MEXICO CITY trip planned by members of Northville High's band has been cancelled. The trip was to have taken place during spring vacation.

CITY MANAGER Frank Ollendorff will join with Harvey Smith in appealing proposed ditch width of the Randolph Drain adjacent to Smith's property at High and Randolph. They'll contend the width of the ditch at this point is greater than the minimum suggested earlier by the city council.

Council Backs Proposal To Move Library Next Door

Moving of the Northville library to the school administrative-township hall building was endorsed by the city council Monday.

Council action followed a recommendation of the Northville Library Advisory Commission that this move, necessitated by need for additional space, is "the most expedient and economical choice for expanded library facilities."

Similar backing is necessary from the township board and the board of education, however, before the proposal can become a reality.

Earlier, City Manager Frank Ollendorff, Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright, and School Superintendent Raymond Spear pledged their support of the proposal.

Originally used as a community building, the building presently is owned by the school district. The west half is used for school administrative offices; the east half, leased by the township from the school district, is used as a township hall. The building is located west of the city hall on Main Street where the library is presently located.

The library presently occupies the east side of the city hall, utilizing 3,900 square feet of space. This space, according to the advisory commission, "is filled to capacity and is still inadequate."

"Need for new quarter is urgent," the commission declared in its report and recommendation to city and township officials.

The seating and study space in the present library is less than half of minimum standard requirements, officials were told. Workroom is "hopelessly overcrowded," and this, despite recent utilization of the balcony area in the facility.

Commission members pointed out the book stock has increased nearly twice as much in the past two years than in the previous nine years. It increased by 2,847 volumes between 1961 and 1969 and by 4,039 volumes between 1970 and 1972.

The present total book stock was put at 22,206 volumes, with the projected 1975 stock at 27,000.

"Using minimum American Library Association standards, our current book stock is inadequate for our population and our present quarters are filled to capacity," according to the commission report.

Circulation, it continued, increased by 11,437 between 1961 and 1969, and by 12,372 between 1970 and 1972.

Total circulation in 1972 was 64,147. Circulation for January and February of this year was 10,210.

A study by the Wayne County Consolidated Library Systems, according to the commission, recommends the following for a library serving a population of 24,000 people:

- Book stock of 35,000 volumes.
- Readers seats for 120.
- Provision for micro-film, phonograph records, films, slides and film strips.
- Adequate workroom facilities.

The county library systems recommends a building of at least 12,000 square feet to

on the right...er, take the road to the right (Randolph) if you want to go right into the center of town, the one on the left (Eight Mile) if you want to bypass the center. Of course, you could go left for a right turn on Center...Oh, forget it...just be sure to turn one way or the other. That's the reason for the new sign in the first place; earlier ones crumpled beneath mixed-up autos.

NEA Files Suit

'No Action on Dues Necessary'

Maintaining that action taken by Northville Board of Education placing membership dues in escrow is illegal, Northville Education Association (NEA) last week filed a $100,000 lawsuit against the board.

NEA President Paul Osborn said the association filed the suit because it disagrees with the board's interpretation of the supreme court ruling. The court ruled an agency shop contract illegal because it required teachers to pay dues, an equivalent fee or be dismissed.

Osborn said the ruling did not apply to Northville's contract with the association. "The membership forms are still valid and the board should not have brought up the matter of dues deductions."

Dues deductions for December, January and February, which amount to approximately $3,000 each month, were placed in an escrow account by the school district.

On January 9, the board filed a declaratory judgment suit in Wayne County Circuit Court asking what should be done with the dues.

Osborn criticized the board for the action, saying "They placed the dues in escrow and then asked the court to rule that what they did was ok."

Superintendent Raymond Spear, who, along with board members was served a summons last Thursday in the case, calls the suit "a sad affair."

"It's sad the NEA, in recognition of the dilemma facing the school district, chose the route they did," Spear commented.

"The school board had three choices following the supreme court decision," Spear said. "It could have ignored the decision, stopped the payroll deductions or put

Nowka Named Plan Chairman

New officers were elected February 27 by Northville Township planning commissioners.

Named chairman of the commission was James Nowka. Kenneth Sewell was selected vice-chairman while Mrs. Lini Handy was named secretary.

Other members of the commission include John MacDonald, Fred Philippeau, Bernard Baldwin and J. C. Bowlby.

Trailer 'Law' Tabled

A proposed ordinance regulating parking and storage of recreational type vehicles, already amended by planners to assuage public protests, appears headed for still more changes.

Public hearing on the proposal was adjourned Monday by the Northville City Council when citizens made it plain that even the amended version is objectionable.

Persuading council to adjourn the hearing was the fact that City Attorney Philip Ogilvie had not previously been asked to review the proposal.

The amended ordinance proposal was recommended for adoption by the planning commission, which also had adjourned its public hearing before reaching its decision at a subsequent meeting in January.

Duane LaMoreaux, who had been a chief opponent of the measure when it was considered by planners, repeated his objections before the council Monday.

He called the proposal "totally unnecessary and unduly restrictive," noting again that the time limit for temporary parking is unrealistic for those, like himself, who bring their trailers home for a weekend and return it to campgrounds the next weekend.

Sidney Frid also voiced criticism, pointing out that guests who annually visit his home would be unable to do so because they travel to Northville in mobile homes. Normally, they "stay for a week...or until we run out of food," he said.

George Kohns also found the minimum arbitrary trailer length of 20 feet, which under the ordinance would require a city permit, unnecessary.

Another citizen, referring to a second related ordinance amendment that would permit storage of such vehicles in manufacturing districts, warned the council that such storage facilities do

Three 4-H'ers in Exchange

Three area girls have been selected to be among a group of 38 Oakland County 4-H Club members who will take part in the "Organization's" interstate exchange program early this summer.

Participating will be Kim Balko, 16, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Balko of 22811 Napier Road; Deanna Balko, 15, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Balko of 52730 West Eight Mile Road, and Cheryl Visnyak, 15, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zolje Visnyak of 50855 Nine Mile Road. Each of the girls is a member of the Lyon's 4-H'ers.

The 38 Oakland County teens who will be making the trip were chosen on the basis of the work which they have done within their 4-H group as well as a personal interview with a panel of judges.

Although the exact date and destination will not be announced for a couple of weeks, the girls do know that they will be departing for one of the Western states in the early part of the summer.

While out West, the teens will stay in the homes of other 4-H'ers for one week.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

TO BE IN on our town's activities these days you need tennis shoes and dancing slippers. Dance tickets to local events are going faster than they have in years, according to their planners, and tennis clubs as well as swim clubs are signing up area families.

Mother's Club dance planners expect about 120 couples at the annual benefit dinner dance this Saturday at Meadowbrook Country Club. Since it is being held in March rather than February as in previous years, it's called the "Spring Fling." After all, spring is due March 20, Mrs. George Murany, chairman points out. She and co-chairman Mrs. Ronald Horwath have announced that the buffet will be served from 7:30 to 9 p.m. and are asking those who are gathering for cocktails beforehand to be sure to arrive on time.

By the advance ticket sale, Mothers' Club expects about 20 more couples at the dance than attended last year. It has been suggested that the Northville Historical Society Mill Race benefit last month was so enjoyable that it made ticket selling for other events easier. With late donations the historical society now has realized more than $3,000 from the dinner dance benefit.

Among the Mothers' Club members and husbands entertaining before the dance, this Saturday are Dr. and Mrs. Charles Fountain who have invited their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Wister who are co-hosting a get-together at the home of the former couple. Mr. and Mrs. David Longridge have invited a group of fellow school administrators and their wives. As usual, ticket purchasers know that all profits are earmarked for school projects.

HIGHLAND LAKES residents are celebrating St. Patrick's Day with a dance at the clubhouse from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. March 17. The green motif will be carried out in everything from the large green shamrocks and pipes that will decorate the walls to the green beer to be served with snacks, according to the chairman, Mrs. Eugene Fogel. (If that name sounds familiar, it's because Gene Fogel is a WJR newscaster.)

A cabaret sing-along with Irish songs, of course will precede the dancing. Tickets for Highland Lakes residents and their guests will be available through March 12.

Decoration for this dance, and all monthly dances sponsored by the social committee, are under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald Goldman, and her committee of Mrs. Rudolph Bachman, Mrs. Ray Golen, Mrs. Thomas Nygren, Mrs. Shirley Nair and Mrs. Richard Wilson.

The February dance, a "Sweetheart Swing," with a late-evening buffet, was attended by about 100. Double that number—200 to 250 are expected for the St. Patrick's Day party.

A SPRING fashion show for men as well as women is another upcoming event at Highland Lakes. It is being sponsored by the Highland Lakes firemen and their wives at 8:30 p.m. April 7 at the clubhouse.

Models from the Highland Lakes community will show women's fashions by Bud Shelton of Fashions by Bud of North Center Street. Men's wear will be from Marshall Roberts. The hair of the feminine models is to be coiffured by the Hair Sanctuary (formerly the Paris Room.)

DATE FOR the first Northville Police Officer's Association benefit ball has been set for April 27 at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

TENNIS ANYONE? This popular phrase today could read—Tennis Everyone? or just about everyone. There's a growing list of Northville couples who play throughout the year at area tennis clubs. They're also combining the sport with sociability. Invitations are going out now to about 25 couples for a tennis party from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. March 17 at Huron Valley Tennis Club in Dixboro. Organizers for the St. Patrick Day event are the Robert Boshovens, Halton Axtells and the Walter Carters.

They are planning a buffet of corned beef and cabbage with green beer to mark the date. The group will have the complete use of the club for the evening. Donna Boshoven explains that this is the third such "tennis party" the group of Northville and Ann Arbor friends have arranged.

Local tennis-playing couples include Wes Henrikksons, Keith Wrings, William Hoppings, Ronald Horwaths, Von Bolls and Dave Longridges. Still other are the Edward Hodges, Richard Bodens, Donald Williamses, John Veselnaks, Douglas Horsts, and the Dan Bolands. Other regular players are Larry Fest and Mrs. Louis Mortenson.

The Robert Boshovens are just back from a winter vacation at the Saint Lucie Hilton Hotel in Fort Pierce, Florida, located 40 miles north of Palm Beach. Set on 1,000 acres, Donna Boshoven reports it had six tennis courts and three golf courses...in addition to the pool their room looked out upon.

Just before going south the Boshovens entered a mixed doubles tournament at Farmington Tennis Club and won a membership there. Now they are looking ahead to July and the Governor's Cup games they have attended in Traverse City for the past three years.

Hal Axtell also was a winner in the Farmington competition.

Other winter vacationers are the William McDermotts. Flo McDermott accompanied her husband on a business convention to Hawaii—and experienced the thrill of having breakfast with longtime movie star Pat O'Brien, a guest at their hotel. After mass, he posed with her for a snapshot. The McDermotts visited the island of Maui from their Honolulu base.

FLORIDA has to be the favorite winter vacation-retirement spot for Northville citizens. About 75 former residents and vacationers attended the annual Northville luncheon at Sweden House in Bradenton, Florida, February 21. The group also included four Novi and one Brighton representative.

Some of the group later went to Heather Hill Club House for conversation and reminiscing. Former Northville teacher William Hensch and Mrs. Hensch were hosts at the club. Former Kroger manager Ed Barnes was organizer for the meeting. He called on Mrs. Donald Ware, an annual Florida vacationer with her husband, to bring them up to date.

Mary Ware, in turn, introduced Mrs. W.H. Cansfield who told about Northville Historical Society activities. As a result, a collection was taken to benefit the Mill Race and forwarded to President John Burkman. In all, the society received more than $100 from Florida.

Mrs. Ware writes that Louise Cansfield and Beth Lapham are "enjoying every minute in Stuart and we enjoy them as neighbors." Other guests included Arthur Hill who, Mrs. Ware adds, "claims Northville as home even though he has been away 40 years and now is a permanent resident of St. Pete."

Mrs. A.E. Hahn, a former Northville resident who now makes her home in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, with her sisters, spends the winter in Sarasota and was in the reunion group. Others aiding the restoration project from Florida were the Jack Blackburns.

FEEDING THE BIRDS to get them through a snowy winter also usually means feeding bunnies, squirrels and even raccoons, as Mrs. Frederick Harper found when an entire 'coon family invaded her garage seeking garbage.

It also has grown into a bird-watching hobby for area residents. Mrs. Jack Dewsbury reports that a visitor at her feeding station last Sunday was a bluebird—rare even in summer in Michigan. The Dewsburies also have been watching a hawk that perches in the tall trees behind their home.

'Raggedy Ann and Andy' To Visit Plymouth Home

"Raggedy Ann and Andy Go to the Fair" will be presented to 400 children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School on March 14, by members of the Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club.

The play, a pantomime with narration, was written by two members of the organization, Mrs. Paul King and Mrs. Benton Lindamood, and will be performed by members of the group.

Following the play, the children will also be entertained by magician Terry Kiernan and a professional folk singing group, Tim Hazel and Brush Creek.

The women will use as props for the play crafts which the children, themselves have made. The theme of the production is "anyone can fall flat on his face and still come up a winner," a club spokesman said.

To Finance Activities

Women Voters Plan Fund Campaign

How does the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization, finance the activities which it undertakes on the local, state and national levels?

Chairman Mrs. Ross Seymour, the activities are financed through member's dues and contributions as well as contributions from outside the membership. She has announced that the plans for a local fund raising drive have been coordinated and are now underway.

"The League," she said, "is zealous in guarding its non-partisanship in order to maintain its credibility on issues it supports or opposes and in its voter service activities."

"It follows, then, that funds which enable it to function effectively must be obtained in a way which casts no reflection on its non-partisanship."

The responsibility for fund raising lies with the members.

Serving on the Finance Advisory Committee are: A. R. Clarke, Manufacturers National Bank; R. H. Amerman, retired superintendent of Northville Public Schools; Philip Ogilvie, attorney; Nelson C. Schrader III, Schrader's Furniture.

Thomas Healy, Jr., attorney; Fred Hill, John Smith's Men's and Boys' Wear; James Jabara, Plymouth Tank and Fabricating Company; and Dr. Clifford McClumpha, veterinarian.

According to Mrs. Seymour, the committee will be mailing personalized letters to non-members in the two communities requesting contributions to the League.

30 Novi Women Attend Meeting

Thirty Novi women last week attended an information coffee sponsored by the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters.

Those in attendance have "enthusiastically" accepted the challenge to begin a study of their community, according to League President Mrs. Donald Stacey. A meeting to organize the study has been announced by the study chairman, Mrs. Charles Mutch, for Wednesday, March 14, at 7:45 p.m. in the Orchard Hills Elementary School library. Mrs. Mutch said that all interested Novi women are urged to attend.

The purpose of the initial coffee was to explain the League program to the women and to tell them how the formation of a Novi unit of the Northville-Plymouth League might benefit the community. Speakers for the meeting were Mrs. Stacey and Membership Chairman Mrs. Charles Ayers.

The study which the Novi women will undertake will be in the areas of Novi government, education, financing, municipal services, land use and recreation.

Anyone wishing further information about the Novi unit is urged to contact Mrs. William A. Moak at 349-3138.

Late Evening Snack

Russian Tea Compliments Quick Cake

Dancing is as much a part of Russia as caviar! Whether it is a classical Bolshoi Ballet or an energetic, foot-stomping, whirling-through-the-air type of Siberian folk-dance, dancing and going to the theatre to watch performers dance has always been a part of Russian culture.

The thought of such energetic dancing makes one thirsty for a refreshing drink. Russian Tea Punch is made with a Russian favorite—tea. For modern ease of preparation, instant tea is used with Orange Flavor Tang Instant Breakfast Drink and cinnamon. Serve hot with triangular clove-studded lemon slices.

The fruit flavor of the hot-tea punch goes well with most desserts. It's an especially nice accompaniment for Dream Cake with Cherries Jubilee. Dream Cake is a delightful recipe—made by combining a package of cake mix with an envelope of whipped topping mix, four eggs, and a cup of water. The light and delicious cake that results has a texture and flavor similar to a chiffon cake—with much less effort.

Both cake and punch are perfect for a late evening snack. All that needs to be done at serving time is to heat the Cherries Jubilee for the cake and stir boiling water into the tea punch mixture—a bit of elegance and a lot of convenience for the perfect and relaxed hostess.

Russian Tea Punch

one-third cup orange flavored instant breakfast drink
1/4 cup sugar
4 teaspoons instant tea
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of salt
2 quarts boiling water

Lemon slices
Whole cloves

Combine instant breakfast drink, sugar, instant tea, cinnamon, and salt in a large heatproof serving bowl. Add boiling water. Stir until dissolved. Cut lemon slices into triangles; insert 1 or 2 cloves in each triangle and float in punch. Serve in heatproof punch cups. Makes 2 quarts or 16 servings.

Dream Cake

1 package (2-layer size) yellow, white, or devil's food cake mix
1 envelope whipped topping mix
4 eggs
1 cup cold tap water

Combine cake mix, whipped topping mix right from envelope, eggs, and water in large bowl of electric mixer. Blend until moistened. Beat at medium speed for 4 minutes. Pour into greased and floured 10-inch Bundt pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes or until cake tester inserted into center of cake comes out clean. Cool in pan 15 minutes. Then loosen from sides and center tube with knife and gently remove cake. Finish cooling on rack.

Cherries Jubilee

1 package (10 oz.) frozen sweet cherries in quick thaw pouch

1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
Dash of cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon rum extract

Thaw cherries as directed on package; drain, reserving the syrup. Combine sugar and cornstarch in small saucepan. Add cinnamon and reserved syrup. Heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened and clear. Remove from heat. Add rum extract and cherries. Serve warm over cake. Makes about 3 servings.

Note: Recipe may be doubled.

Northville Plans Vacation Day

Northville Public School students will get a day of vacation Wednesday, March 14, when classes will be dismissed for curriculum day. Teachers, however, will be on the job.

Marking period ends tomorrow, Friday, at Cooke Middle School and Annex. Report cards will be sent home with students the following Friday, March 16. Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, March 19 and 20, with students at the middle school dismissed at 11 a.m. each day. Annex students will be released from classes at 10:50 a.m. during the conferences.

To avoid conflicts with several other activities and Ash Wednesday, orientation for all incoming freshmen and new students will be held today (Thursday).

According to Northville High Principal Fred Holdsworth, the session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Parents are asked to attend the orientation with their students.

Coed Receives

MSU Degree

Lynda Finegold of Novi will receive a bachelor's degree Sunday, March 11, in graduation ceremonies at Michigan State University. Miss Finegold is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Finegold of 42400 Park Ridge Road.

Enrolled in the Justine Morrell Honors College of MSU, she majored in linguistics and will be teaching in Mexico City.

Miss Finegold previously spent a year and a half attending the University of Mexico and teaching in Mexico City. She is a graduate of Oak Park High School.

Students in Northville elementary schools currently have their art work on display in a show at the Old Mill Restaurant on East Main Street.

The show, which includes work from students in grades one through six, will be up through the month of March, according to Mrs. Gail Raben, elementary art instructor.

Included in the show are rugs, weaving, printing, masks and paintings. The show is marking March which is Youth Art Month, Mrs. Raben added.

Club Celebrates

Weight Loss

The Northville Weight Watchers recently celebrated the loss of 100 pounds of one of its members.

According to the group's lecturer, Mrs. Ruth Krammer, Mrs. Pat Richards of Milford, has been attending the Northville meetings regularly for a year and has shed 100 pounds in that time.

The celebration was held last Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville with "legal" Weight Watcher punch and desserts.

Mrs. Krammer said that Mrs. Richards looked "just fantastic" as she stood before the group in a yellow pant suit and answered questions about the weight loss.

School's Out

Parents of Novi school students were reminded this week that a half-day session is planned tomorrow (Friday) for in-service teaching training.

According to Superintendent Gerald Kratz, elementary schools will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m., the middle school at 11 a.m., and the high school at 10:30 a.m.

Classes will resume the regular schedule Monday.

Novi Police Rout Sniper—It's Just a Drill

SNIPER—Max Roder peers out at a squadron of Novi police officers from his hiding place in the second story of an abandoned 13 Mile Road farm house. Roder, himself a member of the Novi police force, served as the target for a training session conducted last Friday in which police drilled in the use of tear gas. For more pictures of the assault on Roder see Page 8-A.

The sniper was holed up in the second story of an abandoned, decaying farm house on 13 Mile Road.

Below, a squadron of Novi policemen prepared to assault the house. From behind a squad car two officers armed with shotguns pumped barricade-penetrating tear gas projectiles into the room from which the sniper was firing.

As the gas filled the room and came billowing out the windows a second officer rushed the house, hurled two tear gas canisters into the first floor and then two more into the second story.

Under the cover of the tear gas, three gas-mask clad officers then entered the home and appeared shortly later with the sniper in custody.

Although those events actually occurred last Friday, they weren't real, of course. The assault on the sniper in the 13 Mile Road farm house was part of a "tear gas training program" Novi officers have faced each year for the last three years.

Three four-man teams participated in Friday's drill and each was graded on its performance.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, while admitting that Novi's officers rarely are confronted with situations which require the use of tear gas, insisted that the training is valuable.

"We're equipped with tear gas in our police cars and we feel that everyone of our officers should know how to use it," he said while watching the men flush the bogus-sniper from the building.

"In our drills we like each man to experience what it's like to work with tear gas - we want them to have had experience with shooting the projectiles, throwing the grenade-like canisters, and experiencing the effects of gas through a gas mask."

At least one officer became aware of the advisability of having his gas mask securely fitted, as he came out of the house coughing and rubbing his eyes.

"It's bad enough to be tear gassed," commented the Novi Chief, "but rubbing your eyes only makes it worse."

Novi Plays New Card In Regional Center Bid

As the high-level competition for the Hudsons-Sears-Penny's regional shopping center purportedly approaches a decision date, Novi's city council has introduced a new factor which it hopes will influence Dayton-Hudson in Minneapolis to select a Novi location.

Involved is the interchange which will funnel traffic from the proposed I-275 expressway onto 13 Mile Road.

"It's down to the point where Dayton-Hudson is counting pluses and minuses," one councilman told The Novi News. "Anything we can do to add one more plus to the Novi location or one more minus to the West Bloomfield location could be important. We're playing for millions of dollars now."

The new factor involves a non-action.

Several weeks ago, the council authorized Mayor Joseph Crupi and City Clerk Mabel Athas to enter into a contract with the State Highway Department for the engineering of the 13 Mile Road interchange. Now, however, with the concurrence of the rest of the council, Crupi has announced that he will not sign the contract until he has more definite information on where the regional shopping center will be located.

The decision not to sign the contract could be an extremely important one—the council hopes it might be decisive.

When completed, the 13 Mile Road interchange would be approximately two miles from both the West Bloomfield site (north of 15 Mile between Haggerty and Halstead Roads) and the Novi site (south of 12 Mile between Novi and Meadowbrook Roads).

Thus, the interchange would service either location.

The contract proposed by the Highway Department calls for Novi to put up $10,000 as its share of engineering fees for the 13 Mile Road interchange.

In addition, the contract stipulates that the state will agree to construct a five-lane road within the easterly and westerly limits of the interchange (approximately 3,600 feet) if Novi will agree to construct a two-lane road from the ends of the interchange to the nearest mile roads (Haggerty and Meadowbrook) at the present time and widen those two-lanes to five when traffic warrants such an expansion.

"To agree to pave even two lanes would be a major obligation under the present traffic conditions on 13 Mile Road," Crupi told The Novi

IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT—Harold Saunders, 30, Novi's recently-appointed city manager, tries out the controls of a 1932 bulldozer built by the Michigan Tractor Company. Saunders was formally introduced to state, county, and local officials, as well as representatives of Novi's business community, at a reception last Thursday in the Michigan Tractor Building. Cranking up the bulldozer is Novi Chamber of Commerce President Gary Johnson, while City Councilman Denis Berry, who headed up the council's screening committee, looks on. Behind Saunders are Bernard Sullivan and Irving Rich, developers of Novi's lone industrial park, and School Superintendent Gerald Kratz.

Will Boost Shopping Center

Sewer Project OK'd

Development of a proposed shopping center on the southeast corner of Novi and Ten Mile Roads was speeded Monday as the Novi city council passed the seventh of seven resolutions setting up a special assessment district to finance the construction of a sewer line.

Albert Weiss, representing Novi-Ten Associates, approached the council approximately a year ago with plans to develop a shopping center on the Novi-Ten Mile site. His plans were contingent on the availability of sewer capacity, however.

Since sewer lines had not yet been extended to that location, the council initiated the action which ultimately led to the establishment of the special assessment district Monday.

When it is constructed the new line will service the entire Novi-Ten Mile Road industrial triangle as well as an area south of Ten Mile and west of Novi Road. The Novi line will hook into the Oakland County trunk sewer, which runs parallel to the C & O railroad tracks, at the Novi Road crossing. The line will then run south down Novi Road to Ten Mile and then east on Ten Mile to the C & O crossing where it will tie back into the Oakland County trunk line.

The new line will also extend west of Novi Road along Ten Mile to the Whitehall Convalescent Home.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $408,858 of which $346,705 will be gained through special assessment. The city at large will pick up the additional $62,153. Cost per front foot to each property owner will be $30.20.

Although the council approved passage of the seventh resolution by a 5-2 margin (Councilmen Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry cast the dissenting ballots), passage was almost stalled by a question of assessment legality.

Presnell pointed out that the line only extended across the first 119 feet of the 429 feet Whitehall Convalescent Home property. His question was should Whitehall be assessed for just the 119 feet which had the line in front of it or should they be assessed for the full 429 front footage of their property.

The question was never resolved.

Assault with Intent to Murder

Wixom Arrests Suspect

A 19-year old Walled Lake man was arraigned last week on charges of assault with intent to commit murder. The charges stem from a breaking and entering of a Wixom home during which a 15-year old girl was allegedly struck over the head and strangled.

In custody is Leslie Allen Williams, a 19-year old laborer, who resides in Walled Lake.

Williams was arrested in Milford at 10:45 p.m. Friday, March 2, by Wixom Investigator Walter Sprenger, assisted by the Milford Police Department and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

He was arraigned the following day before Judge Moffitt in the 52nd District Court in Clarkston and remanded to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of a $12,000 cash bond. Additional charges of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling were also lodged against Williams.

The alleged breaking and entering and subsequent assault occurred Sunday, February 25, in a private residence at 2036 Orland. Time of the crime was placed at 12:45 a.m.

Two 13-year old girls - each in a different bedroom at the rear of the house - were in the building when the breaking and entering occurred.

The girls told police they heard someone knocking at the front door, but did not answer, thinking the person would leave. Shortly later, they reported, they heard the back door open and saw a light go on in the kitchen.

One of the girls called out, but received no answer. Instead the intruder rushed into her room, struck her over the head, and began choking her.

The other girl heard the commotion and began screaming. Police theorized that it was the scream which frightened the man off. As soon as the second girl screamed, they told police, the man ran out of the house.

The girls ran next door and notified police. The man, they reported, was approximately 5'10" tall and quite thin. He had shoulder length brown hair, a fuzzy thin mustache, and was wearing white gloves.

The girl who was assaulted was taken to Botsford General Hospital, treated, and released later that night.

Police searched the area surrounding the house, but were unable to pick up the trail of the assailant. Williams was arrested five days later following an investigation by Inspector Sprenger.

Examination date has been set for March 12 in Judge Martin Boyle's 52nd District Court.

Crupi Chides Council

A decision to delay any action on one request on the grounds that funds are not available and an informal directive to almost double a second request whether funds are available or not led Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi to criticize the city council Monday.

"Gentlemen," said the Mayor, "we have a bad tendency to bring up the matter of budget when it suits our purposes and to ignore the matter of budget when it does not suit our purposes. We've got to be consistent in dealing with these requests."

Although the Mayor addressed the council at large, it was obvious that his comments were aimed at Councilman Louie Campbell who had led opposition to a request for additional help in the controller's office and then publicly chastised Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole for requesting only two additional cars for the police department.

The exchanges took place after Acting City Manager Ed Kriewall had presented the council with two requests involving additional expenditures from the 1972-73 fiscal budget.

The first request - for additional help in the controller's office - was based on a recommendation by the city auditors in their last report, but received only a lukewarm response from the council.

Councilmen Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry both raised the issue of the availability of funds for additional personnel, while Campbell contended that no action be taken until the arrival of the new city manager (Harold Saunders will not take over full-time duties until April 15).

Crupi said that he did not think the city could afford to wait until April 15 before getting additional help for City Controller Frances Gow Loyne.

After some discussion, it was decided to apprise Saunders of the situation and place the matter on the agenda at next week's council session.

Immediately after the discussion regarding help for the controller's office, Kriewall asked the council for permission to go out for bids on three new cars - two of them for the police department.

Berry and Campbell strongly supported the request.

Taft Road Residents Stage Silent Protest

Rumblings of discontent arose, quite literally, out of the muck and mire on Taft Road recently as residents staged a silent protest to a proposed special assessment district to finance the paving of their road.

As members of the Novi city council made their way north along Taft to their first meeting in the school administration offices, their way was guided by the headlights of the Taft Road residents who had parked their cars facing the road.

John Wohlfeil, the Taft Road resident who organized the silent protest, called the demonstration a success.

"We wanted to do something that would show the council we don't like what

TV's Bozo Makes His Home on Novi Farm

As Bozo's make-up goes on, the clown's voice also begins to be heard

With make-up finished, the transition to Bozo has been completed

By MARTHA ROEMER

To his Novi neighbors he's Art Cervi, a man who lives with his family on a five-acre farm and enjoys the "wide open spaces."

But millions of children know him by another name. Weekdays at 7 a.m. they see him on television as Bozo, The World's Most Famous Clown.

Cervi, who has played Bozo for the past seven years, moved to Novi just over a year ago. "I just love it out here," he said.

Three days a week, he commutes from Novi to Windsor, Ontario, and the CKLW television studios where the show, Bozo's Big Top, is taped.

Cervi explained that each day, two shows are put on video tape. Five of them are used right away and one is saved for airing during the summer months. "That's why I'm able to spend so much time working on the farm," he added.

Of the show, Cervi said, "We all enjoy it. The whole staff gets along very well. Probably the main reason we enjoy it as much as we do, is that we all just go out and have fun."

When he arrives at the station he'll begin preparation for the day's tapings. Generally, there is a rehearsal session with Wally Townsend, known to the viewers as Mr. Calliope. Townsend provides the piano accompaniment for the songs which Bozo sings during the show.

About an hour before the taping of the first show is scheduled to begin, Cervi walks into a dressing room with "Bozo T. Clown" written on the door and begins to make up.

The transformation from Art Cervi to Bozo the Clown takes about 30 minutes. "I love the character," Cervi said, "but I'm not him 24 hours a day. When we do the show or I am doing a personal appearance, I am Bozo the Clown."

He said, he's gotten away from the character while in street clothes. "When I first started doing Bozo, I was in a grocery store and there was an adorable child sitting in a shopping cart. Instinctively, I walked up to the child and began talking to him. Suddenly, I remembered that I was just a stranger, another person and not a clown and had to back off."

As the Bozo make-up goes

on, the clown white base and the eye liner and the lip rouge, what could be called a metamorphosis takes place. The actions and the voice gradually change. "When I'm out of the (Bozo) suit, I think of myself as an actor," Cervi said, "but when I've got the suit and the make-up on, I'm a clown."

Cervi said he'd never really thought of working as a circus clown. "Bozo", he said, "is a pretty clown, as opposed to many circus clowns. Most circus clowns have the baggy pants, and tattered look and many of them have sad faces. You'll notice that my suits are tailored."

He added that he has four suits, all made in Hollywood. His huge shoes and his wigs also are made-to-order in Hollywood.

"These," he said of the noticeably worn brown shoes he was putting on, "are my good luck shoes. I have three new pair and I won't wear them. These have been resoled five times."

His wigs of bright orange, he explained, are washed and styled by Mr. Edgar, a Southfield hair stylist.

television clown who is known to millions of kids and receives "probably thousands" of pieces of fan mail each week?

In Cervi's case, it was through an audition.

"The station acquired the Bozo franchise seven years ago I was working here as the music director and guest coordinator for the television rock shows. I hadn't had any previous on-camera television experience, but I'd always like to horse around and have fun, so I decided to audition on sort of a whim," Cervi explained.

He added that Bozo is now world-wide and there are, at the present time, 20 Bozos. There's even one in Thailand. All of them look basically the same.

Some of the stations elect to show the Bozo cartoons and use the clown as a host. Others like CKLW, choose not to have the cartoons and bring in kids to be on the show. On the average, Cervi said, about 150 children are in the studio on a taping day.

Cervi's career actually began in radio back in 1960 when he was a disk jockey at WEXL. Later, he became the music director at WKMR and from there, he moved to CKLW.

Besides the Bozo show, Cervi does some commercials, both as himself and as the clown. Bozo is also scheduled for, on the average three or four personal appearances a month.

"Probably one of the greatest compliments I can get," he said "is when I'm on my way to an appearance and I see someone in another car point and say, 'Look, there's Bozo'."

Boys Aid Shore Project

An afternoon of helping homeowners along the Lake St. Clair shoreline was spent on Saturday, March 3, by Northville Scout Troop 1532.

The young men assisted by filling sandbags and building dikes to protect the homes from flooding and ice damage when the Spring thaw begins.

The troop was directed to the site by the Harrison Township fire department.

Scouts who helped with the project were: Dan Geisler, Rob Holloway, Dennis Miner, Scott Stevens, Paul Baetz, Paul Adams, Dale Hawkey, George McCann, Scott Orr, Dave White, Steve Dykstra, Tim Miner, Jeff Hodge, Dave Boor and Jamie Pitak.

Accompanying the scouts to the site were Scoutmaster Harry Miner III and Assistant Scoutmasters Dave Lehmer, Bruce Cuppett, and Jeff White.

Fathers assisting with driving the boys to the lakeshore and with the project itself were Paul Baetz and Edward Hodge.

Downs Eyes New Record

With business and attendance ahead of figures for the same number of nights a year ago, Northville Downs moves into the sixth and final weekend of the winter campaign with the possibility of setting new wagering records for a mid-winter meeting.

The Northville Downs management has its sights set on a handle of more than $473,000 for the final Saturday...that would be the biggest count since winter racing started in Michigan four years ago.

Through last Monday night, the 31st of the current 39-night meet, the track is averaging $274,986 in betting compared to $265,578 last year.

That's up 3.5 percent.

Despite the fog, fans wagered $297,353 Monday night in one of the better Monday turn-outs.

Attendance is also up slightly this year, 95,462 fans so far compared to 95,101 for the same period last year.

Overall fans have wagered $8,524,584 compared to $8,232,919 last year.

The Northville meeting continues until March 14 three nights past the weekend before Wolverine Raceway opens an 82-night season.

Then Northville Downs closes its doors until June 2 when it opens for its 30th summer session which extends to the end of July.

MAID OF ERIN—Kathy Treanor, 17, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Treanor of Chubb Road, was recently chosen to reign over the 15th annual St. Patrick's Day parade in Detroit on Sunday, March 11. Kathy, a senior at Bishop Borgess High School in Detroit, moved to Northville with her family a month ago. She plans to attend Eastern Michigan University next year to become a kindergarten teacher. Throughout the year, she and her court, Nancy Early of Livonia and Eileen Trewhella of Royal Oak, will represent the Irish population of the Detroit metropolitan area at various functions. Kathy has only been to Ireland twice on visits, but her parents were born on the Emerald Isle.

When you choose a color or a covering for your walls, be sure to remember that each color has its own characteristics and take into account the specific purpose for which each room is meant. Soft, cream, pink, gold and light colors make unobtrusive and restful backgrounds, while blue-green, emerald, or orchid, in very light values, are also satisfying. There are more modern things you can do with very bright paint, contrasting one wall with the others by painting it an opposite color.

The Midnight Watch

It's the Loneliest Shift Around

EDITOR'S NOTE: News Editor Sally Burke spent a night at the city police department recently to learn for herself what happens while most people are sleeping. Her story follows.

By SALLY BURKE
Midnight shift at the Northville City Police Department.

It's called the graveyard shift by some officers who say that nothing ever happens —

"You pray the phone will ring, even if it's a wrong number." Granted, the activity which takes place in Northville during the shift not often makes headlines, but much of it may be instrumental in keeping crime to a minimum — like hand-checking doors of business places in town.

"Few police departments still do that," Chief Samuel Elkins said, "but it's important, and if a door is found unlocked, it may signal a crime in progress or may avert a crime later in the morning."

What does happen during a typical midnight shift?

On a recent Saturday, the shift begins with a report at midnight from a racing fan whose pocket was picked while at the track.

Patrolman Howard Reeves takes the information from the man which is necessary to write a larceny report.

At 12:17 a.m., a citizen reports an unoccupied car is in the ditch across from the Pepper Tree on Novi Road. The dispatcher, Cadet Jim Petres, notifies Novi Police Department since the location given is in Novi.

12:25 a.m. — Dog hit by car on Seven Mile at Edenderry Drive. Petres notifies Northville township since it is in their territory.

12:33 a.m. — Novi Police report the car in the ditch is in Northville's jurisdiction. Patrolman Donald Lancaster is dispatched to check the car.

1:03 a.m. — Woman stranded in town. Cab called to transport her home.

Shortly after 2 a.m., Novi Police report a carload of youths involved in a fight in Novi may be headed for Northville. Petres gives vehicle's description and direction of travel to Northville officers. Car not seen in Northville.

2:41 a.m. — Routine computer check following traffic stop by Lancaster shows license of driver is suspended. Driver is brought to station while occupants of the car go home to get letter showing the suspension has been lifted.

3:30 a.m. — Citizen reports cars speeding on Randolph each morning during early hours. Asks closer watch of area.

4:15 a.m. — Man stops in station to report radio speakers were removed from his car between 7:30 and 8 p.m. Friday. Reeves takes report.

5:51 a.m. — Novi Police request assistance in stopping possible drunken driver headed south on Novi Road from Ten Mile.

5:54 a.m. — Northville Police block road and stop vehicle at Novi Road and Allen Drive. Novi Police arrive and handle incident. Northville officers clear scene at 5:56 a.m.

And falling in between is the routine activity — overnight parking requests, traffic stops, checking possibly abandoned cars, making sure business doors are secure and general patrol of the city.

Later, when the day shift signs in, the officers exchange information on the night's activity, keeping each other alerted to what has occurred in the city.

The midnight shift. Their work may sometimes go unheralded, but like the National Guard, you can sleep better at night knowing they're protecting you.

On the midnight shift, Officer Howard Reeves hand checks doors of stores equipment and vehicles and are ready to begin patrol on the midnight shift.

Illegally parked on the street at night, the car is ticketed by Officer Donald Lancaster

Mrs. Wendover stated she felt senior citizens should be able to receive a rebate on part of the school taxes they pay.

Council urged senior citizens to sign petitions showing their concern on this and send them to our State Senators and Representatives. Council will also submit their yearly recommendations to Lansing.

Novi OKs Sewer Project

Merrifield argued that the city ordinance permitted special assessments solely on a benefitting front foot basis, while Presnell contended that it is not necessary for a sewer line to travel the entire length of the property for the entire property to benefit from it.

City Attorney David Fried said if Whitehall is assessed for 119 feet instead of 429 feet, it might refuse at some future to enter a special assessment district for extending the line down the remainder of its property and then west along

Ten Mile Whitehall could argue, said the attorney, that it could not be legally assessed since it was gaining no benefit from the extension.

"What bothers me most about this," said Fried, "is that some people are being assessed for the entire length of their property and Whitehall is being assessed for just a portion of its land and yet everyone is getting the full benefit of the line." Finally, at Fried's recommendation, the council voted to proceed with the special assessment district as originally defined.

"It seems to be inequitable whether we assess him for 119 or 429," Fried stated. "Let's just go ahead with this as is."

Councilman William O'Brien pointed out that law does not require a municipality to be fair in its special assessment procedures, as long as it is consistent.

Later, when the day shift signs in, the officers exchange information on the night's activity, keeping each other alerted to what has occurred in the city.

In Northville

City police detectives are continuing to investigate a shooting which took place Friday evening in a tack room at Northville Downs.

Police were called to the main barn area at 8:06 p.m. after it was reported a woman had been shot. When they arrived at the scene, Geraldine Walker, 40, of Detroit was found with a gunshot wound in her left leg just below the knee.

She told police her husband, Galvester Walker, was showing her how to load a .22 caliber rifle when the gun discharged. She was treated at Wayne County General Hospital for the wound.

Unknown persons broke into a home under construction on North Center Street near Maplewood. Police said entry was gained through a basement window after unsuccessful attempts were made to break another window in the home. Nothing was reported missing.

A break-in and theft at Little Caesars, 168 East Main Street, is under investigation by city police.

Employees reporting to work March 1 discovered the front door unlocked and a window on the west side of the building open.

Police said bags and boxes were scattered behind the counter and about $65 was missing from the building.

No pry marks were found on the door and police theorize the building was entered through the window and that the door was unlocked from the inside when the person or persons left the building.

In Township

A 19-year-old Northville youth was arrested Friday afternoon by township police and charged with being intoxicated, carrying a dangerous weapon in a motor vehicle and injuring a police officer.

Township police arrested Kirk M. Naar of 374 South Wing Street shortly after 5:15 p.m. in Highland House at Highland Lakes on charges of being intoxicated. A search of his vehicle turned up a five-inch blade knife unsheathed on the sun visor.

According to township officers, Naar became violent at the police station and kicked Chief Ronald Nisun and Patrolman Philip Presnell.

While Presnell was attempting to subdue the youth, Naar sustained a fractured left arm and was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment. Presnell was examined at St. Mary hospital for injuries he sustained during the scuffle.

Naar pled guilty to charges of being intoxicated and sentencing was deferred.

He pled not guilty to carrying a dangerous weapon and injuring a police officer and will face examination on

EARTH MOVER-TRAIN CRASH—The railroad crossing on 12 Mile Road in Novi was the site of two serious accidents which occurred within a 24-hour span last week. A week ago Tuesday a snowmobile was fatally injured and the following day an earth mover was struck by a north bound train. Walter Roberts, a 26-year old Pontiac man, is in Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured back as a result of the earth-mover train wreck. According to police, Roberts unsuccessfully attempted to beat the train across the tracks. The earth mover was struck in the right rear tire and knocked down an embankment.

Novi Police Rout Sniper

BeGole went on to admit that he wasn't anticipating any riots in Novi, but that there were situations in which his officers might find the use of tear gas beneficial.

The primary reason Novi police carry tear gas is to make it possible to remove someone who has barricaded himself in a building without hurting the individual, BeGole explained. "An emotionally disturbed person, for

Other uses might include breaking into a drug pad or breaking up a bar fight.

The tear gas used in the mock-assault was provided by the Safeco Company free of charge, so the cost of the drill to the city was minimal.

How did the officers do? "Well, according to the judge," said BeGole, "one group passed, but the other two failed, even though they were close to passing. They did a number of things wrong like not being in the right position to throw the canisters and only assaulting the house from one side, but all in all they did well and I think we learned a lot."

"Myself," added BeGole, a smile on his face, "I think I would have waited until dark before I tried to go in and get him."

Chides Council

"Maybe someone can help me with the math on this," said Berry in opening discussion. "We've got four detectives and only two cars in the detective bureau. How can four men get by with just two cars? It's high time this council provided our police department with sufficient transportation so that our detectives don't have to hitch hike to and from their assignments."

Campbell's subsequent comments were directed at BeGole, who was present at the meeting.

"I don't like to criticize any employee of this city in public, but I would like to know where the Chief of Police of this city has been for the past year while this condition existed in our detective bureau," said Campbell.

BeGole responded saying that Novi has a city manager form of government and he has worked through the city manager's office.

"I requested these two cars in last year's budget hearings and they were chopped by the city manager," said BeGole. "I then spent one whole Saturday morning arguing with this council for the same two cars."

"I'm asking you tonight for the same two cars I've been asking for all year long."

Campbell later contacted The Novi News to apologize for his criticism of BeGole, saying he had missed the Saturday morning budget session last spring and was unaware that the requests for the additional vehicles had been made at that time.

A motion to direct Kriewall to solicit bids for the three new cars (the third vehicle will go to the new city manager) was passed by a 6-1 margin with Campbell casting the lone negative ballot.

Campbell's opposition was based on the premise that BeGole should have asked for four cars instead of two.

the charges today (Thursday).

Thomas L. Masterson, 21, of Warren told police he was assaulted Saturday night by five youths in a car who threw beer bottles at his vehicle.

According to reports, Masterson was westbound on Five Mile Road near Newburgh about 10:30 p.m. when a car pulled alongside of him. He said the youths shouted obscenities at him and hit his car with bottles.

He told police he continued westbound on Five Mile and they followed him, trying to force him off the roadway and throwing more bottles at his car.

He phoned police from a pizzeria on Five Mile Road and the youths followed him into the store where they threatened him again before fleeing westbound on Five Mile.

Township officers are investigating the theft of a color television set taken from a home at 42600 Frederick.

The set, valued at $500, was discovered missing Sunday afternoon. Investigating officers found no signs of forced entry.

to find their home had been ransacked.

Among the stolen items were two clock-radios, a tape-carrying case filled with a number of tapes, several cameras, and assorted jewelry.

The fourth breaking and entering was of a construction trailer stationed at the Olde Orchard condominium development between Ten Mile and Grand River.

The theft was discovered February 26.

Stolen were a box containing drawer and cabinet handles, a light fixture, and a window frame. Value of the merchandise was estimated at $190.

Police feel they are close to an arrest in a case involving malicious destruction of private property.

On February 20 police received a report that bullet holes had been discovered in a window of the Evans Plumbing and Heating Company building on Novi Road. A similar report from the O'Laughlin Construction Company which is located immediately north of the Evans property arrived shortly later.

Investigation of the O'Laughlin building revealed that a number of bullets had been fired into the office area.

The bullets, police reported, had apparently traveled through the outer wall of the building, through a desk, and then through a second wall into an interior room.

Through subsequent ballistics and bullet trajectory investigation, police located two suspect weapons and two suspects. The weapons are currently being tested at the Michigan State Police Crime Lab. Action against the individuals is pending the results of that investigation.

A 16-year old Novi girl - Denise Lynne Crowell of 23860 Meadowbrook Road - was taken to Botsford General Hospital as a result injuries suffered in an automobile accident, February 24.

Denise was injured, according to police reports, when the driver of the car in which she was riding failed to stop in time when the vehicle in front of her was forced to stop due to congested traffic conditions. The driver of the car, Dawn Ellene Crowell, 17, also of 23860 Meadowbrook, was cited for failing to stop in a safe distance.

The injured girl was released from Botsford where her injuries were described as being due to a muscle spasm.

In Novi

After two relatively quiet months, breaking and enterings once again began appearing in numbers on the Novi police log.

In the last week of February, police were called on to investigate four different breaking and enterings cases all of which occurred over a three-day span.

Thieves gained entry to the Novi Drug Store on Grand River February 24 by hacking a hole in the roof of the building, police reported. Once the hole had been made, the thief or thieves climbed down into a store room and then made their way into the main part of the store.

A total of approximately $250 was taken from the store's cash register, according to reports.

While the thief who broke into Novi Drugs was crawling through a hole in the roof, the thief who broke into the One Hour Martinizing Store on Ten Mile near Meadowbrook was going in through the front door.

The manager of the store told officers she was on her way to church at 9:40 a.m. Sunday, February 25, when she noticed the bottom part of the building's glass door was broken. Further investigation revealed that the store had been robbed and police were notified.

Approximately $20 was taken in the theft.

The estimated value of the haul at a breaking and entering of a private residence at 46300 12 Mile Road was considerably higher. Thieves walked off with an estimated $500 worth of goods.

The owner of the home reported he and his family had left the house at 1 p.m. February 25 and returned at 10:40 p.m. that same day only

In Wixom

Three men were arrested on charges of larceny of a building last week after they allegedly stole a hydraulic jack from Wixom's '76 gas station.

The charges were later reduced to possession of stolen property under $100.

Arrested were Robert Lynn Shea, 24, of Mikado; Daniel Robert Williams, 24, of Walled Lake, and Leo R. Shea, 23, of South Lyon. All three were apprehended shortly after the larceny was reported.

While officers were responding to the call of the larceny of the jack, they heard a "be on the lookout" bulletin for a red pick-up truck with three men in it, headed for Grand River. Seconds after the bulletin was issued, Wixom officers, traveling west on Pontiac Trail saw a red pick-up with three men in it headed east on Pontiac Trail.

Due to the slippery road conditions at the time, Wixom police did not attempt to turn around, but notified Walled Lake police of the truck and continued on to the '76 station.

Walled Lake police apprehended the truck and the three men were returned to the gas station where they identified as the three suspected of having stolen the jack, according to police reports.

Subsequent search of the truck uncovered the jack, which was lying on the floor boards of the cab. Robert Shea entered a plea of guilty in the 52nd District Court and was fined $75 in court costs. Williams and Leo Shea pled not guilty and are awaiting a trial date.

Speaking for Myself

Limit Cars Per Family?

CHARLES BRADY

YES...

Normally a "competitive" free market system continually seeks to improve the efficiency of its consumer product by making it safer and less costly to operate. It would seem that there has always been someone around to invent the "better mouse-trap".

But, alas, with our automobile or should we say its "infernal" combustion engine, the public arguments offered to date by the manufacturers seem to eliminate any real hope for an emission control system and an efficient energy consuming vehicle sans extra weight. Therefore, since a society is capable of regulating its man-made artifacts which tend to make the habitat less pleasant, or even outright toxic for its inhabitants, then it is only reasonable that until our scientific geniuses are able to correct the product's deficiencies, that we regulate automobiles in any fashion legally possible and/or its users.

This position will cause loud outcries from manufacturers who will probably forecast the end of everything we hold "dear to our hearts". But not only do I have confidence that the market will succeed over the "prophets of gloom", but, I even noted recently that the prestigious National Association for the Advancement of Science suspects that car manufacturers may be dragging their scientific "feet".

We need individual modes of transportation and a road network to overcome the "friction of distance" even after we build our grand future mass transit systems, but never at any cost...

Bill O'Brien,
Geographer

NO...

The thrust of this week's question, as I understand it, is "Should the government limit passenger car ownership in the interests of environmental improvement and energy conservation?"

The suggestion of limited ownership might be regarded as a possible solution for environmental and energy problems, but to me it is typical of the over-simplified and not-well-thought-out solutions being offered for many of our present-day problems.

A suggested remedy of this type fails to recognize the importance of the automobile to the American people. The automobile has played a vital role in the lives of American citizens for the past 50 to 60 years. It has given people freedom to travel and helped them in their everyday work and it has provided millions of jobs. True, the automobile and its owner-users have created some problems, but it is extremely important to all of us that the solutions used to correct the problems also preserve the tremendous benefits derived from the automobile.

A suggestion for limiting cars fails to take into account the fact that both the government and automobile manufacturers have already taken giant steps toward the solution of these problems. We project, for example, that 1973-model GM cars in the hands of customers will show emission reductions of over 80 percent in hydrocarbons, over 70 percent in carbon monoxide and about 40 percent in oxides of nitrogen, relative to the unequipped 1960 model year car.

As for the conservation of energy, there are many other possible routes that would be better for all of us than limiting car ownership. Today, for example, the automobile manufacturers are devoting maximum effort to further reducing car weight, improving the efficiency of present-day engines, and developing possible alternate types of engines.

In summary, limiting of automobiles is one possible answer to air pollution and energy problems, but in my own opinion, there are many other solutions that are better. What is important is that the problems mentioned are recognized by both the government and the automobile manufacturers—and solutions are being energetically pursued. The American public needs to become more knowledgeable about the actions being taken in order to assure that the solutions are truly in their best interest and in the best interest of this country.

School principals have it pretty soft, right?

Wrong, says Joseph L. Kalwinski, principal of Our Lady of Victory School in Northville.

The end of January Principal Kalwinski sent a two-page mimeographed communication home to parents of youngsters in his school.

It was entitled: "A Discourse on Looking Before You Leap So as Not to Land on the Principal's Back"...or "The Diary of a Mad Principal".

And this, says Kalwinski, is the normal routine in the life of a school principal:

THURSDAY, January 25, 1973

9:15 a.m. - Paraphrased telephone conversation: "Mr. Kalwinski, I've been meaning to talk to you about the discipline in the school. Take some steps to improve it!"

MONDAY, January 29, 1973

NEWS ITEM: Five students of OLV School were suspended for being off campus. One admits to smoking.

TUESDAY, January 30, 1973

PARAPHRASED CONVERSATION: "Mr. Kalwinski, discipline must be terrible in the school if we must suspend students."

FRIDAY, January 26, 1973

SUGGESTION: "Mr. Kalwinski, boys occasionally swear. Please, speak to the students about this."

NEWS ITEM: The principal spoke to all of the students in Grades 5 through 8 regarding Christian dignity and how improper language violates it...

WEDNESDAY, January 31, 1973

"Mr. Kalwinski, discipline must be terrible in school if you must speak to students regarding language."

TUESDAY, January 23, 1973

"Mr. Kalwinski, my son has never received less than A or B in conduct. He got a D this time. What's happening to discipline in the school?"

"Mr. Kalwinski, my son received an A in conduct. I know he doesn't deserve this. What's happening to discipline in the school?"

FRIDAY, January 26, 1973

NEWS ITEM:irate parent comes to office regarding laxity of same teacher regarding discipline.

FRIDAY, June 8, 1973

NEWS ITEM: Joseph L. Kalwinski, principal of Our Lady of Victory School, Northville, was taken away this morning by attendants of the State Mental Hospital. Being totally incoherent it was difficult to make sense of his babbling, however, he was believed to have repeatedly muttered, "You're damned if you do and damned if you don't." He was immediately placed in a padded cell which proved quite difficult since some ten odd parents were on his back.

The month named for the god Mars is upon us.

It's windy, it's muddy, it's cold and it's damp. But March is my favorite month.

Just ahead are the months of May, June, July, August and September—all fairer than March. But what hope do they hold for the future? November. December. January.

So in March we can contemplate the days ahead and be glad it is March, and not September.

Pat Brown must like March, too. Sunday was her birthday. And 14 friends and neighbors piled into and atop a single station wagon and paid a surprise to Pat and her husband, Dr. John Brown.

Our roving photographer just happened to be jogging around the neighborhood when he spotted a sign erected in the Brown's front yard. Presumably, it was one of the presents Pat's friends brought her for the celebration.

Naturally, Pat's upset by the antics of her friends...disturbing the peace, violating the residential sign ordinance, etc. I agree with you wholeheartedly, Pat.

And if you wish to prosecute, I've got the evidence (Picture below).

E. M. Bogart celebrated a birthday recently, too.

The longtime Northville resident and faithful Rotarian added a little extra flourish to the recognition normally accorded Rotarians on their birthdays.

It's traditional for the club to pin a flower on any Rotarian celebrating a birthday...and then fine him a dollar.

On Bogart's 80th birthday in January he happily (and heavily) contributed to the club's charitable activity fund.

He turned over 25 Eisenhower dollars, which contain no silver at all and weigh a total of one-and-a-half pounds.

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Despite the broken bones and shaved skin, sliding down ol' Buchner Hill remains one of the greatest thrills in the memories of local oldtimes.

"There was nothing like it," laughs 80-year-old Con Langfield when recalling the long, spine-tingling slide down the hill from the top of where Eastlawn Convalescent Center is now located, along High Street and across Randolph.

Fred Wendt, another oldtimer, enthusiastically agrees:

"It was a humdinger."

A check of old Record issues shows that the thrills were marred by frequent accidents. Hardly a winter issue passed without reference to one or more injuries. Most of them resulted from crackups with trees, sled collisions, or spills.

Even though coasters sped across Randolph "lickety-split", seldom did the coaster have to contend with traffic. "There weren't enough cars in those days to worry about it," says Con.

Wendt believes one of the accidents may have involved a fatality "but I can't remember when."

According to Con, "if you had a good head of steam you could slide all the way to Main Street, turn and go to Center and then down Center all the way to the fairgrounds (where Northville Downs is now located)."

Most coasters didn't go beyond Main, however.

"They weren't just kids," recalls Fred. "There were a lot of adults sliding, too."

According to a 1910 issue of this newspaper, the hill grew to fame well before the turn of the century when John Buchner built his home on the top — highest point within the village.

It was a "beautiful two and a half story brick

'Let's Preserve Northville'

To the Editor:

Although I am a new resident in Northville Township, I would like to make a proposal for the next ballot. Since two new shopping centers are about to be erected, I would like to see the people decide by choice of ballot if they like the town as it is now, or if they want these new changes.

In too many instances city planners and developers have virtually ruined a city by improvements and overcommercialism. Northville is a very unique town, in the fact, it is quaint, unpretentious, and quiet. Although I am a new comer, I am charmed by the business section, as Northville feels like a home town. As the majority of homes in Northville are well over one-hundred years old, so stands the business area. Yet it services every need of the shopper and you can park in front of the store most any hour of shopping. Also the traffic is extremely light. I like to shop as much as any woman and I like the town the way it is now.

I remember the beauty of Plymouth seven years ago before they sold out to changing times. First they face-lifted every store, removing the historic memories and look. Then they changed Main Street from a line of residential homes to a Burger-King Mile. Every residence, with slate roof, Mansard style, with an observation tower rising on two streets leading toward the Buchner mansion, but they never got further than half way up."

The newsstory noted that Buchner was "a fine fellow and was known far and wide as the 'Giant of the Hills'. He stood six feet four in height and had the strength of an ox."

"From the Buchner house the view for miles and miles is magnificent. Detroit can easily be seen on the east, and but for the woods Ann Arbor would be in easy view on the west."

The 1910 article recalled that years earlier "there was a rumor that big coal veins were in the hill and some quiet prospecting was done, but without avail."

During the height of the coasting period the house was occupied by the J. E. Morse family.

"A full half mile ride can be had in just 20 seconds," boasted the article, "although the lighter loads usually consume 10 seconds more in the downward trip. Often as many as a hundred youngsters will be in the game at one time."

"Recently a damper was put on the sport for a few days and one road was closed up because of the accidents resulting in the breaking of legs. Not many accidents occur, however, considering the number of persons coasting; but going at the terrific rate of speed they do, the only wonder is that when something does go wrong, someone isn't killed."

Road Loads Reduced

Enforcement of the springtime reduction for wheel and axle loads of vehicles using the highways under the jurisdiction of the Oakland County Road Commission commenced at 6 a.m., Monday.

The normal axle weight limitations are reduced each year to protect the roads from damage during the "spring breakup period". The normal loading is reduced by 35 per cent on most thin blacktop surfaces on gravel bases, on gravel roads and on most subdivision streets. A reduction of 25 per cent is imposed on many concrete surfaced roads and concrete based blacktop roads.

Certain more heavily constructed roads are designated as All Weather Routes and are not subject to springtime load reductions. The various types of roads are shown on the Truck Operators Map available at the Road Commission office.

Truckers and individuals requesting further information or additional maps may contact the Weighmaster Division, Department of Permits and Special Uses, at the central Road Commission office, 2420 Pontiac Lake Road, Pontiac, Michigan, Telephone 338-4571, Extensions 285 and 286.

From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative
Northville

The legislature is in full swing now and, as I write this, approximately 250 bills have been introduced into the House and well over 100 in the Senate not to mention numerous House, Senate, and Joint resolutions. It is anticipated that over 2,000 bills will be introduced before the session is over.

The sheer number of bills will make it difficult to report to you in detail on all the bills that come before us, but I will try as the weeks go by to keep you informed of the more crucial legislation and when you have questions or comments I urge you to write or call me about them.

A wide range of topics has already been covered in the bills introduced so far. The budget bills, new environmental legislation, bills calling for the reinstatement of the death penalty in Michigan, school financing, tax and election laws are just a few of the areas covered in new legislation introduced in the House.

One of the first bills to be passed by the House establishes greater penalties for littering. Introduced by a Republican colleague, the bill permits up to a $400 fine and 90 days in jail for violations of the littering laws. In addition, it presumes that the owner-driver of a vehicle at the time of littering is responsible for it. Under the present law, people dumping their trash from cars have been difficult to arrest and convict unless the arresting officer could prove exactly which person in a car had actually made the toss! I voted for the bill.

As a result of many complaints from individuals and veterans' organizations, a move is being attempted in the House to return the celebration of Veterans Day to November 11. You will recall that Veterans Day was one of those holidays which was changed to always occur on Monday to create more three day weekends. Many groups apparently feel that much of the significance was lost when the date of the holiday was changed from November 11—the date on which World War I officially ended.

At least three bills, one in the Senate and two in the House, have been introduced to reinstate the death penalty in Michigan for certain crimes. The bills differ primarily in what crimes would be covered. Regardless of the form, this is one issue which will certainly create a lot of heated discussion on the chamber floor if a bill should be released from committee. Michigan has not had the death penalty in over 127 years, but the rash of police murders, bombings, snipings, and senseless killings in recent times has revived interest in capital punishment. I am already receiving mail on both sides of the issue.

During March I plan to send a questionnaire to each home in the district to learn the opinions of as many people as possible regarding the most important and controversial issues. I hope that as many readers as possible will fill out and return the questionnaire promptly so that I can do the best possible job of representing you in Lansing.

Rips K & B Pressuring

To the Editor:

Our thanks to Novi City Councilmen Louie Campbell and Bill O'Brien for their negative votes on the issue before Council last week concerning the issuance of building permits to developer Kaufman & Broad prior to final plat approval.

The Homeowners of Village Oaks have consistently been the victims of hasty agreements between our developer, K&B, and this city.

The usual tactics of K&B to pressure the Council into making decisions without allowing time for proper study and adequate preparation of contracts has been witnessed time and again by Village Oaks residents.

The grandstand, headline getting tactics of some councilmen, followed by a complete reversal of position the following week, is becoming routine, but has not gone unnoticed by V.O. residents.

Our thanks go to the councilmen who do recognize such developer requests as being violations of the law, flagrant disregard of previous promises made, and in conflict with the best interests of V.O. residents.

home was changed into a business. Plymouth is now a nono as the traffic congestion is impossible.

Northville is the last old-fashioned town in Wayne County. Shopping Centers are nice but we can do without them here. These old prideful business owners now give personalized service and attention. The people should insist on having their say in the future development of Northville. Chatham Supermarket, which is a very nice store, and was needed is a definite eyesore. Why the store was erected in that matter is beyond any common sense. The rear and side walls are a cement eyesore. The residents feelings that live behind Chatham were passed over. I think that building the way it stands (cutting a hill in half) is a monstrous sight.

On another subject, there has been much talk of a new library because of the overcrowded conditions. Has anyone been on the second floor of the library. There are dozens of empty book isles and racks. Why isn't that floor being utilized?

Projects Approved

Completion of projects, estimated at $420,000, was authorized by Northville school board members last week.

The projects were among those approved in a bond issue placed before voters last June.

Included at Main Street Elementary are site improvements and library expansion and repair.

Amerman projects include ceiling repair, while Moraine Elementary will have sidewalk extensions and library expansion and improvements.

Projects at Cooke Middle School include repairs to the music facilities. Northville High cafeteria will be remodeled and graphics and maintenance facilities expanded.

Projects covering all existing school buildings are installation of a security alarm system and inventory of school district equipment.

Sincerely,

'Get It in Writing'

County Faults Pond Fill

Novi's city council is rapidly becoming knowledgeable in the ways of the world.

At its February 5 session, the council heard a request for a landfill permit from the O'Laughlin Construction Company. O'Laughlin proposed to fill a low spot of ground on his property located on the east side of Novi Road midway between Ten Mile and the C&O railroad tracks.

In the past the low spot has acted as a retention basin and is frequently used by Novi youngsters in the winter for ice skating.

Led by Councilman Edwin Presnell, the council opposed granting the permit.

"I don't think we should take any action on this until we get a letter from Oakland County telling us that filling in that retention basin will not affect either Novi Road or the drainage district," said Presnell.

City Manager Ed Kriewall told the council he had been in touch with an Oakland County official who assured him the county had no objections to the landfill.

But Presnell persisted, and the council finally decided to grant the permit subject to a letter from Oakland County.

That letter was read at Monday's council session.

"Since the existing culvert under Novi Road might not be large enough to handle the increased storm run-off caused by filling in the retention pond, we cannot agree to the landfill at this time," wrote a county official.

"The man who wrote that letter is the same man who told me on the phone that the county had no objections to the landfill," said Kriewall. "You've got to get it in writing," said Presnell.

Police Misrepresented

Novi's Police Officers Association is not at this time involved in soliciting contributions from businessmen, Corporal John Johnson, President of the NPOA, announced Monday.

"We've become aware that someone has been misrepresenting himself as a representative of the Novi police in trying to sell ads for a program for a dance one of our neighboring police departments is sponsoring," reported Johnson.

"I just wanted our local businessmen to be aware that our Novi Police Officer's Association is not presently asking for donations."

News Briefs

PROTEST of proposed rate hikes by the Detroit Edison Company is in the works, with Northville city officials deciding this week to join with other metropolitan area municipalities in challenging the proposed increased fees for street lighting before state authorities. Up to $500 has been authorized for the city's share in cost of attorney fees.

POLICE STUDY of traffic problem at the intersection of Novi and Eight Mile roads was ordered by Mayor Protem Kenneth Rathert this week upon the recommendation of Councilman Paul Vernon, who cited the intersection as a major hazard in the city.

PURCHASE of the Methodist Church manse, southeast corner of Dunlap and Wing, at a cost of $35,000 has been approved by the city council. The building, which is to be razed, is the last piece of property in the block to be purchased for municipal parking.

PROPOSED soil erosion and landscape ordinances, recently reviewed by the city manager and attorney, have been referred to the city engineer prior to presentation to the city council later this month.

NEARLY 725 signatures had been obtained by Monday evening, according to Sidney Frid, who with others plan to petition the boundary commission for an election in the city on the annexation of the township to the city proposition. A total of 770 are needed, but Frid indicated the goal is 900 to ensure against spoiled petitions. Petition filing deadline is next Wednesday. Meanwhile, Township Clerk Mrs. Sally Cayley reported that validation of township petitions was expected to be completed this week, thus assuring an election in the township.

Superintendent Defends State Hospital

'Audit's Fair But Overlooks Clinical Gains'

"We've got a damn good hospital, a damn good administrative staff," Northville State Hospital Medical Superintendent Richard D. Budd declared angrily last week in the wake of the recently released audit by the Michigan Auditor General.

"Sure, we've made mistakes, and some of them are probably still occurring, but that in no way justifies the manner in which the auditor publicized their findings, nor does it justify the sensational way the (Detroit) press handled it."

He referred specifically to the audit, covering the period July 1, 1969 through August 31, 1971, which the state auditor revealed to the press in Lansing recently.

"It was basically a fair audit," commented Dr. Budd, "and I'm not knocking the audit itself. But what I do object to is the way they blew it up."

The press, in turn, treated the report as if it represented the current situation at the hospital; he charged. He pointed out, for example, that the arrest of hospital employees for diverting funds from patients' accounts, as spelled out in the audit, was headlined as if it had just happened, leading readers to believe "that all kinds of illegal activity is occurring here."

(Arrest of five employees took place almost one year ago. Report of the arrests and charges were carried in The Record on April 20, 1972).

"Not one Detroit reporter asked us any questions about the audit or came in to see for himself what's happening."

While maintaining that some of the "faults" pointed out in the audit have been corrected, Dr. Budd said he suspected that some criticisms are still valid. But, he insisted, the hospital is making a concerted effort to correct all of them.

He disclosed that a move to establish an internal audit—both administrative and clinical—is underway requiring the employment of perhaps up to four persons. This on-going internal audit investigations, he explained, will go over the 1969-71 state audit, "point by point", to see that each has been corrected but, more importantly, it is to serve as a safeguard against any future problems, he explained.

Also, Dr. Budd said if money is made available he will purchase a computer service to tackle "a mountain of paperwork." Presently, the Department of Public Health does not have its own computer system and must "borrow" a computer of the Social Services Department. Frequently, when Northville State Hospital attempts to utilize that computer service it finds that either the information sought is unavailable or there is a six months wait, he said.

Concerning the state audit, Dr. Budd noted that it was an administrative-type audit only. Normally, he explained, the auditor general's office conducts both an administrative and clinical audit. Reason given the hospital for not also making a clinical audit this time, according to the superintendent, was that the auditor found so many problems with the administrative audit he didn't have time for the other.

Dr. Budd suspects that the auditor deliberately tried to "uncover as much dirt as possible." To balance these findings with a clinical audit would have negated some of his findings, he said.

"If you buy a Cadillac and the tires go bad it doesn't mean you've got a bad car," said Dr. Budd. "It means you've got some bad tires that must be replaced."

"We think we do a good job, second to none in the state, but we've got some bad tires that we're going to change."

An audit, he asserted, is meant to recommend corrective measures but in this instance, it was used instead "just to give us a blackeye" and anger legislators and budget-makers.

Legislators, he suggested, would make a sad mistake if they decide to cut-back the hospital's budget on the basis of the audit.

Few of them know it but Northville State Hospital, said the superintendent, is the least costly of all the mental hospitals in the state.

Average cost per patient per year at Northville, he said, is $2,660. Costs elsewhere include: Pontiac, $2,794; Kalamazoo, $3,588; Ypsilanti, $3,390; Traverse City, $4,408; and Newberry, $6,963.

More importantly, Northville's performance scores, which takes into account admissions, readmissions, persons served and released, average length of state, and cost, is consistently at the top. On a 0 to 100 scale, with 0 representing a perfect score, the latest performance score put Northville at 29.7, Pontiac at 40.7, and Ypsilanti at 56.7, he said.

"Our length of stay is the shortest of any mental hospital in the state. The average now is 52 days and just 39 days for adult psychiatric patients (ages 21 to 60). Length of stay for elderly patients decreased by 50-percent in the 1971-72 fiscal year."

"Last year the hospital average was 62 days; when I came here it was 120 days."

Most legislators are unaware, said Dr. Budd, that with the transfer of the 700 chronic patients from Wayne County General Hospital to Northville last year "we saved the state $4 million. No one mentions that; no one mentions that of those 700 cases, most who had been in hospitals for years, all but 268 have already been treated and released."

"Another thing, I think it should be pointed out that the county—not the state—pays for the first year of hospitalization for Wayne County mental patients. And since most of our patients are released in less than a year, the county is paying the bill in most cases."

Northville Hospital's innovative decentralization, with the biggest out-patient service in the state, is reaching and helping more people than ever before.

Approximately, 4,700 patients were served during the last calendar year. And Northville, which once had an in-hospital population of 2,250 has a 725 average daily census today.

Dr. Budd said the public should consider these kinds of successes along with the hospital's shortcomings.

"I recognize that we are a modern hospital with still some of the same old, sloppy accounting procedures."

Unfortunately, with decentralization and innovative treatment procedures, frequent policy changes are necessary and it often takes a year or more to catch up, to adjust accounting procedures, he said.

"I think with the new internal auditing procedure we'll be able to keep on top of the existing problems and avoid new ones."

The only real criticism Dr. Budd had for the audit itself was the impression it left that a total of $447,882 of a total authorized expenditure of $12,307,954 was not spent.

"No where did the auditor explain that we were ordered by the Governor to cut-back our expenditures. You'll remember that was when we had to shave our staff. Yet, for the legislator reading this, he'll probably say, 'well, they didn't spend everything they got so they must not need it.'"

That kind of reasoning, said Dr. Budd, is counter-productive. "If I've got to throw away money just because I've got it...that's stupid. Look, I'm a taxpayer, too, and I'm not going to do that and I don't care what anyone thinks."

State Rips Hospital Bookkeeping

Strongest criticism of Northville State Hospital in the recently disclosed 118-page state audit is that previous audit recommendations had been neglected and that "the same conditions still exist (in 1972) with no positive action taken to remedy the problem."

The audit covers the period July 1, 1969 through August 31, 1971. It does not include current findings.

Containing few complimentary observations, the audit is a stinging indictment of administrative procedures. Few areas of the hospital escape criticism...and these range from patient-run snack bars (no longer in existence), patient benefit fund, drug and pharmacy operation, telephone toll calls, work orders, timekeeping and payroll, to the volunteer Northville State Hospital Auxiliary.

Concerning the latter, which involves volunteers from the Northville community, the audit notes:

"No letter of intent or agreement could be located setting forth the condition of operation and disposition of profits (auxiliary profits from operating a concession counter are given to the hospital);

"Financial reports or statements have never been provided to the hospital to verify that the Auxiliary has been complying with the aforementioned informal agreement."

Most publicized of the audit findings is that inadequate procedures and controls to account for releases of patient funds to employees had been implemented.

"...Consequently, our current (1969-71) audit resulted in charging five employees for the alleged conversion of patient funds to their personal use. This lack of procedures became the basis for the defense of the five employees in subsequent court cases."

Four of the employees were charged with felonies, one with a misdemeanor. Those charged with felonies were arraigned in district court and bound over to circuit court for trial. Two of these entered pleas of guilty as charged. Cases against the other two felony cases were dismissed in circuit court, and the misdemeanor case was dismissed by the district court.

The audit notes that patient trust account expenditures "repeated sizable releases of funds to employees for the purchases of clothing for individual patients."

Examples of alleged illegal use of funds are spelled out in the report.

Records maintained for patients' funds, varied from one ward to another, without adequate coordination or uniformity. Cash receipt records, the audit discloses, were poor or non-existent in some cases.

Fund transfers and cash transactions were not formally documented. The hospital failed to bill for some of its services, and in other cases continued to receive monies for deceased patients.

The hospital, according to the audit, has an equipment inventory valued at approximately $1,806,000 but "records and controls established and maintained over this sizable investment of state funds can best be described as minimal."

Some new equipment, some of it uncrated and unused, along with broken or surplus equipment "cluttered" the basements of the buildings. Fire hazards existed in some sections of the hospital. Use of state owned vehicles was not adequately supervised, and no records were maintained for the disposal of worthless drugs.

Expenses related directly to conducting federally funded programs were not, in some instances, charged to the federal program, and employee timekeeping record procedures were inadequate.

Leave time accounting for employees was inadequate, with a random sampling of 35 employees showing 37-percent errors.

Long-distance telephone calls were not recorded or properly recorded.

Meal tickets for student nurses were not returned after training periods, and snack bar receipts, in some cases, were improperly maintained. In some instances employees had deposited "IOU's" instead of cash for food, without even indicating when and who had made the purchases, according to the audit

Tests for Cancer Start March 26

Northville residents are encouraged by the Michigan Foundation, the Plymouth Registered Nurses and the Plymouth Dental Association to take advantage of free cancer testing beginning March 26 through March 30.

Appointments for the tests, which will be administered at the Plymouth office of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, are now being taken.

Women in the area will be given the five minute pap test which is used for the detection of cervical cancer. According to the Cancer Foundation, this form of cancer affects about 600 women in the Detroit area each year and is highly curable if it is detected early.

A simple inspection of the throat, mouth and tongue will be given to men, women and children. The test, says the Cancer Foundation, could lead to the saving of individuals from oral cancer.

To make an appointment for these free tests, persons may call the Plymouth Cancer Foundation office at 453-3010 or 455-1432 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

not normally adequately protect such vehicles from vandalism and frequently they are costly for users.

Another repeated objection voiced Monday was that parking in backyards, as required for all but temporary storage of such vehicles, is a physical impossibility at some homes because of the size and shape of the lots.

Joseph Fiorilli, a township resident, reminded the council that it should consider the ordinance in light of its affect upon township residences in the event of annexation to the city.

Mayor Protem Kenneth Rathert, sitting in for Mayor A. M. Allen who is vacationing, found Fiorilli's comment valid, and he took the position that the ordinance could be too restrictive in a number of instances within the city.

Two specific suggestions of Councilman Paul Folino, who later joined with fellow councilmen in tabling the matter pending additional study and revision, included increasing the maximum temporary parking time from 72 hours to 96 hours, and permitting parking in sideyards so long as such vehicles do not extend beyond the front line of the house.

The planning commission's suggestion that the city manager or some other single city official be permitted to grant ordinance variances in special circumstances was viewed by council as preferable to insisting that all appeals be made to the city board of appeals.

Such a procedure, they reasoned, would permit temporary parking beyond ordinance requirement in "hardship" or "special" cases such as a week-long visit by trailing friends or relatives.

Although he agreed that some modification should be made to permit parking or storage in special circumstances, Councilman Paul Vernon emphasized that some degree of control over parking of recreational type vehicles is necessary in residential areas.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff, in outlining the major provisions of the ordinance, reminded council that the proposal resulted when a number of citizens complained to city hall about recreational vehicles parked in their neighborhoods.

Property City Owned

Rezoning Backed by Split Vote

A sticky rezoning request for property owned by the city cleared the first hurdle Tuesday night as the Northville Planning Commission recommended approval by a 6-2 vote.

In question is the property, containing a house and large garage, located west of Northville Laboratories and north of Rural Hill Cemetery on Seven Mile (Fairbrook).

Acting for the city, City Manager Frank Ollendorff requested the zoning be changed from single family residential to a restricted multiples classification.

With the planning commission's recommendation in hand, Ollendorff goes now to the city council, which was the body that last October voted to purchase the property from Con Langfield by a 2-1 vote. The purchase price was $25,500.

Appearing before planners Tuesday, Ollendorff tried unsuccessfully to avoid any reference to the city's intended use of the property, urging planners to disregard the fact that the city owns the property and to make their decision strictly on the basis of "good zoning."

Even when Leon Bonner, a citizen who had earlier heatedly objected to the city's purchase of the property over his own offer to purchase, challenged again a city proposal to erect low cost housing on the property for senior citizens, Ollendorff emphasized that the city has no concrete plans as yet. He said plans would be started only if the property is rezoned.

The fact that the request for rezoning carried no explanation for its intended use was viewed with skepticism by some planners. Contending that multiple housing is not the best use for the property, Commissioners David VanHine and Don Jones cast the dissenting votes.

"I'm opposed because I don't believe in rezoning without a specific plan," said Jones, who criticized rezoning requests that suggest property can be used as "trade bait" if rezoned.

Other planners, however, including Consultant Ron Nino, favored the rezoning because, in their opinion, it is a logical, complementary zoning for the neighborhood.

Bonner, who earlier had taken the council to task for purchasing property on a "speculative" basis, repeated his opposition to low cost senior citizen housing.

"I believe public housing," asserted Bonner, "should be put up to the electorate."

Noting that only a few multiple housing units can be built on the property, he demanded to know who would decide which senior citizens could live there.

Ollendorff explained that the city purchase was recommended by the Northville Housing Commission as a first step in providing minimal public housing for senior citizens. He admitted, however, that it in no way would be adequate, referring to it as a "last resort" should federal financing of a larger center elsewhere in the city fail to materialize.

In defense of the rezoning request, the city manager noted also that the property (the garage) is now being used commercially as a non-conforming use, that it is large enough to accommodate a small multiple housing development of perhaps three to four units, that it is adjacent to the city owned cemetery and an industry, and that recent multiples construction in the neighborhood has not met with any major opposition. Commissioner Charles Freydl viewed the rezoning as a "logical buffer," but he questioned its location for senior citizen housing.

In other matters Tuesday, the commissioner referred to its architectural committee a proposal by the First Baptist Church of Northville to add an addition to the church near the southeast corner of High and Randolph.

Specifically, the proposal calls for eventual demolition of three houses on High Street, now owned by the church, to make way for the rear addition and parking areas.

Variances for the proposal recently were granted by the board of appeals.

While planners appeared willing to "bend" requirements to encourage the church to remain in the central city area, they nevertheless found fault with proposed parking which admittedly is less than adequate.

Plans call for the houses to be razed in stages, with the former Harry Wood house to remain several years as an income producer for the church. The houses south on High would come down earlier.

meet these requirements.

Cost of such a building is estimated at $420,000, not including cost of the site.

The library commission gives the following reasons for recommending move of the library to the former community building:

- Original intent when the building was constructed was that it be used to the best advantage by the entire community.

- It is ideally located for a library—near the area of concentrated commercial activity and is central for the total population.

- The building, containing 14,000 square feet, is "very adequate for our needs for at least the next 10 years. We could move into the gym area (used as a township hall now) as soon as it can be made available and expand into the rest when the area now occupied by the school board is vacated.

- Superintendent Spear believes the building should not be sold back to the city again since taxpayers have already twice paid for it.

Rather, he suggests the building could be leased to the city for $1 per year for as long as it is used exclusively as a library.

- While extensive renovations would be required in the building, the cost would be "far less than the cost of a new facility."

City Manager Ollendorff estimates cost of renovation at $130,000, the bulk of which would be for a new heating system and air conditioning.

Other renovation projects would include dropping the ceiling and improving the lighting for library use and removing the stage to provide for one additional set of restrooms.

Mayor Protem Kenneth Rathert called the timing of the recommendation "excellent" in view of the school district's upcoming bond issue and the possibility that the township may be annexed to the city.

Even if annexation does not occur, he said, the township probably will vacate the building with the construction of the proposed new township hall.

The city manager agreed, pointing out that the library is already jointly operated by the city and township.

School Superintendent Spear has suggested that the administrative offices could be moved, with construction of the proposed new elementary and middle schools, into the present middle school annex building, thus freeing the present administrative building for library use.

the money in escrow."

The superintendent said the board felt putting the dues in escrow was the "most appropriate of the three."

He also said the NEA was asked to co-author a letter with the board to the teachers asking which joined the union by choice and which joined because they felt they had to join.

"The NEA was warned in December and notified in January of the fact the dues would be put in escrow but they took no action and refused to co-author the letter," Spear said.

"This could have been solved a long time ago but they (NEA) don't seem to want to solve it," he added.

Osborn said he feels the letter was unnecessary. "We could have continued (with dues deductions) like we were. There was no need to cause a problem by doing what (the board and the administration) did."

Spear said he believes the suit filed by the NEA "will ride and will die when the question of dues deductions has been settled."

"It's just another part of the harassment which began about one month after the contract was settled," Spear commented. "These negative type things are not benefiting the school district."

Osborn does not agree the suit is harassment. "We are as concerned as they are in getting this settled."

A hearing will be held Monday, March 12, before Wayne County Circuit Judge Michael Stacey.

If the NEA wins the $100,000 suit, Osborn said the money will go into the NEA treasury.

DEDICATION NEXT WEEK—Although plenty of work remains and the opening of the new Drawbridge Restaurant, corner of Dunlap and Center, is still indefinite, a they're doing and at the same time we didn't want to disrupt their meeting," said Wohlfeil.

Although there is overwhelming opposition to the special assessment district, the basis of the recent protest was the council's switch from city hall to the school administration offices for their Monday night meetings.

"We were objecting to the excess traffic they're putting on our road by having their meetings at the school," stated Wohlfeil. "We think it points out that the road needs to be paved for the city's benefit more than for our benefit. We wanted them to be aware of our feelings."

Wohlfeil admitted that the change of venue for the council meetings has had one advantage. "Road maintenance on Taft has been terrific lately," he said. "The city crews worked on our road all day today."

Hearing Date Set On Church Height

Public hearing to amend an ordinance governing height of churches in residential areas will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 27, before Northville Township Planning Commission.

Meeting in special session Monday, planners set the date for the public hearing.

Present ordinance restrictions limit height of buildings in residential areas to 25 feet with no provision for variances.

Questions on the ordinance arose when the commission reviewed plans for Revival Tabernacle which is scheduled to be built on Six Mile Road just east of Northville Commons. Height of the planned church is 32 feet.

The amendment to the ordinance would allow church height to exceed 25 feet as long as side and front yards of the building are one and one-half times the height of the structure.

Other requirements include green belts (plantings) between churches and adjacent residential areas and exclusion of parking lots within the required side yard or front yard.

News Tuesday.

"I do not think it's fair to either the tax payers or the future councils of this city to obligate them to make 13 Mile Road five-lanes wide."

"Our point in not entering into the contract with the state is that as long as the SCI project in Novi is still up in the air, I don't think we should commit the citizens of this city to pave a road that will benefit the residents of some other city more than it will our own," Crupi continued.

"If it's to be paved for someone else's benefit, I don't think it's mandatory that we sign that contract. I'll agree to enter into the contract when I have some assurance that the intersection will be serving the people and city of Novi."

Parachute Captures A Gym Full of Fun

Everybody ready? Alright, then, class on the count of three. . .

And up it goes catching a room full of air

Making an ideal tent, or Igloo, or . . .

New Phy. Ed. Tool

By PHILLIP JEROME

Take a pretty, 22-year old female physical education teacher fresh out of Wayne State University, give her...oh, say, about 150 of Novi's spunkiest, most rambunctious kindergarten through fifth graders; add one old parachute; and what have you got?

A. Total chaos.
B. Worse than that.
C. One big giggle session.
D. A gym class that's so much fun that even the principal occasionally drops in to help man the parachute.

If you picked C. and D., you're absolutely right.

Ever since Peggy Clarke, that pretty, 22-year old phys ed teacher, and her battered parachute arrived at Novi's elementary school last September, "parachute games" have surpassed in popularity such perennial favorites as frogs, bubble gum, and putting girls' pig tails in ink wells.

"I use it in everyone of my kindergarten through fifth grade classes and I don't think there's anybody who doesn't like it," reported Miss Clarke while preparing for a group of second graders over a cup of coffee in the teacher's lounge at Novi Elementary School last week.

"Everyone just loves it. They can hardly wait for me to pull out the parachute." Basically, "parachute play" involves trapping air inside the parachute in such a way as to form different figures.

The regulation size 28-foot parachute which Miss Clark purchased for approximately $25 is spread out on the floor with a child stationed at each of the 28 panels.

Miss Clarke calls out the signals.

"Ready position." And everyone gets down on one knee while gripping the parachute with both hands.

"Ready, stand and stretch." And 28 elementary schoolers stand in unison and stretch to lift the parachute as high as they can.

"Okay, deflate and seal it off." And everyone drops to the floor, holding his panel of the parachute tight to the ground. The air is trapped inside and the parachute is billowed up like a big tent.

"That's what we call 'The Mushroom,'" said Miss Clarke. "A lot of the kids like to put their faces on the chute because it's so soft."

Similar, but much more popular, is "The Cave."

Everything's the same except that the youngsters seal off the chute by getting on the inside instead of the outside.

"Popcorn" consists of shaking the parachute in such a way that a dozen and a half yarn balls made for the class by Miss Clarke go bounding 10-15 feet up in the air. "They like to see how high they can

Hotdog: 'It's A Lot of Baloney'

LANSING—Michigan's beleaguered hot dog has been under heavy and sustained attack in recent years from major meat packing firms located outside Michigan.

Armour, Wilson and Hormel packing companies want to stop Michigan from imposing its stricter standards on the products they manufacture outside of the state to sell here. If that happens (and a federal appeals court has sided with the meat packers) Michigan hot dogs would contain for the first time such ingredients as lips, snouts, stomachs and udders and other non-skeletal meat.

One of the claims made consistently by those attacking Michigan's standards is that the higher standards allowing only skeletal meat produce higher priced hot dogs, bologna and other meats in Michigan than are found elsewhere.

The Michigan Agriculture Department, which is leading the fight to protect Michigan standards, recently punched a big hole in this claim.

INSPECTORS were sent by Department Director B. Dale Ball over a two day period for shopping at 47 stores in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio and at 11 Michigan stores.

The inspectors bought identical brands. They visited stores in the same chains to insure that the prices would be comparable. The stores were located in markets that were the same size as well, to eliminate any difference that might result from visiting different sized towns.

The results were a solid vindication of the Michigan standards.

Prices in Michigan actually averaged two cents a pound cheaper for hot dogs than in the other states. The average price of the Michigan hot dogs was 87.1 cents per pound. The average price of the hot dogs in other states was 89.2 cents per pound.

INSPECTORS found examples where the same brand was as much as 20 cents per pound cheaper in Michigan than it was in the other states.

"Some of the big national packers have made noises about how they don't really use all those undesirable animal by-products," Ball said in releasing the results of his survey. "That's a lot of baloney."

In Harvey, Illinois, you can buy hot dogs that contain beef lips, beef tripe, pork salivary glands, lymph nodes, fat, and soy protein concentrate. That's what it says right on the label. And the price is 89.5 cents per pound. That's a pretty high price for offal. To make a poor pun: Ain't it offal?

ANYONE who tasted Michigan hot dogs and those in other states knows that Michigan hot dogs taste much better. They are juicier and much more appetizing.

That is because they contain only skeletal meat left from the various cuts. If the meat packers have their way, they'll be shipping the lesser quality stuff found in other states into Michigan.

And if the survey taken by the Department of Agriculture is any indication, the only people who'll save money on the change will be the meat packers themselves.

THE PUSH is on to give Michigan a greater amount of business connected with international trade.

Already, it's estimated 85,000 jobs in this state are directly related to exports which total $3 billion per year. If the new efforts are successful, another 25,000 jobs will be created over the next five years.

The legislature helped in this effort last year by authorizing a European office for Michigan in Brussels, the headquarters of the European Common Market, and an Asian office in Tokyo, which has become the economic center of Asia.

The Brussels office was opened in early February and the Tokyo office opened its doors just last week.

A trade mission visited both Moscow and Warsaw in February in effort to increase Michigan trade with those and other countries behind the iron curtain.

AT THE PRESENT there are 16,000 companies in Michigan manufacturing one or more products. Fewer than 2,000 of them export any of the output.

Governor William G. Milliken, who is pushing the trade expansion program very hard, says: "We want to get more Michigan products and companies into our market areas in Western and Eastern Europe, as well as in such markets as Africa, Japan, Hong Kong, Australia and, eventually China and all of Asia."

At the same time he wants to encourage foreign investment in Michigan, a move which would not only produce jobs but help reverse the dollar flow.

Babson Report

Auto Sale Prospects Bright

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. While we are not yet very far into 1973, it looks as though it would turn out to be the third year of strong production and sales for the auto industry, with a good profit performance as well.

The upslant in industry sales was started a couple of years ago by several favorable government actions, and then intensified by the economic rebound following the auto strike and the business slump of 1970.

THIS YEAR the possibility of labor dislocations again looms since contracts are expiring. A prolonged or massive stoppage of operations due to a strike would, of course, have an adverse effect on 1973 results. Apart from this, however, prospects are bright. Sales are extremely high and output appears destined to post a sizable year-to-year increase.

Demand is expected to remain heavy, aided by the generally improving business climate. The most recent devaluation of the dollar and the subsequent revaluations of some foreign currencies can be viewed as positive factors for domestic auto makers.

DURING CALENDAR 1972 U. S. dealers sold a record-smashing total of 9.3 million domestic-made new cars. This volume, in fact, surpassed the previous all-time sales peak of 8.8 million in 1965. 1972's sales, moreover, were further swollen by some imports specifically manufactured for the American market.

As a result of the excellent sales activity of 1972, the industry went into 1973 with one of the lowest inventory positions in several years. Thus the stage had been set for full-scale output in the initial months of the current year. Output for the first quarter, in fact, is expected to mark a 16 percent gain over the year-earlier period.

IN RECENT MONTHS the industry has had several mini-strikes, i.e., small walkouts of short duration at one plant or at a few plants. This is a different tactic from the historically larger and vaster disputes that could paralyze an entire company. These mini-strikes do, of course, restrain production and hurt earnings.

It has been suggested recently that when the main contracts with the United Auto Workers run out next September, the union will not resort to a massive strike such as in 1970. Whether this proves true remains to be seen.

However, it has been shown by previous experience that a big or protracted strike not only retards the financial progress of a firm but also drains union coffers to the point where sizable borrowings are necessary.

THE UAW, according to the Department of Labor, has an estimated 670,250 auto workers involved in upcoming contract renewals. In addition, other UAW workers are faced with contract expirations in several related industries during the year. To date, there has been little indication of what labor will demand when the deadline nears.

In addition to the favorable factors cited, there are other plus elements in the present outlook for the auto industry. These include the weakening market share of imports, the proliferation of high-profit-margin optional equipment on most new cars, and the increases in personal income helping to sustain a high level of automotive demand.

Also, the rise in used-car prices tends to attract buyers to the new-car arena because of higher trade-in allowances. Traditionally, the level of used-car prices has influenced new-car sales.

THE RESEARCH Department of Babson's Reports expects several other factors to be instrumental in making 1973 another fine auto year. These will be climbing costs for old-car repairs, stiffening state and governmental regulations and an increase in the annual scrappage rate which is now close to 7 million units.

Free Health Tests
To Start Next April

Tri-county residents again will have the opportunity to take more than 20 free health tests at the United Foundation Healthorama.

Various Torch Drive agencies participate in these annual events, which have served nearly 30,000 people since 1968.

April 4-7 are the scheduled dates for the first series of tests, to be held in the community arts building, at the State Fairgrounds, 8 Mile and Woodward.

The second Healthorama is scheduled for May 9-12 at the Brodhead Naval Armory, 7600 East Jefferson.

Co-sponsoring the event are Women for the United Foundation (WUF) which recruits and trains hundreds of Healthorama volunteers and the United Health Organization, a Torch Drive service.

Chairman for the event is Mrs. John S. Judd of Bloomfield Hills, assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Bert R. VandeVusse of Mt. Clemens and Mrs. Richard Gamalski of Warren.

Joining the voluntary and public health services in staging the Healthoramas will be medical and paramedical personnel, hospital volunteers, student nurses and some 25 industries, unions, utilities and businesses.

The testing begins at 9 a.m. each day and is open to those 18 and over on a first come, first served basis.

A maximum of 500 adults a day will be checked for anemia, blood pressure, cervical cancer, diabetes, kidney malfunction, glaucoma and other abnormalities. Tests for sickle cell anemia will be given, as well as tuberculin skin tests.

There will be supervised child care areas at both Healthorama sites. Free innoculations for children for measles, rubella and other childhood diseases will be available at the Brodhead site in May, but not at the earlier Fairgrounds Healthorama.

In addition to the tests, there will be educational and scientific exhibits focusing on health and social problems.

Included will be information on drug and alcohol abuse, help and understanding for the aged, information on speech and hearing difficulties, and referrals to agencies to help with these and other problems.

Advice on nutrition and diabetes will also be available.

The purpose of Healthorama is to promote preventive medicine by encouraging regular health checkups. The tests are meant for well people without specific complaints of illness.

New Policy Slices Travel
Of Suspended Drivers

Michigan drivers who have had to travel extended distances to get immediate clearances of suspensions for failure to appear in court to settle traffic tickets may now terminate these suspensions at any local Secretary of State Driver License Bureau.

The new state-wide policy began February 20, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin said.

"Drivers who often had to travel many miles to either Detroit or Lansing clearance locations will find our new policy easier, handier, and time-saving. Many persons, who had to take several hours or an entire day off from their jobs often resulting in economic loss for their families, are able to handle the clearance in a few minutes, close to their homes."

Austin cautioned suspended drivers that they first have to appear in court, settle their tickets, obtain their clearance cards, and then present these cards at a Secretary of State driver license bureau.

"I hope suspended drivers do not get the impression that Secretary of State driver license bureaus are handling ticket payments," Austin said.

All court clearance cards must be presented along with a mandatory fee of $2 to any state license bureau to receive a termination of suspension on the spot.

To persons who wish, mail terminations are still being continued. But in these cases, it takes from 10 days to two weeks to handle the necessary work and suspension continues during that period.

Mailing address for individuals who wish to handle clearances in this fashion is: Michigan Department of State, Driver Improvement Division, Lansing, Michigan 48918. A check or money order for $2.00 must accompany the clearance card.

Austin said that while drivers are in licensing bureaus to get suspension clearances, that a check of their driving record will be made.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES, Inc. reports that despite a decline in fourth quarter earnings, the corporation sales and earnings are expected to continue to grow.

January sales were the highest for any month in the company's history—up 34 percent from sales for the same month a year ago.

"We expect this upward trend to continue during the remainder of this year, and anticipate a substantial increase in earnings for fiscal 1973," declared William M. Davidson, president.

"It should be noted that despite the non-recurring factors which led to a decline in our fourth quarter profits, that quarter was still the second best fourth quarter in Guardian's history.

Guardian has branch facilities located in Novi near Novi and Nine Mile roads.

AUDIE MURPHY and William H. Carney, Sergeant York and Captain Roger Donlon, Eddie Rickenbacker and Mad Bear. The names of famous and unfamiliar men; but all having one thing in common. Each is the recipient of America's highest award for military valor—the Medal of Honor.

There are just six of the more than 3,200 names of American war heroes which appear on a special Medal of Honor exhibit which will be at Livonia Mall, 7 Mile at Middlebelt, March 4 through March 10.

This unique exhibit is based on the permanent national Hall of Heroes in the Pentagon. Panels on the inner face of the semi-circular design include the names of each American soldier, sailor, and airman—from the Civil War to Vietnam—who has been decorated for "gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty."

Who Must File '72 Tax Return?

Basically, you are required to file a 1972 Michigan income tax return if your Federal adjusted gross income is greater than the amount allowed for personal exemptions Michigan allows $1200 for each personal exemption claimed. Because of the low income allowance, some taxpayers will not have to file a Federal return but will have to file a Michigan return.

Returns for the calendar year 1972 will be due on or before April 16, 1973. There are special rules for extensions, non-residents, and persons moving into or out of the state. Expert assistance is recommended in these areas.

The changes you will find on this year's return include a tax rate of 3.9 percent for the calendar year 1972 up from 3.14 percent for the calendar year 1971.

Starting with 1972, individual taxpayers are entitled to a deduction up to $50 for contributions to political parties or candidates. This deduction is to be taken on line 38 under other subtraction. Also on line 38, any winnings from the Michigan State lottery, to the extent included in Federal adjusted gross income, should be subtracted in determining income subject to Michigan income tax.

This year you must include with your Michigan return a copy of those Federal schedules which show a loss i.e. a business, farm, rental, capital and other types of losses.

Also if you claim any adjustments to income on your Federal return, you must include a copy of the Federal form with your Michigan return. Adjustments to income include sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expense and payments by a self employed person to a retirement fund.

Last year there were 3 1/2 million Michigan income tax returns filed. Ten percent of these returns received additional attention because of the following omissions: unsigned returns, incomplete address, no indication if overpayment was to be refunded or applied to next year's estimated tax payment, and attaching W-2 forms.

Be sure your return is complete in all respects to avoid additional processing.

And finally, the Michigan CPAs advise that you are required to notify the Michigan Department of Treasury within 60 days of any changes made to your Federal return, as a result of an audit or an amended return.

Rules Abound

Bingo! New Law Sparks Applicants

Just as 1972 was the year for the Michigan lottery, 1973 could well be the year for bingo.

The familiar cry of "bingo" will be heard from every private club and non-profit organization now that Governor William G. Milliken has signed into law House Bill No. 6266 which legalizes the game of bingo.

More than 30,000 non-profit organizations, service clubs, religious orders and other fund raising groups will now be applying for the right to operate bingo games.

"But that's only the beginning," warns Dennis Silber, president of Bingo Enterprises of America, Detroit.

"Applicants need guidance before applying for a license, and after one is obtained. There are multiple rules and regulations to observe and follow."

"After 40 years as the leading specialist in the bingo field, our firm and staff of experts are available to offer free advice and counsel to anyone planning to operate a bingo game."

"For example," Silber continued, "the law states the licensee may operate only one session per week consisting of no more than 30 individual games during that single session."

"And each group, when applying, must furnish the State with information including names of officers, the exact location and address where bingo will be conducted, and the exact day bingo will be played."

"The rules and regulations we have seen could fill a book," revealed Silber, "and if the application is made unconsciously in error, the $100 license fee is considered non-refundable."

Although formerly illegal, bingo has been tolerated by authorities because of its fund raising advantages. If all non-profit organizations file, for the $100 license, the state of Michigan could realize profits of $3 million dollars annually.

Bingo was derived from the Italian lottery - or lotto - which was played in the 17th century. The Italians play lotto using the names of cities, i.e., Palermo, Florence, Milan, etc and play with 90 numbers American b-i-n-g-o is but 5 letters and 75 numbers.

Bingo in America became popular in 1925 when theatres promoted games to attract customers. Games were called Banko, Beano, Bank Night, and finally, "bingo," which was the word winners called out when they won. Finally, bingo, as it is known today, originated in 1928 and has not changed for 45 years.

'Tax Form's a Maze'

"If you are involved in a losing struggle trying to decipher your federal income tax forms, you can take solace in knowing that you are not alone."

That's the word from Congressman William Broomfield, who contends the tax form includes "ambiguous regulations and legalistic mumbo-jumbo" that require simplification.

Broomfield reported he has proposed creation of a citizen's advisory commission on federal income tax forms, to be composed of 15 taxpayers selected from average age group, tax bracket and section of the country who would be charged with only one function: to translate and compact the present "maze of tax forms into common everyday English."

No more than two members, under his proposal could be lawyers or certified accountants.

"If we want tax forms to be easily understood by the average citizen, we should ask the average citizen to help in preparing them," the congressman said.

"I do not subscribe to the philosophy that these things are best left to the experts. To a degree, we can thank the so called experts for the mess we are in today."

"In all fairness, Congress must also share some measure of the responsibility for the complexity of tax forms and instructions. The last time the Internal Revenue Code was overhauled was in 1954. In the past 20 years, additions and modifications to the tax laws have created a monster that challenges even the most accomplished lawyers."

Offer Boating Tips

Know everything you should know about handling your pleasure boat on the Great Lakes and connecting waters?

The subject is covered by the U.S. Coast Guard (USCG) and the Auxiliary at the Outdoorama Show which runs through Sunday, March 11, at the Detroit Artillery Armory, West Eight Mile Road.

Mini-courses will be conducted by the USCG Auxiliary on Saturdays and Sundays at 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. and on weekdays at 8 p.m. throughout the Outdoorama show. The courses will be supervised by Opel Wilk, division public education staff officer.

In addition, Thomas H. Whalen, chief of the Selfridge

Field Coast Guard base, has provided a boating safety detachment team with an information booth of required equipment and accessories.

"More than 50 percent of boating accidents are caused by lack of knowledge of 'rules of the road' and other safety precautions," said George Kadar of the USCG Auxiliary public relations staff.

The Way Out Of "Way Out" World

Rev. Cedric Whitcomb
First Baptist Church of Northville.

Check the one which best describes you:
...I am a wise person.
...I am knowledgeable about many things.
...I am a naive person.
...I am very easily led.
...I am confused about today's values.

True wisdom has been the goal of man from the beginning of time. In fact, the very first sin in the world involved a seeking after wisdom. In the Garden of Eden, Satan tricked Eve into disobeying God by presenting her a way which would make her wise (Gen. 3:6). Satan misrepresented the truth to Eve and he continues to misrepresent truth and real wisdom today. His goal is total confusion from which man will never be able to rescue himself.

Satan has created confusion about the role of women in modern society...discord and difficulty are evident in the political and economic scene...morals and their decline have left confusion and insecurity in the lives of young America. Marriage is in a state of turmoil with the advent of communes, co-ed dorm life and trial marriage. Religious movements, charismatic groups and the revival of witchcraft all indicate the monumental and colossal confusion which headlines twentieth century America. Is it any wonder that the cry of man is: "What is right?" "What is truth?" "Who shall we follow?" "Where is wisdom?"

One of our Lord's disciples asked these questions in his day (John 14:5,8). Jesus' reply was simple and complete when He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14:6)

He is the "way" out of confusion and into a brand new way of life of peace and happiness. While Satan has created discord and doubt, Jesus Christ is the truth. His Word is truth and all He promises to do for us can be relied upon and trusted.

Most of all, because of His resurrection, He is not only living but gives eternal life to all who receive Him as their personal Savior. He points the way to real life.

By placing your confidence in Him and receiving Him into your life He'll give you eternal life and answer the "what, who and where" questions of your life.

FREE!

Which describes your feelings?

- Yes...No...I could do more enjoyable things if I had the time.
Yes...No...I have a good occupation and my supervisors approve of my work, but personally, I'm not satisfied.
Yes...No...My realistic conception of an ideal life is very different from that which I'm living now

Did at least one question apply to you?
If so, it's quite possible that you're not getting the most out of life. Only you know the reasons, but whatever they are, God can help you.

Among many other things in the Bible, He promises freedom and a new life to those who sincerely seek it.

Why don't you come to church this Sunday and let Him know that you want to be free of your chains?

To live a half-life when a full life is available isn't really like you.

Is it?

All In A Week's Work

ROGER AND DUCHESS

The finest-written news stories, photographs and advertisements are meaningless unless they are read. And that's where young businessmen like Roger Brown perform their duty in the total effort to publish a community weekly newspaper. He's a Brighton Argus delivery boy. And with the money he earned on his route Roger acquired one of the best partners any young businessman can have—a Great Dane. Roger's constant companion is "Duchess", three months old and growing. Roger and Duchess see to it that The Argus gets to the home and the reader promptly...well, maybe they linger just a little once in awhile to enjoy the fun that boys and dogs enjoy.

GETTING THE JOB DONE

Your community weekly newspaper is made up of much more than reporters and advertising salesmen. There are bookkeepers, office girls, compositors, pressmen, photographers, darkroom men, deliverymen, carrier boys, etc. Most live and work in the communities of Northville, Novi, South Lyon or Brighton where they help bring you the news of the week in your community. Like any other business, it's a team effort. Whatever their role, they take pride in their products—The Brighton Argus, South Lyon Herald, Northville Record and Novi News.

CONCLUSION OF MARE AND FOAL CARE, (continued from March 1 issue.)

"Barker's" suffer brain damage due to inadequate blood flow to the brain and usually die within a day or two.

The foal's navel should be disinfected three or four times within the first 24 hours. It is easiest to grasp the foal's tail near the base to restrain it, push the container tight against the abdominal (belly) wall and shake for a minute or two.

Too often, strong tincture of iodine is poured in the general direction of the foal's navel while on its back, resulting in a blistered belly.

Within 60 minutes of birth, most foals are standing and nursing. Some may not be hungry for a couple of hours. They're still normal.

If the mare has a tender udder and is reluctant to allow nursing, she should be twitched until the foal's nursing relieves congestion. It is critical that the foal get colostrum (first milk).

If possible both mare and foal should be checked by your local veterinarian and he can advise on any shots they may need at that time.

Good luck and happy foaling.

Sally Saddle.

Gym Full Of Fun

get them to go," Miss Clarke stated. "They like 'Popcorn' a lot - it usually turns into one big giggle session."

But aside from being a lot of fun, "parachute play" has other benefits. It develops upper body muscles and muscle coordination, and even more importantly it teaches the youngsters to listen to directions and the values of working as a group. "If they all don't work together, the games won't work," explained Miss Clarke. "They have a lot of fun, but they also have to learn to pay attention."

Northville's In, Novi's Out in District Play

Oops. Scratch that "three straight wins" and make it four straight.

Walt Koepke's surprising Mustangs made it four in a row Monday by thrashing Pinckney 56-37 in the opening round of the State Class B district basketball tourney at South Lyon.

Novi's Wildcats were less successful, however. The 1972-73 cage season came to a close for Coach Milan Obrenovich's squad as it was eliminated from the Class C tourney by Pontiac Catholic 91-76.

As a result of their victory over Pinckney, the Mustangs will advance to the second round of the South Lyon district where they will meet Brighton Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Should the Mustangs beat Brighton they will then play for the district championship Saturday. Northville has beaten the Bulldogs, who have a 1-19 record, twice previously this year.

The Mustangs (5-15) went into their game with D. J. Lincoln's Pinckney Pirates (12-8) as underdogs and at the end of the first quarter that designation seemed fitting.

The Mustangs collected just four points in the first eight minutes of play, while the Pirates scored 12 against Northville's man-to-man defense.

But the second quarter - and the entire rest of the game, for that matter - was quite a different story.

"They were in a spread-out zone," explained Koepke, "and in the first quarter we were passing the ball around the outside of their zone. What shots we did take were not good ones."

In the second quarter, however, the Mustangs started driving into the cracks of the zone and that made the difference. Ed Kritch scored 10 points in the second quarter alone as he led his teammates back to a 20-20 halftime deadlock with the Pirates.

Northville finally took the lead in the third quarter, outscoring Pinckney 16-11 to take a 36-31 lead into the fourth quarter where they wrapped up the final 19-point margin by outscoring the Pirates 20-6.

Mike Brown, Northville's 6'8" senior center, was particularly effective in the final period as he tallied nine points.

Kritch and Brown shared high-scorer honors for the Mustangs - each with 13 points. Todd Eis led Northville's rebounding efforts, collecting 15 caroms, eight of them off the offensive boards.

Novi, however, suffered a 91-76 defeat to Pontiac Catholic and was eliminated from the State Class C tourney in the opening round.

"Pontiac Catholic just may be the best team in that district," reported Obrenovich, the Wildcat coach. "They've got a front line that measures 6'4", 6'4", and 6'3" and we just weren't able to cope with their strength on the boards."

The Wildcats got off to a good start and built up a seven point lead early in the first quarter. By the end of the quarter, however, the Pontiac school had moved out front 21-17 and Novi never caught up.

By the half Pontiac Catholic had a nine point 46-37 lead and at the three quarter mark they were still on top 58-52. They maintained that lead through a frantic fourth quarter in which Obrenovich pulled out all stops in an effort to catch up and finally ended up with a 91-76 win.

The Wildcats were led in scoring by their All-SEC forward John Pantalone who flipped in 22 points. He was followed by Jim VanWagner with 17, Eric Hansor with 16, Pat Boyer with 10, and Steve Lukkari, who had nine points.

It was the last prep basketball game for Pantalone, VanWagner, Boyer, and Lukkari who have formed the nucleus of the Novi basketball team for the past two years. All four Novi stars will graduate this spring.

BOARD POWER—Novi's Pat Boyer (foreground) has plenty of help nearby in the form of John Pantalone and Eric Hansor as he battles a Milan player for a rebound in Friday's game. The Big Reds dominated the game, however, as they soundly beat the Wildcats to clinch the SEC title.

Big Reds Bomb Novi To Clinch SEC Title

Novi, hopes for an upset failed to materialize Friday night as Milan rolled to an easy 90-52 victory over the Wildcats to nail down the Southeastern Conference championship in the final game of the regular season.

Had Novi won the game the Big Reds would have had to share the SEC title with second-place Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Playing before a capacity crowd at Milan, where fans were celebrating the 25th anniversary of Milan's only state championship team, Coach Ron Dingman's squad had no difficulty whatsoever in posting their 13th SEC triumph of the season.

Milan's championship marks the fifth time in the last six years that the Big Reds have won or shared the SEC title.

Although Novi naturally would have liked to close out their season with an upset victory over the champs, the loss neither improved or hurt the Wildcats standings in the conference.

They finished fifth in the standings with a 5-9 mark—behind fourth place South Lyon (9-5) and in front of sixth place Chelsea (3-11).

With 6'4" Mike Smith leading the way—he garnered 34 points—Milan grabbed a 24-13 first period lead and then started building. By half-time the Big Reds held an 18 point edge, 47-29, and at the three-quarter mark they had catapulted to a 32 point lead, 69-37.

Milan scored 21 or more points in each of the four quarters.

Stan Joplin, Milan's crowd pleaser, trailed far behind Smith with 14 points.

John Pantalone flipped in 10 fieldgoals to lead the Wildcats with 20 points, followed by Jim VanWagner, who scored 10.

The two teams were pretty evenly matched at the free throw line, with Novi flipping in 12 of 21 and Milan converting eight of 18. But from the floor it was an entirely different picture.

Taking advantage of its height and demonstrating some outstanding ball-

Win Streak Hits 3 Mustangs Net 2 Wins

Quick now, before you read that headline, which Northville athletic team has now won its last three games in a row?

A. The wrestling team.
B. The girls' basketball team.
C. Any swimming team.
D. Coach Walt Koepke's 1972-73 varsity basketball team.

If you picked C. or D. you win. Award yourself one point for picking C. (that's like betting on UCLA), but if you happened to pick D. you can add a full ten points to your score.

It's true. Hard to believe, but true. After struggling through its first 17 games with just two victories, Coach Walt Koepke's varsity basketball team has finally come to life and won its last three games in a row.

After a 61-47 conquest of Brighton two weeks ago, the Mustangs downed Warren Lincoln 49-40 Tuesday and then came back Friday to record their first Western Six Conference triumph of the season by corralling Walled Lake Western 54-41.

"We're streaking," said Koepke happily after the victory over Walled Lake. "I can see the headlines now, Streaking Mustangs Net 3rd Win."

"To what do you attribute your winning streak?" asked a reporter.

"Weak opposition," replied Koepke succinctly.

It was true. Neither Warren Lincoln or Walled Lake Western are cage powers, but the fact remains that the Mustangs played both teams earlier in the year and were defeated. Lincoln taking a 53-50 win, while Western grabbed a 51-47 triumph.

The key to both last week's wins was the Mustangs' switch from a man-to-man to a zone defense.

Koepke is a firm believer in man-to-man defense. "It's the right way to play basketball," he says. Unfortunately, his Mustangs are not good in man-to-man coverage, while they've been somewhat more successful with the zone.

Warriors 15-4 in the final quarter.

Eis and Kritch were the key figures in the fourth quarter spurt. After Western's Tony Howell had knotted the score at 39-39, Eis hit two straight 15-footers to put Northville on top 43-39 and Kritch flipped in six of six free throws in the final quarter to help the Mustangs pull away to the victory.

Northville won the game at the foul stripe. The Warriors picked up one more field goal than the Mustangs (17-16), but converted just seven of 22 charity shots, while Northville was hitting 22 of 35 attempts.

Just as important, the Western players were in foul trouble for much of the game. The referees called 19 personals against the Mustangs, while blowing the whistle on Walled Lake 32 times - a fact that had Steve DeMar, the fine young Western coach, struggling to keep his composure. By the time the game had ended, four Warriors had fouled out and two more were playing with four fouls.

The Mustangs were led in scoring by Kritch, their junior guard, who tallied 14 points. Bart Taylor, who was cited by Koepke for having one of his finest games, added 12 points and Todd Eis had 11 while leading Northville in rebounds with 11.

The victory over Warren Lincoln was similar in that Koepke started with a man-to-man defense and then switched to the zone to secure the triumph.

Northville came out against Western in their man-to-man defense and stuck with it throughout the first half.

Neither team showed much offensive spark in the opening quarter. The Mustangs didn't score a field goal until the 3:30 mark and with 1:34 left on the clock the score showed Northville on top 5-4.

The scoring picked up a little in the second quarter as each team scored 15 points and the Mustangs took a 24-23 lead into the locker room. In spite of their 15 points, Northville still had trouble putting the ball in the hoop in that second period. When All-Conference forward Todd Eis tossed in a 10 footer with 11 seconds to go, he scored the first Mustang field goal. Ed Kritch's 25-footer with three seconds left gave the Mustangs their second field goal.

Fortunately, Western was plagued with fouls. Seventeen times the Mustangs went to the charity stripe in the second quarter, converting 11 of their attempts.

It was midway through the third quarter that Koepke switched from the man-to-man to the zone defense, but the results didn't show up until the fourth quarter. Northville headed into the final eight minutes of play holding a slim 39-37 lead, but they pulled away to an easy 13 point win by outscoring the South Lyon's Big Three - Ed Segars, Tony Kern, and Tom Hanson - combined for 58 points as they paced the Lions to an 82-62 conquest of Dundee Segars, a 6'2" jumping Jack, had 22 points and 18 rebounds, while Kern added 19 and Hanson had 17. Mike Karner had 14 to pace the Vikings.

Chelsea overcame a 31-point performance from Dexter's Mike Scott to top the Dreadnaughts 53-63 in a game that determined sixth place in the final standings.

Rick Miller with 20, Jeff Schmidt with 16, and Tim Treado with 15 paced the Bulldogs' victory, while Ron Klump backed up Scott's performance with 14 points for Dexter.

Tankers Avenge Lone Loss-Beat Harrison

It was a red-letter-day type of week for Ben Lauber and the members of the Northville swim team.

By stroking to an easy 79-16 victory over Farmington Tuesday, the Mustangs racked up their fiftieth win in the four years since swimming was installed as a part of Northville's athletic program.

The victory placed the Mustangs' four year record at 50-3.

But what really made the week complete - what really set it off - was victory number 51 - a revenge-filled 53-42 conquest of arch-enemy Farmington Harrison Thursday that brought the 1972-73 dual meet season to a close.

In the locker room after the meet, the Mustangs were ecstatic. They had good right to be.

It was the powerful Farmington Harrison squad which handed the Mustangs a 48-47 loss back in January, ending a 29-meet win streak that extended all the way back to 1970 and foiling Northville's chances for a third straight undefeated season.

Thursday's re-match gave the Mustangs an opportunity to avenge that defeat and they made the most of it.

"It had to be the best Northville-Harrison meet yet," commented Lauber. "I don't think you can find two teams more evenly matched than we are. I'll tell you just how close that meet was. In the very first event, our medley relay team and their medley relay team had a time of 1:48.8. The judge's decision went to Northville and we got the seven points for finishing first."

"If the judge's decision had been different, Harrison would have won the meet. It was that close."

For a change the outcome of the meet was not dependent on winning the final relay. The Mustang had built up an insurmountable 53-35 lead as the swimmers took their blocks for the start of the freestyle relay. The victory was in the bag.

"That was the way we planned it," reported Lauber. "With two outstanding swimmers like Mike Rado and Gregg Arnoldy on their freestyle relay team, we felt that if we were going to win we had to do it before the freestyle relay. Fortunately, things worked out like we had hoped they would."

The outcomes of Northville-Harrison meets, you see, are determined almost as much on paper as they are in the pool. The coach must analyze the strengths and weaknesses of both teams and then place his personnel to take advantage of the weakness of the other team.

Lauber admitted that he had spent more than 14 hours trying to come up with the right line-up to beat Harrison, tabulating endless possible combinations.

"The trouble," he explained, "is trying to figure out where Rado will swim. He can swim three events and you start with the knowledge that he'll win all three of them - he's that good. If you guess wrong about where they'll put him - you're in trouble."

Lauber guessed right last Thursday. Rado won his three events (200 freestyle, 100 butterfly, and freestyle relay team), but the Mustangs were able to come up with enough points in other areas to overcome his victories.

Lauber gambled that Rado would not be in the 100 yard backstroke and put Bill Witek in the event along with Jeff Kappler and the Mustangs grabbed first and second place.

Practically the same thing happened in the 50 yard freestyle where John Pacific and Kevin Kelly swept first and second places as the Mustangs outscored the Hawks in those two events 16-2.

All told, Harrison won five events, while the Mustangs won six. Each of the five Harrison victories was attributable to either Rado or Arnoldy. Rado won the 100 yard butterfly and the 200 yard freestyle and Arnoldy won the 100 yard freestyle and the 200 yard individual medley.

The two of them then teamed with Hawthorne and Dudash to win the 400 yard freestyle relay.

The Mustangs got two team record setting performances among their six wins. Junior freestyler Don Cook broke his own team mark of 4:07.0 in winning the 400 yard freestyle with a 4:06.8 and sophomore Art Greenlee shaved almost a full second off his own 1:06.2 record in winning the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:05.3.

In addition to the victories of Witek in the 100 yard backstroke and Pacific in the 50 yard freestyle, Northville got firsts from diver Tom Cook who avenged an earlier loss to Harrison's Rick Kral by scoring 233.15 points and from the medley relay team of Kappler, Andre Manochio, Jeff Guider, and Pacific.

Northville's fiftieth victory in four years was achieved much more easily, as the Mustangs won every event and took first and second place in six of them in swamping Farmington 79-16.

Top performance was turned in by Witek who established a new Northville team and pool record of 2:10.5

in winning the 200 yard individual medley. Witek also turned in a first place performance in the 100 yard freestyle (52.9).

Other victories in the Farmington meet were recorded by Don Cook in the 200 freestyle (1:55.8), Pacific in the 50 freestyle (23.9), Tom Cook in the diving (235.40), Manochio in the 100 butterfly, Kelly in the 400 freestyle (4:12.0), Kappler in the backstroke (1:01.0), and Greenlee in the 100 breaststroke (1:07.3).

Victories were also turned in by the 200 yard medley relay team of Kappler, Manochio, Guider, and Pacific (1:48.5) and the 400 yard freestyle relay team of Dennis McLaughlin, Witek, Pacific, and Steve Luckett (3:56.0).

Northville's Bill Norton Takes a 5-2 Decision over Milan's Randy Banks in His First Match

Norton Falls at Regionals

Grudge matches in wrestling are usually restricted to Saturday afternoon television when two professional behemoths pledge instant death to each other for the sake of increasing the gate.

Although rare, grudge matches can be found in the untainted ranks of high school wrestling. Bill Norton, captain of the Northville wrestling team, was involved in one of those grudge matches last week and his subsequent defeat by the narrowest of margins cost him a chance at the state championship.

The setting was the Class B regional wrestling tournament at Saline. The featured players - Norton and Chelsea's Tim Lancaster.

"I guess you could say it was a grudge match," admitted Norton from his home the day after his gruelling experience. "I know he doesn't like me very much and I don't think we've ever talked to each other. It's just something that's developed between us."

The rivalry stems back to the Dexter Invitational Tourney in December when Norton handed the Chelsea star a 4-3 defeat in the semifinals. It was the only loss of the season for Lancaster who went into the Saline regionals sporting a 31-1 record.

"I was the only one beat him," explained Norton. "The regionals were his only chance to get back at me."

The showdown was set up two weeks ago when Norton came out of the Avondale districts ranked second and Lancaster emerged from the Dexter districts in the number one position.

As the regional brackets were drawn up, the two 141-pounders would square off in the second round provided they were able to beat their first opponent. Their meeting was a foregone conclusion.

The flames of the rivalry were fanned all week before the match as both Norton and Lancaster attended the same training session for regional combatants at Ann Arbor Huron High School.

"No, we never practiced against each other," reported Norton. "You never like to show an opponent what you've got before a big match. We both knew we'd probably be wrestling each other, but we just sort of ignored each other all week long."

And then it was Saturday. Lancaster easily dispensed with his first opponent and when Norton put away Milan's Randy Banks 5-2 in his opening match the showdown was set.

Neither wrestler was able to score a point in the first period.

But in the second period Lancaster took a 1-0 lead when he managed an escape. Norton tied the match in the third period when he duplicated Lancaster's escape and the match headed into overtime.

First minute - no score. Second period - no score. And in the third period of the overtime - no score. After nine minutes on the mats Norton and Lancaster were tied 1-1.

Referee Sam Holloway consulted with his two mat judges and then walked to the center of the mat, took Norton's arm in one hand - Lancaster's in the other, and raised the arm of the Chelsea star.

Lancaster had won on a referee's decision. "What could I do, what could I say," asked Norton. "There was nothing I could do to change it, I had to accept his decision."

Drained by their battle, both wrestlers went on to lose their next match, but for Norton the consequences of losing were far more disastrous.

Lancaster dropped a 4-2 decision to Avondale's Mitch Hall and had to settle for second place in the tournament. Norton, on the other hand, was pinned by Anchor Bay's Dave Kirchoff and was eliminated from the tournament.

"Bill was a much better wrestler than Kirchoff," said Ed McCloud, the Northville coach, "but he suffered a tremendous emotional letdown after he lost to Lancaster."

"I just didn't have it in me after I lost to Lancaster," Norton himself admitted. "I know I could have gone to state if I had beaten him, but I just couldn't get myself ready for the match."

Kirchoff went on to finish third in the regionals, right behind Lancaster. For Norton, the year was over.

Dave Pink Squirts Finally Top Nemesis

Testimony to the validity of the old adage about "if at first you don't succeed..." was provided by the Dave Pink Builders-sponsored Squirts hockey team last week as they finally managed to beat Dearborn Heights after five consecutive failures.

The victory was one of two recorded by the Pink Squirts last week, while the FOE-Eagles-and-Ely-Fuel-Oil Mites won one and tied another.

Tod Mack tallied two goals and Tom Allen netted a third as the Pink Squirts finally managed to defeat Dearborn Heights. Final score showed Northville on top 3-2.

It was Jack McIntosh who provided the margin of victory when the Squirts dumped Redford 3-1. McIntosh beat the Redford goalie twice and Tod Mack accounted for the third Northville goal.

The FOE-Ely Fuel Mites were less successful against a season-long nemesis - Westland's Big M club. Todd Kerry collected a second period goal, but that was all the Mites could muster as they suffered a 5-1 setback to the rugged Westland team.

The Mites had much more success in their other game, blasting out an 8-2 victory over the Ecorse Red Wings. Todd Kerry and Scott Schaal each picked up a three-goal hat trick to pace the rout, while Pat Alexander and Ken Winemaster each added a single goal to the Northville total.

Such a notice strikes fear into the hearts of most motorists, but to the racing drivers who love the challenge of competing on ice, it's exciting news. Contrary to popular belief, ice racing is perhaps the safest form of racing. The method is to take an ice and snow covered lake or river and plow out a twisting course from half a mile to three miles. Snow is piled up on the banks of the course, and this is the saving grace. Ice racing is fully organized just like motor racing. There are definite rules and regulations. Watching this sort of event is cool but rewarding for those craving action.

Livingston's Third— Qualifies for State

Coach Russ Gardner carted his Novi wrestling team off to Adrian last weekend to participate in the Class C-D regionals and came away with one qualifier for the state meet and a deeper respect for the quality of Class C-D competition.

The Wildcats finished ninth among the 20 teams in the Adrian regionals and Gardner was not at all disappointed with their showing.

"Ninth out of 20 teams is pretty good considering this has been my first year as coach," he stated. "I knew it was going to be tough down there - that's wrestling country. At least half those schools start their wrestling programs in the grade schools, so by the time a boy hits high school he's already had a lot of experience."

Leading the Wildcat wrestlers in the Adrian regionals was Bill Livingston, their fine 101-pound junior, who became just the second grappler in this history of Novi wrestling to qualify for the state meet. Heavyweight Terry Auten went last year.

Livingston finished third in the 101-pound weight class and will thus trek to Lansing Waverly tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday to compete with 17 other 101-pounders for the state Class C-D championship.

And while Livingston was the only Novi grappler to qualify for state, five other Wildcats managed to place in the top ten. Tom Ford, Dave Ward, Randy McGarry, and Gary Staub each finished fifth, while freshman Bob Sasena took a seventh and Don Jackson took a ninth.

"I was definitely pleased," commented Gardner. "I'll get mad at them if I don't feel they've wrestled up to their capabilities. But I thought everyone did a good job at Adrian. If we'd have had a little luck we'd have done much better."

Livingston could just as easily have finished second or even first if time hadn't run out as soon as it did in his third match. Thanks to Gardner's persuasiveness, Livingston was top-seeded in the 101-pound division and dispensed of each of his first two opponents with relative ease.

But then in his third match, Livingston had trouble with Jim Bolenbough from Addison. Bolenbough eked out a 7-6 decision when the referee ruled that a two-point reversal that would have given Livingston an 8-7 victory was not completed until time had run out.

Livingston went on to win his next two matches to finish third and thus qualify for state.

Fifth place finishes were turned in by Tom Ford at 132, Dave Ward at 141, and Randy McGarry at 155.

Ford pinned his first opponent in 35 seconds and had piled up a 7-0 lead against Addison's second-seeded Tim Brackney when he suddenly got pinned. "Brackney was trying to put on a guillotine and Ford was blocking it," Gardner explained. "While Ford was blocking the guillotine, the kid caught him in a figure-four and pinned him. That's really too bad when something like that happens. Ford was the better wrestler and he just got caught in a fluke move."

Ward's two losses were to Fred Pasteur of Country Day (3-0) and Ed Connan of Addison (9-7). "Ward's back was in a brace and I know it was bothering him," said Gardner.

McGarry, who had got his hair cut in a Mohawk for the tournament, started out like a house on fire. He pinned each of his first two opponents and had the fans stamping their feet in an Indian war dance everytime he took the mats.

But in his third match, McGarry ran into Larry Summers from Stockbridge and suffered an 8-0 setback. Summers went on to win the 155-pound division and McGarry had to settle for fifth when he dropped a 9-8 decision to Ted Putnam of Lutheran East.

The fourth fifth-place finisher from Novi was heavyweight Gary Staub, who suffered the same fate that befell Ford as he got trapped in a pinning combination after having taken an early lead over his opponent.

OVERHEAD SMASH—Margaret Smith Court, perhaps the finest woman tennis player in the world, displayed her powerful service and ground strokes locally last week when she beat Peaches Bartkowicz Krot at the Southdowns Tennis Club. Mrs. Court went on to win the Virginia Slims Tourney which brought the world's top players to Detroit.

Wildcat Named to 2nd Team

Pantalone's All-SEC

Forward, John Pantalone, was the only Novi player to receive either first or second team recognition on the 1973 Southeastern Conference All-Star basketball team selected last week by the conference coaches.

Pantalone, a 6' sharpshooting senior who carries a 16-points per game average, was one of six players named to the All-SEC second team.

Two other Novi players - forward Pat Boyer and guard Jim VanWagner - received honorable mention recognition. VanWagner was a first team All-SEC selection last year as a junior.

The players selected to the first two teams were distributed almost equally between the four first-division teams.

Milan, Saline, and South Lyon each had two players named to the first two teams, while three players from second-place Ypsilanti Lincoln were placed on the first two teams by the coaches.

Conference champion Milan was the only team with two players named to the first team. Pantalone and Dexter's Mike Scott were the only players from second division teams to be honored on one of the first two teams.

Heading the first team is Dave "Big Z" Ziegler, Saline's outstanding 6'9" senior center. The two Milan players named to the first team are 6'4" senior center Mike Smith and 6'3" sophomore guard-forward Stan Joplin. Mike Massey, a 6'3" senior forward from Lincoln, and Ed Segars, South Lyon's 6'2" jumping jack junior forward, round out the first team.

Named to the second team were Derrick Thomas and Larry Hunter of Lincoln, Tony Kern of South Lyon, Scott Skinner of Saline, Mike Scott of Dexter, and Pantalone.

Mustang Jayvees — Win Final Games

The 1972-73 junior varsity basketball season came to a close last week, but as far as Coach Omar Harrison and his Northville junior varsity cagers were concerned it could have gone on forever.

"We were just beginning to put it all together," commented Harrison after his Mustang jayvees had run off their sixth consecutive victory with an 80-66 conquest of Walled Lake Western Friday.

Harrison's comment was pretty close to the truth. At one point early in the season the Northville jayvees were staggering along with a 2-5 record, but since that time they've been practically unbeatable.

The Mustangs won 11 of their last 13 games to bring their season's record to 13-7. Their 80-point output against Western Friday marked their top offensive effort of the season. With forward Doug Crisan tossing in nine points in the first quarter and guard Chris Armada doing the same in the second, the Mustangs led all the way against the Warrior jayvees.

By the half Northville led 46-31; they upped that margin to 65-49 in the third quarter by outscoring Walled Lake 19-18 as Armada pumped in 11 more points; and then coasted to the 80-66 triumph.

Armada led all scorers with 22 points, while Crisan with 19 and Scott Leu with 13 also tallied in double figures for the Mustangs.

The victory over Walled Lake was the second win of the week for the Northville jayvees - Tuesday they handed Warren Lincoln a 59-50 loss.

Crisan took scoring honors in that game with 19 points.

Western Six Standings

Livonia Churchill	6	2
Farmington Harrison	5	3
Waterford Mott	5	3
Walled Lake Western	3	5
Northville	1	7

Livonia Churchill won its second consecutive Western Six Conference championship by defeating Farmington Harrison in a crucial season-ending showdown battle Friday, but the Chargers had to endure an intense fourth quarter rally that almost saw the conference title go to the Hawks. Churchill led from the start and built up leads as large as 11 points at times, but then had to hold on for dear life as the Hawks roared back in the fourth quarter to cut the score to 46-45 before the final buzzer cut their rally short of the goal.

Phil Damaska had 17 points for the conference champions, but it was Harrison's 6'8" center Jeff Sietoff who topped all scorers with a 19-point performance.

'Adopt' Dominican Republic

Jaycees Eye Foreign Exchange

Northville Jaycees will play a key role this coming spring when Michigan Jaycees launch the first phase of a people-to-people exchange with an "adopted" Central American country.

Specifically, the local

Jaycees will help host six or more Jaycees who will visit the United States from the Dominican Republic—an island near Jamaica.

The Dominican Republic Jaycees are expected to arrive here sometime in late April.

Preliminary arrangements were made recently by Northville Jaycee President Dennis Dildy, who is state chairman of the exchange program, and two other Michigan Jaycees, Ed Barton of Otsego and Arlyn Ross of Paw Paw. The three Michigan Jaycees returned last week after a week-long visit to the Dominican Republic and a conference with representatives of the six Jaycee chapters in that country.

The Jaycee exchange program, according to Dildy, is an extension of the federally sponsored Alliance for Progress Program and the resulting Michigan Partners program—an on-going assistance program between Michigan and the Dominican Republic.

Upon their arrival in Michigan, the six Jaycees from "our sister country will be turned over to five or six participating Michigan Jaycee chapters who will sponsor their housing and transportation", Dildy said. The Northville chapter will be among them.

Purpose, he explained, is to expose them to all aspects of life and government in the United States and to learn first-hand from them how best Michigan Jaycees can assist in the economic development of the Dominican Republic.

Eventually, Michigan Jaycee representatives will be sent to the Dominican Republic as well, he said.

The visit to Michigan by the Central American Jaycees will be timed to occur during Michigan Jaycee International Week and the state convention in Detroit.

...Northville's year-round school study committee was launched with a charge by Board President Eugene Cook and the election of a subcommittee chairman. Cook said the move was in no way to be interpreted as meaning that the board was either in favor or against a year-round concept.

TEN YEARS AGO

...Northville won approval of its application for matching funds to construct a new city hall and library. Word was received in a telegram from U.S. Senators Patrick V. McNamara and Phillip A. Hart confirming the $137,000 grant. The news was greeted enthusiastically by Mayor A. M. Allen.

...Northville's board of education voted to initiate negotiations with the Ford Motor company for future continued use and possible eventual purchase of Ford Field located at Hutton and Dunlap streets.

...The $175,000 paddock at Northville Downs was almost
