

Drugs Sold at School Cause Girl's Death

Death of Evelyn Marie Collins has been officially labeled suicide as the result of drugs which police say she obtained from fellow Northville High School students.

Four juveniles have been arrested by police and charged with sale and delivery of dangerous drugs resulting in the death of a human.

Miss Collins, who lived at 16980 Franklin Road, was a 16-year-old sophomore at Northville High. She was found dead in a wooded area east of the high school last week Tuesday night. A suicide note was recovered at the scene. Her obituary appears on Page 9-A.

Although city police detectives are awaiting results of laboratory analysis, they say the drugs she used to commit suicide are some type of an animal tranquilizer. Results of the analysis are expected late this week.

A 16-year-old juvenile from Westland is in custody at Oakland County Juvenile Home in lieu of $10,000 cash bond on the charge of sale and delivery of dangerous drugs resulting in the death of a human.

Oakland County Prosecutors Office is seeking a waiver to try the youth as an adult.

Three 14-year-old Northville township youths, two boys and a girl, face identical charges in Oakland County juvenile court. Superintendent Raymond Spear said the three have been withdrawn from school after their admission of involvement in the girl's death.

School officials have described Miss Collins as a low average student "with the same problems any 16-year-old girl growing up today has." She also was a member of the girls' track team.

Patrolman Robert Pankow of the Northville City Police detective bureau said two of the juveniles admitted selling the pills to Miss Collins. Two others admitted supplying the pills, although they said they did not sell to her.

"Of the roughly 120 pills sold at the school Monday and Tuesday of last week, we know we can't account for 100 of

Bond Proposal Passes 2-1, Hobart, Nieuwkoop Win

Voters gave approval Monday to a $10 million bond issue and elected John Hobart to a two-year term and Roger Nieuwkoop to a four-year term on the board of education.

Only 1,698 of the 8,300 registered voters in Northville School District went to the polls for a 20.47 percent turnout.

Elected to three six-year terms on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees were Nancie Blatt, Gerald L. Cox and Paul Y. Kadish. Ronald Cowden was successful in his bid for a two-year term on the college board.

Northville voters approved the bond issue by an exact 2-1 margin, 1086 "yes" to 543

"no". The bond issue, which will be used to construct two elementary schools and a middle school, passed in all six precincts.

Hobart led the ballot, garnering 762 votes. Dr. Robert Mandell came in second with 522 votes and Donald Faulknor earned 172 votes.

Nieuwkoop received a total of 554 votes; Don Williams, 371; Betty Hancock, 371; and R. Duane LaMoreaux, 121.

Use of six voting precincts, voting machines and a light turnout of electors resulted in early results. Passage of the bond issue and election of Hobart and Nieuwkoop was announced at 8:45 p.m., 45 minutes after the polls had closed.

Final election totals were known at 9:15 p.m. with the results canvassed at 10 p.m. the same evening.

Unofficial results of the Schoolcraft College district election show Cowden led the ballot with a total of 6,572 votes for the two-year post. His challenger, Mark McQuesten, earned 4,026 votes.

For the three six-year terms, Kadish earned 5,685 votes; Mrs. Blatt, 5,466; Cox, 4,469; Gerald L. Lunden, 2,839; James E. Higgins III, 2,785; Richard G. Buerk, 2,033; Noel Little, 1,951; and Alfred D. Ringsred, 1,295.

Northville voters cast the majority of their ballots for the four successful college board candidates.

In his bid for the local board, Hobart carried four of the six precincts, with Dr. Mandell winning Precinct 5, (Five Mile to Seven Mile, Northville Road and area west to school boundary) and Precinct 6 (Northville Estates, Beck Road, Seven Mile plus area north and west to school boundary).

Nieuwkoop also carried four of six precincts, with Williams winning Precinct 4 (Eight Mile Road to Beck, excluding Northville Estates, north and east to school district boundaries) and Precinct 6.

Commenting on the passage of the bond issue, Superintendent Raymond Spear said, "I think it's great. The continued faith and support the community showed in the board and the superintendent is most gratifying. Thank you Northville School District voters."

Proceeds from the sale of $10 million bond issue will be used to construct a 750-student capacity elementary school in Northville

Commons, 500-student elementary school in Highland Lakes and a 1,000-student middle school on Bradner near Franklin Road. Funds are also included for

Fire Marshal Post Criticized

A suggestion from Northville township's fire study committee to hire a fire marshal and establish a public safety department came under attack from Highland Lakes residents.

Trustee Richard Mitchell, chairman of the fire committee, recommended the move to board members at their Tuesday night meeting.

He presented the board with an ordinance which would create a fire prevention bureau and adopt the fire prevention code. A fire marshal would be hired to enforce the code.

Mitchell said while his committee had no specific salary in mind, cost for the fire marshal would probably be "between $12,000 and $15,000."

Trustee John MacDonald asked what affect such a move would have on the township's existing contract with the City of Northville for fire services.

"The person you hire to head this bureau can recommend hiring people and adding staff. You're creating a separate department and divorcing yourself from the city. The ordinance is pretty broad," MacDonald said. Mitchell maintained the ordinance contained "no language that speaks of a fire department. We're not creating a department."

Northville High School's 104th commencement is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. on the high school football field, weather permitting. In the event of bad weather, the ceremonies will be moved to the gymnasium. Admission is by ticket only.

Girls in the class of 293 will wear powder blue caps and gowns and the boys' gowns will be navy. Each student has been given a souvenir paper graduation cap.

Honor graduates will be designated by gold tassels, while the rest of the class will wear tassels in the school colors of black and orange.

The Reverend Cedric Whitcomb of the First Baptist Church of Northville will give the invocation and benediction. The Processional, recessional, "A Jubilant Overture", "Star Spangled Banner" and "America" will be directed by Robert Williams.

Scheduled to give speeches are Salutatorian John Regenhart, Valedictorian Vikki Brown, exchange student Alan Chu and Superintendent of Northville Public Schools Raymond Spear.

Northville High Principal Fred A. Holdsworth will present the class. He, Assistant Principal, David Longridge and Spear will grant the diplomas.

Following graduation exercises, the members of the class have been invited to attend the traditional all-night graduation party given by the senior class parents.

The theme for the party is "All Aboard" and several rooms of the schools will be transformed into railway settings.

The annual Northville Muscular Dystrophy drive, held on Tuesday, June 5, took in just over $350, it was announced by the Northville chairman, Mrs. Rose Burrell.

Mrs. Burrell said anyone wishing to help in the fight against muscular dystrophy who was not contacted last week may mail contributions to The Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, 400 West Marshall, Ferndale, 48220.

Orient Chapter's Past Matrons Club will meet with Mrs. Vance Masters on Wednesday, June 20, for a dessert luncheon and business meeting. Assisting as co-hostess will be Mrs. H. A. Boyden.

A Northville woman is one of the charter members of the recently formed Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Pi Epsilon, national business education honorary graduate fraternity at Western Michigan University. Nancy S. Champion of 16772 Meade was installed as a member in recent ceremonies in Kalamazoo. She attended Cleary College at Ypsilanti and Schoolcraft College.

Suzanne C. Kreeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kreeger of 50250 West Eight Mile Road, has been named to the achievement list for the Winter and Short terms at William Woods College at Fulton, Missouri. To be placed onto the list, students must have attained a grade point average of 3.0 to 3.49 with no grade less than a C.

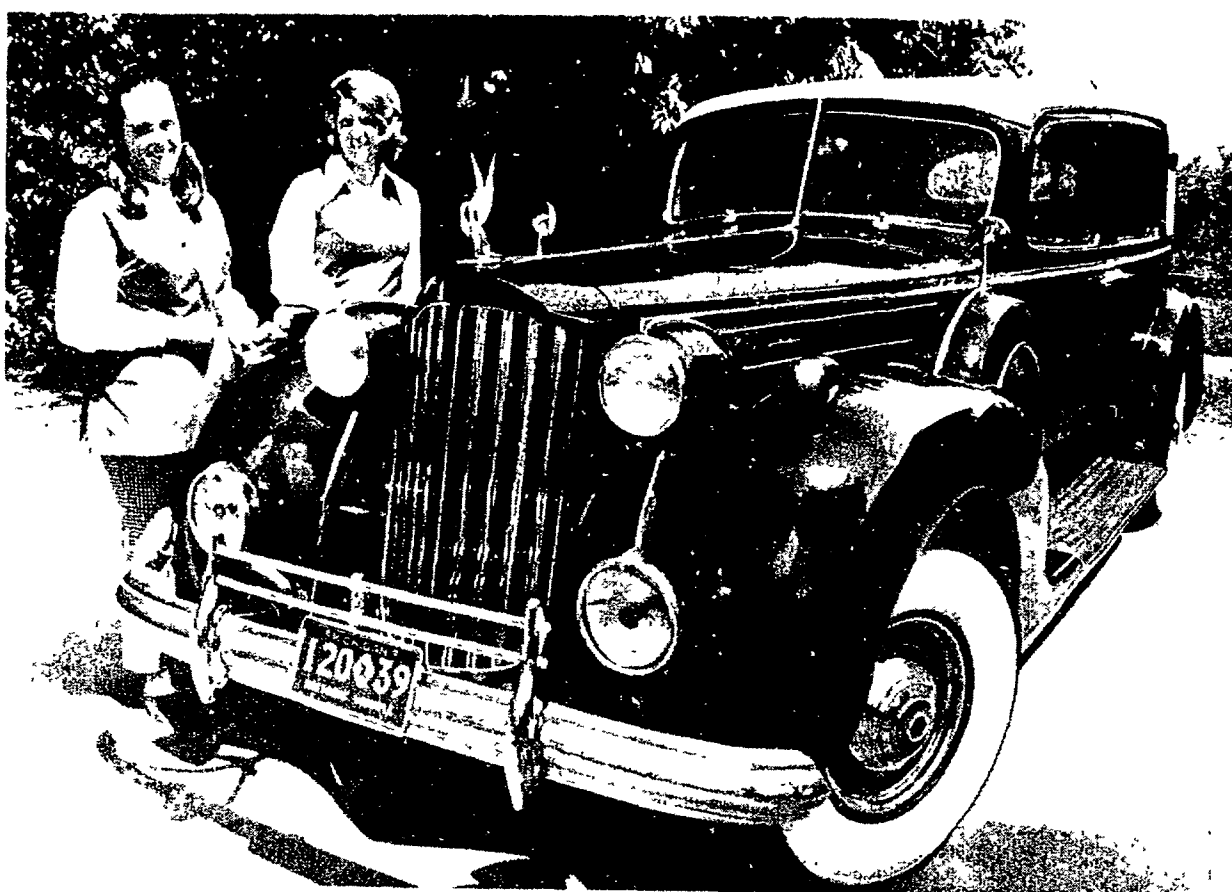

Birth

Announcing the birth of their fourth daughter are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Redmond of Plymouth township.

Tracy Lynn was born on May 29 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. She weighed nine pounds and 14 ounces at birth and was 21½ inches long.

Tracy joins three sisters, Dawn, 6, Piper, 5, and Kristy, 2, at home.

The girls' father is the Northville High School track coach.

HELPING HINTS—New Jaycee Auxiliary President Mrs. Sam Hall, at left, performed one of her first official duties recently as she inspected one of the earliest entries in the annual Jaycee Fourth of July Parade. Present to give her a few pointers was last year's president, Mrs. John Buckland. The antique automobile, now owned by Mrs. Thomas Clarke of Northville, once belonged to the daughter of the founder of the Campbell Soup Company. Mrs. Clarke recently won first prize with the car at the Carnival of Cars held in Utica, Michigan.

Jaycettes Install Officers

Mrs. Sam Hall was installed as the 1973-74 Northville Jaycee Auxiliary president at awards and installation ceremonies held on June 2 at the King's Mill clubhouse.

It also was announced then that two Northville Jaycee Auxiliary members will occupy state Jaycee Auxiliary posts for the 1973-74 year.

Serving as chaplain of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary will be Mrs. John Buckland. Mrs. Dennis Dildy will be state duplicating chairman.

In addition to Mrs. Hall, the local officers installed were: Mrs. Patrick Dustin, internal vice-president; Mrs. Arlen Westling, external vice-president; Mrs. Rex Spencer, recording secretary; Mrs. John Swienkowski, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Michael Marks, treasurer; and Mrs. Tom Dickinson, Mrs. Tom Lang, Mrs. Pete Thies and Mrs. Richard Shannon, directors.

Outstanding chairman awards were presented to Mrs. Rex Spencer and Mrs.

Robert Hilton for their work in assisting the Jaycees on the Community Fair project.

Mrs. Russell Anger was named the outstanding chairman in community service for her work on the community directory prepared and distributed by the auxiliary.

Ways and Means chairman awards went to Mrs. David Peovovar and Mrs. Gerald Campbell for the Haunted House concession.

An award for membership orientation and retention went to Mrs. Ronald Hellier for a progressive dinner which she planned.

The outstanding Jaycette of the year award went to Mrs. Tom Lang.

Mrs. Sam Hall, incoming president, received the Outstanding Spokette award which is given to a first-year member.

Mrs. Tom Lang was given the President's Special Award of Appreciation.

Novi Friends Schedule Speaker

Friends of the Novi Public Library invite the public to hear Miss Susan Koslosky speak about children's literature on Tuesday, June 19, at 8 p.m. in the Novi School Administration Building at 25575 Taft Road.

Miss Koslosky holds a master of library science degree from the University of Michigan. Presently, she is the supervisor of children services at the Southfield Public Library.

In 1972, Miss Koslosky was awarded the Margaret Fyan Award for Creative Library Service by the Michigan Library Association.

In Our Town

JUNE CELEBRATIONS are marking anniversaries, birthdays and departures in our town.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walker, who will be married 60 years next Tuesday, June 19, are celebrating the milestone the same way they did their golden anniversary 10 years ago. They are spending a week at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, with their family.

In the group of nine are the Walkers, their son and his wife, the William Lee Walkers; their daughters and their husbands, the Paul Beards and Dr. and Mrs. Louis Eaton of Howell; and Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. Ida L. Cunningham.

The Walker home, "Happy Acres," is located on Eight Mile Road and has been open on the Northville home tours; the Walkers have lived in the community since 1936. They have been active members of Northville First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Walker also is a long-time member and supporter of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

OFF TO RUSSIA Tuesday on a Russian Language Program at Leningrad State University (through the Council on International Educational Exchange of the United Nations) was Lesli Weston, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Weston.

Lesli is a senior majoring in journalism at Michigan State University and will be graduated in March, 1974.

MSU is one of five American universities and colleges participating as "core" schools in the exchange program. (Others are Dartmouth, University of Kansas, University of Washington and Georgetown.) Many students compete to be among the 30 chosen through each core school, so her family was especially delighted when she telephoned to say she'd been accepted.

Eligibility is based on proficiency in speaking, writing and reading Russian through examinations, interviews and compositions. This is one of the few programs offered in the Soviet Union for undergraduate students.

Lesli will have a four-day orientation in Paris before going to Leningrad for six weeks of study. Then she will travel through the Soviet Union for two weeks, visiting Moscow, Kiev and Thilisi. A four-day program evaluation and post-testing period will follow in Vienna, Austria.

Lesli explains that in Leningrad the students primarily will be studying the language and will have daily seminars and presentations on Soviet literature, economics, education and politics. The students will be staying in dormitories at the university with Russian students, taking weekend excursions to Soviet cities and agricultural areas. Leningrad State University is located on the Neva River, she notes, "within shouting distance of the Winter Palace, former residence of the tsars...which now houses the Hermitage Museum."

THE ROBERT BARGERS were honored at a farewell get-together last Saturday evening at the home of the Paul Beards. The group of friends from Northville First Methodist Church heard their plans to move to England. He has been transferred to London by Perkins Engines.

A SURPRISE celebration Tuesday evening marked the birthday of Doris Farrington. William Farrington had invited five couples to meet them at the Machus Red Fox Restaurant in Bloomfield. Then he arrived with the honoree.

TWO NORTHVILLE couples, the Richard Booms and the Jack Dohenys, teamed up for a vacation to Yugoslavia (with a brief side trip to Italy) last month. Mrs. Booms described the jaunt as "one of the best vacations we ever had" and a "real learning experience." Edie Doheny echoed the observation. Both related how warm and friendly the people in Yugoslavia were to visitors but mentioned "how very hard everybody works" in that country.

Women work with picks on the roads and push wheelbarrows in the fields, they noted. The couples visited Dubrovnik and Pula, a city located across from Venice. From Pula they rode a hydrofoil to Venice where they found the flooding has left the first floors of buildings empty.

Mrs. Doheny and daughters, MaryJo and Kay, now are planning a school-is-out trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, with Mrs. Kenneth Shelly and her daughter, Heidi. They have reservations at the historic Williamsburg Inn and also will be visiting Washington, D. C.

Janice Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Brown, flew east last weekend to visit Chris Walker in HoHokus, New Jersey. Chris is the daughter of former Northville residents, the John Walkers, who now live in HoHokus. She and Janice were classmates at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo. Chris is just back from a trip to Europe.

A houseguest at the Brown home in Edenderry until June 28 is Alex Jacinto, an exchange student from the Philippines. Alex, who is Chinese, is a lifelong friend of Alan Chu, an exchange student living with Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wheatley. Alan has been at the Wheatley home for the past year.

In the Youth for Understanding program both boys have been in Michigan with Alex living with a family in Ann Arbor. This family was going on vacation and Alex needed a home until he leaves for a summer study program in Vienna. In the fall he will begin college in Whittier, California, while Alan will attend University of Detroit. Both will be under a University International program.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Massel are back from a trip to Colorado Springs where they saw his niece's graduation. They were accompanied by his mother. A highlight was the beautiful scenery in the Pike's Peak area.

A PIANO not now being used, but in good condition, urgently is sought by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary. Women in the auxiliary have been working closely with blind children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School and report that their greatest enjoyment is an old piano. The youngsters, members say, play it and dance and sing to the music.

The Jaycettes investigated the possibility of repairing the piano now at the home, which they describe as "just horrible" but found it was not worth investing funds in it.

They are hoping some Northville resident, perhaps someone who is moving, has a piano to donate. The auxiliary will provide transportation for it to the home and will have it put in good playing condition. Residents may remember the band of blind youngsters from the home playing in a gazebo on the Jaycee float in last year's Fourth of July parade.

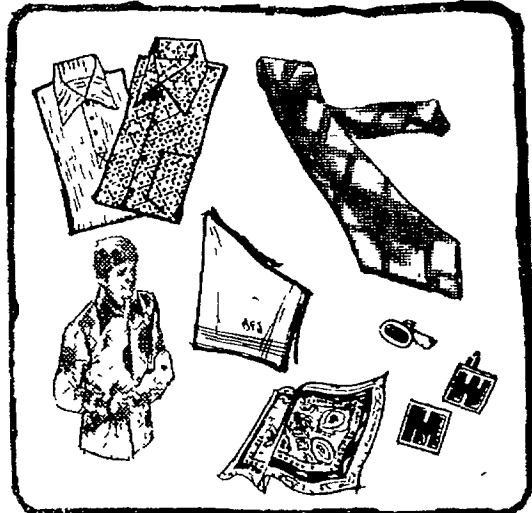

During the past year the Jaycee Auxiliary has provided bright permanent posters on boards for the home, has assisted in the Jaycee carnival at the home, made bibs for children there, taken blind children to visit the University of Michigan botanical gardens, taken them to a farm and made three-dimensional cards for their birthdays. They also have remembered them with Easter and Christmas parties and made a foam rubber tumbling mat for Sullivan Hall. Hall.

Anyone with a piano to donate may call Mrs. Samuel Hall, 349-6593.

Historic Homes in Tour

Annual tour of Northville homes has added a co-sponsor this year.

Northville Historical Society is joining the Presbyterian Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville to present the September tour.

All five homes featured in this, the seventh annual homes tour, are historic houses of Northville. The oldest was built over 100 years ago and the most recently constructed home on the tour is just under 90 years old.

Co-chairmen for this year's tour, Mrs. Per Ifversen and Mrs. David VanHine, have announced that Thursday, September 27 has been selected as the date when these five homes will be opened to the public. Tickets will be on sale in the community prior to that date. Built in about 1885, the Queen Anne style home of Mr. and Mrs. James Harris has been redecorated both inside and out. However, many of the original floors and windows are still part of the home.

David Sicary has given his historic home an up-to-date appearance. The original attic of the house has been opened and replaced by a modern family room. Sicary is one of many who have owned this Italianate style home since it was constructed in about 1880.

An old farmhouse, built in about 1880, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coates. As is the case of so many old houses, this one has seen many additions over the years. One of the features of the house is the location, as much of Northville can be seen from its' windows.

The 90-year-old home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bohn features antiques throughout. The kitchen in the home was formerly a back porch. A den has been recently added to the spacious rooms on the first floor.

The Harvey Smith home, which dates from about 1870, is the oldest one on the tour this year. Once used as a dentist's office, the home has seen many changes inside since the Smiths have lived there.

All of the profits from the tour this year will be divided between the Northville Historical Society and the Presbyterian Women's Association.

As in previous years, St. Paul's Lutheran Church will serve a luncheon at that church on the day of the tour.

MRS. MULLIGAN

Teacher Retires From OLV School

This month will end the thirteenth year of instructing students at Our Lady of Victory for Mrs. Virginia Mulligan, who will retire at the end of the school year.

Mrs. Mulligan is a graduate of Manhattanville College at Purchase, New York. She received a bachelor degree in English and French and holds a state certified teaching certificate.

Following her graduation from Manhattanville, Mrs. Mulligan taught in the Detroit Public Schools for 12 years.

In the years she has been at Our Lady of Victory, Mrs.

Mulligan has taught both the fourth and fifth grades.

A resident of Northville since 1943, Mrs. Mulligan has two daughters and one son. All attended Our Lady of Victory School.

During her retirement, Mrs. Mulligan said she plans to travel a great deal and spend a lot of time with her five grandchildren.

As a tribute to her years of service, the students at the school dedicated their yearbook, The Victorian, to her. The dedication calls her "an inspiration to the hundreds of students under her guidance over the years."

Kranz-Hill Vows Said In Plymouth Church

Newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lynn Hill have a Northville address.

The couple was married on June 1, at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Plymouth in an early evening ceremony. The Reverend Father Francis C. Byrne officiated.

The bride is the former Linda Lee Kranz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kranz of Plymouth. Mrs. Marjorie Hill of Plymouth and Wayne Hill of Ann Arbor are the bridegroom's parents.

Yellow and white flowers decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony. During the service, a special prayer was said.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was made of imported Venise lace and styled with bishop sleeves, a ruffle at the hemline and a chapel train. She carried a nosegay of white roses and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Laura Kranz wore a floor length gown of powder blue. Her flowers were an arrangement of white mums, blue and white daisies and baby's breath.

Wearing floor length gowns of maize were bridesmaids Denise Lack, Jani Logan and Donna Kranz.

Best man Gary Hill was assisted by Craig Overton, John Chavre and Jeffrey Patterson.

Wedding guests greeted the couple at a reception in the Mayflower Meeting House after the church ceremony. Following their return from Cedar Point, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hill are at home in Northville.

The bride is a Michigan Bell Telephone employee and the bridegroom is employed at the Bradford House restaurant.

Novi Board Sets Salaries

A storm-produced power failure hardly disrupted a Novi Board of Education meeting Tuesday night as officials finished out much of their business by candlelight.

And chief among that business were these items:

approval of administrative salaries, adoption of continuous math in-service workshop programs in the middle school and Novi Elementary, and establishment of procedure whereby a student representative is to sit at the board table during regular meetings.

Biggest salary increases, which Trustee William Moak said board members agreed earlier in executive session were well deserved, went to Superintendent Gerald Kratz and Assistant Superintendent William Barr.

Dr. Kratz was given a three-year contract, with his salary increasing from $26,500 to $28,000, while Dr. Barr was given a two-year contract with his salary increasing from $22,000 to $23,000.

Other approved salaries include:

David Brown, Village Oaks principal, from $14,300 to $14,800; Thomas Dale, central office, $17,006 to $17,506; Helen Ditzhazy, newly named high school principal, $22,200; Ester McDonough, Orchard Hills principal, $18,766 to $19,266; Charles Nanas, assistant high school principal, $17,000 to $17,500; Milan Obrenovich, newly named director of community education, $16,818; Roy Williams, Novi Elementary principal, $19,578; and Robert Youngberg, middle school principal, $20,849 to $21,349.

In other personnel matters, the board fixed the summer co-op salary for John Ishler at $6.95 hourly for one day per week, and it accepted the resignation of John Osborn as the high school golf coach.

The resignation was explained as being necessary because of Osborn's increasing duties as athletic director.

Also the board agreed to pay five election workers $2 hourly. They are Lauree Bell, Sara O'Boyle, Dolores

Wilkins, Pelchat, Miller Win School Board Posts

The most expensive millage-bond proposals in history of the Novi School District were approved by the largest voter turnout in history here Monday.

All three ballot proposals carried handily, and Incumbent Trustee Robert Wilkins, Mrs. Sharon Pelchat and Norman Miller easily won seats on the board of education as 1160 voters went to the polls.

Voters approved —

- 7 mills renewal for operation, 832 to 216.
- 2.5 mills additional for operation, 684 to 442.
- $13.5 million bond issue calling for construction of three new schools, 705 to 401.

Board President LaVerne DeWaard hailed passage of the ballot proposals as a vote for children and youth.

"I have never seen such a united effort, including the involvement of a citizens committee, individuals, senior citizens, students, service clubs, and school staff who have worked very hard to explain the needs of our district."

DeWaard, who said the results indicate "that the quality education our community deserves will soon be accomplished," added this challenge:

"The kids have won...now let's see how well the board, administration, and staff can prove the students have really won."

Monday's voter turnout, although lighter than school officials had hoped for, was the heaviest in Novi School District history. For the first time the total number voting topped the 1,000 mark. With 3904 registered to vote, Monday's 1160 turnout means 29 percent cast ballots.

Previous high was 940 in 1971. Last year only 534 voters cast ballots in the annual school election.

Newly elected board members Sharon Pelchat and Norman Miller have been invited by Board President DeWaard to sit with the board pending their official induction July 1.

Wilkins, an incumbent, was the top vote-getter, pulling down 712 votes, with Mrs. Pelchat, who formerly served on the board, coming in second with 583 votes. Both won four-year seats. Loser in this race was Joel Colliau, who finished with 441 votes.

In the race for the single two-year post, Miller was an easy victor over his opponents. He garnered 454 votes to 296 for Dr. Richard Henderson and 289 for Thomas Szeles.

Many voters simply did not vote for any of the candidates for the single two-year race as indicated by the total number of votes cast in comparison with those cast in the four-year race.

Receiving the most support in the election was the proposal to renew 7 mills for another five year period. Representing some 25 percent of the current operating millage revenue, this levy had just expired.

It, together with the additional 2.5 mills voted, boosts the total operation levy to 28.8 mills.

The bond issue, which will raise debt retirement millage from 7.3 to 8.48 mills, calls for construction of a new high school, two new elementary schools, additions to Village Oaks Elementary School, renovation and conversion of the present high school to a middle school, and purchase of additional school sites.

Location of the new schools has not yet been established by the board. However, it appears very likely that the new high school will be located at the southeast corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads.

While nothing definite has been agreed, the school district and the city council are seriously considering construction of a city hall complex and the high school on the same site.

The Novi Building Authority was scheduled to meet last night to discuss plans for this development. Representatives of the school board, city council, library board, and planning board were to be present.

Walled Lake Curtails Wixom Library Service

It appears that as of June 30, 1973, the residents of Wixom will be without library service of any kind. After that day, the Walled Lake Library has cancelled all services to Wixom residents.

A letter addressed to the mayor and council from the Walled Lake Library Board was read at the city council meeting Tuesday night.

Because of a possible loss of state library funds, if the Wixom service was to be continued, the letter said all Wixom residents would be excluded from the Walled Lake system as of June 30.

"If we're going to have a library, it is going to have to be your own," said Mayor Gilbert C. Willis.

"We do not have sufficient time to call for a referendum in the August primary election for the library, but there is time to do it in the November election."

A vote of the people would be necessary to establish a Wixom library, as the added revenues needed to set up a system would mean an increase in taxes.

Wixom resident Lew Coy, who has often spoken out against the city's plan to establish its own library and favored the retention of the Walled Lake service, spoke out again Tuesday night.

"I want to make it clear," said Coy, "that I am not an opponent of libraries. But I want to know why the city did not answer a letter received from the city of Walled Lake on January 10, 1973, which

Reconsider Smoking Ban

Should smoking be permitted at board of education meetings?

Board Secretary Ray Warren, who pressed for and won a smoking ban, is seeking advisory opinions of the public.

This past Tuesday in softening his position somewhat, Warren suggested the "ban" be reconsidered following the reorganization of the board in July.

Meanwhile, the board secretary asks citizens of the school district to send their opinions about smoking at board meetings to the Novi Administrative Office, 25575

Taft Road.

Early last month Warren successfully led an attack on smoking at board meetings, and the board banned it by a split 5-1 vote. Board President LaVerne DeWaard, himself a smoker, voted against the measure.

Since then smoking has continued both at the board table and in the audience, and Superintendent Gerald Kratz, a non-smoker contends "that unless the total board of education agrees with the concept or at least agrees to abide with the spirit of the intent, reconsideration of the issue is necessary."

Warren apologized for his haste in spearheading the ban last month, noting that contrary to board policy the matter had been brought up and decided on the same night. In view of the haste he suggested it be reviewed again after board reorganization.

The smoking ban, lifted temporarily it appears, is to come up for discussion and vote again on July 10.

However, Board President DeWaard has made it clear that he strongly opposes the ban, and he suggests that if tested in court the ban would be repealed.

Victim of the most recent accident was Eugene Harris, 41, of Livonia and the father of five children.

Harris was killed when the cement truck he was driving eastbound on 10 Mile struck a southbound train at the C & O crossing.

According to police reports, Harris was traveling at approximately 40 miles per hour until he got to within 240 feet of the crossing. At that point he applied the brakes, leaving 240 feet of skid marks before hitting the train which had already entered the crossing.

The truck, which was fully loaded and weighed between 56,000 and 57,000 pounds, hit the engine at approximately the place where the engineer stands and was knocked over the signal pole and guard rail on the south side of the road.

As a result of the impact, the door of the truck was popped open and Harris was sucked out by the vacuum created by the train's momentum. He was dragged on the fourth car of the train a distance of 174 feet before he

Mike Performs Ceremony

'Marrying Mayor'

By MARTHA ROEMER

Northville Mayor A. M. Allen went to a wedding Sunday.

Granted, it is something he's done many times before, but this one was different, you see. He wasn't a spectator, he was present to perform the ceremony.

When he united Mrs. Marie Domin and Joe Horak of Milford in marriage on June 10, Mayor Allen officially became one of Michigan's "marrying mayors."

On July 1, 1972, Michigan law was changed to include mayors of cities in the list of individuals authorized to solemnize marriages.

According to the Michigan Municipal League, one of the reasons the law was changed was so the judges permitted to perform marriages might better spend their time tending to their crowded court dockets.

For the mid-day ceremony, the mayor used sample ceremony number one in the manual for marrying mayors published in April by the Michigan Municipal League. Allen did, however, pencil in a few changes of his own.

The couple first asked Mayor Allen to perform the ceremony two months prior to the date. They decided on a non-denominational civil ceremony and, since they were to be married in Northville, they asked Mayor Allen to do the honors.

"We didn't know at the time, that he had never married anyone before," explained Mrs. Horak. "We just went to his place of business (Allen Monument Works). He walked up to us and said, 'Can I help you?'

and we said, 'Yes, we want to get married.'

"He was a little stunned at first, but we went into his office and talked about it and he agreed to do it. He's been asked to perform weddings before, I understand, but he was always busy. This time he had no excuse," Mrs. Horak joked.

The wedding took place at the Northville home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Shoebridge, the bride's aunt and uncle. While 100 guests watched from beneath a sky blue and white canopy, Mayor Allen performed the ceremony in the shade of an apple tree.

The bride wore a gown of aqua taffeta and white lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Other members of the wedding party included Mrs. George Bayones, matron of honor, and Mary Price, maid of honor. They wore pink and white gingham gowns and pink picture hats and carried baskets of flowers.

The bride's uncle, Clifford Shoebridge was best man. He was assisted by Larry Anquital.

The Michigan Municipal League Marriage Manual gives three suggestions of ceremonies which mayors may use as well as other pertinent information about performing ceremonies — even down to a checklist of things to do before the marriage is solemnized.

Mayor Allen, who has been in the public eye for more years than he cares to remember, understandably was a little nervous in his new role.

"I'm just not cut out for this sort of thing," he confided, indicating he'd rather battle a hostile city council than stand before a wedding couple and their guests.

He handled himself admirably, however, becoming the first "marrying mayor" in the community's 150-year history.

Dickinsons Honored On 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dickinson, long-time residents of Northville, were honored June 7 by their family on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

A family gathering was held at the Hendry Convalescent Center where Mr. Dickinson has been a resident for the past three years.

During their marriage the couple lived in Northville on Cady Street and later, they had a Napier Road address.

On June 7, 1913, Ivan Dickinson of Clarenceville married the former Carrie M.

Merritt, of Northville township. The ceremony took place in Salem.

The couple has two sons. Norwood is now a resident of Lapeer and Wendell lives on Napier Road. They also have three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson are retired from the Northville Public Schools.

The family adds that Northville friends who care to call are welcome to visit at the Hendry's Convalescent Center in Plymouth during visiting hours.

Christian Club Meets

A former Mrs. America and a demonstration of physical fitness will highlight the June 14 meeting of the Dearborn-Plymouth Christian Women's Club.

Convening at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth, area women will hear Mrs. Rosemary Murphy, former Mrs. America and Mrs. Indiana, speak. Joan Akey, a former student of Bonnie Prudden, will demonstrate aspects of physical fitness.

The Christian Women's Club is an international organization which has no membership and no dues. Women wishing information about the club may contact Mrs. Eugene Harris, 21147 Lujan, or Mrs. Ivan Springstead, 23949 Heartwood.

Police Blotter: Seek Warrant in School Fire

In Northville

Northville City Police are seeking a warrant against a 17-year-old Northville youth charging him with the April 19 fire at Cooke Middle School.

According to Patrolman David DeLauder, of the detective bureau, the youth reportedly confessed Monday night to starting the fire.

Investigation into the cause of the fire has been continuing since it occurred, with numerous persons questioned.

Corporal Robert Kramer and DeLauder questioned the youth Monday. He told them he had entered the storage area of the school through the open garage-type door.

Police said he told them he threw a burning cigarette he was smoking against a wall and saw the hot ash fall into a box of paper towels in the storage room. He reportedly did not check to see if the cigarette was out.

The fire, which broke out the night a dance was being held at the school, caused an estimated $15,000 damage to the building. None of the students in the building at the time of the blaze was injured.

School officials said Monday they will press charges against the youth.

An 18-year-old Northville youth will be arraigned July 3 on charges of fleeing and eluding police officers.

The youth attempted to outrun a patrol car early Tuesday morning on a motorcycle. Police said speeds up to 90 mph were recorded.

The chase began at 1:27 a.m. when officers attempted to stop the youth for driving the wrong way on Seven Mile Road at the cut-off at Hines Drive.

The youth reportedly ignored officers, speeding east on Seven Mile, south on Northville Road and was stopped just north of Five Mile. Police said rain was falling during part of the chase.

A double horse trailer, valued at $700, was stolen between June 4 and Monday afternoon from the main barn area of Northville Downs.

White in color, the trailer has "Leisure Acres, Holland, Michigan," printed on the side.

COURT NEWS

Two persons were bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court last week Thursday on charges of possession of heroin.

Mrs. Bobbie French and Philip A. Phillips of 660 Horton Street will be arraigned in circuit court June 19, court officials said.

Both were bound over by 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis after probable cause was found for them to stand trial.

They were arrested by city police November 1, 1972, following a raid on the Horton Street home.

In Township

Township police are seeking a warrant charging a 52-year-old township man with assault with intent to commit murder following an incident Tuesday night.

According to police, the man began arguing with his wife, reportedly beat her and fired five shots at her from a .38 caliber gun as she ran from the house.

Police were called to the scene about 9 p.m. The man returned to the home while police were there and was placed under arrest for assault.

A search of his vehicle by Michigan State Police Troopers, who were also at the scene, reportedly turned up the gun. They are seeking a warrant charging him with carrying a concealed weapon.

A 20-year-old Garden City man has pled guilty to a charge of reckless and wanton carrying of a firearm.

Michigan State Police reported a car driven by Thomas R. Ogren was stopped shortly before 1 p.m. June 4 on southbound Hines Drive north of Six Mile Road.

State police said the car was stopped after it crossed the center line, forcing the oncoming state police car onto the shoulder of the road.

When troopers turned their car around to pursue Ogren's car, they noticed something being thrown from the car.

Further investigation disclosed a Browning semi-automatic pistol in weeds 10 feet from the road.

Ogren pled guilty when arraigned last week before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis. Sentencing is delayed, pending a report from the probation department, with Ogren free on $2,000 personal bond.

State police are investigating two reports of destruction of property and a theft which took place last week in Northville township.

A thermopane picture window was broken about 4 a.m. June 3 when unknown persons threw an object through the window. The damage took place at 15362 Maxwell. Value of the window was placed at $150.

Unknown persons smashed the windshield of a station wagon parked at 15815 Parklane Street. The damage took place between 10:40 p.m. June 4 and 6:45 a.m. June 5.

State police said a boilder was found in front of the car. Damage was also done to the vehicle when the rock rolled off the car.

Theft of a tire iron, tire and wheel, hubcap and lug nuts from a Mercury parked at 16378 Old Bedford Court is being investigated.

Reports indicated the theft took place between midnight and 6:30 a.m. June 6.

The inside of a station wagon parked next to the Mercury was ransacked and the station wagon's jack was used to remove the tire, state police said.

Township police are investigating the theft of cigarettes, beer and snack items taken last week Wednesday from two party stores.

According to reports, the first theft took place at 9:30 p.m. from the Total Party Time Store on Five Mile Road. Witnesses told police two youths left the store with beer and snack items and were picked up by a waiting car.

At 9:43 p.m., police received a report of three youths taking cigarettes from the Six and Park Party Store

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A 41-year old Livonia man, Eugene Harris, was killed Monday at 12 noon when the cement truck he was driving collided with a train at the 10 Mile Road C&O crossing in Novi. Harris, the father of five children, was pronounced dead at the scene. It was the second fatal vehicle-train accident to occur at the 10 Mile Road crossing in the past two weeks.

on Northville Road at Six Mile Road.

Township police said descriptions of the vehicle and youths matched. The car was found about 10:15 p.m. on Cass Benton Drive.

Two suitcases full of men's clothing were found on Cass Benton Drive near Hines Drive Sunday.

Police believe the luggage was either lost or stolen from Metro Airport and are attempting to trace the owners.

Two youths, age 17 and 16, were turned over to their parents after they were found on the railroad tracks south of Six Mile Road.

Police said they had received a report the youths were starting small fires. A search of the two turned up a hashish pipe and suspected marihuana. The incident took place about 8:30 p.m. June 3.

COURT NEWS

Kirk M. Naar of 374 South Wing Street has been granted two years probation under the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act, according to court officials.

Naar received the probation recently in Wayne County Circuit Court. He was arrested March 2 by township police and charged with carrying a dangerous weapon in a motor vehicle. That charge was later dismissed after he pled guilty to an added count of attempting to carry a concealed weapon.

In Novi

Two trailers, a gas station, and a private residence were victimized by breaking and enterings which occurred last week. Total value of the stolen property was estimated in excess of $2,000.

Sixteen deluxe champion black wall tires and an air impact wrench were stolen from Dolan's Marathon Station in a breaking and entering which occurred June 6 in the early morning.

Value of the stolen property was placed at $500.

Police discovered the break in while on routine patrol early Wednesday morning. Thieves apparently used a rock to break the glass in the front door. Also broken was a window in the service area.

A color television set and five men's wrist watches were the items grabbed by a burglar in the breaking and entering of a residence at 21158 Glenhaven Circle. Value of the merchandise was placed at $550.

Owner of the home told officers that the break in took place some time between 9 p.m. June 2 and 8:30 p.m. June 5.

A construction trailer owned by the Thompson McCully Company was broken into and robbed some time during the evening of June 6.

Thieves removed an unknown quantity of points and condensers and a generator valued at $300 from the trailer, which was located at a construction site in the Nine Mile-Haggerty Road area.

An estimated $560 worth of goods were removed from a travel trailer parked behind Northwest Industries Thursday, June 7.

Bernard Wendt of Westland, owner of the trailer, told police that someone had forced open the side door and removed a quantity of items which included an electric broom vacuum, an AM-FM short-wave radio, six foam rubber seat cushions and two 40-pound propane tanks.

In addition to the property loss, an estimated $150 worth of damage was done to the trailer.

A 25-year old Detroit man escaped with only a broken arm after falling off a telephone pole at the corner of Novi Road and Grand River Monday, June 11.

Jim Myers, a telephone repairman, was transported by ambulance to Pontiac General Hospital following the fall.

According to police, Myers was coming down the pole when his safety strap got caught in such a way that it no longer held him up. The man plummeted approximately 20 feet to the ground and landed flat on his back on the asphalt.

A 16-year old juvenile has been charged with arson in conjunction with a fire at a residence at 24299 Pinecrest which occurred earlier this spring.

The juvenile will be remanded to Juvenile Court authorities, police said.

In Wixom

Wixom police were called on last week to investigate a number of larcenies.

A 104-piece mechanics' tool set was reportedly stolen from the garage behind a house at 1889 Hopkins Drive last week. The tool set was valued at $130.

The theft occurred sometime between the Memorial Day weekend and Sunday, June 3, the owner of the stolen tools told investigating officers.

A Craftsman power drill and bits were stolen from the garage behind a residence at 1996 Hopkins Drive. As in the case of the 104-piece tool set, the time of the theft was placed sometime between May 28 and June 2.

The drill was stolen from the garage behind the residence.

A resident at 28925 Beck Road reported the larceny of

Will Planners Halt March of Business North?

As the Northville City Council begins study of the proposed update of the master plan one of the interesting points to watch for will be council reaction to the northern boundary of the business district.

Although planners and the planning consultant, Ronald Nino, have noted that generally boundaries represented in their proposed land use plan are approximations, the planners are a good deal more specific when it comes to the northern business district boundary on Center Street.

Most, if not all of them adamantly oppose further encroachment northward by business or professional office classifications.

Chatham's parking lot, they insist, should remain the extreme northern boundary, and they chafe at suggestions that this boundary should be extended "just a little" north to Walnut Street.

Suggestions that Walnut would make a better natural boundary than an interior block artificial line are viewed with skepticism by planners.

Taking the position that the "northerly advance of business must stop somewhere," planners contend the encroachment "has gone far enough."

Extension of the boundary to Walnut might create a more natural boundary on the west side of Center but it would eliminate the existing natural boundary (Lake Street) on the opposite side of center, planners argue.

At least one city official, Mayor A. M. Allen, has expressed a belief that an attractive buffer type business might be established north of the Chatham parking lot that would not harm the residential character beyond.

And at least one former city councilman, Charles Lapham, has expressed similar beliefs.

Whether or not planners and councilmen clash over the proposed land use plan because of this "northern boundary issue" probably won't be known until the council has completed its study of the proposal.

However, Mayor Allen, without pinpointing a difference of opinion, hinted last week that sufficient "questions" exist in his mind to warrant council study prior to formal submission of the plan to the public.

For planners one of the incongruities of proposals for extension of the business classification is the fact that undeveloped commercial property exists within the business district now. Their reaction is one of a question, "Why not develop what you've got now before looking for more land area?"

By restricting commercial expansion, planners believe they will force development of such property.

However, this kind of thinking is easier said than done, according to one spokesman of the business community who points to the houses on the west side of Center near Randolph to buttress his argument.

Although the property is located within a business classification, its business development potential is seriously handicapped by the fact that it is composed of small individually owned lots, he noted.

"Certainly, development here rather than north of Chatham might seem more appealing," he conceded, "but economically it is next to impossible to accomplish because of the staggering cost of assembling a sufficiently large tract of land."

Planning Consultant Nino carried the planners' challenge a step further during a discussion recently with representatives of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee.

He suggested that perhaps, instead of promoting new development as a means of enhancing the community's economic stability, the committee should concentrate its energies on upgrading the existing business district.

In other words, he suggested that shoring up and improvement of existing business might at this time be more advantageous to the community than enlargement of the business district.

Although he did not say it in the context of this discussion, Nino in the revised master plan proposal suggests that development of a loop street system around the CBD, elimination of vehicular traffic on some of the existing CBD streets, and development of pedestrian malls are important to the economic health of the community.

The downtown mall concept is nothing new in Northville but in the past it has failed to garner sufficient popular support to force its development.

Most of City's Land To Be Used for Housing

More than 55-percent of 737 acres of all existing property within the city would be used for housing by 1980 if the proposed Northville land use policy becomes a reality.

The proposal represents an increase of 120 acres over the existing 617.5 acres used for residential. A total of 46.6 percent of all city property—1326.72 acres—is currently used for housing.

Following is the future land use designation by acres and percent as proposed by planning commission members and their consultant, Ronald F. Nino:

Low density residential, 683.04 acres or 51.5 percent; high-medium density residential, 54.30 acres or 4.1 percent; commercial, 66.40 acres or 5 percent; industrial, 70.10 acres or 5.3 percent; race track, 52.50 acres or 4 percent; public and semi public, 103.80 acres or 7.8 percent; open space, 111.58 acres or 8.4 percent; and streets and highways, 185 acres or 13.9 percent.

Here's the existing land use as of July, 1972:

One and two-family residential, 600.5 acres or 45.3 percent; multiple family residential, 17.0 acres or 1.3 percent; commercial, 27.5 acres or 2.1 percent; industrial, 30 acres or 2.3

percent; race track and auxiliary uses, 45 acres or 3.4 percent; public and semi-public uses, 18.9 acres or 1.4 percent; parks and recreation uses, 49.3 acres or 3.7 percent; institutional, 82 acres or 6.2 percent; streets and highways, 180.5 acres or 14.3 percent; and vacant 276 acres or 20 percent

Car Wash Set

Here by Jaycees

Northville's Jaycees will be holding their annual Car Wash Saturday and Sunday, June 16 and 17.

Site of their year's project will be the Choo-Choo Car Wash on Northville Road, just south of Seven Mile Road.

Jaycees will be available from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day and, for a small donation, will dry your car after it has been through the washing process.

All proceeds will be used to finance the Jaycees' various community service projects.

Mr. Collins listened....

....and Mrs. Collins wondered.

Evelyn's Last Words

'I Hurt So Bad It Stings'

"I hurt so bad it stings...hurt so bad by many things..."

In a poem entitled "My Last Words", 16-year-old Evelyn Collins described the feelings of an over-weight teenager who seemed to both love and hate life.

Something, maybe a word, or silence, a laugh or a look, tipped the delicate scales that balanced the emotions of the Northville high school sophomore.

So she swallowed a handful of tranquilizers and laid down and died in a wooded area near the high school.

The night before she had attended a Girls Athletic League (GAL) banquet. That morning (Tuesday, June 5) she had given encouragement to her dad to win the softball game his VFW team would play that night.

And that afternoon she had planned to attend a track meet at Walled Lake with other youngsters from Northville.

But Evelyn Collins didn't go. And when she hadn't called home for a ride as her parents had expected, they drove to the high school to find her.

When they arrived they were told a girl had been found dead in the woods. Mr. and Mrs. Henry (Don) Collins knew by the description it was their daughter.

Mr. Collins, who carries color photographs of his three daughters in his wallet, has little to say about the death of Evelyn. A quiet, slender man, he listened as his wife recalled some of the problems their daughter experienced.

There was the time last summer at a VFW-sponsored camp in Newaygo that Evelyn had been rescued from drowning. There were sessions with a psychiatrist. And then, recently, there were signs of improvement.

But there were always words and actions that the sensitive girl could not shed.

She was a shotputter on the girls' track team, and this gave her some confidence, some feeling of being a part of it all.

And there was her job at Cloverdale Farms Dairy, two nights a week and on week ends.

But she didn't attend the prom. And there were no boys, no dates.

"Someone said something to her that day. She took everything to heart. You can't be cruel to kids."

A bewildered Mrs. Collins could not say why her daughter had taken her life. But she said her daughter was always eager to please, to help and to take part.

Evelyn was not a user of drugs, but admittedly she had experimented; perhaps to gain acceptance.

But when she bought the pills that took her life, it was because she had given up trying.

"No one really knows, not even me; But I've tried my damnest again and again to please not one but all.

I've listened and never spoke; I've watched and never did...

It's my own fault, not anyone else's. I hurt so bad it stings...hurt so bad by many things."

—Evelyn Collins

Flea Market Set

Flea market, featuring artists and craftsmen, has been planned for Friday, June 22, at Church of the Holy Cross.

Scheduled from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., the sale will be held on the church grounds on West Ten Mile Road between Novi and Beck roads.

Antiques, rummage, flowers, art work and baked goods will be for sale.

Demonstrations in decoupage, macrame, Indian weaving, glass blowing and husk dolls will be given and the items will also be sold.

Craftsmen will also be taking applications for persons who wish to sign up for classes in the crafts.

The flea market is a first for the church and all proceeds will go into the general fund of Holy Cross.

College Hosts Grads

Northville High School graduating seniors were among more than 1200 seniors who recently were entertained at dinner by Schoolcraft College. The evening included a spaghetti dinner and entertainment.

Groups of high school students were hosted on four evenings at Waterman Center. One of the principal backers of the dinners was Ed McNally, vice-president of student affairs at the college.

McNally said the seniors seemed to enjoy themselves and added the college is looking forward to return visits by them in the future. The purpose of the dinners was to congratulate them as graduates and to encourage them to visit the Schoolcraft campus again.

Drugs Cause Girl's Death

'Drugs are available...at school, on the street or at home' them," Patrolman Pankow said.

While the exact contents of the pills are unknown, police have been told by students that "with one you get a good trip and with two they have to carry you out," Pankow stated.

Interrogation of suspects in the case began early last week Wednesday by Pankow and Patrolman Allen Cox. Within 24 hours after Miss Collins was found, one juvenile had confessed to selling her drugs, the officers reported.

Police finished questioning students at 3:30 a.m. Thursday.

They have learned that the animal tranquilizers are "readily available at Northville High," Pankow said. "Use is extensive and the tranquilizers are not expensive. In some cases, they are given away."

He said most parents do not realize what their children are getting into.

Northville High Principal Fred Holdsworth said of drugs at the school, "It's obviously here. Northville is no different than any other school.

"While I have no evidence to support the fact drugs are being used, I've heard kids talking," he continued.

"There is no question that they are fooling around with marihuana and hard drugs, although hard drugs are not as much of a problem here as is marihuana," Holdsworth said. "Drugs are available, whether it's here at the school, on the street or at home. I do not have any answers to it," the principal said.

Holdsworth said he believes the biggest tragedy of the drug problem is "the kids are selling it. You used to think of it as an adult selling drugs on the corner, but now the kids are doing the dirty work."

Superintendent Spear said he is "very much concerned about the drug problem.

"It is extremely regretful that this suicide occurred and I can't give you the rationale why this happened," Spear said.

He agreed that young people are into drugs today and that they "have their fair share of problems like adults. There is no question that society, family and school failed this girl and I must accept part of the responsibility."

While Spear said he doesn't know to what degree drugs exist at Northville High, he hopes that the problem can be combated.

He anticipates a committee formed to study smoking at the high school can also delve into the drug problem.

In addition, he said the administration at the high school level is being reorganized with the hiring of a second assistant principal.

"Responsibility for 1,400 students will be divided between three people next year. Currently, two people are responsible for 1,250 students," Spear said.

Counseling department at the high school will also be given a different role, "more oriented towards working with and meeting the needs of students, rather than just curriculum and schedule oriented," Spear explained.

"I can't solve the drug problem by myself and the high school staff can't solve it themselves," the superintendent said. "It must be a joint effort of the school, home, community and church."

Driver Dies

finally fell to the ground, police said.

"It was the most horrifying thing I've ever seen," a witness told The Novi News.

Harris was pronounced dead at the scene by the Oakland County Medical Examiner at 12:20 p.m.

Police said the probable cause of the accident was that Harris had overestimated the braking power of the fully-loaded truck.

"A 23-ton truck traveling at 40 miles per hour can build up a lot of momentum," commented Patrolman William Brown. "It appears that Harris didn't start to brake soon enough."

The train, which consisted of an engine, five cars, and a caboose, was also traveling 40 miles per hour at the time of the impact.

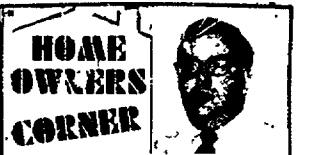

Police reported that the traffic signals at the crossing were all working properly and that westbound traffic was stopped and waiting at the crossing.

It was the sixth traffic fatality in Novi this year and the third fatality caused by a vehicle-train accident. A snowmobile was killed at the crossing on 12 Mile Road early in the year.

In response to the demands made by the council, Novi City Manager Harold Saunders announced that he has already requested that Oakland County, the C & O railroad, and Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole investigate the possibility of installing crossing arms at the 10 Mile, 12 Mile, and Novi Road crossings.

"Although our fatalities can probably all be blamed on driver error, this thing is beginning to get out of hand," he said. "It's time something were done."

If you've decided to install prefinished paneling in your home, here is some handy advice. Furring strips must be applied to concrete or masonry walls before paneling can be installed. Attach with 1½ inch masonry nails, flange-type fasteners or perforated anchor nails. Nail or cement paneling to furring. If you nail it, nail to studs or furring strips at intervals of 8 inches along the panel edges, 12 inch intervals elsewhere. Remember to start panels from a corner and make sure first sheet is true and straight. Paneling will install quickly and easily.

And NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0220 has a beautiful selection of U.S. Plywood, Masonite, Royalcoat, and Panellit pre-finished paneling for you to choose from. We also carry Armstrong and Owens Corning ceiling tile, pre-finished wood and plastic molding; and Minwax and Olympic stains. Delivery service. Open: 8-6, Mon-Fri; 8-2, Sat. HELPFUL HINT: Prevent nuts from working loose by applying a few drops of clear shellac to the threads before tightening.

Board Set Salaries

MacGucin, Eileen Erwin, and Frances Daleo.

Come next fall a member of the high school student body will be sitting at board of education table.

To be selected by students themselves, the representative may offer student advice on matters before the board but he or she is not to have voting rights. An ex-officio board member, the student representative is to be excluded from executive sessions unless otherwise invited when the board is discussing negotiations, personnel, and land acquisition matters.

Concerning land acquisition, the board authorized sharing appraisal costs for a possible school site on some 20 acres of property on the west side of Meadowbrook Road, north of 10 Mile Road.

The appraisal is a prerequisite to exercising an option.

Only Board Trustees Robert Wilkins and Jake Durling opposed authorization. Wilkins argued that the property is so unsuitable for a school site it does not warrant the cost of an appraisal.

Much of the land had been filled in years past.

Math in-service workshop programs were approved at both Novi Elementary School and at the middle school.

The former, according to Superintendent Kratz, is a pilot program in which teachers enter into an agreement with the Oakland Schools Math Department for a summer workshop, plus a series of monthly workshops during the 1973-74 school year.

Purpose of these workshops, he explained, is to plan and write a math program that will permit all students to work at their own pace and on their own level of achievement.

The program will be especially patterned for Novi Elementary, Dr. Kratz said, but with considerably less cost it could later be adapted for use at other elementary schools if the program proves successful at Novi Elementary.

Cost of the program has been put at $6,275, but part of this expense may be shared by the federal government, according to the superintendent.

The middle school math in-service project is to include examining and processing of materials "in preparations to institute a continuous progress laboratory for all students at the Novi Middle School."

The 10-day workshop covering four hours each day is to involve five teachers who are to be paid $5 hourly. Larry Padlo of the Educational Progress Corporation is to provide the leadership without additional cost. Total cost of the program is to be $1,000.

The board voted to enter into a lease-purchase agreement with the McFadden Corporation and O'Green Ford of Farmington for four buses—Wayne bodies and Ford chassis—at a cost of $10,501 each.

Administrators also were authorized to begin an immediate search for a bus mechanic and to negotiate an agreement with Harold's Frame Shop for "temporary use" of part of its facility for school bus maintenance.

CANDIDATES GALORE—It's only the beginning, admits Northville Public School's administrative assistant Irv Sutter as he separates teacher candidate's applications into the correct stack. Sutter says he currently has on file "between 3,000 and 4,000 applications and more are expected to be coming in." Greatest abundance of candidates is in the elementary area and the least number is in the vocational education area. Sutter is interviewing candidates for 25 remaining positions in Northville schools.

"It's nice to have such a wide selection," Sutter commented, "but everyone wants to have an interview."

EVELYN M. COLLINS

Services were held Saturday, June 9, for Evelyn Marie Collins of 16980 Franklin Road who died June 5 in Northville. She was 16 years old.

Born March 25, 1957, in Detroit, she was the daughter of Henry Donald and Marie Evelyn (Wnek) Collins.

A resident of Northville for the past eight years, Miss Collins was a sophomore at Northville High and worked at Cloverdale Dairy in Northville.

She was a member of the Tri-County Baptist Church in Salem, VFW Post 4012 and Lloyd H. Green Post 147 Junior Ladies/Auxiliary. Surviving are her parents of Northville, her grandmothers Mrs. Mattie Ramsey of Detroit, Mrs. John A. Wnek of Wheeling, West Virginia, and two sisters, Joyce Louise and Debra Ann, both at home.

Funeral services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend J. B. Wheeler of Tri-County Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in Washtenaw Memorial Park in Ann Arbor.

JOHN H. KENYON

John Harland Kenyon of 18202 Jamestown Circle died

Thursday, June 7, at the age of 82.

Funeral services were held Monday, June 11, at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of United Methodist Church of Northville officiated. Burial was in Acacia Park Cemetery, Birmingham.

Born March 18, 1891, in Caro, Michigan, he was the son of Marcellus L. and Jennie (Harland) Kenyon. A retired insurance salesman with Mutual Benefit Life Company of Newark, New Jersey, he moved to Northville from Detroit five years ago.

Surviving are his widow, Blanche Patterson Kenyon, a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Greer of Houghton, New York, three sons, John Harland Jr. of Livonia, Robert P. of Grand Rapids, James F. of Redford, two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Kline of Woodland, California, Mrs. Leota Ambler of Plymouth, two brothers, Albert of Salem, Oregon, Pierre of Woodland, 17 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Kenyon was a member of Masonic Lodge 2 of Detroit, life member of Civitan International Club of Detroit and member of Northville Methodist Church.

TOOTSIE LEMIUX

Word was received here early Tuesday of the death in Tilbury, Ontario of Tootsie Lemieux, 72, a former employee at the old Sessions Hospital here.

Mrs. Lemieux, a widow, was the sister of Mrs. James Spagnuolo, 113 East Main Street. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

For Jaycee Fourth

Fun 'n Food Slated

July Fourth activities will again include a Jaycee Fourth Fun Festival in the Northville City Hall Park, Publicity Chairman Mary Hilton announced this week.

The Festival, slated to get underway following the parade on Wednesday, July 4, will feature the traditional Chicken Barbecue, the hilarious Jaycee Dunk Tank, and the second annual Jaycee Watermelon Eating Contest.

"As always, the barbecue will feature chicken barbecued to your delight, together with all the fixin's including beans, cole slaw, potato chips, roll and butter, coffee or pop."

The barbecue serving line will be in the driveway from Cady Street into the city hall parking lot, and a picnic area will be provided in the park itself.

"A special feature this year," reported Mrs. Hilton, "is that Jaycees will deliver dinner orders to large family gatherings or to parties of 10 or more at no extra charge. To arrange for this service, call Pete Magnan, 349-4328, or Ron Hellier, 349-0910, before July 3."

Sharing a funny spot at the barbecue will be the dunk tank.

And for 25-cents the participant receives three softballs and a similar number of cracks at a small target. A "right on" toss sends the unwary tank sitter into 500 gallons of ice cold water.

Volunteers wishing to share a position atop the tank are urged to call Chairman Jim Totzkay at 349-7185.

Beginning at 1 p.m., the watermelon eating contest gets underway, according to Chairman Dick Shannon.

Open to all area youngsters 12 years old and younger, the contest will be staged in the city hall parking lot.

Each contestant will be given one-eighth of a watermelon to consume in the quickest possible time. The contest will be run in heats of eight persons each. Winners of each heat will receive a prize.

No entry fee is required, but parents of each contestant must be present at the time of the contest. To help finance their July Fourth activities, including the parade and fireworks in addition to the Festival, Jaycees will stage a drawing following the fireworks display.

Winner of the drawing will receive his choice of either a $500 Savings Bond, a color TV, or a four-day trip for two to Las Vegas.

Drawing tickets may be obtained from Chairman Tom Lang or any other Jaycee.

Political observers in Lansing are saying that State Senator Carl Pursell will be the next lieutenant governor of Michigan. And two years later he'll be governor.

James Brickley, presently second in command to Governor Milliken, has reportedly had it with politics.

So next year Governor Milliken will be looking for a new running mate.

It's predicted that Michigan's young governor will decide after two years in his next four-year term to try for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Phillip Hart, who isn't expected to run for re-election in 1976.

Assuming all these predictions are correct, the lieutenant governor would then take over the top spot in Michigan politics for the balance of the four-year term and become a tough man to beat in the 1978 gubernatorial race.

Why should Milliken tap Pursell as his running mate?

Again the on-the-scene observers note that in three years as a state senator Pursell has become one of the most influential GOP legislators in Lansing.

The young senator from Plymouth, who represents the Northville-Novl area as well, has gained the respect of both Republicans and Democrats, chiefly because he knows his profession—politics.

Pursell has been involved in political affairs ever since he was a small boy working in his dad's print shop-book store. He understands what he is doing and he works hard at it because he likes it.

He's worked on committees for the chamber of commerce and on numerous local-level study groups. He's been an elected county commissioner, where as a minority party member he still managed to gain a leadership role with his fellow commissioners.

Next year (1974) there's a good chance that the Democrats will gain control of both houses because of the 1970 reapportionment.

But Republican Governor Milliken is favored to be re-elected.

A lieutenant governor who understands the inner-most workings of the political machinery in the legislature will be a most valuable asset to a Republican governor in a Democratic-controlled administration.

Carl Pursell fits that description. His name added to Milliken's would give the Republicans a formidable ticket for 1974.

The Highland Lakes' Fire and Rescue Association announced this week it will disband July 1.

The unique organization was formed last December and was composed of 32 volunteers, all of whom reside in the Levitt townhouse development.

Headed up by James Medbury, the organization purchased an ambulance, a completely-equipped 1,000-gallon pumper, hoses, helmets, fire-fighting outfits, fire extinguishers, nozzles, etc.

Training sessions were held and all state specifications and requirements were met.

Medbury has stated that the organization was formed because of fears that adequate rescue facilities did not exist in Northville. He has emphasized concern over the possibility of drownings in the lakes that sprinkle the development. He has hinted that construction and building inspection in Highland Lakes leaves much to be desired.

So Medbury and a fellow Highland Lakes' resident, Sheldon Kelley, became the moving forces behind the formation of a fire and rescue squad for their residential area.

Amazingly, they acquired adequate equipment in good condition and trained an able and enthusiastic force. They prevailed upon residents of the development to pay an annual $15 fee to support the service and received 87 per cent participation.

But they face problems in providing emergency communication facilities plus, I suspect, the normal financial and participatory needs that accompany any volunteer organization.

Medbury and Kelley have appeared before the township's fire study committee. They have suggested that for a minimum investment the township could acquire Highland Lakes equipment, pick-up some of its volunteer firemen, and expand the existing city-township fire department to provide the community with improved fire protection immediately.

They oppose the formation of a new and separate township fire department. They oppose the expenditure of $20,000 annually for a fire marshal. And they think the committee has taken too long (1½ years of study thus far) to make a recommendation.

They acknowledge that the plan to build a $500,000 township hall connected to the proposed fire station facility has been one of the stumbling blocks.

But they suggest that the matter of fire protection should be removed from politics and action to provide better community fire protection given top priority.

Normally, I do not believe individual, subdivision-type services superimposed on similar governmentally-provided services is good for a community.

A series of such private services tends to divide rather than unite and promote improved community-wide services.

But in Highland Lakes a handful of new residents saw a need and took action.

And while they admit an inability to continue their operation they see a practical solution for improved fire protection at little cost to the taxpayer.

So at this point, one asks, why doesn't the township contact the city and explore the possibility of expanding the community fire department to include the Highland Lakes facilities?

IRVING ROZIAN

YES . . .

Here in the heartland of America we have been lulled into indifference toward high affairs of state by an excessively long period of peace on our borders. The recent inflammatory demands by Ohioans for $11 billion in reparations may be just the hot mustard poultice needed to set our manly (womanly?) blood coursing again in the finest tradition of our quarrelsome European ancestors.

Since it is my contention that we have more to gain from the campaign than from the conquest, we should avoid the use of modern weapons. Perhaps this estimable journal should run a contest for the best underhanded methods to bring Ohio to its knees and Toledo under our sway. It has already been suggested that we cut off their water by conspiring with Canada to re-open the prehistoric channel from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario. Incidentally, this would solve the flooding problem for Lake St. Clair residents, albeit rather drastically.

Another nautical attack which comes to mind would be to bomb the Maumee River, from balloons, with all the high sudsing detergents, no longer in vogue, thereby isolating Toledo from the rest of Ohio by an impenetrable wall of foam. (At least this is a clean dirty trick.)

Annex, annex, annex! As Northvillians know, these are truly fighting words.

Irving Rozian
Member, Michigan Boundary Commission

Speaking for Myself

Annex Toledo To Michigan?

HOMER BRICKLEY

NO . . .

Annexation of Toledo to Michigan would add insult to injury.

When Toledo was rightfully given once and for all to Ohio in 1836, Michigan received the Upper Peninsula as a "consolation prize" for having finished second in the contest for the land that is now Toledo, meteoric metropolis of the midwest, Bagdad of the Maumee, latent lion of the lake.

Making annexation of Toledo to Michigan laughable is the fact that Michigan is 137 years in arrears on its reparation payments to Ohio. Best estimates place the damage done by Michigan during its futile Toledo War of 1835-36 at $121,347.62 in taxes illegally collected while Toledo status was in doubt: $163,897.02 property damage, cabbage crops, etc., and $500,000 of needless wear and tear on the Ohio militia. After multiplying by three to reflect punitive damages and adding a fair interest rate of one and one-half percent per month on the unpaid balance, the total war debt comes to $11,668,990,042.92, not a cent of which has been received to date.

Besides, the accepted rule is "three strikes and you're out" and Michigan has tried—and lost—three times; in the 1835 war, in a 1965 law suit asking for 70 square miles more of Lake Erie, and in the more recent bid for 200 more square miles of the lake. And who would want to make Congress an indian giver?

Reader Lauds Bid Rejection

To the Editor:

Compliments to the Northville School Board for rejecting the "low" bid of W. E. Schulz. Your article causes me to suspect the W. E. Schulz Company of acting in an unethical manner. At a time when our national citizenry is beleaguered by the unethical conduct of some government officials and business leaders, people are very wary of the integrity of their public officials.

Some would probably assume that there was an honest error, but I, as one, question the methodology used by the W. E. Schulz Co. This company knew the ground rules before hand and it should have accepted the responsibility of its legitimate bid. If this company is going to unethically raise its bid after finding out it was considerably lower than the next organization, then what kind of reliability can we expect concerning workmanship on the structure?

Cheers for the board and possibly W. E. Schulz should do some soul searching.

'For the life of me I cannot understand why intelligent Michiganders would want to annex any portion of Ohio, the acknowledged armpit of America.

We've got enough problems of our own without inviting the likes of what the vicious Buckeyes have to offer.

Instead of warring for Ohio land, I suggest the wiser action would be to erect giant signs on our southern border warning Michigan motorists that crossing into Ohio is foolhardy adventure.

Having sojourned in Ohio recently, I can tell you without fear of contradiction that Ohio treats tourists like Cain treated Abel.

Frank Kochalko, South Lyon's band director and a Buckeye refugee extended the peculiar Ohio hand of courtesy recently when he invited me to spend a fishing weekend at his hometown of Belle Valley, a tiny coal mining town on the slopes of the southeast Ohio mountains where giant machines are gobbling up the countryside.

After arriving in Belle Valley, we drove higher into the mountains and into a pretty state park. Leaving my car in a clearly marked parking area along with a half-dozen other vehicles, we went off fishing in a large nearby lake.

Several hours and no fish later we returned to the car. Although it was still parked where we left it, the road out of the parking lot and out of the park was gone. In its place was another lake!

"Frank, wasn't there a road here when we drove in?" I asked incredulously. Certain we had not floated in, he had to agree. "I'll ask around," he said matter-of-factly without the least bit of excitement in his voice, "and see if anyone knows what happened to it."

He returned with the incredible story that oil drilling rigs had obliterated the state right-of-way and crushed a huge culvert in the roadbed. Attempts to fix the damage and drain the flooded roadway would be made as soon as they found time.

Meanwhile, the huge vehicles aided by pushing and pulling bulldozers continued to grind up the park drive, topple trees, and mangle shrubs further up the road.

So help me, none of the Ohio residents present seemed at all concerned about the damage being done either to their public road or to the state park itself.

And when an oil company boss announced two hours and 45 minutes later that it was near quitting time and that the repair work would have to wait until Monday, the prospect of being marooned in the parking lot for two days bothered no one but me.

When pleas fell on deaf ears, I lost my temper, stomped on the accelerator and power-boated my car out into the middle of the water-covered roadway.

"There's only one way those blankety-blank bulldozers are going to get out of this park," I shouted to the startled spectators on the bank, "and that's either by shoving me through this mess or driving right over the top of me."

News From Lansing

Michigan Representative

Since Biblical times no public officials have been so abused and maligned as the tax collectors. In Michigan this public and official discontent centers particularly on the three men who make up the State Tax Commission. "Three men who consider themselves appointed by God and answerable to no one!" raged one of my colleagues in the House of Representatives last week. (Actually, they are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.)

The duties of the Tax Commission include the establishment of the state equalized value (S.E.V.) of each assessing district and also the hearing of tax appeals from local units of government as well as from individual taxpayers. The Commission's work is made necessary partly by the tendency of some local assessors in rural communities to keep themselves popular with the voters by rating property values too low.

Since the Tax Commissioners can change the assessed value, and therefore the taxes on any individual piece of property in the state, or on whole counties, with the stroke of a pen, these three men are indeed among the most powerful figures in the State of Michigan.

Many individuals have appealed to the Commission to their regret. For, often as not, citizens asking for a decrease in their property assessment have gone away with an increase instead! On the other hand, local assessors complain that the Tax Commission is frequently too easy on big business, granting reductions to large companies to the detriment of local communities and school systems which depend on the taxes paid by the companies to balance their budgets.

Thus no bill has stirred more intense controversy in the House of Representatives than the passage of Senate Bill 10. Originally, the bill was worded in order to submerge the 3-man Tax Commission in a new 7-man body to be called the State Board of Equalization. However, a Senate committee struck out this portion leaving language which would merely limit the Tax Commission's authority to equalize county property values for this year.

When the Senate passed the bill on May 8, it would have aided 33 counties in which the State Tax Commission was threatening to raise the county equalized valuations. Soon after, however, the Commission agreed to accept the local boards' figures in 25 of these counties, leaving only 8 where the values would be frozen if Senate Bill 10 were enacted. Several legislators cried that this was a scurrilous "divide and conquer" technique on the part of the Commission, and that if the Legislature did not act to block it now other counties would be targeted in following years. Neither Wayne nor Oakland Counties were among the eight.

On May 23 an attempt was made to refer the bill to the Appropriations Committee where it would presumably be buried. I supported the referral motion, but it fell four votes short of the 56 needed. Nine days later the same tactic was tried again but by now many of us were growing weary of the parliamentary nonsense and voted to keep the bill before the House to be settled one way or the other.

After several amendments failed, the bill was laid over until last week. When the showdown came I voted against the bill, having by then become convinced that it would only interfere with the work of a Commission which was, after all, just doing its duty as provided by law. However, the opportunity to strike a blow at the power of the hated Tax Commission was too much for most House members to resist and the bill passed by a vote of 65 to 39.

PTA Elects Officers

Moraine PTA completed its 1972-73 school year with a salad luncheon for teachers and staff members on Wednesday, June 6, and the election of new PTA officers.

The luncheon marked the third year that each PTA board member has brought a favorite salad for the event.

At the luncheon, Mrs. Naomi Poe, fourth grade teacher at the school, was presented with a five-year service award by Milton E. Jacobi, Moraine principal.

Officers elected for the 1973-

74 school year are Mrs. Don (Bev) Williams, president; Mrs. William (Barb) VanBuren, vice-president; Mrs. Wes (Sally) Henriksen, secretary; Mrs. Carle (Ruth) Weikel, treasurer and Mrs. Lou Wolf, teacher vice-president.

Library Hours Set

Summer hours begin Monday, June 18, for the Novi Public Library.

During the summer, the library will be open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday. It will be closed all day Saturday and Sunday, according to Novi Librarian Mrs. Dorothy Flattery.

Bus Drivers Don't Get Fair Share

To the Editor:

Once again contracts are being negotiated for non-certified personnel in our school system; i.e., cooks, secretaries, custodians and bus drivers.

For too many years these groups have been left to flounder about on their own when attempting to write an equitable and comprehensive contract.

Someone in a position of authority should have long since sensed the need these groups have for assistance and direction in this area.

This year we are indeed fortunate in that our administrators are sincere in their desire to assist the non-accredited employees in their efforts to rectify past inequities and discriminatory clauses too long existent in these contracts.

However, the administration and the board's hands are tied at a certain point, in that they cannot dictate what shall or shall not be placed before the negotiating committee.

Thus we come to the point herein; as bus drivers our contract stipulates we must work over ten years to reach the top of our pay scale.

How this archaic and discriminatory wage clause came into existence is a long and unhappy story in itself; suffice to say that it remains in our contract because a handful of drivers at the top of the seniority pecking order refuse to vote for its abolishment or reduction down to a fair and reasonable scale of five years, commensurate with all other districts in our area. After much foot-dragging and bullying these top drivers have at last seen fit to request a ceiling of eight years. Again, benefiting the top few.

As a result of this

Accepting Donations

To the Editor:

At the suggestion of one of our contributors to the Family Clothes Closet, I am writing to ask the Mothers of Northville to remember we accept clothing donations every Wednesday night between 7 and 9 p.m. We have tried to help many needy families in the Northville area. We also accept shoes. We have a great need for baby clothes and small children's clothes.

The Family Clothes Closet is located at the east end of the Cooke Annex School. There is a light above the door and a yellow sign posted every Wednesday night.

Any clothing donations will be gratefully accepted and will be put to very good use.

antiquated and demeaning clause Novi finds it virtually impossible to recruit transfer drivers from other districts or substitute drivers. And in fact when a new full time driver is acquired more often than not it is because we have gone among our friends and acquaintances and prevailed upon them in desperation to join us.

We have people who live in Novi who drive for surrounding districts rather than wait 10 years to reach top pay in their home district. We have drivers who transfer out of the Novi district, taking their experience with them and move into the top pay bracket in another school system.

Let no one take this as an indictment of their abilities, as drivers their skill is unparalleled. Novi Schools' transportation department enjoys the finest safety record in Oakland County, the highest accident county in Michigan in school bus mishaps.

But their sense of compassion for their fellow drivers leaves something to be desired. We all logged many thousands of miles this year - together. Each doing the same job, nearly half of us for considerably less pay.

I dare say no one anywhere in our community, whatever their line of work wait ten years to reach top pay level, nor even eight. Let us hope these drivers will reconsider their adamant stand on this issue, thereby facilitating our ability to recruit new drivers and hold our experienced ones.

A vote of gratitude to the Novi Board of Education for their astute choice of new administrators. This past year has seen a revolutionary change of attitudes in employees in the Novi system at all levels. It is a distinct pleasure to work for them and with them.

Dr. Gerald Kratz and Dr. William Barr, thank you.

Sincerely,
Marilyn J. Kreger offered the city of Wixom a full year of service for $2,010 and Wixom did not even answer the letter."

Willis answered Coy's charge saying that the Walled Lake Library had been paid for services until June 30, 1973 and at the time the new proposal was made, Wixom requested a breakdown of the Walled Lake system's budget and they did not respond.

Coy further charged that the January 10 letter had never appeared on the city council's agenda. The reason given by Willis was that the request for a budget breakdown was a verbal one and had there been a submission of a breakdown, it, with the letter of January 10, would have been placed on a council agenda as soon as it was received.

"I don't feel the citizens of Wixom are getting a fair shake," Coy exclaimed. "Walled Lake is affiliated with the Wayne County Federated Library Systems. That means that I can get any book that is anywhere in Wayne County. Walled Lake has better services than Wixom could provide."

Willis countered by stating the decision was not Wixom's or Walled Lake, but was a matter necessitated because of a hearing before the State Library Board in Lansing on April 18. "The money is in the library Board budget," he added. "We were just waiting for a budget breakdown before we went ahead with paying them."

"If I could buy a car for $100," said Coy, "I wouldn't ask the dealer to see his budget. This Walled Lake service is an obvious bargain."

Mrs. Catherine Olson, a member of the Wixom Library Board was in the audience and asked to be heard. She stated the Wixom Library Board and the Walled Lake Library Board had scheduled a meeting this Thursday "to try to straighten out the whole situation."

Unless the two factions can come up with some solution, the city of Wixom may be without library books for a while.

Council voted unanimously to refer the Walled Lake letter to the Library Board and wait for a report back from it.

Church School Set

Northville children of all denominations are invited to attend the First United Methodist Church of Northville's 1973 Vacation Church School.

Held at the church, the school is open to children who were in grades kindergarten through six in the 1972-73 school year. The first session will be on Monday, June 18.

The school will be in operation for two weeks and classes are scheduled for 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The theme for this year's school is "Everyone Is Special". Some of the activities planned include trips to nature centers and a bakery and making ice cream and popcorn. In general, the aim of the school is to teach the student about the world around him.

Parents wishing to learn more about the school can call the church office at 349-1144. The First United Methodist Church is located at Taft and Eight Mile Roads.

Directors of the school, this year, are John and Dorothy Sanders.

administrator in Northville Public Schools for the past 25 years, will assume the post of assistant superintendent on July 1. No salary change has been made.

Presently director of instruction, she will continue to have instruction and curriculum as her major responsibility.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, she will be in charge of the school system in his absence.

Spear said he is "extremely pleased and proud to have one of the few women who have reached this level of administration in the state associated with Northville Public Schools and myself."

Board members explained that with the growth of the school district, building program, initiation of special education in the district and increasing staff, an assistant superintendent is needed in the district.

They added that Miss Panattoni was "best qualified for the job."

At Monday's meeting, she was also recognized by the PTA for her service to students and education in Northville, receiving a 25-year service award.

Miss Panattoni commented that "If you really love your work, 25 years can go by fast. I must thank the board and community for their support of education which made the years go by quickly," she added.

Miss Panattoni has served as director of instruction for the past five years and has been a teacher and department chairman at Northville High.

She also is project director of the experimental year-round school program in Northville, the only operational extended school year program in Michigan.

In establishing the second assistant principal post at Northville High School, board members said the position would serve to strengthen and expand the existing program at the school.

Trustee Richard Ambler stated that the added position is "essential for the overall administration of the school."

Ambler said administration of the high school "includes curriculum, management and working with the teaching staff."

Board members indicated they were looking for a woman to balance out the administration at the high school which presently is handled by two men.

Administrative intern program, to which the board gave its support Monday night, will be for one year only and open to only present faculty members of the district.

At the end of the school year, interns would either return to the classroom, appointed full-time administrators in the district or seek an administrative position in another school district.

Spear pointed out the program would not lock the district into additional administrative positions but yet would serve as a training ground for existing staff members.

Two interns would be used at Amerman Elementary and Cooke Middle School Annex. Both buildings will be operating year-round school programs next year.

"Interns would assist with administration at Amerman, which will have an increased enrollment, and the Annex, where the administration is divided between two buildings, the Annex and Cooke Middle School," Spear said.

The superintendent added that with the construction of three new buildings approved by voters Monday, "we will need three to five new administrators within the next three to five years. We need a program to train our own people and I feel the administrative intern program can do that," he said.

In other personnel matters, trustees issued a new three-year contract to Spear, following a yearly review of his performance.

Effective July 1, the contract runs through June 30, 1976.

Board members also - adjusted the athletic director's salary of Robert Kucher upward by $1200, retroactive to September, 1972, bringing his salary in line with that of other districts in the area;

- accepted resignations of Mrs. Beverly Behrens, kindergarten teacher at Moraine, and Mrs. Beverly Nasso, fourth grade teacher at Main Street, effective at the end of the working day June 15;

- approved a teacher intern contract for Miss Vickie L. Cole, students at Michigan State University, who will teach third grade at Main Street.

Theft ring involving about a dozen larcenies during the past five months has been broken by Northville city police detectives.

Warrants have been obtained against a 17-year-old charging him with two counts of simple larceny. Two 15-year-olds will face similar charges in Wayne and Oakland county juvenile courts. All three are from Northville.

The 17-year-old will be arraigned on the charges July 3 and is free on $500 personal bond.

Nearly all of the stolen articles were sold to youths the three knew, police reported.

Although the investigation is continuing, police said the youths may be linked to as many as 12 thefts, all but one occurring in the City of Northville.

Novi police said they will bring charges against the 17-year-old and several juveniles in connection with the theft of a motorcycle and clock radio from their city.

Patrolman Robert Pankow of the Northville detective bureau said the thefts took place between January and late May.

Initial lead in the case came when a pup tent, pitched in the yard of one of the youths who allegedly purchased the tent from the 17-year-old, was recognized by a neighbor as the one stolen from his yard the previous week.

Police reports said the owner of the tent questioned the youth's father who in turn questioned his son as to how he acquired the tent.

Not satisfied with the answers he received, the father brought the tent and his son into the police station, reports said.

Further questioning by Patrolman Pankow reportedly resulted in admission by the youth and others questioned to several thefts in Northville.

Novi detectives Robert Starnes and John Johnson were called into the investigation when it was learned the motorcycle and radio were taken from Novi.

According to reports, the motorcycle was repainted before being sold in Northville so it would not be recognized by its original owner.

Goods are still being recovered by Northville police from homes and vehicles of the youths involved and persons to whom many of the articles had been sold.

Besides the pup tent, repainted motorcycle and portable radio, police have also recovered a propane torch, 10-speed bicycle, two snow tires, two truck tires, several car batteries, tool box and miscellaneous tools, portable television and fm car radio.

While most of the stolen articles were sold to other Northville youths, some were recovered from as far away as Livingston County.

"In at least one instance," Patrolman Pankow said, "one youth was asked by another youth if he thought he could get a specific item for the youth at a cheaper price than that which the stores were charging."

The theft was committed and the item sold, he explained.

Investigation showed that parents of the youths involved did not question where some of the goods the youths had in their possession came from, even though some were kept in basements.

Police said other items were hidden until sold or sold immediately after they were stolen. Prices the goods were sold for range from $8 to $70, police reported.

"We're still investigating the case," Patrolman Pankow explained, "and more property is expected to be recovered."

purchase of a high school site.

Ground breaking is scheduled for July, with opening of the two elementary schools slated for September, 1974. The middle school is expected to be open by January, 1975.

Construction of the three new schools will increase the district's capacity to 6,800 students, carrying the district's projected enrollment through the 1980-81 school year.

Passage of the bond issue does not result in an increase in taxes because of an increase in state equalized valuation of the district and an anticipated decrease in operating millage.

School taxes may even be decreased below the present levy of 35.906 mills, Spear has stated.

The increase in debt levy will be handled through a decrease in the operating millage, which may be reduced more than the amount necessary to retire the bonds, he has explained.

In a related matter, school trustees Monday night approved the sale of the $10 million bonds and named Manufacturers National Bank Northville Branch as depository for the funds.

Bonds will be sold at a special meeting of the school board on Tuesday, July 10.

Reorganizational meeting of the board will be held Monday, July 9, at which time the two new members will assume their positions on the board

Argus Columnist Enters Tourney

The June 29 Sliger Publications Golf Tournament received its first "big name" entry this week.

Dennis Keenon.

That's right, K-E-E-N-O-N. Keenon.

He's a staffer on The Brighton Argus and author of his own weekly column, ingeniously named by the author, "The Column".

Keenon rocketed to fame with a recent effort entitled "Housewives on Easy Street", which was closely followed by another woman-winner, "Destroying Libbers".

"Easy Street" categorically buried a recently-published claim that the housework performed by views is worth $235 per week. Keenon noted that most of their time is spent staring at a television tube.

Then he sat himself in front of the TV tube and matched Bobby Riggs stroke-for-stroke as they defeated Tennis Pro Margaret Court together. He related to his readers the satisfaction that Keenon (age 27) and Riggs (age 55) gained in putting women trying to compete in a man's world in their proper place.

Now Keenon is entering the golf arena. But instead of challenging the fairer sex (his entry into the women's division was declined), he's taking on all comers.

And the ever-clever Keenon is reaching deep into his golf bag of tricks to make sure his performance doesn't tarnish his reputation.

He's taking lessons...from a hypnotist...to improve his mental attitude and hopefully his golf game.

Between now and June 29 Keenon has scheduled three sessions with Tod Hornkohl, a teacher of metaphysics at Brighton High School and a professional hypnotist.

Keenon claims he usually shoots between 80 and 85 for 18 holes. He figures after three sessions with Hornkohl that his golf might improve enough to challenge for the championship trophy of the 18-hole event at Bob O' Link Golf Course.

Just to make certain that Keenon isn't sandbagging a stroke or two on his golf skills, he'll play a supervised practice round over the 18-hole south course at Bob O' Link this week.

The results will be published next week.

It's the Same Old Story...Just Keep Your Eye on the Ball

And then the world will watch as Keenon performs in the June 29 tourney.

hitting a bad shot or two," Keenon informed his teacher.

Hornkohl said he could build up Keenon's confidence and improve his frame of mind in facing adversity.

"But whether or not this carries over into his ability to physically hit the ball, I can't predict", cautioned Hornkohl.

But the Brighton teacher has worked with athletes. He helped a semi-pro football player who lacked sufficient aggressiveness. And he's worked with a bowler and a basketball player.

Keenon's first session with Hornkohl will last two hours. Another hour-long session will follow next week.

And then on the day before the big tournament Keenon will be given a final hour of mind building.

Don't Miss Tee Off...

Tee-off time for Keenon on June 29 at Bob O' Link will be well publicized in advance so that his many fans, and the multitude of curious golfers who would do almost anything to chop a few strokes off their game, can witness the results of the experiment.

Will "Arnie" Keenon boom a 250-yarder straight down the middle of the fairway?

Or will he still be plagued by "slow hands" and mental lapses?

It should be more fun than the soap operas, girls.

Keenon's Confident...

Will hypnotism make Dennis Keenon an Arnold Palmer?

Will The Argus lose its top columnist to the professional golf tour?

Will Keenon stroll to a sub-par 65 or 66 and toss his hat to the gallery after stroking in a 50-footer on the final green for the Sliger Publications' Golf Tournament Championship?

Keenon is confident. Almost cocky.

Last week he wanted to know when his trophy was going to be ordered.

Hypnotist Hornkohl is more reserved in his predictions. He has not suggested that Keenon should sell his typewriter.

"But if he has any natural ability", says Hornkohl, who is a non-golfer himself and may suspect that Keenon has confused the art of mind therapy with miracle working, "we should be able to improve his power of positive thinking."

Keenon's serious about his golf.

...But Hornkohl's Cautious

And so is Hornkohl in teaching his clients to use the creativeness of their own minds.

Golfer Keenon admits to only a few weaknesses in his golf game.

"My hands are a little slow in the hitting area. I need more whip at contact. It would help if I had more confidence, especially over five-foot putts. And I get a little discouraged after

Calling All Area Golfers

There are still plenty of openings in the June 29 golf tournament for men and women residing in the circulation area served by The Northville Record-Argus, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus community weekly newspapers.

The tourney will be staged at Bob O' Link golf course on Grand River at Beck Road in Novi.

The 27-hole layout has been reserved for the day for the Sliger Publications' tournament with men playing 18-holes on the south course, while women will compete for best scores by playing the nine-hole north course twice.

All amateur golfers 18 years of age and older residing in either Northville, Novi, Wixom, South Lyon or Lyon, Salem, Brighton, Hartland, Lakeland, Pinckney or Hamburg are eligible to enter.

But the field will be limited to the first 300 golfers.

Deadline for entering is noon, Friday, June 22.

(See details and entry form in advertisement on back page of this section).

The tourney, first ever sponsored by Sliger Publications, will be designed as a fun affair for golfers of all abilities. There will be special recognition for the best performances by elected officials and for residents of the various communities represented.

Player pairings and tee-off times will be published in the June 27-28 editions with players of similar ability being paired in the same foursomes.

At least two or three flights, depending upon the entry field, are planned in both men's and women's competition so that all contestants regardless of ability will have an opportunity to win prizes.

Sliger Publications' staffers will help conduct the tourney and see to it that all players are paired and their scores recorded.

Just a few days remain, to enter the day-long fun event. Why not call up your golfing cronies and ask them to enter, too.

Or, if you'd like to meet some new faces on the golf course, just sign up and let our tournament committee handle the pairings.

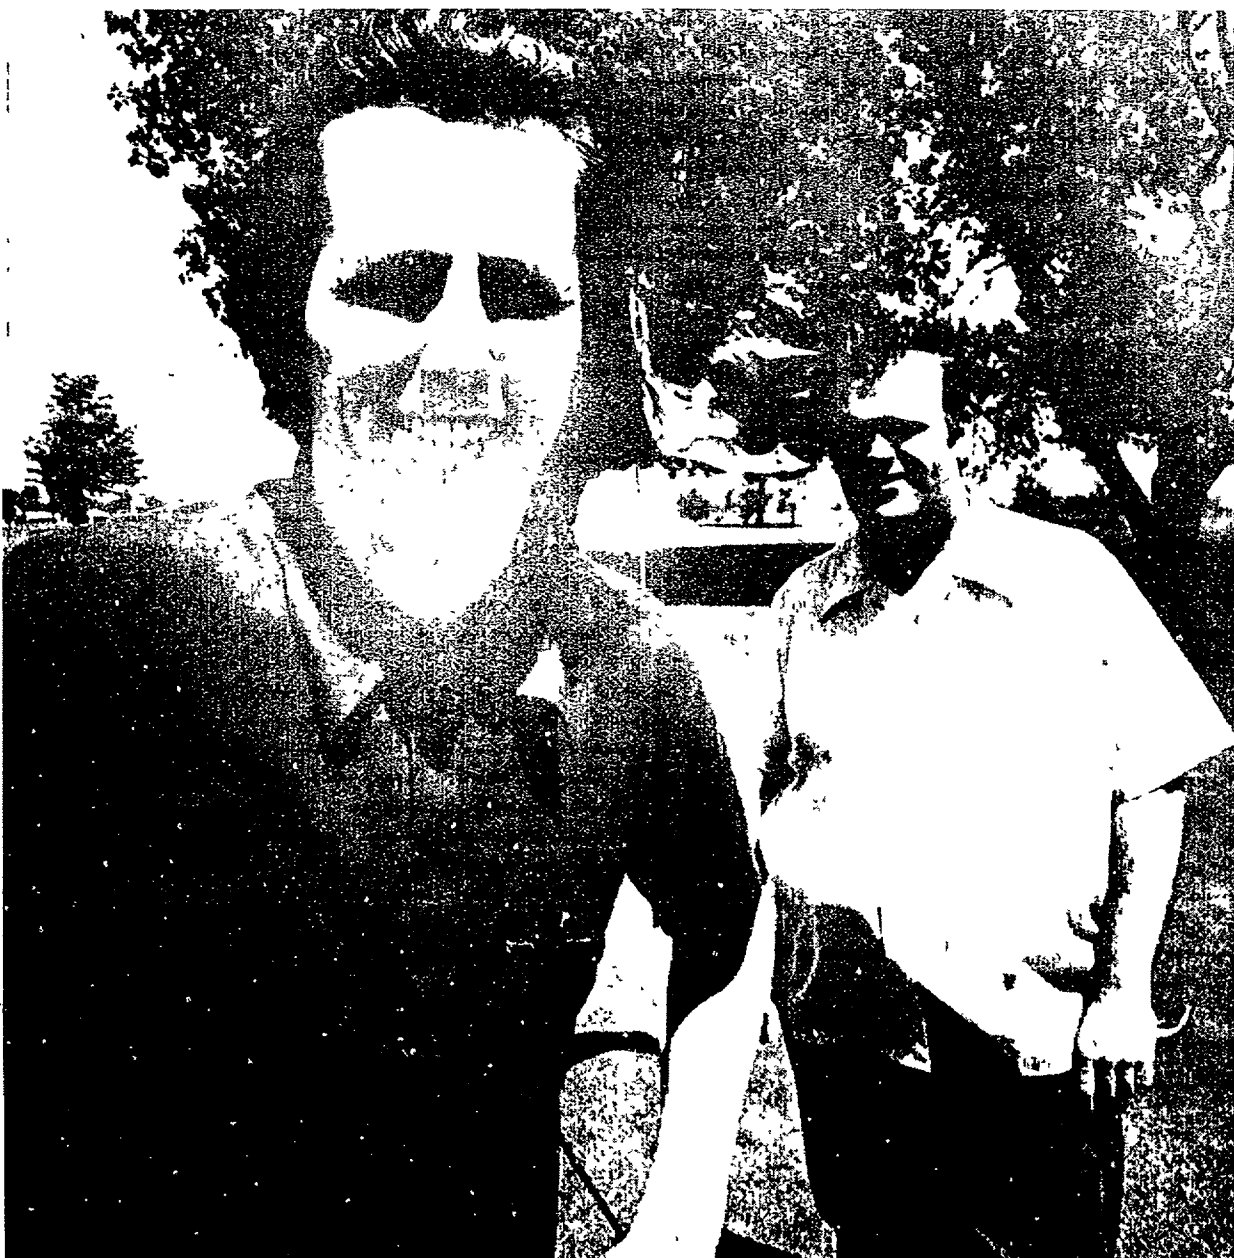

Turn to the back page of this section and fill out the entry form. Mail it along with your entry fee to The Northville Record, or drop it off at any one of our offices in Northville, South Lyon or Brighton.

Meanwhile, you might stop out at Bob O' Link and tell Owner-Pro Midge Cova, or his golfing - wife, or Professional Dave Zielinski to give you a few pointers on how to play their course. You might even play a practice round. (And they have entry forms at Bob O' Link, too).

It's a great chance to renew old acquaintances and meet some new golfing friends who are your neighbors from throughout the Northville-Argus-South Lyon and Brighton area.

And don't worry about being beaten out by Keenon, the Argus columnist who has been boasting about winning the championship.

Word around the newsroom is that it will take more than a hypnotist to cure Keenon's slice.

Needles Dropping?

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

HINTS ON MID-SUMMER CARE

In the heat of summer we have a tendency to relax and neglect some of the very important tasks in garden maintenance. During leisure hours there are a number of improvements that can be made that will reap rich rewards.

The summer season can now become tree or shrub planting time. Hitherto, these plants could not be set in or transplanted in hot summer months. There are plastic coating materials on the market which act as a protection for this delicate operation.

SUMMER WATERING

The best practice is to water in the morning which will prevent such diseases as mildew, blight and black spot of roses that come with wet foliage. By all means, avoid full sun and high winds. The top few inches of soil must be thoroughly soaked to be sure that the needed water penetrates to the roots. Consistent moisture is important for healthy lawns, plants, trees and shrubs.

MULCHES

One of the secrets to easier gardening is the use of a summer mulch. Its main advantage is to keep down weeds which become a greater nuisance during the heat of summer. Materials, such as hardwood bark and buckwheat hulls, conserve moisture and maintain a neat appearance for beds and borders.

TREES AND SHRUBS

Judicious pruning will pay dividends in many ways. It will help plants to grow more thickly and shapely. Smaller plants will be given a better chance of survival. The removal of lower limbs produces better shade, particularly in the case of fast-growing trees.

ROSES

A regular spraying or dusting program is necessary for healthy bushes. In every case, the underside of the foliage also needs careful spraying to prevent disease. Decayed blooms as well as leaves should not be left on the ground. Old flower clusters should be snipped off regularly, especially in the case of floribunda roses, to guarantee summer-long blossoms.

BULBS

This is the time to divide and transplant iris, madonna lilies and peonies if you have not already done so. In the case of dahlias, side shoots need pinching when the plants are about a foot high.

PERENNIALS

A complete fertilizer worked around the plants will produce better results. Delphinium and phlox are two types that require some special attention. If the first faded blooms are removed promptly and the stalks pruned, a second crop of flowers can be produced.

GENERAL HINTS

Any plants that have a tendency to tall growth, especially due to the heat of summer, need the protection of sturdy stakes. These supports are important in the case of summer storm damage.

Careful cultivation is a task for the summer season. Its main purpose is to keep down weeds which rob the plants of valuable food and moisture. It helps to maintain a soil structure to abet plant growth. Shallow cultivation is in order, particularly in the case of roots too near the surface of the soil. Extra care given to clean cultivation in summer will reap definite rewards this fall.

"What's wrong with my evergreen? It is dropping needles (leaves)." This is a common question and observation made by many gardeners each year. Many people think that evergreens are 'ever green' and never drop their needles, except when under stress. The fact is that evergreens drop their leaves, but frequently not for a number of years.

The persistence of needles on evergreens varies considerably among species. Usually, evergreen needles last for three years. In some species, such as juniper and Douglas fir, they may persist for 10 or more years. However, in arbor vitae and white pine, the needles turn brown or yellow and drop in the autumn of the second year. Also, needles of yew (Taxus) commonly yellow and drop in late spring or early summer of the third year. This leaf drop in arbor vitae, white pine and yew is sometimes viewed with alarm by people who are not acquainted with this natural process.

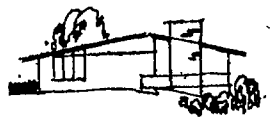

Broadleaved evergreens normally drop their leaves, which are two or three years old, following the current season's flush growth. Thus, it is common to observe rhododendrons, holly, and other broadleaved plants dropping leaves during the summer and early fall.

In addition to normal leaf drop, a number of environmental and physical factors can affect the persistence of leaves on evergreen plants. Factors that might cause early leaf drop include: a change in soil acidity (pH), availability of water (too much or too little), extremes in temperature and air pollution.

Other factors that induce premature leaf drop in evergreens include: insect attack disease infestation, nutrient imbalance, excess soluble salts, and the activities of man and animals. De-icing salts have been found to be detrimental to the needles of white and red pine, arbor vitae and hemlock.

If your evergreens are shedding their needles, consider first that it may be the period of natural leaf fall for the species. Should this not be the case, or the evergreen is shedding current season's needles or current season's needles are turning brown, consider the various factors that affect needle drop, and try to determine what might be the cause of the problem. But, if you cannot identify the cause of the problem, contact your local nurseryman or your county agricultural agent for assistance.

Enhances Home

Lights Add Space to Yard

Would you like to increase the size of your home with little expense and effort?

You can with outdoor lighting according to D. Newton Glick, landscape architect and urban planner at Michigan State University. "With outdoor lighting, your yard, porch, garden, pools, terrace or patio will add extra living space to your home," says Glick.

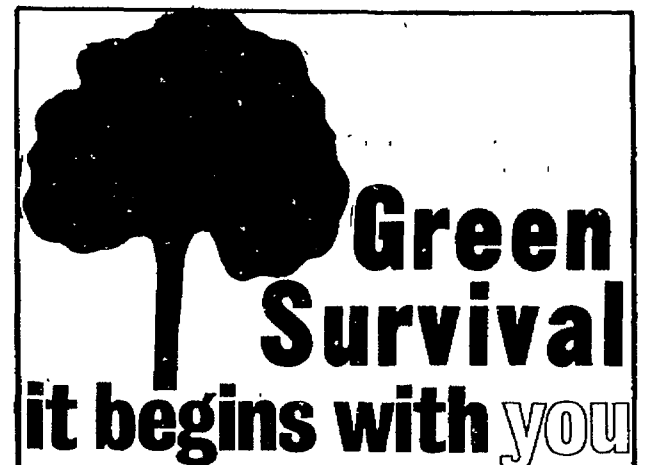

There are several other advantages to lighting the outdoors. Sports, barbecues, and games can be enjoyed in the cool of the evening. Large guest lists are no problem when the great outdoors becomes your entertaining area.

Outdoor lighting makes your home and garden a showplace after dark, and it prevents accidents and discourages trespassers. Moreover, garden enthusiasts can work in the cool hours after the sun has disappeared, says Glick.

Border lights, mushroom lights and floodlights enhance grounds and provide more room for living and entertaining. Portable spotlights make star attractions of trees and shrubs.

Background area should not be strongly or uniformly floodlighted, although visual boundaries should be defined with specific lighting. Avoid continuous even light; it defeats depth effect. "White light is very effective for outdoor lighting," says Glick. "Flowers are more vivid and foliage is a lighter, brighter green."

LANSING—It is commonly accepted as gospel in Lansing that Gov. William G. Milliken will run for another term next year. If he doesn't, it will mean he has misled people with the broad hints dropped all over the state.

What about other state office holders? What are their plans for 1974?

Best bet is that they all will run for re-election to the posts they hold now.

Probably the biggest question mark of the three is Lt. Gov. James H. Brickley.

Brickley says he won't make any decisions until the governor comes to him and tells him first whether the governor will run and second whether the governor wants Brickley as a running mate again.

In the highly unlikely event Milliken decides not to run, Brickley would most surely run for the higher office. Since that takes much planning and organization, Brickley is making no moves now to put together that kind of effort.

Milliken has been very complimentary to Brickley the past two and one half years and in all likelihood will ask him to run as lieutenant governor with him again.

THAT LEAVES BRICKLEY to decide whether to take what in all likelihood is the safest route as Milliken's running mate or to strike out on his own and run for attorney general.

That's another nomination Brickley could have if he wanted it, but it's doubtful he will want it if incumbent Democrat Frank Kelley decides to run for another term.

Kelley lost a Senate race last year to Robert Griffin, but he is still quite popular and a most formidable foe. That, plus the fact attorney general candidates don't generate the money the races like the governorship do, makes Kelley and his high visibility well nigh unbeatable.

For Brickley it would be a case of gambling much for rather less impressive returns.

KELLEY HAS SEVERAL options open to him.

There's still talk of him running for governor, but Kelley discounts that. He never wanted the office and still seems to feel it is basically unattractive.

There has been some speculation that he might run for the Supreme Court. But he is known to feel that is too monastic of an existence for him. He is too outgoing to enjoy being cloistered in a room full of lawbooks writing solemn opinions.

He also could go into private practice, but he feels the only reason to do that would be to make carloads of money, a goal that doesn't appeal that much to him. The $35,000 he makes as attorney general is quite comfortable.

Thus, he'll in all likelihood try for another term.

THAT LEAVES DEMOCRATIC Secretary of State Richard Austin.

There is no doubt about what he'll do, since he already has announced it. When he withdrew his name from consideration as a candidate for mayor of Detroit, Austin said that instead he'd run for another term as secretary of state next year.

That honest declaration proved tactically disadvantageous, since announced candidates are covered by the equal time provisions of federal law concerning broadcast appearances. That meant anyone else in the state could announce as a candidate for secretary of state and get equal time on broadcast shows that Austin appeared on.

Austin then "withdrew" from the race, though leaving no doubt he'll re-enter at a more opportune time next year.

IT'S STILL A LONG way until the deadline for filing a year from now, and many things can change in the meantime.

Unless they do change, chances are the slogan for all four incumbents in the state's statewide partisan elective offices will be "four more years."

State Boater Safety Second to None

Michigan—the acknowledged boating capital of the nation—has developed a program of boater safety and convenience along its Great Lakes shoreline that is unparalleled in North America, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Sailors who venture onto the Great Lakes will find they are seldom more than 15 shoreline miles from any of the 61 protective harbors and public marinas sponsored by the Michigan Waterways Division of the Department of Natural Resources.

Add to this total the more than 500 commercial and special service marinas scattered all along the lakes, and Michigan provides its boating enthusiasts with the country's finest water safety and recreational facilities.

"Despite the shorter Great Lakes boating season, Michigan has more than twice as many boats using its waters and marina facilities as they have in the year-round vacationland of Florida," explains Joseph L. Ratke, Auto Club touring manager. "In fact, this state ranks first in the number of registered boats with more than 534,000—9 percent of the nation's total. California is a distant second with 456,000 registered boats, or 7.7 percent of the country's total," Ratke points out.

And with recreational boating sales expected to increase 12 to 20 percent this year in Michigan compared with 1972, this would hike the sales total in the state to nearly $400 million for the first time. (This total includes sales for boats, engines, marine accessories, fuel, apparel, repair and maintenance.)

Lake Michigan heads the harbor parade with 24, followed by Lake Huron with 16 and Lake Superior with 15. The Southeast Michigan area, comprising Lakes Erie and St. Clair plus the St. Clair and Detroit rivers, has six harbors.

"Since boating on the Great Lakes is a joy that will always be remembered, it is significant that Michigan has kept pace with this rapidly growing recreational activity by continually updating its facilities for all types of watercraft," states Ratke.

"Michigan has met and often exceeded the needs of boaters with its harbors program," adds Ratke. "This is important since our state is the outdoor playground of not only local citizenry, but for the entire Midwest."

"For it is to Michigan that travelers from Indiana, Illinois and Ohio come for summer vacation enjoyment. And much of this enjoyment is supplied by the Great Lakes," he points out.

"This network of inland seas is dotted with many tiny islands and ports of call, all just waiting to be explored by adventurous and non-adventurous sailors alike. And since many boaters travel great distances along the lakes, it is important their basic needs are met."

This is certainly the case as the 61 "ports of call" on Auto Club's map provide a complete number of services. Twenty-one ports have nearby U.S. Coast Guard stations, 47 have holding tank pump-out, 27 marine repairs, 52 launching ramps, 41 at least 10 transient wells (only three have none), 55 gasoline and oil, 55 electricity, 56 water, 53 telephone, 52 ice and supplies and 54 restroom facilities. Ten render all of the listed services.

Sailors may choose from the urban areas of Southeast Michigan, where the emphasis is on day-sailing, racing, boating clubs and waterside restaurants; the sandy beaches and dunes along Lake Michigan; the many variations of Lake Huron; or the virtually unspoiled beauty of Lake Superior.

"Each of the Great Lakes offers a different and unique experience so that boaters should never run out of new and exciting things to do," Ratke states. "The state's harbor system has helped bring these experiences within the realm of nearly all sailors."

'It's Irresponsible'

Nix on New Capitol

Senator Carl Pursell, member of the Senate's powerful Appropriations Committee, is attempting to block the effort to resurrect the once dormant New State Capitol project.

He is convinced a new capitol structure "is the wrong project at the wrong time."

"Those supporting this development see the present surplus as perhaps their last chance, and they're pushing hard for it now," Pursell said. "I totally oppose this project. It has a conservatively-estimated price tag of $80 to $100 million, and I think it's fair to say the total cost could easily run well in excess of the $100 million figure."

Supporters want several million dollars this year just to get started.

Pursell, who lives in Plymouth and represents the Northville-Novi-Wixom area, said one argument advanced for proceeding with the Capitol Complex is that $1.8 million in planning and development costs have been appropriated in past years for the project.

"This is a pretty empty argument for the expenditure of $100 million or more, in my opinion," Pursell countered, "especially when you consider the millions we've poured into renovating the old building in the last few years. For example, Senate renovation alone has cost more than $2.1 million in the last few years. We're faced with writing off either the $1.8 million, or the several millions more invested in the renovation project. The more prudent course seems obvious to me."

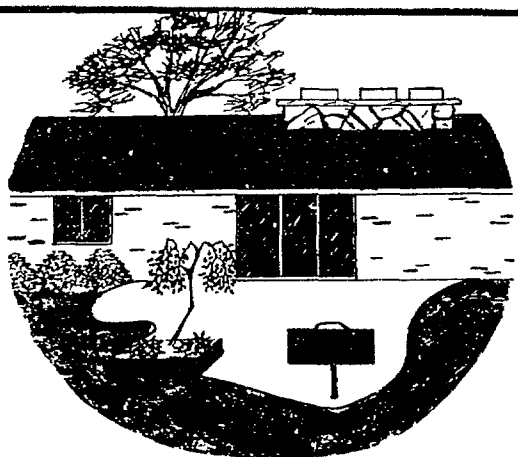

"Some people say we need more space but I think we have reasonably adequate facilities for the Legislature and the Governor. If we do need more space for staff then we can build an annex, but we don't have to build an entire new Capitol to accommodate needed staff."

Pursell added his opinion that a new Capitol is a questionable expense from a programming standpoint.

"I think it's irresponsible to proceed on such a project when we haven't solved our great tax inequities; When we haven't fully met the needs of education, mental health, environment and other necessities; When complete fiscal control and sensible financial management are still goals instead of realities," he added.

"I think the attempt is being made to convince the public and the Legislature that construction of a new Capitol is inevitable," Pursell argued. "The strategy will then be to contend that we must proceed now because the project will only get more expensive if we wait. Well, I most emphatically disagree that we must proceed. I hope my colleagues and Michigan's citizens won't be lulled into accepting this gross misdirection of our priorities."

from the Pastor's Study

'Life is Real'

The Reverend Elmer Boniek
Pastor,
Christ The Master Lutheran Church
Wixom

While we are new upon the church scene of this area, that which we have to proclaim is not new. We speak about man, about God, about the present and the eternal. Our lives will be the most unhappy and their end prove most bitter if we do not realize in the words of Longfellow:

"Life is real, life is earnest,
And the grave is not its goal;
'Dust thou art, to dust returnest'
Was not spoken of the soul."

One cannot spend the minutes and hours, and then the days and years of his life on trifles and then hope to reap a rich and blessed reward. No, they that sow to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption. It will ever be true in the words of the old adage: "Sin is an instrument with many tools, but a lie is a handle which fits them all." If you tell one lie, you will be forced to tell a hundred more to cover it up. Sir Walter Scott has put it very ably:

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave
When first we practice to deceive."

"That which we need in life is truth. Truth is verity! But it is more. It is the Christ of God who alone can say: 'I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by Me.'" John 14:6. "Everyone that is of the truth, heareth my voice." John 18:37.

If you have found Him in humble faith, you cannot safely barter Him away for in Him is your eternal wellbeing. Toplady has put it very well in one of our cherished hymns:

"Nothing in my hand I bring,
Simply to Thy cross I cling;
Naked, come to Thee for dress,
Helpless, look to Thee for grace;
Foul, I to the fountain fly—
Wash me, Savior, or I die."

Dave calls this his wedding picture. He was best man when Jane and I were married, and a prouder boy you'll never see.

He loved Jane from the first. He never thought of her as a stepmother.

Jane's zest for life, her merry ways, her love for God were happily contagious. The unhappy years we'd known faded. Soon we were marching off to church with her as though it were our own idea.

Tomorrow Dave will be married, and I'll be his best man. He and Susan are a fine couple. Jane and I don't worry about their marriage. Their relationship has a depth that comes from a mutual love for God and His Church. In the years ahead, their church will be a bedrock of understanding and strength.

The Church is the starting point for the happiness that every family needs.

Cement Capacity Declining?

DR. RUSSELL F. SMITH, M. D., a nationally-recognized authority on the disease of alcoholism, has been named chief medical consultant for Brighton Hospital, Brighton. Brighton Hospital is one of the nation's leading hospitals devoted to the treatment of alcoholism, the foremost disease of addiction in the United States.

Dr. RUSSELL F. SMITH

Dr. Russell F. Smith's appointment was announced by Anthony M. Mekel, Jr., executive director of the hospital. Mekel stated, "Dr. Smith will assist in the development and operation of Brighton's medical program, will serve as consultant on the medical laboratory program, and will take part in the continuing series of weekly lectures for patients."

Dr. Smith is active in state and federal alcoholism programs and research. He is a State Planning Task Force member and a member of the Governor's Office of Drug and Alcohol Abuse.

He has lectured in many states and is the author of the Overdose Aid Manual, written in cooperation with the American Red Cross, and a new treatise called Abstinence, Insanity or Death.

Russell F. Smith, M. D., earned degrees in anthropology and medicine at The University of Michigan. He completed postgraduate work in anthropology, internal medicine, psychiatry and adolescent medicine, in part at Harvard Children's Hospital.

He resides at Whitmore Lake in the Ann Arbor area.

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—As a result of the post-World War II building boom, cement shipments increased at a rapid rate between 1947 and the mid-1950's.

Cement manufacturers operated at or near capacity level with confidence bolstered by what appeared to be a favorable industry outlook, a long-delayed expansion of facilities was undertaken. This led to the addition of about 22 million tons of capacity between 1955 and 1960.

Unfortunately, projections of demand for cement were overoptimistic. As new capacity was added, construction activity began to slacken. Capacity utilization in the industry fell to 70 percent, causing a fiercely competitive battle among the cement producers to maintain their market share.

Prices were reduced, rising costs were absorbed by producers, and severe shrinkage of profit margins ensued. These chaotic conditions prevailed throughout most of the 1960s. The industry's return on investment, which had averaged close to 14 per cent for several years in the 1950s, dropped to 4.7 per cent in 1969.

As a consequence of this exceedingly low return, capital for new production facilities became scarce and the gap between capacity and output began to narrow. Sharply rising construction costs also served to put a crimp in new building plans.

WITH THE COMING of the 1970s, a new factor—ecology—further aggravated the supply situation. More stringent pollution-control regulations made it uneconomic to modernize dust-control equipment and many marginal plants were closed. It has been estimated that the cost of adding sufficient pollution-control equipment for the average cement company could amount to $5.50 per ton of capacity. Faced with this prospect, cement producers have found it impractical to put additional funds into a marginal or substantially unprofitable plant.

For this reason, Lehigh Portland Cement has shut down four of its ten cement plants, and Alpha Portland Industries has closed two of its eight plants.

An industry study indicates that 23 more plants (representing 9 million tons of capacity) would be potential candidates for closing before 1976. It seems likely, therefore, that total industry capacity may decline somewhat at a time when the demand for cement is expected to show significant growth.

THE TOTAL VALUE of new construction put in place in 1971 exceeded $100 billion for the first time—in fact, it totaled $109.4 billion, as compared with a disappointing $91.3 billion the previous year.

Construction spending for 1972, liberally aided by the continuing boom in residential housing, climbed another 13 per cent to $123.4 billion. Although a fall-off in residential activity is expected this year, total construction outlays should show a moderate increase stemming from gains in non-residential segments of the industry.

Cement producers are well situated to benefit from improvement in the non-residential sector, since approximately 75 per cent of cement shipments are directed to non-residential construction markets. As a matter of fact, increased demand is foreseen for cement throughout most of the 1970s.

Latest industry projections suggest cement production of 583 million barrels by 1980, 140 million barrels more than the theoretical capacity of producers in 1971.

THE IMPROVED outlook for the cement industry has yet to be generally reflected in the price action of cement stocks. The Research Department of Babson's Reports feels, however, that many issues offer good value at current prices.

Among the cement stocks we think well worth holding are Alpha Portland Industries, General Portland, Ideal Basic Industries, Kaiser Cement & Gypsum, Lehigh Portland Cement, Lone Star Industries, Medusa, Penn-Dixie Industries, Puerto Rican Cement, Vulcan Materials, and Giant Portland Cement.

Representative Smart

House Leader Sketches

New Tax Reduction Bills

Calling them of particular value to senior citizens, veterans and those on modest incomes, House Republican Leader Representative Clifford Smart of Walled Lake has disclosed the following thumb-nail sketch of the new tax reduction bills:

Tax Relief-Who Benefits—All citizens who pay property taxes on their homesteads will receive property tax credits when property taxes exceed 3½ percent of income. The rebate will be 60 percent of the excess over 3½ percent of income, not to exceed $500. There have been some misconceptions about who does benefit by these tax relief measures. And for those who do benefit, there will be some changes in how they go about getting their refunds.

Senior Citizens—The present homestead exemptions that senior citizens have already applied for this year will be allowed. However, beginning January 1974, the following schedule will become effective:

Income below $3,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 of a senior citizen's property tax.

From $3,000 to $4,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 in excess of 1 percent of the individual's income.

From $4,000 to $6,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 in excess of 3 percent of his or her income.

Over $6,000, the state will reimburse up to $500 in excess of 3½ percent of income.

For those senior citizens who rent 17 percent of annual rent of their homesteads will be considered as property taxes. The maximum allowable claim again is $500.

Probably as important for senior citizens is the method by which they will apply for their tax relief. Currently, senior citizens apply for tax exemptions with the township supervisor or city assessor. This will no longer be necessary under the new law.

Under the provisions of the new law, the senior citizen will file a form with the Income Tax Division of the Michigan Department of Treasury, regardless if he has a taxable income or not.

"I think this point should be stressed," Smart said, "because some reports have said that senior citizens who don't pay state income taxes won't benefit because the benefit is only deductible from tax payments. This statement is in error and I want to make that clear to senior citizens as well as assessing officers."

Previously, local units of government received funding from the state for tax exemptions. Under the new law, this is changed. The property tax reduction will be paid directly to the senior citizen by one of the following:

- As a credit against income tax due and payable, or
- In the event that no income tax is due or if the tax credit exceeds the income tax that is due, a direct rebate payment will be made to the applicant by the state.

Veterans—The present homestead exemption the veteran has already applied for will be allowed this year. Effective January 1, 1974, the present ceiling of $10,000 on an individual's state equalized valuation will be completely removed and he will receive reimbursement from the state for the full amount of his disability allowance.

Veterans who rent their homes will be able to consider 17 percent of their annual rent as property taxes. Again, the maximum claim is $500.

Blind Persons—The present homestead exemptions that blind have already applied for will be allowed this year.

Effective January 1, 1974, the state will reimburse the blind person's entire property tax if his valuation as equalized is $3,500 or less. If his equalized valuation is more than $3,500, the state will reimburse the percentage obtained from the ratio of $3,500 to his equalized valuation.

Cost of the blind exemption will now be paid out of the state general fund where, in the past, it has been paid for by local units of government.

In addition to these tax relief measures, the personal state income tax exemption has been raised from the present $1200 per exemption to about $1170 per dependent and constitutes a relief in the state income tax of some $46.80 per year for the average family of four.

The total tax relief provided in this package amounts to about $290 million to individuals and about $94 million to business, or a total reduction in taxes in the next two years of $384 million.

NEW From the Quality Water People

REYNOLDS SLIM CABINET

Automatic Water Conditioner

Designed to be beautiful and to fit most any place - only 12 inches wide.

Same extraordinary quality you expect from Reynolds - with high capacities up to 35,000 grains.

... and, if you have really rusty water, the new, exclusive Reynolds Rust-Purge System is for you. The Rust-Purge System eliminates the problems most water conditioners have with iron content in water.

Yes, you may rent them, too! Rent fees applied toward purchase.

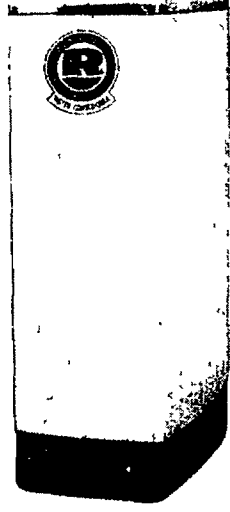

REYNOLDS... Michigan's oldest water conditioning company. Since 1931. A name you can trust.

Meat Price Hikes Tied To Dollar, Pork Supply

June 21:

First Day of Summer

Increasing demand for red meats, the devaluation of the U.S. dollar and a limited supply of pork were the chief causes of meat price hikes in 1973, according to Michigan State University Agricultural Economist Marvin Hayenga.

During the past few years, rising incomes have boosted consumer willingness to pay more for high-protein, high-status red meats. And because they're competing for a somewhat limited supply, consumers have been bidding the price up.

But why the sudden price surge in January through March this year?

One reason may be that employment expanded and Social Security payments were increased by 20 percent in the first part of 1973. Each of these boosted demand.

The dollar devaluation in early February meant essentially that U.S. exports could be bought by foreign countries for 10 percent less, and that Americans would pay 10 percent more for imported items.

Immediately, Japanese pork purchases increased. Also, because retail pork prices in Japan have been 15 percent higher this year than last, the Japanese government removed its usual tariff on imported meat products. This even further motivated Japanese pork purchases.

Hayenga also points out that the risk of further dollar devaluation may have prompted Japanese firms with large holdings of dollars to exchange them for other currencies or to buy products—such as pork—which could be sold for other currencies.

Time will tell what the long-lasting impact of changing export patterns will be on U.S. pork prices, Hayenga says.

Beef was not as quickly affected by the devaluation. During the first post-devaluation weeks, normal import supplies continued at pre-devaluation prices. But with new orders for imports, beef exporting countries asked for the increased price in dollars.

Consumer red meat demand was nearly as great as before the devaluation, so retail prices had to reflect part of this import cost increase.

Another factor in the pork price hike is less hog supplies. A year or two earlier, many

If consumers actually went without meat during the boycott week, their stored meat supplies are probably lasting into later weeks and larger meat supplies are also left available on the market. This could mean a slight reduction in red meat prices, price ceilings and margin and profit controls on some firms. The government, then, has both helped and hindered the price situation.

What Are the Alternatives? Switching to other meats or nonmeat protein such as soybean products is one alternative, Hayenga says. But consumers are slow to change eating patterns.

Expanded beef and pork production may also help. Increased pork supplies will hit the market during the last half of 1973. Expanding beef is more gradual. Substantial beef increases of 6 to 10 percent a year are not likely before 1975, Hayenga says.

Tax incentives, cost subsidies and new technical and management efficiencies may reduce costs, but some proposals may not be politically or economically desirable.

In addition to summer, the month of June will bring the second longest total solar eclipse and a constellation that actually resembles the figure it's named after, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

She says this year's summer will officially begin at 9:01 a.m. (Eastern Daylight Time) June 21.

"The sun has been climbing north since December, and on the 21st it will reach its most northerly point," Professor Losh notes. Known as the summer solstice, this event produces our longest day, 15 hours, and shortest night, 9 hours.

"However, it is unlikely that the 21st will be our warmest day, as one would naturally expect," she points out. "The heat peak usually comes from four to six weeks later because temperatures continue to rise as long as more warmth is received during the day than is lost at night."

The new moon occurring on the 30th is especially significant because it will create a total solar eclipse at 7:39 a.m. E. D. T.

"Although not visible from northern latitudes—the totality path cuts across central Africa—this eclipse is astronomically important because of its long duration of seven minutes and four seconds," the Michigan astronomer notes. She explains that the longest possible total solar eclipse is seven minutes and 30 seconds. In an interval of 1,433 years, the eclipse of the 30th ties for second place in length.

The outstanding constellation of the summer months is Scorpius, which rises in the southeast just after sunset. The scorpion is easily identified as a line of stars curving up like a giant fishhook.

"Unlike many other constellations, Scorpius actually looks something like the figure it is supposed to represent," Professor Losh says. She also observes that Antares, the bright red star in the heart of Scorpius, means "rival of Mars."

"Technically speaking, these two celestial bodies have little in common except their reddish color," she says. Antares, a sun, has a diameter some 75,000 times larger than that of Mars, a planet. Additionally, their distances from earth are not comparable. The light we see from Mars has been traveling for about eight minutes; the light from Antares has been journeying toward us for about 150 years.

Mars rises around 3 a.m. in the east—the same time that Antares is setting in the southwest. Mars is about three times brighter than Antares.

"Other planets of June include Venus, which is fast becoming the "evening star" in the west, and Jupiter, which will be rising in the southeast around midnight and shining through until dawn. On the 15th Saturn comes into conjunction with the sun, and thus will be completely lost to view.

'Beef supplies have been slightly larger than a year ago, but prices nevertheless increased.'

producers had reduced their hog business or quit production entirely due to low hog prices and high corn costs. Even when they chose to increase production to meet demand, built-in delays in the hog production cycle leave us with small supplies and slightly higher prices for a time.

Beef supplies have been slightly larger than a year ago, but prices nevertheless increased. Severe weather caused some cattle deaths, but that impact is probably small and spread over time.

What About the Boycott?

It's hard to determine if there was a large drop in meat consumption during the week of the consumer boycott in early April, Hayenga says. One major impact of the red meat boycott was larger purchases of chicken and fish. The result: short-run higher prices for those two items. Consumers may still have paid a high grocery bill, but it was for food other than red meat, Hayenga points out.

Although many retail stores and meat packers reported substantially reduced red meat sales during the boycott, consumers may have been eating from freezers and refrigerators and restocked them sometime later.

Does the price ceiling placed in March on retail and wholesale red meats have an effect? Larger beef supplies are anticipated during the next several months, so Hayenga feels prices will slacken on their own—unless consumer demand continues to increase at unusual rates.

There may be limited periods in 1973 when retail or wholesale prices for beef and pork "bump the ceiling," the economist says. Pork production is seasonally low during the summer, but greater supplies shortly after should ease prices. Beef prices may reach the ceiling in late fall or early winter, if consumer demand increases at its usual rate. If ceilings are reached, black markets or rationing could occur.

Will price ceilings cause supply shortages in the future? Probably not, Hayenga projects. Ceiling prices are set high enough so meat producers won't stop expanding production, he feels. They may hesitate and thereby slow the rate of increase, however.

The Long-Term Causes.

More mouths to feed and higher consumer incomes have influenced long-run beef and pork price hikes, Hayenga reports.

Greater employment, more federal spending and food stamp and school lunch programs also bring about more red meat purchases.

Red meat prices also include increased packaging, processing and other service costs. Wages are fast increasing while labor efficiency is improving slowly. This increased cost results in higher consumer prices.

During the past few decades, beef and pork production has increased by about 3 percent each year, with normal fluctuation due to natural production cycles. But in the late 1960s and early 1970s, this rate was inadequate to meet demand. Government policy has also assured that grain prices will not drop below certain levels.

Hog - Cattle Profiteering?

A five percent return on investment by hog and cattle feeders is typical in Michigan, with occasional "gold mine" years and "bust" years, Hayenga reports.

When retail prices go up, prices paid by feedlot operators to calf producers may also increase. But for the most part, feedlot and calf producers' profits are low and fluctuating, Hayenga says.

Is the Government to Blame?

The net impact of government action must be left to the judgment of the individual, Hayenga advises. He cites the following as considerations: The U.S. government has in the past limited imports, devalued the dollar, operated deficit budgets and supplemented incomes to expand demand. It has also kept feed grain prices high and grain acreage lower than it might have been. At the same time, it has imposed "Foals with Knock-knees — bow-legs", by Louis E. Newman, DVM, extension specialist Michigan State University.

Foals are sometimes born with "knock-knees" (medial deviation of the carpus) or "bow legs" (lateral deviation of the carpus). The causes are unknown but the growth plate, or physis, above the knee (carpus) is growing too fast on one side.

Early treatment will quickly correct the condition and often prevent rotation of the leg from the fetlock down. Some foals not treated will never have straight limbs. The ideal time of treatment depends on the severity and the individual case.

In my opinion, if the leg isn't straightening by three to four weeks of age, treatment is necessary. Some veterinarians prefer to let them go longer. It is a fact that some will straighten without treatment, but it seems unwise to me to take the chance.

Conventional treatment involves placing the affected leg in a plaster of Paris cast under general anesthesia, with pressure used to correct the deviation. There are other more recent treatments that may be suggested by your local vet.

Celani, Brown Star as Novi Aims for Class C Title

Riley, Dan Kardel, John Pantalone, Tom Celani, and Tim Assemany. Celani (with his hand on his cap) paced the Wildcats by driving in four of their 12 runs with three singles and a home run.

Lack of space is beginning to become a problem in Novi High School's trophy case.

Having won Southeastern Conference and MHSAA Class C District championship trophies two weeks ago, the powerful Novi baseball team picked up yet another trophy Saturday as it slugged its way to the MHSAA Class C Regional championship trophy at Sebewaing.

What next? Rick Trudeau, coach of the Novi nine, has the answer. "The state championship," he says confidently.

"I told our team at the start of the season that I thought they could win the state championship, but they just looked at me kind of funny as if they didn't believe it."

"All we've got to do now is win two more games and we'll have the championship," said Trudeau.

"I know Blissfield is the favorite, but if we keep playing the kind of ball we've been playing, I think we're capable of beating just about anybody."

To win the championship, the Wildcats must first get by Lakeview in the state semifinals at Coldwater Saturday. If they get past that first hurdle, they will play the winner of the Blissfield-St. Joseph Lake Michigan Catholic game for the Class C state championship at 4 p.m.

For complete details see the article elsewhere on this page.

The Wildcats became one of the four teams left in the running for the state title by marching impressively to the Sebewaing Regional championship Saturday.

In the first game they slugged their way to a 7-2 conquest of Richmond and then came back to down Saginaw St. Peter and Paul for the title by a 5-2 margin.

"The key game as far as we were concerned," said Trudeau, "was the game with Richmond. They went into the regionals with a 21-1 record and they looked like the team to beat."

"I can see why they won a lot of games. They put a lot of pressure on you right from the start."

Each of the first four Richmond hitters laid down bunts against Dave Brown, who was on the hill for the Wildcats. Before the inning was over, Richmond had scored one run and only a fine defensive effort by catcher Eric Hansor prevented them from scoring more.

"We got hurt by a couple of real bad calls by the umpire," Trudeau reported. "As a rule we don't like to argue with the umpires, but those were very crucial and very poor calls. I think we argued more on the first two plays of the Richmond game than we've argued all season long."

It didn't take the Wildcats long to tie the game, however. John Pantalone led off with a double and Tom Celani started out what proved to be a fine day at the plate by ripping a single that brought in Pantalone from second.

Celani put the Wildcats out in front in the third inning as he picked out a 3-2 pitch and drilled it over the left field fence for a solo home run.

"We were able to read the catcher's signs and we told Tom that the curve ball was coming," Trudeau reported. "He waited for it to break across and then really belted it about 350 feet."

Richmond tied the score at 2-2 in the fourth as Jeff Gaham poked a four-bagger, but from then on it was all Novi.

The Wildcats scored three runs in the fifth as a Richmond error let in one run and Dave Brown and Tim Assemany drilled run producing singles to bring in two more. And then they completed the 7-2 rout by tallying twice in the bottom of the sixth as Celani drove in a run with a line shot single that almost decapitated the third baseman and Mike Riley brought in the other by bouncing a drive off the left field fence for a double.

Celani, Novi's hard-hitting, husky third baseman, finished the game with two singles and a home run in three at bats and had three rbi's to share game honors with Brown who limited Richmond to just two hits.

The 5-2 victory over Saginaw St. Peter and Paul in the second game was almost anti-climatic.

"They really weren't a particularly good team," reported Bob Weinburger, one of the Novi assistant coaches. "They were lucky to beat Cass City 4-3 in eight innings in the first game and we just had trouble getting up for them."

The fact that the Wildcats jumped off to a quick three run lead in the opening inning did little to improve their motivation.

Pantalone singled, Dan Kardel walked, and Celani continued his heavy hitting by stroking his fourth straight run-producing hit. Dave Brown and Mike Riley scored the second and third runs of the inning as Tim Assemany lined a double off the left center field fence.

Novi added single runs in the fourth and sixth innings as a Saginaw error brought in one run and Hansor singled home the other, and held a 5-0

Finals Set for Saturday

Novi's Two Wins Away From State Championship

Two - that's the magic number.

Two more wins and Novi's baseball team will be the 1973 Class C state champions.

"It would be absolutely beautiful if we could go all the way," observed Novi Athletic Director John Osborne. "But frankly, it feels pretty darn good just to have gotten as far as we have."

The Wildcats will make the bid for the state title Saturday when they travel to Coldwater for the Class C state finals.

To win the championship, they must first get by a team from Lakeview - a small community in the Alma area. And then, if they get past Lakeview, they will meet the winner of the Blissfield-St. Joseph Lake Michigan Catholic game at 4 p.m. for the title.

Game time of the Novi-Lakeview game is set for 11 a.m., while Blissfield and St. Joseph are slated to play at 1:30 p.m. The championship game will get underway at 4 p.m.

Tournament favorite is the team from Blissfield.

"They're a Class C school, but they play in one of the toughest Class B leagues in the state," reported Rick Trudeau, coach of the Novi nine.

Blissfield put together a 13-3 record to win the championship of the Huron League, which includes such powerhouses as Carleton Airport, the 1972 Class B state champion, and Flat Rock, which won the Class B regionals at Northville last week and is favored to win the Class B crown this year.

"When a Class C team wins the championship in a league like that you know they've got to be very good," commented

Trudeau. "Can you imagine the Class B state champion losing its own league championship to a Class C team!"

Before the Wildcats can spend much time worrying about Blissfield, however, they first have to concentrate on getting past Lakeview.

Also known as the Wildcats, Lakeview posted an 11-1 record to win the Tri-County Athletic Association (TCAA) championship this year. It was the third time in the last four years that Coach Jim Wood's charges have clinched the title.

Overall, Lakeview had a 19-3-1 record.

Star of the team is Raul Moralez, a 6', 170 pound senior, who was named the Most Valuable Player in the TCAA this year. A southpaw, Moralez compiled an 11-1 record during the season and had an ERA of 0.78. When not on the mound, the big senior plays first base and is the fourth hitter in the Lakeview line-up.

If Coach Wood follows the pattern he established in the regionals, Novi can expect to face both Moralez and Lakeview's number two hurler - Rick Moblo, a 5'9", 160 pound junior, who also throws left-handed. Moblo had a 6-1 record and a 0.65 ERA for Lakeview this year and was also named to the TCAA All-Star team.

Moblo alternates with Moralez at first base when he isn't on the mound.

Two other Lakeview players were named to the TCAA First Team. Sophomore second baseman Scott Jura, 5'10", 170 pounds, hit .364 in the conference and .269 overall, and left fielder Steve Smith, 5'9" and 160 pounds, hit .333 in the conference and .268 for the season.

Smith is the Lakeview lead-off hitter, while Jura usually mans the number five spot in the batting order.

Centerfielder Nick Helms was named to the All-TCAA second team, while third baseman Darryl Stevens and catcher Roger Stilson received honorable mention.

Trudeau admits that his Wildcats are not the tournament favorite. However, he remains confident about his squad's chances.

"If we can just keep playing ball the way we have been," he said Sunday, "I've got to think that we'll be tough to beat."

Here's How to Get There

A spectator bus for students and adults who want to attend Novi's bid for the Class C state championship in Coldwater Saturday will be provided by school officials.

Assistant Principal Charles Nanas said Monday that a spectator bus will leave the high school Saturday morning at 7:30 a.m. In order to reserve a seat on the bus, it is necessary to make reservations and leave a 50 cent deposit at the high school offices before 4 p.m. Friday (tomorrow).

The 50 cents will be refunded at the end of the trip, said Nanas.

He estimated that the 108 mile trip would take approximately three hours by bus. Nanas advised people who plan to drive to the game to take I-94 west to I-69, I-69 to US-12, and US-12 west into Coldwater.

Those wanting a more scenic route can take US-12 all the way and thus pass through the Irish Hills.

Coldwater High School is located on the northwest side of town on the corner of Fremont and Parkhurst. Fremont is two blocks past the center of town. Two blocks past Clay Street turn right onto Fremont and go five blocks to the high school.

There is a $1 admission charge to the games.

Jaycees Show Might, But Star Still Leads

At a quick glance, it would seem as if the status-quo were being admirably maintained by the teams in the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission's Mens' Slo-Pitch Softball League.

After all, Star Lincoln-Mercury and Michigan Tractor - the league's early leaders - each posted victories in last week's play to keep their undefeated records in tact and maintain their one-two status atop the league standings.

But all is not as peaceful as it initially appears. In fact, the teams below the two leaders served plenty of notice last week that the revolution is at hand.

Consider the following: It was a week in which the once-powerful Novi Inn suffered its second straight loss and was dropped back into the second division with a 2-2 record.

It was a week in which the second place Tractor-men had to produce two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to gain a 3-1 victory over a Novi Heights team which has yet to win a game.

But most of all it was a week in which the Novi Jaycees made it perfectly clear that they're one of the toughest teams around and a definite threat to win the league title.

The hard-hitting Jaycees, boasting a phenomenal team batting average that hovers around the .500 mark, played twice last week and won both games to advance their record to 3-1 and move just half a game behind the second place Michigan Tractor team.

First team to fall to the might of the Jaycee attack was the Novi Police squad which succumbed to a devastating 29-hit attack. Final score was Jaycees 27, Cops 8.

It was all over for the Crime Fighters after the Jaycees scored eight times in the opening inning. The Jaycees continued their hitting barrage throughout the game and iced the triumph with seven run outbursts in both the third and fourth frames.

Big Phil McNery and Jerry Surles each popped round-trippers for the Jaycees, but long ball honors went to Todd Price who belted a pair of four baggers. Dr. Terry Neilson collected five hits in six trips to the plate to lead the Jaycees in the hit department. Charlie Brown went three for four for the Police.

The Jaycees' other win was a 10-5 conquest of L'Esperance Electric. After their outburst against the Police, the Jaycees found themselves being outthit by the Electricians 10-8, but moved to a comfortable win nevertheless, as pitcher Todd Price confined the Electricians' scoring to two runs in the second and three in the fourth.

Jim Cherfoli and Terry Neilson collected half of the Jaycees' eight hits, while Vic Pietela, Carl Sieter, and Jim Eskola picked up two hits apiece for L'Esperance.

If the Jaycees have any intentions of winning the league title, they're going to have to beat Chuck Seabert's fine Star Lincoln-Mercury squad, which this year has added good pitching and a stronger defense to an already potent offense.

Offense, defense, and pitching were all in top form for Star last week as they blasted out a 21-0 victory over Meadowbrook Lake. Mike Fenchel, the Star hurler, gave up just three singles in tossing his first shutout of the season.

Rey Rodriguez had two singles, a triple, and a home run in four trips to the plate to spark the car dealers, and he got plenty of help in the hitting department from Fast Eddie Stanczak who went three for three and Dave Temple and veteran outfielder Ray Murphy, who each belted home runs.

Michigan Tractor, the second place team with a 3-0 record, managed to keep pace with Star Lincoln-Mercury, but they had to work hard to wrest a 3-1 decision from a determined Novi Heights squad, which entered the game with an 0-3 record.

Dan Harsh scored for the Heights team in the top of the sixth to knot the score at 1-1, but Frank Darlington singled, Bob Riedel doubled, and Bob Reid tripled in the bottom of the sixth to put the Tractor-men back on top 3-1.

Reid and Darlington led Michigan Tractor with two for three performances with the bat, while Rich Ortwin and Jim Coleman were two for three for the losers.

Biggest upset of the week was L'Esperance Electric's 15-6 conquest of the Novi Inn. With Dan Laho belting a three-run homer in the first inning, the Electricians jumped off to a quick 6-1 lead.

Paul Faulkner delivered a two run four-bagger with Tony Olivich aboard for the Inn in the second inning as they narrowed the gap to 6-4. But after that it was the Electricians all the way as they advanced their record to 3-2 and moved ahead of the Inn in the standings.

Chuck Kantola continued his hot hitting for L'Esperance going three for four against the Inn, and Vic Pietela joined Laho in long ball honors with a lead off home run in the top of the third.

Mike Bingham was three for three for the losers.

Jamaican Pools scored four times in the top of the first inning only to see Olympic Manufacturing come back in the bottom of the first to score six times. After that initial outburst, however, Pools pitcher Louie Campbell limited the Manufacturers to four runs the rest of the way as his teammates hammered out a 13-10 victory.

Catcher Bill Thackston was the big gun in the Pools' attack as he stroked out three singles and a double in four trips to the plate. Keith Hetathcock and Pete McClain each picked up three hits apiece for the winners who collected a total of 22 hits.

Bill Ruck with a home run and two singles was the top Olympic hitter.

In Novi Little League

Rexall Tops Novi Firemen

It was showdown time last week for Rexall—the only undefeated team left in the Novi Little League.

And the Rexall squad met the challenge successfully in one of the best played games of the season as they kept their undefeated record in tact and strengthened their hold on first place in the Major League division.

The other Little League leaders also managed to get through the week unscathed as Spartan Concrete held onto its Pony League lead and Herb's Mower is still on top in the Minor League.

It was a key clash when Rexall took on the Novi Firemen in the Major Leagues last week. With a victory, the Firemen could pull into a first place tie, while a Rexall win would give them a two-game lead in the league.

Dave Pisha was on the hill for the Firemen and fired a two-hitter at Rexall and belted a long home run, but it wasn't enough as Rexall eked out a 2-1 decision.

In the only Major League game last week, BV Construction rallied for five runs in the final inning to turn a prospective 3-1 loss into a 6-3 victory over the Novi Police.

Spartan Concrete stretched its Pony League lead over second place Harrison Well to two full games by dropping Firm Built 5-4 in extra innings. A triple by Brian Senda, a double by Tom Cicirelli, and an inside the park home run by Scott Derrick broke a 2-2 deadlock and gave Spartan Concrete a 5-2 lead. Firm Built rallied for two runs in the bottom of the inning, but was unable to catch the league leaders.

Ecco Tool helped Spartan Concrete stretch its lead by registering an 18-12 victory over second place Harrison Well.

In the Minor League, Lynch Precision lost a chance to take over first place by dropping a 9-8 decision to Thomas Steel Forms. In other Minor League games Lynch Precision downed J. S. Trudeau 10-2 and Jamaican Pools recorded its first win of the season by beating Marcus Glass 5-0.

Managers, players, and Novi Little League officials wish a speedy recovery to Mike Pantalone, the first baseman on the Novi Firemen team, who underwent surgery at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia last week.

Junior Champ Meet Set

Boys and girls between the ages of eight and 18 are eligible to compete in the third annual Junior Champ Track Meet slated for Saturday, June 23, at the Northville High School track.

presented to the top three finishers in each event. The winners of the events in the two oldest age groups will be eligible to enter the State Junior Champ meet slated for July 14 in Utica.

Last year, several of the winners from the Northville meet went on to win state championships.

Northville High School track coach Ralph Redmond will be meet coordinator.

No pre-registration is required. Registrations will be taken on the day of the meet.

Cop Regional Crown

There will be separate competition for boys and girls. In addition, there competitors will be divided into five different age groups: 8-10 year olds; 11-12 year olds; 13-14 year olds; 15-16 year olds; and 17-18 year olds.

lead as Saginaw came to the plate in the bottom of the sixth.

Two scratch infield hits and a blooper that Assemany lost in the sun loaded the bases and Rusty Furlo connected with a John Pantalone fast ball for a single that drove in two runs.

"John should have got out of it okay except for that little blooper that fell in front of Assemany," said Trudeau. "If Tim had been able to find that ball in the sun I think John would have had a shut out."

A walk and a single brought the tying run to the plate for Saginaw in the bottom of the seventh, but Bob Kuebler hit a grounder to Celani who made a nice play on the ball and tagged third base to force the runner and give the Wildcats the Regional title.

Coaches Pick Bill Witek

Bill Witek, a 17-year-old senior, has been selected Northville High School's "Athlete of the Year" by the school's coaches and athletic director.

The award was presented last week at the annual Spring

Honors Convocation. The Athlete of the Year award was instituted in 1968 by the Boosters Club and has since been taken over by the Athletic Department. The head coach of each sport nominates three candidates for the award and the entire coaching staff and athletic director then vote for their top three selections for "Athlete of the Year".

The criterion for selecting the winner are leadership, athletic performance,

Witek, a three-year letter winner in both swimming and track, was presented the trophy by Swimming Coach Ben Lauber and Track Coach Ralph Redmond. Both coaches directed Witek throughout his varsity career.

In swimming Witek co-captained the 1973 Northville team to the state Class B championship and was a member of the state record-setting freestyle relay team. He was an All-State and All-Conference selection, winning two events and breaking a conference record in one of them in the Western Six Conference championships this year.

A pole vaulter on Redmond's track team, Witek won regional championships in both his junior and senior years and qualified for the state finals in all three years of varsity competition. In addition, he won the Western Six Conference pole vault crown this year and turned in top performances in both the Huron and Spartan Relays.

In making the presentation, Redmond noted that Witek has "shown positive leadership abilities that are sometimes scarce at Northville High School. As well as gaining the respect of his teammates, he has gained the respect of opponents and coaches alike," Redmond continued.

"Bill is an excellent competitor and has the ability to get mentally ready with the determination to win. Maturity and humility round out this special athlete. He is a tremendous credit to his family and his school."

Witek plans to attend Western Michigan University, although he has received a tentative scholarship offer from West Point due to his swimming and academic achievements.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vandenberg.

Past winners of the award are Jim Peterson - 1968; Fred Hicks-1969; Fred Holdsworth-1970; David Wright - 1971 and Jeff Moon - 1972.

Choo-Choo, Lumber Lead Northville Loop

They're at it again.

Choo-Choo Car Wash and Northville Lumber - the two teams which battled it out for supremacy in the Northville Recreation Department's Mens' Slo-Pitch Softball League all last year - are once again one-two in the standings as the 1973 race begins to take shape.

Choo-Choo, which won the title last year, is number one with a perfect 6-0 record, while the Lumber, which won the title two years ago before Choo-Choo entered the league, is number two with a 6-1 mark.

And, like Avis, the Lumbermen are determined to try harder.

In spite of the emergence of Choo-Choo and the Lumber at the top of the standings, the Men's Slo-Pitch League has undergone several key changes this year.

Gorle are such fine out-of-town teams as Lipon's and the Renwick, Grimes, and Adams squad from South Lyon which challenged Choo-Choo for the title last year. Only local teams are in the league this year.

A second change is the switch to inter-league play between the strong American League clubs and the somewhat weaker National League teams. Each team will play two games with the other teams in its own league this year and one game with each team in the opposite league.

In the key game last week, Choo-Choo maintained its top rating by registering a 9-3 triumph over Hamlet Food Mart. A Hamlet win would have pushed them into first place ahead of Choo-Choo which would have fallen to third place behind the Lumber. But the Choo-Choo squad had no intentions of losing.

Don Phillipi broke a scoreless deadlock when he crossed the plate in the third inning and from there the Car Washers went on to post a 9-3 triumph.

Phillipi, the Choo-Choo pitcher, held Hamlet to just six hits and didn't allow a run until Bo Dimitroff and Brad Cole crossed the plate in the sixth inning. John Genetti had two hits for Hamlet.

Choo-Choo also registered a 16-4 decision over a Presbyterian Church team that is still looking for its first win of the season.

The Presbyterians took a 2-1 lead at the end of the first inning, but Choo-Choo then rolled to the easy win with six run outbursts in both the second and third innings.

Mike Zayti and Jerry Inslund belted two-baggers for Choo-Choo, while Dave Jerome topped the Presbyterian attack with a pair of singles.

The Lumber played just once last week and they scored an easy win by downing John Mach Ford 7-0 as Jerry Levan scattered eight hits in tossing the shutout.

It was a tight game until the Lumber tallied five times in the fifth to increase their 2-0 edge to a more comfortable margin. Joe Lineman had two hits - one of them a double - and Levan himself stroked three singles to pace the Lumber win Norm Balko had two hits for the losers.

The Jaycees, last year's National League champion, upped their record to 5-3 last week with a pair of victories. Ace tosser Ron Reitenour demonstrated that he has lost none of the magic which made him one of the league's top hurlers in 1972 by holding the VFW squad to just one run in an 8-1 Jaycee triumph.

Jim Belz had a single and two triples, while Bob Hilton also had three hits and Larry VanderBie stroked a home run to pace the Jaycee assault.

The Jaycees came up with a run in the bottom of the seventh to edge Greenfield Die 4-3 in their other win last week. Jim Belz and Omar Corcoran's three hits included a double and a home run as he led the Greenfield Die attack.

In spite of their loss to the Jaycees, it was a good week for the VFW as they won two other games to pull within a point of first-place Greenfield Die in the National League race.

Con Langfield Cougars scored four times in the fifth inning against the Veterans, but other than that one outburst they were held off the scoreboard as the VFW took a 9-4 victory. Pat Modin had three hits to spark the Veterans. Rod Crane and Jack Murtha had two hits apiece for Con Langfield.

The other VFW win was a 17-0 massacre of the Northville State Hospital team. Again it was Modine who paced the attack, as he laced a pair of triples and a home run. Jones also homered for the winners.

In other games last week, Greenfield Die downed the hapless Northville State Hospital team 11-0 as Ed Hammond tossed a six-hitter and Dave Coe socked out three singles. And Exotic Plastic and Rubber, which got off to a slow start while waiting for its players to return from college campuses for the summer, bombed Manor House Realty-Keith Heating 15-1.

Randy Marburger with two doubles and a single was the top batsman for Exotic.

Three Mustangs Named

To All-Conference Team

Three Mustangs were selected to first team honors as Western Six coaches last week selected the 1973 All-Conference baseball team.

Third baseman Bart Taylor was unanimously named to an All-Conference infield spot, while pitcher Joe Bishop and outfielder-first baseman Randy Oginski also received first team berths.

One other Mustang - pitcher Ed Kritch - received honorable mention on the All-Conference team.

Western Six Conference champion Waterford Mott paced the all-league selections with four members selected to the squad. Northville and Churchill each had three players named to the team, while Farmington Harrison and Walled Lake Western each placed one player on the all-star squad.

Bishop, the spunky Northville southpaw, was one of three hurlers named to the team. A junior, Bishop compiled a 3-1 record in conference play and was 5-1 overall. Joining Bishop on the All-Conference pitching staff were Mott's Dave Carter and Churchill's Dave Panzoff. All three are juniors.

Named to the All-Conference catching spot was Mott's Rod Perscing.

Of the four infielders selected by the conference coaches, each played third base for his respective team. Mike Grace of Mott, Bob Blaies of Churchill, and Bart Taylor of the Mustangs were each selected to the team by the unanimous vote of the coaches. Walled Lake Western's Frank Marotta, also a third baseman, rounded out the infield.

"We decided to just name the four best infielders," reported Chuck Shonta, coach of the Northville nine. "As it turned out each of us had our top infielder at third base."

For Taylor, who finishes a fine diamond career this spring, it was the second time he was named to the Western Six All-Star team. He also made it last year as a junior. He had a .333 average in conference play this year and handled the hot corner expertly for Shonta's Mustangs.

Oginski, a junior, was one of four outfielders named to the team. Like Taylor, he hit .333 in conference play with nine hits in 27 trips to the plate.

The other All-Conference outfielders were Jim Foster of Churchill, Brian Collins of Harrison, and Tom Earl of Mott.

Last year, Northville's first in the Western Six, just two Mustangs were named to the All-Conference team. They were Taylor and pitcher Scott Evans, who now throws for the Michigan State team.

Registrations Due For Soap Box Derby

More than 20 community youngsters between the ages of 8 and 13 inclusive have already registered to participate in the fourth annual Northville Jaycee Soap Box Derby according to chairman Dave Van Hine.

The Derby will be held on Saturday, June 23, starting at 10 a.m. at the corner of Maplewood Street and Grace Court.

It will consist of two-car races down Maplewood Street with a double elimination system used for determining the winners. Trophies will be awarded to the three final winners.

Derby racers are homemade and can be constructed out of any type materials. The racer must have four wheels set in two parallel axles with a maximum wheel diameter of sixteen inches. A braking and steering system must also be part of the car.

Each driver must wear a protective headgear or helmet of some type.

race. Entry forms are available at the Northville Recreation Department or from Van Hine at 556 Langfield Drive.

Additional information can be obtained from Van Hine at 349-3015.

Rain dates for the Derby are Saturday, June 30, at 10 a.m. and Sunday July 1, at 2 p.m.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

Sue Natzel of Ten Mile Road was the guest of honor at a bridal shower last Sunday. Hostesses were her sister, Cheryl, and her mother, Mrs. Otto Natzel. Sue will marry Timothy Abraham of Plymouth in July.

The South Lyon home of Pat Erwin was the scene of a bridal shower given in honor of Cathy Jahne on Tuesday. The other hostess for the event was Melinda Needham.

Cathy, a recent Michigan State University graduate, will marry Lee Snow later this month.

Patrick Callan of Meadowbrook Road and Joyce Mowry were married on June 9 at the Primitive Methodist Church at New Diggings, Wisconsin.

Many of Pat's relatives traveled from the Novi area to the wedding. Present were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Callan, his brothers, Harold and Roy, his sister, Rita, and Sean Killen was the ring bearer for the ceremony.

Mrs. Glen Salow of Novi Road has returned home from a stay in the hospital. Visitors at her home this week included her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Risdon and daughter Lois of Lewiston.

Visitors to Novi for several weeks are former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Ward, now of New Port Richie, Florida.

Recently returned from visiting relatives in Des Moines, Iowa, are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mitchell of Clarke Street, Mrs. Hildred Hunt and Mrs. Dolly Alegnani.

A visitor in the James Wilenius home on Clark Street this week was Sonja Smith of Saline.

JAYCEE AUXILIARY
A picnic was held at the Cass Benton Park last Tuesday for members and their children.

The first Board meeting of newly elected officers will be on Tuesday, June 19. The meeting will be held in the home of President Linda Pochter.

Women interested in more information about the Jaycee Auxiliary organization are asked to call 349-1723.

Winners of the bike decorating contest held in connection with the Memorial Day parade were Pat Gombasy of Clark Street, Janet Spenser of Cortes and Robert Wilkins of Ripple Creek.

NOVI YOUTH ASSISTANCE CAMP COMMITTEE

A booth will be sponsored by the committee for the Novi Gala Days this year. Purpose of the project is to earn money to send children to camp.

Those youngsters who have been selected for camp should report to an Oakland County Health Department Clinic for shots.

The Farmington clinic is held on the second Thursday of the month from 9 a.m. to noon. At Walled Lake, the clinic is on the first Tuesday of the month from 9 a.m. to noon. On the second Tuesday of the month, the clinic is in South Lyon from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

NOVI REBEKAHS
Hostesses for the regular meeting on Thursday will be Irene Stamann and Blanche Johnson.

The organization is making plans to hold rummage sales every Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Chairmen for this week's sale are Mrs. Hildred Hunt and Jennie Champion.

The Oakland County Past Noble Grand Association will meet at Clyde Lodge on June 20 at 12:30 p.m. The Novi Lodge has been asked to give a memorial service during the meeting for departed Past Noble Grand of District 6.

WEIGHT WATCHERS
The Novi Weight Watchers has changed its meeting place.

Classes will now be held at Living Lord Lutheran Church on Ten Mile Road. They will continue on Tuesdays at 7 p.m. under the direction of new lecturer Mrs. Rosie Tague. Anyone wishing to join or rejoin is encouraged to do so by July 1.

NESPO
Members of NESPO treated the entire faculty of the Novi Elementary School to lunch at the Holiday Inn on Friday. President Sandy Isham will host the organization at her home on Wednesday.

SCHOOL REUNION
The 33rd annual reunion of Novi schools will be held on Saturday, June 23, at Novi High School which is located at Taft and Eleven Mile Roads.

Doors will open at 1 p.m. and a pot luck dinner will be served at 2 p.m. Each person attending should bring a table service and a passing dish. Coffee and tea will be served by the committee.

The committee is anxious to see all former Novi graduates at the reunion. Former students unable to attend are encouraged to send a letter telling about themselves. The letters will be read at "Mail Call."

Additional information may be obtained from Bill MacDermaid at 349-2205 or by writing to Box 468, Novi.

NOVI RECREATION
The women's softball league will begin playing on Thursday, June 14. Presently, there are five teams.

Regal Janitorials will be coached by Frank Kostlic. Coach Brent Canup will lead B. & Z Standard Oil. The West Oakland Bank team is to be coached by Diane Sufferman and Marty Hodgson. Still without a coach is the Farmington Trenching team. The Poured Walls' coach will be Don Craig.

Women's Golf will get underway this Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. Each Wednesday, the women will tee off at Brookline Golf Course. Anyone wishing to join the golf league should contact Sherry Edwards at 349-3570 as soon as possible.

NOVI ROTARY
The Rotarians assisted in the beautification of the nature trails at the Middle School. Members planted shrubs, spruce trees, made steps with railroad ties and built a bridge in the center.

Members who worked on the project included Bruce Parmenter, Bruce Simmons, Dick Bingham, Jerry Kratz, Lou Campbell, Harold Davis, Pete Romanow, Claude Curin, Gary Johnson and Byron Schimp.

When the work, was completed, members wives furnished a picnic dinner.

NOVI YOUTH ASSISTANCE
On Tuesday, June 26, the committee will meet at 8 p.m.

OFF TO MONTREAL—Off on a long weekend trip to Montreal to study the French culture in the Canadian city are members of the Novi High School French class and club under the direction of Rosemary Crippen. The students bused to Windsor where they took a plane to Montreal.

in Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Anyone in the Novi community wishing more information about this youth crime prevention program should contact Father Leslie Harding at Holy Cross Church.

NOVI BLUE STAR MOTHERS

Plans have been made for members to do personal shopping for pateints at the Veterans hospital in Ann Arbor and to sponsor a Bingo party for them on the same day.

Members are also planning a bazaar in October.

NOVI SENIOR CITIZENS

On Wednesday, June 13, the members met at the Novi United Methodist Church for a covered dish luncheon.

Members should contact Mrs. Nancy Liddle about participating in the Gala Days booth.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 26 at 7 p.m. All Novi senior citizens are welcome. If there is a transportation problem, Mrs. Liddle can be contacted at 349-2219 for arrangements.

GALA DAYS

Novi Gala Days Community Fair will be held July 20, 21 and 22.

Sponsored by the Novi Jaycees, Gala Days is going to be located at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads. The Jaycees are seeking community support in their efforts this year.

Planned for the fair are 20 booths, food concessions and a beer tent. The Jaycees are looking for area groups to operate them.

Any group interested in sponsoring a booth should contact Denny Wolcott at 477-3180 before July 1. Other questions about Gala Days should be directed to Joe Pochter at 349-1723.

CUB SCOUT PACK 240

At the recent parents meeting, officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Pack Chairman Bob Limbright, Cub Master Jerry Heinz, Assistant Cub Master Spike Walker and Bill Ziegler; Secretary Linda Cencich; Treasurer Jenny Pilch.

Public Relations Chairman Syrita Goscinski; Membership and Registration

Chairman Ken Heathcock; Activities Chairman Dan Norton and Ken Parson; Advancement and Awards Chairman Marilyn Rice; Committee Member at Large Dave Kamish, Jerry Badarak, Ed DeBrule and Joyce Heathcock; Webelos Leaders Ron Iseli and Bill Fear.

Corporal Frank Barabas of the Novi Police Department Traffic Safety Department was present at the Bike Derby last Saturday to give tips and answer questions.

ORCHARD HILLS BAPTIST

A youth revival will be held on June 21, 22, 23. A special group will be present to provide music and a message. The special speaker is the Sunday morning and evening service this week will be Dr. Forrest Stevenson, Christian Psychologist. He will also hold a conference at the 6 p.m. hour.

Vacation Bible School will be held from July 9 to 13 for children age four through teens. Registration may be made with Pastor Collins at 421-5673.

HOLY CROSS EPISCOPAL

On June 6, 10 children and one adult received the "Laying on of Hands" in the rite of confirmation. A special guest for the service was the Right Reverend Archie Crowley as a guest. Following the service, a reception was held in St. Thomas Hall for the Bishop and the confirmands.

Sunday was the last day of Sunday School before the summer break.

A retreat will be held for the youth group at the church on June 15 and 16. It will begin at 7 p.m. on Friday and end at 4 p.m. on Saturday.

The youth group from St. Stephens in Hamburg has been asked to join the Holy Cross group for the retreat.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Vacation Bible School is scheduled for June 18 through the 22. Classes will be held from 9 a.m. through 11:30 a.m. The school is open to youngsters from three years of age to those entering the seventh grade.

Children can be pre-registered by calling 349-0546 or 349-3477. The church's three buses will be placed on transportation routes for Bible School.

On Sunday, Fathers Day, the Sunday School teachers will all be men. During the church hour, a special speaker will be the Reverend Dick Burgess of Lansing.

SOUTH WALLED LAKE BAPTIST

Youngsters who ride the bus were treated to a hot dog roast last Sunday following church services.

Skate night will be next Monday evening at the Ambassador Rink in Clawson. The cost is $1 and the bus will leave the church at 6:45 p.m.

Vacation Bible School is planned for July 16 through 20. Morning sessions are to be held for kindergarten through sixth grade and in the evening there will be planned activities for seventh graders through high school age.

New Jaycee President

Novi Taps Hemker

Ben Hemker, 34, was installed as president of the Novi Jaycees in ceremonies held at The Drawbridge Restaurant on May 26.

Hemker replaces Todd Price as president of the Novi community service organization for the 1973-74 year.

Other officers installed included Thomas Bayer, internal vice-president; James Deamud, external vice-president; Jerry Chamberlain, secretary; Terry Neilson, treasurer; Dave Crendon, internal director; Phil McNery, internal director; Harvey Larson, external director; and Stroud, external director.

After the installation, several members were honored with awards for outstanding service to the club. The Key Man Award went to Joe Pochter. Pochter was selected for his total contributions in time and energy throughout the year. Ben Hemker, new president, was named the Spark of the Year and the Spark of the Year honor went to outgoing president Todd Price.

Named Chairman of the Year was Tom Bayer. Bayer headed up the Operation Red Ball fire safety campaign sponsored by the Novi Jaycees.

Hemker, in his inaugural speech, expressed the goal of the organization as "making the community better educated as to who we are and what we are doing in the community, and to get the community to help us in our efforts."

Hemker joined the Novi Jaycees in 1971 and was appointed a director two months later. In 1972, he was elected director. Also in 1972, Hemker chaired the Outstanding Young Educator program and this year he was in charge of Novi's first Distinguished Service Award.

Hemker lives with his wife, Joan, and their three sons at 23893 Beck Road. He is a pension actuary and executive vice-president with Variable Planning Corporation of Farmington.

All Novi Jaycee meetings are held on the first Tuesday of the month at Saratoga Trunk on Grand River.

One of the organization's youngest chief executives, 28-year-old Arlen Westling was formally installed as president of the Northville Jaycees in ceremonies at the King's Mill clubhouse on June 2.

He succeeds Dennis Dildy, who continues as chairman of the board of directors.

Continuing a Jaycee tradition, Westling's first official act was to install the remaining new officers and members of the Jaycee board.

They are:

Richard Morgano, internal vice-president, 1000 Canterbury Drive; Harvey Tull, external vice-president, 43721 Galway Drive; Paul Condon, secretary, 335 Linden; Sam Hall, treasurer, 43740 Westridge; Donald Campbell, state director, 43589 Galway Drive; and board of director members James Bress; Timothy Dickinson, 404 Eaton; Al Simon, 19945 Fenmore; and James Totzkay, 122 East Main.

Following an inaugural dinner, Jaycees who had distinguished themselves during the past year were honored:

The 1972-73 award winners are:

Arlen Westland, Jaycee of The Year; Sam Hall, Best First Year Member "Spoke" of The Year; David Van Hine, Sparkplug of The Year; John Buckland, Best Standing Committee Chairman of The Year; and Van Hine, Presidential Keyman of The Year awarded by the immediate past president.

Dildy was presented with an appreciation gift from club members.

As the new president, Westling inaugural address dealt with the importance of dedicated membership to a successful Jaycee organization. He reminded his audience that Jaycees as an organization does not build communities; rather Jaycees train the men who build communities.

Westling, who lives in the township at 49016 Ridge Court, pledged to involve more of the Northville area's young men during the next year. He set an 80-member goal for the club, which presently has 66 members, and he expressed a hope the membership total will top 100 within the next few years.

A sales executive for Control Data, Westling has risen rapidly within the Jaycee ranks. He moved from Jaycee director to vice-president and now to president—all within the past year.

Injuries Mending Here

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Summer is really here...it comes with heat waves and the end of another school year.

The kids are anxiously looking forward to a few months away from the books and it's probably a good thing. What with daylight savings time it's an almost impossibility to get them to bed for a decent amount of sleep.

The first heat wave of the season and already the power companies are cutting back on the juice. We may be sweltering with the heat, but maybe now something might grow in the gardens.

Tom Zielinski was released from the hospital last Friday but will be off his feet for quite a while yet. He suffered a deep laceration to his left foot after getting tangled up with his uncle's dune buggy.

Karen Grubb was also released from St. Joe's Hospital in Ann Arbor last weekend although she will be in a neck brace for at least three months. The fractures of the upper spine she received in an automobile accident several weeks ago are mending well but will require much rest and recuperation.

Nancy and Tim Tillman along with Tom Sutherland are recovering from the bumps and bruises they received last week when the car in which they were riding hit a tree on Meadowbrook Road. Nancy has twenty stitches across her forehead and Tom is nursing a broken rib or two and a fractured wrist. Tim's wrenched leg has nearly healed.

At any rate, it's good to hear things are looking up for our injured one.

At the same time we hear that Bill Tiffin is suffering from pneumonia. He entered Whitehall Convalescent Home after the death of his brother Charlie a few weeks ago and was in poor health at that time.

Bon voyage and God speed to June and Jim Leppala of Teaneck Circle in Highgate. They and their three children are leaving Friday for a move to the Seattle area.

Birth announcements from Highgate this week also. Born to Shiela and Mike Lauer of Roxbury Run, a girl Christine. And to Carol and Bob Barrett of Teaneck Circle, a boy, Timothy.

Wixom Brownie Troop 505 will have the opportunity to join other Brownies from the area at day camp beginning next Monday. The camp, held at the Multi-Lakes Conservation Club, will feature a full week of camping activities with Indian Life as the theme.

Wixom Parks and Recreation Department is again offering a full summer of activities designed for kids of all ages. A program of arts and crafts, sports, games, and field trips will begin on June 25 through August 3 at Wixom Elementary School. The program for boys and girls 6 through 13 begins each day at 9 a.m. Lunch break is from noon until 1 p.m. and mothers are urged to have children lunched at home. Afternoon hours are from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Free golf lessons will be offered every Tuesday and Thursday starting July 3 at the Hickory Hills Golf Club. Fifth and sixth graders will meet from 9 a.m. until 10 a.m.; seventh and eighth graders from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m.; and ninth through twelfth graders will meet from 11 a.m. until noon.

If golf isn't your bag, free tennis instruction will be held at Wixom City Hall. Mondays and Wednesdays are reserved for these lessons beginning July 2. Hours for each grade level correspond to the golf lessons.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TUESDAY, JULY 3rd, 1973 at 8:00 P.M.
Northville City Hall

The City of Northville Plan Commission will hold a Public Hearing at the request of the City of Northville, on Tuesday, July 3, 1973, at 8:00 P.M., at Northville City Hall, to consider the rezoning of the following property:

Lots 530, 532, 533, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 6, from C-2 (General Commercial District) to C B P D (Central Business Parking District). These lots are located north of Main Street, east of Wing Street.

Lots 211a, 211b, 213, 214, 247, 248, 249, 250, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 3, from R-3 (Multiple Dwelling District) to C B P D (Central Business Parking District). These lots are located south of Cady Street, west of Center Street.

Lots 244, 245, 246, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 3, from R-2 (Two Family Residential) to C B P D (Central Business Parking District). These lots are located south of Cady Street, east of Wing Street.

ALSO

The Plan Commission, on their own petition, will consider the rezoning of Lot 212, Assessor's Northville Plat No. 3, from R-3 (Multiple Dwelling District) to C B P D (Central Business Parking District). This lot is located on Center Street south of Cady Street.

C. Thomas Wheaton, Chairman
Northville Plan Commission Publish June 14, 1973

for public hearing again.
City Manager read letter from Mrs. Matthews in which she stresses the extreme need for senior citizen housing in Northville and Council's immediate action. She also questioned the selling of bonds for raising money for senior citizen housing.

City Manager replied that the city must have the local funds to make up the difference between what the rent brings in and whatever the rent doesn't bring in. In order to sell bonds

Dr. Johnson, of First St., stated that he was encouraged that the Housing Commission can now start something officially with the $50,000 allocated for senior citizen housing on the 1973 budget.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Biery to approve budget as presented setting tax rate at 8.1 mills for 1973.

REMOVAL RECEIVER BIDS: Bids received were: $1,275.00, General Electric Co., within 100 days of acceptance. 2 $5,100.00 Motorola, Inc., within 70 days of acceptance.

Based on recommendation of Radio Consultant and City Manager, motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Vernon to accept low bid of General Electric for $1,275.00 for removal receiver.

MICHIGAN WEEK: Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Biery to authorize City Manager to write a letter of thanks to Mr. Bill McLaughlin, Chairman of Michigan Week for 1973, for his leadership and expansion of the activities for the week which made it much more meaningful for all involved.

POLICE CAR BIDS: Councilman Vernon stated that he was in favor of air conditioning in police cars since the comfort and performance of our police patrolmen was the question. He also noted that 86 percent of the cars in the class of the police cars sold last year were equipped with air conditioning.

Motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Vernon to accept low bid of John Mack Ford for $3,518.30 with additional cost of $320.00 for air conditioning, totaling $3,838.30.

Biery, Vernon - aye
Rathert - nay
Motion carried.

ASSESSING AGREEMENT: City Manager reviewed agreement proposed by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners in which they would provide a service contract to assume the functions and responsibilities of the Assessor in the Oakland portion of the city for 1973, 1974 and 1975. Each description would run $2, with about 900 descriptions in that county per year.

City Manager stated that in his opinion, $2 per description price is rather high in light of the small amount of construction expected in Oakland County during the next three years. In his personal opinion, keeping a local assessor is of great value to a municipality.

City Manager recommended that Council postpone action of the Assessing Agreement coupled with considering an increase in the salary for Harold Penn in light of his experience and what this service would cost if accepted. Council agreed.

APRIL FINANCIAL REPORT: Mayor Protem Rathert stated that any questions could be directed to the City Manager.

OAKLAND COUNTY AGREEMENT - DELINQUENT TAX PREPAYMENT AGREEMENT: City Attorney stated that this agreement means that Oakland County would provide the city with delinquent real property tax money at the time the books are turned over to them with no cost to the city. Oakland County would then collect the delinquent taxes. It is his recommendation that Council accept this agreement as he believes the city could not lose money and it would save a lot of time for the city.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Biery to adopt resolution proposed by Oakland County which would provide the city with delinquent real property tax money at the time the books are turned over to them without cost to the city.

Carried.

PARKING PROPERTY ACQUISITION: This will appear on the next agenda. Manager is to meet with appraiser concerning 210 South Center.

OPEN SPACE & PARK ACQUISITION: City Manager stated that Council must decide what action to take on fund for open space acquisition.

MISCELLANEOUS: City Manager requested Council authorize him to officially file for rezoning for parking for central business district in connection with Northville Square. Council agreed for City Manager to file as soon as possible.

RESOLUTION FOR SAVING OF BIDS: City Manager requested that Council pass resolution for waiving of bids for the purchase of 2,700 ft. of underground drainage pipe material at a cost of 62 cents per foot or $1,700. He reported that the City Engineer and he had checked with every other company in the area that dealt with this type of pipe and this price is the lowest and the writing specifications would be difficult due to lack of uniformity between companies.

In view of the research of the City Manager and City Engineer, motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Rathert to approve resolution to waive bids for the purchasing of underground drainage pipe material.

Carried.

Motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Vernon to purchase underground drainage pipe material at a price of 62 cents per foot, totaling $1,700.

Carried.

RESOLUTION FOR WAIVING OF BIDS: DEMOLITION City Manager stated that Nor-West demolition has stated that while they are still in town they will demolish and remove four buildings at $1,000.00 per building. If they move the buildings, there will be no cost to the city. The buildings to be removed are located at: 213 S. Wing, 214 S. Center, 215 S. Center and 222 S. Center.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Biery to waive bids for demolition of buildings in view of the fact previous bids submitted for demolition contracts have been much higher than said contractor.

Carried.

Motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Vernon to award contract to Nor-West demolition for $1,000.00 per building for 213 S. Wing, 214 S. Center, 215 S. Center, and 222 S. Center. If said buildings are to be moved the city will not be charged for their removal.

Carried.

EMPLOYEE NEGOTIATION: City Manager stated that employees are asking for Blue Cross Blue Shield Option No. 4 instead of the Option No. 1, which Council offered.

Councilman Vernon stated that option No. 1 was devised in order to prevent a crisis for medical expenses for one given year. If option No. 4 was agreed upon, we would have to carry minimal disability insurance.

City Manager stated that he would recommend option No. 4 even if it means saving on disability insurance. Councilman Rathert, and Biery concurred.

Councilman Biery stated that Livonia and Hazel Park have adopted a new ordinance in regard to race tracks and suggested City Attorney obtain copies. Council instructed city attorney to obtain copies of ordinances and report to Council.

Councilman Vernon requested that Soil and Erosion Land Sealing Ordinance be presented to Council as soon as possible.

SCHOOL SPEED SIGN: Councilman Vernon inquired if the school speed sign had been installed. City Manager stated that the blinking sign request was voted by both counties of Wayne and Oakland for reasons of: 1. pedestrian activity; 2. speed counting was not unusual.

Councilman Vernon requested a copy of those reasons from Wayne & Oakland Counties.

Councilman Vernon inquired as to the situation of 8 Mile and Novi Rd. City Manager stated they are officially taking this on as a study this summer.

Councilman Vernon inquired if a right hand turn on the red signal might be allowed from Dunlap to Center or Center to Dunlap as is allowed on Main and Hutton. City Manager was instructed to check into this.

Councilman Vernon also noted that because of construction work at Cady and Wing a stop sign should be located east and west on Cady as well as the ones present.

Councilman Biery requested copies of letter that went to State Racing Association.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:10 p.m.

Respectfully yours,
Michele A. Sakalian

FOUR INJURED—A seven-year-old Milford girl, Paula Sinatra, was seriously injured late Monday when this new Cherokee 180 crashed just after taking off at the Salem Airport during a thunderstorm. The pilot, Robert Vettes of New Hudson, and two other passengers, Harry Waskowski and Roland Sinatra of Milford, suffered only minor injuries. The small plane missed the runway crashing just beyond its north end and flipping over a pile of tree stumps to land on its left wing. The accident is under investigation.

School Trustee Wonders

Does Experience Age?

Is teaching experience gained 18 years ago still applicable today?

That's the question raised last week by Northville School Board Trustee Glenn Deibert.

schedule gained 18 years ago.

Superintendent Raymond Spear pointed out he was in favor of granting the past experience "if the person has performed the service and the service has been satisfactory."

School board members agreed to grant the experience to the teacher in question, noting the teacher recently has been serving in the classroom in capacities other than teaching.

They also agreed to study the question of from how far back teaching experience should be granted.

CERV Aids College Veterans

The CERV unit established at Schoolcraft College a year ago is still open and providing special help to veterans.

CERV, which stands for "the Center for the Education of Returning Veterans," consists of veterans who provide information, counseling and other assistance to returning servicemen. Over the past year, some 1,200 contacts, involving 500 veterans, have been made. They resulted in over 100 veterans enrolling at Schoolcraft, while another 40 have gone to school elsewhere.

The unit currently has identified another 50 probable new college enrollees. They are also involved in counseling veteran inmates at the Detroit House of Correction.

Six veterans currently man the Schoolcraft unit, which may be called at 591-6400, ext. 235. Appointments will be accepted for days, evenings or weekends, and CERV recruiters will meet veterans on campus, at their homes, or at any other place convenient to them.

Perhaps the single largest benefit open to a veteran is education funds of up to $8,000. Depending on length of service, single veterans receive up to $220 monthly, while a married veteran with one child receives $298. There is also a little-known benefit to provide up to $50 a month or a maximum of $450 for tutoring services.

Ways to save on your energy costs

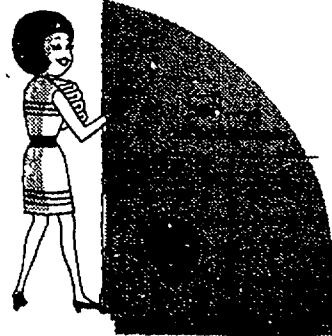

CHECK INSULATION

For comfort and economy, install at least 6 to 8 inches of high quality insulation in your ceilings. Weather-strip and caulk doors and windows. One of the biggest wastes of energy (and costliest for you) is the loss of heated or cooled air through wall, ceilings and floors.

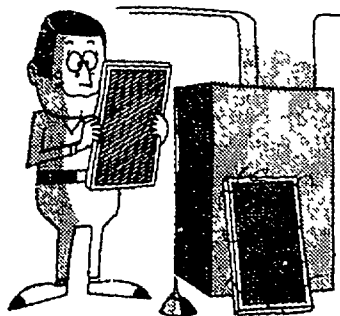

SET AND FORGET YOUR THERMOSTAT

Find a comfortable setting and leave your thermostat alone. Turning the thermostat up and down causes wear and tear on your equipment and an increased use of energy.

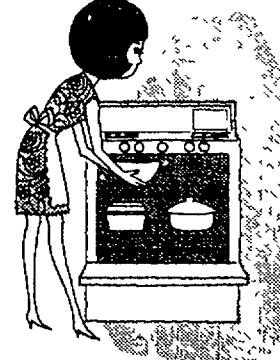

PUT FULL LOADS IN YOUR DRYER

Save time and money by waiting for a full load of clothes. Don't overdry your clothes. Make sure your dryer is well-vented to the outdoors. Cleaning the lint filter after each use assures maximum drying efficiency and cuts dryer time, too.

CLEAN FILTERS REGULARLY

Clean or replace filters in your heating and cooling equipment at least three times a year. Clogged filters overwork your heating and cooling systems. Clean filters mean cleaner air in your house.

PLAN MENUS FOR ECONOMICAL COOKING

Time your baking for multiple uses. Prepare a complete oven meal or an all-broiler meal. Bake two casseroles and freeze one. Cook food in tightly covered pan and adjust flame to fit the size of the pan.

REPAIR LEAKY HOT WATER FAUCETS

A leak of one drop per second for one year will pour over 1300 gallons of hot water down the drain. (You pay money for wasted water and energy.)

USE ENERGY WISELY

Students Prepare Dinner

Studies with Foreign Flavor

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL—Sixth grade social studies students at Novi's Middle School last week terminated their year-long study of foreign countries with an International Dinner. The students made costumes representing different countries and also made wall murals depicting various modes of living found in other countries. Above, Todd Sielman and Carole Newbig (front) and John DeBrule and Kathy Blackmer (rear) continue preparations for the annual event.

The International Dinner has become something of a tradition for sixth graders at the Novi Middle School.

Held at the end of the school year, the Dinner culminates the sixth graders' studies of foreign countries.

"I think we've been having it every year for the past 10 years or so," said Mrs. Ruthellen Crawford, who, along with Ronald Banas, teaches sixth grade social studies.

"It's really become a pretty big thing around here. We start preparations for the Dinner almost as soon as school starts in September. The kids really look forward to it."

The sixth grade social studies curriculum calls for the study of world geography, and the Novi sixth graders dutifully spend the year studying Europe, Asia, Australia, and Africa.

Text book study is implemented with map work, student-conducted quizzes, films, research papers, oral reports, and - every so often - outside speakers.

This year the Novi sixth graders had an opportunity to meet and talk with people from Pakistan, India, and Japan.

But without a doubt the highlight of the year is the International Dinner.

Students make costumes representing the different countries and also make murals depicting various facets of life in foreign countries, flags, and table decorations of flags and hand made dolls.

Parents are invited to attend the big event and pay their way by bringing a food representing typical table-fare in some foreign country.

This year's International Dinner featured a Hawaiian hula taught by Mrs. Timothy Hensel, mother of one of the sixth graders.

The sixth grade band under the direction of Miss Martha Stubbins presented a selection of foreign folk songs. Band members are - Connie Thompson, Susan King, Gerald Garcia, Arthur Neil, Jeff Smith, Mike Stratton, Teri Kurin, and Christine Derrick.

Following the band's presentation, the members of Mrs. Anna Bailey's sixth grade choral group presented a medley of songs which included Kum By Ya, Viva L'Amour, Angelique-o, and Barzan Boy.

Another feature of this year's Dinner were the folk dances presented by the Finnish Center Folk Dance group under the direction of Ralph Mannisto.

The evening was brought to an end with everyone singing "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

"It was a great success," reported Mrs. Crawford. "Now we can hardly wait to get started on next year's Dinner."

Civic Group
Seeks Members

The newly-organized Northern Novi Civic Association will hold a special membership meeting Wednesday, June 20, at 8 p.m. in the Novi Community Building.

Purpose of the meeting, said Mrs. Martha Hoyer, president of the group, will be to enlist members and determine priorities.

People who live in the City of Novi between 12½ and 14 Mile Roads and in the East Lake, South Lake, and West Lake Drive areas are urged to attend the membership meeting and make the Northern Novi Civic Association a viable force in the community.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK
lasts all year long.

Safety-minded homeowners make sure that heating systems are in good condition and that electrical circuits are not overloaded. They practice good housekeeping, too, so that fires can be found a place to start.
