

Northville School District Union Dues Put in Escrow

NEW MIDDLE SCHOOL—Sketches of the proposed new middle school to be located off Six Mile Road were disclosed this past week.

By a 6-1 vote, Northville school board members agreed to hold union dues for the Northville Education Association and Operating Engineers Union in escrow and proceed with filing for a declaratory judgment in Wayne County Circuit Court.

The action taken by the board Monday was necessitated by a state supreme court decision made last month which stated that agency shop clauses in contracts are illegal.

Board members also directed the administration to contact both unions to determine where the escrow accounts should be established.

Casting the dissenting vote was Trustee Glenn Deibert, who said that by withholding dues from the two unions, "we are assuming that union membership is an involuntary action. We should assume that they are union members by choice."

Superintendent Raymond Spear explained the problems arise out of not being able to determine which union members are members by choice and which are members because of the agency shop clause.

Under the clause in the Northville contracts, an amount equal to dues must be paid to the union by non-members unless they have filed a letter stating they are opposed to the deduction on religious or political beliefs.

That clause was declared illegal by state supreme court action.

Dues deductions are made by the school district and forwarded to the unions.

School board attorney Thomas Schwarze told the board they should, at this time, only be concerned with the dues deduction.

He urged the district to withhold payment of the dues until it can be established which teachers are members "because of the illegal agency shop clause and which are members because they want to be."

At the same time, he suggested a declaratory judgment be filed in circuit court.

The judgment would determine what the school district was to do with the dues.

Spear said he had asked both unions to join him in sending a letter to employees explaining the situation to them and requesting employees to state whether or not they joined the union by choice, or because of the contract clause.

He said both groups have refused his request.

"I recommend there be no further payment of dues by the school system to the unions until our attorney can determine that the school

NEWS BRIEFS

ENROLLMENT for Northville's voluntary 45-15 year round school program topped 110 students during the first two days of registration last week. Parents may register their children, who will be in grades kindergarten through eight during the 1973-74 school year, now through February 16. Informational meetings will be held at Main Street Elementary, Wednesday, January 17, Moraine Elementary, January 31, and Amerman Elementary, February 14. All meetings begin at 8 p.m.

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL is expected to decide Monday whether or not to conduct a public hearing on the request of the Chapper Organization to rezone property adjacent to Northville Estates for development of multiple housing. Request for hearing earlier was denied by the planning commission, and Chapper subsequently appealed the planners decision to the council.

AN APPEAL by the First Baptist Church of Northville for four variances to permit an addition to the church was shelved last week and is expected to come up again before the Northville Board of Appeals next month. In initial review last week the board indicated its disapproval of a suggested side yard variance.

SUMMER TAX collection proposed by Northville School District has been dropped. Board members agreed Monday to discontinue the study after a recent survey of the community showed only 28 percent of the people were in favor of the proposal. About 17 percent were against the plan, while the rest said they had no opinion or that the collection time did not matter.

Township Board Rejects Request

Chief Nisun Asks to Resign

In a surprise move Tuesday night, Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun asked to be relieved of his duties as police chief and given the rank of patrolman.

The request, which Nisun asked be effective February 1, was denied by township trustees in a 6-1 vote. Treasurer Joseph Straub cast the lone dissenting vote.

Nisun told board members, "I have banged my head against the wall long enough." He said he has repeatedly been turned down in his requests for additional patrolmen and that he feels he carries "no weight as chief."

Earlier in the evening, trustees split 3-4 in a vote to hire two more men for the police department, effective February 1.

Voting for the additional patrolmen were Clerk Cayley, Mitchell and Schaeffer.

Voting against the motion were MacDonald, Wright, Straub and Klein.

Delays Keep Drawbridge Up

Work continues—but slowly—on the Drawbridge Restaurant at Center and Dunlap streets.

It appears now that the plush new facility will not open for several more weeks, perhaps not until spring.

Difficulty in keeping subcontractors, who move from one project to another, on the job here has been a principal reason for delay in completion, according to the construction superintendent, Joe Freckleton.

Most interior rough carpentry and masonry has been completed, including partitions, plastered walls, and stairways. This past week workmen were laying the tiled flooring in the kitchen and food service hallway to the main dining room.

Walls for cloakrooms and restrooms are in place. The balcony U-shape bar has been installed, much of the service bar has been completed, and installation of kitchen equipment should begin soon.

Less Objectionable?

Eye Alternative Drain Plan

What is least objectionable: "loss of perhaps 50 feet of property, or construction of a 30-foot wide ditch? That's the question property owners along the Randolph Drain are wrestling with as the Northville City Council prepares to recommend Monday its preference to the Michigan Drain Board.

While property owners find neither proposal totally acceptable, ditch construction with its uprooting of trees and shrubs appears to many to be the greater of two evils.

City councilmen also have indicated that they, too, view the prospect of an expensive, perhaps ugly ditch as least acceptable.

But unlike property owners most if not all councilmen see improvement of the Randolph Drain as an absolute necessity. Furthermore, since the drain board was long ago called in by both Northville and Novi to arbitrate a solution to potential flooding problems there is no turning back, they note.

The drain board cannot at this point be told to go away, and the drain board's decision is final—except, perhaps, if that decision is challenged in court.

Best bet at this point, councilmen point out, is to influence the drain board to make a decision that is least objectionable.

When the drain board last met to discuss project with

They Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Traham were honored at a fiftieth wedding anniversary dinner on Wednesday, January 3, at The Vineyard in Southfield. Hosting the dinner were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Traham of Baltimore, Maryland.

Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jennings completed the table for the family dinner.

The Trahams have lived at 39842 Village Wood Road since moving there in April from Detroit where they had lived for 49 years.

Traham, of Manchester, New Hampshire, married the former Helen Schepers in Winnipeg, Manitoba, on January 3, 1923. Mrs. Traham is a native of Belgium.

Now retired, Traham was employed by the Hudson Motor Car Company.

The couple has three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

"IT'S PERFECT"— That's the word from representatives of the Northville Historical Society and the Northville VFW Post 4012 after inspecting accommodations at the new Thunderbird-Hilton ballroom where the VFW will hold its benefit dinner-dance Thursday, February 8, as a means of raising funds for the Historical Society's Mill Race restoration project. Tickets for the benefit are now on sale and may be obtained by calling 349-0518 or 349-4333. Reservations may be made in advance for tables seating groups of four to 12 persons. Inspecting the ballroom (1 to r) are John Burkman, Society president, and benefit co-chairmen, Mrs. Leonard Klein of the Society and Wallace Nichols of the VFW.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

A STORYBOOK romance that began in Martha Mary Chapel in Greenfield Village culminated during the holiday season in the marriage of Kay Ellyn McElroy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sheldon McElroy, of Northville, to Donald Mikulec.

Kay, while a member of the village guide staff, often was assigned to the chapel post as she could play its organ. She was playing it one day during the 1971 season when Don, who at the time was working in a nearby Ford engineering building, wandered through.

He stayed on to talk, and the romance began. When it came time to plan the December 8 wedding, Kay decided on a different Dearborn church, Greenfield Congregational, where her parents had been married.

The church, Mrs. McElroy notes, is a small, plain one, much like Martha Mary Chapel. Kay chose a traditional gown of chiffon in simple lines for the ceremony.

A reception followed in Dearborn Inn. For the wedding, the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mikulec of Buffalo, chartered a bus to bring 50 family members and friends, who stayed at Dearborn Inn. They also had chartered transportation for the marriages of two other sons and found it worked well, Mrs. McElroy explains. The beautiful Spencerian script on the invitation envelopes was done by a secretary of the Mikulec family, she added.

Lea Ann, the bride's younger sister, was a bridesmaid. Other bridal attendants, all of Northville, were Connie Mohr, honor maid, Kathy McDermott and Cindy Ware.

The newlyweds have an apartment in Oakland, California, where she will be attending Laney Junior College and he the San Francisco Academy of Arts. He already holds a BE degree from University of Rochester and a ME degree from University of Michigan.

PUERTO RICO was the vacation destination of the Anthony V. Rizzo family of Thayer Boulevard. The Rizzos with daughters Sharon and Carol spent two weeks with his sister and her family, who have lived on the island for almost 20 years. With warm temperatures and guides to show them mountain towns as well as the usual tourist spots, Mrs. Rizzo says it was a great holiday. She adds, however, that her daughters would like to learn some Spanish before another trip as the island is bi-lingual.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY benefit dinner-dance co-planner Mrs. Leonard Klein, who spent part of the holidays at the family's Elk Rapids cottage, now is back and busy with arrangements for the February 8 benefit.

She and W. Wallace Nichols, who heads the project for the VFW Post, Saturday checked the new ballroom of the Thunderbird-Hilton Hotel on Northville Road. With John Burkman, Historical Society president, and John Wisner they worked on decoration arrangements.

Admittedly, it's harder to sell tickets to a week-night (Thursday) dance, but the attractions are many. For $20 a couple (or $10 for a single) a complete buffet will be served at 8 p.m. It is to include baron of beef and sliced ham as well as country fried chicken and a wide variety of salads, Ruth Klein points out.

Dancing will follow at 9 p.m. to the music of the Ambassadors of Good Will of Ann Arbor. The nine-piece group is donating its services for the benefit of the Mill Race restoration.

In addition, VFW members have gathered a host of worth-while prizes, including a snowmobile and a bicycle, for the raffle. Above all, the event is to benefit the restoration project. With the old library building and the double-wing Greek Revival house already moved to the site donated by Ford Motor Company, funds are needed for restoration and to add other buildings for the entire community to enjoy.

Ticket reservations (tables, too, may be reserved) may be made through VFW or Historical Society members or by calling Mrs. Burkman, 349-3443, Mrs. Klein, 349-4333, or Mrs. Nichols, 349-0518.

FEBRUARY 8 also is the date for the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, DAR, Early American Tea to be held from 1 to 5 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Road in Plymouth. English tea will be served with tea cakes made from recipes of colonial days.

Exhibiting and demonstrating will be Mrs. G.S. McPeck of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Richard Reichard, both Greenfield Village staff members, and Mrs. Gerald White of the Embroiderers' Guild of Michigan. They will show lace making, netting, needlepoint and bargello. DAR members will do hairpin lace, dried flower arranging and cornhusk dolls. DAR member Mrs. R.F. Coolman of Northville will show afghan knitting.

Donation of $1 will benefit the DAR's nursing scholarship for an American Indian. Guests will be able to talk to the women demonstrating the early skills and hear the history of their crafts and their techniques.

Mrs. Donald Sober, general chairman, says that tickets, however, are limited and should be obtained as soon as possible. Northville ticket chairman is Mrs. Thomas Lovett, 349-4717.

Talented artist-craftsman Marion Sober lived in Northville before moving to Plymouth several years ago. The Sobers first renovated the little white house on Church Street opposite the Presbyterian Church and then the house, now painted red, on top of Sheldon Road hill overlooking the race track.

A GEM OF VINTAGE HOUSE, a pillared Greek Revival, has been the personal restoration project of Marion Sober and her husband for the past year and a half.

Saving the white house from demolition in downtown Plymouth involved moving it in two sections to a new setting on North Territorial Road. Just as Northville Historical Society plans to do for its buildings in the Mill Race, the Sobers created old-looking foundations by facing cement block with stone.

Inside Mrs. Sober copied old patterns to stencil walls. She also coped with the real problems of heating and wiring a vintage home. She cut up old embroidered sheets to make white curtains for the many windows, some of which still have the old glass. A rear room off the kitchen looks out on the orchard and serves as her art studio.

"We think we've found something to interest nearly everyone," Ron Griffith said in describing the more than 60 classes for which registrations are being accepted through January 26.

Griffith directs the program which last fall attracted over 1,100 participants. He's expecting nearly that many during the winter as well.

A colorful booklet has been prepared for delivery to all residents in the College district during the week of January 8. It lists the classes available and a description of their content, the dates, time and place of class meetings, and the tuition and lab fees charged.

The booklet also contains mail-in registration forms which make enrolling in any class both convenient and uncomplicated. Registrations are also accepted on campus, mornings, in the Registrar's Office.

Persons wishing additional registration forms or information of any kind should call the community services office at 591-6400, extension 264.

SHABOOM, SHABOOM—Cool guys and gals will be getting together for a sock hop on Saturday, January 20, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beck. The Northville Newcomers Club is staging the 50's style hop, complete with a D.J. and many favorite oldies but goodies from the 1950's. The Newcomers modeling the outfits from the "fabulous 50's" that they'll be wearing to the party are, from left: Mrs. Robert Peck, Mrs.

David Burns, Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Bruce Pegrum. Any Northville Newcomer members wishing to attend the party should make reservations with Mrs. H. Lynn Stringer at 349-3272 by Saturday, January 13. The cost is $5 a couple and the evening will include a late 50's style dinner and prizes awarded for the individuals wearing the best costume of the 1950's.

Celebrate 60 Years

Sixty years of marriage will be celebrated on Saturday, January 13, by Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dunn as members of their family gather to honor them on the occasion.

Three of the Dunns' granddaughters, Diane Felgner and Sue and Judy McDowell are to hostess the dinner party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Felgner. James L. Dunn married the former Grace L. McReynolds of Kansas City, Missouri on January 14, 1913. Dunn, a native of Henderson, Kentucky, first met his bride at the St. Louis, Missouri, home of an aunt.

The couple was married in Edwardsville, Illinois, and during their sixty years of marriage, the Dunns have lived in St. Louis, Detroit and now reside at 500 Griswold.

The Dunns' children are Lucille McDowell of Northville, Lee Resner of Long Beach, California and Betty Martin of Hiram, Ohio. A son, Robert L., is deceased. The couple has ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Now retired, Dunn was an employee of the Ford Motor Company. He and Mrs. Dunn are members of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

Mrs. Dunn enjoys "needlework of all kinds and babysitting for her great-grandchildren" while her husband's hobbies are gardening and restoring furniture.

Among their most memorable experiences, during their married life, the Dunns count the celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Discusses Environment

The Northville Chapter, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association met Monday at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Ecology and the environment was the topic for the guest day meeting. Dick Ruth, a representative of the Ford Motor Company, discussed what industry, especially the automotive companies, are doing to improve the environment.

The announcement was made at the meeting that the Northville branch crafts group will meet Friday, January 19, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. George Spencer.

In charge of the day's program were Mrs. Daniel Swayne, Mrs. Armand Caswell, Mrs. Donald DiComo, Mrs. H.J. Frogner, Mrs. Richard Kelly and Mrs. John Starcevic.

League Prepares Consensus

Solid waste management and recycling is the subject of a consensus to be taken by the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters who will meet at 8 p.m. on Thursday, January 11, in Epiphany Lutheran Church located on Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

According to the Northville-Plymouth League president, Mrs. Donald Stacy, the consensus taken tonight will be forwarded on to the state and federal league boards who analyze the consensus reports from the local leagues before the federal LWV position is stated.

In polling the local members on the issue of environmental quality, Mrs. Stacy explained, there are several issues which must be considered.

First is the question of whether the major responsibility for solid waste management should remain with local municipalities and states or the federal government's authority should be expanded.

If it is found that the federal government should have the authority, the league consensus will also indicate what the priorities of the government should be for recycling and disposal of industrial and consumer wastes, Mrs. Stacy said.

She went on to say that the consensus of the league is defined as "agreement among a substantial number of members reached after sustained study and group discussion."

After all of the local league consensus are taken, the national organization can begin to take action through the legislative process, Mrs. Stacy said and added, "this opportunity to help decide future policy exemplifies grass roots in action."

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Rathert of 450 Maplewood announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Joyce, to James Harry Penrod, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory P. Penrod of 45262 Mayo Drive.

The couple is planning a September wedding.

A 1971 graduate of Northville High School, the bride-elect is in the honors college at Michigan State University. Her fiancé graduated in 1970 from Northville High and is an Evans Scholar, also in the honors college at Michigan State.

A fall wedding is being planned by Josephine Ellen Steinberger and Daniel White. Their engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Steinberger of 23977 Meadowbrook Road.

Parents of the future bridegroom are Mrs. Charles Kadau of Gregory, Michigan, and Mr. Carl White of Plymouth.

The bride-elect and her fiancé are seniors Eastern Michigan University. She is a 1969 Novi High School graduate.

LaLeche Sets New Series For Women

The first meeting of the newly formed LaLeche League of Northville has been scheduled for Thursday, January 18. The topic of discussion will be the benefits of breast feeding to both mother and baby.

Beginning at 8 p.m., the group will meet in the home of Mrs. George Holmes at 42829 Itham Court. The meetings are scheduled in a series of four monthly meetings and the format for each meeting will be an informal discussion of the different phases of breastfeeding.

LaLeche League is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping interested mothers give happiness and security to their babies through breastfeeding.

Anyone interested in further information concerning the upcoming series should contact Mrs. Robert Frellick at 349-2840 or Mrs. Thomas Nunyez at 455-0215.

County Commissioner Rips Novi Council

An angry Lew Coy, Oakland County Commissioner from the Novi-Wixom-Walled Lake area, ripped into the Novi city council at Monday's session.

Taking the floor at 11:45 p.m. during the audience participation portion of the agenda, Coy criticized the city for its failure to take action on what he termed a "serious" drainage problem in the north end of the city.

Before he had finished, however, Coy called the council for its "lack of knowledge about county government" and raked Acting City Manager Ed Kriewall over the coals for having an unlisted telephone number.

Coy was only slightly less angry when he contacted The Novi News Tuesday morning.

"Novi is now an incorporated city and that gives them the four powers of government, which include the right of eminent domain," he said. "If the city of Novi is too timid to use those powers, they should consider reverting back to a township and letting the county solve their problems for them."

Object of Coy's wrath was a drainage problem which has developed on East Lake Drive. Apparently, an old farm drain had somehow been broken and the water had backed up into the homes of several residents.

"The people called me at 2 a.m. to complain about the drainage conditions," stated Coy, "but I don't blame them. If I had water flowing across my kitchen floor, I'd be frantic, too."

Although there was some question as to just how the old farm drain had been broken, Coy insisted that the cause should have nothing to do with the city's willingness to correct the problem.

According to Coy, he had been told by Kriewall that the city of Novi would not repair the drain because it was on private property.

"To tell me that a problem can't be solved because it's on private property," said Coy, "makes it abundantly clear to me that someone over there in Novi hasn't been doing their homework very well."

"As an incorporated city they have the right of eminent domain. By exercising that right they can attain a right of way to fix that drain and get those houses out from under water."

Coy urged the city to set up a special assessment district to construct a new drain for the people involved in the problem. "They've already put forward some money to pay for a backhoe to come in to alleviate part of their problem, it would seem to be that they would be highly receptive to a special assessment district," he said.

"It's not my intention to malign Novi," Coy continued, "but it seems to me that the city ought to be willing to try to help its residents."

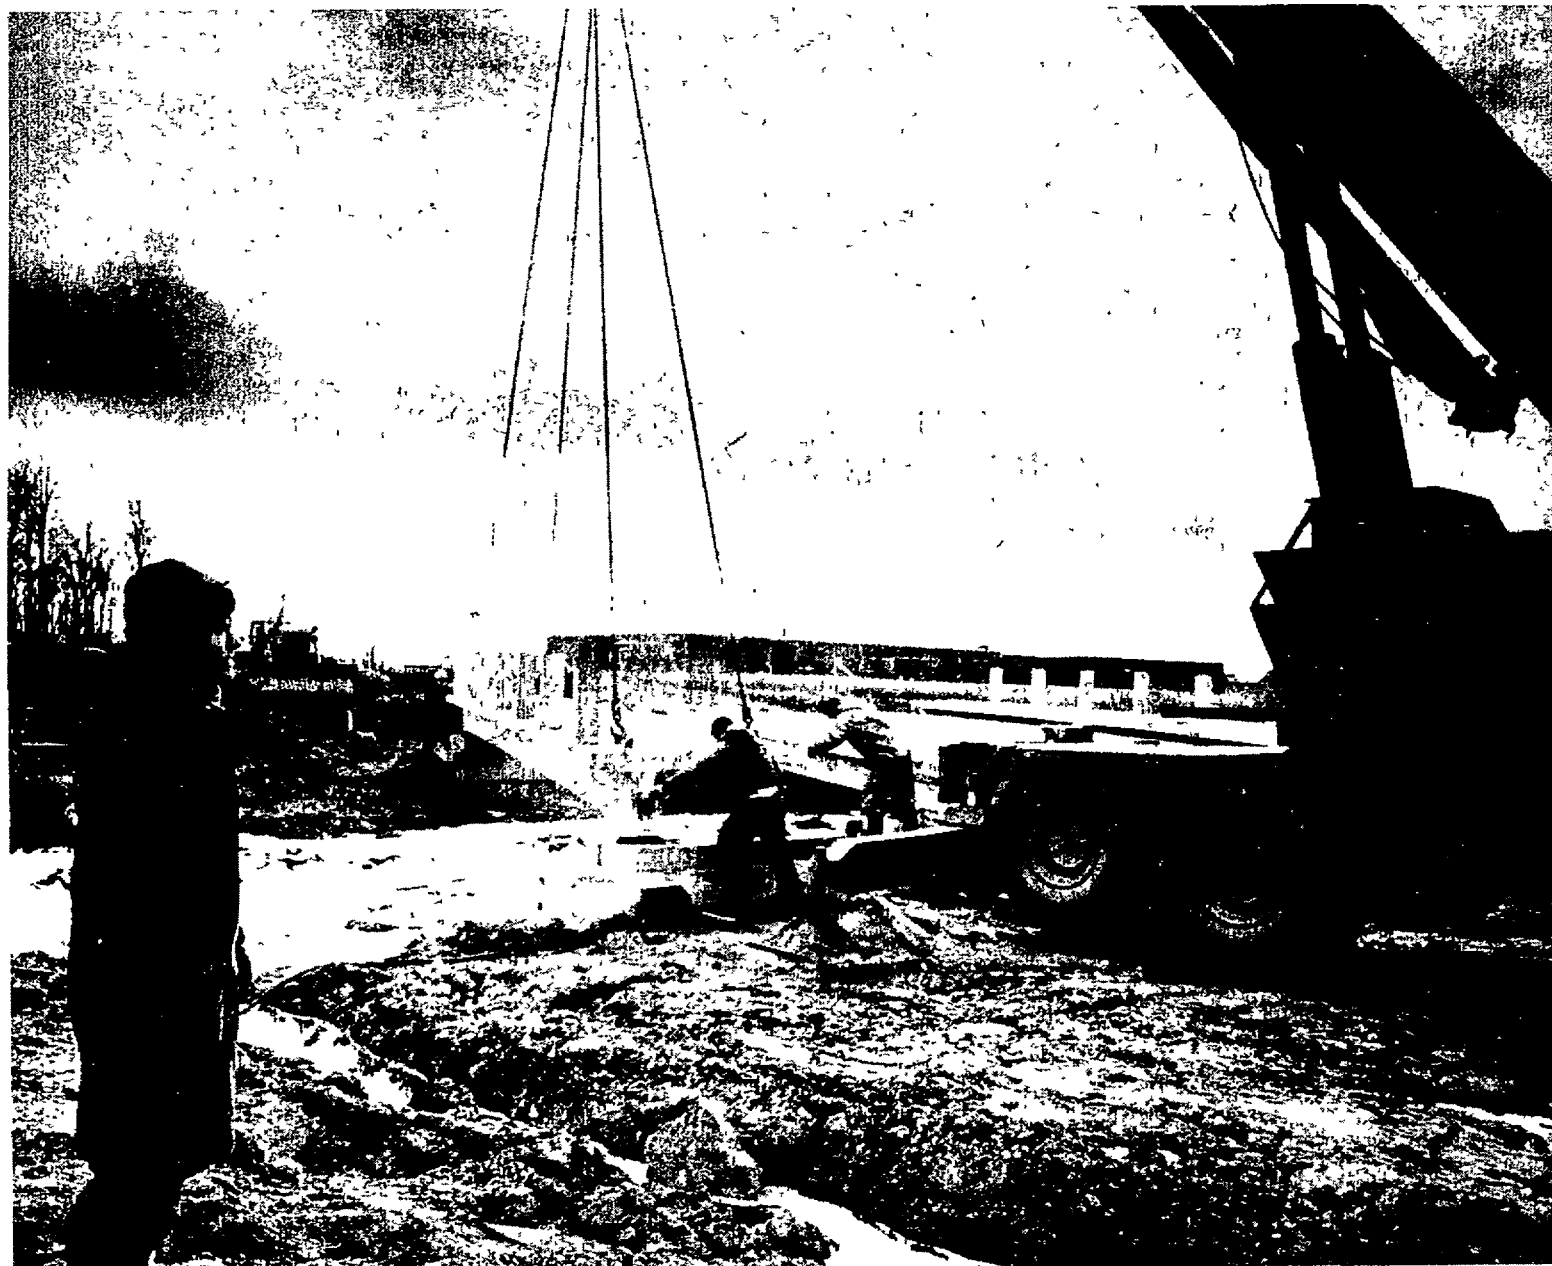

The drain was apparently broken when a private contractor failed to mend it after cutting through it while installing another sewer line.

"It is up to the city inspectors to protect its residents from shoddy work such as this," stated Coy. "The contractors aren't going to do anything they don't have to do. It's up to the city to guard against such abuses."

While Coy's major objection was to the city's lack of involvement in the drainage problem, he also lit into Acting City Manager Ed Kriewall for having an unlisted telephone number.

"I represent 30,000 people and when it gets so hot in the kitchen that I have to have my phone unlisted, then I'll get out of public service. I think a city manager ought to have a listed phone number so he's available to the people he serves."

WILLOWBROOK BRIDGE—Hoping to end more than a year of controversy, developers Kautman and Broad Monday installed a pre-cast steel and concrete bridge on Willowbrook Road over the Ingersol Creek. Cost of the bridge, according to K&B engineer Ron Steinacker, is $80,000. The bridge was originally to have been installed to provide access to the Village Oaks Elementary School.

Residents on Willowbrook Road objected to their street becoming a through-road, however, and construction of the bridge was delayed. The matter of whether or not Willowbrook Road will extend past the school into the Village Oaks subdivision has yet to be resolved. In the meantime, the road is blocked off and K&B has had to construct an $80,000 bridge that leads to a turn-around.

Regarding Taft Road Assessment

School Board Sets Survey

Should the Novi School District accept an assessment for paving of Taft Road?

This question, which in the past has received a negative reply from the board of education, soon will be put to a cross section of the public as the board attempts to sample the pulse of its constituents.

Recommended by Superintendent Gerald Kratz, the random sampling ordered by the board Tuesday is to be supervised by the Oakland Schools department at a cost of $250.

According to Polly Carithers, director of public information for Oakland Schools, one-sixth of the 2400 dwellings, or approximately 400 persons within the school district, are to be interviewed by telephone by some 20 local volunteers.

Presumably, the board will use the sampling as a guide when it again will decide whether to reject the assessment, as it may under the law and as it has in the past, or accept all or part of the estimated $38,000 assessment as proposed by the city.

Planners Table Action

A request by developer Holtzman and Silverman for preliminary plat approval of Meadowbrook Glens subdivision number three - a development of approximately 425 single family residences - was tabled for further study by the Novi planning commission Monday.

Involved is the proposed location of a new Novi Middle School on Meadowbrook Road midway between Ten Mile and Grand River.

The action came at a joint

A public hearing on the assessment proposal was held Wednesday at Novi High School. (See related story.) The paving project, which had been shelved by the city, recently was revived.

meeting of the planning board and city council. Although the tabling action taken by the planning board precluded any direct action of the council on the matter, several councilmen made it abundantly clear to Holtzman and Silverman representatives that much must be done before they will consider granting preliminary plat approval. That indication prompted the angry response of Arthur Shepherd, Holtzman and Silverman's planning consultant. "The plan we presented to you tonight was the best thing that could be done for the whole community," Schaeffer told the council. "Your opposition to our plan may make it impossible for that piece of property to be developed and could waylay plans for a school in that area."

The case is a complicated one.

Novi to Reconsider Cost-Benefit Ratio On Taft Paving

An indication that the Novi city council is willing to reevaluate the cost-benefit aspect of the Taft Road special assessment ratio was the major development to come out of a public hearing held last Wednesday at Novi High School.

Emphasizing that the amount of the assessment to be imposed on the members of the special assessment district was not to be determined at the hearing, Mayor Joseph Crupi made it clear that the council is not locked into the proposed $14 per front foot assessment and could indeed be willing to come down from that figure.

"I am well aware that there has been much discussion of the $14 per front foot figure being too high," the Mayor told the citizens at the hearing. "I am also well aware that one of our councilmen (Donald Young) has prepared a report that claims the $14 figure too high and that the Taft Road residents are prepared to take this matter to court."

"It would seem obvious that a great deal of consideration and study will have to be done before a decision on the amount of a special assessment which is equitable to the benefit residents will receive from the paving can be made," said Crupi.

Councilman Donald Young, who has led the opposition to the $14 per front foot assessment, said he was pleased with the willingness expressed by the mayor to reevaluate the situation. "I think that I've finally made some progress," he told The Novi News.

The purpose of Wednesday's hearing was to determine the "necessity" of paving Taft Road. "The purpose of this hearing," Crupi told the large turnout of citizens, "is merely to decide if indeed Taft Road ought to be paved. The amount of the assessment to be imposed on the property owners will not be discussed here tonight."

Thus, the council unanimously passed the third of seven resolutions in the city's unwieldy special assessment process and thereby directed the city manager to get final plans and specifications for the proposed paving project, as well as detailed cost estimates.

The question regarding the paving of Taft Road is not, of course, whether or not it ought to be paved - there is almost unanimous agreement on that point, even among the residents who are to be specially assessed. The problem with the Taft Road project is the amount of the assessment.

Thus, Wednesday's hearing, in which the council had only to determine that the road needed to be paved, missed the crux of the matter.

Nevertheless, Crupi permitted discussion on the amount of the assessment.

The consensus opinion of the majority of the property owners was expressed by Dan Thomas, representing the Novi Baptist Church, when he told the council if they "were to come up with a reasonable figure for your front foot assessment, I'm sure the people would go for it. We're not opposed to the paving, we just feel the amount of the

Jaycees Set Dates For Winter Carnival

Snow carnival time is almost here.

Novi's Jaycees, who sponsor the event in conjunction with the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission, announced last week that their second annual "Winter Carnival" has been set for Saturday and Sunday, February 10 and 11.

Once again the carnival will be highlighted by snowmobile races, but a wide range of activities that include ice skating races, snowman building contests, and ice fishing contests will also be offered.

The snowmobile races are slated to begin Saturday at 11 a.m. with drag races over a quarter-mile straightaway on Walled Lake. Preliminaries will be run in the morning with the finals slated to get underway at 1 p.m.

Sunday morning will find snowmobilers competing on an obstacle course which will be constructed in the City Park. Preliminaries start at 11 a.m. with the finals set for 1 p.m.

There will be separate classifications for all sizes of snowmobiles with classes based on engine displacement. In addition, there will be individual races for men, women, and teenagers 18 years old and under.

Winners will receive trophies.

There will be an entry fee of $5 for those 19 and older and a fee of $3 for those 18 and under.

All profits from the Winter Carnival will be turned over to the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Registration blanks for the snowmobile races can be obtained at most sporting good stores in the Novi and Walled Lake area. For further information about the races or the Snow Carnival call 477-3180 or 476-9499.

Council Considers Master Drain Plan

A proposal to have the city engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson prepare a Master Drainage Plan for the City of Novi is currently pending before the council.

Some time ago the council directed Acting City Manager Ed Kriewall to send a letter of inquiry to Johnson and Anderson requesting details of what such a study would entail.

Their reply was heard at Monday's council meeting. Such an undertaking, Johnson and Anderson reported, would include a study of all available data and the subsequent preparation of a report which would include their recommendations for the phase development drainage program for the entire city.

In addition, the report would include cost estimates for the proposed drainage programs.

The engineers also urged the city to consider authorization of the preparation of contour map plans. These would be useful not only in solving drainage problems, but could also be utilized for the extension of utilities throughout the area.

The cost of the project, approximately $9,800, could be recouped from selling the maps to developers.

Councilman Donald Young urged that the Master Drainage Plan also take into consideration a Master Road Elevation Plan. "The two go hand in hand," he said.

The council decided to take no action on authorizing the study until such time as Charles Fensky, Johnson and

Family Quilts Are Topic

"The Chapter in Stitches" will be presented at the noon meeting on Monday, January 15, of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Chapter members have been asked to place their family quilts on display that day at the home of Mrs. Robert Rosbalt, 1441 Linden in Plymouth, where the meeting will be held.

As the major portion of the day's program, colonial beginnings as seen in coverlets will be explained by Mrs. Thelma Cuper of Plymouth. Mrs. Cuper will also give chapter members a quilting demonstration.

According to Regent Mrs. David Christensen, this will be an important meeting for all members to attend as delegates to the State Conference and Continental Congress will be chosen to represent the local chapter. Final plans for the February 8 Indian Benefit Tea will be presented by Mrs. Donald Sober. Advance tickets for the tea will be sold at the meeting.

The tea will be the only event held this year for the benefit of the American Indian children and the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter members hope to make it a success. Presently, the local group is the leading chapter in the state for donations to the Indian children.

The benefit tea will be held from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth. It is open to the public and tickets may be obtained from any DAR member or by calling Mrs. Thomas Lovett at 349-4717 or Mrs. Robert Rosbalt at 453-7167. Donation for the tea is $1 per person.

If there are large people in your family, there is furniture that will serve their needs without looking massive. Modern design and styling takes size into consideration by using materials of strong, light construction and by eliminating heavy pads. Yet the over-all dimensions for comfort are retained. Furniture that has been scaled down to useful minimums does not make people seem huge, only the room, because the level of the furniture has been lowered and the bulk eliminated. Armchairs look just as good and are just as comfortable when the arm is a few inches in width.

Rural Mailboxes

They Come in All Shapes, Sizes

By MARTHA ROEMER

"Just look for the mailbox, and you'll know you've found the house," is what Mrs. Irene Bureau tells people who visit her Novi home for the first time.

She is just one of many people in the area who has an unusual mailbox. Some individuals use the regulation United States General Postmaster approved boxes and paint them or even decoupage the exterior, but others have handmade mailboxes that look nothing like the regulation boxes sold in department or hardware stores. The red barn mailbox with cedar shingle roof in front of the Bureau home was a housewarming gift from Mrs. Bureau's brother four years ago. "When he gave it to me," she said, "he told me that it would make a great landmark in directing people to the house."

Her brother, a builder by trade, made the box himself, she said, and added that most people who comment about the mailbox say that they wouldn't expect to see a barn-type mailbox in a city setting.

Paul Bosco of 25805 Beck Road also has a barn-shaped mailbox, but according to his wife, he had it made to fit in with the rural surroundings and "match the rest of what's here."

The United States Postal Service manual states that an individual can, indeed, design his own mailbox, although one of the three sizes of the metal U.S. General Postmaster approved boxes is preferred. Regardless of the kind of box, the manual states that the addressee's name and address should be clearly marked on the box in letters at least one inch high.

As far as the government regulations are concerned, white is the preference in box colors for the rural delivery mailboxes, but there is no hard and fast rule.

In cooperation with the Wixom Chamber of Commerce several years ago, Wixom Postmaster Elwood Grubb held a mailbox beautification contest to get the people of the city interested in painting their boxes and making them look nicer.

"Another reason for the contest," Grubb said, "was to get them to put their names and addresses on the boxes so the carriers know where to put the mail."

The mailbox at the Corbin Tillman home on Maple Road in Wixom is the usual rural delivery type, but the post on which it stands is the unusual part. It's an old water pump.

Mrs. Tillman explained that the pump was given to them when they lived in Iowa by family friends. "When we moved here," she said, "we brought it with us because of the sentimental value."

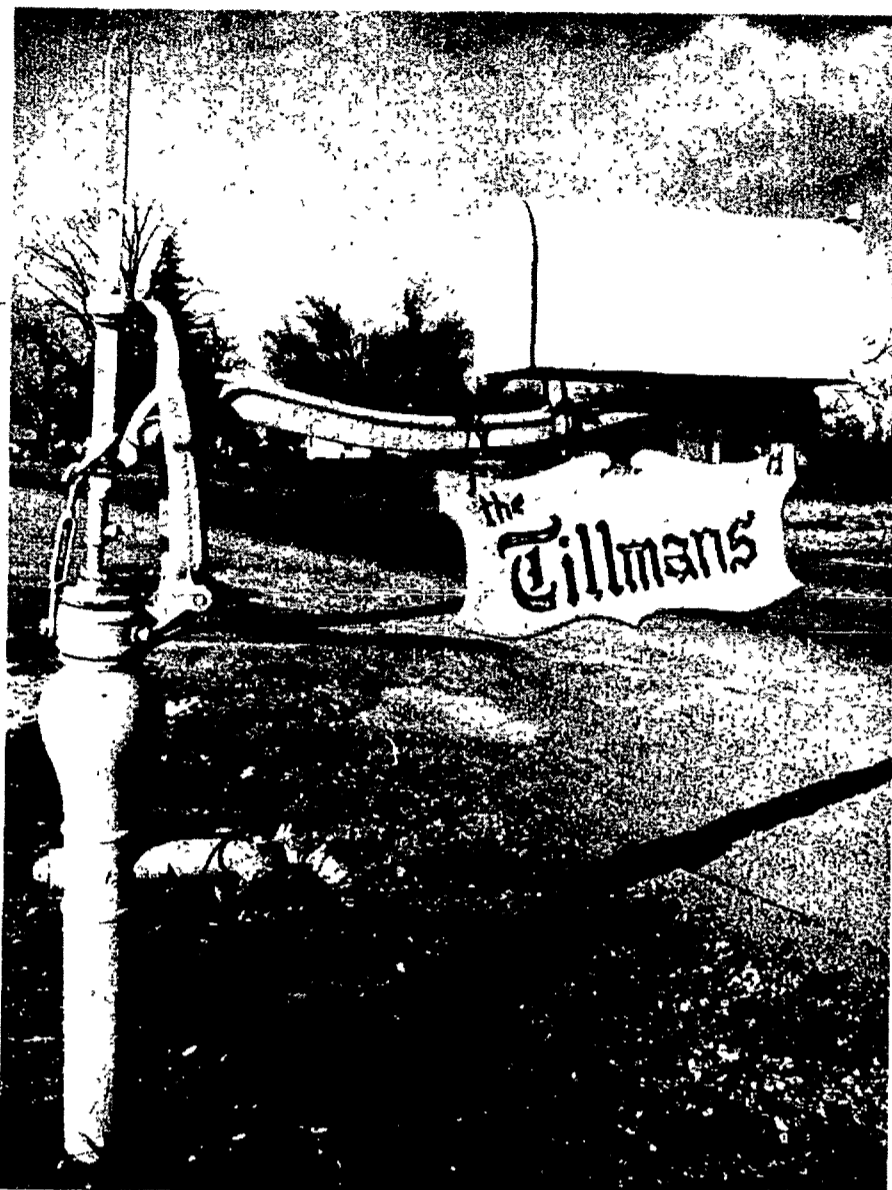

According to Ron Habeck, the manager of the Village Apartments in Wixom, each row of rural mailboxes there was covered with an alpine-style roof for two reasons.

"First of all, it keeps the boxes from being too exposed," Habeck said, "and also because it goes along with the design of the buildings."

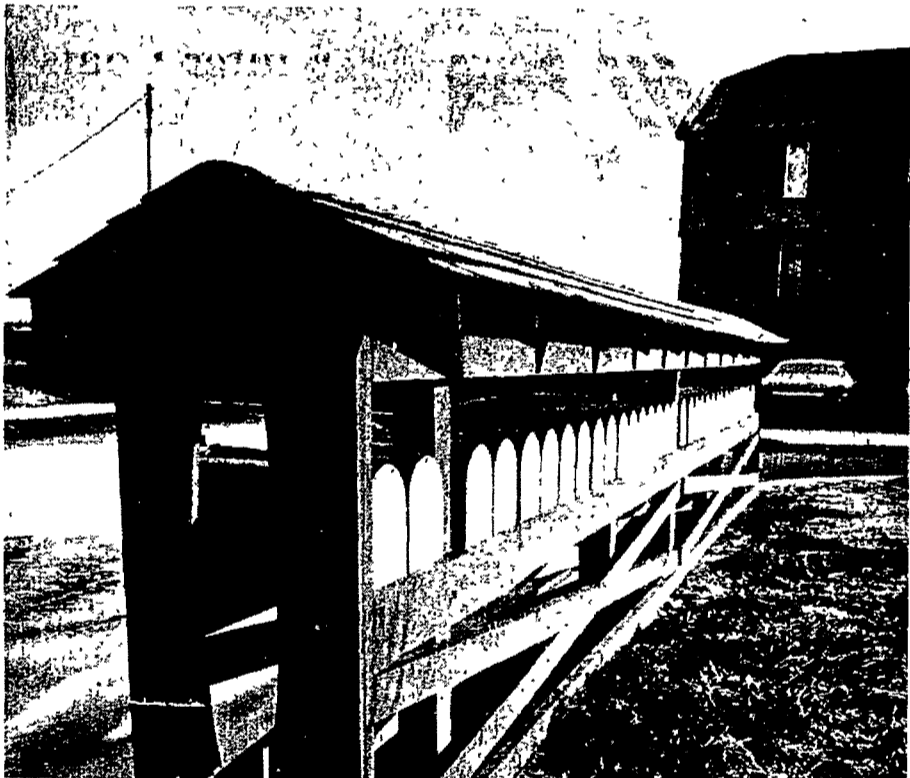

The John Stuyvenberg Jr. family receives mail in a miniature of their home. Mrs. Stuyvenberg explained that her father-in-law built the mailbox from the actual plans for the house and gave them the replica nine years ago when they moved into the Shadbrook home.

A poll of the Northville Post Office carriers, according to postmaster John Steimel, showed that the Stuyvenberg mailbox was the most unusual in town.

The stories behind the mailboxes outside, are very often as interesting as the people inside the house.

Boating Safety Course Offered

Lack of student interest has forced cancellation of a planned class in boating safety conducted in Northville by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Students who wish to take the class may do so at one of four other area schools, Miss Florence Panattoni, director of curriculum, explained.

The class will meet for three two-hour sessions. Students may enroll for the class at Central Junior High in Plymouth which start Thursday, February 8 and run from 4 to 6 p.m.; Bentley High in Livonia, beginning Monday, January 15, from 7 to 9 p.m.; Franklin High in Livonia, beginning Thursday, March 8, from 7 to 9 p.m.; and John Glenn High in Westland, beginning Thursday, February 8, from 7 to 9 p.m. All junior and senior high school students are eligible to take the course, which lasts three weeks.

Offer Adult Ed Classes At Walled Lake Central

Registration for high school completion courses, recreation classes and special interest groups of the Walled Lake Community Education Program will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., Monday, January 15, through Thursday, January 18, at Walled Lake Central High School, 2978 South Commerce Road.

High School completion courses for adults start the week of January 29 and offer English, U.S. history, shorthand and typing, math, accounting and bookkeeping, and chemistry, among the 16 subjects which give high school credit.

The vocational education program also begins the week of January 29 and will offer advance classes in welding, secretarial work, medical office assistance, and auto tune-up for those students who have successfully completed the beginning courses. Basic courses in data processing, amateur radio operation, gourmet food preparation, flower arrangement, and small engine repair are among classes offered.

Adult recreation programs with the emphasis on physical fitness will begin classes the week of January 29. Golf, tennis, karate, judo, yoga, modern and square dance lessons offer opportunities for exercise.

Craft and special interest classes begin the week of February 5. With classes designed to suit a wide variety of tastes, the subjects range from cake to the 'how to' of investing in stocks and bonds and the study of economic trends.

Brochures with the complete program available for the second semester have been mailed to all residents in the Walled Lake area, according to Robert E. Duff, director of community education.

For additional information on individual classes or for late registration, call the Registrar, Walled Lake Community Education office at 624-0202.

Hines Picks Indian Study At Eisenhower

Joseph M. Hines of 407 Ely Drive, South, a junior at Eisenhower College will be participating in the College's 1973 January Independent Study Term (JIST), one of the most exciting times of the Eisenhower College academic year.

Every January, each student at Eisenhower, a new fully accredited coeducational, independent liberal arts college, chooses an area or topic for an intensive month-long period of personal study. Some JIST projects take students abroad, while others take students to cities, libraries and universities across the nation. But many more are done right on the Eisenhower campus.

Hines has chosen a self-generated project and will be studying "The Vision Quest of the American Indian" under the direction of Professor Edward Hosley, Associate Prof. of Anthropology and Coordinator of Academic Advising.

For Wayne County

Eye Conservation Program

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has under consideration a proposal to establish a far-reaching "County Conservation Corp", similar to the C.C.C. program of the 1930's.

Now under review by the Board's Public Works Committee, the proposal was introduced by commissioner Richard E. Manning, D-Dist. 19, who represents Redford Township and part of Dearborn Heights.

Manning raised the proposal in a letter to board chairman, Robert E. Fitzpatrick, in which he said "this presents us with a real opportunity to adequately finance our standing governmental obligations and more importantly seek out new and innovative ways to better serve our County."

He suggested an expenditure up to $2½ million which he said "might have an effect on crime and delinquency in our youth, help in getting young people into the work force in healthy and rewarding jobs, and call upon the skills and maturity of many senior citizens."

Specifically, Manning's suggested program would:

- Recruit young people between 16 and 23 years of age into a two-year work-training program
- Use senior citizens as planner, directors and supervisors

- Execute a program designed to maintain and improve natural resources including the cleaning of the Rouge River

Tax Tops Salem Agenda

A relatively quiet and very brief town board meeting greeted the new year last week Tuesday in Salem.

Primary business conducted during the 37-minute session included discussion of taxation and assessing, revenue sharing and planning commission appointments.

Taken under advisement for February appointment were Board of Review nominees.

Supervisor Philip Brandon was voted the $38 fee necessary to cover tuition to Washtenaw Community College's assessing school. Brandon explained that the course, along with subsequent success on the test to follow, will qualify him at "Level I" and enable him to continue preparing the township's assessment rolls. Extension of his assessing certification was also announced at the meeting, contingent upon his course and test results.

Revenue sharing funds, according to the supervisor, will be channeled directly into the township's general fund. He explained "Due to the anticipated loss of federal funds to cover administrative clerk Edward Fitzgerald's salary, the offsetting federal funds will be needed in our general fund. The revenue sharing is no windfall here."

Ronald Shoenberger and Dr. Richard Thompson were reappointed to three year terms on the Planning Commission.

They Travel 3,600 Miles

Buses of the Walled Lake Consolidated School District travel a total of 3,600 miles daily. During the course of the school year, it is estimated that the Walled Lake busses travel more than 647,000 miles, exclusive of field trips and athletic events.

Those are just two of the statistics that appear on a fact sheet about the Walled Lake Schools that was released last week. Other facts appearing on the sheet follow:

Total membership in the Walled Lake schools is 11,276.

More than half those students (5,945) are in the district's 12 elementary (K-6) schools. There are 1,827 students in the two junior high (7-8) schools; 3,405 in the two senior high schools (9-12); and, an additional 98 in adult education.

The total district has a state equalized valuation of $217,882,525 which breaks down to an SEV of $19,332 per pupil.

The budget calls for the school district to operate on $10,782,750. Broken down, it is costs the Walled Lake School District $986.25 per year to educate each child.

State aid provides Walled Lake with $334.83 per pupil for a total state aid allocation of $4,379,666.

Walled Lake has 475 classroom teachers, 570 professionals, and 981 total employees.

It has 54 regular busses, seven spare busses, and three special education busses to cover the 55 square miles in the school district.

The food service serves 3,787 meals daily and 681,726 meals over the course of the school year.

Schedule Set in Novi

Students Study for Exams

With the end of the first semester drawing near, Novi High School Principal Hal Seymour announced the semester-end examination schedule.

Exams will be held Tuesday through Thursday, January 23-25, from 8 a.m. until 12 noon.

Final exams for first and second hour classes will be given Tuesday. First hour exams will be held from 8 a.m. till 10 a.m. with second hour exams being given from 10 a.m. till noon.

Exams for the third and fourth hour classes will be given Wednesday with third hour class exams from 8-10 and fourth hour exams from 10-12.

Exams for the fifth and sixth hour classes will be held Thursday under the same schedule. Fifth hour classes will meet for their final examinations from 8-10, while the sixth hour classes will take their exams from 10-12.

There will be no classes Friday - the final day of the semester - and students do not need to report to school.

Seymour announced that bus transportation will be provided, as usual on the morning of exam days. Busses will also be available to return students home at noon. Students who do not have exams are not required to be in school, however, and if they can find alternate means of transportation, they are welcome to do so, Seymour said.

Study halls will be available for students who want to use them.

No lunches will be served.

Seedlings Available In Oakland County

Orders for tree seedlings are being taken by the Oakland County Soil Conservation District, according to James Reid, Chairman of the District.

Species available this year are: Red Pine, White Pine, Scotch Pine, Austrian Pine, Norway Spruce, Colorado Blue Spruce, White Spruce, Douglas Fir, White Cedar, Black Walnut, Tulip Tree, and a shrub Bittersweet.

Order blanks may be obtained from the SCD Office, located at 4515 Highland Road (M-59), Pontiac or from the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 1025 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac. The trees will be available some time between April 1 and April 15, Reid said.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

Approximately 100 friends gathered at Fire Hall no. 2, corner of Thirteen Mile and Paracount Street, on Saturday night, January 6 for a surprise belated wedding reception for Fred and Fran Loynes, who were married November 24, and a retirement party for Mr. Loynes, who would be completing 30 years service in the Novi Fire Department on April of this year. Those present enjoyed a potluck dinner, followed by a program and dancing.

Those participating in the program presented Fred with a fishing tackle box full of fishing equipment and special plaque. Duane Bell gave a brief history of the Fire Department and presented a beautifully decorated book of fire run records and the guest list.

Chief Skellenger of Kensington Park, also a long time member of the department, spoke regarding the early days of the department, and Councilman Denis Berry, representing Mayor Joseph Crupi, presented Fred with a plaque from the City and a hand-made cribbage board.

Mrs. Bud Sprenger made a beautifully decorated wedding cake and Mrs. Fran Kohl made a replica of the Fire Hall which also served a container for the many cards and well wishes of all those present.

Rose Button, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Button of Grand River, left this week with other members of John Wesley College for a trip to Europe. They plan to visit many European countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tobel of Pioneer Meadows and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Ortwin of Novi Road returned recently from a 10-day trip to Hawaii. While there they learned some of the language, visited Volcano Island, toured Diamond Head, Pearl Harbor, Beach of Waikiki, Chinatown, and waterfalls. A highlight of the trip was a river boat cruise to Fern Grotto, which was especially enjoyed because of the romantic atmosphere which suited Mr. and Mrs. Tobel.

who celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary on December 27th. They flew back to Los Angeles where they had a short family reunion with Mrs. Tobel's family before returning home.

Frank Steinberger of Meadowbrook Road bagged a spikehorn such on December 30, while bow and arrow hunting near Pinckney.

Melinda Needham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Needham, left this week to attend Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Mae Atkinson of Fonda Street entertained the following friends and relatives over the holidays: Mr. and Mrs. James Hagle and daughters and Miss Marjorie Atkinson of Port Huron.

Leon Dochot of South Lake Drive attended the January 10 meeting of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association at Key Falls where he heard Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney Patterson speak.

Word has been received of the birth of Eric Reed Clink, on November 8, 1972. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clink (former Sharon Gattrell of Eleven Mile Road) of Florida.

Mrs. Russell Button of Grand River opened her home and entertained about 12 close friends of Mrs. Laney Henderson at lunch on Tuesday. Mrs. Henderson will be leaving this week to return to West Virginia.

Dr. William Alegnani and his family were Sunday dinner guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. Dolly Alegnani of Willowbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Wardell Lyke entertained their daughters and their families, who are now living out of state, over the holidays. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alan Rose (former Allison Lyke) from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Maddox (former Becky Lyke) of Minneapolis, Jennifer Lyke, home from University of Michigan; Jennifer in turn had as her houseguest Karin Malloy of New Orleans.

Mrs. Jennie Champion has been visiting relatives in Alma, Grand Blanc and Flint during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fox have returned home after spending time over the New Year's holiday with friends in Hale where they enjoyed snowmobiling.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gattrell of Eleven Mile Road attended their first Tree Trimming

Open House at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rambo (former Lois Gattrell) of Plymouth.

Rose Button entertained a number of her college friends on New Year's Eve at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Button. Guests were present from Owosso, Farmington, Walled Lake and Dearborn.

Mrs. Laney Henderson spent several days visiting with old friends while staying with Mrs. Dolly Alegnani and preparing to return home.

Mrs. Hildred Hunt of Eleven Mile Road, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mitchell of Glenda Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wyatt of Plymouth spent New Year's day with friends from Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. John Rowan.

Mrs. Marie LaFond of Twelve Mile Road spent Christmas with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Don LaFond of Union Lake.

Bill MacDermaid and his fiancée, Jennie Spars, spent several days during the holidays with his parents at Stassen Street in Novi before returning to work at Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Marve Tobel were pleasantly surprised by their four young children with a 15th wedding anniversary party recently. The children were aided by their grandparents in preparing this for their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gattrell and their family recently got together and celebrated six birthdays within the family.

Mrs. Hildred Hunt entertained several of her friends, Mrs. Marie Tripp, Mrs. Laney Henderson, on Wednesday with an afternoon spent playing pinocle.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glance of Stassen Street returned home Monday from a weekend spent ice fishing and visiting with relatives in Saginaw.

Mrs. Marie LaFond is now a great, great grandmother on the occasion of the birth of a baby boy named Julius Hall in December to Mr. and Mrs. George Hall (former Rebecca Brainer) of Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. John French spent the Christmas holidays in Illinois visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Lindsey, and Mrs. Sylvia Green.

New Year's Day dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Green. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer King and Chris, Natalie and Tracey Green, Mr. and Mrs. John French, Carl Green, Jr., and Wayne Dallas.

Mrs. Laney Henderson left Saturday to return to her son's home in Falls church, Virginia.

Cub Scout Pack 240 Orchard Hills School

The January committee meeting was called to order by Chairman Ed DeBrule, who welcomed Spike Walker, Jerry Heinz, Dan Norton and Dan Parsons. Mr. Walker and Mr. Heinz will be fund raising chairmen and Mr. Parsons and Mr. Norton will be activities chairmen.

The Round Table meeting is scheduled for the second Thursday of the month at Walled Lake. Other activities of the month will be an ice skating party from 1-3 at the DeBrule residence 23034 Ennshire. Each Cub is asked to bring a piece of firewood. Refreshments of hot chocolate and donuts will be served. This is a family outing and all are welcome.

Other dates set by the committee include the next committee meeting on February 7 at 8 p.m. and the Blue and Gold Banquet which is tentatively set for Thursday, February 15 at the Novi Middle School. It will be a catered affair, and the cub's dinners will be paid for.

The Pack would like to thank Elaine Soli, who not only rehearsed the cubs with their Christmas carols but also accompanied them on the piano. They also presented their program at Beverly Manor again under Mrs. Soli's direction.

Novi Boy Scouts

The Novi Boy Scouts had a regular meeting on Monday night, January 8. Following is a list of the patrols and patrol leaders: Wolverine Patrol, Biff McAllister and Steve Michaels; Pink Panthers, Rick Jensen and Jeff Smith; Flaming Arrow, Rick Paderski and Greg Cain; Wildcat Patrol, Mark De La Gardie and Rod Beers.

Their month's calendar includes a Den Chief's training meeting on Saturday, January 13 at the Clifford Smith Junior High in Walled Lake. January 15 is tentatively set for basketball at the Novi Community Building; Saturday January 20, a one-day winter campout is planned at Camp Agawam; and on Monday, January 22 a regular troop meeting is slated at the Novi Middle School followed by an ice skating party on Monday, January 29.

Methodist Church

The sermon was titled "God's Will due to Circumstances," with Scripture from Hebrew 2:5 followed by a congregational songfest. Greeters were Mr. and Mrs. William Fox, ushers were Roger Pelchat, Jr. and Roger Pelchat, Sr. and the acolyte was Craig Pelchat. Flowers on the altar were given by Mrs. Hazel Stangebery and Mrs. Ruth Waldenmyer.

The M.Y.F. met Sunday night and the week's meetings include the Novi Northville Pastor's meeting on Tuesday, at 12:30, the Weight Watchers at the church at 7 on Tuesday choir rehearsal on Wednesday, and an all day "Key '73 Season" at the Northville United Methodist Church on Saturday, Thursday, January 18 there will be an administration Board meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Novi Senior Citizens

The Novi Senior Citizens met at the United Methodist Church on Wednesday, January 10 and celebrated New Year's and Christmas belatedly. It featured a covered dish luncheon, with Mrs. Dolly Alegnani serving as hostess. There was the usual bountiful table, indicating how many good cooks there are in the group, both men and women, officials reported.

Singers were accompanied by Ruth Ann Zimmer, organist for the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Songbooks were supplied by Mrs. Hildred

Hunt and favors by Mrs. Lewis Tank. Following the gift exchange, cards and games of choice were enjoyed.

"A very belated thank you is due the Novi Rotary Club for entertaining the Novi Senior Citizens before Christmas," officials said. Special tribute was paid Mr. Henry Bashian, a Rotarian and a Senior Citizen. The next regular meeting will be at the Novi Community Building at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, January 26th. Anyone wishing information or transportation is asked to call Mrs. Nancy Liddle at 349-2219.

NESPO

Parents of the Novi Elementary School met on Tuesday for their monthly NESPO meeting. Special speaker was Mr. Bob Rodgers, Oakland County school reading consultant, who spoke regarding setting up a teacher aid program which provides extra help for the students in the reading, language and art area.

Volunteers were chosen at the meeting and will be getting organized under the leadership of Mrs. Sandy Isham as chairman. This group is still working on the "Every student book" and there will be a workshop on Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Isham to help complete this project. The open house has been tentatively scheduled for the 2nd week in February.

Novi Cub Scout Pack 54

There was a committee meeting at the home of Chairman Smith and plans were completed for the Rocket Derby in January to be held at the Community Building. Also, the group made plans for the annual Blue and Gold Banquet in February.

Blue Star Mothers

Blue Star Mothers met at the home of Mrs. Hildred Hunt on Eleven Mile Road, and two volunteers, Mrs. Barb Baldwin and Mrs. Lucy Needham, made plans to visit the patients at the Veterans Hospital on Tuesday. The ladies also planned a bingo party on Thursday night for the ward. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Marie Tripp, and everyone is encouraged to participate in the "Americanism" program.

Novi Youth Assistance Committee

All representatives of the various organizations are urged to remember the very important meeting on January 18 at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. This will be the first meeting at which Mr. Wally Cook, the new caseworker in Novi, will be present. Everyone is urged to come and meet him. There will be a committee reporting on the needs of the young people in the community. Anyone having questions regarding the group may contact Father Leslie Harding.

Novi Rebekah Lodge

Next regular meeting will be on January 11 when there will be a memorial for Frances Neilsen who passed away on December 31 at the Gratiot Community Hospital in Alma. Hostesses for the January meeting of Lodge will be Kathryn Bachert and Mae Atkinson.

Novi Girl Scouts

There will be a leaders meeting on January 16th from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the United Methodist Church for all Orchard Hills and Village Oaks leaders.

There will not be any more meetings of Junior Troop No. 713 as the leader, Mrs. Gloria Land, has resigned and will be taking on a new job with the Novi School system. Anyone interesting in helping with this troop is asked to contact Mrs. Folsom at 349-5713.

All troops who have not sent in their sustaining membership chairman are urged to do so immediately. They are also reminded that the $2 registration fee for the next year can be turned in at anytime before March.

The new training schedules are available are, the first Learning Center will be in Birmingham with additional ones scheduled in the surrounding areas. On March 29 there will be one in Farmington. Leaders are urged to attend the Hancraft workshop on Tuesday, January 30 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Farmington. Persons wishing more information are asked to contact Mrs. Folsom at 349-5713 or Mrs. Wilenius at 349-2056.

First Baptist Church of Novi

Music in the morning worship service was a selection by choir, "My Heart's Prayer," and a solo by Mrs. Bernice Stewart, "Thanks to Calvary."

The Lord's Supper observance followed the morning service. A film was shown for the Primary Church group during Communion. Phil Baynes was in charge of the evening service and brought the evening message. Phil and Jan sang a duet, "God is So Wonderful." Phil also will be conducting the Wednesday night service as the pastor is speaking at Southland Bible Institute this week.

The Vera Vaughn Circle is meeting on Thursday evening this week instead of Tuesday. Mary Lou Christy of the Novi Drug Abuse Committee will be speaking. Wixom Newsbeat

Ray and Hank Rate Top Honors

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Among Wixom's male population there stand two who must be given a pat on the head for being exemplary. That is not to say the rest of us Wixom wives are left out in the cold because our husbands do surprise us now and then with a little goodie or two.

Ray Mustonen and Hank Mack rate high honors for this week. Both men are active in a bowling league. Along with four other buddies in the league, they have dutifully saved all their prize money derived from their bowling prowess. The idea was to save enough money to take their wives on an extra special, "pull-out-all-stops" trip. Back in 1965 they took their wives to Nassau for a week.

Eight long years (and many bowling kitties) later, the six comrades and their wives jetted to San Francisco and the Monterey Peninsula for seven days. Not only do the guys bowl together, but the wives are also very close friends and all enjoy an added pastime...golf.

They all headed west on December 26 and burned the candle at both ends by touring San Francisco, nightclubbing and rounds of golf. Riding cable cars proved to be an added sport and all the guys enjoyed a hefty shove at the end of the line to turn the car around. (It's the 100th anniversary of the San Francisco cable car, you know.)

Leave it up to a tourist to pick up "fillers" in a newspaper too. Did you know that there are over 400 accidents a year caused by cable cars? Most are caused by brake failure (remember that the next time you're in S.F.) but now and then a passenger falls off. Beautiful weather helped to make the trip more enjoyable and favorite spots in the "golden city" proved to be the Purple Onion, Fisherman's Wharf and eating typically Japanese food in typically Japanese fashion.

Coy Passes State Exam

Oakland County Commissioner Lew L. Coy of Wixom has been informed that he has passed the Level III examination by the State Assessors Board.

Coy, who has been studying all ramifications of assessing, indicated he has "no intentions of ever earning any money" with his certification by the Michigan Department of Treasurer.

Although with certification he reportedly is better qualified than any assessor within his commission district, Coy said his studies "have better prepared me to represent my constituency well."

Then it was down the peninsula to the famous Pebble Beach Golf Course and two days at the Del Monte Lodge. The group's rooms overlooked both the 18th hole and the ocean. Naturally, the golf course received rave notices and the men were out to play each course before giving up.

New Year's Eve was celebrated in San Francisco in the confines of their suites — the group was too pooped to participate. Now it's back to the "save the old kitty" routine.

I've been meaning to mention this next item for several weeks but wanted to make sure I had all the Wixom winners.

The Walled Lake Library Board sponsored a poster and essay contest for all children in the Walled Lake School District. Children in grades one through three entered the poster contest, while the remaining grades submitted essays. Wixom turned out three essay winners.

In the fourth through sixth grade classification, Bridgette Nissen won third place honors.

The seventh and eighth grade category, saw Dee Profitt winning first place and Laurie Evans' essay took second. The children wrote on "What Christmas Means to Me".

Each winner was awarded a book for his reading level. Congratulations to our budding young writers.

Sadness has touched the lives of two Wixom residents during this past week.

Carolyn Morehead received word of the death of her father in Ludington, Michigan on January 2. The kind thoughts and condolences Carolyn's family received from many Wixom residents were most appreciated.

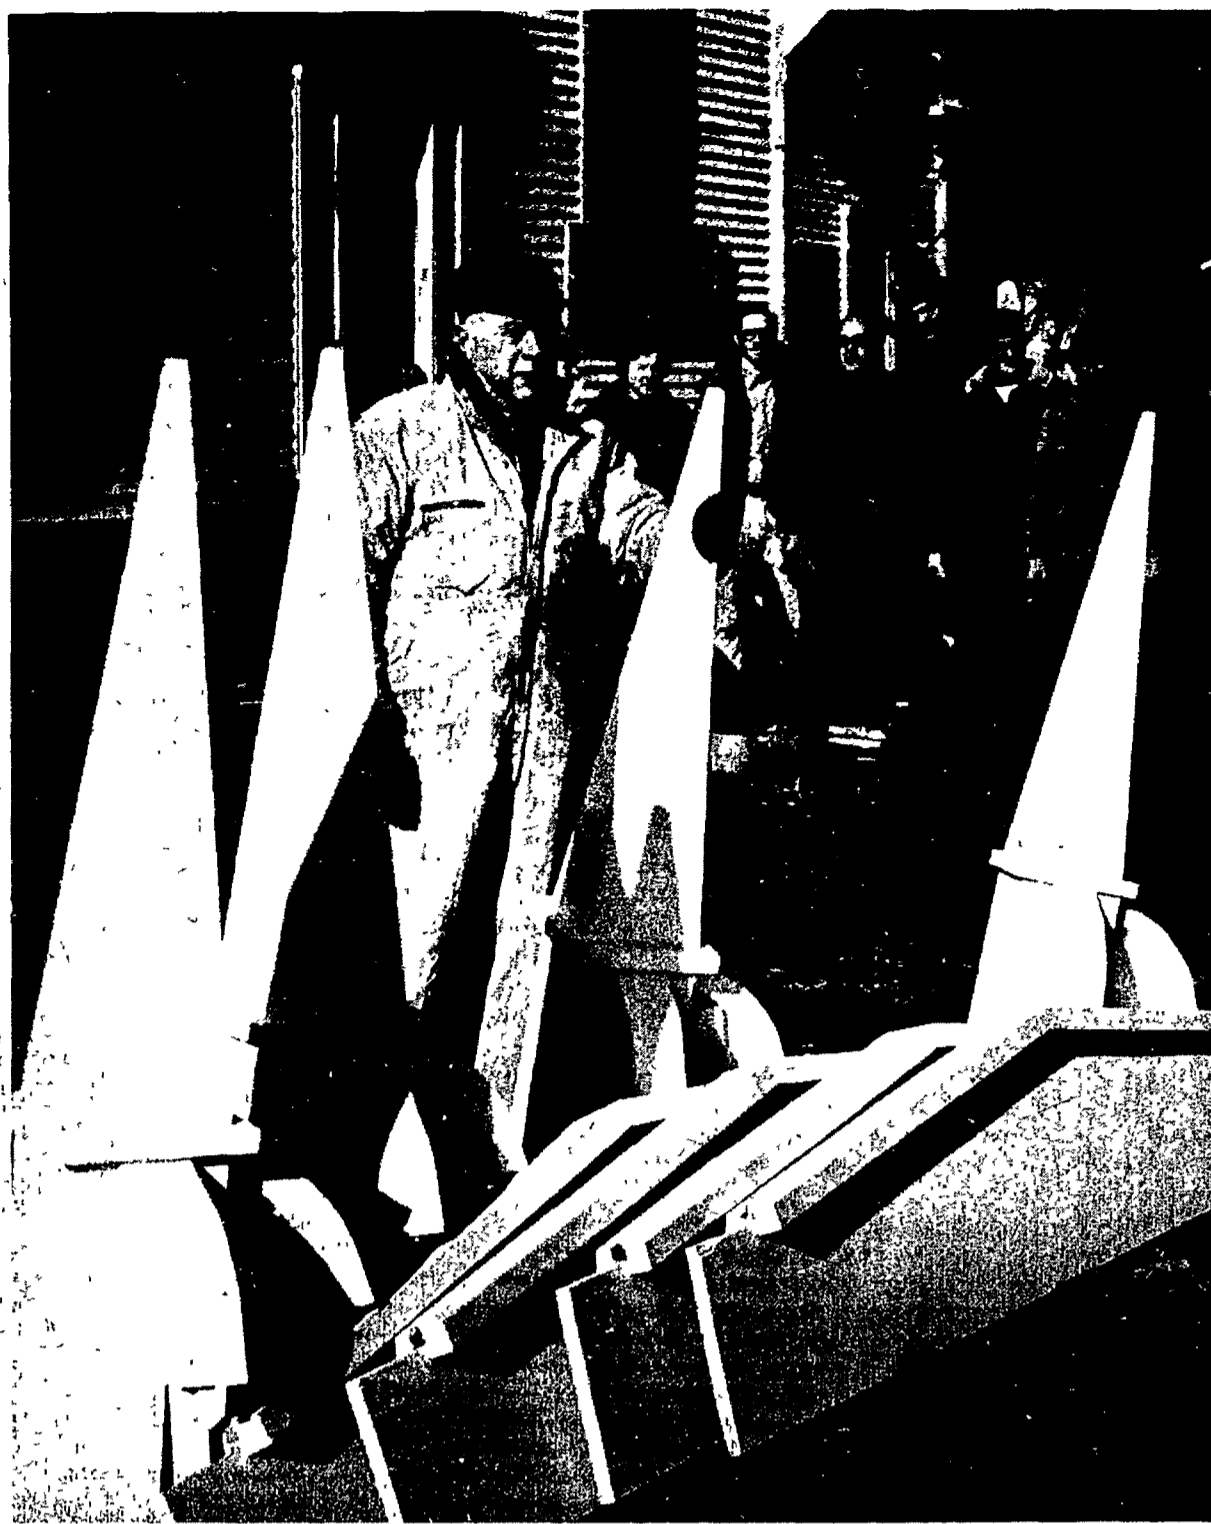

To Matt Kettola and George Tuorin and his family, sympathies are extended on the death of their wife and mother, Hilja Kettola. She was 87 years old and had been in ill health for the past three years. She died on January 5 and was buried in the Wixom Cemetery on this Monday.

From Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sikkila of Wixom Road a big thank you to the Wixom Police Department for their quick action when Mrs. Sikkila was taken ill last week. She is now at home recovering. Mr. Sikkila credits the police and their speedy response to her well being today. A job well done for the guys in blue.

Left overs... One of my children telling me that the only way to see Santa Claus was to take the Sears Catalogue along for exact details.

The thrill of a young lifetime last weekend. There was a visitor at the Sheridan Valley Ski Club who created quite a stir. My son looking up at a long, lanky figure with a bushy beard and saying, "Are you Bill Freehan?"

The response "I think so" brought a shake of a hand and the saucer-eyed entry back into the lodge uttering "Gee-ee". The idol of a nine-year-old.

WORK FORCE—Battling bitter cold a work force of Historical Society volunteers turned out Saturday to prepare the two historic buildings for moving next week to new foundations. Highlight of the day was delivery of the four finials that will decorate the tower of the old library building. They were built by Society member E. A. Chapman (foreground), who also was the chief builder of the library model that has been displayed in the community during the past several years.

Review Taft Paving Costs

As presently proposed the city would pick up 56 of the total cost of the project with the remaining 44 percent coming from the assessment of the property owners.

Taft Road residents feel that the city should bear a greater share of the burden since it is the location of the High School at the corner of Taft and 11 Mile which makes the paving necessary.

"This is a resident road in name only," stated one Taft Road property owner. "The real reason you need Taft Road to be paved so badly is that it is really just an extension of the school driveway."

Another resident asked the council: "Do you think we're so naive to believe that you're paving this road for our benefit? It's the school which creates the need. Before the school was constructed, there was no need for the road to be paved."

Yet another property owner, Mary Wikman, asked the council in a letter if the fact that the public hearing was being held on Taft Road wasn't proof in itself that it was the city at large and not the Taft Road residents who would most benefit from the paving.

Cruip argued that there was no doubt that paving Taft Road would increase the value of their property. "What we have to determine," he said, "is a cost-benefit figure that is equitable. It's unfortunate that we don't have laws which will permit assessments of this sort to be paid at the time the property is sold at its increased value."

"Frankly, I'd like to be able to pocket the amount of money you will gain in property value as a result of having this road paved," he said.

Others argued that paving the road would not be as much a benefit as Cruip said it would be.

"If it increases our property values, it will also increase our taxes," said Mrs. Wikman. "That's not the kind of benefit I need."

Another resident pointed out that paving the road would increase traffic volume and thus bring a greater safety hazard to the property owners along the road.

Carl Traynor, a member of the Novi Road Committee, scolded the Taft Road residents who objected to the assessment. "When you people moved in here you must have realized that Taft Road was going to have to be paved some day and that you'd be specially assessed for it. If you think the city should pay to pave a road that will raise the value of your property, it seems to me that you've got things a little backward."

Other discussion concerned drainage and maintenance problems. The question yet to be resolved is what is the true benefit paving the road will have to property owners?

4 OU Courses Set January 22

Meadow Brook Hall at Oakland University is the classroom for four unusual short courses offered by the university's division of continuing education in the winter term of credit-free evening courses beginning the week of January 22.

Wine expert Walter W. Rosenberg conducts his popular beginning wine appreciation course on Mondays. Enrollees will learn to appreciate, care for and use wines. Each meeting is devoted to practical wine knowledge followed by comparative tastings of six different wines accompanied by the study and tasting of three imported cheeses.

Boris Gaynes, executive vice-president of Sidney Kravall, instructs a fundamentals of gemology course on Mondays. Enrollees will have opportunities to use jeweler's equipment to examine precious and semi-precious gems.

Psychical Research on Wednesdays focuses on past, present and future research into the question of human survival after bodily death.

Aesthetics will help enrollees to gain a deeper understanding of the basis of beauty and ugliness and intellectual and emotional responses to them.

Those enrolling for one or more Stately Dinners January 12, February 9, and March 16, will experience a return to the days of relaxed dining in the unequalled atmosphere, service and surroundings of one of America's truly great homes.

To register for courses, call the division of continuing education, 377-3120

Men's Club Hosts Editor

Frank Angelo, associate executive editor of the Detroit Free Press, will be a guest speaker tonight (Thursday) at a dinner program of the Presbyterian Men's Club in Northville.

The dinner begins at 6:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church social hall, followed by Angelo's address about 7:30 p.m.

Introducing the speaker will be Jack Hoffman, assistant to the publisher of Sliger publications.

Language Class Offered Here

An in-service workshop program on teaching language arts in elementary schools will be conducted in Northville by Oakland University.

The off-campus graduate program, Education 534, carries four credit hours and is open to all teachers and residents of the Northville area.

The class will be held at Cooke Junior High Annex on West Main Street from 4 to 7 p.m. on Mondays. Beginning January 8, classes continue through April 16.

Instructor will be Bill Martin Jr., adjunct professor at Oakland University. Martin has written the "Sounds of Language" readers, "Instant Reader," "Owl Books" and conducts the "Bill Martin Show" on educational television. The class will deal in a humanistic approach to developing spelling, composition, speaking and listening skills in children. It will coordinate the language arts approach using literature for growth in communications skills.

For further information on the program, contact Miss Florence Panattoni, director of instruction for Northville schools, at 349-3400.

Registration and fees will be handled at the second class session. Cost is $90 for Oakland University students. New students will also be required to pay a $15 registration fee.

Police Blotter

Sentenced in Arson Attempt

In Northville

James B. Wynneparry, 30, has been sentenced to serve from 40 months to five years in prison after he pled guilty to added charges of attempting to burn real property.

Wynneparry, who was arrested July 2, 1972, at the scene of the Book and Easel fire on North Center Street, had been charged with arson.

The arson charge was dismissed in Wayne County Circuit Court last week after he pled guilty to the added count of attempting to burn property.

Wynneparry was sentenced Monday in circuit court and given credit on his sentence for 189 days he has already served in jail.

Damage to the Book and Easel building, which is owned by Charles Lapham, was placed at $50,000. Contents lost in the fire were estimated at $15,000.

Police are investigating a report of a car stolen late Monday or early Tuesday from Northville Downs' main parking lot.

Harriet Greenberg of Livonia told police her locked 1970 Ford LTD bearing 1972 Michigan license plates LGG-213 was stolen between 7:30 p.m. Monday and 12:15 a.m. Tuesday. The car is dark blue with a black vinyl top.

A car stolen last week from 810 Horton Street was recovered last Thursday afternoon by Southfield Police. Damage to the car was limited to a broken lock.

In Township

An explosion and fire destroyed the Drury Puckett home at 18303 Ridge Road Saturday evening.

According to reports, a youth was working in the basement on the gas tank and carburetor of a motorcycle when the gas tank and furnace exploded shortly after 5:30 p.m.

Northville and Salem fire departments fought the blaze until 9:10 p.m. The Northville fire department was recalled to the scene shortly after 10 p.m. when flames were again discovered in the living room of the house.

No injuries were reported in the fire.

In Novi

A 19-year old Walled Lake man, Reginald Coburn, was arraigned last week on charges of felonious assault after having allegedly struck another man over the head with a pool stick during a bar fight.

Coburn was arrested Tuesday, January 2, after officers were summoned to break up a fight at Helen's Hideaway Bar at the corner of 13 Mile and Novi Roads.

According to police reports, the officers observed Coburn strike a Michael Burrow of Union Lake over the head with the cue stick and subsequently arrest him.

Burrow, along with two others injured during the brawl, were taken to Botsford Hospital for treatment.

Thomas Mellen, a 26-year old Farmington man, was treated and released from Botsford Hospital after being thrown 45 feet from his car during an accident Wednesday, January 3, at 7:30 a.m.

Police reported that Mellen was driving west-bound on I-96 approximately one and one-half miles east of Novi Road when he hit a patch of ice on an overpass. His car slid into the guard rail and then swerved back across the expressway, rolling over onto its side.

A Novi patrol car was damaged last week when it was struck by another vehicle while parked on a routine traffic stop.

According to police reports, the officer had stopped the driver of a pick-up truck to investigate a case of drunken driving. The officer parked the truck behind the truck and approached it on foot.

The driver of the truck reportedly failed to set his hand brake and his truck rolled back into the police car, doing minor damage.

Following further investigation, the man was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor.

City Police Get New Radio Grant

Radio grant totaling $25,400 was formally awarded to Northville City Police Department last Thursday, January 4.

The grant, which is to be used by the local department during 1973, was made under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 through the Office of Criminal Justice Programs in Lansing.

Commenting on the grant, Chief Samuel Elkins said it will enable the police department to have "one of the most up-to-date radio communications system in Michigan."

Under the award, the city of Northville will pay $4,369 towards the new system, plus $2,800 for a new radio base station. The federal government is contributing $19,050, while the state is paying $1,981.

Currently, the department is developing specifications for bids on the project, with the new system to be in operation during late summer.

The grant provides a new console unit which will enable the dispatcher to have controls for police and fire radios, burglary alarms, fire siren and police station door locks in one panel in front of him.

"Also included will be three new four-frequency radios for the police cars, three four-frequency portable radios, two radio transmission towers, base station dispatching desk and related equipment.

Lieutenant Louis Westfall explained that the four-frequency radios will allow direct car-to-car communication with other police agencies. Currently, communication with other police departments must be relayed from the police car through the dispatcher to the other department.

In Wixom

Four men suspected of breaking into a Charms Road residence last November were arrested by Wixom police last week on charges of violation of the state's narcotics law.

An additional charge of breaking and entering a dwelling was brought against one of the four — Thomas Daniel Pelkey, 22, of Detroit — in conjunction with the November 30 break-in of the Wixom home.

In that case, four men attempted to break into a private residence, but were frightened off by a 15-year old girl who grabbed a revolver and opened fire on the quartet.

Arrested in addition to Thomas Daniel Pelkey were James Dennis Pelkey, 23, of Detroit; Daniel Eugene Pelkey, 19, of Walled Lake; and Dennis Jerome Witkowski, 22, of Detroit.

Following their arraignment on the charges, the four were released on $1,000 personal recognizance bond on each charge brought against them. Examination has been set for January 12.

The four were apprehended Saturday, December 30, at approximately 10:30 p.m. after police spotted the car believed to have been involved in the attempted Wixom breaking and entering at the Big Boy Drive-in in Walled Lake.

An additional police car was summoned to the scene and the four were subsequently taken into custody.

While searching the car, officers found several cellophane bags of suspected narcotics which were later found to be marihuana and heroin, according to reports.

Two men wanted for armed robbery in Livingston County were arrested by Wixom police Tuesday, January 2.

At 11:10 p.m. Wixom officers received a "be on the look-out" bulletin for a 1963 Chevrolet believed to be in the New Hudson area.

Patrolman Vern Darlington observed the vehicle shortly later at the New Hudson Inn and summoned two other Wixom officers to the scene.

The three officers subsequently moved in and arrested Randall Fink, 18, and Kenneth Asch, also 18, on the armed robbery charges.

While searching the suspects, police found a toy pistol in the pocket of Asch's jacket.

The pair were subsequently turned over to Livingston County Police.

An FM stereo 8-track tape player and 22 stereo tapes were reportedly stolen from a car owned by Gordon Gregory of Keego Harbor last week.

Value of the stolen items was estimated at $230.

Gregory told police the theft took place between 6 a.m. and 5 p.m. Wednesday, January 3, while his car was parked in the Ford Motor Company employee's parking lot.

A residence at 47800 West Road was reportedly broken and entered some time between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m. December 31 and January 1.

The front door had been pried open, police reported. The only stolen property is believed to be a piggy bank containing approximately $75 in cash.

Downs' Handle Hits $256,000

Picking up momentum during the Christmas-New Year holiday period, Jackson's Action at Northville Downs closed its fall meet with a three percent increase in nightly average, and started the 24-night winter meet with a sensational 20 percent increase for the first week.

Nightly average handle for the 46-night fall meet soared past $263,000, compared with a $256,000 average just a year ago. For the winter meet, even going against a Saturday night opener a year ago, with a Monday night opener this year, both crowds and wagering were skyrocketing.

For the third time during the back-to-back meets Michigan horsemen benefited from a purse increase. Leon A. Slavin, President and General Manager of the Jackson-at-Northville meets upped the purse schedule by 15 to 25 percent, bringing the minimum to $1,200, highest in winter meet history in the state.

With the new high purse schedule, horses that normally sat out early winter dates were returning to action, upping the calibre of racing materially.

One of the more sensational win streaks of the fall was shattered during the week when the invading Skipper Dean met defeat while trying for a 7th consecutive victory. The Russ Baldwin-handled trotter made a game effort to extend the skein, but had to settle for 4th place.

Site Work Set Today

Volunteers wishing to assist in development of Novi's nature study site adjacent to the middle school are asked to come prepared for some outdoor work this (Thursday) afternoon.

Brush cutting, removal of dead or dying trees, etc. are planned from 3 to 5 p.m.

In connection with this project, Superintendent Gerald Kratz disclosed that the Novi Rotary Club has indicated a desire to finance the entranceway to the site.

IT'S OFFICIAL—R. Robert Geake of Northville, elected to the Michigan House of Representatives last November, was sworn into office during ceremonies in the Livonia City Mall Thursday. Administering the oath of office is Judge James McCann. Geake, an active member of the Northville Rotary Club and past chairman of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, takes over the legislative post formerly held by Marvin Stempien of Livonia. In his new state post, Geake represents both Northville and Livonia.

At Schoolcraft

Get Acquainted Time

"Get Acquainted Week" is currently in progress at Schoolcraft College, continuing through Saturday.

Sponsored by the Schoolcraft Student Senate, "Get Acquainted Week" is designed to introduce students to one another and to get students involved with what's happening on campus.

The Waterman Campus Center is the scene of the week's activities and has been decorated with posters announcing various events.

Admission to most activities is the nametag issued free to anyone with a valid Schoolcraft identification card. Nametags will be available at the Student Activities Office, games room counter and the upper level of the Waterman Center.

Activities scheduled for today (Thursday) include music by Airfish and Dan Tripp at The Last Drop (Waterman Center), demonstrations by the Candleman, toof ball tournament, karate demonstration, atomic film festival including Comedy of Terrors, House of Wax and film shorts. 1973 Michigan license plates will also be on sale.

Friday's activities include Dan Tripp, Mike Riley and Danny Cox at The Last Drop, student workshop films, finals of the toof ball tournament, high school wrestling tournament and showing of the Danish movie "Ordet."

Special event will be the 101 spaghetti dinner, with a one cent charge for the dinner and $1 for the entertainment. Saturday concludes the week with an evening concert sponsored by Kappa Tau Rho. Featured will be Michael Quatro Jam Band, Jonathon Round and Julia.

The concert begins at 8 p.m.

College Hosts Mat Tourney

Thirty-two squads including defending champion Redford Union will compete in the third annual invitational wrestling tournament for high schools at Schoolcraft College January 12-13.

Dr. Larry Meyer, Schoolcraft's wrestling coach and meet director, said the field is especially strong this year, making the invitational the premier event for prep wrestlers in the metropolitan area. "All top 10 teams from last year will be back," he said.

Among the local squads competing will be those from Novi and South Lyon.

2 Site Plans In Northville

Site plans for two business projects were approved by the Northville City Planning Commission Thursday.

The proposed addition to Northville Laboratories, 100 Rural Hill, received the green light of commissioners following an earlier variance granted by the board of appeals. The addition is to be a warehouse.

Also approved was the site plan for a proposed professional office facility at the corner of North Center and Rayson streets. The applicant, James Cutler, proposes to convert the existing house on the property to offices. It is already zoned PO.

Approval of the latter plan was conditioned upon provision for parking on the north side but not west of the front of the building and upon submission of a letter of intent to prohibit use of the upstairs for all purposes but maintenance.

In other business Thursday, the commission set a public hearing on March 6 for the requested rezoning of the city-owned property on Fairbrook Street, adjacent to Northville Laboratories, and the Conrad Langfield home and property.

The commission also announced its intention of continuing the November public hearing for the proposed ordinance governing storage of recreational vehicles (trailers, campers, etc.) on Tuesday January 16.

Rips Novi Council

Coy also chastised the council for a question asked of him earlier in the meeting. The question, asked by Councilman Denis Berry, concerned the County's plans for widening Novi Road.

Coy responded to Berry's question by saying he did not know, but he lit into the Novi councilman during the audience participation part of the agenda.

"I don't know if that question was asked to embarrass me or not," said Coy. "But it showed a real lack of knowledge of county government. As a county commissioner, I have much less to do with your roads than you do as city councilmen."

"If you need information about what's going to happen to your roads I suggest that you go right across the street from your city hall to the offices of Frazer Staman, who is Oakland County Road Commissioner."

Berry told Coy that he hadn't asked the question to embarrass him, but out of courtesy as he was in the audience.

"If I wanted to embarrass you, Lew," said Berry, "I could have thought of much better ways than that."

originally planned.

Thus, an alternate plan of development was prepared and presented to the planning board and council Monday for preliminary plat approval.

Primary feature of the revised plan was the location of a school adjacent to Meadowbrook Road where previously single family residences had been planned.

"The school board had indicated to us that they are interested in a school site on Meadowbrook Road," Schaeffer told the council. "While the soil conditions do not permit development as we had originally planned, the site could be sold to the school for its use. They could construct their building on the firm ground and turn the rest of the area into a playground," Schaeffer continued.

The school would be constructed on a site south of Ten and One-Half Mile Road on the west side of Meadowbrook. The piece of land immediately south of the possible school site is owned by the Catholic Church, while the property on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook is slated for commercial development.

The planning board's objection to the revised plan was that it provided no access from Meadowbrook Glens through to Meadowbrook Road. Instead all the traffic would exit onto 10 Mile with provisions included for exits north to Grand River when the property north of Meadowbrook Glens is developed.

Schaeffer explained that the original plan had included an exit onto Meadowbrook, but that the road had been excluded at the request of the school board which thought that running a road past the school would create a safety hazard.

Councilman Denis Berry commented that the members of the school board seemed to be contradicting themselves. "To this day," he said, "the school board has demanded that Kaufman and Broad extend Willowbrook Road past Village Oaks School. But now you tell us that they've decided they don't want a road going by this school."

Meadowbrook Glens citizens attending the meeting also complained about the lack of access to Meadowbrook Road. "If there's no exit onto Meadowbrook," said one resident, "that means the entire subdivision will be exiting onto 10 Mile from just two roads, and then you will have a case of unsafe traffic conditions."

A motion to deny the request for preliminary plat approval completely was defeated by a 5-4 vote and the planning board then voted unanimously to table action at the present time and have the developer study the plan with the thought of providing some sort of access onto Meadowbrook Road.

Although no action was required of the council, Mayor Joseph Crupi urged that it give the developers an indication of their feelings on the proposed plan.

"The question I want you to consider," the Mayor told the council, "is whether you consider the plan presented to us tonight a revision of the pre-preliminary plan previously submitted, or an entirely new plan."

Last year Holtzman and Silverman was granted an extension of one year in which they could develop Meadowbrook Glens under the city's old zoning ordinance which permits minimum lot sizes of 60 feet. The new ordinance calls for minimum lot widths of 80 feet.

City Attorney David Fried told the council that if the plan submitted by Holtzman and Silverman Monday was considered a revision of the pre-preliminary plan, the developer could proceed according to the old ordinance.

If you consider this plan a completely new plan, Fried continued, they'd be governed by the new ordinance and would be unable to use the smaller lot sizes.

The council indicated that it considered the plan submitted Monday a completely new plan.

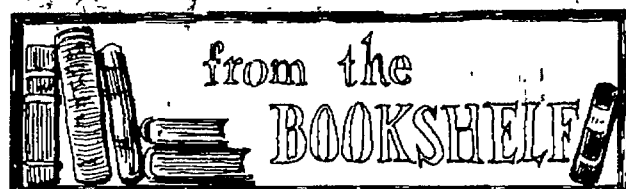

"If the developer didn't take the precautions of getting soil borings before he came in with his original plan, I don't feel the city should get stuck with having to right the situation for him," commented Councilman Edwin Presnell.

The council was also concerned that the new plan would enable Holtzman and Silverman to avoid having to pay the full cost of paving half the road that abuts their Meadowbrook Road property.

"If they were to develop that land," pointed out Councilman Louie Campbell, "they'd be required to pay for the paving of Meadowbrook. But by selling the abutting property to the school board which doesn't have to pay for the paving, we end up having to pay for paving the road. We'll have the same situation out there that we now have on Taft Road."

"It looks to me that this will become another situation in which the school and the developer will get out of having to pay for the paving of the road and the bill will end up in the pocket of the tax payer," added Councilman Denis Berry.

JUVENILE

Of interest to Boy Scout leaders and to the scouts themselves, the Novi Public Library has purchased a series of books on varied subjects to help the boys in obtaining merit badges.

Books, available for circulation are: reading, cooking, pioneering, cycling, stamp collecting, swimming, life saving, gardening, safety, aviation and astronomy.

Also at the library is the new edition of the Boy Scout Handbook.

"Digging into the gas shortage"

Let's face it. There IS a gas shortage.

As a customer, it's not up to you to worry whether the gas is going to be there when you need it. That's the responsibility of the Gas Company. In much of Michigan, that means Consumers Power Company.

To insure that the gas requirements of its customers will continue to be met, Consumers Power organized a subsidiary company to look for new gas reserves. And new gas has been found: in northern Michigan near Kalkaska; in the Gulf of Mexico; and in Louisiana.

But new supplies from the Gulf Coast probably won't be available in Michigan for several years. Meanwhile, we must depend on additional gas from Michigan wells, and on supplementary gas from a new reforming plant being built near Marysville.

Consumers Power is doing all it can to insure reliable service for its customers. But gas, like other forms of energy, is a valuable commodity. Use it wisely!

Your future depends

Eye Wixom Fire Station Site

Several bases were touched Tuesday evening by the Wixom city council. Among them were encouraging word concerning a new city fire station, action on a storm drainage study, and a new appointment to the city planning commission.

City Attorney Gene Schnell made it a matter of public record that very soon the city will be the possessor of a parcel of land on which it could build a long-awaited fire station.

Although it was as yet unsigned a purchase agreement has been prepared and initial agreement has been reached between the city and The Boam Company, present owners of the land. Once the sale is final, the city Schnell said, will have a lot 120 feet by 300 feet on which to erect a fire hall.

By unanimous vote, the council agreed to spend $7,500 on a storm drainage system study for the entire city. The action was prompted by a letter sent to the council by the city engineers.

The study, according to Mayor Gilbert C. Willis, is to include the reports needed by the council before a final decision on a new system can be reached by them.

Melvin Green of Beck Road was appointed by the mayor to the city planning commission. The appointment was made necessary by the resignation of Peter Paisley.

Paisley was forced to resign because he no longer lives in the city. Green has lived in Wixom for three years.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Airport Construction

Board Wayne County Road Commissioners

The Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan announces that, pursuant to Section 16(d) of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-258), it will hold a Public Hearing concerning a proposed new runway and related facilities at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport. The Hearing will commence at 6:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on January 5, 1973 at Romulus Senior High School, 9650 South Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174.

The proposed new runway will serve airline operations for domestic and international, as well as cargo and general aviation activities. It will be constructed in a northeast-southwest alignment parallel to the two existing northeast-southwest runways. The runway will be 6,000 feet long and 150 feet wide with a supporting taxiway system. The proposed construction will include in addition to the runway taxiway system, necessary runway and taxiway lighting required navigational aids, security fencing and a new storm drainage system outletting to a new retention basin. To accommodate this runway taxiway system it will be necessary to relocate Eureka Road and to relocate the existing perimeter drainage ditch. It will be necessary to utilize 1,521 acres of land for these improvements, which have been acquired.

The hearing will afford interested persons groups, and agencies an opportunity for public consideration of the economic, social and environmental effects of the proposed new runway and related facilities and its consistency with the goals and objectives of such urban planning as has been carried out by the community. "Social, economic, and environmental effects" mean the direct and indirect benefits or losses to the community as a result of the proposed development. These benefits or losses may include but are not limited to effects on:

- a. Safe and efficient use of the Airport
  - b. Economic activity
  - c. Public health and safety
  - d. Property values, and
  - e. The human and natural environment including:
- (1) Displacement of persons and replacement housing
  - (2) Sound
  - (3) Neighborhood character and location,
  - (4) Fish and wildlife
  - (5) Historic, natural scenic and recreation areas,
  - (6) Water and air quality
  - (7) Land use,
  - (8) Protection and enhancement of natural resources and the quality of environment and
  - (9) Feasible and prudent alternatives to potential adverse effects on the environment, including consideration of need for the proposed development.
- Interested parties may present oral testimony of their views concerning these matters. Although it is not invidious, the Wayne County Road Commission requests those intending to make oral presentations at the hearing to notify the Board in writing or by telephone, to Mr. Charles Van Deusen, Project Director, Mezzanine, 1-C Smith Terminal, Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport, Detroit, Michigan 48226, Telephone Area Code 313-941-4891, by Tuesday, January 2, 1973. Anyone wishing to submit questions for comment by the Board Commission in its presentation at the hearing are invited to do so in writing to the above address.

In addition written statements and other exhibits relating to these matters will be incorporated into the transcript of the hearing. Provided such statements or exhibits are submitted to Mr. James M. Davey, Managing Director of the Wayne County Road Commission, 7th Floor City County Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226, Telephone Area Code 313-214-2002, by January 25, 1973. Such written statements or other exhibits may be submitted by any interested party whether or not such party participates in the oral hearing.

In order to afford all those desiring to express their views an opportunity to be heard each speaker should plan to limit the oral presentation to ten minutes or less. If this time allocation will not provide an adequate opportunity for a fair oral presentation of views, please contact Mr. James M. Davey, Managing Director of the Board in advance of the hearing. In addition to oral presentations, written statements and other exhibits without any length limit are welcomed to supplement the oral presentation, all of which will be incorporated into the transcript.

The Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan are required pursuant to FAA Order 5050.2 and Section 102(2)(c) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (P.L. 91-190) to prepare a Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement relating to the proposed runway project. The environmental statement is based on studies performed by the environmental consultants to the Board, R. Dixon Speas Associates, Inc., 47 Hillside Avenue, Manhasset, Long Island, New York 11030, the Mirex Corporation, 1200 Dolley Madison Boulevard, McLean, Virginia 22101, and the staff of the Wayne County Road Commission.

All the hearing copies of the following documents will be available for review by those attending:

1. The Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
2. The Airport Layout Plan
3. The applicable sections of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and FAA Order 5050.2

Copies of the following documents will be distributed at the Public Hearing:

1. A summary version of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
2. The Airport Layout Plan
3. A limited number of copies of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement

The following documents will be available for review at the Office of the Airport Project Director, Mezzanine, 1-C Smith Terminal, Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport, Detroit, Michigan 48226, Telephone Area Code 313-941-4891:

1. Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
2. The Airport Master Plan
3. The Airport Layout Plan
4. The applicable sections of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and FAA Order 5050.2
5. The Passenger Terminal and Cargo Facilities Master Plan Report prepared by Arnold Thompson Associates Inc., dated June 1972
6. The Landmark & Brown Master Plan Report for Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport dated 1967
7. The Master Plan documents of the communities adjacent to the Airport
8. The applicable air and water quality standards
9. Relevant communications concerning the National Airport System Plan

These documents will be available for review thirty (30) days prior to the Public Hearing and for twenty one (21) days after the Public Hearing.

To aid in the dissemination of the vital information concerning this Public Hearing the 19 locations listed following this paragraph have agreed to offer the following documents during the hours listed for the 30 days prior to the Public Hearing and for 21 days after the Public Hearing. The documents available at these locations are:

1. A copy, for review at that location, of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
2. A summary of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement which interested parties may feel free to take
3. The Airport Layout Plan which interested parties may also take

It should be noted that any of the three documents listed above will be mailed, upon request, to any individual upon calling or writing the Airport Project Director at the address and telephone number listed above.

College Passes First State Audit

Report of the first audit conducted during the 11-year history of Schoolcraft College was released last week by the State Auditor General's office.

Covering the period July 1, 1970, through June 30, 1971, the audit was conducted between January and May, 1972.

Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote said he considers the audit to be "a clean one" and that it calls attention to areas of both strength and weakness in the college's general operation.

The audit, which examined the college's performance since its founding in accord with state statutes, college board policies and administrative procedures, questioned three items.

One involved a college-paid holiday for a member of the administration who led negotiations during the 1970-71 school year when the college was involved in a teacher strike.

The trip was paid for by the college as compensation for the additional time spent in negotiating the faculty contract, with the total cost charged to a negotiation expense account.

Auditors noted the college should observe its employee travel policy of reimbursing only for travel in performance of college business and not as a means for additional compensation for services rendered.

Two other items concerned college payment for the repair of private automobiles of board members which were damaged while on college business.

"In the three instances," Dr. Grote explained, "the action taken was quite legal and within the prerogative of the college board and state statutes."

"While the auditors might not agree with the action taken," he continued, "their disagreement does not automatically make these items sensational and certainly not illegal in any fashion."

Total amount of money involved was approximately $1,100.

Only one recommendation in the audit was based on any type of violation by Schoolcraft of a state statute.

That concerned requiring signed faculty oaths of allegiance to the Constitution of the United States and the State of Michigan as required by a 1935 statute.

Signing of the oaths was to have been completed early this week, Dr. Grote said.

At least 15 specific recommendations made by the auditors have been adopted by the college and many other suggestions are currently being studied, administrators said.

"In many instances we had already recognized the need for changes and had, in fact, made some of these during the time the audit team was on campus," Dr. Grote said.

Dr. Grote said the Schoolcraft audit is "one of the best I've seen of a community college" and credited former college president Dr. Eric J. Bradner and Ken Lindner, vice-president for business affairs, for the excellent audit.

Audits of three or more community colleges are conducted each year as specified in the community college appropriations acts.

Determination of which colleges will be audited is made by the State Auditor General and his staff.

Novi May Get Intern From EMU

Novi schools may retain an intern to coordinate a pilot community education program, it was disclosed Tuesday.

According to Superintendent Gerald Kratz, a young Mott Foundation intern from Eastern Michigan University, Carl Hultquist, is being considered for the post. He is to meet with the board of education at its next meeting.

Launching of community education in Novi, would best be accomplished by a pilot program, Dr. Kratz told the board Tuesday. "This would ensure closer observation and evaluation prior to becoming part of the regular school offerings," he said.

In the event that an intern is not available, search for a full-time coordinator is planned, he said. Responsibilities of the coordinator as outlined by the superintendent include:

1. Responsible for development of a community school concept.

2. Coordinate and schedule all community use of the school buildings in conjunction with the building principal's overall goals and objectives of the school.

3. Direct the adult education program.

4. Publicize all phases of the program in cooperation with the principal.

5. Work in conjunction with community groups, organizations, to further community improvement through use of school resources.

6. Coordinate after-school and evening activities with regular school day portion of the school program.

7. Seek out and identify community resources to aid the school faculty.

8. Train any other community directors as the need arises.

9. Be responsible for the summer educational program, use of the buildings, and the development of these programs.

10. Assist the superintendent with certain assigned duties, and any other duties that may be assigned by the superintendent.

Northville Township Adds Three Voting Precincts

Three precincts have been added to Northville township, bringing the total number to seven.

In announcing the addition, Clerk Sally Cayley said the move was made necessary by the growth in population of the township.

She added that the new precincts should alleviate long lines of persons waiting to cast ballots, as occurred in the last election.

Precinct divisions have been made with an eye towards anticipated growth. "While some precincts may seem to have a low number of registered voters," Mrs. Cayley explained, "housing developments currently in progress in those precincts will change that number within two years."

Registered voters will soon be notified by mail of the change in precincts and, in some cases, of the change in polling place.

Mrs. Cayley said she also needs two precinct chairmen and precinct workers for the new areas. Persons interested are asked to contact her at township hall.

Precinct One, which includes 701 voters, covers the area from the city limits of Northville west to Napier Road between Seven and Eight Mile Roads and votes at township offices.

Precinct Two, 914 voters, includes area from city limits east to Haggerty between Seven and Eight Mile roads, votes in Highland Lakes Clubhouse.

Precinct Three, 600 voters, includes both sides of Northville Road west to Napier Road between Seven and Six Mile roads, except Kings Mill, and also includes Innsbrook, votes at township offices.

Precinct Four, 131 voters, includes area from Hines Drive to Napier Road between Six and Five Mile roads, votes at Tanger Elementary School.

Precinct Five, 789 voters, includes all of Kings Mill and votes at Kings Mill Clubhouse.

Precinct Six, 144 voters, covers Hines Drive east to Bradner Road, north to Innsbrook and south to Five Mile Road, plus all area between Six and Seven Mile and Haggerty roads, excluding Innsbrook. Precinct Six votes at township offices.

Precinct Seven, with 1,114 voters, covers the area between Six and Five Mile roads, from Bradner Road east to the township limits.

Mr. Heard, who died January 6 at Art Center Hospital in Detroit where he lived, was 27.

Born April 29, 1945, in Baltimore, Maryland, he was the son of George F. and Peggy L. (Arnold) Heard.

Surviving are his parents, who live in Milford, and a sister, Mrs. Diane Lewis of Plainwell, Michigan.

Officiating at the services was the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of the First United Methodist Church of Northville. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Novi Board Orders Survey On Taft Road Assessment

4. Have you heard about the problems involving the paving of Taft Road?

5. There are four courses of action open to the board: the board can refuse, under Michigan law, to pay for the assessment; the board can pay a portion of the assessment; the board can pay the total assessment and get special consideration such as an extra strip in front of the school; or the board can pay the total assessment without any special consideration.

How would you advise the board to act?

6. In what area do you think the Novi Schools most needs improvement? Which would you like them to tackle first?

7. Now let's dream a little. If money were no object what would you add first to the schools?

8. However, money is an object, and funds are limited. If the board cut back the budget this year, where would you have them cut?

9. Would you be willing to support a small tax increase—of not more than 2 mills—to avoid any cuts?

The survey, according to Mrs. Carithers, should be about 95-percent accurate. Results will be fed into the county's computer system for analysis, she said.

The project is expected to take some three weeks—hopefully less, according to the board.

In his report to the board, Dr. Kratz pointed out that the Novi school administration contacted 11 different school districts to learn their positions on assessment.

"In general, it was the consensus of the schools contacted to participate in special assessments, not because they were required by law, but because of a personal responsibility each one felt toward maintaining a working relationship with the various city, township, and county forms of governments," he said.

"None of the school districts contacted had any formal board policy for special assessments," he continued. "Each district judged each request from the respective municipalities on an individual basis."

"Some districts had informally agreed to pay what was expected of any private owner; others negotiated a lesser amount; some were selective in participation, while still others asked for special considerations."

"Only one district, as a rule, did not participate in any special assessments. In all cases, the special assessment requests were carefully examined and no funds contributed unless the project was reasonably related to the proper function of the public schools."

Drain Plan

Anderson's Novi representative, could be present to answer specific questions regarding preparation of the report.

"There's certainly no question that we do have a real need for such a report," added Councilman Edwin Presnell.

Speaking for Myself Who'll Win Super Bowl?

Redskins. . .

It wasn't easy writing this article. I never was able to laugh and write at the same time.

Sportsman that I am, I allowed my counterpart on The Argus to choose which of the Super Bowl contenders he wanted to support. Prior to his selection, my prime concern was how to develop a semi-convincing article about the chances of the Dolphins. After his selection, my biggest concern was how to stop laughing.

Quite frankly, sports fans, it's just not going to be the contest some would have you believe. The simple truth of the matter is that the champion of a far-superior league is going to spank the champion of a decidedly-inferior league.

Consider the following.

1. Miami's much-ballyhooed 14-0 record was compiled against an assemblage of very poor football teams. During the regular season, only two of their opponents (the Chiefs and the Giants) won more games than they lost and their 8-6 records weren't even as good as that of our Lions.

2. To win the AFC championship the Dolphins had to beat the Steelers, a team that went from a 6-8 record in '71 to 11-3 in '72. Nice job, but only in the AFC is such a turnabout possible.

3. The Redskins, meanwhile, gained the NFC championship by destroying the Dallas Cowboys - the defending Super Bowl champions by virtue of their rather easy victory over - in case you've forgotten - the Miami Dolphins.

No fans, I just can't see much of a chance for the Dolphins. With two starters missing from the Miami defensive secondary, Charley Taylor, Billy Kilmer, and the "Over the Hill Gang" are going to have a field day.

Philip Jerome

Northville Record-Novi News

Dolphins. . .

Which team will win the Super Bowl? Don't be silly. The Miami Dolphins are going to handle the Washington Redskins so easily that George Allen's Geritol Generation will wish they were just a little closer to Social Security time.

Just take a look at what the Dolphins are made of: They are coached by Don Shula—perhaps the greatest coach in the game today. They are young, enthusiastic, prideful and hungry. And they also boast experience—after all, this is their second consecutive trip to the "Big Bowl."

Bob Griese is the premier quarterback of the A.F.C., and he has more than an adequate backup man in the veteran Earl Morrall, who was good enough to keep the Dolphins unbeaten throughout the regular season.

The running attack is, simply put, the best. Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid—Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick—have been aided greatly this year by a fellow bearing the unlikely name of Mercury.

The results have been spectacular. Mercury Morris and Csonka have both gained over 1,000 yards rushing, and the team has set records as the best rushing team ever.

Passing? Griese is great, and he's got a crew of fine receivers, led by All-Pro Paul Warfield.

The No Name Defense may not impress you statistically, but by the end of the game, you'll realize that they've been getting the job done. And so will George Allen and friends, as they limp back to Washington with nary a draft pick in sight.

Charges Newspaper Bias

To the Editor:

I have just been reading your "Sports Year in Review", and it certainly shows that Northville sports teams were very active during 1972. However, wasn't something omitted? While I admit that the girls may not have achieved quite as many near misses at the state level as the boys, they certainly must have done something during the year. Don't they rate even a single word?

Last season the boy's basketball team received extensive coverage. The girls boasted a much better record, but received little, if any coverage.

And about fine coaching, which is certainly important—a good deal of space was always devoted to Seven hundred miles from home, starving, a gaping bullet hole in his leg, the 21-year-old soldier stripped the clothing from his dead comrades to dress the wound.

He didn't know it then but George Goodell was eking out a painful existence in what may be the most despicable chapter in American history.

"I was in high school when he died," recalls Elden Biery of Northville. "He told me many stories about his awful experiences during the war...none were as bad as when he was a prisoner of war in Andersonville."

George Goodell was 88 when he died in November, 1931—one of (if not the last) the local survivors of the Civil War.

Elden Biery was his grandson. (Councilman David Biery is Elden's son).

GEORGE GOODELL

Enlisted on August 9, 1862 at Pontiac, the young infantryman fought at Danville and Hickman's bridge, and served guard duty at Nashville and Bridgeport.

It was while engaged in battle at Chicamauga that Goodell received a deep leg wound on September 20, 1863 and was captured by Confederate forces.

Placed in Libby prison at Richmond, Virginia where he was without medical attention, Goodell cared for his own injury by bathing it in the sluggish stream that flowed nearby and wrapped it with strips torn from the shirts of dead prisoners.

Transferred to Andersonville in Georgia, he was a prisoner in this crude stockade, which historians equate with some of the worse Nazi concentration camps, for 14 long months. He lived in heat and cold and rain with only a moldy blanket for shelter.

The 16 acre prison housed up to 35,000 Yankees—many of whom never survived.

According to historians, George John Winder, prison administrator, boasted, "I am killing off more Yankees than 20 regiments in Lee's Army."

Indeed, in one 15 month period 25,000 Federal soldiers died at Andersonville.

Although treatment of prisoners was the most inhumane of the Civil War, the conduct of some prisoners themselves was equally terrifying. With clubs and knives a group called the "Raiders" preyed on the sick and wounded, stealing what little food or possessions they had.

Friends have asked me on several occasions the difference between a business career and a public service position. YES THERE IS A DIFFERENCE.

I do not believe that success in the private sector is automatically transferrable to the public sector. In fact to succeed in the public sector, the business man must develop some qualities that are almost the opposite of those needed to succeed in business. Where he was persistent, he must now be resilient; where he was guarded, he must be open; where he was arbitrary, he must be sensitive; where he viewed problems with a narrow focus, he must deal comprehensively with them, and where he was informed, he must be a little intuitive and having a sense of humor doesn't hurt either.

Business executives are accustomed to sympathetic examination of colleagues and stockholders and find it hard to adjust to the glare of the public sector that surrounds most government activities. They are used to making decisions without worry about partisan constraints, resistance from employees, questions from the press and critical lawmakers.

The businessman is trained to set precise goals and standards and this is most difficult in government programs of broad purpose. Expecting their decisions to be carried out as swiftly as in business, government officials are unsettled by "bureaucratic foot-dragging" that prolongs decisions through interagency coordinating committees and takes months to put them into effect. Success in public affairs depends, not only on an ability to communicate effectively with others in and out of government but also an ability to provide leadership to advance his plans. While he must show mental toughness to overcome inertia, he must also display humility, flexibility and willingness to compromise.

Moving more slowly or indirectly towards a goal is difficult for some business men to accept based on their need to drive hard toward the solution they have decided is right. Such restraint in business often fosters failure and frustration.

The businessman turned public servant must have a high degree of sensitivity to recognize the real, as distinct from the apparent, motives of special interest groups, the media, and other portions of the public, along with an anticipation of their likely reactions to particular administrative moves.

For business men to underestimate the importance of these external forces is to commit an error they would never commit in business.

A Township Supervisor wears many hats. By law, tradition and custom, the duties of the Supervisor are many and varied, his basic duties are:

1. To serve as Chairman of the Township Board.

2. To serve as the agent of the Township in the transaction of legal business.

3. To serve as the assessing officer for all taxable property of the township.

4. Serves as a member of the Township Election Commission and the Township Convassing Board.

5. Finally, local conditions will determine the extent of other duties which the electorate chooses to assign the Supervisor, within the law.

Besides the above your Supervisor is a member of:

1. The Water and Sewer Commission and serves as its secretary.

2. The Northwest Wayne County Sanitation Authority and serves as its Treasurer.

3. An alternate delegate to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

4. The Wayne County Supervisor's Association.

Because of the nature and the area of responsibilities of the Township Supervisor, he has been looked upon over the years as the person to whom all redress for grievances, no matter how small or large, is directed.

Our township has witnessed considerable growth in the last few years with much more to come. It is conservatively estimated that we will have a population of between 30,000 to 35,000 by 1980.

Growth begets services; they go together like "ham and eggs." Water, sanitary sewers, storm drainage, roads, police and fire protection, schools and teachers, solid waste disposal, transportation, senior citizens housing, libraries, etc.

Many would like to say "enough is enough" and build a moat stocked with crocodiles around the township. This would solve our problems if the solution were that simple. Our problem is to plan intelligently and progress with the times.

Business experience is a valuable asset to have to handle the job as Supervisor but being a Township Supervisor is much different than being a businessman.

It is said that a good Supervisor is one who can step on your shoes without messing up your shine.

Happiness Seen In Novi Club

To the Editor:

There is an old saying to the effect that great men are never happy men. They must, necessarily, be unhappy to be great. They are unhappy with certain situations and circumstances and seek to improve their lot. They do not like the world the way it is and they endeavor to improve it. They are generally dissatisfied, and as a result of their dissatisfaction they often make improvements which benefit the entire world.

Because of their contributions great men are expected to lead unhappy lives and to make everyone about them miserable. This is their privilege, and it is the duty of their family and friends to bear with them and overlook the idiosyncrasies of genius.

The average man is not a genius and he is not a great man. Usually he likes to be happy. Therefore, instead of being continually dissatisfied with things and trying to make the world over and improve it, he is far more content to overlook those things which he doesn't like and doesn't have the ability to change. Because he has no worthwhile contribution to make to the world and humanity he does not have to be catered to and treated as a king in his family circle.

In fact, happiness can be achieved best through trying to make one's self over to fit circumstances and conditions rather than trying to make these circumstances over to suit one's self. This policy will not only make you happier but it will also make those around you happier.

I know many will say that a person who does this hasn't any backbone or gumption. It is true that ignorance is bliss and generally true happiness can come only to a person who is ignorant by birth or inclination. However, the average man is somewhere between the genius and the ignoramus. He likes a little happiness mixed up in his life, even if he must play the fool, overlook certain distasteful things and suit himself to his surroundings instead of trying to suit everything to him.

There is an old saying that things which can't be cured must be endured and this is a fundamental rule for a happy life. Try to get along with life as you find it. You may not go down in history as a great man but you will go through life as a happy man.

If you wish to be a happy person and if you are age 50 years or over, perhaps you will consider joining the Novi Senior Citizens Club. If so call Mrs. Nancy Liddle, 349-2219, for more details. As a member you may find the happiness that escapes so many.

Top of Deck

Goodell told his grandson that one of his worst experiences at Andersonville involved these thieves.

Prisoners rallied together to stop the thefts and killings. They instituted their own police force and court to bring the thieves to justice.

Learning that he could tie slip knots, Goodell was ordered by guards to prepare the hangman's nooses. Goodell refused.

"They told him 'either you tie the nooses or you'll share a rope with them.' He tied them," says Biery.

Following the war, Goodell was married and began a string of adventures.

He served as a blacksmith with his father, became a fireman at Grand Rapids where he trained all of the department's horses, and headed West to become a cowboy.

While in Colorado, Goodell was a stage coach driver over the old Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Trails, and he loved to tell the story of meeting Jesse James and his gang on their way to rob a bank.

Because Goodell was a respected rider, James invited him to join the gang, says Biery. "They met several times but (grandfather) refused to join."

Goodell also served as a deputy sheriff in Oakland County where he lived much of his life.

Born October 16, 1843 in New York, he moved by ox cart to Michigan with his pioneering parents. They settled in Novi where the Goodells continued their close friendship with the pioneering Flint family, and George developed a life-long friendship with still another of the area's colorful figures, Marvin Bogart, who also was a prisoner during the Civil War.

(Incidentally, the Goodell store that years ago stood at the corner of Grand River and Novi roads was operated by George's brother, Charles).

Following the death of his wife in Colorado, Goodell returned to Novi and remarried. In his later years he moved to Northville and was living in the Cady Street house, recently razed to make way for the extension of Griswold Street, when he died.

The obituary notice carried in The Record on November 6, 1931 shared the front page with another announcement...an announcement that senior Elden Biery would play his final game the next day with the high school football team.

Helicopter To Patrol Parkway

A sheriff's helicopter patrol and intensified policing of the county park system will be inaugurated soon as a result of action by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Helicopters will be used by the sheriff for the first time in history for tasks such as patrol of high crime areas, crowd control and apprehension of fleeing suspects. They are expected to be in the air by summer.

The Board of Commissioners also approved year-around patrol of the county park system by a special force of 18 Sheriff's deputies. In the past an 18-man force patrolled the parks from May 30 to Nov. 30. During the other six months, the parks were patrolled by 12 men who had other duties as well.

The patrols will be used mainly along the 26-mile length of Edward Hines Drive and in Elizabeth Park in Trenton Hines Drive runs through Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Inkster, Livonia, Westland, Plymouth, and Northville.

On an emergency need basis, the patrols will assist police in those and other local communities, said Sheriff William Lucas.

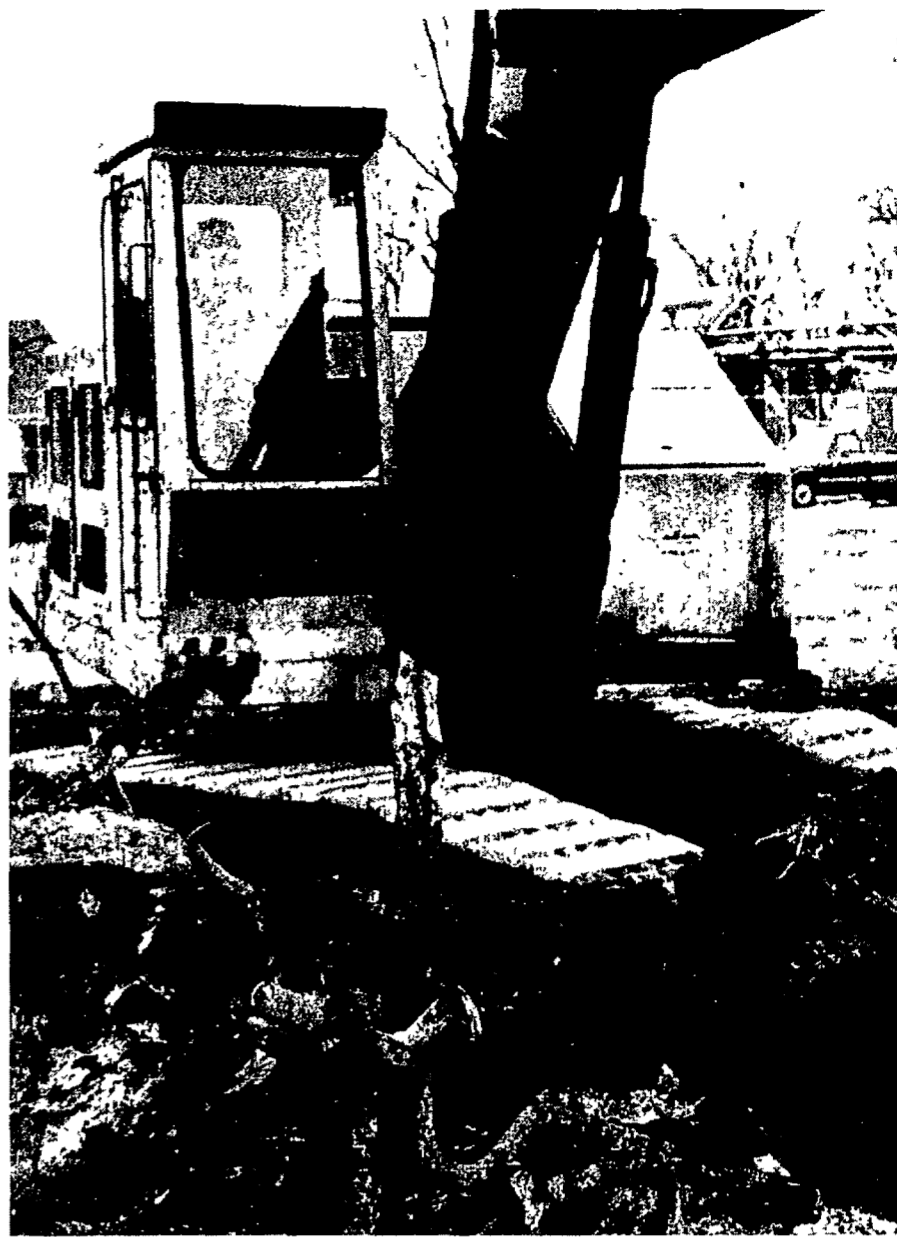

In requesting the year-around patrol, Lucas said activity in the parks is as great now in winter as it is in summer. He said greater use has brought increased problems such as drug abuse, traffic control and accident prevention, as well as more serious offenses.

"It is important to properly police the parks so that the very places which should be preventing crime do not turn into breeding places for crime," Lucas stated. The expanded patrol will cost $168,000 annually.

Leasing and operation of two helicopters by the sheriff's department will be covered for one year with a $163,235 grant in federal law enforcement assistance funds.

The three-person aircraft will be piloted by sheriff's deputies who will carry another deputy as observer.

The federal funds were approved by the Michigan Crime Control Commission which allocates the funds, the day before the commissioners gave the program their approval on a 13-7 vote.

PAYDIRT—Slicing into the earth behind Paul Folino's Main Street insurance office last week, workmen preparing the Northville Square foundations uncovered a "goldmine" of old artifacts—including many parts of a Model T Ford and an old truck, not to mention a dozen or more old bottles, clothing, license plates, tools, and timber. One bottle, dated 1898, still contained an untapped supply of rum. One of the oldest buildings in the community, Folino's building once served as the village hall and jail.

Civitan Program

POW to Speak

A talk by a World War II prisoner of war will kick off the New Year for the Northville-King's Mill Civitan Club tonight (Thursday).

Guest speaker at the 8 p.m. program in the King's Mills clubhouse will be Joe Merritt, senior partner of the Joe Merritt Insurance Agency.

He will be speaking of his experiences as a prisoner of war in the Pacific area.

In announcing this program and the next one, a spokesman for the club said, "We are looking forward to welcoming home our present prisoners of war from Vietnam in the near future."

"Questions arise in our minds, Are all POW's treated alike, or do their experiences vary widely? Are international rules for POW treatment effective or not? Does civilization make any headway?"

The public is invited to this free program, subject to the club's clubhouse capacity rules.

Next week, the club will host Dennis R. Dildy, director of the 35th District, Court Probation Department, assisted by Alvin Wistert, former All-American football great and a probation officer in Northville.

They will be speaking on plans to enlarge volunteer probation services.

The club meets each Thursday at the clubhouse, located at 18120 Jamestown Circle, off Northville Road between Six and Seven Mile roads.

Always welcoming new members from the community, the two-year-old service club presently has an active membership of 20.

Half Days Set in Novi

Novi High School will operate on half-day sessions Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, January 10-12, Principal Hal Seymour announced last Thursday.

Classes will begin at 8 a.m. as usual and run until 12:18 p.m.

All six sessions in a normal school day will meet, but class periods will be shortened to 40 minutes, Seymour said.

Reason for the half-day session, he explained, is to give teachers time to work on studies and reports for Novi's bid to be accredited by the North Central Association.

Busses will be available to transport students to school in the morning and after classes end at 12:18 p.m. No lunches will be served, however.

praise of the boys' coaches. You completely omitted the hard working girls' coaches who spur their girls on to greater efforts. Tell me, do you think it's fair that the girl's tennis team should be told to leave the NHS courts because "the fellas need to practice"? Is that good sportsmanship or coaching?

In your rather pat reply to a recent "Letter to the Editor", you said something to the effect that you only give coverage to the public-drawing sports. Don't you think girls' sports would attract a larger crowd if people had a chance to read about them? How do you think people find out about a good team if it isn't publicized? They don't. As for not having time to cover girls' sports, it doesn't take that much effort for the sports editor to take a few steps over to the girls' coaches and ask a few questions.

I'll admit, the newspaper is not the only means of publicity, but it is the largest and most important. Coverage of girls' sports would not only be interesting, but it would take away the dullness of turning the page and reading about the same guys doing the same things, sure, some are good. A few are even excellent. But so are some girls, as their records show.

Many others have voiced complaints about your biased sports coverage. After all, you have to admit it gets an athlete pretty low to perform excellently, and not even be recognized by her (or his) home newspaper.

Let's hope for more equitable coverage next year.

Thank you,

Novi Students Win Art Awards

Randy Kelley of 23805 West LeBost Avenue and Mike Arbour of 41810 Aspen Drive, both Novi, have been awarded honorable mentions for their art entries in the Michigan Hot Rod Association's Autorama Drawing Contest. Both Kelley and Arbour are students at the Novi Middle School.

The imaginative drawings will be exhibited along with other runners-up January 19, 20 and 21 at the 21st Annual Autorama Custom Car Show at Cobo Hall, Detroit.

Over 500 students from public, private and parochial junior and senior high schools in Michigan, Ohio and Southern Ontario entered the "Draw-Your-Dream Car" Contest, which opened November 1.

A panel of professional automotive designers headed by David Birchmeier of Oldsmobile Division's Tech Center design studio evaluated the drawings on imagination, practicality and originality of concept, as well as excellence in the use of pictorial art techniques. Birchmeier is president of the Michigan Hot Rod Association, sponsors of the Autorama Show. Over 400 full-sized hand-made one-of-a-kind "dream cars" will be exhibited at the Show.

'Midget' Skaters Making Progress

With two victories in their last three games, Northville's Thunderbird Inn-sponsored entry in the Midget A League is finally getting untracked.

"It's been a long time coming, but I feel we're finally beginning to make a little progress," commented Bill O'Brien, coach of the Northville Midgets.

It has not been a particularly successful season for O'Brien's club. Before their recent surge, the Northville squad had won just twice in fifteen games and were 1-7 in their league.

"We've put in a lot of ice time lately, said O'Brien. "Hopefully, it could be paying off."

The Northville skaters first victory came by a 2-1 score over a Dearborn team in a game played at Olympia.

Guy Seguin opened the scoring in the second period when he took a pass from Kelly Wilson and jammed it past the Dearborn netminder.

Dearborn tied the score at 1-1 at the 12:01 mark of the second period, but Carl Peraino scored what proved to be the decisive goal two minutes later as Mike Theisen picked up the assist.

The Northville Midgets found themselves back on the short end of the score in their contest with Redford. Kevin O'Brien gave his teammates a 1-0 lead with an unassisted first period goal, but Redford came back to score four times and held Northville scoreless the rest of the way.

The most recent Northville victory was a 5-1 romp over Grosse Pointe last week. With Joe Balagna picking up the three-goal hat trick and Carl Peraino and Gregg Thomas each adding single tallies, Northville piled up a 5-0 lead before surrendering the first and only Grosse Pointe score.

Wilson and O'Brien each had three assists in the rout.

In a Mite game, Northville's entry jointly sponsored by the FOE Eagles and the Ely Fuel Company, skated to a 4-1 victory over Farmington.

Ken Winemaster scored twice and Pat Alexander and Scott Schaal picked up single tallies to account for the Northville scoring.

SEC Cage Standings

Milan	4	0
Saline	4	1
Ypsilanti	4	1
South Lyon	2	3
Chelsea	2	3
Dexter	1	3
Novi	1	4
Dundee	0	3

South Lyon made a valiant attempt at knocking off league leading Milan Friday, but Stanley Joplin, the Big Red's outstanding sophomore guard, tossed in a pair of free throws with 13 seconds left in the game to preserve a 61-56 victory.

The Lions trailed by five points at the half 31-26, narrowed the margin to three at the three-quarter mark, 45-42, and had pulled to within two points of Milan at 58-56 when Joplin's charity tosses wrapped up the victory. Joplin finished with 20 points, while South Lyon's Tony Kern topped all scorers with 22.

Lincoln made it four straight SEC wins after an opening game loss to Saline by gunning down Dexter 82-48.

The Railspitters hit on 37 of 72 field goal attempts for a 51 percent shooting record. Larry Hunter and Mike Massey had 23 and 21 points respectively for the winners, while Mike Scott led Dexter with 20 points.

Chelsea recorded their second SEC victory by outscoring Dundee 24-9 in the fourth quarter to win 64-55. Dundee had held a 46-40 edge at the three-quarter mark.

John Mann's 16 point performance was tops for the Bulldogs

LET ME GIVE YOU A HAND — Novi's Jim VanWagner (33) falls short of his attempt to block the shot of Saline's Dan Scotton (51) and instead hits the hand of the Hornet star. The Wildcats double-teamed Dave Ziegler (55), Saline's 6'8" center, and held him to just 11 points. But Scotton, no shorty at 6'5", took advantage of the situation and tallied 28 points to pace the Hornets' victory.

Wildcat Cagers Stop Saline's 'Big Z,' But Lose 77-46 Anyway

They successfully handcuffed 6'8" Dave Ziegler, but the Wildcats appeared to forget about another giant named Dan Scotton Friday as defending champion Saline rolled to an easy, 77-46 victory over Novi.

Scotton, who is taller at 6'5" than anyone Novi can muster, peppered the nets with 25 points to lead the Saline attack while Novi concentrated on the towering Ziegler, who was limited to 11 points—just two in the first quarter, none in the third, and two in the fourth.

Ziegler, incidentally, looked awkward and unpolished even when he did manage to get off a shot. The fact that Novi double-teamed him may have accounted for his lackluster performance. Whatever it was the Saline star was unimpressive.

"We had the choice of either letting Ziegler shoot or try bottling him up," explained Coach Milan Obrenovich. "When Milan played Saline they just let Scotton go and he didn't do much. We thought we could do the same but obviously it didn't work."

Even had Novi shut off both Ziegler and Scotton the going would have been rough.

The Wildcats hit on only 25 percent of their shots from the floor and cashed in only four of 19 free shots.

And they were out-rebounded, 65-40.

But for awhile Friday it looked as if Novi might hand their hosts an unexpected upset.

Despite Scotton's 11 point burst in the first quarter, Novi stayed close finishing the quarter just four points back, 18-14.

Early in the second quarter, Novi snatched the lead from Saline, picking up six quick points. But with Novi out front, 20-18, the Hornets reeled off 14 straight points and before the Wildcats could recover the upset was out of the question.

Saline grabbed 22 points in that second frame to Novi's 11, and the half ended with the Hornets out front, 40-25.

Leading scorers for Wildcats were John Pantalone with 14, followed by Jim WanWagner with 13 and Steve Lukkari with 11.

Scotton shared scoring laurels with Scott Skinner who had 15 and Tim Slesky who had 12.

Another game has been added to Novi's basketball schedule, with the addition of Williamston on January 16, it was announced this week. The game will be played at Novi.

Hornet Jayvees Buzz Wildcats, Too—68-53

With Novi's junior varsity quintet leading by three in the third quarter, Saline bounced back with 10 straight points to regain the edge, and eventually the victory, 68-53.

Saline pitched in 20 points in that third quarter to Novi's 11.

Down by five points in the first quarter and behind by 16 at one point in the second stanza, the Novi five chewed away at their hosts' edge until the margin was reduced to two at the intermission, 33-31.

In the second half, Novi's long layoff over the holidays took its toll. "We just were not in shape and ran out of gas," said Coach Bob Weinburger. "The layoff really hurt us."

With Ron Buck, Bill Barr and Steve Lynn serving as keys in the two-three zone, Pat McAllen and Gary Ford were able to put together a good offensive show. McAllen pumped in 20 points, followed by Ford with 17.

Ward, McGarry Take Firsts

Grapplers Win Own Tourney

One of Russ Gardner's pre-season goals has already been reached, and the coach of the Novi High School mat team is still holding out hopes of attaining the other.

It was Gardner, who stepped to the helm of the Novi wrestling program this year and boldly announced that his grapplers would win 10 of their dual meets and add two tournament championships on top of that.

Last week the Novi grapplers reached one of those goals when they won their second tournament of the season by beating out seven other teams in - are you ready for this - the first annual Novi High School Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

Gardner maintains that it was no set-up job either.

"Look," he says, "we had four Class A teams, three Class B teams, and we were the only Class C team. We went up against bigger schools and beat them all."

Novi's first place total of 103 points was 23 more than that of second place Highland Park. Third place went to Cranbrook (73), while Schaeffer was fourth (55), and Monroe Jefferson was fifth (53 points).

Detroit Bishop Borgess (29), Oak Park (12), and Hartland (8 points) rounded out the field.

The tournament wasn't the only thing the Novi grapplers won last week, however. They also picked up their second dual meet victory of the season by dumping Saline 37-16.

"We just might make those ten victories yet," said Gardner enthusiastically, a feat that will take some doing as the Wildcats have just nine dual meets left on the schedule.

Dave Ward and Randy McGarry, a pair of seniors, paced the Wildcats' tourney triumph as each fought his way to first place in his respective weight class.

Ward took the 140 pound crown easily. After pinning his first-round opponent, he gained the finals with a 7-1 decision in the second round, and then won the tourney championship by decisioning Highland Park's Rick Rice 10-1.

McGarry's triumph was even easier. The 157-pounder pinned each of his three opponents and spent a total of only 7:21 on the mats in winning his weight division. In the finals, McGarry put Schaeffer's Frank Napolitano on his back in just 1:16 of the first period.

"Randy was really tough," commented Gardner. "He's using his head more instead of trying to outmuscle his opponents."

Novi Matmen Head For Lyon Tourney

Eight teams will converge on the South Lyon High gym Saturday, January 20, for the third annual South Lyon Invitational Wrestling Meet.

Pinckney, Brighton and Novi will be among challengers as will defending champion Chelsea, host South Lyon, Dundee, Willow Run and Monroe Catholic Central. West Bloomfield won the first year's tourney.

Admission will be collected twice—once for the 11:30 a.m. preliminaries and once for the 7 p.m. finals—at the rate of 50 cents per student and $1 per adult.

A championship trophy will be awarded to the winning team with medals going to individual weight class champions.

Athletic Director Fred Gerhardt says the host school hopes for a large turnout from visiting areas "to insure that this fine tournament will continue as an annual event."

Although only two Novi wrestlers won championships, seven of them advanced to the finals before losing. Taking second place points in the tourney were Bill Livingston at 107, Jim Sasena at 114, Tom Ford at 128, Don Jackson at 147, and Gil Spiers in the heavyweight division.

Third place finishes were recorded by Bob Sasena at 121, Dave Miller at 134, and Gary Staub at 187. Mike Vivian took fourth place in the 169 pound weight class.

In all, Novi took points in 11 of the 12 divisions.

The victory over Saline was almost as pleasing to Gardner.

"Saline beat everybody in the conference in dual meets last year," he reported. "I think we're beginning to come on. Chelsea only beat them by 10 points this year and we beat them by 21 so who knows, maybe we'll beat Chelsea, too, and they were the overall conference champions last year."

Novi won all but three matches against Saline. Tom Ford at 128 and Gary Staub at 187 were the only Wildcats to pin their opponents, and Ed Weaver also picked up six points when Saline forfeited the 100 pound match.

Decisions were scored by Livingston at 107, Jim Sasena at 114, Ward at 140, McGarry at 167, and Spiers at heavyweight. Dave Miller added four points to the Novi total as he scored a 12-1 decision over his opponent in the 134 pound match.

"Miller's a first year senior wrestler, but he's really coming on," said Gardner admiringly. "He's the hardest worker we've got as far as trying to learn new things. If he'd have started wrestling when he was a freshman instead of a senior, he'd really be something by now."

Gardner has made one change in his pre-season predictions as a result of last week's successes.

"You know," he said, "we've already got our two tournament wins, but we've still got the Cranbrook Tourney coming up. We beat them in our tournament, we ought to beat them again in this tournament. I think we'll try for three tournament championships."

Wildcat

Taking Wildcat of the Week honors is Randy McGarry, a stalwart on the Novi wrestling team. Last week McGarry pinned three straight opponents to win the 155 pound crown in the Novi Invitational. The senior grappler now has a 10-3 record and has pinned nine opponents.

Mustangs Edge Novi on Kritch Free Throws

Four clutch free throws by Ed Kritch in the waning seconds of the game gave the Northville Mustangs a 70-66 victory over the Novi Wildcats in the wildest and wooliest battle ever staged between the two teams.

Twice - once in the first quarter and then again in the third quarter - the Mustang cagers opened up 10 point leads over their neighbors to the north, but each time the Wildcats came battling back to knot the score.

The key to the Northville victory came in the final four and a half minutes of play. With 4:22 left on the clock, Jim VanWagner, the Wildcats' All-SEC guard, picked up his fifth foul and headed for the bench.

Exactly 28 seconds later Steve Lukkari, the player who directs the Novi attack, also fouled out. One minute after that, Pat Boyer, Novi's top rebounder, picked up his fifth foul and joined VanWagner and Lukkari on the bench.

With three of the top Novi players out of the game, the Mustangs pulled away to the victory. A three point play by Bart Taylor put Northville on top 64-62 right after Boyer fouled out.

Novi's Sean O'Brien knotted the score at 64-64. But Joe Bishop came right back to sink a two-pointer for the Mustangs and when O'Brien missed his next shot, Taylor grabbed the rebound and the Mustangs went into a stall.

Twice in the final minute of play the Wildcats fouled Kritch trying to get the ball and each time the spunky Northville guard stepped calmly to the line and netted a pair of charity tosses to put his team on top 70-64.

Novi scored once more, but the buzzer sounded before they could get any closer than 70-66.

As might be assumed, Mustang coach Walt Koepke and Wildcat mentor Milan Obrenovich expressed opposite emotions after the game.

"I thought we shot well for a change," said Koepke, "and that's certainly encouraging because we just haven't been shooting very well lately."

Northville hit on 24 of 49 field goal attempts for a shooting average of just less than 50 percent.

Obrenovich, on the other hand, was discouraged with the play of his team. "I don't mind the fouls - although I do mind the needless ones. I've always felt fouls are something you should use. What bothers me is our lack of discipline."

"We get out there on the floor and try to force our shots and force our passes. I think we ran our offensive patterns against them just five times all night long and we scored on four of them. If we'd have just run our offense like we're supposed to, we might have done a lot better."

Novi lost the game at the foul line. Twenty-eight times the Wildcat cagers stepped up to the charity stripe and yet they managed only 12 free throws. Northville on the other hand converted 22 of 31 attempts.

"If we had made 60 percent of our free throws, we would have beat them," moaned Obrenovich. "Sixty percent isn't particularly outstanding either, you know. That's only a shade above fair."

Northville started off the game well. Fast-breaking and shooting effectively they opened up a 21-13 lead over Novi in the first quarter.

The Wildcats fought back in the second quarter, however, as John Pantalone tossed in five field goals - most of them 25-footers from his favorite spot in the corner - and took a 35-34 lead at the half.

The Mustangs again came on strong in the third quarter and with 2:32 to go had the Wildcats down by 10 points, 51-41. But again Novi came fighting back and narrowed the margin to 51-49 before falling back 53-49 as the stanza ended.

Shortly later, VanWagner, Lukkari, and Boyer fouled out and set the stage for Kritch's clutch free throws.

Northville had their most balanced scoring effort of the year as four starters scored in double figures. Bart Taylor led the Mustangs with 17 points in perhaps his finest game of the season. Kritch was just a point back with 16 points, while Bishop and Todd Eis each had 13.

Pantalone led all scorers in the game with a 26-point effort, while VanWagner joined him in the deuces with a 20-point performance.

Oak Park Triumphs

Northville Rally Falls Short

Don't try to unload those season's tickets just yet, folks. There's still hope for the Northville High School basketball team.

For the first time this season - and that includes their lone victory over Brighton, which was an embarrassment to everyone concerned - the Mustangs actually played some basketball last Friday before dropping a 63-53 to the Oak Park Redskins.

Don't let that final score fool you. It was quite a basketball game.

After trailing 34-15 at the half, the Mustangs came alive in the third quarter and outscored Oak Park 22-7 to whittle the lead to 41-37 at the three-quarter mark.

And when Bart Taylor stole a pass and scored on a lay-up with a minute and a half gone in the final stanza, the Mustangs were just a point behind at 44-43 and looked to be on their way to a victory.

But that was as close as they got. Oak Park scored seven points over the next two minutes to run their lead up to 51-43 before the Mustangs were able to score again and then went on to the 10 point victory.

"You have to get excited about a loss - particularly a loss by 10 points," said Walt Koepke, coach of the Northville squad after the game, "but there were a few things out there tonight which make me believe there may be a ray of hope for this team."

"Before the holidays we just looked so bad that it was getting to the point where I was beginning to question the courage of some of our players," he continued. "But all you can do is keep working at it and keep working at it and hope things come along."

"We had nine scrimmages over the holidays and outside of one or two of them we really didn't do that well. But it looked to me tonight that maybe we learned something after all."

You'd never have guessed it during the first half of Friday's game.

True, the Mustangs' ball-handling seemed to have improved, somewhat, and defensively they also looked a little more proficient. But offensively, they were terrible.

Oak Park came out in a zone defense and the Mustangs never gave them reason to leave it. Jim Yanoschic's 15-footer gave Northville a 2-0 lead, but it was the only field goal they would score in the first quarter as the Redskins ran off to an 18-6 first-quarter lead.

Things were only slightly better in the second quarter when Northville netted all of four field goals to trail 34-15 at the half.

Unable to penetrate the Oak Park zone, the Mustangs tried to shoot over it. What happened was that they shot all over it - everywhere but in the bucket.

The Mustangs hit on only five of 23 field goal attempts - a shooting percentage of 22 and even Pat Babel's Mustang-ettes shoot better than that.

"After the first half," admitted Koepke, "it looked like all of those scrimmages we had were wasted time." "It was in the second half that the Mustangs finally came alive. And it was a favorite Koepke weapon - the press - which did the trick."

"I was surprised it was so effective," he said. "They had a pretty good ball-handling club, but they really had trouble with the press."

It was Todd Eis and Joe Bishop - the two players who are emerging as the Mustang leaders - who sparked the comeback. After scoring just two points in his poorest first half of the season, Eis scored 10 points in the third quarter, while Bishop, the Mustangs' hustling guard, contributed eight more to pace the 22-point quarter.

Northville pulled to within a point of the Redskins 44-43 with 6:30 left in the last quarter, but were never able to grab the lead as Oak Park finally broke the press with long passes to score several easy buckets and wrap up the victory.

"The communications between our two back men on the press fell apart," explained Koepke. "Those things occasionally happen with a full-court press. You take chances by overloading the backcourt, and occasionally you get burned for it."

With most of their shots coming on lay-ups and five to, ten footers as a result of turnovers produced by the full-court press, the Mustangs hit on 18 of 32 field goal attempts in the second half for a 56 percent shooting mark.

Koepke was particularly pleased with his team's improvement in the ball handling department. "We only had 16 turnovers and several of those were so silly that we might easily have had only 10," he said. "When you consider that we had 30 turnovers in each of our last two games before the holidays, that's quite an improvement."

The Mustangs played without the services of Mike Brown, their 6'5" senior center, who is hobbling around on a pair of crutches with a badly sprained ankle.

Filling in for Brown was Dave Duey, another 6'5" senior. "I thought Dave did a good job," said Koepke. "He's never played much basketball before, but he went the whole game for us and had nine points and seven rebounds. He was really in there fighting on the boards."

The Mustangs were paced in the scoring department by Eis and Bishop, each of whom tallied 14 points. Oak Park's Willie Rankins took game scoring honors with a 22 point performance

HARD WAY TO GO—Northville's Joe Bishop finds the going tough as he tries to muscle his way through two Oak Park defenders for a lay-up. Like Bishop, all the Mustang cagers found it difficult to penetrate the Redskins' zone defense and finally ended up on the short end of the score. Bishop's 14 points tied him with Todd Eis for Northville's high-scoring honors.

Seek 30th Win

Tankers Fear Harrison

Ben Lauber's Northville swim team wrapped up its twenty-ninth consecutive victory Monday, but all the Mustang coach wanted to talk about was number 30.

"We have to go against Harrison Thursday (tonight)," said Lauber, "and it's going to be some meet. They're undefeated, too, you know. It's going to be the battle between the unbeaten."

Lauber has good reason to fear the Harrison swimmers. The Northville-Harrison rivalry is only slightly less intense than the Northville-Milan rivalry.

"You just know that they're going to come in here trying to stop us from reaching number 30," said the Mustang mentor.

Northville and Harrison have met in dual meets on four different occasions since 1971 and every one of those meets has been won by the Mustangs.

However, all but one of those meets have gone right down to the final event before the outcome was determined. "I predict the same kind of meet this time," said Lauber.

"I'll be extremely surprised if the winner of the meet does not have to win the 400 freestyle relay. It should be really close."

Complicating matters is the fact that Harrison has the strongest team they've ever had. Heading the team are Mike Rado and Gregg Arnoldy.

Rado, in particular, is outstanding. "He could probably break our team and pool records in every event," said Lauber. "We're just lucky he can only swim in two events and one relay. Much of the strategy in the Harrison meet will be to try to figure out what Rado is going to be swimming."

Arnoldy is another outstanding swimmer and, according to Lauber, Harrison has strength in every event, including the diving where they took first and second in the conference championships last year.

"I just hope we can have a big turnout of fans," said Lauber.

Northville's twenty-ninth consecutive victory was an easy one as they swam past Livonia Clarenceville 71-24.

"They lost a lot and they've now got a lot of young kids on their team," explained Lauber. "We caught them at a weak point in their rebuilding program."

The Mustangs won nine of the eleven events and took first and second place in six events. The 200 yard medley relay team of Jeff Kappler, Art Greenlee, Bill Bretz, and Chip Thomas opened the meet by winning the 200 yard medley relay and from then on it was downhill.

Kevin Kelly won the 200 yard freestyle, Bill Witek and Greenlee took first and second in the 200 yard individual medley, John Pacific and Mike Chaffin took first and second in the 50 yard freestyle, and Tom Cook won the diving before Clarenceville's Chuck Kirschke broke Northville's streak of firsts by winning the 100 yard butterfly.

Ed Erdos and Bruce Thomas then took first and second in the 100 yard freestyle, Don Cook and Bill Bretz finished one-two in the 400 yard freestyle, Kappler and Mark Haynie swept first and second in the 100 yard backstroke, and Greenlee and Bill Bloomhuff took one and two in the 100 yard breaststroke.

UD Frosh Drop Ocelots

Schoolcraft College's basketball team dropped a 74-61 decision to the University of Detroit freshmen Saturday, but Coach Tom Roncoli was not unhappy.

"I thought we played pretty well," he said. "Particularly on defense. When you hold a team filled with scholarship people to just 74 points, you're doing pretty well."

The Ocelots quickly fell behind the U of D frosh and trailed by as many as 19 points in the first half before rallying to close the gap at half-time to 42-31.

"We pulled to within four points of them midway through the second half," Roncoli reported, "but then they pulled away from us again and won by 13."

Again it was Tom Luch who paced the Schoolcraft scorers, this time with a 27 point performance. Craig Rosenhall backed up Luch with a 15 point effort.

The Schoolcraft cagers now have a 2-9 record

Jayvees Blow Early Lead

Northville's junior varsity basketball team jumped off to a 14-7 first quarter lead over Oak Park Friday, but then were outscored in every quarter the rest of the way and ended up on the short end of a 59-45 score.

It was the fourth loss in six games for Coach Omar Harrison's Mustang jayvees.

Sparked by high-scoring Scott Leu, Northville outscored Oak Park 14-7 in the first quarter. Leu tallied 11 points in the opening quarter. But after that it was all down hill.

Oak Park came on strong in the second stanza and outscored the junior Mustangs 18-13 to trail by just two points - 27-25 - at the half.

"I think the third quarter was the key," said Coach Harrison after the game. "In spite of the second quarter, we still had them by two, but our shooting went cold and they pulled away."

Oak Park outscored Northville 19-8 in the third quarter to lead 44-35 at the three-quarter mark and then wrapped up the victory by outscoring the Mustangs 15-10 in the final stanza.

Leu finished the game with 19 points - 15 of them in the first half. John Boland also scored in double figures, tossing in 10 points. Oak Park had a balanced attack as four players scored in double figures.

Nirider Gets All-American Nod

Stan Nirider, a 1969 Northville High School graduate, has received honorable mention recognition on the 1972 All-American football team selected by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

He is the second member of the 1968 Northville football team to win All-American honors this year. Fred Hicks, a center at Western Michigan University, earlier was named to the Associated Press' All-American squad as an honorable mention choice.

Nirider plays cornerback for Muddy Water's Hillsdale College team. A three-year letterman, the six foot, 165 pounder had four interceptions and ranked second on the team with 43 unassisted tackles.

He had previously been named to the NAIA's All-State team.

Nirider was a quarterback during his prep days in Northville.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Essie Nirider of 985 Grace Street.

The freshman rule is in effect throughout the United States. It is a college rule involving the recruiting of college freshmen to play for team sports. The rule prohibits a college athlete from competing on a varsity team until his second year in college. A corollary of this rule states that no college athlete may play on a varsity team for more than three years. This is the reason that many colleges organize freshmen teams which then compete against other college freshmen teams.

Union Dues Put in Escrow

system will not be liable for the pay check deductions," Spear said.

Board members indicated that if an individual joined the union because of the agency shop clause and dues were deducted from his pay check by the district, he could sue the district to recoup those dues.

In other action Monday night, trustees agreed to have the administration proceed with plans for implementing an outdoor education program for sixth graders. The program, which would begin during the 1973-74 school year, would involve students in a four-day camping experience at an established camp.

Cost would range between $20 and $25 per student.

Board members expressed concern about those students who might not be able to take part because of financial reasons.

Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum director, stated the program would be voluntary, with those students attending the camp graded on their work and those remaining in the district graded on their assignments.

Trustee Andrew Orphan commented that "if the benefits are so great, then all the students should have the right to go."

Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson stated the district has been criticized "because we don't have the funds for field trips. If we pay for each child's expense, we also would be criticized."

Trustee Martin Rinehart questioned what would then happen to the high school's trip to Stratford, whether or not the district would have to pay students' expenses for that trip, too.

Miss Panattoni said she hopes that some student projects and sales might be initiated to enable the cost of the camping trip to be reduced.

She added that she will continue to investigate the cost of the camping program and methods for raising funds for the four-day camp.

Eye Drain Alternative

officials and property owners so many objections were raised concerning the proposed ditching that the drain board agreed to permit engineers to explore an alternative.

That alternative involves flood plain easements in lieu of ditching.

Basically, it means that instead of ditching the state would acquire easements on either side of the existing stream that would be greater in width than the proposed ditch. Property owners would be prohibited from infringing on these easements, except by special permission.

Drain construction, under this alternative, probably would be limited to intersections where the stream crosses Eight Mile, Randolph and High streets. Also, major underground work would still be involved from Center Street to Hutton Street where the stream nears the Ford Field area.

Under the flood plain easement alternative—if accepted by the drain board—the stream bed as it meanders from Eight Mile along Randolph Street properties—would be left as it is. Under the ditching proposal, however, the stream bed would be straightened and enlarged, requiring the removal of some trees and shrubs.

Councilmen agree with property owners that the latter improvement might "spoil" the natural beauty of the area. Furthermore, it would be more costly, they note.

For the property owner, however, the prospect of having to give up part of his property for a permanent easement that might adversely affect the value of his remaining property is disconcerting.

Undoubtedly, those concerns of property owners will be raised Monday when the council considers recommending the flood plain alternative.

Drawbridge Up

As promised by owners at the outset, much of the original, intricate woodwork of the former Methodist church has been retained, including the ceiling beams. Balcony woodwork and windows overlooking the main dining area remain.

Immediately beneath the balcony, adjacent to the main dining room, lighting has been installed and a drop ceiling is about to be erected. Two wine racks in view of the main dining area have yet to be constructed.

Much of the work remaining is in the basement where food preparation rooms (salads, etc.), office, employees lounge and dining area, a walk-in freezer, restroom, etc. are to be located. Only initial rough carpentry and masonry work has begun.

Artificial open ceiling beams have yet to be installed in the banquet room, but the balcony overlooking this room is up.

New Recreation Programs Slated

Three new programs are in the planning stage as Novi's Parks and Recreation Commission swings into its winter schedule.

Involved are a volleyball program for men, Olympic team handball programs for men and women, and a badminton program for both.

The men's volleyball program is slated to begin January 15 and will be held each Monday at 8:45 p.m. at the Novi Middle School.

Men interested in participating should contact Barry Laken at 349-0050 or Ray Murphy at 349-0376.

The Parks and Recreation Commission is also in the process of introducing Olympic team handball. Programs will be offered for both men and women under existing plans. Interested men should contact either Phil Assaley at 349-5515 or Murphy at 349-0376. Women should contact Sherry Edwards at 349-3570. Spokesmen for the Commission have also indicated that a badminton program for adults will be initiated if sufficient interest is expressed. Residents interested in participating in such a program should contact Laura McComas at 349-6165.

Acoustical tiles are often the only answer for use in very noisy areas such as the basement. These are not considered sound-proofing, but they are sound-absorbing. Acoustical tile will keep noise in the basement from being transmitted to other parts of the house. Even more importantly, it will absorb sound so that it is not reflected inside a noisy room increasing the sound. Insulating material between joists before putting on a ceiling is the most effective way to keep sound from disturbing others.

See the excellent selection of ceiling tile at NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220. We carry Armstrong and Owens-Corning ceiling tile and Owens-Corning fiberglass insulation. ## Board Rejects Request

While Nisun had requested three patrolmen be added to the department, Schaeffer, in making the motion to hire only two patrolmen, said he did "not feel we can justify three after April 1 (new budget year) without seeing what the revenues will be for next year."

Salaries for the additional men were to have come out of the township's $31,000 received through the revenue sharing program.

Nisun explained that two more patrolmen would bring the police budget up to approximately $79,000 next year from the current $59,000. Fringe benefit costs were not included in the figures.

Wright cautioned the board that the extra men "will become a budget item next year if they (federal government's revenue sharing program) cut us off."

MacDonald reminded fellow trustees that the men would not only be hired for February through April and then let go. He also pointed out that the $31,000 in revenue sharing was all the township would receive until next year.

Schaeffer told MacDonald he felt that "we can support two men now and in the future."

MacDonald stated that the township does "not know there will be money to support more men next year."

Clerk Cayley commented that the revenue sharing funds would "have to be earmarked for this."

However, Klein reminded the board that the township expenses have "gone up faster than the revenues returned from an increased state equalized valuation."

In a related item, a request from Nisun for the purchase of rescue equipment and training the police force in its use was unanimously approved by the board.

The equipment, which will be carried in the police cars, is estimated to cost approximately $900 and will be paid for from revenue sharing funds.

Equipment includes two air packs, two spare tanks, three fire extinguishers, two emergency oxygen inhalers and spare tank and two axes.

Nisun pointed out that the equipment would enable the police to perform rescue duties before the arrival of the fire department or ambulance.

Concerning the joint ambulance service, trustees authorized the supervisor and township attorney to meet with the city manager and city attorney and wrap up contract terms for providing rent-free quarters to house General Ambulance within the Northville area.

Question on the length of the contract arose Tuesday when John Early, manager for General Ambulance, said the company needed a three-year contract.

He said that for the service to break even, 10 runs per unit per day would be needed.

The city and township have agreed to provide the rent-free quarters, not to exceed a total cost of $3,600. Subsidy would cease when the service shows a profit.

Currently, the only question to be settled is the length of the contract the municipalities will sign with General Ambulance.

Site of the ambulance housing will be put out for bids, spokesmen for both the city and the township have stated.

3 Northville Teachers End Careers in June

Three teachers, with a combined service of 64 years to Northville Public Schools, will be retiring at the end of the 1972-73 school year.

The resignations, which were accepted with regret Monday night by school board trustees, are from Mrs. Ann Chizmar, reading teacher at Amerman Elementary; Mrs. Violet Bradford, high school counselor; and Mrs. Reva Shave, high school English instructor.

Mrs. Chizmar has taught in Northville for 32 years, Mrs. Bradford, 20 years, and Mrs. Shave, 12 years.

In other personnel action, trustees approved a release of contract for Daniel Kozminski, math teacher at Cooke Middle School, effective upon the employment of a replacement.

Kozminski stated he will be leaving the teaching profession.

A maternity leave request from Mrs. Sue Karschnick was granted by the board.

Mrs. Karschnick teaches third grade at Amerman Elementary.

Board members also approved a contract for Mrs. Judith Valentine who will teach kindergarten at Moraine Elementary.

Mrs. Valentine, a graduate of University of Michigan with a degree in English and art, has taught kindergarten for the past 10 years. Salary will be $12,000 annually or $7,148.96 for the remainder of the school year.

Echoes from Our Rusting Past....

Memory waits patiently as we spend silence with the old place.

It lingers with the empty windows and peeling boards that still protect the dwellers of the farm.

Empty buildings; the barn now holds only small wild creatures that leap to cover. The gentle sounds of cow and calf are there within the walls but the grains and farm machines rust in nature's disarray of time.

The old Ford that could most often be trusted to run now stands on bended tire and broken parts. No more bump-filled rides to run the day's work to town and home again.

FOUR AREA real estate companies have joined together to form the Tri-County Select-A-List to provide better service for their clients and customers. Those four companies are Ashley and Cox Real Estate, Banfield Real Estate, England Real Estate and Glazier Real Estate.

Darrel Ashley of Novi termed the multi-listing service "a better service".

Because each listing is shown to more buyers, the possibility of a more rapid sale is likely.

"The Home Seeker" is published once a month by Ashley and Cox and features homes included in the Select-A-List.

RICHARD J. BROWN of Northville, Detroit district manager of the McCord Replacement Products Division of McCord Corporation, has been named the division's District Manager of the Year in the Central Region.

Brown, who holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Miami University of Ohio, joined McCord in February of 1971.

He was awarded the title in a ceremony recently. On hand for the occasion were Gordon F. McNamara, executive vice-president of marketing; John O. Lutz, president of McCord Replacement Products Division; and Wallace H. Oldacre, central regional manager.

McCord Replacement Products Division supplies gaskets, oil seals and exhaust systems to the automotive after-market.

A PROMOTION called "Spice Trade-In Promotion" will be held from January 7 to January 21 in Kroger stores.

All customers during the first week will receive a "spice bag" in which they are encouraged to fill with old spices and then bring back to the store during the next shopping visit.

Kroger will pay 10 cents for each old spice can which the consumer presents, off each new container of spices which she purchases.

DON CURRIER

According to Braver, Currier will assume his new position in January, 1973.

"Don Currier brings to the Braver Lumber Company 35 years of experience in Detroit's lumber and millwork business," said Braver. "And he will be one of the key men in our rapidly expanding programs for the building industry."

North Entrance to McCabe's New Farmington Branch

MARKING three generations of service to Detroit-area families and now entering its 80th year in business, McCabe Funeral Home has opened a second Detroit-area facility at 31950 Twelve Mile Road in Farmington near Orchard Lake Road.

In addition, the firm will continue to maintain its Detroit location at 18570 Grand River between Southfield and Outer Drive.

According to architect Morris Webster, the design of the three-level funeral home is characteristic of the Federal period of the early 1800's. It reflects the early American architecture which prevails in much of the Farmington area.

As visitors enter the home from the 120-car parking lot, they find themselves in an attractive lobby with an early American circular staircase rising to the floor above. A natural fireplace adds a feeling of warmth to the foyer. Off to the right of the lobby area is a Chapel which can seat 200 persons. Also on the first floor are three tastefully decorated state rooms. For the convenience of guests, an elevator is located at the entrance to the foyer. It connects the basement level with the second floor. This level includes a spacious casket display room and offices.

A feature of McCabe's new Farmington Funeral Home is a Memorial Alcove located on the mezzanine. The alcove contains a variety of McCabe memorabilia—historical photos and news notes concerning growth of the family business through three generations of service. A plaque was recently installed in this area honoring the son of the founder with the inscription reading: "Dedicated to the memory of Clifford L. McCabe—1895-1969". A similar plaque in the Detroit location of the firm honors the founder, Francis McCabe.

The first McCabe Funeral Home was started by Francis McCabe in 1893 in the Cass-Grand River area of Detroit. In those early days, since practically all funerals were conducted from the home, McCabe's first establishment required simply an office, a small chapel and preparation room.

Francis McCabe was joined by his son in the business in 1927. Utilizing the experience he gained from his father, Clifford L. opened a branch of the McCabe funeral Home in the northwest section of Detroit to provide service for the many families that in the 1930's were moving to the city's outlying areas. By 1947, the rapidly growing business prompted construction of a new ranch-style home at 18570 Grand River.

In recent years this structure has been modernized with the addition of a second floor lounge. Francis McCabe died in 1950 and Clifford McCabe served as President until his death in 1969.

In 1956, L. David McCabe, grandson of the founder and son of Clifford L., joined the firm as the third generation to carry on the family tradition of thoughtful, personal attention to the needs of bereaved families. A graduate of Wayne State University, where he studied Mortuary Science, David McCabe is a past president of District No. 1 of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association and has held several executive posts in the State association.

NEWEST MEMBER of Chevrolet's growing family of trucks—an imported light utility vehicle called LUV—has made its debut at Lou La Riche Chevrolet, Inc., 40875 Plymouth Road.

The small ½ ton pickup truck is expected to fulfill transportation needs now served by similar imported products, the dealer said.

Manufactured by Isuzu Motors Ltd. of Japan under an agreement with Chevrolet, LUV is marketed only by a select group of Chevrolet dealers in areas of the United States. Ten are located in the Detroit area.

LUV is offered as a single model equipped with a 4-speed transmission and a 75-horsepower, 110.8-cubic inch 4-cylinder engine. It is available in six colors.

The truck has a curb weight of 2,450 pounds and will carry up to 1,400 pounds of cargo and people.

Options include an AM radio, whitewall tires, an exterior decor group, mud flaps, chrome rear bumpers, tailgate inner panel, right outside mirror and righthand sunshade.

More Problems Than Solved

DNR Reviews 1972

LANSING—Michigan's environmental movement in 1972 was something like the football team which played a good game between the 20-yard lines. It made quite a few first downs, but didn't get many points on the big board.

What the movement's game plan lacked, of course, was not effort. There was plenty of that. However, there were many things which worked against long gains for environmentalists in '72.

Some possible breakthroughs were log-jammed by lengthy court deliberations; others were broadsided by a complexity of events; all proved that patience and hard work were distinct virtues for the conservation-minded.

As a top Department of Natural Resources official put it: "We gained more problems this year than we solved."

He was quick to add, however, that "we put ourselves on record as being smack dab in the middle of the fight for getting additional controls where they are needed to protect this state's environmental interests."

On the same side of that fight, to be sure, were those stout-hearted conservationists who closed ranks with the DNR in battling it out for environmental quality.

Thus, conservation—or environmentalism—remained a positive force in the year now slipping behind us. Optimistically, backers and leaders of the movement looked upon '72 as a year of paving the way for some major advances in '73.

Looming large on the New Year's horizon was an expanded version of Inland Lakes and Streams Act which would place proposed man-made development on virtually all interior waters under tight state control of the DNR.

Environmentalists also carried the high hope forward that the New Year would forge out a much-needed program of state-directed land and water-use reform for Michigan.

From its aggressive stance in 1972, the DNR cast an eager eye toward 1973 with the hope of finding out how much clout it packed in extending its umbrella of resource protection under the Department's basic organization law, Act 17 of 1921.

A LEADER FALLS

The man who championed these and other conservation causes for the last eight years passed from the scene in 1972. In an ironical twist of fate, Dr. Ralph A. MacMullan, director of the DNR, died of a heart attack on September 23, Michigan's and the nation's first Hunting and Fishing Day.

His death stilled one of the strongest, most outspoken voices for sportsmen. It also cast a pall over this state's entire environmental spectrum.

Michigan's loss was the nation's, too. Highly regarded in national circles as one of the most dynamic conservation leaders anywhere, Dr. MacMullan had served the past year as president of the prestigious International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners. He had also served in a number of other high national posts dealing with environmental affairs.

THE TORCH PASSED

In conservation, as other affairs, the job must go on. Named in late October to carry ahead Michigan's quest for environmental excellence was DNR veteran A. Gene Gazlay who, as Dr. MacMullan's right-hand man for the last 4 years, earned recognition and respect among active environmentalists as a top-notch administrator and sharp tactician.

Upon assuming the DNR's reins, Gazlay pledged, in his own style, to push forward much in the same path which his predecessor had set.

NO PRIMROSE PATH

The road ahead was—and is—paved with problems, lined with too many sloppy land developments which seem bent upon subdividing and conquering the wild land values of Michigan, particularly in the northern part of the state where the "rush" is on.

Small wonder, then, that the DNR in late 1972 was quick to swing its support behind the Omnibus Land Use and Development Bill spearheaded by a special commission of Governor Milliken.

The DNR, stamped the proposed measure as a first step toward the development of a rational State Land Use Policy, which would provide the needed coordination, direction, and long-range planning for many programs, including natural resources, human resources, and urban development.

Director Gazlay, testifying in behalf of the proposed bill, underscored these concerns of the DNR:

"In our north country, subdivision developers are carving up thousands of acres without concern for adequate roads, sewage disposal, schools, churches or other community facilities. They are raping the landscape by building roads in erodible soils, creating erosion on the hills and siltation in the streams. They are laying the foundation for the next big round of tax-reverted lands." Bridging The Gap

It seemed in 1972 that where land use problems left off in Michigan, water management problems took over. And so it was that the DNR and environmentalists placed top priority in attacking both problems as being virtually one and the same.

Their efforts netted a tremendous victory when both houses passed House Bill 4948, a measure which would provide a comprehensive system of permit controls over man-made developments on all inland waters, except small ponds.

The bill, hailed as the most important piece of environmental legislation last session, required some refinements at the end of '72 and was expected to take effect in March. As an improved, expanded version of the Inland Lakes and Streams Act, it would extend regulation over damming, dredging, channelization, and other such projects to so-called "non-navigable" waters.

DNR Director Gazlay, voicing the Department's full support for H.B. 4948 at a Senate committee hearing, described non-navigable streams as the "lifelines" of major river arteries and many inland lakes. He added that such feeder streams or non-navigable waters constitute those areas which are most critical to the environment.

NO TIME FOR WAITING

Even before H.B. 4948 was in the making, Michigan's Natural Resources Commission took action to bring new land and water developments under an orderly, carefully-controlled concept of standards to protect environmental values.

In sensing the urgency for action and the probability of extended political infighting on various issues, it adopted an interim land-use policy.

Under that policy, the Commission and DNR went on record as employing all of the constitutional and statutory authority at their command to thwart any new use of land and associated water resources which had the "potential to cause major irreversible damage to the quality of Michigan's environment."

At year's end, the interim policy, putting both private and public projects to that test, continued to guide the Commission's decisions on land matters and DNR's management of land-water programs in lieu of a workable state-wide land use plan which was hoped for in 1973.

TESTING AUTHORITY

For lack of clear-cut laws, the DNR time after time in 1972 found itself testing its basic authority under Act 17 in an effort to safeguard Michigan's natural resources. The interim policy was one example of this.

Another one which made big headlines in '72 centered upon the DNR's struggle to implement river-use rules on problem stretches of the Au Sable, Pere Marquette, Manistee, and Pine rivers.

The hotly-contested measures, designed to halt overcrowding, use conflicts, and environmental wear and tear on parts of those four streams, were taken to court on their constitutionality and challenged there on the DNR's authority to put them into effect.

At the end of 1972, they were still there—tied up in Lake County Circuit Court, and clouding the DNR's basic power to protect resource values under Act 17.

Natural Resources Commissioner Hilary F. Snell of Grand Rapids termed the question as the "bellweather issue" in the Commission's and DNR's over-all efforts to save natural resources from excessive use and the degradation which goes with it.

With this issue expected to go through a long drawn-out fight even at higher levels, the DNR announced in December that its top approach to the problem in 1973 would be keyed to seeking legislation giving it blanket authority to license and set rental quotas for boat livers and marinas on inland lakes, as well as on inland streams.

SHORELANDS PLAN

In the same sphere of attention, 1972 saw the drafting of a proposed plan to protect this state's Great Lakes shorelands. Basically, it set forth a broad management strategy centered upon preserving those areas—both private and public—in the most natural setting possible.

As such, it placed key emphasis upon singling out and providing protective use controls for "high risk" erosion areas and "environmental" areas along this state's Great Lakes shores. The plan, mandated by the Shorelands Protection and Management Act of 1970, was aired at public hearings in late 1972, underwent refinements from those hearings, and was scheduled for the desk of Governor Milliken in January as required by law.

FEDERAL CUT SET BACK

Michigan citizens received word in late December that they would have to live with water pollution problems longer than they had expected because of the federal administration's withholding of funds for municipal sewage treatment facilities nationwide.

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., At any given time at least 25 million people in the United States are in the process of deciding whether to build or buy a home. Some are newlyweds or not yet married.

Some are singles not yet considering marriage. Some are well into their 20s or 30s and have been living in apartments or with their parents. Many already own their homes but need a different type of house, or a summer residence. Or they have to buy a new place because employment or other considerations have dictated a move from their present home.

Should they build or buy? That is the $64 question. Many of them postpone a decision because they are frightened by high costs, including mortgage rates and taxes as well as the price of the home per se. They think that biding their time will get them a better deal, but this does not often turn out to be the case.

IT IS TRUE that lots of land in some locations—especially in deteriorating urban areas—do not appreciate as rapidly as tracts in the suburbs, but for the most part individual plots or tracts suitable for subdivision are firmly locked into a long-term uptrend. The growing needs of a population of 200 million see to that.

Time was when land values did drop when economic recession hit. But during the past decade this has tended to be the exception rather than the rule. So there is no great point in delaying your plans to build or buy a home because you anticipate a slide-off in land prices. Either the slide-off will not materialize at all or it will not be large enough to warrant the delay and inconvenience.

AND WHILE you are waiting for land prices to come down substantially, you may well be losing out on the other end because of rising building costs. Quotes for labor and materials have been trending up for the past several years. Even price and wage controls have done no more than slow the rate of rise.

As for existing houses, there has been a fairly steady climb in prices for quite a few years. In many areas the annual increase in the selling price of used homes is topping $1,000. The research staff of Babson's Reports is convinced still bigger boosts lie ahead.

WHILE MORTGAGE rates are not as high as they were in 1970-'71, their decline from those lofty peaks has been slow and slight. The next broad move will be on the upside; in fact, it has started.

Of course, mortgage rates and the availability of mortgage money do vary from region to region, even from bank to bank in the same or adjacent localities. In September the average interest rate on new-home mortgages was 7.42 percent—down a speck from August but higher than rates for the April-June period. In many parts of the country mortgages can be negotiated at rates closer to, or even below, 7 percent. But as a rule, you will pay considerable more in the West where rates well above the national norm have prevailed for several years.

EVEN IN THESE days of relatively high interest rates, you can get a better mortgage deal by careful shopping.

Aside from this elementary caution over money rates and the cost of the home itself, however, do not delay unduly the building or buying of a house which you need or could use to best advantage right now.

Health and happy living arrangements should outweigh penny-pinching in this era of steadily rising home prices...once you are satisfied that you are receiving a fair value for your outlay, and that you can make the purchase without going too heavily into debt...

Bike Paths Ride In on Transit Bill

LANSING—Attention was focused primarily on mass transit and highways in December when Governor William G. Milliken's transportation package finally cleared the legislature.

But tucked away in the package was a provision to help set up paths for bicycle riders throughout the state. The provision directs the Michigan Highway Department to build biking, hiking and horse back riding trails along new road projects.

It doesn't just authorize the spending of the money. It orders the spending of $2 million a year on the projects.

There were several backers of the proposal, but the prime mover was Rep. Richard Allen, R-Ithaca, who won't be back in the House this year since he was a victim of reapportionment.

ALLEN is an active bike rider himself. Every summer he leads a bike caravan north from the Capitol to the Mackinac Bridge, arriving just in time for the annual Labor Day Bridge Walk.

What he'd like to see eventually are bike paths along all major highways connecting the major centers of the state.

"Imagine when the new U.S. 2 is built in the upper peninsula with a 500-foot right of way through that beautiful woods and a bicycle path along one side so you can bicycle all the way across the upper peninsula," he says.

To further this dream he came up with the successful amendment to the transportation package requiring all local units of government to spend one-half of one per cent of the nearly $500 million a year they receive from the state Motor Vehicle Highway Fund on the paths.

PLANS for the paths must be included in any plans for new roads or the relocation of substantial improvement of any old roads.

Allen says there are some things officials can do as soon as the first warm rays of spring burst upon the state this spring.

For instance, they can create bike lanes on the wider streets in urban areas by using portable concrete dividers to prevent cars and trucks from using one of the lanes of traffic. Thus, bike riders could take their pollution free means of transportation into the city with at least a reduced fight with and fear of motor vehicles.

Allen will be ready for the new bike paths too. He just bought himself a new bicycle.

ANYONE WITH a son or daughter attending college doesn't need to be told this, but tuition and board and room costs at Michigan colleges and universities continue to rise.

The average student attending a public college or university in the state this year will pay $1,763 for tuition, room and board by the time June rolls around.

The costs divided up into an average of $549 for tuition and $1,215 for room and board. And non resident students pay an additional $914 for tuition.

Tuition for in state students ranges from $480 at Grand Valley State College up to $675 at Michigan State. Tuition for students from outside the state ranges from $1,116 at Ferris State College to $2,140 at the University of Michigan.

Total room and board charges range from a low of $1,080 at Ferris to $1,900 at Central Michigan.

IT WOULD BE nice if the legislature could get through its new session without wasting time on the busing issue.

The lawmakers spent day after day on busing last year, and in the end they had done absolutely nothing to stop it. Many of them had, however, played to the grandstand enough to win another term.

The facts are that the issue is in the federal courts and will eventually be decided by the U.S. Supreme Court. There is nothing that the Michigan Legislature can do at this time to overturn a U.S. Supreme Court ruling, no matter what that ruling is.

Practicing What Is Preached

State to Cover Trucks

Practicing what it preaches, the State Highway Commission has announced it has launched a program to cover loads on all Department dump trucks.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said mechanics in the Department's Automotive and Equipment Section have devised a simple nylon mesh and plastic cover that can be hand-cranked to roll forward and back over dump truck bodies.

"The Highway Department intends to have all its 200 trucks that carry loose material equipped with the new cover by the beginning of spring," Woodford said. "We hope the Department's new roll-on cover method will be an example for all public and private truckers to follow."

At the same time, the Highway Commission announced it will ask the 1973 Legislature to enact a law requiring all trucks carrying material that can spill or fly, to be covered. Such legislation failed to clear the 1972 Legislature.

The Highway Commission noted a sharp increase in complaints from motorists and insurance companies, reporting cracked windshields and other damage from flying material.

The Highway Department's roll-on cover involves a hand-cranked roller, two arms that take the cover up and over the load, two springs and two pulleys.

"It's really a simple and inexpensive device that can go a long way in eliminating spill and fly from truck loads on our highways," Woodford said.

Search for Rightful Mind

Rev. James F. Andrews
Full Salvation Union
Northville

"Dear Lord and Father of Mankind Forgive our foolish ways; reclothe us in our rightful mind, in purer lives thy service find in deeper reverence, praise."

Man lost his "Rightful Mind" in the fall of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. Since that time he has been living in a "foolish mind".

Our "Rightful Mind" is a mind that is "Hid with Christ in God". Jesus said, "Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it and whoever loses his life shall preserve it." Whittier responds for the whole human race in a prayer that we might be reclothed in our "Rightful Mind".

We do not know much about that way of life - where we live in our "Right mind" - a mind that is in harmony with God's mind.

When Adam and Eve were in the Garden before they fell out of God's mind, they had what could be called a glorious "Body of light" in which they lived. We do not know, now, what that was because we are not in our "Right Mind". As soon as they fell they lost that glorious "Body of Light" and became conscious that they were naked.

It is very difficult for us to give up the life we now live because it is all we know. If it was a matter of making a choice between two known things it would be different, but we do not have that choice. We only know what we know, and God requires us to "Lay our life down" before we can find out what He has in His mind. If we knew ahead, perhaps it would be a selfish decision on our part. Therefore, God hides His mind more or less behind the "robes of faith".

Salvation is by faith. What does it mean to be saved? It means to be saved from our own life, from the workings of our own mind and brought into this other type of life, where we "Live by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God". This is only accomplished by faith. We must believe that "God is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him."

Abraham believed God and it was accounted unto him for righteousness. The only way to be righteous is to believe God - believe that we can lay down our life and find a new life in Christ, which means that just as God revealed Himself through Christ, so He will live His mind through us.

Who will join Whittier in prayer that we might be "Reclothed with our rightful mind?"

THE CONVERSATION

Is the long road upward

All the way?

"Yes, my child, and rougher

Every day."

But my feet will stumble

Gainst the stone.

"I will hold thee, thou art

Not alone."

But the winds blow stronger

When on high.

"Tossed thou'lt be and beaten,

I'll be nigh."

Tempests may be strong and Beat me back.

"Fear thou not, beloved,

Keep the track.

Should strong foes beset to Overcome?

Keep thine eyes still upward

Toward thy home."

L.S. Pridgeon

That's what Grandma always says — that I have Grandfather's eyes.
It's certainly a mixed-up world, isn't it? People having other people's eyes.

But they never say Grandfather has my eyes. I asked Dad about it.

Although he didn't answer directly, he did say that we all have to have faith and character worth passing on to our children. That's why we go to church.

Later it occurred to me: Someday, somebody will have my eyes . . . my faith.

On Gasoline

New Tax Coming Up

Michigan on February 1 will become the 10th state to levy a nine-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline.

The two-cent increase in the current tax is the keystone of a transportation package passed by the Legislature in December and signed into law by Gov. William G. Milliken January 3. Proceeds will be used to build and maintain state highways, county roads and municipal streets and, for the first time, to develop and improve public transportation systems.

The tax increase, which also applied to liquid petroleum gas but not to diesel fuel used by trucks, will raise approximately $27 million by the end of the 1972-73 fiscal year June 30. Gross proceeds should total about $88 million in the year starting July 1.

Revenues from one-half cent of the nine-cent gas tax will go into a new General Transportation Fund primarily for public transportation purposes. The remaining eight and one-half cents, plus weight taxes (license plate fees), the seven-cent diesel fuel tax and other miscellaneous highway user fees, will be divided as follows:

—The state highway system—44.5 per cent, down from the current 46 per cent.

—The 83 county road commissions, 35.7 per cent, up from 34 per cent.

—The 530 incorporated cities and villages, 19.8 per cent, down from 20 per cent.

The formula changes were the result of highways, roads and street needs over the next 20 years conducted for the State Highway Commission, the County Road Association of Michigan and The Michigan Municipal League.

Following that formula, the state highway system is expected to receive about $231.5 million in fiscal 1973-74, some $21 million the result of the gas tax increase. The counties should collect $185.7 million the same year, $28 million more than they would have received without the increase and change in the distribution formula. Municipalities will collect an estimated $103 million, some $12 million from the higher gas tax.

Revenue in the General Transportation Fund is expected to total $6.9 million this fiscal year and about $22.1 million in 1973-74.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said the first distribution from the transportation fund, representing one month's collections, will be made in early May and total about $1.6 million. Approximately $5.3 million more from the April-June quarter will be distributed in early August, he said.

Fifty percent of the fund will be distributed to state urban areas by formula as direct grants to support effective bus transit systems. At the outset, 11 urban areas are expected to share the allocation. They are the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, serving the Detroit area, Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Muskegon and Saginaw.

Woodford said 105 urban areas, including the larger counties, are potential recipients for future years.

The other 50 percent of the fund will go for multi-year mass transit programs, including some $2 million into a research and development fund for grants to any type of rapid or mass transit system on a demonstration basis.

DNR Reviews 1972

This state's share of the federal cost-sharing funds was cut from $880 million authorized by Congress for the next two years down to $400 million.

With federal grants covering 75 percent of project costs, this meant that the program of waste water treatment improvements in the state would reach only $498 million over the next two years instead of the full $1.2 billion projected under the level approved by Congress.

Against this turn of events, the Michigan Water Resources Commission faced a backlog of grant applications from communities in the state for next treatment plant construction totaling $1.8 billion.

RECREATION ON THE SPOT
Next to land-water problems, recreation was No. 2 on this year's list of natural resources concerns. The problem there was money—or, more precisely, the lack of it.

Michigan's leisure-time needs, left with no more funds to draw from in the state's $100 million Recreation Bond Program, were seen by the DNR as "easily" approaching $400 million over the next 5 years.

The magnitude of the situation was described as "staggering" by the DNR's Deputy Director of Recreation when, in November, he outlined the total picture covering local recreation and state projects in the field of wildlife, forestry, parks, fisheries, waterways, and historic preservation.

"Without careful planning and responsible fiscal support," Samuel A. Milstein emphasized, "utter collapse or violent upset is predictable in Michigan's Recreation Future."

An overview of Michigan's leisure-time needs for the next 5 years singled out local recreation programs as the "foundation" of any statewide recreation system. However, Director Gazlay indicated that those local programs will be in for some lean years unless the state comes up with the dollar power (about $200 million) to fund its share of the total recreational load projected by the DNR.

CAPSULIZED HEADLINERS
Many other major developments in conservation affairs made headlines in 1972. Here, to make some long stories short, are some of them:

—DNR purchases the Maybury property in Northville and begins planning for the first state park in Wayne County.

—Michigan's first modern-day planting supply of Atlantic salmon find new homes in Boyne and Au Sable rivers.

—DNR, Water Resources Commission approve permits for multi-million-dollar Tilden Mine iron-ore pelletizing operation in Ishpeming area.

—Michigan's Waterways Commission, responding to environmental concern, abandons further plans for developing harbor of refuge and boat launching complex at the mouth of the Platte River.

—Summer sale of state oil and gas lease rights draws bonus bids totaling a record $9.6 million for 426,370 acres in 11 northern Lower Michigan counties.

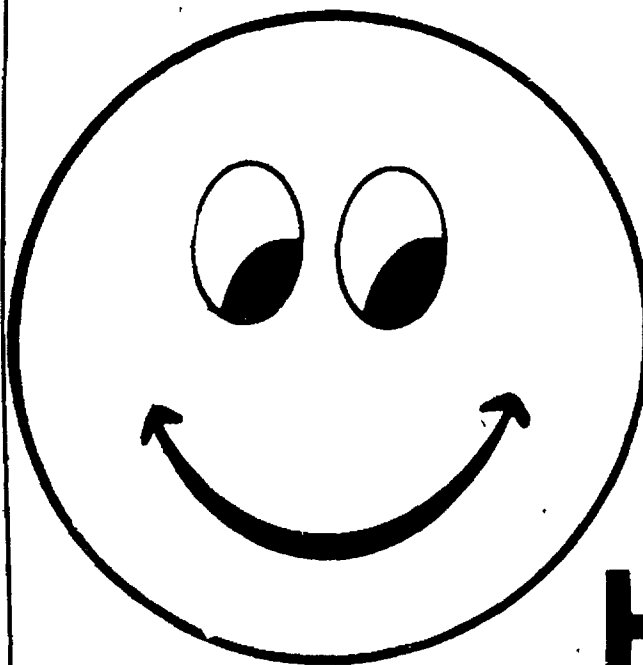

—Lake trout placed back on DNR's planting list for Lake Huron, and given top priority in state's plans to rebuild fishing fortunes of these waters.

—Jordan River and tributaries draw first designation, as wild scenic river, under Michigan's Natural Rivers Program.

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH RETIREMENT CENTER

A nonprofit Michigan corporation established to provide dignified, secure and comfortable housing for the retirees of Michigan, announces

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH RETIREMENT CENTER SUBORDINATED DEBENTURES

7 1/2% SERIES II

These debentures mature five years from date of issue and yield 7 1/2% annual interest, payable on the last day of June and December. (This issue supersedes Series I debentures, which have been completely subscribed).

Debentures can be purchased in a minimum amount of $1,000 and in amounts greater than that in increments of $500. Interest is paid automatically by check mailed to the holder.

Income from sale of these debentures will be used for the construction and furnishing of THE LUTHERAN RETIREMENT CENTER, Ann Arbor, now under construction and scheduled for opening in the spring of 1973.

Purchase of these debentures is limited to bona fide residents of Michigan.

This announcement is neither an offer to sell nor solicitation of offers to buy any of these debentures. Such offering is made only in the information statement which is available upon request.

For information about these debentures—or about residence at The Lutheran Retirement Center—write or call

PRESIDENTIAL SPORTS AWARD

The program to encourage physical fitness is designed over a broad scope including most participatory sports - skiing, swimming, bicycling, golf, handball, tennis, softball, water skiing, etc. There are 31 sports in all in which you can qualify to earn a patch or a pin.

We, of course, are interested in one called Equestrian, and to earn it there are only two qualifications. You must ride horseback a minimum of 50 hours, with no more than one hour in any one day credited to the total.

The second qualification is that you must be 18 years of age or older, and this riding must be done within a four-month period.

HORSE COURSES FOR COEDS

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has a growing number of women students enrolled in the school of agriculture's animal industries courses, especially those dealing with horses.

A course offered in the fall term was Stable Management and Horsemanship and at least half of the students in this class were women.

In addition to classroom lectures, the students have a generous assignment of work with horses at SIU's Horse Center, which is maintained for teaching and research.

A pre-veterinary medicine program at SIU also is attracting an increasing percentage of women students interested in becoming veterinarians.
