FRIDAY'S the last day to register children in Northville Public Schools' voluntary experimental program. Students eligible to register are those who will be in grades kindergarten through eight during the 1973-74 school year. For further information, contact the school board office, 349-3400.

TO BECOME better informed on Northville city-township annexation residents of Highland Lakes are invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in Highland House. It is sponsored by Highland Lakes Women's Club under chairmanship of Mrs. Sheldon Kelley and will feature explanatory talks by Frank Ollendorff, Northville city manager; and Robert Adams and Mark Lysinger, spokesmen for the opposition.

"WE MIGHT have to censor the ordinance itself," laughed City Manager Frank Ollendorff in noting that wording of sample ordinances from other Wayne County communities governing pornography leave nothing to the imagination. The council directed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to study the ordinances and recommend a local law on operation of massage parlors, topless go-go dancing, X-rated movies, adult books stores, etc.

'Tax Relief' Tops GOP Meeting

Property tax relief matters will highlight a meeting tonight (Thursday) as Representative Robert Geake of Northville speaks to the Greater Northville Republican Club.

The 8 p.m. program will be held in the Northville township board offices on Main Street.

According to Ed Hodge, club president, the state representative will talk about the prospects of property tax relief in the current session of the legislature.

"The tax relief question is timely," said Hodge, "and is a matter of concern for taxpayers. Bob Geake will also review for the group the Governor's proposal for education financing."

Geake, a resident of Northville, is a freshman representative serving the city and township of Northville as well as neighboring Livonia.

City Council Set to Resign If Unification Succeeds

If Northville township is annexed to the city of Northville, the city's five-member council has declared it will resign and call for a special election.

The announcement was made this week on the heels of the State Boundary Commission ruling in favor of unification of the two local governments.

"As far as the city's concerned," stated Mayor A. M. Allen, "We've got to figure that the township will become a part of the city on March 31. That's the date set by the state for annexation.

"It's our responsibility to prepare for this possibility. We owe it to the people of the city and township to inform them on details of the new city.

"I'm fully aware that there probably will be an election. But if there isn't, or if the people vote to unify, then we must plan for the future," said Mayor Allen.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff said he was prepared to submit his resignation to the new city council so that it might be free to select its own manager.

"But I'll be a candidate for the post," he quickly added.

Joining Mayor Allen in the pledge to step aside so that a special election could be called to give all citizens of the enlarged city of Northville an opportunity to run for council are: Paul Folino and Kenneth Rathert, both with terms ending next November; and David Biery and Paul Vernon, whose four-year terms run until November, 1974. Mayor Allen's term ends this November.

Under the ruling issued January 31 by the State Boundary Commission the entire 17-square-mile township area becomes a part of the city of Northville on March 31, unless petitions calling for an election in either or both the city and township are filed by March 14.

Petitions are currently being circulated in both the city and township.

"Naturally, the council's had to think about what might happen in the event of unification of the total community," City Manager Ollendorff noted.

He said that under the provisions of the city charter councilmen can resign and the clerk can call for a special election within 60 days to fill the vacancies.

In such an event qualified citizens of both city and township portions of the new city could run for election to the new city council.

The township has a population (minus institutionalized residents) of about 9,000 with 4,406 registered voters, while the city's population is 6,000 with 3,071 registered voters.

(City Manager Frank Ollendorff takes a look at a combined city in story on Page 12-A, and Mayor A. M. Allen's views are discussed in Speaking For The Record, Page 10-A).

"TREMENDOUS TURNOUT"—VFW and Northville Historical Society members were ecstatic over the "tremendous turnout" for the benefit dinner-dance held Thursday at the Thunderbird Inn. More than 550 persons attended the benefit, which some said was the largest single gathering of Northville residents in memory. Purpose was to raise money for restoration of historical buildings on property recently donated by the Ford Motor Company to the city. See Jean Day's "In Our Town" for details.

Highland Lakes Elementary

Only One New School OK'd

Bond issue for construction of an elementary school in Highland Lakes and a middle school on Bradner Road will be placed before Northville School District voters in June Temporarily shelved by school board members Monday night was the construction of an elementary school in Northville Commons.

Construction of a 750-pupil elementary school in Highland Lakes was unanimously approved by trustees over the objections of Superintendent Raymond Spear who favored construction of elementary schools in both areas.

Trustee Andrew Orphan said he favored "going for no elementary schools (in June)." Orphan said he did not believe the growth of the elementary school population by 1974, tentative date for opening of the school, would warrant the need for the school.

However, Orphan voted for building the school "because the increased cost of constructing the same school at a later date and the cost of busing students (from Highland Lakes to other schools in the district) seems to balance out."

Architects told board members that estimated construction cost of the 750-student school this year would be $1,782,800. Cost of constructing a 500 student school next year would be approximately the same, due to increased cost of labor and materials.

A population projection conducted by Spear showed that by the 1974-75 school year, elementary enrollment will reach 1,850. Present building capacity is 2,000.

Even though the new school would not be needed until the 1975-76 school year, Spear questioned what the district would do in the case of "an unexpected enrollment increase or weather problems or construction labor disputes?"

He noted that construction of an additional elementary school or schools would allow

Township OKs Ambulance Bid

General Ambulance was unanimously awarded a contract Tuesday night to provide ambulance service for the township and city of Northville.

Action taken by township trustees paralleled that taken last week by city councilmen.

The contract is to be retroactive to January 17, the day General Ambulance began operating in the community.

Only bid received by the township Tuesday was from Superior Ambulance Service, which asked for a station to house equipment, paid utilities, subsidy of $30,960 per year (decreasing after 25 calls per day) and a basic ambulance fee of $35. A similar bid was submitted to the city council last week.

General, which had made its proposal to the township and city in December, asks a subsidy of $3,600 annually (estimated cost of providing rent free quarters for men and equipment). Basic ambulance fee is $35.

$73,000 Spent Here on Lottery

It's just a drop in the bucket compared to millions spent throughout the state in Michigan's new lottery, but the $73,000 of tickets sold in Northville is still a pretty big chunk of money.

Since the lottery began in November a total of 147,069 50-cent tickets had been sold by the 13 agents in this area through February 6, The Record has learned.

That means lottery ticket buyers plunked down a total of $73,534.50 here for an average of better than $6,500 per week.

Looked at another way, the money is equivalent to nearly 1 mill of school taxes and more than 2 mills of city taxes.

Schoolcraft Surveys Gals On Careers

Ms. Nancy Dufour who heads the Women's Continuum Office (WCO) at Schoolcraft College has announced a district-wide poll of women to be obtained through response to a survey form which appears in this issue of The Record.

The College receives regular input from members of its Citizen's Advisory Committee on the Career Needs of Women, but through the survey hopes to enable more women to share in the planning. A major concern of the office is the offering of desired or needed educational programs and services at times and in the places most convenient to women.

"Through the effort of the Citizen's Committee, the College has instituted a number of changes which make the school more attractive to mature women," Ms. Dufour said. She cited the establishment of the office she heads, the removal of formal admission testing, the establishment of a Day Care Center, and explanation of the Human Potential Seminar which assists women in identifying their strengths and goals.

Ms. Dufour welcomes comments in addition to the completed survey forms and makes a special plea for wide participation. She hopes all concerned women will complete the form and return it to her at the Women's Continuum Office, Schoolcraft College, Livonia 48151.

"With a wide response to our survey we will be able to better evaluate the overall needs and interests of women in the College district and hopefully, do a better job of serving these needs," she said.

TOTALING UP— John Burkman (left) computes total funds resulting from the benefit dinner dance, while Mrs. Leonard Klein and Mike Utley look on. In all, 555 individuals turned out February 8 to benefit the Mill Race Historical village renovation.

Burkman is president of the Northville Historical Society and Utley is Commander of VFW Post 4012. The two groups co-sponsored the benefit. Mrs. Klein was dance chairman for the Historical Society.

Jaycettes Set Babysitting Class

Tuesday, March 13, is the opening date of the third annual Babysitting Clinic sponsored by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary. The classes will be held for six consecutive Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Cooke Middle School.

The clinic is open to both boys and girls in grades six, seven and eight. Applications were handed out in Northville Schools to students in those grades on Monday, February 12. The deadline for registration is Thursday, March 1.

There is a 50 cent registration fee for all students attending the sessions. Each participant in the clinic will receive a folder of information pertinent to babysitting.

According to the Jaycee

Auxiliary, a number of speakers will be on hand at the sessions to inform the student about various aspects of babysitting.

For Mothers, Kids

Plans Workshops

Once again, the Creative Day Nursery has announced that it will offer Creative Activities workshops for children two-and-a-half to five years of age and their mothers.

According to the nursery directors Mrs. Ellen Wahi and Mrs. Ann Stasinos, the workshops which have been held in the past have drawn responses such as, "We've turned off the television and turned on to all kinds of things to do with our children that had seemed too much trouble before."

The next workshop is scheduled to be on Tuesday, February 27, and will run for eight weeks. It will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Mrs. Wahi and Mrs. Stasinos said they have designed the workshops to show mothers and pre-

The first session is concerned with infant care and the speaker will be a registered nurse. Mrs. Co-operative Nursery will talk about pre-school child care at session number two. The title of the third session will be fire safety taught by Lieutenant Louis Westfall of the Northville police and fire departments.

A representative from the Livonia Police Auxiliary will teach mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at session number four.

An examination on all of the areas taught will be given at the fifth session, and at the sixth, certificates will be given to all participants who have attended the sessions and passed the examination.

Reservations to attend the workshop may be made by contacting Mrs. Wahi, 349-2161, or Mrs. Stasinos, 476-1810.

For information or applications, interested persons are urged to contact Mrs. Sam Hall at 349-6593 or Mrs. Harvey Tull at 349-0635.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

WHEN THE BAND plays on past the scheduled 11:30 p.m. closing and partygoers linger as late as 1:30 a.m. you know the event's a success. That's what happened at the Northville Historical Society-VFW benefit for the Mill Race Restoration last Thursday at the new Thunderbird-Hilton.

By all counts the first major fund-raising for the restoration of the old library building and the Greek revival house, already moved to the Mill Race on Griswold Street, was a success. The 550 tickets sold brought out a wide cross-section of the community and helped raise a total of $2,800 for restoration work.

Northville Historical Society President John Burkman announced the total Monday, listing the dance and raffle as bringing in $2,500. In addition, many who couldn't attend gave donations, which increased the total by $300.

Contributing to the fun of the evening was the music (much of it from the forties) played by the 16-piece Ambassadors of Good Will of Ann Arbor. The group of professional musicians plays for pay on weekends, but makes a practice of donating its services for good causes, Myron Utley, Commander of Northville VFW Post 4012, explains. The Post and Auxiliary arranged for its appearance, paying only a $25 cost fee.

Enroute to Ann Arbor Monday to help with a party at the veterans' hospital there, Utley added that he knew of the band through his volunteer work. It practices at the hospital where the recreation director is a member. The VFW also made arrangements to purchase the five major prizes at cost from local merchants for the raffle. The 49 smaller gifts, Utley pointed out, all were donated by local businesses.

First prizewinner of the Chapparral 340 Firebird snowmobile, Joan Hoffman, is corresponding secretary of the historical society and the wife of Jack Hoffman of The Record, a past president of the society. Other local winners of the major prizes are the John Frews, the deacon's bench, for their Early American-furnished home; and Leonard Klein, the unicycle. The latter is the husband of Ruth Klein, dance co-chairman for the society with Wallace Nichols of the VFW.

Since the Klein daughters already are grown, he immediately accepted an offer to sell it—and with the proceeds bought the band a round of drinks.

When it was announced that other prizewinners were from as far away as Wixom and Wayne, it was apparent that many husbands had sold tickets widely. In addition to selling dance tickets, Mrs. Klein's committee sold 759 raffle tickets with Mrs. Fred Harper's 150 sales the top. It was estimated that 2,000 were sold, more than 400 of them at the event.

Mrs. Klein added that "new neighborhoods, such as the Bradner Road area, came out in full support of the benefit. Mrs. Frank Jones sold 58 tickets to neighbors and friends. The event also was well supported by Northville State Hospital staff with Mrs. Rahsan Anisoglu arranging for a large group to attend. Mrs. Frank Ollendorff gathered together a group of 38 of the area's younger couples.

Signs on the tables reserving them were replicas of the Mill Race Greek revival house—and were the creative work of Alan Berry, a member of the society.

Finally, while Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II were unable to attend as honor guests of the benefit, they did send regrets. One of Mr. Ford's male secretaries phoned Mrs. Burkman last week to explain that they had to be out of town.

"THE SPRING FLING" is the title for the annual dinner dance given by Northville Mothers' Club. It is scheduled for Saturday, March 10, at Meadowbrook Country Club. The club is hoping that all the Northville residents who had such a good time at the historical society benefit will want to repeat the dancing evening next month.

Mrs. George Murany is dance chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ronald Horwath. The bright yellow reminder-of-spring tickets will be available from them or from any club member.

The evening will begin, Mrs. Murany announces, with cocktails at 6:30 p.m., then continue with dinner at 7:30 p.m. and dancing until 1 a.m.

THIS FRIDAY Northville Woman's Club members will take a sentimental journey back into club history through the pages of the club's record books. Commenting on highlights during the club's 80-year existence will be Mrs. Paul Beard. Mrs. H.O. Evans will accompany with tunes of the times. A sing-along to make the transition between eras is planned.

Mrs. E.M. Starkweather, club historian, has been assisting with a display of costumes from the past. Many of these have been given to her by

Savory Chicken Oriental.....A relaxing Dinner for Two

Dinner for Two

Sunday's Special

Come Sunday evening, you and your husband deserve an easy, relaxing supper for two.

After the children have all been fed, send them off to do their homework. Then select a favorite record for the stereo, and light a colorful candle or two. Plan to serve supper on a card table by the living room window or on tray tables by the fireplace.

Thanks to interesting new food combinations and foreign-inspired cookware, you can even select the nationality of the meal.

The traditional Oriental wok, for instance, once available only in heavy utilitarian metal, has blossomed out in bright beautiful enamelware that can be brought right to your Sunday night table.

And with Birds Eye Rice and Peas with Mushrooms, your basic kitchen preparation is already done for Savory Chicken Oriental. The chicken can be diced cooked chicken or canned boned chicken. Serve this entree with a mixed green salad and an oriental tea. The entire meal can be prepared in about 30 minutes.

Such an easy and attractive menu is too good to be kept just for Sundays. Keep the makings in freezer and on shelf to make any weekday luncheon a little special.

Savory Chicken Oriental

1 can (8 oz.) water chestnuts
1 package (7 oz.) frozen rice and peas with mushrooms
1 can (5 1/2 oz.) boned chicken
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soy sauce

Drain water chestnuts, reserving liquid; slice. Combine with remaining ingredients and reserved liquid in medium saucepan. Cover and bring to a full boil over medium heat, stirring occasionally. Then reduce heat and simmer 8 minutes. Makes 3—1/2 cups or 3 servings.

Unification
Is Topic
For AAUW

Unification of Northville and Northville township will be the subject of the first of four informal "fireside" meetings scheduled by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m., on Thursday, February 15, in the home of Mrs. David VanHine, 556 Langfield. Any city or township resident interested in attending the meeting may call Mrs. VanHine 349-3015 or Mrs. David Olgren, 349-6432, for further information.

Mrs. Kent Mathes and Mrs. William Dayton, members of the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters, will explain, in detail, a two-year consensus study conducted by the League which supports city and township unification by annexation.

League members, using the results of this study, have previously testified before the State Boundary Commission and have been explaining their findings to a number of Northville civic groups since April, 1972.

These four "fireside" meetings, which are being held in lieu of the regular monthly meeting, will deal with different topics of current community interest.

The three other meetings will be held in Plymouth, Plymouth township and Canton township. They will deal, respectively, with the following: the proposed Plymouth Recreation Authority; the Michigan Heart Association; and the future growth and development potential of Canton township.

Nursing Home Emphasizes Therapy Through Activity

The Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, met recently at the home of Mrs. George Kohs. The social chairman was Mrs. R. R. Long who was assisted by Mrs. Rahsan Anisoglu, Mrs. Richard Dales and Mrs. Harold Nofz.

John Gerwulf and Mrs. Barbara Warrick of the Beverly Manor Convalescent Center in Novi presented the program.

Gerwulf stressed the importance of a meaningful activity program which is an integral part of the resident's life in the center. Mrs. Warrick explained how she involves residents with varying degrees of ability in activities.

The Northville Branch composers were principally black. He mentioned that one composer, Eubie Blake, now 90 years old still is playing. Albright played his "Charleston Rag," written in 1899.

All area benefits have been receiving outstanding support from the community. Mrs. Thomas Lovett called this week for the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, DAR, to report that the Early American tea held last Thursday afternoon to help provide an American Indian nursing scholarship netted $568 with donations. More than 200 attended the tea and saw needlework demonstrations.

A big assist, she adds, was given by younger members of the community. Dressed in Early American costumes, Pam Hove, Katy Brown and Paul Lovett aided the committee. The prize of an afghan, made by Mrs. R. F. Coolman, was won by another Northville resident, Mrs. A. W. Heath.

Northville Band Booster Parents report that the benefit card party the end of January netted almost $300 for the fund to help send the Northville High band to summer band camp for a second year.

Northville families for keeping and will later be on display in the Northville Historical Society buildings. Items include a tiny, hand-tucked christening gown, a fringed black silk shawl, an elaborate black silk coat and wasp-waisted dresses.

Table centerpiece will be a plush family Bible loaned by Mrs. Beard from the Walker family. It was her paternal grandfather's, and, she notes, even incorporates a mirror on the decorated top. Mrs. Kenneth Pickl is chairman for refreshments to follow.

When club members entertain husbands at the annual men's night dinner program there are always two concerns—food and program. Northville Woman's Club didn't have to worry about either earlier this month.

After William Albright, a composer and professor at the University of Michigan school of music, entertained with a program of ragtime, it was the men who first rose to give him a standing ovation. Albright not only traced the development of ragtime through its styles and variations but demonstrated it expertly.

Albright pointed out that ragtime "bridges the gap between classical and folk-popular music" and that its

Hospital Romance
Leads to Marriage

A romance which began while she was a nursing student and he was an intern at Bronson Methodist Hospital, Kalamazoo, led to the December 30 marriage of Ronnee Jean Bell and Donald Edward Harrell. The Reverend Father John Wyskiel performed the ceremony at Our Lady of Victory Church.

The bride's parents are Mrs. Walter Wilczewski of 20133 Valley Road and Ronald Bell of Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Harrell of Lawton are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Walter Wilczewski. She wore a traditional white gown which was trimmed at the empire waist, hemline and sleeve cuffs with lace, and a Cathedral length veil. Her colonial bouquet was an arrangement of red roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Saima Clark of Northville was maid of honor in a royal blue velvet gown with empire styling and lace trim.

Thomas Harrell served as his brother's best man. The ushers were Ronald Harrell, and Jeff and Rick Bell.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Harrell have recently returned from a six-week wedding trip to California and are at home in Kalamazoo.

The bride is a 1968 Northville High School graduate and a 1972 graduate of Bronson Methodist Hospital School of Nursing.

Her husband graduated from Michigan State University and will graduate from the University of Michigan Medical School in June. He is presently completing his internship at Bronson Hospital.

Ten-Year Old Justina Kurin and Carleton Jackson Outside Jackson's Home Saturday

10-Year Old Girl 'Scout

She Saves Man From House Fire

A 10 year old Novi girl is credited with saving the life of an 83-year old Novi man in a house fire which occurred Thursday, January 25.

Heroine in the story, which did not come to the attention of The Novi News until last week, is Justina Kurin, a member of Girl Scout Troop 165 from Novi Elementary School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kurin of 228 Shamrock Hill.

Justina is credited with saving the life of Carleton Jackson, who was rescued from his burning home at 101 DeGross and rushed to Botsford Hospital where he was treated for smoke inhalation.

The story was reported by Justina's mother.

According to Mrs. Kurin, her daughter was out selling girl scout cookies door to door through the neighborhood the afternoon the fire occurred.

"She told me that she almost didn't go to the Jackson's house because she knew Mrs. Jackson wasn't home," reported Mrs. Kurin.

"When she knocked on the door and didn't get an answer, she looked through the glass window in the door. That's when she saw Mr. Jackson sitting at the kitchen table surrounded by flames and smoke."

Justina yelled to Jackson that she would be right back and then ran to the house of a neighbor - Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kotrich - for help.

Mrs. Kotrich called the fire department while Justina and Mr. Kotrich returned to the burning house and rescued Jackson from the flames.

As soon as the fire department arrived, they called for an ambulance and sent the 83-year old Jackson to the hospital to be treated for smoke inhalation. He was released later that evening.

Novi Fire Chief Duane Bell noted that the fire could have been "drastic" had it not been discovered in time. "The whole house would have gone," he said. As it was, most of the damage was confined to the kitchen.

Bell added that the fire had apparently started in a waste basket and spread to the curtains. "It was just starting to break into the attic when we arrived," he reported.

Repairs to the kitchen and attic are well underway and Jackson is safe and sound.

But, had it not been for the presence of mind of a 10-year old girl out selling girl scout cookies, the city might have experienced a tragedy.

School OKs Assessment For Taft Road Paving

If Taft Road is paved the Novi School District will share in its cost.

That surprising change of position became a reality Tuesday night as the board of education voted 6-0 to accept an assessment for Taft Road improvement.

Twice in the past two years, the board had rejected (not unanimously) an assessment.

The switch apparently was sparked by survey data showing voters favor such a position and by recent city-school cooperation.

Referring to the survey (see story on this page), Trustee William Moak indicated he was persuaded by public opinion to change his position and then moved to adopt the special assessment resolution prepared by the board's attorney. Secretary Ray Warren, who had argued unsuccessfully for acceptance of an assessment in the past, supported Moak's motion.

Payment of the yet undisclosed assessment is to come out of $100,000 in pay-back funds earlier granted the city for construction of the 11 Mile Road sewer arm to the high school.

Under the arrangement, the city was to repay this money upon collecting tap-in fees from those new users tying into the 11-Mile Road sewer line.

The Taft Road assessment resolution suggests that instead of repaying the school district the sewer monies the city should keep that amount charged against the school for road improvement.

The resolution specifically mentions the $14 per lineal foot earlier suggested as the front foot cost, but it does not tie the board to this figure. It could be less, trustees noted.

According to the resolution once the city approves and "undertakes to pave the portion of Taft Road from Grand River Avenue to 10 Mile Road, the City of Novi may begin, and is hereby expressly authorized to begin, to withhold, for use in such paving project, all monies which would otherwise be due and payable to the Novi Board of Education by reason of the collection by the City of Novi of such lateral accessibility fees, up to but not in excess of the amount of that special paving assessment hereinbefore expressly permitted and consented to by the Board of Education; provided, however, that should the amount of such fees so collected prove insufficient to pay said special paving assessment, the Board of Education shall have no further liability or obligation relative to any unpaid portion of such assessment."

Under the law the school board, unlike other property owners, is not obligated to accept a special assessment. However, Superintendent

Gerald Kratz last month reported that the consensus of

Survey Shows Needs

A recent Novi survey conducted for the Novi school system reveals that a majority of those interviewed favors acceptance of a Taft Road paving assessment by the school board.

Supervised by the county and conducted by Novi Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary members, the survey involved a sampling of 319 residents systematically selected by address and interviewed by telephone.

While 13-percent of those interviewed believed that the board should not pay the paving assessment, and 19-percent had no opinion, the remainder were evenly divided between recommending partial payment (31-percent) and full payment (32-percent).

Those advising full payment were evenly split between requesting special consideration, such as an extra strip in front of the school, and full payment with no extras.

Registered voters with children tended, more than the total sample to recommend partial payment (42-percent) or full payment (23-percent) with some special consideration.

There was no clear cut recommendation from the group of registered voters without children in the school or the non-registered with, or without, school age children.

In addition to the assessment question, residents were asked a number of other questions.

Asked what areas of the school system should be targeted for improvement, "discipline" was the largest single response coming from 21-percent of the total and 30-percent of the parents.

Near equal sixths of the parents wanted improved communication, better teachers, basic instruction, or vocational education selected as the "number one" target for improvement.

If money were no object, a third of those sampled would add a pool to the school facilities.

An analysis of sub-groups according to Superintendent Gerald Kratz, indicates that 43-percent of the parents, 20-percent of non-parents, 31-percent of the registered voters and 20-percent of those not registered to vote place a priority on a pool.

Also included on the "want list", in order of their desirability, were: community school program, more vocational education, more individualization, and better libraries and laboratories.

Parents placed individualization a distant

Bloomfield Fights Zoning

A capacity crowd of 800 people showed up at a public hearing in West Bloomfield Tuesday night to protest the rezoning of a 192-acre parcel to allow construction of a multi-million dollar shopping center, purportedly larger than Northland.

No action was taken by the West Bloomfield Township Board and the hearing was rescheduled for March 13 to allow for further study.

Opposition from the residents to the rezoning, however, was overwhelming. Of the 40 residents who spoke during the audience participation portion of the hearing, 38 were strongly opposed to having the shopping center located in their community.

Arguments against the center ranged in character from the resulting onset of crime brought in by a center to traffic problems to environmental concerns such as destruction of trees and loss of several species of birds peculiar to the area.

The median income in West Bloomfield is $22,000 presently and will go up to $32,000 by 1975. The feeling of the majority of the residents is that they didn't need the tax base, they want a rural setting in which to live.

According to one observer, the opposition to the center is greater than it was in Farmington. The Farmington opposition forced the developer—HTK Detroit Company—to abandon that location.

If the center does not go in West Bloomfield, it could well end up in Novi.

City Manager Edward Kriewall, who was present at the hearing, commented that in light of the overwhelming opposition he would be surprised if the zoning would go through. "Things are looking very positive for Novi," he said.

BeGole Seeks Police Help

Citing increased population and crime rates, Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole Monday presented the city council with a request for one additional dispatcher, two new police cars, and three new police officers.

All were needed in the present fiscal year, said the Police Chief.

In addition, BeGole informed the council that he would be requesting three more officers in July for the 1973-74 fiscal year. The six additional officers would bring the total strength of the city's police department to 24 men.

"With the additional personnel, we'll be able to bring the police department up to some level of efficiency," said BeGole. "As things are right now, we're barely able to keep our heads above water."

BeGole further noted that even with the requested increase, Novi would still be below surrounding communities in police strength when figured on a manpower per capita basis.

In making his request for additional officers, BeGole referred to the city's master plan for development of the police department prepared in 1970.

The crime rate, the amount of traffic, and the population have all increased in accordance with the projections set forth in the master plan, noted BeGole. "The only thing that hasn't grown in accordance with the master plan is the number of officers that would be required to handle the increased work load effectively."

"In the one square mile surrounding the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads, there is a greater population than in the entire city of Wixom which has an 11 man police force," stated BeGole.

"There is a terrific demand for police services in that one area alone," he added.

Under BeGole's plan, one new officer would be added to the traffic bureau as soon as possible with two more officers being added to the road patrol April 1.

Total cost of the three additional men for the rest of the fiscal year would be $4,000.

The three men that would be added in July would serve on the road patrol.

BeGole also asked the council for two new cars—one marked police car for conventional use and a smaller unmarked car for the use of the detective bureau.

Under the current allotment of cars, at no time during the daylight hours is there a car available for the chief, the traffic corporal, and two of the four detectives, noted BeGole.

Township to Fight Annexation

It appears likely that the question of whether or not Brookland Farms subdivision will be annexed to the City of Novi will be decided by an election of the subdivision's voters.

Two weeks ago, the State Boundary Commission approved the city's petition for the annexation of Brookland Farms.

According to state law, however, final decision on the annexation can be made by an election of the residents involved, provided that a valid petition requesting an election is circulated and filed with the Boundary Commission in Lansing by 25 percent of the registered voters.

Leo Kalotta, Novi Township Supervisor, announced Monday that petitions requesting an election were being circulated in accordance with the guidelines established by the Boundary Commission.

To be valid, the petition must be circulated not earlier than February 12 and filed with the Boundary Commission's Lansing office not later than 5 p.m. March 14.

Both the registered voters of the City and of the Township may petition for an election, but city residents are not expected to circulate petitions.

Should the township fail to come up with the signatures of 25 percent of its registered voters, the Boundary Commission's decision would stand unchallenged and the annexation of Brookland Farms to the city would become effective April 1.

If the required signatures are obtained, however, the Boundary Commission would set the date for the election. If 51 percent of the voters in the election are opposed to annexation, the Commission's decision would be overturned and Brookland Farms would remain Novi Township property.

In announcing that the Township Board had decided to circulate petitions, Kalotta said he didn't feel there would be any problem in obtaining the required number of signatures that would throw the issue into an election, but he would not make a similar statement regarding the outcome of the election.

"I would assume that the majority of the people would vote to remain in the township," he stated, "but I really don't know for sure how they'll vote."

"The Board has taken the position that the residents ought to have the right to vote on whether or not they'll be a part of the city or a part of the township."

"The Board also strongly feels that we don't want to be annexed," Kalotta continued, "but we'll let the citizens make up their own minds on the matter."

Taxation could prove to be the determining factor if an election does occur.

Presently, residents of Novi Township pay 1.5 mills, while city residents pay 6.5 mills to the city, an additional mill for roads, and half a mill for the library - a total of 8 mills.

Thus, by voting in favor of annexation, township residents would be voting themselves a tax increase.

The argument put forth by the city on the tax question is that the township is, in effect, "sponging" off the city. They enjoy the benefits of living in the city, it is argued, without having to pay for those benefits.

"I think the residents of Brookland Farms realize that they have a responsibility to share in the cost of building Novi," stated Mayor Joseph Crupi last week. "It just doesn't make sense for them to sit there by themselves and let their neighbors shoulder the financial burden of building the city."

In stating "the Township

Board's opposition to the annexation, Kalotta accused the city of reneging on a contract drawn up at the time of incorporation in 1970.

"We turned over $40,000 worth of assets to the city under the Division of Assets agreement," state Kalotta, "and all we got in return was $1,000 and a five year contract for fire protection. It appears to us that the city is trying to break that contract by annexing us."

Kalotta also criticized the decision of the Boundary Commission in approving the city's annexation petitions. "They took away our tax base by allowing the city to annex the other parcels of the township," he said. "Once

State Fair's Theme For Amerman Class

It was "State Fair Day" last week Wednesday in the classroom of Amerman fifth grade teacher Raymond Balutowicz.

The project, which culminated a six week unit on the United States, included displays and booths for each of the 50 states.

Each student gathered information for two states, Balutowicz explained. It's the second year he's conducted the fair, he said, noting that the students "seem to learn more this way than if they just wrote a report.

"It's a different type of activity and they really enjoy it," he said.

Included in the booths were travel brochures, state product samples, such as pineapple from Hawaii and potatoes from Idaho, and other information.

Guests at the fair were students from other upper elementary grades at Amerman.

For Wixom Patrolman

Deny Police Request

For the second time in three weeks, Chief George Von Behren Tuesday made an unsuccessful attempt to increase his Wixom Police force by one patrolman.

The first try, made at the January 22 city council meeting, was tabled because only four of the six councilmen were present to discuss and vote on the matter.

This week the Wixom council brought the issue to a vote and the request of the chief was denied by a 2-3 split. Councilmen Howard Coe and Gunnar Mettala voted for the additional man, while Robert Dingeldey, Fred Morehead and Mary Parvu cast the voted 'no'.

Councilman Val Vangieson was not present. VonBehren told the council that, in the course of the past year, the police department answered a total of 2244 calls. "That does not include things like accidents and assists which the officers stumble on during their time out on the road," he explained.

VonBehren used a chart of the number of calls during three month periods of the year to emphasize his point. The numbers gradually increased from 448 in the January to March period to 641 calls in the October to December period, he said.

"Usually, the number goes down later on in the year. As you can see," the chief told the council, "it is not decreasing. Any way you cut the year up, it is getting busier. Considerably."

To impress upon the Council, the complete duties of the officers on the force, VonBehren pointed out that on Tuesday alone, seven of the 10 officers in Wixom were at court. "The officers involved had to be there and other men had to be on duty to take their places," he explained. In a letter he prepared for the members of council, VonBehren stated in the past two years only two officers were added to the force to

Chefs to Share Drawbridge Roles

"When you spend close to a million dollars to develop one of the finest establishments in the state you must have the best chefs money can buy."

With that statement Thursday, Paul Fregolle, president of the corporation owning the new Drawbridge Restaurant in Northville, announced two world-renowned chefs will be in charge at the restaurant when it opens in the spring.

The two, who Fregolle said are "among the world's finest chefs", are Leopold K. Schaeli of Zurich, Switzerland, who will serve as executive chef and manager, and John Vanderwouw, a native of Holland.

Schaeli is vice-president of the Drawbridge corporation.

A linguist speaking five different languages, he has won many trophies and awards for his culinary achievements, including the gold medal and silver cup for exhibition platters at Horeca (hotel and restaurant) International Exhibition in Holland where 17 nations participated.

Schaeli also won first and second prizes for the classical exhibit at the United Nations Dinner Exhibit. Last year he won two awards in the culinary art show at Cobo Hall for his classical and buffet showpieces.

He has worked in gourmet restaurants throughout Europe.

Vanderwouw was a silver medal winner in the Culinary Olympics in Frankfurt. He is a member of the American Culinary Federation, and he is executive president of the Rochester Culinary Club of New York.

He has been an executive chef in Switzerland, Austria and even on the USS Holland-American Lines. Vanderwouw was also the grand prize winner of the Austria Chefs de Cuisine Association held in Rochester, New York.

"The question has been asked," said Fregolle, "how two great chefs can work together, both having special stature in their fields. The answer is 'excellently'. They are close friends, and they are determined to combine their abilities and responsibilities in making the Drawbridge a successful operation."

According to Gerald Harris, officer in the restaurant corporation, a trophy case exhibiting the awards of the two chefs will be built in one of the entranceways.

Although he is reluctant to predict when the restaurant will open, Harris said it appears the dedication will take place next month followed by a general opening late in March or early April.

The restaurant will be located in what formerly was the Methodist Church. It is being completely remodeled and refurnished, carrying out an Old English theme throughout. However, the owners have been careful to preserve much of the old interior woodwork.

of the Food Service Executives Association. At right is Leopold Schaeli, who will be the executive chef and manager of the Drawbridge.

Wrestler Pins Homemaker Award

By MARTHA ROEMER

Tom Wilkins, a Novi High School varsity wrestler, has been named the school's 1973 Homemaker of Tomorrow award winner.

His father, Robert W. Wilkins, admits "it is unusual for a boy to win the award," and Tom said he didn't expect it.

The annual scholarship contest is sponsored by General Mills and was opened this year for the first time to high school senior boys as well as girls. Tom was selected on the basis of a test taken in December.

"It seemed like just another test," Tom said. "We've been taking a lot of college tests this year, and when they (school counselors) said I was eligible to take it, I did. There were both guys and girls there taking the test, so I didn't think anything of it."

In recognition of the award, Tom will receive a specially designed award from General

Mills and the results of his test will be included in the judging for the Betty Crocker State Homemaker of Tomorrow title. The state award is a $1,500 college scholarship for the winner and a $500 scholarship for the second-ranking student.

"The questions on the test involved family life and family relations, mainly. There were a couple of cooking questions, and I'm sure I got those wrong," Tom said.

When asked whether or not he had taken cooking classes or had cooking experience, Tom said, "The extent of my cooking is limited to having to cook my own breakfast when there's no one else to do it." A total of 665,600 seniors were enrolled nationally in this year's search for the award winners. In regard to the inclusion of boys in the program, General Mills said, "While, historically, the feminine homemaker has usually exerted the major influence in shaping the home, more teamwork between husband and wife has long been the ideal. That is why high school senior boys as well as girls are now eligible to join the Betty Crocker Search with full opportunity to earn scholarships and, hopefully, gain the other educational benefits of participation."

Tom said of the State title "it doesn't seem likely that I would win it." If he should, Novi High School would receive a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America", from the Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

State winners, then, will take an all-expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Virginia.

At the present time, Tom plans to join the Army "sometime in July."

Would he enjoy being placed as a cook in a mess hall? "No. I hope that's not where they would put me."

By SALLY BURKE

Who knows what downtown Northville might look like in the future?

Nine Northville High students do.

They're currently working on drawings of what they envision stores on Main and Center streets will look like in a few years if their project is accepted.

"We want to keep the store fronts in a colonial design," Chris Johnson, coordinator of the project, commented.

Chris, who's a senior in the second year architecture class at Northville High, works closely with Arnold Anderson, class instructor.

The students are doing all of the work themselves," Anderson emphasized.

The project was initiated by Mike Hunt, a member of Northville's Beautification Commission.

The students liked the idea, Anderson said, and decided to try their hand at redesigning the area. "It presents an added challenge to the course," he added.

Chris explained the students feel "It's really something we can get into, something that could actually be done in the future."

When completed, the project will be presented to the Beautification Commission and the Northville City Council. If the city council seems interested, Anderson said he will have next year's class work out detailed drawings.

Each student is responsible for a section of the buildings along the street.

And, although each works with his own ideas in mind, the plans will be unified with an "awning" over the sidewalks and "indented" parallel parking spaces formed by extensions of sidewalks into the street. Tree plantings are also planned for placement on the extensions.

Chris explained the students have been working on the project "for about two weeks. We've taken slides of the downtown area as it now looks and we're working from those."

The slides are projected onto a screen, with students tracing the outline of the buildings, window and door placement in order to the right perspective of the building.

Ideas which the class hopes to incorporate into the downtown area plan include removing all signs which hang over the sidewalk, replacing them with signs flush with the buildings themselves, and mullions in windows to give the appearance of individual panes of glass.

The students realize, however, that cost plays an important factor in acceptance of their plans and they are trying to keep major renovations to a minimum. Chris said that in many cases, paint may be the answer to some of the changes they suggest.

Another idea students hope to incorporate in the plan is removing the parking lot on the south side of East Main Street near Northville Drugs. They would like to turn the area into a park.

"There's plenty of parking in other areas downtown and the parking deck would still be accessible (from Mary Alexander Court)," Chris explained.

Back entrances to stores on Main Street will also be included in the plans. "Many of the shoppers park behind the stores and use those entrances," Chris added, "and we'd like to give the back entrances a colonial look, too."

Another thing the students are attempting to do is have the front of each individual building in a unified design, "whether or not the building contains more than one store," Chris said.

The class hopes to complete the project in May and then present it to the Beautification Commission and City Council.

Chris said they will provide the city with a complete set of architectural drawings of the downtown area, showing the area as they envision it and also the ideas for the individual stores.

Slides will also show the stores as they currently are and how they could look. The presentation will have the old and new side by side.

Does he believe the idea will ever be put into practice?

"We think the changes can be made without too much cost," Chris said "It would be nice to see it happen, knowing the design was ours."

WMU Grants Degrees

A total of 1,908 Western Michigan University students have won scholastic recognition by being named to the university's dean's list for the recent fall semester. Included were seven students from the Northville-Novi area.

To win the honor, a student must have taken at least 14 hours of class work and maintained a grade point average of 3.5 out of a possible 4.0.

The seven local residents on the dean's list are: Gregg B. Balko, Terry L. Hennings, Kathleen Newell, Karen second after the swimming pool, with more vocational education third. Non-parents were less likely to have opinions on this item, but a fifth wanted a swimming pool, another fifth would like a community school program.

"You can't cut anything," was the response of a third of the total sample and half of the parent sub-group to the request for suggestions of what to eliminate if the board must cut back on programs to stay within the budget. There was little agreement on what should be cut in the total or within any sub-group.

Even administrative costs, usually a favorite area to pare, was suggested by only one-seventh of those interviewed, according to Dr. Kratz.

Experimental programs, another frequent victim of budget reductions, were recommended for cutting by a 10th of the total but only by seven-percent of those who had children, he added.

A tax increase might carry if the eight-percent of the registered voters who answered "maybe" or "yes, but..." decide you vote with the 43-percent who would approve a 2 mill proposal, rather than the 28-percent who say they will vote negatively," Dr. Kratz told board members.

Four percent were unwilling to say how they will vote at this time and 11-percent had made no decision.

Difference between parents and non-parents on the millage question was within the margin for error, as was the difference between registered to vote and those not registered to vote.

Police, DPW Rated High

A two-year survey by Eagle Scout candidates of Northville residents reveals that city police and the department of public works are rated "very high."

Receiving more than 80-percent satisfactory or better comments were police patrol, snow removal from streets, special trash pickups, regular garbage collection, street signs, street lights, and water service.

More than 75-percent, the study shows, believed leaf pick-up and recreation programs are adequate or better.

Asked if a stricter dog ordinance and speeding law enforcement are desirable, a majority of citizens said they would like to see more work in both areas.

The survey was carried out by four Eagle Scout candidates under the leadership of Jerry Rotta, Troop 721 scoutmaster. Scouts Chris Rotta, Greg Pelto, Brent Hartshorne, and

When I learned that Mayor A. M. Allen and the four members of the Northville city council proposed to resign and call for a special election in the event of unification of the city and township so that all voters of the enlarged city might have a voice in selecting their officials, it reminded me that "events" more than time are responsible for change.

No one can predict positively the outcome of city-township unification, but whatever the result, you may be sure that change will be one of the by-products.

There's a new city hall at Main and Wing streets because President John F. Kennedy decided our nation's sagging economy needed an injection of matching federal funds for public works' projects.

North Center street is no longer a muddy two-path trail up the hill north of Baseline because the school district built a high school on top of that hill in the mid-fifties.

The gravel trucks stopped hauling at Manning & Locklin because somebody at Levitt & Son decided the site could be converted into a community of lakeside homes.

All of these changes might have taken place eventually. But a specific event triggered the change.

And unification will leave its mark, too.

It could be one city, as ordained by the State Boundary Commission; it could be two cities, as proposed by some who oppose annexation; it could be a splintering off as new events prompt neighborhood areas to go their separate ways.

But the change that came to my mind as the city council and manager announced their plans in accordance with the responsibility that might become theirs, was the possible exit from public life of Mike Allen.

This is Mike's twenty-fifth year in public office. He was elected to the old village commission in 1948 and to the city council when Northville was incorporated in 1955.

He was appointed mayor in April, 1958 when the city's first mayor, Pete Ely, died in office.

Mike's been running and getting elected every two years since.

It takes a certain kind of person to stay in public office and catch the flak that's impossible to dodge at the grass roots' level of government.

And when you draw $600 a year and devote an average of 20 hours per week to the job, you know the attraction can't be the money.

It has to be a labor of love.

And make no mistake, Mike Allen loves Northville.

Mayor Allen: He's Had 25-Year Love Affair With Northville.

He knows where every sewer line and water shut-off valve in the city of Northville is located.

The closest he comes to bragging is when he tells you that "me and Bud have laid plenty of feet of sidewalk and people are still walking on them."

Bud's the city's DPW director and fire chief. And Bud Hartner's another whole story. He's been working for the city for 27 years.

He started out as assistant DPW Chief in 1946 and when his boss, Dan Lafferty, died six months later, Bud took over and has been on the job ever since.

Under the old village form of government Mike was the commissioner in charge of public works. Naturally, he and Bud became fast friends.

An "event" that changed that routine was when the village incorporated into a city in 1955.

"I don't have as much to do now that we have a city manager," Mike points out. "But I talk with Frank (Ollendorff) every day and then there's always the citizens who want to talk directly to the mayor. So I figure with meetings and the rest, I still average about 20 hours a week."

Mike would like to have you believe that he's just a simple stonecutter. But those who have served with him on the council and have observed his slow, mild-mannered methods know that in his 25 years in office the 58-year-old mayor has learned a trick or two about politics, and an awful lot about his community.

Mike hopes very much that unification of the city and township will take place. He thinks it's right for the community. He's so convinced, he's willing to step down as mayor.

"I won't sign a petition for an election because when I go to a doctor I expect to follow his advice. I think the Boundary Commission members were professionals, like an architect or a doctor. And they've advised us to unify. So that's what I think we should do," the mayor says flatly.

"We can start all over with a new government, new people, but with the nucleus we've got. Why, we're not taking them over; township residents outnumber the city."

Mike Allen may never have to resign. Unification may never happen. But even if he does, I wouldn't bet a penny that he wouldn't run for office again.

It isn't easy to get a divorce after a 25-year-old marriage.

SHIRLEY BURGOYNE

YES . . .

Although the Grand Jury (a group of 13 to 17 layman or a Circuit Judge sitting as a one man Grand Jury) exists in Michigan it is hardly ever used for indictment purposes. The preliminary examination is used instead. Police, prosecutors and defense attorneys generally agree that the preliminary hearing which is conducted before a District Judge is faster, fairer, and more reliable. This is because (1) the preliminary hearing is conducted in front of a judge who is more expertise on matters of evidence and trial law than the average grand juror. (2) the grand jury allows illegal evidence that would not be permitted in the courtroom at the actual trial and the preliminary hearing does not (3) there is no good method to quash a wrongful indictment whereas an improperly conducted preliminary hearing is subject to review on appeal.

Most people who favor the Grand Jury, favor it for its investigative powers, against organized crime and gambling. While sounding desirable in theory, this practice actually is very inefficient and has a major disadvantage. Police agencies are much more efficient as they have the personnel and facilities for investigation of crime. Most often the investigative Grand Jury only hears evidence brought before it by the police agencies in its area.

Since the preliminary examination in District Court is far superior to the Grand Jury in charging persons with major crimes and crime investigation is most effective where performed by police agencies, the Grand Jury system should be abolished.

Speaking for Myself

Eliminate 1-Man Grand Juries?

TERRANCE JOLLY

NO . . .

The man grand jury system is an effective and efficient tool for the investigation of certain types of criminal activity. The grand jury system is not restricted by municipal boundaries as is a local law enforcement department nor is it restricted by available revenue for the investigation of organized or public criminal activity.

The grand jury system provides law enforcement with the right to summon witnesses, financial records, and potential defendants to determine certain criminal activity over a given period of time. The threat of contempt citation and/or the power to grant immunity from prosecution enables the grand juror to develop willing witnesses. Without the above powers most witnesses would refuse to testify to known and unknown criminal activities, corruption and associations.

Grand jury proceedings are, of course, secret proceedings. The grand juror therefore is allowed to probe freely with little concern of losing potential witnesses or of premature disclosure of a pending investigation. At the same time appearances by witnesses, who are volunteering information to the grand juror, are protected from public disclosure.

To protect itself from abuses of the grand jury system, the public only requires that the individual to be appointed possess demonstrated integrity, be versed in the right of the public, and utilize a top notch law enforcement team of local police departments.

Explains Why He'll Resign

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is a letter sent to Mayor Allen, with a copy to The Record, by Councilman Paul Vernon. Like Vernon, all other city councilmen have indicated they will resign should unification of the city and township become a reality.

Honorable Mayor A.M. Allen
City of Northville, Michigan

Dear Mr. Mayor:

When I made the decision a number of years ago to become involved in affairs of government it was with a solemn pledge to always act in the best interests of the entire community. It was a privilege and an honor to be chosen by the voters of the City of Northville to serve on the City Council and to exemplify those beliefs.

Without selfish interests but with that same honest dedication I have supported efforts to unify the governments of the City and Township of Northville because they are one community. It is my considered opinion the recent decision of the State Boundaries Commission was wise and I will continue to work for its implementation.

However, the will of the voters of the City of Northville should not be imposed on the

"When you're hot, you're hot," I told her. "Run over to Ernie's and buy some Michigan lottery tickets!"

What other advice could I give the little woman when to her embarrassment she walked off with the grand prize—an $1100 snowmobile—at the VFW-Historical Society shindig Thursday at the Thunderbird Inn.

It was the kind of advice any intelligent, money-hungry husband would give a red-hot momma.

After all, the same wife a week earlier won a pretty afghan offered by the Northville Band Boosters.

And she's been a winner before.

But up until the afghan her biggest prizes had been a pair of original cartoons and a newspaper line gauge.

"Oh, I'm embarrassed," she moaned.

I figured it was the dress (or whatever) she was wearing. She'd gone out and bought herself one of those low-cut outfits with a "push 'em up" interior superstructure that had shocked her children and pleased her husband.

"Mother! If you wear that outside I'll simply die," one of her daughters had warned as the dirty old man hustled her out of the house.

Anyway, when she turned red and said she was embarrassed naturally I looked to see if the superstructure had sprung a surprise.

Seeing nothing that had not already caught my fancy, I tried to allay her fears. "Nothing's slipped or popped that I can see," I said. "Turn around and let me take a look at that zipper."

"Oh, it isn't the zipper or the dress. It's the snowmobile."

"Snowmobile? What's so embarrassing about a snowmobile. You've won the big prize. Smile. Be happy. Let's dance," I said, knowing full well she can't dance a lick.

And then she spilled it out:

"Do you know that when the (Historical Society) members voted on whether or not to have a dinner-dance everyone voted in favor of it but one person? And that the one person was me? That I said it would be a flop? And nobody would show up?"

"Look at the people, hundreds! And now I go and win the grand prize. It's embarrassing. Do you know what they're going to say at the next meeting?"

"Who cares," I said, "it's a big success,

Art-Essay Winners Announced

Winners in the historical preservation art and essay contest held in the Northville Schools and sponsored by the City of Northville were announced this week by Northville City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

"The Feelings of an Old House" was the title of the essay which won the $25 grand prize for Amerman third grader Melissa McDaniel.

A reconstruction of the Mill Race area won the $25 art prize for Moraine fifth grader Michelle Green.

Held in connection with Mill

Race Preservation Week (February 1-8), the purpose of the contest was to generate interest on the part of the Northville students in the historical village project located on Griswold Street.

In addition to the grand prize winners, $5 prizes were also awarded to outstanding entrants in the competition.

The essay winners, all fifth graders, were Karen Hauff at Moraine School, Dale Hawkey who is a student at Amerman and Tom Allen, a Main Street School student.

Awards of $5 were awarded to four students for their art work. Todd Lysinger, a Main Street School fifth grader, was recognized for the copper rubbing he submitted. Kevin Benet, also a fifth grade student at Main Street, won a prize for his paintings. Two sixth grade students, Robert Horner and Jim Kulha, received prizes for their woodcut paintings.

In her grand prize winning essay, here is how Melissa McDaniel expressed the feelings of an old house:

"I am an old house that was built a long time ago. Now they want to take me apart and burn all of my wood and destroy me.

"Over a hundred years ago, when the men built me, they didn't have fine tools that men have now, so a lot of people don't think I'm useful anymore. I have heard of a group of people that are interested in houses and are trying to save them.

"They move them to another place with other old houses using a big truck.

"I've been so lonesome since nobody uses me anymore. I think it would be fun going to that place and having people visit me again. People lived in me over a hundred years ago and it would be fun for modern people to see how they lived then.

"Here comes a big truck that moves houses. It looks like I'm going to be saved after all."

A panel of several judges, headed by Ollendorff, selected the winners.

VIP Participants Lauded

To the Editor:

The Northville Board of Education at its regular meeting held on February 12, 1973, made the decision to disband its VIP Committee and organize a new committee known as POST (Planning Our Schools Together).

The Northville Record has appropriately carried the story and the facts behind which the Board made this decision; however, this letter seems appropriately written as the most prudent vehicle for expressing the sincere appreciation of the Northville Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools for all efforts extended by citizens of this community who were involved and-or participated in activities of the VIP Committee since the establishment of that committee in 1968.

Many fine accomplishments have been incurred by the Northville Public Schools over the five years, many of which can be attributed to the actions and efforts of members serving on the Board's VIP Committee. For this service, we in behalf of the children, staff and citizens of the Northville Public Schools say thank you.

Sincerely,

Two Cheaper Than One?

To the Editor:

In the mail last week we received a separate envelope for each voting member of our family from Sally Cayley, township clerk. All had the same address and same last name.

It cost the taxpayer three or four times more than the eight cents it should cost to get voting information from her.

I'm glad Mrs. Cayley doesn't attempt to stretch my husband's pay check in her own unvarying way. She's the one who thinks two centers of government will be cheaper than one, isn't she?

"Absolutely not."

"Then let's go home and tell the kids."

Later, at home, after the kids were informed, she asked, "Do you love me, the dress or the snowmobile?"

"I'll take all three...but don't forget Ernie's...and, by the way, why don't we go to the Downs tomorrow..."

Thieves Get Power Tools

Novi...

An estimated $4,800 worth of power tools were stolen from the Timberlane Lumber Company during a breaking and entering last week.

The theft occurred between 6 p.m. Monday, February 5, and 8:30 a.m. the following day.

The manager of the Timberlane Lumber Company told police that during the night someone had broken into a building used as a construction area for building pre-fabricated walls and walked off with the power tools.

Stolen were three electric skill saws, three air-driven staple guns, and 10 air-driven nail guns. In addition, an unknown quantity of money was taken from a pop machine.

A three month old infant suffered a broken leg as a result of an automobile accident which occurred January 29.

The accident took place when a car driven by Thomas Reece Mauck, 23, of 11 Mile Road in Novi, slammed into a tractor-trailer rig driven by 44-year old Chico Toney of Detroit at the intersection of Novi Road and Grand River.

Toney told officers he was proceeding northbound on Novi Road through the green light when Mauck, east-bound on Grand River, failed to stop for the light and struck his truck behind the cab.

Mauck told officers the light was still amber when he attempted to pass through the intersection, but witnesses confirmed the report given by the truck driver.

Mauck, his wife, and their three-month old daughter and Toney were treated at Botsford Hospital. All except the infant were released shortly later.

Police issued Mauck a citation for failing to stop for a red traffic signal.

A 35-year old North Branch resident, Kent Valentine, was taken to Botsford Hospital with a broken nose following a one-car accident last week.

According to reports, Valentine was east-bound on South Lake Drive when he failed to negotiate a curve near Duana and knocked down four white barrier posts before striking and shearing off an Edison pole.

Valentine was issued a citation for improper land usage and was also arraigned on charges of being drunk in public.

Northville...

Quick action by Northville City Police officers resulted in the apprehension of a hit and run driver one minute after the accident occurred and before it had been reported.

According to reports, Patrolmen David DeLauder and Hugh Jordan were westbound on Seven Mile Road at 10 p.m. Thursday when they spotted a car eastbound on Seven Mile with damage to the left front. The front tire was also smoking.

When spotted, the car was driving over the center line of the road.

DeLauder and Jordan turned their vehicle around and pursued the car to Hines Drive where the car turned south. When emergency flashers were activated on the squad car, police said high lights on the car they were pursuing were turned off. The car was finally stopped on the east side of Hines Drive.

Meanwhile, a Detroit man reported to police that at 9:59 p.m. he was traveling northbound on Center Street when another car made a wide turn from the area of Northville Lanes and crossed over to his side of the road, striking his vehicle near Northville Downs and then driving south on Center Street.

Description of the vehicle involved in the accident matched the vehicle the officers had stopped, police said.

Arrested by police on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, drunken driving and driving with a suspended license was Roman A. Pawlowski, 37, of 15748 Maxwell.

Pawlowski stood mute when arraigned on the charges Friday in 35th District Court. He was released on $250 bond and will appear for trial Tuesday.

A passenger in the car Pawlowski allegedly struck sustained minor facial injuries.

Two Northville teenagers were hospitalized last Wednesday night after their car left Center Street and slammed into a tree north of Lake Street.

Police said the accident took place at 9:50 p.m. The 16-year-old driver was hospitalized with chest and arm injuries while his 15-year-old passenger was treated for neck, mouth and facial injuries.

Police are investigating the theft of a pair of binoculars, valued at $160, from a car parked at 531 Linden Court. Stolen February 2, the binoculars were marked with US Bureau of Ships' Navy.

Township...

Michigan State Police detectives are investigating a suicide which occurred sometime early Sunday morning at 18357 Jamestown Circle.

According to reports, Roy Eugene Lucas, 51, was found dead in the basement of his home by his wife about 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Detectives said he had been shot once and a gun was found near his body.

The theft of $200 worth of goods from a home at 50555 Eight Mile Road was reported to police last week.

Taken from the home were a kitchen sink, dining room table, metal cabinet, TV trays and two milk cans. The case is still under investigation.

Five juveniles were apprehended by township officers early last week after they broke into a home at 19534 Mann Court.

Police said the five, between the ages of 12 and 15, entered the home through a basement window. Once inside, they sprayed water on kitchen walls and broke a door latch. They were turned over to their parents, police said.

Also under investigation by township police is the break-in of a home at 18455 Sheldon Road near Thornapple.

The incident took place between 6 and 8:45 p.m. Thursday. It was still unknown Monday what items were stolen in the break-in.

Two of four persons stopped by township officers Saturday near Detroit House of Correction turned out to be wanted by other police departments.

Police said they saw a car on Five Mile near Ridge roads, traveling slowly on the shoulder. A woman said they had run out of gas.

While police were questioning the three women in the car, a man, who reportedly had gone for gasoline, returned to the car from the jail area.

A routine check showed a passenger in the car, Yvonne Riley of Detroit, 20, was wanted for parole violation and on an armed robbery warrant in Detroit.

Vrinniesse Perry, 21, also of Detroit, driver of the car, was wanted in St. Clair Shores on a traffic warrant. Police said she also was driving on an expired license.

The 22-year-old man was charged with trespassing by DeHoCo officers. Police said he had been released from the jail the previous day.

Wixom...

Jack Karell, a Wixom resident living at 2263 Nalone, is expecting another record any day now.

On Sunday morning, January 28, Karell went out on his porch only to find a number of 45-rpm records lying on his front yard.

The following day there were more records. More still on the day after that. And the day after that.

Between January 28 and February 2, Karell reported finding 43 45-rpm records on his front yard.

Karell turned his collection over to police last week, and officers have agreed to look into the matter.

An attempt to break into the Dealer Wholesale Company warehouse on Martin Drive last week apparently met with failure.

According to police reports, someone made an attempt to pry the lock off the door leading into the warehouse area. In addition, police reported, tire tracks indicated that a large truck had been pulled up to the door where the break-in attempt had been made.

The would-be thieves were unsuccessful, however. The lock was not broken and nothing was found to be missing.

The attempted breaking and entering occurred between 8 p.m. February 8 and 7 a.m. the following day.

Manager Outlines Tax Rate, Services

What Happens If City-Township Unite?

What would the new city of Northville be like if unification were to become a reality?

It would have a tax rate of not more than four mills and it would be operated by a blend of the existing city and township employees and officials.

At least that's the contention of City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who says he can back up his statements with facts.

The city manager and the five-member council announced this week that they would resign in the event of unification to permit citizens of the new city to elect and appoint its officials.

"But we recognize that some immediate steps and plans must be formulated so that the transition will be smooth and the people of both the city and township can know what to expect," said Ollendorff.

"Right now, with the current state equalized property valuations, I'm certain that four mills will be ample to provide the total community with services equal to those existing in the city," stated the manager.

"I'm not even counting federal revenue sharing, which actually amounts to more than one mill spread over the total community," he added.

As for employees, the manager said that the new city would need most of those now working for the township.

There probably wouldn't be positions for Supervisor Lawrence Wright and Treasurer Joseph Straub, although the services of the latter would be highly desirable during the transition period, Ollendorff noted.

Unlike the township, elected positions in the city pay very little.

The mayor, for example, is paid $600 per year, while the four council members receive $500 per year. The city council meets twice monthly on a regular basis with special meetings frequently sandwiched in between.

In the township the supervisor is paid $12,000 annually, the treasurer and clerk, $10,000 each per year, and the four trustees on the seven-member board $20 per meeting.

The city manager receives $18,200.

Manager Ollendorff sees the new city combining talents of most of the existing positions with a council elected from the total area, which in turn, he emphasizes, can select its own manager.

By combining the existing township police force (three, members) with the city department the new city could have 24-hour service with dispatching of the already-existing five cars. No additions would be needed, the manager stated.

Ollendorff pointed out that the township's planning and engineering consultants are excellent and could easily handle the total city's needs. The building department staff in the township, which experiences more activity than the city's, was also singled out by the manager as highly qualified.

"Obviously, there are some definite savings to be realized. Further expansion of the township's clerical or police department, as now proposed, would not be necessary, for example, to provide full service. Duplication in many of the consultant positions could also be eliminated," he added.

In the city most of the citizen-appointed commissions are unpaid. Nominal per-meeting fees are paid members of township commissions.

The manager noted that it would be necessary for the new council to select members from both the existing planning commissions, boards of appeals, review boards, etc., and blend them together in a combination representative of both areas of the unified city.

Last year's tax rate in the city was 10 mills ($10 per thousand dollars of state equalized property valuation). The new budget, currently being prepared by the manager, will call for a reduced rate of not over eight mills, Ollendorff stated. The reduction is due to reappraisal in the city which has increased overall property values by about 30 per cent.

So if the manager's predictions are valid, unification would mean a tax cut from eight mills to four in the city.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff — Reveals City Unification Plans... Just in Case!

The township pays one mill on its state equalized valuation. Thus the manager is saying that unification to the township taxpayer would mean an increase of three mills ($3 per thousand dollars of equalized valuation).

In Northville, township the average residential assessment is $18,000. So what can the average township taxpayer expect to receive for a tax increase of $54 annually?

"I've got a list of about 40 things, but some of them are pretty trivial. And who wants to listen to a long list anyway?", asks the manager.

"But, first off, I think it's important to know that the city provides free rubbish pick-up weekly and that once a month we send around crews to haul away larger items that residents want to discard."

The manager then listed:

—local round-the-clock police patrol with a minimum of three cars on duty dispatched by a police officer on desk duty;

—continued availability of state police and county sheriff cars upon request of city police;

—local official control of police activity;

—regular patrol of residential and commercial areas with special attention to homes where residents may be on vacation;

—regular street cleaning, monthly dust control, road grading, tree planting, weed mowing, etc.

—street lights, if and where desired, street signs and signals;

—snow and ice removal;

—probation department services;

—improved fire services in areas where needed.

"In my mind, another big plus for unification is the fact that a new municipal building will not be needed," the manager stated.

"Both the city and township and their citizen-appointed library commission have agreed that the library must seek larger quarters. The space now occupied by the library in city hall is more than adequate for our office space needs for the foreseeable future.

"There's been discussion that the library might be moved into the school-owned community building now occupied by the township," Ollendorff added.

Finally, the manager pointed out that the city's charter is patterned after the National Model City Charter as recommended by the National League of Cities.

"It's very adequate for an expanded city. But even if changes were needed, they can be accomplished by a vote of the people."

Northville's city manager, now in his seventh year in Northville, admits that he is enthusiastic about the prospects of a unified Northville.

"We have an excellent community with fine people and growth potential that needs coordinated planning and the watchful attention of a unified community. Things that happen in the township affect the city, and vice versa.

"It makes more sense in many ways, other than just economic, to work together," Ollendorff concluded.

Wixom Newsbeat: Buffet's A Hit

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Without a doubt, the monthly international buffet offering at the Vocational Education Center last week was the very best yet.

And it drew the largest crowd to date.

So large in fact, that service had to be extended to the student commons area to facilitate those waiting in line.

In an interview with Percy Williams, Career Opportunities Program Instructor and the man responsible for this buffet, I admitted being a little leary of the offerings. It was a question of whether I would be served "lady fingers", elephant tusks, giraffe steaks or chittlins...none of which offered much inspiration to my palate.

And Williams admitted that the students had much the same idea.

Africa and "soul food" to many means unasked questions and no answers.

The menu and its recipes presented its own special problems to the Food Services Department. Williams said it has been a personal project for three years to collect recipes from Africa with many areas yet to be covered.

African music, culture, hair-do's and dress have been making their mark on the American scene, but the food and its recipes are not to be found. Mr. Williams is trying to collect these recipes from every source available and hopes someday to put them in print.

For one thing I learned that most Africans are vegetarians. The tribes are usually involved in herding what cattle is available. The beef means money, therefore they are not killed. Methods available for killing large game, besides trapping, are not generally used, hence most of the people subsist on the vegetation. What food is prepared is generally highly seasoned because of the climate.

For the American plantation Negro, the "soul" in "soul food" meant long cooking and boiling with the use of much oil especially for deep frying. From those Negroes, especially in Louisiana, there is the use of much okra, tomatoes and again, highly seasoned. The stews are "slick" and heavy.

After this brief lesson in the background of African food I must say that the luncheon was far from "lady fingers". The food was colorful and absolutely delicious. And total participation from other departments within the Voc. Ed. Center was evident. The entrance to and from the dining room itself was artfully decorated by the students from the Advanced Display, and Horticulture and Floral Display departments.

The menu included such delights as shrimp trees with pilli-pilli sauce, African Guinea Hen, Rhodesian melon mold, and rice Bujambura. Among the salads were West African avocado and cabbage salad, cucumber sail boats stuffed with tuna and yam salad.

Breads included Ethiopian honey bread, South African green mealie bread and Farmer's rusks.

The bake shop on the "African Safari" offered such goodies as Chippolata from South Africa, Pineapple Delight from Ghana, Papaya Pie from East Africa and Banana Sweets from West Africa.

Offerings from the "Soul Express" included orange-glazed candied sweet potatoes, Southern fried chicken, mixed greens and hot peppers, black-eyed peas and fantastic barbecued spare ribs.

Among the guests for the luncheon was Mr. Arthur Coar, the Director of Study of Negro Life and History and a member of the Mayors' Committee on Human Relations and Development of Detroit. He is also the Director of the "Bal African". From the Public and Cultural Affairs Department was Alexander Smith, Dorothy Mann and Helen Hodges.

Among those from Wixom enjoying the delightful change of pace were Miss Hilda Furman, Mrs. Lillian Spencer, Mrs. Carolyn Morehead, Mrs. Nettie Yawn, Mrs. Fran Spencer, Mrs. Sylvia Vangieson, Mrs. Olga Piilo, Mrs. Elina Salo, and Mrs. Pauline Leppi.

It is doubtful that anyone left with an empty stomach.

The idea of a Ladies Jogging Club has spread from Northridge Estates into Highgate-on-the-Green. A group of gals there has taken on the sport for their physical well-being and plan to pound the pavement throughout their subdivision.

As long as the weather holds I guess it won't be an unusual sight to see groups of females in their sneakers doing their daily sprints.

The snowfall last week did much to buoy the spirits of Wixom snowmobilers and skiers alike. Many headed to the north country over the weekend to enjoy their favorite winter sports.

The sports fans weren't the only ones to breathe a sigh of relief. The lack of snow has caused a huge sag in the economy of all people involved in the winter tourist season—from the gas station owner to the restaurant waitress, motel owner to resort proprietor.

Great smiles greeted us as we grabbed the skis from the moth balls and headed for the hills. All along the way, the statement seemed the same—"great to see the snow but we need more."

Township Assessment: Hiked 9%

Wayne County officials announced this week that the tentative equalization factor for Northville township for 1973-74 is 1.31.

It was incorrectly reported earlier that the township's assessments would be increased by a factor of 1.22.

The total state equalized valuation of real property in Northville township in 1973 is now estimated at $57,234,279.90.

The new equalization factor means that property assessments in Northville township will be boosted nine per cent over 1972, instead of three per cent as earlier reported.

Complete figures on real and personal property values are not yet available. But property owners wishing to discuss their property assessments may do so by contacting the township supervisor or by appearing at the March board of review hearings.

Boyer's Bucket Wins for Novi in Overtime

Pat Boyer has played a lot of basketball in his 17 years but Friday's 77-76 double-overtime victory over Chelsea probably will be the most thrilling of his prep careers. The six-foot Novi forward was tight-ropeing the corner sidelines and facing a sea of outstretched Chelsea hands when he lofted the 25-footer, helped the ball along with one of those "please go in" body twists, and then joined partisan fans in a frenzy of delight when the ball kissed the net at the one-second mark.

With that basket the Wildcats claimed what perhaps was the closest, most exhilarating heart-pumpers in the young school's history. "We've lost so many close ones over the years that I'm sure the fellows figured we'd lose another," beamed Coach Milan Obrenovich in the post-game locker room excitement.

"This should help. Now they know the deck isn't stacked, that they can win the close ones, too. It was an excellent team effort."

But Obrenovich, who may have sprouted a few grey hairs Friday, would prefer something a little less exhaustive.

Who wouldn't?

After leading the entire game, mostly by 10 and 12 points, the Wildcats started courting disaster late in the fourth quarter as the Bulldogs crept up to within two points.

Chelsea's Jim Treado stole the ball with a little more than a minute to play, and big Jeff Schmidt popped a two-pointer to tie the game, 64-64.

Jim VanWagner pumped in two free shots, and Steve Lukkari also converted a pair to give Novi a four-point edge with less than a minute to play.

Schmidt drilled a two-pointer with seven seconds to go, and Chelsea, with ball possession, took time out to work on its desperation strategy. Then, from the wide side, Jeff Daniel, who had scored but two points for the night, fired a 15-footer to knot the score at 68.

Only four seconds remaining, Lukkari fired a football pass that missed the mark and the game went into overtime.

Novi scored first in the initial overtime—a long fieldgoal by Boyer—but a bad pass gave Chelsea possession and Treado tied it up before Marv Guster converted two free shots to boost the visitors into the lead, 72-70, for the first time in the game.

With possession and 53 seconds to play, Chelsea was called for steps and John Pantalone, once again Novi's top scorer, flipped in a two-pointer to send the game into the second overtime period.

Here's the sequence in that second, crucial overtime: Treado scores two; VanWagner makes one of two free shots; John Mann misses two charity shots; Eric Hansor scores a fieldgoal; Bruce Guster fires two points; VanWagner goes to the bench with his fifth foul; Bruce Guster misses a free shot in a one-in-one situation, but steals the ball and Chelsea calls time out with 50 seconds to go and a one-point lead, 76-75.

At this point Novi stole the ball and called time with 11 seconds remaining to set the stage for Boyer's winning basket.

Even after Boyer's score, with one second remaining, Chelsea still had a very slim chance.

Coach Chuck Kelly twice consulted the officials to make sure what his players could and could not do in the final second with the ball at the opposite end of their basket.

With all eyes on Mann, who was cautioned against hitting the rafters, the Chelsea player fired the full length of the court to Schmidt, beneath the basket, who fell and the game was over.

Although it was a razor-close ending, Novi had commanding leads throughout much of the game. The Wildcats led 18-11 in the first quarter, 35-24 at the intermission, and 54-46 at the three-quarter mark.

In the final analysis, it was Novi's edge at the free throw line that proved decisive. The Wildcats converted 15 of 29, while the Bulldogs, who had the margin in field goals 34 to 31, flipped in eight of its 17 free shots.

Pantalone was the high scorer in the game with 22 points, followed by Boyer with 20. Bruce Guster was high for Chelsea with 17, followed by Schmidt and Mann, each of whom scored 16 points.

Pantalone, who now has been the leading scorer in 11 of Novi's 15 games this season, has accumulated a total of 241 points for an average of 16 points per game.

Thursday, February 15, 1973--THE NORTHVILLE RECORD--NOVI NEWS--13-A

But League Leaders Avoid Upset

Mustangs Scare Churchill

J.P. Ripley would have to be here.

Otherwise, the old "Believe It or Not" man would never believe it.

The transformation of the Northville basketball team has been that complete.

Coach Walt Koepke's suddenly-spirited Mustangs Friday came up with their finest performance of the season as they chased Western Six conference-leading Livonia Churchill all the way down to the closing seconds before surrendering a 48-46 decision.

And only a somewhat questionable non-decision on the part of one of the officials denied the Mustangs one more shot at the bucket and an opportunity to send the game into overtime.

A three-point play by Joe Bishop with 21 seconds remaining pulled Northville to within two points of the Chargers at 48-46. Churchill then took the ball out of bounds and attempted to avoid the Mustangs' full court press by throwing a long pass to midcourt. But Dave Duey, Northville's senior center, managed to get a hand on the ball and tip it in the general direction of Mike Brown who picked it up and was starting to head up court with 14

But then, Churchill's Phil Skender came dashing toward Brown and, before you could say "cross-body block," Brown was sprawled on the floor and the aggressive little Churchill guard had the ball and was asking for time out.

Incredibly, the referee called — and here's another one for Mr. Ripley — "time out."

The bum call did not take away from the fact that it was far and away Northville's best performance of the season.

To realize just how much the Mustangs have improved in a couple of months one need only recall that when the two teams met previously, in December, the Chargers had blasted out a 73-41 decision and, quite literally, had put in their second string at the end of the first quarter.

Friday's game was a much different matter.

"That Walt Koepke is really something," said Pat Montagano, the Churchill coach, after his narrow escape from defeat. "We're bigger and stronger, but they really came out after us. He hasn't got the most talent out there, but he gets 125 percent out of what he does have. I wish I could get as much out of my kids."

The big difference in the Northville team is that Koepke has finally succeeded in getting five players on the court who will play "hard." Twice — once in the first quarter and then again in the fourth quarter — the superior Churchill squad pulled away from the Mustangs, but each time the Northville players scrapped their way back into contention.

With Phil Damaska scoring 10 points and Mark Reed tossing in six more, the Chargers opened up a 16-7 lead in the first six minutes of the game, but the Mustangs managed to close the gap to 18-14 at the quarter as Eddie Kritch tossed in three buckets.

After the first quarter, the two clubs settled down into a tight defensive battle. Each team scored just eight points in the second quarter to bring the halftime score to 28-22.

And in the third quarter, both squads seemed as if they had taken a blood oath during the half to keep the other off the scoreboard.

Kritch finally opened the scoring in the second half when he looped in a two-pointer at the 4:40 mark. By the time the period had come to an end, Churchill had outscored the Mustangs 6-4 to up their lead to 34-26.

The scoring pace finally picked up in the last quarter. Skender, Don Braun, and Damaska all hit field goals in the early going as the Chargers opened up a 14 point lead midway through the period. With three minutes left in the game, Churchill was still on top by 11, 44-33. But then Northville started its come back. Over the final three minutes they outscored the Chargers 13-4 only to fall two points short at the buzzer.

After the game Koepke expressed pleasure with his team's performance. "I'm still not used to saying we played well after we've lost a game, but there were some things that we did well tonight," said the Mustang mentor.

"I thought we played both our zone defense and our zone press as well as we have all season. I thought Kritch and Bishop ran our offense quite well — we had only 10 turnovers all night and that's pretty good when you consider we had 30 turnovers the first time we played Churchill, which is a real good defensive club. I was also pleased with our rebounding, considering the size and strength of the Churchill team.

Koepke went on to laud the play of the individual members of his team. Bishop and Kritch at the guards, forward Todd Eis and Bart Taylor, and, in particular, center Dave Duey were singled out for praise.

Only one part of Northville's game was not up to its usual standard — free throw shooting. The Mustangs converted just 10 of 22 tosses from the charity stripe — far below their usual average.

"Three more free throws and we would have won," stated Koepke glumly.

"Would you believe that we each shot 100 free throws in practice Thursday?"

Saturday morning the Mustangs were on the court at 10 a.m. — you guessed it — shooting free throws.

Kritch led all Northville scorers in the Churchill game with 12 points and was joined in double figures by Todd Eis with 10 points, while Bishop had nine. Eis had 11 rebounds. Damaska led Churchill with 16 points.

The Mustangs will try to record their first Western Six win of the year Friday when they journey to Farmington Harrison. The Hawks won the first game between the two clubs 83-57.

DRIVING LAY-UP — Northville's Joe Bishop drives for the bucket in fourth quarter action in the Mustangs' near-miss against Livonia Churchill. Bishop finished with nine points, including a three-point play which pulled the Mustangs to within two points of the Chargers in the closing seconds.

4 Big Men Fail JVs

Omar Harrison, coach of Northville's junior varsity basketball team, had so many big men available for Friday's game with Livonia Churchill that he didn't know what to do with them all.

His final decision was to start all of them and that decision might have cost him the ball game, as the Charger jayvees raced to an easy 72-45 triumph.

"I just got Tom Eis back from the varsity and that gave me an extra big man," explained Harrison. "I decided to go with my best five players and that means I had to play a one-guard offense. But it didn't work. They got off to a big lead on us and we had to go back to our regular two-guard offense."

It took Harrison exactly one quarter to realize that his experiment with four men under the basket wasn't going to pan out as Churchill built up a 17-6 first quarter lead.

Harrison brought in freshman guard Chris Armada to share the backcourt duties with Scott Leu in the second quarter, but it was too late — the damage had already been done.

Churchill increased its lead to 36-20 at the half, 50-33 at the end of three quarters, and then burst loose with 22 points in the final period to wrap up the 72-45 win.

Northville's four big men contributed little in the way of points. Doug Crisan tossed in seven points, while Eis, John Boland, and Rick Norton combined for a total of six points.

All the scoring punch came from the backcourt. Leu tallied 16 points and Armada, in his finest game of the season, scored 14. Mark Roncoli, son of the Schoolcraft College basketball coach, had 16 points for the Churchill jayvees.

Schoolcraft Cagers Lose Two Games

One game was close, the other wasn't, but the final results were the same as Schoolcraft College's basketball team lost two more games last week driving their season's record down to 2-19.

Tuesday the Schoolcraft cagers were bombed 75-47 by Highland Park and Thursday they dropped a narrow 73-71 decision to Henry Ford Community College.

The Ocelots were hurt by the absence of first string guard Mike Lewis, who had to quit due to financial reasons. The loss of Lewis was particularly crucial in the Highland Park game.

"They threw their full-court zone press against us and we just weren't able to cope with it," reported Tom Roncoli, the Schoolcraft coach.

"They stole the ball from us numerous times as we couldn't even get the ball up the floor."

Tom Luch led Schoolcraft with 16 points.

The game with Henry Ford Community College was far different. Twice the Ocelots were down by 16 points, but each time they came battling back to narrow the gap at the buzzer to 73-71.

"If the game had been one minute longer I think we would have won," declared Roncoli. "We were really coming on strong."

Brian Dinsmore took scoring honors for Schoolcraft with 27 points — the best performance of his collegiate career. Luch followed Dinsmore in the scoring department with another 16 point effort.

Four Wildcats Seeded in SEC Mat Tourney

With five defending champions on hand to defend their titles and two more runners-up from last year also in the field, the 1973 Southeastern Conference Wrestling Championships this weekend promise to be a talent-laden affair.

Russ Gardner, coach of the Novi grapplers, goes even further. "It'll be a great league meet," he said. "If anybody wants to see some good wrestling they should definitely come to this tournament."

"Dexter, South Lyon, and Chelsea all have excellent teams and there are also some of the very best wrestlers in the state in the tourney," he continued. "Mark Montagne (Chelsea) and Russ Danielson (South Lyon) have both got good chances to win state championships this year."

For the first time, Novi will host the SEC Championship Tourney this year. Preliminaries start at 11:30 a.m. with the finals getting underway at 7 p.m.

What are Novi's chances in the conference championships? According to Gardner, who can never be accused of setting his sights too low, they're pretty good.

"I really don't think we can finish ahead of Dexter, South Lyon or Chelsea," he said. "Those three teams will be fighting it out for the championship. But if our guys don't fold up their tents and come out wrestling instead, we could come in fourth."

A fourth place finish would be the best Novi has ever done in the SEC Tourney. Last year's sixth place finish was their best previous finish in the league standings. The Wildcats also had their first SEC individual champion last year when Terry Auten brought home the heavyweight title.

Gardner was a bit hesitant about going into details about the chances of the individuals on this year's team. "If I say I think a kid will finish third or fourth, he might think I would be satisfied with a third or fourth place finish. It's a psychological thing," explained Gardner, a former state champion in his high school days.

"Just write down that I expect all of my kids to finish first," he said. "That way they'll know I won't be satisfied with a third or fourth place finish."

Although Gardner had hoped to get seven of his wrestlers seeded in the top four, only four Wildcat grapplers were seeded when the coaches met to determine the ratings Monday.

Top-seeded Wildcat was Randy McGarry, who was seeded second, behind Dexter's Don Trinkle in the 158-pound division. "It should be between Randy and Trinkle for the championship," commented Gardner. "And I think Randy can beat him."

The other three Novi wrestlers to receive seeds were Bill Livingston at 101, Dave Ward at 141, and Don Jackson at 148. All were seeded third.

"I think all three of them can finish higher than they were seeded," said Gardner. "Livingston probably can't beat Klapperich of Dexter at 101, but I think he can beat out Allan of South Lyon for second place and I think Livingston thinks he can beat Allan too."

Ward is in much the same position. Tim Lancaster, the defending champion, should be able to win the 141 pound crown, but after Lancaster Ward has as good a chance for second place as anyone else.

Gardner feels Jackson can go all the way to the SEC crown at 148. "Any one of the top four guys in that division could win it," speculated the Novi coach. "It's going to be really close, but if Jackson wrestles like I know he can, he could win it all."

Gardner has hopes that at least three other Novi wrestlers will upset the seedings and move into the top four positions. Although he's unseeded in the 129-pound class, Tom Ford has a chance at an SEC championship. "All of those guys in that division are really even," noted Gardner. "If Tommy has a good day he could go all the way. He has to wrestle Dexter's Dave Kimball in the first match and if he gets by Kimball - look out. He'll be on his way."

RANDY MCGARRY

DON JACKSON

Gardner also feels that Jim

Sasena is capable of squeezing a fourth place out of the 115-pound division and Tom Wilkins could move up to third in the 135-pound class.

Novi Girls Still Unbeaten

Milan Obrenovich, coach of the Novi basketball team, might be wise to stop by and compare notes with Christine Hayward, coach of the Novi girls' team.

Whatever she's doing seems to work.

Last week the Novi cagerettes raced to an easy

40-23 victory over a fine and previously undefeated Northville team. It was the fifth straight victory for the Novi varsity girls who have yet to lose this season.

Miss Hayward's other team tasted defeat for the first time last week. The Novi junior varsity girls saw their season's record fall to 4-1 as they were handed a 27-18 setback by the Northville jayvees.

In the varsity game, the Novi girls were in control all the way. With Carol Maki and Nancy Pisha leading the attack the lady Wildcats pulled away to a 21-13 halftime lead and then wrapped it up in the second half by outscoring the Northville girls 19-10 to make the final score 40-23.

Carol Maki and Nancy Pisha each finished the game with 11 points while Denise DeBrule added six more.

The jayvee game was won by the Northville girls. Carol Poyhonen led the Novi jayvees in scoring with nine points, but it just wasn't enough as the Mustang jayvees piled up a 13-7 halftime lead en route to a 27-18 victory.

SEC Cage Standings

Milan	9-1
Ypsilanti Lincoln	9-1
Saline	7-3
South Lyon	6-4
Novi	4-6
Dexter	2-7
Chelsea	2-8
Dundee	0-9

Milan handed Saline what could well prove to be a fatal blow to its hopes for a second straight SEC championship by taking a 64-50 victory Friday in a crucial game.

The loss knocked the Hornets two games off the pace, but Ypsilanti Lincoln remained tied with the Big Red for the conference lead by taking an easy 64-46 victory over South Lyon that set the stage for the biggest game of the season when the two co-leaders collide with the championship at stake.

With Mike Scott under the boards and Stan Joplin in the backcourt, Milan led all the way against Saline. Milan led 35-23 at the half, but Saline whittled that margin to 45-39 at the three quarter mark and Milan had to hang on in the final quarter for the four point triumph.

Scott and Joplin had 23 and 16 points respectively for Milan, while Saline's Dave Ziegler led all scorers with 25 points.

Lincoln fought to a 33-28 halftime lead and then pulled away in the second half to end South Lyon's title hopes 64-46. Mike Massey, Derrick Thomas, and Larry Hunter had 17, 15, and 15 points respectively for the winners. Ed Segars popped in 20 points and collected 15 rebounds to pace the Lions.

Dundee waged a valiant battle to win its first SEC game, but finally fell 73-72 to Dexter. The Dreadnaughts scored 21 points in the final quarter to overcome a 55-52 third quarter deficit and keep the Vikings winless. Mike Scott with 24 and Ron Klump with 19 paced the victors, while Steve Behrmer dumped in 19 points for Dundee.

strong Plymouth team.

It was the Northville Mite team which was hottest last week. Sponsored jointly by the F.O.E. Eagles and the Ely Fuel Company, the Mites clobbered the Plymouth Orange team 12-0 and then came back to blast Plymouth Green 9-2.

Only a 4-2 loss to Westland's Big M squad spoiled the Mites' week.

Scott Schaal scored the three goal hat trick and Scott Kerry, Pat Alexander, and Kenny Winemaster each turned on the red light two times in the Mites 12-0 conquest of Plymouth Orange. Single goals were netted by Todd Kerry, Bob Pegrum, and Pat McKernan.

It was Pat Alexander who led the scoring in the Mites' 9-2 decision over Plymouth Green. Alexander tossed the puck into the cords five times, while Todd Kerry scored twice and Ken Winemaster and Chuck Schaeffer each picked up a single goal.

The Mites could have used some of that goal-power against the Big M team. Scott Schaal scored twice, but those proved to be the only goals Northville got as they fell 4-2.

Sponsored by Thomson Sand and Gravel, Northville's Squirts team scored twice in the first period and then added two more goals in the second period to take a 4-1 triumph over Plymouth.

Steve Stuart tallied what proved to be the winning goal when he scored an unassisted goal in the first period after Dean Axtell had put the Squirts ahead 1-0 by converting a pass from Kirk Terpevich. Phil LeAnnais added a third goal and Stuart upped the lead to 4-1 with his second goal of the game in the second period.

Wildcat

Wildcat of the Week honors go to Pat Boyer. The 6 foot Novi senior forward scored 20 points and played a strong game on the boards against the taller Chelsea team. It was Boyer's 25 foot jump shot from the corner with just a second left on the clock that gave the Wildcats the victory in double overtime.

"Digging into the gas shortage"

Let's face it. There IS a gas shortage.

As a customer, it's not up to you to worry whether the gas is going to be there when you need it. That's the responsibility of the Gas Company. In much of Michigan, that means Consumers Power Company.

To insure that the gas requirements of its customers will continue to be met, Consumers Power organized a subsidiary company to look for new gas reserves. And new gas has been found: in northern Michigan near Kalkaska; in the Gulf of Mexico; and in Louisiana.

But new supplies from the Gulf Coast probably won't be available in Michigan for several years. Meanwhile, we must depend on additional gas from Michigan wells, and on supplementary gas from a new reforming plant being built near Marysville.

Consumers Power is doing all it can to insure reliable service for its customers. But gas, like other forms of energy, is a valuable commodity. Use it wisely!

You've heard of a scrimmage, no doubt, but what's a scrumage? A scrumage belongs to the game of rugby, a type of English football popular on the Continent. The most important difference between scrumaging and scrummaging is that a scrumage doesn't take place every time the ball is downed, but only after certain rule infractions. The scrumage is awarded to the non-offending team. In a sense a scrumage is more like a face-off in hockey, or a basketball jump than like the football scrumage. Lauber's Tankers Near Goal

Judging from the looks of Coach Ben Lauber's right hand, it's been a rough week for the Northville swimmers.

The hand is firmly ensconced in a cast — the result of a pool-side fall Thursday which left two bones broken and had doctors trying to avoid having to insert a pin in the hand.

Broken hand or not, Lauber was back with his swimmers bright and early Saturday morning, directing them through an 8 a.m. workout.

"Actually, I just told everyone I broke it when I fell," said Lauber, his face deadly serious. "What really happened was that one of my swimmers didn't swim as fast as I thought he should so I went up to him and — pow — I knocked him back in the pool till he got it right."

"That's why they swim so fast," he added, as a chorus of jeers rose in the background. "They're all scared of me."

The accident to Lauber's hand notwithstanding, it was another typically good week for the Northville swimmers, as they picked up two more wins to run their season's record to 11-1 and move two wins closer to their goal of 50 victories in four years.

A 64-31 triumph over Clarenceville Tuesday was win number 45 and a 63-32 conquest of Livonia Churchill Thursday was win number 46.

Barring any unforeseeable accidents — such as a loss — the Mustangs will be going for number 50 against Farmington, Tuesday, February 27. A victory in that meet will give them a 50-3 record in the four years Northville has had a swimming team.

Victories number 45 and 46 were both relatively easy for the Mustangs, although the meet with Churchill Thursday was by far the tougher of the two.

"We were able to go all out against Churchill," stated Lauber. "They have some very fine front men — Ken Dove is probably the second best all-around swimmer in the league next to Rado from Harrison and Randy Siefert is also very good. They have some weaknesses in depth, however, and we were able to sneak our men into those second and third spots and that's what won us the meet."

One of the keys to Northville's 63-32 victory came in the very first event — the 200 yard medley relay. Churchill Coach David Tavidian stacked the event with his four top swimmers, including Dove and Siefert, while Lauber held out two of his best swimmers — Bill Witek and John Pacific — and inserted Andre Manochio and Mark Haynie in their places.

The Northville quartet won a narrow victory and Lauber still had Witek and Pacific for three events, while Tavidian could use Dove and Siefert just two more times apiece.

Both of them went on to record the only Churchill wins in the meet. Dove won the 200 yard individual medley (2:11.6) and Siefert won the 100 yard backstroke (1:01.0).

Pacific on the other hand took victories in the 50 freestyle (24.0) and 100 freestyle (52.2) and Witek won the 100 fly (1:00.6). And both of them swam on the victorious freestyle relay team.

Top Northville performance was turned in by Don Cook, who lowered his own team record of 4:11.1 to 4:08.9 in winning the 400 yard freestyle.

Other Northville victories came in the 200 yard individual medley which was won by Kevin Kelly in 1:55.8, diving which was won by Tom Cook with 216.0 points, and the 100 yard breaststroke won by Art Greenlee with a 1:07.4 clocking.

Jeff Kappler, Greenlee, Manochio, and Haynie were the members of the first place medley relay team (1:49.4), while Kelly, Don Cook, Pacific, and Witek swam on the first place freestyle relay team (3:35.3).

Although the score was almost the same, Northville's 64-31 victory over Clarenceville Tuesday was considerably easier, as many of the younger members of the squad were given a chance to swim for points.

Top performance was turned in by freestyler John Pacific who broke his own team record of 23.6 in winning the 50 yard freestyle in 23.5 and also tied the pool record of 23.5 set by Ahonen of Clarenceville in 1970 — the oldest record on the board.

Other wins were recorded by Witek who won the 200 yard individual medley (2:13.0), Kelly who won the 100 yard butterfly (1:01.3), Don Cook who won the 400 yard freestyle (4:11.4), and Jim Wright who won the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:14.4.

Victories were also taken by the medley relay team of Haynie, Wright, Talbot, and Mark Lelek (1:59.2) and the 400 yard freestyle relay team of Ed Erdos, Lelek, Chaffin, and Gunder.

Mustang Gals Now 4-1

Northville's girls' basketball team topped two victories last week to run its season's record to 4-1 and move to the top of the Western Six Conference with a 2-0 record.

Wednesday the Mustang cagerettes downed Livonia Churchill 36-23 for their second conference win and Friday they squeaked past Ypsilanti 31-27 in a non-conference game.

Muriel Bedford and Eve Williams each tossed in 10 points to pace Northville's 36-23 victory over Churchill. Miss Bedford led the attack from her backcourt position, adapting the team's plays to the Churchill defense. Rene Wheaton helped out by hauling in 19 rebounds.

Misses Bedford and Williams again led the Northville attack in their victory over Ypsilanti, each girl scoring 11 points. The lady Mustangs led 18-10 at the half and then coasted to the 31-27 victory.

This time Stacy Balko led in the rebounding department by rounding up 14 rebounds, a two more than Rene Wheaton who collected 12 caroms.

Mustanger

Mustang of the Week honors go to Joe Bishop, the scrappy 5'8" guard on the Northville basketball team. Along with Todd Eis, Bishop has emerged as one of the mainstays on the Northville team this season. In addition to directing the Mustang offense from the backcourt, Bishop carries a nine points per game average and is a key member of the Northville zone defense.

Novi JVs Lose

A fine first quarter effort turned sour Friday as the Novi junior varsity five lost to Chelsea 73-53.

Novi led in the first quarter by three points, 21-18, but then fell apart as the junior Bulldogs played a steady game producing 18 points in the second period, 19 in the third and 18 again in the final quarter.

The host squad produced only 20 points in the second and third quarters before adding 12 in the final frame.

Novi's Bill Barr shared game scoring laurels with Chelsea's David Alber, both of whom collected 19 points. Paul Wood was second high for Chelsea with 17, and Mike Collins was the runnerup for Novi with 12.

Churchill's two point victory over the Mustangs enabled them to maintain their one game lead over Walled Lake Western and Farmington Harrison. But still, with just three games left on the schedule, four of the five conference teams have at least a mathematical chance to win the Western Six title.

Harrison moved into a tie with Western for second place Friday by setting down Mott 55-46. Again it was Jeff Siefert the Hawks' "6'8" center, who led the way by scoring 23 points and rounding up 15 rebounds. Blaise Saffron had 16 points to pace the Corsairs, whose record fell to 3-3. In a non-conference game, Walled Lake Western got bombed 59-48 by Livonia Stevenson. The Warriors let the Livonia cagers build up an 18 6 first quarter margin and were never in the game after that. John Spranger and Rick Shekel each had 15 points for Coach Steve De Mar's Walled Lake squad.

Barger, Norton Lead Faltering Mat Squad

"Just a minute. I want to figure this out!" Ed McLoud returned his attention to the book lying open on his desk. He flipped through its pages, making a notation on a little slip of paper after each flip.

Finally, the coach of the Northville wrestling team looked up and said, "Listen to this."

"Jack Barger has a 16-4 record. He has eight pins and has been pinned only twice. He got pinned by Mason of Lutheran West in the Holly tournament and by Longline of Farmington in the Redford Union Tourney. He's outpointed his opponents 70-4."

"Now listen to what Norton's done," McLoud continued. "Bill's got a 16-3 record. He's got six pins and hasn't been pinned at all. His three losses have been by a total of four points and he has outscored his opponents 80-36."

Barger and Norton and "next year" are about the only good things McLoud has to talk about these days.

Certainly there is little that can be said about his wrestling team which last week dropped two more meets as its season's record fell to 3-7. The Mustang grapplers have now lost six in a row and haven't won since they squeaked past Brighton last December 14.

"What can I say about our team that I haven't already said," asked McLoud. "We're weak in the upper weight classes and we've lost a lot of our wrestlers in the lower weight classes through injury, graduation, or just plain quitting."

"As a result we've got a lot of inexperienced boys wrestling for us. They should be okay next year, but in the meantime you can't win without experience."

It was Clarenceville which dumped the young Mustang grapplers first last week, taking a lop-sided 39-18 decision Tuesday. Two days later Farmington Harrison handed Northville a 33-23 defeat.

By far the worse of the losses was the 39-18 debacle administered by Clarenceville. The Mustangs won just three matches all night long and one of those was by forfeit.

Usually strong in the lower weight classes, the Mustangs' only triumph in the first six matches came in the 108 pound division which Clarenceville forfeited. As fate would have it, Barger failed to get down to 101 pounds and was wrestling in the 108 pound bracket the Trojans forfeited.

"If Jack had made weight and pinned his man at 100, it would have made the final score 36-24," stated McLoud. "I realize that isn't what you'd exactly call close, but it's a lot more respectable than 39-18."

The rest of the Northville points came in the 141 and 148 pound weight classes. Joe Assemany pinned his opponent in 3:54 of the 141-pound match, while Norton floored his foe at 5:21 in the 148-pound match.

Things were a little better in the 33-23 loss to Harrison Thursday in that the Northville wrestlers were at least back to form — winning in the lower weight classes and losing in the higher divisions. Barger was back down to 101 and got the meet off to a good start by pinning his man at 1:36 of the first period. Dan Fialon, wrestling his finest match of the season, according to McLoud, added a 9-4 decision at 115, and Wally Armstrong wrestled to a tie at 129 to give the Mustangs an 11-9 lead after the first five matches.

But suddenly, the Northville wrestlers started pouring it on. Assemany got his second pin of the week by downing Norm Hess in the 135 pound match, and Norton and Tim Johnson came through with decisions at 141 and 148 to put the Mustangs on top 23-9.

Unfortunately, Harrison struck back in the heavier weight classes, registering three pins and picking up six more points when the Mustangs had to forfeit the 188 pound class.

"After two-thirds of the matches we were leading them 23-9," lamented McLoud, "but we didn't take a single point after 148. We gave up 24 points in the last four matches and lost the meet."

"Don't get me wrong," McLoud added, "I'm not blaming the kids on the team. I thought they did a good job. Everyone of them was a first year wrestler and it's hard to win unless you've got experience."

Anybody want to hear about Barger or Norton, again?

Bad Dye

Do the chairs in your house shake? The cause may not be anything more than a loose rung or two. The remedy for this is quite simple. When a rung becomes loose, it is because the glue holding it tight has dried and will not hold. Undo all loose joints. Scrape old glue out of the joint and off the rung; then reglue. Remember to bind each joint as you redo it, using cord or special chair braces. This will hold the joint in place until it is completely dry.

increase it. "Wixom, according to a South Eastern Michigan Council of Government report," the latter said, "is the fastest growing city in Oakland county."

The matter was put to the city council for denial or approval.

Mayor Gilbert C. Willis took a stand on the issue before the discussions began.

"The purpose of this request is that the mayor feels the city needs additional protection." He then referred to a rule of navigation which states that immediate danger should be, at all times, avoided before it can happen.

"As we look at the number of arrests and other crime, increasing, we cannot afford to play 'catch up' law enforcement," Willis said.

Coe supported the addition of another officer, "because I, too, believe that the best deterrent of crime is to be prepared for it."

Mettala added he felt the new officer should be approved "in light of the growth of the city and the area around it which increases traffic through the city. I feel that the chief would have been remiss if he had not asked for another officer."

"I have been on the council for five years," said Councilwoman Parvu, "and I have always been in favor of the police department. Now I feel it is time to work with another department. I feel that the fire department

SNOWMOBILE RACES — Close to 100 snowmobilers gathered on Walled Lake last weekend to participate in the snowmobile races sponsored by the Novi Jaycees as a part of their second annual Winter Carnival. Approximately 70 snowmobilers participated in Saturday's drag races, while 20 hardy souls undertook the slalom races Sunday.

According to Joe Pochter, Jaycee co-chairman for the event, the revenue from the Winter Carnival was down slightly, but the Jaycees still expect to hand over approximately $400 to the city's Parks and Recreation Commission.

Teachers Seek Wages Lost During Freeze

A request from Northville Education Association for step increments withheld from them during the wage freeze of the 1971-72 school year has been denied by Superintendent Raymond Spear.

Spear told board members Monday that the teachers were requesting the funds for the first part of the school year (from August to November) while they were working under salary scheduled from the 1970-71 school year due to the wage freeze.

Spokesmen for the Northville Teachers maintained that automatic salary step increases should have been granted to them.

Spear, however, ruled that the 1970-71 contract was "negotiated for the 1970-71 school year. Salaries for the 1971-72 school year are subject to the negotiation process and there are no automatic increases from one contract work year to the next."

He explained that while the difference between salaries of a first and second year teacher one year may be $500, the figure may be higher or lower the following year.

In other action Monday, school board members voted 6-1 (Trustee Glenn Deibert dissenting) to uphold the superintendent's decision not to grant a personal business day to a teacher who failed to report to work in December because of car trouble.

Trustees said they felt it was the teacher's responsibility to get to work and not the district's responsibility to make certain she had transportation.

Board members also approved a release of contract for Mrs. Jill Schimpff, fifth grade teacher at Moraine, effective April 6. She will be leaving to join the Peace Corps with her husband.

Approval was also given to a teaching contract for Mrs. Celeste Matestic, a June, 1971, graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a BA degree in library science and biology.

She will assist as a media specialist at the elementary schools. Mrs. Matestic has three years of teaching experience in elementary schools.

Trustees also voted to purchase a station wagon from John Mach Ford, not to exceed $3,435

Downs Mutuel Handle Climbs

With business and attendance nearing all-time high proportions for a mid-winter meeting, Northville Downs management sees the best weekend of the season when the track hits the halfway point of its 39-night campaign.

The Downs is prepared for the highest mutuel handle and largest two-night crowd to date Friday and Saturday (Feb. 16 and 17)...third of the winter season's six weekends.

Executive Manager John J. Carlo anticipates a turnstile count of 6,000 and wagering $500,000 on Saturday, providing the weatherman is friendly. It would be the first $500,000 night since winter racing started in Michigan four years ago.

In Revenue Sharing Funds

Taxpayer Goof Could Cost Money

If that 1040 income tax form bugs you consider what it does to townships and some cities as well.

A single, inaccurately filled line on that form could cost townships, such as Northville, and cities, such as Novi and Wixom, thousands of dollars of lost revenue.

The line asks taxpayers to list the state, county, city or township in which they live. Upon this information the government will base its per capita formula for distribution of revenue-sharing funds.

Last year the formula was based on the 1970 census figures, but this year in an effort to get more up to date population counts the federal government will use the 1040 information.

Big worry by some municipalities is that taxpayers may unintentionally list their mailing addresses which are not necessarily the same as the city or township in which they live.

For example, Northville Township residents have both Plymouth and Northville mailing addresses. If they should list these addresses instead of specifying Northville Township, they will be credited to either the Northville or Plymouth city counts.

Similarly, if Novi residents with Northville or Walled Lake addresses list these instead of specifying that they are residents of Novi they'll be credited to Northville or Walled Lake—not Novi.

In Wixom, where residents do not necessarily have Wixom mailing addresses, the same problem exists.

Although the tax form cautions the taxpayer against inaccurate address information, Internal Revenue Service officials concede that a real problem exists.

Furthermore, they note that more than 60 percent of the earliest returns left the space blank. Apparently, in such cases no municipality gets credit for revenue-sharing.

"Let me point out that, the form is specific," an IRS spokesman told this newspaper. "But, sure, we know some people may not read it and fill in the wrong information or no information at all."

Our only advice here is to urge them to write the name of the political subdivision in which they live. If they have a question they can call us (226-7288), or better still they should call officials of their city or township...after all, they have a vested interest in seeing that the forms are accurate."

Persons who may have left the space blank may file corrected returns by sending the name of their city or township along with their Social Security numbers to the IRS.

Wixom Postmaster Elwood Grubb pointed out another possible error that could affect the revenue-sharing formula.

Either out of habit or because they have recently seen legal descriptions indicating that Wixom, before city incorporation, was part of Novi and Commerce townships, some taxpayers may list the township name as well as the city's name.

However, IRS spokesmen told this newspaper the division has a special coding system that will eliminate the township designation in cases where taxpayers fill in both the name of the township and the city. Nevertheless, they advise Wixom taxpayers to use only the name "Wixom City" and leave the township space blank.

Auditors Switched Again

Township Rescinds Action

Following three split votes and procedural clarification by the board attorney, township trustees voted to rescind action taken in January to hire Robert Adams as auditor and to retain the Ann Arbor firm of Icerman, Hoffman and Johnson for the 1973 audit.

The matter, which was taken up Tuesday night by the board, was re-opened by Trustee Leonard Klein. Klein, who had voted to hire Adams in January, stated that he "jumped in without due thought. I would like to reconsider the vote."

Trustee Charles Schaeffer, who had supported a motion made by Trustee Richard Mitchell in January to hire Adams, a township resident, challenged Klein's right Tuesday to re-open the matter.

"According to Robert's Rules of Order (parliamentary procedure) you can't reconsider the vote," Schaeffer stated, "because he (Adams) has already been notified of his appointment. An article was published in The Northville Record concerning his appointment as auditor."

"The question is not debatable!" Schaeffer said. Township Attorney Donald Morgan told Schaeffer that if a person is legally bound by a contract a motion to reconsider that contract could not be made.

Morgan explained that an article published in The Record would not constitute a contract. He said a contract would have to be something Adams signed or a service he had already performed as auditor for the township.

Schaeffer then stated that the "motion was not proper, except if it is taken up at a meeting of the next day," he continued, reading from a book on parliamentary procedure.

Morgan explained that the point was "not relative, since it applies to legislative bodies which meet every day." In the case of the township, it would mean the motion to reconsider would have to be taken up at the "succeeding meeting scheduled," which was the meeting held Tuesday night.

"It is in order to reconsider the appointment," Morgan explained, "as long as the action (previously) taken is not considered a contract. No contract was signed and no services have been performed. He (Adams) has been designated as auditor but there has been no contract," Morgan noted.

A ruling by Supervisor Larry Wright, chairman of the meeting, that the motion made by Klein was in order, re-opened the question.

Clerk Sally Cayley criticized the board, stating that the township "needs an auditor. You should have given this more consideration last time rather than to put someone in an embarrassing position."

Wright said the "board should have been notified (that a change was being contemplated). I felt we would be reappointing the existing auditing firm. We went for bids on the ambulance service, interviewed for an attorney. A precedent has been set that should be followed."

Trustee John MacDonald commented that the way the auditor was handled "is not the way to handle any appointment."

He explained that he "abstained from voting last time because I was caught off guard. Icerman, Hoffman and Johnson have been auditors for the township for nearly 20 years. I've heard nothing detrimental about them."

"I have nothing against Adams, but it is the last time I will keep quiet about a matter like that," MacDonald said. A motion to reconsider the appointment passed by a vote of 4-3, Klein, MacDonald, Wright and Treasurer Joseph Straub voting to reconsider and Cayley, Mitchell and Schaeffer voting against the motion.

Mitchell asked if anyone else who lived in the township was qualified to be auditor? MacDonald said that residency in the township "is not necessarily a consideration for the auditor. I would not give much weight (to that) in selection of an auditor or lawyer."

Cayley said she felt the matter had been "delayed so long that Icerman, Hoffman and Johnson may not be available."

Straub stated that since the firm never had been notified they wouldn't be auditing the township, they were available.

Wright said he was in favor of getting resumes from others, but Straub asked, "Why do we need resumes? What's wrong with the former auditor?"

A vote Tuesday on the motion made in January to hire Adams failed in a 3-4 vote, Cayley, Mitchell and Schaeffer voting to hire Adams and Wright, Straub, MacDonald and Klein voting against the motion.

A motion, made by MacDonald and supported by Straub, to retain the firm of Icerman, Hoffman and Johnson as auditors passed by a 4-3 vote, MacDonald, Straub, Klein and Schaeffer voting "yes" and Cayley, Mitchell and Wright voting "no."

Wright again stated he would like to get resumes from other auditors.

MacDonald agreed, but noted it would be too late for the current year. "We should invite resumes from those interested in auditing."

Mitchell told the board he felt if there are "people in the township who are qualified for the position, then I feel it is incumbent upon us to take advantage of the situation."

MacDonald said he did "not disagree and I realize it's a popular political statement. When you consider professional services, you don't take that (residency) into account that much. You hire them as a specialist. Residency should not be given that much weight."

Novi Chief
Lee BeGole
Seeks Help

"The detectives have had to start using their own cars due to the present shortage," he said. "Two cars for four detectives just doesn't work."

In asking the council for an additional dispatcher, BeGole again cited the increased workload. Between 1970 and 1971 the number of complaints increased 344 from 4,230 to 4,574. Between 1971 and 1972, however, the number of complaints increased 1,008 from 4,574 to 5,582.

Although the council was in agreement with BeGole about the need for the additions, they were skeptical about the possibility of finding additional income to finance them.

"I just don't think we can afford what you're asking for with our present revenue," stated Mayor Joseph Crupi.

BeGole responded to Crupi's remark saying that he was only informing the council what additions would be necessary to properly provide for the protection of the citizens.

OK Ambulance Bid

Trustees authorized the supervisor and clerk to sign the contract with General Ambulance. The cost of providing rent free quarters will be shared equally by the city and township.

Currently, General is operating out of a house on South Center Street in the city. The city is temporarily providing those rent free quarters.

Following the signing of the contract, specifications for permanent quarters will be drawn up and put out for bids. The contract stipulates that the quarters will be as centrally located in the community as a whole as is possible.

Novi Township
Fights Decision

they got us divided, they came back and said we ought to be annexed because we're too small to exist economically."

realignment of elementary enrollment, placing students in schools closer to home, and allowing room for enrollment growth in the three existing elementary schools.

"By early 1980, we will be able to fill five elementary schools in the district," Spear said, "but we won't be able to fill the schools if we build two 750 elementary at this time."

Spear indicated he favored construction of two 500 elementary schools, one in Highland Lakes and one in Northville Commons.

"If we only build one, how do we decide where to put it? People will be upset if it is not built near them," he explained.

"If we go for bond approval without the support of three segments of the population (middle school, Highland Lakes and Northville Commons) we will create problems," Spear maintained.

Board president Dr. Orlo Robinson noted that the next school "should be a 750-student elementary school in Highland Lakes. We can talk about building the other one (in Northville Commons) later."

One suggestion was tying the Northville Commons elementary school in with construction of a high school. That issue would be placed before voters in mid-1974.

Spear asked the board to consider going for the same amount of money in June to build an elementary school in Northville Commons as would be requested for the Highland Lakes school.

"We don't have to build it until it's needed and we can go back to the voters later if more money is needed. I wanted to go for $20 million originally and build the schools (with those funds) when they were needed."

Trustee Orphan told Spear that the board and district "have a reputation of not going for money unless it's needed."

"It's an insult to the voters to say an elementary school in their area must be tied in in order to gain their support."

"I will not support going bond before bid just to get a favorable vote," Orphan continued.

"If we need a 750-pupil elementary school, then let's go for a 750-pupil school and then go back (for another school) when the need dictates," Orphan stated.

Northville, which several years ago pioneered the bid before bond concept, taking construction bids before asking voters for money, is planning to use the same concept in its current building program.

Both trustees Stanley Johnston and Glenn Delbert said they favored the 750-pupil school over a 500-pupil school. Both agreed they would "not build part of an elementary school and then add on later."

Trustee Martin Rinehart added that "empty classrooms are a luxury but are also a plus to education. Let's go ahead and bid the school with an alternate bid for 500-student capacity and decide which capacity to build later."

A motion, made by Rinehart and supported by Johnston, to take bids on a 750-student elementary school in Highland Lakes with alternate bids for a 500-student school, won the unanimous support of the board members.

Filing '72 Return

Tax Rates Differ

Editor's Note—This is the third of a series of articles prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1972 Federal Income Tax Returns.

Is all the income one receives from all sources subject to the same Federal income tax? No, says The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants. Some types of income are exempt from taxation, while others are taxed at a rate different from that for ordinary income.

The MACPA says the types of income to be included with salary and wages as part of one's adjusted gross income include:

- Tips, bonuses, commissions and incentive payments.
- Dividends (except for the first $100 and except for so-called dividends on insurance policies, which are actually rebates of premiums and not taxable).
- Supplemental payments by one's employer under a guaranteed annual wage plan.
- Interest received on bank deposits, loans, etc.
- Casualty or health insurance benefits over the amount of loss or the cost of treating the illness.
- Gambling winnings and prizes won in contests (after subtracting gambling losses and the costs of participating in the contests, including the costs of purchasing Michigan lottery tickets; and for this reason unlucky lottery stubs should be saved.) Michigan lottery winnings, although subject to Federal Income Tax, are exempt from Michigan State and City income taxes.

- Short-term capital gains on investments sold after being held six months or less.
- One half of long-term capital gains (realized on the sale of investments held longer than six months).

IRS Will Compute Tax

Many taxpayers again may have the Internal Revenue Service compute their income tax and retirement income credit, Thomas A. Cardoza, IRS District Director for Michigan, said today.

He said the IRS on request will compute the tax for persons with incomes of $20,000 or less, who take the standard deduction, and whose income is solely from

The CPAs say that, with certain exceptions, the types of income that can be excluded from one's adjusted gross income on tax returns include:

- Salary or wages up to $20,000 earned outside the United States if the taxpayer was a bona fide foreign resident for the entire taxable year.
- Sick pay up to $100 a week if one's employer has an established wage continuation plan.
- Social Security benefits.
- That portion of retirement income resulting from one's own contributions to a pension fund, if the money contributed was taxed before being paid in.
- Food and lodging provided by an employer, if it was for his convenience.
- Unemployment Insurance Act or the program for Federal employees.
- Strike benefits paid by a union under certain conditions.
- Legacies. (Estate taxes are paid by the estate.)
- Gifts or prizes that did not require the recipient's participation or the payment of a fee.
- The Michigan Association of CPAs advises that, because of the many qualifications attached to some of these exclusions, care should be taken in claiming them.

Banquet Planned

Bishop to Retire

The Right Reverend Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal bishop of Michigan, will retire soon and Episcopals, including those of Holy Cross in Novi, are preparing for a banquet in his honor March 1.

The banquet will be held March 1 at the Raleigh House in Southfield, with a service of thanksgiving to be held at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul at 11 a.m. Saturday, March 3.

Bishop Emrich, who will retire March 11 after 27 years of service in the Diocese of Michigan, is a former professor of Christian Ethics at the Episcopal Theological School (Cambridge). He came to the Diocese of Michigan and offered leadership during the period of rapid suburban growth and church expansion.

BISHOP EMRICH

He assisted in the foundation of the School of Theology to pioneer in new ways of training lay people for auxiliary ministries—an experiment that has been carefully observed by church leaders throughout the world.

A deep passion for social justice led him into a leadership role in the struggle for racial equality in Michigan. He was the first chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Equal Opportunity, a blue ribbon group which brought many changes to the Michigan scene.

His diocese, which comprises the eastern half of the lower peninsula, will say farewell not only at the principal banquet in Southfield but also at other locations throughout the state, particularly at Alpena on February 21 and at Saginaw on February 22.

salaries, wages, tips, dividends, interest, pension and annuities.

If the taxpayer also wants the IRS to compute his retirement income credit, he should include the basic information on Schedule R and attach it to his Form 1040.

Mr. Cardoza said. He should also enter "RIC" on line 19, Form 1040. Instructions on Schedule R explain what items need to be provided.

For those persons who qualify, the IRS will compute the tax, whether the return is a Short Form 1040A or the regular 1040. The tax instructions explain what information should be entered on the return, Mr. Cardoza said.

After this information is entered on the return, the taxpayer should sign it and send it to the Cincinnati Service Center, Cincinnati, Ohio 45298.

He said the IRS will then compute the tax and send the taxpayer a refund or a bill for the tax due, whichever is the case.

DARRELL ASHLEY of Ashley and Cox Real Estate, with branches in Howell and Novi, revealed that Ashley and Cox has received membership to the World Wide Business Brokers Association.

This membership enables Ashley and Cox to obtain information concerning business real estate all over the world and also to advertise listings made available to them on a world-wide basis.

The most immediate advantage of that listing is no longer the limited advertising audience which most real estate offices have.

All business real estate listed by Ashley and Cox can now be advertised through many agencies in Michigan as well as around the world.

Businessmen in this area who desire property outside Michigan can also profit from World Wide Business Brokers by having real estate information in other parts of the country and world readily available to them, Ashley continued.

Joining World Wide Business Brokers is just one of many innovations which Ashley and Cox have begun in recent months.

One of the most advantageous for the homeowner wishing to buy or sell property is the Tri-County Select-a-List which makes available real estate listings not only from Ashley and Cox but also from several other real estate offices in the area.

One entire wall at the real estate offices in both Howell and Novi is covered with 8 by 10 inch color photographs of the homes available.

Likewise, additional information concerning Ashley and Cox Real Estate is given daily on WHMI radio station.

Ashley and Cox employs over 35 qualified salesmen who are able to communicate with their offices through the use of nine mobile units and two-way radios.

In order to serve the public promptly and courteously, Ashley and Cox also offers free notary service.

J. L. RAGON, Division Vice President of T. G. & Y. Scott Stores Co., has announced the signing of a lease for a 30,000 square foot, Scott Family Center to be constructed in a shopping center on Seven Mile Road in Northville township.

Other tenants in the center include a 30,000 square foot A & P Supermarket and Perry Drugs.

T. G. & Y. is an Oklahoma based firm which began operations in 1936, with headquarters, general offices and warehouse in Oklahoma City. The first T. G. & Y. store was opened that same year in Norman, Oklahoma. Today T. G. & Y. operates over 800 variety and family center stores in a 30 state area.

T. G. & Y. considers its stores to be of three classes; one is the expanded variety store, primarily convenience merchandise ranging to about 15,000 square feet in size and carrying limited junior department store lines; secondly, the Family Center unit ranging from 16,000 to 30,000 square feet; and thirdly, the larger Family Center units of over 30,000 square feet. Depending upon the size of these Family Center units, they go heavily into sporting goods, hardware, wearables, fabrics, automotive lines and several other departments. Some of the larger T. G. & Y. Scott Centers include outdoor garden and lawn sales.

IT DOESN'T seem to make much difference whether a person is a top business executive, doctor, teacher, worker on an assembly line, farmer, television repairman, or carpenter...they all like recreational vehicles.

One of the big reasons is that RVs are manufactured in every price range and thus are available to those in all segments of the American public.

Those owning RVs range from a median age of 44 to retirees in the 60 and over age group.

The youngest group, median of 44, own camping trailers. Truck camper owners average 47, travel trailer owners 54 and the motor homes owners in the 60s. Retirees own many of the travel trailers and motor homes, pushing up the age bracket.

All will be represented among the 160,000 persons who are expected to attend the sixth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer show, February 10-18, in the Detroit Artillery Armory on West Eight Mile Road.

The impact of these RV owners on other segments of the economy is shown in a recent survey by Wheels Afield, a leading industry publication.

The study shows that 70.4 per cent used credit cards on their recreational travels. They spent $500 to $999 (33½ per cent), or $1,000 to $1,999 (24 per cent) or

Auto Owners May Deduct Gas Taxes

Michigan motorists who itemize deductions on their federal income tax returns may include as deductible items several of the costs incidental to owning and operating an automobile, Automobile Club of Michigan points out.

Auto Club lists the following deductions to which all car owners are entitled:

State gasoline taxes. In Michigan, seven cents per gallon. (Divide the miles per gallon into the total miles driven in 1972 to get the number of gallons of gas used. For the amount deductible, multiply gallons used by seven cents.)

Interest paid on automobile loans and so called "finance charges" on revolving charge accounts used to purchase gasoline, oil or accessories.

State sales tax on purchase of new or used car, parts, accessories and supplies.

Casualty losses not reimbursed by insurance or other means, if not due to willful negligence. (Deduction for damage to property used for personal purposes is limited to the amount of each loss in excess of $100.)

Persons itemizing deductions may claim as a charitable contribution any actual unreimbursed out-of-pocket expenses of operating an automobile in the course of services to a charitable organization.

Similarly, the actual expenses of using an automobile to obtain medical or dental services may be claimed as a medical expense.

In lieu of itemizing actual costs, a standard rate of six cents per mile for such mileage, plus any parking fees and tolls, may be used in figuring deductions for charitable contributions and medical expenses.

Auto Club reminds motorists that the cost of license plates and driver licenses are not deductible items, unless car is used for business purposes.

If a car is used for business, the following items (in whole or part, depending upon the extent of business use) are deductible:

- Auto Club dues.
- State automobile license plate fees.
- Driver license fees.
- Automobile insurance premiums.
- Car depreciation.
- Judgment for damages due to negligent driving.
- Gasoline, oil and lubricating expenses (also anti-freeze and winterizing charge).

Loss on sale of automobile. Cost of repairs, maintenance and accessories. Washing and polishing expenses.

Garage rent, parking charges and toll road fees.

A person who operates his own automobile for business purposes may, if he chooses, figure the cost of such operation by taking a standard mileage rate under certain conditions, instead of maintaining detailed records and itemizing the actual provable costs.

(The standard mileage rate is 12 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles, of business driving, and 9 cents per mile for additional business mileage.)

A log should be kept of mileage and parking and toll charges accumulated during business use.

Auto Club points out that costs incurred in driving from home to a regular place of employment and returning home are not tax deductible.

Automobile expenses incurred in connection with business use should be computed, on Internal Revenue Service Form 2106, which should be attached to the individual income tax return.

Journey into History

'Explorer's Trip' Planned

LANSING—Louis Joliet, Canadian born explorer-fur trader, and Father Jacques Marquette, Jesuit missionary, set out from St. Ignace, Michigan in 1673 to explore the great river to the west called Mississippi.

With them went five French voyageurs, the seven traveling in two birch bark canoes. Their expedition was the first to penetrate the heartland of the new country that was to become the United States 100 years later, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

On the 300th anniversary of this historic voyage, May 17, 1973, seven 20th Century voyageurs will embark from St. Ignace to retrace the route of Joliet and Father Marquette. The course of their four-month journey will be historically accurate and authenticity will govern other aspects of the trip. The men will wear hand-made costumes fashioned after those worn by their 17th Century counterparts.

A Jesuit priest will make the journey as Father

Marquette. All seven men are learning French and the rhythmic songs of the early voyageurs. The 20-foot canoes, however, will be constructed of fiberglass with white cedar

Beefed up 'Shield Law' Proposed

LANSING

What is a "shield law?" People will be hearing much about this sort of thing in coming weeks. Solid shield laws are in public interest, and it is important that people understand about them.

Who would be "shielded" under bills now proposed for Michigan?

Shield laws, in effect, say no court, no grand jury, no legislative committee can force a reporter to divulge the sources of confidential information he has secured. It would give reporters and their sources no more rights than already are held by lawyers or doctors and their clients and patients.

IN ACTUAL PRACTICE, it is not the reporter who is shielded by the law, but the source of the information; the person who wants to give information of value to the public but is afraid of economic or physical reprisal.

There are many instances in which it is necessary to protect the source of the information in order for the information to come forth. A hypothetical case could involve a city employee who knows of kickbacks to fellow employees by city contractors. The employee wants to expose what is going on, but he has a wife and several children at home and his superior is one of those on the take. He could lose his job.

With shield law protection this man could alert a reporter about what is going on with little fear of personal reprisal by his superior. The reporter could protect his identity. But if the reporter could be forced to identify the source, he would not come forth with his information and the situation would not be uncovered. The public would be the loser.

MICHIGAN has a shield law now which protects news people from grand jury contempt citations only, but that is not enough. Now several people in Lansing are moving to correct the situation.

A four bill package was introduced by Representative Jackie Vaughn, III, D-Detroit, and is now before the judiciary committee. The bills would make it impossible for news people to be cited for contempt because they did not divulge the source of information they have to a court, grand jury or legislative committee.

They would also specify that communications between reporters, agents or employees of the print or electronic media would be considered privileged information similar to the relationship between doctors and their patients or lawyers and their clients.

EARLIER ATTEMPTS to pass a law by Sens. Richardson, R-Saginaw, and Jerome T. Hart, D-Saginaw, were not successful. Both senators indicate that shield bills they introduced in last year's session of the legislature will be pushed harder this year.

And Governor William G. Milliken has done a great deal of research in the area. He will be making some proposals of his own.

The basic point is not one of personal exemptions for reporters. It is the right of the American people to be told as much as possible about their government and what it is doing.

One thing it would be wise for all to remember is this: there have been many instances where a government closed all the newspapers and dried up the flow of information to the people. Never have newsmen taken over and closed down a government. The true danger to freedom for all can only come from restricting the flow of information to the people who make the ultimate decision about who shall run the government.

A STUDY of textbooks by evaluators, not students, concluded that social studies textbooks used by Michigan students are getting better, but some still need to be improved.

The State Board of Education, which undertook the evaluation, found that 25 percent of the 25 textbooks rated by a group of 46 educators are in a "poor" category. Each person involved reviewed three of the books, producing 75 ratings altogether.

Of those ratings, eight were "very good", 15 were "good", 31 were "fair" and 21 "poor".

A SIMILAR review made several years ago showed "virtually no textbooks were adequate" in dealing with the many facets of American society.

"Although it is disappointing to find such a preponderance of ratings on the negative side, especially when one considers the number of students who will inevitably read these books," the report said, "it is gratifying to find that at least some textbook publishers seem to be doing a better job including in their works elements that reflect the multi-racial, multi-ethnic and pluralistic nature of our society."

ANOTHER recommendation of the board was that social studies teachers be "extremely wary" of using only textbooks as instructional tools in the classroom.

It said that even the best textbooks need to be supplemented by library books, magazines, newspapers and other publications dealing with the subject being studied.

Babson Report

Silver Prices Continue to Climb

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Reflecting increased industrial demand and a decline in warehouse stocks, silver prices moved higher throughout 1972. With the domestic economy likely to heat up further, consumption may well post another increase this year and widen the consumption-production gap.

Moreover, continued turmoil on international money markets could stimulate speculative demand. With warehouse stocks still on the decline, the outlook favors additional price gains as 1973 unfolds.

After reaching an all-time high of $2.56½ in mid-1968, the New York silver price (as published daily by Handy & Harman) fell sharply until mid-1969. Prices then moved more or less sideways until the decline was resumed in 1971. After falling below $1.30 an ounce in late 1971, the lowest level since 1963, prices began to move higher. As the economy picked up and demand for silver increased, the price continued to improve and by the end of last year had made its way back to near $2.00 an ounce.

HANDY & HARMAN, in its latest annual review of the silver market, estimates that industrial consumption of silver in the United States was up about 10 percent over the 1971 level. Almost all major categories registered an increase last year.

While the electrical and electronic category showed the largest gain, other segments chalking up a good increase were photography (the largest consuming category), sterling ware, and commemorative and collector arts. The latter category has registered significant gains in recent years.

CONTRARY to demand, new production of U.S. silver dropped off somewhat last year. Again, according to Handy & Harman, U.S. production receded to 38 million ounces in 1972 compared with 41.6 million in 1971. Thus, while domestic consumption was up about 10 percent last year, output was off almost 9 percent. On a worldwide basis, total industrial consumption rose about 6 percent, while consumption for coinage increased from 27.3 million ounces to 40.5 million.

Thus, total world silver consumption (excluding communist-dominated areas) was up approximately 9 percent. On the other hand, new output (also excluding communist-dominated areas) dropped off some 2 percent last year.

There are, of course, other supplies of silver, such as demonetized coins, speculative holdings, salvage, and fairly large quantities in the form of religious and artistic articles. So, although the last of the weekly auctions by GSA ended in November 1970, other sources of silver are available. There is, of course, always the question of how much of this other silver will be on the market at any given price.

WITH INDUSTRIAL activity likely to quicken further in the current year, domestic demand for silver will probably rise again in 1973. This will keep upward pressure on silver prices over coming months. If the international monetary situation fails to stabilize, speculative demand may also rise, lending further support to the higher price trend. Longer term, the price trend, supported by the production-consumption gap, appears almost certain to move higher.

The price level at any specific time, however, will depend on a great many variables, especially speculative demand and psychological attitude.

At the present time, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is maintaining a hold position on both Hecla Mining and Sunshine Mining, two leading domestic silver producers that should benefit from the higher price for silver.

Judgment or Mercy

Rev. Philip M. Seymour
Novi United Methodist Church

One of the most fascinating, yet most frightening, of all Christian beliefs is our faith in the final judgment. The Revelation of St. John the Divine paints such a vivid picture of the final days that when I read it I can see those many events flash across the movie projector of my mind. Scenes of hordes of people waiting to discover what their fate is to be. Angels with scrolls and bowls, monsters, lambs, white-clothed elders and a throne. It is a fascinating book which is not often taken to heart.

Judgment. It is a hard word to support in one's own life since its demands are so high. We need to keep our sinning at a minimum, to try and keep from hurting those around us, and to attempt to live as servants of the one Father of us all, for when we fail at any point, judgment will fall upon us since we have fallen short of our responsibility.

Yet this is the kind of judgment our American society seeks. Not only in the religious sense of the final judgment day, but in the cries of "law and order," cries for punishment for all crimes. There are voices seeking a relaxation of the guidelines defining what vote is necessary for a jury trial to convict. There are voices seeking stiffer, less flexible rules for sentencing people to prison and how and when they can seek parole, and other voices demanding that men who answered their conscience and refused to fight in Vietnam be judged guilty and punished. Judgment has become the cry of the land.

But let us pause and take a look into our own life, yours and mine. Do you want judgment for the many deeds committed in your life? For the day you hurt your sister because she had made you angry? For the time you talked down your fellow worker when the two of you were up for a promotion? For the time you snubbed your neighbor because you felt she had snubbed you the week before? For the time you told your family to stop basking because you were tired? Examine your life and ask: Do I truly want judgment for all the wrongs committed in my life, or do I want mercy, the kind of forgiveness which can heal the wounds of alienation and hatred?

Let us all look to the words of Jesus, the words of the Lord's prayer: "Our Father...forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us." As individuals, and as a people, we need to fall on our knees and pray for mercy, not judgment.

Beehive

Tier upon tier, window by window, modern apartment and office buildings are like human beehives. The people who live and work in them are often as busy as bees, too. Each day rushes by, each hour is filled, and when morning comes, it starts all over again.

Monotonous? Well, sometimes it is both monotonous and discouraging to live and work in a beehive. It seems as if you're just a drone, as if individuality has flown out the window. But is this true?

Whether you live in a palace or a penthouse, a hut or a one-room efficiency, you are you. Your uniqueness is your God-given gift. Your potential to be different, your capacity for accomplishment, is infinite.

If you've lost sight of that fact, you've been forgetting something — like going to church, maybe?

GOOFY and his friends are squeezing laughs from children and adults in the fourth edition show of "Disney on Parade," which continues through Sunday at the Olympia stadium in Detroit.

Here's How

Protect Hot Dog?

Consumers who want to help protect Michigan's strict comminuted meat standards, for such products as hot dogs, sausages and luncheon meats, still have time in which to file their comments with the United States Department of Agriculture.

B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said his agency has been receiving phone calls and letters from consumers who want to go on record supporting the Michigan standards.

Public comments on a proposal by USDA to change some labeling and ingredient standards should be sent to: Hearing Clerk, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250. Ball said letters must be filed in duplicate, and the deadline is February 21.

Ball explained that USDA proposes an administrative rule change under the Federal Wholesome Meat Act that would permit manufacture of comminuted meat products made to two different sets of standards, provided ingredients are identified on the labels.

MDA, with strong support from consumers across the country, and the Michigan

Congressional delegation, is still pushing for an amendment to the Wholesome Meat Act which would give states the right to set stricter ingredient standards than those established by federal regulation.

"At the same time," Ball explained, "consumers need to take advantage of this opportunity to improve the federal standards by commenting on the USDA proposal. Otherwise, we could be left with inadequate federal standards if Michigan lost its case in the U.S.

Supreme Court and the Congressional amendment was defeated.

"Claims that Michigan's stricter standards mean higher prices are about as difficult to swallow as hot dogs containing by-products made to federal standards," Ball said.

A year ago MDA conducted a survey of comminuted meat products in neighboring states. These samples, all containing by-products which are banned in Michigan but permitted under federal law, were being sold for about the same price as Michigan products which are made with only skeletal meat.

"We welcome any factual data on comparative prices," Ball said, "and are pleased that consumer group representatives are planning to conduct a survey of prices across the nation.

"In the meantime," he added, "idle speculation about comparative prices can only alarm and mislead consumers."

$2,000 to $4,999 (7 per cent). Even with RV travel inexpensive, these owners spend money. One thing they don't spend it on is high motel rents...or in expensive restaurants.

What are their interests? Mainly camping (97 per cent), fishing (77 per cent) and hunting (43 per cent). Skindiving and skiing and snowmobiling are rising in popularity.

They drink soft drinks (90 per cent), beer (41 per cent), wine (18 per cent) and liquor (26 per cent).

RV people are a lot like stay-at-home people. The only difference is that they have more fun at more different places.

All In A Week's Work ..

CAGE TALK

That's Sports Editor John Beckett of The Brighton Argus getting a recap from Hartland's basketball coach, Jerry Doerr. Reporters for The Argus, Northville Record-Novi News and South Lyon Herald can be found at a variety of community events—from governmental meetings to sports contests. They're involved in the everyday activities of the community and they report them to you weekly in your community weekly newspaper.

FOR NEWSPAPER PEOPLE...

A day's work may include covering an athletic contest, then writing about it. Or it may be helping a local merchant plan an advertisement for a sale. Or it may be the announcement of the death of a local resident; or the birth of the community's newest resident. It could be delivery of the newspaper to your home. Whatever the assignment, a "week's work" means getting your community newspaper to your home on time filled with all the happenings of your community in words and pictures. The job is performed by people who live and work in your town. You can help them do a better job by first reading your community newspaper weekly and becoming better informed, and by thinking of your friends at the newspaper when you have a news item to report, or a want ad to place.

Just say the word to the right people and soon it's all over town. That's how the grapevine works. But there's one way to spread the word even faster — with a Quick-Action Want-Ad.

When you are looking for something to buy, or have something to sell, tell about it with a Want-Ad. Your story will go out to all of our readers (there's over 90,000 of them) just the way you tell it. And that's SOME grapevine.

The right people are the friendly AD-visors you call at our three offices. And the best thing yet, a 12 word Want-Ad costs only $1.85. Do tell!

Stan King announces that there is a need for a vigorous Shrine Club in this area and invites all area nobles to come to meet their brothers and lend their support.

Journey

ribs, that photographs like birchbark, according to Ralph Frese, Chicago canoe builder and organizer of the expedition.

The route of the 1973 voyage of discovery will cover 2,500 miles, as mapped by Joliet. From St. Ignace, the canoeists will follow the north shore of Lake Michigan to Point Detour, from there, they will island hop to Green Bay, Wisconsin, make their way up the Fox River, portage to the Wisconsin River then south to the Mississippi continuing south on the Mississippi to the mouth of the Arkansas.

On the return trip, they will take a short cut to Lake Michigan (as did Joliet and Marquette), following the Illinois River, from a point near Alton, to Chicago then northward to Green Bay.

Cities and towns along the route are planning events and celebrations around the explorers' schedule. The Michigan Tourist Council, the Chamber of Commerce and City of St. Ignace, the Father Marquette Historical Productions Association and the Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreation Association are formulating plans for a gala bon voyage for the voyagers.
