

Annexation Ruling Surprises No One Here

Reactions to the decision of the Michigan Boundary Commission calling for annexation of the township to the city of Northville effective March 31, 1973 were widespread this week.

The Record contacted city and township officials plus a number of other citizens who have been active opponents and proponents of unification.

This is what they had to say:

Sally Cayley, township clerk—"I expected more from the document. They didn't take many things into consideration, like the difference in water and sewer systems, for example. I also question if the city charter is suitable for a larger city. Altogether, there are just too many loose ends."

Richard Ambler, township resident and spokesman for One Northville committee—"I'm very pleased that annexation of the entire area was approved. Now I would hope that it could be accomplished as soon as possible."

Lawrence Wright, township supervisor—"We expected it and knew which way the decision would go. Now we've got to get to work and get enough signatures for an election. I think the people should decide. I won't take any position, but I'll sign a petition for an election."

Frank Ollendorff, city manager—"I think it's just great. It's the third independent study in a row where unification of two governments has been approved. Anytime anyone without an axe to grind looks at the question, they favor unification."

Joseph Straub, township treasurer—"I'm not surprised, but the decision took longer than I thought it would. I think the people are entitled to vote on the question and I'll carry a petition for an election."

Mark Lysinger, spokesman for opposition—"I wasn't shocked by the decision but I was a little shocked by the lack of good judgment shown by the commission. Obviously, I don't agree with them, but I think it is equally obvious that sound logic is missing (from the Commission's arguments). For example, no consideration was given citizens of the township. Instead, it shows only what might be good for the city." Paul Folino, city councilman—"I expected the Boundary Commission to approve it so it was no surprise to me. However, I think this is an important enough decision that the people should have an opportunity to vote on it. If they don't want the vote they won't sign petitions. If that happens or if the people vote on it and favor annexation, I will do everything I can as a councilman for both the people of the township and the city. If annexation is not approved, I would hope the city and township could work together even though they have separate governments."

Robert Adams, township auditor—"It supports my

"A REAL COMMUNITY" event is the way the Northville Historical Society dinner dance sponsored by the VFW is described by party planners as more than 500 tickets were sold by the first of the week. JOHN LaRUE has been elected chairman of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, succeeding R. Robert Geake, who now is a Michigan legislator. Mrs. Rosina Raymond was returned as vice-chairman and Paul Kadish as treasurer. LaRue, a resident of Livonia, was elected to a six-year term in June of 1969. He is an executive with the Bendix corporation.

TWO PERSONS were appointed to the library board and a fireman was named as an "observer" on the township fire study committee by the city council this week. Named as replacements to the library board were Carol Ann Ayers and Jay Wendt. Charles Gross was named the observer, following a request by the township that a city representative sit in on subsequent study meetings concerning possible establishment of a fire station in the township.

PLANS are underway for a dedication ceremony for the new Drawbridge Restaurant to be held sometime in March. Opening of the restaurant will follow later. According to Gerald T. Harris, secretary of the controlling corporation, several state officials and representatives of the British Embassy are to participate in the ceremony. President and treasurer of the corporation is Paul Fregoll, a Southfield attorney, Chef Leopold Schaeli is the vice-president. On Monday the city council approved the transfer of the liquor license of Ramsey's Bar to the Drawbridge.

State Approves Annexation; Citizens Seek Elections

In a later than expected but unsurprising ruling, the Michigan Boundary Commission last week decided in favor of a single Northville community.

The ruling means that the township is to be formally annexed to the city March 31, 1973 unless citizens challenge it by petitioning for an election on the annexation question.

And that election already appears very likely, with announcements by citizens of both the city and the township that election-requesting petitions are to be circulated soon. (See story elsewhere on this page and Letter to the Editor on Page 10-A).

To secure an election petitioners must obtain valid signatures of 25-percent of the registered voters in the city or township or in both between Monday and 5 p.m. March 14.

Only if the 25-percent requirement is reached in both the city and the township will voters of both municipalities be permitted to vote. In other words, it is possible the election could be held only in the township or only in the city.

The Boundary Commission, which is legally empowered to order annexation, concluded in its six-page brief that the interest of the entire community would be best served by its approval of the annexation as petitioned. Its decision was unanimous.

The commission also announced its decisions on annexation in Novi and in other Oakland County communities. See Novi, Page 1.

The commission, composed of three members appointed by the governor and two appointed by the county probate court, was petitioned for the annexation by 352 citizens of the city and the township early in March of last year.

Plan Petition Campaign

In the wake of the Michigan Boundary Commission's decision favoring annexation of the township to the city, it appears likely that an election on the question will be held in the township...and, perhaps, in the city.

Under the law, citizens of either the city or township may petition for an election.

Township Clerk Sally Cayley has announced formation of a township committee to prepare and circulate petitions calling for an election. Serving with Mrs. Cayley on the committee, she told The Record, are Trustee Richard Mitchell, Mark Lysinger, chief spokesman against annexation at last year's public hearing, and Robert Adams, recently appointed township auditor. Persons who wish to circulate or sign petitions are asked to contact Mrs. Cayley (349-0426), Mitchell (349-1603), Lysinger (349-1465) or Adams (349-6184).

Mrs. Cayley also said her committee will be willing to work with any group or citizens of the city who may wish to petition for a city vote on the annexation question. As outlined by the Boundary Commission last week, petitions may be circulated in either the city or township or in both between February 12 and March 14.

To call for an election in the township, petitioners must

Complaints Expected

City Assessments Boosted

City Manager Frank Ollendorff is bracing himself for what he expects to be a record number of complaints from city property owners, especially those residing in the Wayne county portion of the city.

The cause of Ollendorff's concern is the reappraisal of all property values by county assessors.

In the Wayne county portion of the city the result is an overall increase in state equalized valuation (SEV) of 31 per cent.

The SEV hike in the Oakland county portion is 25 per cent.

Specifically, the SEV for 1973 in the Wayne county portion of the city is $21,207,900 compared to $16,234,272 last year.

In Oakland county the new SEV is $12,929,200 compared to $10,321,853 in 1972.

Thus the city's total state equalized valuation is $34,137,100 in 1973. In 1972 it was $26,556,130.

SEV represents 50 per cent of market value of property.

But even these figures fail to tell the real reason for the city manager's concern over the hike in assessments in the Wayne county portion of the city.

In reality Oakland county property owners will receive a boost of only 12.6 per cent in SEV. That's because half of the 25 per cent increase in property valuation is due to new buildings erected during the past year in the Oakland county portion of the city.

But the story's not the same in Wayne county.

In contrast to Oakland county the brunt of the increase in the Wayne county portion is on residential buildings. What's more, there's been very little new building.

Actually, the average

Council Oks Bid For Ambulance

Low bid of the General Ambulance Company to service Northville was accepted Monday by the city council.

But whether or not the bid is acceptable to the township remains in doubt since the township advertised for bids separate of the city, and the township board won't open its bids until next Tuesday.

After noting a wide disparity in the three bids received by the city and acting upon the recommendation of City Manager Frank Ollendorff, the council accepted the bid of General, which has been serving the community and which presently is being furnished free temporary quarters by the city.

General's bid asks a subsidy of $3,600 annually (estimated cost of furnishing

MR. AND MRS. FREDRICK W. HOLDSWORTH

A wedding trip to Florida, where the bridegroom will soon begin spring training with the Detroit Tigers, followed the January 27 marriage of Laura Lee Guider and Fredrick William Holdsworth.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Guider of 47300 West Main and Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Holdsworth of 46778 Grasmere.

Candlelight and shades of blue helped to create the setting in The First Presbyterian Church of Northville where the Reverend Lloyd Brasure performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a bridal gown made of white faille. The design was princess-style and featured a high neck and lantern sleeves.

Venetian lace appliques trimmed the dress as well as the mantilla veil she wore. She carried a bouquet made of white roses, blue mums and babies breath.

As maid of honor, Jane Forrer of Northville wore a gown made of sapphire blue velvet trimmed with white lace. Her bouquet was an arrangement of blue and white mums and carnations.

Beverly Forsyth and Hillary Holdsworth of Northville and Joan Potvin of Cadillac were bridesmaids. Their dresses and bouquets were similar to the maid of honor's.

Richard Adams, best man, was assisted by James Penrod, Philip Guider, Jeff Guider and John Holdsworth.

A reception for 190 guests was held at the Thunderbird-Hilton following the ceremony. Out-of-town guests came from Connecticut, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois and Canada.

Following the spring training camp, the new Mr. and Mrs. Holdsworth plan to return to the Northville area and the bride will continue her studies at Eastern Michigan University.

MRS. WILLIAM (KATHRYN) HARVEY

Bishop-Harvey Vows Repeated in Midland

A first meeting at an Hawaiian luau, led to the marriage on February 3 of Kathryn Elizabeth Bishop and William Frederick Harvey. The Reverend Gayle Beanland performed the candlelight ceremony at Memorial Presbyterian Church in Midland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Defina of Northville and Charles Bishop of Battle Creek. Dr. and Mrs. Emerson Harvey of Bay City are the parents of the bridegroom.

Music for the 7 p.m. ceremony was played by Dr. Theodore Meisel.

The bride's stepfather, Frank Defina of Northville, gave the bride in marriage.

Her bridal dress featured an A-line skirt and an oval neckline. The Watteau train was chapel length and the same Venice-type lace was used to trim both the dress and the train. She wore a fingertip veil.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Fagan and bridesmaids were Theresa Bishop, Cindy Harvey and Janice Cowdry.

All wore gowns with royal blue velvet bodices and skirts of a floral print moire. Ruffles created an apron effect on the A-line skirts.

Robert Harvey was his brother's best man. The ushers were Daniel Bishop, Dan Frieders, Robert Kinney, Tom Jervis, Frederick Horuk and Joseph Favazza.

At Midland Country Club, 250 guests were entertained following the ceremony. Friends and relatives traveled to the wedding from Northville, Bay City, Ohio, Illinois and New York.

Presently, the new Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are honeymooning on the island of Barbados in the Caribbean.

When they return, they will be at home in Bay City.

The bride is a graduate of Delta College and now works as a registered nurse at Midland Hospital. Her husband graduated from Parsons College at Fairfield, Iowa, and is assistant treasurer at the Midland Branch of Mutual Savings and Loan.

To Live Here

The Martha-Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village was the setting for the February 2 wedding of Mrs. Judith P. Robinson of Reservoir Road and C. Thomas Sechler of West Dunlap.

The 6 p.m. service was performed by the Reverend Lloyd Brasure.

After the ceremony, a dinner for family members and close friends was held at the Dearborn Inn.

When the couple returns from their Venezuelan honeymoon, they will live on Reservoir Road

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

CRIS BECKER is one of Our Town's talented young people choosing a career in the performing arts. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred C. Becker, she is a Northville High graduate who continued her studies in music and theatre at Wayne State University.

During her high school years here, she performed in "Oliver," "Diary of Anne Frank" and "Miracle Worker." Next Thursday, February 15, she will be returning to present a professional performance, a folk music program, in the Junior Entertainment Series from 3 to 4 p.m. for Cooke Middle School and Annex students.

Appearing with her will be another young music-drama student, Roger James. The program is their first alliance and will range from early American and country western music to Irish ballads and sea chanties and conclude with contemporary.

Cris and Roger became acquainted last summer at Greenfield Village. Cris was performing in the summer stock company which presented 20-minute plays at various locations in the village. Roger was the minstrel who introduced the scenes.

He will perform next week on the ukelin, an early American instrument, as well as on the banjo and guitar. In addition to singing, Cris plays the guitar and recorder.

Cris has played in dramatic groups at University of Michigan and University of Detroit and last year toured Europe with the Wayne State Chamber Sings. She presently is free lancing and also is employed by WXYZ on a children's show, "Super Circus," as Ginger Gingham.

Cooke PTA is having an advance ticket sale for the Junior Entertainment Series program today (Thursday) and Friday at the school and Annex. Tickets are $1.

CHRISTMAS is just past for most area residents with some still having unlit holiday lights outside and Christmas greeting cards waiting to be looked at again. The women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, however, are looking ahead to Christmas 1973 and have set the date for the Christmas bazaar they hold every other year.

It is called Holiday Shoppe and will be held November 9 at the church. General Chairmen are Mrs. Ray Tulbee, Mrs. Neil Nichols and Mrs. Alex Johnson.

At a meeting last week booths were decided upon and chairmen named for each. Members will begin working now on handmade items. As in past years there will be many knitted and crocheted gifts as well as homemade baked goods and candy. The women also are planning to have a Trash 'n' Treasures booth of things old, antique and just not wanted. With nine months to prepare, the chairmen plan to make this a really BIG bazaar.

THE ART of wrapping thread around pins and the placement of the pins in a pattern to make pillow lace will be demonstrated at the DAR Early American Tea from 1 to 5 p.m. this afternoon (Thursday) at St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Road. Sponsored by the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, DAR, the tea is a benefit for a nursing scholarship for an American Indian.

Staff members from Greenfield Village will be among experts demonstrating lace making, netting, needlepoint and bargello. According to ticket chairman Mrs. Helen Rosholt, a limited number of tickets will be available at $1 at the door.

INDIVIDUALS AS WELL as organizations may nominate candidates for the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary's second annual "Woman of the Year" award. Nominations are being taken all this month as the auxiliary plans to honor a woman in the Northville area whom it feels is outstanding.

Since rules have been changed from last year, the sponsoring committee stresses that individuals may nominate and organizations may nominate as many women as they feel necessary. There is no age limit and the nominee does not have to belong to an organization. She must live or work in the Northville area.

Application forms are available from Mrs. Douglas Loomis, 369 Maplewood. She may be contacted for additional information at 349-1664. Completed forms are to be returned to her telling what qualities make the woman nominated outstanding and through what activities she has demonstrated her excellence. Deadline is March 1 with the nominees to be honored and the winner announced at a tea in early March.

UKRAINIAN EASTER eggs with their intricate decorations long have been considered miniatures of art. A demonstration of how they are created will be given by Marcia Starr at the luncheon meeting of the Dearborn-Plymouth Chapter of the Christian Women's Club at noon today (Thursday) at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

Carolyn Lunn has been announced as inspirational speaker of the day with special music being supplied by Glen Ellis. The chapter has members in the Northville, Novi and South Lyon areas and takes advance reservations for the monthly meetings which are open to women of all communities. Locally, reservations may be made with Mrs. Eugene Harris, 21147 Lujon, Northville, and Mrs. Ivan Springstead, 23949 Heartwood, Novi.

NORTHVILLE FAMILIES are continuing to move around. John Northup, who built many of the well-designed, timeless colonial homes in this community, and his wife Carol have sold their home on West Main Street and currently are building a new home at Antrim Dells near Charlevoix. To provide a closer home base for daughter Sue, a freshman at University of Michigan, and keep in touch with local interests they have taken an apartment on Beck Road also.

At Antrim Dells John Northup has been working on arrangements for a proposed condominium near the golf course. In the new location he also will be near the hardware-lumber business he and his brother-in-law, W. E. Schulz, have at East Port on Torch Lake.

The Donald Boors moved this week from Woodhill Road to a new colonial duplex on First Street. Since only David and Joan were still living at home, the Boors decided upon smaller quarters.

Medieval colonial is the style of the new home built by Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Ishac on Woodhill off Lujon in Meadowbrook Woods. The couple, with their two sons and daughter, moved in December 11, but had been building the home for many months.

Like many new owners who have just built, Nancy Ishac says she wouldn't want to do so again, but is pleased with such details as the 16-foot-high foyer. She presently looks out on an apple orchard but expects several new neighbors. The Del Blacks have tentative plans for a Spanish-type home near but do not expect to build until mid-summer.

The Ishacs, with their children and Mrs. Ishac's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rellick of Beck Road, flew to Barbados earlier in January for a winter vacation.

Mrs. Beltz

Wins Honor

Mrs. Mary Ann Zotto Beltz of Northville has won top honors in the Fourth Annual Michigan Artists Craftsmen Regional Exhibition which is now being held at the Lansing Community Art Gallery.

Her prize will be participation in a two person art showing at the gallery in September.

Her entry included four pieces of soft fiber sculpture. "Not all entries are accepted for the show, and having all four of my pieces accepted was quite exciting," she said.

Mrs. Beltz studied at North Texas State University and holds a master degree in fine arts weaving from Eastern Michigan University.

The exhibit at the Lansing gallery is on now through February 28.

Public Hearing Could Determine SCI Fate

Efforts to bring a proposed regional shopping center to Novi are receiving a strong boost from the residents of West Bloomfield Township.

At stake is a multi-million dollar shopping center - larger than Northland - which will reportedly contain three major department stores (Hudsons, Sears, and J. C. Penney's) and approximately 100 other retail shops.

Two sites for the center are under consideration. Shopping Centers Incorporated (SCI) is proposing a location in Novi between 12 Mile Road and the I-96 expressway, east of Novi Road, while the HTK Detroit Company is promulgating a location in West Bloomfield, north of Maple Road (15 Mile) between Haggerty and Halstead Roads.

The decision on which developer and which site will get the shopping center will come from Dayton-Hudson headquarters in Minneapolis.

Recently, the chances of SCI and Novi were given a boost by the residents of West Bloomfield Township who have said they don't want the shopping center in their community and are prepared to fight to keep it out.

Although the Novi site is already zoned for commercial use, the West Bloomfield parcel would have to be rezoned before the shopping center could be constructed. A public hearing requested by the HTK Detroit Company has been set for Tuesday, February 13, to consider the rezoning of the 197-acre parcel to a commercial designation.

A contingent of West Bloomfield residents have banded together under the name "Citizens' Council for Land Use Research and Education" to oppose that rezoning.

"We definitely don't want the shopping center to be located here," said Janet Lynn, spokesman for the Citizens' Group. "To put in a shopping center of that size will destroy the rural quality of the area. We don't feel that West Bloomfield has the right to impose that kind of development on surrounding communities."

The opposition from the West Bloomfield residents is not the first time the HTK Detroit Company has had problems in obtaining zoning for this same shopping center. A previous plan to locate the center in Farmington was abandoned in 1971 when public opinion rose against granting the developer the zoning he needed.

Bloomfield Citizens Oppose Rezoning

At the time the Farmington location offered by HTK Detroit was abandoned, it seemed as if SCI and Novi would get the shopping center.

However, HTK was successful in obtaining sufficient acreage in West Bloomfield to propose an alternate location to the SCI-Novi site. "Somebody from SCI made a big mistake in allowing such a large parcel to be available in the general area," commented an HTK representative at the time. "They should have acquired sufficient options on the land to prevent us from getting the acreage we needed to go back to Dayton-Hudson."

Novi officials are hopeful that the opposition of the West Bloomfield residents will persuade Dayton-Hudson to select the SCI site.

The West Bloomfield Citizens' Group for Land Use Research and Education has asked the township planning commission to postpone action on the rezoning request until the following conditions are met:

1. HTK Detroit prepares an environmental impact study under guidelines established by the State of Michigan
2. Their study has been submitted to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) and the Oakland County Planning Commission, as well as West Bloomfield's Planning Commission and Board of Trustees, for their study and written reports.
3. All the reports, including the initial environmental impact study of HTK, are released to the public.

In light of the fact that such a procedure could take a considerable amount of time, it is hoped that the delay would cause Dayton-Hudson to become impatient and select the SCI-Novi site.

If the West Bloomfield planners deny the request of the Citizens' Group for the environmental impact studies, the hearing will be held February 13 as originally planned.

If the zoning request is granted at that time, nothing as to the location of the center will have been decided. In other words, both sites will still be in contention.

However, if the rezoning request should be denied, SCI and Novi would seem to be in a good position to receive the regional shopping center.

This opinion was hesitantly confirmed by Bruce Andrews a SCI vice-president: "If the West Bloomfield zoning is denied, it would appear that we would be in a very good position," he said, "but I can't say for sure. The final decision will have to come from Dayton-Hudson. All I know at the present time," Andrews continued, "is that we are presently

Brookland Farms Annexed to City

OBSTACLE COURSE—Snowmobilers won't have to dodge obstacles like this fallen tree in the Novi City Park, but there'll be plenty of action anyway this weekend as the Novi Jaycees present their second annual Winter Carnival in the City Park and on Walled Lake. Sponsored by the Jaycees in conjunction with the Parks and Recreation Commission, the Carnival includes an ice fishing contest, ice skating races, and a snowman building contest in addition to the snowmobile races. Jerry Chamberlain, Denny Wolcott, and Joe Pochter (above left to right) are co-chairmen of the event which raises funds for the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Brookland Farms subdivision, the last remaining stronghold of township government in Novi, will be annexed to the city April 1, 1973, unless township officials take steps to prevent the action.

In a five-page report handed down last week, the State Boundary Commission announced that it had approved the petitions of the city for the annexation of Brookland Farms and that the annexation would become effective April 1 of this year.

One course of action is still available to township officials who in the past have indicated they will exhaust all resources in attempts to block the annexation.

By submitting a petition signed by 25 percent of the registered voters of either the City of Novi or Brookland Farms subdivision, township officials can force an election on the question.

Should the voters then decide against the proposed annexation, the decision of the Boundary Commission would be overturned and no further attempts to annex Brookland Farms to the city could be initiated for a period of two years.

According to Leo Kallotta, Novi Township Supervisor, petitions will be circulated among Brookland Farms residents and an election appears likely.

To be valid, the petition must be circulated and filed in the Boundary Commission's Lansing office between February 12 and 5 p.m. March 14.

Should the annexation go through, Novi Township would find itself in a highly unusual situation.

Two years ago, the township consisted of eight parcels of land scattered randomly across the city. Petitions to annex seven of the eight parcels were filed by the city and in January of 1972 the annexation was approved by the Boundary Commission.

Since those seven parcels of land contained less than 100 residents, the Commission's decision was not subject to challenge by an election and the parcels were slated to become part of the city.

The annexation was blocked, however, when Novi township officials filed suit against the Boundary Commission, challenging not only its decision on the Novi properties, but also the constitutionality of the Commission to make decisions regarding any annexation or boundary dispute.

That suit is currently being heard in the Ingham County Circuit Court.

In the meantime, the court issued a stay order blocking the annexation of the seven outlying parcels until such time as a decision is reached. Thus, the seven outlying parcels are still a part of Novi Township.

As the Brookland Farms annexation was not a part of that suit, it is possible that the subdivision could be annexed to the city before a decision is reached on the seven parcels.

Jaycees Name DSA Winner

Fred J. Buck, an 18-year resident of the city, was named recipient of Novi's first "Distinguished Service Award (DSA)" by the Novi Jaycees at a special Recognition Breakfast Saturday.

Approximately 150 community leaders, including 19 nominees for the Distinguished Service Award, attended the breakfast at the Holiday Inns as guests of the Novi Jaycees.

The DSA is presented by the Jaycees to a citizen who is judged to have given "distinguished service" to his community. This is the first year the award has been presented in Novi.

In announcing selection of Buck as the recipient of the award, Todd Price, president of the Novi Jaycees, noted that so many good nominations had been submitted that length of service to the community was a prime consideration in the final selection.

"Fred Buck has been active in both civic affairs and with the youth of Novi for the past 18 years," said Price.

Among Buck's civic contributions, Price noted that he had been a co-chairman of the Novi Cityhood Committee and was a member of the Novi City Charter Commission.

member of the reserve police force, he is a platoon leader in the reserves and previously served on the Blue Ribbon Committee to upgrade police salaries.

In addition, he has served on the Board of Appeals for the past three years.

Buck has also been active in his own subdivision and is both a former director and president of the Willowbrook Homeowner's Association. He has managed the water system for the Willowbrook subdivision for the past 11 years.

Snow Carnival's This Weekend

Forecast Cheers Jaycees

Forecasts of cold weather and snow flurries for this weekend come as welcome news to the members of the Novi Jaycees.

For awhile, unseasonably warm temperatures threatened to melt the ice on Walled Lake and force cancellation of their second annual Novi Winter Carnival.

But now that the weatherman is finally cooperating, everything is set and ready to go for this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, February 10 and 11, on Walled Lake across from the Novi City Park.

Profits from the Winter Carnival, which is sponsored by the Jaycees in conjunction with the Parks and Recreation Commission, will be turned over to the Commission for use in other programs.

Last year in spite of a warm day that left a thin layer of water on top of the ice Sunday, the Jaycees raised more than $600 for the Parks and Recreation Commission.

With a year of experience behind them, the Jaycees hope to increase that amount this year.

The 1973 Winter Carnival will include such activities as ice skating races, snowman-building contests (weather permitting), ice fishing contests, and snowmobile races.

In addition regular winter-time activities such as sledding and skating will be going on in the City Park in addition to the races and contests.

The ice skating competition will take place Saturday, February 10, at 1 p.m. on Walled Lake. There will be classifications according to age for boys and girls, men and women.

The ice fishing contest will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday and close at 2 p.m. Sunday. Fish caught in Walled Lake must be brought to the City Park and weighed in by Carnival officials. A trophy will be awarded to the person catching the biggest fish each day.

Highlight of the Winter Carnival, however, remains the snowmobile races. A quarter mile drag race will be held Saturday, while an obstacle course race on the lake has been slated for Sunday.

Registration for the drag races will take place from 9-11 a.m. Saturday. Preliminaries will be run from 11 a.m. till 1 p.m. with the finals slated for 1-2:30 p.m.

Registration for the obstacle course race will take place from 10-11 a.m. Sunday. Preliminaries will be run from 11 a.m. till 1 p.m. with the finals following from 1-2:30 p.m.

Chapper Plan Spurs Novi Development

A proposal that would greatly speed development of the northwest section of the city was presented to the Novi city council Monday by the Chapper Organization.

Specifically, the Chapper Organization, a land development firm with extensive holdings in the northwest portion of the city, proposed to construct at its own expense a sewer interceptor line capable of handling 3,000 sewer taps to the Novi-Walled Lake Sewage Treatment plant on West Road.

In return, the Chapper Organization asked that it receive 1,000 sewer taps as full payment for the installation of the line. The city, it was explained, would then receive the remainder of the sewer taps to disperse and sell as it sees fit.

"The benefits of such a proposal to the city would be immense," said George Athas, former Novi city manager and now a representative of the Chapper Organization.

Initial reaction of the council was that the plan could indeed prove to be of great benefit to the city, but would have to be studied carefully for all its ramifications.

Said Councilman Denis Berry: "If we allow this interceptor line to be built, the entire northwest area including some of our prime industrial land would be opened for development. It could be a tremendous boon to the city."

The Chapper proposal was prompted by the fact that it owns 600 acres of land in the northwest area. Some time ago Chapper gave a portion of that land to the city for the construction of the Novi-Walled Lake sewage treatment plant.

"Now we'd like to start using that plant in the middle of our property and start developing the area," Athas told the council.

The specifics of the Chapper proposal are as follows.

1. Chapper at its own expense would design an interceptor line capable of handling 3,000 sewer taps in sections Four and Nine from the treatment plant north to Pontiac Trail.

2. Further, it would then obtain bids, let the contract, and pay for the job.

3. It would grant all easements for the construction of the sewer line and would also grant reasonable easements across its property so other developers could tie into the interceptor.

All construction would be under the supervision of city and county authorities.

4. Finally, once all the work has been completed, the interceptor line would be dedicated to the city.

Athas emphasized that the city would benefit by having much of its proposed industrial land opened for development, thus enhancing the city's tax base.

Furthermore, he said, the sale of the additional taps provided by the installation of the line would add several million dollars to the city's coffers which could be used to

Mary Higgins

She's Top Homemaker

Northville High School's 1973 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Mary Higgins.

Selected by score in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken by both senior boys and girls in December, Mary will receive a specially designed award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow.

In addition, she remains eligible for state and national honors.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Higgins Jr. of 46180 West Main Street.

The only class in the home economics department she has taken while at Northville High has been a course in crafts and hobbies. Mary said she "found the test relatively easy. It was more practical knowledge than many I've taken lately." She said she's recently taken "a lot of tests, mostly for college entrance."

The Northville senior has been accepted at the University of Michigan where she will be enrolled in the school of nursing.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow, to be chosen from all school winners in the state in judging centering on performance in the December test, will receive a $1,500 college scholarship.

A 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," will also be presented to the state winner's school by Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation. The second-ranking student in the state will receive a $500 scholarship.

In late April, winners representing all 50 states and the District of Columbia will meet in Washington, D. C., where the 1973 award winner and three runners-up will be selected.

Judges will base their decisions on interviews during the tour, personal observation and state-level judging results.

Mary is one of a total of 665,600 seniors who competed in this year's Search, the first in which boys were eligible to participate. The program has been in operation since the 1954-55 school year.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: None.

RANDOLPH DRAIN RESOLUTION: City Manager explained the two alternatives that Inter-County Drain Board offered to the City and property owners.

1. 50 foot easement with construction of a channel 30 feet wide.
2. Flood plain easements as described on easement map.

City Attorney read Resolution favoring Flood Plain Easement Plan to the City Council and Audience. City Manager recommended adopting this resolution. Most property owners protest both of these plans but City Manager explained if no action were taken the drain board would probably choose channelization.

Paul Steencken of 562 Randolph believed that developers north of Taft and Randolph should be required to provide a flood plain easement. Mr. Steencken also was very concerned about restrictions that an easement would place on the frontage of his property.

City Manager noted Thompson-Brown has already installed ditching and flood plain; he also added that the drain board may at a later date permit property owners to enclose their drain if they can prove that it will not impede with the flow of water.

Mrs. Marion Moase of 436 Randolph asked Council how the cost of drain property would be assessed.
City Manager replied that would have to be determined by the Council but it would be one of three ways.

1. City-wide assessment.
2. Assess only property owner who would be benefiting from Drain.
3. Taken out of a general fund.

John Canterbury of 294 Randolph stated he did not look at this as a problem since the stream on his property has less water than in the past.

Robert Reed of 545 Randolph stated that his home would be destroyed by flood plain easement proposal, and questioned the history of proposals and whom would benefit.

Harvey Smith of 313 Randolph and Mr. Moase of 436 Randolph expressed their views and questions on the flood plain easement plan.

Motion by Councilman Biery seconded by Councilman Vernon to adopt Resolution regarding construction in Randolph Street Drainage District to submit to Inter-County Drain Board illustrated on Flood Plain Easement Map as amended by City Attorney.

CARRIED.
CHAPPER ORGANIZATION REZONING REQUEST: David Olgin, Attorney, representing Chapper Organization, David Chapper, owner, and George Athas were present to request public hearing from Council to rezone property (known as) Tax Item CSIA from R-1-H to R-2-A.

David Olgin stated that with the surrounding zonings such as Thompson-Brown to the right, he felt that their rezoning request for R-2-A, 8½ units per acre, was reasonable and would be an asset to the community.

City Manager stated that Thompson Brown Development is zoned R-1-S which has a density of 3.4 units and that they have the right to rezone for R-1-S.

Tom Wheaton, Chairman of Plan Commission, stated that in the opinion of the Northville Plan Commission sufficient multiple zoning exists in the City, and with the proposed revision of the Master Plan, low density development is more desirable in this area. He also noted that Chapper Organization is aware of the possibility of rezone for R-1-S zoning.

City Manager recommended in view of Plan Commission's finding that Council deny the Chapper Organization request for a public hearing on property.
Motion by Councilman Folino seconded by Councilman Vernon to deny Chapper Organization request for public hearing on property known as Tax No. CSIA from R-1-H to R-2-A.

CARRIED.
PURCHASE OF SA NO 39: City Attorney read Resolution of Necessity for condemnation of A. Bongiovanni property on 223 S Wing St. City Manager recommended adoption of Resolution.

Councilman Folino requested that he be excused from voting on this item as partly concerned is a relative of his.
Motion by Councilman Rathert seconded by Mayor Allen to abstain Councilman Folino from voting on this item.

AMBULANCE REPORT: (City Manager) reported that conditions must be worked out as far as escape clauses by both parties and a clause providing that if Ambulance Service should become profitable they would assume rental costs. He noted the Township has already approved the agreement with General Ambulance and would like Council to approve agreement and authorize him to advertise for bids for permanent quarters.

Councilman Folino indicated that it may take several weeks for this to get under way and his property on 210 South Center Street is acceptable with General Ambulance for immediate temporary quarters for renting the tent is $250.00 and the tax receipts must be part of the minutes.

RECREATION COMMISSION APPOINTMENT: Based on City Manager's recommendation, motion by Councilman Folino seconded by Councilman Vernon to appoint Martin Rinehart for a two year term to the Recreation Commission.

COURT BUDGET: This will be discussed at the next meeting.
RESOLUTION TO TRANSFER FUNDS: Motion by Councilman Biery seconded by Councilman Folino to approve Resolution for Transfer of Loan of $50,000 from General Fund to Public Improvement Fund for the Rural Hill Bridge with the condition that the loan be repaid prior to March 1, 1973.

CARRIED.
MISCELLANEOUS: Councilman Folino noted that recently other communities in our area have adopted ordinances against Massage Parlors and believes Council should look into this. Council instructed City Manager to obtain copies of this ordinance from other communities for their review.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned at 11:15 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Michele A. Sakalian

Thieves Hit Novi Church

In Novi

The Calvary Mission Baptist Church was the target last week of a breaking and entering which had a total loss value of approximately $800.

Approximately $25 in cash was stolen from the church, but the biggest loss was in the form of sound equipment, microphones, etc., which was taken from the altar.

According to Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson, several area churches have been the victims of breaking and entering over the past few months in which their sound equipment was stolen.

In addition to the loss of the money and equipment, a considerable amount of malicious destruction of property also took place during the break-in, police reported.

Hymnals, light fixtures, a player piano, and the altar area received a great deal of destruction.

The breaking and entering took place sometime between Sunday, January 28, and last Thursday.

Police are investigating the possibility of larceny in conjunction with the disappearance of four rings from a residence at 24130 Willowbrook Drive.

Owner of the home told police that four rings - valued at $600 - were placed in a drawer last November. When he went to get them recently, he discovered they were no longer there.

No signs of forcible entry were uncovered at the home, police reported.

A $27 check was stolen from the wallet of a Novi High School student while he was at wrestling practice last week. The youth told police he had left the check in his pants which were in an unlocked locker while he was at wrestling practice between 3-5:30 p.m. January 26.

The theft was discovered when he went to get the check from his wallet after returning home.

Novi police received an assist from the Oak Park Police Department last week with the arrest of Marshall Henry Perkins, a Detroit man.

Perkins was taken into custody last week by Oak Park police and charged with possession of stolen property, carrying a concealed weapon, and possession of burglary tools.

Found in Perkins' possession were 15 blank checks which had been stolen from Slinger's Driving Range on Grand River in Novi last year. Novi police were notified and are currently investigating the circumstances of how Perkins came to be in possession of the checks.

A Howell man, 53-year old Carlos Edison Cobb, was transported to Botsford General Hospital January 31 with serious head injuries suffered in an automobile accident at 3:45 p.m.

According to police reports, the accident occurred when Michael Anton Geshel, 21, of Detroit, attempted to make a left hand turn from west-bound Grand River into Ward's Standard Station and pulled directly into the path of the oncoming Cobb vehicle.

Geshel told police he looked into the rear view mirror and began his turn before checking the oncoming traffic, according to reports.

He was cited for failing to yield the right of way.

COURT NEWS

Reginald Coburn, 19, was found guilty of assault and battery before Walled Lake District Court Judge Martin Boyle January 29.

Coburn was accused of having struck Michael Burrow of Walled Lake with a cue stick during a bar fight at Helen's Hideaway Bar early in January.

He was fined $50 and placed on one year's probation.

Convicted of his second offense of driving under the influence of liquor was 28-year old Gerald Edward Weaver of 13 Mile Road in Novi.

Although a DUIL (driving under the influence of liquor) is a misdemeanor, conviction on the charge a second time is construed as a high misdemeanor. Conviction on a third charge of DUIL is a felony and punishable by imprisonment in a state penitentiary.

Weaver was sentenced to pay $500 in court costs and fines and placed on two years probation by Judge Martin Boyle. In addition he was ordered to attend an alcohol and drug abuse school in Royal Oak and surrender his driver's license to the court.

In Northville

A 22-year-old Lake Orion woman was injured last Thursday morning when she was struck by a car. The accident took place at the intersection of South Center Street and Seven Mile Road while she was crossing the road with her horse.

Taken to St. Mary Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises was Becky Williams. Her horse, which received a broken back, was later destroyed.

According to police reports, Miss Williams was walking her horse from the southwest corner of the intersection to the northeast corner about 6:40 a.m.

A car driven by Lloyd L. Spencer of 8627 Napier Road was eastbound on Seven Mile Road, proceeding through the intersection with the green light, when the accident took place.

Spencer's car sustained minor damage but he was not injured. No tickets were issued.

Another accident involving a car and pedestrian was investigated by police this week.

Eight-year-old Menda Town of 311 Yerkes Street was taken to St. Mary hospital and treated for cuts and bruises.

According to police, Menda was struck by a car shortly after 3:30 p.m. last Tuesday, January 30, while she was crossing Center Street at Main Street.

Driver of the car, Reta D. Ludwick of 18215 Jamestown Circle, told police she was southbound on Center Street and as she entered the intersection the light turned from green to amber and she proceeded through. She said she saw the girl start across the street and she tried to stop but could not avoid hitting her.

Mrs. Ludwick was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

City police detectives are investigating the report of an unarmed robbery which took place about 11:30 p.m. Friday.

Philips H. Connolly of Livonia reported to police that he was jumped by a man while he and his wife were walking to their car which was parked in a lot on the south side of Cady Street near Church Street.

Connolly said another man held his wife while he was wrestled to the ground by the first man. Taken was a watch, valued at $100, and his wallet.

Both men fled into the Northville Downs parking lot.

In other action during the past week, city police served 13 warrants on seven persons. Six of the warrants were held by the city department against three persons.

Other warrants were held by Lenawee and Wayne county sheriffs departments, Bridgeport and Bay City state police posts, Detroit and Warren city police departments.

Most of those persons arrested on warrants were initially stopped by city police for traffic violations and routine checks showed the outstanding warrants.

Dale Nelson has been appointed deputy sheriff in Ionia County.

Nelson, who was a member of the city's auxiliary police force for the past year, began working in Ionia last week.

Bus Drivers Carry Good Record Here

"We have what is probably the best group of bus drivers in the state," commented Earl Busard, Northville Public Schools' business director and head of the schools' transportation department.

Busard said Monday that he "takes exception" to an article appearing over the weekend in a Detroit paper stating many high-risk drivers are driving school buses.

"One moving violation while driving a bus, and they're through," Busard said of the Northville bus drivers.

Both the drivers and the administrators have that understanding," he commented.

Busard said that during the past six years he has been with the district, Northville has not "had a bus driver receive or be convicted of a ticket while driving a school bus."

He also explained that driving records are examined when a bus driver is hired and also each year after that.

"The drivers are also required to notify us of any violations they receive, whether or not they occur while driving a school bus," Busard said that only one driver has received a ticket "and that was when the driver's car skidded on ice and it hit another car," he explained.

The investigation into driving records of school bus drivers was conducted by the Michigan Department of Education.

Busard said he feels that "while a few districts may have high-risk drivers and have found they are unable to dismiss them, the impression is left that most drivers of school buses are high-risk."

"That certainly is not the case in Northville," he emphasized

Can You Cure Me?

Rev. Gerald A. Nitoski
St. Joseph Catholic Church
South Lyon

A leper approached Jesus... "If you will to do so, you can cure me." (Mt. 1:40)

Leprosy in Old Testament times and in the time of Jesus was, as it is today, a dread disease. One who contracted the disease was doomed. He was ostracized from the community. He was made to garb himself in such a way and give warning in such a way -- "Unclean! Unclean!" -- that he could not enter into the activities of ordinary society. He was an outcast, literally.

Customarily we think of leprosy, or Hansen's Disease, as incurable and probably, once contracted, it cannot be cured but only controlled. With the limited medical knowledge of biblical times many other diseases masqueraded as leprosy. Whatever the disease might be that caused a persistent discoloration, blemish or blotch on the skin, it was termed "leprosy" and made an Israelite ritually unclean according to the Law. Those who were with this unclean needed a ritual cleansing; they needed to be "cured" according to the Law.

This leper wanted to get back to normal. Because of his disease, he had been cut off from family and fellow human beings. He asks and Jesus cures him. Now he was to be accepted again by all--but as a LEPER WHO HAD BEEN CURED!

The people of biblical times saw the leper as one cursed because of his sins. In biblical imagery, the leper is the image of the sinner. Need the imagery be changed for our times? Cannot the leper who presents himself to Jesus in Matthew's account represent all of us sinners?

This leper symbolizes the man disgusted with his sins, aware of their fatal presence in his heart. He wants to admit his disorder and his unhealthy state. But, if his disease is true leprosy and not another curable disease in disguise, he could not be "cured" by the Law. It was incapable of healing him, so he turns to the One whom he believes can, to Jesus. As Matthew states: "Moved with pity, Jesus stretched out his hand, touched him, and said: 'I do will it. Be cured!' The leprosy left him then and there, and he was cured."

So it can be with all of us, IF we recognize our "Leprosy". We fail, we falter, we fall. Oh, so many mistakes and foolish ventures: a loss of temper, moodiness, anger, ill feelings, rebellion, adolescent escapades, wasted money, crackpot schemes and just plain stupidity.

If we say, "We're only human!" and "That's part of life!", then we don't recognize our form of "leprosy". We can't say to Jesus, "Cure me!", because we won't see ourselves as we ARE, sinners in need of healing.

If, however, we can be like the leper who stands before Christ and admits his sickness, we can also hear the comforting words of the Divine Healer, "I do will it. Be cured!"

This picture of Carla makes me think of an old proverb my mother used to quote: "Precious things come in small packages."

Go ahead, mark me down for a doting dad. I'm quick to admit that my little girl is precious to me. With her loving arms about my neck I feel richer than a king. I walk into a room and see her eyes light up -- so who wants to be president? As she snuggles down among the blankets, I kiss her and tell myself that I'll give her the best, now and always.

That's why I take her to church every Sunday. I want God to be a part of Carla's life from the very first. I know that an understanding of God and His love will ensure my daughter's well-being far beyond any material gift I could give her.

God's goodness is yours for the taking. Enrich your life. Go to your church, and take your family with you.

Northridge Estate Dance Takes Valentine Theme

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Chalk up another masterful venture for Northridge Estates. This past Saturday they held a neighborhood dinner dance at the Farmington VFW which "was so successful it's just going to have to be an annual event" remarked Mrs. Ted Bissell, President of the Northridge Association.

The idea for the Valentine-themed dinner dance was organized by Mrs. Jerry Naragon and Mrs. Fred Walters as a strictly social function for the subdivision. Over 52 couples attended, many bringing friends to join in on the fun. Not only did the ladies do all the decorating of the hall but Mrs. Walters catered the event as well.

Those attending danced to the music of the Fred Walters Trio, feasted on goodies from an "international buffet" which included beef teriyaki, American ham, a side dish of Greek pastisio, many salads and valentine cakes.

Centerpieces on the tables were fashioned with candles, frilly net and fantasy film valentines. Four sets of five door prizes were given out throughout the evening ranging from first prizes of bourbon to booty prizes of "Annie Green Springs".

"It was a small, intimate affair and everyone seemed to really enjoy the evening" said Mrs. Bissell. "No one ever dreamed it would turn out as it did".

As with the Kids Bazaar at Christmas, the Valentine dance looks like another repeater for next year.

The spring-like weather has stirred another idea among the ladies anxious to get out and do something. They have organized the Northridge Ladies Jogging Club and their first outing was Monday morning at 11 a.m. They run in shifts so someone is available to "watch the little kiddies". So far the ladies plan to walk, run or jog down Hopkins Drive and back at least twice a week but hope to organize into every day sessions.

Yet to come on their list of things to do...a spring luncheon fashion show.

You must admit it's a busy, active group we have in that corner of town.

The Wes McAtee's returned last weekend from a seven day trip to Greenville, South Carolina, and Inverness, Florida. The first stop in Greenville was to drop off oldest daughter Terry for her first term of her freshman year at Bob Jones University.

With Terry settled down in her new environment, Betty and Wes headed further south to Inverness for a visit with Wilma and Melvin Polston. That's a lot of driving to squeeze into one week.

Moms and Dads with girls who would love to be involved in organized baseball will be glad to hear that a softball league is being formed. There's no doubt that a girl can belt a ball or do some fancy fielding just as well as her male counterpart. Women's Lib or not.

Realizing that there is a genuine interest in the area for organized girls' ball, the Lakes Athletic League is sponsoring a Girls Softball League open to any girl in the area from the ages of 7 through 16. It will be set up just like the boys league.

There will be a meeting Thursday night, February 8 at the Wixom City Hall for anyone who is interested in organizing the league, serving or helping out in the many positions that need to be filled to ensure success. Coaches, directors, score keepers and other all-around personnel are needed.

Flyers will be sent home through the schools announcing registration nights which will be held in March.

For more information on the league itself or if you'd like to be one of those valuable "helping hands" give a call to Esther Miller, President at 624-0225, Phyllis Kiefer, Vice-President, 624-6780 or Sandy Evans, Treasurer at 624-4170.

Guy DuFresne has been released from the hospital and is now at home recuperating after surgery on his back for a ruptured disc. According to reports, Guy made a rapid recovery after surgery but it will be several months before he will be able to resume complete activities.

Loraine Miner is looking forward to a doctor's release so she may return to her duties as secretary at Decker School. Loraine had back surgery prior to the holidays. She said she was feeling great and looking forward to getting back into the "sick list".

Things certainly haven't improved for the skier. Last week Walled Lake Western's Ski Team actually participated in races in the rain at Brighton. The racing hill had patches of earth showing through and the kids wore large trash bags as parkas to protect them from the rain.

We're all going to get too used to this kind of weather and when the blizzard hits, it's going to be a honey. Have you noticed that some of the trees are actually budding out? I can even see little green things sprouting up through the dirt. Seems to me that's not too good.

In the meantime, I'm still searching that weather chart. It may be June before the cold white stuff comes, but I'm going to make my ski trip yet!

Recreational Vehicle Hearing Set

The proposed controversial ordinance curtailing the parking of recreational-type vehicles on private property will come up again at a public hearing on Monday, March 5.

Northville city councilmen, following a recommendation by the planning commission that the ordinance be adopted, voted to put the matter up for hearing.

Earlier, the proposal was discussed at a public hearing called by planners. Subsequently, the planners amended the ordinance proposal to allay some fears of citizens. Even so some citizens object.

Council also approved the 1963 budget for the district court, finding nothing in it to dispute.

The court budget calls for a total outlay of $132,714, which is shared with the city and township of Plymouth. Northville's share, under a case-load formula is $34,756.

Also approved Monday was an updated electrical code and supplement.

Neither this code nor the court budget was challenged by the public.

Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit was awarded sale of $180,000 worth of special assessment parking bonds on the basis of its effective low interest rate bid.

Novi Library Sets Meet

Novi Library Trustee Mrs. Peter Alcalá has announced that a meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 13, at 8 p.m. in the library.

The purpose of the meeting, she said, is to organize a Friends of the Novi Library group.

add capacity to the size of the Walled Lake treatment plant if need be or used for other projects in other parts of the city.

In asking for time to study the proposal, the council raised two possible drawbacks to the plan, both of which were answered by Athas.

Because Chapper would no longer be required to pay for the 625 taps it presently has in the Walled Lake treatment plant, Mayor Joseph Crupi noted that the city would have to find an immediate buyer for those taps in order to meet present financial commitments.

Athas answered that the city would have no problem whatsoever in reselling the taps immediately. "You already have requests for 5,000 additional taps up there," he stated. "You should be able to find a buyer with no problem at all."

The second point raised by the council concerns the capacity of the treatment plant. According to original estimates, the plant provides 6,000 taps. Thus, Novi and the City of Walled Lake were authorized to sell 3,000 taps apiece.

The Chapper proposal would mean that the city of Novi alone would be selling a total of 6,000 taps into the plant. The question ultimately revolves around how many taps can the treatment plant provide.

It has long been rumored that the total capacity of 6,000 taps was vastly and purposely understated - that in fact there is considerably more capacity than 6,000 taps, originally estimated.

Athas quoted R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County DPW which oversees the treatment plant, as saying that he didn't care if Novi sold 3,000, 6,000, or 40,000 sewer taps as long as they don't overuse the capacity of the plant. "It's not a matter of oversell," stated Athas, "it's a matter of overuse-and there's still plenty of capacity left in that treatment plant."

"The very worst thing that could happen," he continued, "is that all hell would break loose in the development of the industrial land up there and Novi would be required to put in one additional retention basin at the treatment plant.

The cost of putting in that retention tank would be more than covered by the millions of dollars Novi will take in from the sale of those 2,000 additional sewer taps."

The council informed Athas that it would study the proposal carefully and take action as quickly as possible if all its questions are answered satisfactorily.

City Manager Edward Kriewall was instructed to arrange for R. J. Alexander to sit down with the council to discuss ramifications of the Chapper proposal.

'Farms Annexed

If the court should find in favor of the township on the point that the Boundary Commission does not have constitutional authority, all decisions the Commission has made might then be ruled void.

Such a decision, however, does not seem likely.

The Boundary Commission issued a five-page "findings of fact and order" in conjunction with its decision on Brookland Farms, explaining the determining factors in its ruling.

Among those findings were that Brookland Farms is the only remaining territory of Novi Township.

that Brookland Farms is located near the center of the City of Novi and is completely surrounded by the city.

that Brookland Farms was not included in the original petition to incorporate the Village of Novi due to the fact that no signatures were obtained from residents of the subdivision as required under the Home Rule Village Act.

that Brookland Farms is a built up single family residential area.

that the existence of an additional unit of government only a few acres in area and of a size unable to provide their own critical urban services situated in the center of a city, is contrary to logic and good planning.

that the Commission has examined the effect of the proposed annexation on Novi Township and that Novi Township would not exist.

that the proposed annexation is not in conflict with existing land use plans.

that the topography of the area poses no problems in the supplying of governmental services.

that the proposed annexation would not cut across any natural boundaries and is rather a natural extension of the city.

that the City of Novi has the capability of providing urban type services to the area proposed for annexation.

The Boundary Commission is composed of five members - three appointed by the state and two appointed by the Oakland County Probate Court. State-appointed members are David Calhoun, Irving Rozian, and Al Vander Laan. Oakland county members are Raymond Lahti and James Seeterlin.

In other findings of the Boundary Commission last week, annexation of Northville Township to the City of Northville was unanimously approved (see story on Page 1 of The Northville Record).

Cooke Musicians Earn Top Honors

Band students from Cooke Middle School won 15 first place medals and seven second place medals in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's annual solo and ensemble festival.

The festival was held Saturday, February 3, at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn.

Northville students competed against soloists and small ensembles from 50 other area junior high schools and were rated by professional judges on a scale of one through five.

Those winning medals included Joe Mason, first place trombone solo; Sue Clark, first place flute solo; Craig Prichard, first place trumpet solo; Randy Casteel, first place trumpet solo; Julie Ziemann, first place flute solo; Steve Smith, first place trumpet solo.

Also receiving medals were Mike Luckett, second place trumpet solo; brass quartet, composed of Scott Spear, Mike Luckett, on trumpet, and Joe Mason and Norman Pratt on trombone, first place.

Trumpet trio placing first included Craig Prichard, Randy Casteel and Jaime Loy; flute duet, first place, included Lisa Ward and Julie Ziemann; clarinet quartet, second place, Barbara Dorney, Shelly Millard, Jane Mach and Lori Hopping.

Woodwind duet placing second was composed of Stacey Wedge on flute and Laurie Day on clarinet.

Cooke Middle School band directors George Berryman and Michael Rumbell will also be taking a group of students to the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's full band festival. The competition will be held at Saline Middle School on Saturday, March 10.

Foul Trouble Hurts Team

One thing the seven-man Schoolcraft College basketball team cannot afford to do is get in foul trouble.

But that's exactly what happened to the Ocelots last week as they played the final five minutes of their game with Auburn Hills with just four men on the floor and suffered a 71-50 setback.

"It's hard to believe, but it actually happened," said a disconsolate Tom Roncoli, coach of the Schoolcraft squad.

(across from the Palace, that is...)

Sure has been a poor winter for the "Snow Birds."

Well, the Arch Valliers from Plymouth (he's on the Schoolcraft Board) are really planning ahead. They left for Florida for the duration and we have our plans made for a re-do job on the "Big House" before October.

Another match-maker affair coming off...daughter Mary to be wed at home. Never too soon to start swinging the paste brushes and pushing the treadle thru that fabric!

For us older residents, we remember the "World's Fair" house in Shadbrook. Well, the Rohdes from Ohio are here! They came, they saw and they conquered! That house finally has some real class...a beautiful blend of "Old World" and "California Contemporary".

Jackie and John Kennedy (that's no joke, lady) have re-located in Okemos from Northville. They were new residents here from the East, yet and GM transferred them up the pike! Bev has made gains on the job up there, but the travel time!

Talking about travel time, our latest job for Florida comes by way of Sir Robert's ole boss at Ford. Peter Ponta has retired and a new ocean-front-14 stories up in Boca Raton has been dropped in our lap. That will be great working with him again, only I am going to tell him what to do!

Well, I think this will wind up this one, you know this costs money, don't you? Keep your eyes on the Castle and don't believe everything you hear...like additions of a new Boutique to Coffee Shoppe to Wicker Shoppe. ...but then, don't say we didn't tell you either!

P.S. Midge Karrer is still with us. During the front hall episode I wasn't too sure. Gene left town just in time and Don Hay surprised everyone by showing up and doing a fine job.

Speaking for Myself

Free Admission To School Events?

DIANE EVANS

Yes . . .

Although charging admission for certain events seems to be an accepted fact at most public schools, there are several good reasons why school events should be free. First, charging a fee to observe school programs would seem a form of double taxation. The individual is paying his share thru taxes. Why should he pay another fee to see the very programs he is supporting through taxation?

One thing most people agree on is that people should get into the school and see what is going on. The community should be encouraged to observe and be more familiar with all school programs. Admission fees to events could be, and perhaps are, an obstacle keeping many community members from visiting school programs.

A sad fact but one that is real is that we value things by how much they cost. Therefore, whether we like it or not, those activities that charge admission tend to be held in higher regard by both adults and students alike. Certainly the intrinsic educational experience should not be judged by its "spectator appeal."

Schools are non-profit institutions but they are institutions that must always be "budget-minded." It is only human nature to be more lenient with money requests with activities that lend themselves to "making money." This is a very dangerous argument for educational programs. It is extremely unfair to those students whose interest just happens to be in non-spectator activities such as Student Congress. It would seem safer not to put any activity on a commercial basis and let each activity stand only on its educational merit.

To sum up, inflation and the price spiral has taken many interesting places right off the middle-class family list. Wouldn't it be nice to know there was one place you could bring your family free and maybe learn something too—let's get rid of those school admission fees.

Pat Bubel
Northville Teacher

No . . .

As I think of the various activities sponsored by the three different school systems in which I've taught, I cannot recall a single event that charged admission where the proceeds were not earmarked for one of two things: 1) to pay for the costs of providing the activity, or 2) to raise money for further activities. An example of the first reason is the play ticket that pays for the cost of royalty fees, scripts, costumes, make-up, etc. The Junior class that sponsors a dance or a tumble twister to help pay for the prom is an example of the second.

Ideally, it would be wonderful if the schools could provide a variety of activities free of charge to all students. Realistically, however, this is not possible since school budgets are generally exhausted on curriculum alone. The cost of public education is already great for our citizens without the additional burden of paying for extra curricular activities through added taxes.

By charging admission people are not forced to support activities in which they have no interest or belief. Both parents and students are free to decide their value. To provide extra curricular activities at a minimal cost seems far better than not to provide them at all.

Mrs. Diane Evans
Pinckney

Fifty years from now local historians will write about what happened in Northville in 1973.

Those of us living in this time will have a part in making that history...and it deserves our very best effort.

It is fitting that groups are being organized in both the city and township calling for elections on the question of unification of our two governmental entities into a single city unit by annexation.

Very likely, it is the most important local question that will face either the city or township and its answer rightfully belongs at the polling booth.

State law provides that residents of the city and township may seek unification by petition. This action was taken 11 months ago.

And the state commission charged with the responsibility of hearing and deciding upon annexation requests has rendered its decision in favor of unification.

Likewise, state law provides that citizens of the communities affected may petition for an election on the question.

So now we come to the reality of the situation.

Battle lines have been drawn in some quarters; there are those of us who know now how we will vote on the question.

But there are many citizens of Northville who are barely familiar with the subject; and many more who have not yet become firmly entrenched in a pro or con unification position.

The very best we can hope is that the campaigns for and against are based on fact and aimed at enlightenment.

And we should pray that in our zeal to win support for either side we do not drive a stake into the heart of a community that is really one, whether so designated politically or not.

In reality, Northville should be proud that its community is looking to the future, examining alternatives and bringing questions of such importance before the public.

So, upon the shoulders of those citizens who are willing to listen, study and weigh the pros and cons, rests an important chapter in the history of our community.

And whatever the outcome, only history will reveal the wisdom of the action.

There's hope that the property assessment hike in the city of Northville may not sting taxpayers as severely as it might appear.

In discussion with the council Manager Frank Ollendorff noted this week that the increased state equalized valuation will mean that the city can reduce its millage rate this year.

Right now the city tax rate stands at 10 mills. Best guess is that the 31 per cent SEV hike in Wayne county plus a 25 per cent boost in the Oakland county portion of the city should result in a tax rate reduction of at least two mills.

The new budget will be prepared this spring and the tax rate announced when it is completed.

(That's the good news....now for the bad!)

Taxpayers, however, must be acutely aware that even if they escape an increase in the city, there's still school millage, which stands at between three and four times higher than the city tax.

The Old Ford

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The new era of cordiality and cooperation rapidly developing in Novi makes me, as it should citizens throughout the community, want to stand up and cheer.

Although Novi councilmen and school board members deserve our plaudits for their efforts to break down the barriers that have divided the community for far too long, I think a major share of recent progress must go to a newcomer—Superintendent Gerald Kratz.

Aggressive and imaginative, he has, since taking the top school post less than a year ago, given the Novi school system new life while setting the stage for important community-wide programs and encouraging the closer, more productive relationship between the school board and the city council.

Unless he stubs his toe in his haste to bring about a new self-pride in the community—and he is the first to admit that a hero one day can be a heel the next—Dr. Kratz, in my opinion, may represent the turning point in community relations.

Perhaps the most important of his projects—since much of the current city-township cooperation is indirectly related—is his proposal to begin an "open doors" community education program in Novi, patterned after the nationally acclaimed Mott Foundation backed program in Flint.

Based on the concept that use of school facilities should be maximized, that they ought to be used by all citizens and not only during regular school hours, it means providing and coordinating community classes and activities in which everyone may participate.

Trustee Robert Wilkins summed it up last week when he said, "The time has come when the school board and the city council are going to have to start acting for the mutual good of the entire community. We have to discard the practice of saying this is your bailiwick and that is our bailiwick and start asking ourselves what is best for the future of the city."

(The city and township of Northville would do well to take a similar look at themselves).

Since their joint meeting a week ago, the Novi council and school board have begun an earnest study of ways sites and facilities can be shared.

This policy of sharing, which councilmen and school board members support in theory, goes hand-in-hand with the community education concept advocated by Dr. Kratz. It suggests public buildings should be utilized to their maximum advantage and it further suggests that duplication of public facilities within the same community should be avoided.

"By agreeing to work together I think we can make better use of the taxpayer's dollars and avoid the needless duplication," Dr. Kratz advised.

Early indication that the city council might begin using board offices for its council meetings is no longer just a possibility. Beginning February 26 the school board and council will share the same facilities.

City May Petition, Also

To the Editor:
On January 30, 1973 the Michigan Boundaries Commission announced its decision that Northville Township would be annexed to the City of Northville. This decision automatically will become effective on March 31, 1973 unless a petition of no less than 25 percent of the City's registered voters is presented to the Boundaries Commission no later than March 14, 1973.

We, the undersigned, are of the opinion that the proposed annexation will have such a profound effect on our City that this decision should be made by a vote of the people of Northville.
We are presently getting petitions ready to be circulated and anyone who would be interested in circulating a petition please telephone 349-1959 or 349-0642.

Assessments Boosted Here

increase of 31 per cent in Wayne county breaks down this way:

- Industrial property—up 6 per cent;
- Residential property—up 35 per cent;
- Multiple dwellings—no significant change;
- Commercial property (existing, non-track)—up 21 per cent;
- Track property—up 35 per cent.

What may come as a real shocker to many homeowners is the fact that some single family residents have been found to be assessed too high and have been given SEV reductions. Others have remained the same because assessors determined that the SEV was right at 50 per cent.

This means that some homeowners will receive increases in SEV amounting to 60 and 70 per cent.

(There may be a bright side to higher assessments—See "Speaking for The Record", Page 10-A).

The reason any community undertakes reappraisal is to eliminate the "equalization factor". This figure had become 1.55 in the Wayne county portion of the city last year and 1.43 in Oakland county.

Manager Ollenforff said he has been guaranteed by county assessors that the city would not have to apply a factor to its assessments for at least three years if the new assessments are adopted.

Because the application of equalization factors causes inequities between property owners, it's best to keep factors as low as possible. And this can be done only by regular upgrading of property values in accordance with market changes.

Northville township, for example, underwent county reappraisal of its property more recently than the city had. Therefore, the factor in the township has been relatively low.

This year the township was notified that its factor would be increased from 1.18 to 1.22. Total SEV of the township increased from $43,339,040 last year to $50,128,640.

But property owners will feel less than a four per cent hike in assessments because much of the valuation increase is due to new building in the township.

Because of the sharp change in assessments, Manager Ollenforff has scheduled two public hearings with assessors so that property owners may question their findings.

These hearings are slated Thursday and Friday, February 15 and 16 from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. and from 6 until 9 p.m. for Oakland county property owners, and Tuesday and Wednesday, February 20 and 21 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. for Wayne county property owners. The hearings will be held at city hall.

Board of review hearings are also scheduled in March at which time property owners may officially record their objections.

NO STOPPING 'EM—Although the national community cleanest city contest, in which Northville has been a frequent winner, has been discontinued, the local Beautification Commission is going ahead with its annual project of preparing detailed scrapbooks of community beautification accomplishments made over the year. Member Beatrice Carlson begins the task of assembling the material in her home.

In youth work, Buck has been very active in both the scouting and little league programs in Novi. He has previously served on the board of directors and as president of the city's Little League Baseball Program and is a Boy Scout Committee chairman.

Price noted that Buck frequently gives up his weekends and portions of his summer vacation to serve as driver of the boy scout's Greyhound bus on camping expeditions.

He and his wife, Kathleen, have lived in Novi since 1955 and have six children two of whom - Ronald, 16, and John, 13, are still at home.

In receiving the award Buck said that involvement in civic affairs took up long hours with little financial remuneration, but that he has found his work extremely satisfying.

Other nominees for the Distinguished Service Award were Peter Alcala, Mabel Ash, George Athas, May Atkinson, Paul Bosco, Bill Brinker, and Jeanne Clarke.

Also nominated were LaVerne DeWaard, Winifred Dobek, Virginia Folsom, Father Leslie Harding, Gilbert Henderson, Fred Loyne, Shirley Moak, Ray Murphy, Bill O'Brien, Sharon Pelchat, and Thomas Griffin.

acquiring additional options for land adjacent to our Novi site."

Edward Kriewall, Novi city manager, noted that a denial on the rezoning request could eliminate HTK from the picture. "They've already been turned down in Farmington," said Kriewall. "If they get turned down again I doubt that they will want to go through the time and expense of trying to come up with yet another site."

Kriewall further noted that the opposition of the citizens to the HTK rezoning could have an influence in the Dayton-Hudson decision regardless of whether the rezoning is granted or denied.

"Even if the zoning goes through, it is possible that the center will go in Novi anyway," he said. "As a rule, developers do not like to locate in areas where there is a great deal of animosity to their presence."

Bulldogs Stroke To Second Place

The boys of the Bulldog Aquatic Club finished second; the girls of the Bulldog Aquatic Club finished fourth and the boys and girls together of the Bulldog Aquatic Club finished first in the Ferndale Barracuda Club's AAU-sanctioned "B" meet last weekend.

Seven Northville swimmers - six of them members of the Bulldog team - earned places in the meet which attracted 4,500 entries from 42 AAU teams.

Most of Northville's success came in the 10 and under classification.

David McDonald tied for first in the 50 yard backstroke, tied for second in the 50 yard breaststroke, and finished second in the 100 yard individual medley.

In the girls 10 and under division, Susan Cahill did even better. Miss Cahill won the 100 yard butterfly and the 50 yard backstroke and was a member of the first place 200 yard medley relay team. In addition, she finished third in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Tammy Selfridge, another one of the 10 and under contingent, was sixth in the 100 yard breaststroke.

In the 13-14 age division, Jim Wright was a member of the second place 400 yard open freestyle relay team, and Tom Cahill and Tom Simrak were both members of the fourth place 400 yard freestyle relay team in the 11-12 year old division.

Competing for the Clarenceville Swim Club, Kyle Roggenbuck picked up five medals in the girls' 11-12 year old division. Kyle won the 50 yard freestyle and finished second in the 50 yard butterfly. In addition she was fifth in the 200 yard individual medley and swam on the second place 400 yard freestyle relay team and third place 400 yard medley relay team.

When you choose a color or a covering for your walls, be sure to remember that each color has its own characteristics and take into account the specific purpose for which each room is meant. Sand, cream, pink, gold and all light colors make unobtrusive and restful backgrounds, while blue-green, emerald, or orchid, in very light values, are also satisfying. There are more modern things you can do with very bright paint, contrasting one wall with the others by painting it an opposite color.

Denies Statement In Detroit Paper

To the Editor:

I would like the opportunity to respond to Christopher Willcox's article in the Metro-West section of the Detroit News of Monday, February 5, 1973. Under the bold heading of "Northville Township Officials Fight Annexation," Willcox stated "The Board's three executive members have all expressed their opposition."

I happen to be one of the three board members mentioned by name and title. I vehemently protest his taking the liberty of associating my name with the anti-annexation faction without first interviewing or contacting me regarding my position on annexation.

Since I was not contacted I can only assume his source of information was some person or persons affiliated with the anti-annexation movement. Perhaps, instead of being angry, it should be considered a compliment that my support is so desirable.

At a later date I will make a public statement with reference to my views on the controversial subject of annexation.

Jos. B. Straub, Treasurer Northville Township

EDITOR'S NOTE: Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright, who also was listed by the same article as being opposed to annexation, has gone on record as an advocate of unification through annexation.

Shrine Club Sets Dinner

The Huron Valley Shrine Club is planning to hold a dinner on February 21 at the Elks Club located on West Grand River near Howell.

All area Nobels and their ladies are invited. Reservations not later than February 13 can be phoned to Stan King at (517) 546-2545.

South Lyon put an end to the three way deadlock for first place in the hotly-contested SEC title race by registering a 62-56 upset of Saline. As a result, the defending league champs fell an important game behind both Ypsilanti Lincoln and Milan and will have to beat them both later this season to salvage even a tie for the 1973 SEC cage crown.

Novi Reserves Spark Victory Over Dexter

Thanks to some important aid by second-stringer Mike Sumner and a sizzling team performance at the free throw line, the Novi Wildcats squeezed past a determined Dexter squad here Friday, 66-60.

That victory gives Novi a 3-6 record in the Southeastern Conference going into tomorrow's game with Chelsea (2-7).

Three times Friday Novi had to battle back as the Dexter Dreadnaughts snatched slim leads, including a 31-28 edge at the intermission.

And going into the final minutes of play, Dexter chopped a 12 Novi lead to just four points before second-stringer Sean O'Brien potted two free throws to ice the victory for the Wildcats.

Coach Milan Obrenovich, while not entirely pleased with his team's performance, came away elated over the squad's 79-percent record at the free throw line. He also had some good words for his substitutes, particularly Sumner, who came up with 13 points—a varsity career high.

John Pantalone, Novi's most consistent scorer, again took top honors, flipping in 17 points. His perfect record at the charity line—nine for nine—was the key to the Wildcats' fine showing in free throws.

Pat Boyer, another starter who looked good, tied Sumner with 13 points.

Both teams had identical records in shooting from the floor—23 field goals in 69 shots.

The Wildcats took the edge in rebounds, 46 to 34, and they had fewer turnovers, 23 to 31.

After spotting Dexter a three-point edge early in the first period, Novi bounced back to take a 17-13 lead going into the second quarter.

By the end of the first period Obrenovich had temporarily benched all but one of his starters (Pantalone).

Novi boosted its margin to nine points in the second quarter and then collapsed, scoring but two points in the four closing minutes. Dexter, meanwhile, blistered the net with 15 points in those final minutes to grab the three-point half-time edge.

It was late in the third period (2:34) before Boyer tossed in a field goal to give Novi the lead again. By quarter's end the Wildcats were back out front by five.

Midway in the final stanza Dexter staged its final futile rally, producing 15 points to cut the host's lead to four.

Mike Scott, who fired 19 points in the first half for Dexter, took top scoring laurels, ending up with 29 points.

Novi was nicked with 25 fouls (Dexter had 19), with three players fouling out—including Steve Lukkari, who came off the floor midway in the third period. Dexter converted 14 of its 23 free throws, while Novi notched 20 of 29.

but the Wildcat star has the ball well protected with his body. Novi won the game 66-60 to raise their SEC record to 3-6.

Jayvees Win Easily

Two 19-point quarters catapulted Novi's junior varsity quintet to an easy, 63-40, victory over Dexter Friday night.

The Jayvees piled up 19 points in the first quarter, 11 more than Dexter, and then posted another 19 points in the third quarter.

points and Pat McAllen with 12.

At the charity line, Novi converted 17 of its 37 attempts compared to Dexter's 10 of 18.

"It was a great team effort," commented Coach Bob Weinburger, noting that all 10 of his players scored. "Last time we had to struggle to beat Dexter but this time my boys played well offensively and defensively and they had little difficulty."

By half-time Novi was out-front by nine points, 30-21 and at the third-quarter mark the local five led by 19 points.

Bill Barr paced Novi, flipping in seven field goals and a single free throw, followed by Gary Ford with 13

Wildcat

Selected for Wildcat of the Week honors is Mike Sumner. The 6'11" senior came off the bench to score 13 key points in Novi's 66-60 victory over Dexter Friday. "Our sixth man really came through for us," commented Coach Milan Obrenovich, who also lauded Sumner for his work on the backboards and defensive efforts.

Cooke's Still Hot

Biggest problem facing Cooke Middle School's powerful swim team is coming up with suitable opponents.

Donnan, Jim Cahill, and Randy Roggenbuck swept to first place with a 1:53.2 clocking.

The Cooke swimmers upped their season's record to 6-0 with two top-sided victories in their last two outings, setting five new team records in the process.

It was in the meet with Pierce that the Cooke swimmers staged their onslaught on the record book, setting four new team records. Randy Roggenbuck set two of them. Roggenbuck took first place in the 50 yard freestyle with the team record of 27.0 and then came back with another record in the 30 yard butterfly, winning in 50.9 seconds.

Mark Morland shattered his own team record in the 50 yard backstroke, winning that event in 31.7 seconds and the medley relay team of Carl Haynie, Matt Sullivan, Mark Morland, and Ed Donnan set a team record by winning their event with a 2:09.6 clocking.

But Blow Chances at .500

Matmen Net 5th Win

His goal of 10 dual meet victories already an impossibility, Russ Gardner, coach of the Novi wrestling team, watched a secondary goal slip out of reach last week as his grapplers dropped a 37-24 decision to Milan Thursday.

"We had to beat Milan to finish with a .500 record," lamented Gardner after the meet was over. "The best we can hope for now is a 7-8 record. We're 5-8 now and we have just two dual meets left. If we win them both we'll be 7-8, but it would have been a lot nicer to be 8-7."

A 7-8 record much not sound like such, but bear in mind that no Novi team has ever won as many as three meets during the course of a single season and only once has a Novi team won as many as two dual meets.

Consider further that the Novi team has won two tournaments this season—the Airport and Novi Invitationals—and you come to the conclusion that this has been a particularly fine year for the Wildcat grapplers.

Still, Gardner was not pleased with his team's performance last week for the simple reason he feels they should have beaten Milan.

"There's no doubt in my mind that we should have won it," he stated firmly. "If Dave Ward and Gary Staub would have beaten their men, we would have won 30-25. Both of them beat those guys in the Airport Tournament so I know they can beat them, but both Ward and Staub got pinned and that's what cost us the match."

Pinned doesn't seem quite the word for it. Both Ward's 140 pound match and Staub's 187 pound match were over in a matter of seconds. Randy Banks had Ward on his shoulders after just 24 seconds, while Staub lasted just 10 seconds longer - being pinned by Bill Santure after 34 seconds.

"They both just walked into fluke moves," explained Gardner. "They were shooting for the legs and left an arm up. Their opponents grabbed the arm and got a headlock and rolled them over for the pin. It was weird the way they both got pinned with the same fluke move."

Novi fell behind the Big Red early in the meet and trailed 25-6 at one point, but came roaring back to trail 25-24 with just two matches left. Unfortunately Milan won both the 187 and heavyweight matches to wrap up the 37-24 win.

Bill Livingston cut down to 100 pounds and opened the meet by grappling his way to an 8-5 decision that gave the Wildcats a brief 3-0 lead. But in the six matches between Livingston's 100 pound division and the 148 pound match, Novi won just one match - Tom Ford's 11-3 decision over Rich Olson in the 129-pound class - to fall behind 25-6.

Don Jackson and Randy McGarry got the Wildcats back on the right track, however, by registering pins in the 148 and 158 pound divisions. Jackson floored Gerry Olson at 1:43 of the 148 pound match and McGarry gave Wes Faylor a view of the rafters at 1:43 of the 158 pound match.

Novi got six more points at 170 with Mike Mulligan, wrestling with the varsity for the first time, was awarded the match after he was knocked out as a result of an illegal hold applied by Milan's Dave Whitelaw.

Mulligan's strange win cut Milan's lead to 25-24, but then Staub at 187 and Gil Spiers, the Novi heavyweight, were both pinned and Milan had the victory.

"Doggone it," moaned Gardner, "I just know we should have beat them."

The loss to Milan was one of just two matches the Wildcats had last week, earlier they had stomped Hartland 59-8.

"This is the first year Hartland's had a team," explained Gardner. "And wrestling is one sport in which you have to have experience to be any good. When we wrestle them again, I'm going to wrestle my jayvees to make it closer. It's no fun to beat a team as badly as we beat them. It's just no good."

Hartland forfeited the 100, 107, and 134 pound weight classes to give the Wildcats an 18-0 lead before the first match ever started. Of the nine remaining matches, Novi won six of them by pins as Jim Sasena at 114, Bob Sasena at 121, Tom Ford at 128, Dave Ward at 140, Randy McGarry at 157, and Gary Staub at 187 all floored their opponents within the first two periods.

Don Jackson earned a 7-2 decision over Clay Woods at 147 and Mike Vivian picked up the final two Novi points by wrestling to a 2-2 tie in the 169 pound match.

The Wildcats will now have a week off before they meet Hartland again February 14. Following the Hartland match they will host the Southeastern Conference championships Saturday, February 17.

Be a Big Brother.

Novi Girls Still Winning

Don't look now, but the most successful basketball teams in the Novi-Northville area continue to be Miss Christine Hayward's Novi girls' teams. Last week Miss Hayward's varsity and junior varsity squads proved she was a better coach than scout by rollicking to a pair of easy wins over the Ypsilanti Lincoln girls.

"I was worried that they might beat us," admitted Miss Hayward. "I thought they had a pretty good team."

"Her fears proved to be completely unfounded, however, as each of the Novi teams picked up their fourth victory of the season in as many outings.

The Novi varsity team broke loose in the second half and outscored the Ypsilanti girls 35-3 to turn a 20-16 halftime lead into a 55-19 rout.

Karen Valentine led the Novi varsity with 9 points, Meg Boger and Nancy Pisha had 8 points, and Denise DeBulle and Carol Padgett each added six points to the Novi total.

In the junior varsity game, the Novi girls built up a 22-8 halftime lead and then coasted to a 34-25 victory. Carol Poyhonen tossed in 12 points to lead the Novi scorers.

Improving Mustangs Nipped at Wire

It's hard telling what has come over the Northville basketball team, but for the second week in a row the Mustangs gave evidence that after a season of one poor showing after another, they are finally developing into a formidable force on the hardwoods.

Granted, they lost the game - 64-57 to a lightning-quick Waterford Mott outfit - but when a team is 2-11 for the season as the Mustangs are it is possible to find encouraging signs even in a loss.

Why even Walt Koepke, coach of the Northville cagers, was pleased with his team's performance.

"At long last it's beginning to look like we're making some progress," he said. "Our shooting has improved, our rebounding has improved, our defense has improved, and our aggressiveness has improved."

"There was one point during the game I wish I had a camera," he continued. "They were bringing the ball up the floor and our whole team was back in a zone defense. Everybody was up on their toes and bent over, just waiting to get at that basketball. It was beautiful. - I've been waiting all season long to see something like that."

Friday's Northville-Waterford Mott game was in sharp contrast to the first meeting between the two schools back in December. In that game, the Corsairs beat the Mustangs in every phase of the game from shooting and rebounding to hustle and defense.

Final score was 83-71, but the Corsairs, had the win wrapped up so early that they emptied their bench in the first half.

Not so Friday. The Mustangs were in the game all the way. With 2:45 left in the final quarter, Eddie Kritch tossed in a free throw that knotted the score at 57-57.

Unfortunately, Northville was unable to score again, while Mott managed one more field goal and hit on five of six free throws, as the Mustangs were plagued with fouls in their efforts to get the ball.

Mott's closing drive in the final 2:45 of the game foiled a strong Northville comeback in the second half.

The Mustangs had jumped off to an early lead in the game on the shooting of Todd Eis, but the Corsairs came on to take an 18-13 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Mustangs cut the lead to 18-17 at the 5:40 mark, of the second period but at that point Mott finally got its fastbreak untracked and raced to an 11 point, 39-28, lead at the half.

In the second half, the Mustangs began plugging away.

"Mott is an outstanding defensive club," said Koepke. "They put pressure on the ball and they also pressure the next possible pass. We were running our man to man of fense in the first half and they adjusted to it so well that we went to our zone offense in the second half even though they weren't playing a zone. I thought we got some good shots off it."

Joe Bishop in particular did an outstanding job as the Mustangs fought back in the third quarter. The scrappy little Northville guard tossed in five field goals and two of two free throws to help narrow Mott's lead to 51-44 at the three-quarter mark.

The only thing that kept the Corsairs in the game during the third quarter was the work of Mark Gisse, their 6'5" sophomore center. Gisse tossed in five field goals in that third quarter as he scored all but two of Mott's 12 points.

The Mustangs continued their comeback during the fourth quarter until Kritch's free throw finally evened the score and set the stage for Mott's closing flurry of points which sealed Northville's defeat.

One of the interesting aspects of the game was that the Mustangs seem to be benefitting from the ease with which they were willing to forfeit previous victories. In other words, it's hard for other teams to get up for games with Northville.

Ray Robinson, coach of the Mott team, blasted his squad behind closed doors after the game. "I told them that when they play basketball they've got to leave their guts on the floor whether they're playing Northville or Walled Lake Central," he said later.

Robinson went on to say that he feels it's just a matter of time before Northville becomes competitive in Western Six cage circles. "Walt's a fine coach and I'm quite impressed with Bishop and Eis. They'll both be back next year and we'll be looking out for them in particular."

The statistics revealed considerable improvement in almost every category for the Mustangs. They hit on 20 of 36 field goal attempts for a 56 percent shooting mark. Northville was again outrebounded, but this time they did much better on the boards, picking off 27 caroms, while Mott got 34.

In the hustle and defense department, the Mustangs showed almost 100 percent improvement. "If we keep playing hard, I think we're going to come on and win some games at the end of the season," stated Koepke. "But we've got to play hard to win."

Mott was paced by Gisse. The 6'5" sophomore finished the game with 25 points and 18 rebounds.

Leading the Northville attack were Eis and Bishop. Eis tossed in 18 points and snared seven rebounds, while Bishop tallied 15 points. In the rebounding department, Dave Duey also grabbed seven rebounds and Mike Brown added six more to the Northville total.

The Mustangs return to action tomorrow (Friday) when they play host to the conference leaders - Livonia Churchill.

Brighton Pins Northville's Matmen

You almost need a scorecard to tell who's wrestling for Northville any more.

Every time the Mustangs take the mat it seems as if they are being represented by a whole flock - or should that be "herd" - of new faces.

Ed McLoud, coach of the Northville grapplers, is the first to agree. "It's definitely not the same team we started the season with," he admitted while putting his team through a rugged practice in the heat of the wrestling room Friday.

"I've never seen one team have as many changes during one season as we have. It's almost hard to believe."

But true. Six grapplers who promised to make a considerable contribution to the fortunes of the Northville wrestling team this season are no longer around for one reason or another.

Malcolm Dedes has a shoulder injury, Dave Houck a broken finger, and Tom Johnson a broken hand. Steve Barger, who had one of the best won-lost records on the team, graduated at mid-semester, leaving a hole in the 141-pound division. And Mike Corcoran, a strong 134-pound performer, and Jim Watson, a potentially outstanding 108-pound grappler, decided to turn in their ear protectors for less rigorous pursuits.

All this incidentally is in way of introduction for the fact that the Mustangs had a meet last week and were defeated by Brighton 35-20. Northville had taken a 34-33 decision from the Bulldogs when the two squads wrestled earlier in the season.

The problem is that the Mustangs have been depleted by injuries, graduation, drop-outs, tornadoes, hurricanes, the London flu, and several other works of God. Only the Bubonic plague has yet to strike and not even Jimmy the Greek will give you odds on that not happening.

As a result, Gary Emerson, who started the year as coach of the junior varsity, has to watch the varsity match if he wants to see his boys perform. Six of the 12 wrestlers Northville sent out on the mat against the Bulldogs Thursday, started the season on the junior varsity.

Perhaps the brightest part of the Northville wrestling team this season has been the development of Jack Barger, a 100-pound sophomore. Young Barger once again got the Mustangs off to a good start Thursday as he upped his personal record to 15-4 by pinning his opponent at the 1:12 mark of the first period.

Greg Pelto, another sophomore, wrestled well at 108 before losing 4-3 and Mike Lemon, a freshman, was pinned in the 115 pound match. Danny Fialon, a junior, evened the score at 9-9 as he picked up a take down and a reversal in the third period to beat the Bulldog's Rod Allen 4-3.

Brighton then upped their lead to 18-9 with a decision and a pin at 129 and 135 respectively, but once again the Mustangs tied the score as Joe Assemany outpointed his opponent in the 141 pound match 5-4 and senior captain Bill Norton pinned Art Spicer at 4:53 of the 148-pound contest. Tim Johnson did a fine job in holding Doug Truhn, one of the top Brighton wrestlers, to a draw in the 158 pound match, but that was it for the Mustangs, as the Bulldogs picked up two pins and a decision in the last three matches to pull away to a 35-20 victory.

Waterford Mott's Ron Overall Has the Upper Hand on Northville's Jack Barger, But the Mustang's Star 100-Pound Grappler Won the Bout

Lauber's Tankers Eye 50th Win

The countdown has begun. By virtue of a 68-27 victory over Crestwood last week the members of the Northville swim team wrapped up their 44th victory in the four years since the sport was established and now have their eyes set on winning number 50 this year.

If all goes well that means, if the Mustangs don't lose - number 50 will come Tuesday, February 27, when the Mustangs host Farmington.

"That's a real credit to the boys who have been on the swimming teams here over the past four years," said Ben Lauber, coach of the Northville tankers. "Just think, 50 victories in four years. That's something to talk about."

Indeed. If the Mustangs should manage to record number 50 against Farmington they will have achieved a 50-3 record in the past four years and the only coach who would dare match records with a performance like that is John Wooden.

Victory number 44 wasn't the only thing the Northville tankers had to show for their efforts last week. Saturday, Lauber took seven of his top swimmers down to Detroit to compete in the Detroit News meet.

"The top 24 swimmers in the state in each event are invited to the News meet," reported Lauber, "so it's a real honor just to be eligible to go."

The seven swimmers were by far the largest contingent of Northville swimmers ever to qualify for the meet. Previously, the Mustangs have never sent more than one.

"I'd have to say the meet as a whole was probably a little disappointing," said Lauber. "I'd guess that 75 percent of the boys who swam Saturday failed to swim as fast as the times they qualified at. It's a bad time of the year for swimmers. At the start of February most of your top swimmers are aiming at the state meet and don't take time off from training to rest up for a really peak performance."

The seven Northville performers were no exception. Only one - sophomore breaststroker Art Greenlee - swam his best time of the year. Ironically, though, every one of the Mustangs finished higher than the position he qualified in.

Leading the Northville contingent was Greenlee, who shaved one-tenth of a second off his team record of 1:06.3 and finished fifth in the 100 yard breaststroke. "Fifth in the state isn't too bad," said Lauber. "I was very pleased with his performance. We're going to expect big things from Arthur in the state meet."

The rest of the Mustangs didn't do quite as well.

Tom Cook entered the meet rated 15th in the diving and moved up to 13th, but failed to qualify for the finals; and Kevin Kelly moved up from 22 to 21 in the 200 yard freestyle event though his 1:55.5 wasn't as fast as the 1:54.3 which qualified him for the meet.

The same thing happened in the relay events. The medley relay team of Jeff Kappler, Greenlee, Bill Witek, and John Pacific moved up from 12th in the state to tenth even though their 4:47.6 Saturday wasn't as fast as their 4:46.5 qualifying time; and the freestyle relay team of Witek, Don Cook, Pacific, and Kelly moved from 15th to 12th in spite of the fact that they were two-tenths of a second off their qualifying time of 3:31.7.

The Mustangs didn't have much trouble in defeating Crestwood Thursday. All told, Northville won 10 of 11 events in stroking to the 68-27 victory.

John Pacific was the only Mustang to win two events as he swam to first place in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. It was one of the senior freestyler's finest performances as he broke the 50 yard freestyle record of 23.7 set last year by Bill Maguire. Pacific's record time was 23.6.

One other record was set in the meet, as diver Tom Cook broke the Crestwood pool record with a 225.65 total. The rest of the Northville first places were recorded by Kevin Kelly who won the 200 yard freestyle in 1:58.4; Bill Witek who won the 200 yard individual medley in 2:14.1; Bill Bretz who won the 400 yard freestyle in 4:27.2; Jeff Kappler, who won the 100 yard backstroke in 1:03.4; and Art Greenlee, who won the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:08.7.

Also taking first places were the medley relay team of Kappler, Greenlee, Bretz, Greenlee, and Mark Haynie (1:51.5) and the 400 yard freestyle relay team of Steve Luckett, Kelly, Witek, and Pacific (3:43.0).

SPORTS Go-Round

By Bob Moore
Often called the "manly art of self defense", boxing is one of the most ancient of all the sports. Boxing, in fact, was once a favorite amongst the Greeks and Romans, who used a novel device called a caestus for a boxing glove. The caestus was made of leather thongs weighted with iron or studs of other metal. We have come a long way from those days, as we have from the days of the open rings and bare fists. Today boxing is a much more civilized sport with padded gloves used according to regulations.

Mustanger

Todd Eis, a 6'3" junior, is the first member of the 1973 Northville basketball team to be selected Mustang of the Week this year. Eis has emerged as the most consistent player on the Northville squad and can be counted on for a 15-point performance in almost every game. Eis' season average is 13.5 points. "Todd's consistently fine performance has been one of the bright spots of our season," stated Coach Walt Koepke.

Mott Ends JVs' Streak

The five-game winning streak of Northville's junior varsity basketball team came to an abrupt halt Friday as the junior Mustangs dropped a 71-54 decision to the Waterford Mott jayvees.

It was the second time this season that the two teams have met. Mott won the first game back in December by a 70-46 margin.

The Mustangs fared slightly better in Friday's return match. In the initial game they had been blown off the floor 18-6 in the first quarter. Friday, Coach Omar Harrison's charges managed to stay with the Corsairs through the first quarter, trailing by just three points, 16-13, after the first eight minutes of play.

In the second quarter, however, Mott's jayvees raced away outscoring the Mustangs 25-16, they built up a 40-29 halftime lead which they increased to 61-39 with a 21-point third quarter.

Only in the final quarter when Scott Leu tallied nine points were the Mustangs able to outpoint the Corsairs who by that time were playing their reserves. Northville scored 15 points to 10 for Mott in the fourth period to make the final score 71-54.

Rick Norton led the Mustangs in scoring with a 16-point performance. Leu was a point behind with 15, while Doug Crisan also hit double figures, tossing in 10 points.

UP IT GOES—No sooner had walls been poured when workmen quickly began erecting the steel superstructure of the Northville Square commercial development at the corner of Main and Wing Streets. By the time this picture was processed much of the steel work was up. The split level building will have an entrance off Main Street at the second level and a Cady Street entrance at the basement level. An interior escalator is planned.

Annexation Ruling's No Surprise

original thesis that it is unfair for 1-percent of the people to petition for annexation when it takes 25-percent of the people to put it to a vote. The people deserve the right to make the decision...and whatever they decide that's the way it should be. I think One Northville should circulate petitions so that the people can make the decision."

David Biery, city councilman—"I was in favor of annexation before the decision, and now that it has been made I'm happy with it. It's the best thing that can happen to both the city and the township."

Paul Vernon, city councilman—"I was pleased with the decision. It's something I've looked forward to for a long time. Consolidation is essential if

(city and township) are to continue to be progressive places in which to live. The concept of consolidation, with a single form of government, is something I've always believed in."

Kenneth Rathert, city councilman—"I think for the people who are part of the Northville trading and school areas there are some distinct economic advantages (to annexation). It would also provide uniform planning for the same geographic area. Nevertheless, I feel the people should be given an opportunity to make the final decision. If it goes to a vote, however, I intend to vote in favor of it."

Leonard Klein, township trustee—"I expected a positive answer from the Boundary Commission. I hope the people feel as I do that we must look to the future and not be short-sighted in our consideration of this question."

Bernard Baldwin, ex-township trustee and now member planning commission—"I'm very pleased. It's an intelligent decision and reflects the facts of life as I've seen them. I think it's a step forward in the city and township and I hope the people of both the city and township will examine the proposal intelligently and make their own decision."

John Canterbury, One Northville committee member—"I didn't see how they could rule otherwise. It's the economically sensible way to go. Forgetting all other details and leaving our petty differences, in the overall it would be foolish for our little jurisdictions to go it alone."

Richard Mitchell, township trustee—"It came as no surprise to me. Those of us who had talked with the Michigan Township Association were aware the (boundary) commission tends to be against township government, so we expected this kind of thing. Of course, I'm against annexation."

A. M. Allen, city mayor—"As you know I've always avored unifying our community and I'm sure annexation is the best solution possible under the circumstances. Long range it is the most economical move we can make. If it goes to an election...and I hope an election comes as soon as possible...the people must realize that their decision is vital to our future. I want to make it perfectly clear that I'm not trying to preserve my job. It's the people who count, not me. I will be glad to resign my position if the city and township are unified so that the people in both communities can pick a new mayor. The city manager feels the same way."

Charles Schaeffer, Jr., township trustee—"After reading the opinion of the Boundary Commission I have to take exception with some of its findings of 'facts'. Some things were overlooked and others were misinterpreted. I sort of figured this would be their decision after reading in your paper awhile back that they had reached a unanimous decision but weren't publicizing it yet. So it didn't come as a surprise to me."

Plan Petition

secure the signatures of 25-percent of the registered township voters. Similarly, if there also is to be a vote by city residents signatures must be obtained from 25-percent of the registered voters of the city.

Voter registration in the township stands at 4,406. Thus some 1,100 signatures will be required to petition for an election in the township.

City voter registration is 3,071, which requires a total of 770 signatures for an election in the city.

In the event an election is held in either or both the city and township and if voters in either or both reject annexation, the action of the Boundary Commission is nullified.

Should insufficient or no valid petitions be presented to the Boundary Commission, the annexation, as recommended by the commission, automatically becomes effective on March 31.

Annexation OK'd

Continued from Record, 1 valid, the commission subsequently (August 29) held a public hearing at Northville High School where it heard formal arguments for and against annexation. Since the hearing the commission had been reviewing those arguments and additional citizen comments it received by mail.

Its decision was originally expected before the end of 1972 but other matters before the commission delayed action on the Northville petition.

Last month Eric Golting, one of two commissioners then representing Wayne County, told The Record a unanimous decision had been reached but that disclosure of the decision had to await formal working. Several days after speaking with The Record, and prior issuance of the commission's order, Golting died of a heart attack.

Draft of the formal findings and ruling were approved January 30, and officials of both the city and the township were formally notified late last week. Most officials said they expected the affirmative decision.

The brief contains a summary of proceedings, findings of fact, and the order issuing the decision.

Significantly, the commission decided against a request that the southeastern section of the township be deleted from the annexation. At the August hearing citizens had asked the commission to consider omitting this section should it rule favorably on annexation.

"The commission finds," states the order, "that it could adjust the boundaries of the area proposed to be annexed to allow the city to annex only a portion of Northville Township thus giving the city future growth potential... (but) finds that it is not in favor of splitting or dissecting Northville Township."

Commissioners noted that omission of the southeastern section—that section of the township lying in Plymouth School District—"would create the possibility that this small portion of Northville Township could become a remnant of the township with an area of less than one square mile."

"The commission finds that although it recognizes the sincere interest of residents of this area it must refrain from such a boundary adjustment."

Its ruling notes, also, that unification of the city and township of Plymouth into a new, single city "is a distinct possibility."

Thus the ruling of the commission includes all of the township (16.7 square miles) for annexation to the City of Northville.

Among other findings of the commission are these:

- That the area proposed for annexation lies within the natural growth influence of the City of Northville and that future land use will be urban in nature.

- That due to topography and the large sections of land devoted to state institutions township development is taking place in scattered areas where private land is available and usable and therefore the township sewer system does not necessarily connect with itself but rather is a series of connections to the county system.

- That Northville Township has developed to the threshold area of future incorporation consideration when one takes into account its population density, urban development and anticipated future growth.

- That the township is about to build new municipal facilities duplicating those of the city.

- That (township) incorporation would lock in the City of Northville and place in doubt the continued future viability of such a small city in this heavily urbanizing area.

- That Northville Township has no commercial, civic or industrial center that is separate from the City of Northville and that other cultural centers and shopping centers are two to 12 miles distant in Novi, Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington.

- That the proposed annexation is not in conflict with existing land use plans.

Other members of the commission include: David Calhoun, of Huntington Woods, chairman; Irving Rozian of Plymouth, Al Vander Laan of Caledonia, and William Moshier of Romulus.

Should petitioners fail to secure sufficient signatures to force an election, annexation will mean present township posts would be dissolved. Present city councilmen would be temporarily responsible for governing the enlarged city, although they and any other qualified citizens of both the present city and township could seek the new city posts at the next council election.

The new city would be governed by the existing city charter until voters decide to rewrite or amend it.

If an election is held and voters disapprove annexation, the order of the Boundary Commission would be voided.

the company housing for men and equipment), and it notes that its basic ambulance fee is $35.

The two other bidders, Superior Ambulance and County Ambulance, submitted figures substantially greater than that of General.

Superior's bid asks for a station to house equipment, paid utilities, a subsidy of $30,960 per year (decreasing after 25 calls per day), and a basic fee of $35.

County Ambulance, which offers to provide a paramedic type service, asks a $60,000 subsidy and it sets its basic fee at $30.

In an effort to ensure prompt local service, the council earlier had negotiated with General to station an ambulance in Northville.

Since the ambulance would serve both the city and the township, the township board was asked to share in the cost of providing quarters. The board agreed, but later, upon reflection, asked that bids for the service be sought.

Meanwhile, the council voted to furnish free temporary quarters to General, which has since stationed an ambulance and personnel on Center Street.

Why Send Valentine Cards?

We asked second graders in Northville, Novi, South Lyon and Brighton to comment on the February 14 date called Valentine's Day.

"Why do I send valentines?" repeated Tonya Harmon, Sayre (South Lyon) second grader. "I send them because I like to, it makes it sort of a nice day. You send them to your friends because you like them."

"Giving valentines is a nice way to love people." Simple enough, and to Paul Smelser, a second grader at South Lyon's Sayre Elementary school, it sums up his outlook on this "special" day. To whom, then, does he give valentines? "Why, to everybody, of course," comes Paul's innocent response.

According to Orchard Hills first grader Steve Dolen, "Valentines Day got started because they started love. People send valentines with hearts on them because hearts mean love."

"Some Valentines are this big and some are this small," exclaimed Julie Wickens. "All of them have red hearts, and some of them have cats and dogs and some even have baseball people. I'm going to send a special one to my teacher." Julie is a Moraine first grader.

"The valentines that I make are going to be a big red heart and I'm going to write I love you in the heart. The heart has to be red because a red heart means love," explained Kristin Creedon who is in the first grade at Orchard Hills Elementary School.

Todd Stabley, an Orchard Hills Elementary School first grader said, "I don't have a girlfriend, but I'm going to send a big valentine card to my grandma. She had a stroke and is in a nursing home."

"I'm sending them to people in my class and to my boyfriend. I already started making some for this year. That's the fun kind, when you have to put them together," said Elizabeth Lucas, a Moraine Elementary School first grader.

People send valentines to make other people happy, asserts freckled Patricia Brewer, and because they like to. Patricia also likes to send the cards to her friends. Her teacher is not forgotten either. "When we have parties in our room, we always give her one," she explained.

"My mom buys my valentines at the store. They have bears and birds next to hearts. I'm going to send some to my friends in the neighborhood where I used to live," are Craig Miller's valentine plans. Craig is in the first grade at Moraine Elementary School.

South Lyon (Sayre Elementary) second grader Jay Gardner knows what Valentine's Day is all about. "I think it's about love. I give them (valentines) to my folks and to my best friends."

When asked why people send valentines, the most obvious reason for Christina Smith, another second grader at Hawkins, was because you send love with them. Christina said she sends brightly decorated cards to "lots of people" and enjoys getting them back too.

Terry Sherwood said he sends valentines because it's fun. He sends them to his friends at Hawkins, he explained, and if there are any left over, he'll send them to his parents and family.

Income Tax Returns

Short Form Saves Time

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles prepared by The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1972 Federal Income Tax Returns.

An estimated 40 million taxpayers have special reason this year to file their income tax returns well in advance of the April 16 deadline, according to The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

Most of the 40 million are members of families having only one breadwinner, from whom the withholding rates in 1972 caused more taxes to be withheld than were actually owed. Unless such taxpayers made arrangements with their employers to reduce the withholding, they are likely to have substantial refunds coming. The total amount to be refunded is estimated to be about $7 billion.

This year, after a lapse of four years, those whose tax situation is uncomplicated can again use the simplified short tax return form 1040A, which can be completed in minutes.

"If a person's income is almost entirely salary or wages and his deductible expenses are so few that he will take the standard deduction," said Robert N. DenBraber, President of The Michigan Association of CPAs, "the taxpayer usually should not have any difficulty in filling out the short form tax return himself."

Even easier than using the short form is filing no return whatever. DenBraber noted that recent changes in the tax

Mary 'Flies' For Audience At Olympia

Learning to fly for the new Fourth Edition of "Disney on Parade" was a unique assignment for the fabled Mary Poppins. In fact, for the very human young lady who plays the "Practically perfect magical nanny," it was an assignment to accomplish the impossible.

Yvonne Green, who danced as Snow White and as the evil witch Maleficent in the two previous "Disney on Parade" editions, will be this year's leading lady when the new production appears at the Olympia Stadium starting Tuesday, February 6th through Sunday, February 18th for 18 performances.

To play the leading role in the new show, Yvonne had to learn to fly so she could realistically bring to life on stage her movie counterpart from the 1964 Academy Award winning film, "Mary Poppins."

A KEY public relations appointment, involving a Northville Township resident, has been announced by the Ford Motor Company.

Train Trips

Draw Crowds

Michiganians driving to Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, to board a train for a one-day, winter wilderness scenic ride have reached record numbers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The Algoma Central Railway, which takes weekend sightseers into the Agawa Canyon through some of Ontario's most rugged terrain is now drawing capacity crowds from Michigan for its Saturday trip.

JOHN E. MISCHI, a Brighton Township resident, was recently appointed staff head of general accounting in the financial department of Cadillac Motor Car Division.

A native Detroit and a graduate of Michigan State University, he holds a bachelor's degree in accounting.

He joined Cadillac in 1959 as a member of the product cost department and has held positions of supervisor of factory accounting, supervisor of general accounting and general supervisor of programming and systems.

His most recent assignment was staff head of data processing, systems and procedures.

Mischi and his wife, Mona have three children, Michael, Jill and Mona.

JAMES LONG, Northville, of Long's Plumbing Company, also of Northville, recently attended the I-B-R Hydronic Heating School held at Detroit.

At the school, which is sponsored by The Hydronics Institute, Long was brought up-to-date on the latest methods used to calculate heat loss and also on the most efficient techniques to design and install hydronic heating systems.

(Hydronics is the new term for modern hot water and steam heating.)

Founded in 1950, the I-B-R Schools have been attended by more than 28,000 members of the heating industry throughout the United States and Canada.

POLICE BEAT

Sally Burke's a well-known girl around police headquarters in the city, township and state police post. She's News Editor of The Record and the activities of the various police forces of the community are among her responsibilities. She checks and double-checks details firsthand, like she's doing here with Lieut. Louis Westfall of the Northville department. And when she writes her stories for your community newspaper about your police and your courts, she does so with all the facts at hand.

FOR NEWSPAPER PEOPLE...

A day's work may include covering an athletic contest, then writing about it. Or it may be helping a local merchant plan an advertisement for a sale. Or it may be the announcement of the death of a local resident, or the birth of the community's newest resident. It could be delivery of the newspaper to your home. Whatever the assignment, a "week's work" means getting your community newspaper to your home on time filled with all the happenings of your community in words and pictures. The job is performed by people who live and work in your town. You can help them do a better job by first reading your community newspaper weekly and becoming better informed; and by thinking of your friends at the newspaper when you have a news item to report, or a want ad to place.

Political Parties Made Money!

LANSING—Michigan's two major political parties did a quite unusual thing last year: they made money, an operating profit!

That's not to say either party is rolling in clover now, since the situation is far from that. But both the Republican and Democratic parties were able to make sizeable dents in the debts they have piled up in recent years despite the fact they were involved in presidential and senatorial races.

The Democratic Party has a much smaller debt than the Republicans, owing $40,000 compared to the $725,000 owed by the Republicans. A lot of the Republican debt is owed to affluent party members who make loans to the party, so there is little worry of massive foreclosures.

THE DEMOCRATS were able to cut $140,000 from their debt. Two years ago, it stood at $180,000. This was done while the party was contributing about $180,000 to the presidential campaign of Sen. George McGovern and the senate campaign of Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

The party also had an operating budget of $300,000 each year for salaries, offices and supplies, meaning it raised roughly $1 million over the two year period. In addition, Mc Govern forces raised approximately $400,000 for the general election and Kelley raised about $500,000.

The Republicans cut more off their debt—about $280,000. But they started out owing about $1 million, so they're still far behind. Party spokesmen say about $495,000 is owed by the state GOP headquarters with the remaining $230,000 owed by the United Republican Fund, which operates in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

THE REPUBLICAN debt includes about $100,000 owed from the 1968 presidential campaign and another $100,000 owed from Lenore Romney's disastrous Senate campaign of 1970.

Both parties anticipate new fund raising efforts this year to help cut down the deficit and—in the case of the Democrats—possibly eliminate it altogether. Both spend a great deal of time worrying about money.

Despite all the other factors talked about in the political area, the truth is still, as former California House Speaker Jesse Unruh once put it, that "money is the mother's milk of politics." Without money, the parties cannot be effective.

This has led some people to propose that the government help finance campaigns or help finance the operating expenses of political parties on the theory they perform a public service. The idea is probably at least a few years away from being put into practice if it is ever adopted. But with both parties worrying about millions of dollars raised on a voluntary basis, the idea may get a bigger airing in the future.

A LOOK at Michigan's experience indicates the word tourism might be spelled "M-O-N-E-Y."

The tourism industry raised more than $1.5 billion in this water wonderland in 1972 and added roughly $100 million to the state treasury, according to figures compiled by the Michigan Tourist Council.

The council divides the state into four regional areas and studies each area separately. The areas are the Upper Peninsula, the western side of the state, the eastern side minus Detroit and southeastern Michigan and the portion not counted in the eastern side.

The Detroit area, including eight counties in and surrounding Detroit, showed the greatest increase in tourism last year, with hotels, motels and campgrounds averaging a 12 per cent increase in business. Restaurants had an increase of 20 per cent in business over 1971.

THE REMAINDER of the eastern side was just a little above the previous year. The area enjoyed a record winter season, up 11 per cent in business, while the spring and fall were about the same as 1971.

The western side of the state had an overall increase in tourist related business of 11.3 per cent while the Upper Peninsula had an increase of 8 per cent.

The increase in tourism, of course, can bring extra problems in terms of pollution of the environment. Pollution includes everything from paper wrappers thrown from cars to overuse of forests and streams.

One of the problems the state now faces, and government is working on it from several different angles, is how to expand tourism and the rest of the economy and at the same time preserve the beauty unique to this state that brings the tourists in. Overuse of the land and resources, if left unchecked, could ruin the very things that attract people here in the first place.

Babson Report

Joblessness Still Mars Country

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—While the unemployment situation has seen some improvement over the past few years and the press coverage of this fact has been substantial, joblessness and placement problems are still found in some parts of the country and in various industries.

This has been particularly evident in the case of certain large corporations and institutions that have been forced to reduce their personnel as a result of lost business, soaring expenses, and sagging earnings.

True, the past couple of years have seen a generally more encouraging job picture, but a closer look indicates that the betterment has been far from dynamic. It has, in fact, been more a case of rising employment totals than a big-scale erasure of unemployment.

For 1971 the jobless made up 5.9 percent of the civilian labor force, a percentage that was viewed with uneasiness by both the Administration and its opponents. It should be noted that the 1972 average moved off only slightly to 5.6 percent, scarcely an impressive decline.

FOR THE LAST TWO months of 1972, however, the unemployment rate stood at 5.2 percent. More significant was the fact that the average of employment for the nation as a whole had risen by 2.3 million in the course of 1972, representing the sharpest expansion for any single year since the end of World War II.

So, while this did mean a solid absorption of manpower into the economy, it apparently did not much more than keep up with the long-term growth in the labor force as a whole.

And recent studies have revealed that some employers and workers are still beleaguered by an agonizing persistence in job losses and personnel cutbacks. Both blue-collar and white-collar employees are being affected, as well as highly paid professionals and executives. Some of the large companies snagged in the squeeze are accomplishing reductions through the process of attrition, trying wherever possible neither to hire nor to fire.

But some firms are being forced to let workers go in considerable numbers.

THERE IS, of course, an aspect of the economy today which was not in evidence in the 1969-1970 recession pit. That is the greater availability of jobs in areas and industries where sizable recovery has more recently been enjoyed.

In other words, the overall job picture is not nearly so grim as it was a while ago, with an improved business psychology making for less caution in hiring where profits are moving upward. In some cities, including New York City, there is a definitely increasing demand for skilled office workers such as typists, secretaries, and data processing operators.

But, even where some hiring is in progress, personnel directors and other executives are more demanding. They want—in fact, often insist upon—high productivity and top quality. As a rule, they would prefer not to take on anybody unless or until they can get precisely what they are seeking in the way of new employees.

The day when there were job openings for just about any skilled employes or executives has gone, and may not soon reappear. Employment agencies and executive placement concerns declare that prospective employers are surveying job aspirants very carefully before hiring.

A decline in the output of war materials has already affected some companies, and may spread to others before long. A switch from widespread active war needs to basic streamlining of our defense structure will help some firms and depress others.

Short Form Saves Time

Continued from Page 1-B law have greatly expanded the number of persons in that category. A $300 increase this year in the low-income allowance plus the increased personal exemption now exempts single persons earning less than $2,050 and childless married couples earning less than $2,800 from filing tax returns. If they have refunds coming, however, they will have to file to collect. The low-income allowance applies not just to poor people but also to the children of more affluent families. A child earning less than $2,050 can forget about filing a return. And even if he does file, to collect a refund, he can still be taken as a dependent by a parent who provided more than half of his support. Persons who held two or more jobs simultaneously during the tax year are likely to have overpaid their Social Security taxes, since each employer was required to withhold 5.2 percent of wages on the first $9,000 paid.

Horse's Mouth

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi 48178.

Dear Sally:
I have a 10-year old, part Arabian horse. I've been jumping him recently and he does very well. But he has never had shoes. Do you recommend shoes for jumpers?

Yours truly,
"Wondering in Northville"

Dear Wondering:
You have an exceptional horse. I don't think I would put shoes on him as long as the hooves are holding up well. Wait and see how he does, although he might need front shoes. He is healthier without them and as long as he has gotten along without them for 10 years, it shouldn't hurt to try it a little longer.

Michigan's Horse Industry in 1985
The state's horse population has grown from 34,000 in 1960 to 171,000 plus, according to the 1971 Michigan Equine Census conducted by the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service. The state total is projected to be 400,000 by 1985.

Characteristics of owners of these horses are (estimates are based on a study of Today's Horseman by M. Dallas Powell, Merck and Co., Inc., 1970):

(1) There will be about 160,000 horse owning families.
(2) About 75 per cent will be pleasure horse owners, 25 per cent horse breeders, race horse owners, etc.

(3) About 60 per cent of pleasure horse owners will be over 20 years of age. 60 per cent of these will be men.

(4) In the 4-H Horse Project, about 70 per cent will be girls.

(5) 40 per cent will be in rural areas, with 60 per cent located in and around metropolitan areas.

(6) The average horse owner's income will closely parallel the Michigan average income in 1985.

(7) Young people will own many of these horses. The 4-H horse will continue to be Michigan's largest 4-H livestock project. The projected 4-H horse enrollment in 1985 is expected to be 23,500.

Michigan's horse industry will continue to have a significant influence on the state's economy.

The horse racing sport and industry has shown a rapid growth. In 1971 total attendance was 3,962,318; the total revenue returned to the state was $24,499,748. There are prospects for two new pari-mutuel tracks by 1985 (one in eastern Michigan, and one in western Michigan).

Although horses are no longer a major source of farm power, they will continue to contribute to Michigan's agricultural economy. The estimated 400,000 horses in 1985 will require approximately three tons of hay and one and a half tons of grain per head, per year.

This will probably not be grown on the farms where the horses are kept and therefore will provide a market for hay and grain produced by farmers.

In addition to the feed costs, the owning of a pleasure or racing horse results in expenditures in many other areas such as fence, stable, shoeing, saddlery, veterinary service and medications, special clothes, transportation, taxes and insurance. Also, there are service expenses such as labor, training, stud fees, instruction and exercising. The following figures are estimates of the average yearly expenditures for horses in the United States for feed, tack, and medication:

Feed - (grain, hay, pasture) $360.00
Tack 300.00
Medications 75.00
Total $735.00

Thus, using these figures, a conservative estimate of the average yearly expenditures for horses in Michigan in 1985 is $294,000,000.

Thus, Michigan's horse industry is a dynamic, growing industry, which is expected to make a significant contribution to the economy of the state in 1985.

Tulips in February

Weather Triggers Flip Flops

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

If you think the tulips sprouting in your backyard have flipped, consider what else is happening this topsy-turvy winter.

- Farmers are worried sick about yet unharvested corn crops.
- Housing contractors are smiling.
- Snowmobilers are crying.

• Heating fuel dealers are hoping for more warm weather.

• The ski industry is teetering on the brink of disaster.

• And to make matters worse, or better, the Groundhog is predicting six more weeks of winter.

Late summer rain, fall rain and now winter rain has raised havoc with the farmer, reports Jerry Draheim, Wayne County horticulture agent.

Normally, the farmer can count on cold winter months to harvest the remainder of his corn crops, "but with all this wet weather he hasn't been able to move his equipment into the fields. And the longer the harvest is delayed the more chance his corn will become diseased," he explains.

"We had a lot of rain late in the summer, preventing the mechanical harvest of tomatoes and similar crops. With more rain in the fall, farmers couldn't harvest their soybeans and as they matured they began dropping to the ground. Some farmers lost 50 to 56 percent of their soybean crops.

"For the peach grower, who lost nearly 90-percent of his crop last year, all of this freezing and thawing may ruin him again. Peach trees are not as hardy as apple trees...they can't stand changing winter weather as much. I'm afraid if this weather keeps up the whole peach industry in Michigan will fold.

"Hay was also affected. It's scarce because farmers couldn't get into their fields to cut it. Some places are worse than Michigan. Because of the feed grain shortages the dairy industry is hurting. In some states, like Wisconsin, some farmers are starting to sell off some of their cattle."

Draheim says he has received a number of reports from "concerned" gardeners who see flowers starting to sprout. "Why, I've got tulips coming up in my backyard," he adds.

"It's too late to do anything about plants starting to sprout now," comments Douglas Jones of the Michigan State University agricultural department. "You can try mulching them but if we get any hard freezing at this point it won't help much."

Tulips, daffodils...and other bulb plants are starting to poke their heads above ground throughout the southeastern section of Michigan, he says. "Our problem," he points out, "is that people call us 'after the fact' when there's nothing you can do. They should have mulched their gardens with maybe four or five inches of pine needles in the fall."

Any variety of fruit trees could suffer damage this winter because of the changing weather...although peach trees, which is a 'marginal' tree in Michigan, may be hurt most, explains Jones.

Many people are unaware, he says, that deciduous buds "are set" before the leaves fall and therefore they are prone to damage in severe changes of weather such as have occurred this winter.

MSU horticulturists caution owners of fruit trees against pruning on warm, sunshiney days when temperatures are forecast to drop sharply below freezing within the next day or two.

"Trees pruned just before severe weather changes can be badly injured by cold temperatures," they note. Nevertheless, it is during the winter dormant season when pruning should occur.

Although farmers are distressed by the unusual weather, housing contractors think the weather "has been great."

"It's the best thing that could happen to us," reports Joseph Staub, partner in the Greenspan Construction Company.

"Anytime the temperature gets up over 30 degrees we count ourselves fortunate because we know the trades working outdoors will be able to get their work done.

"It's great for carpenters and bricklayers. No, for the building industry...and I think we're probably typical of most larger firms...it's been a great winter."

A spokesman for the Fendt Transit Mix, a major ready-mix concrete supplier of Novi, agrees: "It's been a good winter. We had our best January in history."

Duane Bell of Trickey's Hunting and Fishing in Novi tells a different story:

It's the "worst winter," so far as his business is concerned, in memory. Sales of ice fishing equipment has dropped off appreciably and the sale of winter clothing is "way down."

"It started cold early and I thought we were going to have a good winter but suddenly everything went kaput," he says. "It's awful."

Ice shanty fishermen, he reports, are having a particularly "bad time of it" because they don't really know what to do about their shanties. Twice already this winter they've been forced to take their shanties off Walled Lake because of thawing weather.

Ironically, even though

January:

 Abnormal

It may have seemed a lot warmer in January than the average for the month would indicate.

The mean temperature for January was 28.8 degrees—only 2.6 degrees above what is considered normal for the month, according to the National Weather Service at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Precipitation, on the other hand, was below normal, with 1.65 inches falling in this area. Normal for January is 1.93 inches.

February, a forecaster said, should be near normal, with an average temperature of 26.7 degrees and precipitation of 1.95 inches.

Perhaps the thaw periods in January will begin a warming trend this year that will eventually offset the cold experienced in 1972.

Last year this area lagged 55.4 degrees behind the norm. And precipitation was .86 above average for the year.

snow sporting has been dismal at nearby Kensington Metropolitan Park (less than a week of tobogganing and sledding since facilities opened December 10), the park had more than 20,000 more visitors this past January than it had the same month in 1972.

Warmer weather apparently has encouraged more people "to come out for a drive and enjoy nature," a spokesman suggests. Skating has been adversely affected but ice fishing has been "pretty good", although anglers are fishing different areas than normally because of thin ice. Wildlife, the park reports, has enjoyed the weather.

Wildlife may like it but Cal Cross, snowmobile dealer and member of the Snowdrifters snowmobile club of Northville thinks it stinks.

"You can't believe it. The group went up North the week before last and didn't even unload (their machines). At St Helen New Year's Eve weekend there was water ankle deep above the snow," he says.

"It's sad, real sad," he adds.

Copp's Riding School of Novi, which normally counts on a brisk winter season of sleigh riding, has been hit unusually hard this winter. "Last year we were down a little, but we had a few weekends of snow," a spokesman explains. "This winter it's been terrible. We schedule six or seven parties a weekend and we have to cancel most of them out because they're reluctant to switch over to a hay ride.

"I'd say our sleigh-riding has been cut by two-thirds." Normally, fuel oil dealers "think cold" at this time of year but this winter, in the face of a fuel shortage crisis, they "hope it doesn't get too cold."

"Business picked up early in December because of the early cold weather but a week after Christmas when the rains came the bottom dropped out of the ski industry," laments Mike Fox, owner of a ski shop in Livonia. "Business was off 25 percent in January," and coming on the heels of a "bad year" in 1971-72 this "really hurts."

Fortunately, says Fox, "we sort of expected a mediocre year and didn't overstock. But for the poor guys who figured things would really improve and who overstocked it's been a disaster."

December was a good month, January very poor, reports Bill Riske, general manager of Mt. Brighton Ski Lodge.

Warm weather hasn't been as bad as the rain, he explains, pointing out that rain destroys more snow than warm weather.

"Usually there is three to four feet of snow at this time but we've got only about six inches" even though snow machines are working overtime.

The weather, has been especially hard on roads, comments Marvin Klei, yard foreman for the Wayne County Road Department.

Beginning in the fall and continuing through the present, rain, freezing, thawing, and more rain has raised havoc with both gravel and hard-surface roads.

"We get out one day to grade a road, like those in Northville Township, and the next day it rains and thaws and we've got to do it all over again."

Bud Hartner, superintendent of the Northville Department of Works, agrees the weather has been hard on roads but he points out that his crew has been able to do some kinds of work that it normally cannot do in the winter.

Also, Hartner points out the amount of salt used has not been as great as was expected following early season snowfalls.

Ray Warren of Novi says his and other earthmoving businesses have been "hurt bad" by the weather. "I feel fortunate that I've been able to keep my jobs lined up even though I've had to postpone (many of them)," he says.

"November and early December usually are our best periods...the time when you try to get in as much work as possible to make up for the rainy periods. But this past November we probably worked only six or seven days the whole month. And in December we were able to do only a little better."

Similarly, nursery businesses have been affected adversely by changing weather.

According to Mike Hunt of Green Ridge Nursery, "we pretty much have to play it day to day. When the ground is frozen we can move our equipment, but when it thaws you can't take the chance of ruining someone's yard by moving equipment in the mud."

Girl Scouts Sell Cookies

Tomorrow 900 Girl Scouts in Plymouth and Northville will begin taking orders for Girl Scout cookies, according to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. The girls will be out to better their sales record of last year when they sold 40,000 boxes and had total receipts of $20,000.

Guiding this year's cookie sale locally will be: Mrs. James Rorabacher of 9566 Gold Arbor, Plymouth, and Mrs. Richard Dunchock of 20241 Westview Drive, Northville.

Mrs. Dunchock's previous experience with Girl Scouts has been one year in the cookie sale and 11 years in other aspects of troop work.

The Girl Scouts will be introducing a new $1 box of cookies this year, a replacement of previous years' 50 cent box. Cookie manufacturer Burry Biscuit Company was forced by costs to discontinue making the 50-cent box, according to council chairman for the cookie sale, Mrs. Jack Hagopian.

The $1 box of the Chocolate Mint cookies exactly doubles the size of the 50-cent box last year, with 48 cookies instead of 24. Costs have hit harder at other flavors, but the $1.00 box of Scot Teas contains 88 cookies, and those of Fudge, Chocolate-Vanilla Cremes and Savannah cookies each contain 36 cookies.

Girl Scouts will be taking orders for cookies from February 9 to February 25 and will be delivering cookies March 27 to April 9.

"How your gas company rates"

More than 900,000 customers in Michigan's lower peninsula depend on Consumers Power Company for natural gas. And Consumers Power accepts the responsibility of providing reliable service.

To do this, the Company is investing more than $120 million on this huge reforming plant near Marysville. It will restructure light hydrocarbon liquids into a supplemental gas, identical to natural gas.

Meanwhile, a subsidiary company has explored for, and found, new gas reserves in Louisiana, in the Gulf of Mexico, and in northern Michigan.

Today, gas is more difficult to obtain and more expensive to produce, whether it comes from a reforming plant in Michigan or from the Gulf Coast. That means a higher cost to the user, too, because all costs of providing service must be reflected in rates.

Consumers Power wishes there was an easier and cheaper way to do it. But there isn't. Not if you, the customer, are going to continue to have the energy you need, when you need it.

Your future depends on ENERGY

Former Mustang Gridder Stars in Another Field

Editor's Note: Following is another in a continuing series of articles about former Northville residents who have climbed the ladder of success.

It's been 15 years since a fleet-footed senior halfback by name of Dick Biery gained 109 yards and scored two touchdowns to lead the Mustangs to their second consecutive Wayne-Oakland League championship.

Those were the days of players like Bob Starnes, Spike Walker, N.C. Schrader, Wade Deal, Bill Yahne, Pete Gross and Jeff Goodrich. Ron Schipper, the Dutchman from Zeeland, was the coach.

Where is Dick Biery now?

He's a Floridian, president of a multi-million dollar construction business that came close to folding in the 1960's before Biery transformed it into one of Florida's most successful enterprises.

Following his prep football career and graduation from high school here, Biery entered Central Michigan University. Following graduation from CMU, and after considering but rejecting an Air Force career, he and his young wife moved instead to Cocoa Beach, Florida in February of 1963, where he joined his father-in-law in building a few custom houses.

The first of their three children was born that spring. Soon the company, called Marinoff Homes, began construction of a series of apartment units—first the Cocoa Isles Apartments (18 units in six buildings) and then, in December of 1964, the Mariner Apartments (six units of three bedrooms each).

In 1965, Biery's father-in-law left the business and the former high school sports star assumed full charge of the company.

During the next few years construction was limited with just enough income to "make ends meet."

In 1968, the Cape (Cape Conaveral) began laying off employees and house construction tapered off drastically as families transferred out of the area. The company did mostly remodeling jobs to keep its doors open.

"We stuck it out through a few years of rough going while several builders in the area left for green pasture," writes Mrs. Biery. "We have always liked the area and now that our children are in school here (a very good school system, I might add) we plan to stay indefinitely. You can't beat the weather and the ocean is practically on our doorstep."

At the turn of 1971, the condominium boom began in Cocoa Beach and Biery took a long-time friend and builder, Richard Castillo, in as a partner in what now is called Marinoff Construction, Inc. The firm began its condominium construction with Spanish Trace, a development in the country club section of Cocoa Beach. Soon others were constructed.

Presently, the firm has under construction The Mark, Sunrise Towers, Cape Shores, Royal Colonial, The Anchorage, Windjammer, and the Cocoa Beach Club

Condominium Apartments.

Biery formed still another corporation, this one named First Interstate, which rejuvenated an ocean-front apartment building and turned it into the Crescent

Fans Applaud Racing Speed-up

A speeded up racing program, that has patrons on the way home shortly after 11 p.m., and a new alpha board presentation that flashes the prices on the perfecta pools as wagers are made, are making a big hit with those attending races at Northville Downs.

Executive Director John J. Carlo announced the speeded up racing card prior to the start of the season on January 29 and management has been sticking to it.

"Post time 8 p.m. sharp and the final race completed at least by 11:15 p.m. on weekdays," was Carlo's edict.

Folks were pouring out of the plant at 11:10 p.m. on opening night and around 11 p.m. on succeeding week nights.

But the biggest surprise of all came when the alpha board began flashing the probable payoffs on the popular perfectas. Four times the payoffs are listed during the wagering on the gimmicks. The track has three nightly perfectas - on the fourth, seventh and 10th races. Thus bettors know at all times just what to expect.

This type of presentation on the tote board was a first in the Detroit area and will be continued throughout the Northville 39-night meeting.

"We are doing this to provide more information for our customers," said mutual manager Lou Carlo. "The speeded up programs enable patrons to get home a good half-hour earlier during the week and still wager on the perfectas and straight betting on all 10 races."

Where Are They Now?

Since starring with the Northville Mustangs a dozen years ago, Dick Biery has become a construction tycoon with a multi-million dollar business in Florida. Most of his firm's projects involve huge condominiums and apartments on The Florida coastline.

Pursell's Bill Aids Vets

Senator Carl D. Pursell (R-Plymouth) has co-sponsored a bill to exempt property of disabled American war veterans or widows of disabled veterans from Michigan property taxes.

Senator Pursell, a member of the powerful Senate Appropriations committee, said the bill would amend the general property tax act to give relief to disabled veterans or widows of disabled veterans.

"I think it is only fair that we provide some measure of relief to these people who have given so much to their country and to their widows who often find the property tax burden in waning years too heavy for them to bear on limited incomes," said Pursell.

"This is especially true in these days of high property taxes. We should do all in our power to avoid a situation in which disabled veterans or widows may face the loss of their homes because of inability to pay high taxes.

"I shall do all I can to get this bill out of committee and secure sufficient backing of senators to effect its passage.

"The Vietnam war, which President Nixon has mercifully ended with his unique combination of strength and patience, has made this bill even more necessary because such a large number of Americans have been killed and wounded."

A distinguished American poet will make two appearances on the Schoolcraft College campus on February 9.

A common cause for dirty hot water is overheating. The higher the temperature to which water is heated, the more likely it is to be dirty because of the precipitate that forms. Water at a temperature of 130 degrees is sufficient for most household purposes. When buying a dishwasher, your best buy may be one with a booster heater for sterilizing purposes. This is the best way to avoid the formation of a precipitate along the piping of your water system.

TEN YEARS AGO
...A study, financed by private funds, to consider the costs of installing a sanitary sewer line along Seven Mile Road to Marilyn Road in Northville Road was approved by the Northville township water and sewer commission. It was estimated that the study cost would be about $75,000.

...The committee to collect $12,000 for the completion of the scout-recreation building realized its goal. Altogether, contributions were received from 254 individuals and business firms.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
...Mortgage burning ceremonies were held at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. Also, the final payment was made on the church parsonage. The Reverend John O. Taxis said one of the significant factors in paying the mortgage off was the rearranging of the church finances so that the mortgage was part of the church budget.

...It was revealed that Northville drivers would have a nearly all expressway route into downtown Detroit in five years. State highway commissioner John C. Mackie announced that Eight Mile is definitely on the books to be converted into an expressway.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
...Workmen began tearing down the Schermerhorn mill in Wixom which was to be moved and rebuilt for the new factory building.

...Not many towns the size of Northville could boast of as well equipped telephone exchange as the one possessed by the Michigan State Telephone Company. The building had been changed and improved with the latest addition being a handsomely appointed rest room for the operators.

...The Pastime Dancing Club held an old-fashioned masquerade at the high school gym where there were many "strange faces and forms."
...Shortly after six in the morning a fire was discovered in the building occupied by McLaren's feed store on South Center.

FISH Hears Call for Help

Loss of Aid Triggers Plea

A call to help the elderly, seriously sick and disabled was issued last Thursday night to members of the local FISH organization by the assistant director of Wayne County social services and a Wayne County public health nurse.

Mrs. Laura Hess, of Wayne County social services, said that the United States Congress has officially discontinued the system of aid to the aged, disabled and blind. It will take effect as of January 1, 1974, she said.

"The government is switching them under the new supplement to social security law," she said. It was further reported that the individuals under these programs will have their incomes reduced and they will receive less medical coverage under the new Medicaid bill.

Mrs. Hess said, "You, the citizens of Michigan, can do something about their plight. Under the federal law, it is stated that the state can subsidize the federal allowances and this is being done now by the present federally and state funded aid."

She urged the people in attendance to write to their state legislators. "Ask that these helpless and unfortunate people who are dependent, due to no fault of their own, be subsidized when this law goes into effect January 1, 1974."

Emphasizing that citizens who are concerned should get involved, she said that when writing to State Senator Carl Pursell or Representative Robert Geake, "You can tell them that there are 368 human beings living in Northville alone who are on one or another of these aids."

(Persons living in the Oakland County section of Northville and in Novi should address their letters to either Pursell and-or to Representative Clifford Smart of Walled Lake, minority leader of the House).

Public Health Nurse Mrs. George Skorina, reported to the FISH members which of her services were needed most in Northville and spoke of which services are available to the community. She mentioned that "most free medical or dental service is quite a distance from here, but it is available if you can get there."

"Satellite units of Wayne County General Hospital," she said, "will hopefully be built in different areas to allow communities to be closer to health units and one will be in the Northville area."

Continuing, she added that unless city leaders and citizens request the units, they will probably go somewhere else.

"One of the great needs," Mrs. Skorina said, "is for low cost housing and senior citizen housing. None is available in Northville." She said that another need in the area is for a hot meal plan for senior citizens.

The meeting concluded with a challenge to get people involved and affect legislation in the areas which will help the people in need.

STRAY TO SAFETY — This reluctant pooch might not know it, but he's broken the law by running stray. Oakland County animal control deputies Lyle Schreiber, left, and Leroy Beach are taking the dog to the Oakland County facilities in Pontiac where stray animals are kept.

Stray Dogs

'Dump-Offs' Boost Numbers

By MARTHA ROEMER

Hardly a day goes by when you don't see a dog walking along aimlessly, seemingly without a care in the world. These canines without master and leash promote a feeling of empathy in some people and fury in others.

Regardless of the position of people on the matter of dogs which run loose, the law says they are illegal. According to Northville City Manager Frank Ollendorff, a dog is considered a stray "if it is not on a leash and not under the direct control of the owner."

For the year 1972 alone, 108 dogs were reported strays in the city and 68 were impounded. During the same year, Northville township figures showed 37 dogs were impounded.

Northville township Police Chief Ron Nisen expounded on the annual township figure. "You realize, of course, that the biggest number of strays are dumped off here. People come in from the city and do it. They don't want to give the dog away because the kids will cry, and they don't want to kill them because that's cruel."

The fate of the "dump offs" and other dogs who wander around without proper identification is, indeed, uncertain. Many are injured or killed on the roads, others must be destroyed but for others the ending is a happy one. Homes are found for them.

For the city, of the 68 dogs which were impounded, 34 were reclaimed by their owners. Basically, these were dogs who had collars and proper identification.

When a dog is impounded, state law stipulates that it must be kept for five business days before it is put up for adoption or destroyed.

Both city and township officials say that if a stray dog is apprehended by the police, a first offender is taken to the owner, if the dog has proper identification, and a warning is issued. If there is no identification or the dog has been determined stray previously, it is impounded.

The police in Northville city and township transport the dogs to the Northville Veterinary Clinic. "The city and township use my facilities to house the animals," explained Dr. Thomas Hespil, owner of the clinic.

Anyone who has lost and wishes to reclaim a dog, does so through the municipality, which, in turn, works with Dr. Hespil.

Dr. Hespil said, "Their own (the owner's) identification on a dog is very important. It very often means that the dog can be returned to the owner very soon after it is brought in."

For Oakland County citizens, the stray dog situation is a little different. Dr. F. Hugh Wilson is the director of animal welfare for Oakland County. His division governs, he said, the Oakland County portion of Northville as well as the cities of Novi and Wixom.

According to Oakland County figures over 14,000 dogs were either picked up or given to the division in the whole county last year. Of those, about 11,000 were returned to owners, and 1700 were sold, or adopted.

Dr. Wilson pointed out that the Oakland County animal welfare division also handles the rabies control program for the health department.

"For the state of Michigan in 1972," he said, "there was a record low of rabies. Only nine cases were lab confirmed and one of those nine involved a dog."

He attributed it to the state dog licensing act which requires a dog to have a valid vaccination, and added that a dog does not leave the pound in Oakland county unless it has had a vaccination.

The biggest interest, Dr. Wilson said, "is with humans who are bitten and there is a danger that the animal might have rabies."

In some cases, or so it would seem, it is the dogs who suffer by being permitted to run uncontrolled. In others, it might be a human being.

Millionaires

Party Slated

A millionaires party, sponsored by the Walled Lake Jaycees, will be held at 7:30 p.m., on Saturday, February 10, in the UAW Local 36 Hall. The hall is located on Wixom Road, near the Ford Wixom Plant.

This year, the organization reports, there will be more games and prizes than in any previous year.

All of the proceeds from the party will be used for Jaycee-sponsored community programs such as the Fourth of July fireworks, Memorial Day parade, Easter egg hunt, Lakeland Athletic Association and the Walled Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

Tickets will be made available at the door on the evening of the party, or they can be purchased by contacting Dan Sykes at 624-4912.

480 Sign up for YRS

More than 480 students have been enrolled in Northville Public School's experimental year round school program for 1973-74.

According to Miss Florence Panattoni, director of the voluntary program, 317 new applications for students in grades kindergarten through eight have been received since January.

Deadline date for enrollment is next Thursday, February 15. The last information center will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, February 14, at Amerman Elementary School.

Of the 170 students enrolled in the program presently being conducted in grades kindergarten through five at Amerman, 164 have re-enrolled for next school year.

Miss Panattoni said four of the six children not continuing in the program are either moving from the school district or enrolling in parochial schools.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said that it "appears we will have enough students enrolled to run at least two sections at the elementary level and to expand the program to include grades six, seven and eight.

As of last Friday, 51 students had been enrolled for sixth grade, 44 for seventh and 33 for eighth.

Exactly which sessions or tracks will be used in the program next year will be determined after registration closes.

The tracks, which alternate 45 days of school with 15 days of vacation, begin July 9, July 30, August 3 and September 10.

Most popular section is that beginning July 30, which is the track presently in use. Least popular has been the session beginning September 10.

Spear commented that two tracks beginning July 30 may be used next year at the elementary level.

All elementary students in the program will be housed at Amerman, with sixth graders at Cooke Middle School Annex and seventh and eighth graders at the middle school.

He emphasized that students within walking distance of Amerman Elementary but not enrolled in the year round program would not be shifted to other schools.

Miss Panattoni said she has "been most impressed by the enrollment, especially the 63 new students in kindergarten."

National Science Foundation grant to aid in developing the program, Miss Panattoni stated.

Concerning federal and state funding of the year round program for another year, Spear said renewal of the federal grant "appears slim."

However, he explained that the state aid act for the current year includes the intent to fund experimental year round school programs up to $150,000 for the 1973-74 school year.

"All indications from Lansing," Spear continued, "are supportive of the fact that we will receive assistance we need to continue our experimental program."

He said Dr. John Porter, state superintendent of schools, has set up a meeting in March with Spear, the superintendent of Lansing schools, which are also running an experimental program, and Porter's extended school year staff.

Art Auction Set March 1

An art auction, the first of its kind in Northville, is being planned for Thursday, March 1, by the International Club and foreign language classes at Northville High.

The auction will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, 200 East Main Street. A preview of the art collection will take place from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. with the auction beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Fred Grossman of the Gallery Art Center in Berkley will offer for auction a collection of original oils, watercolors, etchings, lithographs, woodcuts and sculpture.

Artists represented will include Picasso, Chagall, Miro, Dali, Buffet, Peter Max, Gropper, Vasarely, Edna Hibel and many others.

Art will range in price from $5 to $500, and each picture is framed.

Admission to the art auction is $1. A door prize, which is a painting, will also be awarded. Proceeds from the evening will be used to help finance student travel abroad this spring.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting a student representative or calling 425-6711. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Swim Finals Tomorrow

Seven teams will compete in the 1973 Michigan Community College Athletic Association swimming and diving championships on February 9 and 10 at Schoolcraft College.

Preliminary events each day get started at 10 a.m. Finals on Friday will begin at 7 p.m., and on Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

The field includes Schoolcraft, Henry Ford, Oakland-Auburn Hills, Genesee, Kellogg and Kalamazoo Valley community colleges, and Grand Rapids Junior College.

"Auburn Hills is a slight favorite over defending champion Grand Rapids. The host Schoolcraft squad is also capable of taking the crown.

Diver Allen Doering of Grand Rapids, state and national champion in the one and three meter events, will defend his titles. Another returning champ is Schoolcraft's Karl Sjogren who took the 200, 500 and 1,650 yard freestyle races last year. Steve Leclair of Schoolcraft will also be strong in the distance freestyle.

She commented that "year round school has been one of my most joyful experiences in education. Staff members, principals and parents have been most cooperative."

Currently, she is looking at educational programs for next year. Innovation and individualization will be emphasized at the sixth, seventh and eighth grade levels, as they are in the elementary grades this year.

Individualization of math in kindergarten through grade eight will be built into the program. The district will also be applying for a
