THE RECORD will furnish election results as soon as possible following Monday's school elections. Returns in Northville - Novi are expected to be available shortly after 10 p.m. by calling The Record at 349-1700.

PERSONS interested in assisting with Northville's annual community fair are invited to attend a special meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the city hall council chambers. The fair is scheduled for August 24-26.

INVESTIGATION is continuing into the cause of death of a 16-year-old student at Northville High. Evelyn Marie Collins of 16980 Franklin Road was found at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday night in a wooded area east of the school. City police detectives, who said her body had been there for about four hours before it was reported, said a suicide note was found. Anyone with information is asked to contact either Patrolmen Robert Pankow or Allen Cox. Casterline Funeral Home is handling service arrangements.

Baccalaureate Slated Sunday

The 293 members of Northville High School's 104th graduating class will attend baccalaureate services on Sunday, June 10, at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

As in previous years, the girl graduates will wear gowns of powder blue and the boys will wear navy. Each graduate will wear souvenir paper graduation caps. Honor graduates will wear gold tassels and all other students will wear tassels of black and orange, the school colors.

Director Miss Anita Kalousdian. Professional and recreational piano duets will be played by Lizanne Peace and senior Laurel Smiley.

Members of the graduating class will receive their diplomas in ceremonies on Thursday, June 14, on the high school football field.

Board Rejects School Bid

Rejecting a low bid in which a $100,000 error in addition had been made, Northville school board trustees accepted bids of seven firms for construction of three proposed schools.

Bids were accepted contingent upon the outcome of Monday's $1-million bond issue. Low bid of $2,053,000, for general contractor of two elementary schools, submitted by W. E. Schulz of Novi, was to have been

$2,153,000, the company reported the day following opening of bids. Even if the correct bid had been submitted, the firm would still have been low bidder, school administrators reported.

The firm asked the board to withdraw the bid without penalty or for the board to accept $80,000 of the error with W. E. Schulz absorbing $20,000. School board members said they could legally accept the

$10 Million Bond Issue Goes to Voters on Monday

Bond issue totaling $10-million, election of two members to the Northville Board of Education and four members to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees will go before Northville School District voters Monday.

About 2,100 of the district's 8,300 registered voters are expected to cast ballots in the election.

Voting machines will be used instead of paper ballots.

Polling places, which will be located in Amerman and Moraine elementary schools and the Central Administration Office at 303 West Main Street, will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

(See related stories elsewhere in The Record covering candidates seeking election to the two school boards and division of voting precincts.)

Included in the $10-million bond issue are funds for construction of a 750-student elementary school in Northville Commons, 500-student elementary school in Highland Lakes and a 1,000-student middle school on Bradner Road near Franklin Road.

Ground breaking is scheduled for July, with opening of the two elementary schools slated for September, 1974, and the middle school in January, 1975, providing passage of the bond issue.

Funds in the bond issue will also cover acquisition of sites for a second high school and third middle school.

No increase in taxes will be necessary to retire the bonds because of an increase in state equalized valuation of the district and an anticipated decrease in the operating millage.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, the current millage rate of 35.906 "will not be increased."

"The increase in the debt levy needed to retire the bonds will be handled through a decrease in the operation levy," he explained.

"We hope to reduce the operation levy by more than the 5 mills needed to retire the bonds," he continued, "enabling us to levy less than 35.906 mills next year."

Exact cost of constructing the three new schools was fixed in May when the school board opened bids on the schools, using the bid before bond process.

Pioneered in Northville in 1970, the process allows voters to know the exact cost of the buildings before voting on the bond issue.

Spear said he believes the bond issue is a "rational, logical, reasonable request of the community."

"The school board has looked at year-round school, declining national population rates, decreasing enrollments in other school districts, availability of classrooms in other school districts and the possibility of over-building since the new schools will not be filled until five or six years after they open," the superintendent explained.

Current capacity of the district is 4,574 students with a total of 3,853 students enrolled as of September, 1972.

"That's 4,574 students crammed into a non-flexible, limited program," Spear said. "In the elementary schools there are no separate art and music rooms and no facilities for special education in any of the schools, for which we must begin to

Seven Seek Two Board Seats

Seven candidates will be vying for two vacancies on the Northville Board of Education in Monday's school election.

For the first time in several years, there are no incumbents seeking posts on the local board.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Polling places are located at the Central Administration Office at 303 West Main Street, Amerman and Moraine elementary schools. Diagram of precincts and voting places is on Page 5-C.

Running for a four-year term are Mrs. Betty S. Hancock, R. Duane LaMoreaux, Peter Roger Nieuwkoop and Don E. Williams.

Seeking the two-year post are Donald R. Faulknor, John P. Hobart and Dr. Robert M. Mandell.

Speak Tonight

Candidates for Northville Board of Education will speak tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the council chambers of Northville City Hall, 215 West Main Street. Candidates night is sponsored by the Jaycees, American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters.

Each candidate will speak for five minutes on the priorities of the school district and then will respond to questions from the audience.

Cycle Noise

Complaints Heard

Motorcycle racing at Northville Downs Saturday sparked 27 complaints—fewer than city officials anticipated.

Bulk of complaints, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff, were triggered by noise, especially after 10 p.m.

Dust—a major problem at last year's races—failed to create any major problems this year. Traffic control following the races accounted for some complaints Saturday, however.

Four complaints were registered by citizens in the afternoon during time trials, seven were registered between 7:45 and 10 p.m., and 16 were reported from 10 to 11:15, Ollendorff said.

Concerning the lateness of racing, John Carlo and Gerald Stone, two of the cycle racing promoters, explained that removal of excess sand from the track delayed completion of the races.

In discussing the situation Monday, city councilmen generally agreed that while more improvements must be made at future races (two more are scheduled this year) Saturday's racing was less objectionable than last year. Councilmen Paul Vernon and Paul Folino reported they had made spot checks throughout the city during the races. Vernon said the racing was audible in all sections of the city, and Folino indicated that while several citizens voiced objections they declined to file formal complaints. Folino's major objection concerned the "poor" traffic direction on Center Street at the conclusion of the races. Concerning traffic control, Ollendorff accepted responsibility, pointing out that insufficiently experienced personnel had been used on Center near the track.

Council Studies Cable TV Plan

Television direct from Chicago, or Cleveland, or Cincinnati?

It's very possible, insists Howard W. Sharpley who Monday told city councilmen of his firm's proposal to bring cable television to Northville.

Councilmen took the proposal under advisement, with City Manager Frank Ollendorff explaining that officials must determine first whether or not cable television should be made part of a formal bidding process.

Alden CATV Inc. of Southfield seeks a non-exclusive 15-year cable TV franchise, according to Sharpley, president of Alden. Basically, the proposal by Alden, which recently was granted a franchise by the City of Plymouth, would provide direct-to-home wiring to enhance commercial television reception at a cost of $6 monthly per homeowner user after an initial $15 hookup fee.

Cable TV, explained Sharpley, would significantly improve commercial signal reception here, provide an additional non-network channel from Chicago or some other Midwestern city, permit pay TV showing of top-rated movies, provide unique television education opportunities in local schools, and facilitate local programming.

Sharpley, who has installed systems in Hillsdale and Monroe, said cable television lines would use existing utility poles. Where possible and required, lines would be installed underground, he said.

Celebration To Honor Alden Shaws

A family dinner will be given on Sunday, June 17, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. Alden Shaw of Novi to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Attending the dinner will be the Charles Shaws of Cazenovia, New York, the Daniel Shaws from Roanoke, Virginia, the Joseph Shaws of Hamilton, Ohio, and the family of Betsey Shaw Bobrinsky from Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have 13 grandchildren. All but one will attend the gathering.

F. Alden Shaw married the former Amy Ellis on June 21, 1923. He was born in Detroit Lakes, Minnesota, was raised near Boston and is a graduate of Harvard University. She is a native Detroit and is a graduate of Smith College.

In 1936, the Shaws moved to their present home at 52905 West Nine Mile Road.

Shaw was the founder of the Detroit Country Day School and for many years served as its headmaster.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

A GARAGE SALE ad placed in last week's Record by the Laszlo Elody family gave "liquidation" as the reason for the sale of family belongings. It might also have read "to help make a dream come true." After four years' planning, the Elodys and their sons are about to take off on a 15-month dream trip through Europe with a stop in North Africa at Morocco.

In a few days their Winnebago motor home will be taken to New York to be shipped to Germany—where it will become their home on wheels as they show their five sons the continent. The family already has toured extensively in the motor home in this country. Included in the 16,000 miles in their motor home was a 6,000-mile trip last summer through the West, visiting Yellowstone National Park, Grand Canyon and Las Vegas.

In order to make their European trip possible, both Las Elody, an engineer at Chrysler, and his wife, Dr. Marta Elody, a physician on the State of Michigan staff at Plymouth State Home and Training School, had to quit their jobs.

"A 15-month leave," Elody says, "is just longer than employers can give." He added that they don't blame their employers for not being able to grant this and that they have some assurances that they will be able to return in some capacity. Elody stressed that they felt this much time was necessary to achieve their travel goal.

The Elodys, who migrated from Hungary to Canada and then to the United States, have lived in Northville since December, 1967. They have not sold their home at 392 Welch for their plans definitely include returning to the community. They will rent their home and, when they have shown their sons Europe, they will return.

"We want them to see the differences," Elody explains, "so they will know what so many take for granted here." Elody said they decided to make the trip four years ago and the actual planning of itineraries took about two months.

Leaving with them when they fly to Europe June 27 will be their two youngest sons, Gabor, 6, and George, 10, students at Amerman School. In Germany their three older sons, who have been in a Hungarian school there, will join them. They are Leslie, Steven and Peter. The boys previously had attended school here but began school in Germany two years ago, coming home in summer and at Christmas.

After uniting the family in Kastl, Germany, the Elodys will go to Hungary for a month's vacation before beginning their tour.

The tour itself will start in Austria with most of the time being spent in Vienna. From there they will travel to Nuremberg and Dusseldorf, Germany, and on to Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague. From Holland the "Operation Winnebago" will continue through Belgium to France (Paris, Normandy, Loire Valley, Lourdes) and Andorra.

According to the family's itinerary, it will be the end of September at this point and time to visit Spain and Portugal. In mid-November the group will cross to Morocco to see Tanger, Rabat and Casablanca, among other cities. They'll be back in Spain at Christmas. In January they will tour Monaco and Italy. Then it's Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Bulgaria, Rumania, Switzerland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, back to Germany—and home.

After uniting the family in Germany, the Elodys will go to Austria for a month's vacation before beginning their tour.

While expressing his belief in the value of showing his sons the history and geography of Europe firsthand, Elody stressed that the trip would end back in Northville. He said the family likes living in a town "where the guy in the hardware knows you but you don't feel people are intruding."

MORE PERMANENT is the move of the Halton Axtell family to California. Hal, who has been promoted by Ford to Industrial Relations Manager of the Ford plant near San Jose, has been on the coast for two months.

He plans to return here this month, and the family will then fly out to the home he has rented in Los Altos. Barb Axtell adds they also have purchased property and plan to build a home there. The property, she says, is high in the hills overlooking the area—included in the view is "a little bit of the bay."

For the Axtells, the move is an unexpected change of coast. They have always loved the eastern coast, Barbara says, and not long ago bought a farm on the coast of Maine at Rockport. They had planned it as a vacation home where they would enjoy the coves and fishing boats as well as the mountains behind them. Now, she's afraid coast-to-coast commuting will be almost impossible. Besides, interest now is centered on the home they hope to build high in the California hills.

The Axtells' yellow New England-type home on Beck road has been purchased by the Edward Hodge family. The Hodes have sold their home on Westhill to a young couple from Wisconsin and will be moving the end of the month.

NORTHVILLE HISTORICAL Society is issuing a special plea to anyone who may be moving or housecleaning these days. It is seeking "all kinds of donations" for a country auction to be held all day Saturday, September 22, at the Mill Race historic site on Griswold.

"Your trash may be just what we want," emphasizes Fran Gazlay, adding that items don't have to be "antiques" to go at auction. The only limitation placed on donations is that no heavy electrical items can be accepted.

Anyone who is moving or emptying basements or attics may call Gazlay, 349-0767, and he or co-chairman Jim Harris will make arrangements to store donations. Gazlay explained that the Mill Race buildings now are locked and have ample storage space. He noted that a similar auction in Brighton yielded more than $3,000—a neat sum for "discards." The Northville Historical Society plans to hire an auctioneer and serve food during the day.

Free Concert

A free concert featuring six popular performing groups will be presented outdoors at Schoolcraft College the afternoon and evening of Sunday, June 17.

Tyler-Duffey Vows Said

Here May 5

Now at home in Miami, Florida, are Mr. and Mrs. Brian Patrick Duffey. The couple was married on May 5, at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The bride is the former Jane Elizabeth Tyler and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson D. Tyler of 19772 Meadowbrook Road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Duffey of Detroit.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 1 p.m. by the Reverend Lloyd Brasure and Father Tom Duffey, uncle of the bridegroom. White gladiolas and pink mums decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white silk organza. It featured a fitted lace bodice, high collar and bishop sleeves and Alencon lace appliques on the skirt.

Her finger-tip veil fell from a headpiece of fresh stephanotis. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses, gladiolas and stephanotis.

Mrs. James Piazza was her sister's matron of honor. Other bridesmaids were Mrs. Dale Price, Mrs. Douglas Swiss and Brigid Duffey.

Each attendant wore a floor length gown of multi-colored floral print crepe and carried white gladiolas, pink carnations and baby's breath.

Daniel Duffey was best man for his brother. Ushering guests were Dale Price, James Piazza and Douglas Swiss.

Meadowbrook Country Club was the site of a reception for 200 wedding guests who came from Michigan, Florida, Utah, Minnesota and Illinois.

The bride attended Oakland University and is a 1971 graduate of Western Michigan University. She is currently employed by Alexander Hamilton Insurance Company. Now employed by Keypower Systems Incorporated of Miami, the bridegroom also attended Oakland and Western Michigan.

WINNING POSTER—Mary Stayman of 39940 West 12 Mile, Novi, displays the second place entry which won her a $75 savings bond in AAA's 29th annual School Traffic Safety Poster Contest. DR. HELEN DITZHAZY

Dr. Helen Ditzhazy, one of relatively few female high school administrators in Michigan, was named principal of Novi High School by unanimous action of the board of education Monday night.

She will replace Harold Seymour, who will return to school for graduate studies while working part-time in another capacity in the school system.

In another major appointment, Milan Obrenovich, varsity basketball coach, was named Novi's first full-time director of the Novi Community Education Program.

In addition to directing the school district's new community education program, Obrenovich may also coordinate the city's parks and recreation program. The latter proposed assignment is being considered by the city council.

With the appointment of Dr. Ditzhazy, who was to meet with Novi students and teachers today in get-acquainted sessions, three of the district's newest administrators hold Ph.D. degrees. The other two are -

Superintendent Gerald Kratz and Assistant Superintendent William Barr.

Dr. Ditzhazy earned her Ph.D. from the University of Michigan in August of last year. She received her BS and MA degrees from Michigan State University.

Married with two children, she has been assistant principal at Thurston High School in South Redford since 1963. Prior to her appointment to this Thurston post she served as counselor and teacher at the same high school.

During the course of her studies, Dr. Ditzhazy received many honors, among which are: John Hay Fellowship, American Behavioral Science Lab Scholarship from Finch College, "Institute for Development of Education Activities Fellowship from Rockford College, and LeVerne Noyes Scholarship.

She has been a major speaker and respondent at North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Member of numerous professional organizations and activities, she also has been active in a variety of civic functions. For example, last year she was co-chairman (with her husband) of the Farmington Youth for Understanding Committee.

The Ditzhazy family lives at 27990 Tralee Trail off Eight Mile Road, just east of Northville in Farmington.

Salary of Dr. Ditzhazy, who according to state officials becomes the 15th female high school principal in Michigan, was fixed at $22,200.

The new director of community education is no newcomer to Novi. A coach and teacher, Obrenovich has been in the Novi school system for eight years.

One of 17 persons who applied for the job, Obrenovich presently teaches biology and coaches varsity basketball and football. Replacements for these positions have not yet been named.

Obrenovich's appointment means that he will be replaced, also, as the teachers' chief contract negotiator.

His new salary was set at $16,818.

Seniors Offer Aid

As a last gesture of their appreciation for the educational opportunities given them, graduating Novi seniors will provide transportation and babysitting services for Novi voters Monday.

The service will be provided throughout the voting hours, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Persons wishing the service are asked to call 349-4620.

Voters are reminded that a special "Meet Your Candidates" Night is slated for tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at the High School Commons.

In addition to the school board candidates, Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz will be present to discuss the millage and bonding issues.

Millage, Bond Issues Go to Voters

Six Candidates Seek 3 Posts On School Board

Novi's Board of Education will have a new complexion—no matter how Monday's election turns out.

That's because only one incumbent trustee is seeking election even though three board seats are up for grabs.

Veteran member Bruce Simmons, board vice president, and recent appointee Jacob Durling have decided not to run for office.

Durling had filed nominating petitions but subsequently withdrew them when he was satisfied there would be sufficient candidates to make the election competitive. He had indicated his intentions prior to his appointment.

With a total of six candidates running for office in Monday's election, two will be elected to four-year posts and one will take a two-year post.

Standing for re-election to a four-year term is Incumbent Trustee Robert Wilkins, a former member of the city planning board who was first elected to the school board four years ago.

Challenging Wilkins are Joel Colliau, who served recently on the Novi Needs Assessment Committee, and former school trustee Mrs. Sharon Pelchat.

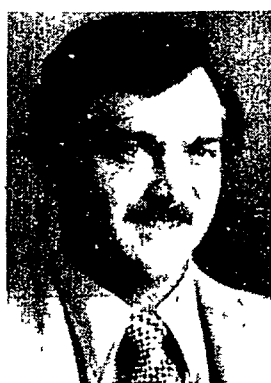

The three candidates seeking the single two-year seat are Dr. Richard Henderson, dental division director for the Oakland County Health Department; Norman Miller, branch manager for Honeywell, Inc.; and Thomas Szeles, a junior high school counselor in Garden City.

The two-year seat is for the unexpired term of former trustee William Ziegler, who resigned several weeks ago and who was replaced by Durling.

The four-year seats are those of Simmons and Wilkins.

A heavy voter turnout is expected here Monday as the costliest, most comprehensive proposed building program in Novi School District's history goes on the line.

In addition to a $13.5 million bond issue, the ballot will contain a 7-mill renewal proposition together with a proposal for an additional 2½ mills for operation, and it also will contain the names of six candidates for three board of education seats.

A total of 4,000 persons are registered to vote in the annual election. Last year, with only the candidates for the school board and college trustees on the ballot, only 534 persons turned out at the polls.

Although City of Novi precincts have changed, school district precincts remain intact, school officials emphasize. As in past years, all electors will cast their ballots at the Novi Community Building, located on the north side of Novi Elementary School on Novi Road.

Senior citizens will be serving coffee and rolls to electors in the Novi Elementary cafeteria on election day, officials report.

Never before in history have financial proposals of this magnitude been put to school district voters here, concede officials. But never before have the educational challenges in Novi been greater, they add.

"We anticipate a heavy turnout not only because of the millage and bonding proposals," said Superintendent Gerald Kratz, "but also because of the number of candidates for the school board. We expect that their supporters will come out to vote for them."

"We expect a heavy turnout because of the importance of the issue...and it will take a large turnout to pass the proposals."

Specifically, the proposals to be decided by voters include:

1. Request for renewal of 7 mills for general operating purposes.

Previously voted by the people for a five-year period, this 7 mill levy is expiring. It represents 25 percent of the current operating millage revenue. Renewal, if approved, would mean that the 7 mills would be extended for another five-year period.

2. Request for an additional 2½ mills for general operating purposes.

This millage levy also carries a five-year lifetime. When coupled with the 7 mill renewal proposal and all other millage levied in Novi for general operating purposes, the total operational tax rate here would be 28.8 mills. Presently, the operational tax rate is 26 mills.

3. Request to borrow $13.5 million for the purpose of building a new high school, two new elementary schools, additions to Village Oaks

Elementary School, renovating and converting of the present high school to a middle school, and purchasing additional school sites.

This bonding proposal means, if approved, a debt millage increase of from the present 7.3 mills to 8.48 mills.

Actually, the debt millage increase would be substantially greater but for the fact that the bond issue will come under the state bond loan program. In effect this program means that instead of a larger millage tax rate for debt retirement, "payments" or annual debt

City Ponders Collection Fee

In his efforts to find additional sources of revenue on which to base the 1973-74 fiscal budget, Novi City Manager Harold Saunders has opened a can of worms which could potentially sabotage the spirit of cooperation which presently exists between the city council and the school board.

Specifically, Saunders has discovered that the city is required by state statute to add a one percent collection fee when it levies school taxes.

The one percent levy would result in increased revenue to the city of approximately $30,000 to $40,000.

City Attorney David Fried, instructed by Saunders to review the statute, told the council Monday that it must add the one percent collection fee to the school tax bills unless it passes a resolution stipulating otherwise.

School officials, meanwhile, are extremely displeased with city officials for broaching the issue at this time with their millage and bonding proposals slated to go before the electorate next Monday.

Representing the school board at Monday's council session was Trustee William Moak, who cited the council for "very poor timing" in raising the collection fee issue. "Speaking as a member of the school board, I urge you not to add the collection fee," said Moak.

The question of whether or not to waive addition of the fee was placed before the council Monday prior to adoption of the 1973-74 fiscal budget.

After considerable discussion, the council voted 6-1 to postpone any action at the present time. The question will be reopened at the time the council adopts a job classification and pay salary schedule, presumably sometime in August.

The next collection of school taxes is slated for December. The council is split on the issue. Favoring the addition of the fee are Councilmen William O'Brien and Denis Berry, while Mayor Joseph Crupi and Councilmen Louie Campbell and Romaine Roethel are opposed to the collection fee.

Undecided are Councilmen Edwin Presnell and Donald Young.

O'Brien admitted that $30,000 is only a small amount at the present time, but noted that as the city continues to grow the one percent could produce a significant amount of revenue for the city.

"It seems to be a reasonable charge for the use of municipal taxing facilities, it occurs to me that if we're going to add it, we should add it now," he said.

Berry argued that it was "ridiculous" for the city not to collect the one percent. "The money won't make us rich," he said, "but I for one would like to see an additional $30,000-$40,000 in the city's treasury. If the school's millage passes, they'll be levying 37 mills, while the city is levying only eight mills."

Expenditures Top $1 Million

City OKs 73-74 Budget

Admitting that it had not yet faced up to the traditionally most argumentative issue of salaries, the Novi city council Monday approved the budget for the 1973-74 fiscal year.

By a 6-1 margin the council okayed a record total budget of $1,320,630 - up from a total budget of $964,000 in the 1972-73 fiscal year.

Councilman Donald Young cast the sole dissenting ballot.

The new budget calls for a total general expenditure of $1,189,400 - an increase of $225,000 over the budgeted expenditures of $973,000 last year. The bulk of the increase in expenditures is found in the general admission budget up to $141,000 from $71,000 and in the police department budget up to $454,000 from $362,000.

The total general expenditure figures do not include salary hikes for the upcoming year, however. Those figures will be plugged in when contract negotiations with the police department have been completed and when the city officially adopts a standardized pay schedule for all municipal employees.

Approximately $81,000 has been set aside in contingencies in the new budget to meet the salary increases.

The budget adopted by the council Monday calls for the addition of six new employees - an additional truck driver in the Department of Public Works, three new policemen, a real appraiser for the Assessor's Office, and a DPW superintendent.

The council is also considering the addition of one or more full-time firemen and a part time parks and recreation director, although no direct outlay of cash for their addition was approved Monday.

As usual the biggest single outlay in the budget is for the police department. Last year $362,400 was budgeted to the police department, while this year that figure has climbed to $454,400 - roughly 38 percent of the general fund budget. Of the $454,400 total, $337,700 is for wages.

The second largest outlay in the budget is the $208,510 slated for the Building Department. The outlay represents 17 percent of the overall budget with $137,200 of the outlay going to wages.

Other outlays include General Administration -

Eye Start of Meadowbrook Paving

In spite of numerous delays which at times threatened to delay the project indefinitely, it appears as if Meadowbrook Road will be paved this year.

Novi City Manager Harold Saunders informed the city council Monday that the last two major obstacles standing in the way of the paving have been cleared away and that further council action was now in order to get the project underway.

The council subsequently accepted the low bid of the Grouleau Brothers Construction Company for the paving and directed City Attorney David Fried to proceed with plans to acquire the necessary easements.

Saunders further stated that the paving should be completed within five months after the construction equipment moves on site. Thus a completion date sometime in October is anticipated.

The Meadowbrook Road paving project has been plagued by one problem after another. Although the council established the special assessment district to finance the paving in the fall of 1972, it began to appear as if the project might be delayed until the summer of 1974 as problems continued to arise.

When the project bids were received in March, it was discovered that the Grouleau Brothers' low bid of $448,000 was almost $90,000 higher than the anticipated project cost of $360,000

Further problems arose in regard to the location of the bridge over the Ingersol Creek. The Patnales Drain project calls for the Creek to be relocated north of its existing location.

Homeowners in the Meadowbrook Lake subdivision objected to the Skaters Win Awards

By MARTHA ROEMER

Two young Northville women walked away with top honors at the Michigan State Roller Skating Championships which were held in Brighton recently.

Judy Landau, 13, was named state champion in the intra division of artistic dance roller skating and the state title in the ladies' dance division.

Lynn Austin, who is 15, is now the state champion in the ladies' novice and free style divisions.

Judy, who lives at 201 Fairbrook, does her training and practicing at Riverside Arena in Livonia. She is a member of the Riverside Dance and Figure Skating Club.

For competition, her coach, Mike Etue of Westland, has paired Judy with Larry Chopp, 16, of Wayne and Vickie Berry, 19, of Plymouth.

Judy holds a silver medal in dance which means that she has been tested on and passed the various types of dances used in roller skating dance competition.

At the present time, Judy and Larry are skating in the intra division. The intra classification is for entrants in their first two years of competition.

Lynn holds a silver bar in dance. A silver bar, she explained, means that she has tested for and passed just several of the dances required for a medal.

She, too, skates at Riverside Arena. Her coach is Ray Steinburg.

Lynn's interest in skating began when she "went skating one Saturday afternoon just for the fun of it" and became interested in learning the finer points of roller skating.

She has taken lessons since she was 10 and this year is her second in competitive skating.

The novice classification in which Lynn skates is for young women ages 13 to 16. Last year she placed first in the novice singles group as she did this year.

For the ladies' pairs contest, Lynn also skated with Vickie Berry. The two were awarded the state title in that division.

The hours of training and dedicated practice have paid off for Northville's two state skating champs.

Garage Sale To Benefit Day Center

A garage sale is being held June 6, 7 and 8 at 26630 West Six Mile Road, just east of Inkster Road, for the benefit of the Northwest Day Care Training Center.

The center is for physically and mentally handicapped day training children and serves the Northville area as well as other northwestern communities in Wayne County.

All proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new equipment for the training center which is located in Grant Elementary School in Livonia.

Among the items offered for sale will be children's toys, clothing, dishes and other household items.

The sale will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day with the possibility of evening hours. Anyone wishing more information about sale hours or the program can call the center at 425-1400.

New Group Plans Picnic On Sunday

The newly organized Northville Chapter of Parents Without Partners is planning a family picnic on Sunday June 10, from 2 to 6 p.m. at Sassafrass Trail in Kensington Park.

Families attending should bring food, beverage and dishes. For directions to the picnic site, maps are available in the information office at the park.

The organization is also planning a get-together coffee on Tuesday, June 12 at 7 p.m. Interested persons can contact Mrs. Mary Ellen Dembrose, membership chairman, at 349-4292 for more information.

Regular monthly meetings of the Northville Chapter of Parents Without Partners are scheduled for 8 p.m. on the fourth Friday of each month at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. June 22 is the next meeting date.

Schoolcraft Cites Students

Area residents were cited for outstanding scholarship recently as they were named to the Schoolcraft College Dean's List for the winter semester.

Lorie Provo of 24561 Glenda was the only Novi resident to be named.

Among the Northville residents given honors were Janet E. Christensen, Cary G. Coleman and Jamie Cross. Each had an all-A average.

Other Northville residents on the Dean's List include Martin J. Tuck, Renee K. Landreville, Lorrie Jean Stanford, Susan K. Platt, Hugh J. Batley, Laura A. Kriss, Dennis A. Bidwell, Judith E. Utley and Kathryn L. Hildebrandt.

Davey Earns BA Degree

Steven Michael Davey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Davey, 40755 West 10 Mile, Novi, received a B.A. degree at David Lipscomb College at June 2 commencement exercises.

U.S. Senator Bill Brock, Chattanooga, Tennessee, delivered the commencement address.

Davey, a graduate of Great Lakes Christian College, Beamsville, Ontario, majored in speech at Lipscomb.

Preceding commencement exercises, President and Mrs. Athens Clay Pullias held a reception for members of the graduating class, their families, and friends, in the Dining Center.

Mishaps Mar Week

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Mishaps the early part of this week caused much anxiety for three sets of parents in Wixom.

Tommy Zielinski, ten year old son of Sally and Chet Zielinski of Orland, was involved in a freakish accident late Sunday afternoon. He was riding his Uncle's dune buggy and somehow caught his left foot in the gears. That's enough to cause anyone's tummy to do a couple of quick flip flops.

Anyway, he was rushed to St. Joe's in Pontiac where he underwent surgery Sunday night to repair the damage and then spent some time in intensive care recovering from the ordeal. That's a fellow with a mighty sore foot.

Monday wasn't a good day for Tim and Nancy Tillman and Tom Sutherland either. While traveling down Meadowbrook Road, the kids hit a chuck hole, skidded in the gravel, and hit an unmoveable tree.

Fortunately none of them were seriously injured although they do have a few battle scars. Tim suffered a wrenched knee plus being hit in the back of his head with the spare tire . . . that's like adding insult to injury.

Nancy's head struck the windshield and she needed a few stitches to close the wound.

Tom Sutherland, who was driving the car fractured his wrist and a couple of ribs when he hit the steering wheel. I'm just glad to hear that none of them was badly injured but you can chalk up one car.

Congratulations to all our Wixom seniors who are graduating from both high school and colleges this month. This week and next will be brim filled with activities for our group from Western High.

Friday night is the prom at the Roostertail with the finale to the high school days next Wednesday with graduation and the traditional all night party.

Special congratulations are in order for Lori Armstrong who will graduate third in her class. Lori plans to enter Grace Hospital School of Nursing in the fall.

Just a few of the other seniors going on to college that I know of include Rob Trombley who will enter Central Michigan majoring in pre-med., Sue Vangieson who is on to Michigan State in Veterinarian Medicine and Frida Waara will be way up in the State at Northern majoring in languages.

Fortunately for Aleen and Bill Mills, the weatherman decided to turn off the water Sunday giving their guests the pleasure of a warm sunny afternoon party honoring their graduating daughter Debbie.

For the Fred Morehead family, the friendly weathercaster wasn't as kind. A rather large family reunion-graduation was planned by Fred's aunt who lives near Cadillac. The Moreheads had great plans for camping out during their long weekend there. "If you can call rain, cold, and more rain a fun weekend" remarked Carolyn. "Or forty people packed in a house much of a party."

Not all was lost though. From Cadillac they journeyed to Ludington and spent a day with Carolyn's mother "in a big, nice, quiet, warm and dry farmhouse". So much for their camping expedition.

Don't forget to vote in the School Board election coming up this Monday, June 11. Seven candidates are running in this year's election, one vacancy of which is for a one year term. Voting will be at Wixom Elementary School.

Speaking of elections, word comes to us from June Buck, Wixom's City Clerk regarding our upcoming City primary elections.

She has timely information for any Wixom residents wishing to toss their hats into the political arena for the City primary elections on August 7.

According to June, anyone living in the City may obtain a petition showing their intent to run in the primary election. The petitions available at City Hall, must be signed by a minimum of 40 or a maximum of 60 registered Wixom voters. Individuals may sign only one petition for a particular office.

Available on May 30, at 9 a.m., the petitions must be filed with the City Clerk by June 19 at 4 p.m. Within three days after the closing date, a written letter from the City Clerk will be sent to the individual petitioners advising them of the validity of the petition.

Older Wixom residents will be saddened to hear of the passing of William Wilke. He will be remembered as the first Justice of the Peace in Wixom and as one of the founders of the Wixom Goodfellows. He also tried his hand in politics running for Mayor a few years back but was defeated by Wes McAtee. Unfortunately, the details regarding his funeral are not available.

Novi Millage, Bond Issues

taxes are to be kept down by spreading them over a far longer period

Decision by the board of education to endorse and place these two millage proposals and one bond issue on the ballot was based upon recommendations of the Citizens Needs Assessment Committee and upon the board's own appraisal of the district's needs.

Immediate and longer range operational needs, the board concluded, requires renewal of the 7 mills as well as the addition of 2½ mills.

However, board members made it clear that should future budgets not require all of this proposed millage it will not be levied. In other words should it be determined at a later date that only 1½ mills of the 2½ addition is needed only 1½ will be levied.

School officials have pointed out that the district's student enrollment may increase by nearly 300 when classes start next fall.

They see this enrollment increase and other anticipated expenditures as requiring additional operating millage.

It is anticipated, for example, that 10 additional teachers will have to be hired.

Other increasing budget expenditures:

- An additional elementary librarian and a reading consultant at the secondary level, and an additional counselor to be used in both the middle school and the high school.
- Improvement of the high school library with new books and other educational materials

- Hiring of a full-time community education director and implementation of a full-fledged community education program.
- Replacement of two buses, purchase of two additional buses, and hiring of additional bus drivers.
- Hiring of a bus mechanic to cut repair costs and facilitate a preventative maintenance program.
- Hiring of a data processing worker.
- Addition of a half-time art teacher and three special education personnel.
- Negotiated teaching and non-teaching salary increases.

- A three to six-percent increase in the cost of supplies and services.

Officials also have explained that even though the state equalized valuation of the district is expected to increase, thus providing a larger tax base, Novi's proportionate share of state aid will decrease.

In arriving at its recommendations for new school facilities in Novi, the Needs Assessment Committee made an in-depth census and study of existing and anticipated housing in Novi to determine future student population.

On the basis of these projections, together with its evaluation of the school system's future needs to provide an improving educational program, the committee concluded that the new high school and two elementary schools will be needed by the 1977-78 school year.

HOME OWNERS CORNER

If you've decided to install prefinished paneling in your home, here is some handy advice. Furring strips must be applied to concrete or masonry walls before paneling can be installed. Attach with 1½ inch masonry nails, flange-type fasteners or perforated anchor nails. Nail or cement paneling to studs or furring strips at intervals of 8 inches along the panel edges, 12 inch intervals elsewhere. Remember to start panels from a corner and make sure first sheet is true and straight. Paneling will install quickly and easily.

And NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220 has a beautiful selection of U.S. Plywood, Masonite, Royalcoat, and Panellim pre-finished paneling for you to choose from. We also carry Armstrong and Owens Corning ceiling tile, pre-finished wood and plastic molding, and Minwax and Olympic stains. Delivery service. Open: 8-6, Mon-Fri; 8-2, Sat.

GROUND BROKEN — Construction of the new National Bank of Detroit branch office in Northville. It will be located on the opposite side of Seven Mile Road from the present office. According to the new manager of the branch, George Kenyon, the new facility is expected to be completed by the end of the year. Kenyon holds a sketch of the building (above) in front of the construction site.

Novi Council Eyes 1% Collection Fee

We're required by law to collect it and I think we should collect it."

Mrs. Roethel told the council that its timing was "extremely bad." "I'd hate to see the school's millage vote affected by our action at this time," she said.

Campbell objected to adding the collection fee on the basis that it was paramount to adding an additional tax without a vote of the people.

"I'm a firm believer that if we need additional funds to run the city we can go out and ask the people for those funds without having to resort to a measure like this," he said. "This is just another way of putting a tax on people without first getting their approval."

Councilwoman Roethel moved that the addition of the fee be waived with Campbell seconding the motion. Following further discussion, however, Mrs. Roethel attempted to withdraw her motion, but Campbell refused to withdraw his second and the motion thus remained on the floor.

Mrs. Roethel then moved to postpone any action at the present time and since a motion to postpone takes precedence it was placed before the council first.

The council passed the postponement motion 6-1 with Campbell casting the lone dissenting ballot.

"In light of the fact that we brought this issue up and muddled the waters, I think the people have a right to know whether or not we're going to be placing a one percent collection fee on their school taxes," explained Campbell.

Investigate Break-Ins

In Northville

Theft of a tractor with mower and cultivator attachments, plus $850 worth of other items from a storage garage is under investigation by Northville City Police detectives this week.

The theft was reported to police about 6 p.m. Saturday and took place sometime between that date and May 19 from a garage at 46000 West Eight Mile Road in McDonald's Orchard.

Detectives said weeds, which had been driven over by a vehicle, indicated the theft took place recently. Entry was gained by breaking a window on the north side of the building and removing the items with a truck or trailer.

Missing are a 1949 green tractor, orchard sprayer, mower and cultivator attachments, bushel baskets, tools and tool box, 30 law books, six antique lanterns, two pad locks, pole back antique chair, two-wheel cart, power mower, two sledge hammers, two shovels, two pair of pruning shears and six fruit picking bags.

Canvas tarpaulin, fencing and lumber, valued at $270, was stolen from the construction site of Northville Square over the weekend. The theft was discovered Monday.

Camping equipment valued at nearly $110 was stolen from a camper parked at 516 Rouge Street.

Reported Friday, the theft included four sleeping bags, cook stove, lantern and cooking utensils.

An am-fm stereo tape deck and three cigarette lighters were stolen from a car parked at 332 Debra Lane.

The theft took place between 10:30 p.m. May 30 and 8:30 a.m. last week Thursday, May 31. Value of the missing items is in excess of $300.

Township

Hires New Patrolman

Kenneth Hardesty has been hired as the newest member of the Northville Township Police Department.

Hardesty, who began working with the department Friday, June 1, is the third patrolman and fourth member of the township force.

A graduate of South Lyon High School, Hardesty was formerly a member of the township reserve police and for the past two and one-half years has been a patrolman with Green Oak Township Police.

He is also a graduate of the Southeast Regional Criminal Justice Training Center. Hardesty, who is 26, is a resident of Northville.

Chief Ronald Nisun said the addition of the patrolman, which was authorized by the township board in May, "will allow us to patrol the township seven days a week, with an average of 20 hours per day."

Three thefts from apartments are under investigation by detectives this week.

Stolen from the basement of Northville Green Apartments were three light blue Samsonite suitcases containing clothing.

Theft occurred between May 20 and 25 and was reported May 29.

Another theft from the basement of the same apartments was also reported May 29. Box of tools and a Craftsman circular saw, valued at $200, were stolen between May 20 and May 29.

Four tires and a leather jacket were discovered missing from Winner's Circle Apartments. Valued at $285, the items were taken between 1 and 5:45 a.m. Saturday.

1969 Chevrolet convertible, stolen nearly a year ago in Detroit, was recovered by city police Saturday at 9 p.m.

Found in the parking lot of Northville Green Apartments on Randolph Street, the car was partially stripped and engine parts were missing. Police said the front end of the car was damaged and the front axle broken.

Detroit Police Auto Squad had entered the car as stolen, in the Law Enforcement Information Network, from that city in July, 1972.

City police reported they were forced to shoot and kill a black and white German shepherd Monday morning on Grasmere in Northville Estates.

Police were called by residents of the area about 7:15 a.m. Monday. Residents reported the dog had been dropped off in the area by unknown persons.

The dog was baring its teeth, snarling, moving toward officers and raising up on its hind legs when officers approached it, reports said.

A tranquilizer gun was used first and officers reported that a half hour later the dog was still running through the subdivision with the tranquilizer dart lodged in its shoulder.

Officers fired two shots from a service revolver, killing the dog. No identification tags were found on the dog.

In Wixom

An antique flintlock rifle valued at $460 was stolen from its customary perch over the fire place in the main dining room of the Calico Kitchen Restaurant last week.

The theft was discovered by Officer David Schwanky of the Wixom Police force.

While in the restaurant on May 30, Schwanky observed that the rifle was not in its usual place over the fire place. When he asked a waitress if the gun had been sold, she replied that she did not know but would check with the manager.

The following day Schwanky stopped by the restaurant to see the manager who reported that no sale had been made and that the gun had apparently been stolen.

The antique flintlock had been given to the Calico Kitchen by the owner of the former Military Inn.

A Wixom man, Jeffrey Lynn Weborg of 204 Wixom Road, was arrested at his home last week as a deserter from the United States Navy. He had been placed on deserter status by the Navy on March 20 of this year.

An American and a Michigan state flag were reportedly stolen from a residence at 2220 Euna over the Memorial Day weekend. The flags, which were valued at $25, were stolen sometime between May 25 and May 28 from a flag pole in front of the residence.

A Detroit man, Vandrew Washington, reported that his 1973 Ford automobile had been stolen from the employee's lot at the Wixom Assembly Plant last week.

In Novi

A Novi resident was allegedly attacked and beaten for no apparent reason by four men as he was leaving the Novi Inn at 12:30 a.m. on May 28.

Police were summoned to the bar with a report that a fight was going on in front of the establishment. When they arrived they found the Novi man bleeding from a cut on his nose and in his mouth. The victim told the officers he was leaving the bar when he was jumped by four white males who knocked him to the ground and began kicking him in the chest and face.

The victim stated the attack was unprovoked.

Police indicate that the parties involved in the attack have been identified and that warrants for their arrest will be sought.

Names are being withheld pending issuance of the warrants.

A home on Nine Mile Road was broken into and robbed some time last week.

Gerald Detter, a Livonia resident, told police that he had been appointed by the state to clean up the house for sale as it belongs to a death estate currently in probate.

When he arrived at the home, he found that the locks had been pried off the front and back doors and that both doors had been left open.

Police were unable to determine how much property had been stolen from the house.

A 22-year old Livonia man has apparently escaped death in spite of a spectacular 80-mile per hour crash on the I-96 expressway on Friday, June 1.

Thomas Richard Crouch was transported to Botsford General Hospital with massive internal injuries and a possible fractured arm after the accident, police reported. Monday, June 4, he was removed from the hospital's intensive care ward and was reported to be in serious condition.

The accident occurred, according to reports, when Crouch, west bound on 696, hiked his speed up to 85-90 miles per hour in order to pass a car in the outside lane. Upon passing the car his left wheels ran off onto the shoulder of the south side of the expressway. He then over-corrected his steering and drove across the expressway, striking a guard rail below the Haggerty Road overpass.

Police reported that the car flipped up in the air, flying completely over the overpass.

Police issued violations to both drivers involved in an accident on Grand River May 24, at 6:40 p.m.

Timothy James Vandusen, 20, was eastbound on Grand River when he stopped to make a left hand turn into a private drive on the north side of the road.

Robert Francis Sloney, 48 and of Livonia, also eastbound, attempted to pass the Vandusen car and was struck in the side by the turning vehicle.

Sloney was cited for improper lane usage, while Vandusen was ticketed for making an improper left turn as his turn signal was not on until after he had started his turn.

In Township

Daytime burglary and two thefts are being investigated this week by Northville township police.

A home at 15335 Lakeside was ransacked sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 1:45 p.m. last week Tuesday, May 29.

Residents returning to the home found $100 in cash taken from a downstairs bedroom. A starter pistol, arrowhead, cufflinks and broken switch blade knife were stolen from the upper level of the home.

Police said no signs of forced entry to the home could be found. A hunting knife was reportedly left on the bed by the thieves, police said.

A seven-foot green and white Sport Yak was stolen from a home at 19150 Beck Road between May 18 and 22. The theft was reported to police Thursday.

Value of the boat was placed at $125.

Unknown persons pried open the trunk of a car and stole a white wall tire and steel wheel valued at $100.

The larceny, which is thought to have taken place while the car was parked at 18121 Jamestown Circle, was reported to township police Friday evening.

Programs should be expanded when citizens indicate there is a need or desire or when the business community indicates the need for trained individuals in certain fields. Since Schoolcraft is the only public facility in the area offering vocational technical programs, we have a responsibility to offer courses that will enable our students to obtain employment upon graduation. We must also periodically evaluate career programs and make adjustments in relation to the job market. When certain programs are in demand, they should be expanded, if economically feasible.

RICHARD BUERK

A resident of Westland living at 8277 Woodcrest Drive, 29-year-old Buerk is an assistant principal at Stevenson Junior High School; holds an MA degree in history from Eastern Michigan University, a BA in education from the University of Michigan, did graduate seminar work at College of William and Mary; professional background includes serving on North Central Evaluation Committee, Student Involvement Committee, chairman of the Fine Arts Cyclical Review Committee, Curriculum Council, Department Head Committee, Grading

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each of the candidates for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees was asked by the League of Women Voters the following question: In what ways should community colleges seek to expand their programs to meet the needs of the students in their districts? All but Noel Little of Northville responded.

Miss Little, Nancie Blatt, Richard Buerk, Gerald Cox, James Higgins, Paul Kadish, Gerald Lunden and Alfred Ringsred are seeking three six-year terms, and Ronald Cowden and Mark McQuesten are seeking one two-year term.

Good judgment at the policy-making level of the board of trustees requires an ability to understand complex phenomena. The assessment of present programs for the purpose of reaching agreement for future program development at Schoolcraft requires cooperation from interested groups, and this is best obtained by developing leadership.

Committee, Reading Seminar; is a member of the Westland Library Board, the Westland Symphony Committee, Plymouth Elks, and was secretary of the Westland Kiwanis Club in 1972; he is single.

Schoolcraft College must provide a well balanced and publicized curriculum in three major educational areas: career education, transfer programs, and personal enrichment courses. The community college exists to meet the educational needs and desires of the tax paying citizens who support them. The college should not have sterile pre-arranged curricular offerings intended for a select group, but instead, should be sensitive to the educational direction of our local areas.

Schoolcraft should not contemplate just being a junior version of a four year college. It has a unique opportunity and responsibility to provide meaningful alternatives to standardized educational practices in its attempt to meet today's needs of today's students.

DR. GERALD L. COX

A resident of Garden City living at 32761 Maplewood since 1957, 46-year-old Cox is a teacher in Detroit's Kettering High School; was a candidate for Schoolcraft Board in 1963 and 1971 and is currently serving as a governor of the Schoolcraft College Foundation; an experience educator, he has a background in classroom teaching, administration and research; received BA degree in business administration from Michigan State University, MA degree in education from Wayne State University and Ph. D degree from University of Michigan; active in many community programs, he is married and has four children.

When an institution like Schoolcraft College becomes successful it does so because of the investment of time, energy, and money by interested citizens and dedicated employees. Schoolcraft's search for excellence will be enhanced by encouraging faculty, students, administration, and citizens of the college district to seek education as a lasting means of personal growth and satisfaction.

Council Turns To Parking Plans

Having made the last major property purchase, the city council began studying plans Monday for municipal parking facilities south of Cady Street.

Sufficient property has been purchased to provide parking from Wing to Center approximately the depth of one-half block south from Cady.

Latest property to be purchased was that of Councilman and Mrs. Paul Folino, who reluctantly sold a Center Street parcel for a negotiated price of $39,600 cash. When the vote took place, Folino abstained and Mayor A. M. Allen cast the lone dissenting vote.

The price, in the mayor's opinion, was excessive in view of what was paid other owners for their property.

But City Manager Frank Ollendorff and other councilmen reasoned that the purchase price was the best obtainable, particularly in view of what the added expense would be if the matter was carried into court for condemnation.

The property was first appraised by the city's appraiser at $35,000 and then adjusted upwards to $37,900 as a compromise offer. Mr. and Mrs. Folino refused the compromise. Their own hired appraiser came in with an appraisal of $40,000, and the $39,600 negotiated price resulted.

The property, presently being used as the General Ambulance office and local vehicle station, includes a large frame house and a garage.

Concerning the proposed parking lot, the council is considering the suggestion of Mayor A. M. Allen to close off Cady Street from Wing to Center and relocating it on the south edge of the parking lot.

Such a move, he suggested, would eliminate a potentially dangerous situation of people crossing Cady on their way to the Northville Square shopping center. It would also move the parking facility closer to the center which it is to serve, and it would remove a likely traffic bottleneck on Center near the center of town, he noted.

Councilmen also have begun discussion of plans for the parking facilities to be located on the north side of Main Street between Wing and Center.

It appears, Ollendorff informed councilmen, that most layouts of this proposed facility and the one south of Cady fall short of the required parking spaces contracted and partially financed for by the Northville Square developer.

Three places of entry or exit are envisioned—one on Dunlap, one on Main and one on Wing.

No entrances are presently contemplated off Center Street to the parking facility south.

Landscaping in the facility north of Main is expected to include most of the existing trees in the interior of the lot, and existing and additional trees or shrubs in the median between the street and the sidewalk.

Eye Meadowbrook Road Paving Start relocation, however, claiming it would adversely affect the quality of Meadowbrook Lake, and retained an attorney to represent their views.

The attorney discovered that Johnson and Anderson, project engineers for both the Patnales Drain and the City of Novi, had not obtained a permit from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to relocate the stream.

Johnson and Anderson argued that it did not need a permit, but the Michigan Attorney General ruled that a permit was indeed required.

The project has been stalled while, first, Johnson and Anderson pleaded its case before the Attorney General's office and, second, while the DNR reviewed Johnson and Anderson's request for a permit following receipt of the Attorney General's ruling.

That obstacle was removed Friday as the DNR granted the permit for the relocation of the stream.

Further, at a 10 a.m. meeting Monday, the Oakland County Drain Commission, which is involved in the Patnales Drain project, agreed to enter into a contract with Novi to reimburse the City a portion of the cost of obtaining the easements necessary to relocate the Ingersol Creek.

With the location of the bridge on Meadowbrook Road finally determined, the City was able to proceed with its paving plans.

Saunders told the council that the City had funds available to cover the total cost overrun of $163,000.

Sole objection to the awarding of the bids at Monday's session came from Councilmen Denis Berry and Edwin Presnell, who raised a question regarding the quality of the paving done by the Grouleau Brothers and asked for a week's delay to allow Johnson and Anderson to submit a report regarding their reliability.

"Grouleau Brothers did a terrible job of paving Nine Mile Road for us and I would hate to see the same thing happen on Meadowbrook Road," said Berry.

Councilwoman Romaine Roethel objected strongly to any further delay, however. "I object very strenuously to any further delay on Meadowbrook Road," she said. "We've had three good bids submitted, let's get on with it."

A motion to postpone a decision on the bids for one week was defeated 5-2 as Berry and Presnell cast the affirmative votes.

Following defeat of the postponement motion, the council voted unanimously to award the bid to the Grouleau Brothers.

Planners to Meet

Special meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 13, in the township offices.

Meeting will be devoted to discussion of site plans for three proposed schools in Northville township.

Superintendent Raymond Spear will represent the Northville Public Schools at the meeting, township spokesmen indicated.

Planning commission members have expressed concern that the site plan of the proposed middle school on Bradner Road is too close to the lot line of an adjacent home.

Also to be discussed that night are site plans for proposed elementary schools in Highland Lakes and Northville Commons.

PTA Council Elects Officers

Mrs. William Wilkinson has been elected president of the Northville PTA Area Council for the 1973-74 year.

She was elected to lead the group during a recent meeting which also saw the council support the June 11 bond issue.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Robert DeAlexandris, vice-president; Mrs. John Starcevic, treasurer; and Mrs. Wes Henrikson, secretary.

The PTA Council has, by resolution, endorsed the Northville Public Schools' building program of two elementary schools and one middle school.

"The Council urges the citizens of the district to vote on June 11 and to support the 1973 bond issue," Mrs. Wilkinson added.

If it rains in June like it did in May, July and August will wash away.

And maybe the heavy rains are the excuse for what appears to be a slowdown in project activity in the city.

For example, the fish hatchery recreation site was supposed to be ready for partial use last summer. It hasn't changed appearance in months and I'm sure many residents wonder if it will ever become the site of tennis courts, baseball diamonds, nature trails and fishing ponds as it was delightfully painted when proposed two or three years ago.

And the Wing and Griswold street extensions are far, far behind schedule.

And grass mowing by the city is far below previous high standards, except perhaps on the Northville road boulevard entrance. The Griswold entrance has had little care.

The grounds around the Northville Historical Society's Mill Race site make the buildings look like the result of a storm or accident.

While the lack of progress on the renovation of the buildings may be the responsibility of the Historical organization, the appearance of the site reflects upon the city in general.

I'm sure a little pressure exerted by the city council could produce better effort in all these projects. The rain hasn't hampered construction of the Northville Square shopping mall, or the destruction of old buildings on Main street for future parking.

Why can't the city concentrate on getting done what it has started and live up to its past performances of "Beautifying Northville"?

Today's young people are living in an era of emphasis on ecology, when clean air, clean water and the preservation of swamps, trees and wild life have taken on new importance.

Yet while we have been busy looking at nature, it's apparent that human conduct, too, requires re-examination.

It wouldn't be surprising if today's graduates were skeptics. They might wonder if getting caught, not doing wrong, is the crime. And they might also wonder if there is punishment for crime even if you're caught.

But the ground rules have not really changed. One is still responsible for his actions. And part of growing up is accepting that responsibility.

Despite some poor examples, determining right from wrong is still not too difficult.

It's terribly important not to accept everything you hear without proof. And then not to repeat it until you are certain of its validity.

Three years ago in this column I wrote that a graduate of 18 probably wouldn't ask anyone three decades older for advice. But if you were three decades only and had another chance at 18, you might.

And the same thing I said to the graduates of the class of '70 applies now.

Play it cool, Johnny (or Jill). Stay loose.

No long-term contracts yet, and this includes marriage.

Further education? You bet. Either trade school or college. If you can't decide what you want to do, get involved in anything that seems mildly interesting. If you're bored after a fair trial, junk it and try something else.

More than two-thirds of your life, really the most exciting years, lie ahead. The next four, five or ten years are merely preparatory for the golden era of productive living—the thirties, forties, fifties and even sixties.

Don't lock yourself in. Not yet. Give your preferences and prejudices time to develop based upon personal experience. Blend the knowledge gained firsthand with that learned through textbooks and environment.

Travel if you can. Get involved: get "lost" in your work. Opportunity will find you.

It won't be difficult to point out what's wrong with our world. The trick is coming up with good and workable solutions.

Good Luck, Class of '73.

Bond Issues Deserve Support

Northville Bond Issue: Yes

The proposed $10 million bond issue is a necessity in the face of a growing community, and we feel no hesitancy in urging a "yes" vote at the polls Monday.

Actually, school officials anticipate that approval of the proposition will not necessitate an increase in school taxes.

Although the bond issue will require a slight increase in debt retirement millage, the district's increased tax base will permit a reduction—from one-half mill up to 1.5 mills—in the operational levy, thus offsetting the debt millage increase.

Furthermore, school officials anticipate that the district will be able to operate the three new schools proposed by this bonding proposal without a tax hike in operating millage.

Students . . .

Traditionally, high school commencement exercises have consisted of dull speeches made by dignitaries invited by the school administration. Undoubtedly, the intention of the administration has not been to lull the audience with the parade of stale and pointless information passed on by the guest speaker. Perhaps the administration feels that the rhetoric delivered by various uninspiring state officials does offer something of value to the graduating class.

Regardless of the good intentions of the administration, they have missed the mark with their commencement speakers. Of the graduates I've spoken to, not one can remember who spoke at their commencement or even what was said. Obviously, the administration has failed to provide the students with a speaker that has something of value to say.

The last semester of the senior year marks a time in life when many far-reaching decisions are made. At this time a person first considers seriously what he wants his life to be and what is necessary to reach that goal. Experiences that have been useful will be retained; the others will be discarded. If a student retains anything from a commencement address it will result from something of value that he heard: He will discard the mindless babble and vague references to 'your responsibility to the future' that have characterized the commencement speeches for many years.

It is the student who ultimately profits from a good commencement speaker. It is the student, therefore, who has the most to lose, in terms of wasted time and attention. Because the student has a better idea of what will be worthwhile for him, let him decide who he wants to speak at the ceremonies that serve to culminate his high school years.

Because the objective in having a guest speaker is to provide useful information or insight to the graduates, and proposal will permit continuation of the existing program and allow for a significant but not elaborate improvement.

For Hobart, Nieuwkoop

Northville voters would do their district no disservice by electing any of the seven candidates for the Board of Education since all the candidates are intelligent, informed and sincerely interested in the education of our children.

Nevertheless, because only two of the candidates can be elected we feel compelled to select those candidates who, in our opinion, are best qualified for office. They are John Hobart and P. Roger Nieuwkoop.

A Northville Township resident living in one of the fastest growing sections of the school district, Hobart, a business executive, is keenly aware of the growth that has taken place here in the past decade and he is well equipped to deal with the educational challenges of the future.

A resident here since 1951, Nieuwkoop is a Northville High School graduate who holds two college degrees and who has a solid background of experience in business and education.

For Wilkins, Colliau, and Szeles

The easiest, most important endorsement we can make for the Novi Board of Education is to back Incumbent Robert Wilkins. His excellent past performance both as a school board member and as a former Novi planner is sufficient evidence for us to urge his reelection.

Not so easy is deciding our endorsement for the second four-year seat to be filled. We are confident that former board member Mrs. Sharon Pelchat would again do a fine job if elected, but in this race we find ourselves more impressed by Joel Colliau, a young, intelligent, and very involved Novi citizen.

For the two-year seat on the Novi Board of Education, we support Thomas Szeles, a very competent candidate with an obvious dedication to the educational well-being of children.

Speaking for Myself

Who Should Pick Graduation Speakers?

James Siford

because the administration has failed to do so, it is time to let the seniors choose their speaker.

In my opinion, this is the best way to ensure a commencement exercise that will be remembered.

Anne M. Price
Northville Senior

Adults . . .

Speakers for commencement should not be picked by students alone, nor should adults act unilaterally. They should reach some joint agreement, compromising where necessary, with the ultimate choice resting with adults.

The danger in having students alone select the speaker is that the wrong students may gain authority to make the choice. Their principle objective may be to shock the adult community.

With adults, and in this instance administrators, retaining ultimate authority, there is some safeguard against any "shock" motive. Let me note here, however, that a vast majority of students are responsible and trustworthy.

Another reason for placing ultimate responsibility on adults is they have had considerably more school and work experience, in contrast to graduating students, most of whom are 17 and 18. This adult experience can assure a more realistic commencement speaker.

Adults should keep in mind that students are the prime objective of a commencement address and therefore, working with students, a contemporarily acceptable speaker should be chosen.

But the total community should not be overlooked. Parents, relatives and friends share in commencement exercises and should be considered when selection of a speaker is being made.

Urge 'Yes' Votes

To the Editor:

The Cooke PTA supports the upcoming bond issue to build one middle and two elementary schools. At the middle school present enrollment for 7th and 8th grades is 689, filling that building to capacity.

Any consideration of including the 6th grade (359 students) in this building or the expanding school population in the future requires an additional facility ready to accommodate 1,000 by 1975. When the high school, which will be filled to capacity by this fall becomes overcrowded, some consideration will have to be made for finding space at the middle schools for the 9th grade.

Regarding the 54 year old 6th grade annex which the Board of Education decided in the 1965 bond issue to abandon because it was an obsolete facility. This building would still have to serve a school function as part of Main Street Elementary by providing gym and lunch facilities. In addition, it may again become a central administration and warehouse facility in the event that the library takes over the community building.

The Board of Education has pointed out that all enrollment figures being used in this building program are based only on housing projects already underway by developers.

To be specific, Highland Lakes, now 254 students, will have a total of 1,419 students by 1975 or '76. Northville Commons, now 254 students, will reach a total school population of 1,382 by 1976. Northville Colony, now 229 students, will reach a total student population of 423 by 1974.

These present developments will bring a total of 3,224 school age children into the district.

Northville had the greatest percentage of growth in Wayne County during 1972, and there is no reason to believe that this pace will slacken. This bond issue, then, is not a case of "overbuild"—indeed, speculation may well be "how are we going to meet our future needs?" We urge you to vote YES June 11th.

Thank You,
Mrs. Jean LaPlante
President Elect,
Cooke PTA

To the Editor:

Novi citizens have the opportunity June 11 to carry out "united we stand—divided we fall" by voting for the millage issues facing our Community School District. Good schools are a great mark for a community, and it will take more money than we now have to acquire a school system adequate for the needs of the calculated school enrollment for the next five years. If we don't have more money, the school system will have to fall short somewhere.

After serving on the Needs Assessment Committee I am more than ever convinced that our Novi School system needs to meet more and greater demands. This is one of the "growing pains" of the community to say the least. The newcomers can, and should, help shoulder the problems and "growing pains" facing Novi, a growing community, in which they have chosen to live.

The small increase being asked in the three proposals facing us, the voters, is a total of only 3.98 mills, or less, which means $1.00 per $1,000 of equalized valuation per mill. This is a nominal sum which each family can help with whether it be extra property tax, or a slight raise in rent to a landlord to help cover the increase in taxes.

We can stand "united" for the education of our youth who are the citizens of tomorrow. Be united! Be a booster for your home town! Get out to the polls to vote YES on the three proposals Monday, June 11. Help show that REALLY "Novi Cares!"

Sincerely,
Nesby Button

To the Editor:

The May 24th letter box contained a letter indicating that Novi is seriously considering a school within the present Northville School District boundaries. This is true, a new high school is being considered at Taft Road and Ten Mile Road, within the proposed new Novi Municipal Complex. As Novi already owns the land it would be a savings to Novi taxpayers to build on this site.

In order for Novi to build a high school on this site, it must first petition the Northville School Board for permission to redraw the Northern boundary line in Novi. A proposal calling for the new boundary line to be 9 1/2 Mile Road has been discussed by the Novi Board; however, the formal proposal has not been received or even considered by the Northville Board of Education as of June 1st.

Should this change in the boundary come about, only about 40 students would change school districts. All students living South of 9 1/2 Mile Road in Novi would still be within the Northville School District.

The loss of 40 students does not change the real need that currently exists in the community for more classroom space. The entire school district will have only one vacant classroom when school opens in September. Based on projections supplied by builders in the area, and these have been conservative in the past, Northville needs to start construction now on two elementary and one middle school.

If anyone has a serious doubt about the real need, stop in at one of the current elementary schools or at the Cooke Middle School and view first hand the present crowded conditions, and then take a ride around the community to view the construction taking place. We, the Amerman PTA, urge a yes vote June 11.

To the Editor:

Another school year is almost history. The fifth graduating class in the Novi Community School District's brief history graduated Tuesday, June 5th.

As you know, Novi is an emerging school district. Approximately 700 pupils are expected to enroll at the high school next fall. This will seriously task the limitations of the present high school building.

Speaking as a principal, I hope you will note the building will not be adequate for an enrollment over 700. Many problems related to the instructional program and housing of students in programs will become spotlighted as the enrollment hits this figure. Some of these problems are already present.

The approaching millage and bond issue election June 11th is of tremendous importance to boys and girls and to future educational programs in Novi.

The results of that election will determine future quality of educational experiences for your sons and daughters and the community.

Vote June 11th. The Community needs your support to place Novi School District in the front of Michigan's school districts. Sincerely yours,
Hal J. Seymour

Why Must

All Suffer?

To the Editor: As a part of the Government Day program on May 21, the elected students held a council meeting during which there was a discussion on parks in Novi.

The students were trying to decide whether to develop new parks or to spend the money on fixing up the old city park.

From the audience, Councilman Denis Berry said why bother spending more money making the park nice when the kids will only come along and destroy it anyway, thus wasting the tax payers' money.

I for one am a taxpayer and why should I and the rest of the citizens of Novi have to suffer because of a few individuals? If there are problems with vandalism in the city park, why not ask for suggestions from the police department on how to eliminate the rather than condemn the whole city for them.

Mrs. Leonard Karevich

Wants Their

To the Editor:

Prior to the Annexation Election I wrote an open letter to the Township Board members who favored annexation asking if they planned to resign if their position was rejected by the voters.

Residents have now decided in favor of continuing the Township rather than be annexed to the city. It would appear logical that those Board Members who favored annexation cannot now represent the residents objectively. They are now "lame duck".

I again ask for their resignation.

Schoolcraft College cannot be construed to be an 'Ivy League School.' Therefore the school courses should be expanded in vocational areas that provide immediate service to the community and provide needed jobs to the graduates. This aids Michigan and the United States.

Examples of programs that when oversubscribed should be expanded are in the medical service area, the environmental control area and computer technology.

Since the State of Michigan is increasing the school appropriation by only 4 percent per year, the courses not well attended must be carefully scrutinized to maintain a balanced budget at the college.

PAUL KADISH

Graduate of Wayne State University college of business administration, 36-year-old Kadish is president of Associated Group Underwriters, Inc., owns and operates insurance agency with offices in Livonia, Pontiac and Taylor; experienced in labor-management relations, as state agent for life insurance company, in sales and personnel management and in advertising and public relations, elected to Schoolcraft Board of Trustees two years ago, he has served as board treasurer, as member of the board of directors of Michigan Community College Association and as member of the Association's legislative committee; lives in Livonia at 18687 Purling Brook.

We must organize our career programs to better serve the changing needs of the '70's.

We must more actively pursue and acquaint prospective students with the educational facilities of the college.

Expand the liberal arts and transfer programs of the college. I firmly believe that the community college will ultimately provide the first two years of college for an ever increasing percentage of our college students.

We are on the brink of having to decide whether or not to go ahead with plans to build a Fine Arts and Cultural Center at the college. I, for one, strongly support this program in order to make Schoolcraft College the 'cultural hub' of our entire community.

GERALD L. LUNDEN

A Livonia resident, 32-year-old Lunden has attended the University of Maryland, Oakland University, Oakland Community College, Mercy College and Wayne State University; also has taken courses at the U.S. Intelligence School and the Identification Systems Institute; employed in the Civil Division of Wayne County Sheriff's Office for past 11 years; past member Detroit Traffic Safety Committee, Governors Conference Committee on Traffic Safety, Western Wayne County Safety Committee, Downriver Traffic Safety Committee; has been active in Big Brother program, baseball and football program for underprivileged children, and in Scouting; married, has two children.

The community need today is for an education that will qualify an individual for his chosen profession. The community college has an obligation to meet this need. The large numbers of those who possess a bachelor's degree yet are in a quandary as to how they are going to make a living is indicative of our problem. While a liberal arts education is important in teaching one to enjoy life, it is far more important for the college to prepare an individual to be ready for life and be able to apply his education toward securing a beneficial and satisfying career.

ALFRED RINGSRED

A Plymouth resident for six years, residing at 42465 Parkhurst, 30-year-old Ringsred is a veteran recruiter for Schoolcraft College's Center for the Education of Returning Veterans (CERV) and a recent graduate of Schoolcraft College; formerly a systems analyst; as a student he was active in the VETS Club, a member of the President's Council of Presidents, a student advisory group to the college president, and a member of the President's Task Force for Recruitment—a special committee appointed to deal with the problem of falling enrollments experienced by Schoolcraft; a native of Colorado, he served for two years in the United States Air Force in 1962-64, is married and has a son.

Surveys, meetings with civic, business and educational groups, and a clear understanding of the K-12 programs should be an integral part of determining the changing needs of the community. An effective method of this type would enable the college to effect the programs and expansions the community needs when it needs them.

Programs that provide training enabling women, veterans and other members of the community to secure employment in their efforts to enter or reenter the labor market and programs in which there is considerable interest, such as nursing and culinary arts, should receive a high priority in consideration for expansion.

RONALD K. COWDEN

A former Novi resident now living at 15577 Westbrooke in Livonia, Cowden holds a BS degree from Western Michigan University and a Master's degree in education administration from Eastern Michigan; spent seven years teaching at Livonia's Adams Elementary School before assuming his present position as Bentley's director of student activities three years ago; before moving to Livonia two years ago, Cowden was member of city planning commission in Novi, member of the city recreation board, vice-president of the Novi Jaycees; besides being active in Livonia Education Association, Cowden has been involved in Livonia as a school supervisor for parks and recreation, and Bentley's director of LYI summer teen program, and manager of the CB Swim Club; is active member Livonia Jaycees; elected two years ago as GOP precinct delegate and recently elected to Wayne County II Congressional Committee.

The word "community" implies that the college, within its financial means, should provide educational, vocational, cultural and social benefits for its residents. Through active publicity, recruitment, and curriculum development, it can be foremost in our youth's career planning. The college should constantly evaluate its programs in terms of students' needs and the job market demands.

Furthermore, the college must insure its students transferring to four-year colleges meet the highest standards of preparation. In addition, the college can implement retraining, and service programs for all age groups as well as cultural and social activities that its residents might not otherwise experience.

MARK McQUESTEN

A graduate of Schoolcraft College, 23-year-old McQuesten lives at 14476 Summerisde Court in Livonia; unsuccessful candidate for Wayne County Commissioner in the August primary, he is office manager of the Livonia branch of Associated Group underwriters; attended Bentley High School and Sacred Heart Seminary; member Livonia Citizens for Better Relations and Livonia Interested Democrats; appointed to Livonia Youth Commission in 1972; as Schoolcraft student was member of Student Senate, president of Newman Association, College Council and reporter-columnist for student newspaper.

We must understand two important points. First, a student is not just the recent high school graduate. Rather, a student is anyone who has the potential and desire to learn. Second, we recognize that unlike other centers of higher learning, the community college is not solely a degree granting institution. Rather, it is established by the community to meet their particular needs.

The basic task facing a community college is to recognize those needs and establish programs to satisfy them. The community should be considered the college's campus and program expansion should be based on those very real needs of its students, i.e., the community.

Novi Council Adopts 1973-74 Budget

$17,900; and Mayor and Council - $6,500.

Of the total general fund outlay of $1,200,000, some $662,000 - or approximately 56 percent - goes into wages. That percentage is expected to increase with the completion of the police negotiations and adoption of the salary schedule.

The budget showed a balance of $74,000 in the Road Fund (money raised from the one mill designated specifically for roads). Combined with $96,700 from anticipated 1973-74 tax collections, the city anticipates a total of $171,000 available for roads.

As of yet, only one specific outlay has been designated for the road funds - an expenditure of $9,000 for a topographical map of the city. City Manager Harold Saunders noted that the remaining funds would be used in a ditching and grading program and for augmenting paving programs such as for Taft Road or the interior subdivision roads.

With the issue of salaries effectively eliminated, the most controversial issue for the budget proved to be the allocation of $135,000, a federal revenue sharing funds. Some $50,000 of that total was earmarked for additions, improvements, and remodeling of the City Hall. An additional $22,300 was set aside for purchase of seven new police vehicles with $10,000 designated for park land acquisition, $5,000 for an emergency power generator, $22,500 for municipal facilities, $12,200 for additional police cars and equipment, and $12,500 for fire department equipment.

Councilman Young's opposition to the acceptance of the budget was that the federal revenue sharing funds should be utilized strictly for "one-shot" items. "There are several items such as police cars and equipment for the fire department which are ongoing and not 'one-shot' expenses," he stated.

Honor Employers

Employers, who have participated in the work-school co-operative students program at Walled Lake Western High School for more than three years, were honored recently at an Employer - Employee Banquet at the Bay Pointe Country Club.

The Dublin Elementary School in Union Lake has employed office procedure students during the entire ten years of the co-op program. Beatty Lumber Company in Walled Lake and Orchard Lake Resthaven in Union Lake have employed office students and nurse's aide and orderly pupils over a period of five years.

Receiving certificates for three years of participation in the program were Pyles Industries in Wixom, State Farm Insurance in Walled Lake, Shuman Ford of Walled Lake, Walled Lake's Richardson's Farm Dairy, Accurate Tool and Machine in Union Lake; Lichvar Precision in Walled Lake; and Markey Brothers Company in Walled Lake.

A special award was made to Lester Carlson, director of vocational education for the Walled Lake Schools, who pioneered the program 10 years ago. Ernest and Ted Fuller of the Bay Pointe Country Club received certificates of appreciation for participation in the program and staging the annual banquet at their club.

Rejects Low Bid

were done well.

"If we make a decision and allow acceptance of the bids, are we going to have as many bidders next time we have projects?" he questioned.

Gene Ralls, representing the architecture firm of Ralls-Hammill-Becker-Carne, said the "board will leave itself wide open on future major projects if it negotiates after the fact. It also affects the position of our firm. I have the interests of Northville School District and our firm in mind when I say this.

"A bid is a bid and contractors should be held to that bid," he concluded.

Architects recommended the district accept the second low bid.

Trustee Glenn Deibert said the error was made by the bidder "without any figures available to us that would have enabled us to bring the error to the surface.

"Next day, after the bids were known, a document comes forward which increases the bid by $100,000 which still makes it the low bid," he continued.

"I'm convinced it's an honest error, but it gives (people) the opportunity to play games. If you accept this, that area of opportunity continues," Deibert concluded.

Trustee Richard Ambler said that W. E. Schulz "asked, as its first alternative, to withdraw the bid. I can't understand how a bid at this level could come in an error. It would be good business practice to go to the second low bidder."

Trustee Stanley Johnston asked, "Why, in all fairness, do we not ask the second low bidder to negotiate? I feel all or none should be negotiated. I am not in favor of doing anything but going with the second low bidder."

"Integrity of the board can not let bids be negotiated after they're opened. Saving taxpayers $66,000 versus the integrity of the board" is the question, Johnston said.

Trustee Sylvia Gucken said that "at first I felt bad for the contractor and then that we should renegotiate with them. But then we should renegotiate with them all if that happens."

Business Director Earl Busard said he disagreed with the board members.

"Past services (of W. E. Schulz) should be recognized. I do not feel negotiating the bid will reflect later on the district," he said.

"I am convinced it's an honest error and concerns $66,000 of the taxpayers money. They are not asking the board to take on the total error," Busard stated.

Board members, however, voted 4-0-1 to accept the second low bid. Voting "yes" were Dr. Robinson, Mrs. Gucken, Ambler and Johnston. Deibert abstained from voting and, in the past, has objected to construction of two elementary schools. Absent from the meeting were Trustees Andrew Orphan and Martin Rinehart.

Bids awarded on the construction of two elementary schools went to general contractor A. J. Anderson of Harper Woods for a total of $2,326,000, including adding 250-student capacity at the Northville Commons school.

Mechanical bids for both elementary schools went to McDonald Plumbing and Heating of Detroit for a total of $1,073,183.

Electrical bids for Highland Lakes school were awarded to Talbot Corporation of Livonia at $156,430.

Electrical bids for Northville Commons school went to D. B. Williams of Northville at $165,886.

Electrical bids for the two schools were split, at the request of the low bidder on the combined schools (Parker Electric of Brighton) since that company received the bid on the middle school.

Busard said that by splitting the two, costs were lower than that submitted by the next low bidder on the two projects.

Total cost of construction for the two elementary schools will be $3,721,499.

On the middle school, Lerner Linden of Novi was the low general contractor bidder with $2,201,088, including alternate of oil heat.

Mechanical bid went to J. D. Naylor of Detroit at $1,108,636, including alternates of oil heat and sprinklers on the football field.

Electrical bid went to Parker Electric of Brighton for $318,428, including alternates of oil heat and installation of a primary transformer.

Total cost of the middle school is $3,628,152.

who, according to Spear, say they are paying taxes on the area the school district would use for playground area.

Spear said the "school can be built on the site without the additional five acres. I would just mean the play area would be less.

"Thompson-Brown is working out the problem with the homeowners," Spear said. "The problem is between the homeowners and the company, not the company and the school district."

Deibert said to Johnston that "it is a normal reaction that I'm unlikely. I do not appreciate the position that corporation puts you in."

Spear said he did not "see anything crucial in that I cannot hand you a deed.

"The problem is between Thompson-Brown and the homeowners' association," Spear said.

Thompson-Brown agreed to give the school district an 8.5 acre school site and an easement on an additional five acres of park area which could be used as playground, Spear said.

However, Thompson-Brown's understanding with the school district did not extend to the homeowners

10 Seek Four College Seats

Two incumbents and eight challengers seek election Monday to the four seats to be filled on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Two incumbents are not seeking election, thus ensuring at least two new faces on the board. The two incumbents not running are Floyd Kehrl of Northville, appointed this past year to fill the seat vacated by Representative R. Robert Geake, and Erwin S. Brown, who was appointed in 1971 to fill the unexpired term of George Martin.

Seeking election to the three six-year terms are Incumbents Paul Y. Kadish, who was elected to a two-year term in 1971, and Nancie Blatt, who was appointed late in January to fill the vacated seat of Mary Dumas, who resigned to take her new post of county commissioner. Both Kadish and Blatt are Livonia residents.

Challengers also seeking the six-year seats are:

Gerald Cox of Garden City and James E. Higgins of Livonia, both of whom were unsuccessful candidates for the Schoolcraft board in the previous election in September, 1971, Richard G. Buerk of Westland, Noel Little of Northville, Gerald Lunden of Livonia, and Alfred D. Ringsred of Plymouth.

Candidates for the remaining two-year term of Geake are Ronald Cowden and Mark McQuesten, both of whom are Livonia residents. Candidates are running at large—that is they seek election by virtue of having the greatest combined votes cast in all five of the high school districts that make up the college district. These include Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City, and Clarenceville.

Previous to September, 1971, some of the college board members were elected from their constituent high school districts.

Northville will make its choices for the college board at the same time it votes for members for the Northville Board of Education.

Other members of the eight member college board whose terms are not up for election are Leroy C. Bennett, Archibald Vallier, Mrs. Rosina Raymond and John LaRue.

Francis Gazlay, present in the audience Monday, said he found noise created by ambulance and police sirens in the vicinity of the track were as objectionable as the racing noise itself. Gazlay lives on Rogers Street.

In defense of the sport, Carlo said limited motorcycle racing (four races per year are permitted by city ordinance) generates revenue for upgrading Downs facilities, helps advertise the track, and provides spectator recreation. Many of the fans present Saturday, he said, were Northville residents.

Carlo also pointed out that under new regulations of the motorcycle association, all racing vehicles are to be muffled beginning next year.

Vote Monday

Continued from Record, 1 provide, according to state law," he said.

With the construction of the three proposed schools, capacity of the district would be increased to 6,800 which would carry the district's projected enrollment through the 1980-81 school year.

The superintendent said there are four major reasons for the building program:

- student enrollment is increasing by 300 to 500 pupils per year;

- more economical to build now than later;

- added buildings will allow the district to maintain the educational program that best fits the needs of the community and until it decides it wants a mandatory year-round school program, keep a flexible school program; and

• amount of space within the school district for new homes which will bring in more school age children.

Spear said that judging by the housing developments slated for the school district, "there isn't the slightest possibility we could be overbuilding.

"Any suggestions about renting space from Livonia would give further thought to cross-district busing," he added.

"We would like to maintain the neighborhood school concept in Northville and new neighborhoods need new schools," Spear explained.

No Site for School?

Asking for funds to construct an elementary school on a site the school district does not own came under sharp criticism from Northville School Trustee Glenn Deibert.

Speaking to board and administration members Monday night, Deibert asked if he was correct in assuming the district did not own the school site in Northville Commons.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said Deibert was correct but that a "letter from Thompson-Brown assures the transaction (of the deed for $1) will be closed before the end of the fiscal year" on June 30.

Business Director Earl Busard said that Thompson-Brown wants "to make certain all is complete so we do not have the hassle we had at Highland Lakes" with site development costs.

Deibert said he found it "peculiar timing that only after the public agrees to put up the funds that (the company) comes across with the deed."

Construction of the elementary school is part of the $10-million bond issue being placed before voters Monday, June 11.

Novi Roars to SEC, District Crowns

It was a week of "firsts" for the Novi baseball team.

The first "first" came Thursday as the powerful Novi nine, topped Dundee 8-1 to clinch the first Southeastern Conference baseball championship in the history of the school.

The second "first" came

Saturday morning as the Wildcats clobbered Hartland 8-1 in the semi-finals of the Class C regionals at Capac to register the first district triumph by a Novi team in any sport.

And the third "first" came Saturday afternoon as Dave Brown fired a four-hitter as the Wildcats downed Flint Bendle 4-0 to win the first district championship in the history of Novi sports.

"What a week," stated Rick Trudeau, second-year coach of the Novi nine. "I don't know which one made me happier - the conference championship or winning the districts. I guess they're both pretty important."

"With three key games in three days the pressure was really on," he continued. "But the team really came through. That's what makes them such a good ball club - they really come through when the pressure is on."

As a result of their victory in the Capac districts, the Wildcats will now advance to the State Class C regionals at Sebewing this Saturday. They are scheduled to meet a fine

Richmond team which has a 20-1 record on the season in the opening game.

The Wildcats' season's record now stands at 16-5 as they've won their last 11 games in a row.

As usual, Novi utilized a lusty offense with a stingy pitching corps in moving to the three key victories last week.

In the three games, the potent Novi batting attack lashed out for 23 runs, while pitchers Dave Brown and John Pantalone yielded opponents just four markers.

Novi started their week of "firsts" when they trekked to Dundee to take on the Vikings Thursday.

"We weren't fooled by Dundee's 2-1 record," commented Trudeau. "They got off to a poor start, but they've really been coming on strong lately. They hit some real shots against us, but fortunately they were right at our outfielders and we were able to win a lot easier than we should have."

After four innings, the Wildcats held a narrow 2-1 lead as Tim Assemany doubled and scored in both the second and fourth frames. But Novi finally broke loose and scored six times in the final three innings to wrap up an 8-1 victory that clinched the SEC championship.

Sophomore shortstop Eddie Brown and pitcher Dave Brown paced the attack with three and two rbi's respectively. Pantalone, who relieved Dave Brown after the

Riverside Wins District Title

10th Inning Homer Dooms Northville 9

There'll be no state championship for the Northville baseball team this year.

The Mustangs were eliminated from the state tourney Saturday as they suffered a heart-breaking 4-1 loss to Dearborn Heights Riverside in the tenth inning of their game for the district championship.

A two-out home run off the bat of Riverside's Jim Hornfeld was the difference.

Joe Bishop, who had hurled a two-hitter in leading the Mustangs to a 1-0 victory over Riverview in the district semi-finals, was on the mound when Hornfeld drilled his decisive hit in the bottom of the tenth.

"It was a bad pitch," recalled Sam Taub, who called the balls and strikes in the game. "It was coming in high and inside. I was getting ready to call it a ball, but then he pulled around and tagged it."

The ball soared straight down the left field line, clearing the fence by a good 30 feet. Two runners scored ahead of Hornfeld to make the final score 4-1 and give the district championship to the Rebels.

Chuck Shonta, coach of the Northville nine, was only moderately disappointed with the way the game ended.

"If we had to lose it, I'd rather lose it on a home run than on an error or a bloop single that drops in over the infield," he said.

"We had our chances to win it, but we just weren't able to come up with the key hit when we needed it," he continued.

"A base hit here or a base hit there and we would have won it. But we just weren't able to put the runs up on the board."

Indeed.

Northville's lack of offense was notable throughout their four district games. Bishop held Divine Child to just one run in the Mustangs' qualifying round game to enable his teammates to squeeze by with a 2-1 decision in eight innings.

And Thursday Bishop and Ed Kritch, Northville's other hurler, combined talents to shut out Brighton in the pre-district game as the Mustangs recorded a 3-0 triumph.

But the lack of offense was most notable in Saturday's district semi-final and championship games.

The Mustangs scored just two runs all day long, but thanks to the gutty mound performance of Bishop and Kritch they were able to win the semi-final game 1-0 and then went nine and two-thirds innings in the second game before finally yielding the victory.

"You can't fault the pitching," commented Shonta. "Joe and Ed did a good job. Anytime you can hold the other team to just one run in nine innings, you ought to be able to come out on top."

Bishop survived a ragged start against Riverview in the semi-finals to pitch the Mustangs to a 1-0 victory, yielding just two hits.

The junior southpaw's inability to put the ball over the plate got him in serious trouble in both the second and third innings. In the second he put runners on first and second with no one out and in the third he had the bases loaded with one out. But each time he was able to pitch himself out of trouble.

The Mustangs, meanwhile, were collecting just three hits off Riverview's Terry Harney, but one of those three safeties was a line shot over the left field fence by John Sherman leading off the third inning and that hit proved to be the margin of difference.

Riverview's lead-off batter in the seventh stroked a double, but Bishop retired the side without allowing him to advance to third.

Kritch was on the hill for the Mustangs in the second game and, like Bishop, he had to survive a ragged beginning. Tim Butkovich, Riverside's second hitter, blasted a ball over the left field fence, and the Rebels proceeded to load the bases before Jim O'Brien hauled in a long shot to center field to end the inning.

Riverside loaded the bases again in the second inning, but once again Kritch was able to get out of it without yielding a run and front from then on until he gave up just one hit until he was tired and was replaced by Bishop in the eighth.

It appeared as if Butkovich's home run was going to give the victory to the Rebels, until the Mustangs finally managed to score the tying run in the sixth. With two down, Bart Taylor walked and Randy Oginski followed with a single.

Bill McDonald then hit a blooper that fell between the pitcher's mound and first base. The toss from first baseman Tom Herman, pitcher Purdy, and McDonald all reached first at the same time and in the resulting collision, the ball rolled free as McDonald was safe at first and Taylor sprinted all the way home from second base to knot the score at 1-1.

The Mustangs had runners in scoring position in the seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth innings. But each time they were unable to collect the decisive hit and suffered the defeat in the bottom of the tenth as Hornfeld, the ninth batter in the Riverside line up, delivered his two-out home run.

CRUCIAL DECISION — Was he safe or was he out? The umpire ruled that the Riverview catcher missed Northville's Ed Kritch and that Kritch missed the plate. He called the Mustang star out when the catcher reapplied the tag as Kritch was headed back for the dug out and Kritch's protestations that he had already touched the plate were in vain. Had the umpire called Kritch safe - as this picture seems to indicate he was - the Mustangs would have won the district championship.

Record-News Sponsors Area Golf Tournament

A golf tournament for men and women residing in the area served by Sliger Publications will be staged June 29 at Bob O'Link golf course in Novi.

The 18-hole event is open to all amateur golfers, 18 years of age or older, living in one of the communities in the circulation area of The Northville Record-News, South Lyon Herald or Brighton Argus.

It is the first such tourney sponsored by the community weekly newspapers and will become an annual event if response is adequate.

The 27-hole Bob O'Link course will be closed to public play on the Friday tournament date so contestants will have exclusive use of the course and club house.

Women will compete on the nine-hole north course, playing 18 holes, while the men's tournament will be held on the 18-hole south course. Bob O'Link Owner-Professional Midge Cova and Dave Zielinski, club professional, will assist in directing the tourney.

All players, regardless of ability, will have an opportunity to win prizes. Flights will be established on the basis of scores and trophies and prizes will be awarded in all flights.

Full details on how to enter appear in an advertisement on page 5-B of this edition. Entry fee is $10, which includes golf, prizes, gifts and refreshments.

Entries will be limited, so contestants are urged to submit their entry forms as soon as possible. The deadline is noon, June 22.

The tournament, which will be designed for fun and a day of recreation, will feature a number of "side prizes", such as the best score posted by an elected official. (Wixom Mayor Gib Willis is already laying claim to this prize.)

Special prizes will also be awarded to best performers from each community. Sliger Publications' staffers will host the tourney and serve as starters.

Starting times and pairings will be published in the June 27-28 editions of The Argus, Herald and Record-News.

Bob O'Link golf course is located on old Grand River at Beck road in Novi. Cova promises to have the layout in top shape and points out that there's plenty of time to get in a few practice rounds between now and June 29.

Tractor-men Trip Ben's

Look out for Michigan Tractor.

That's the word being passed around in the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission's Mens' Slo-Pitch Softball League these days.

One of three new teams in the league this year, the Michigan Tractor squad has served early notice that it will be a strong contender for the league championship.

In their first game, the Tractor-men squeezed past a strong Novi Jaycee team 5-4 in extra-innings. And then last week they pulled off the first major upset of the season by topping the Novi Inn - the defending league champions - by a score of 11-8.

The two victories left the Tractor-men as one of two teams still undefeated in league play. The Star Lincoln-Mercury team holds a half-game lead over the Tractor-men by virtue of having played one more game.

At the start, it appeared as if the Men from Ben's were going to give the upstart Michigan Tractor team a sound lesson in respecting the senior members of the league.

After three innings, the defending league champions had scored seven times, while pitching ace Klaus Bujack had held the Michigan Tractor squad to just one hit.

But then in the bottom of the fourth, the Tractor-men finally solved the mystery of Bujack's tosses and started chipping away at the Novi Inn's lead. Bob Ridsdell and Dick Floyd singled in the fourth and then came home as Jack Welryan poked a double. A single by Dave Degarmos scored Welryan and the Inn's lead had shrunk to 7-3.

The Tractor-men tied it up in the fifth as Ridsdell punched another single, Floyd, Dick Jones, and Bob Reid stroked doubles, and Mark Greel unloaded a triple.

Four more runs in the sixth gave the Tractor team an 11-7 lead. Dick Rutherford, Ridsdell, Floyd, Jones, and Welryan all collected singles after two were out and Greel contributed a two-bagger to give Bujack one of the roughest games he has had in his two years on the mound for the Men from Ben's.

Paul Faulkner, Bob McCoy, and Dennis Brooks all singled for the Inn in the top of the seventh to narrow the score to 11-8, but Jerry Purdon, the Michigan Tractor pitcher, shut the door without any further damage being done to preserve the upset 11-8 victory.

Floyd and Ridsdell led the Tractor hitters with three for four performances at the plate, while Brooks had a perfect four for four day at the plate for the Men from Ben's, whose record fell to 2-1.

Chuck Seabert's Star Lincoln-Mercury squad remained undefeated and maintained its one-half game edge over the Tractor-men by registering an easy 11-3 triumph over the hapless Novi Police, who are still looking for their first win after three outings.

With single runs in the first and second innings and two runs in both the third and fifth innings, the Star L-M squad held a 6-0 lead over the Coppers who were held to just four hits by pitcher Mike Fenchel through the first five innings.

The Coppers finally found the scoring touch in the sixth as John April and T.B. Harbin each stroked singles and Max Roder and Dave Butler connected for doubles to drive in three runs and narrow the car dealer's lead to 6-3.

Starr L-M came back with a vengeance in the bottom of the sixth, however, and scored five times as Barney Auten and Rey Rodriguez ripped doubles, Fenchel unloaded a three-bagger, and Ray Denne completed the fire works with a four-base clout.

L'Esperance Electric took advantage of Michigan Tractor's upset victory to pull into a third place tie with the Novi Inn. Both teams have 2-1 records.

The Electricians and Olympic Manufacturing each scored once in the first inning, but from then on it was the Electricians' game all the way as they routed the Manufacturers 15-1 behind the nine-hit pitching of Walt Maki.

L'Esperance wrapped up the win with six run outbursts in both the fourth and seventh innings. In addition to his mound performance, Maki collected three singles in four trips to the plate to share hitting honors for the winners with Chuck Kantola who had three singles and a triple in four trips to the plate.

Tom Renner's double knocked in Bill Ruck with the Manufacturer's lone run of the contest.

Squaring their records at 1-1 in last week's action were the Novi Jaycees and the Jamaican Pools teams.

Upset by Michigan Tractor 5-4 in their opener, the powerful Novi Jaycee squad came back to squash Meadowbrook Lakes 19-1.

The Jaycees scored all of their runs in the first three innings and then concentrated on holding the Lakers in check. Todd Price with a three for three performance and Jim Cherfoli with a two for two effort at the plate paced the rout, while Big Phil McNery, the Jaycees' candidate for the league's home run crown, crashed his first round tripper of the season in the second inning.

Jim Woelkers' two for three performance at the plate was tops for the Meadowbrook Lakes team.

After two wild innings, Jamaican Pools and Novi Heights were deadlocked at 8-8. But then the Pools team started to pull away and wrapped up a 19-9 triumph with a seven run uprising in the bottom of the sixth.

Harold Ortwine's two for two performance with the bat was tops for the Heights, which joined the Coppers in last place with an 0-3 record. Keith Heathcock and Steve Elliot went three for four for the winners. Elliot's three hits consisted of two doubles and a home run.

Five Wildcats Win Spots On All-Conference Squad

With three players named to the first team and two more receiving second team honors, Novi's Wildcats dominated the 1973 Southeastern Conference All-Star baseball team selected by conference coaches last week.

Pitcher Dave Brown and third baseman Tom Celani highlighted the Novi selections as each was selected to the All-Conference first team by the unanimous vote of the coaches.

Tim Assemany, Novi's second baseman, was also selected to the All-Conference first team.

Receiving second team berths were pitcher John Pantalone and outfielder Mike Riley.

It was the largest representation Novi has ever had on the All-Conference baseball team. Catcher Tom VanWagner was named to the first string catcher position in 1971 to become the first Novi ball player to be tabbed for All-Conference honors and Bob Pisha was named to the first team catcher's position last spring.

But Rick Trudeau, coach of the SEC champion Wildcats, was somewhat chagrined about the number of his ball players who received all-conference honors.

"Each coach was only allowed to nominate five players," he reported. "As far as I was concerned seven of our nine starters should have been either first or second team."

"I think Riley was as good as any first baseman in the league and he was named to the second team outfield. And I thought Dan Kardell was as good as any of the outfielders even though his batting average in the conference was only .279."

Trudeau also put in a plug for shortstop

Eddie Brown and catcher Eric Hansor.

"The biggest problem I had was in trying to figure out which five of our players I was going to nominate," he stated. "If they had been on any other team, I'm sure they would have been nominated for all-conference and probably would have made it."

Brown, the strong armed mainstay of the Novi pitching staff, posted a 4-1 record in conference play - his lone loss being a 1-0 decision to Saline's Dennis King, who also made all-conference first team.

Assemany clipped the ball at a .378 pace while handling second base duties for Trudeau's conference champions and Celani, the husky fireplug of a third baseman, hit for distance as well as for a fine .367 average.

On the second team Pantalone, a senior southpaw, recorded a 4-1 mark against conference teams and ball-hawked centerfield for Trudeau when he wasn't on the mound.

Riley, who started as an outfielder before being transferred to first base, hit .300 and was the home run leader on the Wildcats with four circuit blasts.

South Lyon's Chuck Downing was the only other player besides Brown and Celani to be named to the first team by a unanimous vote. He hit .404 for the Lions. The conference batting title went to the Lions' Paul McIntyre who hit .442 and made the first team as an outfielder.

Novi's five all-conference selections served due warning to league coaches that the Wildcats will be strong again next year. With the exception of Pantalone, all will be returning to spearhead the 1974 edition of the Novi baseball team.

Regional Tourneys Set for Saturday action for Northville fans as the local high school has been selected as the site for a Class B Regional.

The Wildcats will pit their 16-5 record against a fine Richmond team which has posted a 21-1 record on the season. Game time is slated for 12:30 p.m.

The winner of that regional semi-final game will then play the winner of the game between Saginaw St. Peter and Paul and the winner of the Deckerville district for the regional title. The championship game will follow the conclusion of the Novi-Richmond game by one hour.

The Sebewaing regional champion will play the Sanford-Meridian Regional champion the following week in the state semi-finals with the winner of that game advancing to the state finals.

Northville Athletic Director Bob Kucher feels that the Class B state champion is just likely to be the winner of the Northville Regional.

At 10 a.m. Romeo plays Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher - the odds-on favorite to capture the Class B crown. At 12:30 p.m. Riverside, which topped the Mustangs last Saturday for the district title, will meet a Flat Rock team which upset defending state champion Carleton Airport in district action last week.

VanWagner Cops Award

Sophomore offensive guard Tom VanWagner, a 1971 Novi High School graduate, has been named recipient of the Bill Hauser Memorial Award for spring football at Michigan Tech University.

The award is presented annually to the Michigan Tech football-player selected as the most outstanding during spring drills. He was presented the award at the Varsity Awards Banquet on May 30.

VanWagner was "tremendous all spring," according to Head Coach J. J. Kapp. "You had to be impressed with his hustle and enthusiasm this spring," said Kapp of the 5'10", 200 pound sophomore guard.

third inning, was credited with the victory.

The Wildcats got a break in their game with Hartland Saturday. The two top Hartland pitchers were unavailable due to having been used earlier in the week as the Eagles fought to win their conference title. And the two top Eagle hitters were also unavailable due to their decision to go on the senior trip.

Nevertheless, Hartland grabbed an early lead by picking up two runs off Pantalone in the first inning as the Novi hurler issued two walks and was hurt by a throwing error by the left fielder.

But after the first, Pantalone settled down and gave up just three hits the rest of the way.

"Once John got his rhythm down, he really started moving them down," said Trudeau.

The Wildcats wrapped up the win in the second inning as they exploded for nine runs on eight hits and two Hartland errors. A triple by Dave Brown and a two-run single off the bat of Tim Assemany were the key blows in the surge.

Novi rounded out their scoring in the fourth as Mike Riley singled in Assemany and Tom Celani.

Riley finished the game with three rbi's, while Assemany and Dave Brown had two rbi's apiece.

The Wildcats then captured the district championship by downing Flint Bendle 4-0 in the championship game, as Brown fired a four hitter.

"Dave didn't have his real good fast ball, but he was keeping them off balance by throwing a lot of curves," reported Trudeau. "I think one of the reasons he did so well was that Eric Hansor did a fantastic job of calling pitches and Brown was able to put the ball where he wanted it."

"Hansor watched Flint's 9-2 win over Pontiac Catholic in the first game and he got a pretty good idea of what their top hitters could and couldn't hit."

Flint collected three hits off Brown in the first two innings, while the Wildcats were being held hitless by Steve Flenn. Novi finally broke the scoreless deadlock in the third as senior Dan Kardel stroked a two-out single which brought in Eddie Brown who had walked and been forced to second when Hansor was hit by a pitch.

Novi scored three more times in the fifth to turn the tense 1-0 battle into a more comfortable 4-0 lead. Two errors and a fielder's choice brought in Ed Brown with the second Novi run of the game and left Pantalone and Kardel on second and third with two down. Celani then stepped to the plate and hit a shot down the left field line that scored both runners and left him perched on second base with a double.

Dave Brown held the Flint squad hitless over the final two innings to preserve the 4-0 victory and give the Wildcats their first district championship.

LEAVING THE SCENE — Farmington's Bob Hancher crawls to safety after his bike flipped during a practice run at Northville Downs Saturday. Hancher "high sided" — flipped over toward the high side of the track — and suffered a separated shoulder. "That was one of only two or three minor accidents we had all night," reported Staton Lorenz, promoter of the races. "The excitement of motorcycle racing isn't in the accidents, it's in seeing 12 bikes go into a curve at 100 miles per hour and come out of it still tightly bunched."

Rexall Still Unbeaten In Novi Little League

After just three weeks of play, only one team remains undefeated in the Novi Little League.

In last week's action Harrison Well in the Pony League and Herb's Mower in the Minor League each suffered their first defeats of the season, while Rexall won two Major League games to remain undefeated with a 4-0 record.

By virtue of the two victories, Rexall managed to wrest the lead of the Major League away from the Novi Firemen, who finished the week with a 4-1 record. Both Rexall victories were of the white-knuckle variety.

In their opening game they managed to squeeze past BV Construction by a 6-5 margin and then on Saturday they recorded a 10-9 triumph over Michigan Tractor in a game that had been previously suspended with the score tied 9-9 in the seventh inning.

The Novi Firemen also recorded a pair of wins in Major League action last week. Michigan Tractor was again the victim as the Firemen coasted to an 11-3 victory and then David Pisha blanked General Filters through six innings as he hurled the Firemen to a 4-0 victory.

In other Major League games BV Construction (2-2) pulled into fourth place behind Bain Brothers (3-1) with a 5-4 victory over the Novi Party Store, while the Party Store (2-3) secured its grip on fifth place with an 8-8 verdict over Michigan Tractor (1-3), which fell into a tie for seventh place with the Novi Police (1-3). General Filters is in the basement with an 0-4 record.

In the Pony League Spartan Concrete (4-1) strengthened its hold on first place by handing Harrison Well (2-1) its first loss of the season as Tim Cireirelli struck out 10 in leading his teammates to a 14-11 win.

Firm Built (2-1) moved into a tie with Harrison Well for second place by topping fourth place Ecco Tool (1-3) by a 10-1 margin. Pink Builders remain in the Pony League basement with an 0-3 mark.

Lynch Precision (4-1) won twice in the Minor League to pull into a first place tie with Herb's Mower (4-1) which suffered its first loss of the year. Lynch Precision had J. S. Trudeau to thank for handing Herb's a 6-3 defeat. They showed their gratitude by subsequently beating J.S. Trudeau 8-1 and then squeezed past Fendt Transit 12-11 as Mark Moran knocked in seven runs.

Herb's Mower won its other game of the week, pulverizing Marcus Glass 20-0.

Right behind Herb's and Lynch Precision in the standings is Fendt Transit which advanced its record to 4-2 last week by topping Thomas Steel Forms 12-4.

J.S. Trudeau is in fourth place with a 2-1 mark, while Marcus Glass and Thomas Steel Forms are deadlocked for fifth with 1-3 marks. Jamaican Pools is 0-5.

Novi Little League officials remind parents that the concession stand at the field is now open. Coffee, pop, hot dogs and popcorn can be purchased at the stand.

Novi Jayvees Lose Final Doubleheader

Novi's junior varsity baseball team brought its 1973 season to a close in rather unremarkable fashion last week — dropping both ends of a double header to the South Lyon jayvees.

"Losing to South Lyon isn't hard to do, you know," commented Bob Weinburger, coach of the Novi jayvees. "I think they've got something like a 16-3 record over there and that's not too bad. Northville beat them twice and Chelsea knocked them off once, but other than that they've won them all."

The Lions showed their prowess in the twin bill with the Wildcats, taking the first game 10-6 and then coasting to an 11-7 victory in the night cap.

The Wildcats got off to a good start in the opener as Scott Parsons, Bill Barr, Mike Collins, and Gary Ford all stroked singles in the first inning off Lion starter John Burton to open up a quick 4-0 lead.

The Wildcats added single tallies in the second and fifth innings. Starting pitcher Dave Piotrowicz aided his own cause in the second as he belted a home run and Barr tripled and then came home on a single by Ford in the fifth.

At the end of five and a half innings, Novi held a 6-4 lead. But then the roof caved in.

Piotrowicz retired the first Lion batter, in the sixth, but before Novi was able to get the second out of the inning, the Lions had converted five hits and two walks into six runs to take a 10-6 lead they protected in the seventh to secure the victory.

"The second game was more or less a fun game," reported Weinburger. "He started his second string and I started my second string." Final score showed the Lions on top 11-7. "His second string was better than mine," explained Weinburger.

The Wildcats jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first, but fell behind as South Lyon scored once in the first and then erupted for six runs in the bottom of the second. At the end of the fifth inning, the Lions held an 11-3 lead. Novi rallied for three runs in the sixth as Barr stroked a double and added another run in the top of the seventh to make the final 11-7 score seem a good deal closer than it actually was.

"I think we had a better team than our 6-11 record indicates," opined Weinburger. "There are definitely some boys on this team who are going to move up and help the varsity next year."

Catcher Gary Ford was one of four Novi jayvees to top the .300 mark in hitting. Ford's .339 average was tops on the team, while Piotrowicz hit .333. Collins had a .327 mark, and Barr finished up with a .306 average.

Ford's 20 hits led the club in that department and he shared the leadership in runs scored with Collins as each scored 15 times. Piotrowicz led the team in rbi's with 12.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

The family of Marie LaFond of Twelve Mile Road met for a family reunion Sunday, June 3, at the Union Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald LaFond.

Among the 61 present at the party were Mrs. LaFond, her six children and their spouses, 16 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Members of the family came from as far as Florida and Michigan's Upper Peninsula for the event.

Twenty-five friends and relatives gathered to honor bride-to-be Linda Bowlby of Clawson. The shower was given by her aunts, Mrs. Hadley Bachert and Mrs. Gilbert Collins.

Debbie Smallwood of Ten Mile Road was recently the guest of honor at two bridal showers. Miss Smallwood will soon wed Gary Ortwine of Novi Road.

One shower was given by Mrs. Audrey Ortwine, Mrs. Lucy Ortwine and Mrs. Vi Ortwine. The other was given at Miss Smallwood's home by Mrs. Martha Legg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Karschnick are the parents of a baby girl, Carrie Suzanne, born May 27 at Botsford Hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds and six ounces at birth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Art Karschnick, former Durston Street residents, David Lutz of Plymouth and Mrs. Ruth Hart of Arizona.

Parents of a daughter, Rachel Elizabeth, are Mr. and Mrs. Phil Baynes of Taft Road.

The young lady was born June 2 and weighed seven pounds and 12 ounces at birth.

Sam Butten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Booth of Haggerty Road, has returned home for the summer from Atlantic Bible College in West Virginia.

Home from a furlough from the Navy is Ken Warren, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warren of Haggerty Road.

NOVI REBEKAHS
The next regular meeting is scheduled for June 14 at 8 p.m. Hostesses will be Irene Staman and Blanche Johnson.

During the meeting, members will be asked to suggest names of youngsters to attend the camp at Big Star Lake near Baldwin.

Articles for the Rummage Sale should be delivered to the hall early on Thursday, June 7 so they can be marked for the sale which will be held on Friday, June 8 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Three Lodge members are presently hospitalized. Sue Watson is in Providence Hospital, Betty Harbin in Botsford and Rowena Salow is in Sinai Hospital.

NOVI DRUG ABUSE
A panel of judges has chosen three winners in the recent bumper sticker contest. Each of the winners, Robert Lambert, Rose Sheppard and Della Lowe, will receive a $25 savings bond for their designs.

NOVI SENIOR CITIZENS
Novi United Methodist will be the place for the June 13 meeting. Members should bring with them a table service and a passing dish. Discussion about a Senior Citizens booth at Gala Days will be held during the business meeting.

Members are to call Mrs. Nancy Liddle at 349-2219 to tell her when they will be available to volunteer to serve coffee to voters on election day, Monday, June 11.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS
Novi residents are reminded of the LWV "Meet Your School Board Candidates Night" on June 7 at 8 p.m. in the School Administration building at 25549 Taft Road.

Citizens will have an opportunity to meet the candidates and ask questions of them. Board of education members will be present to answer questions about the increase in operating millage.

JAYCEE AUXILIARY
The Novi Auxiliary, with the South Lyon Auxiliary, will host the newly elected Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary Executive Board on Friday and Saturday.

For the past four years, the Auxiliary has been taking children from the Northville State Home on outings. On Thursday, June 7, the children will be the Auxiliary's guest at a summer picnic at Cass Benton Park.

On June 12, also at Cass Benton Park, there will be a picnic for Auxiliary members and their children.

NOVI YOUTH ASSISTANCE CAMP COMMITTEE
Service groups, businesses and individuals are being asked to contribute toward sending a child to camp this summer.

Due to lack of funds, not all of the 64 children referred will be able to attend. Persons interested in contributing should contact Jody Adams at 349-2948.

NOVI BLOOD BANK
The Multi-Purpose room at Orchard Hills Elementary School will be the site of the Novi Blood Bank on Monday, June 11 from 2 to 8 p.m.

It is hoped that 20 percent of the Novi population will be concerned enough to contribute to the bank. Chairman Ray Tobias is ready to take pledges from residents of Novi at 349-5455 so the blood bank can be established in the city.

CUB SCOUT PACK 240
An outdoor meeting and Bike Derby will be held on Saturday, June 9, in the Orchard Hills parking lot. Each boy is encouraged to bring his bike and participate in the events and games.

A committee meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on June 6 at the DeBrule home, 23034 Ennshore Drive. New committee members and members at large are welcome to attend.

GIRL SCOUTS
All troops participated in the Novi Girl Scout Picnic at Cass Benton Park last Saturday. Special guests were Phyllis Kaplan and new field director Estelle Beemer.

Junior Troop 165 had a picnic and swimming party following participation in the Memorial Day parade. The troop is making plans for a campout on July 19.

Junior Troop 913 is planning a campout at the John F. Ivory Grounds.

Troop 519, Terri Kessler and Kathy Griffin.

Troop 842, Monica Buckheit, Natalie Colliau, Gerri Lynn Peterson, Heidi Worthman and Cathy Ziegler.

HOLY CROSS EPISCOPAL

The Grand River Convocation will meet at the church on June 10 from 2 to 4 p.m.

June 11 at 8 p.m. is the time of the next Bishop's meeting.

UNITED METHODIST
Special services were conducted on Sunday for the graduates. Cindy Colliau, Mark Baumann and Ron Frisbie participated. Following the services, coffee and cake was served and each of the graduates was presented a Bible.

On June 17, the young people will leave for a retreat at Camp Conley in upper Michigan.

FIRST BAPTIST
Next Sunday evening there will be a welcome home party for students. Each lady of the church will bring her family's favorite dessert.

On Saturday, the young people will leave the church at 6:30 p.m. for horseback riding. Questions about the outing should be directed to Phil Baynes.

Students honored from local communities include:

School Election Monday

Northville to Vote in Six Precincts

For the first time, Northville School District electors will be casting votes in six precincts when they go to the polls Monday, June 11. Division of the 8,300 registered voters into precincts was made earlier this year, with voter registration cards mailed out several weeks ago.

Precinct divisions in no way change the method of electing school board candidates, which are still elected on an "at-large" basis.

Business Director Earl Busard said the voting "should be easier with the precinct divisions. Results are expected to be in shortly after polls close at 8 p.m. and the official canvass will be conducted at 10 p.m. the same evening.

Busard commented that the "school board will still be in session at that time and, provided the bond issue passes, can approve the bond sale resolution. It can then be filed the following day, June 12, in Lansing."

All preliminary approval from the state has already been received, pending the outcome of the bond issue.

Voting will be done on machines, with two machines used for each precinct.

Busard suggested voters bring registration cards to the polls. "It will make it faster and easier to answer any questions which may arise," he explained.

Precinct divisions include:

Precinct One: Votes at Administration Office, 303 West Main Street. Includes all area south of Eight Mile Road, east of Beck Road and west of Northville Road, south to city limits of Northville. Voters total 2,659.

Precinct Two: Votes at Amerman Elementary School, North Center Street, north of Eight Mile. Area east of Northville Road to Haggerty, north side of Seven Mile to Eight Mile including Highland Lakes, Smock and Meadowbrook subdivisions. Voters total 989.

Precinct Three: Votes at Administration Office. Area south of Seven Mile, east of Northville Road to the east and south boundaries of the school district, including Northville Commons, Northville Colony and Haggerty Court. Voters total 768.

Precinct Four: Votes at Amerman Elementary. Area north of Eight Mile, west to Beck Road (except Northville Estates) to north school district boundary inside City of Novi. Voters total 1,628.

Precinct Five: Votes at Administration Office. Area south of Seven Mile, east to Northville Road, south to Five Mile Road border, west to school district boundary, including King's Mill, Edenderry and Shadbrook. Voters total 1,671.

Precinct Six: Votes at Moraine Elementary School, West Eight Mile Road near Lanthorn Lane. Area west of Beck (also includes Northville Estates) north of Seven Mile to western and northern boundaries of the school district. Voters total 578.

Board Won't Let Trustee Resign

Resignation of Trustee Andrew Orphan from the Northville Board of Education was denied Monday night by trustees.

Orphan, who has been transferred by the Bell Telephone Company to Louisiana for six months, asked his resignation be effective Monday, June 4.

He was not present at Monday's meeting.

He said that it would be "impossible to serve the electorate" during the six months he will be in Louisiana and that the "challenges that confront the board dictate I submit my resignation."

Trustees denied the resignation by a 5-0 vote, Trustee Martin Rinehart also absent.

If the school board had accepted Orphan's resignation, a replacement would have had to have been appointed since his letter was submitted following the filing date for candidacy in Monday's election.

Only concern voiced over denying the resignation came from Trustee Stanley Johnston.

Johnston stated he was "concerned with the board operating for six months with a 3-3 possible split" which could deadlock any board action.

Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson said Orphan could be present for weekend work sessions, however he would not be able to attend any of the board's public meetings for six months.

Dr. Robinson said Orphan will be retaining his home in Northville and reminded the board that "Trustee Richard Martin was gone nearly this long" before he resigned last year.

Legally, Dr. Robinson said the board may retain Orphan and that he will still have "18 months left to serve on the board when he returns from Louisiana. A replacement would not function ably within six months."

Funeral services were held Monday, June 4, for John Lester Hahn of Pompano Beach, Florida, formerly of Northville, Mr. Hahn died Thursday, May 31, in Titusville, Florida, at the age of 50.

Born July 24, 1922, in Salem, Illinois, he was the son of Lester LeRoy and Faye E. (Helms) Hahn.

Surviving are his widow, Irene (Renee) Black of Pompano Beach, a son, Lance of Lima, Ohio, a daughter, Mrs. Dale S. (Carolyn) Price, and two grandchildren.

Officiating at the services held at the R. Jay Kraefer Funeral Home in Pompano Beach was Mr. E. Selden Marsh of First Church of Christ Scientist. The body was cremated.

JOHN D. CAMERON

Funeral services were held Monday, June 4, for John Douglas Cameron of 7098 Sheldon Road in Plymouth who died June 1 at Martin Place West in Detroit. He was 54 years old.

A resident of the area for the past six years, Mr. Cameron was born May 9, 1919, in Detroit.

Surviving are his widow, the former Shirley J. Williams, his mother, Mrs. Cameron of Detroit, two sons, John C. of Highland Township, and Scott, three stepsons, Michael, Stephen and Kerry Justice, and two sisters, Mrs. Marietta Rathbun of Farmington and Mrs. Jane Wagner of Detroit.

Services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend Robert Shank of Plymouth officiated. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery, Northville.

ROTARY SCHOLARSHIP—Mrs. Clarence Johnson, wife of the late Novi Rotary Club president, presents a $300 college scholarship to Jane Elizabeth Cameron, Novi High School senior, as Club President Gary Johnson looks on. The presentation was made at Thursday's meeting. Novi Rotarians intend to continue the scholarship, called the Clarence Johnson Memorial Scholarship, in future years. Mr. Johnson, a Novi businessman, was president of the club when he died last year.

Northville GOPs

Endorse Candidates

Ronald K. Cowden, former Novi resident and now a resident of Livonia, has been endorsed for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees by the Northville Republican Club.

Cowden seeks a two-year term.

Also receiving the club's endorsement are Richard G. Buerk and James Higgins III, who are seeking six year terms.

"Since none of the 10 candidates are well known in the Northville area," the Republican club has made these recommendations after reviewing the backgrounds and qualifications of all of the candidates as a service to the voters," said club president Edward A. Hodge.

"We expect many people will be coming to the polls next Monday to vote for Northville Board of Education candidates who will not have had a chance to evaluate the Schoolcraft Board choices. Cowden, Buerk, and Higgins are all highly qualified and have a solid record of past community service."

Want to Enter 'Fourth' Parade?

Area residents and organizations were invited again this week to enter floats and other parade units in the annual Fourth of July parade planned here by the Northville Jaycees.

There is no entry fee but interested persons are urged to enter immediately by calling Parade Chairman John Buckland at 349-0773.

Theme of the 1973 parade is "American History in Action".

To be held on Wednesday, July 4 beginning at 10 a.m., it will follow the same 1.2 mile parade route starting and finishing at Northville Downs. Main parade routes will be Main, Rogers, and Cady streets.

Twenty-six prizes and trophies are to be awarded in eight parade categories, according to Buckland, with three cash prizes going to the best musical units in the parade.

Biddle Earns GVSC Degree

Seven hundred nine graduates and candidates for graduation, including one from this area, will be honored during the Grand Valley State Colleges' annual commencement Saturday, June 9.

The local student is Larry L. Biddle of 47000 Nine Mile Road, who is a candidate for the bachelor of science degree with sociology and anthropology majors.

Highlighting Saturday's 11 a.m. event in the GVSC Field House will be the remarks of College President Arend D. Lubbers; music by the GVSC Concert Band; and the invocation by Philip der Pilbosian of the colleges' campus ministry.

Summer Programs Still Available

A number of Schoolcraft's summer activity programs are open for persons who missed registration during the fourth week in May.

Beginning diving and competitive diving are still accepting enrollments as are parent and tot (5 and under) swim; folk and square dancing; gymnastics for ages 7-15, and gymnastics apparatus for those over 15.

Registrations are taken in the Registrar's Office on campus, or persons may telephone Mrs. Lottie Malaniak at 591-6400, Ext. 225.

Fees for these community services classes range from $5.50 to $12 for college district residents. Non-residents are charged double fees. The classes will be held during June and July.

Meet Your Northville School Candidates

BETTY S. HANCOCK

Age 45. Born in Missouri. Did undergraduate and graduate work at University of Michigan and Merrill-Palmer Institute, research work in community recreation, pharmacology, physiology, psychology and zoology. Lives with husband, Edward, son, Howard, 14; daughters, Carrie, 13; Teresa, 11; Anna, 11; Elizabeth, 9; and Susan, 3; at 42565 West Eight Mile Road. Member Unitarian - Universalist church, Northville PTA, Northville - Plymouth League of Women Voters and Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Elected March, 1973, to Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Board of Directors; appointed January, 1972, by State of Michigan Department of Education to serve on commission for instructional objectives. Past-president of Main Street PTA and Northville Area PTA Council. Nominee for distinguished service award from Michigan council of PTA's. Past first vice-president of Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters, past chairman of LWV study groups on financing education and local education. Active leader for girl scout troops, 4-H Clubs and Youth Science Club of America. Organizer of community teen centers and community recreation programs. Co-director with teenager and staff member of Youth Crisis centers in Northville and Plymouth. Member Northville schools VIP and DARTE committees.

1. Northville Schools must ensure that its processes and activities are so structured as to provide equal educational opportunity for all its youth. Therefore, to enable the youth of our community to achieve optimum personal growth, to progress in a worthwhile manner in the career of his choice and to render valuable service to society, it must provide adequate educational programs and facilities.

If we expect our schools to fulfill its role in providing these adequate educational programs, we must support the building of adequate school facilities.

In view of the annual growth rate of our Northville schools and to avoid crisis situations in the next five years, these facilities are needed. The only way to obtain them is through the issuing of bonds after you, the voter, have approved levying taxes to pay for such bonds.

I endorse the bond issue in the amount of $10-million for 30 years for the construction of one 500-student capacity elementary school, one 750-student capacity elementary school and one 1,000-student capacity middle school.

2. I feel I am best qualified for the board of education because I have a great interest in the welfare of our children and our schools. My concern for the welfare of our youth and schools has led me to become informed about facts, issues and institutions that are directly related to our youth I am and have been involved for the past 25 years in activities that, directly or indirectly, promote the creation of environments in which our youth can achieve their greatest personal growth.

Therefore, the effective education of our children is a concern close to me — a concern I share with all people who have a vested interest in quality education — particularly parents with school-aged children.

I am willing to assume the responsibilities and devote the time that are required of a board member. I am certain that my education, experiences and concern will all be assets as a member of the Northville Board of Education.

R. DUANE LaMOREAUX

Age 37, born in Highland Park. Employed by B&I Agency - Bonds and Insurance in Detroit. Received BBA degree from University of Michigan in 1958, CPCU in 1965. Lives with wife, Elizabeth; son, Daniel, 11; and daughter Pamela, 8; at 292 Ely Drive North. Member Trinity Episcopal Church of Farmington, Senior Warden with church for 1972-73, Junior Warden 1971-72. Member CPCU of Detroit, Detroit Casualty Underwriters Association, BILDORS Association of Southeastern Michigan.

1. I endorse the bond issue and ask all the voters of Northville to support it. Passage of the bond issue will not increase our taxes. We need the schools regardless of what you might have heard. The stand taken by some board members on unification or any other issue should not affect your vote in support of the education of our children.

2. The education of your children and mine has always been a concern of mine. I have been active in the Amerman PTA and have attended many Northville Board of Education meetings. I will try to do my best to take an even more active interest in the educational program of the district and, at the same time, try to hold down expenses if I am elected to the Northville Board of Education.

PETER R NIEUWKOOP

Age 34. Born in Manton, Michigan. Employed in Corporate Personnel Office of Chrysler Corporation in Highland Park. Lives with wife, Carolyn, son, Jeffery, 10; daughters, Amy, 7; Jenney, 2; at 815 Scott. Resident of Northville since 1951, graduate of Northville High School in 1956, BS degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1960 and MA degree from Eastern Michigan in 1966. Member St. Paul's Lutheran Church and former member of church council and treasurer. Member Chrysler Management Club, Plymouth Elks, St. Paul's Parent Teacher League and Northville Hockey Association board of directors. Seven years with Chrysler Corporation with assignments in compensation, labor relations, employment, placement, management development and appraisal. Part-time faculty member in business department at Schoolcraft Community College for four years. Employment counselor and vocational rehabilitation coordinator with Michigan Employment Security Commission and Michigan Department of Education for one and one-half years. Commissioned officer with US Army for three and one-half years.

1. After considering the combined recommendations of our school administrators, board of education, and study committees, I am convinced, for the following reasons, that the approval of the bond issue is necessary to insure the continued development of a sound educational program, which effectively meets the present and future needs of the community:

(1) We need new school buildings to meet the projected growth in enrollment. Three other alternatives which have been suggested to meet the demands of this growth would be a) increasing the current average class size of 25 pupils per teacher, b) split or half day sessions, c) mandatory "year round school". None of these alternatives in my opinion represent adequate solutions to the problem nor do they reflect the wishes of the people of the school district.

(2) With spiraling building costs coupled with the current need for added facilities it is necessary to build now in order to preclude even greater costs.

(3) The proposed placement of the new facilities lends itself to the continued development of the "neighborhood school concept," which I support.

2. I am interested in the welfare and education of the youth of Northville. They represent our most valuable asset and must be educationally prepared to participate in our changing society.

Secondly, I have the business and educational background needed to make the significant decisions of a school board member.

Finally, it is my judgement that a school board member must approach the required decisions with an open mind. I would devote the time necessary to understand the views of all parties, and make objective decisions which serve the best interests of the total school community.

DON E. WILLIAMS

Age 37, born in Fonda, Iowa. Employed as a real estate salesman in Southfield. Received education at Iowa State University. Lives with wife, Beverly, daughters Gina, 17; Josie, 15; Julie, 14; Jill, 10; and Joan, 9; at 47135 Grasmere. Member First Presbyterian Church and serves as president of its board of trustees, member Northville Rotary, past president Northville Jaycees and former member of Northville City Planning Commission.

Proposition 2—This is for renewal of 7 mills of operating millage, which represents over 25 percent of the budget of the school district. This millage is vital to the continuation of the existing programs and the operation of our schools. I strongly recommend the voters of Novi to pass this millage, which will not incur any additional taxes.

Proposition 3—This is for 2½ additional mills of operating millage. This additional millage is necessary to continue the expansion of the curriculum and the improvement of the facilities now in operation. All living costs have gone up, and an increase of 2½ mills is quite modest when compared to the rising costs of food, clothing, etc.

2. My qualifications for the Board of Education are:

1. A genuine interest in children and their education.

2. An open mind, willing to listen to all sides of an issue.

3. An unrestricted outlook, not bound to any special interest groups.

4. A desire to serve the entire community of Novi.

I have been:

1. On the Board of Directors of V.O.I.C.E. for the last two years.

2. Representative to the School Board from V.O.I.C.E. for the last two years.

3. Member of the Needs Assessment Committee.

4. Member of NOVI Cares Committee.

5. Committee Chairman of

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are responses from seven candidates for the Northville Board of Education to two questions put to them by this newspaper. Donald R. Faulknor, John P. Hobart and Robert M. Mandell are seeking one two-year term; Betty S. Hancock, R. Duane LaMoreaux, Peter Roger Nieuwkoop and Don E. Williams are seeking one four-year term.

The questions asked of the candidates were:

1. On June 11, Northville Public Schools is asking for authority to sell $10-million bonds to construct three new schools. Do you endorse the bond issue? Explain.

2. Why do you feel you are best qualified for the board of education?

1. I support the bond issue. The Northville area is growing at a record pace. This means more school aged children. The projected enrollment for next year is more than the existing school facilities will handle. The school needs are immediate.

Northville has always had the reputation for quality education. That's one reason we have many newcomers in the area.

Whether you now have a child in school or not, every citizen of the school district has an obligation to help maintain the same quality education for future as well as present-day students, as others have for his or her children in the past.

2. I am interested in the Northville area. That is why I served on the Northville City Planning Commission and why I am a member of Rotary.

I am interested in the Northville area young people, that was my reason for serving on the Cavern board of directors and spending some Saturday nights chaperoning our kids at the coffee house. It's why I have taught Sunday School for the past 10 years; the reason I have been active in the Northville PTA as president of Area PTA Council, president of Cooke Junior High PTA, as well as serving on the board of Amerman PTA.

I have been in business management for many years and can make logical business decisions.

I feel one must not only take from his/her community, but also give of their time and talents to help make it a better place to live, work and go to school.

DONALD R. FAULKNOR

Age 42, born in Utica. Insurance agent with Michigan Mutual Liability Company. Attended Wayne State University for three years. Lives with wife, Joyce, five daughters and two sons at 15867 Hickory Ridge. Member Knights of Columbus, Veterans of Foreign Wars and AmVets. Veteran of Korean War, presently with the US Naval Reserve. Six year member of school board in Dearborn Heights.

1. I unequivocally endorse the $10-million bond issue as a necessity and urge all in favor of its passage to do their utmost to get out the vote.

The district expects an increase of 50 percent in attendance over the next five years and, if anything, I feel these figures are conservative.

To those opposed to the bond issue on the basis of additional tax burdens, May I point out this WILL NOT mean an increase of taxes. Present debt retirement will handle the payment of the bond. Also, allow me to remind them that somehow the additional children must be accommodated. With continued increases in building costs, time lost in passage failure would necessitate pursuing a larger amount next year to accomplish the same end.

The district is not selling a bond issue, but rather it is offering us a program of quality education we would be derelict in refusing.

2. For some years I have been an ardent student of school financing and while I am for the bond issue, the necessity of getting "your bucks worth" prevails.

Not one penny of the taxpayers money should be spent without pursuing every avenue to assure the most adequate return in value. The district has an excellent administration with a fine reputation and it needs and deserves a strong knowledgeable board to work with and provide direction.

The various title programs instituted by the federal government should be watched to enable the use of federal funds where possible. Priorities in programs should not only be educationally sound but also reflect the needs and desires of the people of the community. I would take the time to search out and implement these needs and desires.

JOHN P. HOBART

Age 36, born in Kalamazoo. Director of research and development for Adistra Corporation, Plymouth. Received bachelors degree from Alma College in business and speech in 1958. Lives with wife, Janice, daughters Rebecca, 4; and Heather, 2; at 42131 Brampton Court. Member First United Methodist Church of Northville, Citizens Committee for a Unified Northville and served in the US Army.

1. Yes, I support the $10-million bond issue. The projected enrollment will exceed present capacity by the fall of 1974. The proposed new schools will fulfill our needs, K through 8, until the late 1970's.

By utilizing the State School Bond Loan Fund, we are able to build these schools while maintaining the present total tax rate.

As the State has approved this building program and the use of the funds, I feel this indicates that the school board has acted with fiscal responsibility.

I believe that quality education is one of the most important ingredients for a successful and prosperous community and I urge all citizens to support this bond issue.

2. My business background consists of creating and implementing programs in three main areas, all of which can be of benefit to the school board.

Business Communications — Education is to a great extent communication between the teacher and student. Today's technology in communication devices and techniques is changing almost daily. We must be prepared to evaluate the practicability of these developments and what better yardstick than that of the experiences of business.

Marketing — This is the term which is used to define the activities of a business which relate to the selling of their goods or services. In order for any school system to be effective they must keep the community informed as to "what is going on." Only if they can effectively market their service of education can a school system continue to progress and offer top quality education that meets the needs of the total community.

Administration — Management Controls — The school system is in reality a major business with a budget of $3.5 million. Effective administration-management controls that can be applied to private business can also be applied to public institutions. As a father of two preschool age children, businessman and local homeowner for 10 years, I am concerned enough with the future development of this community to work for and represent all of the children in retaining a quality education program.

ROBERT M. MANDELL, D.O.

Age 35, born in Providence, Rhode Island. Orthopedic surgeon in Farmington-Garden City area. Received bachelors degree from Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts; Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. Lives with wife, Joan; daughter, Kim, 8, who attends Amerman Elementary; and son, Mark, 4; at 16548 Winchester Drive. Member Unitarian-Universalist Church of Farmington, medical officer with U. S. Navy 1967-69, member teaching faculty Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine, member advisory Board of Extended School Year Program for Northville Public Schools, Board of Education Citizens Committee 1973, team physician Northville High Football, member local, state and American Osteopathic Association, staff member of orthopedic department of Botsford and Garden City hospitals.

1. There are many approaches in meeting the demands of facility needs for an expanding school district. It is the way that we will solve it that will be the reflection of our community.

I am actively campaigning to generate interest for the bond issue. I find the public concerned about the necessity of meeting and identifying the needs of such a rapidly growing progressive community as ours.

In light of present student growth rates, new housing developments, present facility capacities and ever-rising financial expenditures, the time to act is now.

I see no need for my children to be negatively affected by crisis planning, such as busing our children to other districts with available space, rental of non-school buildings for classrooms, classes on a split session schedule at all levels or increase on present class sizes.

The alternatives make it clear that support of the bond issue is in the best interest of Northville.

2. My reason for running for school board member is that of a concerned parent for my children's education. I have demonstrated this interest by involvement in school district citizen activities.

I am a member of the advisory board for the Northville Experimental Extended School Program. I have participated in the athletic program at Northville High School Football team physician. I am presently serving on the Citizens Committee of the Board of Education whose objective is to serve and assist in bringing about an orderly and "effective" building program to meet the district's needs.

As an instructor with medical students at Michigan State University, I am familiar with many educational experiences and needs.

I feel my above experiences will assist me in meeting the demands of the position as well as seeking practical solutions to the problems facing our school board.

Meet Your Novi School Candidates

JOELD COLLIAU

Born in Detroit, 28-year-old Colliau is married and lives with his wife and their two children at 23680 Maude-Lea Circle. Employed by ACE Controls, Inc. in the Farmington Freeway Industrial Park, he is majoring in industrial management at Wayne State University; member of the board of directors of V.O.I.C.E. for the past two years, committee chairman of Cub Scout Pack 239, Little League manager, member of the Needs Assessment Committee, Novi Cares Committee, representative to the Board of Education from V.O.I.C.E., and representative to the Farmington Freeway Industrial Park Association from ACE Controls.

1. Proposition 1—The bonding proposal, if passed, will allow the schools of Novi to be expanded just in the nick of time. I had the pleasure of serving on the Needs Assessment Committee and on the Population and Growth Sub-Committee. The projected growth (doubling the number of students in less than five years) could be conservative. Two new elementary schools, an addition to Village Oaks, and a new high school, are not more than we need. The voters of Novi can insure an orderly, planned growth of their school districts by passing the bonding proposal.

Proposition 2—This is for renewal of 7 mills of operating millage, which represents over 25 percent of the budget of the school district. This millage is vital to the continuation of the existing programs and the operation of our schools. I strongly recommend the voters of Novi to pass this millage, which will not incur any additional taxes.

Proposition 3—This is for 2½ additional mills of operating millage. This additional millage is necessary to continue the expansion of the curriculum and the improvement of the facilities now in operation. All living costs have gone up, and an increase of 2½ mills is quite modest when compared to the rising costs of food, clothing, etc.

2. My qualifications for the Board of Education are:

1. A genuine interest in children and their education.

2. An open mind, willing to listen to all sides of an issue.

3. An unrestricted outlook, not bound to any special interest groups.

4. A desire to serve the entire community of Novi.

I have been:

1. On the Board of Directors of V.O.I.C.E. for the last two years.

2. Representative to the School Board from V.O.I.C.E. for the last two years.

3. Member of the Needs Assessment Committee.

4. Member of NOVI Cares Committee.

5. Committee Chairman of

Cub Scout Pack 239.

6. Little League manager for the last 3 years. I believe I will be a constructive, contributing member of the Board of Education if I am elected.

SHARON L. PELCHAT

Born June 14, 1935 in Detroit, she and her husband and their five children live at 41910 Aspen Drive; she has taken liberal arts courses at Oakland Community College; as former member of the board of education she served as its representative in Pontiac in studying the busing issue; member Novi United Methodist Church, Novi Rebekah Lodge 482, Novi Athletic Boosters, and Orchard Hills Booster Club.

1. On the renewal

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each of the six candidates for the Novi Board of Education was asked to submit biographical material and their answers to these two questions:

1. On June 11 voters of the school district will decide a number of millage-bond issues. What is your position on each of the ballot propositions? Explain.

2. Why do you feel you are best qualified for the Board of Education?

Joel Colliau, Mrs. Sharon Pelchat and Robert Wilkins are seeking the single four-year term, and Dr. Richard Henderson, Norman Miller, and Thomas Szeles are seeking the single two-year term.

proposition I feel we as voters of this school district must renew this millage. We need this millage renewal to maintain and staff the facilities we now have.

Additional operation millage proposition: I do not feel good as a taxpayer of Novi about this additional millage. But as the parent of five children I realize the necessity of the passage of this millage proposition. There are areas in our school district that need improving, and with this increase we will be able to do it.

Bonding proposition: The Needs Assessment Committee researched the growth pattern of our community and the conclusion reached was the need for this bonding proposition. These people worked long and hard with population experts and university people. The decisions and opinions reached by this group and their recommendations to the board seem highly plausible to me. Novi is still a growing community and this bonding proposition is needed for new buildings and site acquisition.

2. I feel I am well qualified for the position of school board member. Being a parent of five children ranging in age from elementary school through high school and as previous board member, I feel I know where the strengths and weaknesses of our school district lie.

I am interested in a quality education for every child in Novi. My first thought on any action or decision I might make as a board member would be, "How will this decision benefit our children?"

I would like to see students, upon completing their education in the Novi School district, being able to meet any social or educational challenge.

ROBERT W. WILKINS

An incumbent member of the board who was elected in 1969, 42-year-old Wilkins is president of Westronics, Inc. located in Farmington Industrial Park; holds a BS degree from Pennsylvania State University; served two years on Novi Planning Board, past president of Novi Little League, former scoutmaster and troop committeeman of Novi Troop 54, former director of Willowbrook Association, member Novi United Methodist Church, married, has four children, lives at 23803 Ripple Creek.

1. I believe all three issues facing the voters of the Novi School District must be passed at this election if we are to continue our progress in attaining a first class educational program for our children.

The first proposal calling for renewal of an existing 7 mill levy is indispensable to the health and operation of our district. It comprises slightly over 25 percent of our current operating income. Without its continuation it is highly unlikely that our district could continue its present program. Just like any family the district could not take a loss of 25 percent of its income and maintain its present operation—drastic cuts would be a necessity.

The second proposal is designed to provide the income to increase some of our programs, including the exciting Community Education program as well as providing monies for ten new teachers who will be necessary to handle our anticipated increase in enrollment of two to three hundred new students. Without this 2½ mill increase serious crowding will occur in classroom size plus some programs which the community has asked for will be severely curtailed.

The third proposal calling for a 13½ million dollar bond issue will decide to a large extent whether the educational facilities of the district will be adequate to provide our children with the tools necessary for their learning process.

Make no mistake, this money will not be used to build a monument or Taj Mahal, but too long we have scrimped on buildings, equipment, and the other tools which with an imaginative and dedicated teaching staff can produce the climate for a truly fulfilling educational process for our children. We must start our extended building program now, not in two or three years or we will constantly be reacting to panic, overcrowding, understaffing of our facilities. We must now acquire sites for our buildings before land prices are out of reach. Now is the time, as a result of the recent Citizen's Needs - Assessment Study, to start an orderly, thoughtful, planned building program.

2. My qualifications are no more or no less than the other candidates. My past four years on the board have given me some degree of experience and background but most importantly I feel that being a concerned parent and citizen of Novi, striving to provide the best educational program and climate for my children and the other children of the district is the measure of my

Michigan Representative

The Department of State Police, Military Affairs budget bill turned out to be unexpectedly controversial this year when the addition of two new programs to be included for funding were viewed as setting a questionable precedent.

The two programs which eventually received House approval and cleared the way for passage of the bill added $700,000 to the $53 million figure approved by the House Appropriations Committee for a central dispatch unit in Genesee County and Law Enforcement Information Network outlets.

The committee had refused to appropriate funds for the dispatch unit because they set a precedent by funding the data dispatch center employees for local units of government. Genesee County representatives argued for the additional money on the grounds that the facility had already been constructed on the assumption employees would be supplied by State Police. I voted against the additional spending on the grounds that it was to help one local area only, but it passed anyway.

Committee members had also shied away from approving payments to local units for the Law Enforcement Information Network or LEIN program because they feared another precedent in taking over local programs that have run out of federal funding. I voted for the measure because it would help all areas of the state and because this computerized instantaneous information system has made possible the apprehension of many wanted persons and the recovery of much stolen property. The amendment passed by a vote of 73 to 28.

I also voted for a third amendment which would have provided money for the training of police officers which to my mind is vital to improved law enforcement. The amendment would have helped local communities by replacing federal funds being phased out. I was very disappointed to see the proposal lose on a vote of 44 in favor to 57 opposed.

Similarly, an amendment I supported which would have given the state police additional funds to fight drug traffic went down to defeat, 45 to 51.

After debate on the amendments was completed, the bill passed and was sent over to the Senate for its consideration.

Questionnaire Responses - How You Voted
If expenditures are to be increased, what areas should be given additional funds?

41.6 percent - Law enforcement; 33.4 percent - Public schools; 29.6 percent - Programs for handicapped; 26.9 percent - Environmental protection and pollution control; 19.8 - Veterans benefits; 18.5 percent - Community mental health services; 17.6 percent - Public health services; 12.9 percent - Highway construction and road improvement; 7.3 - Colleges and universities; 2.9 percent - Welfare; and 2.7 percent - Other.

qualifications to be a member of the Novi School Board. The next four years are going to be the formative years for our district. I believe I can be a constructive influence in providing the foundations of the finest educational climate for the development of our children's minds that is possible with the money, facilities and staff at our disposal.

NORMAN S. MILLER

A graduate of Cass Tech in Detroit who attended Wayne State University for two years, 38-year-old Miller is the Detroit branch sales manager for Honeywell, Inc.; married, he and his wife and their three children live at 22655 Heatherbrae Way, member Ward United Presbyterian Church, Novi Athletic Boosters, past memberships in Boy Scouts as committee chairman and scoutmaster and in Construction Specifications Institute.

1. As a father of three teenagers I have had the experience of sharing educational growth from kindergarten to graduation. They have attended schools in six school districts and have enjoyed adequate schools, good schools and unfortunately poor schools. They have lived through half-day sessions and overcrowded classrooms, both of which are unfair to a child's education. Our exposure to extremes has given me empathy for parents, teachers and children...but mostly for children who suffer directly when schools are inadequate. The projected student enrollment—5228 from 2148 by 1977—answers the question of millage yes? or millage no? The children deserve a yes vote and I support the children and their future.

2. Experience as a veteran parent and businessman best qualifies me for the board of education. Schools must be designed, contracted and built to give the children the most for the taxpayer's dollar in initial construction cost. Schools must be designed to optimize plant operating costs by utilizing sound technology in the areas of energy conservation, maintenance and equipment longevity.

I offer 20 years experience in the construction industry and know-how gained in applications—engineering, sales engineering and construction management. My specialty is the commercial and industrial fields including schools, colleges, hospitals, office buildings and factories. Ten years of business management has included daily contact with school boards, hospital administrators, architects, building managers, consulting engineers and contracting firms. As a member of the board I can help make sound financial decisions.

DR. RICHARD M.
HENDERSON

Director of the dental division of Oakland County Health Department, Dr. Henderson, 49, lives at 40655 West 10 Mile Road; married and father of six children; combat veteran with Air Force during World War II; attended University of Detroit, received D.D.S. degree, has M.P.H. in School of Public Health at the University of Michigan, did part-time residency in oral surgery at Detroit Receiving Hospital and attended various short courses at U-M and the University of North Carolina; has Michigan dental license and is member of numerous professional organizations and serves on several state, county and regional committees related to dental care and health services.

1. The first proposition, i.e., renewal of the seven mill operational levy for a five year period seems almost mandatory if we are to maintain our current educational activities at the same level of quality.

The additional two and one-half mill increase for school operation, (second proposal) has been recommended by the Novi Needs Assessment Committee. This committee has apparently responded well to its charge; I am ready to accept its recommendations and encourage a "yes" vote.

The request for a bonding authority for $13,500,000 for the suggested new facilities in the Novi School District are again based upon the Needs Assessment Committee and the projected population increase for the community. I again would accept these recommendations and support a "yes" vote for this proposition.

As a final remark, however, I have not seen the projections of the increased income that should be realized by the projected population increase—and how it relates to the millage propositions.

I do not have all the answers nor am I completely familiar with all the problems of the Novi School District—but I would welcome the opportunity to apply what administrative skills I might have in an attempt to find a solution for each of the problems.

2. Educational background in areas of health (D.D.S., M.P.H.) has sensitized me to the health educational needs of children at various grade levels in the district. Health education today is an integral part in any school curriculum.

Administrative education and experience has prepared me for such activities as planning and evaluation where a careful selection of objectives with its accompanying set of activities are necessary to obtain the ultimate goals of an organization. I have learned that programs must be evaluated as to appropriateness and adequacy as well as its effectiveness and efficiency.

1. If the slogan, "Novi Cares," has any validity at all, you will join me in casting a "YES" vote on all three proposals on June 11th.

The necessity for passage of Proposition 1, a 7-mill renewal, is obvious. Its purpose is merely to maintain the status quo. No tax increase is involved. Defeat of this proposal would be disastrous; passage is essential. However, passage of this proposal alone is grossly insufficient for the educational needs of our school district.

Proposition 2 calls for a 2.5-mill increase in school taxes. The projected additional school enrollment warrants added revenue. Common sense dictates that the more people we educate the more money it costs. In light of this population growth, our schools must have more funds to operate and improve existing programs.

We, as a community, cannot be satisfied to stop with the passage of these two propositions alone. Passage of Proposition 3, the bond issue, will guarantee the building of adequate facilities to house those young people to whom we all want to give the highest quality public education available. Anything less would be inconsistent with our already established commitments to Novi, to schools, and to kids.

The future of our children's education depends on a favorable vote for all three propositions. I believe Novi does care. Let's prove it on June 11th.

2. Over the past 14 years, I have viewed education from the inside from a number of distinct perspectives. My career experiences include (1) teaching at the later elementary, junior high, senior high, formal adult education, and enrichment levels; (2) counseling at the junior high, senior high, and adult levels; (3) supervision of adult education; and, (4) organizing and administering special education projects. I cherish each level of my involvement as valuable to those thousands I have influenced as well as to myself personally.

My academic qualifications include a B.S. in Education and an M.A. in Guidance and Counseling. In addition, I have completed graduate work at U. of M., E.M.U., U. of D., and the Merrill-Palmer Institute. I hold permanent Michigan secondary teaching and counseling certification.

My entire adult life has been dedicated to education. Through the many and varied experiences I have had, I have learned the importance of—indeed, the necessity for—the highest quality of education. I can be satisfied with nothing short of this goal for my own children or any of the children of Novi.

I sincerely feel that my professional preparation coupled with my unique first-hand experiences in the field of education makes me the most qualified candidate for the two-year seat on the Novi Community Board of Education.

Caboose Arrives

The Hartland Historical Society's caboose (top, left) rounds the corner onto Avon Street on the way to its new resting place. That's the old Hartland Town Hall on the right. Waiting for the caboose was Mrs. Floyd Wilson, who later christened it with a traditional bottle of champagne.

TURTLE BEACH TOWERS

The latest activity in Hartland, little more than a whistle stop on U.S. 23 expressway between Brighton and Flint, began as so many community projects begin—with a mere suggestion, about a year ago.

Last week, however, the growing but still very rural Hartland community had more than a suggestion. Smack dab in the village was a caboose, slightly worse for wear through years of neglect but slated for total restoration and use by the Hartland Historical Society.

Monday a white elephant sale will be held in front of the caboose and across Avon Street in the Hartland Town Hall a bake sale will be held.

Proceeds from both these fund-raising ventures will go for restoration of the caboose. Society members and friends also will be painting the new caboose on Monday, making it ready as an historical artifact and place for display of Historical Society items.

The whole venture, which in every sense has taken on community proportions, began with a suggestion a year ago at the annual Memorial Day Celebration in Hartland.

"Tom Sharpe came to town for the Memorial Day Celebration," Mrs. Floyd Wilson recalled. "I told him it would be nice to have a caboose. He said he'd get one."

Having made the suggestion half in jest, Mrs. Wilson, an avid board member of the Hartland Historical Society, forgot about it. The society was formed around two years ago to save the old Town Hall from destruction, which, incidentally, has been accomplished.

About two months ago, however, the wish for a caboose became a reality when State Representative Sharpe reported he had indeed located a caboose. It would be arriving in Howell soon, he said, and then would have to be transported to Hartland.

The vintage caboose at one time was the property of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, which is now defunct. The railroad reportedly was once the property of Henry Ford.

"It was built in 1921," Mrs. Wilson said of the caboose, "and it had come on hard times waiting in a Detroit railroad yard for someone to come and get it."

Getting the caboose, although the cornerstone to the project, was not the only work to be done. Preparations for placement in Hartland had to be made.

The Franklin brothers, who own and restored the Crouse Hardware on Avon Street, entered into a lease arrangement with the society providing vacant property next to the Hardware as a site for the caboose. It is ideal, since the property is located across from the Town Hall, which is used by the Historical Society as a meeting place and museum.

The location established, the next order of business was procurement of railroad tracks and ties which would hold the old caboose.

"We went over and dug them up," Mrs. Wilson said. "I won't tell you where. It's a place about 11 miles away. But a retired railroad man helped us get them."

Then Larry Westphal, a Hartland native, donated use of his stake-bed truck for transportation of the track and ties. And David Briston and Kenneth Zick agreed to go along with Westphal to help him load up.

Supervising the loading, which Mrs. Wilson noted was no easy chore, was Marion Whitmore, a retired railroad supervisor from Owosso.

"He told them how to handle it, how to get the track and such on the truck," Mrs. Wilson said.

"They couldn't go on main-travelled roads," Mrs. Wilson continued, "because the rails were so monstrous. They are 50 feet long and weigh 985 pounds apiece. The ties weighed 280 pounds each."

The four men, Westphal, Zick, Briston and Whitmore, made the trip and then proceeded to unload the ties and tracks and to reconstruct them on the hardware property so that the caboose would have a bed to rest upon.

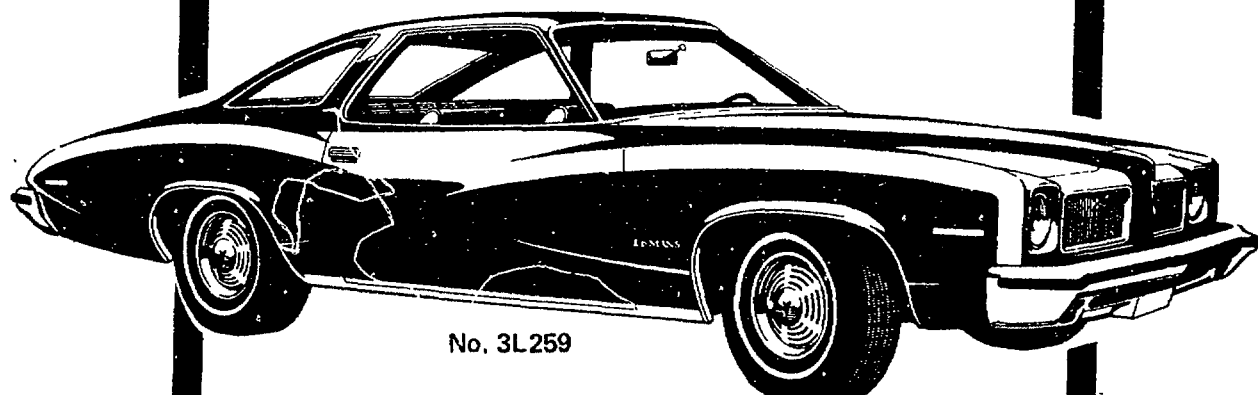

Another mammoth job was moving the caboose itself from the railroad siding in Howell to the Hartland site. It was accomplished last week Tuesday, thanks in part to Horace Taylor of Brighton and the Copeland brothers of Fowlerville.

They provided two flat-bed trucks and a huge crane. One truck transported the caboose body, while the other carried the train undercarriage, including the wheels.

Presto! Ugly Slabs Beautified

EAST LANSING—"There I was—an ugly, run-down sidewalk, just a dull, uninteresting slab of concrete—until one day my owner hit me with a magic wand—plang—and made me beautiful."

You may not have a magic wand, but you can make the paved areas around your home vital and attractive parts of your landscape, according to Michigan State University landscape specialists.

These experts tell us that there are several things to consider in landscape paving.

One of these is color. Does it blend in with or accent the other colors in your present landscape? Or does it stick out like a sore thumb?

Texture is another important factor. Rough textures reduce glare and provide safer footing, but smooth surfaces are better for games or dancing.

Take a look at the different types of materials that are available. Ask yourself, what would each type cost? Is it readily available? Can I install it myself? Is it durable? What kind of maintenance will it require? Weigh the advantages and disadvantages of each type, and then you'll be able to decide what's right for you. Here are the basic choices:

ASPHALT—is durable, fairly inexpensive and may be painted or colored. But it's hot in the summer and may become soft. It needs a stable base like sand, old concrete or gravel to prevent heaving in winter.

BRICK—gives good footing, is available in several warm colors and is one of the easiest paving materials to install. It has the disadvantage of being hard to clean, and weeds or grass often grow between the joints. Some bricks tend to soak up water and often crumble after freezing. Check out this quality early.

CONCRETE—may be given either a smooth or rough finish and is relatively low cost. It has a rather hard, "commercial" look, and is often hot in the summer. A pleasing effect can be achieved by allowing pebbles to become exposed on the surface.

FLAGSTONE—is a high-quality, very durable material that is available in several colors, but its high cost limits its use. Broken concrete may be used as a substitute if it is readily available.

AGGREGATES—low-cost gravel, crushed rock or limestone chips can give a pleasingly textured natural look to your landscape, but it's hard to walk on and weeds often cause problems. Try wood chips or garden bark as a substitute.

TILE—is becoming more popular as an outdoor paving material. It gives a rather formal look and is easy to clean. Its main drawback is its rather high cost, and it usually needs to be set in concrete for stability.

WOOD—is desirable as a temporary pavement treatment. Since native woods need pressure, they are subject to decay, insect infestation and weathering. Redwood from the west has a nice texture, and can last for many years.

Give your imagination a free rein—and the paved areas around your home can become beautiful as well as functional.

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

PLANTINGS FOR SHADE

There are two aspects to shade in the garden—plantings to provide shade and the plantings to beautify shaded areas. We must not neglect the first phase in planning especially for the hot summer months. Now that protective plastic materials are on the market, it is possible to transplant trees in the extreme heat for pleasure and relief.

When selecting subjects for shade, by all means consider quick-growing sorts such as species of maple and willow. Those with spreading branches and abundant foliage are also desirable, for example, types of beech and plane trees.

In locating shade trees, be sure that they do not shut out needed sunlight. In the case of a lawn area, it may be necessary to sow a grass seed mixture that will tolerate shade around the base of a large tree.

If you long for shade and seclusion, you may elect to construct an arbor with plant materials, such as vines. Ingenious do-it-yourself advocates can even form a small grove by grouping pines and other tall evergreens. The main consideration is to see to it that any planting device is part of a harmonious plan for enjoyment of home and property.

The second problem is the garden area where very little sunlight penetrates each day. There are a number of very good selections in the plant world that do not require full sun. This is true despite the fact that most plant life definitely responds to the benefits of the sun's rays.

The list of annuals for shady locations is quite impressive, including short and tall varieties. Calliopsis in several colors, the pungent nicotiana,

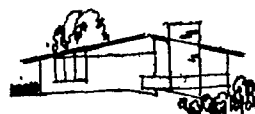

Hoeing Is Best

The three general methods for controlling weeds are: hand hoeing, mechanical cultivation and herbicide programs. Hand hoeing is usually the most practical method for backyard strawberry growers.

Choose Color, Not Only Plants

"The designer's job is to coordinate color. The gardener puts roots on it. Unfortunately, most home gardeners tend to look at the plant, not the color," laments Michigan State University horticulturist Roy Mecklenburg.

Be aware of color value and warmth when deciding which containerized plants to use in your house or yard, he advised.

Color value is physical. White and yellow are more visible than blue or dark red; the difference is value. Choose high-value flowers for doorways and other areas you want to show up well at night. Color warmth is emotional. Yellow and orange seem warmer and more stimulating than blue or green.

Choose high-intensity, warm colors such as red, orange, yellow and pink for active areas: near the picnic table on the patio, in the kitchen and recreation room.

For serene, restful areas use blues, lavenders and whites. Green and yellow are suitable background or blending colors. White can also be used to tone down high-intensity colors.

Another advantage of containerized plants is mobility, Mecklenburg points out. Fill the windowbox with potted yellow and orange flowers—for warmth—in spring months. Switch to pots of cool blues and lavenders in July and August.

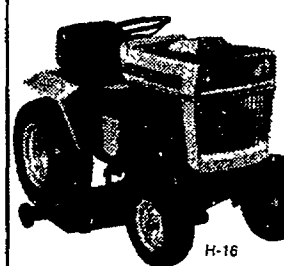

Don't overlook cacti and plants with variegated leaves for color, Mecklenburg adds.

And don't be afraid to use a lot of color. Brighten the patio with a large pot filled with marigolds. Or place a permanent planter box on the porch and plant lots of ivy and red, white and blue petunias.

A Livonia resident, Werner started with Manufacturers Bank in 1946 after serving three years in the United States Marine Corps.

Gaining extensive experience in all aspects of branch banking, he was named branch officer in 1958, second vice-president in 1964 and vice-president in 1966.

He holds graduate certificates from the University of Michigan Schools of Banking. A member of the Schoolcraft Foundation Board of Governors, Werner also is a member of the American Institute of Banking.

He lives on Country Club Drive with his wife, Evelyn.

G. W. ALLEN of Northville, has been named vice-president-engineering for the Kolene Corporation of Detroit.

Announcement of this and other promotions was made by the president and newly named chief executive officer of Kolene, R. H. Shoemaker.

In announcing his appointment, Shoemaker said Allen would retain his former position as chief engineer.

Shoemaker said, "Revised structure among our top executives forms a broader base to maximize the rapid growth of our company is experiencing."

"Added responsibility and authority gives each member of the management team an extra dimension of freedom and flexibility to better serve our customers. These moves will enable Kolene Corporation to extend its position as the world's leading producer of metal treating salts and salt bath equipment."

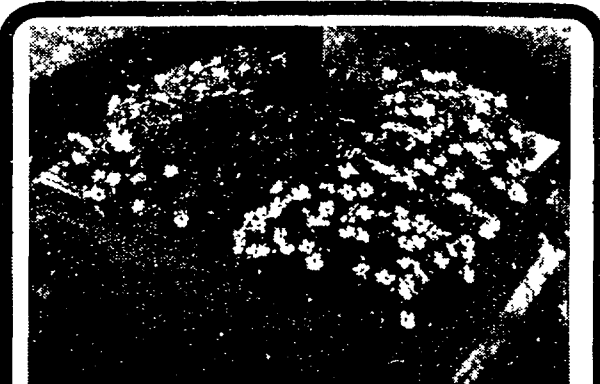

Allen resides with his wife, Henrietta, and their two children at 19530 Clement Road.

High Adventure Found in Porkies

Editor's note: Porcupine Mountains is the first of Michigan State Parks to be featured in a series of articles and cartoon drawings. The selections were made with the cooperation of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The rugged, beautiful Porcupine Mountains in the far reaches of the western Upper Peninsula is the setting for one of Michigan's most scenic and popular state parks, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. Despite their remoteness from larger Lower Peninsula cities, 300,163 persons visited the Porkies last year, second highest attendance among the Upper Peninsula's state parks.

For sheer beauty, few parks can surpass the Porkies, located 20 miles west of Ontonagon at the terminus of M-107. Within the park's boundaries are lakes, rivers and streams for those in search of such niceties as perch or brook and rainbow trout. Hunters will find deer, grouse and bear hunting during the season.

For the visitor, the big attraction is the magnificent view of the Lake of the Clouds from the escarpment. The Carp River, a silver thread, flows through the green valley far below.

A short walk from a parking area will take the visitor to the escarpment for the look at Michigan's highest inland lake. The view is acclaimed as one of Michigan's most scenic spots. Several trails begin here. Some lead to old rock dumps, aged machinery and other evidence of past mining and logging days.

While the Porcupine Mountains, highest land mass between Adirondacks and the Black Hills, were explored thoroughly by miners and lumbermen, these early prospectors failed to establish settlements on the lonely slopes.

A drive on South Boundary Road, which extends east and west along the park's southern boundary before going north to join M-107, goes past stands of high virgin hardwood and hemlock and primeval wilderness. The road was built in the early 1960's, despite some opposition.

The main campground lies in a circular pattern with one road practically hugging the Lake Superior shoreline. The main pattern ringing the lodge, or service center, forms what resembles a modern Indian village.

The campground itself is a comparative dot in the park's 58,327 acres. There are 131 campsites, 95 with electricity and modern facilities including toilets.

Lake of the Clouds, Mirror Lake, Lily Pond and Little Carp River all have overnight cabins which are fully furnished for visitors (except for food and bedding) and can be rented for a small fee by making reservations with the ranger in charge. They are large enough to hold four to eight persons comfortably.

The hiking trails are well-marked and vary in length from three-eighths of a mile to eight miles. Not all the trails are safe for small children, for they can change suddenly from a quiet walk in the forest to a breathtaking skim along a cliff's edge.

The shoreline of Lake Superior offers miles and miles of pleasant walking for any age. The beach is sometimes rocky, sometimes sandy, and along the shore or at the water's edge are stones too beautiful to pass by.

Also fun to explore are the old copper mine workings found all through the park which are accessible by auto plus some minor footwork.

July and August are the months when the park is at its best for scenery, with October also popular for autumn foliage colors.

'Pick Hot Dogs With Care'-Geake

State Representative R. Robert Geake urged consumers to carefully read the contents label when buying hot dogs and other meat products to ensure that they are obtaining the all-meat products they have been accustomed to in Michigan.

"It appears that Michigan has lost its court battle to retain the right to set higher standards for its meat products than those set by the federal government," Geake said. "There is still a chance that legislation will be passed in Congress which would allow us to retain that right but the prospects of its passage are not at all certain."

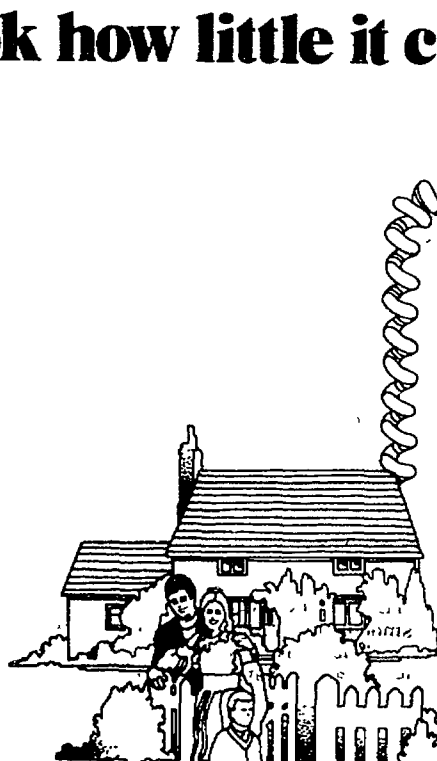

"Meanwhile, it will now be up to the Michigan consumer to decide what quality he will look for in his hot dogs, sausages, etc., at least when he purchases them in the grocery store. He will of course have no way of knowing what he is receiving in a restaurant."

"The contents of the meat products in question will be on the label at the store and the best way of showing that you support the state's right to set its own higher standards is to simply not purchase products which contain by-products such as lips and spleens and do not meet Michigan's own higher standards.

"I would also recommend that every concerned consumer make their feelings known by writing their Congressman in care of the House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515."

Look how little it costs to put yourself in their place.

from the Pastor's Study

Avenue to Happiness

The Reverend Doug Tackett
Pastor,
Brighton Church of Christ

Have you ever wondered why so many people seem to be caught in the endless tide of conflict, distress and unhappiness? DO YOU also experience an emptiness of heart and a lack of meaning in life? Actually, you are not alone if you have not found the true joy of living. Very, very few have found the real answer or cure to a life of happiness. The reason for this is almost everyone has sought for a cure in the wrong places.

Some of the avenues that man has taken to find happiness are materialism, education, sex, philosophy and social reform. But these have failed. And one would not wonder why when we realize that these are all ways that man has devised for himself. The prophet Jeremiah said, "O Lord I know that the way of man is not in himself: It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." (Jer. 10:23) Man has continued to strive for happiness in these avenues for centuries.

And yet the broad stream of mankind has continued on its downward plunge to destruction. Probably most of you readers are also engulfed in dissatisfaction and unhappiness. But why is this so? Friend let me tell you this vital and important fact.

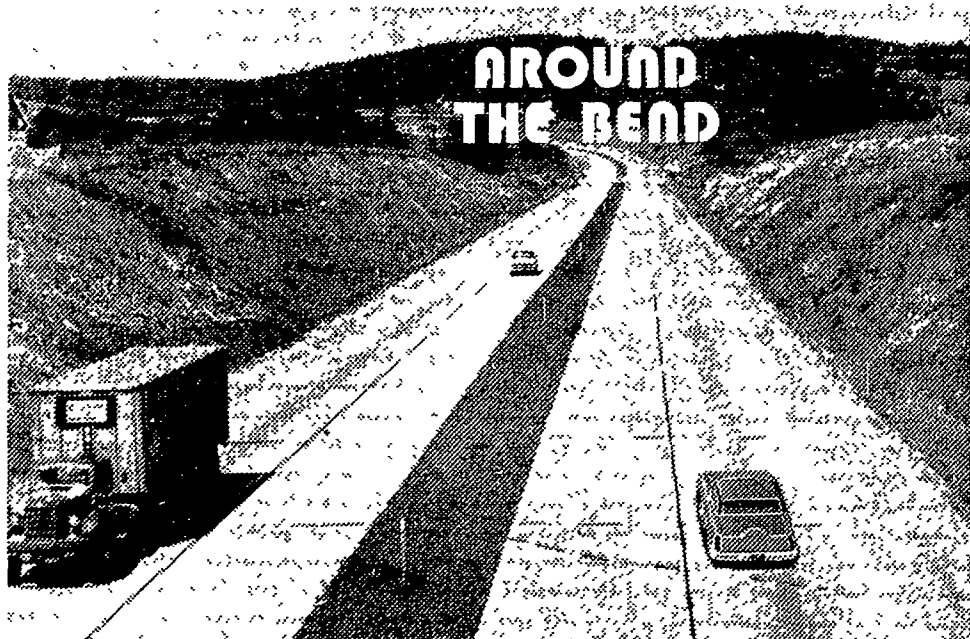

LIFE IS RUINED BY SIN AND SEPARATION FROM CHRIST. Let me explain. When God created man, he was given freedom of will and choice. God made him holy and sinless in his own image, but he chose to disobey God and sinned. Since God is pure and Holy, sin cannot be in his presence. For this reason, man lost the fellowship that he had with God in the beginning (Read Gen. 2, 3). Man separated from his Creator and God, is naturally unhappy and cannot find real happiness and contentment in life. Man is incomplete without God.

The scripture says "your iniquities have separated between you and your God" (Isaiah 59:2). Sin breaks the fellowship between man and God. This is called death. When man sins he spiritually dies and is in bondage to sin (John 8:34). Therefore, man is "dead in trespasses and sins," since "the wages of sin is death." (Romans 6:23)

WHAT CAN I DO TO BE RECONCILED TO GOD? God knows the condition of man's soul and likewise he is aware of the frustration that each of us feel in life. That is why he sent Jesus (Heb. 4:15). Jesus understands our problems because he "has been down this same road." Only someone who has been here could understand our problems. Thus Jesus says, "Ye that labour and are heavy laden come unto me and I will give you rest (Matt. 11:28). Also read John 14:6.

But Jesus cannot save you while you yet love Sin since Sin separates you from God. That sin must be removed, but how is this possible? Is not sin a characteristic of man? No, as we noticed early man was created without sin thus it is not a part of his nature. Heart transplants are becoming less popular today because of the fact that they have been unsuccessful due to the fact that the body rejects that which is not its own. Likewise the Spiritual body cannot function properly until the sin has been removed, and that by the blood of Christ.

God's Son, the eternal Word, was made flesh and was born of a virgin named Mary. Jesus went about doing good, performing countless miracles and preaching the gospel. Then Christ was nailed to a cross and died, not for his own sin, but ours! On the third day he arose victoriously from the dead by the power of God. He was given all authority and went to heaven where he now pleads for men on the basis of his own shed blood. Yes, the LIVING SAVIOR desires to save YOU from your sins and give you a life of abundant joy.

The new superhighway is a masterpiece of engineering skill, yet you still can't see around the curve in the distance. Whatever lies beyond the bend is as much a mystery as it was when this was a single-lane road.

Today we are living in the space age and are exposed to fresh miracles with almost every passing hour. But we still can't "see around the bend" of life. We are as human as we ever were and have no way of knowing what is coming next.

Since the beginning of time, man has lived with this mystery. What keeps him going? For many, it is the knowledge that the answer to our fate lies in far more capable hands than ours. This is God's universe, after all, His creation, and we are His creatures.

True, you can't see around the bend. But you can equip yourself for life's journey by taking a single, all-important step. This step is toward the church of your choice.

Planning to Retire?

Here's Some Suggestions

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—The following remarks are addressed to the individual who is on the threshold of retirement but not adequately prepared for it. Upon retirement one is naturally confronted with many changes which are destined to alter seriously a heretofore normal daily routine.

These alterations can represent burdensome challenges to those who have neglected to plan carefully for the day when withdrawal from active business or professional life becomes a reality.

The major financial requirement for comfortable retirement is, of course, a dependable income, substantial enough to maintain a living standard consistent with that to which one is accustomed. As regards the source, retirement income can be divided into two types: (1) Non-portfolio revenues, and (2) funds derived from interest and/or dividends, i.e., portfolio income.

SUCH THINGS as pensions, social security, annuity allotments, and rental income would fall under the first (non-portfolio) classification. Essentially it is that income which will be in some fixed, predetermined form, to be received in periodic installments.

Accurately figuring the extent of this type of income will considerably ease the complexities of drawing up a workable retirement budget. Several other possibilities could perhaps be exploited in an effort to buttress your income structure.

For example, apartment living might conceivably enable you to rent your home at an attractive rate, or the purchase of a duplex home could serve the same purpose. If you are the owner of industrial-commercial property, machinery, or equipment, investigate the possibility of renting or leasing such holdings, thereby putting idle assets to work advantageously.

As for the investment portfolio, preservation of capital must be a primary objective, followed closely by as good a yield as can safely be obtained.

WE VIEW the safety factor as especially important because the retired individual in most cases has no way to recover security losses should they occur by investing additional funds due to the absence of salary or wages. The retiree should certainly avoid risky, speculative situations. Thus, adoption of the safety-income objective at the outset of retirement is essential.

With these ideas in mind, we recommend that approximately half of one's portfolio be invested so as to provide an assured income. Savings deposits and high-quality corporate bonds and preferreds would be appropriate income producers.

Examples include May Department Stores Credit 8 7-8s 1976, Texaco S F Deb. 5 3-4s 1997, General Foods S F Deb. 8 7-8s 1990, and Pacific Gas & Electric 6 per cent Cum 1st Pfd. One could also include some convertible preferreds such as Woolworth $2.20 Cv. Pfd. or Foremost McKesson $1.80 Cv. Pfd. These convertibles offer both attractive yields and capital gain opportunities.

DESPITE THE higher yield on most bonds and preferreds as compared with common stocks, strong equities should continue to provide a defense against the continuing inflationary trend.

Accordingly, a reasonable amount in common stocks seems justified. But the common stocks selected for purchase should be beyond reproach in terms of quality. We have in mind such issues as Chemical New York, American Electric Power, General Motors, CPC International, and Southern Pacific.

Common stock yields have improved considerably this year, largely because of price declines. Even so, if stock losses continue, thereby further hiking yields, then consideration could be given to switching some funds from fixed-income assets to additional common stocks.

Essentially, we recommend a strategy of "revolving flexibility," which constantly seeks good income returns.

Hartland was asked how he liked "our" caboose. Macon, a retired railroad man, replied, "It's not yours, it's mine. I worked on it for four years."

And in truth, he was right. Macon is a retired railroad man who lived in the caboose for four years when he was on the job.

Macon, in fact, is going to help the Hartland Historical Society faithfully restore "Old 96". The caboose interior suffered vandalism while waiting in the Detroit railroad yard. But, Mrs. Wilson adds, with everyone pitching in it won't be long before Hartland's latest historical addition is open to the public.

Freeway Snagway Continuing

Motorists should avoid a 21-mile section of I-75 between US-23 and Birch Run Monday to Friday through late November because of a massive construction project which already has caused major traffic problems in the Flint area, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The project—which involves widening the freeway from two to three lanes in both directions—is part of a larger construction program designed to make I-75 three lanes from the Ohio line to just north of Bay City.

Completion of the entire project, including building a new bridge to carry the freeway over the Saginaw River near Zilwaukee, is set for 1978. The Flint area widening project will be finished late this November.

"Recent freeway construction at Flint has caused up to one-hour weekday delays for motorists traveling through the area via I-75," states Joseph L. Ratke, Auto Club touring manager. "With the paving portion of the project set for mid-June, similar tie-ups can be expected."

To aid motorists in getting around the Flint construction zone, which will have at least one lane closed during working hours, Auto Club recommends three alternate routes that are longer, but free of highway work.

"Travelers should consider using the alternate routes weekdays only since construction is suspended during the 2 to 6 p.m. weekday rush hour and throughout the weekend," Ratke says.

"Besides the 2 to 6 p.m. rush hour, all freeway lanes will be open noon Friday until Monday morning for northbound traffic and 2 p.m. Friday to noon Monday for southbound travel," Ratke explains.

NORTHVILLE—The shade from these tall, hardwood trees (nearly 100 ft. high) will be a welcome relief from city heat this summer - and most picturesque in autumn. Here is a luxury ranch in a superb location - 1/2 mile out. It features a 24 ft. living room, a 21 ft.
family room, 2 fireplaces and 3 generous size bedrooms - even city water! $54,900

PLYMOUTH—And here's another in Plymouth - with tall hickory and oak trees - one-third acre. 3/4 of a mile out. Flawless condition, 3 bedrooms, dining room, dinette, family room, fireplace. $44,900.

PLYMOUTH—In town - a pleasant walk to school, church and shopping - yet an excellent residential area. It's an attractive 1 1/2 story - exceptionally neat, with 4 bedrooms, a dinerette, a finished basement, carpeting and a garage. Not the largest, but certainly one of the best - and only $31,500.

NORTHVILLE—Nearly 1 1/2 acres - a nice lawn with trees high above the parkway between Plymouth and Northville is the setting for this quiet, comfortable 2 bedroom home. It has a fireplace and family room.
Asking $52,000.

NOVI—Drive by this one - notice the pleasant well kept surroundings - and its 186 ft. lot. Its 3 bedrooms are all good size - the family room is 11 1/2 x 25. Maude Lea at Ripple Creek, just off 10 Mile. Call for details.

Horse's Mouth

Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, MI 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies.

Doris Krauter of South Lyon won first place May 20 with her Tennessee Walker "Lee's Mary Red Lady" in the following classes at the Battle Creek Hunt Club Show: park pleasure, Michigan owned bred and shown and the park Walking Horse championship. Mary Red Lady also won second in the rocking horse class.

Two Brighton area horses and their riders won championships at the May 12-13 show at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

On her 17th birthday May 13, Karen Kline rode her Morgan, "Applevale Ensign" to the championship in the park saddle class after qualifying for the class on Saturday.

Driving his Morgan mare, "Bay Berry Belinda", Bill Brown took the championship Sunday in the park harness class. He had also qualified on Saturday.

Dear Sally Saddle,

There has been a lot of talk at horse shows about the Sore Horse Act. What is a "sore horse"?

(signed) E. E.

Dear E. E., Senate bill, S 2543, commonly known as the "sore horse bill", was signed into law by President Richard Nixon on December 9, 1970.

The final ruling put out by the Department of Agriculture describes the "sore horse" as a horse that has been subjected, after that date, to one or more of the following for the purpose of affecting its gait:

(1) A blistering agent has been applied internally or externally to any of the legs, ankles, feet, or other parts of the horse;

(2) Burns, cuts, bruises or lacerations have been inflicted on the horse;

(3) A chemical agent or tacks or nails have been used on the horse;

(4) Any other cruel or inhumane method or device has been used on the horse, including but not limited to, chains or boots, which may reasonably be expected;

(a) To result in physical pain to the horse when walking, trotting or otherwise moving, (b) to cause extreme physical distress to the horse, or (c) to cause inflammation.

However, a horse given therapeutic treatment by a veterinarian to relieve pain, lameness, or disability or to restore its normal gait shall not be considered sore.

A horse shall be considered sore if, as a result of the use of pads on the front feet or other artificial devices or means, the length of the toe does not exceed the height of the heel by one inch or more when measured from the ground to the hairline.

This Act authorizes the inspection at any horse show or exhibition within the United States of horses that have been moved in commerce to determine if any horse is sore.

The Act requires the person or person in charge of any horse show or exhibition within the U.S. to keep records as prescribed in the regulations and to afford access to and opportunity to inspect and copy such records at all reasonable times.

Any person who violates any provision of the act or any regulation issued under the Act can be fined up to $1000. Any person who willfully violates any provision of the Act can be fined up to $2000 or imprisoned for six months, or both.

Abortion Issue Remains Unsettled

LANSING—The abortion issue is far from settled despite the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that abortion cannot be outlawed in the United States. The highly controversial subject still is debated.

The final determination that it is legal has produced other problems. For example, should a doctor or nurse who believes abortion is murder be forced to take part in such an operation?

Legislation guaranteeing any medical facility or person the right to refuse to participate in an abortion already has passed the Senate and appears sure of legislative approval. Its backers hold that persons with a strong moral objection to abortion should not be subject to any penalties for refusing to participate.

THE ISSUE simply isn't that simple.

Some people feel such legislation might have the effect of depriving a woman of an abortion when the nation's highest court has ruled she has the right to have one if she wants it.

Nancy Hammond of the Michigan Women's political caucus said such bills "in effect give publicly-funded institutions the right to deny medical services to women in Michigan on religious grounds without regard for their constitutional rights."

It's impossible to resolve the question to the satisfaction of everyone involved because it is such an emotional issue and people on both sides are convinced they are right.

Backers of abortion are firmly convinced the operation does not constitute "murder" of the embryo since it is at a stage where it is unable to sustain itself outside mother. They do not concede human life begins at the moment of conception.

Opponents feel just the opposite. It's an issue, in other words, that may linger for a long time with neither side convincing the other.

TWO RECENT actions in Lansing are designed to help make it possible for the "average citizen" to get a complaint through to state government.

One involved establishment of a toll-free telephone service in the Land Sales Division of the Department of Licensing and Regulation. The number is 800 (which means it is toll free) 292-2431.

Anyone who feels he was dealt with unfairly in the purchase of resort land or who has questions about a possible purchase should call the number to check with state officials about the purchase.

THE OTHER ACTION involved the appointment of an "ombudsman" to field citizen complaints made to the State Highway Department about construction of I-696 Freeway through Macomb and Oakland Counties. The ombudsman is Lloyd JaKubos and he is stationed in Huntington Woods. His telephone number is 548-7350 - not toll free.

EFFORTS TO REVERSE state ratification of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution can't go far. The controversial proposition was approved in the Michigan Legislature last year, and in other states too. Now some of the states have changed their minds. An effort to reconsider the issue here was proposed by some.

Then Attorney General Frank J. Kelley pretty well shut the door on the idea. He said that once the Legislature ratifies an amendment to the Constitution it stays ratified. Otherwise, he said, when it was decided to repeal Prohibition, it wouldn't have been necessary for Congress and the state legislature to pass a repeal amendment.

Kelley's ruling didn't convince all the members of the legislature and a few say they'll keep trying to rescind the approval anyway.

REP. JOSEPHINE Hunsinger, D-Detroit, the lawmaker who originally asked for Kelley's opinion, said she'd ignore it because "I believe that there is a substantial legal doubt in his opinion."

Since both houses originally overwhelmingly approved it, it's doubtful enough minds will be changed to put Kelley's opinion to a legal test.

Nature Walks

Special guided nature walks will be held starting at the Nature Centers of Stony Creek Metropark near Utica and Kensington Metropark near Milford on Sunday, June 10 at 8 a.m.

Thomas H. Smith, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, pointed out that these walks are for the general public to help acquaint area citizens with a better understanding of the natural world around them. He also advises persons to wear sturdy shoes that will keep their feet dry.

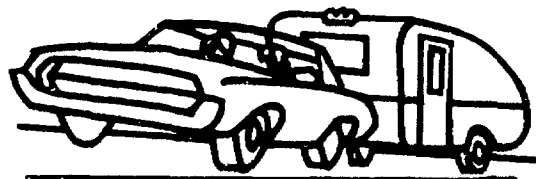

Additional details about these Sunday morning guided nature walks are available by contacting the Stony Creek Metropark Nature Center - Phone 781-4621 or the Kensington Metropark Nature Center - Phone 685-2417.

Wildlife Pond

Area residents have an opportunity to take a class entitled "Michigan Wildlife - The Pond" which will be provided at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near New Hudson.

Classes will meet on Thursday evenings, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., and Saturday mornings from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. from July 19 through July 28, with four sessions conducted by Miss Patricia Elsing, supervising naturalist at Kensington Metropark.

Mom Teaches Spanish To Young Novi Kids

Students in the fourth and fifth grades at Orchard Hills Elementary School are well on their way to being bilingual, thanks to a Novi housewife and mother.

Since February, Mrs. John N. Milnichuck has been meeting three times a week with a group of Orchard Hills students to teach them Spanish.

"The Spanish Club is a cultural enrichment program," said Mrs. Milnichuck, "and encompasses quite a bit. The children are learning to speak as well as read in another language."

Mrs. Milnichuck explained the children are learning Spanish words for the things that are familiar to them.

"For example," she said, "we began by recognizing shapes and colors and to distinguish between them. They learned to count and to identify between solids and liquids."

A native of Puerto Rico, Mrs. Milnichuck came to the United States to attend college and met and married her husband. She and her family have lived in Novi for four years.

"The reading we have been doing in the club is a self concept. We concern ourselves with the child in his world. We have learned about the family, school and activities, physical characteristics and physical needs."

One step in learning and reading the language, said Mrs. Milnichuck, follows another. The members of the club learned the names of the figures, and colors and then were able to tell in a sentence what color the figure was.

Although the program began with many more, the club has 30 students who come to the meetings which are held for 25 minutes during the school day. "I was rather surprised at how many children stayed in the club," said Mrs. Milnichuck.

She explained the basic goal of the club, as she sees it, is to give the child a second language in which he can think and communicate effectively.

"I use as little English or translation as possible," she explained. "When you are learning a foreign language, you must think in it. I was surprised at how easily the children picked it up. Now that school is almost over, I find that I have to translate into English very little."

When it fits in with a subject they are learning, perhaps home life, a Spanish song is taught to the students to reinforce the learning of the language and, at the same time, teach them something of the culture.

Another method used to reinforce the learning of Spanish words is the blackboard. "I will say something and write it at the same time. In that way the children are seeing and hearing simultaneously," she said.

According to Mrs. Milnichuck, the children are anxious to learn a second language. "When I told them that the last session would be in June, they all seemed to want it to continue on."

Although she is not certain, Mrs. Milnichuck said she hopes there will be a Spanish Club at Orchard Hills again in September and expressed her enjoyment in it. "It's been just great," she said.

HABLA ESPANOLE?—Mrs. John Milnichuck is shown with her son, John, and Lisa Sapinza, both members of the Spanish Club she teaches three days a week at Orchard Hills Elementary School in Novi. Mrs. Milnichuck has been holding the sessions since February and said she hopes the school will permit her to teach the fourth and fifth graders Spanish again in the 1973-74 school year.

Townships Reject Plans To Finance Road Patrol

Various Wayne County townships have rejected the prospect of millage proposals to finance all or part of road patrol services now furnished by the sheriff at no cost to townships.

Meeting with the public safety and judiciary committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners May 29, township officials declared they are financially unable to consider a millage proposal or to contract for Sheriff's services on any other basis.

The reaction from township officials came from an earlier request of the public safety and judiciary committee asking for written proposals to fund at least part of the road patrol operation.

The commissioners want townships to pay some part of the cost of Road Patrol services or establish their own police departments.

Two years ago the commissioners decided to eventually end free road patrol services for the County's 10 townships, so this year the road patrol operation is funded only through August 31.

The commissioners maintain that Wayne County faces a possible budget deficit and cannot afford to continue subsidizing police services for townships.

None of Wayne County's 33 cities receive free road patrol services from the sheriff. Either they maintain their own police departments or they contract for Sheriff's services, as does the city of Romulus.

Acting as a spokesman for the townships represented at the meeting, Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore said that it is not a township responsibility to ask for a millage vote for that purpose.

"The majority of our boards feel it is a county responsibility and a county obligation," he stated.

Other townships represented at the meeting were Brownstown, Van Buren, Canton and Northville.

Plan OK'd to Aid Retarded

A new plan for improved care of retarded and emotionally-troubled children has been approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners, meeting May 17, voted 21-2 to approve "in principle" the report of a joint county-state task force and adopted three resolutions aimed at implementing the task force recommendations.

As a result, a central agency will be established to refer such children to appropriate facilities for treatment and training.

Children requiring residential care will be placed in small-group residential facilities within the community.

The Wayne County Child Development Center, a large residential institution located in Northville Township, will be closed after all children have been properly placed in other facilities.

No date was set for closing of the Center, which has approximately 240 students at present.

"The close of the Child Development Center shall not take place until each child has an appropriate and proper community placement," the Board declared in one resolution.

Three teams consisting of representatives of the Plymouth State Home, the Child Development Center, the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board, and four State departments will be established to place the children.

The resolution notes that the Child Development Center was a leader in the field of mental health for children when it opened in 1925, but states that "an institutional environment is contrary to modern treatment" by present standards.

The Wayne County program will be similar to that of the Golden Gate Regional Center in San Francisco, a setup which has been praised by experts nationally.

A committee representing the task force and the Board of Commissioners will be established "to expedite the implementation of services and project the need for additional resources within Wayne County," the resolution states.

Admissions to the Child Development Center will continue until the central referral agency has been created and appropriate and proper placements have been developed, it adds.

The new structure will provide central coordination of referrals and services. At present there are 31 city, county, state and private referral agencies in Wayne County.

One of the resolutions declares the Board's intention to provide training and job preferences in both county and state employment for the 275 employees of the Child Development Center. Many are expected to qualify for equivalent jobs elsewhere without additional training.

The resolution also states that employees taking state jobs will have the option of applying for a return to county employment "within a reasonable time."

Northville Hires Four Teachers

Four teachers, including two student interns, were given contracts for the 1973-74 school year.

The action was taken Monday night by Northville School Board trustees.

Teachers include Mrs. Kathy Devendorf, currently an intern teaching first grade at Moraine Elementary.

Mrs. Devendorf will receive a BA degree in elementary education this month from Michigan State University with a major in social studies and a minor in English.

She will teach second grade at Moraine.

Hired as a half-time kindergarten teacher for Amerman Elementary School's year-round program was Mrs. Phyllis Saunders.

A January, 1971, graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a degree in elementary education, she was a student teacher at Amerman during 1970-71 and has been working as a kindergarten aide.

She also has had experience as an educational aide at the middle school level in Plymouth.

Hired as an intern was Miss Patricia L. Larue, a student at Michigan State University majoring in English. She student taught first grade at Moraine Elementary and will teach first grade at Moraine next year. Miss Debra I. Zubok, also a student at Michigan State majoring in language arts, was also granted an intern position.

She has done student teaching in third grade in Garden City and second-third grade in Wayne-Westland. Miss Zubok will teach a second-third grade combination in the traditional school calendar at Amerman Elementary.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL ELECTION NOVI COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT COUNTY OF OAKLAND, MICHIGAN TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Annual School Election will be held in Novi Community School District, County of Oakland, Michigan, on Monday, June 11, 1973, between the hours of 7:00 o'clock a.m. and 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, for the purpose of electing two (2) members of the Board of Education for terms of four (4) years each, beginning July 1, 1973, and one (1) member of the Board of Education for an unexpired term of two (2) years beginning July 1, 1973.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the following candidates have filed nomination petitions for the two (2) offices of member of the Board of Education for the term of four (4) years, beginning July 1, 1973:

JOEL D. COLLIAU
SHARON W. PELCHAT
ROBERT W. WILKINS

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the following candidates have filed nomination petitions for the one (1) office of member of the Board of Education for the term of two (2) years, beginning July 1, 1973:

RICHARD M. HENDERSON
NORMAN MILLER
THOMAS L. SZELES

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that at the Annual Election to be held in Novi Community School District, County of Oakland, Michigan, on Monday, June 11, 1973, between the hours of 7:00 o'clock a.m. and 8:00 o'clock p.m., the following propositions will be submitted to vote of the qualified electors:

I. Bonding Proposition

Shall the Novi Community School District, County of Oakland, Michigan, borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Thirteen Million Five Hundred Thousand ($13,500,000.00) Dollars and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor, for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new senior high school building and two elementary school buildings and acquiring and developing sites therefor; erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the Village Oaks Elementary School and remodeling the present senior high school building and acquiring additional school sites?

II. Operating Millage Renewal Proposition

To renew previously voted millage increases which have expired, shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Novi Community School District, County of Oakland, Michigan, be increased by seven (7) mills of the assessed valuation, as finally equalized, of all property in the School District for a period of five (5) years, the years 1973 to 1977, inclusive, for the purpose of providing funds for operating expenses?

III. Additional Operating Millage Proposition

Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Novi Community School District, County of Oakland, Michigan, be increased by two and one-half (2½) mills of the assessed valuation, as finally equalized, of all property in the School District for a period of five (5) years, the years 1973 to 1977, inclusive, for the purpose of providing funds for operating expenses?

Each person voting on the above matters must be:

(a) A citizen of the United States of America over eighteen (18) years of age;

(b) A registered elector of the City or Township in which he or she resides on or before the fifth Friday prior to the date of the election.

The place of voting will be the Community Building, 26360 Novi Road, Novi, Michigan.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the Board of Education has estimated the expense of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new senior high school building and two elementary school buildings and acquiring and developing sites therefor; erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the Village Oaks Elementary School and remodeling the present senior high school building and acquiring additional school sites will be an amount not to exceed Thirteen Million Five Hundred Thousand ($13,500,000.00) Dollars, all of which it is necessary to raise by borrowing and issuing bonds of the District. Said bonds will be payable in annual installments not to exceed thirty (30) in number and will bear interest at a rate or rates of not to exceed eight per cent (8 per cent) per annum on the principal amount of the bonds from time to time remaining unpaid.

COUNTY TREASURER'S STATEMENT

I, C. Hugh Dohany, County Treasurer of Oakland County, Michigan, do hereby certify that as of May 14, 1973, the total of all voted increases over and above the tax rate limitation established by the Michigan Constitution in all local units of government affecting taxable property in Novi Community School District, County of Oakland, Michigan, is as follows:

Schoolcraft Gets Novel Garden Plot

Will vegetables grown at Schoolcraft College be any smarter or more successful than those grown elsewhere? Probably not!

But college district residents will have the chance to find out for themselves this summer because they are being offered a 25 x 30 foot plot on college property for their own private garden.

The plots are being made available through "SEED Community Project," a program initiated by Judy Kaltz of the Newman House which serves the Schoolcraft campus. "We call it SEED for Schoolcraft Experience in Environmental Development," Miss Kaltz said, "and we want students, college employees and families within the college district to take part."

Besides individual gardens Miss Kaltz said there will be a large, common corn field for all who wish to help. "We hope it will supply corn for all who participate, plus enough corn for a really swingin' roast late in the summer."

The project is free except all who plant a garden will chip in to cover the cost of plowing - probably $5 or less, and individuals will assume responsibility for their liability while on college property.

Persons wishing to reserve space should telephone Miss Kaltz at 464-2160. The college relations office, 591-6400 ext. 320, is also accepting garden reservations.

There will be special help for those who want it on organic gardening as well as instructions on what to plant, where - called companion planting. And, of course, the project will be ripe with opportunity for some of the best advice ever, "ask your neighbor."

Al Wistert Cited for Youth Work

Alvin L. Wistert was awarded the Claude N. Ely Memorial Fund citation here Thursday night for his "service and devotion" to the youth of the community.

The award was given to Wistert, who lives at 10250 Seven Mile Road in a surprise presentation by Superintendent Raymond Spear during the high school honors program.

According to Spear, who is one of five members on the board of directors of the Memorial Fund, a second award is to be made soon to another distinguished citizen. However, the recipient's name has not yet been disclosed.

The award goes to Wistert, explained Spear, "in recognition of the many hours of volunteer service devoted to the youth of the Community of Northville."

A former All-American football great from the University of Michigan, Wistert was singled out for his work with the community's volunteer probation department. "The department and Al are synonymous," asserted Probation Director Dennis Dildy. "Without Al's dedicated service our program in Northville probably would flounder; he's the key to its success."

Wistert joined the department with its formation in 1968. At that time it was under the old municipal court structure, and Wistert worked as a volunteer probation counselor. The following year when Dildy was appointed director, Wistert was made chief probation officer for the Northville division of the district court system—a position he holds today.

The award given Wistert was established in 1959 as a memorial to the late Claude

Ely, the last president of the Village of Northville and the first mayor of the City of Northville.

It is a non-profit endowment fund, from which one or more small cash awards are made annually to deserving citizens. (Wistert received a $50 check)

Audition for Music Festival

A second round of student auditions will be held on June 9, for Schoolcraft College's Seventh Annual Summer Music School and Festival to be held July 2-27 this year.

Director Richard T. Saunders said that there are no further openings for piano students, percussionists, flutists and trombonists, but that there are openings for all other sections. He said the earlier positions were filled during the first round of auditions in May, but that he would still be happy to hear from any students interested in auditioning during the second round. He may be called at 591-6400, ext. 312.

Three new faculty members will join the school this summer, all of whom are members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. They are: Clement Barone, flute; Paul Ganson, bassoon; and Eugene Wade, french horn.

They will be joining other symphony musicians on the Schoolcraft faculty, including: Mario DiFiore, cello; Norman Fickett, percussion; Oliver Green, clarinet; David Ireland, viola; Inez Hullinger Redman and James Waring violin, and James Tamburini, brass.

Schoolcraft faculty who also serve during the Summer Music School Festival are Robert W. Jones, theory and composition, Donald L. Morelock, piano, and Saunders who also conducts the Student and Court Orchestras. Dr. Allen Shaffer, of Norfolk State College serves as assistant director of the Summer School and David Mariotti, of the Indianapolis Symphony will be teaching oboe.

The Summer Music School is for talented college, senior high school and exceptional junior high school musicians who will experience outstanding instruction as well as the opportunity to perform in a variety of concerts. They are instructed in chamber music, orchestral performance, and in music history and theory.

This summer the student orchestra will study and perform such works as Beethoven, Symphony No. 7, Roman Carnival Overture by Berlioz, Pictures At An Exhibition by Moussorgsky, Rodeo by Copland and Pines of the Appian Way by Respighi.

Student concerts will be presented on July 20 and 27, and chamber music programs have been scheduled for each Friday morning of the music school and the evening of July 26. There will also be an opportunity for an outstanding soloist to perform on the final orchestra concert of the season.

Tuition for resident students is $44 and non-residents are $88 for the four week school. Classes are held daily from 9-3, with an hour off for swimming and lunch.

Four faculty concerts will be presented, chamber music recitals will be given on July 3rd, 10th and 17th, and the Court Orchestra concert on July 24. All concerts begin at 8 p.m. They will feature the Schoolcraft String Quartet and the newly formed Woodwind Quintet. Tickets will be available at the door.

Special opportunities for young musicians will be available in the school for pianist and classes for young composers. Selected pianists will be provided opportunities for ensemble performance.

As in the past three summer sessions, Robert W. Jones will accept a limited number of students interested in music composition. Applicants should send a copy of a recently completed composition or one upon which they currently may be working to Mr. Jones at Schoolcraft College. They may have an opportunity of hearing their composition performed during the session.

Further details about performances and programs will be announced early in July. Persons wishing further information about other aspects of the program should contact Mr. Saunders at 591-6400, ext. 312.

Joe Corcoran Receives Memorial Scholarship

Two outstanding students enrolled at Orchard Ridge Campus of OCC, including one from Northville, have been named as recipients of the Gary Michael Berg Memorial Scholarship.

Jill Farber of West Bloomfield and Joseph Corcoran of Northville were selected by the Financial Aid Committee as being most representative of the scholarship requirements which stressed high academic achievement and campus involvement.

Named in honor of Gary Michael Berg, the Memorial Scholarships were established by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Berg of Southfield. Gary died in a skuba-diving accident in Pine Lake on April 1, 1972. Prior to his death, Gary had been an Orchard Ridge sophomore, preparing for a career in law.

In presenting the awards, Dr. Don Nichols, Dean of Students, explained, "Both recipients exemplify the fine qualities displayed by Gary Michael Berg when he was one of our students. Ms. Farber and Mr. Corcoran are both straight 'A' students of

1973 Graduates

75 Honored at Northville High

Seventy-five members of the Northville High School 1973 graduating class were recognized last Thursday, May 31, for having achieved academic honors during their high school careers.

They were presented honor pins and the gold tassels they will wear for graduation exercises by Principal Fred A. Holdsworth and Assistant Principal David Longridge at the ninth annual honors convocation held at the school.

Other awards were presented to students for recognition of achievements in many areas in addition to the pin and tassel awards.

Master of ceremonies John Forrer, representing the student council, recognized those seated at the head table. They included class of 1973 - Valedictorian Vikki Brown and Salutatorian John Regenhardt.

Also at the head table were class officers Christopher Johnson, president; Lisa Wright, vice-president; Nancy Nirider, secretary; and Lisa Webster, treasurer.

For the first time in its history, the Soroptimist award was given to a Northville High Senior. The award, which is sponsored by a group of Northville and Plymouth business women, has always, in the past, gone to a Plymouth student. This year's recipient, Karen Zabel, was presented the award by Mrs. W. M. Hendricks.

Karen also received the University of Michigan Regents Alumni award from counselor Victor Temple.

The Adrian College Academic Scholarship went to Sherry Ellison. It was presented by David Longridge.

For outstanding achievement in the art department at Northville High, awards were presented to Lisa Sparling and Janeane Reynolds by Mrs. Marian Kipfer of the art staff.

John Edwards gave the Bausch and Lomb Science Award to Thomas Johnson.

The Womanhood Award, given by the Northville Business and Professional Woman's Club, was presented to Nancy Nirider by the club's president, Mrs. Eugene Guido.

Miss Florence Keith, of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution presented that organization's Good Citizen Award to Karen Zabel and the U.S. History Award to Arthur Greenlee.

Counselor Jack Wickens was the presenter of the Eastern Michigan University Awards. The Presidential Award was given to Catherine Cowan and the Board of Regents Award went to Patricia Mahoney.

Sherry Ellison received the Langfield Memorial Fund award from Superintendent of Northville Public Schools Raymond Spear.

Mrs. Alta Olson, high school counselor, was present to give four seniors National Merit Scholarship Awards.

Class Salutatorian John Regenhardt was recognized for being in the upper half of one percent of all graduating seniors in the country. In the upper two percent were Robin Couss, David Meadows and Beverly Wistert.

Claire Saurer was named the winner of the Northville Education Association Award by Mrs. David Smith.

The Northville Woman's Club award went to William Hay. It was presented by Mrs. Douglas Day, president of the organization.

Miss Patricia Dorrian and Mrs. Mary Bray of the Northville High English staff presented the Scholastic Writing Awards. Lois Rodenbeck received a Gold Key for her poetry and short story.

Honorable mentions were given Sheree Scott for a character sketch and to Connie Sitarski for her short story.

Receiving commendations in Scholastic Writing were Sandi Bascanyi for poetry and Bart Taylor for journalism-editorial writing.

Miss Dorrian also cited students from other classes who participated in the writing for the 1972 calendar year and had won mention. They were Susan Johnson, Jim Dod, Tom DeMott and Brian Keller.

The VFW Voice of Democracy Award was presented to John Regenhardt by William Durham of Northville's VFW Post 4012.

Mrs. Violet Bradford presented the Michigan State University President's Scholarship to Nancy Nirider and a special Grant-in-Aid to Schoolcraft College to Stuart Allum.

Michigan Higher Education Awards, honorary and monetary, were presented to 35 students whose scores on Michigan State Competitive Examinations qualified them for the awards. They were given by Miss Florence Panatoni.

Others are Dennis McLaughlin, Diane McNulty, David Meadows, John

Regenhardt, James Robbins, Gary Stockhaus, Claire Saurer, Timothy Slagle, Hugh Sonk, Bruce Thomas, Mary Lynn Tilson, Rene VanEe, Jerry Van Hellemont, Nancy Waddell.

Concluding the list are Catherine Wallis, Nancy Wedner, Teresa Wertheimer, Thomas Weston, Brad Wilkins, Lisa Willis, Karen Zabel.

Following the presentations, Mrs. Bradford was honored for her years of service to Northville High School. Presentations were made on behalf of the student body and student council by Karen Zabel and Stephanie Bach.

The complete list of 75 honors graduates who received gold tassels includes one exchange student, Michiko Ochiai.

The others on the list include Patti Arquette, Stephanie Bach, Stephen Barger, Merilee Becker, Susan Bergin, Donald Bode, Patti Boerger, Peter Boing, Ann Bowman, Vikki Brown, Denise Byrd.
