

'73 Community, School Needs Spotlited

Ollendorff Hopes For Unification

By FRANK OLLENDORFF
Northville City Manager

FRANK OLLENDORFF

The future of the Northville Community is assured if we learn the lesson of our history. Northville has remained great because our citizens have always foreseen new needs and promptly formulated solutions. Northville's leaders have for decades rejected the advice of those few opposed to change and have thereby maintained our excellence.

1973 should be the year we finally meet the needs of our senior citizens for good housing they can afford. This is the year we must plan a library adequate for the community. We have to obtain many acres of woodlands, hills and open spaces now if they are not to become lost to the developers anxious to cash in on Northville. Our planners should continue to resist the erosion of our zoning through an over-abundance of high density residential development. We must recognize recreational needs ranging from outdoor swimming to ice skating. Continued redevelopment of the Central Business District is essential to maintain a balanced tax base in the heart of our community.

A large majority of the citizens of Northville recognize the needs listed above as well as many others. I am convinced most residents will not be deterred from positive action by the few who tell us to look backwards and ignore these needs, believing that they will magically disappear or be solved by others.

One essential ingredient for success remains. In addition to our demonstrated ability to recognize problems and willingness to work on solutions, our local government must be organized in a manner that allows effective action.

We must compare with successful private businesses. A company can have the vision to recognize consumer demands and the progressive

Bond Issue Tops School Program

By RAYMOND SPEAR
Northville School Superintendent

RAYMOND SPEAR

The Northville School District faces many challenges during the coming year. Many of these will be resolved unnoticeably because of their routine nature; however, there are some which will require public knowledge and involvement in order to facilitate decision-making in accordance with the best interests of the community.

The major task which faces us in 1973 is the bringing together of the efforts and energies of the citizens and staff of the Northville Public Schools to pass a multimillion-dollar bond issue at the annual school election in June, 1973. This bond issue will be designed to provide two (2) new elementary schools and a new middle school, to assist in meeting the needs of our school enrollment which is growing at a rate of 300 to 500 new students each year and requires the need for 10 to 15 new classrooms annually.

During the next several months, we will also be working on these significant projects:

1. Completion of educational specifications for Northville's second high school, which will be needed (enrollment-wise) by September, 1974, but most likely cannot be ready before 1976.

2. Further working experiences with parents, students and teachers as regards the community's continued involvement with the Year-Round School Concept. This project becomes increasingly important because of its potential assistance in meeting our rapidly expanding student enrollment.

3. Additional work and planning remains to be completed as the School District readies itself to meet the Mandatory Special Education Act (Public Act 198), which has expanded special education requirements in scope and student age eligibility (age 0-25). The Act becomes effective July 1, 1973.

4. The matter of student enrollment will also get careful consideration in the next few months, in that current enrollment projections suggest that both our middle school and high school will reach maximum student capacity in September, 1973.

The fact that a new middle school cannot be ready before 1975 and a new high school before 1976 makes it

Area Lumber Prices Skyrocket

WHAT'S IN A NAME—It's still called a 2 x 4 but the 2 x 4 selected for a customer by Roy Banks is something else. U.S. Lumber dimensions have changed, and the 2 x 4 that used to be 1 5/8 x 3 5/8 inches is now 1 1/2 x 3 1/2.

Blame Nailed On Government

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Lumber really isn't shrinking.

It just looks that way because while prices have been skyrocketing, lumber dimensions have been growing smaller.

"I'd nail together a pine box for those responsible if the wood wasn't so expensive," asserts Bud Dye, manager of Northville Lumber Company, one of the community's oldest businesses.

He and others in his industry point the finger of responsibility at the federal government.

The government, they charge, is largely responsible for not only inflated lumber costs but also for the recent changes in lumber dimensions.

Take a standard 2 x 4, for example. It used to measure 1 5/8 x 3 5/8. Now it's 1 1/2 x 3 1/2. But it's still called a 2 x 4.

The old 8 x 12 used to be 7 1/2 x 11 1/2. Now it's 7 1/4 x 11 1/4.

Ostensibly, the reduced lumber dimensions was an ecological move to conserve United States timber, explains Professor Glenn P. Bruno of the University of Michigan.

"I think it's a good thing," he told this newspaper, noting that the reduced size takes into account wood shrinkage whereas under the former measurements it was not considered "so sizes varied substantially."

Yet, according to a spokesman for the retail lumber industry, who asked not to be identified, "some mills are still cutting lumber at the old dimensions, letting it dry, then shaving off the excess and using it for particle board, a pressed wood product."

"They're making more profit, the consumer is getting less for his money, and no forests are being saved."

The real irony of these reduced dimensions, area lumber dealers agree, is that despite smaller sizes the lumber costs continue to increase. And, they add, at an alarming rate.

"Retailers," they contend, "are caught in the middle of a price squeeze that really hurts us as much as it does the consumer."

To illustrate what has happened to lumber costs in just a single year, Dye points to a 12-inch wide rough sawn cedar board. A year ago it was selling for 21 cents a foot. Today the retailer is paying 42 cents a foot.

A wide number of causes are given for the "drastic increase" in lumber, but area retailers all agree that the chief responsibility lies at the doorstep of the federal government.

"It's a complicated mess," agrees Professor Bruno, "but I haven't made up my mind about where the real responsibility belongs."

Not so with Dye; Bob Priestap, manager of New Hudson Lumber, Bill Graves, Program Breaks Barriers

By SALLY BURKE

Everyone, some time during life, has faced a barrier he must get over or around.

Helping students overcome barriers in reading and math is the goal of the learning disabilities center at Amerman Elementary School.

Operated in conjunction with the experimental year round school program at Amerman, the center is run by Mrs. Joanne Colligan.

Twenty-eight students in grades kindergarten through five are working with the learning center.

"There is no real reason why the students should not be working at grade level," Mrs. Colligan said. "What we've found through testing is that these students are not achieving up to their full potential and our job is to help them reach that potential."

The students may not have picked up certain skills in past school years, may have missed isolated areas of a skill or may not have grasped reading, Mrs. Colligan explained.

"Most of the problems center around reading and math," she added.

Basis for the learning barriers also may be connected with emotional problems, audio or visual perception, listening or getting work done.

The barriers do not necessarily mean the students are not able to learn, Miss Florence Panattoni, director of instruction, emphasized. "Many of the students are college-bound. Finding the barrier, determining how to deal with it and enabling the

Prizes Await

First Baby

Born in '73

Prizes from a dozen different sponsoring merchants await the arrival of 1973's first baby born to parents living in Northville, Novi or Wixom.

Going into the 17th year of the annual first Baby Contest, co-sponsored by the Northville Record-Now News and cooperating merchants, boys are tied with the girls, 8 to 8.

It was Derek John Lauber, son of Northville's swim coach, who a year ago streaked in first, giving the boys a tie.

The 7 pound, 1 ounce baby was born to Mrs. Lauber at 7:24 a.m. Monday, January 3, 1972 at St. Mary Hospital.

He assumed the first baby title previously held by Sarah Alice Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Carter of Northville Township. Sarah Alice weighed in at 9 pounds, 12 ounces at 6:15 a.m. January 4, 1971.

NEWS BRIEFS

BUILDING AUTHORITY for Northville township becomes effective January 1. While the authority possesses broad powers to acquire property, build structures and lease them to the township, the township board must approve of the authority's projects. Currently, the township is considering a proposed $500,000 township hall-police-fire station complex.

ON THE BASIS of a second appraisal, the city council voted in special session Saturday to make a formal offer to purchase the Melvin W. Miner property, 217 South Wing Street, at the negotiated price of $26,450. Second appraisal of the property was put at $26,500. With Councilman Kenneth Rathert absent, the four other members of the council cast affirmative votes. The property is earmarked for parking along with other property south of Cady between Main and Wing streets.

MANY tax notices to property owners in the Oakland County section of Northville were hand-delivered this past weekend as a result of a computer-tax form mix-up at the county level. When tax forms were delivered to the city two weeks ago they contained the wrong information for the second time and were re-ordered. By Saturday the new forms had not yet arrived so City Manager Frank Ollendorff had corrected forms printed locally and hand-delivered many of them late Saturday so that taxpayers could, if they wished, pay their bills before the start of the new year.

BECAUSE of the New Year's holiday, the January 1 meeting of the Northville City Council has been changed to Tuesday, January 2, and the City Planning Commission, which normally meets Tuesday, will meet on Wednesday, January 3, instead.

Houck-Hill Vows Solemnized Here

Holiday touches of red and white poinsettias and bridesmaids' gowns of forest green and white velveteen were chosen by Mary Susan Houck for her marriage December 15 to Michael Daley Hill

The 7:30 p.m. ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville was followed by a week-long wedding trip to Jamaica.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Russell Houck, 48825 West Eight Mile Road, and the son of Mrs. Rachael Hill of Northville and Clifton Hill of Farmington.

During the ceremony, Nat Sibbold of Milford sang "I Love Three" and "For All We Know".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional gown of off-white velveteen with an overblouse of white medallion Venetian lace. Her mantilla was made of the same Venetian lace and she carried white poinsettias.

As Maid of Honor, Kathleen Quinn of Plymouth wore a dress of forest green velveteen with a pleated front panel and she carried a bouquet of holly. Cynthia Haynes of Northville, Beverly Caliguiri of Detroit, and Carolyn Dunchock of Northville were bridesmaids in gowns of white velveteen with forest green trim. All carried red poinsettia

Serving as best man was Mark Hessee of Northville and assisting as ushers were James Zayti of Northville, Kerry Luedtke of Plymouth and David Houck of Northville.

A reception for 160 wedding guests was held at the Thunderbird Hilton in Plymouth following the ceremony. Out of town guests were present from Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Georgia.

The bride attended Ferris State College and Eastern Michigan University and is presently employed by Allied Foods of Detroit. Her husband attended West Palm Beach Junior College, Ferris State College and is now attending Eastern Michigan.

Since their return from Jamaica, the new Mr. and Mrs. Michael Daley Hill have been at home in Dearborn.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

FAITHFUL churchgoers have an extra Sunday in most area churches to enjoy the decorations of the season as they remain in place until after New Year's.

New in the sanctuary of Northville First Presbyterian Church are colorful banners of felt created by the Mariners, a new couples group in the church.

"King of Kings" is the lettering reminder on one; the other reads "Gloria" with three golden trumpets. They replace the large green wreaths of former years. The project of making them was under the direction of Mrs. Robert Stickland. She borrowed the designs from the First United Methodist Church of Jackson, Michigan, her former church.

Originally, she believes, they were copied from an illustration in a Christian magazine. Although modern in lettering, the concept of banners harkens back to medieval days.

The traditional Williamsburg tree, white candles and greens decorate other areas.

A new tradition was begun in Northville Presbyterian Church this year as a boxwood advent wreath with purple, pink and white candles was lighted each Sunday at the altar. It was created and given by Mrs. Robert Fair.

BETHLEHEM'S skyline framed in greens is part of the new decorations at the baptistery of Northville Baptist Church. On black back-draping are the words "Born to Die" in silver letters. There is a six-pointed star also.

On a table in front of the platform, the Reverend Cedric Whitcomb's wife designed an arch shape and a candle display of different heights. The table with the open Bible has a red cloth and big poinsettia plant. The traditional Christmas tree is at the back of the church.

HAROLD MARKS, a member of Northville First United Methodist Church, waited until the holiday season to cut down a 22-foot evergreen that had grown too close to his home. It has decorated the two-story stair well of the church during Christmas.

Roped greens are twined on pillars and a large wreath decorates the front of the church. At the front of the church room is a display of poinsettias. Both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches for many years have had mitten trees. Cass Community Methodist Church in inner Detroit will receive the gifts from the latter while mittens on the Presbyterian tree are shared by children in Appalachia and the Detroit inner city.

AT ST. PAUL'S Lutheran Church an 18-foot Douglas fir tree was decorated just in time for Christmas Eve with 1,000 tiny Italian lights and handmade Chrismon symbols in gold and white. Carrying out the theme were gold and white wreaths. Decorating was under the direction of Fred Sarnes. He and Wayne Loontjer have made Christmas banners depicting hymns to hang in the sanctuary.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY'S decorations follow the story of Christmas with manger scenes outdoors and in the front of the church inside staying up until January 5 when the three wise men arrive.

Mrs. Dale Richmond, who is in charge of decorating, says that this year after the last Mass December 24 the advent wreath will be changed to all-white symbolizing purity and then will be lighted at midnight Mass with all the other Christmas lights of the church. Poinsettias, greens and trees also decorate the church.

IN THE GIVING spirit, pupils of Miss Ada Fritz donated $20 to help others rather than have a gift exchange at school. The fifth graders at Main Street School held a party in their room and collected the money. They are deciding upon the beneficiary, Miss Fritz says, and it probably will be divided between inner city children and the Michigan Indians.

LOOKING AHEAD, Julie Hammond Enright, 1107 Cold Spring, Neenah, Wisconsin, 54956, is asking Record readers to send her any information about members of the Northville High School Class of 1954 so that she can plan for the 20th year reunion.

She especially would like addresses of those no longer living here, plus names of girls who have married and any lists from the reunion held in 1964.

A DAR BENEFIT TEA will be one of the first special dates to list on 1973 calendars next week.

On February 8 Mrs. G. S. McPeak, instructor at Greenfield Village, will demonstrate bobbin lace making at the tea to be held at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Road in Plymouth.

Other demonstrations will include weaving of tapes on a table inkle loom by Mrs. Volney Jones and netting and fringe making by Mrs. Richard Reichard, macrame instructor at Greenfield Village. Mrs. Gerald White of the embroiderer's Guild of Michigan will display and demonstrate needlepoint, bargello, English crewel and stump embroidery.

Tea and cakes will be served by DAR members. The event, Mrs. F. Donald Sober, general chairman for Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, notes, will benefit the nursing scholarship fund of St. John's School for Indian girls in South Dakota. Tickets at $1 will be available after January 1 from Mrs. Thomas Lovett, ticket chairman, 349-4717.

'Everything Sold Well'

Christmas Shoppers Swamp Local Stores

By MARTHA ROEMER

A random survey of Northville merchants indicates that Christmas time business in the city has been booming. To know that, all you had to do was try to navigate through some of the stores on a crowded day or evening between Thanksgiving and Christmas Day.

The basic comments from most of the store owners or managers was similar to that of Lila's Four Seasons who said, "We've had no trouble selling in any direction whatsoever."

Some of the other stores were able to single out a few items which went a little faster and perhaps in larger quantities than other items.

"Boots," said Diana Black of Del's Shoes, "have gone very well for both women and men." She explained that men were buying fashion boots for their wives as gifts.

"And of course, we sell a lot of slippers at this time of year. The men seem to buy the more feminine kind and some people buy the big fuzzy slippers as gifts."

According to Miss Black, another big seller for Christmas gifts were men's fleece-lined boots. She added that at Christmastime, patent leather shoes for little girls are popular almost every year, and this year was no exception.

Don Stenfeld of Summit Gifts said "We've sold about a ton of Hallmark party goods and gift wrap, but I'd have to say that the biggest sellers were the jewelry and figurines."

He added that he began the Christmas selling season with a "pretty good stock" and had to re-order jewelry at least three times and that the Hummels were the best selling figurines at Summit.

In men's clothing this year, the word was knits. Although the quantity of knit shirts has not surpassed the number of regular cotton shirts, more of the knit variety were sold this year in Northville than last year.

"The prime interest to the buyers here," said Charles Freydl, "is polyester knits in shirts and trousers."

According to Lottie Gellerman, the men who were buying gifts for wives and girlfriends at Brader's seemed to lean toward long robes, long skirts and slacks with blazers to match. "Of course," she added, "there are always husbands who buy the lingerie items for their wives."

Antique jewelry was the biggest seller at Jonathan Jewelers in town. "I've only had it for two or three weeks and I've had to re-order three times. They're just snatching it up," said Mrs. Linda Boatwright.

She said that her store was also selling a lot of watches and pierced earrings, but the antique pieces were selling to everyone.

"I'm going to try to carry it all the time now," she said. "I think the pieces have sold so well, because they look so old and aren't priced too high. They seem to be selling a lot as last minute things."

There was one hot selling item that puzzled several merchants. That was a run on men's flannel shirts. "I finally found out what it was," said Jim Belz of the D & C Variety Store. "It's a fad with the high school kids. I was out of the shirts in November."

Almost every item in Long's Bath Boutique sold very well. The hostess soaps, shampoos and bath-oils as well as the decorated Christmas soaps were big sellers as gifts and stocking stuffers.

Husbands were also buying Dishmashers at Long's to put under the Christmas tree for their wives.

In the children's toy line carried at the D & C store, store manager Beltz said that it was the television advertised items which sold the fastest and in the largest quantities.

According to Mrs. Clara Farmer of The Little People's Shoppe, stuffed animals were bought in great quantities this year for gifts.

In clothes, Mrs. Farmer said the handcrafted items that she sells, such as crocheted and knitted, hats, scarves and mittens are popular for gift giving.

"At this time of year," she said, "ski and snowmobile wear sell big."

Of course, she added dressy clothes are purchased for children at Christmastime. Long dresses seem to be the vogue for little girls and dressy velveteen suits for boys.

It would appear that uni-sex clothing has reached the tots, since Mrs. Farmer said many of her slack suit outfits were bought for both boys and girls.

HOLIDAY SHOPPERS—A multitude of gift givers turned out in Northville stores during the Christmas shopping season. Crowded scenes like this one were common throughout the Northville business district. Items like jewelry, pictured in the foreground, were among the fastest selling gifts this year.

Holiday Recipes

Buffet Favorites

Entertaining for New Year's? If so, here are two recipes you might find an interesting compliment to a buffet or potluck table.

HOT BEAN SALAD

- 1 can dark kidney beans
- 1 can green lima beans
- 2 cans butter beans
- 1 can Boston baked beans
- 8 slices bacon

Drain all but Boston baked beans and combine in a casserole. Fry the bacon and crumble in with the beans.

For sauce, combine and cook, covered for 20 minutes:

- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 tsp powdered mustard
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 tsp garlic powder
- 4 large onions, chopped

Pour the sauce over the beans and bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

The hors d'oeuvre table isn't complete without a touch of cheese, so this cheese ball may be just the right touch to go with crackers for partying or for family snacks.

CHEESE BALL

- 1-8 oz package mild cheddar cheese
- 1 roll of hickory smoked cheese
- 1-8 oz package of cream cheese
- 2 Tbsp chopped olives
- 2 Tbsp chopped onions

Blend all cheeses together in a blender or a bowl, then mix in olives and onion. Form a ball and roll in chopped walnuts or almonds.

Kriewall Sees '73 as Critical Year

By PHILLIP JEROME

"Ten years from now," says Edward Kriewall, Novi's Acting City Manager, "you won't even recognize Novi."

"If we get the regional shopping center it will be built, the city will be criss-crossed with major expressways, all the mile roads will be paved, Novi and Ten Mile Roads will be four-lane highways, and there will be a high-rise office and apartment building in both the Walled Lake and 12 Mile Road area."

The groundwork for much of this will be laid in the year ahead.

"What we do in 1973," says Kriewall, "will affect Novi forever. Our destiny will probably be carved in the next couple of years and 1973 is going to be critical."

The coming year will see the beginning of several new residential and commercial developments. It will hear the decision of the Dayton-Hudson Corporation as to whether Novi will be the site of its regional shopping center - the most important decision that may ever face Novi, according to Kriewall. And it will see an election in which not only three positions on the city council will open up, but also the position of mayor will be subject to change.

Kriewall has been city manager since October when he was named to succeed George Athas on a temporary basis. But his relationship with the city goes back several years. He has served as DPW head and as Athas' administrative assistant.

He may not be city manager by the time 1973 is over. The council is currently seeking candidates for the full-time city manager's job. One application they have received is from Kriewall, but so far more than 50 other candidates have filed for the job of leading Novi through the critical period which could see the city become one of the nation's major growth areas.

Kriewall's comments on the upcoming year and what it has in store follow.

TAXES. There is little doubt, according to Kriewall, that Novi residents will be faced with higher taxes in 1973.

This increase, he feels, will be generated not from an increase in the city's millage rate (6.5 mills), but by an increase in the city's spiralling property values.

"Novi is in a dynamic growth situation and tax procedures related to a city in this situation will have to take on dynamic changes," he explains.

"Because of the growth of the city and the demand of Novi land and Novi housing, the city will find itself in a non-static condition as far as assessments are concerned for the next few years."

It is this constant increase in valuation which will direct Novi taxes in the years ahead.

Kriewall also feels that the impact may not be as great on the residential properties as it is on vacant land. "Those properties presently standing vacant," he asserts, "will be subject to a very dynamic increase in land value."

Rejected is the feeling that Novi will have to raise its millage rate. "It'll be touch and go for awhile, particularly in light of the ever-increasing demand from our residents for more and more services," he says.

"There is the hopeful thinking, though, that the growth in valuation could be sufficient to enable us to maintain the present millage for some period of time."

"There is also the feeling," Kriewall admits, "that the 6.5 mills just don't create enough revenue to operate the city."

The test should come in the spring and summer when negotiations with the Novi Police Officers Association begins. Presently, the cost of maintaining the police department comprises approximately 50 percent of the city's overall budget.

"In the past we've had to throw a few things

COMMUNITY SING — The first annual community-wide Christmas carolling party sponsored by the Novi Rotary Club was held last Thursday. Approximately 175 people turned out to hear the concert presented by the Novi High School band directed by Gordon Seiler and the High School choir directed by Mrs. Suzanne Corzon. After the concert, those present enjoyed a luncheon prepared by the wives of the Rotary Club members. Gary Johnson, president of the Novi Rotary, said he was pleased with the turnout for the noontime concert and thought the Rotary would seriously consider sponsoring the event again next year.

Expect Legal Action On Taft Road Paving

For the second time in as many years, the Novi city council will attempt to establish a special assessment district to finance the paving of Taft Road when it holds a public hearing next week. The hearing is slated to get underway Wednesday, January 3, at 8 p.m. in the Novi High School Commons. There is every indication that the meeting will be a heated one.

It was almost exactly one year ago that the Novi council set out on its first attempt to establish a special assessment district to pay for the paving of Taft Road between 10 Mile and Grand River.

This latest attempt could well see a major rift develop between Councilman Donald Young and the other members of the council - a rift that could well have implications in Novi's 1973 mayoral race.

Secondly, there is good reason to believe that the entire issue of the Taft Road assessments will end up in the courts, where not only Taft Road assessments, but the entire special assessment concept, could be on trial.

The initial effort to establish a special assessment district proceeded as far as the fifth of seven resolutions the council must pass before the assessment district can be placed on the tax rolls.

According to the city charter if more than 50 percent of the property owners in a proposed assessment district object to it, the district has to be abandoned unless the council overrides those objections by a five-sevenths margin.

The Taft Road residents presented their petitions, thus requiring the five-sevenths vote of the council, and the council could muster only a four-sevenths majority as Edwin Presnell, Donald Young, and Louie Campbell voted against continuation of the hearings.

In November it was decided to make a second attempt at setting up the assessment district when it was discovered that Presnell and Campbell had successfully resolved their past differences with the program and were prepared to vote to pave the road.

Thus armed with what presently appears to be a six-sevenths majority, the council proceeded to set up Wednesday's public hearing.

Donald Young, however, remains as steadfastly opposed to the assessment as he was originally.

In a position statement released to his fellow councilmen this week, Young charged that their "apparent determination to pave Taft Road at property owner's expense despite their objections would indicate that the majority of the Novi City Council has sunk to the same level of insensitivity, and disregard for the wishes of the public that they are supposed to represent as have our state and federal officials."

"There is little doubt that Young will draw strong rebuttal from the rest of the council."

In many respects, Young has become the spokesman for the property owners along Taft Road as well as those along all mile roads in the city of Novi.

Young agrees that Taft Road should be paved. His opposition is to the amount of the assessment, tentatively set at $14 per front foot.

The necessity to pave Taft Road is created not by the abutting property owners, but by the fact that Novi High School is located at the corner of Taft and Eleven Mile Roads, Young contends.

He therefore feels that inasmuch as the need to pave the road is due to community use, it is the community at large which should bear the cost of financing the paving. To assess the abutting

Kratz Has Major Plans for Novi Schools

By PHILLIP JEROME

Dr. Gerald Kratz was named Novi superintendent of schools last May after serving as an assistant superintendent of instruction and employee relations in Southfield.

While stressing the importance of a slow, smooth, orderly transition, the new Novi head administrator has nevertheless moved steadily forward in promulgating new programs.

His major contribution to date has been the introduction of the community education concept to Novi.

It is hardly his only program, however. He also plans to straighten Novi's gerrymandered school boundaries, to heal the rift between the school board and the city council, and to bring the people of the City of Novi together as a united whole, rather than a conglomeration of subdivisions.

Kratz' opinions and comments on community education, cross-district bussing, and the needs for a new high school, plus his analysis of Novi's mediocre showing on the state assessment test, appear below.

STATE ASSESSMENT TEST. The state of Michigan annually tests the fourth and seventh graders in each school district and then releases its findings. When the results of the 1971 tests were released Novi rated at approximately the fiftieth percentile.

"I don't feel that Novi did particularly well or particularly poorly," said Kratz when asked his analysis of the results. "But then I don't feel that the state's test is measuring what our kids are learning."

The problem with the state-assessment test, he explains, is that as a normalized, standardized test it is designed for a large population of people. It's not designed for one person or any one group of people.

"We would advocate a criterion reference test," he says. "We would like to see the kids tested in September and then again in June. That way you can measure some sort of growth."

Kratz contends that the state assessment test is designed for middle-class white suburbia-type kids. "If you look at the test scores on the state test and the socioeconomic conditions of a community you'll find a high correlation. Where the student comes from and who and what his parents are is the number one determining factor on how high the test scores will be."

"In Novi we do really well in comparison with the inner-city kids, but we don't do as well as the kids in the more affluent communities."

"That's why a criterion reference would be so much superior," he says. "The kids from the more affluent areas might not do as well on such a test. They may already be at an A level when they take the test. But if they are still at an A level when they take the test at the end of the year, they may not be growing much."

Kratz feels that the state, which is presently evaluating its assessment test, may move toward some sort of criterion reference test and that such a change could well come in 1974.

NORTH CENTRAL ACCREDITATION. One of the first objectives pursued by Kratz on becoming superintendent was to gain accreditation for Novi in the North Central Association.

The comprehensive study needed for application to the Association takes most school districts up to two years to compile and yet Kratz hopes to have Novi's application ready in six months.

"The school district has just gone through a University of Michigan accreditation program and we have a voluminous written document as a result," he explains in answer to why he feels Novi can get the work done so quickly.

"It's not like we're starting from scratch. We already have that document — our teachers have spent many hours on it — and it covers subject matter, subject matter philosophy, and the philosophy of the school district which in essence is what North Central requires."

"We'll just add to and improve on what we already have."

The importance of getting the North Central accreditation, says Kratz, is that it will give Novi a better knowledge of what it has and what it still has to do.

"I don't know if we'll be accredited," he says, "but if we're not we'll know what we have to do to get accredited."

"The study will give us a bench mark," he continues. "It will tell us what they consider a quality education for a high school. It will say these are the minimum requirements and I think the people in Novi have a right to know that their secondary education is at least going to be minimal."

"I'm not sure at this point that it is. But I'm also not sure that it isn't."

"It will tell us what we have to do to provide a minimum

Wixom Adopts Rules for Council

A revised version of Robert's Rules of Order was adopted last week as the official rules of the Wixom City Council. The action was made necessary by an amendment to the city charter approved by Wixom voters in the November election.

Discussion of several possible sets of parliamentary procedure rules took place at previous council meetings. City Attorney Gene Schnelz recommended Robert's Rules at the regular council meeting Wednesday, December 20.

Also adopted Wednesday was an order of business to be used for each council meeting. The order, which was recommended by Schnelz and chosen by the council, is the same order the city council has used in the past.

Following the passage of Schnelz' motion, he presented each of the council members and Mayor Gilbert C. Willis with a paperback copy of Robert's Rules of Order as a Christmas gift.

In other action last Wednesday a revised report from the Oakland County Board of Canvassers was received and filed by the council. The revision concerned the confusion over whether or not the city charter amendment proposition to grant severance pay had been passed, the last election.

Although the measure received a majority of the popular vote, the board told City Clerk Jane Buck that it had not passed.

In reporting back to Council, Schnelz said that the word from the canvassers was that "somebody just checked the wrong column."

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

It's unlikely that there's been another year in the history of the Northville community as filled with activity as 1972.

And it's encouraging to note that Northville has taken bold steps in certain problem areas as it seeks to examine alternatives.

How many other communities have done more than talk about the year-round school as a solution to growing educational costs?

How many other governmentally-divided communities have examined firsthand the pros and cons of unification?

Despite criticism that prevailing conditions (whether they be schools, taxes or local government) constantly receive, it is most difficult to depart from the status quo.

Most of us are creatures of habit. We like our old slippers. They're comfortable. New ones might not be.

It's easy to talk about moving to Florida someday. It isn't as easy to do when that day comes.

But Northville is looking at and examining the alternatives. There has been and will continue to be opposition. And this is fine, too, so long as it is not designed to shut off the flow of information.

A new shopping structure, long sought by many community leaders, is now underway inside the existing business district.

Its location is not an accident. City fathers have feared what might happen to Northville's shopping area if a large commercial center were to develop on the outskirts.

Now that the core has been strengthened, the likelihood that it can withstand such competition has been improved.

It now appears a certainty that Northville township will be the site of a major state police complex—a district headquarters, crime laboratory and post. Only final details of the plans must be completed.

This, too, has been a community-planned project. Its presence in the community is certain to play a major role in the future welfare of the area. And its location on state-owned, but unused, land makes the kind of economic sense that's frequently ignored in planning at the higher governmental levels.

There's all kind of evidence that in 1972 our leaders have been concerned about the future welfare of the community and have been doing something about it. This applies to all aspects of our community life including security and well being, as well as economic.

More emphasis is being placed on proper planning with an eye to density; housing for senior citizens is being studied; more responsive round-the-clock ambulance service is being sought; increased fire protection is planned.

And thanks to a handful of clergymen, we're even learning to pray together as well as plan together.

Yes, 1972 has been an unusually productive year.

But the years ahead can be far more so.

It may require that each of us moves slightly off the position of dead center that pleases us most.

But, who knows? Maybe the new slippers will become even more comfortable.

As a parting piece, I'd like to quote Ralph Waldo Emerson who had this to say about each day—or each year, for that matter:

"Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in. Forget them. Tomorrow is a new day. Begin it with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense."

Happy New Year.

1973 Resolutions

"I never make New Year's resolutions. If you make 'em, you just break 'em anyway." — Joe Schmidt, coach of the Detroit Lions.

"I'm resolving to lose 10 pounds during the next 12 months." — Kathy Mulville, freshman at Northville High School.

"Every day a new year begins, a new part of your life begins. Most people are serious about making New Year's resolutions. They help give new meaning and flavor to life." — Pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Northville, the Reverend Lloyd Brasure.

"I am going to do the same thing because last year was a good year" — Joe Czarnecki, South Lyon third grader.

"I will attempt to settle or diminish concerns causing educational uncertainties involving finance, court actions and legislative or local actions so as to get ahead with the real task before us, which is to educate our young people." — Dr. Charles Wolfe, superintendent of Detroit Public Schools.

"We have a lovely place here, and I'm determined to do a better job of getting more of you people down there to come up and visit us in 1973." — Eleanor Toloner, postmaster of Paradise, U.P.

"We've resolved never to let any more con artists invade our territory. Keeping order here is hot enough without crooks fanning the flames." — Al Culp, president of Hell Chamber of Commerce.

"I swore off personal resolutions a long time ago but professionally I would like to reaffirm the policies which guide our department and post, the most important one which is service to the people." — Lieutenant Christian Walters, Brighton State Police Post commander.

"I'm resolving in 1973 to use all of the energy available to me to fight forced busing." — Irene McCabe.

"I was thinking of giving up smoking, but then I decided that I enjoy it too much. Besides, I generally break New Year's resolutions right away, anyway." — Livingston County Circuit Court Judge Paul R. Mahinske

To the Editor:

Kudos to Norm Norgren's assessment of a Viet Nam Peace Pact in speaking for myself "President" Thieu has demonstrated that he cannot be a credible partner in any peace settlement. Why? For a guy who frequently bangs his head just getting through a car door, the idea of this reporter flitting around the sky on a jet propelled platform is staggering.

But reporters flying to and from assignments is "an absolutely real possibility," insists Dave Jolivet of Williams Research Corporation, the Walled Lake firm under contract to build and demonstrate the feasibility of a flying platform for the United States Navy.

Shades of Clark Kent!

Initial flight testing of the platform, called the WASP, is scheduled for next spring in this area.

"I'm very serious," said Dave when I started smiling, "someday you'll park a flying platform in your garage right alongside the family car."

And when you think of it, is it really so unreal? How many of the gadgets used by our old friend, Buck Rogers, are pretty common today? Quite a few.

Readers will recall it was Williams Research that developed the fanjet engine for the Jet Flying Belt that had a series of successful flights in 1969. The Jet Flying Belt followed development of the Bell Rocket Belt. It had a flight duration of only 22 seconds, which meant the pilot had to get in his flying time pretty fast.

The WASP, on the other hand, is a lot more sophisticated; it is designed to take off vertically and ultimately enable a man or woman to fly for 20 to 30 minutes at speeds over 60 miles per hour.

It will be able to accelerate rapidly, move forward, backward, sideways, hover and rotate on its axes.

It will be powered by the world's smallest fanjet engine, a specialty of Williams, designed to provide enough power for a two-man capacity.

"The WASP," explained Dave, "is the third phase of our flight program, following the rocket and jet belts. We're not ready yet to release the configurations, but it looks a good deal like those photos we sent you sometime back."

Imagine, if you will, a platform resting on three legs, about 18-inches off the ground. A pedestal juts out of the platform arm-pit high; it contains the controls and the "handles" the flyer holds in flight.

The operator will be able to fly with one hand, freeing the other hand for taking notes. The design allows for additional fuel to increase engine performance.

According to Dave, the Navy is interested in using the platform for the Marine Corps as a transport device for men in front line units. Because it travels above the ground, the WASP is unaffected by road traffic, jungle canopy, swamps, mountains, cliffs, minefields or buildings.

"Of course we see it first of all as a military transport vehicle," he said. "But down the road, perhaps in three years, it could be used by law enforcement agencies. Possibly in 10 years it could be used by the general public, having a price of a luxury automobile."

"One of the first civilian uses will be for newsmen, and for businessmen traveling to and from work."

Housewives may use them for shopping.

Of course by that time the platform probably will matters seem to have taken priority until now.

Specifically, I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation in behalf of the children, parents and Board of Education of the Northville Public Schools for the cooperation and assistance you provided in effecting the installation of a cyclone fence adjacent to the viaduct on Novi Road just south of Allen Drive in the City of Northville.

The installation of this fence assures parents in our community that there should not be a recurrence of an accident similar to that of April 26, 1972, which took the life of an eight-year-old Northville boy.

Although this action cannot serve as a guarantee to parents, it certainly demonstrates the sincere interest of the Oakland County Road Commission and the City of Northville in the health and well-being of the citizens of our community.

May I extend my personal thanks to you and your staff for assisting in the accomplishment of the above-cited task.

Sincerely
Raymond E. Spear

Police-Court Blotter Ollendorff... Prices Skyrocket

In Northville

Armed robbery of a 33-year-old Milford man is under investigation by detectives this week.

Ronald A. Hiney told police he was robbed by five or six men shortly before midnight Thursday while he was leaving Northville Downs' parking lot.

He said they approached him while he was in his truck, identified themselves as Northville police officers and opened the door of the vehicle.

Hiney said they tore his pants' pocket, taking $542 and they keys to the truck. He said that while he did not see a gun, they stated they would kill him if he did not lie down on the front seat.

The men fled in a late model yellow car. All were reported to be in their 20's or 30's.

A Northville woman was hospitalized Monday night after the car in which she was a passenger was struck by another car on South Main Street and Seven Mile Road. The accident took place at 8:10 p.m.

Treated at St. Mary hospital for cuts and bruises was Mrs. Mary F. Phillips of 4 Hillcrest. She was a passenger in a car driven by Lloyd T. Phillips.

According to police reports, the Phillips car was northbound on South Main. A car driven by Margaret Koenig of Royal Oak went through a stop sign on eastbound Seven Mile at Main, crossed southbound Main and went through a yield sign, striking the northbound Phillips car.

Mrs. Koenig was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

Two thefts are being investigated by police this week.

Marathon Gas Station at 480 West Seven Mile Road reported $150 taken from a cabinet between December 19 and 20.

A voltage meter, valued at $100 was stolen from the shop area at Northville High School between December 20 and 21.

COURTNEWS

Following a hearing last Thursday, three men have been bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court to face charges of kidnapping, court officials reported.

Scheduled to appear in circuit court January 8 are Jack Allen, James R. Ireland, both of Detroit, and Philip A. Phillips of 660 Horton Street.

The three were charged by city police November 1 with kidnapping a 22-year-old Downriver area man, court officials said.

The hearing was held before 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis.

In Wixom

The Christmas weekend proved to be no holiday for the Wixom Police Department, as its members responded to 25 calls for assistance and made six arrests over the three-day period.

Two sixteen year old juveniles - one from Walled Lake and the other from Wolverine Lake - were arrested last week in conjunction with the theft of a battery from an automobile.

The arrests were made at approximately 9:30 p.m. December 22.

The two were apprehended after an officer observed their car parked alongside the road and stopped to investigate. According to the officer's report, the two youths told him their battery was dead.

The officer, however, observed the battery cable was not attached, saw a second battery in the backseat of their vehicle, and spotted two sets of fresh footprints leading across the field that leads to the rear of the Watkins Garage.

When the officer told the pair he did not believe their story, they admitted to the theft, according to his report. The pair were taken to the Wixom Police Department and subsequently released to their parents.

Kenneth Bruce Emmer, a 20 year old Southfield man, was arrested last week on charges of larceny from a building.

Emmers reportedly entered the Ford Motor Company plant on Wixom Road and was attempting to leave with a battery when he was stopped.

A breaking and entering of the construction yard at the Toebe Construction Company December 24 netted thieves two tires and two wheels.

Estimated value of the stolen items was set at $370.

The thieves gained entry to the yard by breaking through the front gate.

Ronald Fuller, a Detroit resident, reported that an eight-track tape player and 22 stereo tapes had been stolen from his vehicle while it was parked in the Ford Motor Company employee's parking lot.

The theft occurred between 5:30 p.m. Monday, December 18 and 4 a.m. the following morning.

Value of the items was estimated at $265.

The VFW Hall on Loon Lake Road was broken and entered early in the morning Friday, December 22.

Taken were several cartons of cigarettes and an unknown quantity of money from the cash register.

Rourke received a Marksman rating on his firearms exam and earned a grade of 100 percent on his written test.

In Novi

A cache of Christmas presents was discovered and stolen from a Novi residence during a breaking and entering last week.

Police reported that the stolen items - all gifts intended for the family's children - were taken from a residence at 48150 Grand River sometime between December 22 and December 24.

Included were dolls, radios, race track sets, hats and scarves, and a quantity of clothing. Value of the stolen goods was estimated at $300.

Five hundred dollars worth of rifles were stolen from a residence at 27190 Meadowbrook Road last week.

The thieves apparently used an ax found in the garage to pry open the door to the residence, police reported. The theft occurred between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. December 20.

The Teapot Mystery!

Downs' officials are puzzled by the mysterious disappearance of a Christmas present from the private office of John Carlo, executive manager, last Saturday.

A large, Oriental teapot, purchased by Mrs. Leon Slavin for her daughter, had been placed in Carlo's office, unwrapped, at 10:30 a.m. By 1:30 p.m. it was missing.

Mrs. Slavin whose husband heads up the Jackson harness meets held at Northville, had purchased the unusual pottery piece for possible conversion into a lamp. It was valued at $150.

thinking to engage in new enterprises, but it will most certainly fail unless proper internal organization exists. So with our local government, we must insure that we are not deterred from our goals by an outdated organization structure.

One would not tell two architects to design half a plant each: neither should local government structures force us to have two planning commissions each develop half of our community. Two managers for one plant would not be appointed by private industry: neither should the Northville Community hire duplicate officials to accomplish the same work. A manufacturer would not construct two small plants side by side: neither should we build two water systems, two sewer systems, two police stations, two City Halls, two Public Works yards.

We must, like any successful enterprise, reform our government so that we can continue Northville's historic excellence. No company would survive for long without up-dating its organization chart as product lines, consumer demands, and production techniques change. Neither will local government meet its consumer demands with outdated delivery systems.

Historically we in Northville have adapted to changing times. In 1973 we will have the opportunity to give our excellent City and Township elected officials the organizational tools to meet the challenges.

necessary to plan on meeting tight scheduling beginning with the coming school year.

5. Certainly of concern as we prepare to meet our overall program needs is the matter of "money." Increasing enrollment requiring increased staff and supplies, personnel salary increases and increased cost of supplies and materials create a continued burden on the taxpayer to meet an ever-increasing budget.

The question of whether an S. E. V. increase coupled with State School Aid will provide the necessary additional funds is unknown at this writing. Also unknown is the whole matter of financing education in Michigan. We must remain flexible and ready to meet the financing of our schools by whatever means are ultimately made available to us.

Although there are many other important tasks which will face us in the next several months, the preceding are of major consequence and must receive full consideration in order that we are able to truly meet the needs and wishes of our community.

The Northville Public Schools continue to maintain high standards of education, broad program offerings and effective school-community relations. Taking the appropriate steps necessary to maintain our education excellence, while at the same time effectively meeting the seemingly explosiveness of our 1973 demands, can only be accomplished through the cooperation and assistance of all members of our school community.

Novi Jayvee Five Splits Two Games

With back-to-back games Tuesday and Wednesday last week, the Novi Jayvees had a busier schedule than the Detroit Pistons.

The junior Wildcats made out slightly better than the Pistons, however, as they cameback from a 66-46 defeat at Chelsea Tuesday to salvage a split by downing Fowlerville 62-50 Wednesday.

Novi outscored Fowlerville 17-16 in the first quarter of their Wednesday night game and then added to that lead in every quarter in pulling away to victory.

With Gary Ford and Mike Collins providing most of the scoring, Novi held a 30-27 halftime lead. Pat McAllen joined Ford and Collins in spearheading the Novi attack in the third quarter as the manager of Farmington Lumber Company; and Curtis Willer, manager of Timberlane Lumber of Novi.

They make these observations:

- Price controls are non-existent at the "stumpage level", that is at the point where raw timber is sold.
- Fifty-to-60 percent of the nation's timber is owned by the federal government, which insists on open bidding (timber sale without any ceiling on prices).

- Concerned with the balance of trade, the government turns to its timber resources as the logical commodity for balancing trade, despite the domestic lumber shortage.
- Foreign markets compete with domestic buyers in the U. S. government's open bidding process.

- Foreign exports, encouraged by the U. S. government, further diminishes the domestic supply of lumber, thus driving costs still higher.
- The government is pushing new housing starts with support of home-building and mortgage lending, and this, too, drives up the United States demand for lumber.

- In its efforts to control pricing, the government keeps a keen eye on the major mills while forgetting the smaller mills that, in some cases, are flaunting price controls.

- Canada is importing a far greater amount of logs from the United States and then, because there is a big U. S. demand, is in some instances reselling the same logs back to the U. S. mills at an inflated price.
- There is no price limitation on what Canada may charge United States customers.

- Ecology organizations have managed to get court injunctions against use of thousands of acres of timber, thus drying up part of the supply.

While some retailers are reluctant to place all of the blame on the government, Graves makes the angry assertion that "98-percent of the fault belongs there."

"Sure we may get hooked by a few unscrupulous jobbers on the west coast, but when the government owns 50-percent of the timber and sells it for the top dollar they're much more guilty," he declares.

The government, says Priestap, "is so wrapped up in watching the big mills it ignores some of the little mills that are really gouging us."

Willer sees three major reasons, aside from the stumpage price problems, for the increases:

Home construction is up, so there's a greater demand, the government is exporting more lumber, creating still more shortage; and ecological groups like the Sierra Club have tied up important sources that are no longer available for lumbering, he points out.

Willer also suggests that some blackmarketing is occurring right under the government's nose.

Some wholesalers out to make a buck manage to stay within the law by selling lumber to another wholesaler, who may sell it to another wholesaler before it finally reaches the retailer, but by that time the price is "way up there."

"But the real problem is what happens to the stumpage price. The government treats timber as an agricultural product, and there are no price limits on raw agriculture products. Timber just shouldn't be considered an agricultural product," he contends.

The going rate for stumpage, he says, is $100 A year ago it was $50 to $60

According to Dye, wholesale salesmen use to visit the retailer regularly, offering a wide variety of wood. "Now we have to call them and they tell us what we can have. If you're lucky you might find what you're looking for."

"I was talking to a salesman about this just the other day," explains the New Hudson manager. "He told me they are running 13 weeks behind in meeting their orders for redwood."

An interesting trend is occurring in the face of spiralling lumber costs, notes Dye.

Years ago the biggest percentage of the retailer's customers was the do-it-yourself builder. That changed over the years, with the major contractor accounting for the bigger share of local business. Northville Lumber, for example, sells about 70-percent of its stock to contractors.

Now, however, Dye is beginning to see a change. "More do-it-yourself builders are starting to come in, even though lumber prices are high, because they just can't afford to hire it done."

The contractor has got to charge a higher price for his houses because his costs are way up, points out Dye. "And it isn't just labor costs," he adds. "He's got to pay the high cost of lumber like everyone else."

Hardwoods are all but non-existent in most community lumber yards, dealers report, because they can't afford to stock these woods that, because of their "fantastic" costs, don't move.

These include oak, maple, Honduras mahogany, birch and walnut.

One of the top sellers, notes Dye, is cedar. "We just can't seem to get enough of it."

Back in the 1950's it was knotty pine; today a retailer would be hard-pressed to sell it at cost.

Back before World War II nearly everything was made of yellow pine, including flooring, trim, etc. The supply ran out so following the war Douglas fir became a major wood, says Dye.

Today, cedar, Douglas fir,

Ponderosa pine, Idaho white pine, and white spruce are top lines stocked by retailers.

Much of the lumber sold locally comes from Idaho and the West Coast. Most of it is kiln dried because of the greater cost of the more stable air-dried woods.

All woods are expensive, however, the Northville Lumber dealer admits.

"But there's really not anything we can do about it. Our mark-up doesn't even pay the overhead," he points out, noting that this fact is one important reason why more and more lumber yards are operating departments for related lumber supplies such as tools, paint, wallpaper, etc.

Dye and others do not see any relief in lumber prices in the foreseeable future.

Not until the federal government starts regulating its own prices will the local customer begin getting a break, they agree.

Mustang Swimmers Swamp Milan

Everything was ready for the execution.

Northville had lost 12 key swimmers from its 1971-72 team which had finished second in the state, while Milan, the team which had finished first, had almost everyone returning.

Furthermore, the cream of the Milan swimmers had been working out all summer long as an AAU team, not in-conceivably for the specific purpose of polishing off the Mustangs - the team which had handed them their only loss in dual meet competition last year.

Why Charles Lott, the Milan coach, had even tipped off the Monroe newspaper, which had dutifully dispatched a reporter to the scene to write the epitaph for Northville's 28-game winning streak.

But wait a minute. Hold the fort and cancel the revolution. That 28-meet winning streak is alive and well and going strong.

The Mustangs, to the complete surprise of almost everyone, not only managed to beat the Milan tankers, they practically swamped them in the process.

Final score was an incredible 62-33 as the Mustangs took first place in nine of eleven events.

"It was just another day in the life of the Northville swimming team," said Coach Ben Lauber casually, trying to conceal his exuberance.

"But it sure was an exciting day," he finally admitted.

Anyone who cares enough about Northville swimming to have read this far, doesn't need to be told about Northville-Milan meets - the two teams are constantly at each other's throats for the number one spot in the state.

That's why veteran observers were at a loss to explain Northville's lop-sided victory.

"I just don't know why the score ended up the way it did," said a puzzled Lauber in the locker room after the game. "Maybe they just weren't taking us very seriously because they knew we lost so many good swimmers from last year's team."

"Or maybe it was that we hit them so hard in the first two events that it demoralized them and they didn't perform up to their capabilities the rest of the way."

Either reason could have merit, though it is hard to believe that Milan would ever take the Mustangs lightly. But Lauber is probably correct in speculating that the key to the meet was his team's performance in the first two events.

It was strength against strength in the first event - the 200 yard medley relay - as each team sent forward its top swimmers. But when the race was over Jeff Kappler, Art Greenlee, Bill Witek, and John Pacific had given Northville the lead with a 1:46.5 clocking, 3.3 seconds better than the 1:49.8 turned in by the Milan quarter.

"That was just a great time for the medley relay," stated Lauber. "Those four guys were just eight-tenths of a second over the state record this early in the season. It was a great time."

Northville scored a second major psychological win in the meet's second event - the 200 yard freestyle - as Kevin Kelly upset Milan's top freestyler, Curtis Lentz, in the pool and team record time of 1:54.3.

Kelly went on to have a fantastic night. In addition to his performance in the 200 yard freestyle, he won the 100 yard freestyle in 52.1 seconds - another pool record - and anchored the Mustangs' victorious 400 yard freestyle relay team.

The Mustangs piled up a 42-19 lead before Milan managed to win its first event, the 400 yard freestyle, which went to Lentz in the pool record time of 4:10.2. The Big Red managed to win only one other event and it took a state champion to do it. Randy Dakin, the defending state champ in the 100 yard backstroke, touched out Northville's Jeff Kappler 1:00.0 to 1:00.8 to win his specialty.

Everything else was won by the Northville swimmers.

John Pacific won the 50 yard freestyle; Bill Witek won the 200 yard individual medley and the 100 yard butterfly; Art Greenlee won the 100 yard breaststroke; and Tom Cook won the diving. In addition, the 400 yard freestyle relay team of Dennis McLaughlin, Pacific, Don Cook, and Kelly posted a two second victory over the Milan freestyle relay team.

"It was really a nice Christmas present," commented Lauber.

MEDLEY RELAY STAR—Churning through his 50 yard leg of the butterfly on the Northville medley relay team is Bill Witek, co-captain of the crack Mustang swim squad. Witek wasn't the only Northville swimmer to turn in a fast split on his medley relay leg; Jeff Kappler in the backstroke, Art Greenlee in the breaststroke, and John Pacific in the freestyle all turned in fine times as the Mustangs topped Milan with a time just eight-tenths of a second off their own state record.

Wildcat Cagers Drop Two

Fourth Quarter Foils Novi

'Oh, those fourth quarter blues.

Twice last week Coach Milan Obrenovich's Novi High School basketball team went into the final quarter of their games either tied for the lead or holding it outright, and twice the Wildcat cagers went down to defeat.

It was Chelsea which did in the Wildcats Tuesday. Novi held a 48-47 lead over the Bulldogs at the end of three quarters, but were outscored 19-13 in the final eight minutes to drop a 66-61 decision.

Even more disheartening was the Wildcats loss to Fowlerville the following evening. Steve Lukkari's basket at the end of the third stanza knotted the score at 52-52 and set the stage for a frantic fourth quarter.

John Pantalone sent the Wildcats out in front with a field goal with a minute and 35 seconds left on the clock, but Dave Gantor, a 6'3" Fowlerville forward, tossed in a bucket as the buzzer sounded to give his team a 68-67 victory.

"The ball was just starting down when the buzzer sounded," sighed Obrenovich, who saw his team's record fall below the .500 mark for the first time this season. Novi now has three wins against four losses.

It was small consolation, but the Wildcats had no trouble whatsoever identifying their assailants.

In the Chelsea game it was big Jeff Schmidt, the Bulldogs' 6-6 center.

Schmidt tossed in 28 points - 20 of them in the first half, as he sparked his team to a 38-35 halftime lead.

"He was playing the low post and they had him rolling across the middle for short passes," explained Obrenovich. "Once he got the ball he'd either drive for the bucket or shoot a short jumper. He really killed us."

Novi's tallest player stands no higher than 6-1 inches - no match for the 6-6 Chelsea star.

In the second half the Wildcats managed to slow Schmidt's pace as they limited him to eight points. "We put (Pat) Boyer in front of him and cheated the rest of our defense to one side to cut off the lob pass," said Obrenovich, "and it worked."

With Steve Lukkari and Jim Van Wagner supplying most of the scoring punch, the Wildcats made up the three point halftime deficit and actually managed to pull into a 48-47 third quarter lead before Chelsea fourth quarter surge gave them the victory.

Lukkari and Van Wagner led the Novi scoring with 20 and 17 points respectively.

It was Gantor, the Fowlerville forward, who proved to be Novi's chief nemesis Wednesday.

Firing at the bucket from long-range, Gantor hit with unerring accuracy. He hit on eight of eight field goal attempts in the first half and three of five in the second half to finish the night with 11 buckets in 13 attempts, including the game winner at the buzzer.

"We got on him in the second half," Obrenovich pointed out. "Boyer got on him and really did a great job. He only got three baskets in the second half, but one of them was the big one."

The Wildcats got off to a slow start against Fowlerville, and were outscored 20-8 in the first quarter. With Van Wagner and John Pantalone finally getting untracked in the second quarter, they cut the Fowlerville lead to 38-30 at the half and pulled into a 40-40 deadlock after three minutes of the third quarter.

From there on in it was a see-saw battle. Pantalone's bucket with 1:35 remaining gave the Wildcats a three point lead, but Fowlerville's George Smith countered with a bucket at the 1:23 mark to trim Novi's lead to one point - 67-66.

"I couldn't believe it," said Obrenovich. "They were behind and all of a sudden they went into a zone, so we just stayed outside and held the ball."

"Van Wagner finally got a 1:1 foul with 11 seconds left, but he missed the first shot and they got the rebound. We batted the ball loose at midcourt, but one of their players managed to get it and flip it to Gantor. He was right in the corner - just as far out as you can get, but the ball went right in - it never even touched the rim. The buzzer went off while the ball was still in the air."

Gantor finished the game with 22 points for Fowlerville, but high-scoring honors went to Jim Van Wagner who hit a season's high 27 points. Pantalone tallied 18 points for the Wildcats, while Pat Boyer also hit in double figures, scoring ten points.

The Wildcats don't play again until January 5 when they journey to Saline to take on the defending league champions

Local Skaters Lose Two, Tie One

Taking Wildcat of the Week honors is Jim VanWagner. After winning All-State honors as a halfback in football, the 6', 195 pound senior guard got off to a slow start on the hardwood. But last week VanWagner gave evidence that he has refound the scoring touch that brought him All-SEC honors last year. Against Chelsea, he tossed in 17 points, but didn't hit his following night when he scorched the nets with a 27 point performance against Fowlerville.

It was a rugged week for Northville hockey teams. The local skaters lost twice and the best they could do was play to a 2-2 tie in their third game.

It was Keim Realty, Northville's entry in the Bantam B League, which kept the from being a complete disaster as they fought to a 2-2 tie with Berry's Bantams, from Dearborn Heights.

Rick Balagna netted the first Northville goal in the second period to knot the score at 1-1. Then, midway through the third period, Frank DeFina took a pass from Ray Allen and steered it past the opposing goaltender to give the Northville squad a 2-1 lead.

The Dearborn Heights club came back to score with just seven minutes left remaining and the game ended in a 2-2 deadlock.

Less fortunate was the Thomson Sand and Gravel club in the Squirt A division. Right winger Steve Stuart shot his club into a 1-0 lead in the first period, but the Farmington Flyers came back with a pair of third period goals to take a 2-1 decision.

Jess Hastings assisted on Stuart's lone Northville goal.

Much the same fate befell the Erhardt Motors team. Twice the Northville entry in the Pee-Wee A division fought back from one goal deficits against Plymouth to knot the score at 1-1 and then 2-2.

But the Plymouth skaters fired a pair of goals into the net in the final five minutes of the game to secure a 4-2 triumph over the Northville club.

John Wheeler, assisted by Scott MacLennon, tallied the first Northville goal, while Roger Pattison, assisted by Win Dahm and Neil Bradley, accounted for the second Northville score.

To Livonia Churchill

Wildcat Wrestlers Fall

Russ Gardner carefully scanned a copy of his Novi High School wrestling team's remaining schedule.

Finally, after much deliberation, he looked up, a big smile on his face, and announced confidently, "Yep, we can do it. There are a couple of meets which could be close, but there's no doubt in my mind that we can do it. It's downhill from here on in."

It was Gardner who took over the Novi wrestling program this year and announced that his goal was to win a minimum of 10 meets.

Now that's a tall order when you stop to realize that the Novi grapplers have never won more than two meets in any given year before. But with Gardner's background as a state wrestling champ and his success in building the South Lyon squad into one of the area's top teams, there was something about his pronouncement which inspired confidence.

But now, with six meets out of the way and only 10 left on the schedule, the Wildcats have only one victory to their credit and find themselves in the position of having to win all but one of their remaining meets to achieve the goal Gardner has set out for them.

Latest setback to befall the Wildcat wrestlers took place last Tuesday when Livonia Churchill, a large Class A school, took their measure 45-16.

"They've really improved," said Gardner. "Last year I think they were one of the two teams we beat, but this year they've got a very strong team."

"They came over here with a 50 man squad and their coach told me they had 75 guys come out for wrestling. I wish we could get that kind of turn out here in Novi."

As usual, it was Tom Ford, Randy McGarry, and Don Jackson who led the Wildcats

Mustanger

Mustang of the Week honors go to Kevin Kelly, an outstanding member of the outstanding Northville swim team. Kelly hit his personal peak last Tuesday as he spearheaded his team's lop-sided victory over defending state champion Milan. Kelly won the 100 and 200 yard freestyle events and anchored the winning 400 yard freestyle relay team. What's more the junior swim star set new pool records in both the 100 and 200 yard freestyles and a new team record in the 200 yard freestyle.

Ford, the fine 126-pounder, advanced his season's record to 7-2 by decisioning Churchill's Nick Shoyan 9-4.

McGarry added six more points to the Novi total by pinning Mike Martz in the third period of their 155-pound match.

And it was Don Jackson who scored the only other Novi points as he put Bob Stowers on his back in the third period of their 145-pound battle.

For Jackson, it was the eighth victory of the season in nine outings and his seventh pin.

"Jackson's been doing a great job, there's no doubt about that," commented Gardner. "He works the moves he knows and he never gives up."

One positive result of the Churchill meet was that Gardner has decided to institute three awards for his Novi wrestlers.

"The Churchill coach told me he did it and it sounded like a good idea," said Gardner. "He told me he gives trophies for the most take downs, the most pins, and for the most aggressive wrestler. It really seems to have worked for his team. They came out shooting right from the start. They really came out after us."

SPORTS Go-Round

The grizzly bear is often popular game for hunters, but you must be very daring and experienced to bag one of these fellows. The grizzly is an exceedingly powerful and dangerous animal. The average length of the male is 6 1/2 feet and the weight usually around 600 pounds. Grizzlies have been known to reach a weight of 1100 pounds however. The female weighs about 500 pounds. Grizzlies are most often found in the Rocky Mountains from Utah to Alaska. Happy hunting!

SIMILAR SOUNDS—Reviewing words that have similar beginning sounds, three students work in the learning center under the direction of teacher Mrs. Joanne Colligan.

The students are all enrolled in Amerman Elementary's year round school program. The cards enable the students to record their pronunciation of the word and play it back.

student to do better is the job of the learning disabilities center," she noted.

"It is not an impossible task. The students can learn to read and compute figures. The answer lies totally in the methods used to teach the skills," Miss Panattoni said.

Mrs. Colligan stated that in word usage, such as talking with classmates or teachers, the students at the center perform very well.

Remedies to overcome learning barriers center around individualized teaching.

"Four students is the most I work with at one time," Mrs. Colligan said. "Those students are in a reading group."

In aiding the 28 students in the program, Mrs. Colligan works partially in the classroom, partially with the students on a one-to-one basis and also in developing materials for individual student's use in the classroom.

"Our goal is to keep the students in the classroom," Mrs. Colligan explained. "Often, the students have trouble achieving in the classroom, because of distractions, but work very well in the learning center."

"By working with the student right in the classroom and not taking him away from the distraction, we may be able to overcome the problem," she said.

Emphasis is on individualized help, with Mrs. Colligan developing study programs for each student using books, games, flashcards, work sheets, records that go along with stories students read as they listen, self-correcting math books, language kits and filmstrips.

With the individualized teaching methods also used in the year round classrooms, students involved in the learning center are not singled out from others in the classroom.

"Everyone in the classroom has his own work to do," Mrs. Colligan said, "so none of the students feels he is different from any of the others."

This, in itself, is a big plus for the entire program, she explained.

One day each week, Mrs. Colligan attends sessions with 20 other teachers at the Downriver Learning Center in Wyandotte. All of the teachers are involved in roles similar to hers; however, none of the other districts is operating a year round program.

The workshops provide an opportunity for the teachers to exchange ideas, discuss similar problems and develop materials they will use in their classrooms.

Of the program in Northville, Mrs. Colligan said "It's a first. We're all learning, but I do feel more sure about it now than I did at the beginning."

All the feedback from parents has been positive, she commented, with one parent explaining that this year is the first time her elementary student has been really interested in going back to school.

Meetings have also been held with the students' parents to ensure that parents have a clear understanding of the program and the methods used. Also explained was what they could do at home to help students in the program, Miss Panattoni said.

"Afterward, 100 percent of the parents said they better understood what the learning disability of their child was and approved totally of our approach of individualized teaching," she added.

Individualization is the direction education will be taking in the future, both Mrs. Colligan and Miss Panattoni agree.

property owners any more than $4.5 per front foot, he argues, would be assessing them unfairly.

Young further feels that any assessment of more than $4.5 per front foot could be taken into court and defeated.

There is some precedent for Young's stand. In April of 1972 Judge Arthur Meade of the Oakland County Circuit Court granted an injunction to seven Farmington Township homeowners who were attempting to stop the paving of Drake Road.

In that case, John Ogurek, attorney for the homeowners, argued that the benefit Drake Road residents would get from having the road paved would not be a special benefit. "Everyone in the city would benefit," he argued, and therefore everyone in the city should pay.

Another aspect to the homeowners suit was that paving Drake Road would increase nonresident traffic and traffic speed and thus become more of a liability than an asset.

A similar case could be built around the proposed Taft Road assessments.

be circulated among the abutting property owners.

"But if it has to go to court," he added, "it will."

Young is equally certain that the case will end up in court. "I will back and financially support a court case if the council tries to force an unreasonable assessment on these people," he told The Novi News last week.

The one point on which almost everyone involved seems to agree is that Taft Road has to be paved. What has to be resolved is the amount of the special assessment.

Commissioners To Take Seats

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners—one seat larger and featuring eight new faces—will begin the new two-year term of office with a group oath-taking Wednesday, January 3.

The commissioners will take office at the first formal board meeting of the new year, set for 2 p.m. that date in the City-County Building auditorium.

First order of business at the meeting will be the election of a chairman and vice-chairman for 1973. The same state law which requires election of the chairman before any other business may be conducted also provides for a one-year term for the office.

The new board will have 27 seats, one more than the old. Also, the boundaries of all commissioners' districts have been redrawn. The additional seat and the new boundaries are the result of a state law that requires reapportionment on a basis of the last (1970) federal census.

Because population grew west of Detroit while declining in the central city between 1960-70, two new districts were created in western Wayne County and two districts were combined in central Detroit.

One of the new districts—27th—includes the southwest portion of Northville township, Plymouth, Canton, Van Buren and Sumpter. Representing this new district is Brian G. Arrowsmith of Wayne.

Serving the remainder of Northville Township and the City of Northville is Mrs. Mary E. Dumas of Livonia. A Republican, she replaces Democrat John J. McCann of Livonia, who did not seek reelection.

One commissioner is elected from each district on a partisan basis. There will be 24 Democrats and three Republicans on the new board, compared with 25 Democrats and one Republican during the last term.

Here's the Answer

State's Parochial School System Survives

LANSING— Back in 1970 when the great parochial battle was part of the statewide political campaign, one of the strongest supporting arguments was this: without some form of state aid to parochial schools, most would fail and result in a flood of students in the public schools.

The argument continued: it would be better for the state to pay a little of the cost of parochial schools rather than the entire cost of parochial students in a public school. Voters, nonetheless, approved the proposal on the 1970 ballot. This completely abolished financial assistance by the state for the parochial schools.

Despite this, the parochial schools have not all come crashing down. In fact, this year the Department of Education reports public school enrollments in Michigan dropped more than private schools.

THERE WAS a cutback in parochial schools enrollment in the fall of 1971 when the financially weaker schools folded and about 50,000 students transferred from parochial to public schools. But this fall, non-public school enrollments dropped by some 3,500 students while public school enrollments dropped by 20,000.

"Apparently non-public school enrollments are leveling off and we will not be having large numbers of these children transferring to public schools every years," says Superintendent of Public Instruction John Porter.

Babson Report

Computer Sales Up

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—A new point-of-sale system encompasses an electronic cash register which captures all pertinent data used in a sales transaction by reading a coded tag and picking up keyboard input from the sales clerk. The input is either collected on magnetic tapes and fed to a central data collection computer through telephone lines or is partially processed in a stand-alone unit. By attaching a scanning device to the terminal, tags can be read automatically through either an optical or magnetic sensor.

The retail industry is now the chief market sector for computerized sales where automated equipment performs the manifold functions of recording, inventorying, and credit authorizing in a growing number of department and discount stores throughout the country.

Better than a fivefold growth in electronic cash registers is expected in the next four years. Some $74 million of these units will be sold in 1972 with a rise to $390 million anticipated by 1976. Sales of credit systems hardware now amount to about $17 million, and are expected to reach $172 million by 1976.

THERE ARE approximately 3.3 million cash registers in the country, of which 10 percent to 15 percent are used by the general merchandising industry. The research staff of Babson's Reports believes that both the replacement market and new store openings should help to bring about the rapid growth predicted for point-of-sale equipment. For 1972 and 1973 an annual growth of between 20 percent and 25 percent is indicated, with a healthy settling down to about 10 percent-to-15 percent annual rate thereafter. By the mid-1970's, most retailing experts look for about 50 percent of that industry to be computerized at the point of the sale. The largest terminal (point-of-sale) market of all—food distribution (particularly fast-food restaurants and "super-markets")—is still to be penetrated due to problems of a source-marked universal code.

THE MAJOR firms in the field are National Cash Register, Singer, Pitney-Bowes, General Instrument, Addressograph-Multigraph, Litton, Motorola, and TRW Inc. While most of the systems are similar, they all have individual variations. Only time will tell whether the color bar code or the black and white bar code will become the industry's standard. Although some 25 companies are competing for the business, it is generally believed that less than 10 producers will turn out to be the dominant suppliers.

675,000 to Travel To Florida this Winter

Sunny skies and balmy breezes are expected to lure an estimated 675,000 Michigan residents to Florida this winter—almost 30 per cent more than last winter's number of Michigan "Sunshine State" vacationers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Traveling should be easier than ever this winter for Michiganders heading to Florida by car. Two new sections of I-75 recently opened in the Toledo area will eliminate the freeway detour via Toledo city streets that has previously plagued drivers with traffic delays.

The Walt Disney World, near Orlando, still seems to be Florida's hottest tourist attraction. But it will probably get some competition from the "Wild Kingdom," a 1,000-acre, $26 million re-creation of Africa's geography and wildlife, which will open by late spring northwest of Clermont in central Florida.

Wildlife enthusiasts will also be able to visit the newly reopened Shark Valley section of the Everglades National Park this winter. A tourist's bargain, this remote, northernmost area of the Everglades costs only $2 a car to see. The entrance fee includes parking and a guided tour.

Several new campgrounds have sprung up around the state this year, and Miami has gained a new luxury hotel with the recent opening of the $7.5 million Marriott. Nightlife is livelier in Pensacola thanks to the newly completed entertainment and dining complex in the city's historic Seville Square district.

By relying on direct Interstate routes, Auto Club estimates that most southern Michigan drivers can reach the Florida state line in two days. At least three days should be allowed if Miami is the destination.

Auto Club shows on the accompanying map the four easiest and safest routes to Florida, one including a partial alternate. They have been labeled the A, B, C, and D routes.

Route A, which follows I-75 through Cincinnati, Knoxville and Atlanta, is the most direct way to Miami and the Tampa area for eastern Michigan drivers. At 1,402 miles, it is the shortest of all recommended routes between Detroit and Miami and includes 1,346 miles of four-lane highway. The toll cost is $4.70.

Motorists using Route A may encounter a delay in northern Kentucky where a one-mile stretch of I-75-I-71 is closed for construction work. A six-lane Permit Alcohol on College Campus?

Should alcoholic beverages be permitted on Schoolcraft College campus?

The administration has been directed by the board of Trustees to study this question and report its findings at a future board meeting.

Presently board policy prohibits use or possession of alcoholic beverages, narcotics and dangerous drugs on campus. Recently, however, the student senate requested that the serving of alcohol be permitted at special events and programs.

The position of the senate was expressed by Karl Sjogren, who pointed out that nearly 100-percent of the Schoolcraft students are of majority age—that is they are legally permitted to drink alcohol.

He noted that "the serving and sale of alcoholic beverages is permitted now at many colleges and universities around the country" and he said "one recommendation of the Task Force for Recruitment is that the college establish a rathskeller."

Last time the board reviewed this policy (February 17), members unanimously voted continuation of the policy, according to College President Nelson Grote.

The question of serving alcohol on campus was raised December 5 in a memo from Student Activities Counselor Pat Newman to Ed McNally, vice-president for student affairs, that the student senate intended to bring the matter to the board, he said.

The board received reports on the progress of additions to the applied science building and the liberal arts building.

The applied science addition has been enclosed for the winter and the interior work is continuing with the aid of temporary heat. Construction is essentially on schedule. Ground was broken for the liberal arts addition on December 13. Trees and concrete have been removed, the area has been fenced, and excavation on the site is underway.

In a related matter the board received a report from the architects prepared by Sonk Associates, consulting engineers, on the heating, ventilating, air conditioning and humidification of the liberal arts building.

In brief, the heating, ventilating and air conditioning systems in the building are in need of considerable remodeling at an estimated cost of $50,000. To properly humidify the building, the estimated cost would be an additional $88,000.

The board indicated it would study these matters at some future time.

Babson Report

Currently, Singer—with its Friden operations—appears to be the leader, with National Cash Register a close second, but Pitney-Bowes is second in terms of actual sales of terminals. While Litton's Sweda is a factor to be reckoned with, General Instrument's Uni-Tote claims it has more systems installed. Motorola recently entered the field through an investment in American Regtel, and Addressograph-Multigraph through a recent acquisition now has a foothold in the fast-food business and markets TRW's equipment.

Addressograph - Multigraph, Pitney-Bowes, and General Instrument are three of the leaders which the staff of Babson's Reports looks upon with favor. The first is a materially restructured office-equipment producer with a computer-oriented management. The company has broadened its capabilities in data communication and computer equipment. Pitney-Bowes formed a joint venture with Apex, Inc. to produce transaction and recording systems for the wholesale and retail trades and has considerable marketing expertise. General Instrument is a pioneer in this field and is also a diversified maker of electronic components and systems. All three companies are selling at relatively low price-earnings multiples on the New York Stock Exchange.

Florida Bound

detour, three lanes in each direction, is in use. Minor delays may also occur further south where gaps in I-75 cause traffic to funnel onto conventional roads.

Route B is the most direct way to Florida for western Michigan drivers who will travel near Fort Wayne or Indianapolis, then south through Louisville, Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta.

It is 1,453 miles between Detroit and Miami via Route B. The route includes 1,434 miles of four-lane highway—more miles than any other recommended route. The toll fee is $5.30.

A good alternate to Route B—particularly when bad weather occurs in the Chattanooga-Atlanta area—is Route B-1, which runs south from Nashville to Birmingham and Montgomery and then east to rejoin Route B at Tifton, Ga. While 59 miles longer than Route B with less freeway, it is convenient for travelers going to Tallahassee and on to Clearwater.

The longest and most expensive way from Detroit to Miami is Route C, which covers 1,613 miles and has a toll charge of $8.30. It follows the Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes before turning south through Virginia's Shenandoah Valley.

Route C offers 1,229 miles of freeway and involves very little mountain driving. However, in the winter, the northern portion may be subjected to heavy snow.

For an extremely scenic trip, Route D is recommended except when snow and ice conditions prevail. Running through the mountains of West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina, it is 1,491 miles long and offers the least amount of four-lane highway—1,091 miles. The toll charge is $6.85.

The Prince of Peace

The Reverend Richard A. Anderson
St. George Lutheran Church
Brighton

We are ever confronted by events and feelings that quickly shatter the illusion of peace in the world. The war in Viet Nam continues despite efforts to bring about a lasting peace. Crime, violence, and conflict erupts causing the much sought after tranquil life to be rudely and harshly interrupted. Family conflicts - man vs. wife, parent vs. child, and brother vs. brother - are all too common and destructive to be overlooked. Man finds the peace relationship to be elusive and all too temporary - even with himself. He pushes, coddles, dislikes, likes, loves, hates, accepts and rejects himself in an ever changing maelstrom of reality and emotion.

Man desperately needs peace! Few people would argue that statement or attempt to refute it. Yet for many people peace is an ideal, an unattainable reality that is much sought after but never realized. Perhaps man overlooks the one he neglects the Babe of Bethlehem - The Prince of Peace!

The Christmas message is that God became man; he emptied Himself and took on human form so that we might be reconciled to Him and to our neighbor. A new God-Man relationship was put into operation on that first Christmas; a relationship founded in Peace and Love. We need no longer be at war with God because of Christ! The formula of Peace has been given and carried out to completion in Christ.

When we have grasped the reality of being at Peace with God we have the foundation for being His "Peacemaker's" here and now. We are equipped by His Spirit to mend those torn relationships with other people. It may take "I'm sorry," or "Forgive me," or it may involve a long process of healing and reconciling to put things right. This may be the price of peace for you or for me, this Christmas Season. It's really not too much to ask of ourselves when we understand how far God goes to make peace with us. A Peace-Filled Christmas to you and yours!

No! But it took the Scots to remind the world how friendship reaches across the passing years. As the ball of light falls over Times Square once again millions of hearts will stir to the familiar strains of Auld Lang Syne.

Other precious values reach across the passing years. One of them is faith. At its simplest it is man's awareness of friendship with God. At its noblest it is man's confidence that time will unfold new experiences of God's affection for us.

Something else reaches across the passing years. It is worship. Its moods and forms may gradually change . . . from the cathedral chant of the middle ages, to the simplicity of the cottage prayer-meeting—even to the rhythmic beat of so-called contemporary services. But worship itself does not change. In whatever mood or form, man expresses his devotion to his Lord.

And whatever may have been your spiritual tempo, the New Year in the churches of our community offers new incentives, deepening opportunities, in faith and worship.

Alcohol Request Studied

Mrs. Patsy Hammond, an instructor in the practical nursing program, was granted a full status contract by the board. She will have completed her second year probationary contract at the end of the 1972 fall semester.

Several gifts were accepted with thanks by the board. They included:

A gift of 20,000 pounds of steel valued at $4,600, for use in the machine tool program, from Mach II Industries, Inc. of Livonia; $1,300 from Floyd A. Kehl of Northville, for purchasing materials to light the bell tower for the holiday season; a collection of $104 from political science students taught by Dr. Mehdi Kianfar to be deposited in the student loan fund, and a $50 gift to the scholarship fund by Robert N. Woltz, husband of Mrs. Phebe M. Woltz, Schoolcraft accounting instructor. The latter gift was matched by Woltz' employer, the Marathon Oil Company, making a total donation of $100.

At a special study session January 17, the board will consider two bylaw amendments.

One, proposed by Trustee Archibald Vallier, calls for an abatement to be counted as an affirmative vote in conducting board business; and the second proposed by Mrs. Rosina Raymond, calls for board business to be conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised as a replacement for the Sturgis Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure.

Here's Recipe To Keep Slim

If holiday menus threaten to make you and your family as plump as Christmas pudding, serve tempting hors d'oeuvres and main dishes made with fresh mushrooms, suggests Michigan State University Consumer Marketing Specialist Maryann Beckman.

There are only 66 calories in a pound of fresh mushrooms, the specialist explains.

Instead of potato chips and sour cream dip, scoop whole raw mushrooms into a dip made with smoothly blended cottage cheese. Or broil large mushroom caps filled with cheddar cheese or a meat spread.

All fresh mushrooms sold in retail stores are edible and can be eaten raw, Mrs. Beckman assures. Cultivated hothouse mushrooms are light brown or snow white, depending on variety.

For freshness, choose mushrooms with caps tightly closed around the stems. Ripe mushrooms range from the size of a dime to a silver dollar. But size doesn't affect tenderness or flavor, so choose according to intended use.

No need to peel fresh then trim a thin slice off stem ends that are dirty or shriveled. Fresh mushrooms will keep from three to five days if refrigerated.

Serve a salad of apples, celery and salted peanuts, or top coleslaw or applesauce with crushed peanuts. Or make a sauce for cauliflower, broccoli, carrots or asparagus by blending one part peanut butter with two parts milk.

U.S. to Conduct 'Buying' Survey

Families and households in the Northville-Nowi area will be included in a nationwide survey of buying plans and home repairs to be taken the first two weeks of January by the Bureau of the Census, according to Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Detroit.

Bureau interviewers will ask householders about any plans to buy a house, a car, or major household appliances during the next year. Questions about home repairs and alterations will concern those made during the past three months.

Land of Head Hunters

Film Explores Pacific Isles

The "South Pacific Isles" takes in a lot of territory literally.

And so does the Rotary sponsored film adventure of the same name that next Wednesday takes the limelight here.

Third in a series of travelogues sponsored by the Rotary clubs of Northville and Plymouth, next week's adventure is the work of George Wilhelm, a former professional athlete who takes his audience on a trip from the Golden Gate Bridge to Bastille Day in Tahiti...and a lot of other exciting places in between.

The film gets underway at 8 p.m. sharp in the Northville High School auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the door or before at Northville Camera Shop, 200 South Main Street.

Cruising west and south from Hawaii, Wilhelm's adventure makes its first stop in the beautiful little harbor of Pago Pago in American Samoa.

Each isle is a prologue to the next, and long before the audience steps ashore he has the feel of Tahiti. From a sawtoothed island silhouette comes the music of Moorea.

Beautiful civilized people of Bali in the Java Sea shows the audience a reverence for life as they make elaborate offerings to a thousand temples, fly roaring kites, and march in pageant to the sea.

The film visits a lagoon in Fiji, reveals a touch of Paris on Bastille Day in New Caledonia, gives the audience a look at jeweled fish at Noumea, dwarfed by the dragons of Komoda, and it shows how a letter is sent home by tin-can mail from Tonga.

The audience is taken from Pitcairn to Port Moresby, and from Boro-Boro to Borneo before it sees the savage sunset that flares over New Guinea and lights up a misty land of high plateaus and primeval mystery.

Taking courage from land, the tour ventures from the seclusion of a houseboat on the Sepik River to the plains of Mount Hagen. And there, from surrounding bush and swamp, descends the Melanesian horde of tribesmen—80,000 strong—to vie with ancient foes, bedecked in brilliant plumes of birds of paradise and rainbow paints.

"South Pacific Isles" is the last of the travelogue films in the series to be shown in Northville. The remaining three, beginning February 7 with Mr. Humor himself, Don Cooper, will be shown at the Plymouth high school at Joy and Canton Center roads.

Earlier films shown in Northville include Julian Gromer's "Wheels Across America" and John Strong's "Bright Belgium".

In Plymouth, following Cooper's visit, Nicol Smith presents "Enchanting Bali" on March 5 and Robert Bouwer returns with "Rio Colorado."

Day Care Center Moves

The Day Care Center at Schoolcraft College has been moved "on campus" for the Winter Semester beginning January 6.

In announcing the move, Edward McNally, vice president for student affairs, expressed the hope that parents will find the new location more convenient.

"Parents generally have been pleased with the service," he said, "and now that the Center is closer to where they take classes, we expect more will want to participate."

The Center's new location is in a house along Haggerty Road, next to the south student parking lot. The building was recently acquired by the College in a property exchange with the State It and two others are being renovated for use by the College.

The Center is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily and serves pre-school children while their parents attend classes. Previous to this time the Center has been located in the Pilgrim United Church of Christ on Seven Mile Road.

The Center is now accepting children for the winter term. A health certificate is required. Costs include a $5 family registration fee, and a 60 cent per child hourly charge. For further information or to enroll children in the Center, telephone Mrs. Dorothy Irving at 591-6400, extension 222.

weeks in the hospital, I finally learned that Katherine Miner had undergone surgery on her back. She is now at home recuperating and getting around somewhat slowly. It will be some time before she's her perky-self again, and we hope our get well wishes will help speed that up...even if late.

Pearl and Gib Willis hosted the annual Christmas get-together for the council and department heads after the council meeting last Wednesday night. The thought of a tree-trimming party was good but the guests never quite got to that job. The Willis' home was gaily decorated with lights and ornaments which Pearl had made herself. It was a lovely evening full of gay Christmas spirit.

Later in the week, the Willis' hosted a party at City Hall for all the city employees and yet another party at their home for employees of Gib's firm.

May the joys of Christmas linger into the coming New Year. May it hold much happiness and good fortune for each of you. Good luck, good health and God bless in 1973.

"Twas the night after Christmas and all through the house...The parents were grumbling, "St Nick, you're a louse".

Oh wow, what a day! And it all slipped by so fast. I guess all parents with kids in the Santa set collapse after the final goodnight of Christmas Day. They're exhausted, excited and plumb weary from reading directions, giving instructions and erecting all those goodie toys that some brilliant person dreamed up.

Probably the most fun items come from a large box which is stuffed with corrugated cardboard and has tabs and numbers scattered all over. With it come two pages of instructions. From these beauties, agile moms and dads, (after three hours of intense reading and checking) can produce supermarkets, puppet theatres or play houses. For a mere $5, a child might find more delight and imagination than from a more dignified toy.

Another brain teaser on the market this year had to be "Bing, Bang, Boing"...a genuine Rube Goldberg device that would test anyone's ability for instruction reading. It's a silly toy complete with a handful of "steelies", metal balls, which are fed into a plastic funnel.

Each little ball travels down a runway where it is picked up by a whirley-gig, flipped into the air, bounces onto three little drums, and into another funnel. Then if your aim and set-up has been perfect, a bell rings and a flag zips up into the air.

If there is anything frustrating about Christmas, especially with little ones around, it has to be putting toys together when the eyelids are heavy while longing for a nice comfortable bed. And then it's all over. Bedtime for the kids, a comfortable chair and a review of the day by the parents. Days, weeks and even months of searching, battling crowds, jangled nerves, sore feet, aching heads...and it's all over in one short day.

Ah Christmas, and I wouldn't trade it for the world. My ears weren't tuned in the right direction. After she had been confined for several out of our budget which we probably need," says Kriewall, "but we've still been able to maintain services. In the coming year we know that wage demands and the need for increased personnel will put a heavy demand on our budget. It should be a good year to determine whether or not our 6.5 mills is sufficient for operating the city."

SHOPPING CENTERS INCORPORATED The one most important thing that will happen to Novi in the months ahead will be the decision by the Dayton-Hudson Corporation on whether or not to locate a regional shopping center at Novi and Twelve Mile Roads.

At one time it was more or less assumed that Novi would get the center, but competition from another site surfaced and the Dayton-Hudson people have not yet decided between the Novi and the West Bloomfield Township sites.

"The last visitation we got from the Dayton-Hudson people about a week ago showed that it's leaning in Novi's direction for the first time in several months," reports Kriewall.

"I think there's been some feeling among the higher-ups at Dayton-Hudson that Novi has extended itself a little more than the other site. We're moving ahead with sewer design, they have their zoning, and we've promised to meet their demands for Detroit water. I think they're realizing that we're a little more receptive than the other site and I think this is a very big factor in acquiring a shopping center."

The major stumbling block to the Novi location is accessibility. Dayton-Hudson is most concerned about the re-engineering of the Novi Road-196 exit ramp - whether it will be sufficient to handle the traffic volume efficiently - and the city has been relatively unsuccessful in getting state engineers to hasten their plans.

Kriewall feels strongly that the regional center would be the most important thing that could ever happen to Novi.

"If we don't get the regional center," he states, "there's been talk of an alternate development, but there's nothing more important than getting a regional center. It will do more for the city than anything else possibly could. When we talk about a regional center, we talk about serving an area that includes Northville, South Lyon, Walled Lake, Farmington, Brighton, Livonia, and even West Bloomfield township."

"I'm certain," he says, "that one of the recommendations of the Needs Assessment will be that we have to make additions to or provide a new high school facility."

"We tend to have very little in the way of vocational education," he reports, "Even though I think we have improved that area 100 percent over the past year. Still, there's a lot to be done in the area of vocational and career education."

"As educators we have an obligation to make sure that our students when they graduate have the

definite plans

Orchard Hill Place is slated to go in at the corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty Roads and, according to Kriewall, the developers expect to "start moving earth in 1973."

Orchard Hill Place is to be a "high fashion" shopping center in the same vein as the Somerset Mall in Troy, and has a list of potential clients that could include Jacobson's, Saks Fifth Avenue, and Ambergrombie and Fitch, as well as a major bank and hotel.

"The biggest hold up at this time" says Kriewall, "is the highway department. The developers can't put anything down on paper permanently until they see where the state puts Haggerty Road - how high, how low, and how wide. As soon as the state comes up with some definite plans for Haggerty Road, Orchard Hill Place is ready to go."

Novi-Ten, the development slated for the southeast corner of Novi and Ten Mile roads, is awaiting sewers.

"As you know," says Kriewall, "sewers are moving through special assessment hearings at this time, but there's a movement afoot to generate some front money for the sewer and then work out a pay back agreement. If that happens we could abandon the special assessment hearings and the development would move faster. We could just roll out the sewers and go."

RESIDENTIAL AND MULTIPLE Novi will see no slackening in the pace of residential and multiple family development in 1973. In fact, the pace of construction should increase as another large portion of the city - the north end - has recently been opened for development.

"The north end apparently is ready to take off," admits Kriewall. "We have sewers there now and that's the key. You can always drill a community well to take care of your water needs, but you have to have sewer and wherever we have sewers will be a center of development."

Kriewall says the development might not get underway for awhile, but by late 1973 he estimates there will be three to four developments underway.

"There are two or three other concerns who are acquiring property up there," he reports. "We don't know who they are yet, but we do know that there's a lot of land acquisition going on in the north end."

Meanwhile, the southeastern section of the city where most of the recent development has taken place will continue to grow. "There doesn't seem to be any lack of demand in that area for Novi housing," comments the city manager.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT Other than Rich and Sullivan's Novex-One Industrial Park on Nine Mile Road, Novi has not seen any major growth in its industrial community. The coming year should see the city take a more active part in luring industry to its boundaries.

"We've given a shot in the arm to the Chamber of Commerce," points out Kriewall, "and I'll be approaching the council shortly about beginning an advertising campaign in the major daily newspapers."

Industry, he says, is something that has to be courted. Housing will come no matter what, but you've got to go out and lure industry.

"I don't think we've seen as much activity in industrial development as we'd like to see, but I think our time is coming. There's been a lot of action in the industrial line in Farmington Township and I think it's going to spill over into Novi at any time now."

SEWER PROJECTS. Development, of course, is dependent on the availability of sewage capacity and two major sections of Novi - the southeastern and southwestern corners - are still without sewage capacity.

Of particular importance is making sewage capacity available in the southeastern corner where Orchard Hill Place and several other major developments are in the offing.

In July of the past year the city applied for a federal grant to construct a sewage treatment plant in the Nine Mile-Haggerty Road area. That grant is presently being processed, but there are rumors that it will not be granted.

"One way or the other we'll take care of our sewage capacity problem in that area," Kriewall promises. "If we have to build a plant, then we'll build a plant whether we get federal funds or not."

Another alternative is to persuade Detroit to give Novi more capacity in the lines which are already there. "We're going to force the issue with Detroit," says Kriewall. "The handwriting is on the wall for that area and we just can't sit back and wait any longer. We'll either sell taps into the Detroit line or build our own sewage treatment plant."

Kriewall sees no immediate need for making sewage capacity available in the southwestern section, however.

MUNICIPAL COMPLEX. The year should see at least a groundbreaking on the proposed municipal complex.

"If everything moves along well with the parcel presently under option and if no further options or acquisitions are made," says Kriewall, "there's no reason some sort of groundbreaking can't take place this year."

What is envisioned by the Building Authority is to pave Taft Road. Still, Novi has many miles of unpaved roads and few issues evoke a more heated response than if and how these roads should be paved.

Kriewall feels the council's decision to reconsider the Taft Road paving project is indicative of a change in feeling toward solution of road problems. "I think its becoming increasingly obvious to almost everyone," he says, "that the only real answer to our road situation is paving."

"Seal-coating is not the answer. It's becoming more costly, most contractors won't do it any more, and the county won't accept seal-coated roads because they're such a costly maintenance problem."

Novi's rapidly changing face will force more and more concrete road construction. "A gravel road is a farm road and that's all it was ever meant to be," says Kriewall, "when you start rolling 2,000 to 3,000 cars per day down those roads, you just can't expect them to hold up."

"One thing I think you're going to see," says Kriewall, "is a lot of new faces in this election. In the last election, most of the candidates were long-time Novi residents, but that's just not going to hold true in this election. It should be interesting."

The major issue, he says, will probably be the road paving program. Novi's growth will not be an issue, Kriewall contends. "It's like an evolution. Novi's going to grow and all you can really do is try to shape it."

ROAD PAVING. The paving of Meadowbrook road is slated to begin in 1973 and the council has reintroduced the special assessment hearings education. Now that doesn't mean we can't do a whole lot more."

COMMUNITY EDUCATION. Perhaps the most important concept Kratz has brought to Novi is community education. In essence, the community education concept involves opening school doors to the entire community.

Instead of a normal school day, the school facilities would be kept open after 3:30 p.m. and into the evening so that the entire community - adults as well as youth - can use the buildings.

But for Kratz, the community education concept has a much more important value. He sees it as a means of bringing Novi together. There is a need, he feels, for Novi to develop a single identity rather than remain isolated as a series of separate and individual subdivisions.

"If Novi is to ever come together as a community, truly it is the community education concept that can bring our subdivisions totally together," he says. "Right now the only thing we have that brings the community together is athletics and thank goodness for athletics. Our high school team is comprised of people from various subdivisions who all act as a unit."

"The unfortunate thing is that after football practice they all go back to their various subdivisions. We need some place where the whole community can get together as a community and not as a collection of subdivisions." Hopefully, the community education could also help to unite the school board and the city council - Novi's two major legislative bodies which have had a history of being uncooperative with each other.

"I'm not sure that there has been as much animosity as there has been misunderstanding," says Kratz. "Sometimes we create hard feelings when there are none to begin with. I don't feel there's a great schism between the school board and the council. Misunderstandings - yes. Hard feelings - no."

It is Kratz' hope that community education is something that can be shared between the city and the school board.

"The community education program is one that could fit the needs of the recreation department and the school. Tantamount to that statement is that the children and youth of Novi need something like community ed and if it's something that they really need then we should be about the business of doing it."

"If the city wants to join us in searching out the best way to implement such a program then I welcome them with open arms. But if they refuse, then I'm going to recommend to the school board that we do it anyway. I certainly invite the city council and the school board to sit down together, but if the city were not in favor of continuing with it and the school board were, I will go on record as saying we should push on harder and faster than ever."

IMMEDIATE NEEDS. Presently the Novi school district is undergoing a study of its strengths and weaknesses. The study, called the Needs Assessment, has not been completed, but once it has, Kratz thinks it will reveal that the present high school facility is inadequate for a comprehensive program.

"I'm certain," he says, "that one of the recommendations of the Needs Assessment will be that we have to make additions to or provide a new high school facility."

"We tend to have very little in the way of vocational education," he reports, "Even though I think we have improved that area 100 percent over the past year. Still, there's a lot to be done in the area of vocational and career education."

"As educators we have an obligation to make sure that our students when they graduate have the

Here are some quick hints for home decor when inches count. Cut doors in half lengthwise and hinge them, they will need less space to swing. A mini-chest is as good as an end table next to your favorite armchair and provides extra storage space. If you are low on cupboard space, you can hang linens from towel racks behind a hidden screen. A book case no higher than the back of your sofa is an ideal place for lamps.

Service Clubs Sponsor Party

Three Novi service clubs — the Rotary, Moose, and Jaycees — combined efforts last week to provide a special Christmas party for a group of 60 Novi children.

The party was held in the Orchard Hills Elementary School.

Members of the Novi Moose Lodge provided transportation to and from the party for the youngsters; the Jaycee Auxiliary handled cooking duties, and the Jaycees and Rotary distributed such gifts as footballs, basketballs, and portable radios.

Russell Stroud and Ray Murphy chaired the Jaycee's participation in the party, while Gary Johnson headed the Rotary Club's participation.

Murphy reported the party was a successful one and extended thanks to the Novi School Board and Assistant Superintendent William Barr for use of school facilities and to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckman, who assisted in running the games

Squirts Split Two Games

Northville's Thomson Sand and Gravel-sponsored hockey team in the Squirts B League jumped off a quick lead against Plymouth last week but were unable to score again and dropped a 3-1 decision.

Right wing David Brayton got the Northville skaters off to a 1-0 lead with a first period goal assisted by Steve Stuart and Ken Weichel. But that was the only goal of the evening for the Northville team and Plymouth went on to tally three times to secure the victory.

Goalie Kriss Van Gieson and center forward Brian Starr teamed up to pace Northville's Thomson Sand and Gravel Squirts' hockey team to a 2-0 victory over Plymouth Sunday.

Van Gieson was outstanding in the nets as he held the Plymouth squad scoreless, while Starr provided all the fire power in the game with a pair of third period goals. Paul Wysocki assisted on the first goal, and Mark Weichel picked up an assist on Starr's second tally

College Slates Registration

Registration for the winter semester at Schoolcraft College will be conducted January 3 and 4 in the Physical Education Building on campus.

Sophomore day students will register from 8:30 until 11:30 the first morning. Freshman are scheduled that afternoon between 1 - 3:30, and the balance will register during the morning of the second day.

Evening students, including those planning to take classes at Garden City, can register either night between 6:30 - 8:30.

Registrar Russell Bogarin said nearly 3,700 students have completed advance registration conducted at various times since November. "Hopefully, another 2,300 will register on the third and fourth, enabling us to reach our projected enrollment of 6,000," he said.

The College has been concerned about declining enrollments, down eight percent in credit hours taken during the fall semester.

A presidential task force appointed by Dr. C. Nelson Grote, has been directing efforts toward retaining students from the fall to the winter semesters. The advance count is an indication that it has had some effect.

Schoolcraft's winter semester runs from January 6 through April 26. The College serves residents of Clarendonville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth school districts.

Resident tuition is $11 per credit hour; out-of-district students pay $22 per hour, and all students are assessed a fifty cent per hour activity fee.

Persons wishing registration or other information should call the College Admissions Office, 591-6400, extension 228.

Program for Piano Teachers Slated

A one-year certificate program for piano teachers has been developed by Schoolcraft College and will be open to students for the first time during the upcoming Winter Semester.

According to Donald Morelock, Schoolcraft piano instructor, the new program has been designed in response to many requests from persons wanting to improve their teaching skills and enhance their professional standing.

It consists of 28 credit hours of study in piano literature, theory, history, private piano and piano teaching materials and techniques.

Schoolcraft in the past has conducted a number of short courses and workshops for piano teachers, but Morelock believes the new course is the first such comprehensive program to be offered in the state. "Short of a four-year baccalaureate program," he said, "colleges and universities simply don't offer this kind of training for persons who teach piano on a private basis."

Registration for the Winter Semester will be held January 3-4 on the Schoolcraft campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Persons interested in the piano teachers program should contact Morelock at 591-6400, extension 312.

Entrance to the Schoolcraft program is by audition and permission of the department. The curriculum has been developed in cooperation with the Michigan Music Teachers Association. The program will provide a valuable assist to persons interested in completing state certification requirements.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

1973 Big Year for Novi Schools —Kratz

capabilities to sustain themselves and their future families and to make decisions in a democratic society that will sustain its existence."

BUILDING NEEDS. Kratz is doubtful that the need for expanded vocational education facilities will lead to construction of a new high school.

"You can't discount the fact that you already have a high school," he says.

Because there is a high school and it has such facilities as a football field and other amenities, the Novi superintendent feels that the Needs Assessment will recommend a "house concept" for Novi.

The existing high school would be House A; House B might be a field house for athletics; House C might be another classroom-type building; and House D could be devoted exclusively to career and vocational education.

"We would have to acquire more land down 11 Mile Road and could move toward a campus-type high school complex," he says.

Kratz would then like to see the entire area turned into a school park.

"I think this is another area in which the city and the school board can cooperate," he points out. "I don't think the city has a lot of available park land and the school would conceivably have some property that could be utilized as a park for the entire community. This whole thing dovetails right back into the community education concept."

On a long-range basis, Kratz feels Novi will definitely have to add more buildings apart from just a high school complex. Ultimately, with a school district of approximately 5,000 to 6,000 students, Novi will need either one large or two small high schools, two to four middle schools, and six to eight elementary schools, he says.

NOVI ELEMENTARY SCHOOL Novi Elementary School is the oldest school in the Novi district and its location on Novi Road between Grand River and the I-96 expressway is not a good one.

Nevertheless, Kratz says the district will continue to utilize the facility.

"We just put a new roof on it for approximately $12,000 and we put a new boiler in it two years ago. Furthermore, we've just recently tied into the sewer line so we have every intention to continue to utilize the building."

The primary problem, he explains, is one of ingress and egress of school traffic. The building itself is physically safe for children, but the heavy traffic along Novi Road makes the site an undesirable location.

But while the location is not a good one for a school, it's a highly desirable location for an industrial or commercial concern, particularly if the Shopping Centers Incorporated decides to construct a major shopping center at Novi and Twelve Mile—less than a mile away.

"We're sure that as Novi continues to grow, we'll be approached by people who want to purchase that particular piece of property," says Kratz. When that time comes, the school board has already indicated that its price will be sufficiently high for them to be able to duplicate the facility without having to go to the taxpayers for additional funds.

TAFT ROAD PAVING. Perhaps the first major decision the school board will face in 1973 is whether or not to participate with the city in the cost of paving Taft Road.

An effort to establish a special assessment district last year fell through when one councilman failed to support it because the school board refused to accept a portion of the cost. Furthermore, Taft Road residents argue that it is the school that creates the traffic and thus the need to have the road paved.

The school board, on the other hand and by a split vote, argues that school funds should be used for education not paving roads. The issue will rear its head again in January as the council begins a second attempt to set up a special assessment district.

Kratz says his recommendation to the school board will be that they should examine all the facts very closely before making a decision on whether or not to participate financially and to what extent.

"I will say this," he says, "our busses do depreciate because of the condition of the road. But the other side of the coin is that we are not in the business of paving roads, we're in the business of education. Whether a paved road helps in that business is a question for the board to decide. It's a choice between library books and paved roads."

"One of the considerations the board will have to weigh is will paving the road save more money in the long run by preventing the depreciation and constant repair of our busses."

Kratz feels that from the board's consideration of Taft Road, a general policy toward road assessments will evolve.

"As far as my recommendation to them," he adds, "it is that I am their representative and will support their decision whatever it might be."

SCHOOL BOUNDARIES. One of the goals Kratz has set for the coming year is to try to straighten out, at least to a degree, the irregular boundaries that define the Novi school district.

"I've already begun preliminary discussions with Ray Spear, the Northville superintendent," he reports, "and I'll be doing the same thing with Don Sheldon, the Walled Lake superintendent."

Hopefully, we'll be able to get our school boards together to talk about the problem."

The difficulty in trying to move school boundaries is that as an area's assessed valuation increases, people are less likely to give it away because it becomes an important tax base and tax base, of course, is what produces school income.

"That's why," says Kratz, "if we're going to change the boundaries, we should change them now before our communities grow up. It's a lot easier to alter boundaries if people and high assessed valuations are not involved."

The reason that Kratz would like to see the boundaries altered is obvious. "It's difficult for me to explain why Northville's busses turn around in our Middle School parking lot and why there are some parents who can see our schools but can't send their children to them."

"It's been my past experience with changing school boundaries that when you go before the intermediate school district that — if the parents wanted to — they would find in favor of the school district which has the nearest schools."

ZIEGLER CASE. One of the ticklish issues facing the school board is the William Ziegler case. Last June Ziegler and a friend were arrested by Novi police and charged with larceny under $100 for the alleged theft of some pipe from a construction site.

Ziegler refused to resign his seat on the school board and it was subsequently decided that he should not sit on the school board until such time as his guilt or innocence was determined in court.

The case is still pending with a trial date set for January.

Kratz avoided all questions related to what action the school board will take on the matter.

After initially stating he had no comment, the superintendent added that "Mr. Ziegler was involved in hiring me and bringing me here. By law he is, in fact, a school board member until he resigns or does not run for reelection. It is my policy to support all school board members."

CROSS-DISTRICT BUSSING. In spite of the fact the Appeals Court is reconsidering its original decision, Kratz feels confident that Novi will continue to be excluded from cross-district bussing plans.

"Logistic-wise, it's impossible to visualize how we could bus our children all the way into Detroit," he says.

"What will happen in the next ten years I just don't know. It would be my judgment that Novi would be excluded for at least the next decade. Now if there's a large exodus beyond Novi and the neighborhoods change within the framework of the desegregated area, at that time there may be another lawsuit, but I really don't see that right now."

"It's my judgment that we're just too far away to be included in the desegregation suit. I don't see us being added to it."

"And if we were," he adds, "I'm sure the school district would then move toward the involvement of our own concerns in the law suit."
