ewelme (pronounced you-elm) through what Marty described as "typically English countryside" with quaint cottages, picturesque farms, and one castle thrown in for good measure and down narrow, but paved, country lanes. Ewelme is known as the place where Chaucer was supposed to have spent most of his life

They pitched their tents in a hedged-in field belonging to an English farmer. Marty said the people have been

CAMP ARAPAHO—More than 100 young ladies from the South Oakland County Girls Scouts recently completed two weeks of games and training in Novi's Camp Arapaho. Located in Warren Woods in the northeastern part of the city, the camp is used by the Girl Scouts for two two-week sessions of day camp each summer. The camp is open to Brownies (age 8) through Cadets (age 15) with the senior girl scouts serving as instructors. Director of one of the camps is Mrs. Robert Brooks of Novi.

"very friendly and obliging" which makes everything that much more fun. Another note in the journal said that English weather is most unpredictable.

The first of bike breakdowns came on the way to Oxford, where the group after pedaling for five days, found out that the bikes needed to be oiled daily. I pass this tid-bit of information on to those of you who may some day contemplate such a journey—remember the oil can.

Oxford is, of course, made up of several colleges, many of them dating back hundreds of years. But the city also has beautiful botanical gardens.

After leaving Oxford, Mike had a blow-out and Shirley's first flat tire occurred on the way to Stratford-Upon-Avon. And when in Stratford, one has to take in a Shakespearean play. "Comedy of Errors" was performed at the Royal Shakespearean Theatre the night our group attended. Add a hike to Anne Hathaway's cottage and a visit to a local pub to complete another vigorous day.

Cooking dinner, be it over campfire or stove, is not included in the days' activities. The group takes all of its evening meals in local restaurants which also gives them the opportunity to sample a wider variety of cooking techniques. They do, however, pack daily luncheons to enjoy along the route of travel.

Here we leave our group, for the time being, and await the next journal to reach Wixom.

Helen and Corb Tillman had a rather short, but very pleasant visit from her folks, Mr. & Mrs. C.M. Wittman of New Hartford, New York. A family get-together in Ypsilanti on Sunday with one of Helen's sisters and the Wittman's visiting with old family friends in Fenton were included in their stay.

The Mackey family of Lakeridge has spent a portion of its summer vacation visiting points of interest within Michigan. One and two day trips during Ken's vacation have been spent touring the Kellogg Factory in Battle Creek, and, since their kids wanted to see "where the bad people go", they actually took a side-trip to Milan and the prison. Even bought a little toy in the prison's gift shop. The articles are all made by the inmates. I asked six year old Sandy what she thought of the prison and she very seriously said that "it was a great big place with bars everywhere!"

I mentioned last week that there was a tremendous group of young folk dancers who performed at the Finnish Juhannus celebration. Since then, I discovered the group performed the next day at the Juhannus event in Windsor and now stand a chance to dance their way throughout Canada if they are awarded a Canadian Government grant to continue their efforts. Two of the young people are from Northville, one from Detroit and the rest reside in Windsor. They all met while attending the International Institute in downtown Detroit and through the mutual love of folk dancing, formed their group. Those of the troupe living in the United States are also with the Finnish Center Association, an organization that was formed to keep and further the Finnish customs and traditions in the area.

Ralph Mannisto, father of one of the girls in the group, is the accordionist and supplies the lively folk tunes for the dances. Always garbed in traditional costumes of Finland, the young people spin through their colorful, happy routines. May they be able to carry on with their entertaining

A couple of notes. Remember that as of July 1, the City has a contract with a new rubbish collector which means a change in day for weekly trash pick-up. The Tuesday night habit of taking out the garbage will have to be moved to Thursday night. Friday is the new day.

The summer library program began last Wednesday and will continue until August 9. Dorothy Thompson will be on hand each Wednesday from 1 until 3 p.m. to check out books and offer a short story time at Wixom School's library. All children are welcome.

Fireworks, picnics, family outings... all a part of America's birthday. I certainly hope you all had a safe and happy Fourth of July.

What's the difference between a rug and a carpet? Well, technically speaking, a carpet is made in continuous rolls of varying widths. Broadloom carpets are the ones that are made to cover a whole room without a seam. However, if you were to cut a smaller piece from a broadloom strip to lay in the center of your room, it would become a rug! A room-sized rug is big enough to cover almost all of your room, except for a small area around the outside edge. An area rug covers a smaller section of the room.

There is a difference between purchasing furniture by yourself and receiving assistance from knowledgeable people. See the difference by shopping at SCHRADER'S HOME FURNISHINGS, INC., 111 N. Police Blotter

Youth Arrested in Juvenile Runaway Case

In Northville

A 20-year-old youth has been charged with carnal knowledge of a female minor under age 16 and harboring a runaway juvenile following an investigation by city and state police.

Richard E. Rowland of 18715 Jamestown Circle stood mute to the charges when he appeared June 27 before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis.

He is free on $1,000 bond on the charge of carnal knowledge and will appear for exam today (Thursday). Bond of $100 was set on the harboring charge with trial scheduled today.

According to police reports, the girl had run away from home several times and had been staying with Rowland. State police troopers found her at the Jamestown Circle address on June 26 after her parents reported her missing to city police the day before.

State police arrested Rowland for harboring a runaway juvenile.

Carnal knowledge charges were pressed following an investigation by city police which began in mid-June when parents reported their daughter was missing from home.

The incidents allegedly have taken place at locations in the city and township over the past four months.

A routine check following a traffic stop for defective head and taillights netted city police a driver wanted by four other police departments on six warrants.

Arrested June 27 was Robert R. McLaren of Wayne. Police said he is wanted by Redford Township and Livonia on two traffic warrants each and by Plymouth and Westland on one warrant each.

City police also arrested him for driving during revocation of his license. He was released on a total of $330 bond.

A felonious assault which took place last week at Winners Circle Bar, 11 West Main Street, is under investigation by the city's detective bureau.

According to police, James M. Andrews Jr. of Detroit reported he had been assaulted with a pool cue on the afternoon of June 24 while playing pool.

An unidentified male rushed him with a pool cue after an argument ensued over the game and hit him across the neck, he said. Andrews reported he suffered severe neck injuries and was knocked unconscious.

Police are looking for a hit and run driver who was involved in a break-in of an auto Saturday night at Northville Downs.

Reports said the driver sideswiped a car, left the Downs' parking lot, drove to Beal Street and fled from the car on foot.

Recovered in the car he was driving was a set of golf clubs reported stolen from another car that evening.

FIRE CALLS
June 28-8:18 p.m., Beal and Church, brush fire.
June 28-11:20 p.m., 326 Sherrie Lane, trailer fire.
July 1-11:43 p.m., fire in trash container behind Ramsey's Bar.
July 2-1:59 a.m., fire at Book and Easel and stairs at Kountry Katerer.
July 2-2:04 a.m., fire in trash container behind 117 East Main and behind 105

July 2-10:37 a.m., 127 Hutton Street, car fire.

COURTNEWS

Two Detroit youths charged with breaking and entering Ritchie Brothers Laundry in May will appear in Wayne County Circuit Court next Thursday, July 13, for a hearing under the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act.

Michael P. Chernavage and Wade J. Prolisco will appear for the hearing before Wayne County Circuit Judge Benjamin Burdick.

Both were arrested May 9 by city police following a break-in at the laundry. They are each free on $10,000 bond.

Joseph B. Burns of Westland was fined $54 after he pled guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

The action came June 27 before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis. Burns was arrested June 16 by city police.

Emery E. Jacques Jr. was fined $39 after he pled guilty to failing to yield to oncoming traffic. He was ticketed by city police June 15 following an accident.

Gerald J. St. Clair of 18745 Ridge Road was fined $39 after he was arrested by city police June 22 on a warrant for disorderly conduct—fighting.

In district court June 29, Dale F. Stoughton of South Lyon was fined $53. He was arrested June 26 by city police on a warrant for writing a non-sufficient fund check.

Following a pre-sentence investigation June 23, Lowell W. Burgess of South Lyon was sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on 18 months probation.

Burgess was picked up June 22 on a warrant by city police for writing non-sufficient fund checks.

In Township

Two persons arrested by township police were each fined $154 after they pled guilty to added charges of driving while ability impaired.

They are Gordon A. Belt of Livonia, arrested March 30, and Bernard R. Anderson of Garden City, arrested May 12.

Both men had been charged with drunken driving which was dismissed after they pled guilty to the added count.

In Novi

Charges of possession of drugs were brought against a pair of Farmington men last week.

Arrested were Daniel Carter Elliot, 19, and Douglas Edward Brooker, 20. The arrests were made Monday, June 26, at 2:30 p.m.

The pair were apprehended by Patrolman Jack Grubb while on routine patrol. Turning south onto Meadowbrook Road from Grand River, Grubb reported, he observed the two men standing by bicycles on the shoulder of the road with what appeared to be a pipe commonly used in smoking drugs.

Grubb stopped his car, approached the two men on foot, and ordered them to place their hands on their bicycles. He then reported removing a "hash" pipe and a plastic tube-type container filled with what appeared to be hashish from Elliot's pockets.

From Brooker's pockets the Novi policeman reported taking a plastic bag containing cigarette papers and a substance believed to be marihuana. The two men were then transported to the Novi Police Station, booked, and finger printed.

They were later transported to the Oakland County Jail, but were bonded out prior to being lodged.

A motorcycle stolen from a Livonia restaurant more than a year ago was recovered by Novi police last week.

While investigating a routine traffic stop Sunday, June 25, officers discovered the engine numbers on a Yamaha "Scrambler" motorcycle had been filed off.

The owner of the vehicle told officers that he had purchased the machine two weeks ago in three baskets of parts in Northville's Hines Park. He also told officers he had spent some $260 on parts in rebuilding the disassembled motorcycle.

The vehicle was confiscated and with the help of the Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory in Plymouth the filed off serial numbers were reproduced. The original owner of the bike was found to be Daniel Doub of Plymouth from whom the motorcycle had been stolen last June.

The man from whom Novi police confiscated the machine has agreed to take a lie detector test to verify his story.

Richard Davidson, 48, a Detroit man, was arrested Tuesday, June 27, at 11 p.m. on charges of driving under the influence of liquor. He was transported to the Oakland County Jail when he was unable to post a $100 bond. He pled not guilty when arraigned Wednesday, June 28. Trial date has been set for July 20 in the 52nd District Court.

A traffic stop for possible charges of driving under the influence of liquor led to two arrests on carrying concealed weapons charges Sunday, June 18, at 12:15 a.m.

Police arrested 20-year old Richard Anthony Cummings, a Milford man, on drunk driving charges after stopping his car when it was observed being driven in a reckless manner.

During the course of their investigation, officers discovered a machete encased in a canvas sheath lodged between the center console and the bucket seat on the passenger side of the car. Further charges of carrying a concealed weapon were then brought against Cummings.

While officers were making the charges against Cummings, his companion in the vehicle, 17-year old William Ray Keene of Detroit, reportedly became increasingly "mouthy" to the point he was interfering with the proceedings.

Police reported they ordered from the car with intentions of arresting him for being a disorderly person, but during a routine pat search, they discovered a 25 inch steel-link chain in his pocket and arrested him for carrying a concealed weapon.

Both men were lodged in the Oakland County Jail when they were unable to post a $100 bond.

In Wixom

Two-wheeled motorized vehicles were the target of thieves in the Wixom area last week as police were called upon to investigate two such thefts.

Mrs Dorothy Shaw of 2795 Loon Lake Road reported a mini-bike had been stolen from a shed at the rear of her property. The larceny was discovered Monday, June 26, at 11 a.m. and apparently occurred some time the preceding evening.

A motorcycle valued at $700 was stolen from a residence at 50450 Pontiac Trail. The owner of the cycle told police it was taken some time between Friday, June 23, at 9 p.m. and Saturday, June 24, at 7 p.m.

It was the second motorcycle reported stolen in the Wixom area in the past week.

While Henry Maicki of Southfield was enjoying the Juhannus Celebration at the Finn Camp last weekend, thieves were helping themselves to goods valued at $200 from his 1972 station wagon.

The stolen loot included a duffel bag, moccasins, tennis shoes, a couple of sweaters, and a spare tire.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The news of the selection of Northville as the site of a major Michigan State Police complex must be regarded as one of the most important developments in the community's recent history.

Barring complications that are not now evident, it would appear certain that the long-sought installation will indeed be constructed on state-owned property next to the Seven Mile road Northville State Hospital.

There are several reasons for viewing the outcome as a triumph for common sense, public welfare and a combination of citizen and official effort.

In addition there are many obvious benefits to be derived by the total area, including Wixom, Novi, Northville, Plymouth, South Lyon and Canton.

The campaign to locate a state police post in Northville began more than a year ago when two troopers revealed that the Redford post was badly over-crowded and that new facilities were being sought in the Northville-Plymouth area.

A citizens' committee, supported by both city and township officials, was appointed to promote location of the post in the Northville area.

Several possibilities were considered, the most seriously being vacated buildings located on the Sheldon road Wayne County Child Development Center.

When this effort lost out at the county commission level, the resulting publicity introduced competition for the post from Plymouth.

And in the meantime, the proposed post was increased to include headquarters for the Second District and facilities for a scientific crime laboratory.

Thus a major installation involving a far greater investment than previously considered confronted the Northville group. And the competition seemed to be able to come up with unlimited financing for a police complex if it were to be located on Northville road across from a new hotel facility under construction.

Some reasoned that the presence of the post at that particular location might guarantee the success of efforts to gain a ramp exit off a new expressway planned nearby at Northville road and Five Mile road.

The Northville group expanded its committee to include the Northville Area Development Corporation, a non-profit organization composed of city and township residents working to improve the economic welfare of the community.

And it was determined that Northville, too, could arrange financing for the construction of a new facility that might cost nearly one million dollars.

The Northville plan had several advantages.

First of all, the proposed site was already owned by the state, thus land costs were eliminated; secondly, more acreage was available and ample isolation provided; and proximity to the new Haggerty-Schoolcraft expressway was ideal with an already-planned ramp only a mile away.

I have to believe, too, that the commander of the Michigan State Police, Colonel John Plants, was impressed by the community effort demonstrated by Northville, represented by a non-profit committee with nothing more to gain than community improvement.

The Northville package made sense from every viewpoint.

To succeed, however, it needed political help, too.

And this came quickly and effectively. First, from State Representative Marvin Stempien and his legislative aide, Tom Husband, who personally ushered through the legislature a transfer of 11½ acres from the Department of Mental Health to the State Police Department.

Stempien's efforts in this project cannot be over-emphasized.

Likewise, State Senator Carl Pursell greatly aided Northville efforts by assisting in legislation involving both the land transfer and appropriations that will enable the state police to lease the new complex.

Plans now call for the Northville committee to meet this week with state police officials in Lansing to make final changes in architectural drawings. Details must also be completed that would see the Northville Area Development Corporation lease the site of the proposed complex from the state, then construct the facility and lease it back to the state over a 10-year period.

State police officials are anxious to get going. District Commander Captain Fred LaPointe said this week he'd like to see it completed by next year (1973).

Northville should be anxious, too.

The state police complex here means that more than 40 police cars will be centered in this area; that the best crime laboratory facilities and technicians will be available to local police agencies for scientific assistance; that the safety and welfare of our citizens will be given a brand new insurance policy at a very reasonable premium.

Logically, the Seven Mile road property was the best site for the new facility from the standpoint of cost to the taxpayer as well as convenience to the police agency itself.

Sometimes, it seems, logic does not always prevail in instances where political decisions and governmental expenditures are being made.

That it did in this instance is a tribute to Representative Stempien, Senator Pursell, Colonel Plants and Captain LaPointe.

Speaking for Myself

Park Authority Millage Hike?

On the August 8 primary ballot will appear a proposition asking residents in southeastern Michigan to approve a one-quarter mill increase for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which would bring the authority's total levy to one-half a mill.

Jack LaBelle

YES...

The average property taxpayer in the five-county region of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne will be asked in the Primary Election of August 8 to approve an increase of $3 per year + to pay for 3 new Metro Parks plus the leasing and rebuilding of Belle Isle Park.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has nine parks and 17,800 acres of land, but studies indicate the HCMA acreage should double by the 1990's. This is necessary to meet the increased demand for regional parks in southeastern Michigan, which is rapidly becoming more urbanized. The present population is 4.4 million, but is expected to surpass the 6 million figure within the next 20 years. Residents' leisure time is also increasing.

As parks have been added and improvements made, a larger proportion of the HCMA funds go for operations, maintenance and administration. This cost $4.2 million in 1971 when the HCMA received $5.1 million in tax funds and $920,000 in operating revenues. Each year less funds are available for land and improvements.

A property tax increase, the first in the 30-year Authority history, is proposed as this tax can be most readily and fairly applied to the district. The Authority park system has been created at a surprisingly low cost to the taxpayer providing facilities for people that no county alone could. With citizen support the Authority can step forward to meet the recreational needs of the future.

David O. Laidlaw, Director
Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority

(+Note: One-quarter (¼) mill, based on a taxpayer with a home valued at $24,000 and assessed at $12,000, is $3 per year.)

NO...

I have two main objections to this proposal. First Huron Metro Authority officials freely admit that $40 million of the proposed tax increase would be used to redevelop Belle Isle as a regional parksite, a nature center, cultural arts center, a sports activities center, etc. This of course would relieve the City of Detroit of any responsibility in the running of Belle Isle.

To this I say just how many tax dollars is Livingston County or for that matter the suburban taxpayer supposed to invest in the City of Detroit?

We all know about Detroit's non-resident income tax and the state legislature's no strings attached appropriation made to Detroit last year. I for one can't wait to see just how much of the Detroit school bill we are going to end up paying because of the recent Detroit millage failures.

By the way, that's the school board that discussed giving their outgoing superintendent a $10,000 gift when he left. Maybe they should have given him a $10,000 gift not to come in the first place.

Secondly, I object to the method used to snuff out organized political opposition to the proposal. If the half mill is voted in, it would mean an additional half-mill levy on taxpayers in Southeastern Michigan.

The reason is that whereas the current one-quarter mill is taken out of the county's portion of the statutory 15 mills, the proposal provides that the half-mill would be over and above the 15 mills.

I say vote "no" to this proposal.

Jack LaBelle

Livingston County Commissioner

Pause That Refreshes

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Several log cabins, among the first that had been erected by settlers who pioneered the Novi area many years earlier, still stood and served as homes when a present-day resident was a boy.

John Richter, a 70-year-old man who lives with his wife in a modest Taft Road home, was recalling Novi's past. He has nearly total recollection of what Novi looked like more than 50 years ago when he trapped and hunted here.

The cabins have long since disappeared, but John remembers them well:

"A good many log cabins had been built throughout this area, most of them near a creek or some water. Three still stood then. One was on Taft Road, about 500 feet south of Grand River; another was on Beck Road about a half mile south of Grand River; another cabin was north of Grand River on Beck Road.

"I can recall in the early 1900's that all of these log cabins—they were little, two room buildings—were used and people were still living in them.

"The one on Taft Road was occupied by Ed Goodell, who was a veterinarian. The one south of Grand River on Beck Road was occupied by a Mr. and Mrs. Lowe; the one north of Grand River, north of 12 Mile Road, was occupied by a Mr. Alex Franz, who gave me an old muzzle-loading rifle before he passed away."

Each of the cabins, he remembers, had hand-dug wells nearby that were lined with carefully laid stones without mortar. John drank from them while trapping.

The wells have disappeared, and many of the creeks along which he trapped and hunted have disappeared. Those that remain "are so polluted that even the wild animals can't live in them anymore."

As a boy one of the men with whom he hunted was Bill Tiffin, who now lives with his brother, Charles, in Wixom. Bill is now 104 years old. "We had a good talk about those old hunting days awhile back," laughs John.

Having lived on or worked on numerous farms from Wixom south to Northville, John remembers that farmers in the early part of this century frequently traveled to Grand River where much of the community activity centered.

Horse racing on Grand River, then just a ribbon of dirt, was a popular pastime, with one farmer pitting his "best" animal against that of another.

"In 1916 they graveled the road. It was done by Andy Verhoff and his brother George. They graded down the hills and put in a real gravel road. Two years later they resurfaced it. Most of this gravel came from a pit near 10 Mile and Haggerty Road where they hauled it out with teams...bobsleds in the winter.

"In 1924 they cemented the road, and it was cemented from Farmington to Howell. I worked on the road helping out."

John labels as fiction the popular belief that Novi gained its name from the Roman numeral VI (Novi reportedly was the "No. VI" tollgate on Grand River).

"It just ain't so," he insists, noting that as a youngster he lived in the tollgate house that then stood where the Midwest Parachute Company is now located.

"Tollgates were not put up until years after Novi was named."

The tollgate house in which he lived—"it still stands but has been moved back about 30 feet"—had ceased operating as a toll center a few years before we moved there. One still operated, though, at about Halstead and Grand River.

"The one that had been in New Hudson, just west of the tracks, was closed, too.

According to John, the gates were attached to the houses and were locked except when a farmer approached with his horses. He sounded a bell and the operator, employed by the state, unlocked the gate and let the horses pass through.

Fees, says John, were "one cent per horse per mile or 2 cents per team per mile. It averaged out at about five cents for one horse or 10 cents for a team from one tollgate to the next."

John once owned the "big brass key" to the Novi tollgate and his brother had some of the operator's books, "but they're gone now. I don't know what happened to them."

The Novi tollgate operator, who lived in the house before the Richters moved there, was Lansing Smith.

Other old remaining buildings, which he estimates at from 120 to 150 years old, are:

"Dr. Fettig's place on Grand River. Dr. August Holcomb had an office there then.

"The convalescent home on the west side of Novi Road, north of Grand River. That was where the first Novi schoolhouse stood—a log cabin one. The log building was gone when I was a boy, but the frame school was there then. The building's still there now, only it's been bricked.

"The grocery store on the north side of Grand River, west of Novi Road. That was a woolhouse then, where they collected the wool from the farmers and then shipped it out."

His most vivid recollections are of the large inn that stood at the northeast corner of Novi Road and Grand River.

"It was probably the oldest building in Novi, I'd guess. Use to be a stage stop. Inside there was a barber shop, poolroom, lunchroom and a kitchen on the first floor, and upstairs were the sleeping rooms."

At the northwest corner was a general store operated by H. H. Jones and later sold to M. J. Moren, he says. "It was a two-story building, and upstairs is where the Gleaners Lodge was located for a good many years. You could buy anything from hardware and clothing to groceries in the store. And at one time it had a post office."

At the southeast corner, "where the beer garden is now," was the C. E. Goodell store. It was a frame, two-story building, too, with living quarters in the back and sleeping quarters upstairs."

At the southwest corner was a meat market—Holmes Meat Market—operated by Charles Holmes. "Old Toot McCrumb had a blacksmith shop west of the general store on the north side of Grand River, and opposite his shop was a woodworking shop. Next to the woolhouse was a root cellar used by the blacksmith and his family.

"There was an apple dryer near the woodworking shop. West were two stockyards, right next to the railroad depot and the elevator. One of the stockyards was run by Ed Holmes and the other by a Lou Bullen. The McLaren brothers operated the elevator.

"Over on the west side of the tracks, on the south side of Grand River was the cheese factory. It was operated by Governor Fred Warner. South of the cheese factory was a barrel factory where they built barrels for apples.

"West of the railroad on the north side of Grand River was a tile and brick yard where they manufactured bricks."

In those days, of course, the viaduct over the railroad did not exist and Grand River crossed the tracks at ground level, he remembers.

One of his most pleasant memories is of a non-incorporated village called "West Novi," where he once attended school.

Much of the little village had already disappeared when John attended school there, but several of the buildings still existed.

The village was located west of Wixom Road near 12 Mile Road and Grand River. The school, originally of logs and later rebuilt as a one-room frame building, stood on the north side of Grand River on the east side of the village near Wixom Road.

"The blacksmith shop was west of where 12 Mile Road leaves Grand River going south, about a quarter of a mile west of Wixom Road.

"There was a little store on the north side of Grand River about at the foot of 12 Mile Road, and it was run by R. E. Ward. Later he put up another store at Grand River and Beck that stands today."

All of these early landmarks—and many others—are little more than fading memories for other old-timers, but for John Richter, blind for the past 33 years, they are etched in his mind forever, unmarred by the changes that have occurred over the years.

"I guess when you're blind your mind wanders back a lot to when you could see. I know what Novi looks like today, and I know that a lot of progress has been made....but the Novi I see is the most pleasant."

To the Editor:

The election is over and the Novi City Council has its road millage passed and what is the first announcement? Taft Road is not to be paved! I'm one of the many Novi voters who voted and talked in favor of the millage, and one of my main reasons was that Taft Road was in such ill repair. I, along with many parents, was willing to vote for the road millage to help pay for Taft Road so the residents on Taft would not have to foot the full bill. Now we find that Meadowbrook Rd. is being paved but not Taft.

Was there bitterness because the School Board wouldn't help. Ridiculous! If my school taxes are going to pave roads than I don't need to vote for road millage. That is about as intelligent as saying we won't pave Meadowbrook Road because Kaufman and Broad and Thomson and Brown won't offer to pay for Meadowbrook Rd. After all, they built the homes that made the paving of Meadowbrook Rd. necessary.

It is my opinion that it would be in the best interest of everyone in Novi, if the City Council were to quit playing politics with the Board of Education and live up to the implied promises they made to the voters before the millage vote.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Donald Waldinmayer

To the Editor:

I have a bone to pick with the Novi School system. They're trying to get rid of a good teacher, Mrs. Sass (The American History teacher). Why? I don't pretend to know all the reasons but I think I know the biggest one. You see at one time I was a part of the reason.

The first semester I flunked American History and wouldn't admit I was the cause. It had to be Mrs. Sass: She doesn't like me, she's a hard grader, she doesn't know how to teach, she picks on me, pushes too hard, etc. I had every excuse in the book. My folks listened to me and then went to see Mrs. Sass and what do you think happened? They found a concerned teacher interested in the kids she teaches willing to help in any way she can.

My folks decided I was wrong not Mrs. Sass, I was told to shape up with the help of Mrs. Sass and my step-mother I did.

All of a sudden Mrs. Sass changed or was it my attitude?

Ge, I'm sure glad my folks saw thru my lies. I just hope other kids are as lucky as I am.

Sincerely
Millie Stewart

To the Editor:

I was shocked with disbelief tonight when I attended a Novi School Board Meeting, Mr. William Ziegler sat as usual as one of the Board members.

It was very hard for me to even sit in the audience and watch this pompous man make decisions for the Novi School District. A man, who just three weeks previous was arrested by the Novi Police for stealing. I would have assumed that if Mr. Ziegler had any morals at all he would have resigned his position with the School Board.

I wonder what the board of education would do if one of their employees were caught in the same situation.

I was amazed that not even one member of the community mentioned Mr. Ziegler's extra curricular activities to the board I was even more amazed that not one member of the board mentioned the event. Is it possible that in days such as these we turn our heads and hope that situations such as this will just go away unnoticed? Does anyone realize that Mr. Ziegler is one of seven board members responsible for the education of the children in the Novi School District? Where do we as adults place the importance of values?

When we want new uniforms of some kind for our school teams we show up in droves at a board meeting.

When a person we elected to help make important decisions concerning our own children can't seem to make the correct decisions for himself, we don't even care, nor do we do anything about it.

I am very concerned are you?

Park Plan

decided to proceed with the plan.

A public hearing was set for Friday, June 23, for the express purpose of adopting the Regional Open Space Plan.

"The Novi location was the only one in the entire plan designated for a park and these idiots didn't even have the courtesy to call and inform us they were holding a public hearing to adopt the plan," Athas told the council.

Coy, whose county district includes Novi, reported he first learned of the public hearing Friday morning and attended the SEMCOG meeting that afternoon. He was successful in having the motion to adopt the plan amended by inserting the words "to delete the regional park in Novi and Wixom for further study and amendment."

There are three main objections to locating the park in the northwest part of Novi.

First, opponents claim that the land is not appropriate for a park. Containing a sewage treatment plant and bisected by railroad tracks, the property does not lend itself to park usage.

Secondly, the area is designated on Novi's master plan for industrial development. "Athas and the council are having enough trouble in trying to run a city the size of Novi on only six mills. To take away their prime industrial tax base would work a real hardship on them," Coy said.

The third major objection to the park concerns government loans. "The real danger as I see it," said Coy, "is not the park as there is a tremendous difference between having a park on paper and actually possessing the property to do it. The real loss would be to the developer, as several avenues of federal financing would be closed if the park were to remain in the approved regional plan."

In essence, Coy was saying that there is little danger in the park being built because the cost of acquiring the land would be prohibitive. However, if the land is designated to some day be developed into a park, federal authorities would be unwilling to grant a developer F.H.A. loans or loans from the Small Businessman's Corporation which would ordinarily be open to him.

Coy also said that he will watch SEMCOG's actions closely in the future and withhold his vote for further funding from the county until he is certain of a change of attitude toward non-member communities.

In the meantime, the Novi council has authorized Athas to inspect the possibilities of getting a count injunction to keep SEMCOG, in the words of the City Manager, "the hell out of Novi once and for all."

Downs' Betting Tops Windsor

Northville Downs is more than holding its own in the battle against Windsor for harness racing fans.

Monday night, for example, the local track enjoyed a mutual handle of $498,545, while betting at Windsor was $299,000. And for the first 11 nights of the current 36-night summer season Northville is averaging $374,717 nightly against an average of $316,578 across the river in Canada.

But the competition for fans is still taking its toll when last summer is compared to the current season. Last year Northville did not run head-to-head against Windsor and its average handle was nine per cent higher than this summer. Total handle to date at Northville Downs is $4,121,886, while attendance is 51,236, an average of 4,658 nightly.

Saturday night betting was just slightly better than the July 3 pre-holiday handle with $498,812

The entire 22-page policy was passed by the council with the exception of two sections; one relating to the city's responsibility to employees drawing Workmen's Compensation and the other involving the right of the City Manager to fire any city employee not appointed by the council.

heard a letter from attorneys for the Ministrell Company which would like to develop 117 acres of land on the north side of 13 Mile and Meadowbrook Roads into a trailer park.

The letter stated it was Ministrell's understanding that the property, which was recently annexed from Novi Township, will be rezoned R-3 at a public hearing July 10 so the mobile home park can be allowed.

Athas said it was his understanding that the planning board intended to recommend the property in question be zoned R-1 (a designation which precludes mobile home parks.

Reef Starts Comeback in Adray Ball

Hindered by the fact that its pitching staff was busily involved in the state Class B baseball championships through the first two weeks of the season, Northville's Reef Manufacturing baseball team in the Suburban Adray League is just beginning to get untracked.

"We lost our first three games because Scott (Evans) and Jeff (Moon) were still pitching for the high school," said Manager Rich Adams in explaining his squad's slow start. "Once we got them back we started doing better."

The Reef nine had two games last week and eked out a 4-3 victory over Plymouth Bidwell Sunday after dropping a 3-2 decision to Dearborn Adray Friday.

"Dearborn is just half a game out of first," Adams noted, "and they were lucky to beat us. I definitely think we're on our way back

With a 19-year old age limit, Adray League competition is filled with college freshmen and the cream of the high school crop

It was Adams himself who starred in Northville's narrow 3-2 loss to Dearborn Adray. The slender shortstop collected three of the five Reef hits off Dearborn's Rob Johnson and drove in both Northville runs.

Dearborn picked up an unearned run off Moon in the first as an error, a ground out, and a sacrifice fly enabled them to score without benefit of a hit. But Reef came back to knot the score at 1-1 in the fourth Terry Mills reached first on an error, moved to second on Steve Utley's ground out to the third baseman, and then scampered home as Adams singled sharply to left.

Dearborn went out in front 2-1 with a run in the fifth, but Reef came right back in the sixth to tie it up. Once again it was Adams who drove in the run, as he stroked a double to bring in Rick LaRue from second base.

Dearborn failed to score in the last of the sixth and Reef couldn't score in the top of the seventh, paving the way for the winning tally in the bottom of that frame. Jim Renko singled, was sacrificed to second, took third on an error, and dashed home as Jack Welsh lofted a sacrifice fly to Northville right fielder John Sprietzer.

Moon gave up just six hits in suffering the loss. Mike Gee, son of the former Red Wing star George Gee, was on the hill for Reef Manufacturing when they took the field against Plymouth's Bidwell Industry team Sunday.

Neither team scored until the fourth inning when Plymouth's Larry Graves belted a long lead off home run. Plymouth scored two more times in that round on a pair of walks, a stolen base, and Adams' costly throwing error to take a 3-0 lead.

Reef got two of those runs back in the bottom of the fourth. Terry Mills drove in Dale Griffith and Dave Coe with a two-out single to narrow the score to 3-2.

The winning runs came in the very next inning. Adams reached first when the shortstop bobbled his grounder and then went to third as Steve Utley smashed a double. With runners on second and third and Reef trailing by a single run, Gee won his own ball game by singling sharply to left to send Northville out in front 4-3.

"It was nice to win one," commented Adams after the victory, "but I think we can do a lot better than we have been. We're definitely looking to move up in the standings." Northville has a 3-5 record.

Pumas Prowl In Tee-Ball

Unification or no unification, at least one segment of the Northville Township population has shown it is a force to be reckoned with.

Action in the Northville Recreation Department's Tee-Ball Softball League (6-7 year olds) got underway last week and after the dust from hundreds of Red Ball Jets endlessly circling the bases had finally settled, it was none other than the Northville Township Pumas who were on top of the heap with a 1-0 record

The Pumas gained the number one spot by topping the Northville Insurance Tigers 22-13 in a three inning contest David Bach homered for the Pumas, but hitting honors went to Jeff Anger who belted two homers. Steve Marrone, David Romanik and Steve Harrison all stroked doubles.

In beating the Tigers the Pumas probably knocked off the second best team in the league. The Tigers won their other two games, topping the Northville Fire Department Blazers 12-8 and marring Schrader's Home Furnishings 34-8.

Bart Leu homered for the Tigers in their victory over the Blazers and Bob Pegrum tripled. The Blazers got doubles from Tim McGlockin, Tom Basilico, David France, and Eric Burkhardt.

The Tigers lashed out 40 hits in beating Schraders Scott Moorefield, Jamie Owings, Don Wilkinson, Todd Barling, Bob Pegrum, David Copp, and Tim Brownell doubled for the winners. Chuck Koenig had a triple. Pacing the Schrader's team were Mike Ziemann and Omar Anisoglu, each with a double, as well as Sean Sperskowski, who collected a pair of two-baggers.

Schrader's did considerably better in their contest with the Del's Shoes-Bears, scoring 23 runs, but still came out on the short end as the bears scored 28 runs

The Bear's Rob Smith had a fourth inning double, but that was the lone extra base blow of the contest. Jimmy Ziegler, Ray Green, and Dave LeAnnais each had four hits for the winners.

In another game, Maury Hill and David France poked home runs and Tom Basilico, Hill, Mike Nader, France, and David Pohlad had doubles to fire the Blazers to a 26-5 conquest of the Del's Shoes Bears John Wittenburg's double was the lone extra-base hit for the losers.

SPORTS Go-Round

By Bob Moore
Is poker a sport? There are those who think so. In fact, these days poker is so organized that there is actually an organization called the World Poker Foundation. This elite group held its first national championship in Cannes some time ago. There were five straight days of poker games although none of them were for money. Forty-two players were involved. The game was exciting, and a woman won. If you're tired of spectator sports, why not try an innocent poker game for a change?

Don't be a spectator of sports—become active—it's good for the mind and body. An easy way to get outdoors and enjoy yourself, is to drive a SUZUKI MOTORCYCLE. MOORE'S MOTOR SPORT INC., 21001 Pontiac Trail, 437-2688, is an exclusive SUZUKI dealership—new and used motorcycles, parts and accessories, sales and service. Come in soon—we're open from 10 'til 8 Mon thru Sat—Sun 12 noon 'til 6.

HELPFUL HINT: Dispose of razor blades immediately. Always keep them out of the reach of children.

LITTLE LEAGUE CHAMPIONS—Champions of Novi's Major League (10-12 year olds) are the B-V Earthmovers. Featuring a strong offensive attack and outstanding pitching, the Earthmovers sailed through their 14 game schedule without a loss. One of the reasons for the Earthmovers success was hard throwing Steve Kerr (above), who combined with Kevin Ary to hurl eight shutouts. All told B-V outscored their opponents by a 152-14 margin. The Earthmovers clinched their undefeated season Friday with a tight 1-0 victory over Poured Brick Walls.

Powder Puff Softball

Phillies Lead League

Boys weren't the only ones slugging extra-base hits and making sliding catches on the Northville Recreation Department's diamonds last week, a sizable contingent of young ladies were also comparing batting averages as the Powder Puff Softball League (girls 9-13 years old) also wound up its first week of action.

Leading the Powder Puff League are the Del's Shoes Phillies

The Phillies got their season off to a good start by bombing the Choo-Choo Car Wash Squaws Tuesday 18-5 Chris Tuck and Lori Hopping each had two hits for the winners, while Lynn Harold and Liz Pixley each collected a pair of smgles for the Squaws.

Teresa Norris was the star of the Phillies second victory, as she pitched her teammates to an 8-0 conquest of the Green Giants. Kris Sudendorf had three hits to pace the Phillie

Hitters, but she had help from Meg Graham who doubled and Dawn Cowan who tripled

In second place in the Powder Puff League are the Casterline Ponies.

Paced by a home run and single by Debbie Wangeman and a double and a single off the bat of Kathy Penrod, the Ponies managed an 8-3 conquest of the VFW Cobras. Mary Durham had two hits—one of them a triple—to pace the losers.

Karen Parris opened with a double and scored on Kathy Corcoran's double, but that was the only run the Charles Chipster Bombers could score as the Green Giants notched their first victory of the season by a score of 14-1.

Debbie Maguire who had three hits—two of them home runs—was the hitting hero for the Giants. Leshe Nadeau and Beth Getzen each had a double for the winners.

Knothole Hardball

Yankees Stalk 1972 Pennant

The Yankees were back in first place, but Billy Martin and Earl Weaver weren't the slightest bit worried because the league the Yankees were leading was the Northville Recreation Department's Knothole Hardball League (10-12 year old boys).

The New York Yankees were still languishing in the second division of the American League East last week, but the John Mach Ford Yankees won both of their scheduled games to move to the top of the Knothole Hardball League.

The Yanks had to struggle, though. Both of their victories were by a single run and the final score in each of their contests was 10-9. Del's Shoes Twins held a 9-6 lead over the Yankees going into the bottom of the final inning only to see the Yanks score four runs to gain the victory. Doug Castillo and Steve Cooper each collected three hits to pace the victory

It was the Casterline Indians who mounted "the big last inning rally" when they played the Yankees, scoring five times in the seventh to knot the score at 9-9, but the Yankees scored one run in the bottom of that inning to gain their second consecutive 10-9 victory. Matt Romanik and Paul Cooper were the only Yankees with two hits, while Rick Torgeson and J.D. Kelly both had a pair of safeties for the Indians.

The two Thompson-Brown Realtor teams—the Mets and the Orioles—are the only other undefeated clubs in Knothole Hardball, but trail the Yankees by virtue of having played one less game.

The Orioles scored 11 times in the fifth inning to record a 16-8 victory over the Casterline Indians. Behrens and McCloud collected three hits apiece to pace the Bird's triumph. Tom Simrak with three hits and McLaughlin with a four-bagger sparked the Indian hitters.

The Mets had an even easier time of it, blasting their way to a 21-10 verdict over the Choo-Choo Car Wash Chiefs. Suckow and Morfield each stroked a home run to pace the hard-hitting Mets and Wanger had four hits to lead the winners in that department. Jeff Jones socked a homer for the Chiefs.

Four teams are tied for third place with 1-1 records. Del's Shoes Twins knotted their record at 1-1 by scoring seven times in the last inning to post a come-from-behind 7-6 triumph over the VFW Giants.

Kevin Lundley of the Giants was the game's top hitter with three hits—one of them a triple—to his credit.

In spite of their last inning loss to the Twins the Giants came back to post a 12-5 victory over the Hyatt Construction Company Wolverines. Again it was Kevin Lindley with three hits—this time two of them were triples—who paced the Giant hitters, but he was aided by Cliff Griegs who also had two triples. Dan Davis with a home run and Dan Carpenter with two singles paced the Wolverines, who got just nine hits in the game.

It was those very same Wolverines whose bats came alive in the next game. With Dave Biery showing the way with five safeties, the Wolverines hammered out 35 hits en route to a 23-4 triumph over the Township Police Dodgers. Joe Martin and the two Daws—Davis and Carpenter—all rapped out four hits apiece to share hitting honors with Biery. Mike Hooth's four hits was tops for the Dodgers. With the Twins, Giants, and Wolverines all balancing their records at 1-1 to tie for third place, it was only natural to suspect that yet another team might join the race for third place. And it was the Dodgers who did it. It was a different Hooth who supplied the hitting power in the Dodger's second game of the week. Mark Hooth slapped out three hits, including a home run and a double to spur his teammates to a 14-5 conquest of the Northville Police Padres. The Padres got just nine hits in the game, two apiece from Getzen, Postman, and Snyder.

Knothole Softball

Pirates Win 3; Grab Early Lead

With three wins in their first three games the Del's Shoes Pirates have jumped off to a quick lead in the Northville Recreation Department's Knothole Softball League (boys 8-9 years old).

Nobody even came close to the Pirates in last week's action as they bombed each of their three opponents.

Scott Robins and David McElroy rapped out four hits in four trips to the plate to pace the Pirates to a 16-3 conquest of the Northville Hardware Colts. Jeff Niewkoop's triple was the big blow in a 10-run second inning that clinched the victory.

Dave Ward's double and two hits in three at bats paced the losers.

The Pirates victory over the Panthers was even more decisive.

With Brady Lineman, Willy Newman, and Niewkoop each going four for four, the high-flying Pirates stroked out a 20-5 victory with the aid of 33 hits. Rob Marzonia had a pair of two-baggers for the losers.

The Pirates continued their heavy hitting against the VFW Rams, hammering away for a 23-3 triumph. Once again it was young Jeff Niewkoop who led the way by socking a single, two doubles, and a home run in four trips to the plate. Carl Lang homered to aid the Pirates' cause and David Malinowski and Brady Lineman chipped in two doubles apiece. Thayer McMullen's three for three performance was tops for the Rams.

In spite of their fast get away, the Pirates cannot afford to take it easy. Right behind them are the Choo-Choo Car Wash Warriors, who won twice last week.

Brian Starr ripped three doubles and a single in four trips to the plate and Doug Eaker slammed a four-bagger to power the Warriors to a 16-3 victory over the A&W Cougars. Mike Freudenberg's two run homer paced the Cougars.

The other Warrior victory was a 13-2 triumph over the Casterline Lions. Tom Arnold with a home run and two triples and Bob Thomson with a home run and one triple sparked the Warriors, while Bob Simrak's double was the only extra-base blow for the Lions.

The Northville Hardware Colts evened their record at 1-1 by scoring a 25-0 whitewashing of the A&W Cougars. Scott Layow's five for five performance paced the Colts, but he got plenty of help from Steve Stuart, Dan Widelic, and Mike Olgren who each went four for four, and from Brian Pascoe and Scott Schaal who each belted round trippers.

It was the Northville Drug Panthers over the Northville Police Athletics 11-10 in a close game. Rob Marzonia homered for the Panthers, while Greg Tuck and Tom Hubbard both lashed three hits for the Athletics.

In another close ball game, the Athletics topped the Northville Realty Astros 13-12. Steve Norton homered and Eric Mueller tripled for the Astros. Neal Fitzpatrick tripled and Kurt Wolf, Jim Williams, and Dan DiColm doubled to spark the victors.

The VFW Rams got four for four performances from both Chuck Meredith and Joe Renault to take a 17-12 victory over the Lions. Brian Pratt connected for a home run for the Lions.

The Astros collected 27 hits en route to a 16-5 verdict over the Rams. Eric Mueller homered and Steve Norton and John Penrod each had perfect days at the plate with four hits in four at bats to pace the victory. David Brock had three singles for the losers.

COMING IN TO SCORE—Jeff Taylor trots across the plate with a run for Palace-Phil's 76-Stone's in action in Northville's Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League last week. Taylor's run helped his team to an 11-0 conquest of BCA Trucking, but in spite of his efforts the Palace team is deep in the standings of the League's tough American division.

Car Wash Wins 3; Tie Lumber for 1st

With American League-leading Northville Lumber inactive last week, it was catch-up time for the second place Choo-Choo Car Wash in the Northville Recreation Department's Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League.

Heading into the week's action, the Car Washers were a full game and a half off the league-leading pace set by the Lumbermen by virtue of having played three less games.

But that game and a half margin was completely erased by the time the week was over. Playing Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, Choo-Choo's heavy hitters pounded out three straight one-sided victories to pull into a first place tie with the Lumber. Both squads have identical 9-1 records.

Village Oaks, the second place team in the National League, also won last week, blanking the Northville Newcomers 8-0, but no more than stayed even with the National League leaders, as the Northville Jaycees also won in last week's action. The Jaycees are 9-1 for the season, while the Oaks team is 8-2.

In spite of their second place status when the week began there was little doubt that the Choo-Choo Car Wash wasn't just as good as Northville Lumber. In the only meeting of the year between the two power-houses, the Car Washers had defeated the Lumber decisively and only an upset loss to a young Exotic Plastic and Rubber squad has kept Choo-Choo from being undefeated.

Last week was the Car Washers turn to catch up.

Monday they topped Lipon's 14-4; Wednesday they defeated Plymouth State Home 16-7; and Friday they bombed Civitan-Casterline 16-4.

If Choo-Choo had a problem it was that they couldn't get their hitters warmed up until late in the game.

After four innings of play Don Thomson's Car Washers held a narrow 4-3 lead over Lipon's, but then exploded for five runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings to take a decisive 14-4 victory.

Jerry Inslund slammed a home run to highlight Choo-Choo's fifth inning surge and Dave Broad hammered a four-bagger in the sixth to spark that uprising. Don Phillip's limited Lipon's to just 9 hits.

Choo-Choo had a great deal more trouble with the Plymouth State Home team Wednesday. Gerry Goff, Jim Smith, and Ray Courter led off with three straight singles against Choo-Choo and Ken Williams stroked a double as the Home tallied four times in the first inning.

Three more scores in the third gave the Home a 7-0 lead, but then the Choo-Choo hitters started coming back. Pete Woodard's line shot over the fence drove in three runs in the bottom of the third as the Car Washers scored six times to cut the Home's lead to 7-6, and then the Car Washers erupted for 10 more runs in the bottom of the sixth to earn a 16-7 triumph.

Ken Kisabeth, John Gilles, Brian Gilles, Dave Broad, and Don Phillip all doubled in the sixth inning and Pete Woodard and Joe Hay tripled.

Hal Axtell belted a three-run homer for Civitan-Casterline against the Car Wash Friday but it was much too late. The seventh inning blast brought the final score to 16-4.

Choo-Choo scored in every inning but the first as Woodard's four for four performance at the plate sparked their hitters. Bob Boshoven homered for the Car Wash.

Third place Renwick, Grimes, and Adams Insurance scored nine times in the first three innings and then coasted to a 13-7 triumph over last place B.C.A. Trucking. Vince Givens slugged a round tripper to spark the Insurance club's five run first inning, but hitting honors went to Dave Brandon, who stroked four singles in four trips to the plate.

Venerable Art Adams pitched a phenomenal four innings worth of no-hit softball at the Truckers Monday as Palace-Phil's 76-Stone's blanked B.C.A. 11-0. Bob Bartski spoiled Adams' no-hit bid with a fifth inning single, but it was one of just three hits the Truckers could muster.

Bob DeAlexandris went four for four, Rich Adams (the pitcher's son) went three for four.

Fifth inning doubles by Rick Ambler and Bill Andrews sparked a three run rally that enabled Exotic Plastic and Rubber to post a come from behind 4-3 victory over Civitan-Casterline. Chuck Fialon doubled twice and singled in three trips to the plate to spark Civitan.

Over in the National League the Northville Jaycees maintained their one game lead over second place Village Oaks by topping John Mach Ford 11-4.

The Ford dealers collected at least one hit in every inning off Jaycee ace Ron Reitenour, who has been hobbled by a recurring knee injury, but were able to score only four times. The Jaycees, meanwhile stroked 14 safeties off John Mach, Sr., as they rolled to an 11-4 conquest.

Jim Belz homered, tripled, doubled, and singled in four trips to the plate to pace the winners.

Second place Village Oaks stayed a game behind the Jaycees by whitewashing the Northville Newcomers 11-0, as Fred Baker gave up just two hits in one of the finest pitching performances of the year.

Chuck Gramlich collected two doubles and two singles in four at bats and Phil Assaley stroked three singles in three trips to the plate to pace the Village Oaks attack.

In other National League games the Ford Valve Plant moved ahead of the Newcomers into fourth place by virtue of two victories in last week's play.

Trailing 5-4 to the V.F.W. team at the end of two innings, the Valves scored three times in each of the third and fourth innings and then held on for a 10-8 victory. Paul Krause, Dale Wolfrom, and Dick Darling combined for six of the Valves' 11 hits.

The Ford Valve Plant's second victory came at the expense of the O.L.V. Men's Club Friday by an 18-5 score.

In Novi Softball

Chefs Topple Jaycees

You'd have thought it was going to be a nice quiet week in the Novi Parks and Recreation's Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League.

After all, the hard-hitting and first place Novi Jaycees (6-0) were slated to take on the somewhat less than dangerous Northville Burger Chefs (1-6) and the powerful second-place Novi Inn (5-1) was scheduled to meet the hapless Novi Police Officers (0-7).

Why not even Jimmy the Greek would give you odds on the underdogs.

But as it turned out the Inn had to come up with three runs in the bottom of the sixth to post a come from behind 8-6 victory over the coppers.

And the Burger Chefs did no less than pull off what just might be the upset of the season by downing the Jaycees 10-9.

The result of the Chef's upset was to knock the Jaycees back into a first place tie with the Inn and set the stage for heated competition for the rest of the season.

The Burger Chef's gave fair warning of their upset intentions by scoring four times in the first inning as Jim Lumkin, Tim Hensel, Mike Whitman, and Denny Skvarce all stroked singles, and then coming back to score three more runs in the second inning as Junior Bernardi, Hensel, and Whitman connected for doubles following Terry Jolly's single.

The Jaycees were not far behind, however. They scored three times in the first, three more in the second as Chuck Gramlich doubled home a pair of runs, and then knotted the score at 7-up with a single run in the third inning.

The decisive inning proved to be the fourth Jolly opened the frame with a single and Lumkin followed with another single. John Anthony then forced Lumkin at second to put runners on first and third with one down and Bernardi then ripped a long home run to make the score 10-7.

The Jaycees tallied twice in the sixth but were unable to score in the seventh and the Burger Chefs had their second victory - and the biggest upset of the year.

The Novi Inn narrowly averted falling prey to the upset-minded Novi Policemen. Thanks to first inning doubles by Paul Faulken and Ray Brooks, the Inn shot off to a quick 4-0 lead. But the coppers came back with three runs in the second, two more in the third, and by the end of three innings the score was knotted at 5-5.

The law officers took a 6-5 lead in the fifth as Jeff Crawford scored on Les Harding's single, but Mike Bingham pulled the game out of the fire for the Inn as he stroked a three-run homer in the sixth to clinch an 8-6 triumph.

In spite of their 0-9 record, the policemen must hold some kind of league record for near-misses. Thanks to a five run third inning in which Charlie Browns, Jack Grubb, and John April singled and Jeff Crawford, Les Harding, and Ed Butler doubled, the crime fighters held a 6-2 lead over Meadowbrook Lakes going into the bottom of the sixth inning.

But the Lakers broke loose for eight big runs in the bottom of the sixth to take a 10-7 victory. Doubles by Ben Wright and Jim Reynolds and triples by Owen Sutherland and Will Plich highlighted the eight-run uprising.

The only game of the week which promised to be close was the only game that wasn't. Both the Michigan-Ohio Air Filters and Thompson Travel Center entered their game tied for third place with identical 5-2 records, but you'd have never guessed it by the final score as the Air Filters hammered out a 19-5 victory.

Ted Battistone was the big gun in the Filters' arsenal, as he collected four hits in five trips to the plate. One of the big third sacker's four hits was his fifth home run of the year. The three-run fourth-inning shot gave Battistone a two run lead over his nearest competitor in the league home run race.

Ken Michon, Mike Fenchel, and Ray Shefka picked up three hits apiece to spark the Filters' 23-hit attack.

Jim Eskola homered and Lloyd Huotari collected three singles in three trips to the plate for the Travel Center.

Walled Lake Slates Slow Pitch Tourney

Two Northville teams - Northville Lumber and Choo-Choo Car Wash - will be on hand this weekend at the Walled Lake Community Schools hosts its second anual Men's Invitational Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament.

Games will be played Friday, July 7 between 6-10 p.m.; Saturday, July 8 between 11:45 a.m. and 9:30 p.m.; and Sunday, July 9, between 12 noon and 9 p.m. Games will be continuous between those times.

In addition to Northville, teams will come from Pontiac, Waterford, Walled Lake, Milford, Canton Township, and Jackson.

Last year's champions - Rinaldo's - and last year's runner-up - 7-Up - will not participate in this year's tournament, leaving the door open to the 1971 third place finisher - the Copper Mug team from Walled Lake. Also in this year's field is the Milford Merchants - last year's state slow-pitch champions.

There is no admission for the tournament.

Swimmers Win A.A.U. Medals

With 30 A.A.U. Swim Clubs from around the state participating, a contingent of young Northville swimmers more than held their own at the Michigan A.A.U. Long Course Junior Olympic Swimming Meet held June 28-29 at Detroit's Metropolitan Beach.

Three members of Northville High School's swimming team won medals in the meet. Art Greenlee finished fourth in the 200 meter breaststroke and was a member of the second-place medley relay team; Kevin Kelly was a member of the same second place medley relay team and swam a leg on the fourth-place freestyle relay team; and Bill Witek also swam on the fourth-place freestyle relay team.

All three boys were competing in the 15-17 year old age group.

Leading the medal winners was Donna Guard, who competed in the 13-14 year old girls' events. Donna took seventh in the 100 meter backstroke, eighth in the 200 meter freestyle and was a member of both the third-place medley relay and fourth-place freestyle relay teams.

Other medals were taken by Bill Bloomhuff, fifth in the 100 meter breaststroke; Biff Ballash, eighth in the 100 meter breaststroke; Jim Cahill, as a member of the fourth-place freestyle relay team and the fifth-place medley relay team; Carl Haynie, as a member of the sixth-place freestyle relay team; and Dean Guard, as a member of the sixth-place medley relay team and eighth-place freestyle relay team.

Wilburn Makes Bid For Driving Crown

At the age of 54, Tom Wilburn, the Artesia, Mississippi driver-trainer, already is bidding for the 1972 summer driving chamampionship at Northville Downs.

With the meeting only two weeks old, Wilburn is far in front of the standings with a total of 12 victories in the first 10 nights, including the only triple to date.

After winning the Wolverine driving championship, the clever Southerner checked into Northville with a powerful stable including such standouts as pacers Perley Hanover, Trench Coat and Scram and the fast trotter Cambev.

Within a matter of three nights, he served notice that he had eyes on the driving championship. He had a double on the second night of the meeting, another on the fourth and then registered his triple on the first Monday of the 36 night campaign.

Wilburn has one of the most useful stables on the grounds with horses for most any type of event that Racing Secretary Harry Peterson arranges.

He has three of the best pacers in Perley Hanover, Trenchcoat and Scram and one of the better four year olds in Linberg Hanover which won on opening night as the odds-on favorite.

And that's only part of the story...his stable includes slow, middle and fast class pacers who can and have whipped most of the others in those divisions.

The Northville meeting continues through Tuesday, August 1.

R&L Wall Tops Novi Girls' Loop

Novi's Parks and Recreation Department's Girls' Softball League is only three weeks old, but only the girls from the R&L Wall Company can boast a perfect record.

Golf Lessons Now Monday

Time and date for the Golf Instructional Program of the Northville Recreation Department have been changed, Recreation Head Robert Prom announced Friday.

The class will now meet every Monday from 2:30 - 4 p.m. at Ford Field. Previously, the class met on Wednesdays.

Teaching the course is Jim Vargo, assistant professional at the Orchard Lake Country Club and a member of the Professional Golfer's Association. He is assisted by Larry Vanderbie of the Recreation Department staff.

Leaders of the Second Division, R&L remained undefeated last week by nipping West Oakland Bank 8-7 in spite of a pair of double plays pulled off by Millissa Faulkner, Kim Mesyjak, and Sue Thomas of the Bankers.

In their other game, R&L cruised by Ashley & Cox Real Estate 9-3 as pitching ace Nancy Porter struck out 11 and Lisa Michaels had a perfect day at the plate.

In First Division action, Da Old Country Pizza Palace posted a pair of wins by downing Lacy Tool 17-13 and Talmay Agency 18-12. A pair of double plays by Reggie Smith, Denise Stipp, and Michele Miller proved too much to handle, however, as the Pizza-girls dropped an 18-14 decision to the Novi Inn.

In other action, Lacy Tool outlasted Talmay Agency 27-23. Janet Cook homered for the winners, while Terri Lee collected a four-bagger for Talmay.

134 N. CENTER STREET - NORTHVILLE

DESTROYED—Northville firemen are shown about 2:30 a.m. Sunday battling a blaze which destroyed the Book and Easel at 150 North Center Street. Fire fighters remained on the scene until 8:35 a.m. Thirty-year-old James B. Wynneparry was arrested at the scene and charged with arson.

at 331 North Center Street in May. At the time of the Northville Laundry fire, state police fire marshals indicated the blaze had been set. Cloverdale, which just completed remodeling last week and into which the Kountry Katerer is slated to move, was missed by fire damage. The name will remain as Cloverdale. Police said matches recovered from the smaller fires and matchbooks found on Wynneparry were taken to the state police crime lab for analysis. The fire department was called to extinguish a car fire at G.E. Miller Sales and Service, 127 Hutton Street, at 10:37 a.m. Sunday. Detectives theorize the fire had been smoldering for some time and pieces of burned napkins from the palace Restaurant were found on the front seat of the car

Reopen Taft Paving?

opposing the paving. Young took the position that the $14 per front foot assessment was too high. The reason for paving Taft is the heavy traffic flow to Novi High School and Novi Middle School, he argued. The residents don't need the road paved; the community needs it paved and therefore the community should participate to a greater extent in paying for the road. Young said he would be agreeable to an assessment of $7 or even $9 per front foot. Presnell's objection concerns use of Act 51 funds (the city's share of state gasoline taxes) to finance part of the paving. The funds are awarded on the basis of miles of major roads. As Novi has 13 miles of major roads, no more than one-thirteenth of the existing $100,000 in surplus Act 51 should be used on any one mile of major road, Presnell contends. Campbell's objection is directly tied to the refusal of the Novi Board of Education to accept a portion of the assessment for paving the road. Under state law the school board is not obligated to accept an assessment, but may at its own discretion. Although owning a major portion of the property along the west side of Taft Road between 10 and 11 Mile Roads and being the primary reason the road needs to be paved at this time, the school board has steadfastly refused to accept the assessment. Campbell had said he will vote 'yes' for the paving when and if the school board agrees to pick up its full $14 per front foot assessment. Unfortunately for those who would like to see Taft Road paved, there seems little chance that Young, Presnell, Campbell or the school board will change its position. Nevertheless, efforts to bring about such a change are proceeding and all interested parties have one major point in common - they all profess to wanting Taft Road to be paved.

State Police

he pointed out. A meeting is scheduled today (Thursday) in the offices of Colonel Plants along with Captain LaPointe and representatives of the Northville committee. Second district headquarters directs state police activities in Port Huron, St. Clair, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw, Monroe, Wayne and part of Lapeer counties. It includes eight posts, two crime laboratories and an airport detail at Metropolitan. About 40 personnel will be employed at the district headquarters portion of the three-part installation locally. A 40-man contingent of troopers plus civilian radio operators will be stationed at the new post, while the crime laboratory will have 50 personnel. Included in the bureaus at the new complex will be traffic, polygraph, fire, arson and civilian defense, Captain LaPointe stated. Troopers assigned to the local post will cover the Northville, Novi, Wixom, Plymouth, Canton township and South Lyon area in a reassignment of duties. Specifically, state police are responsible for expressways, which will include the new Haggerty-Schoolcraft freeway located about a mile from the proposed new post site. Captain LaPointe noted that the intelligence bureau and an information center will remain at the Detroit post in Redford. Although cost estimates of the new Northville complex cannot be determined until final drawings are approved, it has been pegged at near $850,000. Arranged in campus plan for cooperative administrative, service facilities and utilities, the complex contains some 26,000 square feet on the main level and 7,000 square feet on the lower level. It is to be built largely of pre-cast concrete sections.

More Jaycee Survey Results

Public Reaction to Services

Here are some general findings of the Northville Jaycees in their recently published 1971 community survey:

- Utility services such as electrical, telephone and postal services, were highly approved.
- Governmental services such as water availability, sewage systems, storm water drainage, garbage collection, and street and sidewalk maintenance were favorably received with some reservations.
- The road and sidewalk maintenance program came in for particular criticism although overall response was favorable.
- Both fire and police protection were rated above average although varying opinions, depending on the particular residence of the respondent, were expressed.
- Residents showed discontent toward present medical facilities, with the exception of dental services.
- The need for improved community medical services, particularly of an emergency nature, seemed to be a recurrent theme throughout most of the replies, Jaycees said. Many respondents felt a hospital situated in the Northville area would be a welcome addition.
- Transportation facilities were severely downgraded both within the city and between the Northville area and surrounding communities.
- The present industrial development of the area was also severely criticized, indicating that more industrial development is needed.
- There was a smaller group who felt that no more industrial development should be allowed in the community in order to preserve the atmosphere of the area, Jaycees found.
- Recreation facilities such as parks, open-space areas, and ball fields received a favorable report from the community.
- However, the recreational programs were marked below average particularly in the teenage, adult, and senior citizens areas, Jaycees said. There was strong sentiment to develop the open-space areas for some recreational use indicating a definite need for neighborhood play areas in the city.

The lack of meeting places for teenagers and the lack of a general community building for large groups to meet and call "home" was also pointed out in the survey results.

Cultural opportunities of the community were classified as below average. Educational staff, facilities, and programs of the Northville School District were given a very good rating. Very few adverse comments of any type were received concerning school operations, Jaycees said. The year-round school special questions indicated that the community is aware of the program offered but does not favor the suggested format or non-summer vacation periods, they added. (When the survey was conducted Northville was considering the quadrimester program, whereas today it is considering the 45-15 program).

Shopping, public eating, and lodging facilities were sharply criticized. The lack of restroom facilities in the central business district was singled out very strongly.

A need also was expressed for motel and hotel facilities in the area. Later store hours, more competitive prices and a larger variety of merchandise were frequently mentioned as needs in the responses concerning places of business. Job opportunities for all age groups in the Northville community were rated as poor.

On Most Questions

All Residents Agree

Of the 83 questions on the Jaycee survey form, 73 received nearly identical responses from both city and township residents.

These were questions, Jaycees explained, relating to professional services, transportation, educational program, and other services or activities jointly used by city and township residents.

Other similarities between the city and township surveys include:

The largest number of city and township residents interviewed have lived in their respective areas for more than 15 years.

Second largest group of residents have lived in their respective areas from one to three years.

Forty three percent of the city respondents and 44 percent of the township respondents had completed a college education.

The number of "No response" replies for both city and township residents was the greatest on the same question: "Welfare services and aid to families."

While there was much agreement and surprising statistical similarity between city and township residents, there were some sharp differences, Jaycees noted. These include:

Township residents rated sewage disposal and garbage collection far below the "average to good" rating given by city residents.

Township residents also found less favor with police and fire protection than their city counterparts.

Recreational facilities for teenagers and senior citizens were all rated higher or better in the township than in the city as were the playgrounds.

Age Groups Answer Alike

Age represented a minor factor in regard to the total response in the Northville Jaycee community survey, officials disclosed.

General conclusions: Those under 30 years of age had spent the least time residing in the community.

Younger respondents had completed a greater percentage of higher education. Younger people tended to fill out the survey as individuals, whereas older respondents tended to fill out the forms as couples.

There appeared to be nine areas where significant differences of opinion showed up when respondents were classified by ages, Jaycees reported. These included:

A greater percentage of older people were dissatisfied with storm water drainage. Younger and middle age groups were less satisfied with telephone service and rates.

Older respondents showed general positive opinions about the court.

The older group seemed least satisfied with industrial development, indicating that as older residents they did not want additional industrial development to change the appearance of Northville.

The middle age groups were the least satisfied with field for baseball and other sports, perhaps due to their children being most affected. The middle and older age groups were the least satisfied with public meeting place for large groups.

Although all age groups were dissatisfied with public meeting place for large groups.

Although all age groups were dissatisfied with job opportunities, lack of jobs for 18 to 39 year olds was especially noted by the oldest groups.

The youngest age group was the most dissatisfied with non-summer vacations relative to year-round school.

Enamel is a fun paint to use. Not only is it washable, it's shiny and cheerful to look at. Today most enamels are made without lead or with a very low percentage of lead, so that they're safe for most everything. Remember, however, that enamel does not often cover a surface which contrasts very much with itself. Enamel needs a base coat. Perhaps the easiest way to cope with this is to purchase the type of base coat made especially for enamel.

The easiest way to cope with all your homeowner tasks is to purchase your tools and supplies from NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO. 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220. # Driver Education

A Handful to A Houseful

Figuratively speaking, in the beginning you could count on one hand the number of young people taking driver education. That was in 1950 when state legislation establishing the program went into effect.

Now, there's a growing house full. Edward Smith, Brighton science teacher who got in on the ground floor as an instructor, says to the best of his knowledge Brighton didn't have a program until around 1952.

And the same might be said for Northville and South Lyon. Northville didn't have a high school until 1965, so that school didn't get into the act until that time. The Driver and Safety Education Unit of the Michigan Department of Education, which oversees the program statewide, only has records dating back to the 1955-56 school year when it became mandatory for the public schools to offer driver ed.

There were 21,781 students who took driver education in 1956. In parochial schools, 610 took the course and 35 in private schools.

In contracts, the number of students enrolled in driver ed in public schools had mushroomed to 165,464 during the 1970-71 school year. Another 12,264 students learned how to drive in parochial and private schools and through commercial schools approved by the Department of Education.

It's estimated that 98 percent of high school students now learn to drive through driver education. The explanation is simple. If a young person wants to drive before he's 18, he must successfully complete the course, as well as pass a state written and road test before he can obtain a license.

Enrollments in driver ed programs locally reflect, of course, the state trend of increasing student enrollment. Where from 40 to 50 students annually took the course in the early 50's, this year Brighton will certify about 284, South Lyon 261, Northville 240 and Novi 150.

Before obtaining a driver education certificate, the 14, 15 or 17-year-old must complete 30 hours of classroom instruction and must spend 12 hours in a driver ed car, six of those hours behind the wheel.

Fourteen-year-olds rarely obtain a certificate, because of two essential reasons. In the first place, the order of priority is, by state law, older students first. In the second place, the 14-year-old may obtain a license, and then a restrictive one, only if there is some unusual circumstance, such as invalid parents.

Another requirement, besides the 30 classroom hours and 12 road hours, is that the public schools must accept all youths under 18 if they wish to take driver education. In Northville, the public school system provides driver education for parochial school students.

The school districts may determine for themselves how they block out time for meeting state requirements.

In Northville, for instance, class sessions last one hour. In Brighton, South Lyon and Novi class sessions last two hours. A student may complete his 30-hour classroom time first, then gain his on-the-road experience. Or the classroom work and the road work might be blended together over the instructional period.

When courses are offered is also left to the school district. Northville's program is undertaken exclusively in the summer. South Lyon and Novi offer driver's ed during after-school hours and during the academic year and during the day in the summer.

Since Brighton high is on split sessions, school got out around noon last year and thus driver ed was offered after school the second semester. The bulk of Brighton students, however, take driver education in the summer.

The number of teachers, too, might depend on the driver education schedule. As few as three teachers, like in Novi, may handle the program, or as many as eight, like in Brighton. Northville utilizes four instructors, South Lyon six.

Lyle Powers, principal of Brighton High School, says it's not enough that students demonstrate driving knowledge and skills. A third criteria that he thinks is equally important is judgment. "Driving is a privilege and requires a 'grown up' attitude toward responsibility," is the way a message to parents phrases it.

Two school districts—Brighton and South Lyon—have gone beyond providing instruction only for those under 18. Through their community schools programs, Brighton and South Lyon also provide instruction for older persons.

Each year the districts receive new cars, furnished free by car manufacturers through local dealerships. Most of the vehicles are standard-sized American cars, but South Lyon also has a Volkswagen.

All cars are equipped with automatic transmission and, necessarily, dual controls so the instructor may correct mistakes or temper excesses of his students.

And since students are learning, they're bound to make mistakes. "Every time you go out is an experience," says Robert Kucher, a Northville instructor who has been in driver education for about eight years.

"One of the things that

Michigan Showplaces

Peek at the Past

The big, old homes have noticeable differences, but all have two things in common—they're architectural showplaces and the homes of former Michigan governors.

Automobile Club of Michigan has listed the former residences of 11 chief executives whose terms of office spanned more than a century, with 1948 the most recent.

An auto tour to these homes gives an insight into the personal tastes of these state leaders.

Four homes are open to the public. Two are now museums, another is a community house and the fourth, restored completely, is owned by the Daughters of the American Revolution and open by appointment. The others remain private residences and may be viewed only from the sidewalk or road.

Of prime interest is "Pine Grove" or "The Pines," once owned by Moses Wisner, at 405 Oakland, northwest of downtown Pontiac. It is now headquarters for the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society, which acquired the property for $15,000 in 1945.

A long, curving driveway leads to the large, brick, two-story house, replete with tall, white pillars and green-shuttered windows. Wisner purchased the home in 1844, and it served as a governor's mansion during his 1859-60 term. The estate takes its name from an early stand of pine trees which now number only four.

All rooms, with the exception of what was once the servants quarters and kitchen, are open to the public. There also is a root cellar, and a transplanted one-room schoolhouse. Many original furnishings, particularly in the parlor and dining room, were donated by Mrs. Florence Wallace, granddaughter of the former governor. Gifts have aided the restoration.

LANSING—Potomac fever is a disease which strikes only politicians.

It has only one symptom: a great desire to go to Washington as an officeholder, most usually in either house of Congress.

One of the prime breeding places for the germ which causes Potomac fever traditionally has been the state capital. An officeholder sitting in the legislature quite easily can envision himself promoted to the biggest legislature of them all.

In this particular election year, an especially virulent form of Potomac fever is apparent in Lansing. A total of nine members of the state legislature are running for Congress. Many others toyed with the idea before discarding it.

MEMBERS of the state senate have a more comfortable position from which to run. They are in the midst of a four-year term so if they lose their Congressional bid, they still have a two-year term left in Lansing.

Six of the 38 senators are taking advantage of this free shot at a Congressional seat and several of them are conceded good chances of pulling off a win.

Perhaps the most well-known statewide is Senate Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor. Zollar, one of the most powerful men in Lansing, is challenging U.S. Rep. Edward Hutchinson in a district made less safe for Hutchinson by redistricting.

Both men are well to do and are expected to spend a great deal of money in the contest—rated a tossup at this time.

ONE OTHER SENATOR is running outstate. He is Jerome Hart, a Democrat from Saginaw, who is challenging incumbent Republican James Harvey.

The district was reshaped by reapportionment and has a more Democratic tinge than before.

Whether it's enough to pull Hart through remains to be seen.

Two Senators are competing in the newly created 18th district just north of Detroit. Democrats Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and James Gray of Warren are among those competing for the Democratic nomination in what was drawn as a decidedly Democratic district.

The district was originally drawn to favor Cooper, a liberal suburbanite who developed strong antibusing tendencies when busing became such a hot issue. Gray is more conservative and could give Cooper a good fight. The winner will have to defeat former GOP Sen. Robert Huber in November.

TWO OTHER SENATORS with slimmer chances are Republican Donald Bishop of Troy and Democrat William Faust of Westland. Bishop is running for the GOP nomination against State Rep. David Serotkin of Mount Clemens in the district represented by Democrat James O'Hara. Faust is running against incumbent Democrat William Ford of Taylor.

Besides Serotkin, the state representatives running are Republican Jim Brown of Okemos and Democrat Marvin Stempien of Livonia.

Brown is giving GOP Rep. Charles Chamberlain his first primary fight in 16 years, and observers are unsure how deep Chamberlain's support will be. Stempien will challenge Republican Marvin Esch in November in a race rated a tossup.

Just the law of averages should produce success for at least a few of the state legislators—providing fuel for Potomac fever by other legislators in the future.

THE DECLINE AND FALL of the presidential candidacy of Maine Sen. Edmund Muskie surprised many people in politics and in the business of analyzing politics this year, of course.

The Lansing scene proved to be no exception.

Not long before he pulled out of the primaries, Muskie was endorsed by a group of legislators named, quite logically, "Michigan Legislators for Muskie."

The list included nine of the 19 senators and 19 of the 58 house Democrats. It included both House Speaker William A. Ryan and Senate Democratic Leader George Fitzgerald, both men with a lot of experience and savvy in politics.

Which only goes to show that even the experts aren't right all the time.

Babson Report

Flourishing Pet Food Sales May Dip

BABSON'S REPORTS—There has been a quite dramatic expansion in the pet foods business over recent years. In view of the expected continuing increase in demand and the introduction of new premium items, both sales and profits of the leading manufacturers of pet foods should remain well above average over the period ahead. Taking a look at the longer term, however, we would not be surprised if sterner competition and eventual curbing of the nation's pet population were to cause some slowdown in the industry's present rapid rate of growth.

Greater affluence for the human populace as a whole, the heavy concentration within the younger age brackets, and the ever-growing movement of families to single residences in the suburbs have been potent factors in generating a boom in the totals of dogs, cats, and other pets adopted by the citizenry since World War II. While accurate "nose counts" of pets are not available, it would appear from results of market surveys that at least one out of every two households has a feline or canine member—and some have more than one. These animals are the mainstay of the pet foods field; other pets have far less effect on this market.

SINCE THE last 1950s the nation's pet population has proliferated so spectacularly that the value of pet foods shipments from processing plants for dogs and cats alone has more than trebled. The retail value of these products was estimated to be in excess of $1.4 billion last year.

It is not surprising that these impressive figures stimulate companies to try other items for catering to pets. Owners are, in fact, prone to buy all sorts of articles, such as collars, shampoos, brushes, toys, vitamin supplements, flea and tick deterrents, and even deodorants. While these nonfood items are not within the scope of this immediate discussion, many are being turned out in increasing volume by firms which started out making pet foods.

There is still a great untapped demand for basic pet foods. In fact, best obtainable statistics indicate that less than half the dog owners and less than a quarter of the cat owners rely on manufactured foods for their charges. So it has become a common sales tactic for producers and merchandisers to point out the importance of giving animals a well balanced diet. The "tender loving care" appeal is emphasized to entice pet owners to purchase their particular lines. Nutritional factors are highlighted, plus attractive flavors, special varieties of ingredients, and the convenience aspect.

As in the case of any specialty, it remains to be seen whether the profit climate can be kept as healthy as it has been over recent years. On the plus side is the probability of higher profit margins as the scope of premium products is widened. On the other hand, it should be remembered that the nation's birth rate for the human population is showing a decline, and this could have an effect of a similar sort on the cat and dog population as the youth segment lags.

WITH THE exception of a few smaller companies—in terms of annual sales and income—the pet foods industry is for the most part dominated by concerns which are either largely or very heavily based on facets of the people market. In these corporations, pet foods operations represent only a minor portion of annual sales and profits—even though this division of their business may have demonstrated the best record of growth for them over recent years. Hence, such diversified firms with a stake in pet foods are not likely to find themselves in the position of having "the tail wag the dog." Among the best of these currently recommended for purchase by the Research Department of Babson's Reports are Nabisco, Greyhound, and National Can.

commonly happens," Kucher said, "is the kids use the gear shift selector for a turn signal. But we have been very fortunate. We have had very few accidents. Usually, the student driver is not at fault."

One of the reasons student accidents are kept to a minimum is because the student isn't taken into Detroit traffic the first day. He progresses from "tame" to "wild" driving conditions.

Ron Wixom, head of the Novi program, says that Novi students begin in the school parking lot. Then they advance, in order, to back roads, subdivision roads, small towns, Farmington, expressways, Detroit and finally parking in a shopping mall and downtown Northville.

For the student who successfully negotiates these traffic conditions and also passes the classroom work, there's no 'A', 'B' or 'E'. There are only two grades. Passing and failing.

"If there's any question," Brighton Principal Powers says, "we don't pass them." Even then, he adds, only three to five of over 250 students fail.

Horse's Mouth

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, MI 48178.

Michigan's 20th All-Morgan Star-Rated Horse Show will be held July 7 - 9 at the Michigan State Fair Coliseum, Detroit.

It will feature nearly 450 outstanding park and pleasure Morgan horses. This year's show has been expanded to three days to accommodate the 95 classes and exhibitions that will compete for $7,500 in prize money and trophies.

New this year will be $500 Michigan Classic Saddle Championship on Sunday afternoon for English pleasure, Western pleasure and park entrants. Also on Sunday afternoon there will be a Voltige Exhibition presented by Mrs. Karin Wolski of Martindale Road, South Lyon.

Another addition to this year's show will be a dressage class. It will be judged by Charles Grant of Brighton and the trophy will be given in memory of Miss Diana (Dee Dee) Focke who was killed July 11, 1971 in an automobile accident. Dee Dee was originally from Free Soil but lived and showed horses at Shine-A-Bit Farm in Brighton for two years prior to her death.

Local residents showing this weekend will include the families of: (South Lyon) Warren Detgen, Joe Dunville, James Mair, David Batton, Frank Mendolia and Warren Sessink, (Novi) Charles Boyer and Basil Hiner (Show Chairman), (Northville) Ward Clawson, Jerry and Bob Cole, Eddie Earehart, Lois Godfrey, Ernest Lusk, Charles Marino and Karen Truan, (Brighton) Karen Kline.

Marty Swartz of South Lyon is show secretary.

Governor William G. Milliken has proclaimed the show dates as "Justin Morgan Horse Days in Michigan." Mayor Roman S. Gribbas named the week of the show as "Morgan Horse Week" in Detroit.

There will be morning, afternoon and night sessions Friday and Saturday morning and afternoon sessions on Sunday.

"As the most versatile of all horse breeds, the Morgan affords people of all ages an opportunity to participate in horse show competition," said Robert Appling of Swartz Creek, president of the Justin Morgan Horse Assoc. He emphasized that the Morgan can be shown in hand, English, Western, fine harness, and both park and pleasure.

Tickets for the show are on sale through J. L. Hudson agencies, the General Motors Girl's club and through Justin Horse Association Members.

How to Achieve A Happy Marriage

Reverend Father John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church
Northville

A meaningful social visit to my by a middle aged couple at whose marriage I was a witness 20 years ago brought out some insights on how to achieve happiness in marriage. The conversation went something like this.

Question: "This is June, the month I performed your marriage. If you had to do it over again what would you change?"

Answer: "First of all we might feel that we did not spend enough time in preparation for marriage. A quickie course of six classroom hours we know is not sufficient. We should have spent much more time in learning about the social, physical, emotional, psychological and spiritual aspects of marriage."

Question: "As I recall, though, yours was not a hasty marriage, was it?"

Answer: "As we look back we realize that it's easy to fall in love. But love doesn't just grow by itself. It has to be nourished. When we occasionally attend a church wedding of a young couple we hear the words "We love in proportion as we give." On our own wedding day 20 years ago those words did not mean too much because of the many distractions of the celebration but today we realize that the only unhappy moments in any marriage come when one or the other spouse, or both, are unwilling to give."

Question: "To give what?"

Answer: "To give understanding, or time, or attention, or compassion or service-whatever love needs at a particular time and place."

Question: "What is one of the ways of giving?"

Answer: "One of the first ways of giving we learned (after a few mistakes) was to talk to each other. All of us have a deep need to talk about the things that make us happy or sad. Sometimes there is a temptation of hiding our inner selves and it completely scares us to reveal our experience to the other spouse."

Question: "So then you think that marriage is giving of all of yourselves to one another?"

Answer: "Most certainly; not giving just of the body but the heart and mind. We learned quite early in our marriage to tell each other what was in our hearts and this led to understanding. This interchange of our experiences as individuals revealed that these happenings were not 'mine or yours' anymore but 'ours'. We soon learned or felt rather that we were beginning to share not only the same name and address but the same life.

Question: "What about trusting one another?"

Answer: "As trust and confidence grew we found we could more honestly and openly air our deeper feelings. Believe us, it's a wonderful thing to be able to confide in each other about anything, even our faults and mistakes which we used to hide. It's really great to know that love will bring forth sympathy and understanding and assistance, not criticism, nagging or vindictive silence."

Question: "What about being a good listener?"

Answer: "There is a time for unburdening oneself; there is a time for listening yes, even if it comes at a time when it means letting dinner get cold or staying up another hour when you're very tired. It's a very important moment because it is the impulse to talk is smothered a particular time, it will be the next time too. And if you delve into any unhappy marriage of some of your friends and relatives you will usually find two people who have never really learned to talk honestly to each other. But instead they opened their minds and hearts to outsiders, maybe to a hairdresser, or shopkeeper or bartender. This kind of option to talk is a kind of betrayal; it destroys the trust on which marriage should grow strong and eventually it destroys love."

Question: "You certainly have a beautiful philosophy. You have explained well one of the reasons for your happy marriage. Some other time we'll have you explain your theology of the spiritual ingredients that play a large part in a successful marriage. Meanwhile, continue to grow and God love both of you."

SPACESHIPS AND SANDWICHES

"Okay, we've landed, now let's get out and look at this old moon!"

My two small boys are at it again. Today, the old gray stump is a spaceship. Tomorrow it may be a fort or a castle. More practically, at lunchtime it's a picnic table.

Right now the side yard is my sons' world. Behind a picket fence, they roam the seas and sky in imagination, the sound of their voices reassuring me of their safety.

It won't always be this way. Someday, they'll leave the back yard forever, washbuckling through a world of schools and camps, friends and parties.

How strange it will be—not to guide their every footstep. Where am I to get the courage? Fortunately, I can answer my own question. I have my church, and so do my boys. As a source of great goodness, it will guide them all their days.

She needs three wheels more than five speeds.

Much attention has been paid to the sudden popularity of bike riding... and the short supply of bicycles to meet the growing demand. Used bicycles offered for sale in these Classified columns are snapped up the same day the ad appears.

Let's not forget there are still little people around who need a three-wheeler! If your youngsters have moved up to a bike, why not make some little girl or boy (and the parents) happy by offering their trike for sale? One call to our office will put your ad in print and also put a smile on a little face!

Here's Peek at the Past

The home is open Tuesday through Saturday during July and August from 1 to 4 p.m. It is open by appointment in the spring and fall and closed in winter. There is a nominal admission charge.

The Harbor Beach birthplace of Frank Murphy is now a museum, open daily except Monday from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is free but donations are accepted. Murphy, governor in 1937-38, was the center of national attention during the sitdown strike era. Defeated in 1938, he later became U.S. attorney general and U.S. Supreme Court justice. He died in 1949 and is buried in Harbor Beach.

Another former governor's home open to the public on Sundays and by appointment is in Constantine, south of Kalamazoo. Built in 1835 and now partially restored, it was the residence of John S. Barry before he became the state's third governor.

Since 1944 it has been owned by the Governor Barry Historical Society and operated as a Community Center. A Democrat of the old Jeffersonian school, Barry served three terms, 1842-46 and 1850-51.

After his third term he resumed his mercantile business in Constantine until his death in 1870.

The home of Charles M. Crowell, governor between 1877-81, is in Adrian. He paid a modest $1,700 for his one-story home on Broad Street, built two decades before the Civil War. Restored inside and out, it is now owned by the Lucy Wolcott Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and is open by appointment.

In Grand Ledge, near Lansing, is the former home of Frank D. Fitzgerald, governor in 1935-36 and 1939, and the only governor since statehood to die in office. A three-story, nine room dwelling, at 219 West Jefferson Avenue, it was purchased by Fitzgerald in 1936.

Two decades of state service were climaxed by Fitzgerald's election as governor. Defeated in 1936, he was elected again in 1938, but death ended his term after only three months.

Closely associated with Fitzgerald and almost a neighbor was Luren D. Dickinson, seven-time lieutenant governor who became chief executive upon Fitzgerald's death. The former Dickinson home, a 25-acre farm, is three miles southeast of Charlotte, at 1375 Brookfield Road in Eaton Township.

At Ionia is the palatial home of Fred W. Green, 1927-30 governor. Green was a furniture manufacturer. His home, on a heavily-wooded hillside estate at 320 Union Street, was built nearly a half century ago at a cost of around $100,000. Perched atop the city's steepest hill, it affords a fine view of the Grand River Valley.

Hastings was the home of one of Michigan's most flamboyant governors, Kim Sigler, elected in 1946 and defeated for reelection two years later. He won prominence as special prosecutor during the 1944-45 grand jury in investigation of state government. A pilot, he was killed in 1953 when his plane hit a television tower near Battle Creek.

The former Sigler home in Hastings is at 505 West Green Street.

Bad Axe, in Michigan's Thumb, was the home of Albert E. Sleeper, 1917-20 governor. His term covered most of World War I. He became a resident of Bad Axe in 1904 and developed banking and real estate interests. He died in 1934. A few years ago his large brick home became a funeral parlor.

Sleeper State Park, seven miles northeast of Caseville, is named for him.

On Silver Lake Road, south of Kensington Metropolitan Park in Livingston County, is the former home of Kinsley S. Bingham, 1855-58 governor. A two-story, white frame house, it was built in the 1850s. In front of the home is a boulder with a metal marker placed by the Philip Livingston Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in 1937.

The former home of Fred Warner is at 33805 Grand River, in Farmington. The mainion-type structure was built in 1867. Warner served as Michigan governor from 1905-10.

Brighten Your Home

Flowers Add Instant Color

Annual flowers can add a new dimension in gardening to your home — "instant color."

"Your imagination is the only thing that limits you if you plan to brighten up your home landscape with annual flowers," says Dr. William H. Carlson, Michigan State University horticulturist. "There are many interesting and unique ways to use annuals," says Carlson. "You can plant them in wooden dividers, chain link fences or old shoes, bathtubs, sinks, tires, washtubs or other containers.

"The more conventional ways, of course, are in flower beds, urns, patio boxes, window boxes and in rock gardens. They can also be trained to grow like small trees or shrubs," he says.

Carlson pointed out that it is usually best to plant many of the same type and color of flower in one area. "Annuals look best in large groups or masses," says Carlson. "Two good basic flower bed arrangements would be (1) a center of red geraniums with a border of blue ageratum or

(2) a center of pink petunias with a border of white alyssum."

Literally hundreds of different annual flowers offer a wide choice of colors, heights and shapes. "Use color, height and shape wisely and you will add a new dimension of gardening to your home," says Carlson.
