WIDENING of Main Street, along the frontage of the Northville Square development, has been proposed by Mayor A. M. Allen and is to be discussed soon with the developer. The mayor suggested widening be considered before Main at this point is repaired. Part of the street was torn up for installation of utilities for the development.

HEARING on an appeal to the city board of appeals by the First Baptist Church of Northville has been postponed until Thursday, February 22. The church seeks variances to permit expansion. On January 3, the matter was left in limbo when the board cast a favorable 5-2 vote. Approval requires a two-thirds (6) vote of the nine member board. Two of the members, Luke Durst and Ray Westfall, decided to abstain from voting because they are members of First Baptist's building committee.

DEADLINE for payment of Northville township taxes without penalty has been extended to February 28. The action was unanimously taken by township trustees last week.

LIBRARY BOARD members are expected to issue a strong recommendation soon, suggesting that the former community building (township hall and school administrative building) be made a library replacing the present facilities. Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright, School Superintendent Raymond Spear and City Manager Frank Ollendorff already have indicated it is a "sound proposal" and they have pledged their full support.

SOIL EROSION and landscape ordinances, suggested by the Northville Beautification Commission, have been referred to the city manager and city attorney for study and recommendation to the council.

BASED on review of the budget expenditures from July of 1972 through January of this year, it appears the city will end the year in the black in every category, councilmen have learned. However, the public service budget "may be close," said the city manager.

RE-ELECTED

William McLaughlin, who lives in Northville at 592 Reed, was re-elected chairman of the Michigan Republican State Central Committee last weekend.

Should Annexation Question Go to Voters?

Nearly 100 persons turned out Friday night at the Highland Lakes meeting house to hear a discussion by proponents and opponents of annexation of the township to the city.

Participants included City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Township Trustee John MacDonald, speaking for annexation; and Mark Lysinger and Robert Adams, residents of the township, speaking against annexation.

Sponsored by the Highland Lakes Women's Club, the forum called for a format limited to discussion of current efforts to petition for an election on the question. But before the meeting was over the speakers were forced, by questions asked, to break the ground-rules and discuss briefly their arguments for and against unification.

Early in the question and answer period, Highland Lakes residents asked that questions be limited to residents when two non-residents, Martin Cayley (husband of Township Clerk Sally Cayley) and Joseph Fiorilli, began commenting and asking questions.

Mrs. Cayley apologized and said she was unaware that the meeting was open only to residents of Highland Lakes. Basic arguments of the two sides were these:

By Adams and Lysinger—Residents have the right and should sign petitions calling for an election because of the importance of the issue;

By MacDonald and Ollendorff—Residents have the right to petition but should not do so if they favor unification in the interest of saving time and money.

Taking the position that the township form of government "is the best form of government for us," Lysinger urged residents to sign a petition calling for the referendum "because we feel the majority of the people in the area should decide this issue—not five men in Lansing (reference to the state boundary commission)."

He quoted excerpts from Northville Record editorials supporting settlement of the question by election.

Arguing that unification will eliminate costly and divisive duplication of government, MacDonald said, "I'm not anti-vote. If you decide you want to sign a petition, fine. But if you're for annexation then there is really no reason to sign a petition since it will become a fact much sooner and at much less expense to you the taxpayer if we do it by March 31 rather than wait for an election in July or August."

Concerning that election, MacDonald said he has learned from state and county officials that the earliest an election can be expected here, if petitioning succeeds, is late next summer.

"The real election we should be concerned with," said MacDonald, "is the election that could be held within 60 days after annexation becomes effective on March 31. That is an election open to the whole area to vote for the (new city officials)."

Such an election, he added, would mean "we would be working as and for one

Township Eyes Fire Marshal

Northville Township took a preliminary step last week Tuesday to set up its own fire department.

Agreeing by a 4-2 vote (Treasurer Joseph Straub and Trustee John MacDonald dissenting), the board directed its attorney to prepare an ordinance establishing a fire department and fire bureau in the township.

If adopted, the ordinance would allow the township to hire a full time fire marshal.

The motion, made by Clerk Sally Cayley and supported by Trustee Richard Mitchell, also won the favorable vote of Supervisor Larry Wright and Trustee Leonard Klein. Trustee Charles Schaeffer had not yet arrived at the meeting when the matter came to a vote.

Presented by Trustee Mitchell, chairman of the township's fire study committee, the department would be "in name only," he stated.

Mitchell, speaking for the study committee, proposed hiring a full time fire marshal for Northville township.

The idea was first suggested to the board several months ago when the study committee presented its preliminary report.

The first person to be hired when the township created its own fire department, the report said, should be a fire marshal who also could assist in planning the fire station.

The fire station would be housed in the planned fire-police-municipal office complex on Six Mile Road near Winchester Road. A building authority was later created with this project in mind.

According to Supervisor Larry Wright, no estimates have been made on the salary for a full time fire marshal.

He added that he doesn't "know why City Fire Chief Bud Hartner could not be the fire marshal" for the township and that the possibility was "being looked into."

Currently, the township contracts with the City of Northville for fire protection and owns some equipment outright and is part owner

Winter Mars Vision of Spring

Following close on the heels of an "unusually mild" December and January, 'ol man winter served notice last week that spring's still a long way off by dumping his heaviest snowfall of the season here. And if that wasn't enough to mar motorists' visions of early spring, temperatures dipped to near zero and zapped the life out of scores of automobiles.

Assessments Stir Citizens

Budget Storms Brewing

When budget time rolls around for local government units citizens are likely to challenge any "unreasonable" increases.

At least that appeared to be the tenor of a meeting held Sunday afternoon when nearly 45 persons, upset by recent assessment increases, mapped their strategy in the wake of those increases.

"Individually, we're not very effective but together we can make them (officials) listen," advised Douglas Lucas in addressing the group at the Northville Methodist Church.

"Our purpose," he said, "is not to shut off funds but to make sure funds expended are reasonable in view of the (assessment) windfall."

City, township and school budgets will be carefully analyzed, he promised. Hopes that millage rates can be cut back in view of assessment increases were expressed.

Perhaps more important to citizens gathered for the meeting were their individual assessments.

Lucas advised citizens that little can be done to collectively protest increases, but he urged them, if they feel their individual assessments are unjustified, to demand explanation and, if still dissatisfied, to protest at the upcoming board of review hearings.

"If your assessment is about 50-percent of your home's market value it's probably fair," Lucas said, "but if it is not be sure to appeal."

Where doubt exists he encouraged citizens to compare their properties with other similar properties. Assessment books are available at the municipal offices, he said.

Another means of ensuring a fair assessment, citizens were told, is to have properties appraised to see if indeed they are assessed at 50-percent of market value.

Because increased assessments will produce "substantially" more revenue for the three local units of government, citizens appeared to agree that their biggest hope is that millage rates will be rolled back.

"We've got a lot of questions that must be answered (above public expenditures)," stated Lucas. "If we prepare now we'll be ready when the budgets come up."

Among specific expenditures likely to get a thorough examination, as suggested Sunday, are monies spent for downtown parking and for salaries of school administrators.

A different, less costly route for the so-called "Cady Street Storm Sewer" appears likely in view of Northville Council action Monday authorizing preparation of engineering drawings.

The proposed new sewer, which would service the downtown area, now is likely to extend directly south from the Cady-Center street intersection to the river at Seven Mile Road.

Initially, a route south on Center and then west across the Cole-Northville Downs property (north of the clubhouse) to the branch of the Rouge River was planned.

At the suggestion of Mayor A. M. Allen, however, the alternate route was explored, and, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff, it apparently will cost approximately $20,000 less.

The updated estimated cost of the originally considered route has been pegged at $208,000, compared to $184,000 for the new route.

Admittedly, the new route would not provide immediate drainage of the Downs property, Allen said, "but that's private property and we're interested in what's good for city."

But Councilman Paul Folino, though voting with other councilmen in authorizing the engineering for the new route, questioned the wisdom of the new route.

The Center Street to Seven Mile route, he argued, also would be serving private property on the west side of Center Street. He insisted the original route also would service Cady Street east of Center, although the city manager contended present drainage on Cady is adequate.

When the mayor cut off discussion of the matter by Folino, after the vote, saying it had been discussed enough, the councilman replied, "Well, I don't think we've discussed it enough," and the council turned to other matters.

According to Ollendorff, hopefully part of the sewer project can begin this coming summer.

Council also authorized final drawings for a new water line on Wing, from Cady to Main, and installation of a water pit at the southeast corner of the city hall park.

Cost of this project is estimated at $46,205.

Officials noted that the new line will beef up water pressure to the downtown area which merchants have charged is inadequate in view of pressures that occurred during recent fires last year.

The line would be laid along the west curb-line of Wing.

Received from info officials,

DAY OF NOSTALGIA—Mrs. Paul Beard donned a long skirt for the meeting of Northville Woman's Club last Friday at which she took members on a sentimental journey through 80 years of club history. To recall fashions of those days, Mrs. Kenneth Pickl, social chairman of the day, created a display of yesteryear costumes worn by early residents. They pose here with real nosegays, the inspiration of Mrs. Robert B. Fair, a social committee member and flower designer at Lila's.

Hutchinson-Lipa Vows Repeated

White fugi mums and ivy decorated the Robinson Chapel of Central United Methodist Church in Muskegon for the February 3 marriage of Martha Adele Hutchinson and Mark Anderson Lipa.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hutchinson of Muskegon and Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Lipa of 900 Spring Drive.

The 6 p.m., double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Jongewaard.

A gown of white brocade was chosen by the bride. The dress was styled with a gathered skirt which fell from the empire waistline, a natural neckline and long sleeves with a ruffle at the cuff. The bridal bouquet was a nosegay of white roses and baby's breath.

As maid of honor, Cathy Tenhare of Hudsonville wore a blue brocade dress styled like the bride's and carried a nosegay of white roses and baby's breath.

David Schmidt of Northville was best man.

After the ceremony, a dinner for 75 wedding guests was given at the Muskegon Masonic Temple.

The couple honeymooned in the Upper Peninsula and is now at home in Charlevoix.

Mrs. Lipa attended high school in Muskegon and Nazareth College where she studied nursing.

Her husband, a Northville High School graduate, holds a degree from Michigan State University and spent two years in active duty with the United States Navy.

Newlyweds Move to Ohio

Following their January 20, marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Frank James Hicks traveled to Columbus, Ohio, where the bridegroom is studying at the Ohio Institute of Technology. The bride is the former Patricia Ann Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Blackwell of Pinckney. Mr. and Mrs. Blaine D. Hicks, 20299 Silver Spring, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Reverend Robert Diekema performed the 2:30 p.m. ceremony at Anathoth Baptist Church in Pinckney. Bouquets of mums decorated the church.

The bridegroom's aunt, Erma Brownlee of Northville, provided special piano music for the ceremony, and Sue Snow, the bridegroom's sister, sang "One Heart, One Hand."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of lace which was complimented by a lace train and veil. Her bouquet was an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses and white mums.

Wearing a floor length dress of pink nylon was maid of honor Vickie Kay Hamilton. The dress was accented with a green velvet tie belt. She carried pink sweetheart roses.

Linda Louton was a bridesmaid in a gown of teal blue nylon with a teal blue tie belt. She, too, carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

The bride's cousins, Cheryl and Ricky Beaudry, were flower girl and ring bearer.

Serving as best man was Curt Ritenour of Northville. He was assisted by David Louton, Eddie Hamilton and Tom Beaudry who ushered guests.

The bridegroom is a 1971 Northville High School graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are now at home in Columbus.

That's a Lot Of Cookies!

The Five troops of Girl Scouts in Novi this year succeeded in selling more cookies this year than in 1972.

According to Mrs. Gerald Nothnagel, division captain for Novi, the girls sold 4,690 boxes. Last year's total was 4,296 boxes.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

WORLD DAY of Prayer, the annual service to which everyone in the community is invited, has a new theme this year and a new meeting time. The service will be held at 10 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Northville on Friday, March 2, with a coffee preceding it at 9:30 a.m.

"Alert in Our Time" will be the worship theme, Mrs. Douglas Willoughby of the host church announces. It was the idea of Mrs. Willoughby, a new resident of the community in Lexington Commons North, to have a morning worship service. She reports it was most successful in her former home in Alabama.

World Day of Prayer, as in past years, is co-sponsored by Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, Novi United Methodist Church and Northville United Methodist Church. As always, all residents of the area are urged to participate in the annual service conducted by women in churches throughout the world.

The parlor and meeting rooms of Northville's First Presbyterian Church are the regular meeting rooms for two groups of which the community may not be aware. AA and Al-Anon meet at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday and Friday nights.

An average of 15 persons, the majority women, gather in the parlor for the Al-Anon meetings. Al-Anon, a spokesman explains, is for "anyone who is bothered by someone else's drinking." It may be, and usually is, a husband's, but it also can be the drinking of any member of a family.

Coffee and tea are served but they're "just incidental" to the purpose of the meeting: to find better ways of living with someone who has a drinking problem and to develop themselves into more mature persons. Those attending are from different faiths as the group stresses that it meets in the church but is not strictly a church group. It welcomes anyone who has someone who presents a drinking problem. Northville has no teen group, but there is one in Livonia.

Usually, Al-Anon meetings are discussion sessions, but annually in early December the group holds an anniversary meeting with a guest speaker.

A COFFEE to explain the volunteer work of Northville State Hospital Auxiliary members in the gift shop at the hospital is scheduled for 10 a.m. next Thursday, March 1, at the home of Mrs. Bernard Baldwin, 19810 Meadowbrook Road.

"Many busy homemakers feel the need to fill the balance of time in their schedules with worthwhile activity," explains Mrs. Elwyn Kaake, auxiliary secretary-vice president. The auxiliary at this annual membership coffee hopes to reach women with a little free time. Newcomers to the community especially are welcome. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Baldwin at 349-0209.

The gift shop is the auxiliary's fund-raising project with all profits and proceeds going toward benefits for the patients and the hospital. Jane Kaake explains that purchases are items not ordinarily provided by the state—and may be as basic as shampoo, toothpaste and deodorant. The auxiliary sets aside sums for indigent patients without funds or families.

The basic procedure is for each auxiliary member to work in the gift shop from noon to 4 p.m. one set day a month with a set partner. As training each new worker works three months with an experienced volunteer.

TWO ART EVENTS—an exhibition and an auction—are upcoming in town. A ceramic exhibit of the work of Tom Naumoff will be at the Northville Gallery on Center Street from March 4 through 18 with an open house from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, March 4.

Danielle Tarnow, the Gallery partner with Donald Keyes, explains that most of the artist's pieces are practical pottery that can be used in the home but the exhibit also will have sculpture. The Gallery, incidentally, she reports, has been expanding its picture framing services.

AN ART AUCTION to help finance local student travel abroad this spring will be held March 1 at First Presbyterian Church in Northville. There is to be a preview from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. with the auction beginning at 8:30 p.m. It seems to be a fund-raiser first for the community.

Sponsored by the International Club and foreign language classes at the high school, the auction will be conducted by Fred Grossman of Gallery Art Center in Berkeley. Admission to the event is $1 with tickets now on sale by students and also available at the door. Ticket sale proceeds as well as a percentage of the sales will go toward helping students finance the trips.

Art will be sold at prices ranging from $5 to $500 and will include oils, water colors, etchings, prints, wood cuts and sculpture. Grossman is quoted as having a policy of "not having anything sold at auction for more than regular gallery price."

In addition to helping a cause, there could be the thrill for someone of buying an original Picasso (yes, there will be one.) Besides, local artist Marie Bonamicci says these art auctions are great fun to attend.

BABYSITTING CLINIC applications still are being accepted by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary for the third annual such clinic it has sponsored. It will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on six consecutive Tuesdays beginning March 13 at Cooke Middle School.

Designed for young people who will be babysitting soon, the clinic is open to both boys and girls, and features professional speakers. One session will be conducted by a life member of the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary, Mrs. Richard Norton, now a teacher in the Novi Cooperative Nursery.

Graduates of the program will receive certificates. Information and applications are available from Mrs. Sam Hall 349-6593.

AREA QUESTERS in their antiques study groups have been spending winter days "learning by touring." Base Line Club visited the Detroit Historical Society underground street of Early Detroit February 13 and had a candlemaking workshop conducted by a staff member there.

Next Monday, February 26, the chapter will meet at the Dunlap Street home of Mrs. Elroy Ellison. The hostess will present a paper on syrup jugs and show examples from her own collection. Members will have an opportunity also to glimpse her outstanding collection of pressed glass and Limoges.

Silver Springs Chapter yesterday, February 21, invited all area chapters to join them in a study trip to the Hagopian oriental rug firm in Detroit for an illustrated talk. Afterward the chapter held its monthly meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Milton Koenig. Here members will see the results of the Koenigs' research on New England homes. Milton Koenig, a Wayne State professor, has hand-crafted woodwork throughout the main floor with the wide moldings and fine detail on stair risers and ceilings seldom seen today. The patterned-brick circle driveway also was his work.

Seniors See Disney Show

Disney on Parade was enjoyed by 37 members of the Northville Senior Citizens Club on Wednesday, February 14.

According to Mrs. Richard Sharon, club president, the evening was a "memorable one" for all who attended. The tickets, she said were made available to the group through the Northville Recreation Department.

The women met recently for a planning session and to compare notes on what they might be wearing to Meadowbrook Country Club on March 10 for the dance. According to Mrs. Murany, the evening will begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m., continue with dinner at 7:30 p.m. and dancing will end at about 1 a.m. Tickets, at $20 a couple, are available from any Mothers' Club member until March 5. All proceeds from the dinner dance will go toward special needs in the Northville Schools.

Novi Meeting Set

Women Voters Form Unit

If enough interest is shown on the part of the women of Novi, a Novi unit of the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters might soon be a reality. In the last four months, a dozen Novi women have joined the Northville-Plymouth League. The interest which these women have shown in their community has prompted the League to sponsor a membership coffee next week in Novi to determine whether or not interest is great enough to consider forming a Novi unit.

According to Mrs. Charles Mutch, a Novi resident and League member, 10 to 20 active members will be needed to form a unit. The coffee is scheduled for Thursday, March 1, at 8 p.m. in Orchard Hills Elementary School, 41900 Quince.

Mrs. William Moak, another Novi League member, said the advantage to Novi having its own unit is the ability to form study groups on local issues.

The initial study item for the league members from Novi, she said, would be an in-depth survey of the city.

More information about the League and the possibility of the formation of a Novi unit within the Northville-Plymouth League can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Moak, 349-3138, or Mrs. Mutch, 349-6774.

Pick Mary Egbert For GOP Youth Post

Mary Egbert, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Egbert of Tecumseh, formerly of Northville, has been elected the third vice-president of the Michigan Republican Party.

Her election to the post means that she will serve as the youth chairman for the state party.

A 1971 Northville High School graduate, Miss Egbert is presently studying political science at Michigan State University where she resides at 663 Case Hall.

While in high school, she was active in the young Republican organization and was an honors student.

Among the awards she received as a high school senior were the VFW Voice of Democracy Award and the Womanhood trophy given by the Business and Professional Women.

News Around Northville

Northville residents Mrs. Mary Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. William Firman traveled to Trenton last weekend for the celebration on Sunday, February 19, of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bawl.

Bawl was a longtime Northville resident and a graduate of Northville High School. His parents were the late Dr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Bawl.

The anniversary party was given by the Bawl's children, Jon of Colorado and Mrs. Sally Goerke of Grosse Pointe, for about 50 people.

"Spotlight on Foods" will be the subject for the next meeting of the Northern Lites extension group.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the meeting will be held on Monday, February 26, in the home of Mrs. Thomas Wheaton, 412 Horton.

At recent elections of the Plymouth-Northville chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, three Northville residents were chosen for posts. They are Fred Bradley, president; Joseph Straub, vice-president; Mrs. Mildred McCrumb, secretary; and Mrs. Louise Bradley, director.

AARP will hold its February meeting at noon on Wednesday, February 28, at the Plymouth Presbyterian Church. A potluck luncheon will be followed by a business meeting and a special speaker.

"Leisure Time: How Can You Make It Count?" will be the title of a talk given by Mrs. Mary Moody Selden of Ann Arbor.

The Plymouth-Northville chapter invites anyone age 55 or over to join, whether retired or not.

Interested in planning a program in Northville township to celebrate the 200th birthday of the United States?

Township trustees last week voted to establish a committee of three members to plan bi-centennial celebration activities.

Persons interested are asked to contact Supervisor Larry Wright or Clerk Sally Cayley before March 13. They may be reached during regular business hours at 349-1600.

Northville Jaycees were granted permission by the council this week to conduct their annual soapbox derby on Maplewood Avenue again next summer. The derby has been set for June 23.

James L. Oliver, 323 Ely Drive, North has been named to the Dean's honor roll at Lawrence Institute of Technology for academic excellence during the past evening term.

Students placed on the honor roll must have maintained a 3.5 or better honor point average out of a possible 4 points awarded for an all-A record.

Oliver, a graduate of Garden City West High School, has maintained a 3.65 average in industrial management.

Novi Little League Forms Teams

A banquet on Wednesday, February 28, will officially bring to a close the 1972 baseball season for some 350 boys. Registration for the new 1973 season will begin the following day, Thursday, March 1. Boys will begin signing up for teams at 7:30 p.m. on the first and at the same time and place on March 2 and 3, it was announced by Novi Little League President Bill Burgan.

The Novi Little League held its first season some 20 years ago and has grown to include more than 350 boys participating in four divisions of the league.

The boys play and practice on three fields in Novi. They are Bosco Field on Beck Road, Orchard Hills School's field and the field at Novi-

Elementary School on Novi Road.

According to Burgan, many people are needed to keep a league the size of Novi's operating smoothly. Anyone wishing to volunteer his services is urged to contact Burgan at 476-5276.

The League president also announced that this year, the boys will be selling candy to raise funds for their baseball program. As an added incentive, he said, the boy who sells the most candy will be awarded a portable television set.

Burgan said the dates for the "candy" sale will be announced soon.

Novi Auxiliary Probes Sudden Infant Death

The Novi Jaycee Auxiliary, in cooperation with the National Foundation for Sudden Infant Death, is distributing information in Novi about the Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS).

SIDS is a disease which takes the lives of about 15,000 babies in the United States yearly.

The cause of the disease is unknown, but the fact is, Jaycees explain, that when the parents are faced with the unpredictable tragedy, the blame is very often needlessly placed on someone. It is those guilt feelings which the Foundation hopes to eliminate by informing parents that they are not to blame.

The Novi Auxiliary has placed information kits about SIDS in Novi churches, doctors' offices and the funeral home. In addition, they have also contacted the police and fire departments which will give information about the disease to their men.

Anyone wishing additional information about this project is urged to contact Mrs. James Deamud at 349-6081.

Study Anti-Poverty Goals

The West County Advisory Council will hold a public hearing to establish priorities for the anti-poverty program and to solidify the local advisory councils organization.

Edward P. Revis, executive director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, will be the keynote speaker.

The advisory council officers and staff are encouraging personnel from local governments, schools, public and private agencies, interested citizens and persons served by O.E.O. to attend the hearing.

The meeting will be held on Thursday, March 1, 1973 in the cafeteria of the Walled Lake Junior High School, 615 North Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, Michigan. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:33 p.m. and will adjourn at 9:27 p.m.

'Retired' Musicians Get Second Chance

By PHILIP JEROME

It all started a couple of years ago when two ex-musicians now residing in Novi were comparing, well, er...notes.

"Do you ever get the urge to get your old tuba down from the attic and start playing again," asked Ray Murphy.

"I do," responded Guy Smith.

And with that was born the concept of a Novi Community Band.

"Of course we didn't get it started at that time," said Smith, who is now the director of the first community band in the history of Novi. "We both thought it was premature at that time and that we should wait 'til Novi grows a little."

"But about a year ago Murphy came by and said I think it's time to try it and so we did."

Today the Novi Community Band is a threat to neither the Philadelphia Philharmonic or the Tiajuana Brass, but it is alive and well and flourishing every Monday night from 7-9 p.m. in the Music Room at Novi High School.

It's 20 members are about evenly divided between adults and high school students.

"The big thing about the band right now," said Murphy, "is the enthusiasm of the members. We have about 16 regulars who can't wait to get there and don't want to leave when nine o'clock rolls around."

Both Murphy and Smith are hoping that as Novi grows the band will get larger.

"For our 16 regulars we've got a pretty good variety of instrumentation," reported Murphy. "We've got trumpets, a french horn, a couple of trombones, a baritone horn, a tuba, some clarinets, and a couple of saxophones, a flute, and drums. It's a good blend, but we need more depth.

"We definitely need trumpets, drums, and another tuba right away."

Murphy and Smith come from quite different schools of music.

Murphy, who plays about 13 different instruments with varying degrees of efficiency, was head of the dance band in his college days at Holy Cross College in Worcester, Massachusetts.

Smith, on the other hand, comes from a more refined background.

"I've been studying music ever since I was 11 years old," he replied when questioned about his musical background. "I studied at the Chicago Conservatory of Music and the Vandercooke School of Music before I went to college and studied Instrumental Music."

As Smith continued, such names as Alexander Schuster from the Berlin Philharmonic, Water Poole, and Leopold Stowkowski flowed by among his musical credits.

All this experience qualifies him for the distinction of being the first director of the Novi Community Band.

Together Murphy and Smith give the band a broad repertoire of music. Smith, who also played in a circus band in his college days, arranges the more classical compositions, while Murphy brings along the more contemporary, up-beat type of music.

The resulting range in music from Bach to Bacharach is Proposed Bus Garage Revived by School

Despite strong opposition by one of its members, the Novi Board of Education dug a bus service garage plan from the scrap pile Tuesday and pumped new life into it.

The proposed bus facility, a controversial subject for nearly five years, drew a 5-1 vote when the board decided to negotiate a contract with the architect and a construction management specialist.

As initially planned the garage is to be built north of the high school near 11 Mile Road.

Two years ago the board scrapped the bus garage proposal when bids for it ranged upward to more than $130,000—considerably more than the board had hoped prices would approximate. The bids were rejected.

Latest persuader in revival of the project is the architect's (Lane, Reibe & Weiland) contention that utilization of the construction management technique will produce a less expensive facility.

While board officials are reluctant to estimate the building's cost, the architect and Construction Coordinators, Inc. strongly suggest it can be built for $122,000 or less—counting even construction cost increases occurring since the project was initially put out for bids.

Recommended by Superintendent Gerald Kratz, the construction management approach means the owner (board) becomes the general contractor.

"This system benefits the school district," said Dr. Kratz, "by the fact that any monies saved during the bidding process are returned to the Board of Education in total. Time is usually also saved in this method."

"The management construction approach encourages vigorous bidding of the sub-contracts and may reduce the total cost of the project. However, there are no guarantees that this will always happen since this method also must include a construction management fee which in the normal bidding process is absorbed by the general contractor."

Lone dissenter was Trustee William Moak, who after outlining his objections and suggesting consideration of three alternatives, concluded, "I am not ready to spend taxpayer money for this facility...until more investigation is made."

He seriously questioned whether or not sufficient monies are available in the building and site fund for its construction and he cautioned fellow board members against a "stampede to spend $150,000."

While Moak indicated he might be persuaded to change his position after a more intensive investigation by the board, he suggested the board consider——A bus maintenance contract with a dependable service station or similar enterprise.

—A shared facility with the City of Novi.

providing for periodic replacement of buses.

Noting recent cooperative efforts between the school board and the city council, Moak suggested that fresh discussion with the city for a shared facility might be more productive than was the case two years ago.

Board Secretary Ray Warren, a chief proponent of the garage for several years, took the position, as did other board members, that the matter had been more than adequately discussed over the years.

Basically, however, his major point was that the district is wasting money poured into bus repair work because it does not have a facility where buses can be adequately maintained. Bus maintenance is essential to the safety of children riding buses, he added.

Furthermore, the secretary pointed to recommendations of a transportation expert with the Michigan Department of Education indicating that the size of Novi's bus fleet (13 buses) suggests that the district "can't afford to be without a garage."

Wixom Precincts Set

CITY OF WIXOM

OAKLAND COUNTY MICHIGAN

WIXOM VOTING PRECINCTS — Spurred by long lines which kept the polls open until 11 p.m. at the November election and state rules limiting the number of registered voters per precinct, Wixom's city council has approved a plan dividing the city from one to three precincts. Shown on the map above, the outlines of the three new precincts are described in the story on this page.

Hopefully, the long lines and long waits which were experienced by Wixom voters in November are a thing of the past.

The city council last week authorized the use of $9,000 by City Clerk June Buck to set up three voting precincts within the city.

In November, as in past years, all of the 1,325 registered voters in Wixom were to cast their ballots at city hall. Come August, the voters will be voting in the newly established precincts.

In a letter to the council, Miss Buck stated, "the reason that the request is being made now is that the city is due for a primary election in August and new equipment must be purchased. In addition, voters have to be notified of the change."

The $9,000, she explained, will be used to purchase four new voting machines, pay the salaries of additional election workers, and notify voters of the precinct changes.

Precinct One has 636 registered voters. The area includes the northeast section of the city bounded by Loon Lake Road on the north, Potter Road on the south, Wixom Road on the west and Beck Road on the east. The polling place will be Loon Lake Elementary School.

There are currently 300 registered voters in Precinct Two. That L-shaped area begins its boundary at Pontiac Trail at the south, northeast on Beck Road to Potter Road and west to Wixom Road, north to Loon Lake Road, west to Napier Road and South to Pontiac Trail. The registered citizens there will vote at Wixom Elementary School.

The 388 registered voters who live in Precinct Three will go to Wixom City Hall to vote. That Precinct includes the remainder of the city from Pontiac Trail south.

When questioned by council members as to the use of the schools by the city for both the elections and the storage of the voting machines, Miss

Berry Blasts K & B

Councilman Denis Berry, who in the past has taken a soft-line approach in dealing with problems created by developer Kaufman and Broad (K&B), strongly criticized K&B in general and K&B vice-president Barry Stulberg in particular at Monday's Novi city council meeting.

"My strong words may come as a surprise to several of the other councilman who in the past have seen me stand up for K&B," said Berry. "But we've been misled just too often for me to go along with any of their requests for special favors any longer."

"We've had promise after promise after promise broken by Kaufman and Broad."

Berry's denunciation was prompted by a request from Kaufman and Broad for permission to construct the foundations for 50 homes in their Fairfield Farms subdivision prior to receiving final plat approval.

Representing K&B at Monday's meeting was Ronald Steinacker, who told the council that the request was being made in order to beat an embargo on gas service established by the gas company for April 15.

The gas company, Steinacker explained, will not extend services to any new construction which occurs after April 15. To beat the deadline, K&B need only have the foundations poured by that time.

Fairfield Farms is part of K&B's Village Oaks development bordering 10 Mile Road and immediately east of the Willowbrook subdivision.

The request received virtually complete and instantaneous opposition from the council.

"The only reason that we'll even look at this request," stated Mayor Joseph Crupi, "is the gas embargo. Otherwise, there would be no question that our answer would be no."

Involved in the council's opposition are promises made by K&B vice-president Barry Stulberg at the time a problem concerning Willowbrook Drive was being temporarily resolved in March of 1972.

At the March 20, 1972 meeting, Stulberg allegedly agreed that final plat approval for Fairfield Farms would be withheld and no construction in that area would begin until two roads leading from 10 Mile Road through Fairfield Farms back

Novi Council Leaves City Hall Chambers

If you noticed something familiar about the plush U-shaped table used by the Novi Board of Education Tuesday, there's a good reason for it.

It's really the city council table moved temporarily to the board of education conference room where both city and school officials will share it along with the city council chairs for an indefinite period.

Tuesday's council meeting at city hall marked the last time that building will be used by the city council. From now on the city council will meet in the school administration offices on Taft Road.

City and school meetings will be held in the board conference room, thus freeing the former council chambers for office personnel.

The former school board table, purchased a couple of months ago has been stored away, according to school officials, so that it can be used again when the U-shaped city table is moved to new quarters at some presently unknown future date. Board chairs are being used elsewhere in the administrative office building.

Home Care for Patients

Offer Nursing Course

An eight-week course in home nursing care for the seriously ill patient is scheduled to begin on Wednesday, February 28, according to Mrs. Susan Rosenfeld, Northville area chairman of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The course, she said, is being sponsored by the Cancer Foundation and the American Red Cross and will meet at 9:30 a.m. for two hours on eight consecutive Wednesdays.

Each session will be held at the Dearborn American Red Cross office which is located on South Telegraph at Oxford.

The course is open to the public and there is no charge. However, reservations must be made in advance by calling the Michigan Cancer Foundation at L05-1440 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on any week day or by stopping in at the Cancer Foundation office at 1112 North Telegraph, Dearborn.

The class is limited to 20 persons and reservations are taken on a first come, first served basis.

Mrs. Rosenfeld explained that the objective of the course is to help people better prepare themselves in the event their services are needed to take care of a seriously ill patient.

"The entire course," she said, "is taught by specially trained nurses. The first six classes are devoted to care methods for any seriously ill person, and the last two, zero in on special aspects for the care of cancer patients."

LaLeche Group Meets

The La Leche League of Northville, in conjunction with the Lamaze Childbirth Education Association, will present a film showing of "The Story of Eric" and "Birth" on Friday, February 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville City Hall.

The films, which are recent productions, show the Lamaze method of natural childbirth encompassing breastfeeding and the husband's role in childbirth. After the films, there will be a panel discussion concerning various aspects of childbirth and breastfeeding. Participating on the panel will be Dr. N. D. Lessani, a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, Mrs. Patricia VanBonn, a registered nurse and Lamaze instructor.

Also taking part in the discussions will be Mr. and Mrs. Aral Gribbel who will share their recent experience with the Lamaze method birth of their daughter.

Belly Dancing Class Filled

Response to an article asking for Novi women interested in Middle Eastern dancing otherwise known as belly dancing - has been so overwhelming that two classes have been organized.

"I originally thought I'd be lucky to get 20-25 women," stated Mrs. Pat Toschoff, who initiated the effort to start a belly dancing class in Novi. "But the phone has been ringing ever since the article appeared."

All told, Mrs. Toschoff received 62 calls from Novi, Northville, Farmington, Plymouth, and Milford.

The 62 ladies have been divided into two groups and sessions will begin Tuesday, March 6, in the Novi Community Building. The first group will meet from 7-8 p.m. with the second group taking lessons from 8:15-9:15 p.m.

The classes will be taught by a professional belly dancer.

According to Mrs. Toschoff, a few openings have been created by cancellations. Women interested in having their names placed on a waiting list

Novi Juniors to Serve Spaghetti

You don't even have to be Italian to attend the spaghetti dinner being served tomorrow (Friday, February 23) night by the Junior Class at Novi High School.

The dinner will be served from 5-7:30 p.m. in the High School Commons.

Profits will be used by the Junior Class to help pay for the Senior Prom they are sponsoring later this spring.

Students will be given a complete spaghetti dinner for $1.50, while adults will be charged $1.50. Also available is a "family plan" in which the entire family can eat for $5. There is an eight-member limit on the family plan, however.

Roger Pelchat, Junior Class president, urges everyone to come out to get a good meal and help pay for the senior prom.

Novi Youth Wins Trophy

There was something fishy going on at the Tel-Twelve Mall recently and Novi's Gil Spiers was part of it.

Spiers, a 15-year old Novi High School student, took a third place trophy in the "Tanks-A-Lot" Tropical Fish Exhibit and Competition sponsored by the Downriver Aquarium Society at the Tel-Twelve Mall February 15-18.

Spiers entered the "small natural" non-commercial competition in which contestants were to enter a 10 gallon tank exhibit composed entirely of natural, non-manufactured, makings.

Another Novi High School student, Ron Hardecki, showed two "oscar" - a type of tropical fish - in Spiers' exhibit.

Spiers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Spiers of 23672 East LeBost.

Hospital Post Goes to Coy

Lew Coy, of Wixom, Republican member of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners, has been appointed to a three year term on the county board of institutions.

The term expires in 1975.

As a member of the board, Coy, who is a registered nurse, will help oversee operation of the county hospital.

ART AUCTION—Northville High students Cindy Todd (left) and Karen Zabell show just two of many original art works to be auctioned off next Thursday, March 1. Sponsored by the International Club and foreign language classes at the school, the auction will include works of Chagall, Dali, Miro, Peter Max and many others. Prices will range between $5 and $500. Scheduled for the First Presbyterian Church, the preview begins at 7:30 p.m. with the auction set for 8:30 p.m. Admission is $1 and tickets may be obtained from Northville students or at the door. Proceeds will be used to finance student travel to foreign countries.

Dance Planned by Northville Policemen

Friday, April 27, is the date Northville Police Officers' Association has selected for its first policemen's ball.

Although it's still in the planning stages, the dance will be held at the Thunderbird-Hilton Inn, according to Corporal Bruce Deacon, association president.

Tickets will be available soon at the city police department or from any police officer.

Proceeds are earmarked for Northville's little league program, Mill Race historical village and local charities, Deacon said.

Highland Lakes Volunteers Form Fire, Rescue Squads

By MARTHA ROEMER

As far as the men who began the project know, nobody's ever done it before and they couldn't be happier about the way the whole thing is turning out.

"Ours is a personal service," each one of them is proud to say.

The men are residents of Highland Lakes in Northville Township. Their project is the formation of the volunteer Highland Lakes Ambulance and Fire Department Rescue Service.

The idea blossomed last October 15 when Jim Medbury went to volunteer his services to the Northville Fire Department and was told there were enough men serving at that time.

"I got to thinking," Medbury said, "that there is an awful lot of area for Northville to cover, and there are a lot of (housing) units here in Highland Lakes."

He and a neighbor, Sheldon Kelley, discussed the matter further and decided to do something about it.

Gradually, they got their Highland Lakes friends and neighbors involved and the Highland Lakes Ambulance and Fire Department Rescue Service grew from a nucleus of eight men to the present number of 28 volunteers.

Their idea, Medbury emphasized, is not to compete in any way with the Northville department, but to assist it in cases of fire or needed rescue service in Highland Lakes.

Northville Township Supervisor Larry Wright observed, "We think it is just great. There are certain legal roadblocks involved but we are not trying to stop them in any way."

One of those roadblocks, the Highland Lakes men explained, is whether or not they will be allowed to hook their fire fighting equipment into the Northville Township water lines.

"We are basically concerned about the safety of our families and friends," said Kelley. "If there is a fire in one unit and it spreads rapidly, a whole row of units can go in a hurry."

He also talked about the ambulance rescue service.

"With the four lakes here, we are concerned with safety of our children."

Ideas very often take money before they become a reality and the one fostered by Highland Lakes Fire Department Chief Medbury and Assistant Chief Kelley was no exception. It took money to seek out and finally purchase the used ambulance and fire truck on which they recently took delivery.

"What we did, was take a rough estimate on what it would cost," explained Kelley. "That came to about $15 a homeowner. Then we called people on the phone and knocked on doors asking the residents if they wanted to join the association." He added that presently about half of the Highland Lakes homeowners are members.

In the event of a fire or the need for ambulance rescue service, Medbury said, no one in Highland Lakes will be turned down. If the individual is not a member of the association, he will be charged for services rendered.

Each of the 28 men who is a volunteer has been participating in a six-week course in fire fighting which is being taught by various fire chiefs from the surrounding communities, including Northville. In addition, they have been given an extensive first aid training course by Highland Lakes resident Cornell Stamoran.

"All of the men are trained in cardiac massage," Stamoran said. "The course is a comprehensive combination rescue and first aid training."

When there is a fire in Highland Lakes, Medbury said, the members of the department will be notified by a "hot line system."

"We didn't want to use a siren," said Kelley, "because it might be confused with Northville's."

As soon as a fire is reported in Highland Lakes, a special telephone, installed in each volunteer's home, will ring. As the receiver is lifted, the volunteer will hear the location of the fire.

Before that happens, Medbury said, the Northville Fire Department will be notified. He explained that there will be a man stationed at the entrance of the condominium complex during each fire.

"His job will be to direct the Northville Fire Department to the fire as soon as they arrive on the scene. Then Northville will take over the fire fighting," Medbury said.

The fire fighting will have to wait until Northville Township decides on the wording used in the permission given to the Highland Lakes volunteers to use the water lines. Medbury said the ambulance rescue service will begin operation as soon as the telephone company completes the installation of the hot line network, hopefully in about a week.

"The people have been just great," Medbury said. "What we are trying to do is provide a personal, fast service and help each other. If we save one life in five years it will be worth it."

Kelley echoed Medbury's feelings, saying, "If the equipment rots, we'll be happy. That means we didn't have to use it."

A basement floor which is level with or below the natural water level must somehow resist the pressure of the water. If your basement is a wet one, you can often apply waterproofing to the floor and to the outer surfaces of the walls. This involves digging a ditch around the house to the depth equal to the level of the footings at the base of the foundation. After this is done, waterproofing in the form of fibrous membranes applied with hot asphalt is the next step. As you can see, it is a complicated business.

There's nothing complicated about shopping at NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Parents to Plan '73 Senior Party

Parents of Northville High School seniors are asked to attend a meeting to plan the all-night graduation party.

The organizational meeting is set for 8 p.m. Wednesday, February 28, in the high school cafeteria.

The planning session will include organization of the various committees of parents which will work on the traditional all-night graduation party.

Spokesmen for the seniors' parents note that the tradition began seven years ago when parents sponsored the first party at the high school. The party replaced the previous "party to party" type of celebration.

In the past seven years, the all-night party has followed graduation ceremonies, with the festivities beginning around 10:30 p.m., allowing the seniors time to change from their caps and gowns into casual dress.

Among the activities included at past parties have been live music, a buffet, breakfast and swimming, continuing until 4 a.m.

The spokesmen remind parents of the 1973 graduating class that their support and help is needed if the party is to continue. All parents are urged to attend Wednesday's planning session.

Children's Films Set

The first of three children's film festivals will be held at Schoolcraft College on Saturday, February 24.

The festivals are for children ages three to nine. They consist of films appropriately selected for this age group. Shows are at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., and admission is free.

"People and Places" is the theme for school age children the first Saturday. The films include "Boy of the Netherlands" and "Children of Scotland".

"Animal Stories" have been selected for the pre-schoolers and include "Adventures of a Chipmunk" and "The Little Rooster Who Made the Sun Rise".

The films are shown in the Liberal Arts Theater on the Schoolcraft Campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Free coffee will be served to parents who attend.

On March 17 the festival will feature "Folk and Fable" films including "Little Folk Tales" for the pre-schoolers, and on April 28 the theme will be "Springtime".

New Voting Precincts for Northville School District

Northville-Plymouth Line

Boundary Change Studied

Northville School District's southwestern boundary may be evened out if a proposed change is agreed upon by the Northville and Plymouth districts and by three intermediate school boards.

Involved would be the area of the school district south of Five Mile Road along Napier Rd. in Salem Township, including Brae-Buff Golf Club and about four homes.

Although the area is currently in the Northville district, seven children from those homes are now attending Plymouth schools.

Both Superintendent Raymond Spear of Northville and Superintendent John Hoben of Plymouth admit there was a mix-up in not discovering that the seven children were attending schools in the wrong district.

It was discovered when one of the families attempted to vote in the Plymouth school election and were informed they lived in the Northville district.

Meanwhile, Northville has been collecting property taxes, Plymouth has been collecting state aid, for the students and the students have been attending Plymouth schools tuition free.

Business Director for Northville, Earl Busard, said the state equalized valuation of the area involved amounts to approximately $95,000. Total school taxes are estimated at $3,200 with about $1,600 actually reaching the local district after state aid formula deductions, Busard said.

Hoben said the Plymouth board's attorney is currently drafting a resolution to change the Plymouth boundary to include the area in question.

Both school boards must agree on the resolution and then, if the boards agreed, the intermediate school district boards of Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw counties would have to pass on the boundary change. Three intermediate boards would be involved since the Northville and or Plymouth districts enter all three counties.

Hoben said he doesn't "anticipate any objection from the families involved since their children have been attending Plymouth schools — for eight years in some cases." Also Plymouth school taxes are lower than those in Northville.

Spear also agreed the change "makes sense." However, when the matter came up for discussion last week before the Northville board, trustees decided to "sit on it for awhile."

What about straightening out the boundary along all of Five Mile Road to include all of Northville township in the Northville School District? Currently, the southeastern portion of Northville township, zig-zagging along Haggerty Road from Six Mile south to Five Mile and west to approximately Phoenix Lake, is in the Plymouth district.

Hoben and Spear both agreed they would like to see it happen, however, Hoben said he feels it "would be out of the question in the near future."

Included in that change would be Plymouth's Tanger Elementary School, which Hoben said would have to be sold to Northville and Spear agreed could be used immediately.

"We could have children in Northville Commons and Northville Colony walk to the school," Spear said, "but I doubt if the parents of walkers across the road in Plymouth township would be too pleased if their children could no longer attend a school that's right across the street from them."

Northville school district registration cards, appropriately carrying the orange and black colors, will be mailed to all registered voters within the next two weeks, Business Director Earl Busard disclosed this week.

The 8,128 cards represent the district's attempt to simplify election procedures, reduce registration confusion and to encourage better election turnouts.

Such cards have not been provided in the past.

Decision to provide registration cards comes on the heels of the creation of six election precincts and three polling places for future elections. Until now, the school district was combined into a single precinct, with just a single voting place (school board offices).

"I'm confident the cards and the new precincts will speed up the election process and provide a valuable assist to the voter," declared Busard.

Even though the revised voting procedure will necessitate use of paper ballots instead of machines, he estimates that it should speed up voting time (including time spent standing in lines) by 200 percent. "We should have the returns counted by 9 p.m. on election day," he predicted.

First test comes in June when the school district conducts its annual election.

The six precincts making up the school district include:

(1) Area includes everything south of Eight Mile Road, east of Beck and west of Northville Road, to south city limits. Polling place at the board of education offices.

(2) Area east of Northville Road to Haggerty, north side of Seven Mile to Eight Mile (including Highland Lakes, Smock and Meadowbrook subdivisions). Polling place at Amerman Elementary School.

(3) Area south of Seven Mile, east of Northville Road to the east and south boundaries (includes Northville Commons, Northville Colony, and Haggerty Court subdivisions). Polling place at the board of education offices.

(4) Area north of Eight Mile, west to Beck (except Northville Estates) to the north school district boundary inside Novi. Polling place at the Amerman school.

(5) Area south of Seven Mile, east to Northville Road, south to the Five Mile Road border (includes King's Mill subdivision). Polling place at the board of education offices.

(6) Area west of Beck (also includes Northville Estates), north of Seven Mile to the western and northern boundaries of the school district. Polling place at Moraine Elementary School.

"We drew an irregular line around Northville Estates, placing it in Precinct Six, because of its close proximity to Moraine," explained Busard.

He estimates that the precinct boundaries will remain in effect for the next 10 years. However, in some cases new polling places, for such precincts as 2 and 3, will come much sooner.

As soon as schools are built in these two precincts, "we'll have people vote at those new schools," he said. "It is possible that while the schools are being built we may set up temporary polling places, such as in the clubhouse at Highland Lakes."

Ideally, each of the precincts will eventually contain a school to serve as the polling place for voters within those precincts, he said.

Busard said he consulted with municipal officials in Northville and Novi, as well as with his own elections personnel, before drawing the precinct boundaries.

All of the district's election registration book data was turned over to a computer service, which automatically placed registrations in the proper precincts and by alphabetic order in each.

New registration books by precincts have been prepared.

In addition election personnel at each polling place will have a master sheet of registrations throughout the district so that they can advise electors where to vote if they should show up at the wrong polling place.

However, if voters follow the directions on the new registration cards there should be no voter confusion, Busard said.

The card will indicate the registrant's name and address, inform him he is registered to vote in all Northville school elections, tell him his precinct number and the place he must vote.

The cards have been produced from computer print-outs.

Originally, Busard had hoped the card could also tell the person where he votes for municipal elections.

However, with so many municipal precincts changing or about to be changed it was decided that this information should not be included.

Maps of the precincts also will be mailed to registered voters soon.

Under the law, the school district does not register voters, emphasized Busard. Instead the school district uses the registrations of municipalities with the school district.

For example: Persons registered to vote in City of Northville elections are automatically registered to vote in school elections. Or, to put it another way, persons not registered to vote in city elections are not registered to vote in school elections.

Registration data of municipalities is supplied the school district so that it may include this data in its own registration books.

Paper ballots will be used, Busard said, because election machines are not possible at all three polling places.

"This shouldn't be any problem, though, because our elections do not involve as many names or propositions as, say, the state or national elections have. I think it might be easier."

Concerning the number of registrations, Busard noted that there are some 2½ times more people registered today than in 1967. Approximately 3,300 were registered in 1967.

Now there are 8,128 persons registered to vote, and in the last school election nearly 3,000 persons cast ballots.

Some 30 percent of the families with children in school are not registered to vote, Busard said.

Women's Lib Gone Too Far?

BARBARA LABOEUF

Property assessments are the cause of great concern for many homeowners, especially in the city of Northville where reappraisal of all real property was recently undertaken by Wayne and Oakland county assessors.

And no one can dispute the fact that taxpayers have reason to be concerned.

But when they protest property assessment hikes, their attacks may be mis-directed.

The main thrust by taxpayers should be aimed at the budget-makers, not the property assessors.

And by far the most important budget in terms of dollars from the taxpayers' pockets is the school budget.

Strictly speaking, assessments do not determine the amount of your tax bill. It's the millage rate levied against the assessment.

And the budgetmakers (school board, city council, township board) decide the millage, or tax rate,

Keeping the complexities of assessments and tax procedures as simple as possible, let's examine why this is true.

Using the city, township and school district of Northville as an example, here's what could happen to the average homeowner's tax bill if there's NO INCREASE in millage rates.

We'll start with the township because its tax rate for operating expenses is limited to one mill* ($1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation, or SEV).

Although the 1973 figures are still tentative, the township's total SEV for real and personal property will increase from $50,000,000 to $62,500,000.

That means that a one mill levy this year will produce $62,500 compared to $50,000 in tax revenue last year. Actually, that's a 25 per cent increase.

Homeowners won't feel this much of a boost in their township tax, however. Most of the increase in total SEV is due to new building. Individual property values went up just slightly over seven per cent, which is the result of the equalization factor in the township moving up nine points, from 1.22 to 1.31.

(In case you've forgotten, the "equalization factor" is the figure used to bring assessments to 50 per cent of market value which state law proclaims is the level to be used for taxing purposes).

Dollarwise, it's no big deal that the township will get $12,500 more for its one mill than last year, especially when the giant share of the hike comes from new properties.

But let's continue adding this increase keeping in mind that city and township taxpayers are also school district taxpayers.

Now for the city.

Tentative figures indicate an increase in total SEV from $32,000,000 to $40,000,000 in real and personal property.

This means that the city government will receive $8,000 more per mill levied this year over last.

The city tax rate is 10.2 mills ($10.20 per $1,000 of SEV).

Thus the same tax rate this year would bring the city $81,600 more in property tax revenue.

In many instances in the city (particularly on residences in Wayne county) the assessment hike will be much higher than 25 per cent. This is due to the reappraisal program designed to eliminate inequities between properties and to remove the "equalization factor" altogether.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff has taken note of this increase in property tax base and has promised a millage rate reduction in the upcoming budget.

And taxpayers would be well advised to attend city council budget hearings and examine the proposed 1973-74 budget this spring. Citizen scrutiny is the greatest leveller going.

Now for the school district. Both city and township taxpayers are involved here.

Again it must be emphasized that these figures are tentative. What's more, the school district was less than cooperative in releasing its statistics. But we've compiled them from city, township and county sources so the estimates should be reliable.

The school district gathers its property tax money from several governmental entities—including all of the city of Northville, most of the township (the southeast corner of Northville township is in the Plymouth school district), a portion of Novi and Salem townships and a small slice of Lyon township.

A conservative estimate would be that the state equalized valuation of the Northville school district will be increased by $21,000,000 this year.

That means that a one mill levy by the school district this year will raise $21,000 more than it did last year.

Last year the school tax rate was 35.97 mills.

So this year if the school district levies the SAME millage it did last year it will collect an additional $755,370.

It should be pointed out that 7.07 mills were earmarked for building debt retirement. So that leaves 28.9 mills for operating funds.

Disregarding the debt money, a 28.9-mill levy for operating the schools in 1973-74 will produce an additional $606,900 in tax money.

Looking at it another way, the school district could reduce its operating levy this year by five mills and collect more tax dollars than last year.

There are a number of complicating factors that must be recognized in estimating school income. State aid is less, for example, as the SEV increases.

And, of course, as enrollment increases so do operating costs.

But frequently the state aid is higher than estimates.

A school budget is highly complicated and a mere taxpayer can become easily confused when he challenges its contents.

Nevertheless, the taxpayer can remind his elected representatives on the school board of their responsibility—which is to provide quality education at the lowest cost possible.

It is not the intention here to leave the impression that assessments should go unchallenged.

Certainly, if a property owner feels that his assessment exceeds the 50-per-cent of market value level, he should submit his protest at the board of review hearings.

That's the purpose of such hearings.

YES . . .

Change the word history to herstory? Now really! That's carrying Women's Lib too far! How about the working mother who'd like to have another baby but sitters are too hard to find! Do women really want to hold full-time jobs, support a family, and leave their men at home in the role of homemakers? If women demand equality in all other areas, men surely can expect to have the stay-at-home option which has traditionally been women's. Equality can't be in just the areas chosen by women! That's like having your cake and eating it too.

Decades ago, women had substantially more to be liberated from than today. It seems that the more free we are, the more free we want to be. But just last week in a local newspaper was an article about Livingston County women who are so liberated they've got mental health problems!

Women are different—physically, psychologically, emotionally. We need the differentiation of roles. Frankly, I enjoy being the "fairer" sex and treated that way. When women are expected to hold doors, give up seats, pay for an evening out, investigate strange noises in the night, fix the TV antenna in 10 degree weather, they're likely to be sorry.

Even though I'm not a Women's Libber, I can see validity in some of their concerns. The problem in our country, though, seems to be that we carry things just a little too far. Any movement has gone too far when it results in demanding that people be FAVORED just because of a trait they have in common, e.g. sex, race, ethnic background. Opportunities of all kinds should be equally open to any warm body regardless of its shape or color or heritage. If past practice has been wrong, let's not make it right by committing different kinds of wrongs! Moderation is the key to avoid a see-saw effect of any movement.

It's been said that behind every great man there's a woman. I wonder why it's never been said that behind every great woman there's a man! If you think about that, it really says a lot (and it all smacks of female chauvinism)! Who needs Women's Lib or any other movement to substantiate our own self-worth?

Eleanor McIntyre
Brighton

NO . . .

Opponents of Women's Liberation often cite extreme elements of the movement for their basis of rejection. However, the major objective is a change in discriminating attitudes and policies which deny women the right to develop an independent personality and to pursue a destiny of their choice. Since women are presently denied these rights, I contend that Women's Liberation has not gone too far, but rather, not far enough.

The 1970 census analysis revealed that women constitute only 10 percent of the legal profession. It further concluded that a minimum of 20 percent of the pay difference in professional services was attributed to sex discrimination. Many elementary textbooks still condition girls to accept passive roles as opposed to the participatory roles taught to boys. In much of children's literature women are pictured as only homemakers. In the state of Michigan girls are required by law to take Home Economics. Recently an Oklahoma legislator rejected the Equal Rights Amendment, contending that the Bible states that women should serve man.

These examples demonstrate that our political, religious, and social institutions possess attitudes and have perpetuated practices which deny women equal opportunity. Women's Liberation has hardly gone too far when in this "land of equal opportunity," we must still fight for an amendment to secure our rights.

Folk Group Draw Draws Praise

To the Editor:

This is a "good news" letter about young people in our community, specifically the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students of Ida B. Cooke Middle School.

Thursday, February 15, "The Folk Process," a musical program planned and performed by Roger James and Cris Becker, was presented to about one hundred students. The students were very well-mannered and attentive.

The members of the Junior Entertainment Series were just as pleased with students' interest and conduct as with the quality of Roger's and Cris's musical selections.

The students were helpful. One helped with the necessary acoustical equipment. Other young people assisted those who lived some distance from the school obtain rides to their homes.

We must also mention those hardy sixth graders, who despite the wind, snow, and bitter chill factor, walked from the Annex on Main

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"He might have millions but he's a millionaire you can love," my mother years ago told her children when referring to the old man who died Sunday morning.

Although she distrusts most of the very wealthy, my mother reserved a special place in her heart for Charles Stewart Mott—just as do thousands of other Flint area blue-collar workers who make or made their livelihood in the city's automobile factories.

Even my father, who is even less enamored by the wealthy, conceded, "He's different than the rest of them."

Perhaps it is because my parents spoke kindly of him...or maybe it's because he once smiled at me when, as a youngster, I pitched a miserable game in his summer recreational program...I was saddened by the death of "Mr. Flint."

Although we never met him, our family felt closer to him than to many non-strangers. After all, in Flint there is no name—not even "Buick" or "Fisher Body" or "Chevrolet"—more widely known or respected.

Jean Day, our Woman's Editor who also hails from Flint, is aware that, despite being one of the world's wealthiest men, Mr. Mott was really a frugal man who was considered a "penny-pincher" by some of those closest to him. Yet, she recognizes that overall no single man did more for his community.

Some memories come back:

- He came out one summer afternoon to watch our Warhawks team suffer a humiliating defeat. I was 10 at the time and unaware, until after the game, that the man who smiled when an angry coach sent me to the bench was Mr. Mott.

- I was just into my teens, a caddy at the Flint Country Club, when the tall, casually dressed millionaire smiled and said hello to us just outside the clubhouse.

- I was in my mid-teens when walking by his home, half-hidden by a high hedge row, I ached to get inside—not to meet him but to get a crack at the big pheasants that regularly played on his lawn right there in the middle of town.

- It was while I was in my late teens that I watched the spindly-legged old man in shorts play a game of tennis out back of the old Flint Junior College, and when later I played football on what once was his backyard.

- I was in my early twenties and in the Army when a tornado devastated our neighborhood on the northern edge of Flint. Returned home on an emergency leave, I learned to my surprise that one of the volunteer workmen who showed up amid the wreckage, dressed in dungarees and wielding a hammer, was "Mr. Flint."

Now, half a life-time later, I'm reminded as my now retired parents head for their Mott-sponsored arts and crafts classes that Charles Stewart Mott was "a millionaire you can love."

Band Formed

appreciated by the members of the band. "I like the variety," said Tina Wilkins, 15, one of the high school members of the band. "We'll go from something by Mozart to the Tiajuana Taxi. It's really fun that way."

One point that Murphy and Smith stressed over and over again is that the community band is not for accomplished musicians.

"Look," said Murphy, "the whole idea behind the band is to give people who used to enjoy playing musical instruments an opportunity to play them again."

"Once you leave high school or college, it's difficult to keep up your musical hobbies unless you're accomplished enough to play with something like the Detroit Symphony or something like that. We're not looking for professional musicians. We just want people who like to sit down and play music."

While Smith and Murphy have somewhat extensive musical backgrounds, they are far from the typical member of the Novi Community Band. More representative is Mrs. Debbie Hofsteen, a pretty Novi mother of two children who is a substitute school teacher.

"I had been very active with music when I was in high school," she recalled. "I played in the high school band and orchestra and with civic groups, but when I went to college I had to drop it. Music wasn't my major and I wasn't good enough to play in the college band."

"But I always liked it and I've always wanted to pick it up again. When I saw Novi was going to start a community band, I jumped at the opportunity. I really enjoy it. I find myself looking forward to Monday nights. It's really a good way to relax."

Mrs. Hofsteen admitted that she was really surprised about how fast she was able to regain a degree of efficiency in playing her clarinet - a phenomenon commented on by Tina Wilkins, the high school student.

"Some of those adults haven't touched their instruments in 10-15 years," said Tina. "But they really pick it up fast. There were some real clinkers in the first two sessions, but after that you could tell that they were really getting to be pretty good. I was really impressed."

"Besides," she continued, "we all make a lot of mistakes and nobody gets upset about it."

"Everyone is very understanding about everyone else's abilities," added Mrs. Hofsteen. "You don't have to be a former pro to be accepted. All anybody cares about is if you enjoy music."

And so the Novi Community Band is beginning to take shape. Their first public appearance - and be sure to mark this on your calendar - will be at the Village Oaks School Fair April 13.

By that time, Smith, Murphy, and the other members of the band hope their group will have grown in size. If you play a trumpet or a tuba or have ever tinkered with the drums, your presence will be particularly welcomed.

into the interior of Village Oaks had been put in.

Monday's request to begin construction of 50 foundations prior to the time those roads had been put in was viewed by the council as a violation of that agreement.

"Those two roads have got to be put in before any construction can be allowed," stated Councilman Raymond Evans. "That was the agreement that was made, and they will simply have to abide by it."

It was Councilman Berry, however, who led the opposition.

"How long do you expect this council to keep bending over backwards in granting you special requests when you keep breaking your promises to us," he asked Steinacker.

"Stulberg promised us that the road would be in in three months and that was last March. Then he promised us that the roads would be in by November, but there's still no roads and I'm getting pretty damned tired of it," Berry continued.

I would like to see Stulberg appear before this council to explain why he can't keep his word to us. I've been gullible enough to believe Mr. Stulberg in the past, but I think I've finally learned my lesson," Berry concluded.

"K&B's credibility is pretty shaky."

Berry's remarks were more or less echoed by most of the other councilmen, although to a lesser degree.

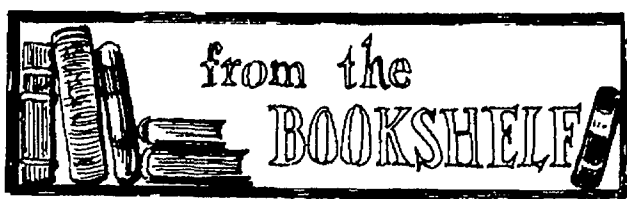

"We've learned through experience that in dealing with Kaufman and Board we've got to go with the letter of the law," stated Councilman William O'Brien.

Councilman Donald Young added that the city should get a "written report signed by K&B's officers" as to what their timetable will be for the construction of the two roads through Fairfield Farms before any special requests are granted.

The council voted unanimously to postpone any action on the request until K&B returns with signed and written reports about their timetable for construction of the roads.

Steinacker indicated that he would be back at the next council session and would bring Stulberg with him.

'Prescription'

To the Editor:
In last week's Record Mayor Allen likened the Michigan Boundary Commission to his personal physician and said he would accept the Boundary Commission's decision because he followed his doctor's orders.

I believe the patient, the City of Northville, is healthy and is not in need of a physician's care.

I hope that the Mayor's prescription does not result in the loss of the patient.

Very truly yours,

Township Clerk

Cites State Law

To the Editor:
Concerning a letter published in last week's Northville Record, State of Michigan Election Laws state, in Section 660, that "Whenever a city, ward, township or village shall be subdivided into election precincts, or the election precincts thereof shall be altered or rearranged, ...Notice of such subdivision, alteration or rearrangement shall be given forthwith by the city, township or village clerk."

"Such notification shall be effected by mailing to each qualified and registered elector affected by such subdivision, alteration or rearrangement a notice by first class letter postage advising the location of his polling place."

Won't Sign

A Petition

To the Editor:
I had a township resident ask me to sign a petition which would allow a vote on the unification of the city and township of Northville. I said "no".

Why should I help spend that "bottomless supply" of tax money for a vote to get what I can have free of charge at the end of March—a total community.

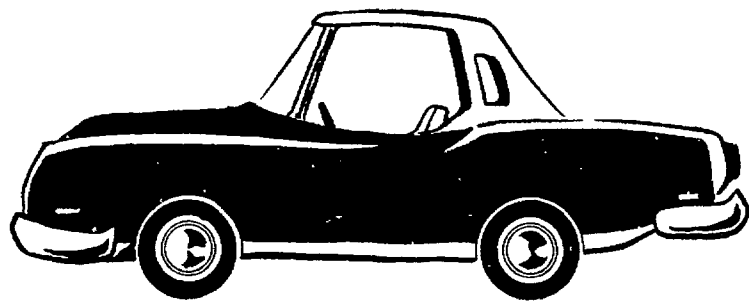

Aren't some of these people pushing petitions the same ones who didn't want the people to have a choice for township clerk last year?

Regenhardt Wins Honor

John Regenhardt has been awarded a certificate of merit by the National Merit Scholarship Committee. He is a senior at Northville High.

The grant signifies that he has advanced to finalist standing in the 1973 Merit Scholarship Program, an honor shared by less than one-half of one percent of the nation's secondary school seniors.

Regenhardt now is in competition for a Merit scholarship. Selection process is expected to be completed soon, with winners notified between mid-March and mid-May.

The administrative staff at Northville High is preparing a policy governing out of state and country field trips. The policy will spell out those trips which will be sponsored by the school and those which will not, Principal Fred Holdsworth stated.

The policy will cover the increasing number of trips, both in and out of the country, which are planned by various groups identified with school related activities.

The Senior Trip planned for early March is not a school sponsored trip, Holdsworth said, and, as such, no authorization will be given for absence from school to those students missing classes for the trip.

"Parents will have to assume the responsibility for such absences by calling the high school, the same as for any other absence," the principal explained.

Other trips by the French, Spanish and German classes outside the country are not school sponsored, but students will not be missing school time, he said.

Curriculum Day is planned for Wednesday, March 14, with no classes scheduled in Northville schools that day.

Faculty All-Stars at Northville High will meet members of the Detroit Lions in an exhibition basketball game at the high school gym at 8 p.m., March 14.

Pre-registration to determine Northville High students' class schedules for the 1973-74 school year was to be held today (Thursday).

In Uniform

Marine Private Paul M. Gobush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gobush of 18455 Sheldon Road, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, South Carolina.

Registration for in-coming freshmen also will be taking place at Cooke Middle School, Our Lady of Victory and St. Paul's Lutheran School.

Regular registration for classes will be held in late May.

Graduation can't be far away. Seniors were measured at Northville High today for caps and gowns.

Northville sophomore class will sponsor a dance following Friday's basketball game with Brighton. The dance will be held in the cafeteria.

"Northville High school administration welcomes invitations to discuss school concerns with clubs or neighborhood groups," Principal Fred Holdsworth noted this week. Those interested in holding a discussion are asked to call the school, 349-2090.

Buck brought some possible problems to their attention. She said the schools were not immediately responsive to the idea of keeping the voting machines on their premises at all times, "but we are trying to work something out with them," she added.

Another question concerned the custodial services which would be needed at the school on election day. "Whether or not the Walled Lake Schools will pay them, depends on the length of time they have to be there," she said and added that on an election day, the buildings would have to be opened earlier and closed later than usual.

According to the figures which Miss Buck submitted to the council, each of the precincts which have been set up, is slated for further development and growth.

She told the council the developments in Precinct One which have been completed since the last election total 67 homes. There are also 120 more houses on which construction has begun, and 227 units which are proposed for the area.

Further developments in Precinct Two include 228 units which are already started, a mobile home park in which 273 homes are proposed. There have been 60 dwellings completed in the second precinct since the last election.

In Precinct Three, 266 units have been finished since the November election, and 2,084 units have been started and will be completed in the future.

Mayor Gilbert C. Willis praised Miss Buck for "the tremendous amount of work" which she put into setting up the three voting areas of the city.

Boyer Does It Again! His Shot Tops Dundee

For the second-straight week, senior Pat Boyer came away a hero as Novi posted another squeaker Friday, edging out Dundee, 64-63.

Down by one in the final seconds, Boyer took a jump ball tip from Steve Lukkari, streaked to an unprotected basket, and laid up the shot from his cross-over right side.

The ball teased the rim and then dropped through for the winning basket.

One week earlier, Boyer fired a 20-foot shot from the sidelines to help the Wildcats to a 77-76 second overtime victory over Chelsea.

Friday's victory would have been even sweeter but for a six-point loss last week

Tuesday to third-place Saline, 82-78.

Coach Milan Obrenovich, whose squad was due to clash with Walled Lake Western in a non-conference game early this week, was delighted with the outcome of Friday's contest even though he was perplexed by the way Dundee nearly snatched an upset with its late rally.

In the final, crucial period, Dundee piled up 18 points—twice as many as Novi, which based its narrow win on points racked up in the second and third quarters.

With Lukkari, who had a red-hot streak at the charity line, leading the way, the Wildcats grabbed an eight point, 39-31 lead at the intermission and then boosted its margin to 10 points by the end of the third quarter, 55-45. The Vikings, who led 19-17 going into the second quarter, dropped behind early in the second period and stayed there until it edged into the lead in the final two minutes of play. In the final analysis, it was Novi's superiority at the free-throw line that proved the difference. Dundee, which laurels with 23 points, pumped in nine charity shots in 11 attempts. Boyer and Jim Van Wagner shared second-high honors for Novi with 14 points each.

Leading scorer for the Vikings was Karl Schmidt with 16, followed by Mike Stough and Mark Schultz who were tied at 10.

by four, 60-56. Although Novi's percentage at the free throw line was excellent (12 of 16), Saline had more opportunities and converted 16 of 26 while taking the edge in field goals, 33 to 32. Highlight of the game was the sizzling performance by Saline's big Dave Ziegler. After a poor performance in an earlier game with the Wildcats, Ziegler really came unglued this time pouring in 40 points—34 of them from the floor.

Thursday, February 22, 1973—THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS— 11-A

Lukkari also was the high scorer in last week's loss to Saline. He fired 26 points in that game.

Chelsea led throughout the game, grabbing a four-point lead in the first quarter, 20-16, and hanging onto that margin at the intermission, 40-36.

Late in the third period Novi came within one point of tying the game. By the three-quarter mark, however, the Hornets were back out front

Harrison Wins 48-44

3rd Quarter Ills Sink Mustangs

Sooner or later Coach Walt Koepke's Northville basketball team is going to put together four consecutive quarters of good, solid, hard, aggressive basketball and win a conference game.

It almost happened Friday when the Mustangs, fresh from a narrow, two-point miss of an upset of conference-leading Livonia Churchill, journeyed to Farmington Harrison to try to avenge an earlier 83-52 humiliation.

But for the fourth time in their last four Western Six Conference outings, the Mustangs came up inches short of the victory.

In the final analysis they were betrayed by a dog-awful third quarter in which they did nothing right.

The final score of the game was Harrison 48, Northville 44. But in that decisive third quarter the score was Harrison 17, Northville 6 - a margin seven points greater than the Hawks' final margin of victory.

"I don't really know what went wrong," commented Koepke when questioned about the third quarter collapse. "I thought we played fairly well in the second quarter and we had the lead at the half. I expected that we would come out strong in the third quarter, but we didn't."

"We just fell apart." "Our rebounding broke down and our ball handling was terrible. We had 19 turnovers in the whole game and I'll bet at least half of them were in the first three minutes of the third quarter."

The disastrous third quarter spoiled what was otherwise a relatively good showing for the Mustangs.

When the two teams met previously, the Hawks, behind 6'8" center Jeff Sieloff, blasted the Mustang quintet off the court in the first quarter and had the victory all sewed up 45-18 by the half.

But Friday's game was a far different matter. At the end of the first quarter, Harrison held a 14-10 lead, but only a shoddy 5-14 shooting performance by the Mustangs kept them from holding the lead.

Northville's shooting improved in the second quarter, thanks largely to Mike Brown, as the Mustangs outscored the Hawks 12-6 to take a 22-20 halftime lead.

Brown, a 6'5" senior center, came off the bench when forward Bart Taylor twisted an ankle and tossed in four of six field goal attempts to spark the Mustangs' surge.

Koepke admitted that part of the Mustangs' game plan was to get the ball into the center more in spite of the presence of Sieloff, the big Harrison center.

"Basically we have a pivot offense," he explained, "and one of our problems has been that we're not getting the ball into the center often enough. Lately the team has developed more confidence in its centers and Ducey and Brown have learned some moves to the baskets, so we're getting the ball in there more frequently."

"That's particularly important when you're up against a zone defense like Harrison was playing, because the defense has to turn around to see the ball when it's in the pivot. That gives your guards and forwards an opportunity to move around more freely and if you get the ball back out to them they can get good shot positions."

Unfortunately, Northville's second quarter surge only set the stage for their third quarter collapse. Nothing went right. Passes were either too long and soared out of bounds over outstretched arms or were too short and gobbled up by Farmington defenders. At one point, Dan Hickey, Harrison's 5'7" guard, stole three straight passes and dribbled in unmolested for easy lay-ups.

By the time the third-quarter half finally ended, Northville had scored just six points - four of them in the final 45 seconds - and the Hawks had a nine point - 37-28 lead.

Northville tried to come back in the fourth quarter. Bill McDonald came off the bench to score six points and haul in eight rebounds. And Sieloff picked up his fifth foul with 6:34 remaining.

But the Mustangs couldn't catch up. Hickey easily broke Northville's full court zone press with his dribbling and the Mustangs never got closer than four points.

Ed Kritch, who continues to show improvement in every game and seems to have won the starting guard spot opposite Joe Bishop, led the Mustangs in scoring with a 10 point performance. Brown followed Kritch in the scoring column with eight points, while four others - Bishop, Todd Eis, Dave Ducey, and McDonald - each contributed six points.

Sieloff's 13 points were tops for the Hawks. Eis led the Mustangs in the rebounding department by hauling in 11 caroms. Ducey had 10 rebounds, and McDonald collected eight caroms in the 10 minutes he played.

The Mustangs will be seeking their third victory of the season Friday when they host Brighton. The Bulldogs, who are 1-16 for the season, provided Northville with one of its two victories this season when they surrendered a 34-34 victory last December.

FORD'S BETTER IDEA Tom Ford, Novi's fine 129-pound grappler, has Dexter's top-seeded Dave Kimble in trouble early in their match in the opening round of the Southeastern Conference Championships Saturday. In spite of this predicament, Kimble managed to escape and eventually pinned the Wildcat star. Ford came back strong in his next two matches, however, to finish third in the 129-pound division. For complete results of the SEC Tourney see the story on Page 13-A.

3 SC Matmen Head for Nationals

Three Schoolcraft College wrestlers qualified for the National Junior College Wrestling Championships by finishing in the top three at the Region XII Qualifying Tourney held at Schoolcraft College last weekend.

Two Schoolcraft grapplers - Howard Strick and Rick Setzer - will go to the Nationals as region champions, while Paul Osentoski was a third place finisher in the regionals.

Thirteen teams from Region XII (Michigan-Ohio-Indiana) competed in Saturday's Tournament which was won by Grand Rapids Community College with 54 points. Two Cleveland schools were close behind. Cuyahoga West had 53½ points, while Cuyahoga Metro had 53 points. Schoolcraft was fifth with 33½ points.

In winning the 118-pound championship, Strick, a Hazel Park graduate, defeated Oakland Community College's Tom Singleton 2-1 in overtime after wrestling to a 8-8 draw in regulation time. Singleton was the runner-up in the last year's National Junior College championships.

Setzer, Schoolcraft's heavyweight champion, won the regional crown by pinning Delta College's Pete Edmonds in 2:38. Setzer is a Livonia Stevenson graduate. Osentoski, the third place finisher at 126, is from Farmington's Our Lady of Sorrows High School. Strick, Setzer, and Osentoski will move on to the National Junior College finals in Worthington, Minnesota, slated for March 1-3. There are 11 qualifying tournaments across the country.

Crush Oak Park, Walled Lake

Swimmers Swamp 2 Foes

"Whatever you do, don't write anything else about my injuries," warned Ben Lauber.

Sorry, Ben. Here we go again.

Two weeks ago, you may remember, the Northville swimming coach slipped on the pool deck and broke his right hand. And then last week, Lauber showed up for his team's meet with Walled Lake Western Thursday with the middle finger of his right hand securely bandaged, the result of a misunderstanding with a metal door that left the skin cut and the bone fractured.

"I'm beginning to look like The Mummy," commented Lauber, referring to his bandaged appearance.

"If things keep going like they are now, by the time the state meet comes along, they'll have to bring me out in a wheel chair."

Fortunately, while Lauber's physical condition is rapidly going down hill, the performances of his swimmers are headed in the opposite direction.

Last week was an easy one for the Northville swimmers as they nearly swept Oak Park Tuesday and Walled Lake Western Thursday. Scores of both meets were 84-11 - a perfect score is 86-9.

"This was a fairly easy part of our schedule," admitted Lauber. "Oak Park is just beginning to get their program squared away and this is the first year Walled Lake Western has had a swimming team. It's going to take a couple of years for either school to have any real power."

In spite of the easy wins, Lauber was particularly pleased with the performances of two of his swimmers - distance freestyler Don Cook and Brazilian exchange student Andre Manochio.

Cook, who just last week lowered his own team record in the 400 yard freestyle to 4:10.1, lowered his new record even further and he did it rather spectacularly by clocking a 4:07.0 against Walled Lake Western.

Not only did the new time reset the team record, it also established a new pool record, erasing the 4:10.0 set by Milan ace Curtis Lentz earlier this year.

Cook's sudden drop in time could potentially have an important bearing on both the conference and state meets.

Lauber was just as pleased with the development of Manochio, the Brazilian exchange student who is living with the family of backstroke Mark Haynie.

In spite of being out of condition, Manochio won the 100 yard butterfly against Oak Park and the 100 breaststroke against Walled Lake.

Manochio's breaststroke time was low enough to qualify him for the state meet. "We've still got a month to get him in shape for the state meet," commented Lauber. "If he continues to come along, he could do something for us. I'm very pleased."

The two swim meets just weren't that exciting as the Mustangs took first and second in every event except the 50 yard freestyle in which they took first and third against Oak Park and the 100 yard breaststroke in which they also took first and third against Walled Lake.

Winners in the Oak Park meet were Steve Luckett in the 200 yard freestyle (2:06.1), John Pacific in the 200 yard individual medley (2:20.11), Dennis McLaughlin in the 50 yard freestyle (24.8), Scott Knapp in the diving (153.25), Manochio in the 100 yard butterfly, Jeff Guider in the 100 yard freestyle (57.6), Don Deisley in the 400 yard freestyle (4:41.4), Mark Swayze in the 100 yard backstroke (1:22.8), and Bob Wright in the 100 yard breaststroke (1:13.9).

Also victorious was the medley relay team of Haynie, Bloomhuff, Talbot, and Lelek and the freestyle relay team of Luckett, Davis, Clemens, and Robbins.

Two Mustangs were double winners against Walled Lake Western. Mike Chaffin won the 100 yard freestyle (58.5) and the 200 yard freestyle (2:07.3) and co-captain Bill Bretz won the 100 yard butterfly (1:04.1) and the 200 yard individual medley (2:24.0).

Other firsts were taken by Dennis McLaughlin in the 50 yard freestyle (24.8), Tom Cook in the diving (225.95 points), Don Cook in the 400 yard freestyle (4:07.0), Manochio in the 100 yard breaststroke, and Jeff Kappler in the 100 yard backstroke (1:01.5).

The 200 yard medley relay team of Kevin Kelly, Art Greenlee, Manochio, and Mark Lelek and the 400 yard freestyle relay team of Dean Alli, Lelek, Bob Davis, and Paul MacLeod also took firsts.

Crisan Sparks Jayvee Victory

Sophomore Doug Crisan found the scoring range in the fourth quarter as he paced Coach Omar Harrison's Northville junior varsity basketball team to a 61-48 victory over Farmington Harrison.

Crisan, who finished the game with 21 points and 16 rebounds, tossed in 13 points in the final quarter as the junior Mustangs pulled away from a 40-38 three-quarter lead to the 13-point victory.

The Northville jayvees now have a 9-7 record.

The fourth quarter blitz, in which the Mustangs outscored the Hawks 21-10, was in sharp contrast with the rest of the game.

The Harrison jayvees grabbed a 13-9 first quarter lead and the two clubs battled back and forth on even terms after that. By the half Northville had cut the lead to one point, 26-25, as Crisan, Tom Eis, and Scott Leu each tallied four points and John Boland and Chris Armada each added a field goal in the second quarter.

The Mustangs finally pulled into the lead at the end of the third quarter, 40-38, to set the stage for Crisan's fourth quarter heroics.

Crisan's 21 points and 16 rebounds were tops for both teams, although he had to share rebounding honors with Tom Eis, who also picked up 16 rebounds. Crisan was joined in double figures by Eis, who had 14 points, and Armada, who added 11 points to the Northville total.

Wrestling Champs

Barger, Norton Win Western Six Titles

Powerful Walled Lake Western dominated the Western Six Conference wrestling championships held at Waterford Mott last Saturday, but there was plenty of reason for Northville fans to be happy as two Mustang grapplers walked off with conference championships in their respective weight classes.

Northville's two Western Six champions are sophomore Jack Barger who copped the conference crown in the 101-pound division and senior captain Bill Norton who came out on top in the 141-pound division.

Only two other Mustangs managed to finish among the top three in the conference championships. Mark Okopy, a junior, took third in the 122-pound class, while Stig Berggren, Northville's Swedish exchange student, came in third in the heavyweight division.

The two firsts and two thirds were all the Mustangs were able to take, however, as they finished fifth in the conference with 33 points, one point behind fourth-place Livonia Churchill.

Walled Lake Western easily won its second consecutive Western Six wrestling title and completely dominated the meet. Warrior wrestlers won eight of the 12 divisions and finished among the top three in each division to accumulate 106 points and far outstrip second-place Farmington Harrison, which had 54 1/2 points. Waterford Mott was third with 53.

Ed McLeod, coach of the Northville grapplers, was relatively pleased with his squad's performance. "We went into the meet as decided underdogs and yet we came home with two championships and were just one point out of fourth place. Considering the inexperience on this year's team, I think we did pretty well," said the big former MSU griddler.

"If we'd have been able to get just one more point, we'd have been in fourth place." As usual it was Barger, the sophomore, and Norton, the senior, who led the Northville squad. By winning the championships in their respective divisions, they became just the second and third Mustangs to win Western Six wrestling crowns. Dave Griffin, last year's 126-pound champ, was the first.

The triumphs of Barger and Norton came as no real surprise, however. Both were top-seeded and more or less expected to win the 101 and 141-pound titles.

Barger, in particular, had an easy time of it in winning the 101-pound crown. "Little Poison" pinned Dan Duncan in just 1:27 of his first match to move in to the finals and then scored a 10-0 superior decision over Jim Seitz of Farmington Harrison for the crown.

"Jack was never in trouble," reported McLeod. "He was in control all the way."

"You know, for a sophomore to be a league champion is a pretty impressive thing."

Norton also had a pin and a decision in winning the 141-pound crown, but in typical Norton-fashion they were highly workmanlike low-scoring victories. The Mustang captain finally got Churchill's Bob Stowers on his shoulders with just three seconds left in his first match and then came back to take a 3-1 decision from Walled Lake's Keith Howie in the finals.

Northville's two third place finishes were both contributed by wrestlers in their first year on the varsity.

Mark Okopy came back from a 13-2 loss to the eventual champion Walled Lake's Dave Guzinski - in his first match to win his next two bouts to finish third in the 122-pound division. The strong-armed junior defeated Churchill's Bob Rose 6-3 to move into the consolation finals and then beat Al Crudelle of Harrison for third place.

Biggest surprise was the fine showing of Stig Berggren in the heavyweight division. The affable Swede grappled to a 2-1 decision over Mott's Mike Story in his first match, but was dropped into the consolation finals when Harrison's Wally Kurczaja defeated him in the second round.

In the consolation finals, Berggren took third place by upsetting Churchill's second-seeded Dave Kuhn 8-0.

The Mustang grapplers will journey to Avondale High School this weekend to compete in the Class B District Tourney. McLeod is hopeful that at least two and perhaps as many as four or five of his wrestlers will advance to the regional tournament the following week.

JACK BARGER

BILL NORTON

Sharing Mustang of the Week honors are Bill Norton and Jack Barger. Norton, a senior and captain of the Northville wrestling team, took the Western Six Conference championship in the 141-pound division. Barger, just a sophomore, took the conference title in the 101-pound weight class. Norton now has a 19-3 record, while Barger is just a loss behind with an 18-4 record for the season.

'Four on the Floor'

SC Cagers Lose No. 20

"Four on the floor" means one thing to racing buffs, but to Tom Roncoli, coach of the Schoolcraft College basketball team, it has quite a different meaning.

"Four on the floor" was all that Roncoli has in the way of players during the last six minutes of his squad's game with Washtenaw Community College last week.

As a result, the Schoolcraft five suffered a 102-71 defeat that dropped their season's record to 2-20 with one game to go.

With just six players on the team, the Schoolcraft squad cannot afford to get into foul trouble, but that's exactly the fate that befell them against Washtenaw.

Craig Rosenthal, their 6'9" center picked up his fourth foul in the first half and was pulled from the game by Roncoli. And when Tom Luch, the Ocelots' leading scorer, fouled out after ten minutes of the second half, Roncoli was forced to reinstate his big center, who picked up his fifth foul with 6:06 remaining in the game.

Schoolcraft had trailed by 10 at the half, 49-39, but with Luch and Rosenthal out, they were 31 points behind when Washtenaw when the game finally ended. Larry Walls and Charlie Jonikins, Washtenaw's one-two punch, tallied 35 and 25 points respectively.

Leon Jackson was high for the Ocelots with a 22-point performance. He was followed by Luch who had 16 points and Brian Dinsmore with 15.

Whether you ski on water or snow, the hazards are admittedly many. Perhaps no other sport is so dangerous to life and limb as skiing, not even hunting for wild game. In fact, at the height of the winter skiing season, the Austrians examined the number of skiing accidents that occurred in their country alone. More than 70,000 accidents happened to skiers there—and that is just in Austria. Yet, since the experience of schussing downhill is unequalled to any other sport, it is no wonder that skiing has become one of the largest growing winter sports in the United States.

Snowmobiling is another great snow sport. If you haven't tried it yet, you're missing a lot of fun. MOORE'S MOTOR SPORT INC., 21001 Pontiac Trail, 437-2888, is an exclusive SUZUKI dealership specializing in a complete line of SUZUKI motorcycles and snowmobiles. 4 Wildcats Place in SEC Meet

In one of the most unusual finishes in Southeastern Conference history, three teams — South Lyon, Dexter, and Chelsea — wound up tied for the conference wrestling championship.

According to SEC rules, the championship is determined by combining the standings of the dual meet season and the standings from the SEC post-season wrestling tournament.

Dexter, South Lyon, and Chelsea finished the dual meet season in first, second, and third places respectively. But in the SEC tourney held Saturday at Novi, their positions were reversed, thus bringing about the three-way tie for the conference title.

Chelsea won the tourney with 104½ points, South Lyon was second with 90 points, and Dexter was third with 80½ points.

Coach Russ Gardner's Novi grapplers did just about as expected and finished sixth in the tourney just as they had during the dual meet schedule to take sixth place in the final 1973 conference standings.

Novi's 28 points in the conference tourney placed them ahead of Saline (19½) and Ypsilanti Lincoln (8) and left them one point behind fifth place Milan (29).

Four Novi wrestlers accounted for all 28 points. Billy Livingston and Dave Ward paced the Wildcats by taking seconds in the 101 and 141 pound weight classes, while Tom Ford and Don Jackson were the only other Novi wrestlers to finish in the top four. Ford took third at 126 and Jackson was fourth at 148.

Perhaps the best Novi performance was turned in by Livingston, who fought his way to second place in the 101-pound division. After taking a 6-3 decision in his opening match, the third-seeded Livingston registered an 11-7 decision over South Lyon's second-seeded Alex Allan to move into the finals.

Dexter's Mike Klapperich took a 4-2 decision from Livingston to take the 101-pound crown, but Russ Gardner, the Novi coach, was still highly pleased with his 101-pounders' performance. "Clapperich has a 28-1 record for the season and Billy lost by just two points," said the Novi coach. "That's pretty good wrestling."

Dave Ward's second-place finish in the 141-pound division involved more than a modicum of pain. Seeded third, the Wildcat senior pinned his first opponent, but was trailing Saline's second-seeded Jeff Kohler 3-0 midway through the second period, when the Hornet started an illegal hold that injured Ward and rendered him unable to continue.

Kohler was disqualified and Ward was awarded the match. Doctors at first feared vertebrae damage to Ward's back and sent him to Botsford Hospital where the injury was diagnosed as a pinched nerve.

"Two doctors told Dave he should not try to wrestle anymore in the tourney, but he came back from the hospital and asked me to let him wrestle Lancaster for the crown," reported Gardner. "He could hardly even walk and he wanted to get out there and wrestle. I told him no way was he going to wrestle any more in that tournament."

Ford was Novi's only unseeded wrestler to break into the top four. He lost his first match to Dexter's top-seeded Dave Kimball, but then came back to register a 9-0 decision over Dundee's Jeff Brown to qualify for the consolation finals where he posted a 9-1 decision over Chelsea's second-seeded Dale Poertner to take third place.

"Ford was just super his last two matches," stated Gardner. "He didn't really go out after Kimball in first match and he got himself pinned. But in those last two matches he was really tough. If he had wrestled like that against Kimball he would have won the weight class and if he can keep wrestling like that I don't think anyone will beat him until he gets to the state meet."

Don Jackson rounded out the Novi scoring by finishing fourth in the 148-pound division. After drawing a bye in the first round, the third-seeded Jackson was soundly beaten by Chelsea's Darryl West, the eventual 148-pound champion.

He came back to beat Taylor from Milan 10-6 to move into the consolation finals where he was pinned by Dexter's Larry Uphaus.

"He was beating Uphaus until he got too high while trying to put on a pin hold and Uphaus scooted out the back door and nailed him," reported Gardner.

Hockey Club's Hot

Pink's Squirts Go On Scoring Spree

Two Northville hockey teams had their scoring clothes on last week as they easily swept through five games and outscored their opponents 29-6.

The high-scoring performances were not matched by a third Northville club, however. The Thomson Sand and Gravel-sponsored Squirts tied one game and lost the other in its two outings last week.

Most successful of the Northville teams was the Dave Pink-sponsored Squirts club. Led by Tom Allen and Tod Mack, each of whom collected six of the squad's 20-goal total for the week, the Dave Pink Squirts skated to three easy victories.

Thursday Mack collected the three-goal hat trick and Allen backed him up with a two-goal performance as the Pink Squirts blasted out an 8-1 victory over Plymouth. Dean Rose, Russ Horst, and Doug Horst accounted for the other goals.

The goal production was turned around Saturday when the Squirts skated past Westland 6-2. This time it was Allen who had the hat trick and Mack who came through with the two backup goals. Richard Pattison added the sixth goal.

Mack picked up four assists in the game.

The Pink Squirts most recent win was a 6-0 decision over Lincoln Park Monday.

Mack scored twice and Richard Pattison, Tom Allen, Doug Horst, and Jack Macintosh added the other goals.

The Pink Squirts' season record stands at 16-8-4.

Northville's Mites team did almost as well, winning a pair of games last week.

Saturday the Mites got a goal from Scott Kerry with just 1:17 left in the game to take a tight 2-1 decision from the Farmington Flyers. Scott Schaal netted the first Northville goal in the game.

The following day the Mites came back to take a 7-2 decision over Ecorse in what Coach Dave Creedon called his squad's best performance of the year.

Pat Alexander supplied most of the fire power in the victory as he fired the puck past the Ecorse goalie four times. Pat McKernan, Scott Kerry, and Ken Winemaster recorded the other Mite Goals.

The Mites are sponsored by the FOE Eagles and the Ely Fuel Oil Company.

The Thomson Sand and Gravel Squirts had much less success than the Pink Squirts or the Mites. On Saturday Mark Weichel took a pass from Steve Stuart and slipped it into the net, but it was the only goal the Sand and Gravel Squirts were able to get as they dropped a 3-1 decision to Plymouth.

The goal production was better the following day as Northville upped its total to three, but had to settle for a 3-3 tie with Garden City. Scott Dayton scored the first Northville goal, while Brian Starr netted the other two.

Dundee, Saline Topple Novi JVs

Dundee gathered steam in the first quarter and then plowed its way to an easy 64-42 triumph over the Novi Jayvees Friday.

The host squad led 19-14 in the first stanza, 36-24 at the intermission, and 46-33 at the three-quarter mark.

In both field goals and free shots Dundee was the superior squad, garnering 24 field goals to Novi's 14, and converting 16 of 33 charity shots to Novi's 14 for 31.

Novi's Bill Bark shared scoring laurels with Dennis Pardon of Dundee, each notching 16 points. Three other Dundee players hit double figures, but seven points by Steve Lynn was second-high for Novi.

Earlier in the week the Novi junior varsity quintet also lost to Saline—57-39.

Barr also was high-point man in that game for Novi, picking up 15 points. Scott Fosdick was high for Saline with 14.

Wildcat

Wildcat of the Week honors go to Steve Lukkari. The 5' 10" senior guard on the Novi basketball team finally found the scoring range last week as he dumped in 49 points in the Wildcats' two outings. Lukkari hit a career high against Saline when he poured in 26 points, and then came back three days later to score 23 against Dundee.

Powerful Novi Girls Blast Lincoln 51-8

Those Novi girls' basketball teams just get better and better.

Coach Christine Hayward's junior varsity girls' team Monday ran its record up to 5-1 by taking a 25-19 decision from Ypsilanti Lincoln. But it was the varsity girls' team which really had a field day as they lambasted the Ypsilanti varsity 51-8 for their sixth straight victory.

The Ypsilanti varsity just wasn't able to compete with the hard-dribbling, hot-shooting Novi varsity. Nancy Brzezniak tossed in 13 points and Denise DeBrule added 11 more to pace the lady Wildcats in scoring.

Nancy Pisha with seven, and Carol Maki and Carol Padgett with five each were other top Novi Scorers.

Novi's junior varsity pulled away from a narrow 12-11 halftime lead to defeat the Lincoln junior varsity 25-19. Janet Cook scored 12 points and Mark Kardell and Carol Poyhonen tallied seven and six respectively to the Novi total.

More Time Behind Wheel

Driving Range OK'd

Adoption of a range-type driver education program was approved by the Novi Board of Education Tuesday—a week after a representative of the State Department of Education described the suggested program to local officials.

Specifically, the program will involve the designing of the high school parking lot to assist students in development of their manipulative driving skills behind the steering wheel.

Stripes will be painted on the lot, indicating the training driving lanes, and removable traffic signs are to be provided.

Practice is not expected to conflict with parking since most driving education takes place during the summer, it was noted.

With adoption of this new system, which officials say will cost $14 less per pupil than the current $54 cost, the number of required hours of instruction will increase from 36 to 38.

Presently, the program calls for 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of on-the-street experience. The new program calls for 30 hours of classroom experience, five hours of range experience and three hours of on-the-street training.

The cost reduction, even though the total number of required hours is increased, results from the fact that the range experience involves group-type instruction as opposed to the traditional individual instruction.

Using a short-wave radio, the instruction "talks" a driving student through the course. Several driver training cars can be on the course at one time, since each can be equipped with radio receivers.

"Over 50-percent of the students enrolled in driver education are now trained utilizing the range method," Superintendent Gerald Kratz said. "We have valid studies which have been conducted in Michigan as well as throughout the United States which prove that the program is as good as or better than the traditional method in producing competent drivers."

Dr. Kratz estimates that the range design will necessitate approximately eight gallons of paint.

Also needed, he said, will be about 50 old tires, 24 traffic cones, two yield right-of-way signs, two stop signs and an in-car communication system.

Total estimated cost of the program, he said, is "under $1,000."

Frida Waara Wins Skiing Championship

By NANCY DINGELDEY

It was a week for skiers—both expert and beginner alike.

Frida Waara captured first place honors in the Michigan Open Ski Meet held at Mt. Brighton last Sunday.

Making up for lost ski days due to an extreme lack of snow, all ski teams have been keeping a hot line of ski events during the past week.

In the Detroit News event on Saturday, which had been cancelled earlier in the month, the Walled Lake Western girls' team took fourth place while the boys' team took ninth.

Chuck and Eileen Long from Walled Lake hosted the Crossroads Presbyterian Youth Group to a weekend at the Sheridan Valley Ski Club in Lewiston. Lee and Chris Sikkila, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sikkila of Wren Street and Pamela Green, daughter of Lois and Mel Green of Beck Road were on hand to enjoy the weekend of beginning skiing. Lee looked as though she was really enjoying the new sport and was doing a good job on the hills.

Unfortunately Chris took a nasty fall from the poma lift on the last run of the day and did a good job of spraining his knee. He'll be off his feet for at least a week.

Annual ski races were also held at Sheridan Valley for the younger set with our gal Carol taking first place honors in the pee-wee slalom event and Jill coming up with a third. Mike, not to be outdone came in with a third place in his age group.

It's really something to see those little kids taking slalom gates. There were some who could barely walk but yet were on their skis trying to make it down the hill. So who cared if it took them two minutes to make the gentle run—they were still trying out on the hills last week too. Boyne Highlands and Schuss Mountain were their stopping places during the several days they were gone.

Both Eric and Bob Vangieson participated in the Michigan Open Ski Meet on Sunday at Brighton. Eric did a grand job coming through the course and although he didn't place in the top ten, he still made good time for a youngster his age. Unfortunately, Bob had some trouble with his bindings and was disqualified.

Chris Sikkila and I have something in common. We both played havoc with our knees in a most unglamorous fashion

The Dingeldeys took a side trip to the remarkable kingdom of Schuss Mountain on Monday. No wonder everyone raves about it. What an adorable place. As Carol put it, "it's just like wonderland." Although we spent the first few hours skiing in a rain drizzle, it eventually got cold enough to snow and conditions were great.

For those of us not used to riding of chair lifts, it was a frightening experience. It was at one point when I was trying to clear kids out of the way of being creamed by a coming chair that I took a most unglamorous spill on absolutely flat ground and did the great job of wrenching my knee. Nothing can be more painful and with a ski week to Quebec on the horizon, it occurred at a most inopportune time.

So now it's hot packs, epsom salts, Ben Gay and knee brace hoping some miracle will occur that will find me back on the slopes in relatively decent condition is the annual dog clinic at Wixom City Hall. All dog owners can begin lining up with their pets for rabies shots prior to one o'clock. Hours are from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Cost of the vaccinations are $2 for a one year shot. Dog licenses are available at $3.

A reminder to those planning on going to the clinic. Dress warmly because the lines are usually long and some waiting must be done outdoors. Secondly, dog owners are requested to make sure their dogs are adequately collared and leashed. Dogs don't like waiting in lines any more than humans and there are occasions when their tempers get short.

This is the only dog clinic that will be held in Wixom. Rabies shots for animals are required by law if they are not received at the clinic it will mean a trip to the vets and added expense to the owner.

Dog owners not purchasing their dog licenses prior to March 1 will then be delinquent. After March 1, the cost per license per dog will be $6.

So to save a little money, especially if you have more than one dog, take advantage of the dog clinic this Saturday.

Evaluation Team Named

Names of the 15 members of the Evaluation Team which will study Novi High School's application for inclusion in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools were announced Monday by Hal J. Seymour, Novi High School principal. Heading the Evaluation Team will be Robert E. Hall, principal of Southfield High School.

The Team will spend three days at Novi High School beginning March 6 and will evaluate all phases of the school's program. They will hold discussions with students, as well as with teachers, parents, and administrators.

Seymour expressed pleasure with the performance of a Steering Committee of Novi teachers headed by Calvin Schmucker. "The staff has risen to the occasion and the very process of the self-study conducted by the Steering Committee should result in significant improvements in the total instructional program," commented the Novi principal.

"We expect to uncover strengths as well as weaknesses in our own evaluation process." The final task of Schmucker's Steering Committee will be to compile and reproduce the extensive reports that have been prepared by each department head.

The reports of the department heads culminates three months of study. Seymour indicates that the Steering Committee hopes to have the reports compiled and duplicated by February 23. Once the Steering Committee has finished its task, the reports will be turned over to the Evaluation Team for its perusal.

The North Central process is an effort to take a complete look at the school's program, so that those immediately involved with the educational process at Novi High School can undertake with some degree of confidence measures that will improve the quality of education. Seymour stressed that the North Central Accreditation process is another step in the effort to offer the best program possible to students at Novi High School.

The Evaluation Team's visit will begin Tuesday, March 4, with a dinner at 6:30 p.m. for all board of education members, administrators, faculty, and invited guests.

Members of the Evaluation Team studying Novi are Dr. Marilyn Schlain of Birmingham Seaholm; Dr. Helen Ditzhazy of Thurston High School; Thomas Hovemale of Taylor Center High School; Mrs. Dolores Aronsson of Southfield High School; Harold Pogats of Southfield-Lathrup High School; Richard Lambert of Thurston High School; and Mrs. Maureen Young of Troy High School.

Other members of the Evaluation Team are Wilbur Muratzki of Southfield-Lathrup High School; Mrs. Nancy Zanatello of Southfield High School; Keith Isaacson of Southfield High School; Peter Drees of Taylor Center High School; Mrs. Ellen Jones of Southfield High School; William Haas of Southfield High School; and Robert Harding of Southfield-Lathrup High School.

Each member of the Evaluation Team will study a different aspect of the education program at Novi High School.

LaPointe to Retire

State Police Capt. Alfred LaPointe, 46, commander of the Detroit district, is retiring March 23 after completing 25 years of service, Director Col. John R. Plants has reported. LaPointe will be employed in a security position with General Motors Corporation after leaving the State Police. Capt. LaPointe has been an active leader in plans to establish a new state police district headquarters, post and crime lab complex on Seven Mile Road in Northville township.

He and his wife, Ruth, have a son, Michael, and two daughters, Joan and Denise. The family lives at Frankenmuth.

Board Revives Bus Garage

Warren suggested that Moak's objections and his alternatives already had been thoroughly investigated (prior to Moak's election) and found lacking.

"Time is of the essence," he declared. "We've procrastinated on this for several years and each time it comes up it (garage) becomes more expensive."

Concerning Moak's warning that the expenditure of building and site monies for a new bus garage may leave insufficient monies for future needs at Village Oaks Elementary and the middle school, Trustee Robert Wilkins served notice that he would raise strong objection when the project comes up for final approval—if it is determined that items of greater priority are being neglected or deferred.

The board must vote once again, after it has secured bids, to approve construction.

For Negotiations

Barr to Head Novi Team

Dr. William Barr, assistant Novi superintendent, will head up the district's negotiating team for upcoming bargaining with teachers.

Serving with Barr as consultants will be Hal Seymour, high school principal, and Roy Williams, Novi Elementary principal.

Alternate members named by the board of education include Superintendent Gerald Kratz; Robert Youngberg, middle school principal; and Mrs. Ester McDonough, Orchard Hills Elementary principal.

In confirming these appointments, the board made it clear that they want contracts of principals settled before negotiations begin with teachers.

The board also named the negotiating team to bargain with non-certified associations (secretaries, and bus drivers). Members include: Barr, David Brown, principal of Village Oaks Elementary; Youngberg; Richard Garlick, or Mrs. Doris Darling, representing the central office.

Alternates include Dr. Kratz; Charles Nanas, assistant high school principal; and Mrs. McDonough

Radio Grant Funds

Trustees gave their approval for the township to seek a federal communications grant to update the radios in the police department.

The federal grant, which is the same type already received by the cities of Northville and Plymouth, would enable the township to modify its base station, get a new radio frequency and update squad car radios.

Total amount requested in the grant application will be $10,000, Police Chief Ronald Nisun stated, with the township paying $1,700 of the cost.

Speaking about the grant, Trustee Charles Schaeffer explained that if received, the township could change its radio frequency in order to communicate more easily with surrounding communities. It was suggested the change might be to the same frequency on which the city police departments of Northville and Plymouth operate.

Trustee John MacDonald questioned whether or not there would be duplication of equipment, should the township be annexed to the city, and was assured that all of the equipment could be put to use.

The supervisor was unanimously directed to prepare the necessary documents to apply for the grant.

In a related matter, Clerk Sally Cayley was authorized to engage services of a reserve township police officer for security purposes during all meetings held in township offices.

Mrs. Cayley stated that during several meetings within the past several months, people have been discovered going through records in the police department.

She explained the police department could not be closed off during the meetings since rest room facilities, also located in the basement, had to remain open during public meetings.

It was suggested the reserve officer could also act as dispatcher and typist while the meetings were in session and, if necessary, assist with audience control.

January Figures Show

City Accidents Decline

Traffic accidents within the city of Northville decreased slightly in January when compared with the same month in 1972, according to figures recently released by the city's traffic bureau.

A total of 20 accidents were investigated by officers during the first month of 1973, down from 22 investigated during the same month the previous year.

Of the 20, 17 occurred in traffic with the remainder in parking lots.

Ten included two or more cars, one involved a car and pedestrian, two included a car and parked vehicle and four involved a vehicle colliding with a fixed object.

Six of the accidents involved injuries with a total of nine persons hurt. In the 22 accidents investigated during January, 1972, two involved injuries

In other activity, police issued 196 hazardous moving violations and 76 non-hazardous violations.

Parking tickets totaled 225. Speeding tickets totaled 105; improper turn, 31; disobey traffic signal, 23; disobey stop sign, 11; fail to yield right of way, improper passing, six each; improper lane usage, five; following too closely, causing accident, three; drunken driving, two; driving without due care, one; and all others, three.

The majority of the 76 non-hazardous violations were written for defective equipment, with 33 tickets issued for that reason. Twenty persons were ticketed for no operators license in possession.

Most Crimes Drop As Year Opens

January proved to be a quiet month for Northville city police officers as few categories of crime increased when compared with the same period in 1972.

According to a report recently issued by the city department, police received a total of 390 calls in January, down from the 537 received during the same month a year ago.

Those crimes showing an increase included larceny from a building, 10 compared with three during January, 1972; larceny from motor vehicle, three compared with two; tampering with auto, one compared with none; arrest for being absent without leave from service, one compared with none; arrests on warrants for other police agencies, 17 compared with 12; and arrests on warrants held by Northville police, eight compared with six.

Areas of crime remaining the same included resisting arrest, two during each month; larceny from person, one; breaking into occupied dwelling, two; breaking into auto, two; drunken driving, three; and minor in possession of alcoholic beverages, one.

Those showing a decrease from January of 1972 included armed robbery, down to one from two; vandalism, six compared with 16; car theft, one compared with two; disorderly conduct arrests, one compared with six; drunkenness, nine compared with 18; and narcotic violations, one compared with three.

Youth Arrests Up in January

Fourteen juveniles between the ages of 12 and 16 including seven girls, were involved in police cases during January, according to a report recently issued by the Northville City Police Department's Juvenile Division.

Of those, four were ticketed for traffic violations and eight were arrested for non-traffic related offenses. Two were involved in a miscellaneous investigation.

During the same period in 1972, five juveniles were arrested for loitering, disorderly conduct, larceny from building, assault and battery and runaway.

Arrests during the first month of 1973 included larceny from building, seven juveniles and minor in possession, one.

Seven of the cases were handled within the local department and five were referred to juvenile court

Wixom Police Nab Trio in Break-In

In Wixom

A trio of young men who twice attempted to rob a home at 2783 Potter Road last week apparently were unfamiliar with the old crime-fighting adage that claims a criminal always returns to the scene of his crime.

After apparently being frightened away by police at 3:15 a.m. Thursday, February 15, the trio returned to the home later that evening to complete the theft and were consequently nabbed by Wixom police.

Arrested was Robert Allen Wallace, 17, of Union Lake. Two juveniles were also arrested in the case.

At 3:15 a.m. February 15 police were called to investigate a breaking and entering at the Potter Road residence. Upon arrival, officers discovered that the home had been broken into and completely ransacked.

Several items had been moved from their original places to the kitchen - apparently so they could be removed from the home, but nothing was found to be missing at that time.

Police theorize that the thieves had been frightened off by the arrival of the squad cars.

Later that evening at approximately 8 p.m. police were again summoned to the residence to investigate a suspicious red car parked in the driveway. As officers approached the house, the automobile was observed pulling out of the driveway and approaching the police car from the opposite direction.

The overhead light was put on and the officer attempted to pull in front of the oncoming vehicle, but the driver managed to avoid the road block and proceeded west on Potter Road.

The car was finally stopped and Wallace was apprehended. The two juveniles were discovered and arrested shortly later, police reported.

An estimated $1,900 worth of merchandise was stolen from a residence at 30100 Beck Road during a breaking and entering which occurred Thursday, February 15.

The theft occurred between 11:30 a.m. and 4 p.m., the owner of the home told police.

A snowmobile trailer capable of hauling four snowmobiles and valued at $800 was stolen from a residence at 2625 Lakeridge last week.

Warren Mills told police the snowmobile was chained to a fence post in front of his garage when he went to bed February 14. The following morning it was gone.

A 29-year old Detroit man, Kenneth Frank Nadkovic, was arrested and charged with larceny from an auto last week in conjunction with the stripping of a car parked along the I-96 expressway.

Wixom police observed an automobile parked on eastbound I-96 with its motor running and decided to investigate further. When they inspected the vehicle, they observed a tire, battery, and several other items thrown on the rear seat of the vehicle.

At this time, officers further observed a vehicle sitting on the opposite side of the expressway on the north side of the westbound land. Upon checking that vehicle, police found the right hand tire missing and the left side of the car jacked up and all the lug nuts missing from the left front tire.

Through subsequent investigation, the owner of the first car - Nadkovic - was traced to the Calico Kitchen where he was arrested.

Dollie Mae Sewell, a 41-year old Detroit woman, was arrested on charges of carrying a concealed weapon last week.

The complaint originated from the Ford Motor Company Security Force. Mrs. Sewell is employed at the Wixom Assembly Plant.

In Novi

An estimated $1,500 worth of damage was done to a Novi Fire Engine last week in an accident which occurred while firemen were responding to a fire call.

Both vehicles involved in the accident were Novi fire trucks.

According to police reports, a fire truck being driven by Sherwood Kenneth Wainman, 30, was following the first truck too closely as the two trucks were travelling south on Novi Road. When the first truck slowed to turn into the driveway at 21300 Novi Road, the driver of the second truck, Wainman, was unable to stop in time and struck the first truck in the rear.

No one was hurt in the accident.

For Saving Boy

Presnell is credited with saving the life and possibly the eyesight of a 10-year-old Westland youth injured when a BB gun accidentally discharged.

According to hospital officials, Presnell's quick transportation of the victim to the hospital may have saved the youth's life, since the BB pellet was lodged near the brain wall.

Also, further loss of eye fluid was prevented and the youth may regain sight in the eye, doctors have indicated. The officer will be presented the citation in ceremonies soon, township officials said.

Police issued Wainman a citation for following too closely. Further action was taken by Fire Chief Duane Bell, who suspended Wainman from the department for a period of six months.

A warrant charging a 27-year old Walled Lake man with assault with intent to do great bodily harm short of the crime of murder was secured by Novi police last week.

Under arrest is Wallace Francis White.

The charges stem from an incident which occurred February 27 in Helen's Highway Bar on 13 Mile Road.

According to reports, White struck Patricia Lynn Cherry of Milford several times with a pool stick. Miss Cherry was taken to Botsford Hospital where she received 10 stitches to close a cut in her head, police reported.

White was originally arrested on charges of being drunk in a public place. The assault charges were lodged following police investigation of the incident.

A Novi resident living on Taft Road has been arrested on charges of unlawful delivery of marihuana.

David Lester Motley of 26322 Taft Road was taken into custody last week.

The charges stem from a raid on Motley's residence which occurred October 27, 1972. At that time police allegedly discovered 19 one-ounce plastic bags of processed marihuana and 23 pounds of unbagged processed marihuana.

Unlawful delivery of marihuana carries a maximum fine of four years imprisonment and a $2,000 fine.

Motley is being detained in the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $1,000 cash bond. Other charges are pending further investigation, said police.

George Allen Stines, a West Virginia man, has been charged with larceny from a person in conjunction with the theft of $350 worth of items from the home of a Novi resident which occurred Halloween night in 1972.

According to police, Stines put a drug in the drink of a Novi man he met in a bar in Detroit and then drove him home and burglarized the man's home.

A 20-year old Walled Lake woman suffered serious injuries in an automobile accident which occurred at 9 a.m. February 14 in front of the Country Place condominiums on Eight Mile Road.

Injured was Cheryl Ann Tibus. She was taken by ambulance to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia where she was treated for a broken nose, broken hand, and cracked ribs.

The accident occurred, according to reports, when Miss Tibus' car, eastbound on Eight Mile, spun out of control on the slippery roadway and slid into the path of a car driven by Elden Dunn of Anchorville.

Miss Tibus was cited by Novi police for improper lane usage.

An accident which occurred at 5:30 a.m. February 10 sent two drivers to the hospital with injuries.

A car driven by John William Bolton, 22, of South Lyon struck a car driven by Sarah Lionberger of Westland. Mrs. Lionberger travelling south on Novi Road when Bolton, eastbound on 10 Mile Road, failed to heed the flashing red traffic signal and drove into her path.

Under investigation is the theft of approximately $250 from the Ralston Purina Check-R-Board building on Novi Road.

Police found a window leading to the office portion of the building broken. The office area had been ransacked with the drawers to cabinets and files opened and their contents scattered about.

The breaking and entering occurred between 6 p.m. February 10 and 8 p.m. February 12.

In Northville

Northville police are investigating two thefts which took place over the weekend.

Tools and a tool box, valued at $270, were stolen from the garage of a home at 936 Novi Street. The theft was reported Saturday evening.

A Detroit woman told police the battery was stolen from her car Friday night while it was parked in a lot near the Presbyterian Church.

Unknown persons broke into a home at 504 Randolph Street between February 9 and 11.

Homeowners returning found a basement window open and the basement door leading to the outside unlocked. No entry was gained to the upper part of the house, police said, but pry marks were found on the door leading to the kitchen from the basement.

In Township

A car stolen from Detroit was recovered in Kings Mill last week.

Police were notified by a resident of Kings Mill that a car had been parked in the lot for four days. Through checking, it was discovered the 1971 Plymouth had been stolen.

Police said damage to the vehicle consisted of missing ignition and trunk lock

An attempted burglary at 15400 Parklane was reported to township police last Thursday. Unknown persons smashed the front door but nothing was found missing from the home.

Maybury Fire

Arson is under investigation as the cause of an early morning fire last Thursday at Maybury Sanatorium.

The fire, which was reported at 6 a.m. by a resident on Beck Road, was contained in the center of the children's unit.

Vacant for several years, the sanatorium was acquired last year by the State of Michigan for a park. The buildings were scheduled to be demolished, state police officials said.

Northville Fire Chief Bud Hartnall said the roof of the building had already caved in and flames could be seen when he arrived at the sanatorium at 6:03 a.m.

There was little or no smoke. State police said the fire broke out sometime between midnight and the time it was reported. Firemen arriving on the scene found footprints in the snow cricling the building but no fire tracks were discovered.

Fire fighters were on the scene until mid-morning Thursday, standing by while the fire burned itself out.

The fire is the second to occur at the children's unit in recent years. In November, 1971, another blaze gutted the vacant building. Arson was also suspected as the cause of that fire.

Sid Frid Criticizes Assessment Hikes

Ramifications of recent assessment increases in the city triggered angry complaints Monday by council gadfly, Sidney Frid.

"I would like to know...why the need for this great assessment increase," he demanded.

Dissatisfied with council explanation that 50-percent of market value assessments are required by state law, Frid changed his argument to non-city taxes.

"I'm not complaining about city taxes but school taxes," he said, pointing out that the assessment increases will be especially felt in the school tax bills.

He took the position that the city need not have ordered "detailed" reassessment and that he and others would have preferred an increasing equalization factor to increased assessments.

Especially upsetting to him, he pointed out, is the fact that township assessments did not increase as much as those in the city. "Why didn't you do the same thing in the township. The whole thing hasn't been done, outside the city," he declared. "The city isn't getting my taxes, it's the school district."

Noting that the city has no jurisdiction outside its own boundaries, City Manager Frank Ollendorff explained that township residents underwent a major reassessment three or four years ago when the city did not. "We're (city) just now catching up," he said.

The manager reminded him, that it was he, Frid, who last summer demanded that the Wayne County portion of the city be reassessed just as the Oakland County portion. "You complained that we weren't equally assessed," Ollendorff said, "and that's what we did."

Councilman Kenneth Rathert pointed out that while it may have been possible to live with an increasing equalization factor, such a factor would simply magnify inequities. Now, with the new assessments, Northville hopefully shouldn't get a factor for several years, he added.

While defending the reassessment, the city manager conceded that "some assessments" may be wrong. Even if they are not, he said, citizens should attend assessment meetings to ask for explanation and clarification from the assessing agencies of Oakland and Wayne counties.

Charging that property taxes are unfair, Frid declared, "If I had my way I'd cut them out and go for an income tax."

Ollendorff and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie agreed an income tax would be fairer, but they noted that elimination of the property tax is a matter up to the legislature.

When senior citizens complained that exemptions for senior citizens are insufficient, Councilman Paul Polino suggested that their signatures may be included in the city's annual appeal for greater exemptions to the state legislature.

Exemptions for senior citizens, explained Ogilvie, unfortunately have not increased with inflation. "Exemptions based on a percentage would make more sense," he reasoned, since such a percentage could be tied to the inflationary dollar. That way if inflation goes up so does the exemption, he said.

When Frid concluded his remarks by saying, "You've (councilmen) got the Mafia beat," the council welcomed him back (he hasn't attended meetings recently) pointing out that "we enjoy having you." "If that's the case," quipped Frid, "I guess I'd better stay away."

In a related matter, the council reapointed Essie Nirider, Wilson Funk, and Burton DeRusha to the board of review—the board that will hear assessment appeals next month.

'City' Sign Proposed

An attractive "Welcome to Northville" sign, including appropriate landscaping, is being planned near the Novi Road entrance to the city.

Councilmen directed City Manager Frank Ollendorff to submit the proposal to the Oakland County Road Department for its approval.

As proposed the sign would be mounted on the Eight Mile Road embankment just south of where Novi Road curves west to meet Eight Mile.

Similar signs are planned elsewhere in the city by the commission, but these additional projects have been placed on the back burner pending outcome of the present annexation question, it was explained.

However, at the urging of Mayor A. M. Allen, the city manager also was directed to study and recommend a business district directional sign at the intersection of Center and Eight Mile roads.

"This has always been a problem for new people coming to Northville," the mayor said. "They can't find the business district. They sail right past Sheldon (Center), and some of them go all the way to South Lyon."

Route Chosen

commented Councilman Kenneth Rathert, additional pressure to the downtown area is essential "so I think we should move rapidly on this."

The city manager predicted the project could be paid in cash, out of the water fund, without resorting to bonds. Construction is scheduled to start this coming summer, with completion by next fall.

governmental unit."

"We disagree with Mr. Ollendorff's figures (estimated millage for the unified city)," declared Adams. "The League of Women Voters came out with a 4.7 tax rate. We ran a detailed study of the Citizens' report and they apparently left out a number of things and did not consider other things. We analyzed it and came up with a 7.73 rate and we feel this is a more accurate millage."

"We feel the 4.75 figure of the League of Women Voters is a 'gross over' figure."

Defending his position, Ollendorff cautioned residents not to "make the assumption that your taxes will not go up if you do not come into the city. There are

570 Register For 'Year Round'

With 570 students signed up, Northville's voluntary year round school program will be operating in kindergarten through grade eight next school year.

According to Miss Florence Panattoni, director of the experimental year round school program, 405 new students have enrolled and 165 students are returning from the current year round program.

"And registration is not closed," she emphasized. "Parents may still enroll their children and they will be accepted if there is room at that grade level," she explained.

Elementary grades will be housed at Amerman proposals before the township board that will cost a good deal more than (an increase) of 3 mills that cityhood would cost you. I don't know if these will be approved but they are proposals before the board that no one has been willing to give us a cost figure on.

"We've asked them, what is this going to cost if you do these things; if you build this new township hall what will it cost...how many mills? But they won't tell us that. What will this new fire station cost? What will all of the firemen being discussed cost? What will the chief's 10 or 12 man police force cost?"

"I hope our opponents will tell us. I think it's going to cost you something in the order of 6 to 8 mills...twice as much in the next two or three years than if you go into the city."

Elementary, where the program is currently operating in grades kindergarten through five. Sixth graders will be at Cooke Middle School Annex and seventh and eighth graders will be at Cooke Middle School.

New enrollment by grades is kindergarten, 77; first, 39; second, 40; third, 39; fourth, 38; fifth, 34; sixth, 39; seventh, 56; and eighth, 43. The figures do not include those students presently attending year round school.

Northville's experimental program alternates 45 days of school with 15 days of vacation.

Miss Panattoni said the district is currently studying whether to operate two schedules or one.

Since it appeared to him that many residents present were unaware of arguments for and against annexation, Lysinger emphasized that residents should sign election petitions, thus delaying the annexation and giving them additional time in which to become informed.

"As you may have been able to detect this (unification) has been an issue for a number of years and, as we've all agreed, with the city of other equipment.

Attorney Donald Morgan explained that a township has no inherent rights to hire a fire marshal since townships are under the jurisdiction of the Michigan State Police commissioner or person appointed by him to act as fire marshal.

Morgan stated that the only way a fire marshal can be appointed by a township is if the township has established a fire department.

"A township under 15,000 in population may contract for fire services," Morgan said, "or may establish a fire department."

The township would have to adopt the national fire code, establish a fire bureau and there are reams of information available, pro and con, he said. "I happen to agree with you that in a few short weeks, with limited ability to pick up information, you perhaps would not be in a position to make a good judgment."

"Our position is that the most logical way to handle that situation is to insure that there is a public referendum and that will give you time to do your own research."

then could hire a fire marshal, he stated.

The supervisor could be designated head of the bureau, the bureau could then be established and staffed, the attorney continued.

Mitchell also stated the fire marshal would work with the fire study committee, inspect buildings for fire hazards, investigate fires, examine and prosecute persons suspected of arson or violating fire prevention rules and laws, prepare cases for court, keep records, supervise training of firemen and make public presentations on fire safety.

"Committed to meeting YOUR gas needs."

Supplying reliable gas service to more than 900,000 customers isn't easy; especially when there is a national gas shortage. Interstate pipelines have been unable to deliver as much gas as they had promised. And this has caused a pinch in Michigan.

Why is there a shortage? Well, suppose you owned a gas well in (let us say) Louisiana. You could sell gas locally at maybe 50 cents a thousand cubic feet. But if you sold it to a pipeline, for interstate delivery to (say) Michigan, the Federal Government would allow you to charge only about 30 cents. What would you do? You'd sell your gas in Louisiana. And that's the economics of a gas shortage. Happily, there seems to be greater realism now in Washington. But it'll take time for things to get better. Meanwhile, Consumers Power Company is protecting its existing customers by refusing to accept any new users of natural gas. It's tough on people who would like to use gas to heat new homes they intend to build. But it's essential.

Consumers Power Company is meeting its commitments. We intend to keep on doing so.

Old Man's Philosophy

'Colored People Are No Better, No Worse Than White'

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"I'm not black and I'm not white...I'm just me...a plain old man with lots of good friends," insists Victor Lewis, philosophically.

That is not to say that Lewis, who next April 19 will celebrate his 92nd birthday, isn't proud of his race.

It's simply a proud black man's way of saying that the value of humanity is not measured by the color of skin. "It's what is inside here that counts," he says tapping his chest. "You're heart's the same color as mine."

Reminded that some blacks might consider him an "Uncle Tom," Lewis bristles and replies, "I don't give a hoot what they say." And then he adds, "People don't care if I'm colored and I don't care if they're white. We're all alike...I really believe that."

One of the oldest (if not the oldest) residents of Salem Township and member of one of the first black families to move to the area before the turn of the century, Lewis blows a hole in a popular story that the blacks in Salem are descendants of slaves who escaped the South and settled here along the fabled "Underground Railroad."

"My parents weren't slaves," he asserts, "and they didn't even live in the South. My father was born in Ohio; my mother was born in Indiana. The only slave in my family was my father's mother."

Born in South Lyon, Lewis doesn't remember just why the original black families settled in Salem "except maybe they just liked the place."

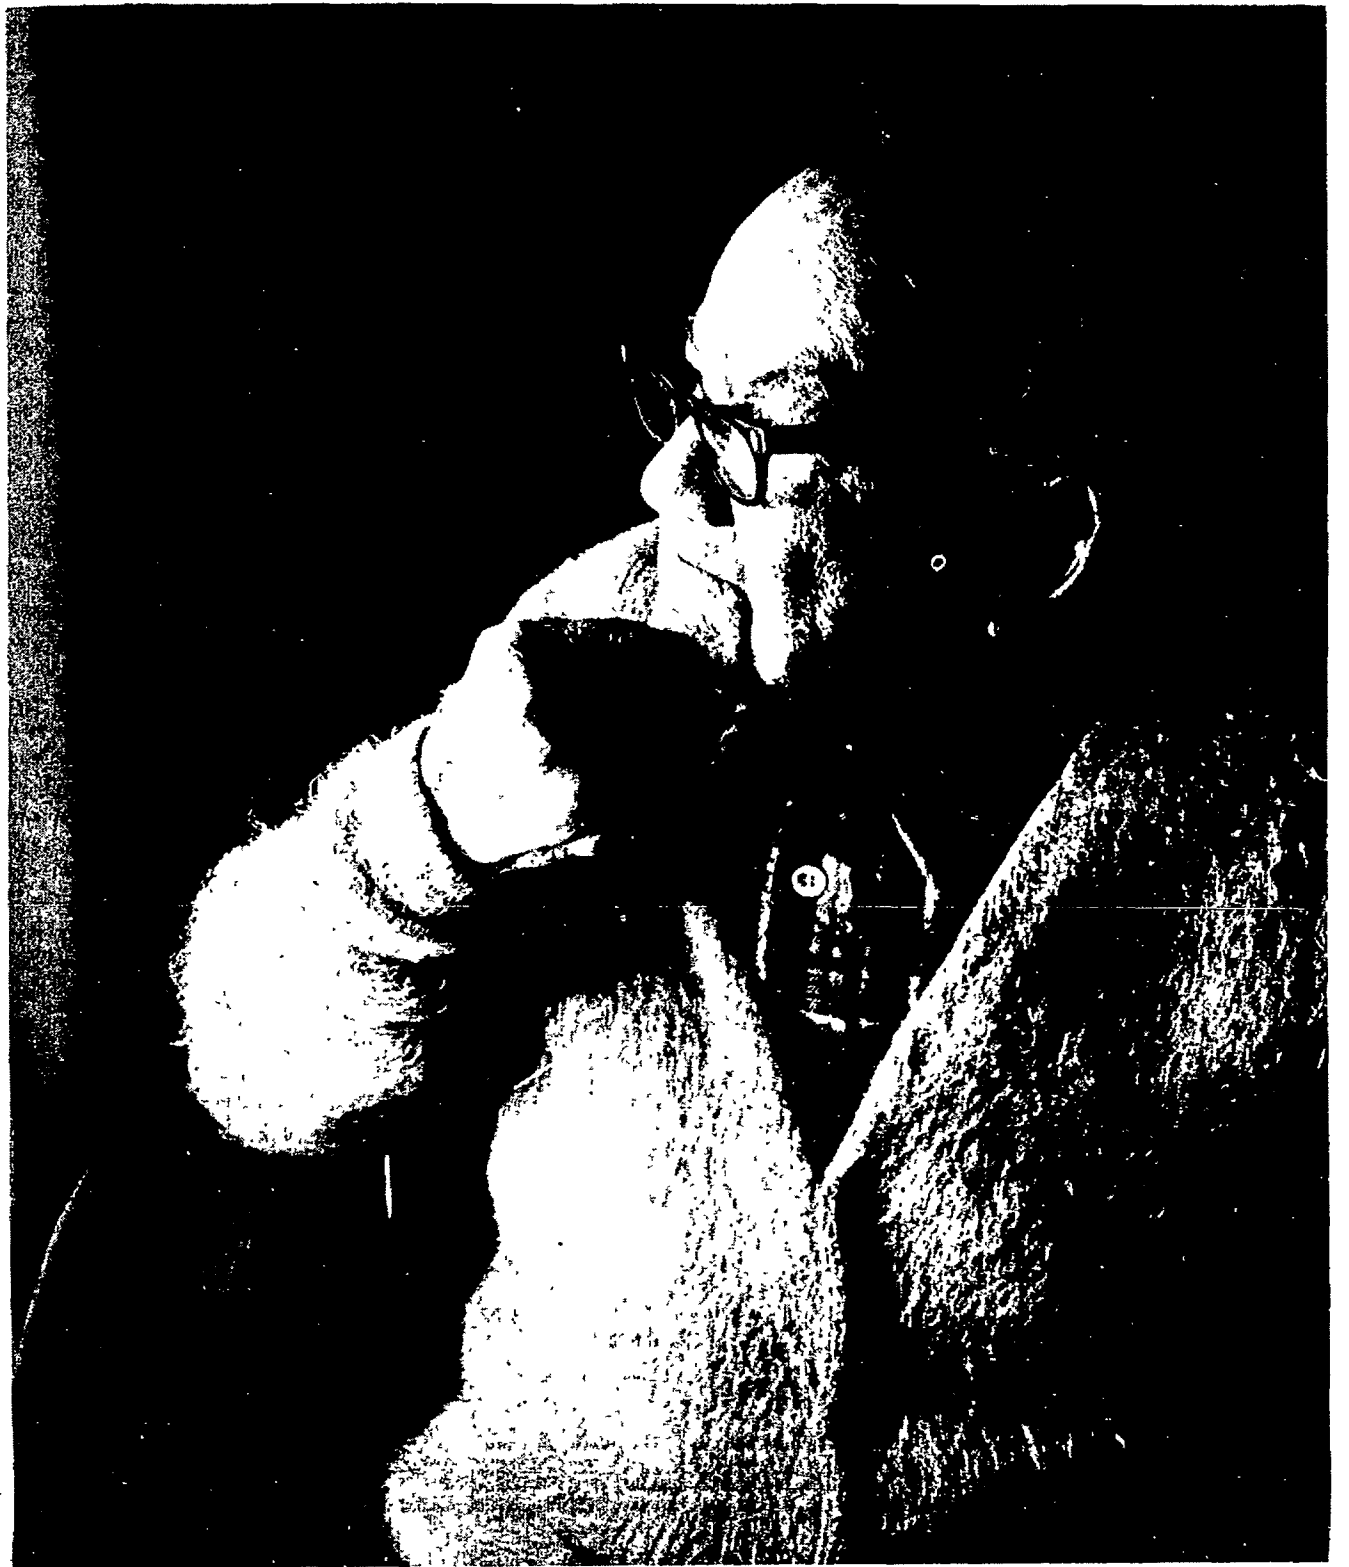

Most of the black families in Salem "are related in one way or another," he says. "But we go our own way. We don't even go to the same churches."

Lewis, whose parents "died too many years ago to remember" (his father lived to age 96) and are buried in the Thayer Cemetery at the corner of Six Mile and Napier in Northville Township, was one of eight children.

He is the oldest of the three living children. A brother, Frank, formerly an active member in the Northville American Legion Post, lives nearby in Salem and a sister, Mattie, lives in Detroit.

The tidy but weather-beaten home in which he lives alone is the family homestead. Parts of it were built by his father, but the main section was once a blacksmith shop.

"There were some happy times inside here," he recalls, "and some not so happy."

Salem Township's Victor Lewis Pauses for Some Philosophical Reflection on His 92 Years

After attending the old Salem country school, Lewis became a blacksmith ("I was in partnership with Burt Hayward"), a logger, farmer, carpenter, handy man, and a traveling farm construction supervisor.

It was while he had this latter job that Lewis became convinced that black and white people "have lots in common. In all my years I've never been mistreated; I've never been discriminated against. I've worked on plenty of jobs so I know we can get along if we try."

Nevertheless, Lewis admits that prejudices exist "some places I guess. I just can't understand why people can't get along. Why can't we understand each other?"

"Some colored people haven't got education enough to know what courtesy is...and that isn't all their fault. You've

Complicated

Elderly Have 'Tax Breaks'

This is the fourth in a series of articles prepared by The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1972 Federal Income Tax Returns.

Elderly taxpayers enjoy certain breaks under Federal tax laws, but some of the regulations affecting them are rather complicated. The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants has attempted to clarify the picture.

"Beginning with the most clearcut provisions of the Revenue Act," said Robert N. DenBraber, MACPA President, "benefits under the Social Security and Railroad Retirement Programs are tax exempt. Also, pensioners are not taxed on that portion of their pension benefits resulting from contributions they, themselves, made from previously taxed income," DenBraber pointed out.

Most other pension benefits are taxable, but the tax rates for the elderly, because of their usually reduced incomes, are in most cases low. Each person over 65 gets a double personal exemption, and since the exemption went up to $750 in 1972, that means $3,000 in exemptions for a couple above that age.

Taken together with the low income allowance, which also went up — from $1,050 to $1,300 — this means the couple can have an income of $4,300 over and above their Social Security benefits without incurring any tax obligations.

If a person has received pension or annuity benefits that are taxable, the MACPA recommends that he call or write the nearest IRS office to obtain simple forms for reporting them and computing the tax due.

"To avoid having to pay one large tax on pension earnings at the end of the year, it is often possible to arrange with the company making the payments to withhold income tax from the monthly pension check," DenBraber advises.

Retired people who receive little or nothing from Social Security can sometimes save up to a few hundred dollars on the taxes owed on investment income by use of a device called the retirement income credit. For this, qualified guidance is almost indispensable.

For the children of retired people, MACPA reminds us that an unmarried person may qualify for special tax treatment as a "head of household" if he provides more than half the support of dependent relatives. Relatives other than parents have to live in the taxpayer's home, but parents can live elsewhere.

If more than one child supports an elderly parent, yet none provides more than half the support, one of them can still take the parent as a dependent. The others must agree not to claim the exemption that year. In some families the children alternate in taking the exemption, says The Michigan Association of CPAs.

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—The phasing out of marginal and obsolete facilities, rigorous cost-cutting, reducing of personnel, trimming in basic research, and renewed emphasis on immediately marketable products were all basic factors in the recovery affecting the chemical industry in 1971 and 1972.

Such stress on practical business management, coupled with selective price boosts in some strong sectors and price stabilization in weaker areas, reversed the ominous downturn which had led to widespread disenchantment with the industry as a whole.

Overall, the chemical makers have been buoyed by a strong demand for both basic and specialty items, decreased competition from petroleum companies, and an almost zero market entry by newcomers. For the first time in many years, demand is outpacing supply. The Research Department of Babson's Reports sees the chemical industry as being in a powerful new upswing, aided by a robust U. S. economy.

BREAKING ALL records last year, chemical producers scored gains in sales, earnings, and productivity. Output of major industrial chemicals and synthetics was up about 14 percent. Sales actually grew more rapidly than the Gross National Product. Most significant of all, profits were up more than 20 percent—the largest gain in 10 years. These advances exceeded the long-term average trend for the entire industry.

The comeback—begun in 1971 and since accelerated—has convinced the doubters that the making of chemicals has not yet turned into a stodgy, commodity-type operation with little growth. In fact, a major feature of the performance in 1972 and into 1973 has been the resurgence of many products which had been showing relatively little, or below-average, growth in the years just before.

ALTHOUGH MANY chemical stalwarts were still far from bumping up against Phase II ceilings on profit margins in 1972, the probability of such a happening in 1973 was developing. But Phase III provides somewhat greater flexibility, it now seems to the Babson Staff, making it easier to prevent price dislocations and achieve reasonable price adjustments—more so than under Phase II, at least.

In the absence of mandatory controls, producers should be able to hike prices on those products which have been in short supply. Specifically, companies have the option of making 1971 one of the two base years, and an average price increase of 1.5 percent is now permitted without regard to the profit-margin test.

With industry shipments slated to advance by 15 percent in 1973, operating rates by 86 percent or more, and capital spending also on the rise, experts foresee profit margins reaching the 1966 record again.

FOR THE MAJORITY of stocks of chemical companies we are currently advising a Hold position.

The Babson Staff does, however, consider that Culligan International, Monsanto Company, and Pennwalt Corporation are worthwhile recommendations for new commitments. At present, all three are selling at relatively low price-earnings multiples on the New York Stock Exchange.

Culligan holds a prime position in the water-treatment equipment field and is expected to increase earnings materially for the 1973 fiscal year ending April 30, bolstered by quickening European operations.

Monsanto is a well-diversified producer with earnings slated to advance sharply this year. The company has succeeded in making significant inroads on many markets, which should make for revitalized growth. Pennwalt is a leader in chemicals, pharmaceuticals, dental products, and specialized instrument equipment. Management's programs to reduce costs and restructure its operations should be translated into higher earnings for the present year.

Dems Face Tough Mending Job

LANSING—Hard times have fallen upon Michigan's Democratic Party in recent years. It has been attacked and fragmented on both its left and right flanks by the dual issues of Vietnam and busing. It hasn't won a gubernatorial race in Michigan since 1960.

The task of trying to put things back together the way they were in the 1950's and early 1960's now goes to Morley Winograd, the new party chairman from Troy. Winograd saw close up the effect busing had on party fortunes as chairman of Oakland County last year. Republicans had a field day in large part because of this issue. They even captured a Congressional seat which had been all but conceded to the Democrats.

THE TASK for Democrats is no easier because of the fact Republican Governor William G. Milliken is expected to seek another term in 1974.

Milliken's standing in the polls has remained high through the past year, when he wasn't running for office. His support won't be hurt by the tax reduction proposal he presented to the legislature.

The Democrats also won't have the benefit of a popular figure like Senator Philip A. Hart was in the 1970 election when he walloped Lenore Romney by a 2-1 margin. Hart's coattails then almost carried State Sen. Sander Levin to victory over Milliken.

But Milliken will likely be alone atop the ticket in 1974 and that will help him.

WHAT WINOGRAD must do is figure out a way to get the old line labor forces, many of whom deserted the party in 1972, back into the party. He must do so without alienating the more liberal forces who stayed with the party last year and are suspicious of any moves which appear too conservative.

The selection of Winograd's showed some of the party problems. He was handpicked by the United Auto Workers as their candidate, and the UAW is still by far the single most powerful force in the party. Yet he needed two ballots at the state convention and could only master a few votes more than the 50 percent needed before his opponents moved to make it unanimous in the interests of party unity.

Winograd was booed by the party's youth caucus the night before his election and will have to convince that segment that he can work with them and is interested in them.

THE TASK isn't hopeless.

There are still many more Michiganders who consider themselves Democrats than Republicans, and the labor forces in Michigan can still turn out quite a few votes on election day.

But Republicans in the state have discarded the rigid conservatism which laid them open for the Democrats in the 1950's. George Romney changed things around in the early 1960's. Milliken has a liberal philosophy that has a lot of conservative Republicans grumbling he's really a Democrat.

Winograd has about a year to put together an organization, the financing, find a strong candidate and develop some issues to unseat Milliken. At this point all that can be said is that he has his work cut out for him.

MILLIONS of Michigan people are inconvenienced.

Once again, the Michigan Treasury Department is making the state's taxpayers find their own income tax forms rather than mailing forms as the federal government does to people who paid an income tax the previous year.

The forms are available at banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, Internal Revenue Service offices and state revenue division offices.

The Department figures it saves about $100,000 by not mailing the forms at eight cents per form to the estimated 3.3 million people around the state. We would imagine there are a lot of taxpayers who would be glad to shell out the eight cents or even 50 to eliminate the time, gas, aggravation and other factors involved in making a special stop to pick up a form which might cost them a lot of money. Or perhaps state officials hope those with small refunds won't bother to secure forms to get their money back.

IT MIGHT be easier to swallow the inconvenience for the public as an economy move if it weren't for the many wastes people see in government.

The decision not to mail the forms was made several years ago when the state was in a real financial hole and every penny saved helped head off a deficit. With the financial picture bright enough now that the governor is talking about cutting taxes, it would seem a good idea to spend eight cents per person of the proposed cut to mail out tax forms.

Medrano Gets County Post

Southeastern Michigan

Fun for Non-Skier, Too!

Even the non-skier can appreciate the wide variety of facilities and the close-to-home convenience of southeast Michigan's nine ski lodges, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Several of the ski areas—within 45 minutes of Southeast Michigan cities—have cocktail lounges with live entertainment. Most lodges have cafeterias and one even features a gourmet restaurant complete with a wine list.

For an adult, a day of weekend skiing will cost from $7.50 to $12.50, including equipment rental and tow ticket. Rates run $2-$3 less on evenings and weekdays. Two lodges offer "ladies day" reductions, and children under 12 can ski for reduced rates at most places. Discounts are also available for groups of 25 or more. All nine lodges offer ski instruction. Private lessons cost about $10 a session; two people pay approximately $5 for a shared lesson; and a lesson for three or four persons runs about $3-$4 apiece.

Southeast Michigan's nine ski spots are:

1. Irish Hills Sports Park—This lodge offers ice skating, tobogganing and camping as well as skiing. The 25 campsites rent at $3 a night, including electricity. The skating is free but no skates are provided; toboggans rent for $1.25 plus a $1 hill fee. The rustic lodge features a sundeck overlooking the slopes, a cocktail lounge with evening entertainment, a cafeteria and a snack bar. Groups of 25 or more can spend the night in a 100-bed dormitory. Open from noon-11 p.m. weekdays and from 10 a.m.-11 p.m. weekends. 20 runs, and a limited ski shop. Phone: (313) 467-2137.

2. Mt. Brighton—In addition to two spacious cafeterias, Mt. Brighton has a charcoal grill for limited-menu dining. A babysitting service is offered on weekdays. Beneath the lodge's soaring wooden beams, visitors can sip cocktails and listen to live entertainment (on weekends) while viewing most of Mt. Brighton's 15 runs. Open from 10 a.m.-10 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m.-11 p.m. weekends. Ski instruction includes new "graduated length" method. Limited ski shop. Phone: (313) 227-1451.

Young Men Nominated For Academy

Three area young men have been nominated by Congressman Marvin L. Esch to the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

They are: Richard A. Chapman, son of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Kenneth Chapman of 4199 West Six Mile Road; Timothy L. E. Kalota, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kalota of 44102 Cottisford; and Jay W. Letarte, son of Mr. Robert Letarte of 45861 Seven Mile Road.

Nomination by Esch is an essential step for academy acceptance, but actual appointment is made by the academy not by the congressman. "Nomination does not assure appointment," Esch emphasized.

Altogether he nominated 33 persons from throughout his congressional district, which includes Northville, to four service academies.

Esch said, "Our nominees this year are an outstanding group of young men. All of us in the Second District have reason to be proud of them. I am optimistic that many will win academy appointment."

The congressman annually conducts a district-wide competition among applicants.

got some white tribes that come up here from the South and raise all kinds of Cain, just like us colored have got bad folks. But those people who were taught to be courteous...they're alright; they get along."

Education and discipline, says Lewis, is the "real way to get rid of all this terrible stuff going on. It makes me sick to read about all that crime."

"If folks stopped letting their kids do anything they want we'd be better off. A little whipping now and then doesn't hurt anyone. I got plenty of it, so did the rest of the kids. Nobody in our family was ever involved with the law. Everybody should suffer for their own kind."

"We got plenty laws; we just need more enforcement. We've got to punish those who do wrong. If it's hanging they deserve, let's hang 'em. I think we ought to have capital punishment."

Lewis makes the interesting observation that the "decline" in law and order isn't something new. He believes it got its start during Prohibition when adults, mostly whites, frequently and openly disobeyed the law.

"Now their kids saw all that stuff going on so when they grew up the law didn't mean much anymore. Now the new kids are worse. They can do anything and their folks stick up for them."

"Crime and this prejudice going around...it's due to ignorance," he suggests. "It's frightful."

Obviously opinionated, Lewis thinks Detroit schools need help. But he insists cross-district busing "don't help anybody. It's foolish. The parents are to blame for all the talk; they uphold their kids in that kind of devilry.

"I don't have any great intelligence but my folks taught us to use everybody right and to tend to your own business. The black parents have got to commence telling their kids what is right and wrong. And so must you white people."

Having lived for nearly a century in a community where he has been totally accepted as "just another person, nothin' odd or anything like that," Lewis says it "hurts" to think that "white people in some places have to have hate."

"I think about it a lot; it's frightful. I think about how nice the people are here (in Salem) and I think why can't we all have this kind of love. Right here in this house I used to have white kids stay overnight and I use to stay in their houses. Nobody even talked about the color."

"I think you'll find there's still a lot of good people in this world. They know colored people are no better, no worse than white people."

Finally, Lewis laughs about his "mixed up" heritage. "I've got lots of colors in my blood. There's some English and Dutch and probably a whole lot of others. What's that make me? You sure you're white?"

"You know I don't think I ever in all my life really met a full-blooded African."

"Color don't mean anything. If you're black or if you're white when you're laid down to rest nobody's going to care. They're going to say he was good or he was bad."

"When I go and they lay me down by my momma and daddy I'll be there with my white friends and my colored friends just like I am now."

Bell Asks Rate Hike Of $29.7 Million

MICHIGAN BELL has applied for a $29.7 million rate increase designed to bring company earnings up to the level previously deemed fair and reasonable by the state Public Service Commission.

The company's request would amount to a 4.5 percent increase in its intrastate revenues.

Lloyd J. Haynes, Michigan Bell vice president, noted that:

"The Commission has authorized Michigan Bell to earn at the rate of 7.96 percent on its intrastate net plant investment."

"Last year the company earned 7.43 percent."

"Our purpose in this filing is to attempt to reach the earnings level authorized by the Commission," Haynes said.

The earnings level originally was set by the MPSC in August of 1970 and reaffirmed at 7.96 percent by the Commission last April.

However, Haynes pointed out that due to inadequate revenues Michigan Bell has earned at the authorized level in only three of the 28 months that have elapsed since the original Commission order—despite the company's continuing program of rigid expense control and a reduction in its work force.

"We did not earn at that level for the year 1972 and we will miss the mark by an even wider margin this year," he said.

Haynes said Michigan Bell's planned 1973 construction outlays will reach a record $350 million, up $45 million from last year, while the company also faces an $18 million annual increase in wages already bargained for.

In today's filing, he said, the company is not making an issue out of its long-standing view that the earnings level authorized by the Commission is in itself too low.

"We still feel that a rate of return in the range of 9 to 9.5 percent is more realistic under today's economic conditions, and also more consistent with the provision of quality telephone service," he said. "But in an effort to expedite this case, we are not arguing that point."

The requested rate increase would mean higher monthly bills for the majority of customers. However, the rates for nearly a quarter-million Budget Service customers would remain the same throughout the state. Rates for 411,000 customers who have 1-party and 2-party flat rate residence service in Detroit would not change either. These groups comprise about 30 percent of Michigan Bell's residence customers.

The application to the MPSC also calls for a broad restructuring of business equipment rates, a higher charge to install service to a new home, apartment or business, an increase in intrastate long distance charges, replacement of the present statewide Nickel-a-Minute service with a new Budget Toll Dialing Service, and approval to charge for information calls that exceed five per month.

Outstate, proposed increases in regular residence rates range from 20 cents to 80 cents a month.

Haynes said that 2-party budget service at $3 a month would "remain the best and lowest priced service in the nation for those with low income or limited calling needs." One-party budget Travel Trailer show. The campgrounds are located near Grayling, off Four Mile Road, 4½ miles east of I-75.

J.E. Ford, of 1935 Dartmouth Place, Northville, owner of the Yogi Bear campground, was present to tell of the new comfort station and laundromat installed at the site. These are in addition to those already available.

Ford, a former oil executive who was instrumental in developing Speedway 79 from a chain of 38 stations to more than 800 in a 12 year period, has owned the campground for two years.

More than 800 recreational vehicles were shown, including travel trailers, truck campers, camping trailers and motor homes. In addition, there will be displays of accessories and supplies and representatives of publications, banks and insurance firms was on hand.

Braver Lumber and Supply Co., which operates two full line lumber yards and three Pine Lumber Cashways in the Metropolitan area including Brighton announces the appointment of Clarence Cole as "Manager of Garage Department".

Cole's duties will encompass the sales and servicing of our garage building customers.

He was formerly president of Cole Building Co. and has a broad background in the construction garage and modernization fields.

Today Ann Arbor Federal Savings exceeded $200 million in total assets, it was announced by Roy Weber, President.

"Ann Arbor Federal Savings is the largest financial institution in Washtenaw County and the fourth largest Federal Savings and loan in the state of Michigan," Weber said in revealing the achievement. "In the past year alone, we have added $36 million in total assets. This is quite phenomenal when you consider that in 1942 our total assets were just $5 million; in 1952, $18 million and in 1965 just $64 million."

"This growth has been achieved through an ever-growing number of depositors which now number over 46,000. Although our customers live primarily within Washtenaw, Livingston and Oakland Counties, we have many throughout the United States and in twenty different nations," he continued. "The addition of a full-service office in Chelsea early in 1972 contributed measurably to this growth. We expect to further this growth pattern in 1973 by the opening of an office in Ypsilanti Township."

Expanding assets have been matched by availability of funds to stimulate the building of homes in Washtenaw and Livingston Counties. Over $54 million in new mortgage loans were made in 1972. Ann Arbor Federal Savings is the largest single source for home loans in the area."

CARL E. PFEIFFER, President of Michigan Seamless Tube Company announced that the Board of Directors in their regular meeting on February 13, 1973, promoted Phil C. Hintz to the position of vice president and general manager of the Standard Tube Company, division of the Michigan Seamless Tube Company.

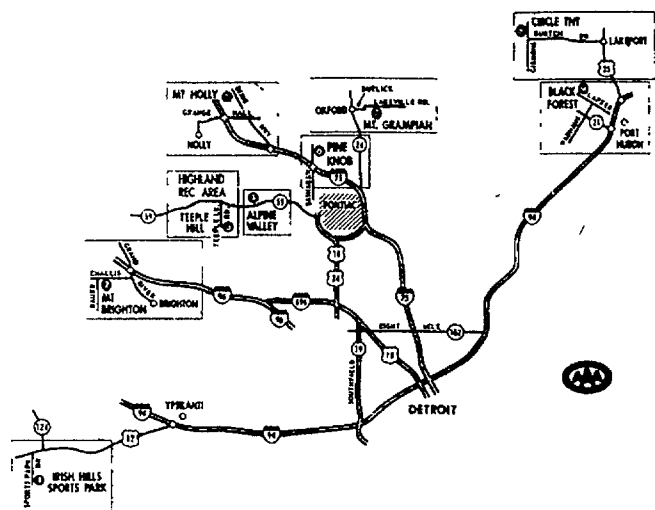

Hintz joined Standard Tube Company in February of 1960 as Sales Manager. He was promoted to General Manager in February of 1971.

Upon graduation from Colgate University, Hintz worked for 19 years at Republic Steel Company and then was self-employed as a manufacturer's representative for seven years before joining Standard Tube.

Hintz and his wife reside in Brighton.

Michigan Seamless Tube Company is the largest independent tube manufacturer in the country, with tube mills located in South Lyon; Gulf States Tube Corporation, Rosenberg, Texas; Standard Tube Company, Detroit; and Standard Tube Company, Shelby, Ohio.

Bell Asks Rate Hike

service remains $4.95 per month.

Business customers with measured service would have no increase in their monthly rate of $5.75 but would pay more in usage charges with each local message going from 4½ to 5 cents.

There also would be no increase in monthly rates for suburban and rural business service.

However, as all instruments would be charged for, including the first one on a line, most business customers would pay more in monthly charges. Proposed increases for flat-rate business services range from 70 cents to $1.40 a month for 1 and 2-party service and up to $2.10 for a flat-rate PBX trunk.

Haynes said the proposal to charge for information calls is in keeping with the company's objective to have rates reflect the amount of usage customers make of telephone service — in short, to have those who use more pay more.

At present, it costs Michigan Bell $18 million annually to provide information, and the cost is shared equally by all customers, he said.

Studies show that 80 percent of telephone customers call information no more than five times a month. These customers — representing the vast majority of telephone users — would not be affected by the proposal, under which each customer would have an allowance of five calls a month to information at no charge. Calls in excess of the five-call allowance would be charged at the rate of 10 cents each starting in the 1974-75 period.

Haynes stressed there would be no charge for information calls from handicapped people unable to use the directory, for calls from coin telephones or for information calls to other area codes.

The company's plan for restructuring business rates for users of Contrex, PBX and key sets would produce a change in almost every such customer's telephone bill, with some decreasing. The new proposal would reflect changes in cost and technology, simplify the present rate structure and provide a better choice of service options for these business customers, he explained.

For long distance calls within the state, the company asked for an increase of 1 cent per minute for operator-handled calls beyond 25 miles and a lesser amount for dialed calls.

All In A Week's Work

YOU ARE THERE

It's a rare night when there's more than two or three citizens at a meeting of a local governmental body. But still, you ARE there...because the press is always present in Northville, Novi, Wixom, South Lyon and the Brighton area to report what happens to readers of The Record, Novi News, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus. Jack Hoffman, assistant to the publisher for Sliger Publications, regularly covers the Northville City Council. He's shown above on a night when the council has another visitor, State Senator Carl Pursell (extreme right at council table).

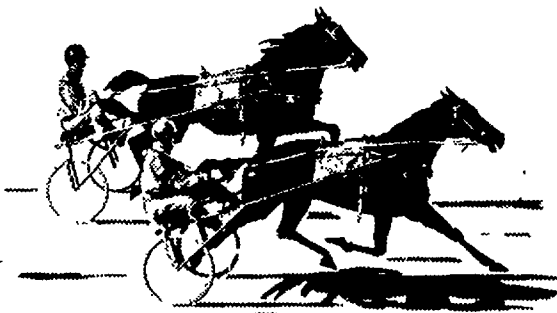

Grocers Celebrate This Week

MORE THAN 8,000 food stores and supermarkets throughout Michigan will celebrate Grocers Week in Michigan, being held this year Feb. 18-24.

The Associated Food Dealers (AFD), sponsor of the event, said Grocers Week will see supermarket operators and independent and convenience stores featuring special sales during the 8th annual week-long observance. Governor William G. Milliken has issued a special proclamation for the celebration, as have the mayors and city officials throughout the state.

Theme for this year's promotion is "Getting More Out of Your Food Dollar," designed to help homemakers shop for food more effectively.

THE ROLE OF THE PRESS

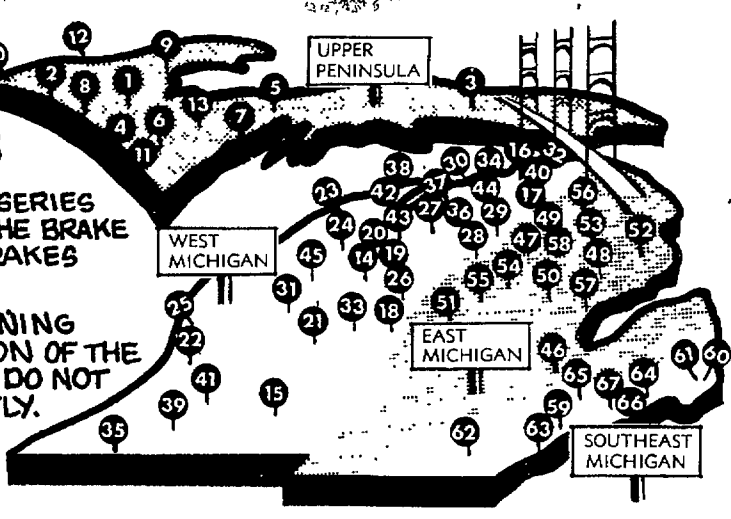

TV Newscaster David Brinkley was recently quoted as saying that "if people are concerned about danger to their rights and freedoms, they should be aware of where the danger comes from. And it does not come from the press." Of course, we agree. Keeping people informed of what's happening at the grass roots' level strikes us as more important than at higher levels. If the base of government isn't solid, how can we build? But we know that by far the vast majority of city, township and school officials are sincerely dedicated to doing the best job possible for their respective communities. We still think it's important for the press to be there in person to report what happens, so the people can decide whether their action is right or wrong.

Boost for Ego

Her Story's Published

By NANCY DINGELDEY

"For the amateur writer having an article published is a great ego booster. It convinces you that you have the ability."

Olga Piilo says this from experience. The Wixom mother of five children always had the desire to write but really didn't begin in earnest until six years ago when she left her position at Ford Motor Company.

"It's really something when your family learns it is a sincere effort—not something to be done in dribs and drabs."

Olga began her efforts by taking a correspondence course from the University of Michigan. At that point, her stories were slanted in the adult vein with the ultimate goal of publication in the "Journal," "Red Book" or "Cosmopolitan" magazines. She attended lectures, seminars and writing courses, slowly building a portfolio of ideas for her short stories. "It was like climbing a mountain and never reaching the top". "Publishers can be very harsh and the reject slips can be very devastating," she said. "But you have to understand that publishers receive tons of manuscripts and don't have the time to explain why the subject has been rejected."

"It's all a matter of analyzing. Maybe there's an overabundance of one type of story or its the wrong season for baseball. Or you've got the right idea but it's put the wrong way."

"You've got to find the key, then rewrite and rehash and resubmit."

"But there was one thing I learned I felt more comfortable writing for children."

Mrs. Piilo has always enjoyed being with children. For many years she was a Girl Scout leader in Wixom and her home has always been open to the kids.

Currently she is teaching a creative writing course in the SWAS (School-Within-A-School) program at the Walled Lake Junior High two days a week. She also sings in the "Sweet Adelines" and is an accomplished seamstress. "In children there is constant activity and motion and a great source of material."

Olga favors writing for boys between the ages of eight and twelve and publishes under O. A. Piilo. "That's because most boys that age don't want to read things written by a woman."

A few years ago she collaborated with her daughter Sandy and hopes were high for publication of that story. Olga did the writing and Sandy did the art work. It was a delightful story but it wasn't accepted. "One of these days I'll resubmit it."

Last fall, however, the ego finally had its boost. A short story entitled "Jeff's A-OK Idea" was accepted by "Discovery Magazine" and published. It was the second story Olga had ever written. "You can't get discouraged. And you have to learn to accept rejection slips gracefully"

Council Informed

Novi Precincts Changing

Just because you voted in precinct one at the last election doesn't mean you'll be voting in precinct one the next time you go to the polls

Novi City Clerk Mabel Ash Monday informed the council that the city's burgeoning population has necessitated a redefining of precinct boundaries.

Under state election laws, no precinct can contain more than 1,400 registered voters and there must be one voting machine for every 600 registered voters.

Mrs. Ash's question of the council was should she divide the precincts on the basis of existing or projected population.

If split on the basis of existing population there would be seven precincts. If split on the basis of projected population, there would be 10 to 12 precincts.

Novi presently has four precincts.

Mrs. Ash also requested and received the council's permission to use the Oakland County computer service for assistance in setting up the new precincts.

Biggest change in precincts will come in what are now precincts two (east of Novi Road and south of 10 Mile Road) and three (east of Novi Road between 10 and 12 Mile Roads).

Although several tentative plans are being considered by the city's election board, one plan calls for the area to be split into four precincts.

That same plan calls for the existing precinct one (west of Novi Road and south of 12 Mile Road) to be split into two precincts, while the present fourth precinct (all of Novi north of 12 Mile Road) would remain the same.

Regardless of the election committee's decision on the splitting of the precincts, the city will have to purchase additional voting machines. Mrs. Ash told the council six new machines would have to be purchased before the next election in order to comply with state election laws. At a price of roughly $2,000 per machine, Novi will have to find $12,000 more in its already cramped budget.

Today's Strange Jesus

Revered Bruce Stine, Pastor
Tri-Lakes Baptist Church
Brighton

The purpose of the Bible is to testify to the Lord Jesus Christ. Just as John the Baptist pointed to Christ with the words, "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29), so the Bible exists to point men to Him, the only Lord and Saviour. The Bible, therefore, is not an end in itself, but a means whereby we come to Christ, the Living Word of God; and the chief purpose of the Book is to bring us to the Person. The words which describe the purpose of the Gospel of John may rightly be used of the whole Bible: "These are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name" (John 20:31).

We study the Bible that we may come into personal contact with the Lord Jesus Christ and, putting our whole trust in Him, live obediently to His Word. This is just what Jesus Himself taught us about the purpose of Scripture: "Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me. And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life" (John 5:39,40). Note these words again — "Search the Scriptures...come to me that ye might have life."

It is necessary to stress this truth, that the purpose of Bible study is personal encounter, personal meeting with Jesus Christ. The Bible may be studied in other ways, but it does not speak to our hearts then as the Living Word of God. If we study "the Bible to be read as literature," or as a book of ancient history or biography, then "the veil remaineth unlifted" (II Cor. 3:14). Nor do we read the Bible to find out a lot about God, but rather to find God Himself revealed in Jesus Christ.

Now, it is of course possible and easy to read the Scriptures without coming into personal contact with the Living God revealed in Jesus Christ, and to fall under His condemnation, "Ye search the scriptures...ye will not come to me." There is little virtue or value in merely reading a portion of Scripture every day: that in itself will not help us to become vital Christians. It depends on why we read it, and how we read it. Jesus Christ is Lord and the whole purpose of the Scriptures. Your destiny and the end of the ages are in His hands. You should know this One, this God-Man. Don't look for Him in movements or religious systems but go as instructed by Jesus, to the Scriptures. There you will find the Christ who changes you and gives you new life.

A child's faith is beautiful in its simplicity and in the little things it encompasses. Like, for instance, the nightly ritual that comes at the end of prayer. "God bless Mommy and Daddy and Cousin Peter and Kitty Kat and my blue teddy bear."

To a child, there is no reason why God should not bless also a crumpled and slightly soiled teddy bear, and a pet kitty. For God is goodness and love and kindness and tolerance...not perhaps in those words, but in the feeling this child has as she says her prayers.

Prayer, to the child who has been taught to pray, is a natural thing. It should be as much a part of everyday life as eating and sleeping and playing. To pray for what is good...to give thanks for what one has is an all-important step in that all-important right direction on the road of life.

Dear Sally Saddle,
Would you explain the difference between a Paint and a Pinto horse?
Thanks.

Adios,
Tonto Toronto

ANSWER: The term "pinto" is derived from the Spanish word "pintado" meaning painted and is used to refer to all color pattern horses other than the Appaloosa.

A pinto must have noticeable markings on the body, not including the face and legs. These areas must be large enough to show pinto breeding and typical color pattern.

The pinto must have conformation that is sound, attractive and that shows quality and refinement. It may be of any breed, type or mixture of several so long as it meets the color requirements.

To qualify a foal for American Paint Horse Association registry, the dam must be registered with the American Quarter Horse Association, the Jockey Club, or the American Paint Horse Association. The stallion must be registered with anyone of these three but either dam or sire must be a registered paint horse.

Distribute Highway Funds Here

Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the fourth quarter of 1972, up 12.4 percent over the same period in 1971, are now being distributed to Michigan counties and municipalities, the State Highway Commission announced recently.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said net receipts of the Highway Fund for the October through December period totaled $104,332,739, an increase of $11,475,439.

All state taxes on gasoline and diesel fuel, plus license plate fees, go into the Highway Fund.

Livingston County will receive $333,642 for the fourth quarter of 1972, up from $288,458 received for the fourth quarter of 1971; Oakland County, $2,564,933, up from $2,279,451; and Wayne County, $5,851,732, up from $5,166,019.

Brighton will receive $1,116, up from $9,961 received for the fourth quarter of 1971; Northville, $17,294, up from $15,498; Novi, $36,156; up from $32,098; South Lyon, $8,017, up from $7,192; and Wixom, $10,493, up from $9,349.

Will Defend Hot Dog Standards

"Have a hot dog, anywhere, anytime in Michigan."

That's the advice of B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, whose agency is waging a war to protect Michigan's comminuted meat standards. Since Michigan was hauled into court nearly three years ago by three large out-of-state meat packers, Armour, Hormel and Wilson, the state has been engaged in a continuing fight to defend its strict standards.

"With the vigorous aid of consumers, the Michigan meat industry, the Governor, our state legislators, and a valiant band of Michigan Congressmen, we expect to win this battle to maintain Michigan's 20-year-old comminuted meat law," the director concluded.
