Santa's Coming
To Town

BELIEVERS of all ages will be happy to learn that Santa Claus has found time again this year in his busy Christmas schedule to visit Northville. Thanks to the Chamber of Commerce Santa will meet and greet his friends at Del's Shoes beginning this Friday from 3 p.m. until 8 p.m. Santa's complete Northville schedule appears in an advertisement on page 3-A. He'll give his little friends candy canes and coloring books.

PUBLIC HEARING will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday on the proposed $314,000 sewer construction project for Grand View Acres in Northville township. Although definite cost of the sewer installation to each homeowner has not been established, township officials estimate cost will range between $20 and $22 per front foot. The hearing will be held at the township offices, 301 West Main Street.

SUNDAY store hours are being planned by several Northville merchants, according to officers of the Retail Merchants Association. The Sunday openings will be confined to December 10, 17 and 24 for Christmas shopping. Announcement of the stores and exact store hours will be made next week.

RESOLUTION CALLING for the return of $62,000 in 1971-72 state aid monies to the Northville School District was unanimously approved Monday by school trustees. The money represents that withheld by the state from the district last year. In addition, the resolution asks that the anticipated $30-million surplus in the 1972-73 state aid budget be allocated specifically for education and be distributed for local district use during the present school year.

SITE PLAN approval was given Tuesday night by township planners to the 384-unit multiple complex to be developed by Multicon-Thompson Brown on the north side of Six Mile near Winchester. Planners also approved two lot splits in the Bradner and Franklin road area and voted to cancel the December 26 meeting.

A PURCHASE agreement has been negotiated by city personnel on two more parcels of land south of Cady Street, City Manager Frank Ollendorff disclosed this week, and will be presented to the council at its next meeting. According to the manager, one parcel is located on Cady Street and another is located on Wing Street.

Bonds totaling $750,000 were sold by Northville School District Monday night, officially setting in motion the district's next building program.

Successful bidder on the bonds was Manley, Bennett, McDonald and Company with an interest rate of 5.161546. Net cost of interest on the 29-year bonds will be $643,918.22.

Business Director Earl Busard commented that the interest payment "is low. Last time we sold bonds the interest costs were well over 100-percent of the price of the bonds."

He added that "this is where year-round school would save the taxpayers money. By fully using the buildings, fewer schools would have to be constructed, thus saving money on interest costs."

Other bids submitted at Monday's meeting were First of Michigan, interest rate of 5.16551 for a cost of $645,043.12; Detroit Bank and Trust, interest rate of 5.169935 for a cost of $645,595.50; and Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, interest rate of 5.299938 for a cost of $661,829.75.

Proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used for purchase of the 10-acre elementary school site in Highland Lakes at a cost of $45,000, for developing and improving existing school sites and for purchasing future additional sites.

Also included will be remodeling and re-equipping existing school buildings, with much of the work presently under construction or completed.

Sale of the bonds was approved by voters in the June school election. School officials anticipate the next bond issue will be held in June, 1973, pegged at $8- to $10 million.

Projects included will be two elementary schools, to be built in Highland Lakes and Northville Commons, and a middle school on Bradner Road.

In 1974, school officials anticipate another bond issue will be placed before voters to build a high school. No site has been acquired as of yet for the school.

In other action Monday, school board trustees denied a grievance filed by David Adair, middle school counselor, by a vote of 5-1. Trustee Glenn Deibert casting the dissenting vote.

Unpaved streets—Eleven

IT'S OPEN — Although work on the approaches, storm drain, and cleanup remains to be done, the new bridge over the stream on the Rural Hill Cemetery Drive has opened for traffic. The concrete structure replaces the old, often-repaired that was fast deteriorating and endangering traffic. While the bridge was under construction, cemetery traffic used a temporary drive off Sheldon Road.

Five-Year Plan Behind Schedule

City Eyes Improvements

As the city of Northville nears the fourth year of a five-year public improvements program, recommendations for still another five-year program are being prepared by City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

Even so, the city has reached only three of the 15 goals it set for itself in April, 1969, the manager disclosed. These include equipment, buildings, and bridges.

"We are close to being on schedule in eight areas," he added, including water and sanitary sewers, park acquisition, new streets, park development, sidewalks, tree planting, parking and storm drainage.

"In four areas," Ollendorff said, "we have not been able to meet our goals—street lighting, housing, paved streets and unpaved streets." Concerning the latter four goals, the city manager made these observations:

Unpaved streets—Eleven streets were listed for paving consideration under the five-year program. Work is complete on North Center, Horton, Hill, Allen-Novi intersection, East Baseline, Grandview or Spring Paved streets—Fifteen paved streets and intersections were slated for major re-paving. Of these, completed were Lake, Allen, Rogers, Fairbrook, Grace, Carrington, Debra, and North Ely. Not done were Hutton, West, Lunden, Novi, High, Rouge, and South Ely.

Housing—Plans called for 80 units to be constructed by 1973.

Street lighting—200 new lights were deemed necessary. Of these, approximately 50 have been installed, not including those in new subdivisions. Many others, however, have been re-lamped with brighter lights.

Eight areas near schedule

Water and sanitary sewer—Sanitary sewers have been installed in North Center and Gerald Avenue, but no action has been taken yet in Horton and Lake streets. Water mains were completed in Eight Mile and Taft, and have been scheduled for Wing between Cady and Main; unmetered customers have all been metered. But no action has been taken in the West Main Street area.

Park and open space acquisition—Neighborhood parks have been established at Maplewood, Baseline, Dubuar and North Ely as planned (Tot lots were deemed unnecessary following study). Fish Hatchery was acquired as one of two community parks, but no action has been taken as yet on the second large park.

Park and recreation development—Fish hatchery development is underway, neighborhood parks are to be left in their natural state except for Allen Drive and North Ely where plans are underway. But no action has been taken in establishment of a golf course and outdoor swimming facility.

New streets—Wing Street and Griswold Street extensions are progressing, though somewhat behind schedule. Both were to be completed by 1972. No action has been taken to date on a central business district alternate route or on Beal Street.

Sidewalks—13,485 lineal feet of sidewalk was planned. By 1973 more than 10,000 feet will have been installed.

Tree planting—A goal of 300 new trees was set for the five-year period. To date, 200 have been planted, not including those in new subdivisions.

Parking—Five-year plans noted that at full CBD development, nearly 1,000 new parking places will be required. The city has already developed approximately 220 new spaces; it owns property which will provide 140 new spaces, and it is negotiating for property which can hold 250 more spaces, thus giving the city 610 new spaces by the end of 1973.

Storm drainage—Northeast drain has been completed, and new culverts have been installed in Northville Estates, The Randolph and

Police Bank Some Odd Treasures

By SALLY BURKE

Going through the impounded property room at Northville City Police Department is, in many respects, like looking through that box of memories everyone has hidden away in the basement.

Each article, no matter what its size, has a story behind it.

However, memories the property in the police department brings back are most often bizarre, sometimes funny but rarely fond.

Like the .44 caliber magnum "It was taken from a subject this summer," Corporal Bruce Deacon, who has charge of all impounded property for the city, explained.

"After a high speed chase, he bailed out of the car with the gun—intent on having a shoot out with the arresting officers, he told us later."

Or the dress sword. "It was taken away from a juvenile back in 1969," Corporal Deacon said. "Guess he thought it was cute to threaten a few people with it."

The broken pool cues are remnants of Saturday night arguments police have been called to settle.

BB guns, also impounded from juveniles, have been used for hunting ducks, street lights and windows.

And there's a pair of brass knuckles, fashioned from a sword handle, that would leave an impression with anyone.

Most of the hand guns currently impounded are not real. "We've got cap guns, starter pistols and others that probably would fool someone not familiar with weapons," Deacon commented. Some have been used in hold-up and attempted hold-ups.

There's one handmade gun, carved out of wood and held together with electrical and adhesive tape, "that might work, but I wouldn't want to be the one to try it," he said.

Deacon explained the real weapons, once they are no longer needed for evidence in a criminal case, are taken to the Michigan State Police in Lansing where they are destroyed.

Guns are impounded if they are used in violation of a law by the owner, are not registered or are involved in any narcotics case. Nine were destroyed in June.

Also part of the collection in the property division are knives, ranging from jack knives to carving utensils, stereo tape players, tapes, stereo speakers, plumber's tool chest, portable radios, 12-pack of warm beer and several record albums by Cheek and Chong which include favorites like "Trippin' in Court."

And there are tires, including six new ones which were found in the back of one car a few years ago, wheels, light fixtures, a billy club, mini-bikes, plumbing fixtures and carpeting.

There are the usual cars, most of them abandoned and "worth less than the price of the tow bill or fine so they're just left for junk by the owners," Deacon said.

And bicycles in every shape, style and color imaginable. "We may auction them off before Christmas," he explained, "so that someone who might not otherwise have gotten a bike for Christmas may get one." Complete records are kept

Club Celebrates Members Loss

Mrs. Blanche Moffitt, 82, of East Main Street, was honored by her friends and fellow Northville Weight Watchers at a party on Friday, November 24 in the First Presbyterian Church.

The reason for the party was Mrs. Moffitt's loss of 67 pounds, thus reaching the goal set for her when she began Weight Watchers just over a year ago. Actually, this was her first success at weight loss after several attempts.

According to Mrs. Ruth

Krammer, Northville Weight Watcher lecturer, Mrs. Moffitt no longer needs the help of the crutches she used when she attended her first meeting.

At the party, Mrs. Moffitt was presented with a Weight Watchers pin to signify the achievement of her goal and a corsage.

Mrs. Mary Alexander, another Northville Weight Watcher, was also presented with a corsage on Friday. The occasion was her 82nd birthday.

Two Star in 'Peter Pan'

Jeff and Tim Lee, both of Northville, will be appearing in a production of "Peter Pan" staged by Russ Vogel's Production Players on December 2 in Livonia.

Two performances of the theatrical fantasy, one at 11 a.m. and another at 1 p.m., are scheduled to take place at Stevenson High School located at 33500 Six Mile, west of Farmington Road.

Jeff has been cast in the role of Michael Darling and Tim has been assigned the part of Cecco.

Admission is $1 and tickets will be available at the door. Further information may be obtained by calling 422-6093.

Engaged

SUZANNE BONAMICI

Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Bonamici of Fairbrook announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Marie, to David Hugh Munzinger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Munzinger of Jamestown Circle.

The bride-elect is a Northville High School graduate and is presently employed by the Sunflower Shop.

Her fiancé, also a Northville High graduate, is attending Schoolcraft College and is employed by Flom's Corporation.

An April wedding is being planned.

DOROTHY M. ETHERTON

A June 16, 1973, wedding is being planned by Dorothy M. Etherton and Curtis R. Ritenour. Announcement of the couple's engagement is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Etherton of Whitmore Lake. Mr. and Mrs.

Donald C. Ritenour of 10735 Six Mile Road are the future bridegroom's parents.

The bride-elect is a 1972 Whitmore Lake High School graduate. Her fiancé graduated from Northville High School in 1971.

PATRICIA BLACKWELL

Patricia Ann Blackwell's engagement to Frank James Hicks has been announced.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Blackwell of Pinckney and Mr. and Mrs. Blaine D. Hicks of 20299 Silver Spring.

The bride-elect will graduate from Stockbridge High School in June and is presently employed at a nursing home in Stockbridge.

The future bridegroom is a 1971 Northville High School graduate and now attends Columbus Technical School in Ohio. He is employed by the Kroger company.

A June 23, 1973, wedding date has been set.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

A PREVIEW evening is being planned before the first Christmas Walk of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, so that branch members themselves and their husbands may see the five homes to be open.

They will view the homes from 7 to 9 p.m. next Wednesday. The Christmas Walk is scheduled from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. December 7. Because all members are "so involved" with preparations in individual homes and would not have an opportunity to tour the others the day of the walk, the committee decided to hold the preview evening.

The walk, which will help supply scholarship funds, will take ticketholders from the Early American home of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Krause to three homes in Edenderry, those of the William Farringtons, Donald DiComos and Arthur Palarchios. Fifth home is that of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes in Meadowbrook.

Admission is by the bright red-printed tickets (including a map) which must be purchased in advance—$2 from any branch member. Refreshments will be served everyone at the home of Mrs. Farrington. Every home will have different items for sale—ranging from candles and greens to baked goods.

GIFT BOXES, wrapped with a professional touch, comprise the timely program topic for Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. this Friday in Northville Presbyterian Church fellowship hall.

The speaker is Jean Walsh Goldner of Bloomfield Hills, who has taught workshops and classes in crafts and decorating in the Birmingham area. She currently is teaching creative needlepoint at the Clawson Y.W.C.A.

"Her wrappings look like decorator boxes," according to Mrs. William Crump, program chairman, "but she describes how to create them so well that it's easy to copy."

Mrs. Goldner, who majored in related arts in both home economics and liberal arts at Michigan State University and Wayne State University, mentions that she is interested in most crafts, but primarily weaving, knitting, needlepoint and patchwork and applique quilts.

Mrs. Goldner also is an extensive traveler, having visited such places as the headwaters of the Amazon River, Borneo and a Peace Corps operation in the slums of Guayaquil, Ecuador.

She is vice president and secretary of Goldner-Walsh, Incorporated, a landscaping firm she and her husband, Alfred H. Goldner, own and operate in Southfield.

She is treasurer of the People-to-People chapter of the Birmingham area. This is the organization begun by President Eisenhower for the purpose of entertaining foreign visitors in American homes.

Mrs. Alfons List, social chairman for the day, is planning to begin the holiday month with a wassail bowl following the program.

A TRIP TO JAMAICA preceded Thanksgiving for the Addison Klines. It also was a reunion with former Northville residents and friends, Marge and Bill Heffner. The Klines report that the Heffners are in process of moving to Barrington, near Chicago area.

Completing a sixsome were other former neighbors of the Heffners from New Jersey.

THE RICHARD HUSTONS also are getting ready to move. They have purchased a home in Gwynedd Valley, Pennsylvania, and hope to move by late January at the end of the school semester.

He is to begin work at the Philco-Ford subsidiary near Blue Bell, Pennsylvania, December 1. For Dick Huston the transfer to the Philadelphia suburb will bring him closer to his family in Huntington. Since he attended Princeton, the area is familiar.

"Best of all," reports Donna Huston, "it's only ten minutes from his work to the home we bought." She adds that she had hoped to find an old home, but wasn't able to do so as four-bedroom colonials are scarce. The family plans to keep its cottage at Hubbard Lake so will be back in Michigan in summers.

Mrs. Huston says that the transfer also takes them near other former Northville residents, the William Wileys, whom they knew here.

ANNUAL CRAFT WORKSHOP of Base Line Questers was hosted Monday by Mrs. Thomas Lovett in Shadbrook. Members created driftwood-pictures with materials gathered by program chairman Mrs. George Spencer at her summer home in the Upper Peninsula.

BENEFITS always have been well supported in Our Town, but those held this fall have been topping those of previous years to aid good causes.

Northville Home Tour yielded $919, Mrs. Kenneth Dodds, chairman, reports for the sponsoring Northville Presbyterian Women's Association. Funds are earmarked for U-Kan, Presbyterian missions, Alma College and Northville State Hospital chaplain work.

MOTHERS' CLUB rummage sale netted $327, according to Mrs. Kalin Johnson. These funds will be added to the club's school enrichment project. The club also is hoping for a success with its latest "first"—a series of open houses throughout the community this Saturday.

NORTHVILLE'S BAND BOOSTERS, just beginning their second year of raising funds to send the high school band to summer band camp, already has had at least three successful projects—and more coming.

The pumpkin bread sale the Sunday before Thanksgiving was a sell-out, Mrs. Norman Frid, president of the boosters with her husband, notes. A total of $233 was collected, topping last year's total of $198.

Saturdays spent leaf-raking raised $330, Mrs. Frid added, pointing out that this also is a community service the band members feel is needed. "We'll do it in the spring, too," she says.

Orders have been taken for Christmas candles throughout the community, which band members hope to receive and deliver the end of this week. They took orders for 2,164 candles, making a profit for the band camp of $2,164!

An additional $71 already has been raised at weekly brownie cookie sales Tuesdays at the high school. The sale is being expanded into the junior high annex this week as booster mothers plan to sell brownies there every Wednesday.

Traditional Favorites Are Back

Traditional American recipes that made holidays festive in the days of George Washington and other of our country's founding fathers were shared last week with Northville Woman's Club members by Jan Longone, a gourmet cook who operates her own cooking school and catering service in Ann Arbor.

As generous samples proved for those attending the club meeting, these are authentic "treats" as good today as when served at Mount Vernon.

Bake in large tube pan in 325 degree oven for approximately 1 1/2 hours (Maybe longer).

Egg custard, baked in its own caramel sauce, is a classic sweet served all over Europe and the Middle East. In both Spain and Mexico the custard is known as Flan.

Fortunately you don't have to visit any foreign country or even a restaurant to enjoy this typical dessert. This American version, called Caramel Topped Custard, is made with ease by using a package of egg custard mix. This custard is the one that's "baked" in a saucepan and chilled in a simple mold (or bowl) which been coated with a golden sugar syrup. The finishing touch after unmolding is a casual sprinkling of chopped nuts.

Another dessert with a foreign accent is Mocha Custard. Again made with the friendly assistance of a package of egg custard mix which is prepared with the addition of a touch of cocoa and instant quality coffee. Chill this sweet in custard cups to unmold just before serving. If you like, this delicately flavored dessert can be garnished with a dollop of prepared whipped topping and a chocolate curl.

So you see, interesting desserts with a foreign accent can be prepared quickly and easily—and grand enough to serve to the most discriminating of guests!

Caramel Tops This Custard Dish

WASHINGTON CAKE (Currant Poundcake)

- 5 cups sifted all purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups butter or regular margarine, softened
- 2 1/4 cups sugar
- 6 eggs
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 cup milk
- 1 pkg (11 oz) currants

1. Preheat oven to 350 F. Grease well and flour a 10-by-4 inch tube pan. Sift flour with baking powder, nutmeg, and salt, set aside.
 2. In large bowl, with electric mixer at high speed, beat butter with sugar until light and fluffy—takes about 5 minutes.
 3. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla, continue beating until smooth and fluffy.
 4. At low speed, beat in flour mixture (in fourths), alternately with milk (in thirds), beginning and ending with flour mixture; beat only until combined. Stir in currants.
 5. Turn batter into prepared pan. Bake 1 hour and 20 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.
 6. Cool in pan on wire rack 15 minutes. Turn out pan onto rack, cool completely.
 7. To serve, slice thinly. Makes about 30 servings.
- Note: This is a cake that stores well and improves on standing. It is best to bake it a day or two ahead.

"POUND CAKE

- 8 eggs separated
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 1 pound butter
- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup light cream
- 1 tablespoon vanilla

Separate eggs and beat whites stiff with 6 tablespoons sugar. Place in refrigerator. Cream butter and sugar, add egg yolks. Alternate flour and cream. Add vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

CARAMEL TOPPED CUSTARD

- One-third cup sugar
- 1 package (3 oz) Jell-O Golden Egg Custard Mix
- 1 1/2 cups of milk
- 1/2 cup light cream
- 1 egg yolk (optional)
- Chopped nuts

Melt sugar in heavy skillet, stirring constantly until golden. Quickly pour into a small 2 1/2-cup bowl or casserole and rotate quickly to coat bottom and sides with syrup. Set aside. Blend custard mix with milk and cream in saucepan. For an even richer custard add egg yolk. Bring quickly to a boil, stirring constantly. (Mixture will be thin.) Pour into syrup-lined bowl. Chill until set. Unmold. Sprinkle with nuts. Makes 2 cups or 4 servings.

MOCHA CUSTARD

- 1 package (3oz.) Jell-O

ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gazlay of S. Rogers Street, Northville, celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary last week with a sentimental journey back to Greenfield Village where they were married in the Martha-Mary Chapel on the Village Green in 1942. Gazlay surprised his wife with a celebration luncheon at the Dearborn Inn and with the photographs for their scrapbook taken in front of the Chapel. The couple has four children.

News Around Northville

The annual Christmas tea and meeting of Mizpah Circle King's Daughters is scheduled for 2 p.m. on Tuesday, December 5, in the home of Mrs. John Litsenberger, 132 West Dunlap. Members are reminded to bring childrens Christmas gifts for Mott Childrens Hospital in Ann Arbor. The gifts may be for boys or girls and should be unwrapped. Wrapping materials are to be taken to the meeting. Also, plans will be made at the meeting for the preparation of the Christmas baskets and fruit plates.

Mrs. Hazel Eathorne of Northville has been elected secretary of the Suburban Concert Ballet.

The group, now in its fifth year, is in the process of finalizing plans for the presentation of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" on December 12 and 17 in the West Bloomfield High School Auditorium.

Neighbors Host

Newcomers

A coffee will be held this morning (Thursday) to introduce three newcomers to their neighbors in the Shadbrook and Edenderry area.

Held at the home of Mrs. William McDermott on Pickford Court, the coffee will carry the theme of the end of the fall harvest.

Honored at the event will be Mrs. Robert Petterson, Mrs. John Wilson, both of Pickford, and Mrs. Gene Karrer of Pinebrook.

Mrs. McDermott reported that about 44 women are expected to attend the coffee. "It's something the neighborhood automatically does when newcomers move in. It's a nice way of getting to know your neighbors," she added. Assisting Mrs. McDermott will be Mrs. Calvin Niemi of Pickford.

A Northville woman, Mrs. Katharine Crossman of 21255 Summerside Lane, recently participated in the planning of a workshop sponsored by the Ann Arbor Dietetic Association.

The workshop, titled "The Paperback Feast", was held at the University of Michigan on November 14.

Joe Pisani of Northville bowled a 662 series for three games recently.

Pisani, who is a member of the Farmington Country Club mixed bowling league, bowled the series at Norwest Lanes in Farmington.

Orient Chapter's Past Matrons Club will hold its annual holiday dinner party at 6 p.m. on Saturday, December 2, in the Masonic Temple.

Guests at the occasion will be husbands of members, past patrons and their wives, honorary members, and the chapter's present Worthy Matron Beverly Ludwick and gridders this year with a perfect 7-0 record in league play. The trophy was presented to Novi at a special awards assembly held at the high school last week. The Novi Board of Education and the Novi Jaycees also made presentations to the football team during the assembly for their outstanding season.

CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY — For the first time in the history of Novi High School a Southeastern Conference athletic trophy will be resting in its show case. Above, Coach John Osborne and co-captains, Jim Van-Wagner and Pat Boyer pose with the SEC championship trophy won by the Wildcat

Novi Rejects Plea For Fire Districts

With the threat of having to assume an $11 million sewer debt purportedly balanced precariously over their heads, the members of the Novi city council Monday shot down an ordinance that would have established fire districts within the city and thus forced developers to upgrade the quality of their construction.

The action came after a specially-called forum in which developers involved in local projects had been invited to state their objections to the ordinance proposed approximately a month ago by Fire Marshall Ed McBride.

Although the vote to defeat the ordinance was 4-2, it was apparent that several members of the council considered its defeat of utmost importance to the future of the city.

In moving that the ordinance be rejected, Councilman Denis Berry suggested that the "council renew its faith in the integrity of the builders in this community to construct safe buildings."

Likewise, Mayor Joseph Crupi, in calling for the vote on Berry's motion, strongly urged rejection of the ordinance. "This ordinance would place a cloud on the future of this community," he said. "I think we should kill it right now."

Voting to abandon the ordinance were Councilmen Raymond Evans, Donald Young, and Berry, along with Mayor Crupi. The two dissenting ballots were cast by William O'Brien and Louie Campbell Councilman Edwin Presnell was not present at Monday's session.

In essence the proposed ordinance would have amended the B.O.C.A. Code, the basic building code throughout much of the United States, strengthening its basic requirements.

Whereas "type four construction" is currently permitted in Novi for industrial buildings and multiple family residences, the new ordinance would have upgraded safety requirements by calling for "type one construction" for industrial buildings and "type two construction" for multiple family residences.

Opponents of the ordinance claimed much more than the simple upgrading of safety standards was involved. As Mayor Crupi stated, "Opposing safety standards is a little like opposing the American flag, but there is much more involved here than just the question of safety."

The apparent fear of the majority of the councilmen was that the increased safety requirements - particularly those relating to multiple family dwellings - would frighten off prospective developers.

As Novi currently is faced with an $11 million debt for the construction of the Novi-Walled Lake sewer treatment plant and as the development of the north end of the city is being counted on to meet that debt, the council feared that the developers would abandon existing plans and thus leave the city with the debt and no means of paying it.

As one councilman commented while leaving the meeting, "If the developers pull out now, Novi is in a heckuva lot of trouble."

Fire Marshall McBride and Building Department Head Earl Bailey originally asked for the ordinance a month

After High Speed Chase

Police Apprehend 2

A 120-mile per hour chase down the I-96 expressway early Wednesday morning ended when the car being pursued by Novi police unsuccessfully attempted to evade a road block, travelled up an embankment, and then flipped and rolled to a stop.

Apprehended were 17-year old William Calvin Brown of Detroit and a 13-year-old female juvenile.

Corporal Robert Starnes of the Novi Detective Bureau reported that charges of breaking and entering, possession of stolen property, possession of a stolen automobile, and fleeing arrest will be lodged against Brown.

The incident began when Patrolmen Gary Appleton and Herbert Harbin while on routine patrol of Novi's business district observed a car pull out from between the Bain Brothers Landscaping and Novi Hardware buildings and turn west onto Grand River.

Harbin has been on the Novi force for just a little more than a month.

Appleton and Harbin attempted to stop the car, but as soon as they turned their vehicle around the other car fled to Novi Road and then headed east on I-96.

The two Novi patrolmen notified the station that they were in pursuit of the car and radio messages were sent to Farmington Township police requesting a road block on the expressway and to Wixom Police to investigate Bain Brothers Landscaping to determine if there had been a breaking and entering.

Brown successfully evaded the road block set up by Farmington Township and Southfield police were consequently contacted and asked to set up a blockade at I-96 and Ten and One-Half Mile Road.

Brown also attempted to evade the Southfield blockade, police reported, but was unsuccessful and his car flipped over after he had

Board Orders Study

An in-depth survey of the Novi School District, under the direction of the University Michigan Bureau of School Services, as ordered Tuesday by the board of education.

Tentatively scheduled for completion by March, the survey is to project long-range and short-range needs—both in buildings and curriculum adjustments—of the school district.

Heading up the study will be Dr. Ray Kehoe of the U-M, who with a four or five other Bureau staffers, will work with a 35-member citizens committee to be appointed later by the board of education.

While it is not expected to consider the separate community education concept currently being proposed, board members are confident the study will provide important related data. Superintendent Gerald Kratz is expected to make a recommendation relative to

Goodfellows Prepare For 1972 Paper Sale

With the annual Goodfellows newspaper sale slated for December 8 and 9, Novi Goodfellows are seeking volunteer newsboys.

Newspapers will be sold, as they have annually since 1954, to raise funds to help needy families at Christmas time. Last year the Novi Goodfellows assisted 60 families, providing food, Christmas turkeys, clothing, and toys for children.

Persons willing to donate time to sell newspaper on the designated days are asked to contact Miss Eugene Choquet, 624-1248.

community education at the December 12 board meeting. Cost of the services of the U-M Bureau has been pegged at $2,400.

According to Dr. Kehoe, who spoke to board members Tuesday night, studies of this kind normally cost more but his department expects to use some of the findings of the North Central Accreditation investigation team at the high school, thus saving the district some $600. That high school investigation is North Central's first step in its accreditation of the high school.

(Incidentally, the high school is presently accredited by the University of Michigan—and it is the Bureau of School Services that awards such accreditation).

Survey projections by the Bureau, according to Dr. Kehoe, will cover a 10-year long range and a five-year

On Charter Amendments

Wixom Holds Action

Wixom's voters in the November 7 election approved an amendment to the city charter which granted the city council the right to grant severance pay to a municipal employee upon the termination of his employment.

Right?

Well, not necessarily. City Clerk June Buck told the council Tuesday that she had received a letter from the Oakland County Board of Canvassers which indicated that the amendment, although approved by Wixom voters 477-354, had not received a sufficient number of votes for passage.

The news took the council and City Attorney Gene Schnelz by surprise.

"I know of no statute which stated that the proposal would have to receive a certain percentage of the overall vote in order to be passed," said Schnelz. "In my experience a simple majority is all that is required for a charter amendment to be passed."

The council, as perplexed by the information as Schnelz, directed him to contact the Board of Canvassers for an explanation.

Until the matter is clarified, the council tabled the appointment of a Severance Pay Committee as specified in the amendment.

The severance pay amendment was only one of two of the recently approved charter amendments which ran into difficulty at Tuesday's council session. Also tabled was action on the fifth of the charter amendments which called for the Wixom council to adopt a set of rules of order and business.

Councilman Gunnar Mettala proposed that Rober's Rules of Order be adopted, but his proposal was immediately protested by Councilman Val Vangieson,

Citizens See 'Open Doors' Program in Action

More than 40 enthusiastic school officials, city councilmen and citizens of the Novi School District toured community education facilities in Flint last week.

The trip by school bus and tour was co-sponsored by Novi Jaycees and the Novi Board of Education.

Following a dinner in the Flint schools food center, representatives of Flint's community education program and those connected with community education programs in adjacent school districts answered questions of the Novi guests.

Later the Novi group visited one of Flint's community education centers—located in Williams Elementary School.

During the question and answer period the following disclosures were made concerning community education:

- Cooperation between city and school district is essential to a successful community education program. A community divided spells defeat.

- Key element of a good program is the hiring of a professional community education director.

- Utilization of laymen from within the community as instructors is recommended.

- Non-paid volunteer instruction is possible at the outset of a program, but thereafter paid instruction very likely will become necessary. Academic instruction should be taught only by accredited teachers.

- Major ingredients of a program include adult education, with progress to a high school diploma, recreational-social activities for young and old; skill development, community organization activities.

- It's a pretty safe assumption that some 40-percent of a community's adult population does not have a high school diploma.

- Survey of the community is necessary to determine initial programs to offer; survey of those participating in the initial programs can assist in developing future programs.

- A community education director can serve also as a city's recreation director.

- Future schools can incorporate facilities especially designed for community education.

- Cost of community education is relatively inexpensive; it can be totally self-supporting.

- Generally, minimal fees are charged for classes, but senior citizens and those children or adults who are financially unable to pay are admitted free without disclosure of their names.

- A chief obstacle may be the custodian, who may dislike rescheduling his work to fit night educational programs.

- By involvement of adults in community education school and by complete utilization of school facilities, districts find voters are more inclined to support millage issues.

The elementary school toured by the Novi group is an example of the Flint school system's program of locating schools adjacent to city parks. This park-school concept is a joint venture of school and city.

Williams Elementary, it was disclosed, consists of 30 classrooms, a lower elementary group activity area, a large sunken learning resources center, five team-teaching rooms and a large gymnasium, and a dayroom-dining room for senior citizens.

Adjacent to a 72-acre park, the park-school complex includes an indoor-outdoor pool with a sliding roof that in the summer serves as a pavilion roof, tennis courts that become an artificial outdoor skating rink in winter, and an existing house used for meeting rooms.

Facilities are shared by the city's recreation department and the school.

Community education programs are provided day and night but, according to the Principal Duane Brown, these programs offer no problem for elementary instruction during the day.

Thus, during the day both children and adults are utilizing school facilities, he said.

Community services at Williams include:

Adult basic education and adult high school classes; consumer education instruction; job training, senior citizens programs, enrichment programs; a neighborhood meeting place; community learning and study center; community referral services, extension branches for community-wide agencies;

A continual center for community action and community information dissemination; programs and services for juvenile delinquents and juvenile delinquency prevention; child care center; transportation services;

Expanded school children's health services; community health referral services; planned parenthood information and instruction; nutrition education, consumer education, and homemaker instruction; parental care and well baby clinic; paraprofessional health-related training programs; and dental health education services.

Residents within the Williams school neighborhood are given first priority, but its programs are open to citizens throughout the school district, according to Brown.

Novi Rejects Fire Districts

ago Forseeing problems with developers, the council scheduled Monday's special forum with representatives from various developers to hear "their side of the story."

Stating their case was George Athas, former Novi City Manager and now a representative for the David Chapper Company which has sizable holdings in the north end of Novi and, coincidentally, donated to Oakland County the land on which the Novi-Walled Lake sewer plant was built.

In attempting to dissuade the council from adopting the ordinance, Athas claimed that only three other communities in the area - Dearborn, Livonia, and Romulus - had similar ordinances.

"When Dearborn adopted it," Athas said. "They made no secret about the fact that it would raise the cost of construction and thus raise the rents. They intended it as a snob ordinance."

"When Livonia adopted it," he continued, "they made no secret that their purpose was to discourage construction of multiple dwellings.

"The effects of the ordinance in all three cities have been predictable," he stated "Dearborn has issued just 20 building permits for multiple dwellings this year, while Livonia and Romulus have issued none."

Athas concluded his remarks by stating that enactment of the ordinance would seriously curtail the growth of Novi. "There's no question that there have to be some type of controls, but shutting down a community is not the right approach. A restrictive ordinance in Novi will not stop the construction of multiple developments, it will only stop their construction in Novi." Representatives from such other local developers as the Slavic Company, Bert Smokler and Associates, O'Neill Developers, and Practical Homes reiterated Athas' statements

Said Tom Montgomery of Smokler: "This ordinance would make building multiple family projects in Novi unfeasible."

Asked by the council for an estimate on how much money the ordinance would cost the developer, Athas said approximately $4,000 per unit and "I know you're not naive enough to think the developer is going to assume that additional burden. It will be passed on to the purchaser."

"We (Chapper) had 180 acres in Romulus slated for development, but since they've passed the ordinance we've sold 110 acres and are waiting for a good offer on the rest of it."

Opposition to the developers' request that consideration of the ordinance be discontinued came from Campbell and O'Brien.

Questioning the figures presented by Athas, Campbell said he did not believe that the ordinance would make the cost of development so high that the developers would be forced to pull out of Novi.

"I've heard you talk about how much money this will cost you," he told them, "But I haven't heard anyone say anything about wanting to provide for the safety of his buyers. My prime concern is for the lives of the people in this city."

O'Brien's opposition was not so much to the abandonment of the ordinance as it was to the conditions under which it was abandoned. Implying that the mayor was rushing the council into a quick decision, O'Brien urged that action on accepting or denying the ordinance be postponed until more testimony was heard.

Neither the objections of Campbell or O'Brien dissuaded the council from voting to abandon the ordinance, however.

"I just don't think we should require caviar," said Crupi "when salmon is satisfactory."

TRIMMING THE TREE—This is one Christmas tree which is literally being trimmed by members of the Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and helping husbands. The tree will be used in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald DiComo to help create the theme of "Christmas Aglow" for the Northville WNFGA's Christmas Walk on Thursday, December 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. DiComo, at right, is cutting away the back branches of the tree to get just the right effect. William Switzler assisted in the trimming while Mrs. DiComo, at left, and Mrs. Daniel Swayne supervised the operation. Anyone wishing further information about the Christmas Walk should contact the ticket chairman, Mrs. E. G. O'Brien at 349-5566.

Novi Plans 'March'

Preparations are under way to make this year's March of Dimes campaign the best Novi has ever had, but, according to Mrs. Pat Karevich, chairman of the local campaign, it hasn't been easy.

"We're finding that very few people are willing to help us make this Mother's March Against Birth Defects successful," she said Monday. "We were on the verge of discouragement until we were able to get some help by going to the youth groups of several local churches."

Mrs. Karevich says many more people are still needed to make the Mother's March a successful one. With that in mind she proceeded to list a few facts about the March of Dimes, telling why she feels the cause is a worthy one.

One: The March of Dimes has just four paid employees in Oakland County. The rest are volunteer workers.

Two: Many Novi residents are receiving direct help from the March of Dimes. Others have been directed to appropriate sources of aid through March of Dimes counselling services.

Three: The Mother's March is the only way the March of Dimes has of collecting funds. They do not receive money from other organizations or their work.

Four: Polio was cured through funds collected by the March of Dimes. Now the National Foundation March of Dimes is undertaking the fight against birth defects - the nation's second greatest destroyer of life, claiming approximately 500,000 unborn babies and 60,000 children and adults each year.

Five: Money collected in Novi this year will be used specifically to maintain a Cleft Palate Clinic at St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac.

Six: The money will also help to maintain a Birth Defects Center for Genetic Counseling at Michigan State University and two additional centers in Grand Rapids. In addition, it will help to maintain over 100 birth defect centers throughout the United States.

Anyone wishing to help in the Novi Mother's March, is urged to call Mrs. Karevich at 349-3595. If unable to donate time, a donation of money would be appreciated for the fight to make birth defects a thing of the past.

School Days Start Early for Today's Tots

By MARTHA ROEMER

The traditional first day at school for most five-year-olds isn't what it used to be. Today, more often than not, when a child has reached kindergarten age, he's already been attending school for two years.

The reason for such "seasoned veterans" is the rising popularity of nursery schools, nurseries and day care centers, for children from three to five years of age. In the Northville-Novu area alone there are no less than six of them. Although the basic reason behind all of them is the children, the organization and concepts behind them vary.

An additional variable is the reason that the children are sent there by their parents. A majority of six of the Northville-Novu directors agree the largest number of children are in pre-school to have an opportunity to be with other children their age.

Mrs. Larry Beaupre, director of The Little Red School House Nursery School in Northville explained that every pre-school must be licensed by the state and has to pass fire, health and equipment inspections before the license is granted.

She said there are basically three different license classifications for pre-schools. A nursery school classification means that the director has completed four years of college and has a certified teaching certificate, she said.

Day care center licensing means that the director has completed two years of college and the children can be at the center a full day. Mrs. Beaupre went on to say that a nursery license requires the director to have two years of college and the school to be open only for half day sessions.

The Little Red School House Nursery School is private and just opened in September. Tuition is $350 a year for three day a week students and $230 annually for two day students. Mrs. Beaupre operated her own nursery school in Rochester prior to moving to Northville.

She explained her feelings on what a nursery school

Young Painters Practice Skills at Northville's Little Red School House Nursery

should be. "We tried to make it a homey place when a child comes away from home for the first time he should be in a warm atmosphere."

Children, she added, should not be pushed. She said she believes in having various kinds of materials available to the children and allowing them to "learn when they are ready."

The other private nursery school in Northville is the Creative Day Nursery School which is co-directed by Mrs. Ellen Wahi and Mrs. Ann Satsinos. Creative Day is licensed to accommodate 25 children at one time.

According to Mrs. Wahi, "Learning is multi-dimensional with many factors and we try to provide for the growth of the child in many areas. There is an environment provided for the children."

The school operates in three day weekly sessions and tuition is $250 a session. In addition to the nursery school aspect, the co-directors also provide creative workshops for both mother and child to attend two days a week for 10 weeks.

The purpose of the workshops, Mrs. Wahi said, is to encourage the parent to foster creativity in the child. "The pre-school years are crucial in learning and development," Mrs. Wahi said and added that it is that kind of growth the Creative Day Nursery School tries to foster.

She said she has found another reason for children's time spent at nursery school, in addition to being with other children, "is to allow the mother some free time."

The school, now in its fifth year, has three teachers for every 25 students. For the first time this year, Creative Day is working with Northville High School and eight students who are taking a child development course assist at the nursery three mornings a week.

Another, but very different kind of nursery school is the cooperative type. The concept behind this kind of pre-school education is not only the growth of the child, but also the mother's education and growth where her child is concerned.

According to Mrs. Jane Brown, president of the Novi Co-op Nursery, Inc., the first concern in a co-op set-up is to serve the community. "They are not drop off centers," she said. "They provide a very subtle learning experience for the child and mother."

Each child enrolled in a cooperative nursery school has an opportunity to be with other children. His mother has the opportunity to see her child in that kind of situation. Mothers having children enrolled in the school are required to assist with the classes on a rotating schedule.

The Novi co-op, Mrs. Brown explained was a "spin off" from the Northville Cooperative Pre-School Inc. Both schools are non-profit and are licensed by the state as nursery schools. Tuition at the schools is $10 a month for two day class sessions and $14 for three days a week.

Mrs. Ronald G. Zollars, president of the Northville group, pointed out that the Northville co-op is basically family oriented as well as community oriented. "In a co-op, everyone works together," she said.

The reason for a co-op were summed up by Mrs. Brown who read from the Novi co-op's handbook. "The child participates in social interacting and learning situations, develops a keener awareness and enjoyment of the world around him through a wide variety of equipment and materials not available to him to home."

The Northville Pre-School, according to Mrs. Zollars, is one of the oldest cooperative nurseries in the metropolitan Detroit area and meets in the scout building.

"Of course," Mrs. Zollars explained, "there are some mothers who just are not cut out for co-ops and we realize the need for other types of pre-schools. There are also children who need the separation and experience alone and away from the parents."

There are certified teachers at each of the co-ops in addition to the helping mothers. Mrs. Brown said the state social services department is "very stringent" about who gets a license for a co-op.

Even the mothers who will be working with the children are checked out by the state to ensure that they have had the necessary tuberculosis test, said Mrs. Brown.

She added that the requirements for the building in which a nursery school meets are quite different from those of a kindergarten room. The nursery school meets in the Village Oaks School and the room had to be changed from its original state in order to be approved by the state.

Two day care centers in the area are Living Lord Children's World and River Road Children's Nursery, both located in Novi. These centers, more so than the nursery schools, have a majority of children attending who have working mothers.

Mrs. Ruth Slade, director of Children's World, is a certified teacher and said, "We provide not only day care it is a day care center with pre-school education."

Mrs. Ruth Pawlowski who is owner and director of River Road said, "We believe that play is work for the child. He learns socially and emotionally through that. I believe in the child helping in the nursery and in the free choice of the child. We don't force a child to do an art project if he doesn't want to."

Mrs. Pawlowski will complete a two year degree in child development from Wayne State University soon. Her center is a private one, and tuition is $25 a week. Living Lord Children's World is a non-profit day care center. As for the purpose of the center, Mrs. Slade said, "We feel that we are being a

Jaycees to Honor Outstanding Man

Search is underway for nominees for the annual Distinguished Service Outstanding Young Man awards in Northville.

Purpose of these two honors, awarded annually by the Northville Jaycees, is to single out those individuals who have distinguished themselves by contributing their time and effort to the betterment of their community.

The Outstanding Young Man award is given to an individual between the ages of 18 and 36, while the Distinguished Service Award goes to the person in the community of any age.

Jan Reef won the Distinguished Service Award last year, and Martin Rinehart won the Outstanding Young Man Award. "The Northville Jaycees request the help of the citizens of our community in nominating deserving individuals," announced Arlen Westing.

Nominations, together with brief backgrounds of those suggested and a statement of why they deserve the award, should be sent to Westing at 18850 Jamestown Circle, Northville.

Persons wishing additional information about the awards program may call Westing at 349-5698.

SAN ANTONIO—Airman Herbert H. Dubberly Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dubberly Sr. of Novi, has been assigned to Chanute AFB Illinois, after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Texas, he studied the Air Force mission organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in the armament systems field.

Airman Dubberly is a 1972 graduate of Tri-County High School, Wolcott, Indiana.

HERBERT DUBBERLY

Second Lieutenant James M. Jiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Jiggins of 6036 West Seven Mile Road, has been awarded his silver wings at Moody AFB, Ga., upon graduation from U.S. Air Force pilot training.

Lieutenant Jiggins is being assigned to Luke AFB, Ariz., where he will fly with a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces.

A 1963 graduate of Northville High School, the lieutenant received his bachelor's degree in business in 1971 from Eastern Michigan University and was commissioned the same year upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Texas.

His wife, Barbara, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fraizer I. Forsyth of 19851 Fry Road.

Two local area residents recently graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Illinois.

They are Seaman Recruit David W. Koivupera, son of Billy W. Koivupera of Brookside Place, Northville, and Seaman Apprentice David L. McDermott, son of James D. McDermott of 1730 Wixom Road, Wixom.

McDermott, a 1971 graduate of Walled Lake Western High School, is scheduled to report to Hospital Corpsman "A" School at Great Lakes, and Koivupera, a former student at Beecher High School north of Flint, is scheduled to report to basic aviation electronics technical school at Great Lakes.

Army Private Douglas B. Jones, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Jones, 44575 Thornaple, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U. S. Army Training Center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

Private Jones received this training with Company C, 13th Battalion of the 4th Brigade.

He is a 1972 graduate of Northville High School.

School News Notes

Nationally known composer and arranger, Jerry H. Bilk, will appear in a concert at the Northville High School auditorium on Wednesday, December 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Bilk is presently a visiting lecturer at the University of Michigan, where he earned bachelor and master degrees, and Wayne State University. He is also traveling throughout the United States as a guest clinician and conductor.

A reception is scheduled for Bilk afterwards and donations will be taken.

Thanksgiving with all the trimmings was the highlight last week Wednesday for the students in Mrs. Virginia Kricitz' kindergarten class at Amerman.

The students spent the week before the holiday preparing Indian and pilgrim costumes as well as making apple sauce, apple juice and butter.

Both the morning and afternoon classes were present for the luncheon, which included, of course, turkey.

A three-acre wooded site is currently in the planning stage as an outdoor laboratory for nature study in Novi.

Located southwest of Novi Middle School and at the south end of the middle school football field, the site is being studied by elementary and middle school teachers and parents under the direction of James Lahde, consultant.

Sectional planning meetings have been held during the past three months and will culminate with a progress report to the Novi Board of Education on December 12.

Spokesmen report they expect the next meeting on the nature center site will be held at 4 p.m. on Thursday, December 14.

At that time, all participating elementary and secondary teachers and parents will be combined into one committee to implement the desired features of the nature area.

Interested citizens who wish to work on the project are asked to contact Robert Youngberg, middle school principal, at 349-5750. Youngberg is serving as a liaison for the cooperative adventure.

Novi Middle School Communications, a group set up for community-school interaction, held its first meeting recently.

Plans and directions were formulated for any interested citizen to visit and discuss the focus of programs that make up the objectives of Novi Middle School.

The group decided to keep its meetings on an informal rap session or seminar basis to enable the exchange of ideas.

All interested citizens are invited to attend and participate in the next session at 8 p.m. Tuesday, December 5, at the middle school.

It is expected the session will begin with a review of new curricular-program goal directions and end with a discussion of the Michigan Assessment Test results.

Nearly 300 Novi Middle School students participated in the first student council sponsored activity of the year.

On top November 17 was basketball, ping-pong, a movie and dancing to a live band.

Part of the admission cost was a can of food, Mrs. Russell N. Stroud, student council advisor, said.

"The activity was very successful," she commented, "and the student council was able to give several families a nice assortment of food, along with a turkey, for Thanksgiving."

Musical and choral groups at Novi Middle School are currently practicing for two Christmas concerts.

Sixth grade instrumental and vocal music groups will present a concert in the school's cafeteria at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, December 21.

The annual middle school Christmas concert, presented by seventh, eighth and some sixth grade students, will be given at 8 p.m. Tuesday, December 19. The concert will be held in the gymnasium.

PTA Events Slated Soon

By NANCY DINGELDEY

I was getting a little worried about this column along about Monday afternoon. I made telephone calls and stopped in at the post office asking literally everyone I met what they had done over Thanksgiving. Inevitably, I got the same answer "We had a quiet dinner at home and really didn't do much".

For one trying to get a column together, this wasn't the answer I was looking for. Occasionally I got a little more such as, "We had a few friends in plus the family", but nothing of the traditional "Norman Rockwell" setting for Thanksgiving.

The Gerry Pastula family decided to try dinner out and Mary said they had a delightful, relaxing meal at the Canopy in Brighton. "The only trouble with that", she added, "was no left over turkey for sandwiches."

Well, that was a start in the right direction but I was still looking for the tradition. Never one to let anyone down, I made a lucky phone call to Helen Tillman and here lay the story of the Thanksgiving I was looking for.

From Utica, New York, a one day jet trip brought in Helen's folks, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wittman, on a surprise visit.

From Seattle, Washington, another jet trip brought Helen's sister Judy and her husband Larry Evenson. Another surprise visit was paid by brother Gary who is attached with Alaskan Air Lines in Seattle.

Still another plane brought her sister Peg and husband Bob Betler from Utica, New York. Sister Gayle and her husband Richard Streit and family from Ypsilanti completed the table. Unable to make it in from Des Moines was the fourth sister, Nancy, and her husband.

People started arriving on Wednesday and the last left on Monday. To be sure, it was a houseful, and the only thing I failed to ask was how Helen ever managed to serve everyone I can just imagine the laughter and good cheer that poured forth from this gathering of the clan and the happy memories that all now hold.

Celebrating Thanksgiving in a country that doesn't observe our Thanksgiving Day was something else for Lillian Spencer, Hilda Furman and their friend Helen Goodman of Dearborn. They spent the past week at the Princess Hotel in Hamilton, Bermuda, enjoying beautiful weather and the beaches with their pink sand.

The ladies relaxed under poinsettia bushes as high as trees with huge blooms, fragrant hibiscus, oleander and Chinese lanterns while we here at home were pelted with snow and cold weather. They attended the Anglican Church on Thanksgiving Day for services led by the Navy chaplains, with the Navy Choir singing traditional hymns and the Governor General of Bermuda and the U. S. Ambassador to Bermuda in attendance.

Wixom Elementary PTA's December meeting is coming up this Tuesday night, December 5 at the Vocational Education Center on Beck Road. The evening will begin at 8 p.m. with a short business meeting followed by a tour of the center. Refreshments will be served at the completion of the tour.

There are probably many of you who have not yet had the opportunity to see just what the Vocational Education Center has to offer to the youngsters of our community as well as the adults. Try to attend, it is sure to be an interesting evening.

December 19 is slated for the annual Christmas program put on by the students of Wixom Elementary. The program will begin at 7 p.m. in order to allow those parents who may wish to attend the Western High School concert to do so without conflict. The Western program will begin at 8 p.m.

The Wixom School band will be featured during the evening as well as choral music provided by children of various grade levels. Refreshments will be served by the PTA at the conclusion of the program.

What began as a discussion of projects tackled at one time or another by the girls living in Northridge Estates, has blossomed into an all out effort by the Northridge Homeowners Association. The suggestion of a "for kids only bazaar" put on by a PTA group in New Jersey came from Jane Fitzgerald and the Northridge group decided to try it out.

Each member of the organization is now busy at work fashioning hand made items to be donated to the bazaar as a community project. No item will cost more than $1. Bev Walters is chairman of the event and will host the little ones as they come to make Christmas purchases for their moms and dads. The money will go into the homeowners treasury for future improvements.

MARCH OF DIMES

Chairman of Novi's March of Dimes Campaign this year is Mrs Pat Karevich, assisted by Mrs. Betty Harbin, Eileen Campbell and Winnie Dodek who are all working hard to find marchers for the dates from January 23-30. There is a need for additional workers especially in Country Cousins Estates, Highland Hills, and in the Condominium areas. If you can help in these areas or in your own neighborhood, please call the chairman at 349-3595.

NESPO

The next NESPO meeting will be December 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the Novi Elementary School Library with Dr. Gerald Kratz, Superintendent of Novi Schools. All parents are urged to be present to hear Dr. Kratz. A question and answer period will follow.

A committee of mothers, Jan Kurin, Barb Walling, and Mary Morandy are working on the "Hardcover" books for the school youngsters. In connection with their project they need cotton material that can be cut into 12 x 15 inch squares.

The Novi Elementary School Open House will be on December 7 at 7:30 p.m. Parents are urged to come and make selections at the Book Fair which will run from December 6-8. The children will be able to view the books during the school day. Following the open house, a very special coffee hour complete with Christmas cookies and decorations are being planned by Refreshment Chairman Cathy McGuffin.

Another upcoming event sponsored by NESPO is the Christmas Concert December 15 at the Middle School at 8 p.m. More information will be available at a later date.

NOVI SENIOR CITIZENS

The special speaker at the Senior Citizens meeting was Officer William Brown of the newly formed Traffic Bureau of the Novi Police Department. Officer Brown spoke regarding the new Traffic Safety plans being made available to the community. A question and answer period followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nancy Liddle and several volunteers in place of Mrs. Alice Tank who had to be absent.

Again, an invitation is extended to all Senior Citizens throughout the Novi area, to come be a part of this very active group. Transportation will be furnished upon receipt of a call to Mrs. Nancy Liddle at 349-2219.

Week's events include the Jr. Hi meeting at the Henderson home and a new class starting for the 4,5, and 6th graders who will be studying the Old Testament and planning a Hanukah dinner under the direction of the Wilkins.

The Weight Watchers meet at the church Tuesday at 7 p.m. Choir will be on Thursday of this week only instead of Wednesday. Next Sunday evening the Youth Fellowship will have a special guest, Ray Murphy of the Parks and Recreation group, who will talk to the young people and list the activities they would

South Walled Lake Baptist Chapel

Following services last week, there was a fellowship at the church. Next Sunday will begin the week of prayer for foreign missions. Other future plans include a joint meeting on Sunday evening December 10 at 7 p.m. with Orchard Hills. The ladies will be in charge.

The Women's Missionary Society will have a potluck lunch at the home of Mrs. Glenda Bradely on December 5.

The Acteens will start a Mission study Friday at the pastor's home. Guest teacher will be Gwen Williams, US 2 worker with the Southern Baptist Convention. The study will be on Missions in Europe. Prior to the study the girls will have a potluck dinner consisting of foreign food.

Novi Girls Scout

Brownie Troop 404 held elections with the following results: President - Jill Shankel, vice president - Leah Brown; Secretary - Jennifer Charles; and treasurer Kristin Kurin. The girls made turkeys from pine cones. Treats were brought by Kim Shaw.

Jr. Troop 913 started work on hospitality badges and made plans for Christmas gifts for the girls parents.

Junior Troop 1027 reminded everyone that the project 'Treat of Life-1972' will come to a close December 10. Wrappers from Clark Gum, General Foods, Welch Foods, Quaker Oats, Swift and Co, and Standard Brands of Royal Puddings and Gelatin should be saved and turned in. The companies will donate money to UNICEF for statered wrappers or labels. Contact Mrs. King for additional information at 349-1488.

All troop leaders are reminded to turn in their cookies and troop rosters immediately.

Village Oaks and Orchard Hills troops will be decorating one of twenty trees at the Farmington Community House. All the trees are to be decorated in an international theme. They can be viewed after December 15 and anyone wishing to do so may contribute 50 cents or a bag of like to have. Everyone is reminded of the 2 p.m. White Hall Services, a short devotional will be brought and then a song fest will follow with the patients participating. Additional members and friends are encouraged to help in this project.

Novi Rebekah Lodge

The Degree team is reminded of the practice on November 30 at 8 p.m. to get ready for the initiation of candidates from Clarendonville and Novi at Novi Lodge on December 14.

The Novi Independent Club will have a special potluck luncheon December 4 at the Lodge Hall. Everyone is asked to bring a $1 gift. Hostesses will be Irene Wendland and Sue Watson.

The Past Noble Grands will have their Christmas party in the form of a dinner at the Holiday Inn. Reservations must be in by December 2. Contact Jennie Champion or Lillian Byrne.

Blue Star Mothers

The Blue Star Mothers will make additional plans for their hospital visit on December 19 at their December 7 meeting. At the present time, they are planning a tree trimming party, complete with cookies and gifts for ward 4 West. Anyone wishing to help in this project of giving some Christmas cheer for these servicemen and wanting to send some additional small personal items like after shave, etc should contact any of the Blue Star Mothers.

cookies. Any troop wishing to go should contact Dorothy Pilo or their Troop Service Director.

Novi Boy Scout

The boys elected Patrol leaders. They are Biff McAllister, Rick Pazderski, Dave Mannila and Rick Jensen. In their patrol meetings they decided on the uniform they want and next week will have uniform inspection with a prize being given. Also next week skill awards will be presented to boys in citizenship, first aid, and camping. The boy Scouts are selling Christmas fruit cakes. Call Mr. Harrison at 349-0466 and the scouts will deliver a fruit cake to your door.

First Baptist Church of Novi

A baptismal service preceded the regular morning worship service last Lord's day. Those baptized were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Karschnick and Shari Allen. A motion picture titled "The Return", dealing with Israel's return to the land of Palestine, was shown in the evening service.

There was a special meeting of the Sunday School staff Wednesday evening to receive new materials for the next quarter.

The Pastor will be engaged in an Evangelistic Crusade in Whitesville, West Virginia, during this week. The meeting will take place in the church where the pastor first attended Sunday School, was ordained, and served as associate pastor.

The new residence for the Youth Pastor will soon be ready for occupancy. Help is needed now for painting the interior. If you can help, call Phil or Jan Baynes, at 349-3477.

On December 4 at 8:30 p.m. three of First Baptist's choir members will be participating in "The Messiah" being presented by Detroit Bible College Oratorio Choir. These three are Charlotte Munro, Virginia Munro, and Linda Cook. Tickets may be obtained from any of these. Faith Chorus is sponsoring a group to go from the church. For additional information call Choir Director Mrs. Charles Stewart.

Both Brown and the female juvenile were taken to Providence Hospital for treatment. The female was released and subsequently has admitted to the breaking and entering of Bain Brothers, Corporal Starnes reported.

Starnes further indicated that police feel the pair may be responsible for several breaking and enterings of business establishments in the Novi area recently. Primary targets of the thefts, he said, have been business machines, such as typewriters, adding machines, electric calculators, and copying machines.

Brown, whose alias is William Taylor, has a long criminal record and is an admitted user of hard drugs, Starnes said. The Novi detective also reported that Brown also has more than $1,000 in outstanding traffic warrants.

The property stolen from

Bain Brothers was recovered, but most of it was destroyed in the crash.

who said he felt Robert's Rules of Order were "a bit too stiff."

After some discussion, the council voted to table the matter until members had time to review several different sets of rules, including a revised version of Robert's Rules of Order.

In other business, the council authorized the transfer of $160 to the election fund for payment of election workers.

The need for additional funds, City Clerk June Buck told the council, was frustrated by the unexpectedly high number of hours involved in tabulating the results of the November 7 election.

Police Blotter

Man Faces 'Resisting' Charge

In Northville

Thirty-nine-year-old John A. Hartness of Detroit has been charged with drunkenness, resisting arrest and destruction of city property following a series of events last Thursday, November 23.

According to police, Hartness was arrested for being drunk at Northville Downs shortly before 10:30 p.m. Police said he had grabbed onto the gun belt of Auxiliary James Honsinger and when asked to remove his hand he refused to.

Hartness was arrested, police said, and while he was being taken to the track police office, he broke loose and tried to strike Honsinger in the face.

Police said Hartness was struck by the officer in self defense and fell down when he again tried unsuccessfully to strike the officer.

Several officers were called to assist in the arrest and handcuffing of Hartness.

While he was being transported to the city police station, Hartness again became violent and began kicking the head rest behind the police officer driving the car. Damaged in the process was the molding over the left door of the squad car and the crank of one of the rear door windows.

Uniforms of the two officers were also reportedly ripped during the struggle.

Hartness stood mute to the charges before 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis when he was arraigned Friday and will appear for trial in December. He is free on $100 bond.

Items valued at more than $1,100 were stolen in the break-in of an office at 424 North Center Street.

The theft, according to reports, occurred between November 16 and 20.

Investigating officers found the "southside door" to the building had been forcibly opened. Missing are two portable television sets, two speakers, a turntable and 125 record albums.

A racing fan reported $900 was stolen from him - November 20 while he was standing in a line at Northville Downs. The theft took place around 9:30 p.m.

Theft of a jog cart valued at more than $300 was reported to police last week.

The cart, natural wood in color, was stolen between November 22 and 24 from the St. Lawrence Barn Area.

Unknown persons broke into the car of a Pontiac man Saturday evening, taking a spare tire, wheel and jack from the trunk. The vent window had also been jimmied, investigations revealed, but nothing was missing from the car's interior.

The theft took place between 8 and 11:45 p.m. while the car was parked at Northville Downs.

FIRE CALLS
November 23-3:15 p.m. brush fire on Bradner between Five and Six Mile.

COURTNEWS
George C. Regan of South Lyon pled guilty to driving while ability impaired and was fined $154. The action came November 21 before District Judge Dunbar Davis.

Regan, who was arrested October 14 by city police, had been charged with drunken driving. That charge was dismissed after he pled guilty to impaired driving.

Two men who pled guilty to being drunk were each fined $54. They are Gravelle Spicer of 140 North Center Street, arrested November 5; and Jorge L. Colon of Pontiac, arrested November 11.

John Reitschneider III, of 755 Randolph Street, pled guilty to a charge of careless driving and was fined $39. He was ticketed by police October 31.

Failing to stop in assured clear distance resulted in a $39 fine for Ross G. Murdock of Plymouth. He was ticketed by city police November 3 following a traffic accident.

Two persons ticketed for driving vehicles with improper license plates pled guilty to the charges and were fined $19 each, fines suspended.

They are Betty S. Hancock of 42565 West Eight Mile Road, ticketed October 25; and Alvin Burt of Detroit, ticketed November 11.

In district court Friday, Robert E. Chambers of Taylor was fined $54 (suspended) after he pled guilty to vagrancy. He was arrested on a warrant earlier that day for failing to appear in court to answer the charge.

In Township

A fire late Sunday afternoon at Northville State Hospital damaged a clothing storage room and its contents.

According to reports, the fire broke out about 4:30 p.m. Security officers at the hospital attempted to extinguish the fire but were driven back by the heat and smoke.

Northville Fire Department was called to the scene and extinguished the fire shortly after 5 p.m. Damage was contained to the one room and no injuries were reported.

Albert Lamont of Harrison, formerly of Northville, was arrested last week on a warrant held by township police for larceny from an auto.

Lamont was returned to Northville last Thursday, November 23, and was arraigned on the charge before 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis.

He stood mute and is being held in lieu of $3,000 bond. Examination has been set for December 4.

Police said charges stem from an incident in September.

A 1966 Chevrolet, was reported stolen from 15525 Maxwell sometime before 4 a.m. November 22. The two-door car is blue, with a black convertible top bearing Michigan license plates LHL-997.

COURTNEWS
Two men were each fined $74 after they pled guilty to charges of littering. The action came November 21 before 35th District Judge Davis.

They are Bruce C. Durham of 16933 Northville Road and Timothy R. Shipley of Livonia, both arrested by township police October 28. The charges stem from the two men leaving an abandoned car in a field near Bradner and Franklin roads, police said.

In Wixom

Police have traced the license number of a truck wanted in a hit and run property damage accident to a Pontiac man.

The accident, a minor one, occurred when a man driving a black pick-up truck drove into the Wixom 76 station as he was pulling in a boat fastened to the top of his camper hit and broke several of the station's overhead lights.

The attendant told police that when he asked the man for his name and address, he proceeded to walk out of the station, get into his truck, and drive off eastbound on the I-96 expressway.

The truck was traced through the license number copied down by the attendant. It was subsequently discovered that the man - Francis Graves - is wanted by the Pontiac Police for driving without a license.

David Eugene Buchanan, 18 of McClure, Ohio, was arrested last week when police found the Ypsilanti State Police post held a warrant for his arrest on charges of hitch hiking. Buchanan had been stopped by Wixom police on a routine traffic investigation.

In Novi

Two people suffered serious injuries in automobile accidents which took place in Novi last week.

The first of the two accidents occurred Tuesday, November 14, at 6:30 p.m. and sent a 30-year old Dexter woman to the hospital with extensive injuries.

According to police, Lois Thilman, an Ann Arbor resident, was travelling west on Grand River and attempted to make a left hand turn into the White Hall Convalescent Home, pulling into the path of a car driven by Roberta Cupp of Dexter.

Both women were transported to Botsford Hospital where Mrs. Thilman was released and Miss Cupp was transferred to Wayne County General Hospital with a broken neck, leg, arm, and internal bleeding. Her condition was listed as critical.

Investigating officers indicated that Mrs. Thilman will be cited for failing to yield the right of way to an oncoming vehicle.

The second accident took place Friday, November 17 at 12:30 p.m. and involved Joseph Butler, a Northville resident.

According to police reports, the car driven by Butler, south-bound on Novi Road, was unable to stop in time and skidded 70 feet into the rear of a truck stopped for the traffic light at Novi and Grand River.

Butler was taken to Botsford Hospital with chest injuries suffered in the collision. Originally listed in critical condition, he was moved from the intensive care unit last week.

Detectives have apprehended a 15-year old juvenile in connection with two breaking and enterings of Nick's Grocery Store recently.

Taken in those thefts were beer, wine, cigarettes, cigarette lighters, and small quantities of cash, police reported.

Gym Program Set To Open Soon

News of the opening of the winter gym program and a plea for more boys interested in playing basketball were issued by Northville Recreation Department Head Robert Prom this week.

The gym program is slated to begin Saturday, December 9, at the Cooke Middle School on Taft Road.

Prom announced the following schedule: grades K-3 will have the gym from 8:30-10 a.m.; grades 4-6 from 10:11:30 a.m.; grades 7-8 from 1-2:45 p.m.; and grades 9-12 from 2:45-4:30 p.m.

Activities will include basketball, floor hockey, kickball, and dodge ball.

To provide more local boys an opportunity to play basketball, the Recreation Department is forming five separate leagues: Class D for third and fourth graders; Class C for fifth and sixth graders; Class B for seventh and eighth graders; Class A for ninth and tenth graders; and Class AA for eleventh and twelfth graders.

Registration for all classes will begin Saturday, November 25, and continue every Saturday through December 16 at the Scout-Recreation Building on Cady Street.

KATHRYN BLAKESLEE

Services were held Monday, November 27, for Kathryn E. Blakeslee of 18469 Jamestown Circle who died November 23 at Ford Hospital. She was 68.

Born August 12, 1904, in Charlevoix, she was the daughter of James and Bessie (Stanford) Gaskin. Mrs. Blakeslee moved to Northville in 1967 and was a member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

Surviving are her husband, F. Russell Blakeslee, two daughters, Mrs. Sue Reilly of Detroit, Mrs. Barbara Brunett of Novi, a brother, James Gaskin of Charlevoix, and 12 grandchildren.

The Rosary was recited at the Casterline Funeral Home Sunday. Funeral services were held at Our Lady of Victory where the Reverend Father John Wittstock officiated. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

CHARLES HODGE

Funeral services for Charles W. Hodge of 19265 Gerald Avenue were held last week Wednesday, November 22. Mr. Hodge died November 20 at Wayne County General Hospital at the age of 61.

Born October 26, 1911, in Clairon, Pennsylvania, he was the son of Harry and Amelia (Raleigh) Hodge. He moved to Northville one year ago and was employed as a groom at Northville Downs.

Surviving are his widow, Echo A. Hiler Hodge, and a brother, Bernard Hodge of Northville.

Services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend Cedric Whitcomb of the First Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

BERTHA DOUGLAS

Funeral services for Bertha Jean Douglas of Detroit were held Friday, November 24, at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

Miss Douglas, who is the daughter of Mrs. Marcella Lampe Douglas of Northville, died November 20 in Providence Hospital at the age of 49.

Born September 10, 1923, in Detroit, she attended Blessed Sacrament School in Detroit and St. Ursula's Academy. Upon graduation, she entered Kent State University for one year and then joined the United States Navy.

Stationed first in Key West, Florida, she was sent to Pearl Harbor with the first group of WAVES. Following World War II, Miss Douglas was employed by General Motors in the newly developed stock purchase section.

Under the foster parents program, she supported two Vietnamese children.

Through her friendship with the Reverend Peter Chinn, who was stationed in the area for several years, Miss Douglas supported two seminarians until they were ordained into the priesthood and two of his young nephews.

Miss Douglas was employed as a bookkeeper with General Motors and was a member of St. Benedict's Parish in Detroit.

Surviving besides her mother are an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Lampe of Oak Park, Illinois, and three cousins, Mary Ann, Patricia Mary and Jane Kathleen.

The Rosary was recited November 23 at the Casterline Funeral Home preceded with a scripture reading by the Reverend Miss Elizabeth Etz.

Con-celebrating the funeral mass at Our Lady of Victory were the Reverend Joseph Shenk and the Reverend Bertram Shenk, both cousins of Mrs. Douglas, and the Reverend John Wittstock. Altar boy was Joseph L. Cavanagh, cousin of Miss Douglas.

Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield.

Natural gas.

It is one of the miracles of modern technology that natural gas can now be made.

And Consumers Power is preparing to make natural gas to help meet the growing demands of more than 880,000 customers in Michigan. Although we continue to find new underground sources of natural gas, we also are building a gas reforming plant near Marysville in St. Clair County, like the scale model shown above.

Using a unique process to change liquid hydrocarbons into natural gas, the Marysville Plant will start operation in 1973. By 1974, we expect the plant's output to reach 210 million cubic feet of gas a day, increasing Consumers Power Company's gas supply by more than 20 percent.

By manufacturing supplementary gas, and prospecting for new gas reserves underground, Consumers Power is bending every effort to meet Michigan's need for clean-burning, dependable natural gas.

$850,000 Project

Meadowbrook Plans Renovation

Plan for Major Meadowbrook Renovation

Construction is expected to begin in January on an extensive addition-improvement project at Meadowbrook Country Club costing upwards of $850,000, it was disclosed this past week.

The three-year building program, according to Richard Brennan, club manager, already has been approved and club officers are in the process now of establishing construction priorities.

It appears certain, however, that construction will begin immediately in three areas: new men and women locker room facilities and new kitchen facilities.

In addition, construction of three tennis courts and enlargement of the club's swimming pool are expected to get underway early in 1973.

The latter is seen as especially important since Meadowbrook will host the inter-club swim championships in August, Brennan said.

In addition to projects already mentioned, the club—one of the oldest in the metropolitan area—plans eventual construction of a new boulevard-type entrance drive, a new foyer, vestibule, toilets, powderroom, private dining area and men's grille, new service bar and mixed grille, a new east (or golfers) entrance, and extensive interior decorations.

Also planned over the three-year period is major renovation of the golf course itself, with rebuilding of some greens and traps, and water system improvements.

The existing kitchen is to be vacated and the new facility located in an addition on the west side of the clubhouse. The existing service bar is to be moved from its location off the mixed grille to the vacated kitchen area.

The new east entrance will be located near porch area between the pro shop and the mixed grille. Inside this entrance will be a stairway to the new women's lounge and the women's locker room on the second floor. And immediately off the entrance corridor will be the men's locker room, the mixed grille, new service bar and men's grille.

A small addition to the mixed grille is proposed to increase its capacity to 100. Outside the new kitchen will be a service court enclosed with a masonry wall. Serving the kitchen will be corridors leading to the various eating areas and buffet station.

Entrance to the "men only" area of the clubhouse will be from the existing west entrance, the new east entrance corridor, or through a slightly modified entrance at the north end of the pro shop.

Major renovation of the men's locker room is planned. Old radiators along the outside walls are to be eliminated and instead of regimented rows of lockers as now exist lockers will be eliminated in open "U" shape. A lavatory island is proposed near the center of the room.

New ceiling, wall and floor treatments as well as new lighting and ventilating systems are planned in this locker room. The shower and toilets will be shifted to the existing locker room addition, and the existing facilities will be utilized for additional locker space.

A small service bar will be located in the center of the locker room.

The west wall of the men's grille is to be rearranged to eliminate the west sun but to still provide a view to the practice range. The room will be given a general face-lifting to give it an updated appearance.

Club storage area is to be vacated and moved, providing expansion of the pro shop. A minor revision is planned at the north entrance, with patrons entering through the north end of the pro shop instead of through the bypass corridor now existing.

A new women's lounge is planned at the top of the new stairway from the east entrance. It will be served by a dumb waiter from the new service bar below. Also planned is a new maid's room, shower and toilet room, sauna and vanity area with hair dryer.

The women's locker room is to be "opened up" by removal of existing partitions and by repartitioning with lockers.

A teen room is to be provided on the lower level, below the cocktail lounge. The area is not now in use and will necessitate removal of partitions to open up space for ping pong tables, dance floor, etc. It is immediately adjacent to the pool and snack bar.

The pool will be expanded to a 25-meter, six lane facility, utilizing the existing west and north walls with expansion of the south and east walls to accommodate the increased length and width.

Board Orders Survey

short range period. Initial survey work will involve a population study, called by Dr. Kehoe, "the foundation" of the entire project. It will examine existing, projected, and potential, housing to determine population trends. The school itself will conduct a related census, the last such census having occurred more than two years ago.

The Bureau will examine the district's curriculum, comparing it with curriculums in "quality districts;" it will review and evaluate existing buildings, equipment, and sites, and note their limitations; and it also will examine the administrative structure, Dr. Kehoe explained.

The Bureau, he emphasized, is just as concerned with existing facilities and curriculum as it is with future school needs.

Meeting either weekly or bi-weekly with the citizens committee, Bureau staffers will conduct these meetings on an alternating basis in each of the district's schools, thus giving the citizens an opportunity to make a room by room examination of the facilities, he said.

Dr. Kehoe made it plain to board members that the study will conclude with recommendations that will prescribe a "quality" program—not just an acceptable one. Whether or not they are implemented will be up to the board.

The Bureau, he emphasized, will make some value judgments from which it will not budge. Among these, he said, is the Bureau's insistence that elementary school buildings should not house more than 550 students or less than 450; that middle schools or junior high schools should not exceed 900 students nor fewer than 600; and that high schools should provide for from 750 to 1200 students—no less nor no more.

Data and survey materials, Dr. Kehoe said, will be presented to the citizens committee, discussed, modified and assimilated in its final recommendation report probably by late March. That date is contingent upon an early start—hopefully early in January—and completion of the school, he added.

Northville City Council Minutes

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES

NOVEMBER 6, 1972
Mayor Allen called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order at 8:05 p.m.
ROLL CALL: Present: Allen, Biery, Folino, Rathert, and Vernon.
MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING: The Minutes of the October 16, 1972 Meeting stand approved with the following addition: Page 2, paragraph 6, Eight Mile and Center added to the heading.
MINUTES OF BOARDS & COMMISSIONS: The Minutes of the Northville City Plan Commission, October 3, 1972, Northville Zoning Board of Appeals, October 4, 1972, and the Northville City Plan Commission, October 17, 1972 were placed on file.
APPROVAL OF BILLS: City Manager noted that after a strong effort was made to receive bids for supported by Councilman Folino to approve Resolution Waiving Bids for contract with Cogco & Sons, Inc. Unanimously accepted.

Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Folino to approve payment of bills as presented. Unanimously accepted.
POLICE REPORT: This will be discussed at a later time.
COMMUNICATIONS: City Manager read letter from residents of Lexington Commons South requesting a Stop sign and/or speed humps be put on or near the corner of Clement Rd and Clement Court in an effort to end the speeding problem. Council decided to discuss this with our Police Department and perhaps combine efforts with the Township of Northville.
Letter from Lt. Louis Westfall, of the City of Northville Police Department, requesting Council approve amendment to our Radio Grant Budget in order that the City of Plymouth and the City of Northville may purchase their own new base to mobile base station at a cost of $2,800.00. All factors involved, as explained in Lt. Westfall's letter, would amend our present Radio Grant Budget from $7,100 to $9,100 with the State Government refunding us 78 percent of $6,300.

Councilman Rathert inquired as to who would have the responsibility of maintenance City Manager explained that we would maintain the equipment located here and perhaps the tape outlet equipment at Plymouth.
Motion by Councilman Vernon, supported by Councilman Rathert to amend the Radio Grant Budget to $9,100 in order to comply with the City of Plymouth and the Kelly Mobile Radio District System, and this be a budgeted item next year.
Unanimously accepted.
Letter from Michigan Liquor Commission requesting Council to approve or disapprove a request from D & J Goodtime Party Store for transfer of ownership of 1972 SDD-SDM licenses from James M. Roth and David Harris with request to add space.
Motion by Councilman Folino, supported by Councilman Vernon to approve resolution of name change for D & J Goodtime Party Store, Inc.
Unanimously accepted.
COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: None.
PUBLIC HEARING REZONING TAFT ROAD PROPERTY, R-1-S to R-2-A. Dennis Roux, owner of the property, explained the location of the property and the zoning of the neighboring properties. He felt that the biggest consideration of the Plan Commission on their denial was the problem of ingress and egress. His solution to this problem would be that there would only be one driveway leading out onto Taft Road.

Dr. Wahl, of 20600 Taft Road, adjacent to Mr. Roux's property, is opposed to this rezoning because of the many different zonings in the area already, and he feels that the one driveway for all the units proposed would be very congested.
Councilman Biery concurred with the Plan Consultant, Ron Nino, in that rezoning be delayed until "all of the part that makes up the general area between the Boron Old north to the single family plot be assembled by one developer for a coordinated scheme of multiple family developments".
City Manager recommended denial of this rezoning in view of Plan Commission's decision and also he stated majority of property in this area is zoned single family.
Motion by Councilman Folino, supported by Councilman Rathert, to deny petition to rezone Tax Items CSSA and CSB from R-1-S to R-2-A, application from Dennis Roux, at this time.
Unanimously accepted.
TEMPORARY LOANS FROM GENERAL FUND & PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT FUND.
Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Folino to adopt resolution for Temporary Loans as follows:
WHEREAS, unforeseeable needs have been brought to the attention of the City Council by the City Manager, and
WHEREAS, contingency funds have been budgeted to meet such needs and
WHEREAS, appropriations to certain other accounts have been demonstrated to be surplus,

LEXINGTON CONDOS STREET NAMES: Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Folino to approve street names of Lexington Commons condominium project.
Unanimously accepted.
OAKLAND COUNTY GROWTH POLICY: Council agreed that this study was very well done, and discussed major points brought out in their policy.
Motion by Councilman Folino, supported by Councilman Vernon to adopt findings of the Northville Plan Commission on the Oakland County Growth Policy.
Unanimously accepted.
ACTING CITY CLERK: City Manager explained that this position would not involve a pay raise or supervision over other employees, but would assume responsibility of signing documents, and his recommendation was Mrs. Hilda Boyer.
City Attorney expressed concern over Rosanna Cook, Deputy City Clerk, signing election returns and documents connected with the General Election taking place November 7, 1972.
Councilman Vernon recommended that Council appoint Rosanna Cook Acting City Clerk until next Council meeting, then Hilda Boyer proceed with title thereafter.
Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Folino to appoint Rosanna Cook, Acting City Clerk until next Council meeting, Hilda Boyer to hold title of Acting City Clerk until Council otherwise states.
Unanimously accepted.
NOVI PROPERTY SALE: City Manager stated that Jim Cutler has appraised the property on the west side of Beck Rd for $3,500 per acre or a combined price of $7,000. Another independent appraiser has appraised east side of Beck Rd at $3,000 per acre, and that Manufacturers National Bank may be willing to accept this price.
Councilman Biery requested that he be excused from voting on this item as Manufacturers National Bank is his employer.

Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Vernon to excuse Councilman Biery from voting on this item.
Unanimously accepted.
Motion by Councilman Vernon, supported by Councilman Folino to accept resolution to waive bids to sell property at appraised value to $3,000 per acre to Manufacturers Bank on the east side of Beck Rd.
Unanimously accepted.
Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Biery to authorize City Manager to go out for bids no less than $7,000 on parcel on west side of Beck Rd.
Unanimously accepted.
FIRE PROTECTION REPORT: City Manager read off the major deficiencies listed by the Insurance Services Office of Michigan, with his recommendation of tying in from the Detroit water main at Wing and Cady north to Main Street in order to assure full pressure in our existing lines. He stated that he would like to have authorization to have engineering done.
Mayor Allen noted that further training for our Volunteer Fire Department should be allowed and Council should appropriate funds for classes.

Motion by Councilman Vernon, supported by Councilman Folino to appropriate $500 for the training of men in our Volunteer Fire Department.
Unanimously accepted.
Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Biery to authorize engineering for a new water tap from the Detroit line at Wing and Cady to feed Central Business District directly.
Unanimously accepted.
FLASHING SIGNS ENFORCEMENT: City Manager explained that Earl Kelm has not responded to our letter which states their sign is in violation of City Ordinance. Union 78 has stated that they would like to see court action on this in order to ascertain if our enforcement is legal. City Prosecutor has approved this case and it will go to court.
Council instructed City Manager to send letters to all offenders of flashing signs indicating that they are violating a City Ordinance.
AMBULANCE SERVICE DISCUSSION: Councilman Folino reports that if one ambulance were to be stationed here in Northville we would have to provide a garage if we wanted to have 24 hour service, they would provide four men and two ambulances, and the City would have to provide living quarters and a garage.

Council agreed that City Manager and Councilman Folino work together on the details and then report back to Council.
PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM: City Manager requests Council hold a work session on December 3, 1972 for a couple of hours and then tour the City. Council agreed resolution to OPEN BANK ACCOUNT FOR BLDG. AUTHORITY. Motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Vernon to approve resolution to open Bank Account for Building Authority.
Unanimously accepted.
PARKING PROJECT: City Manager stated that all the appraisals were in and that he would discuss this with the owners of the property. This will be taken up at the next meeting.
There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:45 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,
Michele A. Sakalian

NOVI SIX-POINTER—Frank Camerella of Walled Lake, shown above admiring a six-point buck, was surprised by the large deer as it darted in front of his car on Novi Road near 12½-Mile. Michael S. Arlow of Novi, a free lance writer and photographer, happened by at the time and shot this picture. It happened last week, during deer-hunting season, naturally.

PRIZE—Steve Schrader beams with pride as he shows a neighbor, David Longridge, the eight-point buck bagged last week by his dad, N. C. Schrader of 1054 Horton. Weighing 180-pounds dressed out, the buck was the largest ever taken by Schrader. A football buff, Schrader said he "decided to go hunting during the Michigan-Ohio State game because we couldn't get it on television up there." So while the Bucks were taking their toll in Columbus, Schrader was doing in a buck at Gaylord.

Township Board Minutes

Northville Township Board Meeting Minutes of November 21, 1972
 301 W. Main

Meeting convened at 8:05 p.m. by Supervisor Stromberg his last meeting before retirement on November 20. Present Stromberg, Hammond, Straub, Baldwin, Klein, Mitchell, Schaeffer.

Also present Consultants Morgan and Mosher the press, and 8 visitors. Minutes were approved on motion by Mitchell, seconded by Klein, Ayes All.

Klein moved to accept the Treasurer's report, seconded by Mitchell Ayes All.

Schaeffer moved that all current bills be paid, and that the monthly receipts and report of the Water & Sewer Department be accepted seconded by Straub Ayes All.

The minutes of the Appeal Board for October 16 and 20, the Planning Commission for September 26, October 11 and 21, Water & Sewer Commission minutes for October 4 and the Northwest Wayne County Sanitation Authority for October 11, 1972 were all unanimously accepted and filed.

CORRESPONDENCE
 1 Brender-Hamill, October 12, 1972. Straub moved to accept and file this letter seconded by Mitchell Ayes All. Green's letter of credit to be returned as the necessary work has been verified by the engineer.

2 SEMCOG, October 17, 1972. Letter in reference to HUD in our area, moved to be accepted and filed by Schaeffer, seconded by Hammond Ayes All.

3 Northville Township Building Authority, October 27, Morgan Articles of Incorporation for Northville Township Building Authority have been filed with the County Clerk on October 26, 1972. Schaeffer moved to accept this letter, seconded by Klein, Ayes All.

4 Morgan, October 27, re Oka George said. Pre trial conference date for this matter has been changed to November 16, 1972 at 9:30 a.m. Klein moved to accept and file seconded by Hammond Ayes All. Wright will attend.

5 M.H. Terge, October 31, Hammond stated that this wage increase request was completely reasonable and that she felt the whole wage structure of employees in the township should be studied. Schaeffer moved to make it an agenda item 5 under New Business, seconded by Mitchell Ayes All.

6 Chief Nisun, November 6, Schaeffer moved to accept the Chief's letter and to defer action on it to item 6 under New Business. Seconded by Klein Ayes All.

OLD BUSINESS
 1 R. Spear, letter of understanding re Highland Lakes streets lights and drains. The attorney stated that the new proposal met with his approval as submitted by Superintendent Spear. Spear briefly went over the background of these agreements and explained the new letter of understanding which should now be acceptable to all parties concerned so that the schools will not be charged fees for services not to their benefit. Klein moved that former letter of understanding be rescinded and that the supervisor and clerk be authorized to sign a new letter of understanding regarding street lighting and drains between the Township of Northville and the Northville School District. Seconded by Straub Ayes All.

2 Water & Sewer sinking funds, Morgan Klein moved to have the Water and Sewer Commission make a recommendation to the Township Board on this above matter. Seconded by Schaeffer Ayes All.

3 Building Code, Morgan. The State will have a code applicable to the entire state by January 1, 1973. No action necessary at this time.

4 Wayne County Child Development Center, water lines, Morgan. No report. Hammond moved to table until next meeting, seconded by Mitchell Ayes All.

5 Northwest Sanitation Authority of Wayne County, Morgan stated that he had applied for an attorney general's opinion and that it was the same as Morgan had given, that is, townships are not allowed to charge a fee for disposal services. Senator Pursell has been contacted and has indicated that he will initiate remedial legislation in the January session of the legislature that would enable townships to levy special use charges for such disposal costs.

6 Grand View Acres sewer line, Mr. Mosher presented plans and estimates of cost for this proposed assessment district. He suggested that the township assess a reasonable special assessment with an excess cost picked up by township funds. The estimates have included the cost of house connection extensions from sewer to street property lines. Hammond moved resolution 11 of this project as presented, known as Resolution 72-45, that the board receive the plans and cost estimated for the sewer lines for Grand View Acres subdivision as submitted by engineer Mosher and a date be set for a public hearing, seconded by Straub Ayes All.

7 CIS from Livonia, Stromberg Supervisor Stromberg reported that a letter had been received from the City of Livonia stating that they will rent to the Township of Northville four CPS for approximately $12,000 per year.

Hammond moved to take item 3, New Business, out of order, seconded by Klein Ayes All.

NEW BUSINESS
 1 Sechler Water & Sewer petitions. These two petitions for water mains and sewer lines for "The Tack Room" on Seven Mile Road were presented and found to be adequate by both the attorney and engineer as to wording, content, and number of signatures. Resolution 72-48, Moved by Straub, seconded by Mitchell that whereas this petition for water mains has been received and properly verified as to signatures, ownership and percentage of ownership of the area, therefore the engineer is ordered to prepare plans and cost estimates for the sewer line as petitioned on these four lots in Grand View Acres Ayes All.

2 Planning Commission recommendation, Thompson Brown rezoning request. The Planning Commission has recommended that the request for rezoning on October 11, 1972 by Thompson-Brown for its parcel of land north of Six Mile Road, Petition No. 72-7, as advertised in the Northville Record be approved by the Township Board. Straub moved that the board so approve, seconded by Klein Ayes All.

3 Water & Sewer recommendations, (a) Charges for a laundromat, Moved by Hammond and seconded by Schaeffer that, as recommended by the Water & Sewer Commission on September 6, 1972 the capital charge for water connection to a laundromat in Northville township be at the rate of $50.00 per machine. Ayes All.

(b) No action necessary.

(c) Increase in water charges. On recommendation of the Water and Sewer Commission in its meeting of September 6, Hammond moved that on account of the Detroit water rate increase of 30% cents per 1,000 gallons effective on all bills rendered on or before November 1, 1972, Northville Township water rate be increased 3.0 cents per 1,000 gallons effective the same date. The rate now becomes 43 cents per 1,000 gallons. Klein supported Ayes All.

4 Charest-Edwards Liquor License addition, Resolution 72-48, Schaeffer moved that the request for Dun Rovin Country Club addition to license for Charest and Edwards be approved since the letter from Chief Nisun indicated that he found no reason for denying same. Mitchell seconded Ayes All.

5 Waste request. Schaeffer stated that he felt a committee should be formed to work out job classifications and wage scales. Much discussion followed. It was suggested that this matter be considered by the fringe benefit committee since it is scheduled to have a study meeting very soon with all employees. Mitchell moved that the matter of the deputy clerk's wage be left to the clerk, that she discuss it with the deputy as to amount of increase and then bring it to the board, since the clerk's supervisor Klein seconded, Ayes All.

6 Nisun's letter, Mitchell moved to instruct Chief Nisun to report back to the board on fire training and rescue equipment that he is requesting and the costs of such instruction seconded by Hammond Ayes All.

APPOINTMENTS
 1 Recreation Committee. On recommendation of the supervisor, James Vargo was appointed as new Recreation Commissioner to replace H. O. Evans for a 3 year term. Straub so moved, seconded by Hammond Ayes All.

2 SEMCOG, Straub moved that Larry Wright be appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Stromberg's retirement as delegate to SEMCOG, seconded by Baldwin Ayes All.

3 Water & Sewer Commission, Klein moved that Lawrence Wright be appointed to finish the unexpired term on the Water & Sewer Commission created by Stromberg's resignation. Seconded by Schaeffer Ayes All.

4 Fish Hatchery Committee, Baldwin is leaving the Township Board at the end of his term on November 29, but agreed to serve again as a representative of the township on the Fish Hatchery Recreation Area Committee. Schaeffer moved to reappoint Baldwin to the committee seconded by Straub Ayes All.

Meeting adjourned at 11:12 p.m. Respectfully submitted,
 Eleanor W. Hammond Clerk

Wallpapers are fun to have in practically any room, but they should be chosen with care as to pattern and colors. Never hang a wallpaper without bringing it home first and trying a scrap or two on your walls. Many papers that at first glance seem perfect may not last so well in your regard. Often, wallpapers will allow to appear in a large quantity a color you had not noticed in a small scrap. So, when you do hang up a sample, use a large enough piece to get a true picture.

You'll find furniture for every room in your home at SCHRADER'S HOME FURNISHINGS, INC. 111 N. Center St., Northville, 349-1838. Simmons Bedding and Spring Air Bedding, Carpeting including indoor and outdoor and there is even a decorating service available. Open: Mon thru Thurs 9 a.m. - 6 p.m., Fri and Sat 9 a.m. - 9 p.m., Closed Sundays.

HELPFUL HINT: Good quality wallpaper will last for years. This is especially important to remember when covering a sunny area.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Nine out of 10 Northville businessmen will tell you that 1972 was "just great" businesswise.

At least that's what the results of a personally conducted poll revealed this week.

I talked to professional men, retailers, auto dealers, real estate salesmen, bankers and service men

Most call 1972 their best year ever and predict more prosperity in 1973.

There were a couple who said business was down—one in the hard goods' business where big price-cutting has been taking place in the discount centers, and another in a service station. The latter said his business was good, but his costs skyrocketing.

Some said that 1972 just compared equally with 1971. But they hastened to add that 1971 was a very good year.

The average retailer in Northville estimated that his business in 1972 will top last year by 20 per cent. Some boasted gains of 50 per cent; only a few said gains were as little as 10 per cent.

And most were quick to point out that profit margins were down and the cost of doing business up—on the average about eight per cent.

But the Northville businessman is happy. He recognizes that his good fortune comes mostly from circumstances rather than exceptional talent on his part.

Yet he has taken time to analyze the situation and he knows that there's more than luck involved.

One retailer said that "anyone half-trying could make it in Northville now".

And, as all businessmen agreed, this is because of the influx of new people to the area.

Yet, while the chief ingredient to doing business (especially more business) may be numbers of customers, there are other important factors necessary if one is to gain and maintain their patronage.

Most Northville merchants believe that shoppers are tired of "production-line treatment received in large shopping centers".

Many of the newcomers to the area have never experienced the smalltown, small shop method of doing business.

They're fascinated by the personalized service and friendliness.

And Northville merchants believe their clerks are more courteous and more competent than the average shopping center employee.

"Our stores are smaller, more specialized. We don't move a clerk from one department to another to cover absenteeism. We know every product in our store and, generally, we know, or take time to know, what our customers want and need", one retailer explained.

In addition to personalized attention and product knowledge, the Northville merchant believes he offers more service than the shopping center. And he thinks that many of his new customers are not accustomed to this kind of merchandising, either.

While he knows his prices must be competitive, the smalltown merchant knows, too, that his customers value service and attention nearly as much as pennies saved.

They like getting their prescriptions filled immediately and saying "charge it". They like the shoe repair, the tailoring, the cleaning, the auto service, the "take it home and try it" confidence that they find handy and readily offered by most local merchants.

And the smart Northville merchant is aware of this "edge" he has over his big center brothers. He knows he's just "lucky" to be doing business in a growing area and that with a little effort he can take advantage of that stroke of luck.

Another factor mentioned by several retailers is the increased off-street parking facilities. "We need all we've got and all they're planning to give us," said one merchant.

In the past (and even still) some merchants have criticized the city council for creating more parking lots (especially when an assessment for half the cost was charged against property owners in the business district).

But these lots are beginning to fill up—even the new double-decker on Cady street.

And it's apparent now that the projected parking plans will come just in time when Northville Square opens its stores at Main and Wing streets.

New lots will spring up on the west half of the Main-Wing-Dunlap-Center street block and on Dunlap east of Center, and on Cady south of Northville Square.

Retailers aren't the only businessmen enjoying the new growth in Northville.

Even though there's more competition, the banks, savings and loans, attorneys, dentists, insurance men and real estate agents report that they are meeting more new people every day and doing more business.

Real estate sales have been good in Northville for several years. And, apparently, it's still a seller's market because of the scarcity of used homes. But with the increase in building activity, the buyer has a better selection.

It was reported that currently Northville ranks second to Birmingham in the state in the average price of homes sold. Reportedly, it now stands at about $38,000.

But another agent noted that "it's awfully difficult to find houses to sell priced under $40,000".

Local savings accounts, loans mortgages are higher than ever; restaurants report steady gains; there are more cars and they're keeping the service departments humming.

So maybe the days that dreamers and planners used to talk about are finally arriving in Northville

The good merchant has always done well, but he's never been really rushed or challenged.

Now, it would appear, downtown Northville is enjoying "squatters' rights" on a new surge of business.

The headstart may not be long-lived; more shopping centers are certain to follow the population.

It should not be a case of "making hay while the sun shines". Rather the challenge to the Northville merchant is how well he continues to plan for the future, and how wisely he invests his profits in the improvement of his facilities and employees.

GREAT . . .

GOAT . . .

Howard Cosell is great. He is one of the few honest men in a field, sports reporting, which has too many gutless wonders, like Frank Gifford or Bud Wilkinson.

Get Cosell in the same room with a black athlete who refuses to stand at attention during the national anthem and Cosell will pop the question in everyone's mind, "Why didn't you stand at attention?"

Put a man like Gifford or Wilkinson in that room with the black athlete and you'll never get the answer. Instead, you'll get some nice pitter-patter about the athlete's performance after "the flag incident."

What makes Cosell even more amazing is that he is surviving in a medium, television, which places a premium on innocuous statements. Don't offend anybody is the credo. Be a nice guy, watch the image. The truth be damned.

Cosell's comment about Lion Coach Joe Schmidt is a case in point. Cosell, over national television, said Schmidt couldn't inspire a frog. From what I've heard from Schmidt and from what I've seen of his Lions, I'd agree.

You may not like Cosell. But he isn't in the business to be liked. He's doing a job reporting sports as it should be reported, with an honest, if abrasive, effort to get at the truth.

Raps Increases

To the Editor

The greed and selfishness of our administrators and school board has never been more evident. This last 10 percent increase is a reflection of the general tone of our society. We have been bullied into voting increased millages, the quality of the Northville school system has eroded and these so-called public servants vote increases for themselves and their cronies. Thank you to Mrs. Gucken and Mr. Orphan, I will not forget. I resent the fact that the teachers, who for the most part knock themselves out for our kids, have to plead and bargain for the slightest increase — that our children DO NOT have the necessary equipment (junior high and high school sewing classes to my knowledge) and that my children are part of an ever-worsening system

It is destructive to see "educators" flaunt the presidents' request for wage and price freeze. My husband's wages do not go up and he's not paid out of public funds!

"I guess I'm one of those who believes a person should keep his light under a basket," confides the grey-haired man who marked his 80th birthday Sunday.

Unfortunately, he's done such a good job of hiding his light that my own children aren't aware that the street on which we live was named in his honor.

They know him simply as the "Man who used to give away ice cream bars on the Fourth of July."

He's that, of course, but Conrad E. Langfield is much more.

Now unable to walk about the community he loves because of a crippling back problem and failing eyesight, Con, as he prefers to be called, nevertheless tries hard to convince his friends "I'm kicking just as hard as ever."

"Next time I'm downtown I'll come up to see you," he promises, knowing full well his legs won't carry him to out second-floor office any longer. He says it anyway, as he has for more than two years, because he's determined "to lick this thing."

Meanwhile, Conrad Langfield sits at home at 501 Fairbrook and reminisces about the town he knows so well... about the "crow's nest" at Center and Main where he used to stand and watch the one-lungers and horse carriages...about the county fair and its block of canvas tents...about old school houses...about the pains of two world wars and the jubiliations that peace brought to Northville...about a depression and the recovery...about clapboard store buildings, cobblestone ditches, the dam, the mill, the dirt streets... about the fields and woods he once walked.

But mostly he thinks about the people....

"You know, I've been all over this world, from one end to the other, but nowhere can you meet nicer people than right here in Northville...my hometown."

Born in Detroit where he spent the early years of his life, Con moved to Northville following graduation from the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy and Chemistry...at the age of 17.

His father, the late E.C. Langfield who died in 1936, had moved to Northville three years earlier in 1914.

Most oldtimers believe—and Con has perpetuated the story—that his father came to Northville for the express purpose of launching Northville Laboratories. Actually, the senior Langfield had already retired as a Detroit fireman, having injured himself in the line of duty, and knew nothing about chemistry. He had purchased the farm property where Con's house and the lab now stand, hoping to live out the remainder of his life in leisure.

But Con, fresh out of college, talked his father out of retirement and the two of them went into business together.

"My father was the real workhorse," insists Con. "I was just the salesman."

But what a salesman he was. Traveling door to door in what then was "just a farm town," Con sold drugs here while at the same time working full time for Parke Davis in Detroit.

"I liked to ride the interurban, that's all," he says of his sunup to sun-down job.

Then came World War I and Con, self-conscious about his German heritage, volunteered for the United States Army. But instead of the overseas duty he sought and trained for, the Army gave the young lieutenant the job of purchasing all of its drugs and medical supplies. He was the youngest officer assigned to the staff headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Following the tour of duty with the Army and a six-months battle with tuberculosis, Con returned to Northville and the business he had left behind. He soon turned it from a door-to-door sales operation into one of the country's leading producers of vanilla extract.

The barn on the property was razed and the present plant, now under a different owner, and the house in which he now lives was built.

It was Con's father, a member of the school board and a charter Northville Rotarian, who listened to the "hired" bands at the fairgrounds, now Northville Downs, and decided Northville had to have its own school hand.

"I told him it was a pipe dream but he wouldn't listen," recalls Con. "He wouldn't give it up; he was determined we'd have a band of our own."

Enlisting the support of the school board and the fair board, and lending his own financial assistance and leadership, the senior Langfield's dream became a reality in 1927—the centennial year of the community.

Like his father who wasn't satisfied in just making his living in Northville, Con involved himself in local affairs and both father and son became respected community leaders.

A charter Legion member, Con led the drive to acquire the present Legion headquarters; he was instrumental in the purchase of the community's first big piece of fire fighting equipment following the burning of the old Princess Riik here; he was a prime mover in the paving of the once dirt and gravel Main and Center streets; and as a village councilman he boosted the purchase of the old Lapham homestead where the present city hall now stands.

Con served for three terms as village president, from 1948 to 1953, and it was during his tenure of office that the movement for city incorporation was begun.

Long before he became mayor, however, he had served on the village council...at the same time his father was serving on the board of education. The then village president, Charles Filkins, had appointed him to fill a vacancy.

When Con retired from public office in 1953, he circulated the petitions for his successor, the late Village President "Pete" Ely. The two had been close friends for years. The year Con stepped down, a political newcomer was elected to a council seat...A.M. Allen, Northville's present mayor.

Today the only living former mayor (president) of Northville, he is known by relatively few of the citizens of his rapidly growing community. Yet, literally hundreds of its residents... young and old, the poor and needy...the band, and scores of civic organizations have benefited by his philanthropy, even though many of those he has helped are unaware of his generosity.

So while Conrad Langfield at age 80 is no longer able to walk through the community he loves, we here at The Record join with the community in saluting him for lighting the way for so many others.

Eye Lottery Bill

To the Editor:
"As you know, under the present law, newspapers are prohibited from mailing any edition of their paper which carries lottery advertisements or any lottery information which is not deemed newsworthy."

In the view of the fact that Michigan has joined a growing number of States that have decided to conduct a lottery, I feel that the law should be amended. Many newspaper rely quite heavily upon mails for their circulation. The present law would require them to print two entirely different editions—one for public sale and one for use through the mail. I feel that this is an unnecessary hardship, as well as an obstacle to the success of the lottery itself. Therefore, I have prepared the enclosed draft of a bill for possible introduction in the next Congress. As you will

Road and Taft Road, with the cooperation of its residents, was annexed into Novi Postal. Delivery in May, 1972.

I would regard consolidation of the Postal area as a prime starting point for unification. However, this is a project which the residents must want and initiate.

The local Post Office is prohibited, by Postal Regulations, from annexing territory, even though it is within municipal boundaries, from other Postal delivery offices, unless residents subscribe for it through the completion of Postal Service Form 4027, a copy is enclosed.

This annexation does not have to encompass the whole city. For example, if residents of Echo Valley subdivision are desirous of Novi Postal delivery, it would require signatures of at least 90 per cent of the residents. The area to be annexed must be compact for economical reasons.

I have received numerous requests from residents, outside the Novi delivery area, for Novi delivery service, and have given several sets of petitions to enthusiastic persons, but with the exception of our successful effort with the cooperative residents of Glenda Avenue, there has been no further follow-up.

We can assure you that we have the know-how and capability to accomplish our part of unification.

Although space is limited at this time, active plans are in motion to give Novi a larger modern Postal facility in the near future.

If you would like further information or assistance, you can call me at 349-2100.

Gifts Remember Indigent Patients

To the Editor:

Each year at this season we receive inquiries from citizens of our communities asking how they remember with Christmas gifts our indigent patients and others who may be forgotten by relatives and friends. The greater number of our patients will be at home for Christmas or relatives will be bringing gifts to them a few days before the holidays.

Presently our Nursing Staff members and our Family Care Coordinator are sharing with us names of those patients whom we do not anticipate will be receiving gifts. Each patient will indicate two or three of his Christmas "wishes". We shall relay these slips, in turn, along with a letter of instructions, to each interested individual and group in our area.

Among the names to distribute we will have many who may have now left our hospital and are living in the community, but do not have relative or friend interested in them.

Please assure your readers we shall welcome their letters of inquiry.

Mustang Grapplers Face Lineup Gaps In Heavier Weights

There is a decidedly somber quality to the outlook for the 1972 Northville High School wrestling team.

"We're pretty much in the same shape we were last year," says Ed McCloud, now in his second years as coach of the Northville grapplers. "We'll be strong in the lower and middle weight classes and after that - well, after that we just don't have anybody."

Unfortunately, McCloud is not speaking figuratively. When he says he doesn't have anybody in the higher weight classes, he is speaking quite literally - he really doesn't have anybody.

By virtue of having absolutely no one to put in the 167 and 185 pound weight divisions, the Mustangs will find themselves in the unenviable position of having to forfeit 12 points to their opponents before the match even begins.

"It's not an easy margin to overcome," notes McCloud with a note of bitterness in his voice.

The problem, he says, can be traced directly to the football team.

"The reason we have to forfeit those two weight classes is due primarily to the laziness and apathy on the part of some of the members of the football team."

"I mean that sincerely and I've told them that, too," he adds.

"It's always been my feeling that if ever two sports went hand in hand its football and wrestling," McCloud, a former All-Big Ten center at Michigan State and an assistant coach for the Northville gridders, is in a position to know.

The problem of having to forfeit matches is not a new one for McCloud or his Mustangs. They had to labor under a similar handicap last year when they had no one to put in the heavyweight division.

Nevertheless, the rest of the team was strong enough to enable them to overcome the automatic six-point deficit and have a pretty good season.

They ended the year with an 8-3-1 dual meet record and finished fourth out of 16 teams in the Class B regionals.

Several of the strongest members of last year's team have been lost to graduation, however, - most notably Kevin Hartshome and David Griffin, who could be counted on for wins everytime they stepped on the mat - and McCloud will have to bring along a relatively young team, if the Mustangs are to do well.

Heading the 1972 Northville wrestling team will be Bill

Norton, a 145-pounder, who went through district and regional competition before finally losing in the state finals at Alma last year.

Norton, who is captain of the team, finished third in the Western Six Conference meet last year, but, McCloud is quick to point out, that was hardly indicative of his ability.

Right behind Norton are a group of five lettermen on whom McCloud will also be counting heavily.

At 105 will be junior Jimmy Watson, a fine lightweight wrestler who is a potential Western Six champion this year.

Another strong position will be the 112 pound class where another junior, Dan Fialon, holds forth. "Danny's a potentially outstanding wrestler," says McCloud "All he has to do is learn to be a bit more aggressive."

The Mustangs continue to be strong through the lower weights as Dave Houck, a junior letterman, wrestles at 119; Mike Corcoran, another junior letter winner, fills the 132 pound division; and Steve Barger, who lettered as a sophomore but didn't wrestle last year, should do well at 138 pounds.

"We'll be young in those weights and we certainly don't have the experience we had last year," says McCloud, "but we should do fairly well with those boys."

Wrestling at 98 pounds will be either Jack Barger or Malcolm Dedes. Both are potentially good wrestlers, according to McCloud, but Barger will probably get the starting nod until Dedes makes weight.

At 126 will be Mark Okopy, a junior who wrestled on the junior varsity last year.

Tim Slagle, a tall, thin senior with no previous experience, will fill the 155 pound division; while the heavyweight slot will go to either 205 pound sophomore Bill Potter or 215-pound Swedish exchange student Stig Berggren.

MUSTANG GRAPPLERS—Faced with the prospect of having to overcome the deficit created by forfeiting the 167 and 185 pound weight classes, Northville will have to rely heavily on these performers for pins. In the front row from

NOVI MATMEN—With a new coach and a good nucleus of experienced veterans, Novi will be attempting to post its first winning season on the mats. In the front row from left to right are Tom Ford, Bill Livingston, Mike Sasena, and Dave Ward. In the back row are Don Jackson, Assistant Coach Tim Falls, Coach Russ Gardner, and Randy McGarry.

If for no other reason than that it has a new head coach, Novi's wrestling team should be much improved this year.

Taking over as head of the Novi mat program is Russ Gardner and to understand just how much difference Gardner can make in the Novi team you've got to understand that he's the first bonafide wrestling coach Novi has had in its brief four-year history of the sport.

This is to take nothing away from Rick Trudeau, who has led the Wildcat grapplers in the past. Trudeau has worked diligently at the job, but by his own admission he has had little background in wrestling and his pleas that he be replaced with a more qualified coach were finally heeded.

And Gardner is indeed qualified.

A former 127 pound Class A state wrestling champion from Garden City, Gardner went to the University of Iowa on a scholarship and later went on to win the Southeastern Michigan Junior College championship after transferring to Schoolcraft College and later won the Air Force championship during a stretch in the service.

In taking over the Novi program, Gardner will have a great deal of building to do. Last year was a banner year for the Wildcats as they reached their highest number of dual meet victories - two.

What's more, graduation losses from that team were heavy. Gone are Pat Ford, Duane Miller, Kevin Schingeeck, and Terry Auten - their undefeated, SEC heavyweight champion.

Nevertheless, Gardner has big plans for his first Novi wrestling team.

"Look," he says, "we've got 17 dual meets and six tournaments on our schedule this year. What I want to do is win 10 of those dual meets and two of those tournaments."

But Gardner has other goals, too.

"I want four boys going to the state finals. I want to have a junior high and elementary school program in the spring. And I want to build a program that's so good all boys will want to come out for the team next year."

The immediate problem, however, is that goal of 10 victories during the present season.

To achieve it, Gardner will have to rely primarily on four experienced seniors and a potentially first-rate sophomore transfer student.

The seniors are Tom Ford, a tough little competitor in the 119 pound division who won the Airport Tourney last year; Dave Ward, a proven grappler in the 138 pound division; Don Jackson, another accomplished performer in the 145 pound bracket; and Randy McGarry, a 155-pounder who led the team in pins last year.

The transfer student is sophomore Bob Sasena, who won a junior high city championship in his weight class in Cleveland, Ohio.

"These are the boys who have got to come through for us if we're going to get our ten wins," says Gardner. "The rest of the team is basically freshmen and sophomores with little or no experience. Our top five have got to come through for us and we'll have to fill in the gaps with the rest. If I can get a few of them to come through, we should be able to get our ten wins."

Top prospects to fill in those gaps presently appear to be Bill Livingston, a returning letterman at 98, Kim Smith, a senior, but a first year wrestler, at 119; Tom Wilkinson at 132; and Mike Vivian, another first year wrestler at 167.

Other candidates include sophomore Ron Hardecki at 105, Dave Miller or Jim Cook at 132; Gary Straub at 185, and either freshmen Gil Spiers or senior Ron Broquet at heavyweight.

First the Good News, Novi Wins . . .

Northville and Novi opened their 1972-73 basketball seasons Tuesday, and—at the risk of belaboring a phrase—there was both good news and bad news.

First the good news. Steve Lukkari tossed in a jump shot with 20 seconds left on the clock to give Milan Obrenovich's Novi Wildcats a 49-47 victory over Benedictine.

And now the bad news. Big

Mike Brown scored 18 points but it just wasn't enough as Northville's hopes for an opening game victory were squelched 55-50 by South Lyon.

Novi trailed at the end of the first quarter, 9-6, and at the end of the first half, 26-23, but came on strong in the second half to knot the score before Lukkari's heroics provided the winning margin.

Benedictine had an opportunity to send the game into overtime, but a wild left-handed hook shot from the corner in the final seconds went astray and Novi had the 49-47 victory.

"We looked rugged, but we came out on top and that's what counts," said Coach Milan Obrenovich. "I'm afraid we just don't have the basketball muscles working yet, the football muscles still seem to be predominant."

The Wildcats had a balanced scoring attack as Pat Boyer and John Pantalone each had 11 points, Lukkari tossed in 10 more, Jim VanWagner scored nine, and Eric Hansor had eight.

With a height advantage and a definite bench advantage, Coach Walt Koepke's Mustangs had high hopes of opening the season with a win against a South Lyon team, whose tallest man was just 6'3".

Unfortunately, things didn't come off as the Mustangs and Koepke had planned. Northville jumped off to an early lead and regained it briefly again early in the third quarter, only to see the Lions open up a 10 point margin midway through the final period and then hold off Northville's full court press to take a 55-50 verdict.

With Todd Eis (6'3"), Mike

Brown (6'5"), and Dave Duey (6'5") on the floor, Northville enjoyed a definite height advantage over the Lions whose Ed Segars was the only starter taller than 6'1".

But Northville's height superiority was not reflected in the rebounding, as Segars was more than a match for the Mustangs under the hoop.

What hurt the Mustangs even more than the rebounding was their poor shooting. They didn't make a single shot longer than 15 feet until the final quarter and missed an amazing percentage of shots from directly under the basket.

Northville finished the game with a 29 percent shooting average and made just four of 19 shots in the third quarter.

Ed Kritch joined Brown in the double figures bracket with 11 points. All the South Lyon scoring was done by Segars, who had 17 points, and Tony Kern and Tom Hanson, who each had 18 points. Dave Williamson was the only other Lion player to score when he dropped in a pair of second quarter free throws.

Friday Novi hosts Milan, while Northville journeys to Brighton.

Depth Problems Challenge 'Gentle Ben's Swimmers

It won't be easy for Ben Lauber and his Northville High School swim team to improve on last year's performance.

After all, when you're the second best team in the state as the Mustangs were in the Class B championships at East Lansing last March there just isn't a great deal of room for improvement.

But improvement is exactly what Lauber has in mind for his 1972-73 team and if that means having to climb up into the number one position then so be it.

"I think you belittle your team if you don't try to be number one," says Lauber, displaying the type of logic that has enabled his Mustangs to post a 35-2 record and become one of the state's most respected teams in just three years' time.

As the 1972-73 swim season approaches, the Mustang swimmers have more than just the goal of a state championship on their minds.

Also at stake is a dual meet win streak currently at "25 and counting" and two consecutive undefeated seasons—two streaks the Mustangs would like to extend. In addition, the Northville swimmers have a second consecutive Western Six championship to consider.

"There's no doubt about it," says Lauber, who is known as Gentle Ben among his swimmers. "None of those goals will be easy to accomplish. Milan was number one last year and they'll be tougher this year than they were last year. We've added some very strong teams to our dual meet schedule, and, as for the league championship, Farmington Harrison has the toughest team they've ever had and they've always had a good team."

Hampering Northville's chances will be the fact that they have lost twelve key men from their 1971 team. Not only have Joe Boland, Bill Maguire, Pete Bedford, Jeff Pitak, Brad Phillips, Glenn Simmons, and Gary Putrow been lost to graduation, three other swimmers who were scheduled to return this year have also been lost.

Bob Bloomhuff, a fine sophomore, is out for the season with a knee injury; Jay Ivey, one of the top breaststrokers in the state, moved to California; and Jurgen Helmus, a strong swimmer in both the butterfly and freestyle, returned to Germany.

Still, Lauber remains optimistic.

"Even with a dozen losses," he says, "we'll have a strong team. We'll have a problem with depth which we've never had before in Northville, but we hope we'll be able to overcome our depth problem with strength in the top positions."

"Having very little depth offers us a big challenge," he continues, "but then that's what makes coaching exciting."

Hopefully, Northville's top men will be strong enough to meet that challenge.

There are no fewer than eight school record holders on the 1972 team and two of them—Art Greenlee and Jeff Kappler—were members of the medley relay team which set the state record in that event last spring.

Kappler, a senior backstroke, who finished second in the state meet heads one of the deeper areas on the Mustang team. Mark Haynie was eighth in the state, while Matt Stopper and Ken Kohs are a pair of promising sophomores.

Greenlee, who finished second in the state in the 100 yard breaststroke last year as a freshman, returns to make that event a strong one for the Mustangs.

In diving the Mustangs have Tom Cook, a fourth place finisher in the state last year when he was a sophomore. Cook, a dedicated worker, spent two weeks during the summer at a clinic coached by U.S. Olympic diving coach Hobie Billingsley and has already bettered his best performance of last year.

Bill Bretz, one of the team's co-captains, will head up the butterfly for the Mustangs.

In the freestyle events Don Cook will handle the 200 and 400 yard races in good style. Cook was fourth in the state last year in the 400 and seventh in the state in the 200. In the 100 and 50 yard freestyle races, Lauber will have John Pacific and Dennis McLaughlin—both of whom swam on the state's fourth place freestyle relay team last year.

Perhaps Northville's best swimmers, however, are Kevin Kelly and Bill Witek. "These are the guys who can swim anything," says Lauber. "You put them where you need them and they always seem to come through for you."

Witek holds the school records in the 200 yard individual medley and 100 yard freestyle, while Kelly doesn't hold any records at the present time—a phenomenon which is difficult to explain, according to Lauber.

"Don't worry about that," he says. "Kelly's name will be up on that board plenty of times before the season is over."

Those are the currently predominant names in Northville's 1972 plans. Before the season is over, however, Lauber claims there will be others.

"After all," he said, "if we're going to meet those goals we're going to have to develop some more swimmers."

And Lauber, to be sure, is planning to meet those goals. You wouldn't want him to belittle his team, would you?

EYEING THE TOP—There's no doubt in the minds of the members of the Northville swim team as to where they would like to finish in the state meet this year. Their goals are firmly set on the number one spot. But in order to dethrone defending champion Milan, Coach Ben Lauber will have to get superior

Almost Purr-fect

Kitty Wins Quiz

If Ohio State's upset victory over Michigan wasn't enough to spoil weekly football contest entries, Pittsburgh's surprising triumph over the Minnesota Vikings and the Rams loss to New Orleans were major hurdles.

Few contestants figured Ohio State to win over the undefeated Wolverines and even fewer picked New Orleans over Los Angeles.

Best entry and first place winner was submitted by Kitty Castillo, 41400 West Seven Mile Road. She made two mistakes, guessing Ohio to win, but missing on the Iowa-Illinois and New Orleans-Los Angeles games.

The second and third place winners missed three games but their guesses of the Michigan-Ohio State score were closer than were the scores of six other contestants with three mistakes.

Second-place winner Mike Gellner, 390 Maplewood, guessed Ohio to win, 14-7. And as all partisan U-M fans know, the Bucks came out on top, 14-11.

In third place, just six points off the real score, was Tom Eis, 18243 Arselot.

New Pastor Answers Call

The Reverend J. Robert Cunningham, a native of Baltimore, Maryland, has accepted a call to serve as a mission pastor in the Northville area

His duty here, according to the Reverend Dow Burch of Garden City, will be to establish and serve as pastor of a new Lutheran congregation

He is associated with the Federation for Authentic Lutheranism, a rapidly growing, a mission-minded Lutheran church body in fellowship with the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod and the Evangelical Lutheran Synod

Originally from Baltimore where he attended a Lutheran elementary school and a public high school, Pastor Cunningham was graduated from Concordia Junior College, Bronxville, New York in 1958, and from Concordian Senior College, for Wayne, Indiana, receiving a bachelor of arts degree.

He was awarded a bachelor of divinity degree in 1964 at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri

Mr. Cunningham has served as pastor of congregations in North Carolina, Iowa, and, most recently in Watseka, Illinois.

Thirty-three years of age, he is married to the former Miss Judith Trinklein of New York City, a 1963 graduate of Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, Illinois.

Pastor and Mrs. Cunningham have two children, Kirk and Kathleen, four and one years of ages, respectively. They are expected to move to the Northville area early in December.

Breakfast and lunch were provided, with tables stretching along the physical education building.

Hobbie Billingsley, diving coach at Indiana, headed up Schoolcraft's second annual Diving Clinic on November 10, and Dr. Harold Nichols, coach of Iowa State University wrestling team which has won four of the last five NCAA tournaments, was on hand for the fall wrestling clinic Put them in gym suits and give them dozens of volleyballs and plenty of professional instruction.

Now you've got a pretty good picture of the recent clinic conducted at Schoolcraft College, which rapidly is becoming one of the state's foremost sports centers.

"The turnout was fantastic," commented Athletic Director Marvin Gans, who reported that more than 500 attended the day-long volleyball clinic.

On hand for the event were several college coaches, including Don Schondell of Ball State University, and Mick Haley of Kellogg Community College, and college volleyball team members.

On all the property brought in and taken from the police department, "first of all, to keep us honest and secondly, to show the court, in instances where property is involved in a case, that the chain of evidence has been broken from the time the articles are impounded until the trial," he said.

Articles found by citizens and turned in to the police department, such as wallets, glasses, keys, hubcaps and even license plates, are kept until their owners can be located or eventually disposed of if not claimed after a certain length of time.

What's the most unusual thing ever housed in the property division?

Lieutenant Louis Westfall offered two suggestions. "We had an arsenal of machine guns a few years back which were seized from a man in town The FBI took possession of those.

"And a pillowcase full of drugs and pills, stolen from a doctor's office in town, recovered near Wayne"

As for buildings, Ollendorff sees the major need in 1973-1977 as a new library building. "In the near future we will need another addition to the DPW garage, and if the city expands, we will need partitions and remodeling in the council room and the upper level of the (existing) library," he pointed out.

South Center drain projects are currently in the engineering stages, but no action has been taken to date on a new drain to Baseline.

Looking ahead to the 1973-1977 public improvement program, Ollendorff is recommending that the council consider sidewalks in these areas:

Eight Mile, Taft to Center; North Ely, Center to Carrington; Baseline, behind the high school; Baseline, Grace to Novi Street; Grace, north of Eight Mile Road; Novi Road; Fairbrook, one lot east of First; New Griswold extension; New Wing extension; Gardner, River to Yerkes; North Center, north of Maplewood, and Main, west of Orchard.

He has noted, too, that several streets have heavily used sidewalks on only one side: Randolph, Linden, Rogers, Maplewood, Grace, Novi Street, East Cady, West Main, North Center, Hutton, North Ely, Orchard, and West Seven Mile Road.

As for buildings, Ollendorff sees the major need in 1973-1977 as a new library building. "In the near future we will need another addition to the DPW garage, and if the city expands, we will need partitions and remodeling in the council room and the upper level of the (existing) library," he pointed out.

Ollendorff is recommending that the council "seriously consider" several recreational projects:

Swimming--This was classified as high priority along with a dozen other items in a community study in 1954. All the others have been completed. Every study since then has noted this need. The city should consider acquiring a site for an outdoor pool or discuss acquisition and enlargement of the Swim Club facility.

Park acquisition---Purchase of 15 to 20 acres of the vacant property west of the Thompson-Brown housing development on Eight Mile Road should be considered for a community park serving primarily the northern part of the city, similar to the Fish Hatchery on the southern edge of the city.

Land study--A study of every vacant parcel in the city should be done immediately before further development takes place. For example, a wooded area such as surrounds the Eastlawn Convalescent center "seems to me too valuable to allow full-scale private development."

Golf course--"I believe a golf facility would be nearly self-supporting due to the great demand at existing private courses."

Skating rink---Those citizens involved in the Hockey Association and skating generally should be given the opportunity to present their case to the council. "I personally would not recommend an indoor ice rink at this time due to the size of the city," but he added, "we should consider outdoor artificial ice for general public use due to the tremendous growth in interest in recent years."

Bike trails--Bicycle trails have been requested, but no suitable area is available, according to the city manager.

Senior citizens--The senior citizens and other groups would like a large hall for group meetings. "I believe the churches in Northville are adequate for this purpose at least for the next few years."

The city manager is recommending that 11 or more streets be considered for resurfacing in the 1973-1977 program:

Rogers, north of Dunlap; Linden, Main to Randolph; West, Main to Dunlap; High, Main to Randolph; Hutton, Dunlap to Rayson; Oakland; Doris Court; Park Grove; Novi; Baseline to Eight Mile; Yerkes; and Gardner, Yerkes to South Main.

Several paved streets included on his "questionable" list include Rouge, South Ely, Debra, and Carrington.

Unpaved streets which Ollendorff recommends be paved "to avoid expensive maintenance; include:

East Chigwidden, Elsmere (part), Grandview, Spring, Scott, Grace at Baseline (intersection), Lanthorn Lane, Gardner, River to Yerkes

Fans Talk Turkey At Downs Racing

Jackson's action at Northville Downs continues to soar. The past week-end was nothing short of sensational as fans "talked turkey" at the turnstiles and windows from Thanksgiving eve right through a snow-plagued Saturday night.

Big night of the week-end was Friday when 4,871 turned out to wager $397,246. By virtue of a late scratch the $400,000 level was just missed.

Northville-owned Speedway Jackie, property of Mrs. Dorothy Amend, made amends for two earlier defeats in the Invitational trotting series, with a convincing 2:06 mile Friday night. Mystic Boy, winner a week earlier was second.

Saturday's third leg of the $30,000 Jackson-at-Northville late closing pacing series produced a repeat winner and a newcomer to the circle.

Michigan Mack, underway much earlier than when suffering defeat a week before, paced through the slop and snow for its second victory of the series. The 2:10 mile was the fastest of the night.

Bedford Jet, making its first start in the series also registered a win, in the second division. Driven by Gordon Norris, for owner Ed Weber, Walled Lake, the 5-year-old pacer reached in 2:11 1-5.

The fourth round of the Invitational trotting series goes postward Friday night as the feature of the 10-race card. Seven are entered, including last week winner Speedway Jackie, again assigned the seven post. Big Zeke, an impressive winner during the past week moves up to Invitational company for the first time during the meet

New Faces Grace Legislature

LANSING—Many new faces will be present in Lansing next January when the Legislature convenes for its 1973 season. All the fresh faces will be in the House, whose members' terms expire this year. The Senate members have four year terms, all of which expire in 1974.

A total of 25 new members should answer the first roll call in 1973. They'll replace 25 members of this year's House for a variety of reasons.

Reapportionment was the single biggest reason for the wholesale change. The redrawing of maps threw 14 incumbents into seven districts. Several other incumbents found themselves in new districts quite a bit different from their old districts and were unable to hold the seat. And a few lawmakers just quit to take other jobs.

IRONICALLY, not one member of this year's legislature will be going to Washington in the new Congress, despite the fact Potomac Fever hit quite a few of them.

Two House members—Republican David Serotkin and Democrat Marvin Stempien—failed in efforts to unseat incumbents in the General Election. Also failing to secure a seat was Democratic State Sen. Daniel Cooper of Oak Park. Cooper thought he had a sure ticket to Congress, but the busing issue ruined his hopes and produced a victory for his opponent, former Republican State Sen. Robert Huber.

Cooper, however, has two more years to run in his Senate term, so he still has a job. Serotkin and Stempien are out.

THE NEW HOUSE will have 60 Democrats and 50 Republicans despite the victories in Michigan scored by President Nixon, Sen. Robert Griffin, the slate of education candidates, and retention of 12 of the 19 Congressional districts.

This Democratic control is a tribute to the expertise of Democratic Party technicians who drew up the reapportionment plan eventually adopted by the Michigan Supreme Court over one submitted by the Republicans.

The map drawers were able to spread around the Democratic support enough to insure the election of a Democratic majority no matter what. Republicans have been shaking their heads over the fact that roughly 2,000 votes difference in a few districts would have given them control. They even picked up a seat in Macomb County neither they nor the Democrats expected them to get.

BUT IN THE END the map-makers proved to have sliced the line just thin enough to maintain their control.

One can only wonder what the make up will be if the Democrats regain their strength on statewide offices over the next election or two.

The current results also should remove any doubt as to who will take over the Senate in 1974. It becomes obvious that several Republican incumbents are going to have to perform miracles to retain their seats.

THE CHANGEOVER of license plates on every motor vehicle in the state is going on again and Secretary of State Richard Austin is expecting another record.

Austin says his office has mailed out a total of 5.8 million prepared applications to owners of motor vehicles and trailers in Michigan. He says he expects a large number of these to come back by mail rather than having owners go to branch offices to buy their plates.

Austin began the sale through the mail last year and at the same time began accepting checks for the licenses for the first time.

This year drivers will receive complete new plates rather than the tabs issued last year. The plates will have a blue background and white reflectorized lettering.

THE PLATES sold in branch offices this year will be different from those sold through the mail.

"The ones you get by mail are made of a new lightweight aluminum," Austin says. "The ones you get from the branch offices will be galvanized steel."

The deadline for purchasing them through the mail has been extended to Feb. 10 this year. Last year it was Jan. 1.

The deadline for getting them on your car is still April 1.

Babson Report

Market Gains Tied in Packages

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Betterment is showing up this year in the earnings of companies manufacturing containers and packaging materials, after the relatively depressed conditions seen during 1971.

The most impressive gains are being chalked up in the paper-based packaging area, which is more closely tied to variations in the national economy than are other forms of packaging.

packaging accounts for about 50 percent of the industry's total sales. Because of its low cost and versatility, paperboard is widely used as carton material. However, flexible paper packaging (specialty bags, liners, converted wraps) has been losing ground to competing materials, and this trend is likely to continue. Fiber boxes, especially water-resistant types, have been finding wider use in food and beverage markets.

While the paper container industry was previously plagued with overcapacity, a gradual phasing out of inefficient mills and a stronger economy have resulted in an improved supply-demand relationship, with consequent price firming.

Although makers of glass containers and metal cans are not enjoying the healthy earnings increases of certain producers of paper containers, they are registering better results than those of last year, and the outlook for further advances is optimistic.

Better general business is also helping the producers of glass containers, but overcapacity problems and rising labor and materials costs are affecting profit margins.

For the longer term, a slowdown in the growth rate of nonreturnable bottles and the competition from metal and plastic containers may prove to be sharper negative factors than the current ecological controversy. But glass container producers are fighting to protect their share of the market.

Considering the reasonable price-earnings ratios of many issues in this group, the Research Department of Babson's Reports Inc. feels that most container stocks are well worth holding. For purchase at this time, we recommend Diamond International and National Can, both traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

MANUFACTURERS of metal cans have been hard hit by higher costs and a poor price structure stemming from overcapacity. The trend toward manufacture of cans by users themselves has also presented problems. The can companies, however, have been working hard to improve performance through new methods and developments such as on-site production lines, easy-open cans, and cost-cutting measures.

ACCORDING to Department of Commerce figures, shipments of containers and packaging materials for 1971 were valued at $21.5 billion, 5 percent above the 1970 level and 60 percent over the $13.2 billion attained during 1963. A continuing expansion of the overall container and packaging industry is looked for, with the annual rate perhaps 5 percent.

Although can makers' efforts to improve profit margins were blunted earlier this year when the Price Commission rescinded a previously approved 4.3 percent hike in favor of an interim 2.0 percent lift, the latter was upped to a permanent 2.9 percent increase effective August first. This price relief combined with an anticipated step-up in shipments of metal cans should help lift profit margins.

Appraising the years ahead, it is probable that output will reach a total value of $26 billion in 1975, $33 billion by 1980.

Plastic packaging, with dollar volume increasing 10 percent-15 percent yearly, should continue to be the most dynamic part of the packaging industry. Plastic containers are already widely used for liquid detergents, bleaches, cosmetics, and dairy products. Plastic bottles are now being developed for the huge beer and soft-drink markets.

This book lists 26 common light horse and pony breeds. It gives information concerning selecting horses, determining age, care and feeding, necessary equipment, diseases and parasites. Other sections include judging, management, horsemanship and listings of breed associations and horse magazines.

Single copies of Agricultural Handbook No. 394, "Breeding and Raising Horses", are available for $1 from the Superintendent of Documents, US Government Printing Office, Washington, DC, 20402.

In Washington, a National Horse Industry Advisory Committee was established this fall. This committee will help keep the government advised about research, disease control and other activities concerning horse owners, producers and users. This is a 31-member committee to serve a two-year term.

CLINIC:

Dressage star of Canadian Olympic Team, Christilot Hanson, will be giving a Dressage Clinic December 9 and 10 at The Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. The Clinics will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the price is $4 per day for spectators.

To spur or not to spur? That is a question which never fails to rekindle an ancient argument among horse-lovers.

No novice rider should ever wear spurs.

Spurs demand perfect control of the rider's leg, and when this condition is met, they permit a very precise communication.

What the advanced rider seeks from spurs is delicacy rather than harder leg signals. Since precision and not pain is their principal object, there is little justification for using sharp spurs.

Properly fitted, they are worn at right angles to the boot at about the height of the horizontal seam. Spurs are of no use at all when worn too low.

It is very easy for a rider who hasn't perfect leg control to jab his horse with the spurs unintentionally, which can cause the animal confusion as well as pain. Consequently, riders should buy their first set of spurs only when their instructor feels they have acquired sufficient leg control.

Novi, Pinckney Lead All-Area Team

By PHILIP JEROME

Pinckney's powerful Pirates had an 7-2 record.

But there was no question whatsoever in the minds of the Sliger Publications staffers that the Team of the Year - for the second consecutive season - was the high-scoring Novi High School Wildcats.

Coach John Osborne's Novi team posted a perfect 9-0 record in winning the Southeastern Conference championship and ran their record over the past two years to an enviable 17-1 mark.

Also tabbed for honors in the fourth annual Sliger Publications Post-Season Awards were Pinckney's Tom Wilson, who was named Coach of the Year, and Jim Van Wagner, Novi's 195-pound All-State halfback, who was singled out as the area's top player.

In spite of Pinckney's fine season, few, if any, would argue with the selection of the Wildcats as the Number One Team. Indeed, some would even nominate the Novi eleven as one of the top squads in the entire state.

Rated as high as third in the state in one poll, the Wildcats won the respect of everyone they faced including Pinckney's Wilson who commented that a lot of Michigan high school teams were running the Wishbone, but only one - Novi - was running it right.

Offense was the key to the Wildcats' success.

Running the Wishbone T at its most effective, devastating best, the Wildcats buried the majority of their opponents beneath a barrage of touchdowns, scoring almost at will.

Only two teams managed to hold the Wildcats under 30 points and Novi's narrowest winning margin was a sizable 20 points.

At the other end of the spectrum were 64-0 and 63-6 victories over South Lyon and Dundee.

By the end of the season, the explosive Novi eleven had put a total of 389 points on the scoreboard—an average of better than 43 points per game.

With All-State quarterback Steve Lukkari passing for more than 1,000 yards and halfbacks Van Wagner and Boyer each approaching the 1,000 yard mark in rushing, Novi accumulated more than two miles of total offense (3,812 yards).

Defensively, the Wildcats were almost as effective, yielding just 49 points in nine games and shutting out four of their opponents. No team, not even Class B powerhouse Saline, scored more than two touchdowns against the Novi defenders.

The 1972 Sliger All-Area team is the largest ever selected with 24 outstanding prep athletes being recognized for their talents.

Last year the team was expanded to 22 members with a full offensive and defensive team being named. The increase to 24 was brought about by inclusion of a kicker and the wealth of running backs, which led to the decision to name four halfbacks instead of three.

As in the past, no player was named to both offensive and defensive squads though several were deserving of the honor.

Fittingly, Novi and Pinckney dominated the 24-man squad with eight and six selections respectively. Northville with a strong defensive team had four selections, while Whitmore Lake and Hartland had two players and Brighton and South Lyon had one player named to the team.

Here, then, is the 1972 Sliger Publications All-Area Football Team:

Offense

CENTER: Anchoring the offensive line on the All-Area team is Pinckney's 6-1, 205 pound STEVE DUCHANE, one of ten juniors selected to the squad. Winning the starting center spot at Pinckney as a sophomore, Duchane was cited by his coach as an exceptional blocker and team leader.

Duchane was narrowly selected over South Lyon's PAUL FALLERT. A 6-0, 190 pound senior, Fallert was named to the All-Southeastern Conference second team and was selected the Lions' best lineman by the team's coaches and players. Fallert was also awarded the Vince Lombardi Block of Granite Award as one of the suburban Detroit area's top 46 linemen.

GUARDS: Holding down the offensive guard positions are Novi's DAVE WARD and Northville's STEVE SERKAIAN. At 5-11, 155 pounds Ward is the smallest lineman on the All-Area team, but his lack of size did not inhibit his play as is evidenced by the fact that he was one of two players unanimously named to the All-Southeastern Conference squad.

Serkaian (5-8, 200) came within one vote of being named to the Western Six Conference All-Star team. "We never had to double team a man when Steve was on him," said Northville Coach Chuck Shonta. "He handled everyone one to one. We ran most of our dive plays over his position."

TACKLES: FLOYD MCKINZIE (6-0, 185) played guard for Pinckney, but was switched to fill a tackle position on the Sliger All-Area team. Big, strong, and mobile, McKinzie was cited as an important factor in the success of the Pirates' strong ground attack.

STEVE FEAR (6-1, 185), the other tackle, was a three year starter for Novi. "Steve's a very effective blocker - high and low," said his coach. "Technique-wise, he's very sharp. The Novi coach wasn't the only one who thought so either. Fear was named to a starting tackle position on the All-SEC team by the rest of the conference coaches."

ENDS: While several positions lacked for good candidates, other positions had a number of exceptional performers and the end position was one of the latter. Finally selected were Novi's JOHN PANTALONE and Pinckney's LANCE KUHN.

Pantalone, a 6-0, 160 pound senior, was an important cog in Novi's success. With defenses geared to stop the Wildcats' running, Pantalone had a field day. Although Novi passed infrequently, the senior receiver caught 17 passes for 463 yards—an average of better than 27 yards per catch. In addition, eight of those 17 receptions went for touchdowns as he finished the season with 56 points. Pantalone was unanimously named to the All-SEC team.

Kuhn was an All-Ingham County choice as a tight end. The 6-0, 180 pound senior caught 15 passes for four touchdowns. Evidence of Kuhn's ability in the clutch is offered by the fact that three of his four TDs came in games that were ultimately decided by six points.

In selecting Pantalone and Kuhn, two other exceptional receivers were by-passed. South Lyon's JOE STEPHENS (5-9, 160) was named to the All-Area team as a junior, but didn't make it this year in spite of his 24 catches for 500 yards and six touchdowns. He was named to the All-SEC first team along with Pantalone.

Northville's BART TAYLOR (6-1, 170) was a unanimous selection on the Western Six Conference All-Star team. With 19 receptions for 279 yards, Taylor was a break-away threat for the Mustangs, but what impressed the Western Six coaches even more was his blocking ability. "He made our wide stuff successful," said his coach. "There were some exceptional defensive ends in our league, but Bart handled them well."

QUARTERBACK: One candidate stood head and shoulders above the rest - Novi's STEVE LUKKARI. Named Player of the Year on the 1971 Sliger All-Area team, Lukkari has gone on to All-Oakland County and All-State honors. The 5-10, 160 pound senior completed 40 of 85 passes for 1,000 yards and rushed for 199 more, but his true value was his field generalship and the expertise with which he ran the Wishbone.

"Steve's the most valuable player on our team," said Coach Osborne and kudos followed the Novi signal caller wherever he went. "He's an excellent faker," said Northville coach Chuck Shonta. "One of the best ball handlers I've seen in a long time."

RUNNING BACKS: There were so many outstanding running backs in the area this year that it was decided to name four to the Dream Team instead of just three.

Number one selection was Novi's JIM VAN WAGNER, 6-0, 195 pounder who was not only the fastest, but also the strongest player on the Novi squad. A rugged, hard-nosed competitor, VanWagner was named to a starting berth on the All-SEC team for the second consecutive year. With 941 yards in just 95 carries, he averaged nearly ten yards every time he laid hands on the ball and in addition caught 11 passes for 236 more yards. He finished the season with 90 points.

Also named to the All-SEC team was Novi's other halfback, PAT BOYER. At 6-0, 190 pounds Boyer was just a shade smaller and slower than VanWagner, but when you're that big and that fast it just doesn't make that much difference. While VanWagner averaged just under 10 yards per carry, Boyer averaged just over 10 yards per carry with 852 yards in 85 attempts. His point total equalled 84. Together the two Novi backs were all but unstoppable.

Neither VanWagner or Boyer accomplished what the other two running backs did - a 1,000 yard season. Pinckney's: GEORGE REYNOLDS, 5-10, 145 pounds, set a new school record with 1,072 yards. Although neither particularly big or fast, Reynolds was the unanimous choice of his teammates as the squad's most valuable player and was the only unanimous choice on the All-Ingham County team. "He follows his blockers as well as any back I've ever seen," said his coach.

At 5-7, 195 pounds South Lyon's RAY GIVENS runs low and hard and amazingly fast. So fast in fact that he gained 1,037 yards—a new school record—behind an ordinary offensive line. Givens averaged 7.7 yards per carry and was named to the All-SEC second team.

Defense

NOSE GUARD: Like the offensive end and running back positions, there were several fine candidates for nose guard. Chosen for All-Area team after much consideration was Northville's BILL NORTON, a 5-8, 180 pound senior. Extremely quick, Norton, who is also a fine wrestler, led his team in tackles in five out of seven games.

Norton barely edged out Novi's MIKE RILEY (5-11, 170) and Brighton's STU BASLEY (5-11, 180), a pair of juniors. Riley was a scoring threat on defense as he blocked three punts and scored two touchdowns. Basley was the defensive signal caller for Brighton's Bulldogs and won the praise of Northville's Coach Shonta, who admitted that Basley almost single-handedly stopped his team's "dive" game.

TACKLES: Named to the starting defensive tackle positions were Novi's KEVIN LAFLECHE, a 6-0, 185 pound junior, and Pinckney's MIKE SURGENOR, a 5-9, 180 pound senior.

LaFleche joined nose guard Riley in making Novi's middle an unpleasant place to try to gain yardage. A first team All-SEC selection, LaFleche's finest game was against Chelsea when he handled the Bulldogs' All-Conference guard so easily that Osborne said, "I don't think LaFleche got blocked all night."

Surgenor was an All-Ingham County selection for Pinckney this year. Against South Lyon, the hefty senior intercepted a pass and returned it for a touchdown.

ENDS: Brighton's MIKE GIBSON (5-10, 185) and Hartland's MIKE NUNHAM (6-0, 190) were given the nod at the defensive end position. Just a junior, Gibson improved so markedly during the season that opponents were running away from his side of the field by Brighton's final games.

Nunham was a standout two-way player for Hartland, averaging 46 minutes of playing time per game.

LINEBACKERS: Although only three candidates were considered for the three linebacking spots on the team, the position is a strong one. A J. GILLESPIE, the biggest man on the team at 6-3, 215 pounds, holds the unique distinction of being the first player named to the All-Area team (three years in a row). A J. led Whitmore Lake in solo tackles and has had more than 90 tackles in each of his three years of varsity play.

Novi's DAVE BROWN (6-0, 170) was an All-Area selection as a defensive back last year when he was a sophomore. Transferred to linebacker because, according to his coach, "he's one of the best hitters on the team and we wanted to put him where the action was," Brown turned in another strong season.

TIM RICE (5-9, 190) was one of the reasons Northville's defense was strong. Fast for his size, Rice was cited by his coach as a tremendous blitzing linebacker who also does well in getting to the holes on the running plays.

DEFENSIVE BACKS: Another strong position with a number of fine candidates was defensive halfback. Selected were Hartland's MARK LARSON, Northville's JOHN SHERMAN, and Whitmore Lake's TOM MURPHY.

Larson, a 6-1, 180 pound senior, had an outstanding year in the Hartland secondary with 13 interceptions-five of them in one game. His size made him a formidable defender.

Size makes little difference to Sherman, a 5-7, 145-pounder. He was an All-Area selection last year as a sophomore when he was a mere 5-5 and had nine interceptions, and has improved since then. "He's the best tackler on our team," says his coach. "He's a real hard-nosed kid, one of the toughest kids on the field, and he has a fine sense for where the play will develop." Sherman had five interceptions in 1972.

Murphy, a 5-10, 165 pound senior, was the best pass defender on the Whitmore Lake team and had four interceptions. "Very few passes were ever completed in his area," reported his coach.

Considered strongly for the team was Novi's Dan Kardell, a 5-11, 250 pound senior who had three interceptions.

KICKER: For the first time since the All-Area team was initiated four years ago, a kicker was included as Pinckney's JEFF HALE (6-1, 165) was thought worthy of the honor. Hale booted 19 of 25 extra point attempts, had a 22-yard field goal, and was the leading punter in the Ingham County League with a 40.5 average. Against South Lyon, the slim senior kicker had six extra points and a field goal.

Coach of the Year

By JOHN BECKETT

TOM WILSON

A former All-State high school guard who returned to college at age 30 to pursue a coaching career is this year's area Coach of the Year, as chosen by Sliger Publications.

Tom Wilson, who supported his family by working as a milkman while attending Michigan State part-time for 2 1/2 years, was chosen for guiding his Pinckney Pirates to a 7-2 season record and a second place finish in the strong Ingham County League.

This record represents a tremendous reversal in fortune for the Pirates, who finished last season with a 2-6 mark and ended the previous year with a lowly 1-6-1 slate.

When Wilson took over the Pinckney coaching reins in 1969, it had been nearly a decade since the Pirates had enjoyed a winning season.

Change wasn't about to come overnight, however, and in Wilson's first season as coach, Pinckney again lost all its games.

During the next two seasons, signs of improvements began showing themselves. More and more boys were turning out for the fall sport, and the Pirate jayvee teams were beginning to be respectable.

This year, Wilson's boot-strap operation really began to yield results. Over 100 boys turned out for the high school teams, and the varsity squad, boasting a combination of youth and experience, charged to victory after victory.

Wilson's coaching philosophy is really very simple. He believes in winning. But more important to him is making the sport of football truly worthwhile to the young men who participate in it.

"We try to teach our players to understand their limitations, to work well within a group and to have self-discipline," he says.

"I hope that 10 or 20 years from now, these boys can look back and say they're glad they played."

"Of course, I do think winning is very important," Wilson continues. "You don't tell a man to go into marriage with the idea of losing. You try to be the best husband you can."

For Wilson, a tremendously enthusiastic man, coaching is more than just winning and helping boys, however. It's also plenty of fun for the father of four.

"I'll tell you," he smiles. "I get a tingle when I walk down the street and kids say, 'Hi Coach.' Man, that's really neat."

Little things are important

Small in size, but performing an important function when needed... what would we do without paper clips?

Classified Ads are like that too! In fact, they do more things for more people at lower cost than any other form of advertising!

Buying... selling... hiring... finding... renting... or just telling, a small, low cost Classified Ad will do a big, important job for you.

It is easy to place your Want Ad, just call our office.

NEW LINE—Grundy's Home and Auto Mart, one of many stores in the Brighton Mall, opened its new hearth shop recently. It features fireplace accessories, including custom screens, gas logs and tools. Owner Seymour Grundy calls it the largest display of fireplace accessories in Livingston County.

Business Briefs

E. R. EVERETT, M.A.I., of Novi has been appointed vice president of Fort Wayne Mortgage Company of Detroit, it was announced by J. Richard Cooper, president of Fort Wayne Mortgage Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Union Investment Company.

Everett's major responsibility will be directing the firm's commercial real estate mortgage operations. Fort Wayne has been active since 1939 in all types of commercial real estate lending, including HUD insured multi-family financing, as well as short term construction loans. Fort Wayne also has offices in Denver and Phoenix.

E. R. EVERETT

Everett brings to his new position more than 18 years experience in the mortgage and real estate business. A graduate of Southeastern High School, Detroit, Everett holds a BA degree with a major in Real Estate from Detroit Institute of Technology. In addition to being a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, he holds the SREA designation of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers and is currently president of the Greater Detroit Chapter No. 13 of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers.

Everett lives in Novi, with his wife and three children.

LAMBROS KITRAKIS has recently purchased JJ's Restaurant located at 126 East Main Street in Northville.

The new owner will feature Coney Islands plus all types of sandwiches and specials of the day.

For the past 10 years, Kitrakis has operated a restaurant in Detroit.

Brighton to London Planned by Club

Once again this area will be a part of tradition that is followed in England.

About one year ago, Brighton, England and Brighton, Michigan had an exchange, with John Henry of BBC Brighton coming here for a visit, so he could convey the story back to England and his radio station.

Now, the Oldsmobile Club of America is making plans for holding a Brighton-London Run, modeled after a similar run held in England.

About 100 antique cars are expected to enter the event in May 1973, primarily old Oldsmobiles. The car buffs will spend a weekend motoring from Brighton, Michigan to London, Ontario. Plans are being made with John Elliott, executive director of the Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce

Offer Large Type Books

The demand for large print books has grown at the Washtenaw County Library, which was recently designated as a subregional library for the blind and physically handicapped in Washtenaw and Livingston Counties.

According to Ruthe L. Marshall, Community Services librarian, the library's collection of the large print books includes more than 700 titles.

OMER K. SONBAY, M.D. (internal medicine) will open his office December 4 at 455 Park Place—formerly the office of Dr. Handorff.

Dr. Sonbay has been director of the medical-surgical division at Northville State Hospital for the past 7½ years. His subspecialty is in cardiology. Member of the Annapolis Hospital staff, he soon will join the staff at St. Mary Hospital.

Born and raised in Turkey, he was graduated from Ankara Medical School, coming to the United States in 1955 for two years of internship at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing.

Two years of residency in internal medicine were spent at Maumee Valley Hospital in Toledo, and his third year of residency was at Montefiore Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He also spent a year at the University of Buffalo on a cardiac fellowship.

Dr. Sonbay lives in Farmington with his wife, Evelyn, and their six children, ages two to 13 years.

A COMBINATION beauty shop and interior decorating boutique has opened its doors for business in the Novi Plaza shopping center at the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads.

A champagne-Open House Sunday marked the official opening of the new business.

David Dunning is manager and chief stylist at "Mr. Joseph's Coiffeurs," the beauty shop portion of the operation. Other stylists are Jan Hay and Carol Geer. The shop opens at 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday for early hour appointments and will be open late Thursday and Friday evenings for later appointments.

"The Golden Tree" is the name of the interior decorating boutique. According to Mary Louise Chisholm, decorating consultant, the shop contains gifts, jewelry, and decorative soaps and candles, as well as home accessories.

Members of the sales staff include Gina Carroll, Susan Sales, Fay Peilecha, and Che-Che Minek.

The store will ordinarily be open from 10 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday with the exception of Thursday and Friday when it will remain open until 9 p.m.

During the Christmas season, however, special hours will be observed. The 9 p.m. closing time will be extended to include Saturdays and the store will be open from 1-6 p.m. every Sunday.

Featured will be a register in which women may indicate gift ideas. To be announced are the dates of a Sunday afternoon when the store will be open to just children and a Saturday evening when men only will be allowed to shop.

CALLAN REAL ESTATE of Milford has opened a branch office in Parshallville, the site of the Historical Tom Walker's Grist Mill, located in a rustic setting reminiscent of the 1900's just west and north of U.S. 23 and Clyde Road.

Parshallville is rapidly becoming a second "Franklin Village", attracting several thousand visitors a week to its grist mill. Although the mill itself is the main attraction, there is also a country store, a gift shop and an antique shop.

The popularity of the mill has resulted in a great interest and growth in this area which Tom Callan, Sr., a long-time Milford resident, feels has created a need for full-service real estate programming.

The Callan Corporation is a member of the Michigan Real Estate Association; the United Northwestern Realty Association, Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors; and the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Services offered include listing and sale of properties with multi-list service which brings any house or land offered for sale to the immediate attention of 2,200 real estate sales personnel.

Assistance is also offered in the plating of land, investment, management, appraisal, developing and other aspects of real estate programming.

Robert Foley, corporation secretary-treasurer and Associate broker, has named George Killackey manager of the Parshallville office.
