Annexation Hearing Set Tuesday

jects in the history of the city and township of Northville—will take the limelight Tuesday night when the Michigan Boundary Commission conducts a public hearing in the Northville High School auditorium.

The hearing, open to all citizens of the city and township, will get underway at 8 p.m.

Following the hearing and after considering oral and written arguments of those for and against annexation of the township to the city, the commission is expected to rule on the question. And, unless citizens petition for an election on the matter, the commission's ruling is final.

Best guess is that the commission's decision will not be handed down much before January 1.

Format of Tuesday's hearing reportedly will call for the five-member commission to be seated at the front of the auditorium, perhaps on the stage, along with representatives of the township, city, the group petitioning for annexation, and a group opposing annexation. Each of these four groups is to have from 15 to 20 minutes n which to make the presentations. Upon conclusion of these presentations, comments by members of the audience will be encouraged by the commission. Commissioners also will encourage written com-

It was still unclear this week who is to represent the township board and-or those opposing annexation. Township board members last week were unable to reach a decision as to their representatives. Board members are split on the annexation question itself.

One township official indicated Robert Adams, unsuccessful candidate for treasurer in the recent primary election, may secure a spokesman for the opposing faction. Speaking on behalf of the city council will be Mayor A. M. Allen and City Manager Frank Ollendorff. Comments by both are expected to be very short.

The city council Monday night went on record as being unanimously in favor of annexation.

Representing the petitioners and the supporting organization calling itself "One Northville" will be Donald M. Oakes and Richard Ambler, a township resident and former city councilman. Oakes, a professional management consultant, is the person who prepared the 1968 unification study at the direction of both the city council and the township board.

The annexation question was placed in the lap of the boundary commission early in March with the filing of petitions, containing some 232 township signatures and 120 signatures from the city.

Most active participants in gathering and filing petitions for annexation were Ambler, Robert Bogart, H. O. Evans, Eugene Guido and Wilson Tyler from the township, and John Canterbury from the city. Record Publisher William Sliger attended and participated in meetings held by the Others who participated in the circulating of the petitions were Thomas Armstrong, James Tellam, Martin Rinehart, Charles Gross, Jack Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Yoder, Donald Lawrence and Wallace Nichols.

Petitions were filed at the offices of the boundaries commission in Lansing.

Subsequently, the commission found a sufficient number of valid signatures on the petitions and called for the public chairman, Irving Rozian of Plymouth, and Al H. VanderLaan of Caledonia.

The two Wayne County boundary commissioners, who are appointed by the judge of probate, are Eric Golting of Detroit and William Moshier of Romulus.

A decision of the township board to form an authority to build a $500,000 township hall-fire-police department

Spear Expects 3,750 For September Opener

A total of 3,750 students are made in the schools during the expected when classes open summer, and more than 600 for a half-day session Wednesday, September 6, in Northville Public Schools.

The enrollment is up 230 students from a figure of 3,520 with which school closed in Superintendent Raymond Spear said about 75 percent of the increase is expected in grades six through 12. Most of the student increase is due to continued building at Highland Lakes," he explained.

About 30 more elementary students are expected, 75 sixth, seventh and eighth graders and 125 high schoolers.

Broken down by school, enrollment at Moraine Elementary is pegged at 520; Main Street, 460, Amerman, 565: Cooke Annex, 305, Cooke Middle Middle School, 650; and Northville High, 1,250

Teaching staff has been increased from 1601/2 to 173 to meet the enrollment increase, Spear commented.

School will be in session for only a half-day Wednesday, with a full class day scheduled for Thursday, September 7.

On the first day, afternoon kindergarten classes will not meet. Morning kindergarten and elementary classes will be in session from 9 to 11:45 a.m., Cooke Annex, 8 to 10:50 a.m., Cooke Middle School, 8 to 10:55 a.m.; and Northville High, 8 to 11 a.m

The experimenal year round school program will switch starting times to 9 a m. with the beginning of the traditional school program. Regular closing times will be observed on Thursday. Morning kındergarten classes will end at 11:30 a.m; afternoon kindergarten, 1 to 3:30 p.m.; and elementary classes break for lunch between 11:45 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. with classes ending at 3:30 p.m.

Sixth grade classes dismiss at 2:30 p.m.; Cooke Middle School, 2:35 p.m.; and Northville High, 2:40 p.m.

Buses will be operating the first day of school, bringing an estimated 2,550 students to school, an increase of 250 students over last year.

The same bus routes used last year will again be used this year, with buses not entering most subdivisions.

About 70 percent of students attending Northville schools ride buses, Earl Busard, business director, stated.

Hot lunches will be available to students on Thursday. Prices will be the same as last year, with the exception of milk. A charge of four cents per half pint will

Council Rips Young

Report Blasted

A report issued more than a month ago by Novi city councilman Donald Young which charged that subdivision residents were getting the "short end of the stick" in the city's road resurfacing program was aenounced by the other council members

"I have a favorite quote which applies to reports like this," said Mayor Joseph Crupi, who led the council in debunking Young's report, "and that quote is that "Even the devil can quote scriptures to justify his own means'

Figures can be made to lie and that's exactly what has been done in this report," the mayor stated.

Even though Crupi led the attack, three other councilmen-Raymond Evans. Louie Campbell, and Denis Berry-were also highly critical of Young's findings. Object of the council's furor was a report regarding the residents for the resurfacing of their roads which Young distributed not only to councilmen, but also to residents of Echo Valley subdivision

tollowed the following line of reasoning

1 The state issues Novi $52,000 annually for its 40 miles of local roads.

2 Of that figure, roughly $31,000 is used for routine road maintenance-thus each of the 40 miles of local road is entitled to roughly $750 of maintenace per year

3. City records show that only $50 per year has been used for maintaining subdivision roads

Therefore, the subdivision residents have been getting the "short end of the stick" in the use of the state Act 51

Young's report concluded that 37 percent of the cost of assessment of subdivision roads would have been available in the local road fund had it not been diverted to maintain other roads in the

"Consequently," he said, "I will oppose any resurfacing The report, in essence, which does not call for at least 40 to 50 percent financing by the city."

School Board OKs Teacher Contract

A new one-year master contract for teachers was ratified by the Novi Board of Education Tuesday night in one of the earliest settlements in local history.

The board approved the new contract, calling for no starting salary hikes, by a vote of 6-0— just one day after teacher ratification.

Only three dissenting votes of the approximately 40 teachers casting ballots Monday were registered.

not occur until November 29. almost three months after the start of school. The 1970 contract was ratified September 14, and the 1969 settlement came August 26.

Although the new contract provides for no starting salary increases, it provides three additional steps and awards substantial increases to those teachers with the greatest seniority (experience).

Last year's salary schedule provided 11 steps. This year, the schedule jumps from the 11th step:(d1-years of teaching experience) to step 13, to step 18 and to step 23 — obviously to cover teachers of long

In those 14 steps, the schedule ranges from $8,320 to $15,269 for BA degrees; from $8,679 to $16,035 for BA plus 15 credit hours; from $9,048 to $17,455 for MA; from $9,334 to $17,788 for MA plus 15 hours; and from $9,620 to $18,117 for MA plus 30 hours.

Last year in 11 steps, the schedule ranged from $8,320 to $13,650 for BA; from $8,679 to $14,399 for BA plus 15; from $9,048 to $15,147 for MA from $9,334 to $15,433 for MA plus, and from $9,620 to $15,720 for MA plus 30 other economic agreements, the contract provides full-time teachers with group term life insurance and accidental death and dismemberment insurance in the amount of $10,000.

The new 11th step is: $13,975 BA; $14,675 BA plus 15; $15,975 MA; $16,279 MA plus 15, and $16,581 MA plus 30.

It also provides a dental care program for all employees of the bargaining unit and their dependents, not to exceed $7 per employee per month

Already far ahead of last year's schedule, Novi's new school administrators are finishing preparations for the resumption of classes Tuesday, September 5.

With the ratification of teacher contracts by the Board of Education Tuesday, the new administration has already cleared a major hurdle. Last year the teachers and board did not agree on terms until late in November.

Also blocking the smooth resumption of classes last year was the construction of the Novi Middle School. -Although plans called for the building to be ready for use in September, construction delays and difficulties in extending sewage capacity to the building prevented use of the Middle School until November 1.

Biggest change in the Novi school system this year has taken place in the top administrative positions where Dr Gerald Kratz and Dr William Barr have replaced Richard Dale and Richard Hendrickson as superintendent and assistant superintendent of schools

Atter a three hour stakeout in the fog-enshrouded Oakland Hills Cemetery early Monday morning, Novi police arrested three people believed to be part of a group responsible for looting 50 cemeteries in southeastern Michigan over the past eight

The arrests were announced Tuesday morning by Oakland County Prosecutor Thomas Plunkett in a specially called press con-"There have been over 40 incidents of similar thefts in the past eight months in Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, Livingston, and Monroe Counties," Plunkett said.

According to reports from both police and the Michigan Ceme tery Association the value of the thefts could reach $250,000.

Object of the thefts were copper flower vases used for holding flowers in grave memorials. Each vase is attached to a large copper grave marker by a small

The Novi city council was reminded of that date Monday by Department of Public Works Head Edward Kriewall who appeared before them to discuss plans for extending sewer and water facilities to the 60-acre parcel.

Both sewer and water must be available before building permits can be issued and the city council, eager to have the exclusive shopping complex located in Novi, considers services making those available a matter of high priority

Unfortunately, however, self As the gravity flow is away from the Meadowbrook line, a pumping station would have to be constructed at an estimated cost of $55,000.

The nearest water line is at the corner of Eight Mile and Meadowbrook, and although it would be a relatively simple matter to extend the line one more mile down Eight Mile to Haggerty, Kriewall said, much more would be involved.

Because of pressure considerations, Novi and the financial underwriters of the development would probably insist that the line be looped.

won in bargaining last year. Superintendent

Raymond Spear says this just isn't so and declares that the problem lies in determining 'what constitutes a raise' temporarily cut into teacher salaries. Secondly, there's the question of "increments".

fusion is the wage freeze that took place last year and

For example, teacher negotiators state that the four per cent increase offered by the district does not constitute a raise because four per cent over last year's salary is less than the "increment" increases to which teacher negotiators believe they are entitled

On the other hand, Superintendent Spear says that teachers have never gotten an increment plus a raise. He asks the question: "is there such a thing as an increment?" He declares that increases are negotiated each year and that "increments", if they exist, are not necessarily the same each

For example, Spear points out, the increase from step five to step six in a teacher's salary level may have been $1,000 last year, but not necessarily that amount next

But teacher negotiators consider "step raises" for years of experience to be established and automatic. They're looking for additional pay increases on top of the Right now the pay picture is confused by the fact that teachers were paid somewhat less last year than they won in negotiations, due to the federally-imposed wage freeze.

For example, a beginning teacher in the Northville system last year should have been paid $8,400. The actual pay for a first year teacher was $8.285

Naturally, negotiators maintain that this year's negotiated $8,400 figure.

But the school district is offering a four per cent hike over the $8,285 figure.

Further, the NEA team expects that the second year teacher should receive a $400 'increment increase' automatically, which was the 's pay difference between a first and second year teacher last

So an increase (within the guidelines) to the NEA team would constitute 5.5 per cent on top of an increment increase of $400 over the negotiated $8,400 a first year teacher should have received last year.

Superintendent Spear views this as a 12.5 per cent increase and says the district won't stand for such a hike.

The NEA team is unhappy about other negotiation items, although money must be considered number one Team members say that not enough meetings have been held They complained last week that they could not meet with board members. They say teachers would like a three-year pact, but the district is holding out for just one They term the "class size" controls meaningless, question the legality of the district's rules on maternity leave, dislike the loss of a half day of their teacher work days, think that pay for extracurricular activities should be increased and are aggrieved by the fact that an evaluation study of the year-round school program will not be made available for NEA consideration

Superintendent Spear, representing the district in negotiations with Attorney Fred Schwarze, Jr., says that he has been willing to meet any time, and did so again last week with team members.

Spear claims that he asked teacher negotiators to meet during the summer and try to reach agreement by mid July. To show good faith, Spear stated, he removed nine of 10 items from the table. "They still have 15 of 19 items on the table", which Spear calls "table dressing" He suspects the NEA team will call for fact-finding.

On the multi-year contract, wonders agreement can be reached for two years ahead "when we haven't gotten anywhere since March on a 1972-73 contract"

Spear said a three-year contract would be alright if two or three items could be left over for future negotiation

The Northville superintendent says the NEA has never asked board of education members to attend negotiation sessions. "I'm willing, but I doubt very much if members will give anything haven't", he added

More meetings scheduled to be held with the state mediator this week But even he has admitted that progress is slow.

School opening offers the best hope for serious negotiations and meaningful The district doesn't want complications, particularly with an experimental yearround school now in progress. And the NEA team may not admit it, but there's speculation that teachers might not be willing to risk a walk-out over a few dollars when they admit "the pay's not bad'

And besides there are plenty of unemployed teachers standing in the

Mettalas Return Home

By NANCY DINGELDEY

A month long trip stretching from Sweden to Algeria with plenty of stops in between is now just a happy rememberance for Vi and Gunnar Mettala.

Rirst "port of can" was Hanau, Germany, and a visit with son Erik and wife Natalie With that as home base for several days, they wandered around Germany and Bavaria. Heidelberg and its castle and a beautiful view of the University then on to Oberammergau.

It's surprising to me the impressions people get when they visit such places. I'm even getting to remember how to spell the names Vi and Gunnar are the third couple from Wixom to visit this famous wood carving village in as many weeks. Vi found the town · quaint and fascinating. from the ones dating back 200 years to the newest of construction, carry the same Bavarian tone. All are decorated with delightful motifs.

Even the army barracks were decorated by the townspeople so they would blend in with the rest of the buildings.

And there was the visit to Linderhof, the summer hunting palace of "crazy" King Ludwig. From what Vi said, our cycling foursome really missed something by not touring the castle. It's so filled with gold leaf that it's overwhelming and unbelievable.

Then there's the silver room-that's filled with silverleaf.

But the room to take the cake was the master bedroom. The bed took forty woodcarvers four years to complete. As Vi explained it. "you could sleep six com-fortably at the head"—she never did figure how many could go at the foot.

In Munich, they saw the preparations for the coming summer Olympic Games and then it was on to Sweden for a visit with Vi's folks. They rented a car and made several stopovers with relatives including one at Vi's father's homestead which is over 150 years old. From there it was on to Copenhagen with a flight back to Frankfort and then to Milan, Italy.

Passage had been booked on a Meditteranean cruise leaving from Genoa but a late departure from Frankfort almost cancelled that. Never ones to give up easily, Vi and Gunnar hopped into a taxi and had a nerve shattering ride through the mountains and tunnels at speeds up to one hundred miles an hour to catch the boat. By the skin of their teeth and "muchos gracias" to the boat and a delightful seven day cruise.

Barcelona, Spain, received them and introduced them to the colorful flamenco dancers. They were still dancing at the next port, Majorca. "I saw so many flamenco's that one more and I would have done it myself".

On the boat, they made friends with a lovely French couple who couldn't speak English and guess who doesn't speak French. "It was almost like charades but we sure did have a great time with them". Very in-

And then into the hot, hot, hot, hot summer sun of Algeria with stops at Tunisia, Carthage and Bizertte. "The sun is so bright, the houses are all white, and the earth is so parched that everything reflects the sun. Without sunglasses, you're a goner!"

The casbah was really something else and really frustrating according to Vi. All the shops are lined up on a narrow street and the shopkeepers expect everybody to barter But that takes a long time and there's mortal fear that you'll loose faithful guide. So you look at all the copper' and leather goods and the camel hides hanging off of everything and exit the Casbah, buying exactly nothing and scratching your head in utter cab driver they made their they'd probably still be wandering among the ruins.

After the brief respite from sightseeing, it was from boat to launch to lying flat on the back in a rowboat to enter the Blue Grotto on the Isle of Capri. It's a real experience to get into the cave but Vi said it was the most fascinating place she's ever seen in her

There is just no blue in the world to compare to the blue of the grotto and the sand at the bottom is so white it seems you could touch it. In truth, the depth is around sixty feet.

The rest of their time was spent brousing around Capri and then it was back "to the beginning" in Genoa. On a lark, they then decided to take to the wings and fly to Geneva, Switzerland There was hardly a cloud in the sky during the flight so they had a spectacular view of the Alps all the way.

Glad to be home, recovered and with "itchy feet", Vi said she could be off again and enjoy every minute of it.

It was like visiting all the neighbors during a trip to the Scandanavian | Feast at Cobo Hall this weekend. I just wish they'd make parking a little easier for this "country bumpkin". It wasn't that I couldn't find my car, I just couldn't figure out how to cross three expressways to

"The road money, like fire department money, goes to the area where its needed. We've maintained the subdivision roads as best we could with the money we have, but our gravel roads have needed maintenance much more and the money has gone where its needed

Campbell's criticism of the report followed a different line. Agreeing in theory with Young, Campbell attacked the report on the basis of financial reality.

"The point is that the money was not put away to pay for those roads because the city couldn't afford to put it away, but we're in a position now that if we don't resurface the subdivision roads immediately, the cost is going to increase considerably in the next few years'

"Somebody is going to have to pay for the paving and the city doesn't have the money It will be cheaper for the residents to pay 100 percent of the cost this year than 50 percent of the cost two years from now."

These Schools Are Yours

By RAYMOND SPEAR Superintendent Northville Schools

The Board of Education, Administration and Teaching Staff of the Northville Public Schools are most appreciative of the opportunity to welcome you to the 1972-73 school year in this annual Back to School Edition of The Northville Record.

We trust that the past several weeks have allowed our children and parents the opportunity to satisfactorily atend to the many activities which they scheduled for the period when school is not in session.

We extend a warm and sincere welcome to our new families and "best wishes" to those families whose plans necessitated their leaving our schools and community since school closing in June.

The official opening of school doors for the 1972-73 school year took place on July 31, 1972, when classes began for 170 K-5 students participating in the Experimental Year-Round School Program.

The first day of classes for the traditional school year students will be Wednesday, September 6, 1972, with students in grades 6-12 starting at 8:00 A.M. and students in grades K-5 beginning at 9:00 A.M. The schedule for September 6th calls for only a half day of classes, with the Annex closing at 10:30, Cooke at 10:35, High School at 11:00, and the Elementary Schools closing at 11:45.

A regular full-day schedule begins on Thursday, September 7, 1972.

We are pleased to report that all school buildings have received some form of general upgrading as well as having been carefully cleaned and readied to greet our returning students, along with an anticipated 300 to 400 new students we expect to join us during the course of the school year.

It is gratifying to recall the fine support given our June millage and bond issue, and we are pleased to report that not only can we advance the 1971-72 program into 1972-73, but that additional staff and new curricular offerings will appear at all levels of instruction. In addition, it is noted that some of the June bond issue projects will be ready for school opening, with others ready for action momentarily, and the remaining projects in the planning stage.

With the State Aid and all other sources of revenue pretty well established and negotiations with staff nearing completion, we are able to zero in on a budget which should do an adequate job of meeting the educational needs of our existing enrollment and our new fellow students enrolling during the school year.

It takes a great deal of planning and careful implementation of these plans to make your schools operate efficiently and effectively. The combined efforts of all members of the staff of the Northville Public Schools have readied your biggest and best tax investment-your child's education—for what we hope will be a most successful school

We extend a sincere thank you to the Staff of The North-ville Record for the various articles in this Back to School Edition, which we hope will answer the many opening of school questions of parents.

Should you still have unanswered questions, please feel free to call your Building Principal or the Superintendent's

We look forward to another fine school year of working together in meeting the educational needs of your children. .. These are your schools for your children....

Novi School Board

Hires Two Teachers

Two teachers and a custodian were hired by the Novi Board of Education Tuesday night.

The teachers are:

- Suzanne Fall, graduate of Western Michigan University with two years teaching experience, has been tentatively assigned to the high school to teach English and direct the yearbook operations-$9,218

-Ronald Fluter, graduate of Central Michigan University, to teach Biology at the high school--$8,234.

Retained as custodian at Orchard Hills Elementary School at an hourly rate of $3.15 was Terry J Auten.

A membership resolution to enroll Novi in the Michigan School Athletic Association, Inc. was adop-

The action is the first taken here under the newly constituted athletic association resulting from new legislation enacted this past year.

A formality, the action does not change the local athletic program. There are no membership fees.

A mini-bus contract was awarded to John Mach Ford, whose $5,807 bid was the lowest of three bidders. Ward Bus Company's bid included only the body, not the bus chassis, and O'Green Ford of Farmington came in with a $6.580 bid.

Delivery is expected about mid October.

Superintendent Gerald Kratz, upon informing the board of preliminary steps taken to secure North Central Association accreditation, was given the green light to move ahead "post-haste"

Inspection of Novi facilities and in-depth review of staff, departmental organization, and facilities by North Central personnel-at Novi expense-is expected to take place prior to March.

District cost has been estimated at $2,500.

Presently, Novi is accredited by the University of Michigan. U-M accreditation is a first step in securing North Central accreditation.

It was announced that Dr. David N. Newbury, assistant superintendent of the Hazel Park school system, will be the guest speaker at the teacher orientation luncheon on August 30 at the high

Hours for student attendance for the 1972-73 school year have been established as

Novi High School-8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Novi Middle School-8:30 a.m. to 2:50 p.m.; Novi Elementary Schools—9 a.m to 3:30 p.m. Kindergarten classes have been extended by five minutes: from 9 a.m. to 11:35 a.m. in the morning session, and from 12:55 p.m. to 3:30 pm. in the afternoon session.

The calendar, previously published and now official with ratification Tuesday of the teachers contract, calls for 180 days of instruction.

Angered by the continual excuses by Kaufman & Broad, the board authorized the administration to demand immediate installation of at least a satisfactory walkway from Willowbrook Road to Village Oaks School by K & B. Should K & B fail to comply, the board itself plans to order the work done, using monies set in escrow by K & B as part of its contract obligation to the school district.

That obligation also includes installation of a bridge. The escrow account totals

Year of Adjustment | And Change

By GERALD KRATZ Superintendent Novi Schools

The school year 1972-73 will be a year of adjustment and change. The uncertainty regarding the constitutionality of using the property tax for financing schools is a matter of great concern. The busing issue will continue to be debated. The State Aid Bill for 1972-73 has passed both houses and the Novi Community Schools will receive slightly more State Aid for the coming school year than it received last year because of the three percent holdback.

The future growth of the school district is also a matter of great interest. During the last three years, the district has increased an average of 14.5 per cent per year in student population. This year's enrollment is estimated at 2100 students. Presently, single family dwelling, condominiums and townhouses are being constructed in large numbers in the school district. These facilities are producing sizeable numbers of school children.

Novi Community Schools is continuing to study curriculum changes with the goal of serving all children and youth more effectively. The new emphasis on career education is making it necessary for all vocational education programs to be carefully re-examined. The addition to the staff of a director of vocational education will help in the development. Electronic classes and facilities have been added at the high school. Fortunately, the Area Vocational Center is able to serve Novi students with some satisfaction. but there is a need for more training for the world of work.

The development of quality programs of education for both elementary and secondary school students will continue to be the overwhelming concern of school staff and the Board of Education. A good school district is one which is continuously striving to be a better one. A parallel is that a good school is always in the process of becoming and working to be a better one. Part of that process is the addition of new teachers and programs which bring to the district new insights, creative approaches and expanded services. Additional special education personnel and facilities have been added for the 1972-73 school year. Extra special subject teachers have been hired to improve course offerings. New finished classrooms are available at Village Oaks Elementary and the Middle School. Improved athletic facilities now exist at the High School Improved programs at all levels will follow, it is the obligation of schools to give children and youth the opportunity to learn to make choices, live with the consequences and grow from the experiences. The Novi schools have helped students realize that each person must assume responsibility for his own learning and behavior. This does not infer ultimate freedom, but freedom to doubt and to re-examine. In this kind of educational process boys and girls discover the real meaning of learning. This can only have been accomplished by citizenship con-

Novi Community Schools has been able to provide many opportunities for children and youth because of the intelligent interest and support by the citizens of the district. Only through involvement of parents, youth, and community at all levels of planning and programming can today's schools succeed. It is tremendously important that citizens show an interest in school board meetings and school elections. It is equally important that parent-teacher group meetings be well attended and that the officers perform their functions with enthusiasm and efficiency. With continued interest and community support, our schools will continue to provide quality education as they expand.

Set Late Registration

Novi High Announces

Council Reps

The 1971-72 school year was a disappointing one for student government at Novi High School, but Principal Hal Seymour is looking to the upcoming year with high hopes.

Student government is an important part of the high school program," said Seymour. "We held elections last spring and there seemed to be a goodly share of enthusiasm among students.'

The 1971-72 Novi High School student council, plagued by indifference on the part of many students, ceased to function midway through the school year.

Elections for the 1972-73 student council were held last spring and four representatives were selected from each class. Officers will be selected early in the fall. Seymour stated, and it is hoped the council will become a viable force.

Twelfth grade representatives on the council are Judy Traynor, Bill Ross, Ron Broquet, and John Pantalone. Representing the junior class will be Kevin LaFleche, Peggy Barnes, Eric Hansor, and D'Ann DesMarais Sophomore representatives are Bruce Broquet, Martha O'Neal, Denise Koenig, and Vickie Kuick.

Editorials... a page for expressions ...yours and ours

Next Tuesday evening citizens of the community of Northville will have the opportunity to witness and participate in a discussion of the proposed annexation of the township to the city.

A commission composed of stateappointed officials will hear presentations on the issue and then open the meeting to comments from the floor of the high school auditorium.

It constitutes a rather new approach in state government procedures by introducing impartial observers possessing varied backgrounds in local government to hear and assist in questions of unification.

In the final analysis the new method does not replace the right of the electorate to vote on the question; it merely assures public airing of the questions so that all facts may be heard.

Then, depending upon the decision rendered by the State Boundaries Commission, an election may be conducted.

At any rate, it's history in the making in Northville and should be both entertaining and informative to all citizens.

Hopefully, the meeting will be well attended and citizens of Northville will demonstrate to the State Boundaries Commission that they understand the purpose of the hearing is to inform and exchange opinions and its conduct will remain at the level.

A most informative and thorough updating of the 1968 unification study has now been completed and submitted by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

The non-partisan, non-profit organization responded to a request from the Northville township board of trustees and the city council and performed the study without charge to the community.

They used material prepared by Consultant Donald M. Oakes, retained by the city and township in 1967-68, who worked with citizens of the city and township to study the feasibility and desirability of unification of the two governments.

The Research Council assigned one man to the task for a full month. He held several meetings with both city and township officials to review changes that have taken place since the original study.

The CRC's 24-page report concludes that the tax rate for a single city of Northville with full services to the total area equal to those now provided in the existing city would be 4.48 mills.

MEMBER

That's a sharp reduction over the seven mills estimated in the 1967-68 study and somewhat below the figure being used by the League of Women Voters, 4.7 mills.

It's conceded that neither government could come close to this low level providing the services separately.

Currently the city levies a 10.2 mills and the township one mill.

Thus the city resident would benefit from a 5.72 mill reduction in city property taxes.

The township resident would find his property taxes increased by 3.48 mills.

In dollars and cents this means the owner of a $30,000 home in the city (assessed for tax purposes at $15,000) would pay $85.80 less in property taxes per year.

The same township homeowner would pay an additional $52.20 per year.

On the surface it may appear that the township taxpayer is bearing the brunt of the proposed "marriage". But the wedding is actually beneficial to both parties.

Obviously, the city resident enjoys a tax cut. But he must share more than $450,000 in annual rebates from the state for race track betting with the township. Secondly, he gives his township neighbor immediate ownership in all the city's capital assets and services (city hall, police, department of public works, etc.).

The report also notes that as a city the community would gain some $97,500 in additional gas and weight tax revenues and would save nearly $50,000 annually by eliminating duplicated costs.

For his $52.20 per year the township taxpayer would receive weekly rubbish pick-up, road cleaning and maintenance, full-time police service and no responsibility for providing new township hall facilities.

The report notes that the area in the city hall now used by the library would have to made available for governmental offices.

Thus a new home for the library would be needed. The city-township library commission has proposed the former community building, now used as a township hall.

The complete text of the Citizens Research Council's updated unification report covering population, land use, government structure, services, finance and finances for a unified city will be published in next week's edition of The Record.

Limit Fees For Towing?

JAMES WALKER

YES . . .

There is a definite need to limit fees for towing services. I base my arguments on personal experience in dealing with such "towing services".

Last January 12, 1972, I had need to have my automobile towed from 10 Mile and Telegraph Roads in Southfield to a Farmington automobile dealership. The cost, $10, was paid by my insurance company.

Three months later I had need for my second auto to be towed from 10 Mile and Meadowbrook Roads to the same Farmington automobile dealership - approximately a two mile trip. The cost to my insurance company this time, for a much shorter trip, was $25.

In July of this year my new automobile had to be towed to Warren to an automobile dealership for additional service and maintenance. Fortunately, the automobile dealer paid the towing fee. This time it was $60.

Many residents have expressed displeasure with similar experiences with "towing services". As many towing companies have demonstrated an inability to deal with people consistently fairly and justly, there is a very real need for legislation to govern their operations.

Denis M. Berry, Novi City Councilman

NO . . .

As seems so often to be the case, the State and Federal Governments wish to take a hand in a business with which they are totally unfamiliar.

There are so many things to be considered in charging fees for wrecker services. I will enumerate some of them: no two wrecker calls are the same. The time of day varies. When called at 2 a.m. to give service, fees should be more than those charged in the middle of the day.

Often the tow-truck operator must wait for an ambulance to care for the injured. He cannot do his work until the people involved in the accident are cared for. Occasionally, wrecked cars can be hooked up and taken away at once; often, there are so many pieces to the cars involved that a "dolly" must be used to transport the remains of the cars from the scene of the accident - and a "dolly" is an expensive piece of equipment and naturally the use of it should be higher priced than a simple wrecker service.

Also, there are hidden items to be considered. In three different car-train accidents, I have worked many hours during the night to clear the tracks - and have received no remuneration at all, either because the owner had been killed, or there was just "kindling wood" left of the cars, and no insurance had been carried by the driver of the car.

If you are ever in need of a tow truck in unfamiliar surroundings, try to contact the local Police authority which has a call list of nearby reputable wrecker services.

So, I maintain, there should be no State-set towing fees. Each individual wrecker operator should be allowed to charge for the time and the equipment needed to service each individual call.

James R. Walker,
South Lyon Tow-Truck Operator

Women Want Recognition

To the Edito

With only tonight's games and the playoffs left in the Plymouth-Northylle

Women's Slowpitch Softball League's 1972 season, the question again arises: What must be done for this league to be recognized as a viable one, deserving of the respect and services tendered to the male leagues?

Several weeks ago a duplicated copy of a letter, signed by over 60 of my fellow participants, was sent to your office, the purpose of which was to apprize this community of our league and the shoddy way in which its paid administrators have been handling it. For some reason, unbeknown to me, the letter was never published, nor was its receipt acknowledged.

This letter, complete with a cover memo enumerating our grievances, did, however, arouse the attention of several local officials who also received copies. Dan Vanezia, coordinator of Plymouth's representation to the league, did respond by calling a meeting of the seven teams' managers and Bob Prom, the Northville coordinator. Mr Prom apparently saw no need to attend this meeting, nor to send a representative on his behalf. During this meeting, grievances were aired and Mr. Vanezia responded with pledges to look into and take upon several action legitimate complaints.

To date, this writer has seen Authority little positive action other than Mr. Vanezia's pledges We are all quite cognizant of financial restrictions placed upon local governments and, consequently, upon recreational programs. In necessary, I suspect, most, if not all, of the league's teams would be willing to pay a higher entrance fee. We don't expect preferential treatment. We are not, however, willing to pay for only lip service I reiterate, what must be done?

Plymouth, Michigan

EDITOR'S NOTE: The initial communication from the writer was not a Letter to The Editor but a mimeographed brief of complaints. The complaints were referred to Mr. Prom who noted that the league is sponsored by Plymouth, not Northville.

History Poses Dissimilar Similarities.

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Separation and Annexation.

They have widely different meanings, but historically in Northville they have some striking similarities, too.

When the matter of annexation is discussed next Tuesday in a public hearing at the Northville High School echoes of 1898 may be heard.

It was in that year—April 1, 1898—that the Township of Plymouth was split in half, forming two townships:

Plymouth south of Five Mile Road, and Northville, north of Five Mile Road.

The separation was the result of a special act of the Michigan Legislature, passed April 8, 1887. The legislation was introduced by State Senator Holmes.

Annexation as now being considered could conceivably, although unlikely, be accomplished without a vote of the people.

The Michigan Boundary Commission, conducting Tuesday's hearing, is to make the determination of whether or not the city and township of Northville should be combined into a single unit of government. If that ruling favors unification, citizens may petition for an election in an attempt to overrule the commission.

the commission.

In the 19th Century separation case, a straw vote of the people favored the proposition but, in the final analysis, it was the legislative act that was decisive.

- It would, according to a proponent argument, put an end to the devisive bickering between two parts of the community.
- In 1898, proponents of separation argued it would save tax dollars by creating two smaller, more easily managed communities; in 1972, proponents of unification argue it would save tax dollars by eliminating or reducing duplication and produce a more easily managed community.
- As in today's unification effort, chief arguments against separation included the "uncertainity" of future tax costs and a nebulous conclusion that "what was good enough yesterday is good enough tomorrow."
- A leading proponent of separation in 1898 was the publisher of The Northville Record; a leading proponent today of unification is The Record publisher.
- Among those spearheading the 1898 separation was W. H. Ambler, a township resident and former government official; among those spearheading today's annexation proposition is Richard Ambler, a township resident, former government (city) official, and great grandson of W. H. Ambler.

What are the cogent differences between the 1898 and 1972 cases that allow for similarity of argument but dissimilar goals?

Prior to 1898 included within the Township of Plymouth were two small villages, Northville and Plymouth, located at opposite ends of the township. While each village had its own governing body, the township government was the parent unit serving the same people.

Thus, not two but three units of government were involved in 1898.

Although the population of the 1898 Plymouth Township was far smaller than today's population of Northville, proponents of 1898 separation could legitimately argue that the size of the population was large enough to support two governments.

In 1898, the population of Plymouth Township (including Northville) was 4,332—double or more the size of all other townships but two, Springwell and Ecorse. Canton Township at the time had 1,252 inhabitants, Livonia 1,521.

The 1898 population of Plymouth Township was one-eighth the size of the entire population of Oakland Separate governments, proponents in 1898 could and did argue would produce two supervisors who, sifting on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, would have greater influence than did one in obtaining additional county services for the northwestern part of the county.

Today township supervisors no longer sit on the county board (board of commissioners), which is governed by a completely separate and elected body of officials. Unification will neither reduce nor increase representation on this county board.

Populations of other Wayne County communities have so greatly outstripped the population of Northville that today commissioners are less inclined to bend an ear to Northville than they are to their more populated constituency.

Today Northville has a total population (city and township) of approximately 15,000, while Livonia has exploded to 110,000, Plymouth (city and township) to nearly 30,000.

Finally, in 1898 the villages of Plymouth and Northville were widely separated and hence enjoyed separate school systems, different business, industrail and professional communities, different churches, social and civic organizations, and even different names.

Today, the city and township of Northville basically enjoy the same school system, business, industrial and professional community, and the same churches, social, civic organizations and name.

Knothole Softball

Pirates Notch 14th Victory

Just three games were on tap last week as the Northville Recreation Department's Knothole Softball League came to a close for the 1972 season, but all of them proved to be significant for one reason or another.

The Del's Shoes Pirates topped the A&W Cougars to finish the season in first place with just one loss and end the poor Cougars' season without even a single win.

The Northville Hardware Colts edged the Casterline Lions but had a Thursday contest rained out and had to settle for third place in the final standings behind the Choo-Choo Car Wash Warriors; who had played, and won, one more game.

Panthers squeaked by the VFW Rams to finish half a game ahead of the Northville Realty Astros by virtue of having played one more game to tie down fourth place in the final league standings.

Sentimental favorite in the Pirate-Cougar clash Wednesday was the Cougars. After all, the Pirates had already clinched the league championship And, as for the Cougars, somehow it seemed only fitting and proper that any group of young men which shows up faithfully game after game through 13 consecutive losses deserves to win at least once.

But, as the saying goes, sentiment and dime will get you a cup of coffee The Pirates won, 15-0.

McDonald, Phil Fisher, and Carl Lang had three hits aniece and Willy Newman, Brady Lineman, and Dave McDonald (again) each had two doubles to lead the Pirate

Carl Scott with a double and single and Kam Gurol and Phil LeAnnais, each with a single, accounted for all four Cougar hits

The Northville Hardware Colts squeezed past the Casterline Lions 7-6 Monday. Dale Hawkey, Mark Olgren, and Mike Olgren each had three hits and Jeff Dyer belted a fourth inning home run to lead the Colts to the triumph. Brian Pratt had five hits - two of them doubles and Les Neal had four hits to account for more than half of the Lions' 17-hit total

In another squeaker Tuesday, Terry Nadeau tripled home John Wagner in tie with the Northville Drug Panthers, but that tie lasted

Dave Brock homered and Terry Nadequi and Bill Wittenberg each slammed out a double and triple to pace the losing Ram team. Chris VanGieson paced the Panthers with four hits, but he got plenty of hitting help from Rob Marzonie and Dave Zabinski who had three hits

Blazers Foil Tiger Bid; Take Tee-Ball Crown

Northville's Fire Department Blazers made it official last week and clinched the 1972 championship of the Northville Recreation Department's Tee-Ball League

Not that there was really much doubt about the Blazer's eventual ascendancy, mind you, but, as the week's play began, the Northville Insurance Tigers still held at least a mathmatical chance of overtaking the Blazers to gain a share of the

All the Tigers had to do was win all of their games and hope that the Blazers, by one means or another, would lose both of theirs. The Tigers neatly completed their half of the puzzle, but those Blazers completely and absolutely refused to cooperate with the Tigers wishes, instead won both of their games, and thus gained sole possession of the championship

The Blazers clinched the championship Tuesday and did it in convincing fashion by banging out a 37-6 conquest of the Del's Shoes Bears. Tom Basilico, Dennis Stevens, Maurice Hill, Dave France, and Dave Martin and Tim Steve Bailey, Gary Simrak, and Tim McLaughlin each ripped out five hits apiece to spearhead the Blazers' awesome 51-hit attack Ray Green, Jim Ziegler, and Greg Peterson each had three hits and Kevin LeAnnais belted a home run for the Bears. With the championship already the clinched, the

Blazers' next victory - an 11-4 conquest of the Schraders Home Furnishings squad was frosting on the cake Darryl Smith, Jeff Pyden. Dave Torgeson, Tom Basilico, Dennis Stevens, and Steve Bailey all had three hits for the Blazers, while Kevin VanOtten, Mike Crane, Dave Martin, Brian Myers, Omar Anisoglu, and Don Kauffman had two hits apiece for the Schraders' team It was a rough week for Schrader's Raiders as they fell out of second place, back into third, as they were caught in the middle of the pennant race between the Tigers and Blazers.

The Tigers registered a 19-4 decision over Schraders Monday. Bart Leu and Tim Brownell each collected doubles among their five hits, and Scott Morefield, Bob Pegrum, and Jay Bartling also rapped out five hits for the Tigers, who outhit the Raiders 53-12 Mike Crane had three of those Raider hits Brown accounted for four more with a pair of hits

The Tigers had fewer hits in their Tuesday game with the Northville Township Pumas, but ran up an even more lop sided score, winning 33-3. Tim Brownell, Bob Pegrum, Todd Bartling, and Scott Morefield each had six hits and Pegrum had four doubles as the Tigers unleashed a 44hit attack apiece for the Pumas. The Tigers' third triumph of the week was a 30-2 walloping of the Del's Shoes Bears. Chris Koenig slugged a home run, Bart Leu had a triple and two doubles, and Tim Brownell stroked out six hits to pace the 44-hit Tiger attack

Kevin LeAnnais homered, Dave LeAnnais tripled, and Mike Sylvester had three hits, as the trio paced the Bears.

In the only other Tee-Ball game of the 1972 season, the Del's Shoes Bears picked up their second victory of the season as the Northville Township Pumas were unable to field a team and had to forfeit the game.

Memorial Field was the site of the Class B regional tournaments last week, as championship teams from the cities of Walled Lake, Southfield, Berkely, Birmingham, and Northville fought it out for the two berths to the state scheduled to play Wednesday surprisingly, the powerful Choo-Choo contingent did well and had clinched one of the two state berths before dropping out. Friday night they were to have played Southfield for the tournament championship, but the game was never played as the Car Washers were unable to field a full team and made the decision to drop out of the state tournament entirely.

The Choo-Choo team was done in by a combination of bad luck and the rule book. Two Choo-Choo regulars Phillippi and John Fawcett were ruled ineligible for the state tournament because they had played for more than one team during the summer.

Already short on numbers, the Car Washers suffered another loss Thursday when ace shortstop Pete Woodard showed up for the game on crutches with a twisted ankle.

Still, they were able to field the ten men required by state rules Thursday as AJ. Vaughn drove back from West Virginia in time for the game, Friday Vaughn was unable to make it and Choo-Choo had just nine men.

The Car Washers had clinched one of the top two spots in the tourney by winning two of their three games.

They got the tourney off to a good start by scoring three times in the top of the seventh and then holding off : a Birmingham rally in the bottom of the seventh to take a 10-7 victory.

Choo-Choo had jumped off to a quick three run lead in the first inning as Brian Gilles and Woodard opened the game with singles, Don Thomson and Dave Broad advanced them with sacrifice flies, and Joe Hay and Ken Kisabeth then added two more singles.

Broad got another rbi in the third when he drove in Woodard with the fourth Choo-Choo run, and then Ed McLoud, John Gilles, John Bida, and Woodard singled in the fourth to bring in two more runs. In the key three-run rally in the seventh inning, Gilles rapped his second single and Woodard followed with his fourth consecutive single. Broad then singled in Gilles and Woodard scored moments Jim Eskola had connected for later on an error on Joe Hay's Kisabeth drove in the final and when play resumed Thursday, the Berkely team had suffered its second loss and was eliminated from the tournament. Brimingham and Walled Lake had each lost once, leaving Choo-Choo and Souhfield as the only undefeated teams

Choo-Choo's undefeated status was removed in the first game as Southfield eked out a 10-7 victory. The Northville champions trailed by one run 8-7 at the end of five innings, but were unable to score again and Southfield added two seventh inning tallies to move the final score to 10-7

Broad was the leading Choo-Choo hitter in the loss as he banged out three singles. Vaughn was the only other Northville player with more than one hit, as he collected a pair of singles. Brian Gilles fifth inning triple was the lone extra-base hit for the Car Washers

Thursday's second game found Birmingham taking a tight 8-7 victory from Walled Lake in extra innings. The loss was the second for the Walled Lake team and eliminated them from the tournament, leaving three teams - undefeated Southfield and Northville and Birmingham, each with one loss.

The two squads battled it out in Thursday's third game. A loss meant elimination from the tournament A victory not only carried the right to meet Southfield for the district title, but also meant a berth in the state tourney.

Choo-Choo won 10-9.

The Car Washers opened the game with three firstinning runs, but Birmingham came back to score four times in the bottom of the first.

Vaughn's home run knotted the score at 4-all in the third, but Birmingham once again regained the lead with a three rally in the fourth. Two more runs in the top of the sixth pushed Birmingham's total number of runs to nine, but this time it was the Car Washers who came battling back, scoring three times in both the fifth and sixth innings to gain a 10-9 triumph.

Joe Hay opened the decisive three run surge in the sixth with a double. After Gerry Kisabeth grounded out, big Jerry Imsland reached base on an error and John Gilles followed with a run-producing single. Ed McLoud followed with a sacrifice fly and then John Bida and Brian Gilles added two more singles to drive in the winning runs.

The dramatic victory eliminated Birmingham and gave Choo-Choo the state tournament berth they had sought The decision was made the next day to drop out.

"It's too bad." Phillippi reiterated. "With our whole team I really think we could have won it all vengeful bunch, but last week they gained a good measure of revenge over their opponents in the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League and, quite frankly, it felt good Paced by the hitting and pitching of big Todd Price, the Jaycees not only salvaged what had become a disappointing season, but transformed it into a highly successful one by winning the league play-offs last week.

The 1972 season, the first in which Novi has had its own men's league, had turned into something of an embarrassment for the Jaycees After sailing through the first half of the year undefeated, the Jaycee team became as vulnerable as the Detroit Lions' front four and lost four of its six games in the second half of the season to finish no higher than third in the final

But all that disappointment was erased last week as the Jaycees swept to three straight victories to pick up the trophy in the post-season regular season. The Thompson Travel Center squad.

The Travelers finished fifth in the league with a 5-7 record, but during the play-offs suddenly came to life and won twice before losing to the Jaycees in the finals.

The Jaycees qualified for the semi-finals by beating the Novi Police Officers 8-0 last week, while the Travelers moved into the semi-finals by recording a 12-11 upset of a strong Michigan-Ohio Air Filters squad.

The Jaycees had the tougher opponent in the semifinals as they found themselves face to face with league-champion Novi Inn

It was no contest. The Jaycees blasted the league champions 22-8.

In all fairness to the Inn it should be mentioned that their ace-pitcher. Klaus Bujack, wasn't available until the fourth inning and by that time the Jaycees had sent 32 men to the plate and scored 18 runs to have the game well in game was another team that runs over the final three inhad performed somewhat less nings, but his efforts than spectacularly during the amounted to a classic example of shutting the barn door after the horses have escaped.

The Inn, meanwhile, couldn't get its own offense cranked up as Todd Price allowed just eight hits, two apiece by Brian Deneen and Bujack. Mike Welsh, the Inn's power-hitting center fielder, was held to just one hit in three trips to the plate.

Jim Cherfoli paced the Jaycee attack, belting a three-run homer in the second and a two-run round tripper in the sixth. Doug Thrush also homered for the Jaycees, while Chuck Gramlich and Mick Veenstra each added three hits to the 19-hit attack.

The Travelers advanced to the finals by recording a 17-5 triumph over Meadowbrook Lakes in their semi-final game Tuesday. Vic Pietela. Traveler second baseman, sparked his team to a 7-2 lead after three innings.

Pietela could do no better than triple in the fifth inning, but Bill Skeltis made up for the lapse by belting another home run for the Travel Center to up their lead to 10-4 and set the stage for a six-run sixth inning rally that sealed the victory

The championship game was played Wednesday and, as might be expected after the semi-final games, it proved to be a nard-hitting affair.

The Travel Center won the home run derby in the game as Lloyd Huotarı, Vıc Pietela, and Bill Skeltis each stroked round trippers, but the Jaycees won the game 16-9

The Jaycees scored five times in the first and added four more in both the second and fourth innings to lead all the way Only in the top of the fourth when the Travelers capitalized on the circuit clouts of Huotari and Skeltis to score six times and cut the score to 13-9 was the game

But Jaycee hurler Todd Price held the Travelers scoreless the rest of the way and his teammates added three more runs to bring the final score to 16-9

The Travelers had to play the championship game without the services of pitcher Harry Ortwine, who pitched them into the finals, and the Jaycees took advantage of the loss by pounding out 22 hits Pacing the Jaycee hitters were Todd Price, who slapped out four consecutive hits and Jim Cherfoli, whose three run homer in the second was his third home run of the week. Hugh Crawford had three hits for the Jaycees Concerning the request of rezoning on his property, Folino denied a report in The Record that commercial property, surrounded by Parking lots, would be more valuable than residential. (Some officials had indicated the value of the property would increase, thus subjecting the council to criticism(.

Folino said the manager had told planners the property value would not increase. The manager, however, denied he had made such a comment, saying he could not predict what would happen to the value.

Council plans call for property-several lots deepsouth of Cady, between Center and Wing, to be earmarked for parking to meet city obligations for commercial parking. Rezoning of Folino's properly would mean it could become an island of commerical surrounded by parking.

Folino reiterated earlier contentions that parking south of Cady on Center would destroy potential for prime commercial and professional office development.

The widowed, self-educated piano tuner, who lives in Northville, speaks and writes Esperanto almost as well as his precise English which still carries a tinge of British accent even though he was but a boy when he came to the United States.

What is Esperanto?

It is a language devised late in the 19th Century by Dr. L. L. Zamenhof, a Polish Jew physician who contended many of the regional, national and international conflicts were rooted in separation and misunderstanding of people by a host of widely different languages and dialects.

Free communication through a common language would do much to bind the peoples of the world together, he reasoned.

Unlike imperfect national languages that developed over centuries of "hit and miss" techniques, Esperanto is the world's only language that was carefully planned in advance of use, explains Lockhart.

"For that reason," he continues, "Esperanto avoids many of the mistakes, the painful exceptions to rules of national "English is a prime example: Unless you picked up the English language at your mother's knee it was an enormously mixed up mess to learn. French, German, Russian...they're almost as bad.

"Mandarin is the closest, perhaps, next to Esperanto, of being a pure language. Yet, ironically, many sections of China, where Mandarin is the official language, people are separated by communication barriers because they still cling to ancient dialects."

Dr. Zamenhof, who spoke many languages, painstakingly culled from a variety of languages those words having a similar apearance and sound. He came up with a 4,266 word vocabulary. In addition to this vocabulary he added 40 suffixes and 30

"His major task, however, was to design a simplified grammar in which accuracy of thought transmission could be attained with the fewest number of rules," explains Lockhart. "So he reduced the whole language structure to just 16 grammatical rules-far fewer than in any other language- and he provided for no exceptions to these rules.

Following 10 years of work on his new language, Dr. Zamenhof's invention was published-"somehow slipping past the Russian czar's censors''-under the pseudonym of Dr. Esperanto. He chose this name because it means "hope" -- hope that his new language would fill an international amounted to about $2,000 last maximum use year in Brighton. The vandals were caught on several occasions and a little over $400 was paid back to the school district. That left about $1,600 for Brighton taxpayers to shoulder.

The same cannot be said of the South Lyon school district. There, it's reported, vandalism to school property is climbing.

Earl Busard, business director, says last year vandalism in Northville public schools amounted to about $5,000—a drop from previous years.

Ewing Eberhardt, building and grounds supervisor, couldn't lay his hands immediately on figures, but he ventured that vandalism was increasing in South Lyon public schools.

Less than $1,000 was recovered through restitution in 1971-72, he said.

Several factors play a part in the decline of vandalism in Northville and Brighton as revealed through talks with Business Director Busard and Superintendent Lone.

-Presence of someone on school grounds

—Location of the school -Lighting outside the school

The building itself, including design and materials -Student identity with the --National tenor

Perhaps the top vandalism deterrant is the presence of an employee on school property, especially during late night hours lasting until about 1

Northville accomplished this, Busard said, through increased use of the high school and by shifting the working hours of custodians at some schools from 3:30 p.m. - 11:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. -1:30 a.m.

Brighton accomplished the same end by a less calculated manuever. The Brighton school system has a Community Schools Program offering enrichment and high school classes for credit, beginning in the evening and continuing into the late night

Northville High School is a vivid example of how the presence of someone on the school premises discourages vandalism. Intentional damaging of school property has been slashed 95 percent. because somebody is in the building 24 hours a day, seven days a week, either teachers, administrators, or custodians as the school is put to work hours was necessary at the three Northville elementary schools, Busard pointed out. It is hoped employee presence will help to offset the disadvantage of relatively remote building location at Main and Moraine elementary schools.

Main Elementary is located on Main Street in the center of Northville, but there is a serious lack of lighting to the rear of the school building. Moraine is located on Eight Mile Road, but fields surround it on three sides and it is somewhat removed from other school buildings which are in more populated areas in Northville.

The building itself may act as a deterrant to vandalism. If there is a lot of glass, for instance, vandalism is likely to be more prevalent.

Busard says that Northville replaces breakable glass windows with plexi-glass windows, which may be scratched but are virtually impossible to break. When door windows are broken in Northville, they are replaced with plated steel doors and painted.

The appearance of the school, Brighton Superintendent Lone says, may also act as a deterrant. A well-kept building, he said, is less likely to suffer damage, probably because students will take pride in it and attempt to keep it in good shape.

A new wing recently was added to the Brighton Middle School, Lone said, and this improved appearance has led to decline in vandalism at that Giving students a decision in "how the building looks" also makes inroads against vandalism, Lone says Here, again, pride plays a part in that students have a chance to identify with "their school", the superintendent said.

What happens on the national scene also has an impact locally, Lone maintains. When demonstrations. on college campuses and damaged university buildings were common in the past few years, Lone claims local students were influenced and vented their rebellious attitudes upon local schools.

In the past year or so, Lone explained, the national tenor has calmed and the same

Voters to Decide 4 Proposals

ticipatory democracy concept is having one of its brightest moments in Michigan this

Michigan voters, in addition to all the usual offices they yete for, have petitioned four different proposals onto the November ballot for a final decision by the electorate. Each one is an attempt to do something the Legislature could not reach agreement on or an attempt to override the Legislature. The four proposal vote becomes even more fascinating when it is known that less than one-third of the states even allow their citizenry access to the ballot through the petition route.

MOST RECENT arrivals to the ballot are two proposals petition drive launched by Gov. William G. Milliken and the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

The first of these would virtually wipe out the property tax as a means of financing schools. The second would allow the Legislature to levy a graduated state income tax rather than the flat rate tax it now levies on personal income.

The joint petition drive was launched following the failure of efforts to achieve some sort of legislative agreement on property tax relief. Milliken has been working since 1969 to find some sort of program which both Republicans and Democrats could buy, but to no avail. He finally decided to go over the Legislature to the people to see if they would approve hiş program

The Governor calls the proposal for property tax relief "the single most important statewide issue for

PROBABLY the most controversial item is abortion law reform which also was put on the ballot through the. petition route.

The proposal would give Michigan one of the most liberal abortion laws in the country. It would permit a woman to have an abortion for any reason during the first 20 weeks of her pregnancy Current Michigan law allows an abortion only to save the life of the mother.

The abortion petition drive also began as the result of 1egislative inaction and stalemate. An abortion liberalization bill passed the Senate in early 1971, but never got anywhere in the House, due mainly to the fervent opposition of House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit.

When it became obvious the House would never approve an abortion bill, the petition drive was launched.

THE FINAL petitioned onto the ballot by the people deals with the question of daylight-saving time (DST). It is the latest step in a series of actions which have been taken in Michigan on a sometimes controversial issue.

Michigan, along with three other states, originally exempted itself from the uniform time law passed by Congress which calls for observance of DST unless the state specifically exempts itself. The exemption, originally voted by the Legislature, was upheld in a 1968 statewide vote by a margin of less than 500 votes. Backers of DST soon went

Profit Sharing Climbs

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass .-The growth of pension funds and profit sharing plans over the past two decades has been dynamic. This applies to the number of programs initiated, the size of benefit payments, and the dollar volume of capital contributed to these accounts to cover each employe eligible to participate.

And the numbers bulk even larger with the Keogh Plan-type programs utilized by small businesses and professional enterprises operating as individual proprietorships or partnerships.

MONIES PAID into pension funds and profit sharing accounts that exceed current disbursements of benefits become capital which is fed into the economy in one way or another. Directly or indirectly, such surplus monies are eventually invested in bonds and stocks, and in mortgages.

This is true even when the funds are kept in bank deposits, certificates of deposit, or any other highly liquid form of investment.

It is evident that the hopes forsecurity in the future for an increasingly large segment of the nation's populace lie in pension funds and profit sharing plans. Hence, arguments regarding the integrity of the American dollar and the climate needed to foster private capital investments are not simply topics for debate during a time when political elections rank high in the thoughts of young, middle-aged, and senior citizens alike.

HOW MUCH is at stake may be gathered from statistics on insurance-based plans issued by the Institute of Life Insurance. At the end of 1971, according to this source, there were nearly 335,000 such plans in force, with reserves for benefit payments amounting to $46.35 billion for about 111/2 million persons covered.

'Young' Mike Austin Wins State PGA Seniors Crown

By BILL SLIGER

When I learned Mike Austin had won the Michigan Professional Golfers Association Seniors championship at Lakewood Country Club at Oscoda last week, I called to offer my congratualtions.

The colorful Chemung Hills Country Club professional had beaten a field of that state's best "over-50" PGA golfers. And at 63 he was certainly not among the youngest competing.

Readers may remember an article about Austin and his exploits published in this newspaper last year.

Now in his second year at the nine-hole club near Howell, Austin hails from Hollywood, California. He's married to an artist-actress, boasts that he can whip six men and drive a golf ball farther than anyone, once won $10,000 betting he could score five on a four-par hole using a Coke bottle for a club (he scored four), shot a 29-37-66 in the Bing Crosby tournament, defeated Lloyd Mangrum and Paul Runyan in match play, filmed golf lessons wearing a black leotard skeleton suit to demonstrate use of the joints in a golf swing, and has given golf lessons to Howard Hughes.

"Michael, I've got a great idea for an article", I told him.

"You're the new champion of the senior golfers. How about telling us middle-agers how to improve and prolong our golfing ability so that we can enjoy golfing into our golden years?"

There followed a silence that is not characteristic of Austin.

"It's a natural", I continued. "There are hundreds of guys in their forties, fifties and sixties who would jump at the chance to take a lesson from the Michigan PGA Seniors Cham-

More silence.

"Michael?"

"Everybody was talking about how far I was hitting the ball. A drive and an iron to the par fives; a drive and a flip wedge to the par fours", Austin responded.

"But I couldn't putt a lick. Put every shot inside a 10-foot circle; didn't make a putt'', he

"About the article, Michael. I thought I'd come up to see you, maybe play a round with Charley and Paul. You could give me another lesson. Then I'll pass along the word to the other oldtimers", I pursued.

"Well, come on up", Mike replied halfheartedly.

The next day I lunched with the out-going

"Just what kind of an article are you planning to write?", he asked.

"Advice to the senior golfers from the senior champion", I reiterated.

Then it hit me!

The 1972 Michigan PGA Seniors champion really wasn't OLD enough to participate in the tournament.

Mike Austin is only 63 in years...not body, mind

He's another Sam Snead, strong enough and good enough to challenge anyone on a golf course. He'll admit his eyes have weakened. But After lunch we joined Charley Fox, a veteran pro with an unerring putting stroke now living in Florida, and Paul Shepherd, formerly at Meadowbrook Country Club in Northville and now affiliated with El Cabellero Country Club in California as a teaching professional.

I learned again how young the 63-year-old Mike Austin really is.

On a muggy day with rain-soaked fairways that provided little or no roll Mike reached the par five 537-yard fourth hole in two; he hit his drive pin-high to the left on the 310-yard seventh; and hit the elevated green on the 208-yard par three third hole with a three iron.

So what's his advice for golfers of all ages?

Conditioning comes first. Mike suggests jumping rope as one of the best exercises. Strong legs are important to good golfing, he emphasizes.

After that it's a matter of proper use of the body joints. Austin calls himself a "kinesiologist", a student of muscular action. He teaches his pupils to use their joints as they are designed so that they may swing the golf club properly.

His instructions include the teaching of proper balance and use of the 12 levers—the two wrists, two elbows, two shoulders, two hips, two knees and two ankles.

His terminology may get a little complicated, if you're not an M.D. or a "kinesiologist".

But the basic principle is quite simple...it's doing what comes naturally to the joints in your

Mike will be glad to show and tell you what golf's all about. Just don't put too much emphasis on that "seniors" part of his new golf title.

In the next week or two, Mike will be competing in the Michigan Open and PGA tournaments, open to all ages. And later this fall he'll try to wrest the National PGA Seniors crown from Sam Snead.

A mighty big order even for a senior as young as Mike Austin.

Little Charley Fox can't hit them as long as Mike, but he's deadly on the greens.

Playroom Planned At College

A Child Play Center for the children of students attending the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College has been established for the fall, 1972 session.

Designed to solve the babysitting problems of citizens who wish to enroll in classes at the College, the Play Center will be in operation during the day so that students can carry a full schedule during the year announcing availability of the new center, Don D. Nichols, dean of Students, explained:

"Funds for the center were initiated by a $1,000 contribution by the campus Student Government from student activity funds. We have also received about $500 in donations from the Orchard Ridge faculty and staff. This amount is enough to get the play center started and we plan to make a supplementary request to the Student Activities Office to carry us through the first year of operation'

The Child Play Center will be located on the main floor of "J" Building and will be open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Children between the ages of 2 and 6 will be accommodated. "It is hoped that citizens who were previously unable to take classes because of babysitting problems will now be able to enroll," commented Dean

The center is currently seeking a full-time super-Materials and visor. equipment to outfit the center are also needed. Persons wishing further information about the play center may call the dean's office, 476-9400.

Babson Report: Profit Sharing Climbs

Pension programs have become an economic factor of such magnitude that Congress has been probing various legislative proposals designed to protect those eligible for such fringe benefits. While much emphasis has been placed on the "vested interest" facet of this important subject, realistic guidelines for proper investment of pension fund monies are also being studied-with rumblings in favor growing louder in a number of state legislatures.

particularly regulations governing investment of the monies involved in programs with trust funds which are invested in securities, and which may be administered by individuals.
SOME OF YOU who regularly follow this column are undoubtedly entrusted with the duty of formulating, or approving, investment policies and actions in connection with such fiduciary funds, either individually or as part of a committee.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports feels that the trend of legislative action clearly renders inappropriate—and probably illegal in the future—the inappropriate—and penny-pinching tactic of "going it alone" to avoid the cost of investment guidance. Those with such responsibility should, therefore, take steps to secure independent and experienced assistance in investment counseling, in the essentials of properly employing fiduciary monies.

EVEN THOUGH the stock market may appear rather high at the present time when viewed against the popular economic barometers, the investment credibility gap of the past year or so has left many good stocks at what may yet prove to be bargain prices. Also, many top-notch bonds are available at rewarding yields.

Thus, investment conditions are still favorable for the inauguration of pension funds or profit sharing plans, or for satisfactory augmentation of any such fringe benefit programs already in operation.

September Offers New Look at State

As September crosses the horizon of the year, Michigan coyly lowers the veil of summer green to reveal the first blush of its autumnal

It's a casual revelation, in the beginning, with occasional splashes of crimson sumac, yellow birch and nut brown oak peaking through green pines along Lake Superior's shores in the Upper Penin-Then suddenly you awake to find the entire landscape transformed into a profusion of hues and tints that encompass the total spectrum of the color wheel.

This annual phenomenon usually begins between mid, and late September, crossing the majestic Mackinac Bridge Michigan's Lower Peninsula during the early days of October. From mid to late October, the entire State is ablaze with this extravagance of color, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Autumn in Michigan has much to offer the visitor. Activity slows to a more leisurely. pace and accommodations are less crowded than during the summer months. Most of the recreational pursuits of summer are still to be pursued and enjoyed even more in the autumn's magnificent setting. Pleasant roadsideparks invite planned and impromptu picnics, campgrounds canopied by a rainbow of color promise quiet rest and mysterious, leaf covered trails beckon the hiker to, "follow me". Dew covered mornings, balmy days and crisp nights act as a magic elixir, soothing spirits and calming frayed nerves.

Many communities plan special events that blend with the season and harvest festivals, county fairs and antique shows are prevalent throughout the State. Color tours are a favorite weekend activity for Michiganians and highly recommended to visitors.

Color tours are particularly appealing because they cost nothing except time and gasoline for your car. They also afford the opportunity to indulge in some sightseeing and to absorb some of the history and legend of the twenty-sixth state. In order that you may enjoy this pursuit to the fullest, the Michigan Tourist Council has compiled an Autumn Tour Guide containing 24 suggested tours mapped throughout both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas with particular points of interest noted.

To catch the first glimpse of the autumn spectacular, the best place to be is in the Keweenaw Peninsula, the heart of Michigan's copper country. Following this tour takes you along panoramic Brockway Mountain Drive and back to Houghton through lush forests and withering ghost towns that testify to the energetic days of the copper boom.

Toward the middle of the season you can take your choice of tours along Lake Michigan or Lake Huron shores or follow inland routes that are equally picturesque. On the Lake Michigan side, you'll find Holland, complete with wooden shoes, the authentic Dutch windmill "DeZwaan" and the influence of old Amsterdam. The Silver Lake and Sleeping Bear dunes hold a perennial fascination.

Many travelers enjoy visiting Interlochen Center for the Arts, southwest of Traverse City and Cross Village, north of Harbor Springs, the site of one of Michigan's oldest Ottawa Indian settlements.

Suggested stops in East Michigan include the Lum-

Summer Vacations: Time for Re-Creation

Reverend Frederick Prezioso Epiphany Lutheran Church Northville Township

At this vacation time of the year, we have a special opportunity to consider how our family vacations can be used not only for recreation, but also for family "re-creation." For stewardship, in the Christian sense, has to do not only with money, but with making the most of God's gifts, including the family.

Vacation time is an opportunity for families to work together, discussing and planning the year ahead. What are our plans as a total family? What will the individual members be doing? What does each want and need to do? What do we want to accomplish as the unique family that we are? And I am speaking here of concrete, "get-it-down-on-paper" planning, during the relative calm of a few days or weeks at the cottage, at the seashore, or just plain relaxing at home.

This is the chance to set goals, determine roles, establish priorities. It is the chance to rediscover the significance you have as a family, living, working, playing and struggling together in the rough and tumble of the twentieth century.

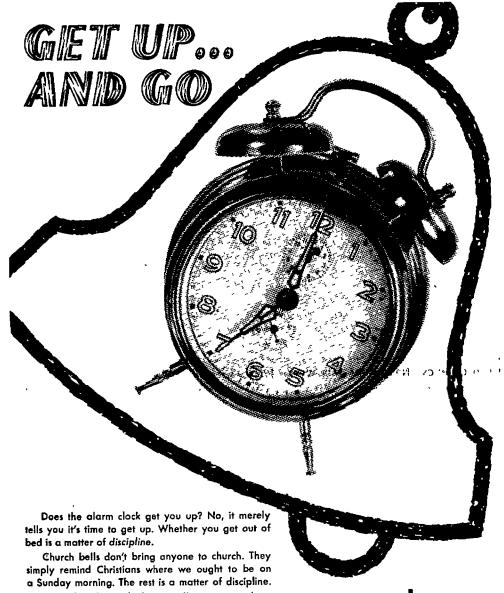

Another thing that can be done is to plan for "family meetings" to be held at a regular time every week. This is a time when you decide that being together as a family takes priority over all other commitments. It might be at Sunday dinner, or Monday morning breakfast, or after Sunday night supper. But it will be that time when the whole tamily gathers to discuss the issues and events coming up during the week. It will be that time when weekly calendars are coordinated and finalized. It will be that time when decisions are made as to who gets the family car(s), and when, and for what. What are the baby-sitting needs, meal planning needs, Another possibility for vacation time is to plan, as a family, to set aside a certain time each and every day when the entire family will be together. I know of one family that does this over supper. Each member takes a turn at saying grace, and then, while the meal is being eaten, each family member is asked in turn, "What was your most significant event today?" This gives an opportunity for each person to examine his or her day, and share at least one happening that has been seen as the most significant. The question could be varied, as well as the time.

For example, maybe the only possible time for a busy family to gather would be for an early breakfast., The question then might be, "What one event or experience are you most looking forward to today?" Whatever the details, it can be very helpful to provide such a time on a regular basis, to enable family communication.

These are only a few suggestions. You can certainly discover other possibilities together. The single most important element is the desire on the part of individual family members. Summertime vacations provide an opportunity not only for recreational fun, but also for families to "recreate" themselves; and to rediscover for themselves, a unique meaning and significance, amid the sometimes conflicting demands of job, school and community.

Such discipline, whether it calls you to work or to worship, is fundamentally a trait of your own character. It begins with earnestness, it is strengthened by habit, it is directed toward any responsibility or opportunity which you value.

The value a person puts upon God and his own soul usually determines whether he worships each Sunday, or now and then. Put another way: the man who knows what worship and inspiration can mean in his life never is hesitant to get up and go.

And, of course, discipline has special meaning for a Christian: those who lived and worked with Christ were DISCIPLES.

RAISE YOUR HAND IF YOU'RE READY FOR SCHOOL!

So they're not quite ready to give up summer fun for classroom confinement! Can you blame them?

Most parents are a lot like kids. Few would raise their hands if asked if they have all the money they need to meet back-to-school expenses!

There's no way out for the kids . . . but parents can ease the strain on the family budget by exchanging unused items in the home for cash. It's easy . . . just dial the office nearest you to place a buyer-

Esperanto: A Bridge?

throughout Europe. With World War I, however, it suffered a major setback but, following the war, it was given some prominence through agencies of the League of Nations.

French post-war dominance, however, was a major stumbling block, says Lockhart, and Esperanto's influence was limited. When World War II broke out it again suffered at the hands of nationalism. The language was banned by Germany, Italy, and Russia.

Following World War II, Esperanto seemingly had clear sailing with the establishment of the international United Nations organization. But, just as French dominated the League, English dominates the United Nations, asserts Lockhart.

Nevertheless, in Europe Esperanto is making great strides, he says. Although the International Esperanto organization, headquartered in the Netherlands, has only 100,000 members, it is estimated that some 10 to 12 million people, mostly living in Europe, can speak the language.

Only in recent years has Esperanto made any real headway in North America. More and more schools and universities, says Lockhart, are beginning to teach the language.

Early this month the international organization held its first annual convention in the United States since 1915 when only 163 persons attended. Held at Portland, Oregon, this year's convention drew 900 Esperantists from 40 nations...Lockhart included.

Lockhart learned the language during the Depression in the 1930's.

"With little else to do I concluded I should do something worthwhile to occupy my time," he says. "My father had toyed with Esperanto in England, so I began using his books to learn the language on my own.

"Just as I found it an easy language to learn so would you. I'm not a wizard. English grammar frightens me as much as it does junior high school students.'

Esperanto spelling, he explains, is strictly

There is no such thing as arbitrary grammatical gender—the most illogical of all difficult features in most languages. There is only one conjugation

There are no irregular verbs, irregular nouns, or exceptions to grammatical rules.

Root words were selected from a stock of words already used internationally so that a majority of the Esperanto words are recognized upon sight without study. And the use of prefixes and suffixes greatly reduces the number of words which must be separately memorized

Take the Esperanto root word patro

As patra it becomes (paternal); as patre (paternally); as patrujo (fatherland); as pat rino (mother); as patrina (maternal or motherly); as patrineco (motherhood); as patrineto (little mother, used for endearment); as panjo (momma); as pachjo (papa or daddy); as gepatroj (parents); as gepatra (parental); as prepatroj (forefathers); and as pragepatroj (an-

Furthermore, order of words is simple and free. A sentence in Esperanto may be written with different word order and still be grammatically correct, says Lockhart But even more importantly, it is easily understood as having the same meaning, he adds.

In English many words are spelled the same way but have totally different meanings. Take the word "cross," for example. It is sometimes a noun, sometimes an adjective, sometimes a preposition. sometimes a transitive verb, and sometimes an intransitive verb. In English there is nothing in the form, sound, or spelling of words to distinguish one part of speech from another "Under" is a preposition, "sunder" is a verb, while 'blunder' is either a noun or a verb. "Houses" is a noun, but "rouses" is a verb.

According to Lockhart, people who take up Esperanto become "parts-of-speechminded," Every noun ends in "o" in the nominative singular, and even in plural and in accusative (the only other forms) it has an "o" in the last syllable Every adjective is similarly marked by an "a" in the last syllable, and every derived adverb shows as "e" in the last syllable.

If it is such an easy language to learn why then has it failed, thus far, to attain international prominence?

Lockhart sees several reasons:

Countries are nationalistic, with deep seated partiotism, that look with disfavor on internationalism. Even the United Nations has many enemies World powers have attempted to spread their influence by propagandizing their languages. They see their languages as the best means for international communication.

Many linguists and university scholars, who pride themselves in their language specialities, scorn Esperanto as elementary gibberish. They do so, contends Lockart, because Esperanto is something they haven't tried and therefore they are reduced from the level of the egotistic teacher to the learner.

Wars have forced nations to fear internationalism and hence Esperanto. "What opponents fail to realize," phasizes Lockhart, "is that the Esperanto movement does not propose to replace national languages but rather it proposes to supplement them with a language everyone can understand.

"It's a neutral language, having neither political nor religious ties. National patriots have nothing to fear from Esperanto."

As for opponents in language circles, Lockhart sees signs of encouragement. "More and more of them are beginning to see the necessity for a universal language.

"Interestingly, some of them see Esperanto as a good ('starter' language for secondary students. It is easy to learn, and thus less likely to discourage students. Furthermore, they are finding that Esperanto makes learning of other languages easier, and it makes for better understanding of the learner's own language."

Lockhart, who is so enthusiastic about promoting the language that he offers to assist a class of self-learners in the area, concludes with this observation:

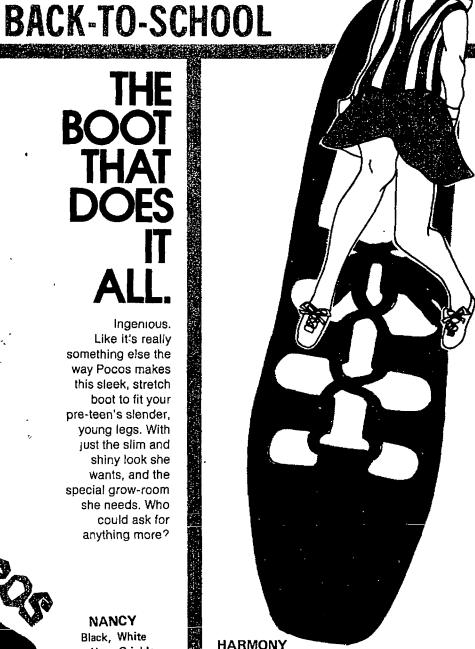

"English is our great rich language. We will never let it go. But Esperanto is the so lution to the world language problem '
