City' Township Zoning Revisions

Studies Near Completion

Near year-long studies will come to a close soon as the planning commissions of both the city and the township of Northville complete revisions of their zoning ordinances. The updated ordinances, representing the first major overhaul since they were originally adopted, are expected to go to public hearings early this summer. And in addition to the zoning ordinance overhaul, the city planning commission also is completing an update of the city's comprehensive (master) plan.

City planners last week finished revisions and Consultant Ronald F. Nino was authorized to begin preparation of the final draft for presentation to the city council.

According to Nino, the planning commission probably will hold public hearings on both the comprehensive plan and the zoning ordinance within the next 60 days. The zoning ordinance, however, first will be reviewed by the council, he said.

The council is not required by law to hold a public hearing on the comprehensive plan. That process is left to the planning commission.

However, in the case of the zoning ordinance, the planning commission holds a hearing, makes its recommendation to the council, and then the council in turn also holds a hearing before making the final decision.

Public hearings on the new township zoning ordinance, predicts Planning Chairman James Nowka, probably will be held sometime in July.

Major change in township zoning, according to Nowka, relates to developing classifications "with more flexible zoning."

Low density single family dwelling classifications have been modified, and the new zoning classification will allow several uses (single, condominium, multiple, cluster) all having the same end density.

"Theory behind this is to allow greater flexibility to the developer and the township," Nowka said. "Purpose is to protect the township from being too demanding to the point where zoning can be overturned on court."

(An optional use formula, providing a density limit, also has been incorporated in the new city ordinance.)

Another new classification in the township ordinance is research and development. Nowka said this will be a flexible category geared to office research and other non-manufacturing type of firms. The category would be included under the "industrial" zoning.

In mobile home provisions, square footage requirement for lots is being increased from 4,000 to 6,000 square feet. Throughout the entire study, Nowka stressed, the objective and goal has been to "protect and defend the city and the future of the township. We do not want to damage either the city or the township through zoning."

Speaking of the proposed comprehensive plan update, Consultant Nino says redefinition of the central business district probably constitutes the most significant change.

The CBD is slightly larger in size, with the area extended north along Center to the Chatham store and a withdrawal of the CBD area on South Center.

Also, there has been a redefinition of the Bealltown area. Where near total track development had been suggested in the earlier plan, the area has been more evenly divided between industry and track in the new plan.

The new plan suggests a slightly larger ultimate population (just over 10,000), and it suggests that this ultimate population will be reached sooner than originally projected.

Perhaps three of the most significant changes in the new city zoning ordinance, according to Nino, are:

Organization and classification for easier use by laymen; provision for more administrative decision making; and a "bonus" for those developers or builders who install more aesthetic amenities than is required by law.

More attractive and extensive amenities can be translated into more intensive land uses under the new ordinance, he explained.

A separate committee study, headed up by Planning Commissioner Wallace Nichols, is addressing itself to the matter of implementing suggested zoning.

They're still bottling a Northville legend

Nox Age Water

Good Drinkin!

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

They still come...some from as far away as Detroit...to fill their jugs with what used to be billed as "Nox Age Water."

They are retirees, middle-agers, teens, and youngsters. And all of them agree as they shove their jugs under the constant flow at the historic Northville Well, "It's good water."

But is it really as good as it used to be...as good, say, as back before the old well dried up...as good as Rudy Nebb, the chinless comic strip character, claimed it was?

"Oh, no," insists 86-year-old Fred Wendt, who used to operate the old Main Street Garage up the street away from the well. "It's just not the same anymore."

"It's too warm; use to be so cold it hurt your teeth when you drank it." According to the oldtimer, "back years ago people didn't go down to the well as much as they do now."

That's because in those days the town had its own supply of spring water from up on the hill (high school). Same kind of water came out of the springs that came out of the well down here.

"But birds kept flying over the springworks, and other things kept getting into the water and they said it wasn't sanitary. So they stopped it."

But the well at the foot of Main Street flowed on and on and on...Until about a decade ago it began to peter out.

After flowing constantly for as long as anyone could remember—well before the turn of the Century—the source of water disappeared.

DPW Superintendent Bud Hartner and City Engineer Harold Penn suspect it was the gravel mining east of the railroad tracks that diverted the water. But all efforts to revive it failed.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

WOMEN of our town increasingly are becoming involved in projects and positions that are regional or state-level.

Marlene (Mrs. Terry) Danol has just completed two years as energetic president of the Northville Business and Professional Women. She now has been appointed membership chairman for the Michigan Business and Professional Women and in that post will serve on the state board. Mrs. Eugene Guido, new Northville BPW president, also announces that Mrs. Danol will serve as local membership chairman.

In addition, the BPW organization is divided into districts within the state, and Marlene is serving as secretary of District Nine. She, Dorothy Guido, Hazel Starr and Virginia Plunkett represented the Northville chapter at the state BPW meeting last weekend at the Detroit Hilton. Mrs. Plunkett is the new local vice-president.

The year now ending has been a silver anniversary celebration for the Northville club whose activities include co-sponsorship of a girl to annual Girls State and awarding of a $150 Womanhood Scholarship to a senior girl at graduation. Mrs. Danol has guided the club activities while holding a full-time job at Ford Motor Company and juggling her schedules with those of her two young daughters and her husband.

A BARN SALE this Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of New Horizons of Oakland County has had the help of Mrs. Edwin Langtry. Jeanne Langtry said she became involved with the work of the auxiliary after her husband became a New Horizons member. (He just finished serving as its president.)

Founded in 1965, New Horizons is involved in testing, evaluating, counseling and employing handicapped persons over 16 years old, they explain. It now has sheltered workshops in Pontiac, Madison Heights and Farmington. The auxiliary's work, Mrs. Langtry adds, is raising funds, assisting and promoting social programs for clients, providing volunteer aids and educating the public about the work and needs of sheltered workshops.

In addition to aiding a good cause, Mrs. Langtry points out, the barn sale this week at the Wagner House barn, 30301 13 Mile Road, Farmington, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. offers bargain "antiquing." A variety of used articles, including china, antiques, glassware, small appliances and collector items is featured. Jeanne Langtry says the sale replaces previous yearly auctions with donations coming from many well-known Detroit-area residents. There also will be a booth of homemade baked goods.

As retiring president of Base Line Quarters, the area's oldest Quaker antiques study group, Jeanne Langtry is aware that such "fabulous" antique sales are becoming hard to find.

She turned over the Base Line presidency to Mrs. George Spencer at the club's final meeting of the year Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Spencer. Other new officers are Mrs. John Burkman, first vice-president and program-trip chairman; Mrs. Leonard Klein, second vice-president; Mrs. Eugene Guido, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alfred Millington, recording secretary; Mrs. George Miller, re-elected treasurer.

Plans were made for a trip to Marshall, Michigan, during the next club year to visit Mrs. Thomas Lovett, who dropped in to extend the invitation to her fellow Quakers. The Lovetts have sold their Shadbrook home and will be moving next month to a large, Gothic-style home they have purchased in historic Marshall. It's very near Marshall's famous Honolulu House, Carol Lovett says.

MEAD'S MILL QUESTERS report they have found a "new respect for the common button" since their last program which featured a talk by Mrs. Betsy Joslin, a Northville button collector. She exhibited more than a thousand different buttons from her collection and explained about age, construction, composition, design and size. The meeting was hosted by Mrs. Reba McCarthy.

"To think of a button as just a device for fastening clothing is a mistake," she said, explaining how they can be works of art. Of such materials as ivory, shell, pewter and bone, buttons, she demonstrated, are most intriguing in their designs. She showed calico buttons as examples—these are china buttons with colorful calico transfer printed on the surface. To find rarities, the speaker said, it helps to belong to a group such as the National Button Society, through which members have shows, contests, meetings and a brisk amount of trading. She stressed that besides being fun, button-collecting can be a relatively inexpensive hobby.

Mead's Mill Quarters have elected Sally Stuart president for the coming year. Other new officers are Judy Wissman, vice-president; Charlene Kull, secretary; and Jean June, treasurer.

Last Saturday the chapter visited the Striker home in Milford. Built in 1862 with 14 rooms, it houses many antiques, including an extensive glass collection. May 31 members will be attending a special showing of the newly-restored Moross House in Detroit. Its parlor fireplaces have been furnished by the Michigan State Quarters.

MORaine ELEMENTARY School mothers and teachers invited working women of the community to a Michigan Week Breakfast Wednesday morning. After continental breakfast, guests were taken on a tour of the building to observe Michigan Week festivities.

In honoring women who work in Northville, Principal Milton Jacobi and his staff were making a little bow to "women's lib" as previously they entertained businessmen of the community. "This year we decided to ask their secretaries and other women who work," explained school secretary Evelyn Zeuner.

HOLY CROSS EPISCOPAL churchwomen have scheduled a first-time dinner and dance June 2 at the Holiday Inn in Farmington in the interest of church friendship. Couples in the church and community are invited. It will be $16 a couple with the cost including a complimentary drink.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Lawrence Fleming, 349-5853.

A NORTHVILLE RESIDENT, Mrs. David (Corinne) Vincent, is executive director of the YMCA of Western Wayne County and this month was one of the YWCA leaders heading strategy groups at a "Diversity Celebration" of the YWCA of Western Wayne County held in Hudson's Westland auditorium for members and friends.

The program, Mrs. Vincent explains, was designed to "introduce date, provoke new ideas, stimulate controversy and get ready for action on issues that are of deep concern to the YWCA."

Speakers included representatives of groups seeking empowerment in society. They included Fran Harris, Michigan Women's Commission, special coordinator for WWJ-TV; Indian, Latin American, urban affairs and Black concerns representatives.

Mrs. Vincent says that since Northville does not have a YWCA within its area, women of the community affiliate with the Western Wayne or the Livonia centers...and are welcome. She points out that in addition to offering the usual swimming and homemaking type activities the YWCA is increasingly concerned with social movements. Mrs. Ven Marshall was chairman of the May 15 program.

A colonial arrangement of lilies of the valley, white roses and blue forget-me-nots made the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Linda Heiny or Fort Wayne, Indiana, and the bridesmaids were Barbara Schmidt of Northville, Janet Sautters of Howe, Indiana, and Mrs. Paul Parpet of Kalamazoo.

All wore dresses in pastel shades of orchid, yellow, mint and blue dotted voile with white lace trim.

One special guest was Karl Schmuck of Furfeld, Germany, who met the bridegroom while latter was stationed in Europe with the Army.

The bride attended Nazareth College in Kalamazoo for three years. Her husband served with the Army for three years and will graduate from Western Michigan University in August.

Bill and Charlie Tiffin . . . 1969

Death Parts Pair of Lives

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Unable to get in his crops for the first time in his lifetime, Charles Tiffin called it quits Thursday night after 94 years.

They buried him Monday in the Wixom Cemetery, just across the street from the neat little frame house he shared with his older brother, Bill, who lives on cheerfully at age 103.

It was a simple ceremony at Casterline's Funeral Home in Northville.

Charlie would have liked it; he was a simple man who took the greatest pleasure in sitting and watching his vegetables and flowers grow in the lovely gardens adjacent to the house.

A visitor who sat a spell on the Tiffin porch once remarked about the large size of the corn. Charlie pushed back his rocker, flashed his familiar grin and said, "It's big 'cause it's healthy; you can even hear it grow."

Bill slapped his knee and laughed and insisted he could hear it, too.

Like his corn, Charlie was healthy for most of his life, though he tired a mile towards the end. Not quite up to planting, he hoped nevertheless to get the crops in before spring was over.

He seldom complained, although he mentioned to a visitor once that brother Bill was bothered by a headache now and then. Neither put much stock in doctors or medicine.

And, of course, they had a similar outlook on women. Neither married...but they would have made any woman happy.

Charlie was the outside man, mostly, Bill the insider. Charlie did the gardening and maintenance, and Bill the cooking and housecleaning.

Like his brother, Charlie was an avid Detroit Tiger fan. But he preferred his allegiances be kept under a basket. Once after this newspaper had arranged with the Tiger bosses to honor the two brothers at a Tiger Stadium game Charlie indignantly backed out.

"We've gotten along all these years without something like that so there's no sense upsetting the applecart. Besides, Bill would rather listen over the radio."

He was full of good common sense logic.

Charlie had lived in the same house since the turn of the century. It once was the parsonage for the Wixom Baptist Church.

Brother Bill moved in with Charlie a number of years ago.

Both liked to reminisce, mostly about the times they'd walk or take a horse to Northville and Plymouth and Salem to play ball.

Charlie also liked to recall the rapid-fire way in which he used to be able to pick apples and dig potatoes as a younger man.

Born March 4, 1879 "in the Walled Lake area", Charlie was the son of William John and Grace Tiffin. He was one of several brothers and sisters.

Besides brother Bill, he is survived by a nephew, Louis Tiffin of 11115 Nine Mile Road.

Alone and no longer able to completely care for himself following Charlie's death, the still chipper and alert 103-year-old also bid goodbye to the Tiffin homestead and was moved to the Whitehall Convalescent Home on 10 Mile Road.

There is rising speculation among Novi city officials that Dayton-Hudson executives in Minneapolis and Taubman executives in Southfield have arrived at a decision to locate the proposed multi-million dollar regional shopping center in Novi.

As of yet no official statements have been issued by either Dayton-Hudson or Taubman sources and representatives from both companies continue to maintain that the final decision has not yet been reached.

However, recent activities of Shopping Centers Incorporated (SCI), the firm that will develop the center if it is to be located in Novi, have caused city officials to speculate that the final decision has been reached and the regional center will be located in Novi.

Specifically, city officials point to two recent appearances of SCI representatives before the Novi Planning Board as the basis for their speculation.

On April 2, SCI officials appeared before the planning board to request the rezoning of approximately 130 acres directly adjacent to their present 170 acre parcel on the southeast corner of Novi and 12 Mile Roads from its existing zoning to a C-B (central business) designation.

The planners tabled any action on the request, however, to give city planning consultants Vilican and Leman an opportunity to review it.

The matter was reconvened at the May 6 planning board session and June 27 was set as the date for a public hearing to consider the rezoning request. At the May 6 session, SCI Representative Stuart Finney told the planners that his company had exercised its options to purchase the additional 130 acres.

As a result, SCI has practically doubled the size of its original holdings and now owns practically all the property between Novi and Meadowbrook Roads on the east and west and between 12 Mile and the I-96 expressway on the north and south.

The question logically being asked by Novi officials is why would SCI go to the expense of purchasing 130 additional acres unless it felt certain that the regional shopping

Novi Council Studies Proposal

Seek Oil Well Ordinance

The possibility that a gas or oil well might yet be drilled in Novi is not yet dead.

Rebuffed by the Board of Appeals in their request for a zoning variance, representatives from the Sullivan and Company appeared before the Novi city council Monday to request consideration of an ordinance which would govern the drilling and operation of gas and oil wells within the city.

Specifically, William Brukhuff, attorney for the Tulsa-based Sullivan and Company, asked the council to consider adoption of an ordinance similar to one in Albion - a city which has 30 producing wells within its boundaries.

No direct action was taken on the request, although the council decided to set up a work session with the city attorney and the chairman of the Board of Appeals to consider the request.

The appearance of the Sullivan representatives before the council is the second stage of an effort to secure the right to drill an exploratory well in the northeastern corner of the city.

Previously, the Sullivan representatives had sought to obtain that right by gaining a zoning variance from the Board of Appeals which would have permitted them to proceed with their drilling operations.

However, that first attempt failed on a technicality when the members of the Appeals Board voted in favor of granting the variance by only a 3-2 margin. According to the city charter, zoning variances require a two-thirds vote of the Appeals Board. Since the Sullivan request received only 60 percent approval, it was in essence denied.

Brukhuff told the council Monday that his request for adoption of an ordinance was made at the direction of Robert Sullivan, head of the Sullivan and Company, who had instructed him to explore all possibilities of obtaining the right to drill the exploratory well short of litigation.

Brukhuff implied that if "all possibilities" are explored without success, the Sullivan and Company would then resort to legal action. The basis of such litigation, he stated, would be that the property owners and the Sullivan and Company are being deprived of their rights to use their land to their best advantage.

In making his request for consideration of the adoption of a gas and oil well ordinance, Brukhuff cited the national energy crisis "Our geological studies indicate that hydrocarbons exist beneath the City of Novi

Someday that source of hydrocarbons will have to be tapped to provide the power to run our cars and heat our homes," he said. "The area in which we are planning to drill is currently undeveloped and it is our contention that the best time to move in and tap that supply of hydrocarbons is right now," he continued. "If we're allowed to drill a well one of two things can happen - either we'll find hydrocarbons or we won't find hydrocarbons. If we don't find gas or oil we'll fill up the hole and no one will ever return to that area to drill again. If we do find some form of hydrocarbons, we'll pump them out of the ground and then be done with it."

Brukhuff stressed that the Sullivan and Company would comply with all safety requirements set forth by either the state or by the city.

Wixom Raises Millage; OKs $920,000 Budget

For the first time in four years, residents in Wixom will see a rise in the city's millage rate.

The city council, Tuesday unanimously approved Mayor Gilbert C. Willis' budget of over $920,000 and set the city's operational millage rate at 6.1 mills, an increase of 4 mills.

Also approved unanimously by the council was 4.2 mills which will raise funds to pay for the city sewer budget reduction - a drop of two-tenths of a mill from the 1972-73 figure.

At the beginning of the public hearing on the new budget, Mayor Willis read a prepared statement which stated some of the items specifically provided for in the budget.

Included in the list were the addition of one police officer, another DPW employee, a part-time assistant for the city building inspector, a new fire station, the resumption of the city's paving plan, the purchase of land for a community center and library, and the installation of curb and gutters on North Wixom Road.

First to speak out in the hearing was Oakland County Commissioner Lew Coy, a Wixom resident, who objected to the provision for a library in the budget.

"There is one item on this budget for which the people were pretty well promised a referendum," Coy said. "I want a library if the citizens want one, I'll work for it just as hard as anyone else, but I feel they should have a voice in it."

Following the public hearing, Willis reminded Coy that not every budget item in every annual budget is used, "there have been other projects in the past that have fallen by and in those instances, by city charter, the monies allocated are turned over to another fund," Willis said.

The only other resident to speak out was John Victory, representing the homeowners associations of Wixom which, he said "represents about one-sixth of all of the residents of the city."

He read from a statement prepared for the Mayor and council, stating two major points they felt the city should consider in a budget.

"The city should allocate funds for a planning consultant to be hired to prepare a planning document for the city," he read, and the statement went on to say the group feels the city would benefit by having those

To Novi School Board

Present 'Needs' Report

With formal presentation to the board of education of its in-depth report Tuesday, the Novi Needs Assessment Committee was dissolved with a tribute of appreciation from school officials.

It was the Needs Assessment Committee, which earlier supplied the board with interim findings and recommendations that prompted the millage-bond proposals placed on the June 11 election ballot.

Launched in early December with a series of meetings beginning in February, the committee was composed of some 35 citizens who were assisted by the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services in their research and conclusions.

In accepting the report Tuesday, the board of education adopted a resolution commending the committee "for a task well done!" The resolution concludes, "The Novi Board of Education expresses its appreciation for the countless number of hours spent in an effort to sustain and upgrade current and future buildings and programs by the Needs Assessment Committee."

A letter of appreciation also was given the committee by Board President LaVerne DeWaard.

The 77-page report of the committee covers the following areas:

- School Building and Site Norms.
- Population and Enrollment Report.
- Addendum to Population and Enrollment Report.
- Curriculum Report.
- Building and Site Report.
- Building Needs for 1977-78.
- Potential Maximum Enrollments and School Building Needs.

Richard Bingham, chairman of the citizens committee, accepted the board's plaudits on behalf of the committee and he urged the board to review projections made by the committee within two years to determine the extent of accuracy and need for adjustment.

In other business Tuesday, the board voted to share a special education director with the Clarenceville Public Schools.

Cost for the director's part-time service in Novi was put at $1,000 for the 1973-74 school year and $2,500 in 1974-75.

The director, Mrs. Betty Moore, is already employed by Clarenceville. Under the sharing arrangement, she will work one day a week in Novi during the next school year and 2½ days a week the succeeding year.

Exchange Students Share Experiences

By MARTHA ROEMER

They are three different individuals from three different backgrounds, but Northville High School's newest exchange students have at least two things in common. All are 17 years old and all are experiencing what it's like to be away from home, family and country for an extended period of time.

"It is quite a different experience," said Andre Manochio of Sao Paulo, Brazil, "to be so far from my parents so long like this, in a different country with different customs. I like my family here (the Robert Haynies) but I miss my real family."

Paulo Amaral of Joao Pessoa, Brazil, agreed and added, "I think it is hard to be away from Brazil too long. I love my country." Paulo is staying in Northville with Dr. Mrs. John Romanik.

"It is hard, staying away from home for such a long time. The hardest time is when it is difficult to understand what someone is saying," said Adelheid Becker of Stockholm, Germany, a small town near Braunschweig.

Both Andre and Paulo are in the United States on the Youth for Understanding program. They arrived in January and will leave for Brazil in July.

Adelheid is in the United States on her own. Having completed her first 13 years of school, she's come to stay with relatives in Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Knott, before she returns to complete her education to become a home economics teacher in June.

Weather and people were the first things noticed by all three when they arrived in the country.

"When I first got off the plane at the airport, I thought the American people were very polite when they came and asked us something about our passports," Andre said.

Paulo agreed, saying, "We didn't know the language very well and they tried very hard to explain what they wanted."

"I came to New York first," said Adelheid. "The people don't look to the other person. I noticed that at first."

The two Brazilian students saw an immediate difference in the weather in Michigan from the climate in their country.

"When I left Brazil, the temperature was 95 degrees. There, it was summer. The weather at home is much warmer, even in winter, because we are so close to the Equator," said Andre.

"When I left home," Paulo added, "it was 100 degrees. I came here and it was snowing. I had never seen snow before. In July, when I go home, it will be winter and the temperature will be about 55 degrees every day."

School is very different in Germany and Brazil than in the United States, the exchange students have found.

Adelheid explained she has completed the thirteenth grade. This means that she can now go on to college. There are also schools where students in Germany learn trades rather than go on in school. The subjects, she said, are much the same.

Paulo said of American schools, "I find it boring, because you have the same subjects every day. In Brazil, you are required to take 11 subjects and you don't have every one every day."

Andre explained that in Brazil, a student can select what time of the day he would like to attend classes. "There are three periods. One is 7 a.m. to noon, another is 1 p.m. to 5 or 6 p.m. and the other is from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m."

Of American social life Adelheid said she saw little difference between that for teenagers in Germany and the United States.

"One thing I do miss is ballroom dancing. We used to go for lessons twice a week," she said, adding that many young people take up the more conventional style of dancing in Germany.

Brazilian teenagers have a very different social life according to Paulo and Andre.

"There is no dating like here," said Andre. "If you want to go to a party, you go alone and there you find someone. Parties usually start at 10:30 p.m. or 11 p.m. and go until four or five in the morning. The parents sometimes go to the party, too."

The parties, Paulo explained, are generally held in private clubs. "They are sports clubs and in the day there are sports and in the evening there are parties or dances. Here, the parents know too much about their sons. When they go out they ask too many questions and expect him to be home at a certain time."

Andre expounded on what Paulo said. "Parents don't have to ask questions because they know who else belongs to the club and they know their children are there. Also, in Brazil, we don't go too much by the clock. If I say I am going to be there at 7 o'clock, you might wait for me until quarter to eight."

Paulo said the questions parents ask is what he has found most surprising about United States' life.

Adelheid said her most surprising experience was a visit to Detroit and a view of poorer neighborhoods. "I saw the slums," she said, "and we don't have those in Germany. Also, there are many more old buildings here."

Andre said one of his surprises came as a member of the Northville High School state championship swimming team.

"When we practiced in Brazil, we would work out from two to six in the afternoon, here it's just three to five or so," he added.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE - Northville High School's three newest exchange students met recently in the school cafeteria to talk about their impressions of the United States and their experiences since they have been here.

Police Blotter: Thefts, Vandalism Increase

Name Two
U-M Scholars

In Township

Items valued at more than $700 were stolen from a home on Clement Road during a mid-morning break-in on Monday.

Thieves entered the home at 19680 Clement Road sometime between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. by breaking a window in the front door.

Taken from the living room and family room area of the home were a black and white television, color television, tape recorder, stereo radio and speakers and record albums.

Neighbors told police a 1967 blue Duster-type vehicle was seen parked in the driveway of the home around 11 a.m.

Township police said the car, which left a pool of oil in the driveway, left the area headed south on Clement Road towards Seven Mile Road.

Chief Ronald Nisum is urging township residents to participate in the Operation Identification program of marking valuables.

"If items, such as were stolen in this break-in, are recovered, they can be traced back to the owner through the identifying drivers license number engraved on the items", he explained.

Engraving equipment is available from the police department weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Vandals caused more than $1,000 damage to equipment and supplies at a construction site on Six Mile Road and Winchester in Northville Commons.

Damaged were gauges and windows in construction equipment and sanitary sewer-pipe connections.

Theft took place sometime Sunday night, township police reports indicated.

Windows valued at more than $2,000 were stolen from a construction site in Northville township last week.

Stolen from the area of Northview and Clement were 14 thermopane windows and three doorways.

The theft, which is under investigation by township police, took place between 6 p.m. May 15 and the morning of May 16.

A cabin tent, pitched in the yard of a home at 47500 West Six Mile Road, was reported stolen to Michigan State Police last week Wednesday.

The gold tent, which is 15 feet by nine feet by seven feet, was taken between 8 p.m. May 15 and 9 a.m. May 16.

Tent stakes were left behind by the thieves, reports said.

Gasoline shortage, not the type most people are talking about, showed up in Northville township last week.

Owner of a truck, which was parked at 16901 Beck Road, awoke one morning last week and found 15 gallons of gasoline had been siphoned from his vehicle during the night.

Michigan State Police place the time of the theft between 11 p.m. May 13 and 9 a.m. May 14.

Vandals threw a rock through a window of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at 42290 Five Mile Road last week, breaking a thermopane window.

The damage took place between 9 p.m. May 13 and 4:45 a.m. May 14.

Michigan State Police investigated a report of a prowler in the area of Camden Court and Sutters Lane last week.

A resident of the area reported seeing a flashlight in a home under construction. A vehicle in the area reportedly drove by the home and picked up a person.

The incident took place shortly after 10 p.m. May 14.

State police said they found no damage inside the home and the vehicle could not be found.

In Novi

Police are investigating a reported incident of child enticement which allegedly occurred April 12 in the 11 Mile-Beck Road area and involved three young girls.

A resident told police he was looking out his window when he observed the three girls running away from a car parked along Beck Road. The girls had been playing baseball with a group of approximately 11 other children, the man reported.

Police questioned the children and learned that the car had passed the ball field on three occasions driving very slowly each time. On the third trip past the field, the man stopped and beckoned for the children to come over to his car, they told police.

Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner issued a warning for parents to be alert to such incidents, noting that the department traditionally receives an increase in the number of child enticement reports during the spring months.

Arson is believed to be the cause of a fire which destroyed part of an garage attached to a Novi residence at 7:30 a.m. on May 2.

Firemen responded to the call and extinguished the fire. Fire Chief Duane Bell notified the Novi Detective Bureau that he felt the possibility of arson existed and the detective bureau continued the investigation. From evidence collected at the scene of the fire and sent to the Michigan State Police Crime Lab, it was discovered that flammables had been used in setting the blaze.

Firemen have been called on to extinguish two other fires in the same residence recently. The case is still under investigation.

Equipment valued at $150 was reportedly stolen from a truck parked at the Cadillac Asphalt Company recently.

Police were informed that two 12 inch burners and a regulator were removed from the rear of an asphalt truck sometime between Saturday, May 12 and Monday, May 14.

Six Novi High School youths were placed under arrest and charged with felonious larceny in conjunction with the theft of a 10-speed bicycle. The youths were

LENDING A HAND—Helping preserve Northville's past with a "concrete" donation, Northville Police Officers Association recently contributed $500 to the Northville Historical Society. The Historical Village on Griswold Street was the site of the presentation made by NPOA President Allen Cox (left) to John Burkman, president of the Northville Historical Society. Burkman said the funds will be used to help pay for the concrete basements built underneath the buildings in the village. The contribution represents part of the profits made last month on the NPOA Policeman's Ball. apprehended after police received a report at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday, May 16, that the bicycle had been stolen by a group of teenagers and placed in the trunk of their car. Police located the car and made the arrests shortly after receipt of the original report.

A 28-year old Charlotte man suffered only minor injuries when his car swerved off 12 Mile Road at a high rate of speed, traveled 21 feet through the air, and then rolled over for an additional 34 feet before coming to a stop on its roof.

Stanley Edward Sawyer, the driver of the vehicle, was cited by police for driving under the influence of liquor and driving with a suspended operator's license.

Two Novi women were transported by ambulance to Botsford General Hospital with minor injuries last week after they were involved in an accident on 11 Mile Road on May 14.

According to police, the accident occurred when Barbara Ann Politi, 22, of Emissshore Drive backed her car from a driveway onto 11 Mile and was subsequently struck by a vehicle being driven by Mrs. Irene Rivard, 54, of 11 Mile Road.

Police cited Miss Politi for improper backing without due caution and cited Mrs. Rivard for speeding too fast for existing road conditions.

Janis Marie Fidler, 18, of Oak Park was cited for failure to yield the right of way in an accident which occurred at approximately 12 noon, May 14.

According to reports, the accident occurred when Miss Fidler, eastbound on Grand River just east of Novi Road, stopped to make a left hand turn onto 11 Mile Road. She proceeded to turn left in front of a stopped truck on the inside westbound lane which blocked her vision and pulled into the path of a car driven by Jeannette Zaren, 27, of Wixom.

Neither woman was seriously injured in the crash.

In Wixom

Three employees at Ford's Wixom Assembly Plant were robbed at gun point last week by a pair of men who approached them asking for assistance with a stalled car.

Michael Candler, 23, of Redford; Gary Bloomhuff, 21, of Northville; and Dan Butt, 18, of Highland told police they had been robbed of $310 in cash and a wrist watch as they sat in their car outside the plant on Friday, May 11.

The three victims told police they had been sitting in their car in the employee's lot when they were approached at approximately 4:15 a.m. by two Negro males who asked if they could borrow a pair of jumper cables.

Candler, the driver of the car, told the pair they had no wires but that the guards at the plant had a set they would lend them. The two men then requested to get into the car to warm up, the three reported.

Once inside the car one of the men produced a gun and demanded their money. After the money had been collected, the gunmen instructed the three to lie face down in the car and not look up until five minutes had elapsed.

They then made good their escape.

Wixom police brought felony charges against two men arrested last week for driving under the influence of liquor.

Drunk driving is ordinarily a misdemeanor. However, Michigan law provides that a person with one previous drunk driving conviction can be charged with a high misdemeanor and a person with two previous drunk driving convictions can be charged with a felony.

Robert Lee Caudill, 48, of Union Lake was arrested at 2:30 p.m. on Friday, May 11, after he had smashed into a 1973 Oldsmobile, police reported.

Also charged with felonious drunk driving last week was Max Junior Thorington, 32, of Linwood. Police lodged the felony charge after a check of his driving record revealed three previous drunk driving convictions.

A two-way radio valued at $169 was reportedly stolen from a car owned by Fred Folly of Walled Lake last week.

In Northville

Two persons were slightly injured when a dump truck hit the rear of a Northville school bus shortly after 3:30 p.m. last Thursday.

Driver of the bus, Betty Gibson of Plymouth and a passenger, nine-year-old Paul E. McKelvey of 42221 Sunnydale, received minor injuries but did not require treatment. A total of 21 persons were on the school bus.

According to city police reports, Mrs. Gibson was stopped on eastbound Eight Mile Road at the traffic light waiting to make a left turn.

David L. Parta of 23819 Heartwood, driver of the dump truck, told police he saw the bus stopped, applied his brakes but was unable to stop without hitting the bus.

Police found 129 feet of skid marks at the scene. Parta was ticketed for failing to stop in assured clear distance.

A radio, valued at $250, was stolen from a 1972 Thunderbird late Sunday evening or early Monday morning.

DOZER BLOWS—It was early Friday evening when this dozer attacked this vacated old complex of stores and by nightfall the demolition was nearly complete. Purchased by the city last year, the site will become part of the municipal parking area stretching from the Drawbridge Restaurant east to Wing Street and from Main to Dunlap. The only building to remain in the half-block area will be the service station at the northeast corner of Wing and Main. A similar half-block parking area is planned between Center and Wing, south of Cady Street.

Marshall Nixes Library Plans

Plans for complete remodeling of the library at Main Street Elementary School have been rejected by the State Fire Marshall's Office.

Superintendent Raymond Spear told Northville School Board members last week that the fire marshal "would not approve the dead end corridor which would be created by the remodeling."

Spear explained that the only way which a dead end corridor would not be created "would be by eliminating one classroom at the school."

He said he would not recommend that plan "since I do not believe we can afford to lose a classroom at this time."

Minimum amount of remodeling of the school's library facilities will be done this year, with complete renovation plans shelved for the present time.

NELSON SCHRADER

When you are arranging furniture, do not be overwhelmed by what at first may seem to you like a million directions, rules, and practices in room arrangements. Arrange your living room by interest groups. Bedrooms, dining rooms, and kitchens have their own kinds of furniture and less latitude in arrangement than living rooms. Decoration in these areas is more likely to be expressed in interesting color and accessories and less in shape and form. Kitchens are limited by their service centers. Dining rooms customarily have centered tables or wall tables. Bedrooms are usually arranged with one wall accommodating a bed. With large objects placed, the room generally needs little other arranging.

Let room arrangements reflect your way of life. Make a conversation grouping in one corner—a music center in another—or perhaps a quiet corner for reading or sewing. Whatever you like your rooms can be decorated with furnishings from SCHRADER'S HOME FURNISHING INC., 111 N. Center St., Northville, 349-1838.

planners work with the planning commissions in neighboring cities.

In response to the master plan for the city, Willis stated the revised budget does, indeed, provide $13,200 for a master plan of Wixom.

"It was only within the last 30 days that the mayor and the council were made aware there was no approved master plan," Willis said, "members of the planning commission were aware of it, but the commission kept asking for a revision of it, not a complete one. Some individuals have been deceived in this matter and I am sorry that one of those was me."

Among the salary increases provided for in the 1973-74 budget are: assistant to the mayor, $13,500 from last year's $12,500; combined patrolman salaries were increased from $86,678 to $105,125, thus making room for an additional sworn officer increasing the number to 11; building inspector, $13,750 from $12,500 last year.

In the building department money for an additional worker was added and building department expense allotment was increased from $850 to $3,000.

The DPW was denied wages for two part-time employees but was given an increase in full time wages so another employee could be added.

The recreation department was allocated funds for land acquisition amounting to $30,000.

Among the marked decreases in line items on the budget were: city assessor's expenses from $1000 to $750; plumbing and heating inspection from $7,500 to $5,000; and the planning commission allotment from $2,000 to $1,000.

By department, the approved new budget listed the following totals:

City Council, $2,900; elections, $1,825; executive, $36,000; board of review, $325; financial, $12,700; general operating, $135,125; police, $203,105; fire, $71,515; building, $46,450; DPW, $121,987; services, $224,350; recreation, $40,990; community programs, $2550; environmental studies, $1,000; and planning, $20,320.

Present Report

Earlier, the board proposed an operating budget of $2,564,644 to the allocation board for the 1973-74 school year.

Purpose of the resolution is to assure the allocation board that whatever millage share it allots to Novi will be used.

A resolution indicating that the school district will levy any portion of the 15-mill county allocation given Novi by the Oakland Tax Allocation Board was enacted.

Carol Maattala, third grade teacher at Orchard Hills Elementary School, was granted a leave of absence for health reasons.

If you were asked to select the one position in American society that has the most influence on the conduct of our daily lives, what would that position be?

In a more narrow sense one might select the role of parent, or teacher or religious leader.

But the numbers of exceptions that could be applied to these choices do not exist when one considers the impact that decisions rendered by our jurists have upon all society.

And despite the fact that our state can point to many outstanding judges in its courts today, it is likewise apparent that the important responsibility of choosing jurists far exceeds the capacity of the voter.

"As the state has become more urbanized and as the electorate is faced with the selection of an increasing number of judges, there is good reason to believe the people have an impossible task in evaluating and selecting competent judges," Wayne Circuit Judge George E. Bowles states in a proposal for selection of judges in Michigan.

It is too much to expect that the voter can make wise selections, particularly when the ballot may contain a dozen or more names for half a dozen or more posts on the bench.

Too often the important decision of selecting a judge is reduced to either not voting at all because of a feeling of complete incapability, or a popularity contest.

The latter results when a candidate has a well-known and popular political name; or either possesses or has access to financial resources that enables the candidate to wage a strong campaign of advertising.

Neither a good name, wealth or support of wealth qualify as recommendations for judgeship.

So Judge Bowles proposes this alternative.

First he recognizes that there are two major problems in moving to a better system of selecting judges.

First, how to select the judge in the first instance; and second, how to insure effective checks against incapacity, incompetence or intemperance once a judge is named.

"No selection process can insure that every judge named will be free of serious weakness and fault requiring correction or, in the ultimate, removal. Hence, we need two programs: one, to name the judge and two, to afford effective checks on a judge once named, notes Judge Bowles.

Judge Bowles believes that a system by appointment is preferable to election.

And he believes that the final responsibility for such appointments belongs to the governor, "who is answerable to all the people."

But the range of possible selection should not be left to the governor alone, Judge Bowles states in his proposal.

An Advisory Council composed of representatives of the bench, the bar and the general public would nominate the possible nominees.

"Broad non-lawyer participation can strengthen the system and add a new dimension," Judge Bowles declares.

He notes that elsewhere in the law, citizen participation has improved the legal process.

And he reminds that "men and women from all walks of life sit as trial jurors and evaluate the most difficult cases—cases with sophisticated experts discussing, for example, highly complex medical and engineering principles."

The nominees would be named at least 30 days in advance of possible appointment by the governor so that a chance for public expression on the candidates could be heard.

The governor would be empowered to accept or reject the nominations, but he would go outside the recommended list at his own peril.

Terms of the judges could be determined, but in the state of Maine where a similar system now exists, terms are for seven years "and no longer unless reappointed thereto."

Six months before the end of the term of a judge the Advisory Council would consider the reappointment and review reports and recommendations from the bench, the bar and the general public.

The Advisory Council would then make its recommendation for or against reappointment and the governor could act to accept or reject the recommendation.

During his term the judge would still be subject to the jurisdiction of the Judicial Tenure Commission.

While Judge Bowles hedges a bit by suggesting that if this proposed system should not be implemented in all courts, it could be used in selecting judges for appellate courts, or for either the supreme court or the court of appeals.

Personally, I believe that reform is badly needed at all levels in our court system.

And the protection that the public stands to gain from reasonable assurance that those presiding in our courts of justice represent the best selections that can be made more than compensates for any sacrifice of voting rights.

Furthermore, as Judge Bowles points out, it would encourage candidates without attractive political names, or who do not have access to wealth, to become judges and to devote their energies and abilities to the administration and enrichment of the law.

"The courts are the final guardians of our fundamental rights. The people are entitled to a system of selection and reappointment that fully merits their confidence and respect," Judge Bowles concludes.

Readers Speak: 'It's Polished Show'

To the Editor:

Now that the last sounds of the standing ovations have died away, I wanted to let my town know how fortunate I feel we are.

During the last two and one half months, my family was privileged to become acquainted with some of the hardest working, most dedicated group of young people we have ever encountered. My son John was one of the children in the high school play, "The Sound of Music", and through his participation we spent many evenings in the auditorium watching these high school students creating a very polished piece of showmanship.

They took criticism from the director and learned from it. They spent long hours polishing performances. The light and set crew had a very technical play to present and did it with a great deal of professionalism.

Towards the end the hours were very late, sometimes until 1 a.m., and I know some parents must have wondered was it worth it. I say definitely!

We had guests who came to some of the performances and they could not believe this was a high school production. They felt the orchestra, scenery reproduction and actors were exceptional for being that young.

I also feel that Mr. Kinde has the best rapport with his students that a teacher could wish for.

With young people like these waiting in the wings, ready to play their parts in our community life, we are indeed fortunate.

Sincerely,
Mrs. B. Wagner

ANN AENCHBACHER

Speaking for Myself

Believe In Tipping?

JOHN STUROCK

YES . . .

Tipping isn't written on a tray; it's in the service and consideration a customer is given.

Waitresses do not receive large salaries for their work and therefore tips are valued and important supplements for these people who are trying to make an honest living.

A waitress isn't just a waitress; very often she is a mother, adviser, defender or just a friend. Not infrequently waitresses will use their own few pennies to help feed hungry youngsters, who happen into their business places. They offer sympathy, toss out smiles, and scatter kind words even when they themselves may be blue.

A good waitress puts smile and heart into her work; she is clean, alert and willing to serve her customers as if they were seated at her table at home.

All of this is not to say that every waitress deserves a tip. Not at all. Tipping is meant as a special thanks for a job well done. A poorly done job deserves no such thanks.

Speaking from 30 year's experience, I'd like to close with a final thought: While tips are important to waitresses' income, simple but sincere words of appreciation by customers are very important, too.

My most pleasant memories are of kind people with kind words. Their tips were not measured in percentages.

Ann Aenchbacher
Former Waitress
Northville

NO . . .

Let me, as one of our most prominent citizens likes to say, make one thing perfectly clear:

I am not a cheapskate.

But I am opposed to tipping.

It seems to me that tipping, like so many other traditions saddling modern man, has been handed down from generation to generation without much thought as to what the whole thing is all about.

And since no one likes to appear cheap and-or thoughtless, we have kept this tradition by obligingly doling out tip after tip, whether the waiter or waitress in question is deserving or not.

I imagine tipping began as a sort of bonus procedure, when someone somewhere probably got some good service and decided to give that person a little "something extra" for that good service.

I'm not opposed to tipping for this reason, and in fact, I have even given tips myself when I thought the service merited it.

However, what concerns me is that it now seems mandatory that we tip, either out of tradition or because we're told that waiters and waitresses don't make enough money.

Well, I say hold on a minute! I can't see tipping every waitress I come into contact with just because of tradition, and I certainly don't want to be counted on to subsidize the poor girl's pay.

Waiters and waitresses don't make enough? That's hardly my fault. Let their employers raise their wages and then raise the prices of my meals accordingly, but don't burden me with sorrowful tales about the plight of the waiter-waitress while looking under the plates for that extra 15 per cent.

Time for Change

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Speaking of bugs (isn't everyone nowadays?)....

....Not only Watergate guards spoil buggers. Some piano players do a pretty good job, too.

There's a piano thumper over in Pontiac, for example, who could pinch his "C" finger under the Wurlitzer lid and get absolutely no sympathy from my Novi policeman friend, Gordon Nelson.

That's because Twinkle Fingers, whose real name shall go unmentioned, inadvertently spoiled a police bug and came awfully close to killing a case Gordie and a number of other coppers were building against a suspected "white slaver."

"He plays out of a fine cocktail lounge," said Gordie, "but the guy's a dingbat."

"The white slaver?" was the natural rejoinder.

"No, the piano player," insisted Gordie. "The slaver's a flake."

It seems a couple of girls, answering a Pontiac advertisement for "hostesses", became suspicious of the employer's intentions when he gave them a sketchy job description. They reported him to Novi police.

Best way to nab this suspect, police concluded, would be to catch him in the act of trying to hire a girl.

So a pretty policewoman was called into the case. She was to pose as the girl seeking employment. Elaborate plans were made; a bug was placed in the policewoman's purse to pick up her conversation with the suspect, and she made an appointment with the white slave in the Pontiac cocktail lounge.

Two plainclothes policemen accompanied her into the lounge and took up seats nearby at the bar. Gordie was outside in the car with the bug receiver and recorder.

As luck would have it, just as the policewoman was striking up a conversation with the suspect, the piano player began pounding out a tune.

"The dingbat's so loud I can't hear anything," recalled Gordie.

"And inside, the two officers kinda cover one ear but he (piano player) sees them and thinks they don't like his playing, which they don't, so he bangs the ivories a little louder.

"I mean it's so loud my recorder's starting to dance.

"I'm getting bits and pieces of conversation and I don't know what's happening in there. Maybe they're being killed; maybe they've all gotten drunk. I remember even thinking maybe I'd better call the cops."

Inside, the two coppers at the bar are just as worried.

News From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative

I hope you are as happy and pleased as I am with the signing last week by Governor Milliken of the recently-enacted tax relief measures. The Governor called the bills "the largest and most comprehensive tax reduction program in Michigan's history".

The effect will be to reduce your state income taxes and local property taxes. The total figure to be returned to the taxpayers over the next years as a result of this action will be some $380 million.

These tax relief bills provide substantial property and income tax reductions. They are of particular value to senior citizens, veterans, and those on modest incomes. They also change some of the procedures for securing credit and payment.

All citizens who pay property taxes on their homesteads will receive property tax credits when property taxes exceed 3½ percent of income. The rebate will be 60 percent of the excess over 3½ percent of income, not to exceed $500. The word rebate is key. You still must pay your taxes when due, but if due a rebate that money will be refunded by the State after your taxes are paid.

A very important fact for senior citizens is that method by which they will apply for their tax relief. Currently, senior citizens apply for tax exemptions with the Township Supervisor or the City Assessor. This will no longer be necessary under the new law. But as stated previously, your taxes must be paid and the rebate then applied for.

Under provisions of the new law, the senior citizen would file a form with the Income Tax Division of the Michigan Department of Treasury, regardless if he has a taxable income or not.

I think this point should be stressed because some reports have said that senior citizens who don't pay state income taxes won't benefit because the benefit is only deductible from tax payment. This statement is in error and I want to make that clear to senior citizens as well as assessing officers.

Previously, local units of government received funding from the state for tax exemptions. Under the new law, this is changed. The property tax reduction will be paid directly to the senior citizen by one of the following:

—as a credit against income tax due and payable, or —in the event that no income tax is due, or if the tax credit exceeds the income tax that is due, a direct rebate payment will be made to the applicant by the state.

The present homestead exemptions that senior citizens have already applied for this year will be allowed. However, beginning January 1974, the following schedule will become effective:

Income below $3,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 of your property tax.

From $3,000 to $4,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 in excess of 1 percent of your income.

From $5,000 to $6,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 in excess of 3 percent of your income.

Over $6,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 in excess of 3½ percent of your income.

For those senior citizens who rent, 17 percent of your annual rent of your homestead will be considered as property taxes. The maximum allowable claim again is $500.

The present homestead exemptions that you have already applied for will be allowed this year. Effective January 1, 1974, the present ceiling of $10,000 on your state equalized valuation will be completely removed and you will receive reimbursement from the state for the full amount of your disability allowance. Veterans who rent their homestead will be able to consider 17 percent of their annual rent as property taxes. Again the maximum claim is $500.

In addition to these tax relief measures, the personal state income tax exemption has been raised from the present $1200 per exemption to $1500. This will amount to about $11.70 per dependent and will constitute a relief in the state income tax of some $46.80 per year for the average family of four.

Questionnaire Responses HOW YOU VOTED

Governor Milliken has predicted that there will be a surplus of about $370,000,000 in the state treasury over the next two years. What do you believe the legislature should do with this money?

64.0 percent - Return it to the people by reducing taxes.

17.8 percent - Keep it in a reserve fund.

'School Proposal Too Ambitious'

To the Editor:

I fully support the Northville schools and will support any justified building program. However, I feel the proposal to build three new schools is far too ambitious. Assuming that Northville's growth projections are correct (and I don't know the basis of these projections) and assuming the predicted school age population is correct (and I feel these must be overstated considering the well publicized zero population growth), a 75 percent increase in the number of our schools seems unwise.

Consider that Livonia also had ambitious plans - they now have closed one complete school and have many empty classrooms. Livonia is also a growing community, but their peak school population is in the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades. The population of the lower grades is dropping off. Isn't it somewhat logical that this could also happen in Northville?

Consider that Novi is seriously considering building a school within the present boundaries of the Northville school district but within the city limits of Novi. If this happens these children will no longer be in our school system.

Arguments for the support of the plan were presented as saving a school bus at $16,000 per year - we need 625 school bus years to pay for a $10,000,000 program. Also if I remember correctly, great savings were predicted for building all three schools now, but remember that purchasing these buildings when they may not be needed is at best waste.

If we build one school or three, the divisions between elementary, junior, and high school may change year to year depending on need. We may or may not use the Annex Building, the sixth grade may be in elementary or junior high, the ninth grade may be junior or senior high school. Therefore this cannot be an issue.

I will support a building program of one school at a time as needs are evident, but have serious doubts about the program as proposed. Sincerely,

Phil Smith

Smells 'Beer Hill'

To the Editor:

In answer to D. J.'s letter printed on May 10th, concerning parents worry over their children becoming Beer Hill inhabitants, I find it hard to believe that anyone could read that and not laugh. D. J. do you really think that parents are that naive?

All a person has to do is drive by Beer Hill on a warm breezy night and inhale. The smell of grass is so strong a person could become high just driving past, and I am not referring to the grass growing on the rolling hills of the beautiful park. Don't plan on driving through the park unless you are carrying four spare tires and won't mind a few punctures from beer bottles.

You ask why are parents upset when their children head for Beer Hill? Well I am not a parent yet, and it was only a few years ago that I was a member at these so called "get it together" sessions so I can understand why they are upset, they have every reason to be. Are they all rumors you hear? No, the fact is Beer Hill is a dopers hangout, a liquor store and a cheap motel rolled into everything.

What ever happened to old Knob Hill where kids used to gather for picnics and days of roasting marshmallows and playing baseball? I'll tell you what happened. Knob Hill is now Beer Hill where kids get together with drug pushers who would sell to your thirteen year old daughter and not bat an eye over the thought of bringing some innocent kid into their corrupt world of drugs and "new morals".

Parents if you still are not convinced of the corruption of Beer Hill take a drive over their some night and don't forget your spare tires. Thank You,

Mary Loeffler.

Costs 'Cup of Coffee'

To the Editor:

On June 11, 1973 the voters of the Novi School district can provide the services and facilities necessary for the proper education of our students, now and in the years to come. All it takes is a yes vote for propositions 1, 2 & 3 minus a cup of Coffee. The 15 cent cup of coffee is the approximate daily investment for our children's future. Yes, Based on $15,000 assessed valuation you can build and service our schools for $55 a year.

Please join me with your yes votes - Let's show that Novi Cares.

"They're trying to listen to their hand receiver without being conspicuous but they're doing a lousy job of it. By now one's bent over his hand as if he's trying to light a cigarette in a stiff wind, and the other's poking a bread stick in the ear closest to the piano. The bartender thinks he's got two juiced lemons on his hands and he can't understand how they got stoned on Cokes, and the dingbat at the piano is now banging the keys with his fists and sneering."

"To make matters worse, the white slaver gets drunk and instead of making a pass at the policewoman he just passes out.

"And if you think that was bad, you should have been there when we took the recording into the prosecutor's office and told them our story.

"They'd listen awhile and then laugh, and then listen again and laugh some more. Pretty soon they were giving us that, 'Play It Again Sam' routine and suggesting we become recording artists."

No wonder Gordie winces at the name Watergate.

When Finney was asked directly by Planner James Chenfoli if the rezoning request could be construed as an indication that the regional center is to be constructed at the 12 Mile-Nowi Road location, the SCI representative responded that Novi's chances are extremely good.

"The acquisition of the additional property did not come easily or inexpensively," he said. "Certainly our action indicates that we are pursuing the matter most vigorously."

In 1966 when Northville began using Detroit water, a line was tied in at the old well and water began flowing there again.

It was Detroit water, of course, but many of those who came to the well to fill their jugs and to quench their thirst insisted it was still "pure spring water."

When a reporter for this newspaper visited the well to interview those who came for water, he suggested to a Detroit couple they could get the same water out of their taps at home. For his revelation he was bitterly admonished by the couple, who indignantly pointed out that they certainly knew the difference between Detroit and Northville water and, as a matter of fact, their friends also insisted on drinking "Northville water."

Not even signs posted by the city could convince those who came for water.

For Northville Rotarians, who for years had been the well benefactors, the charade was painful. So two years later, in 1968, the Rotary Club ordered the drilling of a new well on the site.

A good supply of water was discovered in a gravel bed 47 feet deep.

"It wasn't the original water source, and it wasn't free-flowing like the old well but it was a good bed," according to Hartner.

An underground pump was installed, and "it has run night and day ever since" to ensure a constant flow of water, explains Hartner.

But just as people couldn't believe the Detroit water story, neither can some of them believe that the present flow isn't natural. For them the idea of an underground pump is revolting.

The idea of a motor-driven pump probably would have shaken up the characters in the old comic strip, The Nebbs, too.

It was The Nebbs strip, syndicated nationally, that nearly a half century ago gave Northville a bit of fame and popularized the town's well.

Northville was the setting for the strip, created by the late Sol Hess, and the town's "watering hole" became the subject of many humorous stories.

In 1924 Hess offered readers of his strip a $150 watch for the "best name for this wonderful water" of Northville.

The winning name, apparently, was "Nox'Age Water," for it showed up in subsequent strips.

The water was so good it prompted one cartoon lady to exclaim, "You know that jug of water you gave me cured my old man of the rheumatism..."

And Rudy Nebb himself remarked that all his wife need do on wash-day was drink a couple glasses of the Northville water "and a blanket will look like a doily to her."

For years The Nebbs characters swore by their well water, claiming all kinds of attractive qualities. But they never really knew what made it so good.

And it was and still is a little like that today in the real Northville. Like the cartoon characters, the original "deep spring Nox'Age water" has disappeared but the memory lives on and it brings 'em back with their jugs—pump or no pump.

Seek Oil Well Ordinance

He took exception to a finding of the Board of Appeals which discredited testimony given by a DNR official that oil wells are less dangerous than gas stations.

"According to statistics compiled by insurance companies, gas stations are substantially more dangerous than oil wells," Brukhuff contended.

Brukhuff also responded to questions raised by the council.

Most of the smell from an oil well is confined to the 30 day drilling period, he told Councilman Denis Berry.

Brukhuff further stated that under the Albion ordinance wells can be shut down if the odor becomes a public nuisance. He admitted that a drilling operation would result in virtually no increase in the city's tax base, but stated that provisions could legally be inserted in a city ordinance which would require payment of an annual tax which would offset the cost of inspecting and policing the oil well site.

Brukhuff also told the council of an oil field in Torrance, California, where multi-million dollar commercial development has occurred in the middle of a large producing oil field.

Councilman Berry stated that he was not "nearly as scared about the prospect of having oil wells in Novi" as he was before he had heard Brukhuff's comments.

Members will also be reviewing recommendations on three site plans submitted for two elementary schools and a middle school.

Two-Out Rally Saves Mustang Win

OOPS—Novi's John Pantalone hits the brakes in Friday's crucial game with Saline as Hornet third baseman Jim Fosdick waits to make the tag. Pantalone was out here, but he doubled in the bottom of the seventh to drive in the two runs that enabled Novi to tie the game they went on to win in extra innings.

Top Saline in 9 Innings

Wildcats Take SEC Lead

Better dust off a spot in the trophy case.

Novi High School, which had failed to win a single Southeastern Conference athletic championship until John Osborne's "Big Green Machine" powered its way to the football title last fall, is on the verge of winning SEC championship Number Two.

By virtue of a pressure-packed 4-3 extra-inning victory over Saline Friday, the Wildcats climbed into a virtual deadlock for the SEC title with the Hornets.

Novi now has a 10-2 conference record, while the Hornets are 9-2.

"The pressure was really on," commented Rick Trudeau, the second-year coach of the Novi nine. "It was strictly a do-or-die situation for us. If Saline had won we could have kissed the championship good-bye. But we beat them when we had to and now we have a good chance of getting at least a tie for first place."

The crucial victory over Saline was just one of four recorded by Trudeau's charges last week as they ran their winning streak to eight. The Wildcats have not lost since they were defeated by Livonia Churchill 5-1 on April 30.

Without a doubt the biggest game of the season was the Wildcats' showdown battle with Saline Friday. Saline went into the contest with an 8-1 record, while the Novi nine had posted a 9-2 mark in conference play.

Dave Brown got the starting nod for the Wildcats, while Dennis King, who had hurled a 1-0 victory over Novi in the first meeting between the two squads, was on the hill for the Hornets.

Novi tallied once in the bottom of the fourth as Tom Celani singled in John Pantalone, but as they came to the plate in the bottom of the seventh they were behind 3-1 and with King still on the mound the Novi chances looked slim.

An error, a fielder's choice, and a single by Eric Hansor put runners on first and third with one down and a wild pitch by King put runners on second and third with one down. Pantalone then lifted a fly ball to left center that fell between the two outfielders for a double scoring both Jerry Cockrell and Hansor with the game-tying runs and the game was headed for extra innings.

Brown retired the Hornets 1-2-3 in both the eighth and ninth innings, while King set the Wildcats down in order in the eighth. But in the ninth, King's usually flawless control suddenly deserted him.

A bloop double by Cockrell and an infield single by Hansor put runner on first and third with no one out. King then intentionally walked Dan Kardell to load the bases, but was then unable to find the plate and walked Celani on four straight pitches to force in the decisive run.

"The sign of a good team is being able to come from behind and win crucial ball games and that's exactly what we did against Saline," stated Trudeau. "As far as I'm concerned we're a good team."

In their other three victories last week, three different pitchers gave up a total of just two runs. Monday sophomore Ed Brown hurled Novi to a 5-0 conquest of Brighton; Tuesday Pantalone survived a seventh inning uprise to post a 2-1 win over Chelsea; and Thursday Mike Riley picked up a 5-1 triumph over Walled Lake Western.

In the Brighton game Novi scored five times in the first inning as Celani belted a two-run triple and Riley walloped a bases-empty home run. Ed Brown went the route on the mound, giving up just five hits.

The Wildcats had to survive a seventh inning threat to defeat Chelsea on Tuesday. Dave Brown knocked in Celani with a single in the first inning and Sean O'Brien was credited with the rbi as Hansor scored in the fourth, but Chelsea almost won it in the bottom of the seventh.

With one down, an error, a walk, and an infield single loaded the bases and brought the second, third, and fourth hitters in the Chelsea line up to the plate. Fortunately, Pantalone rose to the challenge. He fired a third strike past Doug Reed for the second out and then got Nadeau to lift a long fly to center for the game-ending out.

Novi jammed all its scoring into the third and fourth innings as they avenged an earlier loss to Walled Lake Western with a 5-1 triumph on Thursday.

Pantalone doubled in O'Brien and Ron Buck then doubled in Pantalone and Celani as he Wildcats took a 3-0 lead in the third. Kardell accounted for the fourth and fifth Novi runs in the following inning as his single drove in O'Brien and Hansor.

Riley held the Warriors scoreless until the seventh when they collected two singles and a double to tally their only run of the game.

One strike is all that separated Chuck Shonta's Northville baseball team from elimination in the opening game of the 1973 MHSAA baseball tournament Monday.

But with two outs and two strikes on the third batter in the bottom of the seventh inning, the Mustangs rallied for a run that knotted the score at 1-1 and then tallied again in the eighth to take a 2-1 victory over a rugged Dearborn Divine Child squad.

"That's cutting things a little too close," commented Shonta, who guided the Mustangs all the way to the semi-finals of the 1972 state tournament before being eliminated. "I'm just glad we were able to pull it out."

Northville's chances didn't look too bright when they came to the plate in the bottom of the seventh. A single by Tom Klus in the fifth inning and a two-out triple by pitcher Ken Sadek had given Divine Child a 1-0 lead.

And with Sadek working on a one hitter and having retired the last 13 Mustangs in order, Northville's chances looked dim at best. Things became even darker moments later when Sadek retired the first two Northville batters and then whipped a two quick strikes past John Sherman.

But then Sherman delivered. He picked out Sadek's next delivery and drove a shot between center and right field for a double. The Mustangs were still not out of the dark and Sadek would still have won the game had he not been betrayed by a couple of costly errors.

Steve Serkaian, the next Northville hitter, hit a ground ball to the right side of the infield that the first baseman misplayed, putting runners on first and third. And Joe Bishop followed with a ground ball to the Divine Child second baseman who threw wild to first allowing Sherman to come in with the tying run.

"I wasn't really that surprised by the errors," Shonta admitted after the game. "We knew it was going to be a close game and that mistakes were going to decide the outcome. I was just happy they started booting the ball when they did."

The Mustangs clinched the victory in the following inning. Bishop, the spunk little Northville hurler, set Divine Child down in order in the top of the eighth.

With one down in the bottom of the inning, Bart Taylor worked Sadek for a walk. Randy Oginski then blooped hit into right field and moved to second when Taylor was cut down trying to take third base. With two down and Oginski on second, Bill McDonald hit a hard grounder to short which bounded off the shortstop's shoulder into left field, enabling Oginski to cross the plate with the decisive run in the 2-1 victory.

As a result of the win, the Mustangs will advance to the pre-district round of the MHSAA play-offs, meeting Brighton this Saturday on the Northville High School field.

The winner of that game will advance to the semi-finals slated for the following Saturday, also at Northville.

Shonta was pleased to get past Divine Child. "That was the first game of the tournament, but we figured Divine Child was one of the toughest teams in our district," said the Mustang mentor.

"It's unfortunate that two of the best teams have to meet in the opening round, but that's the luck of the draw."

Although the victory over Divine Child was the most important game of the week, the Mustangs played three other games last week and won two of them as they advanced their season's record to 12-6.

Following a 5-2 loss to Lutheran West Monday, Northville came back to blast Western Six Conference foe Farmington Harrison 16-1 on Wednesday and then turn back Clarenceville 4-3 on Friday.

Two unearned runs and two singles were all the Mustangs were able to come up with in the 5-2 loss to Lutheran West. Shonta was pleased with the work of sophomore John Boland, however, who was brought up from the junior varsity to hurl the non-league game.

After a rocky start in which West scored five runs on five hits in the first three innings, Boland adjusted to varsity competition and held them scoreless and hitless over the final four frames.

Ed Krich tossed a three-hitter against Harrison Wednesday, but he need not have been so stingy as his teammates were converting 10 hits and nine walks into 16 runs - their top offensive showing of the year. Bart Taylor with four hits in five trips to the plate led the barrage.

Taylor, Oginski, and Scott Leu each collected rbi's Friday in Northville's 4-3 conquest of Clarenceville. Glenn Kundrick gave up six hits in picking up the win for the Mustangs who clinched the verdict with three runs in the fifth inning.

Mustang Jayvees Clinch Share of West Six Title

Northville's junior varsity baseball team clinched at least a share of the Western Six Conference title last week as they upended Farmington Harrison 10-7.

"That assures us of at least a tie," observed Gary Emerson, coach of the Mustang jayvees. "Whether we win it outright depends on the outcome of the Walled Lake Western-Waterford Mott game. If Western beats Mott we have the title all to ourselves, but if Mott wins they'll have a 3-1 record and end up tied with us for the championship."

The Mustangs clinched a share of the title by defeating Harrison 10-7 in a wild contest that saw the Mustangs build up an 8-1 early in the game only to have the Hawks pull to within a single run 8-7 by the end of the sixth inning.

Northville tallied twice in the top of the seventh to pull away to the final 10-7 margin. "It was wild all right," Emerson confirmed. "We got off to a good start and it looked like we had it all wrapped up, but Harrison came on strong at the end."

The Mustangs scored once in the first inning as Scott Leu raced across the plate on Jim Pratt's infield ground out and then scored twice in the second as Bill Beason stroked a two out single that drove in Leu and Pratt.

But the Mustangs' big inning was the third when they broke loose for five hits and five runs to open up an 8-1 margin over the Hawk jayvees. A walk to Tim Eis and a single by Jerry Fulcher put runners on first and second and a passed ball enabled them to move up to second and third. Dean Mitchell then stroked a single to bring both runners in to score.

Leu then singled in Mitchell and subsequent single by Pratt and a walk to Beason loaded the bases for Tom Dooley who also stroked a single to drive in the fourth and fifth Northville runs of the inning.

Harrison then started chipping away at the Mustang lead and by the end of the sixth had cut the margin to 8-7. Northville added a pair of insurance runs in the seventh as Beason and Dooley scored two unearned runs.

In a non-league contest last week, the Mustangs stopped Clarenceville 5-2. Bill Beason doubled home Jim Pratt in the first inning and Bill White scored on Dave Wilson's ground out in the second to give the Mustangs a 2-0 lead.

Northville wrapped up their scoring in the fourth as they tallied three runs on five straight singles by Tom Eis, Bill Piccolo, Andy Butterworth, Jim Pratt, and Bill White.

Boland, meanwhile, scattered five hits and struck out seven Trojans as he picked up the victory.

The Mustangs have now won four in a row to advance their season's record to 9-4 with just two games left on the schedule.

"We'd like to win at least one of our remaining two games," stated Emerson.

NOVI NETTERS — Novi's first-year tennis team has yet to win its first meet, but the youthful members of the squad are gaining a wealth of experience and coming on fast. Novi Little League

3 Teams Lead Majors

Single leaders have emerged in both the Pony and Minor Leagues, but three teams are all deadlocked for the top spot in the Major League as action in the Novi Little League got underway in earnest last week.

Tied for the lead in the Major League with identical 2-0 records are the Novi Firemen, Michigan Tractor, and Bain Brothers Landscaping.

The Firemen pulled off the upset of the week as they defeated last year's champion B&V Construction 9-8 in a tight ball game. The Firemen proved that win was no fluke by knocking off the Novi Policemen 12-3 in their other contest.

Hardest hitting Major League team was Bain Brothers which blasted the Policemen 16-2 and then came back to bash Novi Party Store 14-9. Sharing first place with Bain Brothers and the Firemen is the Michigan Tractor squad which recorded a 9-8 triumph over Rexall Drugs and then dumped General Filters 11-7.

Other victories in the Major Leagues last week were recorded by Rexall with a 6-2 verdict over the Novi Party Store and by B&V Construction which topped General Filters 8-2.

Leading the Pony League is Harrison Well which topped Ecco Tool 11-3 in a game played under protest and then defeated Pink Builders 14-6 to become the only undefeated team in the Pony division.

Also registering victories in the Pony League last week were Ecco Tool which beat Pink Builders 14-6 and Spartan Concrete which defeated Firm-Bilt 10-9.

Leading the Minor League is Herb's Mower. Herb's powered their way to a 15-3 victory over Fendt Transit Wednesday and then came back Thursday to mow down Jamaican Pools 17-3.

The victory over Fendt was the first loss of the year for the Transit team which topped Marcus Glass 22-3 and Lynch Precision 22-21 in an extra-inning slugfest on Friday.

Lynch Precision pulled off a triple play and then scored the winning run with two outs in the last inning as they topped J.S. Trudeau 4-3 in their other game last week.

In other Minor League games J.S. Trudeau topped Thomas Steel Forms 9-8 and Marcus Glass outlasted Jamaican Pools 28-26.

In SEC Championships

Wildcats Move Up to 5th

It's just as Del Munson has suspected all along.

In spite of finishing dead last in the Southeastern Conference with a miserable 0-7 dual meet record, the 1973 edition of the Novi track team is just not that bad.

The Wildcat thinclads proved that point decisively a week ago Wednesday as they fought their way to a fifth place finish in the SEC Track and Field Championships at South Lyon.

Saline successfully defended their conference title by rolling up 61 points to far outdistance Dexter which surprisingly slipped in ahead of Chelsea and South Lyon for second place with 40 points.

Chelsea was third with 36, while the Lions scored 33½ points to finish fourth, followed by Novi with 28, Milan with 22, Lincoln with 10½, and lowly Dundee with nine.

But was Munson pleased with his team's advancement from last to fifth place? Well, not necessarily.

"Sure it was nice to move up to a position closer to where we ought to be," he admitted. "But I think we could have moved up even farther. I just happen to believe that we could have done a lot better than we did."

"We could have had first and third in the 880, first and second in the long jump, first and third in the high jump, and second and third in the 440, as well as some points in several other areas," he continued.

That Munson's aspirations for his team were not realized can be attributed to a combination of injuries and certain performers failing to measure up to their fullest potential.

Novi's lone "SEC" championship was recorded by senior Kirk Rosey who ran away from the rest of the field to win the two mile run with a 10:14.7 clocking - 18 seconds faster than the second place finisher.

"Kirk turned in a heckuva job," stated Munson. "We've been trying to convince him for the past three years that he's one of the top distance runners in the SEC and he proved we knew what we were talking about with his performance in the conference meet."

After Rosey's triumph in the two mile run, the top Novi finishes were a pair of second places turned in by Pat Boyer. Although hampered through most of the season with a nagging leg injury, Boyer came within two and a half inches of taking a pair of firsts.

In the long jump he leaped 19'10" only to come in second to Chelsea's Bruce Guster who copped the conference championships with a leap of 19'11". And in the high jump Boyer's 6'1½" effort was just an inch short of the winning jump of 6'1½" recorded by Dexter's Mike Newman.

"I think he would have won them both except he was favoring his leg a little," opined Munson.

Right behind Boyer with a third place finish in the high jump was Jim Cook, who cleared the bar at 5'11" before failing on all three attempts to get over the 6 foot mark.

It was a disappointing meet for Bill Ross, the Wildcats' fine middle distance runner who failed to defend the SEC 880 crown he won last year with a sparkling 2:00.1 and fell all the way from second to fifth in the 440.

Ross recorded a 2:05.2 in finishing second behind Dexter's Ken Haight, who won the 880 with a 2:04.9 clocking. In the 440 Ross finished fifth in 54.1 seconds, substantially slower than the 52.2 he recorded last year in finishing second in the event.

A bright note was sophomore Brian Schingek who finished fourth in the 880 with a 2:05.7 timing.

The Wildcats got a third place finish from its mile relay team of Ross, Schingek, Mel Stephens, and Dave Miller, who put together a 3:39.8 to finish behind South Lyon which won the event with a 3:36.5 and Chelsea which had a 3:38.2 clocking.

Dave Miller rounded out the Novi scoring by galloping his way to fifth place in the mile with 4:53.1 effort.

"Miller's another one of our seniors who's been performing on one leg for most of the season," stated Munson. "With that leg of his it took a real gutty effort to finish as high as fifth. If Miller had two good legs under him, I think we would have had another conference champion."

Ugh! Novi JVs Lose 4

It was one of those weeks Bob Weinburger would just as soon forget.

"Nope, it wasn't a good week at all," admitted the tobacco-chewing coach of the Novi junior varsity baseball team. "It was one of those weeks where we just weren't able to get things cranked up and moving in the right direction."

Indeed. Faced with a rugged five-game schedule starting with a double header against Brighton Monday, Weinburger's jayvees finished the week with one victory and four losses as their season's record fell from 5-5 to 6-9.

Ironically, it was not the pitching which collapsed under the strain of the heavy schedule. By moving sophomore Ed Brown down from the varsity to hurl one game and allowing catcher

Gary Ford to hurl another, Weinburger bolstered his mound corps appropriately.

The factor which led to all four of Novi's losses last week was the lack of hitting.

The junior Wildcats scored just one run Monday as they dropped the double header to Brighton 3-1 and 1-0. And then they came back with just two hits in each of their next two games as they dropped decisions to first Chelsea and then Walled Lake Western.

It wasn't until the hitters finally came alive against Saline on Friday that the Novi nine finally managed to break into the win column - registering an extra-inning 11-9 triumph.

"That's what happened to us right there," commented Weinburger, referring to the lack-luster hitting performance. "We got 10 hits and five runs in our first four games. It's hard to win with an offense like that."

Weinburger divided his squad in two for the double bill with Brighton and neither half was able to put together much of an offense as the Bulldogs copped a pair of wins.

Catcher Gary Ford was on the mound for the first game and pitched relatively well, giving up five hits and striking out eight. But he got little support. Novi's lone run came in the seventh when Tim Reske and Dave Warneke stroked singles and Ford then added a third single to bring in Reske from second base.

Mike Mulligan led off the second game with a line single to right, but that was the only Novi hit of the game as Brighton took a 1-0 victory. John Henson won the route for Novi on the mound, giving up five hits and striking out nine.

Tuesday the Novi jayvees were dumped 5-3 by Chelsea in a game in which both teams collected just two hits and there were no hits at all after the second inning.

Mike Collins' double was the key blow as Novi scored twice in the first inning, but Chelsea came back with three runs in the bottom of the first on three walks and an error. Novi tied it in the third on three walks and an error, but Chelsea clinched the win with two runs in the fourth on two errors, a walk, and a hit batsman.

Bill Cork fanned 16 Novi hitters, while Pat McAllen and Dave Piotrowicz K'd 11 Bulldogs.

A lead-off double by Ed Brown and a bunt single by Piotrowicz were the only Novi hits in a 4-1 loss to Walled Lake Western on Thursday. Bill Barr laid down a suicide squeeze bunt with Piotrowicz on third in the fourth inning to account for the lone Wildcat run.

And then - thank goodness - came Saline. Novi's hitters rapped out 10 hits and Saline's infielders contributed nine errors and the Wildcats fought their way to an 11-9 triumph in extra-innings.

At the end of the fifth, Novi had an 8-3 lead, but Saline came back to tie the score at 9-9 in the bottom of the seventh. Gary Ford and Bill Barr tallied in the top of the eighth and relief pitcher Pat McAllen turned in a gritty performance which won Weinburger's praise as the Wildcats held on for the win.

The glider is a sport for the rich and the daring. The glider is a heavier-than-air motorless plane. Technically, this sport includes both gliding and soaring. In ordinary gliding, the craft is constructed so that it constantly loses altitude never rising above its starting point. In soaring the craft may reach points above where it took off. The glider is a delicately constructed engine and requires a quick and skillful hand for the best maneuvering.

Mustangs Capture 3rd in Conference Meet

Senior pole vaulter Bill Witek was the lone Mustang to capture a conference championship as Coach Ralph Redmond's Northville track team finished in a tie with Walled Lake Western for third place in the Western Six Conference Meet last Wednesday at Walled Lake.

As expected Livonia Churchill and Waterford Mott dominated the meet. The Corsairs scored eight first place finishes, while the Chargers finished first in six events. But it was the superior depth of the Churchill team which proved decisive.

The Chargers won the Western Six Conference championship with 96 points, while Mott finished second with 75. Northville and Walled Lake Western each had 29 points and Harrison was last with eight points.

Following the meet,

Redmond, who has headed the Northville track program since 1960 except for a two year stint in the army, announced he was stepping down as head coach.

In his 12 years at the helm of the Northville track team, Redmond has had just one losing season, while his teams have gone undefeated in dual meets on two occasions. He has developed two state champions during the years he headed the Mustang track program - pole vaulter Ron Gloetzer and long jumper John Stuyvenberg.

The 1973 edition of the Northville track team barely squeezed in over the .500 mark in dual meets as they recorded a 5-4 season. And, like his final season, his final conference championship meet was something less than what Redmond had hoped for.

"We went in there hoping to win as many as four different individual championships," stated the veteran Mustang mentor. "We thought we had chances in the pole vault, shot put, 880, and mile, but as it worked out we only came through in one event."

"Still," he continued, "the most important thing is that we wanted to finish third in the meet and that's what we did, so that at least has got to be a positive note."

The four performers who Redmond felt had a chance to win conference championships were Witek, shot putter Jim Porterfield, half-miler Tom Coram, and miler Guy Cole.

Witek's path to the conference pole vault title was cleared when the defending champion, Mike Gibbons from Waterford Mott, was booted off the team two weeks ago for rule violations. With Gibbons gone, the Mustang star won the crown with one jump.

Opening height was nine feet, but Witek did not enter the competition until the bar was raised to the 12 foot mark. At that point only Bill Roumay from Western was still in the running for the crown. Witek cleared the bar easily on his first jump, while Roumay failed in all three attempts to give Witek the conference championship.

Porterfield set a new school record in the shot put with a heave of 51'11" but still had to settle for second place behind Mott's Gordon Sheldon, the defending conference champion.

"It was great competition," reported Redmond. "Sheldon has only lost once in dual meets in three years and that was when Porterfield beat him earlier this spring. And Porterfield's only dual meet loss in the last two years came when Sheldon defeated him last year, so they were really after each other in the conference meet."

"The Mott coaches told me that Sheldon was really shook up when Porterfield beat him and he's done nothing but count the days to the league meet every since," Redmond continued.

"They were both out after each other. They were like a couple of bulls out there, but each had great respect for the abilities and competitive spirit of the other."

Sheldon won the championship with a put of 52'2"—two and one-half feet farther than his conference winning put last year.

The Mustangs fared less well in the 880 and mile.

Redmond had hoped that Coram who was coming off a 2:01.7 in the regionals, would be able to move below the 2:00.0 mark and challenge for the 880 crown. His hopes were to no avail, however. Coram turned in a 2:03.8 - good for third place, but far behind Churchill's Phil Damaska who won the title by edging out Mott's Larry Grace at the tape in a fine 1:59.5.

Western Six coaches were looking forward to a great personal duel between Cole and Churchill's Mark Priebe in the mile run. Priebe had beaten Cole in a dual meet, turning in a 4:29.7 while Cole clocked a 4:30.4, but the anticipated race never developed in the conference meet.

Priebe crossed the line first in 4:31.7 far ahead of Cole who was second with a 4:40.4.

In addition to the second place finishes recorded by Porterfield and Cole, the Mustangs also finished second in the 440 relay as Bill Pettit, Rich Marcicki, Frank Nelson, and Dennis Keegan turned in a 47.4 effort to take second behind Churchill.

The Mustangs finished fourth in both the 880 and mile relays, as Pettit, Marcicki, Nelson, and Bob Bloomhuff had a 1:38.9 in the 880 relay and Cole, Coram, Tim Taggart, and Bloomhuff had a 3:37.7 in the mile relay.

Fifth place points were garnered by Dave Harrison in the high jump (5'6"); Marcicki in the 220 (24.1); sophomore Tim Hurley in the two mile (10.38.3); and Bloomhuff and Pettit who tied for fifth in the 440 with identical 54.4 clockings.

DASH TO THE FINISH LINE — Northville's Denise MacDermid (left) holds the school record in the 100 yard dash, but she had to settle for a close second place finish when the Northville girls met Plymouth last Thursday. The Plymouth team scored an easy win over the Mustangs in spite of the determined efforts of Miss MacDermid and her cohorts.

In State 880

Muriel Takes 3rd Place

Muriel Bedford finished third in the 880 and seventh in the 440 as she participated in the first Michigan Girls' Track and Field Championships at East Lansing High School last Saturday.

Muriel was the lone Northville girl to qualify for the meet which was won by Lincoln Park with 34 points. The Walled Lake Western girls were a close second with 31½ points. Muriel scored 7½ points for Northville.

Muriel bettered her best previous times in both the 440 and the 880 in the state meet.

"Muriel's best race is the 880 and that was the race we were aiming at," explained Paul Bedford, coach of the Northville girls' track team and Muriel's older brother. The 880 race quickly developed into a two-girl duel between Sue Lattner of Clarkston and Sue Parks of Ypsilanti, an internationalist who has competed against the Russian women's team.

At the 440 mark Muriel was lodged in sixth place, and she began her closing drive with about 330 yards to go. Coming out of the final turn she had moved up to fourth, and she then began a tough sprint which enabled her to beat Laurie Taylor of Walled Lake Western to the finish line by about ten yards for third place.

Miss Lattner won the race in 2:17 with Miss Parks second in 2:18. Muriel's third place time of 2:23.5 was three seconds better than her best previous time.

Forty-five minutes later Muriel recorded a 61.6 clocking in the 440 which placed her in a tie with Miss Taylor from Walled Lake for seventh place.

Thinclads Score at State

Northville's mile relay team finished tenth to score one point and shot putter Jim Porterfield finished in a tie for seventh to score another as the Mustangs wound up with a total of two points in the MHSAA Class B State Track and Field Championships last Saturday in Flint.

In finishing tenth in the mile relay, the quartet of Guy Cole, Bob Bloomhuff, Tim Taggart, and Tom Coram established a new school record. Their time of 3:30.2 shattered the former mark of 3:30.7 set by George D'Haene, Al Earehart, Bill Harrison, and Jack Crawford in 1968.

Porterfield, the stocky junior shot putter, was far from top form as his best put of 48'4" in the state meet was more than three feet shorter than the 51'11" heave he got off four days earlier in the conference meet. Nevertheless, he finished in a tie for seventh place.

Cranbrook's Too Tough

Netters Fall in Regionals

Northville's netters found themselves pitted against one of the top tennis powers in the state last weekend as they participated in the Class B Regionals at Cranbrook.

"Cranbrook is probably the best team in the state - Class A or Class B," asserted Bob Simpson, the Northville coach. "They won the Class B state championship last year and I'll be very surprised if they don't win it again this year."

Cranbrook made a shambles of their own regionals, scoring

22 points to far outdistance second place Riverview which had 10 points. Northville was third with seven.

"Cranbrook dominated the regionals," reported Simpson. "All but three teams had been eliminated after the first day. In the semi-finals they had two of the four singles players and three of the four doubles teams. That's the absolute maximum you can have. The finals were all Cranbrook. They ended up taking first and second in the singles and first and second in the doubles."

Northville was one of those three teams which returned for the semi-finals Saturday. Or, more specifically, the Mustangs' number one doubles team of Cary Eaker and Rick Norton returned for the semi-finals on Saturday. They worked their way to the semi-finals by winning each of their first three matches. In the opening round Eaker and Norton put away a team from Riverview in straight sets 6-4, 6-3; and then came back in the second round to dump a Robichaud team 6-1, 6-0. In the third round Eaker and Norton found themselves pitted against the fourth seeded doubles team from Grosse Ile, but once again they won in straight sets, posting a 6-3, 6-2 victory.

In the semi-finals, however, they ran into Cranbrook's top-rated doubles team of Mark Weber and Jim Parsons and were soundly defeated 6-1, 6-1. Weber and Parsons went on to win the regional championship and will be favored to win the state Class B doubles crown this Saturday.

Both of Northville's other two doubles teams also won their opening round matches before being defeated in the second round. Jamie Boshoven and John Oatey defeated Robichaud 6-0, 6-1 in the first round, but ran into Parsons and Weber from Cranbrook in the second round and were defeated 6-0, 6-1.

Rob Bowman and John Polino won their first round match, dumping a Grosse Ile team 6-1, 6-0, but fell in the second round to the second-seeded team from Inkster.

In the singles competition, only co-captain Greg Boll made it beyond the opening round as both Frank Knoth and Jim Mulville were defeated in their opening matches.

Boll defeated his first round opponent from Southgate Aquinas 6-3, 6-2 and then defeated Clarenceville's Jim Rowens 6-3, 6-0 in the second round. But in the third round, Boll ran into the tournament's fourth seeded singles player from Riverview and was handed a 6-3, 6-0 setback that eliminated him from the tourney.

RICK NORTON

Mustangs of the Week

Mustang of the Week honors go to Cary Eaker and Rick Norton. The two juniors have compiled a fine 15-4 record while playing as the number one doubles team on Coach Bob Simpson's Northville tennis squad. Last week, Norton and Eaker advanced all the way to the semi-finals of the Cranbrook regionals before being eliminated by the top-rated Class B doubles team in the state.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Biery to accept bid from low bidder, Nor-West for $2,600 for the demolition of the Rathburn Building. Carried. By NANCY DINGELDEY

Without a doubt, this past Mayor's Exchange Day had to be the biggest and best Wixom has ever had. Not enough plaudits can go in the right direction.

Our guests from Bronson were tremendous people who seemed to enjoy their day in our town. Mayor McConn piloted his own plane up here and returned Monday night with a souvenir. The question was "where do you 'park' a purple plum tree in a four seater airplane when all four seats are occupied?"

The buffet dinner was a huge success with Mr. Kerr and the kids from the Voc. Ed. Center receiving rave notices for their cooking skills. The Mayor and his party had an opportunity to visit the Center earlier in the day and left with the same feeling experienced by so many—the kids are proud of what they are doing. Not enough can be said of the vocal skills of the Inter-Lakes Sweet Adelines. It was really great entertainment and the audience just loved them. They can come and sing for me anytime!

The senior citizens—well I think they had a grand time and it was a pleasure to be able to participate in their special awards presentations. John Lutz, acting for the Wixom Chamber of Commerce presented "Senior Citizens Awards" to Frances and George Morris, Lottie Chambers and Mildred Gibson.

At opening ceremonies in the morning, the Cub Scout pack from Wixom School took part in the flag raising ceremonies and they were a welcomed addition. You might say the whole City looked rather sharp!

Going back to Saturday, it could have been a warmer, sunnier day, but the weather certainly didn't cause the crowd to stay away. Chalk up another success.

The little gals coming out of the glamour tent proud as punch...the PTA Fair and all its goodies...and the good old Pet Show. John Eller won the first prize in the drawing of kids entering the Pet Show and is now the proud owner of a complete camera outfit.

Lots of pets were entered this year and since there were so many we'll list just the first place winners in each category. Biggest dog was won hands down by "Yukon", the pet St. Bernard shown by Michelle Morehead, while the smallest dog category was won by "Baby" a rather nervous Chihuahua owned by Darla Ray.

Back from last year and winning the longest tail contest was "Val" shown by Mark Reinhardt.

Rhonda Marshall's "Mitzzy" won the shortest tail with her stub of 1/2 inch—you could barely find it.

A lovely black and white Spaniel named "snoopy" shown by Lynette Dulek took the longest ears category, while the best dressed pooch was won by Jody Swan's "Michelle". "Angel" Vangieson stole the show with her repertoire of tricks and what judge could turn down a pink Peke leaping back and forth through a fire hoop.

The cats took the field and a whopping 21 inches earned Sandy Rohwetter's "Muffin" the blue ribbon as biggest. Kittens were not eligible for the smallest cat category but Kathy Dicky's "Butterfly" took the field measuring in at 8 inches and that's pretty small.

A Siamese named "P. J." decked out in red velvet and mink no less took the best dressed prize and was shown by Nicole Morehead. "Muffin" came through with another blue ribbon for Sandy Rohwetter by winning the tough category of prettiest cat.

As usual, the most unusual pet categories were really something to see. The prize went to Melinda Weiborg for her "Little Rascals"—a "make your own" ant colony. Have to mention "Jerico" who was the second prize winner—it was a red (pink?) and white chicken who laid red and white speckled eggs. Sherry White clued the judge-in on that.

Never bet on a turtle race because they're tricky. Johnny Jensen's "Timothy Turtle" won the race in no time flat—it was second and third places that took the time to decide. In the small turtles, the blue ribbon went to Gavin Maumberg.

Score again with the patriotic musical at the Wixom Baptist Church Sunday night. "Blessed Freedom" enjoyed a hit with the town.

Fun time at the V. F. W. on Tuesday with a lot of monkey business and the ladies pot luck luncheon. Now there was an event and oh, the stuff that was auctioned off just couldn't be called white monkeys. There were a few elephants hidden in there!

We've made it thus far through Michigan Week with even more things to come. Don't forget the Educational Day tea at Wixom School today (Thursday) honoring Mrs. Beatrice Hallett and Robert Chandler. All are invited to visit between 1 and 3 p.m.

Another big day is on Saturday beginning with the Pancake Breakfast at 8:30 a.m. followed by the Kids, Kops and Firemen baseball game at 2 p.m. at City Hall and the conclusion to it all, the annual Goodfellow Dance. Looks like there will be a good crowd at all the events so join in and have a great time.

There's a group of happy gals at Walled Lake Western. The girls track team took second place in the first State track meet held last Saturday at East Lansing High School.

Captained by Frida Waara, daughter of the Fred Waara's of Wixom, the team lost first place honors by a scant three points to Lincoln Park High School. Some 366 girls from 118 schools participated in the day-long event.

Needless to say, the gals deserve a great deal of credit and our congratulations.

Condition and position of mailboxes, both rural and in towns, will be noted during the week of May 21-26, the period set for Mailbox Improvement Week, according to Novi Postmaster Gordon J. Blackburn.

"The Postal Service designates a week during May each year when customers on rural, city motorized and contract delivery routes are encouraged to examine and improve, where necessary, the appearance of their mailboxes," Postmaster Blackburn said.

Blackburn said.

Purpose of Mailbox Improvement Week is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect mail from the weather and are neat in appearance, conveniently located, and safe to use, he said.

"Neat, attractive mailboxes make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and the streets in suburban areas."

Postmaster Blackburn said

the placing of owner's names on the boxes is optional.

However," he added, "where box numbers are assigned, the box number must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door where boxes are grouped." In areas where snow removal is a problem, the use of a semiarch or extended arm type of support is suggested.

This allows snow plows to sweep near or under boxes without damage to supports.

Teachers Get Retroactive Pay

Retroactive pay totaling $14,865.44 was granted to 116 Northville teachers last week.

The wages, which average $128.15 per teacher, represent those lost during the August to November wage freeze in 1971.

Motion to grant the back wages was unanimous, with Trustees Richard Ambler and Stanley Johnston absent.

Wages were paid by the school district in keeping with a court judgment which authorized the move.

Northville school district had originally withheld the back wages since the master teaching contract for the 1971-72 school year had been settled after the wage freeze was instituted.

From September 7 until November 14 of 1971, teachers were paid on the same step and at the same rate as they had been paid during the 1970-71 school year.

Northville Education Association challenged the district's move and obtained a ruling from the pay board. That ruling, plus one obtained by the school board from the District Court of Eastern Michigan, authorized the payment of the lost wages.

For that period, teachers will be paid at the rate negotiated for in the 1970-71 contract. Teachers will receive the rate of pay for the next step in the salary schedule.

Affected by the back pay are 99 teachers currently on the staff and 17 teachers who are no longer teaching in Northville schools.

Back wages will be paid to the teachers on June 1, administrators explained

Carr Begins

Ferris Drills

Gregg Carr, a Northville High School graduate, is one of 97 hopefuls reporting for spring football drills at Ferris State College.

Carr, a 6'1", 184 pound senior advertising major, returns as a wide receiver for the Bulldogs.

A three-year football standout at Northville, Carr earned three letters and won all-league and all-county honors in addition to being named most valuable player on the squad his senior year.

DUAL - ASSIST-Two new emergency life saving units have been added to General's fleet of ambulances serving the Northville-Novixom area. They include the automatic heart massage-resuscitator, demonstrated in the foreground by Dennis Lack, attendant on a General executive, Kyle Roberts, and the Patch-a-phone, operated in the rear by John Early, manager. The Patch-a-phone permits the ambulance driver or attendant to speak directly with doctors while enroute to the hospital with a patient. Special medical advice can be transmitted between the hospital and the ambulance. The emergency instrument in the foreground automatically "breathes" for the heart patient, supplying him oxygen, while at the same time massaging his heart.

There are several ways to attach shelves and hinges in your home. You can use a butt hinge - easiest to install, it is screwed to the edge of the facing and to the edge of the door (drill pilot holes first to prevent splitting). A semi-concealed hinge is used with a lipped door. Install it by fastening the hinge to the back of the door, then attach it to the face of the cabinet. A surface or H-hinge fastens to the front of the door and the face of the cabinet. A concealed pivot style hinge screws into the top and bottom edges of the doors. Use dado joints for the best shelf support. Adjustable supports are easy and convenient to use.

And you'll find it convenient to shop at NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220. We feature a complete line of U.S. Plywood pre-finished shelves and K.V. shelves and hardware, Rawl fasteners, Amerock hardware, and Dexter and Kwikset locks. We cut lumber to size and offer delivery service. Master Charge honored. Open: 8-6, Mon-Fri; 8-5 Sat.

HELPFUL HINT: Stand paint can on paper plates. It will catch the drips and can be thrown away when the job is done.

SET DATE FOR BUDGET HEARING City Manager stated that Mayor Exchange Day is May 21, 1973 and Historical Day is Tuesday, May 22, 1973 therefore, the next Council meeting date is best changed to May 22, 1973. Carried Motion by Councilman Rathert supported by Councilman Polino to set budget hearing date for May 23, 1973 with proper notice in the Northville Record. Carried.

MISC. AMBULANCE SERVICE DEVELOPMENTS City Manager stated that when they checked into the ambulance housing provisions offered by the low bidder, they found that the bid of $150 did not include the garage or the completed housing, which was not the understanding when the proposal was approved by the City Council.

The owner has informed him that in addition to the rent, we will have to pay approximately $10,500, which over a 3 year period would be approximately $450 per month. Council rejected this plan.

The low bidder also suggests that he may have another house and garage in that same area, which he will look into further if the City and Township agree to pay in advance the sum of $10,500 for a three year lease.

The City Manager noted Mr. & Mrs. Paul Polino's bid still stands but still only in the event that no other bid would meet the specifications or be acceptable. Councilman Polino noted that he wishes to see the Ambulance service kept in the Northville area. Council decided in favor of Mr. Polino's bid of $300 per month rent, with a one-year contract with two options for renewal. Council instructed City Manager to inform the Township of their preference and perhaps attend the next meeting of the Northville Township Board.

REMOTE RECEIVER BID Police Department recommends bids from Motorola be rejected as the $800 will not meet our specifications, the bid price of $5.00 is much higher than expected.

Motion by Councilman Polino supported by Councilman Blery to reject bids for remote receiver and authorize city manager to readvertise for bids. Carried.

ASPHALT PAVING BIDS: City Manager stated that $15,000 instead of the formally agreed $10,000 would have to be appropriated in order to do a proper job of repaving the city's streets.

Motion by Councilman Polino supported by Councilman Blery to approve Resolution for appropriations of $15,000 for the asphalt paving of the city's streets. Carried.

FEDERAL FUNDS RESOLUTION. Motion by Councilman Rathert supported by Councilman Polino to approve Resolution determining that sufficient funds can be appropriated to provide the city's share of costs for Police Radio Communications Program. Carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:50 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Michele A. Sakalan

Novi Exam Schedule Revealed

The schedule for final exams at Novi High School was released last week by Principal Hal Seymour.

Seniors will be taking their final exams Wednesday through Friday, May 30 - June 1; while juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will have exams Tuesday through Thursday, June 5-7.

Seniors will be taking final exams only in courses required for graduation - second semester English and government. The exams will be given during regular class periods.

Exams for underclassmen will begin Tuesday, June 5 with the exam for first period classes being given from 8-9:55 a.m. and the exam for second period classes being given from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Exams for third and fourth period classes will be administered Wednesday, June 6. Third period exams will be given from 8-9:55 a.m. with fourth period exams starting at 10 a.m. and concluding at 12 noon.

Final exams in the fifth and sixth hour classes are slated for Thursday, June 7 with fifth hour exams running from 8-9:55 a.m. and sixth hour exams running from 10-12 noon.

Absentees must arrange for make-up exams prior to June 8.

All textbooks must be returned and all bills must be paid prior to the final exams.

Seymour noted that bus service will be available in the morning and at mid-day, following the 12 noon exam. Students who have their own transportation are not required to use the buses, however, and students who do not have exams are not required to be in school, although study halls will be provided for those who either want to use them or do not have their own transportation and have to use the buses. No lunches will be served on exam days.

Anyone having any questions regarding the examination or bus schedules can contact the high school office at 349-5155 for further information.

Pop 'n Rock on Tap Here

Pop and Rock classes will be offered next school year at Northville High.

Shortage of staff members in the music department caused by an increase in the number of students enrolled in various types of music classes offered, resulted in an administrative decision not to offer the Pop and Rock class next year.

However, a petition circulated by teachers and presented to the board of education, placed the matter on the agenda for the board's May 15 meeting.

A total of 132 students had signed up for the class which examines the contents of pop and rock music and how it relates to today's world.

Supported by students, teachers appeared before the board and requested the class be re-instated for the 1973-74 school year.

They argued that while few students signed up for a graphics class, that class was still being offered. On the other hand, 132 had signed up for Pop and Rock class, and it was being canceled.

School board members authorized the hiring of an additional teacher at the high school level which will enable two sections of Pop and Rock to be offered each semester. The teacher will also be used in other areas of the curriculum.

Buses Score High on Inspection

Northville Public Schools recently received a certificate from the Michigan Department of Education for having 100 percent of its buses pass inspection.

The local district was one of 420 throughout the state to have all buses meet the high standards set during the 1972-73 school year.

TO THE GAS CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF GAS RATE HEARING AND NOTICE OF HEARING ON MOTION FOR PARTIAL AND IMMEDIATE RATE RELIEF

On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission with supporting testimony and exhibits in Case No. U-4331, which requests authority to amend its gas rates so as to increase its gas revenues by approximately $50,400,000 on an annual basis and, at the same time Consumers Power Company filed a Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief which seeks authority, on an interim basis to amend its gas rates so as to increase its gas revenues by approximately $33,729,000 on an annual basis. On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company also filed an application in Case No. U-4332 with the Commission for authority to increase its rates for the sale of electric energy. At the hearing hereinafter noticed, the application to increase electric rates, Case No. U-4332, will be heard concurrently with the application to increase gas rates, Case No. U-4331. In its application, Consumers Power Company has stated that significant increases in the cost of capital, gas, taxes, wages, equipment, materials and supplies have had a serious adverse impact upon the earnings level of its gas business and that it has not been able to attain the level of earnings in its gas business found to be reasonable in the prior gas rate order of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has scheduled hearings on the applications filed in Case Nos. U-4331 and U-4332 and on the Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief in Case No. U-4331 and has ordered that notice be given that:

A. A prehearing conference be held at 9:30 a.m. on June 6, 1973, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the purpose of exploring and, if possible, agreeing upon matters which will expedite the proceedings in Cases No. U-4331 and U-4332, including the following:

1. Determining the parties to the proceeding, the nature of their appearance and the positions they are taking in the proceeding.
2. Simplifying and defining the issues.
3. Obtaining admissions as to, and stipulations of, the facts not remaining in dispute, the authenticity of documents, and matters of public record.
4. Determining the number and identity of witnesses.
5. Specifying the schedule for the exchange of proposed exhibits and written testimony, and the reduction of oral testimony to written form.
6. Establishing procedures for the hearing.
7. Specifying a further schedule of dates of hearing.
8. Expediting any other matters that may aid in the orderly conduct of the hearing and the disposition of the proceedings.

B. A public hearing will be held at 9:00 a.m. on July 2, 1973, in the Auditorium of the Law Building, 525 W. Ottawa, Lansing, Michigan for the purpose of taking statements from ratepayers and representatives of consumer groups. Hearings will commence at 9:00 a.m. on July 3, 1973 and continue July 5 and 6, the week of July 16 and the week of July 23, 1973, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913 for the purpose of offering in evidence the direct cases of Consumers Power Company in Case Nos. U-4331 and U-4332, and cross-examining such direct cases of Consumers Power Company.

C. A public hearing will be held on Consumers Power Company's Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief at an appropriate time during these rate proceedings following the conclusion of the cross-examination of the direct case of Consumers Power Company and the receiving of the report of the Staff of the Commission. Notice of the precise date, time and place of said public hearing will be mailed to all participants of record in the July 2, 1973 public hearing and in the hearings commencing on July 3, 1973 in Case No. U-4331.

D. The Commission, on its own motion during the course of these proceedings, Case Nos. U-4331 and U-4332, will carry on an investigation and hearing into the existing rates, charges, revenue deficiencies or excesses, services, practices, procedures and operations of Consumers Power Company, and this investigation and hearing will not necessarily be confined to matters contained in Consumers Power Company's applications but will include all matters pertaining to the reasonableness and justness of its rates, charges, operations and practices as may be necessary to enable the Commission to determine whether the existing or proposed rates and charges are unreasonable and excessive and should be reduced or altered.

E. Any party seeking to intervene in this proceeding, in accordance with Rule 11 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, shall file with the Commission, at least five (5) days prior to June 6, 1973, an original and eleven copies of the petition to intervene together with proof of service upon Consumers Power Company.

F. Consumers Power Company, on or before June 6, 1973, shall serve upon each intervening party a copy of the written direct testimony of its proposed witnesses and proposed exhibits as filed with the Commission, and proof of service shall be filed with the Commission on or before June 6, 1973.

G. Public hearings shall be held, in addition to the dates aforementioned, at such times and adjourned dates as shall be determined by the presiding officer until the matter has been fully heard.

H. The rate increases described in this notice have been requested by Consumers Power Company. The Michigan Public Service Commission may either grant or deny the requested increases or may grant lesser or greater increases than those requested.

Jurisdiction of the Commission in this matter is pursuant to § 4 of Act 419, P.A. 1919, as amended (M.C.L.A. § 460.54), Sections 4, 6 and 6a of Act 3, P.A. 1939, as amended (M.C.L.A. §§ 460.4, 460.6, 460.6a); and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, as amended, No. 54, R 460.11 et seq.

In Novi Exploring June Ballot

Editor's Note: Voters in the Novi School District will decide two millage (renewal-additional) proposals and one bonding proposal in the annual June election. Following is the second of a series of questions and answers prepared by the school about the proposals.

1. What are plans for additional buildings in Novi?

The school district student population has increased approximately 12 per cent from last year and this is expected to accelerate in the next five years. Estimates from the Needs Assessment Citizens Committee indicate that there will be 5,228 students in the 1977-78 school year. This will be an increase of 3,080 students or more than double our present enrollment.

To accommodate this growth, additional school facilities are necessary.

A favorable vote on proposition number three (3) will enable the Novi Community Schools to erect, equip and furnish two new elementary schools, a new secondary school building complex, addition to Village Oaks, remodel existing buildings, acquire additional school sites, and improve existing school sites.

2. How do schools affect the location of desirable industry, and business establishments?

Industry locates in communities where schools are in a healthy condition, since schools are necessary for the education of the children of engineers, scientists, and management people who are the essential personnel of desirable industry. A school system with a reasonable tax rate is an advantage to a community in securing new industry.

It is of great importance to a community to secure desirable industrial, commercial and office installations, as these projects increase the taxable wealth of the community, and make higher tax rates less necessary.

3. What will happen if the proposals fail? The School Board and the Administration will study the total program to determine the reductions necessary to make up the difference between income and expenditures. This will be a serious problem, requiring a sharp rise in class size to accommodate the influx of new students, and curtailment of all plans for hiring additional teachers.

Other districts faced with a similar problem have eliminated parts of the educational program, placed secondary students on a short school day, and have changed school boundaries to help equalize the large class size.

4. What will happen to the increase in school revenues due to the increased assessments?

A. The increase student population makes it necessary for the addition of ten teachers to the school district.

B. The opening of additional classrooms at Village Oaks will result in additional expense.

C. Salary negotiations with the five employee groups will result in higher salaries and wages.

D. For two years the Board of Education had postponed the purchase of new buses, until now some buses are breaking down frequently. In order to correct this situation two new buses are expected to be purchased, and two replacements are necessary.

E. There is a need to make improvements to school buildings and grounds which had been previously postponed.

Vegetable Garden Tips

Avoid Pests, Use Some Foresight

By RICHARD D. MILLER
Livingston County
Extension Agent

A little foresight in planning this year's vegetable garden can help eliminate many of those unwelcome garden pests even before you've planted.

Preplanting preventive measures can significantly reduce crop losses and sometimes eliminate those insects and diseases which even insecticides cannot control.

The specialists advise the following measures:

—Make sure the soil is well-drained and fertile before planting.

—Select only crops suited to Michigan's soil and climate. (Order seeds from local seed companies or those located in the Midwest or Northwest).

—Purchase disease-free seed.

—If available, buy insecticide-fungicide treated seeds to protect against decay, damping-off organisms and certain insects. (Treatment can be done by the grower.)

—Purchase only disease-free plants; make sure they do not have swellings on the roots, cankers on the stems, or spots on the leaves.

—Select disease resistant varieties. (For example, verticillium and fusarium wilt-resistant tomatoes and muskmelons).

—Relocate your garden or rotate the crops. (Most bacteria and fungi, and some home garden insects live in the soil from one growing season to another, so much of their damage can be prevented by not planting the same crops in the same place.)

After planting, don't use insecticides unnecessarily. They can kill the beneficial insects also.

As we promised last week, here is the rest of our discussion on growing herbs.

DILL

Dill (Anethum graveolens) is a fast-growing annual or biennial, maturing in about 70 days. It is primarily used in making dill pickles. It is one of the easiest herbs to grow and is quite hardy but will not tolerate extreme cold weather.

Seed should be sown in early Spring on a well-prepared soil. Sow in rows spaced 2 feet apart and when 5 to 6 inches tall, thin to spacings of 1 foot. Plants will attain a height of 3 feet.

Though dill is considered a biennial, it sometimes produces seed in its first year, especially when sown in very early spring or late winter. If the plant does not produce seed in its first year, seed should form early the spring of the second year. The seed heads, along with a small stem portion, are cut when the seed umbels begin to develop.

The re-invention of the riding mower.

New 8 hp. Wonder Boy from Simplicity.
Test drive one at the dealer near you.

A completely new concept in riding mowers. Big 8 hp engine is the power behind a patented free-floating mower that cuts grass 30" at a pass... makes short work of mowing. Big 5 bushel collection hopper is tucked out of the way at the rear of mower. Fills completely so you don't have to empty it everytime you turn around. Heavy duty front frame is reinforced to take the hardest bumps your yard can hand out. New 8 hp Wonder Boy Simple, reliable, easy to care for. Simplicity

Your life is complicated enough/We offer
Simplicity

Simplicity-tractors are built simply with fewer parts to wear out, fewer parts to repair. Built reliable with part-by-part quality control. Built for routine maintenance that's really routine. The kind you can do yourself. It all adds up to the lowest repair and maintenance cost in the industry. And that means savings for you.

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

One of the best investments that you can make for the garden is a purchase of daylilies. They can be depended upon for beautiful color all during the hot summer months. Insects and disease are practically foreign to these plants. They are not particular—just feed and water well.

Each year the selection of varieties increases. At first only yellow and orange were represented; today the range from palest yellow, through orange, pink, shades of red to brown and purple is wide and interesting. There are other variations bicolor, ribbed, striped, eyed, mottled and edged. Flowers are larger now and more brilliant of hue. Some are fragrant, others bloom at night.

Actually, daylily flowers last but a day or two. Nevertheless, there are seven or so buds on a stalk which open progressively to continue the display. Faded flowers must always be removed and old clumps divided immediately after flowering. To accomplish this task easily, pry apart the clump using two forks held back to back. Then cut the tops to six inches, watering the area beforehand so that the roots will separate with out difficulty, and replant at the former depth.

In selecting varieties, it is important to know that many flower just as lavishly a second time in the fall. Watch performance of your types in the garden this season to be sure that you have some with extra long blooming periods from spring until frost. There are over 5,000 named varieties in commerce which will give you an idea of the wide choice.

There are so many individual ways to arrange daylilies but several hints may be helpful. If reds are used in the color scheme, they should occupy the focal attention of the design. Lavenders and purples combine so well with the pale creams and yellows. Pinks are natural with blue flowers, such as delphinium. Dark shades are an excellent contrast against white-flowering shrubs.

Daylilies are particularly versatile because of their wide variation in height. The discovery of a dwarf race just a foot tall supplies an exquisite dainty touch. Miniatures are also available on taller stems displaying very tiny blossoms. The most popular are the very tall wide-eyed types, showy and spectacular.

Variations occur too in growing habits. Some varieties multiply slowly and may be effective for years. Others can be extremely offensive, almost of nuisance value spreading all over the lot and interfering with the different flower groups.

We find differences in shape that are most significant. Some daylilies resemble trumpets, other look like tulips. Star forms, full cups, and recurved petal types all have appeal, depending on taste. Size can range from one to ten inches in diameter. Height spans from less than one to more than six feet.

Due to local conditions, it is well to consult a nurseryman nearby as a guide to varieties to add to your collection or to start anew on this fascinating pursuit of daylily culture.

Three ways better

Better Boy

After years of research, plant breeders have developed Better Boy, a tomato that is three ways better: resistant to verticillium, fusarium, and nematodes (VFN), the three main causes of blight in tomato plants.

Since it's also an F₁ Hybrid, it gives you more fruit, tastier fruit, over a longer period of time. Try it and you'll never go back to ordinary tomatoes again.

It's planting time! Plant the hybrid-plant Better Boy.

He qualified to attend the conference as one of the Company's top leaders in recognition of his outstanding professional counseling of his clients in life and health insurance and in related financial security products.

He is one of only 145 top-ranked representatives from State Mutual's Agencies throughout America who participated in a series of educational seminars geared to creativity in utilizing advanced financial planning techniques to serve the customer's needs for insurance and financial service products.

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts. With energy in the forefront, it would seem a good time to take a look at a primary energy form and its future. Conversion of coal and oil into electricity produces an outstanding medium of far greater flexibility than the original and with widespread applications.

One such application of great importance today is electricity's use in cleaning up our environmental problems, which are as nothing as compared with what lies ahead. For example, many waste recycling processes require manglers, pressers, and furnaces of great capacity. The motors that operate much of this equipment are electric-powered. And recycling is still only beginning. As for water pollution, sewage and waste treatment plants move effluents through a series of settling tanks, filters, and other systems. The job is done by electric pumps, and, as in recycling, this is only the start.

There may never be an electric aircraft, but automobiles powered by electricity are on the drawing boards—most of them employing the principle of rechargeable batteries. If a practicable mass-produced car of this sort comes into use, the implications for improving air quality are staggering.

Meanwhile, electric-powered mass transit systems are feasible. San Francisco's BART is a long way from the trolley car and is a prime example of a modern electric people-mover.

THE INDUSTRY has, of course, immense possibilities in the fight to better the environment, but the electric firms themselves come under fire as polluters. Weighing all aspects, however, it would seem that the electric utilities are policing both older and newer plants quite well in order to reduce harmful emissions. Control of air pollution is being accomplished by use of fuels with low sulphur content, lofty smokestacks the better to disperse effluents, air "scrubbers" and a shift to nuclear power generation.

All of these, developed over the years, have helped make cleaner air, as have other contributions such as underground transmissions and distribution lines in urban and suburban areas. In 1972 the utility companies expended over $2.1 billion in trying to achieve pollution control.

WHILE INDUSTRY will continue to be the top user of electric power, the residential customer now consumes about one-third of all electricity sold. He has become accustomed to electric living and owns many of the twenty-two major appliances, plus other electrically operated devices.

While there are complaints about high rates, with the companies generally getting the blame, the facts do not justify the criticism. When electric power was first made available, it cost 25 cents per kilowatt hour. In 1946, it was down to 3.22 cents per kwh; in 1971 the price was 2.19 cents per kwh. The reason for larger electric bills is not the price but rather the fact that the average number of kwhs used by residential customers rose from 1,329 in 1946 to 7,379 in 1971, an increase of 450 percent.

Overall sales of kwhs about doubled in a ten-year period, from 720 million in 1961 to 1,466 million in 1971. This has been the trend for the industry, with sales doubling every decade, and this pattern may well continue over the period ahead.

BY OCTOBER 1, 1972 the industry had 267 million kilowatts of new

Cycles to Race

Championship professional motorcycle racing returns to Northville Downs, Saturday night, June 2.

The one-night meet, first of three to be offered this summer at Northville, will introduce a first for the sport, team match racing.

While the basic program at Northville Downs will find some 200 cyclists competing for $3,500 in purse money, in the usual American Motorcycle Association sanctioned races, Race Director, Staton Lorenz, Plymouth, has created a two-race team match for a winner-take-all purse that could reach as much as $4,000.

Taking the track for the ten-lap team match races will be a six-man team from California, riding British-made 750 Triumphs, challenged by a Michigan team, riding the American-made Harley-Davidson XR bikes.

Both teams feature some of the top motorcycle racing talent in the United States, and with the winner-take-all aspect of the huge purse, should produce speeds of 110 mph.

Heading the California team is Gary Scott, currently the national point leader in the Expert division. Other members are Tom Horton, top Junior rider on the half-mile tracks last year; John Gennai, the sport's best first-year-pro in 1972; Acot National winner, Tom Rockwood; Rick Hocking, American Indoor Champion this past winter, and former

Family Significance

Rev. Robert A. Mitchinson
New Hudson United Methodist Church

Last week we observed National Family Week, a time when we examined the significance or lack of significance of today's family. Certainly the family is an important institution in our society. And, if, as some experts claim, family life is on the way out, then we are to be a society sorely lacking.

The weakened family life we are experiencing might be the result of a lack of a spiritual dimension in marriage. Marriage for some is no longer the sacred and serious union it once was.

Paul, in writing to the Ephesians said, "Let each one of you love his wife as himself." Here we can substitute the word son, daughter, father, mother, husband for the word wife, and we discover what needs to be operative in the life of the family.

Unless love is the motivating power, there cannot develop personalities of strength and purpose. Simply put, the family provides security and strength so vital if a child is going to possess the courage to accept life as she or he finds it.

The kind of love Paul had in mind when he wrote to the Ephesians is not the kind of love evident in the modern approach to marriage and the family so prevalent today. The kind of love Paul was thinking about is the kind that allows a person to develop without destroying his personhood. Each individual is unique as a person and needs to be allowed to develop his own uniqueness. A marriage in which the family members cannot mature as persons lacks the spiritual love dimension God intended and Paul understood.

Gibson Winter confirms this when he writes concerning the growth and maturing of children...

"But the child is who he is. He is in part the creation of his parents. He will live as he is. He can change but only as he is accepted for the person he really is. If he does not receive this acceptance from his parents, he will never be able to accept himself."

The love which is important in meaningful family living is that love which has a sacrificial quality; the willingness to sacrifice in order that others might live and mature. This involves the complete giving of oneself to another—the complete giving of husband and wife to each other and the complete giving of parents to children, so that a positive response might be made in the direction of wholeness or completeness.

The author of the book Your Child's Religion states...

"Love helps a person to develop a sense of identity: an image of his own person. He begins to think of himself as a dumbbell, or as competent, or as handsome, depending upon the way in which people treat him..."

The development of strong, healthy personalities depends upon the character of the family. Today the family is experiencing a time of chaos and unrest, even with all the gadgets, raises in salary, etc., with happiness and meaning eluding many of us.

Paul would speak to us concerning our alienation in terms of the need for the Christ Spirit being operative in our lives. Simply stated, he challenges us by saying let each one of you love each member of the family as himself. Let each person have his or her opportunity for uniqueness and wholeness.

When someone shares a secret, it's on its way to becoming no secret at all. And yet it doesn't cease to be a secret until you have shared it.

When Jesus preached in the wilderness, hundreds came miles to hear Him. They wanted to share His secret... the secret of God... the secret of Man and God.

So right there in the wilderness, it was on its way to becoming no secret at all. Except that, even today, not everyone has shared it.

Academically every intelligent person knows what Christianity is all about. But each Sunday all over this world someone is finding in church a new strength, a new purpose, a new faith. For the heart of Christ's message brings a human soul into harmony with a mighty and loving God... whose power gives our lives direction... whose concern gives our lives meaning.

The secret that was is still a secret, until YOU share it too.

I would like to express my great appreciation to the Woman's Society of the New Hudson United Church, the Chancel Choir, the Senior Citizens, the Men's Club, and to all who sent cards or flowers or visited me at the hospital, especially to Reverend and Mrs. Mitchinson. It surely is a wonderful feeling to know that all your friends are thinking of and praying for you. Jarvis Gage

THE family of Robert S. Gamble, former owner of Pic-N-Save Discount Store, wish to express their thanks to the many friends, relatives, and neighbors, who showed their kindness during our time of bereavement, and for the many cards and flowers. SLIDE-LOK, a new device to prevent burglars from gaining entrance to homes through door walls, is being introduced in this area.

By mounting the Slide-Lok at the bottom of the sliding door on the inside flange and drilling a hole into the dead door, it becomes impossible to move the door either upwards or sideways.

By twisting the bolt outwards, homeowners may slide the door open for use, without removing the lock.

Area police chiefs believe the lock is a deterrent to burglars.

Developed by Karniotis Sales Company in Detroit, the locks are available from Andrew Birlheimer, sales representative for the Northville, Novi, South Lyon and Brighton areas.

For further information, write to him at 26228 Erie in Flat Rock, 48134, or phone 782-2764.

FOUR COMPLETELY new furnished and landscaped display model homes have been unveiled for the Grand Opening of the final phase of the Thompson-Brown Lexington Commons North Community, Eight Mile and Taft Roads, Northville.

The 3- and 4-bedroom, 2½ bath colonials, from $51,450 (including base price lot), are presented by Mariuz Builders, Inc., Nedra Building Company, Rottman Construction Co., and Serwat Building Co.

Lexington Commons Manager Charles Darvill said each of the homes is offered in the buyer's choice of at least four different exterior elevations.

He added that each of the homes also includes family room with log-burning natural fireplace, attached 2-car garage, large basement, entry-level laundry room, and kitchen built-ins including dishwasher and either continuous-clean or self-cleaning oven, range, disposer and custom cabinets.

California State Champ, Terry Dorsch.

The challenging Michigan Team will counter with Bart Markel, of Flint, 3-time Grand National Champion; Rex Beauchamp, Milford, 11th-ranked Expert in the nation; Cliff Keener, Goodrich, winner of the Ontario half-mile championship race; Ted Newton, Flint, ranked 6th nationally on the dirt tracks and Expert division winner a year ago at Northville; Mike Johnson, Flint, last year's 2nd-ranked Junior rider, overall; and Tom Cummings, Flint, nationally ranked Novice in three categories.

The match race developed when the individual California riders dominated indoor standings last winter, Michigan riders have long been at the top of the dirt-track standings.

Gates open at 5 p.m., when the practice runs get underway. Expert and Junior class time trials are slated to start at 5:45, and the first race reaches the starting line at 7:00 p.m.

Is Cut in Pay the Answer?

LANSING—A group of irate citizens has been busy the past year circulating petitions around the state calling for a constitutional amendment to cut back the pay of members of the Legislature.

The proposal would set a base pay of $15,000 and require a vote of the people to raise the amount above that.

The idea has been met with a very receptive audience in numerous places. Since the legislature is largely involved as an entity, except when people want something from it, this presents a chance to "get" all 148 members at once.

But the idea bears a closer look, since it would make a very significant change in state government over the long period.

BASICALLY, legislative salaries represent only a drop in the bucket of state government spending. The budget for the state for the coming fiscal year will total more than $5 billion when all taxes, federal money and other revenues are added up. Legislative salaries will total less than $3 million—only 6-100ths of one per cent of the total budget.

Indeed, legislative salaries make up less than one-sixth of the legislative budget, which tops $19 million.

So a cut in salaries, even if they were completely abolished, would have little effect on the budget or on taxes.

THEN THERE is the question of what effect the forced cut would have on the legislature. Would it produce better legislation or better legislators? The answer has to be no.

Now, $15,000 a year is nothing to sneeze at. Most Michigan families live on less than that. But it is less than many people make, and if the highest quality of person is going to be expected to serve in the legislature, he or she can't be asked realistically to take a financial bath to do it. It's the old truism about getting what you pay for.

At $15,000 a year, the lawyers and other professionals would either quit altogether or spend less time on legislative work. In other words, they'd either leave altogether or spend less effort in order to make more money on the outside. Few can be expected to serve for little money for long out of public spirit.

IT MIGHT be true that some members of the legislature wouldn't be worth the money if they had their check cut in half. But many put in long hours and do not get rich.

If people are truly upset with what the legislature does, they can show it at the next election by defeating their state representative or senator. It's not as if members were locked in for life.

The salaries now are set by the State Officers Compensation Commission, which showed last November that it is responsive to how people think around the state by not raising the legislative salaries at all. It was a bit ironic when that happened, since some of the legislators who conceived of the SOCC had thought of it as a means of raising their salary without being blamed for it.

IT BOILS DOWN to the fact that the movement to cut salaries is based on emotions. It is an emotional response to what is perceived by some to be misconduct or lack of productivity by the legislature.

Everyone has a right to get emotional. Everyone has a right to vote against an incumbent if he wants to throw the incumbent out. Everyone even has a right to try to petition a pay cut proposal into the constitution.

But the Constitution is the foundation for principles of government. It is hard to change, and it should be. It isn't really the place for emotion, and it isn't the place to specify salary levels.

Avoid Pests, Use Foresight

(Salvia officinalis nana 6 to 8 inches tall) and golden garden sage (Salvia officinalis aurea - 12 inches tall) which is a low, compact variety having grey, green, and gold variegated leaves.

Sage is propagated by seeds, cuttings layers, and root divisions and is used in seasoning stuffing, cheese, sausage, and meats. It is attractive to bees and can be grown as a low hedge.

Seeds should be sown in very early spring or early fall. Also, 3 to 4 inch seedlings can be set out in early spring. Plant in rows spaced 2 to 2½ feet apart with spacings of 12 inches between plants. Do not overwater. Cut back established plants in spring to induce new growth. Renew the planting every 3 to 4 years.

Sage is harvested in late summer by stripping the leaves or cutting the shoots before they bloom. The shoots in bunches and hang to dry out of sunlight. Two or three cuttings can be made during summer and early fall.

THYME
Thyme (Thymus vulgaris)

is a perennial which grows to a height of 8 inches. It belongs to the same family as mint and is grown in much the same way as mint. Many species of thyme are grown for seasoning and, as ornamentals. The English and French types are most commonly and widely grown for seasoning. The French type has narrower leaves and small white flowers and is more easily grown from seed than the English type.

Thyme is propagated by seed, division, and cuttings and is used for seasoning fish, stews, pork and for cooking. It is used in cough and toothache medicines. It prefers full sun and a light, well-drained soil.

Seed should be sown in early spring or earlier indoors in pots. Seedlings should be transplanted to stand 6 inches apart and thinned finally to stand 12 to 18 inches apart. The most serious problem in growing thyme is winter-kill when grown under wet conditions.

Do not overwater. Provide winter protection with evergreen boughs or straw mulch. Dig and divide plants every 2 or 3 years. Three or four plants should provide more than enough for a family of five.

Gather leaves just before the plant flowers. Dry them out of sunlight and store in an air-tight receptacle.

Horse's Mouth

either Uncle Harry was very lucky or he did not always tell the truth. According to records of the diagnostic laboratory approximately 50 percent of the horses necropsied died directly or indirectly from verminous infestation (internal parasites).

It is urgent that all horse owners be made aware of the importance of worm control programs to maintain the health of their animals. That veterinarians and equine associations have not been successful in conveying this to horse owners is evident from post mortem examinations. Many owners feel that since the veterinarian is not "selling" the program but is "selling" his services, he is only interested in the fees he receives for these services and not the client's welfare. The advent of "package wormers" do have a place in an effective program, but they should be used under the guidance of a veterinarian. The veterinarian knows the active ingredients of these products and their efficacy for the various types of worms. The most important parasite to control is the "Unseen killer", Strongylus vulgaris, the blood worm. Round worms and bots are large and can be seen by the owner in the manure. If the horse owner does not see evidence of these large worms he assumes the animal to be free of parasites. The strongyles are not easily seen but these are the parasites which eventually, if not controlled, destroy the horse.

The above recommendations have been given to us by our Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service Veterinary Specialist, Dr. Robert G. Malesky. We suggest you heed this recommendation.
