Tenants Told for New Complex

September Opening Scheduled

Hailing Northville Square as a "new type of urban shopping mall", the developers of the 80,000-square-foot Main at Wing street retail center held official ground-breaking ceremonies Monday.

They predicted opening of the mall in September, 1973 and revealed that five tenant leases have been signed, two more are awaiting signature, and that letters of intent have either been signed or requested from nine other retailers.

A total of between 20 and 24 shops are anticipated.

R. H. McManus, who formed Northville Square Co., was the chief spokesman at the ceremonies. Mayor A. M. Allen, who called the project "urban renewal without federal government participation", took the first turn with the shovel.

McManus introduced his partners in the project, chief among whom are Ralph, Thomas and Lawrence Dailey of the R. E. Dailey & Co., Detroit general contractors, plus several other investors, none from Northville.

A spokesman for Shopping Centers, Inc., which is handling both leasing and management of the mall, announced that the following retailers had signed leases:

- Harvi's Suburban Casuals;
- Land of Hi Fi & Jazz;
- Elias Bros., family restaurant;
- Perkos Family Shoes;
- Max Green's Men's Wear.

He said that leases are out for signature from Universal International Travel Agency and Hobby & Craft. Letters of Intent have been signed, he added, by Coney Island, The Attic and Detroit Vital Foods. His list also included stores that have unsigned letters of intent, which are Nu Vision Optical, Libby Ann, Inc., T. H. Eurich Company, Orin Jewelers, Amien Carter and Kowalski's.

Architect Louis G. Redstone, head of the firm which designed Northville Square, stated that the bi-level structure is unique among today's shopping malls. He noted that the center has no large department store as its focal point. Rather, the concept is to provide personal attention to shoppers' needs through a collection of many smaller fashion shops.

And, unlike most centers, he noted, Northville Square is located in the middle of Northville's shopping district rather than on vast open spaces outside the town, thus draining off retail business from the older shopping section.

"This was a visionary choice, and could conceivably have far-reaching effects on malls of the future. Many Americans are simply overwhelmed by the size and impersonality of sprawling, core-type centers. We think they're ready to return to Main Street", Redstone added.

Northville Square is the result of efforts undertaken more than five years ago by the Northville Area Economic Development Committee. The non-profit organization composed of members from both the city and township started assembling land at the

Thanksgiving

"For his bounty, there was no winter in it; an autumn 'twas that grew the more by reaping." These words by William Shakespeare have no better meaning than now as this nation pauses to reflect on its many blessings and share a common spirit of thankfulness. Jay T. Cross of Northville contemplates the harvest of his 75 years.

Joint Service Tonight

Communities Unite In Spirit of Thanks

Five Northville-Novl churches will join together in a community Thanksgiving service tonight (Wednesday) in the Northville High School auditorium.

Citizens throughout both communities, regardless of their religious beliefs, are invited to attend the 8 p.m. ecumenical service. It is the first of its kind to be presented here.

"The service is truly a cooperative community endeavor," said the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of the First Presbyterian Church, one of the participating clergymen. "It gives everyone a special opportunity to join together in offering thanks for our many blessings."

Patriotism--too often a superficial commodity in today's society--will play a role in the service, he said.

Participating churches include the Presbyterian, the First United Methodist Church of Northville, the Novi United Methodist Church, Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church of Northville, the Holy Cross Episcopal Mission of Novi.

Both the Northville High School band, under the direction of Robert Williams, and the high school choir, directed by Miss Anita Kalousdian, will be performing.

The Reverend Father John Wittstock of OLV will set the theme for a national Thanksgiving; Mr. Brasure will present a brief homily--A Nation at Prayer; the Reverend Leslie Harding of Holy Cross will lead a litany of Thanksgiving; the Reverend Guenther Branstner of Northville United Methodist will present a brief homily on Personal Thanksgiving, the Reverend Philip Seymour of Novi United Methodist will present a reading from St. Luke, and the Reverend Father John Wyskiel of OLV will give the benediction.

Also, John Regenhart, a layman of the Presbyterian Church, will lead a litany of petitions, and Timothy Kolata, layman of OLV, will read passages from the Bible.

Hymns to be sung by the audience will include "Praise God from Whom All Blessings

Architecture Manual Sought by Planners

Northville city planners have requested funds from the city council to compile a manual of Early American architecture.

Purpose of the manual, it was explained, is to develop guides that can be used in encouraging such architecture in new and remodeled non-residential buildings in the city.

In 1963, the city council adopted a resolution encouraging such architecture.

But according to Planning Consultant Ronald Nino, a clear definition of what is meant by Early American architecture is needed. The manual would depict acceptable Early American facades for new or rehabilitated buildings.

City Manager Turns Auctioneer

City Manager Frank Ollendorff is slated to become an auctioneer temporarily.

With the razing soon of two residential dwellings--one on Dunlap Street next door to the new restaurant under construction and the other at the southeast corner of Cady and Wing streets--the council decided Monday to publicly auction off parts of both buildings.

Sale of interior and exterior fixtures may help pay for demolition, councilmen reasoned. Neither building is suitable apparently for sale and moving, they learned.

Both sites are earmarked for parking. Because relatively few saleable fixtures are involved, the council decided to give the job of auctioneering to the city manager rather than to hire a professional auctioneer.

Date of the auction has not yet been set. Interested persons should contact the city manager.

A public hearing to repeal Northville's controversial ordinance banning throw-away beverage containers--scheduled to go into effect January 1--has been set for Monday, December 18.

City councilmen, while convinced a state-wide ban on such containers is desirable, decided to repeal the ordinance before it goes into effect because no other local area municipalities have enacted ordinance bans. Encouraged by other metropolitan area communities, the council two years ago quickly enacted the ordinance only to learn later that Northville was the only community in the area to do so. Therefore the council delayed the effective date of the ordinance until January 1, 1973.

To institute a ban here while other communities do not would work an unfair hardship on local retailers, councilmen reasoned.

However, in setting the December 18 hearing, councilmen made it clear that arguments heard in the ordinance's favor could possibly convince them to let the ordinance stand or delay its effectiveness for another year.

The city manager and Attorney Philip Ogilvie have been directed to draw up a proposed amendment to the city's new sign ordinance to exempt certain historical, institutional and tourist signs from restrictions.

That these signs were not considered at the time of the sign ordinance's adoption was an oversight, councilmen explained.

Specifically the council has in mind signs for churches, historical sites, and tourist attractions such as Northville

GROUND BREAKING--Mayor A. M. Allen of Northville digs in with some coaching from Richard McManus, developer of the giant Northville Square complex, during groundbreaking ceremonies Monday. Now nearly 50-percent leased, the two-story building covering more than a half-block, is expected to be completed by fall of next year. See related picture on Page 9-A.

PUBLIC HEARING will be held Tuesday, December 5, at 8 p.m. on the proposed $314,000 sewer construction project for Grand View Acres in Northville township. While definite cost of the sewer installation to each homeowner has not been established, township officials estimate cost will range between $20 and $22 per front foot. The hearing will be held at the township offices, 301 West Main Street.

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of $750,000 Northville schools' building bonds will be opened Monday night at the school board's 8 p.m. meeting. Proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used by the district for options on future school sites, remodeling and equipping existing buildings and development existing school sites. The meeting will be held at the board offices, 303 West Main Street.

NORTHVILLE SCHOOLS recessed for Thanksgiving vacation at the end of the school day Wednesday and will open for classes again on Monday, school officials announced. School board offices will also be closed for the long holiday weekend.

A MOVE to oust Mrs. Mary Dumas as secretary of the Schoolcraft Community College Board of Trustees because she allegedly "used the office to further her political career" failed last week in a 4-3 vote by trustees. Mrs. Dumas was recently elected Wayne County Commissioner and is due to take her county office in January. Meanwhile, the college board has requested a written opinion from the Michigan Attorney General regarding a possible conflict of interest when a member of the college board is also seated on the county commission with concurrent terms of office.

Marionette Adventure Set Here

A Saturday afternoon melodramatic adventure, complete with a villain, a heroine and a hero, awaits youngsters on December 2 at Northville High School.

That's the day puppeteer Ed Johnson brings his marionette cast of "Emmy's Cow" to town.

The play, which is being sponsored by the Northville Jayettes, is set in the 19th century. The plot concerns Emmy, the heroine, who lives with her elderly mother. The villain, Bazel Bub, schemes to marry the mother, hoping that she will soon die and that he will inherit her property.

Emmy, meanwhile, learns that her mother must have plenty of cow's milk to drink if she is to live. By coincidence, Corny, the hero, just happens to have one to sell. Bazel Bub attempts to kill the cow and the chase begins.

There are two performances scheduled, one at 1 p.m. and the other at 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Admission is 50 cents per person.

Tickets are to be sold in the Northville Public Schools and students will be receiving information regarding times and places within the next week. In addition to the school sales, tickets will be available at the door.

"Emmy's Cow", in addition to the marionettes and organ music, includes a part for the audience.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

LAST FRIDAY was one of those dates when several community residents wished it possible to be in two places at once. The choice between attending a wedding and a surprise party is a difficult one.

The wedding ceremony, at 8 p.m. Friday in Detroit united the Reverend George Parsons Jerome of Northville and Mrs. Lucille DeVew. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure of Northville First Presbyterian Church officiated at the service attended by family members.

The Reverend Jerome's colleague at Northville State Hospital, the Reverend Father Stanley Kukulski, Catholic chaplain, participated in the ceremony with a reading. The Reverend Jerome serves as Protestant chaplain at the hospital and at Detroit House of Correction.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Starkey, Jr., of Farmington. He is the bride's brother. She is the daughter of Mrs. John Starkey of Auburn Heights and the late Mr. Starkey.

Mrs. DeVew is a Detroit News staff writer in the Accent for Living section. The couple met last March through an assignment given Mrs. DeVew.

She was to do a story on how men alone (widowed or divorced) fare. She confided to former Northville resident Alice (Mrs. Richard) Kay that she was having difficulty getting men to talk. The Kays then arranged a dinner party with Mrs. DeVew and the Reverend Jerome among the guests.

There wasn't much opportunity, however, to talk about Mrs. DeVew's assignment; so they arranged to have an interview later...leading to many compatible conversations, and, finally, wedding plans.

The ceremony in the penthouse of the bride's Shoreline East apartment took place high above the Detroit River and lights of Detroit before families.

Included were Mrs. DeVew's son, Harden DeVew, Jr., of Traverse City, her granddaughters, Terri, Renee, Rhonda and Heather DeVew; her daughter, Mrs. Perri (Robin) Pappas of Taylor, two grandsons, Joshua and newly-arrived Lacharia.

The Reverend Jerome's family included sons David, Philip and John and daughters Jane and Nancy. Jane was home from Michigan State University where she is working toward her master's degree in social work. Also attending was Mrs. M. E. Enright, the mother of the late Ruth Jerome, Reverend Jerome's first wife.

A small reception for friends and family followed from 9 p.m. to midnight with the Richard Kays among the guests.

After a 10-day trip to England and France the newlyweds will make their home in a townhouse in Novi.

REV. AND MRS. GEORGE JEROME

Area Development Corporation, Presbyterian church trustee, elder and building fund treasurer; auditor of PTA books - even after his youngsters no longer were in school - and swim club treasurer. He is a member of the National Association of Cost Accountants and already is serving as president of the Huron Valley Development group in Cheboygan, their new home.

Both have served, it was pointed out, as volunteers with youthful probationers. They once also hosted an exchange student from Holland in their home.

Ellie Hammond, it was remembered, had the distinction of serving as the chairman of the first PTA carnival during her tenure as PTA president. (The carnivals were for many years the major money-raiser for Northville schools.) She also served on the coordinating council for the community.

She was promoter and first president for the Northwest Child Guidance Clinic. She was president of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary, township clerk and church trustee.

Friends contributed toward purchase of a snowmobile for their home in the north.

THE ROBERT BRUECKS are almost certain that the early snow fell especially to accommodate their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. James McGranaghan of Port Elizabeth, South Africa. It was Jean McGranaghan's first visit here, and she was delighted with the white groundcover.

Her husband, a General Motors engineer, has been here before and was taken under Bob Brueck's wing when he attended General Motors Institute 13 years ago. They left Tuesday for New York and were to go on to England, where Mrs. McGranaghan was born. After a vacation in Italy, they will be home for Christmas with their children, who are four and six years old.

A DAR ANNOUNCEMENT—at the meeting of Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter last week—makes public news that Mrs. George Merwin has known for some time. She will be one of two directors serving with state officers on the state board of DAR following the state conference in Troy.

MAILING DEADLINE—for responses for the holiday open house planned by Northville Mother's Club for Saturday, December 2, has been extended from deadline originally set, Mrs. H. O. Evans, chairman, announces. The committee, she also reports, is "delighted" with response to date but has abolished the early deadline because it fears some mail may have been delayed.

THE ANTIQUE SHOW being given November 28-29 (noon to 9 p.m.) at Northville First Methodist Church by Northville Historical Society to benefit the Mill Race Restoration project this week is getting the full support of Marie Bonamici.

Adds Meaning to Ceremony

Couples Write Own Wedding Vows

By MARTHA ROEMER

Long before the clergyman says, "I now pronounce you man and wife," couples begin to plan for weddings.

Months, sometimes years in advance, preparations are made to insure that the ceremony runs smoothly. In recent years, those marriage preparations have included one arrangement that isn't on the list of "things to do before your wedding" as given in the etiquette books and bride's magazines.

To make the ceremony more their own or more relevant or unique, couples have been choosing to write their own marriage vows, and even in some cases, the whole service.

Ten, or perhaps even five years ago, the traditional marriage ceremony of the various denominations was the one accepted and preferred by most couples. Not so, today.

According to at least five clergymen in the Northville area, the number of couples during to change the marriage ceremony in some way is growing. The degree to which change is allowed and the process of making the changes varies from church to church.

The Reverend Father John Wyskiel of Our Lady of Victory Church said that when a couple comes to him and expresses a desire to change the marriage vows, he explains to them how much of the service they are allowed to change. "There are certain concepts that they must incorporate in to the vows," he said, "then it is a give and take."

Adding that he is very much in favor of the changes within certain limitations, Father Wyskiel said, "At times our society places too much emphasis on the reception, but this idea of changing the vows to fit themselves, can have a good effect in that it draws more attention of the couple to the ceremony itself."

The Reverend Guenther Branstner of First United Methodist Church of Northville said he is open to changes in the marriage vows, but he finds that sitting down with a couple and explaining the standard service to them, often makes them change their minds.

"The ceremony is terribly relevant," he said, "and the average couple that comes to me before a wedding hasn't really looked at the service."

More than one wedding service is available to couples wishing to be married in the Presbyterian Church. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville said he shows these to couples first and then lets them decide whether or not they wish to make changes.

"Most couples have decided that what is in the book is relevant," said Mr. Brasure. "I open it up to them, and very often they decide to incorporate the two services."

The Reverend Cedric Whitcomb, pastor at First Baptist Church of Northville said that he is all for changes in the marriage ceremony, within the limits of the church.

"There used to be one way to be married," he said, "but today there are no cut and dried hard and fast rules," adding that a few years ago, he changed the marriage ceremony himself by "cutting the vows down to a bare minimum."

The Reverend Charles F. Boerger of St. Paul's Lutheran Church said he allows changes to be made in the marriage vows although "nothing radical" is permitted.

When a couple decides to write their own vows, they do so and submit them to him. "I am open to change," said Mr. Boerger, "as long as it does not change the intent at all."

One thing upon which all five clergymen agreed was the right to have the last word about any changes that couples make in the marriage vows.

As to the intent of the vows and the changes permitted in them, Mr. Brasure said, "We are interested in the couple pledging themselves to each other in the context of the man and woman growing together."

According to Father Wyskiel, many couples married at Our Lady of Victory who have altered their marriage vows have done it to "magnify" or expound on various aspects of the vows.

In addition to the marriage vows themselves, couples are changing the music used to include popular tunes of today, and are adding the use of poetry to the marriage service.

Mr. Brasure said, "We are more liberal in the songs being sung. If it is meaningful to the couple and has a spiritual meaning to them, we permit it." He added, that the same holds for poetry and the words of Kahlil Gibran are often requested, in addition to or in place of scripture readings.

As far as music is concerned, Mr. Branstner said he permits the new songs to be sung at weddings as long as it is done tastefully, adding that "We've Only Just Begun," a Carpenters hit, was recently used at a wedding in his church.

When poetry is requested, he said he always reads it aloud to the couple and often they change their minds deciding instead on a biblical reading.

"Poetry is very good," said Father Wyskiel, "and there is always religious poetry."

One addition to the marriage service is the ceremony of the candles. Approval of this was expressed by each of the five clergymen.

Two lighted candles are placed on the altar on either side of an unlighted one.

Taking a flame from the two end candles, the bride from one and the bridegroom from the other, the two illuminate the center candle. The side candles are extinguished and the pronouncement of marriage, is made.

Future of Township Hall Remains Uncertain

By PHILIP JEROME

Most Novi residents pass it several times every day. But the one-story, white frame building maintains a certain anonymity which belies its position of importance in the history of Novi.

"Run a picture of it and don't reveal its location," suggests Frazer Staman, owner of the building, "and I'll bet most people won't be able to identify its location."

The building—in case you were one of those who didn't recognize it—is located on Novi Road between Joy Gun Shop and Staman's Insurance Agency, almost directly across the street from the Novi City Hall.

From the time it was built in 1876 until it was abandoned at the time the present municipal facilities were constructed in 1951, the building served as the center of Novi's official business.

Today it is most frequently referred to as the "old Township Hall."

"A lot of business was carried on in that building," says Staman. "Things got pretty hot in there at times, too," he adds.

Staman is a good one to talk about the hall. Not only is he its present owner, but he also served as Novi township supervisor through most of the 1950's and his knowledge of Novi goes back a good many years.

Today Staman is chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission.

"The center of Novi was originally at Grand River and Wixom Road," he says. "Your original Novi started right there because that's where the post office was."

"But the center of town gradually came to be Novi and Grand River, and the reason it changed was primarily because of Walled Lake."

"There used to be sort of a trolley line that carried people out to Commerce Lake. But as people began to get their own automobiles, they started driving out to Walled Lake instead and the best way to get there was by coming right down Grand River and then taking a right on Novi Road."

"There was a toll gate there, too," Staman continued, "but that business about Novi getting its name from Toll Gate No VI is just not accurate."

"Novi was Novi long before they put up that toll gate."

"At any rate, all that activity at Novi Road and Grand River led people back down to this end of town. There was a Novi Hotel where the Standard station is now and my wife's father, M. J. Moeren, owned a general store where Dave's Hamburgers is now."

Actually, the history of the township hall itself can be divided into two major parts—pre-fire and post-fire.

"The original building was put up in 1876," reports Staman, after perusing some old books and records.

"Novi became a township in 1853 and for the first 24 years the town hall meetings were conducted in various homes and taverns in the community. Finally, the township officials decided they needed a building of their own."

The lot on which the building was constructed was donated to the township by C. C. Gage. According to Staman's records, the total cost of construction was $800.

"Of course, we didn't have the carpeting in those days," he adds, referring to the carpeted chambers in which Novi officials presently conduct their business.

"I just haven't decided yet if that carpeting helps them make better decisions or not. I always thought we did pretty well without it, though."

The original Township Hall was destroyed by fire in 1912. Both Staman and his wife Irene remember the occasion well.

"There was no fire department in those days," recalls Mrs. Staman. "When they rang the bell everybody came out to fight the fire."

At the time the fire took place, there were three buildings in close proximity on the west side of Novi Road—the Baptist Church, the Township Hall, and the house in which Staman's Insurance Agency is presently located.

"We had a very bad electrical storm that night," Mrs. Staman remembers, "and both the church and the hall caught on fire and burned. They rang the bell and everybody came out and formed a bucket brigade."

"They put wet burlap bags on the roof of this house and were able to save it, but the church and the hall burned to the ground."

The present town hall was rebuilt on the same site in 1914, two years after the fire.

Not only was the new hall the center for the township's official business transactions, it also served a certain social function.

"That's where they used to have the square dances," says Mrs. Staman with a smile on her face.

"They had a fiddler by the name of Green, and a man named Steve Hicks was the caller. Later Guy Nichols, who used to live down on Novi Road near Twelve and a Half Mile, was the caller."

"Those square dances were really big things in those days. Kids would come all the way out from Farmington for them."

"And your parents used to be able to ask you to do just about anything in order to be able to go. There was one time when my parents said they weren't going to let me go—I don't think I ever did so much work in a few days time to make them change their minds."

Novi's Old Township Hall Is All But Forgotten Though It Stands Within A Block of Novi and Grand River

Monies Withheld

School Demands State Aid

Concurring with actions of other school boards, the Novi Board of Education last week demanded that the State of Michigan disburse state aid monies arbitrarily withheld this past year.

Letters outlining this demand are being sent to local area legislators.

And the board is urging citizens of the Novi School District to also write their state officials in marking similar demands.

State aid funds withheld from Novi approximate $40,000, according to School Superintendent Gerald Kratz.

Action by the board followed receipt of a resolution by the Troy School District, which also indicated its insistence that the money be disbursed.

The resolution was sent to Governor William Milliken and the State Department of Education as well as key legislators.

According to local officials, the money was withheld with the stipulation that it would be distributed later if a surplus developed in the budget. A surplus does exist, they added, but the state has "reneged" on its promise.

Trustee Robert Wilkins, in urging that citizens indicate their dissatisfaction with the broken promise, charged that citizens are being "robbed" of money that lawfully belongs to them.

In another financial matter last week, the board formally rejected a request by John E.

Rennels, Uni-Serve director for the Novi Education Association, that the school grant teachers retro-active pay.

Monies involved are those withheld during the federal pay freeze.

Rennels' request was made in September and has been under study since that time.

In recommending that the request be denied, Superintendent Gerald Kratz said, "It is the consensus of all administrators involved at the time that the package agreement reached with the representatives of the Novi Education Association, which in fact expressly spelled out that the increments reduced by the freeze 49 days on the 1970-71 scheduled, effective November 15, 1971, were not to be paid and this was part of the total overall agreement."

Dr. Kratz reported that negotiation materials still available concerning retro-active increments and the tape recording of the Board of Education meeting when action was taken on last year's teachers contract were researched. In addition, the matter was discussed with former Assistant Superintendent Richard Hendrickson, he added.

The superintendent said he had been informed by the school district's attorney, Frederick Knauer, that under the law the retro-active pay may be granted but there is

Taft Road Paving Sought by Council

Admittedly "ashamed" of the condition of Taft Road, the Novi city council Monday decided to initiate steps toward the establishment of a special assessment district to pay for the paving of the road.

Specifically, the council directed Acting City Manager Edward Kriewall to present plans, specifications, and cost estimates for its study for the expressed purpose of setting the date for a public hearing of necessity - the first step in the city's lengthy special assessment process.

The action came during a flurry of suggestions for improving the city's roads after Councilman Edwin Presnell had opened the discussion by raising the issue of the condition of Taft Road between Ten Mile and Grand River.

Presnell, strongly supported by Councilman William O'Brien and the rest of the councilmen, stated that he was personally "ashamed" of the condition of Taft Road.

"There are a lot of roads in this city which are bad," he said, "but Taft Road is unbelievable. This isn't the spring when roads are usually at their worst, either. It's the fall when roads such as Taft are supposed to be in their best condition."

Presnell's suggestion was that action be taken immediately to improve the condition of the roads. "We may have to dump gravel or slag in there," Presnell stated, "but I don't care what it takes. Something has to be done."

Presnell's push for immediate relief was quickly lost among various other suggestions.

Kriewall informed the council that Novi's Road Committee was being reactivated with a top priority of proposing a means of paving Taft Road.

Councilmen Denis Berry went one step further, however, and moved that a public hearing be set for January 3 as step number one in establishing the special assessment district to finance the paving.

His motion was approved by a 6-1 margin with Councilman Donald Young casting the lone dissenting vote. Berry later replaced his motion with the direction that Kriewall obtain the plans, specifications, and cost estimates for the paving project.

This is not the first time that the Novi city council has initiated public hearings for the establishment of a special assessment district to pay for the paving of Taft Road.

Perhaps the hottest political issue of the past year has been the Taft Road paving.

That the road be paved was proposed by the Road Committee in November of 1971.

The special assessment procedure was initiated and had proceeded as far as the fifth of seven resolutions which must be passed before the assessment district can be drawn up.

Reason for the failure of the council to see the assessment procedure through to its completion was a clause in the Novi city charter which provides that the procedure be abandoned if more than 50 percent of the number of property owners in the assessment district object to it in written form.

The charter further provides that the objections of the property owners can be

Citizens Blast K & B, Ask for Accounting

A new episode in an ever-increasing list of unpleasant episodes between developer Kaufman and Broad and the people of its Village Oaks subdivision along with the Novi city council is currently being written.

At issue are K&B's obligations, legal and moral, to the city's R.U.D. (Rural Urban Development) ordinance under which the majority of the Village Oaks single-family residences were constructed.

In essence, the R.U.D. ordinance enable the developer to build on lots slightly reduced in size provided he returns the land saved from lot-size reductions to the residents in the form of common areas, or, parks.

A sizable turnout of Village Oaks residents were present at the council meeting Monday to exert pressure on the council to exert pressure on K&B to fulfill its obligations under the R.U.D. ordinance.

The current brouhaha got underway two weeks ago when City Attorney David Fried told the council he felt Councilman Edwin Presnell was correct in his contention that K&B should be charged an additional $25-28,000 for the paving of Meadowbrook Road.

Presnell's arguments were based on a city ordinance which requires developers to pay the full cost of paving half the road that abuts their property at the time they get final plat approval.

K&B has not yet come in for final plat approval on a section of its subdivision known as Heatherwood, Presnell pointed out, and when they do they should be made to comply with the ordinance.

After that meeting two weeks ago, a conference between Fried and K&B Attorney Barry Stulberg was set up to discuss the situation. Stulberg reportedly informed the city attorney that K&B would avoid having to pay the additional money by simply not coming in for final plat approval.

At the council's most recent meeting, Fried told the council he didn't see any way the city could force the developer to come in for approval and thus have to pay for half the road.

They may come in for final plat approval after the road has been constructed, however, Fried said, and thus avoid the cost altogether.

"I think we've been outmaneuvered," commented Councilman Denis Berry.

Added Councilman Edwin Presnell: "I don't want to put

City-State Near Contract For 13-Mile Interchange

It appears likely that the Novi city council will soon enter into a contract with the Michigan State Highway Department that will ultimately result in the widening of 13 Mile Road to five lanes.

Four representatives of the State Highway Department were present at the Novi council meeting Monday at the request of Acting City Manager Edward Kriewall.

Reason for their presence was to explain engineering plans for the proposed 13 Mile Road -M-275 interchange.

According to plans there will be entrance and exit ramps to the M-275 expressway at 13 Mile Road.

As 13 Mile Road will have to be improved to provide easy access from the interchange to major thoroughfares both on the east and the west, the State Highway Department is attempting to arrive at a contract with the city for a plan that would be agreeable to both.

The plan proposed by the Highway Department called for the state to construct a five-lane road within the limits of the interchange, in exchange for the city's agreement to pave a two-lane road along 13 Mile from the westerly limit of the interchange to Meadowbrook Road on the west and from the easterly limit of the interchange to Haggerty Road on the east.

Furthermore, the city would be required to extend their two-lane extensions to five-lanes at the time dictated by traffic volume.

"If you decide not to enter into a contract with us," said Andreas VanCamp of the SAFETY FENCE—In hopes of discouraging youngsters from dashing across Novi Road, the City of Northville with the permission of Oakland County, recently erected a safety fence along both sides of the road at the bridge south of Allen Drive. City officials, encouraged by Superintendent Raymond Spear, ordered the fence following the death last spring of an eight-year-old Amerman third grader, David W. Austin, who was struck by an automobile. Other Village Green subdivision youngsters, who play along the stream, had been involved in accidents and near accidents while running across the road from one side of the bridge to the other.

College Awards Building Contract

Construction contracts totaling $173,550 were awarded last week for the addition to the liberal arts building at Schoolcraft College.

The architectural trades contract went to H. F. Good Building Company of Taylor for $91,400; mechanical trades to McDonald Plumbing and Heating of Detroit for $67,390, and electrical trades to Durand Company of Livonia for $14,760.

Contracts total $46,450 under the amount budgeted for the construction phase of the project, a college spokesman stated.

The 1973-74 general catalog contract was awarded to Edwards Brothers Inc. of Ann Arbor for a base bid of $6,566.

In other action last week, the board of trustees approved the appointment of Ernst & Ernst of Detroit as auditors for the college district during the 1972-73 fiscal year.

The appointment may be extended beyond the fiscal year, contingent upon satisfactory performance.

Also approved was the employment of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone of Detroit as general legal counsel for the college district from January 1 to June 30, 1973. Extension of this contract also is contingent upon satisfactory performance.

in adjusting the 1972-73 general operating budget downward to maintain balance in light of decreasing revenues.

The original budget of $6,615,178 has been revised to $6,466,610. This represents reductions of $148,568 from the seven spending centers of the college, he said. Overall, it is a 2.25-percent decrease.

Further reductions may not be necessary if the recruiting Task Force effort is successful in generating an additional 5,000 student credit hours during the remainder of the fiscal year, it was disclosed.

Snowmobile Club Offers Lessons

Snowmobiling classes for 12 to 15 year olds will be offered between 7 and 9 p.m. beginning Monday, November 27, at Cal's Gulf, 470 East Main Street.

Instructing the class will be Harry Wiser, president of Northville Snowdrifters. Assisting in the instruction will be Paul Vandenburg and Frank Kocian.

There is no charge for lessons, club spokesmen report.

The class is required for all 12 to 15 year olds who wish to operate snowmobiles, the club explained, because January 1, 1973, a new law becomes effective in Michigan.

Under the law, no person between the ages of 12 and 15 may drive a snowmobile without a parent unless he has taken the class, passed the test and received a license.

Classes will be held twice weekly, on Mondays and Thursdays. Dates include November 27, 30, December 4 and 7.

Exam will be given Monday, December 4. For further information on the instructions, contact Wiser at 349-3409.

Snowdrifters will hold a Christmas dinner dance at the Plymouth Elks Club at 7.30 p.m. Saturday, December 2. Cost is $12 per couple. Persons interested in attending should contact Mrs. Frank (Mary) Kocian at 349-5186.

Time is also running out, spokesmen report, for the Kandahar Barn weekend in East Jordan. For reservations, contact Cal Cross at 349-1818.

Next meeting of the Snowdrifters was scheduled to be held Wednesday.

Interchange

Highway Department, "we will simply construct a two-lane highway within the limits of the interchange and the city will be required to do the rest of the work by itself at a later date."

VanCamp further informed the council that there are roughly 5,500 feet on 13 Mile between Meadowbrook and Haggerty Roads. Under the state's plan, it would be paving 3,500 feet of five-lane road, while the city would presently be required to pave 2,000 feet of two-lane road.

If the council would like, VanCamp continued, the contract could be altered to provide for a five-lane road from Meadowbrook to Haggerty at this time. Novi's proportionate share of such a road would be approximately $220,000.

Although the council took no formal action on the proposed contract, it is leaning toward terms that would require it to pave just two lanes at the present time with extension to five lanes to match the state's road within the limits of the interchange coming at a future date.

Township Hall

Right around the corner, on Grand River, was Harry Hamlin's Ice Cream Parlor—a favorite stopping off point after the square dances.

"You didn't have much in those days," adds Staman, "but what you did have, you had time to enjoy."

In 1951 the Township Hall was abandoned for the new quarters directly across the road.

Novi Equipment, a local business, purchased the building and used it for a number of years as a union hall. When Novi Equipment left town, the building was boarded up because it failed to measure up with today's building codes.

Staman purchased it approximately five years ago, mainly because he owns the adjoining land which will be necessary in order to make the improvements that will permit it to be reopened.

"I haven't done much to improve it," he admits. "But the building is still in pretty good shape even now. There's just one big room in there. No basement. There's a little stage at one end of the building that you were supposed to stand on if you wanted to say anything so everybody could see you."

As to what the future holds for the building, Staman is just not sure. "I may try to bring it up to code," he says, "but that possibility is questionable."

Just as uncertain are some "feelers" from the city to purchase the building from the Stamens and convert it into a museum of Novi memorabilia.

Until something is finally decided, it appears likely that the little, one-story, white-framed building on Novi Road will go right on being unnoticed by Novi residents.

Holiday's Lost in Shuffle

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Thanksgiving — it seems to come faster and faster every year.

It used to be that Thanksgiving almost meant the beginning of the holiday season and getting ready for Christmas.

But now, the stores have extended the "let's get ready for Christmas" idea so that one day it's Halloween masks and the next Christmas ornaments.

Somehow I think Thanksgiving has taken a backseat to the rest of the holidays and gets lost in the shuffle. It is really sad too because Thanksgiving has a meaning all its own. To some it might mean a table loaded with special dishes, grand desserts and a delicious golden turkey, the gathering around the table with family or good friends. It is a time of contentment and full tummies and to give thanks for that.

At any rate, our wish to all of you is a happy Thanksgiving and if you are traveling, a safe one too.

It was a full weekend for many of our Wixom people. The Holiday Boutique at the VFW on Saturday was very successful and a check to the Wixom Goodfellows is on its way to help in the purchasing of the Goodfellow Christmas baskets. There was a good turnout of people and thoughts of another Boutique next year are already in the planning stage.

The Christmas Bazaar at the Finn Camp Sunday brought out another good crowd of people, many of whom were visitors at the Finn Camp for the first time. Again, very much a success and lots of Christmas shopping started for quite a few people.

There was an open house at Flowers by John Sunday afternoon too. As one lady put it, there were so many beautiful things to look at she never really did see everything. The windows are aglow with twinkling lights and there is a delightful array of beautiful gifts and decorations inside to please anyone.

For the workers at both bazaars and at John's it was a long weekend. For some, a very short respite before continuing on their jobs of filling Christmas orders for a special item and squeezing in Christmas shopping. For others, the opportunity to purchase gifts and become acquainted with new people and to view the arts and crafts ability of our Wixom neighbors.

Something I remember from my younger school days is being done by the Decker Elementary PTA. They are holding a book fair.

The children will be allowed to browse through the display during the day and note the books they would like included in the school library or those they would like for Christmas gifts. Then, during the evening meeting, parents attending can purchase the books ranging in price from 35 cents to $4.

The idea is a good one and merits some further thought by other PTA groups. I remember winning the poster contest to publicize the book fairs we had when I was a youngster. My prize was $3 which I used to purchase three books all by my very favorite author—Albert Payson Terhune. Later, I met that very author who autographed one of my books. I have never forgotten that day.

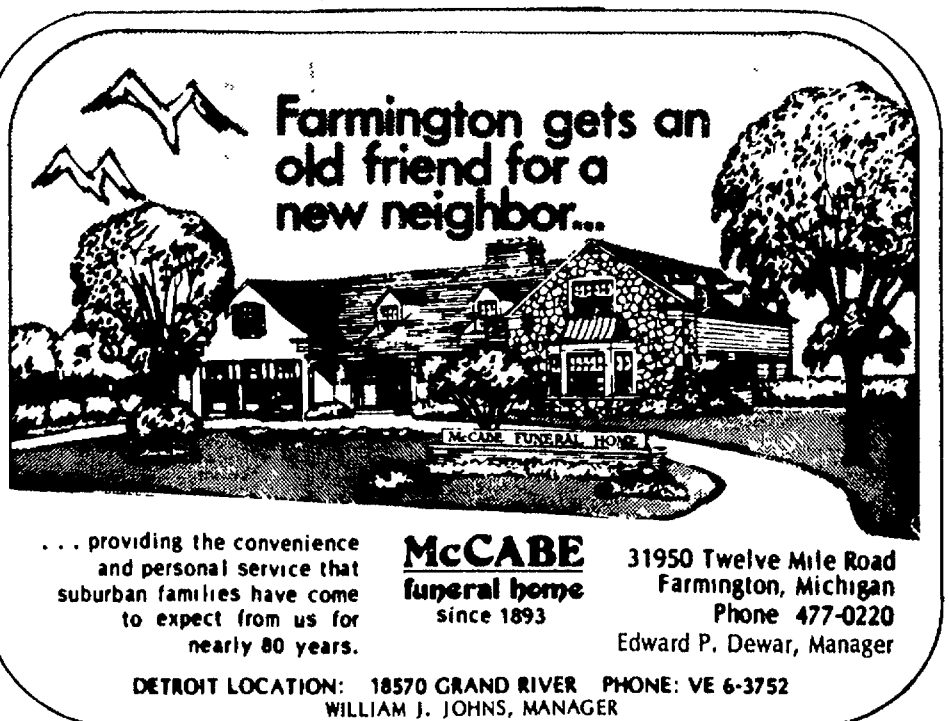

The public is welcome to attend the Book Fair at Decker Elementary School during the evening of November 27 and to purchase books for children five to twelve years old.

For those of you with boys between the ages of eight and 10, a new Cub Scout pack is being formed at Wixom Elementary School. There is a Brownie and Girl Scout unit at the school and it is hoped there will be enough interested boys and parents to form Cub Scout Pack 102.

A meeting was held at the school on Monday and for further information contact Cub Master Edward Strye.

Novi, Wixom Break-ins Increase

In Novi

Novi continues to be plagued by breaking and enterings as two more local residences were victimized last week.

On Wednesday, November 15, a breaking and entering of a residence at 27607 Meadowbrook Road was discovered and reported to police. The home is in the 12 Mile Road area.

According to officers, the home had been completely ransacked by the thieves. Every room had been entered and the contents of every drawer in every dresser, every cupboard, every linen closet, and every medicine chest had been strewn throughout the house.

Stolen items included a small portable black and white television set, an antique diamond ring, and a chest of antique silver which was a family heirloom.

Police declined to set a dollar value on the theft saying it was impossible to assess the value of the chest of silver.

Mrs. David Adema was gone from her Novi Road home for a period of only three hours Thursday, November 16, but that provided thieves all the time they needed to rob it.

The theft occurred during the day light hours, police reported.

The thieves entered the home through a door in the attached garage.

Taken were a stereo component and a large tool box filled with various tools. All the drawers in the home had been rifled, according to reports.

Under investigation is the theft of $112 from a nurse's aid at Beverly Manor Nursing home.

Joyce McMullen, the aid, told police the money was taken from her purse which had been left in a nursing station at the home.

Novi Police Sergeant Robert Starnes indicated that several people would be asked to take polygraph tests in regard to the incident.

The theft of a tape deck valued at $125 from a truck parked at Glenn's Catering Service on Novi Road was reported last week.

Reginald Olson, a Plymouth resident, told police the disabled truck has been parked at the catering company while he repairs it. When he arrived at the location Tuesday, November 14, he discovered the tape deck missing.

A Northville woman reported she had been shot at while driving westbound on I-96 last week.

Chris Becker of 543 Dubuar told officers she was driving from Detroit at approximately 4 p.m. when a grey automobile she believed to be a Vega pulled up beside her, nearly forcing her vehicle off the road.

The passenger window of the car was rolled down, she said, and the driver suddenly produced a pistol and took a shot at her.

Miss Becker said the car took the Novi Road exit and headed north.

Officers were unable to find any evidence of damage to Miss Becker's car.

Three Novi officers have returned from a three-week, 120-hour course in "On Scene Accident Investigation" at Northwestern University's Traffic Institute.

Attending the course were Officers Gerald Pratt, Jack Grubb, and William Brown.

All three officers received scores above 80 percent and are now legally considered "experts" in the investigation of traffic accidents.

Pratt, Grubb, and Brown will join Corporal Frank Barabas in forming the city's new traffic division.

Forty seven officers, representing two countries (United States and the Panama Canal zone), ten states, and 28 police departments, attended the school.

In Wixom

Breaking and enterings have been on the increase in the Wixom area over the past two weeks, as police were called upon to investigate four such cases.

A breaking and entering of an apartment in the Village Apartments complex netted thieves an estimated $300 worth of goods. Michael Watkins, owner of the burglarized apartment, told officers the theft occurred between 3:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Friday, November 10.

The thieves gained entry to the apartment by kicking in the front door, and then ransacked the bedroom and living room, scattering the contents of drawers over the floor.

Stolen items included a tape deck, an approximate $100 worth of stereo tapes, a polaroid camera, a hunting knife, a springfield rifle, and a wool-knit afghan blanket.

Also victimized by thieves last week was a residence at 1800 North Wixom Road. Police place the time of the breaking and entering between 9:30 a.m. Friday, November 10, and 4 p.m. the following day.

Although the home had been ransacked the only missing items appeared to be a six-shot revolver and a small quantity of cash.

Snowmobile equipment was what thieves took during a breaking and entering of a residence at 50200 Pontiac Trail.

Taken were a snowmobile suit and two pairs of snowmobile boots. Total value of the stolen items was estimated at $75.

Sports equipment of a different type was the object of a breaking and entering of the club house at the Hickory Hills Golf Course.

Police were summoned to the golf course Wednesday, November 6, to investigate the theft of two sets of new golf clubs along with two leather bags.

Entry to the building had been made by breaking in the rear door.

The stolen items were recovered later that morning. A ten-year old youngster, playing in a field approximately 400 yards west of the club house, found the clubs and bags and returned them to the manager of the golf course.

A trowling machine and a transit valued at $650 were stolen from a pick-up truck owned by Ralph Shaw of 2795 Loon Lake Road.

The items were taken while the truck was parked overnight in front of Shaw's residence Monday, November 13.

Donald Bester, a policeman for the C&O railroad, told police a pair of walkie-talkies had been stolen from his car while it was parked in front of the C&O office from 3:30-3:45 a.m. Thursday, November 16.

The walkie-talkies were valued at $800.

William Franklin Trusty, 24, has got to be impressed - or maybe a little depressed - with the thoroughness of police traffic surveillance.

Trusty was stopped by Wixom police last week for speeding, according to reports. When asked for his license, he was unable to produce it, officers said, and told them he had just been released from the Oakland County Jail for driving without a license.

Trusty was issued a citation for - you guessed it - driving with a revoked license.

Arrested for driving under the influence of liquor last week were Norman Rust, 40, of New Hudson; Bruno Aro, 42, of 2345 Fairbury in Wixom; and 29 year old Richard Eugene Douglass of Westland

In Northville

A 42-year-old Pontiac man has been charged with assault and battery against a police officer.

Charges against James Coon Jr. stem from an incident which occurred shortly after 9 p.m. last Thursday, November 16.

Police said Coon was arrested at Northville Downs for drunkenness and taken to the police station for booking.

While Patrolman Hugh Jordan was attempting to complete the booking process, Coon allegedly struck Jordan in the face with his fist.

Several other officers came to assist Jordan in restraining him and, during the struggle, Patrolman William Harrison was kicked, police reported.

Coon will appear in 35th District Court November 28.

Donald J. Bruce of Detroit was arrested for drunken driving following a two-car accident last Thursday night on Eight Mile Road near Grace Street.

Police said Bruce was westbound on Eight Mile Road at 7:40 p.m. when he slammed into the rear of a car driven by Peter V. Hankins of 21603 Beauford which was stopped for a red traffic light.

Bruce told police he could not stop in time to avoid hitting the other vehicle. There were no injuries in the accident.

Bruce was also ticketed for failing to stop in assured clear distance.

He will face charges in 35th District Court December 5

Vandals reportedly let the air out of four tires on a car parked at 560 Reed Street. The incident occurred between 7 and 11 p.m. Saturday.

Four hub caps were stolen sometime during the last two weeks from a car parked at 312 Ely Drive South. The theft was reported to police Saturday.

All appeared before Judge Dunbar Davis.

Failing to yield to oncoming traffic resulted in a $39 fine for Rickey N. Sykes of 19433 Marilyn. He was ticketed by city police following an accident November 1.

Following a pre-sentence investigation, Floyd R. Sullivan of 46850 Timberlane Drive was placed on Four days' voluntary work detail and ordered to pay supervisory cost.

A Northville youth escaped injury last week when the car he was driving skidded across Eight Mile near Taft Road and struck several trees.

Michael A. Katzebeck of Novi Street told police he was westbound on Eight Mile when the accident occurred. The incident took place during a snowstorm November 13.

nothing in the law or federal order requiring that such payments be made

"The ultimate determination as to whether or not the board of education has a legal obligation to pay the requested amounts depends on the existence or non-existence of an express or implied contract between the board and the association," Knauer reported.

And the board takes the position that no such express or implied contract exists.

A stinging criticism of the roofing work at Novi Elementary School was leveled by a citizen, Winifred Dobek, who warned the board the work was being done improperly and that the health and safety occupants of the building was threatened by the "awful" odor of tar and by water draining into the interior of the building.

Furthermore, she contended that the workmanship is so poor that the final product will be unsatisfactory. Her charges were taken under consideration, and Acting President Bruce Simmons promised an investigation.

Masons Install

New Officers

Installation of officers of the Royal Arch Masons, Union Chapter 55, was held at the Northville Masonic Temple Saturday, November 11.

Installed were David H. Brown, high priest; Robert B. Fair, king; A. J. Maier, scribe; H. Thomas Quinn, P. H. P., treasurer, Lawrence M. Miller, KYCH, secretary, Martin E. Sommers, P. H. P., chaplain;

Henry S. Prentice, C. H.; Harold D. Klinck, P. S.; Richard Suetterlin, R. A. C.; Robert Hathaway, M3rdV.; Dewey D. Law, M2ndV.; George McFarquar, M1stV.; Herbert J. Famuliner, KYCH, sentinel.

The installing officer was Wayne E. Turton, excellent grand master first veil Several personnel recommendations, including requests for maternity leaves of absence, additions and deletions from the substitute teachers list, extra curricular assignments and salaries, employment of non-certificated personnel, and reassignment of another, were approved.

Granted leaves of absence, effective January 1, are Janith Rolston, middle school sixth grade teacher.

Concerning leaves of absence, Dr. Kratz explained that in granting such leaves the board is under no obligation to rehire such personnel unless job vacancies exist at the time they return.

In approving the extra curricular assignments, it was noted that 2 of the 28 senior high school teachers were involved in such activities. Several have more than one assignment, it was explained, because of the lack of personnel.

Extended contracts were Clare Morningstar, high school custodian, at a pay rate of $3.30 per hour, and Steve Bagdon, substitute custodian, at a rate of $2.90 per hour.

William Main, high school custodian, was reassigned to part time Village Oaks administration at his request because full-time work conflicted with college education he is now receiving.

Contributions this year by school personnel to the Torch Drive have increased 2,000 percent over last year, reported the superintendent. In 1971, contributions totaled $80 as compared to $1,655 this year.

Corrine Engberg of the Middle School has been designated to participate in a reading internship program offered by the Oakland Schools' reading and language school, the superintendent disclosed. Three candidates had applied for the internship

In a report to the board, the superintendent noted that during the past summer 15 Neighborhood Youth Corpsmen, operating under the Office of Economic Opportunity worked in the school district. Their salaries totaled $6,053.75 during the nine week program.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps, he explained, is funded by the Department of Labor and administered in the Novi community by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

School board members also learned that the administration is continuing efforts to win local accreditation by the North Central Association.

Our customers need more natural gas... so we're planning to make it!

Consumers Power Company is building a gas reforming plant at Marysville in St. Clair County that will help relieve our short supply of natural gas.
Using a new process developed in England, the plant will make "natural" gas from liquid hydrocarbons obtained by pipeline from Alberta, Canada. Consumers Power expects the plant to be completed and producing as much as 100 million cubic feet of gas per day by 1973.
This means Consumers Power customers will have more gas for home heating, for commerce and for industry... clean-burning energy that helps to prevent air pollution.

overturned by the council, but only if it does so by a five-sevenths vote.

In the case of Taft Road, the property owners submitted petitions and the council failed to override the objections of three councilmen—Presnell, Young, and Louie Campbell—voted to abandon the district, leaving the council with an insufficient four to three margin.

Preliminary indications are that the council will be able to obtain a six-sevenths majority if the same circumstances arise this time around.

Presnell told the council that he was now ready to vote for the paving of Taft Road.

And Louie Campbell, whose negative ballot the first time around was predicated on the refusal of the school board to accept a share of the assessment, also indicated that he would vote in favor of the paving.

"I would hope that the school board would see fit to pay its fair share of the cost of paving Taft Road," he said, "but if they don't I've still got to look at this thing from the viewpoint of what's good for the community. And paving Taft Road is a necessity."

Campbell went on to say that it's time for the council and school board to forget past differences and work together for the general welfare of the whole community.

It appears likely, however, that unless the rate of assessment is changed to a figure that would result in an approximate cost of $6 per front foot to property owners, Councilman Young will maintain his opposition.

"I'm not opposed to paving Taft Road," Young stated. "I just don't feel that the residents are getting a fair shake if they have to pay $14 per front foot. As a matter of equity the people who use the road should pay for them and in the case of Taft it's the community as a whole which will benefit from the paving."

If Presnell and Campbell vote in favor of the assessment and the four councilmen who voted yes last time remain firm, Young's vote will make little difference.

Novi's drawn-out special assessment procedure will probably take a good six months to run its course. One certain savings of time will be found in the preparation of plans and specifications. Those drawn up by city engineers Johnson and Anderson just last year will require little, if any, revision.

Sale's Success

More than 3,300 books were sold within a two-day period last week during the elementary school book sale.

Sponsored by the three elementary PTA's the book sales were held in conjunction with the school book fairs.

Students and parents shopped for early Christmas presents and recreational reading. Books placed on sale were selected for children's interests and abilities.

Profits from the sale will be used to set up library funds for materials such as books, filmstrips and supplies that will be used in the schools.

Directing the sales at the schools were Mrs. Richard Lyon, Main Street; Mrs. Marvin Yoder, Amerman; and Mrs. Harry Earehart, Motaine.

Northville High School's first parent-principal meeting will be held Wednesday, November 29, in the material center conference room at the school.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the meeting is intended to acquaint parents with the high school. Parents are urged to attend the meeting and discuss any concerns they may have. Principal Fred Holdsworth said.

Parent-principal meetings are usually held the last Wednesday of each month.

Learning by doing is the emphasis of a new psychology course added to the social studies curriculum at Northville High School this year.

After attending a National Science Foundation Institute for secondary school psychology teachers, Northville High's Mrs. Jane Crawford has implemented many ideas she acquired from Dr. James Ryan who conducted the seminar.

Dr. Ryan is a member of the experimental psychology department of Wisconsin State University.

Students in the class at Northville High have measured steadiness both before and after ingestion of caffeine and presently are conditioning fish to respond to particular shapes.

Within the next month, the students will begin extensive conditioning programs with pigeons.

It is hoped that at the end of the experiment, pigeons will be able to "read" signs instructing them to peck and turn, Mrs. Crawford said.

"After having experimented with various learning techniques, the last five weeks of the course will be devoted to applying concepts the students have learned," she explained.

"Working with their lab partners, each student will be devising learning aids for actual use in the elementary classrooms," Mrs. Crawford noted.

Report cards were sent home Friday, November 17, with Northville High School students.

The cards cover the first marking period of the 1972-73 school year. Parents are asked to look over the grades and call the high school at 349-2090 if they have any questions.

Dr. Ray E. Kehoe, associate director of the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services, will be a guest at the November 28 meeting of the Novi Board of Education.

He will discuss the possible involvement of the Bureau in developing a building-curriculum needs committee as recommended by Novi Superintendent Gerald Kratz.

Under the program envisioned by the superintendent, "the entire community would participate on such a committee through representatives from each geographic area. The needs assessment survey would be coordinated by the Bureau of School Services and the Board of Education would appoint 30-50 members of the school district to serve on the study team."

Not only would this committee look at the district's future building needs but it also would consider the district's curriculum and how it can be expanded and/or changed, it has been explained.

Need for such a study grew out of the board's concern that it must begin now planning for future buildings.

Gloria Crawford, 32, a second grade teacher at Novi's Village Oaks Elementary School, is one of 9,000 teachers listed in the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Elementary Teachers of America."

She was nominated for the honor last year by Novi school officials.

Miss Crawford has taught in Novi since 1964 when she received her BA degree in Education from Eastern Michigan University. She completed work on her Master's Degree in 1970.

She was a member of the faculty at Novi's Orchard Hills Elementary School from 1964-1971 when she moved to Novi Elementary School to coordinate the Title One reading program for first graders.

Emergency school closings in the Wixom-Walled Lake School District due to bad weather or equipment breakdown will be broadcast on four radio stations from 6-7 a.m., Nelson O'Shaughnessy, director of auxiliary services for the schools announced this week.

The announcements may be heard on WJR (760 kc), WXYZ (1270 kc), WCAR (1130 kc), and WNIC (1310 kc).

Who's Superior?

OLLENDORFF

U of M

The question should not be "Who's Superior" but rather to what degree the Big Blue shall overwhelm Woody's boys.

Poor Ohio has already been beaten by a Michigan team, one that is having a losing season. What will happen when they play a team that is not only unbeaten but unbeatable? The only hope for Woody and his players is that Bo will take pity on them, since he must have some feeling for his old team and state.

Ohio State has some fine football players who do many things well. Michigan players also do many things well. The one difference is: Wolverines know how to win football games.

I must agree that this is the game of the year for Ohio but to Michigan it is just another warmup on the way to vengeance in the Rose Bowl.

We, the people and fans of Michigan, hope Woody and his team can provide us with a good preparation.

Neither Michigan State, Purdue nor all the rest shall keep the University of Michigan from its destiny. Least of all a four-letter word: Ohio.

Superior has eight letters; so does Michigan and the two are synonymous. Go Big Blue all the way to Pasadena so we can beat Southern California and receive our proper No. 1 designation.

Ohio

As an impartial, neutral observer who coincidentally attended Ohio State, it is apparent to me that Michigan partisans do not yet realize that Columbus, Ohio is the College Football Capitol of the World. I'd give Michigan about as much chance of prevailing in Ohio as George McGovern.

Michigan may be able to stay close by playing over their heads. This often happens when you are up against the best. Certainly our calm, unexcitable Coach Hayes will consider this and make sure his men are well prepared. We've got a freshman tailback who will probably gain more yards than Michigan's whole offense. Woody has recently opened up his offense, too: the Buckeyes now pass four or five times each game.

Michigan's national ranking is due, of course, to the recognition that "Ohio Bo" is now their coach, and that Michigan is really the Ann Arbor branch of OSU since it imports some of Ohio's outstanding players.

All we ask is that the referees not dress in maize and blue this year. (Michigan fans should note that the Buckeyes have ordered unbreakable markers for this game).

My suggestion for Bo and his Wolverines is that instead of secret, closed practice prior to the public game, the procedure should be reversed.

This is what the Columbia Encyclopedia has to say about Thanksgiving Day:

"National holiday in the United States commemorating the harvest reaped by the Plymouth Colony in 1621, after a winter of great starvation and privation. In that year Governor William Bradford proclaimed a day of thanksgiving, and the feast was shared by all the colonists and the neighboring Indians.

"Although similar observances were held locally, they were sporadic and at no set time. After the American Revolution the first national Thanksgiving Day, proclaimed by President Washington, was Nov. 26, 1789. Lincoln, urged by Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, revived the custom in 1863, appointing as the date the last Thursday in November. In 1939, 1940 and 1941 Franklin D. Roosevelt proclaimed Thanksgiving the third Thursday in November. When a contradiction arose between Roosevelt's proclamation and some of those of state governors, Congress passed a joint resolution in 1941 decreeing that Thanksgiving should fall on the fourth Thursday of November.

"The day is observed by church services and family reunions; the customary turkey is a reminder of the four wild turkeys served at the Pilgrims' first thanksgiving feast".

So Thanksgiving is steeped in American tradition. It is not a holiday commemorating a hero, a war's end, a new year, or independence. Rather it was born as the result of survival from severe suffering during our nation's most primitive years.

Lloyd Brasure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Northville, believes that we Americans owe something to those who have given us this beautiful country.

And at Thanksgiving he believes that all Americans should join together in song and prayer and pay tribute to our forefathers and our nation.

He's a little tired of the barbs sticking in America's hide, many self-inflicted.

He asks that we reflect momentarily on just how much the United States of America has given the world.

And he's concerned with our gross materialism, the mad rush that reduces "thanks" to a term uttered only by habit and without feeling or meaning.

So Reverend Brasure has been the sparkplug behind a program to bring as many community residents together as possible to pray, sing and give thanks together for the blessing we enjoy as Americans.

He's been joined by Father John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory, the Reverend G. C. Branstner of the First United Methodist church of Northville, the Reverend Philip M. Seymour of the Novi United Methodist church and the Reverend Leslie F. Harding of the Holy Cross Episcopal Mission.

They're urging their congregations to attend an ecumenical Thanksgiving service tonight (Wednesday) at the Northville high school auditorium at eight o'clock.

I know Lloyd would give his first "thanks" if the high school parking lot were to be filled with cars bringing area residents to the brief, one-hour service.

The high school band and choir will provide the music and add to the voices.

There's room for over 600 voices in the auditorium.

So tune up and sound off!

Swamp Wonderland

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Some time ago this newspaper carried a series of articles about the artificial boundaries that separate citizens of this area.

If there was any major conclusion we reached in researching the series it was that these boundaries disrupt the unity of people who make up our communities and thereby thwart social, civic, religious, recreational and political cooperation.

And in no local area community was this disruptive element more apparent than in the City of Novi.

In Novi, for example, citizens are separated by city, township, school, postal service, telephone exchange and Scouting boundaries.

Even Joseph Crupi, mayor Novi, must contend with these boundaries. He lives in a portion of the city situated in the Northville School District and having a Northville mailing address. And even though his interests obviously are centered in Novi, many of his Novi neighbors are oriented to Northville. They pay Novi taxes but consider themselves Northville citizens—which they are not.

Similar situations exist elsewhere inside the City of Novi.

Separated by these artificial boundaries and as yet having no real central business district or civic-cultural center, many citizens find themselves turning to adjacent municipalities.

Unfortunately, there appears little likelihood that these boundaries will disappear very soon.

Nevertheless, the Novi Board of Education is on the doorstep of an excellent program that, in my opinion, can help develop the spirit of cooperative effort so essential to the well-being of the community. It will not erase the boundaries, of course, but it can smooth them out and help turn the attention of Novi citizens inward.

Novi councilmen, I hope, see the necessity of drawing their constituents together. And now they have an ideal opportunity to demonstrate their concern by encouraging and cooperating with, if not co-sponsoring, an exciting new program presently under consideration.

I'm referring to the proposal to launch a community education program that would serve not only citizens of the Novi School District but citizens throughout the City of Novi...and even beyond.

Patterned after the nationally acclaimed Mott Foundation-backed program in Flint, it is based on the premise that it is financially and educationally unsound to limit school building use from 9 to 5, five days a week, nine months a year.

Although plans for the Novi community education program are still in the infancy stage, proponents see it as offering a wide variety of educational, recreational and cultural classes and activities for all ages...a program sponsored jointly by the school district and the city or alone by the district.

City officials, in my opinion, owe it to their constituents to actively cooperate with the school board in seeing that this program comes to fruition. After all, they may have more at stake, perhaps, than does the school system; the esprit de corps of their boundary-split community may very well rest on its success.

A Glance at the Past in Our Area

FIVE YEARS AGO

After a slowdown in building activity because of tight financing, giant increases in past months suggested the building boom was on again. In Northville township, a larger dollar investment was reached recently than for any other entire year in history.

The question of whether or not the motor vehicle in which a minor is caught possessing alcoholic beverages should be impounded, stirred a lively debate among city council members. The ordinance was one of several proposed by City Attorney Marvin Stempien and was granted a public hearing.

TEN YEARS AGO

A plan to construct a $100,000 swimming pool to form a Northville Swim Club was introduced to the city by the planning commission. The project was a private undertaking and solicitation for members was already underway although it was only in the planning stages.

The Novi school board agreed to discuss a contract with an Ann Arbor firm to design a proposed secondary school. The building would be on an 80-acre site at Taft and 11 Mile roads.

Novi police solved one of their most complex cases when they arrested four juveniles wanted for a series of breaking and entering, shoplifting and stolen automobile crimes.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Eleven building permits were issued in Northville city in one week's time to the D & C Building company. The homes to be built are the first of 26 to be built in Yerkes Estates Subdivision number one. The subdivision is located at Novi Street and Base Line.

The City of Northville became 220 acres larger while the size of Novi township decreased by the same amount. Voters in the city and township area approved the annexation by a large majority. The new 220-acre section of Northville included the land between Novi Road and a line 100 feet west of Taft Road and extended north to the 8 1/2 mile line.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The conducted tours of the Northville Recreation Committee furnished proof as to advantages offered and interest displayed in the classes offered in the village under sponsorship of the Northville Recreation Committee. Classes in furniture refinishing upholstery, hat design and charcoal sketching were among those offered.

Automobile owners received 1948 license applications already filled out under the new Department of State program. The applications were then to be taken to the nearest branch office and exchanged for license plates when they went on sale.

The Village Commission accepted the quotation presented for the town clock, and also transferred $20,000 in receipts from Northville Downs from the general fund to the building fund.

Large crowds were on hand both Friday and Saturday nights for the Junior class play "We Shook the Family Tree."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Seventy new lock boxes were placed in the Northville Post Office adding to the convenience of the office.

The new cement sidewalk on Main Street west from the hotel on the way to the Bancroft apartments, is about the best and biggest improvement that has been made in Northville in recent years.

The Northville municipal band gave a most enjoyable concert in the auditorium at the sanatorium and the program rendered provided a rare treat to all those who were privileged to be present. The band consisted of 25 musicians.

GRAND OPENING of Jackson Landscape & Nursery Sales, Inc., 42350 Grand River, Novi, was held Thursday following an earlier private showing.

Formerly located in two offices—one in Livonia and another in Detroit—the 16-year-old business is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jackson. Jackson, a landscape architect, is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Another landscape architect in the business is George Welch.

"We decided to move to Novi because it is a growing community and we want to be a part of its growth," explained Mrs. Jackson, who said the business represents a major expansion from two small facilities to a single operation under one roof.

Located on a two-acre plus site, the new Novi business features a 6,000 square foot showroom, offices, and storage area. Contractor was Vitzhazy Associates. It also includes a nursery.

During the winter months Jackson Landscape & Nursery Sales will carry Christmas decorations, including artificial trees, and it will feature a snow removal service.

The landscape architects also will assist homeowners and businesses to develop appropriate landscaping plans for their properties.

In the spring, it will carry a complete line of shrubs, trees and evergreens plus garden supplies. It also will offer lawn spraying services.

During the Christmas season the six-day operation will have longer hours on Thursday, Friday and Saturday—to 9 p.m.

BERNARD BOCK of Northville has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri, announces Lloyd D. Miller, executive secretary.

There were 367 memberships issued to breeders of registered Aberdeen-Angus in the United States during the past month.

JAMES C. CUTLER, owner and operator of Cutler Realty in Northville, has been elected president of the American Government Appraisal association at its monthly meeting.

Active in the group for the past four years, Cutler served as the association's vice-president last year.

Membership includes persons throughout the Detroit Metropolitan area who are active in government appraisals, such as FHA appraisals. The group meets monthly at the Detroit Press Club.

the squeeze on Kaufman and Broad. But at the same time I don't want them to be allowed to circumvent the city's ordinance. They may be able to legally maneuver around paying for the road, but it's my opinion they have a moral responsibility to pay for the paving of the half of Meadowbrook Road which runs in front of their property."

One possible source of pressure which could be applied to K&B would be the residents of Village Oaks, Fried opined. K&B has made contractual agreements with them to provide so much land in common areas. The residents may be able to force them to deed the land to the common areas association.

"If K&B is now going to take the position that it will not plat the land the residents should insist that they either complete preparation of those parks or post a bond that will cover the work," Fried said.

John Roethel, president of the Village Oaks Common Areas Association as well as a member of the Novi planning board, asked the council to demand that K&B make a full accounting of its R.U.D. obligations.

"They've shaved a lot of lots down 'five feet, but very few of their Heatherwoodes, Heatherleas, and Heatherwyckes have common areas in them," said Roethel.

"This experience with R.U.D. has been an education for everyone," he continued. "In the future when a large piece of land is going to be subdivided under R.U.D. we should make certain the parks are in the immediate area and easily accessible to the homeowners from whom the land was taken."

Although K&B may be able to avoid having to pay the cost of paving half of Meadowbrook Road, they will still have to pay the $14 per front foot assessment charged each property owner.

"What they want to get out of is the additional charge," pointed out Acting City Manager Edward Kriewall.

In addition, K&B is still obligated by contract to construct a bridge across Meadowbrook Road at the time the Ingersoll Creek is rerouted.

Thanksgiving Proclamation 1972—

Whereas our forefathers first gathered by proclamation of Governor William Bradford of Plymouth Colony, on July 30, 1623 for a celebration and thanksgiving to Almighty God;

and

Whereas the tradition for such an annual observance has grown to national scope but often neglecting the true thought of celebration and thankfulness;

Therefore, I the Mayor of Northville, A. M. Allen, do hereby proclaim November 23 as a time for sincere thanksgiving by the people of our community, and do encourage them to attend some place of worship to offer thanks to Divine Providence for all opportunities and privileges we have received.

Sometimes it's comforting to have a little guy around.

The tiny tugboat performs services that the larger liner cannot handle. Which is another way of saying "bigger does not automatically mean better." Especially in banking. You see, we are one of the smallest banks around. At the same time, we are the only bank in the area open all day on Saturday. That's from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. That means you don't have to bank on your lunch hour or during work.

And you can sleep in on Saturdays without missing us. Customer hours instead of banker's hours. Just one advantage of small-time banking at West Oakland Bank. Shouldn't you find out about the others?

NOVI CAGERS — Coach Milan Obrenovich will be relying primarily on the talents of these five players to carry the 1972-73 Wildcats to a 10-4 record in the Southeastern Conference. From left to right are Steve Lukkari, Jim VanWagner, John Pantalone, Pat Boyer, and Mike Sumner. Lack of height is going to be a problem for the Novi cagers. Sumner at 6'1" is the tallest man on the squad. Boyer, Pantalone, and VanWagner are all six-footers, while Lukkari stands 5'10." The 1972 season gets underway next Tuesday as the Wildcats host Benedictine. Game time is approximately 8 p.m. with the junior varsity game getting under way at 6:30 p.m.

Lack of Height, Depth Cloud Wildcat Hopes

Milan Obrenovich has one heckuva backfield.

With quarterback Steve Lukkari, running backs Jim VanWagner and Pat Boyer, and wide receiver John Pantalone gracing his roster, Obrenovich is the envy of every football coach in the SEC.

Trouble is, Obrenovich doesn't coach football. He's the Novi basketball coach.

And the simple truth of the matter is that in a game in which height is almost prerequisite for success, the 1972-73 edition of the Novi basketball team has precious little of it.

Tallest man on the squad is junior Mike Sumner, who stands just an inch over six feet tall—hardly the stuff SEC centers are made of. After Sumner Novi has a trio of six footers in Boyer, VanWagner, and Pantalone and after them the rest of the squad falls in the 5'8" to 5'11" range.

"It looks bad," admits Obrenovich. "On paper we look real bad."

And then, changing gears," he adds, "Which is good. People will take one look at our roster, see how short we are, and underestimate us."

"The only problem is that our football team did so well," he continues, changing gears once again. "People will remember how tough our football team was and be ready for us in basketball even though we have only one player as tall as 6'1".

Height, or more correctly, the lack of it, is not the only problem facing Obrenovich, however. As if things weren't bad enough to begin with, the Wildcats have almost no depth.

Only 10 players came out for the varsity and one of them, junior forward and guard Craig Hesse, has already been sidelined for a good six weeks with a fractured foot.

Number one substitute on the Novi squad will be 5'9" junior Eric Hansor. The rest of the squad is comprised of Sean O'Brien, Rick Marchetti, Bill Ross—all of whom performed on a very mediocre Novi junior varsity team last year—and Jerry Cockrell, a six foot senior with no basketball experience at all.

With virtually no height or depth, what then can be expected of this Novi team?

"Well, we were 4-10 in league play last year and at least three of those losses came in the final 30 seconds," recalls Obrenovich. "With four of the five starters from that team returning, we're hoping to turn last year's record around and go 10-4. We're not aiming at a definite position, we're aiming for a 10-4 record and are willing to accept the position that goes with it, whether its first or fifth."

Obrenovich does have a couple of plusses in his favor. To be precise, he has four plusses in his favor—and they are named VanWagner, Boyer, Lukkari, and Pantalone. All four are fine athletes who have been playing as a unit for a good many years.

"I don't care if they are just six footers," says Obrenovich of VanWagner and Boyer, "with the exception of Ziegler from Saline I think they are capable of rebounding with anybody in the league."

In addition, the Wildcats, led by VanWagner, who was an All-SEC selection at guard last year, should be one of the fastest teams in the league.

Yet another plus in Novi's favor is the aggressiveness of the front four. "It may be a carry over from football," says Obrenovich, "but the fact is that we have an extremely aggressive team and that can be very important."

In attempting to build a winning basketball team out of a collection of six footers, Obrenovich has installed a shuffle offense with everyone rotating around Sumner who will be isolated in the middle.

"We have a basic shuffle pattern and will run four or five variations out of it," explains Obrenovich.

"We're also working on our fast break," he continues, "but to have a good fast break you have to have the rebounding and I just don't think we're going to get it."

With four good one-to-one performers and virtually no height, the Wildcats can expect to see a lot of sound defenses, a likelihood Obrenovich is well aware of.

"When we see the zones I think we'll be able to shoot over them," he says. "When a coach goes to the zone he's telling his kids that they can't stay with us man to man. Then if we shoot over their zone and they have to abandon it, I think we'll have taken an important psychological victory."

"Another way of beating the zone is beating it down the floor. With our speed I think we'll be able to get the ball back up the floor before the other team gets a chance to set up."

On defense the Wildcats will rely primarily on a man-to-man arrangement. "But we'll also hark the ball a lot," adds Obrenovich. "We've got to put our aggressiveness to work to produce turn overs."

In the final analysis, however, the Wildcats will be doing well to achieve their goal of a 10-4 season is the SEC. At the risk of sounding like a broken record, no height and no depth are difficult handicaps to overcome.

Still, hope springs eternal.

"Pinckney beat Saline for the district championship last year with nothing but speed," Obrenovich points out. "Saline will probably be the best team in the SEC again this year and Pinckney's victory proves that a good fast team is capable of beating a good tall team. That's what we're pinning our hopes on this year."

Greg Mack Wins Football Contest

Just as Michigan State's upset of Ohio State the previous week blocked most contestants so too MSU's loss to Minnesota this past week was a major stumbling block in the weekly football contest.

Nearly everyone picked the Spartans to win. But it was Minnesota, by a score of 14-10.

As it turned out all the winners missed this game as well as one other.

Taking first place by virtue of his better guess of Southern California's 24-7 win over UCLA was Greg Mack, 618 Fairbrook. He had Southern Cal winning 28-10.

In second place was Bruce A. Martin, 119 Ely Drive South. He had Southern California winning 21-14.

And tied for third place, 11 points off the score were Mrs. Donna Engel, 341 Baseline, and H. W. White, 11846 Riverside Drive.

Finishing out of the money but also with just two mistakes were Joe Kritch, Jr. of Cincinnati, Ohio and John Holdsworth, 46778 Grasmere.

Kritch, incidentally, is one of the most frequent contestants even though he and his wife, Sandy, have moved from Northville to Ohio.

"You wouldn't believe our phone bill," explains his mother. "They call every Thursday to get the lineup and then give us their picks."

Pace Series Evened

The Jackson-at-Northville pacing series became a wide open affair as a result of Saturday night's action with four pacers now owning a victory in the series.

Favored Michigan Mack went down to defeat in the first division of the second leg as True Temper, driven by Jim McGarty made amends for a close loss to the Hillsdale hopeful the previous week.

It was the second, and presumably weaker division that provided the top excitement Saturday night as Knox about moved right to the front and never looked back on the way to a meet and series record time of 2:04.

Week-end handle and attendance remained high, making up for three weather-plagued nights earlier in the week. Northville's new all-weather racing surface proved its worth with the first major storm of the year. While the early-week storm caused cancellation of many events, including some racing in the Detroit area, the trotters and pacers went postward as scheduled.

Leon A. Slavin, president and general manager of Jackson's action at Northville Downs, has again scheduled his Thanksgiving Day holiday feast.

Special prizes for complete holiday dinners in the clubhouse and a buffet available for grandstand patrons, are planned. And children, accompanied by an adult, will be admitted free to either grandstand or clubhouse, with special children's dinner prices available.

SPORTS Go-Round

Motorcycle racing is popular in many countries especially the United States and England. Modern races are usually held on special tracks analogous to the raceways used for automobile racing. Motorcycles have been known to reach some very high speeds—the fastest can go well over one hundred miles per hour. Time trial speeds, of course, register well over that, some recorded at 150 miles per hour and over!

We invite all you good sports to come in soon to MOORE'S MOTOR SPORT INC., 21001 Pontiac Trail, So. Lyon, 437-2688. We are an exclusive SUZUKI dealership specializing in a complete line of SUZUKI motorcycles, snowmobiles, accessories, etc. For the best deal in used motorcycles, see us at MOORE'S. 'Cautious Optimism'

Mustangs Look Forward to '72-73 Basketball Season

Remember Walt Koepke's pre-season assessment of his 1971-72 Northville High School basketball team?

"They can't pass, they can't shoot, they don't hustle, and they don't play defense. I've never seen a less aggressive group of basketball players," he said.

That squad went on to post a 12 record, which may or may not confirm Koepke's assessment.

But why rehash Koepke's harsh analysis of his 1971-72 team?

The answer is that it reveals the Northville coach's flair for bluntness, occasionally overcritical, evaluations of his teams' abilities.

And, it serves to bring a certain rosy perspective to Koepke's comment that he is approaching the 1972-73 season with "cautious optimism."

Koepke, it should be noted, is a perfectionist in much the same mold as, for example, a Bo Schembechler. His approach to the game of basketball is one of emphasis on basics—a tough, never-yielding defense and a "patient" to use his own word—offense which grinds out points through well-disciplined execution of fundamental patterns.

But back to the 1972-73 team. "I have to preface the 'optimism' with 'cautious' for two reasons," says Koepke. "First, because we have a very tough schedule, and, second, because I'm concerned about our defense. Defense was one of our weak points last year so we've been trying to emphasize it in practice, but we don't seem to be coming along too well."

The Mustangs will play a 20 game schedule in 1972 as opposed to an 18 game schedule last year. Added to the list of opponents are Lutheran East, Livonia Franklin, and Warren Lincoln.

Tough schedules are a Koepke trademark, however. "You only improve by playing the best," he says. And to back up what he says he has had the Mustangs scrimmaging against teams such as River Rouge, Ann Arbor Pioneer, and Brother Rice with its 6'9" center.

If defense and schedule are the reasons for "caution", what then are the reasons for the optimism?

Once he starts, Koepke is continually stumbling on more and more reasons.

"Number one," he says, "is that we're a much better shooting team than we were last year, and number two is that almost all of our boys have improved beyond my expectations, especially Joe Bishop, Mike Brown, and Todd Eis." "Number three is that we have a lot of boys from Coach Harrison's junior varsity team last year which had a 13-4 record and they know something about winning. And four, we have better height than we did last year."

Koepke continues. "Number five is that we're much farther ahead this year than we were last year at this time. Last year we were still learning the offenses at this point, now we're spending our time polishing our execution."

"And, six, we have some depth this year. Last year if someone wasn't playing well we had to go with him anyway, but this year we'll be able to substitute freely and even have the luxury of resting some of our people."

Four of the five starters from last year's team were lost to graduation, but Koepke feels that his 1972 personnel will be far superior.

Starting in the backcourt will be Rod Crane and Joe Bishop. Crane is the lone returning starter from last year's team. A senior, he was elected captain of the 1972 squad and, according to Koepke, is a fine shooter.

The other guard, Bishop, was the only sophomore to make last year's team and saw limited action even though he lettered. "He plays as hard as anybody on our team and his shooting has improved greatly," says

Backing up Crane and Bishop are juniors Ed Kritch and Ted Fuertges, the two starters on the successful 1971 jayvee team. "Kritch is one of the best shooters on the team. Fuertges is a real scrapper."

And right behind Kritch and Fuertges are Jim Yanoschic and Jim O'Brien. "Yanoschic is just 5'6" tall," reports Koepke, "but I wouldn't trade him for someone 6'5"!" He's a transfer student from Divine Child, but he's picked up our offense and defense as if he'd been playing them all last year. There are times I think he should be starting."

While pleased with his depth at the guard position, Koepke is equally pleased with his front court. "We have good rebounding," he says, "even our shorter forwards are good rebounders and just about everyone on our forward line is very fast."

Slated for a starting slot at one forward is senior Bart Taylor (6'1"). Taylor alternated between forward and guard last year when he was the Mustangs' "sixth man," but Koepke will play him exclusively at forward this year because of the wealth of backcourt talent.

The other forward slot will go to Todd Eis, a 6'3" junior, who Koepke is extremely high on. "Perhaps the most pleasant surprise has been the progress of Todd Eis," he says. "He has good speed, he rebounds well, and he shoots well. By the time he graduates he's going to be one of the better ball players in this area."

Another key member of the '72 team is 6'5" center Mike Brown. "Big guys are supposed to be slow," says the Northville coach, "But Mike has real good speed for a guy his size and he's a strong rebounder. This year he has developed some good moves to the basket."

Brown's rebounding ability gives Koepke the opportunity to install the type of fast break offense he likes to use.

The depth of personnel found at the guard position is also found along the forward line. Dave Duey, a 6'5" senior, backs up Brown and Doug Crisan (6'2") and Bill McDonald (6') are the reserve forwards. Crisan, the only sophomore on the team, centered last year's junior varsity team, but is being converted to a forward by Koepke. McDonald is a hard worker with a knack for the fast break which Koepke admires.

"The two obvious things about this team," says Koepke, "are its better shooting ability and the overall team speed. Also, we do have good rebounding."

How well can the Mustangs expect to do?

A Western Six Conference championship is extremely dubious at best with defending champion Livonia Churchill on hand and apparently stronger than ever. And, as for overall record, Koepke, says: "We've got 20 games, and I think we have a good chance to win 10 of them."

MUSTANG CAGERS—Much of the Mustangs' success during the upcoming basketball season will depend on the ability of these cagers. In the back row are guards

Ed Kritch (left) and Joe Bishop. In front are junior forwards Todd Eis, senior guard and team captain Rod Crane, senior forward Bart Taylor, and senior forward Dave Duey.

It's Mustangs vs Lions

In Cage Opener Tuesday

The South Lyon team, that takes the floor against the Mustangs in the season's opener next Tuesday will bear little resemblance to the squad that bombed Northville's cagers 74-65 in last year's opener.

It's not that some of the same faces won't be around, mind you. Two key performers from the Lion's fine 1971-72 team—guard Tony Kern and forward Ed Segars—are still around to lead Coach Bill Tomas' squad.

What's missing is that overpowering eighth which carried the Lions to an overall record of 14-6 and their second consecutive state Class B district tournament title.

Gone from the 1971-72 team are 6'8" center Mike Muir, whose height alone made him a formidable force on the boards, and, more importantly, 6'5" forward Jim McIntosh, a polished performer who could do it all, offensively and defensively.

Northville and South Lyon have traditionally opened the season against each other over the past seven years. The Mustangs hold a 4-3 edge in the series, but the Lions have clearly held the upper hand in recent years.

Northville won the first three games in the series, but since that time the Lions have come on strong to win three of the last four games, and, if they should win Tuesday, they'll not only even the series at four games apiece, but also make it three opening game wins in a row over the Mustangs.

In spite of the losses of Muir and McIntosh, South Lyon still figures to have a strong team. It was Tony Kern, who hurt

Northville most last year. Though just a sophomore, Kern blistered the nets with 17 points in the first half as the Lions built up a huge first-half lead and then coasted to the victory.

Kern, a good ball handler and play maker as well as shooter, will direct the Lion's 1972-73 cage fortunes from the backcourt.

Just as valuable as Kern is forward Ed Segars. At 6'2½" Segars is the tallest member of the Lion team. A good jumper, Segars is strong on the boards and a major scoring threat.

A third returning starter is forward-center Tom Hanson (6'11", 180 pounds). Kern, Segars, and Hanson are described as "blud chippers" by Thomas and he will build his attack around their talents.

The rest of the first team will come from a group of players that include co-captains Bobby Herrell and Roger Cash, a pair of guards: guard-forward Dave Williamson (5'11"); guard Gene Spencer, a transfer student who lettered for Novi last year; and 5'11", 200 pound junior forward Dave Hartman, who toiled for the junior varsity last year.

What will South Lyon do with this type of material?

Admitting that lack of height is a major problem, Thomas says he may use a triple post offense and plans to rely on better than average team speed. "We've learned to play together as a team these past years and that's a big plus," he adds.

What he means is—watch for Kern, Segars, and Hanson on the fast break they ran so effectively last year.

The game will be played in South Lyon. The junior varsity squads meet at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity game scheduled to get underway at approximately 8 p.m.

Schoocraft Five Wins

Tom Luch scored on a lay-up with just three seconds left to give Schoocraft College a 95-93 victory over Concordia Lutheran College last week.

The game was the season's opener for Schoocraft Coach Tom Roncoli's charges.

Luch's clutch basket ended a see-saw battle that saw Concordia Lutheran leading 43-41 at the half.

Luch was high-point man for Schoocraft with 25 points, but all five Schoocraft starters finished in double figures as Craig Rosenthal had 18, Brian Dmsmore 16, and Mike Lewis and Leon Jackson each had 14.

HAPPY SENDOFF—Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg (right center) and Township Clerk Mrs. Eleanor Hammond, honored at an open house program Thursday, were presented symbolic keys to the city by City Manager Frank Ollendorff (left) and Councilman Kenneth Rathert. Friends and fellow officials gathered Thursday at the township hall to wish the two long-time township officials happiness upon retirement from public office. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond will make their home in Northern Michigan and Mr. and Mrs. Stromberg will make their home in Florida. Both officials chose to retire rather than seek another term of office. On hand for the occasion were their newly elected replacements, Supervisor Lawrence Wright and Clerk Mrs. Sally Cayley.

Two solicitation drives—one by the Jaycees and the other for the annual Mothers March—were approved Monday.

Jaycees were given permission to conduct their third annual candy sale on downtown streets December 15, 16 and 18 for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase gifts for the Child Development Center, Our Lady of Providence, and Plymouth State Home.

The Mothers March is scheduled from January 31 to February 5.

The council declined to join with Grosse Pointe Woods in calling for the abolishment of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, taking the position that SEMCOG is a needed, effective regional organization.

Dinner Set For Masons

Northville Lodge No. 186, F & AM is sponsoring a Master Mason's dinner at the Northville Masonic Temple, 106 East Main Street on Monday evening at 6:30.

Among the highlights of the evening will be the presentation of life memberships, 50-year membership certificates and special honor awards to outstanding members.

Following dinner, musical entertainment by the Richard Harris Harmonica Men is planned.

All Masons, their families and friends are invited by Worshipful Master Herman A. Wedemeyer to attend this event. Reservations may be made by calling 349-0149 or 349-1714.

the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, taking the position that SEMCOG is a needed, effective regional organization.

Nevertheless, Councilman Paul Veron suggested that the council examine in detail later why so many communities dislike the organization.

A traffic survey of Clement Road at Thompson Brown's subdivision shows that traffic regulations are unnecessary, the council learned.

The police survey was ordered after citizens in the area complained that motorists were speeding.

Rather than drop the matter, however, the council decided to send a copy of the survey to the Lexington Commons homeowners association and await its reaction.

A revised parking assessment bonds resolution was approved Monday, and a public hearing was set December 18 on the city's annual street fund budget.

Following Monday's meeting, the council reviewed in detail the financial statement of the city for the first three months of the fiscal year.

Senior Citizens Plan Meeting

The Northville Senior Citizens Club members will be entertained with a program of bango music and singing at the group's next meeting on Thursday, November 28.

The meeting will begin with the regular pot luck dinner at 6 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Grice R. Reddy of Livonia will present his musical variety program following the dinner.

Do you know that you can re-use nails? This, of course, is only possible if you can get them out of whatever they're holding together at present in good condition. To pull a nail out without bending it is an art you must know exactly what to do. Use a claw hammer. Place the hammer head on a piece of wood or block laid against the surface of the work. Then pull slowly and carefully. This also will prevent marring your work with the hammer head.

Make NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220 your headquarters for all the materials and supplies for your homeowner tasks. We offer unusual selectivity of quality merchandise and feature Owens-Corning fiberglass insulation; a wide variety of wood, plastic and metal molding; wallpaper by Fisher and Sanitas; and decorator cork. site bounded by Main, Wing and Cady streets and eventually sold it to the city.

McManus became interested in the site and proposed the mall, which covers the entire 58,000-square-foot parcel.

Parking will be provided off the site, across Main Street to the north and across Cady Street to the south.

The city agreed to pay half the cost of parking and assess Northville Square $200,000 ($20,000 per year at six per cent interest over 10 years) for the other half of the anticipated cost of some 400-plus parking spaces.

The 50-50 split also was used by the city with other property owners in developing the Cady street parking deck and proposed off-street parking on Dunlap street.

In addition to Mayor Allen, other officials attending the ground-breaking ceremonies were: City Councilmen Paul Folino, Kenneth Rathert and Paul Vernon and City Manager Frank Ollendorff; Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright, Clerk Sally Cayley and Treasurer Joseph Straub, and School Superintendent Raymond Spear.

If modern styles in furniture and decoration appeal to you, why not go hopelessly, helplessly modern? Indulge in the simplicity and comfort of some pieces of modern furniture. Select some colors that really make you feel happy, and use them with daring. Try a new print for curtains, or burlap, or any one of a hundred decorator designs. Rid yourself of unnecessary gimcracks, and display a few simple pieces of good design. Go modern—it's a great way for a new look at yourself.

There is still time to do some decorating before the Holidays. See the wide variety of home furnishings in any style at SCHRADER'S HOME FURNISHINGS INC., 111 N. Center St., Northville, 349-1838. We carry any national brands including Stiffel Lamps, La-Z-Boy recliner chairs and Kroehler furniture. There's plenty of municipal parking behind each store. Christianity— Then and Now

Arnold B. Cook, Pastor
First Baptist Church of Novi

Without question, the apostle Paul was the greatest exponent the christian faith has ever had. He embraced that faith at a time when it was very unpopular to do so. In so doing, he set in motion the wheels of opposition that eventually resulted in his death; but not before he had preached Christ in many countries and established churches to perpetuate that faith which had made him a new creation in Christ.

Much water has gone under the bridge since Paul's day, and while the need of man remains the same, there are those who believe that the character and requirements of biblical christianity should undergo a doctrinal and ethical metamorphosis to make it more palatable and popular. From the "Jesus People" who have tried to make it radical, to the liberal minister who has tried to make it more rational (so they say), present day christianity bears little resemblance to its first century counterpart.

From many areas today come cries of change, or pleas that christianity exhibit some new things. We contend (by biblical authority) that the faith preached by Jesus and by Paul; the faith that planted churches throughout the world, and the faith that has elevated nations where the Word has been preached, does not need to be replaced by some pabulum brand of christianity that is lifeless, impotent and useless.

While many church liberals are bemoaning declining attendance and loss of finances, it is a proven fact that the largest churches; the rapidly growing churches are those who "contend for the faith once delivered to the saints."

Now, lest some should misunderstand what faith we are talking about, let me conclude by saying that it is the faith that recognizes God as Sovereign; the Bible as infallible; Jesus Christ as Lord. That He was God incarnate (born of a virgin), who lived a sinless life, died a vicarious death, rose again in a victorious conquest over death, and is coming again as our reigning King. It is the faith that yields to the Bible analysis that man is a depraved, sinful creature who needs to repent of sin; by faith confess Jesus as Lord, and live a life which is in conformity to biblical ideals.

What our generation needs is not a new faith, but rather a reaffirmation of faith in the Word of God which wrought such dynamic effects in lives and affairs of men and nations, when and where the Bible has been faithfully proclaimed.

PUMPKIN EATERS

Bringing in the harvest is hard work! Just the thought of lugging this big pumpkin around is enough to make Carol and Sue tired and sleepy!

But what will Mommy do? She will make pies for Thanksgiving dinner. Then the house will smell sweet and spicy from the baking, and there will be a big table with the huge, browned turkey, and grandfather will say grace . . .

Thanksgiving is a day unique to Americans. In this troubled world of today Americans might count their blessings with hesitant hearts, but stop to compare your lot with your brothers in other nations, and you will soon find that God has given to you bounteously.

Give thanks, then, in the church of your choice.

Gas Tax for Mass Transit?

LANSING—Two big unfinished matters await the Michigan Legislature as it returned in late November.

The first, and better known, is the question of whether Michigan will use a small portion of its gas tax revenues to help pay for mass transit programs for the state's urban areas.

The second is whether the legislature will raise the bonding limit for the State Housing Development Authority from its current $300 million level.

Both issues currently are tied up in the Senate where virtually no action was taken during the brief session held toward the end of September.

THE HIGHWAY PACKAGE, which Gov. William G. Milliken has at the top of his priority list, has been locked in the Senate Highways Committee since last spring.

It is a perfect example of how one man can prevent the entire legislature from doing anything if he is in the right position and is determined. Committee Chairman James Fleming has held the bill in his committee all that time, never even allowing the subject to be brought up for discussion.

THE SUBJECT is actually two bills which would raise the gasoline tax by two cents per gallon and allocate the increase. Three quarters of it, or 1.5 cents per gallon, would go for an accelerated highway construction program. The other one quarter, or one half cent per gallon, would go for mass transit.

Because of Fleming's intransigence, the package is in serious trouble. Lawmakers couldn't come back any sooner after the election because many of them wanted to go deer hunting rather than work, and the short time remaining reduces any chances for its success.

But the governor and the legislative backers of the program aren't going to give up on it without a fight, and there should be a great deal of action in the next few weeks behind the scenes to try to work out a package which everyone can agree on—at least everyone that is willing to consider.

THE BONDING AUTHORITY bill is expected to be passed without much difficulty following some staff work and negotiations which cut back its total amount.

Milliken originally proposed increasing the limit from $300 million to $800 million. That brought wails of protest from bankers around the state, who were afraid the authority might help persons with its lower interest loans who otherwise would have to go to a bank and its higher interest rates.

The program financed by the bonds serves people with incomes ranging from around the $9,000 per year mark down to the $3,000 per year mark. It mixes the income to prevent the buildings it finances from becoming ghettos for low income persons only.

After some negotiations, the bill has been lowered to a $600 million ceiling and should go through at that level.

THE MICHIGAN HIGHWAY Department normally is concerned with highways, since that is why it was created.

But it has some other concerns which result from its regular function. One of those side concerns has seen it construct 200 lakes during the past 14 years as a by-product of highway construction.

The lakes are built when roadside gravel and sand pits are excavated below ground water level.

The three newest lakes were dug out in heavily wooded areas where the new I-75 freeway is being built through Ogemaw and Roscommon counties. The largest covers 60 acres.

MANY of the lakes have been sold for conservation and recreational purposes such as wildlife refuges and camping. Some were transferred to other public agencies and a few are still held by the department.

"This is one way in which Michigan's needs for good roads and for preservation of its environmental quality go hand in hand," said Highways Director Henrik E. Stafseth. "We are building better highways and getting more lakes as a dividend."

The lakes began being created in 1958 because some points on the freeway system demand enormous amounts of land to build up the roadbed. Rather than just digging ugly holes and letting them sit there, the department decided it might as well make scenic lakes out of them and that's what happened.

Babson Report

Plan Your Retirement Now

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., — Even though you may not be planning to retire for another ten years, it is not too early to start preparing for it now.

The majority of investors tend to postpone making plans for retirement until it is too late to do a really good job. One who waits until the last moment is usually under the pressure of time, and, as a consequence, more apt to take imprudent risks in seeking to build up investment capital. This often leads to the loss of hard-earned money and defeats the investor's objective precisely when he can least afford it.

WHEN PLANNING a future retirement program, several basic income ingredients may or may not be included, depending on individual circumstances. These are such factors as social security, company pensions, annuities, retirement insurance programs, etc. This portion of the program probably began with the first job and has been adjusted upward occasionally as earning power increased.

The sooner you can honestly and fairly appraise your anticipated living costs after retirement the sooner you can determine the amount of invested capital that will be necessary to provide the funds to fill the gap between the aforementioned assured income and income from investments. Then it will be possible to consider whether the retirement goal is attainable without major adjustments.

NATURALLY, the challenge facing the decade-away retiree is the building up of sufficient capital to meet the needs of ten years hence. To accomplish this, the investor should have capital gains as his primary aim, with a long-term goal of increased income. Thus the advantageous placing of funds during the various phases of securities markets over the coming ten years will be very important.

IN YEARS PAST when high-grade common stocks yielded 6 percent or more, a fine investment account could usually be built up through the plow-back of dividends each year. Today, with low common stock yields and with current high personal-income tax rates, it is difficult to secure much growth via interest or dividend accumulation.

Consequently, capital gains are especially necessary for the investor who is already in a high tax bracket and who finds that it is almost impossible to increase his estate substantially by saving or investing current income. Building up a fund for retirement, therefore, requires considerable dependence on growth in the market value of the common stocks (or convertible issues) held, and careful timing of sales and purchases at different phases of the total market cycle and of the individual-stock cycles as well.

of Agriculture, announced that retail meat counters in Michigan will soon be displaying signs which identify companies whose sausages and other meat products meet the Michigan Department of Agriculture's high standards for "Michigan Grade 1."

The signs are being distributed by Michigan sausage manufacturers.

Federal standards for comminuted meats permit the addition of such by-products as snouts, stomach, lips, ears, spleens, salivary glands and esophagi. There is no minimum protein requirement, and the products may contain up to 10 percent added water.

Ball said much of the consumers' outrage is directed toward Armour, Hormel and Wilson, the three large out-of-state meat packers who filed suit in federal court in an attempt to force Michigan's higher standards down to the minimum federal requirements.
