City Hearing Slated

Changes Proposed For Master Plan

If there is a single theme in committee efforts to revise the City of Northville's master plan it is to shore up the city's residential areas. "We want to preserve as much of the residential character as possible," asserts Wallace Nichols, chairman of the council-appointed committee to study and recommend ways to update and improve the master plan.

Preliminary recommendations of the committee, contained in its first two reports, are to be aired in a planning commission public hearing scheduled for September 5.

The initial reports, believes Nichols, cover the least troublesome areas of the city. The most difficult sections, to be dealt with in future reports, will concern the commercial (downtown) and southeast areas of the city, he says.

Even so, not all officials are likely to agree with the initial recommendations.

Specifically, the committee's contention that commercial zoning should not be permitted to extend north of the Chatham supermarket on the west side of Center Street, and its recommendation that the northeast section of the city (located south of Baseline, east of Center to the eastern city limits) be changed from R-2 to R-2A zoning are not especially liked by some planners and council members.

Concerning Center Street commercial development, the committee notes that commercial zoning has been considerably extended beyond the limits advised in the original master plan.

"Believing that those limits were—and still are—valid, it is the earnest and sincere recommendation of this committee that no further encroachment to the north on Center Street be permitted, i.e., nothing past the north line of the present Chatham parking lot on the west side of Center Street and the center of Lake Street on the east side of Center Street."

Continuing, the committee notes that Center Street "is not now adequate for traffic problems already created."

The committee report contends that "further commercial areas can only create more—and augment present—traffic congestion and hazards."

"It is also felt that the destruction of Walnut Street as a pleasant residential street and area would destroy one more bit of Northville charm and commence the general deterioration of the immediate neighborhood."

"In further support of this position is the considerable and immediately sufficient area already zoned commercial east along Main Street—a logical direction in view of the population growth to the east and southeast."

The committee asked the council and planning commission to consider resolutions declaring that no commercial zoning be permitted beyond the North Center Street limit it recommends.

Despite the committee's

SITE PREPARATION—All remaining buildings and two large pine trees were removed last week as workmen began site preparation for the proposed new Northville Square development east of Wing Street between Cady and Main streets. Developer Richard McManus, who said there simply was no possible way to save the two towering pines, had them sawed into logs. "If the wood proves satisfactory, I hope to have them made into a table or something else appropriate for donation to the city as a historical piece," he said. Workmen, counting the rings on the trees, estimated their age at from 110 to 115 years old.

Hearings Set On Rezoning

Request for multiple zoning continue to come before the township planning commission as two developers were granted public hearings in September.

In action taken Tuesday night, planners scheduled for September 11 a public hearing to rezone 137 acres of Dun Rovin Golf Course on Haggerty Road north of Five Mile to permit construction of 1,072 townhouse units.

Originally presented in May, the rezoning request had been withdrawn in June when planners refused to table the petition until September, as requested by the developer.

The rezoning, from single family to multiple use was resubmitted to planners Tuesday night.

Forum Planned For Candidates

A "Meet Your Candidates Night" program, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth, will be held next week Thursday, August 3, The 7:30 p.m. program, which will feature brief talks by township candidates and their replies to questions from the audience, will be held in the township offices, 301 West Main Street.

According to Mrs. Virginia Urban, president of the League, each candidate will be asked to speak for three minutes on the following question:

"What are the primary responsibilities of the office you are seeking, and how are you qualified to fulfill them?"

After presentations by each candidate, questions will be accepted from the floor, she explained.

Wildflowers

Oldtime Pastime Hangs on Today

"They were lovely times, such pleasant ways to spend a quiet Sunday afternoon."

That's how Rachel Hinman, 70-year-old Northville resident, recalls days gone by in which entire families hiked into neighboring woodlands in search of wildflowers.

"The fun part of those hikes," she recalls, "was trying to identify wildflowers."

Although the encroachment of an urban society has eliminated or greatly reduced numbers and varieties of wildflowers growing in this area, they remain an attraction for many local residents who see in them a beauty that rivals the cultivated, hybrid garden varieties so popular today.

But even some of the non-wildflowers have suffered at the hand of competition for space.

Take for example the hollyhock. "There just isn't the space for this flower in the ordinary garden anymore so you don't see them as often," says Mrs. Hinman.

Favorite stomping grounds for the oldtime nature hikes, recalls Mrs

Hinman, included "Bloom's Woods," off Main Street; Curtis Lake, now part of Highland Lakes subdivision; and Balden's Hill, now a section of Cass Benton Park north of Seven Mile Road; and all along Beck Road.

"Curtis Lake was a beautiful area, always full of wildflowers," she remembers. "It had one of the most beautiful stands of beech trees in this area. It was a lovely thing to see early in the spring when the leaves first started to appear."

One of her favorite wildflowers—a flower "you just don't see around here anymore"—is Dutchman's Breeches (Dicentra Cucullaria).

This flower, as the name implies, has some four to 12 "little breeches" hanging from stalks five to 10 inches tall. The lacy leaves, cut into innumerable feathery green ribbons, are almost as attractive as the flowers.

It is a natural children's flower, growing in patches, in or near rich woods soon after snow disappears.

For Year Round Volunteers

School Opens Monday

When school doors open Monday morning at American Elementary, Northville will become the first district in Michigan to operate on a year round schedule.

That's the day the school district's experimental voluntary 45-15 program goes into effect.

For 170 students in grades kindergarten through five, it means 45-15 days of school will alternate with 15 days of vacation throughout the year. Superintendent Raymond Spear said he is "most grateful that we have gotten enough support from the community to proceed as far as we have."

"It is also rewarding to know that the state and federal governments have enough faith in the school system and the community for them to undertake the funding of the experimental program," Spear commented.

The program will officially open at 7:45 a.m. Monday,

Biographies

Biographies and statements of candidates for local, state and national office, as compiled by the League of Women Voters appear on Page 6-A.

Next week answers by township candidates to two specific questions posed by The Record will be published together with data compiled by the League on other candidates.

with school beginning at 8 a.m. throughout August. Starting times will revert to 9 a.m. in September, he explained.

Representatives of city, township, county and state governments are expected to be present Monday when the program opens, Spear said.

Initiation of the program marks the end of more than four years of study by citizens, board members, administrators and staff members of Northville Public Schools.

Students will continue to receive 180 days of classroom instruction, in keeping with the traditional nine-month calendar, but during the period of July 31 through June 26, 1973.

Novi Audience Learns

Meditation Helps Life

MEDITATION LECTURERS—John and Mary Sullivan look over one of the newest articles on transcendental meditation. The couple will be giving a second introductory lecture on the technique August 2 at 8 p.m. in the Novi Community Building.

John Sullivan calls it "a very simple technique." His wife, Mary, says it is "a way to improve one's daily life." Transcendental meditation is very important to Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Pontiac. They have been practicing the technique for three years and have been teaching it since March.

Sponsored by the International Meditation Society, the Sullivans give lectures, mainly in the tri-county area, on the benefits of transcendental meditation and teach the technique to interested persons.

In their introductory lecture last week at the Novi Community Building, the couple explained what transcendental meditation can do to make life better for an individual.

Sullivan explained that transcendental meditation is not a religion, but "has been found by many to be a good supplement to religion." He said it is a "preparation for activity."

He explained that because life is centered on activity, and activity is hinged on thinking, the source of thought, or consciousness, is what must be reached in order to improve life.

"In meditation," Sullivan said, "there is no loss of awareness, but an increase in mental alertness."

He said meditators have been tested, while meditating and that scientists believe the rest gained through the technique is twice as deep as deep sleep.

One of the purposes of transcendental meditation, Sullivan said is to "dissolve the stress of daily life." The results of the technique are cumulative and the development of the individual when beginning transcendental meditation is a "holistic development," he said.

Not just anyone is qualified to teach the method.

The Sullivans spent six months studying with the current exponent of the ancient technique, Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. A minimum of three months training in the finer points is required before one is able to teach and lecture.

According to Mrs. Sullivan, transcendental meditation can lead to world peace. "It is the individual's responsibility to dissolve stress in the world" by beginning with himself, she said. By dissolving the stress in the way of free expression, she said, the ability to express love comes from within and shows on the outside.

To begin meditating, the Sullivans said, there are seven steps. The first two are lectures on the benefits and methods of the technique. The third is an interview with a teacher of transcendental meditation. The last four steps are a series of lessons held on four consecutive days.

In deciding whether or not to begin to meditate an individual must consider three things. First of all, he must invest time. In order for the technique to work, Sullivan said, one must meditate for 15 to 20 minutes at the beginning and end of each day. Also, before meditation is begun, one must be free from the use of all hard drugs for at least 15 days. The third is financial obligation.

"The financial obligation is important to make," Sullivan said. He explained that as long as a financial commitment is made to the International Meditation Society, a tax exempt organization, it might help to insure that the individual will make use of the technique.

Godfrey-Dornes Vows Said

Margaret I. Godfrey and Gregory Dornes were married in an early evening ceremony on June 30 at Our Lady of Victory Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Godfrey of Livonia and the bridegrooms parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin G. Dornes, 42762 Lyric.

Father John Wyskiel performed the double ring nuptial mass.

The bride approached the altar at her father's side in a mid-Victorian style gown of white dotted Swiss. Her full-length marfilla was trimmed with Venice lace. She carried a colorful bridal bouquet of roses, daisies, carnations and baby's breath.

Terry Godfrey of Livonia was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marian Godfrey, the bride's sister, Livonia, Sue Howard of Southgate and Joanne Marschke, Berrien Springs.

They wore floor-length dotted Swiss dresses in rainbow colors of yellow, orchid, light green and pale blue and wore wide brimmed hats in matching colors. Each attendant carried a white wicker basket filled with roses, daisies, carnations and baby's breath.

Tim Dornes of Northville, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Bob Godfrey, brother of the bride, Ron Newth, Tom Newth, Steve Wolf and Ray Broeder all of Livonia were ushers. They wore shirts in colors which matched the attendants' dresses.

A reception for wedding guests was held at Meadowbrook Country Club following the ceremony.

Mrs. Godfrey wore a floor-length gown of turquoise. The bridegroom's mother chose a floor length aqua chiffon dress.

Following a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida and Disney World, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Dornes will make their home in Plymouth.

Bride Wears Mother's Gown

Kathleen Ann Bell wore her mother's wedding dress for her July 15 marriage to Larry I. Hunt. The 7 p.m. ceremony took place in the garden of the bride's home.

The Reverend Philip Seymour of Novi United Methodist Church performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bell, 43485 Fonda, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunt of Farmington. A flower-covered canopy and fireside baskets filled with summer flowers decorated the garden.

Pianist Denise Ward played traditional wedding music - and Nancy Cotter sang "One Hand, One Heart."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the same dress her mother wore for her wedding 21 years ago. The traditional white satin dress featured a fitted bodice with an illusion yoke and a full sweep skirt. Her fingertip veil was secured by flowered and lace headpiece. She also wore the same string of pearls worn by her mother on her wedding day. The nosegay she carried was made of red sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Cathy Alexander was maid of honor. Her avocado chiffon gown featured Southern belle styling with a fitted bodice and a full hoop skirt. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were April Trickey, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Ernie Artip, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Kent Fagerlie. They wore lime green gowns styled identical to the maid of honor's and carried nosegays of pink roses and white mums.

June Towns, the bride's cousin, was flowergirl. Her yellow dress was styled like the other attendants.

Ernest Hunt was his brother's best man. The bride's brothers, Timothy, Thomas and Stephen Bell were ushers.

After the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests from Grand Rapids, Glenn, Royal Oak, Detroit, St. Clair Shores and Blythe, Ontario was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a wedding trip to Cedar Point, Ohio, the couple will live at 46980 Grand River

Honored at Luncheon

A luncheon was given at the home of Mrs. Alex H. Lyke on July 19 in honor of her granddaughter Mrs. John Cynthia (Smith) Sutton formerly of Northville. The luncheon was given by Mrs. Lyke's three sisters.

Mrs. Sutton has lived in Boston for the last year where her husband was affiliated with Children's Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Sutton left on July 23 for Ireland to visit his parents. From there they will travel to Geneva, Switzerland, where they will live for one year. Dr. Sutton will be associated with the University of Geneva Hospital.

Tickets on Sale Now

Ticket sales for the 1972-73 Town Hall series are going "exceptionally well," according to Chairman Mrs. John Doheny. A sellout is expected by the committee because of the "excellent program" lined up, she reports.

Anyone still wishing to purchase tickets for the lectures and luncheons is reminded to send a separate check for each series to Mrs. Richard DiComo, Ticket Chairman, Box 93, Northville, and Mrs. Richard Booms, Luncheon Chairman, Box 93, Northville.

News Around Northville

Greg Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leeland Mills of Center Street, is working in Nova Scotia, Canada this summer. He is employed by Henkels and McCoy and is working on a crew which is installing utility poles for the Canadian Power Commission.

At present, the crew is on Cape Breton at the northeast tip of Nova Scotia in the Atlantic Ocean. Most of the land in the area is wooded and equipment to install the poles cannot be moved into the area so the digging must be done by hand. "He has his work cut out for him, but it is a good healthy job," Mrs. Mills said.

Most of the area in which the crew is installing the poles is sparsely inhabited, but according to Mrs. Mills Greg seems to be enjoying the change of pace.

The 1972 Northville High School graduate will return to Northville in late August and will enter Western Michigan University in the fall.

Mrs. Christine Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deibert, 9825 Napier, is now in Kuala Lumpur, Malasia, with the Peace Corps.

Mrs. Kerr left on July 8 for a three-day briefing in San Jose, California, before going on to Malasia. At that time she was told more about the area in which she will be living and was given details as to her work in Malasia.

She will be in Malasia for the Peace Corps until January, 1973, and will be working in the field of library science.

The Senior Party Parents Committee met last week for its final get-together. Chairman Mitchell Pitak reported 193 of the 218 Northville High School Seniors attended the party for "one of the best turn outs in years."

All of the senior parents were thanked for their cooperation "which was one of the key factors in making the party the success that it was," Pitak said.

30-Minute Dinner

Easy Summer Recipe

There may be days during the summer when even the most enthusiastic cooks won't want to be in the kitchen for a long time preparing large meals. Summer can be a time when even the cook might take it easy once in a while. This chicken dish takes only 30 minutes to prepare and requires no oven to heat up the house.

Chicken Supreme
2 chicken breasts split in half
1 can cream of chicken soup butter or margarine
1-3 cup white wine

Melt enough butter or margarine in large skillet to brown chicken. After chicken is browned add soup and wine, cover and cook over medium heat for 20 minutes. This might be served with

Feted at Dinner

Mrs. Anna Atchison, a former Northville resident and member of Northville First United Methodist Church, was the guest of honor at a family dinner party held recently at the Chelsea United Methodist Home where she now lives.

Attending the dinner were her son, Dr. Russell Atchison and his wife, her daughter, Mrs. Richard Ambler and her husband; her grandson

Richard Atchison and his wife and children. Her grandson Richard has just returned from southeast Asia where he served for a year as a forward air controller.

Mrs. Russell Atchison has a special interest in Chelsea Retirement Home, as her grandfather, Dr. Charles W. Baldwin, was one of the founders of the home and served on the original board of managers.

U-Kan will reopen Monday, July 31, in the former fish hatchery building on Seven Mile Road, between Edenderry and Orchard drives.

Open throughout the summer, hours of the counseling center will be 8 to 11 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. The new telephone number is 349-1640.

U-Kan, a crisis intervention center sponsored by the Council for Community Concerns, will be under the direction of Jack Wickens. He will also supervise the activities on Tuesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Edward (Betty) Hancock and Vic Temple will be in charge of activities the other three days.

In addition to the center, the phone-in line will be staffed by young adults who have undergone approximately six weeks of training.

U-Kan will offer crisis intervention, immediate help which a person in crisis needs to re-establish equilibrium, Wickens said. The help is short term and focuses on solving immediate problems.

"A person in crisis is at a turning point," Wickens explained. "He faces a problem that he cannot readily solve by using the coping mechanisms that have worked for him before."

"As a result," he continued, "his tension and anxiety increase and he becomes less able to find a solution."

Wickens explained that a "start towards resolution of the problem can sometimes be made through a person's own plan of action. At other times, it may result in a referral to another person or agency better equipped to give further help."

The goal of crisis intervention is the resolution of the immediate crisis, focusing on the present with the restoration of the person to his pre-crisis level of functioning, he noted.

In addition to the crisis intervention provided by U-Kan, structured group interaction sessions will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

BRILLE PRESIDENT— Mrs. John Begle (right) newly elected president of the Tri-County Braille volunteers, discusses new ideas for the group with a former student Mrs. Richard Cooper, of 18100 Shadbrook. Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Begle are the only two Braille transcribers living in the Northville area.

Transcribe for Blind

She'll Head Volunteers

Mrs. John Begle, 41700 Nine Mile Road, is the new president of the Tri-County Braille Volunteers.

The organization has about 200 sighted volunteers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties who transcribe pleasure and text books for the blind.

According to Mrs. Begle, relatively few people know enough about the work done by transcribers, and as president she will attempt to tell more individuals about the importance of having more books, especially text books, transcribed into braille.

"Very often if a student does not have the necessary text books in braille, he cannot take a class," she explained.

Mrs. Begle has been transcribing books into braille since 1959 and has been teaching braille to the sighted since the 1968-69 school season. Since she began teaching, 44 of her students have gone on to become certified braille transcribers by the Library of Congress which, she said, "involves a very difficult test."

Each braille transcriber must first learn general braille first before going on to other types. The general braille, according to Mrs. Begle, can be learned in the time of a normal school year. She teaches her classes September through May. After the classes, the preparation of a manuscript for Library of Congress certification may take as long as three months, she said.

Some transcribers who have musical knowledge go on to music notation transcription for the blind which requires no further certification from the Library of Congress.

A third type of transcription done by the Tri-County Volunteers is the Nemeth math transcription, a code developed by a University of Detroit doctor, which is used internationally.

Mrs. Begle takes pride in her work for the blind and says that she finds her transcribing as well as her braille teaching "quite challenging", and wishes that more individuals could enjoy the same satisfaction.

Novi Jaycees Hear Recreation Speaker

Thomas Moran, representing the Citizens Committee for Continuing Progress in Recreation, was a guest speaker Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary.

The meeting was held at 22854 Penton Rise Court.

The presentation was part of an informational effort by the citizens committee to inform voters about the August 8 referendum on increasing the 1/2-mill property tax, that supports the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, to 1/2-mill.

Moran explained that the 1/2-mill property tax increase is being sought to carry out the Authority's plans to develop at least three new major metropolitan parks in the five-county area during the next 15 years and to lease and rebuild Belle Isle Park which is now operated by the City of Detroit.

One of the parks presently operated by HCMA is Kensington Park located near New Hudson off US-96.

Set Condemnation Hearing

Seek to Clean Up Walled Lake Area

Upset with the large number of what it termed "sub-standard dwelling units" within the city limits, the Novi city council Monday set August 3 as the date for a public hearing to begin condemnation proceedings against 10 buildings.

Among the owners of the buildings cited for condemnation are Marvin Stempien, state representative from the thirty-fifth district, and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

In requesting the council start condemnation proceedings, City Manager George Athas presented a slide presentation in the darkened council chambers of the buildings he thought should be condemned and torn down. He prefaced his presentation with the comment, "These are nice places to visit, but there's no way I'd want anyone to live there."

Although specific complaints varied from structure to structure, most buildings were said to have sagging floors, ceilings, and roofs, buckled walls; inadequate waste facilities; and either no or improper and unsafe foundations.

In all cases, Athas said, the buildings for which condemnation was being asked were unoccupied, open to trespassing, and constituted a health and safety hazard.

A series of six cement block buildings owned by the Chamberlain Realty Company were reported to have walls so cracked that daylight could be seen through them.

The building owned by Representative Stempien was reportedly slated for improvements in 1970, but no work has ever been done.

Another edifice had been slated for condemnation in 1965, but the initial condemnation proceedings had apparently never been followed up, said Athas.

In every instance, Athas told the council, the owner has been notified at least once of the city's dissatisfaction with the existing state of the building.

If, after the public hearing, the council decides to continue with condemnation proceedings, the next step will be to go out for bids for the demolishing of the houses. The cost of having the homes torn down is charged to the owner and, should he not pay it, the fee is then added to his tax billing and exists as a lien against his property.

"It is interesting to note and the council should be aware of the fact," said Athas, "that when we began our study of which houses should be torn down some two months ago, the list we came up with was considerably longer than the 10 we requested tonight. Since that time there have been some mysterious fires and a couple of miracles."

"Eighteen homes have either been demolished in one way or another or improved to the point of acceptability."

City officials have long been concerned about the deteriorating condition of homes in the city, particularly in the Walled Lake area where many of the cottages were built before housing codes had been adopted.

It was thought that the recent extension of sewage facilities to the area might influence owners to abandon their homes, as the tap-in fee of $2,000 in many cases approached the actual value of the house.

To encourage developers to participate in improving the area, the council in January approved a zoning for the Walled Lake area which would permit construction of high rise multiple-family residences. By offering developers the economic incentive of increased density for their property, it was reasoned, they would be willing to go through the trouble of acquiring small parcels and tearing down the existing sub-standard structures.

Initiation of condemnation proceedings is another move to help "clean-up" the Walled Lake area. Of the 10 buildings cited for condemnation Monday, all but one are in the Walled Lake section of the city.

Athas indicated that the city will seek condemnation of other buildings in the future.

"Frankly, there are a lot more buildings down there that we'll be going after if they are not brought up to standards," he said.

When asked by a councilman what action the city would take if the sub-standard dwellings are being occupied, Athas responded that his concern was solely with the condition of the building.

"On one case last week, we inspected a home where the walls were bowed considerably and our inspector made the man and his family move out," Athas said. "The very next day we had some heavy rains and the building collapsed."

Milliken at Ground Breaking

Novex-One Underway

With Michigan Governor William Milliken in attendance, the Rich-Sullivan Company held ground-breaking ceremonies last Wednesday for its Class A industrial park development in Novi.

Named "Novex one" and located on a 63-acre site north of Nine Mile Road approximately half a mile east of Novi Road, the park will have an estimated developed value of $15 million.

Groundbreaking was marked by the planting of a white pine by Governor Milliken. Developers Irving Rich and Bernard Sullivan explained that the tree planting was symbolic of their commitment to preserving and enhancing that natural beauty of the site while blending technology with ecology.

Novex One heralds a new concept in industrial park development in Michigan and much of the nation," said Rich. "Emphasized will be a park-like atmosphere, maintaining natural land contours and trees."

Further landscaping is planned, the developer said. The park is located on the former Heslip property and in honor of its former owners, the main street has been named Heslip Drive.

Cited by Mayor Joseph Crupi as an important development for the city in its efforts to attain a higher industrial ratio in its tax base, the park is zoned for heavy and general industry, but can also accommodate smaller applications.

Conceived for tomorrow's businesses, Novex One's contemporary architecture will blend with the surrounding residential areas.

Other participating in the tree planting ceremony Wednesday were State Representative Clifford Smart, house minority leader; Mayor Crupi; and Richard Helmbrecht, director

WORKING HIS WAY TO THE TOP—Novi's 16-year old Chris Polak, with a lot of help from his friends, nabbed the $5 prize in the Greased Pole Contest at Gala Days last weekend. Sponsored by the Novi Jaycees, Gala Days was hurt by the extreme heat which kept daytime crowds to a minimum. Still, the Jaycees declared the event a success in that it was indeed the biggest Gala Days they have ever put on and was totally enjoyed by those who attended. Chairmen for the four-day event were Philip Cozadd and Jerry Fortenberry.

Assistant Superintendent

Barr Gets Post

Dr. William D. Barr, 42, of Highland Park was named assistant superintendent Monday by the Novi Board of Education.

His salary was fixed at $22,000.

He replaces T. Richard Hendrickson, who left the district earlier this summer to assume a superintendent's position with the Williamston School District.

Married, with five children, Dr. Barr received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University (Michigan Normal) in 1955 after teaching for five years.

In 1956 he was awarded a master's degree in general school administration from the University of Michigan, and this past May he received his doctorate in curriculum development at Wayne State University.

After several years of teaching at the elementary and junior high school level, he became principal in the Rochester (Mich.) school system, later was named superintendent of the Kimball Unit School District.

Still later he served as assistant superintendent-business as well as secretary-treasurer of the board of education in the Port Huron area school system.

For the past six years he has been with the Highland Park School District, serving as assistant superintendent-business upon his appointment here.

At Highland Park he was responsible for maintaining all the district's business operations, including accounting procedures and record keeping. His experiences range from management of school elections to overseeing new school construction.

Dr. Barr has been and is still member and -or an official of several state and national professional organizations. These include serving at present as president of the Michigan School Business Officials association.

He also is a past president of the Michigan Congress of School Administrators.

He is an elder in the Presbyterian Church and also serves as treasurer.

Dr. Barr and his family hope to move to this area as soon as they are able to find a home.

Board Approves Position Shifts

Three shifts in positions, including a new slot for former superintendent Thomas Dale, were approved by the Novi Board of Education Monday.

Dale, who was replaced by Dr. Gerald Kratz as superintendent of the district, was named administrative assistant effective August 28. Dale is presently on leave.

Two teaching transfers also were approved.

Mary Hart, first grade teacher at Novi Elementary School, was moved to the Orchard Hills Library, and Carol Smith, third grade teacher at Village Oaks Elementary, is to teach fifth grade at Novi Elementary. Contracts were extended to two other teachers:

Miss Margaret Clarke, of Livonia, a Wayne State University graduate, is to teach physical education at Novi and Orchard Hills elementary schools and at the Middle School, and Michael Haley of Southfield, also a Wayne State University graduate, also is to teach physical education at the three previously mentioned schools.

Salaries of both teachers were set at $8,234.

The board also named Carol Boyer as superintendent's secretary at an hourly rate of $4.25, and $20 per board meeting she is required to attend.

Edith Vahlbusch, present superintendent's secretary, requested that she be transferred to become counseling secretary in the Middle School effective August 21.

All appointments and transfers were recommended by Superintendent Kratz.

TREE PLANTING CEREMONIES—Instead of the traditional ground-breaking ceremonies, developers Sullivan and Rich dedicated their new industrial park in Novi by planting a tree, symbolic of the developments' emphasis of a "park within a park." On hand for the occasion

Oldtime Pastime Hangs On

Another favorite which doesn't appear regularly here anymore is the Cardinal or Red Lobelia (Lobelia cardinalis).

Growing along lakes, streams, or marshy areas, this flower has flaming clusters of two-lipped scarlet blooms that appear in July. Hummingbirds are particularly attracted to this brilliant flower. It grows from two to five feet high, with clusters of tubular blooms.

Nearly everyone has seen Queen Anne's Lace, though many refer to it as a noxious Wild Carrot.

Despite man's effort to eradicate it, the Wild Carrot (Daucus carota) survives and continues to grow profusely along Northville-Nowi area roads.

In Mrs. Hinman's youth, this flower was especially despised by the farmer because it had an unwanted faint flavor or aroma to the milk produced by the cows that grazed on it.

But like it or not, the Wild Carrot survived cutting and burning, growing back with the first steady warmth of the following summer. It grows to a height of from one to three feet and the flat-topped clusters of white tiny five-petaled flowers may be from two to four inches in diameter.

Its leaves are feathery, divided and subdivided to form sort of a fernlike appearance.

Youngsters sometimes refer to the Wild Carrot as the Bird's-nest Plant because, as the flowers begin to fade, the outer edges of the bloom curls upward to form a cuplike enclosure that looks like a bird's nest.

The yellow carrot, eaten from gardens, is a lineal descendant of the Wild Carrot, and both are members of the same family that includes Caraway, Anise, Parsley, Parsnip and Celery.

Another wildflower that still grows abundantly here is Chicory (Cichorium intybus).

A roadside flower that blooms persistently but irregularly throughout the summer, it was first brought to this country from Europe by the early colonists who considered it a useful plant.

Growing to a height of about three feet with "zigzag stems," it has a sparse display of ragged leaves that clasp stems at joints.

Some people call chicory either Blue Daisies or Blue Dandelions because of the shape of the flower. The flowers bloom from July to October, mostly in the open and on dry ground.

The root of the Chicory, dried and ground up, is used as a filler or flavoring agent in coffee mixtures. Leaves of the plant are used for salad in some countries, and ancient Egyptians boiled and ate the root as a vegetable.

Blue Gentian (Gentiana Crinita), once widely seen here, is going the way of Dutchman's-Breeches, says Mrs. Hinman.

It grows to a height of two to three feet, with flowers looking somewhat like blue candles. The tubular flowers have four-fringed blue petals.

There are some two-dozen species of Gentian in North America and many other species in Europe and Asia. The Closed Blue Gentian is among the most popular.

With some 60-odd species of Thistles native to North America, many find their homes here.

Among those with which local area residents are familiar are the Pasture Thistle (Cirsium pumilum), Swamp Thistle, and Pitcher Thistle.

All are notable, of course, for the sharp prickles that stick out from the leaves and other parts of the growing plant and also for the "thistledown" that appears at the end of the blooming season.

Most Thistles have purple flowers, but there are some species that come in pink, yellow, cream, and white.

Fragrant White Water-Lily is a common species found in area lakes and swamps.

This sweet-scented variety is more abundant and more widespread than the Tuberous White Water-Lily, but it is frequently difficult to distinguish them.

Its long stems grow up through the water, placing large circular leaves on the surface where the flower appears to be floating on the water.

The Yellow Pond-Lily or Spatterdock also grows in area water. What looks like petals are six sepals of glowing golden-yellow color.

Like Chicory, the common Mullen (Verbascum thapsus), is an old World import that found fine growing territory.

During its first year of growth, the Mullen spreads its big flannel leaves just above the ground, and then the following year it sends up a stiff flowering stalk that today, as in the past, challenge boys to use them as dueling swords.

Growing to a height of up to seven feet, the spike's buds at the top are arranged somewhat like kernels in an ear of corn. The yellow five-segmented flowers are about one inch in diameter.

Centuries ago dried stalks of Mullen were soaked in oil and used as torches in funeral processions.

The Orange Hawkweed or Devil's Paint-brush (Hieracium aurantiacum) flowers throughout the summer, especially in open sunny spaces of western Nowi fields.

Its flower head is composed entirely of individual strap-shaped flowers of a mixture of yellow, red, and burnt orange color.

It is called a Hawkweed because of an ancient belief that hawks ate the plant to sharpen their eyesight.

Many years ago people used it to make a soapy lather for washing, hence the name "Soapwort" (Saponaria officinalis) for one of the popular local wildflowers.

Most people, however, know it as Bouncing Bet, a sparingly branched perennial with flowers of white or pinkish to pinkish lavender. It is found along roadsides and railroads, on sandy open ground.

The Bouncing Bet flowers late in July and in August, with some flowering as late as October.

Many other wildflower varieties cling to the cracks of urban living. And while many of the woodlands Mrs. Hinman remembers have disappeared, finding and identifying wildflowers is still a pleasant pastime for a quiet Sunday afternoon.

The novice may start with the best-known flower in the world—the Taraxacum officinale. Try the back yard first.

Plat Act Violation?

plat approval of the industrial subdivision - Novi-Ten.

Three councilmen - Denis Berry, Donald Young, and Raymond Evans - approved the plat Young called it a "practical compromise" and Evans said it seemed the only solution for letting Schmidt correct his misdeeds. "Our purpose is not to send Jarvis Schmidt to jail," said Evans.

Nevertheless, the platting of the subdivision drew the criticism of other members of the council.

Councilman Louie Campbell objected on the grounds that Schmidt had only platted that section of the property on which the industrial subdivision would be developed. "As I interpret the law," he said, "whenever a piece of land is divided into more than four pieces of less than 10 acres, you have got to come in and plat the entire remainder of the property and this is only for a portion of the remaining land."

Campbell, and Councilmen William O'Brien and Edwin Presnell raised questions of the wisdom of sanctioning the Plat Act violation by giving pre-preliminary plat approval.

A motion to approve the plat failed 3-3 for lack of a majority.

Presnell then introduced a second motion, giving conditional approval of the plat for the purpose of forwarding it to the Oakland County Plat Board for its review of what appears to the city council to be a violation of the Plat Act.

Presnell's motion passed unanimously.

It now becomes the responsibility of the county to weed through the inter-related issues and, if deemed justified, take action against Schmidt.

Kathy Threthway was honored at a bridal shower Thursday night at the home of Mrs. George Ortwine on Meadowbrook Road. There were about 25 guests present at the shower. Kathy will be married to Delbert Ortwine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ortwine, September 9.

Mrs. William Gray and children Deanna and Kelly of Inlay City are spending the week with Mrs. Gray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darling of Taft Road.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klasener of Beck Road had weekend guests from Coldspring, Kentucky. Her guests were Mrs. Marguerite Klasener and Mary Lee Klasener.

Kristie and Bruce Taylor were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Killeen of Beck Road.

Raymond Horton of Drayton Plains spent the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Clarke on Thirteen Mile Road.

Roy Callan was home this week end from Camp CoBeAc and visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Callan of Meadowbrook Road.

Bob Chamberlin of Echo Valley is a patient at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia where he underwent knee surgery last week.

Mrs. Millie McHall of Clark Street entertained her Birthday Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. William MacDermaid of Stassen Street has returned home from a few days at Providence Hospital.

Mrs. Vivian Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Coleman visited Aurora, Ohio, last week where they saw "Sea World."

Mr. Richard Ritter Sr. celebrated his birthday at his home on Taft Road with a family reunion Saturday.

Faye Qualls was honored at a bridal shower Tuesday in Flint Hall of the First Baptist Church. Faye will be married in September to Randy Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Thomas of Nine Mile Road. About thirty guests were present. Hostesses were Mrs. Gaye Jude and Mrs. Joe Whyte.

Mrs. Marge Mac Gillivray of Stassen Street received word of the surprise wedding of her oldest daughter Annette Cheek and Jim Rowell of Garden City on Thursday. They were given a surprise reception and party at the home of Lois Turner on Saturday night.

Bernice Bischof and Jeanne Clarke attended a baby shower Saturday honoring Mrs. Roger (Charlene) McLean in Detroit. Mrs. McLean was formerly employed as dispatcher at the Novi Police Department.

John and Jeffery Slobor of Detroit are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Vivian Coleman of Clark Street, this week.

On Sunday, July 16, dinner guests at the home of Nataliee

Green were Mr. and Mrs. John French; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Green with daughter Dawn; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Matthews with daughter Kathy; Carl Green, Jr. and Wayne Dallas of Arcola, Illinois.

Orchard Hills Baptist Church
The Youth Group went to Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio, Saturday and then travelled to Cleveland that evening to see the Billy Graham Crusade. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Meadows.

This Saturday, plans are being made to acquaint families in the community with the new bus ministry under the direction of Al Brodbent. The new route is tentatively set to begin Sunday. Anyone wishing transportation should call 349-4017.

Holy Cross Episcopal Church
Burial Office was read for Sandra Bowen on Saturday, July 22. Anyone wishing to contribute to the Sandra Bowen Memorial Fund may do so by sending to the Church of Holy Cross on Ten Mile Road.

Church of Christ
Sermon theme for Sunday will be "They want bread, not stones." This church, under the ministry of Will J. Vassey, is affiliated with Redford Church of Christ, located at Lahser and Eight Mile Road. Services begin at 10:30 a.m. and there will soon be a Sunday School to which all children are invited.

The church is continuing its project of collecting used clothing. Items should be dropped at the church between noon and 3 p.m. Tuesday. The church is located at 42489 Grand River. Transportation is needed for the minister to and from services, call 453-5805, if you can help in this area.

United Methodist Church
Flowers for Sunday's service in memory of Mrs. Dorothy Scheniman's father who passed away last week and Mrs. Norma Firebaugh's brother who also passed away last week.

Greeter was Mrs. Louis Larson, while acolyte was Russell Button. The speaker next Sunday morning will be Reverend Dean Parker, brother of Reverend Douglas Parker, former pastor of the church. Anyone wishing the services of the minister this week should contact Mr. Will Fox or Mr. Leon Blackburn.

Boy Scouts
The Boy Scouts will meet at the Middle School next Monday at 7:30 p.m. All boys going to Lost Lake near Clare are to bring their packs sleeping gear and personal gear for inspection. They will be leaving from the Community Building at 10 a.m. for a week of camping, returning August 12. About 20 boys and four families will be going on the trip.

The boys report a good time at Gala days, they served approximately 150 people at the pancake breakfast. They now have huge bags of popcorn for sale at $2 per bag. Everyone is reminded they also still have fertilizer for sale and will make deliveries. Contact Dave Harrison for details.

Blue Star Mothers
Last Wednesday, the following Blue Star members attended the Volunteer Meeting at Veterans Hospital: Hazel Mandil, Lois Lener, Myrza Ward, and Lucy Needha. They were guests at a dinner and then had a very informative meeting.

Next meeting of the Blue Star Mothers will be August 3 at noon at the home of Mrs. Lucy Needham.

Novi School Board

Apply for Aid Project

Novi's school board moved swiftly through its agenda Monday, approving measures ranging from application for a federally funded program to naming a bank depository.

All measures were approved by the four board members present.

Named depository for payroll and general operating accounts, based on a price revision providing free payroll service, was the West Oakland Bank. National Bank of Detroit, which earlier had matched the then quoted price of West Oakland, declined to reduce its offer still further.

While all members voted to name West Oakland, Board Vice-President Bruce Simmons questioned the price slashing, wondering aloud if it were an ethical practice.

Novi Realty was awarded an $85.58 contract for providing a $5,000 Honest Blanket Bond covering employees of the school district.

By agreement with the city council, the board approved appointment of three members to the Novi Community Building Board.

Appointed were Mrs. Sharon Pelchat, former school board member who is to represent the school district, two-year term; Mrs. Larre Bell, representing the city, one-year term; and Gary Johnson, residing outside the Novi School District in Brookland Farms subdivision, three-year term.

Next step will be to set up an organizational meeting between the old and new board members for the purpose of transferring the records and establishing by-laws, according to Superintendent Gerald Kratz.

Evans Construction was authorized to begin construction of a manhole behind the high school, as part of the sanitary tap-in project, at a cost not to exceed $2,800.

The manhole, not part of the original tap-in project, reportedly will provide a safety clean-out position in the even of a sanitary sewer breakdown for either the high school or the new middle school, Dr. Kratz explained in recommending its construction.

Novi became the 25th school district of the 28 districts within Oakland County to join the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies, Inc.

The board voted to join the organization, upon the recommendation of the superintendent, at a total cost of $795.30.

According to Dr. Kratz, the Bureau offers various types of management services for scheduled for August of 7-11. Pre-registration day is July 30. Each Monday night in July there have been groups visiting subdivisions and enrolling youngsters for bus routes. We hope to have three established by that time. The teenagers and college kids will have their Bible School in the evening, and plans are being made for swimming, school officials, including inservice training on collective bargaining.

An hourly fee schedule for the services of the architectural firm, Lane, Riebe and Weiland was fixed for work on the high school tennis courts, Novi Elementary sanitary sewer, and the Novi Elementary storm sewer.

Application for the 1972 Compensatory Education Program, a federally sponsored project to supplement teaching of children with learning problems from low income families was approved by the board.

Application for the 1972 Compensatory Education Program, a federally sponsored project to supplement teaching of children with learning problems from low income families was approved by the board.

Novi's Jaycees are planning a "Meet the Candidates" Night for Thursday, August 3, at 8 p.m. in the Novi High School Commons.

The announcement was made Monday by Jaycee Chairman Joseph Pochter. Invitations to participate were sent to candidates for Oakland County Commissioner, Oakland County Sheriff, state representative from the 24th district, United States representative from the 19th district, and United States Senator Robert Griffin and Michigan Attorney-General Frank Kelly.

Following introductions and a biographical sketch, each candidate will be given an opportunity to make a speech.

Boys Win Swim Trophies

Two local boys won trophies in the Junior Water Wonderland A.A.U. Swim Meet last weekend in the Civic Center Pool in Southfield.

More than 40 teams from across the state were entered in the two day meet for youngsters under 12 years old.

Playground Fun Starts

A Summer Playground Program, sponsored by the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission, gets underway Thursday, July 27. Commissioner Raymond Murphy announced this week.

The playground behind the Novi Elementary School will be open from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. every Monday through Friday through September 1. David Kreuz will supervise the program, which will include ping-pong, games, baseball, softball, football, basketball, horse shoes, and other outdoor recreational activities.

The program was made possible by a grant from the Novi Jaycees.

bowling, mini-golfing, treasure hunting and perhaps going to a Tiger game. For more information, contact Philip Baynes at 349-3477.

Special music Sunday was presented by Reverend Roy Grindell at morning services, and by Philip and Janice Baynes at evening services. Also in the evening service, Reverend Donald Garwood, missionary appointee to Uruguay under Worldwide European Fellowship, was guest speaker and showed slides of his work.

Novi Rotary
Novi Rotary Club will meet at Saratoga Trunk at 12 noon Thursday, next week for its monthly business meeting. New officers will preside.

noted thus far, board members were told, is in their social growth.

Finally, Superintendent Kratz reported that Mrs. Ruth Rickard, special education teacher in Novi, and Mrs. Ester McDonough, Orchard Hills principal, have been involved in a Behavioral Objectives Institute workshop for the mentally handicapped.

He also reported on the district's driver education program, noting that total enrollment for the entire year is 150 students. During the summer program, some 73 students were involved in three classes. A fourth class, involving 24 students, will be completed August 25.

Driver education students receive 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of behind the wheel driving experience, he said.

Plan Candidates Night

A question and answer period will end the scheduled format. An informal coffee period in which candidates can be asked further questions will follow the regular agenda.

By Henry J. Galecki
Secretary and Clerk of the Board

RESOLUTION

Commissioner Burton moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, in accordance with the provisions of Section 18, Chapter IV, Act No. 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended, this Board may, by resolution, absolutely abandon and discontinue any portion of any road under its jurisdiction upon or along which there are no buildings of any character, and

WHEREAS, that part of Cass Benton Drive, a gravelled park drive, entirely within the limits of the Middle Rouge Parkway in the S.E. 1/4 of Section 10, T. 1 S., R. 8 E., Northville Township, Wayne County, Michigan, which is described as follows: Beginning at the westerly limits of the parking area adjacent to the entrance to the Cass Benton Drive from Edward N. Hines Drive and running thence northerly, more or less paralleling Hines Drive pavement for an approximate distance of 600 feet, thence easterly approximately 900 feet to the westerly limits of a parking area and the point of ending of the portion to be vacated is a County road under the jurisdiction and control of this Board, and

WHEREAS, there are no buildings of any character located upon or along said above described section of County road; and

WHEREAS, this Board is the fee holder of the adjacent properties to the aforesaid section of County road, and

WHEREAS, said section of County road is of no use or benefit to the public for highway purposes and it is in the best interest of the public that said section of County road be absolutely abandoned and discontinued, and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that said section of County road be and the same is hereby absolutely abandoned and discontinued and shall cease to exist as a public highway, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Board hereby determines that it is in the best interest of the public that said section of County road be absolutely abandoned and discontinued.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Berry and carried by the following vote:

Ayes: Commissioners Berry and Burton    Nays: None

Oh, That Heat!

By NANCY DINGELDEY

I may admit to being a hot weather fiend but his past week was even enough for me. And after talking to several neighbors, strangers in the grocery store and a local doctor, I found the heat created many unusual syndromes directly related to the weather. The humidity was the culprit and what did it produce? High fevers in little children, for adults, difficulty breathing, especially at night, dizziness, nausea, headaches and the all around blahs.

The heat may have produced all these things in the humans forcing us to curtail many of the usual outdoor jobs - including the gardening but it certainly did not curtail the growth of the weeds. My unusually well-manicured gardens are now overrun with gigantic clods of the miserable things and it adds up to nothing but days of work. Absolutely maddening.

Our peddling foursome wrote another entry to their journal which was received during this past week by the Salo's. Last week we left the group groping their way out of mud-soaked tents after a night of thunderstorms and collapsed tents in Utrecht, The Netherlands.

Bicycles headed toward Amsterdam, the group traveled through the beautiful countryside looking like the "Holland" we think of. They cycled right next to the canals and saw the boat traffic as an every day way of life. On the small roads near the canals they saw the Dutch farmers wearing their wooden shoes (I really thought they wore them now-a-days as part of a national costume but not so because of the wet ground the farmers work there is no better shoe to wear).

They passed a very stately castle complete with moat and drawbridge. Thoughts of entering for a tour were dashed when they found it was closed.

And then up popped Amsterdam "out of a vast, barren, windy field." And according to the journal, getting from the outskirts of town to the station at the center was "like shooting the rapids on the Colorado River" and the streets "not for four bumbling Americano bicyclers".

If you can only picture the four weaving all around, in and out of cars, trucks, bicycles, motorcycles, pedestrians, street cars and busses. At one intersection Marty was almost lost between a beer truck and a park car. And all they were trying to do was get to the information center.

After the frightful trip trying to get there they found the place jammed to the rafters with people. The camp ground they were seeking was "around the station, over the river by ferry, completed with a short bike ride" (I think I would have slept in the streets!) And, as always "as if people were assigned to help them find their way", a cyclist on the ferry ended up taking them personally to the camp ground.

The day wasn't a complete loss though. After a sumptuous meal of Dutch-Indonesian food, they booked a candlelight canal boat tour. The arches of the bridges and some of the old draw bridges were lined with yellow lights and more lights shining up on all of the old buildings which line the canals gave the effect of a fairy land by night.

Rain plagued the group during those few days in Amsterdam and so it was decided to leave Shirley and John cycled to some picturesque villages to the north of Amsterdam, while Marty and Mike proceeded to hassle the trains and make their way to Hanover.

During high school days Mike had been an exchange student with a German family in Hildesheim which was a pretty ride by bike from Hanover. For the next five days they stayed with his exchange family, the Lasche's and relived old memories and exchanged new ones. Shirley and John rejoined the group while at the Lasche's and now it's on to Rottenberg and perhaps Salzburg.

But the Salo household here in Wixom has also been a thriving beehive of activity. Awaiting the return of Neal, Dom and Carla from their trip to The Netherlands, is Dom's younger sister, Mary Louise and Tanta (Aunt) Kathryn Seanen who have been spending this month touring Michigan.

They arrived here from The Netherlands and have been sightseeing with another of Dom's sisters, Maryanne Megge who lives near Claire "Tanta", Mary Louise, Maryanne and her three children who have been spending the past week with the Salo's, will have a short reunion with Dom and Neal and then see "Tanta" and Mary Louise off on their return trip to Europe on Sunday.

What do you do with an old bank building that has remained on a busy intersection for years virtually unoccupied? You paint the outside, change a few windows, sub-divide the inside and voila - a mini-mall. The face-lifting has "beefed-up" the intersection of Farmington Road and Old Grand River in Farmington in what was once the National Bank of Detroit and what is now "The Village Mall".

The grand opening is set for this week in conjunction with the "Founders Day" festivities held annually in Farmington. When completely occupied, the building will house fifteen shops set at different levels and down angled corridors.

What's to be found? "The Kaly Korner" featuring unusual handcrafted gifts of all kinds, a health food store, glass blower, candlemaker, an artist supply shop, travel bureau, knit shop and India imports, just to name a few. During "Founders Day", a potter will be "throwing" outside demonstrating his art as well as many other demonstrations for all to see.

Inside, the shops offer a relaxed and interesting atmosphere in which to browse.

Several months back I wrote about a group of women who were trying to raise money for Erica - a little girl with a rare form of epilepsy. A massive garage sale was organized and from it the group raised $3,000 to aid the family of the little girl in sending her to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Well, three-year-old Erica made it to Baltimore and although not cured, the doctors have been successful in cutting her seizures down from upwards of 100 a day, to a point where she is anticipating attending preschool classes this fall. At one time during the peak of her illness Erica could neither walk or talk. Now she's up again exploring her exciting new world and even saying a few words. A "Miracle" for a little tyke with the help of a few friends.

Two Arrests May End Robberies

In Novi

Information supplied by a Novi resident has made it possible for Novi police to obtain warrants for the arrest of two people they feel are responsible for a series of robberies throughout the entire northwest suburban Detroit area.

Names of the pair are being withheld pending serving of the warrants.

The information making issuance of the warrants possible came as a result of an attempted breaking and entering of a residence at 46011 Nine Mile Road.

A Novi resident, Harry Sommers, told police he had observed a black Volkswagen driving back and forth in front of the Nine Mile residence and then saw a man get out of the car and walk up the driveway, while the driver of the Volkswagen continued to drive back and forth in front of the residence.

Sommers reported that he approached the man and asked who he was looking for and why his friend was driving back and forth in the car. The man said he was looking for the "Hamiltons" and didn't know why the car was being driven up and down the street, according to Sommers. The man then left and was picked up by the driver of the Volkswagen.

Sommers gave police the license number of the vehicle. Investigating officers found a window at the rear of the house had been pried open and scuff marks on a door the man had apparently attempted to kick in.

Sommers later identified the man involved from a mug shot file, police reported. Armed with the accumulated information, police obtained warrants from the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office charging the man with attempted breaking and entering.

Police are investigating the theft of approximately $145 from a residence at 48700 West 10 Mile Road. The money disappeared, it was reported, while the residents were on vacation.

Police are concerned with a growing number of thefts in the Walled Lake area recently.

On Sunday, July 16, Larry Kubiak reported a 10 foot aluminum flatbottom boat had been stolen from the beach directly across the street from 597 South Lake Drive. He discovered the theft in the early evening and had last seen the boat at approximately 4:30 p.m., according to information given to police.

Value of the boat was estimated at $170.

A 12 foot aluminum row boat owned by Reginald Surfus of 1405 East Lake Drive was stolen Saturday, July 15. Surfus told investigating officers he had heard noises coming from the Walled Lake beach at 10 p.m. but had not investigated and found the boat missing the following day.

The row boat was valued at $165.

There is good reason to believe a relatively young burglar was responsible for the theft of $25 from a residence at 43008 11 Mile Road Sunday, July 16.

Owners of the residence told police they returned home after being away all day and discovered one yellow piggybank containing about $25 in miscellaneous small change missing from a bedroom. Sole clue was a few M&M chocolate candies—the kind that melt in your mouth not your hand—at the former location of the bank. The M&Ms had apparently been taken from the kitchen.

Such valuables as guns, television sets, and radios had not been touched, officers observed.

The broken remains of the piggybank and the empty M&M bag were later discovered behind the barn, police reported.

In Northville

A 20-year-old part-time custodian has been charged with larceny from a building over $100 following the theft of a bank deposit bag from the Northville City Police Station.

Arraigned on the charges Saturday was Dennis G. Stover of Garden City. He stood mute and is in jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Investigation by the city's detective bureau began Friday when the deposit bag, containing $4,500 in cash and checks, was reportedly discovered missing after Stover left the station at 2 a.m.

Following questioning, police said Stover took them to a field on Ford Road east of Sheldon Road in Canton Township where the deposit bag and torn checks were found.

Restitution has been made, police said, of more than $400 in cash which was missing from the bag when recovered in the field.

Pre-trial hearing for James B. Wynneparry, charged with arson in connection with the July 2 fire at the Book and Easel, has been adjourned.

The action was taken Tuesday in Wayne County Circuit Court after Wynneparry's attorney filed for a psychiatric examination.

Police are looking for a 1971 yellow Ford Pinto stolen last Thursday from the River Street barn area.

The car, bearing Michigan plates NYP-832, was stolen between 4 and 6:30 a.m.

Unknown persons took a brown 10 speed Schwinn bicycle July 19 from 132 South Center Street. Value of the bicycle is $118.

COURT NEWS

Two Detroit youths have been granted two years' probation under the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act.

They are Michael P. Chernavage and Wade J. Prolisno, both charged May 9 by city police with breaking and entering Ritchie Brothers Laundry.

Probation was granted following a hearing July 13 before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Benjamin Burdick.

Steven L. Barber of Long Lake was fined $104 and ordered to make restitution after he was found guilty on a charge of larceny of gasoline.

Barber, who was arrested by city police on a warrant July 19, appeared July 20 before 21st District Court Judge Richard L. Hammer hearing cases in 35th District Court.

The incident occurred in 1970.

In district court July 18, nine persons arrested by City police for drunkenness pled guilty and were each fined $39.

They are Mary E. Jenkins of 41850 West Seven Mile Road, arrested July 2; Douglas R. Thompson of Hamtramck, arrested July 6; Thomas Carr of Northville Downs, James E. Duarard, Frederick C. Campbell, Wanda M. Campbell, all of Livonia, Robert T. Thompson of Detroit, Delbert G. Mahon of Brighton, all arrested July 7; and Ralph E. Mahon of Brighton, arrested July 8.

Consuming alcohol on a public highway resulted in a $29 fine for Michael P. McQueen of Plymouth. He was arrested June 15 by city police and pled guilty to the charge.

Three persons pled guilty to tickets issued by city police following accidents.

They are Christine L. Cova of 496 West Cady, ticketed for passing on a shoulder fined $29; Ronald P. Betz of Wayne, ticketed for following too closely; and Margaret A. Nauman of 21831 Connermara, ticketed for failing to yield the right of way, both fined $19.

Driving with improper license plates resulted in $24 fines for John W. Peat of 515 Beal Street and Kirk M. Naar of 374 South Wing Street. Peat was ticketed by city police June 30. Naar on July 6.

In Wixom

Wixom police were called upon to investigate several offenses allegedly occurring in the parking lot of Ford's Wixom Assembly Plant. Reported offenses include two cases of stolen motor vehicles and one case of larceny from an auto.

Lloyd Tubbs, a Walled Lake man, told police his 1970 pickup truck was stolen sometime between 5 p.m. Wednesday, July 19, and 4:30 a.m. the following day. He had parked the vehicle in the employee's parking lot before going to work, but when he returned to the place he had parked the car it was no longer there.

A 1971 Ford Torino owned by Robert Russell Spitzas of Wixom was reportedly stolen from the employee's parking lot of the Ford Plant Friday, July 14.

A Drayton Plains man, Joseph Lawrence Fouts told police thieves broke into the trunk of his car while it was parked at the Ford Plant and stole approximately $500 worth of goods.

Entry was made by punching out the trunk lock, according to police reports. The theft occurred sometime between Friday, July 14, at 4 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. Saturday.

Missing items included a rifle, hand tools, movie camera, suitcase filled with suits, and a spare tire.

In another case of larceny from an auto, a driver's license and a vehicle registration were taken from the glove compartment of a car owned by Terrance Lee of Plymouth. The 1972 Michigan license plates were also removed from the car.

The theft occurred between 9 p.m. Sunday, July 16, and 8 a.m. Monday. Lee's automobile was parked in the lot of the Wixom Continental Bar on Grand River when the theft took place.

Forty-six year old Michael Palmiano of Milford was arrested on drunk and disorderly charges over the past weekend. Wixom Police were called to the Wixom Bar where the man later identified as Palmiano was reportedly being abusive and difficult to manage.

When police attempted to intervene, Palmiano became profane and disorderly, according to reports, and had to be subdued by force.

He was booked and fingerprinted at the Oakland County Jail.

Charges Follow Two Accidents

Two drivers have been charged by city police with drunken driving following separate accidents at Novi Road and Eight Mile.

They are Leon Harrelson, 54, of Pontiac and Frank F. Slosek, 50, of Detroit. Both men were also ticketed for driving left of center.

Harrelson was involved in an accident at 11:23 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Eight Mile and Novi Road.

Police said Harrelson was eastbound on Eight Mile when he attempted to turn left onto Novi Road in front of a car driven by Jayant A. Patel of Ann Arbor who was westbound on Eight Mile.

Harrelson was hospitalized with chest and arm injuries. Patel suffered facial lacerations. He and three passengers in his car were treated for injuries at Botsford hospital and released. Slosek was injured in a two-car accident last Thursday, July 20, shortly after 4:30 p.m.

Police said Slosek was driving south and westbound on Novi Road at the curve just north of Eight Mile Road when he crossed the center line and struck an oncoming car driven by Sherry Lynn Hackman of 44145 Cottisford.

The crash occurred just west of the traffic island. Slosek was hospitalized with a fractured left arm, broken rib and leg lacerations. Miss Hackman was treated for a sprained hand and facial lacerations.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF NOVI
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be held to consider a proposed amendment to the text of the Zoning Ordinance No. 18, of the City of Novi, Michigan, to include the following changes:

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 17.02 OF ARTICLE XVII, AND SECTION 18.02 OF ARTICLE XX, AND SECTION 21.02 OF ARTICLE XXI, OF ORDINANCE NO. 18, KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF NOVI:

THE CITY OF NOVI ORDAINS:

PART I. That Section 17.02 of Article XVII of Ordinance no. 18, known as the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Novi, by the deletion of the words "skating rinks" and is hereby amended by the addition of the following to sub-paragraph (c): "but excluding ice and roller skating rinks and indoor tennis courts."

PART II. That Section 18.02 of Article XVIII of Ordinance no. 18, known as the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Novi, is hereby amended as follows:

(b) By adding the words: "but excluding ice and roller skating rinks and indoor tennis courts", immediately after the words "recreation and dance halls."

PART III. That Section 20.02 of Article XX of Ordinance no. 18, known as the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Novi, is hereby amended by the addition of the following paragraph:

(6) For indoor tennis courts, roller skating rinks and ice skating rinks.

PART IV. That Section 21.02 of Article XXI of Ordinance of the City of Novi, is hereby amended by the addition of the following paragraph:

(b) For indoor tennis courts, roller skating rinks and ice skating rinks.

This proposed amendment would permit indoor tennis courts, roller skating rinks and ice skating rinks in M-2 Restricted Manufacturing Districts and M-3 General Manufacturing Districts and would prohibit indoor tennis courts, roller skating rinks and ice skating rinks in C-2 and C-T Districts.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN THAT this hearing will be held at 8:00 p.m. E.S.T. or as soon thereafter as the same may be reached, at the Novi Community Building, 26350 Novi Road, Novi, Michigan 48050, on MONDAY, AUGUST 14, 1972.

A complete copy of the proposed ordinance may be examined at the office of the City Clerk, 25850 Novi Road, Novi, Michigan 48050, during regular office hours until the date of the hearing

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT City of Northville

A Public Hearing was held on Monday, July 10, 1972, at Northville City Hall, by the Northville City Council, and the following Ordinance was duly adopted by a unanimous vote.

The City of Northville ordains:

That signs advertising the holding of garage sales must conform with the following.

GARAGE SALE SIGNS

Definition—Signs advertising the sale of used toys and household furniture, furnishings and appliances, by the owner (s) thereof at the residence of the owner or one of them.

Size—Signs shall not be larger than those permitted in R-2 Districts.

Location—No such signs shall be placed in any manner on public property. They may only be placed on private property with the consent of the property owner, and cannot be placed on any property located more than 500 feet from the place of sale.

Time Limitation on Placement of Signs—No such sign may be put up more than two (2) days prior to the date of the sale and must be taken down within one (1) day following the sale.

PERMIT

A permit for the placement of signs advertising a Garage sale must be obtained from the Office of the City Clerk. There shall be no charge for such permit.

TIME LIMITATION AND NUMBER OF PERMITS

No Garage Sign permit shall run for more than three (3) days and no person shall obtain more than three such permits per year.

At Township Hearing

Drop Duplex Request

A request to rezone one lot to permit construction of a duplex was withdrawn and a request for business zoning to build a lounge was referred for study following public hearings.

The hearings were held Wednesday, July 19, before Northville township planning commission members.

Withdrawing a request for multiple zoning at the southeast corner of Seven Mile and Valencia was Vincent Adamo.

Adamo, who said he intended to purchase the near one-acre lot from Richard Janes and build a duplex, withdrew his request following objections to the rezoning from residents in the area.

A petition presented to the commission, containing signatures of 20 people in the neighborhood, opposed the

The commission also heard a request from Richard W. Svatora to rezone the northeast corner of Six Mile and Napier roads from residential to general business.

Svatora said he wishes to operate a lounge in the schoolhouse currently on the property.

He noted the area is surrounded by a cemetery, a dump and a gravel pit. Svatora, who currently is living on the parcel, said "trucks and dust make it intolerable as a house."

rezoning. It contended the rezoning violated the one family residential zoning in the area; would open the way for construction of apartments along Seven Mile; and would lower property values of existing homes

Residents also questioned how a duplex could be built, since there were no sewers available in the area.

Planners allowed Adamo to withdraw his request and agreed to take no further action on the petition.

Novi City Council

Accepts K&B Right-of-Way

The right of way for Village Wood Road—the avenue which runs through Kaufman and Broad's Lakewood condominium section of Village Oaks—was accepted by the Novi city council Monday, but not without some deliberation.

City Manager George Athas told the council that acceptance of the road right of way should be an open and closed matter. "Usually the right of ways are accepted as a part of the platting," said the city manager, "but because this portion of the road is not on platted property, the road right of way has not yet been dedicated to the city."

"It's something Kaufman and Broad probably should have done some time ago and now they're just playing a game of catch-up football. They want to protect themselves from some guy coming in and saying you sold me a home on a road that doesn't exist."

Perhaps wary because of past problems with Kaufman and Broad and Lakewood residents, the council acted carefully, however.

"What I want to know," said Councilman Edwin Presnell, "is if we accept the right of way dedication are we liable for the current condition of that so-called road?"

Athas assured the council that accepting the right of way, or road easement, in no way construed acceptance of the road.

"After the developer has finished his construction it is his responsibility to prepare the road to our specifications and then come in to dedicate the road to the city," said Athas.

Dedication of the road right of way was accepted by a 4-2 vote with Councilmen William O'Brien and Louie Campbell casting the dissenting ballot.

The council also adopted by a 5-1 vote—a motion referring the right of way plans to city engineers Johnson and Anderson for an estimate of the cost of actually constructing the road and then having Kaufman and Broad post an irrevocable letter of credit with the city in the amount specified by Johnson and Anderson.

"By doing this," said Presnell, "we can build the road if they either won't or don't." O'Brien was the lone dissenter in the 5-1 vote.

In other business the council accepted the bid of Jamaican Pools for the construction of "magic squares" at Orchard Hills Elementary School and the Novi City Park. Requested by the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission, a "magic square" is a large concrete area with curbs that can be utilized for recreational purposes such as basketball in the summer and ice skating in the winter.

The low bid for the work was $26,900. The city will pay about $5,000 of the total cost with the rest of the funds coming from the state government.

—was informed by George Athas that he has requested application forms for federal grants for sewers and the police department.

If federal grants are approved, Athas told the council, additions will be made to the traffic division of the police department and plans for the construction of a sewage treatment plant in the southeast sector of the city will proceed.

Athas estimated that if both federal and state grants should be forthcoming, anywhere from 70 to 90 percent of the cost of constructing a waste water treatment plant could be obtained.

The council is contemplating construction of the plant south of Nine Mile and east of Novi Roads.

—heard a letter from the Oakland County Department of Public Works which requested that no more building permits or sewer tap capacity be granted to either industrial or commercial developers who want to use the Novi-Walled Lake sewage treatment plant.

From now on all industrial or commercial developments must file plans with the Oakland County DPW giving details about the type of effluent they will be passing into the sewage treatment plant.

The purpose of requesting the information is to prevent usage that might create an undue hazard in the plant.

—authorized the city clerk and mayor to enter into a payback agreement with developers Holtzman and Silverman for the 10 Mile Road sewer line.

The developers had constructed a sewer line 500 feet south on Meadowbrook Road to the corner of Ten Mile and then west on 10 Mile to the entrance of their Meadowbrook Glens subdivision. The line contained an estimated capacity of approximately 640 taps, while Holtzman and Silverman have only used 240 taps to date.

The payback agreement approved by the council authorized a payback to Holtzman and Silverman of $175 for each additional tap-in to the line with a maximum payback of $22,000. The contract expires in 10 years after which time the developers have no right to additional paybacks, according to the terms of the contract.

Legion Taps

John Roethel

John J. Roethel of Novi was elected to the Office of First Zone Vice Commander of The American Legion Department of Michigan at the Annual State Convention held in Detroit, July 13-16, 1972.

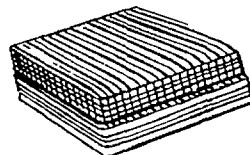

Roethel, a native of New York, joined The American Legion in 1951 in the Northwestern Post 190, in Detroit, and has been affiliated with the Post ever since.

The 52-year-old, World War II Navy veteran, has been Judge Advocate from 1968-1967, 1965-1966 and 1963-1964 for the Department of Michigan.

An active asset to his post, to the Department of Michigan and to his Community, Roethel will serve in the capacity of Department Vice Commander for the First Zone for Legion Year 1972-1973.

At the present, he is a patent attorney for the Ford Motor Company and has served in this capacity for a number of years.

to Michigan

This summer, in a modern office building in Flint, researchers will throw the switch on one of America's space-age marvels—the natural gas fuel cell. Silently, and with no harmful emissions to the air, the fuel cell will transform natural gas into electricity.

It is a similar fuel cell which supplied electricity for the highly successful Apollo moon missions. Consumers Power Company researchers, in their quest to provide new, efficient energy sources, have joined with the Team to Advance Research for Gas Energy Transformation (TARGET). Among the scores of fuel cells to be installed and tested under actual field conditions, the Flint fuel cell will provide all the electricity needed for the office building's lights and office machinery.

Fuel cells someday may become an important source for supplementary energy supplies in Michigan. Meanwhile, Consumers Power Company is actively engaged in dozens of important research projects to improve the quality of the air, the water — of life.

That's what it means to be on TARGET.

When you have a paint brush you want to soak, say, overnight, before you use it again, turpentine is one of the best solvents for keeping the brush soft and usable until the next time. Simply pour the turpentine into a tin can or milk carton that has been cut to proper size and thoroughly cleaned. Push a wire through opposite ends in the top of the container, and string the handle of your brush onto this to keep the bristle from touching the bottom of the container.

You can buy all your paint and painting supplies from NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220. We carry DuPont paints, Olympic stain and Minwax stains. # Master Plan Changes Proposed recommendation and Nichols' own determination to preserve residential areas, the chairman supports the appeal of J.L. Hudson to rezone a Randolph Street site for a small apartment complex.

"What people forget," explains Nichols, "is that the northwest corner of Randolph and Center is already zoned commercial. The adjacent apartment development would be an ideal buffer between this commercial area and the residential area to the west. Without the development, houses will be looking into the back of future stores."

However, one of Nichols' own committee members, Francis Gazlay, has strongly opposed the apartment complex. Like Nichols, Gazlay also is a member of the city planning commission. The other member of the committee is Charles Kohs. The committee's second report covered three sections of the city:

1. A major part of the city west of Center, south of Baseline, including that portion of the old fish hatchery property north of Seven Mile Road.

2. The northeast section of the city bounded by Baseline, Center, Rayson, the mill pond and the C&O railroad.

3. That portion of the city bounded by Wing, Center on the west and east, and Cady Street, and an approximate extension of the center line of Wing Court on the south.

Concerning section 1, the committee recommended that all existing R-2 zoning west of Center be reverted "in its entirety to an R-1 category." R-2 permits two-family residential homes, R-1 only one-family residential homes.

The committee suggests that while this may be a "bold move," it is considered necessary for the future of the city.

"Such a rezoning," the committee says, "will preserve the very desirable residential nature of the affected neighborhoods and protect the integrity and historical charm of the entire general area. In keeping with the efforts of the county planning boards, it will maintain a low population density, prevent any extensive overload on schools within the area and the school district in general."

The committee recommends that vehicular traffic within this section be minimized, thus eliminating necessity of increased parking requirements and asphalt patches.

"Knowing that single residential zoning will prevail," suggests the committee, "home owners should be induced to maintain buildings and grounds thereby preventing deterioration. It should discourage absentee ownership."

"Quite frankly, Northville cannot afford the blight of an 'inner city,' either physically or economically."

Section 2

The committee considers its recommended R-2A zoning for section 2 to represent a more restrictive category, even though it permits small apartments. Planning Commission Chairman Thomas Wheaton, a resident in this section, refutes this 'more restrictive' contention, however.

He argues that R-2A, by permitting small apartments, is "less restrictive."

The committee suggests that R-2A "would not permit the deterioration possible under R-2. At the same time, such a zoning would permit landholders to sell for, or develop, small, attractive apartment complexes should the need or inclination arise."

More specifically, the committee is fearful that R-2 could give rise to undesirable "rooming house" developments.

Under R-2, as the area is now zoned, homeowners can quite easily convert their homes to rooming houses, says Nichols whereas, under R-2A, homeowners in order to turn their houses into multiple units "must spend some money to do so". Small apartment developments would, on the other hand, require considerable investment and also would require architectural approval of the city, adds Nichols.

Wheaton argues that if the existing zoning classification

(R-2) is the committee's "hangup" then it should recommend revision of the zoning's meaning rather than change the master plan.

"We were charged with studying and recommending changes in the master plan, not changes in the meaning of zoning classifications," replies Nichols. "Our recommendations are necessarily based on existing zoning definitions."

Furthermore, Nichols emphasizes that if homeowners in section 2 agree that rooming house development is undesirable but they find R-2A equally undesirable "the committee would be perfectly happy to change the whole area to R-1—single family homes only."

Section 3

In section 3, the committee recommends that it be rezoned to CBP—central business parking.

"It is felt that this area is logical, desirable and necessary to the present and future parking requirements of an expanding business district and for the encouragement of future growth," the committee says.

According to Nichols, the committee probably will not concern itself with the section of the city west of Taft. The area presently is zoned for planned unit development (multiples and single family homes) and for large single family home sites.

As for the southeast section of the city, Nichols says his committee must concern itself with race track expansion and possibly extension of the commercial zoning along the west side of South Main Street to Seven Mile Road.

CITY OF NORTHVILLE AND NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP, MICHIGAN

ELECTION NOTICE

To the qualified Electors of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SAID COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, IN THE REGULAR VOTING PLACE IN EACH ELECTION PRECINCT IN EACH CITY AND TOWNSHIP IN THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, ON TUESDAY, THE 8TH DAY OF AUGUST, 1972, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 7:00 O'CLOCK A.M. AND 8:00 O'CLOCK P.M., THE FOLLOWING PROPOSITION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORS OF SAID COUNTY:

COUNTY PROPOSITION — TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

"Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1975 through 1979) the one mill approved by the voters in 1968 for five years from 1970 through 1974, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis?"

All registered electors may vote on the Tax Limitation Proposition.

This proposition is being submitted in accordance with the following resolution duly adopted by the Board of Commissioners of said County on the 1st day of June, 1972.

RESOLUTION OF BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE

WHEREAS, the voters of Wayne County on September 1, 1964, did approve a one mill tax levy increase ($1.00 per $1,000 of State equalized valuation) for a period of 5 years from 1965 through 1969; and

WHEREAS, the voters of Wayne County on August 6, 1968, approved a renewal of this millage for a period of 5 years from 1970 through 1974; and

WHEREAS, this one mill was absolutely essential to provide basic County services in such areas as hospitalization for the medically indigent and aged poor and for caring and training of juveniles under County care, providing treatment for the mentally ill, and those suffering from tuberculosis, and for maintaining adequate public health, recreation and safety services; and

WHEREAS, the County has no alternative but to seek the voters' approval for the continuation of the existing one mill extra voted levy in order to maintain minimum essential services; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the Board of Commissioners of the County of Wayne, this 1st day of June, 1972:

1. That there be submitted to the qualified electorate of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, at the primary election to be held in said County on Tuesday, August 8, 1972:

COUNTY PROPOSITION — TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

"Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1975 through 1979) the one mill approved by the voters in 1968 for five years from 1970 through 1974, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis?"

2. Said proposition shall be prepared and distributed by the County in the manner provided by law, which statement on the voting machines and ballots shall state the proposition in the form set forth in the preceding paragraph.

3. All public officials of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, and all municipal units thereof, within such time as shall be required by law be, and they hereby are, directed to do and perform all acts and things which shall be necessary to be done or performed in order to submit the foregoing proposition to the electorate of said County at such primary election to be held on Tuesday, August 8, 1972.

Dean of Harness Racing Tribute to Carlo

Sunday night John J. Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, will be honored for his contributions to harness racing.

In a way it will be a double celebration. The mellowing, crusty Carlo will be 75 a week later on August 6.

Leaders in the harness racing world as well as hundreds of friends, associates and officials of the city of Northville will gather at Raleigh House in Southfield for the tribute.

Among those who will participate in the program are Stanley Bergstein, executive secretary of Harness Tracks of America; Orin K. Grettenberger, president of Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association; Edward F. Hackett, executive vice-president of the U. S.

Trotting Association; Delvin Miller, president of the Grand Circuit; and A. M. Allen, mayor of the city of Northville.

Representatives of Hazel Park Harness Raceway, Jackson Raceway, Wolverine Raceway, Lebanon (Ohio) Raceway, Maywood Park (Ill.) Trotting Association, Hazel Park Racing Association, S.E.I.U. Local 79, Michigan Harness Horsemen Association, Northville Driving Club and the Northville Chamber of Commerce will also be in attendance.

Carlo's pretty non-committal about the whole affair. But that's been his life pattern. He's set goals, then worked to achieve them without much fanfare.

In 1944 he came to Northville with five partners and a lease from the Northville Driving Club and started night harness racing at Northville Downs. Betting that year averaged about $9,000 per night.

Nearly 30 years later and some $6 million in improvements the Downs has hit a mark of over $600,000 in one night.

Originally from Buffalo, New York, Carlo practiced law for many years beginning in 1924. He still has an office in Buffalo, but it's operated by his nephew.

Along the way Carlo has organized harness racing tracks in Aurora, Illinois and Lebanon, Ohio. He still holds an interest in the latter track, but it's operated by another nephew.

A bachelor, Carlo is extremely proud of Northville Downs and his life centers around its operation. During the off-season he can usually be found operating a grader around the track's half-mile surface.

Right now he's all excited about the new surface he's developed for year-round racing. It's a combination of clay, slag, limestone and sand, which Carlo says makes the track as fast in wet weather as dry.

In recent years Carlo has divided his interest somewhat between the track and community affairs. He helped organize the new Northville Community Chamber of Commerce and he takes an active part in the non-profit Northville Area Economic Development Committee.

But the Downs and its future are still uppermost in the mind of Carlo.

"With the new expressways soon to be opened, our business will double", he predicts. He's planning more parking, more barns, more grandstands. This week he sat down with the city council to talk about the future development of Northville Downs.

At 75 Carlo isn't predicting how many more seasons he'll see, but he's planning ahead for decades.

"There's still a lot of work to do. We'll probably hit a million dollar night sometime. That's going to take a lot of parking, more barns near the track..."

Carlo's got his own construction firm to do the building. And he can handle all the grading himself.

Standing in the track's air-conditioned clubhouse (right next to the enclosed and air-conditioned grandstands) Carlo's thinking about the future, more fans, more grandstands, more parking. He'll be 75 August 6.

Slow Pace Set in Negotiations Here

Contract negotiations between the Northville School District and Northville Education Association (NEA) have been termed "a waiting game" by NEA President Paul Osborn.

Both Osborn and Superintendent Raymond Spear report there has been some progress in the talks, however, 17 items remain on the table.

Spear said he is "encouraged by the fact that 12 of the items which were on the table have been withdrawn by both teams."

"However, I am discouraged that the NEA views as no raise at all the four percent salary increase the district offered over the salary paid last year," the superintendent said.

Osborn commented the NEA is asking for 7 1/2 percent "plus the experience factor over what was negotiated in last year's contract. We have been waiting for a decent salary package from the district."

Osborn said the four percent offered by the district is below the salary negotiated last year. Salary actually paid to teachers was less than that negotiated due to the wage freeze.

He noted that most of the items remaining on the table are monetary, although non-monetary issues which are not settled include agency shop, class size, maternity leave, calendar, personal business days and year-round school planning.

The NEA president commented that he believes the district is "reluctant to talk about money."

There's more interest and intrigue in the upcoming August 8 primary election than any previous summer run-off in memory.

Competition is healthy in many races at local, state and federal levels.

And in addition the township races are complicated by the current consideration of annexation.

Two veteran Republican congressmen have their jobs on the line in the primary. In this match William Broomfield and Jack McDonald square off. Their newly-drawn 19th congressional district includes Novi, Wixom and the Oakland county portion of the city of Northville.

And at the state level in the same area House Minority Leader Clifford Smart, a Republican, finds himself fighting for the nomination.

Meanwhile, in the second congressional district which now includes all of the Wayne county portion of the city as well as Northville township, Democratic State Representative Marvin Stempien has decided to trade security in Lansing for a chance at the seat long held by Republican Congressman Marvin Esch. Stempien, a former Northville city attorney, faces heavy opposition in the Democratic primary.

Northville's Bob Geake, a Republican, would like to take over Stempien's old job in Lansing. He's running in the 35th district, which includes Northville township and the Wayne county portion of the city.

In Northville township there's keen competition for supervisor, clerk, treasurer and trustee on the Republican ticket. Democrats have three candidates running for two trustee seats, none for treasurer, and only one candidate each for supervisor and clerk.

But the underlying rumble is the matter of the proposed annexation of the township to the city.

While the issue has nothing to do with the August 8 primary, it is perhaps the most important consideration ever to be placed before the citizens of both the city and township.

Therefore, candidates must, and should, speak to the issue.

But their viewpoints have no more significance in the final decision relative to city-township unification than any other township voter.

If the State Boundaries Commission should rule in favor of annexation of the township to the city, petitions will almost certainly be circulated calling for an election on the issue.

Thus the voters will decide...one government or two?

Meanwhile, what is the real significance of the August 8 primary vote?

In my view, it's a matter of tax dollars to every township voter. Never before in the history of a local election has the outcome been so directly related to what the future cost of government may become at the grass roots' level.

Ironically, the situation has what may well be the vast majority of voters caught right in the middle.

They're the ones who favor the "status quo".

Most of them believe the present police budget is already too high. It's some $59,000 annually and the entire property tax levy in the township produces less than $50,000.

They don't want a $500,000 township hall-police-fire complex. They're satisfied with the present township hall, its location and its low rent.

For more fire protection, and probably police, too, they'd favor joint operation with the city. And they suspect that a better bargain could be driven for such services if the power structure on the township board (and in the township hall) wanted it badly enough.

So picture the plight of the "man in the middle" in Northville township.

He's unwilling to bring himself to accept unification with the city. He KNOWS this will cost him four or five mills more in tax dollars immediately.

He may, or may not know that this amounts to about $75 per year to the average township homeowner. But, nevertheless, he can't believe it won't go higher eventually. Anyhow, who would vote to RAISE his taxes these days?

On the other hand, how about the extreme anti-annexation group?

Is the course that they would chart for Northville township more economical to the taxpayer than the other extreme (unification with the city)?

The "status-quo" guy may recognize deep down that things just can't stay the same forever. But he'd like a little more time before making a decision.

And he must surely wonder about those who would build themselves an empire.

So while he can't bring himself to endorse annexation to the city, he's not sure either that he isn't stepping onto a treadmill to bigger, more costly government when he climbs aboard the anti-annexation bandwagon.

What the "middle-man" in the township would like is a new alternative...a slower, less painful path to follow.

Personally, I've come to the conclusion that it's nearly impossible to find the leadership that has the determination to steer such a course, once elected.

They must be endowed with the grit that it takes to drive a hard bargain for the township with the city; and they must possess the resistance to temptation that comes when power beckons and monumental structures await only the formation of a building authority.

If such leadership does exist, it cannot be provided by those who are anti-city.

I'll vote against these candidates August 8.

And I hope there are other township voters who may feel "caught in the middle" who will give sober thought to their selections at the polls.

I firmly believe the community of Northville can "co-exist" amiably and economically in an engagement period leading to a marriage that will be more beneficial to the taxpayer—both in services and dollars saved.

Next week I'll suggest the candidates I feel are best qualified and let the charges of a "biased and profit-seeking press" fall where they may.

This period in the history of our community—both the city and township—is too important to sit idly by and regret later that we didn't try harder.

Speaking for Myself

Township Office: Non-Partisan?

EMERY JACQUES

YES . . .

Elections at the local level should be conducted on a non-partisan basis.

I believe everyone would agree that any man seeking public office should be judged on his qualifications and capabilities with total disregard for party affiliation. (Let me add at this point before I am accused of being a chauvinistic pig, that I refer to man in its broader sense; referring to mankind, not man as opposed to woman) This becomes more difficult at the state and national level, so many times we fall back upon basic party philosophies when selecting an individual to represent us. Even this guide line loses its significance today since a moderate in the "other" party may better represent our position than a liberal in our own party.

At the local level there is no need to get caught up in the liberal, conservative, moderate, or liberal conservative tag turmoil. It is entirely possible to determine not only a man's qualifications and capabilities, but his stand on local issues which do not relate to or are affected by basic party differences.

NO . . .

It has been said by many astute political observers that our own local city, village and township government should be the battleground for efficient, responsible government. We should not expect responsible government in Lansing from our hundreds of legislators if we do not demand it from our local township board.

Responsible government starts with partisan election to office, and if it has failed in some instances, it is not the fault of the process. Rather, the voters have failed to hold the political parties accountable for the action of the partisan official.

We must return to active political party involvement in defining the issues and in taking political party positions on local issues. The candidates for township board office should be actively involved in this process. The voters can then elect their local officials with some intelligence.

It may be popular to advocate abolishing partisan elections on the township level, but if we did so, we could be striking at a consequence of public apathy. We would find our elected officials extremely unpredictable, township board meetings the forum for publicity seekers, and the public interest sacrificed.

Let's Leash King Kong

By Jack W. Hoffman

Look, I've nothing against trucks.

They're basically friendly, considerate, overgrown beasts who, like King Kong, terrify people by their size, not their demeanor. Ol' Kong didn't really want to eat people, he just wanted to fondle them.

As a former public relations representative of a major trucking manufacturer, who had to parry anti-truck diatribe, I am aware that trucks frequently are unfairly maligned.

And I am fully cognizant that trucks pay for much of our ribbons of concrete through taxes and that they play an essential role in transporting the nation's cargo.

But, alas, like so many other motorists, my admiration for trucks is being squeezed to death by the growing number of rock-tossing behemoths who regularly play tick-tack-toe on the windshield and front end of my car.

The ol' buggy has been hit by so many stones, I'm afraid its driver is getting shell-shocked. Not only do the nicks, cracks and bruises hurt the car, they're raising Cain with

Praise Police For Assistance

To the Editor

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Northville Township Police for staying on the job until it was finished.

We had the occasion to need help when our son hemorrhaged after a tonsillectomy.

The police contacted an ambulance service for us. The first one summoned had some difficulty and was unable to make the call. But the police were concerned and considerate enough to stay with us until they had contacted another and my son was safely enroute to Children's Hospital where his doctor met us. Drew was then admitted for three days of treatment.

We and Drew's doctor feel that if the police had not been here to contact the other ambulance services serious complications could have developed.

A special thanks to Chief Ronald Nisun for all his help during our time of need and for inquiring as to how our son was recovering.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

The stifling heat, produced by a combination of high temperatures and equally high humidity, took its toll in daily sweat and discomfort last week and much of the weekend. Some people barely even moved during the hot spell that as of Monday still hadn't abated significantly. My wife is one of them.

She'd sit in the back yard shade, turning ever so slowly the pages of her book. If anyone came near her, she'd shout, "Get away from me, it's too hot."

The kids would look wide-eyed at usually affectionate mamma, nonplused by her sharp peevishness. I, in turn, none too happy with the heat, still acted normally.

The heat, you see, doesn't really bother me. I attribute that to the fact that I once worked on the railroad. It was while I was going to college and I needed the money badly.

There were no jobs to be found. Every day I'd get out of bed, wondering if I'd have any luck. A call here, a visit there. No jobs.

The iron mines were the big thing around my home town of Ironwood. They did take on extra help during the summer. But unfortunately my father didn't work for the mining company, so I was out of luck.

Finally, a buddy of mine found a job. And several workers were needed. Like some mad man running for an oasis, I jumped into the car and interviewed for the job.

Qualifications: muscle and not much between the ears. I was short on both counts, but I got a job. It was as an extra-gang worker for the now defunct Duluth South Shore and Atlantic Railroad, one of those marginal outfits actively engaged in carting freight across the upper peninsula.

They put me on the end of a shovel, told me to start throwing gravel onto the raised track bed and not to quit until told to do so. The hours were long, nine hours a day, five on Saturday and no overtime. And they meant it when they said "keep shoveling".

Blood blisters popped out on my hands. Four on one hand, three on the other. My muscles ached at the end of the day. It would have been all right if there had been enough gravel and sand at tracksides; but there was barely enough.

The newcomers who joined the extra gang with me called it quits after a few days. "There must be a better way to make money," they said. I stuck with it. A job change in mid-summer and I would probably wouldn't find another.

Then the heat came. Massive waves of it. The trees stretched tall above the railroad track on both sides, acting as a wall to shut off any wind. The sun just poured down on glistening bodies and sweat rolled in rivers off the shirtless crew.

The thermometer in the canvas covered put-put soared to 125, 130 degrees. "If you wanna get paid, get those shovels into the dirt," the straw boss shouted.

They were merciful, however. A bucket of water and salt pills were brought around every hour or so. Some men collapsed and were given a few moments respite in the clammy shade along the railroad track. Watching the few lucky ones lying on the ground, I prayed that I, too, would suffer the same fate. But no luck. My body wouldn't give out.

If you think I quit that job after one summer, you're wrong. I went back two more summers. It's not that I'm a bear for punishment. And there were other jobs available in the next two years.

It's just that the extra gang work had become a challenge. It was a matter of pride that I had withstood everything the rotten bosses and the cruel weather had to offer. At times, it became a personal duel between me and the heat.

Looking back on those days, I now shake my head. But whenever the humidity and the temperature get together to conspire in a heat wave, it seems like small potatoes.

Handle's Averaging

$363,178 at Downs

Northville Downs ends its 36-night summer harness racing meet next Tuesday, August 1 and won't re-open again until November 6 when Jackson opens its 47-night meet. Through December 30.

Through the 28th night of racing, last Saturday, the Downs averaged $363,178 in mutual handle per night.

That's below last year's betting rate, but Executive Manager John Carlo points out that the local track is competing head-to-head this year with Windsor. Total handle in the first 28 nights was $10,168,988. Total attendance was 126,890, an average of 4,532 fans nightly.

my underwear.

Take last week, for instance. Driving along I-96 in Novi, a bullet smashed into my car, scaring the dickens out of me and my passengers. Luckily, my heart survived a momentary stoppage, and the wet seat wasn't really blood.

Nevertheless, the gaping wound in the windshield was painful enough.

The bullet, of course, was shot out of the empty trailer-truck bouncing along the freeway in front of me. Everytime chassis and trailer kissed each other over a pavement crack, a shower of stones came rilling out of the truck and ricocheted off the concrete into the car.

Dodging the hailstone, I sashayed up beside the cab of the truck and, as best as can be done at 60 MPH, signalled a fistfull of greetings. We couldn't hear the trucker's reply of course, but he appeared to be testing the wind velocity with a finger waving out the window.

Had this been a first, I might have overlooked just another insurance claim. But it isn't. It has happened at an increasing rate in recent years, and my friends tell me that they're being fired at regularly, too.

Like it or not, the trucking industry, because of a failure to adequately police itself, is creating its own bad PR image.

All of us can appreciate a trucker's peace symbol now and then, but nobody likes to be pelted with stones. It's not only a nuisance, it's expensive.

The Auto Club informs us that a recent survey shows that windshield breakage claims last year, caused by debris from uncovered trucks, cost $5.5 million in Michigan alone. And that doesn't include damage claims for other parts of the car, nor the countless damages that go unreported to insurance agencies.

It seems to me if the Teamsters and the trucking industry spent as much time and money fighting its own stone-throwers as it does fighting "anti-trucking legislation," the problem could be eliminated or at least significantly minimized.

But since that is not the case, I'm joining forces with the Auto Club which asks concerned motorists to write their state senators and representatives urging passage of the dump truck covers that the Teamsters and the industry so vehemently oppose.

Join me. Let's put a leash on King Kong.

Set Zoning Hearings

Set for a public hearing September 7 was a request to construct multiples on 34.5 acres at the corner of Bradner and Franklin roads.

Submitted by Edward Rose and Sons, the property is currently owned by Alex Gordon. Present zoning on the land is single family. Spokesmen for the developer did not specify what is planned for the property, but noted that the multiple dwelling complex would make use of the site's varying terrain.

In other action, the commission granted site plan approval to a 208-unit apartment complex on Seven Mile Road north of Northville State Hospital.

To be developed by Northville Investors, composed of Dr. W. E. Gzyzinski and Dr. Arthur Gzyzinski, under the name of North Ridge Apartments, the complex will encompass 28 acres.

The approval by planners was contingent upon relocation of intersections of service drives with the main road and receipt by the township of a legal description of the main road easement.

Planners also gave site plan approval to Choice Homes, Incorporated, to set up a mobile home sales lot at the corner of Five Mile and Haggerty roads.

Contingencies include establishing a green belt, septic field plan, following Wayne County Road Commission entrance suggestions and re-measuring the depth of the lot.

requested speeds on Novi Road be lowered following a fatal accident in April involving a pedestrian.

According to Police Chief Samuel Elkins, the county has replaced speed limit signs with larger signs and has put up additional signs warning motorists of the 40 mph zone on that portion of Novi Road.

A traffic survey conducted by the Oakland County Road Commission has shown the posted speed limit of 40 mph on Novi Road south of Allen Drive need not be lowered.

According to a report received recently by the Northville City Police traffic division, 87 percent of the vehicles using the road travel at 41 mph speeds or lower.

A survey taken of 224 vehicles on May 24 between 2:35 and 3 p.m. on Novi Road from Allen Drive south to the curve showed the average speed to be 36.87 mph.

According to state figures, a speed below which 85 percent of the vehicles travel is considered proper for the area.

Reef Tops Sinacola, Then Drops Two

While everyone else was busy figuring out ways to beat the heat that blanketed the Detroit area last week, made breathing uncomfortable, and any form of exercise other than stirring your mint julep down right folly, Northville's Reef Manufacturing team in the Livonia Adray League was playing three baseball games.

"It was hot, I'll tell you that," said Rich Adams, the 19-year old shortstop-coach of the Reef nine "We'd have been alright if it hadn't been for our doubleheader on Sunday. We should never have tried to play two games that day. It was just too hot."

As it was, the week wasn't a complete loss for the Reef team and, if you're the type who likes to find a bright side to everything - even to a week in which you lose two of your three games - you didn't really have to look far for things to like.

Reef opened its week by taking a 3-2 decision from South Farmington's Mario Sinacola squad Wednesday. "That one felt good," said Adams. "Sinacola was leading the league by three points when we played them and they were four points in front of us, but we beat them

It was only their second loss in the second half of the season."

Northville got all its runs in the third inning. Rick LaRue, and Terry Mills opened with singles, Adams walked to load the bases, and Steve Utley singled home LaRue and Mills with Adams taking third. Adams scored what proved to be the decisive third run moments later when the catcher's toss back to the pitcher squibbed away.

Sinacola got both its runs in the top of the fifth. Tiring because of the heat, Northville starter Jeff Moon walked the first two men he faced, and Adams brought in Mike Gee to replace him. A ground ball to the first baseman off the bat of Novi's John Pantalone advanced the runners to second and third, and then a sacrifice fly and an infield groundball brought in the two runs.

Northville outhit Sinacola 5-3. Moon and Gee combined for a total of seven strikeouts.

The victory over Sinacola made it four straight wins for the Reef team, but on Sunday that streak came to an abrupt end as the Northville nine dropped a pair of games.

In the first game Reef and Dearborn Adray both rapped out 12 hits, but the Dearborn home walked away with a 10-2 triumph.

"I'm just not sure how that can happen," said Adams, trying to figure out what went wrong. Anytime you get 12 hits in a seven inning ball game you ought to have more than two runs and I'll never understand how two teams can get 12 hits apiece and the score can still be so lopsided."

Moon started for Northville in the 95 degree heat and went two innings before turning the ball over to Gee, who pitched the third and fourth innings. Rick LaRue finished up the mound chores with a three inning stint.

Both teams scored once in the first inning, as Utley's home run provided Reef with its run, but that ended the scoring for Reef until the seventh when LaRue belted a four-bagger.

Utley with four hits and Mills with three collected seven of the 12 Northville hits.

In the second game Sunday, Reef played a make up game with Birmingham's Varsity Shop and dropped a 7-0 decision.

"For all practical purposes, we should never have gone back out on that diamond," said Adams. "We were just dead from that first game and they wiped us out."

Scott Evans started the game for Reef and was touched up for five second inning runs.

"I can't fault the way Scotty was pitching," said Adams. "They got just three hits off him in the second, but still got five runs. He got hit by a batted ball real hard and probably shouldn't have stayed in, but Gee had a sore arm and Moon was totally exhausted so Scott just hung in there."

Northville collected just three hits in the game, one each by Gee, LaRue, and Adams. Varsity Shop had seven safeties.

Phillies Return - Net 3rd Win

After nearly three weeks without a game, the Del's Shoes Phillies finally took the field, and the leaders of the Northville Recreation Department's Powder Puff Softball League showed they've lost none of their old aplomb as they posted a 7-2 victory over the Charles Chipster Bombers.

of it as they were awarded a forfeit victory over the VFW Cobras

The Phillies-Bombers battle was decided early in the game as the Del's Shoes-sponsored club piled up a 7-0 lead in the first three innings.

Ann Oaten got the game's first hit—a single, scored the game's first run, and belted a two-run third inning four-bagger to spark the Phillies victory. Dawn Cowan also had two hits and Janice Jones poked a two-bagger to share hitting honors with Ann Oaten.

Peggy Watt, Lynn Sylvester, and Brenda Twidell doubled for the Bombers, whose only other hits were singles by Liz Smith and Cathy Corcoran.

Pirates Head for Title

The Del's Shoes Pirates have got it made.

The leaders of the Northville Recreation Department's Knighthole Softball League don't seem to do anything but win; and their closest challengers for the league crown—the Northville Hardware Colts and Choo-Choo Car Wash Warriors—are so busy battling each other for second place honors, they barely have time to worry about the top spot.

The hard-hitting Pirates kept their undefeated record in tact during last week's action by posting victories in each of their two games.

The Township Police Athletics were the first to feel the offensive might of the Pirates as they found themselves on the very short end of a 22-3 score. As usual the Pirates' attack was paced by half the team. Willy Newman, Dave McElroy, Carl Lang, Randy Lineman, and John Simone all had three hits apiece and Lang and Kevin Swayne belted round-trippers to spark the victory. With two hits apiece Tim Hoult, Dick Smith, and Tom Phillips had more than half of the Athletics' 11 hits.

The Pirates' other victory was an 8-2 conquest of the Northville Realty Astros. A five-run third inning proved decisive in the well-played contest. Dave McElroy banged out three hits and Brady Lineman and John Simone had a double and triple respectively for the Pirates. Carl Swartz and Don Hutton were the only Astros with more than one hit.

The Warriors and Colts started the week just a game behind the Pirates, but ended up two games back as they each split their two contests.

The Choo-Choo Car Wash Warriors, paced by triples off the bats of Bob Thomson and Keith Foster and doubles by Tom Arnold, Doug Eaker, and Jim Thompson, garnered a 9-3 victory from the VFW Rams. Terry Nadeau and Greg Lafferty each had a single and a double for the losers.

In an important battle, the Northville Hardware Colts scored six times in the fourth inning to beat the Warriors 11-5. Dale Hawkey's three hits—one of them a key fourth-inning home run—sparked the Colts, who also got three hits from Andrew McLeod, Brian Starr and Rick Getzen each had a pair of safeties for the Warriors.

The Colts blew their chances for an undefeated week, however, by dropping a 9-3 decision to the Northville Drug Panthers, who rallied for four final inning runs to overcome an 8-5 deficit. John Zimmerman, Mike Lupini, Chris VanGieson, and Dave Zabinski all had doubles for the Panthers, while Schott Schaal's home run and Brian Pascoe's double were the only extra-base hits for the Colts.

The Panthers made it a perfect week by also beating the Casterline Lions. The score was 15-3. Mark Tuggle, Rob Marzonie, Chris VanGieson, Mike Lupini, and Brian Hicks had three hits apiece to lead the 23-hit Panther attack. Paced by Ron LePark's three singles and Dave Gardien's double, the Lions also had 23 hits, but could muster just three runs off the stingy Panther defense.

After their loss to the Pirates, the Northville Realty Astros went on to record a pair of victories. Eric Muller homered and Mike Cramer, Dan Murray, and Don Hutton each socked a pair of doubles to pace the Astros to a 15-4 conquest of the Casterline Lions. The Lions, who collected just nine hits, got a two-bagger from Kevin Sherot and two two-baggers from Bob Simrak.

The Astros bombed the A&W Cougars 21-2 for their other win. Mike Cramer homered and joined Eric Muller, Dan Murray, and Bob Ison in getting three hits to pace the victory. Gary Lauber and Todd Jennings had two hits and George Rigby three to pace the Cougars.

Dave Brock pulled off an unassisted triple play and the VFW Rams went on to take a 13-4 victory over the poor Cougars, who are still looking for their first win of the season. Brock teamed with Thayer McMullen and Bill Wittenburg in hitting triples for the winners.

Win 3 in Tee-Ball

Schraders Comes Alive

Somebody should find out what the players on the Schraders Home Furnishings team have been eating for breakfast lately and report his findings to the coach of the United States Olympic team. Losers in each of their first four games, the Schraders players suddenly came alive last week and posted three consecutive victories in Tee-Ball League play.

The unexpected spurge advanced the Home Furnishings team's record to 3-4, but the real beneficiary of its new-found skills was the Northville Fire Department Blazers.

As a result of the Schraders' victories and a pair of conquests of their own, the Blazers seem headed for the league title. Their record is now 7-1, while their closest competitor—the Northville Insurance Tigers—has a 3-3 mark.

Schraders first victory came at the expense of the Del's Shoes Bears. With Mike Crane, Omar Anisoglu, Tim Brown, Dan Yoder, Kevin Anderson, Dave Longridge, and Don Kauffman each rapping out three hits, Schraders took a 22-8 triumph. Jim Ziegler, Rob Smith, Ron LePark, Dave LeAnnais, Kevin LeAnnais, and Jeff Darrow had two hits apiece to pace the bears.

The second Schrader's victory was a 23-18 conquest of the Northville Insurance Tigers. The Tigers scored 12 times in the first inning and then pulled off a first inning triple play to slow the Schrader machine, but finally lost anyway. Mike Ziemann collected four hits, and Steve Schrader and Kevin Anderson both had doubles to pace the victors. Bart Leu, Todd Bartling, and Bobby Pegrum each had a triple and Leu added a sixth-inning four-bagger to top the Tigers.

The Township Pumas were Schraders' final victims, losing 14-10. Eric Schrader had a pair of doubles, Mike Ziemann had a double and a triple, and Kevin Anderson, Dave Longridge, Steve Schrader, and Kevin Coltrane added three hits apiece to spark the Schrader attack. Dave Bach and Bart Orban each stroked a double for the Pumas.

It was a rough week for the Pumas, who also dropped a pair of decisions to the Blazers.

Five hits from Tom Basilio, Maurice Hill, Tim McLaughlin, Dennis Stevens, and Jeff Pyden powered the Blazers to a 20-12 triumph in the first meeting between the two squads. Peter Wilson, Brian Pascoe, and Dave Bach each had three hits for the Pumas.

In the second meeting Maurice Hill, Tom Basilio, and Dave Torgerson each had four hits, while Steve Bailey, Gary Simrack, Dave France, and Dennis Stevens added doubles to lead the Blazers to a 14-12 decision.

Andy Romanik and Dave Bach each had four hits to spark the Pumas. Bach's hits included a double and home run.

Bicycle Races Planned Soon

Bicyclists prepare. Bicycle races are planned for each of the first two Saturdays in August.

On Saturday, August 5, the "Jaycee 500" will be held for boys and girls aged three through 15 as part of the Northville Fair; and on the following Saturday, August 12, the Northville Recreation Department and Town and Country Cyclery will jointly sponsor a Bicycle Marathon.

The Jaycee 500 will get underway at 10 a.m. on the Northville Downs race track. Races will range from 500 inches for children on tricycles to 500 yards and longer for older youngsters, depending on age and bicycle size.

Boys and girls are eligible to compete, but must have their parents' permission. Permission forms are available below or may be obtained by contacting Ross Totten at 349-5124.

The Recreation Department races also get underway at 10 a.m. and include separate categories for men and women entrants. There is a 25-mile endurance race for all competitors; a 10-mile Stingray competition for youngsters aged six through 16; a 25-mile race for five and 10 speed bicycles with riders aged 14 years and older, and a 15-mile race for adult tourists.

There will be trophies for winners in each class and only Northville and Northville Township residents may enter. Further information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department at 349-0203.

JAYCEE 500 ENTRY FORM

I .....hereby acknowledge that .....has my permission to participate in the Northville Jaycee sponsored Community Fair bike races, being made fully aware that the Northville Jaycees and all other sponsors of the fair, take no responsibility for any injuries or liabilities incurred by my child, but rather that I shall assume full responsibility in the event of such an occurrence.

RGA, Civitan Dump Leaders

Well-ordered. Structured. Like clockwork. Apt modifiers for play in the Northville Recreation Department's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League. In a word, everything was very, very predictable.

Choo-Choo Car Wash and Northville Lumber would win every time they took the field except on those occasions when they were pitted against each other and then Choo-Choo Car Wash would win. Predictable? Why you could bet on it.

But that was before last week. Because all of a sudden, things started falling apart for the two American League powerhouses. On Wednesday an inspired Renwick, Grimes, and Adams Insurance (RGA) team toppled the Lumber and one day later Chuck Fialon and his Civitan-Casterline band shattered the myth of Choo-Choo's invincibility.

It was one of those weeks. The trend extended to the National League also, twice victorious over the Village Oaks squad, the Northville Jaycees suddenly found themselves on the short end of a 4-3 score in a game with the Oaks and back in the middle of a two-way dog fight for the National League pennant.

RGA's defeat of Lumber was no real upset. Throughout the season, RGA has been tagging along just half a game behind Choo-Choo and the Lumber and pulling at the bit for a chance to beat one or the other or both of the two powerhouses. That opportunity came Wednesday. RGA was up for the game and the Lumber came up flat. The result, an 8-4 RGA victory.

Lumber tied the game at two-all with a pair of third-inning runs, but RGA broke the game open with four big runs in the fifth, as the Lumber was guilty of some uncharacteristic shoddy ball handling. John Davis and John VanBonn, each of whom went three for four, paced the winners, while Bob Kucher with four hits in four at bats and Bill Yoder with three hits in three trips to the plate were the top Lumber hitters.

Civitan-Casterline's 8-7 conquest of Choo-Choo was a bonafide upset. Choo-Choo's "Murderer's Row" of fearful sluggers just never got started as Chuck Fialon's tosses limited them to just 12 hits. John Norman's fifth-inning single scored Otto Leu with the decisive run. Ken Kisabeth and Paul Woodward combined for six of Choo-Choo's 12 hits.

The week was not a total loss for the Car Washers, however, as they returned to their typical assault Friday, hammering out a 24-9 victory over Lipon's Sporting Goods.

Paul Woodward homered and Joe Hay, Jerry Kisabeth, and Ed McCloud added triples in a ten-run second inning that left Lipon's stunned. John Fawcett also homered for the Car Wash and Kisabeth and Don Thomson each finished the game with four hits to take hitting honors. John Root homered for Lipon.

The loss to Choo-Choo evened Lipon's record for the week at 1-1. Previously the South Lyon team had recorded a 17-10 verdict over the BCA Truckers. Mike Gardner homered, and Jim Humphrey, George Bridson, and Glen Dougherty each rapped out four hits to pace Lipon's, while Joe Humphries and Bob Bartski combined for six of BCA's 16 safeties.

Also finishing the week with a 1-1 record in American League play was Exotic Rubber and Plastic. On Friday, Exotic dumped the Truckers 9-6 as Ray Graham and Scott Stuart had half of Exotic's 14-hit total. Don Salsbury with four consecutive singles and Dan Murphy with a three-run homer paced the losers.

Palace-Phil's 76-Stones was the team which handed Exotic their loss, as they converted singles by Rich Adams, Dave Fisher, and Jeff Taylor into two seventh-inning runs to break a 3-3 deadlock and take a 5-3 victory. Dennis Nadeau had two doubles and a single to pace the Palace. Jeff Moon and Ray Graham each posted three for three performances to top Exotic.

Over in the National League, the Northville Jaycees were also victimized by the upset-trend which afflicted Choo-Choo and the Lumber. But like RGA's defeat of the Lumber, Village Oaks' conquest of the Jaycees was no real upset. The Oaks have battled the Jaycees for the lead of the National League all season long, but everytime they've played each other, the Jaycees have emerged with a narrow victory.

The Oaks' luck changed Thursday. Jaycee hurler Ron Reitenour held Oaks to just three hits in the last six innings, but in the first frame, the Novi subdivision team came up with four hits good for four runs. The Jaycees battled back and had runners on second and third in the seventh before losing 4-3. Chuck Gramlich and Julius Wright collected four of Village Oaks' seven hits. Veteran firstbaseman Dick Norton collected three of the Jaycees' 12 hits.

The Jaycees survived a strong challenge from CAT Diesel in their other game last week to post a 9-7 triumph. Jim Belz had two hits and a home run to spark the Jaycees and Dave Coe duplicated that performance to lead the CAT hitters.

CAT Diesel, the team which leads the league in hair and head bands, was considerably more successful in their other two contests. Thursday they blasted out a 17-5 victory over the O.J.V. Men's Club and Friday they regained third place by beating Ford Valve 16-5.

Steve Bagdon with a double and two triples, and Rich Ording with two doubles paced the conquest of O.L.V. Collecting three hits apiece for CAT in the Ford Valve game were Dave Coe and Ken Hinkel.

John Mach Ford's team in the National League was hotter than their own September clearance sales. Blasting out 32 hits - five each by Ray Taulbee and Bob Brooks - the John Mach squad annihilated VFW 28-13. Bruce Dingwall had three safeties for the veterans, who should have applied for federal aid of one sort or another.

On Thursday the Johnny Mach squad collected only nine hits, but still took the victory as they topped the Northville Newcomers 8-4. Linton Groszpit allowed the Newcomers just six hits - five of them in the second inning.

Wayne Loontjer had a home run and a triple to lead the winners, while Joe Pisani had half of the Newcomers hits.

In a battle of ideologies - that's what the New York sportswriters would say - the O.L.V. Men's Club topped the Presbyterian Men's Club 9-3. Steve Penrod and Clayton Graham - has three hits apiece for the Catholics, Jim Curl had two of the Presbyterian's seven hits.

The VFW, the only team the Presbyterians have beaten, evened the score by recording a 12-0 victory Wednesday. Lou Lanning yielded just four hits in notching his first shutout of the season. Ron Jones hit for the circuit - single, double, triple, and home run - to lead the veterans. Mike Sisser backed up Jones' performance with three singles. Jack Fieldman had half the Presbyterian's four hits.

Cellar Dwellers Foil Jaycee Bid

When the Novi Jaycees look back on their 1972 softball season, it will have to be with a certain amount of regret. The Jaycees have a problem. They have no trouble at all in beating the first division teams, it's those second division clubs that have all but deprived the Jaycees of the championship of the Novi Parks and Recreation Department's Slow Pitch Softball League.

The Jaycees zipped through their first six games of the season without a loss. Then they met Northville Burger chance to win the league title, but they're going to have to come from behind to do it. Ahead of them in the standings are the Michigan-Ohio Air Filters with an 8-3 record and the team with the best shot at the pennant, the Novi Inn with a 7-2 record.

The Jaycees blew an opportunity to maintain a hold on the league lead last week as they dropped a 7-4 decision to the Thompson Travel Center.

The Travelers opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the third as Lloyd Huotari and Bill Heinonen hit back to back doubles after Jim Eskola had singled.

But the Jaycees struck back with three runs in the bottom of the third to take over the lead. Jerry Fortenberry's three-bagger drove in Joe Pochter and Chuck Gramlich and then he scored the third run, coming in on an error.

The Travel Center then added two more runs in the fifth and three runs in the sixth to pull away for the 7-4 triumph. Huotari's fifth-inning triple and a home run off the bat of Vic Pietela in the sixth inning were the key blows in those uprisings.

The Air Filters, meanwhile kept their chances for the league crown alive with a 16-4 romp over the Meadowbrook Lakes mob.

The Lakers scored first-converting singles by Jim Woelkers, Will Pilch, and John Padget into a first-inning score - but the game was all over shortly thereafter. Scoring four times in each of the second, third, and sixth innings, the powerful Filter contingent pulled away to an easy victory.

Ted Battistone's hitting streak was stopped at fifteen straight, as he hit an easy infield grounder in the fourth, but the big Air Filter third baseman still paced all hitters with a four for five performance. Denny Mrowczynski had a double and two singles in three at bats to back up Battistone in the hitting department.

Jim Reynolds and Jim Woelkers each went three for four to pace the Lakers.

In a battle of last place teams, the Novi Police Officers used the long ball to edge out Northville Burger Chef 10-9. Scoring four times in both the first and second innings, the coppers got off to a quick start. But the burgermen, with a five run second-inning, kept pecking away at the policemen's lead until Dick Wiseman singled home Junior Bernardi in the top of the seventh to tie the score at 9-all.

But Charlie Brown stepped up to the plate in the bottom of the seventh and belted a long home run to give the lawmen a 10-9 victory.

Brown's circuit clout was the second home run of the game for the cops. Ed Butler connected for a four-bagger in the second-inning with the bases loaded. It was the first grand slam home run of the year in the Novi League.

SLIDING INTO THIRD—Chuck Gramlich slides into third base safely in the third inning of Village Oaks' game with the Northville Jaycees in action in Northville's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League last week. Gramlich's first-inning hit drove in three runs and paved the way for a 4-3 Village Oak conquest.

Down Anger 4-3

Eagles Clinch 'F' Title

With three games still remaining on the schedule the F.O.E. Eagles clinched first place in the Northville Recreation Department's Class F League Saturday with a tough 4-3 decision over Anger Manufacturing.

The victory advanced the Eagles' record to 8-2, while Anger Manufacturing dropped back into a three-way tie with the Northville Colts and Casterline Braves for second place. All three teams have 4-6 records.

Anger made the high-flying Eagles work for the victory

The Eagles picked up a first-inning run as Todd Nadeau crossed the plate, but then the two teams battled on scoreless terms until the fifth when Anger knotted the score at one-up. The Eagles clinched the victory with a three-run sixth-inning.

John Marzoni and Nadeau opened the frame with the doubles and John Horwath added a single. The big blow was provided by Pete Wright, however, as he lined a double off the right-field fence, driving in Nadeau and Hor-wath with what proved to be the winning runs.

Anger rallied for two runs in the top of the seventh to cut the Eagles' lead to 4-3 and had the bases loaded with one out, but Bret Lawson pitched himself out of the jam to preserve the victory.

Mike Cairns pitched the first five innings for the Eagles and gave up one run on four hits and struck out five. Lawson pitched the final two innings and gave up two runs on four hits while recording five strikeouts.

Harness Crowns Up for Grabs

Moving into the final weekend of its 36 night meeting which ends on Tuesday, August 1, Northville Downs will decide season championships next Friday and Saturday (July 28 and 29) when Racing Secretary Harry Peterson again has arranged outstanding programs.

Friday's card will be headlined by the $5,000 open invitational trot Doug Ackerman's Gunsmith and Speedway Jackie, handled by Gordon Norris, will tangle for the sixth time and the winner will capture the meet's trotting crown.

Each won twice during the series with one of Jackie's triumphs coming at the expense of Gunsmith which finished first but was disqualified and placed second for a lapped-on break.

The finale is expected to attract six starters but all of the attention will be on the twofighting for the mythical crown.

On Saturday, Spring's

Pride, the fleet four year old from the Norm Mealey stable of Birmingham, will be favored to take the $6,000 open invitational pace and the pacing championship.

Spring's Pride has won three of the invitationals and a victory in the finale will definitely tag it as the track's best.

After the final race on Tuesday, August 1, the harness racing scene will shift to Hazel Park for an 82-night campaign.

Giants Boost Mets' Hopes

What do the Thompson-Brown Realtor Mets and the Beatles have in common? Well, besides long hair both groups had good reason to be singing "With a Little Help from My Friends" last week. The Beatles because the song put a few extra pennies in their pockets, and the Mets because their chances for winning the Knothole Hardball League championship were given a hearty boost last week by the VFW Giants, who graciously handed the Mets' prime - the John Mach Ford Yankees - an 8-0 setback.

That upset left the Yanks with a 6-2 record and put them two games behind the Mets in the all-important loss column. The Mets, who won their only scheduled game last week, now have a 5-0 record.

The Mets hardly had an easy time of it, however, as they barely squeezed past the Del's Shoes Twins 6-5. The Twins had the tying run on second base with just one out in the last inning, but were unable to score. Roger Pattison's third hit of the game - a double - scored Bob Heckerl with the Mets' decisive run. Greg Suckow with a double, triple, and two singles paced the Mets' narrow escape from defeat. Steve Maisonneuve with three hits and Kevin Schugar and Bob Simone with doubles led the Twins.

Most important game of the week was the VFW Giants' 8-0 conquest of the John Mach Ford Yankees. The usually hard-hitting Yanks managed just five hits in absorbing their first shutout of the season. Jim Marci with a double and two singles and Cliff Griggs with two doubles sparked the Giants.

The Giants completed their most successful week of the season by also beating the Thompson-Brown Realtor Orioles. The score was a lopsided 21-5. Mike Ward's four hits sparked the Giants, while Cliff Griggs had three hits and Kevin Lindley and Jim Marci pounded out triples to share hitting honors. Greg Barrons and Tom Barrows had doubles for the Orioles.

After their loss to the Giants, the Yankees got back on the winning trail by notching a 7-3 victory over the Hyatt Construction Wolverines.

Sharing fourth place in Knothole Hardball are the Wolverines and the Orioles. And although both teams suffered losses last week, they also posted victories to keep their seasons' records at the .500 level.

In a low scoring affair, Dave Biery singled home Darryl Hyatt with the winning run in the last of the seventh to give the Wolverines a 3-2 victory after the Casterline Indians had scored twice in the top of the frame to knot the score.

The Orioles, meanwhile, scored eight times in the last three innings to overcome a 7-1 deficit and beat the Northville Record Dodgers 9-7. Luigi Folino had a single, double, and triple to lead the Orioles, who were out of 15-12.

Fifth place is shared by the Twins and Indians, who, like the Wolverines and Orioles, split their two games last week.

After losing to the first place Mets, the Twins came back to register a 5-2 decision over the Choo-Choo Car Wash Chiefs. Bob Simone and Scott Craig each had doubles and Jeff Norton had two singles to lead the Twins to victory. The Chiefs collected just three hits while suffering the setback. Mark McDonald had two of them and Jeff Lang's home run was the third.

The Indians had an easy time of it, topping the Northville Police Padres 23-0. Tim Doyle had two doubles, a triple, and a single; Mike McLaughlin had a pair of three-baggers; and John Alspaugh had a double and home run, as the three shared hitting honors for the victors. Dave Getzen, Brian Miller, and Paul Hotchkins, each with singles, accounted for the Padres' total of just three hits.

The Padres were also bombarded in their other game last week, losing to the Choo-Choo Car Wash Chiefs 21-0. Dane Cates with four hits and Jack Stabeneau and Steve Dykstra with three apiece topped the Chiefs.

Laphew's Topples T-Birds

John Boland hurled three innings in relief and collected a pair of hits to lead Laphew's Standard to a 6-5 conquest of Thunderbird Inn last Monday. Trailing 4-0 at the end of three innings, Laphew's broke loose for six runs in the fourth and then held on for the victory which evened their season's record at 4-4.

Boland's bases-loaded single brought in the first two Laphew's runs and he was credited with the victory for his three-inning stint on the mound.

Wednesday, Laphew's dropped a 16-10 decision to the A&W team. Jim Dales with two singles, a double, and four rbis sparked Laphew's.

Summerfest Planned For Northville Fair

As a Community Fair "first", the Northville Area Jaycees and Jaycettes are hosting a Bavarian style "Summerfest" complete with Brass Bands, pitcher beer, knockwurst, dancing, sing-along, and all the other things that make this type of festival so much fun.

Located in its own 40 x 100 foot tent just off the midway, the Summerfest will run all three days with continuous music next weekend. Evening music will be provided by Herby Hang and Tony Shuster, two bands well known for their authentic Bavarian music.

Besides light and dark beer by the glass and pitcher, knockwurst, pretzels, and German wines all during the daytime hours, dinner consisting of knockwurst, German potatosalad, sauerkraut, rolls and butter will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. each night. The Summerfest, which runs from 4:00 p.m. to Midnight Friday, 10 a.m. to Midnight Saturday, and 12 Noon to 10 p.m. Sunday, is expected to be one of the biggest attractions to the fair, and is to become an annual event hosted by the Northville Area Jaycees and Jaycettes. There will be no admission charge and the prices will be nominal. The whole family is encouraged to attend. The Jaycees, besides hosting the Summerfest, are also hosting the second "Jaycee 500 Races" for boys and girls.

Win Jr. Champ Meet

Two Northville athletes - one male and one female - won state championships in the Michigan Junior Champ Track and Field Meet held in Lansing Saturday, July 15. Copping first place honors were Guy Cole, who won the two mile run for intermediate-aged boys (15-16 year olds) with a time of 10:30, and Barbara Sorenson, who won the 880 yard run for intermediate-aged girls with a 2:51 clocking. Also winning honors at Lansing were Eve Williams, who finished second in the 440 yard dash and fourth in the 220 yard dash for intermediate-aged girls; Steve Griggs, who finished fourth in the 180 yard low hurdles for senior boys (17-18 years old) with a 22.8 clocking; and 12-year old Barbara Jones, who finished seventh in the 100 yard dash.

Teachers include Mrs. Virginia Kricitz, Mrs. Coral Adas, Miss Patricia Martin, James Honey, Jack Thibault, Mrs. Marjorie Sliger, Mrs. Joanne Colligan in the learning disabilities center and librarian Mrs. Marian Hines.

Working closely with staff members in planning the curriculum and setting up teacher workshops has been Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum director.

"We've been involved in workshops for the past three weeks," she commented, "which are designed to meet the needs of children not achieving up to their potential because of learning disabilities, developing materials to use in the classroom, working on new approaches to teaching and establishing objectives for each learning area."

Miss Panattoni said she believes "as a result of the workshops, we are going to be moving closer to individualized instruction than we've ever experienced in the district."

"This will be activity oriented learning," she stressed, "with some paper work, but the students won't just be going from one workbook to the next."

Working directly with the staff on a part-time basis will be Dr. Barbara Borusch from Eastern Michigan University's education department. Miss Panattoni said the teachers involved in the year round program "have been absolutely top notch. None of them are working by the clock and all have made efforts beyond the call of duty."

"Learning materials they've made are equal to and better than those that have been purchased commercially," she said. The learning disabilities center has completed interviews with more than 20 students and has come up with materials to be used with the individual in areas of reading and math.

"Records, tapes, books and other materials have been designed to aid those students who haven't been achieving up to their potential," Miss Panattoni stated.

"We've found that many of the students have just been held back in the classroom and need to be able to work at their own speed," she commented.

Earlier this week, staff members, the citizens steering committee and Miss Panattoni toured Valley View School District in Illinois to see how that year round school program operates.

"I'm really looking forward to our program," the curriculum director said. "Educationally, it's exciting."

Gravel Pit Claims Life

A Garden City youth drowned early Saturday morning while swimming in the gravel pit off Griswold Street in Northville township.

Michigan State Police recovered the body of Stephen Van Steeds, 19, shortly before 5:30 a.m. He had been swimming with friends, police said, dove off the bank into 15 feet of water and did not return to the surface.

State police began the search for the youth at 1:45 a.m.

The area where he drowned is part of the Highland Lakes development and is private property.

State police have routinely been clearing swimmers from the gravel pit area on weekends during the past several years.

Nirider Leads Hillsdale Nine

Stan Nirider, a 1969 graduate of Northville High School, has been named co-captain of the 1973 Hillsdale College baseball team.

The announcement was made last week by charger Coach Warren Spragg. The other co-captain is Don Folmar of Grassflat, Pennsylvania.

Nirider, a 6', 185 pound senior, batted .355 last season and was chosen Senior All-District-All-State NAIA centerfielder. He is a business major.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Essie Nirider of 985 Grace Street

Fred Holdsworth May Hurl Today

By PHILLIP JEROME

It was right there in black and white on page 13 of the April 22, 1971, edition of the Northville Record-Novi News.

"Would you believe," the article asked, "a starting rotation of Lolich, Coleman, Niekro, Chance, and Holdsworth?"

"Although the thought has probably never crossed the mind of Billy Martin," the article continued, "if Fred Holdsworth continues his current impressive trek through the minors, such a starting fivesome might not be such an improbable thought in the not too distant future."

The prediction of a starting rotation with Fred Holdsworth in it causes some pride—"remember folks, you read it here first"—in all honesty, it must be admitted that there are several flaws in the articles' prophetic quality.

Joe Niekro and Dean Chance are no longer around, for one thing; and for another, not only has the idea of starting Fred Holdsworth crossed the mind of Billy Martin, the Tiger mentor has actually named the 20-year old Northville High School graduate as the starting pitcher in the second game of this afternoon's (Thursday) double header with Milwaukee.

For Fred Holdsworth the rise to the major leagues has been a rapid one.

Just two years ago he was leading the Northville High School baseball team to just about every baseball title in sight. Soon after graduating (he was class valedictorian), Holdsworth was picked by the Detroit Tigers on the 20th round of the free player draft.

Holdsworth signed for a small bonus shortly later and was assigned to Detroit's Bristol, Virginia, team in the Class A Appalachian League. He promptly began performing like the best 20th round draft choice the Tigers have ever made and hasn't let up since.

In his first year of pro ball, the Northville alumnus led the Appalachian League with an ERA of 1.31 and was named to the League's All-Star team. His success continued through the 1971 season, as he pitched for Detroit farm teams in Lakeland, Florida; Rocky Mount, North Carolina; and Montgomery, Alabama.

Attending the Tiger's Winter Instructional League, Holdsworth impressed the coaches to the extent he was named Outstanding Young Pitcher in the Tiger system and was invited to workout with the major league club during spring training. He immediately caught the eye of not only Billy Martin and the Detroit coaching staff, but also of the media.

J.P. McCarthy and Detroit's metropolitan newspapers did feature interviews with the "spring sensation" and he was also cited in Sport's Illustrated's spring baseball edition.

The Tigers finally decided to give him some additional training in the minor leagues and shipped him off to Toledo, where, in his first performance on the mound, his cheek bone was fractured in four places by a one-hop line shot back through the box.

An operation and several weeks of inactivity followed, but then Holdsworth returned to action.

Two weeks ago Saturday, when he showed up for Toledo's night game, his teammates told him the sad news. "You've been shipped back to Montgomery in the Double-A League," they told him. The opposite, of course, was true. The Tigers had summoned him up to the major leagues.

Wednesday morning, one day before leaving with the Tigers for a four-game series with the Texas Rangers, Fred Holdsworth was asked his impressions of minor league baseball, Billy Martin, the Tigers' pennant chances, and his own aspirations for the future.

Q. When the Tigers finally decided to call you up to Detroit, how were you notified?

A. We were scheduled for a night game in Toledo that Saturday and I had just driven down to the park from Northville. Johnny Lipon, he's the manager at Toledo, called me into his office. I was scheduled to pitch Sunday and I thought he just wanted to tell me to throw a couple of innings in the bullpen.

Young Holdsworth Faces Milwaukee Today

Senior Fred Holdsworth Recalls Past

Dad Watches, Remembers

When Fred Holdsworth makes his major league debut on the mound in the second game of today's (Thursday) doubleheader in Milwaukee, another Fred Holdsworth, young Fred's father, will be watching from the stands. Today the senior Holdsworth is principal at Northville High School, but at one time he held ambitions for a

OUR FIRST CONCERN IS TO PUT A ROOF OVER YOUR HEAD.

A roof for shelter, sure.
But also for money value.
The kind of money value you automatically have, once you own a home.

That's what First Federal Savings is responsible for, more than any other money service—helping people own their own homes.

First Federal does that, so people will build 'equity'—money value—in the roof over their heads. In the house around them. In the property surrounding the house.

First Federal will help you save money for a home in the future. Or lend you money for a home right now.

We're specialists—in Savings, in Home Financing. Let us put you under a roof. You'll find it safe and sound there. Physically and financially. We're the homemakers.

Fred Holdsworth Hurls Today

during the game, but he told me the Tigers wanted me to report Sunday. It caught me completely by surprise. Our game that night was rained out so I packed up my stuff and went home.

Q. Had the Tigers given you any prior indication that they were ready to bring you up?

A. In spring training when they sent me down, Billy Martin told me there was a good chance I might be called up before the first month of the season was over, but that was before I broke my cheek bone. On top of that they called up Bill Slayback and he's been doing extremely well and all the starting pitchers have been doing well. When you combine all those factors, I didn't really think they'd call me up this year.

Q. Your record at Toledo (a 5-4 won-lost record and an earned run average of 4.24) was considerably short of impressive and yet the Tigers decided to call you up anyway. What's the story behind the statistics?

A. I was pitching rather erratically for awhile. I'd have one good game and then just a so-so game. I was struggling, trying to find my rhythm. I think the injury to my cheek bone was an important factor. Mainly, it was just a matter of getting back into shape following the injury I had been doing a lot better lately, though, and that's probably what the Tigers were looking at.

Q. Speaking of your injury, how is it?

A. It required two operations to fix it. The cheek bone was broken in four places. They fixed two of them by going in through the side of my head and then went up through my mouth to get to the other two. The doctor said it would take about a year to completely heal, but it hasn't given me any real pain since about a week after the operation. For awhile, though, it was extremely sore.

Q. Now that you've been a major leaguer for all of two games, what do you see as the primary differences between minor league and big league ball?

A. It's a whole different world in the majors. The atmosphere is different. The playing conditions are a lot different. Then there are the giant major league crowds. One of the biggest differences is the quality of major league fielding. When you're pitching in the majors the quality of the fielding behind you improves drastically from Triple-A ball.

Q. In what way do you feel the atmosphere is different?

A. Everybody in the majors is so much more relaxed. They've arrived at the top and really have it made. In the minors it's strictly dog-eat-dog. In the minors there is much more individual competition. Everyone is trying to outdo everyone else so he can make the big time. Everyone in the minors is very statistic-conscious because they know that's what they'll be judged on. In the majors the emphasis is on winning baseball games. You don't really get that emphasis in the minors.

Q. The Tigers have been portrayed as a "Country club" team. Again, calling on your two-days worth of experience, do you feel that label is justified?

A. I don't see how the Tigers can become a "country club" team with Billy Martin as the manager. He's terribly competitive. He would never let the Tigers become a "country club" team.

Q. We hear lots of reports that Billy Martin is an extremely tough manager. Is he really as tough as everyone says he is?

A. He sure is and I'll give you an example. In our game with Chicago last night, Eddie Brinkman hit an easy infield grounder and wasn't really hustling down the baseline. The throw was off target and got away from Dick Allen. He retrieved it and the race was on between Allen and Brinkman for the bag. Brinkman got there first, but everyone in the bullpen said he'd have been in trouble if Allen had won. Everyone knows if they make a mistake, they'll have to answer to Martin for it.

Q. The same day he called you up, Martin announced you'll be pitching in Milwaukee on July 27, almost two weeks away. Why the long wait? Was it to give you an opportunity to make special preparations for the game?

A. Not really. That's just the way his pitching plan worked out. When we get to Milwaukee they'll go over the hitters with me before the game, but there'll be no special preparations until then. The main problem for me will be trying to stay in shape and stay sharp because I won't be pitching in nearly two weeks. I'll do my running every day and I'll do a lot of throwing in the bullpen with a catcher.

Q. Did you have a pitching coach at Toledo?

A. Yes, and both the manager, Johnny Ligon, and the pitching coach, Cot Deal, were very good. Cot Deal helped me, and all the young pitchers, a great deal. He's almost too good to be in the minor leagues. He helped me develop all my pitches, but the main thing he helped me with was the psychology of pitching. He helps you with your temperament on the mound. To my own way of thinking, pitching is about 70 percent mental. Deal got me to be throwing my best stuff on every pitch and he also taught me a change up.

Q. I've read that pitching in the major leagues is a little like a guessing game between the pitcher and hitter; that if the batter can guess what the pitcher is going to throw he has a good chance of hitting it, but if the pitcher outguesses the batter, the batter has little chance of hitting the ball. Is that accurate?

A. Pretty much. In the minors the batters will swing at whatever you throw up there, but in the majors that batters will gear for one certain pitch. If they don't get it, they'll just let the ball go by. When you get behind a batter 2-0, he expects you to try to get a fastball over for a strike, but if you can get a change up across it really messes up his thinking.

It's one of the reasons Lolich is so good. He'll get an 0-2 count on the hitter and the batter expects Lolich to try to catch a corner with a curve ball or make him go fishing on a bad pitch. But Mickey will come right down the middle with a fast ball and the batter will just look at it.

Your home run hitters in particular are the ones who set themselves for just one particular pitch. The only ones who'll try to hit whatever comes up there are the punch and Judy hitters.

Q. Would you care to comment on Joe Niekro's perfect game in his first start at Toledo?

A. People have kind of paired me off with Niekro because I took his place on the roster and I don't think that's at all accurate. I can't see the philosophy of bringing me up for just two weeks if Billy Martin brings Niekro back. I don't think that I'll be the one who goes back down.

Q. In the "Paper Lion" book by George Plimpton, it tells how the veterans eye the strong, young rookies who are out to take their jobs. Certainly, this must exist on the Tigers among the older border-line pitchers. Can you feel this in any way? Does it make for uncomfortable situations when you're all sitting in the bullpen together?

A. It's hard to see directly, but you can sort of sense it in a way. You try not to think about what they're thinking about you. It could make you paranoid. There are a lot of good young prospects on the Tigers and a lot more good prospects down on the farm in Toledo. I'm sure that those who aren't too sure of their jobs know they have to produce.

Q. With Lolich, Coleman, Timmerman, and now Slayback all pitching extremely well, what do you think of your chances to break into the starting rotation? Do you think Martin would consider a five-man rotation?

A. There's no way they'll go to a five-man rotation just to fit me in. Lolich and Coleman are used to pitching every four days and that's how they're most effective. Naturally, I would like to get a starter's job, but not right now. Everyone is going too good, and they probably wouldn't want to shake things up.

Q. What role do you see for yourself this year?

A. I think I can fit in as a fifth starter, working a lot of double headers. That and I'll probably work as a long reliever.

Q. Have you set any goals for the 1972 season?

A. My number one goal is just to stay in the majors with Detroit. I'm not really the type of person who sets definite goals. I'll try to do as well as I can whenever I get in there.

Q. The Tigers have an outstanding chance to win the American League pennant this season. Do you hear much talk about the pennant in the locker room?

A. Not really. Everybody watches the scoreboard to see how Baltimore is doing, but nobody has really come right out and mentioned anything about winning the pennant yet.

Q. Can you picture yourself with a world series check? And if you should get one how will you spend it? Will you buy a Corvette, a Jaguar, or a Pantera?

A. No, I can't really picture myself getting a world series check, but I sure wouldn't turn one down. I'd probably buy a few little things, but I'd put most of it in the bank. As for a car, I've still got my Vega and I'd probably wear that out before I thought about getting anything else.

Q. If you win 25 games next year, lead the league in ERA, and win the Cy Young Award, will you hold out for $100,000?

A. No way. Remember folks, you read it here first.

State Features Religious Sites

From the depths of Little Traverse Bay at Petoskey to a bluff overlooking Burt Lake at Indian River, Michigan has a wide variety of religious attractions for travelers of all faiths.

Perhaps the most unique is the Skin Diver's Shrine at the bottom of Little Traverse Bay. The life-size figure of Christ, weighing nearly a ton, is made of white Italian marble and black walnut. Standing beneath 60 feet of water about 300 yards north of the Petoskey breakwater, it was lowered into position in August, 1962.

Intended as a shrine to all skin divers, it is believed the only one of its kind in the U.S., and is visited regularly by skin diving clubs.

The world's largest crucifix, a massive bronze figure of Christ nailed to a 77-foot redwood cross, dominates the inspiring setting in the woods at Indian River. The crucifix, on a bluff representing Calvary Hill, honors an Indian girl whose saintly life some three centuries ago won the admiration of Christian missionaries. The shrine is adjacent to Burt Lake State Park.

The Shrine of the Missionaries in Sault Ste. Marie, opened in 1970, is a tribute to the early missionary-explorers. Reached by elevators are three observation levels, at 152, 160 and 174 feet. The tower offers excellent panoramic views of Sault Ste. Marie, the famous Soo Locks and adjoining Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Religious displays are found throughout the spacious tower. An underground tour, "The Mission of Man," begins at the base of the tower and is a visual and aural presentation of man's mission in life. The Fisherman's Shrine, on the south branch of the Au Sable River in southeastern Crawford County, is a remote sanctuary where sportsmen contemplate their relationship with God and nature.

Known also as the Mason Chapel, in honor of the late George W. Mason, Michigan philanthropist sportsman and automotive pioneer who deeded a large tract of Au Sable riverfront property to the state, the Fisherman's Shrine is accessible only by boat or canoe on the famed trout fishing waters.

Quiet, impressive Chapel in the Pines is in Hartwick Pines State Park, five miles northeast of Grayling in one of the last remaining stands of virgin white pine in the state.

South of Ludington on Lake Shore Drive is the Father Marquette Memorial, a huge lighted cross. It marks the place where the famed missionary and explorer died in 1675 while returning to St. Ignace.

At St. Ignace, where he founded a mission 1671, is an impressive memorial to Father Marquette in Marquette Park, dedicated in 1937. The Mission Church, 132 years old, is now a museum. On one side is the grave of Father Marquette while on the other is a memorial consisting of statue, pyramid-shaped monument and cross. The monument is of Drummond Island dolomite and the cross of California redwood. The white granite statue was carved in Italy.

The Shrine of the Snowshoe Priest, erected this summer after a delay, is a memorial to Bishop Frederick Baraga, first bishop of Upper Michigan. It rises six stories above the Red Rock Bluffs, overlooking Lake Superior's Keweenaw Bay at L'Anse, near the site of Baraga's last major mission. The brass statue of Baraga holding a cross and snowshoes is 35 feet tall. It is supported by five huge wooden beams, representing the priest's five major missions.

Also in the Upper Peninsula, at the Church of the Precious Blood in Stephenson is a replica of the Lourdes Grotto, an attraction popular with tourists. Our Lady of the Woods Shrine in downtown Mio is an open air memorial to Christian endeavor. Sunday services are held here in the summer.

Across the state at Boyne Falls is Our Lady of the Snows Shrine atop Boyne Mountain. Dedicated in 1955, skiers pause there as a safety and good luck gesture. The simple shrine consists of a small statue protected by a wooden covering no larger than a birdhouse.

A large wooden cross along US-131 north of Reed City identifies the home of the Rev. George Barnard, a Methodist, composer of "The Old Rugged Cross." A three-ton, 11-foot granite cross stands in his memory at Pokagon in Cass County where the gospel hymn is believed to have been sung for the first time during a revival service.

It was in 1945 that the Boston Red Sox made their bid to sign the elder Holdsworth.

"I had just finished four years in the Marine Corps," he recalls. "They sent me a contract to pitch for Greenville in the old South Carolina League."

"I probably should have taken it," he adds with a grin.

"I played ball in the service down in South Carolina and those rich tobacco farmers used to treat the young ballplayers pretty good."

"But I was 22 years old then and that's pretty late to start thinking about a professional baseball career."

Instead Fred Holdsworth enrolled at Wayne State University and breezed through in three years, taking time along the way to star as a pitcher and outfielder on the Wayne State baseball team.

Does he take a vicarious interest in his son's career? "I'm sure I do," he answers. "Fred has been able to accomplish a few things I might have liked to have accomplished when I was younger and I think it's only natural to share in his successes to some degree."

"I find I'm proud and happy for him every time he takes a step forward and at the same time I feel a little proud of myself."

The influences the senior Holdsworth has had on the pitching career of his son are abundant.

First, there was the decision to sign with the Tigers right after high school, temporarily delaying a college education even though there were numerous scholarship offers for a young man who cannot only throw a baseball, but is also class valedictorian.

"If you're going to try to make it in pro ball," says Fred senior, "you've got to start right out of high school. By the time you go through four years of college and four or five more years of apprenticeship in the minor leagues, you're 27 or 28 by the time you hit the majors. By starting right after high school, you're ready for the majors at 22 or 23. I'm sure that Fred's age is one of the reasons the Tigers are so interested in him. They know if they develop him properly he'll be around to help them a lot longer than someone four years older."

The similarities between father and son extend right down to the physical aspects of the art.

"Yes, there's a great deal of similarity between the way Fred pitches and the way I pitched," the senior Holdsworth admits. "I was never overpoweringly fast and I had to rely on control. I think the one thing I've instilled in Fred is that we both know that to get batters out you've got to be able to put the ball where you want it."

"He has much more talent than I ever had, though. Of that I'll assure you. But we both believe in control."

Nevertheless, Fred Holdsworth, Senior, takes remarkably little credit for his son's success. "I haven't done anything that any other father doesn't do with his son," he insists. "When he was younger, we used to play a lot of catch together in the back yard and I've stressed control with him along the way, but by and large everything he's learned he's picked up from people along the way."

"It's always a thrill to see someone you know make the big leagues. I coached Dick Radatz, the former Boston pitcher, when I was at Berkely High School and certainly got a great deal of enjoyment out of seeing him make it. But when it's your own son - that's really something special."

Transpo 72

GM Tours Slated

General Motors exhibits which appeared recently at Transpo 72 near Washington, D.C., will highlight the summer tour program at the GM Technical Center.

The Transpo exhibits will remain at the Technical Center in suburban Warren, some 15 miles northeast of downtown Detroit, through August 20.

Housed in a large red and white striped tent just inside the Tech Center main gate on Mound Road, the display includes two experimental urban cars—the 512 gasoline model intended for short trips in central city areas and the XP-883, a special commuter vehicle designed to accommodate a hybrid gasoline-electric power-plant with front wheel drive.

Also on display is an experimental "Personal Rapid Transit" vehicle developed by GM's Design Staff. The "PRT" employs a modular construction concept which could find a number of different applications in future urban transportation systems.

GM's Fisher Body Division is displaying a passenger car equipped with an experimental air bag system that demonstrates how this type of "passive restraint" system looks and works.

Visitors also will be able to tour the Technical Center site in air-conditioned vans. Stops will be made at Design, Engineering, Manufacturing Development, and Research Laboratories Staff lobbies where additional exhibits show the nature of work being conducted at each facility.

The one-hour tours begin every half hour at the Technical Center's visitor reception center on Mound Road, just north of Twelve Mile Road.

Individuals and groups are invited to visit the Center free of charge from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesdays through Saturdays, from 12 noon to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Out of Horse's Mouth

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of The South Lyon Herald, 101 North Lafayette, South Lyon, MI 48178.

LET'S TALK SAFETY

1. Never approach a horse directly from the rear. Even in single stalls it is possible to approach from an oblique angle at the rear.

2. Always speak to the horse before approaching or touching him. Most horses are likely to jump and may kick when startled.

3. If the horse hangs back on the end of the rope, step up to the horse to reassure him, and then lead him.

4. Walk on the left side of the horse when leading, not ahead of or behind him. Always turn the horse to the right and walk around him.

5. The horse is stronger than you are; therefore, do not try to out-pull him. He will usually respond to a quick snap on the lead strap or rope.

6. NEVER WRAP LEAD STRAPS, HALTER SHANKS OR REINS AROUND YOUR HAND, WRIST OR BODY.

7. Bridle reins, stirrup leathers and cinch straps should be kept in the best possible condition. Your safety is dependent on these straps. Replace any strap when it begins to show signs of wear. All tack should fit the horse or pony.

8. Never mount a horse in a barn or near fences, trees or over-hanging projections. Sidestepping mounts have injured riders who failed to take these precautions.

9. Adjust saddle carefully and tightly cinch it so it will not turn when mounting. Soon after starting to ride, dismount and again tighten the saddle girth. Horses often swell up when first saddled and failure to tighten girths later can result in serious accidents.

10. When a horse is frightened and attempts to run, turn him in a circle until he stops.

11. Do not ride too close to the horse in front of you because of the danger of kicking. Stay abreast of or a full length behind other mounts.

12. Train your horse to stand perfectly still while mounting and dismounting. Do not allow him to whirl or even turn away from you while mounting and dismounting.

13. The horses with the correct length of rope. Don't take a horse out. Rope burns are very hard to heal.

14. Pet a horse by first placing your hand on his neck or shoulder. Don't dab at the end of his nose.

15. Tie your horse far enough away from strange horses so they cannot fight.

16. When leading into a box stall, turn the horse so that he faces the door before releasing the lead strap.

17. When saddling swing the saddle into position easily—so that it does not scare the horse.

18. Never tie your horse by the bridle reins. Carry a stout tie rope and halter.

19. Walk the horse to and from the stable. This keeps him from running home and refusing to leave the stable.

20. Don't try to show a green horse. Train the horse at home and not in the show ring.

21. Do not punish your horse except at the instant of his disobedience. If you wait even a minute, he will not understand why you are punishing him. Punish without anger.

Happy Riding—

Here's the Answer

LANSING—A stack of unfinished business will greet Michigan legislators when they return to the Capitol the first week in September.

The lawmakers have already done quite a bit this year, with the enactment of a series of environmental measures, establishing a presidential primary, submitting a Vietnam veterans bonus to voters and establishing a state lottery.

BUT SEVERAL highly significant measures still are waiting for final action. Heading the list are bills to establish a no fault auto insurance system and putting into motion an accelerated transportation construction system for Michigan. Both bills have cleared one house of the legislature and both have been fought tooth and nail by lobbyists for different special interest groups.

THE NO FAULT insurance bill passed by the Senate May 8 and has been in a House committee ever since.

Backers of the bill promise to move it out of committee onto the floor when they return. It is being opposed vigorously by the state's trial lawyers, who stand to lose millions of dollars in fees if it is enacted.

The bill would require a policyholder's insurance company to pay his claims within 30 days of filing or pay a 12 per cent penalty fee. The payment would be made regardless of who was at fault in the accident.

Every driver in Michigan would be required to have insurance on his or her car, something that is not now the case.

THE BILL has strong backing from both Republican Gov. William G. Milliken and Democratic Secretary of State Richard Austin. In the Senate it was sponsored by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford.

Lodge said courts today are jammed with suits coming out of auto accidents. One result, he said, is that persons who really need money to quickly pay hospital bills or household bills because of lost income must wait "years and years and years before they get anything. And then the lawyer gets a big chunk of the money."

Lodge is a lawyer and he said his own law firm will suffer if the bill is enacted.

But I don't care," he said. "I think the public's interest comes first."

THE TRANSPORTATION package has been having even tougher sledding, even though it has managed to squeeze through the House and is now in the Senate Highways Committee, which is chaired by Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson.

It is opposed by various highway interests such as highway builders and oil companies, who stand to lose money if any gasoline taxes aren't used to build more roads.

The package has hung up because it would take one quarter of the two cent increase in gasoline taxes proposed in it to be used for mass transit planning in urban areas. The other 1.5 cents per gallon would be used for highways.

The plan passed the House Feb. 24 but has never been considered by Fleming's committee. He finally scheduled three public hearings at out of the way places for this summer, but makes no secret of the fact he doesn't like the bill.

FLEMING'S intransigence promoted Milliken, for the first time in his career as governor, to issue a strong denunciation of an individual person—Fleming.

Milliken said Fleming "failed to keep his commitment to me" that a schedule for the committee to consider the package would be given the governor in April. The result, he said, was that a "single-minded senator has obstructed the legislative process and is blocking free and open debate by elected legislators."

Fleming responded that Milliken was acting like "a spoiled brat" and a "dictator."

WHILE THE name calling probably didn't have much effect on success or failure for the bill, other moves have been made by the executive office to shore up support for it prior to a showdown in September if one is required. The governor helped secure support for several legislative measures in June which were pet projects of lawmakers whom he needs if the transportation package is to pass the upper chamber.

Thus, the Senate can be expected to take up the transportation package in September, whether Fleming wants it or not. His only decision may be whether to go along in some sort of face saving manner or to continue his opposition and risk the embarrassment of a public defeat.

Babson Report

'Leisure' Spending Booms

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Outlays for leisure activities have been expanding swiftly during recent years. Estimates place such spending at $105 billion for 1972 as compared with only $58 billion in 1965.

In addition to the fact that Americans are energetic in their play as well as in their work, there are a number of factors responsible for the burgeoning of the leisure market in all parts of the country.

Personal income, for example, has advanced almost 50 percent in the past five years. This has occurred at the same time the work-week was shrinking for an increasingly large segment of the populace. More than 40 million workers are now entitled to vacations of three weeks.

Increased spending on leisure activities has also been fostered by long weekends, more holidays, and the trend toward a four-day workweek. Another development is the improvement in pension plans and social security benefits, enabling more employees to retire at an earlier age.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES favored by the U.S. population aged nine and up are reported by the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. Figures reveal that the greatest share of our people enjoy picnicking (49 percent) and swimming (46 percent). On down the list in terms of general popularity are participation in outdoor sports (36 percent), attending sports events (35 percent), fishing (29 percent), boating (24 percent), bicycling (22 percent), and camping (21 percent). Also gaining favor are nature walks, hunting, horseback riding, wildlife photography, and bird watching.

Over recent years there has been a definite trend toward "back to nature" types of recreation. One reflection of this is the enormous increase in the number of people visiting our national parks. The National Park Service this year anticipates a record-shattering 212 million visitors. Further evidence of mounting interest in the outdoors is the boom in production and sales of camping vehicles of all sorts.

At the present time it is estimated that there are four million camping vehicles in this country, ranging all the way from $300 tent

The city, located at the intersection of 10 Mile Road and Pontiac Trail, has gone all out to provide parachute jumpers, ox and barbecue roasts, a dunk tank, a popcorn machine, a sculptor, a new recreational vehicle made right in town, contests including watermelon eating, dog show and hot pants judging as well as a battle of the bands and innumerable bargains from participating stores.

South Lyon's Area Chamber of Commerce is behind the annual two-day promotion. Chairmen this year are Mrs. Mae Hoots of E. R.'s Saddlery, Mrs. Kay Bonner of The Shoe Hut and Mrs. Katie Slaughter of Slaughter's Variety. Annually the city welcomes bargain hunters and other interested folks from surrounding cities, towns, villages and areas for the spectacle.

In addition to the participating merchants, nearly all of the South Lyon area's numerous clubs and organizations man booths to disseminate information, provide prize drawings and entertain the visiting public.

—Congressional—

Broomfield . .

There is an old story about the man who went into a small grocery store and was surprised to see one entire wall covered with bags of salt. "You must sell a great deal of salt," he said to the owner.

The owner just shook his head and said, "I sell very little salt but, that salt salesman, he sure sells a lot!"

In much the same way, when Congress passed the Occupational Health and Safety Act of 1970, it bought a lot more than it ever bargained for, according to Congressman William Broomfield.

In general, it is a good law, he insists. By setting federal standards for the construction industry, the measure has improved working conditions and no doubt reduced the number of industrial accidents.

"Trouble is the bill makes no distinction between light and heavy construction in the application of the law. Many of the rules which are reasonable for large scale construction make little or no sense when they are forced upon small businessmen engaged in light construction."

"That's why I have introduced a bill to direct the Secretary of Labor to recognize the inherent differences between these two extremely different types of employment. It is simply unfair to apply the same high standard to the light residential construction industry."

Among "inequities" in the present law, as outlined by Broomfield, are:

One regulation requires that there be a fire extinguisher on each and every floor of a housing development. "Sounds fine for a large skyscraper where a man could be trapped in one of the upper stories. However, it makes less sense in the construction of a two story house."

"In theory a residential builder would have to purchase an extinguisher for every single floor of each house in his development. Clearly, this is not necessary and in addition it is a needless expense."

Another rule says all window openings must be barred until the glass is inserted.

"Once again, that is okay for multi-story buildings but, who ever heard of anyone falling out of a first floor window."

"Finally, and this is the straw that broke the camel's back, you can be fined for breaking these laws even if you were unaware of them. One man wrote for an inspector so he could be told just what he had to do to comply with the law."

"The reply from the Department of Labor was short and to the point. An inspector would gladly visit his company but he would have to levy a fine for each violation while he was pointing them out to the owner."

"That is what I call adding insult to injury—something my measure if enacted will eliminate."

A bill now under consideration in Congress threatens to wipe Michigan's strict meat content laws off the books.

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Birmingham) said the legislation would increase federal funding to the States for their meat inspection programs to 80 percent of the total cost. The catch is that a State would receive no aid at all if it had different standards than the federal government.

Said Broomfield, "Michigan has fought long and hard to develop the strongest and best meat quality standards in the nation."

"The federal guidelines are minimal at best. They were written for those States that had no laws to protect their consumers," Broomfield said.

McDonald . . .

Nineteenth District Congressman Jack McDonald (R-Waterford) has urged the United Nations Security Council to convene and pursue all possible avenues to impose penalties on all nations which grant refuge to airplane skyjackers.

In a letter to UN Ambassador George Bush, McDonald urged the immediate establishment of a United Nations Commission to enforce economic sanctions and any other measures against nations which give refuge to what he termed "20th century pirates."

"It is indeed regrettable that we have reached a point where an international group of airline pilots feel it necessary to call a strike in order to focus public attention on the skyjacking problem," McDonald said.

"The time for rhetoric is past," he said, "and only action will satisfy the justifiable anger and fear which plague citizens who use the air corridors of the world for travel."

"It is imperative," McDonald said, "that the 20th century pirates should be given no corner of the world in which to hide. It is our responsibility as the nation with the greatest number of commercial airliners in the sky today to take the initiative by making it known that there can be no compromise on this issue."

McDonald said several other members of Congress supported the special meeting of the Security Council in a letter that was mailed July 20.

Esch . . .

Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor) announced the approval of a Green Thumb Program for the state of Michigan by the U.S. Department of Labor. "The new Green Thumb Program," said Esch, "will provide employment for 42 elderly, low-income, rural people in the counties of Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw."

The Green Thumb Program, which started this month is sponsored by the National Farmers Union and funded by the U.S. Department of Labor. It is now operating in 24 states and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, providing job opportunities for over 3,500 elderly, low-income, rural people 55 years and above.

The average age of the Green Thumb enrollees is 70 and range in age from a minimum of 55 to 96 and have an average income of $900 a year per couple prior to employment by Green Thumb. The enrollees work an average of three days a week and may earn up to $1600 per year.

"Green Thumb enrollees," said Esch, "will be employed on beautification, conservation and ecological projects resulting in development of new parks, construction of new campgrounds and hiking trails, improvement of public facilities or areas, restoration of historical sites and many other community betterment projects."

Esch said that persons interested in employment on the program should contact their local employment service office or the State Green Thumb Program Director, Mary Pratt in the Green Thumb field office located at Municipal Airport Building, 4300 South State Road, Ann Arbor.

Brown . . .

William H. Brown told a group of Monroe County residents Thursday night that workers need the protection of federal insurance of pension funds as much as depositors need federal insurance of savings accounts.

"Business failures, plant closings and similar economic shutdowns cost the employee not only his job but also his sometimes substantial pension rights," Brown told members of the U.A.W. Community Action Program.

Brown, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 2nd District, said any company can declare bankruptcy and refuse to honor the pension rights their workers have earned.

Brown said he strongly advocated pension reinsurance, describing it as a national plan to back up pension promises, to assure American workers they will receive pension benefits they have earned, in the event of business failures.

would have to include in its consideration for closing for economics, the cost of retraining workers, and, if relocating, the cost of moving employees wishing to work at the new location and continuing wages during the transition period.

Shapiro . . .

"There is no point to having an army of more than two million men, unless we are planning to refight World War II," Walter Shapiro told a gathering in Ypsilanti.

"Amounting to 56 percent of the entire defense budget, manpower costs are its largest and most rapidly growing component," the Democratic congressional candidate continued. "Not only must we reject the policy of unilateral military intervention, but we must also realize that the nuclear age has made standing armies ineffective as a deterrent to war."

Talking to a group of Democrats, Shapiro suggested 750,000 as a maximum size for our standing army. He pledged to vote against all military appropriations until a "realistic level of spending is reached. Responding to questions, the former Nader's Raider said he believed $35-$40 billion was a "realistic figure."

"Not only must we withdraw our troops from Southeast Asia, we must bring them home from Europe as well," Shapiro said. "Our overseas military commitments have not only gravely aggravated our balance of payments problems, but are almost totally unnecessary for the security of Europe."

To reach a defense budget of $40 billion, Shapiro also called for significant cuts in weapons spending. For example, real-and-practical savings can be achieved by abandoning our redundant triad nuclear defense system (bombers, land-based missiles and nuclear submarines) and placing our entire reliance on the Polaris and Triton submarines," he said.

"Further savings could be made by giving up our misguided dedication to propping up the aerospace industry with one subsidy after another. The history of the C-5A transport plane is a classic illustration of the waste of government procurement policies," Shapiro added.

"World War II must cease to dominate our military thinking," Shapiro concluded. "We must recognize that America has no justifiable military role abroad, and that a limited nuclear deterrent is enough to keep the peace at home."

Stempien . . .

The Environmental Action Council, located in Grand Rapids, this month recognized House Majority Leader Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia, Northville) as one of the leading environmentalists of the Michigan Legislature.

In its July legislative news release, the Council cited Representative Stempien "for a fine overall voting record" on votes for the environment. He has strongly supported and in many instances directly sponsored bills to provide for effective control over pollution and to preserve the environment.

Because of his persistent activities in the areas of natural resources and ecology, he was nominated in 1971 to receive the "Legislative Conservationist of the Year" award of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Stempien sponsored a tough billboard control proposal in 1971 in an effort to rid the state's highways, and the motorists who use them, of "visual pollution." He was co-author of the important "Environmental Control Act" of 1970 and the pace-setting "Truth-in-Water-Pollution Act" of the same year. He was an active supporter this year of a companion "Truth-in-Air-Pollution" bill which presently awaits the Governor's signature.

Stempien also sponsored and secured passage of legislation which, for the first time, requires that wild game meat processing be inspected by health officials and played a major role in the establishment of the first urban-suburban state park, the Maybury State Recreation Area in Northville.

In addition, in his role as House Majority Leader, Stempien worked for the successful passage this year of a bill which will make it possible for the state to set aside and preserve several hundred thousand acres of its remaining wilderness, wild and natural lands for future generations.

Stempien also worked for the enactment of a strong inland lakes and streams control act, legislation to control noise pollution, control and safety legislation for snowmobiles and other off-road vehicles, and a proposal to repeal the bounty on Michigan's remaining coyotes.

"Kids learn in school, not on buses."

Your Congressman, Jack McDonald, has worked for a long time against forced bussing. He believes that no public school student should—because of race, color or creed—be forced to attend a particular school. He strongly supports the constitutional amendment to permanently end forced bussing.

He was strong enough to stand up and fight in the beginning and take the heat in Congress. He is known nationally for speaking out and working long and hard to defeat forced bussing.

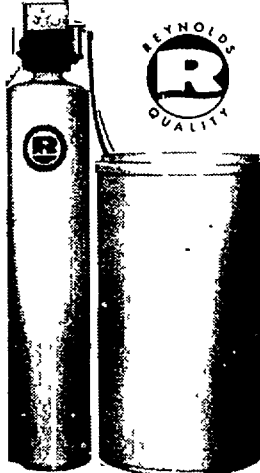

Forced bussing is not the solution to a desire for equal education. Let's do something about it! If you want to permanently defeat forced bussing

from the Pastor's Study

When this article is printed, we will be on the return leg of a cross-country journey home Northville to the Pacific. Staying in several National Parks, viewing the scenic areas of our great Nation, visiting with old friends, all add up to a wondrous experience.

This is the Centennial year for our National Parks system and I can't say enough for this plan of preservation of the beauties of God's miraculous creativity. Our country pioneered in this type of national planning as we set aside for public use and natural wildlife restoration vast areas in Parks, Monuments, and Reservations.

There is increasing pressure to do even more for restoration of proper balances in nature of both flora and fauna. Yellowstone National Park was first established by act of Congress in 1872, "dedicated and set apart as a public park or pleasuring-ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people." The law also provided that park regulations should "provide for the preservation from injury or spoilage of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities, or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural condition."

Administered very efficiently by the National Park Service, Dept. of the Interior, this program is a fitting testimonial to our conscience regarding God's creation

Rev. Lloyd Brasure, Pastor,
First Presbyterian Church
Northville

From that beginning in 1872 has grown a system of over thirty Parks, as well as Monuments and Recreational areas. "The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament declares His handiwork." These words from Psalm 19 call to mind the faith of many centuries past, when the author put this thought in writing. I believe it is significant to read on and find out his progress in belief and statement. Soon we hear him saying, "The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes." And then, in conclusion, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my rock and my redeemer." Appreciation is one thing, for the person who is inspired by the beauties of God given in nature. It should lead to the desire to preserve and to enjoy, and also to an attitude of worship of the One who made it all possible. Then the final act should be one of commitment of a way of life that shows forth, in personal living, a true sense of order and beauty, of goodness and truth.

The order of the Psalmist could be our pattern. May our inspiration lead us to more than exclamations of wonder and amazement. Let us go on to work in the Kingdom as disciples of the Living Lord who calls us to serve the Father of all worlds, even God Himself.

GENERATION ON

They hit the road early, these youngsters of today.

They cover a lot of miles.

At a pretty fast pace. And what they need most are the moral and spiritual values that do not change in a fast-moving age.

The role of the Church and the family is becoming more crucial every day. Wise parents realize their children should have the advantage of religious training. They sense the importance of their own example in encouraging positive Christian principles.

We need not worry about our youngsters growing up so rapidly . . . as long as they grow up well.

Along the Campaign Trail

Turner . . .

on the urgent need to reject unemployment as an instrument of national policy. "The worker and his job," said Turner, "are being openly bartered today with disastrous consequences."

Turner went on to explain that what America needs is jobs—more jobs, better jobs, at decent levels of pay. These jobs should come from the private sector in a growing expanding economy.

"But," Turner noted, "when the economy is not growing or expanding sufficiently then the government must assume the obligation of being the last resort employer."

With the vast backlog of unmet public needs in America, these jobs are essential to the public interest. Turner concluded by stating that the only policy that makes any sense is one that increases employment, rather than unemployment.

Senate

Griffin . . .

America must reaffirm its support for its firemen, policemen and prison guards by providing them with just compensation when they are victims of criminal attack, U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) said here tonight. "These brave men are on the front lines of public safety and protection," Griffin told the Michigan Association of Fire Chiefs at its Annual Dinner. "It is of the utmost importance that they know the nation stands behind them, appreciates their great efforts, and is concerned with their safety and well-being."

The Senate's Assistant Minority Leader is a sponsor of the "Victims of Crime Act of 1972" which would provide life and disability insurance for policemen, firemen and prison guards, and authorize a $50,000 Federal death benefit for persons in those fields killed in the line of duty. The measure, co-sponsored by Griffin and Senator John J. McClellan (D-Ark) would also authorize Federal cash payments of up to $50,000 to other innocent victims of violent crimes committed within a Federal jurisdiction. Compensation would be based on financial need, and would be decided by a three-member board.

The bill would authorize the Federal government to pick up 75 percent of the cost of compensation programs established by individual states, in line with Federal standards.

Legislative Geake . . .

"With 10,000 state employees dispensing $642 million in taxpayers' money in just one fiscal year to nearly 700,000 Michigan residents, we must find a way to control welfare costs or they will control us!"

This warning was sounded Sunday night by Bob Geake, Republican candidate for state representative from the 35th district, which includes Livonia and Northville.

Speaking to campaign supporters at the home of E.O. "Bud" Weber, Geake said, "Society—its humanitarian efforts created the welfare problem; it's up to society to find a workable solution."

Weber is vice chairman of the 2nd Congressional District Republican organization. Actually, the GOP candidate told his audience, the financial situation is even worse when one realizes the nearly identical Federal contribution to state welfare recipients.

"With Federal funds, the overall total given to Michigan residents on welfare is approximately $1.25 billion for the present fiscal year. The end is not in sight."

Geake said he believed welfare rolls could be reduced if recipients who are able were required to participate in work programs and if Michigan's social services department instituted more strict policing of claims.

Currently, he noted, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan has reported that about 24 percent of ADC cases are either overpaid or underpaid due to faulty information supplied by recipients or mistakes made by state personnel.

"It's a very unhealthy situation. Welfare now constitutes more than a fourth of the state's total budget, welfare expenditures have nearly quadrupled in the last nine years and since just last year the increase in welfare benefits is more than $100 million."

Geake declared that state legislators must exercise a firm hand on the state's budget expenditures, quit making excuses and doubletalking to constituents and implement workable solutions.

Smart . . .

Two errors crept into a political interview story appearing in the July 20 Northville Record-Nowi News and South Lyon Herald.

Both errors were in regard to the incumbent 24th Michigan House seat holder—Clifford Smart of Walled Lake.

Smart is 67 years of age and is seeking his fifth consecutive term in the state House of Representatives.

The minority House leader is opposed in the August 8 primary (Republican) election by Denis Berry of Novi and by Sam Baillo of Orchard Lake.

Renne . . .

Concerning the policy of "plea bargaining," Anthony Renne, candidate for Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney, takes what he contends is a different position than his opponents.

"In my opinion, each and every criminal case is different from every other criminal case, and each and every criminal case should be handled on its own merits," he said.

Renne believes an individual charged with a crime should receive "fair treatment" depending upon the facts that can be proven in relation to the crime with which he is charged.

"I think it is eminently unfair to discriminate against persons charged with crime on the basis of the type of crime with which they are charged. . . I think it is unfair, as a matter of policy, to arbitrarily say that if a person is charged with a certain type of crime he should not be considered for a reduction in the charge in return for a plea of guilty."

"Mr. (Prosecutor Thomas) Plunkett evidently believes that he should substitute his judgment for the judgment of the legislature, elected by the people, to determine the attitude of the prosecutor's office toward the 'plea bargaining' situation."

Kuhn . . .

Former State Senator George W. Kuhn, Republican candidate for Oakland County Drain Commissioner, has pledged, if elected, to embark on a program to make numerous major changes in the daily operations of the Drain Office in order to regain public confidence and control of that office.

The most important aspect would be to maximize public exposure on all phases of the operation in order to protect the vast public interest involved.

Also of great concern to Kuhn is the need for a very thorough and complete audit of all the past and current practices. More and more as the campaign progresses, I am convinced that the entire problem is like an iceberg with only a tip of the berg showing and many more problems are still unexposed and must be uncovered.

The changes promised by Kuhn are:

(1) Demand a thorough internal audit of all operations to be sure the office has a clean bill of health.

(2) The establishment of whatever new internal controls and management tools necessary for managing the cost and progress of each drainage project.

(3) Invoke new and tougher procedures by which contractors could collect on "over-charges" that occur too frequently on various drainage projects.

(4) Absolutely eliminate any past practice of the so-called pre-bidding on any contract.

(5) Provide more public exposure on all financial business of both the Drain Office and the decisions of the Drainage Board.

(6) Provide periodic management-type reports to the Board of Commissioners and to the public on the cost and progress of all open programs.

(7) Seek state legislation (H.B.-5894) to facilitate the merger of both the Drain Office and the DPW.

(8) Work towards the successful merger of both offices to avoid overlapping and duplication of efforts in building drains.

Kuhn concluded by saying, "I firmly believe it is absolutely essential that a professional administrator be elected with the purpose of professionalizing the entire operation and with a pledge of complete honesty and integrity in the handling of the affairs of this office." "This office has too great of a financial responsibility to continue to be run as obscure county function," said Kuhn.

Summer's Fun

Prize pickles, plump "porkies", ferris wheels and fancy work are the order of the days of August, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. It's fair time in Michigan and the eighth month has 44 scheduled including the big one—the Michigan State Fair—opening August 25 for 17 great days.

Filling the first week of the month is the Eaton County Fair at Mason; Clare County Fair at Harrison; Tuscola County Fair at Caro; the Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Fair at Ann Arbor; Ravenna 4-H Fair; Gratiot County Fair for Youth, Alma; Northville Fair, the Flushing Community Fair and the 57th Ionia Free Fair.

Often billed as "Michigan's Greatest Outdoor Event," this year's 10 day Free Fair will headline country music's Sonny James, Roy Clark of TV's "Hee Haw," actor-singer James Darren and the "Yakety Sax" man, Boots Randolph.

This year the Jackson County Fair at Jackson will incorporate a petunia festival. A full color show of blossoms will be represented by 40,000 petunia plants of 65 varieties. You can make plans to attend and enjoy, August 6 thru 12. Other fairs filling the week of August 6 north east, south and west are: the Huron County Agricultural Fair at Bad Axe; Genesee County 4-H Youth Show which focuses on youth activities in 60 different areas of interest; the Monroe and Bay County Fairs; Osceola County 4-H and FFA Fair at Evart; Oakland County 4-H Youth Fair at Davisburg; Hesperia Free Fair; Otsego County Fair at Gaylord and St. Clair County 4-H and Youth Fair at Goodells.

In the Upper Peninsula, Baraga County fair days will be August 11 and 12 and Ironwood will have the welcome mat out August 10-13 for the 51st edition of the Gogebic County Fair.

Coming on strong the week of August 13 will be the Midland County Fair; Lenawee County Fair at Adrian; Clinton County 4-H Youth Fair, St. John's; Northern Michigan Fair at Cheboygan; Sanilac County 4-H Youth Fair, Sandusky; Branch County 4-H Fair, Coldwater; Newaygo County Fair, Fremont; Berrien County Youth Fair, West Michigan Fair at Ludington; Armada Fair, Wayne County 4-H Fair, Belleville; Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba and the Iron County Fair at Iron River.

During the week of August 21, you can help yourself to the fun and flavor of the Emmet County Fair at Petoskey; Kalamazoo and Alpena County Fairs; the Calhoun County Fair at Marshall; Hudsonville Community Fair; Isabella County Youth and Farm Fair, Mt. Pleasant; Mackinac County Agricultural Fair, Allenville and the Michigan State Fair in Detroit.

The Northwestern Michigan, Eastern Michigan and Manistee County Fairs open the week of August 28.

Although fairs dominate the month, August does have a broad range of other events filling its 31 days. Leading the list is the Coast Guard Festival at Grand Haven, August 1-6. The Festival Board reports that this year's event will have a "new look" and a greater appeal to more people.

trailers to motor homes ranging as high as $25,000. If projections prove to be correct, the number of camping vehicles in the United States will have risen to 7.5 million by 1978.

THERE IS NO question but that outdoor recreation is becoming increasingly important to the nation's economy. Spending on all types of goods and services related to outdoor recreation is taking a steadily larger portion of the consumer budget, and this uptrend appears destined to continue indefinitely. As a matter of fact, responsible estimates indicate that outlays for leisure-time activities will more than double during the decade of the 1970s.

American business is keenly aware of the growing economic impact of the leisure market. Companies currently engaged in manufacturing and marketing recreational products are numerous, and more may be expected to join the parade as the potential increases.

AT PRESENT, the Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends two "leisure-time" issues for purchase. First is Igloo Corporation common stock, traded on the American Stock Exchange. The firm is a major producer of plastic picnic chests and metal and plastic beverage coolers. For the current year, earnings are likely to surpass $1.30 a share as compared with $1.09 in 1971 and 62 cents in 1970.

Second is Outdoor Sports Industries common stock, also traded on the American Exchange. This company is favored because of its growing role as a manufacturer of horse riding equipment, camping and hiking goods, and sailing and marine equipment. Aided by acquisitions, company should be able to chalk up full-year 1972 results well above the 73 cents a share reported for last year.

PGA: Nostalgic Event

When Gene Sarazen stands on the first tee of the Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, August 3-6, it will mark the 50th anniversary of the first of three victories in the PGA Championship.

The 54th Championship returns the classic to Michigan for the first time since 1955 when it was held at Northville's Meadowbrook Country Club. It was held at Plum Hollow in 1947 and at the Birmingham Country Club in 1953, all of these clubs being in the Detroit area.

Since all former champions are eligible, the Championship becomes a nostalgic event with the oldtimers mixing with the youngsters.

Now 70, Sarazen first sought the title in 1921 but lost in the quarter-finals. It didn't take him long to find the key, however, and the next year, at Oakmont, he scored a convincing 4 and 3 victory over Emmet French. The following year, Sarazen and the late great Walter Hagen toiled for 38 holes in the final before the former prevailed.

He lost to Tommy Armour in 1930 but three years later came back to beat Willie Goggin, 5 and 4. In addition to his three victories, Sarazen reached the semi-finals twice and the quarter-finals on six occasions.

There will be memories plenty at Oakland Hills. Denny Shute will be there, 35 years after he scored consecutive victories. Also, Jim Ferrier will be returning to the general area of his 1947 victory at Plum Hollow.

Historians will note the presence of Lionel Hebert, the last to win at match play in 1957, and Dow Finsterwald, Hebert's last-round victim who found stroke play more to his liking the following year. And then there's Don January who has been involved in the only two 18-hole playoffs since 1958. He lost to Jerry Barber's incredible putting in 1961 but outlasted Don Massengale in 1967.

Fairs Top Michigan's Summer Fun

Mackinaw will be in port and the public will be welcome aboard.

The National USLTA Junior and Boys 16 Tennis Championships will be taking place in Stowe Stadium at Kalamazoo through August 6 and the Michigan State Champion Roller Skating-Speed Section meet will also take place at Midland during the first week.

If unusual events attract you, you might like to attend Satan's Holiday Square Dance. It will take place August 5 in Hell... of course!

Ethnic events scheduled include Polish Festival Days at Bronson August 10-12. A mock Polish wedding, polkas and Polish foods will highlight the occasion. Two Indian Pow-Wow's will take place August 12 and 13 at Cross Village and Charlton Park near Hastings. An antique fair, fairy tale parade, strolling bands and Smorgasboards will be top attractions at the Danish Festival, August 18 and 19 at Greenville.

Tawas City and East Tawas have double barreled activity opening August 5 in the form of the Tawas Bay Waterfront Arts and Crafts Show and Tourist Festival. All total, there are 12 art shows and fairs listed for August throughout the State.

Other events worth noting on your summer fun list include the National Motorcycle Hill Climb at Muskegon, August 6; the Pere Marquette Canoe Race at Ludington, The National Butterfly Regatta on White Lake at Whitehall, August 15-18; the Paul Bunyan Festival August 17-20 at Oscoda; the AuSable Longboat Regatta at Grayling, August 20; Stan Musial Regionals August 23-29 at Battle Creek; and the Howell Melon Festival, August 25-27.

The forecast is "Fair" with a strong "fun front" holding over Michigan through August. Enjoy it!

Meadowbrook

Stars Soprano

Martina Arroyo, leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, is still planning to sing "Aida" at the Meadow Brook Music Festival on August 3 and 5.

"We have received several inquiries since she fainted during a performance at the Met three weeks ago," said Sandor Kallai, Festival Manager.

"She did cancel several engagements, but a recent check with her office indicates that her doctor has given her the go-ahead to resume her tour. She is, in fact, now singing in Argentina. All our information indicates that she is rested, and will appear as scheduled."

Martina will sing the title role in Verdi's "Aida," to be presented in concert form on Thursday, August 3 and Saturday, August 5, at the Meadow Brook Music Festival. Other leading roles will be sung by Mignon Dunn as Amneris, Charles Hindsley as Rhadames, Morley Meredith as Amonasro, and Detroit-born Ara Berberian as Ramfis.

Jan Albright (the Priestess), Gabriel Balassone (the King of Egypt), and Edward Kingins (the Messenger), all members of the Overture to Opera Company, will also sing in supporting roles.

A chorus of 200 voices, the combined Meadow Brook Festival Chorus and the Overture to Opera Chorus, will sing in the evening's famed triumphal scene, which will also feature the traditional "Aida" trumpets. Dr. Raymond A. Alvin will direct the chorus.

A special extension is being built on the front of the pavilion stage to accommodate the over 300 persons on stage during the triumphal spectacle. This concert performance represents the largest scale artistic effort to date at the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Both Thursday and Saturday performances will begin at 8:30. Tickets are available at Hudson's, Grinnell's, and the Festival box office. For ticket information, call 377-2010.

On Increase

Incidence of rabies increases in the summer because more people spend time outdoors. Take care to know the prevention, symptoms and treatment of rabies, advises Michigan State University pathologist Dr. Kenneth Keahey.

We label it like it is!

Most supermarkets give special names to their meats, no matter where they're cut from. These names are usually based on how the meat is sliced, boned and trimmed. We do the same. But we go the others one better. We tell you what part of the carcass the meat comes from. And we say it right on the label.

A Chatham label tells you the special or fancy name—London Broil, Family Steak, Club Steak, etc. It also tells you the name of the basic cut—sirloin, rib, chuck, round, etc. With this honesty in labeling, you always know exactly what you are buying, no matter what it is called or how it is packaged.

You always get your money's worth, too. That's because Chatham does not charge fancy prices for fancy names. No matter what the cut, we label it like it is... and we price it like it is. Chuck is priced like chuck... round like round.

It's important to note that, no matter what the cut may be, each carcass of Chatham meat is selected by experts and cut by skilled specialists. So you can be sure you're getting high quality meat, cut and trimmed to cook and taste the best. As proof, we will give you double your money back if you are not satisfied with your meat purchase.

Helping shoppers get the most for their money is a tradition at Chatham. And our new meat labels... together with "Actuals" pricing on packaged goods and the lowest overall prices in town... will help you save money. Try us! We know you'll like us.
