

Church Services Mark Christ's Death, Resurrection

The death and resurrection of Christ will be remembered in special observances planned by area churches on Good Friday, April 20, and Easter Sunday, April 22.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, located at High and Elm Streets, has planned two Good Friday services, one at 1 p.m. and the other is at 7:30 p.m. with Holy Communion.

The Reverend Charles F. Boerger announced that St. Paul's will begin Easter observances with a sunrise service at 7 a.m. There will be a contemporary Communion service at 8:45 a.m. and a traditional Communion service at 10:30 a.m.

From 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., a Continental breakfast will be served in the church parish hall.

The First Presbyterian Church of Northville and the First United Methodist Church of Northville will hold a Good Friday service together at the Presbyterian Church at 1:30 p.m. with the Reverend Guenther Branstner speaking.

At the Presbyterian Church on Easter Sunday, there will be a sunrise service at 7 a.m. which will be followed by an 8 a.m. breakfast. Two other Easter services will be held at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the church which is at 200 East Main Street.

The Senior High School Youth will be in charge of the 7 a.m. sunrise service at the First United Methodist Church, 777 West Eight Mile. A breakfast will be served at the church at 7:30 a.m. All are welcome for the breakfast and reservations are not necessary.

Easter services have also been scheduled at 9:30 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. when Reverend Branstner's topic will be "Truth for Supper."

The Good Friday service at the First Baptist Church of Northville will be at 7:30 p.m. and the Lord's Supper will be observed. There will be congregational singing and special music by the choir. The Reverend Cedric Whitcomb will speak.

Easter Sunday observances will be at regular times with Bible School at 9:45 a.m., the morning service at 11 a.m. and a 7:30 p.m. service. Mr. Whitcomb will preach an Easter message at both church services. The church is located at 217 North Wing.

The Reverend Philip Seymour will speak about "The Joys of Easter Freedom" at the Novi United Methodist Church in Easter morning services at 9:30 and 11. Novi United Methodist is at 41671 West Ten Mile Road.

According to The Reverend Jim Liefeld of Living Lord Lutheran Church, 40700 Ten Mile Road, a Tenebrae service is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Good Friday.

There will be a 7:30 a.m.

celebration of the resurrection at Living Lord on Easter Sunday and an Easter breakfast will follow for everyone involved in the celebration.

The Church of the Holy Cross Episcopal at 46200 Ten Mile Road will hold a meditation on the cross at noon on Good Friday.

At 7 p.m. on Saturday, the vigil of Easter eve will begin and the lighting of the Paschal candle will take place.

The Reverend Leslie

Harding of Holy Cross has planned Easter Sunday services at 7:30 a.m. and 11:15 a.m., both with Holy Eucharist.

At St. William's Church in Walled Lake, Good Friday will be observed in a 1 p.m. service and there will be an Easter Vigil service beginning at 8 p.m. on Saturday, April 21.

Birth to Death

This Easter cross in the sanctuary of St. Paul's Lutheran Church has symbolized for the congregation Christ's life from birth to crucifixion to resurrection. It began as the church Christmas tree holding Chrismon ornaments. Later, the branches were stripped off and it was draped in purple during Lent. For Easter Sunday it will be adorned with lilies and palms.

Mobile Homes Plan Remains Unchanged

There appears to be little likelihood that a change in the density of the proposed mobile homes park near Seven Mile and Northville roads will occur when the site plan is considered at a public hearing on May 10.

Stuart Oldford, spokesman for the corporation proposing the development in the township just outside the city limits of Northville, told The Record Tuesday his firm very likely will maintain the density as disclosed earlier to Northville Township planners.

The proposal calls for 209 units on 26 acres— or a minimum of 4,000 square feet per mobile home, as permitted under present township zoning.

Township Engineer William Mosure had suggested the size of the lots be increased to 6,000 square feet, thus cutting down the number of mobile homes

(By comparison, the minimum lot— 4,000 square feet— is larger than the minimum lot in Country Homes Estate mobile homes park on Eight Mile Road east of Pontiac Trail, The Record learned).

No rezoning of the land is needed, planners have noted, because the 26 acres currently carry an industrial classification which, in the township, permits mobile homes development.

Oldford said Mosure's suggestion had been given consideration, but after checking with 10 or 12 other mobile homes developments in this general area it was determined that increasing the lot sizes "would put us in a very unfavorable economic position. It would force us to raise our rental costs, and therefore place us in a position of no longer being competitive."

Cost of the proposed development, Oldford said, will range from $850,000 to $1 million.

He emphasized that no lot will be less than 4,000 square feet "and a good share of them approach the 6,000 figure right now."

Asked if he might reconsider multiple-apartment type units instead, Oldford noted that "our original request was for multiples and they turned us down." Furthermore, he said the current thinking of township planners opposes more multiples.

At the original public hearing in which planners held out for industrial zoning, "we said we would seek industry and do whatever we

GOP Backs Unification

Stating that "there is no better time to unify local government", The Greater Northville Republican Club issued a statement this week endorsing the unification of the governments of the city and township of Northville.

The position statement by the local political organization was issued by Edward Hodge, GOP club president and a resident of the township. He said the decision to take a stand in the annexation question that goes to voters in both the city and township on May 7 was made at an April 12 meeting of the city.

"We recognize that the annexation question is a nonpartisan matter and one that must be dealt with on that basis," said Hodge.

"Everyone at the meeting spoke favorably for annexation. There appears to be a growing understanding of, and support for, unification. We found that there have been two basic questions in the minds of many people in the greater Northville area. One: will a single government be responsive to the interests and needs of the people in the community? and two: what will be the cost?"

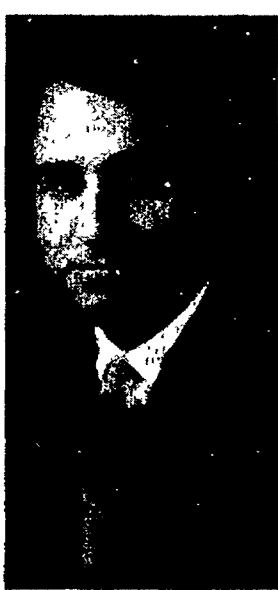

Hodge's written statement continued. "It is my belief that both governments have been responsive to the interests of people and have encouraged balanced growth in the community while retaining the rural small town nature of the area. Secondly, both governments have made conscientious efforts to promote needed services within their ability to do so with the funds available.

"There is no reason to believe that a single government would be less responsive to community needs and there are several reasons why a single government could be more responsive. Some of these reasons are: a single planning approach for needs, elimination of duplicate services and facilities, a unified approach to State and Federal agencies, etc.

"The unification of the government of the community is needed and needed now. Consistent with the desire for responsive government, the people of the community in

'Square' to Open Next October

With exterior brick work well underway, owners of the new downtown Northville shopping center are more confident than ever that the facility will be ready for an October 1 opening.

The 90,000 square foot retail complex, located at Wing and Main streets is 50-percent complete.

Called Northville Square, the center stretches from Main to Cady streets, with entrances off Main, Wing and Cady.

Purchase of the Folino insurance building on Main Street has been announced, and this building is to be removed by no later than July to provide a service drive to a loading-unloading area for the second floor of the split-level building.

A similar service drive will be located on the opposite side of the building, off of Cady, for the lower level.

More than 50-percent of the floor space of the center has been leased, representing nearly half of the approximate 30 retail shops to be located in the building.

None of the leases are for less than five years, some for 10 years.

Typical of the retail shops already signed up, spokesmen disclosed, include:

Harvi's Suburban Casuals (women's wear), Max Green's Men's Wear, Perko's Family Shoes, Pant Hut, Jack LeGoff's Book Mark (LeGoff is the TV newscaster), Kulla's Korner Boutique (women's wear), Universal International Travel Agency, Detroit Vital Foods (Health Foods), Land of Hi-Fi and Jazz (TV, stereos) and Elias Brothers' Family Restaurant.

Entrances to all Northville Square shops will be from inside the building, off center malls on both levels. Most shops will, however, have show windows along the interior walls of the building.

Persons entering the center from Main Street may use a stairway to the lower level or walk two-thirds of the way

Much of the interior of the newly opened Drawbridge Restaurant retains the attractive woodwork of the church building

In Our Town

By JEANDAY

THE DRAWBRIDGE officially opened at 145 North Center Street last Thursday. By the time the heavy double doors had swung shut on the last customer Sunday night more than 1,250 dinners had been served in the new restaurant that was the United Methodist Church of Northville until last year.

"It was super," declared Leopold Schaeli, a native of Switzerland and former chief mechanic at Jim's Garage (the downtown Detroit restaurant filled with automotive memorabilia), who is executive chef and manager of the Drawbridge.

He went on to praise the efforts of his staff of 60. They had worked a "miracle," he said, in serving capacity opening crowds. After being closed Monday (as it will be every week), the restaurant opened Tuesday morning with Schaeli working with the staff as there still is "a little sand in the machine" to be removed to smooth the service.

Before the restaurant opened to the public last week, many city officials and community leaders had been guests at preview dinners. Friends of Schaeli also came out from Detroit. Now, he reports with obvious delight, they're making reservations to come again.

He's concerned now that success may bring its own problems. "I would rather build up gradually with two-to three-hundred satisfied customers than have too many to handle at first." He stresses that he, his assistant chef, John Vanderwouwe, a native of Holland, and the staff want to offer fine dining at moderate prices.

Reservations are strongly advised for dinners, served Tuesday through Friday from 5:30 to 10 p.m., to 11 p.m. Saturday, and from 2 to 8 p.m. Sunday. They aren't needed, however, for lunches from 11:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday.

WHILE THE BASIC church structure with its magnificent hand-carved interior woodwork and stained windows has been preserved, designers and decorators have achieved an effective transformation. A diner entering through the massive arched doorway feels much more that he is in an Old World castle or fortress. An armored knight-figure stands guard behind the reservation stand—which Methodists will be the first to recognize as the former lectern.

To the left is the Great Hall where lunches are served. It also is available for private parties for 75 to 100 guests. This is the former fellowship hall of the church. Dinners are served in the former sanctuary, which now seats about 160. In the balcony, called "The Keep", is the long, U-shaped bar.

Red carpet is used throughout. The color is echoed with red lights on each table in the main dining area. The white, rough-plaster walls keep the background unobtrusive, letting the full emphasis fall on the brilliant stained glass windows. They are illuminated at night to create the sunlight effect of day. Three huge chandeliers in the shape of medieval crowns light the dining rooms and the balcony.

A tapestry in the entry and a few other pictures and decorations have been used. The overall effect, however, is uncluttered, keeping the focus on the wood carving that extends to the vaulted ceilings and on the long windows.

Among special preview guests last Wednesday were 13 couples from the United Methodist congregation. Mrs. Walter Stamann, church secretary, and her husband were in the group and expressed approval of the transformation. Jeanette Stamann also was enthusiastic about the fare, reporting that they enjoyed it very much.

CONTINENTAL MENUS offer a good variety. Actually, there are four menus—luncheon, dinner, wine and dessert. The wine menu presents offerings from California and New York vineyards as well as from France and Italy. It is topped with Mumm's extra dry champagne from France and includes more modest suggestions. An ordering guide and descriptions aid in making selections.

While the headings are in French on the dinner menu, most listings are in English. Both "chaud" (hot) and "froid" (cold) hors d'oeuvres are offered, including fruit medley and jumbo Louisiana shrimp cocktail ($1.95). Melon wedge with lime slice is $1.25. "Les Potages" section offers soup-of-the-day from the kettle, onion or turtle soup—all under $1.

"LES ENTREES"—the crux of the menu—offer roast prime rib of beef ($6.50), French cut lamb chops ($6.75) as well as Chateaubriand Bouquetiere with Sauce Bearnaise, carved at the table for two or more, for $16.95. Also tempting for two or more is Carre of Lamb Persillée.

There's a variety of seafood, or "Les Fruits de Mer." It includes red snapper, Wisconsin frog legs (both $6.50), imported Dover sole almondine and Scampi en Brochette Drawbridge ($5.95). Entrees include in the price fresh baked bread and butter, tossed green salad with choice of dressing and potatoes—shoestring, baked with sour cream or Risotto.

The dessert menu includes apple pie—or diners may choose from the French pastry tray at the table.

The lunch menu features a Drawbridge club special three-deck sandwich at $1.75, Virginia baked ham and cheese, $1.50 or Kosher corned beef on dark breads at the same price. A luncheon fruit salad is $2.25 and a salad bowl is $2.35.

DINERS WHO cross the moat (yes, water flows under the drawbridge at the Center Street entrance) will be welcomed by Schaeli, serving as maitre d' and manager, or by his wife, Margie, also Swiss-born.

Inside there should be several familiar faces as, Schaeli notes, almost half of the 60 employees are local. "They're enthusiastic...experience is all that is missing."

The voice that takes telephone reservations is either that of Pat Nichols, who also is bookkeeper, or of Judy Rinaldi, both of Northville.

Outside, daytime visitors this week also might be welcomed by "Scotty", Joe Freckleton, the stonemason who created the fortress walls and was putting finishing details in place. He has an interest in the enterprise in which Paul Fregolle is main owner.

ONE TRADITION that promises to continue in the building that dates from 1885 is good food. Women of the Women's Society for Christian Service worked in the Methodist church kitchen for many years and established a local reputation for fine food. This is a heritage the Drawbridge restaurant intends to preserve. After all, the "collection" depends on it.

OFFICIAL DUTY—One of the first official duties of the new Northville Town Hall Chairman Mrs. William Miron, at left, and Town Hall Vice-Chairman Mrs. J. Thomas Handy was to greet the "amazing" Kreskin who was at Town Hall last Thursday to close the 1972-73 season.

Lecture Closes Season

Kreskin 'Amazes' Town Hall

By MARTHA ROEMER
Who is the "amazing" Kreskin?
What makes him so amazing?

Those are just two of the many questions which Northville Town Hall patrons had answered last Thursday as the 1972-73 Town Hall season came to a close.

Kreskin is a mentalist. He can tell individuals what they are thinking. In fact, that's how he makes his living. "Thought reading," he said "is my life."

Kreskin is noted to be one of the foremost practitioners of extrasensory perception (ESP).

"By the way that most people define ESP, it is implied that we can go beyond our senses. I don't believe that. I am not a psychic. I believe that ESP is inherent in all of us and I have worked very hard to develop this gift that I have. Discovering that gift," he added, "was the turning point in my life."

Although this was his first visit to Northville, Kreskin was no stranger to most of the audience. Most had seen him in at least one of his 37 appearances on Merv Griffin's television show, his 29 Tonight Show appearances, his 70 Mike Douglas Shows (more than any other guest) or his own syndicated television program.

While he is on stage, Kreskin comes across as a man with tremendous energy, moving around all the time. "I prepare for a performance by walking about two miles beforehand and I eat five meals a day. I haven't gained a pound in 18 years," he explained.

Asking every member of the audience to jot down on paper a thought or a name or a number, Kreskin said, "I never like to do a concert where the whole audience is not involved. I need the help of each one of you. It will now be my problem to find out what your thoughts are."

"Later on in the lecture he actually did tell people what they were thinking as he wrote down names and numbers of the things they had on their minds."

To the gasps and ohs and ahs of the audience, Kreskin slipped off his horn-rimmed glasses, smiled broadly and said, "Don't be too amazed, folks. I do this for a living." He did imply that there can be drawbacks to having keenly developed ESP. "I am actually banned from playing blackjack in Las Vegas. I once played for 18 solid hours and ended up with six times the money I started with."

To illustrate his use of ESP with cards, he asked two women from the audience to take a handful of cards. He then proceeded to tell each one of them which cards they were holding.

He looked up and flashed that same broad smile and said, "Would anyone care to play a card game or two? I just love pinocle."

Kreskin, who is in his early thirties, said he is the first to admit that there are many skeptics where he is concerned.

"One man wrote an eight-page article about me once, explaining how I plant stooges in the audience before a show and we have established what I will tell them how they are thinking."

"He said I could tell what people had written on paper because I had holes drilled in the ceiling and girls looking down with binoculars and telling me what was on the paper via a transmitter in my glasses. By the way, the only reason I wear glasses is for sight," he added.

His powers, however, are not limited to ESP. He also showed an example of slight-of-hand. Taking the ring of a member of the audience, he made it disappear from between his thumb and finger to a key ring in his pocket. "I will carry the working mechanism of that to my grave," he said.

As the final mental reading demonstration, Kreskin chose four people in the audience to hide his paycheck for his Town Hall appearance. "If I don't find it, the performance will be for free. I will not accept the check. Five years of my life have gone into the perfection of this test."

He was escorted out of the auditorium and came back after the check was hidden. He found it hidden in the suit coat of a gentleman in the audience within five minutes after his return.

That trick, he said, is done at each concert and added he has found his wages in some rather strange places.

"At Northwestern I found it under a gentleman's upper plate and at the Waldorf Hotel it was stuffed inside a turkey on the banquet table."

Tickets Available Now For OLV Benefit Dance

The Holiday Inn of Farmington will be the site of the sixth annual Our Lady of Victory Dinner Dance sponsored by Our Lady's League on Tuesday, May 1. The evening will begin at 7 p.m. A buffet dinner will be served from 8 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Dancing to the music of the Musicales will follow from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Tickets are $10 a person and $20 per couple. Reservations must be made in advance. There will be no ticket sales at the door.

All of the proceeds from this annual fund raising event go into a general fund and are used by Our Lady's League for special projects to benefit all parishioners at Our Lady of Victory.

In the past, the monies have been used for financial aid for students in the parish, who need special education, a piano for the church social hall, a copying machine and many other items for the use and enjoyment of the parish.

"The move to the Holiday Inn means that those attending the dance will have more room for dancing and that we will be able to accommodate more people," explained co-chairman Mrs. Frank Korte.

Individuals wishing to purchase tickets should contact one of the chairmen. Mrs. Korte can be reached at 349-2032 and Mrs. Norman Faustyn at 349-9962.

School Eyes $13.5 Million Bond Issue

BUT THE ROAD IS OVER THERE—Residents along Willowbrook Drive remain perplexed, and a little angry, about the location of the bridge over Ingersol Creek. That's no optical illusion you're seeing in the picture above, the placement of the bridge really doesn't coincide with the route of the road. City engineers Johnson and Anderson reported that a sewer line forced relocation of the bridge from the initial plans.

Renewal, 2½ Mills Go on June Ballot

A $13.5 million bond issue for construction of new schools, together with proposals for renewing 7 mills and for 2½ additional mills for general operation, are headed for the June 11 ballot in the annual Novi school district election.

In separate but unanimous, 7-0 votes Tuesday, the board of education took action setting the proposals into motion.

Also, the board approved submitting a preliminary 1973-74 budget for $2,564,000 to the Oakland County Allocation Board—an annual procedure to secure the school's share of the 15 county allocated mills.

Most significant of the board's actions was the one calling for the largest bond issue in the district's history. Specifically, the board authorized application to the Michigan Department of Education for preliminary qualification of the necessary bonds.

Board action followed on the heels of a report of the 35-member citizens Needs Assessment Committee, which recommended the following:

1. Construct a new senior high school for 1200 students.
2. Construct two new elementary schools.
3. Build an equivalent of four rooms at Village Oaks Elementary School.
4. Renovate and convert the present high school to a second middle school.
5. Purchase additional sites to accommodate necessary building needs through 1983.
6. Submit a bonding proposal in the amount of $13,250,000 to the electorate on Monday, June 11.

(The latter figure was subsequently enlarged to $13.5 million by the board to better cover cost of renovating the present high school.)

Recommendations of the Needs Assessment Committee, which drew board praise for its in-depth investigations since January, was formally presented to the board in a letter read Monday by the committee chairman, Richard Bingham.

"We realize the responsibility in presenting these recommendations to you (board)," said Bingham. "However, we are convinced that the need is tremendous and if properly presented to the electorate, they will overwhelmingly support all proposals."

"We also realize the tremendous responsibility that you as board members bear in receiving this recommendation and in making a decision regarding it. To this end we urge you to act tonight in order to start in motion the necessary legal steps in getting Department of Education approval, bonding resolutions, election notices, etc."

"We are aware that you have received all of the information and reports that we have completed. Also, that one or more of the board members have attended all our meetings and therefore, have spent as much or more time on this as we have."

Novi School Board meets next week Wednesday, instead of Tuesday.

Approval of bond qualification by the state is necessary within 10 days, explained Assistant Superintendent William Barr in order for the proposal to be placed on the June 11 ballot.

He explained that the $13.5 million proposal represents approximately a 1.2 mill increase in bonding taxes since the district will be participating in the School Bond Loan Fund which permits school districts to keep millage increases to a minimum by stretching out the life-time of the issue.

In the past the School Bond Fund has been described as a time-payment plan, much the same as a consumer might buy a new house and stretch his payments over the longest possible period in order to keep his monthly bills to a minimum.

Presently, the district levies 7 mills for debt retirement.

The School Bond Fund will permit the district to borrow and repay 90-percent of the $13.5 million within the 7 mill levy. The remaining 10-percent must be made up by the additional 1.2 mills, said Dr. Barr.

In other words, instead of 7 mills for debt retirement, the proposed new construction program will necessitate a levy of 8.2 mills.

In emphasizing the urgency for preparing for the district's ballooning population, Dr. Barr said it is estimated that by 1977-78 the school

For Municipal Complex

Authority Selects Site

Novi's Building Authority has arrived at a decision on a tentative location and is ready to proceed with plans to construct a municipal complex for the City of Novi.

Proposed site of the envisioned multi-building facility is on a 160-acre lot on the southeast corner of Taft and Nine Mile Roads, Building Authority Chairman William Duey informed the council Monday.

No options have been taken on the property as of yet, Duey reported, but negotiations are currently underway with the owners of the tract.

Duey did not appear before the council to inform it of the Building Authority's decision, however. Purpose of his visit was to seek help with a snag in financing that is currently blocking efforts to proceed with plans.

"We've run into some serious legal difficulties," Duey reported. "We've got a site and we've got some plans and a lot of good ideas, but until the legal questions are resolved, our hands are tied. We can't proceed any further."

The problems of the Novi Building Authority in attaining financing can be traced directly to the Pontiac Stadium case in which the right of a building authority to issue bonds without a vote of the people was challenged on legal grounds and ruled unconstitutional by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Prior to that ruling, building authorities had been able to issue and sell bonds without first getting voter approval.

Currently there is a bill which would define the rights and powers of a building authority pending before the state legislature.

City Attorney David Fried told the council Monday that he had been advised by the city's bonding attorney that it would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to sell any bonds issued by a building authority at this time.

"As a result," said Fried, "I have advised the Building Authority to hold off on any plans it might have for its own financing until the rights of the building authority to bond have been clarified by the pending legislation."

Estimations as to when the legislation will be enacted range from a couple of weeks to next November.

Eager to proceed with the municipal complex and apparently unable to provide their own financing, the Building Authority turned to the council.

Specifically, Duey asked that the council place a proposal requesting one additional mill of taxes earmarked specifically for a municipal complex before the voters in the November election.

"If we are going to proceed with plans to build a municipal complex we're going to have to have the support of the community," said Duey. "If we can't get one mill, we might just as well close up shop."

"We realize one mill isn't

Council Split on Negotiator

Dissension Mars Talks

An Analysis

One of the first - and most important - jobs facing new Novi City Manager Harold Saunders will be negotiating a contract with the police department.

Already, the police budget comprises well over 50 percent of the city's general operating expenses.

And with the promise of wage increases and added benefits imminent; and with the burgeoning growth of the community creating a demand for more and more officers, the contract now being negotiated will have a crucial bearing on not only the 1973-74 budget, but all future budgets.

Ultimately, it is conceivable that the additional demands could force the city into consideration of a tax increase.

The city's position in the bargaining talks seemed to take a turn for the worse Monday, as it became obvious that there is a deep division among the council regarding the make-up of the bargaining team.

Representing the city in the talks are Saunders,

Councilman Denis Berry, and former City Manager George Athas. It is the presence of Athas on the team which appears to be the source of division.

In a tense power struggle played out at the end of Monday's council session, Berry resigned as chief negotiator only to change his mind at the insistence of Mayor Joseph Crupi, and Councilman Edwin Presnell calmly walked out of the meeting as Crupi requested the council's permission to allow him to appoint Athas to the team.

Berry was unanimously named by the council three weeks ago to head the city's bargaining team. Saunders, as City Manager, was also named to the team.

The point of dissension arose in regard to appointment of a third member. Pressed for time, the council gave Berry the authority to seek out a third negotiator for the opening talks and then return to it for approval of his selection.

Berry secured the services of Athas. Apparently, selection of the former City Manager did not meet with the approval of two councilmen - specifically Louie Campbell and Presnell.

At the council's April 9 meeting, Campbell asked Mayor Crupi if he could suggest an alternate candidate for the third negotiating spot.

In the ensuing discussion Presnell pointed out that Athas is an inactive member of the police reserve. When it was pointed out that Presnell, Berry, and Councilman Donald Young are also reserve police officers, it was indicated that Athas, though officially inactive, has deep ties in the police department. The obvious implication is that Athas will not be "hard" enough in negotiations.

At the Monday's council meeting, Campbell entered the name of Robert Daley as an alternate choice to Berry's selection of Athas. "Daley," reported Campbell, "has worked 12 years as a labor attorney for the Bendix Corporation."

At this point Berry resigned as chief negotiator saying, "If my judgment isn't good enough that the council refuses to accept my recommendation as to who I want on the negotiating team with me, then my judgment isn't good enough to negotiate this contract. Therefore I resign effective right now."

"It's obvious that this council is divided on who should negotiate this contract," he continued. "As a result we've lost some important initiative. I feel I'm qualified since I do this type of thing everyday professionally, but if I don't have the council's support, I

K & B Faces Work Stop

It didn't take Novi's new City Manager Harold Saunders long to become involved in a potentially sticky issue with developer Kaufman and Broad.

Monday marked the new city manager's first official session with the Novi city council and the first item on the agenda, following an opening of bids for road grader tires, ultimately involved Kaufman and Broad, the giant developer which has been embroiled in more than its share of difficulties with the city administration in the past.

Before the discussion had ended, Saunders asked City Attorney David Fried if it might not be necessary to issue a stop order on K&B's San Simeon development on 14 Mile Road.

Replied Fried: "If it's being built contrary to the site plan they presented to the city, then we should stop it."

After the meeting Saunders further clarified his remarks. "As of right now we have no evidence that Kaufman and Broad has violated any site plan," commented Saunders. "The council is aware of a set of circumstances which once investigated might reveal a major variance from what K&B originally submitted to the city. We will check their plans to see if there is indeed any violation and if there is we will take steps to stop construction until the matter has been satisfactorily resolved."

Saunders went on to say that if it is determined that a violation has indeed taken place, the city will probably follow a policy of denying further building permits on the project rather than shut down the work presently in progress.

The problem stems from the fact that K&B has sold to the Realtek Corporation a portion of the property for which it had received site plan approval for the San Simeon development. Originally, San Simeon was to be a five-part condominium development. Two of those five parts have now been sold to Realtek.

The matter came to the attention of the members of the council Monday when Realtek representative Donald Horace appeared before them to request site plan approval for a proposed

Five Candidates Vie For Council Vacancy

Five candidates have been nominated to fill the vacancy on the Novi city council created by the resignation of Ray Evans three weeks ago.

Names of the five nominees are William Brinker, Miss Barbara Clement, Robert Daley, Todd Price, and Mrs. Romaine Roethel.

Brinker and Daley currently hold positions on municipal boards. Brinker is chairman of the Board of Review, while Daley chairs the Board of Appeals.

The council will begin interviewing the candidates Saturday and a decision on who will be named to fill the vacancy is expected soon, possibly at Monday's regularly scheduled council session.

Although Evans' was elected to a four year term in 1971 and his term does not expire until 1975, the person named to fill the vacancy will serve only until the next city election (November of this year), according to the terms of the city charter.

Thus in November Novi voters will be filling four council seats: three four-year terms and one two-year terms.

'Study Women's Lib Before You Join'

By MARTHA ROEMER
"Rights cannot be given, they can only be taken away," Mrs. Lorraine Beebe told the group of about 100 women who attended a conference on the emerging role of women. Held at Schoolcraft College Saturday, the conference was entitled "You've Only Just Begun."

What women are working for, she said, is for a right to have the ability to do the things to which they aspire. She did, however, warn the women that they must be cautious before getting involved in a women's liberation movement of any kind.

"It is essential that we evaluate the women's movement and its meaning. Define your own role and move from that to the implementation of new roles," she said.

She talked about the history of women in America to show what is involved in the change of a woman from a stereotype housewife to anything she wants to be.

For the most part, throughout history, she said, "women die on their wedding day."

Husbands used to represent them at the polls. A husband owned a woman in every way and if she left him, he had all of his rights and she had none, even where her children were concerned, said Mrs. Beebe. "Some cities in this country, she added, did not even bother to record the births and deaths of women."

"In America," she said, "we teach children to believe that they can be anything they want to be. We go ahead and build a foundation for girls which cannot be continued."

The holder of a bachelor degree in education and a master's in clinical psychology, Mrs. Beebe has worked as a high school counselor.

"I tried to get girls to use their potential and share what they had by going into pre-law and they started to do so. For the first year, everything went well. They were out to meet a great challenge. The second year, though, it dropped off. They were changed by people saying to them, 'Honey, this is not your area, the competition is not for you, you are supposed to be a wife and mother.'"

Mrs. Beebe added that the most prestigious jobs and best paying jobs are supposed to be for men only, and she called that attitude sexism.

"This is implying that only women should do housework and that is all they should do. You should see my house," she quipped.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER—Mrs. Lorraine Beebe, at right, was the main speaker at Schoolcraft College's conference on women's roles. Two Northville women who attended the conference, Mrs. J. C. Willis, center, and her daughter, Lisa met with Mrs. Beebe, a former state senator, who is now the chairperson of the Michigan Women's Commission and the director of the Michigan Consumer Council. Other women from Northville who attended the conference included Mrs. E. O. Weber, Mrs. Jean Stearns, Margaret Taylor and Noreen Swanson.

Novi Sets Contest On Sticker Design

The Novi Drug Abuse Speaker's Bureau is looking for a bumper sticker design and slogan to promote the organization's anti-drug campaign and it is sponsoring an art contest to find one.

Children ages five through 18 may enter the competition. There will be three age categories and a $25 savings bond will be awarded to the winner in each of them. There will be one bond for children five through nine years of age, another for 10 to 14 year-olds and the third for those 15 through 18 years.

One of the three winners will be selected as the overall winner and, aside from the bond, her or his design and slogan will be used for a bumper sticker to be sold in the Novi area.

Entries should be done on paper or poster board measuring 12 inches by 48 inches. The colors are limited to black and white and one optional third color. The slogan should be six words or less.

All entries should be labeled with the entrant's name, address, age and telephone number. They should be taken to the Detective Bureau of the Novi Police Department on Novi Road before May 28.

Judging will take place on May 30 and all entries will be displayed in area stores.

Local Jaycees Start VD Education Drive

An awareness project concerning the problem of venereal disease has been adopted by the Northville Jaycees. Called "Get V.D.", the idea of the Jaycees is to educate junior high and high school age young people in the Northville community about the facts of venereal diseases. The Jaycees have announced there will be a film presentation and a speaker in both the high school and middle school sometime this month to introduce the students to the problem. According to a Jaycee spokesman, Michigan teenagers are involved in 67 percent of the venereal disease cases in the state. In 1971, there were 27,059 cases of venereal disease in Michigan which is more than all other communicable diseases combined. It is the hope of the Jaycees that, by educating the young people in the community, the threat of the number of cases growing might be curtailed.

The malls on both levels will be fully carpeted, providing rest seats for patrons and changing centerpieces such as artwork, antiques, community displays, etc.

"We hope to be able to use the malls for special community-oriented events," a spokesman explained. "For example, on the Fourth of July we may wish to co-sponsor a watermelon eating contest, or we may wish to feature some antiques in conjunction with a community project."

Northville Square is designed "to preserve the intimate surroundings and personal attention of small, local owned businesses. Here shoppers will find the comfort and conveniences of attractive, covered malls and the personality of individual shops, all located in the heart of town.

"Northville Square, in other words, will offer the best of two worlds: small town shopping and shopping center comfort, convenience and choice of merchandise."

Wide walks of concrete and pattern brick, highlighted with planters, will be located along Main and Wing streets, from curb to the building.

going to build a municipal complex tomorrow," he continued. "But it will give us the seed money to get the thing started and over the years it will do the job."

City Manager Harold Saunders proposed an alternate suggestion. Instead of asking for a one mill increase in November, the voters should be asked to approve a general obligation bond issue. If the voters approve the bond issue it becomes a part of the general obligation of the city and whatever additional millage is necessary to meet that obligation can be levied.

"In agreeing to a general obligation bond issue," said Saunders, "the property owners are agreeing to tax themselves for a designated period of time for a designated number of dollars."

No specific action was taken by the council Monday. Duey requested and received a general vote of assurance that the council is firmly behind the complex. He was further directed to proceed with negotiations to obtain an option on the property.

What direction financing arrangements for the facility will take is, at this point, completely up in the air. It is conceivable that the state legislature may restore sufficient powers to the building authority so that they may bond without voter approval.

It is just as conceivable that the financing will have to come through the city, and Nov. voters will be asked to approve funds for the municipal complex by one means or another in the November election.

certainly don't need the headaches."

Crupi asked Berry to reconsider his resignation several times, but Berry refused. Finally Crupi said he refused to accept the resignation and asked if the council objected to him assuming the prerogative of appointing the third bargainer.

Young and Berry gave their concurrence, but Presnell walked out before giving an answer. When Crupi asked Campbell for his concurrence, Campbell said, "You've got the votes you need (to appoint Athas)."

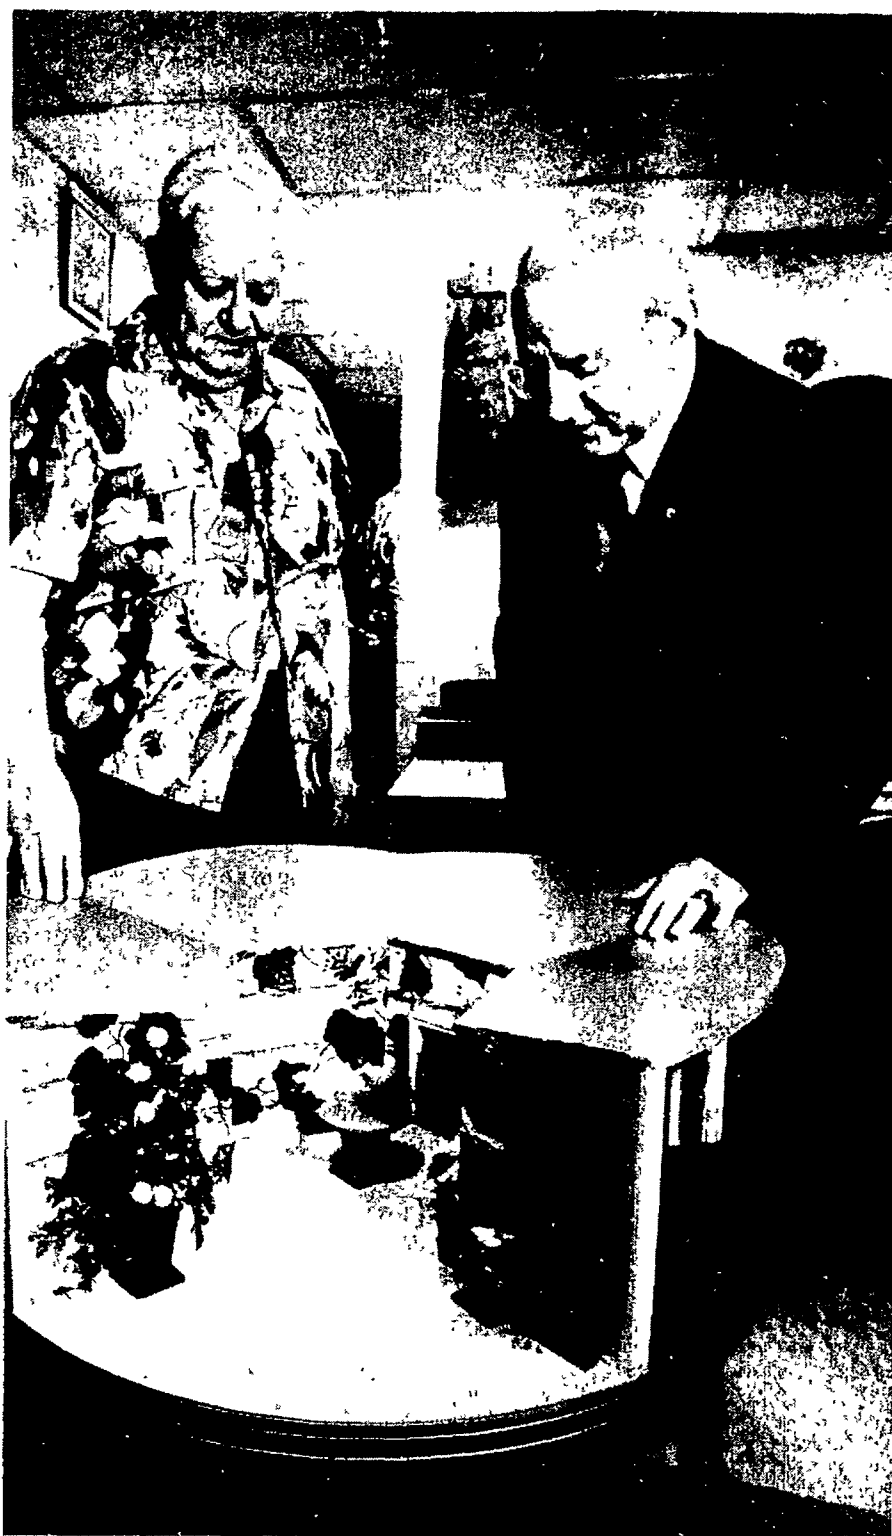

Crupi then named Athas to the negotiating team.

It's obvious that the split is deep.

Following the appointment of Athas, Berry said: "I'm not going to battle my brains out with the police department knowing full well that whatever we negotiate is going to be ripped apart by the rest of the council (Campbell and Berry)."

Young suggested that if Berry feels he does not have the full support of the council, it behooved him as chief negotiator to do "a little fence mending."

"No way," replied Berry.

PRIZE DOLL HOUSE—Thanks to the skill and donation of Charles Boren (left) of King's Mill, the Northville Civitan Club is the recipient of this round doll house, which is to be given away to some lucky child in Northville. According to Louis Hopping (above), member of the club, the doll house will be displayed soon at the Manufacturers National Bank where nominations of children will be received. Donations raised through the project will be used by the club for its youth work. Boren, following a heart attack, spent his spare time building the doll house, which, according to some, has a value in excess of $500. The open portion seen in the picture is a patio. Adjacent rooms of the house are fully carpeted. In lieu of donations, the club will accept appropriate furniture for the house, Hopping said.

SPEAKING

for The Record

- BILL GAIL

Less than three weeks remain until qualified electors in the city and township of Northville decide the future destiny of our community.

On May 7 in separate elections conducted in the city and township citizens will be asked to vote either YES or NO on the question of whether or not the township should be annexed to the city and thus unify the existing two governments into one.

As all interested citizens know by this time, the proposal must be approved in both the city and township to accomplish unification. A majority of NO votes in either the city or township means that the individual governments continue to function as they are now.

In reality, however, the latter is impossible. While many of us cling to the "status quo" in an effort to lend harmony and stability to our lives, we are forced to accept change.

And "change" is rapidly becoming the constant in Northville township. It cannot retain the status quo and meet the challenge of growth.

So to the township voter the choice at the polls on May 7 becomes: "how can we meet the demands of change, most effectively and economically, and with a minimum of departure from the status quo?"

The city voter is not immune to change, either. While most of the population growth will take place in the township, problems associated with growth do not recognize artificial boundary lines.

The outstanding work being performed by the city's probation department, for example, is not in behalf of "city residents only". While the agency may be solely financed by the city, it provides guidance and help on the basis of need, not address.

This agency is but one example of the many challenges facing all communities as they experience growth and its associated problems.

And the question remains, can such services be provided better and more economically on a dual basis? Can we in the township meet the challenge by establishing new agencies in each area of need as they arise?

I do not think so. And experience teaches us that this is not so.

And when I hear criticism levelled at those who advocate unification on the basis that they are "VIP's", I ask myself, who is better qualified to give an opinion on a subject than a VIP?

For I would define a VIP as a "very involved" and a "very interested" person...one who has a record of participation and therefore a knowledge of the subject.

I'm impressed by the support given to unification of the city and township by the following:

Leonard Klein, a township trustee and a former chairman of the township planning commission;

John Canterbury, a former, longtime city councilman and a student of local government;

Gunnar Stromberg, an ex-township supervisor and former chairman of the planning commission;

Richard Ambler, a former city councilman, a township resident, a school board member, a lifelong resident of the community of Northville;

John MacDonald, an attorney involved in municipalities and school districts and a trustee on the township board;

Lawrence Wright, a retired successful businessman now serving as supervisor of the township;

Bernard Baldwin, former chairman and now member of the township planning commission;

Joseph Straub, a former township board trustee now serving his second term as treasurer;

James Nowka, chairman of the township planning commission;

E.G.O'Brien, a township resident and former councilman in the village of Wayne where he witnessed three attempts at unification of an area that eventually divided into the cities of Wayne and Westland;

Dennis Dildy, probation department director and president of the Northville Jaycees;

Mayor A.M. Allen and the entire city council;

School Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson along with four other members of the seven-member board of education;

The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Northville Republican Club;

The Northville League of Women Voters.

The list of organizations and individuals is longer, but the single identifying characteristic of all of the advocates of unification is that they are VIP's...Very Involved People in the community of Northville.

I view their advice the same as I would that of a medical doctor on the state of my health.

That they are learned in their knowledge of the subject and may be viewed as "VIP's" does not lessen my regard for their opinion or make me suspect of their motives.

Speaking for Myself

Rock 'n Roll Too Loud?

ART PENHALLOW

YES . . .

When I got a telephone call from the Brighton Argus, I had to turn down my son's rock and roll records to hear what the caller had to say.

"Do you think merboemfmmmmflweek?" was the question.

"What?" I asked.

"Do you think qoafma.fjdooommmddldl;jaberwooy?" again.

"Wait until I take off my ear muffs," I replied.

It turned out he wanted to know if I think rock and roll is too loud. It also turned out to be Rolly Peterson.

With practically no hesitation, I quickly ran the question through my computerized mind, and came up with an answer; that one who is a student of nature might predict: "Yes."

And I speak from experience. I have a son who has a rock and roll band. When the musicians practice at our house, I complain. Then, the neighbors complain. And then -- so far we have been lucky: the police haven't complained.

It seems, first one musician turns his amplifier up because he can't hear himself. So then another has to do the same thing and before long it turns into a game of "King of the Mountain" while the family goes deaf.

I've tried to stay away from where they are playing although as a loyal father, I should grit my teeth and bear up under it.

Because of this reluctance to endure too many rock and roll bands, I can't speak as a true expert and researcher but from a limited sampling, I must conclude that rock and roll is too loud in many cases.

Bill Gail

Ex-Band Leader

NO . . .

Is rock music too loud? As an unqualified non-practitioner of medicine and as a qualified practitioner of music I can only say yes and no! Yes, if you were to stand directly in front of the Rolling Stones' P.A. system or directly in front of four 200-watt amplifiers blasting Peter Townshend guitar licks at full volume--and unless you're an absolute fool or totally out of control, I'm apt to believe most folks wouldn't do either of those things, unless of course, you were accosted by some malevolent being and forced to suffer irreparable audio damage against your will.

The field of rock music has become so fractionalized and competitive that if you're good, you don't have to play loud--or at least not too loud. Rock music is an emotional stimulant with far-ranging effects none the worse for wear.

The loudness should not be the issue, in fact there shouldn't be any issues at all connected with any kind of music other than that of quality--and most of what's heard on today's airwaves is quite obviously (to me at least) a quality product to those who enjoy it.

Is rock music too loud? The question should read "Is good rock music too loud?" And the answer to that question is...ABSOLUTELY NOT--Good rock music will never be too loud, no more than it will ever cause sex in the streets. Amen.

Support Unification

To the Editor:

On May 7th, I will support the unification of the two Northville communities.

Developing the greatest benefits from local government at least cost is the important issue today. The Township, not too long ago, being sparsely populated needed only the simplest form of government. Not so now. Now we need to avoid troubles and intrigues of patchwork efforts to modify Township government to relate to the pressing needs of our citizens.

Having been a long-concerned resident of Northville Township, the following are compelling reasons for my favoring this merger:

It is the thrifty approach. It appears far better to simply add necessary equipment and manpower to existing, well-operating city services than to start anew. The cost of adding these service functions on township governments toward an eventual demand to become incorporated as a city is a long, hard costly path to follow.

We have all chosen very wisely to live in the superior

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

When Westland Mayor Eugene McKinney pointed to the map of his city, I was reminded of Ernest Hemingway's "Old Man and The Sea."

Hemingway's old man, you'll remember, put up a valiant battle with a fish that he came to love for its fighting spirit. But after finally catching the fish and before getting it ashore, sharks chewed away large chunks of flesh leaving but a skeleton of what once was a beautiful creature.

By the time Nankin Township incorporated as the City of Westland in 1966, it, too, had been terribly disfigured.

"It can happen to Northville just as easily as it happened to us," warned McKinney, who grew up in Nankin, became a newspaperman and eventually mayor of Westland, now a city of about 100,000 people.

If you're wondering what McKinney is talking about look at a map of Westland or a map of neighboring Dearborn Heights. They have the shapes of an octopus...all because by the time they became cities prime sections of both communities already had been eaten away by annexation or incorporation.

Parts of what might have been the City of Westland, for example, are today parts of Wayne, of Inkster, of Garden City.

Servicing the remaining disjointed sections of a city, such as Westland, is an expensive nightmare, McKinney explained, pointing out that his DPW equipment travels through adjoining cities to service isolated areas of Westland. Similarly, fire and police equipment travels through adjacent cities to reach parts of Westland.

"There is no question that we could provide more efficiently, and for far less cost, those services demanded by our citizens if all of what was once Nankin Township had been incorporated into a single city," he asserted.

But because Nankin stubbornly resisted change it lost forever the chance to become a compact community with a single, orderly plan for development.

"Sure, Nankin Township had a planning commission and a professional planning consultant. But plans and consultants don't mean anything unless you have a sophisticated government with the tools and ability to carry out those plans. Township government, unfortunately, is the least equipped of all governing bodies to deal with growth. That's what happened to us; part-time township officials were trying to cope with full-time problems. It can't be done."

Having covered Northville as a reporter for the old Detroit Times, McKinney recalled:

Action to Recall Novi School Trustee Stirs Debate

To the Editor:

I was amazed when I heard that the RECALL petition for William Ziegler, Novi Board of Education Trustee, was being led by a group of Village Oaks citizens. I wonder if this whole sad situation hasn't turned into a power struggle. Before I would sign any recall for Mr. Ziegler, I would ask myself a question about the purpose of this recall. Is it really to eliminate Mr. Ziegler for his actions or is it the first step toward personal gain for those few citizens in Village Oaks who wish to eventually dominate our city government?

Sincerely,
Novi Resident

To the Editor:

In my opinion, the scales of justice are sadly in need of balancing. In the March 28 edition of the paper on page 8A of the Police Blotter, Ronald Coyne was sentenced to 15 months to 2 years in Jackson prison for attempted breaking and entering. On the front page of the same edition, I read that Mr. Ziegler was fined $50 for simple larceny, and speeding and littering charges were dismissed against him. In addition, Mr. Ziegler is allowed to resume his seat on the Novi School Board.

If the average citizen was stopped for speeding, the lowest fine he could expect would be $20 and if found to be without an operator's permit, considerably more. Small wonder that people are fed to the teeth with our so called "justice" and our youth have no respect for the law. I can't help wondering if two young people had attempted to steal, driven without a license and speeded in an attempt to evade the police what the sentence would have been for them.

Is Mr. Ziegler the type of person we want directing our children's education? If he is allowed to maintain his seat on the school board, the whole community is to blame. With such marvelous examples set by their elders, what in the world is wrong with this younger generation?

Sincerely,
Mrs. George (Caroline)
Newbegin

To the Editor:

There is a movement in Novi to recall Bill Ziegler, a member of the board of education. The incident for which he is being recalled is well known to most people in the area so I won't go into detail here.

Stealing is wrong no matter who does it or under what circumstances. Most people agree to this principle as it applies to everyone else. Somehow the tools we take home to use from the shop, or the amount we don't declare on our income tax really isn't stealing, it's just being smart - especially if we don't get caught.

Mr. Ziegler has had his day in court, must we continue to judge him? If so, let us judge him on his merit as a board member, since this is the office from which some would seek to remove him. If you will bring a petition to my door listing ways in which he is negligent or inadequate as a board member and can show me how he is hurting the school district or the community then I will be the first to sign because I want our schools to be the finest anywhere. If any board member is shirking his duty as a board member then he should most certainly be recalled.

It would be difficult to find seven men anywhere who try harder to do what they were elected to do than our Board of Education. Unfortunately, news is made only when they goof.

If we are to remove from any office of responsibility, all those who have done a wrong then our society will indeed crumble. Hopefully, we learn from our mistakes, if we are not destroyed by them first. Mr. Ziegler is too valuable to our community and to his family to destroy.

I can only be reminded of the words of the only One who seems qualified to judge and He said, "He that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone."

Myrna Henderson

To the Editor:

I am appalled to see the good residents of Novi stand by and let a small minority attempt to take over. I am referring to the explosion of events concerning the Bill Ziegler situation.

We were residents of the city for only three years when a recent job transfer sent us to another state. We were very proud to have our children influenced by Mr. Ziegler's participation in local activities and we were glad to have his voice on our school board. We especially like the "small town friendliness" we found in Novi. But as in many growing cities, we can see politics erasing this feeling.

Requesting a legal recall is one thing, but what it has turned into is something else.

Now if I might refer to Mrs. Audrey Murphy who is the spokeswoman of the recall. What business is this ordeal to the people of Detroit? I am referring of course to the stories given to the Detroit News Media. Will they be able to sign your recall papers? Isn't it a coincidence that Mr. Murphy is seeking candidacy to the school board, or is it?

Mr. Ziegler has spent countless hours serving the community as player agent and coach for Novi's Little League, for which he received an award for his outstanding service. He has been active in local scouting programs and a Rotary Club member. Mr. Ziegler has served as a director in the Meadowbrook Glens Homeowners Association, along with serving on the Constitution Committee, Membership Committee and various special committees for the association. He was at one time the secretary of the Novi Homeowners Federation and still gives himself wholeheartedly to the community as a member of the Novi School Board.

Tell me, Mr. Editor, does this sound like someone who would improperly influence the youth of Novi?

Yours truly,
Mrs. L. R. Williams
4122 Stonehenge Dr
Sylvania, Ohio 43560

To the Editor,

It amazes me that "righteous" citizens can be so vindictive. Hasn't Bill Ziegler more than paid for his crime in humiliation and embarrassment alone?

I seriously question Mrs. Murphy's reference to the "double standard" pertaining to our children. I think this petition to oust Bill Ziegler shows young people that even if you pay for a crime, you are not a fit or responsible person any longer. The law may be impartial, fair and just, but beware of "do-gooders"—they aren't.

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. John Provencher

residential area in Wayne County, and we share a good feeling in this selection. In an effort to protect and add to the value of this decision, we place as high priority the development of the most effective area administration at minimum cost right now!! The Council-City Manager form of government has proven itself the least wasteful and most effective available. This is the form of government that would survive favorable vote on May 7th.

The wisdom of unifying and becoming a single Northville community is shared in common, we note, by a very large segment of the elected leadership in both City and Township. Assessing this fact with care, it becomes evident that many who share our very same concerns have chosen to commit fully their existing positions to the betterment of this fine community.

The proper time for this community merger is absolutely right now! It is vitally important that anyone unfamiliar with the question get the facts. Certainly, getting the facts is essential before assigning credibility to unfounded fear or doubt.

I visualize one truly excellent community and it's a good image. I ask all voters to do this themselves, dwell on it, then help us NOW to make it happen.

Jim Nowka

Editor's Note: Mr. Nowka is chairman of the Northville Township Planning Commission.

To the Editor:

Objectivity is a valuable asset within the areas of administration and should be the stock-in-trade of anyone holding public office. For the past 10 years, I have been privileged to serve the City of Northville in both appointive and elective office. Over that span, I believe that I have maintained a considerable degree of objectivity.

It is difficult, however, to retain any semblance of objectivity with respect to certain statements being bandied about rather loudly and loosely (by those who should know better) to gain a point in the all-important question of annexation now facing the entire Northville Community.

Reference is made, of course, to the statement that the city government is not (and cannot be) responsive to its constituents. The statement is made without regard or knowledge of the facts and with no foundation in truth. Consequently, I resent very much the implication and devious innuendo as I am sure anyone charged with government of the city must be. Any, or all of us, can refute the statement without equivocation.

Webster defines "Responsive" as "reacting readily to suggestion or appeal", and the governing bodies of the city of Northville certainly do that - and more. I suggest that those who are trying to make capital from the above statement look up the word "responsive" in the dictionary. A further suggestion is that they also check just a few words up the column and determine the definition of the word "Responsible", the meaning of which seems to be foreign to some who hold, or would hold, public office.

Respectfully,
Wallace Nichols

To the Editor:

It has come to my attention after attending a coffee meeting at one of my neighbors, that the Township Planning Commission has presently before it a shopping center proposal the size of Westland Shopping Center. It is my understanding that this may very well be placed in the Haggerty Seven Mile Road area. If such is the case, it would appear to me that in the best interest of all concerned that we unite both the City and the Township to combat this large development which could very seriously affect downtown Northville which we all love so much.

To the Editor:

I urge everyone in the Northville community to read

Edgar "Jerry" O'Brien's comments which were set forth in an article written by Jack Hoffman last week. This article very clearly sets forth the situation here in Northville. It has convinced me to vote yes on May 7th.

Rips Dumping

To the Editor:

Who or what is running the City of Novi?

For over one year I have been trying to get the City of Novi to enforce its landfill ordinance. You see Vicete Die & Engineering Co. (located behind me) has been conducting a landfill of a natural drain basin. Of course the water has to go somewhere and I seem to be the "lucky one". I now have approximately one and one-half feet of water in my back yard. I also have a three year old daughter that could easily drown in it.

The City finally got off its dud and issued them 5 tickets for dumping without a permit. This resulted in an arraignment in court on April 12. Vicete then agreed to apply for its permits which are to be turned in today. After the permits are applied for they have to be okayed by the City Council. From there they go to Oakland County and then to the Department of Natural Resources. The D.N.R. says Vicete is in violation of Act 167 Sec 245 and is going to "send an officer out to look into it". Meanwhile, however, Vicete, or should I say Mr. Pete Romano, keeps right on filling and at the rate they are working they will have the job completed before the permits even reaches the City Council. So where am I then?

It seems to me the City should start enforcing its ordinances and stop them before they get any further.

News From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative

A number of bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives which would require that this or that be taught in all public schools. For example, H.B. 4047 would require the teaching of the biblical version of creation. H.B. 4339 would do the same. H.B. 4097 calls for instruction in "peace." H.B. 4117 would require study of minorities. H.B. 4116 would require instruction in effects of controlled substances. H.B. 4219 would require courses about communicable diseases.

House Bill 4358 would require instruction "in the social graces," and H.B. 4585 is similar. H.B. 4383 requires courses in Afro-American history and H.B. 4578, introduced last week, would require courses in "human relations" in all schools, grades 6-12.

Most of the bills, fortunately, die in committee but last week one got to the House floor where it was debated heavily. Just as we were all near the point of exhaustion from parliamentary maneuvering and heated argument, my Republican colleague Ed Geerlings from Twin Lake proposed to amend the bill to read, "Reading, writing, and arithmetic may also be taught in the public schools of the state of Michigan...during regular school hours...if time permits!"

After the laughter subsided, the motion was ruled frivolous and therefore out of order, but I'm not so sure but that someday it may be needed if very many more groups are successful in imposing their special interests on the required curriculum of our public schools.

So far I have received about 130 returns from the questionnaires mailed out to Northville City and Township residents. Next week, I plan to begin tallying the results so if your questionnaire is still sitting around the house, how about sending it in?

The more I know about your opinions, the better job I can do of representing you. If you did not receive your questionnaire in the mail, additional copies will be available at the Northville Record office.

Biblical Answers For

When we pray, should we pray through a minister, or can we go directly to God ourselves? A.T.

Prayer is communicating with God as a child to his father, or a friend to a friend. Before sin entered the world, God came and talked personally with man. Now we can have the same personal relationship through prayer. Nowhere in the word of God does it state that we must pray through another human. I TIMOTHY 2:5 states, "FOR THERE IS ONE GOD, AND ONE MEDIATOR BETWEEN GOD AND MEN, THE MAN CHRIST JESUS." Christ is our mediator. We should pray directly to God, the Father, thru Jesus. Also, read JOHN 14:6.

To Preserve Northville's Heritage

City Studies Historical Zoning

A zoning ordinance proposal dealing with preservation of an historic district in Northville presently is being considered by city officials.

The proposal was suggested by the Northville Historical Society.

Purpose of the proposal, as outlined in a brochure recently presented to city planners, is to safeguard the heritage of the city; stabilize and improve property values; foster civic beauty; strengthen local economy; and promote use of historic districts, for education, pleasure and welfare of the community's citizens.

It suggests:

- Establishment of an historic district encompassing much of the older section of the city.
- Regulations concerning construction, alteration, repair, moving and demolition of buildings within the historic district.
- Creation of a seven-member Historic District Commission.
- Procedures for review of plans.
- Discouraging demolition or moving of structures with historic or architectural value.
- Establishment of provisions for yard variances, exceptions, and appeals.

The Historic District Commission proposed would consist of seven members who live in the city, all of whom would be appointed by the city council for three year terms.

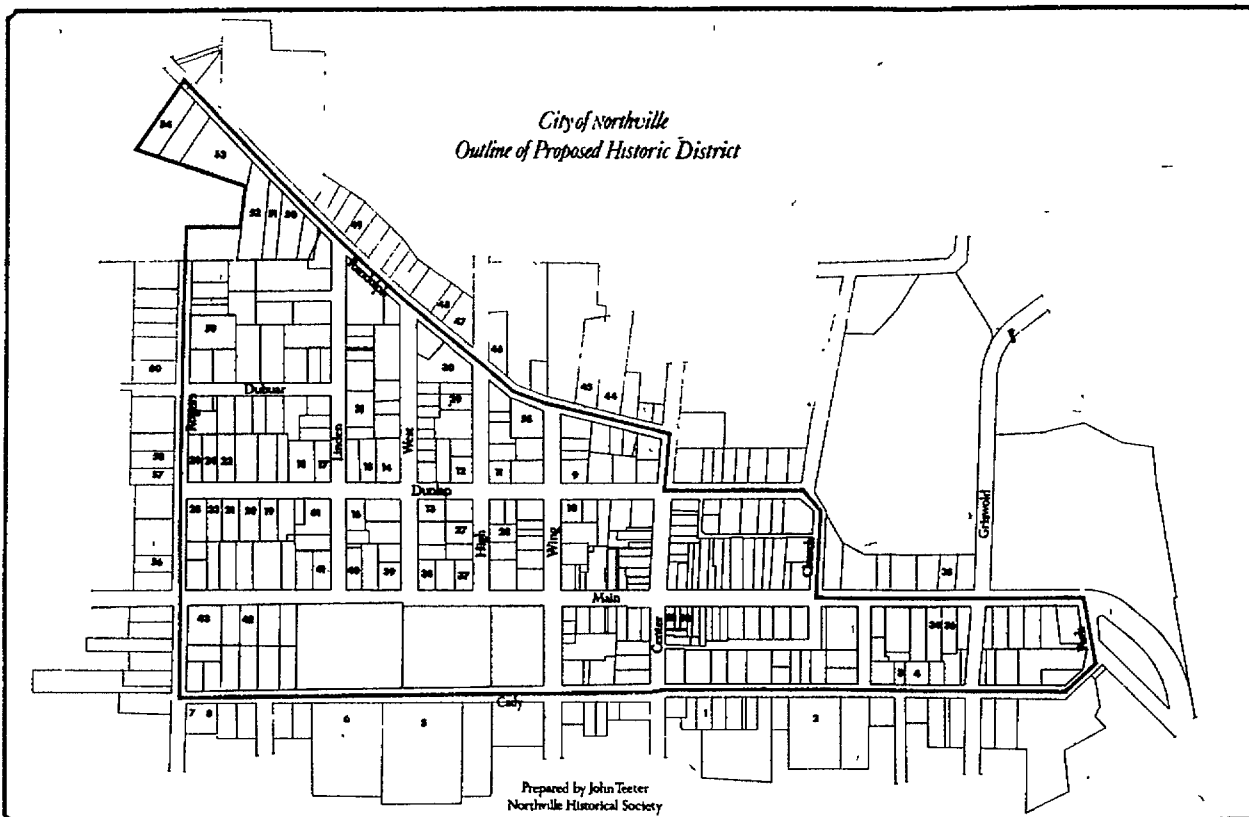

Duties of the commission would include review of all plans for construction, alteration, repair, moving or demolition of structures in the historic district. It would have the power to pass upon such plans before a permit is granted.

In reviewing plans the commission would consider:

- The historical or historical value and significance of the structure and its relationship to the historic value of the surrounding area.
- The general compatibility of exterior design, arrangement, texture and materials proposed to be used.
- Any other factor, including aesthetic, deemed pertinent.
- The commission could pass only on exterior features and not consider interior arrangements, and it would have the power to call in experts to aid in its deliberations within the limitation of its budget.
- Furthermore, the commission would have the power to issue a certificate of approval, and the building inspector could issue his approval only after the commission's approval had been issued.

Concerning its power, the proposal suggests that the commission "shall be lenient in its judgment of plans for new construction, or for alteration, repair, or demolition of structures of little historic value except where such consideration... would seriously impair the historic value and character of surrounding structures or the surrounding area."

The proposed ordinance would provide that application for permits would suggested ordinance proposal to city planners. The numerals represent buildings for which the society has assembled historical and architectural data.

go to the building inspector, who in turn would refer them to the commission if they involve buildings within the historic district.

In the event the commission should disapprove plans, "it shall state its reasons for doing so and transmit a record of such action and reasons therefor in writing to the inspector of buildings and to the applicant.

"The commission may advise what it thinks is proper if it disapproves of the plans submitted. The applicant, if he so desires, may make modifications to his plans and shall have the right to resubmit his application at any time after so doing."

The proposal includes this exception:

"Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent ordinary maintenance or repair of any structure within the historic district; nor shall anything in this article be construed to prevent the construction, alteration, repair, moving of any structure under a permit issued by the building inspector prior to passage of the amendment incorporating this article in the zoning ordinance."

Should an applicant wish to appeal a commission decision, in the same manner now given applicants before the city planning commission.

"The city picked up the cost of moving the buildings, which was $8,400 to $8,800," he added. Ford Motor Company donated land to the city for the historical village on Griswold Street which the city in turn is allowing the historical society to use.

Burkman said he was not asking the township to match what the city had done. He estimated the cost of fencing would be approximately $5,000.

Board members asked Attorney Donald Morgan to research and see if the township may contribute funds to the historical society.

Burkman added that the historical society "is and will be a commission composed of residents from both the city and the township."

Society Asks Board's Help

Appearing before Northville township board members last week, Northville Historical Society President John Burkman asked for help in development of Mill Race Historical Village.

"Restoration of the buildings is a community effort," Burkman told the board. He said the greatest need the society presently has is fencing for the area.

"We hope the historical society has enough money and enough skill to restore the buildings," Burkman explained, "but we do need fencing."

When questioned by one board member as to what the city had done, Burkman said, "they have given us 100-percent cooperation."

State Flowers Topic of Meeting

Dr. Edward G. Voss, curator of the herbarium and professor of botany at the University of Michigan, will be guest speaker next week Thursday—April 26—at a meeting of the Northville Historical Society.

The 8 p.m. meeting, to be held in the Scout-Recreation Building west of the post office, is open to the public.

Voss will show slides of Michigan flowers, and his narration will include historical notations about Michigan flowers as recorded by Douglas Houghton and other early settlers of the state.

"This is an especially interesting program," a club spokesman said. "We're proud Dr. Voss will be present to give us information about the historical significance of our flowers."

The meeting is billed as "Guest Night" and members of the Society are urged to bring their friends and neighbors.

Persons wishing to learn more about the activities of the Society concerning the historical village project on Griswold Street may do so by attending the meeting.

Day Honors Seniors

By NANCY DINGELDEY

The Michigan Week ball is rolling and picking up steam with each passing day. It is apparent that this year's committees are well organized and advance planning is the key word.

Foremost among the items in this year's Michigan Week is the Senior Citizens Awards. Sponsored again this year by the Wixom Chamber of Commerce, citizens of Wixom are urged to write letters to the Chamber nominating a Senior Citizen for this special award.

The letter need not be long but should include the reasons for nomination. It could be the "unsung" helpful neighbor or a person involved in church, civic or volunteer efforts.

The most important thing of all is that a few minutes time is taken to write a short letter. Address your nominations to the Wixom Chamber of Commerce in care of the Wixom Post Office. Deadline for the letters is May 10.

This year's Senior Citizen banquet will be combined with the Government Day banquet on Monday, May 21. Our visiting mayor and party from Bronson will be guests at the dinner that night. Included in the evening will be a cocktail party, buffet dinner prepared by the Vocational Education Center Food Services Department, the Senior Citizen awards and entertainment by the Inter-Lakes Sweet Adelines.

Also announced by Michigan Week Chairman Kathy Wahamaki is the Volunteer Leadership Award. The name of a Wixom resident has been submitted by the Michigan Week Committee for this state-wide award which honors volunteer efforts and leadership. The person whose name has been submitted will receive the Wixom Leadership Award.

This award will also be presented at the Government Day banquet.

On May 26, the Kids, Kops and Firemen will gather for their annual baseball game. Kids 13 through 17 years of age are urged to sign up for this fun game. The posters are up at City Hall and any kid can sign up beginning April 20. The Police Wives will be on hand the day of the big game, serving hot dogs and pop for 25 cents. At today's prices, that'll be a big bargain.

Northridge Estates will be holding their annual flower sale May 18-20. Seventeen different varieties of flowering plants will be for sale and with a few exceptions the cost will be 40 cents a box or $3.25 per flat.

A range of colors as well as heights of flowers will be included in the group. It is requested that orders be placed ahead of time for proper selection. A small deposit is requested with your floral order and these orders should be in no later than May 2. Bev Walters at 2136 Hopkins Drive is the gal to contact for the beginning of a beautiful garden.

People, people are needed by the Walled Lake Community Theatre. Everyone is welcome...everyone is needed to fill a variety of slots in the community theatre group sponsored by the Walled Lake Community Education Department.

And with another production slated for June, people are needed to audition for parts in the play "Don't Drink the Water" by Woody Allen. The auditions will be held on April 23, 24, and 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Walled Lake Western's Ayres Auditorium on Beck Road.

Tickets are still available for the Top Cop Dinner Dance on April 28. This annual dinner dance was established to honor the outstanding policeman from the Lakes area. Tickets may be purchased from any one of the guys in the blue hats. The evening includes cocktails, buffet dinner, and dancing at a cost of $10 per person.

For Yvonne and Don Courtney of Hopkins Drive, Friday the 13th proved to be a day for congratulations. They welcomed their second child into the world and Don announced it to the neighborhood by hanging a huge sign on the front of their house. Little one's name is Troy Donald who joins three year old Alicia at home.

Police Blotter

Arrest Cattle Rustler

In Novi

Novi police haven't taken to wearing chaps and spurs yet, but there was very definitely a flavor of the old west in the air last week as they were called upon to investigate a case of cattle rustling.

Arrested in the case is a 30-year old Northville man, Gary Klocke, of 317 Baseline. Klocke was placed under arrest at his home Saturday, April 14, and charged with felonious larceny.

The incident occurred late Friday, April 13, or in the early morning hours the following day.

Police were summoned to a farm, at 50500 Eight Mile Road to investigate the case of reported cattle rustling. The complainant told officers someone had entered his property and killed and slaughtered a 1,200-pound hereford cow. Value of the animal was estimated at $725.

The head of the animal had been cut off and left in the field along with the entrails. The rest of the carcass had then been lifted into a vehicle.

Through investigation, police secured sufficient information to secure a search warrant and went to the 317 Baseline address in Northville where Klocke was placed under arrest.

Officers reported finding the carcass of the slaughtered animal and the instruments used in the killing at the house.

Klocke was subsequently lodged in the Oakland County Jail. He was arraigned before Judge Martin Boyle in 52nd District Court and released on $2,000 personal bond. Examination has been scheduled for May 18.

Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner indicated that more than one person may have been involved in the incident. Further arrests are pending results of investigation, he said.

A quantity of furniture was reportedly stolen from a residence on East Lake Drive last week.

The owner of the home told police she had rented it to a man who subsequently had been ordered out of the home on April 9 by the Walled Lake District Court. The complainant further reported that when she checked the house April 14 she found that much of the furniture had been removed and extensive damage had been done to the interior of the residence.

Among the stolen items were a stove, refrigerator, kitchenette set with six chairs, an easy chair, double bed, dresser set, roll-away bed, a toaster, and quantity of pots and pans.

Large holes had been knocked in the walls, wires were torn down, and two windows had been broken.

No dollar estimate as to the value of the stolen goods or damaged house has been determined.

COURTNEWS

George Allen Stines, a West Virginia man extradited to Michigan by Novi police last week, waived examination on larceny from a person charges in 52nd District Court and was bound over to stand trial in circuit court.

A charge of attempted larceny from a building was added to the original charge.

Larry Webb, a Monroe man allegedly involved in an armed robbery and the fatal shooting of a motel owner in Beckley, West Virginia, was arrested this week as a result of information attained by Novi police.

While serving extradition papers on George Allen Stines in Beckley, Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson and Detective John Johnson received information which indicated Webb was living near Monroe.

Warrant information and photographs were passed onto the Monroe Police and the Michigan State Police and Webb was subsequently arrested.

He is currently lodged in the Monroe County Jail while extradition proceedings are in progress.

In Township

A stolen car was covered, and a break-in and a theft were investigated in Northville township by Michigan State Police during last week.

A 1973 Lincoln Continental stolen between 6 and 8 p.m. April 11 from the K-Mart shopping center on Seven Mile and Farmington roads was recovered on Franklin Road at approximately 9:30 p.m. A resident of the area notified State Police that persons in two cars were stripping the Lincoln.

Troopers arriving on the scene found the car on Franklin Road, one-quarter mile west of Bradner. All tires, including the spare, had been removed from the car and an attempt had been made to remove the radio.

State police said the two other cars left the area before the police arrived.

The car was turned over to Livonia police to check for finger prints.

More than $795 in goods were stolen from a home at 15655 Haggerty Road during daylight hours Friday.

State Police troopers said unknown persons entered the home through the kitchen window and removed a color television set, three cameras and a 20 gauge double barrel shotgun.

State Police detectives are investigating a theft which occurred at Hawthorne Center on Haggerty Road near Seven Mile Road.

Reported April 9, the theft took place in the Day School section of the center. No signs of forced entry could be found, detectives said.

Taken from one classroom and three offices in the building were a record player, dictaphone, steno machine and two alarm clocks.

Township police are investigating a report of a stolen car which occurred at 2:30 p.m. April 10.

Stolen from in front of 41354 Windsor Court was a maroon 1965 Plymouth bearing 1973 Michigan license plates HKR-846. Residents in the area told police two men were seen driving away in the car.

In Northville

City police are investigating an attempted break-in and a report of tampering with an auto which took place over the weekend.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to break-in to an apartment located at 947 Novi Road during the weekend, police said.

Reported at 6:30 p.m. Monday, the break-in attempt was made on a bedroom window.

Novi Eyes Bond Issue

enrollment will reach 5,300—or a 100-percent increase over the next five years.

It will take three years to build a new high school, if the bond issue is approved, thus pointing up the critical situation facing the district, noted the assistant superintendent.

In voting to place proposals for 7 mills renewal and 2½ mills additional for operation on the June ballot, board members pledged not to levy any more of the millage than is absolutely necessary.

Renewal of the 7 mills, representing some 25-percent of the school budget, was labeled "imperative," while the additional 2½ mills was called "very important" to sustain the district's improving educational program.

Trustee Gilbert Henderson was named general chairman of the millage election informational committee.

Emphasizing that the budget suggestion going to the county allocation board is preliminary only, Dr. Barr said it ($2,584,000) represents an increase of $397,000 over last year's outlay.

It is based on a state equalized valuation projection of $68 million—up $9 to $10 million over last year's figure.

He noted the following reasons for the increased budget:

- Because the SEV is increasing, the district's proportionate share of state aid will decrease thus offsetting somewhat the larger tax base.
- The student population will increase to 2,420.
- Ten additional teachers must be hired.
- An additional elementary librarian is contemplated, as is a reading consultant at the secondary level, and an additional counselor (half use in the high school, half in the middle school).
- Improvement of the high school library, such as new books and related materials.

In Wixom

Police are investigating the circumstances of a breaking and entering of a milk house on a farm at 1778 Charms Road.

The complainant told police someone had broken into the milk house and stolen approximately one and a half bushels of used golf balls and an axe. In addition, extensive damage to the windows and the building itself was done during the theft.

The breaking and entering occurred sometime between March 21 and April 8.

Township Officer Leaves Department

Northville township police officer relieved of duty last Wednesday, April 11, has been permitted to resign and return to the Detroit police force, according to Supervisor Lawrence Wright.

Michael Doran, who was hired March 19, has been permitted to resign effective April 11, Wright said.

The officer told The Record that he visited city hall and had been critical of fellow officers and was dismissed from the township force. He said he has not resigned.

Wright, however, told this newspaper Monday that Doran had submitted his resignation.

The supervisor commented that no one has yet been hired to take his place but that another man will be hired. "We owe it to the community for safety reasons," he said. "It is hard with only two men to provide 16 hours per day coverage in the township." Chief Ronald Nisun could not be reached for comment.

- Hiring of a community education director.
- Replacement of two buses and the purchase of two additional buses, and hiring of the necessary additional bus drivers.

- Hiring of a bus mechanic, and a data processing worker.

- Addition of a half-time art teacher.
- Addition of three special education personnel.
- Anticipation of salary increases negotiated through collective bargaining.
- A 3 to 6 percent increase in cost of supplies and services.

The operational millage proposals slated to go to voters in June are for five years.

In related action Tuesday, the board named Miller Canfield Paddock & Stone of Detroit as the district's bonding attorney.

K &amp; B Faces Work Stop

development of rental apartments.

Councilman Edwin Presnell noted that the San Simeon project had been developed under a plan which permits variances in density and lot sizes in exchange for common areas (parks) for the residents.

Now, however, Kaufman and Broad has sold off a portion of their overall development to Realtek and the portion sold to Realtek contains a large portion of property which had originally been designated for open spaces, Presnell continued.

The councilman further noted that according to the site plan submitted by Realtek, buildings were to be constructed on land originally promised by Kaufman and Broad to be left for open space.

"The point is," stated Councilman Denis Berry, "K&B promised us a common area and now they've sold the land they told us was going to be used for the park."

"I would personally like to hear Kaufman and Broad explain why they've done this," Berry continued.

Work Against Alcohol Abuse

Northville Jaycees, who have launched an alcohol education program here, list the following as the major organizations in the U.S. directly involved in alcoholism and alcohol abuse:

Alcohol and Drug Problems Association of North America, Washington, D.C.; the National Council on Alcoholism, New York City; and the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism of the Federal Government, Rockville, Maryland

Mayor Joseph Crupi commented further on the matter. "It appears that Kaufman and Broad has materially changed their site plan," he stated. "Before we can allow Realtek or K&B to proceed any further it is incumbent on them to come in here together with their revised site plans and have them reapproved. We've noticed what appears to be a violation of the original site plan. If we approve the Realtek plan without first seeing the overall revised plan, we would be remiss in our duties."

Saunders and Fried were directed to make contact with Kaufman and Broad to notify them of the council's discussion and request submission of a revised site plan.

Wixom Chief

Top Student

Wixom Police Chief George VonBehren will be among the honored guests at a reception on Tuesday, April 24, given by Oakland County Sheriff Johannes F. Spreen.

VonBehren is being honored as one of the top four students graduating from the Mercy College of Detroit Law Enforcement Program with an average of just below 4.0, which is perfect.

Now studying for a master's degree in administration at Wayne State University, VonBehren received a bachelor of arts degree "with distinction" from Wayne in 1972.

Juvenile Calls Show Decline

Cases involving 10 juveniles were investigated during February by Northville City Police Department.

Of those, seven involved non-traffic offenses, according to Patrolman David DeLauder, juvenile officer for the department. The figures were released recently in the department's monthly report.

Six of the cases were handled within the department and four were referred to juvenile court or probation.

Offenses involved possession of narcotics, one; disorderly conduct, fighting, three; drunkenness, one; traffic violations, three; and miscellaneous complaint, two.

Juveniles ranged in age from 10 to 16. During February, DeLauder said the department received four calls involving juveniles, the same number of calls received during the same month in 1972.

To date, 12 calls have been received by the department involving juveniles, down from the 13 calls received through February, 1972.

Layout of the proposed mobile homes development in Northville Township

Mobile Homes Unchanged

could. But we just haven't been able to interest anyone. Meanwhile, we're paying taxes on vacant land and it's too costly to let it stand idle." Oldford said his corporation has discovered a "general oversupply of industrial sites in the metropolitan area." That, together with the fact the site doesn't appear to be attractive to industrial developers because of its location accounts for lack of success in finding industrial clients, he explained.

Land preparation for the mobile homes park will get underway this coming summer—depending upon site plan approval and approval of water and sewer plans, Oldford said.

Most of the proposed development will be located behind a commercial development planned by Oldford along Seven Mile Road. It will be buffered on the east by the railroad and on the west by the Innsbrook Apartment development.

It will provide two entrances off Seven Mile Road, adjacent to the National Bank of Detroit which is to become part of the commercial development. It includes provisions for two parking spaces per lot, and an additional 69 spaces for visitor parking for a total of 487 spaces.

Time to Sign For Driving

High school students attending private or parochial schools and living within the Northville School District boundaries may register now for summer driver education classes.

Forms for registration may be obtained at Northville High School office between 7:15 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

City Council OKs Rezoning

Rezoning of property between Northville Laboratories and Fairbrook Apartments on Fairbrook, from R-1 (single family) to R-2A (restricted multiple), was approved by the Northville City Council Monday.

No one attending the public hearing opposed the rezoning, which earlier had been recommended for approval by a split vote of the planning commission.

Councilmen approved the zoning on grounds that it represents the best zoning for the site in view of adjacent development.

Owned by the city, the property presently includes a frame house and a larger garage.

Although the zoning change was not based on any specific plan for the site, it is no secret that the city council is considering it as a possible location for a small senior citizens development.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff explained Monday that the matter will be presented to the city's housing commission for its specific recommendation.

At least one councilman, however, opposes the site for senior citizens housing, preferring instead some site within walking distance of the downtown area of the city.

In other action Monday, the council awarded an asphalt patching contract to the Howell Construction Company of Howell based on its low bid of 90-cents per square foot. City expenditure is not to exceed $10,000.

A $5,960 contract also was awarded to the Hun-Ray Tower Company, lone bidder, for a 100-foot high police radio antenna. The price, which city personnel found to be "reasonable", is $360 more than initially proposed for an 80-foot tower.

Council set Tuesday, May 8 as the date for a public hearing on an amendment to the dog ordinance. The amendment provides damage claim procedures in cases where dogs running loose destroy livestock or fowl.

City Manager Ollendorff was authorized to submit plans to the county for extension of a storm sewer south on Center Street, from Cady to the stream near Seven Mile road, and to begin negotiations for obtaining the necessary easements from property owners.

The proposed sewer would run between the street right-of-way and private property on the west side of the street.

Rosanna Cook was given the acting city manager title for the upcoming May 7 annexation election. The title, which is being rotated, was held by Hilda Boyer for the past election.

Endorses Unification

favor of unification should pledge themselves to seek to elect to the single governing body qualified people who will provide the excellence of government that will be reflective of the interests of Northville, and Northville Township residents.

"As to costs, it is clearly evident that one government would cost less than two—particularly where community services and facilities are concerned. There has been a great deal of speculation about the possibility of increased taxes. No one wants greater taxes—everyone wants to pay less. The real test, of course, is whether the taxpayers will get their money's worth."

"The combining of two governments into one governing body must produce significant savings. Any elected representatives to the single government must give due consideration to the valid interests of community residents to provide services and facilities that meet community needs at reasonable costs."

"One other factor must be taken into consideration. It is apparent that if the present effort to unify local government fails, certain sections of the Township will initiate action to join Northville. The end result to these efforts will be that Northville will continue to grow and the Township will diminish. The obvious result is that fewer and fewer people in the Township will be paying the cost of Township personnel and functions."

"There will be no better time to unify local government. Additional township projects under study will further increase government duplication. The attractions of the Northville community will continue to bring many people to the area. Planned progress at reasonable costs can best be achieved through one government, not two.

"A change in government always raises many questions and a great deal of uncertainty. The advantages of voting yes for unification far outweigh the arguments against it," Hodge concluded.

The announcement by the Republican Club follows a similar endorsement of unification made last week by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

They're Nailing Down Thriving Trade

By ERNEST BROWN

Horses went out when the automobile started becoming popular—and horse shoes are those heavy metal things used by old men for throwing at stakes or by superstitious folk who nail them up over doorways.

Right? Hardly in this area. Farriers (people who shoe horses) are not only kept busy plying their trade, they're even busier training more people to follow in their footsteps.

In fact, in two courses currently winding up in the South Lyon and Howell areas, almost 20 percent of the farriers-to-be are ladies!

A trio of South Lyon farriers are currently in their final week of a 10-week course with five young men and a young lady nearly ready to go out into the world and shoe needy quadrupeds.

Five other trainees—again including a young lady—are nearly through Bob Reaume's 12-week course near Howell.

The South Lyon trio—Bill Heslip of Lyon Township and Bruce Rasmussen and Jim Wilfong—all got their "basic" training at the Michigan State University agricultural short course (an accelerated three months' program) in horse shoeing.

Reaume also has an agricultural degree from MSU and learned shoeing there.

What about the ladies? Rasmussen prefaced his comments about Barbara Darlington, the 20-year old would-be farrier from Ann Arbor, by telling a little bit about the course.

"First of all," Rasmussen said, "the course runs five days per week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (with an hour for lunch). It costs $1,000—which includes $350 worth of special tools which the trainee keeps, but does not include the $300 worth of coal (or gas) forge and anvil."

"Now that anvil—which the farrier must transport with him from job to job—weighs 110 pounds

"We fully expected Barbara—who weighs less than 100 pounds—to drop out along the way.

"She has been amazing, however. I hope she decides to specialize in hackneys, because she is little enough to be effective with small ponies.

"But it really doesn't matter. With the drive and determination she has shown, she's going to do a great job whether she decides to specialize or to take on any horses owners may want to have shod."

How has Miss Darlington so impressed her teachers?

"She hitchhikes in all weather both ways," Rasmussen said. "And she arrives before anyone else and is always the last to leave in the evening.

"Since she is the first to arrive, she has taken it upon herself to fill the water buckets and stoke the coal forges by the time the rest of us get here.

"She's incredible."

But what is it that attracts these 11 young people to train so hard at these two sites for a job that went out before World War I?

December 7 Survivors Meet Soon

Old friends who shared a tragic experience in American history will renew acquaintances April 28 and 29 when the Michigan chapters of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association hold their seventh annual state reunion at the Holiday Inn off 10 Mile Road near Novi.

Local announcement of reunion plans was made by Wixom Mayor Gib Willis, who was serving with the United States Navy on December 7, 1941 at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attack took place.

According to Willis, the PHSA is a national veteran's organization, with members in all 50 states. Only those veterans who were military survivors of that attack and who have received honorable discharges are eligible for membership. They must have been on the Island of Oahu or within a three mile radius of the island on that December 7th day.

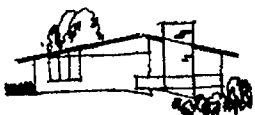

The organization conducts memorial services every December 7th and national conventions every two years. Hawaiian reunions are held every five years.

PHSA held its 30th anniversary reunion in Hawaii in December, 1971. Launched in 1958 with only 11 members in 1958, today it includes 5,000 active members, many of them from Michigan.

State Chairman of the PHSA Michigan chapters is John R. Reberg of Muskegon. Herry Specener is chairman of this year's Michigan reunion, and Charles Hosch is president of the Motor City Chapter representing this area.

According to Mayor Willis, there are many Michigan survivors who are not yet members of the organization. If any live in this area and would like to join they may do so by calling 371-8758, 754-6199 or 282-7037.

Here's Handy Checks

Is Your Mower Ready?

Now's the time to get your lawn mower, garden tractor, power leaf shredder or rotary tiller in shape for your spring gardening and lawn work, according to Howard Doss, agricultural mechanization specialist at Michigan State University.

Here recommends making the following checks:

—Replace worn or broken parts. Make a list of the parts you'll need, and write down the engine model numbers so you'll have the necessary information when you buy the parts. Take the parts with you if you can.

—Tighten all bolts. This is an easy item to overlook, says Doss, but it's necessary, since engine vibration often loosens the bolts. Replace any missing bolts.

—Change the oil. First, start the engine and let it warm up. This heats the oil and gets any foreign particles mixed with it, so that they can run out when you drain the oil out into a container. (Never dump this oil on the ground or down a storm sewer. Let your local gas station or garage dispose of it properly.)

Replace the oil, being sure to use the type recommended by the engine manufacturer. Don't add too much—this can be as bad as not enough in some small engines.

—Air cleaners on small engines are generally of two basic types—oil bath and dry or washable type.

Oil bath cleaners should be emptied and washed in fuel oil, diesel fuel or kerosene. Don't use gasoline—it's too dangerous. Instructions are often printed on the air cleaner or on the engine nameplate.

Dry elements are normally not cleaned, just replaced. Washable elements can be washed like oil bath cleaners and squeezed dry. Then they should be oiled lightly and replaced in their housing.

—Clean or replace the spark plug. Remove the plug, file the center electrode and the grounding electrode carefully, then regap the plug. —Sharpen and balance rotary mower blades. "It's important to cut the grass, not tear it," says Doss, "and dull rotary blades actually leave a ragged edge."

Balance is just as important as sharpening, since unbalanced blades can cause excessive wear on engine bearings.

Doss notes that maintaining small engines properly while they're being used is important, too. If you take care of them, they'll take care of your lawn and garden.

Sod: A Fast Way to Grow That Lawn

Want a good-looking lawn in practically no time? Use sod and follow the advice of Michigan State University's turfgrass specialists.

BEFORE
Make sure that your soil's in shape before laying the sod. Get rid of stones, stumps and other debris. Don't bury the debris in pits on the establishment site. Do any rough grading that's necessary. Avoid steep slopes or banks that are difficult to establish and maintain.

Have your soil tested to determine its fertilizer and lime requirements. If no soil test is available, apply 1½ to 2 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet, using a complete fertilizer with a 1-1-1 ratio (example: 15 to 20 pounds of 10-10-10). Work the fertilizer into the top few inches of soil.

Roll and level the lawn area.

DURING
While laying the sod, keep in mind that the edges should touch each other but not overlap. Stagger the ends of the sod pieces in a brick-like fashion. Avoid stretching the pieces of sod.

AFTER
Once the sod is in place, roll it to remove air pockets and water it to a soil depth of six inches. Water your new lawn daily for approximately two to three weeks to prevent drought stress until it is established.

Planting Trees, Shrubs

It Boosts Home Value

Are you among the many Michiganders who will be building a house this spring? Michigan State University landscape experts claim that your new home will be worth more if it has mature trees and shrubs around it, so make plans now to protect valuable trees from construction damage.

First, decide which trees and shrubs you want to save, and have them marked clearly on your blueprints and specifications. Keep only those that are ideally located, healthy and able to get by with a minimum of protection during construction.

There are four potential hazards that you will need to guard against—construction equipment, excavating operations, changes in grade and cleanup operations.

Trees can be protected from construction operations by building boxed-crate structures around them. Another solution is to weave one-inch slats around the trunks with wire.

Use snow fence to protect groups of shrubs or small trees from damage.

If excavating is necessary, try not to cut off tree roots. Tunnel under them instead. If tunneling isn't possible, cut as few roots as possible and paint the ends with an asphalt wound dressing. Keep in mind that severed roots may cause corresponding branches to die in a few years.

Try not to change the grade in excess of six inches near your plants. If the new grade is too high, it keeps them from getting their normal amounts of air and water. If it's too low, it may damage the roots by holding excess water.

In some cases, retaining walls or tree wells may be used effectively when the grade is changed.

Cleanup operations can be bad news for your trees and shrubs. Make sure that plant protective devices are removed last. Haul any debris away—don't burn or bury it on the site. Seek disposal information from local officials to make sure your refuse doesn't cause problems

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

FRUITS FOR THE HOME GARDEN

Just as the gardener takes particular pleasure in bringing in his vegetable harvest, no matter how small, to the table, so equally welcome are the delicious tree or bush fruits that are home grown.

By properly selecting the kinds and varieties for planting a succession of fresh fruits of high dessert quality can be available during much of the summer and surplus may be canned, preserved, dried, or in some cases frozen for use during other seasons.

Under most conditions, the best fruits for the home garden are, in order of adaptability where spraying is not practical—strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, sour cherries, grapes, some plums and pears, sweet cherries, peaches and apples. However, all fruit trees benefit by proper spraying and certain fruits do not require such attention. Blueberries, currants and gooseberries have some limitations. Strawberries are the most adaptable, the first fruit to ripen, with fine flavor. If you have just a small space available, by all means include these berries if none other. Planting strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, and grapes, there will be a fruit bounty from May or early June until frost. With the addition of tree fruits, a greater variety of fresh produce is available during much of the year.

It is generally desirable to have a fruit planting near the house or possibly adjacent to the vegetable planting. In any case, a low area should be avoided in favor of a more elevated location with air drainage. Fruit trees always respond best to full exposure to sunlight. Often bush fruits are planted near a fence in hills or rows to allow for easy cultivation.

Most fruits prefer a soil rich in organic matter; blueberries are the exception desiring an acid soil. Berries and grapes are set at the same depth as they grew in the nursery, while fruit trees need a slightly deeper setting. Some pruning at planting time is also in order.

For example, strawberries should have all fully developed leaves picked off before being planted. Cut back to 6 inches such canes of raspberries, blackberries, currants and gooseberries. Grapevines are usually cut back, leaving one or two buds. Branches of fruit trees should be spaced about a foot apart up and down the trunk, pointing in different directions.

One of the most interesting points about fruit cultivation is the factor of pollination. In growing apple or pear trees, or luscious blueberries, more than one variety is needed to insure for pollination. This may be difficult in a small garden. There are, however, dwarf varieties of apple and pear, which yield excellent fruit just like a standard-size tree but take up little space.

All berry plants should be given clean cultivation, as are vegetables, unless there is an abundance of straw or other mulching material to maintain a permanent mulch. Manure mulch will take care of the fertilizer requirements of the fruit plants. When manure is not available, a fertilizer high in nitrogen should be used or regular applications of a good complete plant food to fortify the organic matter.

Babson Report

Rails on Upswing

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Stimulated by the smart upswing in economic activity, most of the nation's railroads posted improved earnings last year. While the course of business was a primary reason for the better showing, other factors should not be overlooked.

For example, reinstatement of the investment tax credit, which helped most companies in the industry for a good part of 1971, was applicable to all of 1972.

Since the railroads spend large amounts on capital programs, this can be a significant item. Still another factor was the growing importance of non-rail activities. In recent years, many carriers have turned to other fields either through outside acquisitions and/or development of company-owned assets to broaden their revenue base.

In many cases such a trend is becoming increasingly important. Another favorable factor for some lines has been the large grain shipments which arose out of the new trade agreements between this country and the USSR.

SINCE MOST of the elements that enabled the railroad industry to register betterment last year will continue in effect, we look for the rails to chalk up further gains in 1973. Once more, another good rise in real GNP will be the most telling consideration. While real GNP is not expected to advance quite as sharply as in 1972, the climb will still be of substantial size.

At the same time, Babson's Reports does not look for any change in the investment tax credit and, as with last year, some lines will benefit from large grain shipments (in this instance during the first half of the year) and further expansion of non-rail activities. In addition, another freight rate hike is possible.

This favorable scenario should not hide the fact that there will be uncertainties this year. For one thing, costs will be on the rise, and this will tend to be a restrictive force on profit margins. And in June contracts must be renegotiated for some 525,000 operating and nonoperating union employees.

In this respect, the major railroads and rail unions have tentatively agreed (way in advance) to a 10.7 percent wage-and-fringe increase over an 18-month period. This is considerably less than the demands originally made by some unions. Even with the favorable 1973 outlook, some lines, particularly in the East, face further deficits this year despite benefits from membership in AMTRAK (which has relieved many lines of the burden of passenger service).

On balance, however, further improvement appears likely for many rail lines.

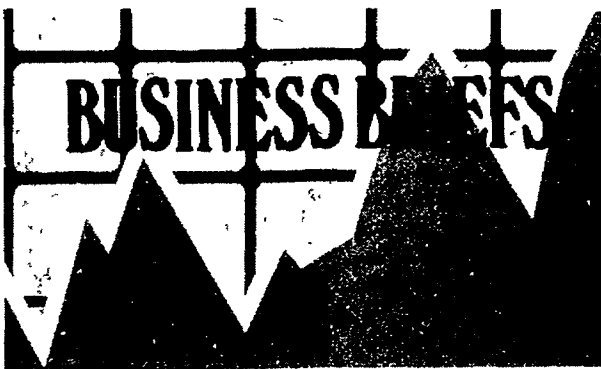

SEVERAL FACTORS indicate that the railroad industry may be operating in a more favorable atmosphere in the future. For one thing, the total freight transportation load is expected to show significant growth over the next decade, and the Department of Transportation predicts that the load will double by 1985.

Also, there are several legislative proposals under study which would be beneficial for the industry. Other positive developments include modernization programs, the possibility of a breakthrough in the antiquated work rules, and further efforts to bring about wider diversification.

Even though earnings—in many cases—are on the upswing, most of the rail stocks carry low P multiples, and many issues are currently selling near their 1972-1973 lows. Despite a more optimistic outlook, we hardly expect investors suddenly to embrace the railroad stocks.

We do, however, feel that some of these stocks offer at least modest appreciation possibilities over this year and into the next, and in many cases offer comparatively good income.

THE RESEARCH Department of Babson's Reports recommends purchase of Burlington Northern and Southern Pacific, currently, and suggests a hold position on the other leading rail stocks.

State Lawmaker

Raps Pay Raises

State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe, Republican from the 51st District, charged this week that analysts seeking ways to reduce the state's budget and to lessen the taxpayers' burden would do well to consider the staff pay raises in the Executive Office Budget.

A review of recommended pay increases for key members of the governor's personal staff, Sharpe says, reveals that sweeping salary raises are proposed.

The executive secretary to the governor, for example, would receive $37,500 in fiscal year 1973-74, compared to $27,957 last year, the state legislator pointed out.

This list, Sharpe added, is suggestive of many of the proposed pay increases recommended by the governor for his inner staff.

"These liberally increased executive salaries," Sharpe said, "are particularly interesting in light of the governor's official position that no pay increase for state elected officials making $17,500 a year is justified."

Overall, Sharpe continued, substantial departmental budget increases also have been recommended by the governor.

The largest increase would go for welfare. The Department of Social Services appropriation would be raised by $136,787,282, from $1.27 billion to $1.40 billion.

The Department of Labor appropriation would almost triple from $8.6 million to $22.1 million; the Department of Administration appropriation would be raised from $19.1 million to $48.5 million, and the Department of Mental Health budget would be increased by more than $30 million.

In toto, Sharpe said, the state budget would be raised from $3.25 billion to $3.71 billion—a hike of $458,777,358.

Ready for Boats

Boat launching facilities of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks are now open at Kensington Metropark near Milford.

Kensington Metropark, a 4,300-acre recreation facility, has opened two boat launching sites. One of the most popular boating and fishing areas in southeastern Michigan, Kent Lake covers 1,200 acres and panfish, bluegills, bass and crappies inhabit the lake.

Six boats may be launched at one time from the East Launching Site, where there is space for 60 cars and trailers and additional parking for cars only. The West Launching Site has space for 125 cars and trailers, with six to eight launchings available at one time at the 120-foot ramp.

There is no charge for launching, however, permits, which are good for the 1973 season, are required and available at the park office (and may also be used at Stony Creek Lake in Stony Creek Metropark near Utica). There is a 10 mile-per-hour speed limit on Kent Lake and no water skiing is permitted. Launching hours are sunrise to 9 p.m. and the park closes at 10 p.m.

Trailers, cars and boats are not permitted to remain overnight in Kensington Metropark.

Two park entrances are located along the I-96 (Grand River). Freeway between Milford and Brighton. For more information phone 685-1561 (Milford).

The Boat Rental Building at Kensington Metropark near Milford will open on Saturday, May 5, with daily operations through Sunday, September 30. There are 110 small aluminum rowboats for renting at reasonable rates. Persons may use their own outboard motors on boats rented from Kensington Park, however, these must be limited to 5 horsepower. The park does not provide any outboard motors for rent.

Hours are as follows: Saturday, May 5 through

He Is Risen!

The Reverend Robert V. Warren
Pastor,
First Baptist Church of Wixom

"Christ is Risen!" This was the thrilling note that rang through the early church as Christians saluted each other on joyful Easter Days! In response to this glorious greeting always came back the triumphant answer — "He is Risen Indeed!" How vital His resurrection and his life were to them!

Yes, as the hymnwriter has expressed it so beautifully — "I serve a risen Jesus, He's in the world today; He lives, He lives, Christ Jesus lives today! He walks with me and talks with me along life's narrow way. He lives, He lives, Salvation to impart! you ask me how I know He lives? He lives within my heart"

Yes, and yet another hymn expresses this same biblical truth: —

"Death cannot keep his prey; Jesus my Savior! He tore the bars away; Jesus my Lord! Up from the grave He arose with a mighty triumph o'er his foes; He arose the victor from the dark domain. And He lives forever with His saints to reign. He arose! He arose! Hallelujah! Christ-arose!"

Yes, Christ is risen! He is risen indeed!

My dear reader, do you know this living Christ today?

The great apostle Paul (Philippians 3:10) said "That I might know Him, and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being made conformable unto His death."

From this one verse of scripture, we note the importance of knowing Christ personally! Do you know Him, my friend? Not just know about Him — but know Him! Have you received Him (John 1:12)? Have you invited Him to be your Savior and Lord? If you were to ask me: "Pastor Warren, Do you know that you're married?", I would not reply, "I'm not sure", for I know I am. There was a day in my life, July 2, 1954, that I received my wife with the same certainty, one should be able to say in regard to his relationship with Jesus Christ. I have received Him as my Savior and Lord! Can you say — "I know Him!"

Secondly, we see that Paul wanted to know the power of His resurrection! Please note carefully — that could become a reality only as He was "Made conformable unto His death." (Phil. 3:10).

One can know Him as Savior, but one can never know Him as Lord until He dies to Himself! We must be made conformable unto His Death! Then, and only then will He be able to live His resurrection life in us! This is what Paul meant in Galatians 2:20 when he said — "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ Christ liveth in Me." Oh, that we might learn as Paul to "Die Daily" (I Corinthians 15:31) to self and to daily experience the power of His spirit, His life, living in and controlling us!

As Jesus said: "Except a grain of wheat (you and I) fall into the ground and die (to ourselves), it abideth alone; But if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." (John 12:24).

This, my friend, is knowing the power of His resurrection! But, before you can know this power in your life, you must know Him! "But as many as received Him, to them gave He the power to become children of God." (John 1:12) Can you say as the Hymnwriter — "He Lives Within My Heart!"

A bird carols its heart out. Pale pink blossoms proclaim the newness of life returning to dormant branches. Spring sunshine gleams on the white pillars of the church. Everywhere is joy and gladness as earth prepares to celebrate the Easter season.

Yet somewhere hearts are heavy. Pain blots out springtime ecstasies. Bird songs torment minds grayed with grief. What message can the Holy Day bring them?

In the darkest hour of the first Good Friday, Jesus, deserted by His followers, rejected by those He came to save, tortured and suffering, said, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Follow His example this Easter time. Whatever the situation, however bleak the outlook—commend your spirit, your very self to God. Your load will be lightened, your being restored.

Your church is an open door which calls you to the joyous realization of God's love as an unassailable source of strength in your life.

Nail Down Trade

Ah, but that's the fallacy. There are probably more horses in the circulation area of the South Lyon Herald, Northville Record - Novi News and Brighton Argus than most other similar size areas in the United States.

And the money earned by a good, well-trained farrier is sufficient incentive. For example, horses shod at the South Lyon school are "fitted" for $4 with no charge for trimming. A professional farrier, however, gets $20 per horse plus a nominal trimming charge.

A competent farrier can shoe eight to 10 horses per day ("We don't expect our trainees to completely shoe more than one each day," Rasmussen pointed out), so $160 to $200 per day can be earned.

"I wouldn't want it said that a farrier who earned $200 in one day didn't work for it," Rasmussen cautioned.

Reaume has about half the total experience of the South Lyon trio. He has been shoeing horses 21 years; in combined time, Rasmussen, Heslip and Wilfong count 44 years' experience.

The Howell 12-week course costs $900 which includes the forging and hand tools. The current course is Reaume's third consecutive session. The trio in South Lyon, when they have purchased and developed the local property they seek, will also offer fall, winter and spring courses.

Hartwick Pines

Trees Mark Historical Path

The Edward E. Hartwick Pines Park was dedicated to the State of Michigan in 1927 by Mrs. Karen B. Hartwick as a memorial to her husband.

The park, largest in the lower peninsula, covers more than 82 hundred acres. Within its boundaries are 85 acres of virgin white pine, one of the last remaining stands of the magnificent timber that was responsible for an exciting and colorful chapter in Michigan's history, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Many of the trees were old in the days when Indians stalked game over the soft pine needle forest floor; but the oldest of all is the mighty Monarch white pine. More than 300 years old, it measures 155 feet in height and nearly four and one-half feet in circumference.

The Monarch is large enough to furnish enough lumber for a five-room house and is valued at over $3,000. In addition to the white pines, the forest populace includes hemlock and oak.

The tallest hemlock measuring 109 feet tall while the largest oak has a height of 102 feet.

Overall, Hartwick Pines State Park stands as a monument to nature and as a tribute to the efforts of conservationists. In addition to the awesome trees, natural second growth and pine plantings are included in large areas of the park, presenting a complete cycle of forest evolution.

A showcase of nature, the area abounds in forest wildlife. Among the inhabitants are deer, raccoon, porcupine, chipmunks and a wide variety of songbirds. A family of eagles resides in one of the high-rise pines.

Posted walking trails through the woods are timed at one to two hours, depending upon the hiker. An automobile trail, eight miles in length, crosses the east branch of the famed Au Sable River twice. Directional signs are posted for both.

At the crest of a hill in the park stands the Chapel in the Pines. Guarded by its sentinels of nature, it offers visitors a shelter of serenity. In the heart of the park, a logging museum simulates a logging camp of Michigan's robust logging era.

The dining-room is complete with massive dining tables and benches, and bunks have been built into the walls. The kitchen contains both a cast iron stove and cooking utensils from the late 19th century.

Adjacent to the loggers' quarters is a blacksmith shop which displays an authentic bellows forge as well as many of the original smithy tools. Visitors to the museum area are greeted by the sight of massive logging wheels, too large to be displayed inside.

The famed Michigan wheels were manufactured by S. C. Overpack, a Manistee carriage maker, following demands of loggers who needed better methods of moving more logs at one time. Measuring ten feet high, the wheels extended log-moving operations into the warm weather months. Previously, the logs could be moved only in winter when they could be dragged on the snow and ice.

For many years the entire nation's lumbering operations were supplied with the big red wheels from Manistee. Some 65 different lumber companies used the wheels in Michigan alone.

Added to the outdoor display is a replica of a log-jammer—a device used to load logs—and a snow roller. The latter machine, consisting of a pair of huge rollers, was used to pack snow along the roads and trails, rather than plowing. This method provided excellent log-dragging routes, but sometimes resulted in havoc during sudden spring thaws.

Hartwick Pines State Park and its interpretative programs perpetuate the story of Michigan lumbering and forests in an unspoiled environment.

For campers and picnickers, it is an unbelievably tranquil oasis. The camping area contains 46 campsites with modern plumbing and electricity and the picnic area parking lot will accommodate 200 automobiles.

Hunting is permitted in season outside the virgin forest and posted areas, and both Bright and Glory lakes, within the park, present challenging fishing opportunities. A number of famed trout streams are within easy driving distance.

Doctor Need Told

LANSING—If a request doesn't work, perhaps financial pressure will.

In its last session the state legislature asked medical schools to produce more family doctors. By 1975, if progress in this direction is not apparent, lawmakers may stop asking and start telling. They can do this most dramatically by earmarking funds in the annual hefty appropriations for medical education.

The basic issue is the establishment of departments of family medicine at state supported schools. A joint legislative resolution was passed last year which urged that this be done to help solve the problem of Michigan residents who can't find a family doctor. Nothing much happened.

NOW STATE SENATOR Alvin DeGrow, who sponsored the earlier resolution, is the author of another. Already adopted by the Senate and under consideration in the House, it would create a committee to study the problems of education and the general practice of medicine in Michigan. Its final recommendations would be due Dec. 31, 1974, and could result in legislation ordering the schools to establish departments of family medicine and to add general practitioners to their faculties.

Many places like the Senator's home town of Pigeon, population: 1,191, suffer from a shortage of family physicians. So do larger communities, the inner city and even suburbs. The Michigan State Medical Society is concerned about the distribution of physicians and is cooperating with the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians in its efforts to encourage action in the medical schools.

Both professional groups are cooperating in school based programs to place medical students in "preceptorships" (a fancy term for on-the-job training) with family physicians. Family Practice Clubs at medical schools meet in the evening and bring students together with family doctors. These sessions are very popular with students, but the extracurricular and off campus experience doesn't seem to compensate for classroom nudging toward specialization which most students get from the teaching staffs.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS are moving, but at different paces, and not as fast as is needed. Among suggestions for improvement is that at least one physician in private practice be included on medical school selection committees. MSU's Osteopathic college last year established a department of family medicine with Dr. Robert C. Ward, who came from private practice, as its head. The MSU Human Medicine College, under urging from Dean Andrew D. Hunt Jr., is trying to expose more students to family practice by setting up plans for residencies in Family Practice.

Wayne University's medical school is making efforts for primary health care aimed at medical service to the community in clinics rather than family practice, but this is mostly theory rather than practice. It is moving in the family practice area slowly, if at all.

BECAUSE MEDICAL specialists are needed and University of Michigan has a world-wide reputation in this field, it is hard for the staff there to turn its attention to family practice, even though that's where the action obviously is. U-M medical staff has organized a program in conjunction with the other two medical schools where graduating students will be trained in family practice, but if remains to be seen how much enthusiasm the U-M staff will maintain.

Medical school staffs are composed in large part by people who prefer to dedicate their lives to science and research rather than practice. It is not unnatural that their interests in specialization should be adopted or even sold to students as aspirations for their own careers. Staff members have a great deal to say about how the medical school will function, who the other teachers will be, and where emphasis for graduates shall be made.

WHEN STUDENTS are surrounded with encouragement to specialize, some effort must come from elsewhere to speak for Michigan families who need the services of family physicians. It is the family's tax dollars which pay for the medical education and legislators are their representatives and a proper point for them to turn for help.

Unless medical educators wake up and show more signs of meeting the public's needs, they can expect to see some strings tied to appropriation bills which fund the school. This is a blunt way to make them more responsive to needs of the people who pay their salaries.

Such restrictions are abhorrent to all educators who feel they should be left free to function as they chose once they are selected for their staff positions. The need for such restrictions is lamentable.

Medical educators — administrators and faculties — could well turn their attention to this problem now, rather than waiting for a legislative order. Then the people of Michigan might not have to wait so long for more family doctors.

Shutout Brighton 2-0 in Opener

Kritch, Bishop Hurl Mustangs to Win

It's pretty obvious what's going on.

It's all part of a plot - communist inspired, no doubt - to cast aspersions on the credibility of the newspaper. Less than three days after the paper carrying the story about the pitching of the Northville baseball team being somewhat of a question mark hit the stands, Ed Kritch and Joe Bishop, the two Mustang hurlers, combined forces to pitch shutout victory over Brighton in the season opener.

Kritch, in particular, is at fault. Judging from his performance against the Brighton Bulldogs, last Friday, it was obvious that the junior lefthander had either not read those lines about his inexperience and need for a lot of work or was merely disregarding them. Whatever the case, the 5'9" southpaw demonstrated nothing that even vaguely resembled inexperience in the season's opener as he was credited with his first win of the season.

Kritch pitched the first four innings and gave up two hits, while walking one and striking out two.

Bishop came on in the fourth and hurled the last three innings, yielding three hits and one base on balls, but striking out five would-be Brighton hitters.

Chuck Shonta, coach of the Northville nine, was highly pleased with the performance. "We knew what Bishop could do, but Kritch was something of a question mark," stated the Mustang mentor. "This is his first of pitching and he's got a lot to learn out there, but he did a heckuva job against Brighton."

"He looked like a veteran out there," Shonta continued. "He's not overpowering fast, but he's got a big hooker and he mixes his pitches well. He kept their hitters off balance. They just couldn't get him figured out."

Shonta was almost as pleased with the way Kritch picked a runner off first base in the second inning.

"You can't cheat on him," commented Shonta. "He's got a real quick move to first and he caught that guy leaning. There was no doubt about it - Eddie got him by a mile."

Northville's scoring was confined to a pair of unearned runs in the first inning.

With one out, Bart Taylor singled to left. Randy Oginski followed with a ground ball to the left side of the infield, but the Brighton shortstop rifled the ball into right field trying to catch Taylor at second and Taylor moved around to third, while Oginski sprinted into second.

Dan Coleman then hit another grounder to the Brighton shortstop and again he mishandled it as the big Mustang first sacker reached first safely to load the bases.

Steve Serkaian then batted in the first Northville run of the season as he grounded to the second baseman who flipped to the shortstop to force Coleman at second while Taylor raced in from third.

John Sherman then singled to left to bring in Oginski with the second Mustang run.

A walk to Wally Reed loaded the bases, but the Brighton hurler got out of the inning without allowing any further runs. Of course, with Kritch and Bishop on the mound, those two unearned first inning runs were all Northville needed.

Shonta was not displeased with his team's offensive efforts in spite of the fact they resulted in only two unearned runs.

"We were hitting the ball well and that's the important thing," he observed. "We had just six hits, but we were hitting the ball hard. Wally Reed hit a shot down the third base line about four feet off the ground that the third baseman managed to grab and Steve Serkaian hit a long fly to right field in the third that their man caught right in front of the fence."

"Eventhough we only got six hits, only three of our players went down on strikes," noted Shonta.

"That shows that we were getting wood on the ball. That's what counts at this stage of the season."

Sherman, Northville's smooth fielding second sacker, was the top Mustang hitter as he poked a pair of safeties.

O'Brien, Taylor, Oginski, and Coleman. Coleman's second inning two-bagger was the only extra base blow for the Mustangs.

But in the final analysis it was the pitching which gave the Northville nine it's opening game victory.

Cole Faces Top Runners At Mansfield

Guy Cole, one of the top distance runners ever to attend Northville High School, took on some of the country's top-rated high school cinder competition last Sunday when he participated in the prestigious Mansfield Relays in Mansfield, Ohio.

The junior distance ace acquitted himself nicely.

Cole turned in a fine 4:34.3 clocking, just one-tenth of a second off the school record of 4:34.2 clocking turned in by Bill Harrison in 1967 and the second fastest mile ever run by a Northville prep.

Where did he finish?

Well...

"I was sixth in my heat," he said. "There were 250 runners entered in the mile down there."

Overall, Northville track coach Ralph Redmond estimated his distance ace finished somewhere toward the middle of the pack. "There were an awful lot of kids running in the 4:20's," he said. "I've never seen so many good high school milers."

Cole was one of four Mustang runners making the trip to Mansfield this year. Tom Coram turned in a 2:05.2 clocking in winning his heat in the 880, while junior Kevin Kofler recorded a 4:54.9 clocking in the mile and sophomore Robbie Foust had a 2:11.2 half-mile.

"We don't go down there expecting to win many points," said Redmond, "but I think it's a good experience. I think it's good for us to meet really top-notch competition. It gives us something to shoot for."

Cole runs 4:34.3 mile.

To 5-1 Victory

Celani's Bat Paces Novi

Novi had five hits and South Lyon had five hits.

Novi committed six errors and South Lyon committed two errors.

Eleven Wildcat batters struck out, while just three Lion hitters went down on strikes.

And Novi left four men on base, while the Lions were stranding a total of ten.

So who won the game? Novi, of course.

"By looking at the statistics and looking at the scoreboard, I guess you'd have to say the wrong team won the game," commented Rick Trudeau, the young Wildcat coach now in his second year at the helm of the Novi baseball program. "But we whipped them 5-1 and it wasn't really that close."

The big difference in the game was the booming bat of Tom Celani, Novi's stocky fireplug of a third baseman.

In the bottom of the first inning with South Lyon on top 1-0, the big third sacker came to the plate with Dan Kardell on first base and promptly belted a long, line drive triple into deep left-centerfield that brought Kardell in from first with the tying run. And when the South Lyon shortstop bobbled the relay from the leftfielder, Celani steamed in from third with what proved to be the decisive tally.

Celani did it again in the fifth. This time he picked out one of Roger Cash's fast balls and drilled it even farther than he had the first. By the time the leftfielder finally caught up with the long line drive, Celani had circled the bases for a four-bagger - the first Wildcat home run of the season.

All told, the stocky slugger collected two hits, scored two runs, and collected two rbi's. "Tom really ripped the ball," reported Trudeau. "He really hit a couple of shots. There's no doubt about it, we won the game because of one man's big stick."

While Celani was doing the job at the plate, John Pan-talone, the Novi hurler, was doing the job on the mound. The senior southpaw gave up five hits, while striking out three and issuing four walks, in pitching his teammates to victory in their first Southeastern Conference game of the season.

In addition, Pantalone aided his own cause by contributing a run-producing double to the Novi attack.

Pantalone had to survive a rocky first inning in which the Lions picked up their lone run of the game. Paul McIntyre, the lead-off man, sliced a double to right, but was cut down trying to stretch it into a triple, as second baseman Eddie Brown took a relay from Kardell in right and fired a strike to Celani at third.

A walk and two errors by the shortstop loaded the bases, however, and the Lions scored when Roger Cash laid down a suicide squeeze bunt. Another walk re-loaded the bases, but Pantalone got Jeff Stevens for the third out to end the threat.

The Lions loaded the sacks again in the fifth on a single and two more walks, but once again Pantalone escaped unscathed. Other than the Lion uprisings in the first and fifth, Pantalone was in control all the way.

After the South Lyon run in the first, the Wildcats moved out in front in the bottom of that frame on Celani's triple.

They added two more runs in the third. Jerry Cockrell singled and stole second. Kardell walked and both runners advanced to second and third on a passed ball. Cash then retired Celani and Dave Brown on strikes, but not before he wild pitched Cockrell in from third with the third Novi run.

With two down, Pantalone belted a double to right that brought in Kardell from second base.

Celani's fifth inning round tripper completed the Novi scoring.

"We lost the battle of the statistics," commented

Trudeau, "but I think the reason we won is that we played well as a team. For the first time in a long time the guys were pulling for each other on the bench and hustling in the field. That's what it takes to be a winner."

Lions Nip Novi Jayvees

"When we scored four runs in the top of the seventh and went ahead 11-7, I said to myself - hey, we've got a victory," admitted Novi junior varsity baseball coach Robert Weinburger.

But Weinburger's been around long enough to know better.

The opponents of his Novi nine, the South Lyon Jayvees, tied the score with four runs of their own in the bottom of the seventh and then won it 12-11 with another run in the bottom of the eighth.

With two outs and nobody on, the Lions' Bob Griswold singled, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch, and then crossed the plate with the winning run on another wild pitch.

Griswold's decisive run was typical of the whole game. A trio of Novi pitchers gave up seven hits, but what really hurt the Wildcat's victory effort were six errors and 11 bases on balls.

"It was a typical opening junior varsity baseball game," commented Weinburger. "I've been coaching the Jayvees here at Novi for the last four years and almost every opening game is the same."

The problem is that the Novi baseball field is under water most of the spring.

"I don't wonder that our pitching and fielding were bad," said Weinburger. "Our infielders haven't had any outdoor infield practice and our pitchers haven't been able to throw off a mound yet this year. Most teams practice themselves into shape, we have to play ourselves into shape."

It was a see-saw game from the start. South Lyon jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the first, Novi went ahead 4-3 in the third, South Lyon tied it 4-4 in the fourth, Novi went ahead 6-4 in the fifth and 7-4 in the sixth, the Lions tied it 7-7 in the bottom of the sixth, Novi made it 11-7 in the top of the seventh, South Lyon tied it 11-11 in the second half of the inning and then won it in the eighth.

Weinburger was pleased with one aspect of his teams' performance - the hitting. Paul Bosco and Dave Piotrowicz each collected three hits and Gary Ford and Pat McAllen each had a pair of safeties. The big blow for Novi, however, was a bases loaded triple in the top of the seventh by Mike Collins.

McAllen, John Henson, and Bill Barr tolled on the mound for the Wildcats.

Mustangs Fall to Mott

Northville's stripped down track team opened its 1973 Western Six Conference season against the fleet and powerful Corsairs from Waterford Mott last week expecting the worst.

But -surprisingly- the final results were nowhere near as bad as anticipated.

Mott ended up on top 71-52, but, as Coach Ralph Redmond pointed out, that hardly constitutes a romp.

"They don't have the depth that Churchill has," said the Mustang mentor of the waterford squad "but as far as outstanding front line performers go - they're loaded. They've got a 50 foot shot put in Sheldon and a 14 foot pole vaulter in Gibbons. Lawrence is tough in the hurdles; they've got Grace in the 880; and they have three 10.3 sprinters. That's a lot of talent."

"Our goal in that meet," Redmond continued, "was to keep it close and I think we met that goal. Their coach told me they've won all six of their meets so far this year and that we and Linden were the only teams that were even close."

The loss to Mott came in the second meet of the season for Redmond's Mustangs. In their non-conference season opener Tuesday, the Mustangs romped over Brighton and River Rouge in a triangular meet.

Northville had 90 points, while Brighton was second with 35 and Rouge third with 29.

Redmond's strategy in the Mott meet was to try to surprise the Corsairs in the field events - their strength; and then win the first running event - the 880 relay.

The strategy worked - partly. The 880 relay team defeated the Mott quartet. And Jim Porterfield had the finest day of his career as he upset defending Western Six champion and All-State football player Gordon Sheldon in the shot put. But Mott picked up points in other areas and had a comfortable 26-10 lead at the end of the field event competition.

Porterfield's effort was particularly noteworthy. His 50'3" put not only topped Sheldon whose best effort was a 49'6" toss, but also tied the team record set by Fred Hicks in 1969.

"It was no fluke either," commented Redmond of Porterfield's record-tying performance. "He also had puts of 50'1" and 49'9". It was the best day of putting he's ever had. He was really ready for the meet."

Northville had just four other winners in addition to Porterfield and the 880 relay team. The mile relay team won with a 3:47.3 clocking and Bob Bloomhuff won the 440 (54.7), Tom Coram won the mile (4:53.8), and Guy Cole led a one-two-three sweep in the two mile.

Cole coasted across the finish line in 10:51.8, while Dave Beers and Dan Earehart copped second and third place.

Second place performances were turned in by Bill Witek in the pole vault (12'), Robbie Foust in the 880 (2:10.3), Don Pickren in the high hurdles (17.0), and Dennis Keegan in the low hurdles (23.1).

The Mustangs dominated the triangular meet with Brighton and River Rouge, winning 10 of the 15 events. "The most notable thing about that meet," Redmond commented, "was that the temperature was 34 degrees and it was snowing and sleeting. We decided to go ahead with the meet, but we told our boys not to extend themselves if they didn't have to. We didn't want any injuries. The other coaches told their boys the same thing."

Northville was easily the best of the three teams. River Rouge had an outstanding sprinter named Keith Jackson who coasted to wins in the 100 and 220 and anchored Rouge's 440 yard relay team to a win. And Brighton's Jim Hutton won the long jump (18'3") and the 180 yard low hurdles (22.3).

But the Mustangs won everything else.

In the field events, Porterfield won the shot put (46'4"), Dave Harrison won the high jump (5'5"), and Bill Witek won the pole vault (9'6").

In the running events Bloomhuff won the 440 (58.7); Mike Anusbigian led a one-two-three Northville finish in the 880 (2:15); Coram won the mile (5:02.2); and Cole led a one-two-three Northville sweep in the two mile (11:00.0).

Other Northville winners were Pickren in the high hurdles (17.2); the 880 relay team of Cole, Coram, Bloomhuff, and Bill Pettit (1:40.2); and the mile relay team of Bloomhuff, Anusbigian, Coram, and Tim Taggart (3:56).

Redmond also singled out for note the second place finish of Pettit in the 100 yard dash. Pettit turned in a wind-assisted 10.6 clocking.

Redmond also reported that Jackson, the Rouge speedster who turns the 100 in 9.8 seconds, managed to overtake the 210-pound Porterfield on the anchor leg of the 440 relay.

"He made Big Jim look like a caboose," chortled Redmond.

The big shot putter had his moment of glory in the Waterford Mott meet.

'The Ville is Back'

Netters Squash Trojans

Coach Bob Simpson had little trouble keeping his spirits high during the 1972 season in spite of the fact that his Northville tennis team was struggling to a 2-12 dual meet record.

Noting that his squad was comprised almost entirely of sophomores and freshmen, Simpson made a motto of the phrase - "The Ville will rise again."

Last week the Northville netters began that predicted ascendancy as they opened up the 1973 season with a 4-3 loss to Plymouth and a 7-0 trouncing of Clarenceville.

Simpson was totally pleased with the first week showing. Not even the loss to Plymouth was without its redeeming aspects.

"Plymouth is always tough for us in tennis," noted the Mustang coach. "Last year they wiped us out 7-0. Under the circumstances, I'd say a 4-3 loss showed a great deal of progress."

And as for the 7-0 victory over Clarenceville Friday, Simpson couldn't have asked for anything more.

"This is my fourth year as tennis coach here at Northville," he noted, "and this is the first time we've ever shut anybody out. There's no doubt about it, the Ville is definitely back."

In spite of Simpson's abundance of returning lettermen, it was the newcomers to the Mustang tennis team who posted the three victories over Plymouth.

After Greg Boll and Frank Knott had fallen in the first and second singles matches, junior transfer student John Oatey recorded the first Northville tennis victory of the season by topping his opponent in the third singles bracket 7-5, 6-3.

And following on the heels of Oatey's triumph, Jamie "Billie Jean" Boshoven, the first girl to ever play on a boy's varsity athletic team at Northville, opened her varsity career by dumping her opponent in the fourth singles bracket 7-5, 6-3. Coincidentally, Plymouth also had a girl playing fourth singles.

In the doubles matches, it was again the newcomers to the Northville team who copped the only victory. Team co-captain Cary Eaker and Rick Norton lost at first doubles and Jon Sewell and Jim Bonamici lost in the second doubles pairing. But Bob Bretz and Bob Wright, the only seniors on the 1973 Northville team, brought Northville its lone doubles' victory, dumping their Plymouth opponents 6-2, 6-1 in the third doubles competition.

Everyone was a winner against Clarenceville. Greg Boll, the top Mustang racketeer, notched his first win of the season, even though he had to go three sets to do it, and Frank Knott also picked up his first win, easily disposing of his opponent 6-2, 6-3.

Oatey and "Billie Jean" each upped their season's records to 2-0 with easy wins at third and fourth singles. Miss Boshoven, meeting her first male opponent, stroked her way to an easy 6-2, 6-2 victory.

In doubles, Norton and Eaker put away the top Clarenceville tandem without losing a game (6-0, 6-0); and Sewell and Bonamici won at second doubles 6-2, 6-3. In the closest match of the afternoon, John Folino and Rob Bowman, playing third doubles, lost the first set 5-7; evened the match with a 6-4 win in the second set, and then made it a perfect 7-0 day for the Mustang by taking the decisive third set on a tie-breaker.

Simpson could well be right. It appears that "The Ville is indeed on the way back."

UP IN THE AIR—The 9'6" vault turned in by Mustang Bill Witek in topping the competition in Northville's triangular meet with Brighton and River Rouge was a sub-par effort for the senior vaulter. But then it was a sub-par day. The temperature hovered around the 34 degree mark and top performers like Witek saved their all-out efforts for better weather.

Miss National Titles

Dales Fail in Finals

Those two Northville brothers playing on teams competing for national championships in age-group hockey, both returned home with long faces last week. Jimmy Dales' Detroit Beech

Electric hockey club finished second in the Bantam (13-14) division, while Donny Dales' Detroit Blazers finished third in the PeeWee (12-13) national championship competition. Beech Electric was pitted against a Moundville, Minnesota squad they had defeated for the national championship in the PeeWee division two years ago. Each team that met in the finals of the Bantam competition had eight players who had also played in that 1971 PeeWee championship game.

This time the Minnesota gained the upper hand and won the Bantam championship by edging Beech Electric 6-5 in triple overtime. Dales, who is also a top performer on the Northville High School golf team, had four goals and 13 assists in the five game national championship tourney.

Donny Dales' PeeWee club had to settle for third place after they were upset 3-2 by Long Island, New York, in overtime in the semi-final game. The Blazers were officially awarded third place when the Long Island squad upset Massachusetts in the finals for the PeeWee division championship.

Don had two goals and six assists in the four Blazer contests.

Novi Bowlers Present Awards

Trophies to the top teams and top individual performers were awarded Monday as the Novi High School bowling League brought its 1972-73 season to a close with a banquet at the Country Lanes

Bowling Alley in Farmington. Trophies were presented to the members of each of the top three teams, while additional trophies were awarded to the male and female with both the high single game score and the high series during the season.

Dave Jackson won the trophy for the high game rolled by a boy and Steve Bell picked up the trophy for high series by a boy.

Corrine Colton copped honors for high single game score by a girl, while Jenny Sibole had the top series posted by a girl.

Members of the first place team were Jenny Sibole, Tim Skeltis, Dave Jackson, and Steve Bell.

On the second place team were Paula Branch, Diane Balagna, Kim Spielman, and Teri McGahey.

Third place trophies went to Richard Ortwine and Mark Adams.

Golf League Begins Season

Northville Golf League, involving some 36 persons, launched its 25th season this week at Salem Hills Golf Course.

The league involves 18 two-member teams.

President of the league this year is Raymond Spear. The vice-president is Ray Williams, and Ed Welch is secretary-treasurer again, while William Kinnaird is a member of the board of directors.

Members golf each Tuesday afternoon.

Mustang of the Week

Mustang of the Week honors go to Jim Porterfield. The husky, 200-pound junior tied Fred Hick's 1969 school record in the shot put with a 50'3" put against Waterford Mott Thursday. In addition to tying the school record, Porterfield upset defending Western Six Conference shot put champion Gordon Sheldon - the only person to beat him in dual meet competition last year.

Novi Speller Takes Second

It looks like Ricky Faulkner is going to have to be content with a second place finish in the regional competition of the Detroit Metropolitan Spelling Bee.

The seventh grader at Novi Middle School was awarded second place in regional competition at the Highland Elementary School in Milford two weeks ago and thus will represent the district as an alternate in the finals of the spelling bee scheduled for May 9 in Detroit.

However, Carol Wyborski, a teacher at Novi Middle School, feels her prize student has a valid complaint and justifiable claim at the regional title.

The field had been whittled down to just three competitors when the girl who eventually won the regional championship spelled "dumbell" - "d-u-m-b-e-l-l." After a pause one of the judges interrupted, saying "I'm sorry you..." at which time the young lady added the final "l."

The judges huddled and decided to ask the girl to spell the word again - which she did, this time including both "l's."

After the bee was over Mrs. Wyborski and Ricky's father, Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner of the Novi Police Force, attempted to protest the judge's decision to allow the girl to re-spell the word after she had already been told by one judge that her original spelling was incorrect.

Their efforts were rebuffed with the ruling that protests must be made before the end of the competition.

A second appeal to the sponsors of the contest was also rejected even though it was pointed out that the rule book does not say protests must be lodged before the competition is completed. "We don't make the rules, we just sponsor the contest," said a spokesman.

And so, it looks like young Rick Falkner is just going to have to wait for next year.

A water hammer is not a new type of tool! Rather, it is a thump in the pipe when a faucet is turned off. The more quickly the faucet is turned off, the more violent the hammering becomes. This is caused by the momentum of the water as it flows in the pipes. If you stop the flow from the faucet without stopping the flow at the other end of the pipe, hammering is bound to result from this action. ## Language Students Win Awards

Students in Northville High's foreign language classes came home with an abundance of awards from Foreign Language Day held last week Wednesday at Central Michigan University.

More than 2,000 Michigan high school students participated in the first Foreign Language Day.

Competition included skits, songs, literary readings and folk dances. Students from Northville's French, German and Spanish classes attended.

First place honors in the French skit division went to second, third and fourth year students of Miss Susan Costello. The students presented "Blanche Neige" ("Snow White").

Second place honors in the song division went to five Northville students who sang three old French songs with flute accompaniment.

Singers included Debbie Riggs, Sheila Murray, Martha Whiteside and Liz Peace. Sheri Seiler played the flute. Two Northville groups tied for second place in the French literary readings. They included Robin Couse, Ted Slabey and Sherrie Ellison. Ted and Sherrie did a reading together.

In the German competition, Anita Hammer and Vena Hosler took first place with two original German songs composed by Anita's father, Reinhold Hammer. They were accompanied by guitar.

Taking second place honors in a group literary reading were Karen Zabell, John Regenhart, Scott Slocum and Diana Dye.

They are all students in Mrs. Helga Guiguer's German classes.

While at Central Michigan, the Northville students also had an opportunity to attend films, sing-alongs and cultural sessions conducted by university instructors from Central Michigan.

Student Show Plans

Urge Tree Planting in City

With some 13 organizations represented, the Northville Beautification Commission Saturday encouraged sponsorship of improvement projects within the city.

Chief among the suggested improvements was a "Plant A Tree in Northville" campaign, which according to Commission Chairman Paul Vernon will be concentrated in the downtown area.

Trees and planter boxes, as now situated on Main Street adjacent the bowling alley parking lot, are envisioned elsewhere in the downtown section.

Mrs. Jayti gave the project its initial boost by offering to purchase several of the trees. Vernon, who also is a councilman, has requested that the city furnish the planters.

Among other projects in the works are general cleanup of the city; repair and improvement of existing planters; refurbishing and expanding flower baskets that are hung in the downtown area each year; erection of rustic "Welcome to Northville" signs; etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon, together with residents of the Novi Street area, launched the general cleanup drive the following day, Sunday, with cleanup of the south shoulder of Eight Mile Road from Novi Street to the railroad viaduct

Highlighting the annual beautification kickoff meeting was a slide presentation by the high school drafting class students, who recently completed an improvement plan for the downtown section.

(The presentation was made also to the city council Monday and the Northville Rotary Club on Tuesday.)

The detailed plans call for an "inexpensive" refacing of store fronts, eliminating some of the curbside parking, as has been done in Ann Arbor, to provide for planting of trees; conversion of the municipal parking lot, located between the Northville Insurance and Northville Drug Store buildings, into a park; and placement of deck parking over the existing Northville Lanes parking lot at Center and Main.

The latter is aimed at replacing parking spaces lots eliminated elsewhere.

The plan suggests no closing of streets. However, it does suggest entrance to the deck parking lot off Mary Alexander Court instead of through the area suggested for the park.

In the center of the park, which the students believe could become the focal point of the downtown area, a replica of the city's historic well is planned. Special arrangement of trees, shrubs, flowers and park benches around the well is suggested in the plan.

The student project was suggested by the Beautification Commission, explained Vernon, but students were "given a complete free hand in doing what they felt best." The lone guiding suggestion of their instructor was to develop inexpensive store-front modifications.

Vernon, who along with other officials have praised students for their efforts, emphasized that such a project, if undertaken by professionals, would have cost thousands of dollars.

Township Splits

Remodeling Cost

Payment of $1,547.19 for remodeling of the balcony of the Northville Library was approved last week by township board members.

The bill represents half of the $3,094.39 remodeling cost which the city and township shared.

In other action last week, township trustees received a letter of resignation from Paul DeJohn who has resigned as township constable and from the water and sewer commission because he is moving to Gregory, Michigan.

Trustees directed Supervisor Lawrence Wright to write a letter of appreciation to DeJohn.

Trustee Richard Mitchell told board members that the fire study committee, of which he is chairman, will be meeting in May to discuss the ordinance being prepared by the township's attorney creating a fire department.

The ordinance must be adopted by the township board before a fire marshal can be hired, the attorney has explained.

The ordinance would create a fire department "on paper only," trustees have said. The fire marshal could be used to supervise construction of the proposed township hall-police-fire station complex, fire study committee members have suggested.

Trustees also directed the supervisor, engineer and attorney to meet with Wayne County to determine when a sanitary sewer may be installed along Haggerty Road.

Currently, the township is also discussing with Livonia purchase of space in Livonia's sewer system.

Mailmen Reading Meters?

Someday, the mailman may do more than just deposit bills and letters in a mailbox—he will also read your light or gas meters and, on occasion, stop to ask you a few questions for independent research groups.

And there may be more on the walls of your local post office than the latest rogues' gallery—you'll be able to see and buy, for example, prints from the National Gallery of Art.

These are only samples of the marketing possibilities open to the U. S. Postal Service, say a marketing professor and a management specialist, but they are the kinds of services the post office will need to provide "for its own survival."

The study of the postal service's marketing potential was done by Thomas V.

Greer, associate professor of marketing at the University of Maryland, and John G. Malcolm, management intern in the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Their report is published in the winter issue of MSU Business Topics, published by the Graduate School of Business Administration at Michigan State University.

Bill Aids Year-Round Education

By REESA PESICK

LANSING—The State Senate Committee on Education voted Thursday to bring a bill before the Senate that would allow enrolled students, not necessarily in attendance, to be counted for State Aid purposes.

The bill is essential to schools that implement a year-round education system, said Raymond E. Spear, Superintendent of Northville Public Schools, who spoke to committee members.

Northville now employs an experimental year-round school program, and Spear indicated that there are numerous school districts in the nation as well as in Michigan that are considering its use.

He said that the bill would give greater flexibility to enact a year-round school. Spear indicated that passage of the bill would give a more serious consideration of a year-round school.

He said YRS today has to be implemented to meet the educational and financial demands now being placed on public schools in Michigan. Spear said he endorses the new year-round school calendar because of the many benefits.

"The system is more educationally sound," he said. "It educationally lends itself to regular living patterns rather than from June to September."

He indicated that the parents of the children now in the program are very supportive of it.

"Parents are finding it more acceptable," Spear said. "We think interest is growing and support is growing."

He said teachers would be working the same 188 days as do traditional teachers.

The superintendent emphasized that the year-round school is not intended to speed up the educational process, but rather to make it more enjoyable for the children.

A new student coming into the district, he added, would be tested to determine what level he should be placed at.

The year-round system, the first to be employed in Michigan, is based now at Amerman Elementary School.

The bill, which is essential to the year-round school system, will be taken up in the Senate in the first week of May.

FUNDS FOR CRIPPLED—Students of Northville High School will join with Northville Rotarians in selling miniature lilies this coming weekend as a way of raising money for crippled children of the county. The project, sponsored annually by the Rotary Club, is under the direction of C. A. Smith. The lilies will be sold in downtown stores and on street corners Friday and Saturday. Above, ready to start selling, are high schoolers (l to r) Donna Grigg, Sharon Wilson and Linda Wood.

Motion by Councilman Follino support by Councilman Vernon to recommend new SDM license for Joseph G. Snage, Jr. to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. Carried.

Letter from John Carlo requesting permission to hold motorcycle races at the Northville Downs on June 2, August 11 and September 15, 1973. Last fall it was agreed by Council to give sponsors of cycle racing time to work with their Association then come back to Council with their findings. This will be held up until next meeting so more information can be gathered.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Harry Webster, President of the Northville Snowdrifters in Northville stated that he was concerned with the bad publicity their club was given as a result of statements made at the last Council meeting by Council and the City Manager on the violations of Snow Makers during the snow storm on the weekend of March 17, 1973.

City Manager stated that his criticism was not meant to be directed at the snowdrifters but only to people who missed snow machines. He also noted that he personally did not recognize anyone violating the ordinance as members of their club.

Council agreed that the letter sent to the Snowdrifter Club was meant as a suggestion that they assist in encouraging all snow mobilizers to observe the City ordinance.

Mayor Allen advised that Council review ordinance before next winter to see if changes need to be made.

PUBLIC HEARING—TRAILER ORDINANCE: City Manager presented Councilman Vernon's draft to Council with his recommendation that the ordinance be approved with the change which it is written as it contains all the items Council has discussed in previous public hearings.

Council explained that they would like for this ordinance to resolve existing and potential problems yet try to allow for hardship cases.

Mr. Bob Schreiner, 613 Novi Ave., inquired if the ordinance would apply only to parking of trailers outdoors. Council replied that this ordinance would affect only those trailers stored in the open, not those inside of a garage.

Mr. Frank Meade, 330 Linden, stated that his property is situated so that he could not park his trailer in any other place except in front of his garage. City Manager replied that a special permit for such situations may be obtained for 30 days, or one year—depending on circumstance. If action by the City Manager is unsatisfactory for either the owner or neighbor who may not favor permit they may appeal directly to the City Council.

City Attorney stated that ordinance for parking on track should be written into this ordinance, parking in M-1 and T-1 and T-2 zoning districts, and also clarify the first section.

Motion by Councilman Follino to publish trailer ordinance in Northville Record as amended and continue public hearing.

Motion failed for lack of support.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Mayor Allen to amend revised ordinance and amendments and that ordinance be published in Northville Record. Carried.

DISTRICT COURT REPORT: City Attorney reported that all civil cases are started and finished in the Plymouth office. He also explained that there was an increase in 1972 in case load of more than 50 percent in Northville over previous year; therefore, share of the 1972 Budget is 42 1/4 percent Northville's share of the expenses is much higher but income to the city from the court rose from $43,930 in 1971 to $62,354.85 in 1972.

Thus, City Attorney's recommendation is that this increase is legitimate.

LEXINGTON COMMONS NORTH STORM DRAIN: Based on recommendation by Councilman Follino, Council instructed City Manager to Councilman Vernon to urge them that immediate action be taken to permanently improve appearance of area used for a sliding basin and pond at Taft and 8 Mile Rd.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Follino to extend permit for six months to the Browns for retention area in Lexington Commons North so they may continue negotiations for property. Carried.

RADIO CONTROL CENTER CONSOLE: Based on City Manager's and Chief Samuel Elkins recommendation, motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Follino to accept Motorola Communications & Electronics low bid on the Radio Control Center Console. Carried.

ANTENNA TOWER: Based on recommendation by City Manager motion by Councilman Follino support by Councilman Vernon to reject bid from Hun-Ray due to being over the estimated price. Carried.

PARKING METERS: City Manager reported that Royal Oak has answered an advertisement the City placed in a municipal magazine several months ago to sell parking meters, and he would like authorization to negotiate their sale.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Follino to pass resolution waiving bids and authorizing the sale of parking meters. Carried.

Mayor Allen suggested that we save a parking meter for the historical museum.

EXPANSION OF LIBRARY: City Manager reported that full cost for expansion was $3,094, and township would like to know how they wished them to pay their share. Council voiced preference for cash payment rather than changing the rental rates.

ELECTION WORKERS RAISE: Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Follino to instruct City Manager to increase election workers salaries from $1.50 and $1.80 for leaders to $1.80 and $2.05 respectively, in order to get in line with surrounding communities. Carried.

MISC: City Manager reported that a trailer court is in the planning in the Township close to an entrance to the City. Mayor Allen stated that the City facilities for such a complex may not withstand the additional CFS or it might cross off sewage facilities for new business and industry in the City.

Council authorized City Manager to inquire with the Wayne County DPW on this subject and to attend the meeting of the Township Plan Commission.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:45 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Michele A. Sakalan

SHORT ORDER COOKS—Scott Monheimer (left) and Pat Alexander, a pair of third graders at Novi's Village Oaks Elementary School, put the finishing touches on a pizza they will sell in their school "restaurant." The project of a trio of second and third grade teachers, the restaurants teach the youngsters everything from math, science, and communication skills to marketing and socialization techniques in a "real life" setting.

At Village Oaks Restaurants

Pepperoni and Cupcakes on Menu

By PHILIP JEROME

Three restaurants are currently open and doing a brisk business in Novi's Village Oaks Elementary School.

One is a pizza parlor, while the other two are bakeries, specializing in cupcakes.

And while none of the restaurants will ever challenge the operations of either Shakey's or Awrey's, the second and third graders at Village Oaks wouldn't trade them for all the pepperoni in Palermo.

The Restaurants are the project of a trio of Village Oaks' second and third grade teachers, who believed creation of the restaurants would provide them with a valuable teaching tool.

So far, they've been highly pleased with the results.

"The restaurants have been highly successful from both a socialization and academic point of view," reported Miss Gloria Crawford, one of the three teachers.

The second and third graders operate the restaurants from start to finish. Each day two students are assigned to be cooks and two more are assigned to be waiters. The cooking is done in the morning and the restaurants open for business in the afternoon.

Children in any of the three classes involved in the project are free to visit any of the three restaurants once they've cleared their preference with the teacher.

Upon arriving at the restaurant they are shown to a seat by a waiter, are given a menu from which to order, receive a bill, and pay on the way out.

Cupcakes cost three cents, while a glass of kool-aid sells for two cents. A slice of pizza will run you anywhere from a nickel to a dime, depending, of course, on how many items you want on it.

The whole operation takes place with a minimum amount of teacher intervention.

"The project took a great deal of structuring in the beginning," reported Mrs. Jeanne Kinney, whose students operate the pizza parlor. "But now the idea is for the children to run the whole show without a teacher telling them what to do."

"They're very serious about it," added Miss Julie Maata, the third teacher involved in the project. "It's more than just a game to them and they like the feeling of independence and self-determination they get from being able to operate on their own."

A major by-product of the project is that the children receive a great deal of practice in communication skills. Spelling, reading, and writing are all involved in the reading of the menu and the placing of the order with the waiter who must transcribe it to the check.

Science is involved in the cooking part of the overall project and the students are also helped to a hearty serving of practice in math skills.

"One of the reasons we decided to proceed with the restaurants is that we felt they offered the children an opportunity to develop skills in real life situations," explained Miss Crawford.

"Instead of giving the child a book which says 'Johnny has 10 cents and cupcakes cost three cents apiece, how many cupcakes can he buy and how much money will he have left over, we give him that same problem in a real life setting."

"Education becomes a great deal more meaningful to him."

In addition to the math, science, reading, writing, spelling, socialization, and general communication skills, the project has other educational values, not the least of which is some practice in marketing.

"The children try to make their cupcakes look as appetizing as possible so the other kids will buy them," Village Oaks Principal David Brown noted. "They know if their cupcakes don't look good, nobody's going to put down three cents for one."

"We've had some notable failures in the marketing area," he continued. "One of the students met with a singular lack of success when he mixed a little blue food coloring with his chocolate cupcake mix."
