INVESTIGATION into alleged "misconduct" by drivers during the recent Jackson-at-Northville trotting meet is continuing. Racing Commissioner Teo Shirley told this newspaper Wednesday morning following his meeting Tuesday in the Michigan Attorney General's office. "We were advised to continue investigation to Racing make as strong a case as possible," he said. Shirley declined to discuss specific charges of what has been described as "race fixing." "I want to make it clear," the commissioner said. "that this is a sensitive issue and we don't want in any way to jeopardize good reputations. Just because you have a few culprits doesn't mean everyone's bad."

PRELIMINARY HEARING on a suit filed by Northville Education Association against the school board for placing union dues in escrow has been postponed without date. The hearing was to have been held Monday in Wayne County Circuit Court. Attorneys for both sides have met to discuss the suit.

A PUBLIC HEARING has been scheduled for Monday, March 19 to consider a proposed ordinance to require licensing of massage parlors. City councilmen also are considering an ordinance governing adult book stores, topless dancing, and X-rated movies. The latter, however, has been referred to the planning commission since it involves

May 7 Election Scheduled

Rigorous Campaign Promised

Accepting with complete satisfaction the announcement of an early election, leaders of both sides of the annexation question are promising rigorous campaign.

Commenting on petitions filed for an election in both the city and township, spokesmen for the One Northville Committee, which initiated the annexation movement here, said, "We're completely satisfied that the democratic process has been served, and we're anxious to get the campaign underway.'

Robert Adams, spokesman for the group opposing annexation, said he was "rather pleased" the city was able to petition for an election as was the township.

"It's only right that the people should decide this issue that's my whole reason for being in this," he said.

As for the possibility of an early election, Adams took the position "the sooner we get it over with the better. Once the election's over the city and township can resume their regular functions. Right now the township's torn apart, and some of the matters before it, such as the fire department study, are being held up. Maybe once the election's over we can get some of these things moving again,'

"From the outset of our organization," declared Eugene Guido, chairman of One Northville Committee, "we have supported the right of the people to make the final decision."

Echoing his comment was the committee secretary, Richard Ambler,

"No greater issue has ever been presented to the people of Northville, and I'm confident, if given all the facts, they will make a wise

"Naturally, I'm for a single Northville. I've never been more convinced that it is the' most prudent choice we can This election campaign is going to give us an opportunity to carry our case to the people."

Guido said the One Northville Committee, together with other groups and citizens of both the city and the township, " are armed with facts and figures to wage an aggressive, convincing campaign."
"I would hope," he added,

"the opposition will try to come up with factual evidence to prove us wrong. If two

NEW SUBDIVISION-Despite mud that has made Center Street virtually impassable, sewer and water installation for the new North Hills subdivision, bordering the City of Northville just inside Novi, is progressing "slowly but steadily." Construction of the initial houses, according to the developer, Greenspan Building Company, is expected to begin late this spring. The subdivision, which eventually will include 202 single family houses and 180 condominium homes, stretches from the Novi Road subdivision on the east to Connemara subdivision of the west, and from the Northville city limits north to Nine Mile Road.

City, Township. 'Annexation' Petitions OK'd

A Monday, May 7 election in both the city and township of Northville has been scheduled to decide the controversial annexation question.

The earlier-than-expected election date was announced yesterday (Wednesday) morning.

It became a reality following disclosure by City Manager Frank Ollendorff that he would not challenge the validation procedure involving the township clerk. A challenge could have meant that the state itself would have had to validate township petitions filed last week, thus delaying the

Clerk Sally Cayley, who has been a strong opponent of unification, certified the accuracy of the petitions as authorized by the Michigan Boundary Commission, "All necessary safeguards were used to validate and transmit the petitions to the commission to insure acceptance," she reported Ollendorff said he saw "absolutely no reason" to doubt the accuracy of Mrs. Cayley's findings.

Upon learning from the Michigan Boundary Commission that the May election would be possible if the city and township agreed, Ollendorff reported later that 'we (himself and the township clerk) think an early election would be in the best interest of the community.'

The boundary commission, the city manager was informed, must give the city and the township seven weeks notice of the election.

Petitions calling for an election in the township were filed Thursday. contained 2,446 signatures of which 2,314 were found valid, according to Mrs. Cayley. The validated signatures represented 52-percent of the registered voters of the township-far more than required under the law, she Petitions calling for an election in the city were to be filed Monday by Norman Frid. They contained 1,025 signatures of which 927 were found valid. With 3,014 persons registered in the city as of Friday, the number of validated city signatures represents 30.8-percentalmost six percent more than required by law.

Had the election been delayed it probably would not have been held until July or August.

Even before official announcement of the election date, proponents of both sides of the issue appeared anxious to get the campaign underway. (See related story on this page).

Basic to the annexation question is whether or not the city and township should go their separate ways or unify under a single city

All present city councilmen and the city manager have stated they will resign should annexation become a reality so that citizens of both the city and the township may choose the officials who should represent them

Films Set For Kids

The second of three children's film festivals will be held at Schoolcraft College on Saturday, March 17.

The festivals are for children ages three to nine. They consist of films appropriately selected for this age group. Shows are at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., and admission is free.

"Folk and Fable" is the theme for school age children. The films include "Paul Bunyon and the Blue Ox", "Johnny Appleseed", "Ant and the Grasshopper", "Paul Bunyon Lumberjack Tales" and "Stone Soup".

The films are shown in the Liberal Arts Theater on the Schoolcraft Campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Free coffee will be served to parents who attend. The final festival will be held on April Woman of the Year—Pearl Weber—are seven other nominees who are to receive certificates as outstanding women of the community. All will be honored next Thursday by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary, sponsor of the second annual Woman of the Year award competition.

Pearl (Mrs. E. O. Weber) was selected last week by judges Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, who was last year's winner, Mrs. Dunbar Davis, City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Record Publisher William Sliger. She was named for her work as organizer and first president of the Northville Band Parents organization which supports the band and raised funds to help send it to marching band camp last summer.

Mrs. Norman Frid, now president of the band parents, cited her unselfish service to the organization that started out penniless. Through bake sales, a card party, a millionaires' party and other fund-raisers throughout the year camp monies were gathered. "Never once did she complain," wrote Marcia Frid, as she related her Frid, as she accomplishments.

It also was pointed out that Mrs. Weber works with Mothers' Club, presently serving as treasurer, with St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and the Republican party. She organized and staffed a local office for the latter during the 1968 campaign. She also has been a girl scout leader. Mrs. Thomas Lang, Jaycee Auxiliary chairman of the award project, has high hopes that Mrs. Weber can be named in the state competition.

Two young women of the community. both active members of the Western Suburban Junior Women's Club, also were nominated. They are Mary Beth (Mrs. Donald) Baxter and Linda (Mrs. Dale) Starr.

Mrs. Baxter, 18601 Jamestown Circle, presently is serving as president of the Junior Women, a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs with strictly philanthropic aims. The 55member Western Suburban group draws from Northville and the Western Wayne area. Mrs. Baxter has been an active volunteer in the Livonia well-baby clinic. Miss Florence Panattoni, director of instruction in the Northville public schools, was nominated by Milton Jacobi, Moraine principal. He cited her "tremendous drive" and "zest for living" as he noted her service with outstanding debate téams, year round school, in-service workshops and summer school programs. "There is not a club or organization," he wrote, "that hasn't felt the influence of her striving-

Eunice (Mrs. William) Switzler, 43403 Reservoir, was nominated for her years of service to community groups. She is immediate past president of Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, and presently is completing her term as recording secretary for Northville Woman's Club. When garden club president she aided a therapy project at Beverly Hills Manor convalescent home. She served as a girl scout leader and later trained other leaders. She was nominated by Evelyn Harper, corresponding secretary of Northville Woman's Club.

Mrs. Lang commented that the judges found choosing from among these nominees very difficult. She pointed out that the final criteria for choosing was, as stated in the competition announcement, the "quality" of the woman of the year's actions.

Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Weber attended a meeting last week of district woman of the year winners and their sponsoring Jaycee Auxiliary chapters.

'THAT GIBSON GIRL''-a program recreating a beloved era of the past, will end Northville Woman's Club's 80th year this Friday. The program will follow the annual tureen luncheon at 12:30 p.m. at Northville First Presbyterian Church. It will be presented by Mrs. Leland Mills of the program committee.

Geraldine Mills and her husband just returned this week from a vacation at Daytona, Florida. She has been borrowing costumes of the Gibson Girl era from area residents. These will appear from a humpback trunk as the story of the Gibson Girl unfolds.

Mrs. Per Ifverson, chairman of social committee arrangements for the day, reminds members to bring their table service in addition to a serving dish. The program will be followed by the annual meeting concluding the club year.

Paulette LeBost, one of two women on the Michigan Çivil Rights Commission and the member of a three-woman Detroit Law firm, told a gathering of International Women's Day participants at Oakland Community College how to go about achieving equal civil rights with men.

Her talk was one of many workshops planned for women on the college's Orchard Ridge Campus on Thursday, March 8.

"As far as federal laws are concerned," she said, "Title Seven, says it is unlawful for an employer to discriminate against a woman in employment."

That law, she continued, does not apply where Indian tribes, private clubs, religious organizations, schools and labor unions are concerned.

A complaint of this, she continued, should be filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission which, in turn, files the complaint with the state before it is sent over to a federal agency.

"Get there as quickly as possible," Miss LeBost said. "In most states, the violation must be filed within 15 days of the date on which it actually occurred.

"If you have a wage discrepancy case, the Secretary of Labor acts as your attorney," she said and explained that the Equal Pay Act establishes that a woman must be paid the same as a man for doing "substantially the same kind and amount of

Council Reaches Compromise

Rezoning Irks Mobile Park

Trapped between 250 angry residents on one hand and the will of the business community on the other, Novi's city council Monday opted for a compromise solution to a ticklish rezoning request. At issue was a request from the Klaserner Investment Company for the rezoning of three parcels of land on the east side of Seeley Road, south of 11 Mile, from R-1-H (country homes) to M-2 (restricted manufacturing).

William Klaserner, owner of the land and a longtime resident businessman, told the council he needed the rezoning to permit him to expand his business. He was supported request correspondence from 14 other local businessmen. Chamber of Commerce President Gary Johnson in a letter to the council noted that with the council's expressed goal of encouraging the after an unruly two hour

Zan said further that the Klaserner operations would be housed in an attractive facility and would not be offensive in any way to the residents of the mobile home

Highland Hills Estates residents disagreed, however. Citing noise and air pollution from the existing industry, they argued that allowing another industry to come into the area was not in the best interests of the citizens.

Brian Fannon, son of the owners of the mobile home park, said the council would have to make a decision between expanding the business community and the health, welfare, and safety of 500 residents. "Any attempt to put an M-2 zoning in the middle of a subdivision would be, blown apart," he said. "These citizens have a right to continue living right where

"I'm impressed by the fact that this is already an industrial area; I'm impressed by the fact that Seeley Road is an industrial road; and I'm impressed by the fact that facilities for industrial development are available in the area," he said. "The parcels are small, the setbacks are large.

The planning board was unable to reach a concensus, however, as Birou's motion to deny the request received a 3-3 vote. Robert Bretz, Edward Dobek, and Birou voted against the M-2, while James the North Central evaluating team concluded Thursday at Novi High School before leaving for Ann Arbor to report his team's findings to the state committee.

It was his way of saying that no one locally will know for sure whether or not Novi High will receive the prestigious accreditation of North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools until later this month.

Although the chairman was full of praise for the 'enthusiasm' "dedication" found here by his 16-member investigatory team, Hall cautioned faculty and administrators assembled in the school library not to go away confident that accreditation is in the bag.

"You have problems...and some violations that disturbed team members," he asserted, adding that most of these are of a "subjective" nature,  Later, however, Hall-told this newspaper that Novi can be proud of the fact that it has attempted to do in six months what normally takes a school district two years to do. If Novi is accredited, he said, it will have accomplished the goal "in the shortest period in the history" of North Central.

The grueling pace Novi set for itself in reaching for accreditation, he said, is a measure of its enthusiasm, "I think it's great."

A full, written report of the team's findings will be delivered to Novi within a

In Michigan, Hall said, Novi is one of nine "new" schools seeking accreditation, along with some 100 accredited other schools being reevaluated and four schools whose accreditation is up for possible removal.

Presently, Novi High School is accredited by the University of Michigan.

Accreditation by North Central, which carries national significance, normally goes to older schools that have spent years in developing educational philosophies and curriculums to meet the stiff standards of North Central.

While in Michigan, it is not impossible for a graduate of a non-accredited North Central high school to get into college, Hall' said, 'accreditation nevertheless'is' an important' factor. In Eastern colleges, such as Harvard, North Central accreditation is a must.

Should Novi fail to win accreditation this year, it. may attempt to secure it next vear, Hall said. Another attempt, he explained, would mean primarily mending and eliminating faults found by

Adopt Computer System

Computerized accounting and reporting procedures in Novi schools came a step closer to reality Tuesday as the board of education authorized the administration to negotiate a contract with Oakland County Intermediate School District for two data processing programs.

Cost is pegged at $3,492-$1,440 for computerized accounts payable-general ledger, and $2,052 for computerizing student services data.

The district plans to phase in these two programs beginning July 1, with additional computer services likely later once the school system has mastered the initial programs and and geared up for others. Basically, what Novi wil be contracting for is utilization of computer county equipment, by telephone line , or by visiting the computer center, in developing its own new reporting-accounting

In all, there were five specific provisions in the library study committee's report. One was that the council adopt an ordinance establishing the Library Board according to the proper statutes.

A second stated the committee felt the Walled Lake service should be continued for at least three years so the Board could compile the library collection according to the needs of the city in that period of time.

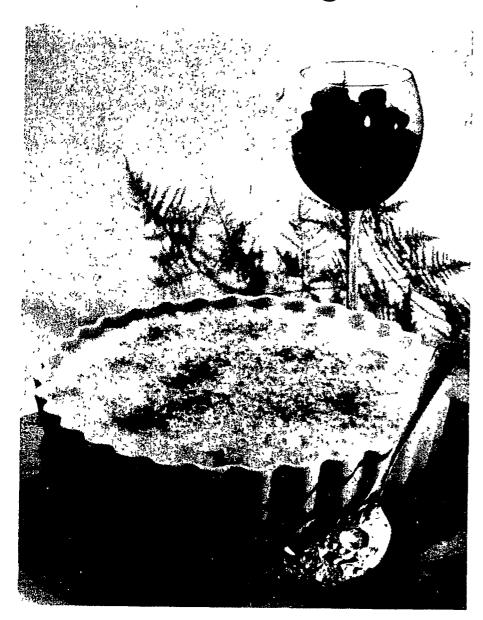

"After consultation with various groups in the city,' the report stated, "it is our suggestion that a building be purchased which will have as a core the library, but also serve as a multi-purpose building to serve the parks recreation (indoor dessert, one so good that 19th century homemakers coped with open-hearth fires, vanilla beans, and sugar shortages in order to enjoy the smooth custard with its pretty broiled brown sugar topping. Life in the kitchen has improved in innumerable ways, and now life with Creme Brulee is even easier and nicer too.

First of the new tricks is the use of convenient egg custard mix for the basic custard, which eliminates all the guesswork in that stage. Your refrigerator helps to execute the second trick, which is to chill the custard after it's been poured into a shallow baking dish.

The prettiest twist of all is to serve the dish as Fruited Creme Brulee, with a colorful garnish of thawed frozen fruits such as red raspberries.

Along with Fruited Creme Brulee, many other delicious desserts, both plain and fancy, can come from a package of egg custard mix. Use it as a base for individual molds, garnished with prepared whipped topping and grated chocolate. Or mold the custard and serve with your favorite fruit sauce.

There is no end to the many ways custard can be used. Just change the serving dish, or try a new topping or garnish to create your very own custard specialty.

AT A THE STORE OF THE SECRETARIES BETWEEN THE PROPERTY AND THE HAS

Thanks to the hospitality of my good friends, Bernard and Charlotte Stadtmiller, I enjoyed a long, fourday week end in Florida last week.

Harry Crawford of Plymouth and myself were their guests at their home which faces the 11th tee at Port Malabar Country Club, a General Development community of homes just outside Melbourne.

In reality it was a golfing trip. We played 90 holes in four days of sunny, 80-degree weather. The Florida "hustlers" refer to us northerners as "snowbirds" and they delight in watching us try to control our shots in the Florida winds over a course that's half sand and half water.

Bernie claimed he hadn't played in a month. But he managed to fire a 76 the first day. Fortunately, the bets were friendly, or he'd be in the newspaper business.

But as any golf addict will confirm, even losing can be fun in the company of friends on a good golf course; especially in such good weather so early in the season. There's always the few holes you played well to remember that bring you back; and there's always the revenge, which Harry and I are already plotting when Bernie visits our course this summer.

The Stadtmillers are originally from the Plymouth area and Bernie is still a Northville businessman, as owner of the building that houses the Spinning Wheel, Hair Sanctuary, Miss Millie's School of Dance and Ray Interiors.

So I was interested, and somewhat surprised, by his comments comparing the Melbourne area to Northville.

Absentee landlords are not always sympathetic to assessments levied against their buildings to provide offstreet parking.

"The city of Northville is smart to provide plenty of parking in its business district. It's the only way to preserve the existing buildings and attract some new business," he observed.

The point Stadtmiller made is one that all residents of the community should ponder. Especially in the light of some criticism heard concerning destruction of old buildings and trees in the business district.

Melbourne's original business district has deteriorated because it did not prepare itself for the onslaught of bordering shopping centers. Now it faces expensive restoration if it is to survive.

The city of Northville must accept the fact that at least one major shopping center will be established within its trading area, either in Northville township or the city of

Several other smaller, convenient centers featuring supermarkets, drug and notion stores are also on the drawing boards.

Very likely area growth will make it possible for all these businesses to survive nicely.

But the city's old business district would not survive on "quaintness" alone. It's one thing for a resident to take a stroll on Sunday afternoon and enjoy an old-fashioned downtown; it's another when she's shopping and finds the quaintness offers no convenience of parking or variety of selection.

So what is the price of retaining most of the quaintness while introducing convenience and selection so that existing merchants do not move to the new centers and deterioration does not destroy the existing shops?

It's planned modification; it's what the city of Northville is attempting to do; it is a limited expansion that provides enough of the necessary convenience and selection to attract customers so that existing stores may survive the threat of the modern centers.

The city council's vision and the city manager's enthusiasm and energy deserve recognition they are not receiving. More often they have been criticized for creating more asphalt lots. In reality, they are preserving old Northville for future

The development of Northville Square, the parking north of Main street and south of Cady street needed to service this substantial downtown center may be the final major change in the existing business area necessary to solidify the central commercial district.

Other changes may take place in the business district, but most of these will be in the form of improvement (not changing the characteristics) of existing buildings.

Citizen concern over the appearance of the community's business district is to be commended. And any over-zealous commercial expansion into the bordering residential areas on the west and north should be vigorously opposed.

Meanwhile, some tolerance and understanding demonstrated must as the city experiences a transition period which promises to prevent the deterioration that has struck many fine, old communities, like Melbourne.

A healthy central business district is important to all citizens of the community, whether they reside in the city or township. It represents a sizeable taxbase for the support of the school district.

And it offers us a quaint downtown through which to stroll.

Speaking for Myself

Congress' Powers?

Nixon Usurping

YES . . .

The Constitution of the United States empowers Congress to legislate the financial affairs of this country. Yet President Nixon has seen fit to ignore the Constitution and wrest the money power away from Congress whenever it serves his purposes.

What happened to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act amendments of 1972 underscores the high-handed tactics of Mr. Nixon.

Both the United States House and Senate passed legislation establishing a multi-year, $18 billion program for combating pollution of our nation's waters. Since it didn't suit Mr. Nixon's fancy, he vetoed the legislation.

So the House and Senate, as required by the Constitution, voted on the water pollution control legislation again, passing it over the President's veto by substantially more than the two-thirds Constitutional requirement in each Constitutionally foiled, Mr. Nixon, who claims he's for a cleaner environment, then stated he will fund only $2 billion of the $5 billion slated for distribution to states in fiscal year 1973. He will do it by having his budget director refuse to disperse the total amount.

Clearly, Mr. Nixon is flaunting the collective judgment of a majority of our elected representatives in Washington.

> Wendy Peterson Brighton Housewife

NO ...

The President has not usurped Congressional prerogatives. But Congress is in danger of losing them by pure default.

When our founding fathers gave it the power of the purse, they assumed a Congress that would be responsible— one that would match outgo to income.

Instead, Congress has consistently avoided the hard choices that require it to stay within the budget or to raise taxes to cover increased spending.

The President is making the choice clear to the American people and betting that they will come down on the side of fiscal responsibility and restraint.

Do we want federal spending to continue increasing at an average rate of eight-percent a year with an annual deficit reaching $30 billion? Are we willing to pay for it in higher taxes and higher prices at the supermarket?

Or do we want to get a handle on government spending in order to hold the line on taxes and inflation?

My choice is less spending. The President believes, as I do, that Congress has the responsibility to live within its means just like everyone else. I applaud his decision to fight for responsible fiscal policy and I intend to back him

Maybe it's because my intellectual vision is limited or maybe it's because I am a citizen by choice, not by birth, in this community. " and govern a conditions

Whatever the reason, I am blind to the logic of those who share with me a deep pride in the heritage of Northville but who are, perhaps unintentionally, helping to destroy what we love.

On the one hand city and township residents rally around a binding project such as the Mill Race Historical Village while on the other hand they lay the mortar for the WALL that most assuredly will snuff out the many intangible assets of the community they

I can appreciate the motives of those citizens who intentionally seek the division of our community, but I cannot understand those who think and talk of Northville as a single community but seem unconcerned by the alarming split taking place in the community.

Look around and hear what your neighbors are saying. Friends living in the city are insisting they want no part of the township, and township friends are bad-mouthing the city.

Worse yet, in my opinion, is the apathy of those oldtimers and newcomers who have a genuine interest in the total well-being of the community but who sit back and say nothing, letting the hatred and halftruths grow uncontested.

They are fooling themselves into believing that the problem will go away without their involvement, their voices and leadership.

Well, my friend, the day has passed when we could call ourselves one community even though separated governmentally by an imaginary boundary. The movement to head off annexation is bent on permanently separating the community-not just the government. And if you think the situation is bad today, wait until tomorrow when it will be too late to speak up.

The unity of our schools, our churches, our civic and social organizations, our recreation department, our library, our fire department...our common heritage, is on the chopping block.

Tomorrow you won't invite people to your home "in Northville"; you'll invite them to your home "in the township" or "in the city." What happens in the township will be of no concern of those living in the. city, and what happens to the city will be of no concern, of those in the township.

The crowning blow will come when they rename us Northville and Southville.

News From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE

Michigan Representative

Last Monday evening I left my home in Northville and drove to Lansing to attend a joint session of the legislature. Joint sessions are held from time to time to hear speakers of unusual stature with messages of unusual importance. This occasion was the "State of the Judiciary" message from Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh. When we were all in our places and ceremonial introductions had been disposed of, we were each handed a copy of the speech we were about to hear.

For the next hour he read us his speech while we followed the copy before us. The primary gist was that he would-like us to allocate three percent of Michigan's total state revenues for the court system some $141 million. With such financing guaranteed, the courts could then go their own way, dispensing justice fairly and efficiently without having to depend on legislative bodies at the local, county, and state levels to provide for them. Additional court personnel could be hired as needed and, presumably, justice in Michigan would become swifter and surer.

After reaching the last line he thanked us for our attention and we adjourned. I drove home.

Thus did the majority of Michigan's 148 legislators spend a Monday evening, many of them driving from home districts much further removed from Lansing

Legislators are reimbursed 11 cents a mile for travel, or $21 a day for food and lodging expenses. If only half of them remained over night the cost to the state was still over $1,500. The Chief Justice and several other judges attended, as did numerous other

I would not hazard a guess as to the total cost to the state of that one session, or the time lost by public officials spending an entire evening in Lansing on a speech which anyone could read to himself at home in 15 minutes. But it seems to me a more efficient use of . time and money in government is in order.

At a regular meeting of the board of education Tuesday, the board directed the superintendent to send a letter of appreciation to the high school staff for its superlative efforts throughout the accreditation process.

Superintendent Gerald Kratz indicated he will be in Chicago on the night North Central hands down its decision and he will forward to the board, by telegram, that decision.

one on annexation would be held. Both governments would continue to operate until the new council was elected. The new council would pick the city manager.

The existing city charter, under which the city operates, would continue in force until voters should decide to change it.

The "annexation proposal was initiated by citizens of both the city and township, who filed petitions last year with the Michigan Boundary Commission which under state law is empowered to decide for or against annexation.

Following a public hearing last summer at the high school, the boundary commission began the lengthy process of reviewing recorded comments made at the hearing by proponents and opponents and of studying written data supplied by both

Earlier this year, the commission completed its study and unanimously decided in favor unification.

That decision, together with a dislike by some citizens for a state agency to rule on a local issue, prompted a campaign to place the question on the ballot here. Under the law, the decision made at the ballot box takes precedence over the boundary commission ruling.

Thus, should citizens vote against annexation the decision of the boundary commission is voided and the two existing governments continue separate courses.

Registration for the election will be taken until April 6, Ollendorff said.

Sees Library Need; Doesn't Back Move

expanded facilities for Northville Public Library but failed to endorse moving the library to the school administrativetownship office building.

Meeting Tuesday night, the board also tabled action on appointing two members to the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation and tabled appointment of three permanent members to the township building authority.

By not endorsing the move of the library into the building currently owned by the school board, expansion of the library received a setback. Last week, Northville City Council endorsed the move and, although the school board has not taken any formal action, the school board has in the past indicated its support. Endorsement from all three bodies is needed for the proposal to become a reality. Superintendent Raymond Spear has said that it would be 1975 before the move could be made. His proposal has included moving the school administration into the Cooke School Annex and relocating the sixth graders, presently housed in the annex, into one of the proposed new schools.

The township rents office space in the building from the school board. Those offices would also have to be moved.

Library Commission members pointed out that the school-township office space is "the most expedient and economical choice for expanded library facilities."

However, Trustee Charles Schaeffer said he felt that the $130,000 cost estimated by the library commission to renovate the building "would have to be doubled at least."

"New facilities will be needed by both the township and the school board," he said, "and that cost must also be included in the price of the move."

Schaeffer said he felt priorities must be studied. He indicated that if people in the township were questioned as to whether they felt the greatest need was, for a library or a fire station, they would probably choose the fire station.

something until I know we can financially support it," he said. Trustee John MacDonald said the township should support the concept of the need for expanded facilities and support having representatives of the township board meet with the library advisory board.

"We can't explore (the cost of moving the library, township and school offices) on our own," he commented. with meeting representatives, we may find out we can or cannot afford to move the library."

Trustees agreed to direct the supervisor to appoint representatives of the township board to meet with the library commission, city council and school board representatives.

Action on appointment of members from the township board and planning commission to the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation was tabled until a full board is present. Trustee Leonard Klein was absent from Tuesday's session.

Mitchell, who at previous meetings suggested there may be a conflict of interest in having the township participate in the corporation, said Tuesday that by appointing members and recognizing the corporation he thought the township may be "legally obligated by the action" should there ever be a against lawsuit corporation.

MacDonald said that the corporation has been in existence since "1960 and the question of conflict of interest has not been raised before. The corporation 'encourages economic development of the entire community."

Treasurer Joseph Straub stated the corporation was responsible for getting the at Michigan State Pulce Post located in the township and "that's the biggest asset we've got."

Schaeffer said members representing the township on the corporation may gain knowledge of development plans and could become investors, seeking financial

MacDonald said Schaeffer was putting "too many suppositions in the case. It would be better to have someone on the corporation to report back to the board on activity. If we've had no reports before, it may be the fault of our representatives."

Schaeffer stated, however, that since the township would not have control over the corporation "as we do over

Straub had suggested the appointments be "indefinitely postponed," but his motion died for lack of support.

MacDonald said he wanted the township to get resumes from prospective members of the authority. "I also think we should talk in terms of some purposes (for the authority), specific projects and costs of these projects."

While no specific projects have been outlined, the authority was created for the purpose of constructing a $500,000 township office-firepolice station complex. However, any project undertaken by the authority must be approved by the township board.

the following article is so rare that most Veterinarians will never run across such a case in their entire careers. The surgery that was performed has never before been attempted, but the successful conclusion means that now other horses with this particular problem will not have to be considered hopeless cases. The colt was never allowed to suffer at any time and will not even bear any scars as evidence of this radical experimentation.

I thought perhaps many of your readers may be unaware of the possibilities in rare or extreme cases, as we were. Thus, I send along the attached for whatever it may be worth. The cost of surgery of this type need not necessarily be high due to the research value associated

They Beat The Odds... Sired by a registered Quarter Horse, out of a spunky Mustang mare, Gismo arrived last April in a pile of snow. It soon became apparent that all was not well with the little colt...a swelling began to appear on the side of his head. Gismo had come into the world with an incomplete duct leading from one of his four salivary glands. Saliva was rapidly building up in the duct which did not open into his mouth. Initial surgery by Dr. R. J. Keeran had everything working ship shape until Mother Nature interfered and the duct healed closed. Once again, Dr. Keeran performed the almost impossible surgery and brought the duct into Gismo's mouth where it was sutured into place. Again, it healed shut. At the age of eight months Gismo went to Michigan State University where Dr. K.

Margaret St. Charles explained, saying she and her husband Stephen hit on the idea about two years ago

So after examining a few books and reading up on the subject, the St. Charles family took tap in hand and started hunting for the right

They found out it wasn't a complicated process. Anyone can do it-all it takes is a few trees, a place for an outdoor fire and a lot of Finding trees to tap was no real problemthey picked out appropriate trees in their own yard, in the neighborhood and on St Charles' parents' property.

Surprisingly enough, other trees besides sugar maples can be used, providing they are members of the maple family. The St. Charles, for instance, are presently tapping a number of box elder trees.

Once a tree is found, a small hole about two inches long is drilled into the south side of the tree. The number of taps a tree can support, of course, is determined by its size.

"We've never put more than two taps in a tree," Mrs. St. Charles noted, "but I suppose you could use three."

A tap or spial, about four inches long, is then placed in the hole for the sap to run out. A tap can be made out of about any material. but Mrs. St. Charles has used dead elderberry branches that have been cut to length and

"You can get almost a gallon and a half of sap a day out of each tap," Mrs. St. Charles explained. "And it even tastes sweet when it comes out.'

Literally a mountain of sap is needed to make maple syrup. It takes about 35 gallons of sap to make one gallon of maple syrup. Last year, for instance, the St. Charles wound up with about two gallons of syrup for approximately two weeks work collecting and

A fire outside to boil the sap down to syrup is a must.

Mrs. St. Charles cautioned against attempting the whole boiling process on the kitchen stove. "People have warned me not to try it unless I want to remove all the wallpaper from the kitchen," she laughed. Once started, it takes about two hours to boil the sap down to syrup, but this again depends on how hot the fire is. Once the clear sap has boiled down to a thick consistency and has turned golden brown, the St. Charles strain it through cloth and boil it to completion on the kitchen stove. . The maple syrup project started in part as an outgrowth of the family's interest in the environment and utilizing natural foods such as wild strawberries, dandelions and other common plants. "We try to do something new like this every

Renew License and Register to Vote, Too?

LANSING-THE FACT THAT HE OVERSEES both Michigan drivers and Michigan voters, prompts Secretary of State Richard Austin to come up with a completely new proposal for registering voters in Michigan.

Austin's suggestion, so simple it's surprising no one thought of it before, is to register voters whenever they renew their drivers

If that is adopted, Austin says, "it will cover nine out of every 10 Michigan voters, and will provide even stricter checks on voter rolls. It will save time, money and confusion and it will eliminate the need, for 'crash' voter registration drivers.

"In one move we can improve the integrity of the voting rolls and also encourage citizens to participate in the elector system as voters.'

AUSTIN'S PROPOSAL would mean voters would be reregistered every three years. In addition, everytime they move, it would be recorded as soon as they recorded their change in address on their drivers license.

When persons registered, Austin's office would send each one a voter identification card listing the Congressional, state senate, state representative and county commissioner districts. Current voter registration cards list only the precinct a person is in.

There is usually a long road between the point something is proposed and the time it comes into effect, if it ever does. But Austin's plan is simple enough and logical enough that it may have a chance.

Even Gov. William G. Milliken has indicated he might approve the idea, and it would need some Republican support to be adopted.

ONE AGENCY THREATENED with extinction in the budget slashes underway by President Nixon in Washington is the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission.

The Commission is made up of representatives of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and was set up to help stimulate economic growth in the northern parts of the three states. Since its inception, it has pumped millions of dollars into the three areas to help in such diverse enterprises as junk car clean ups, tourism agricultural development and other economic improvements.

The commission was due to expire this June and close its Washington office, but money was recently made available to continue its bigger projects through June, 1974.

APPEALS TO CONGRESS for extension of the commission's life at least through an extra year were made by Gov. William G. Milliken and officials from other states affected.

"This would provide Michigan counties in the commission area with a continuation of grant funds at the level the state now is receiving while Congress has a chance to act on the president's new program proposals," the governor said. "It will take some time for these new programs to become established, and federal funds must continue until then so there is no disruption of assistance."

The President is expected to continue some of the commission's functions in other new programs he will propose, but no one knows yet just how much help he will push for. Many people will be affected by what the final decision is.

MICHIGAN'S EFFORTS to increase its exports will receive another boost April 16-20 when the state shows some of its wares in Tokyo at the U.S. Trade Center.

The show will be devoted entirely to food items and is open to food firms from all over the United

Babson Report

U.S. Debt Hits $2.2 Trillion

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.— U.S. debt-public and private-now totals $2.2 trillion, and the ratio of outstanding debt to our GNP has been rising acutely each year since World War II. To put it another way: It takes a larger volume of debt each year to trigger a rise of a dollar in the GNP.

The big question is how much economic risk is represented by the rise in debt relative to production. There are no easy answers. But even in an economy as large and varied as ours, the fact that capital consumption is outpacing capital formation cannot be shrugged off.

DESPITE the huge increase in debt, a very good case can still be made for the healthy future of business generally and for retailing specifically by citing recent official figures on personal income and the asset-to-debt ratio of families.

Personal income is currently at a record high and a continued uptrend is projected near term. The year reflected gains in several sectors of the economy, including advances in wages and salaries in public and private employment as well as sharply higher social security payments.

DESPITE a record postwar rise in mortgage debt and a massive overall uptrend in installment credit, the balance sheet of American families collectively is favorable and would appear capable of financing further growth in retail trade during the remainder of this

At recent date, net worth of consumers was estimated at $2.8 trillion (total assets of $3.3 trillion less total liabilities of $500 billion). Ratio of all assets to all debts was 6.6 to 1. With mortgage debt excluded, it was a wholesome 13.3 to 1.

CONSUMER credit outstanding recently stood at $153 billion, with $28.7 billion of this noninstallment. Automobile paper at $43.7 billion accounted for well over one-third increases registered during the past installment credit, $38 billion went for other consumer goods, $36.4 billion for personal loans, and $6.2 billion for home repair and modernization.

More significant than these totals is the fact that installment credit outstanding rose swiftly thru most of 1972, recording a jump of $1.7 billion in November alone. But so far, the public appears amply capable of carrying—and repaying—an even larger burden of debt since employment is the highest ever, unemployment is easing, personal income is at record levels and still mounting, and selected liquid assets held by consumers are the largest ever reported.

DEBT ALONE will not inhibit consumers from buying. In the opinion of the Research Department of Babson's Reports there is nothing. in the overall consumer-credit picture prejudicial to a further uptrend in retail sales this year. However, consumer-credit expansion—in total—will likely be at a more restrained pace than in 1972.

The bulk of the factors indicates we have probably seen the steepest rise of this cycle of consumer spending for durable goods and large-ticket items. Hence, from here on installment buying will trend upward on a scale less spectacular than the very sharp upthrust observed last year.

WHAT WE DO expect to see this year, however, is renewed stress on leisure-time items, particularly vacations and services. You'll note an increasing portion of installment debt contracted to help finance both vacations and long weekends, personal needs such as health and beauty care—services calculated to increase people's enjoyment.

The point is, spending habits of American families are changing. More money is going to services than before, a trend that will further accelerate. And spending patterns are tied more to future aspirations and expectations than to current income.

Kitchen Queen Search Begins

Company will accept entries in its annual Queen of the Kitchen Contest until Sunday, March 25, according to Kathryn D. Riney, head of the company's residential consumer services.

From recipes received, 10 women will be chosen as finalists to take part in a Edison's Cook-off at Detroit downtown headquarters on Thursday morning, April 12. Each finalist will receive an electric appliance.

The grand prize in the contest is a deluxe range and the "Queen" will have her choice of top-of-the-line models which will be on display that day. An electric "Meal Magic Set," consisting of a toaster-over, a broilerskillet and a combination coffee grinder-coffee maker, will be awarded as second prize; and the third prize will be a "Kitchen Duo"—a table broiler and a blender. The contest is open to women who are employed outside of their homes and who live within the boundaries of Edison's Southeastern Michigan service area. They are invited to submit a recipe for a main dish which can be cooked in one hour or less.

Study Scheduled On The Holy Spirit

Reverend James V. Shaffer, Pastor South Lyon Assembly of God

On Monday, March 19th thru the 24th, we will begin a Charismatic Conference and Bible study on the Holy Spirit. This study is our endeavor to answer some of the questions that are being asked by many Christians today, on the Baptism of the Holy Spirit and speaking in unknown tongues. Today we still have a ministry to perform and that is the Great Commission.

We must be equipped to perform this great ministry, spoken about in Mark 16:15-16. This is why I believe we need to take a deep and sincere look at the scripture verse which is found in Acts 1:8, "But you shall receive power—ability, efficiency and might—when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem and all Judea and Samaria and to the ends - the very bounds - of the earth.'

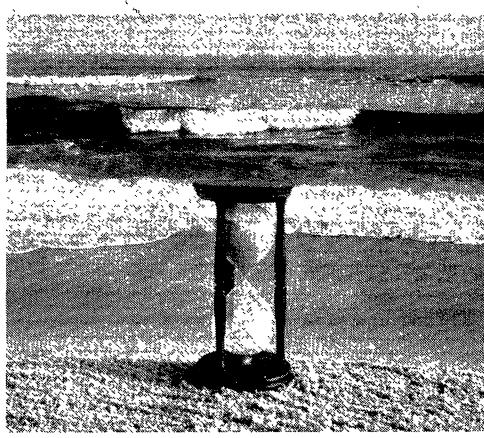

Two words stand out in this verse and they are, power and witnesses. This prophetic announcement, came by Jesus Christ Himself and Christ saw to it that it was fulfilled ten days later in Acts 2:1-4. If Christ felt that power to witness was needed to begin the church age, how much more do we need this power to witness, in closing the church age. My friends, we need this power as much as our forefathers did, and I believe even more so. In this day in which we live we can see wickedness, crime and sin are so prevalent that we need the fullness of God's Spirit to withstand the wiles of the Devil. Today we Christians need to be filled with the Power of God to denounce sin and proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

I pray that questions that have arisen on the Baptism of the Holy Spirit can somehow be answered, so that this wonderful blessing, the Gift of the Holy Spirit, can be received by many people, therefore joining us together in performing the 'Great Commission''.

I know this power can be yours, as it was with the Disciples, for I have personally experienced this wonderful blessing and I find the scriptures tell us that, "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever" (Hebrews 13:8).

So, "the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call (Acts 2:39). The Lord Bless and Baptize you with His

TIME and TIDE

Curious, isn't it, how people look at life so differently? To some there is an irresistible desire to cope with the tides of life by escaping from dullness to new lands and faces. To others the answer seems to lie in the foaming breakers, with the sinister desire to end existence completely. And yet to others the waves of life speak of plan and order and a sureness and per-

And so it is with time! One person begrudges every second as a relentless march toward the end of life. Another sees the sands of time as a slow and painful journey. And to still another, it is the golden passing of each day ordered and well-planned.

What shapes these different viewpoints? The Christian sees, in the certainty of seconds and the regularity of tides, a revelation of the order and beauty that God perfects in His works.

Every man needs God and His Church to give his life its noblest point of view.

1-3 Card Of Thanks

THE family of David C. Spencer wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness shown to them at the time of their bereavement.

Thank, you to Norm Bondy for his very unselfish and very tiring efforts to see that the people of Washington Manor and the Martin Luther Home had transportation to see ''Disney on Parade''.
Through Mr. Sliger, we received the lickets and Norm Bondy enlisted the help of Forbes Fabrics and Mrs. Gregory, who in turn provided transportation. Again, many thanks Norm for being such an Angel You made a lot of people

> Nora Schroeder Martin Luther Home Della Derendinger Washington Manor

Many thanks to Novi Firechief Bell, and the volunteer fire department that responded so promptly to our call. We think they are the best in the state. (The Cotter Family start grapevine.

Just say the word to the right people and soon it's all over town. That's how the grapevine works. But there's one way to spread the word even faster -- with a Quick-Action Want - Ad.

When you are looking for something to buy, or have something to sell, tell about it with a Want-Ad. Your story will go out to all of our readers (there's over 90,000 of them) just the way you tell it. And that's SOME grapevine.

The right people are the friendly AD-visors you call at our three offices. And the best thing yet, a 12 word Want-Ad costs only $1.85. Do tell!

BY FAR the most successful 40th anniversary of franchising January market ever attended by Gamble dealers and company-owned store managers in the Gamble Stores Division of Gambles, was held recently in the Hilton Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada.

More than 1000 Gamble dealers and their wives from 22 states flew to Las Vegas in chartered aircraft from eight gateway points. All Hilton facilities, including the 50,000 sq. ft. convention center, the International Show Room, and the Theatre Royale were utilized for the various meetings and activities. More than 300 suppliers and manufacturers sold 54 percent more merchandise than ever before in company history to the Gamble store operators, who attended the market in two waves. Brighton store owner is Dale Knisley.

WITH ANNOUNCEMENT this past week of a new capital expansion program of almost $4 million at its glass manufacturing and fabricating plant in Carleton, Guardian Industries Corporation also revealed it will soon occupy an additional 35,000 square feet of space now leased to outside tenants at Guardian's world headquarters in Novi.

The company's photo division and its corporate offices will occupy the additional space. Part of the newly occupied space in Novi will be used by a wholly owned subsidiary, Consulting Services, Inc., for housing two new computers, an IBM System 370 and an IBM System 7.

Gallagher would attempt to remove the salivary gland and as much of the immature duct as possible. We were warned that this had never before been attempted and that, because of the vast supply of nerves in the area, the chances for success or even for survival were almost nil. For the third time we signed the necessary euthanasia forms and said goodbye to Gismo.

Today Gismo came home. Thanks to the tremendous ability and perseverance of his two dedicated doctors and the toughness and stamina inherited from his mixed parentage, Gismo now has a new lease on life.

We do not know at this time what the final outcome will be for Gismo, but we are most grateful that there are Veterinarians like Dr. Keeran and Dr. Gallagher who are willing and able to go far beyond the usual or the possible in an effort to save a grade colt and, by so doing, learn how to save other unfortunate animals.

With a lot of help from the Lord, they beat the odds...Dr. Keeran, Dr. Gallagher and Today's surgery is truly truly amazing. Gismo1

State Police Captain George L. Halverson, 44, commander of the emergency services (civil defense) division at East Lansing Headquarters, is being promoted to 16-level March 25 and captain assigned to command the Detroit district.

Halverson will succeed Captain Alfred LaPointe whose March 23 retirement already has been reported.

Prior to taking the emergency services post in 1971, Halverson commanded the training division for about two and a half years.

In addition to his duty in the training and emergency service divisions at East Lansing, Halverson had assignments in the personnel and executive divisions. He also was sponsored by the department to a three-month course at the FBI's National Academy

Come retire with us

If you're considering gracious, secure retirement, you should consider joining us in Ann Arbor.

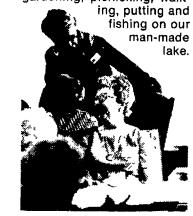

We're some of the first retirees to reserve apartments at a brand new, full service retirement community ... the interdenominational Lutheran Retirement Center.

When the Center is completed, a few short months from now, we'll start enjoying a whole new experience in living.

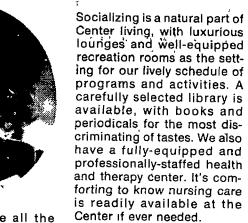

To begin with, we have quite an estate. Our 5-story residence building is set nicely on 34 acres of beautiful open space in the northeast part of the city ... just about a mile from North Campus.

The landscaping is going to be really lovely, and having such an expanse of landscape provides nice recreational opportunities. Like gardening, picnicking, walk-making it easy to get one's daily vitamins.

Although we have all the amenities of country estate living, we're actually inside Ann Arbor. The shopping and entertainments in town are just a short drive from your personal carport or a comfortable ride on one of the Center's complimentary buses.

District Champions!

Kritch, Taylor Lead Mustangs over Riverside 54-52

Run it right to the top of the flag pole and let everyone

In spite of a season of one frustration after another, one of humiliation piled on top of the last, Coach Walt Koepke's Northville basketball team kept on fighting and fought and fought and fought again until Saturday they fought their way to the Class B district championship at South Lyon.

When a final second shot by Riverside's Brian Dean tettered on the rim and then fell away from the hoop to preserve a 54-52 Mustang triumph, 200 Northville fans erupted from the bleachers and boosted guard Joe Bishop to their shoulders for the symbolic post-game ceremony of taking down the

The nets - and the 1973 Class B district championship belonged to Northville.

It was a sweet victory for both Koepke and his Northville cagers, who have had to endure more than a little abuse for their oftenshoddy early .season performance.

It was the first district championship earned by a Northville basketball team since a rugged 6'2", 200 pound center named Jerry Imsland led a squad composed of Steve Evans and Jim Zayti at the forwards and Jim Jameson and Nelson Hyatt at the guards to the district title back in 1966.

District championships are nothing new to Koepke, however. In his 10 years of coaching, the Mustang mentor has won nine district titles and 22 of 23 district basketball games.

Koepke dipped into his hat of district magic at South Lyon as he guided the Mustangs from the role of tournament underdog to tournament champion.

And in Saturday's championship game with Riverside, the two most important ingredients in Koepke's magic potion were named Ed Kritch and Bart Taylor.

It was Taylor, the speedy senior forward, who paced his teammates to a 35-32 halftime lead by tossing in 13 first-half points. And it was Kritch who kept the Mustangs in the game in the second half by scoring four key baskets on driving lay-ups and finishing the game with 10 of 11 free throw attempts.

Together, Kritch and Taylor combined for 37 of Northville's 54 points, including the final seven points which brought the Mustangs from a 50-47 deficit with three minutes to go to the 54-52 victory.

Kritch finished the game with 20 points, while Taylor had 17.

The game was a see-saw affair right from the start. The Rebels opened up an 8-4 lead early in the first quarter, but the Mustangs came charging back due largely to Taylor's three buckets to trail by a single point 16-15 at the end of the frame.

Taylor flipped in three more buckets and Kritch converted seven of seven free throw attempts in the second quarter as Northville took over the lead.

At the half the Mustangs were on top 35-32 and they added to that margin in the third quarter to take a fivepoint, 47-42 into the final eight minutes of play.

in the fourth quarter. Tim Adams, the Rebel's 6'2" guard, tossed in two 30-footers to cut the Mustangs' lead to 47-46 after just 30 seconds. Adams hit again at the 6:50

Kritch had a chance to put the game out of reach with a second free throw, but his shot bounded off the rim and Riverside grabbed the rebound and headed back down the floor for one final chance to tie the score with eight seconds left.

Adams dribbled into the forecourt, but was covered and flipped the ball to Dean who drove underneath and put up what proved to be the game's final shot.

The buzzer sounded as the ball rolled off the rim

Adams' 18 points were tops for Riverside, while Tim Wing, a muscular 6'3" center bulled his way under the boards for 17 points - 15 of them in the first half.

Northville won the game at, the free throw line. Although outscored from the floor 46-38,the Mustangs converted 16 of 24 charity tosses (66 percent) while the Rebels hit on just six of 16 free throw attempts (37 percent). Northville hit on 19of 44 field goal attempts for a shotting mark of 44 percent.

Eis led Northville inrebounding by capturing 13.

District Future Dim?

Jass B regional tourney at Saline this week.

That, at any rate, is the opinion of most followers of the prep basketball scene and it's been their opinion ever since the district-regional pairings were drawn up by the MHSAA sometime last fall.

The problem, you see, is that the winner of the South Lyon district advances to the Saline regionals where it is slated to play the winner of the River Rouge district.

And anybody who knows that Michigan high schools have a post-season basketball tourney also knows that more often than not the Class B state champion comes from the River Rouge district.

Pink Squirts Pace Skaters

As the regular season draws to a close and post-season play-offs loom ahead, Northville's hockey teams seem to be picking up steam.

Led by the Dave Pink Builders-sponsored Squirts, Northville teams won five of nine games and tied another in action last week.

The Dave Pink Squirts posted a pair of victories in league play last week to bring their league record to 14-6-4. They will now head into a play-off series consisting of their league's top three

Tod Mack scored a pair of goals and Carl Kohs, Richard Pattison, Don Rose, and Dave Ward each netted a single goal as the Pink Squirts skated to an easy 6-0 conquest of Plymouth

Three days later the Pink Squirts brought their season to an end by beating Lincoln Park 4-3. Single goals were scored by Dave Braseker, Tom Allen, Pat Rapin, and Richard Pattison in that

It wasn't until they met Garden City in an exhibition contest, that the Bantams Simoncic accounted for the finally tasted defeat last In that game week. Winmaster tallied a pair of goals and Howard added'a third, but it wasn't enough as the Bantams went down 5-3.

The only Northville club to lose more games than it won last week was the Thomson Sand and Gravel-sponsored 3-3 tie with Wayne. Jeff Hastings was the hero in that game as he scored twice in the last three minutes to pull the Thomson Squirts from a 3-1 deficit into a 3-3 tie.

Brian Starr scored the first Northville goal in the game. The Thomson Squirts lost their other two contests.

Harrison Dethrones Mustang Tankers

Mike-Rado and Company otherwise known as the Farmington Harrison swim team - got in the decisive last punch in their season-long, knock 'em down, drag 'em out brawl with the Northville

It was Harrison which brought, Northville's threeyear, 29-meet undefeated streak to an end last January by beating the Mustangs 48-

The Northville swimmers avenged that loss two weeks ago by topping the Hawks 53-42 in a rématch. But Saturday before a disappointingly small turnout of Northville fans at the Farmington Harrison pool, the Hawks dealt the Mustangs a 1171/2 to 1041/2 defeat to win the Western Six Conference championship.

It was a depressed Ben Lauber, coach of the Northville swimmers, who slowly changed his clothes in the locker room after the

"It's my fault," he said. "Maybe I should quit. I just can't seem to win the big meets. We do well in the dual meets, but when it comes down to winning something really important, I just don't seem to be able to do the job a good coach has to do."

By Monday, however, Lauber's gloom had cleared considerably and he was able to take a much more analytic view of his team's failure two days previously.

"First of all," he said, "let's give credit where credit is due. The Harrison team performed exceptionally well. A lot of their swimmers were able to equal or better their best previous times and that's what you've got to do in these

"We've done a lot of thinking and talking about why we didn't perform very well," he continued, "and I think we've come up with a couple logical explanations."

"For one thing, we're in the position of having to get up for good performances three weeks in a row and I think that's a little too much to ask. We had to get up for the rematch with Harrison two weeks ago, we had the league meet Saturday, and next Saturday we've got to get up for the state meet."

'The other thing is that this was the last meet of the year for most of the Harrison swimmers and they were primed for it."

The Harrison coach agreed. 'This is the meet we've aimed at all year," he said. "We peaked for the league meet, while Northville has got to peak for the state meet next

Still, in the final analysis, what beat the Mustangs was Harrison's superior depth. It wasn't the Mike Rado's and Gregg Arnoldy's who beat the Mustangs Northville actually managed to take one more first place than the Hawks. The people who beat the Mustangs were the Keith Krupsky's, and Nick out the valuable fourth, fifth, coaching at Northville, I've and sixth place points.

Hawthorne's who squeezed

A case in point was the 400 yard freestyle event. Don Cook and Kevin Kelly swept first and second place in the event, but Harrison followed up with third, fourth, fifth, and sixth. Thus, in spite of their outstanding showing, Northville gained just two points more than the Hawks. The Mustangs got off to a poor start when they finished second in the medley relay to the Harrison quartet of John Smart, Bruce Howell, Jeff Hornacek, and Jim Patton

"That defeat knocked the confidence out of us," noted Lauber. "I guess there were a lot of us who felt we had to win the medley relay to win the meet and when Harrison won, it hurt us In my four years of never seen our team lose its confidence like we did after the medley. We've always been able to bounce back

Still, there was plenty of reason for the Mustangs to cheer during the meet as they won five of the 11 events and tied for first in another.

Bill Witek successfully defended his 100 yard butterfly crown by winning the 1973 championship with a time of 1:00.0 and John Pacific defended his 50 yard freestyle title by winning that event Saturday with a 23.8 clocking.

Tom Cook dethroned Harrison's Rick Kral as the conference diving champion by scoring a total of 378 35

Don Cook won the 400 yard freestyle championship with a 4:10.0 clocking and Art Greenlee and Harrison's Bruce Howell tied for first place in the 100 yard breaststroke with identical 1:05.3 timings.

But by far the sweetest of the Northville triumphs was the victory of the 400 yard freestyle team. Harrison had already clinched the crown by the time the freestyle relay event - the last event on the card - came up, but the freestyle relay has a special significance for the two

At the end of 300 yards, Dennis McLaughlin, Don Cook, and Kevin Kelly had given anchorman Bill Witek a six foot lead over Rado, the 🕏 Harrison ace. After three lengths, Rado, en route to an incredible 48.6 split, had narrowed the lead to less than a foot, but Witek was able to hold on through the final 25 yards to bring the Mustangs in first 3:30.0 to 3:30.2.

On the sidelines the Northville team was cheering wildly as Witek touched the wall and Lauber himself had leaped a good three feet; : straight up into the air.

Not only had the Mustangs ... managed to salvage an m. important shred of prestige they had erased Harrison's pool and team record in the process

The final victory, after all, still belonged to Northville

In Ann Arbor Saturday

Swimmers Vie for State Crown

On the wall up above the bleachers by the Northville pool, there's a long brightly colored sign.

"I don't think there's any way they can improve on those times in the state

It's a quote from Charles Loft, the Milan swimming coach, after the Mustangs had mauled his Big Reds 62-33 in a dual meet back in December.

The quote hadn't been meant for Northville ears. Lott made the comment to a reporter from a Monroe paper who included it in his write-up of the Northville-Milan meet. But then Lott should realize that the Mustang swimmers read the Monroe paper. In fact, they read every word they can find about the Milan

Such is the nature of the rivalry between the two

The flames of that rivalry will be fanned once again this weekend when the Mustangs and the Big Reds, along with the other top Class B teams in the state converge on Ann Arbor for the State Class B championships.

Preliminaries begin Friday at 3 p.m. in U-M's Matt Mann disappointed if we're not state Pool with the finals slated to get underway Saturday at 2 p.m. There is a $1 admission fee each day.

Once again, Northville and Milan are expected to battle it our for the state crown. This year, however, Ben Lauber feels that as many as five teams have a shot at the championship. In addition to Milan and his own team, the Northville coach feels Okemos, Riverview, and East Grand Rapids all have a chance to win the title.

"Sometimes I think we place too much emphasis on being number one," said Lauber Tuesday over a hamburger in a Northville restaurant. "Look at the year we've had. A 17-1 record in dual meets, that's a terrific record. When I think how hard these boys have worked to have a year like that, I don't think its fair that we should be disappointed with a second or third place finish in the

"I think a team can be very proud of being one of the top three teams in the state. I don't think it's fair to the work champs.'

Still. Lauber adds that he would be a poor coach if he tried for anything less than number one.

Last year's 206-185 loss to Milan in the state meet still rests heavy on the minds of the Mustangs "We beat them in eight out of 11 events and we still lost the championship because of their strength in those three events," says Lauber. 'Believe me, it can be very discouraging to know you've got the best all-around team in the state and have to settle for second because of the strength of a few very good individuals.'

It was true. In the 1972 state meet, Northville garnered more points than Milan in every event except the 200 and 400 yard freestyles and the 400 yard freestyle relay. But in the 400 freestyle, for example, Mılan took first, second, third, and seventh places to outscore the Mustangs 48-11 in that event alone and in the three key Northville 105-40.

Milan is again strong in the distances, but it is extremely doubtful that they will be able to repeat last year's blitz of the distance events. Far and away the top 200 and 400 yard freestyler in the state is Okemos' Tom Foreman, If he doesn't win both events, it will be a major upset. But second's winning state championships place in both events is strickly up for grabs between another Okemos swimmer, Curtis Lentz and Brad Miller of Milan, and Don Cook and

Kevin Kelly of Northville. Having been stung once, Lauber is hoping to effectively jam Milan's strength in the distances.

Still Lauber fears that depth will be the ultimate determinant in the state meet and his 1973 Mustangs are not as deep as the 1972 Mustangs./ swimmers went to state last state champs, says Lauber. year, only 11 have qualified this year.

In addition to Kelly and Don Cook in the 200 and 400 yard freestyle events. Lauber will have Bill Witek and Art Greenlee in the 200 yard I.M., John Pacific in the 50 yard freestyle; Tom Cook in the diving; Andre Manochio in the 100 yard butterfly; Dennis yard backstroke. Cook in the diving, Witek in the 100 free, and Greenlee in the 100 breast all have varying degrees of chances of , in their events, says Lauber.

Mustanger

100 yard fly; and Jeff Kappler and Mark Haynie in the 100

Lauber also has high hopes for his medley relay team of «Kappler, Greenlee, Manochio or Bretz, and Pacific and the freestyle relay team of Pacific, Cook, Kelly, and Witek. Northville already holds the state record in the medley relay, while the freestyle relay team has been under the existing state record twice in the last two weeks.

Livingston 11th In State Meet

Bill Livingston, Novi's lone entrant in the state Class C-D wrestling tournament, lost his opening match and ended up in eleventh place in the 101pound division.

"It was a good experience for him," said Novi Coach Russ Gardner, himself a former state champion. "Bill's just a junior and he could conceivably go back to the state meet next year. If he does, the experience of already having been there once will do him a lot of good."

Livingston qualified for the state meet held at Lansing Waverly High School by finishing third in the 101pound division in the Adrian regionals a week ago.

In his first match in the state meet he was defeated 7-1 by Elroy Flores from Shelby High School. Flores went through the rest of the tournament without a defeat until the semi-finals when he was decisioned by the eventual 101-pound champion.

The Shelby grappler then defeated his opponent in the consolation finals to finish third in the state.

Livingston's eleventh place finish was determined by Flores' success. Every time Flores won, Livingston moved up a notch in the standings until he wound up eleventh among the state's 18 top 101-

Livingston, along with 147pounder Don Jackson who failed to qualify for the state meet, will return next year to head up Gardner's 1973-74 Novi mat squad.

contempt of court, a majority Wayne County Commissioners is defying what they consider to be an invalid court order to spend tax funds.

The elected county legislators contend the Circuit Court order usurps their legislative function and violates the constitutional separation of powers between the legislative and judicial branches of government.

Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan March 8 imposed open-ended sentences on 17 Commissioners, including Mrs. Mary Dumas who represents Northville, after they voted, 15-6, against

NCA Cites Deviation

Four deviations, called "minor" by administrators, were cited against Northville High School by North Central Association's high school evaluation team.

One of the four was labeled a "misunderstanding" by Principal Fred Holdsworth, who spoke Monday night to Northville School Board members.

"The evaluation team cited the school for not having a special education teacher on Holdsworth explained.

Other deviations included the length of the school day, which is four minutes short of the required time and will be corrected by shortening the lunch period next year, inadequate seating in the library and lack of health services.

Oakland and Wayne

County Road Projects Increased

A substantial increase in road construction in 1973 by Southeastern Michigan road commissions, including several projects slated in this area, was announced this past week by the Inter-County Highway Commission.

Increased gas tax monies, the inter-county commission explained, "will help in the initiation of a number of projects in the intercounty area that were left undone in 1972 due to lack of financial means.

Member counties of the inter-county highwäy commission plan to improve this year more than 168 miles roads through reconstruction, new construction or resurfacing.

In addition, the Michigan Department of State Highways is proposing to improve more than 93 miles of roads in Southeastern Michigan. Forty-five miles will be new or rebuilt freeways and 48 miles will be non-freeway state truck lines. "This means," the intercounty commission stated, "an expenditure of more than $121 million for 1973 in the seven-county area. Following is a break-down of proposed, incomplete and completed projects of Oakland and Wayne counties in this area, as outlined by the inter-county commission:

Seminars To Focus On Women

A series of informal seminars on the changing roles of women entitled "I Gotta Be Me" will be held on Tuesday mornings beginning March 20 at Schoolcraft College.

According to Mrs. Nancy Dufour who heads the women's continuum program at the College, the seminars are designed to increase awareness of women's roles, past and present, and to define new alternatives for individual life planning. She will serve as discussion leader for the six sessions the seminar will meet.

The first meeting is at 9:30 a.m. on March 20 in Room B-320 in the Liberal Arts Building. There is no charge for participation, but it is requested that persons telephone to indicate their attendance. The number to call is 591-6400, extension 217.

Each session will be two hours in length and participants will be invited to stay for lunch, on their own, and a tour of the campus afterwards.

Five Schoolcraft students will compose a panel at the first meeting. All are mature women, married and with families, who have returned to school after a period of years. Their programs of study include botany, liberal arts, library science, mechanical design and medical records.

On succeeding Tuesdays the topics will focus on "Women and Education," "Women, Employment and the Law, "Women and the Media," "Career Decision Making," and "Merchandising Your Talents".

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road, between 6 and 7 Mile Round Roads. Persons wishing more information about the seminar should contact Mrs. Dufour at the number indicated.
